"Originally released in 1986/1987 in England, these two albums have been out of print for years. Abu Nidal/Coup d'Etat is 72 minutes of rhythmic textures and hypnotic atmosphere, carrying the listener through the mountains and deserts of Islam, through shimmering heat waves and shifting sands. The intricate and mesmerizing textures created by Muslimgauxe speak of cultures and peoples in conflict, of a time and place more imaginary than real."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Veiled Sisters 2CD (SOL 020 CD). $17.00

1993 release; one of the most ambient/repetitive documents in the Muslimgauxe discography, and totally enthralling as a result. "Veiled Sisters is Soleilmoon's first double CD by Muslimgauxe. It presents a gentler, almost ambient side of this enigmatic group from Manchester. Although the cover features a pair of veiled women, the only sisters that matter to Muslimgauxe are two weapons of choice of the Afghans, the shoulder-mounted Katusha rocket and the sturdy Kalashnikov automatic rifle, both of which were used to devastating effect against Soviet invaders in the 1980s. As usual it's nearly impossible to draw a line connecting the title and its implied violence with the sounds of the music. Part of the ongoing mystery surrounding this group involves this seemingly insurmountable contradiction. For those who would rather just enjoy the music this is a non-issue, but the anti-Arab lobby can always find something offensive on a Muslimgauxe CD. The dedication in the booklet should do the trick nicely. It says 'Dedicated to the P.L.O. for their work in trying to improve Palestinian lives'."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Gun Aramaic CD (SOL 027 CD). $13.00

1996 release. "Chants and spells swim under sitar and stripped-down rhythms as suffocating winds collapse the landscape. The songs seem like the soundtrack to a horrible desert nightmare, not unlike recent works by Lab Report and Final. The eight songs range in length from two to 17 minutes, incorporating indecipherable samples and faintly industrial elements to create trance-like organic compositions. The tracks have a tendency to all sound alike, one flowing rather seamlessly into the next, but never to the point of redundancy. This is a truly amazing album; file under nightmare soundtracks." — Eric Palmerlee.

MUSLIMGAUZE: Gun Aramaic Part 2 CD (SOL 032 CD). $13.00

1996 release, all tracks written/played by Muslimgauxe, Manchester 1994/1995. "Following on the heels of Gun Aramaic comes the limited edition companion CD Gun Aramaic Part 2. This CD is limited to 2000 hand-numbered copies. The artwork and design on Part 2 is different from but still complementary to that of the first release."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Arab Quarter 2CD (SOL 044 CD). $17.00

Year 1996 release. "Arab Quarter is a melting orange and white lava flow of unbelievably hot Arabic techno-beats that burn everything they touch. It's studded with strange, disembodied voices and unidentifiable, frightening noises. The silences and spaces are awesome and terrifying. The second disc, 11 Minarets, is a focused exploration on one theme, and it allows the band to push the boundaries of their music deep into new areas. As on their other recent releases the volume is pushed to the limit. Muslimgauxe continue to define their own genre, and without a doubt there simply are no imitators, wannabees or pretenders."

LEGENDARY PINK DOTS, THE: Canta Mientras Puedes CD (SOL 047CD). $13.00

1996 release, repressed. "Canta Mientras Puedes is of course Spanish for 'Sing While You May', and there are doubtless many people who will be asking themselves why The Legendary Pink Dots have chosen this unfamiliar language to give their second anthology album a title. The reason is that all members of The Legendary Pink Dots recently became followers of the obscure Romanian philosopher Iancu Ponguthrescu, who — unlike many visionaries — saw a wonderful, optimistic future for the world. Indeed the blessed Iancu predicted that a glorious golden age would begin for the planet in 1997 and would last for 25 million years. To this end, all wars would cease on December 31, 1996, all races and religions would unite, everyone would simultaneously turn into vegetarians, the city of Frankfurt would become a permanent free festival, and all borders would be cast aside. People would smile ALL THE TIME. The only exception would be a small village in Argentina called Los Voyos, where a mysterious cloud would hover, causing sore throats for the entire population of 68 people. This ailment would be incurable — the people would never be able to sing again! Hence, the Pink Dots feel it's necessary to warn these innocent villagers now so they can move a little down the dusty path to a safer place. But how could the Pink Dots do this? The answer naturally is an album collecting together all of their seductive songs of the last five years. An album so beautiful and melodic that it would be piped through loudspeakers in the streets of Buenos Aires, and just maybe someone visiting the city would buy it and take heed of its very serious message. Including rare tracks and previously unreleased versions is the icing on the cake."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Jaal ab Dullah CD (SOL 053CD). $13.00

Repressed; original release 1997. "Jaal ab Dullah makes a crazy lunge out the noise gate and onto the dance floor, then gets sucked into a jet engine and ejected into space. All in the first song. It's a wild ride from start to finish, with quake-damaged noisebeats tumbling onto exploding turntables and hip-hop lava flows overwhelming The Quiet Village while Dub Demons do the Funky Monkey on a bed of hot coals."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Mazar-i-Sharif CD (SOL 070 CD). $13.00

"Mazar-i-Sharif is to polite society what a dozen angry Rotweillers are to a cafe full of poodles. An explosion. The diamond collars scatter across the tiles and the fur turns red as the perfectly clipped poodle-butts are torn apart by a pack of rabid Jerry Springer Spaniels. Your politically correct end-of-the-century tea party is officially over, and anyone thinking Muslimgauxe is about to make a calculated move to new age radio should call a taxi right now because the missiles are already in the air. From the intense noise-and-rhythm barage to the shocking cover image of a young boy with amputated arms, there is no part of this compact disc that will not offend someone. Yes, of course there are groovy Middle Eastern beats, and music loops are top notch as usual, and the true die-hard fans of Muslimgauxe will not be disappointed, but we expect that there will be fewer of them after they hear this record."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Hussein Mahmood Jeeb Tehar Gass CD (SOL 073 CD). $13.00

1998 release. "Manchester, England's Muslimgauxe has recorded a album of propulsive Middle Eastern grooves layered with Arabic radio samples and non-stop percussion loops. Hussein Mahmood Jeeb Tehar Gass sees Muslimgauxe taking a turn away from his recent electronic distortion experiments into a smoother flowing rhythmic current. The harsh war field atmospheres of the past have been replaced by tricky beats and science fiction noise-escapes. Imagine distilling the essence of the seething Gaza strip into a fizzing ambient/techno cocktail and you've got the latest Muslimgauxe sound. In the increasingly predictable world of electronic music we're confident you'll never find anything remotely like Muslimgauxe."

BASS COMMUNION V. MUSLIMGAUZE: Bass Communion V. Muslimgauxe CD (SOL 089 CD). $13.00

1999 release. "In 1996 Steven Wilson, the mind behind Bass Communion, wrote to Bryn Jones to express his admiration of Muslimgauxe. Subsequently they met and Steven gave Bryn some of his own music, although he suspected that it wouldn't appeal to him. It didn't, but as with all the music that Bryn was exposed to, his natural instinct to rework it into something that did prove irresistible. And so it came to pass that only four days after their meeting Steven received a parcel containing two and a half hours of reconstructions and obliterations of his original music. The new pieces were distorted, grainy, loop-driven tracks,

HAFLER TRIO, THE: Normally 2CD (SOL 093 CD). $17.00

"The first CD in this two disc set is based on the voice of Einsturzende Neubauten's Blixa Bargeld. A particular phrase was read three times, in Blixa's three trademark vocal styles: Whispering, hysterical and ordinary. Normally, the title of this CD, is a reference to part of what Blixa didn't say when he spoke his phrase, and also to the way the German word for 'Normally' is used. Although there are seven titles associated with the album, the music flows as one continuous track. They refer to different sections in the piece, but some of the changes are subtle, and the listener is left to discover them on her own. Or not. The second disc, Sphotavado, is also based on vocal recordings by the Einsturzende Neubauten front-man. Three 'meaningful' vowels were taken and arranged according to certain rules of Sanskrit. By repetition of these sounds, vibratory rhythms are created in the body to awaken the psychic fields. Everything, from our thoughts and ideas all the way up to things like people, trees and mountains, is a result of these vibrations. Along with its energy, every object has its accompanying range of sounds. Vibration is therefore a result of sound, not its cause. The name 'Sphotavado' is the name given to this concept of sound, and is referred to in many mantras. It forms the foundation of tantric mantras, which are a fundamental aspect of Vedic rituals. Like the music inside, the packaging for this release is at once subtle and complex, presenting a simple and clean exterior that opens and unfolds to reveal (or hide) its complex inner workings. Andrew McKenzie's favorite fruit is the pomegranate."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Sufiq CD (SOL 101CD). $7.00

Repressed; original release 2000; 26 minute EP, with 9 shorter tracks. "Sufiq was recorded in November of 1997, just before the beginning of Bryn's last and most productive year." From Muze: "Presented in stark, white packaging, with Jones' hand-scrawled track listing adding an especially poignant note, Sufiq is an astonishing Muslimgauze opus and an ideal introduction for the uninitiated. Serpentine sax and meshes of urgent electronic and hand-drum rhythms immediately usher the listener into Jones' singular, sumptuous Saracen sound-world."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Hummus CD (SOL 104 CD). $13.00

Year 2002 release. "The first posthumous exploration of noise, beats and sound from this legend since Sufiq in 1999. A wonderful variety of what he did best. Fast and furious dance-floor tracks next to ebbing guitars next to noisy repetition and distortion. Spreads on thick."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Veiled Sisters Remix CD (SOL 105 CD). $13.00

"Veiled Sisters was first released by Soleilmoon as a double CD in 1993 (SOL 20 CD). It was received with great acclaim at the time, and is still enjoying steady sales nearly ten years later. Bryn Jones, AKA Muslimgauze, recorded a follow-up in 1996, in which he reworked and recycled the materials into another album. It was delivered to Soleilmoon more as an afterthought than something he intended us to issue. Veiled Sisters Remix, as the piece was called, was held back from release at Bryn's request, with the reason being given generally that he wanted us to release something else that was 'newer and better', in his words. Now more than three years after his death, and with the continued consent of his family, we are pleased to finally be able to issue this forgotten gem of music. It's typical of its period, a time in which his work was reaching a creative zenith, but it stands out for its unusual use of a single album as its source. In the time between the original Veiled Sisters and the Remix Bryn acquired and mastered the use of nearly all of the professional studio equipment that was so important to his later works. With this version he felt that he'd finally achieved the true vision of the album that he'd set out to record three years previously. Veiled Sisters Remix was designed by Alexander Baumgardt, the noted German designer who designed Hummus. Both CDs have a similar appearance at first glance, but they are in fact two distinctly different albums."

BASS COMMUNION V. MUSLIMGAUZE: Bass Communion v Muslimgauze EP CD (SOL 106 CD). $9.00

"I only met Bryn Jones once, although we spoke many times on the telephone between 1996 and 1998. The meeting took place in his home town of Swinton, Manchester a few weeks after I first contacted him to tell him how much I admired his music. I discovered Muslimgauze through a random purchase of the double CD Blue Mosque and been deeply impressed by the originality and intensity of the work. Despite the fact that I was used to working in completely different musical genres this music suggested an artist with a similarly wide interest in music as myself, drawing as it did on world music, electronica, industrial and ambient. In fact during our first telephone conversation I learned that Bryn did not feel any affinity or have any interest in ANY other music, his agenda being almost entirely political. However I suspect that this was mostly a defense mechanism as he also told me that he had been making his music in almost entire isolation since the beginning, with virtually no interest from the media, any other musicians or for that matter the listening public. He made music for himself and to express his political beliefs — he did not care that the whole world seemed to ignore him. The very last time I spoke to him in late 1998, I asked him if he had revised this view at all. By this time a limited edition series (the only way Staalplaat, his other record label, could deal with his prolific work rate) had been a big success and his CDs were regularly reviewed/discussed. Many other musicians had asked him to remix their work or to collaborate with them and his music had inspired a fanatical following, particularly on the internet. In short there was incredible respect for him and his work, which had also led to invitations for concert performances all over the world. Yes, he admitted, he was feeling happier with his lot in life. He died a few weeks later." — Steven Wilson.

NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS: Collateral Salvage CD (SOL 121 CD). $13.00

"For his 25th CD as Nocturnal Emissions, Nigel Ayers has created a work that balances noise and vocal samples against a wild array of loops and rhythm tracks. It's a tantalizingly spicy cocktail that sounds nothing like an out-of-control hip-hop dump truck being driven backwards through an octogenarian's barn dance. Collateral Salvage is beat-oriented toe-tappin' music constructed from hundreds of different samples of indie guitar-pop, interspersed with fragments of song and surreal speech. Strong bass lines run throughout, and the rhythms are a blend of funk and exotic eastern promise. Subtle tonalities, acoustic guitar flavors, swingin' saxophones, flutes and horns are piled high over tabla and soaring vintage analogue synthesizers. Mbiras mix with driftwood marimbas, wicky-wicky guitars and pitch-shifted sitars in a swirling belly-dance dub sock-hop. Collateral Salvage was inspired by the sounds of modern Morocco. Late at night, lying in a bath, listening to the output of three different nightclubs, each with their own blend of local music mixed with international pop hits, all in a constant struggle for dominance, with water running in and out of the ears. The resourcefulness of human endeavor in the Third World and its contrast with the luxuries and carefree wastefulness of the developed world provided the foundation for the album. This is the music of resistance against the constant war being waged by the powerful elite in rich nations against the poor. When Bush says 'you're either with us or you're against us' Ayers replies 'There is no separation. Social divides are socially constructed. A forgotten branch of the avant-garde once suggested that art can direct thought along new lines and enable us to generate more positive patterns of social behavior'."

PARKIN & TOM GILLIERON, NICK: Red Shift CD (SOL 123 CD). $13.00

"Red Shift fuses blistering hypnotic break beats with dark atmospheric sound textures and derives its inspiration from the images of distant galaxies and planets captured by the Hubble Space Telescope. Imaginings of distant space are counterbalanced by the gritty reality of living and creating in the dense urban environment of London and the impact this has on everyday aural experiences. Beats and breaks are constructed individually and meticulously in the break beat science style and merged with sampled and synthesised sound to create a compelling sonic experience."

ALP: Out and about with Alp CD (SOL 124 CD). $13.00

"Out And About With Alp is Roger Horberry's second album. It's a continuation of his single-minded obsession with the tiny sounds of everyday life in Amsterdam. His debut solo CD, At Home With Alp (Soleilmoon, 1999), focused on the world of interiors. This release documents and reinterprets the secret sounds of the streets, canals and parks of Amsterdam city centre. Roger Horberry was a long-time member of the influential group O Yuki Conjugate. His background in atmospheric ambient music is much in evidence in this new work, along with numerous elements of minimalism and musique concrete."

NERELL, LOREN: Taksu CD (SOL 125 CD). $13.00

"Loren Nerell's association with Soleilmoon Recordings dates back to his 1996 release Lilin Dewa, as well as the more recent Indonesian Soundscapes. Taksu takes cues from both of these albums, blending environmental sounds and Balinese instruments together into a glowing, amorphous cloud of spine-tingling sound. Two musicians come to mind when listening to Taksu: Jon Hassell, who popularized Fourth World music, and Brian Eno, the father of Ambient music. While sounding nothing like the work of either artist, Loren Nerell's music takes inspiration from both of them. His music is evocative of mist-covered mountains and slow-motion waterfalls, so it owes something to Hassell. But it also pays tribute to the patient genius of Eno, with its endlessly evolving atmosphere, in which there is no beginning or end, only the present. In his liner notes for the CD booklet, Djam Karet founder Chuck Oken, Jr. describes the music as a 'sound pool' that the listener is immersed in. His words couldn't be more accurate, and it's no exaggeration to say that putting this record on is like waking up at sunrise, deep in the tropical Balinese rainforest, surrounded on all sides by the sounds of the jungle. To describe ambient or atmospheric music as 'a soundtrack' is clichéd, but it's really the best way to talk about Taksu."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Alms For Iraq CD (SOL 129 CD). $13.00

"Bryn Jones, AKA Muslimgauze, recorded this album in December 1995, just three years before his early and unexpected death at the age of 38. In the last years of his life Bryn acquired as much of the latest technology for his home studio as he could lay his hands on, and the advances and developments in his music reflected his growing proficiency with his new equipment. Alms for Iraq therefore has many of the hallmark sounds of the late-era Muslimgauze recordings already released, with abrupt starts and stops, swooping transitions and layer upon layer of samples and rhythms. There are nevertheless still plenty of surprises. Ever the groundbreaker, Bryn never recorded the same album twice."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Re-Mixes Volume 1 + 2 2CD (SOL 131 CD). $17.00

"Seven years ago, way back in 1996, we released Re-mixes (SOL 37 CD), the first album in which Muslimgauze remixed his own music. Ever the perfectionist, he didn't trust anyone else with the job (and for the rest of his short life never expressed any enthusiasm for anyone else's treatments of his work). Two years later he surprised us with a follow-up album, Remixes Vol 2 (SOL 78 CD). Both releases were limited editions, and have been out of print for years. On each CD Bryn Jones (Muslimgauze), reworked his own material to the point where it became nearly unrecognizable, resulting in entirely new works. Many people consider the Remixes CDs to be among his best albums, and we're pleased to bring them back into print, packaged together for the first time, and offered at a friendly price."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Syrinija 2CD (SOL 132CD). $40.00

"Syrinija was first issued in 1998 as a limited edition of 850 vinyl LPs. Bryn Jones (Muslimgauze) always intended for us to release it on compact disc after the vinyl edition was gone, and today we're happy to announce the fulfillment of his dream with the release of Syrinija as a double CD. Ever the prolific composer, he recorded 20 songs for the album, of which only the first nine were included on the LP, leaving the rest to be released at a later date. Although Muslimgauze was never known for making particularly dance-oriented music, Syrinija was a rare exception to the start-stop noisy feedback-driven assault that defined his style. This change in direction, more a detour, really, was the result of a simple request put to him to make an album that DJs could play for people who might not normally appreciate what he was doing. Rather than look at the request as a demand to compromise or sell out to commercial requirements, Bryn took it as an opportunity to explore a completely different foundation from which to work. While it could be said that the majority of his songs find their inspiration in Arabic or Islamic traditions, Syrinija breaks the mold by looking west towards Jamaica and its vital reggae scene. The beats are rock steady and a sinuous bass line bubbles underneath at a rolling boil, and it's standing room only once again on Air Palestine flight 132 to Kingston. This first CD edition of Syrinija is presented in a luxurious hand made silk folder."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Arabbbox CD (SOL 144 CD). $13.00

"Arabbbox was recorded in 1993 following the first Gulf War. 10 years later, following the second Gulf War, Soleilmoon is pleased to finally release this important Muslimgauze album. It's commonly known that Bryn Jones, the late musician behind Muslimgauze, was driven by the passion of the Palestinian people's fight for an independent homeland. What is less well understood is how he found inspiration in other parts of the Muslim world, including Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan and India. India, with its dominant hindu culture, might seem like an odd place to include in the list, until you remember that more than one hundred million Muslims live there. In fact Jones, who loved language and wordplay (consider the name 'Muslimgauze', for example), frequently plundered the south Asian subcontinent throughout his long musical career for song titles and album names, coming up with gems like 'Old Bombay Vinyl Junkie' and 'Tandoori Dog'. So it's not surprising that two song titles on Arabbbox can be traced to India. 'Ganges Swimmer', heard in another form on the Staalplaat CD Izlamaphobia, and 'Firozsha Baag', the fictitious Bombay (now Mumbai) setting for a collection of interconnected stories by Indo-Canadian author Rohinton Mistry. Thus it is appropriate that the images and packaging of this release are derived from India. But Iraq is very much in the news again, and that country is not neglected here. Track names like 'Kurdish Red', 'Sadaambush', and 'Basra' all come directly from that region. Incredibly, it seems the more things change, the more they stay the same. Stylistically, the songs of Arabbax follow other works recorded by Muslimgauze in the early 1990's. Fans familiar with the Soleilmoon double CD Veiled Sisters will recognize the flowing, humanistic sounds, natural sounding percussion, and gently shimmering keyboards that sent the reviewers running to their dictionaries to search for new words to describe what they were hearing. Now that Bryn is gone we're left to listen to his work and interpret his genius on our own."

SOME BIZARRE (UK):

COIL: Scatology CD (SB FFK). $23.00

"CD reissue of the first full fledged Coil LP from 1984 (following their debut album-length single How to Destroy Angels), containing 3 bonus tracks: an unreleased alternate version of 'The Spoiler', 'Restless Day' from the Devastate to Liberate compilation, and their cover of the Gloria Jones/Soft Cell chestnut 'Tainted Love' from the post-album 12". Features era classics like 'UBU NOIR' (transmutation of 'Ubu Roi' performed in samples on a Fairlight), 'Panic' (featuring Clint Ruin/Foetus), 'Tenderness of Wolves' (featuring Gavin Friday), The S.W.B.P. (erm... I won't go into detail). Some of the Thirwell-influenced Emulator drum programming is a bit grating, but on the whole it's a fine set, dotted with Lautremont/Jarry references (so's you know they're hip/informed) and brilliant if not criminally short textural segments that sound VERY contemporary in retrospect." — Hrvatski.

COIL: Horse Rotovator CD (SB ROTA). $23.00

"CD reissue of their 1986 LP (their second, discounting music composed for Derek Jarman's film The Angelic Conversation which didn't see the light until 1994's Threshold House CD issue) containing one bonus track; 'Ravenous' from the Anal Staircase 12". Features the track 'Blood from the Air' (also from the 'Anal Staircase' EP) as well as a cover of Leonard Cohen's 'Who by Fire'. A fine record, perhaps more song-oriented than Scatology and a bit less 'crunchy' overall (one would assume Thirwell's contributions were kept to a minimum). Music for men everywhere..." — Hrvatski.

SOME FINE LEGACY (GERMANY):

NACHTLUFT: C.A.E.N. 3" CD (M 130307). $10.00

An electroacoustic live performance at the city of Caen, Normandie. Nachluft are a trio for drums, computer and electronics.

ILLUSION OF SAFETY: Rules Of The Game CD (M 130407). $10.00

An 18 minute audio collage, using computer cut-ups, piercing FM synthesis, drum lock-grooves, ambient tonal passages, hyper-reality field recordings, etc.

SOME LABEL:

INSANUS: Nature 7" (SH 1). $6.00

We seem to have some copies of this record, does anybody remember what it is? Google is not much of a help on this one. I think that Gary Held once told me that this record changed his life (but maybe I'm confusing it with the Venom 7" on Ecstatic Peace). If you used to go to Harvard and dabble in a bit of heroin (weekends only), this record is either in your collection, or could be...

SOMEODDPILLOT RECORDS:

SALVO BETA: Evil Against Evil CD (SOPR 007 CD). $12.50

"Remixes by Jake Mandell, Atropa, Safety Scissors, Instigator, Melt Banana, String Theory, The Time Out Drawer, Sutekh, Pal:ndrom, Hrvatski, Twine, Pele, Macwhat, Solenoid, K-Rad, Molarmill. Salvo Beta makes friends wherever Salvo Beta goes, and its no surprise that they've lined up to kick his ass from all over the musical spectrum on his new record Evil Against Evil. Japanese-hardcore, spacey-kraut-rock, and acoustic guitar math-rock flavored remixes round out this otherwise perfectly exquisite line-up of both up-and-coming and established electronic gunslingers. Sean Wolfe (aka Salvo Beta) has put himself up against the ropes, hoping to take it like a man from his friends and neighbors. Salvo Beta's oddly manic and noisy debut Abrasive Stuttering was released in early 2001 to IDM-ers and noise enthusiasts who eagerly chomped at the bits, glitches and little-guy-as-tough-guy beats. The record was nothing if not a testament of unconventionally sassy and noisy IDM, and coupled with a successful series of shows, attracted the camaraderie of other artists. Plans were made and this remix record was born..."

SALVO BETA: Evil Against Evil: The Kids In The Neighborhood Grab... 12" (SOPR 008 EP). $6.50

...Thier Bats And Remix Abrasive Stuttering. "Someoddpilot Records is proud to release the 1st in a series of 3 12's for Salvo Beta's Evil Against Evil project. This 12" features remixes by Melt Banana and Safety Scissors, plus 2 new exclusive mixes by Atropa and String Theory, and a never-before released track by Salvo Beta."

SON BOY RECORDS:

BARAKA (LEROI JONES) & THE SUN RA MYTH-SCIENCE ARKESTRA, AMIRI: A Black Mass CD (SON BOY 1). $14.00

Surprise reissue of the most infamous and difficult to procure Sun Ra artifact; originally issued on Amiri Baraka (then LeRoi Jones)'s Jihad label (home of the original Sunny's Time Now by Sunny Murray as well). This is the first release on the DC-based Son Boy label officially sanctioned by Baraka (and mastered from the original tapes that have been sitting in his basement all along). Other unreleased sessions from the Jihad library of tapes will follow this release. Originally issued in 1968, A Black Mass was personally distributed by Baraka via a network of radical Black literature bookstores and was not commonly found in the channels that records of the time moved in. As a result, it has enjoyed a mystical status for the better part of it's 30+ year existence, and many hard-core Ra completists have never seen a copy. A strange and revolutionary play by Baraka, with musical interludes by the Myth-Science Orchestra. Very, very historic. "The play A Black Mass was written in Harlem in 1965, much of it probably at my desk at The Black Arts Repertory Theater School at West 130th Street and Lenox (now Malcolm X. Blvd.). It was first performed at the RKO Proctors Theater, Newark as a companion piece to J-E-L-L-O, a satire on the Jack Benny show where Rochester turns militant. The reason it was Newark is because late in 1965, I decided to walk away from the BARTS because with the mounting internal strife, the phenomenon of 'diminishing returns' had set in so disruptively that the vision of bringing Black Art into the community and creating what we were later to understand as Cultural Revolution could no longer succeed at that venue. Black Mass shows the heavy influence of the Nation of Islam even though, after Malcolm's murder, I became alienated from that Nation, essentially as a means of registering my allegiance to Malcolm. Even the Jacobus story I had gotten from Malcolm when he was still more directly motivated by Elijah Muhammad's teachings. Sun Ra was one of the most consistent and supportive artists associated with the BARTS. He was there several days a week, teaching all who would listen. Interestingly, it is just recently that John Swed's book Space Is The Place points out how much my own thinking was influenced by Ra, and congruently how the Black Arts experience added a more openly Black nationalist edge to Ra's actually scientific philosophical musings on the Universe. At any rate, when I conceived of doing Black Mass to music, Ra was the only musician in my mind. Not just because of the 'otherworldliness' of the tale, but the sensuous 'outness' I knew Ra, with his (then titled, the name changed continuously) Myth-Science Arkestra, would bring, which I felt would give a material life to the text. The work was recorded in The Spirit House, on the first floor theater we had created by tearing down the walls of my rented one-family house, just as we had done at The Black Arts. Painter Joe Overstreet came over and we almost tore the house down with our remodeling. But in that tiny space great things did happen. Not only was Ra and The Mass recorded there with our marginally professional set-up, but the Ayler, Sonny Murray, and my own Black & Beautiful (all of which we plan to re-release). We also did works like Slave Ship, Arm Yrself or Harm Yrself and Home On The Range. Spirit House is where the Spirit House Movers came together and Amina began to build the African Free School, and together we later built the Committee for Unified Newark and the Congress of African Peoples. With Sylvia Robinson (Amina Baraka, a Newark artist who would shortly become my wife), Yusef Iman (a BARTS original), Newark's Marvin Camillo (he and Yusef are both gone now), and Barry Wynn (Amun Ankra), we tried to recreate the staged version which we had just done. And while there is something to be desired in our collaboration, the recording stands not only as a record of what The Black Arts was doing, but points I think into the future of the spoken word and the possibility of expanding what can be recorded and what kind of collaboration between word and music can come. The theme 'The Satellites Are Spinning' is the dramatic musical mise en scene throughout, though close listeners will hear some of the music which characterized the Myth-Science Arkestra rising and falling through the mainly improvised music-drama. In total, the music is rich and evocative by itself. Heard with the text of The Black Mass, both connect and extend each other with a dramatic gestalt of Myth-Science music and the mythologized history deepens our emotional perception of what is being told. For me, re-heard with the benefit of study and another kind of thoughtfulness, it even projects a rationale that's more scientifically based, 'search-lighting' some evasive facts of human history as well as projecting the premise which I have long held, that art is creation, and that we must oppose the 'creation of what does not need to be created'. — Amiri Baraka 9/6/99

SONARMUSIC (SPAIN):

VA: Sónar 2001 2CD (SONAR 01). $19.00

"Most prestigious electronic Underground-Festival in Europe (more than 80.000 visitors in 2001!) — astonishing tracklist, a double CD selection featuring artists who have performed at this year's Sonar. This is some of the best music featured at the festival, divided in two CDs, representing the day event and the night party. The first CD includes lounge, pop, ambient, trip hop dub... and many tracks which are a mixture of these styles. The second one is a ride from the coolest Latin jazz to the funkiest deep techno. Both together are a perfect, superb compilation of the finest, highest quality electronic music ever, compiled in a friendly-listening building way, as for to show what Sonar is: the greatest world-wide festival of electronic music in all its styles." Artists include: Yonderboi, XRS Land, Plaid, Jazzanova, Louie Austen, Ccamping Gaz & Digi Random, Trüby Trio, Isolée, Mathias Schaffhauzer, Lemon Jelly, Khan Feat. Julee Cruise, Squarepusher, Aphex Twin, Sigur Ros, Maw Feat. Liliana Chachian, Frankie Knuckles, Luomo, Glissadro Bros. Feat. Clair Dietrich, Laurent Garnier, Phuture 303, Circulation, The Youngsters, Jeff Mills, The Minifunkateers, Fuse. Tracks are all licensed album tracks.

VA: Indietronica CD (SONAR 03). $16.00

"SonarMusic presents Indietronica - Underground Connections Between Pop And Electronica, featuring tracks by Lali Puna, Dntel, Mum, Tarwater, The Notwist and Mouse On Mars among others — a true reflection of the state of health of Indietronics, the music style that brings digital sound and pop attitude together. The release of Indietronica is meant to fill a gap as regards record compilations of this music genre, which has been the subject of many articles during this last year. It therefore aims to present a representative selection of tracks and artists which will bring across the ease, speed and autonomy that a well equipped computer can bestow on pop music. Indietronica Vol.1 has selected different music proposals without discriminating on the basis of appellation of origin. It is an orientative guide for all those wishing to know who is who in Indietronics. And its one particularity is that all the tracks have vocals." Artists include: Lali Puna, Donna Regina, Her Space Holiday, Nikakoi, Dntel, Mum, Hans Platzgumer Feat. Catriona Shaw, Tarwater, The Notwist, Mouse On Mars, Styrofoam, Undo, Schneider TM Vs. Kpt. Michi.Gan, Raz Ohara, Gush Collective Feat. Franz & Adam, Laub, and Apeiron.

SONET (SWEDEN):

RAMEL, MIKAEL: Till Dej CD (SONET 67215). $24.00

Legit reissues (via Universal) of these Swedish underground albums from the early 70s. "Solo debut recording from 1972 by this acclaimed Swedish psychedelic/progressive musician released on CD for the first time. Mikael previously played with Flasket Brinner and Steampacket. The recording of this album initially began in 1969, mostly in Mikael's own primitive studio, but was seriously delayed as Mikael was arrested and imprisoned for smoking hashish. While in jail he wrote the song 'Artificial Prana' which was featured on the album. Mikael does fantastic Swedish folksy psych rock progressive music backed by members from legendary Swedish underground bands like Flasket Brinner, Kebnekajse and Turid. One of the best, most influential and appreciated recordings from the Swedish hippie underground. This beautiful CD release contains the full album perfectly re-mastered from the tapes + 7 exclusive bonus cuts and it's housed in a digi-pack with informative liner notes in English."

RAMEL, MIKAEL: Extra Vagansa CD (SONET 67216). $24.00

"Mikael's 2nd album was recorded 1973-1974 and also contains backing from legendary Swedish underground bands and musicians like Flasket Brinner, Kebnekajse, Bo Hansson, Gunnar Bergsten and many more. A really stoned classic album in a US west coast style with loads of fluid acid fuzz guitars. One of the best and most influential recordings from the Swedish hippie underground. This beautiful CD release contains the full album perfectly re-mastered from the tapes + 4 exclusive bonus cuts and it's housed in a digi-pack with informative liner notes in English."

SONIC UNYON (CANADA):

SIMPLY SAUCER: Cyborgs Revisited CD (SUN 085CD). $13.00

"Simply Saucer was Canada's first proto-punk band. Emerging in 1974 from the industrial city of Hamilton, Ontario, the quartet created a distinct and original sound that was decidedly out of step with the musical climate of the day. While most local acts emulated the popular sounds of the era, this quartet played edgy rock & roll that was a combination of early '70s punk pre-cursors (Velvet Underground, Stooges, Modern Lovers), krautrock (ala Can, Neu, early Kraftwerk) and UK prog/psyche (Hawkwind, Pink Fairies, Syd Barrett, both with and without Pink Floyd). Although the only material released while the band existed was a two-song 45 rpm single, a 1974 recording session and a 1975 live set were collected together posthumously and released under the moniker Cyborgs Revisited on the Hamilton label Mole Sound Recording in late 1989. Originally available only as a limited run LP, the album was later released on CD though Fistpuppet. Now long out of print, this newly remastered, expanded reissue is the first legitimate re-release of this material in more than a decade. It is also the first time the 1978 'She's A Dog' single has been made available on compact disc."

SONIG (GERMANY):

LITHOPS: Uni Unit LP (SONIG 002LP). $12.00

Sonig is the label run by Mouse On Mars; the first release was their Instrumentals LP, issued in the USA by Thrill Jockey. This is the debut full length by Jan Werner's side project (previous EP on Eat Raw), Lithops. His sound has been described as "trippy future disco".

WANG INC.: 12" (SONIG 004EP). $9.00

Previously available in the US on Thrill Jockey, that version is now out of print. This is the original German pressing on Mouse On Mars' label, Sonig. "Wang Inc. is a corporation of sound research founded by the Bartolomero 'Bart' Sailer. The laboratories of Wang Inc. synthesize a product with a new concept: the sounds of industrial articles are caught, isolated, manipulated and applied to the final product that Wang Inc. produces. That product is electronic dance music. Bart is a resident of Bologna, Italy who is a student of ancient history and a passionate reader of science fiction. His interest in both the past and future combines to form a description of the present in his music. His favorite sounds are the sounds of objects encountered on a daily basis, those to which nobody pays attention but everyone hears and recognizes. Bart considers his 'masters' to be the futurist composer Russolo and A. Mayer, the famous Italian contemporary 'music concrete' composer." Wang Inc. performed with Autecchre on their Italian tour."

MICROSTORIA: Improvisors LP (SONIG 010LP). $10.00

"Microstoria (Markus Popp and Jan St. Werner) is back on the radar with this six track live album which precedes their upcoming studio album. Improvisors features alternative versions and reconsiderations of tracks from Microstoria's 1996 album, as well as the two new tracks 'Mem Brand' and 'Glocky Bit'. The recordings were made in the fall of 1998 during rehearsals for Cologne's improv and avant-garde music festival, Jack Pohl. Popp and Werner played powerbook, CD-R, and tape effects. Here Microstoria present evergreens and favorites in a more organic and playful way than on their studio recordings. The dispute between 'really' played music and virtually 'playable' music is abandoned for a more detailed, consciously personal analysis of what music can be. Improvisors is the background for a 'read audio' concept. It translates the idea of music into a proposal for a logically modifiable and analyzable system of musical thinking. Improvisors documents an alternative effort to examine strategies in a real world full of irritating consumerism."

VERT: The Köln Konzert CD (SONIG 012CD). $11.00

"The Köln Konzert was directly inspired by Keith Jarrett's recording of the same name. Featuring five parts, it was recorded live at the White Noise Bar in Köln on May 6th, 1999. Throughout jazz, there has always been a fundamental problem: to get the music onto the disc without losing the vital spontaneity it has when you are there while the artist is creating. This is the thing about live music — when it is right, you have the overwhelming feeling that at every moment there are more imminent surprises, more imminent delights. It is this quality that caused Jan Thommert, a longtime student of jazz music and a longtime listener of Vert, to say that live music should be heard only once — when it is played. But the special quality of Vert is to overcome this very real thing that Thommert was talking about and to breathe into his music that kind of life that lets you hear it anew every time. We may listen to this album enough to memorize every nuance, but it still sounds fresh. I don't know what does this, I don't know how Vert achieves it, and I doubt whether even he knows. All I know is that it is in there. 'An artist is never ahead of his time, but most people are far behind theirs,' Edgar Varèse once said. Here's our chance to catch up."

C-SCHULZ/HAJSCH: LP (SONIG 013LP). $11.00

LP version.

SCRATCH PET LAND: Solo Soli IIIII CD (SONIG 014CD). $11.00

"Scratch Pet Land was formed in 1996 as the result of a unique and legendary live performance inside a Belgian carpet store. Solo Soli IIIII is the band's first new recording in over 2 years and their first for Mouse on Mars' Sonig label. Sonically at home with the Köln music scene, Scratch Pet Land has found an ideal breeding ground for their experiments. The music here percolates with the energy of the newly animated: Pop hooks surface and are then shredded and spit back out by the band's irreverent melodic sensibility. Scratch Pet Land is a world where nothing is ever quite as it seems. Welcome the Scratch Pet Brothers into your homes and their old Atari Computer, their Gameboys and turntables, their bongos and jews harps and ukeleles. They'll never do the same thing twice. For Scratch Pet Land, it's always the first time. Take this record, listen to its unique melodies and discover how exotic things can get in the kingdom of Belgium."

SCRATCH PET LAND: Solo Soli IIIII LP (SONIG 014LP). $11.00

LP version.

VERT: Moremooseiforme 12" (SONIG 016EP). $7.00

"Adam 'Vert' Butler first gained a reputation as one of Britain's best 'Drill and Bass' artists. After presenting his complex and bizarre interpretation of Keith Jarrett's classic Köln Konzert, Vert was back to rock the half-pipe. His new 'Moremooseiforme' 12" is sure to be everyone's favorite piece of vinyl in 2001, but it's only a teaser for his full length collection of timeless evergreens: 9 Types Of Ambiguity."

VERT: 9 Types Of Ambiguity CD (SONIG 017CD). $11.00

"... first there was the punch-up at the classical music section, then, to read that one would inevitably encounter things in the quest for the absolute: well, Adam Vert was beside himself. However, now he understood the music, the sounds, the tones of natural beauty, the function of coupling, the methodology of inversion, and the loneliness of the orchestra music stand with its solid wooden music rest... 'Music plus noises, then? No, the noises have liberated themselves and no longer merely annoy; rather, they enhance the tonal body comprising melody, nostalgic evocations of disrupted beats and the ornament of clef symbols.' And yet it sucks and slurps, distorts, explodes and seethes, just like blowing into a lava flow through a straw.' Bla bla bla. Every noise is capable of being music, and all music is capable of being noise. It all depends on dramaturgical positioning? These dilapidated hover-trains made of mildly distorted harmonies, the ticker-licker Wall of Sound, Hacker-

Jazz; but then there's reggae-style bottom-end from the deep: Hancock's wah-wah funk and Brighton beach at dusk. People like Reilly and Reich can put away their fishing rods. Finally, tonal-haiku with interference — there's always something disturbing you..."

LP version.

WORKSHOP: es liebt dich und deine koerperlichkeit, ein ausgeflippter LP (SONIG 019LP). $15.00

German-only LP pressing (CD is on Blue Chopsticks in the US). "On this, their fifth album, Workshop is the duo of Stephan Abry and Kai Althoff. With the current record, they have cut their cloth into shorter sections, emphasized lyric- and songwriting, and marshaled a distinctive palette of sounds that favors nylon-string guitar, harp, synthesizer, sitar, and overlays of drum kit and drum machine."

MOUSE ON MARS: Agit Itter It It 12" (SONIG 020EP). $10.00

"First pressing will contain a bonus 7" with live versions of the 'Idiology' tunes 'Actionist Respoke' and 'Introduce'. The rest of the track list looks like this: Spontaneously Reconstructed, Sums Upp e r j, Milleader, Exit Itter, Repressend." Limited restock, last copies with the bonus 7".

FAN CLUB ORCHESTRA, THE: Sun Papa And The Fan Club Orchestra Vol. 1 & Vol. 2 CD (SONIG 022CD). $11.00

"The Fan Club Orchestra is a side project of Scratch Pet Land with more or less 10 people involved. They play percussion, guitar, harmonica, gameboys, mouth organs, trombone, turntables and lots of other instruments and devices. Everything depends on the energy of the group and their ability to improvise together. Laurent Baudoux gives the directions on an overhead projector (like the ones businessmen use for their meetings). He makes drawings, gives the BPM, he introduces musical themes and he manipulates the mixing board that gets all the sounds of all the musicians. After all the sound data is recorded (at live concerts or improv sessions) Laurent and Nicolas Baudoux edit the recordings in their studio. For this project they like to work fast, don't hang on details for too long but still try to get a mindboggling and fresh result. Now the two vinyl records of the Fan Club Orchestra have been remastered and edited to become the first electronic-live-improv-orchestra compact disc."

DÜ: Transformation 19 Mal Einfach Hergestellter Komplizierter Mu 7" (SONIG 023EP). $6.50

"Dü is Jan St. Werner (Mouse On Mars, Microstoria, Lithops) and F.X. Randomiz (Holosud). Their debut album Slow already gained fantastic reviews, e.g. The Wire: 'an instrumental, electronic masterpiece; a mature pre-Oval example for state-of-the-art sample skills'. Jan St. Werner produced a CD-R with noises and sounds without any digital equipment — Randomiz digitalised and arranged those sounds and sent them back to Werner — 6 of those edits can be found here."

HAJSCH: 1992 CD (SONIG 024CD). $15.00

"About ten years ago the Cologne school of experimental electronic music was taken over by new generation of young musicians. Hajsch was not only influential in its development and differentiation, but he pioneered new recording and editing procedures and set new standards with his unconventional compositions. The combination of experimental-electronic, electro-acoustic and serious music is ideally revealed and realised in Hajsch's music. Now after a ten year period the compositions released in 1992 on his own label, 'Quiet Artworks' can be heard on CD. Originally these recordings were only available as limited edition vinyl pressings. Despite this fact, the recordings quickly received distribution. Musicians such as Jim O'Rourke, John Zorn, Thurston Moore, or Masami Akita were inspired by Hajsch's music. He was offered numerous opportunities for collaborations. Despite this interest, or perhaps precisely because of it, this independently-minded artist withdrew from the scene. Hajsch is a classical, quiet perfectionist, eschewing both loudness in music and the unbridled din of the media in equal measure. He is uncompromising in both his work and his thinking and manages to gain an astounding musical power from his extreme designs through which traditional and modern musical structures can be blended anew. His works 'Nagual' and 'Akasa/Für Cleo' still sound fresh and current. Hajsch's quiet, powerful music, in which concept, experiment, concrete music and classical composition are equals, will still be attracting a host new listeners long after the hysteria surrounding speedily engendered powerbook-electronica has subsided."

VA: .ilation CD (SONIG 026CD). $13.00

18 exclusive tracks, 72 minutes. "Following the release of Comp in 1999 and after months of meticulous labour, Sonig, the Cologne-based byword for spiky irregular electronica, has put together a new compilation of work by artists on its roster. .ilation brings together twenty-two musicians from five countries with eighteen tracks covering the whole gamut from the avant-garde to out-and-out pop hits. Despite the broad spectrum of projects represented here (hardcore DSP assaults, electronic elegies, electro-acoustic experimentation, high jinx in rock and improvisation, as well as hybrid pop & jazz mutations), it's still all about carefully worked-out music, about the joy of experimentation and of listening, about the communication of complex musical ideas. For a total of seventy-two minutes the musical vista branches out and diversifies, yet retaining the listeners attention throughout. A bit like tuning in to a radio programme and finding you want to make a note of every single song played." Artists include: Wevie de Crepon, æ, Scratch Pet Land, Aelters, Mouse On Mars, Oval, F.X. Randomiz, Vert, Schlammpeitziger, Fan Club Orchestra, Niobe, So, Lithops, Microstoria, Workshop, C-Schultz, Hajsch, and Dü.

NIÖBE: Tse Tse CD (SONIG 027CD). $15.00

"After listening to Tse Tse a few times, you might find yourself wondering whether Niobe's Yvonne Cornelius hasn't departed to the other side. Much of the album momentarily assumes form only to dissolve once more in an instant, coalescing into a whole at the end. Piano, acoustic guitar, soulful horns and strings resound like film music. Against a wistful, melancholic, an abstract background that meanders in a continually arresting flux, the German-Venezuelan artist sings, whispers, coos, laughs and murmurs with a singularly cautious eloquence. The nostalgic glamour of the Ratpack is artfully deconstructed here. The sub-division of material into individual songs or tracks is scarcely perceptible on Tse Tse, a soft-sift through the listener's fingers. The album represents a further development of everything laid down in Niobe's Tomlab debut — enchanting jazz vocal renditions, siren-like with apposite timbre; strange electronic effects and 8-bit sampling; narrative structures reminiscent of a radio play. A treasure trove of textured sound, rich in melody and harmonic phrasing. Cornelius was born in Frankfurt and has been living in Cologne since 1994. For over a decade she has developed a unique approach to electronic production, as well as a style of singing ranging from diva-esque acrobatics to comic excess. Concerts in Mexico City, at Berlin's Volksbühne, and the Batofar in Paris have already exposed her to an international audience."

AE: Bootleg CD (SONIG 028CD). $15.00

"Electronics man Andrew Sharpley (Stock, Hausen & Walkman, Dummy Run, Mami Chan Band etc.) and female percussionist Emiko Ota (Urban Sax, Mami Chan Band etc.) got under way in 1998 as a sort of trash-electro-punk duo with shouting. (They were joined for a period by the notorious avant-guitarist Noel Akchoté (Rectangle), and became more structured and song-oriented.) Returning to their original line-up as a duo, they create a wild mixture of rhythmic cut-ups, crazy, cracked-up punk collages and lounge melodies, but despite the genre-hopping, Bootleg sounds like a well rounded piece of work. Coming across like a musical freakshow, a telling collection of rejected pop music of the twentieth and the twenty-first centuries, it is critical of the pop-media-machine, the duo's own quotation-machine runs at open throttle. Like label-mates Wevie De Crepon, Æ produces 'meta-music' that is a lot of fun to hear, a welcome disruption of musical stereotypes, and in the end a proud presentation of an animal by the name of 'Affrodil'."

AE: Bootleg LP (SONIG 028LP). $15.00

AELTERS: Ardchilids' Com.undo CD (SONIG 029CD). $15.00

"Aelters spends a lot of time on the production of microscopically small cut-ups. Technical errors are not eradicated, but integrated into his music. There is no such thing as a mistake. When the software is stuck, when machines hum and click — this is when making music starts. The computer has a mind of its own, and Aelters is happy to let it have its way. Plunderphonics, the joyful, media-critical poaching of the musical rubbish by which we are surrounded, is key to Aelters's work principles. His mixture of scraps of breakcore, scattered hard beats, spoken word collages, clicks, nursery rhymes and scenes of violence from action-packed movies are created 'with enough weirdness and clicks to keep both the dancers and the laptop nerds happy.' Aural snapshots (a family murmuring over supper, neighbors' sex-noises, those somehow ironic beats) 'fall into the right places.' His music knows no plan, but 'just mutates along.' Some of the compositions on Ardchilids' Com.undo are about three years old and have been reworked for this album multiple times; they have been re-re-arranged, until barely anything is left in common with the source material. This manic restlessness makes Aelters a typical Sonig artist. Aelters grew up with heavy metal, '90s pop hits, the traditional Spanish music of his mother, and his friends in Dat Politics."

VERT: Small Pieces Loosely Joined CD (SONIG 030CD). $15.00

"The masterful sound design of Vert's third Sonig album creaks and splutters, rumbles and rocks, breaks and blows from all sides and every angle. Despite complexity, British exile and resident of Cologne Adam Butler grooves with the best of them. Small Pieces Loosely Joined comprises both flirty come-ons in pop's direction and short sketches, apropos of its title. Using accordion, Rhodes, lots of piano, and a dense tissue of electronica, the tracks approach musical themes, toy with them, view them from different angles, and then move on to new pastures. The listener is by no means swept away in a maelstrom of sonic events, but rather engaged by the pace of Small Pieces Loosely Joined. You simply can't not listen. Vert conjures up tension and dissolves it by turns in a wonderfully charming, articulate and unpredictable manner. This string of loosely, even randomly connected musical clippings contains a clear thread of musical rigor, embedded deep down in the complex arrangements, traceable throughout the entire album."

SCHLAMMEITZIGER: Everything Without All Inclusive CD (SONIG 032CD). $15.00

"After interim activities such as remixing Depeche Mode and appearing at several festivals, the likable master of the Casio releases his fifth album. The aural handwriting of few contemporary electronic musicians is as distinctive as Schlammpeitziger's. Everything Without All Inclusive perfects and expands his signature friendly Casio grooves and irresistible melodies with surprising elements beneath the surface — seriousness and doubt. Schlammpeitziger always augments his melodious tracks with subtle layers of noise. Many here have an ambiguous quality that's hard to grasp; arrangements are shot through less with a barrel organ sort of humor than with desire and melancholy. Nevertheless, this music is surely big fun and good for love at first sight. But it also stands the test of the second and third sight. On further hearings, this music reveals qualities submerged by a wave of sympathy in the initial encounter."

SCHLAMMEITZIGER: Everything Without All Inclusive (Remixed) 12" (SONIG 033EP). $9.00

"Limited edition 12-inch in Sonig's the Irregular series. Exclusive re-mixes by cutting edge Sonig artists Vert, Wevie Stonder, Electronicat and German new wave hero Andreas Dorau." WEVIE DE CREPON: Ton Wah 12" (SONIG 034EP). $9.00

"Wevie de Crepon is a contractually obliged pseudonym of Wevie Stonder, a UK artist who has released stuff on Skam and Sonig in the past. Musically it's avant cut-up electronica, no-age splatter electronica, or in their own words, 'cack' music. This brand new six-track remix EP features an extended dance mix of 'Ton Wah,' a German 'Ton Wah' version, a heavy trance-hop version of 'The Wobbler' and a 'Ton Wah' remix by Mouse on Mars."

FORREST, JASON: The Unrelenting Songs of the 1979 Post Disco Crash CD (SONIG 036CD). $15.00

"Jason Forrest, an artist formerly known as Donna Summer, is a celebrity among electronic artists; featured by magazines all around the world, he is one of the most brilliant Plunderphonic artists who has ever walked the Earth. He samples, deconstructs and reconstructs himself into a rage while driving audiences to the verge of madness. Forrest obviously knows his disco and his prog rock; he's a maniac who controls his machines with dreamlike competence. His knowledge of repertoires and styles seems boundless. He mixes the most trashy with the most beautiful and the most rocking elements of the disco-decade into lavish sets, which, believe it or not, are perfectly danceable. Samples sound as if they had been broken three times and patched up four. Big band-like brass sections! Wild guitar solos! And, of course, always disco, Disco, DISCO! All this is combined in such a euphoric mix."

WORKSHOP: Yog Sothoth CD (SONIG 037CD). $15.50

"The seventh album by Workshop (aka Kai Althoff and Stephan Abry) is an extreme. Its predecessor Es liebt dich und deine Körperlichkeit ein Ausgeflippter showcases fascinating yet disturbing songwriting, both textual and musical. Yog Sothoth continues in that tradition and moves freely through various styles: electronica, house, rock, industrial, triphop, easy listening, folk, and German circus cabaret. Despite the assortment of styles there is cohesion throughout — a Workshopification, if you will — that helps Yog Sothoth from coming across like a compilation album. Althoff's lyrics are written in an idiosyncratic, inner-worldly code, while the accompanying music appears to be a blurred, dreamlike picture of something known yet unknown. Comparisons dropped in the past include Can, Robert Wyatt, Neu!, Pink Floyd, Red Krayola, and Boredoms."

SCHLAMMEITZIGER: Collected Songs Of My Temporary Past CD (SONIG USCD001). $11.00

"A lifelong Cologne resident, Jo Zimmerman aka Schlammpeitziger, has been recording his homemade brand of electronic music for more than a decade now. This release collects the best moments from his first release in 1993, Erdrachharnschleck on the Entenpfuhl label, to the most recent Augenwischwaldmoppgeflöte on A-Musik. In all, Zimmerman has released 4 albums in addition to numerous 12"s and split LPs under the Schlammpeitziger moniker. Along with F.X. Randomiz, Zimmerman is also one half of the duo Holosud whose 1998 LP Eijnawasafompen was widely hailed in electronic music circles. First time listeners to Schlammpeitziger will be delighted by his playful, romantic sound that draws just as much inspiration from little pleasures such as fishing, food, and drinking Koelsch, Cologne's local beer, as he does from the inventive spirit of Cologne's vibrant music scene. The future looks bright for Schlammpeitziger, as he prepares to begin recording another Holosud album in the near future, why not brush up on the past now?"

VA: Sonig Comp. CD (SONIGUS 001CD). $11.00

"This compilation is striking in that it has collected artists such as F.X. Randomiz, Microstoria, Lithops, Mouse on Mars and also C-Schulz & Hajsch, who work, albeit very differently and yet in conceptually and biographically related ways, on expanding the concept of electronic music. Sonig began several years ago as the label on which Mouse on Mars and Lithops brought out their music; music that otherwise appeared nowhere else; music that was too important to be thrown under the typical cycle of publications and therefore was only available on vinyl. By last year, however, it became apparent that Sonig was more than a musicians label serving as a pressure nozzle for the overflowing productivity of its owners. Andi Toma & Jan St. Werner (Mouse on Mars) and Frank Dommert (Entenpfuhl, a-Musik) started a maxi series that used the classic techno format, the Maxi, to publish extremely independent and highly unusual, well yes, dance music (or what one considers the parallel universe in which Voice Crack are stars). Records from Wang Inc. and Vert, who are both on the compilation, are found here as well as a smash from Mouse on Mars and a fervently longed for sign of life from F.X. Randomiz. It has long been clear that Sonig is not only about Mouse on Mars. Even now a scope is emerging that stretches from electro-acoustic concrete music (C-Schulz & Hajsch) and dance music produced with the means and instruments of electroacoustics (Wang Inc.), through dynamic and complex group processes served with great clarity (Microstoria, Dü), hits for another era (F.X. Randomiz, Mouse on Mars) and desktop improvisations (Scratch Pet Land), to idiosyncratic music that indulges in a happy funky isolationism (Lithops) or subtle reminiscences on Keith Jarrett's Cologne Concert embedded in a hypermodern setting (Vert)." Contains only exclusive tracks.

VA: Sonig Comp. LP (SONIGUS 001LP). $11.00

German-pressed LP version. Superior graphics/printing to the CD version.

FORREST, JASON: The Irregular 12" (SONIG 035EP). $9.00

"Very limited edition 12-inch, the first in a new series that will include Wevie de Crepon, Schlammpeitziger, æ, et al. These five songs were all at some point all included on the Post Disco Crash album, but work really well together on their own. They were all created about the same time, and are related like siblings, different and individual, but still blood."

SONORE (FRANCE):*VA: Batofar Cherche Tokyo CD (SON 17). $14.00

"The idea of this CO was to accompany the Batofar club in Paris, France, during their celebration of this fascinating and very active Japanese modern musical scene. This compilation CO is not strictly limited to the artists performing at the festival in December 2001, but offers an opening, a wider and complementary point of view in our common search. Also, I like to imagine this CD as a relay between two generations of musicians who continue to influence one another. This sound document attests to this transitional period and its artistic originality." Features: Yuko Nexus6, Fanta, Thermo (ex-Melt Banana), Atau Tanaka, Chika Shinohara, Kangaroo Paw (Neina), Satoru Wono, The Saboten, Tagomago, Noriko Tujiko, Phonophen Model, Santanicporocultshop, Kohji Setoh.

NEXUS6, YUKO: Journal De Tokyo CD (SON 18). $16.00

"Yuko's music could be filed under electronic minimalism, but that would be far too restrictive. Her compositions are full of wit, intimate and extremely playful. She decided on Journal de Tokyo to build her compositions as if she was working on a cassette tape. She recorded at first a 45 minute long session, with some friends on a DAT tape and then, recorded other tracks over it, as one can do with a cassette tape. This mode of recording lets some reminiscences of the previous recording to show up between the tracks. Yuko also nicely integrated field recording, text reading, and sound manipulations, all that being extremely coherent and minimalist. A gem!"

SONORIS (FRANCE):*TOEPLITZ, KASPER T.: Fissure CD (SONO 01). $17.00

First releases on a new French experimental label, each packaged rather elegantly in fold out digipaks. "The first solo CD of Kasper T. Toeplitz which illustrates the first side of his work. It gathers together three pieces that actually, create one work. The first track, 'In Den Gängen' is an electroacoustic music, linear, progressive, made of oscillations and vibrations, that may remind of some works by Jim O'Rourke, Hafler Trio and some Swedish artists such as Phauss/C.M. Von Hausswolf and Zbigniew Karkowsky (who has also worked with Toeplitz). This first piece introduces 'Steinschlag,' a work for soprano solo similar by some aspects to L. Berio and L. Nono. 'Steinschlag' is performed by Isabel Soccoja, a young singer who already interpreted Berio, Cage, Scelsi and Nono. 'Vague de Pas' is the conclusion of the CD. It's a slow rise made of one soundwave that introduces percussion's (Didier Casalmijana: Tam solo) to create music close to Scelsi. A very good introduction into the unusual universe of this promising musician."

OSSO EXOTICO: Church Organ Works CD (SONO 03). $17.00

"Osso Exótico is a Portuguese group formed in 1989 around André and David Maranha. Since their formation they have released 2 LPs and 3 CDs on their own label, Carbo Records, and on Staalplaat and Ananias. Since their first release, Oso Exótico follows a singular musical course. They always play with acoustic instruments with very few treatments or effects, in a personal way influenced by minimalist and American avant-garde. Church Organ Works gathers together 10 tracks for solo organ recorded in two churches of Lisbon. This new work explores the range of an organ's sonorities without the help of electronic treatments or effects. Some tracks may remind of the early works by Glass or Riley for electrical organ, but the majority of the tracks is a continuation of works of some of American composers (Pauline Oliveros, Jon Gibson, Guy Klucsevsek, Phill Niblock) or contemporary composers (Dumitrescu, Radulescu, Scelsi) who create experimental music with only some acoustic instruments."

DIMUZIO/DAN BURKE, TOM: HZ CD (SONO 11). $17.00

"Dan Burke is the leader of Illusion of Safety, the 'group' that succeeded perfectly the marriage between industrial and electroacoustic musics. Thomas Dimuzio has created since his first releases an unusual music made of electronics and electroacoustics with many energies. But have already released many records separately. HZ is made of extracts of live collaboration during performances in SF bay area in 1998. They use sampler and electronics with. A very good example of improvised live electronics that won't disappoint lovers of these two brilliant musicians."

DUIELINKS/ROEL MEELKOP/RALF WEHOWSKY, PETER: Verklärte Tage CD (SONO 12). $17.00

"Duielinks and Meelkop are two members of THU 20. Wehowsky (RLW) is the former leader of P16.D4 and still carves out a brilliant career nowadays as a composer and member of the label Selektion. This CD gathers 6 tracks of mail collaboration, where each member uses another member's materials as source or remix tracks. The result is an interesting example of abstract electroacoustic that's less minimal than expected."

ALATI/GIUSEPPE IELASI/RUGERRO RADAELI, CHRISTIAN: CD (SONO 14). $14.00

"This new project from Giuseppe Ielasi (from the Italian label Fringes) gathers two guitarists and one percussionist. The two prepared guitars are used as a sound generator for electronic devices with, and on top of subtle and (mostly) metallic percussions. From quiet and minimal ambience to stronger and more electric pieces, this record is a very good example of this new school of improvised music influenced by electroacoustic techniques."

MARANHA, DAVID: Piano Suspense CD (SONO 21). $17.00

"David Maranha is the leader of Oso Exótico. This is his second solo CD. During his stay in NYC at the Intermedia Foundation, he has recorded live in excellent conditions a work for motor bowed piano and violin. As usual, it's a work on the exploration of the capacities of acoustic instruments. This CD can be considered as a long journey into sound inspired by Phill Niblock and other American minimalist artists."

RODEN/IN BETWEEN NOISE, STEVE: The Radio CD (SONO 22). $9.00

19 minute EP. "New work from this prolific California sound artist. This piece was originally created for the 1996 Soundculture festival in San Francisco. For this work, he uses only sounds generated by an old radio (loops of radio transmission, radio as instrument) and his own voice. I really love this poetic and meditative work. Quite different from his previous EPs."

SENSORBAND: Area-Puls CD (SONO 31). $17.00

"Sensorband is a trio of musicians using interactive technology. Gestural interfaces — ultrasound, infrared, and bioelectric sensors — become musical instruments. The group, Edwin van der Heide, Zbigniew Karkowski, Atau Tanaka, each soloists on their instruments for over six years, formed Sensorband to create a performance ensemble. Edwin plays the MIDIconductor, machines worn on his hands that send and receive ultrasound signals, measuring the hands' rotational positions of and relative distance. Zbigniew activates his instrument by the movement of his arms in the space around him. This cuts through invisible infrared beams mounted on a scaffolding structure. Atau plays the BioMuse, a system that tracks neural signals (EMG), translating electrical signals from the body into digital data. Together, Sensorband creates a live group dynamic, bringing a visceral physical element to interactive technologies. The basic materials are pure oscillator waves. The result can be considered as the missing point between Hafner trio (Z. Karkowski used to be a regular member), Ryoji Ikeda and no-rhythmic Panasonic."

BERTHER, PIERRE: Un Cadre De Piano Prolongé CD (SONO 41). $17.00

"'Hanging above the audience, metal cans are linked to some strings of a piano frame by long steel wires (3 to 5 m.). Strings are excited by percussion, friction, magnetic fields and electric motors.' First solo record from this musician/instrument builder from Liege, Belgium (after a collaboration CD of strange songs with Frederic le Junter and one long track on a Sub Rosa compilation), also collaborator of Arnold Dreyblatt for performances. You'll find the first part in a Dreyblatt style, a center part of layered and droning sounds (but without any effects) and a strong finale. Another very good step in the minimal exploration of one musical instrument."

POIRE Z: Presque_chic CD (SONO 42). $15.00

"The super-group (Gunter Muller + Erikm + Norber Moslang + Andy Guhl — best known as Voicecrack) recorded live at Taklos festival, Zurich, and Unlimited XIII festival, Wels. Tense and vibrating improvised electronic/electroacoustic music."

DAILLEAU, LAURENT: Supersternal Notch CD (SONO 43). $15.00

"Supersternal Notch mixes a rehash of extracts from live solo performances and studio work. Mostly performed on Theremin and analogue synth (including a cameo by guitarist Dominique Répécaud), the music is quiet but tense. Live electronics music between the works of some pioneers and modern digital music. Laurent Dailleau is a founding member of Tiofid and Le Complexe de la Viande."

SONOVAC (UK):

SONOVAC: Dancing In The Dark 10" (SONO P1). $9.00

"Mega limited 10" on mystery label. Sonovac take on Springsteen's 'Dancing in the Dark' on one side and Antonelli Elctr.'s classic 'I Dont want nobody else but You' on the other. 300 only."

SONY (EUROPE):

BLUNSTONE, COLIN: One Year CD (SMM 05772). $15.00

Midline European CD reissue. "Recorded between June 1970 and June 1971. The initial sessions found Colin backed by fellow ex-Zombie Rod Argent's new group, Argent, but later sessions saw the singer backed by Chris Gunning's lovely string arrangements. Widely considered to be Blunstone's best solo album, One Year is the perfect showcase for his distinctive, breathy voice. Blunstone also came into his own as a songwriter on this record."

MATCHING MOLE: Matching Mole CD (SMM 54782). $15.00

New version of this digipak reissue of this group's first album (of two), originally released in 1972. Featuring Robert Wyatt (Mellotron, piano, drums & voice), Phil Miller (guitars), David Sinclair (piano & organ), Bill MacCormick (bass). Guest super star: Dave McRae (electric piano). The group's 2nd album, Little Red Record is currently out of print. "Matching Mole was Robert Wyatt's first group proper after his exodus from Soft Machine, formed from the remnants of THE Canterbury band, The Wilde Flowers, of which both Wyatt and keyboardist Dave Sinclair were members at different times. Augmented by Phil Miller (Delivery, DC & The MB's) on guitar, and Bill McCormick (Quiet Sun) on bass, their debut still smacks of the Dadaist hodge-podge of Wyatt's first solo LP (End of an Ear), but it's tighter and much more exciting affair. The gorgeous 'O Caroline' and 'Signed Curtain' are the only pop styled numbers on the record, which give way to a sprawling 'jazzy but not jazz' suite of improvisations that make up the remainder. Though the vocal tracks still cause me to weep like a kitten, the instrumentals, fueled by probably Wyatt's best drumming on record, are a wonder in and of themselves. Like Egg at their peak, this is fluid expressive playing that straddles both space-rock and jazz in a really refined way, with just a smattering of goofiness that balances it all out nicely. The band broke up in 1973, and Wyatt was actually planning to reform the group in '74 before his accident prevented him from doing so. Although undeniably valuable in that it provided the blueprint for Hatfield and North, National Health etc., Matching Mole to me is the quintessential record in the Canterbury cosmology, eclipsing even their great follow-up Little Red Record." — Billy Kiely

SONY (JAPAN):

MILLS, JEFF: From The 21st CD (AICT 43). $30.00

Japanese-only CD collection of tracks from the international king of Detroit loop minimalism. An exclusive album of new tracks, not a collection of previously available vinyl tracks. Futuristic and expansive Mills development, highly desirable. "All compositions arranged, produced and mixed by Jeff Mills for Axis Records. Recorded at Spider Formation-Chicago." Track listing: "Gata"/"Solara"/"Dove@3:43"/"Optima (Reason)"/"B2f-7"/"To Count"/"31J56-4"/"Zenith"/"Twilight 20"/"Violet (21 Counts)"/"M87". Mills, from the Sony Techno Page; "Born in 1963 in Detroit, Jeff Mills started DJing in 1987. He started creating his own music in 1989. He formed a Techno unit, Underground Resistance with Mike Banks, aka Mad Mike, in 1990. His record has been released under a several names including X-101. After leaving Underground Resistance, he established his own label, Axis, based in Chicago. As one of the most talented and popular DJs, he spends much time touring and performing in Europe and UK. He established a new label, Purpose Maker, in 1996, in which he approaches and challenges Techno music at a different level. Jeff Mills is known for playing 30 to 50 disks within an hour — truly a unique DJ style. This is because he tries his best to get the cream of every record and only plays the part he feels is the best part of each tune. He believes that DJ's need to listen to the music carefully, and be a medium for the record consumer. For some strange reason, he does not consider himself a DJ."

PLASTIKMAN: Consumed 2CD (AICT 516). $40.00

Japanese version of the classic 1998 album by Richie Hawtin, which adds a bonus 16-minute 3" CD which is exclusive to this release. Featuring an excerpt of a Plastikman live performance at the Liquid Room, Tokyo, Japan on August 4th 1995. Tracks on this 3" CD are: "Intro"/"Plasticene"/"Untitled Acid Fill"/"Untitled Drum Fill". Day in and day out, nobody sounded better than Hawtin in '98. From Concept 1 to the Brinkmann Concept 1 Variations to Artifaks (BC), every move seemed destined to fulfill cosmic significance. And Consumed (commonly found as a single CD on NovaMute in most developed nations) was the deepest pinnacle of it all. If you missed out on it and want to splurge on an extra special edition, well here you go.

CAGE, JOHN: Music For Keyboard 1935-1948 2CD (SICC 76/7). $43.00

A new series of Japanese-only reissues by Sony of John Cage-related documents, rescuing these historic recordings back to the public view after decades of exclusion. Music For Keyboard is THE famous double LP of Cage's early piano music (including his first prepared piano works), originally issued by Columbia in 1970. Produced by David Behrman, performed by Jeanne Kirstein (prepared piano, piano, toy piano). Recorded 1969; reproduction of the original Richard Kostelanetz liner notes included. Features: "Two Pieces" (1938); "Metamorphosis" (1938); "Bacchanale" (1938); "The Perilous Night" (1944); "Tossed As It Is Untroubled" (1943); "A Valentine Out of Season" (1944); "Root of an Unfocus" (1944); "Two Pieces" (1946); "Prelude for Meditation" (1944); "Music for Marcel Duchamp" (1947); "Suite For Toy Piano" (1948); "Dream" (1948). From Richard Kostelanetz's liner notes: "...their distinctive rhythms and unusual tonalities make these pieces as instantly recognizable as Cage's own face and voice; for the paradox is that although many of his compositional constraints function to deny both personal habit and tasteful choice, they also create a particular style of sound in time that is unmistakably Cagean."

VA: New Electronic Music From The Leaders Of The Avant-Garde CD (SICC 78). $29.00

Japanese-only reissue of this historic compilation, originally issued by Columbia in 1967. First time on CD. Includes one piece each by John Cage, Milton Babbitt and Henri Pousseur. Reproduction of original Richard Teitelbaum liner notes included. Features: Cage: "Variations II" (1961); Babbitt: "Ensembles for Synthesizer" (1962-64); Pousseur: "Trois Visages de Liege" (1961). Cage's "Variations II" is an indeterminate composition for any number of players, by any sound producing means; here David Tudor performs on amplified piano. Teitelbaum: "Freed from the conventional restraints of system, style or the control of the rational faculty, this music participates (in Cage's words) in 'disorganization and a state of mind which in Zen is called no-mindedness.' The listener, similarly liberated, is offered an experience that is hallucinatory, spaced out and very beautiful." Babbitt's "Ensembles for Synthesizer" is classic 60's electronic blatter, referred to as Speed Music with "pitch successions frequently moving at rates approaching or surpassing thresholds of human perception." Pousseur's "Trois Visages" is his most significant electronic work, taking off w/ children's rhymes into pure electronic streams.

NEUHAUS, MAX: Electronics and Percussion — Five Realizations CD (SICC 79). $29.00

Japanese-only reissue of this classic electronics & percussion album, originally issued by Columbia in 1968. First time on CD. Produced by David Behrman, recorded in Feb., 1968; includes a reproduction of the original Max Neuhaus liner notes. Featuring works by Brown, Stockhausen, Cage, Bussotti & Feldman, performed by Max Neuhaus. The pieces are: "Four Systems — for Four Amplified Cymbals" (Earle Brown; 1954); "The King of Denmark" (Morton Feldman, 1964); "Coeur pour Bateau — Positively Yes (Sylvano Bussotti, 1959); "No.9 Zyklus for One Percussionist (Karlheinz Stockhausen, 1959); "Fontana Mix — Feed (John Cage, 1958). This would be considered one of the first "live electronic music" albums and the front cover photo of a bare-chested Neuhaus in front of this percussion kit is one of the unforgettable images of the avant-garde. Neuhaus is better known in recent times for his real-world Times Square sound installation.

MILLS, JEFF: The Other Day CD (SRCS 8291). $29.00

Japanese version of the Axis label compilation, previously issued in the UK by React. This version adds 3 bonus tracks: "Eclipse," "Nepta," and "Mercury". Since React doesn't seem to sell their own records anymore, we are now carrying this version instead. When Jeff Mills left Underground Resistance in the early 90, he formed his own 12" label, Axis. About 15 vinyl-only EPs have followed, of some of the finest minimalist/abstract techno around. This CD compiles tracks from those EPs, creating one of the ultimate documents of the Detroit underground, an emotionally packed sonic masterpiece. You can't spin it inside out (as some of the Axis b-sides require) and there's no locked grooves, but this CD-only release has unreleased tracks and interesting philosophic liner notes from Jeff making it a mandatory addition to the shelf. Tracks like "Solarized", "19" ("the unique feel of layering multiple, semi-tonic sounds in slightly varied sequences"), "Growth" (a minimal pulse classic), etc.

VA: Ghost In The Shell CD (SRCS 8381). $32.00

A soundtrack to the Sony Ghost In The Shell Playstation, featuring exclusive tracks by Takkyu Ishino, Mijk Van Dijk, Brother From Another Planet (Claude Young), Hardfloor, Westbam, Joey Beltram, Scan X, The Advent, BCJ (CJ Bolland), Dave Angel & Derrick May. Derrick's "To Be Or Not To Be (Off the Cuff Mix by Juan Atkins)" is widely advertised as his first new track in 7 years, a radical non-dance experimental journey through some of his classic sound sources.

COLEMAN, ORNETTE: Skies of America CD (SRCS 9371). $15.00

Ornette's classic symphonic work, recorded in 1972. Performed by The London Symphony Orchestra, conducted by David Measham. Exclusive Japanese CD release. "The voicing of the orchestra is written in very high parts because I wanted the sound of the orchestra to create a very clear earth and sky image of sound as much as a feeling of night, stars and daylight. The movements are written free of key and use the total collective blending of the transposed and non-transposed instruments using the same intervals." — Ornette. Last copies of this original Japanese pressing (currently released by Sony in the US) at a reduced price.

COLEMAN, ORNETTE: Broken Shadows CD (SRCS 9373). $23.00

Japanese-only reissue of this classic outtakes album, featuring recordings from 1971-72, originally issued by Columbia (it ended his brief tenure with the label, following Science Fiction & Skies of America). Made in NYC, with Dewey Redman, Don Cherry, Bobby Bradford, Charlie Haden, Ed Blackwell & Billy Higgins. Four of the tracks are from the Science Fiction sessions. "Masterpieces and mere curiosities, triumphs, trials, and errors fill these grooves. Above all, Broken Shadows is informed by the call and responses and stomps and joys and sorrows of the Texas blues — the heart of Ornette Coleman's music since the days when he was knocking around the R&B circuit in Fort Worth. As Gary Giddins wrote of this most profoundly American artist: 'One of the ironies in contemporary music is that it took a theorist of unusually acute hearing and sophistication to restore the ragged cry of the blues in jazz. This is the core of Coleman's achievement, and the same could be said of Louis Armstrong and Charlie Parker.'"

SOOT (SPAIN):

OVE-NAXX: Bullets From Habikino City HxCx CD (SOOT 006 CD). $10.00

"After a year of hibernation, DJ /Rupture by Soot Records is up and running. Fast. The label's debut CD release is a 32-minute EP of Ove-Naxx, a young rising star within Japan's highly evolved noise and electronica scene who is about to bend heads worldwide. Bullets From Habikino City HxCx, Ove-Naxx's first release outside of Japan, showcases a delirious take on raggamuffin drum & bass and post-modern Nipponese pop. Catchy synth melodies buzz inside fast-moving thickets of percussion. Reggae and video-game music are an obvious influence, as are Japanese harmonic systems. The overall sound can be compared to artists such as Venetian Snares, DJ /Rupture, Knifehandchop or Squarepusher, but Ove-Naxx's superb production has a voice all its own. Meticulous sampling, nonstandard IDM flourishes, and psychedelic digital noise swell around uptempo reggae-flavored beats as funky as they are fractured. Ove-Naxx makes intricate pop songs and is unafraid to use distortion, speed, and mayhem as compositional tools. Despite its hypercomplex drum programming, this is unabashedly soulful music — flowing earnestly from Ove-Naxx's cyborg heart."

OVE-NAXX: Bullets From Habikino City HxCx LP (SOOT 006 LP). $10.00

LP version.

SOS:

FREE KITTEN: Special Groupie 7" (SOS 1). $3.50

A warehouse find of a few copies of the one & only release on Free Kitten's SOS imprint. A special tour-only single, sold at Lollapalooza shows in 1993 & not generally distributed elsewhere. Features the tracks "Cleopatra" and "Looselips". Kim Gordon, Julie Cafritz and Yoshiimi (maybe not).

SOUL BROTHER (UK):

VA: Flying Dutchman - Anthology CD (SBPJ 07 CD). $13.00

"This anthology is the first ever compilation of work from Bob Thiele's majorly influential jazz label Flying Dutchman. It features well known artists Lonnie Liston Smith and Gil Scott Heron alongside more underground and in demand artists. Most of the in demand tracks are in fact re-issued here for the very first time. This collection has been mastered to the highest standards with comprehensive sleeve notes and a profile on each artist." Also includes: Louis Armstrong & Leon Thomas, Harold Alexander, Gato Barbieri, Oliver Nelson, Pretty Purdie and Esther Marrow.

VA: Flying Dutchman - Anthology LP (SBPJ 07 LP). $23.00

Double vinyl version.

SOUL CENTER/W.V.B. ENT. (GERMANY):

SOUL CENTER (THOMAS BRINKMANN): Roses 12" (WVB 005). $9.00

Four new monster tracks: "Funky Sterling", "Drive My Car", "A Good One", "Easy Goin". The "roses" are on the label, very pretty red roses against a blue background. Nice labels, even better sound, the delivery is exceptional.

SOUL JAZZ RECORDS (UK):

VA: Brasil CD (SJR 22 CD). $18.00

"Recorded in 1994 in by Soul Jazz Records, Brasil features a host of Brazilian musicians such as Joyce, Sivuca, Raul de Souza, Celia Vaz, Wanda Sah etc performing the music of Brasil. Many of the songs were written specifically for this CD such as Joyce's 'Magica' and Sivuca's 'Forro'. Brasil also includes a number of Batucada's (including one in which Raul de Souza's trombone solos over a samba school's worth of drums)."

VA: Universal Sounds of America CD (SJR 27 CD). $18.00

"Pharoah Sanders, Art Ensemble of Chicago, Sun Ra and more. Deep, spiritual jazz on the far side. A record tracing the story of American radical jazz in the 1970s." Originally issued by Soul Jazz in 1995. Features: David Durrah (Moog & Arp synthesizer duo from 1975), Art Ensemble Of Chicago ("These de Yoyo" from 1970), Steve Reid & the Legendary Master

Brotherhood (with Ahmed Abdullah, from 1976), Pharoah Sanders ("Astral Travelling", with Lonnie Liston Smith), Marcus Belgrave (from 1974), New Life Trio (Steve Reid, Brandon Ross & David Wertman, from 1978), Byron Morris and Unity (from 1973), Sun Ra & the Solar Arkestra ("Space Is The Place" from 1972),

VA: Universal Sounds of America 2LP (SJR 27 LP). $21.00

Double vinyl version in full color gatefold sleeve.

VA: Nu Yorica! Culture Clash In NYC: Experiments In Latin Music 70-77 2CD (SJR 29 CD). $23.00

First released in 1996. "A double CD compilation from the fine folks @ Soul Jazz documenting... experimental/crossover activities involving Latin elements (percussion, chants) and everything from straight up acid rock (Ocho) to freeform Miles-ish extemporizations (Eddie Palmieri's epic 'Un Dia Bonita'). Features Ocho, Palmieri, Cortijo Y Su Maquina Del Tiempo, Cachao Y Su Orquesta, Machito Orchestra, Bobby Vince Paunetto, Joe Bataan, Harlem River Drive, Stone Alliance, Tempo 70, Ricardo Marrero & the Group, and the Grupo Folklorico Y Experimental Neuvayorquino. Mostly impressive overall, a perfect introduction to the otherwise daunting array of outsider Latin music(s)." — Hrvatski.

VA: Nu Yorica! Culture Clash In NYC: Experiments In Latin Music 70-77 2LP (SJR 29 LP). $21.00

Double vinyl in full color gatefold sleeve.

VA: Faith: A Message From The Spirits CD (SJR 34 CD). $18.00

Subtitled: Saints, Orishas, Buddhas and deities. Sacred music, rhythms and voices of voodoo, Islam, Buddhism, Christianity, Judaism, Santeria, Hinduism. "Sacred music recorded around the world by Soul Jazz records in 1996. Featuring music from religions of the African Diaspora such as Santeria and Voodoo through to American evangelists and Tibetan Buddhism. This record is not for the faint-hearted.... All religions are ever changing and evolving. As they adapt to their different social, political and geographical environments so the music contained within them also changes. The music contained on this CD reflects this and was recorded over the space of one year in many countries. Come of the music was recorded in studios, some in the street, some in monasteries and some recordings were taken from the radio."

VA: Faith: A Message From The Spirits 2LP (SJR 34 LP). $21.00

Double vinyl version.

VA: Nu Yorica 2! CD (SJR 36 CD). $18.00

"Nu Yorica is the sound of Latin music in New York City. Eddie Palmieri, Joe Bataan, Cortijo, Machito.....Nu Yorica explores the culture clash in New York where Latin music met African — American Funk, Jazz and Soul leading to new forms of music that have since become standard. Nu Yorica features the cream of New York's Latin musicians at the height of their journeys into experimental latin music. Nu Yorica 2 continues the story, taking us from 1976-1985. A period in which Latin musicians took their music into more new directions looking further into their cultural roots at the same time as embracing new musical forms such as the arrival of disco. Featuring Mongo Santamaria, Fania All Stars, Candido, Cachao..."

VA: Batucada/Capeira CD (SJR 37 CD). $18.00

1998 compilation of "Musica de grupos do samba e capoeira do Brasil". "Batucada and Capoeira are two musical styles from Brasil. Batucada comes from the Samba Schools of the South and Capoeira is a martial art originating from Bahia in the North of Brasil. The music that accompanies Capoeira is played on the Berimbau and drums. The Berimbau is a long stringed instrument that is played with a small stick. The most famous musician associated with this instrument is Airo Moreira. This CD features a number of famous Berimbau players from Brasil including the most famous Capoeira master of them all Mestre Bimba with two tracks recorded in Salvador in 1969. The Samba Schools of Rio are made up of hundreds of singers, dancers and drummers. The music and songs they make are called Samba. When just the drummers play, the music is called Batucada. This is what you have on this CD : Some of the heaviest Batucadas ever to come out of Brasil! Mainly taken from the early seventies and featuring the most famous Samba Schools such as Mocidade Independente de Padre Miguel and Portela all these Batucadas have been known to fill dancefloors around the world."

VA: Batucada/Capeira 2LP (SJR 37 LP). $21.00

Double vinyl version in full color sleeve.

GRUPO OBA-ILU: Santeria CD (SJR 38 CD). $18.00

"As the final cornerstone of Soul Jazz's Nu Yorica releases, this release shows the authentic music of Cuba's Santeria — which lies at the heart of all Afro-Cuban music and influenced the music and ideas of artists such as Eddie Palmieri, Machito, Grupo Folklorico, Milton Cardona and Mongo Santamaria on Nu Yorica 1 & 2. Recorded by Soul Jazz records in Havana, Cuba and featuring the Bata drumming and songs of Santeria. The music is performed by Grupo Oba-Ilú. Made up of members of the Grupo Folklorico of Cuba, the Cuban state's most famous music, folklore and dance group — plus members of various Santerian temples. The CD shows an important stage in Cuba's opening up to the West, as Soul Jazz was one of the first non-Cuban companies allowed to record at the state owned ICAIC studios in Havana."

GRUPO OBA-ILU: Santeria 2LP (SJR 38 LP). $21.00

VA: 100% Dynamite! CD (SJR 40 CD). $18.00

First volume in this series, originally issued in 1998. "100% Dynamite explores the links between Reggae, Jazz, Funk and Soul. The album is jam-packed with Reggae tunes that have crossed-over and become cult dancefloor hits in clubland such as 'Greedy G' 'Rocksteady' and 'Granny Scratch Scratch'. Fourteen tracks of music that show the influence that American Jazz, Funk and Soul music has had on Jamaican Reggae. The proximity of the West Indies to the USA meant that many Jamaican musicians would continue to be influenced by American styles of music whilst at the same time continuing to define new styles of their own such as Ska, Rocksteady and Dub. 100% Dynamite features some serious Jamaican funk by Jackie Mittoo, The Brentford All-Star, The Upsetters and Toots & The Maytals, the cream of Jamaica's jazz musicians such as Tommy McCook, Cedric Brooks and Lennie Hibbert and also features revolutionary tunes such as 'Armageddon Time', 'Drum Song' and 'Cuss Cuss', songs which helped define a unique sound for Jamaican music in the sixties and seventies."

VA: 200% Dynamite! CD (SJR 41 CD). $18.00

"Carrying on perfectly from 100% Dynamite, this new compilation simply features more funk — soul — rocksteady — jazz — dub and ska tracks tracing the history of Jamaican Reggae and the influence American styles such as Funk and Jazz had on this music. 200% Dynamite features some serious Funk and Rocksteady from the likes of The Upsetters and Toots & The Maytals through to long out-of-print cult club classics such as Tenor Saw's mighty 'Ring The Alarm' and the Skatalites much in demand funk classic 'Candlelight', through to Jamaican Jazz from masters such as Tommy McCook and Byron Lee as well as some serious dub from the likes of Augustus Pablo and Jackie Mittoo. Whereas 100% Dynamite took tracks mainly from Studio One, 200% Dynamite delves further into Jamaica's classic labels such as Treasure Isle, Techniques and the Upsetter label. Taking music primarily from the Sixties and Seventies, 200% Dynamite takes you further into the Jamaica's music such as Ska, Rocksteady, Dub etc showing at the same time how the proximity to the USA meant that Jamaican musicians were still being influenced by US styles such as Funk, Jazz and Soul."

VA: Barrio Nuevo CD (SJR 42 CD). $18.00

"El Barrio is the Spanish word for neighbourhood. In the USA, El Barrio is the neighbourhood where Latinos live. That is to say Puerto Rican, Mexican, Dominican, Cuban Americans etc. In New York, the mainly Puerto Rican immigrants became Nuyoricans. In East L.A. the Mexican immigrants became Chicanos and the people are La Raza. Barrio Nuevo contains the music where Latino and African - American cultures meet. Where Latin meets Jazz, Funk, Soul and Disco. Artists like War, Patti LaBelle and Mandrill who all became successful in the 1970's alongside other more obscure groups like the Kongas, Pride, Milton Zapata and the band Chakachas who produced two cult hits 'Jungle Fever' and 'Stories'. Barrio Nuevo also talks about how Salsoul, a small Latin label in New York City embraced Disco music leading it to become one of the largest Disco labels in the world (whilst still making Latin records!). Salsoul was also a pioneer in manufacturing the first ever 12" singles, making DJs happy everywhere."

VA: Nu Yorica Roots! CD (SJR 45 CD). $18.00

First of two volumes. "Nu Yorica Roots is the third release in Soul Jazz Records' Nu Yorica series, and focuses on New York Latin music in the 1960s. Featuring dancefloor classics such as Tito Puente's 'Oye Como Va' and Joe Cuba's 'I'll Never Go Back to Georgia', through to the original Afro-Cuban sounds of Machito and Mongo Santamaria, alongside the experimentalism of Eddie Palmieri's 'My Spiritual Indian' and Ray Barretto's 'Acid', Nu Yorica Roots! covers all aspects of Latin music during this period. Mixing elements of Latin, funk, R&B and jazz in equal doses, the sound of Latin music in the 1960s that grew out of Spanish Harlem signalled the arrival of a new style of music as much influenced by the sound of Black America as by it's Cuban roots. The album contains many classic as well as rare tracks from all the masters of latin music, such as Eddie Palmieri, Tito Puente, Machito, Ray Barretto, Joe Bataan, etc. alongside unknown gems. Nu Yorica Roots tells the story of the development of latin music in the 1960s from the mambo through to bugalu, Latin jazz, and other styles like Latin soul. From the original giants of the mambo — Machito, Tito Puente and Tito Rodriguez to the second wave of young artists like Joe Bataan, Ray Barretto and Eddie Palmieri that arrived in the sixties and redefined a sound, Nu Yorica Roots is a comprehensive guide to the development of Latin music in New York City."

"The fourth installment of Soul Jazz Records' Dynamite series takes you further into the land of reggae, ska, soul, rocksteady and funk alongside dancehall DJs and dub to give you classic reggae sounds from Jamaica. You'll find excursions with Tenor Saw and Buju Banton's 'Ring The Alarm Quick', Lloyd Robinson's original Harry J production 'Cuss Cuss', and Paris Connection's super-sweet 'Who's That Lady'. There's classics like the Maytals' '54-46', Barrington Levy's dancefloor monster 'Under Me Sensi' alongside King Tubby (featuring Tommy McCook and the Aggrovators), and rude boy rocksteady from the likes of sweet-talking Honey Boy Martin. Anyway, here's more Dynamite. From mento to digital it's the sound of Jamaica." Artists include: Bongo Herman, Tenor Saw & Buju Banton, Prince Buster, Barrington Levy, Lloyd Robinson, King Tubby, Dennis Alcapone, Honey Boy Martin, Toots and the Maytals, General Degree, Paris Connection, U-Roy, Lyn Taitt, Granville Williams Orchestra, Cimarons."

VA: New Orleans Funk CD (SJR 47 CD). $18.00

"This is a definitive collection of New Orleans funk, featuring acknowledged masters of funk such as the Meters, Eddie Bo, Allen Toussaint and Lee Dorsey next to some of the earlier artists from the area who helped shape the meaning of funk (Professor Longhair, Robert Parker, Huey 'Piano' Smith). The album is also filled with many rare, sought after, and undiscovered funk tracks from artists like the Explosions, Marilyn Barbarin, Sonny Jones, Mary Jane Hooper, and many more. The album covers the period from the emergence of the New Orleans sound in the early 1960s through to the mid-70s. Jam packed with classics like Aaron Neville's 'Hercules', Eddie Bo's 'Hook and Sling', and 'Check Your Bucket', the Gators 'Gatur Bait', the Explosions' 'Hip Drop', and the Wild Magnolias' 'Handa Wanda', to name but a few. This record is an essential part of anyone's record collection who is interested in funk. Other artists featured include: Ernie K. Doe, Cyril Neville, Gentleman June Gardner, Betty Harris, Danny White, Ernie & the High Notes, Dr. John, Chuck Carbo."

VA: Studio One Rockers CD (SJR 48 CD). $18.00

"Following on from the success of their 100% Dynamite series, Soul Jazz Records are entering into the vaults of the most important reggae label of all time, Studio One. Owned and founded by Clement 'Coxsone' Dodd, Studio One's output serves as a comprehensive guide to the history of reggae music. The music on Studio One Rockers covers all areas of reggae, such as ska, rocksteady, roots and dancehall, areas in which Studio One led the field. And Studio One Rockers features many legendary tracks brought together for the first time by Soul Jazz Records. From the beginning of reggae, when the Skatalites developed the new sound of ska in 1962 up until today, Studio One has been the number one innovator in Jamaican music. Included in this compilation are classic ska tracks ('Phoenix City'), rocksteady ('Feel Like Jumping'), roots music ('Truth & Rights'), dancehall (Freddie McGregor, Michigan & Smiley), and many more. From Dawn Penn's legendary 'No No No' to classics such as Horace Andy's 'Skylarking' and Marcia Griffith's 'Feel Like Jumping'. The Coxsone sound system in the early 60s was one of the three main systems operating in Jamaica, alongside competitors Prince Buster and Duke Reid. The Studio One catalog is possibly the largest in all Jamaican music, and this release is the first in a series of Studio One compilations on Soul Jazz Records."

"More classic Reggae from Jamaica's most important label ever! Following on from Studio One Rockers, this second journey into the vaults of Studio One tells the story of the important link between American Funk and Soul and Jamaican Reggae. Ranging from music taken from the mid-1960s (and the arrival of Rocksteady) through to the beginning of the 1980's, Studio One Soul features versions of US Funk and Soul hits (many rarely heard before) from some of the many classic artists who recorded at Studio One. American Soul music has always been an important influence on Jamaican Reggae. The beginning of the Jamaican recording industry at the end of the 1950s started with Clement 'Coxsone' Dodd (owner of Studio One) and a group of select in-house musicians (originally The Skatalites) recording their own version of American R'n'B. Playing on the off-beat this music became Ska and a new music was born. As American R'n'B progressed through Funk, Soul and Disco, Jamaican music was going through it's own musical changes from Rocksteady through to Reggae and Roots music. The house-band at Studio One known variously as The Skatalites, The Sound Dimension, The Soul Vendors, The Brentford All Stars and The Brentford Disco Set recorded on a daily basis behind all Studio One vocalists as well as recording instrumentally in their own right. These musicians are as important to the development of Jamaican music as were the equivalent musicians at Motown, Stax, Muscle Shoals and Philadelphia International in the US. Some of the main musicians were Jackie Mittoo (Keyboards), Pavlove Black (Keyboards), Roland Alphonso (Sax), Lloyd Brevett (Bass), Leroy Sibbles (Bass), Johnny Moore (Trumpet), Lloyd Knibbs (Drums) and Leroy 'Horsemouth' Wallace (Drums). Soul singers such as Curtis Mayfield and The Impressions (Queen Of The Minstrels) had a profound influence on Jamaican artists and many other US artists were constantly re-interpreted and re-worked. Artists such as Aretha Franklin (Respect), Charles Wright (Express Yourself), King Floyd (Groove Me), Otis Redding (How Strong) were all very popular in Jamaica in the 1960s. At the end of the 1960s Black Consciousness became an important part of American Soul music. At the same time many Jamaican artists were starting to look to their roots. Many artists would shortly become involved in Rastafarianism. The 'conscious' lyrics of American Funk and Soul again struck a chord with Jamaican artists. 'Message From A Blackman' (originally by The Temptations), 'Is It Because I Am Black' (Syl Johnson) are examples of this. Through the 1970s Soul/Disco artists such as Barry White ('Can't Get Enough' and 'Deeper and Deeper') and The Detroit Spinners ('I'll Be Around') became the flavour of the day. This CD finishes with Willie Williams interpretation of Macfadden & Whitehead's classic 'Ain't No Stopping Us Now'."

"This record features the groups that grew out of Punk and embraced dance music. These groups reflected the changing face of a British multi-cultural society in the aftermath of Punk, taking on new musical influences such as Black American dance music, Reggae and Electronic music. A Certain Ratio were one of the first groups to be signed to Factory Records in Manchester, the first band to make the connection between punk and US Black dance music. It was A Certain Ratio who went to New York to record their first album that managed to mix a sparse Manchester bleakness in their sound along with US funk/dance elements. A Certain Ratio's early cover of the US group Banbarra's 'Shack Up' features the amazing funk drumming of new recruit Donald Johnson. 'Knife Slits Water' is a classic extended disco mix that managed to bring the punk 7" into the world of the dance 12". Sheffield became a focal point for DIY-electronic groups at the end of the 70s. The two most successful were Cabaret Voltaire and The Human League. Whilst Cabaret Voltaire stuck to their roots, signing to, and staying on, a fledgling new label, Rough Trade Records, The Human League would go on to international stardom as their experimental late-70s electronic music turned into 80s synth-pop. At the beginning, both these groups were interested in electronic music and how this music could be created within a punk ethos. Consequently, the all-electronic 'Being Boiled' was created on a two-track tape recorder in mono! The Pop Group were the forerunners of what came to be known as The Bristol Sound. Other groups that have come out of this chain include Rip, Rig and Panic, Maximum Joy, Massive Attack and Portishead. The Pop Group mixed Punk, Funk, Disco and Reggae influences into a sound that many future bands would emulate. Out of Leeds came The Gang of Four. Again mixing Punk with dance and a large dose of Marxist philosophy, The Gang of Four were initially released on the Edinburgh based independent label, Fast (as were The Human League). This Heat. An early inspiration to many of the groups here, Camberwell's finest '24 Track Loop' is an incredible precursor to electronic, industrial music which sounds like an early version of Jungle. The concept of Industrial music would be taken a stage further by Throbbing Gristle who released music on their own Industrial Music label with the intent of pushing the boundary between music and noise. 23 Skidoo's interests stretched as far as Kung Fu, Gamelan Music, Language and Semiotics. Apart from this, they also managed to combine their musical influences like no-one else. On their classic album, Seven Songs, Dance music, Experimental noise and Gamelan music combine in equal measures. 'Vegas El Bandito' is taken from this record. 'Coup' is one of the definitive dance records from this period. Finally, The Slits were possibly the closest of these groups to The Sex Pistols. 'In The Beginning, There Was Rhythm' (produced by Dennis Bovell) was indeed a prophesy of the music to follow Punk, where Punk would meet Funk, Reggae and Disco." Tracklisting: 1. A Certain Ratio ? VA: Studio One DJ's CD (SJR 58 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records are releasing the fourth journey into the vaults of Studio One Records, the legendary foundation label of Reggae, owned and founded by Sir Coxsone Dodd. For this release we return to the roots of Reggae music — The Soundsystem. Throughout the late 1950s and 1960s Soundsystems such as Sir Coxsone's Downbeat and Duke Reid (the Trojan), Prince Buster, Tom the Great and King Edwards played throughout the city of Kingston, Jamaica. These Soundsystems were the birthplace of much of Jamaica's musical culture — Soundclashes, Dancehall and the idea of the Toaster who sang over records — the DJ. As ever Clement 'Sir Coxsone' Dodd led the field, so for this release the focus is on DJ's at Studio One and features legendary toasters such as Denis Alcapone, Dillinger and Prince Far I as well as a host of rare material by lesser known artists. Also included is Count Machuki — the original DJ — the first man ever to speak over the mic at Sir Coxsone's Downbeat Sound System — from where it all began. As Steve Barrow (author of The Rough Guide to Reggae/Blood and Fire Records) writes in the sleeve notes, Jamaican deejay music is the source for all Rap music: From Count Machuki talking over records on Sir Coxsone's legendary Downbeat Sound System the idea of recreating tried and tested rhythms with the DJ toasting over the top was taken into the studio to create a new style. This style would eventually travel to America when the Jamaican-born Kool Herc began playing at Block parties (a version of the Kingston Soundsystem parties) in the Bronx. Cutting up rare-groove classics for the first B-Boys to rap over, Hip-Hop was born and the DJ music that had started on the early Soundsystems of Kingston would go on to conquer the world! Studio One DJ's (compiled by Mark Ainley) is the next in the series of releases where Soul Jazz Records are showcasing the music of Studio One, the label that literally defines Reggae."

"Sandoz is the solo moniker of Richard H. Kirk from Cabaret Voltaire. Inspired by twenty years of listening to Jamaican music, Richard H. Kirk has now mixed contemporary Electronic Dance music with Jamaican Reggae and Dub styles on Sandoz In Dub-Chant To Jah. As a founding member of Cabaret Voltaire, Richard H. Kirk has been a pioneer of Electronic music for more than twenty years embracing all the new developments in Electronic Dance music: In 1978 Cabaret Voltaire signed to a fledgling Rough Trade records releasing experimental electronic/post-punk classics such as 'Nag Nag Nag' and 'Do The Mussolini'. Ten years on and Cabaret Voltaire were sharing musical ideas with Chicago House pioneers such as Frankie Knuckles and Ron Hardy as well as their counterpart Detroit Techno stars such as Derrick May and Ritchie Hawtin. With Sheffield's Warp Records acknowledging the debt that local group, Cabaret Voltaire, had played in defining Electronic music, it was fitting that Richard H. Kirk started his solo project, Sandoz, on Warp's seminal Artificial Intelligence series. Twenty years on and Richard H. Kirk has made the logical link between his twenty years of experiments in Electronic music and a similar process that Jamaican Dub pioneers such as King Tubby, Lee Perry and Augustus Pablo were making in the 1970s. Sandoz in Dub — Chant To Jah also makes the connection with contemporary Jamaican Dancehall styles — mixing elements of Ragga, Digital Drum and Bass and Steppers into the equation."

"The" definitive anthology of ACR recordings from 1978-85". Well packaged per the Soul Jazz standard, with a 36 booklet of historical photos and a long interview the band. "A Certain Ratio were the first group (alongside Joy Division) to sign to Manchester's infamous Factory Records in 1978, future home of New Order, Happy Mondays. As purveyors of dance music in the aftermath of Punk, A Certain Ratio led the field. After Punk, a new set of groups emerged who wanted to mix Dance music — Funk, Soul, Reggae, Disco with the spirit of Punk: Groups such as A Certain Ratio, Cabaret Voltaire, 23 Skidoo and The Pop Group were the first UK groups to bring Dance music into their sound. In New York's dance clubs ACR's 'Shack Up' became an underground Dance hit in places like Paradise Garage and The Roxy, leading to them playing live in New York's Danceteria with seminal New York group ESG and their first album being recorded in New Jersey mixed by legendary Factory producer Martin Hannett.. Here ACR first encountered Nu Yorican Latin percussion/street music in Central Park. The following day ACR bought Bongos, Whistles and Congas and didn't look back! Mixing Punk, Funk and Latin percussion together to make a unique sound. Their sets often ended in ten-minute percussion jams, occasionally dressed in Brazilian Football gear! When Factory opened their new nightclub, The Hacienda, ACR played at the opening night along with ESG. A Certain Ratio were a band ahead of their time mixing Dance music with Punk spirit. When asked by Tony Wilson (founder of Factory) what ACR sounded like, style guru Peter York replied that they sounded 'Early'. 'Early what?' asked Wilson. 'No, just Early' came the reply. Soul Jazz Records are releasing a definitive compilation (2xCD, 2xLP) of ACR featuring classic tracks along with lots of rare stuff, interviews and original photos."

MANTRONIX: That's My Beat CD (SJR 62 CD). $18.00

"That's My Beat is compiled by Kurtis Mantronik and features a mixture of Old-School Hip-Hop, Disco, Electro and Club-tracks. They reflect the sound of the New York clubscene that Kurtis Mantronix was so much a part of in the 1980s — where he moved between the exclusive worlds of Hip-Hop, Electro and Disco/House with ease. Kurtis Mantronix is a true legend. As well as his own material Mantronix has produced and remixed literally hundreds of other artists: Joyce Simms, EPMD, India, T La Rock, Dhar Braxton, Tricky Tee, Jocelyn Brown, Just Ice to name a few (as well as diverse artists such as Jean-Paul Gaultier, Shirley Bassey and Steve Reich. Kurtis Mantronik's unique musical career started early. (His first release 'Fresh Is The Word' was released in 1985 on Sleeping Bag Records — aged 17!). From growing up around the birth of Hip-Hop in the Bronx park-jams where DJs such as Afrika Bambaata, Kool Herc and Grandmaster Flash would literally plug in their decks to the electricity supply of available lamp-posts to hanging out with Larry Levan at the Paradise Garage and David Mancuso at the Loft, Kurtis Mantronik absorbed all the New York music influences around him and created a musical path that has enabled him to be an artist, producer and remixer respected in all fields of dance music. Kurtis Mantronik's first job was in-store DJ in New York's legendary Downtown Records (aged 15). It was here that he first met Hip-Hop DJs such as Red Alert, Afrika Bambaata and The Latin Rascals as well as the rising House DJs of the day such as a young Tony Humphreys and the like. It was here also that he also first met a young Will Socolov who was starting a new record label, Sleeping Bag records. Will asked Kurtis to make a record and shortly after 'Fresh Is The Word' was released. Mantronix quickly became an underground star, releasing in quick succession a string of classic releases such as 'Needle to the Groove', 'Who Is It?', 'King of the Beats' and 'Bassline'. As Mantronix became a star, Sleeping Bag also quickly became THE underground New York dance label releasing many more tracks played, produced or remixed by Mantronix as well as releasing Arthur Russell's legendary project Dinosaur L 'Go Bang' and Larry Levan's classic 'Weekend'. From this base Kurtis Mantronik has continued as one of the few true pioneers in music, be it Hip-Hop, Electro or Dance. This album features the tracks that have most influenced Mantronix and features a mixture of Old-School Rap, Electro and Disco/House. The album is full of New York block-party classics, whether it's the Rap classics 'It's Yours', 'Super Rhymes' or 'That's The Joint', Disco classics from Machine, Unlimited Touch and Suzy Q or classic European and Japanese Electro from the likes of Yello, Ryuichi Sakamoto and Yellow Magic Orchestra."

"Sandoz is the solo moniker of Richard H. Kirk from Cabaret Voltaire. Inspired by twenty years of listening to Jamaican music, Richard H. Kirk has recently mixed contemporary Electronic Dance music with Jamaican Reggae and Dub styles on the Soul Jazz release Sandoz In Dub-Chant To Jah. This 12" features two brand new re-mixes, both by Richard H.

Kirk himself and are newly recorded for Soul Jazz Records. 'Scientific Exploitation' is taken from the Chant to Jah Sandoz in Dub album and has been reworked. These two new mixes mix elements of Dub, Acid House, Electro and Dancehall best described as Electronic Acid Dancehall!"

ESG: Step Off CD (SJR 64 CD). $18.00

"The legendary New York group ESG are releasing their first new album in ten years. ESG are made-up of the Scroggins sisters, Renee (vocals), Valerie (drums) and Marie(congas). The group now also features two of their daughters Chistelle (guitar) and Nicole(bass)! Hailing from the Bronx, ESG were formed at the start of Hip-Hop. They became the most sampled of groups ever among their contemporaries such as Public Enemy, LL Cool J, Marley Marl and Grandmaster Flash. Shortly afterwards they were adopted by the underground dance scene. ESG are indeed the only group to play at the opening night of Manchester's legendary Hacienda and the closing night of New York's equally legendary Paradise Garage where they shared the night with Larry Levan! Originally signed to Factory Records in the UK their first album was produced by Martin Hannett and recorded at the same time as A Certain Ratio's classic To Each album. In the US they released music on New York's underground 99 Records label alongside New York's No Wave groups such as Liquid Liquid, The Bush Tetras and Konk. In the late 1980s they released the telling Sample Credits Don't Pay Our Bills. ESG have continued to release their own unique music. Their sparse, raw, percussion led sound continues to inspire and influence new generations. Current artists such as Le Tigre and Peaches constantly cite ESG as inspiration. Twenty years on and ESG's latest record is as sharp as the first."

ESG: Step Off 2LP (SJR 64 LP). $21.00

Double LP version, full color sleeve, same 7 tracks as the CD.

A CERTAIN RATIO: B-Sides, Rarities And Sessions 2x10" (SJR 65 EP). $21.00

"Soul Jazz Records are releasing this 2x10" vinyl only release of A Certain Ratio B-Sides, Rarities and Sessions. This is a one-off special pressing of 1000 copies and consists of the tracks on CD2 of ACR's Early that were not on the original vinyl LP release. This is the first time many of these tracks have appeared on vinyl and features (as the title suggests!), B-Sides, Rarities and the infamous John Peel Sessions."

VA: Hustle - Reggae Disco: Kingston, London, New York CD (SJR 66 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records brings you classic Disco reggae style! From the nightclubs of New York to the dancefloors of Kingston and London. Anita Ward's 'Ring My Bell', Chaka Khan's 'I'm Every Woman', Michael Jackson's 'Don't Stop Till You Get enough', Jean Carn's 'Don't Let It Go To Your Head', The Whispers' 'And The Beat Goes On', Sugarhill Gang 'Rapper's Delight', Diana Ross 'Upside Down', and William De Vaughn's 'Be Thankful'. As Lovers Rock and Rare Groove met in London in the 1980s, these disco reggae tracks are mix of UK artists such as the Blood Sisters, Carol Cool, Family Choice and Black Harmony and Jamaican artists and DJs such as Kingston's Derrick Laro and Trinity, Xanadu and Sweet Lady."

VA: Hustle - Reggae Disco: Kingston, London, New York 2LP (SJR 66 LP). $21.00

Double LP version, same 8 tracks as on the CD.

VA: Studio One Scorchers (Instrumentals) CD (SJR 67 CD). $18.00

"The fifth Soul Jazz Studio One release after Rockers, Roots, DJs and Studio One Soul. Studio One instrumentals are the foundation of Reggae. These rhythm tracks became the basis for all Dancehall as countless artists and producers re-versioned these classic Studio One instrumentals. This release features Jamaica's finest ever musicians - Don Drummond, Tommy McCook, Jackie Mittoo, Cedric Brooks, Vin Gordon, Lester Sterling - all the key players in the legendary Studio One house-bands: The Skatalites, The Sound Dimension, The Soul Bros, Brentford Rockers and The Soul Defenders. This release features classic and super-rare instrumentals from Studio One: Ska, Funk, Roots, Rocksteady, Reggae from the 1960s to the 1980s. Studio One is the Motown of Jamaican Reggae. This release contains sleeve notes by Noel Hawkes (Dub Vendor), is compiled by Mark Ainley, features exclusive photos and a special DVD sampler (a bonus preview video track from the forthcoming Studio One Story full length movie/DVD)."

"2 rare heavy Studio 1 instrumentals taken from the forthcoming Studio 1 scorchers album."

VA: Studio One Scorchers Instrumentals 3LP (SJR 67 LP). $25.00

Triple LP version.

VA: Studio One Story CD/DVD (SJR 68 CD/DVD). $32.00

"One and a half years in the making! Studio One Story is a definitive guide to Jamaica's greatest ever record label and it's founder Clement Dodd. The package includes 16 track CD featuring Studio One's greatest releases. From Theo Beckford's groundbreaking 'Easynappin' to The Abyssinians 'Declaration of Rights' this CD and limited edition double vinyl is back-to-back classics. The DVD is a 4 hour film that tells the full story of Studio One and Clement 'Sir Coxson' Dodd. Filmed in Kingston, the documentary has interviews with many of the artists who Studio One made famous - Horace Andy, Alton Ellis, Ken Boothe, Sugar Minott, Dennis Alcapone, The Ethiopian, Lone Ranger, King Stitt and more. Part-documentary, part-music video the film also features rare footage of artists such as The Skatalites, Jackie Mittoo, Count Ossie, Marcia Griffiths, Ernest Ranglin and more. Studio One is the foundation label of Jamaican Reggae. Often described as the Motown of Jamaica, Studio One is where the career of literally hundreds of Reggae artists began - Bob Marley and The Wailers, Alton Ellis, The Heptones, Ken Boothe, The Skatalites, Burning Spear - everyone! As well as the CD/double vinyl and DVD this package also comes with 100 page booklet featuring rare photos and text." We are only carrying the NTSC version of the DVD, produced for viewing in North America and Japan.

VA: Studio One Story LP/DVD (SJR 68 LP/DVD). $33.00

Double vinyl version, which includes the same DVD disc and book, as included with the CD version. NTSC version of the DVD for North America. LPs feature the same 16 tracks as the CD.

YUSH 2K: Outlaw Robot/Light Up 12" (SJR 69 EP). $9.00

"Soul Jazz Records is releasing this new dancehall/hip-hop single by current UK reggae/hip-hop faves Yush 2K. 'Outlaw Robot' was originally released in 2001 on Yush 2K's own label and Soul Jazz are re-issuing it along with the newly recorded 'Light Up' as a taster for their forthcoming album on Soul Jazz. Yush 2K are AJ, Selvie Wonder and Sandra Nubia and are Glasgow's finest exponents of Ragga/Hip-Hop whose last single was the super fine 7" 'Fade Away!'"

CLAYTON, KIT: When Cedars Fall 12" (SJR 71 EP). $9.00

"Soul Jazz Records is releasing this new single by San Francisco electronic/techno pioneer Kit Clayton as the first in a series of new electronica releases under the banner 'Microsolutions For Mega Problems'. This twelve-inch is super-limited to 1000 copies worldwide. Kit Clayton is at the front of a movement of 'lap-top' electronic artists such as Herbert, Bola, Sutekh, Pole etc. These two tracks are firmly in the electronic dance field and have been specially recorded for Soul Jazz Records."

VA: Miami Sound: Rare Funk and Soul from Miami CD (SJR 72 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records new release features rare and classic Funk and deep Soul from Miami, Florida from 1968-74. The album features million-selling artists such as Gwen McRae, George McRae and Timmy Thomas alongside artists unknown outside of the Sunshine State such as James Knight and The Butlers, Frank Williams and The Rocketeers and All the People. Miami Funk, Soul and Disco was dominated by TK Records, founded by Henry Stone in the late 1960s. Through a myriad of associated record labels such as Alston, Blue Candle, Dash, Glades, Cat and more, TK Records made international artists out of Gwen McRae and her brother George McRae, Betty Wright and KC and The Sunshine Band in the mid-70s crossover period between Soul and Disco. The music on this compilation shows the roots of this Miami Sound. All the artists and musicians on this album continued to work together throughout the heyday of TK Records when it produced hit after hit. The house band (that could be said to be equivalent to Motown's Funk Brothers) included songwriters such as Clarence Reid (AKA Blowfly, the adult comedian!), Casey Finch (KC from KC and The Sunshine Band) along with musicians Little Beaver, Frank Williams and Robert Moore. As well as being the in-house band, most of these artists also ran successful solo careers, making Miami one of the most musically creative hot spots in the USA. The artists on this compilation include Helene Smith, Miami's first lady of Soul, Frank Williams and The Rocketeers (featuring a very young Little Beaver on vocals), George McRae's rare-groove classic 'I Get Lifted' (written by Casey Finch), Timmy Thomas' truly experimental track 'Funky Me', Gwen McRae's classic '90% of Me' as well as a host of practically unknown Miami artists who never managed to make it outside the city borders! The album comes with loads of unique original photos and sleeve notes."

VA: Miami Sound: Rare Funk and Soul from Miami 2LP (SJR 72 LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

SUTEKH: Hands On Feet EP 12" (SJR 73 EP). $9.00

"Second in a series of new electronica releases under the banner 'Microsolutions For Mega Problems'. Sutekh has been releasing music since 1997. As well as two albums released on Force Inc he has also had music released on labels such as Mille Plateaux, K7, Source and Plug as well as releases on his own Context label which he runs from his base in San Francisco. Sutekh is at the front of a movement of 'lap-top' electronic artists such as Herbert, Bola, Kit Clayton, Pole etc. These four tracks are firmly in the electronic dance field and have been specially recorded for Soul Jazz Records."

VA: Nice Up The Dance CD (SJR 74 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records next release mixes new classic Dancehall, original Ragga Hip-Hop and party anthems to bring you a record like no other! Featuring some of the biggest names from both the Reggae and Hip-Hop worlds such as Kenny Dope, Sean Paul, Tenor Saw, Chaka Demus and Pliers alongside current Jamaican Dancehall artists such as Ward 21 and Ms Thing. The connection between Hip-Hop and Reggae begins in New York when the Jamaican Kool Herc moved there and in the mid-70s laid the foundations for the arrival of Hip-Hop. With two turntables and a microphone, Kool Herc (and later Grandmaster Flash, also of Jamaican descent) took the elements of Jamaican Dancehall and DJ culture and invented Hip-Hop. Ever since this point, artists have been aware of this relationship - from Kenny Dope making music with some of the finest MCs from the New York dancehall scene (including a young Shaggy) to current Jamaican Dancehall artists re-inventing US Rap and R'n'B. Nice Up The Dance brings all these elements together along with classic anthems like the definitive Dancehall version of Dawn Penn's 'No No No', Sean Paul's classic 'Infiltrate' and Tenor Saw's rare Hip-Hop mix of 'Ring The Alarm' as well as underground UK Reggae/Hip-Hop (Soldier Blue), current NY Hip-Hop from J-Live and Cutty Rank's party classic 'Who Say Me Dun'."

Double LP version.

GIBBS, JOE: Productions: Roots, Culture, DJs and the Birth of Dancehall CD (SJR 76 CD). $18.00

"Covering Roots, Dub, DJs, Lovers and Dancehall, the latest Reggae release on Soul Jazz music is dedicated to the classic productions of Joe Gibbs. The album is a mixture of classic tracks alongside rare material - most of which has never been available outside of Jamaica - all released together for the first time. Included are some of the classic Dub tracks that Joe Gibbs produced that were to have huge influence with punk groups such as the Clash and the Pistols when first released - partly on account of the strange sound effects that they would add to this music such as sirens, beepers and even flushing toilets. Similarly the culture & roots music of The Mighty Diamonds and Culture, especially Culture's massive 'Two Seven's Clash' were huge hits in the UK as punks found an ideological connection with the rebel sound of these groups. But it is the breadth and quality of all the music that Joe Gibbs (and his partner/engineer Errol Thompson) produced in the mid-70s that makes this work special."

Joe Gibbs' house band of musicians known as The Professionals were usually led by Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare and featured the cream of Kingston's finest session musicians. Their re-interpretation of classic Studio One rhythms in the mid-70s for Joe Gibbs (as well as Channel One) would become the basis for the arrival of Dancehall at the end of the 70s.

Although Joe Gibbs had begun producing at the end of the 1960s, this album starts in the mid-70s and goes through to the 1980s. This roughly relates to the arrival of Errol Thompson at Joe Gibbs studio who would go on to produce all the material alongside Joe Gibbs under their joint name of The Mighty Two. Thompson had first worked at Studio One and later Randy's where he worked with Lee Perry - who had an obvious influence on his production skills. This record includes classic material from the cultural heavyweight likes of Culture, Dennis Brown, Mighty Diamonds and Trinity alongside rare cuts from the likes of Nigger Kojack and Liza, Shorty The President, Joe Tex and U Black, and many more."

GIBBS, JOE: Standardization 10" (SJR 76 EP). $9.00

"Super limited dancehall 10" on Soul Jazz Records. A classic Joe Gibbs production featuring space invaders, beepers and sirens on the dub side and the superior vocals of Joe Tex and U Black on the DJ side. This record is a taster for the forthcoming Soul Jazz Records album Joe Gibbs' Productions: Roots, Culture, DJs And The Birth Of Dancehall. The dub of this 10" will not be on the album. One-off pressing of 1000."

Double LP version.

VA: New York Noise: Dance Music From the New York Underground CD (SJR 77 CD). $18.00

"Features the cream of New York's punk-funk bands from the early 80s. Bands such as ESG, Liquid Liquid, Bush Tetras, Arthur Russell's 'Dinosaur I' etc - all bands that have had a huge influence on the current wave of New York groups such as The Rapture, Metro Area, The Liams, The Strokes etc. New York Noise sums up the point where dance music and punk rock first met. It features New York no wave artists such as DNA, Glenn Branca, Bush Tetras etc alongside New York dance music's experimental pioneers such as Arthur Russell (Dinosaur I), Bill Laswell (Material), Konk and Joe Bowie's funk/jazz classic group Defunkt. Two more classic ESG tracks (not featured on any of the earlier Soul Jazz-ESG releases), Jean Michael Basquiat's classic production of the proto-electro-hip-hop classic 'Beat BOP' as well as super rare New York artists such as the dance, and the bloods. Featuring exclusive photos, text and super loud pressing this is the latest musical journey by Soul Jazz records and another essential release." Artists: Liquid Liquid, ESG, Konk, The Dance, Material, Lizzy Mercier Descloux, Rahmelzee vs K.Rob, Bush Tetras, Glenn Branca, The Bloods, Dinosaur I, Theoretical Girls, James White and The Blacks, Defunkt, Mars.

VA: New York Noise: Dance Music From the New York Underground 2LP (SJR 77 LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

BELL: Winning Signal 12" (SJR 78 EP). $9.00

"The sixth release from the UK electro artists Bell. Managing to mix up Acid, Disco, Electro and Funk the group continues to gain fans that include Andrew Weatherall, Gilles Peterson, Trevor Jackson and more. 'Winning Signal' is classic electrofunk style, 'Mode 3' sounds like Kraftwerk via Detroit. All in all, a quality electro release."

MITTOO, JACKIE: Last Train To Skaville CD (SJR 80 CD). $18.00

"Jackie Mittoo is one of the most important artists in the history of Jamaican music. As founding member of the legendary Skatalites, as in-house arranger/producer at the equally legendary Studio One and as a solo artist in his own right leading groups such as The Soul Brothers, Sound Dimension and Soul Vendors. The Soul Brothers recorded at Studio One between 1965-1967, the transitional period between Ska and Rocksteady. Their music was a mixture of Jamaican Funk, Latin and Jazz sometimes with a reminder of Ska and the hint of Rocksteady. The previous era of Ska had been dominated by the Skatalites. The Skatalites were made up of Don Drummond, Roland Alphonso, Jackie Mittoo, Johnny Moore, Lloyd Knibbs, Lloyd Brevett, Tommy McCook, Ernest Ranglin and Lester Sterling. Clement Dodd described the Soul Brothers mix of musical styles as Ska, Jump-Up and Soul sounds. The opening track 'Train to Skaville' signalled the end of the Ska era, as the Soul Brothers started to forge a new sound."

The classic and rare recordings included here, however, are all from the short period 1965-67 when Jackie Mittoo was developing his new style and the Soul Brothers bridged the gap between Ska and Rocksteady. As Clement Dodd stated at the time 'The Soul Brothers possess a Crystal Clear Sound. Obviously it would be better to Cut the Chatter and Spin the Platter'."

VA: British Hustle: Sound of British Jazz-Funk & Disco 1974-82 CD (SJR 82 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records latest release charts the rise of British Jazz-Funk and Disco from its roots in the early 1970s through to its heyday at the start of the 1980s where hit after hit was being produced from the UK. The music ranges from the early Funk of bands such as FBI and Gonzalez, the first wave of bands to hit such as the Real Thing, Hi Tension and the Olympic Runners through to the final wave of groups to break such as Light Of The World, Central Line and Beggar and Co. Also included are underground Disco classics such as Atmosfear's 'Dancing In Outer Space' and the New York Disco Larry Levan fave Imagination's 'Burning Up'. The tracks feature classic hits alongside long lost rare grooves. The sleeve notes describes the rise of British Jazz-Funk and Black Music in the UK and is packed with original photos as well as adverts from the period."

RUSSELL, ARTHUR: The World of Arthur Russell CD (SJR 83 CD). $18.00

"Arthur Russell holds a unique place in the history of dance music. As an artist he had the admiration of everyone from Philip Glass to Todd Terry. As well as his solo work he also formed the seminal groups Dinosaur L and Loose Joints in the 1980s. With tracks such as 'Go Bang' and 'Is It All Over My Face?', Russell redefined Dance music in the 1980s as both an intelligent and subversive form. At the centre of the New York Dance scene in the 1980s, Russell was co-founder of Sleeping Bag Records along with Will Socolov. As well as releasing Russell's own material, Sleeping Bag would release seminal music from Mantronix, Larry Levan, Patrick Adams, EPMD, Joyce Sims and Todd Terry amongst others. As a regular visitor at David Mancuso's 'Loft', and Nicky Siano's 'Gallery' nightclubs and even Studio 54, Russell immersed himself in the New York Dance scene whilst continuing to create avant-garde experimental music. These two elements in his life and music make him truly unique. Larry Levan, Walter Gibbons and Francois Kervorkian all played pivotal roles as remixers of Russell's work and feature on many of the tracks featured here. Arthur Russell died in 1992 from AIDS leaving behind an enormous body of work. This release features both the classic tracks of Arthur Russell such as 'Go Bang', 'Is It All Over My Face', 'Wax The Van' etc alongside impossible-to-find collectors tracks such as 'In The Light Of The Miracle' and the private-pressing only 'Pop Your Funk'. This is the first collected work of Arthur Russell who has been for many years one of the most respected iconic artists in the history of dance music."

LOOSE JOINTS: Pop Your Funk 12" (SJR 83 EP). $12.00

"Arthur Russell is a legend. This limited edition one-sided coloured vinyl collectors 12" is being released as a taster for the forthcoming World Of Arthur Russell which Soul Jazz Records are releasing in the new year. Pop Your Funk was recorded by Arthur Russell and Steve D'Aquisto as the group Loose Joints whose 'Is It All Over My Face' is one of the all time New York disco classics (and featured on the forthcoming World Of Arthur Russell on Soul Jazz). Pop Your Funk was only ever released as a private pressing seven inch single and consequently is one of the rarest and most in-demand of all Arthur Russell's recordings."

VA: 600% Dynamite CD (SJR 84 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz return with their latest Dynamite! Roots, DJ, Rocksteady, Funk, Early Dancehall, Soul — it's all here. More party classics from the series that has now sold over 250,000 copies worldwide. Non-Stop Reggae anthems such as Tenor Saw's 'Golden Hen', The Uniques 'Queen Majesty', Johnny Osbourne's 'Buddy Bye', Yabby You's 'Conquering Lion' and many more. Classic artists such as Dennis Brown, Johnny Osbourne, I Roy, Yabby You and Tenor Saw feature alongside classic tracks by lesser known artists such as The In Crowd, Tall T and The Touchers, Prince Mohammed and more. 600%Dynamite carries on giving you Reggae music in all styles from the classic Roots of Earth & Stone and Yabby You to the Dancehall style of Alozade & Hollow and Papa San. From the Funky Rocksteady of Dennis Brown and Johnny Osbourne to the Lovers style of Sandra Reid and the In Crowd. It's all here.

Featuring tracks from all the major Jamaican producers: Lee Perry, Winston Riley (Techniques), Bunny Lee, Sly and Robbie, Harry Mudie, Lloyd Charners, Niney the Observer, Jo Jo Hookim (Channel One) and more, 600%Dynamite is simply the next instalment in a series that's becoming a who's who of Reggae music."

VA: 600% Dynamite 2LP (SJR 84 LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

VA: Studio One Ska CD (SJR 85 CD). $18.00

"Studio One Ska is the latest in Soul Jazz Records series of releases from the mighty Studio One Records. Studio One Records and its in-house band The Skatalites defined Ska music and made Jamaican music famous throughout the world. This compilation features classic vocal and instrumental tracks from The Skatalites, Bob Marley and The Wailers, Delroy Wilson alongside super-rare tracks from the likes of Ken Boothe, The Maytals, Jackie Mittoo, Tommy McCook and many more. Independence came to Jamaica in 1962. The musical soundtrack to this era was the upbeat, energized Ska, the first truly Jamaican music. Ska music and Studio One are synonymous with each other. Whilst Ska was only one style of Reggae that Coxson Dodd and Studio One Records would release in its forty year history — with Rocksteady, Roots, Dancehall, Dub and much more still to come — Ska was the first and defined Jamaican music as having its own identity throughout the world. The inspiration for the rhythm of Ska came from the Southern US Rhythm and Blues records of the 1950s. Coxson Dodd had initially encountered this music while working as a migrant farm worker in Florida. It was here that he first decided to start a Soundsystem on returning to Jamaica and began importing R'n'B records that would soon become the staple musical sound of any Kingston dance. The main R'n'B artists of the day were Roscoe Gordon, Wynonie Harris, Amos Milburn, Fats Domino, Louis Jordan. Listening back to these records it is possible to hear the roots of this new Jamaican sound."

Young artists such as The Wailers, The Ethiopians, The Maytals and Delroy Wilson all began their careers making joyous uptempo Ska at Studio One. The group that accompanied all these artists were The Skatalites. The Skatalites were Tommy McCook, Roland Alphonso (tenor saxes), Lester Sterling (alto sax), Don Drummond (trombone), Johnny Moore (trumpet), Jackie Mittoo (piano), Jah Jerry (guitar), Lloyd Brevett (bass) and Lloyd Knibbs (drums). Whilst Ska music became easily identifiable by playing on the off-beat (usually the piano and guitar) The Skatalites brought their wide influences into the music. Ska could include Modal Jazz, Pop, Jump Up R'n'B, Rastafarian and Burro music, US Western and film soundtracks, Easy Listening and even classical music. Consequently this CD includes proto-Rastafarian music such as Don Drummond's 'Addis Ababa' alongside interpretations of UK mod songs (El President is based on Georgie Fame's 'Yeh Yeh'). You will also find Latin-tinged tunes such as 'Don Cosmic', jump-up Gospel/Ska from the Maytals, Eastern-flavoured modal instrumentals such as 'El Bang Bang'. The young singers who The Skatalites backed in turn also brought their own influences into the music. The youthful Rude Boy culture became the lyrical subject of many Ska songs whether you were for them or against them. By 1965 Ska music was over. The musical mood of the country was changing. Independence had brought Jamaica a new set of issues and the music had to reflect this, heralding the arrival of Rocksteady, which had a slower beat and was based on the emerging Soul music of American artists such as Curtis Mayfield. In 1965 The Skatalites split-up to form two new groups — The Soul Brothers who became the new house-band at Studio One and Tommy McCook and the Supersonics who moved over to rival Duke Reid's new Treasure Isle studio. Ska, however, had made its mark and Jamaican music was now known throughout the world. And despite the brevity of their time together (just over a year!) The Skatalites left behind a legacy of literally hundreds of classic recordings."

VA: Studio One Muzik City 5CD BOX (SJR 87 CD). $62.00

"An essential 83-Track, 5 CD collection from the vaults of the legendary Studio One Records. This boxed set is made up of Studio One Rockers, Studio One DJs, Studio One Roots, Studio One Soul and Studio One Scorchers (all of which are also available individually). Formed by Clement 'Sir Coxson' Dodd in 1963, this collection is a testament to the 40-year musical history of the most important label in the history of Jamaican music. Featuring The Skatalites, The Heptones, Jackie Mittoo, Alton Ellis, Marcia Griffiths, Horace Andy, Johnny Osbourne, Freddie McGregor, Cedric Brooks, Ernest Ranglin, Dawn Penn, Dillinger, Lennie Hibbert, Lone Ranger and many more, this box set is literally a who's who of Reggae music."

HU VIBRATIONAL: Beautiful CD (SJR 88 CD). $18.00

"New album that mixes deep percussive Afro-Jazz with elements of Hip-Hop recorded in Los Angeles, California. The album features members of the West Coast left-field Hip-Hop/Electronica community such as Daedelus and Carlos Nino A/K/A Ammon Contact alongside Adam Rudolph and Hamid Drake. Adam Rudolph and Hamid Drake have between them played and recorded with Pharoah Sanders, Herbie Hancock, Bill Laswell, Jah Wobble, Don Cherry and many more. With previous releases on Scott Heren's (Prefuse 73) Eastern developments label, Hu Vibrational's deep spiritual music draws on the links between Jazz music and avant-garde Hip-Hop. Adam Rudolph co-founded the Mandingo Griot Society and has been working together for over recent years as musical partner to the great Yusuf Lateef. He also runs the Go:Organic Orchestra a 22 piece percussion group. Carlos Nino A/K/A Ammon Contact has had releases on Soul Jazz Records, Eastern Development and Plug Research. As well as being an integral part of Hu Vibrational he has also produced Build An Ark who feature on the recent tribute to Sun Ra release alongside Theo Parrish, Reelocise, Jimi Tenor, Alex Attias and more."

VA: Soul Jazz Records Presents Studio One Dub CD (SJR 89 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records brings you the much-anticipated Studio One Dub as the latest in their Studio One series. This album features classic and rare Dub tracks from Studio One, many available for the first time in over thirty years. Studio One Dub includes the dubs of many classic tracks such as Horace Andy's 'Skylarkin', Johnny Osbourne's 'Truth and Rights', John Holt's 'Hooligan', Freddie McGregor's 'Bobby Bobylon' plus many more rare tracks. In short, this is an essential album! Studio One Records history in Dub is vast. Originating in the idea of the dub-plate as an exclusive for sound-system operators, this evolved into the version-side of singles that still exists for 99% of Dancehall singles today. The Dub/Version quickly evolved from being simply the instrumental to sonic experiments with bass, drums and the mixing desk. Many of these Dubs were created at Studio One by the great engineer Sylvan Morris. In the early 1970s, Clement 'Sir Coxson' Dodd created a vast set of classic dubs in the Dub LP series under the alias of the Dub Specialist. Albums such as Roots Dub, Zodiac Sounds, Bionic Dub, Juk's Incorporation, African Rub-A-Dub were made for a new generation of young DJs/toasters to perform with at sound-systems. These consequently had a huge influence on the evolution of Dancehall in the second part of the 1970s. Originally released in lavish silk-screen covers, many of these Dub albums have gone on to become serious collectors pieces."

KONK: The Sound of Konk CD (SJR 90 CD). $18.00

Subtitled: Tales of the New York Underground 1981-88. "Soul Jazz Records are releasing this new compilation from the cult US Dance/Post-Punk group Konk. Konk first featured on Soul Jazz Records' earlier New York Noise (which also featured Arthur Russell, ESG and Liquid Liquid) this album compiles all their rare and classic material. Konk were formed in New York in 1980. They played an important part in the link between New York's Disco scene (Paradise Garage/Loft/Gallery etc) and the New York No Wave/Post-Punk scene (Liquid Liquid, ESG, James White etc). This compilation brings together the classic Konk recordings in the 1980s from their releases on labels as diverse as Rough Trade, Sleeping Bag, 99 Records, Les Disques Du Crepuscle and Celluloid. Konk's pioneering interest in electronic and musical technology also put them at the forefront of the burgeoning worlds of Electro/Hip-Hop and House. Their use of DJ mixers (breaking down a track to it's individual elements) predated the arrival of samplers and enabled DJs such as Larry Levan to extend their mixes to up to 25 minutes. As well as being a key group in New York's Post-Punk dance scene where they regularly played alongside groups such as Liquid Liquid, Bush Tetras, ESG, The Peech Boys and The Lounge Lizards, Konk found favour with DJs such as David Mancuso and the legendary Larry Levan and were one of a select few bands to play at both the Paradise Garage and the Loft. Konk featured in it's line up members of Jean Michel Basquiat's band Gray, Sonic Youth and members of Glenn Branca's ensemble. Founding member Dana Vleck later went on to work with Francois Kervorkian. The wide range of it's members is reflected in the music which fuses Disco/Post-Punk/Electro/Latin and proto-House together. This new compilation makes available Konk's left-field Disco classics (many for the first time in twenty years!). The album also comes with extensive sleeve notes, interviews and photographs."

Double LP version.

HU VIBRATIONAL: Beautiful Remixes EP 12" (SJR 92 EP). $9.00

"This features three new remixes from Ammon Contact, Daedelus and Corker/Conboy. Both Ammon Contact and Daedelus are part of the burgeoning US West Coast left-field/avant Hip-Hop/Electronic community and Ammon Contact's remix features rapper Lil Sci on vocals. This record is a perfect match of Hip-Hop with the Deep Afro-Jazz of Hu Vibrational. 'Friends and Gardens (For Don Cherry)' is remixed by Corker/Conboy is a deep eight minute sonic excursion. Hu Vibrational is Adam Rudolph and Hamid Drake who between them have played and recorded with Pharoah Saunders, Yusuf Lateef, Herbie Hancock, Bill Laswell, Don Cherry and many more. As well as their recent album on Soul Jazz they have also had releases on Chicago's Hefty Records. Carlos Nino AKA Ammon Contact has had releases on Soul Jazz Records, Microsolutions to Megaproblems, Eastern Developments and Plug Research."

VA: Chicago Soul CD (SJR 93 CD). $18.00

Electric Blues, Funk and Soul: The New Sound of Chicago — Chess Records in the 1960s. "In the 1960s Chicago's Chess Records was an incredibly successful record label releasing Electric Blues, Soul, Funk, Jazz, Gospel and even Psychedelia. Chess Records alongside Atlantic Records in New York, Motown in Detroit and Stax in Memphis, dominated the American R'n'B charts. In the 1950s, Chess records founded by two Polish immigrant brothers Leonard and Phil Chess, made it's reputation with Urban Blues. Since the 1920s, Black Americans had been migrating to Chicago from the Delta states of the South, leaving behind sharecropping and Jim Crow. The Chess brothers began recording many of the Black artists who made their way to Chicago such as Muddy Waters and Howlin Wolf who revolutionized Blues music by giving it a new urban sound. In the mid-1950s Chess also signed Bo Diddley and Chuck Berry, who along with Elvis Presley and Fats Domino created a new style of music — rock and roll. By the 1960s, Chess was at the height of its success. Spurned on by the huge success it had had with Blues music, the label branched out into other areas. As Soul music exploded into the mainstream with Motown and Atlantic Records, Chess itself moved into Soul releasing classic material by artists such as Etta James, Fontella Bass, Gene Chandler, Laura Lee and more. Since the 1950s Jazz had always been a part of Chess Records and Ramsey Lewis became the most successful Jazz artist at the label. As well as Lewis' classic 'Party Time', this album also includes classic tracks by lesser-known Jazz artists such as Loretz Alexandria and Sonny Cox. Two groups, Soulful Strings and Rotary Connection, redefined the sound of Chess in the second-half of the 1960s. These two groups, led by arranger/producers Richard Evans and Charles Stepney brought a previously unheard experimentalism to the sound of Chess. Mixing the traditional elements of Soul and Funk with Psychedelic Rock and Avant-Garde Jazz gave the work of these two men a unique sound. As well as Soulful Strings and Rotary Connection (which featured the vocal talents of Minnie Riperton), other artists such as Phil Upchurch and harpist Dorothy Ashby benefited from the sonic adventures of Evans and Stepney adding Moogs and Theramins over full orchestras and even choirs. By the late 1960s, Blues music was a thing of the past. Groups such as the Rolling Stones had earlier paid their respect to the blues sound of Chess (The Rolling Stones second album had been recorded at Chess studios). By the late 1960s artists such as Howlin Wolf, Buddy Guy, Muddy Waters and Little Milton were looking for a new sound. Enter Marshall Chess (son of Leonard). His new Chess subsidiary label Cadet Concept had already made waves with Rotary Connection. He began new recordings by the famous blues artists only this time mixing in elements of Electric Funk and Soul, which was already so much a part of other Chess artists. With these recordings such as Howlin Wolf's 'Evil' and Bo Diddley's 'Another Sugar Daddy', he brought a whole new audience to these first generation Chess blues artists. At the height of its success, Chess Records was sold in 1968 and Leonard Chess died the following year. Although Chess kept going for the next five years under it's new owners, GRT, the spark had gone and Chess was gradually downsized and artists left. This album shows Chess at its height in the 1960s."

VA: Chicago Soul 2LP (SJR 93 LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

BELL: Seven Types of Six CD (SJR 94CD). $18.00

"This is the second album from Bell and is a mix of robotic funk electro, funk up twisted disco and classic 808 acid. Four years making this album (!), Bell give us analog synthesizers and digital techniques to bring you robotic arcade-system electro. Deeply complex electronic material, deep basslines, superb production, ranging from unremittably catchy to dark, creating truly a formidable electronic album. Supporters of Bell range from Andy Weatherall to Carl Craig. This is the latest new electronic artist from Soul Jazz Records. The album comes on CD and super-loud double vinyl."

BELL: Seven Types of Six 2LP (SJR 94LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

VA: Studio One Classics CD (SJR 96 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records are releasing this latest Studio One compilation which features non-step 100% stone-cold classic Studio One killers! Spanning 40 years of the legendary label, this album is a fitting tribute to Clement 'Sir Coxson' Dodd and is a who's who of Jamaican Reggae greats. Often described as the University of Reggae, Studio One was the foundation label of Reggae and made stars out of Bob Marley and The Wailers, Horace Andy, Sugar Minott, The Heptones, Dennis Brown, John Holt, Alton Ellis, The Skatalites (all featured here) and many, many more. Studio One Classics features Ska, Rocksteady, Roots, DJ and Dancehall classics back-to-back digitally remastered. CD comes with original text and photos, vinyl is on super-loud double vinyl." Artists: Horace Andy, Carlton and the Shoes, The Skatalites, Dennis Brown, Slim Smith, Bob Marley and the Wailers, Sugar Minott, Alton Ellis, Lone Ranger, Heptones, Sound Dimension, The Paragons, Johnny Osbourne, Don Drummond, Jennifer Lara, Prince Jazzbo.

VA: Studio One Classics 2LP (SJR 96 LP). $21.00

Deluxe double LP version.

WILLIAMS/CEDRIC 'IM' BROOKS, LLOYD: Ragga Feet/Shaft 7" (SJR 97EP). $5.50

Taken from the Forthcoming Studio 1 Funk album.

SOUL JAZZ RECORDS: Record Bag MISC (SJR BAG). $21.00

"Impress friends and family alike with this stylish Soul Jazz Records 12" Bag. Scientifically and ergonomically designed to hold over 30 12"s. The colour is dark navy blue with white piping and white strap. Whether you're a DJ or simply a fashionable person this bag is simple, classic and functional making it a perfect Christmas present for a friend or yourself."

VA: The Best of Black Jazz Records 1971-1976 CD (US 02 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz are re-issuing their classic Best of Black Jazz Records for the first time in five years. Originally released along with their other Deep Jazz releases such as Universal Sounds of America, Art Ensemble of Chicago, Steve Reid, Tribe and Soul Jazz Loves Strata East, this album features the best of the artists who recorded for Black Jazz Records during the first half of the 1970s. For many of the artists this was the only label they recorded for and consequently many are collectors items today. Artists include Doug Carn, The Awakening, Kellee Patterson, Calvin Keys and many more. Black Jazz Records is one of very few independent Jazz labels in the US that managed to survive in the 1970s. Alongside Black Jazz the other main labels were Strata-East in New York and Tribe Records in Detroit."

VA: The Best of Black Jazz Records 1971-1976 2LP (US 02 LP). $21.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

SOUL NOTE (ITALY):

BRADFORD/THE MO'TET, BOBBY: Lost in LA LP (SN LP 068). $6.00

Featuring Bradford (cornet), James Kousakis (alto saxophone), Roberto Miranda (bass), Mark Dresser (bass), Sherman Ferguson (drums). Studio recordings from 1983, led by the classic ex-Ornette alumnus.

BYARD AND THE APOLLO STOMPERS, JAKI: Phantasies LP (SN LP 075). $6.00

CHRISTI WITH MENAGE, ELLEN: Live at Irving Plaza LP (SN LP 097). $6.00

Ellen Christi (vocals), Lisa Sokolov (vocal), Rahn Burton (piano), William Parker (bass), Tom Bruno (drums). Recorded live at Irving Plaza in NYC, 6/28/84. Christi is one of the unsung avant-vocal stylists of the last couple decades and this is one of the more strange and lost Soul Note albums (it also ranks #271 on B. Coley's all-time list of post-WWII recordings by non-defunct humans in the acoustic realm, which ought to be worth something). Ellen has performed with Jemeel Moondoc, Bruno is currently working with Sabir Mateen & Test, and William Parker occasionally records a session or two.

HORENSTEIN, STEPHEN: Collages - Jerusalem '85 LP (SN LP 099). $6.00

Various solo, duo and large ensemble pieces, led by the obscure saxophonist Horenstein. One of the most experimental records in the Soul Note catalog, with a lot of emphasis on sonic texture. The highlight is the 16 minute track "Chiasmus" (for soloist and sound environment) — a powerful work that uses preset blocks of sound texture in juxtaposition with structures for improvisation."

WORLD MUSIC MEETING: To Hear the World in a Grain of Sand LP (SN LP 128). $6.00

An excellent free-flowing world-percussion oriented album, recorded live at the Donaueschingen Festival, 10/19/85, featuring Andrew Cyrille (drums), Dom Um Ramono (percussion), Pandit Prakash Maharaj (tabla), David Friesen (bass), Rudy Smith (steel drum, conga), Tom va der Geld (vibes, marimba), Vikash Maharaj (sarod), Luis De Matteo (bandoneon), Bernd Konrad (saxophones), Lennart Aberg (saxophones), Connie Bauer (trombone).

GHIGLIONI, TIZIANA: Somebody Special LP (SN LP 156). $6.00

Ghiglioni is an Italian vocalist, backed up by: Steve Lacy (soprano sax), Franco D'Andrea (piano), Jean-Jacques Avenel (bass) & Oliver Johnson (drums). Studio recordings from 1986. Includes the Brion Gysin/Lacy tune "Somebody Special".

HOUN/AFRO-ASIAN MUSIC ENSEMBLE, FRED: We Refuse to be Used and Abused LP (SN LP 167). $6.00

BYARD AND THE APOLLO STOMPERS, JAKI: Phantasies II LP (SN LP 175). $6.00

MONTOLIU, TETE: The Music I Like to Play - Vol.2 LP (SN LP 200). $6.00

Solo piano, recorded in Milano, 1986.

SOUL STATIC SOUND (UK):

THERMODERM: 12" (SOUL 20). $11.00

"Early '98 mini-LP from this Scottish 4-tet on the well-regarded Soul Static Sound label. Known to (first appearance here of word:) 'pundits' as simply 'Henderson, Allen, Boyce, Hubbard', Thermoderm craft lilting, non-direction jam-dirges not unlike recent Bristol-related output (Movietone, specifically), and fashion certain space-dub trips out of seemingly nothing. Wild. Sure to distract rowdy gathering attendees from spilling beer all over the place or running for senate. Doped." — Hrvatski.

GANGER/THE UNDERDOG: Trilogy 3 12" (SOUL 21.3). $9.00

MAPSTATION: CD (SOUL 25 CD). $14.00

"Soul Static Sound starts the new year with a concise and direct release, which exemplifies a minimalist approach to both making and listening to music. Mapstation is Stefan Schneider's first solo recording, a mini album which draws on his experience as a member of To Rococo Rot combined with the melodic and moody sensibilities inherent in the musical heritage of his native Dusseldorf. Working on the shapes of sound whilst avoiding the limitations of formalism allows the rhythms and textures to express themselves to the listener as a process of subtly changing relationships. Evocative electronics through clarity and constraint. File next to good German minimal techno/electronic labels such as Din, Chain Reaction, Basic Channel, Kompakt, etc."

MAPSTATION: LP (SOUL 25 EP). $11.00

TO ROCOCO ROT + D: Smaller Listening/Numbers In Love 7" (SOUL 26). $6.00

"Limited edition 7" to coincide with European tour and an appearance at the '10 Years of City Slang' events in London and Germany where they will be performing. 500 copies only."

D: Untitles CD (SOUL 27 CD). $13.00

"A mid-length selection from Darryl 'D' Moore after several remixes (for Uj, Ganger, Tortoise) and collaborations (with Derek Bailey, To Rococo Rot, Fridge, Bill Laswell). A quite impressive lot of sound; ghosts of machines long dead, wisps of the resonant overtone-cloud strata, artifacts of the digital insect swarm, all tastefully done w/o a hint of the 'out-da-box' computer music mentality plaguing recent outings in the sound research field. A joy to behold, well informed (i.e. singular) to boot. 5 tracks over 21 minutes." — Hrvatski.

D: Untitles LP (SOUL 27 LP). $11.00*SOUND @ ONE:*ZASHIKI-WARASHI: Floor Child 2CD (CONDUIT 004/5). $13.00

Released in association with Sound @ One ($@1 66). "Floor Child is a collection of field recordings, home assemblies and live documentations organized and mutated by New York based composer and improviser Carter Thornton. Spanning five years and two CDs, this initial release from the fictional collective of Zashiki-Warashi is sewn together with appearances by members of NNCK, Izititz, Enos Slaughter, Floriculture and TEST. The music shrieks, drones, floats, superimposes unlikely realities and outlines a subconscious narrative inspired by travels ranging from a South Carolina swamp to a Moroccan graveyard. A mix of short-wave transmissions, ukuleles, bowed and plucked strings, distant drums and voices, nearby birds and guitars, chanting crowds and not quite discernable sounds recorded in places as diverse as a Texas parking lot, Harlem's Hinthouse, Roulette Intermedium and a Virginia old folks home."

NO NECK BLUES BAND: Letters From The Serth CD ($@1 42). $13.00

1998 release repressed. 2nd No Neck Blues Band CD on Sound @ One. It's a bit of sequel to the their monolithic double CD Letters From The Earth, as it was recorded exactly one year to the day later (Orthodox Easter, 1997), at the same location — on the roof of their building in Chinatown in the afternoon. It's only a single CD this time because as you'll hear at the end, it's starts raining. It features the regular NNB crew, plus their newest member, the enigmatic Japanese dancer/icon, Michiko. Cool and oblique packaging that doesn't go out of its way to tell you the artist name or catalog # or anything mundane like that.

NO NECK BLUES BAND: Sticks and Stone Will Break My Bones But Names Will Never... CD ($@1 50). $12.00

..Hurt Me. Jewel-cased metallic-inked cover reissue of the out of print Revenant CD. "The No Neck Blues Band, adrift in the ozone-tinged air of lower & upper Manhattan for nearly a ghost decade, stood at a fork. To one side lay the path to continued avoidance of human contact, and lifetimes of hermetic improvisational events. To the other side was the trail into a kind of new free-pub-fat-rock dynamism, attaching the head of Lou Gare to the body of Martin Stone. Which way they would go was never predictable. The myriad recordings & performances that No Neck produced during their first half-life existed more in the realm of spirit than of flesh. Even those who witnessed the performances or beheld the recordings had difficulty in ultimately grasping them. The faces of No Neck were transitory, in all senses of the word. Rock gesture, drone gesture, folk gesture, improv gesture, all of them traced smoky features across the band's collective visage, shifting like a big cloud of burned & exhaled cheeb. By the time No Neck hooked up w/ John Fahey, their image was fractal. Unable to hold — or even define — their center, fragmentation itself had become their milieu. Through records, they had discovered someone they believed to be a fellow traveler in Jerry Yester. When they found out that he had a studio in the Ozarks, they were on the first bus south. And when they came to the fork, they took it. Fahey smiled on this in his own weird way & here are the results. They have been in the process of becoming for longer than you can probably appreciate. Dig them now." — Byron Coley

NO NECK BLUES BAND: Ever Borneo LP + 7" ($@1 60). $32.00

Designed to function as a glance-trap with indications — to be on the one hand left alone entirely while on the other to allow for a guided tour of locations both actual and unreal. Spanning roughly a 5 year period, the album is comprised of documentary recordings of nnck in various settings, including the only published recordings from the 'hint house', the group's headquarters in uptown NYC. The LP comes in a custom bound jacket along with notes on the tracks and a bonus 7" single of 'related' material." Limited to 1000 copies only.

NO NECK BLUES BAND: Intonomancy CD ($@1 64). $12.00

New album, recorded June, 2002. "Yes, by God, here's another one. Rock root punch left in bloody piles of nutmeg dirt circus. Fuck the beat. Fuck the beat. Fuck the entire fucking fleet. A return to the magnificence of spell-over-form. An end to spiel-necessity. Destructive formatting vanishes in a puff of steam. Welcome to one future. For information on NNCK contact yr local oracle." — Byron Coley

IZITITIZ: Lucky Bird CD ($@1 65). $8.00

Featuring: Ras Moshe/James Duncan/Carter Thornton/Jesse Wallace/Matt Heyner. "New York's IZITITIZ presents Lucky Bird, a work inspired by such personalities and artifacts as Alan Arenius, the roof of ABC No Rio, Animal, a pet pigeon, Nami Yamamoto's Freedumb and a set of Hinthouse chimes. The music is envisioned as a soundtrack to the story of a minimal drummer's search for a mythic box of Cuban Jade hidden in a paper bag. Along the way he meets a pigeon named Lucky Bird with whom he shares an affinity for dancing around socks to drum solos. While they dance, two ghosts appear: Zashiki-Warashi and Kattorimatto, two dead idiots from the clan of Takechi Samurai. Rounding out the group is a flamingo trainer, desperate for any adventure which will help him escape from the Northern authorities."

NO NECK BLUES BAND: Dutch Money LP ($@1 68). $17.00

Two new LP-only releases, each packaged in deluxe paste-one heavy jackets. Produced/released in conjunction with Seres. Dutch Money was recorded at VPRO by Berry Kamer, produced by Kamer & Maurice Woestenburg. It features 5 tracks, including one entitled "Sharing Charlestown with the World".

NO NECK BLUES BAND: First Kingdom LP ($@1 69). $17.00

2nd of two new LP-only releases, each packaged in deluxe paste-one heavy jackets. Produced/released in conjunction with Seres. No further information available on this one.

NO NECK BLUES BAND: Parallel Easters 2CD ($@1 70/71). $17.00

New double live package from NNCK. Documenting Orthodox East 1999-2003. All recorded outside. First disc on the roof of the Hint house. Second disc in Sakura Park in Harlem.

ENOS SLAUGHTER: Saloth Sar CD ($@1 72). $13.50

"Yes yes, here's new molten sounds from three cats taking cues from a bat wielding spirit. Saloth Sar contains two massive tracks from Enos Slaughter, all electric and poking a thumb in third eyes everywhere. Electric guitar, bozuk, trashcan moog sound, and mystery sources combine to create a throbbing piece of alienation that retains a weird undercurrent of lyricism. Space lute meets the human string incinerator. Housed in a beautiful package, this release includes graphics culled from Cambodia's S21 prison archives. The imagery hopes to argue a sensible point: the abolition of the military of US. Featuring members of Sunburned, IZITITIZ, and NNCK."

SOUND BOY (UK):*DELGADO, JUNIOR: Original Guerilla Music CD (SBOY 001CD). $16.00

"No mention of roots reggae music from Jamaica would be complete without Junior Delgado, whose lyrical prowess may often rival that of giants like Bob Marley, Dennis Brown, Burning Spear and Peter Tosh, but whose mighty vocal roar could never, ever be mistaken for anyone else. Now three decades deep, his recorded legacy includes some of the most righteous, dread-filled works of the entire reggae canon, and especially those dates from the mid-to-late seventies, as compiled here. These tracks have now been remastered, and remain essential listening for all discerning music fans. Original Guerilla Music presents all in all 16 'Best Of' tracks. Both formats, the double vinyl in a gatefold deluxe sleeve, and CD come in full colour, rare photos and very informative linernotes by John Masouri. The album is compiled by Adrian Sherwood and Junior Delgado and is released for the Sound Boy label, a new division of On-U Sound."

DELGADO, JUNIOR: Original Guerilla Music 2LP (SBOY 001LP). $18.00

Double LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

SOUND COLLECTOR:*SOUND COLLECTOR: #8 (The PinkBearded Man issue) MAG (SOUND 08). $7.00

Features: Grandmaster Flash, Rock Camp For Girls, Daniel Johnson, Susan Archie (Revanant designer), Eric Dolphy, Francoiz Breut & Dominique A., Alan Bishop of the Sun City Girls, James Brody, Richard Meltzer (interviewed about his long forgotten 8mm films), Chuck Warner, Zammuto, Sepia-Tone, Steffen Basho-Junghans, much more. And no reviews! Also, 17 track CD with some of these artists and others 164 pages, perfectbound.

SOUND HILLS (JAPAN):*TAYLOR, CECIL: Iwontunwonsi — Live At Sweet Basil Vol 1 CD (SSCD 8065). $18.00

Solo piano, live in February, 1986. First of 2 Japanese-only released volumes; distribution channels changed and we never got offered Vol 2.

SOUND OF A HANDSHAKE (GERMANY):*ICEBREAKER INTERNATIONAL & MANUAL: Into Forever CD (HAND 001 CD). $16.00

"Extending a friendly hand to new collaborators Sound of a Handshake, the label's new subdivision named after one of Morr's best-loved tracks by Anticon hiphop-supremos Clouddead, sets out to explore the aural symbioses between established Morr artists and one-off collaborators. For Into Forever, the first instalment in this new series, Morr Music favourite Jonas Munk (Manual, Limp) and New York concept artist and producer Alexander Perls (Icebreaker International and member of an early incarnation of Piano Magic) joined to weave and mingle sparse beats and song structures (Munk) with layered guitars and tricky melodic leads (Perls) into the ideal accompaniment to any first rate planetarium show — and this is no mean praise."

ICEBREAKER INTERNATIONAL & MANUAL: Into Forever LP (HAND 001 LP). $14.00

LP version.

SOUND OF COLOGNE (GERMANY):*VA: Sound of Cologne Zwei 2CD (SOC 002). $16.00

SOUND SIGNATURE:*PARRISH, THEO: Theo Live @ The Temple CDR (SMXCD3). $16.50

A series of mix CDs from Theo Parrish. These are CDRs, in jewel cases with no packaging, no track listings or further information. Produced in very small numbers and only briefly available. A perfect view of the crude immediacy of Theo's DJ-ing style, mixing Fingers-esque Chicago classics with disco, soul, acid and new wave tangents. The next best thing to having Mr. Parrish sitting in your tub & ruining all of your records.

PARRISH, THEO: Eclectic Asthetic Pt I CDR (SMXCD4A). $16.50

"Live Theo Parrish DJ Set, recorded somewhere at sometime, very raw and very live. Parrish eschews what most consider essentials these days in his live sets (supreme fidelity, mathematical beatmatching and programming), opting instead for a style that is more open and intuitive; it seems he is more concerned with the truly vital information encoded on a record, the ineffable elements that allow him to create atmosphere, and embroil the listener/partygoer in a narrative, a myth. As on his own productions, Parrish uses the basic tools of the mixer, the faders and filters to devastating effect; and one of Parrish's great talents as a mixer is a style whose seeming crudity belies its subtlety. Volume levels go up and down seemingly at random, or the low end might disappear completely for almost too long, leaving only a squashed transistor radio sound, only to come crashing back at just when you think you can't take it anymore. On this disc, his selection runs the gamut from 70's funk and Afrobeat, deep house and soul, and more than one juncture a tune so brazen that it's shocking, but ultimately it works; it always takes you somewhere, sometimes to places you weren't even aware of." — Billy Kiely. This is a CDR release in a generic jewel case with no packaging.

DJ FUSION: DJ Fusion Does Fusion CDR (SMXCD5). $16.50

Unidentified live set from Theo's friend DJ Fusion, mixing up Tears For Fears, Yoko Ono's

"Walking On Thin Ice", Derek May, Farm Boy's "Ride The Rhythm", "I Feel Love", other late 70s & 80s classics! This is a CDR release in a generic jewel case with no packaging. Limited stock.

ROTATING ASSEMBLY, THE: Natural Aspirations CD (SS 003CD). $17.00

"Rotating Assembly is a new band put together by Theo Parrish. This loose Detroit outfit evolves around 21 people, who exchange talents and energy. All tracks are written and produced and masterminded by Theo Parrish, who has given them his (sound) signature sound... A true Sound Signature release. Artists included in the band are: Genevieve (known for vocals with Recloose), Maat Lo (aka Billy Lo), Marcellus Pittman (recorded/DJ's for/with 3 Chairs), Rick Wilhite (3 Chairs), Warren Harris (recorded with Dan Curtin), Andres. Also newcomers such as Karen Bosco (most vocals) John Dougalias (trumpet), King Sunshine & Trent Mitchell (double bass) put in incredible effort to make this release a top Sound Signature title. From the laidback vocal tune 'Naturally' to the instrumental emotions of 'Melt' it's all there to make this album an allround one. From strength to strength, Theo Parrish takes it to the next level, once again."

RUSTY WATERS ROTATING ASSEMBLY: Illumination 12" (SS 017). $7.00

Featuring a group consisting of: Theo Parrish, Warren Harris, Marcellus Pittman, Bill Beaver, Jerrald James, & Melissa Botts.

PARRISH, THEO: Natural Aspirations Pt. 1 12" (SS 018). $7.00

Released July, 2003. Two-track single, featuring: "Friendly Children" & "Timeislafinacharunningout"

ROTATING ASSEMBLY, THE: Natural Aspirations Pt. 1 3x12" (SS 019). $21.00

First release by this new Detroit-based ensemble, released as three separate 12"s (but only sold altogether). "Rotating Assembly is a new band put together by Theo Parrish. This loose Detroit outfit evolves around 21 people, who exchange talents and energy. All tracks are written and produced and masterminded by Theo Parrish, who has given them his (sound) signature sound? A true Sound Signature release. Artists included in the band are: Genevieve (known for vocals with Recloose), Maat Lo (aka Billy Lo), Marcellus Pittman (recorded/DJ's for/with 3 Chairs), Rick Wilhite (3 Chairs), Warren Harris (recorded with Dan Curtin), Andres. Also newcomers such as Karen Bosco (most vocals) John Dougalias (trumpet), King Sunshine & Trent Mitchell (double bass) put in incredible effort to make this release a top Sound Signature title. From the laidback vocal tune 'Naturally' to the instrumental emotions of 'Melt' it's all there to make this album an allround one. From strength to strength, Theo Parrish takes it to the next level, once again."

ROTATING ASSEMBLY, THE: Natural Aspirations Pt. 2 3x12" (SS 019B). $21.00

Includes the songs: 1. 'Mess I Made' (vocal vers.): Vocals - Genevieve Marantette. All instruments - King Sunshine. 2. 'Good Question': Vocals - Craig Huckaby. Keys - Piranha. Percussion - Craig Huckaby. 3. 'The Rust Organic': Guitar - Colton Weathersby. Trumpet - John Douglas. Bass - Warren Harris. 4. 'Ascension': Vocals - Genevieve Marantette. All instruments - King Sunshine. 5. 'Them Drums'. 6. 'Get Got'.

PARRISH, THEO: Ugly Edits Vol. 4 12" (UGE 04). $17.00

4th volume in this series of white-label artist-edits. Limited as usual. One side is Minnie Ripperton edit, the other a massive disco reconstruct of the Dells ("Get On Up" from the 1977 album They Said it Couldn't be Done (but we did it)). Totally mesmerizing.

PARRISH, THEO: Ugly Edits Vol. 5 12" (UGE 05). $17.00

5th volume in this series. Three more tracks of stellar bootleg floor-edits. Includes another reworking of the Dells.

PARRISH, THEO: Ugly Edits Vol. 6 12" (UGE 06). $17.00

3 more (final?) volumes in this series. "First of a new trio of Ugly Edits by Theo Parrish — and Volume 6 is as dusted as his records come. The A side starts as a Latin percussion blow-out, then fades in some layers of some ghost kids chanting and some minor key movie soundtrack string and horn flourishes, if you can imagine that. Weird. The flip is just fantastic, a 5:30 AM styled slow jam, eerie falsetto vocal lines filtered through some of Theo's drunken drums and a couple of whiplash inducing breaks. Just too much. Somebody, let me know who did the original version of this track, I'll buy you a boat." — Billy Kiely.

PARRISH, THEO: Ugly Edits Vol. 7 12" (UGE 07). $17.00

"Volume seven is in the 'let's light this one up' mode, side A is a funk stomper with some Bohannan-esque guitar chugging, Jello bass and some loopy singing about a party going on somewhere somewhere, and some nice 'di the record just skip!?' edits to keep everybody just a bit on edge. The flip is a fairly straightforward tweak of a live version of Parliament's 'Undiscover Kid', folded over and extended for maximum pleasure. Two peak hour tracks to burn down your barn." — Billy Kiely.

PARRISH, THEO: Ugly Edits Vol. 8 12" (UGE 08). $17.00

"The a-side of volume 8 is an overwhelming remake/remodel of a high powered Willie Hutch dope dealer number, with full bore vocal loopage, some respirating string and harp (!) riffing, and a couple of fake-out fade-outs. The b-side is another supercharged funk number, but w/ a decidedly recorded-in-the-basement vibe, that chugs along nicely for the first couple of minutes ('grown up in the ghetto/never seen a tree!'). And then a fairly reaching sax solo followed by a murderous Billy Preston styled Clavinet riff some and some chicken scratch guitar histrionics, all stretched a little too tight and then... Theo's gone and you're all gone. For some kind of 10+ minute eternity. Pretty devastating stuff." — Billy Kiely.

SOUND VARIATION (GERMANY):

VAZ, ANDY: Live In Tokyo CD (SOUND 001CD). $16.00

"Live in Tokyo contains 13 tracks incl. Many unreleased new & exclusive tracks and new live versions of tracks, which already appeared on the Sound.Variation vinyl Series 1-1 - 6-6. Andy Vaz Sound.Variation is based on the use of the same sounds, re-used throughout his tracks, which are featured on this entire live CD, by giving each track another musical approach by pushing each instrument in a different compositional direction by re-arrangement, tone-shifting and adding changing effects in order to bring forth a maximum result within the process of limitation. This CD was recorded live @ Ism/Tokyo on September 22.2002 and was not re-edited, but kept 100% (except that it has been mastered for an better optimized sound) as spontaneously recorded in order to keep an authentic feeling and spirit alive. All mistakes & nonsense keeps it human and real."

SOUNDCLASH (UK):

VA: Soundclash Present Undo 2CD (SOUND 1 CD). $19.00

"This is the first album to date from the splendid Leeds based Soundclash imprint, a compilation of exclusive, deleted, and classic tracks from their own artists and their sister label Amos, and also a couple of notable steals from their friends. The vibe of this album takes on influences from most areas of dance music and plenty from the outer reaches too. Includes Black Star Liner, Los Paranoias, Speakerfreaks, Triumph 2000, Overseer, Speedranch and Jansky Noise, Invaders, Dr. Walker & M. Flux, The Lovely Genette, etc. Available on limited triple vinyl and double CD, both featuring excellent eye-catching artwork. The second cd features a mix from Ninja Tune legend Funk Porcini, who has converted the album into a continuous flow from babbling brook to raging torrent." Limited stock.

VA: 3LP (SOUND 1 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version.

SOUNDLAB:

CZKO: Polysymmetry I 12" (SL 003). $8.00

"Special edition white vinyl — a limited run of 1000. Tough ass low fi electro tantrums wrested from the fits and bits of a millennial shift played out on gear 15 years past date. There are a couple of tracks and tools on here including a tone modulation and a music concrete track. Czko aka Mike Huneke is a Chicago transplant to NYC — and is as bad and as bald as hell." Limited stock.

VA: Flav-O-Pac: Memeograph I CD (SL FLAV). $13.50

Live fragments from Cultural Alchemy's Soundlab (NYC), mixed by Singe/Verb. Features contributions from DJ Spooky, Tarlouse v. Earshot, Lilloop, Toshio Kajiwara, DJ Wally, DJ Soulslinger, M. Singe, I-Sound, Shizuo, DJ Mutamassik, Straylight, Byzar, The Black Slates Koolsilja, Taylor Tale. A great, community-defining collection/collage of NYC-based inspiration — takes off from the roots of what the Home Entertainment label promised in the mid-90s to a flowing, multi-genre/generational flood. "For this compilation we took the catalog of audio data we'd collected and created temporal dissonance 'remixes'. Some of these trax are a mix-down of four or five different sets by the same artist. Some are different 'samples' recombined from a single live set. Local flavor is preserved for each artist represented (uniqueness of selection, particularity of the scratch, signature bass, etc.) All recorded live at Soundlab happenings. From eight floors up in Chinatown to the bass of the Brooklyn Bridge or an empty floor of a skyscraper, kung fu school or an open air market — we were there. All part of an urban illbient community action. Future step is not amnesia."

SOUNDS-LIKE (UK):

SOFT PINK TRUTH: Do You Party? CD (SL 007 CD). $16.00

Soft Pink Truth is the alter ego of Matmos' Drew Daniel. "Matthew Herbert dared Drew Daniel to make a house record and the result was a 12" EP as The Soft Pink Truth on Matthew's Soundlike label, described by Laurent Gamier as 'absolutely brilliant' and by Andrew Weatherall as 'superb'. As the Soft Pink Truth he has remixed Bjork's upcoming single 'It's In Our Hands' and has shared the stage with mentor and friend Matthew Herbert. Do You Party? shuttles anachronistically between late 70s disco fantasy, robotic 80s electro and contemporary production trix in search of camp humor and anarchistic fun. Any one of these freaky, funky jam would sit beautifully on your next Giorgio Moroder, Cameo, Akufen, Dazz Band mixtape."

8 DOOGYMOTO: Minimalistico CD (SL 008 CD). $15.00

"Debut album for Matthew Herbert's Soundlike label. An electronic album of house, hip hop and Japanese folk songs recorded by a multi-lingual live band German/Japanese electronic/acoustic trio with lyrics sung in German, Japanese and English. A pleasantly schizophrenic melting-pot of electronic, house and hip-hop influences transformed into contemporary Japanese folk music. The band are based in Hamburg and Berlin."

8 DOOGYMOTO: Minimalistico 12" (SL 009 EP). $9.00

"8 Doogymoto's second single for Soundlike contains 4 tracks from the CD-only album Minimalistico. Acoustic house music for folk fans."

DJS COLLAPSE: Jaw Funk 12" (SL 011 EP). $9.00

"DJs Collapse are Matthew Herbert and Mouse On Mars. Twisted electronic funk from 2 of electronic music's most respected artists. Will appeal to both electronic listeners who want some grit with their music and adventurous dancefloors."

SOFT PINK TRUTH: Do You Party? 2x12" (SL 012 LP). $15.00

"Soundlike is pleased to announce a vinyl edition of The Soft Pink Truth album, Do You Party? Previously available on 2 separate 12"s (SL 03 & 06) they have now been combined as a 12" double-pack with a new catalogue number and new label artwork. This vinyl edition comprises of 8 tracks previously available on the CD version. Do You Party? is a debut album of perverse electro funk from Drew Daniel, one half of San Francisco's Matmos. He is currently on tour with Bjork playing live both as Matmos and as The Soft Pink Truth. This is an album of robotic 80s electro and contemporary production tricks in search of camp humour and anarchistic fun. The Soft Pink Truth's omnivorous samplers graze on an eclectic diet of disco claps, tech house clicks, Linn drum rolls and pirated vocals, digesting the formulaic pap of contemporary pop music in an acid bath of edit-intensive collage funk. Girly R+B divas and gruffly macho Hip-hop MCs are shredded into sound slivers and rewoven into an androgynous leotard that fits all dancefloors equally."

ULTRA-RED: Imperial Beach 12" (SL 013 EP). $9.00

"New and exclusive tracks from Los Angeles' experimentalists Ultra-Red. The sound of Radio Boy and the Soft Pink Truth putting on a protest party on the Mexican border. Ultra-Red is a Los Angeles-based sound-art and electronic music group producing radio broadcasts, public space occupations, performances, recordings and installations. The four tracks on the Imperial Beach 12" were composed exclusively from site recordings made during street protests against the Free Trade Area of the Americas and the Summit of the Americas, Quebec City, Canada, April 21 and 22, 2001."

HERBERT, MATTHEW: On Your Feet 12" (SL 014EP). $9.00

"A return to the dancefloor for Herbert with 5 new house tracks, alongside a cameo appearance by the Matthew Herbert Big Band and their version of 'Singing in the Rain'."

SOUP-DISK (JAPAN):

VA: Silver World CD (SOUP 002). $16.00

First releases on this Japanese electronic/broken beats label, Soup-Disk. "Japanese New electronic sound compilation appealing to the fun of Oval, Panasonic, Mille Plateaux & Touch/Ash artists..." Features new artists such as Akira Yamamichi, Utah Kawasaki, Organization, Nob Ohtake & Tashiya Tsunoda, presents an invigorating array of strange electronics, etc. Packed in a clear plastic jewel case, with acetate cover.

MONTAGE: Anthropologie CD (SOUP 003). $16.00

First album by the artist known as Montage. "Montage is a solo unit of Akira Yamamichi. It's a brand name of his collage works with beats. It's rough and tough...Abstract & future jazz chronicle, appealing to the fan of Nobukazu Takemura, Silent Poets, Reflection, Ninja Tuna artists, Fila Brazillia..."

ISHMITU PRODUCTION FEAT. MASAOKI KIKUCHI: Bass Sonority CD (SOUP 004). $16.00

"Soup-disk bass workshop vol. 1. Break bass vs. wood bass improviser! Appealing to fun of Dr. Octagon, D. Nakamura, DJ Krush, Barre Phillips, William Parker, Motoharu Yoshizawa and other wood bass lovers. Masaaki Kikuchi is wood bass player."

PLAYGROUP: Playgroup CD (SOUR 043 CD). $10.00

[reduced price on the last import copies of this album, now released domestically by Astralwerks] "Playgroup is the brainchild of Trevor Jackson, the producer/remixer better known as The Underdog aka the man who reshaped British hip hop and was responsible over sixty remixes for the likes of U2, Massive Attack, Unkle & Death In Vegas. Trevor also heads the experimental Output label and has designed a number of sleeves for acid house and early hip hop records. This highly-acclaimed album, whose sound is totally original and yet vaguely familiar, features a whole host of musical mavericks: Leila collaborator Luca Santucci, hip house legend KC Flightt, New York toaster Shinehead, Edwyn Collins, Roddy Frame (Aztec Camera), Kathleen Hannah (Le Tigre), Peaches & Gonzales, Rowetta (Happy Mondays), Kyra (ex Headcoatee), Joi (Dallas Austin cohort & Lucy Pearl vocalist), newcomer Sola as well as the vocal delights of Trevor Jackson himself. Playgroup is a scorching hotbed of seriously individual talent — listen and love."

SOURCE RECORDS (GERMANY):

CORTEX, ALEX: Laconic 2LP (SOURCE 035LP). $15.00

Double LP version.

SAD ROCKETS: Plays CD (SOURCE 27CD). $15.00

"After Sad Rockets excellent debut 7" Music For Mix Tapes Andrew Peckler is back for more. More musical extravaganzas from his 4-track experiments with instruments and other devices, fine Jazz, soundtracks for chases not seen, big emotions, a good load of trash, Rock'nRoll and glamour, drama and stirring love scenes...its all in there." A very pleasant low-key groove instrumental album.

SAD ROCKETS: Plays LP (SOURCE 27LP). $12.00

ELFISH ECHO: Strong Medicine CD (SOURCE 30CD). $15.00

"Millennium award for most obscure funkiness...by 1998, the date of his return, Sato Yumico, like everything coming out of Japan, will become a standard. Elfish Echo recorded his third album during his one and a half year residence in Tokyo. Already his first two releases (Multiple Void Enjoyment on Source Records and Sato Yumico KM 20) caused a sensation. Critics and press raved. With this release Burkhard Höffler aka Elfish Echo sets a new exclamationmark! Experimental, confusing, driving, atmospheric and surprising. Burkhard Höffler presents his very own interpretation of drum 'n' bass and music for the next millennium. Original and beyond all boundaries. The blueprints for the future, today on Source!"

GRAMM: Personal Rock 2LP (SOURCE 33LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

CORTEX, ALEX: Laconic CD (SOURCE 35CD). $16.00

"Alex Cortex, computer-kid of the Pentium generation, has released three 12" singles for Source Records since 1997. He himself understands his musical mission as a definition of club music. His debut single 'Tubed' became an underground hit, as convincing funky minimal techno. On his third single 'Tengenenge', Cortex turned to kicking electro beats, rough and driving. Influences from Detroit were obvious throughout his releases for Source Records, Kanzleramt and HD800, but Cortex established his own style right from the start. Now Cortex unfolds a new chapter. On his full-length debut album he travels away from the dancefloor into the living room and formulates a musical statement beyond genre boundaries. Laconic has 15 amazing tracks, no titles, and over one hour finest freestyle electronica. Chilled out, groovy, warm and deep. Laconic experiments with a broad spectrum of sounds, rhythms and harmonies never losing focus. Reduced to the essentials and carefully arranged. This is minimal techno soul.

VA: Open Source. Players CD (SOURCE 37). $13.00

"Players is the first in a series of 'OpenSource' compilations. Each compilation will focus on a different field of electronic music today. Players is colourful array of easy swinging tracks, funky rhythms, soulful vocals, jazz and electronics from around the world. Compiled by Move D (almost entirely through the web). Don't expect 'big names' but prepare yourself for some great music like the fantastic smooth opener by Obadia (originally from Paris, now living in Stockholm), the amazing George Clinton style vocal arrangements of Bangtown (Flint, Mi), Ali Omar's beautiful e-piano soul 'love' (Sidney), the deep flow of sounds and improvisations of Finnlands Krii, the sadness and charm of Thomas Mayer's ballad 'values', Tara Rodgers shuffling grooves and organ escapades (Brooklyn), Exon Yaz's cool and lazy hip hop groove (Leipzig) and the deep piano and dubs of Digital Lofi (Dortmund). While each of the 18 tracks has a strong individual identity they are tied together by the common thread of having been tracked down by Move D on MP3 sites up and down the globe. The result is a stunning compilation of outstanding music. We can now lean back and enjoy the result. Homecooking at its very best. Also featured: exclusive new tracks by Transporter (self titled album on Source Records '99 / 12" on Cheap as 'Reimann' / releases with B-Recordings on Cheap and Payola) and solo tracks by the 'Deep Space Network' — members and heads of Source Records: David Moufang (Move D) and Jonas Grossmann (Bton)."

SENSUAL PHYSICS: Offene Schleifen 2LP (SOURCE 38 LP). $14.00

Double vinyl version.

LOWTEC: Secret Corner CD (SOURCE 39 CD). $14.00

"Jens Kuhn aka Lowtec hardly needs introduction. Releases for Playhouse, USM, Science City and his own label Out To Lunch have made him a notable fixture in the techno and house scene. As a member of the System 360 collective he released the Adaptive Pattern Recognizer EP ('vital release', Muzik, UK 1995) and the album Active Technologies (1998) on Source Records. On Secret Corner we present 10 unreleased tracks plus (cd only) Mitre Peak previously released on the like named 12" on Out To Lunch. Producing the stomping minimal house track City Limits Jens Kuhn was joined by David Rollmann aka Even Tuell. Secret Corner reflects the roots of house and techno but also makes its very own statement. Deep, funky and moody minimal house and techno tracks... flowing grooves... smooth strings... Evolving, mutating slowly but carefully, constantly in motion, the tracks minimal arrangements leave wide spaces for subtle shifts and alterations. Like molecules in constant motion unite to build substance, Lowtec's sounds unite to form tracks that despite their repetitive character, draw their tension from permanent mutation."

LOWTEC: Secret Corner 2LP (SOURCE 39 LP). $14.00

Double LP version.

SKUGGE, JOHAN: Buildings And Objects CD (SOURCE 40 CD). $14.00

"Johan Skugge from Sweden. Another Debut on Source Records. This is some of the finest 21st century processor-funk around. Digital minimal Tracks, shuffling, shifting, grooving. Sounds from a different world. Building, layer by layer, carefully arranged, drawing you into the depths of a software-generated world of sound. But, possibly more important, 'buildings and objects' preserves the warmth and emotional depths of the analog world. Clicks, Cuts, Crackles and digital fragments create irresistible grooves, underlining all of the tracks. Musical and rhythmic elements blend seamlessly in Skugge's music. Solid grooving four to the floor backed tracks alongside deep experimental pieces. All swinging — as if the source codes had started a life of their own. Following the album title 'buildings and objects', Johan Skugge's tracks are buildings of striking clarity, reduced, focused and balanced in their structures, minimal and futuristic in fabric. The buildings outline and external shape are defined by their internal concepts rather than being masked by a facade."

SKUGGE, JOHAN: Buildings And Objects 2LP (SOURCE 40 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

ADRIEN 75: Coastal Acces CD (SOURCE 42CD). $14.00

"Adrien Capozzi, aka Adrien 75, comes from Los Angeles. As a member of Unagi Patrol & Microstudio, he had a hand in co-creating most of the Carpet Bomb Releases. In 1999 he released the Adrien 75 EP on Carpet Bomb. He released tracks on Plug Research's Intermission, on Opensource.players (Source Records) and on other compilations. Coastal Acces is Adrien's album debut and it is probably the most chilled out on Source in a while. Mellow, floating, morphing and liquid — this is the kind of music you make when you bring your laptop to the beach, or possibly just the memories of days spent at the ocean resonating from a harddrive a couple of blocks away — windows open — sounds from the street stream in with the breeze and distant roaring of the surf. Acoustic guitar and digital artefacts merge just as naturally as the seemingly opposing concepts of easy beach live and binary program codes. At times calm and beautiful — sometimes vibrant and rough — always deep, emotional and atmospherically rich with rather abstract and fragmented references to nature. A comforting aquatic feel underlines all of the album, floating and light, soaring from the depth and gently sinking back then suddenly: all Funk, elements grooving like light dancing above — under water looking up. Digital sounds cascading, rolling like lines of waves at the shore — like a permanent pulsing or breathing refracted with interferences caused by its reflection. Modulated from a permanent energy and formed through disturbances of density."

VEER: Lideskape CD (SOURCE 43 CD). $14.00

"Ole Schulte aka Veer from Frankfurt is relatively 'new' to the scene. He released an EP for Force Tracks and later this year he will release another 12" on Kid Clayton's Cytrax Label. We're happy to present his album debut Lideskape on Source Records in november. Flowing sounds, spreading wide into space, shuffling beats over bleeps and digital fragments. The tracks seem to be weightlessly floating due to the depth and width of their soundscapes. Mutating and modulating from comforting murmur to deep resonating chords. Contemplative, crackling, warming like a virtual campfire on the hard drive. accompanied by robot-crickets resounding from the binary undergrowth. Spherically gliding, the sounds condense, build grooves, swinging and driving, drifting apart again into ever expanding space interference, overlaps, cuts, refraction and resonance. Pulsating, vivid tracks. Funky and sensual, relaxing and smooth."

VEER: Lideskape 2LP (SOURCE 43 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

WILD, BENJAMIN: Wis Es Sein Wollte CD (SOURCE 44CD). $15.00

"Not just since the release of With Compliments for Force Inc., is Benjamin Wild one of Germany's favourite electronic music producers. Benjamin can look back on an impressive recording career with releases for Kompakt, Perlon, Force Tracks and Morris/Audio and a total of six collaboration albums for Frankfurts Fax Records. His second album project: Wie Es Sein Wollte brings it all to the point. Everything fits perfectly in place and Benjamin shows us with striking clarity why we love and need electronic music. Minimal House, subliminal dub, digital artefacts and warm pulsating chords, merge, creating sublimely funky elegant and grooving tracks. bouncing, sexy, sensual, swinging, soothing... Benjamin Wilds music is filled with warmth and positive energy, reduced to the essence, in this case the blending of musical and rhythmic elements, well balanced arrangements, peace pours from the speakers soaring effortlessly, grooving from the first to the last track. timeless, weightless, extremely funky, relaxed and fluid: '.....genau so wollte es sein' and so it always wanted to be."

WILD, BENJAMIN: Wis Es Sein Wollte 2LP (SOURCE 44LP). $16.00

EYEPHONE: Devolution CD (SOURCE 736). $15.00

"Eyephone was founded 1994 as a follow-up to the techno-project The Feedback Bleep. Releases, live-performances (a.o. with Atom Heart, Clifford Gilberto) and countless DJ and radio-appearances between 1995 and 1997. Devolution will feature previously unreleased tracks from 96/97. Experimental electronic ambience. Deep inner spaces and outer spheres. Digital details, expanding sounds. Pulsing with rhythms driven by sublime minimal funk floating through abstract soundscapes. Loops in motion, random oscillations interwoven and layered to a seamlessly flowing unity in permanent transformation. Blending cool minimal funk and digital abstraction."

DSN: Raise This Flap CD (SOURCE 45CD). $17.00

"The Deep Space Network is back — back with their unique blend of electronic and acoustic sounds, swinging grooves, sublime booty-shakers and relaxed late night funk. 12 years after their first recording Earth to Infinity, that kicked off the Source Records history and roughly 10 years after their last studio recording Big Rooms they did it again — presenting a collection of new tracks recorded throughout the past 5 years — like their previous recordings, wrapping up a whole cosmos of sound and rhythm in one album. Drawing from a wide musical background, integrating the most diverse sources of sounds and inspiration they come up with a collection of tracks ranging from electronic soul and funk to digital chill out — seamlessly interweaving acoustic instruments — like, guitars, drums and percussions — with electronic soundscapes and digital processing."

SOURCE RESEARCH RECORDINGS (UK):

VA: The Tragedy Of Errors CD (SR-01). $15.00

"3 is the magic number! 3 artists, 3 tracks, 3 mixes, 3 sleeve remixes... The 3rd source research project is a unique remix cycle. Cattivo, Source Research and Steinbrüchel each created a track which is the passed to the next artist to remix and then passed once more for the 3rd party to re-remix. Using bastardised text from Shakespeare's Comedy of Errors, Tragedy gives an insight into the eRors which can creep into process... Limited to 1000 copies worldwide. Full colour artwork with a user definable front cover. Everything must make room for errRorS."

ELGGREN/SOURCE RESEARCH/MATMOS, LEIF: RGB CD (SR-98). $15.00

"A 70 minute CD with contributions by Leif Elggren, Source Research and Matmos. Limited edition of 1000 copies. Includes three sleeves (red, green, and blue). This project is the result of three invited contributors conjuring up what they thought the colors red, green and blue sound like. Artists were free to explore for themselves whatever direction they felt appropriate for their individual colors. These three 15 minute pieces were stitched together to form a 44 minute work RGB (an audio spectrum). Which was itself bookended by two conceptual works called 'Black' and 'White'."

VA: Emre (Dark Matter) CD (SR:99/00LTD). $21.00

"Deluxe slipcase edition with extra booklet — 500 copies worldwide." Limited stock.

VA: Emre (Dark Matter) CD (SR:99/00X). $18.00

"An 80-minute compact disc with 20 page 4-colour Booklet featuring exclusive recordings by Coh, Coil, Cyclobe, Ovum, Andrew Poppy, Source Research, Leif Elggren. Following on from the first source research recordings project (RGB an audio spectrum) which explored the sound/light spectrum, Emre deals with it's opposite of that, darkness and the unexplainable. Each artist responded to the following pointers: Negative light, Ghost light, Spiritual Voices, Dark Matter, Things which remain hidden and unconfirmed, Without the presence of light, A place of fear from childhood to adulthood, The unknown, Darkness."

POPPY, ANDREW: Time At Rest Devouring Its Secret CD (SR:COM1). $13.00

"This mid price CD contains one 35-minute work originally entitled T.A.R.D.I.S.. Andrew Poppy has been connected with the British minimalist scene for nearly 20 years. He has made arrangements for Coil, Strawberry Switchblade, The The, Erasure, Psychic TV & Nitzer Ebb. Through all of this Poppy has continued and continues to make his own work. T.A.R.D.I.S. is an amazing piece of work and is Poppy's finest to date. What does T.A.R.D.I.S. sound like? Poppy's appreciation of long works by Riley, Reich & Feldman have led him to create a largely electronic work, which explores the relationship between events and time — and almost freezes you there for the entire duration."

VA: SR:ample - A Source Research Recordings Sampler CD (SR:COMOCDX). $13.00

"74 minutes of excerpts+ selections from the sRr catalogue + exclusive tracks. Limited Edition 1000 copies only in purple plastic wallet. Aphasia, Cattivo, CoH, Coil, Cyclobe, Leif Elggren, EsRm, Matmos, Ovum, Andrew Poppy, source research. Not only does this sampler act as a taster for the current catalogue, but also it is a work in its own right (and includes over 50 minutes of unreleased material). With exclusive contributions by COH (who gifted menuet max.), Andrew Poppy (a section from the soundtrack to a film by Julia Bardsley entitled Snow), Cattivo supply twisted vocal compositions, Ovum explores more barren soundscapes and source research collect pieces from Various unreleased projects including a dissected remix of Aphasia material. Split into two parts +dB and - dB, these form the two distinct sections of SR:ample, one to stimulate brain chemicals — the other to sooth the experience. Sound medicine for the mind."

SOUTHPORT:

MIMAROGLU, ILHAN: Outstanding Warrants CD (SSSD 0086). $12.00

"Collection of electro-acoustic works from this criminally under-documented Turkish/American composer, onetime staff producer at Atlantic (Freddie Hubbard's Sing Me a Song of Songmy (1971), Sonny Sharrock's Paradise (1975), and Charles Mingus's Changes One and Changes Two (1974)), head of the Finnadar label (who released, amongst other things, LPs by Jean Dubuffet, Negative Band, John Cage & Marcel Duchamp), co-composer (along with Dockstader, Rota, Rusticelli, etc...) of the music to Fellini's Satyricon, student of the Columbia-Princeton Electronic Music Center under Ussachevsky and Luening, etc... and then some (which is to say he's led a full life thusfar). All of the pieces on this CD are previously unreleased (save for 'Prelude No.24' from a Bananafish CD annex but when has that ever counted?) and span from the mid 70s to present day. Some of us have been waiting a very long time for a full reissue treatment of Ilhan's 60s/70s tape music on CD, and while this isn't all prime-era output, it's pretty remarkable (Ilhan's production modus never incorporated computer processing/composition techniques, making his latter day Etudes virtually indistinguishable from the former). Quite good and molten, plenty of pent up aggression. Familiarize yourself with this somewhat obscured figure in American music history. Now." — Hrvatski

SPACE AGE (UK):

SPACEMEN 3: Dreamweapon CD (ORBIT 001 CD). $17.00

"Cult band Spacemen 3 recorded 4 studio and one live albums before their demise in 1990, the main song writers going on to form Spiritualized (Jason Pierce) and Spectrum (Pete Kember). Dreamweapon and Live In Europe 1989 are the first in a series released on 3rd Stone Records imprint, Space Age Recordings. Which will be featuring new and unreleased studio and live Spacemen 3 material alongside other Spacemen 3 associated bands/projects, together with legitimizing several bootlegs which have been circulating for some years. The main track on Dreamweapon — An Evening Of Contemporary Sitar Music was recorded at the Watermans Art Centre on the 19th, August 1988 and it appeared in several bootleg forms, although this is its first official release, now with an extended 77-minute playing time."

SPACEMEN 3: Live In Europe 1989 CD (ORBIT 002 CD). $17.00

"Recorded in Europe on tour in Germany in Spring 1989, mid-way through an extensive 3-month assault of Europe. These were to be the band's last shows live and show the powerful sonic assault the band had developed a year on from their only other live album, Performance."

SPECTRUM VS. JESSAMINE: A Pox On You CD (ORBIT 003 CD). $12.00

"Features the combined talents of the much regarded Spectrum featuring Sonic Boom together with American cult band Jessamine. A Pox On You was recorded and mixed in both Coventry and Seattle. It is a CD only EP; the main track being the joint collaboration on the Silver Apples classic."

SPACEMEN 3: Forged Prescriptions 2CD (ORBIT 006 CD). $20.00

"This double album is from a mid point in their career and is how Spacemen 3 wanted their work to sound. Some might say these are the definitive versions of many songs released on other albums. We spent several months, broken only by touring, recording and re-working these pieces until we felt they were ready slowly learning more about the studio and its techniques as we went. These versions show some variation to the original release, which was more stripped. Many different takes and versions were experimented with — 'Walking With Jesus' had been an all fuzz, tremelo and feedback song before these sessions. Here at last are the full guitar laden versions with all the layers of beautifully streamlined guitar — considered by us to be too hard to replicate live and therefore reduced for the original release. Also included for the first time are some unreleased covers, demos and tributes from the same sessions. For me, this is where Spacemen 3 songwriting came to a head — many of these songs pre-dated 'Sound Of Confusion', some were even recorded at both sessions, but I am still impressed mightily by Jason's lyrical genius on originals like 'Walking With Jesus' and re-writes like 'Come Down Easy' and his fluid guitar playing across the whole sessions. To be sure 'Playing With Fire' was soon to be our long and sultry Indian Summer but 'Perfect Prescription' was the progeny of that hot, lazy (and occasionally rainy)

SPACEMEN 3: Playing With Fire 2CD (ORBIT 011 CD). $20.00

"The definitive version of Spacemen 3's seminal album, Playing With Fire. The release is spread out over 2 CDs. The first containing the full original album, the second being a bonus CD collecting previously unreleased tracks from the same sessions. In addition to radically different live, demo and instrumental versions of the original tracks. Presented in a special limited edition gatefold cardboard wallet. This is the first in a planned series of enhanced CD reissues of the Spacemen 3 back catalog."

SPACEMEN 3: Recurring CD (ORBIT 012CD). $17.00

"As the last album before their unfortunate demise, this represents not only a significant part of Spacemen 3's history — but also the future of Spacemen 3 protagonists Jason Pierce and Pete Kember. The first half of the album is written by Pete Kember and clearly shows the direction he wanted Spacemen 3 to move — a direction he was later to explore with great success in his early Spectrum work and later with his more experimental Experimental Audio Research. Splitting the two halves is a true Spacemen 3 cover of Mudhoney's 'When Tomorrow Hits' serving as a perfect reminder of when the band were working together in their fantastic early years. Jason Pierce's half is a much more epic affair, very much the opposite direction to sonics minimalist approach and showing the love of highly arranged music he was to favour with Spiritualized."

E.A.R.: Data Rape CD (ORBIT 013 CD). $16.00

"Sonic Boom and collaborators hunker down over their wires and switches for a revolutionary new type of sound generation called circuit bending, involving the cannibalism and reintegration of the circuitry of cheap electronics (ie. Speak & Spell) and other economy effects, allowing new sounds and chance discoveries to emerge from previously unrelated circuit board points. Random compositions and textures, freezing and looping, pulse and tone generation, complex lattice filtering and unique pitch shifting techniques, which may be childish in origin, but are certainly not so in their realization." From the liner notes: "The sound collages on this disc were created using 8 human voice synthesizers, originally marked by Texas Instruments as the 'Speak & Spell' range of toys during the 1970s. These instruments have been customised with added switches, buttons, knobs & wiring to give phoneme looping, random phrase generation, various modulations, pitch shifting & other non-standard effects. Some processing with equalisation & effects was then added using a Morley phaser & a modified EMS VCS3."

TELESCOPES, THE: Altered Perception CD (ORBIT 014CD). $17.00

"Formed in 1986 as a vehicle for music written, produced, arranged & performed by Stephen Lawrie. Featuring performances of various like minded musicians depending on the requirements of the music. Starting out in a noise-fest style similar to Spacemen 3, they developed their style to include psychedelic guitars and groovy bass lines. After signing to creation they released their 2nd album — still classed as a masterpiece by the fans and critics alike but couldn't release their third album before the closure of creation records. Altered Perception: the first release from The Telescopes since the Third Wave in 2002. Featuring tracks previously unavailable on CD like 'Sadness Pale' and '16th4' this release also contains material recorded by the band during the 'creation years' but unreleased until now."

SPECTRUM VS. SILVER APPLES: A Lake Of Teardrops CD (ORBIT 016 CD). $15.00

"New 6-track mini album sees Sonic Boom & Spectrum joining forces with reactivated 60s electronic legends Silver Apples. Initially available in a deluxe gatefold sleeve with silver foil block detail, strictly limited to 2000 copies." Simeon (voice, electronics & oscillators), Sonic Boom (Synthi AKS, custom configurable sampler & human voice synthesizer), Will Carruthers (bass vibrations), Iain Worrall (percussion), Alf Hardy (electronics). Recorded at Cabin Studios, Coventry, 7/21/23/98.

SPECTRUM VS. SILVER APPLES: A Lake Of Teardrops LP (ORBIT 016 LP). $19.00

"Sonic Boom and Spectrum joined forces with the seminal sixties electronic duo the Silver Apples on a brand new six track mini (CD released earlier this year). This very limited vinyl edition contains an extra 4 original and previously unreleased Silver Apples tracks from the sixties. Only 500 copies will be available in gatefold sleeve. There will be no further pressing."

SPECTRUM/THE IMAJINARY FRIENDS: Interface/Come Out to Play CD (ORBIT 017 CD). $16.00

"Gatefold wallet 25 minute/7-track collaboration between Spectrum and the mysterious collective known as The Imaginary Friends, who have been known to contain members of Tipsy and Swervedriver. Their bizarre electronic experimentalism has a gnawing tension that often explodes into overdriven chaos, utilizing intoxicating discordance, crackling loops, lilted piano, and clattering breakbeats, all crammed with fresh ideas. They offer 5 tracks here, while Spectrum weigh in with 2 new drones & freaked out oscillations."

SKYWAVE: Womb CD (ORBIT 018 CD). $16.00

"Another beautifully unplaceable neo-ambient electronica album from former Teardrop Explodes/Wild Swans member Paul Simpson. Treading similar unmarked paths and obscure back-doubles on the ambience map as Will Sergeant's Glide. Comparable to the later period of classic electro-Krautrock, particularly the pastoral tones of La Dusseldorf and the softer bubblings of Cluster, Womb is one 70-minute track that pulses blood-slow through a series of comforting and unsettling states." Simpson: bass guitar, Moog, piano, bubbles and drones. Satomi Masuda: field recordings.

VA: Interface CD (ORBIT 019 CD). $15.00

A collaborative compilation featuring artists from the Space Age, Ochre & Earworm labels. Features tracks by Spectrum, Synaptic Gridlock, Peter Zinovieff, 121 Dials, Land of Nod, Magnetaphone, Imaginary Friends, John Massoni & Sonic Boom, E.A.R., Skyray, Stylus, Longstone & Octal. "Strictly limited edition of 2000 copies. Embossed gatefold wallet with booklet inserted."

SPACEMEN 3: Threbbie 3 CD (ORBIT 020 CD). $15.00

"In conjunction with Space Age Recordings's re-mastered and reissued double CD album of Playing With Fire, there is a strictly limited (1000 copies only) reissue of the long deleted vinyl only issue of Threbbie 3 on CD for the first time. Featuring five live tracks from a show at the Melkweg in Amsterdam in Feb. 1988 that did not subsequently appear on the Performance album. All copies are packaged in a cardboard slip case."

LONGSTONE: Auto://Genous 2CD (ORBIT 021 CD). $16.00

"Long awaited second album from the knob twiddling ultra boffins whose debut Surrounded By Glass and follow up mini LP Live In New York came out to rapturous response on Ochre records. This release will be available in a strictly limited edition of 1000 copies, coupled with a bonus live disc featuring Bunnyman Will Sergeant. Deluxe gatefold wallet with additional foldy out bits."

SPACEMEN 3: Taking Drugs to Make Music to Take Drugs to CD (ORBIT 023 CD). $15.00

"Another in a series of classic Spacemen 3 reissues from Space Age. This cult demos compilation, originally a 1990 bootleg, featuring 7 tracks and was wrongly subtitled 'Rehearsals in Rugby January 1986'. The tracks which make up Taking Drugs were recorded as demos in Northampton, and later both Sonic Boom and Jason Pierce would profess these versions to be superior to those which made it onto the albums Sound of Confusion and The Perfect Prescription. Displaying a sense of urgency and freshness that never quite emerged in the later versions. Now Space Age recordings are set to release the definitive version of this underground classic. Complete with their now customary exquisite packaging, and including a previously unreleased version of 'Transparent Radiation' recorded during the same sessions."

MASSONI W/ SONIC BOOM, JOHN: The Sundowner Sessions CD (ORBIT 025 CD). $11.00

Due recording from Seattle, 2000. Massoni (electronics), Sonic Boom (custom human voice synthesizer). "[Sonic] can make something out of almost anything. He'd just pick out a tape of mine (I have a bunch of tapes with sound and drone experiments), and work something into a piece. His focus and ability not to be undermined by the limits surrounding him is really amazing to watch. We worked well into the night — thus The Sundowner Sessions were born." — John Massoni.

E.A.R.: Continuum CD (ORBIT 026 CD). $15.00

"Now settled on the Space Age Recording label he helped to form, EAR are all set to release their most audacious and ambitious record yet. The results are simply unlike anything else you will have heard. Creating an incredible album of atonal wonder and spell binding intoxication. EAR have, without a doubt, pushed the boundaries of sound to a new level with Continuum." Limited initial pressing of 1000 copies in translucent jewel box.

AMP: Saint Cecilia Sinsemilla CD (ORBIT 027 CD). $15.00

"Amp create shifting focal points of sound, from scattering synthetic percussion to smears of guitar looped drones to seductive vocals to detailed piano pieces."

E.A.R.: The Koner Experiment CD (ORBIT 030 CD). $15.00

"The Koner Experiment is the collaboration of several of the finest experimental artists of the time, namely Sonic Boom of Spacemen 3 & Spectrum, Kevin Martin from God & Techno Animal, Eddie Prevost — founder of the legendary Amm, Kevin Shields Tonmeister of My Bloody Valentine and Thomas Köner and Andy Mellwig of Portericks. This release was recorded during 1991 in studios in Coventry & London — the material was then sculpted in Dortmund into its present form by the much acclaimed German artists Thomas Köner and Andy Mellwig. Taking the ethos of experimental audio research to new levels, this release shows us the deep and complex nature of the music E.A.R. produce. Deep, rolling waves of sound producing emotions and thoughts like no other style can. Building atmospheres, textures and moods in a 3 ring circus as the effects alter, hypnotize and change the soundscapes throughout this 12 track CD — now featuring 2 extra cuts from the same sessions, previously unavailable."

MASSONI, JOHN: Stillborn Dreams CD (ORBIT 038CD). $17.00

"John Massoni, after wowing us with the splendid Sundowner Sessions has returned with his new, full-length studio album Stillborn Dreams. Once again Massoni shows his love for experimenting with sound and this more than shows in his work. His use of samples and their arrangement makes you believe he could almost be tweaking and looping as the music is being played, such is their spontaneity, yet the songs have such atmosphere and depth that there's no way this could be 'off the cuff' experimentation, could it? Ex Spacemen 3 main man Pete Kember — also of Spectrum and E.A.R. — features on this album with a mix of 'Spirits', bringing his unique skills to the partnership that brought us John Massoni & Sonic Boom The Sundowner Sessions."

SPECTRUM: Refractions: Thru the Rhythms of Time 1989-1997 CD (ORBIT 040CD). $17.00

"Spectrum, the alter ego of Pete Kember (Experimental Audio Research and Spacemen 3) has selected some of his finest tracks and agreed to release them on Space Age recordings. Sonic Boom/Spectrum/Pete Kember started producing solo work shortly before the end of Spacemen 3 and released his first solo project, Sonic Boom Spectrum in 1990. From the success of this release he signed to silvertone records and released the highly sought after and respected Soul Kiss (Glide Divine) in 1991 and continued releasing work through silvertone until 1994 when the unique Highs, Lows & Heavenly Blows was released to rave reviews. Later on Spectrum moved to Space Age Recordings where he released the groundbreaking Forever Alien. This both astounded and confused critics worldwide and remains a perfect example of the use of technology in experimental music."

SPACE FOUNDATION/BOX THEORY:

FRIDGE/PLUXUS: Pluxusvsfridgevspluxus CD (SF 01). $6.50

Two track split release. "With three full lengths and a 2CD singles compilation under their belt, Fridge have more than proved their musical worth over the last 6 years. Members Kieren Hebden, Adam Ilhan and Sam Jeffers display their more straightforward electronic side on this exclusive track. Pluxus, a four-piece outfit from Sweden, have released a cassette, a 7" and their recent Slowball full length, Fas 2. Pluxus bring to mind elements of older Warp Records releases and your favorite Atari/Commodore 64 video games."

SPALAX (FRANCE):

SOFT MACHINE/MARK LEEMAN 5/DAVEY GRAHAM: Rock Generation Vol. 8 CD (SPA 14557). $16.00

The early Soft Machine material from 1967, featuring Daevid Allen, Kevin Ayers, Robert Wyatt and Mike Ratledge was issued numerous times in the LP era, and in keeping with that tradition, this CD confusingly includes just 5 of the 10 tracks found on Jet Propelled (previously issued on Spalax 14816). This CD is worthwhile however for the Davey Graham material (from 12/67). Two tracks by this legendary, poorly documented UK folk guitarist, including the immense 10+ minute instrumental "City Raga".

COSMIC JOKERS: Planeten Sit In LP (SPA 14104). $16.00

Fifth and final Cosmic Joker's reissue, from 1974. Klaus Schulze, Manuel Gottsching, Dieter Dirks, Harald Grosskopf, Jürgen Dollase, etc. Best of the CJ's "remix" albums, and a pretty tripped out affair — collage 'n' paste Krautrock at its finest.

SCHULZE, KLAUS: Irrlicht LP (SPA 14121). $16.00

Vinyl version of Klaus Schulze's first solo album, from 1972. "After stints in the legendary bands Tangerine Dream and Ash Ra Tempel, Irrlicht was Klaus Schulze's first stab at a solo project. He had radical ideas for the newly developed electronic music scene which are blatantly present here. Equipped with a small orchestra, 4-track, guitar, percussion, organ, and a little electronic gadgetry, he created a 'cosmic classic'. No synthesizers were used here, just a remarkable use of sampled tapes and Klaus' magical touch. This album is just mesmerizing, with music that reaches into a whole other world."

SCHULZE, KLAUS: Picture Music LP (SPA 14123). $16.00

Vinyl edition of the 3rd Schulze solo album, from 1973. Two long 23-minute tracks, featuring Klaus on banks of synths, organ and drums. Classic space music.

GÖTTSCHING, MANUEL: E2-E4 LP (SPA 14141). $17.00

LP version, repressed. The first solo album by Ash Ra Tempel's Götsching (to be issued under his own name anyway), recorded in 1981, but not released on LP until 1984. One 60 minute instrumental piece of hypnotic electronics with his trademark guitar laid on top. Has an early minimalistic techno feel — and is in fact now considered somewhat of a seminal tract in those circles, and a big influence on legendary Detroit techno figureheads like Derrick May, Carl Craig, etc.

ASH RA TEMPEL: First LP (SPA 14144). $17.00

Vinyl issue of the self-titled all-time classic debut album from 1971. "It contains just two extended tracks which are raw and sometimes wild with energy translated from the group's early live performances. The first track 'Amboss' (Anvil) starts quite calmly, but soon builds up to an amazing crescendo complete with screaming fuzzy acid guitar. The second offering 'Traummaschine' (Dream Machine) is a complete contrast, the track really lives up to its name with a dreamy melody which just floats around the room."

ASH RA TEMPEL: Inventions For Electric Guitar LP (SPA 14145). $16.00

Vinyl edition of the first solo release by Ash Ra Tempel's Götsching. "The album's title is pretty self-descriptive as this was the first electronic-ambient solo work with guitar. It was recorded just using an electric guitar and a Teac 4-track and the result is very unique. Tape loops were recorded at different speeds and then treated with echo effects. This tricked the listener into thinking that synthesizers and sequencers were used. The German music industry was blown away by this landmark album, as was the rest of the world."

ASH RA TEMPEL: Join Inn LP (SPA 14146). $17.00

Vinyl version of the 4th ART album from 1973. "The original Ash Ra Tempel line-up got together to record Join Inn during breaks in the Tarot album recordings. The album's two lengthy tracks were completely improvised. The first, 'Freak 'n Roll' is basically self-explanatory(!) with Manuel Gottsching coming into his own with his talented, bluesy upbeat improvisations. 'Jenseits' (Beyond), on the other hand, is a showcase for Klaus Schulze's then new-found electronic sound painting skills. The lyrics on the 2nd track are read by Rosi Müller; new band member and then-girlfriend of Gottsching. She tells the story of the band's meeting with Timothy Leary and all the excitement that surrounded it."

COSMIC JOKERS: Gilles Zeitschiff LP (SPA 14185). $16.00

"...was produced by Gille Lettemann and came from her work with the Cosmic Jokers dream team's session tapes. These remixed tracks are overlaid with Gille's spoken words where she explains further the whole CJ concept. It's extremely trippy, but a real classic!"

COSMIC JOKERS: Galactic Supermarket LP (SPA 14192). $16.00

Vinyl edition of the 2nd Cosmic Jokers album. "Originally released in 1974. Side one, 'Kinder des Alls,' is ever shifting from one theme to another, with the Harald Grosskopf's helicopter drums, and Klaus Schulz's grating synthesizer. Side two, 'Galactic Supermarket' was obviously influenced by Van der Graaf Generator, but made unique by the master guitar of Manuel Götsching."

CATHARSIS: Les Chevrans CD (SPA 14202). $16.00

Spalax is a huge reissue label out of France, best known for their reissues of the classic German 70s albums that came out on the legendary OHR label. We carry almost everything in their catalog, as follows (their numbering system is somewhat baffling, so please excuse the random-like listing). Catharsis were a French progressive folk group, with probably close to a dozen albums released in the 70s. How many of those are worth consideration (if any), is still a question in my mind. 2nd album, from 1972.

CATHARSIS: Boiero Du Veau Des Dames CD (SPA 14203). $16.00

Spalax skips to the 5th album, from 1975; by this point the sound is nondescript organ-led rock with mid-70s poppy touches.

POPOL VUH: Die Nacht Die Seele CD (SPA 14204). $16.00

13th album, from 1979, ("The Night Of The Spirit"). Djong Yun and Amon Duul II's Renate Knaup reappear beside the steady duo of Fricke/Fichelscher, and more oboe/sitar embellishment. [deleted, last copies]

MYTHOS: Dreamlab CD (SPA 14206). $16.00

2nd album, from 1975, originally released on Cosmic Couriers. Sort of an nth generation German space-rock sound, with some of the most idiotically theatrical vocals heard on a record of this era and some equally idiotic lead flute on a few tracks... but still, this has some sorta archival mystery in its aura and is kinda classic in a minor way.

LARD FREE: I'm Around About Midnight CD (SPA 14221). $16.00

2nd album from 1975. This actually features Heldon's Richard Pinhas on guitar and is therefore less over-the-top than the above in that respect. Still, the interplay is odd and challenging and tough to put into words, beyond some sort of alien progressive space-pulse from if. Can have been French, they could've developed in this direction...

SCHNITZLER, CONRAD: Ballet Statique CD (SPA 14223). $16.00

First of 2 CDs on the label, by the legendary German composer/electronics master. Bubbly, trancey electronic whirlings. "A legend spoken in hushed tones among connoisseurs of electronica (his albums are)...completely brilliant, using electronics is a totally abstract way that's over a decade ahead of its time. 'Electric Garden' from Ballet Statique is maybe my favorite piece of electronic music ever, and that's a serious thing to say. This track is so strong it ought to be illegal, and the whole album is absolutely blinding." — Mixmaster Morris.

LARD FREE: III/Spirale Malax CD (SPA 14224). $16.00

3rd & final album, from 1977. Similar style to the 2nd, psych-prog guitar supplied by Xavier Baullerier and more acid-drenched keyboard wondering waves.

LARD FREE: Gilbert Artman's Lard Free CD (SPA 14225). $16.00

First of three Lard Free albums (recorded in 1973). Lard Free were a legendary all instrumental weird-progressive band from France, who are rarely very well described on this side of the Atlantic as anything beyond "sorta Heldon-like." All three records feature different line ups, each centered around Gilbert Artman, who was the drummer/composer and also played keyboards, sax, vibes, etc. This CD opens with a great pulsing prog rhythm track that explodes with violent atonal guitars bursts from Francois Mativet, really something to hear. The rest consists of longish tracks of unusual guitar/bass/drums/sax/synthesizer experimental prog-loads that are consistently off the cuff, with more amazing heavy fuzz-noise guitar — an exceptional record that I know a lot of people have missed out on due to the infamous "fear of the French".

AGITATION FREE: At Last CD (SPA 14229). $16.00

Posthumous live release of 1973 material (first issued in '76); only 3 tracks and much more stretched out and spacier than Malessch. Multi-guitars, bs, drums, organ, etc. creating fantastic instrumental atmospheres, supreme stuff.

ASH RA: Walkin' The Desert CD (SPA 14240). $16.00

1988/89 session between M. Gottsching and Lutz (ex-A. Free) Ulbrich (both on guitar & keyboards). The 12th Gottsching album overall. Repetitive, trancey material in a contemporary style.

GÖTTSCHEG, MANUEL: E2-E4 CD (SPA 14241). $16.00

The first solo album by Ash Ra Tempel's Götsching (to be issued under his own name anyway), recorded in 1981, but not released on LP until 1984. One 60 minute instrumental piece of hypnotic electronics with his trademark guitar laid on top. Has an early minimalistic techno feel — and is in fact now considered somewhat of a seminal tract in those circles, and a big influence on legendary Detroit techno figureheads like Derrick May, Carl Craig, etc.

ASH RA: Tropical Heat CD (SPA 14242). $16.00

Götsching, with Lutz Ulbrich, Harold Grosskopf, Mickie D, recorded in 1985 & finally released in 1991. By this point Götsching was more into electronic keyboards and drum programming giving this a contemporary synthetic flavor that could be deadly for the uninitiated.

GÖTTSCHEG, MANUEL: Dream & Desire CD (SPA 14243). $16.00

Ash Ra's guitarist has only released a handful of solo recordings; this is a 1977 solo work, not released until 1991. A pretty good follow up to his Inventions For Electric Guitar album; trancey, space guitar and electronics.

ASH RA TEMPEL: CD (SPA 14244). $16.00

The reissue of historic, early albums of Germany's legendary space/psych outfit is a legitimately great thing, and the network of people who continue to discover this stuff seems to expand daily with no let up. The first, self-titled, Ash Ra Tempel album, from 1971, is a flat-out massive overdriven psych monster. Formed by Klaus Schulze (on drums & electronics, after having left Tangerine Dream), guitarist Manuel Götsching (who would remain the one constant with Ash Ra), and Hartmut Enke (bass), this is the most intense recording in their discography & an absolute must if you're interested in the early glories of Krautrock bliss.

ASH RA TEMPEL: Inventions For Electric Guitar CD (SPA 14245). $16.00

Actually a solo album by Ash Ra guitarist Manuel Götsching, consisting of three long appropriately named tracks ("Echo Waves," "Quasarsphere," "Pluralis"). Simple effects-laden guitar trance-outs. Some technological truthseekers claim this album sounds "dated"; others are more willing to luxuriate within the purely pleasing waves of analog band-width.

ASH RA TEMPEL: Join Inn CD (SPA 14246). $16.00

Vinyl version of the 4th ART album from 1973. "The original Ash Ra Tempel line-up got together to record Join Inn during breaks in the Tarot album recordings. The album's two lengthy tracks were completely improvised. The first, "Freak 'n Roll" is basically self-explanatory(!) with Manuel Götsching coming into his own with his talented, bluesy upbeat improvisations. 'Jenseits' (Beyond), on the other hand, is a showcase for Klaus Schulze's then new-found electronic sound painting skills. The lyrics on the 2nd track are read by Rosi Müller; new band member and then-girlfriend of Götsching. She tells the story of the band's meeting with Timothy Leary and all the excitement that surrounded it."

ASH RA TEMPEL: Starring Rosi CD (SPA 14247). $16.00

From 1973, and now paired down to just a main duo of Manuel Götsching (guitar and most other musical accompaniment), and Rosi Müller on vocals. A lesser/lighter album than some of the above, but still with charms, especially if you're looking for insight into the hippie-flower floatation system lifestyle.

ASH RA TEMPEL: Schwingungen CD (SPA 14248). $16.00

2nd album from 1972, and another stoned psych masterpiece, with a beautiful spaced vibe. Schulze had gone solo by this point, and was replaced by Wolfgang Müller, but it was no huge loss. The mixture of electronics and psychedelic rock was perfectly realized.

ASH RA TEMPEL: Seven Up CD (SPA 14249). $16.00

The 3rd ART album. With the presence of Dr. Timothy Leary, this 1972 album divides between power-splurge-psych (the side-long epic "Space") and more levitational space-outs (the side long "Time").

AGITATION FREE: Malesch CD (SPA 14250). $16.00

Agitation Free were a great, relatively underrated German psychedelic rock band who released 2 albums in their time, this being the first from 1972 (plus the live albums below). Great raw Karoli-like guitar sound, and medium length Can/Guru Guru style songs, with weird electronic/tape interludes, etc.

PAUVROS, JEAN-FRANCOIS: Le Corps Est Un Menteur CD (SPA 14264). $16.00

Two strange CDs of experimental-guitar based "music for ballet" by Paurvos, "a well-known avant garde guitarist/composer & performer. He met and plays since the early 70s with the most renowned musicians (Ted Milton/Blurt, Arto Lindsay/DNA, Elliot Sharp/Carbon). Part of Catalogue with Jac Berrocal and Gilbert Artman (Lard Free & Urban Sax)...the two CDs are in style of Rock in Opposition, DNA, ethereal Original Sound Tracks, borned from Jean-Francois Paurvos's outer-space mind."

ELECTRIC SUN: Earthquake CD (SPA 14265). $12.00

1995 reissue of this 1979 hard rock album by Uli Roth (post-Scorpions), accidentally in stock. "Dedicated to the spirit of Jimi Hendrix." "Strong tracks include "Burning Wheels Turning" and "Still So Many Lives Away", which have the most fantastic guitar solos, and perhaps one of Uli's most famous solo. Another good song is the opening track, 'Electric Sun', in which Uli welcomes the world to the Electric Sun band/concept with a one minute opening guitar salvo/solo that will leave guitar fans breathless. The CD is worth a buy for the two instrumental tracks alone - the very brief but cool 'Winterdays' and the closing title track, a ten minute plus opus of Strat magic, with its well thought out arrangement and brilliant classical workouts, weaving what would become Roth's trademark sonic tapestry Neo-Classical Metal/Hard Rock."

MAHOGANY BRAIN: Smooth Sick Lights CD (SPA 14266). $16.00

Mahogany Brain were one of the strange and most primitive French avant-underground rock groups in the 70s. Their first album on Futura in 1971 is one of those mythical records that nobody has heard. Smooth Sick Lights was their 2nd album which was supposedly "recorded in an afternoon of June, 1972," but was not released by the Pole label until 1977. The group consisted of Michel Bulteau (vocals, bass), Patrick Geoffrois (guitar), Mine (guitar, maracas), Jean-Pierre Gardille (drums), Adeline (vocals) & Thomas Messagier (guitar). Their sound was naive and cathartic — atonal guitar wailings, free-rock percussion and a beautiful continuation of the spirit of "Sister Ray". The opening track, "Green Winter of Revolvers" is one on the classic grunts of no-wave-ish slash & mumble. [It evidently is the soundtrack to a movie called Main Line which we could use more information about.] "Silkskin Dawn" is a superb DIY-punk-ish rank with Adeline's vocals that seems quite unnatural for a 1972 origin. "Burning the Vibes" is a 22-minute non-LP bonus track of throbbing bass, murk and background sound that finishes off the set in fine, confusing fashion. The whole thing has an out of time pounding flair that's quite unique and it's great to see this become widely available.

DEMON THOR: Written In The Sky CD (SPA 14270). $16.00

WALLENSTEIN: Blitzkrieg CD (SPA 14272). $16.00

Wallenstein were a keyboard-dominated Krautrock band, and here are their 4 albums that Spalax have seen fit to reissue. Members like Harald Grosskopf (drums), Jürgen Dollase (keys) & Jerry Berkers are kinda household names in Krautrock circles (for their contributions to the Cosmic Jokers, etc.), and they did record for OHR (which always makes you feel like you oughta try to figure out their appeal) but it can be a tough pill. Their sound is an aggressive hammering of keyboard/mellotron washes, over early 70s prog bashing. This first album from 1971 also has good portions of rope-a-dope guitar extensions and outright heaviness. A lesser record by OHR standards, but with merit.

WALLENSTEIN: Mother Universe CD (SPA 14273). $16.00

2nd album from 1972, with more pronounced symphonic touches.

SCHNITZLER, CONRAD: Con Brio CD (SPA 14274). $16.00

2nd CD on label. Serene synthetics and solo piano studies.

ASH RA TEMPEL: Le Berceau de Cristal CD (SPA 14275). $16.00

Previously unreleased film soundtrack, recorded in 1975 by Manuel Götsching (guitar, organ, electronics) and Lutz Ulbrich (guitar, electronics). In a similar style to Inventions for Electric Guitar, this is spacy, consciousness-elevation that will appeal to fans of Götsching's mid-period style.

PAUVROS, JEAN-FRANCOIS: Musiques Pour Anne Dreyfus CD (SPA 14276). $16.00

LIMBUS 4: Mandalas CD (SPA 14277). $16.00

Reissue of the 2nd Limbus album (their even more obscure debut from 1969, under the name Limbus 3, has been bootlegged on CD by Germanofon & is legitimately available on LP via the Batschong label), which was originally issued by OHR in 1970. A fantastic dose of early 70s German freeform weirdness and an essential reissue for the tuned-out community. "Formed in 1968, Limbus were a most unusual band who grew a unique music out of jazz, folk and avant-garde roots. As the more varied instrumental quartet Limbus 4, with swirling organ, studio effects and a most bizarre use of kazooes, Mandalas has perplexed and confused many. Limbus 4 were certainly one of a kind. We uncover: Odysseus Artnern, Bernd Henninger, Matthias Knieper & Gerd Kraus (piano, bass, cello, viola, violin, flutes, percussion, tablas)."

ANIMA: Stürmischer Himmel CD (SPA 14278). $16.00

Reissue of the first Anima LP, originally issued by OHR in 1971. Outsider genius at its finest. "The duo of Paul and Limpe Fuchs were amongst the most experimental to emerge out of the late-60s and become involved in the Munich underground rock scene. Elitists, and pure avant-gardists at heart, they worked with all manner of conventional and home-made instruments, performing wild and demanding music. Stürmischer Himmel, recorded at a '1000 year old cottage on a windy hill' with their children, is amongst the oddest of albums. Bizarre creative music it certainly is, but Krautrock it is certainly not! Paul Fuchs: Fuchshorn, voice, cornet, bass. Limpe Fuchs: voice, drums, Fuchszither, Fuchsbass. Exceptional."

RICH, ROBERT: Geometry CD (SPA 14279). $16.00

Recordings from 1986-87.

DEMON THOR: Anno 1972 CD (SPA 14290). $16.00

First, ploddingly dull album from 1972.

FLOH DE COLOGNE: Lucky Streik CD (SPA 14291). $16.00

4th album, originally issued on OHR in 1972. Political cabaret & post-Mothers mayhem.

COSMIC JOKERS: Galactic Supermarket CD (SPA 14292). $16.00

This wasn't released under the Cosmic Jokers mantle originally when issued under the old Cosmic Couriers imprint 1975, but it is Manuel Götsching, Dieter Dierks, Jürgen Dollase, Harald Grosskopf & Klaus Schulze, again pursuing excellent, wiggled, psychedelic space jamming sectors. 2 side-long tracks, as recommended as the above. One of those albums that has sounded better & better every time I've played it — for 10 years or more.

COSMIC JOKERS: CD (SPA 14293). $16.00

The Cosmic Jokers were a German space/electronic/psych supergroup, who recorded for the legendary Cosmic Couriers label in the mid 70s. The line up was Ash Ra Tempel's Manuel Götsching, Wallenstein's Harald Grosskopf & Jürgen Dollase, Klaus Schulze and scene engineer/sidekick Dieter Dierks. This CD was their debut from 1974, and it's a pretty spectacular surge into 70s drugged byways, Götsching's trademark acid guitar on top of instrumental waves of analogue synth gurgling and spaced out electronic effects. Until recently this stuff was largely unknown and way underrated, at least in American circles. All 5 Cosmic Jokers CDs come in pleasing digipaks.

WALLENSTEIN: Stories, Songs & Symphonies CD (SPA 14294). $16.00

4th album, from 75. Full fledged symphonic shit-stream.

GURU GURU: Hinten CD (SPA 14295). $16.00

2nd, equally classic album. Mani Neumeier: Sounding Being,

GURU GURU: UFO CD (SPA 14296). $16.00

The first 2 Guru Guru releases, both from 1971. Musically, these 2 represent (along with their 3rd, Kanguru) the reigning moments of this acid-destroyed-jamming Krautrock outfit, and are essential artifacts of pure thunder.

HOLDERLIN: Holderlin's Traum CD (SPA 14297). $16.00

Beautiful German psych-folk from 1972, originally issued by Pilz. Their first album, that stylistically tempers a similar dream-stroke as Broselmaschine or Emtidi's Saat, which is saying something.

BIRTH CONTROL: Operation CD (SPA 14299). $16.00

Reissue of 2nd album of German heavy rock "crazies", originally issued on OHR in 1971. I can't seem to lower my IQ sufficiently enough to get into the organ/throb these guys thrust out with such gusto, but perhaps you're made of better stuff.

TAKAHASHI, YUKIHIRO: What Me Worry? CD (SPA 14502). $16.00

Reissue of a 1982 solo album.

ASH RA TEMPEL: New Age Of Earth CD (SPA 14505). $16.00

"...was Manuel Götsching and Ash Ra Tempel's seventh album, originally released in 1976. It has been described as the quintessence of all that they had previously produced...it's simply an undisputed masterpiece." Despite the name and prominent Rosi Müller photo on the cover, this is a all-solo Götsching affair, playing keyboards, synthesizer and guitar; long cosmic tracks, showing some Schulz-ian trance-out influence, as well as bits of the roots-of-Derrick-May sound that would fully unravel with the later E2-E4. Previously tough to find on CD via a label known as Virgin. This album marked the beginning of his relationship with that label, which he followed up Blackouts, Correlations & Belle Alliance.

PAUVROS/GABY BIZIEN, JEAN-FRANCOIS: No Man's Land CD (SPA 14506). $16.00

Third Spalax release by French avant-garde guitarist Paurvos, who was also a member of Catalogue. "...was recorded in the mid 70s, with Paurvos predominantly on guitar and Gaby Bizien mainly on drums, creating a terror noise music! ...this album is sometimes more violent than the most hard hitting jazz record ever recorded." File under strange/abstract Euro improv, very well done.

WOOD, ROBERT: Sonabular CD (SPA 14508). $16.00

Reissue of an obscure duo album between vibraphonist Wood and drummer Gilbert Artman (Lard Free, Urban Sax). "Sonabular" (1973) is a live recording. Total improvisation. It caught Robert Wood and Gilbert Artman at their best." Pleasantly lo-key, sometimes jazzy, sometimes spaced.

GOMORRHA: Trauma CD (SPA 14509). $16.00

"This album from German band Gomorrha was originally released in 1971. Trauma will weave you through the depths of its progressively complex music, with extended tracks and English vocals to boot. Furthermore, the lengthy title track extravaganza has long been considered as an exceptional masterpiece of space rock." Worth it for the blissful 13-minute title track, the rest is less exciting hard rock typical for the era.

VIRUS: Revelation CD (SPA 14510). $16.00

Reissue of the first of 2 albums by this German underground group, from 1970 (originally on BASF; also on CD on 2nd Battle in Germany). Heavy, psychedelic, Floydian, a good one. "This debut by Virus truly is a 'revelation'. Hugely experimental, it's a space rock mission through uncharted solar systems where no band has gone before!"

YAMASH'TA, STOMU: Red Buddha CD (SPA 14512). $16.00

"Recorded in 1970 — first issue 1971. First CD reissue of this incredible album of Stomu Yamash'ta. The 2 tracks performed by Yamash'ta are purely percussional. Yamash'ta is renowned worldwide for his work as an avant garde composer, and is deeply involved in the fields of 'musique contemporaine'. He also approached electronic music in the late 70s through a collaboration with Klaus Schulze." The 1st piece is composed for metal strings, tambury, cymbal, music saw, mandolin harp; the 2nd for steel drum, marimba, cow bell, wood block & skin drum. Excellent atmospherics throughout.

AMON DUÛL UK: Fool Moon CD (SPA 14516). $16.00

The 3rd release from Amon Duul UK, recorded in Wales 1989.

GONG: The Mystery & History of Planet Gong CD (SPA 14518). $16.00

"A veritable treasure of Gong rarities. Here we find live, radio and remixed versions of songs taken from the era when Kevin Ayers was their vocalist — July 1971 until January 1972." Plus other gunk dating from 1964 to 1977.

MOTHER GONG: Wild Child CD (SPA 14521). $16.00

"This is the 3rd album from the 'Mother Queen' Gilli Smith, recording under the name Mother Gong, in reference to her awe-inspiring and pivotal position in Gong. Originally issued in 1991, this album shows Gilli's great musical talent and flair, which was perhaps not so blindingly present on Gong releases."

BLONDE ON BLONDE: Rebirth CD (SPA 14525). $16.00

Reissue of the 2nd album (of 3) from this UK progressive rock outfit, originally issued in 1970. Formed in the late 1960s, they featured on the bills of the infamous Isle Of Wight Festivals; non-spectacular, but decent hard rock with prog-ish tints typical of the era.

MCGUIRE, BARRY: The Eve Of Destruction Man CD (SPA 14528). $16.00

"Hailing from LA, Barry McGuire was one of the first rock protest singers, recording the song 'The Eve Of Destruction' in 1965. This CD is a collection of songs from McGuire's early career as a founder member of the New Christy Minstrels."

ANIMA: CD (SPA 14530). $16.00

Reissue of this classic outsider freak-out album, first issued by Pilz in 1972, featuring the duo of Paul & Limpe Fuchs (vocals, electronics, zither, percussion, drums, Fuchshorn, etc.). Their 2nd album and a classic example of 70s improvisational madness, highly peaked. "Anima were an adventurous German trio who liked to take jazz music to the extreme. On this album they were joined by Austrian avant-gardist Friedrich Gulda, with whom they recorded two studio jamming sessions. Nothing was decided beforehand or premeditated, and the result is two tracks of completely spontaneous off the wall jazz. Anima are one of the few of Rolf Ulrich-Kaiser's proteges who are still actively touring and recording today."

XHOL CARAVAN: Motherfuckers GMBH CD (SPA 14531). $16.00

Reissue of the 3rd & final album by this most curious experimental Krautrock band; first issued by OHR in 1972, previously bootied on CD in the 90s by Germanofon. "Said to have influenced later bands such as Faust, this 1972 album shows them at their most interesting stage. It bears witness to electric sax injected fusion, long off the wall instrumental tracks, and a 'new improved' version of previously recorded track 'Love Potion'." Steven Stapleton of Nurse With Wound has long considered this as one of finest records of all time and it certainly is a strange, mindbending twist; collage, extended electronics, psychedelic effects to the max, etc.

PAGEANT: The Pay For Dreamer's Sin CD (SPA 14533). $16.00

"Japanese outfit whose music is light and uplifting. This album was originally released in 1989 & contains beautiful choral scores." Part of that really smooth 80s Japanese prog scene, and only of interest to those previously acclimated.

KENSO: Yume No Oka CD (SPA 14534). $16.00

Reissue of this 1991 album by this contemporary Japanese outfit, who've had some releases on Marquee, etc. Prog-ish touches added to a base of "mature" post-Kansas arena-rock stylings. I would not recommend you attempt to listen to this. Limited stock.

HOENIG/GOTTSCHING: Early Water CD (SPA 14536). $16.00

Reissue of a classic duo performance, recorded in Berlin 1976. Ash Ra Tempel's Gottsching (Farfisa, ARP, Gibson, tape echoes with Revex A 77) and Tangerine Dream/Agitation Free associate Hoenig (Yamaha, EMS, Moog, Oberheim) layering the zones for one continuous 48 minute flow of cosmic sequencing.

MORMOS: Great Wall Of China CD (SPA 14540). $16.00

"In the early 70s, James Cuomo, Tobia Taylor and Sandy Spencer all came to Paris with a NY experimental theatre group's production of 'La Mama' and decided to stay on afterwards. All coming from musical backgrounds, they agreed on putting together a group. Great Wall Of China was their first album, released in 1971. It comprises of a wonderful progressive music which is a mix of folk, classical and traditional instruments and influences. A clever use of vocal arrangements and rhythms that we find here give the group a completely unique sound."

MORMOS: ...The Magic Spell of Mother's Wrath... CD (SPA 14541). $16.00

"Released in 1972, Mormos' second album. In keeping with the group's splendid and innovative mix of classical and folk styles, melodies are transposed over unconventional rhythms, generating a very earthy sound with sometimes strange vocal arrangements."

RILEY, TERRY: Keyboards Studies CD (SPA 14542). $16.00

Reissue of this album released by BYG in France, in 1969. It is actually a split album between Riley and French avant garde composer Pierre Marietan. Riley's piece is "Keyboard Study 2", a 24-minute work for 2 pianos (performed here by members of the GERM ensemble: Gérard Frémy & Martine Joste). The two pianos create a hovering cloud of sound between them in this raw and primitive minimalist work. Due to the fuzzy recording quality, you don't often see this referenced as one of Riley's important works, but hearing this again on CD has given me a new appreciation for the simple, pounding joy of this piece, an early swag of pure minimalist murk and well worth re-investigation. Marietan's "Initiative 1" is performed by the full GERM (Group d'étude et Réalisation Musicale) Ensemble: (violin, bass, trumpet, french horn, cello, 2 pianos, "rebab & little flute", soprano voice) — and it's a classic work of late 60s's avant-cacophony with enough violent energy to be comparable to Globokar.

AME SON: Primitive Expression CD (SPA 14543). $16.00

First release of this archival material by this French rock band, best known for their classic Catalyse album (originally issued by BYG in 1970; CD is Spalax 14823). "This second album covers a period of about ten years of different experiences. From the first band, Les Primitifs, till different incarnations of Ame Son with guests and other musicians. This issue of unprevious released tapes or more recently in 1995 rehearsing with Jean-Francois Pavros for concerts in Paris or solos work of Marc Blanc knowned as Ame songs during the 80s."

SZAJNER, BERNARD: Some Deaths Take Forever CD (SPA 14545). $16.00

Reissue of the first Bernard Szajner album, originally released by Pathé in France in 1980. Has Magma/Heldon connections (Bernard Paganotti, Klaus Blasquiz appear) and is also considered an influential electronic album, as the following quote attests. Szajner palsys RSF modular synth, Korg vocoder, DB sequencers and electronic percussion. "Among the all time top ten of the famous DJ Carl Craig, one can find Manuel Gottsching's E2E4 as number 9. But his favorite number, the number one, is Some Deaths Take Forever by Bernard Szajner. Bernard was certainly one of the major electronic artists from the seventies. Not only did he produce outstanding, robotic, metronomic, and hypnotic sounds, but he also created one of the first and best laser shows in Europe in the mid-seventies, and these shows were used by Klaus Schulz and AshRa during their tours. Spalax is proud to reissue the works of Bernard Szajner, who took care himself of the remastering."

ZED (BERNARD SZAJNER): Visions Of Dune CD (SPA 14547). $16.00

"Spalax is currently reissuing all the works of Bernard Szajner, one of the major electronic musicians to have emerged in the seventies. One of the first technicians to build and conceive lasershow, he is now today recognized by the most famous DJs as one of their best sources of inspiration. Visions of Dune is his first LP which was originally released under the group name of Zed." "1979 album inspired by the Frank Herbert novel Dune, fills in a few extra pieces of the Szajner puzzle (strategically) left out by Carl Craig. An all star cast (rivaling any Altman movie) were assembled to perform this life-opus (Hahn Rowe on bass, Klaus Blasquiz on treated voice, Colin Swinburne on guitar, Celement Bailly drums, Annanka Raghel on synthesized voice, and Szajner on Oberheim/Arp/laser generators, etc...), which ended up sonically similar to earlier records by Heldon (massive analog-synth-sequences modulating up in whole steps for 10 straight minutes), easily 20 X better than the dreck Toto/Eno wrote for Lynch (too bad synthesizer technology had to go & change so much — for the best, of course, between '79 and '83). Szajner thanks Frank Herbert 'for the visions that he gave me', in fact I'm channeling crystal-clear visions of the Freeman Brothers, locked in their living room with only two weeks worth of pizza rinds as sustenance, wearing matching Darth/Luke masks, fighting over the last remaining quantities of 'spice'. From-fucking-outer-space." — Hrvatski.

CAMIZOLE: CD (SPA 14549). $16.00

"Camizole was co-founder with Etron Fou Leloublan of the collective Dupon et ses Fantomes. In 1977 Camizole was composed of Jacky Dupety (tenor sax, oboe, perc), Jean-Luc Dupety (drums, tuba, trumpet), Francoise Cruble (alto sax, guitar) and Dominique Giamand (sax, guitar, synth)." First ever issue of some live recordings from 1977 (intended for release by Tapioca) by this underground French group with linkage to Etron Fou, Lard Free, Art et Technique, etc. Primitive, at times violent free form flotsom that is quite damaged and freaked out.

RA, SUN: Cosmos CD (SPA 14561). $16.00

First readily available CD reissue of this 1976 album, originally issued on the Cobra label in France (most commonly seen in the US on Inner City). Recorded August of 1976 in the Studio Hautefeuille, Paris. Seven tracks: "The Mystery of Two," "Interstellar Low-Ways," "Neo-Project #2," "Cosmos," "Moonshine Journey," "Journey Among The Stars" & "Jazz From An Unknown Planet". Featuring a core line up of: Ra, Elmo Omoe, Danny Thompson, Marshall Allen, John Gilmore, Danny Davis, James Jackson, Craig Harris, Ahmed Abdullah, Vincent Chancy, Larry Bright & R. Anthony Bunn.

QUAD SAX: Quad Sax 1 CD (SPA 14563). $16.00

"Quad Sax grew out of the group Urban Sax, tending towards a possible re-writing by the composer Gilbert Artman, not to make a 'reduction' but rather to render, in perhaps a clearer manner, the same concept. In effect, each composition is like a puzzle that can put itself together, then mix itself at (some other) interval. Using the acoustic and the electronic at the same time, each participant in this Saxophony of rough brilliance is at once both accompanist and soloist. Improvisation and movement in space make up this particular universe." Quad Sax is: Fred Aquavia (ts, ss), Alain Douchet (bs, as), Sébastien Jallier (as, ss) & Philippe Bollet (bs, as). Performing the works of Gilbert Artman (Lard Free, Urban Sax).

ULBRICH, LUTZ: Lülü CD (SPA 14565). $16.00

"Solo album of the guitarist of Agitation Free and Ash Ra. This album was recorded in 1981 with Christoph Franke of Tangerine Dreams and Nico! Berliner pop/rock sung in German!" Originally issued under the group name Lülü on the GeeBeeDee label in 1981.

WALKER, SCOTT: The Early Ten Years CD (SPA 14566). $16.00

First solo recordings, from the early 60s. The emphasis is on: horrible schmatze and some sort of post-Tin Pan Alley nightmare scenario. If you can't find anything in the Bing Crosby bins anymore, graduate all the way up to this. [last copies, deleted]

MYTHOS: Strange Guys CD (SPA 14570). $16.00

Third album from 1978, more overtly hard rock than their classic self-titled album from '72 or Dreamlab from '75. "Mythos were one of the finest of Berlin bands, yet were unfairly overlooked by most of the media. Maybe this was because of the group's leader Stephan Kaske's most unusual strongly accented vocals, who like Jürgen Dollase of Wallenstein, often came across as a strange Kraut Peter Hammill! Aside from his odd vocals, Stephan was also a highly talented multi-instrumentalist, and a visionary....this era saw a move to a more direct, harder edged rockform, though still uniquely Mythos, with the heavy guitars acting as a foil to Stephan's myriads of synthesizers."

MYTHOS: Concrete City CD (SPA 14571). $16.00

Reissue of their 4th album from 1979, following Strange Guys. Mainstream hard rock flourishes, with prog flute, mellotron and Stephan Kaske's unique vocalizing. This record used to exist and now it exists again, in fact I'm holding it in my hand right now. If you'd like to experience a similar pleasure, please do get in touch.

NEKROPOLIS: Le Culte Des Goules CD (SPA 14572). $13.00

"After having been involved in many Krautrock bands, Peter Frohmader started publishing his own soloworks under the name of Nekropolis. A multi instrumentalist as well as a painter and designer, Peter Frohmader is without any doubt one of the most innovative artists to have emerged on the Munich scene. One of his best works, Le Culte Des Goules is a strange mixing of classical music, rock, and electronic. Dark and powerful." Recorded in 1981 and originally issued on the Nekropolis label. Frohmader is credited on: synthesizers, rhythm composer, fretless bass, 8-string bass, 12-string guitar, percussion, choirs, electronics, sounds.

FROMMADER, PETER: Nekropolis 2 CD (SPA 14573). $13.00

"Nekropolis 2 is another well known piece of Peter Frohmader. It features a super innovative use of basses. It is in the vein of the best Magma works and can also remind of the early King Crimson and Amon Düül." Originally issued in 1982 on the Hasch label.

KÄNGÜRÜ: Kängürü CD (SPA 14574). $13.00

"Kängürü released 2 LP's at the end of the seventies. This album is the first CD reissue of Kängürü, and shows their strong fusion jazz influences. Contains a some really interesting instrumental, funky rock tracks." Originally issued by Marfon in 1981.

ASH RA: Blackouts CD (SPA 14589). $13.00

Reissue of this 1977 album, originally released by Virgin. "Ambient techno pioneer Manuel Gottsching started experimenting ambient guitar sounds and electronic atmospheres a long time before the massive 'E2 E4' recordings of 1981. He recorded this album in 1977 at the Studio Roma in Berlin alone with his sequencer, keyboards and guitar."

ASH RA: Correlations CD (SPA 14590). $13.00

"Correlations was recorded in 1978 by Manuel Gottsching with his Ash Ra mates: Harald Grosskopf (drums, synthesizer) & Lutz Ulbrich (guitar, string synthesizer, piano & mellotron). This album is a lot more groove orientated than the solo works of Manuel Gottsching. The arrangements are crazily modern (Massive Attack wouldn't deny the string arrangements), the sound is 'crystal clean'. Sleeve design by Hipgnosis."

ASH RA: Belle Alliance CD (SPA 14591). $13.00

Reissue of this album originally released by Virgin in 1980. "Recorded in 1979 at the Panne Paulsen studio with Harald Grosskopf and Lutz Ulbrich. Cosmic Krautrock that get sometimes close to cold wave vibrations."

CLEARLIGHT SYMPHONY: CD (SPA 14592). $13.00

Reissue of the first Clearlight album, originally issued by Virgin in 1975 (previous CD edition on Mantra is long deleted) "First album of Cyrille Verdeaux's project called Clearlight Symphony. Clearlight Symphony is composed of members of Gong (Steve Hillage, Tim Blake, Didier Malherbe), Christian Boulé and Gilbert Artman of Lard Free. The music is electronic and symphonic with rich arrangements and deep atmospheres. This album is a top quality illustration of the experiments with electronic music that were going on at the time. Like Tubular Bell, at the time this album and these electronic/symphonic experiments achieved great commercial success."

CLEARLIGHT SYMPHONY: Les Contes Du Singe Fou CD (SPA 14594). $13.00

"3rd album of the Cyrille Verdeaux crew. English lyrics by Ian Bellamy of Zoo. Initially released in '76 in France this album was a nice international success. The line up of Clearlight Symphony on this album includes Didier Lockwood and Tim Blake."

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Grackle Debauch CD (SPA 14596). $13.00

"This CD features great rare live recordings at the Avalon Ballroom (San Francisco), at La Maison (Houston) in 1966 and some tracks from the 1976 concert at the 'Sleeping Lady Café' in Fairfax. Contains comprehensive liner notes and exclusive rare photos." Also features 3 solo Roky tracks, live at the Sleeping Lady Cafe, 1976. A mish-mash of stuff, rather unattractively packaged, in that legendary Spalax half-hearted fashion. Does feature real ghetto graph on the front cover (underneath the word "Debauch" no less), a theoretical first for the Elevators discography.

RABBATH, FRANÇOIS: New Sound of Jazz and first LP CD (SPA 14607). $16.00

"This CD includes two former LPs, one produced by Moshe Naïm and the second one released in 1964 in the USA under the name New Sound of Jazz. But the latter LP was also known later as Bass-Ball. All tracks have been carefully remastered and the CD includes an 8 pages booklet. François Rabbath from Lebanese origin is one the virtuosos of the 'contre-basse'. Mixing jazz as well as classical and folk music, he produces an ethereal, cosmic and beautiful atmosphere."

SEFFER, YOSHK'O: Adama & Bonus Tracks CD (SPA 14611). $16.00

"After years of chaotic catalogue policy, legendary and nutty French producer Moshé Naïm turned to Spalax music to have his amazing 'Emen' catalogue reissued. This CD includes the former LP Adama and about half of another LP known as Ima. It is the first part of a whole work entitled 'Neffesh Music'. Both LPs date back to 1976. All tracks have been carefully remastered and the CD includes an 8 pages booklet. Yochk'o (sometimes spelled Yoschko) Seffer is a saxophonist and clarinetist of Hungarian origin. He became well-known at the beginning of his career as a member of Magma and Zoo."

KESSLER, SIEGFRIED: Man and Animals CD (SPA 14613). $16.00

"Siegfried Kessler played with numerous artists and namely Yochk'o Seffer. Considered as one of the most brilliant pianists of his time, he recorded several albums. Man & Animals is one of his earliest and freshest recordings."

TECA & RICARDO: Volume 1 CD (SPA 14615). $16.00

"Ricardo was born in Rio de Janeiro in Brazil. His career began with the group Memento as a singer, composer and guitarist. He then worked during many years as a musical director for the biggest Brazilian TV channel. The political turmoil which occurred at that time in his country lead him to live in France from 1970 as a student and political exile. He formed a duet with Teca and was introduced to the French audience thanks to the famous French singer Claude Nougaro. They recorded many successful albums. Having been amnestied in the beginning of the eighties, he has been spending time between France and Brazil among tours in other regions of the world."

WAKAN TANKA: Authentic Music Of the American Indian 3CD (SPA 14706). $50.00

The first ever box set of authentic American music is this 3CD set including a 16 page booklet and an authentic American Indian charm. The 3 albums are: The Spirit Of Wakan Tanka: a collection of songs from familiar American Indian artists such as Bryan Akiya, Joseph Fire Crow, Andrew Vasquez & the Goodhouse Family; The Fort Yates Singers & The White Cloud Sioux Singers ("the last work of respected Sioux singer Jerry White Cloud, a singer of old style plains tribal singing").

VA: 1968-1998: 30 Years of Musical Insurrection in France 3CD (SPA 14711). $50.00

A three CD box with excellent 56 page booklet dedicated to the music of France that was initially fueled by the Revolt of '68, with one CD dedicated to each decade since. Some material is commonly available, much of it is not; the first CD covers the seventies (1969-77) and features some pretty mind-blowing stuff from the peak years of free-rock cacophony. The 1st CD features the following (an * indicates previously unreleased material, or least unavailable on CD): Jacques Dudon (*, classic freak out guitar mania from '69), Red Noise, Ame Son(*), Gong, Dashiell Hedayat, Catharsis, Contrepoint (*, primitive free jazz), Lard Free, Dagon(*, great progressive psych from 1972 by this undocumented & legendary group), Fille Qui Mousse (*, live track from 72!), Mahogany Brain, Majhun(*), Jac Berrocal & Musik Ensemble (*, brilliant space-improv alternate take from his debut album for Futura in 1973), Schizo (*, pre-Heldon group featuring Richard Pinhas, doing an early 7"-only version of 'Le Voyageur' — historic psychedelic rock with spoken text by Gilles Deleuze), Oedipe (*, undocumented Canterbury style from '76)& Metal Urbain. The 2nd CD covers the eighties (1977-90) and a significant New Wave cadence starts to abound, featuring: Camizole (*, pretty wild associated of Etron Fou), Heldon(*, live from '78), Le Grand Nébuleux et ses Laveurs de Consciences (*, crazy electric jazz fusion from '78), Etron Fou, At et Technique (*), Jean-Marc Foussat (*, strange improv from '81), Vidéo Aventures, Kas Product, Fall of Saigon (*, YMG-ish synth pop pleasure from '81), Les I (*), Tanit (*), Pascal Comelade (*), Clair Obscure, Dazibao(*), Alto Bruit (*), Cosmic Wurst & Catalogue (*, live from '90). The third CD covers the nineties (1991-97) — some okay stuff and some rather dire industrial rock material as well — and features: Urban Sax, Jacques Dudon, M.K.B., Corman et Tuscadu, Francois Robert Lloyd, Vox Populi (*), Ulan Bator, Prime Time Victim Show, Alpes Patrice Mouillet, Atta Sexden, Cape Fear, Ashtray Hearts, Viellistic Orchestra, Nicrik, Jean-Francoise Pouvros(*), Osaka Bondage (*), Sun Plexus (*).

ASH RA: Blackout LP (SPA 14759LP). $17.00

"Ambient techno pioneer Manuel Gottsching started experimenting ambient guitar sounds and electronic atmospheres a long time before the massive 'E2 - E4' recordings of 1981. He recorded this album in 1977 at the Studio Roma in Berlin alone with his sequencer, keyboards and guitar."

ASH RA: Correlations LP (SPA 14760). $17.00

ASH RA: Belle Alliance LP (SPA 14761 LP). $17.00

"Recorded in 1979 at the Panne Paulsen studio by Manuel Gottsching, with Harald Grosskopf and Lutz Ulbrich. Cosmic Krautrock that get sometimes close to cold wave vibrations."

ASH RA TEMPEL: Schwingungen LP (SPA 14762). $17.00

First vinyl reissue of this 2nd Ash Ra Tempel album from 1972. Another stoned psych masterwork, with a beautiful spaced vibe, developing over 2 side-long tracks. A trio of Manuel Gottsching (guitar, organ, electronics), Hartmut Enke (guitar, bass, electronics) and Wolfgang Muller (drums, vibes). Klaus Schulze had gone solo by this point and was no longer a member (replaced by Muller), but it was no huge loss. The mixture of electronics and psychedelic rock was perfectly realized. One of the quintessential German underground rock records of the 70s.

RA, SUN: Cosmos LP (SPA 14763). $17.00

LP reissue, recorded August of 1976 in the Studio Hautefeuille, Paris. Cosmos is Sun Ra's philosophy embedded in plastic, courtesy of Inner City Records. It is an unprecedented look at the inner and outer worlds of sound; a magic mixture of the exotic and the mundane, the supernatural and the material, the solar wind beating against the rings of Saturn and the gentle spring breeze blowing a nearby oak tree. If nothing else, it is a voyage. To the stars. To the cosmos. To the edge of the universe. Beyond the unknown."

RAS MIDAS: Stand Up CD (SPA 14806). $16.00

1993 album, limited stock.

NINEY THE OBSERVER: Volume 1 CD (SPA 14807). $16.00

Tracks produced and arranged by Niney Holness (1970-74). Limited stock.

ALPES-PATRICE MOULLET: Rock Sous La Dalle CD (SPA 14809). $16.00

Moulet led Catherine Ribeiro's classic backing band Alpes during their heyday (see numerous Mantra reissues), and then branched off with his invented sound-sculpture instruments into post-new age territories as documented on a couple of albums, including this CD from 1993. Prog-derived minimalist compositions, not abstract experimentalism.

AMON DÜÜL II: Surrounded by the Bars CD (SPA 14810). $16.00

Unexplained compilation of 1993 remixes of classic Amon Duul II material (off of Yeti through Carnival; not wildly variant), plus a couple rerecordings of old songs by a 1993 version of the band (Renate still sounds in form, but the contemporary arrangements leave much to be desired).

ANNEXUS QUAM: Beziehungen CD (SPA 14811). $16.00

Annexus Quam were one of the real screwy avant-what-the-fuck bands lost in the haze of the early days of the OHR label. They released two albums from '71/'72, this being the second (following Osmose). In a curious fashion they mixed elements of floating space rock (guitars, zither, flute, etc.) with avant-jazz sax input. More odd than purely great, but an interesting sidebar to the OHR label.

GONG: Magick Brother CD (SPA 14812). $16.00

Recorded in 1969 and originally released on the legendary French BYG label, this CD reissue beautifully replicates the original's artwork on a nice fold-out digipak and thankfully rescues this work into public visibility. Led by David Allen and Gilli Smyth, Gong's debut album presented their spiked vision of "The Kingdom of the Pothead Pixies" into truly illustrious fashion. The spiritual heirs to the fractured throne of Syd's Pink Floyd, this is space-whisperer genius from the peak days of the psychedelic dream.

SMYTH, GILLI: Fairy Tales CD (SPA 14813). $16.00

Gilli Smyth's space whispering solo forays.

DUNBAR RETALIATION, AYNISLEY: Blue Whale CD (SPA 14814). $16.00

"The drummer of the Mothers of Inventions with Paul Williams at vocals. A jazz-blues-psychedelic album, with a great cover of 'Willie The Pimp' (Zappa/Beefheart). It just sounds like an apocalyptic live."

ARESKI & BRIGITTE FONTAINE: L'Incendie CD (SPA 14815). $16.00

Repressed, new cover artwork. "L'Incendie is the first collaboration between Areski and Brigitte Fontaine. It's an exceptional album for BYG records. In a perfect symbiosis with Brigitte Fontaine's magnificent voice and surrealist texts, Areski creates a minimalist 'ethno-folk acoustic universe.' In the uniquely French "dark chanteuse" genre, this is a classic. Originally released in 1974.

SOFT MACHINE: Jet Propelled CD (SPA 14816). $16.00

Umpteenth reissue of the original Soft Machine demos, recorded in London, 1967 by Giorgio Gomelsky. This is the complete 9 track session, which along with their first single, mark the band's only documentation with this superstar lineup: David Allen (lead guitar), Robert Wyatt (vocals/drums), Mike Ratledge (piano, organ) and Kevin Ayers (bass, vocals). While this will never come close to living up to the expectations of such a line up, it's a curious listen at least.

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: The Psychedelic Sounds Of CD (SPA 14819). $16.00

Classic debut album from 1966.

AMON DÜÜL UK: Meetings With Menmachines CD (SPA 14820). $16.00

The 2nd album from Amon Duul UK, recorded in 1982. Rather horrendous mainstream rock with a New Wave tinge, slightly rougher than the Go Go's (mid-period, of course).

COEUR MAGIQUE: Wakan Tanka CD (SPA 14822). $16.00

Reissue of an early-70s French rock album, first issued by BYG. "The guitarist Claude Olmos's band (ex-Alan Jack Civilization, Alice & Doccail) embarked into the world of progressive rock. Based upon the beat of percussions, propelled by the inventive Didier Lesage's bass and Laurent Marino's drums. Coeur Magique infolob a powerful sound magnified by Harry Seur's voices and Claud Olmos' long and wild solos. His rhythms are directly connected to the world of West-Indian progressive music."

AME SON: Catalyse CD (SPA 14823). $16.00

Reissue of the original 1970 album on the BYG label (one of the label's few entries in the rock field), and a classic period piece, like Gong at their heaviest. "Ame Son is the pioneer group of French Underground born at the end of the 60s. The band is made up to two former members of Banana Moon, Daevid Allen's band on his arrival in France in 1967. Their music was harsh and scathing with vocals in both French & English, sometime with an outside layer of 'formal beauty', rapidly devastated by strident, unnerving guitar distortions and enraged flute sounds."

ALLEN, DAEVID: Now is The Happiest Time of Your Life CD (SPA 14825). $16.00

Low-key and largely acoustic solo album from 1977; his 2nd post-Gong and a strong minor classic.

GONG: Camembert Electrique CD (SPA 14826). $16.00

Gong's first proper studio album, if you consider Magick Brother as a Daevid Allen/Gilli Smyth album, and the great Continental Circus as merely a soundtrack. Recorded in 1971, along with the aforementioned titles this is classic first phase Gong. "In many way, Camembert epitomizes the early Gong, i.e. stoned loonies having a great time, who also happened to be excellent musicians. It's full of raw energy, more tape loops, space-whisper and glissando guitar."—John Platt.

NATIONAL HEALTH: CD (SPA 14827). $16.00

Self titled debut first issued in the UK in 1978; featuring Dave Stewart, Phil Miller, Pip Pyle, Alan Gowan, etc. "This is an album which shows a band on the verge of discovery of a truly unique sound. This is an important chapter of the Canterbury progressive tale and also an enlightening forerunner to their brilliant follow-up release Of Queues And Cures."

GONG: Floating Anarchy CD (SPA 14829). $16.00

Last recorded performance of the original Gong, with D. Allen & Gilli Smyth, at the end of the Virgin period.

NATIONAL HEALTH: Of Queues And Cures CD (SPA 14830). $16.00

Legendary Canterbury group, composed of musicians from Gilgamesh, Gong, Henry Cow, Soft Machine, etc., led by Dave Stewart (also appearing: John Greaves, Phil Miller, Pip Pyle, Peter Blegvad, Phil Minton, Georgie Born, etc.). Their 2nd album, from 1978.

NEW YORK GONG: About Time CD (SPA 14832). $16.00

Recorded in 1979 when Allen moved to NY to escape Gilli Smyth; he played with a group including Bill Laswell, Fred Maher & Mark Kramer. The sound is pretty goddamn New Wave.

GONG: Angel's Egg CD (SPA 14833). $16.00

Second installment of the Radio Gnome Invisible trilogy, recorded in 1973. Hillage's acid-tongued guitar starts to dominate, but not to bad effect and this is still a good one.

GONG: You CD (SPA 14834). $16.00

Third installment of the Radio Gnome Invisible trilogy, and the final proper Gong album to feature Daevid Allen (the band would continue on, in a markedly different direction led by Pierre Moerlen). This album has less outright Allen weirdness, but plenty of heavyish space-jamming via Blake & Hillage and a good celestial psych feel for the period (1974).

ALLEN, DAEVID: Dividedalienplaybox80 CD (SPA 14837). $16.00

"The disturbed Daevid Allen in a strong electronic trip. Surprising from the Gong's master, but definitely furious. To associate with the New York Allen's period with Bill Laswell and Material. Wild, surprising and great." Also very "new wave" but why would they want to mention that?

GILGAMESH: Another Fine Tune You've Got Me Into CD (SPA 14838). $16.00

"A fine jazzy progressive album," featuring Hugh Hopper, Elton Dean, Alan Gowen, Phil Lee & Trevor Tomkins. [deleted, last copies]

SOFT HEAP: CD (SPA 14839). $16.00

"Solo adventures from the Soft Machine's Hugh Hopper & Elton Dean, associated to Pip Pyle and Allen Goven. This is avant-garde melodic jazz with great musicians. Not so far from John Zorn at some moments. A very good but forgotten record." From 1979.

DREAMWORLD: On Flight To The Light CD (SPA 14841). $16.00

"Formerly known as Yatha Sidhra, brothers Rolf and Klaus Fichter make-up the duo Dreamworld. On Flight... was entirely arranged, composed and performed by these two multi-instrumentalists, and was originally released in 1980. It's an album of meditative music which takes you to a higher level..." A relatively light-weight work, but a curiosity in the late Krautrock picture.

AMON DÜÜL: Experimente CD (SPA 14842). $16.00

Spalax have also issued the 5 albums by Amon Duul 1, a mere few months after the Japanese Captain Trip label versions. There's not a whole lot of difference between the two that I can see, but in response CT has lowered their price, making theirs cheaper. Fifth and final album of leftover extracts of the '68/69 sessions, as first issued in '84.

ALLEN, DAEVID: Opium For The People/Allen In NY CD (SPA 14844). $16.00

Two-fer reissue of 2 EPs: 1978's Opium and 1983's Allen... (the later featuring Kramer, Carney, Laswell, Maher, etc.).

INNER CITY UNIT: New Anatomy CD (SPA 14845). $16.00

Spalax initiates a dubious licensing plan from the UK label Demi Monde with these next few. Inner City Unit were a side project of Hawkwind member Nik Turner, this being their 4th album or so, from 1985. Rocking wave nonsense, to be avoided.

HAWKWIND: Bring Me The Head Of Yuri Gagarin CD (SPA 14846). $16.00

Live at the Wembley Arena, London 1973, with the core line up of Calvert, Brock, Lemmy, Mik, etc. Sound quality is in the "dissonant archive" style and the packaging "L'asshole generique".

VAN DER GRAAF GENERATOR: Time Vaults CD (SPA 14847). $16.00

"VDGG were made up of Peter Hamill, Hugh Banton & Guy Evans and originally came from Manchester. Formed at the end of the 60s, they enjoyed cult success in the early and late 70s. Time Vaults includes a collection of demos and rehearsal tapes from the band's dormant era between 1971 and 1975."

AMON DÜÜL UK: Hawk Meets Penguin CD (SPA 14848). $16.00

"...was originally released in 1981, with a line up that included John Weinzierl, Robert Calvert (lyricist of Hawkwind) and Dave Anderson. In this period the band is often called Amon Duul (UK)." Long tracks of improvised rock, this is much better than some of the dire late 70s stuff and probably quite underrated due to its mis-association with some of the lamer, more mainstream ADII stuff.

TANGERINE: Memoire CD (SPA 14855). $16.00

2nd album from 1976. Valery Btsh's voice is gone, and the sound is more electrified folk-rock.

TANGERINE: De L'Autre Cote De La Foret CD (SPA 14856). $16.00

"A French folk-progressive excellent French band. They are usually compared to Byrds or Jefferson Airplane, It's a Beautiful Day... so, a West Coast influenced band, but deeply French, with magnificent Valery Btsh (voice & lyrics), and some flying flute." This is their first album, from 1975; an interesting mixture of the chanteuse movement and ethereal-folk. To my ears this hints at many more lip suction possibilities than the often horribly over-hyped UK equivalents from the same era; great stuff.

BTESH & POLLEN, VALERY: Reves Cristal CD (SPA 14857). $16.00

1977 solo album from the vocalist heard on the first Tangerine album. Seventies folk-rock somewhat comparable to a more low-key version of mid-period Curved Air. A lot of excessive breathy moan-extensions from Valery (I'd pay to read Richard Meltzer's translation) that somehow touch a certain "spot" (almost) just right; not for everyone, but I'll play it again.

CLUSTER: II CD (SPA 14864). $16.00

Cluster were key members during the formative years of the Krautrock movement. They initially released 2 LPs in '69/70 with the Kluster spelling that are amongst the earliest Teutonic pulse masterworks. Their first album with a "C" spelling was the s/t LP on Philips (currently o/p as a CD on Sky), before they moved over to the Brain label. This is their first of 2 for that label, from 1972, and is a great, confused space classic by this duo (Roedelius & Moebius). Utilizing primitive synthesizer whirrs, hypnotic guitar/bass patterns, etc. The 12-minute "Im Süden" is especially masterful.

CLUSTER: Zuckerzeit CD (SPA 14865). $16.00

The 2nd Cluster album for Brain didn't come out until 1978, as a reunion of sorts for Roedelius & Moebius after a few years of working with M. Rother as Harmonia. The synthetics are less primitive and more serenely crafted, but this is still a fine insight into the later pulse-ticking mechanics of the scene.

YATHA SIDHRA: A Meditation Mass CD (SPA 14866). $16.00

Digipak issue (minus the die-cut sleeve found on the previous Laser's Edge edition). Originally issued on Brain in 1974, this is floaty, atmospheric Krautrock; one 40 minute track. Once described by Ken Golden as follows: "Acid-drenched guitar, flute, keyboards, tablas and distant echoed vocals entangle into a psychedelic symphony...a guaranteed must for fans of early Ash Ra Tempel, Popol Vuh and Agitation Free." There is a bit of second tier Krautrock feel to it, but the phased out spaciness has simmered through and I've grown to like this quite a bit more than my limited scope first impression led me to believe.

SAMETI: CD (SPA 14867). $16.00

Reissue of 1st album by this German group from 1972 (originally on Brain). With connections to Embryo and Amon Duul II, this is pretty cool twin guitar heavy dunt rock, with a 22 minute improv blast at the end that wouldn't be out of place on Dance of the Lemmings.

WALLENSTEIN: Cosmic Century CD (SPA 14872). $16.00

3rd album from 1973. They now call themselves "The Symphonic Rock Orchestra." Does include notable track "The Cosmic Couriers Meet South Philly Willy."

AMON DÜÜL II: Utopia CD (SPA 14878). $16.00

Well, this was originally released under the group name Utopia, but Spalax doesn't have a lot of shame in these matters. Utopia was a one-off group who produced this lone album in 1972. Various members of Amon Duul II (like vocalist Renate Knaup) do appear, along with Embryo & Ash Ra members, and it's a fine hard-ish psych-rock record from the period, in similar style to Amon Duul's 3rd to 6th albums.

MYTHOS: CD (SPA 14879). $16.00

Mythos were one of the lesser known Krautrock bands, who had the 19th record on the original OHR label discography, reissued here. It's from 1971, and features dreamy psych/folk/prog landscapes draped over 5 tracks. There are many cosmic charms to be had here and it's really one of the lost nuggets of the scene. "The Oriental Journey" is a monster mid-east influenced trance-mock-opera song.

EMTIDI: Saat CD (SPA 14880). $16.00

Just lovely acid-folk rock from Germany, 1972 (originally issued on Pilz). A male/female duo, who played guitars, organ, piano, & more to truly intoxicating effect, a long time favorite of those interested in the more spaced/tranced corner of the German underground.

ANNEXUS QUAM: Osmose CD (SPA 14881). $16.00

Reissue of the first Annexus Quam album, originally issued on OHR Germany in 1970. This is an utter classic space-jammer in early OHR style, but perhaps more improv-oriented & wasted than other releases on the label from 1970 (like debuts by Guru Guru, Tangerine Dream, Embryo, Limbus 4). Long trance-out tracks of a mostly instrumental nature, but with moaned/stoned voices weaved into the mix on occasion.

BROSELMASCHINE: CD (SPA 14882). $16.00

"Reissue of the 1971 album by this German semi progressive, semi folk group from the '70s. Soft guitars, mystical vocals with an occasional oriental flavor." This is a personal favorite and probably one of the more inspired records in the 2nd tier of German underground stuff (originally on OHR), nice flowing work, in a legitimate acid-folk style (but lacking some of the traditional stylings that can be oppressive on English records); excellent male/female vocals, tablas, sitar, mellotron, flute, etc., and stunning yet lo-key guitar work.

GOLOWIN, SERGIUS: Lord Krishna Vol Goloka CD (SPA 14883). $16.00

The final part of the Cosmic Jokers puzzle to be issued on CD, at last. Always an extremely rare LP (originally the 2nd release on Kosmiche Musik in 1973), this has got to be one of the most feverishly desired reissues of this or any year. Golowin's cosmic voice wafts across a backing of surging space-electronic psych, as performed by the in-house crew of Klaus Schulze, Walter Westrupp, Bernd Witthuser, Jerry Berkers, Jurgen Dollase & Jorge Mierke. An essential blast.

COSMIC JOKERS: Sci Fi Party CD (SPA 14884). $16.00

The official hype on this one, "Probably the best album of the Cosmic Jokers. The original LP came out in 1974. A revolutionary album; they were among the first to combine the techniques of dub and sampling. Klaus Schulze also stars on this album," neglects to mention that this is a compilation of mostly, or all, otherwise available material, in extract form. A nascent "remix" album of sorts, with stuff off of the C. Jokers' Galactic Supermarket, Zeitschiff & Planeten Sit-In, as well as Ash Ra's Seven Up, Starring Rosi and Wallenstein's Cosmic Century.

COSMIC JOKERS: Gilles Zeitschiff CD (SPA 14885). $16.00

Digipak edition of "My Spaceship," first released in 1974. An odd/confusing concept record, this is a tribute of sorts to the real Cosmic Couriers, especially Mr. Timothy Leary (also Brian Barritt & Walter Wegmüller). Klaus Schulze whips up some tripped out celestial organ backings, the erotic space-whisper of Gille Lettmann rants on about the gentlemen in question, and then excerpts from records (like Tim's album with Ash Ra Tempel, Seven Up), are segued in! Gottsching and other Couriers also appear. This is a good listen, a good laugh and definitely worth it for semi-competitists; others should start with Galactic Supermarket or the CJ's self-titled first.

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Bull Of The Woods CD (SPA 14886). $16.00

Digipak edition of 3rd and final studio album for the original Elevators, from 1969. More dominated by Stacy Sutherland's songs than ever before, this is a subtly-tranced masterpiece of lo-key psychedelics, and cruelly neglected in today's "private-pressing = god = $ = my ass" universe.

RED CRAYOLA: The Parable Of Arable Land CD (SPA 14887). $16.00

The incredible free form freak-out debut album from 1967 by Mayo Thompson and crew.

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Easter Everywhere CD (SPA 14888). $16.00

Nice looking digipak reissue of all-time classic 2nd album from 1967. Of course there is a much cheaper and accessible version of this album out in the US on the excruciatingly ugly Collectables label, but if you'd like to hold something a bit nicer, there is this version.

FLOH DE COLOGNE: Profit Geier CD (SPA 14891). $16.00

Reissue of the 3rd album by this German outfit, originally issued in 1971 on OHR. Another difficult listen. "Outrageous and purely innovative, Floh De Cologne, since their inception in 1966 as a student cabaret and music band, constantly surprised, puzzled and always deliberately broke convention. Their elaborate stage shows, socio-political theatrical productions and pure musical innovation lead to obvious comparisons with the similarly radical Mothers of Invention. Yet, while the Mothers were chiefly the vehicle of one musician, Floh De Cologne were a collective unit of creative musicians and actors, who continually dared to take chance, provoke and surprise their audiences via a blend of rock, satire and theatre. In this album, they aptly developed a more rock song based formula, and were also in a more aggressive mood."

PAUVROS/SESUKO CHIBA, JEAN-FRANCOIS: Mango Man Go CD (SPA 14896). $16.00

"Often compared to Fred Frith and Jimi Hendrix, JF Pauvros is well-known for his contributions to avant garde. He is joined here by Setsuko Chiba, an innovative Japanese poet...the result of the meeting of these two musical minds is stunning, with Pauvros' accompaniment skillfully complementing Sesuko's voice as she reads her thought-provoking compositions...simply spiritual." A nicely developing contemporary recording, parts of which wouldn't be out of place on United Dairies or something.

RED CRAYOLA: God Bless the Red Crayola And All Who Sail With It CD (SPA 14898). $16.00

2nd album, from 1968.

WEGMÜLLER, WALTER: Tarot 2CD (SPA 14900). $24.00

Long deleted in the elaborate box set version with its unique Tarot cards, here is the regular priced double CD version of this Krautrock all-time classic. Originally issued on the OHR subsidiary label Kosmiche in 1973. Wegmüller was a gypsy painter who had designed a 78 card Tarot set; the music, spread out over 2 CDs is performed by what is essentially the first version of the Cosmic Jokers: Manuel Gottsching, Hartmut Enke, Harald Grosskopf, Jürgen Dollase, Jerry Berkens & Walter Westrupp. Produced by Rolf-Ulrich Kaiser & Gille, with guest appearance by Dieter Dirks and Rosi. The music is classic space-out Krautrock (ala early Ash Ra or C. Jokers), with 22 tracks dedicated in concept to the Major Arcana cards in the Tarot set. "Tarot" is a major German electronic music piece composed and directed by Walter Wegmüller and played by the Cosmic Jokers. In the past it was available in a limited boxset coming with the Tarot game designed by Walter Wegmüller. As it is sold out since over 3 years, it was time to re release it as a double CD with the original 16 pages leaflet."

PELL MELL: Rhapsody CD (SPA 14901). $16.00

"Pell Mell were formed in Marburg in 1971. Their third album, Rhapsody was released in 1976. Synthesizers and longer passages of classical guitar were introduced, resulting in a complex symphonic sound comparable to Triumvirat. For 50% of the album, they used themes of Liszt and Rachmaninoff."

MAHJUN: Happy French Band CD (SPA 14903). $16.00

This French group started out under the spelling of Maajun and their debut album from 1971 is supposed to be a bit of a classic in a mixture of early underground styles. It's not on CD however. They changed the spelling of the name and a released a couple of albums for Saravah in '73/'74 and then this last album in 1977 (on Gratte Ciel). There's a post-Zappa influence involved and they supposedly "melded Arab, Free, and folk influences, doling out derision through satirical lyrics and music which parodied popular tunes."

COSMIC JOKERS: Planeten Sit-In CD (SPA 14904). $16.00

Fifth and final Cosmic Joker's reissue, from 1974. Klaus Schulze, Manuel Gottsching, Dieter Dirks, Harald Grosskopf, Jürgen Dollase, etc. Best of the CJ's "remix" albums, and a pretty tripped out affair.

REYES, JORGE: Prehispanic CD (SPA 14907). $16.00

"Authentic Precolumbian music" on a new Spalax subsidiary label, Prehispanic. Mexican composer Reyes has recorded numerous ethno-experimental works for a variety of labels; these CDs are licenses of some of his own Mexican releases. "This collection of music composed by Jorge Reyes takes you back to the time of the tribes who lived in Mesoamerica before the Spanish populated it. A whole family of unique instruments were used to recreate the sound. With full background descriptions and a key to the instruments, this collection contains the magic, mystery and beauty of the prehispanic peoples, and their rituals and the forgotten spirits." Using clay flutes, rain sticks, ocarina, pots, drums, rattles, wind whistle, Mayan water drum, bamboo, fossil stones, sea shells, etc., Reyes aims for a musical experience of feverish, hallucinogenic heights.

REYES, JORGE: Forgotten Spirits CD (SPA 14908). $16.00

2nd volume in this Reyes reissue series. All music composed and performed by Reyes, recorded by Steve Roach.

REYES, JORGE: Rituals CD (SPA 14909). $16.00

"This recording contains the magic, the mystery and the beauty of the peoples that formed the culture of Mexico. These recreations of the ancient music have a single goal: to call your attention to a type of musical conception whose antiquity does not obliterate the wisdom with which it was created."

ART & TECHNIQUE: Clima-x CD (SPA 14914). $16.00

Reissue of an obscure French electronic album from 1981, originally issued on Hi-Tec Records. Includes a previously unissued 23-minute live track, which reminds one of Throbbing Gristle in parts. Murky instrumental analog synth tracks that have their appeal, song-like structure but nowhere near as pounding as Metal Urbain. "The music of Art et Technique is influenced by visually, sonically and sensually by the world of purring refrigerators and internal combustion engine. But it wasn't a case of imitation or sublimation: 'We only use this type of new sounds, as yet unexploited, which one can shape and refine, rhythmically or otherwise: these are new sonic landscapes. Our world of poets must situate itself in them.'"

LARD FREE: Unnamed CD (SPA 14915). $16.00

Reissue of a largely unknown recording, featuring a sprawling free-music version of this legendary group. Features Gilbert Artman (drums) and Robert Wood (vibraphone), plus guitar, tenor sax, clarinet, organ, bass, etc. "Completes our discography of the band. Their first work, recorded between 1971 and '72, this will be the first opportunity for fans to hear it with CD quality. This record is a testimony to the group's amazing skills (even at that early stage), notably those of figurehead Gilbert Artman."

BERKERS, JERRY: Unterwegs CD (SPA 14917). $16.00

One and only solo album by the Wallenstein/Cosmic Joker bass player, originally issued on the Pilz label, 1972 as their next to last release. Backed up by Wallenstein's Jürgen Dollase & Bill Barone, Dieter Dierks, Westrupp & Witthuser, etc., Berkens plays acoustic & electric guitars and sings lead. It's a pretty mixed bag of short, vaguely progged rock songs, sometimes getting into a heavyish German-like version of Crazy Horse. Hardly essential, but the good tracks are decent enough for Krautrock completists I suppose, and "better" than Wallenstein as a general rule.

FLOH DE COLOGNE: Geyer-Symphonie CD (SPA 14918). $16.00

Fourth album from this German group, originally issued on OHR in 1972. Some sort of crazy German political rock opera that can be quite a strain to listen to with, considering all the spoken German texts. Music seems totally secondary, with non-arresting blasts of hardish rock, jazz rock, etc. Mostly of interest to OHR completists.

CATALOGUE: Insomnie CD (SPA 14920). $16.00

2nd album from 1987 by this French trio made up Gilbert Artman (post-Lard Free, Urban Sax), Jac Berrocol and Jean-Francois Pauvros. Chaotic, experimental rock & wave.

SCHULZE, KLAUS: Cyborg 2CD (SPA 14922). $30.00

Second solo album from 1973 (originally issued on Kosmiche Musik), this found Schulze recording with a Cosmic Orchestra (12 cellos, 3 basses, 30 violins, 4 flutes) to create a massively hypnotic sound. Four "side-long" pieces, and another essential item.

SCHULZE, KLAUS: Picture Music CD (SPA 14923). $16.00

Third space-classic solo album, from 1973 (originally issued on Brain), using only banks of synthesizers and organ. After this album Klaus continued to record with the Brain (and eventually Virgin) labels and released many, many more albums. Where the line should be drawn is hard to clarify, but these 3 are genius.

FREEDOM: Freedom At Last CD (SPA 14927). $16.00

1969 bluesy hard rock guitar trio, originally issued on BYG (one of the few "rock" albums in the original Actuel series). Rather bland.

SPACECRAFT: Paradoxe CD (SPA 14928). $16.00

"This is the French Cluster! A 1977 private pressing by a fantastic experimental duo: Yvan Coaquette (guitar) from Musica Elettronica Viva (happening avant-garde band on BYG) and later Fondation, and John Livengood (machines), member of the legendary French-underground band Red Noise. This is a pure ambient-experimental music."

SPACE ART: Onyx CD (SPA 14933). $16.00

Reissue of the first Space Art album from 1976. "Founded by Didier Marouani, Space Art appeared on the French scene in the late 70s, during the advent of disco and the worldwide success of electro-wizard, Jean-Michel Jarre. The group's music treads a fine line between pure electronic disco and a more melodic electronic style."

SPACE ART: Trip In The Center Head CD (SPA 14934). $16.00

The band's 2nd album, originally issued in 1978. Excessively cheesy in the style mentioned.

ALLEN, DAEVID: Bananamoon CD (SPA 14945). $16.00

Reissue of the classic 1970 BYG album. With Robert Wyatt, Pip Pyle, Gary Wright, Maggie Bell, Archie Leggett, etc.

AMON DÜÜL: Para Dieswarts Duul CD (SPA 14946). $16.00

The all-time folk-psych classic; issued here with the same bonus 7" tracks as the C. Trip version. On this one you have a choice of packaging — digipak or regular jewel case. Please mention the catalogue # to choose the desired format. This one is the digipak version.

AMON DÜÜL: Psychedelic Underground CD (SPA 14947). $16.00

Classic debut album, from 1969.

AMON DÜÜL: Disaster CD (SPA 14948). $16.00

Fourth album.

AMON DÜÜL: Collapsing — Singvogel Rückwärts & Co CD (SPA 14949). $16.00

The 2nd Amon Duul I album, of 1969 recordings. This is one that did not come out on Captain Trip, and hence the most in-demand of the Spalax issues. Short, spectacular trance-out blasts in a similar vein to Disaster.

AMON DÜÜL: Para Dieswarts Duul CD (SPA 14950). $16.00

Jewel box edition.

CATALOGUE: Antwerpen Live CD (SPA 14966). $16.00

Reissue of an obscure LP by an early quintet version of this group, recorded live in Belgium, 8/11/79: Jac Berrocol (tp, voice, trombone), Jean-Francois Pauvros (guitar), Patrick Prado (sax, harmonium, voice), Michel Potage (voice, guitar, plastic saxophone), Jean-Pierre Arnoux (drums). Outstanding free-rock cacophony, much more wasted than their later efforts (the Hat Hut box or Insomnie), and a thrill to hear.

THEM: Shut Your Mouth CD (SPA 14967). $16.00

Meaningless post-Van Morrison blues-rock excursion from 1979.

MUSICA ELETTRONICA VIVA: The Sound Pool CD (SPA 14969). $16.00

Reissue of the other MEV album on BYG, their first for the label, originally issued in France in 1969 and a very desirable item for quite some time. A live recording from May of 1969 featuring a free-form ensemble of: Constance Abernathy, Michel Asso, Bert, Michael Blake, Barbara Bryant, Carius, Franco Cataldi, Ivan & Patricia Coaquette, Alvin Curran, Chaia Gerstein, Jeff Levine, Jean-Marie Poirer, Frédéric & Nicole Rzewski, Richard Teitelbaum, and the audience. A screaming maelstrom of freedom blare, raw and relentless. Rattled percussion, reed blattage all over the place and total sonic pandemonium are just some of the features on this historic avant-noise document. [The sleeve incorrectly lists just 2 tracks with a length of about 12 minutes; it's really 4 tracks at about 41 minutes.]

VIDÉO AVENTURES: Musiques Pour Garçons et Filles CD (SPA 14970). $16.00

Reissue of their debut 10" EP which was first issued in 1979 on Recommended. Featuring members Monique Alba and Dominique Grimaud, as well as guests Guigou Chenevier (Etron Fou) and Gilbert Artman (Lard Free, Urban Sax, Catalogue), this 2nd Vidéo Aventures CD continues the resurgence of this strange and exotic experimental French group. Utilizing waves of synthesizers, steel guitar, percussion and more, this is a fine collection of pulsating geometry. "This re-release also contains 10 other Vidéo Aventures rarities which span the whole of the group's recording career, from their first rehearsals to their last dabbings."

ALPES-PATRICE MOULLET: En Attendant Noe CD (SPA 14971). $16.00

Third solo album by Moullet, who led Catherine Ribeiro's backup group in the 70s. Recorded in 1996 at Moullet's famous Alpes Studio in Paris, largely featuring his invented instrument "Percuphone No. 5", which is a manual electromechanic instrument dedicated to the principal of polyphonic improvisation, allowing him to trigger up to 48 samples simultaneously. The resultant music however is more aligned to the peripheries of progressive/new age than experimental sound sculpture, and only of secondary interest.

HAWKWIND: Masters Of The Universe CD (SPA 14972). $16.00

"...a compilation of some of the group's best material." Yes, Hawkwind recorded many great tracks, a number of which are presented here (in what appears to be rather tapedeteriorating form). That doesn't really answer the question, "why does this CD exist?"

AGITATION FREE: Fragments CD (SPA 14975). $16.00

Recorded in Berlin, 11/14/74 as their "final reunion" a loose jamming session featuring various members of the groups different periods: Christoph Franke, Michael Hoenig, Lutz Ulbrich, etc. Not issued at the time, although an CD Rom version came out in Germany last year on Musique Intemporelle. Great extended psych and a fine addition to their small discography...dare I mention that there's a vague Dead-at-their-most-peaked/wasted aroma to this thing? Pretty great.

EK TUNKUL: CD (SPA 14977). $16.00

"The first album of prehispanic music recorded by Jorge Reyes. All the musique was composed and arranged by him, and both traditional and modern instruments were used to create a sound which is described as 'ethno-rock'." Mexican-based Reyes, who refers to his music as "contemporary Mexican", has released a long series of albums based on his research of the ancient instruments and musical styles of his country.

MORRICONE/BRUNO NICOLAI, ENNIO: Il Sorriso Del Grande Tenatore CD (SPA 14983). $16.00

New series of Ennio Morricone soundtracks that Spalax is licensing. Each CD in the series has 2 original soundtracks on 1 CD. This one with Dalle Ardenne All'Inferno (1968). Morricone created somewhere between 300 & 400 soundtracks, most notably in the early 60s and 70s. "Morricone brought a 'surrealistic panorama of strange cries, savage guitar chords, jangling bells and cracking of whips'. The results have been described as sounding like 'Mitch Miller on dope'". The packages replicate original movie posters, with plot outlines, but no musical background or notes are included. More detailed information is well beyond my scope. Il Sorriso... with its layers of chirping, montaged female vocals and interludes of organ-rock gushing sure is a weird experience, worthy of repeated listens.

MORRICONE, ENNIO: L'Antichristo/Sepolta Viva CD (SPA 14984). $16.00

2 original soundtracks on 1 CD; L'Antichristo is from 1974.

MORRICONE, ENNIO: Il Prefetto di Ferrolli Mastro CD (SPA 14985). $16.00

2 original soundtracks on 1 CD, both from 1977. "This re-issue supplies a more complete portrait of Morricone. Today's technology enables the listener to appreciate with greater clarity the Mediterranean sounds of Pasquale Squitieri's Il Prefetto... which are sometimes warm and at others harsh but are sounds which unmistakably remind the listener that the composer draws from an intimate knowledge of the folk music of the region." — Claudio Fuiano.

MORRICONE, ENNIO: Holocaust 2000/Sesso In Confessionale CD (SPA 14986). $16.00

2 original soundtracks on 1 CD, Holocaust 2000 from 1977. Sesso In Confessionale is one of the most chaotic, experimental works in this series to date.

TROVAIOLI, ARMANDO: Berlin '39 CD (SPA 14987). $16.00

Original soundtrack.

XOLOTL, BERNARD: Last Wave CD (SPA 14992). $16.00

"Amerindian artist Bernard Xolotl is an international painter and musician. In the late 60s he left France for Germany and Switzerland. He was then working with Terry Riley, Tony Conrad, La Monte Young...in Switzerland were Timothy Leary...Manuel Gottsching (Ash Ra Temple), Lutz Ulbrich (Agitation Free)...it was an incredible moment, when all this dream team was about to lead the incredible Cosmic Jokers project...Bernard Xolotl left Europe some months later for San Francisco, performing and recording his music in his incredible home studio. From his label Syntasy he released many tapes from his recordings and artwork. 20 years later he reappears for some days on our European continent...his music is wonderful and it is now rereleased on Spalax." Recorded using various keyboards and guitar, synthesizers, Roland and Korg vocoders, Tibetan percussion, etc., Xolotl has produced masterful cosmic space music. Perhaps not as deep as Klaus Schulz's greatest works, but in a similar vein. More obscure than you would expect.

VERDEAUX/BERNARD XOLOTL, CYRILLE: Prophecy CD (SPA 14993). $16.00

"A magical collaboration" between Verdeaux (the leader of the group Clearlight, whose mid-70s albums are reissued on Mantra) and Xolotl. Interesting synthesizer space music from 1981, ala Xolotl's Last Wave (see below)

PINHAS, RICHARD: De L'Un et du Multiple CD (SPA 14994). $16.00

New solo album by the ex-Heldon guitarist (unlike much of the Heldon/Pinhas back catalogue, this will not be issued domestically by Cuneiform). Spacy, synth-like Roland guitar solo washes, rather bland in their sense of atmospherics but not unlistenable. Recorded in 1995.

NEUMEIER, MANI: Privat CD (SPA 14997). $16.00

A solo album from the Guru Guru drummer, first released in Germany in 1993 (on ATM). Ethnic-tinged tribal percussions, chanting, some loops, screwy programming, solo percussion pieces, etc.

GURU GURU/ULI TREPTE: Live 72 CD (SPA 14998). $16.00

License of a CD that came out previously on ATM in Germany. Two long Guru Guru tracks (totally 42 minutes) from 1972: "Der LSD Marsch" and "Bo Diddley". The fidelity is not that stellar, but this stuff drips with the essence of the group's early power, mixing excessive trio rock extensions and pure stoned aura. Plus 6 tracks of solo material that Uli Trepte recorded in 1974 with Conny Plank, that remained unreleased until United Dairies stepped in around 1986. These tracks predate Uli's Spacebox recordings, but are quite freaked in their own right. "The most important components of my musical concept...are clearly visible and audible here: the breaking up or expanding of traditional forms of song, use of a minor-tuned modal tonality, and a composition based on the bass guitar, that is tying the theme into the bass, the lower voice and tune." —Trepte.

SPALAX AMERICAN INDIAN CDS (FRANCE):

DOUGLAS SPOTTED EAGLE: Canyonspeak CD (SPA 14267). $16.00

Douglas Spotted Eagle plays "Native American Indian flute music with natural sounds from the canyon. It brings you in touch with the spirits of the ancient ones."

POW WOW WOW: Gathering Of Nations CD (SPA 14284). $16.00

"Recorded live in Albuquerque, New Mexico, the largest Pow-Wow of its kind comes alive on this exciting recording featuring some of the best drum groups in North America."

LOCKE, KEVIN: Dream Catcher CD (SPA 14899). $16.00

LOCKE, KEVIN: Keepers of The Dream CD (SPA 14906). $16.00

"An internationally recognized master of the traditional authentic American Indian flute."

GOODHOUSE, SISSY: The Third Circle CD (SPA 14936). $16.00

"The first circle is the drum itself. The drum is sacred. The second Circle is formed by the men that sit around the drum. The third Circle is the Wicaglatla (woman singers) and I have been told that this circle is where I should be. The fourth Circle is the people. This is the spirit of the drum given to the people through a vision, given to a woman." —Sissy Goodhouse.

AKIPA, BRYAN: The Flute Player CD (SPA 14941). $16.00

American Indian flutes of Sioux tribes.

UNITED TRIBES: Powwow Volume 1 CD (SPA 14942). $16.00

Traditional songs, dances and drums of American Indians.

UNITED TRIBES: Powwow Volume 2 CD (SPA 14943). $16.00

FIRE CROW, JOSEPH: Northern Cheyenne Flute CD (SPA 14995). $16.00

"...a member of the Northern Cheyenne tribe of Lake Deer, Montana. The tradition of his people and the warrior society he belongs to are very important to Joseph. This is evident in the music he creates, be it his wonderful vocals or his passionate flute playing."

VASQUEZ, ANDREW: Kiowa Apache Music CD (SPA 14996). $16.00

"Vasquez is a member of the Apache tribe of Oklahoma...has been playing the flute for the past eight years and has performed as flautist and traditional dancer all over the world."

SPARK (SPAIN):

FIBLA: Lent CD (SPARK 007 CD). $16.00

"Vicent Fibla started the spa.RK label in Barcelona, during 2001. Lent: 'lent' means literally 'slow' in Catalan, and should not be associated with fasting or any kind of religious observance. Lent finds Vicent in composed and fully assured form, employing trademark electronic elements, yet finding enough distinction to set it above and beyond the vast conveyor belt of the contemporary electronic scene. There's an unhurried, slow motion grace at the heart of this release, and it shows considerable amounts of heart and feeling at every turn. 'Krud' immediately settles into a sedate, majestic progression — booming bass and chords like ointment. 'Making the Most of It' carries the feeling of impending time, building up from washes of sound and layer, emerging poised and smooth from a relatively crunched up beginning. 'La Baie des Anges' adopts a more architectural approach, perhaps more Autechre than Gaudi, but still, anyone who's visited the Sonar festival in Vicent's home town should understand the thrust and the context of this graceful piece. 'Boringly Repetitive' takes the slanderous, almost journalistic term and fires it right back at the critics. Bumping along at an increased tempo, there's a defiant, joyous electronic hook which in the right hands could rock any party, worth the name. 'Antaix' brings us back to earth, crumpled but still nicely crisped around the edges, while 'Inside' enlists the assistance of DJ 2D2 on turntables, support dj on the latest Prefuse 73 tour. Summing up, we find the concluding track 'An Incredible Shared Moment' and that could stand as fitting comment on the inclusive, sunblessed, shimmering web of sound that is Lent."

FIBLA: Lent LP (SPARK 007 LP). $15.00

LP version.

SPECTRAL SOUND:

GRAHAM, KENNETH: Carrier Wave 12" (SPC 002EP). $7.00

"A gem from the archive, West Coast producer Kenneth Graham (Immigrant, Plastic City, Ovum) gave Spectral one of his finest stretched-out techno tracks for its second release. A late night dancefloor staple with a deep dubby remix by Virginia Beach's Bryan Zentz (In-tec, Definitive). Re-pressing of hard-to-find techno release by two of America's most respected producers."

VA: State Of The Union EP 12" (SPC 005EP). $6.50

"Spectral Sound, dancefloor imprint of Ghostly, is five releases old. Spectral Five is a synopsis of the past and an ominous spectre of things to come. 4 producers, all hailing from the Ann Arbor/Detroit area, some of the finest in the country, comprise the core of the label. Each have contributed a new track for this genre-bending EP": James Cotton - 'I Seek' Heat-seeking Industrial malice. Osbourne - 'Shift' Up-and-down Acid House. Matthew Dear - 'Plinko' Dangerous polyrhythms and descending basslines. Flexiton - 'Moist' (aka BMG of Interdimensional Transmissions) Wet Techno Funk.

DEAR, MATTHEW: EP1 12" (SPC 006EP). $6.50

"After taking a brief stint from Ghostly International/Spectral Sound to release material on Berlin's highly touted Perlon label (Jabberjaw) and Richie Hawtin's Plus 8 imprint (False), Matthew Dear returns with two sister EPs in the mode of sonic reveler, recently being included in URB Magazine's 'Next 100' for 2003 and performing at this year's prestigious MUTEK festival. EP1 focuses on Dear's evolving flair for dancefloor compositions, molding his spare techno into a free-form collection of house gems. Tracks like 'Laguna Madre', threaten disco with filters and quirky bass, while still maintaining a flair for the obscure."

DEAR, MATTHEW: EP2 12" (SPC 007EP). $6.50

"EP2 then finds Matthew taking his sound into a dimly-lit back alley and beating the stuffing out of it. Matthew returns from the dark wielding 5 more dark strains of dancefloor havoc. This is deep, pulp techno; messy, steamed minimalism. The picture sleeves for EP1 and EP2 feature blinding white images of Dear in absent face, staring back from the black, straying from the normal Spectral stock image. These 2 EPs are pushing the doors of his obsession further. This is the first step towards the impending full-length LP this Fall, comprised of entirely new music."

OSBORNE/ISOLEE: Daylight 12" (SPC 008EP). $6.50

"Osborne, aka Todd Osborne, of 'Bout Ready to Jak' fame, returns with a summery house-techno classic. Like Matthew Dear, Todd was recently featured in URB Magazine's 'Next 100' for 2003. His new single, with its haunting Rhodes lead and piano breakdown, is augmented by a remix by Germany's Isolee, known best for his work on labels such as Playhouse(DE), namely the legendary Beau Mot Plage, and Classic (UK). Isolee's 'Pyjama Mix' is a perfect terrace record, all skittering drums and squeaky bass. A perfect blend of seasonal warmth and electronic grit."

COTTON, JAMES: Buck! 12" (SPC 009 EP). $6.50

5 new tracks from the techno alias of Tadd Mullinix (aka Dabrye). Jacking Bassline fun. Includes remix by Reinhard Voigt (Kompakt).

DEAR, MATTHEW: Dog Days 12" (SPC 010 EP). $6.50

"Word on the street. So here it is. The promise of Matthew Dear, the first Ghostly/Spectral artist, has been fulfilled. 'Dog Days' is a future classic. A song fit for virtually any self-respecting dancefloor, it is the point where house, minimal techno and new Disco meet. Already recognized in circles as an underground hit, 'Dog Days' comes loaded with a remix interpretation by Berlin's Pantytec (Perlon) that strips things down and rings the track out."

HIEROGLYPHIC BEING: Machines For Lovers 12" (SPC 012 EP). $6.50

"Jamal Moss, part of Chicago's elite Dirty Criminals crew (whose debut on Gigolo Records is imminent) delivers his first 12" for Spectral Sound. A deep and jacking look at classic house/techno sculptures, HB has tapped into the raw source material. Inspired by Ron Hardy, and literally educated by Adonis and Steve Poindexter, Hieroglyphic carries the torch of Chicago's history and does so in dramatic fashion."

DEAR, MATTHEW: Anger Management / Future Never Again 12" (SPC 013 EP). $6.50

"Coming off his insanely popular album, Leave Luck to Heaven, which has been praised around the world as a modern masterpiece, Dear comes back to show his prowess as a devastating club producer. His latest 12" for Spectral, 'Anger Management/ Future Never Again'

(both not included on his album) are classic Dear burners. 'Anger Management' is one of the biggest and baddest tracks ever to be released on Spectral/Ghostly. With a fierce bassline chug and seaisk breakdown, the track has been championed by DJs like Ricardo Villalobos."

OSBORNE: Bout Ready to Jak Remixes 12" (SPC 014EP). $6.50

"Under his four-to-the-floor alias, Osborne, Todd creates classic house and techno for Ghostly International's Spectral Sound imprint. Occupying the space between jacking acid techno and piano-led house, Todd broke through with his 'Bout Ready to Jak' single which got club play from everyone from Richie Hawtin to Kompakt's Michael Mayer. This EP gathers reconstructions from some of our favorite producers, including our own Matthew Dear, Hieroglyphic Being and TNT (aka Todd Osborn and Tadd Mullinix), and Detroit legend, Shake (Frictional). The History... A man of multiple activities and genres, long-time DJ/producer Todd Osborn (no 'e', mind you) uses a variety of aliases to express himself in a manner very similar to close friend and co-conspirator Tadd Mullinix. As the proprietor of the legendary Dubplate Pressure record store in Ann Arbor (where Sam Valenti IV met Tadd Mullinix), Osborn has occupied an important place in the local Ann Arbor scene, also running the ragga jungle label, Rewind!, and holding events throughout the Detroit area. As a musician, Todd occupies his small studio (based quite literally in his closet) and produces acclaimed old school-inspired jungle as Soundmurderer with Mullinix (as SK-1) for both Rewind! and Richard D. James' Rephlex label. He also produces booty with Brian Gillespie for Databass as Starki and Clutch."

COTTON, JAMES: Press Your Body 12" (SPC 016EP). $7.00

"Tadd Mullinix strikes back with the follow up to his acclaimed Mind Your Manners EP (GHI-003) and last years devastating Buck! (SPL-009). This time, Cotton has donned a darker persona, with gut-wrenching basslines and headcleaning synths. The new sound of Detroit/Chicago nastiness, with more to come."

AUDION: Kisses EP 12" (SPC 015EP). $7.00

"Matthew Dear has come on strong in the past year, but never heavier than this. Kisses is the debut of Matthew's new alias. Raw industrial drum machine beats and wild pitch synths formulate one of our strongest releases to date. The title track is one of Matthew's most popular cuts from his live set, from Berlin to Japan. The great compromise switches from nasty shuffle to 4/4 without remorse. Live Evil."

GRUMMICH, PETER: Searoom 12" (SPC 017EP). $7.00

"Peter Grummich is a staple on the Berlin minimal scene, recording distinctive 12"s for labels such as Sender and Kompakt. We were ecstatic to work with him and the results can be heard on this diverse single. From the long-running hypnotics of the title track to the crunchy 'Jakmonster' and late night rumble of 'No Reason'. Grummich declares this 12" to be his strongest overall to date."

COTTON, JAMES: Dancing Box CD (SPC 018CD). $13.00

"Tadd Mullinix, also known as Dabrye and SK-1 (of Soundmurderer and SK-1 on Rewind! Records), makes his first full statement under the James Cotton alias. Psychedelic in every sense of the word, The Dancing Box pays respects to classic Chicago acid and leftfield Detroit techno, but does so with its own force and verve. Mullinix has created a sonic maelstrom, at once vibrant and eerily troubling. The album is impressive as a listening experience top to bottom, the eerie sensation of slowly deepening grooves. The tracklisting varies in both feeling and style, from the ominous 'Distant Trip', which feels like a late night drive on a deserted highway, to the blinding synths of the closing title track. The Dancing Box is a manic journey into the mind of a master musician."

COTTON, JAMES: Dancing Box 2LP (SPC 018LP). $13.00

Double LP version.

OSBORNE: Afrika EP 12" (SPC 020EP). $6.50

"Todd Osborn(e) has been a busy man. Between running the acclaimed Rewind! Records label with Tadd Mullinix, touring the world, and re-recording Radiohead's Kid A note for note (it's true), the Man is a force to be reckoned with. The title track is one of the best songs we've had the pleasure to release. Full of life and atmosphere, it literally oozes all things raw, natural. Distant voices form a distinct chant, rolling drum lines, sequenced not in a traditional grid. 'Afrika' is World-inspired without falling into cliché or comfort. It rolls out the speakers in a healthy charge. The flip's two techy tunes, 'In Gear' and 'Graphite,' are drumbox monsters with Detroit's psyche and Berlin's sex."

DEAR, MATTHEW: Backstroke CD (SPC 021CD). $11.00

"Matthew Dear returns with the mini-LP Backstroke, on which he expands his stylistic boundaries and solidifies his place as not only a master of micro-house, but also as a major force in experimental pop. On the recent Anger Management/Future Never Again 12", Dear backed away from the mic, but Backstroke features vocals more prominently than ever. Dear infuses the music with stunning accessibility and depth, while more familiar elements of his otherworldly style are kneaded into a perfect mix. Also at the forefront are stronger inclinations for tunefulness and the avant-garde, as dark cacophonies of swirling, disembodied voices often give way to gorgeous melodies that carry the record along seamlessly."

DEAR, MATTHEW: Backstroke LP (SPC 021LP). $8.00

LP version.

SPEKK (JAPAN):

DEUPREE, TAYLOR: January CD (SPEKK 001CD). $18.00

"January was composed between January and May 2003. The inspiration for the CD came from my visit to Japan on a tour with 12k artists Richard Chartier and Sogar. We made many, many friends and it was one of the most enjoyable and inspirational travels I have taken in recent memory. January attempts to loosely chronicle this trip by combining the stillness of looping passages with moving and non-repeating elements. A simple metaphor for our travels and the ideas of time standing still to experience a single moment forever. Our first morning in Tokyo there was a very heavy, yet gentle snowfall, a very vivid visual memory and the inspiration for the granular sounds in this recording. January utilizes many of the same practices and concepts of my work with loops and frozen sounds (such as on Stil) but also adds layers of live instrumentation and voices. January features live, processed electric piano as well as vocal fragments, courtesy of Sawako. More pieces with voices were written in these sessions but did not appear on the final release. This album was written at a time in my life of great changes and new beginnings and is dedicated to my son, Nicholas, who was born on February 19th, 2003." (TEXT by Taylor Deupree).

BASINSKI + RICHARD CHARTIER, WILLIAM: (non-titled) CD (SPEKK 002CD). $18.00

"Richard and I became friends after meeting at Tonic in NY when he and Taylor Deupree did a show with Carsten Nicolai. He contacted me about a possible collaboration and sent me a track which I thought was very rich and harmonically similar to something I had recently been working on, a very swampy, dark piece I was calling 'The Garden of Brokenness' after a very beautiful new installation by James Elaine. I popped it into pro tools with my piece and something really special was happening, so I spent a few weeks weeding my track, trying different things ... eventually I stripped it way down and we were both quite happy with the result. Richard came up to NY and we fine tuned it a bit together and it was done. Since the piece had changed quite a bit we decided not to use that title for this piece. He then sent me another one and again, it just worked with something else I had been working on... the second track came together very quickly, and there you have it!" (TEXT by William Basinski).

SPEZIAL MATERIAL (SWITZERLAND):

VA: SM03 - A Spezial Materials Compilation CD (SM 010 CD). $16.00

"Switzerland's Spezial Materials imprint has amassed a huge following in the course of its 3-year lifespan to date. Friends of the label, including Autechre's Rob Brown & Sean Booth, Gescom's Rob Hall, Plaid's Ed and Andy, Mark Broom and countless others have admired the label's ability to inject a freshness of attitude and aesthetic development to a genre that has always cut itself close to the edge. This is the third compilation on the label so far, and the first to be given a full commercial release. Split impeccably between a showcase of forthcoming attractions and a catalogue of remixers to die for, the emphasis lies from start to finish on innovation and collectability. A full line-up of core artists is present, from the developed complex crunch of Intricate's 'Tinizong' and 'Hund', to Softland's delicate piano and bass modulation, to Person's twisted digital hip hop grind and Solotempo's killer squashed beats and malfunctions — leaving you with a good idea of how and why so many key artists volunteered their remixing skills for a project of this scale." Artists: Bitstream, Skanfrom, Team Doyobi, Made & Advanz, Gescom, Plaid, Plastique de Reve, Intricate, Staubsanger, Person, Monoblock B+ Nora Duster, Solotempo, Softland, Phonem.

VA: SM03 - A Spezial Materials Compilation 2LP (SM 010 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

SOFTLAND: One Is A Very Small Crowd CD (SM 011 CD). $16.00

"The tone of this album is almost scholarly in its crafted approach to minimal electronics, complex structures and baroque harmonics. 'Sekvens' sounds like a homage to courtly harpsichord: an ornate construction which the following track 'Loipe' inherits, building intense menace and additive percussion. The resulting mix sounds as though it has borrowed its energy from certain classical compositions that have been torn kicking and screaming through a 21st century digital vortex. Softland creates an uneasy, dreamy landscape, by juxtaposing long chains of melody with dissonant, random bursts of percussion and pulsing, at times ominous, pads (as on 'Majken'). Glitchy beats both increase the pace and embed a sense of menace into the exchange of harmonies: glockenspiels create an illusory promise of calm, but harsh sounds resurface and the threat of decay is never far away (note the intrusion of a fly buzzing in 'Approach'). In terms of discernible influences, there are none that could be called concrete: the album seems to take its inspiration more from the harmonic layering of baroque composers than it does from contemporary techniques. It is still obviously an electronic album, but its self-conscious reinvention of classical composition with a mischievous twist gives it a unique appeal."

BUNDOK: Cusp 12" (SM 012EP). $11.00

"Some real killers here as Spezial's American faction, in the shape of Josh Druckman, dons the Bundok mantle for some ill, deep, rocking electronic music. 'Meramec' has the grace of something like Aravane's 'Icol Diston', sweeps of melody up above and a surging, ultra percussive bad tune in the rhythm department. 'Ulyst' wears a darker, bluish light, the rhythm and melodic interest still right there... 'Your Secret is Safe with Me' bears the faintest traces of dub, before a guitar motif ushers in one hefty electronic groover, really nice changes in the arrangement and a cultural sense of melodic progression throughout. 'Other Structures' is just classic Spezial Material, arresting electro with some majestic changes, and 'Vanishing Point' ties it all up in fine style with a night drive futuristic funk classic."

TRAJECT: Strengir Hrynja CD (SM 013CD). $16.00

"Gisli Thor Gudmundsson represents on the brand new Spezial materials album. Dragging the instruments kicking and screaming into a groove, Traject delivers multi-faceted electronic music that drops serious harmony over spannered beats, 'Water for Muddy People' takes the tried and tested format of electronica and rips it through his unique filter to produce a technical blend of rhythm and sound, peppered with genius. Another of Iceland's treasured musical exports, Einoma steps in with a remix of 'She Said', and a dark excursion it is too, brooding, swirling strings head off into the dark as, clicked beats and percussion slowly rise to the surface and take the opus away from the melody and onto the rhythm. Heavy bass kicks stand out with the emotive melody that appears shimmering through the beats, a tentative and moving melodic line that is stapled to the track until the end. Fans of Autechre's EP2 and the more dancefloor focused Gescom will find much to admire here."

TRAJECT: Strengir Hrynja LP (SM 013LP). $13.00

LP version.

SPIEL-ZEUG:

SCHUMACHER, THOMAS: Got Milk? CD (SPIEL 009CD). $18.00

"Spiel-Zeug Schallplatten in conjunction with B-Product proudly presents: The official Got Milk! A Decade 1994-2004 Mixed CD. Compiled and mixed by Thomas Schumacher. Got Milk has been and still is France's biggest Techno indoor event, hosted annually for more than 10,000 people at the Hall Rhenus in Strassbourg. Thomas Schumacher has compiled and mixed this compilation to commemorate these 10 years with a selection of music that celebrates the Detroit Techno, French and International roots of Boris Gillet's Got Milk. This CD features some of the finest artists from all around the globe, including the legendary Detroit Grand Pubahs, Monika Kruse with her 'überhit' 'Latin Lovers' as well as some kick ass productions from Oxia, Pascal FEOS, Deetron, Agoria and of course the man himself. Not to forget Phil Kieran's fantastic rework of the Inner City classic 'Big Fun'. As to the mixing? This is not your average, perfectly boring homestyle DJ mix, Schumacher has created an intense, thrilling ride through 74 minutes of tech-funk packed tunes using Ableton's Live software."

SPIKY (UK):

VA: Sticky Whippet CD (SPIKY 003 CD). $15.00

"The now defunct New Ground label was a bastion of sonic rebellion deep in the heart of Tory Kent. Between '92 and '95, New Ground dispatched countless vinyl missives to secret allies as respected and varied as Weatherall, Carl Cox, Richie Hawtin, Josh Wink and Derrick May, establishing themselves as one of the most collectible and sought after underground imprints in the world. This Sticky Whippet album sees new electronic label Spiky cream off the very sweetest of the New Ground legacy. Featuring tracks from the mighty Conemelt (normally associated with the Emissions label), The Corridor, Floating Bloke, The Secret Order and mysterious swordswinger Meek, it ranges from smoothed down digital funk to jaw dropping headfuck techno, touching every point in between"

VA: Sticky Whippet 2LP (SPIKY 003 LP). $15.00

SPINNEY (UK):*MALONE, WIL: Death Line OST CD (SPINN 002CD). $18.00

"The Spinney label follows up the acclaimed Vashti Bunyan album with the previously unreleased soundtrack to Death Line. Death Line the movie was released in 1972 and was directed by Gary Sherman. It starred Donald Pleasance and Christopher Lee and is an eerie horror story set in the London Underground. Wil Malone has been composing and arranging music for over 4 decades, was a member of UK psych combo The Orange Bicycle and has been responsible for some of the most sublime string & bass arrangements to come out of the UK. The strings on Massive Attack's Unfinished Symphony were his work as was the Verve's 'Bitter Sweet Symphony' (with a little help from Andrew Oldham). He has also worked with Depeche Mode, UNKLE, Black Sabbath, Gomez, Shack, Dido, Faithless, Kylie Minogue."

DRANSFIELD, BARRY: Barry Dransfield CD (SPINN 003CD). $18.00

"Spinney follow up the re-release of the highly successful and much loved Vashti Bunyan album Just Another Diamond Day with this similarly lost gem of an album from Barry Dransfield. This album was described as 'Along with Vashti Bunyan's Just Another Diamond Day this debut solo album, full of beautiful and enchanting folk, is one of the two most sought-after major label folk albums'. Barry is an English folk fiddler & singer extraordinaire who was a leading light in the folk scene from the 70s onwards. He first came to prominence with the albums The Rout Of The Blues (1970) — Melody Maker Folk Album Of The Year) and Lord Of All I Behold (1971) recorded with his brother Robin and released on the outstanding folk label Trailer (set up by ex-Transatlantic engineer Bill Leader). Having split with his brother, he made his first eponymous solo recording for Folk Mill/Polydor in 1972 that is now released by Spinney on CD for the first time. By this time, Barry had already instigated & appeared on the Morris On album for Island Records in the same year along with Ashley Hutchings, Richard Thompson, John Kirkpatrick & Shirley Collins among others and went on to record The Fiddler's Dream album with the band Dransfield which also included his brother for Transatlantic before completing three more solo albums and much television work."

SPIRIT OF ORR RECORDS:*HENDRICKS TRIO, THE KARL: A Gesture of Kindness CD (SO 026CD). $13.50

"Spirit of Orr is proud to present the long awaited, remastered, bonus tracks added, version of Pittsburgh's The Karl Hendricks Trio's breakthrough fourth album from 1995. Originally released by the short lived though acclaimed Fiasco Records. It was a record that showed a young band just hitting it's stride. Solid rock music, with tense, direct, and expressive content. While the emo superstars of today were buried in post hardcore and video games, these three midwestern twenty-somethings rambled around the country playing songs of loss, abandonment, and emotional strife. Songs that anyone coping with sudden abandonment, unresolved changes of heart, or just trying to be the good guy despite all urges to demolish the bridges of human trust, would find warming and comiseratingly inspiring."

SUNBURNED HAND OF THE MAN, THE: Rare Wood CD (SO 027CD). $13.50

"An expected gift is not worth giving. After several false starts, the wood is ready. With this stroke the Sunburned Hand Of The Man unleash their singular collective spirit into the common marketplace to provide an open door to those who have heard about, but not yet heard, the magic mayhem that is the music. The music on Rare Wood was recorded in the most lively of settings, and then brought together in this composite. A smattering of recordings that will separate the talkers from the walkers. Sunburned Hand Of The Man again brings you something you didn't expect, Rare Wood."

BURKETT, JOSHUA: Life Less Lost CD (SO 030CD). $13.50

"Beam of folkways passing tenements with bygone studio apartments as the lofts of the future awash in a microsecond of urban Om and the sparkly vastness of country mystery — a dragged in ray of tone we begin on the azure stylus of remembering. Effervescing bubbles of a lamp lit moon under an animal spirit sky for a moment screaming in absolute quietude of still night and waking to stained synapses trapped in the oxide of rails, gardens and the solitude breathing in the run off grooves of mushroom wood stoves burning slowly with the ringing of nuthatch gorgeous in the synchronicity. His kind a loving time trapped in the red light, perfect when on. Furnished with strings and beads and love and Cosimo in his language the stary loneliness is perennial and that is all life less lost will ever be, sipping in the universal ocean and returning a mystery of immortality in the rear view mirror of memory smiling on a wavy scene tripped on capsules of beautiful sonic doors open and whispering wildcards of flowers and illusory prisms through his hushed tawny cry of consciousness intimate with leaves, creatures and muted dirt honed through the jibba white lore of grass horns and offered from his hand a brow of clouds fizzing on earth's hidden rim bright as starfields it is a pleasure to live here."

SHRIN: Rin Liminal Switch Vols. 2 & 1 CD (SO 17). $11.00

"Shrin is a band that was known in the late 1980s as Bimbo Shrinheads. They were founded in roughly the same northeast CT-area scene that sprung M16, Crystalized Movements and The Deadbeats. Rin Liminal Switch is a blistering foray into heavy feedback drone, bowed cymbals, and chants mixed with earnest and earthy folk rock coming together with an adeptness of styles that is perhaps comparable to the Sun City Girls. It is also an album that can be mindful of both Patty Waters and Sandy Denny at the same time. In many ways, Shrin could be pointed to as much of a keystone of the current ESP-Disk aesthetic as many of today's outsider troupes such as the No Neck Blues Band, The Tower Recordings, or perhaps Sunburned Hand Of The Man." Limited stock.

SPOON/MUTE (UK):*CAN: Monster Movie LP (SPOON 4). $17.00

The group's historic hi-energy debut from 1969, originally issued on Music Factory and then brought to the masses by United Artists in 1970. The main studio recordings to feature vocalist Malcolm Mooney.

CAN: Unlimited Edition CD (SPOON 1072). $14.50

CD reissue of this 1976 album, which compiled 8 years worth of unreleased Can tapes.

CAN: Tago Mago CD (SPOON 9054). $14.50

The group's third album, a sprawling masterpiece from 1971. Featuring the vocal invention of Damo Suzuki. "With the band in full artistic flower and Suzuki's sometimes moody, sometimes frenetic speak/sing/shrieking in full effect, Can released not merely one of the best Krautrock albums of all time, but one of the best albums ever, period. Tago Mago is that rarity of the early '70s, a double album without a wasted note, ranging from sweetly gentle float to full-on monster grooves. — Ned Raggett."

CAN: Future Days CD (SPOON 9055). $14.50

The fifth Can album, originally issued in 1973. "Damo Suzuki's final effort is Can's most atmospheric and beautiful record, a spartan collection of lengthy, jazz-like compositions recorded with minimal vocal contributions. Employing keyboard washes to create a breezy, almost oceanic feel, the mix buries Suzuki's voice to elevate drummer Jaki Liebezit's complex rhythms to the foreground; despite the deceptive tranquility of its surface, Future Days is an intense work, bubbling with radical ideas and concepts. — Jason Ankeny.

CAN: Ege Bamyasi CD (SPOON 9056). $14.50

The group's fourth album, from 1972, originally issued by United Artists. "The follow-up to Tago Mago is only lesser in terms of being shorter; otherwise the Can collective delivers its expected musical recombination act with the usual power and ability. Liebezit, at once minimalist and utterly funky, provides another base of key beat action for everyone to go off on — from the buried, lengthy solos by Karoli on 'Pinch' to the rhythm box/keyboard action on 'Spoon'. Liebezit and Czukai's groove on 'One More Night', calling to mind a particularly cool nightclub at the end of the evening, shows that Stereolab didn't just take the brain-melting crunch side of Can as inspiration. — Ned Raggett

CAN: Monster Movie CD (SPOON 9057). $14.50

CD reissue of the first Can album, originally issued in 1969. "Can's debut is the only full-length, proper release to feature original vocalist Malcolm Mooney, whose free-form ranting is matched by a raw, aggressive dynamic unlike anything else in the group's canon; driving, dissonant songs like the extraordinary 'Father Cannot Yell' and 'Outside My Door' even owe a rather surprising debt to psychedelia and garage rock. More indicative of things to come is the closer 'Yoo Doo Right,' a 20-minute epic built on the kinds of hypnotic motifs and minimal rhythms which quickly became Can trademarks." — Jason Ankeny

CAN: Soundtracks CD (SPOON 9061). $14.50

CD reissue of the 2nd Can album, originally issued in 1970. "Malcolm Mooney passes the baton to Damo Suzuki for Soundtracks, a collection of film music featuring contributions from both vocalists. The dichotomy between the two singers is readily apparent: Suzuki's odd, strangled vocals fit far more comfortably into the group's increasingly intricate and subtle sound, allowing for greater variation than that allowed by Mooney's stream-of-consciousness discourse." — Jason Ankeny

CAN: Delay 1968 CD (SPOON 9062). $14.50

Classic early recordings with Malcolm Mooney on vocals, recorded in Nörvenich, Germany in 1968-69, not released until 1981. "A collection of cuts featuring early vocalist Malcolm Mooney, these seven songs are among the very first Can ever recorded; while nowhere near as intricate or assured as the group's later work, the visceral energy of tracks like the deranged 'Uphill' and 'Butterfly' is undeniable." — Jason Ankeny.

CAN: Soon Over Babaluma CD (SPOON 9065). $14.50

Reissue of the 6th Can album, originally issued in 1974. "With Suzuki departed, vocal responsibilities were now split between Karoli and Schmidt. Wisely, neither try to clone Mooney or Suzuki, instead aiming for their own low-key way around things. Musically, if things are a touch less intense on Babaluma, the sense of a band perfectly living in each other's musical pocket and able to react on a dime hasn't changed at all. 'Chain Reaction', the longest track on the album, shows that the combination of lengthy jam and slight relaxation actually can go together rather well." — Ned Raggett

SPRAWL (UK):*VA: Chinese Whispers CD (SP 027). $18.00

"Unlike other remix albums, Chinese Whispers is a cyclical recording remix project, but with NO original track to begin with. All the artists participating had no idea who they were remixing. Samples arriving anonymously. All they were aware of was who was involved, who those audio snippets might be from. Stereolab provided the original bits to start the ball rolling, and nine remixes later were given the final samples from the last artists' track back, to create their THEIR final track. Confused? You won't be when you hear the music: it ranges from skanking big beat to funky electro jazz to drill 'n' bass tripped hoppy disco amazingsness." Other remixes involved: Sons of Silence, Ultramarine, Mike Paradinas, Freeform, Slang, Bedouin Ascent, Si Begg, Subtropic & T-Power.

SI CUT DUB: Rate Of Living CD (SP 030). $18.00

"3rd LP from Douglas Benford (other efforts: 1995's Nuisance and 1997's Behind You, several singles for the Suburbs of Hell/Sprawl labels, at least one a collab w/Scanner) full of catchy micro-global orchestrations & tweaked electro-beat landscapes, executing all the moves you've now come to associate with creative post-dancefloor production. Recklessly eclectic & therefore completely worthwhile. Kudos." — Hrvatski.

OSYMYSO: Welcome to the Palindrome CD (SP 031). $16.00

"25 year old Mark Nicholson enjoys anything subversive and quirky, and his release under the pseudonym Osymyso is a cross between B-boy electronica and Japanese TV commercials. His releases, including his most recent on Spiky records, have won him friends in high places — including Mary Anne Hobbs, Richard Fearless, and Mr. Scruff."

VA: Hmm CD (SP 032). $12.00

"International artists from clubland, popular and sonic art fields choose traditional hymns and anthems from around the world to create a unique album of adventures in beats, textures and melody, straddling the worlds of dub, techno, funk and electronica. Includes tracks from Kit Clayton, Add N To X, Vladislav Delay, Kreidler, David Toop, Osymyso, Benge, Matrix, Freeform, Farben, Puppy and more. Hmm is not only a showcase for some of the best cutting edge electronica artists from around the world, but is also a provocative and evocative landmark creative project with a unique angle."

SPRING GARDEN MUSIC:*WRIGHT, JACK: Free Life, Singing LP (JW 001). $7.00

An old LP that we still have a box of, featuring Colorado-based improviser Jack Wright (alto sax, piano) with Marv Frank (drums). Private press, with a primitive black & white sleeve, rom the late 70s or so? I forget.

SPRINT RECORDS (UK):*KING TUBBY: I Am The King Vol 2. LP (SFLP 004). $12.00

"Following on from the recent reissue of I Am The King Vol 1 comes ...volume 2. Another brilliant collection of 14 early 80's bass 'n' drum work-outs from King Tubby's studio, the bulk of which are mixed by the Scientist with the remaining mixed by Prince Jammy and Tubby. Includes raw versions of the 'M15', 'Fade Away' and 'Real Rock' rhythms amongst others."

PERRY, LEE: Dub Around The World LP (SFLP 005). $12.00

"Subtitled 'The Upsetter Meets The Upsetter In Dub Around The World.' This release contains 12 recordings, two thirds of which are the result of Perry's handwork. A couple of early 70's cuts and few Black Ark mid 70's recordings. Worth checking out is a cut of Augustus Pablo's 'Java', known here as 'Dub It In Trinidad And Tobago'. The rest of the album is made up of a selection of early 80's bass 'n' drum work-outs from an unknown origin, but are selected here by Lee's son, Omar Perry and the Upstress who both compiled this album."

SPUN RECORDS:

VA: Being Black CD (SPN 001 CD). $16.00

"Being Black, the album, was inspired by Angel Kyodo Williams' deeply thoughtful, intelligent book Being Black: Zen and the Art of Living with Fearlessness and Grace (Viking Compass). Williams, a Zen Buddhist priest and social activist in Brooklyn, introduces readers to the basic principles of Zen, from an African-American perspective. She is 'as conversant with Wu-Tang Clan as with the message of the Dalai Lama.' — Village Voice, 2001. And, while her work may resonate most clearly with African-American readers, Being Black promotes a universal message. Being Black, the album, is equally as stirring. It will arouse your mind and move your body. A brilliant mix of hip hop and gripping spoken word, Being Black is an instant classic. It includes tracks from top 'conscious' artists including Jurassic 5, Mystic, Dilated Peoples, Bahamadia, Will.i.am (from Black Eyed Peas) and Blackalicious as well as exclusive, tracks featuring collaborations between the legendary poet Ursula Rucker (famed for her work with The Roots) and some of the most influential DJs today including King Britt, Rob Swift (X-ecutioners), Rhetttmatic (Beat Junkies), DJ Spooky, and DJ Revolution."

SPV RECORDINGS (GERMANY):

POPOL VUH: Affenstunde CD (SPV 70102). $16.00

The Spalax label Popol Vuh reissues are deleted and the German SpV label will re-introduce them with a series of 19 new reissues. Digipack packaging, bonus tracks, 16 page booklet (same one in all releases), no info specified on remastering. This version of Affenstunde includes a very good 10 minute bonus track ("Train Through Time"), released here for the first time. "Formed in 1969 and named after the Quiche Mayan Indian's bible, Popol Vuh centered around keyboardist/conceptualist/Hertzog-pal Florian Fricke. Affenstunde (aka 'The Time Of The Monkey King') was the first Popol Vuh album, originally issued in 1971. It was a forum for Fricke's early forays into Moog synthesizer explorations (he was playing one of the huge first models), with tabla accompaniment. Trancy electronic patterns emerge, in a drugged, lo-key fashion, with fine meditative qualities. The first two tracks are generated purely by Fricke's mighty Moog synthesizer, and are high up in the cosmos. 'Dream Part 5' is just percussion, whose rhythm becomes so infectious that it might eat you whole. 'Dream Part 49' is a great encompassing piece which is dense with synthesizer experimentation. Last, but by no means least, is the 18 and a half minute title track. This track is an epic. It starts with hollow percussion and a galloping Islamic rhythm, there is then a lull of synthesizers which break forth into a great Celtic manna. A wonderful start to the band's career."

POPOL VUH: Aguirre CD (SPV 70142). $16.00

New reissue of this Hertzog-associated soundtrack work. One new bonus track ("Aguirre III"), but does not include the other bonus tracks found on the previous Spalax edition (it's only right & natural, confusion has reigned over the PV soundtrack releases forever). Either way, this is a great PV release and you might as well buy it again. "Originally released 1974. Recorded at Bavaria Tonstudio, Munich. From ultra spacy music coming from another worlds, to cosmic krautrock with super acoustic guitars, flutes, delicate rhythms including tabla and more..." Featuring the trio of: Florian Fricke (piano), Daniel Fichelscher (guitar, percussion), Djong Yun (vocals). Tracklisting: 'Aguirre I (L'acrimie di rei)', 'Morgengruss II', 'Aguirre II', 'Agnus Dei', 'Vergegenwärtigung', bonus track: 'Aguirre III'.

POPOL VUH: Einsjäger & Siebenjäger CD (SPV 70152). $16.00

New reissue of their 5th album, from 1975, ('A Soldier And Seven Soldiers'). With two bonus tracks: "King Minos II" & "Wo Bist Du?". One of the pure classic PV albums. The trio of Fricke, Fichelscher (electric/acoustic gtr) and Yun (vocals), Popol Vuh started to make head-ways toward a heavy cosmic rock sound, that would soon peak with Letzte Tage. Powerful flows of weaving guitar/keyboard lines built up into psychedelic peaks. The title track is the album's crescendo. It is a strange mix of all the band's previous styles, with Djong Yun's vocals thrown in for added eeriness. This track just floods the room with its gentle piano theme, and intruding drums and guitar.

POPOL VUH: Shepherd's Symphony CD (SPV 70282). $16.00

Previously issued by Mystic Records, UK, 1997. One of the last PV releases and very non-essential. No bonus tracks (how could there be?). Musicians: Florian Fricke, Frank Fiedler, Guido Hieronymus. This is considered the 25th album by Popol Vuh, and the Mystic site refer to it (in non-ironic fashion) as an album "quite unlike other Popol Vuh recordings with influences of Hip-Hop and Techno Trance Sounds to appeal to both new younger listeners and existing fans."

SPYMANIA (UK):

DJ BEATTIE: Drool CD (SPY 009). $18.00

"The Spymania debut album from 25-year old Brighton-based Daniel Beattie. Dan recorded his debut as D.I.A.L. with the 1997 'The Pause That Refreshes' 12" for Spymania, and has since gone to have tracks featured on compilations from Diskono and the NY based Lucky Kitchen. Eclectic as you'd expect on this label, the album is a mix of spooky strings, flutes, deep dubby tech house, reverb piano, dark noise, jazz, classical and ambient!"

VA: Welcome To Celebrity Fog Donkey CD (SPY 011). $15.00

"Spymania has always had an endearingly haphazard approach to releasing records. A brief flurry of 'genre defining' releases and then nothing for one and a half years. This is a reflection of the strict philosophy behind the label: lots of our friends make music and occasionally we release some of it. This approach has so far given the world Squarepusher and MDK among others, and will soon bring a solo album from Supercollider's Jamie Lidell. But for now back to the Fog Donkey. This compilation brings together the new Spymania talent, artists we've been listening to for years, alongside some new found friends. A familiar cut 'n' paste style prevails, but the choice and direction of music may surprise. Anyway, here's the boys: Ipam Bele (An 8 year old gypsy prodigy), MDK (winner of 1998's coveted NME Album of the Year), Steev/T3 Perm Leech (Best known for his work as Horse Opera on Planet M, Steev is living proof that beards don't have to be boring), T Maxx (Hailing from the Bronx, T Maxx was dragged up on the sounds of Mantronik and Pong), Transbeauce (based in Paris), The Trouts/Cassette Boy (Chelmsford's Oldest Band ? recorded live in 1992, disproving the idea that you have to be really good at playing your instruments to play them badly a la Les Dawson. Thank God it's only two minutes long), Smog Carver (Tango'n'Vectif on the Aphex Twin's Rephlex label was the first album to be released under the name U-zig. Mike Paradinas had a helping hand with this project, and Smog Carver was the man behind that hand), The Cat Called Eastern National (It's not very often we receive demos from animals, particularly household pets named after provincial bus companies, so this one was a real delight), Pleasted Lemon (Wednesbury based three piece), Spandex, Big Man Ace & Snake's Leg (Label founder Snake's Leg teams up with London 2 step giant Big Man Ace for this sublime drum 'n' bass masterpiece)."

MDK: A Friend Is A Stranger You Haven't Met Yet CD (SPY 015). $15.00

"Consisting of 23 tracks, the album takes in a variety of styles including jazzy hip hop, multi-layered ambient, live flute, horizontal breaks, melancholy guitars, and of course distortion, glitches, hisses and clicks aplenty." Year 2000 release, last copies.

HYPO: Kotva CD (SPY 016). $15.00

"Hypo is Parisian Anthony Kayeux, also half of Transbeauce who featured on the Spymania Allstars comp. and released tracks on 555 Recordings. An easy on the ear lo fi blend of electronics and acoustics in a kind of quirky pop/ambient style. As usual there is plenty of clicking and hissing but also some lovely melodies, and believe it or not, some real instruments played by a human person. File next to: Warp/Skam."

SQUEALER:

CURTIS, CHARLES: Ultra White Violet Light/Sleep 2CD (SCLR 029). $17.00

"Squealer is proud to announce the release of the compact disc version of Charles Curtis' Ultra White Violet Light. Packaged in a handsome double CD digipack, Ultra White Violet Light is a hypnotic work that will appeal to fans of minimalism, as well as the atmospheric documentary soundscapes of Godspeed You Black Emperor and the gentle calm of ambient electronica." "Born in California in 1960, Curtis is known internationally as a classical cellist of the first water. He has performed and recorded with an amazingly diverse range of artists, from Kathleen Battle to Herbie Hancock to Speculum Musicae. Since 1989 he has been the principal cellist of the North German Radio Orchestra. From 1986 Curtis has been closely associated with LaMonte Young, who considers Curtis his protégé, and has spoken of him as 'the foremost interpreter of my music in the world'. He is also one of the few musicians ever to have shared the stage as a duo with Young. Besides this complex history of study and performance with the Father of Minimalism, Curtis has also maintained a strong presence in New York's avant garde and underground rock scenes, working frequently as a guitarist with such figures as Kramer and Alan Licht, and holding regular positions in The Donald Miller Trio and King Missile. Since the early '90s, he has also lead his own rock group in Europe, the Charles Curtis Trio. His compositions for this classic power formation integrate sustained sine waves and spoken prose pieces, reminding one of a simultaneous playing of The Velvet Underground's third album and John Cage's Indeterminacy." ?- Donald Miller.

CURTIS, CHARLES: Ultra White Violet Light/Sleep 2LP (SCLR 029 LP). $14.00

German pressing issued in conjunction with the Beau Rivage label. The LP release presents four pieces on two records. Three reflect Curtis' work with La Monte Young, bathing the listener with a wash of sine tones, multi-tracked cellos and sustained guitars; a fourth features his Trio; two feature his readings in one of the most affable monotonies ever recorded; and all may be enjoyed as individual compositions, but may also be combined on more than one stereo sets, up to all four at once." ?- Donald Miller.

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: New Geocentric World Of Acid Mothers Temple CD (SCLR 034 CD). $13.00

"The Acid Mothers Temple and the Melting Paraiso U.F.O. hail from Nagoya in the central region of Japan, but they may as well be from the moon. A self-described 'freak-out group for the 21st century', the band was founded in 1996 by members of the Acid Mothers Temple soul-collective, led by guitarist Kawabata Makoto (from Musica Transonic and Toho Sara). New Geocentric World continues the development shown on their previous albums for the pioneering Japanese label P.S.F., with intense music veering between blitzkrieg maelstroms of electricity and gently lilting garden psychedelia. This is their fourth official album, following three full length releases on P.S.F. The band has also been active on other fronts, with the recent double LP Live in Occident a documentary of their 1999 world tour, and the La Novia LP a foray into Japanese folk. Their previous releases were delicious communal Gong/Hawkwind patchouli collisions, colorful as a Life with the Hippie Jetsons cartoon, but with an acid punch that proved their music was beyond any idea of pastiche or irony." — Alan Cummings"

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: New Geocentric World Of Acid Mothers Temple 2LP (SCLR 034 LP). $17.00

"This was their fourth official album, following three full length releases on P.S.F. The DLP release will include an additional track, 'Grateful Head', originally available on a tour-only single which is currently out of print. The DLP will also have new artwork."

MAJOR STARS: Distant Effects CD (SCLR 036 CD). $13.00

"Distant Effects is the third full length release from Cambridge, MA-based Major Stars. Combining an interest in mid-60's folk rock, free jazz and Hendrix-oid guitar riffage, the Major Stars create tuneful compositions that rapidly lift into the stratosphere on the waves of guitar amperage supplied by Wayne Rogers and Kate Biggar."

MAJOR STARS: Distant Effects LP (SCLR 036 LP). $13.00

LP version.

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: In C CD (SCLR 037 CD). $13.50

"Originally released on LP by the Eclipse label, In C is the latest inspirational work by the Japanese avant-psychedelic collective the Acid Mothers Temple. This CD reissue includes all of the music featured on the original LP, including the title track, a reinterpretation of minimalist composer Terry Riley's monumental composition from 1964, and 'In E', which the band performed frequently during their 2001 US and UK tours. The CD version of the album also includes the 19 minute bonus track 'In D'. The CD is packaged in a handsome digipack."

LAST DAYS OF MAY: Inner System Blues CD (SCLR 038 CD). $13.00

"Features Karl Precoda of the Dream Syndicate. Inner System Blues is the third installment from Last Days of May. Like its predecessors, this new record presents a psychological musical landscape of tension and release. Unlike its predecessors, Inner explores territory that's deeper and wider; micro strategies with macro results. Last Days of May are an instrumental combo of empathic ferocity, making a regal shape-shifting noise...that is a singular digestion of electric Miles Davis, the first Stooges album and, in Precoda's molten reveries, both John Coltrane's tenor sax and Lou Reed's free-guitar shriek."

YEAH NO: Swell Henry CD (SCLR 040CD). $13.00

"Swell Henry is the fourth album from yeah NO, the quartet of multi-talented downtown New York musicians led by clarinetist/saxophonist Chris Speed. Speed, in close collaboration with drummer Jim Black, trumpeter Cuong Vu and bassist Skuli Sverrisson, explores a broad palette of sharply focused lyrical jazz compositions, stimulating collective improvisations and explorative forays into ambient and texture."

HIGH RISE: Disallow CD (SCLR 1003CD). $10.00

American issue of the fifth High Rise album, licensed from PSF. The heavy-duty trio of Asahito Nanjo (bass, vocals), Munehiro Narita (guitar) & Pill (drums). Fourth High Rise CD (fifth album overall) and first studio production in quite some time. Utterly massive trio psychedelic heavy rock. With new (and amazing) drummer Pill, the guitar/bass duo of Nanjo & Narita blast the spheres like nobody else, in a seemingly more complex manner, but just as pure in their pursuit of the deeply submerged.

HIGH RISE: Disallow LP (SCLR 1003LP). $12.00

First time on vinyl for this album. Full color sleeve, same artwork as the original PSF CD.

CIRCLE: Raunio CD (SCLR 1004 CD). $13.00

"Circle's soundfield encompasses skewed progressive-rock rhythms, distorted guitar firepower, gleaming minimalism, Kraut-influenced phrase repetition, and hymnal incantations written in a made-up language called Meronian. Raunio is a U.S. reissue of a recording released late last year on the Finnish label Ekto, which is run by bassist Lehtisalo. It presents all the elements that make them such a fantastic live band: their frantic live sets have garnered ample international praise while masterfully exploring the outer limits of grinding tension and celestial calm."

SRI MOONSHINE MUSIC:

RILEY, TERRY: Atlantis Nath CD (SMM 001). $42.00

Limited edition first pressing of the debut release on Terry Riley's new label. A 1000 copies made, all signed & #d. Largely intended to be sold mail order only, only a few copies will be circulating; in the future an unlimited mass market version will be released. "Sri Moonshine Studios is happy to announce it's first release, Atlantis Nath, recorded, mixed and edited during the period of 1993-98 in Nice France at the CIRM studios. This is a special signed and numbered edition of 1000 CDs! Terry's first big studio production since the 1978 Shri Camel is a 74-minute seamless journey featuring voices, strings, synthesizer, piano and loops from India. The CD is packaged in a natural paper 6-panel foldout with radiant Asian inspired illustrations meticulously designed and rendered by New York artist, Chris Harvey. Included on the recording is the final scene of Terry's opera based on the life and works of Adolf Woelfli, 'The Crucifixion of My Humble Self' as well as 'Emerald Runner,' 'Ascension' and 'Remember this O Mind.' Produced by Terry and the masterful CIRM Studios team of Luc Martinez and Michel Redolfi, this recording shines with state of the art sonics and performance. Terry sings and plays all voice, piano and synthesizer parts on these tracks with guest appearances by the Nice Opera String Quintet and Frédéric L'Epée, Guitar."

STAALPLAAT (NETHERLANDS):

ANTENNA FARM & MAIN: AF_M CD (BROM 01). $14.50

"AF_M is the result of a collaboration between Main (Robert Hampson, formerly of Loop and Godflesh) and Antenna Farm (David Howell and Alastair Leslie). As the very first artists in Staalplaat's new Brombron series, both artists were kindly invited to spend a week living and working at the Extrapool studio in Nijmegen, to collaborate together, and then release the results on a CD. These recordings were made utilising a variety of tools — Powerbooks, contact microphones, guitars, mixing desk, fx, and and field recordings gathered from around Nijmegen. The three of them spent long hours in the studio working alone processing our own sounds, and then coming together at the end of each day to improvise collectively with these sounds. Becoming increasingly focussed, these improvised sessions were recorded directly down onto DAT. At the end of the week (July 7th - 13th, 2000), they returned to London with around 3 and a half hours worth of DATs. After a short break, they came together again at Robert's studio in Croydon and began to isolate sections and edit together this material (again on powerbook). This editing was simple and truthful to the original recordings — no new sections were added, there was no reprocessing done. They simply isolated what was felt were the strongest recorded sections and then bolted these together. There were some crossfades created, but everything was kept in chronological order. The resulting audio coheres into a focussed document that slips from extreme quiet to scratchy, crackly ambience, drone passages, and occasional bursts of a more violent nature. Not something that works as a background music, the 5 tracks have been carefully placed together and require closer listening..."

MEELKOP & TORE HONORE BOE, ROEL: Soezacht CD (BROM 03). $15.00

"The studio itself, with all its equipment and its specific acoustic qualities, became our source of inspiration. Working with the analogue synths in there and making room recordings, we gradually built up a body of raw material that led the way to the construction of the tracks on this CD. About Tore Honore Boe: "...a link between Dada, Merz, or the long collage and concrete music tradition: Boe creates a personal, crystalline, and sparkingly clear sound constructed out of microphysic elements of chance and risk by occasionally using amplified everyday objects and, in other instances, field recordings and processing of all these. A personal creator with a style avoiding comparison and whose choice of unusual formats has led him to work with records, floppy disks, or micro-cassettes. The singular beauty of his music stems from this premises, but also from the emotional atmosphere of the spaces where his live interventions take place..."

BJÖRGULFSSON & JONAS ÖHLSSON, HEIMIR: Brombron 04: Unspoken World Tour CD (BROM 04). $15.00

"Icelandic artist Heimir Björgulfs (ex-Stillupsteypa) and Swedish artist Jonas Öhlsson team up for a strange blend. A frozen margarita from the north perhaps...? Both artist are educated in the visual arts as well as Heimir having studied sonology at The Royal Conservatory in Den Haag and Jonas electro-acoustic music at Fylkingen in Sweden. They both live and work in Amsterdam, and have numerous releases behind their back, solo and in various projects. Bringing their nordic background into the Extrapool studio in Nijmegen, the pair used a lot of old analog gear available to them there in combination with their own high-tec digital machines to make this very varied album of 23 tracks ranging from funky noise to abstract old school acid... quite different from previous outputs from them. Strange things started to happen as the Gelderland Legend appeared unexpected in the studio and singing sessions even took place to add just the right flavour of this otherwise unique cocktail."

MENS & JAAP BLONK, RADBOUD: Brombron 05: Bek CD (BROM 05). $15.00

"Bek brings together dutch vocal artist Jaap Blonk and dutch techno musician Radboud Mens. Jaap is known from his two previous Staalplaat releases (Flux de Bouche and Vocalor) and recites sound poetry of his own writing, as well as from others. He is also renowned as an improviser and has worked with almost everybody in that field. Radboud Mens is a trained visual artist, but is also a skilled audio engineer. In his techno based music he searches for the physical aspects of sound. In Bek (dutch for 'mouth') all sound sources are derived from Jaap Blonk's voice. He mimics techno rhythms, which were recorded by Radboud Mens. Together they created five distinctively different dance music pieces. There are five different approaches: techno, drum & bass, minimal techno and gabber. Upon playing this CD, the rhythms will grab and you won't hardly notice the fact that this is voice based. Only upon close listening you will hear the difference between a 303 and Jaap's voice."

BURKE & KEVIN DRUMM, DAN: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT BURKE). $15.00

"In 2001 Dan Burke (aka Illusion Of Safety's frontman) and Kevin Drumm embarked on a small European Tour, bringing them also to the VPRO studios. This was the third time that Dan Burke made recordings there, the first two being previously released in the Mort Aux Vaches (and both are still available). Rather then playing under the Illusion Of Safety moniker, this was a tour of two like minded improv artists. Dan Burke has been doing Illusion Of Safety since the mid 80s, releasing many CD's and the band has seen many members besides Burke, including Jim O'Rourke, Mark Klein and Kurt Greisch. They balance on the fringe of silence and noise, always seeking out the beauty. A discography by Kevin Drumm reads like a who's who in the world of improvised music. He has released CD's with Ralf Wehowsky, Taku Sugimoto (various releases, such as for Boxmedia, Sonoris and Meme), Martin Tetreault, Axel Dorner and Lasse Marhaug (plus lots that we forget of course) as well as various solo works for Perdition Plastics, Mego and Fringes. This CD is a fine improvisation between the closely contact microphone objects, guitar and laptop of Dan Burke and Drumm's guitar and ancient analogue synthesizer. A very dynamic work, which ranges from sheer silence to sheer noise, always with a sharp edge."

COH: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT COH). $15.00

"Coh is a man who wants to let music speak for itself and prefers to have as little as possible known about himself. Coh (meaning sleep in Russian, and not 'Sun' as someone once put out wrongly in an interview) is one Ivan Pavlov, who appeared on the front of music with a stunning release for Carsten Nicolai's Raster Noton in 1998. The recordings present on this CD were made in 1999 and were part of a small tour in The Netherlands, which brought him to play in Paradiso, Amsterdam, on an evening with Project DARK and Mum. The first band was also present in the studio, when Coh recorded his set there and, together with the regular VPRO staff, they were the only audience present. The recordings on this CD was his set that he prepared for his Paradiso concert. Coh's music is all derived from his laptop, but unlike many others, he's one of the very few to produce glitch music that is warm, atmospheric and almost lyrical."

DAVIS, GREG: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT GD). $16.00

"1) Field recording from the garden at Hotel Rembrandt across the street from VPRO studios. Fender rhodes improvisation. site specific. relocating. 2) Convoluted bit reduced slowed down glöckenspiel tones and Casio sk1 organ drones. disintegration. colliding angled sounds. 3) Melodica chords. New years noise maker clickers. deconstructed cumulus beats. 4) Chord organ blankets. Scissors. paper. maracas/shakers. coalescing rhythms. First guitar. 5) Slow motion combines with fast motion. Chimes. Resonance. 6) Serein = a mist, or very fine rain, which sometimes falls from a clear sky a few moments after sunset. Tripletting gallops as three and two. 7) Tibetan singing bowls. microscoping. 8) Emerging from sleep to a smile and a hug. Plenty of sunshine. Second guitar. 9) Feedback valleys and dungeons. Quagmire. Tube tapping. 10) Thickets can be endlessly wonderful and complex. Beautiful inside. Altering preconceptions of noise. 11) Northern Arizona rainpipe. Sine tones. After Lucier. 12) Dancing with birds, rainshine, singing joy. 'from their eyes, the people must look like miniature toys.' 13) Children splashing in a bathtub. Arizona creek."

ILLUSION OF SAFETY: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT IOS). $18.00

"Second IOS release in the Mort Aux Vaches series. This new one was recorded during the May 1997 European tour, and is Dan Burke solo. He presents a more 'present' release, featuring clear electronics (like the opening piece, which is like O'Rourke's Disengage) to electro-acoustic treatments. Although entirely improvised, this is one very coherent CD, that shifts between moods and textures. Housed in sandpaper and silkscreened in red."

INADA, KOZO: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT KI). $18.00

"Kozo Inada, who lives in Osaka, is a web programmer and sound artist. He has released a series of CDs from Staalplaat, Digital Narcis Ltd, Selektion, V2. He always make sounds based on the plan he thinks is perfect using his knowledge of acoustic-psychology and MAX/MSP software. This 50 minutes-long track give you the emotions and feelings: high pressure, fear, aura of grandeur, tranquility, trip, and so on... In making III, he uses mainly various field-recording sound materials: gongs of temple, children's laughter, chirp of insects.... They are prolonged, shortened and processed so carefully that we are overwhelmed by his sound flow, to find ourselves deeply involved in his aesthetic. It seems that III is by far the best work Kozo has ever made in terms of percentage of completion and diversity of sounds."

MAIN: Mort Aux Vaches: Exosphere CD (MORT MAIN). $18.00

"The sound sources for this piece are derived from field recordings made in transit on a short series of Main concerts around Europe. Most of Main's composition has a sense of movement and descriptive tone of space/ expanse which are often derived or inspired from field recordings that are site specific in a larger context. To change tact, I had the idea of documenting the almost forgotten part of a journey : The relatively short or connecting trips made between hotels and stations/ airports etc., which are often considered uninteresting, as we are mentally preparing for the bigger part of the journey."

MASSIMO: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT MASS). $15.00

"27 years old, computer expert, specialist in hardware for a Canadian firm, the Catanese Massimiliano Sapienza, assumed name Massimo, started out in '99 with the release of two successive CDs on the Staalplaat label (Massimo (on Microwave) and Minimo! (on Staalplaat), which led him to be termed, a little prematurely, as one of the so-called "microwavers". A wide range of collaborations (Kozo Inada, Pata, Dat Politics, etc.), gigs around Europe, participation in anthologies (such as the box Invalid Object Series from Fallt) and remix (for Epic/Sony he distorted in spoof nightmare rhythms Run Christian Run by Super Furry Animals), brought him in record time to the attention of intenders as a laptop artist (and desktop), able to express himself in a language also very distant from the conceptual minimalism of glitch. In this vein the long track recorded live in Amsterdam for the well known series Mort Aux Vaches seems to be a kind of homage to the most brutal of power electronics, extorting from the computer chaotic fibrillations and tempestuous pulses worthy of the most exhausting Merzbow."

ALVA NOTO/SIGNAL/KOMET/BYETONE: Mort Aux Vaches 2CD (MORT NOTO). $17.00

"Staalplaat is pleased to announce the first Mort Aux Vaches double CD, which features 4 projects from the Raster-Noton label. These four bands might be considered the core of that label, and maybe more so, the most influential electronic music around. Since 1996 they are exploring music that has been called 'clicks & cuts' or 'microwave'. Featured are Alva Noto, Byetone, Komet and Signal. Each of these projects has its distinct sound that differs from the others. Alva Noto sounds very clean with his high pitched rhythms, Komet and Byetone are both more techno influenced and Signal (normally a collaboration between Komet, Alva Noto and Byetone) is the most experimental one, with its droning soundscapes. Signal and Byetone were recorded at the VPRO in 1999. Alva Noto also recorded a set there, the first live presentation of 'Prototypes', but it's replaced here by a different recording. Komet was not present during the recordings but in order to be complete, he submitted a live recording from around the same date. Cover by Alorezn. This is a limited edition of 1000 copies."

PIMMON: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT PIMMON). $18.00

"From all the people with a laptop and who travel, I rate Pimmon as one of the better ones. Not falling in a pure noise mode, or a pure improvisation mode, his music is a combination of melodies, raw chunks of sound and glitchy rhythms. To get the full Pimmon picture, one would also need the Mort Aux Vaches CD. Recorded at roughly the same time as the Tigerbeat CD, the live recording on Mort Aux Vaches CD dates from about a year ago, upon his first Europe tour. Of course, the live side is always arranged in a more free mode, small mistakes happen but these pieces bear the Pimmon trade mark all over: grainy yet warm glitch rhythms, amplified static hiss that evolves into small wormholes and crackles and pop all around. However, Pimmon never loses the idea of composition — he never leaps into pure improvisation nor does he let things get out of control, there is always the structure to control. Pimmon clearly has this capacity, both in his studio work, but also in his live work. Finally a very good example of the latter becomes available."

SAMARTZIS, PHILIP: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT PS). $15.00

"Philip Samartzis is a Melbourne based composer with a long history in experimental sound production and performance. He formed Gum in 1986 with Andrew Curtis releasing several albums and singles independently and through Korm Plastics (NL) and RRR Records (USA). Since 1995 he has primarily worked solo, releasing Residue (1998) & Windmills Bordered By Nothingness (1999) through Dorobo (Aust), both of which highlight his explorations in recording and processing acoustic and spatial environments through digital technologies. More recently Samartzis has extended his studio based techniques to incorporate live performance working both solo and in collaboration. Over the last two years he has performed with Kozo Inada, Gunter Muller, KK Null, Sachiko M, Voice Crack & Seichi Yamamoto. The Mort Aux Vaches release by Staalplaat (NL) contains elements of these collaborative and solo performances."

ROTOR, ROGER: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT RR). $14.50

"He has developed a very specific kind of electronic sound that is minimal and hypnotic. The roots of his music are not in modern techno, but lay deeply in a tradition that was founded by bands and musicians like Kraftwerk, Giorgio Moroder, Divine/Bobby O. or Suicide some decades ago. Usually, his live performances consist of different thematic parts, and are improvised. Even his studio recordings are mostly recorded live, because of his work with analog synthesizers and sequencers, there are no sounds out of sampling. He is working with patterns that are manipulated and transformed in real-time, very much like morphing in computer graphics. With the addition of steady, linear rhythms and noises from tapes or other sources, he creates a very lively, dynamic atmosphere and an irresistible dance groove. Roger Rotor has released music on such labels as Noise Museum and Old Europa Cafe. This Mort Aux Vaches CD was recorded in 1999 at the VPRO studios and comes in the usual Mort Aux Vaches package."

SENSURROUND ORCHESTRA: Mort Aux Vaches CD (MORT SO). $15.00

"This is a true orchestra, and conducted by a duo: the omnipresent Zbigniew Karkowski and Dutch electronics master Edwin Van Der Heide. The material used in this Mort Aux Vaches release was recorded during 3 live performances (Tokyo, Japan, Berlin, Germany, and London - as part of John Peel's Meltdown 98 festival). Known members of the orchestra are Merzbow, Tetsuo Furudate, Karkowski, Atau Tanaka, Kasper T. Toeplitz, K.K. Null, Peter Rehberg and M.M."

TV POW: Mort Aux Vaches: Being Nice Is Funny CD (MORT TV). $14.50

"TV Pow is a trio of free improvisers first organized in Tokyo 1995 by Michael Hartman and Brent Gutzeit, and later joined by Todd Carter in the move to Chicago in 1996. They employ samplers, percussion, invented instruments, synthesizers, turntables, tape manipulation, computers and multi-speaker surround-sound systems in a constantly evolving soundscape of sparkling electronics, ambient drones, minimalist techno, and cinematic field recordings. Creating through live performance something both new and recombinant, TV Pow has toured throughout Japan, Europe, and the United States. TV Pow has recorded and/or performed with Otomo Yoshihide, Erik M, John Butcher, Town and Country, Sachiko M, James Plotkin, Stillupsteypa, Gene Coleman and Ensemble Noamnesia, and Taku Sugimoto. TV Pow has releases on Gentle Giant Records, Box Media, Staalplaat, Erstwhile Records, and forthcoming a CD on Fire Inc. This recording at the Dutch VPRO studios was recorded during their first trip to Europe in 1999."

ZEITKRATZER: Mort Aux Vaches: Random Dilettantes CD (MORT ZEIT). $16.00

"'Zeitkratzer will soon be the center of innovative music. This project promises to be endlessly fascinating', the Wire magazine wrote three years ago. Three years later, after a lot of different projects, including Zeitkratzer's already legendary cooperation with Lou Reed, international critics agree: 'Zeitkratzer is the best contemporary music ensemble in the world' (Entrevista Lisboa.. For the Staalplaat-label Mort Aux Vaches Zeitkratzer realized a special project: Random Dilettantes, now out on CD: as a tribute to the label-name, every musician only melked the instruments of the other musicians in the group, instruments he does not know to play correctly. What came out, is a collection of 50 really differentiated sounds, to get hooked on. They are arranged as a piece, but can also be played and understood as a home-sound-installation, playing the CD with random or shuffle-funktion. So Zeitkratzer comes here with its best quality: the sound-fetishism. 'Zeitkratzer's sound is sensational' as the German newspaper 'Tageszeitung' wrote, ... and respect to the used media: a CD that will provide the listeners their own sound-installation. This CD should be played with random or shuffle funktion."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Azzazin CD (MUSLIM 003). $19.00

Limited edition of 800 copies, comes in new cover and special paper. "Shorter than many of Muslingauze's 1990s albums — 13 untitled songs over 45 minutes — Azzazin, originally released as part of the limited-edition subscription series, feels more like a collection of random experiments than a cohesive piece of work per se. If not something that would intrigue the casual listener, the hard-core fan will likely find something of interest on the various tracks here. Starting with an extremely minimal opening number — it's no surprise Finnish experimental duo Pan Sonic are Muslingauze fans, based on this track — Azzazin has a much more electronic feeling than most of Bryn Jones' other albums, eschewing the traditional elements used elsewhere for a rough, quietly aggressive and disturbing feel. Comparisons with Aphex Twin aren't too far off the mark here, but this is still clearly a Muslingauze release than any sort of rip-off. Beats are used in an extremely limited way throughout Azzazin, with rhythm, always a key component of Jones' work, more suggested at points by the nature of the keyboard lines than anything else." Ned Raggett, All Music Guide.

MUSLIMGAUZE: Return of Black September CD (MUSLIM 004). $19.00

"Boldly named after one of the most notorious Palestinian terrorist organizations, the group which carried out the Israeli Olympic athlete massacre in 1972, September matches its dark black artwork and design with equally doom-laden music (mastered as one track, despite the five separate song titles listed on the back). The title track relies on a slightly more gentle ominousness, with soft string plucking reverberating around the beat, but things start to pick up accordingly with the more aggressive, sharp-edged electronics shading into a tense blend of percussion and energy on 'Libya'; after shading away into a more minimal midsection, the track returns at a nervous, quick pace, with drums and drum pads firing off echoes into the mix as drones snake in and out of the song. One particularly gripping section has shards of noise firing off in all directions before settling back into the frazzled energy of the central beat, feeling like a soundtrack to a particularly good chase scene in a movie. 'Thuggee' and its accompanying remix keep the unsettled edge up, with sudden drum and electronic pulse intrusions erupting over the main flow of the songs. It's interesting to hear how Bryn Jones' love of dub applies itself in even more creative and different ways than from his productions of some years before, exchanging the slow pace for a fast one and applying Krautrock drone principles. A nicely stretched out, creepy remix of Gun Aramatic's 'Opiate and Mullah' wraps up this fine effort." — Ned Raggett, All Music Guide.

MUSLIMGAUZE: Sandtrafikar CD (MUSLIM 011). $20.00

Limited Edition of 800, comes in new cover and special paper. "A gentler release than many in the limited edition subscription series, Sandtrafikar fits into the vein of such works as Zul'm and Drugsherpa, with a low-key propulsion balanced against generally downbeat, dark arrangements, all succeeding in conveying a sense of beauty and mystery mixed with a strange, slight dread. The opening title tracks complement each other well, and share similar elements such as a recurrent conversational sample and moody keyboards. The first has a more loping feel in terms of percussion, while the second is driven by a quick electronic beat; both use the bells which have appeared on so many other Muslingauze recordings over the years. After the minute-long snippet, 'God and I,' the first 'Baku Oil Field' rattles up the brooding feeling even more: soft machine-like growls and wheezes rise from deep in the mix, with only an occasional bell and brief echoing samples of percussion and string instruments, calling to mind more familiar Muslingauze works — until a growth in general intensity at the end. It's quite wonderful, and the similarly named track which follows continues that flow, with percussion added throughout. Following another brief track, Sandtrafikar concludes with 'Remix by the Rootsman,' which is indeed the U.K. dub/dance figure tackling the title song. He comes up with a rough, shuffling bass drone mix that fits in quite well, although he's not simply trying to ape Muslingauze. It makes for a fine conclusion to one of Bryn Jones' best all-around efforts." — Ned Raggett, All Music Guide.

MUSLIMGAUZE: Remixes Volume 3 CD (MUSLIM 017). $19.00

Limited repress of this 1998 release. "Muslingauze remixes Muslingauze remixes Muslingauze. Limited edition of 700 copies in imprinted jewelcase. Muslingauze returning to dubby, reggae structures. Volume 1 and 2 were both released by Soleilmoon."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Red Madrasa CD (MUSLIM 032). $16.00

"Red Madrasa is a trip that takes off where Mr Jones left us in swirlie soundstorms of the dark arab nights with albums like Azad and Fakir Sind. Driving our tanks thru the desert towards Hamas Arc via some relaxed dubsmoking in the villages of Port Said. This release is a limited edition of 500 copies."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Jebel Tariq CD (MUSLIM 033). $18.00

"Jebel Tariq originally appeared in the middle of 2000 as Muslimlim 025, an MP3 only release distributed via Pretentious over the Internet. It was an extremely well received release and has been much requested since. Here at last is the CD re-issue of this excellent album. It has strong hand drum beats throughout but still maintains a very moody feel. It was undoubtedly these very elements that lead Jeremy Keens to state it was 'balanced between the ambient and beat sides' of Bryn's work. It goes beyond just these elements though. There are whispered voices changing to strong ululations, frequent flute 'samples' and then the bass. There are parts where the deep throb of the electric bass element gives a very dub feel and then there is the use of acoustic bass. The latter something very unusual for Bryn and it adds an almost jazz feel. All of this put together make this another strong, almost unique release from the incomparable Muslingauze."

VA: Anchortronic - 5.1 ... DVD (STCD 001DVD). $18.00

... Laboratory For Updatin Experimental Sound. "Anchortronic is a Time's Up audio project in cooperation with Staalplaat. It is dedicated to experimental music, in particular the process oriented techniques which in their attitude and technique imply and even demand a radical DIY aesthetic. A two year plan to research the capacity and possibilities of Surround Sound was set up and realized by inviting musicians, sound and video artists to a basic 5.1 audio studio at Time's Up in Linz/Austria. The resulting 18 tracks examine the process of expanding from stereo to 6 audio channels, a process that does not simply satisfy itself with effect-mashing like one might know from various Hollywood Soundtracks or Music/Video DVD's which succumb to a simply upscaled stereo idea. All tracks are uniquely composed for this format and take full advantage of the challenging situation of having 4 additional speakers to develop soundscapes, cutups, rock songs and electroschnitzels that live and breathe from the expanded technical structure. Most of the tracks are visualized." Artists include: Michael Strohmann, TV Pow, Alex Davies, nt, Electronicat, Stillupsteypa, Efzeg, Andreas Berthling, GOEM, Egotrip, Gloom, Alex Jöcht, Chris Fortescue, m9, Golden Tone, CTL01. 5.1 audio/video DVD.

BLONK, JAAP: Flux De Bouche CD (STCD 046). $19.00

1993 release, repressed. "Jaap Blonk is a self-taught composer, voice performer and sound poet. His unfinished studies in physics, mathematics and musicology mainly created a penchant for activities in a Dada vein, as did several unsuccessful jobs in offices and other well-organized systems. He took up saxophone and started to compose music, at first mainly jazz pieces and music for experimental theatre. In reciting poetry, especially the works of Antonin Artaud, Lucebert and Kurt Schwitters, he discovered the directness and flexibility of vocal utterance, whether using meaningful words or not. At present, he has developed into a prolific writer/composer and a specialist in the performance of sound poetry, supported by a powerful stage presence and an almost childlike freedom at improvisation. On this debut CD he interprets his own work as well as the work of leading figures of sound poetry such as the Dadaist Hugo Ball, Tristan Tzara and Rudolf Blümner."

O'ROURKE, JIM: Disengage 2CD (STCD 048). $17.00

Limited repress of this long unavailable & classic release, from 1992. "Jim's third album proper (following the Ground Below Above Our Heads LP on Frank 'Sonig' Dommert's Enterpuffil label and the Tamper CD on Extreme, discounting his split/collaboration with Syllyk, 'Scan' and about six cassettes released on labels like Sound of Pig, Audiofile Tapes, Generations Unlimited, Complacency, etc...), from 1992. Through composed tape-based ensemble pieces featuring Jeff Cortazzo, Geoff Fontaine, Matt Guerrieri, Michael Prime, Scott Shell, Gretchen Wells, Sue Wolf (all on the first disc; 'Mere'), and Warren Fisher (with whom Jim co-composed the second disc; 'A Young Person's Guide to Drowning'). This set was my personal introduction to the O'Rourke planet/star-set (and what a fine, fine omniverse it's been and continues to be), the highlight of Jim's earlier tape-based work. A challenging and beautiful set of tonality clusters (often brushing inaudibility) that have never failed to spark some powerful emotion, even now, nearing ten years on in their history. Quite lovely." — Hrvatski.

MUSLIMGAUZE: Hamas Arc CD (STCD 051). $16.00

1993 release. "Hamas Arc consists of two tracks from the Vote Hezbollah album and five from the otherwise unreleased Shekel of Israeli Occupation. Dedicated to the P.L.O."

MUSLINGAUZE: Maroon CD (STCD 084). $15.00

"In 1995, Staalplaat released Maroon by Muslimgauze and we announced there would be three different editions. A deluxe digipack with an original stamp by the Palestinian Authority (500 copies), a deluxe digipack without the stamp (500 copies) and an unlimited digipack with a new design. The third edition was never released, due to the high output of Muslimgauze at that time — it was shortly after the release of Maroon that we started our limited edition subscription series. Over the years we believed to have lost the films and artwork for the third edition, another problem in producing it. Recently the films showed up (albeit in a not too best state) and we decided to produce the original third, unlimited edition of Maroon. It is now available. Maroon was the first Muslimgauze of 1995 and brought back the sound of confrontation. Musically Maroon continues Salaam Alekum Bastard (which was a break with the Blue Mosque and Zealot releases) and is dub inspired techno, laid back sounds with taped radio voices from the middle east that appear apparently random in the mix."

RAPOON: Fallen Gods (Cidar) 2CD (STCD 094 CD). $22.00

"This 1994 release by Robin Storey (ex-zoviet*france:) brings together his usual sound sources in a typically unique and satisfying manner. From the throaty intonations mixed with the woodwinds and repetitive rhythms on 'Sanctum', to the tabla loops on 'Fallen Gods', which loop in such a way that they strike you as being somewhat off at first, but your ears quickly become accustomed to this non-standard looping technique."

MUSLINGAUZE: Beyond The Blue Mosque CD (STCD 116). $16.00

Repressed. "Since late 1995 Staalplaat has issued limited edition releases by Muslimgauze. Until now 9 of those releases were available, and they are all sold out. To explain once more: the limited editions are for die-hard fans, giving the possibility to collect a lot of Mr. Muslimgauze's music (and imagine: there is still much you didn't hear). Beyond The Blue Mosque is the first in a series of those compilations. Compiled by Berrie Kamer (VPRO's Mort Aux Vaches man) with the best tracks taken from Izlamaphobia, Azzazin, Return Of Black September, Deceiver and the Zealot 10". The music shifts back and forth between aggressive up tempo pieces (from Izlamaphobia and Deceiver) and the dark, moody brooding atmospheres (from Azzazin)."

MUSLINGAUZE: Vampire Of Tehran CD (STCD 127). $15.00

Limited repress of this CD originally issued in 1996. "Gholamreza Kordieh was dubbed the Vampire Of Tehran because he preyed on girls and women at night while working as a taxi driver, he was flogged then lashed by relatives of his nine victims, then hanged from a mobile crane to the chants of 'allah akbar', a just end."

MUSLINGAUZE: Observe With Sadiq Bey CD (STCD 131). $16.00

Repressed. "Dedicated to the Naqba, the catastrophe of 50 years ago. This release is not part of the limited edition series. This time an unlimited one. Music-wise more up tempo, distorted beat material, with dashes of trip hop like beats. Muslimgauze find their way round in current dance music trends, but he's not willing to settle down, give in or sell out. Many assorted vocal snippets, from anguished exclamations to persuasive Middle Eastern politispeak, are expertly woven into the straightforwardly ethnic rhythms of State of Palestine. Darker, and infused with various whispers."

MUSLINGAUZE: Speaking With Hamas CD (STCD 140). $15.00

"This is the third in our bi-annual series of 'best of Muslimgauze limited edition'. These CD's are intended for those who think that Muslimgauze was an over productive unit, but think that they should still keep up with some of what Muslimgauze was doing. So after a couple of limited editions only, Staalplaat releases a best of. Speaking With Hamas was compiled by Bryn Jones himself early 1997 and he thought it would be nice to include a new, previously unreleased track. In his words: 'It's for people who don't deserve it.'"

BJORGULFSSON, HEIMIR: Machina Natura CD (STCD 148). $10.00

"Staalplaat is proud to present the tenth release in their 'material series', this one by Heimir Bjorgulfsson. Now what is the 'material series'? A series of CD's with microscopic, microwave, glitch, click or whatever it is called music. All CD's are packed in jewel cases with no printwork. All information is etched on the CD box itself. Inside special material is housed, like, in this case wallpaper. The CD itself is a so-called AB CD: a small ring with music, and the outside of the CD fully transparent. New solo CD by Heimir Bjorgulfsson, who makes up one third of the Icelandic trio stillupsteypa, with a special guest appearance by american sound artist John Hudak. Continuing where left off from his last year 'discreet journey digitalis' on Ritornell. 'machine natura' (an interpretation inconsistent with the actuality of a situation) contains two different worlds spinning into each other, the digitally generated sound and various natural field recordings, still sounding like neither. A somewhat man made mechanical phenomenon." 15 minute CD EP.

MUSLINGAUZE: Hamas Cinema Gaza Strip CD (STCD 157). $15.00

"Muslimgauze's latest offering is an all blasting, furious work which goes by the title Hamas Cinema Gaza Strip. The CDs were produced by Sony Dadc, but the covers were printed in Amsterdam. This CD does not fall in the limited series." First release of this material, all tracks written & performed by Muslimgauze, 1998.

AUTOPSIA: Colonia CD (STCD 158). $15.00

"Autopsia's latest release for Staalplaat is compilation of long deleted tracks from CD's released by Hyperium in the mid-nineties. Tracks are culled from Humanity Is The Devil, The Birth Of Crystal Power, Secret Christmas History, The Silence Of The Lambs, Palladium and Mystery Science plus a previously unreleased track from 1999. Autopsia, from former Yugoslavia, now in exile in Prague have been producing mysterious orchestral music since the late 80s. Dealing with orchestral tunes from the 19th century which are sampled, they have created an unique sound of their own. In their own words, it goes like this: Colonia is a project that implements death as its theme in order to represent the epoch: the colonial age. Death is not a mere event in the epoch — terror or genocide, conflict or destruction — the epoch itself is at stake here: death as time, the age of its reign, death from perspective of faith that encompasses the totality of any being which is founded in metaphysical construct. The structure of Autopsia's sound is syncretic, composed of multiple levels that on one hand refer to liturgical forms and on the other to paradoxical junctures of sub-cultural products of elite technology with proto-urban mythologies."

MENS, RADBOUD: Pulse CD (STCD 161). $18.00

"After 4 years there is a new full length CD-release by Radboud Mens. Radboud Mens is a sound-artist from Amsterdam whose work is rooted in and continues to develop within the broadest definition of contemporary music. While his interest in the physical effects of sound on the body gave him a preference for noise in his early work, his later music has contributed to the development of minimal-techno, glitch and experimental dub. Mens uses electronic technology to render audible microscopic sound processes. His sound-world is in a constant state of spatial and temporal flux, and incorporates found sound. Pulse was created completely in the computer; all sounds were generated and processed in the computer. The DSP function used to process the sounds is called 'convolution' which uses 'sound X' as a filter, to filter 'sound Y' and visa versa. Although all sounds are digitally generated, they all have an organic feel to them and the whole CD has a spheric quality to it."

VA: Compilation - O' Superman Remixs CD (STCD 162). $16.00

"This remix compilation CD deals with the legendary popsong 'O Superman (For Massenet)' by Laurie Anderson. This song was released by One Ten Records in 1981 and becomes a No. 2 hit in England in 1982. It is subtitled 'For Massenet' because it is 'musically paraphrasing' Jules Massenet's composition 'O Souverain'. It was performed live for the first time during her show called United States at New York's Orpheum Theater. Phrased like an electronic mantra, the song is charged with the composer's foreboding over the dawn of the Reagan era. When it was first released One Ten Records, the tiny New York label that released some of Anderson's early recordings, couldn't keep up with the demand. Warner Brothers became interested and offered to record and distribute 'O Superman' as a single and a track on what would eventually become Big Science, her first album. Anderson utters sound bytes and canned messages through an electronic voice, an effect which evokes an advanced, yet emotionally-distanced society. Evoking this world of increasingly impersonal, corporate relations she sings, 'This is the hand, the hand that takes, as a hand casts a shadow against the wall. Initially open, the hand retracts and becomes a shotgun. Where is justice?' Justice is gone, the voice declares, there is only force. This compilation, that is so topical for current history, contains remixes by: Com.a, Electric Company, Team Doyobi, Freiband, Massimo, Danny de Graan, Origin Of Sound, Staalplaat Soundsystem and Radboud Mens."

87 CENTRAL: Formation CD (STCD 187). $16.00

"The second full length release by Jeff Carey a.k.a. 87 Central. After debuting on ERS vinyl, a full length cd on JDC, 87 Central does a Staalplaat CD release. Digital reconstructions of analog feedback systems, digital processing, and data manipulations."

VA: Yokomono LP (STLP 13263). $17.00

Limited edition of 450, loop record on red vinyl. "The Staalplaat soundsystem 12" lock groove record is specially made as tool for the Yokomono installation at the Earational festival #7 in 's-Hertogenbosch. Each side consist of 11 groups of 5 different loops. For one side of this record Staalplaat Soundsystem has select loops and for the other side we have invited: Freiband, Heimir Bjorgulfsson, Jim O'Rourke, John Hegre, Kozo Inada, Danmarks Ældste Sangskat ønsker, Massimo, Nerve Net Noise, Pimmon, Radboud Mens, Rechenzentrum. to make 5 loops each. Some made for interference, some made to harmonise, all made for the location. Yokomono is the Staalplaat Mono Erosive Surround Sound Installation."

IKEDA, RYOJI: Time And Space 2x3" CD (STMCD 009). $15.00

"When Staalplaat first got their copy of 1000 Fragments: Ikeda's self released debut CD, we were taken by it's short fragmentaric media cut ups, which showed a fresh approach to the plunderphonica that we welcome most heartedly. An invitation was send to Ikeda to do a CD for us, but it has taken almost two years before Time & Space was realized. Much happened: Ikeda tours frequently with performance group Dumb Type and he released the beautiful  $\pm$  on Touch (which sets an example of headphonic music followed by others). A double 3" CD is something out of the ordinary in musical industry, so the package took some time. Here it is... 'Space' is a beautiful 17 minute journey with great depth, high pulses — headphonic music like only Ikeda can do. 'Time' has five tracks of media cut-ups and nerving electronics. Although not intended the daring listener could try to mix time and space."

MINNEAPOLIS SUMMIT: Minneapolis Summit 3" CD (STMCD 021). $7.50

"On October 1, 2001, five audio artists convened in Minneapolis (US) to create a studio improvisation, without the benefit of either prior planning or rehearsal. The recording 'Minneapolis Summit' is the result of this occasion. The performers include Escape Mechanism (Jon Nelson, Minneapolis), Steev Hise (Portland, Oregon), Wobbly (Jon Leidecker, San Francisco), and The Tape-beatles (John Heck and Lloyd Dunn, Prague). This event marks the first occasion that these artists have recorded together. Using a simple set-up in a borrowed recording studio at a local radio station, each of the improvisors brought their own equipment, consisting of laptop computers, digital samplers, and mini-disc players. Everything was patched through a mixing board and recorded directly to hard disk. The session resulted in three takes, and from those recordings, we have edited the longest of them down to 21 minutes for this release. The work ends up being an exercise in making (often humorous) meanings off the cuff from what is essentially random source material (none of the performers was aware of what the others were bringing). As such, it showcases the performers' wit and nerve at pulling it off, mostly, in real time."

STAALPLAAT SOUND SYSTEM: Sweet Sissy And The Ballroom Hiss 3" CD (STMCD 022). $7.50

"Staalplaat Soundsystem is an eclectic mix of techno culture and sound art installation. The initiator of Staalplaat Sound-system Geert-Jan Hobijn is the founder of the Staalplaat music label and he has been the organizer of many sound art and performance events in the past. What is probably not so well known is that Geert-Jan Hobijn not only is a producer, but has also always been influential in how many Staalplaat productions looked and sounded. With Staalplaat Soundsystem Geert-Jan Hobijn finally shows his own creative talents openly. No doubt the move of the Staalplaat headquarters from Amsterdam to Berlin has been important in making this happen. Whereas in Amsterdam media culture is an indoors experience most of all, Berlin has a very strong public media art scene with a deep interest in sound art and experimental techno-music. Geert-Jan Hobijn knows the experimental music scene inside out. With the Staalplaat Soundsystem he combines this knowledge with his experience in shaping performance art events. Working from a punk aesthetic (Staalplaat was founded in the beginning of the 80's) and his knowledge of 20th century avantgarde music traditions the Staalplaat Soundsystem has developed into a trashy extravaganza with the down to earth simplicity of the Cagney music universe. Every event is tailored to fit its environment. Give the Staalplaat Soundsystem an interesting or challenging space to work with and the space gets transformed into an immersive environment with many of the characteristics of the world of experimental music and performance in which Staalplaat has always been one of the vectors." —Josephine Bosma

MULLENDER, ROB: Metro Magnetics 3" CD (STMCD 024). $10.00

"Metro Magnetics is the first commercial release of material by London based sound artist and sculptor Rob Mullender. It consists of magnetic field recordings of metro stations in Moscow, London and Vancouver. The three pieces are edited down from hours of material and multilayered, but the sound on the recordings is otherwise unaltered. A longstanding fascination with environmental sound and energy has informed Rob's recordings and sculptures, and his work centres on making the inaudible audible, or revealing through sound."

VAN DER HEIDE, EDWIN: Wavescape 3" CD (STMCD 025). $10.00

"Edwin van der Heide (1970) studied Sonologie at the Royal Conservatory in The Hague. He graduated in 1992. He is a composer and performer primary of electronic music and designer of sound installations. He is working continuously on developing new musical instruments, new techniques for performance and new methods of sound generation/production to develop his own new musical language. Van der Heide has worked extensively in the group Sensorband, together with Atau Tanaka and Zbigniew Karkowski. From the liner-notes: 'Wavescape is a soundinstallation inspired by the sound of underwater environments. The goal was not to just make the sound from underwater acoustically audible but also to translate the underwater space into a perceivable acoustic space.'

STARKLAND:

DOCKSTADER, TOD: Quatermass CD (ST 201). $13.00

Seminal musique concrete recordings from the early 60s that were first issued on CD in '92/'93. These 2 CDs offer all of Dockstader's principal solo works, including unreleased works and material that has been out of print on LP for over a decade (spread over 3 LPs on the Owl label). Dockstader deserves shelf space next to Schaeffer, Henry, Stockhausen, Varèse, etc. — historically vital, minutely detailed experimental electronic music and tape composition. "My choice of the term 'Organized Sound' for my own work was, in part, a tribute to the 'Poème' and to Varèse. I also chose it because, in the 60s, the term 'electronic music' was coming to mean music made purely of synthetic sound, and I was working in both 'concrete' and electronically generated sounds...my 'synthesizer' for everything on this CD was one or two sine-wave test generators ('oscillators' in those days) which were 'played' by turning a dial. I forced them to produce harmonics (square waves) by amplifying them into distortion, and got pulse-trains out of them by temporarily rewiring them into instability. The 'notes' they produced were achieved by editing tape, note by note (by note by note...)...it had a muscular joy to it. I think a lot of us had fun up on that singing high wire, teetering between control and chaos, trying to push the sound a little farther toward Something we hadn't heard before, working in it...listening." —Dockstader.

VA: Immersion DVD (ST 2010). $16.00

"This leading-edge DVD release allows 13 well-known composers to dramatically explore surround sound for the first time. The enveloping results are intense, exciting, haunting, beautiful. The 13 pieces here premiere on this recording — they've never previously been heard anywhere. Because this DVD-Audio/Video recording, the first of its kind in history, breaks new ground both musically and technologically (all tracks commissioned for 5.1 channel surround sound). The world's best-known mastering engineer (Bob Ludwig) and the world's leading surround sound engineer (Tomlinson Holman) were both actively involved with this release." Artists include Pamela Z, Bruce Odland, Maggi Payne, Carl Stone, Phil Kline, Ellen Fullman, Lukas Ligeti, Paul Drescher, Pauline Oliveros, Paul Dolden, Merzbow, Ingram Marshall, Meredith Monk. "In this disc, a new genre of music is born." — Kyle Gann.

DOCKSTADER, TOD: Apocalypse CD (ST 202). $13.00

2nd, equally desirable volume, which completes the documentation of Dockstader's organized sound works. "The obsessive care with which Starkland have compiled these extraordinary recordings should ensure that Dockstader will be remembered as the innovative, visionary figure he undoubtedly was." —The Wire.

AMIRKHANIAN, CHARLES: Walking Tune CD (ST 206). $13.00

Contemporary electroacoustic music. "Amirkhanian incorporates samples acoustic environmental sounds (which he calls 'representational sounds') and traditional musical pitched sounds ('abstract sounds') to develop dreamscapes which act as disjunct narratives. His work introduces a world of memory-triggers which tend to induce a trance-like listening state."

KLUCEVSEK, GUY: Transylvanian Software CD (ST 207). $13.00

New issue of this CD previously released by the obscure John Marks Records label. "Klucevsek's five pieces here are inspired by a variety of sources. The title piece (1991) is based on Hasidic wedding music, while the 'Viavay Rose' Variations' (1989) is based on traditional melodies from Madagascar and 'Perusal' (1988) is inspired by Andean pan-pipe music. The rhythmically complex 'Three Microids' (1991) is a tribute to Bela Bartok, and 'Bandoneons, Basil and Bay Leaves' (1993) was written in memory of Astor Piazzolla. The CD also offers John Zorn's 'Road Runner' (1986), Fred Frith's 'The Disinformation Polka' (1994) and William Duckworth's 'Slow Dancer in Yugoslavia' (1990).

CLOIDT, JAY: Kole Kat Krush CD (ST 208). $13.00

"Starkland's latest CD features the first recording of Jay Cloidt, the 'Spike Jones of the Bay Area's new music scene'. The Kronos Quartet, Paul Drescher Ensemble, and Basso Bongo are the performers. The CD opens with 'Kole Kat Krush' (1989), commissioned by the Kronos Quartet and recorded by them here at Skywalker Ranch. This frequently performed piece juxtaposes music from Stravinsky, Beethoven, Eric Clapton, and Sly Stone. As Carl Stone notes in the CD's introduction, Cloidt typically combines sampled real-world sounds with live snippets of familiar classical and pop music, using 'skill, wit, perversity, and adroitness.'"

KLUCEVSEK, GUY: Free Range Accordion CD (ST 209). $13.00

"The CD presents the premiere recording of a powerful, deeply moving 18 minute work by the widely performed Aaron Jay Kernis. There is also a premiere recording of a work by the well-known Japanese composer Somei Satoh. Other composers featured include Stephen Montague, Jerome Kitzke, Lois V Vierk, Guy Klucevsek, Lars Hollmer, and Burt Bacharach."

KLEIER, ROGER: Deep Night, Deep Autumn CD (ST 211). $13.00

"Roger Kleier, an experimental guitarist, is an important part of New York's downtown new music scene. He regularly performs and records with a variety of leading-edge musicians, including Kato Hideki, Ikue Mon, David Moss, Phill Niblock, Marc Ribot, Elliott Sharp, La Donna Smith, Carl Stone, Davey Williams, John Zorn, and others. Kleier's unique style draws equally from improvisation, contemporary classical music, and the American guitar traditions of blues, jazz, and rock. Kleier seduces listeners by mutating his guitar in various ways, ranging from the hallowed techniques of Jimi Hendrix and Captain Beefheart, through the extended techniques of avant-garde guitar-mangling, to the recent technological innovations of sampling, layering, and digital sound processing."

EEN, ROBERT: Mystery Dances CD (ST 212). $13.00

Robert Een is an award-winning and widely acclaimed composer, singer, and cellist. Based in New York and Los Angeles, he has performed his music throughout the world. "Mystery Dances is like a musical caravan drawing upon traditions from Asia, the Middle East, Europe, and the United States. The music is energetic, filled with contrasting moods of humor and poignancy." — Meredith Monk.

STARLIGHT FURNITURE:

LOOP CIRCUIT: Sound On Sound LP (STAR 14). $13.50

"Limited to 222 numbered copies. Originally released by Japan's G.R.O.S.S. label as a cassette in a limited edition of 88 copies in late 1994, Loop Circuit's Sound on Sound joins Akifumi Nakajima (also known as prolific noise artist Aube) with Dub Murashita together in an all-electronic self-hypnosis seminar. Basing each of his Aube releases on a distinct and singular source (e.g. water, medical equipment, etc.), Nakajima's "sound designs" range from subtle, ambient journeys to intense noise crash-landings; for this rare collaboration, he surfs a slightly different wavelength. The duo limit their source materials here to purely electronic sounds, loops and effects, creating a mesmerising, constantly shifting mosaic."

INCAPACITANTS VS. IN SPITE OF FLAMING CREATURES: Vitamin Buckfast LP (STAR 15). $14.00

"With the golden age of Japanese noise all but tarnished and rusted, here is one last chunk of atonal screech before the oxidation is totally complete. Consumers of all things brutally loud, relentlessly dissonant and, most importantly, originating from Japan, will not require an introduction to Incapacitants — the noise duo consisting of Toshiji Mikawa and Fumio Kosakai."

CUT-OUT: Interlude With Fun Machine CD (STAR 18). $14.00

"Steve Fisk (Pell Mell, Pigeonhed) and Bob Beerman (Pell Mell) approached Interlude With Fun Machine in a similar manner to their work in Pell Mell: set up a pattern, offset it with a contrasting pattern, layer on a counter-pattern, and so on. But where Pell Mell's renown derives from a signature guitar-based sound, Cut-Out relies on textures, patterns, found sounds, presets, rhythm boxes, inversion of background and foreground elements, and a very deadpan sense of humor. The all-instrumental album was recorded in one week, and benefits from noticeable inspiration from Hematic Sunsets' (aka Asmus Tietchens) odd combination of kitschy lounge and soundtrack-ish music and "modern" electronic sounds; the casual, DIY, homespun aesthetic of French Paddleboat; classics such as Dieter Moebius' Tonsperun and, of course, Eno's Another Green World; The Young Marble Giants' unadorned rhythm boxes and Wurlitzer frailty; and minimal electronic music by Thomas Leer and Robert Rental, Cabaret Voltaire, Pyrolator, Cluster, Harmonia, et al.)."

CUT-OUT: Interlude With Fun Machine LP (STAR 18 LP). $14.00

Limited LP version. "Steve Fisk (Pell Mell, Pigeonhed) and Bob Beerman (Pell Mell) approached Interlude With Fun Machine in a similar manner to their work in Pell Mell: set up a pattern, offset it with a contrasting pattern, layer on a counter-pattern, and so on."

GLANDS OF EXTERNAL SECRETION/DECAER PINGA: Tubular Bells LP (STAR 19 LP). $14.00

"The album that launched Richard Branson's Virgin Records and is virtually synonymous with The Exorcist, Mike Oldfield's Tubular Bells has been revisited by the composer himself over the years in hopes of rectifying problems that still trouble him to this day — elastic timing, dodgy playing, poor edits, changes in tone, background tape noise. Needless to say, such defects are tools of the trade for countless modern recording artists, especially at the bottom of the food chain. In this no-instruments interpretation of Oldfield's epic instrumental performed by Glands of External Secretion (side one) and Decaer Pinga (side two), deficiency is the cornerstone. By intentionally limiting themselves to prerecorded tapes, field recordings, electronic devices and effects, out-of-context musical passages, and anything else that did not require a musical instrument to be played — both bands interpret their respective halves of this legendary opus with methods that seem to run counter to the spirit of the original, yet paradoxically force it to shine through."

RANALDO, LEE: Broken Circle 7" (STAR 2). $3.50

MY CAT IS AN ALIEN: Il Segno LP (STAR 20). $13.00

"Beginning with a gloomy text entitled 'The Sign' written by guitarist / lyricist Roberto Opalio, My Cat Is An Alien entered The Space Room and recorded this dark and concrete improvisation, a single piece of howling and caustic ruination stretched over two sides of vinyl. Maurizio Opalio comes out of the fog with desolate acoustic guitar scratches, Roberto's electric space guitar scribbles as he spits out his words of urban alienation, and Viggio Vortex joins the brothers on percussion. Piano toy and toy keyboard were added later to enhance the surreal lyrics inspired by ghosts, a sense of psychic, cultural and social isolation in their hometown Torino, Italy, and the infinite lightness and beauty between the cement and the sky. Il Segno is about the mark of chance, avenues full of dust and fallen leaves, the Torino skyline's abandoned factories and chimneys with the mountains all around, and the dance of swallows at twilight, just before the darkness envelops everything."

DEAD C, THE: The Damned CD (STAR 21). $14.00

"Over the last 17 years, The Dead C have produced some of the most strident, uncompromising and downright nasty rock screech to exit from their homeland of New Zealand, without sacrificing an ounce of the grace and finesse required of tamers of gigantic, wild sand-worms. Their eighteen full-length albums and numerous seven-inch singles have garnered worldwide respect from vertebrates and invertebrates alike. The Dead C's improvised noise rock verges on disintegration with a trademark hazy disorientation, invariably evoking hypnotic and heavy moods. But The Dead C are no bummer. They have always sought liberation from shallow and easy rock conventions; amid the murk of cardboard box guitars, underwater vocals, and ramshackle drumming, a new consciousness emerges. The recognizable, sullen strumming, mumbling and lyrical ennui of painter and educator Michael Morley (also known for his solo work as Gate), anchored by percussionist Robbie Yeats and punctuated by the atonal bursts of writer and Corpus Hermeticum label boss Bruce Russell (also known for his solo work as A Handful of Dust), coalesce in a solid front that mocks the efforts of schmalz-peddling hacks."

DUSTBREEDERS AND JUNKO: Mommy Close the Door CD (STAR 22). $14.00

"The three tracks on Mommy Close the Door were all recorded live in France in late 2002 by Japanese vocalist Junko Hiroshige, whose murderous wail hypercubes Patty Waters, Yoko Ono, and the titular victim in Olivia de Havilland's 1972 crime flick The Screaming Woman, in collaboration with Yves Botz, Thierry Delles, Michel Henritzi, who extend the trad power trio into a Marclay mash with brutal rock'n'roll energies."

TEXT OF LIGHT: Text of Light CD (STAR 24CD). $14.00

"Text of Light was formed in 1999 to perform improvised music during screenings of films by Stan Brakhage and other American avant-garde filmmakers from the 1950s and '60s. These should not be considered soundtracks for Brakhage's works, which are intended to be screened silently. Rather, the group uses the films as an element to stimulate improvisation, like an additional player, juxtaposing film and music in a real-time performance mixed-media collage. On this CD the group, in various combinations, includes: Lee Ranaldo and Alan Licht on guitars and devices; Christian Marclay and DJ Olive on turntables; William Hooker on drums and percussion, and Ulrich Krieger of Zeitkratzer on sax and electronics."

STATIC CARAVAN (UK):

TOMCATS IN TOKYO: Sweet Gloomy Home CD (VAN 065 CD). $16.00

"Tomcats In Tokyo are Fabrice Rey and Fabrice Marsaud. From the headphone squelching opener 'Fish And Butterflies' to the lush, cavernous spaces of 'Turbid Liquor'. From the crunching breaking glass breaks of orange flickering to the hydraulic punch that is 'Tubular Friends'. It's clear that this is a band broadcasting at a higher frequency than normal. With serious radio play for their last single, a record of the year on the Boomkat site, in fact picked as the record of the year by Isan. Sweet Gloomy Home announces the bands arrival as a full time force to reckon with. A fusion of icy beats with the clicks 'n' brightly coloured techno building blocks. As much a Thomas Brinkmann as a Boards Of Canada release the album is verging on warp territory but armed with its own fully animated agenda it fucks with any established genre. An epic, emotive, atmospheric and iridescent beauty we have end product that is anything but formulaic. In short a truly impressive debut album bringing to mind Autechre, Four Tet and Thomas Brinkmann."

MANUAL: Isares CD (VAN 066 CD). $13.00

"Isares: is the title of Manual's third album. Another uplifting classic, this is warm raw swirling electronica. Minimal at times but with the swathing surrealism of My Bloody Valentine or the intense lethargy of Talk Talk. A fusion of icy beats with the sheer beauty of Slowdive's effects-pedal swoon and roots stretching out to the clean water pool of a late 80's David Sylvian. Four tracks that ache and sigh in all the necessary places. From the minute clicks 'n' brightly coloured building blocks of the title-track to the dreamy washes of closer horizon. Fragile, strenuous, lush and etiolated more in common with the Cocteau Twins or an economical Bill Nelson than the Boards Of Canada." 24-minute mini-album.

MANUAL: Isares LP (VAN 066 LP). $13.00

LP version. Manual's third album, from 2003.

LILIENTHAL: Tin Grey Black 12" (VAN 26). $10.00

"Six tracks of smooth but fractured, dense but porous disc manipulation that deserves to be released with a vertigo swirl label. Imagine your favourite Autechre record run through a quintessence mouli."

SYBARITE: Placement Issues LP (VAN 33 LP). $13.00

"A full-length vinyl album from the man called Xian. Compiling obscure and hard to find singles, a re-mix from E*Rock and other precious things. This is the second release on Static Caravan from Sybarite. It follows releases on Zeal; Emenate and Temporary Residence. 700 copies on thick vinyl. Varied sounds with an overall breakbeat feel, but on a deep and dubby tip."

CHARLES ATLAS: Felt Cover CD (VAN 34 CD). $15.00

"Think Piano Magic polished to within a few helium band widths using a Tony Conrad and La Monte Young polish and a Stanley Kubrick buffer. Drones, noise, space, great tunes; subtle Bridget Riley beats and gentle Anish Kapur strings are all present and correct."

STATTMUSIK (SWITZERLAND):

VA: Innovation Durch Irritation 2CD (STATT 001 CD). $15.00

"Boomtown-Sounds from Zürich Or: The descendants of Yello are impudent rascals... That Swiss oath comrades crackle now from all pipes. Milkland strikes back, and even Zürich has developed in the last years a club culture, which is unique in Europe. The double-CD of universal Stattnusik-label from the surrounding field of legendary Substrat-Club covers as overview 22 tracks of 22 different acts from Zürich. With names like Golden Boy and Miss Kittin lighten up two swiss stars the sky, but: other producers needn't hide. The Compilation features tracks from digital Crackle-Dub and Electro-Pop to Trash-Electronica and stomping minimal Tech-House. Sometimes it reminds to the old tradition of zurich 'konkrete' and to the famous Collages of Dadaism! And theres nothing remindig to 'Yello!' Zürich is not only capitol of party, chocolate und junkies, but brillant melting pot of contemporary electronic music." Artists include: Seelenfinder, Styro2000, Teleform, Intricate, Marcus Maeder, Alura, Are Dee, Bang Goes, Kalabrese, Roger Rotor, Instant, Steinbruchel, Cosili, Schallbetter, Canson.

STAUBGOLD (GERMANY):

REZNICEK: Audi & Goggo 10" (STAUB 004EP). $12.50

A 10" picture disc release. "New work by this audio and visual artist from Hamburg known for his releases on Wachsender Prozess and Odd Size as well as for collaborating with Klangkrieg. This 10" features two inspired series of miniature musique concrete pieces. 'Audi & Goggo' — the stereo mix of the quadrophonic soundtrack to a multivision show — is entirely made of voice sounds taken from private family tapes of the years 1965 to 1970. On 'Armgarburg' Reznicek works with sounds recorded in the house where he lives. A very personal statement convincing both musically and visually. Music with many ipm (ideas per minute)."

INSTITUT FUER FEINMOTORIK: Wenig Information: Kein Titel LP (STAUB 005LP). $12.50

"On this mini lp the group's work is focused on the acoustic sphere beyond usual gain signals. Elements of noise containing no original sense emerge to significant structures. The setup consists of six to eight 'empty' record players which means that no gain signals but the empty or manipulated lock grooves or the paper labels of the records are played. Besides that Institut Fuer Feinmotorik have found some other ways to generate acoustic signals out of empty record players: house-rubberbands, adhesive tape and tooth brushes are just a few instruments used to produce different sounds." "Audio-path non-congestion from this unnamed grouping of Staubgold-related individuals, recorded live between April & June 1998. It may all be a ruse but I sense the same sort of post-plate Brinkmann/Betke-isms (straight-line scratches 90 degrees from the travel of the tone arm, tempos of exactly 133.333-BPM for the perfect synchronization of downbeat ones along the side-path) in linear-growth & random click/pop aesthetic. Something for the Mego/Oval/life set." — Hrvatski.

REUBER: Anna LP (STAUB 008LP). $12.50

"First solo release (vinyl-only) by this member of Cologne electronic duo Klangwart. Following the paths of Klangwart's debut album Köln-Ölpe, Reuber mixes his idea of Krautrock and minimalism with elements of musique concrete and a strong sense for subtle structures. Besides the usual electronic instruments Reuber uses trombone, voice, bass — played by Jyrgen Hall (Groenland Orchester) — and various percussion instruments. Comes in full-colour cover designed by Lichtbad. A passionate exploration of rhythm and sound."

ADLER, GUNTER: 15 Electronic Pieces CD (STAUB 009CD). $14.50

"Jyrgen Hall, member of the Groenland Orchester, now releases on Staubgold his first solo CD using his alter ego Gunter Adler. Having a background in sound research and psychoacoustics, Hall appeared on the scene for the first time in the mid 90s, being a member of Hamburg's Stora Community and releasing music under the name Anubis. The 15 Electronic Pieces prove of Hall's long experience in working with electronic music. Being both a piece of very diligent work and a labor of love, his vivid electro-pop miniatures tell of adventurous travels to far away countries. His best trump card: simple and charming melodies."

GROENLAND ORCHESTER: Trigger Happiness CD (STAUB 010CD). $14.50

"Founded in 1998, the Groenland Orchester produces electronic pop music of a special quality, cleverly avoiding the aesthetic traps of common dance music. The duo's background in sound experimentation is obvious, but there's always room enough for simple and sweet melodies. The orchestra's conductors are Reznicek (a.k.a. Nova Huta) and Jyrgen Hall. Reznicek (programming, orchestration, electric guitar) is already well known for his experimental solo releases, for his collaborations with Klangkrieg and Felix Kubin, and for his Las Vegas Show with artist and painter Mariola Brillowska. Jyrgen Hall (programming, transfer, bass guitar) is a specialist in psychoacoustics and psychophysics. He also releases solo works under the pseudonym of Gunter Adler."

MAPSTATION: Sleep, Engine Sleep CD (STAUB 011CD). $14.50

"Second release (with 26+ minutes running time) by To Roccoco Rot member Stefan Schneider after his highly acclaimed solo debut on London's Soul Static Sound label in 1999. With Sleep, Engine Sleep, his second solo release, Stefan Schneider provides a beautiful collection of minimal pulsing rhythms, fragile melodies, and delicate sounds. The seven tracks on this mini album show a very intimate musical language simultaneously recalling Chain Reaction, Cluster, and the new school of 'clicks and cuts'."

MAPSTATION: Sleep, Engine Sleep LP (STAUB 011LP). $12.50

GROENLAND ORCHESTER: Nurobic CD (STAUB 013CD). $14.50

"Founded in 1998, the Groenland Orchester produces multi-dimensional electronic music of a special quality, cleverly avoiding the aesthetic traps of common dance music. Its background in experimental music is obvious and leads to an unique adventure in sound and structure created by as many as 40 orchestra members. Surreal pop for today's Hieronymous Bosch crowd. The orchestra's conductors are Günter Reznicek (aka Reznicek, Nova Huta) and Jyrgen Hall (aka Gunter Adler)."

GROENLAND ORCHESTER: Nurobic LP (STAUB 013LP). $12.50

LP version.

SACK AND BLUMM: 2x5" 10" (STAUB 014EP). $11.00

"After their highly acclaimed CD releases on Tom and Gefriem labels Sack (Cologne) and Blumm (Berlin) are back on vinyl and present themselves as solo musicians, each having recorded one side of this 10" mini album. Blumm's side is an adventurous collage of loops, rhythms and melodies, arranged in the style of a radio play and echoing the sound world of Sack & Blumm's previous duo work. Sack's five tracks are classic examples of his unique toy techno goes dada pop style."

AMBARCHI & MARTIN NG, OREN: Reconnaissance CD (STAUB 015CD). $14.50

"The first duo release by Australian composers Oren Ambarchi and Martin Ng from Sydney — a trilogy of pieces based upon the fluid architectural modulation of harmonics and resonances. Recalling the landmark experiments of the Sonic Arts Union (Robert Ashley, David Behrman, Alvin Lucier and Gordon Mumma), Ambarchi and Ng create an enigmatic tapestry of pulsing, shimmering and shifting sound which represents a subtle and compelling realignment of Eastern and Western minimalist traditions. Oren Ambarchi's work to date has been rooted in the exploration and extension of the guitar's outer limits with solo releases Insulation on Touch and Stacte 3 on Plate Lunch as well as collaborations with Robbie Avenaim on Tzadik and AMM's Keith Rowe, Fennesz, Peter Rehberg and Pimmon on Ritonell. Electronic musician Martin Ng currently works with such diverse artists as Farmers Manual's Hiaz Gmachl and woodwinds player Jim Denley. The unique full-colour art work accompanying this release was created by Viennese graphic designer Tina Frank (Mego)."

AMBARCHI & MARTIN NG, OREN: Reconnaissance LP (STAUB 015LP). $12.50

LP version limited to 500 copies. Full color sleeve.

BALANESCU, ETC., ALEXANDER: Lume Lume CD (STAUB 016CD). $14.50

"Co-released with Ars Electronica Center, Linz. During the Austrian Ars Electronica festival in September 2000 eight musicians led by well-known Romanian composer Alexander Balanescu came together to build a session group creating a 57-hour live soundtrack that was accompanied by daily performances. The recordings of these sessions made by Austrian national radio ORF show a fascinating confrontation of differing musical methods and styles through the collaboration of internationally renowned artists representing different generations. Balanescu himself edited the recordings to 17 pieces of various lengths, picking only the finest moments of this extraordinary four-day jam." Alexander Balanescu about Lume Lume: "I have experienced and come away with so much from Linz this year, working together with Sergio, members of To Rocco Rot, Siegfried, Rupert and Isabella. I was able to bring aspects of my music-making into sharp focus that would otherwise remain peripheral. These artists, with their own very particular areas of creativity, through an almost miraculous chemistry, managed to bring out the best of themselves and each other. I also learned how to play for and with the river, rain, wind, the changing sky, the back-drop of Linz's buildings, the passing ships, the people, dogs, the darkness and ourselves."

REUBER: Ruhig Blut CD (STAUB 018CD). $14.50

"Ruhig Blut (meaning 'keep cool') is the second solo release by Timo Reuber, member of Cologne electronic duo Klangwart, after his amazing debut album Anna from last year (Staubgold 8). The album is about swinging between poles — between A and B, city and countryside, living and working, ambient and beat. Reuber takes the artistic freedom and psychedelic spirit of the 70s, electronic equipment of the 80s and a 90s sound aesthetic to create his very own music for the new decade."

REUBER: Ruhig Blut LP (STAUB 018LP). $12.50

LP version.

VA: Staubgold CD (STAUB 020CD). $8.00

Lo-priced label introductory sampler CD. "14 tracks + video. Feat. Alexander Balanescu, To Rocco Rot, Mapstation, Ekkehard Ehlers, Groenland Orchester, Institut Für Feinmotorik, Reuber, Rafael Toral etc. Gorgeous string sounds besides vivid electro miniatures — fragile clicks and cuts side by side with anarchic rhythm structures — in between: psychedelic freak-out, beautiful feedback drones, burlesque dada pop. Wide space at the end. What sounds heterogenous in description, proves on this compilation to be as homogenous as adventurous sound journey through the catalogue of Cologne's Staubgold label. Its international artists share an enthusiasm for fresh sounds and structures which leads to very individual musical statements off the beaten track. Founded in 1998 by musician and journalist Markus Detmer, Staubgold provides a platform for the most different musical styles which still have one thing in common — they all want to inspire, touch and seduce."

EHLERS, EKKEHARD: Plays John Cassavetes LP (STAUB 021LP). $12.50

"Second part in the trilogy of vinyl-only mini albums to be released on Staubgold during 2001. The other two parts are dealing with Albert Ayler and Hubert Fichte."

TO ROCOCO ROT: Kölner Brett CD (STAUB 022CD). $14.50

"12 exclusive new tracks recorded by the trio of Lippok/Lippok/Schneider. Kölner Brett is the name of a building, designed by Cologne architects b&k+ in 2000, that blends living and working in each of its single units. On the occasion of Archilab, an architectural exhibition held at Orleans in May 2001, b&k+ and Staubgold present a musical translation of the Kölner Brett, composed by To Rocco Rot. The music of To Rocco Rot reflects the architectural grid (twelve equally sized modules giving structure and shape to the building as a whole) as well as the possible individual living and working conditions of the dweller, respectively."

TO ROCOCO ROT: Kölner Brett LP (STAUB 022LP). $12.50

LP version.

DELAY, VLADISLAV: Naima CD (STAUB 023CD). $14.50

Very limited repress. "Exclusive live recordings from the Ars Electronica Klangpark 2001. For this exclusive release, limited to 2000 copies worldwide, Vladislav Delay compiled the best moments of his live recordings during the Klangpark sessions at Ars Electronica festival 2001. On the basis of the sound material used on his current studio album Anima (Mille Plateaux) Delay transformed the park near the river Danube into an impressive acoustic environment. Music for a river and for passers-by. Out of his home in Helsinki, Finland, Delay has brought forward a new directive into the sounds of dub and minimal electronics, placing him as one of the premier artists involved in the recent wave of electronic dub hybrids. His music, released on labels like Mille Plateaux, Chain Reaction and Sigma, is a continuous mix that reveals itself beyond audio design. Delay succeeds in developing his new methods of production and altering music as it is typically translated. Rather than familiar electronic traits of looping sounds, the music continually develops in an organic flow, thus giving the interpretation that perhaps the music is less a digital excursion and more an instrumental development."

MAPSTATION: New Direction 12" (STAUB 024EP). $8.00

"New vinyl-only EP by Stefan Schneider (To Rococo Rot). The title track of this new Mapstation release is a soulful dub meets electronica anthem featuring Ras Donovan from Tikiman's Berlin posse on vocals. Still being a 'new direction' for Schneider who before has only worked with vocals on his 12" in Domino's Model 500 series, the combination with Donovan's rich narrative voice appears like the logical extension of his intimate electronics which simultaneously recall Chain Reaction, Cluster and the school of clicks and cuts. The instrumental version of 'New Direction' and 'Stop', another new track on this EP, reveal the full beauty of Schneider's minimal pulsing rhythms, fragile melodies and delicate sounds. The fourth track finally is an acapella version of 'New Direction' with Donovan's pure vocals being a perfect DJ tool."

INSTITUT FUER FEINMOTORIK: Penetrans CD (STAUB 025CD). $14.50

"Long expected new album by Southern German turntable rockers and clicks'n'cuts veterans Institut Fuer Feinmotorik; 8 killer tracks created on up to 8 'empty' record players prepared with household materials... Name of the project: Institut Fuer Feinmotorik (= institute for precision motoricity). Purpose: different occupations in different formats; among a.o. organization of events (Entertainment/Music/Fine Arts), marginal reflections on the subject of the term of precision motoricity in different contexts, experiment setups for the production of sound and light works, concentration on reduction of the instruments, among others interest in acoustic phenomena around the record player, indeed along with abandonment of records; accompanying motto: 'To produce from almost nothing almost nothing'. Since 1997 different presentations with the concept of 'empty' record players, thereby 2-4 persons play approx. 8 record players under the application of different handicraft-materials in a music performance."

INSTITUT FUER FEINMOTORIK: Penetrans LP (STAUB 025LP). $12.50

LP version.

EHLERS, EKKEHARD: Plays Hubert Fichte LP (STAUB 026LP). $12.50

"Third and final part in the acclaimed series of mini albums, dealing with German beat poet Hubert Fichte (following Plays Albert Ayler and Plays John Cassavetes), feat. liner notes by Thomas Meinecke."

AMBARCHI, OREN: Suspension 2LP (STAUB 027LP). $15.50

"Limited vinyl edition (500 copies worldwide) of his 2001 CD release on UK label Touch, feat. exclusive bonus remixes by Jim O'Rourke and Tim Barnes, Phill Niblock, Pimmon, Michael J Schumacher and Brendan Walls. Suspension continues Oren's explorations of the guitar, although he almost completely discards the deconstructed, fragmentary approach to composition that he employed on 1999's excellent Insulation (Touch). This disc is more akin to his remarkable Stacte series of LPs, where compositions have the exploratory freedom, spontaneity and fluidity of improvised music, yet contain the determination, discipline and solidity of composers such as Alvin Lucier (of whom Ambarchi is an open admirer). As the title suggests, the listener is suspended in dense tonal fields or complete silence; adrift, never touching the bottom, never reaching the surface but continually held in the realm of the instant. Movement and flux contend with stasis and rigidity. Sounds continually unravel and solidify. These works are endless, eternal, never opting for obvious resolutions or easy destinations. Often beginning in abstraction, seemingly random and irregular pulses and tones coalesce and converge. All elements are part of a greater logic, which reveals itself through intense, immersive and repeated listenings. Suspension is Ambarchi's most total and completely realized effort to date."

ZIEGLER, HARALD SACK: Kopf Zahl Bauch CD (STAUB 028CD). $14.50

"Over a period of more than one and a half year, Cologne based artist Harald 'Sack' Ziegler, partner in Sack & Blumm as well as collaborator with Mouse On Mars, worked on these 11 tracks of his new album. Guest musicians Mouse On Mars, Joseph Suchy, Marcus Schmickler, FX Randomiz, Reuber, Blumm, Guido Möbius and Ron Martin contributed to the recording process, not by remixing tracks, but by adding to and finishing the material that Harald gave them. Kopf Zahl Bauch is Harald 'Sack' Ziegler's strongest and most complete solo release to date, going new ways in sound, but keeping the humorous dada pop style which is a trademark of him. The shimmering mix of cheap electronica, German vocals, weird rhythms, samples and guitars almost always manages to stick to a more or less loose song format which will heavily appeal not only to fans of early New German Wave."

ZIEGLER, HARALD SACK: Kopf Zahl Bauch LP (STAUB 028LP). $12.50

Vinyl version.

MAPSTATION: A Way To Find The Day CD (STAUB 029CD). $14.50

"Names on maps are often more than mere geographical terms. They are sound and colour, dream and memory, mystery and magic, and it is a moment of wonderful gracefulness when one day you look at them with your own eyes and they are taking shape. A way to find the day is the first album of Mapstation at full-length and it comes along as a flamboyant soulful piece of music. While the pre-released 12" 'New direction' managed to raise high expectations, A Way to Find the Day picks up the tension and gives way to 43 minutes of attentive and curious dynamics, rhythmic unrealities and gently warm disorder. Since a bit more than two years Mapstation has been the imprint of Stefan Schneider who is also playing bass and electronics with the Düsseldorf/Berlin trio To Rococo Rot. Mapstation's music is closer to minimalist techno but brings the euphoria of the genre together with charming slow-downs of pace and bpm. Did the tracks on the preceding minialbum Sleep, Engine Sleep predominantly explore the shifts from daylight to dream, A Way to Find the Day is effortlessly able to impress with even more subtle shapes of resonance plus slightly unexpected and cliché-free branchings to reggae music. This dimension to Mapstation comes from the influence of recent Jamaican dancehall reggae, with Schnieder citing its corporation of electronic sounds, and his own practise of mixing reggae acapellas into his dj sets. On A Way to Find the Day Schneider takes the idea further into a stunning collaboration with reggae singer Ras Donovan."

MAPSTATION: A Way To Find The Day LP (STAUB 029LP). $12.50

Vinyl version.

EHLERS, EKKEHARD: Plays CD (STAUB 030CD). $14.50

"This amazing 76min CD contains Ehlers' complete Plays vinyl, originally released on Staubgold and the Dutch Bottrop-Boy label. Staubgold released the mini LPs Plays Albert Ayler, Plays John Cassavetes and Plays Hubert Fichte while the 7" singles Plays Robert Johnson and Plays Cornelius Cardew came out on Bottrop-Boy. 'The Plays series deals with 'reference', explains Ehlers. 'Everyone is sampling; sampling is the figure of historic devices in digital music. My idea is not to sample, but to refer to historic places and figures.' For the series Ehlers has assembled an intriguing constellation of figures, from actor/film maker John Cassavetes to German author Hubert Fichte, and only the Cardew pieces contain actual samples. 'Reference is a basic structure in digital music', Ehlers continues. 'I'm trying to deal with that more abstractly.' That abstraction is as much macroscopic as microscopic: the back cover of each vinyl record features a photograph of the region the artist of the title came from, filmed by a NASA satellite. An artist and educator based in Frankfurt, Ehlers recorded his first works for Mille Plateaux and its offshoot Ritornell in 1998, as part of the Autopoieses duo with Sebastian Meissner. Since then he has used the aliases Auch and Betrieb (for Force Inc and Klang Elektronik respectively), and teamed up with Albrecht Kunze in the group März."

KLANGKRIEG/SPLIT ADLER: LP (STAUB 031LP). $12.50

"...exciting split album by Hamburg's finest noise makers... Klangkrieg have been founded in 1987 by Felix Knöth and Tim Buhr from Hamburg, Germany. In futuristic tradition the group processes the big city noise and the whispering of power lines into electroacoustic compositions which are documented on digital and analog records. Artificial and natural sounds are edited in harsh cut-ups or fine transitions, violence and sensibility stay close to each other. Gunter Adler is the alter ego of Jyrgen Hall, together with Reznick member of Hamburg's dada pop super group Groenland Orchester. Adler's pieces on this split album show his experimental and scientific side in full effect."

AMBARCHI & KEITH ROWE, OREN: Flypaper CD (STAUB 032CD). $14.50

"Oren Ambarchi (guitar & electronics), Keith Rowe (tabletop guitar & electronics). These recordings depart wildly from anything that either Rowe or Ambarchi have produced before. This speaks volumes when you consider the combined weight of their explorations to this point. Amazingly, neither player falls back on past gestures or comfortable proven techniques. The result is four startling electro-acoustic environments. Only David Tudor's Rainforest has gone so far to create a world that is at once highly electronic, yet totally organic, without resorting to base mimicry of natural sounds. It evokes the sea, an immovable mass of fluidity, in a way that Roland Kayn would admire. But having said that, there is little to compare this to. The four pieces on this disc could be field recordings from lost civilizations. Comes in digipak with artwork by Keith Rowe."

THILGES 3: Die Offene Gesellschaft CD (STAUB 033CD). $14.50

"Viennese trio Thilges 3 now presents its first full-length album release Die offene Gesellschaft which translates as 'the open society'. As well as with their previous releases, the basis of this project is a series of live performances, this time held in the small Austrian city of Feldkirch in the summer of 2001. Thilges 3 performed with children in a nursery home, played in front of Buddhist monks, criminals and old people. Field recordings captured at the various locations, live material and studio work were combined and condensed to 8 diverse pieces that found their way on this album. Thilges 3: Armin Steiner, Gammon, Nik Hummer, a formation founded in 1996 out of a spontaneous live performance, are working and experimenting with 'live performance electroacoustic installations' utilising only analog synthesizers for soundgeneration and engineering. The flexible use of this technology enables a dynamism far beyond usual MIDI logic. Through permanent work on the configuration of the various modules new ideas form all the time which surpass concepts of mere sound creation. Since live performances reflect the ultimate goal for Thilges 3 the confrontation with the sound potential / architecture of the venue are an integral part of their music. The rapid motion of sound patterns combined with the free movement of the listener provides a completely new access to rhythmic electronic music."

THILGES 3: Die Offene Gesellschaft LP (STAUB 033LP). $12.50

LP version.

HUBER, RUPERT: Open Air Radiotopia CD (STAUB 034CD). $14.50

"The release of the Radiotopia album, compiled and edited by Rupert Huber (Tosca), is the third collaboration between the Austrian Ars Electronica Center and Cologne's Staubgold label, after Alexander Balanescu's Lume Lume, and Vladislav Delay's Naima. Participating artists include Alexander Balanescu, Rupert Huber, Andres Bosshard, Lukas Ligeti, Sam Auinger, Bruce Odland, Isabella Bordon, Lorenzo Brusci and many more. Strictly limited to 1000 copies worldwide, this CD documents the fascinating 'Radiotopia' sound/network project as presented during the open air Klangpark at last year's Ars Electronica festival. Radiotopia, the largest and most extensive of projects ever launched by the Ars Electronica festival, was simultaneously a demonstration and an attempt. On the one hand it was a demonstration of the involvement in the Internet and other transmission and data manipulation technology over the course of the years, on the other hand — perhaps more significantly — it was an attempt to illustrate the points and areas where the Internet and other technologies still have difficulties and weaknesses, and to indicate pathways for future improvements and developments. The center of Radiotopia was the global sound network database designed by August Black and Norbert Math. It was a simultaneous storage bank of freely accessible sound material that transcended time, location, cultural and geographical borders. Anyone with access to the Internet was able to join in. This sound network database (with a total of over 500 submissions) was the basis of the material that the international artists invited to the festival worked with."

VA: Music Out Of Place CD (STAUB 035CD). $8.00

"... 50min of finest Staubgold sounds ... feat. Faust, F.S. Blumm, Ekkehard Ehlers, Mapstation, Oren Ambarchi, Sun, Joseph Suchy, Reuber, Harald 'Sack' Ziegler feat. Marcus Schmickler, Institut Fuer Feinmotorik, Thilges 3, Scott Horscroft + Klangwart . Music out of place, Staubgold's second label compilation, gives a beautiful and inspiring overview of the label's strong and diverse roster. Available in shops at the price of a 12", the compilation presents the core of Staubgold incl. already known acts like Ekkehard Ehlers, Mapstation and Institut Fuer Feinmotorik as well as it introduces quite some artists that are new to the label — first of all Faust (cd/lp in November), but also F.S. Blumm (new album in October) and especially Sun, Oren Ambarchi's singer/songwriter pop project (dbl album in spring 2003)."

VA: Music Out Of Place LP (STAUB 035LP). $11.00

LP version, same 13 tracks as the CD.

BLUMM, F.S.: Anker CD (STAUB 036CD). $14.50

"On his second solo album after last year's Mondkuchen multi-instrumentalist Frank Schültge aka F.S. Blumm from Berlin presents again a multitude of lovely instrumental pop songs, with his guitar, horn and trumpet (Harald 'Sack' Ziegler), vibes (Patrick Leuschner), mbira, kalimba and toy piano being the favourite ingredients of his sound kitchen. The musical result is in a way original that the popular namedropping doesn't help that much to describe F.S.Blumm's music. Nevertheless bands and projects like Gastr Del Sol or others who work on the combination of improvised elements with pop-approved structures come to mind, as well as American folk pioneer John Fahey or minimal music representatives Pauline Oliveros and David Behrman for their similar sense of poise and release."

BLUMM, F.S.: Ankern LP (STAUB 036LP). $12.50

LP version.

FAUST: Patchwork 1971-2002 CD (STAUB 037CD). $14.50

"Yes. Faust will forever be heralded as a pioneer in the electronic/rock avant garde, emerging in the early seventies branching off from Brit/American commercial rock bands, employing the use of alior sonic landscapes to create a new musical tangent." (Alternative Press). For this very special release Staubgold label manager Markus Detmer and Faust member Hans Joachim Irmeler compiled unreleased Faust recordings from 1971 to 2002, covering the legendary Wümmen (1971 - 1973) and the time at Virgin's Manor studios (1974- 1975) as well as their new start in the early 80s and recent years. Compiled as a collage, as the title suggests, Patchwork unfolds the core qualities of Faust and gives a deep impression of their working method."

FAUST: Patchwork 1971-2002 LP (STAUB 037LP). $12.50

MAPSTATION FEAT. RAS DONOVAN: Version Train CD (STAUB 038CD). $12.00

"Version Train is the latest excursion from the consistently engaging Mapstation, featuring some beautiful new pieces and a couple of abstractions/developments from the previous set, A Way To Find The Day. These cuts, 'Wake Up' and 'Gravity', are wryly cited as 'versions' (in the Jamaican tradition), and in particular show off the understanding that the main collaborators, Stefan Schneider and Ras Donovan, now have for the drift of this music: creating pretty patterns, then breaking them up, moving forward as one, and then contradicting each other. On 'Be True' we hear Donovan sounding at his sweetest, tossing off his lines like it's a super-warm Jamaican production with a gorgeous melodic base, instead of Schneider's rather colder North European design. Other times the roles reverse, and we remember Schneider's role in To Rococo Rot is usually to bring the melody. Version Train also introduces two new elements to the Mapstation equation: DJ singer, Scallo, from Donovan's group (both also perform live with Tikiman), and Martin Brandlmayr from Vienna-based unit, Radian. While these interventions suggest that, like their name, Mapstation is always in some flux, always restless, somehow Version Train also seems very much like an encapsulation of all the Mapstation styles, and really it's a perfect introduction to the group."

SUN: Sun 2CD (STAUB 039CD). $16.50

"Staubgold proudly presents the self-titled debut album from the Sydney duo Sun, licensed from Australia's Preservation Records for exclusive worldwide release, and accompanied by a complete bonus remix album feat. mixes of all original tracks by Hrvtvski, Mapstation, Pluramon, Christoph Heemann, Tom Rechion, Rafael Toral, Pimmon and Voice Crack. Sun is the unusual pairing of world renowned experimental guitarist Oren Ambarchi and Australian music figurehead Chris Townend. Sun confirms its authors as two truly original music minds, a languid and sweet pop creation, brimming with sly invention in its classicist frame. These songs simply float into the consciousness with a grand air and sublimely delicate touch. There's an easy warmth to Sun as well as some darker surprises for added depth and nuance."

Double LP version.

KAMMERFLIMMER KOLLEKTIEF: Cicadidae LP (STAUB 040LP). $12.50

"Cicadidae is the third album by south German-based Kammerflimmer Kollektief. Lovingly assembled over a two year period, it very much belongs to the current tendency in contemporary music for mixing up 'played' and 'programmed' music, acoustic and electronic instruments, high culture and street culture. Within this occasionally fascinating new musical expression, it is of course possible to lay down something unique. Combining brass and string instruments, computer, drums, percussion and keyboards, this is not just an exercise in sound but rather a collective expression by musicians communicating with each other in the spaces between control and loss of control, intuition and reflection, density and transparency. The roots are everywhere; in a childhood spent listening to folk, free jazz and psychedelia as well as an occupation with the deconstruction and alteration of rock, jazz and electronic music since the beginning of the 90s cf. The fine crackling and grinding of the digital generation which subtly underpins it."

EHLERS, EKKEHARD: Politik Braucht Keinen Feind CD (STAUB 041CD). $14.50

"With his new album after the highly acclaimed Plays series in 2002, pop musician and sound artist Ekkehard Ehlers presents his first fully composed works. 'Mäander' and 'Blind' are based on manipulated bass clarinet and cello recordings which Ehlers arranges like an orchestra in his laptop. Opposed to the pop music he produces with Albrecht Kunze in März, this is avantgarde music put into dreamlike states and finally looping in endless circles of magic fragile sound. coming in a foldout digipak with accompanying poster, Politik Braucht Keinen Feind is Ehlers' both musically and visually most advanced artistic statement to date. Ekkehard Ehlers lives in Frankfurt/Germany. His large discography includes releases with autopoieses (La vie à noir, Mille Plateaux, 1999) and März (März, Karaoke Kalk, 2002) as well as his debut CD Betrieb (Mille Plateaux, 2001) on which he put samples of Arnold Schönberg and Charles Ives into new perspective. Last year's CD Ekkehard Ehlers Plays was a musical homage to free jazz legend Albert Ayler, blues singer Robert Johnson, filmmaker John Cassavetes, composer Cornelius Cardew and writer Hubert Fichte. His project März successfully realised his idea of new electronic folk pop. Ekkehard Ehlers also teaches time based media at Stuttgart's Merz Academy for Design."

SACK & BLUM: Kind Kind CD (STAUB 042CD). $14.50

"Three years after their phenomenal Shy Noon album on the seminal Gefriem label Harald 'Sack' Ziegler and Frank Schüttge Blumm continue a homerecording series that travels between their postboxes since 1999. Sack & Blumm are not a band or a studio project, but may be described rather as a homerecording project that was conceived independently in their bedroom studios in Berlin and Cologne. Instead of being sequenced on computers, the music lives from the experience of two true musicians. Folk themes are set against digital fragmentations. Sounds are taken from everywhere. Instruments include horn, kalimba, tabla, bass, knitting needles, toy drums and toy piano, melodica, mbira and more. Even Rod Stewart is hidden somewhere on this album."

SUCHY, JOSEPH: calabi.yau CD (STAUB 043CD). $14.50

"Not a rocker. Not an electronic artist. A sensual, a feeling person. No copy-art. In these times of senseless struggles for sovereignty at the musicians' regular table, Suchy is the cowboy with the Indian's face." This is what one of Germany's biggest daily newspapers recently wrote about Joseph Suchy, 'Cologne's very own professor of guitar research'. They got it spot on. In the global improv & avantgarde community, the born Franconian is no unknown person. He collaborated with artists like David Grubbs, Ekkehard Ehlers, Niobe and FX Randomiz; he is a permanent member of Burnt Friedmann's Nub Dub Players; and he was one of the founders of Cologne-based cult-improv-label Grob. The musical sensitivity of this slightly odd artist in his mid-forties is hard to match. calabi.yau is Suchy's new solo-outing. It's a music of delicate sounds, in which acoustic guitars and electro-acoustic signals are woven into non-linear, fragile sound sculptures. At times, this music borders on sensory deception (what is this sound? Electric or acoustic?); it is an illustrated broadsheet of a strange, yet familiar reality. Suchy cunningly and imperturbably evades the categorisations of contemporary modern music: What he does is giving his listeners a carte blanche to dream. Or, as the artist himself puts it: 'Music in search of the freakwave'."

IRMLER, HANS JOACHIM: Lifelike CD (STAUB 044CD). $14.50

"The first official solo album of any of the original fAUST-members ever to be released. Lifelike was conceived by Irmeler as 'a biography in sound' (sounds like the title of a 'Best of James Last'-Album, doesn't it? But even that may be part of a plan...). And it's strictly sounds, there are no words in here (at least none discernible). He wanted to describe a person's life through sound. And this is what fAUST have always been good at: to find strange and unusual sounds to trigger their listeners' imagination. This record mirrors the growth of a human being in its microstructure and evolution of life in general in its macrostructure. At the beginning, the listener can hear the sounds of a bubbling primordial soup. Out of this, a simple, innocent theme takes a shy peek. A life is born; melody evolves out of sound. This peaceful growth soon becomes interrupted by industrial noises (is there a war going on?) — and so we're already into the story after track 2. What Irmeler does is the antithesis of so many productions in the field of 'modern electronic music'. Irmeler cunningly disturbs simple patterns and shifts them so slightly that at first, it only registers in your subconscious. Thus you are disturbed but you don't know by what. Another point in favour is that this music is nowhere as hectic as many other productions are nowadays with their clicks and beats. This music gives the listener time & space to step inside and if he or she wishes to inhabit this music. From the view of form, Lifelike even resembles classical music with its recurring and interwoven themes."

RAND AND HOLLAND: Tomorrow Will Be Like Today CD (STAUB 045CD). $14.50

"Rand And Holland is the golden pop vehicle of a longstanding member of Sydney's experimental music scene, Brett Thompson. Not unlike label-mates and fellow travellers Sun (Thompson works with Chris Townend and Scott Horscroft at Bigjesusburger Studios), Rand and Holland manage to produce maximum emotional impact by the simplest and most direct means. Here every sound has integral purpose and meaning, drawing the listener into an intimate and uniquely personal world. Emotions are laid bare with an honesty and clarity rarely seen in pop music today. A stunning debut and one for the ages. Built around the voice of Brett Thompson, Rand And Holland love the spaces as much as they love the sounds. This sparse album recalls the moods of Mercury Rev, Yo La Tengo and Smog. Its songs manage to find the balance between epic and intimate, carried by a deeply resonant vocal and direct, unaffected lyricism. Tomorrow Will Be Like Today was produced by both Brett Thompson and Sun's Chris Townend. Guest musicians include Townend, Oren Ambarchi and Scott Horscroft."

KAT COSM: Knightboat CD (STAUB 047CD). $12.00

"Features remixes by Leafcutter John (Planet µ), TenEcke (Calla) and Mondomarc (Mondo Fumatore). It's the small things in life which make sure that though being chained to all kinds of dreary everyday routines you do not forget that life is essentially beautiful. When the sun is shining, when somebody unexpectedly turns and smiles at you or when you discover some beautiful new music — that's life. This new record by Kat Cosm is like all these things at once. When listening to it, you'll probably feel a pale winter sun shine on your face or it will simply make you smile. And of course it's a great record."

And here are the facts: Jana Plewa and Sebastian Skalei are the two Berlin-based singer-songwriters at the core of Kat Cosm (I say core, because everybody who is in any way involved in this project can be regarded as being 'in the band' — for example, when Sebastian talks about the guy who designed the cover, he talks about him like a member of the band). For this mini-album, they present two new songs which they composed and recorded at their respective homes. The songs are located almost exactly in the middle between electro-acoustic music and classic songwriting. Jana and Sebastian made sketches of these songs on guitar or piano, but recording them with the computer — an instrument which they use very playfully — is what gave them their final shape. Another trademark of this record is its richness in variety. Not only can one hear echoes from all genres and periods of popular music of the last 35 years, but Jana and Sebastian also take it in turns to sing. On top of that, we get a nice instrumental ('Hotgirl') and a demo by the title of 'Circe' which could have been one of Syd Barret's more beautiful songs — if Syd had cared to write it, that is. Compared to their last album, this record also has a much better sound. Think as you may about the advantages of analogue recording; what Jana and Sebastian are demonstrating here is that it is very well possible to create a warm and rich sound at your PC. And if the term hadn't already been invented by Nicolas Currie a.k.a. Momus, I'd say that with this mini-album, Jana and Sebastian created a genre of their own: 'Folktronic'. So they may not be its inventors, but they're at least one of its protagonists."

More or less as a bonus, we are presented with three remixes of the first track. Leafcutter John (Planet µ) in his mix emphasises both the songwriting-side and the electronic aspect of Kat Cosm's music. Thus it sounds like an update of the Beach Boys before mutating into almost grotesque digital noise. The second remix is supplied by TenEcke (Calla). He deconstructs the original piece without robbing it of its original charm. The final remix is by Mondomarc (Mondo Fumatore; Marc and Gwen have also contributed additional vocals to the original track). He puts beats at the track's centre and creates something completely new from the source material. And now the record is over and the only thing left to do is to invite you to join (ladies and gentlemen): The Kat Cosm."

EHLERS/SUCHY/HAUTZINGER: Soundchambers CD (STAUB 049CD). $14.50

"Well-known improvisers Ekkehard Ehlers (laptop), Joseph Suchy (guitar) and Franz Hautzinger (trumpet) team up for a supertrio of broken pop ambient. While on the one hand providing a state-of-the-art sound aesthetic, Soundchambers will on the other hand also appeal to friends of the music that Brian Eno and trumpeter Jon Hassell created in the mid-70s. The concept: 'Sound Chambers' is an architectural, graphical and musical installation that provides a site specific intervention in the park of Museu Serralves in Porto. By referring to a geometrical configuration of hedges it develops a new structure that expands, diverts and bifurcates existing conditions of the park. It creates a configuration between interior and exterior spaces and provides sound chambers that perform a specifically developed music. Architecture, graphics and music refer to the same notation of an existing piece of park (Roseiral): 77 elements of different geometries reconfigured in a new composition."

FAUST/DALEK: Derbe respect, alder CD (STAUB 050CD). $14.50

"Dälek are a three-piece hiphop-outfit from New Jersey. Will Brooks (a.k.a. MC Dälek) is responsible for lyrics, Alap Momin (a.k.a. The Octopus) is the producer and Hsi-Chang Linaka (a.k.a. Still) handles the turntables. Their open-mindedness towards musical influences was boundless from the beginning and so it is small wonder that they soon hit on German Krautrock survivors Faust as a source for interesting samples. Through a mutual acquaintance they sent a CD to Faust's Klangbad label. Co-founder Hans Joachim Irmir was so impressed with it that he decided to release a vinyl version of their album From The Filthy Tongues Of Gods And Griots on Klangbad. He also invited the band to record at the label's own studio. Once there, it turned out that the musical grounds both bands covered was identical in large parts. Dälek's noisy loops (in which they bury tiny melodies) and their penchant for volume have their counterparts in Faust's sound. Thus a collaboration seemed logical. In the course of two years the three sessions which spawned the music on this album took place. The high point of these saw the two outfits appearing side by side on stage at the Bonn Bad Kilbi festival 2003 in Düringen, Switzerland. What Dälek and many of their hiphop contemporaries express through words — protest against and rejection of the social status quo — is exactly what Faust have expressed through music during the last 30+ years. Consequently, this album is nothing for the faint-hearted, its music is merciless, straight in your face, at times even brutal. At times it sounds like harsh Industrial or 'Illbient'. Some of the sounds seem to have a direct connection to those produced by the machines Luigi Russolo built in the second decade of the last century. With them, the futurist imitated the sounds of his surroundings and times (cars, aeroplanes, machines, the city, etc.). Like him, Faust and Dälek rap and play the world they are part of and which is not always sunny and bright. The instrumental opening track for example suggests heavy artillery fire. Faust and Dälek crank their volumes up to, er, 11. In the second track, the combination of Faust's apocalyptic sound and the hiphop lyrics of Will Brooks sounds like the soundtrack to a modern film noir, which mirrors the alienated life of ghetto dwellers. The album's final track is an update of 'T-electronique', a track originally released on Faust's 1999 album Ravvivando. Dälek lend the song additional lyrics and shoot it through with samples, so that it sounds like a remix of the original. From this perspective Derbe respect, alder could be seen in a straight line with the remix idea of the last two Faust albums Freispiel and Patchwork 1971-2002."

GARLAND AND WORLD STANDARD, WECHSEL: The Isle CD (STAUB 051CD). $14.50

"After two internationally acclaimed Wechsel Garland albums (Wechsel Garland/Morrmusic 2000, and Liberation von History/Karaoke Kalk 2002) and their precursor Wunder (also on Karaoke Kalk), Jörg Follert does no longer need an introduction, at least not in circles of electronic music aficionados. On The Isle (which has already seen an exclusive release in Japan in 2003 and is now made available world-wide through Staubgold) Follert teamed up with Japanese artist Shochiro Suzuki/World Standard, who, despite having created a body of work that stretches out over 20 years, is not very widely known in Europe. Suzuki released many of his albums through Haruomi Hosono's (Yellow Magic Orchestra) Daisyworld label. Thematically, his work is located on the fringes of European, American and Far Eastern 'exotic music'. It's neigh on impossible to fathom who did what in this collaboration. Follert and Suzuki met twice in Japan to record together, the rest of the album was done, well, 'by mail'. Delicately plucked acoustic guitars are broken up into fragments and re-assembled, strings snuggle against the cosy sounds of melodic and toy piano, while sparsely used elements of percussion are reluctant to pick up the pulse, since they do not want to irritate the fragile arrangements, which are constantly petering out into the off. In a loose, but harmonic sequence, the 15 tracks of The Isle create a mood music, which is calm and still like a summer house by the edge of the sea. Its music chirps like the steppe in Tuscany during May. This album needs no formula to function. Oh, and not to forget: The track 'Solitude Sea' has been used as the opener of DJ Koze's mix CD All People Is My Friends (where it has erroneously been credited as 'The Isle')."

TOOP, DAVID: Haunted Weather 2CD (STAUB 052CD). $16.50

"Compiled by David Toop, the author of the landmark book of music Ocean Of Sound, and released parallel to his new book Haunted Weather, published by Serpent's Tail. Features 33 tracks with a total running time of 2 hours+. The double CD features a wide selection of artists written up in the book, including Autechre, Oval, Matmos, Fennesz, Pan Sonic, Chris Watson, Terre Thaemlitz, Alvin Lucier, Otomo Yoshihide, Christian Marclay, John Oswald, David Toop/Max Eastley and many more. Haunted Weather provides an international insight into new electronic music worldwide. David Toop's knowledge of and interest in music of all kinds is second to none. A musical travel diary, recording the way people work with and experience sound in the 21st century. Digital music, performance and technology — downloaded and unzipped for your convenience. Digital technology has changed the ways in which music is perceived, stored, distributed, mediated and created. The world of music is now a vast and complex jungle, teeming with CDs, MP3s, concerts, clubs, festivals, conferences, exhibitions, installations, websites, software programmes, scenes, ideas and competing theories. In the eye of the storm stands David Toop, shedding light on the most interesting music now being made — on laptops, in downtown bars in Tokyo, wherever he finds it. His wealth of musical knowledge provides inspiration for anyone interested in music. David Toop is a highly regarded author, music critic and musician. Since 1995 he has released three solo albums, curated five compilation albums (including the soundtrack to Ocean of Sound), and the sound and music exhibition at the Hayward Gallery — 'Sonic Boom'. His music journalism appears in The Wire, Book Forum, The Times and The Face."

MINIT: Now Right Here CD (STAUB 053CD). $14.50

"Minit (Sydney/Berlin) create hypnotic sonic habitats, which, characterised by a sense of endlessness, transform incrementally over time in subtle and hallucinatory ways. Through sampling, digital processing and electro-acoustic techniques they produce a sound of surprising emotive power and musicality. From fragile harmonic and melodic intonations to towering, ecstatic drones, erratic fragmented rhythms and electrical disturbances, Minit explore the psychedelic moment when everything begins to slip in and out of cohesion. It is these moments that gently fracture 'listening' and signal what is rich and unusual and experimental about Minit's whole music project. Minit is Jasmine Guffond and Torben Tilly. They are currently living and working in Berlin."

STEECE:

VULCAN: Meet Your Ghost LP (STEECE 13). $16.00

Exact reissue of a monster private psych LP from Iowa. Recorded in 1978, Vulcan is Lyle Steece, and this is his one-man-against-the-universe-rock-album. Dedicated to Jimi Hendrix, this features real primitive basement-psych guitar rock that is outrageously fucked, inspirational, distortion-overloaded and massively mindblowing. Of course, others just say it's dull and poorly played.

STEIRISCHER HERBST (GERMANY):

SCHLICK & JUSTUS KÖHNCKE, JÖRG: Gleich Scheuen Hirschen In Wäldern Versteckt zu Laben CD (SLIK 2001). $15.00

The title translates as: To live in forests like timid deer. A project by Jörg Schlick (released simultaneously to Diese Wildnis Hat Kultur on A-Musik). "Arranged in 3.2 billion pairs, the four bases adenine (A), thymine (T), cytosine (C) and guanine (G) make up the human genetic information stored in chromosomes. These genetic combinations are the starting point of an extensive artistic concept that transposes art into the rules of biology. Four views of a found (everyday) object are recorded in photographs, each assigned to one base and serialised according to the sequence of bases (e.g. AATCTG...) only recently researched by scientists art submits to the laws of the living world of nature. In order to be able to transpose the 3.2 billion base pairs into forms of artistic representation, Jörg Schlick has decided to live for another 10,000 years... This conceptual approach also characterises a musical production by Jörg Schlick. The four tones C, D, G, and A are assigned to the bases Adenine, Cytosine, Guanine and Thymine. Schlick generates electronic music on the basis of the given pattern. The given sequences of notes of the four-tone series form the basis for the musical fashioning of the work with regard to change of rhythm, tone colouring, etc. Schönberg believed his artistic work to be guided by the laws of nature, without ever being able to fully comprehend or formulate them. Almost a century later, this assumption is corroborated in the production process dictated by biotechnology. The technical processes also allow a 'co-operation' with artists such as Andy Warhol and Glenn Gould. The voices of the American pop star and the pianist are filtered out of historical recordings and incorporated into the production as a vocal sampler in combination with Jörg Schlick's vocal music. The CD is produced in collaboration with the Cologne musician Justus Köhncke."

STEREOPHONIC ELEFANT DANCE (SPAIN):

SILVANIA: Delay Tambor CD (ED 005 CD). $16.00

1996 remix album in stock for the first time. "When Mario and Coco set up Sylvania, back in 1990 in Valencia, their aim was to merge sound innovation. Seizing upon their alltime idols (Cocteau Twins, Brian Eno, Zombies and Byrds) they manufactured a personal style in which the then overrated electric guitar turned out to be a generator of a flood of echoes and strange sounds, thanks to their technological manipulation combined with elaborated pop melodies. After two albums — En Cielo De Océano (1993) and Paisaje III (1994) — Electronics get more and more space in their creative methods, producing as a result a wide registered record, in which you can find from sinuous melodies and delicate acoustic passages to clearly electronic and avant-garde languages. This release, called Delay Tambor, is without any doubt one of the more precise artefacts in the market to show the now and tomorrow of world's musical avant-garde, aside from strengthening Sylvania as rightful integrants of that restricted élite of sound risk scientificists. Autechre, Seefeel, Scanner, Scorn and Locust are elected to remix songs from Sylvania's first two albums. Aside from the remixes, the record includes three previously unreleased tracks by the duo."

PROZACK: Tan Lejos CD (ED 026 CD). $16.00

"Tan Lejos is the most ambitious and complete work created by Prozack to this date. A product of an year of investigation and experimentation which will be hard to surpass. The artist himself acknowledges Tan Lejos as the record which gets to his sound ideals, and the one he is most proud of. He left behind the rage, the tension, the sharp edges of the previous Ideology, his debut, to give way to a more relaxed, concentrated, introspective work of softer, more undulating lines. A more intense and emotionally deep work, trying to explore new territories of techno and dance languages, terribly obscure and minimal. The title piece, Tan Lejos, is the central idea of the whole record. It's the most beautiful song written by Prozack to this date; through the sound, without the need of a text, you can transmit many undescrivable sensations. This and the two pieces following it, 'Intangible' and 'Sonabamos', do really form a trilogy — of abstract and mostly minimalist techno pop which defines the most intense part of the record."

PROZACK: Tan Lejos 2LP (ED 026 LP). $16.00

Double vinyl version.

SILVANIA: Naves Sin Puertos CD (ED 030 CD). $16.00

"Naves Sin Puertos ("Ships With No Harbour") turns out to be their most basic and enthralling yet. Quiet, gliding minimalist noise. More personal than anything they've done so far. For the first time since Paisaje III, they use vocals again, this time as sampled loops full of their characteristic wounding lyricism. The rhythms have been softened, slowed down, while over them an ocean of unmatched beauty is woven. Their way, the one which links Brian Eno and Autechre, has consolidated them as one of the most personal and brilliant Spanish electronics acts." Referenced influences include: My Bloody Valentine, A Flock of Seagulls, Dif Juz, Beach Boys, Human League, Left Banke, Durrutti Column, Suicide, etc.

RADIO: CD (ED 032 CD). $16.00

"Ready for a new dive into the submarine forms schemed in our Stereophonic Elefant Dance Recordings laboratories? Be ready for a surprising, exciting new act: Radio is something unique, an exceptional work that will show you new horizons in the Spanish electronic scene. Radio is the result of the combined forces of Silvanía and Prozak in order to get away from the conventional and to embrace the unknown. Each of the parts involved had already rediscovered techno in their very own way: Prozak and his austere explorations, always elaborating puzzling calculations based on transparent repetitions; Silvanía, lovers of the intricate, drawing superimposed forms whose vision requires many analysis. Together, as Radio, they take their premises to a new field, achieving to place techno, and even house, in a watery, constant, alive-and-kicking place. Which are the common features of artists like Herbert, Maurizio... or labels like Ladomat, Basic Channel...? The updating of a language that had been withered by so many copycats with nothing to say. Radio struggle for bringing us new reinterpretations far away from the obvious, allowing us to see what we already know under a new light. Here's a work in which rhythm, cadence and space have the same value. The fruits of a quest for new sounds and forms, taking extreme care of the slightest detail. New concepts, new forms, Radio, the artists and the album, all blending in a poly-edric whole that places itself on the top of international avant-garde music of today."

STEWARDESS (GERMANY):

KANTE: Redirections CD (STU 07 CD). $15.00

"A remix project by the German underground pop scene. The original tracks are from the debut CD Zwischen Den Orten by the Hamburg based pop/electronic band Kante. The remixers/musicians are: Tobias Levin (Capt. Kirk), Thomas Meinecke (FSK), Thomas Fleischhauer (Relais), Kinderzimmer Productions, April & Seasons (Kreidler), Robert Lippok (To Rococo Rot)." For those attuned to the Kreidler/To Rococo Rot-style contemporary German groove, this should go over quite well.

STILLEBEN (SWEDEN):

VA: Deep Tics 01 CD (DEEP 001CD). $18.00

"Stilleben drops of a sweet compilation of its own 12" catalogue...called Deep Tics. Its the first CD compilation coming out from the Stilleben Records Sweden including tracks from Legowelt, Catnip, Luke Eargoggle, Achilles, Monkeychop and others. As we said... tracks are taken from different 12" from the Stilleben label plus some extra exclusive material makes which make this album a must have for everyone into electro, disco and new electronic dance muzique with a touch of those good old days. It is the first compilation on Stilleben. Strong underground music with no marketing strategy. The album includes different underground styles and hits from artists like of the Swedish label, and if you still hesitate and think this is just another trendy electroclash record you gonna be surprised...Real analog electro funk." Artists: Polytron, Monkeychop, Legowelt, Achilles, Catnip, L.Eargoggle, Orgue électronique, V.U.I.v.a., Rutherford, Ulrika Player.

LEGOWELT VS LUKE EARGOGGLE: Catnip 2 - Romancing the Panther 12" (STILL 014). $9.00

"Legowelt and Eargoggle teams up again for some shifty disco action. Two floorburners in the style of I-f's Coca Disco ep's mixed with some flavours of Metro area's smooth disco style. The Hague disco city!"

VA: Monkeychop, Vulva, Polytron, Eargoggle 12" (STILL 016). $9.00

"New compilation on Stilleben records from Sweden. Expect hot disco and electro cuts from Monkeychop (Creme), Luke Eargoggle (Bunker, 1 half of Catnip), Polytron and Vulva (Helsinki) and others. Very nice 6 tracks mini album from the nordic hemisphere. Great EP for the increasing group of fans for Electro and Disco."

ACHILLES 1: One Muscle To Falle In Love 12" (STILL 017). $9.00

"6 track EP with lovely discoish electro with funky robotic beats rolling basslines and a lot of vocal action. Achilles brings you music with so much love that if any of the world leaders could hear it there would be no more war! Just love to the people."

RUTHERFORD: My Ranch Is Your Ranch 12" (STILL 018). $9.00

"5 track EP with techno-ish electro tracks (with no track titles, no artist info or whatever...) . On the A side one very strong dark drivin 4/4 track and a techno robotic electro cut. On the flip 3 pure electro tracks with dark strings driving 303 (mid '90 style) and very funky rolling beats."

ACHILLES II: Because Of Glory 12" (STILL 019). $10.00

"The second Achilles release on Stilleben Records with a lot of electronic funk and poetic vocal action for your sweet speakers. Try to prepare for 6 tracks of beautiful melodies and the stormy history around the Electrodisco hero Achilles trying to survive in a world of injustice and less FUNK!"

VOLFRAM: Welcome To Gothenburg 12" (STILL 020). $10.00

"First solo release from this very fresh electro producer after been working some with Luke Eargoggle on Audio Warrior album on Bunker. Unique release from guys that live up north and are wasting their time with producing great tracks together with Luke Eargoggle. The recordings are so pure and natural that you almost can feel Volfram lighting his cigarette and press record and go to work behind his machines. Stilleben are proud to release this piece electronic freedom ....."

CATNIP: Catacomb EP 12" (STILL 021). $11.00

"Legowelt and Eargoggle team up for maybe the deepest and funkiest Catnip song so far. Strongly influenced of the one and only Egyptian Lover they bring us the Catnip sound of funky beats and beautiful synth melodies combined with amazing lyrics and lots of vox about the cat called "Catacomb" cruising around on our planet looking for adventure and romance .... On the B side a very strong Electro remix by Stalkers all pure analogue record-ed."

MONKEYSHOP: Niagara Flow EP 12" (STILL 022). $11.00

"Secret Swedish duo Monkeyshop delivers pure LOVE on vinyl with the lead track 'Niagara Flow', 9 minutes of pure hi energy electrodisco for all dancefloors all over the world. Deep driving bass lots of 808 and dreamy soundscapes sweeping thru the cables out from the speakers. On the B side one up tempo electro track and another more funky one reminding of a future djungle jam."

VA: Gothenborg Electro City 1 12" (STILL 023). $11.00

"For the first time Luke Eargoggle's imprint Stilleben records releases a various artist compilation with 6 tracks done by producers living in Gothenburg City Sweden (After the Finnish boys on Bunker its time for the boys from Sweden to show what they are worth). Its an all electro story in different styles... Expect the best possible electro music there is from guys like Luke Eargoggle (don't we all love him?), Rutherford, Petrovski, Volfram and others. Ranging from Dopplereffekt kind of futuristic sounds to tracks that will tear the club up.

Also in Gothenburg they know how to get the funk out of the machines."

STONES THROW:

SWIFT, ROB: Soulful Fruit CD (STH 2007). $13.50

1997 solo album from the X-ecutioners' Rob Swift. Featuring a series of scratching routines featuring Roc Raider, Mista Sinister (also, both members of the X-ecutioners) & Diamond Jay, this is a deep & dense travalogue of turntablist extrapolation, conceptualizing the kaleidoscope of cut 'n' scratch sound.

STARK REALITY: Now CD (STH 2058 CD). $14.50

"How to describe the Stark Reality's 1970 LP...It's been called 'the beat digger's holy grail.' It's been called 'overrated' (especially since copies have been selling in excess of $500 on eBay). 'Avante-garde'. 'Distorted'. 'Genius'. (Sometimes all in a row). The sounds on that uber-rare LP all depart from the sound one might expect to emerge from a late 60s jazz-funk quartet. The Stark Reality came to fame by impressing jazz legend Ahmad Jamal with a six song demo, psyching out 'square' children's songs that famed composer Hoagy Carmichael had written in the 40s and 50s, and convincing Jamal to release 90 minutes of music on his private AJP label."

JAYLIB: Champion Sound CD (STH 2062 CD). $14.50

"Two of hip hop's best kept secrets, Jay Dee aka J Dilla and Madlib. In hindsight, it's obvious that the two would work together on a project of this magnitude. They'd been mentioned in the same breath for years. The two craft beats that can either revel in the grit of the underground or swing with the blingest of them. They're the only producers in the game who successfully get props from the backpack crowd while also working the boards amongst the most influential names in popular urban music. And with respect to Diamond D, they're both vying for the title 'best producer on the mic'. Champion Sound finds the two doing what they do best — locking themselves in the lab with blinders on and emerging with songs that run the gamut from low fi funk to tweaked commercialism that will entrance even the most jaded member of the MTV hip hop generation."

MF DOOM AND MADLIB: Madvillian CD (STH 2065). $14.50

"Madlib the producer and MF Doom the MC — two of Indie Hip Hop's most celebrated and debated. Madvillain is their collaboration, the subject of speculation and controversy among their diverse body of fans since they announced the project a year ago. Doom has undergone many transformations since his golden-era combo KMD and his twisted, unmissable flow has met and even match with Madlib's unique hip hop and jazz — just ask those who have been fiendishly seeking out the 3rd generation Madvillian demos since last summer."

CHARIZMA & PEANUT BUTTER WOLF: Big Shots CD (STH 2077 CD). $14.50

"Hip hop sometimes comes from strange places. For instance, Charles Hicks, a.k.a. MC Charizma, from the tiny San Jose suburb of Milpitas, and DJ Peanut Butter Wolf, living 20 minutes by bus up the street. Here are two kids who grew up living, breathing, and dreaming of the unusual — rap beats. Charizma (then 'Charlie C') was rapping at high school talent shows, and Peanut Butter Wolf (then 'Chris Cut') was secretly teaching himself DJ skills in his bedroom, and the two formed a full-time partnership in music shortly after meeting in 1990. They landed a deal with the Disney's Hollywood Basics label, home of Organized Konfusion, and for the next year followed a strict regiment of making music all day, taking breaks for pinball and apple juice, and learning the fundamentals of battling a major label over artistic integrity. As artists, Charizma and PBWolf were still reaching new heights, but the music was soon cut short. Charizma was tragically killed in December 1993."

THIRD UNHEARD, THE: Connecticut Hip Hop 1979-1983 CD (STH 2083CD). $14.00

"Old school hip hop is suddenly getting the respect it always deserved. And by 'old school,' we mean the OLD — those rap masterpieces that followed the Sugarhill Gang in the late 70s and early 80s on both major indie labels. Everyone knows old school hip hop comes from New York and New Jersey, but the third portion of the Northeast's Tri-State Area — Connecticut — offered a supply of classics of it's own beginning in 1979 and ending around '83. Some of these releases have been falsely attributed to New York City and NYC-based rappers. Many were obscured by the passage of time. None were ever properly researched."

YESTERDAY'S NEW QUINTET: Stevie: An Instrumental Tribute to Stevie Wonder CD (STH 2086CD). $14.00

"Madlib. The Beat Conductor. Loop Digga. One-upped indie hip hop with Lootpack's Soundpieces: Da Antidote. Traveled to fantastic planets with alter-ego Quasimoto on the groundbreaking concept album The Unseen. Dug through Blue Note's vaults for Shades of Blue. Linked up with Detroit beat-superstar Jay Dilla for Jaylib. Most recently found himself side by side with MF Doom for Madvillain. His most talked about YNQ project was little more than a promotional disc, manufactured with a press run of 1500 pieces in conjunction with New York-based clothing company Triple 5 Soul. The Stevie album, a series of soulful Stevie Wonder covers that Madlib flipped early on in his YNQ tenure, quickly found its way to bidders willing to fork out over $100 per disc on eBay, was briefly bootlegged on vinyl, and led to the question that those lucky enough to snag a dub were forced to ask: when is this thing going to see proper release?! The short answer — now. Madlib's Stevie Wonder tribute comes remastered and resequenced, with a bonus track and new artwork."

MONK HUGHES & THE OUTER REALM: A Tribute To Brother Weldon CD (STH 2092CD). $14.00

"Shortly after jazz great Weldon Irvine's tragic death in 2002, Madlib entered his studio under the name Monk Hughes (Yesterdays New Quintet) and composed an instrumental tribute album to his spiritual-mentor's life and music. It's only fitting — Irvine was one of the first to give Madlib's Yesterdays New Quintet project respect as part and parcel of jazz's ever expanding legacy."

STORAGE SECRET VISUALS (GERMANY):

HENNEKEN, SIMONE: The German Face CD/CD-ROM (SSV 001). $19.00

"Simone Henneken writes stories and makes animationfilms. Her publications are full of strange creatures like stringmen, women who stab little dogs, tatzelworms and other fringe figures of life. Her film The German Face mainly deals with Silvia von Ambesser, a character she created, who spends her days studying and thinking up fine-sounding children's names. In a cheerful voice Simone Henneken tells the audience about the fast developing bad-luck of her heroine, and at the same time she brings to light all kinds of wondrous episodes. The story has been graphically realised with paper in cut-out-technique. The film is produced by Charles Kissing, who has already produced successful animationfilms by Mariola Brillowska and Anke Feuchtenberger. The music by Rudi Burr (Helgoland) and Reznicek (Nova Huta) is a mixture of electro-pop and Super-Mario, that tickles your ear, challenges you to dance, and strokes your belly comfortably. All 11 tracks are on the CD-ROM as extra CD-audio-files."

STRAIGHT SIX FILMS:

MARTIN, JIMMY: King of Bluegrass: Life and Times of Jimmy Martin DVD (SSF 002 DVD). $21.00

"King of Bluegrass, The Life and Times of Jimmy Martin documents bluegrass legend Jimmy Martin's lifelong quest to reach his childhood dream of becoming a regular member on the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tennessee. Known for his flamboyant dress, crazed hunting trips, and brash behavior, Martin is the rebel figure of bluegrass music. From 1949 to 1954 Martin was the lead singer and guitarist for bluegrass pioneer Bill Monroe's Blue Grass Boys, helping form the 'High Lonesome Sound' that is so widely regarded today. A noted country music conversation piece, The King of Bluegrass captures the essence of the man and his music by interweaving the story of Martin's life with new footage, historical material, live shows, and interviews with Ralph Stanley, Marty Stuart, Tom T. Hall, Bill Emerson and JD Crowe." 66 min.

STRANGE ATTRACTORS AUDIO HOUSE:*BASHO-JUNGHANS, STEFFEN: Inside CD (SAAH 002). $12.00

The 2nd US release from this former East German guitarist, his most radically inventive work, full of propulsive rhythmic minimalism — a new plateau in solo guitar audio. "Evolving amorously from the New Folk tradition inspired by Takoma Records artists John Fahey, Peter Lang and especially Robbie Basho, Berlin's most enigmatic steel-string guitarist Steffen Basho-Junghans exorcises radically new voices and perspectives out of the acoustic steel string guitar. Possessing an impeccable instinct and insatiable curiosity, this innovative guitar master is on a constant search to discover new possibilities for the instrument. Conceptually, Inside is a metaphysical excursion exploring the idea 'inside the outside'. Using 'wrong' playing techniques as the basic launching point, Inside casts aside the inhibitive shackles of theory and develops the basic idea via a meditative and utterly minimalist approach. Hypnotizing soundscapes emerge from the depths, enveloping and distorting any semblance of time to the point of blissful disorientation. Broken into three movements, '1st Movement' establishes the very essence of the piece as a subtly shifting meander through space, building in a somewhat percussive, raga-like manner. '2nd Movement, Part 1, 2 & 3' seem to hit a sojourn in the trip, dancing around a universe where Derek Bailey and Rod Poole incessantly debate the merits of John Fahey's America album. '3rd Movement' moves back into the saturating theme, galloping through various minute manifestations, ebbing and flowing effortlessly. An astonishing array of sounds are coaxed out of his acoustic steel string, remarkable considering Inside was recorded solo, with no overdubs whatsoever. Standing uniquely apart as a singular suite of minimal-trance for solo acoustic guitar, Inside sets folk standards collectively on its ear. With this record, Steffen Basho-Junghans makes a radical statement on the potential of acoustic guitar music. His ultimate achievement, however, is the creation of absolute beauty."

LANDING: Oceanless CD (SAAH 003). $12.00

"Landing is a truly vibrant, celestial-minded quartet of sound painters from Connecticut (via-Utah!). Oceanless, their simply amazing second full length CD, is a dense canvas capturing graceful instrumental brushstrokes, lush audio pigments, and vivid surrealist portraits. Featuring six compositions and clocking in at over 63 minutes, Oceanless is absolutely the most dazzling prism of sound Landing has produced thus far. Inebriating and intricately textured, the plodding mallet driven rhythms, keyboard oscillations, wavering guitar afterburn and distant reverberant vocals could be likened to a PrazisionLP-era Labradford that has melted all over the easel."

SURFACE OF ECEYON: The King Beneath The Mountain CD (SAAH 004). $12.00

"Strange Attractors rips open the sky, searching for evidence of a mythic concert of stars, and down from the cosmos rains a majestic symphony entitled Surface of Eceyon. Boasting a supreme membership that includes 3/4 of Landing plus the psychedelic vision of Adam Forkner from established voyagers Yume Bitsu, the exploratory Surface of Eceyon create swirling nebulas of blissful soundimithy which only a precise collision between two such cosmically-inclined outfits could sufficiently create. Surface of Eceyon morphs 70's German psyche-prog and modern FX-laden space with pure improv to concoct a striking mesh of melodious 'out' rock."

BASHO-JUNGHANS, STEFFEN: Waters In Azure CD (SAAH 005). $13.00

"Waters In Azure is an album of sound sculptures, coursing through themes of structure, space and state. Inaugurating the album is 'Waters', a winding, amorphous meditation upon waters' various characteristics. Broken into three distinct parts, the composition coaxes blissfully disorientating shrapnel from the guitar, slithering under Steffen's alien 12-string slide techniques. 'Waters' dances drunkenly like a burbling creek, building, cresting, then breaking into a spacious trickle, only to swell again as it spills forth across some eerie landscape. Harkening back to Inside a raga-pulse is 'Inside the Rain', the absolute centerpiece of the album. Shimmering fractals glisten with fantastic beauty, expanding determinedly towards an ecstatic plateau, propelled by the rhythmic, vibrant sparkle of SBJ's 12-string. Experimenting with technique, form, and sound by merging minimalist composition, Eastern raga and the acoustic steel string/folk tradition pioneered by Robbie Basho, John Fahey and Sandy Bull, Steffen Basho-Junghans has transcended any easy genre pigeonholing to sit perched high atop a musical plane entirely of his own creation. Water Is Azure is his latest volley at the gods and goddesses of sound, pelting them mercilessly with his elaborately foreign, yet utterly beautiful brand of minimalist solo guitar."

PLANETARIUM MUSIC: Traditional Psychedelic Electronic Music (Planet 2) CD (SAAH 006). $13.00

"Alex Bundy from San Francisco, CA-via-Portland, OR is the man in question operating the ambient trajectories of Planetarium Music, a heavenly electronic orchestra raining down like a vibrant meteor shower from the constellations high above. Through his Planetarium Music project, Bundy explores a style of electronic music that originated with predominantly German artists in the early 70's such as Tangerine Drea, Cluster, Klaus Schulze, and Popol Vuh's first couple of albums, and was carried through the 80's by artists such as Robert Rich, Steve Roach and Jeff Greinke. Using digital synthesizers, processing software and computers as sonic arsenals Planetarium Music seeks to reclaim the Music of the Spheres while updating it with a modern perspective. As cosmic tides ripple throughout shimmering modulations envelop and a multitude of discreet drones burble just below the surface."

CUL DE SAC: Immortality Lessons CD (SAAH 007). $13.00

"Anyone even remotely hovering the periphery of the independent avant rock/psyche/experimental underground should be well aware of Cul de Sac. First blazing into the stratosphere with ECIM in 1992 (Northeastern/Rough Trade). Cul de Sac quickly drew universal praise for its' heady bricolage of 60's psychedelia, Krautrock grooves, surf guitar trajectories, electronic washes, American folk influences and Middle Eastern trance. Cul de Sac have since released four classic albums for Thirsty Ear/Flying Nun/Nuf Sad and a slew of 7" singles. For their first release in three years, Strange Attractors mines the vaults and unearths a stupendous diamond in the rough, the cosmically happy 'accident'. Immortality Lessons."

LANDING: Fade In/Fade Out CD (SAAH 008). $10.00

"Stretching 5 songs over 37 minutes, Fade In/Fade Out encapsulates all points possible along Landing's glistening trajectory of beauty. Bridging their droned-immaculate works (Oceanless) and concise tunesmith shimmer (Seasons, Circuit) with mystifying exactitude, the scope of the EP is immense, complex and composed... astonishing, when you learn that the music on Fade In/Fade Out was completely improvised on the spot!"

AMPBUZZ: This Is My Ampbuzz CD (SAAH 009). $13.00

"Chris Martin, guitar scientist for Seattle based heavy trippers Kinski, ventures far-out into the wild blue yonder with Ampbuzz, his otherworldly & uber-cosmic solo venture. Whereas Kinski graph the nuances of psychedelic instrumental rock via a highly visceral attack, Ampbuzz investigates languid alter-universes wrapped in blurry, hazy, billowing quilts of sound. Imagine if Kawabata Makoto (Acid Mothers Temple) and his ambient solo projects collaborated with Zoviet*France and was commissioned to create music for Werner Herzog or David Lynch, and you may be sitting in the right theatre."

BASHO-JUNGHANS, STEFFEN: Rivers and Bridges CD (SAAH 010). $13.00

"Rivers and Bridges is a pastoral experience, rich in color and texture, coursing through various moods with river allegory at its' core. Impressionist six-string dramaturgy cascade forth, ebbing and flowing in steady rage-like waves, across placid sound pools and frothing rapids. Through each piece a myriad of sounds styles are explored, touching upon American folk, Native American linearity. Middle Eastern resonance, East Indian raga, and Western classical with heartfelt ease — and often within the same tune. Propelled all the while by an intricate sense of melodic invention, the depth of imagery and complexity of texture is remarkable and simply gorgeous. Reminiscent of his Songs of The Earth and the timeless Takoma Records sound, Rivers and Bridges is an instant classic acoustic guitar record, sounding familiar and yet imbued with subtleties unlike anything else you've heard before."

CUL DE SAC: Death Of The Sun CD (SAAH 011). $13.00

"Nearly four years has elapsed since instrumental avant-rock innovators Cul de Sac released a studio album. Death Of The Sun is as much a musical and compositional departure in every way for Cul de Sac as their otherworldly The Epiphany Of Glenn Jones, the infamous psychodrama in collaboration with the late John Fahey. Taking cue from two tape-based pieces from that album, the band set out on a new path informed by their experience. By virtue of Trussell's modern electronics, augmenting analog wizard Rabbi Amos' role, a new approach to creating the music unfolded. Samples from to backbone of the album, the blueprint of the tunes. As the foundation became increasingly electronic-oriented, Cul de Sac responded with acoustic textures, and the juxtaposition works magically, a seamless integration. Death of the Sun is a challenging listen, pushing the Cul de Sac sound forward into entirely new realms. Folk, avant rock, electronica, turntablism, field recordings, percussive trance, ambient, Middle Eastern — the points along the musical plane are vast but in the hands of Cul de Sac, the integration is spellbinding and atmospheric."

KINSKI: Airs Above Your Station 2LP (SAAH 012). $13.00

"Airs Above Your Station is by far Kinski's grandest achievement. Cresting a frothy ways marrying textured ambient drone, space-gaze sonic swells, death-defying volume dynamics and melodic, lysergic guitar rifts with balanced precision, Airs Above Your Station takes Kinski's own interpretation of psychedelic rock a giant leap farther into the outer reaches of orbit. Every song is dynamic, monumental, huge, composed to seemingly be their last. From the opening warm drones of 'Steve's Basement' percolating gently towards a rendezvous with fat & heavy acid-punk chords. Airs Above Your Station makes an ecstatic trajectory across a variety of textures, alternating between pillowing sonic passages doused in effects and pummeling, bowel-wrenching volume. No other compositional rock band makes the leap between 70's cosmic like Cluster & Eno, classic innovators like Loop and My Bloody Valentine to today's crop of dynamos like Mogwai and Bardo Pond with such skill and originality."

SUBARACHNOID SPACE: Also Rising CD (SAAH 013). $13.00

"Initially conceived as a band exploring psychedelic terrain from on-the-spot creation, Also Rising stands apart as SubArachnoid Space's most composed record. Much of the bands' output charts effects-laden acid-rock/drone via telepathic interplay, but this time SubArachnoid Space hone ideas crafted from the depths of improvisation to a set of razor-sharp songs that stick with your brain receptors, refusing to leave. Traversing the acid-jam rhythmic grooves of Meddle-era Pink Floyd, the subconscious stirrings of the Cosmic Jokers, and seasoning the sonics with the free-skree guitar aviation of Mahnog or Elflowler, Also Rising is a flooring dictum in SubArachnoid Space's mind expansion campaign."

SURFACE OF ECEYON: Draggyn CD (SAAH 014). $13.00

"The purest, untainted offering of the Surface of Eceyon experience to date. The music stands completely naked, exposing on astonishing degree of texture, depth and balance. Whittling miles of improvised recordings down to six varied pieces which stretch just over the one hour mark, Surf ace of Eceyon dress up their three-guitar flurry to the nines in a colorful wardrobe of effects, directed by motorik rhythms alternating between propulsive pulses and impressionist decor. Taken as a soundtrack to a Tolkien-esque universe called Drystyn (the liner notes detail a mystical story from Drystyn of Draggyn's battle to reclaim the wind), Surface of Eceyon succeeds in creating the perfect alter-universe for their spontaneous sound to thrive."

TSURUBAMI: Gekkyukekkaichi CD (SAAH 015). $13.00

"Tsurubami may vary will be the must blissfully unrestrained blast of hallucinatory fire to ever spiral forth from the Acid Mothers Temple Soul Collective. Certainly the inspiration behind Tsurubami ranks it among the most philosophical and deeply spiritual. Comprised of Emi Nobuka (drums), and fellow Acid Mothers Temple compatriots Kawabata Makoto (guitar) and Higashi Hiroshi (bass). Upon entering Tsurubami's sphere for the first time, it is immediately evident that a higher form of consciousness is at play. The crux of the band is driven upon the actual meaning of Tankyo no To — those who are destined from a previous life to become eternal blood brothers. Set aglow by the innate understanding of their linked fate, the three effortlessly meld together into one intuitive being, telepathically tapping into a collective consciousness that manifests itself as an intensely emotive flurry of sound-energy. Gekkyukekkaichi is hard evidence of Tsurubami's ritualistic soul purging, an aggressive physical excursion of group dynamics spread across two compositions that stretch in total just past the one hour mark. Resonating, ringing guitar fractals are drowned in layers of echo-chamber effects, swelling with intense volume over restless bass pulses and feathery multi-directional drum patterns, scattering sonic debris like clouds of pollen over unsuspecting heads. Not all of the Tsurubami experience is fire and brimstone however, sound streams ebb and flow, finding lilting pockets of relief that are almost yearning and ballad-like. An aura of heaviness is imparted, not necessarily of musical gravity but of a sobering sense that Gekkyukekkaichi is a document of a unique moment in time, an instance of complete disembodiment of the musicians." — www.strange-attractors.com.

REBEL POWERS: Not One Star Will Stand The Night CD (SAAH 016). $13.00

"In 1998, Acid Mothers Temple went on a swing of the UK that sowed the seeds for a new cosmic unit, Rebel Powers. Kawabata, Makoto, Cotton Casino and original AMT drummer Koizumi Hajima met up with David Keenan, guitarist for Glasgow's Telstar Ponies and prominent scribe for London's premier new music mag The Wire, and holed up in South London's Moat Studios to let the heavenly river flow. Rebel Powers explore minimalist sound layering via two long, improvised tracks. Sustained guitar notes resonate and sarangi buzzes swirl while chiming waves of concrete percussive clatter and plaintive vocal wails slowly build momentum. Sounds are methodically layered and gently peeled away, revealing a ringing guitar chord or two at its very core. Pools of sound shimmer and meticulously waver as each note strikes its placis surface, building and building an ominous mood with glacial intensity towards the psyche's breaking point. Imagine the sort of dark themes and tolling guitar found on Popol Vuh's soundtrack to Nosferatu, oozing ever forward and serenaded by the hypnotic call from the mythical Siren. Minimalism is certainly the order of the day, but a sort of minimalism that has been rendered catatonic, eerie, otherworldly. With just guitars, percussive rustles, intermittent sarangi and vocals, Rebel Powers evoke a meditative sphere to get lost in for days. Aside from sarangi, there are no overdubs present, and the music was completely improvised."

CUL DE SAC: The Strangler's Wife CD (SAAH 017 CD). $13.00

"In the middle of what was to become Cul de Sac's fifth studio album (2003's critically heralded Death of the Sun), the band switched gears to lend their unique avant/psych-rock atmospherics to The Strangler's Wife. Thoroughly absorbed in the script and rough cuts of the film, the band began composing music specifically for key scenes. Glenn Jones came to the studio offering one of the best songs of his career — 'Mirror II (Mac and Elena)', a yearning, Fahey-esque acoustic ballad (heartstring-tugging courtesy of Jonathan LeMaster's emotive violin melodies). Samples and electronic compositions were brought in by Cul de Sac electricians Robin Amos and Jake Trussell, exactly constructed for certain scenes. The rest of the music was either composed in the studio or improvised on the spot as the film was running. The resulting score unfurls a sonic scene-by-scene recreation of the movie as Cul de Sac heard it. From the film's opening sequence 'First Victim (Apple/Main Titles)', Cul de Sac offer up a dose of their idiosyncratic Kraut-vibe, with a touch prog that brings to mind Goblin's 70's Italian horror film scores...but from there, the musical plot is anything but predictable. Sentimental/ominous acoustic-fueled compositions, horror show sound paintings, visceral drum 'n' bass meltdowns, ambient tonal soundscapes — all are revealed through the course of the recording, with remarkably dramatic effect. In the spirit of classic Italian horror film scores of the 70's and film soundtracks scored by avant rock bands such as Nosferatu (Popol Vuh), More (Pink Floyd) and Zabriszkie Point (Various), Cul de Sac has concocted music of a tremendously detailed, dynamic scope. The Strangler's Wife is a silver screen moment for one of the most expressive experimental rock bands of the last decade."

NEWMAN, HARRIS: Non-Sequiturs CD (SAAH 018 CD). $13.00

"Newman is a finger-style steel-string acoustic guitarist possessing a remarkably detailed and lush sound, and he is creating some of the most lyrical compositions for the instrument to be heard anywhere. Non-Sequiturs his debut release, a fabulous album of alternately effervescent and deeply mysterious acoustic guitar grandeur. Newman's acoustic finger-picking dances and swaggers, creating a sunny expanse of tunes that are augmented by stark, introspective passages. Much like Faheys classic 1967 album The Yellow Princess, Non-Sequiturs juxtaposes giddy, pastoral songs against heady, experimental sound excursions. Opening with the galloping pace of 'Around About Thirty-Six', resonating steel-strings halos refract gilded light against the moody drone corridors of 'I Fought the Lottery'. For a few of the tunes, Newman is joined by Montreal-area percussionist Bruce Cawdron, and the combination at times exhumes the exploratory genre-blending spirit of Sandy Bull's first couple of albums; (the muted, mallet-driven percussion grooves of 'The Bullheaded Stranger' evoke Billy Higgins-style jazziness as an undercurrent for the tumbling, glistening guitar lines to burble over. Combining solo acoustic songs with lap-steel, percussion and bowed cymbal effects, Harris Newman craftily laces everything together to create a stunningly cohesive, gorgeous set of compositions."

VOCOKESH: The Tenth Corner CD (SAAH 019 CD). $13.00

"Vocokesh seriously tweak the standard rock trio infrastructure by processing the guitars beyond earthly recognition and inoculating the cacophony with an arsenal of vintage analog electronics. With seven songs totalling over an hour of music, The Tenth Corner explores some seriously alien terrain with an elusively mechanical, intensely lysergic sound. Unfurling like mellow smoke from some alien opium den, the title track introduces the sonic soiree in a pleasant mood, as distant acoustic plucking and electronic oscillations provide a pillowing backdrop for some elegant electric guitar flourishes. Imbued with an intense array of moods and textures, The Tenth Corner is a tremendously cinematic listening experience — in fact, three tunes are envisioned as supplemental/alternate soundtracks to some particularly vivid cult films. Composition and improvisation coalesce into a sound that draws from the early flights of 70's German avant rock (Agitation Free, Cosmic Jokers, Ash Ra Tempel) and synth-powered cosmic (Cluster, Tangerine Dream, Popol Vuh) if it were created in the embryonic electronic music labs of the 60's and 70's. Transcendent, gritty, hallucinatory — The Tenth Corner is undoubtedly Vocokesh's finest hour."

BASHO-JUNGHANS, STEFFEN: 7 Books 2CD (SAAH 020/21). $17.00

"With over two hours of music spread across two discs, 7 Books finds Basho-Junghans stretching way out, mutating the steel string tradition into the most elaborate excursion into sound and composition that has ever fluttered from his fingertips. Basho-Junghans' experimental works are microcosms of his chance discoveries with the acoustic steel string guitar, focusing in on a particular aspect of his epiphanies; 7 Books gathers all of these microcosms into one Big Bang, erupting into a vast universe of subtle and complex sound galaxies. Six-string guitar provides the template for Disc One, and each 'book' (composition) opens and closes with a deep array of chapters and passages. Chiming tones, pulsating percussive runs, finger scrapes and dazzling finger techniques build and build in raga-like fashion. Disc Two focuses on music composed with slide guitar, and Basho-Junghans' particular alien glissandos dance like refracted light, a gloriously disorienting sound broadcast seemingly from a foreign land. Minimalism, Eastern raga, trance-inducing repetition, Spectralist tonal investigations, folk and American fingerstyle steel-string tradition coalesce into one astounding epic for the solo acoustic guitar. Steffen Basho-Junghans follows his instincts above everything else and discovers a myriad of universes within a solitary instrument, inventing a new language in the process."

KINSKI: Don't Climb On and Take the Holy Water CD (SAAH 022CD). $13.00

"In their hometown of Seattle, Chris Martin, Lucy Atkinson, and Matthew Reid-Schwartz of the lysergic-punk band Kinski often play out incognito. Under the guise Herzog (film buffs should figure all these German names out pretty quickly), the goal is to experiment with mood, sound construction and interplay by channeling their chemistry into an exploration of their 'cosmic' side. These entirely improvised sets have yielded some truly heady excursions into the sonic ether. Although they may perform as Herzog, the sum of the parts is still Kinski, and while the intent is to shower the air with slow-raining space dust rather than their trademark heavy-paisley riffs, ambient drone is still very much an aspect of the overall Kinski sound. Don't Climb on and Take the Holy Water is a snapshot of these experiments, 'free-ambient' sounds weaved on the spot when the guitarists subliminally dialed into one another and directed their energies into a subtle exploration of drone, texture and atmosphere."

PAIK: Satin Black CD (SAAH 023CD). $13.00

"Paik are wicked conjurers of a seriously delirious thunder, unleashing a maelstrom of sound that is as lilting as it is crushing. A power trio of guitar/bass/drums, the band first streaked across the Michigan space-gaze scene in 1997, seeking to chart out new aural frontiers within a rock format. Evoking the roaring resonance of Kevin Shields' levitating guitar innovations and the minimalist weight of a band like Earth, Paik are a heady force on the avant rock map. Satin Black is truly a beautiful noise."

JONES, GLENN: This is the Wind that Blows it Out CD (SAAH 024CD). $13.00

"...Solos for 6 & 12 String Guitar. "Most folks know Glenn Jones as guitarist extraordinaire for Cul de Sac, in which his idiosyncratic blend of surf, Middle Eastern, Americana and acid guitar innovations are a signature of the band's much-ballyhooed sound. In the spirit of the great Takoma Records releases of the 60's and early 70's, This is the Wind that Blows it Out winds its way through rich expanses of varied stylistic terrain, charting a rich and unique course. 'American Primitive' folk and blues, Spanish guitar, slack-key, rustic Mississippi Delta slide and classical forms cozy up fluently to one another, sometimes within the same tune. Glenn Jones' fingerstyle and slide technique is on a dazzling display, guiding the music across scenic vistas of mood and color. As interest in the old guard of steel-string innovators John Fahey, Robbie Basho, Leo Kottke and Peter Lang has been renewed with earnest, a new fraternity of Guitar Soli tunesmiths has come to the fore — Steffen Basho-Junghans, Jack Rose, Harris Newman and Glenn Jones. Along with his guitar-slinging brethren, Jones steps out of the long shadow cast by the Takoma stable and offers up 'A New Possibility'."

SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE: The Manifestation CD (SAAH 026CD). $13.00

"If the pan-cultural acoustic/psych inventions of Ben Chasny and his Six Organs of Admittance could be defined by only one composition, that tune would certainly have to be The Manifestation. Released in the year 2000, The Manifestation was a clear, one-sided vinyl 12", a curiously primitive etching of the sun featured on the B-side. Originally sprawling across one side of vinyl, The Manifestation is an extended raga of genre-defying madness, a dizzy melding of acoustic fingerstyle, shamanic chants, chimes, hand percussion, space jam and ghostly vocals."

STRASSE BEAT RECORDS (GERMANY):

VA: Boom Boom! Forgotten Treasures From the German 60s Beat Boom CD (SB 001). $13.00

Star-Club era compilation of tracks by The Guards, The Kentucky's, The Paving Stones, The Toppers, The Rebbles, The Hounddgos, The News, The Anoms, The Rackers, The Candidates, Thursdays Children, The Idling Domestics, The Original Surfers, The Strings, The Black & Whites, The Hounddgos, The Boots.

STREAMLINE (GERMANY):

KA-SPEL, EDWARD: Khataclimici China Doll CD (STREAM 1009). $13.50

"This is an extended CD issue of Edward Ka-Spel's fifth solo album. Khataclimici China Doll was originally recorded in 1987 with the help of Legendary Pink Dots members Majest Alarme and Silverman, and was released on the German DOM label that same year. It represents part 2 of the not yet completed Aaahzyd China Doll trilogy. (The first part has been reissued on CD by Staalplaat.) Khataclimici China Doll shows Edward Ka-Spel's fascination with dark psychodelia: Khataclimici = The coming of the Khataclism, the Apocalypse. A 20 minute composition 'Tsznikowskiyarrh The Baptist' was added to the original album for this release. Recorded in 1994 it serves as a link to the (forthcoming) 3rd part of the Aaahzyd trilogy. It comes across as a surreal journey of most adventurous quality."

MIMIR: Mimir CD (STREAM 1012). $13.50

"Moonwise the dance began, and we were so quickly lashed into a frenzy by the rhythm of Christabel's drum and the powerful vapours from the stramonium, vervaine, and musk boiling in the pot. The goats pranced around us in an outer circle, bleating. The air was filled with a humming and a drumming of wings, and millions of bumble bees gathered over our heads and formed a great female figure over the boiling cauldron. The swarm shimmered and shook in the formation of giantness. The figure buzzed and shimmered, then somewhere from the depths of the body made from so many millions of bees came a voice so unbearably sweet that we felt drowned in honey..." — from Leonora Carrington: The Hearing Trumpet. The Obvious: Mimir is the third album by the group consisting of Jim O'Rourke, Andreas Martin, Silverman, Christoph Heemann and Edward Kaspel. It was recorded between 1993 and 1997. This CD reissues the limited edition LP version from 1999."

H.N.A.S. (HIRSCHE NICHT AUFS SOFA): Im Schatten Der Möhre CD (STREAM 1013). $13.50

"The long awaited CD issue of the long-deleted and sought after fourth H.N.A.S. album. A few months after the original LP version appeared on DOM in June 1987. Jon Carbon (Certain Music) wrote: 'Germany's most bizarre underground terrorists have struck again with an even more surprising blast of avant-weirdness. The group centered around Christoph Heemann and Andreas Martin have created a carefully crafted and most diverse, yet cohesive journey of soundscapes, drones and songs that reminds us of the likes of Faust, Nurse With Wound, Pierrot Lunaire ... the two sides seem to form one long piece that comes across like a surreal burlesque into post-psychedellic wonderland...' Reissues of the other HNAs albums are in preparation featuring remastered versions of the original tapes and faithfully restored original artwork."

CHALK, ANDREW: Over The Edges CD (STREAM 1015). $13.50

1997 recordings, composed and performed by Andrew Chalk (Organum, Mirror, Ora). "He walked on to the porch and stood still. He breathed in. It was young air, still and undisturbed. He looked out at the world — it was new and turning green. He raised his head. The sky unfolded, pink from the sun rising somewhere unseen. He raised his head higher. Spindle-shaped, porous clouds, centuries of laborious workmanship, stretched across the whole sky, but only for a few moments before dispersing, seen only by the few who happened to throw back their heads at that minute."

FUCHS, LIMPE: Nur Mar Mus CD (STREAM 1016). $13.50

Repress of this 1999 release. "It is no exaggeration to say that Limpe Fuchs' musical creations really have a life of their own, whether the sounds are produced by conventional instruments, vocal chords, or even from objects she found or constructed specifically for that purpose. Her music is characterized, especially when she is playing the ballastring instruments, by the reverberating humming of the strings, rich in overtones, and by the mysterious echoes emanating from stones. For Limpe Fuchs, music means setting out on a joyous journey of discovery. She is not afraid to leave firm ground behind and thus, by avoiding rigidity, preserves the vitality of her music. This particularly comes across when collaborating with other musicians, whether improvising freely or on a given theme. Her music makes us sit up and listen, and at the same time enriches us, for only when we have learnt how to listen can we really appreciate the true nature of things. 'Sound events are created for each composition with carefully chosen materials: rows of oakwood pieces, rows of marble and serpentine stones, bronze sheets, horn of wood, ballast string instruments, developed by Paul Fuchs: heavy bronze bars fixed on a long piano wire, suspended from a broad bronze drum. The visual aspect is of the same importance as the acoustic. The violin is integrated into the sound environment, the piano creates its own characteristic. Life and music alive is music no life without music the musical material the touch the stone the breath my body touch the body of the material strike tickle scratch the stone vibration of the air touch the body symphony of vibration play instructions experience musical notation combination of sounds different touching.'

MIRROR: Eye Of The Storm CD (STREAM 1017). $13.50

"The second Mirror album Andrew Chalk and Christoph Heemann produced together in 1999, originally released as a limited edition vinyl LP, is now available on CD for the first time. Andrew Chalk and Christoph Heemann think that it is a very boring idea to try to find descriptions for their music (and most music in general). Why is the music there after all? If they wanted to make their artistic statements in language, they would work as writers. They like to say it in sound, so if you want to find out what they're about you'd better listen. Several years ago, somebody found some words (in a novel) that seem to parallel Chalk and Heemann's creative aspirations: 'How long the journey lasted we were unable to calculate. Time seemed a myth, a meaningless symbol. We lurched on, driven by an incomprehensible compulsion. We had no will in the matter. Our mouths opened and shut as we attempted to yell at each other, but there was no sound. Evanescent twigs and leaves and branches brushed past us, grey and insubstantial; fuffy softness charged into our rushing bodies without injury or pain. Then as abruptly as we had begun to move, we were halted'."

NURSE WITH WOUND: Thunder Perfect Mind 2LP (STREAM 1020). $13.50

"This vinyl double album issue in a full-color gatefold sleeve is an extended version of Nurse With Wound's 1991 recording. In addition, this is the first-ever American release from Nurse With Wound. Thunder Perfect Mind was produced by Steven Stapleton with the aid of David Tibet, Cohn Potter, John Balance, Rose McDowall and others. It displays Stapleton's growing interest in aggressive rhythms as well as further refinement in creating textures.... '... At this point, and many others on the tape, the voice became nearly inaudible. 'The bungalow house,' it said, 'was such a bleak environment in which to make a stand: the moonlight through the dusty blinds, the bodies on the carpet, the lamps without any lightbulbs. And the incredible silence. It was not the absence of sounds that I sensed, but the stifling of innumerable sounds and even voices, the muffling of all the noises one might expect to hear in an old bungalow house in the dead of night, as well as countless other sounds and voices. The forces required to accomplish this silence filled me with awe....' from Thomas Ligotti, The Bungalow House.

LITTLE ANNIE: Diamonds Made Of Glass CD (STREAM 1021CD). $11.00

"Little Annie (a/k/a Annie Anxiety Bandez) is known for her own records and collaborative work with Adrian Sherwood, Keith Leblanc, Crass, Coil and Nurse With Wound. This, her first release of all-new material in a number of years, includes songs written in collaboration with Larry T. and Joseph Budenholzer, and a remix by Christoph Heemann. It marks a change of direction for her.... 'Her voice touched something immeasurably old in him, something that slept deep. It lulled the surface parts of his consciousness to sleep, allowing what was far more ancient to awaken. Like the town, with its elaborate pretence of modern active life, the upper layers of his being became dulled, soothed, muffled, and what lay underneath began to stir in its sleep. The big curtain swayed a little to and fro. Presently it might lift altogether....' by Algernon Blackwood."

LITTLE ANNIE: Diamonds Made Of Glass 12" (STREAM 1021EP). $9.00

XHOL CARAVAN: Motherfuckers Live 3LP (STREAM 1022). $25.00

"Xhol Caravan were one of the first German psychedelic underground bands to appear and disappear (the dawn of a grand tradition!). Motherfuckers Live contains the first recordings to be released by Xhol Caravan since 1970. This double LP contains two entire concert performances from 1968 and 1969. The first LP features the only existing recording of the Xhol Caravan 'Freedom Opera,' which was planned as an album release but never realized in the studio. The second LP, recorded for German radio in Cologne, shows a different side of the line-up that can be heard on their two OHR releases. Motherfuckers Live comes packaged with a special tribute 12" 'Hot Buttered Xhol' including cover versions of Xhol Caravan pieces by Nurse With Wound, Current 93 and Christoph Heemann."

PANTALEIMON: Trees Hold Time LP (STRM LP1018). $15.00

"Pantaleimon is Andria Degens, who has previously worked with Current 93, Steven Stapleton, Christoph Heemann and The Dirty Three. This album consists of seven pieces of shimmering minimalist beauty, an evocation of timelessness. 'This is an album of an ineffable and unique beauty, quite unlike anything I have ever heard....' David Tibet of Current 93. The album was recorded and mixed by Christoph Heemann, who has worked with such artists as Current 93, Nurse With Wound, Mimir and Andrew Chalk, in addition to his releasing many albums both as a solo artist and as a member of H.N.A.S.. All artwork by Andria Degens. All tracks composed, arranged and performed by Andria Degens. Dulcimer, bowed dulcimer, bouzouki, singing bowl and vocals by Andria Degens." [LP version of DURTRO 47 CD]

STRICTLY BIZNESS (UK):

VA: Best Of The Old Skool CD (SB 1008/9). $19.00

"A 17 track 72 minute journey into the history of hip hop. Pure and raw mixes of some of the greatest rare underground old skool. Unearthed & available on CD for the first time ever." Features Tricky Tee (Mantronik), Divine Sounds, Roxanne Fly Shante, Audio Two, Special K (Treachorus 3), UltimateForce, Just Ice, Eric B & Rakim, Cool C, T La Rock, Doug E. Fresh, Word of Mouth Feat. DJ Cheese, Cold Crush Boys, Disco 3, Busy Bee, Grandmaster Melle Mel & Furious Five." Classic tracks circa 1984-88, subtitled The Best of Pastmasters 1 & 2, with informed liner notes detailing the background history.

STRIKER LEE (UK):

KING TUBBY: Dub From The Roots CD (SL 44501). $12.00

"King Tubby aka Osbourne Ruddock, the 'Dub Inventor' recorded for producer Bunny Lee in 1974 the album Dub From The Roots backed by the The Aggrovators (R. Shakespeare, The Barrett Brothers, Tony Chin, Ossie Hibbert & Augustus Pablo). This is a classic and the 1st official King Tubby for midprice release."

STRUT (UK):

BEEDLE, ASHLEY: Grass Roots: Musical Influences & Inspiration CD (STRUT 004 CD). $15.00

[this label is now defunct, last copies available...] "First in a series of albums exploring the key influences of the world's leading DJs and producers with a superb selection from top UK DJ and producer, Ashley Beedle, his first compilation project in over two years. Know as the man behind the Afro Art label, Black Science Orchestra (JBO), Black Jazz Chronicles (Nuphonic), as well as being a Ballistic Brother and remixer and producer in his own right, Ashley has become renowned as one of the few UK producers to successfully produce quality dance tunes with skillful reference to the roots of underground black music. Ashley's Grass Roots selection focuses on the underground jazz, funk, northern and balearic side of his upbringing with a heavyweight artist line-up including Gil Scott Heron, Rufus & Chaka Khan, Gwen McCrae, Freddie Hubbard and Grace Jones. For the spotters there are a handful of in-demand rarities — this album is essential for DJs and home listeners alike." Also features tracks by: Four Below Zero, Rare Pleasure, Blue Magic, Stan Ivory and his Omnificent Orchestra, Lafayette Afro Rock Band, Son of Bazerk feat. No Self Control, Will Powers & Tullio de Piscopo."

LEVAN, LARRY: Live at the Paradise Garage 2CD (STRUT 006 CD). $19.00

Incredible double CD package (+ 36 page booklet of photos and testimonial). "New York's Paradise Garage. One of the most influential and documented clubs in the history of dance music. The myth of the Garage and the club's famed DJ, Larry Levan, has intensified since the closed in 1987. Emerging from NY's gay disco scene, the Garage followed the early '70s lead of David Mancuso's Loft and Nicky Siano's Gallery by firmly placing the DJ as the focus of the club. Although there is much urban myth about the Garage, and bootleg tapes of Levan sessions have surfaced, there has never been a live DJ set by Larry Levan at the Garage made commercially available before now. Strut, in conjunction with New York's West End Records, are proud to release Live at the Paradise Garage, a classic set recorded at the club in 1979. The quality of the tapes is superb, and the session captures the full spirit of the Garage, the emphasis being on great tunes at a time when 'the message was in the music' — a time before today's obsession with fluid mixing and little substance. Levan mixes up a host of tracks which were fresh at the time and have since become classics, from the soulful heights of Shalamar and Ashford & Simpson to the funkier grooves of Motown Sounds and Crown Heights Affair." Artists featured include: Ashford & Simpson, Damon Harris, T Connection, Stephanie Mills, Crown Heights Affair, Bunny Sigler, Shalamar, Cher, Melba Moore, Munich Machine, People's Choice, Motown Sounds, The Supremes, Change, Janice McClain, Jakki, John Gibbs & the US Steel Band, Chi-Lites, Jermaine Jackson. DJ POGO: Block Party Breaks 2 CD (STRUT 009 CD). $15.00

"Something of a phenomena in the OG-breaks reissue arena. In that the CD version hails the initial digital appearance of the long fabled 'Amen' break (albeit a smugly 45-nicked but nicely remastered take) used by every berk with a sampler (and an internet connection/sound card) at some point over the last 15 years. Which of course heralds in a new era of folks using said break without considering the repercussions (ouch! NPI), not to mention the cloaked/hooded 'hall of breaks dealers' now rendered obsolete with a single mass-market issue. Otherwise a nice to great selection of funk and soul rarities, although Pogo's audacity in filtering less desirable break-choons (by Jeff Beck and Gong!) in with what would otherwise be a flawless set to the obvious is a bit on the inconsiderate tip. Buy a copy, rip the break(s), download Dynamo, run the presets (esp. Beat Burglar), send yr demo to Ipecac, put Radiohead on yr speed-dial (nothing but love). Safe sampling, folks." — Hrvtaki. "By now, we all know the breaks — the part of the record where the musicians leave the drummer to give it some. Drum breaks from original '70s funk, rock and disco have formed the building blocks of dance music since the mid-'80s and the demand for the original sources has never been greater. Since UK turntable hero DJ Pogo compiled the first official album of some of the classic original breaks on Harmless in 1998, the breaks compilation market has exploded. Pogo's follow-up, Block Party Breaks, released in 1999 on Strut, was acclaimed as one of the best of the genre — established classics alongside some lethal rare funk. Time, then, for Pogo's Block Party Breaks 2. The classics are there — the famous 'Amen break', ('Amen Brother' by The Winstons) and Juice's 'Catch A Groove' receive their first commercial release since the '70s. There's more rare, rough funk 45s with bad breaks — Jesse Gresham Plus 3, Dave Cortez & The Moon People and Sammy Gordon."

VA: Music For Dancefloors 2 CD (STRUT 010 CD). $15.00

"Strut take a trip back to the murky world of library music for the second in their Music For Dancefloors series. Many trade music libraries were set up in the 60s and 70s to provide background music for TV stations and advertising agencies, catering for every possible mood. The libraries used top session musicians from across Europe and the music was compiled on themed albums with anonymous artwork. At the time, none of it was ever commercially released and the vinyl now changes hands for big money amongst vinyl junkies. Strut's first Music for Dancefloors collection featured highlights from the celebrated London library, KPM, and the composers were largely British. With our second volume, the flavour is more European as we explore the vast catalogues of Chappell Music, including Paris-based Illustrations Musicales and Bruton Music. The music covers a wide range of styles, whilst always keeping an eye firmly on the dancefloor. From the mellow, spacey funk of Brian Bennett's 'Discovery' to the killer Afro percussion jam 'Afro Beat/Afro Syn' from Nino Nardini, the album also touches on heavy dancefloor jazz and funky soundtrack styles. Composers include French heavyweights Roger Roger and Eddie Warner and UK session gurus Keith Mansfield and Johnny Hawksworth. This is another essential collection highlighting some amazing music that has remained hidden for years to all but hardened collectors."

FLASH, GRANDMASTER: The Official Adventures of? CD (STRUT 011 CD). $16.00

"Most people know Flash for his studio recordings as Grandmaster Flash & The Furious Five - 'The Message', 'Scorpio', 'White Lines' and the rest. But few have ever heard Flash doing what he should be celebrated for — rocking the party in the Bronx during his heyday in the mid-70s. Apart from the odd taster - 'Adventures on The Wheels of Steel' and the 'Flash on The Beat' bootleg, there's nothing. Just stories of legendary block party cassettes that did the rounds back in the day. Strut have hooked up with Grandmaster Flash and have asked him to delve deep to faithfully re-create the original days, to play the tunes that actually were played. Flash has got rhythms you haven't even used yet! The result is a real piece of dance music history for anyone remotely into hip hop. Flash takes us through the different aspects of the block parties from the extended freestyle mixes to the tracks he used to play in their entirety ('I always brought it right down with some tunes for the hustlers!'). There are even some snippets of original block party tapes and some exclusive interview footage with Flash himself. The deluxe packaging features cover photography from Vincent MacDonald along with a 28 page booklet featuring original photos and memorabilia. A comprehensive Flash history courtesy of Bill Brewster and Frank Broughton is included."

Tracks by: Grandmaster Flash, Babe Ruth, Kraftwerk, Eddie Drennon & the BBS Orchestra, Yellow Magic Orchestra.

FRESH, FREDDY: B Boy Stance: Original Old Skool Party Rockers CD (STRUT 012 CD). $16.00

"Known for his dexterous deck skills and quirky productions on his Howlin' 45s label, Minnesota's Freddy Fresh is also one of the most celebrated collectors of original hip hop vinyl. In October he is publishing the first ever directory of old skool hip hop covering 1979 to 1988, listing everything from the biggest-selling anthems to the most obscure twelves. To accompany this long overdue book, UK label, Strut have teamed up with Freddy for a new mix album incorporating some of the best and most overlooked party-rockin' old skool cuts known to man. Spanning the styles from funky early rap to electro, scratch tracks and a few leftfield oddities, every cut has been chosen for today's dancefloor and not just for rarity status!" Artists include: Marley Marl, Lil' Jazzy Jay & Cool Supreme, Kev E Kev, Wackies Disco Band, Master Jay and Michael Dee, Knights Of The Turntables, Big Daddy Kane, Scott La Rock, Scoopy, Freddy B & The Mic Masters, JVC Force, Ian Darby, Something Anything, Russell Brothers, Super 3, Trickeration, Hi Fidelity 3, Imperial Brothers, Jazzy Jay, Cool C, Z3MCs, Masterdon Committee, Disco Three, Bobby Demo.

FRESH, FREDDY: B Boy Stance: Original Old Skool Party Rockers 2LP (STRUT 012 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

KRIVIT, DANNY: Grass Roots 2CD (STRUT 014 CD). $20.00

"Up and coming UK label, Strut delivers yet another essential Grass Roots release. This time it's with one of New York's finest spinners, Danny Krivit. Known primarily as the resident at the celebrated Body & Soul session every Sunday at Club Vinyl, Danny has been a key part of the New York club scene for thirty years! Krivit played at the opening of The Roxy in '79 and, as Danny Rock, was resident there for the next four years alongside D.ST, Bambaataa and Afrika Islam. Krivit spun at five to six clubs a week — Danceteria, Red Zone, Limelight, Save The Robots, even a guest spot at the Garage. And then there are the legendary Krivit re-edits? He's responsible for hundreds of disco edit 12's including versions that have become better known than the originals. MFSB's 'Love Is The Message', Ecstasy Passion & Pain's 'Touch & Go' and the legendary 'Rock The House' cut up are all from the hand of Krivit. He boasts producer, edit and mix credits on over 45 albums." Artists include: Blackbyrds, Hank Crawford, Gabor Szabo, Love Unlimited Orch, Voyage, Black Blood, Earth Wind & Fire, Nina Simone, Barrabas, Lamont Dozier, Talking Heads, Marianne Faithful, War, Instant Funk, Kelle Paterson, Donald Byrd, Yellow Sunshine, El Bario, Little Sister, Patrice Rushen, Everyday People, Positive Funk, Clark Sisters, Chuck Mangione, Bill Withers.

KRIVIT, DANNY: Edits By Mr. K CD (STRUT 016 CD). $16.00

"Danny Krivit is known in the world of dance music for many things, but Danny Krivit should be celebrated as a king of the re-edit. In the history of cut & paste producers, from Double Dee & Steinski in the early days of hip hop to the Latin Rascals' choppy 80s style, Krivit has himself been an anonymous hero of the underground, releasing hundreds of landmark dance-floor edits on small labels under various pseudonyms since the early 80s. Mysterious early breaks 'n' beats staples like the James Brown cut-up, 'Feelin' James' and B Boy anthem 'Rock The House' were Krivit productions, and disco classics like MFSB's 'Love Is The Message', Family Tree's 'Family Tree' and Lacey's 'Can't Play Around' have all been hailed as definitive versions after the Mr. K treatment. Following Danny Krivit's magnificent Grass Roots album for Strut last year, we now dive headlong into the world of the Mr. K edits, bringing together a tight selection of classic, rare and unreleased versions from Mr. K's golden disco scalpel."

VA: Disco (Not Disco) 2 CD (STRUT 020 CD). $16.00

"Strut continue their explorations of the roots of dance music with the follow-up to last year's ground-breaking Disco (not Disco) album which explored for the first time the key leftfield, post-punk disco anthems of the late 70s made popular by New York's club underground. Compiled by the UK disco don, Dave Lee (aka Joey Negro) and London's New York expert, Kiss 100 FM's Sean P, Disco (Not Disco) 2 is another snapshot of a time when UK and US pop-rock / independent acts got funky and started cooking up their own dark disco hybrids. The music ranges from the quirky electro funk of Laid Back to the genius dance-floor experiments of Arthur Russell and Bill Laswell. The album also features some real obscurities from the vaults, including Barry Waits' dark dub nightmare 'Sting' and Can's dark 'n' moody 'A Spectacle'. Appropriate trashy packaging by Strut's design guru, Matt Thame, comes with full 12-page booklet with full sleeve notes on the CD and gatefold double vinyl." Artists include: Yello, Arthur Russell, Eddy Grant, Can, Laid Back, Alexander Robotnick, The Clash, Material, Barry Waits, MD 20-20, Connie Case & King Sporty, Lex.

VA: Music For Dancefloors: Cream Of The Bosworth Library Sessions CD (STRUT 022 CD). $16.00

"Strut's first two Music For Dancefloors collection featured highlights from the celebrated London libraries KPM and Chappell Music. With our third volume, we explore the lesser-known catalogue of Bosworth Music, including another London archive, Joseph Weinberger. From the mellow, spacey funk of Brian Green's 'Indian Dream' to the killer percussion workout 'Percussion Monoton' from Bob Downes, the album also touches on heavy dancefloor jazz, funky soundtrack styles and even harp funk! Composers include Italian library heavy-weight Paolo Zavallone and Dutch session gurus Piet Van Meren and Jonny Teupen."

VA: Music For Dancefloors: Cream Of The Bosworth Library Sessions 2LP (STRUT 022 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

ONENESS OF JUJU: African Rhythms CD (STRUT 027 CD). $17.00

"Strut continue their re-issue program of the '70s catalogue of Oneness Of Juju, one of the most groundbreaking bands of their time. From early avant-garde jazz work on the Strata East label to their later fusions of Afrobeat, funk and spiritual jazz, Oneness stand as a huge influence for today's jazz scene. Released in 1976, The African Rhythms album is Oneness Of Juju's masterpiece. Bandleader J. Plunkly Branch had moved back to his hometown of Richmond, Virginia from New York and introduced R&B, funk and African percussion into his music to appeal to the local market. Topped by the soaring vocals of Jackie Holoman-Lewis, the Oneness sound became a tight, supremely soulful outfit. Although it sold to the local market, African Rhythms was revived in the late '80s when rare groove fever hit the UK. Ever since, the album has been an essential part of any soul and funk DJ's collection."

ONENESS OF JUJU: Space Jungle Luv CD (STRUT 028 CD). $17.00

"Space Jungle Luv was recorded and released in 1976 as the follow-up to Oneness' breakthrough African Rhythms set. The album ushered the band away from the dancefloor and into the realms of Sun Ra's cosmology, bringing modal jazz and ambient atmospherics into their musical mix. The funky basslines and African percussion remained but within a much more melodic setting showcasing the incredible vocals of Jackie Holoman-Lewis to the full. Recognized as leaders of the current afrobeat revival, responsible for Nigeria 70, Club Africa and other magnificent musical documents, Strut have outdone themselves here, with bonus unreleased tracks, new sleeve notes, rare photos, and original artwork, all compiled in conjunction with Oneness of Juju."

ONENESS OF JUJU: Space Jungle Luv 2LP (STRUT 028 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

VA: Strut Sampler One CD (STRUT 031 CD). $9.00

"With three years of quality dance music roots under its belt, the Strut label has now amassed an impressive catalogue spanning styles covering the classic turntable techniques of Grandmaster Flash and the history of funky Lagos Afrobeat to the post-punk 'Disco-Not Disco' series and Ashley Beedle and Danny Krivit's DJ influences. Time, then, for Strut's first ever low-price retail sampler. This is a great introduction to the label, for those new to Strut, as well as an essential purchase for all devotees of the label with a handful of tracks exclusive to this CD. The sampler mines the Nigerian vaults for a funky exclusive from Orlando Julius, touches on archive music library gems (with exclusive edits from Ashley Beedle and the Bronx Dogs), an exclusive Danny Krivit disco edit and Grand master Flash's 'Apache' turntable cut-up. This all wrapped-up in a neatly packaged flexi-pak featuring a full Strut label history."

KRIVIT, DANNY: Re-Edit Series 12" (STRUT 12005). $9.00

"As well as general one-off 12" titles, the label will be releasing a series of 12's branded around individual producers. The first series will be focusing on the re-edit skills of New York's Danny Krivit, resident DJ at the Body & Soul club night. Krivit has been re-editing and releasing classics since the early 80s and this represents the first time one of his works has ever been made officially available. The 12" series kicks off with a new version of the Salsoul classic, 'Everyman' by Double Exposure. The original track previously only available as an album cut and is provides the basis for the huge new M&S record, 'Salsoul Nugget' (FFRR). This is flipped with Chi Lites' 'My First Mistake', a classic Krivit re-edit from the early 90s re-made for 2000"

BLO: Album Sampler 12" 12" (STRUT 12007). $9.00

"After cutting their teeth touring with ex-Cream drummer Ginger Baker in 1971, Blo were a real revelation in their native Nigeria, a three-piece dynamo that successfully mixed traditional Nigerian high life with psychedelic funk and, later, disco and boogie. This 12" features two Blo classics from different stages in their career. 'Don't Take Her Away From Me' comes from the band's early Phase 2 set (1972), a rough and raw funk-rock outing which receives a slow, dubbed-out treatment from London's Akwaaba, regular producers on the Idjut Boys' Dysfunction label. 'Get That Groove In' is a funky disco party track from '79 (taken from the band's Bulky Backside LP) and the extended re-work comes courtesy of Raj Gupta, under his Ray Mang alter ego."

STUDIO K7 (GERMANY):

BOLLAND, CJ: DJ Kicks CD (K7 038). $16.00

First release in the Studio K7 DJ Kicks mix CDs. These mixes are carefully tweaked studio recordings of a typical DJ's set (not haphazard live recordings), and pretty much set the standards for mix albums in the 90s. Bolland, who has been referred to as the "turbo nutter of Belgian techno," might have the most commercially-oriented rep by 1997 standards due to massive presence on MTV's AMP, but this is a pretty solidly slamming excursion into early/mid 90s European underground techno. Featuring Patrick Pulsinger, Joey Beltram, Bandulu, Planetary Assault Systems (Luke Slater), etc.

CRAIG, CARL: DJ Kicks CD (K7 042). $16.00

Excellent set from Detroit's most currently visible techno producer, who has since retired from his hobbyist DJing. Features tracks from Octagon Man, Nav Katze, Cosmic Messenger, Clark, Claude Young, Tan-Ru, Gemini, 4th Wave, etc. "...takes the art of the DJ mix one step beyond. Not only has this multi-talented artist segued together some of the highlights of his record box into one long, hot mix, he's also focused his production artistry on the individual tracks — remixing, re-editing and sometimes even resampling the original tunes. On one special bonus tune, he's pushed the envelope even further, crafting an entirely new track from pieces of the others."

TOSCA: Opera CD (K7 043). $16.00

"Tosca is the brainchild of Richard Dorfmeister & Rupert Huber. Intended to be a 'fun project', they released their first 12" called 'Chocolate Elvis,' which combined classical samples with NYC street and blues samples. The second effort is entitled 'Fuck Dub' and featured heavy basslines and 'freaked-out' spoken world cips. After many studio hours and several 12" releases later, Opera was born. A collection of new and old tracks."

YOUNG, CLAUDE: DJ Kicks CD (K7 045). $16.00

My personal favorite from the DJ Kicks series. Claude Young is from Detroit, also records as Brother From Another Planet (recently found on Sony's Ghost In The Shell), and as a DJ favors a loose, experimental style, heavy on the spin-backs, with lots of chopped up dual copy action and frenzied minimalism. Tracks by Maurizio, Chain Reaction, Clark (Planet E), Surgeon, Ian O'Brien, Random XS, Man Made etc. give you an indication where he's coming from. An awe-inspiring thing that will possibly remain as the finest abstract home-listening mix album there will ever be.

KRUDER & DORFMEISTER: DJ KICKS CD (K7 046). $16.00

"The first ever mix by Europe's hottest downtempo production team, Kruder & Dorfmeister. To get away from the one track after another compilation format, K&D took their finished mix to Halvis Super Sound in Vienna where they smoked and tweaked until they achieved arguably the finest mix of trip hop and jungle ever to be digitized." 72 minutes of dubbed-down mixology, the downtempo classic of the mix-album era, featuring tracks from labels like Ninja Tune, Creativewax, Cup of Tea, Moving Shadow, G-Stone, Cheap, etc.

PULLEN, STACEY: DJ KICKS CD (K7 049). $16.00

An emotionally stunning set from Transmat's Pullen, running through 25 tracks in 74 minutes. Featuring minimalist techno classics from the likes of Cristian Vogel, Kenny Larkin, Pulsinger/Tunakan, R-Tyme, Sean Deason, Phume, Gerd, and many more. With some of the most appropriately used Blade Runner samples to date, adding to the cosmic effect. One of the most highly recommended albums in the K7 catalog. "Not a one-shot mix, but a technological adventure. Mixed live, then digitally edited in the studio, and including a unique new track composed from samples of all the other tunes used in the mix. A major figure in the 2nd wave of Detroit DJ/producers, Stacey Pullen has recorded as Bango, Kosmic Messenger and Silent Phase (album on Transmat), remixed Inner City, Kenny Larkin and Rhythm Is Rhythm."

CLARK, DAVE: X-Mix: Electro Boogie 2CD (K7 050). $16.00

UK techno producer/DJ, best known for his somewhat legendary Archive One album, delves into his love of electro, combining tracks both old and new in this 2-for-the-price-of-1 CD set. Disk 1 is Dave's mix; disc 2 features unmixed versions of the original tracks. "A DJ set which back-spins through the history of the original digital dance. Mid-'80s classics from Hashim and the Imperial Brothers segue into contemporary Detroit electro-bass tracks from Aux 88 and Detrecho. Crucial cuts from LFO and Model 500 jostle with recent work from Electroids and Dopplereffekt, hinting at the links between electro and today's hard techno landscape."

NICOLETTE: DJ Kicks 2CD (K7 054). $18.00

Nicolette is a vocalist known for her work with Massive Attack and her solo album Let No One Live Rent Free In Your Head (which featured production from the likes of Plaid, Alec Empire, DJ Krust & Roni Size, & Dego). She has been referred to as "the Billy Holiday of Acid!" "A joyful manifesto for diversity. Soft house, hard techno, ambient textures, frantic breakbeats, trip hoppy vibes and the cream of contemporary drum 'n' bass all find their place in this unpredictable excursion across the dancefloors of today. Selected by Nicolette and segued with the assistance of the production duo Plaid." Features tracks by Doc Scott, Nav Katze, Alec Empire, Roni Size, Aphex Twin, Shizuo, many more.

VA: Viennatone 2LP (K7 055 LP). $19.00

2LP version.

ROCKERS HI-FI: DJ Kicks — The Black Album CD (K7 056). $16.00

English trio led by the ragga toasting Farda P. Features tracks from Small Fish With Spine (Riz Maslen), Kid Loops lbs., Snooze vs. DJ Cam, Deep Space Network, Prince Far I, Cee-Mix, Rhythm & Sound w/ Tikiman, T. Power, Dr. Israel vs. Loop, etc. Emphasis on deep dub-centric sounds, quite a bit different than other volumes of DJ Kicks to date. "and in the centre, face hidden but voice coming strong, stands farda p, mic m.c.: master of ceremonies, mission controller, manipulator of chat, with the tape a-rolling, lyrics fly, rhythms and rhymes collide and ride as the ruffneck original conquering krew (echo rhythm & sound) take you through the 71 minutes and 06 seconds of this epic voyage into sound."

ISHII, KEN: X-MIX: Fast Forward & Rewind CD (K7 057). $16.00

8th volume of K7's X-Mix series. "Known primarily for producing and spinning straight up techno, this release marks Ken's foray into the increasingly popular 'freestyle' set. When listening to a freestyle set you'll find yourself moving from drum 'n' bass to electro to techno to house and quite frankly wherever the DJ's taste and dexterity take the set; and if you have never had the good fortune of hearing Ken Ishii spin a live set, Fast Forward & Rewind will be a revelation." Features tracks by Basement Jaxx, Jedi Knights, Coldcut, Buckfunk 3000, Locust, Jake Slazenger, Squarepusher, Flare, etc.

DJ CAM: DJ Kicks CD (K7 060). $16.00

Featuring tracks by Minus 8, Daphreepunkateerz, Part 2, Sci Fi Select, The Mighty Bop, Tek 9, Rodney P., Awesome 2 & Channel 5, Rasco, Grand, Ragga Twins, Tommy Hools and DJ Cam. "A real phat hip hop DJ Kicks." That's how French producer and turntable provocateur DJ Cam described his excursion into the international street sounds of today. Put together live, effects and all, Cam's DJ Kicks combines his own style of 'abstract hip hop' — fat beats laced with jazzy touches, Eastern influences, film samples and swathes of orchestral strings with the real underground New York deal."

SAUNDERSON, KEVIN: X-Mix: Transmissions From Deep Space Radio CD (K7 061). $16.00

"However you slice the history of modern dance music, Kevin Saunderson ends up with a mighty big chunk of the credit. The origins of techno can be traced back through the point where he, Derrick May and Juan Atkins all hooked up at Belleville High School, Detroit. His subsequent recording career — including releases as Inner City, Reese & Santonio, Reese, E-Dancer, Kream and Tronik House still shows no sign of flagging. As a DJ he is versatile and eclectic, capable of spinning either a hard techno set or a slick, funk house selection, sometimes seguing from one through the other, and either way rarely failing to inspire the crowd." Based on the Detroit radio show that Juan Atkins founded in '93-94, Deep Space Radio, this set acts as the final transmission. Featuring R-Thyme, 69, Plastikman, Octave One, Sean Deason, Dark Comedy, Bango (Stacy Pullen), etc.

VA: Freestyle Files — Underground Sounds of America CD (K7 062). $16.00

First comp in the Freestyle Files series to just feature US artists. Including Thievery Corporation, Better Daze, Spacetime Continuum, Sub Dub, Tippy, Pimp Daddy Nash, Jamie Myerson, DJ Spooky, DJ Wally. "With a variety of styles ranging from the sophisticated down-tempo sound of Washington's Thievery Corporation and Pimp Daddy Nash, to the modern easy listening of Tippy, the heavy dub soundscapes of DJ Spooky and Sub Dub, and finally rounded off with the abstract hip-hop experiments of DJ Wally and Q-Burn, EFUSOA gives the listener an earful of some of what's happening in the clubs and warehouses all across America."

TERRANOVA: DJ Kicks CD (K7 064). $16.00

German producer/DJ trio. "As both DJs and producers are less concerned with any one style than with various places and periods where 'music was really happening' — 70's reggae, early 80's Bristol, early Detroit and modern underground hip-hop." Features tracks by the likes of: BFC, Howie B, Depth Charge, DJ Spooky, Stereo MC's, Patrick Pulsinger, Octagon Man, Jungle Brothers, 69, DJ DSL, etc.

VA: Three Minute Blunts Vol. 2 CD (K7 066). $16.00

"The goal of TMB Vol. 1 was to showcase Detroit's much over looked Hip Hop culture. Referred to as the birth place of Techno, Detroit boasts a thriving Hip Hop culture that over shadows Techno not only in the inner city but in the suburbs as well. Terrence Parker, known more for his years to contribution to the house music scene, conceived the TMB project in 1996. Terrence thought it would be a good way of giving Detroit's Hip Hop scene worldwide exposure by presenting some of the music on a compilation that required all tracks to a minimum of 3 minutes in length and primarily instrumental. Having met our goals with Vol. 1, we set out to present a broader range of tracks on TMB Vol. 2. We accomplished this by adding the vocal tracks mentioned earlier, showcasing Detroit's old school with artists like DJ Slym Fas, Andre Johnson Project and introducing new artists like Chris Shivers, Louis Heravo and Sample O.S."

VA: Three Minute Blunts Vol. 2 2LP (K7 066 LP). $19.00

CLARKE, DAVE: Electro Boogie Vol. 2: The Throwdown CD (K7 067 CD). $16.00

"K7 has embarked on a new compilation series featuring new school and classic electro tracks. Dave Clarke's fantastic mix on X-Mix: Electro Boogie made him the obvious choice to launch the new series. His set called 'The Throwdown' is the culmination of 20 years of body popping electro. The set not only features the likes of Aux 88, Dopplereffekt, DJ Assault, Jazzy Jeff and Fresh Prince and World Class Wreckin' Cru, it also includes a megamix called 'Old School Cut UP' comprised of 8 selections from Electro Boogie and features Dave's exceptional skills on the 1200s proving once again that he is one of the best active mixers today." Also features tracks from: I-f, Ectomorph, Will Web, Like A Tim, etc. "I call electro 'techno'. But it's like a listening techno rather than a dancing techno. It's a music with value — intelligent, hovering on the edge of darkness, but it doesn't take itself too seriously, and it's rewarding to listen to. Electro is a necessary music and I really get a great vibe off it." — Dave Clarke.

HARDFLOOR: X-MIX: Jack the Box CD (K7 068). $16.00

"Hardfloor is known world wide as one of the most respected and successful German techno acts ever. Known for their unique acid sound, Hardfloor have participated in many remix projects for the likes of New Order, Richie Hawtin & Depeche Mode. Having just dropped their release 'Acperience' to rave reviews, called 'the best acid record ever' by Muzik magazine, Hardfloor has just completed their first DJ mix set ever." Includes classic Chicago acid tracks by Phuture, DJ Pierre, Bam Bam, Armando, Jack Frost, etc. Plus three exclusive Hardfloor tracks. Chicago Acid is one of the most ridiculous movements in the history of the recorded sound and well worth a revival.

VA: Offering Vol. 2 CD (K7 070). $12.00

Second mid-line sampler of tracks from this label. It says that 9 of the 13 tracks here are exclusive to this CD, including numerous vinyl tracks on CD for first time. Such as Peter Thomas's remix of Terrence Parker, Terranova's mix of KHAO, etc. Other artists include: Shantel, Ian Simmonds, Impulse, Smith & Mighty, DJ Cam, Lame Gold, Sample O.S.

PARKER, ANDREA: DJ Kicks CD (K7 071). $16.00

"At age 26 Andrea Parker is already one of the most glamorous and visionary personalities of today's electronic music scene. Andrea Parker is uncompromising. She defies stereotypes and limits and she exceeds her goals beyond ordinary expectations. Andrea Parker has released records under many of the premier electronic music labels, such as R&S, Infonet and Andrew Weatherall's Sabrettes. Her incredible talents were then wooed by James Lovell to cult label Mo'Wax. She has remixed artists such as Depeche Mode, Lamb, the Orb, Ryuichi Sakamoto and the godfather of minimal music, Steve Reich. Her rendition of DJ Kicks is a deep grooving mixed phantasm, melting hip hop, old school electro, breakbeats, and classic tracks into an amazing trip through the history of electro." Opening with her unbelievably deep mix of Depeche Mode(!) this is a freestyle classic and one of the essential DJ Kicks volumes. Also features tracks from Dr. Octagon, Piece (Planet E), Reminisense Quartet, 69, Man Parrish, Gescom, G-File, C.O.D., Renegade Soundwave, Afrika Bambaataa and the Soulsonic Force, Sons of the Subway, Space DJ'z, Model 500, Dopplereffekt, DJ Panic, Voigt Kampff, Drexciya & Andrea Parker.

KRUDER & DORFMEISTER: The K&D Sessions 2CD (K7 073). $19.00

"Studio K7 in cooperation with G-Stone Recordings releases the long awaited follow-up album to DJ Kicks in a double CD format. The K&D Sessions is a concentrated collection of Kruder & Dorfmeister's work over the years mixed in a DJ Kicks format, continuing the spirit of their first album. Many of K&D's meticulously crafted remix work using only minimal portions of the original track and completely reworking it with own imprint which makes this album a true 'sessions' album. Most of these tracks have only been available on DJ promotion 12"s or never released at all. Each of the CDs shows K&D's unique and highly sensitive mixture of Latin, dub, drum'n'bass and downtempo beats." Features remixes of: Roni Size, Depeche Mode, Bomb The Bass, Rocker's Hi-Fi, Lamb, Alex Reece, David Holmes, Count Basic, Afrodeltics, Sofa Surfers, Bone Thugs & Harmony and more.

KEMISTRY & STORM: DJ Kicks CD (K7 074). $16.00

First mix release by the UK female jungle duo, who are also known for running Goldie's Metalheadz label by day. Tracks from Dom & Roland, John B., The Architect & DJ Loxy, Test, Digital & Spirit, DJ Die, Bill Riley, Sci-Cline, Decoder, Goldie, Jonny L, Primary Motive, J Majik, Absolute Zero & Subphonics. "Throughout the K7 mix, the breakflow switches from pacy and punchy to rigidified mekanik. As sluggish as wet cement, yet as treacherous as quicksand, digital rhythm is industrialized to extreme densities, processed past the timbral spectrum of metal, reinforced to the tonecolour of concrete. Bass is synthesized from analogue frequencies, welded together until they concuss, forfields tweaked to emit hostile tones that warm with sullen anger." — Kodwo Eshun.

THIEVERY CORPORATION: DJ Kicks CD (K7 076). $16.00

"In the tradition of chilled, cultivated grooves and following in the footsteps of previous DJ Kicks releases by Rockers Hi-Fi and Kruder & Dorfmeister. Feast your ears on the newest in the series from Washington DC's Thievery Corporation. Completed with various snippets of world music, easy listening, and bossa nova, along with breaks and deep dub. Thievery Corporation's DJ Kicks release is an exciting addition to the line of the already popular DJ Kicks series. In a continuing tradition, the last track on the record is an exclusive original track by the artist." Features tracks by: Les Baxter, A Forest Mighty Black, DJ Cam, Up, Bustle & Out, Bobby Matos, Jazzanova, Pronoai, Rockers Hi-Fi, Duel Tone, etc.

AUX 88: Electro Boogie CD (K7 078 CD). $16.00

"The K7 Electro Boogie series continues. This third installment, following on the popular Dave Clark and Depth Charge releases, brings us the Detroit techno bass legends Aux 88. Since 1993, Tom Hamilton, Keith Tucker, and later, 'BJ', have scored several huge electro hits including 'My Aux Mind' and 'I Need To Freak' (both appearing on their heralded Direct Beat label). Along with the albums Is It Man Or Machine and Xeo-Genetic and incredible live appearances all over the world, they have firmly established themselves as true legends of the electro bass scene. Even the likes of Andrew Weatherall and Kraftwerk profess to be big fans! This release serves as an excellent introduction to the sound, with many tracks by established acts such as Underground Resistance, Drexciya, Dopplereffekt, DJ Assault, and Microknox along with their own tracks, all mixed together into a syncopated, bass heavy chunkiness that'll get you body poppin' in no time." Also features: Di'Jital, DJ K1, Posatronix, X-lie, DJ Good Groove, Aaron Carl, Unknown DJ, Deterchno.

KID LOCO: DJ Kicks CD (K7 081 CD). $16.00

"DJ Kicks features 18 tracks of pure downtempo bliss as interpreted by Kid Loco. Featuring tracks by Jazzanova, Underworld, Boards of Canada, Lisa Germano, and a brand new exclusive track by the spliffed out Kid Loco himself entitled, 'Flyin on 747.'" Tracklisting: Kid Loco "Don't You Know I'm Loco", The Bill Wells Octet vs Future Pilot AKA "Om Namah Shivaya", J Swinscoe Pres The Cinematic Orchestra "Continuum", Emperors New Clothes "Dark Light (Underdog Mix)", The Ted Howler Rhythm Combo "Mr Flakey", DJ Vadim "Theme from Conquest of (Remix)", Jazzanova "Introspection", Common Ground "Dark Soul", Underworld "Blueski", Grantby "Grimble", Deep Season "Jesus Christ Almighty (Remix)", Boards of Canada "Happy Cycling", Pelding "One", Tom Tyler "Attitude Adjuster", Tongue "Culture Consumers", Lisa Germano "Lovesick (Underdog Remix)", Stereotyp "Slo Jo", Kid Loco "Flyin on 747".

STEREO MC'S: DJ Kicks CD (K7 082 CD). $16.00

"It's been seven long years since they released their last worldwide hit album Connected but you could say that the formidably enterprising unit of Rob Birch and Nick 'The Head' Hallam known as the Stereo MC's have never really been away. This year marks a return to more public circles. In the midst of recording their new album, they were invited by Studio K7 to join the prestigious DJ Kicks series. Consisting of twenty-five tracks, this installment is one of the most innovative out of the entire series? Inside the covers of the CD are overlooked or forgotten gems like Kool G Rap & DJ Polo's 'Road To The Riches' or 'Poppa Large' from the Ultramagnetic MC's, newer classics from the Associates or the Stereos' Brixton neighbors, 57th Dynasty. You'll also find obscure nuggets like the Mike Theodore Orchestra's 'Moon Trek', Oil's 'Slight Of Hand', and between them, there's also 'Rhino' parts 1, 2 and 3 -? all new material from the Stereos themselves. Ultimately, though, the Stereo MC's wanted to keep it simple, to get back to the heart of what motivates, excites and energises them as musicians, fans and record-buyers. 'We'd never done it before because we don't really consider being DJ's as the main thing we do, but it's something we enjoy. These records are a part of our record collection, and that was the mood we were in that day. And that's how it was with music. It's really a live turntable mix, and that's how we wanted to keep it.'

FUNKSTÖRUNG: Appetite for Disstruction CD (K7 087 CD). $16.00

"Studio K7 will proudly release Funkstörung's long awaited album Appetite for Disstruction. Produced and composed by Michael Fakesch and Chris De Luca, Appetite for Disstruction is the follow-up to 1999's critically acclaimed Additional Productions — a collection of remixes of artists such as Björk, Wu-Tang Clan, and the East Flatbush Project. Disstruction features eleven tracks with five vocal collaborations by three vocalists. The album furthers the group's sonic explorations by utilizing human vocal infusions. It is an ambitious melding of humanly accessible traditional songwriting techniques with Funkstörung's abstracted electronic treatments. Highlights of this can be found on 'Sounds Like A Breakbeat Record', with its abstract rap; 'Think!', dubbed-out IDM with soulful female vocals; 'I/O', breakbeat mayhem with sultry female words; and 'Red Shirt, White Shoes', downbeat tech hop with melancholy female vocals. With its bristling static, oozing bass sounds, sometimes-harsh beats, and off-kilter rhythms, Appetite for Disstruction is definitely the sound of phuture groovin'."

A GUY CALLED GERALD: Essence CD (K7 088 CD). $16.00

"I K7 is very proud to present A Guy Called Gerald's long awaited full-length album Essence. This is his first project since 1995's groundbreaking Black Secret Technology. Featuring sleek and sexy production, Essence features the songwriting and vocals from guest artists such as David Simpson, Lady Kier (Deee-lite), Lamb's Louise Rhodes, and successful UK songwriter Wendy Page. Since the late 80s, Manchester, UK native A Guy Called Gerald (born Gerald Simpson), has proven to be among the most innovative modern music figures. Helping to write 808-State's 1989 techno anthem, 'Pacific State' and creating the seminal acid house track, 'Voodoo Ray', his influence is felt everywhere. His creativity and versatility has helped spawn various sub-genres and generations of music culture. Since his early experimentation with techno and acid house (1990s Automatik album) into his groundbreaking contributions to drum & bass music (1993's '28 Gun Bad Boy' and 'Black Secret Technology'), Gerald's art and craft has perpetually evolved regardless of his individual successes in each of those genres. Gerald's skills as a remixer and collaborator have also found their way onto tracks by Tricky, The Stone Roses, Goldie, Roy Ayers, Herbie Hancock, and David Bowie. Merging subtly ambitious elements of drum-n-bass and dub over immaculate melodies and tones. Essence hopes to revitalize the sound of drum-n-bass, expanding the songwriting and composition potential of breakbeat music with sleek and soulful production."

HIRSCH, BETH: Early Days CD (K7 091 CD). $16.00

"If the name and the voice sound familiar but you're unsure from where, it's probably due to her previous outstanding vocal appearances on Air's Moon Safari album on the tracks 'All I Need' and 'You Make It Easy' (which Hirsch also co-wrote). Early Days finds her getting back to basics with a captivating combination of expressive voice and nimble acoustic guitar accompaniment (supplied by Phil Hudson). Revealing a link to Suzanne Vega, she sounds both passionate and feathery, alternately singing and speaking her flowery lyrics. Hirsch reveals a sizeable debt to singer/poet Joni Mitchell but maintains the strength in her own voice."

HIRSCH, BETH: Early Days LP (K7 091 LP). $17.00

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: DJ Kicks CD (K7 093 CD). $16.00

"The two most recent DJ Kicks releases by Kid Loco and the Stereo MCs, heralding a slight shift in the emphasis of the sound towards the hip hop arena, Studio K7 proudly brings you the Nightmares on Wax DJ Kicks — the tightest hip hop set of the series so far. The album is the 17th in the series. The idea of making a mix CD with Nightmares on Wax came about as early as 1995, but the project was subject to George Evelyn's leisurely working practices — all good things take time. Now just a little later than expected, he sends us shooting into his beat orbit with an excellent selection of hip hop and downbeat tunes for his DJ Kicks set. The result is a perfect blend of old skool and new, British and American, as well as vocal and instrumental tracks with tunes from A Tribe Called Quest, Kenny Dope, Aim, Blackalicious, Freddy Fresh, Grand Unified and Syrup, among others."

SIMMONDS, IAN: Return To X CD (K7 095 CD). $16.00

"He began this exploration of the genre unknown with his last album — the dissolution of the boundaries between jazz, dub, electronic and soundtrack formats, breaking down barriers and origins. It was impossible to precisely categorize exactly what it was that Ian Simmonds had brought together on his sampler in the spaces between the various musical genres, but it sounded damned exciting and it sounded fresh! Here also, classic instrumentation has been consciously adhered to: jazz drums, a spinet, some discordant, organic-sounding synthesizer chords and simple arrangements — already you're immersed in a fascinating spell. This music has a little bit of the dark lasciviousness of Peace Orchestra under the direction of close friend, Peter Kruder."

SIMMONDS, IAN: Return To X 2LP (K7 095 LP). $19.00

RAE & CHRISTIAN: Sleepwalking CD (K7 096 CD). $16.00

"Manchester's brightest production team have been relentlessly working on their new Studio K7 Sleepwalking album for the last 12 months. The Rae & Christian sound has undoubtedly progressed. Due to their extensive experience playing live, the sound has become more musical. Possibly, because they know their instruments and equipment better than ever and possibly their new wealth of live experience solidified their creative partnership even further. Nevertheless, their individual talents — Mark Rae as DJ, beat merchant and lyricist and Steve Christian as the music maker and production-wizard, have become more versatile. Their magical ability to combine Hip Hop ethics with traditional song writing skills combined with 21st century production technology has become more refined."

RAE & CHRISTIAN: Sleepwalking 2LP (K7 096 LP). $19.00

HERBERT: Bodily Functions CD (K7 097 CD). $16.00

"Matthew Herbert, 29, Englishman, resident in London — pianist or keyboard player by trade. At the beginning of the '90s, he became addicted to the unlimited possibilities of the sampler. Since 1995, under various pseudonyms, including Wishmountain, Radioboy, Doctor Rockit, and of course, Herbert, he has released the most exciting electro-acoustic music of the present day. Matthew's father, a BBC sound technician, 'always surrounded himself with melodious technology'. At the age of four, Matthew took up the violin and piano, at seven he sang in the choir (we are reminded of the relationship of Anglican Church music to US gospel) and played in orchestras and at 13 was a keyboard player in bands. At school, he had the good fortune to have a music teacher who considered Reich, Xenakis and jazz standards to be the equal of Beethoven. While at school, he began to experiment with what is in (not only) his opinion the most significant instrument of all time: the sampler. It therefore happened that a classically trained musician made his first significant appearance (January 95) not at the piano or playing a violin, but using a sampler, microphones and a bag of chips. The rule that Matthew Herbert's art unwaveringly follows is, 'The use of sounds that exist already is not allowed' — a significant reason why he will never drown in an ocean of processed, synthetic, reciprocally sampled and therefore similarly sounding music. The formerly differentiated factors in Herbert's music are growing together and have been given their most mature expression so far in Bodily Functions. This disc, made from 'new' sounds as always, is pure beauty: a loving homage to 40s standards, a transcendental amalgamation of folk, jazz and house, in whose body of sound piano, strings, acoustic bass and processed ambient noises accumulate to form an unpretentious grandeur, crowned by Dani Siciliano's ethereally present voice"

HERBERT: Leave Me Now CD (K7 097 CDEP). $7.50

"Leave Me Now", featuring the vocals of Dani Siciliano, is the first single to be released from the forthcoming album Bodily Functions, the long-awaited follow-up to 1998's Around The House. The track sees Herbert's trademark exploration of house music superbly complemented by brand new mixes from Reeloclose (Planet E) and Richard Devine (Schematic/Warp) on a single that is sure to increase Herbert's worldwide audience dramatically." CD version has an extra Richard Devine edit of his mix, found on the 12" version.

HERBERT: Bodily Functions 3LP (K7 097 LP). $21.00

Triple LP version, gatefold sleeve.

SHANTEL: Great Delay CD (K7 098 CD). $16.00

"Shantel started recording his new album in early 1999 when he moved to Tel Aviv, Israel from his hometown Frankfurt am Main. With the little equipment he had with him, he recorded with small string quartets, horn ensembles and the singer Efrat Ben-Zur. In Tel Aviv you can find the whole world, and being the interface between orient and occident, it's a highly inspiring place for artists. The combination of acoustic instruments such as strings, guitars and horns with minimalist beats and grooves play a major role on Great Delay. But the most important instrument Shantel used during his production is the delay effect of his mixing deck. 'Because when you put a delay on certain elements while making music, the sounds start to fly, to be in suspense', Shantel says, 'and at a certain point, the delay is not any longer an effect but an instrument, a sound generator of its own, with its own dynamic.' The sound of the album is more of a specific vibe, a veritable bouillabaisse of various musical styles. From dub to classical to hip-hop and jazz, Shantel has created a sound which touches upon elements of music from all over the world, yet is undeniably beautiful and unique."

SHANTEL: Great Delay 2LP (K7 098 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

HERBERT: Suddenly 12" (K7 102EP). $5.50

"The second release from the Bodily Functions album. The track numbers among the highlights of a tremendous album and once more features Dani Siciliano on vocals. Along with the original of 'Suddenly', there are also two very inspired interpretations by 2 producer friends. There's a funk-filled off-the-wall interpretation of 'Back to the Start' by France's Mr Oizo, while Japanese producer Nobukazu Takemura delivers a rare remix: a fantastic rework of 'Addiction'. As a bonus track, the 12" also features a great Herbert re-dub of the title piece."

TRÜBY TRIO: DJ Kicks CD (K7 104 CD). $16.00

"The latest installment in the prestigious DJ Kicks series comes from the Nu Jazz crew Trüby Trio, and features an exciting journey into the world of Club Jazz, Brazilian Beats, Latin Funk and House. Together with Christian Prommer and Roland Appel (whom also have many distinguished releases under the name Fauna Flash), Rainer Trüby founded the Trüby Trio. Rainer Trüby is an internationally recognized DJ. Plus, Roland and Christian are a strong creative force in the Nu Jazz scene via their Fauna Flash moniker."

HERBERT: Around The House CD (K7 105 CD). $17.00

"1998's predecessor to the highly acclaimed Bodily Functions, Around The House subtly spins domestic found sounds into voluptuously textured house grooves. The album's title is its modus operandi: whether it's a dishwasher, a toaster, or a toothbrush, the devices and machines commonly found in the house are endless sources of sound. Matthew Herbert caught such whirrs, pops, clicks, and whistles on tape, fed them to his sampler, added the heavenly voice of singer Dani Siciliano, and produced a modern masterpiece. Herbert is a true lover of house music- and that's what you can hear on Around The House. Not only about the acoustic geography of the home, the album explores the limits of house music in general. For Herbert, the music's strict rhythmic format is a challenge. Though it's defined by its predilection for the kick drum and hi-hat, there's a certain feeling in that steady rhythmic structure that makes house music house music. Herbert takes these elements and turns them upside down, and you can feel his groove right from the start. Couple Herbert's warm and twisted take on house with the infatuating vocals of Dani Siciliano and you have one of the most remarkable house music albums ever. Call it deep, dubby or whatever you like — Herbert's Around The House is (literally) house music and you cannot find anything else like it."

RUCKER, URSULA: Supa Sista CD (K7 106 CD). $16.00

"There is a new sound emerging from Philadelphia. Ursula Rucker's debut album Supa Sista strikes an intricate balance between new jazz, hip-hop and Philly soul — all infused with poetic vision. Since 1994, performance and recording artist, Ursula Rucker has collaborated with some of the most innovative artists in music. Admired and respected for recordings with 4 Hero, Jamaladeen Tacuma, King Britt, The Silent Poets, Josh Wink, and Bahamadia, Ursula has also been honored to close The Roots three studio Albums. Supa Sista is a departure from Ursula's previous work as she pushes lyrical poetry to places it's never been by fusing multiple genres. Throughout Supa Sista, she flexes her skills as a song writer, lyricist and vocalist. Touching on subjects ranging from womanhood, the state of black music, love lost, and child abuse, Ursula teamed with an array of producers to create an unprecedented effort that is entertaining, provocative and socially conscious."

RUCKER, URSULA: Supasista 12" (K7 106 EP). $8.00

"Supa Sista" is reinterpreted by three unique producers. 2uestlove, the man with the question mark, also known as Ahmir Thompson and the head of Hip Hop super group The Roots, has remixed 'Supa Sista' into a rough and funky organic jam true to the The Roots flavour. The "Numerican Jazz Remix" was produced by The Society, a Danish production duo; with their treatment, 'Supa Sista' was reshaped into a superb electronic Free Jazz tune. Last but not least Modaji, one half of London's Restless Soul Productions. In his rework he builds a deep sound voyage around Ursula's voice that will leave the listener in a hypnotic state."

RUCKER, URSULA: Supa Sista 2LP (K7 106 LP). $19.00

Double LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

HIRSCH, BETH: Titles & Idols CD (K7 107 CD). $16.00

"Celebrated for her contributions to Air's now-classic Moon Safari, singer-songwriter Beth Hirsch is back with her second full-length for IK7 Records. A sultry blend of traditional songwriting and technologically forward-thinking production, Titles and Idols sees Hirsch teaming up with producers The Black Dog, Custom Blue, and Jackson From Paris to spectacular effect. Heartfelt and soulful, Beth Hirsch's latest invokes both the classic sensibility of an artist like Joni Mitchell and the willingness to challenge expectations that has been a trademark of her career."

HIRSCH, BETH: Titles & Idols 2LP (K7 107 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

FUNKSTÖRUNG: Vice Versa CD (K7 108 CD). $16.00

"Funkstörung are back. With Vice Versa, the world-class studio wizards in sound hacking, vocal splicing and grove shredding present their second remix compilation. Again, a very special musical delight. You could already hear it on Funkstörung's first outing, 'Additional Productions' and also on their very own debut album Appetite For Disstruction what makes them so special. This Rosenheim based producer team, consisting of Michael Fakesch and Chris De Luca, blend electronic noise, digital Soul and cinemascopic sound, under which heavy and complex Hip Hop grooves reveal Funkstörung's trademark sound. A somehow strange sound, futuristic yet seductive, fat but soft at the same time, it's a very unique sound. The minute you hear the first beats of a Funkstörung track or one of their remixes, you instantly feel it's the sound wizards from upper Bavaria. The magnificent talent of Fakesch and De Luca is manifested again on Vice Versa. One could think of it as a new artist album by Funkstörung. But in fact, the original tracks that are the source material of this album are from respected artists such as Plaid, Jay Jay Johanson, Jean Michel Jarre, A Guy Called Gerald or Nils Patter Molvaer, to name a few."

FUNKSTÖRUNG: Vice Versa 2LP (K7 108 LP). $19.00

Double LP version, same foam-wrap packaging as the CD.

HERBERT: The Audience 12" (K7 109 EP). $8.00

"The third single to be taken from the critically acclaimed Herbert album Bodily Functions. A wonderful song that again features Dani Siciliano on vocals and is one of the highlights of the album. The single features an interesting selection of remixes by Plaid, Matmos with whom Matthew has collaborated on the new Björk Album) and an amazing rework by Jamie Lidell (Super Collider) which should blow every club to pieces."

VIKTER DUPLAIX: DJ Kicks CD (K7 115 CD). $16.00

"For the latest release in the critically acclaimed DJ Kicks series, IK7 is proud to present one of Philadelphia's greatest talents: Vikter Duplaix. Whether working with the likes of Erykah Badu, Masters At Work, Jazzanova, or King Britt's Sylk 130, veteran producer, songwriter and vocalist Duplaix has established himself as major creative force in the New Philly Soul Movement. DJ Kicks, Duplaix's eclectic debut outing as a DJ, features his signature soulful aesthetic, weaving sounds as diverse as West London soul and hip hop into a cohesive sonic masterpiece." Artists include: Critical Point, Taurus, 4Hero, P'Taah, Waiwan feat. L Heywood, Herbert, Osunlade, Vikter Duplaix, Neppa Allstars, Shawn Lee, Mandrake, Mr. Hermanto, Hopper, Critical Point feat. Wadud, Spacek, De La Soul, Bahamadia, Erykah Badu, Philip Charles, New Sector Movements.

VIKTER DUPLAIX: DJ Kicks 2LP (K7 115 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

RAE & CHRISTIAN: Nocturnal Activities CD (K7 116 CD). $16.00

"Acclaimed for their original production and downright beloved for their remix work, the duo of Mark Rae and Steve Christian have, in only a few short years, left an indelible mark on the world of great music. Their debut album, 1998's Northern Sulphuric Soul, was the record that launched the careers of dozens of hip-hop obsessed British producers hoping to follow Rae & Christian into the spotlight. Next came a slew of high-profile remixes for the likes of Madonna and Moby which cemented their place at the tops of sought-after remixer lists worldwide. Embracing the sounds of live instrumentation, the duo brought the classy, sophisticated aesthetic of their touring band into the studio for their sophomore release, the critically-celebrated Sleepwalking, injecting massive doses of downtempo grooves, live instrumentation, and mature songwriting into the mix. Now the dynamic duo are back with Nocturnal Activity, an album which finds the infamous remixers receiving a taste of their own musical medicine from the likes of Faze Action, Groove Armada, Nextmen, Atjazz, Tom and Joyce, and many more."

RAE & CHRISTIAN: Nocturnal Activities 2LP (K7 116 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

ZINGER, EARL: Put Your Phazers On Stun? CD (K7 117 CD). $16.00

"What is the deal with Earl Zinger? An elusive figure with musical credentials of epic proportions, he is nonetheless difficult to describe. Though he is undeniably a fixture on Gilles Peterson's internationally syndicated radio program, Worldwide, the rest of Earl Zinger's career remains shrouded in mystery. According to the painstaking research of acclaimed musicologist Arnold Brackenbridge, Zinger has been an unseen force in everything from beat poetry to reggae, hip hop and beyond. From his early interactions with Jack Kerouac to his influence on Bob Dylan, Bob Marley, The Meters, Malcolm McLaren, and Public Enemy, Zinger has steeped himself in funkiness in all its forms, and it shows. Put Your Phazers On Stun... is one of the most unusual records in recent memory, as mysterious and hard to pin down as its elusive creator."

ZINGER, EARL: Put Your Phazers On Stun? 2LP (K7 117 LP). $19.00

Double vinyl version.

TOSCA: Different Tastes Of Honey (Remixes) CD (K7 118 CD). $16.00

"After the success of their Opera and Suzuki albums, Tosca's Richard Dorfmeister and Rupert Huber return with an afterburner, the essential collection of remixes. With the upcoming domestic release of Suzuki In Dub as well, this is the season for Tosca. On this outing, the choice cut is 'Honey,' a tune that rocked radio, clubs and hi-fi sets alike. Here it melts into an all-new variety of flavors via an international squad of remixers including Faze Action, Funky Lowlies, Only Child, and Markus Kienzl of the Sofa Surfers. A landmark tune made by pioneering figures of the European downtempo scene, Tosca's 'Honey' deserves nothing less than the all-star treatment it receives on this record. Sultry and sexy, these musically diverse remixes will quickly become a personal soundtrack, a fixture on the stereo at home, in the car, and on the go."

TOSCA: Suzuki In Dub CD (K7 120 CD). $16.00

"Tosca are back again with some extra-fine dubs from the original tracks on their classic album, Suzuki. Featuring remixes by the crème de la crème of soulful electronic artists, Suzuki In Dub collects eleven masterful tracks based on Richard Dorfmeister and Rupert Huber's trademark style. With each new version a fully-formed sound unto itself, this is no half-baked smorgasbord of new versions. It is a cohesive set of reinterpretations sure to please in the club and on the home stereo." Remixers include: Burnt Friedman/Nonplace, Dubphonic, Walkner.Moestl Busenfetisch, Cosmic Rocker, Dzihan+Kamien, Uko, Philippe Lussan, Deadbeats, Baby Mammoth, G-Corporation, Zula.

SWAYZAK: Groove Technology 2CD (K7 122 CD). $17.50

"Swayzak's music strikes an elegant balance; a precise attention to both the minute details as well as the overall picture has run through all their recordings to date. Their craft, evident on 1998's Snowboarding In Argentina and 2000's Himawari is the art of uniting apparent contradictions in a deep and endless cosmos of sound. Demanding due attention, Swayzak's musical language is coded; a sonic cipher that refuses to give away its secrets too easily. What they do is create a sound that owes much to deep house, minimal techno, and electro, but is ultimately far closer to the crackling fantasies of dub. Swayzak may require a bit more attention than your average house-by-numbers stomper, but the rewards are well worth the effort. James and David have crafted a hand-picked selection of tunes from like-minded artists such as Mike Ink, Studio 1, Basic Channel, Herbert and Luomo into an absolutely breathtaking mix." Includes tracks from: Philippe Cam, Pile, Akufen, Styro 2000, Headgear, Ellen Allien, Basic Channel, Delay 05, Closer Music, Ricardo Villalobos, Luomo, Cim, Herbert, Colin Newman & Corrado Izzo, Stephan Laubner, Convextion, Monolake, Studio 1, Berghem, Michael Mayer, Bitstream, Kotai/Bader, Son.sine, Round Four.

SWAYZAK: Groove Technology 2LP (K7 122 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

SMITH & MIGHTY: Life Is... CD (K7 123 CD). $17.00

"Smith & Mighty's third album. It's got the laidback atmosphere of Big World, Small World, but this time, it's spiced with a more tune-orientated approach. If you hear a little Massive Attack or Roni Size, it's because they took their cues from hometown heroes Smith & Mighty. Life Is... is a very contemporary soul album, but you can't ignore that signature Bristol vibe rumbling your bassbins. For their latest, Smith & Mighty have kicked it up a notch, moving the music away from the downtempo realm, filling their songs with grooves hovering between drum & bass' rhythmic energy and classic variations of steppers riddims. Guest singers like Tammy Payne, Rudy Lee, MC Kelz, Hazel, Nigi 40 and many more ensure that Life Is... is nothing if not a masterpiece."

SMITH & MIGHTY: Life Is... 2LP (K7 123 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

PEACE ORCHESTRA: Reset CD (K7 125 CD). $17.00

"Reset? Another remix compilation? A bunch of recycled sounds that can't possibly top the originals? It may sound a bit suspect, but keep in mind that the core of this project is Peter Kruder's 1999 Peace Orchestra album, nothing less than a landmark - a piece of pure musical genius. If Reset's new versions can't outdo this, it just means that it's hard to climb Mount Everest. But these remixes are still better than 99.9% of comparable output. In other words, no worries: Reset will set any Hi-Fi system on fire. As you would expect from a perfectionist like Herr Kruder, Reset's cast of remixers reads like a who's-who of dope producers. The mixes follow the chronology of the original album, mellowing out its primary futureshock, morphing Peace Orchestra faves like 'Shining', 'The Man', or 'Double Drums' into new monsters of rhythm. Silicon Boogie, Broken Soul, Latinaire Digital or Meta Dope Beats: it is all here. You'll find the big name talent, like Brazilian-beats hero Rainer Trby alongside tastemaker favorites Gotan Project, Chateau Flight, Raw Deal and the fabulous Zero dB. But it's the quiet talent, like Kosma, Guillaume Bouillard and the outstanding DJ DSL that make this album tick. Enough eardrums for the advanced listener as well as the lounge guerilla."

PEACE ORCHESTRA: Reset 3LP (K7 125 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version.

TERRANOVA: Running Away 12" (K7 126). $6.50

"Continuing along the course plotted since Closing The Door, the group continues their move away from an early preference for hip-hop on the new EP, venturing deeper into the realms of electro pop and house. There are dope beats, new wave guitars (reminiscent of Bauhaus), catchy house vocals by original Terranova and Stereo MCs member Cath Coffey and sharp synthesizer frequencies uncompromisingly blended into an intricate and unique sound complemented by mixes from club chart aspirant DJ Naughty and the legendary Stereo MCs."

TERRANOVA: Hitchhiking Non Stop With No Particular Destination CD (K7 126 CD). $16.00

"The long-awaited second album from the trio of Mastermind Fetisch, Meister and Shapemod (DJ Kaos is currently in the studio working on his new project Ghost Cauldron). It's twelve new tracks to which the standard hyperbole favored by music critics no longer comes close to what is being heard. This is the sound of now; a new chapter in the development of Terranova's signature dark-side sound. Hitchhiking is a quick and dirty affair, full of fuzzed-out melodies and - gasp - crunchy guitars; a clash of baggy jeans, leather, metal and electronics. Inspired by hip-hop, Detroit techno and punk rock, Terranova's sound is much more than the sum of these parts. It goes down deep - to where the soul resides, to where those voices inside your head come from. For beneath the tattoos and t-shirts are three musicians with literally years of experience rocking parties and churning out killer songs. They understand what it takes to make music that is relevant to audiences around the world, whether there is a dance floor involved or not. In that sense, Terranova are musical citizens of the world, hanging around with their thumbs out, samplers in hand."

TERRANOVA: Hitchhiking Non Stop With No Particular Destination 2LP (K7 126 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

PLAYGROUP: DJ Kicks CD (K7 127 CD). $16.00

"Originally a graphic designer, Jackson first gained musical acclaim as the mastermind behind hip hop act The Brotherhood and the founder of seminal label Bite It!. In 2001, Playgroup released its self-titled debut album, unleashing a flurry of acclaim. Mashing up funk, punk, hip hop and new wave into a funky bouillabaisse of beats with guest appearances by reggae star Shinehead, indie pioneer Edwyn Collins, and Le Tigres Kathleen Hanna, the Playgroup project is positive and uplifting music with an underground feel and some serious pop appeal. For his DJ Kicks installment, Trevor Jackson came up with a selection that reflects many of his musical influences from the past. You'll find all time heroes like the Human League and KC Flight as well as current hot shots like New York's Metro Area and no-wave revivalists The Rapture, original punk-funksters The Flying Lizards, Manchesters J-Walk, and the wicked I:Cube Mix of Ana Rago. Trevor Jackson blends music from more than two decades of club and dance culture into a superbly funky up mix."

PLAYGROUP: Behind The Wheel (DJ Kicks ElectroSh Mix) 12" (K7 127 EP). $6.50

"The official release of Playgroup's stunning cover version of Depeche Mode's 'Behind The Wheel'. Trevor Jackson initially wanted to include Depeche Mode's original on his DJ Kicks mix album but as the band has refused to re-release it on any format, he simply went back into the studio and upped the ante with this monster of a record. According to scene godfather DJ Hell, Playgroup's reinterpretation of the 80's synthpop anthem has already been hailed as a classic on the Electroclash scene and is getting heavy support from tastemaking DJs across the globe."

PLAYGROUP: DJ Kicks 2LP (K7 127 LP). $18.00
Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

SWAYZAK: Make Up Your Mind 12" (K7 128). $7.50

"British electro duo Swayzak's first single is apt to give you a lasting taste of what the album (due this fall, on IK7) is all about: An exceptional round trip through their universe of beeps, bubbles and straight drums. More than a teaser, 'Make Up Your Mind' is an astonishing and very unique little hit single for connoisseurs, polished by Clair Dietrich's distant vocals overflowing with soul. Just don't label them 'Eighties', Swayzak are beyond any revival notion; 'Make Up Your Mind' is every note-bit tomorrow with a sound that means innovation when it says future. Vivid, beautiful, romantic, clairvoyant and subtle pop music for this century."

SWAYZAK: Dirty Dancing CD (K7 128 CD). $16.00

"Swayzak are more than just musicians. Drawing inspiration from years of listening to everything from pop to dub reggae, and playing with tape loops, samplers, delay pedals and synthesizers, James Taylor and David Brown have had a distinct creative vision from the beginning. Though their sound confounds critics searching for that catch-all category, Swayzak have brought a consistency to their releases which has carried over to the striking graphics adorning their album covers. Just as Swayzak's keen sense of perspective and color informs their signature imagery, their Dub-wise production techniques and pop sensibility help to breathe deep house soul into the icy skeleton of minimal Techno's sparse rhythms. And now comes a third studio album, another superb collection of songs that continue Swayzak's journey to the center of the groove. With the help of collaborators like Carl Finlow AKA Silicon Scally, Clair Dietrich, Adult., and Headgear, Swayzak have crafted some of the deepest, most melodic, electro-infused dance music ever. Dirty Dancing fuses everything from echoing dub, vocal house, minimal techno, and angular electro into a beautifully composed set of futurist pop. Sparse yet warm, propulsive yet soothing, Swayzak are more than just a couple guys with a studio kit."

DE LUCA, CHRIS: Deadly Wiz Da Disko CD (K7 130 CD). $16.00

"Chris De Luca is the kind of guy that lives for music. In addition to his involvement in the legendary Funkstörung production and remix duo with Michael Fakesch and their uber-experimental Music Aus Strom label, he also owns the Munich-based Delirium record shop. Perhaps that is why he and Dominik Gilbert Marcel AKA Peabird hit it off so well. After a chance meeting at Delirium in 1998, the two hip-hop fanatics became fast friends and Peabird began to nurture an idea which, four years later, is finally complete. Chris and Peabird are long time hip-hop fans. If you take a closer look at their albums title, their passion for rap music and its environment becomes obvious. That's why they have brought in top-shelf lyricists like Tryflynn, Profidence, and Beans from the mighty Anti-Pop Consortium to collaborate. Deadly Wiz Da Disko is hip-hop, but with characters like De Luca and Peabird behind the boards, you know that's not the whole story. More reminiscent of Prefuse 73 than DJ Premier, their debut album takes the cut n' mix aesthetic of old school hip-hop and mashes it up with the most forward-thinking technologies at their disposal. This is body rock for robots, the soundtrack to intergalactic graffiti battles. If you need a hint, just imagine what would happen if Public Enemy got stuck in an elevator with Aphex Twin, only to be liberated by Chris and Peabird, samplers in hand. Deadly indeed."

DE LUCA, CHRIS: Deadly Wiz Da Disko 2LP (K7 130 LP). $18.00
Double LP version.

SWAYZAK: I Dance Alone 12" (K7 134 EP). $6.50

"Standing in stark contrast to the ethereal melodies of their first single off of Dirty Dancing, Swayzak's latest is all rumbling synths and icily detached vocals. Featuring vocal turns from electro pioneers Carl Finlow (Voice Stealer, Random Factor, Silicon Scally) and Nicota from Adult, 'I Dance Alone' straddles the space between the synth-heavy sound of the burgeoning electro scene and the propulsive rhythms of techno. Building on the foundation of Swayzak's original mix, Carl Finlow's Silicon Scally Mix is seven minutes of proper techno à la Underground Resistance and Drexciya. Darkfamer's mix takes the track down a notch without compromising its instant dance floor appeal. Taking 'I Dance Alone' into pure robo-disco heaven, Connecticut Ron's mix will have fans of Georgio Moroder in a frenzy thanks to some deft turns behind the boards."

STEREOTYP: My Sound CD (K7 136 CD). $16.00

"An underground hero in Vienna thanks to a handful of choice singles and remixes for labels like Compost, Best Seven and G Stone, Stereotyp is also the protégé of Kruder & Dorfmeister, who have relied on his home studio to get that certain deep and haunting, smoked-out feel for many of their recordings. A man with a comprehensive aesthetic, Stereotyp AKA Stefan Moerth has what can only be described as a signature style — a genre-bending fusion of nu jazz syncopation, ragga-fied vocals, and the jump-up rhythms of Jamaican dancehall. Utterly revolutionary, his music has the same teched-out sensibility and eerie abstraction as his visual art, which adorns My Sound's cover and booklet. My Sound is a reflection of Moerth's inventive spirit, his influences, and his experiences working alongside some of the finest musicians and vocalists in the game. Their marks are there, from the lush coproduction of Peter Kruder on the album-opening 'My Sound,' to the uncompromising vocals of Tikiman, Sugar B, Hubert Tubbs, Collage, Colee Royce, Greenwood, Cesar, and MC Trigger, but My Sound could only be Stereotyp. Roots reggae and dub are filtered, tweaked, and accelerated into the future, hovering in space and echoing messages of life, love and emotion into the cosmos. As Tikiman sings, 'this a real true sound revelation.'"

VA: Funkstörung Presents MAS:Confusion CD (K7 137 CD). $17.00

"Born out a box full of demos sitting in Musik Aus Strom label head Michael Fakesch's house, MAS Confusion announces the return of one of Germany's most highly respected outlets for experimental electronic music. Founded by Fakesch and Funkstörung collaborator Chris De Luca, Musik Aus Strom has been responsible for a small but immensely influential body of music, most of which has only been available in extremely limited vinyl editions. Now, after a brief hiatus, Musik Aus Strom is back with its first-ever compilation, a collection of what Fakesch describes as 'future talent' including some of the best tunes submitted to the label as well as some incredible contributions commissioned by Funkarma, who are also featured on MAS Confusion. Overseen by glitch-hop pioneers Funkstörung, the selection of tracks on MAS Confusion represents the international scope of the experimental underground. Featuring both established and unknown talents from across Europe and the United States, MAS Confusion is assembled around what can only be described as a shared vibe." Artists include: Metamatics, Lusine Icl, Stars As Eyes, Xela, Autophonic, Adam Johnson, Funkarma, Quench, Tomato Weirido, Michael Fakesch, Mr. Pojectile.

VA: Funkstörung Presents MAS:Confusion 2LP (K7 137 LP). $18.00

Double LP version. Elaborate full color gatefold sleeve.

TOSCA: Dehli 9 2CD (K7 140 CD). $18.00

"A sublime collection of music, the new CD by Richard Dorfmeister and Rupert Huber is full of uptempo beats with a downtempo feeling, grooves in soft satin, spiff tunes with lyrical extravagance, and piano-pieces in a dub style. There's musical diversity galore on Dehli 9: CD 1 contains the classical Tosca sound infused with lush instrumentation, and CD2 (the bonus CD) features twelve dubwise piano compositions. For Dehli 9, Dorfmeister and Huber recaptured the spontaneity of their earliest collaborations. Their direct but freeform approach is quiet obvious. The sounds are drawn less from well-sorted sample banks or refined VST plug-ins, but from a range of live instruments that Richard and Rupert played during the two-year long sessions. After recording, the music was arranged on the computer, leaving room for some formidable vocal contributions."

TOSCA: Dehli 9 4LP (K7 140 LP). $19.00

4 LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

HAND, K.: On A Journey CD (K7 R001). $16.00

The first proper album to be released by the leading lady of Detroit techno, and also the first release on K7's artists label subdivision (notated by the "R" in their catalog prefixes). This collects tracks that Kelli had released on her own Acacia 12" imprint; her style is marked by repetitive disco loopage, minimalist acid phasing, bits of May/Craig string detail and a perfectly attuned, vaguely caustic tech-house flow — a classic of its kind.

KANABIS THE EDIT ASSASSIN: Digital Contact CD (K7 R011). $16.00

Deeply floating, mostly instrumental "freestyle hip hop" from Detroit. "Another fat blunt rolled up by K7. Welcome to a new chapter of the Detroit hip hop sound. For Kanabis, called James Sims in civil life, his musical style is a counter-product of the 'keep it real attitude', ie. strict separation of different musical styles, in this case of hip hop, house and techno. He is calling his musical approach 'garden house.'"

KANABIS THE EDIT ASSASSIN: Digital Contact 2LP (K7 R011 LP). $19.00
2LP version.

HAND, K.: Art Of Music CD (K7 R014). $16.00

The fourth album from K. Hand puts her in the exact same strata as many of the better known Detroit producers she thanks on her liner notes: Mike Banks, Juan Atkins, Jeff Mills, Richie Hawtin, etc. A minimal electro/techno brigracrosser classic with a few tracks (like "Census" or "Eternal") that rival anything in the 313 zone book. "Studio K7 follows up the release of K. Hand's debut album On A Journey with another collection of tracks from the pioneering producer and Acacia label boss. Art Of Music is hard-driving tour of the borders between techno & electro — a territory that has not been explored so effectively since Juan Atkins late '80's releases as Model 500. Since K7 releases K. Hand's On A Journey debut, she has released a second album of relentless minimal techno Ready For Darkness on the French label Distance on which the press have called her 'genius'. She also released Soul, an album of deep groovy house on the German Ausfahrt imprint."

PARKER, TERRENCE: Detroit After Dark CD (K7 R015). $16.00

Second full length album of Detroit house pumpology, following his debut Tragedies Of A Plastic Soul Junkie. "A positive uplifting record with an older and wiser sound than the deep and jazzy house feel of Tragedies and explores a wider range of Terrence's influences."

PARKER, TERRENCE: Detroit After Dark 2LP (K7 R015 LP). $19.00

NICOLETTE: Now Is Early 2LP (K7 R016 LP). $19.00

SIMMONDS, IAN: Last State of Nature CD (K7 R022). $16.00

"British producer Ian Simmonds is no stranger to the Downtempo/Headz circuit. Along with his production jobs and commitments as a bassist for numerous bands, Ian Simmonds was releasing tracks on illustrious labels such as Ninja Tune, ATL, Pussyfoot and SSR under his pseudonym, Juryman. Juryman vs. Space, the album he produced in collaboration with Luke Gordon is touted as an absolute milestone of innovative jazzy electronics. On his first record for K7 he blends smooth beats with abstract soundscapes, glorifying them with vocals and exposing his love of dub, early Carl Craig breakbeats, bebop and hip hop, making a fantastically varied album."

SIMMONDS, IAN: Last State of Nature 2LP (K7 R022 LP). $19.00

Double vinyl version.

FUNKSTÖRUNG: Additional Productions CD (K7 R028). $16.00

"Funkstörung first crossed paths when German Michael Fakesch and Italian Chris de Luca met at a techno club in Rosenheim. Their first 6 productions were mainstream techno tracks released under the cult Dutch label Bunker (run by Unit Moebius) under the name Musik Aus Strom. Dissatisfied with the progress with their music with Bunker Records, the hot-headed duo decided to start their own label to gain more control over their releases. During their restructuring, they decided upon the name Funkstörung (meaning 'radio interference') as their production outfit, and assumed the name Musik Aus Strom ('electrical music') as their label name. During those years they developed enormously as musicians, elevating their production style from typical Den-Haag hardcore to more musical listening techno or ambient music. Their complex sound arrangements involve up to 400 different sounds/effects per song, and soon Funkstörung was being labeled as the German equivalents of Autechre." Features their infamous remixes of Visit Venus, East Flatbush Project, Various Artists, Björk, Finitribe, Wu Tang Clan, S'Apex, plus an exclusive collaborative track with DJ Craze.

IMPULSE: With A Lot Of Music And All Songs 2LP (K7 R029 LP). $19.00

MORE ROCKERS: Selection 2 CD (MR001CD). $14.00

"After various work with artists such as Massive Attack and DJ Krust, the team of producers Peter Rose and Rob Smith continue the legacy carried on from their first album. More Rockers artfully combine hard breaks, diverse bass-lines, and spherical dub sounds to demonstrate their unique position in the drum & bass culture."

STUDIO 1 (GERMANY):

STUDIO 1: Green Label 12" (STUDIO 001). $9.00

The entire Studio 1 12" series has been repressed! Tremendous pulsic minimalism from Mike Ink, a selection of which has been presented on the Studio 1 CD (in turn, reinterpreted by Thomas Brinkmann on the Studio 1—Variationen CD on Profan). Collect them all while you still can. The label's distributor, Neuton, has the best descriptions: "Mike Ink Monophunkacid."

SUB ROSA (BELGIUM):*VA: Myths 3: La Nouvelle Serenite CD CD (SR 005CD). $13.00

Reissue of the fourth volume in this early Sub Rosa compilation series. Features long tracks from: Jon Hassell (duo with J.A. Deane, from 1985), Harold Budd (duo with Eugen Bowen, from 1983), Gavin Bryars (duo with Andrew Thomson, from 1987), and an excerpt from "Les Archives Sonores Sub Rosa".

VA: Myths 4: Sinopie Twilight in Çatal Hüyük CD (SR 007CD). $13.00

Reissue of the fourth volume in this early Sub Rosa compilation series. Features long tracks from: Cheb Mami, Coil, Current 93 and some Turkish dervish ceremonial music from 1973 — from the Sub Rosa archives of Revan Sanchez-Cotan. The Coil track is a live version of "Another Brown World", recorded in 1989. The Current 93 track is "Some Morning When The Moon Was Blood", recorded in London, 1989; mixed by Steven Stapleton.

BURROUGHS, WILLIAM S.: Break Through In Grey Room CD (SR 008CD). $13.00

"Officially re-released — one of our absolute classics, back in print at last. Extraordinary cut-up voices recorded during the mid-60's in hotel rooms in New York, Paris, London... It's impossible not to recognise the writer's voice — the sonority of this voice — a sonority also present in the silence of every text he wrote. An explosion of styles — a blasting of borders — the silence after a gunshot — the overtaking of the fetishized word — from the exploded painting to the cut tape. This record starts with a piece of more than 13 minutes, recorded around 1965 with Ian Sommerville somewhere in New York and London — K-9 was in combat with the alien mind-screens, including various monologues, radio short waves and music...Tapes, cut and cut and cut up to the limit of sense — emerged new structures of communication... and senses. Words gain power when loosing the boundaries of semantics. Including too Joujouka music recorded by WS Burroughs in the hills of Morocco with Ornette Coleman, circa 1973."

HAYWARD, CHARLES: Switch On War CD (SR 040CD). $13.00

Hayward was a founding member of the seminal UK group This Heat, then later formed Camberwell Now. Switch On War was originally issued in 1991 and is now reissued on its original label, after a long vacuum of unavailability. "Switch on War a dream state synthesis of nights watching live TV coverage of the 1st Gulf War, the reduction of colours to an electron midnight blue, the long periods of nothing really happening, the contrasting landscapes, (the desert, the city at night, the newsroom), the sudden hurtling through space, through a doorway, a camera on the nose of a missile, the bearing of silent witness slowly turning into complicity and mute acquiescence. At the back of the mind the thought that all this would soon be reduced to snapshot memories, archive, newsreel, history. Originally devised as a performance for the Club Integral, in South London, at the height of the military activity, Switch on War was a harsh and brutal response to the media coverage of the conflict informed by a grotesque and disconcerting anti-music aesthetic heavily influenced by the disorienting, overloaded sound world of Space Invaders arcades. The CD version was recorded binaurally some weeks later, live in a disused morgue, as the war came to its stalemate close. By this time the anger had a bleak streak of sadness, a distorted expressionist requiem. This CD had the life expectancy of a magazine article or some such, no more than a year and it would be archive, a mere souvenir." — Charles Hayward.

DUCHAMP, MARCEL: The Creative Act CD (SR 057CD). $13.00

New repress of this mid-90s release. "The first CD devoted exclusively to Marcel Duchamp brings some 50 minutes of very rare documents, all of which are crucial not only to understand Duchamp's work but also to grasp the rebellious, unconventional, anticongformist spirit that has always been there, but in the Zürich of 1919 took the absurd name of Dada." Content: "The Creative Act" (a lecture in Houston, TX — April 1957); "Some texts from a L'Infini" (1912-20; lecture read in 1967, shortly before his death); "Erratum Musical" (score drawn at random and played on pedal harmonium by Jean-Luc Fauchamps; the first aleatory composition, long before John Cage); "An Interview" (by Richard Hamilton, recorded in NY, 1959); "A Score For Three Voices" (a score for 3 voices, only score written by Duchamp for his 2 sisters).

JOYCE, JAMES: The Complete Recordings CD/BOOK (SR 060CD). $20.00

CD: "These arresting documents gathered from the Joyce archives with the exclusive permission of the Joyce foundation gather together the only two recordings of the author, reading from Ulysses in Paris during the twenties — the place and time where his visionary and transformative language was first appreciated and encouraged, and from Finnegans Wake in Cambridge, Massachusetts under the duress of being a censored author in the United States." [please note: the length of the audio portion is only 13 minutes, that's all that e x i s t s ]

BOOK: "Also presented for the first time in English is James Joyce — an intimate memoir of the author written by Eugene Jolas, his French editor and translator whom over a ten year period published installments of Joyce's work in progress which would become Finnegans Wake in his literary journal Transition regularly published contributions from Hemingway, Kafka, Beckett etc and illustrations by Kandinsky, etc. Mr. Jolas' reflections on his and Joyce's unique and intimate relationship reveals a warm and three-dimensional, heretofore undiscovered portrait of the artist whom almost never gave interviews during his life, and only did so with an impenetrable guard for his privacy and personal thoughts.

Never delving into salacious speculation, Mr. Jolas' memoirs bring us to a whole new level of understanding Joyce's life — his agony over his father's death, and his torment over his daughter's descent into mental decay, the two events from which Joyce never recovered. Jolas tenderly recounts his memories of the loving father whom would use his tremendous faculties of imagination to engage in conversations with her during her rants, delivered in the throes of dementia.

Other intimate anecdotes serve to bring this giant of the 20th century into an endearing human scale: his love of Yeats, his sarcastic yawning and early departure from a reading by Ernest Hemmingway, his fascination with world religions and impressive multilingualism, and the nerve-wrecking process of publishing his work which the author's esthetic deemed never finished, which meant a 24 hour revision and production schedule was maintained by those whom undertook to translate his work and bring it on to the printed page — a coterie of personalities including Jolas, Samuel Beckett, William Carlos Williams, Eduard Wilson and Stuart Gilbert, all of whom were devoted to the author's unique expression, however maddening the process of actually producing the printed page would become.

'Joyce never changed a word — but he was always adding' muses Jolas, whom won the thousand dollar reward that Joyce offered to anyone of his friends whom could guess the name of the work in progress on which they had labored for ten years. 'Ah Jolas,' he said, 'you've taken something from me.' The great author would pay his confidante the next morning, in the form of a bag filled with ten-francs pieces, which were served to Jolas by his daughters, during his lunch.

Through these documents, we also acquire a sense of the man in relation to his times; his personal disdain for psychoanalytical thought, despite his intellectual admiration for the groundbreaking work of Sigmund Freud, his appreciation of Vico's theory that the history of civilization is cyclical and his own view of the epoch in which he lived as the final cycle, bringing man's inevitable fall, to be followed by chaos and resurrection, and the darkening of his world view and personal torment as Europe heads into war. As Jolas becomes increasingly anti-fascist in his outlook, he becomes aware of Joyce's waning interest in maintaining a full knowledge of current events, which is supplanted by a belief that in times of great historical sweep, one can only impact change on a small local scale, which Joyce does time and again, personally intervening to rescue persecuted minorities from Hitler's Germany.

Jolas' final memory of Joyce departing to be near his daughter's asylum as war is declared and gas masks become mandatory, ends a remarkable memoir of a friendship between two extraordinary men, both dedicated to an uncompromising vision of expression."

SCELSI, GIACINTO: Due Componenti Impetuosi CD (SR 063CD). $13.00

"Reissue. Giacinto Scelsi (Rome 1905 ? -1988) is an atypical composer who was mindful all his life of remaining outside the requisite musical currents (serialism, dodecaphonism, etc.). Drawing on his fascination for pure sonority and a love for unembellished severity, he produced a bare, doleful music, in which silence affords no respite. Scelsi — who was a passionate traveller, a secretive temperament (refusing to be photographed or even sign his name), and a profoundly mystical adherent of the Buddhist faith ?- has left us a work that, although it is still largely misunderstood, may prove to be one of the most demanding and beautiful of our time. He set himself no models and had no pupils. He considered sound as the cosmic force behind all things. Due Componenti Impetuosi is the companion piece to Tre Canti Popolari. These works are amongst the most violent ever produced in the twentieth century. Johan Bosser ?- this is this young Belgian pianist's first recording under his own name. He is the founder of the groups Champ D'Action and Zeitklang, and is a favoured interpreter of Stockhausen, Xenakis, Saariaho and Scelsi."

VA: Konstantin Raudive - The Voices Of The Dead CD (SR 066CD). $13.00

"Sub Rosa presents a CD which contains fragments and reworkings of the legendary Raudive tapes. Who was Doctor Konstantin Raudive? Dr. Raudive, a student of Carl Jung, was a Latvian psychologist who taught at the University of Uppsala, Sweden, before devoting the last ten years of his life to electronic voice phenomenon (EVP). He published in his book Breakthrough in 1971. His early collaborator F.Jurgenson, whom he met by the very beginning of 1965, awakened Dr. K. Raudive's interest in EVP research. Raudive spent endless hours for the thorough study of Jurgenson's books (Voices from Space, 1964 and Radio-Link with the Dead, 1967). From an overwhelming database (ranging about 72000 samples!), Raudive's mother seems to be statistically the most frequently reported contact personality. The reality of the tapes: For many, the first traces of the Raudive Tapes were in William Burroughs' fictions and articles. The fact is, these mysterious magnetic tapes, which capture the voices of the dead, and were recorded by the baltic scientist Konstantin Raudive, are not a fiction but a reality (we are not here to judge their scientific objectivity). These tapes, as rare as Lovecraft's Necronomicon are now in the Sub Rosa archives. This Raudive celebration CD includes unpublished material by Scanner, Paul D. Miller aka DJ Spooky, Calla, Lee Ranaldo, Ensemble, Random Inc., David Toop, Carl Michael Von Hausswolff and Brett Dean."

MASTER MUSICIANS OF JOUJOUKA: Joujouka Black Eyes CD (SR 087CD). $13.00

"The master Musicians of Joujouka come from the Rif mountains of Morocco. They are one of the best sufi music players of the world. The result is a unique records with the real thing, something to do with the day-by-day life — a very intimist mood. One of the few legitimate recordings of the legendary Moroccan ensemble, recorded in Joujouka, 1994. Once a strange boy from the Greatest Rock'n'Roll Band In The World visited Joujouka. He proved to be a catalyst for the ongoing interest in the music of the village. Hamri brought him there because he hoped something positive and serious would come of it for The Master Musicians and for the village. Those adventures lead to the album Brian Jones Presents The Pipes of Pan at Joujouka. The album is lasting testimony to a mass collaboration between a motley crew of delinquent artists: Bowles, Burroughs, Hamri, Gysin, Jones and the individual musicians of Joujouka. Jones was honourable in his dealings with Joujouka but, in the years since his death, much that is dishonourable has been said, written and done. There has been the remorseless tokenism of 'World Music'. There have been myriad attempts at cultural hegemony on the broad-spectrum 'Beat Generation' scene. Many pseudo-hip figures with pristine international reputations have been shameful in their uncharacteristically discreet negotiations with Musicians on the mountain. The rock remains. The music of Joujouka is still one of the most liberating of musics, a secret message to the soul at a time when the soul has been effectively discredited by conservative forces. Hamri, the Painter of Morocco, believes that the world now needs the healing powers of The Master Musicians. The people of Joujouka share this belief. Their village, sublime in it's silence and tranquility, is by the way of sharp contrast with the post-modern cosmopolis. For sure, the world outside the village is a battered and tragic place where there is no respite from moribund philosophy or from an increasingly malevolent media/State interface. The time for the music of Joujouka has assuredly arrived."

VA: The Unfinished CD (SR 103CD). $13.00

"Locust is one of the many shades of Mark Van Hoen. Locust are difficult to describe in that no one description can adequately cover the intensity and complexity of their craft. Theirs is a deep, moving and mysterious work which ranges from abstract electronica, intelligent yet sensual techno grooves, and sparse minimalistic experimentations: all of which can be admired on several critically acclaimed (and classic) releases as Locust on R&S, as well as his other collaborations as Scala (Touch) and Aurobindo (Ash). While artists such as Oval, Seefeel, and Mouse on Mars continue to gain popularity, it should be very evident that Mark Van Hoen is at the forefront of this new school of innovative sound pioneers. Lilith, the captivating magic and alluring beauty of Scott Gibbons' very unique blend of musique concrete, supernatural ritualistic recordings and meditative cadences were prepared live on this very special occasion for a broadcast over the airwaves. Mick Harris dark ambient soundscapes of the inner psyche are further explored from the depths of dense dub dementia with biting noise terrorism. On this sinister, hypnotic rhythmic excursion, Mick Harris (Napalm Death, Scorn, Lull, Painkiller) shows us a reflection of himself, complete with shattered illusions. David Toop is familiar from his earliest outings with General Strike to his contributions to Prince Far I (and other On-U Sound outings) and more recently his collaborations with artists such as Scanner. David has been an innovative pioneer on the revolutionary fringes of sounds; both cutting edge and timeless cultures. As extraordinary as his diverse and prolific background may be as musician, performer and composer, his talents as a writer, historian and music critic (e.g. his recent Ocean of Sound book) are of equal significance. A truly profound and rare artist who has created very accomplished and provocative work in seemingly opposing fields."

VA: Double Articulation: Folds & Rhizomes Remix Project CD (SR 110CD). $13.00

Remptom of this classic mid-90s Sub Rosa CD. "After having conceived Folds and Rhizomes, the very first time we listened to it, we had the idea of re-creating another plateau — another little quantum sculpture called a CD — sending out lines of departure in order to remodel the material as it appeared to us then elsewhere and in different fashion. We asked the participants to remix among themselves and what emerged was more engaging than anything we had imagined — Oval remixing himself, David Shea remixes Scanner, Scanner remixes Mouse on Mars, Tobias Hazan remixes Main, Main remixes Oval and Mouse on Mars remixing the whole. The notion of remix is fascinating in itself in that it offers a new vision — never definitive — of what is, a new space where two styles interpenetrate, two ways of doing things which, instead of cancelling each other out, reinforce each other, resulting at best in — something else."

SHEA, DAVID: Satyricon CD (SR 111CD). $13.00

"David Shea has appeared in more than a dozen of our productions, be it on our compilations or in live sessions. Naturally each disc is an important landmark. Already, with Prisoner he attracted attention as an interesting curiosity. Drawing the cream of the New York avant-garde, the second J offered work based solely on the sampler. It is only with the third, The Tower Of Mirrows that interest in him grew significantly. A prodigious kaleidoscopic suite — selected as record of the year by UK magazine The Wire. Satyricon is the first major work he has conceived without using samplers, 18 musicians from different horizons have been convoked. Satyricon, based on a fragment of text by Petronius, a Roman author at the time of Nero, is far-reaching in its exploration and diversity — it goes beyond the ambient and the jungle in its irresistible rhythmic and permits incursions into realms reserved for Scelsi and Feldman! Your ears will tell you that it is the very logic behind the categories that is cruelly called into question here."

RAWFRÜCHT: CD (SR 113CD). $13.00

Repress of this debut album from 1997. "Two guitars & drums. Swell Maps meet Parliament, shades of Hendrix. Can-erisms catching up with the ramblings of Gastr Del Sol. Secret & reserved side in the best tradition of the Chicago School: Tortoise, Rome etc."

LASWELL, BILL: City Of Light + Hashisheen 2CD (SR 114/115CD). $16.00

Special slipcase edition of these two classics, from 1997/99. "2 of Bill Laswell's masterpieces featuring a huge list of very special guests: Coil, Trilok Gurtu, Genesis P-Orridge, Techno Animal, Patti Smith, Tetsu Inoue, Lori Carson, Hakim Bey, Anton Fier, Jah Wobble, Iggy Pop, WS Burroughs. About City Of Light: "This album was recorded in Banaras, India, and mixed in Greenpoint, NY. Music composed by Bill Laswell, Coil, Trilok Gurtu, Tetsu Inoue, and features texts and vocals from Lori Carson. City Of Light is about Banaras, a city older than history, tradition, than legends. It is Shiva's land, founded at the dawn of creation. It is India's oldest and most fabled city. The Hindus call it Kashi, the luminous... The City Of Light."

About Hashisheen: "Hashisheen is the result of two years of hard work and collaborations. This conceptual project guided and supervised by Bill Laswell is presenting through, voices and music, from artists such as: WS Burroughs, Iggy Pop, Patti Smith, Anne Clark, Jah Wobble, Paul Schutze, Techno Animal, Genesis P-Orridge, Jah Wobble... The ancient (11th century) and mystic story of Hasan bin Sabbah, Alamut the 'Garden of Earthly Delights' and the rites of the Hashisheens (also called the 'Assassins')." "

INUIT: 55 Historical Recordings/Traditional Music From Greenland CD (SR 115CD). $13.00

"This record is surely unique. It was published a few years ago only in Greenland by Ulo. We took the decision to enlarge the distribution of this tribute to traditions and roots of the Inuit culture. This is more than an hour of ultra-rare documents, the testimony of a century of Inuit recordings! As a guide through this abundant material, we included the complete notes from the original booklet... Notes, comments and photos. A helpful 24 pages complete not only for purists. Voices recorded in Greenland almost hundred years ago on wax glider cylinders for today, hearing a lost shamanic story, a duel-song, a mournful melody — this record presents a unique collection of drumdance and songs. 55 historical recordings of traditional Greenlandic music recorded between 1905 (by the British ethnologist William Thalbitzer) to 1987 and collected by the Danish ethnomusicologist Michael Hauser. This is — beyond the document in itself — a way to be lost in time and space. Hope, happiness, mourning humanity is right there."

SILK SAW: Dystopia CD (SR 116CD). $13.00

"Repress of the 2nd Silk Saw release on Sub Rosa. Could be ambient? Could be dark trip hop? Could be psycho drum'n'bass? The emphasis here is on sinister atmosphere and lowish drum patterns. Silk Saw masterfully employ samples from films such as the original Dracula to achieve a filmic quality to their dub soundtracks. And producing a gem of subtle, measured rhythmic darkness."

POUSSEUR, HENRI: Liège A Paris CD (SR 117CD). $13.00

"Created in 1977 for the Centre Pompidou foundation on the stage of Paris's Beaubourg, at the instigation of Luciano Berio, 'Liège à Paris' is a fifteen-part composition lasting one hour, where Henri Pousseur takes us on voyage of exploration, mixing the voices of travellers of diverse languages and accents, with the sounds of planes, trains, the atmosphere of streets and Iranian restaurants, noises of every sort, cries, ritournellos, nursery rhymes, fragments of former compositions ('Trois visages de Liège', 1961) — a polyphonic story through with the voice (and texts) of Michel Butor — leaving Paris for a world air tour... The Belgian composer Henri Pousseur studied composition at the academies of Liège and Brussels. In his early period he wrote in Webern's serial technique style and then turned to electronic and aleatoric music. He has translated Alban Berg's written."

DE PUTTER, RENAUD: Chorée CD (SR 131CD). $13.00

"We intensively continue our unclassical program. We were the first in the early 90s to publish Morton Feldman, Giacinto Scelsi, Marcel Duchamp and young European composers as Jean-Luc Fafchamps and Thierry Demy. Chorée is the first record of the young Belgian composer Renaud De Putter — what we present here is 3 pieces for piano (performed by Stephane Ginsburge). We are here far away either from the neo-classical trends and from the new post-serial academism — it is really a quite free method of composition — very rhizomatic, and strong in its realization. Included in this production: a multi-media aspect (CD ROM) — 5 films from 1904 by the Belgian neurolog (and pioneer of the scientific film!) Arthur van Gehuchten. In the very early part of this century he decided to film his patients (who had strong neurotic problems) after seeing the first projection of the Lumière brother in Brussels. The result is more than 200 short scientific films. Renaud de Putter was very impressed by them and decided to compose short piano piece on them. Strong!"

SHEA, DAVID: An Eastern Western Collected Works CD (SR 134CD). $13.00

"The pieces on this recording have been written and recomposed on the sampler during the late 1997 period. The pieces reflect a group of works which use focused materials and combine a more physical and personal approach to the sampler combined with connections to acoustic classical traditions, both eastern and western."

VA: Unclassical CD (SR 138CD). $13.00

"This disc presents the Unclassical aspect of our catalogue — that is, music of today, performed for the most part with traditional acoustic instruments (piano, violin, cello...). Musicians, composers, and pieces, liberated of all dogma and far from the coteries or more practical application of theories. What we present here is a collection of the highspots in contemporary music — many unpublished pieces for piano, violin, voices or ensemble by Morton Feldman, Luciano Berio, Luigi Dallapiccola, Giacinto Scelsi, Hanns Eisler, Stefan Wolpe. There's even a rare piece by the merican writer Paul Bowles, it ends the record in a way of homage. Also featured are young composers who took their first breaths with Feldman. David Shea, with commissioned works for Ictus and the ensemble Musique Nouvelle, was a student of Feldman's in New York before becoming John Zorn's protégé in the alternative scene downtown. Brett Dean, viola player at the Berliner, and an Australian member of Frame-Cut-Frame, was, with David Shea, among the first to release successful works based on sampling. There are other young composers with vision too, like Jean-Luc Fafchamps and Renaud de Putter. Plus, included is an unreleased version of musical erratum by Marcel Duchamp, two pieces recorded in Italy by the Russolo Brothers (a murmur recorded in the beginning of the 20's — a first step towards a musique bruitiste, électronique or concrète). There's also a 1911 recording performed by Claude Debussy himself, an extract from a piece composed by Henri Pousseur for the foundation of Paris' contemporary art center Beaubourg in 1977. Here you'll find the profound investigations pursued by the founders of the electronic music of the 50's and 60's throughout the world."

VA: Floating Foundations Vol. 1 CD (SR 146CD). $13.00

"The idea which preoccupies us in this series, is to create sound objects, abstract in their appearance, with musicians who are, in most cases, plastic artists too. The border between music and plastic arts is thinner than ever before. This is what we will try to explore for the time being. On this first volume you will find tracks from Janek Schaeffer, Main:Robert Hampson, Christophe Charles, Stephen Vitiello and Kurt Ralske. Janek Schaeffer is based in London as architect and musician. After his Above Buildings, he worked with Robert Hampson on a project called Comae. Completing actually for a complete album for Sub Rosa (early 2002). Moreover he invented the Tri-Phonic Turntable! Robert Hampson is the founder of Loop and Main. He produced about 12 records from early 90 and participated to the 'Gilles Deleuze Unit' with scanner mid-90. Christophe Charles is a french sound plastician and lives in Tokyo. Close in mind with Markus Popp/Oval — he released Undirected 1986-1996 on Mille Plateaux and Dok — a soundfile exchange between Oval and him. Stephen Vitiello was born in New York City in 1964, his work has been featured in group exhibitions at Whitney museum and Postmasters gallery, in New York. As a musician and media-artist, he is involved in the New York avant garde, he is too a close collaborator of Nam June Paik and make a record on suphur with Scanner. Kurt Ralske is a Manhattan-based composer, electronic musician, and computer audio-video artist. Described by Alternative Press as 'proving that machines do indeed have souls'. Furthermore he is the founder of the mythic Ultra Vivid Scene 10 years ago."

VA: Sub Rosa Vs Shi-Ra-Nui CD (SR 148CD). $13.00

"Shi-Ra-Nui is a Japanese breaks'n'beats label. Breaks'n'beats is a foundation, a source, a current, a move, a body, a flow and mainly a source of inspiration for many different innovative musicians and DJ's covering different genres in the process of creating their own distinctive hybrids. It relates from all grooves from techno to downtempo to d'n'b to hip hop. Sub Rosa crew: DJ Wally, Bisk, Tone Rec, Sasha Frere-Jones, and Multiphonic Ensemble attack the Japanese underground: DJ Hati Monji, Jigen, Cappablack, Ruf Neck Piano and Broken Bells. A new kind of virtual battleground...the versus project proposes some friendly clashes between Sub Rosa and labels ready to fight! Next opponents: Kompakt, Fat Cat..."

VA: Sub Rosa Vs Shi-Ra-Nui LP (SR 148LP). $12.50

FREEFORM: Green Park CD (SR 149CD). $13.00

"Freeform is the extremely free and open minded doppelganger from Simon Pyke, the prolific English musician sampled by Howie B. and getting credits for it. Appearing everywhere action is: Skam, Warp, Worm Interface, Language (on Electric Kingdom as Nudge), Law and Auder, Chocolate Industries. Freeform is a 'non-linear' electronician, experimenting and investigating every aspect of what electronic music is and should be. For his new album under the Sub Rosa banner, Freeform is playing with the world of acoustic sources: creating a toy box ready to be opened for fun and pleasure, and forget all about Pandora. You get: action, exoticism, and weird things from outer space. Freeform is guiding whoever listens to this strange and amazingly beautiful album to unknown countries. Green Park is filled with the sound of a gamelan ensemble facing the gateway to King Kong's lair, with the astonishing sound from futuristic samba anthems, and sometimes with childlike neo-expressionist lullabies close to The Residents. An incredible soundtrack for a movie to create while listening — eyes shut — to this album, the source of inspiration for Roger Corman's James Bond feature, including exotic dancers abducted by pink and purple aliens while the hero has psychedelic dreams under a snowstorm in Bali. This time there will be a rumble in the quiet electronic village, and nobody to save This Island Earth, at last. Looking back to Freeform's already thick catalog, one might say that Green Park is once again a musical neologism, a habit that Simon Pike will surely not abandon too soon. If you thought you knew Freeform, have a walk in this Green Park and you can be sure things will change a little bit."

SCANNER/DAVID SHEA: Free Chocolate Love LP (SR 151LP). $12.50

Vinyl version (deleted on CD). "Sit back, relax and plunge into the lush enticing world of Free Chocolate Love. The split album is a tribute from David Shea and Scanner to lounge or cocktail music, the first opus of a new series called Themes. Themes is a high-tech travel invitation to the land of 'cult' music, from Les Baxter to Prince Charles, Jean-Jacques Perrey to Latino soul, soundtracks to whatever. What is the essence of all these strange cult anthems, what is the common factor between kitschy disco and Attilio Mineo's futuristic extravagance? An answer to discover in the next Themes volumes through the work of musicians like Atom Heart, Stock, Hausen & Walkman, and Rip-Off Artist. There's a wide range of influences: lounge, electrofunk, disco, samba, electro-pop, so if there is a general thematic guideline behind Themes, there are no genre restrictions. The main idea is the confrontation of these pearls from the 'past' and the present technology or techniques. In David Shea's universe nothing seems to be impossible. Imagine Spike Jones remixed by John Cage or Lil' Louis working with Stockhausen, the meeting of Tex Avery and Jean-Luc Godard with a musical illustration from Les Baxter. As a human sampler, David Shea tends to redefine the common space-continuum, geographical, sociological and musical frontiers, reaching a point of reconstruction where anachronism is senseless."

VEDIC SOUND: Song Of Light CD (SR 152CD). $13.00

"Vedic aka Prakasa was resident DJ with Talvin Singh and State of Bengal at the Blue Note night Anokha. He has been incorporating the Sacred Arts into his music and has been using elements from the Angelic and Sanskrit traditions, East and West, in spiritual free style, both recording and performing alongside Coldcut, Asian Dub Foundation, Universe, Tribal Posse, Pressure Drop, Earthtribe, Nitin Sawhney and Bill Laswell. His fusion led to his first work on Sub Rosa Rhythmic Intelligence; Vedic's new LP is a timeless piece that reflects the true nature of the universes in word and mantra, with its mix of truth and celestial vibrations that was recorded with this millennium's first Scalar Energy device, which coats particles with electro magnetic waves to form a unique energy signature."

STARS OF THE LID: Avec Laudenum CD (SR 155CD). $13.00

Repress of this album which has been unavailable for a couple years now..."Stars of the Lid from Austin, Texas are Adam Wiltzie and Brian McBride (both guitars). They released in few years some of the purest records from Music For Nitrous Oxide to Per Aspera Ad Astra released on Kranky in 1998. Since Brian is living in Chicago, Adam became the main composer - using sounds Brian send to him to remix and create songs as well. Pure groovy droning ambience, these are tracks that think nothing of spending minutes between chord changes, but they are never (really never) boring; they pull you into such a hyper-alert hypnosis - it is absolutely thrilling and a perfect resolution to the tension set up by previous minutes. With the 'Atomium Suite', Stars of the Lid are in the summit of their art - pure deep inside thrills, more than brilliant guitars, soundscapes: transcendental sounds aiming for a celestial serenity, liquid mass coerced by invisible forces, enormous washes of phosphorescent sound pan through the murk like graceful leviathans."

CALLA: LP (SR 156LP). $12.50

VA: Sub Rosa Vs Kompakt CD (SR 157CD). $13.00

"A New Kind Of Virtual Battleground: The versus series project proposes some friendly clashes between Sub Rosa and labels ready to fight! Next opponent: Fat Cat. This second opus in the series is a virtual journey through a gallery of electronic pieces. Side by side original tracks and remixes offer in their combination a new approach to the Köln-based label Kompakt. Tobias Thomas/Michael Mayer, Jürgen Paape, Dettinger, Freiland, and Michael Mayer have been reshaped by To Rococo Rot, Autrechre, DJ Olive, Freeform, Lelonek, Nail Harvey, Scanner, etc. A wide range of new approaches to Kompakt's electronic hymns, mixing together the pleasure of solid dancefloor orientated songs to abstract electro, indian vibes, dub. Kompakt is the new electro scene from Germany, the missing link in between the spirit of the early Detroit's techno sound and the melodic abstraction from Mouse On Mars and so many more. Minimal, massive, subtle. Kompakt is now considered a not-to-be-missed label, don't ask why, just listen!"

VA: Sub Rosa Vs Kompakt 2LP (SR 157LP). $15.00

Double vinyl version, full color sleeve. One bonus track by Pentax ("Das Album") that is not found on the CD version.

TONE REC: Coucy Pack CD (SR 159CD). $13.00

"Sound boundaries for their third album - still on Sub Rosa - French foursome Tone Rec, whose slow-burning tracks often rely on CD skips, crystalline drones and computer/DAT manipulation, form part of a strange, lo-fi dissonant movement that seems to seep its way out of the walls and across national boundaries in osmotic fashion. They seem to have a mission: to strip down the essence of electronic sound into dry husks and weave those husks into some primordial sonic basket to be later used to carry small cargos of fragmented rock. Deconstructing their own live-recorded breaks and then manipulating them via computer is the nature of the weave taking place. Rock broken CD. 'We haven't got any predetermined structural model, and we never had a theoretical approach to our music,' they explain. 'We like moments when the loops are running in desynchronised ways to create unexpected rhythms. We really enjoy the idea of digital mistake,' they note before explaining that one of their instruments is 'a broken CD of spectacular sound effects' [like Oval, they clearly believe in extending the possibilities of spray-painting, scratching and otherwise ruining the playable sides of perfectly healthy CDs]. Last deconstruction form, despite this unconventional nature, much of the band's music is basically a form of heavily reconstructed techno [in much the same way as Tortoise could be construed as deconstructed rock], hardly inaccessible in its basic format but highly innovative all the same."

MATIK: CD (SR 162CD). $13.00

"After the concrete experimentalism from Bisk, the unique and introspective hip hop from The Multiphonic Ensemble, be sure to taste without any restrictions (no side effects detected) the electronic melodies from Matik: (a.k.a. Masanobu Yanagida). You won't believe this guy is a 'newcomer'. Following the albums from Bisk and The Multiphonic Ensemble, Sub Rosa presents another Japanese sensation: Matik: For his first album Masanobu Yanagida chose to explore the world of electro oriented music with a very personal approach: crushed and distorted beats mixed with an accurate sense of melodies placed in an open field. Far from the usual Japanese hectic archetype, Matik: is the perfect remedy to avoid the claustrophobic aspects of electro. Be ready to face a world full of contradictory sensations, constantly mutating - yet constant in intensity and straight electronic orientation, as opposed to the usual 'human-machines don't think or feel' attitude. As a wishmaster, Matik: will provide the necessary energy when you are down and the quietness you need to face stress. But don't expect him to show you the 'way' to follow. Listen and you will find the answers."

MATIK: LP (SR 162LP). $12.50

TOOP, DAVID: 37th Floor at Sunset CD (SR 163CD). $13.00

"David Toop is a musician, composer, writer and sound curator. He published three books: Rap Attack, Ocean of Sound and Exotica. He has also released five solo albums since 1995: (Screen Ceremonies, Pink Noir, Spirit World, Museum of Fruit and Hot Pants Idol). He worked with musicians such as Brian Eno, John Zorn, Prince Far I, Jon Hassell, Derrek Bailey, Talvin Singh, Evan Parker, Max Eastley, Scanner, Ivor Cutler and Witchman. 'I wanted to create atmospheres suggestive of buildings as living organisms, creatures with nervous systems, without reducing the soundtrack to a catalogue of sound effects. In his novel, High Rise, J.G. Ballard described the subtle relationship of an apartment block's nervous system to the disintegrating ecology of the mini-society of its inhabitants. Apartment blocks look much the same, whether in China or the suburbs of Paris, yet the lives within them are very different. The sounds of lift shafts, ventilation and heating systems, the murmurs of human activity, radio and television, have a universality that becomes specific only in the finest details, a moment in time at the right place, maybe through the walls of the 37th floor at sunset.' — David Toop"

ASHER & GUY HARRIES, MEIRA: Infantry CD (SR 165CD). $13.00

"The album Infantry by composers/performers Meira Asher & Guy Harries dives headlong into the harsh reality of a child in an adult's world. It is an intimate document exploring manipulation, militarist education and war. The mood shifts rapidly from the violent and tragic to the comic and grotesque, reflecting the ambiguous nature of the subject. The sound material draws from a wide scope of sources: Extensive use of text and voice, recorded sounds of children in their natural or unnatural surroundings, acoustic instruments and a variety of the latest electronic techniques in the field of synthesis and sound processing. The album combines different genres; heavy beats, soundscape narratives, noise and theatrical elements merge into one. Both text and sound refer to different places, ranging from the Middle East (where Meira Asher & Guy Harries grew up) and Africa to Europe. Infantry being a painful and intense listening experience as it is, cannot amount to the harshness of the reality it reflects. It will not leave you indifferent."

BENGE: The Very Best Of Bengé CD (SR 167CD). $13.00

"After 7 albums of unique electronica released on his own label and recorded in his studio based in London, Bengé shares his musical visions with Sub Rosa by way of his favorite tracks from his five first releases on an album outrageously called The Very Best Of and packaged in the grand tradition of seminal listening music albums. In an attempt to reconcile the sound of machines dreaming of electric shapes and floating on magnetic clouds with an updated musical expression of warmth, the British sandman invites you to the land of electronic meditation. Regarding his direct and reduced style, Bengé is the missing link between the 70's melodic electronica and the present advanced electro wizards, a truly relevant ambient revivalist."

MULTIPHONIC ENSEMBLE: Cirque CD (SR 168CD). $13.00

"Based in Osaka, Multiphonic Ensemble, a.k.a. Yoshihiro Hanno has been exploring, since 1988, the many faces of music (drum 'n' bass, hip hop, soundtracks, post-free jazz) with an obvious taste for fusion. After the fascinating and acclaimed King of May, here is Cirque. But don't expect a simple illustration of the circus arena from Yoshihiro Hanno. Imagine something closer to a parade of junglists meeting contemporary music composers who are experimenting with hip hop illumination, or jugglers presenting their skills with sounds, voices and noises. Cirque is an eclectic wild performance based on furious diversity, reaching a high level of magic and emotion on the more atmospheric tracks (like the finale for 'Sonata for Impudent Moon'). A bridge between King of May and the soundtrack Yoshihiro did for Hou Hsiao Hsien's Flowers For Shanghai movie. This new opus is a perfect example of what the multiphonic project is based on: a taste for an infinite universe of fusion, and an attempt to tame one's own world of ideas, thoughts, emotions. The Multiphonic Ensemble paints an invigorating yet chillingly surreal picture of Tokyo, providing proper audio accompaniment to the hi-tech, ambiguously subjective realities proposed in sophisticated anime, like a ghost in the machine. Japanese-junglist fusion is natural, since both have a concept of musical space, breath, and phrase construction unlike much in the West. Powerful and innovative, yet urban like Squarepusher, Hanno seeks to de- and re-construct jazz using drum 'n' bass techniques. In addition, like Photek, he does so in a way that remains listenable and stimulating. Nicely placed atmospherics from chimes, tuned percussion, funky bass lines, and electronics make this a real listening pleasure."

PINHAS/MAURICE DANTEC SCHIZOSPHERIC EXPERIENCE, RICHARD: Schizotrope CD (SR 169CD). $13.00

"While Richard Pinhas plays trionics on his distorted and electrified guitar, Maurice Dantec speaks or screams through Macintoshes, reading unpublished Deleuze texts. It's to be filed in the compartment of minimal electronic avant-garde music. Richard Pinhas: this is the 18th album with Heldon or under his own name. Heldon became a real legend (from 1972 to now...), father of an ambient form of electronic music in France. Radical guitarist and pioneer on so many aspects - in the same time, he was during all these years the close collaborator and friend of the French philosopher Gilles Deleuze. Maurice Dantec: now a full time writer, he published hard-boiled/techno-pink novels for the very famous french editor Gallimard ? la sèrie noire. His first novel, La Sirène Rouge, has been issued in 1993, his second in 1995: Les Racines Du Mal, two important books between the cyberpunk of Gibson and the new science-fiction of Ballard, Dick or Spinrad. Unpublished texts and the voices of the greatest french philosopher Deleuze and of Spinrad, one of the most important sci-fi writers can be heard on this album that includes two Frippesque landscapes by Richard Pinhas alone."

MALANGA, GERARD: Up From the Archives CD (SR 170CD). $13.00

"Writer, photographer, filmmaker, performer (with the Velvet Underground) and Andy Warhol's main assistant, superstar & closest friend at the Factory from 1963 to 1970. A complete New York pop archive from the beatnik era. Also known as a seminal photo archivist of pop culture, Gerard Malanga edited for Sub Rosa a selection of his audio documents from the early 60's to the 90's and invited some friends like Iggy Pop, Thurston Moore and DJ Olive to be part of this vivid archive; mixing the past with the present and the future. Next to the exclusive tracks by the above mentioned artists you'll find some more from William S. Burroughs, Charles Henri Ford, Peter Hartman, Andy Warhol, Jack Kerouac, Allen Ginsberg and Gerard himself. The CD comes with a special booklet of photo portraits and poems by the artists."

SILK SAW VS. JARDIN D'USURE: Electric Musical Chairs CD (SR 172CD). $13.00

"Back in 1989 came the first efforts from Jardin D'Usure, a post-dada duo from Brussels which soon became purveyors of Sub Rosa classics. Slowly mutating under massive exposition to radioactive particles into the Silk Saw chaos factory, producing an highly innovative illibient material, full of sub-bass and groovy abstraction. 1999, ten years after their first appearance, they decided to create the best of both worlds, the ultimate confrontation between their schizophrenic projects. Hybridation is now successfully completed. Through the project Jardin D'Usure, the Belgian duo Marc Medea and Gabriel Severin, tried to cut the edges of music, with an obvious taste for abstraction and 'dadaïsme'. They recorded under this name the memorable album Musique du Garrot et de la Ferraille and several pieces for compilations such as Continuum Absorbus 2, a Sub Rosa lexicon. They added a new approach to their universe, and started a new project, more orientated toward massive bass and slow-motion crushing. Silk Saw was born. Their first album Come Freely. Go Safely was acclaimed as a masterpiece in the new-born illibent scene, even without a connection to New York. The Multi-Projects duo (a.k.a. Ultraphonist) dared the ultimate experiment: blending the particles from Jardin D'Usure and Silk Saw, trying to create the perfect hybridation through a process of recreation, some kind of strange and fascinating osmotic process. As always, their fascination for organic sounds is creating a two-sided, (or, one might say, three-sided) musical field, pulsating in unison with your mind, heart, bones, and chest. Infiltrating every cell and organ. As the band said 'the ultimate billow which makes us overturn, it gets you tipsy and is about to revoke.' Let's keep some secret about it. Hybridation is the future for sure."

RALSKE, KURT: *Amor 0 + 01 CD (SR 175CD). $13.00

"First solo album of the creator of Ultra Vivid Scene (4 AD/pop with irony) and CAathars (meta-electronic), now back with a soulful minimalist electronic music. Audio — Kurt Ralske is a Manhattan-based composer, electronic musician, and computer audio-video artist. As a composer, he has scored nine feature films, including Elements Of A Forgotten Merzbau (Kurt Schwitters), the complete original score for Not A Love Song, winner of the Critic's Award Best Feature Film at the Berlin Film Festival 1997. What we propose here is Kurt's current electronic music project, the result of his work in computer programming for digital audio using the language Max/MSP. Experimental ambient textures are liquid and otherworldly, as described by Alternative Press as 'proving than machines do indeed have souls — it just takes special musicians to reveal them'. Video — The recent release of the new computer language Nato. 0+55 caused Kurt's computer music work to drift into the realm of computer video. he explains, 'Nato.0+55 allows me to take programs I've written that generate audio, and slightly modify them to be able to generate video. Data is just data; audio, video, the media type is secondary to what one does with it. working on scoring films, my role was to create music for visuals; now, I am using Nato to do sort of the reverse — creating real-time visuals to match the music, plus, now there are new ways for audio and video data to interact and influence one another...'"

BERTHET, PIERRE: *Two Continuum Pieces CD (SR 176CD). $13.00

"Pierre Berthet lives and works in Liège, Belgium. Musician, composer, inventor, craftsman he is working with Frédéric Le Junter, Pierre Bastien, DJ Low, Rudi Trouvé and Arnold Dreyblatt. He has created here two minimal explorations of his own musical instruments — springs, tank, tubular drums, jerry can, wires sound installations, home-made instruments, found objects — the two continuum process pieces — purely acoustic, full of drones and natural percussions (1. Tubular Drums, Drops And Springs, 2. Cuve, Bidon Et Fils) were composed and recorded during the 90's by Pierre Berthet and Brigida Romano. Recorded at location with a mobile studio and an armada of mikes."

SURVIVAL RESEARCH LABORATORIES: *Survival Research Laboratories CD (SR 177CD). $13.00

"Mark Pauline is a Californian artist, sculptor and robot-machine builder. He creates since late seventies some of the most destructive event ever imagined. He and his crew organize generally, in the desert, battles of intelligent machines until their final auto-destruction. What we propose here is all the destructive mood of these shows. GX Jupiter-Larsen is a musician and a sound designer involved for more than ten years in the American radical noise band The Haters. He composed for Mark Pauline some introduction music to push people who watch in a certain nervousity, in a certain degree of anxiety, before the coming of the self-destructive machines. In some other part, this is a mix-up of machines, screams, motors, bombs, music and noises. Survival Research Laboratories was conceived and founded by Mark Pauline in November 1978. Since its inception, SRL has operated as an organization of creative technicians dedicated to re-directing the techniques, tools, and tenets of industry, science, and the military away from their typical manifestations. Since 1979, SRL has staged over 50 mechanized presentations in the United States, Europe and Japan. Each performance consisting of a unique set of ritualized interactions between robots and other machines. SRL shows provide both a catharsis and a philosophic lesson in man's mortality and his relationship with machines including texts, explanations and unpublished photos."

"This is a wide panorama of Nam June Paik work as musician — 'Homage à John Cage' (1958-1959), 'Étude for Pianoforte' (1959-1960) and 'Simple' (1961) are good example of neodada music and de-structuration in the late 50's, this is basically irreverent audio-collages. 'Prepared Piano for Merce Cunningham' (1977) captures an improvised performance by Paik on a de-tuned piano. While 'Prepared for Merce Cunningham' was later mixed and edited for use by Cunningham, this raw, straight-to-tape version is favored by Paik. 'Duett: Paik/Takis' (1979) this is the only piece already released (by 20 years ago on a limited vinyl edition). Paik improvises on piano and voice, while Takis performs on his metal sculptures. Nam June Paik, was born in Seoul, Korea in 1932. After a move to Japan, where he studied the work of composer Arnold Schönberg, Paik came to Germany in 1956 to continue his studies in the history of music. His interests soon turned away from the university setting, to less traditional forms of music leading him to the Westdeutsche Rundfunk's Studio for Electronic Music, where Karlheinz Stockhausen was working. To date, there have been only a handful of limited edition LP and cassette releases of Paik's music, primarily documenting collaborative performances with colleagues and friends such as Joseph Beuys and Charlotte Moorman. This is the first CD release of Paik's music and the first ever release of the early tape collage pieces that were to inform the video and performance works that he has continued to produce over the last forty years."

VA: *Substancia 2 CD (SR 180CD). $7.50

"For this Substancia 2, the guideline is clear: unreleased and forthcoming tracks as leitmotiv. Here you will find exclusive material from Richard Thomas, Atomtm a.k.a. Atom Heart, Scanner, Freeform, Calla and our Japanese pride Bisk. New artists like Tal (hip hop-like beats and collages), Rip-Off Artist (wicked late 70's electro fusion), Ensemble (melodic skips and scratches) share the track listing with some Sub Rosa names: Tone Rec revisited by To Rococo Rot, Bengé with an extract from his upcoming album Silicon Valleys, Bump and Grind presenting a track from the new album Abstract Theme Variations. And as a reminder of the superb Multiphonic Ensemble's Cirque, we've enclosed the track 'A Tasty Choreographer'. Unreleased material & forthcoming tracks for a low low price."

VA: *Electric Flat Land CD (SR 181CD). $13.00

"Here is a selection of Belgian musicians that have in common a passion for creating electronic music in a truly and purely personal way. This doesn't mean that we are purely in some abstract landscape, the usual language and codes of music can be disobey without becoming an experimental mess. These musicians are building some new forms of communication. It seems like there are artists and musicians today who do not think like before. For many of them, it has to do with — although none of it is calculated — living a more enjoyable life, to be able to move freely, not asking for anything and not caring about what others think, leaving aside the knowledge of the past, expressing more than that through music, by giving birth to knowledge that they carry within them, naturally. That is the knowledge of folly. However, to remember the 'optimists' club' in order to practice and seek out that which does not come through words, confuse ethics and aesthetics with often bare, generous, and precise gestures. Not out of self-arrogance that is lost and that can never be found (the artist and not his parody, is singular, but still linked), not wait for orders that come from somewhere else, from something that does not exist anymore, and therefore meaningless to them. Here is, without a doubt, some of these people, here, close by." Artists include: Object, Géographique, J-Drik, Mash'ta, Köhn, Jardin D'usure, P'chu, Seal Phüric, Ultraphonist, Urawa, Todor Todoroff, Martiens Go Home, Kern, RM, The Joint Between, Frédéric Marbaix.

MACLISE, ANGUS: *The Cloud Doctrine 2CD (SR 182CD). $14.00

"Sub Rosa presents a real sensation: 159 minutes of minimal electronic music, readings, soundtracks from the archives of Velvet Underground founding member Angus MacLise from 1963-1976, featuring Tony Conrad, John Cale, Piero Heliczer, Berverly Grant Conrad And Hetty MacLise. This deluxe double CD set features rare music, performance, soundtracks, spoken words by a seminal poet and musician who was active in the New York avant-garde of the '60s (he was the first drummer of the Velvet Underground). The tracks on this 2x2CD are released for the first time ever. Included is a historical text by Gerard Malanga and many unpublished photographs."

KUPPER, LEO: *Complete Electronic Works 1961-74 CD (SR 184CD). $13.00

"This compact disc highlights Leo Kupper's earliest unique and heretofore unpublished compositions produced during the 1960's when he was ardently seeking out structures distinctly applicable to purely electronic sounds (as opposed to those already-revalent instrumental sounds). Here as elsewhere in the Anthology Of Noise & Electronic Music the publishers feel that the value of this collection lies not solely in its historical and archival importance but also in its presentation of alive artistic creations which offer the listener an inestimable opportunity to rediscover and to re-listen to them. They are like the fruit of a tree of time past which ripens and matures ever more — like wine — into time present. These works demonstrate the first steps undertaken in a field of music whose means of production today is the norm. In 1961, having terminated his musicology studies, Leo Kupper left Liège for Brussels where Henri Pousseur had founded Apelac the first Belgian electronic music studio. By that time, centres for music research such as those in Cologne, Paris and Milan had already produced works of experimental music, where pioneers were forging new and diverse routes in electronic music, 'musique concrète' and electro-vocal music. In electronic music, works such as 'Studien' by Karlheinz Stockhausen presupposed the use of oscillators and electronic filters; 'musique concrète's' point of departure, as in 'Études Aux Chemins De Fer' by Pierre Schaeffer, was the microphone and recordings of all manner and duration of events from the physical and external sound world; electronic-vocal music, such as 'Ommagio A Joyce' by Luciano Berio, stemmed from innovative vocal and phonetic research; and concurrently with these developments, Henri Pousseur, in the Apelac studio, was composing 'Trois Visages De Liège'."

RAWFRÜCHT: *2 CD (SR 186CD). $13.00

"As a trio [guitars plus percussions], Rawfrücht tends to redefine the rules of the secular guitarist's world. Described as a weird avant garde noisy soundscape jazz rock trio... with a groovy approach, one might say that eclecticism is a much better and convenient description for this unique Belgian band. A not-to-be-classified universe now completed with some timid voice appearances, floating over the unusual rock-but-not-postrock field of guitars. After the release of their first untitled album names like Marc Ribot, Sonic Youth, Tortoise, and King Crimson were tossed around frequently. Seemingly aware of these echoes, the trio seems to have achieved a new level of guitaristic blend and 'unclassical' elements. Their new opus 2, is unabashedly presumptuous and presented as a 'conceptual' object, evolving like a landscape observed through a windscreens while driving in an unknown country under permanent misty weather. Music for an introspective journey toward the far limits of one's subconscious, with as a guide the 13 minute long opening track 'Suite 2', and the subtle murmured vocals on 'Forythia Pt. 1 & 2'."

TONE REC: *Demo Pack Demoli CD (SR 188CD). $8.50

"Here's some more of funky Tone Rec. A mini album featuring 4 new tracks and remixes from Christian Fennesz, To Rococo Rot and Tone Rec's new avatar DAT Politics. On this Coucy Pack follower, Tone Rec illustrate their ability to create a radical melodic deconstruction. As they once said: 'we haven't got a predetermined structural model.' That is what it's all about, going a step further into abstract minimalist patterns, establishing deconstruction as a skill. 4 new tracks working at the same time as a complement to their previous material, and a preview for the future. But Demo Pack Demoli is more than that. This mini-album features 4 remixes, visions filtered through a broken mirror of the French quartet's universe of the gentle chaos, re-orchestrations made by Christian Fennesz (Mego crew, some more minimalist), To Rococo Rot (a groovy kind of...), and Tone Rec's side project Dat Politics."

FELDMAN, MORTON: *Last Pieces (Performed By Stephane Ginsburgh) CD (SR 189CD). $13.00

"This new release on Sub Rosa is the third in a series of three concentrating on the avantgarde piano compositions (prev. volumes: Triadic Memories, Piano Pieces For More Than 2 Hands). American composer Morton Feldman, born 1926, is now recognized as one of the most important composers of the 20/21st century. After he met John Cage in the late forties he developed a method of intuitive composing which allowed Feldman to work on the outside of the strict classical system. On this recording pianist Stephane Ginsburgh plays three piano compositions which capture the essence of Morton Feldman's artistry, pure moments of sound and infinity. Or as Ginsburgh quoted: 'Ask the music first and use your concentration.'"

VA: *Floating Foundations Vol. 2 CD (SR 191CD). $13.00

"This second volume marks a continuity and a change — a continuity because, like the first Volume, five musicians wrote a 10 minutes electronic piece exclusively for the project. And a change, because this second attempt is more varied and explores other domains. The approach of Mark Clifford (ex-Seefeel), for example, amends the deal — it's more immediate, less meditative. David Toop presents a brand new piece too, including electronics and guitars (a good choice after his complete CD 37th Floor At Sunset). The other contributors are Robin Rimbaud aka Scanner, who's piece is on his usual high quality level, Hard Sleeper aka the designer Peter Maybury and CM Von Hauswölff. Combined on one CD these five works emanate from the beginning a strong energy which develops step by step into a deep and intelligent drone."

HANNO, YOSHIHIRO: *April Remixes CD (SR 196CD). $13.00

"Yoshihiro Hanno a.k.a. Multiphonic Ensemble begun to perform late 80's, took poetry reading and other role with his Avant-Garde Jazz unit. Its sound had a flavour of Hip Hop elements and method. His 1st album Portrait of a Poet under his real name Yoshihiro Hanno has universalistic beauty and received the many compliments from artist like Ryuichi Sakamoto and Jim O'Rourke. He composed the music for the movie Flowers of Shanghai, directed by Hou Hsiao-Hsien, which was nominated to Cannes Film competition, this was Hanno's first movie soundtrack. 1999, he released a 2nd album for Sub Rosa Cirque as 'Multiphonic Ensemble'. Hanno wrote the theme music for the movie called Platform directed by Chinese director Jia Jia Zhangke who is most respected Chinese director in the new generation. Hanno's album April Music on Canvas#1 & Canvas#2 (remixes) are now available as one release on Sub Rosa, including 'Canvas#1' in its entirety and a selections of the remixes [Oval, Christophe Charles, Hidenobu Ito] appearing on the 'Canvas #2'. These tracks were only available in Japan (on Hanno's label Cirque) so far from 'classical' music to intense deconstruction, a new form of avant-garde."

LASWELL'S MATERIAL, BILL: Oz Fritz: All Around the World CD (SR 197CD). $13.00

Architecturally based location recordings made by engineer Oz Fritz, produced and presented by Bill Laswell. "All Around the World" is an audio document of sacred spaces with their acoustic and consciousness altering properties. It is also the creation of new ambient spaces, new realities, through audio collage, juxtaposition and cut-up techniques. It is a child of John Cage's vision of being able to tune in and hear the music that is going on all around you by placing musical value on common sounds and elements of noise. Music that exists outside the structure of chords, scales and orthodox harmonic patterns. A new way of hearing music may occur for the attentive listener in much the same way that Edgard Varese broadened the way people heard music by introducing sirens and other found objects of noise into symphonic composition. All recordings were done on location in various sites that include ambience from The King's Chamber in the Great Pyramid of Giza, Notre Dame Cathedral, Mount St. Thomas and the Theosophical Society World Headquarters in Madras, India, the Australian Outback, the subways of Paris...Every space has a subtle yet profound effect on the consciousness of anyone who enters into it. Architecture has a profound effect upon mood most noticeably in a building's acoustics. Thus temples, mosques, cathedrals and other sacred buildings were designed to elevate a person's mood and raise their consciousness. 'Wake them up,' to use a Sufi metaphor, and lift them out of their everyday mundane reality (sleep). —Oz Fritz.

SAULE: Saule CD (SR 198CD). $13.00

"This is the first full-length album of Saule aka Xavier Garcia Bardon. It contains three tracks/soundscapes of sentimental, lyrical, yet experimental turntablism: romantic loops, introspective rhythms, feedback and vinyl cracks. It's violence and love! All tracks were made using three record players and a few prepared records. Saule has played with Kim Cascone, Janek Schaefer, Leo Kupper and Tony Conrad in 2002."

POUSSEUR/MAIN/JECK/OVAL: 4 Parabolic Mixes 2CD (SR 199CD). $16.00

"In November 2001, Sub Rosa published Henri Pousseur's 8 Parabolic Studies in a box of 4 CDs — these electronic pieces have been created in 1972 at the WDR studios in Cologne. The idea was to ask other musicians, of different generations, to attempt a new mix on the basis of these eight studies. The first mix (and not re-mix) was a re-interpretation by Henri Pousseur himself — this laid the foundation stone of the edifice. Contrary to the mixes carried out thirty years ago, these were made digitally. The second mix was Robert Hampson's (aka Main) — quite nervous of the master's reaction, who was present during the set. Robert, who holds an exhaustive knowledge of electronic music from its origins and of all its aspects — even of the more obscure ones — gave a personal but faithful interpretation of Pousseur's studies. Another degree of alteration was highlighted by Philip Jeck, who created a massive and powerful set, adding sounds from other sources (which is totally allowed according to Pousseur's original concept). And finally, Oval — according to the process that is quintessential to his work, Markus Popp could only produce a piece far removed from its sources; since it is within sound itself that all sonorous source passes through the Oval process, thus becoming Oval-music — that is, music having its very own properties."

VA: An Anthology Of Noise & Electronic Music Vol. 2 2CD (SR 200CD). $14.00

"Sub Rosa presents the second part of the highly acclaimed and successful series Anthology Of Noise & Electronic Music. This 2nd volume explores the early days of pre-electronic music (Percy Grainger, Johanna M. Beyer) and features some rare or unpublished pieces by main composers of electronic music (Wladimir Ussachevsky, Otto Luening, Tod Dockstader, Morton Subotnick, Hugh Davies, Luc Ferrari) as well as unreleased tracks by musicians who are cornerstones of the 90's electronic scene: (Autechre, Aphex Twin, Scanner, Kim Cascone, Yoshihiro Hanno), as well as tracks from the acid movement (Woody McBride, Choose) and the industrial scene (Laibach, Spk). Without forgetting some free-jazz (Sun Ra) or rare stuff from Captain Beefheart, Daphne Oram, Alan R. Splet (David Lynch's sound designer on Eraserhead, The Elephant Man, Blue Velvet and Dune). Like Volume 1, this second part is an absolute must for anyone interested in the roots and history of electronic music. The 2xCD comes in a deluxe digipak with a 24 paged informative booklet."

DJ SPOOKY: Rhythm Science: Excerpts and Allegories from... CD (SR 201CD). $13.00

...the Sub Rosa Audio Archive. "This time DJ Spooky remixes the complete catalogue of Sub Rosa. The result is a complete re-building of the label in an unique piece of 80 minutes constructed with more than 50 parts. Full of 'Spooky' sounds & grooves. There is the base of this complex architecture —> Yoshio Machida "Afterimage" mixed w/ Sussan Deyhim "The First Reading" / Tibetan Evening Music / Nuuk Posse "Poesi" mixed w/ Antonin Artaud "alienation et magie noire" / DJ Grashoppa "Milky Remix" of Bill Laswell / Directions "Encode" mixed w/ e.e. cummings "Let's From Some Loud Unworld's Most Rightful Wrong" / DJ Wally "Zeta Reticulli" mixed w/ Gertrude Stein "If I told him, a completed portrait of Picasso" / Charles Hayward "Accidents and Emergencies (instrumental)" / Bill Laswell "Oscillations (Vedic's live pop remix)" / Vedic "Kali Rising" mixed w/ Tristan Tzara "pour compte (phases, 1949)" / Oval "April Remix" mixed w/ James Joyce "anna livia plurabelle (finnegans wake)" (needs to be louder...) / Oval vs Yoshiro Hanno "April Remix" & Oval vs Main "SDII Audio Template" / David Shea "Satiricon" mixed w/ Marcel Duchamp "some texts from a l'infinifit" / Scola Hungarica "Sanctus" / Jean Luc Fafchamps "Chrysanthemum haradjanii" mixed w/ Meira Asher & Guy Harries "Girl" / Darba Del Hameni "Jilala de Tangier" / Jean Luc Fafchamps "Ground" / Seefeel "Is It Now?" / DJ Wally "Bitchley's Kow Korn" mixed w/ "In Principio - extract from Easter Nocturnal Liturgy" / Scanner "Fuse" / William S. VA: Japanese Avant-Garde CD (SR 202CD). $13.00

Features: Merbow, Otomo Yoshihide, Viewmasters, Joji Asano, Aki Onda, Yoshio Machida, Bisk, Sachiko M, Multiphonic Ensemble, Haco, Ground Zero, So Takahashi. About half the tracks appear to be exclusive to this compilation. "As an introduction to Japanese Avant-Garde here are some extracts from David Toop's liner notes: 'Most music in Japan has little to recommend it; it is a sonic equivalent of those brutal concrete towers or the transitory chaos of multi-storey teen-fashion emporia in Aoyama. But a sonic underground thrives, creatively if not financially, and perhaps it should be compared with the shabby Golden-gai drinking dens of Shinjuku, faint reminders of a lost time when desire and transgression shared endless cups of sake with political and artistic radicalism. How is it possible to live within and react against an extremely regulated society, politically moribund, engulfed by consumerism, technological innovation, mediated images, a confusion of influences and traditions? Agitation and stillness may seem to be opposing strategies, yet they converge at a certain point. Surging deep beneath the noir turbulence of Merzbow and So Takahashi, the car crash ruins of Otomo Yoshihide and Ground Zero, the curated urban fragments of Viewmaster, the technocratic complexity of Bisk and Yoshihiro Hanno's Multiphonic Ensemble, the piercing intensity of Sachiko M, the childlike placidity of Aki Onda, Yoshio Machida and Haco, is a conflicting sense of clarity attained through struggle. Out of turmoil, a stained purity is revealed. Listening to this alchemical transmutation, I think of Fujieda Baian, the central character of Shotaro Ikenami's historical novels. Professional assassin and acupuncturist, Baian kills to live, lives to heal. At the beginning of Yasunari Kawabata's novel, 'The Sound of the Mountain', Ogata Shingo hears an elusive sound, the faint rumble of the mountain at the rear of his house. 'It was as if a demon had passed, making the mountain sound out.' Shingo shakes his head, thinking the disturbance might be a ringing in his ears. Feeling fear, perhaps he hears the collapsing certainties of the future, our present, where everything is in flux.'"

CASCON & SCANNER, KIM: The Crystalline Address CD (SR 203CD). $13.00

"This record, build in two parts, combines the work of Kim Cascone and Robin Rimbaud aka Scanner. This is not any randomatic improvisation, it is more the result of a an intention, the envy to create a circular collaboration based on exchanges — Scanner > Cascone > Scanner > Cascone > Scanner progressing in order to achieve the perfect structure. The result is in the vein of the best Oval and Fennesz pieces."

TOOP, DAVID: Black Chamber CD (SR 205CD). $13.00

"The Black Chamber (Kurodo) is a room where the emperor from Komatsu after his accession to the throne always cooked for himself, still remembering how in the past, when he was a private person, he had dabbled in cookery. They say it is called the Black Chamber because it has become sooty from kindling smoke.' Essays In Idleness: The Tsurezuregusa of Kenko (c. 1330-1332). Recorded, played and produced by David Toop at the mythic The Bathosphere in autumn 2002, this record is an important landmark in his work because it's an accomplishment and a synthesis of many preoccupations from his whole artistic live. Presents in these sessions: Tom Recchion, Terry Day (Alteration), Paul Burwell, Watanabe, Lol Coxhill...many of these musicians were the main protagonists of the London improvisation scene in the seventies. It included too some surprising field recordings in China and in his own garden in London. The tonality, the general key, is very diverse with something Japanese in the air, an important part of 'real instruments' on a complex electronic organization Soft Cavities, Raw Mouth Shape, The Slapping Gun and Plume (inspired by the Belgian Henri Michaux) are successful mix up of electronic devices and Coxhill's sax improvisations. 'Waxed Skin' and 'Poison Incense' are very delicate micro-sound exercises (including time to time some acoustic instruments). 'Apartment Thunder' and 'Ill-Faced Dolls' are a short erotic Japanese movies. 'Silver Birds' and 'Life In the Folds' are field recordings in China and to be true it's hard to admit that 'Gored Fig Sacs' was recorded in his own garden (but it was). The very soft 'Blind Eel Priestess' involved electronics and beautiful electric guitars. At least, 'Black Chamber' is an amazing lychnian piece with his compelling part of guitar arpeggio. a splendor. Black Chamber is his maturity masterpiece."

CHARLES, CHRISTOPHE: Undirected 1992-2002 CD (SR 206CD). $13.00

1: 'Next Point - Tribute to Henning Christiansen', is a performance given at the MANCA festival in 1992, it is an extension of 'Media Opera' organized by Yamaguchi Katsuhiro in October 1992 on Awaji Island to celebrate the foundation of his 'Village of the Arts'. One can hear the rain falling in the south from Majorca, the voices of salesmen of coffee and boiled eggs of the station of Howrah, beside Calcutta, the chants of the monks of Todaiji in Nara, and the calls of the merchants of ice cream of Hangzhou (recorded by Martina Diestel). Other sounds were sampled among the works of Henning Christiansen: sporadic chords of the piano of the cave of Pentheselea, the very particular sound of the long pipe which Christiansen hits more or less regularly on one end, 'in order to give a certain feeling of time', or the bells and the tuba of the 'garden of the yellow mountain' where low frequencies make almost inevitably vibrate the ceilings of the rooms where it is played.

2: 'Deposition' contains ten episodes of various lengths which are connected according to a dynamics of tension and relaxation. There is no particular narrative dimension, but 'scenes', featuring soundscapes from various cities and countrysides, as well as musical (instruments) sounds: voice, flutes, or percussions, which reflect an interest for the fundamental actions of breathing, or hitting objects with the body — rather than praising the mastery of a particular technique. The sounds generally come from an action which does not have any musical claim, for example, the Senegalese women who crush the millet. The voices are those of the salesmen from the Fischmarkt of Hamburg, the children of Calcutta, Italian dogs howling in the night, or insects of Japanese mountains. Other sounds come from a collaboration with Ryoji Ikeda, from 'In Memoriam Gilles Deleuze' and from the music of the two permanent sound installations of Osaka and Tokyo-Narita international A i r p o r t .

FERRARI, LUC: Les Anecdotes CD (SR 207CD). $13.00

"Even if his art is historically linked to the musique concrète school, Luc Ferrari (born in Paris in 1929) is above all a man with a freedom of spirit rarely equalled in the history of music, who has repeatedly left what he excelled at for new territory still unexplored; thus he is par excellence the composer of new fields of investigation. Ferrari joined the Groupe de Musique Concrète in 1958 and remained a member until 1966; he collaborated with Pierre Schaeffer in setting up the Groupe de Recherches Musicales (1958). By 1963-4 he had begun Hétérozygote, an extended tape piece in which ambient sounds unfold in narrative form, suggesting a dazzling variety of incidents, all unexplained. He was Professor of Composition at Cologne's Rheinische Musikschule from 1964 to 65. In 1965 and 1966 he produced Les Grandes Répétitions, a series of television documentaries with Gérard Patris on the subject of contemporary music, specifically Olivier Messiaen, Edgard Varèse, Karlheinz Stockhausen, Hermann Scherchen and Cecil Taylor. Luc Ferrari's diverse work and aesthetics continue to have a singular impact on the young generations of electronic musicians and artists. The corpus of his work is immense and includes hundreds of compositions of all kinds. Les Anecdotes — his last composition — is a vast sound-film of more than an hour who explores in 15 steps the intensity of re-composed sounds from his continual travel around the world — with electronic additional structures."

DEUPREE & KENNETH KIRSCHNER, TAYLOR: Post Piano CD (SR 208CD). $13.00

"Post Piano is a CD of experimental electronic music derived entirely from the sound of one key being struck on a piano. Using only a single, low-resolution piano sample, Kenneth Kirschner first composed a series of spare, improvised piano sketches. These pieces were then passed on to Taylor Deupree, who used them as raw material for digital manipulation and as building blocks for the construction of new, collaborative compositions. Each of Deupree's pieces, which Kirschner later collaborated in editing, was created entirely from sounds derived from one of the piano sketches. The final recordings transform the elements extracted from the piano sketches into experimental new works which accentuate the artifacts of the digital manipulation process while at the same time evoking the timbre and harmonies of the source material. Because each of these recordings was derived from one of the piano sketches, and each of the sketches began with a single piano sample, every sound on the CD can ultimately be traced back to the sound of one key being struck on a piano. Conceived as an 'open source' project, Post Piano is being released on a split data/audio CD containing not only the final Deupree/Kirschner recordings, but also the components used to create them, including mp3 files of Kirschner's piano sketches and a copy of the original piano sample with which the project began. By accessing the CD in a computer, listeners can trace the development of the project from the single starting note, through the piano sketches, and on to the final recordings. Further, the composers encourage other musicians to utilize these source materials in their own work, freely sampling, modifying or appropriating the sounds and ideas presented on Post Piano."

AKIYAMA, MITCHELL: If Night Is A Weed And Day Grows Less CD (SR 209CD). $13.00

"Recorded in Montréal, Canada, If Night Is A Weed And Day Grows Less, the 4th solo CD by Mitchell Akiyama, marks a more concerted return to Akiyama's classical roots. All eight pieces grew out of four piano compositions that were torn apart and reassembled — fragments of one piece contaminating another — reordered melodies, hidden references, obscured refrains. It is weeds fighting the hegemony of the lawn, it is the possibility of anarchy resulting in fleeting orders of beauty, it is the progeny of Steve Reich, Michel Foucault and Marcel Duchamp. The clear melodic beauty of Christian Fennesz but with a piano..."

HARD SLEEPER: "Rain"/A Leaf Spiral CD (SR 211CD). $13.00

"Following on from his contribution to Floating Foundation vol. 2 (SR191), "Rain"/A Leaf Spiral is the first album-length release for Sub Rosa from Dublin based artist Hard Sleeper (Peter Maybury). Maybury would qualify his music as 'the detritus of pop,' tentative shapes and melodies are pieced together through fragments of dislocated sounds. Drums, piano, analog synthesizers and guitars allowing music and images to travel a parallel journey through dreamy landscapes drifting in and out of focus — as if memories or thoughts that come to you while travelling, passing from waking to sleeping and other states of semi-consciousness. Hard Sleeper has released material on Emigré Music, Tu m', Static Caravan and Fallt."

HANNO, YOSHIHIRO: ES: CD (SR 212CD). $13.00

"Yoshihiro Hanno explores for years now a wide range of musics: soundtracks, contemporary music, free jazz, drum 'n' bass, fragmented electronica, hip hop... with a definite taste for fusion and deconstruction in order to create a new form of avant-garde."

MERZBOW & KIM CASCONI: Rondo/7Phases/Blowback CD (SR 213CD). $13.00

"In the 80's, Masami Akita, Asmus Tietchen and Kim Cascone collaborated on a CD called Gray which was eventually released on Silent Records in the early 90's. Having gone their separate ways, Masami and Kim reestablished contact in the late 90's. After email address were exchanged, Kim received a copy of the Amlux CD from Masami, and later heard about a remix project on Important Records paying tribute to the Japanese industrial/noise-maker. Cascone started his own remix based on extracts from Amlux CD. The new track was based on new editing techniques Cascone developed which were experiments in time compression by combining tape editing techniques commonly used in Musique Concrète with simple algorithms developed in Max/MSP. The track 'Blowback' — the prototype track using this editing style — was completely constructed by hand using a software sound editor. '7Phase' puts these editing techniques under algorithmic control in Max/MSP. By using each others published work as raw material for their collaboration. They then sent each other tracks via CDR to be used as either new source material or finished work. After choosing the best of the collection of tracks they had developed, Kim and Masami titled the pieces, sequenced the tracks and then designed a cover graphic for it using Jitter (graphic library for Max/MSP)."

LASWELL, BILL: AFTERMATHematics CD (SR 216CD). $13.00

"(Instrumental); featuring Grandmaster Dxt, Skiz (Aka Spectre), Sly Dunbar. This new opus from Bill Laswell for Sub Rosa is exploring the veins of hip-hop and dub in some peculiar manner. Going urban with some old-school hip-hop ingredients, then dubbing and scratching, Laswell is paying tribute to the past of those musical styles and adapting the vibes to the present and future. Bass and kicks, straight and efficient, are the skeleton; turntablism, floating keyboards chords, abstract sounds are giving flesh'n'blood to this organic machine. Aftermathematics is at the same times urban and tribal, like being in an hidden cavern in the heart of N-Y, doing some shamanic rituals in a crowded big avenue in order to transform it in a gigantic dancefloor. 10 tracks to fly high, or get the echo, the resonance of a big city's pulse, and yet facing some ghosts from the past, like travelling in a time machine. Anything is possible going back to the prehistoric age or seeing the future. Enter the ritual."

VON HAUSSWOLFF, C.M.: Three Overpopulated Cities Built By Short sighted Planners... CD (SR 217CD). $13.00

"An Unbalanced And Quite Dangerous Airport And An Abandoned Church. "This second complete CD followed his Rays of Beauty and will build a subtle trilogy work for Sub Rosa. By visiting Lagos in 1983, Tokyo in 1999, 2000 and 2001, Bangkok several times between 1986 and 2002 and Mexico City in 2002 and 2003, CM von Hausswolff came, as thousands of other people, to the conclusion that something is running amok. An uncontrollable avalanche consisting of the construction of houses, streets and in-between spaces develops in large cities as independent do-it-yourself-organisms. They're places we like because of their 'anything can happen'-status. They're places we hate, because they remind us of what lousy creatures we actually are. How long will they last? Maybe as long as the feedback sustains? A conclusive statement rolled over the above-mentioned composer when he stumbled over an abandoned church in Chicago. This sad place, once illuminated by Martin Luther King, is now in the hands of soaptalkshowcommander Oprah Winfrey's chef Art Smith ... Maybe it's a sign of something good. At least we know the quality of his desserts ... This new release, following his A Lecture On Disturbances In Architecture (Firework Edition Records, Stockholm, 2002), deals with these matters in a formal way. The rest is up to you ...."

VA: The Hidden City: Sound Portraits from Göteborg CD (SR 219CD). $13.00

Featuring: Christopher Brus, Alva Noto, Mapstation, Johannes Helden, Lars Carlsson, Sherif, Peter Hansen, Christina Kubisch, Daniel Skoglund/ 8tunnel2, Dan Fröberg, Paul Bauthén, Anders Ilar, Leif Elggren, Henrik Rylander, Anna Eriksson. Features all exclusive tracks, commissioned for this release. This is a soundtrack to the book The Hidden City. People and Places in Gothenburg — an exploration of the open and hidden perspectives of this north European harbour town by writer Magnus Haglund and photographer Stefan Schneider (published separately by Glanta Produktion). "Why is Gothenburg an interesting place? This is a city with a specific cosmopolitical history, where for example the East Indian Company, started in 1731, had its base and through its trading a lot of the wealth and property of the country had its upswing in the 18th and 19th centuries. The culture of trading meant an atmosphere of independence and a sense of both belonging and not belonging to the Swedish state. This is to be reflected in the Gothenburg version of the liberal tradition, something which is investigated and makes up one part of the book: what does this social liberalism mean today, when it is confronted with the multicultural situation and political tensions like the riots during the EU-summit-meeting in June 2001... To transform, to question, to dream in new patterns: this is one of the themes of the book. Through conversations with writers and politicians, DJs and historians, and through situationist-inspired walkings-dérives through the city, the complexity of the town — which had quite a solid identity but now is interestingly insecure — is outlined and elicited. From the old city to the young one, through industrial areas and electronic soundscapes, the miscellaneous character comes through, the productive oppositions. The city disturbs us. The CD The Hidden City consists of some 15 sound portraits from the city, by artists that are featured in the book or have an interesting relationship with certain places or addresses in Gothenburg. The record is a collage of the city, just like the book."

VA: Sub Rosa vs. Kompakt 12" (SR 442EP). $7.50

"As an introduction to the upcoming full length release Sub Rosa versus Kompakt, here is a 12" with a few teasing elements: Lelonek giving an Indian jungle-like flavor to Thomas/Mayer's low techno, and Bump n' Grind crushing the subtle and melodic sound of OM1 (both only available on this EP). Also features the original Kompakt tracks. When electro meets electro, nothing is really the same."

SUB STATIC (GERMANY):

GOMEZ, RAFAEL: Resurrect 12" (SUS 03). $8.00

"Until now Rafael Gomez has released two records, both on Treibstoff Recordings from Cologne. The present record, 'Resurrect', shows the straightest side of Rafael Gomez, but without carrying any hardness too far. With competent minimalism he easily drives through dubby soundscapes, monotone percussive lines and soft strings. Just the kind of sound you cannot resist in times of downbreaking walls between techno and house."

M.I.A.: Schwarzweib 2x12" (SUS 036). $20.00

"More than well-known as a specialist for soulful melodic euphoria through her various releases on Sub Static, Traum and Trapez, she also opened mouths and doors with her sensitively rocking remixes for The Modernist, Contriva, Jake Fairley and many more. But now she presents her inward skunk with all its darkness, scooping so much precisely kicking monster beats into juicy rumbling tracks and making even that little raver in the ear happily Hum the acid basslines. The vocals come from the heart, sure, but the beats come from an area that has usually been reserved to the testosterone-owners so far."

M.I.A.: Gleis Zwei 12" (SUS 07). $8.00

"Now that her debut 12" 'SchluBlicht' (sus_04) has already enchanted this world's minimalists, Sub Static chief Michaela Grobely is back with this appropriate follow-up called 'Gleis Zwei'. Keenly calm, but always daring to take a risk M.I.A. hereby intensifies her interpretation of minimal house. However, the title track (A1) proves that her versatility also includes some of the heavier tones. 4 tracks that dig their well-deserved space in this genre, between the polished everyday sound of now."

BREITBARTH, RENÉ: Aquaplaning 12" (SUS 09). $9.00

"With his five releases on Cologne's tradition label Treibstoff, René Breitbarth managed to surprise his faithful fan municipality again and again, and has distinguished himself during the last three years as a versatile man of many talents and possessed experimentation friend. Now with Aquaplaning Sub Static presents a fresh 2-tracker which proves that René Breitbarth finds foothold also on the dancefloor. The title track (A1) lets us sense the last sunbeams one more time, before gradually more and more unexpected sounds and sequences start drizzling on the listener like a warm summer rain. On the contrary 'Früh aufsteh'n' (B1) appears like a teaching hour how one beats an ultradry, funky minimal-house slammer on the DAT with just the simplest and coolest means. With "Aquaplaning" René Breitbarth drives wide, minimalistic curves, which he works out with a lot of love to the detail, however without going into a skid on half distance."

LANGLOIS, MICHAEL: Start + remixes 12" (SUS 10). $9.00

With remixes by Dub Taylor and M.I.A.

LANGLOIS, MICHAEL: Pure 12" (SUS 11). $9.00

"Michael admits to be massively influenced by the early Basic Channel stuff, like many others seem to be, too. However, his productions do not tend to be mere rip-offs, they rather reveal his individual and consequent way to an own style of minimalism, which he also likes to show in his deep live sets. 'Snap' (A1) combines a dirty-noisy soundscape with specifically put percussive fragments, which get to hip-shaking funkiness ever more, despite their persistent monotony. A track that needs just a few elements to catch you at its full length."

DB: Donaupark 12" (SUS 15). $9.00

"The first release of the Daniel Bemberger from Vienna, usually he spends the dear long day on fragmenting samples from the most uncommon origins, in order to finally rearrange them to a housy groove afterwards. Despite all this joy of experimentation, Daniel Bemberger manages to include a big portion of musicality to his tracks. Scratchy sounds and synthetic clicks are joined by noisy jazz fragments, easy chords, and in the track 'Boulevard' even some kind of 2-bitsaxophone!"

M.I.A.: Little Voices 12" (SUS 16). $9.00

"Minimal house is very often in the dilemma that it is either functional, or uncommon. After her releases on Sub Static and Traum, M.I.A. is wellknown for the fact that she manages to combine both of this in her tracks. With female intuition she builds small micro cosmoses, which unfold their own special energy without taking up any clichés. The A-side ('Little Voices') is a traditional Cologne minimal tune to the spring start, whose monotony reminds of a lazy sunday afternoon by the countryside — the open air season has opened! Differently, 'Digital Rock' (B1) solidly rocks with dry percussions and a warm bass line, and with 'Citylove' (B2) M.I.A. finally reveals her darker touch."

BROCKSIEPER, FALKO: Out Of Ehrenfeld 12" (SUS 17). $9.00

"Just about a year ago Falko Brocksieper released his debut 12" 'Laguna Seca' (sus 02), which left lasting impression by its unencumbered combination of functional minimal sound and subtle-warm atmosphere. On side A Falko provides a driving techno track, which convinces by its reduced & elementary character, and with slight allusions to electro and analogue techno it will surely bring a breeze of fresh air to any dance floor. In contrary, side B could maybe be called 125bpm-ambient. The bass drum almost gets over-radiated by atmospheric string- & pad-formations, which are broken up again and again by percussive fragments and rhythmic shifts, keeping the tension upright over the whole length."

BREITBARTH, RENÉ: Coruscant 12" (SUS 19). $9.00

"René Breitbarth belongs to Cologne's pioneers of House, wellknown through numerous releases on Treibstoff, and also his last year's 12" 'Aquaplaning' on Sub Static, which became popular by its fresh combination of atmospheric pads and knocking beats. Now René returns just in time for the hot summer days with a new 4-track EP, which makes it really difficult to decide, which one of these pieces might spread the most sunny euphoria. Putting decent, straight-forward drive next to dreamy, chilly moods makes 'Coruscant' a definite must-buy for DJ's and anybody else celebrating the open air season. René Breitbarth is the man who knows about working the traditions of house music into a current & functional shape like nobody else. All four tracks on this e.p. are convincing with an irresistible house groove, competent percussion work and incredibly brilliant, fat production — probably the roundest output so far by this ever surprising Cologne artist."

COORDINATES: Magnetics 12" (SUS 20). $9.00

"The man behind Coordinates is Canada's Matt Thibideau, known by his records on Cynosure and Blue Rec. (as Altitude), and the project Repair which he produces along with his twin brother Mark Thibideau. Matt's minimalistic designs are always speaking their very own language, showing an effort for innovation and a lot of skills for thick club sound. Being a convinced advocate for the classic ways of production, he'd never get the idea to touch a laptop — probably that's why it's no accident that Matt is working at a 2nd hand gear shop in Toronto! With his new project Coordinates Matt Thibideau provides a splendid cross-over between earthy sound and dark atmosphere which is, especially on the a-side, combined with a good portion of technoid hardness. 'Magnetics' (A1) actually rattles its way like a full flavour techno mover, but still it keeps this subtle and moody overall style. 'Submarines' (B1) is a true credit to its name, as it kind of bubbles along in a strange & crazy way. However this does not mean that it's lacking a fat bass drum, so every dj who is looking for something weird which is still functional will be thankful! Finally 'In Cycles' (B2) rather hits groovy & relaxed tones, but even here the attention is directed to the bass range and this special kind of darkness, which is like the thread running through the whole record."

UNAI: Loving That Lost Feeling 12" (SUS 21). $9.00

"After taking a little break, the swede Erik Möller aka Unai is finally back on Sub Static, where he already released the sold-out 'Sessions Around Midnight E.P.' about a year ago. Although Unai was unfortunately put into that fatal dub-house drawer far too often, he remained true to his musical expression, which has always been an own special style anyhow. Because of that, the title of this current record 'Loving That Lost Feeling' almost gets a slight politic touch. The housy title track grooves along in quite a classic and continuous way, using just a few elements. However, the detailed brilliance in sound of chords, bass and drums is so highly perfected, that no further sonic fireworks are necessary to unfold the emotional depth and melancholy of the song. A piece of art! The B-Side presents itself more playful and experimental. 'Soulbandit' (B1) is a scratchy minimal track combining hard experimental sounds and melodic, dreamy pads, in a way that lets you imagine Unai as an old Autechre-fan."

VA: On And On CD (SUS 22 CD). $15.00

"The music on Sub Static is between Minimal Techno and Abstract House with an intelligent dancefloor approach and very charming! On And On is the first Sub Static label compilation and features Electronica tracks by Unai, dB and Dazed, kicking TechHouse by Michael Langlois, Mark Thibideau and Falko Brocksieper, melodic House by M.I.A. and Rene Breitbarth and an example of dark Techno by the Coordinates. The duo Repair features female vocalist Dawn Lewis on a very atmospheric track and Lump from Finnland presents a warm and grooving CD-bonus track. All tracks are 100% new and exclusive on this compilation. For everyone into Kompakt, Traum and Shitkatapult this label is a definite must."

VA: On And On 2LP (SUS 22 LP). $16.00

Double vinyl version; 10 of the 11 tracks found on the CD, full color jacket.

BROCKSIEPER, FALKO: Drive True E.P. 12" (SUS 23). $9.00

"Known through numerous releases on Sub Static, Treibstoff, Dumb Unit, and lately on the swiss imprint Tongut, Falko Brocksieper presents his new 'Drive True E.P.', which proofs his stylistic reliability for the ever popular field between techno and house. The three current tracks impress by their explicit floor- & DJ-compatibility, without dropping into that boring tool character. The A-side 'Sexy' is juggling with versatile, subtle insinuations in all stylistic directions, and interweaves its moody house groove with a touch of disco, funk and acid. The title track 'Drive True' (B1) runs with a good portion of true drive, combined with a sticky bassline and shimmering high frequencies. A track that keeps its own flavour in spite of its specifically classic elements. With 'The Bubblefields' (B2) it finally gets more technoid, especially the bass section speaks in very plain terms. The piece comes up more and more with a slightly psychedelic touch and plays with explicit old school influences. In this case Falko doesn't even recoil from handclap patterns. The 'Drive True E.P.' is a definite must-buy for all DJ's who want functionality and individual sound at once."

DECOSTA, DEAN: Opaque 12" (SUS 24). $9.00

"After releases on Mosaic, Lo-Fi Stereo and Stir15; and several remixes and contributions for Background, Swayzak, Plug Research and Immigrant, California's Dean Decosta finally shows up with a fresh solo 12" on Sub Static. The two tracks 'Opaque' and 'Transition' are impressively representing what Dean stands for amongst this world's Minimal-heads. Along the basic melodic theme he bends wide bows of catchy dance grooves and brilliant, detailed textures, supported by a monstrous sub bass that provides this organic warmth and depth to the tracks. On this 12" Dean Decosta knows how to hit the right mixture of loungey mood and bass-marked club sound, making this record an universal and dutiful repertoire for all kinds Minimal-DJ's."

THIBIDEAU, MARK: Last Night 12" (SUS 25). $9.00

"Canadian producer Mark Thibideau, known through his last year's EP B-Films, and also as one half of Repair, brings us his new record Last Night, which must be seen as the perfect barometer of mood for the hard, long winter season. Four tracks narrating of cold, darkness and hope - mysteriously covered in the timeless, vivid sound design of Mark Thibideau. The tracks 'Last Night', 'Install' and 'Silent Waiting' simply have this rumbling deepness that is currently being searched in vain, and 'Distance Between' adds a truly heartrending ambient ballad on top of this, which is once again featuring singer Dawn Lewis."

M.I.A.: Irgendwas Ist Immer 12" (SUS 26). $9.00

"The last highly esteemed Traum and Sub Static releases of Cologne's M.I.A. are again lying over half a year back now — that's ages if you like music that has more to tell you than you'd first expect; that always has new secrets to reveal. It's the many details, which M.I.A. however doesn't get lost in, rather she manages to create an own sort of microcosm with every single track. But more than ever she is also paying tribute to the needs of the dance-floor, and thus the Sub Static chief delivers what we all basically want, doesn't she? Artistic techno with a remarkably own flavour, which however doesn't shirk from the needed punch which you can rely on if things come to the worst."

CANSON: Mittag 12" (SUS 27). $9.00

"After some much-loved Canson releases on the Swiss labels Handheld and Statmusik (also under the name Anatol) the man from Zurich dares the jump over the alps to land in Cologne at the Sub Static hideout. The result is a great-feat of the groove in four chapters, as Minimal Techno is rarely heard in such an uncompromisingly hip-bouncing way. The pleasure mostly starts more harmless than it ends — at some time, the subliminal bass is always catching you, just bridled by cutting, razor-sharp hihats. The reached goal is clarity-despite-density, and even melodies can be understood in a percussive way. There won't ever be more funky functionalism in one place again."

ANEURYSM, BRIAN: Amplified 2LP (SUS 28 LP). $16.00

"During the last year Bernhard Pucher aka Brian Aneurysm first appeared rather unobtrusively — with contributions to compilations on Poker Flat and Ware. Up to now some solo releases could only be found on his own, still quite young label Iron Box Music. Now Sub Static delivers a 2x12" which proves, that the Texan still has some unexpected trumps in his sleeves. Suddenly Brian Aneurysm turns out to be a rude Techno cowboy who is, with an impressive matter of course, easily uniting everything which is obviously loved within the current 4/4 styles. Along creaking Techno, scary house and odd vocal phrases he finds the decisive essences and subdues them to his own dramaturgic language. Finally, by spawning ever new mutations of his (mostly) own voice, Bernhard also succeeds in branding these 7 tracks on Amplified with an unmistakable personal style."

VA: Odd Pieces #01 12" (SUS 29). $9.00

"Odd Pieces #01 is the prelude to a new series of 12"s, which will from now on enrich the Sub Static catalogue at regular intervals. The goal is to compile single, also unusual tracks by known or new Sub Static acts to a 12" which is unique and ingenious in content. To the current issue one, Coordinates (aka Matt Thibideau) and Pan/Tone are contributing two Canadian-winter-story-like tracks, whose almost wasteful use of odd sounds are once again providing deep atmospheric moments. Taking part as well are our street-Mozart Dazed, and Cologne's house king René Breitbarth — this time surprising with a hybrid-techno-rock-er, being almost impossible to classify. So the motto is: 'More A-sides for the money — and when you find the hymn you may keep it.'"

BROCKSIEPER, FALKO: Hoax Deluxe CD (SUS 30 CD). $15.00

"A good two years after the first 12" release 'Laguna Seca', Cologne's Sub Static chief Falko Brocksieper is now presenting his album debut. The music of Falko Brocksieper always shows the effort for filling the frequently gaping gap between non-functional minimalism and awfully overdone retro clash. Hoax Deluxe hits this nail squarely on the head, and presents itself as a club oriented non-concept-album for spinning and having a good time. The influences for this descend from Falko's 10-years perceptual journey from Trance, Acid, via Detroit- and midwest-sound, Minimalism from Cologne and elsewhere, and finally to the contemporary Techno of now — whatever this might be."

BROCKSIEPER, FALKO: Hoax Deluxe 2x12" (SUS 30 LP). $16.00

Double LP version. "The music of Falko Brocksieper always shows the effort for filling the frequently gaping gap between non-functional minimalism and awfully overdone retro clash. Hoax Deluxe hits this nail squarely on the head, and presents itself as a club oriented non-concept-album for spinning and having a good time. The influences for this descend from Falko's 10-years perceptual journey from Trance, Acid, via Detroit- and midwest-sound, Minimalism from Cologne and elsewhere."

TAHO: Digital Matter 12" (SUS 31). $9.00

"In 1993, at the age of 17, Taho already played his first live acts at various raves around Paris. Immediately he attracted the attention of Laurent Garnier, and soon this led to two 12" releases on his label F-Communication — Vertige EP and Elle EP. After that, Taho disappeared for quite a while. Along with some artist friends he founded the audiovisual label Lumina, which is mainly present on the www. Now Sub Static brings him back to vinyl with this 12" Digital Matter, which actually lies astonishingly close to his early releases, regarding style and attitude. Right after the first seconds it's clear that Taho lost his heart in Detroit, thus the tracks are just sparkling of melodic escapades and the right portion of lovely kitsch. However, the track 'Matter'; turns out to be quite a sturdy floor-smasher with an incomparable atmosphere — captain future goes disco! The B-side, 'Butterfly', is rather a springtime ode, with blissful peaks of melody and continuously condensing harmonies. But finally Taho's own description of his pieces should be worth a quote: 'the song 'Matter' tells the story of matter creation in the universe, somewhere lost in deep space. And 'Butterfly' is a story in a luminous world where spring is eternal.'"

COORDINATES: Tuning Fields 12" (SUS 32). $9.00

"After his last year's EP Magnetics, and a contribution to Odd Pieces #1, Matt Thibideau aka Coordinates is now back with two of his neat, heavy Tech House tracks. Tuning Fields gives three cheers for the ever essential spirit of an 'at-least-10-minutes-techno-epos', creating a remarkably dense and working combination of industrial- and dub-influences, of minimal bleeps and big reverbs, before the track finally turns to an almost poppy teamwork of driving bassline and Pet-Shop-Boys-strings. The B-side 'Autobus' is a just as kicking, however more easy swinging house track, which shows the industrial roots of Matt Thibideau as well, but somehow finding its own way to a deep, summerly mellowness."

VA: Odd Pieces #02 12" (SUS 33). $9.00

"The second 4-tracker is now ready, with contributions of Goldfish & der Dulz, Todd Bodine, Apoll and Falko Brocksieper. All the Playhouse fans have certainly taken Goldfish & der Dulz to their hearts since a while, after they have released two great EP's there. Their new track 'Below' now finally delivers more of their deep & always still functional minimalism. Apoll's 'G-Look' certainly counts to the most smashing works of the swiss Tongut-labelmaker so far, who eventually exchanged his soft, harmonic attitude for some dry rocking bass & percussion. On the other hand, Berlin's Tresor-resident Todd Bodine hits the downtempo-brakes, surprising with a rumbling groove and dark sound textures. And finally Falko Brocksieper breaks his silence, half a year after the release of his debut album, with 'Tomato Gong' more than ever moving towards bleephouse with an authentic oldschool touch."

PANTONE: Green Bottles & Teen Models 12" (SUS 34). $9.00

"Pan/Tone, the artist we have all grown to know as the dirty Frenchman from Toronto 'rockno city' was finally sober enough to complete an intoxicating double shooter of prime time enjoyment, after having gained some artsy intelligence credibility on labels like Revolver & Background before. The a-side, 'Chug!', will make any barfly abandon their cozy bar position only to be drawn to the dancefloors double fisted. The b-side, 'M's, Congeniality', plays up to all the pretty little babes still around for last call. This 2 tracker EP is filled with sensual melodies and luring basslines that promises to be as good as the last drop."

SPRING, JOHN: dispo dancer 12" (SUS 35). $9.00

"With his debut EP dispo dancer, Johannes Mai (aka. John Spring) brings a strong breeze from the German east coast. The man from Rostock rigs up his funky-fresh beat constructions with loads of strange sounds and buzzy noises, until he finally makes the whole thing be broad dancefloor mover by those surprisingly hitting hooklines. The high production level and a risk-taking attitude make John Spring be any DJ's best friend, un-intentionally narrowing the gap between giant Disco dance halls and odd cellar-parties."

ESTORNEL/TUTERA: Tema C 12" (SUS 37). $9.00

"Eric Estornel from Texas, better known as Maetrik, prepares once more to take control over the ready-to-dance floors, this time along with his Chilean mate Miguel Tuter. Under the name Estornel/Tutera, the duo provides three brilliant & functional club tracks, all of them spreading this rich atmosphere, melancholic and propulsive at once. The title track 'Tema C' kicks hypnotically with a straight arrangement and crackling pads, letting the spark jump over by the upcoming vocal phrases at the latest. On the b-side, apocalyptic harmonies are drifting over a squeakily electro beat in 'Textures', and 'One day' finally sets us free for the weekend with rumbling chords and lashing percussions."

PAN/TONE: Unsubscribe EP 12" (SUS 38). $9.00

"The crisp lumberjack is back, and he has carved something special: two wood gnomes, pounding and snorting everyone out of their way who didn't down his whiskey in good time. Thus Pan/Tone links to his previous killer EP on Sub Static Green Bottles & Teen Models, now having rasped even more rigorous shapes out of his favourite matter, techno, in countless, lonesome, and sudatory hours. Euphoria is permitted, but still staying strict in its styling; a merciless groove, dug in the forest ground with both legs. This is more than digital voodoo or a sound juggler's affair. This is still real handwork, and there are rumours about big, rusty machines in half-mouldered iron huts, located high up in the mountains, a restricted area, surrounded by huge fences and no one being sick enough of life to make just one step beyond. This man is not from Europe, and against the common opinion he's not from Canada either. He is the true Roswell alien, and he's on the run."

ANEURYSM, BRIAN: Succubus 12" (SUS 39). $9.00

"The antichrist is doing house music now, as his economic situation is probably to be rated just as miserably. Thus he has to recruit his disciples in new ways.' Thought Brian Aneurysm presumably, looking at himself in the bathroom mirror one day while being surprised by feeling two little horns on his forehead. That's why the beats on his new EP Succubus are rattling even more split-tongued, more grumbling is the voice, and flackering chords are announcing imminence. After his venomously brilliant double EP Amplified (sub static #28), the Texan has now bred his sharp-edged techno funk wrecks to a nasty kind of death-metal-bebop, which doesn't even have to be played backwards to spread its seductive poison. And finally the horned entertainer burps satisfiedly after his feast, when the lost and tormented souls are dancing around his hoofs, steadily wining to his electro-infernalis."

SPRING, JOHN: Waterproof 12" (SUS 40). $9.00

"Who sneaks through post urban terrains at this late hour? It's John Spring, carrying this brandnew Sub Static EP under his arm, always in quest of the next groovy data crash, or just a hideout for the starving artist's body. Cause who ever gnaws at his sounds so uncompromisingly, that it would drive any accountant's hard-breathing breastbone down into his jittery knees, can't be a wealthy man. Meanwhile the former 'Dispo Dancer' (sub static #35) has broken the bank, however without robbing it first, which absolutely would have made sense, as the very-clever-electronics are now finally bleeding him white. Maybe his own fault, as not any perfect stranger can do these machine-made knucklebone karate beats without swallowing some acid rain. It's just lunatically sexy, this high frequent flesh-wound funk straight outta sample hell, so friendly fanatic and irresistibly undue. This man is truly brushing his suede boots against the grain before jumping into the cold water, cause waterproof does not come from Waterloo -- and megalomania is associated with others."

JONSON, MATHEW: Behind the Mirror/Folding Space 12" (SUS 41). $9.00

"The sleeper has waken. Mathew Jonson, our interstellar expert for subconscious techno, has by order of Sub Static launched his stainless battle sequencers again, following the declared aim to save the universe once more of the post-cosmic hordes of fisheye euro trashers and their spineless life guards, the much-feared Neuromorphs. Jonson's hypnotic studies for well-tempered synthesizer on itswhattitis and Perlon still remain in our minds, but no mortal soul would ever have expected to witness The Canadian star navigator with this sophisticated pugnaciousness. This time he has a whole army of brandnew nanofunkbots at his command, to scatter the enemy brigades most effectively. But his famous and fearsome arpeggioblasters still remains the weapon of first choice: many an alien should prepare for a juicy kick in the buttock, when the razorsharp processed euphoric cascades cut themselves through any shield in over-lightspeed that even some captain future would be frightened to death."

SUBETAGE (AUSTRIA):

VA: Electro Juice Vol. 2 CD (SUBE 01 CD). $18.00

"Sabotage's first Electro Juice compilation from 1996 surely played its role in bringin electro back to the floors. The compilation was the first European sampler to feature Detroit stars like Ectomorph, Ultradyne, Le Car. For 1999 Sabotage's new brainchild Subetage have prepared a 2nd volume with fresh flavors from the scene. 12 unreleased tracks on double vinyl or CD." Features: Adult (Ersatz Audio), Perspects (Ersatz Audio), Sandbenders (Force Inc./Defect), Zeronine, Alex Is My Bro (Sabotage), EPY (Sabotage), Vic 20 (Work Music, Breakin'), DJ Glow (Trust), Melvin & Manolo (Murdercapital), Bannlust (Science City), Klystron (Electrocard, Formic), Nott & Schwabender (Sabotage). "3-years past updating of the original Electro Juice groundbreaker from Sabotage (erm... Subetage (Sabotage RIP)). All tracks reek of all that classic prankster-ism we've come to love (& simultaneously fear) from the Vienna camp." — Hrvatski.

VA: Electro Juice Vol. 2 2LP (SUBE 01 LP). $18.00

SUBLIME (JAPAN):

PRISM: Metronome Melody CD (SBL 5003). $22.00

Another Susumu Yokota project. "Despite all unnecessary sound this Zen-like electronics. Beautiful synth-tone and house beat."

CURTIN, DAN: Deception CD (SBL 5010). $22.00

Brilliant album of Juan Aktins-influenced techno from the Midwest. While this album can also be found as an UK Sublime pressing, this Japanese edition adds two bonus tracks (remixes by Ken Ishii and K. Hand) and has different and superior cover art. "Ohio's genius Dan Curtin's full album. Romantic and mellow techno jazz."

VA: Sublime The Adolescence 2CD (SBL 5020). $25.00

Fantastic 3rd anniversary compilation of Sublime-associated artists. Packed in oversize box with a large piece of foam keeping the 2 discs apart. The 2nd CD is a 3" CD-ROM which includes a live Flare/Dr. Y.S. video clip and interactive Sublime catalog. The main CD features all new and exclusive tracks by Co-Fusion ("complex drum and bass, hinting at a jazz-trance fusion at times"), Dan Curtin, Max Brennan (aka Fretless AZM), Da True B-Boy Descendant (new unit from 4-Hero's Dego), Rei Harakami (lush & elegant atmospherics), Prism, Why Sheep? (bizarre & out programming), Okihide, SK8, Dr. Y.S. and the Cosmic Drunkards (cyber-fringe drum 'n' bass from Yoshiro Sawasaki) & Flare (stunning new Ishii track).

VA: 11 Phases CD (SBL 5023). $18.00

Subtitled: Detroit Meets Hip Hop. "This album is one that's aimed more at the listening market. It will appeal to lovers of Detroit techno because the roster of artists is absolutely second to none, and will also be loved by those who like to play, and merely listen to, the more laidback sounds that this album contains. The label has chosen this avenue because they believe that the record buying public want to hear more than minimal obscure techno that many of these and other artists represent. It is a fascinating insight into the roots of what has become the famous Techno Sound of Detroit." Featuring K-Hand, Lark Daddy (Kenny Larkin), Eddie Flashin Fowlkes, Will Web, Hood Scientific (Robert Hood), De-Yang Crew (Claude Young), Tomas Barnett, Graffiti (Stacy Pullen), Anthony "Shake" Shakir & Sean Deason.

CURTIN, DAN: New World CD (SBL 5026). $15.00

"It's been a year since we saw anything of Dan Curtin and finally here is the new material. This EP lays the foundation for his forthcoming album; it's tougher and in some places a lot more accessible and less abstract than usual, although the album will contain some gems of obscurity. This EP opens with a track that is melodic but absolutely non-nonsense dancefloor 4x4 stuff, there's the disco wonderland of 'With Me Tonight', cheeky use of that familiar Earth, Wind & Fire vocal that launches into a ruff barrage of jacking Chicago style techno. Swopping chords herald 'Sword Of Orion', a classic Curtin tune, and then his 'Latin Odyssey' mix of 1996's excellent 'I'll Take You There' that breaks off as if it's two tracks into a fiesta frenzy that shows just how classy Curtin is. Orlando Voorn bends Dan's 'Page Me' track to the breakbeat vibe and Dave Angel takes him out to the edge of deep sublime technoscapes."

TANZMUSIK: Version Cities Hi-Light CD (SBL 5027 CD). $18.00

"Tanzmusik debuts for Sublime Records with this superb and original piece of work. It would be incorrect to class this as Electro or any sort of 'Nu-Skule' nonsense, but there's enough of a vibe in the construction and arrangement to suggest a definite influence — put it this way, you wouldn't be surprised to see breakdancers flexing to these broken beats, harsh analogue drums and 'vocodered' vocals weave a mesmeric web through the other sonic adventures in which elements of Techno, dub and ambience make their presence felt."

CO-FUSION: Co-Fu CD (SBL 5029). $18.00

"Co-Fusion release their debut album on Sublime records after 2 splendid solo EPs and a joint release with Ken Ishii (aka Flare). DJ Wada who makes up one half of Co-Fusion is a very well established feature of Japan's nightclub scene, being one of the first exponents of the 'mix' (most DJs in Japan had previously opted for chatting between records!). The technique of their work is embodied here as a cut-up, like a fast-working DJ moving from track to track on the decks. Each title seems cut and spliced then thrown into a monster filter to emerge bristling with energy. There are more reflective moments too but overall this album is driven by percussion; breaks that are looped, filtered and sliced up mercilessly."

HANNA: Severance CD (SBL 5030). $18.00

"Born in Cleveland, OH, Warren Harris aka Hanna, was surrounded by music from an early age. His mother sang with the world famous Cleveland Orchestra thus Hanna's early years were spent in an environment that was completely imbued with music. In his early teen years he learned a huge array of instruments and became involved with many projects ranging from classical music to thrash metal. He works with Hip Hop artists and jazz musicians but this album is a result of a long-standing friendship and collaboration with fellow Clevelanders, Dan Curtin who signed an earlier album and released it through Dan's Metamorphic. Severance is brimming with The Funk, whether it's old-school Hip Hop style or laid-back P-Funk. There's plenty of soul, melodies catch the emotions and draw you into the moods of this complex and deep excursion into instrumental grooves."

CX AUDIO IE: Alpha 000-011 CD (SBL 5033). $17.00

"Cx Audio IE is also known as Okihide Sawaki, one of the highly complex brains behind Japan's superb electro-house Tanzmuzik unit. Okihide is a consummate producer and a highly original artist, fiendishly particular about sound and all the minute details of its presentation. He has been working away at this, his first album release for Sublime, and the end result is quite staggering. A funky, minimalist blend of house rhythms and ultra-modern techno sounds. This could be filled with Detroit's Drexcyia as easily as Dr. Rockit or even artists such as Derrick Carter. It slips into the consciousness but rests uneasily on the soul, encouraging movement; jerky but groovy. His vocalist's words hang on the quirky beats, sometimes suggesting a singer such as Bjork. But surprisingly, this music doesn't alienate the listener and even before the first listen is over, the music takes hold. It doesn't encroach, but seduces us to partake in this odd feast of grooves."

BRENNAN, MAX: We Are Part Of Us And So Are You CD (SBL 5034). $18.00

"Max Brennan is very well known and much loved in Britain as well as elsewhere. He records for Holistic as Fretless AZM and for Peacefrog as Maxwell House. He is a tireless live performer and can be heard jamming away from Brighton to Aberdeen drumming up highly enthusiastic reviews wherever he goes. He is a really nique talent and is gradually pulling in admirers from all areas of the music community. Now he comes rocking back onto the Sublime Records roster with yet another believable serving of undiluted funky Funk! He's been out on his home island, The Isle of Wight, watching the skies and it would appear that he's made contact! This album is dedicated to our continuing love affair with those little green/gray men in saucers and each slice of fat grooves comes liberally sprinkled with references, hence the title. But to say that this is an album about aliens is to ignore the real power of Max's musical excellence and this record oozes the kind of funk that you'd associate with artists such as Herbie Hancock or Roy Ayres. There are only nine tracks on this collection but they stretch over a massive 75 minutes and will draw the listener into an utterly unique world; the not-so-private world according to Max Brennan. This is a place where the laidback grooves of classic funk meet the new ideas of the 21st century. There are fat basslines that one feels already familiar with although Max Brennan plays everything live and originally; no samples get used in the musical department! But this is not a retro effect, it really is some new kind of alien funk, other-worldly but without a shadow of a doubt from this planet!"

CO-FUSION: Strutin' Remixes EP 12" (SBL EP023). $10.00

Features the original mix, Co-Fusion remix, Claude Young remix and Funk D'Void remix.

BRENNAN, MAX: Old Codger and Remixes EP 2x10" (SBL EP026). $15.00

"The Sublime family take tracks from Max Brennan's wonderful Alien To Whom? LP and remix them for some sonic adventures with the groove. From Susumu Yokota's house stomp, Josh (from Schattrax)'s percussive workout, Rei Harakami's melodic interpretation and a new house track, 'Old Codger' from Max Brennan himself."

HARAKAMI, REI: November 12" (SBL EP029). $9.00

CURTIN, DAN: Deception 2LP (SBL LP002). $17.00

2LP version of this classic album. This is the UK edition which features totally different artwork to the Japanese CD (SBL 5020).

TANZMUSIK: Version Cities Hi-Light 2LP (SBL LP011). $18.00*YOKOTA, SUSUMU: 1998 2LP (SBL LP012). $17.00

Double vinyl version (CD is o/p). "Susumu Yokota releases his first album through Sublime Records under his birth name. He was previously signed as Yokota to Germany's Harthouse label but is now able to concentrate all his energy on his Sublime project. This album is therefore the clearest and cleanest piece of work to date. This is an album of deep grooves. Drum loops and warm basslines where dreamy riffs played out on saxophone, guitar and organ slip in and out of lazy beats. There's an element of the Cocktail Lounge in this muzak but Yokota never lets go of his House roots and there's always a beat there; at times it's insistent and nagging, an order to dance and sometimes there's a dreamy groovy vibe. This is not a Dance album, let the EPs do that. This is not a disparate compilation of trax but a listening and grooving experience."

SUBLIME FREQUENCIES:*VA: Folk and Pop Sounds of Sumatra Vol. 1 CD (SF 001CD). $14.00

"The equator runs through only ten countries on earth and I bet that you cannot name them all without consulting a map. Indonesia is one of them and the only nation in Asia with the equatorial stripe impaling it. There are so many different cultures spread-out on these islands, that it would take several lifetimes to experience them all properly. Within this umbrella of diversity is one of the world's richest and most dazzling sound museums. Sumatra is the northwestern entry point to the great archipelago. It is a large island approximately the size of California. There are jungles, mountains, swamps, various forms of myths and folklore, hustlers, Padang Food, Tigers, the Durian, dozens of cultures and languages, and more music than you've ever been allowed to hear. The selections on this CD are a combination of droning beat pop, pseudo-gypsy songs, jungle folk trance, and other improbable traditional and hybrid styles heard by only a handful of outsiders. These recordings are from old cassette tapes received as gifts, in trade, or purchased from sources in Sumatra in 1989. Some of the tapes are unmarked with the artists unknown, yet all of them are decaying documents of various sound quality containing some of the most eccentric artifacts ever uncovered from this fascinating island."

VA: Radio Java CD (SF 002CD). $14.00

"Java is the center of Indonesian culture. Three out of every four Indonesians live on Java. It is the home of some of the most elegant musical styles to be found anywhere. To the veteran international sound collector, Javanese music is no secret. For the uninitiated, rather than going through an introductory outline of Javanese music history, I will wish you away to the internet, a library, or bookstore where you can find plenty of information on the subject. The selections on this CD are a combination of random radio excerpts sequenced in collage form and assembled in the summer of 1989. This disc is a highly unique document featuring many angles of Javanese sound finally slipping through the cracks. Among many other oddities, you'll hear several examples of Javanese pop (from Dangdut and Keroncong to Hard Rock and Disco), news snippets, folk music, radio commercials, Jakarta DJs, The west Java Sundanese sound, spooky theatre extracts, and high-octane Jaipongan variations that are completely over the top. There has never been anything like this."

VA: Night Recordings From Bali CD (SF 003CD). $14.00

"The island of Bali is Indonesia's most popular place. With the modern beach resorts at Kuta and Legian, the lovely, tropic interior of palm-covered hills and rice paddies, and a rich variety of art, dance and music, the island is a destination of choice for travelers around the world. But, regardless of their increasing role of servicing an ever-demanding tourist industry, the Balinese are a strong-willed and tight-knit society. The island is a tiny enclave of Hinduism within a massive nation of Islam, yet, their Javanese music is faster, tighter, and louder than their mighty neighbors to the west, the Javanese. Balinese Gamelan stylings and the Ketchak dance are legendary throughout the world and have been immortalized in sound recordings and on film for decades. But, beneath the creeping exterior of a pseudo-western culture slowly overtaking an amazing tradition of unique human expression, the moods of the island are governed by magic and superstition. The hills, forests, rivers, and crossroads are alive with tales of demons (Leyaks) and a flesh-eating Ogress (Rangda). A lesser-known darker side of Balinese life secretly balances the lighter side 'tropical paradise' of tourist brochures. This CD is entirely composed of field recordings from August and September of 1989. The majority of the recordings were made at night in and around the villages of Peliatan and Ubud. Amidst the excerpts from Gamelan and Ketchak are sounds of the forests and mysterious crossroads where packs of dogs seem to take on forms of angry demons. Also encountered here are odd folk stylings for flute and drum, outdoor village theatre, and other sound anomalies from the center of Balinese culture."

VA: Nat Pwe: Burma's Carnival of Spirit Soul DVD (SF 004DVD). $25.00

Sublime Frequencies is a new Abduction-related label, overseen by Alan Bishop/Sun City Girls. The label defines itself as "a collective of explorers dedicated to acquiring and exposing obscure sights and sounds from modern and traditional urban and rural frontiers via film and video, field recordings, radio and short wave transmissions, international folk and pop music, sound anomalies, and other forms of human and natural expression not documented sufficiently through all channels of academic research, the modern recording industry, media, or corporate foundations. SUBLIME FREQUENCIES is focused on an aesthetic of extra-geography and soulful experience inspired by music and culture, world travel, research, and the pioneering recording labels of the past including OCORA, SMITHSONIAN FOLKWAYS, ETHNIC FOLKWAYS, LYRICHORD, NONESUCH EXPLORER, MUSICAPHONE, BARONREITER, UNESCO, PLAYASOUND, MUSICAL ATLAS, CHANT DU MONDE, B.A.M., TANGENT, and TOPIC."

"In Burma, many people believe in ghost spirits called NATs. These spirits are historical figures who met tragic or violent deaths. They are said to possess the power to assist or devastate the lives of those who recognize them. A PWE is a ceremony held to appease a Nat. Pwes are arranged daily throughout Burma for many purposes including the achievement of success in business, a happy marriage, or improving one's health. A Nat is summoned through a Kadow; the flamboyant and charismatic master of the Pwe dressed in elegant costume. The Kadow is a spirit medium, dancer, storyteller, and magician who exposes the crowd to a living incarnation of the Nat brought forth through opening ritual and careful observance of tradition. Many of the Kadows are male crossdressers performing the role of female Nats and the Nat culture attracts the homosexual, occult, artistically expressive and more outgoing elements of the Burmese population. Cash money is thrown and cigarettes and whiskey are hand delivered by the Kadow to the willing faithful. Audience participants are often ecstatic, spontaneously launching into trance as the Nat spirit possesses their bodies while the melodically ornamental and thundering sound of the Nat Pwe orchestra plays on as perhaps the last, great unknown musical juggernaut existing anywhere. Each Pwe has its own mood and Nats can dictate a variety of happenings and unpredictable phenomenon. Since the 11th century, there have been 37 officially recognized Nats and every August, in the village of Taungbyon, there is a festival dedicated to two of them. This festival is one of the greatest spectacles on earth. At the peak of the Taungbyon celebration, there are dozens of very intimate venues holding continuous Pwe's for 48 hours without interruption bubbling with excitement and intensity all within the narrow alleys of bamboo shelters amidst a vibe of mysterious, electric charm. What results is the magnetic, unexplainable concoction of conservative tradition, free expression, music, dance, spirit possession, and anomalous synchronicities of Burma's Carnival Of Spirit Soul." DVD is NTSC, region-free. With 8-page booklet of notes/photos enclosed.

VA: Jemaa El Fna: Morocco's Rendezvous of the Dead... DVD (SF 005DVD). $20.00

...(Night Music From Marrakech). "Morocco is a land of ingratiating variety and intense contrast. Its people are as diverse as its topography. The cosmopolitan Atlantic coast fuses with the Berber heritage of the northern Rif and Atlas mountain ranges as the ancient Saharan trade routes wind their way from the south into the city of Marrakech, where all points collide, creating a vibrant mixture of the traditional, the exotic and the supernatural."

'Jemaa El Fna', the massive central square in Marrakech, is where Morocco's ancient history manifests daily in a perpetual cycle of mysterious sight and sound. Jemaa El Fna can be translated as: 'Meeting Place of the Dead', 'the mosque at the end of the world' or 'the mosque that came to nothing'; a sly reference to the Saadian Sultan Ahmed el Mansour's aborted attempt to build a mosque there several hundred years ago.

The 'Meeting Place of the Dead', a suitably chilling phrase which conjures an aura of exoticism and savage justice to an otherwise fully functional public square, has continued unabated for centuries. By Day it serves as a venue where magicians, fortune tellers, herbalists, acrobats, monkey handlers, snake charmers, dentists, astrologers, numerologists, and sorcerers create intriguing displays of bewitching spectacle. By night, the square transforms into a symphony of mystical brotherhoods and night musicians: the Aissoua, Derkaoua, Hamadasha, Jilila, and Gnaoua. Free from the restrictions and expectations of light entertainment for a tourist crowd, this 'Rendezvous of the Dead' is where the performances animate the audience and musicians alike into an elevated spiritual congress colliding in sonorous ecstasy. Filmed in Marrakech's legendary 'Jemaa El Fna', the central square of the final outpost before venturing into the great beyond of the western Sahara desert, this film is one of the most vivid documents ever presented capturing the raw folk stylings of Moroccan music. Shot at night, the performers manifest their passions right before your eyes, some drifting into extreme characters, others floating in dark, flowering breeze."

NTSC DVD, region-free.

PRINCESS NICOTINE: Folk and Pop Music of Myanmar (Burma) Vol. 1 CD (SF 006CD). $14.00

"How do they do it? Are they smarter? Are they better? How can it be ignored or denied? How is it possible that one of the most unique, perfectly composed and performed, intense and awe-inspiring musical legacies the world has ever known is looming north of the equator physically tucked-between world cultural giants India, China, and Thailand, without more than a whisper from ethnomusicologists or those who define themselves as 'purveyors of world music'? Not only are the roots of this music unique, but so are the results after incorporating outside instrumentation from modern colonial and (unavoidable) international influence. What the Burmese have done with a piano is so precise in its adaptation to existing form and melody that one would think they invented it. Burmese music has a very distinct sound and whatever instrument is assimilated into its core only seems to magnify its original intent without depending upon outside ideas as they relate to each component of it. This collection will immediately bring you up to speed to what you have been missing all along. I'll leave the over-analysis to those who undoubtedly will suffocate the world music community with praise for this music in the future because the time is NOW to dig it and to put the REAL music of Myanmar on the map ONCE and for ALL. This is the first TRUE compilation of this phenomenal scene from Yangon to Mandalay and beyond. Here are some of the greatest names from the past 50 years of Burmese musical history from the original recordings featuring Mar Mar Aye, Bo Sein, and the incomparable Tonte Theintan. Listen, and be amazed."

VA: Radio Morocco CD (SF 007CD). $14.00

played berber folk music late into the night. This collection is 20 years old and has grinded into my skull as Moroccan export culture supreme. This is some of the greatest music ever known displayed here amidst snippets of news, commercials, radio noise and a host of otherworldly transmissions. Arabic music is HIGH ART. At its best, it transcends western music even as it utilizes it as a display of emotion and celebration. The Moroccans are deep contributors to the high art of Arabic music. May this disc download into your mind as an anti-virus. It worked for me. I don't even remember Thriller by Michael Jackson." - Alan Bishop.

VA: Radio Palestine: Sounds of the Eastern Mediterranean CD (SF 008CD). $14.00

"From the traditional Nubian sounds of Southern Egypt to the cultured Arabic pop of Beirut, it's all here in super-sonic collage: Cairo Orchestral/Greek Sartaki/Palestinian Folk/Jewish and Euro-hybrid music styles/ Jordanian reverb guitar....all placed deep within the mirage of an 18 year-old time capsule of news, commercials, radio plays, UFO signals, Secret agent messages and chainsaw shortwave. Recorded in the summer of 1985 from Aswan to Jerusalem, this is a cerebral-smashing 65-minute listening experience soaked in raw beauty. If you don't like gettin' your ears pierced, then Clear the path now....the Radio Collage Revolution has been unleashed."

VA: I Remember Syria 2CD (SF 009CD). $16.00

"A jaw-dropping expose of music, news, interviews and field recordings from one of the least-known quarters of the Arab world. The country of Syria has been politically and culturally exiled for decades by the western media leaving little known of its rich heritage of art, music and culture. Recorded and surgically-assembled by Mark Gergis from two trips to Syria in 1998 and 2000, disc one of this 2-CD set features recordings made in Damascus and is a virtual documentary of sound from the legendary Capital including street scenes, a wedding, a mosque interior, spontaneous live music and interviews with citizens, radio broadcasts, a song about Saddam Hussein, and the mystery of an underground city called 'Kazib'. Disc two extends to Greater Syria with the same approach capturing live musicians, political opinions, radio excerpts, an interview with an anonymous homosexual, and unique sound documents from this small but highly-influential corner of the Middle East."

VA: Folk Music of the Sahara - Among the Tuareg of Libya DVD (SF 010DVD). $20.00

"Folk music of the Sahara is an intoxicating experience of sight and sound captured among the Tuareg and Libyan people of North Central Africa. Filmed from the perspective of actually being one of the performers, this mind-blowing in your face document captures the spirit of Libyan folklore and the essence of emotion armed with pounding rhythms and wailing vocal choruses. Both men and women are featured here equally as overseers of the hybrid forms of expression where central African traditions collide with the tones and colors of the Arab world creating one of the most unique overviews of Saharan folk music ensemble and dance the outside world has ever witnessed. The diversity of faces is extraordinary, every costume is stunning, and the women are among the most beautiful on earth. If you ever wondered where some of western music's more exotic ideas originated from, this is a great place to start." (8-page color insert with additional photos and text). Color/ 60 minutes; NTSC All Regions; Aspect Ratio 4:3.

VA: Cambodian Cassette Archives: Khmer Folk & Pop Music Vol. 1 CD (SF 011CD). $14.00

"An unbelievable collection of dynamic Cambodian music recorded between the 1960s and the 1990s, both in Cambodia and in the United States. A truly Khmer blend of folk and pop stylings — Cha-Cha Psychedelia, Phase-shifting Rock, sultry circle dance standards, pulsing Cambodian new wave, haunted ballads, musical comedy sketches, Easy-Listening numbers and raw instrumental grooves presented in an eclectic variety of production techniques. Male and female vocalists share the spotlight, embellished by roller rink organ solos, raunchy guitar leads and MIDI defying synthesizers. Culled from over 150 ageing cassettes found at the Asian Branch of the Oakland Public Library in California, these recordings showcase a pre and post holocaust Cambodian musical lineage that can't be ignored."

VA: Bush Taxi Mali: Field Recordings from Mali CD (SF 012CD). $14.00

"Bush Taxi Mali is an aural tour through the heart of Mali. These field recordings were made by Tucker Martine in 1998 while travelling throughout the West African country. This blend of bluesy Ngoni's, clamoring street sounds, the stunning voice of Jalimusa Amanita Diabate (of the famous Diabate family), passing radios, Fulani flutes, runaway sound systems and chants from the Dogon country creates a unique portrait of Mali's rich musical heritage. Eventually Martine found himself in the backseat of a beat up Peugeot on his way to the village of Kela, a Jeli village, where the songs and traditions of the Mande people have been scrupulously preserved. Many of the musical performances heard on this disc were made during that visit. Bush Taxi Mali is a strikingly original tapestry of the ancient traditions of Mali in the modern era."

VA: Brokenhearted Dragonflies: Insect Electronica from ... CD (SF 013CD). $14.00

"... Southeast Asia. "There is a legend in Burma stating that swarms of male dragonflies gather to join in choruses of high-pitched tones to court their mates. The ones that don't succeed in mating eventually scream so loud that their chests explode and they drop dead to the ground. These recordings are a tribute to this legend. Droning cicadas, dragonflies and other insects display their charm as masters of the High Frequency Airwaves recorded live and unprocessed by Tucker Martine in the lush settings of Laos, Thailand, and Burma. Enter the supernatural world where Entomology and Electronica converge in a tropical hallucination of alien sound. Anyone who's ever wondered if these strange symphonies could be recorded or preserved as precisely as they sound in the field need look no further! Martine has done it and you will be transported to the exact experience one would encounter in these mysterious lowlands. Liner notes by Hakim Bey!"

VA: Radio India: The Eternal Dream of Sound 2CD (SF 014CD). $16.00

"A swan dive into perhaps the most astounding radio treasure chest the world has ever known, this amazing collection of audio art is a testament to India's Museum of Sound. This two hour listening experience features Radio Collage of music-only edits on disc one, with a more adventurous mix of music, radio commercials, news, DJs, and miscellaneous sound dimensions on disc two. Contents include: plenty of traditional folk oddities, choice pop hits and film themes, spectacular Classical music, incorporated styles from beyond the subcontinent, and an indescribable cache of raw sound materials edited from hours of bulk tapes recorded on location in 1989 and 1996 from Bengal to Rajasthan and many points in between. Ragas, Bollywood breaks, electric guitars, chennai and violin bliss, creepy folk songs and top-notch vocalists make this the best introduction to India's music scene ever assembled!"

VA: ISAN: Folk and Pop Music of Northeast Thailand DVD (SF 015DVD). $20.00

"Welcome to ISAN, Thailand's forgotten frontier, where Lao, Thai and Cambodian folkloric traditions have conspired to create a mystifying pageantry of music and dance still relatively unknown to outsiders. Explore the raw cultural heritage of the Mekong interior, land of the Phin guitar and the bamboo Khaen and discover musical styles such as 'Molam' and 'Pong Lang'. Take a forbidden look into the sultry Go-Go scenes of Gentleman's clubs and witness a spectacular Lam Sing stage show cabaret backed by a psychedelic Rock band! Experience the intoxicating pulse of Thailand's Tropical Northeast." NTSC DVD, region-free, Color, 50 mins.

SUBLIMINAL SOUNDS (SWEDEN):

TRAD, GRAS OCH STENAR: Gardet 12.6.1970 CD (SUBL 01). $15.00

A 1996 reissue, repressed. "The first in our new series called Swedish Underground Archives. The series will focus on classic yet mostly unreleased recordings by known and unknown to mythical Swedish progressive/psychedelic groups from the 1960s/70s. First out is the best ever recording from the legendary Trad Gras & Stenar (Trees Grass & Stones) recorded at the first ever Swedish outdoors summer hippie festival in 1970. The sound is just amazing: a stoned lysergic wall of acid guitars jamming away and never letting up, pounding bass, furious drums and mystical howling vocals. A true landmark in psychedelic/progressive history."

HOOKER, D.R.: The Truth CD (SUBL 015). $19.00

"Finally a CD reissue of one of the rarest US psych LPs. The Truth, recorded in Connecticut in 1972, might very well be the ultimate North American acid rock album ever. No hype here, just incredible talented music. Everything is absolute perfection, the wailing fuzz guitar, the psych arrangements, his awesome voice, layers of instruments and well-crafted songs. One of those LPs that keeps revealing new depths even when you've played it a hundred times. True psychedelia. This reissue is officially licensed from the artist. This CD edition contains 6 bonus tracks not on the LP."

DUNGEN: // LP (SUBL 16 LP). $23.00

"Long awaited follow up to the fantastic debut LP release, from last year, which sold out right away. This is amazing new Swedish psych/prog/pop/folk/rock from the wonder kid Dungen. He's only 22 years old and is now signed to Virgin Records. The new LP contains more totally stunning musicianship, spellbinding Swedish folk pop psych inspired by the soulful Swedish folk music and the country's vast forests. No 'neo-psych' bullshit...this is THE real thing! Beautiful vocals, Hammond B-3 organ, flute, violin, groovy bass, swinging drums, electric and acoustic guitars and fuzz. Dungen is the next big thing from Sweden! What ever: he just made the best record we've heard in years! The LP is released by the Swedish Xotic Mind/Subliminal Sounds label that brought you artists like Parson Sound, S.T. Mikael, Word of Life and Adam. The LP contains a bonus track not included on the CD edition and it's housed in a beautiful gatefold sleeve. 500 copies limited edition only."

MINEO, ATTILIO: Man In Space With Sounds CD (SUBL CD04). $13.00

Now available as a domestic pressing. Reissue of a fantastic and very obscure electronic release, recorded in the early 50s and issued on LP in 1962 on the World's Fair label (and basically impossible to find ever since). "This is the first release in our new reissue series of rare vintage electronica! We start this venture with Bubbulator Music! Visitors ride a spherical, oddly named elevator into a maze of cubes containing pictures of the hope and havoc of space and the atom. 'First floor,' chants the pilot, 'threats and thresholds, frustrations and fulfillment's, challenges and opportunities.' The Bubbulator was Washington State's official exhibit in the Coliseum housed a 'World of Tomorrow' exhibit. The Bubbulator, a 150-passenger spherical clear plastic elevator moved 2.5 million people through displays that promised an easier life ahead. The operator wore a silver shiny space suit right out of a Buck Rogers comic strip and the music of Man in Space With Sounds was being played through the sound system. Totally outer space man, totally. 'Visitors ascend to the exhibit in a globe-shaped elevator for a 21-minute tour of the future.' Visitor to the Seattle World's Fair loved the Bubbulator ride, which was eventually purchased for $5,100 and relocated after the fair's end to the Center House/Food Circus/Armory. In the early 80's the Center House was remodeled and the Bubbulator was auctioned off. The unknown buyer moved it to their home in North Seattle and turned it into a terrarium and that's where it sits today. Attilio Mineo's Man In Space With Sounds is the record and the electronic outer space exotica music with spoken word introductions that was played in the Bubbulator at the Seattle State World's Fair. It was recorded in 1951 and is one of the rarest and most interesting electronica records in existence. It has now, lovingly, been digitally remastered and transferred to the aural medium of today for your futuristic enjoyment."

SANDIN, AKE: Forlorad I Toner (Lost In the Tones) CD (SUBL CD05). $19.00

"Ake Sandin was a unique personality in the Swedish music business of the 1960s. A real 'outsider musician' who artistically did what ever he wanted to without any cares for critics or prevalent musical norms. During the last ten years he has become a cult legend among the few Swedish musical journalists and musicians who has been able to find or at least hear his incredibly rare records from the 1960s. In 1965 he started his own record company, Jay Records, financed by the meager income from his work at the post office. Jay Records released loads of records between the years 1964-1970, most of them with Ake himself. He paid for costly recordings in top studios with big orchestras and even rented the finest concert halls for his performances. Practically nobody bought his records or showed up at his concerts and every time he tried to do something he only got laughed at. His magnum opus was his LP record released in 1968 which was housed in a 'cooking proof' cloth sleeve! On the record he criticizes, in his own incomparable way, the Swedish music industry and the pop music of the day. Ake ended his days in this world as a rollerskating cloth salesman and after his death the Swedish government actually had all his belongings, including all his records, destroyed and burnt! Stefan Kéry, weird musical archeologist, has now succeeded in saving and displaying this musical treasure. His record company Subliminal Sounds has even received a grant from the Swedish National Council for Cultural Affairs, the same government body who also sponsored the Parson Sound 2 CD, to release this retrospective CD. The whole Ake Sandin LP and his ultra rare 45s are all included on this definitive release. Due to the popularity of Swedish outsider artists like the Elvis impersonator extraordinaire Eilert Pilarm and books like Irvin Chusids book Songs In the Key of Z people are becoming more aware and interested in the 'outsider music' phenomena. It is now time to unleash Sweden's most acclaimed artist in the outsider changer. Meet Ake Sandin, the Ed Wood of Swedish 60s music, on the Lost In Tones CD. Nothing will ever be the same afterwards."

STOMACHMOUTHS, THE: Born Losers CD (SUBL CD06). $16.00

"The Swedish garage punk rock boom really began back in the 1980s. One of the pioneering bands were the Stomachmouths who road the crest of the 80s garage wave between the years 1984 — 1987 becoming the leading Swedish exponent of the genre at the time. They toured Europe several times with their wailing fuzz guitars, screeching Farfisa organ, caveman drums, thumping bass and ultra snotty vocals on full throttle, performing some of the wildest shows ever witnessed. Their musical influence lived on and is now strongly felt in current Swedish bands from the Hives to the Soundtrack of Our Lives. The Stomachmouths records sold very well at the time but none have ever been reissued on CD before. This CD compilation sets this right containing all the essential Stomachmouths releases presented here for the first time with the bands own original 80s mixes."

JAY, ABNER: One Man Band CD (SUBL CD07). $19.00

"The ultimate one-man-band wild man from the 1960s of whom some have said 'the southern Hasil 'Haze' Adkins'. Anyways Abner Jay was the most unusual music talent the world has ever seen and a true southerner. His original LPs are now sought after and very rare making this CD reissue very welcome. Abner played the long-necked, plucked string instrument we nowadays call the banjo. Its possible antecedents have existed in many forms and under many names. The commercially-manufactured, standardised form has emerged from vernacular instruments, including what 18th-century European travellers to the West Indian colonies reported as 'strum-strums': long, flat-necked, skin-covered gourd bodies strung with catgut, resorted to by plantation slaves for intimate diversion as well as larger occasions of social excitement arousal. Coming from whatever precursors, the banjo occupied an important place in late-19th century black and white minstrelsy and vaudeville. There is a long line of social and musical experience which constitutes Jay's tradition: blacks' domestic entertainment inspiring white imitations; in turn stimulating composed, sheet-music idioms for middle-class and professional performance, which then animated younger generations of black musicians. For forty two years Jay worked as a unique one man band where he played banjo, guitar, drums, harmonica, and sang at the same time. Abner Jay was the first of the original black musicians and played the only electric six string banjo you'll ever hear. Jay was a native of Fitzgerald, Georgia and was once a traveling performer with the Silas Green Show, one of the last multifaceted road shows on record. Tastes and tolerances of what constitutes acceptable public entertainment are always changing and Jay was part of making idioms which may not in fact have received too much exposure in the daily pressure to captivate audiences by extrovert mannerisms. Singing song on subjects ranging from LSD to 'what's six inches long and has two nuts on the end' — you got to hear it to believe it. A true glimpse at some real Americana compiling the best tracks from Abner's original LPs."

ZACHARIAS, TOM: Belinda CD (SUBL CD08). $19.00

"It's time for us to unleash the ultimate Swedish early 70s underground psych funk erotica groove record! Yes you've heard about the Swedish sin but here's the ultimate proof. Not only were the hippies practicing free-love but they recorded some dirty music too. In the early 70s legendary genius/madman Tom Zacharias together with the cream of Swedish studio musicians, some beautiful Swedish hippie nymphs and a bunch of drugged out freaks recorded two ultra rare LPs called The Songs of Belinda and Belinda's Daughters both of which are now mega rare collectors items that never turn up, even in Sweden. These two masterpieces with their XXX-rated lyrics were recorded with both Swedish and English lyrics, but only the Swedish language versions were released. Even though adds were put out in both Screw magazine and Hustler the English language versions were kept in the can. Until now. We present both versions on one CD complete with extended liner notes and lots of psychedelic sexy pictures of course. Great groovy, funky acid erotica with loads of fuzz-wha-wha guitars, wicked drum beats and over the top XXX erotic lyrics."

VA: The Psychedelic Experience Vol 1 + 2 CD (SUBL CD09). $19.00

"Long out of print here's finally vol 1 and 2 of this the ultimate compilation series of US 60s wylid and mega obscure garage punk/acid punk on one CD. All material taken from the absolute rarest US late 60s/45's most of them never reissued before. 70 minutes of turned on sounds. No fillers, only killers. Forget all the so-so, lame comps this is the real Trip. Sunset Strip, West Hollywood, August 1966. You've just swallowed your very first sugar cube spiked with 1000 mikes of Owsley. The street's crowded with freaks, hep cats, Mary Quant girls, students, junkies, bums, rich kids like Bryan MacLean and Bob Markley, losers like Jim Morrison puking Thunderbird wine down an alley. Suddenly you find yourself inside the Pandora's Box. Strobe lights are flashing, dry ice drifts across the floor, go-go girls with painted faces dance on podiums while the crowd moves like a psychedelic ocean. The sounds of fuzz and phasing going haywire sends you right in to a lysergic vortex. Forget all the mediocre comps, this is the real Trip! Housed in a stunning acid monster sleeve featuring extensive liner-notes."

DUNGEN: Ta Det Lugnt CD (SUBL CD10). $19.00

"The 3rd and most astounding album from the young and talented Swedish multi-instrumentalist Gustav Ejstes aka Dungen. This is the long awaited follow up to his two previous highly acclaimed albums, and this recording showcase the ultimate new Swedish psych/prog/pop/folkrock. Ta Det Lugnt is a beautiful multifaceted musical trip straight into your head and deep out in the Swedish forests. It offers Dungens most exciting and adventurous recordings and features stunning musicianship, stellar vocals, Hammond B-3 organ, flute, violin, groovy drums, swinging drums, electric and acoustic guitars and screaming fuzz, spellbinding Swedish folkrock pop psych."

SUBLIMINAL/TI'LLINDIEN (SWEDEN):

PÄRSON SOUND: 2CD (TIL 02 CD). $31.00

Repressed. A spectacular archival package of primitive drone and minimalist rock/trance from the Swedish underground, believe the hype as follows; this is going to be one of the most memorable CD audio documents of the year 2001... "After years of research we're proud to present the nucleus of the Swedish 1960's-70s underground psych rock scene: the legendary Pärson Sound. This 2-CD set presents the most remarkable Swedish underground band, known in a later incarnation and continuation as International Harvester and Träd, Gräs och Stenar (Trees, Grass and Stones), and features both intricate studio recordings and organic live performances. Pärson Sound never released any records in their time and that is why a very few have heard about them at all. The recordings date from 1967/68 while the band explored unknown musical territory as well as inner- and outer space. In 1968 they were invited by Andy Warhol to play at the opening of his exhibition: 'Screens, Films, Boxes, Clouds and a Book', at the museum of Modern Art in Stockholm and also opened for the Doors. Influenced by the musical concepts of Terry Riley, Pärson Sound worked at discovering and perfecting their own unique approach towards the mixing of rock and minimalism. They created some of the most remarkable psych- trance-drone-pre-noise music-rock sounds ever recorded. Pärson Sound's music described contexts, interplay and organic growth and shaped a conception of the world — an opposite of fragmentation, individual achievements and intellectual construction. This world was to be perceived as one body, a whole of inviolable parts. The minimalist repetition with slight changes gives associations of a slow growth, of cyclic process, of breathing, pulse, life, movement and machines. The persistent repetition gives the listener an opportunity to discover the sounds, to meditate, to go into the music, join the same journey. Many times one can discover a relationship with music of other cultures. In comparison the music of the Western world can feel cursory, unreliable — as a fear of entering deep into feeling. Pärson Sound's compositions often consist of harsh structures — a rhythm pattern with ostinato bass, a melodic figure — which forms a base for improvisation. Other songs have a more thoroughly elaborated structure that still leaves room for variation. The moment, the audience, the location formed their music. Their key phrase was 'We, Here and Now!' With time, the music came to have an increasing 'religious' or shamanistic streak — with a raised demand of intensity, presence and warmth — a striving for euphoria and ecstasy. The bands psychedelic approach towards music is so fresh and vital that it transcends time. Listen to it now! A 2xCD with an informative booklet in English and lots of photos."

SUBLINGUAL:

VA: Acoustiphobia Volume 1 2CD (SUBLIN 009/10). $15.00

"A two-CD set, beautifully packaged in a six-panel cardboard wallet-case. Disc one is a live recording of a concert held at the School of the Museum of Fine Arts (SMFA), Boston on Jan. 31, 2000, featuring a trio comprised of turntablist Christian Marclay, Ikue Mori (drum machines and electronics) and Elliott Sharp (8-string guitarbass, soprano sax, powerbook & electronics). Disc two features some amazing, fun, and often challenging works by students of the SMFA. This document reveals emerging movements toward sonic portraiture, elaborate multi-channel diffusions, and re-re and re-recording practices."

STRUNG: CD (SUBLIN 011). $12.00

"A production of string adventurer Jon Rose, with a collective of mostly immigrant musicians who, for better or worse, find themselves living in Amsterdam. They are either performers on a variety of string instruments or have an interest in the inexhaustible sonic possibilities of the bowed, plucked, scraped, hit, or otherwise 'excited' string. The group functions in concert as an improvising pool, taking advantage of the many instrumental combinations, colours and counterpoint, in 'walk on/ walk off' subdivisions or within fast moving conducted structures. Apart from the traditional instruments used, members of STRUNG also play a number of unique 'homemades' and innovative interactive software controllers on stage."

SUBMERGE:

VA: Depth Charge Two CD (SUB 2). $13.50

Features tracks by The Suburban Knight, The Martian, Mad Mike, Shake, Eddie Flashin' Fowlkes, Scan-7, Underground Resistance, DJ T1000 & Drexciya.

VA: Depth Charge Three CD (SUB 3). $13.50

Features tracks by: Andre Holland (UR), Dark Energy (Suburban Knight), Red Planet, Infinity, Octave One, UR, Aux 88, DJ ESP, Freq (Sean Deason), Teknotika, X-313 (Alan Oldham), S.I.N. Compiled by Sean Deason.

DJ 3000: Electric Soul CD (SUB 3004 CD). $15.00

"Detroit has long been known for its mechanical innovation. From the assembly line to the super high output motor, Detroit and its people have always strived for something better. Through no fault of its own, Detroit has seen strife, revolution, and desolation. This sense of charge and vacancy provided the ideal birthplace for Electric Soul. Electric Soul exists as a realm without boundaries. It fits no categories. It's the experimentation of techno, the soul of house and the funk of electro. It's the sound of Detroit in 2003." Artists: Ron Cook, Los Hermanos, Electric Soul, Mr. De, DJ 3000, Fix, The Martian, M.I.A Feat Tek Brothers, Dr. Jiffy, Afrogermanic, B. Calloway, Dex, M.I.A, Orlando Voom.

SAUNDERSON, KEVIN: KMS Definitive Mix Compilation CD (SUB 3005 CD). $15.00

"Submerge Recordings presents the first ever KMS mix compilation, mixed by Kevin Saunderson. The mix features 20 tracks by Chez Damier, D-Wynn, Ron Trent, Kenny Larkin, Gary Martin, Inner City, Kevin Saunderson as E-Dancer and more. Kevin bridges house and techno, flowing from early releases like 'The Sound' and 'Can You Feel It' through dance-floor monsters 'Forces' and 'Pump The Move'. Also features newer KMS releases, 'Love In Music', 'Senses' and D-Wynn's remix of 'Big Fun'." Additional artists: Inter City, Reese and Santonio, Paul Randolph, Infiltrate, The Closer, Ron & Che, Esser, Heath Brunner.

VA: Depth Charge 4 CD (SUB 4). $13.50

Features UR, Octave One, M500/3MB (Juan Atkins & Maurizio), Thomas Barnett, The Martian, Gigi Galaxy, Posatronix, Andre Holland, Project X, DJ T-1000, Vice (Jay Denhan), Missing Channel.

VA: Depth Charge 5 CD (SUB 5). $14.50

"Submerge, Detroit's best distributor of electronic music relaunched its Depth Charge series with its 5th installment. Deep Electronic Music best describes the sounds brought together on this compilation. It ranges from the electronic soul of Red Planet to the techno funk of 'Transition' and right through the underwater electro of Drexciya. Depth Charge 5 was mixed and compiled by Submerge's new resident DJ Dex. Features new and classic tracks never before available on CD." Includes DJ Rolando, UR, Drexciya, Mr. De', Shake, Mad Mike, The Martian, The Deacon, Gerald Mitchell, Silicon, Perception, Anthony "Shake" Shakir, Drexciya.

SUBMERGENCE MUSIC:

SCHNITZLER, CONRAD: Conal 2001 CD (SUB 0053). $13.50

"A brand new album by this legendary electronic artist, formerly with Tangerine Dream and Kluster. 60 minutes of new music, with the final 20-minute track constructed from previously-unreleased 1981 recordings! High-quality experimental electronic music from a true original."

TIETCHENS, ASMUS: Eisgang/Dämmerattacke 2CD (SUB 5005). $21.00

"Eisgang & Dämmerattacke were originally released as 2 separate limited edition LPs on Korm Plastics' 'Ambient Series' in 1995 and 1997, respectively. However, those familiar with Tietchens will realize that this is not your everyday ambient music! Roughly, the title Eisgang translates to 'Ice Flows', and Dämmerattacke means 'Spontaneous Twilight State'. Both albums contain long, slow moving icy yet dark structures. This reissue contains 20 minutes of previously unreleased material from the same period."

Fil: A Question For The Somnambulist CD (SUB 5006). $13.50

"Long awaited new CD. Fil have explored industrial, psychedelic and space-rock realms over the course of their career, and this is their first new release since 1997's excellent Helioscopium. An unexpected surprise this time is the return of co-founding member Richard Franecki as a full member (not merely a 'special guest')."

SUBSOUND RECORDS (AUSTRALIA):

LOPEZ, FRANCISCO: Untitled (1999) CD (SUBS 001). $13.00

"Untitled (1999) is released late 2001 to coincide with Lopez' first Australian tour. Comprising 7 untitled works ranging from one minute to eighteen minutes in length and recorded over the past three years, the release presents a wide ranging selection of Lopez' styles, typically representative of his dynamic live performances. Distant, subtle oceans of processed sound environments and selective use of silence contrast with powerful waves of full-frequency drones. Sound for deep listening at high volumes. Minimally packaged in a clear slimline jewelcase, Untitled (1999) is released in a limited edition of 500 copies."

SUBSTRACTIF (CANADA):

MENCHE, DANIEL: Eye On The Steel CD (SUBSF 07). $14.00

"Unlike the previous release by Menche, Eye On The Steel features many shorter tracks. The material is therefore much more diverse, consisting of thirteen new compositions, including Menche's first entirely vocal based track. The sound on Eye On The Steel is heavily based around drones, pulses and ambient noise, falling somewhere in the territories often treaded by labels like Mego and Ant Zen. When asked about the sound sources behind Eye On The Steel, Menche stresses the record is his most diverse offering yet and includes loads of different sound sources. His work often stems from sound sources as varied as the body (heart, skin, lungs, larynx) and natural field recordings relying on wind, animals, insects, water, fire, and stones to crude and primitive electronics, broken microphones, damaged speakers, antique audio equipment, truck horns, mangled drones from accordions, melodicas, organs, and bass guitars with heavy gauged strings."

AKIYAMA, MITCHELL: Hope That Lines Don't Cross CD (SUBSF 01). $13.00

"His debut focuses on a mixture of well crafted IDM and minimal movements, equipped with clicks, pops and scratches. Hope That Lines Don't Cross fits in alongside Tomas Jirku's Immaterial [SUBSF02]; both artists create beats with a heavy dub influence and play with field recordings. Akiyama fuses these with recordings of things like broken conversations, drones and church bells. The disc starts out with easy going, minimal IDM that makes for gentle listening, with a few more challenging moments. Other tracks could hold their ground with the biggest names in minimal techno. The Height of the Matter is reminiscent of Francisco Lopez, blending powerful environmental soundscapes with a very solid minimal beat introduced 2 minutes into the piece. Having come from a jazz background, Akiyama has an excellent sense of rhythm and melody and a fantastic knack for creating memorable music. Hope That Lines Don't Cross runs for 60 minutes and is broken up into 10 different tracks. Some of the pieces are so heavily built around pop aesthetics that you could easily get away with referring to them as songs."

JIRKU, TOMAS: Immaterial CD (SUBSF 02). $13.00

"Immaterial embodies headphone minimalism through a blend of very subtle and quiet passages constructed from field recordings, drones and loads of stereo effects, combined with layers of his signature minimal-click dub sound. Tomas Jirku has truly managed to create his own sound in a school that is overloaded with copycats and wannabes. Elements of what he is doing can be compared to the likes of Vladislav Delay, Pole and Thomas Brinkmann. The idea behind Immaterial was to work with fewer tracks and give them more time to develop, allowing the repetitious rhythms to really infect the listener. It includes four tracks and runs just over the sixty-minute mark. The tracks merge into each other, creating a single composition with 4 movements."

HECKER, TIM: Haunt Me, Haunt Me Do It Again CD (SUBSF 03). $13.00

"Tim Hecker is not be confused with Mego's Florian Hecker, but is rather the alter ego of techno maverick Jetone. As Jetone he has released a full length for Pitch cadet as well as the album Ultamarin for Force Tracks. There are certainly similarities to the likes of Angelo Badalamenti, Fennesz, Gas and Oval, but overall the sound is incredibly unique. Tim Hecker has managed to create some of the most memorable ambient music in the last few years. Much like the Austrian guitar/lap top experimentalist Fennesz, Hecker has perfected the art of catchy experimental ambient music. The recording is comprised of 17 tracks that blend seamlessly into one another, making it perfect for headphone listening or as background music. At times glitch-based minimalism, but also capturing the drama of post rock. Incredibly sad, yet hopeful music that sticks in your head for hours."

HECKER, TIM: My Love Is Rotten To The Core CD (SUBSF 04). $9.00

"My Love Is Rotten to the Core continues the precedent of musical sabotage, or plunder-phonics, established in Hecker's earlier releases. We will not ruin the surprise by mentioning who is at the mercy of this incredibly talented young artist but we can tell you that the outcome is amazing. If you were blown away by the homage to 60's pop by Fennesz, wait until you hear Tim Hecker's take on the 80's Cock Rock phenomenon. Tim Hecker has the remarkable ability to create compositions that combine both ambience and noise, yet remain very accessible to those who might normally avoid either or both of those genres. This is because he manages to create deeply emotional music even where there is a lack of melody, as is very evident on this latest EP. Here Hecker has laced together snippets of interviews, concert announcements and the manipulated sounds of the original artist to come up with possibly the most engaging experimental electronica to emerge in some time. Sampled voices unfold while a transformed guitar chord comes tearing from the left to the right speaker before erupting and reshaping itself again. This is ambient music with incredible punch and loads of surprises." 25-minute CD EP.

POLMO POLPO: The Science Of Breath CD (SUBSF 05). $13.00

"Toronto producer Sandro Perri, a.k.a. Polmo Polpo, who blends deep, murky techno with rich layers of feedback and densely orchestrated melodies. Trying to describe the sound of Polmo Polpo is not an easy task. The marriage of deep rhythms with shifting waves of melody and sometimes brutal white noise is certainly not a commonly used formula. This music is beyond catchy, the sound of the slide guitar shifting in and out of Gas-style minimalism gives the music a driving force that so much of the genre lacks. Over the last few years Polmo Polpo has released four separate 12" EPs on his own imprint Audi Sesna, all of which have gone on to sell out overseas rather quickly. The Science of Breath includes four beat-based tracks from the latest two of these EPs, as well as four new shorter tracks that bring the entire record together, and tread the grounds of sound sculptors like Fennesz and Tim Hecker. This comparison is made mainly on the basis of natural and processed guitar sounds interspersed amongst ambient movements, giving one the feeling of exploring the ocean floor inside a pressurized echo chamber. Heavily layered cello and lap steel guitar combine their colours to create a world of ghostly shadows immersed in the throbbing pulse of 'dance music'."

SUBTEXT (UK):

VEX'D: Pop Pop 12" (SUB 001EP). $11.00

"OK, you've probably heard of the 'grime' scene by now, also called Sublow and Dubstep, the darker side of urban music recently championed by Rephlex on their compilation of the same name. Well, that's one version of the scene, but for the last few months disparate kids around the UK have been carving out a niche for themselves with the darkest and freshest music — we're talking Rag & Bone, Hotflush, Big Apple, and now this new imprint — Subtext. This first twelve hits the scene at its creative pinnacle with the perfect blend of sharp beats, digital noises and the widest basslines. Pop Pop drops like no other, straight in with crisp and loud drums, a dark foreboding is conjured by the searing atmospheric synth in the background, and the build up is relatively short for the widest acid bassline to hit the floor — stabbing and morphing across the beats. It'll only take one listen for the ruffness to come through — a true steppers anthem. 'Flip for Canyon' which will appeal to the more digital minded, sharp is the word, the beats, the futuristic hoover noises gleaned from those hedonistic days of hardcore, and the absolute destructive and punching bassline that fires around the beat, creating a firing cut that'll no doubt be hell a rare in months to come."

These aren't the easiest of records to get outside of London town. This is one of those records that takes a familiar sound someplace new — an adrenaline fuelled bass bomb of excitement that's set to become a future classic, no doubt."

SUBVERSIV RECORDS (GERMANY):

VA: *Beyond Space Vol. 1 LP (VK 016LP). $17.00

"Beyond Space delivers nothing but new, exclusive songs from Sole, Alias (Deep Puddle Dynamics, Anticon), Odd Nosdam (Clouddead, Reaching Quiet), Passage, The Bommar Monk, Telephone Jim Jesus (Restiform Bodies), Circus and The Shapeshifters, and up-and-coming artists JD Walker, Emynd and Ognih. Artwork by Joe Rath, additional artwork and final mastering by Xndl."

SUCTION (CANADA):

LOWFISH: *Eliminator LP (SUCT 008 LP). $12.00

European vinyl pressing of this album. "The second full-length release by Suction's own full-time robot, Gregory de Rocher. While previous Lowfish efforts have regularly hinted at electro, Eliminator's 10 tracks positively boom. But there's a twist to these punishing drum-computer workouts. This is, after all, a Suction record, so it's fairly safe to assume that the DJs are going to find this all a little weird. Rarely have pounding 808 beats been cut with such intricate detail and stark, arresting melodies. Eliminator finds Lowfish locked away for months in the studio, with just an 808, a couple of synths, and a pile of rotten fx units, searching for 'that perfect melody'. He decided to get rid of his sampler, opting instead for an eight-output soundcard for his computer. 'Multiple tracks,' says Lowfish, 'means more 808 parts.' You may call Lowfish a bit of a purist. He makes no secret of his influences, including '70s modular-murk (Roedelius and Tangerine Dream), '80s electro-pop (OMD, New Order and the Art of Noise), crunchy techno (early Warp and Rephlex), and freaky new school electro (from Den Haag and Detroit)... and he manages to combine these diverse strains of electronic music history into a sound that is completely natural, utterly timeless and totally Lowfish, delivering everything a Suction robot could hope for: fierce electro beats, Fat Albert basslines, warm analog production, and catchy, memorable melodies. Robot music from Canada."

VA: *Snow Robots Volume 1 CD (SUCT 010). $12.50

"Hello. Snow Robots Volume 1 is a retrospective compilation CD from Canada's premiere source of robot music, Suction Records. Suction Records was founded in early 1997 by like-minded robot music composers Lowfish (Gregory De Rocher), and Solvent (Jason Amm). This CD compiles suction's out-of-print vinyl releases from 1997 in their entirety, and also features several exclusive goodies, both new & old. Suction Records' first 2 vinyl-only releases from 1997 highlight their 'distortion pedal new wave' beginnings. These tracks by Solvent, Lowfish and David Kristian are now available for the first time on CD. Originally brought out of the woodwork by Aphex Twin's Analogue Bubblebath material, the Suction robots joyously indulged in raw, distortion-pedal analog madness. But this was no Rephlex knock-off, for the Suction robots had already built up an impressive resume, with several years of bedroom-studio experience, and well-versed in the early works of Cabaret Voltaire, Human League and Skinny Puppy. The results are dark and filthy, but with a reckless sense of enthusiasm that will charm. To complement the chaos, Suction have rounded out Snow Robots Volume 1 with six variations on Suction's patented melodic electro-pop theme: Two pre-suction tracks by Gregory De Rocher — soothing, melodic and timeless electronica recorded in 1996 under the pseudonym pest(e); A remix of Solvent by Detroit's mutant techno-pop duo, Adult., who also run the seminal Ersatz Audio label; A remix of Lowfish by Germany's Lali Puna — moody electronic pop with paranoid female vocals (their debut LP was released on Morr Music/Darla); And a brand new, exclusive track each from Solvent and Lowfish — two melodic electro tracks that are definitive Suction."

VA: *Snow Robots Volume 2 CD (SUCT 011). $12.50

"Hello. Snow Robots Volume 2 is a retrospective compilation CD from Canada's premiere source of robot music, Suction Records. This CD compiles Suction's out-of-print vinyl releases from 1999 in their entirety, and also features several new and exclusive goodies. Suction Records' 3 vinyl-only releases from 1999 chronicle Suction's development from lo-fi electro mayhem to the melodic analog electro-pop sound that is now synonymous with Suction. This development was a reaction to changes in the bedroom-electronics scene, which was rapidly being overcrowded by computer geeks who treated music like code — clicking their mouses furiously while already imagining the e-news group fame that lay ahead. The Suction robots had had enough with all of this 'digital irony'; things just weren't sounding fresh anymore. And so, past masters were pulled from the record crates and re-evaluated with new ears; Depeche Mode, Roedelius, and OMD sounded warmer, and more vital than ever before, and this made a great impression. On Snow Robots Volume 2, you will still hear Suction's affinity for lo-fi weirdness, but you will also discover a noticeable refinement in these crucial robot-composer skills: melody, composition and synthesis. In 1999, Suction Records scoured the globe for robot-composers whose music demonstrated an affinity for these musical ideals — and found some: D'Arcangelo, from Rome, who have recorded for Rephlex, Nature and too many others to mention; Pluxus, naive electronic pop from Sweden; Tinfoil Teakettle, who were easy to find as they are in fact a Solvent & Lowfish collaboration; and Manchester's Brioche Kretzaal, a collaborator with UK labels Skam & V/vm. The same traits were sought from our team of wonderful remixers: The UK's soothing electronica maestros isan (Darla, Static Caravan, Morr Music...); Rome's videogame-pop duo Mat-101; former Le Car member and current Detroit electro-pop subversive Perspects; and Suction's newest full-time robot, Berlin's skanfrom, who's debut full-length CD will be released on suction in 2001."

SKANFROM: Hand-Picked Fragments CD (SUCT 012 CD). $12.50

"Hello. Suction Records is proud to present Hand-Picked Fragments, the debut full-length release by Skanfrom. Skanfrom is a robot from Germany named Roger. For those of you who complained that Suction only releases music by Solvent and Lowfish, here you go. It has taken us over 4 years to find a suitable robot to join Suction's full-time ranks. Skanfrom is obviously the man for the job, blending elements of modern electro with the raw, stripped down approach of early-80's synth-pop. Try to imagine the melancholy electro of Bochum Welt or Solvent, mixed with the stark, muffled robot-pop of Kraftwerk's Radioactivity. Skanfrom has been releasing his distinct brand of minimal electronic pop for several years on his own A.D.S.R. label, but if you blinked you could have missed out, because his A.D.S.R. releases have been strictly limited to small pressings of vinyl-only singles and cassettes. Suction felt it was necessary to release a retrospective of Skanfrom's obscure, underground career. Hand-Picked Fragments is a selection of Suction's favorite tracks from Skanfrom's sold-out A.D.S.R. back catalog, along with several new and exclusive tracks recorded for Suction."

LOWFISH: Maintain The Tension CD (SUCT 014 CD). $9.00

"Hello. Hot on the heels of his recent 12" for Detroit's Ersatz Audio label, Lowfish (aka Gregory de Rocher) returns to Suction Records for Maintain The Tension, a new 6-track EP of precision drum machine electropop. This is suction014. The title refers to a certain set of glorious knobs on one of Lowfish's prized vintage synthesizers, but we won't bore you with the details.... Lowfish's recent output has taken a turn towards dance-floor-friendly electro, but don't be scared of lowfish's dj-friendly beats! This is classic Suction robot pop, and Lowfish's rich & timeless synthpop melodies make these clubhits more akin to Depeche Mode circa 1981, than to Gigolo Records circa 2002, that's for certain. 'Speak and Spell' comparisons aside, this is utterly modern electronic dance music that is beautiful, engaging, & beyond trends. Forget electroclash, this is electroclass! Robot music from Canada. Thankyougoodbye."

GD LUXXE: Vendetta CD (SUCT 015 CD). $9.00

"New 5-track EP from GD Luxxe, aka Gerhard Potuznik from Vienna, Austria. Vendetta is vocal electro-pop music that would not sound at home on the International DJ Gigolos label. This is not techno music dressed in black leather and fluorescent pink gloves, no. Vendetta's five songs are electronic pop music of the timeless variety. From the flower-adorned cover artwork, to the sequencer-fueled melancholy of the music, it should come as no surprise that Gerhard counts New Order's Power, Corruption and Lies LP as an all-time favorite. With vendetta, GD Luxxe takes the sound of classic-era New Order as a starting point, and makes his own statement for 2002. Honest, memorable, and sincere, Vendetta is a perfect slice of electronic pop music for the home and for the dancefloor."

SUD ELECTRONIC (UK):

VA: What Was It Like Before I Got Into Electricity? 2LP (SUD 002 LP). $19.00

"With broken-micro-clicked-up House compilations being two-a-penny these days, it's nice to see something that stands out so brilliantly. The lineup is tantalizing: new tracks from Farben, Sutekh, Andy Vaz, Lump, Jay Haze, Peter F Speiss, Thomas Jirku and Portable's Alan Abrahams, and it's so satisfying to discover that beside the personnel the calibre of the tracks is at a simply exceptional level. Farben's opening 'A Famous Myth' sees Jan Jelinek delivering one of his most devastating dancefloor cuts to date — a subsonic shuffle through deep bass wobbles and microlite neon tones, something he does beautifully as standard magnified here by an attention to detail and warmth that sets the standard for what's to follow. Jay Haze follows and bounces off a filthy backing, all scrunched up sheets of static and jocular bass tones, miraculously funky, perfectly delivered. Andy Vaz lifts off the funk in a similarly dirty fashion, the man uses bass relentlessly, here managing to reduce the reduction to less of minimal thing, illustrating with his usual flair that less may well be more, but that a party is a party and that there's a time and a place for every mood and tone — awesome stuff. Sutekh's 'After Laughter', meanwhile, re-delivers the hiccup funk of Akufen with something less microscopic, the emphasis residing firmly with the twilight keys, late night tackle. Alan Abram's closing 'Untitled' provides the required catharsis with a sublime, beat-less closer that would find a padded home on labels such as 12k, Type or Mille Plateaux — once again illustrating good judgement, good ears and an understanding that every night out eventually comes to an end."

SULA (NORWAY):

PETTER MOALVER VS. HERBERT, NILS: Hurry Slowly 12" (SULA 19638). $9.00

"Nils Petter Moalver, Norwegian trumpet player, composer and producer, connects stylistic extremes-jazz, ambient, house, electronic and breakbeats — and effortlessly melts them into convincing soundscapes of deep intensity gets the unique remix treatment from one-and-only Matthew Herbert. Subtle, experimental, Jazz, & Herbertish."

SUNDAY SERVICE (GERMANY):

FINN.: Expose Yourself To Lower Education CD (SUN 002 CD). $16.00

"Expose Yourself... comprises one intro and nine fragile worldwide hits that feature an acoustic guitar enchanted by analog shooting stars. Solemn synth strings appear to have strayed here from an old Shellac record, while the beats pulsate gently and almost absently. Above it all hovers an entranced falsetto, celebrating every single breath and forming words into sounds. Finn plays music for a different reality — his debut album is an ever-merging sea of melodies, a rapture of the deep, a bewitchingly beautiful parallel cosmos. We dive down into an intriguing world suffused with soft twilight — expose yourself. With its second release (after Künnecke & Smukal) Sunday Service again expands the concept of singer/songwriter, getting closer to heaven yet another little step."

FINN.: Expose Yourself To Lower Education LP (SUN 002 LP). $15.00
LP version.

JULLANDER: Interiors CD (SUN 003 CD). $16.00

"Jullander flee from ugly rock and cheerless postrock. On their run, they find old jazz and new electronics. Richly ornamented and simple at the same time, ten songs line up in unexpected easiness and sometimes touching beauty. On Interiors, Jullander speak of movies that they like and of those that haven't been made yet. In any case, cameras are lurking everywhere. Interiors is Jullander's second album. Their previous recordings have been licensed for England, Croatia and Japan. They have played shows in Germany, Benelux and England with bands such as Low, Billy Mahonie and June Of 44. This autumn, a Jullander song will be released on a single by the English label Twisted Nerve."

JULLANDER: Interiors LP (SUN 003 LP). $15.00
LP version.

SUNDazed:

C.A. QUINTET: Trip Thru Hell CD (SC 11021). $14.50

1995 reissue of this Mpls. garage rock "classic", originally issued as a private press LP in 1968. "Something very, very strange was afoot in the midwest during the 60's, and we're not talking about David Letterman's stint as a local TV weatherman. While L.A. was tiptoeing through the tulips, New York was groovin' and London was electrifying bananas, these brainiacs were booking a journey to Hades. Get your contact high from a safe distance with this intense, fuzz-ridden passel of ones and zeros. Our package contains the entire mind-bent original album plus 12 bonus cuts, a fat booklet jammed with rare photos and notes, and more!"

MU: 2CD (SC 11037). $21.00

Repress of this 1997 reissue, which superceded the prior Subliminal Sounds issue, a completely fantastic release of this group's output spanning 1971-74. Featuring the legendary Merrell Fankhauser (post-HMS Bounty) and Jeff Cotton (post-Beeheart's Magic Band), this features their first album, singles tracks and Maui album sessions (unissued at the time, later released in the 80s as The Last Album and then End Of An Era on Reckless. The documentation of cosmic permeation and general aura of "unhingedness" has rarely been equalled within the recording medium, this stuff puts you right there on lip of the saucer. Comes with a booklet of pretty amazing photos and Fankhauser liner notes.

WEST COAST POP ART EXPERIMENTAL BAND: Volume One CD (SC 11047). $14.50

All tracks recorded in Beverly Hills, 1965-67. Features 8 previously unreleased tracks. Predates their legendary output of 3 LPs on the Reprise label in the late 60s. "Cut in their storefront studio in 1966, this package revives the impossibly rare first album by the West Coast Pop Art Experimental Band on the Fifo label. The folk/rock of the Byrds, the emerging trippiness of the Beatles and some dynamic recent material by Bob Dylan is employed by these precocious teenagers as a springboard to their own style in a foretaste of things to come." — Jud Cost.

LEAVES, THE: Are Happening: Best of the Leaves CD (SC 11058). $14.00

"Primo L.A. folk-punk. Take a pinch of the Byrds, add a heaping teaspoon of Love, and you've got the happening Leaves, prime movers on the Sunset Strip scene, who hit the charts with the most manic "Hey Joe" you'll ever hear. The Leaves Are Happening collects the complete Mira recordings, including the entire Hey Joe album, plus all rare single sides, cool photos, and more."

DIMENSION DOLLS, THE: The Dimension Dolls CD (SC 11062). $14.00

"Never again would instantly catchy, soulful arrangements intersect pop-music genius in perfect celestial alignment as it did in the chart smashes by the divas of the Dimension label. Huge hits by Little Eva ('The Loco-motion'), the Cookies ('Chains') and songwriting legend Carole King ('It Might As Well Rain Until September') is now available in one heaping helping in the expanded CD-version of The Dimension Dolls. Loaded with new notes and rare photos, this disc follows hot on the stiletto heels of our fabulously successful release of The CANTERBURY FAIR: CD (SC 11064). $14.00

"By skillfully employing a keyboard arsenal and monstrous fuzzadelic bass, John and Philip Hollingsworth and a couple of plas created epic tapestries of mind-bending sound there were too large for their hometown of Fresno, CA. Before long, Canterbury Fair was unfurling its wide-screen soundscapes before the wide-eyed patrons of San Francisco's legendary ballrooms. This collection includes the A-side of the ultra-rare single 'Song On A May Morning' as well as the group's astounding never-before-heard full length album." Long lost West Coast album, recorded 1967-69.

JOSEFUS: Dead Man/Get Off My Case CD (SC 11066). $14.00

First legit CD reissue of this legendary Texas group. Includes their self-released first album, Dead Man, from 1970, plus the demos from 1969 (later issued as the Get Off My Case album). "Pete Bailey's banshee vocals, Dave Mitchell's howling guitar and Doug Tull's cosmic thud made Josefus the uncontested lone Star state hi-decibel heavyweight champ. Deadman, their hideously rare first longplayer — joined here by the previously unreleased version of the album — is a bare-knuckled slugfest with the devastating wallop of a Texas tornado. Never before seen photos, new liner notes, and 14 killer tracks all taken from the original masters complete definitive Josefus package!"

SPENCE, ALEXANDER "SKIP": Oar CD (SC 11075). $14.00

New, definitive CD reissue of this psychedelic masterpiece from 1969, a harrowing stroke of desolation and one of the peak American recordings of its era. "Oar was the visionary solo work recorded during Alexander 'Skip' Spence's last days as part of the seminal San Francisco band Moby Grape. Mastered from the original session tapes by Bob Irwin, the Sundazed issue will also contain previously unheard material from the original sessions, unpublished photos, and in-depth annotation by David Fricke, Greil Marcus and Jud Cost. Very importantly, Sundazed restores the original Columbia album version of Oar directly from the original 2-track master tapes, circa 1968. The prior (non-Sundazed) CD edition was remixed and, unfortunately, bore little sonic resemblance to the highly distinctive and far superior original album mix. The bonus cuts included on this Sundazed set are exact representations of what Skip recorded during the last day of the historic Oar sessions." Includes the original 12 albums tracks, the 5 bonus tracks featured on the previous Sony CD version, and 5 additional unissued bonus tracks never before heard.

VA: The Daisy/Tiger Records Story CD (SC 11080). $14.00

"When the Midas touch Hall Of Fame producer/songwriting team of Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller launched their own record labels, Daisy and Tiger, in 1963, the quality of the ensuing singles was a given. They were bound to be knockouts. From Dee Dee Warwick and Bessie Banks to Alvin Robinson and Roy Buchanan, everything on the label was dripping with the magic Leiber & Stoller had woven so well with previous chart-topping acts like the Coasters, the Drifters and the Clovers. Who could resist the chance to poke around the backwaters of Leiber & Stoller country to re-discover the unmitigated joys of Bob Moore & The Temps, the Lovejoys and Moody & The Deltas? The Daisy/Tiger Records Story features every single track released by Daisy and Tiger, all from the original master tapes, plus — for the first time ever — three previously unissued alternate versions."

METERS, THE: Kickback CD (SC 11081). $14.00

"No city marches to a funkier beat than New Orleans, and no Crescent City band ever upheld the joyous second-line tradition with prouder panache than the Meters. Their eight classic 1969-1977 albums for Josie, Reprise, and Warner Bros. — all of them available on Sundazed — signaled a new and exciting era of Big Easy funk. Now it's time to dig a little deeper: Kickback — in essence, the Meters album that never was — gathers precious rarities from the Meters' mid-'70s Fire On The Bayou/Trick Bag period, including previously unissued gems, newly unearthed alternate versions, and a treasure trove of blistering funk sure to delight fans of the legendary group."

MU: Return To MU CD (SC 11088). $14.00

Basically the same release as the Captain Trip Merrell Fankhauser: Return to Mu CD — a collection of Merrell's mid-70s Maui-based songs, performed by various permutations of his Mu collective. Classic hippy idealism and pure saucer infatuation, sounds good no matter what the decade. "Merrell Fankhauser — The eccentric guitar/ songwriting genius behind psych/folk-rockers Fapardokly and H.M.S. Bounty — is back on the scene with an all-new album of shimmering delights from MU, his long-dormant band of lysergic visionaries. Return To MU not only flashes the utopian spirit of those golden days of the Summer Of Love, it features many of its original participants, including: Quicksilver Messenger Service guitar god John Cipollina, Jay Ferguson and Ed Cassidy of Spirit, John McEuen of the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band and Rolling Stones/Kinks session keyboard whiz Nicky Hopkins."

WENDY & BONNIE: Genesis CD (SC 11089). $14.00

"Genesis, the sole album by SF-based sisters Wendy and Bonnie Flower, ranks as one of the most remarkable unheard albums of 1969. With melodic confections laced with radiant sisterly harmony, the breezy Brazilian splashes and soft-rock strains of Genesis convey a sophistication that belies the artists' tender ages (Wendy 17, Bonnie 13). Produced for reissue by Irwin Chusid (author of Songs In The Key Of Z: The Curious Universe Of Outsider Music) with Wendy & Bonnie's full participation, Genesis makes its long-awaited official CD bow with 5 bonus tracks, interviews with Wendy & Bonnie, and a treasure trove of candid photos."

PARSONS, GRAM: Another Side Of This Life/The Last Recordings CD (SC 11092).

$14.00

"18 previously unheard demo recordings of Gram Parsons, country-rock pioneer and former member of the Byrds and founding member of the Flying Burrito Brothers. This release — available on CD and 180-gram vinyl — features Parsons, singing and playing acoustic guitar, recorded from March 1965 to April 1966 at the home of his Winter Haven, Fla. friend, Jim Carlton. Another Side of This Life also features rare photos and a detailed liner essay by noted writer Stanley Booth." From Jim Carlton's liner notes: "He was dropping names like Fred Neil, Dick Weissman and Bob Dylan...he was an urban folkie and damn good at it. Several of the tunes on this CD, obviously of their era, to my knowledge, are the only surviving recordings of his foray into the Village folk music scene...others provide a glimpse of the incipient stages of his landmark group The International Submarine Band."

VA: Get Low Down! The Soul Of New Orleans, '65-'67 2CD (SC 11094). $23.00

"From legends like Lee Dorsey and Betty Harris to cult heroes such as Curly Moore and Willie Harper, these 50 slinky, cayenne-infused workouts circa '65-'67 — all taken from the vintage Bell/Amy/Sansu master tapes — are stoked by ace New Orleans session men, like master chefs stirring boiling gumbo pots, ready and able to turn up the heat under every soulful vocalist the home of Mardi Gras had to offer!"

WRAY & THE WRAYMEN, LINK: Slinky! The Epic Sessions '58-'61 2CD (SC 11098). $23.00

"Corrals Link's complete Epic Records output for the 1st time! Slinky! The Epic Sessions, a deluxe double-whammy 2 CD set from Link Wray and the Wraymen — brother Doug on drums, Shorty Horton on bass, and brother Vernon on rhythm guitar and piano — captures their complete raw-hided, fuzz-fueled Epic recordings and some of the raunchiest guitar ever committed to tape. Recorded between late 1958 and early '61, our master-tape motherlode features 46 cuts — a whopping 16 previously unissued — including sensational single-sides, album cuts and alternate takes, all with riffs as sharp as a switchblade."

MILLENNIUM, THE: Magic Time: The Millennium/Ballroom Sessions 3CD (SC 11102). $34.00

"We've combed the Columbia vaults to present Magic Time, the most comprehensive set of Ballroom and Millennium material ever assembled: a three CD set with nearly three dizzying hours of music, produced by Curt Boettcher and Keith Olsen, whose dazzlingly inventive soundscapes and choral arrangements pushed the boundaries of music far beyond the breaking point to create a perfect hybrid of Soft Rock and Psychedelia, circa '65-'68. Produced with the full cooperation of the Ballroom/Millennium members, Magic Time comes to you direct from the original analog master tapes, and includes the complete Ballroom album plus unissued cuts, the timeless Millennium album Begin, alternate and single mixes of Millennium tracks, as well as interviews with band members and rare photos from their archives. A whopping 62 tracks — 22 previously unissued."

PATTERSON, BOBBY: Soul Is My Music: The Best Of Bobby Patterson 2CD (SC 11105). $18.00

"When Sundazed purchased the Abnak/Jetstar masters, we discovered a cache of unissued recordings by the dynamic soul singer Bobby Patterson. Accompanied by his combo, the Mustangs, the Dallas-based singer signed with Abnak/Jetstar in '65 and soon soared up the national R&B charts with sizzling sides that spotlighted his dynamic, versatile vocals. Included in this specially-priced, comprehensive two-disc mother lode of vintage soul are every recording Bobby released on the Abnak and Jetstar labels from 1965-1970, along with nine previously unissued tracks."

CYRKLE, THE: The Minx Soundtrack CD (SC 11106). $14.00

"A highly-sought-after collector's item, The Minx soundtrack is full of the Cyrkle's trademark three-part harmonies, intricate arrangements, and paisley-psychedelic sounds (the percussion intro of 'Nicole' has become a break-beat classic). Recorded in 1967, following the Cyrkle's pop chart success with Paul Simon's 'Red Rubber Ball' and their own 'Turn-Down Day' — and shelved until the film's release two years later, The Minx has eluded the grasp of even the most dedicated Cyrkle fan, until now. For this first-ever legitimate reissue, we've found the long-lost master tapes and added eight bonus tracks, seven of which are previously unissued, along with liner notes based on new interviews with the Cyrkle's Tom Dawes, Don Dannemann, and Marty Fried."

THE PAISLEYS: Cosmic Mind At Play CD (SC 11112). $14.00

"The Paisleys' mystical, brooding album, Cosmic Mind At Play, makes it's first ever legit re-release on Sundazed. We've roughed up the band members (along with legendary producer Warren Kendrick), raided their closets and unearthed more than enough Upper Midwest jewels to mind-expand this album to near-bust; now included along with the rare original issue are a bevy of extras; unissued cuts from the sessions, revealing demos, and vintage live recordings... Sundazed proudly presents the full, swirly-psychedelic portrait of these dark Minneapolis wizards."

HOLMBERG, DOTI: Sometimes Happy Times CD (SC 11114). $14.00

"Her clarion voice can be heard ringing with the GoldeBriars, the folk-pop group she formed with Curt Boettcher, and as part of the heavenly chorus that lifted Boettcher's productions into the stratosphere. Sometimes Happy Times features 17 unissued masterpieces of sunshine pop, including collaborations with Boettcher, Sandy Salisbury, and Keith Olsen (Millennium), demos, and home recordings from 1966-1970 that are stunning in their simple beauty."

BYRDS, THE: The Preflyte Sessions 2CD (SC 11116). $28.00

"Before turning rock 'n' roll on its ear in 1965, the Byrds spent countless hours creating and refining their unique sound at LA's World Pacific Studios, where they recorded newborn, spine-tingling versions of classics-to-be like 'Mr. Tambourine Man' and lost gems such as 'You Showed Me' (later a smash for the Turtles). The 2-CD (and double 180 gram gatefold LP) Preflyte Sessions — the most comprehensive collection of the Byrds' pre-Columbia recordings ever assembled — captures the newly-kindled fire and enthusiasm of one of the most legendary and influential groups of all time."

THE LOVE GENERATION: Love And Sunshine: The Best Of The Love Generation CD (SC 11120). $14.00

"They may be more familiar as the voices behind some of the best-loved Partridge Family recordings, but during the late '60s, The Love Generation's flawless harmonies epitomized California pop-psych. Beginning with 1967's 'Groovy Summertime,' this group fashioned some of the lushest, most sun-drenched recordings ever, including their 1968 hit rendition of Jimmy Webb's 'Montage from How Sweet It Is (I Knew That You Knew).'Love And Sunshine, the 25-track strong, first-ever Best Of, features tracks from their three Imperial albums, plus the B-side 'Catchin' Up On Fun.'"

WILLIS, CHUCK: Chuck Willis Waits! The Complete Okeh Recordings, '51-'56 2CD (SC 11122). $26.00

"Chuck Rules The House! With his fervent, soaring vocals blistering through both thunderous jump blues and spine-tingling ballads, the sensational Chuck Willis, crowned 'The King Of The Stroll', scored many R&B smashes for the Okeh label in the mid-50s. Comprising 51 tracks, this first-ever, vault-emptying 2-disc retrospective features from the original master tapes every recording Willis waxed for Okeh, Columbia and Epic Records, 1951-1956: blazing 78rpm and 45rpm sides, album tracks, and long-lost gems heard here for the very first time."

GENTLE SOUL, THE: The Gentle Soul CD (SC 11123). $14.00

"The Gentle Soul — with their beguiling blend of sunshine pop and folk-psych, spotlighting the ethereal harmonies of Pamela Polland and Rick Stanley — recorded just one album and a handful of singles, now highly sought-after and regarded as some of the most perfectly realized gems from the groundbreaking Los Angeles folk-rock scene that also embraced the Byrds, Tim Buckley and Buffalo Springfield. The Gentle Soul's Terry Melcher-produced debut — with a band including Ry Cooder, Van Dyke Parks, Larry Knechtel, and Mike Deasy — remains a rare treasure from California's golden age of mind expansion. Reissued with the full participation of Pamela Polland and Rick Stanley, The Gentle Soul features their exceedingly scarce original 1968 Epic Records album, plus nine bonus tracks—including all non-LP single sides and four previously unissued tracks—and unpublished photos from the group's archives."

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA: United States Of America CD (SC 11124). $14.00

"Fueled by the avant-garde sonic ammo of keyboardist/composer Joe Byrd and the haunting vocals of Dorothy Moskowitz, the United States Of America found a way to permanently hardwire space-age electronic music to the heart of rock and roll on their highly desirable, self-titled 1968 debut. Byrd's kaleidoscopic musical excursions and Gordon Marron's searing violin orbit around the icy vocals of Moskowitz, who — with a passing resemblance to early Jefferson Airplane belter Signe Anderson — remains the group's center, steady as a rock. This heady mind-trip is reissued with the participation of both Byrd and Moskowitz, sports 10 amazing bonus cuts, comprehensively fascinating liner notes by Byrd, himself, and — newly mastered from the original analog source tapes — has never sounded better."

VA: Looking For My Baby! Soul Treasures from the Vaults... 2CD (SC 11125). $26.00

"...of Amy Mala Bell. "Next to the mighty Atlantic Records, Larry Uttal's Amy-Mala-Bell family of labels issued more classic soul music during the 1960s than any other New York indie company. Looking For My Baby! - Soul Treasures from the Vaults of Amy-Mala-Bell takes the first ever indepth look at this very important body of work, consisting of 50 splendid tracks that either hit the streets on Amy, Mala, or Bell, or one of the many labels across the country that Uttal distributed nationally (Maxx, Aurora, Big Hill, Twin Stacks, Big Top, AGP). Highlights include The Emperors' 'Karate' (later adapted by Carlos Santana as 'Everybody's Everything'), The Emotions' 'Brushfire,' Lou Johnson's stately Burt Bacharach/Hal David penned 'There's Always Something There To Remind Me,' Gladys Knight & The Pips' Van McCoy-helmed 1964 hit 'Giving Up,' two sizzling '69 tracks by the dynamic duo of Larry Williams & Johnny 'Guitar' Watson, and many, many others."

VA: Lost Legends Of Surf Guitar I - Big Noise From Waimea CD (SC 11126). $14.00

"Sundazed loudly launches our supercharged new series, indelibly capturing the widescreen picture of pounding vintage surf and hot rod guitar instrumentals — the first-ever, broad-based, legitimate survey of these incendiary recordings! From the endless beaches of Orange County to the countless lakes of Minnesota, Lost Legends Of Surf Guitar spotlights an avalanche of reverb-guitar staccato — ripping surf and speed-fest sounds from the original masters. Featuring performances from echo-drenched legends such as the Pyramids, David Marks & The Marksmen, the Original Surfaris, Trashmen and Tornados, as well as unsung longboard heroes like the Royal Coachmen, Thom Starr & the Galaxies, Jan Davis, Dave Myers & the Surftones, and a ton of others! Big sounds from the original masters — 20 tracks per disc including previously unheard vintage cuts on each volume."

VA: Lost Legends Of Surf Guitar II - Point Panic! CD (SC 11127). $14.00

Volume 2.

VA: Lost Legends Of Surf Guitar III - Cheater Stomp! CD (SC 11128). $14.00

Volume 3.

GURUS, THE: The Gurus Are Hear! CD (SC 11130). $14.00

"The stuff of longplaying-legends and vinyl-myths, the Gurus waxed two stunning singles for United Artists Records in 1966, both 45's in sky high-demand within the haunted worlds of garage and psych collectors worldwide. Here's where it gets interesting...a full-length Gurus' album was also recorded, designed, and advertised for release in 1967, but was ultimately shelved before its issue for reasons unknown...At the top of psych-lovers' want lists everywhere, we're proud to announce that Sundazed has researched, excavated, and licensed the entire unissued Gurus' project from the vaults of EMI/United Artists, in all of it's raga-infused glory."

GRUESOMES, THE: Gruesomology 1985-89 CD (SC 11132). $14.00

"By the light of a beat-up TV flickering in their filthy Montreal basement, the Gruesomes once created a short stack of sizzling singles and an armful of albums phosphorescent enough to be used as road flares. We've done everything but scrape the studio floor for this all-encompassing re-introduction to the most glow-in-the-dark garage/punk band to ever sneak across the border from Canada. Here it is, on CD at last, the big picture of the Gruesomes' wild and sleazy teenage lust, exactly where it belongs: on Sundazed."

BRYANT, JIMMY: Frettin' Fingers : The Lightning Guitar of Jimmy Bryant 3CD (SC 11134). $35.00

"Here at last is the ultimate 3-CD box set that illuminates guitarist Jimmy Bryant's fretboard genius once and for all, spotlighting the dizzying technique, the fluent lines and the electrifying flights of improvisation that have made Bryant a legend with guitar cognoscenti everywhere. To say Jimmy Bryant was as important to country-guitar picking as Charlie Parker was to bebop is a tribute to both legends. This deluxe-edition, 75-track, career-spanning collection is loaded with the gravity-defying, Capitol-era duets of Bryant and Speedy West, the never-reissued Bryant solo material from the Imperial and Dolton labels, as well as a large handful of ultra-rare singles, unissued material and previously unheard alternate versions. Blessed with the heart of a country boy and the soul of a groundbreaking jazzman, Jimmy Bryant is of that rare breed whose work will always sound ahead of its time. The first-ever career-spanning collection of Bryant's dizzying guitar work, 1950 -1967."

ALLAN & THE ARROWS, DAVIE: Restless In L.A. CD (SC 11135). $14.00

"Loud, loose and savage! Davie Allan & The Arrows come crashing back on the scene with an all-new set of raunchy masterpieces. Unique among American musical icons, Allan always had the uncanny knack of straddling the worlds of brain-omelette psychedelia and raw-boned surf with the most fuzzed-out guitar sound ever committed to tape. His storied soundtrack music for trashy biker flicks like The Wild Angels — whose theme is re-cut here in all its cortex-splattering glory — is the stuff of legends. Now Davie has returned to fry the gray matter of an audience primed for his distinct blend of acid and sand with a smoking set of originals and ultra-choice covers. Allan's even picked up vintage axes he hasn't touched in decades to give Restless In L.A. its over-the-top, radioactive glow of fuzz, just to let you know this could be no on else on earth but L.A.'s original guitar hero: Davie Allan!"

DAVIS, JAN: Boss Guitar! The Best of Jan Davis CD (SC 11136). $14.00

"An unheralded master of cool '60s instrumentals, Jan Davis straddled the worlds of the Ventures, the Rockin' Rebels and the Shadows like a guitar-wielding superhero. Problem was, none of Davis' eye-popping singles dented the national sales charts, so we're here to right that wrong with 20 of his most powerful tunes."

ALLAN & THE ARROWS, DAVIE: Devil's Rumble: Anthology '64-'68 2CD (SC 11138). $26.00

"Through exclusive arrangement with Curb Records, Sundazed is thrilled to announce the release of the ultimate, fuzzed-out '60s gems by the legendary Davie Allan & The Arrows. Davie Allan & The Arrows recorded the most frenzied instrumentals the world has ever heard. Allan's fuzzed-out guitar was an audio compass pointing towards freedom, sex, danger and violence, his trashy fretboard riffs exploding behind flickering celluloid images of cycle runs, biker fights, drug freakouts and rubber-burnin' hot rods. To restore Davie Allan to his rightful place atop the ranks of fabled guitar gunslingers, we have lovingly compiled a 40-track, double CD/28-track, double LP gatefold-edition anthology that rounds up the best of Allan's 45s, sizzling album cuts, and many mind-plattering widescreen rarities."

VA: Garage Beat '66 Vol. 1: Like What, Me Worry? CD (SC 11139). $14.00

"The time is ripe to tell the full story of an army of longhaired, pimply teenagers who flailed away on their instruments between mom's car and the cat box — and forever changed the world: Garage Beat '66! Sundazed is proud to announce the first 3 volumes of the most far-reaching, legit vintage garage rock series ever: Garage Beat '66. The next obvious step for Nuggets lovers, Garage Beat will span the U.S. and Canada; each disc spotlighting 20 fuzz-drenched tracks from genre heroes like The Music Machine, The Guess Who, The Litter, and The Remains as well as obscure killers from forgotten warriors like The Ugly Ducklings, The Jynx, The Preachers, and pre-Allie Cooper creepy-crawlers, The Spiders. Best of all, Garage Beat has been assembled from the original source tapes with full participation of many artists — which means this stuff has never sounded so good. We've included copious liner notes by garage experts and tons of eye-popping band photos and graphics."

VA: Garage Beat '66 Vol. 2: Chicks Are For Kids! CD (SC 11140). $14.00

Featuring incredible 60s garage pounders by: The Guess Who, The Sonics, The Ugly Ducklings, The Litter, Things To Come, The Barbarians, The Spiders, Third Bardo, and many, many more.

VA: Garage Beat '66 Vol. 3: Feeling Zero CD (SC 11141). $14.00

Featuring incredible 60s garage pounders by: The Music Machine, The Preachers, The Answer, The Others, The Purple Underground, The Brogues, The Living Children, and many, many more.

SPENCE, ALEXANDER "SKIP": All My Life (I Love You)/Land Of The Sun 7" (SC 153). $3.50

"Two of Skip's rare post-Qar studio excursions; 'All My Life (I Love You),' from '72, is Spence's boisterous take on Badfinger/Raspberries-style power pop, while 'Land Of The Sun,' recorded in '96 with the X Files in mind, sounds like nothing else under the sun, and finds Skip sonorously intoning a poem atop a psychedelic bed of sound."

SPENCE, ALEXANDER "SKIP": Oar LP (SC 5030 LP). $15.50

"The haunted genius of Alexander 'Skip' Spence's Oar returns at long last to its original format: the LP. Sundazed is ecstatic to be able to reissue Spence's cult classic on 180 gram vinyl — with original track listing, liner notes, and photos intact. Spence — a founding member of seminal San Fran skullbenders Moby Grape — cut his only solo work in Nashville immediately after being released from New York's Bellevue Hospital late in 1968. Unavailable on the collector's market these days at any price, Oar vanished without a trace when first released in 1969. Frequently compared to the likes of Syd Barrett and Nick Drake, Spence's visionary work walks the tightrope between reality and delusion, and remains a national treasure." No CD bonus tracks included, those will possibly be issued as separate LP later.

POP, IGGY: New Values LP (SC 5039 LP). $13.00

"From his Motor City days with the Psychedelic Stooges, or glamping it up with Reed and Bowie, or onstage self-mutilation, Iggy Pop has always done what he damn well pleases. Fortunately, in today's street parlance: 'It's all good.' Here are two razor sharp, wiry classics from the Ig's mighty Arista period, recorded at the height of the punk/new wave era. Aided by the likes of ex-Stooges Scott Thurston and James Williamson, former Sex Pistol Glen Matlock, and Patti Smith group alum Ivan Kral, Iggy shows all the pretenders how it's done on these cutting edge platters. Primal 180 gram vinyl. Originally released 1979."

RIISING SONS, THE: The Rising Sons LP (SC 5054 LP). $15.50

"Featuring Taj Mahal, Ry Cooder, Jesse Lee Kincaid, Kevin Kelley, and Gary Marker, the Rising Sons added an earthy dose of rural country blues to the fast-evolving rock scene of the mid-'60s. Now, at long last, they make their LP debut with one of the great unissued albums of the '60s."

BYRDS: Fifth Dimension LP (SC 5059LP). $15.50

Third album, originally released in 1966. With 3 bonus tracks.

BYRDS: Younger Than Yesterday LP (SC 5060LP). $15.50

Fourth album, originally released in 1967.

REDDING, OTIS: Dictionary Of Soul LP (SC 5063 LP). $15.50

"Nobody borrowed more deeply into a song than Otis Redding — hands down, the most emotive, soulful singer the '60s ever produced. Redding's impassioned, sweat-soaked delivery kept him straddling both pop and soul charts until his untimely death in 1967. Here are 180-gram vinyl exact reproductions of three of Redding's best: 1965's Otis Blue: Complete And Unbelievable...The Otis Redding Dictionary Of Soul from 1966; and King & Queen, an 1967 duet album with Carla Thomas. Everything is taken from the absolute master tapes with Otis Blue and Dictionary in the original mono and King & Queen in knockout stereo."

REDDING, OTIS: Otis Blue LP (SC 5064 LP). $15.50

Reissue of the 4th Otis Redding album, originally issued on Volt in 1965. 180 gram pressing.

BYRDS, THE: Sanctuary III LP (SC 5066 LP). $15.50

"Ballad of Easy Rider and Untitled outtakes, spotlighting Clarence White's fretboard genius. Exclusive interviews w/Roger McGuinn and John York."

REDDING & CARLA THOMAS, OTIS: King & Queen LP (SC 5069 LP). $15.50

DYLAN, BOB: Bringing It All Back Home LP (SC 5070 LP). $15.50

First in a series of Bob Dylan LP reissues on Sundazed, which will be mastered from original tapes and in Mono. "Recorded in three short days in January 1965, Bringing It All Back Home found Dylan 'going electric' and gaining his first Top 40 airplay with 'Subterranean Homesick Blues.' Sundazed proudly presents Bringing It All Back Home in an exact reproduction on 180 gram vinyl, featuring the album's original mono mix — unavailable for over 30 years — and all-analog mastering."

DYLAN, BOB: Highway 61 Revisited LP (SC 5071 LP). $15.50

"Highway 61 Revisited is a landmark album. For the first time, Bob Dylan goes electric, back-boned by the studio prowess of Al Kooper, Michael Bloomfield and others on such classics as the epochal 'Like A Rolling Stone.' This Sundazed edition is an exact reproduction of the rare original 1965 mono album, featuring the original sleeve-notes and photos, and all-analog mastering from the absolute original source tapes."

PARSONS, GRAM: Another Side Of This Life/The Lost Recordings LP (SC 5076 LP). $14.00

180-gram vinyl version

MUSIC EMPORIUM: Music Emporium LP (SC 5078 LP). $15.50

LP version in full color, die-cut gatefold sleeve (as per the original). 180 gram vinyl.

METERS, THE: Kickback LP (SC 5081 LP). $15.50

METERS, THE: Zony Mash LP (SC 5087 LP). $15.50

BYRDS, THE: Sanctuary IV LP (SC 5090 LP). $15.50

"The Sanctuary spotlight shifts with volume IV to the Nashville sessions for the Byrds' landmark 1968 album Sweetheart of the Rodeo. Spurred on by new member Gram Parsons, formerly of the International Submarine Band, the Byrds traveled to Nashville to fashion the innovative country/rock blend that's been part of American culture ever since. Sanctuary IV collects all of Parsons' vocal takes for the first time, as well as other outtakes and rehearsals which document the creation of an album unlike any other. First time on vinyl for all tracks; annotation by Byrds' Roger McGuinn, Chris Hillman and Kevin Kelley."

MC5, THE: Kick Out The Jams LP (SC 5092 LP). $15.50

"The MC5 give you a true testimonial, alive and uncensored, on one of the most explosive albums ever! Their revolutionary 1968 debut LP is now restored to its original gatefold glory, from the original analog masters & complete with John Sinclair's unexpurgated liner notes."

MC5, THE: Back In The USA LP (SC 5093 LP). $15.50

"Detroit's MC5 hold nothing back on Back In The USA and High Time, two early '70s dispatches from the front-lines of a wartorn nation. The Five's solution to the American Ruse: rock & roll with heart, guts and soul, punctuated with machine gun blasts of energy and hooks, and teen anthems which revel in the dynamic Guitar Army assault of Brother Wayne Kramer and Fred 'Sonic' Smith, the powerhouse rhythm section of bassist Michael Davis and drummer Dennis Thompson, and the insightful/infinitesimal vocals and lyrics of Rob Tyner. Exact reprints on 180 gram vinyl, from the original analog master tapes."

MC5, THE: High Time LP (SC 5094 LP). $15.50

BUTTERFIELD BLUES BAND, THE: East-West LP (SC 5096 LP). $15.50

"1966's East-West, the second album from the Butterfield Blues Band — and their last with lead guitarist Mike Bloomfield — found the group branching out from the electric blues and adding elements of modern jazz and the music of India, most notably on the landmark title track, which paved the way for much of the musical experimentation of the late '60s."

LOVE: Love LP (SC 5100 LP). $15.50

LOVE: Da Capo LP (SC 5101 LP). $15.50

"Their second album, from March 1967, featuring the explosive '7 And 7 Is,' a Top 40 hit in 1966 and an all-time garage-punk classic. Exact repro from the analog masters. Exact repro on 180 gm vinyl, with original art and liner notes."

LOVE: Forever Changes LP (SC 5102 LP). $15.50

"...the greatest rock album ever made..." — Mojo. Forever Changes has remained high atop critic's Top 10 lists since its original 1968 release, and its influence today can be felt stronger than ever. A masterpiece of psychedelia. Exact repro on 180 gm vinyl, with original art and liner notes. All-analog mastering from the original master tapes."

LOVE: Four Sail LP (SC 5103 LP). $15.50

"Arthur Lee opened many eyes when he cut 1969's uniformly wonderful Love album, Four Sail, with an entirely new supporting cast. The band's final record for Elektra features such delights as 'The Singing Cowboy,' a loping, locoweed-dusted trail ballad, 'Robert Montgomery,' Lee's assimilation of 'Eleanor Rigby'-style magic, and the band's heartfelt show-closer at the time, 'I'll Pray For You.'"

LOVE: Revisited LP (SC 5104 LP). $15.50

"From the original analog master tapes comes this exact repro of the original Elektra Best Of, with tracks from the first 4 Love albums and a non-LP single-side. 180 gm vinyl, with original art and liner notes."

NEIL, FRED: Bleeker And MacDougal LP (SC 5107 LP). $15.50

"Neil's rare, influential 1965 debut spotlights his deeply resonant voice and captures him at the apex of his talents. Exact repro from the analog masters."

DYLAN, BOB: The Times They Are A-Changin' LP (SC 5108 LP). $15.50

"The Times They Are A-Changin' is album number three in our ongoing campaign — in cooperation with Columbia Records and the Bob Dylan organization — to issue the Dylan catalog on vinyl in accurate, vintage, analog sound. Released in February 1964, the incisive title track of Dylan's third Columbia album quickly became an anthem for all those seeking social justice, and served as the soundtrack for an entire generation. This Sundazed edition is an exact reproduction of the rare original 1964 mono album, featuring the original '11 Outlined Epitaphs' insert and all-analog mastering from the absolute original source tapes."

DYLAN, BOB: Blonde On Blonde 2LP (SC 5110 LP). $28.00

"A benchmark release in Sundazed Music's ongoing campaign — in cooperation with Columbia Records and the Bob Dylan organization — to restore and issue the Bob Dylan catalog in accurate, vintage, analog sound. Sundazed is proud to present the first-ever reissue of the original mono mix of this landmark double album, recorded in Nashville with Al Kooper, Robbie Robertson, and a cadre of top session cats. The result, later described by Dylan as 'that thin, wild mercury sound,' is a unique masterwork that sounds as vital today as when first released in 1966. This Sundazed edition is presented on 180 gram vinyl, from the absolute original analog mono masters."

INTERNATIONAL SUBMARINE BAND, THE: Safe At Home LP (SC 5112 LP). $15.00

"Gram Parson's country-rock trailblazers wallow in honky-tonk heartbreak. From the original 1968 LHI stereo masters; exact repro plus bonus track 'Knee Deep In The Blues' on vinyl for the first time ever." 180 gram LP reissue.

BYRDS, THE: The Preflyte Sessions 2LP (SC 5114 LP). $18.00

Double vinyl version.

DYLAN, BOB: The Freewheelin' Bob Dylan LP (SC 5115 LP). $15.50

180 gram LP reissue. "Exact repro of 1963 breakthrough LP in accurate, vintage, analog mono. With the classics 'Blowin' In The Wind' and 'A Hard Rain's A-Gonna Fall.'"

DYLAN, BOB: Bob Dylan LP (SC 5120). $15.50

"The baby-faced Bob Dylan staring out from the cover of his self-titled 1962 debut album would soon become the musical spokesman of a generation. Instant Dylan landmarks like 'Man Of Constant Sorrow' and 'Highway 51' —and gutwrenching versions of folk/blues classics like 'Baby, Let Me Follow You Down' and 'See That My Grave Is Kept Clean' — made the abundant talents of this legend-to-be obvious. Forty years later, the album — now available in its ultra-rare, original mono mix on 180-gram vinyl — stands as a revered monument to the timeless genius of Bob Dylan."

DYLAN, BOB: Another Side Of Bob Dylan LP (SC 5121 LP). $15.50

"We're proud to present an exact reproduction of the rare original mono mix of Another Side Of Bob Dylan. Recorded in a single day in June, 1964. Another Side yielded deeply personal and poetic songs like 'It Ain't Me Babe,' and 'All I Really Want To Do,' bursting at the seams with lyrical, dream-fueled imagery, often leavened with dashes of whimsy and always set sailing by Bob Dylan's free-ranging imagination."

DYLAN, BOB: John Wesley Harding LP (SC 5123). $15.50

"Ranking near the top of anyone's list of Dylan's masterpieces, this post-motorcycle-accident career-turning-point finds Dylan veering from the razor-edged desperation of 'All Along The Watchtower' to the gentle, back-porch sway of 'I'll Be Your Baby Tonight' — and all points in between. Back at last, in its ultra-rare original mono mix, this landmark LP — cut with the cream of Nashville's studio cats and generally credited as a blueprint for the era's country-rock movement — sizzles on Sundazed 180-gram vinyl, as always, the industry standard."

CLEAR LIGHT: Clear Light LP (SC 5125 LP). $15.50

"Their psychedelia run amuck with twin drummers, creamy fuzz guitar and carnival-clatter keyboards, LA's Clear Light were a fixture on underground radio — most memorably with their heavy-on-the-paranoia 'Mr. Blue.' Our reissue of their rare self-titled 1967 Elektra debut, produced by Paul Rothchild, features a non-LP bonus track ('She's Ready To Be Free') and liner notes that tell Clear Light's story in full, vivid detail."

HOLY MODAL ROUNDERS, THE: The Moray Eels Eat The Holy Modal Rounders LP (SC 5126 LP). $15.50

"Led by maverick folksters Peter Stampfel and Steve Weber, the Holy Modal Rounders fused Greenwich Village strum and Appalachian drone with enough mind-altering chemicals to derail the Wabash Cannonball. Here's an exact 180-gram vinyl repro of their hideously rare 1968 masterpiece, which spotlights such drug-addled ramblings as 'The Bird Song,' featured in the Easy Rider soundtrack."

INCREDIBLE STRING BAND: The Incredible String Band LP (SC 5127 LP). $15.50

"If any musical combo ever meshed perfectly with the times it was the Incredible String Band. And here's the proof: their 1966 debut, The Incredible String Band; 1967's The 5000 Spirits Or Layers Of The Onion; and The Hangman's Beautiful Daughter from 1968 — all on deep-grooved, 180-gram vinyl. The wildly eclectic Scottish folk outfit — with the airy vocals and fretboard prowess of Robin Williamson and Mike Heron as its two constants — began life resurrecting wondrous and ancient Celtic ballads, then was transformed by the perfumed winds of 1967's psychedelic revolution to add sitar, oud, gimbri and all manner of exotic axes to its arsenal. The result is a gently mesmerizing psychedelia and anti-folk stance — consummate counterpoint to current psych heroes like Mogwai and Beachwood Sparks — that makes perfectly clear why the Incredible String Band remains just that: Incredible."

INCREDIBLE STRING BAND: The 5000 Spirits or Layers Of The Onion LP (SC 5128 LP). $15.50

INCREDIBLE STRING BAND: The Hangman's Beautiful Daughter LP (SC 5129 LP). $15.50

BYRDS, THE: The Columbia Singles '65-'67 2LP (SC 5130 LP). $28.00

"This 30 track double album — the complete, vault-emptying Columbia singles collection, 1965-1967 — includes all issued single mixes, proposed single releases, cancelled titles and forgotten rarities, from the chiming original mono masters on 180 gram vinyl, with an introduction by original producer Terry Melcher."

REDDING, OTIS: The Soul Album LP (SC 5132 LP). $15.50

"Nobody burrowed more deeply into a song than Otis Redding — the most emotive, soulful singer the '60s ever produced. With the Stax/Volt horn section wailing in his wake, Redding's grainy voice and impassioned, sweat-soaked delivery kept him straddling both pop and soul charts until his untimely death in 1967. Here are 180-gram vinyl exact reproductions of three of Redding's essential LPs: The Soul Album (1966, mono) and the storming live sets In Person At The Whiskey A Go Go (1968, stereo) and Live In Europe (1967, stereo). Audiophile 180 gm vinyl from the original analog masters."

REDDING, OTIS: In Person At The Whiskey A Go Go LP (SC 5133 LP). $15.50

REDDING, OTIS: Live In Europe LP (SC 5134 LP). $15.50

Audiophile 180 gm vinyl from the original analog masters. From 1967, in stereo.

JEFFERSON AIRPLANE: Surrealistic Pillow LP (SC 5135 LP). $15.50

"Feed your head with the rare mono edition of this spellbinding time-capsule from the epicenter of the Summer of Love, San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury, circa 1967. On their groundbreaking first album with Grace Slick, the Jefferson Airplane brought their freshly-blooming psychedelia to the world at large with 'White Rabbit' and 'Somebody to Love.' On 180 gram vinyl, from the original analog masters. Rare original mono mix reissued for the first time on vinyl."

THOMAS, RUFUS: Walking The Dog LP (SC 5139 LP). $15.50

"This Memphis R&B titan wrote and recorded the original 'Walking The Dog' and cut the rockingest versions ever of 'Mashed Potatoes,' 'Land Of 1,000 Dances' and 'Ooh-Poo-Pah-Doo.' It's all available on Rufus' Walking The Dog LP — the album that started it all — in glorious, hiptwitching, 180-gram vinyl, guaranteed to give your spine lots more than it bargained for."

PARKS, VAN DYKE: Song Cycle LP (SC 5140 LP). $15.50

"Van Dyke Parks' visionary 1968 debut, Song Cycle, rose phoenix-like from the ashes of his fabled Smile collaboration with Brian Wilson. Parks' breathtaking high-wire act fused the pop genius of Phil Spector, Stephen Sondheim's Broadway vertigo and the orchestral flare of American composer Charles Ives and made it wholly his own. By 1972, Discover America had turned its kaleidoscopic gaze to the 1940's martini-and-rumba world of Hemingway's Caribbean sojourn, further validating Parks' idiosyncratic genius. Our definitive pressings of these landmark Warner Bros. albums are sourced from the original analog masters, and pressed on audiophile 180 gm vinyl."

PARKS, VAN DYKE: Discover America LP (SC 5141 LP). $15.50

1972 album by acclaimed singer/keyboardist/composer Van Dyke Parks; Instrumental backing by Little Feat and the Esso Trinidadian Steel Band; Audiophile 180 gram vinyl from the original analog masters.

STOOGES, THE: The Stooges LP (SC 5149 LP). $15.50

"With the impassioned vocals of Iggy Pop — rock 'n' roll's original untamed boy — and Ron Asheton's lava-spewing guitar, the Stooges erupted from Detroit like a napalm firestorm. Their 1969 Elektra debut The Stooges is full of timeless classics like '1969,' 'No Fun,' and 'I Wanna Be Your Dog'; 1970's Fun House sealed the Stooges' place in history with volcanic workouts like '1970,' 'Down On The Street' and 'T.V. Eye.' Now available on 180-gram vinyl — from the absolute original analog master tapes — The Stooges and Fun House let you ride shotgun with these runaway sons of the nuclear A-Bomb."

STOOGES, THE: Fun House LP (SC 5150 LP). $15.50

The 2nd Stooges album, originally released by Elektra in 1970. Gatefold sleeve.

DYLAN, BOB: Greatest Hits LP (SC 5156 LP). $15.50

"Released in 1967, Greatest Hits marked the end of the first prolific phase of Bob Dylan's career: five short years that saw the pop music world and our culture in general markedly changed by the songs contained herein. Including such seminal touchstones as 'Like A Rolling Stone,' 'Subterranean Homesick Blues,' and 'Blowin' In The Wind,' this definitive pressing is presented on 180 gram vinyl, from the absolute original analog mono masters."

WILCO: Yankee Hotel Foxtrot 2LP (SC 5161 LP). $28.00

"Letting their firmly-planted roots grow wildly deeper down into the firmament of rock and pop, Wilco had such a buzz surrounding Yankee Hotel Foxtrot that it went from being the stuff of rock legend to part of the rock cannon almost immediately upon its Spring 2002 release. Now, the racket will be raised another few notches with the debut of this exquisite album on double-LP, 180 gram vinyl, pressed in a very limited edition."

VANILLA FUDGE: Vanilla Fudge LP (SC 5168 LP). $15.50

"With its mind-altering, waltzing-through-hot-asphalt take on the Supremes' 'You Keep Me Hanging On' scorching the '67 charts, Vanilla Fudge burst to the forefront of all the 'heavy' new combos. The group's debut disc is relaunched here in its rare and unique mono mix, a decidedly different and more powerful listening experience than the more common stereo release. Now available on 180-gram vinyl, cut from the original Atco analog reels."

CASH, JOHNNY: Live At Town Hall Party 1958 LP (SC 5170 LP). $15.50

"First time of vinyl — the birth of country cool. The Johnny Cash you hear on these two remarkable live performances is not the venerable legend of today. This was the young, feral Cash, full of piss, vinegar and sly orneriness. Even to those who know every note, joke and guitar lick on Johnny Cash At Folsom Prison or San Quentin, hearing Cash in his prime, aided and abetted by the Tennessee Two, guitarist Luther Perkins and bassist Marshall Grant, is a revelation. These historic documents, sourced directly from the 1958 and 1959 kinescope reels, capture Cash in his most revolutionary days, laying the bedrock of all that was to come and — despite age and infirmities — continues today."

180 gram vinyl LP.

REDDING, OTIS: Dock Of The Bay LP (SC 5172 LP). $15.50

"Otis Redding's The Dock Of The Bay album — spotlighting the deliciously wistful '67 chart-topper of the same name — stamped his Hall Of Fame ticket forever. Cut from the original analog masters and now available on rock-solid 180-gram vinyl, The Dock Of The Bay, cut just before his tragic plane crash in 1967, finds Otis Redding at the absolute peak of his art. And that's as good as it gets."

BRUTHERS, THE: Bad Way To Go! LP (SC 5173 LP). $16.00

Vinyl LP version.

RAIK'S PROGRESS: Sewer Rat Love Chant LP (SC 5175 LP). $16.00

Vinyl LP version.

CASH, JOHNNY: Blood, Sweat and Tears LP (SC 5176). $15.50

"With his Presley-like mystique, a strapping baritone voice and songs with universal lunch-bucket appeal, Johnny Cash reached one of many career high-water marks with his sprawling 1963 epic, Blood, Sweat And Tears. From the perspiration-drenched, eight-minute version of 'The Legend Of John Henry's Hammer' to 'Busted', Harlan Howard's down 'n' out hard-luck story, Cash made everything he recorded sound like it had been written just for him. This exact replica of Cash's 1963 classic — on rock-busting 180-gram Sundazed vinyl — shows Cash once again straddling the worlds of country, folk and pop like a black-clad behemoth: a once-in-a-generation artist whose revered work will live on forever."

WRAY, LINK: The Swan Singles Collection 1963-1967 2LP (SC 5178LP). $26.00

"The crunching, smack-in-your-face power chords driving hard rock's thundering heart can be traced directly back to Link Wray. His pulverizing sound forged a new path for rock 'n' roll guitar, and he was never more lethal than during his 1963-1967 tenure at Philadelphia-based Swan Records. Link unleashed some of the nastiest licks of his phenomenal recording career on the mighty Swan seven-inches, all of which are corralled on this Sundazed double 180gm gatefold edition, in crunchily accurate sound courtesy of the original mono master tapes."

YARDBIRDS, THE: Live Blueswailing July '64 LP (SC 5181 LP). $15.50

Same as the recently released Earmark LP. "Newly discovered concert recording, ca. 1964, featuring Eric Clapton. About as rare — and explosive — as an appearance by your favorite comet, here's a startling, never-before released 1964 live set by the classic Yardbirds lineup that included their legendary guitarist Eric Clapton. Blazing through a scintillating, sweat-drenched night of gritty British R&B, the Yardbirds prove once again why they've always been a rock 'n' roll band for the ages."

ALLAN & THE ARROWS, DAVIE: Devil's Rumble: Anthology '64-'68 2LP (SC 5182LP). $26.00

STILLROVEN, THE: Too Many Spaces CD (SC 6041). $12.50

"Minneapolis legends the Stillroven forever staked their claim in the 60's garage firmament with their pedal-to-the-metal, frenetic version of 'Hey Joe' — still the definitive version as far as we're concerned. (We've lovingly documented this period of the group on our previous set, entitled, Cast Thy Burden Upon The Stillroven.) Now, we've plugged the group into even bigger 'n' more ghastly amplifiers and, with their help, have mightily assembled the group's never-before-issued second album. Recorded at A&M Studios in 1968, the long-lost Too Many Spaces showcases the group's heavier, more psychedelic side, all the while perfectly maintaining their homegrown garage roots and midwest-melodic sensibilities."

FAPARDOKLY: CD (SC 6059). $12.50

First legit CD issue from 1995, of this mid-sixties classic from Merrell Fankhauser (post-Impacts, pre-HMS Bounty, Mu). Recorded over the years 1964-67, it was actually a selections of tracks recorded by Merrell & the Exiles (including, at times, John French & Jeff Cotton, pre-Beefheart) and only issued as "an album by Fapardokly" in retrospect. A fairly major piece in the folk-rock puzzle, with Fankhauser-styled weirdness seeping out the edges. Has three bonus tracks.

FANKHAUSER & HMS BOUNTY, MERRELL: Things CD (SC 6094). $12.50

First legit CD issue of this classic '67-68-style west coast psych album, by the group Merrell Fankhauser formed after the Impacts and Fapardokly (and before he went off to form Mu with Jeff Cotton). Some of Merrill's most luxurious music, including the monster "'Drivin' Sideways (On A One Way Street)", the eastern-tinged "A Visit With Ashiya", etc. One of the bonus tracks is a cover of Fred Neil's "Everybody's Talkin'". "A rare psychedelic pastry, well-baked in the California desert, circa 1968! Mindblown original tunes, fueled by jangly 12-string and kick-started with crispy fuzz guitar — here's the original album, plus three rare single-only sides as bonus tracks, vintage photos and group history from the flashy pen of group leader Merrell Fankhauser himself."

MOJO MEN, THE: There Goes My Mind? CD (SC 6111). $12.50

"Bursting at the seams with confidence after their 1967 chart smash, 'Sit Down I Think I Love You,' San Francisco's Mojo Men cut an amazingly fertile batch of songs that showcased the band's ace in the hole: the soaring, angelic vocal tandem of Jim Alaimo and Jan Errico. For some unknown reason this material—draped with subtle nuances learned at the feet of previous collaborators like Van Dyke Parks—has been sitting in the can ever since. Sundazed has liberated this mini-masterpiece so it can take its rightful place as one of the last great paisley pop LPs from the 1960s."

THE LOVE EXCHANGE: The Love Exchange CD (SC 6113). $12.50

"The Love Exchange may have called Los Angeles home, but they had San Francisco blood tripping through their veins. The focal point of the band, 16-year-old Bonnie Blunt — her clarion voice a heavenly hybrid of Grace Slick and Elaine 'Spanky' McFarlane — burns bright as the sun while Walt Flannery's hypnotic ball-room keyboards and the spellbinding guitar tandem of Dan Althuler and Fred Barnett swirl around her like the perfect soundtrack for a Griffith Park Love-In. To their sole 1968 album we've added six previously unissued bonus tracks, rare photos, and the full scoop on the history of the Love Exchange."

CASEY, AL: Cookin': The Smooth Guitar & Organ Sounds Of... CD (SC 6115). $12.50

"Everyone knows the pounding, signature surf guitar sound of Al Casey, not to mention his stellar session work over the years with just about every major artist who ever recorded in Los Angeles. But Cookin' is the missing piece to the puzzle, proudly showcasing the late '50s/early '60s silky smooth, late-night lounge sides of this seminal fretboard and keyboard master. It's music that magically conjures up ice clinking in glasses as a Waring mixer quietly spins out cocktails in some velvet-curtained nightclub, in perfect accompaniment to the incomparable, dulcet guitar and organ tones of Al Casey."

KENNELMUS: Folkstone Prism CD (SC 6129). $12.50

Mid-line reissue of this rather exceptional 1971 eccentric psych album, originally issued by Phoenix International Records. Their lone album from the time (briefly reissued on LP by Rockadelic a number of years ago & not to be confused with the lesser demos album, Beyond Folkstone Prism, which RD put out as a limited LP release shortly thereafter). Based in Arizona, the group was led by Ken Walker (vocals, guitar, melodia, zither, electric piano, audio effects, organ, signal generators), who had a unique vision for an orchestral/psychedelic rock streamline (he mentions attempting to create an album that sounded like the Beach Boys mixed with Alice Cooper and the Moody Blues without the strings). "This unlikely and delicate blending of influences as diverse as the Chantays, Lee Hazlewood and Ennio Morricone with Quicksilver Messenger Service and the Electric Prunes might cause the Folkstone Prism listener — like a delirious man in a cave lined with fool's gold — to doubt his senses." — Jud Cost.

FLAMIN GROOVIES: Supersnazz CD (SC 6130). $12.50

"Supersnazz, according to group leader Roy Loney, was to be 'the Flamin' Groovies' Sgt. Pepper' — a chance to blow out the doors of a major label studio with songs running the gamut from the decadence of 'The First One's Free' and 'Love Have Mercy' to the exotica of 'Bam Balam', the harmonies of 'A Part From That' and the Beatlesque shimmer of 'Laurie Did It'. Now with four bonus tracks and a dazzling array of previously unseen pics, Supersnazz is a Groovie grab-bag from the golden era of San Fran rock, circa 1969."

METERS, THE: CD (SC 6146). $12.50

Reissues of the first three Meters albums (prior CD versions either long gone or non-existent), each with 2 previously unissued bonus tracks, with everything taken from the original Josie label master tapes. "Extremely timely re-issues of the first three Meters albums, landmarks in the field of time-space continuum breaching forward motion organ/bass/gtr/kit ESP. Each CD contains two rather odd-sounding (from a few years later perhaps?) previously unreleased tracks. Early on the Meters were the house band for almost all Sansu Enterprises (Allen Toussaint & Marshall Sehorn) productions, backing up (virtually) Lee Dorsey, Betty Harris, Lou Johnson, and others on record. Their blend of classic 'nawlin's second line groove; courtesy of Joseph 'Zigaboo' Modeliste [the best drummer EVER. His endlessly propulsive drumming has no parallel (read: none) in contemporary music], Leo Nocentelli (whose jazz tinged guitar straights were influenced by the Wes/Burrell axis), George Porter Jr. (solid low end theory), and Art Neville (percussive organ, notes claim he 'introduced fuzz guitar to the masses when his axeman's amp tube malfunctioned in the midst of Art's 'Cha Dooky-Do', if that isn't a psychedelic experience, I don't know what is...). This, the first Meters LP (Josie LP 4010, June 1969) features the singles 'Cissy Strut' (reached #4 on the R&B charts) and it's predecessor, 'Sophisticated Cissy' as well as 'Ease Back' (#20 'Here Comes the Meter Man', 'Live Wire', and a cover of the Classics IV chestnut 'Stormy'. This is the sound of four individuals, networked telekinetically, bypassing data streams for a bit of the human breath interaction. Music will never be this good again..." — Hrvatski.

METERS, THE: Look-Ka Py Py CD (SC 6147). $12.50

"Reissue of the second Josie LP (#4011, January 1970), recorded out of state in Atlanta without fucking up the formula (Toussaint & Sehorn were along for the ride, natch). Features the singles 'Look-Ka Py Py' (reached #11 on Billboard's R&B charts) and 'Dry Spell' (reached #39) and a hod-load of Zigaboo bricks, grafted straight from his hip pocket to append to your ass. You can't avoid it, it's all around you." — Hrvatski.

METERS, THE: Struttin CD (SC 6148). $12.50

"CD version of the third Josie LP (#4012, 1970), somewhat of a homecoming (they returned to Cosimo Matassa's studio, Toussaint & Sehorn's old stomping grounds). After this The Meters continued in a slightly more rock-ish mode (not to say that the Reprise years weren't full of ridiculously great jams, just in comparison...) toured with the Rolling Stones, backed up Dr. John, Robert Palmer, King Biscuit Boy, and Paul McCartney and Wings, then broke up (damn, what a way to go...). Zigaboo toured with Keith Richards and Ron Wood (and worked with Bill Laswell), George Porter started the Runnin' Parners, worked w/David Byrne (and more recently, Tori Amos), Art joined the Neville brothers, Leo floated about... They reformed after a festival in 1989, but w/out Ziggy and thus were a bit shoddy (even Leo left a few years later). This was their last gasp at true unfettered perfection, relish it..." — Hrvatski.

GANDALF: Gandalf CD (SC 6152). $12.50

"With spellbinding, atmospheric songs which spin from soft dreamscapes into blistering fuzz guitar breaks, Gandalf casts a powerful spell. Led by singer/guitarist Peter Sando, the group was signed by Lovin' Spoonful producers Charlie Koppelman and Don Rubin and conjured their sole, self-titled album for Capitol in late 1967. One of the rarest major label psychedelic releases, Gandalf features swirls of Hammond B3 organ, caressing vibraphone runs and electric sitar on Sando's originals as well as imaginative recastings of songs by Tim Hardin, Gary Bonner/Alan Gordon, and Eden Ahbez. First-ever domestic compact disc reissue."

BARBARIANS, THE: Are You A Boy Or Are You A Girl CD (SC 6153). $12.50

"Finally, everything by Boston's long-haired punks the Barbarians, on one disc. Led by hood-handed drummer Moulty, the Barbarians ask the musical question 'Are You A Boy Or Are You A Girl' and serve up the Big Beat on cuts such as the awesome 'Hey Little Bird' and the inspirational 'Moulty'. Original album plus three bonus tracks, unseen photos and the complete story from Moulty himself."

MUSIC EMPORIUM: Music Emporium CD (SC 6166). $12.50

"Blistering rockers with wispy melodies, Buddhist chants with wild-eyed psychedelic anthems: all part of the unique acid-folk vision of LA's Music Emporium, led by key-board virtuoso/singer Bill 'Casey' Cosby. For this first ever legitimate reissue of their supremely rare 1969 album — now on CD and 180 gram vinyl (with original die-cut, gatefold cover faithfully reproduced) — we've purchased the original masters, interviewed the band, found never-before-seen snapshots, and added five cool bonus tracks."

METERS, THE: Fire On The Bayou CD (SC 6167). $12.50

Reissue with one bonus track; originally released by Reprise in 1975. "Sundazed presents three more groove heavy discs from the combo synonymous with New Orleans R&B — The Meters. Spurred on by fabled Crescent City production tandem Allen Toussaint and Marshall Sehorn, the playing on Cabbage Alley, Rejuvenation and Fire on the Bayou is so tight it's almost telepathic."

METERS, THE: Cabbage Alley CD (SC 6168). $12.50

Reissue with 2 bonus tracks, originally released by Reprise in 1972.

METERS, THE: Rejuvenation CD (SC 6169). $12.50

Reissue with two bonus tracks, originally released by Reprise in 1974.

METERS, THE: Trick Bag CD (SC 6170). $12.50

7th album, originally released in 1976. "You can bet your sweet beignet Sundazed will never rest until we've released every classic album ever recorded by the Meters, New Orleans' perpetually slow-boiling funk legends. So get out those dancing duds, brothers and sisters, because here come albums number seven and eight by the Meters — Trick Bag and New Directions. Like the steamy city they call home, the Meters aren't just a trailblazing instrumental Crescent City combo. They're a way of life. C'est si bon."

METERS, THE: New Directions CD (SC 6171). $12.50

8th album, originally released in 1977.

WEST COAST POP ART EXPERIMENTAL BAND: Part One CD (SC 6173). $12.50

"With their soaring psychedelia, achingly pure folk-rock and Zappa/Beefheart strangeness, these seminal underground gems from the West Coast Pop Art Experimental Band — Part One, Vol. 2 and A Child's Guide To Good & Evil — can be seen as encyclopedic primers of the late-'60s Los Angeles musical experience. These long-awaited legit CD debuts come direct from the original analog master tapes, with 2 bonus tracks on each CD, interviews with key band members, and ever-before-seen photos from the band's personal archive."

WEST COAST POP ART EXPERIMENTAL BAND: Vol. 2 CD (SC 6174). $12.50

"Recorded and released in 1967, Volume 2 was actually the group's third LP, but their second for Frank Sinatra's Reprise label. More ambitious, if less consistent, than its predecessor...like Love's Forever Changes, released the same year, the West Coast Pop Art Experimental Band's third LP struck a precarious balance between incisive social commentary, prurience and innocence." With two bonus mono single mixes added.

WEST COAST POP ART EXPERIMENTAL BAND: Vol. 3: A Child's Guide To Good & Evil CD (SC 6175). $12.50

"In many ways Vol. 3 stands as their most extraordinary achievement: a bizarre fusion of innocence and malice perfectly encapsulated by both its title and John Van Hamersveld's striking cover art."

BOETTCHER, CURT: There's An Innocent Face CD (SC 6184). $12.50

"After taking sunshine pop to fabulous heights with the Millennium, Curt Boettcher embarked upon a solo career in 1973 with his Elektra debut, There's An Innocent Face, which stands as one of the most gloriously anachronistic albums of the time, seamlessly incorporating doo-wop, folk, and country with intense, concisely-crafted chunks of ear candy. This first-time CD reissue features notes by noted Boettcher biographer Dawn Eden, illustrated by previously unseen outtakes from the original album photo sessions."

MACK, LONNIE: Glad I'm In The Band CD (SC 6192). $12.50

"Lonnie Mack — the guitar hero with that unmistakable 'wham'-skims the cream from blues, country, soul and '50s rock 'n' roll, then churns it out through his trademark Gibson Flying V, sweet as butter and tangy as buttermilk. Mack is also possessed with a searing set of down-home pipes that can belt out a song with anyone. Sundazed presents three of Lonnie Mack's four Elektra albums, none previously available on CD. 1969's Glad I'm In The Band spotlights Lonnie's vocal talents on songs ranging from New Orleans R&B to road-house hillbilly. Whatever's Right is the smoothest country/soul sourmash blend this side of a Tennessee distillery. And 1971's The Hills Of Indiana, waxed in Muscle Shoals and Nashville, is a country-dominated gem. Essential to Mack's legacy, these three discs are smoking-gun evidence: Lonnie Mack was as close to a guitar god as America has ever produced."

MACK, LONNIE: Whatever's Right CD (SC 6193). $12.50

First CD reissue, originally issued by Elektra, 1969.

MACK, LONNIE: Hills Of Indiana CD (SC 6195). $12.50

First CD reissue, originally issued by Elektra in 1971.

BLUES IMAGE: Open CD (SC 6196). $12.50

"First-ever domestic CD issue of the group's in-demand second album, featuring 'Ride Captain Ride'. When Blues Image launched into their 1970 chart smash, 'Ride Captain Ride,' the smoking lamp was always lit. But, with their subtle use of Latin Rhythms — featuring tantalizing fretboard work by Mike Pinera and the addictive conga drums of Joe Lala — this Tampa, Fla. combo proved themselves anything but a one hit wonder on their out of nowhere classic, Open."

SONICS, THE: Introducing The Sonics CD (SC 6198). $12.50

"Cornerstone of the crunchy sixties' Northwest sound, direct from the Jerden mono masters. The Sonics blow-torched Tacoma in 1966 like the fiery exhaust from a jumbo-jet. With their trademark scorched-earth guitar sounds, they created a mind-numbing assortment of Sonics classics: 'You Got Your Head On Backwards,' 'Like No Other Man,' 'Psycho,' 'The Witch,' and simultaneously reinvented garage rock powerhouses like 'I'm A Man,' 'Diddy Wah Diddy,' and much more."

MC GUINN, ROGER: Roger McGuinn CD (SC 6201). $12.50

"When the Byrds were finally laid to rest by Roger McGuinn, the obvious next step was a solo career for the man whose gravelly voice, 12-string guitar leads and unerring sense of musical taste had been synonymous with the band he'd founded almost a decade earlier. McGuinn's self-titled 1973 solo debut — with stirring guest appearances from Bob Dylan and Charles Lloyd — was a relentlessly eclectic joy from top to bottom, drawing stirring inspiration from all eras of the Byrds' storied career."

MC GUINN, ROGER: Peace On You CD (SC 6202). $12.50

"1974's Peace On You found CSN&Y producer Bill Halverson giving a thoroughly '70s sheen to an album whose highlights included the saucy Charlie Rich-penned title song and 'Gate Of Horn', a heartfelt McGuinn/Jacques Levy tribute to the legendary Chicago folk club. Here they are, tickets ready please, for stops one and two of the ongoing, ever-fascinating solo career of Roger McGuinn."

ARS NOVA: Ars Nova CD (SC 6207). $12.50

"Zig-zagging through a debut album of brass-laced avant-rock originals like 'General Clover Ends A War' — and eye-opening covers of the Move's 'Fields Of People' and Richard Strauss's 'Zarathustra' — Ars Nova was anything but three chords and a cloud of dust. The brainy NYC combo, led by Wyatt Day and Jon Pierson, scored its first gig of note in 1968, opening for the Doors at the Fillmore East. The group's album got rave notices everywhere — and Ars Nova has since become one of art-rock's undiscovered treasures."

HOLY MODAL ROUNDERS: Good Taste Is Timeless CD (SC 6208). $12.50

"First time on Compact Disc — after being held for ransom by merciless record collectors for decades, the Holy Modal Rounders' rarest album Good Taste Is Timeless can now breathe the sweet air of freedom! Rounders' founders Peter Stampfel and Steve Weber — the god-fathers of anti-folk — fire every cap pistol in their satchel for this clat-tering, jugband-on-acid classic, cut in Nashville in 1971 with guest artists Tracy Nelson (Mother Earth), D.J. Fontana, and pedal steel legend Pete Drake. Featuring the definitive version of Rounders gonzo ditty 'Boobs A Lot,' Good Taste Is Timeless now sports fascinating new liner notes by Stampfel, and remains the pinnacle of the Holy Modal Rounders' art."

METERS, THE: Zony Mash CD (SC 6211). $12.50

"For the first time anywhere — an entire album filled with vintage rarities and non-album B-sides by the Meters, all glittering gems by New Orleans' wizards of slinky funk. Available on both CD and 180-gram vinyl, Zony Mash finds the Meters at the top of their game with a rump-rolling concoction that will have you moving in three different directions at once."

RAIK'S PROGRESS: Sewer Rat Love Chant CD (SC 6212). $12.50

"Who would have thought a freaky combo like RAIK's Progress could be lurking in the sun-baked grape fields of Fresno, Calif? Drawing on wild and woolly influences as diverse as Capt. Beefheart, Them and the Animals, these San Joaquin Valley boys — helmed by Steven Krikorian, later to reinvent himself as hitmaking artist Tonio K — cut an album's worth of material best described as jawdropping. Cryptically titled gems like 'Sewer Rat Love Chant' and 'Why Did You Rob Us, Tank' have been gathering dust ever since...until Sundazed connected the dots and unearthed this brilliant '60s album."

CURLESS, DICK: Tombstone Every Mile CD (SC 9001CD). $11.00

"Sundazed is ecstatic about launching our new series — a thorough re-examination of the patron saints of vintage country-cool. Kicking off this ongoing series are five diesel-fueled classics of the genre, taken directly from the glistening Capitol/Tower Records original analog masters. All five albums are first-time releases on compact disc, mid-line priced, and feature exact reproductions of the original album artwork, plus updated liners from noted country music author Rich Kienzie. The influence of these albums — on contemporary artists as revered as Bill Kirchen, Hank Williams III and Dale Watson or relative newcomers such as Deke Dickerson, Laura Cantrell and Lazy Cowgirls' frontman Pat Todd — cannot be underestimated." "Maine native Dick Curless had long recorded for regional labels when songwriter Dan Fulkerson approached him with A Tombstone Every Mile, the tale of a real-life stretch of Maine highway often lethal to truckers. Released nationally in 1965."

SIMPSON, RED: Roll, Truck, Roll CD (SC 9003CD). $11.00

"Roll, Truck, Roll, Simpson's 1966 Capitol debut LP, mixed popular trucker anthems with new material like the title song. Penned by Bakersfield icon Tommy Collins, 'Roll, Truck, Roll' reached #38 nationally, with this album hitting #7 on Billboard's Top country LP charts."

SIMPSON, RED: Truck Drivin' Fool CD (SC 9004CD). $11.00

"Released in 1967, Red Simpson's Truck Drivin' Fool continued the focus of his debut album: examining the good and the treacherous, the amusing and sobering sides of trucker life. Today, Simpson, considered a Bakersfield legend, continues performing around his hometown."

THOMPSON, HANK: A Six Pack To Go CD (SC 9005CD). $11.00

"Hank Thompson created a distinctive and durable approach to Honky Tonk by fusing his vocals with buoyant, Western Swing-flavored accompaniment from his Brazos Valley Boys. On all but one number, Hank's friend Merle Travis' electric guitar graces the recordings here. The title song was a Top Ten single for Hank in 1960."

UNRELATED SEGMENTS: Story Of My Life 10" (SEP 167-10). $8.00

"Assaulting Detroit's Top Twenty in 1966-67 with screaming, teenage garage anthems 'Story Of My Life' and 'Where You Gonna Go?', the Unrelated Segments were the obvious spiritual forebears of Motor City heroes the Stooges and the MC5. These five working-class kids sported killer vocals with just enough mind-altering guitar work to buzz around the the city's corporate music behemoths like wasps at a Labor Day picnic table."

SUNSPOTS (ITALY):

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: The Psychedelic Sounds Of: CD (SPOT 501 CD). $16.00

New Italian pressings of these Charly-originating classics, packaged in LP-style mini-gate-folds, supposedly limited to 1500 copies each. Each one also claims to be "digitally remastered". "Originally released in 1966 by International Artists, this is the album that contains most of the classics of Roky Erickson's band: their hit 'You're Gonna Miss Me', plus 'Fire Engine', 'Reverberation' and 'Roller Coaster'."

LAST POETS, THE: The Last Poets CD (SPOT 502 CD). $16.00

"Their seminal debut album (originally released in 1970 on the Douglas label) reached the U.S. Top 10 album charts. With their politically-charged raps, syncopated rhythms and dedication to raising African-American consciousness, the Last Poets almost single-handedly laid the groundwork for the emergence of hip hop. Featuring the classic 'When The Revolution Comes'."

IMPRESSIONS, THE: This Is My Country CD (SPOT 503 CD). $16.00

"Originally released on Curtis Mayfield's own Curtom label in 1968, this album is considered by many to be the peak of his career... Mayfield delivers a couple of forceful statements of African-American pride and also walks gingerly onto the flower-power plank. The beautiful vocals and arrangements represent late-60s soul at its most sophisticated."

SHARROCK, SONNY: Monkey-Pockie-Boo CD (SPOT 504 CD). $16.00

"An album recorded in Paris (on June 22nd, 1969) with his wife Linda plus Ben Guerin (bass) and Jacques Tholot (drums). Sonny Sharrock was one of the top avant-garde guitarists and his playing was intense and ferocious. He mixed together Jimi Hendrix and Pharoah Sanders. 'Sharrock was the first guitarist to really embrace fire music. He wanted his playing to mirror the emotional scream of the tenor saxophone' (Thurston Moore and Byron Coley). Original artwork."

SILVA AND THE CELESTIAL COMMUNICATION ORCHESTRA, ALAN: 2CD (SPOT 505 CD). $19.00

First CD reissue of this legendary BYG triple album. "This influential Alan Silva's triple album was recorded live at Studio 104/Maison De L'O.R.T.F. in Paris on December 29th, 1970. Silva and co. bring the orchestral wall of sound to the limit. Featuring Lester Bowie, Joseph Jarman, Steve Lacy, Roscoe Mitchell, Dave Burrell, Don Moye, Bernard Vitet, Alan Shorter, Ronnie Beer, Robin Kenyatta, Michel Portal, Dieter Gewissler, Jouk Minor, Kent Carter, Irene Aebi, Joachim Kuhn, Jerome Cooper and Oliver Johnson."

RED KRAYOLA: The Parable Of Arable Land CD (SPOT 507 CD). $16.00

"This is Red Krayola's debut album, originally released on International Artists. When Red Krayola first appeared on the Houston scene in 1966, they were performing almost all cover material. However, the band soon began dedicating portions of their set to unique improvised moments called 'The Freedom Freekout' during which they would invite other musicians on stage to play. These improv sessions soon resulted in the formation of a companion group called The Familiar Ugly, which can be heard in between tracks on this album. Aside from these 'freakouts', the album includes other very weird material, and features Roky Erickson on at least two tracks."

RA, SUN: The Solar Myth Approach Vol. 1 CD (SPOT 509 CD). $16.00

"A wild and passionate interstellar mix of free jazz, solo synthesizer and hard rocking cosmic philosophy". Apparently recorded in NYC between 1970-1971, this material 'would prove to be one of the cornerstones of the entire Sun Ra /Arkestra career' with Kwame Hadi, Akh Tal Ebah, Ali Hassan, Charles Stephens, Marshall Allen, Danny Davis, John Gilmore, Danny Ray Thompson, Pat Patrick, James Jacson, Ronnie Boykins, Clifford Jarvis, Lex Humphries, Nimrod Hunt, June Tyson and Art Jenkins. This album encapsulates the creative mood and the impassioned message that was going down as the '60s violently burned themselves out. In the cold dawn of the early '70s Sun Ra and his Solar-Myth Arkestra sent out their musical ray of hope to all who chose to hear it, and over 20 years later its effect remains both blinding and illuminating'. (Edwin Pouncey)"

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: Reese And The Smooth Ones CD (SPOT 510 CD). $16.00

"Originally released on the French BYG Actuel label, this classic album was recorded in Paris in August 1969 while the Art Ensemble was on its initial stay there with just a quartet featuring Roscoe Mitchell, Lester Bowie, Malachi Favors and Joseph Jarman's 'Reese and the Smooth Ones' is a continuous piece featuring all of the members playing lots of little instruments (horns, gongs, logs, bells, sirens, whistles, steel drums, marimba, banjo and more) in addition to their mainstays."

LAST POETS, THE: This Is Madness CD (SPOT 512 CD). $16.00

"Legendary second album by highly politicized hip-hop pioneers who used their groundbreaking and socially conscious form of jazz-laced street poetry to deliver a message of solidarity and self-awareness while simultaneously condemning the brutal effects of a racially and economically divided America."

GOLDEN DAWN: A Power Plant CD (SPOT 513 CD). $16.00

"Inspired psychedelic wanderings and enigmatic lyrics this mainstay of the 60's Texas psych scene released its first and only LP in 1967 on the International Artists label, thanks to the help of childhood friend and former band mate Roky Erickson of the 13th Floor Elevators. The band took their name from The Sect of the Golden Dawn by Aleister Crowley."

CERRY, DON: Mu First Part CD (SPOT 515 CD). $16.00

"Originally recorded on 22 August 1969 at Studio Saravah in Paris, this electrifying album became the first in the BYG/Actuel series."

HENDRIX, JIMI: Experience 2CD (SPOT 516 CD). $19.00

"On February 24, 1969 the Jimi Hendrix Experience played what turned out to be their last UK concert together at London's Royal Albert Hall. The show was recorded and filmed and the music on this album is taken from the original soundtrack tapes for a film that was only ever seen once (at the University of California, Berkeley) before it mysteriously vanished. Jimi Hendrix with Noel Redding and Mitch Mitchell play powerful and inspired versions of 'Purple Haze', 'Voodoo Chile', 'Little Wing', 'Sunshine Of Your Love', 'Wild Thing', etc. Featuring Dave Mason, Chris Wood and Rocky Dzidzournu. 17 tracks."

IMPRESSIONS, THE: The Young Mods' Forgotten Story CD (SPOT 518 CD). $16.00

"Originally released in 1969 on the Curtom label. This is Mayfield's last amazing album with the Impressions before embarking on his stellar solo career. Includes such classics as 'Choice Of Colors', 'Mighty, Mighty (Spade & Whitey)', 'Seven Years' and the magnificent title track."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: Yasmina, A Black Woman CD (SPOT 519 CD). $16.00

"Tenor saxophonist Archie Shepp recorded this amazing session, dated August 12, 1969, with members of the Chicago avant-garde school, including Art Ensemble of Chicago members Lester Bowie, Roscoe Mitchell and Malachi Favors. Also featuring Dave Burrell, Sunny Murray, Philly Joe Jones, Art Taylor, Clifford Thornton and Earl Freeman."

RA, SUN: The Solar Myth Approach Vol. 2 CD (SPOT 520 CD). $16.00

"Part 2 of one of the most important recordings of Sun Ra's long career. This album, recorded at the Sun Studios in NYC in 1970-1971 for the BYG/Actuel label, communicates Ra's own unique and cosmic mix of futuristic free jazz and intergalactic creative messages. Featuring Kwame Hadi, Akh Tal Ebah, Ali Hassan, Charles Stevens, Marshall Allen, Danny Davis, John Gilmore, Danny Thompson, Pat Patrick, James Jacson, Ronnie Boykins, Clifford Jarvis, Lex Humphries, Nimrod Hunt, June Tyson and Art Jenkins."

RED KRAYOLA: God Bless The Red Krayola And All Who Sail With It CD (SPOT 521 CD). $16.00

"Red Krayola's second album, originally released on International Artists in 1968. Mayo Thompson and Steve Cunningham returned to Texas for this release and, along with drummer Tommy Smith (who played briefly with Bubble Puppy), began recording the second Red Krayola album, which consisted in numerous one and two minute tracks, taking the band in a more experimental direction."

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Easter Everywhere CD (SPOT 522 CD). $16.00

"The Elevators' second album and also their best, originally released in 1967 by International Artists. Includes the epic 'Slip Inside This House' and an excellent cover of Dylan's 'Baby Blue'."

BRAXTON, ANTHONY: Anthony Braxton CD (SPOT 524 CD). $16.00

"Few modern musicians in any genre can have been so extensively documented as the Chicago-born multi-instrumentalist, and yet the very density of the documentation serves only to heighten the enigma that is Anthony Braxton." (Penguin Guide To Jazz). This is the first of Braxton's two albums for the BYG/Actuel series — recorded in Paris on September 10, 1969 with the help of Leo Smith (trumpet), Leroy Jenkins (violin), and Steve McCall on drums."

BURRELL, DAVE: Echo CD (SPOT 525 CD). $16.00

"This album was recorded in Paris on August 13, 1969 by pianist Dave Burrell with the help of Archie Shepp (tenor sax), Alan Silva (bass), Sunny Murray (drums), Clifford Thornton (cornet), Grachan Moncur III (trombone) and Arthur Jones (alto sax). 'To high energy enthusiasts and noise music cognoscenti Echo is considered the ultimate free jazz experience — to throw on when you want to demonstrate how dangerous the BYG / Actuel series really is — a humongous, infinitely-dense blur of high-action free-blown group dynamics' (Thurston Moore and Byron Coley from the Jazzactuel boxset liner notes)."

BLEY, PAUL: Ramblin' CD (SPOT 528 CD). $16.00

"Incredibly prolific Canadian-born pianist Paul Bley first came on to the jazz scene after coming to NY in the early fifties, initially playing in hard-bop groups. He soon branched out, however, notably playing with Ornette Coleman and Don Cherry at a time when the men were still considered 'radical outsiders'. Originally released in 1966 for the BYG Actuel series, Ramblin' comes from an experimental time in Bley's career and is one of Bley's more adventurous albums."

LACY, STEVE: Moon CD (SPOT 529 CD). $16.00

"The legendary soprano saxophonist Steve Lacy is one of the instrument's greatest masters — it was Lacy who inspired Coltrane to take up the 'straight horn'. Originally from NYC, Lacy spent most of his life abroad, living in Paris since 1970. This was Lacy's first recording as leader in Europe. The album, cut in Rome during September of 1969 for the BYG Actuel series, includes distinctive and lyrical performances of 5 fiery Lacy originals and features Lacy's wife Irene Aebi on cello, Italo Toni on trombone, Claudio Volonte on clarinet, Marcello Melis on bass and Jacques Thollot on drums."

MURRAY, SUNNY: Sunshine CD (SPOT 530 CD). $16.00

"Sunny Murray is one of the most influential and inventive free jazz drummers in the history of jazz and this historic album, originally released in 1969 for the BYG Actuel series is testimony to the man's greatness. Featuring Archie Shepp, Alan Silva, Arthur Jones, Lester Bowie, Roscoe Mitchell, Kenneth Teroade and Malachi Favors at the peak of their genius."

BUBBLE PUPPY: A Gathering of Promises CD (SPOT 531 CD). $16.00

"Combining hard rock with fresh vocal harmonies, Bubble Puppy's first single reached no. 14 on the US charts in 1969, making them International Artists' most successful act after the 13th Floor Elevators. The band later joined Steppenwolf's label ABC/Dunhill and, in 1979, released another album as Demian."

LOST & FOUND: Everybody's Here CD (SPOT 532 CD). $16.00

"Originally released in 1968 on International Artists, the Houston-based Lost And Found were able to land a deal with the label thanks to their friendship with Roky Erickson (to whom they pay homage on the album with a cover of the 13th Floor Elevators' Don't Fall Down). This debut album, released just prior to their 30 day tour with the Music Machine, features great fuzz guitars and a healthy dose of psychedelic weirdness."

BRAXTON, ANTHONY: This Time... CD (SPOT 533 CD). $16.00

"Braxton's 2nd album in the BYG Actuel series. These 9 tracks were recorded in Paris in January 1970 with Leroy Jenkins, Steve McCall and Leo Smith."

SHEPP AND THE FULL MOON ENSEMBLE, ARCHIE: Live in Antibes vol. 1 CD (SPOT 534 CD). $16.00

"Superb live recordings (dated July 18 and July 20, 1970) captured in France at the Antibes-Juan Le Pen Jazz Festival. Archie Shepp and the Full Moon Ensemble (featuring Clifford Thornton on piano and trumpet, Beb Guerin on bass and Claude Delcloo on drums) play through four long tracks with an intensity that still sounds fresh more than three decades later."

COURSIL, JACQUES: Way Ahead CD (SPOT 535 CD). $16.00

"Trumpet player Jacques Coursil recorded this amazing free jazz session at the Studio Saravah in Paris on July 7-8 1969, with the help of Arthur Jones (alto sax), Claude Delcloo (drums) and Beb Guerin (bass). Features two Coursil originals, 'Duke' and 'Fidel', and an extended version of Bill Dixon's 'Paper'."

VA: Epitaph For A Legend CD (SPOT 537 CD). $16.00

"Before the International Artists label finally closed their doors forever, they released an amazing 13 album box set, which included 12 of their best releases, plus a very special 13th double album (now released on CD) comprised entirely of unreleased tracks from the label's vaults, called Epitaph For A Legend. Here you'll find 27 incredibly rare tracks by: Red Krayola, Lost & Found, Dave Allen, Lightnin' Hopkins, 13th Floor Elevators, Roky Erickson, and many others. Also includes excerpt of a rare interview with Roky Erickson on San Francisco's KSAN-FM in 1978 and a hilarious 13th Floor Elevator's radio plug for their Bull Of The Woods album."

SHEPP AND THE FULL MOON ENSEMBLE, ARCHIE: Live In Antibes Vol. 2 CD (SPOT 538 CD). $16.00

"Amazing live recordings (dated July 18 and 20 1970) captured in France at the Antibes-Juan Le Pen Jazz Festival. Archie Shepp & The Full Moon Ensemble (including Allen Shorter, Clifford Thornton, Joseph DeJean, Beb Guerin and Claude Delcloo) playing four long and intense tracks."

SILVA AND THE CELESTIAL COMMUNICATION ORCHESTRA, ALAN: Luna Surface CD (SPOT 539 CD). $16.00

"Super session recorded in Paris on August 17, 1969. Alan Silva brought together many of the top free jazz players of the time in an amazing 11-piece ensemble featuring Grachan Moncur III, Archie Shepp, Anthony Braxton, Dave Burrell, Leroy Jenkins and Malachi Favors. As a result, this is a very free record and a historical document of Pan-African music."

MURRAY, SUNNY: An Even Break (Never Give A Sucker) CD (SPOT 540 CD). $16.00

"Avant-garde drummer Sunny Murray was a major player in the experimental jazz community throughout the 1960s. After 3 years as a member of Albert Ayler's band (1964-1967), Murray travelled to France where, after releasing two LPs for the BYG Actuel series, he recorded this album (Nov. 1969) for Affinity. Although this was his first release for the label, it was Murray's third release of the year! Featuring Byard Lancaster and Kenneth Teroade."

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Live CD (SPOT 541 CD). $16.00

"Despite its title, the Elevators' third album (originally released in 1968 for the International Artists label) was actually not a live album at all. The tracks are all studio outtakes, with fake applause added between the songs. Along with versions of the band's classics 'You're Gonna Miss Me' and 'Roller Coaster', the album also contains 5 songs not found on their previous two studio albums, including a cover of Bo Diddley's 'Before You Accuse Me', Buddy Holly's 'I'm Gonna Love You Too', Solomon Burke's classic 'Everybody Needs Somebody To Love' and two original compositions ('You Gotta Take That Girl' and 'You Can't Hurt Me Anymore'). 10 tracks."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: Blasé CD (SPOT 542CD). $16.00

"Originally recorded at Studio Davout in Paris on August 16th 1969. An intense and sublime album by Archie Shepp with Lester Bowie and Malachi Favors (Art Ensemble of Chicago) plus Dave Burrell, Philly Joe Jones and Jeanne Lee. Miniature replica of the original BYG-Actuel LP."

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: A Jackson In Your House CD (SPOT 543CD). $16.00

"This album was recorded in Paris on June 23, 1969 during the Art Ensemble Initial days in France with just a quartet (Roscoe Mitchell, Lester Bowie, Malachi Favors and Joseph Jarman). A shockingly formalist album though far from conventional in any way."

CHERRY, DON: Mu Second Part CD (SPOT 544CD). $16.00

"An album recorded at Studio Saravah in Paris on August 22, 1969 by Don Cherry (pocket trumpet, piano, indian flute, bamboo flute, voice, bells, percussions) with Ed Blackwell (drums, percussions, bell). 'His duets with Ed Blackwell, a drummer whose playing Cherry was very conversant with through a shared history in the Coleman group, were the first recordings released in the Actuel series'."

YARDBIRDS, THE: Sonny Boy Williamson and the Yardbirds CD (SPOT 545CD). $16.00

The complete Crawdaddy Recordings. "This legendary early Yardbirds album was recorded live in 1963 at the Craw-Daddy Club in London, where the nascent Yardbirds (featuring a young Eric Clapton on guitar) found themselves playing back up to the late Chicago bluesman Sonny Boy Williamson."

YARDBIRDS, THE: Five Live Yardbirds CD (SPOT 546CD). $16.00

"The Yardbirds' first album (apart from their live album with Sonny Boy Williamson), recorded at London's Marquee Club in 1964. At this early point in their career, the group's set was still comprised of cover versions of American R&B/blues classics by Chuck Berry, Bo Diddley, John Lee Hooker, Howlin' Wolf, Eddie Boyd, etc. with the young guitar legend Eric Clapton on lead guitar."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: Live At The Panafrican Festival CD (SPOT 547CD). $16.00

"Striking live performances recorded at the first Panafrican Festival held in Algiers in July 1969. Archie Shepp with a stellar line up including Clifford Thornton, Grachan Moncur III, Dave Burrell, Alan Silva, Sunny Murray and poets Ted Joans and Don Lee, teaming up with Algerian and Touareg musicians for some wonderful and haunting ethno new jazz."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: Poem For Malcolm CD (SPOT 548CD). $16.00

"Another great session recorded in Paris (on August 14 1969) for the BYG Actuel label. Tenor saxophonist Archie Shepp backed by Burton Greene, Alan Silva, Claude Delcloo, Philly Joe Jones, Grachan Moncur III, Hank Mobley, Vince Benedetti and Malachi Favors."

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: Message To Our Folks CD (SPOT 549CD). $16.00

"Originally recorded at Studio Davout in Paris on August 12, 1969. The Art Ensemble Of Chicago stands out as one of the most influential and longlasting avant-garde jazz bands of all time."

MURRAY, SUNNY: Homage to Africa CD (SPOT 550CD). $16.00

"After 3 years as a member of Albert Ayler's band (1964-1967), avant-garde jazz drummer Sunny Murray travelled to France where he recorded for affinity and BYG. The amazing Homage To Africa was recorded on August 15, 1969 for BYG and features Archie Shepp, Alan Silva, Grachan Moncur III, Lester Bowie, Clifford Thornton, Roscoe Mitchell, Kenneth Teroade and Jeanne Lee."

VAN ZANDT, TOWNES: Townes Van Zandt CD (SPOT 551CD). $16.00

"The classic 1969 recording, originally released on the Poppy label, was Texas country blues & folk singer Townes Van Zandt's third full-length release...influenced by Hank Williams, Bob Dylan and Lightnin' Hopkins, Van Zandt's unique style — at times brooding and introspective, at times relentlessly forceful and dynamic — spoke to the dark corners of the human soul, and has been claimed as an influence by everyone from Sonic Youth to Willie Nelson..."

SANDERS, PHAROAH: Izipho Zam (My Gifts) CD (SPOT 552CD). $16.00

"One of Sanders' most brilliant early works, recorded in January 1969. Here, as during his tenure with Coltrane's ground-breaking quintet, tenor saxophonist Pharoah Sanders further pushes the boundaries, employing the talents of 13 musicians for this fantastic journey to the edges of jazz and beyond. Guests include Sonny Sharrock, Lonnie Liston Smith, Chief Bey, Cecil McBee, Sirone, Sonny Fortune, and more! Essential Sanders, essential jazz." Originally issued by Strata East in 1973.

SUPER 8 (GERMANY):

KHAN, CAN ORAL: Blue Pool CD (SUPER 8.6). $17.00

"Written & Produced by Can 'Khan' Oral @ Blue Box NYC 1999 for El Turco Loco. Khan appears courtesy of Matador Records. Water/bathing sounds by Susa Templin. This CD is part of the installation 'Fish tank' by Susa Templin & Can 'Khan' Oral for the Expo 2000, NYC April, 1999." A sublime, more experimental, spacey work for Khan.

SUPERSTITION (GERMANY):

GIANNELLI, FRED: Telepathic Wisdom Vol. 2 CD (SUPER 2062). $15.00

An interesting mid-90s album from Kooky Scientist Fred Giannelli. We don't have full stock (got mis-shipped a few instead of Fred's Sahko Telepathic Romance).

SUPPOSE (GERMANY):

BRINKMANN, ESTER: Voran 12" (SUPPOSE 08). $9.00

Three track EP, not found on the CD. Profan-styled minimalism, raw & gritty.

BRUSSELER PLATZ 10A-MUSIK/HAJSCH: 1000 Fehler (1000 Errors) CD (SUPPOSE 13). $16.00

"The CD 1000 Fehler is a composition of spoken theory-fragments by Adilkno (Foundation of the Advancement of Illegal Knowledge/Amsterdam) and noise-improvisations by Brüsseler Platz 10a-Musik (Cologne). Being bored of academic culture pessimism the authors Geert Lovink, Arjen Mulder and Lex Wouterloot (Adilkno) are dedicated to illegal knowledge. Their books Cracking the Movement and The Media Archive are published by Autonomedia, New York. In their last book Elektronische Einsamkeit (Supposé 1997) they research degenerated tendencies of the roaring every day life in media. In ecstasy of speculation they try out all patterns possible and even the apocalypse is one scenario among others. After the fascination for the evil in the 80's, nowadays failure is the most interesting phenomenon: 'All hope theory could bring salvation should be eliminated. Theory is not care, nor is it a substitute for forgotten services and ideologies.' The members of Brüsseler Platz 10a-Musik are Georg Odijk (A-musik), Jan St. Werner (Mouse on Mars, Microstoria, Lithops) and Marcus Schmickler (Pluramon, Wabi Sabi). In their sessions and live performances they use generations of conventional analogue and digital consumer electronics: Record player, tape recorder, CD-Player. The complex material of spoken words and music was arranged and mixed by Hajsch (Quit Artworks/Cologne)."

BRINKMANN, ESTER: Der Übersetzer — Il traduttore CD (SUPPOSE 16-9). $15.00

"Der Übersetzer — Il traduttore (The Translator) is the new full-length album of Thomas Brinkmann as the third part of his Ester Brinkmann trilogy on Supposé (after Totes Rennen and Weisse Nächte). Experimental minimal techno music by Brinkmann and voices by famous arte povera artist Jannis Kounellis and his translator Edward Winkhofer, who plays an important role on this CD."

BRINKMANN FEATURING IRA G. WOOL, ESTER: Ribosomes 12" (SUPPOSE 170). $9.00

Music by Thomas Brinkmann & words by molecular biologist Ira G. Wool from University of Chicago. 2 hits from the album Der Uebersetzer – Il Traduttore. "Nice 3-track set from Thom B. First A-side track works a fine motorik with nary a bassdrum in sight. Second track goes for the industrial kick and stays quite simple. The long track on the B-Side is very reminiscent of the Jim Ingram single, only with a speech about D/RNA over the top instead of a black power speech. No clue as to the identity of Ira G. Wool (or Jannis Kounellis + Edward Winkhofer, listed on the label as 'voices'). Different." — Hrvatski

VA: *Animal Music: Team Of Jeremy Rott: West Dawson, Yukon-Territory CD (SUPPOSE 25-8). $15.00

Field recordings of dog singing, from Dawson City, Yukon (Northern Canada). Packaged in a digipak, with English/German liner notes. "The peculiar enjoyability of this music, which — in contrast to much contemporary human music — stands the test of repeated listening, forces one to the conclusion that, to the dogs at least, an abstract aesthetic experience constitutes the 'figure' of their play. The 'ground', however, looms a perpetual mournfulness that cannot be accounted for in aesthetic terms. The wail is not about circumstance, chain, or hunger — conspicuously Creation itself stands indicted..." — Oswald Wiener.

SNOW, MICHAEL: *Hearing Aid CD (SUPPOSE 34-7). $15.00

"In the early 1960s Michael Snow interrupted his promising career as a jazz musician in order to direct his interests fully on other artistic ventures. Soon later he came up with his first experimental movies which are still some of the most interesting positions in avant-garde filmmaking. Not coincidentally, parallel to the film pieces he began around 1970 to work around sound recordings. These less known pieces are a consequent continuation of the experiments with recording on an acoustic level. They are above all a scrutiny of the mediums specific means of recording which apparently guarantee the authenticity of a work. Snow's filmic and acoustic pieces challenge this anticipated authenticity of a technical recording in every detail. They evoke and yet again destabilize every production of meaning by means of irrationalities, repetitions or simply the duration of time. Those medial effects converge with the recipient's activity of reception, so that the process of reception itself emerges as an unknown factor open for discourse. The CD Hearing Aid with new productions by Michael Snow and his band CCMC is published as a catalogue on the occasion of the exhibition of Michael Snow's Sound Works at Gallery Klosterfelde in Berlin. The Booklet contains a text by art historian Ariane Beyn in English and German."

ROEHR, PETER: *Tonmontage CD (SUPPOSE 35-5). $18.00

Brilliant, hilarious concrete recordings from 1966 — the only document available of Roehr's audio works. German language, but not that is not an obtrusive factor for general enjoyment. (For remixes of Roehr's work, see the Whatness label). "Original recordings by the artist, writer and musician Peter Roehr, who died in 1967 at the age of 23. Like contemporary artists and writers such as Andy Warhol and William S. Burroughs, Roehr experimented with the principles of cut-up, serialism and montage, but unlike them he was working with those principles in almost all available media: film, text, visual arts and music. For the first time the publisher Supposé (Cologne) makes original recordings by Peter Roehr available — montages he made in 1966 with material from German Broadcast and American commercials. Stunning and highly entertaining archive recordings and a simple must for everyone interested in the history of soundart and experimentalism. Comes in digi-pak with design by Peter Roehr, compiled by Klaus Sander (Supposé) and Frank Dommert (Sonig)."

VA: *2:3 — Oswald Wiener Zum 65. Geburtstag CD (SUPPOSE18-5). $15.00

"An acoustic homage to the artist, poet and theorist Oswald Wiener from his friends, companions and fans. The inspiration for the different tracks was Wiener's aesthetic of failure in the tradition of the Wiener Gruppe (The Vienna Group) and of his selten gehörte Musik (rarely heard music) records with Gerhard Rühm and Dieter Roth. 'Together we have attempted an aesthetic of failure, an aesthetic of incompetence. And this is a very painful aesthetic, an aesthetic of embarrassment, disgrace and limitation. But because the main thing is to seize and to emotionally affect the listener, there is of course this disgrace and embarrassment as a kind of emotion and as a play with ones own weakness...' With original tracks from: Thomas Brinkmann & Marcus Schmickler, Valie Export & Ingrid Wiener, Nihilist Spasm Band, Mouse on Mars, Ira G. Wool, Wolfgang Müller (Die tödliche Doris), Gerhard Rühm, Hubert Fichte, Mario Subassiss, Michel Würthle, Rolf Graf, Franz Josef Czernin, Attersee, Rosa Pock, H. C. Artmann."

SUPREMAT (GERMANY):*TRURL AND Klapacius (CRISTIAN VOGEL): *Sing Sweet Software! CD (SUPRE 01 CD). $14.50

"Trurl and Klapacius are robots. In Stanislaw Lem's Cyberiad mid-60's novel, they're busy flying around the universe building machines. Each machine they build makes up a chapter from this visionary book. Cristian Vogel was reading these stories while celebrating his hobby in the studio: recording the variation of modules of modular systems he programmed himself — modulating each other for periods of time. The result is music that does not evolve, it's varying. Borrowing the names of Lem's robots in reference to his own automated studio work, the Vogel experiment turned into a project when he picked his favourite musical modules — computers and their software — and let them go to work on their own. In his own eyes, he's not the composer of the work so much as the executive producer. The computer itself rather — the software within — wrote the music: Vogel's contributions filtered and edited the final outcomes. This parallel to Cyberiad's Trurl and Klapacius sidelines and highlights the Supremat philosophy: Machines constructing machines; machines creating music that's constantly varied and reinventing itself. ...wit special digi packaging."

TRANSLUSION: Mind Over Positive & Negative Dimensional Matter 12" (SUPRE 02). $8.00

"One half of Drexciya is responsible for the Translusion project. This Drexciyan has left the underwater battlefield for a little while and moves with this 12" and the upcoming album onto a different but extreme level of imagination, transferred into music that sounds more playful, softer than Drexciya. The Dopplereffekt is missing, the melodic sound constructions are the ones wooing the beat — Detroit-Electro-Pop. In this case, one level could also be the dancefloor. The three tracks in this package are an appetizer for the longplay CD and double-vinyl The Opening Of The Cerebral Gate, three exclusives available here on vinyl only."

TRANSLUSION: *The Opening Of The Cerebral Gate CD (SUPRE 03CD). $14.50

"With The Opening of the Cerebral Gate one half of Drexciya recorded a solo longplayer under the project name Translusion. This Drexciyan has left the underwater battlefield for a little while and moves onto a different level of imagination, transferred into music that sounds more playful, softer than Drexciya. The Dopplereffekt is missing, the melodic sound constructions are the ones wooing the beat. Here is the amazing and extended Electro-(nic) journey of an unique musician from Detroit — recorded exclusively for Supremat — made available on CD and on double-vinyl. CD: special digi packing, all tracks new & exclusive, file under Detroit/Electro."

TRANSLUSION: *The Opening Of The Cerebral Gate 2LP (SUPRE 03LP). $14.00

Double vinyl version.

SWAMI:*CRIME: *San Francisco's Still Doomed CD (SWA 126CD). $13.00

Reissue of a previous bootleg of unreleased demos (one 11 track session from 1978, the other a 9 track session from 1979), plus 2 alt. 7" takes. Doesn't include the original studio recordings of their singles, that's forthcoming on a Revenant release; medium quality, but it's the only Crime release out there (for now). "One of the most artistically significant and visually subversive bands in the rock n roll universe was Crime. Having released the first independent punk record on the West Coast in 1976 they immediately set a precedent as one of the loosest, most raw, uncompromising and confrontational bands of all time. Dubbing themselves 'San Francisco's first and only Rock N Roll band' only added to an already bubbling alienation from the punk scene at that time. They were simply too wild to contain, too styleized to ignore, and musically too violent for the faint of heart. San Francisco's Still Doomed is a reissue of their classic San Francisco's Doomed record with two unreleased bonus tracks (alternate takes of 'Hot Wire My Heart' and 'You're So Repulsive'), never seen before photos, updated liner notes and better mastering. Both bonus tracks are taken from the same session that produced the first Crime single."

CRIME: *San Francisco's Still Doomed LP (SWA 126LP). $10.00

LP version.

SWARF FINGER RECORDS (UK):*GONK: *Will/Will Not Attend CD (SF 029 CD). $16.00

"Over 70 minutes of intense samples and electronica which is the debut from Gonk, being the work of Nigel Smith (who records as Dunderhead on the Worm Interface label) and Mark Davies (Voices of Kwahn, Throne, Ragga & The Jack Magic Orchestra). This CD has been recorded over the past couple of years in bedrooms and at live shows. The mixture of ethnic sounds and full-on abrasive sounds coupled with the improvised use of dance machinery such as the 303 and 909 makes this a unique listening experience."

FOEHN: *Silent Light CD (SF 037 CD). $16.00

"Second full length album from one Deb Parsons, a Cotham UK native who before redefining the term 'outsider music' on her previous album (1998's InsideOut Eyes) and EP (1998's split EP with Ad Vanz/Gescom on FatCat) was one half of Bristol based found sound/rhythm/dialogue/context icons The Third Eye Foundation. Moribund sequences of sonic narrative abound, cleverly assembled into points of alignment as varied as a Nth gen Portishead cassette dupe or possibly a Cage-ian location study like 'Waltz'. Awesome music of intense individuality, someone to keep tabs on for sure..." — Hrvatski.

SWAYZAK (UK):*VA: *Two Hundred And Forty Volts CD (SWZ 002 CD). $18.00

"Two Hundred And Forty Volts came together as a result of the Swayzak tours, where they were given material by acquaintances and strangers encountered along the way. It is an album compiled with a sense for travelling as well as listening. Influences are broad, yet echoes of Kraftwerk, Underground Resistance, Basic Channel, etc. Turns out 80s synth pop can be ideal for combining sounds from the past with those of the future. The first half of the record is pure analog — no computers involved and a decidedly strong dose of electro funk. The second half of the compilation is a more digital affair, where warmth, depth, and melody flow from our more tech-oriented brethren." Artists include: Swayzak, Roger 23, James S. Taylor, Betamax, Theorem, Dwayne Sodahberk, and Tavern On The Green.

SWAYZAK FEAT. KIRSTY: State Of Grace Mixes 12" (SWZ 012 EP). $9.00

"The latest release from the long dormant, but now operational Swayzak Recordings. This cult classic of electro-blues was first available in 2000 on the LP Himawari. Never released on a commercial 12", we felt that it was only right to make this much sought after song available to all. With a new mix from Vancouver's Headgear, and the original LP mix plus the ever fresh Silicon Scally (Carl Finlow) rework, this is indeed a package of taste and style. Swayzak have been putting out music since 1998 when the underground favorite 'Snowboarding in Argentina' was released. Their last LP Dirty Dancing on K7, cemented their position at the forefront of electronic-minimal-dub-house-pop."

SWEAT RECORDS:*VA: *Sweat Mix Vol. 1 CD (SWEAT 01 CD). $14.50

"Submerge debuted a new House label this past summer with Sweat Records — a label that picks up where Soul City Records left off. Soul City helped launch the careers of Kenny Dixon Jr., Alton Miller, and Aaron Carl; and this mix album showcases the sound that was Soul City. Its' also a glimpse of what is to come from Sweat Records. Many of the tracks here are out of print and have never been available on CD. All the tracks were selected by Sweat Records label founder Derwin Hall, aka the Beat Addicts. Di Rolando flexes his House mixing skills putting together this flawless and unrelenting mix." Artists include: Hardlife UR, Marc Pharoah Soul City, Members Of The House, Van Renn, Mad Mike feat. Thornetta, Alton Miller, Tink Thomas, The Deacon, Kenny Dixon Jr., Together Trax, Aaron Carl, Beat Addicts, Ron E. feat. Davina, and Los Hermanos.

SWILL RADIO:*PICKLE FACTORY, THE: *Our Pledge LP (SWILL 012). $11.00

Now issued on LP as well, with superior packaging to the CD.

PICKLE FACTORY, THE: *Our Pledge CD (SWILL 013). $11.00

The Pickle Factory is Scott Foust and Karla Borecky of the Idea Fire Co., plus a third member. Again utilizing layers of keyboards, bass, tapes, synths, guitars, etc. plus some occasional floating vocal tonings, there is much cosmic beauty touched upon here, in a slightly more song-like forum than IFC. Floating capsules of sound, with a vague touch of post-Kosmiche awareness, making this an outsider force to be reckoned with. My favorite on the label to date, but the CD packaging (banal manila envelope) is so pathetically uninspired that it's hard to figure out why they bothered.

BRANDSDAL, KJETIL D.: *Rogalands Lydigste LP (SWILL 015). $13.00

"Brandsdal has had a number of small-edition LPs & singles released under his own name, as well as the Kjetil Del Brondo Group. This is his first widely available release, although Brandsdal is soon to have a 'best of the early LPs' CD out on the influential Corpus Hermeticum label. This LP is his most abstract his best: scuttling lo-fi, ghostly transmissions from an unknown planet. Like the music of the Shadow Ring, Organum, Ashtay Navigations, and Oval, this is truly original music that falls between the cracks of codified genres. Although the whole LP is superb, the last track, 'Cubicki', is a piece that constantly delivers exactly what I want out of music, and is not to be missed."

SHADOW RING, THE: Lighthouse 2LP (SWILL 017). $15.00

First album in a while from the UK-centered group (previous documentation via their own Dry Leaf label, Corpus Hermeticum & Siltreze). Assisting the core members (Lambkin, Harris, Goss) on this recording (from '97-'98) are the following Americans: Adris Hoyos, Karla Borecky & Scott Foust (Idea Fire Co.). "To enter the world of the Shadow Ring is to enter a surreal anti-world of bizarre song structure. Lighthouse will rank with Trout Mask Replica and Tago Mago as both one of the most avant garde and the most eccentric double LPs of all time. Unlike those two records, Lighthouse features no instrumental pyrotechnics, instead relying on odd sonic combinations, startling lyrics, and a very painterly use of minimal studio technology. Absolutely essential listening if you are interested in modernist stretching of song form with extraordinary results."

IDEA FIRE COMPANY: Anti-Natural LP (SWILL 018). $11.00

"Idealized field recordings that capture the hallucinatory isolation of an abandoned arctic base. Anti-Natural combines organic mechanistic processes into an aesthetic whole. Both severe and opulent, naive and self-confident, Anti-Natural offers an escape route from the false dichotomies of man/nature and man/machine and attempts the transcendence of the impossible. Electronic recreations of the world around us, both real and imagined, foment immutable revolutions in sound."

TART: Radio Orange LP (SWILL 019). $12.00

"The debut LP from the trio of: Karla Borecky, Graham Lambkin, and Scott Foust. Tart is an exquisite combination of three distinct minds, much like the skillful structure of diverse, yet subtle, ingredients in a piquant and nostalgic recipe: The Past as well as The Future. Tart blends together these strange elements in an organic yet totally disciplined style that renders many of their contemporaries as either flabby or boring. Radio Orange presents 7 original pieces of expertly edited new music-form. From the opening tape-collage miniatures, 'The Rabbits of Mangtarau' (pts 1 & 2), through to the indeterminacy and excitement of the closing title-track, Radio Orange carves its identity through great use of diversified expression. The analog drone/vox duet: 'Astride Such Delicate Pins'; the bizarre environmental action, 'Woman In Her Womb'; the fragile tone composite, 'The Mums'; and the grinding electronic surge of (the almost 20 minute) 'Chopin in a Shell' all help complete the program in classic style. The overall sound is both hypnotic and explosive, with each side being carefully sequenced to maximize the fact. The super-modernist avant garde continues to raise its aesthetic head under the romantic banner of the Anti-Naturals. Tart is fabulous."

EARLY W: Volume 2: Nur Die Tiere Blieben Ubrig LP (SWILL 020). $13.00

"Volume two in a Swill Radio series of LPs documenting the early work of Ralf Wehowsky (aka RLW). As with volume one, a slightly different version of this LP was originally released on cassette by Wahrnehmungen (later renamed Selektion) in the early 80's. This is a much more band-oriented release than volume 1. A number of tracks were recorded live and the mood is aggressive throughout. This is a fantastic Neue Deutsche Welle document. If it had been released on LP, it would be legendary. It still is."

SHADOW RING, THE: Lindus LP (SWILL 021). $13.00

"Long delayed follow-up to Lighthouse. Over the last decade no other band have prompted such strong reaction as The Shadow Ring. Loved or hated, their unique and powerful sound has been totally impossible to ignore. Lindus sees that sound polarized to its logical and most satisfying extreme. Strange, claustrophobic sound-worlds build and overlap, creating a listening environment that is uncompromising, disturbing, yet always original. The mood is bleak and deflated throughout, providing a stark contrast to the carnival that was Lighthouse. The simple use of synths, electronics, tapes and voice has never been more effective. The Shadow Ring are that rare thing: a true underground band unaffected by trend or whim, and Lindus is their most supreme statement yet. Special edition of 500 copies."

TART: Bring In The Admiral LP (SWILL 022). $13.00

"Tart (Graham Lambkin, Karla Borecky, and Scott Foust) presents the world with their second LP, Bring In The Admiral. Using the same minimal instrumentation as the live shows (two small casios, guitar, and a shortwave/cassette boombox plus a few studio effects and The Anti-Naturals trademark: tight, subtle, and yet powerful editing), Tart produces a dazzling array of scenarios, a testament to deranged beauty. Tart is a band that truly does not sound like anyone else."

WORDFISH (UK):*GURU & ZERO: Makoto Mango CD (GURU 001CD). $19.00

"This is the long awaited collaboration between Daavid Allen from Gong and Kawabata Makoto from Acid Mothers Temple. It is one long continuous piece featuring Daavid Allen on glissando guitar and vocals, drone and lead guitars from Kawabata and added synth from Cotton Casino."

FATHER MOO & THE BLACK SHEEP: CD (SFAM 01CD). $18.00

A UK-only issue of what was previously available as a non-distributed CDR release on the Acid Mothers Temple CDR label (later reissued as a very limited LP on Swordfish). Jewel case packaging, with a completely unbelievable Yod-tribute sleeve. The music is in the realm of tranquil drone-intensive freak outs (electronics, moaning vocal sounds, processed murk), not at all in the rocking style of Kawabata's well known Acid Mother's Temple ensemble. A sensational artifact, presented to perfection.

HAINO, KEIJI: Next Let Us Try Changing the Shape CD (SFKH 001CD). $19.00

"Featuring 6 pieces, featuring Haino's voice, guitar and sampled guitar. It sees him developing themes on from his last PSF release."

YA HO WHA 13: I'm Gonna Take You Home CD (YHVH 001CD). $17.00

New reissue of this all-time classic from 1974, licensed directly from Father Yod's Source Foundation in Hawaii. Previously only available as a long gone bootleg or as part of the 13CD Capt. Trip box, now readily available. This is one of deepest Ya Ho Wha albums, right up there with Penetration. "The ultimate acid album ever! These seminal west coast weirdsters are rumoured to have had members of the 13th Floor Elevators and Sky Saxon involved and perform with them. True or not, this album is extremely rare and musically very, very weird! This mystical and drug-influenced collection of lysergic acid heads created some of the scariest sounds ever, definitely NOT for the faint hearted. After you light the blue touch paper, stand well back, because this toxic concoction will liquidize any cerebral matter within a 10 metre radius! Manic, screamed vocals are accompanied by relentless 100% twisted guitar on this mega rare platter. Presented in its original and totally authentic gatefold sleeve with the 'lovers and the chariot' tarot card cover and the proclamation 'divine communion time is here, little kitties — YA HO WA 009 — Licensed to give life!' 'I could write a book on the cover. It is an absolute masterpiece of design, and probably the greatest cover in music history. Suffice it to say if you were to fully grasp the meaning and symbology of it, you would have the keys to magically transform your person and environment into your hearts desire and ride the chariot of god into the future of your own will, one with god.' — Djin Aquarian (Guitar) on I'm Gonna Take You Home."

YA HO WHA 13: The Operetta 2LP (YHVH 003). $42.00

"The psychedelic find of the decade-their long-lost final magnum opus. Rumoured to exist for years-often put down as just rumour though. Here it is, unearthed from tapes thought lost forever but now found after nearly 30 years. The first thing to be released from Ya Ho Wha 13 since 1975. In the spring of 1975 the Family was homeless and was travelling on the West Coast after having been driven out of Hawaii by local laws (they would return later that year for what would be the final time with Father). Ya Ho Wha had taken a spontaneous journey to the East which had culminated in his initiation in the Great Pyramid of Egypt on Easter Sunday. Upon his return to the San Francisco area a warehouse in Corte Madeira was rented for the Family to gather for their Aquarian style morning meditations and meetings to greet the dawn. This is where The Operetta came down. It represents the first musical channelling from the time after Ya Ho Wha's Easter Resurrection in the Great Pyramid (returning transformed) and the last total musical recording he would make with the band. The 6 pieces which make up The Operetta form the culmination of all the YaHoWhan recordings — thunderous percussion, massive psychedelic guitar swirlings are all vying for space with Ya Ho Wha's spontaneous chanting in this intense journey into inner self. The final and most awesome of all their creations. A strictly limited edition 2 LP set presented in a gatefold cover featuring previously unseen photographs from the Family's personal archives, it comes with an insert featuring a transcription of Ya Ho Wha's thoughts and comments on the piece when he heard the tapes played back to him shortly after they were recorded. One off pressing — this is destined to become as rare as the Higherkey originals."

SYMPATHY FOR THE RECORD INDUSTRY:*ERICKSON AND THE ALIENS, ROKY: The Evil One CD (SFTRI 685 CD). $13.00

"There are many Roky Erickson albums, but The Evil One originally released by CBS Records in Europe in 1980 was the first of them and, many would say the best. This re-issue also includes five additional songs contained on the 1981 U.S. release of The Evil One on San Francisco's 415 Recordings and thus contains all of the Roky material from these great recording sessions produced by Stu Cook for Orb Productions from 1978 to 1980. For the first time included on this re-issue are additional bonus tracks including earlier versions of 'Mine Mine Mind', 'Two Headed Dog', and 'Click Your Fingers' applauding the play previously released on vinyl by France's Sponge Records in 1976."

SUICIDE: Attempted: Live at Max's Kansas City 1980 CD (SFTRI 729CD). $13.00

"Suicide is singer Alan Vega and keyboardist Martin Rev. They came out of the same New York City scene that spawned the Ramones, Patti Smith and the New York Dolls in the mid 70s. A blend of psychosis and sentimentality wrapped up in minimalist drones, menacing vocals, mad scat lines, heavily echoed screams and screeches, incoherent mumbles and a dash of sugary crooning, the 'primal duo' (as they have been affectionately dubbed) recorded Live at Max's Kansas City 1980 and it features the distinctive Suicide sound in its most passionate and primitive form. Never intended for commercial release, this 'no frills' raw and wild punk ritual illustrates why Suicide are among rock 'n roll's consummate performers. Using only a 1950's rhythm machine and a cheap Farfisa keyboard on their legendary and eponymous self titled debut in 1977, Suicide are considered to be one of the pioneers and founders of today's electronica movement and have influenced the likes of Jesus & Mary Chain, Spacemen 3, Stereolab and scores of others. This record released for the first time ever is nearly 80 minutes long and contains previously unreleased songs. Not for the faint of heart, Live at Max's Kansas City 1980 is perfect in all its imperfection ... even 24 years later."

SCIENTISTS, THE: Pissed on Another Planet 2CD (SFTRI 733CD). $16.00

"1976...Punk Rock...London...New York...CBGB....., everyone makes those connections. However! Seeds were taking root in much more far off and strange places back then. Perth in Western Australia, the most isolated capitol city in the world. Kim Salmon was developing his parallel universe of punk and it came forth The Scientists, one of the cornerstones of 'garage rock'. Pissed on Another Planet chronicles The Scientists early experiments in those Perth years 1978-1980. The sound was a brash blend of punk rock and anglo pop, quite different than the primal swamp grunge blueprint known and beloved by 'garage heads' the world over. 'Frantic Romantic', 'Last Night', 'Pissed On Another Planet', 'Teenage Dreamer'....all those collector's faves...., they're all here, along with previously unreleased material from the very first time this band was captured on magnetic tape."

SYNAETHESIA (AUSTRALIA):*VA: Strewth CD (SYN 002). $15.00

"A compilation of abstract electronic music from Australia and New Zealand. Where this compilation succeeds is in its ability to encompass the wide variety and all round high quality of the Pacific Rim's damaged and exploratory audio activities. However, in a single volume this compilation lays forth an initial reading of such activities, a chart to navigate the various creative threads unfolding throughout the region if you will. Stylistically the 60+ mins represented here runs the gamut from the hendrix meets ina-grm collision of Candlesnuffer, 'head in a television' static of Philip Samartzis, narrative driven kung-fu electroacoustics from Delire, skittering schizophrenia of Auigiugui, unusual vocal excursions of cray, gentle abstract beauty courtesy of Matthew Thomas, some subtle yet unnerving sonics of Darrin Verghagen and Netochka Nezanova and some truly stunning alien frequencies unearthed via Dion Workman's mini disc feedback set up. Along with numerous other inventive approaches Strewth takes a cut-section of this disparate scene, presenting a broad range of challenging music packaged in standard jewel case with 12 page informative full colour booklet. Complete artists represented: Candlesnuffer, Delire, Philip Samartzis, zyzx, Xonk, Cray, Matthew Thomas, Netochka Nezanova, Darrin Verghagen, Dave Franzke, Rosy Parlana, Oren Ambarchi, Auigiugui, Squinch, Dion Workman."

DÉLIRE: Diaspora CD (SYN 005). $15.00

"Délire is a Melbourne based artist working in the realms of electroacoustic music and video game production. Diaspora works to combine these interests. Enter through the gates of Délire and one is immediately exposed to a devastating display of kung fu electroacoustics and abrupt changes in velocity. Continue further and one encounters a narrative driven abstract audio environment, complete with textural drones, virtual field recordings and hallucinatory atmospheres. In other words this is game music today — not some nostalgic flashback to C64 and the like. End result is a staggering monster machine music. Legless software tackling the fictions of science. The bulk of these sounds were generated from computer game synthesis + pdxx c on linux — all systems designed by Délire."

SNAWKLOR: It Could Have Lived Here CD (SYN 006). $15.00

"Snawklor is a project that reorders the sonic environments of D. Kravac and N. Gray. They create compositions exploring ideas of space and personal location by processing and re-ordering recordings of their sonic environments. Their compositions not only use the sounds around them but also mimic their perceived structures, layering them via a mixture of order and automated indeterminacy. It Would Have Lived Here is their second full length release. A rich display of acoustic ecology incorporating field recordings, miked up metallic percussion, tape debris and computer construction. Whilst remixing the world around them Snawklor have developed a unique aesthetic language which is far from Windham Hill utopia but neither is it the evil edge as encountered in some of the recordings of Francisco Lopez and the like." A unique working process is exemplified by the 1st track 'doublivores back' combines field recordings from inner city Merri Creek with R+B influenced rhythms and sharp shots of the prior occupant of cassette sneaking through. The appearance of the subliminal residue of Grandmaster Flash makes for a unique chance procedure and is typical of snawklor's inventive approach.

PATERAS & ROBIN FOX, ANTHONY: Coagulate CD (SYN 007). $15.00

"Coagulate is the debut release from electroacoustic improvisation duo Anthony Pateras & Robin Fox. Utilising a diverse array of approaches and forms, this album presents incredible real-time mutations of acoustic and electronic resources fused by a chaotic and physical improvisational language. From discarded piano frames to feedback to ingested microphones to vintage synthesizers, resources are combined, deconstructed, developed and devastated through both linear and non-linear trajectories. Oscillating between the extreme vocalise of 'voxerratum', the delicate feedback mass of 'Recombinant', and the pianistic submersion of '44° Splitter', Coagulate offers an essential document of contemporary improvisational practice exemplifying ear-bending relationships between the acoustic and electronic."

SYNCOM PRODUKTIONS (GERMANY):

VA: Dammit! Acid Burned My Fuckin Brain 2LP (SYNCOM 03). $17.00

"Sixth volume of themed lockgroove offerings (50 per side, 4 sides each, 6 volumes = 1200 133.3- BPM loops thusfar) from the Köln-based Syncom label. This one sets itself ahead of the pack in that it's not a collection of new locks by folks like Walker/Heiss et al but in fact a collection of loops from era acid classics by Joey Beltram, Phuture, etc... Many a spoken "ecstasy", "jack", "...your body", "...your mind", "acid $", "bass", "ex...", "ex... foliate", etc... No territorial rights were discussed, no royalties paid, no sectional provisions agreed upon (i.e. ILLEGAL). All that aside, a quite nice reminder of a time long lost (this would be UK, 1988-1992). Pretend you're Simon Reynolds & wax eternal on the mental embargo of the spirit (world) as machinated by the Roland X0X line (& 345's full of skintainted smileyshirtwearing nobos). All that's glitter..." — Hrvatski.

VA: Cologne Cycles No. 3 2LP (SYNCOM 08). $17.00

Fourth volume in this series of locked grooves from the Cologne underground. Features productions from: Kathy Wong, Link, Craig Anderson, Xbug09, Frank Heiss, Irwin Leschel, Digital Science & Dr. W. Two hundred locked grooves altogether.

SYR:

SONIC YOUTH: Anagrama CD (SYR 01 CD). $9.00

"Sonic Youth have started their own label — SYR, and are releasing a series of 12"s and CDs. SYR 01 features 4 new songs written and recorded by Sonic Youth in their studio in NYC. The 4 compositions are titled: 'Anagrama', 'Improvisation Ajoutée', 'Tremens', & 'Mieux: De Corrosion'. All 4 songs are instrumentals. The track listing is the same for the 12" and the CD version of this release." Twenty-four minutes of expansive, cloud-relational sound blatters, SY in their most exotically stretched OUT vein. Those two zeros above your nose will zap in a totally satisfying manner.

SONIC YOUTH: Anagrama 12" (SYR 01 LP). $9.00

SONIC YOUTH: Slaapkammers Met Slagroom CD (SYR 2 CD). $9.00

2nd volume in this EP series. 3 new songs. "Extrapolated, expansive and highly electric, this new music is largely instrumental with a penchant for cosmic skip-tracing."

SONIC YOUTH: Slaapkammers Mit Slagroom 12" (SYR 2 LP). $9.00

SONIC YOUTH WITH JIM O'ROURKE: Invito Al Cielo CD (SYR 3 CD). $9.00

"Third installment in the home-recorded, self-released series. CD packaged in mini-gatefold cardboard sleeve, vinyl pressed on the clearest of wax, all text in Esperanto. Three wild, spontaneous, improvised pulsations that exemplify contemporary abstraction at its most uninhibited." A 57 minute free form organic excursion that totally sounds like Sonic Youth without ever sounding anything like Sonic Youths' past output & an excellent continuation of this series.

SONIC YOUTH WITH JIM O'ROURKE: invito Al Cielo 12" (SYR 3 LP). $9.00

SONIC YOUTH: Goodbye 20th Century 2CD (SYR 4 CD). $18.00

"Sonic Youth pays tribute to some of modern composing's most imposing personae with William Winant, Jim O'Rourke, Takehisa Kosugi, Christian Wolff, Coco Hayley Gordon Moore, Christian Marclay, and Wharton Tiers. Music composed by John Cage, Yoko Ono, Cornelius Cardew, Steve Reich, Takehisa Kosugi, Nicolas Slonimsky, George Macuinias, James Tenney, Pauline Oliveros, and Christian Wolff. 'Everything comes to an end, even the twentieth century.' ?Lou Harrison"

SONIC YOUTH: Goodbye 20th Century 2LP (SYR 4 LP). $18.00

GORDON/MORE, IKUE/DJ OLIVE, KIM: CD (SYR 5CD). $9.00

"Sonic Youth's femme-mystere has created a distinctly new trio of spontaneous composition and prose. Since reclaiming the electric guitar (her original instrument with the Sonic Youth) and developing a newfound post-Patty Waters free-vox technique, she has enjoined her vision with the improvisational meta-talents of Ikue Mori (ex-drummer of no wave legends DNA, currently in a class by herself with other-world sampling), and DJ Olive (of the wizardly We, coinier of the term illbient, and regarded by those in the heavy underground of post-beat turntable/drum'n'whatever as 'the heaviest'). Together the trio hit the local boards throughout 1999 and created a unified concept of sound/energy dynamix. They recorded with engineer Wharton Tiers and mixer Jim O'Rourke for the first recording on SYR not by Sonic Youth proper. The results, which also feature the magic fingers of Cibo Matto's Yuka Honda on a track, are at once sensuous, elegant and completely blistering."

GORDON/MORE, IKUE/DJ OLIVE, KIM: 2LP (SYR 5LP). $13.00

TA DA RECORDS:

NANOBOT AUXILIARY BALLET: Nanobot Auxiliary Ballet CD (YAY 001CD). $13.00

"10 tracks of handcranked electrical dadapop silly horror movie soundtrack almost disco. In the spring of 2001, fresh from the end of Pest5000, Kevin Komoda and Patti Schmidt turned to an 808 drum machine, an acoustic guitar, a moog, and an organ. Both had been writing and performing songs together since 1992 — aided even back then by instruments of similar design and a lot of 4 tracking. They started to assemble a project interested in analog electronics, pop, weirdosity and insidious simplicity."

NANOBOT AUXILIARY BALLET: Nanobot Auxiliary Ballet LP (YAY 001LP). $14.50
LP version.

WORLD PROVIDER: Enabler CD (YAY 002CD). $14.00

"Montreal-based World Provider was first observed as a sidekick to the well-reputed International Canadian Jackass cabal (Peaches, Gonzales, Mocky, Taylor Savvy, Feist). World Provider now announces the release of his new album Enabler on Ta-Da, purveyors of the new outsider rock revolution. This collection runs the gamut from his familiar toy-keyboard jams to ass-kicking rock anthems, trashy electro bangers, and even a tearjerking country ballad, 100% irony-free."

TABLE OF THE ELEMENTS:

PARKINS, ZEENA: Nightmare Alley CD (TABLE 01). $14.00

Last copies, of the first Table of the Elements release from 1992. One of America's most astounding improvisers. Her work on this CD of solo electric and acoustic harp songs is explosive, often blurring into fuzz-distortion terrain.

CALE, JOHN: New York in the 1960's 5LP (TABLE 087LP). $58.00

Vinyl versions of the three previous John Cale albums on TOTE (Sun Blindness Music, Dream Interpretation: Inside The Dream Syndicate Vol. II, Dream Interpretation: Inside The Dream Syndicate Vol. II). Side 10 features 2 bonus tracks which previously appeared on the Jack Smith CDs on TOTE. "Five LPs in black-lacquered wood box with libretto, bonus tracks and more. John Cale's great credit, both inside and outside the Velvet Underground, was to have found the inoculation dosage that would addict the music industry to SOUND without alienating one world from the other. But outside the 'official' VU there was also an uncut version of the virus, incubated behind the slum walls of the 1960's Lower East Side, and maintained live in the liquid nitrogen of these insolently recorded reel-to-reel audiotapes, recorded and produced by Tony Conrad and now available in the massive Table of the Elements 5xLP boxed set, New York in the 1960's."

HAINO, KEIJI: I Said, This Is The Son Of Nihilism CD (TABLE 18). $14.00

1995 release, repressed, repackaged. "...accentuates Haino's uncompromising stance and draws upon the full range of his talents. Beginning with an extended blast of incendiary guitar, the disc slowly segues into a more reserved series of quiet passages, highlighted by Haino's unique and evocative vocals... at the peak of his artistic prowess, balancing interludes of gassamer delicacy with heavy electronic crescendos."

FAUST: Rien CD (TABLE 24). $14.50

Mid-90s album, repressed at last! Produced by Jim O'Rourke. "From 1971 to 1975, Germany's Faust carved a megalithic reputation as the greatest avant-garde group of the era. Formed in the spirit of the May '68 uprisings, they inspired the term 'Krautrock,' influenced generations of subsequent bands, and to this day define an entire genre. In 1994, Table of the Elements brought the reclusive Faust to America for the first time, taking them on tour and orchestrating their return to the studio. The result is Rien, the first studio recordings from Faust in over 20 years. With major contributions from producer and performer Jim O'Rourke (Sonic Youth), as well as guest members Keiji Haino (Fushitsusha), Steven Wray Lobdell (Redford-David Triad) and Michael Morley (The Dead C), Faust have managed to create a record as unflinchingly audacious and uncompromising as their earliest work. An aggressive collection of electronic pastiche, musique concret, power tools and group improvisation results in an extraordinary return by one of the seminal experimental ensembles of all time. Out-of-print since 1995, this the first and finest of the records by the 90s-era Faust, notoriously packaged entirely in silver, with spoken credits hidden on the CD."

CONRAD WITH FAUST, TONY: Outside the Dream Syndicate 30th Anniv. Ed. 2CD (TABLE 302). $21.00

"Back in stock in a budget-conscious 2xCD jewel case format. The silence ended here. Made over three days on a remote farm in northern Germany, Outside the Dream Syndicate — Tony Conrad's historic 1972 meeting with rock visionaries Faust — was the composer and violinist's debut album and a revelatory document of his central role in the birth of minimalism. Issued only in Europe, it was the first officially available record of Conrad's microtonal explorations, initiated in the Dream Syndicate in the early 1960s. This 30th Anniversary Edition features a second disc of originally unreleased music from the sessions and restores Outside the Dream Syndicate to its rightful place in history: as the vital link between early minimalism and the rock avant-garde and a gripping testament to the power and beauty of the Drone."

RLW: Pullover CD (TABLE 32). $14.00

Repressed. "RLW is German composer Ralf Wehowsky, founder of renowned ensemble P16.D4 and the influential Selektion label. Pullover is a text-based electro-acoustic piece that includes contributions by Jerome Noettinger, Francisco Lopez, Stefan Schmidt, and Gastr del Sol's David Grubbs and Jim O'Rourke." "RLW is impossible to locate, his music resists pigeon-holding and refuses simple labels. It's neither industrial music nor musique concrete; it's not really computer music but nor is it improvisational; perhaps it's all of these things." —EST.

CONRAD, TONY: Early Minimalism: Volume One 4CD (TABLE 33). $42.00

Repressed! Four CD box set with 96-page book and enhanced CD-ROM featuring interviews, performance footage and video scores. Includes the massive "Four Violins" (1964) — one of the world's most important and space-inhaling pieces of music ever, which was only briefly available on LP. Mainline it as loud as you possibly can. Plus: "Early Minimalism: April, 1965" (for solo violin and string quartet); "Early Minimalism: May 1965" [performed here by Conrad, Alexandria Gelencser (cello) and Jim O'Rourke (violin)]; "Early Minimalism: June 1965" (studio work for four multitracked violins with cello). "The story becomes familiar: In 1962 Tony Conrad's amplified strings introduced the sustained drone of just-intonation into 'minimal' music. Conrad, together with John Cale, Angus MacLise, La Monte Young and Marian Zazeela formed a performance collaboration from 1962-65 sometimes known as the Dream Syndicate. Utilizing long durations and precise pitch, their aggressively mesmerizing 'Dream Music' denied the activity of composition, articulated their shared ideas of performance, and established the Big Bang of 'minimalism'. When this remarkable group dissolved in 1966, their many rehearsal and performance recordings were repressed by Young and Zazeela, and remain unheard to this day. Conrad himself stepped outside of the Dream Syndicate once: on December 19, 1964 he recorded 'Four Violins', his only 1960s solo tape of violin playing. In 1987 Conrad set out on a return expedition to the site of these fragments to unearth the losses; the result is the epic 'Early Minimalism'. The finds of 'Early Minimalism' are richest at the place where 'Four Violins' was pointing, where the lost Dream Music would have fully realized its harmonic and expressive potential. Reaching back through time, Early Minimalism weaves a mobile narrative of minimalism: making music out of history, and history out of music."

GÜNTHER, BERNHARD: Details Agrandis CD (TABLE 34). $14.00

New reissue of the 2nd Günter album, originally issued by Selektion. Consisting of 3 long pieces (dedicated to Jim O'Rourke, Richard Long & Giancarlo Toniutti respectively), these slowly crawl toward a sound emittance of high pitched tones, lo-end disruptions, etc., establishing Günter as some sort of king of new minimalism.

GILBERT, BC: Ordier CD (TABLE 35). $14.50

"Though the era of punk was widely regarded as a time of extremes, legendary group Wire and guitarist BC Gilbert provided the most problematic, visionary and ironic response to the music scene of the mid-70s. The angular minimalism of their sound, the abstract, deadpan lyrics and a penchant for confrontation betrayed the art school origins and made Wire an idiosyncratic triumph. With bravery, integrity, absolute courage and energy — and more ideas and concepts than any other musician of his era — Gilbert continues to forge ahead. In his post-Wire work, he has utilized a variety of modernist tools and explored a vast range of experimental music, from electronic noise to ambient drones. Table of the Elements is now pleased to present the contemporaneous CD, Ordier. Recorded for the label in 1996 but subsequently believed lost, Ordier lets loose a wild swarm of electronics. As Gilbert writes: 'I'm taking a very, very minimalist approach and really getting inside some of the sounds and chasing them to destruction. It's done mostly with effects, guitar pedals pushed to the absolute limit.' Beautifully packaged in a custom-designed wood case, and featuring photographs by prominent photographer Bettina Herzner."

GATE: The Monolake CD (TABLE 36). $14.00

Repress of this 1996 studio album, the 2nd in Michael Morley (Dead C.)'s "rock trilogy". "The Monolake" is a road-trip across a tableaux of transcendental drones and detoured records that culminates in an unbelievably heavy meta-literal 'cover' of 'Jennifer' from Faust IV.

VON HAUSSWOLFF, CM: Basic CD (TABLE 42). $14.00

"Carl Michael von Hausswolff's first major domestic release. As a composer he has been the main sound organizer in the duo Phauss; he has also worked with The Hafler Trio, and is currently performing live in the group Ocside with Graham Lewis (Wire, Dome). As a visual artist, he is co-founder of the conceptual state of Elgaland-Bargaland, which hosts a worldwide array of embassies and consulates, and who physical territory is described as 'all borderlines between existing states and areas at sea.' From Immerse: "CM von Hausswolff manages to capture a natural ambience through artificial means better than any other proponent of atmospherica that I know."

LOPEZ, FRANCISCO: Untitled 74 CD (TABLE 43). $14.00

"In reflecting silence, anti-music, soundspace and the disappearance of sound, Madrid composer Francisco López pushes his work further than anyone else in the realm of electronic music. Untitled 74 is his most forceful step yet towards a music of absolutes; an uncompromising, unique work featuring an immense perceptual range that will challenge even the most experienced listener." The most minimalist TOTE packaging yet: clear slimline jewel-case, plain aluminum disc, and a clear acetate insert giving only the artist & title for information.

RADIGUE, ELIANE: Adnos I-III 3CD (TABLE 55). $42.00

"Eliane Radigue has composed for magnetic tape and electronic media since the late 1950's, when she studied with both Pierre Schaeffer and Pierre Henry. From her independently built Paris studio, Ms. Radigue creates an organic ambience within which sound moves in a continual flow around the listener. Composed between 1974-1982 and previously unreleased, the Adnos cycle presents a delicately continuous transformation, a fragile sonic texture. Ms. Radigue, inspired by the idea of moving water as metaphor for sound in motion, writes, 'In the conch formed by sound waves, the ear filters, selects and emphasizes some areas of hearing, just as one's eyes would look at the shimmering of water: at the same time absent and multiple, oriented toward an outside whose image lives reflected in the inner universe.' 'A lot of the best new music can't be captured in sound bites — you have to listen for a long time. Of no one is that truer than Eliane Radigue, who lives in France, but whose unarticulated time sense brings her closer to La Monte Young in sensibility than to anyone in Europe. Listen to her exquisitely-sculpted electronic works for two, three, even seven minutes, and you may hear nothing but a drone. But over a far longer period, her electronic drones thicken, begin to pulse, and change into complexly gritty textures so gradually that you suddenly wonder why you didn't notice the change. Over the long haul her works crescendo into glacially slow climaxes, bristling with harmonics, inducing in the listener an altered state of ecstatic spirituality.' —Kyle Gann"

SAN AGUSTIN: Triangulation (Hoof and Mouth Blues) LP (TABLE 58). $14.00

First in a long-promised series of one-sided clear vinyl-only releases on TOTE. Each disc is screen-printed on the blank-side. "Georgia natives San Agustin (David Danielli, guitar; Andrew Burnes, guitar; Bryan Fielden, drums) have performed with a multitude of notables from the improvised community, including Ken Vandermark, Thurston Moore, Loren MazzaCane and others. In this, the follow-up to their recent 3xCD boxed set (The Expanding Sea), haunting moments of introspection are enveloped in clouds of bluesy guitar notes, then swept away by great electric gales; drones rumble and shimmer in the aftermath. San Agustin is a tremendous ensemble, one that is discreetly creating a genre-defying yet archetypically American music."

FAHEY, JOHN: Hard Time Empty Bottle Blues LP (TABLE 60). $14.50

"One of acoustic music's true innovators and eccentrics, John Fahey was a crucial figure in expanding the boundaries of the acoustic guitar. He drew from blues, Native American music, Indian ragas, experimental dissonance, and pop, and was the first to demonstrate that the finger-picking techniques of traditional country and blues steel-string guitar could be used to express a world of non-traditional musical ideas-harmonies and melodies more readily associated with Bartok, Charles Ives, or the music of India. Fahey played with a fierce imagination and versatility, and while his idiosyncrasy may have limited him to a cult following, it also ensured that his work continued to sound startlingly original."

SPIEGEL, LAURIE: Harmonics Mundi 12" (TABLE 61). $14.50

"Since breaking away from downtown New York scene in the early 1980s, a scene she had helped create, Spiegel has lived as one of New York's most independent musicians, supporting herself by her software and circulating her music privately. The track on this release — previously unreleased in its entirety — is one of her most legendary: a realization of Kepler's 'Harmony of the Planets', originally commissioned in 1975 by Dr. Carl Sagan for inclusion on the Golden Record which accompanies the Voyager II spacecraft, and is now far beyond the orbit of Pluto in the vastness of interstellar space."

DREYBLATT, ARNOLD: Point Source/Lapse 12" (TABLE 63). $14.50

"Table of the Elements presents the Lanthanides, a series of 14 single-sided, limited edition LPs. Each disk is pressed on clear or transparent vinyl, silk-screened on the reverse in glow-in-the-dark ink, and packaged in a clear vinyl sleeve. As one of the most engaging of the second generation of New York minimal composers, Arnold Dreyblatt has developed a distinctive—And delightfully accessible—approach to composition and performance.

Employing modified and invented instruments and a unique tuning system, his music is a vigorously rhythmic and richly textured romp through the natural overtone series. These two outstanding pieces for just-intoned electric guitar, bass violin, cimbalom, percussion and brass emphasize dynamics and sonorities, to stunning acoustical effect."

"One channel from the eight channel audio sculpture Silver Ball (1994) mixed with an ambient recording of the work in exhibition at the Roseum, Malmö Sweden, 1997. Mixed by Mike Kelley and Scott Benzell, Compound Annex Studio, Los Angeles, 2003."

CHATHAM, RHYSS: Three Aspects of the Name 12" (TABLE 65). $14.50

From the Table of the Elements' 10th anniversary 'Lanthanides' series of single-sided, silkscreened LPs. "Three Aspects..." is a piece from 2003 and is written for 6 male voices. "It was Rhys Chatham who first applied multiple electric guitars to the extended-duration, overtone-drenched minimalism of the 1960s. This amalgamation—of the intellectual experimentalism and textural sophistication of the avant-garde with the rhythmic brashness and visceral punch of punk rock —produced a raucous, ecstatic new type of urban music that energized the downtown New York scene of the late 1970s and early 1980s, a music whose influence can be heard in the subsequent work of the many luminaries who participated in Chatham's ensembles, including Glenn Branca and members of Sonic Youth, Mars, Band of Susans and Swans. Three Aspects of the Name is both a departure and return for Chatham. In the composer's words: 'In Three Aspects of the Name I return to my roots as a hard-core minimalist. The musical vocabulary is essentially that of my earlier composition, Guitar Trio (1977), where most of the harmonic and melodic content occurs in the overtones generated by the fundamental pitches being played, primarily one-note. The current piece marks my first use of this particular technique for voice. The three words of text comes from a traditional Hebrew inspirational chant that I chose to work with, for, among other reasons, its highly selective and potent use of vowel sounds, which lend themselves to the unfolding creative story that the overtones tell over the course of the composition.'"

TEXT OF LIGHT: 052402 echo 4 12" (TABLE 66). $15.00

"The visionary ensemble Text of Light first gathered in 1999 to perform music to the films of Stan Brakhage and other members of the American Cinema avant garde of the 1950s-60s Brakhage's film Text of Light was the premiere performance and namesake of the group, whose original premise was to improvise to (rather than 'illustrate') works from this under-known era of personal expression and breathtaking visual poetry. The group features Lee Rinaldo (Sonic Youth) and Alan Licht (guitars/devices), Christian Marclay and DJ Olive (turntables), William Hooker (drums/percussion), Ulrich Krieger (sax/electronics), and most recently Tim Barnes (drums/percussion). This beautifully packaged LP is the group's first commercial release, and features original artwork by the late, great Harry Smith."

RADIO/GUITAR (BARBARA ESS AND PEGGY AWESH): Thrum 12" (TABLE 67). $15.00

"Guitar is fantastic music and noise utilizing radio sound and electric guitar as realized by artists Peggy Ahwesh and Barbara Ess respectively. Filmmaker Peggy Ahwesh came of age in the 1970's with feminist politics and the experimental film underground. She started working with Super-8 film in her teens and went on to make feature films, including Splice This (1999) and Girls Beware (1997). Her work has recently been shown at Rotterdam, Osnabrook, and The New York Film Festival. She is a recipient of the Guggenheim Foundation Fellowship, the NYSCA Film Production Grant, Jerome Foundation Grant and a grant from Art Matters, Inc. She is presently teaching at Bard College. Barbara Ess has been performing music in NYC since the 1970s w/ such famed no-wave groups as The Static and Daily Life as well as ensembles led by Glenn Branca and Rhys Chatham, and Y Pants, a trio of women playing music on toy instruments. Most recently she has been a member of Ultra Vulva. She has also worked as a publisher of Just Another Asshole — a series of anthologies of artists works in various formats. She concurrently works as a visual artist making and showing large-scale photographs. A book of her photo work, I Am Not This Body, has been published by Aperture to resounding critical acclaim. This exquisite, limited-edition disk is only their second release."

OLIVEROS, PAULINE: A Little Noise in the System 12" (TABLE 69). $14.50

"Pauline Oliveros' life as a composer, performer and humanitarian is about opening her own and others' sensibilities to the many facets of sound. Since the 1960's she has influenced American music profoundly through her work with improvisation, meditation, electronic music, myth and ritual. Many credit her with being the founder of present day meditative music. All of Oliveros' work emphasizes musicianship, attention strategies, and improvisational skills. A Little Noise in the System is a triumphant electronic work from 1966, and the last of the 14 disks in the Table of the Elements 10th anniversary 'Lanthanides' series. Pressed on clear vinyl and silk-screened in white ink."

SMITH, LADONNA: Rare Earth 12" (TABLE 70). $15.00

"Violinist and violist LaDonna Smith has been on the international new music scene for well over 25 years. A native of Birmingham, Alabama, she is an active performer, educator, publisher and artist, and has been responsible for keeping improvised music alive in the Southeastern United States. Her unique style of improvisation alternates between classical and extended techniques; she explores her instrument, painting scenarios and sound pictures as she plays. LaDonna has performed at practically every major improvisation festival and many of the New Music Festivals, and has toured Europe, the former USSR, Siberia, and Japan. She has also toured North America and Europe many times as Trans Duo, with guitarist Davey Williams."

PARKINS, ZEENA: Devotion 12" (TABLE 71). $15.00

"Latest in Table of the Elements' 10th anniversary 'Lanthanides' series of single-sided, silkscreened LPs. An astounding and prolific improviser, Zeena Parkins is the world's greatest electric harpist. Forget about angelic choirs — Zeena cites Jimi Hendrix as a major inspiration, and her harp work is similarly explosive, often blurring into fuzz-distorted terrain. Parkins is a lightning bolt of a performer, and a much sought after collaborator." This record is a fragment of a score composed for the film Devotion by writer/director Cynthia Madansky. With Raz Mesina (perc., samples) and Jim Pugliese (mallets, bells).

CALE, JOHN: Sun Blindness Music CD (TABLE 75). $14.50

Repressed. "John Cale's great credit, both inside and outside the Velvet Underground, was to have found the inoculation dosage that would add the music industry to Sound without alienating one world from the other. But outside the 'official' VU there was also an uncut version of the virus, incubated behind the slum walls of the 1960s Lower East Side, and maintained live in the liquid nitrogen of these insolently recorded reel-to-reel audiotapes, now available in the Table of the Elements CD series, New York in the 1960s. The recordings in this three-disc series come from another underground, a deep vein of labor and experimentation that parallels Cale's time with the Velvets. It is jubilantly private music, made alone and with like-minded spirits — Tony Conrad, Sterling Morrison, original Velvets percussionist Angus MacLise — far from the hot light of the Velvets' public notoriety and the rough politics of Cale's relationship with Reed. And it is important music, an illuminating, heretofore unknown chapter in Cale's creative advance. What is truly extraordinary about the sixteen performances spread across these three volumes — Sun Blindness Music, Dream Interpretation and Stainless Gamelan — is their explosive foresight. The florid distortion of Cale's guitar pieces and the tandem bull-elephant hum of his viola and Conrad's violin prefigure the aggressive majesty and expressive dissonance of punk rock, No Wave and the Transfigured Guitar movement led by Glenn Branca, Rhys Chatham and Sonic Youth. In his pulsing keyboard essays, Cale marries the grace and science of minimalism to the mainstream throb of rock & roll, a full decade ahead of Brian Eno and the Berlin-era David Bowie. When Cale tests the barriers of possibility in his tools — the guts of an abandoned piano, the jammed keys on an organ, the pause control of a Wollensak tape recorder — he generates a synthetic music that connects Edgard Varèse, Henry Cowell and Karlheinz Stockhausen with contemporary electronica and turntablism. These recordings have been virtually unheard since they were made more than three decades ago. But their prescience is undeniable. So is their power and purity. Working in the shadows of both pop and art, building on discoveries and inventions from his life before and with the Velvets, Cale committed to tape a highly personal and exhilarating vision of the future of music. It now sounds like fact." —David Fricke, from the liner notes.

THUNDERBOY: CD (TABLE 76). $14.50

Recorded and produced by Tony Conrad in 1973. Thunderboy is Tony's son, Ted Conrad, and these are recordings of his turntable manipulations from the ages of 22 to 30 months, in 1973-74. "What, after all, does one make of a two-year-old boy, a child who ultimately comes to be armed with two turntables and a microphone, creating a sonic collage through his instinctive abuse of a stylus and various 45 rpm vinyl recordings — including that of a popular novelty tune sung by 1970s Mormon pre-adolescent media sensation Donny Osmond? Does the resultant accumulation of scratching sounds, surface noise, and reiterations of fragmented vocal phrases — offered up in varying turntable speeds: slow, fast and juuuuust right — constitute a signal moment in the age of mechanical reproduction? Is it fair to argue that a precocious Ted, the once and future Thunderboy, anticipated in these excursions of the early '70s everything from the rise of turntablism and hip-hop to the creative strategies of such disparate entertainers and/or conceptualists as Fatboy Slim, Christian Marclay and that erstwhile Savior of Pop (circa 1997), Beck? And if so, then what sort of volatile questions might this pose about the creative appropriation and manipulation of pre-recorded sources, about artistic intent, about the virtues of repetition and about the subversive deployment of consumer electronics in the dark and wild years before Napster? If, to paraphrase the archetypal Philistine's response to an abstract painting, a two-year-old can do it, does that diminish the accomplishment of the seasoned turntablist who has dedicated years to mastering the wheels of steel and cultivating its staccato language? Or, rather, does it affirm some unerringly democratic quality inherent in the very act of scratching and spinning, that a mere toddler could create hypnotic and deconstruct pop banalities into perversely humorous after-the-fact commentaries on the star-making machinery? What a splendidly infantile provocation!"

PRESOCRATICS: Presocratics Serve Imperialism CD (TABLE 78). $14.00

"Presocratics Serve Imperialism is the latest dispatch from the doubted underclass intelligentsia. Here, Presocratics employ consumer and post-consumer goods to interrogate history and insomnia in their bid to wrest philosophy from professional academia and the class system it supports, thereby returning it to the people (in general, and those people who pay for CDs with only 20 minutes of music in particular). This EP starts by wrapping vocals and instrumentation around recycled heavy metal (Nestor Mahkno Discovers America) and climaxes with the society debut of The Break-Even Point, the most breathtaking ballad ever to grace the electro-acoustic stage. Behold rock energy mobilized against nostalgia."

CALE, JOHN: Dream Interpretation: Inside The Dream Syndicate Vol. II CD (TABLE 79). $14.50

CALE, JOHN: Stainless Gamelan: Inside The Dream Syndicate Vol. III CD (TABLE 80). $14.50

Third volume. Featuring: "Stainless Steel Gamelan" (1965, Cale & Sterling Morrison: Cembale/fretless guitar); "At About This Time Mozart Was Dead And Joseph Conrad Was Sailing The Seven Seas Learning English" (1967, Cale: Wollensak; Cale & Morrison: viola, guitar); "Terry's Cha-Cha" (1967, Cale: Wollensak; Angus MacLise: hand drums, tambourine; Terry Jennings: soprano saxophone); "After The Locust" (1968, Cale: electric piano; Tony Conrad: Thunder machine); "Big Apple Express" (1965, Cale: viola, tape; New York Fire Dept.: vocal).

SAN AGUSTIN: The Expanding Sea 3CD (TABLE 81). $42.00

"Georgia natives San Agustin (David Daniell, guitar; Andrew Burnes, guitar; Bryan Fielden, drums) have performed with a multitude of notables from the improvised community, including Ken Vandermark, Thurston Moore, Loren MazzaCane and others, but this boxed set is the first truly representative document of their live presence. Haunting moments of introspection are enveloped in clouds of bluesy guitar notes, then swept away by great electric gales; drones rumble and shimmer in the aftermath. The Expanding Sea is a vast work by a tremendous ensemble, one that is discreetly creating a genre-defying yet archetypically American music."

CONRAD, TONY: Fantastic Glissando LP (TABLE 82). $14.50

"It's 1969, and Tony Conrad wants to take you Higher. Celebrated for the thrilling roar of his amplified violin, Conrad is a founding father of 'minimalism' and a giant in the American soundscape. Now Conrad's own Audio ArtKive imprint presents the first in a series of releases that reveal the wild breadth of his 40-year career, including field recordings, piano compositions, film soundtracks and more. Fantastic Glissando (1969) is a series of (de)volving electronic compositions created with sine-wave oscillators. The instrumentation is different, but the effect is typical Conrad: soaring, aggressively textured and jet-engine massive."

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART: Grow Fins Vol. III 2LP (XER 096LP). $19.00

Repressed. Third & final LP volume.

TABLE OF THE ELEMENTS/AUDIO ARTKIVE:

SMITH, JACK: Les Evening Gowns Damnées CD (TABLE 46). $14.50

Repressed. Debut on Tony Conrad's new imprint, distributed through Table of the Elements. This is the first of 2 CDs of archival Jack Smith material. "The first in a series of remarkable vintage recordings which feature the protean film-maker, photographer and performance artists Jack Smith (1932-1989). The material includes readings of short stories and other audio excursions (featuring musical accompaniment from the likes of Conrad, John Cale and Angus MacLise), as well as excerpts from Conrad's soundtrack to Smith's notorious and groundbreaking film Fleming Creatures (1962). Recorded in glistering monaural lo-fidelity at Conrad's 56 Ludlow Street studio between 1962-1964, these pieces reveal an important facet of Smith's artistic legacy, and offer a rare glimpse of one of the most influential milieus of the 1960s."

TABLE TURNS:

SWIFT, ROB: Sound Event CD (TBL 001 CD). $15.50

"Rob Swift of the critically acclaimed X-Ecutioners drops his long awaited 2nd solo album, Sound Event. Rob, the unofficial spokesman for the group, is a charismatic spokesman for turntable music, with numerous battle titles, compositions and an earlier album, The Ablist, cementing his position as one of the world's-greatest turntablists. Sound Event is one of the easiest records to listen to and is simultaneously innovative and experimental. The album starts off with a Supernatural freestyle where he drops the names of every song on the album and then proceeds to a remake of an old school scratch song '2-3 Break.' It's followed by a jazz-influenced song 'The Great Caper' and 'Salsa Scratch,' the turntablist salsa song (featuring the great Bob James)."

SWIFT, ROB: Sound Event 2LP (TBL 001 LP). $14.00

Double LP version.

TAG RAG (JAPAN):

U: Gutai CD (TAG 001). $22.00

Grinding Japanese growl/grunge with Boredom's connections, from early '94.

VA: Raggle Taggle CD (TAG 005). $22.00

Compilation featuring U, Spasmom, Off Mask OO, Domlock Sandhill, Grind Orchestra, Corrupted, Nasca Car & Rise From The Dead. Some unreleased, some from other Tag Rag releases.

VA: Hard Core Marathon Osaka 1996 CD (TAG 006). $18.00

"8 Osaka based hard core band in this compilation, such as A.G. Aloe, Dig A Hole, Dug Revenge, Hard Core Dude, One Size Fits All, T.J. Maxx, Toast, Yellow Machine Gun."

TAKE ONE RECORD (JAPAN):

TOGASHI, MASAHIKO: Session In Paris Vol 2 "Colour of Dream" CD (TKOJ 1502). $18.00

Recorded a few days after the above, this time with Albert Mangelsdorff (trombone), Takashi Tako (piano), Jenny Clark (bs).

TAKSI MUSIC (GERMANY):

GALLUZZI, ANDRE: ...Im Garten CD (TAKSI 010 CD). $16.00

"A mix-CD by André Galluzzi who selected tracks by no others like Losoul, Tony Rohr, Freeform, Ricardo Villalobos, Popshop and others." Other artists include: Swayzak, Skatebard, The Memory Foundation, Matthew Dear, Casey Hogan, Sten, Justus Köhnke, and Jake Fairley.

TALKIN LOUD (UK):

INNERZONE ORCHESTRA: Programmed 5x10" (TL 8709370). $50.00

Limited (1000 copies)10" box set version of Carl Craig's new live-jazz/electronic ensemble; comes with a special Y2K calendar. This is the first & most exclusive opportunity you will get to hear this music. More pedestrian versions will follow on Planet E (limited 2LP version) and Astralwerks (mass produced CD).

TALL POPPIES (AUSTRALIA):

CARY, TRISTRAM: Soundings: Electroacoustic Works 1955-1996 2CD (TP 139). $30.00

"Tristram Cary has been working in the field of electroacoustic music for half a century. This set of 2 CDs presents a personal selection of his landmark contributions to the genre, spanning his career as a composer in London and Australia. Best known for the original music for the Dr. Who television series, Cary here shows what an astonishingly versatile composer he is." The first disc features all early analogue works, from 1955 to 1978, including: "Continuum" (for stereo tape, 1969; "Continuum" is about time, seen as stretching endlessly in both directions from our position as we move through it. The continuum sound is a mesh of over forty pitches, undulating at different amounts and speeds, and all the material from the piece is extracted from this dense and flexible cluster.); "Suite — Leviathan'99" (for stereo tape, 1972); "3 4 5 — A Study In Limited Resources for Stereo Tape" (1967); "Suite — The Children of Lir" (for mono tape, 1959/66); "Birth is Life is Power is Death is God is..." (for stereo tape, 1967); "Suite — The Japanese Fishermen" (recreated for stereo tape from 78 RPM mono acetate discs, 1955/96); "Narcissus" (for flute and two tape recorders, 1968); "Steam Music" (for quad tape, 1978). Disc 2 features computer music from 1979-1996: "Nonet" (1979); "Soft Walls" (1980); "Sine City II" (1979/96); "Black, White & Rose" (for marimba, gongs, woodblocks and tape, 1991); "Three Clockpieces" (1983/96); "Trellises" (1984); "The Impossible Piano" (for sequencer and samples piano, 1994; "a small tribute to the astonishing player piano works of Conlon Nancarrow, using precisely calculated durations in a computer sequencer as a substitute for Nancarrow's punched paper rolls").

TAPETE (GERMANY):

PALAISSCHAUMBURG: CD (TR 002CD). $15.00

First CD issue by this historic early 80s German group featuring Holger Hiller and Thomas Fehlmann. This is the debut album, originally issued in 1981. "In the early part of the 80's, Palais Schaumburg were revered for their eclectic mix of minimalist analog-electro sounds, weird speak singing and surreal-nihilist lyrics. After a few single releases on Zick Zack they recorded their debut album Palais Schaumburg (produced by David Cunningham) for Phonogram records. 'Wir bauen eine neue Stadt' became a cult song and the band went on to enjoy much international critical and popular acclaim. Palais Schaumburg founders Thomas Fehlmann (Flowing and The Orb) and Holger Hiller (Mute records artist) haven't lost any of their creativity or sense of purpose and continue to delight us with very, very special music."

TARIFF:

ZGA: The Flight Of Infection CD (TARIFF 001 CD). $13.00

"The music of ZGA will mean nothing to you if you believe in simple musical categories, styles and generalizations. Comparisons with past and present musical styles will not be sufficient here. This is mythic music that comes from hardship, a need to challenge an oppressive state with internal and external liberation. It would be folly as one living in the so-called free world to totally identify with what ZGA represents. But one can try to understand? ZGA is a collection of musicians from the Russian town of St. Petersburg. After several albums with Chris Cutler's Recommended/Points East Label, the ensemble decided to move onto Tariff Records. They have been one of Russia's premier experimental bands for over a decade."

MEELKOP, ROEL: 4 (propositions) CD (TARIFF 003 CD). $13.00

"Roel Meelkop's musical activities date back to the early 1980s when he started influential group THU20, with Jac van Bussel, Peter Duimelinks, Jos Smolders and Guido Doesborg. The working method of THU20 included many discussions about how to compose and why. This period was crucial in forming his ideas and concepts about sound and how to organize it, but it was not until the mid nineties that he was able to fully realise these ideas. The purchase of a sampler and later a computer radically changed his possibilities of working with sound, offering infinitely more control and freedom. Since then he has worked steadily on a body of work with releases on such labels as Trente Oiseaux (Germany), Staalplaat (Netherlands) and Intransitive (US)."

TEDIUM HOUSE:

BANANAFISH: #17 MAG w/CD (TEDIUM 17). $11.00

All tracks on CD are exclusive and directly related to the content of the magazine: Jason McLean: Canadian cartoonist; Hetty MacIsle: The first of a two-part interview with Angus's wife and collaborator; Lara Allen: The exploits of a high school bad girl and the deprogramming subsequently inflicted upon her; Jazzkammer: Lasse Marhaug; Astro: Hiroshi Hasegawa; The Towne Dandies: Geoff Ellsworth's homemade, props-heavy musical theater; Paul Dutton: Canadian soundscaper and author; Fake Party: Carla Bozulich's Sound.-produced event.

TEHNIKA (SLOVENIA):

RANDOM LOGIC: Numrebs CD (TEH 002CD). $14.50

"Random Logic alias Gregor Zemljic and Miha Klemencic are the ultimate stars of the Slovenian minimal music scene. They have released tracks under numerous names of their projects like Anorak, Jeredam, Paldame, Tadpole, Amderma, Savinto, Medvedek Robotek and their discography with former releases for labels like Communiqué, Black Label, Kial, Planet Rhythm, Djax-Up and Tresor is already quite impressive. Their new and long awaited full length album is a beautiful work of art. Its subtle music is developing within a spectrum of pure modern minimalism using slow, hypnotic, but groovy, rhythms and linear structures — clean on surface yet equally filled with fine layers and hidden data underneath. Thematically the 11 songs are inspired with the poetry of numbers, mathematics, formulas, calculations, calculating machines and processes, with probability options, random operations, digital numerology and ?- before all -? with magic of fortuitous structural anagrams and subconscious 'mistakes'. Suddenly numbers are not just usual traditional signs and denotations, but reversible names with their playful character and independent content, liberated from the burden of the rigid and dull pragmatic rules. And so is the music. A 'logarithmic' masterpiece of minimal techno."

TEMPONAUTA: 155.521.981.589.103 CD (TEH 003 CD). $14.50

"Debut album for the uprising Slovenian techno label Tehnika. Temponauta understand music as a time travel (that is why their name is called Temponauta — time travellers — and why the title of the record is called 155.521.981.589.103, which is supposed to be the age of the universe). Musical recordings freeze emotion and energy in time and space so it therefore belongs to the idea of relativity. Temponauta are trying to create a concept which would help them to use musical energy and emotion to 'melt the ice', opening the passage and thus enable the time travel. Emotion in music is like a black hole, a powerful energy field around which 'body & soul' are rotating within their orbits. In the galaxy of music the intensity of rhythm and melody (and sound) attracts bodies (and souls) to each other or it separates them. When the needle on the record-player travels in concentric circles from the beginning to an end of the recorded memory, captivity in time loops allows one to relive the same feeling in the parallel time and space, thus imitating the history of time. The moment the needle reaches the end of the recording it indicates both the end and the beginning of time. One can always put the needle at the start or at a random point so the travel through emotion and energy can be relived once again. In similar manner one would always return to the starting point after space travel, which would mean the end of time whereas in music the end is always a beginning. Temponauta are DJ Bizzy (alias Damjan Bizilj) and DJ Dojaja (alias Marjan Crnkovič). Both of them were around since the early days of Slovenian electronic and techno music. The CD comes in a superb and extremely unique packaging — a clear jewel box with print clear two page 'booklet' wrapped in a clear print plastic slip-case."

VIRTUAL VOODOO: Bugi-Vugi CD (TEH 004 CD). $14.50

"Distant ritual drums from historic Africa or the urban sound of the supporting mass at the city football stadium? Hoofed animal stamping in a gallop through prairie or impatient jostle of a nervously stoic crowd in the undergrounds, u-bahns, tubes, railway stations, shopping centres and city malls? Beautifully blinking stars of the distant universe observed by night on the beach from the edge of the island, or the pulsating lights of the distant city, watched from the aeroplane? Atomic chaos of a dying breed — with no sense for harmony and rhythm left — or impressive audio-visual dance of the modern age? Playful songs on Virtual Voodoo's Bugi-Vugi record are trying to grasp, indicate and illustrate bits and pieces of these charming, forever-repeating rhythm patterns - old & young, wild and equally urban at the same time, this never-ending & grooving pulsation around us, called life. Virtual Voodoo is one of many projects of Izlok Turk, extremely influential and sincerely respected 'forever young godfather' of Slovenian techno culture and music. He belongs to the very first line of techno (pop) creators, but at the same time he is rolling the wheel of house and ambiental minimal music, organising social club events, chill out parties and improvised music sessions. He started as a musician in late 70's Slovenian punk groups and later on (early 80's) he formed highly acclaimed and stylish techno pop quartet Videosex, for whom he also wrote most of the material. He also works closely with Laibach as a co-producer. The CD comes in a uniquely designed jewel box with additional clear plastic slip case and inlay."

UMEK: Neuro CD (TEH 006 CD). $14.50

"Music is an abstract category — same as death, beauty, ugliness, and god. It deals with and is produced with emotions, subconsciousness, impulses, reactions, beliefs, and responses to reality. Umek's Neuro is an uncompromising work, full of audacious and challenging audio 'straight in the face' statements. It is confused and confusing — like the time(s) we are living within. These songs are rough and nervous, fast and dynamic, passionate and aggressive, frontal and anxious, almost militantly awkward, and stripped down to basics; the first impression might be quite harsh and grey. But during the second and third listen one starts to hear all the fine lines and subtleties, discover unique humour and wittiness, melodic phrases and hidden agendas, and the first impression is slowly implemented with all the colours of the spectrum and all diversity of perception."

UMEK: Neuro 2LP (TEH 006 LP). $16.00

TEICHIKU RECORDS (JAPAN):

SPIDERS: Album No. 4 + Soundtrack from 'Daishingeki' CD (TECN 20389). $20.00

Originally released in 1967. "We're still waiting for the VH-1 special ('Ultra-Sound') 'Legends'? 'Where are they now?') that sorts this stuff out for the 20C time-capsule. This one even ganks the jet sound from 'Telstar'. Gone." — Hrvatski.

VA: The Cult GS: Complete Singles CD (TECN 25626). $26.00

Collection of singles tracks from the following mid-60s Japanese garage groups, in the "Group Sound" genre: The Napoleon, D'Swooner's, The Hi-Lo's, The Unicorns, The Gallopers, The toys, The Eagles. 22 tracks in all, with reproductions of the original sleeves, etc.

HOSONO, HARUOMI: Monad Box 4CD (TECN 58771 CD). $52.00

A beautifully packaged collection of Hosono's solo albums for his own Monad label, originally released 1985-86, in a numbered/boxed edition. Hosono has been involved with underground music in Japan since the early 70s, first with Happy End and then as a founding member of the groundbreaking YMO (along with Ryuichi Sakamoto and Hideki Matsutake). In the 80s he released a series of ambient-ish electronic albums on Monad, collected here: Mercuric Dance, Paradise View, The Endless Talking & Coincidental Music. Coincidental Music is described as "A sampler of un-released music for movies, TV, commercials and installation 1982-85. This is a good album to hear Hosono's vastly different styles of compositions." (from Nick Kent's Hosono fan site). Mercuric Dance is a solo synth/percussion album for a modern dance ensemble. Paradise View is "An album of very interesting, sampled and re-assembled Okinawan music with an emphasis on gamelan-like sounds...This was the first Okinawan language feature film." The Endless Talking features "13 bright, quirky and repetitive synth pieces, recorded for an Italian art installation."

TELEGRAPH (FRANCE):

VA: Post Office CD (TEL 006 CD). $15.00

"The purpose of this project was to gather tracks by the artists who already participated to the Telegraph project, and artists/labels linked to Telegraph such as Ricardo Villalobos, Zip aka Dimbman, Daniel Bell, Robert Hood, Cabanne, Ark, Ben Neville, Oizark, Akufen or Ultrakurt. Including 15 tracks of almost only unreleased material, Post Office is a collective's album and manifesto much more than just another compilation..."

ULTRAKURT & PANTYTEC: Barry-Lynn Bronzon 12" (TEL 008 EP). $9.00

"They're two, they're young and they're good looking. They've always been dreaming of celebrity and almost made it last year, when they surprisingly appeared on the Post Office project and produced a remix for Perlon's Pantytec. Today the dream becomes reality, celebrity is not the privilege of a happy few. With Barry-Lynn Bronzon, their new 4 tracks EP including a remix by Pantytec, Ultrakurt aka Cabanne & Gluck, takes us far beyond Britney Spears (Gluck's ex-girlfriend). A rare record, introducing Telegraph's new Boy's Band: Ultrakurt. ... to be continued...or maybe not..."

FYM: Say No To Primate Research Lab CD (TEL 012 CD). $17.00

"Telegraph shifts its release schedule in order to put out a sensational serendipity: the first album of Manutchehr Ghassemlou aka Fym, after the release in September of his Monkey Styler EP, which gave a good insight into his fresh and original style. With Say No To Primate Research Labs, Fym invites us to enter into his wonderful laboratory, dedicated to experiments and poetry. With 17 melodic, slightly twisted and whimsical house tracks, as well as the cover-art he designed himself, he shares with us his imaginary world, the product of true artistic sensibility. Limited by no concept but the creation of irresistible grooves, here's a full album of phreaky-futur-funk featuring the true monkey stylez."

FYM: Say No To Primate Research Lab 2LP (TEL 012 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

VA: Post Office Vol. 2 CD (TEL 013CD). $17.00

"New compilation-manifesto from Telegraph, with all the artists linked to the label. Conducted by Cabanne, with only unreleased material, Post Office 2 features many new collaborations and bring together first days associates (Cabanne, Ben Neville, Ark), new family members (Fym & Diane, Ultrakurt, Sety) European friends (Ricardo Villalobos, Dandy Jack, Pantytec, Luciano & Serafin) and those you will hear more about soon on Telegraph (Bidul, Vlock44, Spasm)."

VA: Post Office Vol. 2 2LP (TEL 013LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

TELEVISION (GERMANY):

KITBUILDERS: In The Year 2525 12" (TELE 003 EP). $9.00

"The world of 70s Hippie-Roots meets the sphere of New Wave and Dub on this exceptional release of Cologne's Kitbuilders. This bizarre mixture now interpreted by the female vocals galore of the Kitbuilder's very own Ripley definitely brings a breath of fresh air to our jungle of electronic music. With this release the Kitbuilders explore a new area in their own world of sound and branch out into the beats beyond electro. On the B-side the Ural 13 Diktators add their own unique flavour to this novelty by remixing the title track in a way only they can and so Russian Disco meets New Wave and Hippie-Roots."

STARLIGHT, JOHN: Rip It! CD (TELE 007 CD). $16.00

"John Starlight is the new creation of Florian Senfter, who gained worldwide applause for his club-smashing work as 'Zombie Nation'. This second coming of the man called Splank easily managed to overcome the high expectations with the release of Blood Angels on Art of Perception. A track Sven Väth picked as his 'Song of the year 2002', an opinion shared by DJs spinning the wheels of steel around the world as the track came in second in the Groove-charts as well as the Raveline-charts for 2002."

STARLIGHT, JOHN: Rip It! 2LP (TELE 007 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

TELLUS:

VA: TellusTools 2LP (TLT 01). $34.00

"Harvestworks' record label, Tellus, announces the release of TellusTools, a double 12" vinyl record in a special edition of 500 sets. Packaged in a gatefold cover designed by Christian Marclay, this vinyl compilation contains sound art works by Nicolas Collins, Kiki Smith, Catherine Janiaux & Ikue Mori, Joe Jones, Alison Knowles, Louise Lawler, Kohondo Style, Ken Montgomery, Christian Marclay, Isaac Jackson and the Bonus Break Artists. The brain-child of DJ and resident artist Taketo Shimada, TellusTools includes selections from the Tellus' catalogue — experimental, boundary-stretching audio originally recorded in the 80's and 90's. The work can be 'seriously silly, extremely abstract, or straight-ahead noise' says Ken Montgomery, one of the featured sound artists. TellusTools is two records, each with the same content. The double vinyl set comes with illustrated directions describing how to sample, mix and spin like a professional. Shimada explains: 'DJ's and music lovers alike can participate in a new process called 'active listening', where the listener takes part in creating new sonic experiences. This kind of record where the sounds are used as 'tools' is nothing new. It is, in fact, very common in Hip-Hop?' Of the project Carol Parkinson, Harvestworks director/executive producer says 'it offers the DJ methodology to a general audience and even crosses over into being a conceptual art piece... I challenge both experienced and novice DJ's to use the sound recordings as tools in the most inventive and far out ways imaginable.'

TEMPO KANNAN BAIL:

DAVE DOVE PAUL DUO: A CD (TKB 002). $14.00

Live duo improvisation for trombone, voices, bass & bass triggered synthesizer. This is the complete session from which their track on the Houston Drilling The Curve sampler was taken from. Almost FMP-styled blare. Hand-done covers by Christina Carter (Charalambides).

GUILFORD, PAUL: Raw Fa CD (TKB 003). $12.00

Solo improvisations on a GR77B synthesizer, including some screamingly chaotic material. Guilford is also a member of the Dave Dove Paul Duo and recorded a previous solo CD as Paul H. Locasta.

TEMPORARY RESIDENCE LIMITED:

HOLLAND BORTHWICK: Helene CD (TRR 035). $12.00

"Whenever electro-pop producer extraordinaire Trevor/hollAnd and world-renowned New York artist Mark Borthwick collaborate, the results are always sure to be richly poetic, hypnotically melodic and more than a little abstract. Many of the sound collages created by these two are set as soundtracks to Borthwick's visual installations in various museum exhibitions throughout the world. Helene was originally composed for an exhibition at the Swiss Institute in New York City in 1999. The text for this album includes the line '...abundant souls waiting for the unexpected little fleetings layering themselves a thousand leaves a cleansing of a seasons end...' That line became the inspiration for song and album title A Thousand Leaves by Sonic Youth. A friend of the band, Borthwick contributed his stunning photography for the artwork of A Thousand Leaves, as well as his very unique poetry and handwriting."

KAMMERFLIMMER KOLLEKTIEF: Incommunicado CD (TRR 036). $12.00

"Influenced by an eclectic, if not exhausting list of artists including John Coltrane, The Wailers, Robert Wyatt and AMM, Kammerflimmer Kollektief drifts in and out of consciousness. Floating somewhere between the scorched fury of This Heat and the subtle beauty of Miles Davis, its charm is indescribable. It's remarkable to hear improvised, barely structured songs that are so memorable and uplifting."

CERBERUS SHOAL: ...and Farewell To Hightide 2CD (TRR 041). $15.00

"Often criminally overlooked, critics everywhere gushed over the unique blend of orchestral arrangements, tribal rhythms, weeping melodies and youthful energy. Finally — after a short-lived reissue by the band — this album gets a proper re-release with a bonus disc of rare tracks that were never included in the original album. Seven years after its creation, it sounds like it could have been recorded yesterday. Now people will really have the chance to pay attention."

FRIDGE: Happiness CD (TRR 043). $12.00

"Fourt Tet's Kieran Hebdan follows up the wonderful and hugely acclaimed Pause album (Domino) with this very impressive new album from his 'other' band Fridge. Released on Hebdan's own label Text. The literal and prosaic nature of the song titles bypass the always entertaining (and always distracting) art of being self consciously artful. The true nature of this record is the transference of pure emotion — the intimacy and intensity of the trio in the studio together."

CERBERUS SHOAL: Elements of Structure / Permanence CD (TRR 045). $13.00

"Local artist Tim Folland made two silent films asked Cerberus Shoal score the soundtrack. Folland wanted the band to improvise while watching the films and their first takes would be the final cuts. For this endeavor, Cerberus Shoal invited Tarphig to come improvise with them. The session went so well producing two drifting, mood-altering slices of progressive jazz-influenced rock that the two bands decided to officially join forces under the Cerberus Shoal moniker. This is a brilliant snapshot of the birth of magic that grew to unforeseen heights between these six amazing musicians. Unchoreographed, unassuming, and unbelievably good."

TARENTEL: Ephemeria CD (TRR 046). $12.00

"Inspired by pioneers like Pink Floyd and My Bloody Valentine, Tarentel properly began in 1998. Rabidly thirsty for new sounds and influences, the band dug deeper and deeper into 20th century minimalist composers (Brian Eno, Steve Reich, Terry Riley) and avant rock legends (This Heat, Zoviet France). Their sound transformed gracefully, shifting from twinkling guitar and sturdy rhythms to visceral walls of triumphant noise and orchestral textures. Not since their stunning debut album From Bone To Satellite has there been a Tarentel release that more accurately compliments their dynamic shifts and subtle nuances. Even as a collection of singles, it plays like a flawless album. Like magic."

PARLOUR: Octopus Off-Broadway CD (TRR 047). $12.00

"Recorded over a four year period in various home studios, Parlour combines gentle arpeggiated guitar chords, warm synthetic washes and confident, down-tempo drum beats to create a truly meditative rock experience. With a certain krautrock leaning ala Can and This Heat, Furnish leads the groove all the way to edge without falling into monotony. The rhythm section is the dense, tightly wound cord pulling the heavy load along with comfortable ease. A definite must-have for fans of Papa M, The For Carnation, Bedhead, Fridge, Pluramon, and Tortoise."

FRIDGE: Eph 2CD (TRR 048). $14.00

"Now, for the first time ever, all of Fridge's Go!Beat-era recordings are available in one convenient package for a much more appealing price. No more will folks have to settle for rumors of this masterpiece. Included in the 2-CD set is the original Eph album in its entirety, along with a second disc containing the out-of-print Kinoshita Terasaka single and Of EP. And just for good measure, we threw in two previously unreleased remixes from uberhyped Matthew Herbert and mix maestro P. Pulsinger. A total of about 100 minutes worth of music."

RUMAH SAKIT: Obscured By Clowns CD (TRR 049). $12.00

"Ridiculous tempos, absurdly complex song structures, absurdly hilarious song titles and now legendary live shows. Rumah Sakit have recorded a high watermark for angular rock music. A flowing, mood-altering masterpiece of jazz-infected structures, funky rhythms and beautifully frenzied guitar interplay called Obscured By Clowns. Steeped in progressive rock influences, Rumah Sakit blends their intricate polyrhythms and subtle beauty with massive walls of destructive improvisation. Swan song or not, this will certainly leave an inspiring mark on fans of Don Caballero and Tool."

VA: Thank You (Anniversary Compilation) CD (TRR 050CD). $11.00

"In the eight years that Temporary Residence has been releasing music, we have never done a proper label compilation or budget-priced sampler of any kind. This is for one simple reason: compilations are usually bad. We can probably count the number of solid, essential compilations released in the last 20 years on one hand, with fingers to spare. Why then, would we go and jeopardize a good thing by releasing an inexpensive label compilation? Because this one's not bad at all. As a matter of fact, it's pretty damned amazing. Featuring brand new and exclusive tracks from most of our artists and packaged with a gorgeous 24-page full-color booklet, this collection is absolutely essential for any fan of Temporary Residence bands (specifically Explosions In The Sky, Fridge, Tarentel and Sonna), or just fans of beautiful instrumental music."

PARLOUR: Googler CD (TRR 052). $13.00

"Recorded over the last five years in various places and mixed this past summer, Googler continues the meditative flow of synth-laden drones, crystalline guitars and dense rhythms. But a dark wind blows through the album to reveal the band's angular aggression. Memorable traces of Parlour's past can be heard — having collectively served time in Crain, The For Carnation and Aerial M, among others — most notably in the gentle ebb and flow of 'Jololinine' and the angular, driving attack of 'Distractor.' Carefully incorporating live instrumentation and subtle layers of electronics, leader and founding member Tim Furnish draws on a wide variety of influences to develop the tactile textures. Having helped plant the seeds for the sprawling array of musical inspiration that is Louisville, KY, Googler sees Furnish blooming vibrant new shades of a favorite color."

ANOMOANON: Asleep Many Years in the Wood CD (TRR 054). $13.00

"The instantly recognizable warble and touching harmonies of brothers Ned and Will have been imitated ad nauseum more times than any of us can recall. With an ever-increasing influence that's as far reaching as any other today, the Palace walls are as strong and vibrant as ever. Returning with his band, The Anomoanon, Ned Oldham has carefully crafted an album ripe with country crooners, slow burning ballads and the occasional raucous back woods jam."

ANOMOANON: Asleep Many Years In The Wood LP (TRR 054LP). $11.00

LP version.

CEX: Being Ridden CD (TRR 055 CD). $13.00

"Three years after carving an unorthodox path to IDM superstardom, Cex sheds his former skin to show the world the grown man that had been buried beneath his own expectations. After years of releasing albums that he refers to as 'practice', he takes his tallest leap yet to The Next Level and proudly unravels the first strands of 'the real thing.' Produced and recorded in the homes of Cex and Craig Wedren (Shudder To Think), Being Ridden is a monumental leap forward in the career of a guy who, at 21 years old, has already eclipsed many of his heroes in creative risk-taking and execution alone, not to mention sheer accessibility. Layering acoustic guitars, hip-hop beats, dense bass, bells and witty, catchy-as-hell Fresh Prince meets Eminem meets Bright Eyes lyrical flows, Cex is just about the freshest mashing of genres ever unleashed."

CEX: Being Ridden 2LP (TRR 055 LP). $15.00

CEX: Being Ridden Instrumentals CD (TRR 056). $13.00

"Rather than release Being Ridden strictly in its original lyrical format, we're also releasing this special all-instrumental version to appease DJ's and haters of rap alike! For those that felt more comfortable when Cex was merely an IDM superstar and not a party-rap-pop genius, we give you this warm blanket of instrumental treats. As an added bonus, there are three exclusive instrumental tracks on this disc that are not included on the vocal version!"

ELUVIUM: Lament Material CD (TRR 057). $13.00

"In the dictionary, the literal definition for Eluvium reads: the debris from the disintegration of rock. One listen to Matthew Cooper's (aka Eluvium) flawless debut album, even peripherally, and you can't help but smirk at how perfectly appropriate the moniker is. Sounding somewhat like the echoed resonance of a Sonic Youth show after everyone has stopped playing and the crowd has gone home, Cooper himself isn't guilty of the mass destruction, he's merely there to pick up the beautifully broken pieces. With a depth ranging from fragile to glacial, he takes dense layers of guitars and pianos and builds them into an awe-inspiring fortress around himself. Resting comfortably and confidently in the spirits of Brian Eno's Discreet Music and Ambient Music For Airports, Eluvium is a freakishly beautiful affair. It is pure, epic rock music... after the lights go out."

ICARUS: Six Soviet Misfits 2CD (TRR 058). $15.00

"Icarus is the misadventure of Ollie Bown and Sam Britton, following the fiddly twisted rhythm along a scratchy line; noise from black boxes through which only certain pieces of data may pass. This in turn feeds through boards and wires to become processed as musical, by default. In short, an effect similar to dropping ink into water is experienced aurally as a series of ineffable blips, interleaved within the sounds of the marketplace. With a bit of luck this should reconfigure musical industriality into a dadaist work of precision chaos, but a freak occurrence could equally spell disaster for us all. All Icarus can do is try to mediate the event; this is the true fate of the modern musician, sending his or her sound bouncing along wires until somewhere, at some unknown point, they crash headlong into context. It's like tapes and cars. It's like the junk equation. It's like the effect of indifference to sound, which is less than the difference in sound from in front or behind. The dissolution of noise clears way for a fragmented melody; a flux of harmony on a polymetric pulse. As yet more vibrations fall victim to the staccato bit-wise we say 'let noises run amok.'"

LAZARUS: Songs For An Unborn Sun CD (TRR 059). $13.00

"Formerly an integral part of Tarentel and The Drift, Trevor Montgomery is now Lazarus, the voice that sings with projected whispers while a lonely acoustic guitar trails slowly behind. With an intimacy so direct that you can feel the breath on the back of your neck, Lazarus is here to help you when you're having trouble getting that first tear to roll over your eyelids. A sadness that is catatonic, a hopelessness that is fleeting, and an optimism that is waiting to strike you through the heart when you least expect it. All you need is sleep to dream, and all you need is Lazarus to sleep. It will fill you with love, and thus you are our hero."

KAMMERFLIMMER KOLLEKTIEF: Cicadidae CD (TRR 060 CD). $13.00

"Combining brass and string instruments, electronics, drums, percussion and keyboards, Cicadidae sees the band communicating with each other in the spaces between control and loss of control, intuition and reflection, density and transparency. The childlike brilliance of their melodies renders you weightless, with an occasional thumping pulse to keep you from losing your balance. Formerly drawing comparisons to To Rococo Rot, Amon Düül II and Third Eye Foundation for their cold, dark anthems, Cicadidae finds more in common with the lighter side of the German underground, specifically the mates of The Notwist, Styrofoam, the Morr Music roster and Icelandic darlings, Mum. Cicadidae offers Kammerflimmer Kollektief the chance to not only grab those that have followed all along, but also the folks that have wanted to love them all along, but couldn't shake the feeling of being pushed away. Where before there was a push, now there is an irresistible pull."

EXPLOSIONS IN THE SKY: The Earth Is Not a Cold Dead Place CD (TRR 061 CD). $13.00

"Picking up where their hugely successful Those Who Tell the Truth Shall Die, Those Who Tell the Truth Shall Live Forever left off, The Earth Is Not a Cold Dead Place begins as a flickering twinkle that soon grows to a blinding light. This new sense of hope is the defining characteristic of this record, and ultimately the journey that their music takes us on. Immeasurably more dramatic and dynamic than their last album, The Earth Is Not a Cold Dead Place takes its shape not in the unexpected cacophony that had become the band's trademark, but in the infinitely deeper caverns of the human soul. With a soft heartbeat-like thump that grows stronger by the minute, the band is now closer than ever to replicating the simple movements that, when strung together, form the unpredictably complex machine that is the human body. Words simply cannot do this the justice that it deserves. It goes so far beyond elementary comparisons to other bands. The answer is somewhere between your head and your heart, and indeed, that is not a cold dead place."

HOWARD HELLO: Don't Drink His Blood CD (TRR 062 CD). $13.00

"Written, recorded and produced entirely by Kensteth Thibideau (Pinback, Tarentel, Rumah Sakit) and Marty Anderson (Dilute), Don't Drink His Blood is a mystical adventure of pop proportions that few have ever reached. More in tune with his other band, Pinback than ever before, the mind-blowing combination of sounds and styles is truly unlike anything we've ever heard (help us out if you know of something else that sounds like this... please). Add to that the fact that it carries the contemplative message of being seduced by commercial media, and you have an album that is more important than it leads on, and often too catchy for you to notice. Seduced, indeed. No one saw this coming, but we sure hope it never goes away."

NICE NICE: Chrome CD (TRR 063 CD). $13.00

"Born in Olympia, WA and now calling Portland, OR their home, guitarist Jason Buehler and percussionist Mark Shirazi meticulously warp hard funk, psych, soul, dub, angular rock and no-wave noise into a mechanical beast that can take you from dream to dance in 30 seconds flat. The instrumentation is relatively simple: guitar and drums. But it's the endless tap-dancing of effects pedals and rock solid dub beats that make every moment more magical than the last. Recorded entirely in their home studio, most of the tracks are largely improvised, with only basic ideas and motifs to start from. Having played with everyone from Black Dice to Cex to Lightning Bolt to Gold Chains, and thoroughly blowing their minds all the same, Nice Nice are that rare band that seems to equally appeal to the bedroom stoners and Friday night hipsters."

NICE NICE: Chrome LP (TRR 063 LP). $11.00

ELUVIUM: An Accidental Memory In The Case of Death CD (TRR 066CD). $13.50

"Returning exactly one year after dropping one of the most consistently gorgeous ambient rock records of the last decade with 2003's Lambent Material, Eluvium's Matthew Cooper follows it up with, well, one of the most consistently gorgeous neoclassical records of the last quarter century. An Accidental Memory in the Case of Death began as most Eluvium's pieces do, sitting on a bench in front of a baby grand piano in Cooper's apartment. The difference this time was that the songs started to grow legs, and eventually ran away together until an entire album of haunting, intimate suites were made for solo piano. Cooper's long-time influences of baroque classical and modern minimalist composers shines bright over the brief-but-sweeping half hour length of this record, and never once does he give in to the wall-of-noise temptations that made Lambent Material so oceanic. Instead of drifting away in a sea of swelling guitars and drones, you're graced with a rare display of Cooper's unaccompanied piano movements."

TENEUES PUBLISHING:

DESIGNERS REPUBLIC: 3D-2D Book (TN DR). $42.00

Limited repress now available! 198 pages, spiral bound, hardcover. Although Designers Republic is perhaps best known to many for their state-of-the-art digital album design for labels like Warp and Schematic, this is no mere collection of CD art & rave flyers. It is a serious, absolutely mindblowing design book about 3D building architecture. Printed at an oversize format, the spiral binding allows for multiple paper stocks to be used and many of the pages fold out in unique poster format, etc. Many years in the making, this is an essential component to the tDR aesthetic "Created by the people at The Designers Republic, one of today's most revered design firms, 3D-2D explores new ways of communicating architecture. By recreating a three-dimensional building in the form of a printed publication, this innovative book attempts to expand and open up new approaches to presenting and experiencing architectural products, based on the firm's own products and research from over the past ten years. The book takes as its subject the CCIS Office Building (Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Slovenia) which was designed by Sadar + Vuga, an up-and-coming architectural practice. Both provocative and interactive, this unique case study reinvents the architectural drawing in ways that force the reader to rethink his relationship to buildings, to drawings, and to space in general. As visionary as it is plain fun to read, 3D-2D is a user-friendly book in a post electronic, post-CD-ROM, post/DVD era?one that challenges the potentials of a book as a medium in itself." Created by the Designers Republic creative team: Ian Anderson, Nick Bax, Matt Pyke, David Bailey, Abby Ribbands and Vicki Maesen.

TENSION (GERMANY):

DUQUE, ABE: Volume One - Live In NYC After That CD (TE 012CD). $16.00

"Abe Duque (Kirlan) label head of the notorious Tension Records from Hollis NY offers up a full on underground mix. Abe has been blowing it up with his new label Abe Duque Records. Eighteen track DJ Mix features some of Tension's biggest underground singles from the past eight years including AutoFreak (Selway), 19 Bullets, Jack You Fly Girls and the elusive Mika Vainio 'Tekoniwel' tracks. A broad mix from banging techno beats to electronic madness and tribal house."

TERMINAL M (GERMANY):

MISS KITTIN: On The Road CD (TERM 103CD). $15.00

"My 1st techno mix is dedicated to all my electronic music heroes, on this compilation or not, dead or alive, who changed my life forever, teaching me the meaning of music, now I'm floating in an abstract world of sounds and emotions until my last breath. But music is not my life, it's just the way destiny choosed for me to grow, to be happy. Thanks to Monika for showing my techno side through friendship, alphabet city for the German discipline, and Berlin and Berliners for welcoming me soon with true love... Finally thanks to all labels involved in this project, and all brave listeners. I wish it will bring sun in the grey days." — Kittin. Mix CD featuring DJ Rush, Sven Vath, Gary Martin, Kiko, Killabite, Vitalic, Umek, Heckmann, Felix da Housecat, James Ruskin, Samuel L. Sessions, Makaton, Miss Kittin & The Hacker, Laurent Garnier, Plastikman, Plaid & Pink Elin.

TEXTILE (FRANCE):

CHARLES/ALMA FURY/OTOMO YOSHIHIDE/OTANI YASUHIRO, XAVIER: High Tones For Winter Fashion CD (TXT 001 CD). $15.00

"High Tones for Winter Fashion is a collaboration CD, a match up between french and japanese established improvisers. Xavier Charles: As a clarinetist, bassist and DIY enthusiast, Xavier Charles played with several noisy, electronica and sonic poetry activists : Frédéric Le Junter, Martin Tétreault, The Ex, Pierre Berthet, Étagé 34, Axel Dörner, Jérôme Jeanmart, John Butcher, Jean Pallandre, Marc Pichelin, Cris Cutler, Martine Altenburger, Camel Zekri, Emmanuelle Pellegrini, Michel Doneda, Frédéric Blondy. Actually, his musical searches include clarinet, prepared bass and vibrating loudspeakers for a sonic universe somewhere between improved music, noisy rock and electroacoustic. Otomo Yoshihide: After 8 years spent as Ground Zero's leader, Otomo Yoshihide is now involved in various projects mixing turntables and guitar, known as DJ Tranquillizer, Filament or Microcosmos. Following the example of Erik M, Martin Tétreault or Christian Marclay (and even if he admits their influence) but also Pierre Schaeffer, Derek Bailey and the very first Hip Hop DJs, his use of turntables is such incredible that he can't be considered as a proper DJ. Alma Fury: These days, Almá Fury are sculping a shifting soundscape of electric and electronic noise, letting fantasy guide them, as they mix varied and tangential sonic materiel. With a setup includes ; moog, voice, guitar, cassettes, samples, drum machine and percussion ; sonic experimentation and playful creativity are all-important."

MAHAYONI MUDRA/DOCUMENTS: 12" (TXTVNL 04). $9.00

"600 copies, limited edition. Sleeve art: Marie Caillou & Sylvie Astier (Doki Doki studio). FRed Nipi: A-100, Theremin, Bass (Galaxie); Frank de Congo: Drums, Percussions (Garaku, Gaki Deka, Dragibus); rOMses: Synth-Guitar (Under Your Come Hand). In 1998 FRed Nipi and rOMses formed the power noise duo Frejya. They soon were joined by spoken word / performer artist Malga Kubiak for a serie of brutal lives in Paris, Lyon and New York ? for the final shows of this collaboration. After a recording session with free drummer / percussionist Frank de Congo, the trio solidified to become Frejya von ESB, a radical psychedelic unit, that shifts from free-out improvisation to occult drones, frequencies and analog dissonance. Today, following the Astral Anarchy calendar, the formation reborn as Mahayoni Mudra. All 3 are founding and full-time members of the Paris Fucked Music Society." Limited stock.

THALASSA:

KILN: Holo CD (TA 001). $12.00

Excellent sound/textural instrumental presentation by this American trio, recorded in Tempe, Albuquerque & New Orleans. "Kiln (ex-Fibreforms/Waterwheel members) returns with their first full-length release, presenting a new plateau in lush musical event construction. This experimental pop 'sound furnace' utilizes only the finest textures to deliver its goods. Layers of spacious southwestern guitar melodies and slipstreams of overdriven harmonics dance with precise, sometimes funky earth-kin drums and found sound electronics. Makes use of more detailed, diverse and colorful palette than employed in previous projects; Holo offers a composite of 3D, human sized environments and massive, bright spaces."

KILN: Ampday CD (TA 002). $12.00

Second full length from this MI-based trio, following the prior Holo, as well as an EP and Tarwater remix for Room Tone. "Generating radiant soundfields with a watch-maker's eye for minutia and precision, Kiln's Ampday stomps like nothing we've seen from this American trio of sonic machinists: momentum based views constructed utilizing naturalist recording techniques. Trademark Kiln quality intact, Ampday presents something for sound-hounds and pop-junkies alike. Sun-soaked melodic toneforms, propelled by site specific earth-kit beats, churn color in a one-size-fits-all humanist gallery. Uniquely produced and recorded by Kiln in their home hybrid studio, Ampday offers 13 new electrified panoramas for immersion and invigoration. Prepare for Kiln's Ampday sparks."

THE CAMPFIRE:

VA: The Suitecase: Poems by William Cody Maher CD (CAMP 005). $16.00

"A coproduction between Source Records and Campfire. Poems by William Cody Mahers with soundtracks! From Kerouac to Beckett, from Electronic to Country, this CD defines genre definition. William Cody Maher's poetry has the ability to both calm and chill. Dramatic and cinematic in its imagery, it is lush, warm and human and sometimes all of these things and downright funny as well. Combine the Poems with Soundtracks from : Move-D, Alex Cortex, Sad Rockets, Ovi Mvp, B-ton, Elfish Echo, Jochen Seiterle, Frank Pyne, Oliver Kuka, Sequenced Soul, Rawell, Billy Goodman, Alan Pyne and you have one of the years most engaging releases spanning the vast expanse of contemporary music from Hip-Hop, Lush Ambient, Techno, Big Sky Slide, Easy Listening to country and AtmoFX."

THE COMMUNION LABEL:

KUNIN, BEN: Acoustic Adventures CD (COMM 057). $14.00

"Ben Kunin patiently mentors students of sarod and Hindustani music theory 20 miles north of San Francisco in San Rafael, at the school founded by one of the greatest musicians of the 20th Century, sarodist Ali Akbar Khan. In addition to being a master student of Hindustani music theory and sarod-playing, Kunin is also an incredible classical guitarist who can stand the hairs on your arms and neck on end and slip time out of its more linear patterns. With an acoustic nylon-stringed guitar, he can blow you away with some of the most inspired guitar-playing since John Fahey, Terry Riley or the Sun City Girls. Anyone who has felt the joy in the playing of Fahey, Robbie Basho or other noted folkische fingerpickers will need to rush to their CD player and pop this jewel in. The nine tracks on Acoustic Adventures beautifully demonstrate the disciplines one learns in both Indian and Western classical theory, while also displaying the transcendent freedom that all great musicians channel in their own unique ways. The music is closest to the Takoma-era players, but with its own special approach to the 'great tradition.'"

THE LOTUS SOUND:

FINE FREE JAZZ ENSEMBLE, MILO: Precision In Inexactitude CD (TLS 004). $11.00

Milo Fine (drums, electronics, piano, slightly prepared piano, clarinet) & Steve Gnitka (guitar), recorded live 1996/97. Milo has been recording freely improvised clatter for decades, documented early on by the original Hat Hut label, later by his own Shih Shih Wu Ai Records label.

BORGSMANN/MORRIS/CHARLES: Organic CD (TLS 009). $11.00

Borgmann (ts, ss, sop, harmonica), Wilber Morris (b), Denis Charles (drums). "Founded two years ago by saxophonist Thomas Borgmann, this trio consisting of Wilber Morris, Denis Charles and Thomas have been on a nonstop musical assault ever since. Recorded live in Karlsruhe, Germany during 1995, Organic features the trio in their environment, the improvised live setting. Improvised free jazz that will appeal as much to fans of Coltrane's mellowest moments as those of Sun Ra's wildest."

THE MOGS (FRANCE):

MOGS, THE: Kelly Blame 12" (MOGS 001EP). $11.00

"Kelly Blame is the story of two young French girls living in Paris. These two girls (who call themselves The Mogs) made a very, very cool track in between Paris new wave chique, funk, noise and neo electropop. Maybe easier to describe it as a fusion between Carl Craig, DFA and LSG (yep... its a New York disco, punk v more Detroit technoish sounds). The track comes in 3 versions, ranging from the more rock influenced to the more technoish side. The perfect tool for all of those popular DJs like Tiefschwarz, Ivan Smagge, Tiga, Zmanydj's."

THE MUSIC CARTEL:

ZENITH: Flowers of Intelligence CD (TMC 25). $14.00

"Zenith is textured techno featuring angelic, dreamlike synths and breakdowns contrasted with hard industrial drumbeats. Zenith is Federico Franchi. At a young age, Zenith, grew up with a love for electronic music. Through his experience with computers and his approach to sampling and composition, he began writing techno/trance tracks. Zenith's other love is his label, Trance Communications. The label immediately gained a lot of respect and attention, including a licensing deal with the Aphex Twin's label, Rephlex(?)."

CHATHAM, RHYS: Hard Edge CD (WIRE 9002). $19.00

"A re-invigorated Rhys Chatham records for the re-invigorated Wire Editions label (last sighted: David Toop's Screen Ceremonies CD from 1995) with a crack band of miscreants including all members of UK free-skull-pierce unit Mass (Gary Smith/Lou Ciccotelli/Gary Jeff) as well live-elex whiz Pat Thomas (previously: the excellent New Jazz Jungle CD on NewJazz.com records, Honolulu, HI). Those concerned w/Chatham's whereabouts over the last 30 or so read on... 'studied counterpoint/harmony, age of 13 w/Donald Stratton and Tom Manoff, sparked his interest in serialism, met Subotnick who encouraged him to compose electronic music, met Maryanne Amacher, Charlemagne Palestine, Ingram Marshall, and Eliane Radigue, led him to study and work with La Monte Young, tuning his piano in just intonation in exchange for lessons, supported himself during the early seventies by tuning the instruments of such artists as Gustav Leonhardt and Glenn Gould, ability to tune and hear harmonics lead to his interest in making compositions incorporating the overtone series, wrote his first composition in just intonation in 1971, began working as a composer-performer with non-notated music of various sorts, which culminated in 1976 when he first started working with hard rock, composition, 'Guitar Trio' (1977), became the first composer to make use of multiple electric guitars in just intonation to merge the extended-time music of the sixties and seventies with serious hard rock. etc..." Audio herein rocks the plimsoul rather heartily through the employment of Thomas's meager jungle-break collection (comb-filtered against Ciccotelli's monster rock 'slam') to back Chatham & Smith's analogue-process improv variables (trumpet/guitar respectively) into something oft rather Jenkinsonian (although occasionally Bukem-esque) in overall timbre. A nice package, not far off from recent Chatham-led N-Tone label output (notably, the fantastic Martin Wheeler co-led "Neon" EP) & in direct appeal to both fans of 'lectronica & out-jazz (some feat...). Grand." — Hrvatski.

THEOLOGIAN RECORDS:

WATSON, TOM: Country & Watson CD (THEO 081 CD). $12.00

"Basically this is a solo record of music that piled up on tapes during the time when Tom first started playing in the Red Krayola and was without a band of his own. The music that ended up on Country & Watson came from a wide period of time, from 95-98, but was sifted through and finished in 1999. The process of recording began when Jim O'Rourke (Sonic Youth, Gastr Del Sol, etc.) was in town during Red Krayola recordings and was interested in helping Tom with Country & Watson, thus O'Rourke played an essential role in the entire production. Other people that contributed: Brian Christopherson- drums, Lynn Johnston-sax, Bob Mothersbawh (Devo)- guitar, Stephen Prina- vocals. Erik Bluhm, Gabie Strong, Diana Watson and Mayo Thompson (Red Krayola) appear in various forms on live recordings. Tom does the rest. The music on Country & Watson varies widely, from ambient and textural to new wave hooks to freeform guitar to complex finger picking and more."

THESE (UK):

BARBED: CD (THESE 9). $18.00

"Debut release from London based electronics duo. Time capsule aesthetics with a good sense of rhythm and an ear for a sound-bite. Car boot sale machinery meets high tech in a collision of cultural relics and long forgotten reels of tape. This is post-concrete music harnessing the sampler to create landscapes and atmospheres, taking the listener through dense forests of plasticity and illusion."

THINK PROGRESSIVE (GERMANY):

NEUMEIER/PETER HOLLINGER, MANI: Meet The Demons of Bali CD (TP 022). $15.00

A "culture-clash" style meeting between the German percussionists Neumeier (Guru Guru) and Hollinger (Uludag, Gestal Et Jive) with a Gamelan ensemble from Bali.

ASH RA: Ashra CD (TP 026). $15.00

Following the obscure live document Sauce Hollandaise comes a new live in Japan release, recorded in Osaka and Tokyo on the historic Ash Ra Tempel tour in Feb. 1997. The label's hype on this release refers to the group as Ash Ra Tempel as well, but only the word "Ashra" is actually found on the CD. The line up consists of Manuel Gottsching (guitar & keyboards, Lutz Ulbrich (guitar, e-bow, keyboards), Harald Grosskopf (drum kit and percussion) & Steve Baltes (sampling, keyboards and rhythm machine). They create a live variant on the proto-techno sound first initiated by Gottsching on E2-E4, and at its best (such as the 20-minute opening "Echo Waves"), the trance inducing power is still very much intact.

VA: Wir Sind Kinder der Revolte; Best of Herzberg Vol. 1 CD (TP 030). $15.00

"Live cuts from Germany's most famous Hippie Meeting (this year again over 40,000 visitors). Featuring Hawkwind, Gong, Guru Guru, Man, Faust, Embryo, Chris Karrer." Recorded over the years 1995-97.

BIRTH CONTROL: Operation LP (TP 031). $15.00

Reissue of their 2nd album from 1971. Rumored to be the only Krautrock band to chart in the German Top 100 at the time, which probably tells you as much as you need to know. "Much more conventional than their debut, this was Birth Control the underground pop band, with a hard-rock based style. Birth Control were the staunchest of rock bands on the OHR label!" —Freeman's.

EMTIDI: Saat LP (TP 032). $15.00

Full color gatefold, 180 gram vinyl (minus the built-in warping that used to affect old OHR pressings). "The album Saat was a truly progressive folk masterpiece, with the beautiful 'English' vocals of Dolly Homes and occasionally the contrastingly Teutonic voice of Maik Hirschfeldt, in a richly textured music featuring multi-guitars, keyboards and electronics, elevated cosmic progressive of a refined and most magical kind, beyond the realms of early Bröselmaschine or Hölzerlin, towards Klaus Schulze even!" —Freeman Bros.

WALLENSTEIN: Blitzkrieg LP (TP 040). $15.00

Wallenstein were a keyboard-dominated Krautrock band, and this is a 180 gram LP reissue of their first album, in a full color gatefold jacket (CD is on Spalax). Members like Harald Grosskopf (drums), Jürgen Dollase (keys) & Jerry Berkers are kinda household names in Krautrock circles (for their contributions to the Cosmic Jokers, etc.), and they did record for OHR but it can be a tough pill. Their sound is an aggressive hammering of keyboard/melotron washes, over early 70s prog bashing. This first album from 1971 also has good portions of rope-a-dope guitar extensions and outright heaviness. A lesser record by OHR standards, but with merit.

THINKBOX (CANADA):*VA: Thinkbox Editions 01: Settings CD (THINK 002 CD). $13.00

"Thinkbox, a collaborative of Windsor/Detroit artists, present the first in a series of compilations documenting the current emet-ence of experimental electronic music in Detroit. Settings, an 11 track full-length disc, displays how familiar, every day sounds can be manipulated with modern music technology and digital techniques to produce warm hstening textures, slow spacial melodies, cut-up blips, plips & plinks, and involved ambient soundscapes. With sound influences as diverse as Mille Plateaux, Minus, 12k, City Centre Offices, Scape, Raster Noton, and countless other labels impacting their work, you may be intrigued by what Thinkbox has to offer into the universal mix. Settings is an instantly seductive and easily accessible assortment of sounds created by Thinkbox's stable of audio manipulators as they .100k to the CD format as their newest group venue." Artists include: Chris McNamara, Bill Van Loo, Mark Laliberte, Christopher Bissonnette, Steve Roy, and Rob Theakston.

THIRD EAR RECORDINGS (UK):*VA: Detroit Beatdown 2CD (3E 001 CD). $17.00

"Detroit Beatdown Vol.1 contains fourteen brand new tracks, all previously unreleased. The music known in Detroit as Beatdown: is it House? is it Techno? Just go Deep....all the way Deep....Beatdown Deep. All the tracks will be taken as a soundtrack live, and they work easily on the dancefloor or in the lounge of a club. So jazzy, cool, deep & kickin' Detroit was never heard. Featuring Malik Alston, Theo Parish, Alton Miller, Rick Wilhite (fellow three chair), Norm Talley, Darren Abrams, Delano Smith, Eddie Fowlkes, L.A. Williams and Dwayne Jensen." Packaged in a deluxe fold-out digipak, with Designers Republic graphics.

VA: Detroit Beatdown 3LP (3E 001 LP). $19.00

Triple LP Version

SYTH:S: Hanabai 12" (3E 002 EP). $10.00

"Syth:s are Paulo Nascimento and Ryoko Kuwajima, two exciting talents individually, who promise much working together." Remixers: World's End Girlfriend, and T. Raumschmiere.

TREAD: Tread 3 CD (3E 006 CD). $16.00

"Tread are Hiroshi Watanabe and Take Kitahara. Hiroshi Watanabe is better known as Kaito, whose Everlasting album for Kompakt is one of their best-sellers. Hiroshi has also worked as Quadra and Nite System, and will release his eponymous debut album on Third Ear in the Summer of 2003. Tread is recognizable, yet is also very different from Kaito. Tread work within a strictly defined territory. Their's is a true minimalism. Zen music. Tread music has a purity and simplicity that is simply breathtaking. You can tell that every sound has been very carefully selected to evoke a precise mood, to manifest a very particular sensibility. Yet this is beat music. The beat never goes above 115 bpm, and mostly stays around 85-100 bpm. This tempo is dangerous territory for music that is essentially 4-4 House groove driven. Yet, Hiroshi Watanabe, with eight years of experience of living in New York and working with the likes of Evelyn 'Champagne' King, has total control of his House grooves. This is house music like you never imagined: Thumping kick drums never sounded so delicate. This is micro House with a completely different meaning. Take Kitahara is a clothes designer and graphic designer. He and Hiroshi Watanabe begin a track by discussing the mood or emotion, or setting they wish to evoke. Hiroshi Watanabe then lays down the first elements, which are then critiqued by Take Kitamura. Slowly, they build the edifice which becomes the emotion, the mood, the setting. The track. The Tread project is four albums that represent the four seasons. Tread 1 is winter, Tread 2 — Spring, Tread 3 — Summer, Tread 4 — Autumn."

TREAD: Tread 3 2x12" (3E 006 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

VA: Enjoy Detroit CD (3E 010 CD). $16.00

"Third Ear are very proud to present this superb compilation of new and exclusive tracks from the Premier Cru label. Premier Cru is a label from Detroit, which grew out of a 'jazz/dance/hip hop band called JWQ (Jonathan Williams Quartet). In addition to Premier Cru founder George Katsiris, on guitar. The band also featured future Premier Cru artists Erv Green, Jun Shiina and Jonathan Williams. The band played in and around Detroit and opened up for such acts as De La Soul, Greyboy Allstars, Groove Collective and the James Taylor Quartet. After college, the members moved to various parts of the country but stayed in touch. For the next two years everyone continued to make music, each producing their own tracks by playing all of the instruments over electronically generated drums.

All of the artists, the photographer, the package layout designer, Web site designer, even the picture of the Cadillac on the sleeve (it is a soul food joint where you get a free car wash with your purchase), are from Michigan. Only some of the featured soloists are from elsewhere. Originally, George Katsiris compiled Enjoy Detroit to bring together the family of musicians that he had been a part of in Michigan. However, as the album was being put together, he met other people from the D, such as Jason Hogans, and Kenny Flav, who contributed tracks. Wayne Kounty has since found success writing and producing for Mary J. Blige and Busta Rhymes."

VA: Enjoy Detroit 2LP (3E 010 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

WHY SHEEP: Earthborn 12" (3E 012 EP). $9.00

"Mysterious cult electronic figures do the right thing on their new record for Third Ear, second home of the Detroit beatdown community. Earthborn is a distinctly insane brew from Why Sheep, blending rowdy chanting, and more changes than the dollar rate, over an extended kind of open-ended funk workout. But flip for the juice and it's the Planet E man Redcloose saying it all here. Beginning with a monster groove of a conga and funk bassline, reminiscent of his monster tune 'I Can't Take It', Matthew Chicoine builds chopped vocal into a wicked cut up of the mighty, old skool Bambaata set staple 'Computer Games' by the Yellow Magic Orchestra, and it just rocks — just one utterly cool piece of floorfilling acumen."

WHY SHEEP: The Myth and I CD (3E 013CD). $18.00

"Why Sheep is Gaku Uchida who studied Contemporary Music under the well known Japanese composer Shuko Mizuno, a close friend of John Cage, between 1989-1992. During this period he began to compose electronic music with computers and synthesizers. In 1998 he disbanded his psychedelic/electronic band Ci Ci Tow to concentrate on Why Sheep?. In 2000 he started to make the second Why Sheep? album now with the shortened title The Myth and I. Features two mixes from the EP Earthborn and Clouds 757 together with the Redcloose remix of 'Earthborn'. Baal!"

ALSTON, MALIK: Caterpillar 12" (3E 014). $9.00

"Malik Alston is a new name on the international scene, introduced by Third Ear on the Detroit Beatdown Volume One compilation, where his elegant and assured 'Butterfly' opens up the album. But in Detroit, Malik is no newcomer. He has worked with Alton Miller, Symanski, Ayro, and other Omoa Music artists. He also works with Redcloose, where he has a writing credit on the title track of the album Cardiology, and sings on the track. After 'Butterfly', comes the Caterpillar EP. Four totally upfront pieces of electronic dancefloor technology."

CLARKE, MIKE 'AGENT X': Motown EP 12" (3E 016 EP). $9.00

"Mike Clark follows up the Detroit Beatdown collection with this funk dripped four tracker. Dedicated to James Stinson of Drexcia, this first volume in the 'Beatdown sessions' series is fitting tribute indeed. A central player in Detroit since the days of the Direct Drive DJ tag team, makes Mike Clark hot property — it was Clark who programmed the drums on early UR material, fuelling Mike Banks' Red Planet series, going on to release on Planet E amongst others. His pedigree is self-evident as he opens with 'Motown', a real Motor City number, reverbed kicks a la Theo Parrish, crunchy percussion and pure house piano, build to the goddamn heavy bassline underlining the funk factor, this is booty with brains."

VA: Detroit Beatdown Remixes 12" (3E 017 EP). $9.00

"First bunch of remixes from the Detroit Beatdown Vol. 1 compilation. Remixes from Mick Huckaby, Daz-I-Kue, Gilb'r, Koomba Project."

TREAD: Last Resolution 12" (3E 018EP). $9.00

"Third Ear release an A side only 12" as a taster for the forthcoming Tread 4 album. Ten minutes of electronic bliss. With this track Hiroshi Watanabe surely confirms his graduation to the top level. Reminiscent of Larry Heard, Mr. Fingers', at the peak of his powers."

WATANABE, HIROSHI: Matrix EP 12" (3E 019 EP). $9.00

"Hiroshi is better known under his variety of production pseudonyms — Tread, Kaito, Quadra and Nite System are all names he has recorded as in the past, though the former two have received most recent attention in the UK. Tread is him along with Take Kitahara, and the pair released the widely acclaimed Tread 3 album on Third Ear. His last album as Kaito, Special Love, was put out by Kompakt, which was also widely acclaimed and wooed dancefloors across the world. As he demonstrates on Matrix, he's equally adept at working with beats and a more upbeat tempo. Hikari is a much more downbeat piece, reminiscent of Tread. Hiroshi Watanabe's music often sounds like it belongs in a film score, and this is especially the case with 'After Time'. It's a very subtle piece of music, with it's slow, haunting keys."

SKETCH SHOW: Loophole CD (3E 023CD). $18.00

"Loophole is the very classy new album from Sketch Show, who feature Yellow Magic Orchestra's Haruomi Hosono (Founder Ymo Member) and Yukihiro Takahashi. 12 beautifully crafted songs, some with vocals, some ambient landscapes which include collaborations with Ryuichi Sakamoto, and remixes from Cornelius and Safety Scissors. In 2002, Haruomi Hosono and Yukihiro Takahashi formed Sketch Show, with a view to fusing cutting edge technology to Harry Hosono's idiosyncratic musical directions and Takahashi's beats."

THIRD EYE:*GOLD SPARKLE BAND: Earthmover CD (TE 2006). $11.00

Debut by an Atlanta quintet, playing collectively improvised free jazz on saxophones, trumpets, bass, drums, etc. "...recalls the raw aesthetics practiced by many ESP Disk artists in the 60s as well as the lumbering, effectively non-virtuosic (in the traditional sense) stance of the late 60s/early 70s editions of Austria's Reform Art Unit and the Masters of Unorthodox Jazz.... a pleasant respite from the increasingly 'civilized' and fashionable productions emanating from many so-called avant garde quarters." —Milo Fine.

THIRD STONE (UK):*REVERBERATION VS. MUSLIMGAUZE: New Soul CD (STONE 046 CD). $15.00

"Take one legend of cutting edge music and add the vibrancy and enthusiasm of a young, French, blissed-out psychedelic band and leave to simmer for 26 minutes. The result: 5 tracks of devastating bass lines, tripped out melodies and exhilarating uniqueness which will leave a scar on your soul as well as your speakers. The idea was simple. Let Muslimgauze remix some Reverberation tracks. The outcome was simply breathtaking. Muslimgauze implant their own mix of militant politics and spiritual awareness all over the tracks. From the brutal dub infectiousness to semi-jungle tracks."

SILVER APPLES: Remixes 2CD (STONE 047 CD). $15.00

"A mesmerizing remix album featuring the cream of Third Stone, Halloween Society and Space Age Recordings labels. Reverberation, Colorsound, Darkroom, and Bass Communion all get the Silver Apples treatment. A wonderful and timely reminder of the extraordinary talent of this highly original act. Comes with a bonus CD of the four original tracks (by Reverberation, Colorsound, Darkroom, and Bass Communion) in a limited edition run of 1000 copies in a gatefold sleeve."

THIRSTY EAR:*BROTZMANN MASSAKER, CASPAR: Home CD (THI 57007). $14.00

The fifth Massaker album, it's actually a recent studio recording of 5 songs from the band's first 2 albums (The Tribe & Black Axis); live, no overdubs, and of course, very heavy.

THIS IS NOT A DUB RECORDING! (NETHERLANDS):*FLORINTINTIN: Lapbop LP (TINA 001LP). $13.00

"Amazing release by Floretijn Boddendijk. Who's that? He is a classical composer from The Hague who writes music pieces for orchestras but also is experimenting with electronica and jazz. He played us some old experiments he made years and years ago and we where stunned! He remixed /re-edited some old jazz tracks (like Dizzy Gillespie's 'A Night in Tunisia', Miles Davis's 'Milestones', Paul Desmond's 'Take Five', Wayne Shorter's 'Nefertiti' and others) in a way only Laptop producers edit their music... he did record all these mixes on tape and made the edits with cutting and looping tape and the result is even more crazy then Otto von Schirach's Laptop experiments (especially if you consider they are more then 10 years old!). Florintin (as he named himself for this project) made an additional couple of tracks on his Laptop...but we can not tell the difference between the new tracks and the older ones. This is a mini album with 9 pieces of music which probably sound familiar...but then you notice the twist."

THREE BLIND MICE (JAPAN):

TAKAYANAGI SECOND CONCEPT, JOJO: Cool JoJo CD (TBMXR5018). $30.00

Third volume in a series of Takayanagi reissues on this Japanese jazz label. As with the prior Free Form Suite, this features super deluxe hardbound book-like packaging and "extended resolution CD" sound. First reissue of this obscure album, originally recorded in Dec. of 1979; with four bonus alternate takes issued for the first time. Takayanagi (guitar), Kenji Kohsei (piano, electric piano), Nobuyoshi Ino (bass), Yasuhiro Yamazaki (drums). A "cool jazz" recording in the Tristano tradition, All improv sax/drums duo action. cannot sketch well is nonsense. It's the same thing in jazz. I find no value in the free jazz of a musician that doesn't swing in 4 beat and plays a dreary in-code ad lib. Avant-garde music or Free Form does not exist without a respect for the classic, and thus, it turned out to be a special album reflecting Jojo's sincerity." — Takeshi "Tee" Fuji, producer.

THREE GUT RECORDS (CANADA):

GUTHRIE, JIM: Now More Than Ever CD (TGR 010CD). $13.00

"For the past 10 years Jim Guthrie has been silently following the bell that always rings, chasing the noises he hears and organizing them on various recorders. Through self discovery and experimentation he has taught himself everything he knows about music, composition melody and orchestration of pots and pans and broken dishes. When not working on his own music, Jim is a member of Royal City (Three Gut / Rough Trade) and a collaborator to many."

THREE POPLARS (GERMANY):

O'ROURKE, JIM: Scend LP (THREE 08). $21.00

"A tape composition from 1992 (originally released on CD) now issued in a revised LP version on Three Poplars. Limited edition clear vinyl in a special dyecut sleeve with insert. 1000 copies. '... As I walked out, I thought 'I've really started now, and I don't know where I am going to sleep tonight.' I felt excited, but also a little unhappy and alarmed. I wished I had not started out in the evening. I had been planning my tour all the weeks that I had walked to and from school in the squalid London streets. I thought, 'I shall get away from all this and wear only a shirt and shorts and not go near anyone for weeks and weeks.' I had a longing to hide myself in some very isolated place, and I thought immediately of the Lakes. I wanted to go to them, but can't remember what made me finally change my plans and go to D. instead..."

BASINSKI, WILLIAM: A Red Score in Tile LP (THREE 10). $21.00

"On their own Three Poplars label Mirror offer one of their favourite compositions by William Basinski. A Red Score in Tile is a tape composition from 1979 and was inspired by James Elaine's painting of the same title. Limited Edition of 600 copies. '... something was shining in a long narrow passageway between the theatre and an adjacent building. This was where he had gone. Illumination was there and sounds. From around the corner's edge a grotesque light was trickling out, the first intimations of an ominous sunrise over a dark horizon. I dimly recognized this colored light, though not from my waking memory..."

CHALK, ANDREW: Fall In The Wake of a Flawless Landscape LP (THREE 13). $21.00

"The first new solo release by Andrew Chalk since his Over The Edges LP from 1999 on Streamline. The material was recorded in 2003. For anyone interested in Mirror this off course is a must. Limited edition of 600 copies. "When the moon did not free him nor the sun release him, he thought his time strange, became impatient with his life; he moved the gate of the fort with his ring finger, suddenly turned the bony lock with his left toe; with his nails he got outside the threshold, with his knees out from the door of the entrance. Then he plunged straight into the sea, the person among the waves. There he lay outstretched for five years, both five years and six, seven years, eight. At last he came to a stop on the surface, by a nameless headland, a treeless land. With his knees he struggled up from the ground, with his arms he turned himself over. He got up to look at the moon, to admire the sun, to observe the Great Bear, to scan the stars."

O'ROURKE, JIM: Two Organs LP (THREE 15). $21.00

"The second archive release following last years great Scend LP (3PB). 2 pieces for organ composed and performed in 1991 when Jim was finishing his music studies at de Paul University in Chicago. These pieces had almost been forgotten about as Jim's musical interests soon took a change of direction. Only now released for the first time in any format this LP instantly draws the listener inside this recently imagined timelessness."

THRESHOLD HOUSE (UK):

COIL: The Angelic Conversation CD (LOCI 06). $18.00

Soundtrack music from the 1985 film by Derek Jarman. Music by Coil: John Balance, Peter Christopherson & Steven Thrower. "The film is non-narrative — improvised in Dorset on the south coast and the Isle of Grain in the Thames Estuary. The film is a poetic reverie which follows the fortunes of two young men who fall in love." — Derek Jarman.

COIL: Windowpane & The Snow CD (LOCI 07). $18.00

"The complete collection of remixes of 'Windowpane' and 'The Snow', originally issued in 1990 by Torso and Waxtrax Records." Featuring remixes by Jack Dangers (Meat Beat Manifesto), Peter Christopherson, John Balance, Danny Hyde, etc. Way into the techno end of the Coil spectrum.

COIL: Gold Is The Metal With The Broadest Shoulders CD (LOCI 11). $18.00

Repressed. 1990s CD issue of a compilation originally released in 1988 of early Coil music. "This release was not the follow-up to Horse Rotorvator, but a completely separate package — a stopgap and a breathing space — the space between two twins. Presented here are the thoroughbreds that escaped the Horse Rotorvator — discarded shards, distortions, disappointments, scrambled and disassembled stages. Remnants of what once was. A chance to release some otherwise placeless pieces of paper."

COIL/ZOS KIA: Transparent CD (LOCI 13). $18.00

"Historical CD reissue from last year of material previously only available as a Nekrophile Records cassette, brought in just in time to commemorate the new release of the vinyl edition. Represented here are the earliest (and arguably most caustic) Coil recordings, culled from performances at the Berlin Atonal Festival in 1983, the Magenta club in London in 1983, and several rehearsal/studio 'takes from the same year. Truly the sound of 'Machines Having Sex'; loud, pulse-driven performance-art pieces (with occasional/optional moaning/bellowing/howling/blood-curdling) that justify completely the later 'electro-pop' stylings penned by a related lot of said 'messengers'. 10 tracks, 50 minutes." — Hrvatski.

COIL: Stolen And Contaminated Songs CD (LOCI CD04). $18.00

Repressed. "This CD is essentially a compilation of Love's Secret Domain era outtakes and alternate versions. Bizarre, beautiful and experimental in nature, this CD is as varied as LSD, if not more. From the cool jazz of 'Omlagus ..' to the bass and drum groove of 'Nasa Arab' to the classy orchestral arrangements of 'The Original ..', 'Who'll Tell?' and 'Corybantic ..' to the drones of 'Wrim ..' to the slow sample buildup of 'Her Friends ..' ... you definitely know you're listening to Coil. 'Who'll Fall?' may be one of the most beautifully sad pieces ever committed to tape. The track features the telephone recording of a friend of Coil's explaining that a mutual friend had recently committed suicide ... very eerie." — Brainwashed.

COIL: How To Destroy Angels CD (LOCI CD05). $18.00

"Subtitled 'New Remixes and Recordings of the rare Coil EP', this is the CD version of what was chronologically the first Coil EP How to Destroy Angels: Ritual Music for the Accumulation of Male Sexual Energy, which dropped quietly enough into society proper during 1984 via the L.A.Y.L.A.H. Records imprint. This CD presents the two tracks on said EP; 'How to Destroy Angels' (presented here as 'How to Destroy Angels II' due to a new stereo mix — courtesy of Steven Stapleton), parts of which function dually as the soundtrack to the film Lumb's Sister and 'Absolute Elsewhere' (which was intended in it's original form to be non-playable; the 1st pressing had 'unplayable noise-filled grooves,' the 2nd 'playable multi-layered music,' the 3rd 'a smooth, grooveless surface as originally intended,' although there are rumours to be two alternate, non-authorized versions; one with 'a playable b-side with a constant tone for around 15 minutes,' another with 'a playable b-side with a series of "test tones" in unconnected locked grooves,' although all of that means little jibe as the CD recreates it as a silent 2 second track (so much for 'art')) along with 5 reworkings of the original audio (presumably just 'HTDA') by John Balance and Peter Christopherson done before 1992. The original version(s) are brilliant; darkly hued takes on musique concrete's fascination w/clangorous irregular-harmonic sonorities & subsequent treatments. The remixes hover close, often varying little in theme while experimenting with contemporary execution techniques (the tell-tale artefacts of the early SPV timestretch poke their weary heads through the mire). An ideal place to start the Coil journey, whether or not you intend to further your existence via all that sex-magick/S&M tomfoolery..." — Hrvatski.

COIL: Unnatural History II: Smiling In The Face of Perversity CD (LOCI CD10). $18.00

Repressed. This volume is particularly notable for the rejected Hellraiser soundtrack material (previously only available on limited vinyl on Solar Lodge). Also on this CD — single tracks from the Clawfist, Threshold House labels, an old Power Focus cassette track from 1983, tracks from compilations on Sub Rosa and Pathological, etc.

COIL: Unnatural History III CD (LOCI CD12). $18.00

Repressed. Third volume of collected compilation tracks, previous vinyl-only material, etc. Tracks from the Giorno Poetry Systems, Shock 7" & Portable Altamont track, music for commercials, a CTI collaboration with Chris & Cosey, a Thirlwell production from the first Coil single, etc.

COIL: Astral Disaster CD (LOCI CD14). $18.00

"Astral Disaster is the new album from Coil. It features radically reworked and restructured material originally recorded for, and released by, Prescription Records in a limited edition of 99 vinyl copies in 1999. This new edition also includes material not on that long unavailable original album. Astral Disaster was recorded by John Balance and Peter Christopherson with the glamorous assistance of the multi-talented Thighpaulsandra (Spiritualized, Julian Cope), also with contributions from Drew McDowall and Gary Ramon. The original work was recorded at Samhain under the level of the river Thames at Southwark. Amongst the track titles are 'The Sea Priestess', 'The Avatars', 'The Mothership and the Fatherland and Muur'. Besides these long instrumental pieces, other tracks feature John Balance on vocals. The CD comes in a full color digipak with artwork specially sculpted for the album by Steven Stapleton."

COIL: Scatology CD (LOCI CD15). $15.00

"Finally this groundbreaking album gets the reissue it so richly deserves and is remastered by Coil & Spiritualized member Thighpaulsandra. Scatology is one of the most inventive, ambitious, intelligent & disciplined 'Avant' albums ever. A remarkable record that sees accessibility meet surrealism in an orgy of Emulators, chants, high technology and low anti-technology." Originally released by Some Bizarre in 1984.

COIL: Horse Rotorvator CD (LOCI CD16). $15.00

Repressed. Anti-Stevo reissue of the 2nd Coil album, originally released in 1986 on Some Bizarre. "Officially made available for the first time in years and remastered by Coil/Spiritualized member Thighpaulsandra. Marc Almond Billy McGee Jim Thirwell and a host of others on this classic album join John Balance & Peter Christopherson. Sales of 75,000 copies first time round."

COIL: Love's Secret Domain CD (LOCI CD17). $17.00

Repressed. "LSD has been out of circulation for so long that this is almost like a new release rather than a reissue. Remastered by Thighpaulsandra and artwork by Steven Stapleton LSD sees Coil joined by Rose McDowall, Marc Almond, Annie Anxiety, Juan Ramirez, Charles Hayward, Mike McEvoy & Cyrrung. LSD was Coil's most dance-orientated release and saw them years ahead of the field of dance music, as we know it today. Aphex Twin, Autechre and even Goldfrapp would not be here today if it were not for the pioneering group that is Coil." Originally issued in 1991 by Threshold House in the UK (licensed to Wax Trax in the US).

COIL: Live Two CD (LOCI CD19). $17.50

2nd volume in this series of 4 live CDs. September 15, 2001: City: Moscow, Russia: Venue: OK Gorbunova. COIL were: Jhon Balance; Peter Christopherson; Thighpaulsandra; Tom Edwards Live engineer: Russell Polden Clothes and costumes designed by Jhon Balance, Ossian Brown and David Cabaret, and made by David Cabaret.

COIL: Live Three CD (LOCI CD20). $17.50

"Bologna Italy April 6th 2002; Teatro Delle Celebrazioni; Second in the Coil Live series, once again in a Digipak with Matt UV finish and Spot Gloss. Coil were: Jhon Balance, Peter Christopherson, Ossian Brown, Mike York & Cliff Stapleton with additional performance by Pierce and Massimo of Black Sun Productions. Live engineer: Andy Ray; Clothes and costumes designed by Jhon Balance and Ossian Brown, and made by Ossian Brown."

COIL: Live Four CD (LOCI CD21). $17.50

"Working Backwards the first in a set of four Coil live albums begins with the final concerts of the last tour. Presented in a spot UV'd digipak, Coil Live Four consists of material from: October 27th, 2002, Prague, Czech Republic, Palac Akropolis; And October 29th, Vienna, Flex. For these concerts COIL were: Jhon Balance, Peter Christopherson, Ossian Brown, Thighpaulsandra, With Pierce and Massimo (Black San Productions). Clothes and costumes designed by Jhon Balance, Ossian Brown and David Cabaret (inspired by Jean Benoit) and made by David Cabaret."

THRILL JOCKEY:

TORTOISE: CD (THR 013 CD). $12.00

First album. "...an organic combination of jazz, electronic, rock, and dub influences. in one word: klangfarben."

FREAKWATER: Old Paint CD (THR 022 CD). $13.00

"Freakwater's Old Paint was originally released on October 10, 1995 and marked their fourth record and second for Thrill Jockey. The band at the time, much in the same way it is today, revolved around Catherine Irwin, Janet Beveridge Bean and David Gay. Along with their fifth release Springtime, Old Paint is considered by many Freakwater's finest moment. Catherine's originals on Old Paint elevated her stature as a songwriter to another level with tracks like 'Gravity' and 'Gone to Stay'."

TORTOISE: Millions Now Living Will Never Die CD (THR 025 CD). $12.00

2nd album

MICROSTORIA: Init Ding CD (THR 031 CD). $12.00

Domestic issue of the first Microstoria album, as originally issued on the Mille Plateaux label in Germany. "Microstoria is a collaboration between Markus Popp (Oval) and Jan St. Werner (Mouse On Mars). The resulting music is an electronic soundtrack, not without structure, not without melody. 'The instruments' used are what could be seen as their successors — machines and digital technology. Where Oval excludes authorship of music, Microstoria explores authorship, especially in relation to improvisation. The tones used in composition are mechanized, yet paradoxically rich. The resulting pieces are organic in feel, a striking result when viewed in context with their origins. Once, instruments were physical entities, connecting the creative individual through tuition and technical skill to the almost metaphysical world of music. The distinction between computing device and 'musical instrument' was increasingly blurred since the 1950s; however, it left the composer in charge of his/her machinery. More recently in the 1990s things have merged into one. Computer-based (formerly 'programmable' or 'computer controlled') authoring environment — still fully capable of hosting the residual 'old' music media as well as its terminology. The transition from the 50's perspective to the 90's put an already well introduced component of music production newly into focus: software rendering the composer the designer. Atavistic concepts like an instrument end up as a tutorial vocabulary, or in other words a helpful software metaphor. Microstoria has goals and tasks for the near future: music as organized acoustics and music as software."

OVAl: Systemisch CD (THR 032 CD). $12.00

Reissue of 2nd Oval album (first to fully explore their current sound, as originally issued by Mille Plateaux). Beautiful digital abstractions, created by CD manipulation (painting on discs, etc.). Some of the most hypnotic & vital music of the era. Their masterpiece, the 3rd album Diskont 94, will be reissued later in '96. "Oval create warm melodies and rich textures out of electronic tones and loops. Oval loops sounds created out of manipulated discs. The repetition indigent in a sound loop serves a rhythm, over which layered loops of warm tones provide the melodic, organic element."

OVAl: Systemisch 2LP (THR 032 LP). $12.00

Double clear vinyl version of above.

BROWN/JAMES WARREN/DOUG SCHARIN, BUNDY K.: Directions in Music LP (THR 033 LP). $9.00

MICROSTORIA: snd CD (THR 035 CD). $12.00

Second album by this German duo of Markus Popp (Oval) and Jan St. Werner (Mouse On Mars), issued domestically in collaboration with Mille Plateaux. "The 'instruments' used are what could be seen as their successors — machines and digital technology. Where Oval excludes authorship of music, Microstoria explores authorship, especially in relation to improvisation. The tones used in composition are mechanized, yet paradoxically rich. The resulting pieces are organic in feel, a striking result when viewed in context with their origins. snd was recorded partly in Berlin and partly in Cologne. Markus and Jan used classical improvisation techniques to create source material for mixing. This recording was done on high end digital equipment utilizing cutting edge digital sound editing as well as instruments and their digitally implemented equivalents. Microstoria concentrates on minute musical details, in order to end up with a smooth succession of carefully sampled soundframes, replayed in 'slow motion'. Microstoria challenges the conventional concept of music. They remove many compositional boundaries. Freed from traditional concepts of time, verse, even structure, Microstoria explores tone and texture, creating depth and form out of abstractions. Subtle tonal changes trigger major alterations in form and 'depth' when juxtaposed. The nature of improvisation is altered by the clear and precise editing decisions. It is this paradoxical arrangement that mirrors the aforementioned paradox of the organic sound/feel of the music and the mechanical origins. Microstoria's music, like many forms of abstraction, reveals its complexion upon close inspection."

MICROSTORIA: snd LP (THR 035 LP). $9.00

OVAl: Diskont CD (THR 036 CD). $12.00

Reissue of the 2nd Oval album for Mille Plateau (3rd overall); aka oval94diskont. Both the CD & LP have two bonus tracks not included on the Mille Plateaux version. More advanced in its transportational properties than its predecessor Systemisch, this album is one of the dominating, defining audio documents of its era. "Oval are Markus Popp and Sebastian Oschatz. The paramount aim of Oval is to vigorously comment on the transitions in media, as well as digital technology. Oval music is about media, aesthetic presence, organized sound, composed out of the remnants of both music and musicality. They are interested in providing insight into the contemporary digital audio workspace components. Whilst originating as more of a by product of theory and theoretical demonstration, Oval's music is a rich textural and often melodic soundtrack created out of cold electronic tones. In commenting on digital technology, Ovals use their own digital programs as well as physical manipulations of disc to expose the process and the equipment: for example creating a rhythm track out of a looped skip in a CD. As with Microstoria, Oval music, whilst a by product of their comment on and exposing of digital technology, is enjoyable without the knowledge of it's origins because it is a rich melodic soundtrack."

OVAl: Diskont LP + 12" (THR 036 LP). $9.00

The LP edition comes with an additional 12" that contains remixes of Diskont tracks by Jim O'Rourke, Scanner, Mouse On Mars and Christian Vogel. These remixes are exclusive to the vinyl edition, which seems somewhat inexplicable.

ELEVENTH DREAM DAY: Eighth CD (THR 037 CD). $12.00

"...still the core of Rizzo, McCombs and Bean. They are often abetted on live appearances by John McEntire and Yo La Tengo's Ira Kaplin. On Eighth they continue to push boundaries, no longer trying to represent a 'live' performance and taking more liberty to expand the interpretation of these songs."

TRANS AM: Surrender To The Night LP (THR 038 LP). $9.00

SEA AND CAKE, THE: The Fawn LP (THR 039 LP). $9.00

FREAKWATER: Dancing Under Water LP (THR 040 LP). $9.00

MICROSTORIA: Reprovisers CD (THR 042 CD). $12.00

"Microstoria sent tracks to the following artists (C. Schultz & Hajsch, Ui, Violent Onsen Geisha, Mouse On Mars, FX Randomiz, Oval, Stereolab, Jim O'Rourke, Christoph Heemann, Christophe Charles & Nicolas Collins) for a collaborative track. The idea of the project was an extension of the improvisations of Microstoria. A collaboration between two improvisers as opposed to a remix. Bands were to augment the tracks they were sent by playing off of, or with the tracks. Microstoria improvise with machines and then edit to complete a track. They create a variety of tones and then compose in the editing process. They wanted to extend this notion by having their edits further reprised by an additional improvisation and edit. They selected many of the musicians with the thoughts that their music would be different enough to make a significant change to the tone and timbre of Microstoria's music. The results are not only a very interesting listen but exciting in the merging of technical and human elements."

MOUSE ON MARS: Cache Coeur Naif CD (THR 043). $7.00

"The new Mouse On Mars is an experiment. Whilst taking a break from recording their new full length, Jan St. Werner and Andi Toma had some friends for a visit. The visitors were members of Stereolab. Fine wine and a love of pop blended together and the idea for 'Cache Coeur Naif' was born. Laetitia Sadier and Mary Hansen were spirited away to the studio. This collaboration between Jan and Andi (Germans) and Laetitia (French) and Mary (Australian) is not just international — it is out of this world. To borrow from Sun Ra, 'Space Is The Place.' The tones of Mouse On Mars are round, bubbling and rich. There is an undeniable groove. Laetitia and Mary's vocals seem to float above it all. Dreamy."

MOUSE ON MARS: Cache Coeur Naif 12" (THR 043LP). $8.00

LONGESOME ORGANIST, THE: Collector Of Cactus Echo Bags LP (THR 044 LP). $9.00

MOUSE ON MARS: Autoditacker CD (THR 045 CD). $12.00

The third album from the duo of Mouse On Mars: Jan St. Werner (Microstoria) and Andi Toma. A glorious clipped selection of processed electronic soundscapes, with guest digitalization from FX Randomiz and vocals from Laetitia Sadier. "Two years have passed since the critically acclaimed laora Tahiti. Musically, Mouse creates densely layered tracks with the intended results being grounded in pop. Designed to yield more with repeated listens, songs are minutely detailed. Drum tracks, for example, often contain eight different layers — live drums, programmed, digitally processed and various combinations and/or mutations of the aforementioned. Fills and breaks are set, arranged and placed individually — as opposed to being looped. The results are rich, deep, wonderfully varied. To quote Rob Young from The Wire, 'Mouse tracks are lush mini adventures or sound movies in multiple dimensions: densely layered vertically, constantly changing horizontally in time, it's a fully articulated body of music.'

MOUSE ON MARS: Autoditacker 2LP (THR 045 LP). $12.00

OVAl: Dok CD (THR 046 CD). $12.00

"This record is part one of a counter-remix-project embarked upon by Berlin-based sound innovators Oval and Tokyo-based installation artist/sound designer Christophe Charles. The record is primarily an Oval record accessing the soundfile archive of travel and field recordings by Charles. On this new LP, Dok, the preparation of the recording process itself was a challenge in its own right: the challenge centers around the widely static and very delicate environmental recordings of Charles and the difficulty in creating music out of sound with no sustain, no rhythm, and in no linear structure or relationship to each other."

OVAl: Dok LP (THR 046 LP). $9.00

FREAKWATER: Springtime CD (THR 047 CD). $12.00

"Springtime marks the fifth domestic release by Freakwater and was completed in July '97. The core line up of Catherine Ann Irwin, Janet Beveridge Bean and David Wayne Gay remains..." Springtime blossoms with an insight and vision into country music that is both refreshing and timeless."

FREAKWATER: Springtime LP (THR 047 LP). $9.00

ISOTOPE 217: The Unstable Molecule CD (THR 049 CD). $12.00

Debut release by a new Chicago sextet including 3 Tortoise members (John Herndon, Dan Bitney & Jeff Parker). "It's hard to state exactly what Isotope 217 is because of the diverse influences of the participants. One might say an eclectic avant funk ensemble dedicated to the Phonometric system of universal thought (Phonometrics are, as described by Satie, the science of measuring sound). One might also say a freewheeling trans-molecular unit dedicated to the betterment of all worlds."

TORTOISE: TNT CD (THR 050 CD). $12.00

"Tortoise's 3rd full length release, TNT, was written and recorded during a 10-month interval in 1997. This longer-than-usual production schedule was purposefully undertaken by the group in the hopes of crafting an expansive, diverse, yet thematically coherent offering. Clocking in at 65 minutes, it is certainly the most substantial Tortoise release to date. TNT builds upon the spare, instrumental framework of the group's first, self-titled album and the extended edits, melodic adventures, and klangfarben of the subsequent full length release, Millions Now Living Never Die. Further to this, Tortoise's interest in the possibilities offered by the remixing of tracks was realized within the actual production of INT; individual elements, sections, or sometimes whole compositions mutate within the album's shifting framework. These techniques were suitably realized thanks in part to the use of non-linear digital recording and editing techniques, the first example of such work for the group. In addition, many of the arrangements push the group's standard instrumentation into new territories with the inclusion of strings, woodwinds, and brass."

GARNER, SUE: To Run More Smoothly LP (THR 051 LP). $9.00

TRANS AM: The Surveillance CD (THR 054 CD). $12.00

"Trans Am's third and most controversial album, The Surveillance, marks a new direction for them as it is the first that they recorded and mixed entirely by themselves. Like their two previous full length releases, this record is a mixture of rock and electronic sounds. However, it features less lush production than Surrender to the Night, instead moving from sparse and paranoid electronic jams to balls-to-the-walls rockers. To create the eerie mechanical grooves, several drum machines, keyboards, and effects processors were added to their tremendously outdated arsenal."

PULLMAN: Turnstyles And Junkpiles CD (THR 055 CD). $13.00

"Pullman is an acoustic quartet featuring Bundy K. Brown of Directions in Music, Curtis Harvey of Rex, Chris Brokaw of Come and Douglas McCombs of Tortoise and Eleventh Dream Day. While it's impossible to ignore the influence of John Fahey on their music, Pullman draw upon the influence of a variety of performers, fingerstyle and otherwise: Nick Drake, Leo Kottke, Ry Cooder, Bhrij Khabra, VM Bhatt, Bola Sete, King S. Ade, Wes Montgomery, Jim Hall, Steve Tibbetts, Robbie Basho, Peter Laing, Duane Allman, Dickie Betts, Doc Watson, Richard Thompson and even Jimmy Page."

CHICAGO UNDERGROUND DUO: 12 Degrees of Freedom CD (THR 060 CD). $13.00

Taylor (drums, vibes), Mazurek (cornet, piano, bamboo flute). Recorded, mixed and edited by Casey Rice (Designer). Mazurek and guest guitarist Jeff Parker are members of Isotope 217. "Ah, the cry of jazz.... Canned press: 'Rob Mazurek and Chad Taylor are stalwarts on the Chicago Jazz front and have played with myriad artists. On Duo the two meld their various influences and talents to form a free-flowing, moon-scaped recording.' Chad & Rob are members of the Chicago Underground Orchestra (one record: Playground on Delmark) and are augmented here by Tortoise/Isotope 217 member Jeff Parker (catch) on a few of the tracks. Recorded alternately at the Lunar Cabaret, the James Bond Loft, and WNUR studio during the calendar year 1997." — Hrvatski.

PREKOP, SAM: CD (THR 061 CD). $13.00

"Sam Prekop's eponymously titled LP is a study in pop nuances. Simultaneously transporting the listener from mild climes and swinging palms to darkened skies and wind blown steppes, the record will be easily recognized by fans of The Sea and Cake. Known to many as the singer and main songwriter for said group, Mr. Prekop is assisted on this release by Chad Taylor (Chicago Underground Duo), Josh Abrams (ex-Roots, Town and Country), Jim O'Rourke and Archer Prewitt (The Sea and Cake). Those expecting to find more of the computer beats and trickery found on The Fawn and Two Gentlemen are in for a surprise. Whilst prevalent, the computer takes a back seat to real strings, drums, piano, electric piano and organ as well as electric and acoustic bass. The subtle grooves, a trademark of The Sea and Cake records, are still present here as Sam and his band blend West African rhythms with a bit of soul, jazz and pop."

TRANS AM: Futureworld CD (THR 062 CD). $13.00

"Trans Am continues the evolution of rock music. On Futureworld, their 4th and most controversial album, they leave behind all the doomsday prophets and false futurists, bringing us a tough vision of what is to come. What they see is stark and uncompromising, melancholic, but not without hope."

ISOTOPE 217: Usonian Automatic CD (THR 063 CD). $14.00

"Second full length from Chicago's Isotope 217...came to fruition via an increased focus on composition. Many of the songs had their inception as rough sketches that slowly took form during Isotope 217's various live performances. The absence of Sara P. Smith, the trombone player on The Unstable Molecule, also had a direct effect on the way Usonian Automatic was created. The band was forced to look deeper for new tones and sonorities to continue to develop their sound with the new lineup."

OVAL: Szenariodisk CD (THR 064 CD). $8.00

"The digital terrorist attacks with a CDEP comprised of new material and six songs which graced his previous 12" releases, Aero Deko and Szenario. Szenariodisk continues his exploration and manipulation of digital technology. This CDEP is the final installment in his three part series. This series of Oval Process Software takes a leap from the platform of Dok. While Dok employed the sound files of Christof Charles, the new EPs are made from the rich and round tones of the Oval sound files. The tones and melodies are a ghost, or a faint reminder of the melodies on the Oval debut Systemisch. There is considerable depth and a deep groove." [Content clarification: there are actually 11 tracks on this release, including 5 new, very short tracks that are apparently exclusive to this issue; total time: 25 minutes]

OVAL: Szenario 12" (THR 064B). $6.50

"This mini-single is the second in a two part series of 12" Oval singles. Aero Deko and Szenario are considered the vinyl version of the Oval full length CD Szenariodisk. This next installment of Oval Process Software takes a leap from the platform of Dok. While Dok employed the sound files of Christof Charles, Szenario is made from the rich and found tones of the Oval sound files. The tones and melodies are a ghost, a faint reminder of the melodies on the Oval debut Systemisch. There is considerable depth and a deep groove. In fact, Popp and friend Jan Werner from Mouse on Mars have labeled Szenario as the first Oval R&B release!" Limited stock.

GARNER, SUE AND RICK BROWN: Still CD (THR 065). $13.00

"The material ranges from songs fully written by Sue to tracks based on rhythm loops to a little appropriation of the music of the Equals. The dissolution of Run On allowed for reflection that reminded them of the fruitful period before the inception of that band and after Fish & Roses ended. In that transition, Sue and Rick had worked on tunes and recorded them at home to help with the composition process. The resulting demos, many of which later became Run On songs, still sound good and have the freedom and intimacy peculiar to home recording. Later, Sue recorded To Run More Smoothly, her solo debut, in her New York apartment. In their 15 year musical partnership, Sue and Rick have always tried to make music that is both complex, challenging and tuneful. They are interested in the exploration of group dynamics as well as recording techniques. Still is a beautiful testament to years together and lessons learned along the way."

GARNER, SUE AND RICK BROWN: Still LP (THR 065 LP). $9.00

FREAKWATER: End Time LP (THR 066 LP). $9.00

LONGESOME ORGANIST, THE: Cavalcade CD (THR 067 CD). $13.00

"The Lonesome Organist recorded the majority of Cavalcade himself in an attempt to reproduce in its most primitive and true state, the experience of seeing The Lonesome Organist in a live setting. Jeremy spent the better part of the year on the road and expanded his one-man act to include steel drum, saw and tape delay in an effort to round out his preferred arsenal of drums, guitar, keyboards, harmonica and vocals. Cavalcade was done live and straight to two-track. Jeremy played all the instruments simultaneously. The result is music with a swirling metamorphosis of style and sound. Yes, The Lonesome Organist has the rarely seen and miraculous ability to move effortlessly from reckless organ bashing to carnival steel pans with tape manipulated speed-ups to hillbilly guitars to techno beat box yodeling."

LONGESOME ORGANIST, THE: Cavalcade LP (THR 067 LP). $9.00

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Scope CD (THR 068 CD). $13.00

"Creatively, Nobukazu Takemura is inspired by both the 'impressionist and objective conception' of John Cage, Brian Eno and Afrika Bambaata, and the free form creativity of John Coltrane and Robert Wyatt. These influences are evident in his debut solo release, 1994's eponymous Child's View. 1997 saw the release of two records from Takemura: the 2nd Child's View record, Child And Magic and Changing Hands, a collaboration with Steve Jansen and Richard Barbieri. Scope is Nobukazu's debut Thrill Jockey full length. The five tracks all vary widely in style. Some focus on repetitive grooves that gradually transform into symphonies of delicately layered waves of sound while others offer organ-based melodies and alluringly stretched vocals. Also evident are intricate conversations between blips and bleeps that have more personality than half the humans you know. Put away your BPM counters, this is modern technology morphing. Musique concrete."

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Scope LP (THR 068 LP). $9.00

NERVES: New Animal LP (THR 069 LP). $9.00

BROKEBACK: Field Records From The Cook Country Water Table CD (THR 070 CD). $13.00

"Brokeback is Douglas McCombs (Tortoise, 11th Dream Day, Pullman). Through Brokeback, Douglas has sought to explore something not as densely structured as his other musical outings with a focus on rhythm and texture. The idea with Brokeback is to keep things simple and let the melodies hang in the air. By the nature of this decision the music is sparse, but not without sounding full and realized." Features contributions from Noel Kupper-Smith & Rob Mazurek (Chicago Underground), Josh Abrams (Sam Prekop, Town & Country), John Herndon & John McEntire (Tortoise).

BROKEBACK: Field Records From The Cook Country Water Table LP (THR 070 LP). $9.00

8 BOLD SOULS: Last Option CD (THR 071 CD). $14.00

"The group features the unusual instrumentation of two woodwinds, trumpet, trombone, cello, tuba, bass, and trap drums, and is led by composer Edward Wilkerson. In order to have a good understanding of 8 Bold Souls, it is important to understand a bit more about the ensemble's leader. Musically, Wilkerson finds inspiration from those he has studied or worked with such as Muhal Richard Abrams, Henry Threadgill, Lester Bowie, Fred Anderson, Von Freeman, Johnny Britt, as well as many other fellow members of the AACM. In addition, Wilkerson cites many non-musical inspirations like family, education, and readings. Fostered by the AACM, Wilkerson learned to think about music in an encouraging environment that prompted musical education in equal doses with experimentation. 8 Bold Souls' music is both melodic (reminiscent of small groups led by Duke Ellington and Jimmy Lunceford) and challenging (featuring complex arrangements for innovative instrumentation)."

RIZZO, RICK AND TARA KEY: Dark Edson Tiger LP (THR 072 LP). $9.00

BOYKIN OUTET, DAVID: Evidence of Life Other Planets Vol. 1 LP (THR 073 LP). $9.00

LP-only release. "Composer and saxophonist David Boykin leads the Outet, a jazz quintet consisting of vocalist Glenda Baker, flutist Nicole Mitchell (Samana), bassist Josh Abrams (Sam Prekop Band, Town & Country), and drummer Chad Taylor (Sam Prekop Band, Chicago Underground Trio). The group is inspired by the tradition of Chicago musicians such as Run Ra, Gene Ammons, Johnny Griffin and Sonny Stitt, and uses these local influences to help powerfully express the voice of the next generation of creative music. Boykin's bold sound, complex rhythmic phrasing, and fearlessly aggressive approach to improvisation lead the Outet with a forcefulness that touches the listener intimately."

CONN, BOBBY: Llovesonnngs EP CD (THR 075). $8.00

"Bobby has been forced to provide the public with a tonic, a pacifier, to ensure stability and safety within the rock community. Llovesonnngs, a 4 song ep, features Conn interpretations of the Ham/Evans track, 'Without You', and the Caetano Veloso composition, 'Marie B.' For, 'Without You', Conn began when Nilsson Schmilson left off — right in the heart of the FM dial. Joined for the recording by well known percussionist Michael Zerang, Conn's performance of 'Marie B.' sounds like an out take from his recent residency at Caesars Palace. Inspired by French socialite Virginia, Conn composed a song that may only the familiar to those that joined him at his snow bunny bash in San Moritz. Ending at the beginning, 'Free Love', works itself up into a deep groove that has been rated NC-17 by our friends at the RIAA. All songs feature the sultry French violinist Monica Boubou, and there are guest appearances from the crème of Chicago's Classical and Jazz community."

MOUSE ON MARS: Niun Niggung CD (THR 076 CD). $13.00

"Niun Niggung nonchalantly jumps over all sound construction sites in modern music history. Between the first lunar landing and the day after tomorrow's pop music, post-organics and new avant garde have rarely enjoyed such a good time together. Sounds without bounds. Battered evergreens to fall in love with. Details without regrets. As with its predecessor, Autoditacker, this terrifically progressive innovation centrifuge grown on you every time you hear it. 'Diskdusk', with its elegant futurism, the wuppily superflapping 'Gogonal', and of course the special edition of 'Distroia', the wildest hit ever to emerge from the soundminds of the St. Martin studios are all the result of mercilessly erected findings of the past few years' sound research. An outrageously mature performance that always sounds different, yet always like Mouse On Mars. Forget about your pigeonholes. To think that all this is possible without glue or a false bottom. One thing is for certain: Mouse On Mars have paved the way for a continuously growing gang of German and international sound villains to weave analog and digital, electronic and non-electronic sounds into a totally new, organic fabric. Not without reason have great swarms of independent and other tinkers, post-, kraut-, and general rockers, poppers, techno types, and avant garde soundrels included this darned modern stuff in their daily menu. The Thrill Jockey version of Niun Niggung contains five tracks not available on the import version (Domino, Our Choice/Zomba)."

CHICAGO UNDERGROUND DUO: Synesthesia CD (THR 077 CD). $13.00

"A stark departure from the sound cultivated in the group's first recording, 12 Degrees of Freedom. The new release from Rob Mazurek (Isotope 217) and Chad Taylor (Sam Prekop) utilizes electronics, found sound, moog and studio manipulations, adding elements that make Synesthesia not just a jazz record, but a release that shuns categorization in any particular genre."

GIANT SAND: Chore of Enchantment CD (THR 079 CD). $13.00

"Howe Gelb's Giant Sand is the most resilient and consistently inventive American band of the last two decades, part of the well-spring of the Tucson musical dynasty. Most artists who have amassed a body of work as enormous and varied as Howe Gelb have made some impression in the collective consciousness, but he continues to reside in a dimly lit corner of the rock circus. Out in the Arizona desert, Gelb painstakingly cuts and pastes home recordings into heartrenderingly intimate solo albums and rushes into spare studios for hurried jam sessions with itinerant musicians of all generations. Giant Sand's new album, Chore of Enchantment, is as good a place as any to acquaint yourself with his wayward muse. Gelb says of Chore of Enchantment, 'The overall sound could be summed up as a mix of slow burning hot buttery Memphis moistness with the crispy quiet crackle of Tucson thirsty-ness. An attempt to serve up a saucer full of hitherto unpredictable predictabilities? as opposed to the usual platters of predictable unpredictabilities.'"

ISOTOPE 217: Who Stole The I Walkman? CD (THR 080 CD). $14.00

"Who Stole The I Walkman? is the culmination of Isotope 217's last year of performing and rehearsing, and it offers their unusually familiar blend of collective improvisation, songwriting, and electronic manipulation. Who Stole The I Walkman? is the most accurate representation to date of the balance Isotope 217 seeks to achieve between live performance and the recording process. That is, some songs such as "The Harmolodge" or "Sint_D" are well crafted compositions, while others, such as "Input" are live improvisations. The balance between the two is evident in a tune such as "Metabass", which was composed in the recording studio from a series of improvised tracks and compositional bits — and illustrates Isotope 217's ability to create atmospheric electronica on a jazz foundation. Dan Bitney (percussion), John Herndon (percussion), Matthew Lux (bass), Rob Mazurek (cornet), Jeff Parker (guitar)."

OVAl: Ovalprocess CD (THR 081 CD). $13.00

"Markus Popp, a.k.a. Oval, is a mastermind of digital technology. Ovalprocess continues his elaborate manifesto of electronic music coupled with multimedia wizardry. This new release from Oval is a flowing, textured manuscript that utilizes sublime low end rhythm and directive pulsation in a manner that eases the listener into a soft and pillowy world dominated by electronic bleeps, glitches and moans. Ovalprocess equally represents an innovative music software application, designed by Popp, as much as it serves as the core engine to an innovative Oval sound installation. The installation is centered around one or several publicly accessible sound terminals running the Ovalprocess application, rendering the exhibit a customizable, collaborative workspace. Making the installation accessible in a public space is the ideal aesthetic that Popp craves—he feels it is far more effective than offering a CD-ROM or another option that would make the application available on a more individual basis. The Ovalprocess installation allows the public to use sounds that are found on the album to produce their own Oval-like music. His latest release displays Popp's talent at developing a deep and complex groove with seemingly difficult tools. Ovalprocess is best enjoyed at a loud volume. Oval's rich and round tones provide a Siren-like lure that is irresistible."

OVAl: Ovalprocess LP (THR 081 LP). $9.00

TRANS AM: You Can Always Get What You Want CD (THR 082 CD). $13.00

"Trans Am opens their vaults, releasing the seven inch, twelve inch, live, and previously unreleased bonus tracks that people have been clamoring for for years on a colossal 17 track CD entitled You Can Always Get What You Want."

TOWN AND COUNTRY: Decoration Day CD (THR 083 CD). $8.00

"Town and Country's second release and their first on Thrill Jockey. It expands their all-acoustic instrumentation from the guitar, harmonium and 2 string basses of the first release to Josh Abrams on contrabass, piano and kalimba, Liz Payne on piano, snare drum and guitar, Jim Dorling on harmonium and celeste and Ben Vida on guitar and accordion. Seems they've coaxed their back-porch minimalism out into the café. The layered, unhurried drones developed on the first release now function to resolve through-composed pointillist melodies. Inspired by the music of Morton Feldman and Franco Battiato, Town and Country continues to present music in which the slightest changes are strongly felt, favoring timbral revelation over technical virtuosity."

SEA AND CAKE, THE: Oui CD (THR 086 CD). $13.50

"Oui marks the triumphant return of The Sea and Cake after a three-year absence which saw the members of the band pursue a variety of interests; musical, professional and personal. The line up of the band remains Sam Prekop, Archer Prewitt, Eric Claridge and John McEntire. Oui is a pop album. From the opening measures of 'Afternoon Speaker' to the serendipitous nature of 'Everyday,' Oui is a graceful recording of elegance, revealing its charms quietly and continually upon each listen."

TRANS AM: Red Line CD (THR 087 CD). $14.00

"Trans Am's fifth album, Red Line, with twenty-one tracks spans over seventy-three minutes and features lush vocals, massive horns, tight electronic jams, guest musicians, acoustic guitar, soaring keyboards, in-your-face mixing, and occasional sitar for the most widely varied and complete Trans Am album to date."

TOWN AND COUNTRY: It All Has To Do With It CD (THR 088 CD). $13.00

"With two string basses, acoustic guitar, and portable acoustic keyboards (harmonium, celeste, accordion) as its basic instrumentation, Town and Country don't just strip down to the drum/bass/guitar logic of rock, they totally sidestep it. In the studio the standard rock method of recording basic rhythm tracks followed by adding overdubs does not work as well for a band without a rhythm section. Accordingly, the group took a year to compose and arrange the songs on this record and three days to record and mix. The finger-picked guitar-with-drones approach of the first CD has evolved into a more dynamic, group-composed ensemble playing where no particular instrument carries the water and parts are through-composed rather than looped. Influences are Morton Feldman, John Fahey, Don Cherry, Franco Battiato, Gavia Bryars and Sonny Sharrock."

TOWN AND COUNTRY: It All Has To Do With It LP (THR 088 LP). $9.00

TORTOISE: Standards CD (THR 089 CD). $14.00

"Standards, the fourth full-length recording from Chicago's Tortoise, boldly announces their return following 1998's INI. Musically, Standards is perhaps their most concise statement of purpose thus far. The tunes are direct and immediate, yet they maintain the exploratory edge that has always characterized the group's output. The fusion of instrumental sounds (electric, acoustic, and synthesized) is subtle and subversive. Similarly, the group's fluency within the studio environment gives the finished work a quality that alternates between artifice and reality."

TORTOISE: Standards LP (THR 089 LP). $13.00

PULLMAN: Viewfinder CD (THR 090 CD). $13.00

"Pullman formed several years ago as a result of a common interest in acoustic music by Chris Brokaw (Come), Curtis Harvey (Rex, The Letter E), Ken Brown (Directions) and Doug McCombs (Tortoise, Brokeback, Eleventh Dream Day). On Viewfinder, Pullman have broadened their sonic palette by adding drummer Tim Barnes (Jim O'Rourke) and incorporating electric instruments for the first time. This is shown to great effect on 'Wire and One Good Shoe' where the electric and acoustic guitars weave a brilliant tapestry of melody that does not betray Pullman's affinity for rustic soundscapes."

BROKEBACK: Morse Code In The Modern Age: Across The Americas CD (THR 091 CD). $14.00

"What originally began as a solo project for Doug McCombs (Eleventh Dream Day, Tortoise, Pullman), has increasingly become more and more of a collaborative effort, now officially a duo with the addition of bassist Noel Kupersmith (Chicago Underground Quartet). The new EP explores further collaborative territory, as Brokeback are joined by friends such as James McNew (Yo La Tengo), Mary Hansen (Stereolab), Alan Licht (Run On, Love Child, solo), Tim Folijahn (Two Dollar Guitar, Cat Power) and the Calexico duo of Joey Burns and John Convertino."

MICROSTORIA: Model 3, Step 2 CD (THR 092 CD). $13.50

"Model 3, Step 2 is a new studio album from digital specialists Microstoria, Markus Popp (Oval-innovator of augmented digital audio realities) and Jan St Werner (Mouse on Mars — the world's leading electronic structuralist pop group, and Lithops — the silent power plant of hybrid music arts). Model 3, Step 2 is their most accessible collaboration so far. Still it is utterly impossible to trace their extremely manipulated sounds and compare them to anything else. Did anyone hear the guitar? Considerable time has passed since their critically acclaimed initial releases Init Ding (1995), Snd (1996) and their collaborative CD Reprovisors, in which tracks were rearranged and appropriated by a diverse group of musicians (Stereolab, FX Randomiz, Jim O'Rourke, C-Schulz & Hajsch and others). Popp has been busy writing new Oval music and working with Oval Process software and installations such as Skotodesk and Public Beta. Werner has toured extensively with Mouse on Mars and released several records on his Sonig label. The time apart has allowed them to diversify the source material and compose tracks individually in a much more deliberate way than previously. Model 3, Step 2 consists of nine excursions into the world of downtempo speedcore. On all tracks source material was selected and created by Popp and Werner together. The duo gives to these abstract but always physical bodies of sound by shaping them into a song structure. It is an entirely individual way of understanding and presenting music. Even though their songs are precisely edited and arranged, Microstoria finds empathy among musicians whom play free music or jazz because of the broad tonal range and the shared desire to explore and exploit possibilities."

MICROSTORIA: Model 3, Step 2 LP (THR 092 LP). $9.00

German Sonig pressing imported at domestic price by Thrill Jockey.

CHICAGO UNDERGROUND QUARTET: Chicago Underground Quartet CD (THR 093 CD). $13.00

"This self titled release is the debut as a Quartet for the Chicago Underground collective. In addition to the already established Chicago Underground Duo of Rob Mazurek (cornet, electronics) and Chad Taylor (percussion), the quartet model features Jeff Parker (Tortoise, Isotope 217) on guitar and Noel Kupersmith (Brokeback) on upright bass. For those familiar with the Chicago Underground Duo's recordings, Parker and Kupersmith add a lush, organic tone to the proceedings: abstract sonics meet gorgeous melody in this extraordinary sound collage. The Chicago Underground Quartet merges sound from disparate worlds that collide and coexist in unexpected ways."

TAKEMURA/CHILD'S VIEW, NOBUKAZU: Hoshi No Koe CD (THR 094 CD). $13.00

"Hoshi No Koe is released under Takemura's Child's View alias. The first Child's View release since 1997's Child and Magic, Hoshi No Koe sees Takemura exploring a number of different sounds that have captured his fancy throughout his career. From the baroque innocence of 'White Sheep and Small Light' to the digital deconstructionism of 'Honey Comb' Takemura draws inspiration from the legends of free jazz, hip-hop and contemporary musique concrete. Takemura's blips and bleeps bubble with exuberant personality. Few electronic composers should ever hope to create music so brimming with playful humanity."

TAKEMURA/CHILD'S VIEW, NOBUKAZU: Hoshi No Koe LP (THR 094 LP). $11.00

LP version in full color sleeve.

MOUSE ON MARS: Instrumentals CD (THR 095 CD). $13.50

"Shortly after the release of the dance/pop/electronic juggernaut Autoditacker, Mouse on Mars issued a sixty-minute album called Instrumentals. Composed between 1995 and 1997 and released exclusively on vinyl, the limited pressing of 1300 copies flew off the shelves and three years after the fact, Instrumentals remains out of print. Thrill Jockey is taking steps in the national relief effort with the re-release of the sought-after Instrumentals album on CD. Instrumentals is assorted sonic and psychic electronic particles bursting and inflating, overlapping and elevating. Each composition is deceptively complicated, consistently engaging and irrefutably danceable. The thrills and trills of Instrumentals are both a direct and indirect nod to the flavor of Peter Thomas compositions ('Rompatriouille'), and the album itself remains an important chapter in the quest to create an organic electronica. Sound without bounds, details without regrets! Mouse on Mars has been called the Parliament/Funkadelic of the new millennium, and who are we to argue?"

GELB, HOWE: Confluence LP (THR 097 LP). $9.00

LP version.

MOUSE ON MARS: Idiocracy CD (THR 098 CD). $14.00

"From their beginnings in 1992, Cologne native Jan St Werner and Dusseldorfer Andi Toma have consistently challenged electronic music's paradigm in often surprising and always intriguing ways. Idiocracy is the duo's seventh album and is no exception to this rule, as MoM surround themselves with strings, woodwinds, brass and the band's own heavily modified fleet of machines in the St. Martin's Tunstudio. Fans should once again brace themselves for the inevitable shock of the new as Germany's most irreverent audio renegades have created the perfect soundtrack for a highly sinister dance party. Kicking off with 'Actionist Respoke', the album's first single, MoM officially declare their independence from glitchtronica's shoe-gazing legions. Longtime collaborator Dodo Nkishi lends a uniquely warped vocal sensibility to the track which already features MoM's darkest grooves to date. The rest of the album continues to thicken the group's sonic stew. Tracks such as 'Presence' and 'Catching Butterflies With Hands' have their populist intentions undermined by Werner and Toma's meddling hands, while the duo reprise their flirtation with the orchestral as heard on the opening tracks from 2000's Niun Niggung. At the other end of the spectrum, 'Introduce' is a truly evil slice of twisted lympho-zoid hip-hop. Idiology takes no prisoners in its dual-pronged assault on the conventions of modern music. Only with the lounchy closing number, 'Fantastic Analysis' (a term Werner and Toma invented to describe their working process), do Mouse on Mars let the arrangements breathe a long sigh of relief, the calm after the storm. To enable these stylistic achievements MoM enlist the help of partners in crime such as: Nkishi, the multi-talented Harald 'Sack' Ziegler, house icon Matthew Herbert on piano, violinist Matty Arouse, in addition to fellow programming wizards Adam 'Vert' Butler and F.X. Randomiz."

MOUSE ON MARS: Idiology LP (THR 098 LP). $13.00

ANDERSON & ROBERT BARRY, FRED: Duets 2001 CD (THR 101 CD). $13.50

"Born 1929 in Monroe, Louisiana, tenor saxophonist Fred Anderson came to Chicago in the late 1930s where he would leave an indelible mark on the city's jazz scene of the last 40 years. Drummer Robert Barry is one of Chicago's best known freelance drummers. Perhaps he is best known for his work with Sun Ra, having been a founding member of the Arkestra and playing with him off and on from 1950 to 1978. After having performed together only once before, this historic performance was recorded at Chicago's Empty Bottle in May of 1999. Anderson described the night as 'one of those rare moments when everything comes together.' This is truly evident on the album, as Barry notes the tunes' 'great momentum' as the set wears on. Anderson and Barry found a musical language of uncommon understanding that night."

ANDERSON & ROBERT BARRY, FRED: Duets 2001 LP (THR 101 LP). $11.00
LP version.

COLEMAN, ANDREW: Everything Was Beautiful And Nothing Hurt CD (THR 102 CD). $13.50

"Andrew Coleman is perhaps best known for his alter ego Animals on Wheels. Under that moniker, he released two albums and an EP for the highly respected Ninja Tune label, in addition to numerous 12"s and compilation appearances on his own landmark Bovinyl imprint. Along with Bovinylmate Adam 'Vert' Butler, Coleman was largely responsible for the UK jungle offshoot 'drill n' bass' scene. For his debut full-length under his own name, Everything? represents both a departure and a logical progression from his Animals on Wheels work. Gone are the rapid-fire breakbeats and abrupt mood shifts of the past. Instead, Coleman has emphasized the rich melodic textures that always held the foundation of his best work. Piano & guitar lines are set adrift over a gentle bath of electronic rhythms and synthesized percussion. These sounds seem even more perfectly realized when you consider the fact that Andrew lives and records his music on a houseboat."

COLEMAN, ANDREW: Everything Was Beautiful And Nothing Hurt LP (THR 102 LP). $11.00

LP version in full color sleeve.

OVAL: Ovalcommers CD (THR 103 CD). $13.50

"The 6th full length release from Markus Popp (aka Oval) finds this world renowned digital mastermind extending the concept & musical platform of last year's acclaimed Ovalprocess in every way. Exploring a spectrum of sounds between the abrasive sandblast of neo desktop rock (tracks 1-3) and the alienating, timeless splendor of DSP chamber music. In between there are unique excursions in folk electronica (track 4) and pop inflected wall-of-sound tunes that could only come from the mind of Oval. Popp describes Ovalcommers as a 3D musical obstacle course, a friendly and accessible invitation to complexity. Ovalcommers surprises with poetic and playful elements (organs and layers of guitar feedback), making room for understatement, sophistication and a new, almost absentmindedly casual atmosphere. Haunting emulations of processed brass, string and woodwind sections are carefully added to the otherwise still angular desktop rock. Listeners will leave Ovalcommers with a new perspective on Oval in general, as Popp's strategy becomes clearly visible: A friendly, yet relentless fanaticism to experiment and innovate musically."

OVAL: Ovalcommers LP (THR 103 LP). $11.00

LP version in full color sleeve.

GIANT SAND: Cover Magazine CD (THR 104 CD). $14.00

"The latest album from Howe Gelb's Giant Sand is a collection of songs (except one) written by others. Cover Magazine was recorded live in the studio with the intention of seeing exactly where these 3 men stood with each other musically and as a chance to reinterpret a diverse selection of songs that have influenced them. Though the original artists covered here run the gamut stylistically from classic rock to punk to heavy metal, country and trip hop; all are given the Giant Sand treatment. Black Sabbath's 'Iron Man' is reinvented as a sparse lament; found sounds brush up against acoustic guitar, piano, congas and horns revealing the subtlety behind this heavy metal classic."

GIANT SAND: Cover Magazine LP (THR 104 LP). $11.00

LP version.

NERVES: World Of Gold CD (THR 105 CD). $13.50

"Another rock and roll triumph for the Nerves. World of Gold finds the Nerves at the top of their game and ready to finish what they started: Bringing true, real rock and roll back to the forefront of modern music. Not a single member of Tortoise plays on this record."

CHICAGO UNDERGROUND DUO: Axis & Alignment CD (THR 106 CD). $13.00

"Axis & Alignment represents the 7th release by the Chicago Underground collective, and 3rd for the duo of Rob Mazurek (cornet, electronics) and Chad Taylor (percussion). The Duo's last album, 2000's Synesthesia, found Mazurek and Taylor fully integrating elements of electronica and studio manipulation with great success. Axis & Alignment was recorded after a year of extensive touring with Isotope 217 and the recording and release of the Chicago Underground Quartet's debut album. These influences inform the melodic, lively compositions found on Axis & Alignment. Those who have seen the Duo live have borne witness to Chad Taylor's astounding performance on drum kit and vibraphone, which he often plays simultaneously. 'Microexitt' leads the album off with one of Taylor's most haunting vibraphone melodies and perfectly segues into the shapeshifting techno-influenced polyrhythms of 'Lifelines', where Mazurek's cornet melody wraps around the percussion. Axis & Alignment is one of the most listenable, yet avant-garde recordings to come from Chicago's fertile Underground."

CHICAGO UNDERGROUND DUO: Axis & Alignment LP (THR 106 LP). $11.00

LP version.

TRANS CHAMPS: Double Exposure CD (THR 107 CD). $9.00

"Trans Am was first exposed to the Champs in 1997 during the drive from Portland to The Champs' hometown of San Francisco. The final product of this unholy alliance is a collaboration in a pure sense of the word. No track on Double Exposure features less than one member of either band. This arrangement allowed the members of each band to stretch out and explore new dimensions in sound."

TRANS CHAMPS: Double Exposure 12" (THR 107 EP). $9.00

PREWITT, ARCHER: Three CD (THR 108 CD). $13.00

"Prewitt is an accomplished illustrator, comic artist (SoF Boy is published by Drawn and Quarterly), guitarist for the Coctails and The Sea & Cake. Inspired by Emmett Rhodes, Roy Harper, Beatles, Impressions, and the Bee Gees, Prewitt writes classic pop tunes. Three is Archer's most refined effort to date. The romantic sentiments and lean arrangements of his classic pop tunes should not be mistaken for simplicity. Such assumptions would ignore the serious craftsmanship of his songwriting and performance. It is a credit to the considerable talents of Prewitt (producing, performing and writing) that Three bounces along effortlessly."

PREWITT, ARCHER: Three LP (THR 108 LP). $11.00

LP version.

TRANS AM: TA CD (THR 109 CD). $14.00

"On TA, Trans Am's 6th album, the Washington DC based trio take a trip back to the future. It was a time when the Soviet Union was the greatest threat to national security; Don Johnson valiantly fought the war on drugs every week during prime-time in a pastel colored wardrobe; and the year 2002 still seemed like a far-off land of flying cars, holograms and vacations on the Moon. That is if we weren't blown to bits in a nuclear holocaust first. Opening cuts 'Cold War' and 'Molecules' reveal influences like New Order, The Cars, Midnight Star, Funk Carioca and George McRae pushed to the breaking point by abusive studio wizardry and aggressive mixes."

TRANS AM: TA LP (THR 109 LP). $12.00

PARISH, JOHN: How Animals Love CD (THR 110 CD). $14.00

"In nearly two decades of impeccable work, Parish has always done jobs where proficiency is tantamount to anonymity. Parish produced and contributed to the critically acclaimed albums It's A Wonderful Life by Sparklehorse, Goldfrapp's Felt Mountain and Giant Sand's Chore Of Enchantment. He is perhaps known best for his collaborations with PJ Harvey, which span nearly two decades. His involvement and influence on her records is multifaceted: co-producer, featured musician, songwriter, multi-instrumentalist, touring band mainstay."

PARISH, JOHN: How Animals Love LP (THR 110 LP). $11.00

LP version.

THE NATIONAL TRUST: Dekkagar CD (THR 111 CD). $13.00

"Delivering on its promise of lush vocal harmonies, pillow percussion and imagery with the saturation of a sunset over the ocean. The listener inhales the world of Dekkagar, from the first steamy keyboard/bongo interweavings of 'Making Love in the Natural Light' to the sweeping orchestrations and Buffalo Springfield aura of 'First Time That.' The National Trust formulated as complete and multifaceted a musical universe as you will hear this year."

THE NATIONAL TRUST: Dekkagar LP (THR 111 LP). $11.00

LP version.

GARNER, SUE: Shadyside CD (THR 112 CD). $13.00

"Sue Garner has been making music for more than twenty years, her first band was the arty new wave outfit Vietnam who hailed from Athens, Georgia. After moving to New York she played in a number of bands that have helped to define that city's musical landscape. The Last Round Up, The Shams, Fish and Roses and Run On are all Garner affiliated projects which have been diverse in sound helping to mold her vision into one that is clearly unique."

RADIAN: Rec. Extern CD (THR 113 CD). $13.50

"John Norman: bass, Stefan Nemeth: synthesizer, computer, Martin Brandlmayr: drums, vibraphone, computer. The Vienna trio Radian formed in 1996. For its full length debut TG11 the band choose to issue the record as a joint release on both Rhiz and Pita's Mego labels. In the beginning of 2002 Radian traveled to Chicago to record their second full length, Rec.Extern with friend and fan John McEntire. Before even heading into the studio the band had conscientiously made the decision to make a record that was more 'organic' than previous efforts. Rec.Extern began with 'real' atmosphere samples like an old elevator, the sound of train station, and in the event you can smell the sweat, their rehearsal room. Rec.Extern finds the band in a crisp, compelling rhythmic space, crackling and bouncing."

RADIAN: Rec. Extern LP (THR 113 LP). $11.00

LP version.

TOWN AND COUNTRY: C'mon CD (THR 114 CD). $13.00

"C'mon is Town and Country's 2nd full length for Thrill Jockey, and 3rd album overall. This album picks up where 2000's It All Has To Do With It left off finding the group fine-tuning and expanding the timbre of their all-acoustic/no electronic line up. For C'mon their string-bass/acoustic guitar core is augmented by Jim Dörflinger's move from harmonium to bass clarinet which he often plays in tandem with Ben Vida's cornet. In addition Liz Payne's adept handling of the hand chimes gives the record an other-worldly feel in conjunction with Josh Abrams' work on the celeste. Compositionally, Town and Country have shifted as well. Their songs were often noted for their length as much as their beauty, but for C'mon the quartet has constructed 7 songs in 40 minutes time. C'mon is the result of an entire year's labor of love. The album also begins to reveal some heretofore unmentioned influences as well: the work of Arthur Russell, Jimmy Giuffrè, and Eno's recordings in the 1970's for the Obscure label mesh with Town and Country's already original and minimally lush sound."

TORTOISE: It's All Around You CD (THR 115CD). $14.00

"It's All Around You finds Tortoise doing what they do best; building and rebuilding upon melodies and rhythms with their own remarkable touch. Written largely in the studio, It's All Around You was crafted over the course of a full year, and allowed Tortoise the use of John McEntire's Soma Electronic Music Studios (whose clients have included Wilco, Stereolab among others) in serving not just as a state-of-the-art recording facility, but as a compositional tool as well. It took months of continuous writing, recording, tinkering, mixing, and perfecting to bring It's All Around You to its finalized state. The results of this process are clear in the lush, orchestrated tones, intricate melodies, and densely elaborate rhythms that make It's All Around You Tortoise's most adventurous and thoughtful record to date. These songs build deliberately and consistently, amassing music of great detail; exploring their layers is both exciting and infinitely rewarding."

TORTOISE: It's All Around You LP (THR 115LP). $11.00

LP version.

SEA AND CAKE, THE: One Bedroom CD (THR 116 CD). $14.00

"One Bedroom sounds refreshingly new for a band's sixth record, yet it is not without moments of familiarity. The record feels like a stroll down the finest moments of the band's career, though it is still another step forward into the evolving 'sound' one has come to associate with the band. The cuffling guitar notes simply woven together, the melodic, propulsive and rhythmic drumming, the swirling sound of synthesizers and the distinct vocals that float in and out fluctuating between lazy delivery and full on falsetto-drawing you in on the records first track, only to have you completely hooked by it's second."

OIOIO: Kila Kila Kila CD (THR 117 CD). $14.00

"The newest release from Japan's category splitting OIOIO (pronounced oh-oh-eye-oh-oh) and their first for Thrill Jockey. OIOIO features Yoshimi, one of the most interesting avant-rock artists making music today. OIOIO has always been the best outlet from Yoshimi to articulate her unique talents, and the swirling, dreamy tunes of Kila Kila Kila are the most skilled showcase of her vision as an artists to date. Kila Kila Kila is a perfect combination of the chaotic poppy grooves for which Yoshimi is known, and the psychedelic freak-outs of the Boredoms. Kila Kila Kila is the perfect antidote to the legions of watered-down drone pop, and a natural heater for an otherwise cold winter."

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: 10th CD (THR 118 CD). $14.00

"10th begins where Takemura's more recent work — Sing and Hoshi No Koe — left off, more playful than abstract. The most striking element of 10th is the presence of vocals. The vocals are created using the technology speech-synthe. This is a technology created for the vocally handicapped making it easier for them to communicate. And in Takemura's hands the technology sings, yet you're never sure if it is processed or it he is singing. Whatever the case, this free-spirited interaction is the essence of 10th. Inspired by the nature of Takemura's surroundings, Kyoto, Japan the record flows like a stream, twisting and turning in unexpected ways, ending peacefully in Lake Yoga. So grab a copy and prepare to be transported to a magical world that could only exist in your mind."

IRWIN, CATHERINE: Cut Yourself A Switch CD (THR 119 CD). $13.00

"Cut Yourself A Switch marks the first solo album by Catherine Irwin, perhaps best known for her work in Freakwater. Cut Yourself A Switch owes more in tone and timbre to the high lonesome sound of folks like the Carter Family, Hazel Dickens and Roscoe Holcomb than to any contemporary country movement. Catherine's vocals have been compared to Sarah Carter, Hazel Dickens, and Melba Montgomery, and her songwriting has been praised for it's mixture of dark humor and dark humorless-nessmoving between 'word-play' style and straight forward storytelling."

VERT: Mewantemooseic 12" (THR 12.15). $6.50

US license of this Sonig release. Adam Vert is from the UK and is known for founding the Bovinyl label with Milky Boy and Animals on Wheels in 1996. "On mewantemooseic, Vert's curious blips and beats are maintained by soft keyboard melodies of organ-like reverence. This 12" fits nicely into the Sonig family of electronic music for those inclined to follow a different path than the often potholed highway of straight drum and bass and electronica."

ETERNALS, THE: Chapter And Verse 12" (THR 12.16). $6.50

"A three piece hailing from the city of Chicago. Their music pulls from a variety of sources, foremost amongst them reggae, jazz and soul. These influences all play a large role in the rhythms utilized by the group, creating music which is sometimes rolling, sometimes sparse, with staccato melodies provided courtesy of bass, organ, synthesizer and drums. The band also makes use of melodia, a tape machine and a sound effects generator. The roots of The Eternals can be found in the percussive and melodic sounds of great artists like Augustus Pablo and The Headhunters."

COLEMAN, ANDREW: Blame It On Adam 12" (THR 12.17). $6.50

"Andy Coleman lives on a boat. Andy Coleman records his music in his studio on his boat. Andy Coleman describes the title track to his EP on Thrill Jockey by saying, 'Orange music. Broken fridge doors and unsent records. The acoustic guitars are illegal by the way. Modelled wind instruments do their thing. Blow when they want. Miles would have hated it.' So begins the latest release from one of the founders of England's Bovinyl label and Ninja Tune artist Animals on Wheels. A departure from the Animals on Wheels material, it is an avant-electro, plickity-plunk piano release in the vein of recent Richard James or Global Goon."

ETERNALS, THE: Where Will We Live Now 12" (THR 12.18). $6.50

"They can be raucous at their most spare and melodic at their most cluttered. Reggae, jazz and soul still reign supreme in the world of the Eternals, but it is the spaces between the genres that most intrigue the band. Rhythms are used to explore melody, tension and texture. Organ, synthesizer and vocals swirl around and stab at the songs that travel from here to other worlds. The Eternals find intensity in the most unlikely places with the most unlikely methods. From the plaintiff melodic stroll of Augustus Pablo to the aggressive rhythmic stride of the Headhunters, the Eternals travel the globe but reside in the unknown."

LITHOPS: Sequenced Twinset/Fi 12" (THR 12.19). $6.50

"Lithops is Jan from Mouse on Mars. 'Sequenced Twinset' and 'Fi' are two remastered tracks from the early Lithops period in 1995. Beautifully flowing, they leave behind the boundaries between classical music writing, sound programming, and spontaneous music improvisation. Microtonal buzzes, strained melodies, feedback hiss, digital noise events, tape tricks, and dub perversions fuse to become a hybrid lecture of freaked out subtleness. This limited 12" is filled with poetic surgery dissecting, traces of structural complexity, and compositional skill on the surface of pure music."

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Sign CD (THR 12.20 CD). $15.00

"A digital companion to the limited edition 12" released in late 2000, this CD features different versions of tracks on the 12" as well as a separate long version of 'Meteor'. In addition to that, 'Sign' features a CD-ROM cartoon by the man responsible for it's cover art, Katsura Moshino of Girlstudio fame. 'Sign' overflows with warm production and Nobukazu's ever present unique, charming playfulness and melodically effected, robotic vocals. These are unbearably delightful sounds that will have you unconsciously humming for days! 'Sign' brings to mind the electronic wizardry of some Mouse on Mars releases or Takemura's recordings under the Child's View alias."

MOUSE ON MARS: Actionist Respoke CD (THR 12.21 CD). $7.00

"The first tasty treat to be unleashed from Mouse on Mars' forthcoming 7th album, Idiology (due April 17th from Thrill Jockey), 'Actionist Respoke' marks yet another leap forward for Mouse on Mars. A head on collision of frenetic scratching, deconstructed house vocals and pulsating beats that represent MoM's darkest grooves yet. 'Actionist' is presented here in two forms. The first will also be found on Idiology and is a concise statement of purpose, letting all in earshot know that these sonic terrorists are for real; the second finds the Dusseldorf duo giving the song room to breathe, as the rhythm takes on a life of it's own. To bring it all together MoM find themselves in the studio with Herbert (aka Doctor Rockit) in a more relaxed, yet still devious mood, giving the EP a fine sense of closure. This single will be strictly limited to 2500 copies on CD only."

CONN, BOBBY: Winners CD (THR 12.23 CD). $7.50

"In a move designed to further Bobby's recent success, Thrill Jockey presents 5 interpretations of the global hit song 'Winners'. In addition to the album version, Tortoise's John McEntire turns this pop gem into a rumbling no-wave engine. Hot Detroit electro duo Adult. get the kids on the dancefloor with their 'losers mix', Mr. Pot Bear emphasizes the tune's magnificent horn arrangement and upstart Chicago techno-maven Magas strips the tune down to its raw essence. There are winners and losers, and Mr. Conn certainly falls into the former category."

MOUSE ON MARS: Agit Itter It It CD (THR 12.24 CD). $9.00

Domestic CD version of what was once "a MP3 Vinylset, complete with impregnated live-section. The hard disk-to-record-transfer is the first artefact of its kind! Includes tracks for downloading and 2 tracks, genuinely alive: 'actionist respoke' and 'introduce' (from the album Idiology). An agenda of breakdown and absurdity. Total ambiguity prevails in exploding sounds often less than milliseconds in length. Nothing is decided in the music itself but its construction as a statement: even intervals and rigid power chords arrayed in dualistic structures, keyed in through blasting tirades of resistance, display a world of madness and diversity."

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Mimic Robot 12" (THR 12.25). $8.00

"Nobukazu Takemura is one of the most innovative and prolific electronic music artists in the world, and now hot on the heels of his critically acclaimed double-CD Sign comes this very special limited edition release."

TRANS AM: Extremixxx CD (THR 12.26 CD). $9.00

"Features new remixes by Dan the Automator (Gorillaz, Handsome Boy Modeling School), Prefuse 73 (Savath and Savalas, Warp Records), John Herndon (Tortoise, Isotope 217), Dabrye (Ghostly International) and Jonathan K. A 6 track EP in which TA's abusive studio wizardry is exploited further. With an eye-catching cover and an all-star cast, Extremixxx captures the emerging sound of the electro underground and makes a fine companion to Trans Am's most accomplished work to date."

GRAY MARKET GOODS: We Live In The Future 12" (THR 12.27). $7.50

"Gray Market Goods is the new project for musician and engineer Ken Brown. Credited on many recordings through the years as 'Bundy K. Brown', Ken has been involved in a number of projects that have sewn the patchwork of American independent/underground music, over the last decade. The songs were constructed in the old school style of sampling (MPC) and feature a collection of sounds old and new. No Pro Tools, multi-tracking or other funny business were used in the construction of these songs, which lean towards a 70's Herbie Hancock-fusion vibe as seen through the eyes of DJ Shadow."

MICROSTORIA/STEREOLAB/OVAL: 12" (THR 12.6). $6.00

First of 3 collaborative 12"s, taken from the Microstoria Reprovisers CD. "Microstoria made some new tracks and sent it to Stereolab and Oval. They were to augment the tracks by playing with them. So it is not a remix, it is a piece created by the two. A-side is Microstoria/Stereolab, B-side is Microstoria/Oval."

MICROSTORIA/MOUSE ON MARS/UI: 12" (THR 12.7). $6.00

2nd in a series of 3 12"s off of Microstoria's Reprovisers CD. Collaborations with Mouse on Mars and Ui.

BROKEBACK: Looks At The Bird CD (THR 120 CD). $13.00

"Brokeback began when Douglas McCombs set out to create music in a less dense and structured environment than that of his other musical outfits at the time, Tortoise and Eleventh Dream Day. Yet contradictory to the 'loose' structure of Morse, the focus of Looks At The Bird was for more traditional arrangements. All the songs maintain a verse-chorus-verse progression along with a strong metered underpinning. The arrangements are layered with strings and keyboard elements, as well as vocals, drums and rhythm programming. Brokeback's Looks At The Bird should nestle comfortably into your record collection between those Air and Coltrane records."

BEAN, JANET: Dragging Wonder Lake CD (THR 121 CD). $13.00

Performed with the Concertina Wire. "Janet Bean has a gift for penning melodic and distinctive music. Born in Florida and coming of age in Kentucky, Ms. Bean was influenced by the regional American music she heard there, as well as the punk music of the time. A multi-instrumentalist, Janet sings as well as plays drums in Eleventh Dream Day. With Dragging Wonder Lake, Ms. Bean has created a record that speaks in an entirely new voice. This voice is more assured and open than the voices she conjured on any previous work. The album is comprised of songs that chronicle personal and allegorical elements from Bean's life. The Concertina Wire is an outstanding group of Chicago musicians. These range from well-known free improvisers Fred Lonberg-Holm and Jim Baker to veteran accompanists John Abbey, Jon Spiegel and Dan Leali."

CALIFONE: Quicksand/Cradlesnakes CD (THR 122 CD). $14.00

"Perhaps it was a year of touring, most recently with Wilco, or perhaps it is this combination of players, but the album brims with confidence. These songs are reminiscent of those written in the 70's, when blues and country blues were more prevalent influences on groups, like Fleetwood Mac or the Stones. The creative percussive touches, guitar treatments, and technical glitchery give the album it's distinct sound. The highly imaginative lyrical imagery is multi-leveled, open to more than one interpretation, Califone finds absurdity and liberation in the dark side of life, Quicksand/Cradlesnakes is rugged and elegant, dark and optimistic, familiar end entirely new. In a word it is beautiful."

CALIFONE: Quicksand/Cradlesnakes LP (THR 122 LP). $11.00

LP version.

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Assembler/Assembler 2 CD (THR 123 CD). $13.00

"Assembler is the second part of a three record explosion Nobukazu Takemura is unleashing in 2003. All three records mark two years of recording at Takemura's home studio in Kyoto, Japan and are certain to put him ahead of the pack in the electronic field. For fans of Takemura's Scope, Assembler will be a welcome release, as it moves back towards his more minimal pieces. Journalists have had a hard time hanging a specific tag onto Takemura's releases, having settled mostly on defining them as 'playful' and 'accessible' or 'challenging' and 'seminal' depending on the incarnation."

GELB, HOWE: The Listener CD (THR 124 CD). $13.00

"The Listener focuses on Howe's recent sojourn to Denmark where he lived for half of 2002 with his wife as she prepared to give birth to their second child. Being away from Tucson offered Howe an opportunity to create away from his usual supporting cast and the results are invigorating. The comfort therein of The Listener is that as the title implies it was crafted by Howe with you in mind. Instead of getting the feeling you're outside listening in, Howe brings you into the songs with him for what is easily one of his most personal records yet."

GELB, HOWE: The Listener LP (THR 124 LP). $11.00

LP version.

SEA AND CAKE, THE: Glass CD (THR 125 CD). $13.00

"Recorded shortly after completing their acclaimed One Bedroom, Glass is worlds apart. A tasty surprise for those who think they know The Sea and Cake. The final three tracks and video on Glass are songs from One Bedroom reinterpreted by Stereolab, Broadcast, Carl Craig and illustrator Richard McGuire. While the first three names will sound instantly recognizable to music fans, the last may not. Richard is the former bassist in the band, Liquid Liquid."

LONESOME ORGANIST, THE: Forms and Follies CD (THR 126 CD). $14.00

"Welcome to the wonderful world of Jeremy Jacobsen. Forms and Follies the third album by the musical phenom otherwise known as The Lonesome Organist. These songs feature The Lonesome Organist playing drums, guitar, singing, and playing keys all at once. What a feat! It was antics such as these that drew attentions of fans such as Tom Waits and David Bowie. Forms and Follies will be accompanied by a flip book so the listener at home can wallow in the splendor. A truly singular artist with a taste for the vaudevillian, The Lonesome Organist manages to reinvent himself with every release-expanding his musical forms far beyond the novelty of their delivery."

MOUSE ON MARS: Glam CD (THR 127 CD). $13.00

"Glam features fifteen densely atmospheric tracks which were initially composed as a film score for a Hollywood love and drug movie of the same name starring Tony Danza and Ali MacGraw. The music was built around the director's cut and in a parallel chain of events the music was rejected by the director and the movie was rejected by the studio, sending it straight to video. However, Glam works as an album of its own, presenting the band's most intricate and subtle compositions. The CD version of Glam comes with three bonus tracks not on the vinyl version."

TOWN AND COUNTRY: 5 CD (THR 128 CD). $13.00

"Like many of the innovators who have carved out sub genre's in music over the last few years (IDM and Post-Rock quickly spring to mind), Town and Country along with bands like Threnody Ensemble and The Rachel's have carved out a niche based around classical and modern classical composition. All of the pieces on 5 were composed prior to recording, though some entered the studio in a more complete form than others. All selections are entirely acoustic, and experimentation continues to be employed in most Town and Country compositions. There are two types of songs on 5. The first being the concise simple chamber pieces and the second being more sprawling trance pieces. The recording process is simply tour people in a room with acoustic instruments — no studio tricks, gimmicks, computers or samples — in fact no amplification at all. The band pride themselves in the ideas put forth creating music of this nature."

TOWN AND COUNTRY: 5 LP (THR 128 LP). $11.00

LP version.

SO: So CD (THR 130 CD). $14.00

"So began in 2002 with the pair of Eri and Markus Popp (Oval, Microstoria) working together as a true symmetrical duo with both members equally contributing to the songwriting and electronic processing. An absolute departure from Oval, So's debut CD is a melodic, at times soothing technological demonstration. The album began as a reworking of a song cycle from Eri's archives. These archives are comprised of a vast collection of diverse materials she recorded in her parents' house in Mito-City, Japan. The sounds represent a significant departure from the dense, abrasion of Oval's ground-breaking Commers series, and instead moves towards more airy and organic tones. The inclusion of vocals and live instrumentation allow for So's music to expand far beyond the constraints of the purely digital. So derives its momentum from an almost constant confrontation with Markus and Eri's conceptualizations and implementations of music. The actual collaborative process is more a resemblance of an 18th century naval battle than a convenient exercise in file sharing. It is fundamentally different to Oval recordings which are linear and strategic on the planning board, while So lost the compass from the beginning and is more a free project."

ELEVENTH DREAM DAY: Prairie School Freakout CD/CD-ROM (THR 131 CD). $14.00

"2003 marks the 20th Anniversary of Eleventh Dream Day (EDD) and the 15th Anniversary of this ground breaking album. Prairie School Freakout is considered by many their landmark album, and one of the great rock records to come out of the Chicagoland and midwest music scene. Doug McCombs is now a member of Tortoise and is one-half of the duo Brokeback. Included is the hard to find Wayne EP, extensive liner notes by Byron Coley, deluxe fold out booklet and a bonus CDROM with live footage."

LITHOPS: Script CD (THR 132 CD). $13.00

"Lithops is the solo outlet of Jan St. Werner from the Cologne based Mouse on Mars. Script begins by extending its relentless sound to more consistent — yet bizarre — sound configurations and even greater compositional extremity. Script creates a roadmap along which the music evolves towards structured examples of a multi-linear paradigm. The route itself runs in parallel within the music; every scriptable motion is matched by a layered counterpoint across the duration of the pieces. Minute edits of off-time slamming grain sounds, feedback tips, guitar bursts and bass flange accelerations conspire with harmonic distortions, burbling forth melodic eccentricities and sudden harmonic changes, occasionally introducing brass arrangements. Blast-punctured streams of organ chord changes spell out melodies, while sub-style attacking bass concludes and infects the structure of the tracks. Drums are intercut to create shuddering explosions of precise deconstruction. Each piece has its own circuit board floor plan, allowing a high degree of listenability. Lithops' lowed down grind core improv derivatives spit out non linear rhythm ms, immediately unravelling the predictability of the usual speed metal and free jazz exercises with which they might be compared."

BYRNE, DAVID: Lead Us Not Into Temptation CD (THR 133 CD). $13.50

"Lead Us Not Into Temptation is the soundtrack to the film Young Adam, and features original compositions by David Byrne. David was contacted by the team of Hercules and Jeremy (Recorded Picture Company) about scoring the soundtrack to their adaptation of the 1954 novel by Scottish beat writer Alex Trocchi. Instead of using NY or London players, David decided to travel to Scotland to record, assembling a group of musicians from Glasgow in particular. His hope was that the score might then capture the weird tentative vibe that seemed to be emanating from a town that was simultaneously in the midst of a cultural revival and 'drinking to throw up' imbibing. In mixing came the realization that the background sounds of the film were in many cases, an extension of the ambient sounds the band were trying replicate. A seamless interpretation of music and film. In many ways the perfect soundtrack. As so often is the case, much of the music is not actually heard on the film, so this record represents another film, one with even less dialogue and a lot more music."

BYRNE, DAVID: Lead Us Not Into Temptation LP (THR 133 LP). $11.00

LP version.

MOUSE ON MARS: Radical Connector CD (THR 134CD). $14.00

"Mouse On Mars' unique way of creating music demonstrates that intelligence and playfulness are not mutually exclusive terms. Their music is both challenging and funny — complexly layered yet with a simple driving beat. Mouse On Mars has a unique vision and a unique way of expressing this vision, resulting in an unmistakable sound which functions on a universal level and makes people move their minds and their bodies. In a musical genre not noted for longevity, Mouse On Mars has not only found their own distinctive voice, but have remained a force of imaginative innovations for a decade. The new album Radical Connector includes nine new tracks which took Jan and Andi three years to write and produce in their famous St. Martin studio in Düsseldorf. Long-time musical collaborator Dada Nkishi was part of the recording team once again, and the album features both his drumming and his strangely recorded vocals."

MOUSE ON MARS: Radical Connector LP (THR 134LP). $12.00

LP version.

CALIFONE: Heron King Blues CD (THR 135 CD). $13.00

"For this recording the band set out to make a record like Captain Beefheart's Mirror Man, entering the studio with a blank canvas and laying things down quickly. The resulting songs combine the bands more pop-oriented qualities alongside their more spaced out ethereal thoughts; these most often found on their Deceleration releases available on the bands own label, Perishable. The resulting sessions led to songs that were improvised or written immediately before recording, and within days a series of raw, live recordings had been completed. From there the initial recordings were chopped up, mixed around, and reassembled into the final product: a beautifully lush and patient masterpiece."

CHICAGO UNDERGROUND TRIO: Slon CD (THR 136 CD). $14.00

"Slon features Rob Mazurek on cornet and laptop, Noel Kupersmith on bass and laptop, and Chad Taylor on drums. The record, a mixture of acoustic, electronic, and electro-acoustic music. Like many Jazz records which were crafted as reaction to civil and political injustices taking place in the world, Slon is an anti-war record. The war on Iraq started a couple of days into the tour and it had a profound influence on the group and their music."

CONN, BOBBY: The Homeland CD (THR 137 CD). $13.00

"Bobby Conn is back this time with a vengeance. The Homeland is first and foremost a rock record. Clad in glam attire, Mr. Conn, a consummate entertainer, pays homage to rock and roll's excesses. Paradoxically Mr. Conn's lyrics read like a Michael Moore letter. Lampooning the sacred cow of American values has always been a calling card of Mr. Conn. The Homeland continues Bobby's long running commentary on consumerism as culture."

CONN, BOBBY: The Homeland LP (THR 137 LP). $13.00

LP version, gatefold sleeve.

BAND OF BLACKY RANCHETTE, THE: Still Lookin Good To Me CD (THR 138 CD). $14.00

"The first Band of Blacky Ranchette album was released back in 1983, and was a product of Howe Gelb (Giant Sand) and Rainer Ptacek. Like the X offshoot, The Knitters, BBR began as an outgrowth of Howe and Rainer wanting to explore and play music of a country and western vibe. By christening themselves BBR, they gave themselves a forum to try new ideas, embrace other styles of music and invite other folks to join in and collaborate. While the memories of BBR seemed distant to Howe, it was never far from his mind. Recently he found himself collaborating with a number of various musicians, so late last year he began sowing the seeds for a new BBR record. Wrangling together a host of A list collaborators Howe recorded whenever and wherever possible: Kurt from Lambchop, Neko Case, M Ward, and Chan Marshall."

BAND OF BLACKY RANCHETTE, THE: Still Lookin Good To Me LP (THR 138 LP). $11.00

LP version.

ANDERSON & HAMID DRAKE, FRED: Back Together Again 2CD (THR 139CD). $14.00

"Sometimes the most obvious projects — the ones that are sure to work — are the ones that keep getting put off. Worst case scenario: they never happen. The notion of recording tenor saxophonist Fred Anderson and drummer Hamid Drake as a duo is something that has been kicked around for years, simply because they play so beautifully together. And of course they've recorded together many times, particularly in recent years, releasing CDs on Okka Disk, Eremit, Delmark, and elsewhere. But always in the company of others. The Anderson-Drake relationship always provides a nucleus for those ensembles. Here, then, for the first time, are Fred Anderson and Hamid Drake: pure, unadulterated nucleus."

STICKS AND STONES: Shed Grace CD (THR 140CD). $13.00

"Jazz trio Sticks and Stones formed years ago when drummer Chad Taylor, bassist Josh Abrams and alto saxophonist Matana Roberts met each other at a performance space in Chicago. Their second and newest release, Shed Grace, is their first on Thrill Jockey. It was recorded at Semaphore Studios with Ken B. Brown (Directions in Music, Tortoise, Pullman). Shed Grace is largely original compositions (songwriting split equally among the three). The eclectic selection of covers includes songs by Fela Kuti, Thelonious Monk, and Billy Strayhorn."

TRAPIST: Ballroom CD (THR 141 CD). $13.00

"Trapist is the Vienna based trio comprised of Joe Williamson on bass, Martin Siewart on guitar and Martin Brandlmayr on drums. The band recorded the basic tracks for Ballroom in one day, once again relying on improvisation for the direction of the songs. Trapist then brought the recording into their home studio where they overdubbed and drastically edited the resulting record. Using a variety of instruments including the vibraphone, a collection of synthesizers and modulators, as well as a few software-based treatments, the band gave even more life to their improvised recordings. Together the members of Trapist are a group of experienced improvisers who collectively like to explore and question familiar surroundings and contexts for both art and music. Thinking not only of melody and emotional elements in music, Trapist look additionally at structures and forms."

TRANS AM: Liberation CD (THR 144 CD). $13.00

"Liberation is their new record (7th overall) and the first album on which politics have crept into their music. Their position is unambiguous. Recorded in summer and fall of 2003 at the band's own National Recording Studio, Liberation reflects the tension coursing through the city. While New York's skyline is the most radically altered in the past three years, life in Washington is palpably different as well since 9/11. The hum of swirling helicopters, the din of police sirens, and a culture of fear have become omnipresent in Washington DC. Musically Liberation is classic Trans Am. Styles continue to shift from track to track, culling from vocabulary familiar to fans of their previous 6th records."

TRANS AM: Liberation LP (THR 144 LP). $11.00

LP version.

MARTIN, JIMMY: Don't Cry To Me CD (THR 145CD). $14.00

"Don't Cry To Me is the companion release to the film The King of Bluegrass, both of which chronicle the life and times of Bluegrass pioneer Jimmy Martin. The film tells the story of Jimmy's lifelong quest to reach his dream in becoming a member of the Grand Ole Opry. Known for his flamboyant dress, crazed hunting trips, and brash behavior, Martin is the rebel figure of bluegrass music. Culled from a variety of sources, both old and new, these recordings showcase the amazing talents of a man who once served as lead singer and guitarist for Bill Monroe's Blue Grass Boys, and helped in developing the 'High Lonesome Sound' that is so widely regarded today."

MARTIN, JIMMY: Don't Cry To Me LP (THR 145LP). $11.00

LP version.

RADIAN: Juxtaposition CD (THR 147CD). $13.00

"The bulk of preparation for both the electronica and standard instrumentation on Juxtaposition took place in Radian's Vienna studio. The band first collected and created sounds of different sources — mostly instruments like drums, bass, guitar vibraphone, and marimbaphone. They then recorded these instruments in unusual ways, like 'micorecording' the sound sources through synthesizer patches. Next Radian carefully arranged these electronics to work within their performances on live instruments of drums, bass and synthesizers. Finally Radian brought their complete electronic arrangement to Chicago's Soma studios where John McEntire recorded the drums and bass. These parts were added to the electronics according to Radian's arrangements. A painstaking and time consuming process, but one that offers the listener many rewards."

RADIAN: Juxtaposition LP (THR 147LP). $12.00
LP version.

THRILLBEATCONSTRUCTION (GERMANY):

MACHISTE VS. THE ISOLATIONS: We Save The Musical Landscape 12" (TBC 003). $9.00

"The 1st track by the Isolations has been influenced by the heroes of new romantic wave electronic like 'Ultravox, Human League' but with his own flavour! Machiste's reinterpretation of this track is pure electro-pop with a beautiful sounding voice. The b-side starts with a track of Machiste, with great rhythms & fantastic melodies. His own way of electro, maybe a little bit influenced by Kraftwerk. Finally Mr Skanfrom provides an electro-vocoder minimal-wave rmx of Machiste and honestly this looks pretty much like a Skanfrom-Machiste rmx swap 12" to me."

MACHISTE: Reale La Vita Cu Rmx's 12" (TBC 005). $11.00

5 track EP, w/ remixes by: Isan (UK), Herrmann & Kleine (D), Skanfrom (D), and Pandem (D). "Sound: we don't have to use lots of words about Machiste do we? Being one half of Beefcake he also released the EP Machiste vs. The Isolations and his debut-album The Italian Stallion last year with pretty good responses. He gave his musical entrance with his track on the TBC 001 compilation and this title now is the working basis of this record. The original track was already considered as killer-electro in the likes of Bochum Welt."

KRIS TALL WITH BEEFCAKE AND ROBAG WRUHEME: Cellular Electrique/The Mosaic LP (TBC 007LP). $15.00

The band Kris Tall are testing their listeners since years with their livesound and concerts. During the show instruments (xylophone, synthesizer, guitar, accordion, bass, organ, lap steel...) are getting passed from hand to hand while homemade videos are to be seen in the foreground or the background. The result is not really a remix, but a completely new, independent creation. In only 21 minutes you become part of a sort of cinema inferno. The movie starts creeping with soundscapes dressed in a guitar/electronic gown. Within the first part a voice peels slowly out of the marsh full of electronic dynamics. The rhythm only lingers a brief time in order to submerge again into the depths of a soundworld made of guitars/feedback/electronic and noises. In the meantime you get a taste of fascinating rhythm/beat and sound compositions until the harmonious finale of this movie ends induced by 'Lord Tension' with an easing, delicate and delightful Robag Wruhme interpretation. This record is our definition of electronic/guitar music."

THROW:

VA: The Mad Circus EP 12" (THO 1003). $6.00

Three track EP featuring The Detroit Grand Pu-Bahs ('this techno funk future classic slaps an irresistible vocal line on top of a solid bounding groove'), Run/Stop/Restore ('an 8-bit lounge-core remake of the Doors classic 'Light My Fire'. Equal parts Switched-On Bach and Jean Jacques Perry, this version twists the original's organ riffs with stiff, Mac-Speech vocals, even including some of Jim Morrison's free verse in the break') and Mas 2008 ('classic Detroit electro sound, influenced by first and second wave producers like Juan Atkins and Keith Tucker')."

THULE (ICELAND):

MUM: Mum Remixed 12" (THULE 003). $9.00

"Remix EP from Iceland's Mum. Recently signed to Fat Cat after Tugboat licensed their album for the UK, all the signs are that the band will emulate the success of fellow countrymen Sigur Ros. This 4 track EP features remixes of 'Smell Memory' by Bix and Traktor, a 'straight mix' and 'fucked mix' of 'Ballad of Broken Birdie and a Number of Small Things' by Uziq."

KANADA: Kanada CD (THULE 005CD). $16.00

"Bonkers album from Iceland's legendary Kanada. A bizarre mixture of cocktail/lounge, electronic, rockabilly and punk. Hook-laden, organ-driven, Beat Generation brand of instrumental pop somewhere between Stingray meets Devo, you will also find elements of Mexican brass, carnival music, garage, Polynesian easy listening, Spaghetti Western, art school experimentation, jazz, even Gamelan. All this and animal noises too."

TRABANT: Enter Spacebar Remixes CD (THULE 006CD). $9.00

"Iceland's Trabant bring some cheer to the post Christmas bitterness of winter with the sound of funkadelic jamming with the mad android from Logan's Run. Submarine plinks. Broken machinery. Sci-fi theramins and digital glitches disguised as perfect pop. 'Lady Elephant' meanwhile is saxomatic electronic kitsch. Brilliant! Available on 2 track 12" and CD single featuring remixes by Q Burns Abstract Message (Astralwerks), Bodenstandig 2000 (Rephlex), Thor (Thule), ILO (Uni:form)."

TRABANT: Enter Spacebar 12" (THULE 006EP). $9.00
12" version.

TRABANT: Moment Of Truth CD (THULE 008CD). $12.00

"After a long period of isolation inside a room full of computers, cigarettes, coffee and cute girls, the Trabant boys have brewed an addictive home potion of their own consisting of clever as well as inspired compositions. Being collectors of strange/broken/old instruments and electronic toys, Trabant's music is dynamic in texture and rich with colorful sounds deriving from everything between a hammer and a fly. A growling, animal-like bass comes together with vocals and raw beats; silly sounds with beautiful organ drones; midi saxophone, electric, harmonium and electric guitars but above all brilliant programming full of inimitable Trabant character and inventive twists. The result is an energetic album that is both engaging and continually interesting in every aspect due to its finely tuned clash of minute attention to detail and charming roughness. 'It's a blend of robot technology and what we humans still have to offer to music,' explain the Trabant boys themselves. The members of Trabant have been working together in one way or other for the past nine years in various bands within the Reykjavik music scene, such as Quarashi, Unun, Apparat Organ Quartet, Slowblow, The Funerals, Kvartett O Jonson og Grjoni, and Kanada."

SOFANDI: Ugly Demos CD (THULE 009CD). $13.00

"Sofandi was established four years ago on a parking lot somewhere in Reykjavik. During the first year we mostly played for ourselves. We weren't working on anything special except this one song we called 'Sleeping Beauty' — which ended up being a 30 minute long symphony consisting of all kinds of strange moods that completely kept us poisoned for god knows how long. In fact we can't remember much from that period but eventually we came to our senses and decided to buy a light bulb and do something more optimistic. The music on Ugly Demos is gloomy and violent with a touch of jazz and blues and goes great with duck. We call it Splitrock."

VA: Mini:Malt CD (THULE 014CD). $15.00

"After the great success of Thule Record's 1st compilation release Fishcake, the Icelandic minimal techno label Thule Records continues its journey with it's second compilation release Mini:malt. This CD features 10 great soothing minimal techno tracks by artists like Thor, Torul V, Ohm, Exos & Ozy all of which are already well known for their previous releases on Thule Records as well as other labels such as Force Inc., Planet Vision, Mosaic, Tissju, Reload, Elektrolux, Æ recordings and many, many others. This is a brilliant CD for the whole family."

TORUL V: Ivollist CD (THULE 016CD). $15.00

"Thule Records proudly presents a brilliant album (CD only) by mastermind Torul V, from Ljubljana, the capital of Slovenia. It's an excellent collection of his 12" releases on Thule Records and its sister label Tissju, mixed flawlessly by one of Iceland's best DJs, DJ Reynir. Torul V is certainly no stranger to the world of techno, after releasing several records, under various monikers and on labels like Force Inc. and Tissju. His tracks are shuffled to the max, making it extra groovy minimal techno like no other. His minimal and hypnotic melodies make people move and groove on the dancefloor and the rhythm section is so tight that you barely can breathe."

OZY: Gray Area (51) CD (THULE 019CD). $15.00

"Real name Örnólfur Thorlacius. Ozy is no stranger to the game of techno as he is one of the original members of the critically acclaimed Thule Records, Iceland's premium techno label. Known to many as Ozy before, he changed his name into Ozy and started emphasizing on producing minimal techno, heavily influenced by drum&bass and breakbeat music. The outcome is a fresh, new take on techno, whether it's ambient, house, dub or hip hop."

MUM: The Ballad Of The Broken Birdie Records 12" (THULE 1201). $8.00

"UK release of the awesome Mum Broken Birdie EP. Tipped along with fellow Icelanders Sigur Ros to be a huge leftfield act in 2001." Five track EP with 4 remixes (by Ruxpin, Ile, & Biegen).

TIGERBEAT6 RECORDS:

KID 606: Kid 606 and Friends, Vol. 1 CD (MEOW 001). $14.00

Repressed. "The first release on Kid 606's Tigerbeat 6 label, Kid 606 and Friends, Vol. 1 is the first in a two part series of full length CDs featuring remixes and collaborations with a variety of some of the greatest underground electronic luminaries. Features: Matmos, Hrvatski, Twisted Science, Christoph De Babalon, Jake Mandell, Solvent, Max Tundra, Chessie, Electric Company, Lexanculpt, The Sinking Body, Marumari, Underwood, Vomit Lunch, Miss Kick Cex along with NY modrockers The Rapture, and super prolific Japanese noise hero Aube."

VA: Good Night 2CD (MEOW 006 CD). $15.50

"Originally intended to be the fifth Tigerbeat6 release, this compilation has been completed after more than three years. The compositions were created to induce trances, removed states of mind, and sleep." Artists include: Kid606, Stephan Mathieu, Kurt Ralske, Electric Company, Kurt Ralske, Pimmon, Tim Hecker, Main Cede, Oren Ambarchi.

KID 606: GQ On The EQ++ CD (MEOW 008). $14.00

New jewel case edition. "A handsomely packaged collection of rare, out of print and unreleased Kid 606 material, remastered to take advantage of all that crystal clear CD quality sound. All seamlessly pieced together in chronological order to create an album that lies somewhere between the alarmingly well received Soccergirl EP and the more downbeat and somber moments of his lpeacac full length Down With The Scene. The perfect stocking stuffer for any electronic music fan without a turntable or too impatient to wait for the next Kid 606 full length (hehe, now that's a scary thought!). Includes the full GQ on the EQ 10" along with two unreleased tracks from the GQ on the EQ sessions, the Kid606 side of the Kid 606/Lesser European tour 7", the Kid 606/Remote Viewer Japanese tour picture disc and much more..."

LESSER: LSR MP3CDR 1990 2000 CDROM/MP3 (MEOW 009). $14.00

"We could fill pages retelling the story of Lesser, one of the most engaging, genre-defying, jawdropping artists to emerge from San Diego's vaulted alt.rock scene in the 1990s, and the touring third member of pop's premiere experimentalists MATMOS. But why waste your time, when all that history (and much more) is yours for the taking on this unique mp3cdrom, presenting twelve hours of music recorded over the first ten years of Lesser, for the one low price of a regular cd! Literally, everything is here, from the overwrought 'I Hate Me' debut (which originally included tabs of homemade acid), through the collaborations and tributes to fellow bottomfeeders of the San Diego scene (such as A Minor Forest, Titwrench, Powerdresser, Optiganally Yours, and Rob Crow of Heavy Vegetable/Thingy), through the proto drum n' bass of the both critically acclaimed and confused 'Excommunicate the Cult of the Live Band' and 'Welcome to the American Experience,' to the years with Kid606, plus a bunch of cassette-only, compilation, remix, and unreleased tracks that would otherwise have faded into obscurity or moldered beneath the socks in Lesser's closet." [this release requires the use of an MP3 enabled CD player or computer]

VA: Tigerbeat6 Inc. Limited Edition Advance 12" 12" (MEOW 010). $7.50

"A limited edition 12" featuring 5 tracks from the Tigerbeat6 Inc. compilation as well as an exclusive new Kid606 track. Track listing : 1. Kid606 - youjustdontunderstand 2. D84 - rocket-ship 3. Dwayne Sodahberk - nu.maschine 4. com.a - hallucinatio acid lobot 5. Nutnhoney - eskimokisses 6. Kid606 - break22 7. Kevinblectum - klardiscopic remedy 8. Fossil - kick'SC. Limited to 600 copies worldwide."

ELECTRIC COMPANY: 62-56 CD (MEOW 019). $11.00

"The uncompromising follow up to his recent tour de force full length Slow Food on Muziq's Planet-Mu label, this EP by ex Medicine frontman Brad Laner is one of the most inspired and worthy releases Tigerbeat6 has ever released, we are not to humble to say that Brad has created something amazing and fresh with 62-56, a merging of such interesting and unexpected styles and performances that you can't help but listen to it over and over again. Includes a 15 minute improvised musical collaboration between Electric Company, Kid 606, Lesser and Blectum From Blechdom recorded live at the lab of happy dreams after a concert in Los Angeles. Not to be missed by fans of Mouse On Mars, This Heat, Dat Politics, Mike Ink, Kid606, Vladislav Delay or Can."

LESSER: Mensa Dance Squad CD (MEOW 020). $14.00

"Super crazy and wildly funky new EP from San Francisco's favorite drum and bass/broken hiphop glitchmeister Lesser, the musician responsible for such confrontational and controversial releases like Welcome to the American Experience and Excommunicate the Cult of the Live Band. Much more beaty and flowing than his recent Matador records full length debut Gearhound this EP truly covers the gamut of the best of what Lesser is capable of, a overachieving concept record against the current trend of supposedly 'intelligent' dance music, Mensa Dance Squad shakes yr ass back into detention with bpm's faster than yr average intelligent dance musician's SAT scores and some of the most hyper and inventively programmed 'unin-telligent' dance music you'll ever hear along with a 9 minute slamming dancehall inspired ragga jungle technogabber remix by Kid606 to finish you off in style."

STARS AS EYES: Freedom Rock CD (MEOW 026). $14.00

"Debut full length by longtime Tigerbeat6 cohorts from Rhode Island, Stars As Eyes is Steve Ferrari and Craig Four Two. Steve Ferrari is best known for his coproduction work with Kid 606 on tracks on Down With The Scene and GO on the EQ. Three years in the making and drawing from a very wide range of influences from Krautrock, hip-hop, IDM, punk, emo, electro and beyond. Beautiful melodies combined with thoughtful song structures and almost lyrical rhythms, with so much more involved than today's current crop of electronica underachievers. Stars as Eyes utilise a calculated mix of old keyboards, organs, guitars, old effects pedals, live drums and even saxophone along with today's most useful computer and modular dsp synthesis techniques and hard disk recording without ever overcomplicating things or losing touch with the rock and roll spirit they insist on flaunting in a time when most electronic musicians are too busy worrying about how much ram they have rather than how much soul their music does."

ELECTRIC COMPANY: Greatest Hits CD (MEOW 032). $14.00

"From the mind of Brad Laner (Medicine, Savage Republic, Personal Electronics) we bring you Electric Company's Greatest Hits. No, not a collection of singles people all want on one CD but a remix album of the highest quality: 18 tracks of inspired remixes and collaborations of the chosen musician's favorite Electric Company songs. Trying to reach a different musical peak through the much maligned 'remix,' this album succeeds on constantly challenging the notion of a remix as mere namedropping or opportunistic genre-crossing, instead delivering truly inspired artistic transformation through sonically predirected reconstructions. Much like the collaboration between writer and director in films, where the writer provides the plot and sonic characters, the remixers provide their technique and style, using Electric Company's provided ingredients to create something they couldn't create otherwise." Remixes by: Kid606, Geoff White, Leafcutter John, Mu-Ziq, Blectum From Blechdom, Jasper, Lexaunculpit, Pimmon, Phthalocyanine, Tom Recchion, Electric Company, Kim Cascone, Frank Bretschneider.

KID 606: Why I Love Life 3" CD (MEOW 035). $7.50

"A collection of moody, predominantly treated guitar and synth-heavy work recorded between 1997 and the present, this seven-song EP is a snapshot of the Kid sampling his own musical history, picking pieces out of 100+ unreleased and unfinished songs. Given his prolific output over the past three years, fans and newcomers alike will appreciate this highly personal collection of thoughtful instrumentals centered around family, best friends, ex-girlfriends and avoidance of stagnation. Still completely fresh sounding, even for intimately familiar with Kid606's oeuvre."

STARS AS EYES: Important Youth Movement 7" (MEOW 037). $6.00

"Three years in the making and drawing from a very wide range of influences from krautrock, hip-hop, idm, punk, emo, electro and beyond. Beautiful melodies combined with thoughtful song structures and almost lyrical rhythms, with so much more involved than today's current crop of electronica underachievers. Stars as Eyes utilise a calculated mix of old keyboards, organs, guitars, old effects pedals, live drums and even saxophone along with today's most useful computer and modular dsp synthesis techniques and hard disk recording without ever overcomplicating things or losing touch with the rock and roll spirit they insist on flaunting in a time when most electronic musicians are too busy worrying about how much ram they have rather than how much soul their music does."

VA: Wrong Application CD (MEOW 039). $11.00

"Assembled by A. Nosnitsky for Ostian Mele Productions, this release finally sees the light of day with Tigerbeat6. Features tracks from regular Tigerbeat6 artists Pimmon, Electric Company, Lesser, Phthalocyanine, Kid606, with tracks from No Human Intervention, Farmers Manual, Blitter, Underwood, Suetsu, Blitter, and Viratone Ballad, conjoined by anonymous bits of feedback and astrally projected noise. Quick jumps from golden trebles to space dust create rhythms where no bass exists to link them. The result is music that's architectural rather than melodic, with listeners left to graph shifts in pitch and leaps in rhythm by moving their arms and legs. Compulsively danceable (or at least head-nodder), always surprising even though its many artists maintain a consistent tone, this compilation unlocks the soundtrack in your mind, as the mothership passes and leaves you bobbing in its wake. This fusion of noise with pristine, ear-popping minimalism represents an expansion and redefinition of the Tigerbeat6 fam."

KID606 VS. DALEK: Ruin It CD (MEOW 040 CD). $7.00

"A collaboration between Kid606 and celebrated New Jersey hip-hop trio Dalek, known for their constant touring, highly gifted lyricism, stream-of-consciousness rhyming, forward-thinking, bomb-squad rhythms, and Big Black-inspired clusters of noise. Alternately moving between languid arrangements reminiscent of vintage Amiri Baraka fronting free jazz ensembles to synth-driven glitch hop and Chain-Reaction-meets-digital-hardcore, Kid606's contributions evoke a sense of darkness and confrontation (in place of his customary in-your-face rhythmic assaults or clouds of blissful ambience)."

KID606 VS. DALEK: Ruin It 12" (MEOW 040 EP). $7.50

12" vinyl version.

MERZBOW/KOUHEI MATSUNAGA: CD (MEOW 041). $12.00

"Akita has been a regular guest on Kouhei Matsunaga's projects, since his well-regarded releases on Mille-Plateaux in the late 90s. Noted for 'a bashful take on noise, as opposed to the usual swagger prevalent in the genre,' Matsunaga's cut-ups and textural soundscapes have been hailed for occupying a point between experimental electronic noise and minimalism. Not only are Matsunaga's tracks a compelling introduction to a unique artist, but they shed light on the chain of influence Merzbow exerts on the electronic world, as Akita supplies us with three characteristically abrasive tracks that almost resolve into songs, pulling listeners into their effort to find deeper sonic orders. Eggheads will love Akita's remix of Olivier Messiaen's 'Mode de Valeurs et D'Intensite Pour Piano.' The beats are more block-rockin' than usual, but the bass is transformed into a mutable force, discharging bolts of sound processed beyond recognizability like an electronic cloud. Sounds Akita roughens up, Matsunaga leaves clean, and the result is a CD that polarizes the esoteric ranges of noise, even as it unlocks new possibilities for their construction. This title has an instant appeal to the avant-garde and surprisingly, some of its detractors."

KID606/ASCDI/PRINTED CIRCUIT: "Money" VOL.8 7" (MEOW 043). $5.00

"Yes, one more very good split 7" by three very cool artists."

DJ RUPTURE: Minesweeper Suite CD (MEOW 045). $14.00

"On Minesweeper Suite, DJ Rupture tears some of hip-hop's most familiar battle breaks into arguments that reconstruct 'the missing links between dead prez and Middle Eastern dub selector Muslimgaue,' as Vibe described his mission. Mahmoud Fadi, Aphasix, Disc, Cul De Sac, Rotator, Cex, Gregory Whitehead, Kid606, J-Boogie, Dat Politics, Borbetomagus, DJ Scud, So Takahashi and Donna Summer all find a home in DJ Rupture's realm, where squalls of noise and dub concrete are the sand in his mixer, scouring away the listener's previous associations with music they thought they knew, forcing them to confront cultural differences in a manner that neither essentializes nor orientalizes but honors them within a deeply rooted, humanistic vision. Minesweeper Suite extends DJ Rupture's mission of dissolving the boundaries between artistic genres and scenes and the result is post-colonial, post-apocalyptic work that the world needs now more than ever."

MICHEL, NATHAN: ABC DEF CD (MEOW 046). $14.00

"Continuing the tradition of classically trained musicians forsaking their Ph.D.s for the more immediate inspiration of free electronic music and laptronica, Tigerbeat6 brings you the pure and vibrantly enjoyable songs of Nathan Michel, a mix of twangy guitars and simple little bleep-beats, lush organ chords, squeaky toys, catchy melodies and sweet nothings — all performed, assembled, disassembled and reassembled into zig-zag structures, beats and hooks that give new meaning to the words 'lo-fi.' Trapped in the hallowed and isolated halls of East Coast academe (hey, Yale and Princeton, what's up?) Michel looks for inspiration in the work Captain Beefheart, DAT Politics, the Akan people of Ghana, Scratch Pet Land, Steely Dan, Igor Stravinsky, Thelonius Monk, Conlon Nancarrow, Kid606, Nobukazu Takemura, Josquin des Prez, Christian Fennesz, J.S. Bach, Kraftwerk, John Coltrane, Oval and many others."

ERASE ERRATA/NUMBERS: Split 3" CD 3" CD (MEOW 047). $6.50

"Numbers and Erase Errata have already proven themselves essential to the new school of rock with their deft cross-breeding of the best elements of no-wave, punk, and disco to create brilliant ass-shaking hybrid songs. This release brings you these two purveyors of punk alchemy in their finest form. The four women who comprise Erase Errata started playing together in 1999. Think Au Pairs, Fall, or The Slits on a date with The Contortions and you're just starting to get it. If this record was a race between two machines, Erase Errata would be an artfully jury-rigged go-kart and Numbers would be the robot craftily constructed out of left-over buzzers, re-wired circuits and obsolete industrial parts. The mechanics of these propulsive, beat collaging, manic songs have surely hailed comparisons to Units, Melt-Banana, and Chrome before, but really, it's a sound all its own."

NUMBERS: Numbers Life LP (MEOW 048 LP). $11.00

LP version. "Coming straight outta the superhot San Francisco underground, Numbers debut record gets hipsters smiling (smirking?) and asses shaking. This trio has been whipping live audiences into a frenzy since the summer of 2000. Lyrics about work, the proliferation of technology, consumerism, and elitist attitudes all go hand-in-hand with Numbers' egalitarian vision — undoing late-capitalist suburbia with some much-needed rumpus."

KNIFEHANDCHOP: TKO From Tokyo 12" (MEOW 049). $8.00

"The no holds barred follow up to Knifehandchop's acclaimed Tigerbeat6 debut ep respect to all the haters comes with three new tracks plus remixes by kid606, venetian snares, Joseph nothing, noise creator. Moving effortlessly from classic gabba to gangsta to ragamuffin and e-fueled raver jams, TKO from Tokyo serves up eight dizzyingly fast anthems whose stylistic syntheses are guaranteed to make your head spin. Knifehandchop (aka 20-year-old Toronto native Billy Pollard) is guaranteed a place at the table of notoriety as one of Canada's top producers — especially for his cutting up, looping and sequencing over determined motor rhythms of the vocals of Jamaican dancehall legend Bounty Killer."

LESSER/VARIOUS: Tigerbeat6 C64 Massive SIDplay Mix CD (MEOW 051). $7.00

"The Sound Interface Device 6581 chip (aka SID) was developed for the Commodore 64 in 1981 by Robert Yannes and its three tone oscillators (plus limited sampling) were responsible for some of the most memorable video game music of the '80s. But what most of us don't know is that lurking just beneath the world of video game music, a network of underground producers began composing dance tracks for the SID chip. Committed to pushing the SID 6581 to its limits, these producers made extreme and extremely catchy electro, drum'n'bass, and some twisted kind of gabber, all forever committed to 8-bits. The tracks on this compilation range from classy electro-pop to hilarious cover versions of '80s and '90s favorites to full-out knuckle-dragging, head-banging Lode Runner-core. This nearly hour-long SID Party Massive, continuously mixed by DJ Brotha P Touch (aka longtime sonic terrorist Lesser), delivers a home-computed punches to the groin and the funny bone, while serving as both a history of the do-it-yourself-ness of electronic music and the future of dancing your ass off."

KID606/STARS AS EYES: Money Vol. 9 7" (MEOW 052). $5.00

"Provider of techno dub ambience and electronica subtle and serene, Kid606 juxtaposes satanic mid-'90s thrash metal and futurist, dirty south funksploration of the most mainstream ilk. Ghetto miscreants Stars as Eyes are two youths rooted permanently in traumatic adolescence. This duo invokes the overly melodic spirit of early IDM innovators Black Dog and Autechre in their tumultuous grit-hop dissertation about the hard-knocks life of a hustler."

PIMMON: Snaps*Crackles*Pops CD (MEOW 053 CD). $14.00

"*Snaps*Crackles*Pops* is a refreshing take on the idea of pop music by highly acclaimed Australian electronic/ambient musician Pimmon. The elements and original vision of what people have come to love in Pimmon's music — as well as obvious rhythms, melodies and song structures — are at the core of an otherwise experimental framework. Overall the tracks reflect an emotional rollercoaster ride from exhilaration to frustration, melancholy and anger. It's very much a personal journey, using an idiosyncratic definition of the term 'pop music' — joyously melodic and catchy, but also chaotic. Similar to Eno's ambient work, Fennesz's Endless Summer or Mike Ink's Gas albums, *Snaps*Crackles*Pops* unites the freedom of early prog rock with the likes of Flying Saucer Attack, AMM, Amon Düül, Christian Marclay and Sonic Boom's E.A.R. Pimmon manipulates old vinyl records, tapes found at thrift shops, and his young children letting loose on a Korg MS20 synthesizer. He mixes up things with a variety of unconventional sound sources, and gets so lost in file manipulation and mixing that when the final product is complete, there is little recollection as to how it all came together. Talk about a trademark of quality."

VA: Return Of The Fight Club 12" (MEOW 054). $7.50

"The slam-bam action-packed sequel to last year's 'Fight Club' 12" raises the stakes with tougher rivals, higher stakes and no mercy. Vinyl-only compilation of new and exclusive tracks." Artists included: Lesser vs. Venetian Snares, Nudge vs. Casino versus Japan, Fanny vs. DJ Paedofile, CB4 vs. Kid606, Knifehandchop vs. 0=0, and Kid606 vs. Dat Politics.

WOBBLY: Wild Why CD (MEOW 055). $14.00

"Drawing inspiration from John Oswald's classic acts of sonic appropriation, Wobbly responds to an increasingly corporate radio landscape by personalizing the popular. Sidestepping the info-glut, Wobbly gets jiggy with a jigsaw, hurls house anthems down the stairs, and commits acts of cut-and-paste ventriloquism that are creepily accurate and hilarious. As stand-alone blasts or as an extended composition, Wild Why has the structural rigor of New Music from the academy and the sue-me bravado of label-male Kid 606. Executed with a strong sense of humor and without a laptop in sight, Wild Why is a brilliantly ambitious guerilla strike on popular music. Sounding like every hip hop battle record ever made playing angrily at once, Wild Why pummels the unwary listener with a Niagara Falls of sonic information. Several thousand hours of raw audio were gathered from corporate hip hop radio stations in the San Francisco Bay Area, digested and broken down to micro-samples of their constituent kits, gasps, and stabs. Wobblingly has created the plunderphonic bastard child of Grandmaster Flash and Charles Ives, the result of three years of painstaking downtime with the sampler. The relentless cut-up frenzy on Wild Why has been edited down to the nanosecond with speed-freak precision."

GOLD CHAINS: Straight From Your Radio CD (MEOW 056 CD). $9.00

"Gold Chains is a crooner, a modern day Ian Curtis or Scott Walker. His music is heavily orchestrated, triumphant, and anthemic. The bass is heavy. The outcome inevitable: straight from your radio through to your cerebral cortex and down to your ass. On this second release (his first for Tigerbeat6, following his self-titled debut on Orthlorgh Musork), Gold Chains leaves behind his not-so-straight-up brand of hip-hop and dives deeper into the murky waters of, huh, 'electronic dance music'. Each track on this six song ep crosses so many boundaries it's not even worth putting words like techno, ghetto tech, ragga, glam rock or punk into sentences. Gold Chains still gives a history lesson or a tale of sex, drugs and rock and roll with each song, but this is not story time. Straight From Your Radio is for the clubs and anyone left standing when it's over deserves a purple heart."

GOLD CHAINS: Straight From Your Radio 12" (MEOW 056 LP). $9.00

12" vinyl version.

CEx: Bad Acne 12" (MEOW 057). $7.00

"The first single off the recent Tall, Dark and Handcuffed full-length album from tangled-brain electronicist Rjyan Kidwell. The title track — a bouncy hip hop number perfectly comfortable with its beautiful blemishes, content to be a radio party jam, a radical manifesto, a venomous battle rap, and an emo ritual all at once — backed with the cut 'K-12 Days of Hell,' a song breaking down the frightening and awkward experience of grade school rocked by Cex and hometown pal MC Height and 'Ghost Rider'. Includes instrumental mixes of each."

SODAHBERK, DWAYNE: Don't Want to Know You CD (MEOW 058). $14.00

"Shunting aside all pretense of retro-rock irony and designer furniture store etiquette, Swedish postpunk techno misfit Dwayne Sodahberk gives us a seventeen-song collection of excitingly memorable songs painstakingly composed and improvised with just the right balance between egghead super-collider DSP impacts and raw drum machine beats, twisted modular synth stabs, the occasional glitch, and melodic guitar workouts."

CEx: Tall, Dark and Handcuffed CD (MEOW 060). $14.00

"Cex's first two albums, Role Model and Oops, I Did It Again! are regarded as unprecedented classics among followers of ambitious left-field electronic music. Because of his penchant for complex beats and catchy melodies, Kidwell has garnered critical acclaim from mainstream and underground press alike for bringing daring pop sensibilities and sensitivity to a genre mostly frequently strapped for personality or accessibility. His quick wit and bona-fide mic skills have delighted music fans of many persuasions: hip-hop heads, indie rockers, electronic music geeks, and even the occasional frat boy. After refining everything about his sound in the forge of the ultimate live show, the much-anticipated album version of Cex's unique blend of hip-hop, experimental electronic music, and pure pop is finally ready for the world to absorb and admire."

STARS AS EYES: Enemy of Fun CD (MEOW 061). $14.00

"Eleven tracks of pure musical reinvention and rebirth by these Providence, Rhode Island, ex-pats — orchestral in scope but punk at heart; forsaking ambience for drums; turning down the synths and pads and turning up the guitars and samples. Freshly inspired by relocation to Austin, Texas, Stars As Eyes composed these songs on piano and guitar (without completely ignoring samples), from minimal to psychedelic to IDM to krautrock to electro to Providence rock. It's a stellar change of pace from their debut CD Freedom Rock — heavier, thicker, more intense, yet cognizant of their emo-IDM roots. Songs like 'The French Method' and 'Suspension Days' contain a subtle, sustained beauty unequaled by their previous output, with melodies that would make Mum, To Rococo Rot or Boards of Canada proud. 'Important Youth Movement' is a slice of inspired electro-kraut with off-kilter, deadly guitar stabs, pounding drums and searing synth lines that build to a fever pitch and land in a soothing bed of soft breaks, piano, and a lullaby of strings worthy of Aphex Twin. Like a third of Flying Saucer Attack and half of Autechre stuck in a rehab center with a computer."

STARS AS EYES: Enemy of Fun LP (MEOW 061 LP). $11.00

LP version.

BLACK DICE: Lost Valley 3" CD (MEOW 063). $7.50

"Black Dice formed during the spring of 1997 in Providence, Rhode Island, as a loud, chaotic mix of early-'80s-inspired thrash and harsh noise experimentation. By the fall of 2001, the unorthodox instrumentation continued to evolve, and an emphasis on signal processing provided a broader range of sounds to work with. While volume and physical presence of sound remained crucial, melody and repetition became key elements that songs were composed upon. The shift in focus introduced a new gentle and tuneful quality to the intense, brash music. Currently, the music retains elements of noise and proto-industrial experimentation, while organically suggesting minimal, ambient electronic, and psychedelic ideas, as well as those of tropicalia and dub. Black Dice is now the organized presentation of improvised sound, assembled into deliberate structures based on visual concepts."

MAIN: Transiency CD (MEOW 064). $8.00

"Along with Spacemen 3 and My Bloody Valentine, Robert Hampson and Loop redefined guitar rock in the '80s — fusing an aggressive, hypnotic, angular guitar edge with a stripped-down, post-punk ethic, but not without healthy references to psych and krautrock. After an influential and groundbreaking string of releases on Beggars Banquet, Hampson's post-Loop Main is back, composing timeless compositions for Fat Cat, Touch, K-raa-k, and Staalplaat. Main's ear-catching ambient/electroacoustic music contains strong references to Stockhausen and Xenakis, but fully enjoys the benefits of modern technology, digital processing and reconstruction. If there is anything left to harvest from the carcass of The Almighty Guitar, Hampson is there to pick the bones clean. As documents of the origins of the guitar-as-centerpiece school (which includes, for example, the ambient and electronic music of Christian Fennesz and Oren Ambarchi), Main records are always studied and well-constructed; Hampson's personal and unparalleled ability allows him to combine concrete and acoustic sounds with manipulated-beyond-belief guitarwork."

COM.A: Shot Of Love CD (MEOW 065). $14.00

"Along with his brother Joseph Nothing and artists like Bisk and Nobekuzo Takemura, Com.a (aka Age Yoshida (pronounced 'ah-geh'), is one of the first and most inventive Japanese electronic/IDM musicians. Hailed by many as the Japanese equivalent to groundbreaking UK artists like Aphex Twin and Squarepusher, Com.a is sounding the war-cry as the leader of a laptop gang all over Japan. Born in England but raised in Hong Kong and New Jersey and now residing in Tokyo, Japan, Age started ROM=PARI when he was only 18 with Joseph Nothing (Planet-Mu); the duo released two critically acclaimed records of highly inventive and abstract drill and bass on the Belgium label SubRosa. After two full tours with AsianDubFoundation and AudioActive, ROM=PARI broke up and Age gave birth to his solo project under the alias Com.a (pronounced 'coma,' named after a much-loved Japanese candy)."

CRACK: W.A.R. (We Are Rock) Silent Fantasy CD (MEOW 066). $11.00

Morbid dance music. Inspired as much by Titicut Follies as Black Sabbath, this is the death of disco (or metal — same thing, anyway). Crack presents six tracks of haunted carnivals, socially retarded cabaret and the loneliness of being lost at sea. Drum machines and synths, sure, but Crack is a band; innocence up front and something a little more impish in the back. King Riff, Obscuratron, Le Kim and L'Erin all create a cacophonous din of electro-smash complemented by L'Erin and Le Kim's schoolyard taunt vocals. Their sold-out self-released debut 12" split with Ann Arbor's Wolf Eyes gave only a slight indication of the misery to come. Silent Fantasy is their first release for Tigerbeat6 and fits in well with the work of the other inmates. Next time someone decides to take over the teen center or burn down the local theater, Crack will be off to the side taking notes. Death Disco? Electro-chaos?"

VA: Paws Across America CD (MEOW 067). $11.00

"To commemorate its first label tour of the United States and Canada, Tigerbeat6 presents a full-length compilation of all new and exclusive tracks by the artists on the tour. That's two or three tracks tracks each from Numbers, Cex, and Stars As Eyes, all of whom who are doing the entire tour, and one track each from other Tigerbeat6 artists playing at least once along the way. Expect thrills and chills from Cex's folksy, Neptunes-type song and a track that can only be described as "industrial IDM hip-hop." Also included are the sweet and tuneful electronica of Nudge, Electric Company, and Nathan Michel, and the absolutely twisted, mind-numbing, beat-infused electronics of Knifehandchop, Uprock and Zeigenbock Kopf.

ELECTRIC COMPANY: It's Hard To Be A Baby CD (MEOW 068). $14.00

"Electric Company is the solo project of Brad Laner, frontman for seminal band Medicine (recently reformed with vocalist Shannon Lee — Bruce Lee's daughter — after a long hiatus). As Electric Company, Laner has been making extremely leftfield electronic music since his 1995 Def American debut A Part Cyclic Omen. Guitars and other live instrumentation complement abstract and twisted electronics (he's right at home on Tigerbeat6). Recorded just before, during and after making the upcoming Medicine album for Wall of Sound, It's Hard To Be A Baby represents a radical redirection of energy from experimental, rhythmic sound-sculpting toward melody and mood. These new songs do not squander the advantages that modern studio technology offers — hands-on guitar-playing, voices, and synthesizers — and pay homage to early Brian Eno and Faust, current artists like Mouse On Mars and Christian Fennesz, and Aphex Twin's more melodic work. Endlessly interweaving sensual, melodic textures and clusters with plenty of the 'noise as beauty' aesthetic, Laner places these elements alongside casually funky beats, making this a musically rewarding and dynamic Electric Company album."

NUMBERS: Death CD (MEOW 069). $14.00

"This collection of all-star remixes of Numbers' debut album, Life, is diverse, dynamic, downright rocking and enjoyable in a way remix albums seldom are. The remixers try to outdo each other either by improving on the originals or reinventing them by adding not just new rhythms and synthesizers but in many cases new vocals and completely new musical sections — all faithfully inspired by the Numbers aesthetic. Highlights include: the full-throttle dance-rockabilly remix of 'Driving Song', by recent Depeche Mode remixer Electronicat (Disco B, Angelika Kohlermann); the New Order-esque take on 'Prison Life' by GD Luxxe (aka Gerhard Potuznik of Mego, Cheap Records, Ersatz Audio, Interdimensional Transmissions); Kid606's rock-steady reworking of 'We Like Having These Things' into a hands-in-the-air dance punk anthem; Original Hamster's fittingly all-over-the-sound-canvas drill-and-bass remix of 'Human Replace'; and Kit Clayton's original and inspired take on the Numbers' theme song 'Information'."

COM.A: One More Story 12" (MEOW 070). $7.50

"Hi-fi, futuristic electronica with a humorous and whimsical electro edge for fans of Aphex Twin, Mouse On Mars, Squarepusher, Kid606, Richard Devine, Plaid et al."

SODAHBERK, DWAYNE: Partying Without Inhibition Or Dignity CD (MEOW 071 CD). $7.50

"The soundtrack for a bad night out, including bad attitude, bad judgement, social incompetence, desperation, embarrassment, and unmotivated bursts of exaggerated emotions. Musically, Sodahberk can't decide if he's a punk rocker or an electronica geek or an indie-pop nerd."

SODAHBERK, DWAYNE: Partying Without Inhibition Or Dignity 12" (MEOW 071 EP). $7.50

Vinyl EP version.

THE BUG VS. ROOTSMAN FEAT. DADDY FREDDY/DJ RUPTURE: Split CD EP (MEOW 072). $7.00

"The Bug & DJ Rupture have declared turf war. In a volatile face-off between two kinetically charged contemporary electronics producers, this combination mash up, dancehall destruction, hip hop malfunction and structural deconstruction assures a suitably intense future for soundclash battles. A thinly disguised audio abattoir masquerading as a six-track EP, this explosive exchange steals the tools of the dub and dancehall trade for maximum disorientation. Weapons are set to stun, and artificial genre divides are militantly blitzed."

NUMBERS: Death Remixes Vol. 1 12" (MEOW 073). $7.50

First of 2 volumes. Artists include: Kid606, Dymaxion, Kit Clayton, Electronicat, Dwayne Sodahberk, and Caro.

NUMBERS: Death Remixes Vol. 2 12" (MEOW 074). $7.50

Artists include: Gold Chains, G.D.Luxxe, Dat Politics, Original Hamster, Stars As Eyes, Uprock, and Zeigenbock Kopf.

VA: Open Up and Say... CD (MEOW 075 CD). $4.50

"Tigerbeat6 brings you a full-length super-budget-priced label compilation featuring all vocal tracks. A stunning musical showcase of vocals, instruments and electronics fused in drastically varying ways, this compilation serves as a roadmap to what Tigerbeat6 has been up to recently, and where the label's going in the near future — featuring 80 minutes of music, comprised of 24 previously released, new and upcoming songs by all the best and essential Tigerbeat6 divas and troublemakers." Artists: The Rip Off Artist, The Bug feat. Daddy Freddy, Dynasty, DJ /Rupture, Com.a, Dwayne Sodahberk, Kid606, Numbers vs. Caro, Max Tundra, Stars as Eyes, Numbers, Electric Company, Crack, Knifehandchop, Cex, Total Shutdown, Zeigenbock Kopf, Terminal 11 feat. b. bond, Original Hamster, Nathan Michel, Nudge.

BUG, THE: Pressure CD (MEOW 076). $14.00

"The Bug aka Kevin Martin of Techno Animal, Ice, God, Curse of the Golden Vampire. Pressure provides heavyweight evidence of the bassbin blowing, mechanoid mash-ups that have become The Bug's trademark sound. Having been indelibly marked by the skull-crushing impact of UK dub, and increasingly obsessed with ragga's bionic gyrations, The Bug crunches reggae's sub-genres into a physically brutal, psychologically deep, low-end feast for non-conformist dance-floor fiends. From the thug-step ragga of 'Beats, Bombs, Bass, Weapons,' to the electronic dub of 'Live & Learn,' via the dancehall punk of 'Killer,' Pressure ignites basement anthems and exhausts the echo chamber, as basstronic frequencies are mercilessly exploited. Ignoring the stagnant digi-dub scene, bypassing retro-fixated roots revivalists and avoiding ill-advised attempts at Xeroxing ragga's current trends, The Bug has formulated fearlessly original future shock for electro mainliners and yardcore fanatics alike. With maniacal MCs, blissful crooners and a metaphysical poet, the range of vocals exemplifies the free thinking range of this album. Intense." Licensed from Rephlex.

ZEIGENBOCK KOPF: The Nocturnal Submissions CD (MEOW 077). $11.00

"Ultra-lo-fi, mysterious, and frighteningly addictive slut-punk duo Zeigenbock Kopf (German brothers Hans and Uli Bunschlapfer with aid from Detlef) have left the flaccid and impotent dance scene of Berlin behind forever. Their beats pummel. Their bass is too loud and the highs are acrid. They came to San Francisco not to embrace the dance scene or the gay pride parades, but to destroy clubs and to hurt those who open themselves up to victimization by hurters. Nocturnal Submissions follows their debut album, I.D.M., a severely warped and very un-PC collection of ass-destroying, sexy, electro gabber beats, rockabilly-ish guitars, organs, and dance-till-you-drop-dead vocal commandments."

RIP-OFF ARTIST, THE: In Through The Out Door CD (MEOW 078). $11.00

"Tuneful IDM that mixes the hi-fi processing of Richard Devine with the timeless humor and playfulness of Stock, Hausen and Walkman. On In Through The Out Door, he has created a playful world of found voices, peppy rhythms and smart-ass musical references. The music harkens back to his The Kids Are Alright album from 2000, with glitchy electro-fried beats and hummable pop aspects rarely found in modern electronica, which is what makes Tigerbeat6 a perfect home for it."

KNIFEHANDCHOP: Rockstopper CD (MEOW 079 CD). $14.00

"Knifehandchop is Billy Pollard, a 22-year-old culture-junkie musician from Toronto who has been producing devastating electronic dancefloor anthems for the last four years on the Irritant and Tigerbeat6 labels. Rockstopper showcases what Knifehandchop has done and explores totally new musical directions, compiling some of Pollard's most manic moments, and offering lots of deep, emotional tracks. The vocoded, electro anti-love songs contrast over-the-top hip hop and distorted hardcore tracks scattered throughout the album, as well as mental mind-blowing gabber, laidback hip-hop, sentimental vocal electro, and dancehall riddims."

NUDGE: Elaborate Devices For Filtering Crisis CD (MEOW 082). $11.00

"Nudge is the Northwest indietronica supergroup headed by Outward Music Company label head Brian Foote and featuring musicians who've played in Fontanelle, Jackie-o-Motherfucker, Emergency, Nice Nice, Jessamine, Strategy and Sunn. For the past five years Nudge has attracted an estranged ark full of talented musicians for marathon improvisations and edits that result in perfectly glitched future musics. Alongside core members Honey Owens and Paul Dickow, Foote battles the source-fragments' natural entropy by coercing them into a near-seamless collage. At its best, the fusion is both ear-pleasing and inebriating. Points of reference become irrelevant as layer upon layer of influence smudge into a unique flavor of rave-damaged art pop."

KID 606/DWAYNE SODAHBERK: Paws Across Scandinavia 2003 7" (MEOW 084). $5.50

"This strictly limited-edition split release with Ideal Recordings of Gothenburg, Sweden, was created to commemorate Tigerbeat6's Paws Across Scandinavia 2003 tour, features two new exclusive tracks by Kid606 and Dwayne Sodahberk. Both tracks are prime quality indietronica that mix guitars, synths and vocals with forward-thinking electronica."

CRACK: WE ARE ROCK: Cosmic Mind Flight CD (MEOW 085 CD). $14.00

"From the murky border between the urban jungle and the smoldering forests of Hades comes Crack: We Are Rock. Spawned as a cough syrup-fueled dream somewhere in the Midwest ca. 1995, founder King Riff brought his vision to San Francisco and performed under the Crack:WAR banner with a revolving cast of savants and sociopaths. Eventually teaming up with black metal poseur Obscuratron, the line-up solidified with the addition of L'Erin and Le Kim, sirens with a poetic vision who had fallen off the back of a caravan in a Satanic children's circus. Crack:WAR immersed themselves in their collective obsessions (specter-infested woods, fiendish horsemen, and New Age warfare) and now unleash a full-length fever dream-journey into a psychodelic future where rainbow-coated simians control the machines and bloodied unicorns sip wine with shrouded reptiles."

STARS AS EYES: Loud New Shit CD (MEOW 086 CD). $10.00

"This is an EP, but a generous one, boasting four new originals recorded after their North American tour with Numbers and Cex, as well as carefully selected remixes by other artists, who chose their favorite songs from Enemy of Fun: Icelandic indietronica phenomenon Múm (Fat Cat), New York's Shy Child (El Guapo, ABCs and Touchdown), Los Angeles' Electric Company (Tigerbeat6, Medicine), Portland's Strategy (Kranky, Omco, Nudge), midwest IDM hero Casino Versus Japan (Carpark, City Centre Offices, Wobblyhead). Highlights include a brilliant eight-minute epic reworking of 'Our Light' by ambient isolationist originator Main, and Enemy of Fun's most poignant track 'Suspension Days' newly reworked by Stars as Eyes themselves."

DROP THE LIME: Killy 123 12" (MEOW 087EP). $8.50

"As its playful title suggests, Killy 123 is a move away from the morbid and dark releases proliferating in today's IDM scene. Taking a goofier approach to melody, these upbeat tracks are mixed clean and loud for maximum dance-floor appeal. In 'The Days' and 'Amarcord Gold,' big band remixes and squirty sound riffs tangle within the context of floor-thumping anthems, inviting consideration of the relationship between old and new forms of dance music. 'Rad Girl Killy' and 'Cuttie Throats' revolve around the empty spaces in sound, allowing the main rhythms to unravel over time, balanced by tickly, eerie melodies. Each side ends with melancholic, beatless tracks that express the energy and emotion put into the creation of the harder, dancier tracks on the EP."

KID 606: The Illness CD (MEOW 088 CD). $7.50

"This crazy newacidtechnohardcorebreakbeat action from hyperactive manboy Kid606's first single off the upcoming full length album Kill Sound Before Sound Kills You is a retro hardcore techno anthem for a period which still hasn't occurred yet: sweeping melodies and gnarling basslines combined with classic beats and all the sonic sci-fi twist and turns needed to keep you at the edge of your listening seat. 'Ecstasy Motherfucker' is a 9-minute, relentless 4/4 160-BPM epic with more energy in it than most albums — thumping 909s mixed with Baltimore breaks and booty 808s with DSP rush breakdowns all climaxing in a bass-heavy speedcore gabber blowout."

KID 606: The Illness 12" (MEOW 088 EP). $7.50

Vinyl EP version.

DYNASTY: Dynasty CD (MEOW 089 CD). $10.00

"Supremely talented, immaculately attired, sporting hooks, looks, chops, and undeniable rockstar power, Dynasty are the complete package royale. This is their seven-song, multiple re-entry vehicular salvo from the heart and loins of the San Francisco dancewavepartypunk culture war. Fronted by the mercurial Jibz Cameron (Roofies) on vox and keyboards, hips set rocking by the bomb-ass bass of Diana Hayes (Mono Pause), and jet-propelled by the undeniable beatz of Indra Dunis (Numbers), Dynasty is the soundtrack to your fever-dream night-on-the-town with Alexis Carrington, Dorothy Parker, and Terri Nunn. Dynasty is not some tired, warmed-over electro retreat. This is fresh, beat-oriented, melodic, everlasting gobstopper party music, awash in sex, deadpan humor, and all-consuming uniform lust."

SODAHBERK, DWAYNE: Unfortunately CD (MEOW 091 CD). $15.00

"The monumental third release and second full length album by Dwayne Sodahberk for Tigerbeat6 represents one of the label's most ambitious and fulfilling forays into modern pop music. Sodahberk could no longer repress his love for stringed instruments and, almost as a statement, traded his prized TR-909 drum machine for a 12-string electric guitar to make this album. Composed in semi-isolation on the outskirts of Stockholm, Sweden, Sodahberk gives Unfortunately a warm, analog glow through digital thumps, tweaks, and textures. His cutely aggressive pitters and patters contrast the emotionally charged noisy bits and adjoin intriguing melodies, gorgeous vocals, and solid structures. This blend of indie poptronics and post-rocking electro is a well balanced soundtrack for dawn to dusk."

MICHEL, NATHAN: Dear Bicycle CD (MEOW 092 CD). $14.00

"Dear Bicycle moves away from the lo-fi madness of Nathan Michel's acclaimed Tigerbeat6 debut, Abc Def, into calmer waters of semi-pop pleasure. Momus has described Michel's music as 'very lovely, optimistic and playful sounding, always several steps ahead of habituation or boredom,' while DIW called his debut 'very romantic and utterly creative.' Lush orchestral strings float above vocoder harmonies and disjoint piano loops. Dirty, prepared guitar solos mix with out-of-step, cheap keyboard accompaniment. Scraps of samples from sources like Patsy Cline, Bach, and Spike Jones are woven into acoustic and electronic textures. While Abc Def edits the source material to bits, Dear Bicycle often allows the sound sources to speak for themselves, unedited."

UPROCK RHIZOME + THE APHASIA GROUP: Jungle Green Memes CD/BOOK (MEOW 093CD). $15.00

"Uprock + The Aphasia Group comb the detritus and effluvial ejaculate of noise, Americana, punk, free jazz, laptop wankery and improvisational percussion, offering music enthusiasts a feast of digital discharge, cover songs, recorded minutes from kelpandcircuits board meetings, and archival tracks from unheard Oakland improv jam sessions. Highlights include: field recordings culled from peep show booths, a scanline synthesized glial cell migration, free jazz mash-ups, oodles of live instruments (digitized and reprocessed guitars, drums, horns and percussion), pedals, patches, a contact mic'd fixed gear bicycle, and an amplified potato. Think Milford Graves and The Nihilist Spasm Band in conversation with Tom Ze and Masami Akita. Imagine a celebrity 'jam band' fronted by Peter Brotzmann and Eugene Chadbourne uniting ex-members of Matching Mole, Mission of Burma and Throbbing Gristle for one epic, sun-kissed late '70s performance. Expect everything from minimal, digital guitar workouts and sinewy found sound collage, to hectic beat frenzies and dubby jeep bumps."

VA: Paws Across The World 2003 CD (MEOW 094 CD). $11.00

"This is the official document of the Tigerbeat6 global takeover known as Paws Across The World Tour 2003 — over 100 shows with Kid606, DJ/Rupture, and Dwayne Sodahberk leading the charge with delicately booming reconstructions of broken beats, tyrannical melodic stratagems, and an evident gang mentality. This is a specially priced, 22-track, seventy-nine-and-a-half-minute CD of disco threats, anthemic attacks, aggro drills, punishing skronk, innovative breakbeat, and raging ragga — with two new exclusive tracks from Kid606 and DJ/Rupture, three from Dwayne Sodahberk, an old school mash up junglist smackdown from Rewind Records' Soundmurderer, a Gold Chains-produced grrlgroup anthem from Dynasty, a techhouse bumper from Janosh Brando, Danish breakcore craziness from Puzzleweasel, 8-bit hip hop IDM headnod from Skeksi, New Yawk plunderphonic booty-shaking courtesy of Donna Summer, operatic spazzcore from Total Shutdown, retro ragga snarerush assault from Toronto's 0=0, UK emo IDM from RandomNumber, indietronic ambience from Stars as Eyes, and unclassifiable, twisted tracks from End, Dev/Null, Titwrench, Nice Nice and Terminal 11."

VA: Revenge Of The Fight Club 12" (MEOW 095 EP). $7.00

"Fight Club invites witnesses to the third installment of band vs. band manipulation and audible bloodlust in The Revenge of the Fight Club. After nursing a grudge for too long, it's payback time. These avengers have come to settle an old score and go beyond the boundaries of violence, permanent harm, and violation of hyped-up genres." Artists: Stars as Eyes vs. Casino Versus Japan, Dwayne Sodahberk vs. Janosh Brando, 0=0 vs. Super Mario Brothers, Com.a vs. Original Hamster, Cex vs. GD Luxe, Donna Summer vs. Van Halen.

TOTAL SHUTDOWN: Total Shutdown CD (MEOW 097 CD). $10.00

"San Francisco dive-bombing noise-metal jazz aggressors Total Shutdown are a five-piece bass-guitar-keyboard-sax-drums screecher band who flail through stop-and-start, minute-long, tantrum-like songs. Bernard Stollman, the guy who started ESP-Disk said, 'There doesn't seem to be any point to it.'"

NUMBERS: In My Mind All The Time CD (MEOW 098CD). $14.00

"Numbers are Eric (ex-Xerobot), Dave (ex-Xerobot), and Indra (Dynasty), a rock'n'roll trio formed in the fertile post-wealth post-rave San Francisco dot-bomb underground. They play fast, primal punk disco beats, trading detached boy/girl vocals amid intermittent bursts of noisy guitar and fuzzed-out berserk bass. The influences they cite (no wave, Gang of Four, Kraftwerk, Wire) seem typical enough, but Numbers chew these up and spit it back out all their own."

NUMBERS: In My Mind All The Time LP (MEOW 098LP). $14.00

LP version. "Numbers are Eric (ex-Xerobot), Dave (ex-Xerobot), and Indra (Dynasty), a rock'n'roll trio formed in the fertile post-wealth post-rave San Francisco dot-bomb underground. They play fast, primal punk disco beats, trading detached boy/girl vocals amid intermittent bursts of noisy guitar and fuzzed-out berserk bass."

KID606: Kill Sound Before Sound Kills You 2LP (MEOW 100 LP). $19.00

CD version released by Ipecac. "No longer a kid, Kid606 finds himself at the forefront of America's independent electronic music world, striving against adversity, surpassing expectation, and breaking the rules. Kill Sound Before Sound Kills You promises to bring listeners to a fiery musical climax, by merging thoughts and ideas previously spewed out by Kid606 while advancing to the next level where over-the-top, danceable, power-electronic, technopunkhyper, rave-gabber-junglist madness reigns. 'The Illness,' 'Woofer Wrecker,' and 'Ecstasy Motherfucker' are pure tension-and-release dancefloor stormers, oozing with sweaty, breakbeat energy, dynamic noise, and grinding acid riffs. 'Who Wah Kill Sound?' and 'Buckle Up,' featuring accomplished UK dancehall MC Wayne Lonesome, are the album's tribal ragga junglist anthems where thunderous beats and booming basslines collide with thrashing gabber kicks, dirty rave blasts, and monstrous, police-siren wails and screeches."

KNIFEHANDCHOP: Triple Threat 12" (MEOW 101EP). $8.50

"Following on the heels of the eclectic and wonderful Rockstopper CD, Knifehandchop makes excellent use of a unique ability, in the words of Careless Talk Saves Lives, to 'joyously romp through the various electronic stylings of the last few years.' The infectiousness of these four new tracks is impossible to ignore."

KNIFEHANDCHOP: Techno Gaiden 12" (MEOW 103EP). $8.50

"A confusingly titled companion piece to Knifehandchop's How I Left You CD, and a premium slice of rave-dancehall-gabberpizz on its own. This 12-inch features the two tuffest and ruffest DJ-worthy tracks off the CD (that weren't already on the Triple Threat EP) and four mixes (available nowhere else) from Japan's prodigal laptop pervert Com.A, Berlin's Modeselektor (famous for their electro-acid rave mashup releases on Bpitch Control), France's A77 (one half of Rotator from Peace Off Records fame), and Toronto newcomer Belladonna Killz."

KNIFEHANDCHOP: How I Left You CD (MEOW 104CD). $15.00

"This first true Knifehandchop album, as opposed to the latest in a series of compilations of dancefloor singles and plunderphonic booty anthems, aims to be a fully immersive concept. Previous KHC releases all keep the bar raised by mixing, energizing and distorting disparate genres as gabber, pop, techno, booty, ragga and ghetto-tech, but How I Left You reflects Knifehandchop's newest saga of bipolar drama; this frenetic new form of sonic aggression could only come from a shot to the heart."

TIGERSUSHI (FRANCE):

VA: More G.D.M. CD (TSR 001 CD). $15.00

"More G.D.M. is a musical selection for the heart and the mind, not a genre compilation, neither an up and coming restaurant soundtrack nor an opportunistic revival. It is the imaginary score to Tigersushi's musical Eden, where notorious figures of the past meet their contemporary heirs. Following the 5 EPs series, here comes the complete More G.D.M. album including all the tracks previously released on vinyl plus 5 exclusive bonus tracks." Artists include: Gina X, Metro Area, Maurice Fulton, Silver Apples, Bush Tetras, Alice Machine, Tokow Boys, Max Berlin, Chapter Three, T.B.S. feat. Jamalski, Material, Terrence Parker, John Tejada, and Cluster.

CLUSTER VS. JOHN TEJADA: More G.D.M. Vol. 1 12" (TSR 001 EP). $9.50

"Cluster — 'Hollywood'. A crepuscular ode and timeless electronic Kraut-Rock cut courtesy of Cluster (Dieter Moebius and Hans-Joachim Roedelius) who among other things worked in conjunction with Brian Eno (on two LPs Before and After Science and Cluster & Eno). Since then, they have been regularly quoted as major influences alongside Neu! or LA Dusseldorf by music connoisseurs such as Radiohead, Sonic Youth or The Notwist. Published in 1974 on the Zuckerzeit LP (Brain Metronome), 'Hollywood' and its synthesized curls still sound up to par in 2002. Hypnotic and Visionary. John Tejada — 'Present Pretense'. John Tejada embodies today's most thrilling facet of techno music. His style stands halfway between characteristic Detroit deepness and Germany's new wave signature (Isolée, Losoul etc). Such pedigree landed him releases on prestigious imprints such as Playhouse, Scape, Palette, 7th City et al. Released in 2000, Significant Numbers, his masterpiece is already an hard to find classic. For Tigersushi, John composed a new and exclusive cut, 'Present Pretense', full of easy-going, round basses and punctuated with summery synthesizer melodies that grow on the listener at each play."

VA: How To Kill The DJ [Part One] CD (TSR 002 CD). $15.00

"The soundtrack to club Pulp's glam-trash Kill The DJ parties mixed by Ivan Smaghe (Black Strobe/Volga Select). Includes exclusive edits of Ministry (by Optimo) and Soft Cell (by Ivan Smaghe and Fany) + Michael Mayer, Captain Comatose (aka Khan) etc.. 'KILL the DJ' is the mythical club night that has been rocking Paris underground for more than three years s now with a cocktail of indecent live acts (Peaches, Khan, Midnight Mike) and stunning deejay sets (Harvey, Trevor Jackson, Optimo). Ivan Smaghe is the most notorious and daring figure of the Parisian electronic underground. As hard boiled as snotty, as sleepless as tasteful. Tigersushi is the best French record label ever(?). Artists included: Roger, Captain Comatose, In Flagranti, Crowdpleaser & St Ploem feat. Selfish In Bed, Laminim & Cottonhead, Digital Tongue, Ministry, Chelonis R. Jones, Suck, Woody, Daniel Diamond, Ferenc, Soft Cell, Interlude, Queen Of Japan.

BERLIN VS. MAURICE FULTON, MAX: More G.D.M. Vol. 2 12" (TSR 002 EP). $9.50

"Max Berlin — 'Elle Et Moi'. 'Un coin de rue...': She & Me/ Elle et Moi is the kind of narrative everyone likes to hear when thinking of a stir. Love action is on the menu of Max Berlin as he strolls through the summery streets of Paris. Fat funk and odd Gainsbourg-like storytelling make it a compelling must! 'Dance For Me (Tigersushi Re-Edit)': 'Dance for Me' is the anticipation of today's DJ era. Berlin contemplates accomplished ballerines unleashing all their talents on him with the relaxed studio shark attitude of a crooked producer. Bent as a nine quid note, a perfect leftfield disco track with interseting glitter and immediate rolling beats. Maurice Fulton — 'Feel The Same': He could have been Grandmaster Vixen Morse, a maddaddy of Hip Hop but instead of taking the cash and go he set his mind on rescuing house music from mediocrity. Boy is this deep or what? Do you feel the same? Bumping basses, übercool layers and a unique sense of purpose."

MU: Afro Finger & Gel CD (TSR 003 CD). $15.00

"Written by Mutsumi Kanamori. Produced by Maurice Fulton. Mu — amidst the void and emptiness of the umpteenth re-readings of past music an implosion has just occurred. A 'satori' producing the most singular personality in UK music ever, Mutsumi Kanamori. The reign of pop transvestite as electronic innovation is over. Now is the time for true affirmation of self, un-programming of the masses, some rock-n-roll, excellent music, whole lotta love and northern uproar." Nobody (except perhaps Kool Keith) can claim to sport as many musical signatures as Baltimore-born globetrotter Maurice Fulton. After compiling an impressive re sheet of twisted house programming as Ladyvibb, Synclops, Stress, Basement Boys and Eddie And The Eggs, he finally settled in Sheffield and got married last year to Japanese-born Matsumi. They started making beautiful music together and the resulting Mu album, Afro Finger And Gel, is the best punk electronics you'll hear in 2003. It's a poppers-fueled blurring of the lines between goofy techno, body-popping Latin, Japanese pop, Skinny Puppy, Ministry and rousing horndog Basement Jaxx blitzes. — i-D

GINA X VS. METRO AREA: More G.D.M. Vol. 3 12" (TSR 003 EP). $9.50

"Tigersushi continue their bomb combination of lost classic gems mixed with the more exciting facets of modern electronic music. On the a-side, Gina X delivers a fierce mixture of punk, decadent chic and splendidly leftfield music that quickly became a staple of NYC's Danceteria: there was never anything harder than Kikoine's raunchy vocals over these twisted synth chords - true early 80's disco/punk avantgarde. On the flip, the intriguing duo of Morgan Geist and Darshan Jesrani drafts its dazzling disco creativity from the thirtysomething dance music furnace supreme: NYC. 'We Also Not' is a nonchalant boogie number that is as much electro as leftfield disco. The Music Institute, the Loft and the Hacienda on just one recording is no small fix, Metro Area do it like no other."

MU: Afro Finger & Gel 2LP (TSR 003 LP). $22.50

Double LP version.

K.I.M.: Miyage CD (TSR 004 CD). $15.00

K.I.M. is the first ever mixture of album and compilation including a superb reprise of the Smiths' 'Meat is Murder' by K.I.M. themselves amongst Edith Piaf, Larry Levan, Gun Club or Psychic TV. The whole is mixed in a unique manner by this enthralling studio half of which is constituted by Joakim of Fantômes (Versatile Records) fame.

"K.I.M. is an activist vegetarian consortium composed of Flokim Lucas and Jimi Bazzouka. Bazzouka once was a well known anti-capitalist militant, responsible for a painstaking tide of bombing of several institutional buildings in the United States and his past involvement with guerilla warfare in places such as Nicaragua, Colombia and Mexico. Turning his back on a cruel row of bitter fights, unnecessary violence and desultory politics, Bazzouka found a new establishment as gardener in the Icelandic hippie compound of Vik amongst the K.I.M.-fellow community. K.I.M. is an acronym originally created to illustrate the philosophy and way of life of community father figure and German celebrity recluse Ulrich Vordstrom. K.I.M. fellow members recognize him as Kern.Im.Mordsee, a beacon of inspiration who edicted the ways of the K.I.M., a series of precepts and know-hows that by contractual agreement with Tigersushi records shall remain quite obscure and kept undecipherable to the masses. According to biographic information forwarded by various sources, Bazzouka was sent to set up a sub-division of the K.I.M. community in the south of France where he met Flokim Lucas, a Korean refugee and the community's librarian and caretaker of the plentiful of records assembled through various errand jobs and garage sales. Despite the toil and work induced by the extensive development of the south-K.I.M. orchard, Bazzouka and Lucas allegedly decided to vest the riteously enormous profits derived from the side-of-the-road-sale of take away melons into an album mixing their own music with their favorite songs by other artists like Arthur Lyman, Edith Piaf, Larry Levan or the Gun Club. This record was deemed benevolent enough to be left out to Tigersushi records. Although Bazzouka and Lucas undertook not to include and subliminal messages and/or propaganda in the above mentioned recording, Tigersushi records hereby waives any responsibility whatsoever as to possible consequences to a long exposure to K.I.M. music might trigger." Artists: Solomon Islands, Arthur Lyman, Francois de Roubaix, K.I.M., Wevie Stonger, Edith Piaf, Moondog, Un Drame Musical Instantane, Max de Wardener, I Wayne Sadra, Asa Chang and Junray, Joubert Singers, Pierre Bastien, Psychic TV, Gun Club.

PARKER VS. MATERIAL, TERRENCE: More G.D.M. Vol. 4 12" (TSR 004 EP). $9.50

"Terrence Parker — 'Love's Got Me High': An all-time house classic from Detroit courtesy of the impressive Terrence Parker who could lay down a soulful track even with his eyes blind and arms tied in his back. No gimmicks or clever tricks just this cold-turkey instant anthem quality that urges you to rush on the dancefloor or hit the replay button anytime. Material — 'Secret Life': This is taken out from the second of the Temporary Music EP series (1981) that inaugurated Material's search for a fusion of punk, disco-funk and new synthetic strands. One of the numerous side projects of the notorious Bill Laswell, the outfit demonstrates an insight into the inner workings of music and its innovation cycle that is as fresh and far-reaching thirty years later. Mutant music somewhere between New Wave electro-pop and New York disco."

MINISTRY/SOFT CELL: How To Kill The DJ Vinyl Sampler 12" (TSR 006 EP). $9.50

"Ministry — 'I Wanted To Tell Her (Tongue Tied Remix)': Hard to believe that Ministry could actually funk legit before indulging into heavy indus galore. This is an electro-pop masterpiece of savage cut-ups and wild boogie. Ministry — 'I Wanted To Tell Her (Tongue Tied Remix) Naom Gabo Edit': Optimo is an hacktivist collective based in Glasgow that has already been through it all: deejaying, record label, online services, private membership club and so forth. Their Optimo nights and series of edits-remixes have already rocked the casbah worldwide and drawn the attention of hipsters deluxe from the likes of DFA or Erol Alkan. Here Naom Gabo a.k.a Johnnie Wilkes shows his mad skills on a twisted edit. Soft Cell — Memorabilia (Extended Mix) Kill The DJ Edit': A timeless classic in its rare long version. Again edited by neg-marrons supremes Smaghe and Corral. A stupendously modern piece of work. Both simple and definitive. Music has the right to seriousness."

MU: Chair Girl/Let's Get Sick 12" (TSR 007 EP). $9.50

"This is MU. The most daring punk artist ever to grace the electronic music community. Mu is revolutionary. Mu is good and Mu is evil, Mu is the whirlwind of more than twenty years of digital bleeps and club culture. MU has produced landmark material. Mu is the Velvet Underground of clubland with bonkers-banana music that will remain in twenty years time. Mu's accomplice and producing hero is none other than the original Doctor Scratch himself, Maurice Fulton. Together they live in Sheffield. So, the only standpoint it do you want to be cutting-edge or not? We Mu, do you?"

K.I.M.: Flores Monstrosi 12" (TSR 008EP). $9.50

Features: Psychic TV: "Ov Power". "Okay, let's try to make this simple: Once, among a rather unassuming group of demos, we received a very strange disc bearing the name K.I.M., titled Silence is God, which came in a sleeve bearing one email address. And we sure as hell hadn't heard anything quite like it. Through information obtained (with difficulty), we now know that the people behind this disc (men or women?) belong to a sect (sic) of the name of K.I.M.. For reasons that we will explain to you later or perhaps that you will include/understand on your own by listening to this a lot, we immediately decided to release this disc in parts. The two songs you hold in your hand are from their album. For those who aren't familiar with it, Psychic TV is collective/group of ex-Throbbing Gristle Genesis P. Orridge, a pseudo-cult who made emblematic, worrying, iconoclastic and completely disturbed industrial music. OV Power is a nice tribute to Temple OV, the name of the sect that the charismatic, gold toothed Genesis lead. K.I.M. create long sonic layers, where one can hardly perceive changes (droning, you might say), of hypnotic textures, a near Buddhist inspiration on rhythmic martial... You could place this piece between Plastikman, Arne Nordheim and Throbbing Gristle (again) for it's angst ridden atmosphere. However, it's still something else... but what?"

TONES ON TAIL/DR JOHN/ANTENA: Kill The DJ - Exhibit [a] 12" (TSR 009 EP). $9.50

Features: Tones on Tail (Blackstrobe edit), Dr. John (Clem Daphonics edit), Isabelle Antena (Kill The DJ edit). "Tones on Tail: An off-shoot of essential goth outfit Bauhaus, Tones on Tail gets a painstakin' take from likeminded downlitting gurus, Blackstrobe aka Ivan Smaghe and Arnaud Rebotini. Dr John: Hard to believe the engineer of New Orleans boogie-funk classics would come to celebrate electro in proper jet-setting fashion and in a nearly metro-area-esque vibe. Cut in funky fashion by Parisian authoritative house dealer, Clément Daphonics. Antena: This is a soother and a gentle number courtesy of Disques du Crépuscule experimentalists Antena. Kill the DJ guru, Fany Corral, cuddles the original with additional loops and gusto."

K.I.M.: Kim Kong EP 12" (TSR 010 EP). $9.50

"Another daring output from the K.I.M. cult sect that once again blends K.I.M. far-reaching view of music with some classic releases. Kim Kong is a subtle maladjusted industrial/disco piece that has enuff sweat, dreary mind pictures and bloody inferences to freak out any dancefloor. Mystique supreme Andrew Meecham from Chicken Lips, aka Emperor Machine, visits the myth again whilst Gun Club's 'Sex Beat' uber-classic is yet another hard-to-find-on-vinyl anthem for the freaknation of the world."

ESG VS FREDDIE MAS: More G.D.M. Vol. 5 12" (TSR 011 EP). $9.50

SIR ALICE: 1 12" (TSR 012EP). $9.50

"Sir Alice is Tigersushi's new darling (not to be mixed up with Alice Machine). At 23 years old only she already has a serious teenage angst background, performing as a punk-rock singer from the age 14 to 19. Whilst slumming all the usual live-band joints, she starts a career as an academic at IRCAM where she teams up with Marc Collin (the man behind trail-blazing musical ventures Ollano, Suburbia, Volga Select) who takes over the production decks. A seriously hyperactive youngster she spans a thousand project a day including art-installations and multimedia performances with the same untamed rage. A serious, enthralling case of musical schizophrenia. Follow, Follow... Tracklisting: A : Bouda Is A Material Girl — 'We are at war'. The No Logo uproar is brought to further musical heights with this cut-throat pop song that makes up for a perfect soundtrack to Bret Easton Ellis' fiction. It's easy to understand why one of Sir Alice's all time fav. is none other than Thurston Moore. Just like Sonic Youth's charismatic leader, Alice has hidden plenty surprises in the mix, right behind the anger wall. B1 : Ballad — This perfectly exemplifies the case for musical schizophrenia. The tempo slows down and the tone is that of ambient rock in a manner that would have us coin big name references such as Einstürzende Neubauten or Leila. B2 : Princess — Another peek into the girl's singular universe. Eerie mixture of childish innocence and tormented structure. An early deed for Alice that was originally recorded a mere Dictaphone."

VOLGA SELECT/AVRIL/SIR ALICE: So Young But So Cold Sampler 12" (TSR 013EP). $9.50

"Three distinctive remixes of excerpts from the forthcoming So Young But So Cold, a Volga Select lead celebration of the cornerstone era of French underground music: 1979-1983. Tracklisting: A: Richard Pinhas: Iceland (Volga Select Remix) With an even icier take on the cold ambient ramblings of musician-philosopher Richard Pinhas, Volga Select show a mastery command of cold-wave groove. Twiddling with space echoes and vintage synths, they create yet another classic. This is progressive with good tastes and glow-sticks barred. B1: The (Hypothetical) Prophets: Wallenberg (Avril Remix) An electro-rock take on this absolute classic that prolongates Avril's latest productions on F.Com (his Members Only CD will be available on F-Com in April). Here Avril plays 'Superpitcher' to a tale of woe, spy games and resistance during the second world war. B2 : Nini Raviolette : Je Tu Nous (Sir Alice Remix) A cool crash, with twenty years of music interspersed, between two egotistic pun-ketts. On the one hand Nini Raviolette, the darling of the eighties and on remixing duties Sir Alice, the contemporary hoodlum with a mission to rock the 21st century."

TILIQUEA (BELGIUM):

URABE, MASAYOSHI: Urklang CD (TILIQUEA 001CD). $16.00

"Introducing the first solo European CD release by Nipponese contemporary alt saxophone player Masayoshi Urabe (sparse discography with previous releases on PSF and SIWA). The music is minimal but intense, featuring unusual solo sax improvisations which explore the relationship between sound and silence." Two long solo tracks, one for alto, one for soprano, recorded live in Japan in 2001.

SPACE MACHINE: 3 2LP (TILIQUEA 002LP). $28.00

"From around 1998 Maso Yamazaki started to incorporate trippy, spacey electronic elements into Masonna performances. In order to better pursue these elements alone, he started Space Machine in 2000, his self-labeled 'analog electronic cosmic sound project'. For as long as he had been performing under the Masonna moniker, Yamazaki had been ardent fan of early electronic music from the 50s and 60s, and in order to research the impact that electronic sounds had upon the spiritual lineage audible in sixties US and British psychedelic music and seventies krautrock, Yamazaki began collecting analog synthesizers and vintage electronic equipment. He continuously experimented with these instruments in his home studio, and while groping towards an understanding he discovered a new direction for his own music, a direction different from his work as Masonna. This third Space Machine release, which is aptly named 3, is a double vinyl album that consists of solo excursions by Yamazaki in his home studio. The release is limited to an edition of 500."

TIME-LAG RECORDS:

PARVA/ULTRASOUND, DRONA: Songs From The Entoptic Garden Vol. 1 LP (TLR 001 LP). $17.00

"The first in a series of split LPs loosely in tribute to Popol Vuh, as well as the first release on Time-Lag Records. Drona Parva's 'form-constants' is a minimalist hammond organ meditation inspired by Popol Vuh's 'In den Garten Pharaos' and early Terry Riley. A slow building, trance inducing, improvisation. Ultrasound (Texas by way of Den Haag) opens side two with a beautiful reworking of Popol Vuh's 'Spirit of Peace', using piano, bass, gong, and viola, then closes the side with a track of shimmering guitar drone. Plenty to float away on... audiophile quality 180 gram vinyl, and packaged in a gorgeous custom letterpressed sleeve. Hand numbered edition of 800."

PONYS, THE: Shishimumu CD (TLR 006 CD). $11.00

"A pretty fantastic debut... the sounds of the past and present meeting to create a unique and uplifting timelessness. Merging rock instrumentation, acoustic guitar, electric slide, moog, wurlitzer, and gorgeous vocals into a cluster of irresistible, catchy, and haunting songs. Flowing through droning psychedelia, velvety instrumentals, quirky indiepop. Country twang, and distortion fueled rock. It's all brought together by the band's unique sound and youthful energy. 100% analog process used from start to finish, for some extremely high fidelity."

PONYS, THE: Shishimumu 2LP (TLR 006 LP). $26.00

Double 180gm vinyl in a heavy weight full color gatefold sleeve.

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & ULTRASOUND: In G 10" (TLR 018LP). $13.00

"Wonderful collaboration recorded live on-air at KVRK Austin Texas, 2002. AMT's freak-out tendencies are mellowed somewhat by Ultrasound's melancholy minimalism, resulting in something sounding like a sort of chiming cosmic gamelan rock... think Ultrasound's Popol Vuh tribute with rock band in tow, and you'll be close... side one slowly builds from deep space buzz to some seriously lifted viola sawing/piano tinkling. Side two's dual guitar action hits some heavy extended cosmic chug, floating along on a thick wash of bass/synth/theremin/percussion... all headed for a final fuzz collapse. Play it loud... far-out 'invisible' 100% inkless packaging : clear vinyl, no labels, dry letterpressed transparent film covers... look close..."

TIMEBOMB (JAPAN):

MOSQUITO: UFO Catcher CD (BOMB 13). $18.00

21 cuts of "exotic blues sound," featuring Jad, Steve Shelley, and Tim.

VERMONSTER: Holy Sound Of American Pipe 2CD (BOMB 14). $18.00

Japanese-only CD version of TW 1024. This opus studio stock by Boston's most "coherent" rock band is a fairly pleasurable thing to behold. Just too long for 1 disc, the final track "You Can't Hide" is included as a separate 3" CD. Original LP on Twisted Village is now out of print.

HALF JAPANESE: Greatest Hits 2 CD (BOMB 23). $18.00

28 more tracks, spanning their entire career. Five tracks are unreleased, from '86 and '93 versions of the band.

19/JUKE: 97 Circles CD (BOMB 41). $13.00

Amazing CD reissue program of the complete output by the early 80's band led by Shinroh Ohtake (most recently known to us for his Puzzle Punks duo with Yamantaka Eye); the first and fourth albums are now sold out, we have limited stock on the middle 2. "Legendary Tokyo's obscure band 19 (pronounced 'Juke') — formed by Shinro (Puzzle Punks) in the early 80s. They put out 4 albums and 1 single of unbelievable native mental disorderly sound between '80 and '82 on their own. It's the absolute root sound of the Boredoms, Panasonic/Sahko music (!). You'll be killed by them now in 1996. 97 Circles is the 2nd album issued in '81. Though it's influenced by No New York, such way of crashing sound isn't normal. Roots sound of early Boredoms!"

HIGH RISE: Psychedelic Speed Freaks '84-'85 CD (BOMB 48 CD). $13.00

"Tokyo's veteran hard-acid-core trio well known for their releases from PSF label. This issue features lots of unreleased material. It's the 'megaton violent version' of their 1st and 2nd album (another version of their 2nd album remixed CD), with unreleased material recorded around those times. This will show their dark side of the early days. I can see your ears bleeding."

TINY RECORDS:

POTTS, JOE: Gift From The Dead CD (TINY 01). $13.00

New label run by Tom Recchion, one of key figures in the LAFMS group, whose "purpose is to support composers, sound artists, experimental musical activities of all kinds as well as having a hand in preserving various recordings of the past...it is the hope that Tiny Records will continue the legacy left by the L.A.F.M.S." Joe Potts started recording strange sound pieces in 1973 in a collaborative group that would later be called Le Forte Four, and is responsible for coining the term Los Angeles Free Music Society. This disc finds him sampling the Grateful Dead to highly experimental effect, but unlike Oswald's Greyfolded, you may have trouble picking out your favorite parts! "After 20 odd years of very odd sound projects, Joe Potts has finally cleared the edge and in plunging disc-first squarely into the abyss. Gift... has got to be one of the most disquieting releases ever. To begin with, the disc consists of one 46-minute composition generated primarily from a defective CD. And then there's those orgasmic shrieks from the anonymous vocalist. Finally (just for the sheer pop appeal) throw in some La Monte Young-esque chord extensions. And probably the most bizarre aspect of this CD is that although they have never been fused together in quite this way, all of these elements are ideas that Potts has been exploring for the last two decades." Limited stock...

POTTS, JOE: Sex Machine CD (TINY 18). $12.00

"Joe Potts is a founding member of that seminal group of slacker noise artists The Los Angeles Free Music Society, member of the irrepressible Le Forte Four, and master mind of Airway, the gnarliest noise band ever and currently one of four members of Extended Organ. For the past decade Joe Potts has been performing on an instrument of his own device, the chopped optigan. The optigan being a primitive optical sampler disguised as a parlor organ and marketed in the Seventies by Mattell's Boy Wonder Jack Ryan (Father of Barbie.) Potts chops the sound units out of optigans and wires them up so that all 64 channels can be played at once through mixers and effects. Sex Machine is an extended trance induction that seems to both remain static and constantly change. A peppering of subliminals at varying depths adds a spicy hook."

TIR GROUPE (CANADA):

LES MALEDICTUS SOUND: Les Maledictus Sound CD (TG 024 CD). $14.00

"(Originally released in 1968) this is one of the most bizarre records ever released and one of the most sought after titles on the collectors' market. The Maledictus Sound are to instrumental rock what Frankenstein was to science... a laboratory monster... a strange creature assembled from a mish-mash of diverse musical sounds. Psychedelic pop, romantic ballads, musical tongue-in-cheek, drugged out chipmunks, near-delirium sound effects, horror movie screamadelia and a mega-twisted '60s vibe. Eclectic, epileptic. For Jello Biafra this is 'some of the most screaming exotica-psych I've ever heard in my life'. Featuring a bonus track."

LES BIBERONS BÂTIS: Ok! C'est Correct! CD (TG 030 CD). $14.00

"Satan Bélanger, the return? In 1993 the first assault of Les Biberons Bâtis, Attaboy On Meurt (an anthology of cassettes, released in 1984-85) had corrupted our ears in a beautiful way. Now, here's Ok C'est Correct, the second album of this group which is actually a solo act. Bruno Tanguay, the brain and the Satan Bélanger of Les Biberons Bâtis, presents us here his last grand cru. More machines, less humans, an uncommon experience on layers of plump dub sounds and psychedelic elasticity. Armed with synths, a clavinet, guitars and a vocoder, the Biberons Bâtis give birth to an disc well anchored in his roots but with an eye to the future, guaranteed to keep the cult of Satan Bélanger alive. About Satan, Bélanger that is, he doesn't sing any more, he speaks a little, but profoundly spazzes the knobs, enough to stun your hip neurones. Orgasms and discomfort assured!"

TOBIN (GERMANY):

TOBIN: 01 12" (TOBIN 01). $9.00

An awesome duel-minded minimal classic, one sides takes on the softer side of Mike Ink-related Cologne-style repetition, the other is loose and loopy non-beat drone explosion.

[last copy, in "used DJ condition", sorry]

TOEI MUSIC PUBLISHING (JAPAN):*TARKOVSKY, ANDREY: Vol. 1: Ivanovo Detstvo CD (TMP 2001). $24.00

A series of 4 CDs (released in 1995, only in Japan) documenting the film music of the late, legendary Russian filmmaker Andrei Tarkovsky (1932-86). This first volume features sound-track music composed by Vyacheslav Ovchinnikov. This one is only 27 minutes long, so has a cheaper list price. "Musically speaking, this CD has less of the Sound-Research evident in the latter two volumes, opting for a more orchestral approach. Not to say that there aren't some sinister drones and strange bursts of group-sound. There are some scathingly odd sections reminiscent of Jerry Goldsmith's film-work circa Chinatown (esp. in the taut piano figures), replete with dense clusters of sound. Firmly rooted in the post-1950 school of academic composition. 11 Tracks." — Hrvatski

TARKOVSKY, ANDREY: Andrey Rublyov CD (TMP 2002). $32.00

"A grimly realistic portrayal of a 15-th century Russian Monk which was made in 1966 but was banned in Russia until 1971." — Ephraim Katz. Soundtrack by Vyacheslav Ovchinnikov. "Dark, atonal passages of repeating figures and isolated percussive elements. Some completely unrecognizable instruments, extended performance techniques reminiscent of Lachenmann's string pieces and Penderecki's choral work. Fairly jostling washes of sound. Ensemble playing mixed with field recordings of post-war machinery and plenty of tape hiss (or is it rain...), for that chain-dragging on the ground effect. Startlingly AMM-like in places. Serious rising sounds. 15 tracks." — Hrvatski

TARKOVSKY, ANDREY: Solaris CD (TMP 2003). $32.00

The 1972 SF masterpiece based on the Stanislaw Lem book. Strange, arcane, slow and beautiful, one of the quintessential "space" movies of the 70s and about as fine a document in the world of visual arts as you could ask for. Soundtrack composed by Edward Artemyev & Vyacheslav Ovchinnikov (uncredited). "Excellent long-reverb location-sound-collection not far from the Organum school of non-movement bliss. Mysterious. Comes as close to recreating in sound the whole 'space' experience as thought possible. Serious atmospherics (key word: dense). Reoccurring pipe organ theme. Dripping. Think of the best of the Mainstream-label catalogue. 17 tracks." — Hrvatski

TARKOVSKY, ANDREY: Zerkalo/Stalker CD (TMP 2004). $32.00

Soundtracks by Edward Artemyev. Zerkalo is from 1974 and Stalker is from 1979. "Artemyev's compositional ability is closer inspected here, in a much more varied assortment of musical cues than previous volumes. The Zerkalo pieces are an eclectic assortment of low drones, ensemble systems-chaos, Handel influenced string interludes, kit-based space ritual chants, dawn-of-time instrument discovery, and one ethically challenging mariachi blast. But the real goods are delivered via the second (Stalker) half of the CD; several mellotron-bedded pieces involving SERIOUSLY echoplexed-out phase-synced lute/flute meditations relaying the order of the cosmos to each other over two channels, with underlying sub-aquatic ambience and resonant synth-footing. Excellent stuff, a must-hear. Certainly the place to start with this somewhat daunting series. 21 tracks." — Hrvatski

TOKTOK RECORDS (GERMANY):*TOKTOK VS. SOFFY O: Toktok vs. Soffy O 2LP (TOK 002 LP). $16.00

"The first album of Toktok vs Soffy O. Featuring 'Missy Queen's Gonna Die', 'Ludicrous Idiots/Day Of Mine' and ten more motherfuckin burners." CD version is via major label distribution in Europe and not currently available.

TOKUMA (JAPAN):*TORTOISE: Remixed CD (TKCB 71016). $18.00

[Limited stock/reduced price of this earlier edition (since superceded by TKCB 72259).] Extremely desirable Japanese-only CD compilation of the Thrill Jockey/City Slang 12"-only remix series from '96. Remixes by U.N.K.L.E., John McEntire, Markus Popp (Oval), Spring Heel Jack, Jim O'Rourke vs. Bedouin Ascent, Luke Vibert (Plug) & Bundy Brown.

OVAL: Iso Fabric CD (TKCB 71277). $31.00

Japanese-only compilation. Features 8 tracks culled from Systemisch & 94 Diskont plus 4 exclusive unreleased tracks that are only available here. The exclusive tracks ("Instantan 1+2," "Gegenlesen," "Eigentlichen 2.0," & "70 Kino") make up about 10 minutes worth of music — I didn't hesitate to buy a copy, but only Oval completists really "need" to have it.

OVAL: Dok CD (TKCB 71355). $31.00

Japanese pressing of the Oval/Christophe Charles collaboration, (previously issued by Mille Plateaux/Thrill Jockey) with 4 exclusive tracks (22 minutes) to this edition.

MOUSE ON MARS: Glam CD (TKCB 71440). $31.00

Japanese-only CD version of the next MoM Sonny release (vinyl-only release in Germany and the US); beautiful digi-pak sleeve. "12 moody and colourful songs that were originally produced for an American generation-x love & drug movie that Jan Werner and Andi Thoma had been asked to do the soundtrack for. In the end, the film was never made. Recommended for headphone use." Plus three bonus tracks only found on this Japanese version: "Snap Bar," "Pool Smooth and Hidden," & "Hetzchase Railway".

OVAL: Aero Dero CD (TKCB 71463). $17.00

Japanese-only 4 track EP, 13 minutes long. Features 4 new tracks: "Episonik," "Senti-Welt," "Motif" & "Zentrik". Brilliant rhymic clicking and Markus Popp processing mania.

OVAL: PROCESS+4 CD (TKCB 71869). $31.00

Japanese version of the new Oval album (released in the US on Thrill Jockey on 6/20), with 4 bonus tracks exclusive to this release ("Excel", "Newslo", "Stueck" & "K-Sum"). "Markus Popp, a.k.a. Oval, is a mastermind of digital technology. Ovalprocess continues his elaborate manifesto of electronic music coupled with multimedia wizardry. This new release from Oval is a flowing, textured manuscript that utilizes sublime low end rhythm and directive pulsation in a manner that eases the listener into a soft and pillowy world dominated by electronic bleeps, glitches and moans. Ovalprocess equally represents an innovative music software application, designed by Popp, as much as it serves as the core engine to an innovative Oval sound installation. The installation is centered around one or several publicly accessible sound terminals running the Ovalprocess application, rendering the exhibit a customizable, collaborative workspace. Making the installation accessible in a public space is the ideal aesthetic that Popp craves—he feels it is far more effective than offering a CDrom or another option that would make the application available on a more individual basis. The Ovalprocess installation allows the public to use sounds that are found on the album to produce their own Oval-like music. His latest release displays Popp's talent at developing a deep and complex groove with seemingly difficult tools. Ovalprocess is best enjoyed at a loud volume. Oval's rich and round tones provide a Siren-like lure that is irresistible."

OVAL: PrelCommers +4 CD (TKCB 71941). $31.00

The new Oval album, featuring Markus Popp processing of Oval sounds, 1996-99. There are 8 tracks listed on the digipak, but 12 tracks included, so assumably 4 tracks which will only appear on this Japanese edition (titled simply "I", "II", "III" & "IV" on the insert). US version on Thrill Jockey in 2001. Gorgeous packaging per usual for this Tokuma releases, digital artwork by Frieda Luczak.

ISOTOPE 217: Who Stole The Walkman? CD (TKCB 71942). $30.00*SEA AND CAKE, THE: Oui CD (TKCB 71998). $31.00

Japanese version of the new Sea And Cake album, with 2 bonus tracks ("Props Of Upper Class" & "Pitch Direct"). Includes lyric sheet not found on the US version.

TORTOISE: Millions Now Living Will Never Die CD (TKCB 72257). $24.00

New versions of the first 3 Tortoise CDs as issued by Tokuma in Japan. These have new catalog numbers, new lower prices and new digipak sleeves. Millions was the 2nd Tortoise album as released on Thrill Jockey, with this Japanese version containing three bonus tracks: the Duophonic single track "Gamera", Macro Dub Infection Vol. 1 track, and Lounge Ax Benefit track. This version adds an additional 4th bonus track: "A Grape Dope" (something to do with Grand Royal?).

TORTOISE: A Digest Compendium of the Tortoise's World CD (TKCB 72258). $24.00

Japanese-only release. New version in digipak sleeve. A compilation of Tortoise tracks from their self-titled Tortoise Thrill Jockey album and their deleted remix album Rhythms, Resolutions & Clusters. Plus three tracks from early 70's and one one previously unreleased bonus track.

TORTOISE: Remixed CD (TKCB 72259). $24.00

New version of this extremely desirable Japanese-only CD compilation of the Thrill Jockey/City Slang 12"-only remix series from '96. Remixes by U.N.K.L.E., John McEntire, Markus Popp (Oval), Spring Heel Jack, Jim O'Rourke vs. Bedouin Ascent, Luke Vibert (Plug) & Bundy Brown. Although this album is not really 100% "Japanese only" anymore, this new version adds the Autechre remix of "Adverse Camber" (first CD appearance, previously available on the Thrill Jockey 12.11 12") as a bonus track.

MOUSE ON MARS: Agit Iter It It CD (TKCB 72272). $21.00

Japanese CD issue of this recent Sonig label EP. This edition features 8 tracks; the 5 from the Sonig 12", one of the 2 from the bonus 7" that comes with the 12" and 2 exclusive CD tracks: "Rustc" (extended organ version of "Stammtick" from Diskdusk) and "Relistic Retrail" (Idology session outtake).

HAINO, KEIJI: Keeping On Breathing CD (TKCF 77016). $31.00

Solo album for electric guitar and vocal, unspecified recording date. A meditative, almost folk-like album at times, of typical intensity and beauty.

BAILEY/KEIJI HAINO, DEREK: Drawing Close, Attuning CD (TKCF 77017). $31.00

Full title: Drawing Close, Attuning — The Respective Signs of Order and Chaos. A highly anticipated series of guitar duets, studio recordings made in London in Nov. 1996.

FUSHITSUSHA: The Wisdom Prepared CD (TKCF 77021). $31.00

"One 75 minute recording from the same sessions as TKCF 77020. Much heavier/in the mold-blueprint set forth by previous releases. Further lurch-command blast offerings of non chart-topping death-space exceeding all regulations/rhetoric of 'correct' instrument procedure. This time no lyric reprint, in lieu of space taken by several photos detailing Haino's upper facial/cheekbone structure." —Hrvatski. [most of these Takuma Haino releases — there are 8 in all — seem to be o/p at the moment...]

HIGH RISE: Destination — Best Of CD (TKCU 77105). $18.00

"Unbelievably, High Rise are celebrating their twentieth anniversary this year. Strictly speaking, they started out as Psychedelic Speed Freaks, only taking the High Rise name in 1983. But, whatever — the will to a state where uber-heaviness and uber-speed merge into one all-enveloping bliss has been their one shining goal for a full two decades now. Acceleration, motor-burn, and blinding forward motion encapsulated through guitar, bass and drums. What you get is twelve remastered tracks of totally thrilling, full on, heads down, speed-psych-metal mayhem taken from their classic PSF releases. The album also includes two previously unreleased tracks: a studio version of live favourite 'Ik'on', and a new piece called 'Heavenly Power'. For once the superlatives are fully deserved. High Rise are the band that kick-started a label and a scene. They're the power-trio to end all power-trios." — Alan Cummings.

TOM (GERMANY):*SHEFFIELD, JON: It's Been So Long Since I've Seen The Ocean CD (TOM 12). $13.00

"Jon Sheffield contributed to the Tomlab label compilation For Friends in 2000. Many people kept asking us when more songs would be available and indeed Jon Sheffield has taken more than a year to complete his first full release on Tomlab. With It's Been So Long Since I've Seen The Ocean he is presenting his very own sketch for a wonderful universe of sounds that has first been presented live in Chicago in autumn 2000 as support act for Oval. With an ear close to the early sounds of electronica group Mouse on Mars, Jon Sheffield has apparently developed an amazing ease for merging electronic sounds with acoustic instruments (melodica, guitar and others) and wonderful voice samples that slip in between more like sounds and that bring a very emotional aspect into his songs ('Dear Yma'). His skills for arrangements make all tracks sound very dense and here and there beautiful melodies emerge from his songs that give the overall album a warm and sometimes even melancholic feel."

NOVISAD: Seleya LP (TOM 13 LP). $12.00

LP version.

KOEHLERMANN, ANGELIKA: Care CD (TOM 17 CD). $13.00

"Hello, I'm Angelika Koehlermann, from Hamburg, Care is my first album, this was supposed to be a kind of a road movie, but just a kind. In fact, this is the fictional story of a girl living in Paris and leaving her boyfriend. She decides one day to take a train. It goes to Köln and by chance she meets a guy who makes an electronic music label and suggests her to try playing music. Then she decides to play guitar tracks for japanese young people. There is no end to this story, because the only possible end was for her to die, but she preferred not to. There is no end to this record because the only possible one would have been to remove it and everybody wanted to listen to it before." Unofficial hint for increased confusion: the artist behind Angelika Koehlermann is a very well known french artist who previously released under the name Michiko Kusaki on Gerhard Potuzniks label 'Angelika Koehlermann'. Expect lo-fi electronica pop with wonderful vocals...good for the heart..."

KOEHLERMANN, ANGELIKA: Care LP (TOM 17 LP). $12.00

LP version.

FLIM: Given You Nothing CD (TOM 18 CD). $13.00

"The man behind Flim is Enrico Wuttke, a new artist from Dresden, Germany who has been working all quietly over the past years in his homerecording studio to develop his unique sound. His debut CD Given you nothing surprised us very much because it is somehow pointing back to the very first Tomlab release Visor — both with evident references to Talk Talk's Laughing Stock album. Given you nothing is a very playful, warm and acoustic sounding release, far away from the bespoken Visor CD and hard to compare to anything around. It maybe transports feelings that are close to the wonderful Wechsler Garland release on Morr Music but soundwise it is much more centered on organ and piano as well as guitar sounds that sometimes remind us of Fridge."

FLIM: Given You Nothing LP (TOM 18 LP). $12.00
LP version.

TORAL, RAFAEL: Early Works CD (TOM 19 CD). $13.00

"Having completed Violence of Discovery and Calm of Acceptance, I found myself drawing a continuous line going back in time some 15 years. These early pieces are at the other end of that line. At the time of recording them, I was far from dreaming I would ever release records at all. I found them of little value then, but under the light of all my following works, from 'Sound Mind Sound Body' through 'Wave Field' and 'Cyclorama Lift' to 'Violence of Discovery and Calm of Acceptance', they stand out as having paved the way for all this music." —Rafael Toral, December 2001.

CASITONE FOR THE PAINFULLY ALONE: Answering Machine Music CD (TOM 21 CD). $13.00

"CFPA is songs made up, sung and played by Owen Ashworth. His first release on Tomlab under the title Pocket Symphonies for Lonesome Subway Cars has gained a lot of attention in the alternative press with an endless list of references ranging from Mouldy Peaches, Mountain Goats, Smog, Silver Jews, Young Marble Giants to Will Oldham. Casitone for the Painfully Alone's self released debut album, Answering Machine Music that has been hard to find previously is now available in an expanded version. A series of musical answering machine messages disguised as pop songs. Recorded in 1999 on 4-tracks, answering machines, and boom boxes and played entirely on swap meet and thrift store bought miniature keyboards, it just may be the best battery-powered pop record you've ever heard."

CASITONE FOR THE PAINFULLY ALONE: Answering Machine Music LP (TOM 21 LP). $12.00
LP version.

NOVISAD: CD (TOM 3). $13.00

"A project by Kristian Peters from Rostock, Germany. Novisad is the first release of a forthcoming series on the Tom imprint that will give an important impulse to ambient music and that will underline the significance of this small but growing German label. The music of Novisad is very much influenced by the computer game culture of our days, an associated adventure game is available for download from our website. Kristian Peters describes his music as 'music that enchants, that beautifully and imperatively finds its way to the human ear, as if it was natural but not abstract'. Immediate references might be to something like Oval, Basic Channel, and even Curd Duca." From De:Bug: "The best ambient album in years...extremely deep, very deserted, incredibly beautiful and absolutely perfect."

TORAL, RAFAEL: Cyclorama Lift 3 CD (TOM 7). $10.00

21-minute piece, mid-price CD release. In a similar style and from the same sessions as the Aeriola Frequency CD on Perdition Plastics. "Cyclorama Lift is a piece about the idea that electronic resonance is everywhere in our electronically mediated perception of sounds. Like a ghost-in-the-machine. It's performed with an empty circuit, basically a feedback loop using as main instruments two 8-second delays and a 4-band parametric equalizer. There's no input, the loop is constantly nourishing and digesting itself. The circulating sound is electronic resonance."

INKBL0T: The Language Game CD (TOM 9). $13.00

"When Jeremy Ballard was 17 he discovered electronic music and the powers of the synthesizer. Growing up in a suburb of Dallas, TX, there weren't many people to make music with. So, he began to make music alone. In 1996 he moved to Austin to go to college and by 1997 was playing around town in bars, galleries, college radio and the living rooms of houses under the project name Inkblot. Now, Jeremy is 22, Tomlab is releasing his first full CD. The Language Game is electronic progress music with subtle, light-hearted syncopations and a playful sense of austerity and attention to detail. Its mature simplicity and layered composition juxtapose the melodic with the unmelodic, the hi-fi with the lo-fi, and the digital with the acoustic. So far, Jeremy has shied away from using the computer in his studio due to not having any software. Instead, he prefers his daisy-chained midi setup of samplers, sequencers and synthesizers. He arranges and records in real-time directly to DAT until he gets the desired performance, sometimes adding acoustic, bass or baritone guitar...Up to date Inkblot is the strange mutt puppy of life, electro, ambient and post-rock experiences."

TO NE CASUALTIES:

DR. WALKER: Escape From Cologne 2CD (TCCD 0050). $18.00

"Come experience the best of the best of Cologne, Germany's underground music scene. Dr. Walker introduces 12 trance-ambient-funk tracks on this double CD, a collective of music from Cologne's premier mixers and DJs (Cosmopolis, Air Liquide, Peta, and more). With releases currently on Harvest, Syncron, Electrobunker Cologne, and a new Air Liquide LP scheduled for release, Dr. Walker continues to be a major force in electronic music."

CZUKAY & DR. WALKER, HOLGER: Clash 2CD (TCCD 9830). $15.00

New American pressing of this double live CD, previously issued by Sideburn in Germany. Recorded live in the US 1997 and @ Liquid Sky, Cologne 1996. "'How does European avant-garde influence teenage rituals? Holger Czukay, former bassist of the now-infamous and most influential German Krautrock-demigods Can, recently joined forces with German techno musician Dr. Walker aka Ingmar Koch from the Cologne-based techno cult Air Liquide for a series of shows that went around the world: first appearing at Cologne's Liquid Sky Club, the experiment worked out so well that two twosomes decided to carry their outrageous melange of experimental techno, drum'n'bass, ambient, noise, sampling and tape-looping overseas. Without any preparations and rehearsals, Czukay and Walker conspired like one high-wired organism: Czukay offered bits of samples, splicing in taped odds and ends and tweaking them with a fuzz as Walker orchestrated a host of beats and grooves. Of course, all this was recorded, and is now released on Sideburn Recordings: The unique flow of the shows in Cologne, San Francisco and Minneapolis, that, according to Holger Czukay, had a lot to do with the way Can worked almost thirty years ago, is available now on Double CD and will convince the world of how the electronic-language of the late 90s is the central media of the European avant-garde."

CZUKAY, HOLGER: Good Morning Story CD (TCCD 9944). $14.00

"Kraut rock pioneer Holger Czukay's first studio album in six years is a collage of music, art, and electronics. This musical adventure draws from Holger's experience as a member of Can, even incorporating 'Vitamin C' into a rare groove break. The album also marks Holger's entry into the digital medium, though he remains true to his jump cut style. Good Morning Story is a testament to Holger's inventive Stockhausen-style approach to music." Featuring Can members Michael Karoli, Irwin Schmidt, Jaki Liebezeit, plus Jah Wobble.

CZUKAY, HOLGER: La Luna CD (TCCD 9945). $15.00

An "Electronic high ceremony", recorded live at Holger's lab in Cologne, 5/17/96. "Kraut rock pioneer and founding member of Can, Holger Czukay presents an auditory experience to counter his last release, Good Morning Story. La Luna is an intensive single track of dark, linear soundscapes that create another brilliant masterpiece for the Czukay legacy."

DR. WALKER: Escape From Cologne 12" (TCLP 0051). $6.00

"Come experience the best of the best of Cologne's underground music scene. Dr. Walker brings us 6 tracks from his forthcoming double CD of the same title. With releases currently on Harvest, Syncron, Electrobunker Cologne, and a new Air Liquide LP scheduled for release, Dr. Walker continues to be a major force in electronic music." Features tracks under the following alias: Air Liquide, Dr. Walker, L.U.K.L., Cosmopolis, Wulfmanson.

CZUKAY, HOLGER: Good Morning Story LP (TCLP 9946). $13.00

TONSCHACHT (GERMANY):

A.F.R.I. STUDIO: Room Service (Part 1-3. 7" (TONS 003). $6.00

"The second release of a.f.r.i. studios, a project of the Cologne-based Andres Krause. as on his debut CD which appeared last year on his own BMB Lab-label he's creating atmospheric electronic music which could be compared to releases on, say, Meme or Rastermusic. It is not only his almost Ikedaesque use of 'sinewaves', but his combination of them with the linear, almost narrative construction of loops that makes the three parts of this record so fascinating."

ASHTRAY NAVIGATIONS: "End-of-the-pier" Vault 7" (TONS 004). $6.00

Especially side A of this 7" marks a bit of a departure in the oeuvre of the semi-legendary Ashtray Navigations from the UK for it contains his first pieces done with computer. These two crackling miniatures collide with two short interventions by guitar into a very dense and dynamic web of sounds. Side B contains a long, almost elegiac multi-track guitar-piece which might move to tears not only connoisseurs of le jazz non."

SUCHY, JOSEPH: Tau 7" (TONS 005). $6.00

"Already on his first 7" from the early 90s the Cologne-based guitar-maniac Joseph Suchy explored the possibilities of the coalition between guitar and electronics, then together with Jan St. Werner and F.X. Randomiz on the long o/p first release of their Gefriem-label. Some years have passed since and Suchy is now working with guitar plus electronics on his own — the first results of these works were released on Grob which he is also co-running; this is his second release of his heavily reworked, bombastic walls of sounds — which let you know how Hendrix would have sounded in the 00s. Or Ron Asheton in the age of glitch. Or whatever."

AMBARCHI, OREN: Der Kleine König 7" (TONS 011). $7.00

"Der Kleine König' is Ambarchi's first 7" and certainly a step in a new direction — till now his drone, almost poetic explorations were done solely with guitar and effect units. This is his first release constructed with computer, and it shows — especially on side b — a yet unknown harsh, piercing but very clear sound. Imagine Kevin Drumm kickin' Raster-Noton's butt. Side a however contains a beautiful, yet distorting dense piece which develops around a fragmented melody of ovalish melancholy."

WHITMAN, KEITH FULLERTON: Live (at the Tremont Theater) 7" (TONS 012). $7.00

"A beautiful diversion to his mighty drill'n'bass productions as Hrvatski. You could witness that already last year on his first release on Apartement B, a stunning guitar-cum-laptop CD. Although 'Live (at the Tremont Theater)' also consists of these elements the result differs from that CD for it's more a coalition between the fragile sound of the acoustic guitar and the punctual sparkling electronic interruptions by the computer processing. The sublime beauty of the two long pieces — the 7" contains almost 14 minutes of music — of, say, Loren-Mazzacane Connors or some of O'Rourke's early pieces which results in a strumming drone-fest. Imagine Godspeed You Black Emperor! stripped down to a solo project."

JAZZKAMMER: Knitter 7" (TONS 013). $7.00

"Knitter is the first 7" from this Norwegian duo — guitarist, improviser and composer John Hegre (also in Der Brief) and Lasse Marhaug, one of the most productive musicians in the international noise/experimental underground of the last 10 years. Jazzkammer combines timbre sound textures, drones, crashing noise, digitalia, field recordings, turntables, static electric atmospheres, samplers sine waves and location recordings, all used in free improvisation to create fragmented, eclectic and relentless yet focused and massive collages. 'A-sia' might remind you of mixture between the hi-speed electronics of Belgian irregularities scratch pet land and the microsound-turntablism ala Otomo Yoshihide or Martin Tétreault, 'b-sia' begins like 'Pop' defined by the Tochit Aleph crew, but slowly between layers of distortions there rise sweet, Fenneszian melody as if they were re-arranged by Rudolf E.ber."

FIBO-TRESPO: A Hoax. A Scam. A Phony. 7" (TONS 014). $7.00

"Fibo-Trespo is the project of DJ/multi-instrumentalist Sindre Bjerga from Stavanger/Norway (owner of the Gold Soundz label and zine), mainly as a duo with Kjetil D. Brandsdal. Together they explored different subgenres of experimental music, from field recordings via music concrete to improv and back, on several tapes and 7"s and a very special sort of rock-deconstruction on their first LP (on Smalltown Supersound), which at the same time contained already less improvisation, more electronics, samples, electric toys. This direction which is further developed on this 7". A Hoax. A Scam. A Phony is the first Fibo-Trespo record Bjerga released together with Andres Gjerde (owner of the Humbug label). Side A contains a more ambient piece which consists of melancholic organ melodies mixed with miniatures on a toy-piano and a wild oscilloscope sounds like a homemade sci-fi-soundtrack in the vein of Forbidden Planet. Side B begins as a thick, multi-layered and heavily distorted drone piece — which lets you know how a jam-session between the vibracathedral orchestra with Tony Conrad could sound like — and ends in abstract, celestial reverber. Those two very different sides illustrates the eclecticism inside the cosmos of Fibo-Trespo's homemade weirdness which sometimes isn't that far away from the genius of early Royal Trux."

SUMMER, DONNA: Fluxus, Inc. 7" (TONS 015). $8.50

"With Fluxus, Inc. we present the second 7" by Donna Summer aka Jason Forrest from Brooklyn, NY — visual artist, musician and legendary radiodiscjockey of 'Advanced D & D' on New York's WFUM — after last year's Popxplosion on Brooklyn Beats, one of the finest tour-de-forces through the archive of popmusic since the invention of laptopmusic. On side A you'll get the breakbeat/cut up/plunderphonics-mixture which became already characteristic for Donna Summer — however, on Fluxus, Inc. this wild eclecticism gets interrupted with voices that seem to come out of early film noir and passages of musique concrète which blur the boundaries between the sounds of digitalia and turntablism. This highly entertaining plagiarism will not only suit fans of Hrvatski and DJ/Rupture. Side B brings a very special collaboration between Donna Summer and David Grubbs — in 'Awkward Song of Love' (almost 7:00 minutes long) Donna Summer's processing and twisted breaks are interacting with and reworking David Grubbs' wonderful songwriting and improvisations on the acoustic guitar. A stunning mixture between the newest school of weird 'electronics' and of the finest producers of contemporary avantrock which you definitely never heard before."

SCHAEFER, JANEK: Early Electronic Compositions 7" (TONS 016). $8.50

"Both of these compositions were produced while I was working freelance for de Rijke Marsh Morgan architects in London. One afternoon I had a message to call a guy named 'Jet Mistry' who worked for the lift company Thyssen. He was a chatty guy so we talked about names etc, and I decided to dedicate a track to his as I liked it so much. This was produced using an 'RS Integrator' analogue patch bay synthesizer that I'd bought around then with the profits of working a 96 hours week on a new London park competition. Another project we produced at the practice was a quirky, live, stop frame short video showcasing various projects for a touring architecture exhibition. I was asked to edit and produce the sound. Side B is a 7" mix with the spoken sections removed."

DAVIS, GREG: Gather/Scatter 7" (TONS 017). $8.50

"This record was created entirely from a casio SK1 drum machine sample. This sample was then processed in real-time using a custom-built max/msp sound environment. 'Scatter' was created by subtracting (or scattering) these sounds, processing them further and adding silences until I achieved a desired lesser density. These pieces were created between the late winter of 2001 and the early fall of 2002. This record is dedicated to John Cage." — Greg Davis.

TONSPORT (GERMANY):

VA: Bye Bye Mr. Jagger CD (TONS 010 CD). $15.00

"With their two years of existence the label Tonsport comes with it's first CD. The 74 minute long compilation was mixed by Alex Multhaup, head of the label Karmarouge, which has achieved cult status already. The material was derived exclusively from the label's artists, whose releases (001-010) so far only came out on vinyl. The compilation was completed by titles of Gabriel Ananda (Karmarouge/Millennium/Superstition) and the mixing of Alex Multhaup. More artists you will find: Filmpalast (Dirk Schilling/Perfecto, Hope rec., Trapez) Freitag (the boss himself!) and MIR aka Markus Junker. Beneath clearly technoid tracks there are many pleasant cool and grooving electronic tracks, which are suitable for lounging as well as for relaxed home-listening."

TOO PURE (UK):

ROTHKO: Red Cells/White Cells 7" (PURE 126). $4.00

Single which preceded A Continual Search For Origins, contains two exclusive tracks not found on the album.

ROTHKO: A Continual Search For Origins CD (PURE 127 CD). $15.00

"It's official. Rothko, the bass guitar trio are dead. After five years together, the threesome felt they had taken their music as far as they could and decided (amicably) it was time to draw an end to that particular chapter. Long live Rothko. The trio may be gone but Rothko aren't. Founder-member, Mark Beazley, decided to call upon the members of Delicate AWOL to help form the new look band. This is not only their first album together but also their first album on their new home, Too Pure. The inspiration for the album comes from the time Mark spent in Switzerland last year, 'the whole album reminds me of being somewhere else, which was my intention. To create a different space, of being elsewhere, travelling and discovering things along the way.' The title of the album signifies humanity's (and Mark's) endless fascination and search about where we come from, and where we're going (either philosophically, spiritually, personally or anthropologically). 'With advanced DNA testing techniques, we can even discover who our ancestors may have been, where our gene pool originated. All of this I am fascinated in.'" Features 2 exclusive tracks not found on the LP version.

ROTHKO: A Continual Search For Origins LP (PURE 127 LP). $13.00

LP includes free 7" which features four exclusive tracks.

TOO PURE/DUOPHONIC:

STEREOLAB: Switched On (Volume 1) CD (PURE 78 CD). $15.50

"It's back. Out of print on CD for three years, unavailable on U.S. LP for at least five (originally issued in 1992). Reissue of the first volume in Stereolab's ongoing series of singles and rarities collections. Two subsequent collections, Refried Ectoplasm and Aluminum Tunes have been released by Duophonic and Drag City to great demand."

STEREOLAB: Switched On (Volume 1) LP (PURE 78 LP). $11.00

TORTURE GARDEN (UK):

VA: Torture Garden CD (TG 06). $19.00

A compilation of tracks by bands who've performed at "the world's most cutting-edge fetish body-art and sub-culture club." Includes tracks by Coil, Boyd Rice & Tiffany Anders, Death in June, Test Dept., The Tiger Lillies, Von Magnet, Minty, the Naked Goat and other laughable stuff. Appears to feature all common LP tracks. Sorry.

TOSHIBA/EMI (JAPAN):

XTC: Go 2 CD (TOCP 65712). $14.50

Licensed for release in the US by Caroline, these are Japanese pressings in the limited edition paper sleeves, at domestic pricing! "Recorded less than a year after their debut album White Music, Go 2 continues the quirky, punchy punk of its predecessor. Filled with kaleidoscopic lyrics, the album has an energetic, herky-jerky quality to its tunes including the stand-out track 'Meccanik Dancing.' As a bonus, XTC's classic single 'Are You Receiving Me?' which was recorded around this time but released as a stand-alone single is included. The limited edition packaging includes the original LP insert (featuring a map of XTC's hometown of Swindon!) as well as a replica of the Go + EP that was originally included in initial pressings of the vinyl album."

XTC: Black Sea CD (TOCP 65714). $14.50

"Black Sea is considered one of XTC's pop masterpieces. The album's dazzling collection of tunes makes biting sociopolitical statements beneath some of the most infectious pop ever written. Several of the band's greatest hits are featured including 'Respectable Street,' 'Generals and Majors,' and 'Towers of London' making it one of XTC's most consistently excellent albums. The limited edition packaging replicates the original green paper outer sleeve of the UK's original vinyl LP release."

XTC: English Settlement CD (TOCP 65715). $14.50

"Andy Partridges' 12 string acoustic guitar playing shines throughout what was XTC's most intricate and sophisticated album to date. Featuring longer and more expansive sounding songs, the album marks the transition between the poppy punk of their previous efforts and the more textural and elaborate songwriting style that XTC's sound would take for the rest of their albums. English Settlement was recorded during a highly prolific period, producing a double album's worth of songs among which included three classic singles: 'Senses Working Overtime,' 'Ball and Chain,' and 'No Thugs in Our House.' It continues to be one of the band's most popular albums."

RADIOHEAD: Itch CD (TOCP 8285). $25.00

1994 release, only available in Japan. Features 8 tracks of alternate and live versions. Tracklisting: 'Stop Whispering' (US version), 'Thinking About You', 'Faithless, The Wonder Boy', 'Banana Co.', 'Killer Cars' (live), 'Vegetable' (live), 'You' (live), 'Creep' (acoustic).

JACKS: Vacant World CD (TOCT 10131). $22.00

Reissue of this very legendary psychedelic masterwork from Japan, first released in 1968. Perhaps the closest the Japanese scene got to answering the genius of early Quicksilver Messenger Service, this is psychedelic rock with flashes of an exploratory, improvisational edge. Rumored to be a big influence on High Rise, one of their tracks was covered by Fushitsusha on Tokyo Flashback II; but this isn't all over-the-top nor garage-like. Soft vibes 'n reverberated guitar dominate some tracks and a splendid fragility echoes throughout. Fuzz guitar is subtle and effective. The whole thing is sequenced in classic 60s mode, with varied stylings. An obscure and near-lost artifact from the era. [there is a newer 24-bit remaster available on this release (TOCT 25104), but this prior, slightly cheaper version is still available as well]

JACKS: Super Session CD (TOCT 10132). $19.00

1998 official reissue of the Jacks' 2nd album, originally released in 1968, after Vacant World. Focusing more on the softer, melancholic side of the Jacks, this is a lesser album than Vacant World, but still something that fans would want to hear.

JACKS: Vacant World CD (TOCT 25104). $28.00

New reissue, w/ 24 bit remastering and card sleeve packaging. A very legendary psychedelic masterwork from Japan, first released in 1968. Perhaps the closest the Japanese scene got to answering the genius of early Quicksilver Messenger Service, this is psychedelic rock with flashes of an exploratory, improvisational edge. Rumored to be a big influence on High Rise, one of their tracks was covered by Fushitsusha on Tokyo Flashback II; but this isn't all over-the-top nor garage-like. TOSHOKLABS:

VA: Tōshōklabs Presents: Dated CD (TL 002). $12.00

"A compilation of curious electronic structures ranging from ambient and experimental noise to variations on electro-beeps to quirky digi-dub and drum'n'bass. At times dark and pensive while at others playful, Dated provides an eclectic mix of sequences and textures which have more in common with 80's and early 90s electronic outfits than they do with the hyper-programming prevalent in much of the current IDM output. Citing Severed Heads and earlier Cabaret Voltaire as well as the Detroit sound as influences, the disc seeks to attract listeners who have a passion for future music while challenging the notions of what future music really is." Features tracks by: Solomondilate, Elliot, Technique:concrete, Cardboardmen, Plex, Jack Russel & Lou Frutiger, MDK. Pronounced as "toe-shoke". Limited stock.

HEADSHELL: 12" (TL 003). $5.50

"Debuting on Tōshōklabs, London based producer Mark Hadley combines a hazy build of downtempo breaks with 909 programming that together glide along smoothly, offering an unnerving yet Zen-like meditative quality. Minimalist in construction à la Photek, Headshell's drum programming becomes the foundation for brewing and whistling atmospherics and heavily portamento'd melodies that have a slightly anxious edge. This combination of sparse, occasionally frenzied rhythms and nervous yet playful chord progressions makes for a lucid listen not unlike something you would get by crossing older Black Dog with Mick Harris' slower recordings."

VA: State Of The Art Heirloom CD (TL 004). $12.00

"Tshklabs returns for the summer with a calm and lucid compilation titled State of the Art Heirloom. Picking up where Dated left off, this 10 track CD features an ambient and found-sound aesthetic made with a minimum of DSP showmanship; in its place are audio splices of everyday happenings, wavering drones, melancholic horns and understated rhythms. The intent of the compilation is to examine the idea of 'folk' music as we progress into the 21st century and onto the next wave of digital culture, while trying to maintain a certain poetic sensibility. To that end, the tracks exhibit a polite disregard for the latest generative compositional trends in favor of a warmer organic feel. This is not to say that there isn't a good amount of experimentation to be found; the recording would make for a pleasant soundtrack to the forgotten story of discovering an old attic or junkyard treasure. Fans of the quieter passages found within Biosphere, Boards of Canada, Dettinger or the Touch label would do well to search out this release." Features: Antarktika, Ocone, Don Rainwater, Mark Hadley, Headsell, Taylor.

TOTAL ENERGY:

RA, SUN: Outer Space Employment Agency CD (NER 3021 CD). $13.00

"Sun Ra's appearances at the Ann Arbor Blues & Jazz Festivals of the early 70s are legendary. His explosive avant-jazz Arkestra hit the stage in a riot of color and sound that made a cosmic connection with his first major American festival audience and won him a whole new following. The 1973 Festival featured Sun Ra's Intergalactic Discipline Arkestra in a program of new material and tested compositions. Organized into a spell-binding suite, the show was punctuated by soloists John Gilmore, Marshall Allen, Akkal Ebah, Eloë Omoe, and the Space Ethnic Voices. Released for the first time by Total Energy Records, and produced by John Sinclair, the album is remastered from the original tapes and features unpublished photos from the show by Leni Sinclair, as well as comprehensive liner notes. This is the classic Sun Ra Arkestra at its peak of artistry and invention."

RA, SUN: Outer Space Employment Agency LP (NER 3021 LP). $9.00

RA AND HIS SOLAR MYTH ARKESTRA, SUN: Life Is Splendid CD (NER 3026 CD). $13.00

"Sun Ra's legendary performance at the 1972 Ann Arbor Blues & Jazz Festival — his first appearance before a major U.S. audience — presents his 'Space Is The Place' suite with brilliant contributions by John Gilmore, Marshall Allen, June Tyson, and the entire ensemble. Life Is Splendid is a previously unreleased performance, and from start to finish it is one of Ra's most dazzling presentations. The release, produced by John Sinclair, includes a 12 page booklet with liner notes and rare & unpublished photos."

RA AND HIS SOLAR MYTH ARKESTRA, SUN: Life Is Splendid LP (NER 3026 LP). $9.00

TOUCH (UK):

WOZENCROFT, JON: Touch & Fuse: The AfterShock Of The Invisible Book (TO 15 SC). $16.00

Softcover version. "64pp 50% colour 25% 2 colour 25% black and white - 60 images. Images from artwork for releases from Touch, Ash International, London Records, R&S, Swim, Sub Rosa, and articles, images and design for publications from Merge, Stockholm, Compendium Books, London, Vagabond, London and Fuse, London — some never published before. Published by Faculdade de Belas Artes de Porto (Portugal), in association with Touch. This is the most stunning purchase you will make this millennium..."

INDICATE: Whelm CD (TO 25). $14.50

"Indicate are Robert Hampson (Main, Loop, Scanner) and Jim O'Rourke. This CD is a result of a 1994 collaboration. All the original sounds were taken from field and analog recordings and other natural sources, and then processed in the studios. At times the sounds or characters return, demanding a new approach from the listener, whose expectations from this work are sometimes fulfilled, and at times confounded. The recording also shows how music, in fact, never stops, even in silence. Fragmented, non-linear sounds all make an appearance, continually recalling and revolving characters and memories."

IKEDA, RYOJI: O° CD (TO 30). $14.50

"Ryoji Ikeda is Japan's top avant-garde minimalist electronic composer, in the tradition of Alvin Lucier/The Hafler Trio/Bruce Gilbert/CM von Hausswolff/Panasonic...± has a particular sonority whose quality is determined by one's listening point in relation to the loudspeakers. Furthermore, the listener can experience a particular difference between speaker playback and headphone listening. The sound signals can be thought of in the same way as spotlights. Lastly, a high frequency sound is used that the listener only becomes aware of upon its disappearance."

GAMIL, SOLIMAN: A Map of Egypt Before the Sands CD (TO 33.15). $14.50

1997 release. "Soliman Gamil is a musicologist and composer who lived and worked in Cairo, Egypt. Born in 1924, his soundtracks for theatre and film have won international awards. His compositions are frequently used for radio and television. Soliman Gamil died in 1995. The Catalogue wrote in 1988: 'Instead of trying to create an atmosphere, this record reflects one. From the opening seconds of "Melody of Nile", you are there — lying in the sand, lips sore, throat parched, staring at the huge river. Quite why this record works when so many other atmospheric records just irritate, I do not know. There are no traditional synth sounds or strange electronic wave noises, just really interesting sounds, alien tunes. The Egyptian Music is wonderfully refreshing."

IKEDA, KEN: Tzuki (Moon) CD (TO 33.17). $14.50

"Touch is proud to present the first release by Japanese sound artist Ken Ikeda. Having been recently featured in the Hayward Gallery's Sonic Boom exhibition for his collaboration with the Japanese video artist Mariko Mori, Tzuki (Moon) is Ken Ikeda's first CD release in his own right. Hypnotic sound-fields strangely reminiscent of early Durrutti Column. This work has as its purpose taking samples from old movies and, by erecting a memorial for the blanks between frames, communicating with the god of images and attracting that holy being. I will be happy if, by saying a mass for our ancestors, I can reconstruct the time of darkness and the energy of the universe and so reach the far ends of the space between frames. Honouring the place our outer eyes cannot see is most necessary for our present-day materialistic society and for our virtual value standards." — Ken Ikeda

IKEDA, KEN: Merge CD (TO 33.19). $14.50

"Ken Ikeda is a musician and artist who has composed and recorded for David Lynch and for Moriko Mori, latterly as part of the Royal Academy's 'Apocalypse' exhibition in 2001. He featured as part of Sonic Boom, at the Hayward Gallery, London in 2000. He has released two albums for Touch. The first, tzuki [Moon] (Touch # T33.17, 2000), was strangely reminiscent of early Durrutti Column, hypnotic, dreamy and mystical. Here a darker side to his work unfolds; although retaining Buddhist notions of circles and cycles and other natural laws and influences, here he contemplates nature's shadowy side. The title, Merge, has as its root 'to drown' or 'immerse' oneself, its current usage with regard to convergence or (business) partnership not recorded until 1926 (OED). The double-edged nature of this recording is also reflected by its entirely different aspect determined by whether one plays it at high or low volume. These notions are further reflected in Jon Wozencroft's photography — two small and uninhabited islands almost enveloped by the rising sea levels, juxtaposed with a view of New York's Upper East Side, taken from Central Park, skyscrapers swimming in the cloud cover..."

VAINIO, MIKA: Onko CD (TO 34). $14.50

A collection of sound installation pieces by Finland's Mika Vainio, best known for his classic Sähkö recordings and Panasonic membership. The focus here is on pure sound output, variant streams of electronics, amplified hum, abstract hoverings and repetitious clickery. No beats, pure waves, fully essential sounding experimental music aimed for repeat dosage and maximum pleasure. Beautifully packaged too. "It marks a departure from his previous work, more tranquil, symphonic even, but no less intense in its exploration of the post-digital landscape and its quest to reveal the grain of the one/zero lifeform. Imagine the sounds that cellular patterns might make as they face the scrutiny of a high-powered microscope. Or the soundtrack to a road movie, filmed in the Arctic Circle in high summer. 'Onko' means 'Is It.'"

PARKER/LAWRENCE CASSERLEY, EVAN: Solar Wind CD (TO 35). $14.50

Evan Parker (soprano saxophone) and Lawrence Casserley (signal processing instrument), recorded in Amsterdam, 1/97. "Evan Parker is a highly respected improviser; Lawrence Casserley has a unique expertise in live computer processing for improvised music. Together they create a remarkable duo. Casserley, composer, conductor, percussionist and computer musician, has dedicated his professional career to live electroacoustic performance. Recently, Casserley has developed a signal processing instrument specifically for improvised music. Parker has been closely involved and the combination of their talents intensifies and enriches both of their work. The complex interaction made possible by Casserley's instrument leads to a rich and subtle fusion of their musical personalities."

JECK, PHILIP: Surf CD (TO 36). $14.50

Repress of this 1999 release. "Philip Jek is best known for his highly subversive work 'Vinyl Requiem' with Lol Sargent (a performance for 180 cassette record players, 12 slide-projectors and 2 movie-projectors). He has also worked extensively with the choreographer Laurie Booth, is a member of Slant and has had tracks released by Blast First (on the Deconstruct compilation) and The Soundworks Exchange (First Edition). Surf further explores his experimentation with loops and scratching. His methods leave much to chance; nothing is pre-planned or calculated. The seven tracks on this CD are surprisingly accessible: rhythms unfold from the miasma. Whilst highly original, there is a surprisingly antique feel to the sound: many of the samples, loops and scratches are taken from old vinyl records. Against nostalgia, Surf proves there to be vast potential in analogue recording processes, and by utilising seemingly outmoded sources, Philip Jek shows that you don't need a 24 track digital console and an enormous hard disk to make music that is both innovative and involving."

WATSON, CHRIS: Outside the Circle of Fire CD (TO 37). $14.50

"Chris Watson's second CD is a dramatic contrast to the spacious atmospheres of Stepping into the Dark (Touch 27, 1996). Featuring 22 close-up recordings of animals, birds and insect life, Outside the Circle of Fire enlarges our awareness of the sound universe, intimate with voices from the past. There is an intensity here that television pictures cannot conjure. These are the sounds of secret languages, particular events that have been recorded as close up as possible to try and reveal something of their individual beauty, rhythm, eloquence and sheer power. Several of the sounds would be inaudible or radically degraded more than a few metres from the animal. Yet others collectively use the acoustics of their habitat to modulate the message. They exist, however, whether we hear them or not — close up details of signals that are beyond our reach outside the circle of fire."

IKEDA, RYOJI: O° CD (TO 38). $14.50

Repress of the second full length by Ryoji Ikeda on Touch (originally released 2001), following the highly acclaimed ± [1996]. It is Ikeda's fourth solo CD overall — he previously released 1000 Fragments on his own CCI Recordings, and Time and Space, a double 3" CD set, for Staalpaat. Since then Touch has released Matrix [TO:44] and op. [TO:60]. Recorded and mixed at CCI studio in Tokyo, this one features 2 works in Ikeda's continually expanding electronic style. "O°C" is an exploration at the edge of one's perception — an extension of ± and the next step. "C" adds a velocity axis and a density axis to factors, O° amalgamated numbers, structures, frequencies and sounds.

FENNESZ: Plus Forty Seven Degrees 56' 37 CD (TO 40). $14.50

"This is Christian Fennesz' 2nd full length solo album after the highly acclaimed Hotel Parallel. At the beginning of 1999, he released Fennesz Plays, a CD single of radical treatments of Rolling Stones/Beach Boys classics on Jim O'Rourke's new label, Moikai. Fennesz has also made various contributions to compilation CDs, including the awesome 'Surf' on Decay; with Jim O'Rourke and Peter Rehberg he is a member of Fennoberg; he also plays with the Laptop Orchestra and Orchestra 33 1/3. Plus Forty Seven Degrees 56' 37" Minus Sixteen Degrees 51' 08" was recorded by Fennesz during July and August this summer, transforming his back garden into an open air studio, using only guitar and Powerbook. The tension between source and process has produced a powerful and hypnotic work, with echoes of My Bloody Valentine's classic Loveless album of 1991... Maybe a digital update of textures and fractured rhythms explored by Brian Eno on Another Green World. A lush photographic treatment by Jon Wozencroft contrasts Fennesz's rich soundscapes with images that attempt to capture the otherworldly atmosphere of places where man has manipulated 'natural' environments into new forms and functions."

KIRK, RICHARD H.: Darkness At Noon CD (TO 41). $14.50

"Recorded 20.4.99 at Western Works studios, Sheffield, England, as part of a performance for Phonotaktik, Wien, Austria, April 1999. Real and synthesised sounds of battle. Clandestine and other short wave transmissions. Fighter plane communications numbers/coordinates. The nova light show. Electronic assault systems. Digital warfare. The use of atomic fission to decompose human beings and their cities. The human nervous system amplified under torture."

REHBERG/BAUER: Passat CD (TO 45 CD). $14.50

"Five years ago, Faßt declared itself to be entirely made up of the 'mistakes' and system errors of the digital processes Rehberg & Bauer had used in its making, thus finding themselves at the front end of an emerging tendency in new music that came to be known as 'glitch'... frustratingly to those actively involved, because it freeze-framed the more critical dimension of such works into a genre that quickly became a cliché. Following Faßt and ballt, and originated live on their tour of Australia last year, Passat completes Rehberg & Bauer's trilogy for Touch; as such, it provides a window through which to monitor the progress (and atrophy) of this phase of development, now that the laptop seems as commonplace as the electric guitar. In 2001, surface abstraction is easily output. Passat therefore is an attempt to relocate this mode of music-making into something once again more progressive. Peter Rehberg (aka Pita) & Ramon Bauer (aka General Magic) run Megó in Vienna, Austria."

BIOSPHERE: Cirque CD (TO 46 CD). $14.50

"In the year 2000, a year of just as many fictions and personal projections, Biosphere arrives at Cirque. For those of you still expecting Novelty Waves 2, a return of some sort to the harder sound of past times, well they just keep getting further and further away from techno and the mutation is finally beyond recognition. For those of you expecting Substrata 2, there is a sense here of resolution that Substrata never presented us with, despite it being so impossibly close to perfection. And just in case you're thinking of 'arctic' sound, and wondering if it will, sooner or later, bridge into the Norwegian ECM contingent of Garbarek or Rydypd, of icy soundscapes and contemporary classicism, think again. The classical Biosphere will be conquered over time, as evidence, never as a pre-requisite. At times reminiscent of Can's Future Days, in its subdued precision and unsettling tension of comfort/discomfort, Cirque may in addition recall Jon Hassell's methods in how it digests and redigests sounds while retaining their individual characters intact. Carefully crafted throughout the last three years in between scattered commissions and collaborations, Cirque is what Geir describes as his playground, the territory where he has dictated his own rules and created his own visions without any form of outside pressure or compromise. At no point has this translated into self indulgence, one must say, and the sources of inspiration for Cirque did remain fertile and focused all the way through. Some of these were deeply personal, but the main one seems to have been Jon Krakauer's book Into The Wild, a complex and fascinating insight into the short life and long journey of Chris McCandless who, after years on a quest for self-discovery and enlightenment through solitary travels in the most remote new regions in North America, went on a final journey into the Alaskan wilderness where his body was found alongside an SOS note. The sense of solitude, of idealist wonderment, the constant feel of unease and imminent danger permeate both of these works, so often hand in hand. Yet this in no way to suggest that Cirque will only reveal itself when placed alongside Krakauer's book. From it you must construct your own narratives, your own vision, as Geir has repeatedly suggested."

WATSON, CHRIS: Weather Report CD (TO 47 CD). $14.50

"The weather has created and shaped all our habitats. Clearly it also has a profound and dynamic effect upon our lives and that of other animals. The three locations featured here all have moods and characters which are made tangible by the elements, and these periodic events are represented within by a form of time compression. This is Chris's first foray into composition using his location recordings of wildlife and habitats — previously he has been concerned with describing and revealing the special atmosphere of a place by site specific, untreated location recordings. For the first time here he constructs collages of sounds, which evolve from a series of recordings made at the specific locations over varying periods of time."

TORAL, RAFAEL: Violence Of Discovery And Calm Of Acceptance CD (TO 48 CD). $14.50

"Design by Jon Wozencroft, photography by Heitor Alvelos Considered by the Chicago Reader to be 'one of the most gifted and innovative guitarists of the decade', Rafael Toral has been developing in the last 15 years a unique sound world, having been as influenced by Alvin Lucier and Brian Eno as by Sonic Youth and My Bloody Valentine. Using the guitar as part of a complex electronic instrument, Toral has collaborated with Jim O'Rourke, John Zorn, Sonic Youth, Rhys Chatham and Phill Niblock and played in many European countries and in several states in the US. He's also a member of MIMEO, the electronic orchestra featuring Keith Rowe, Christian Fennesz, Peter Rehberg, Kaffe Matthews and many others. VDCA is a collection of ten small pieces crafted by Toral with extreme precision and care through the last seven years. Using guitars and analogue technology, it can be described as Toral's best work, embodying all the directions he explored in his previous critically acclaimed records, Sound Mind Sound Body [Moikai, USA], Wave Field [Dexter's Cigar/Drug City, USA] and Aeriola Frequency [Perdition Plastics, USA] but taking them into new dimensions."

NIBLOCK, PHILL: Touch Works, For Hurdy Gurdy And Voice CD (TO 49 CD). $14.50

Featuring the following works: 1. "Hurdy Hurry" (15:20, October 1999; Jim O'Rourke, hurdy gurdy [samples]). 2. "A Y U", aka "as yet untitled" (21:30, October 1999; Thomas Buckner, baritone voice [samples]). 3. "A Y U, Live", (21:30, October 1999/2000; Thomas Buckner, baritone voice [samples and live]). "Phill is a sixty-something New York-based minimalist composer and multi-media musician and director of Experimental Intermedia, a foundation born in the flames of 1968's barricade-hopping. He says: 'What I am doing with my music is to produce something without rhythm or melody, by using many microtones that cause movements very, very slowly.' The stills in the booklet are from slides taken in China, while Niblock was making films which are painstaking studies of manual labour, giving a poetic dignity to sheer gruelling slog of fishermen at work, rice-planters, log-splitters, water-hole dredgers and other back-breaking toilers. Niblock writes: 'In October 1999, I made a concert at Merkin Hall in New York, as part of the series Interpretations, produced by Thomas Buckner and the World Music Institute. The concert was shared with Ulrich Krieger, a composer and saxophonist living in Berlin. Normally, concerts in this series have two parts. Since Ulrich and I are collaborators for some years, we decided to interleave our works, and also to make a long concert. It was about three hours, nearly twice as long as is usual in this recital hall. I was preparing two new works for this concert. You guessed it, the pieces on this CD. The works are for hurdy gurdy, a stringed instrument played by cranking a resined wheel, and voice. I had met Jim O'Rourke some time before, and had asked him if I could make a piece using samples of his playing the hurdy gurdy. I recorded the samples in the studios of Robert Poss sometime in the winter of 1999. Tom Buckner and I had talked for some years about a possible piece. I asked him if we could do it for this concert. Later, he explained that he commissions works, so that was a pleasant surprise. When we were recording in Poss' studio, Tom was interested in doing some throat singing. I expected to work on these pieces during the summer of '99. I didn't, of course. I didn't start until two weeks before the concert date. I finished the voice piece on October 11, made the hurdy gurdy piece on the 12th and 13th. The concert was the 14th. On the hurdy gurdy piece, we hear only the samples recorded by O'Rourke. In the first version of A Y U, we hear only the original recorded samples of Tom Buckner singing. On the second piece, Tom recorded again in the studio, singing a line along (listening with headphones) with the first version of A Y U, and four channels of pitch shift were added to his live voice. He did this three times, for the entire length of the piece. This version one has twenty four voices, multitracked from samples. Version two has an added 15 tracks of the live voice. In each piece, I constructed some pitch shifted samples, and some of them were one and two octaves down. These were used along with the original samples as source material. There is not any other modification of the samples during the recording and mixing process.' [A review by Kyle Gann, published in the Village Voice, New York, November 9, 1999]"

BIOSPHERE: Substrata 2 2CD (TO 50 CD). $18.00

"Biosphere's 2nd release for Touch after Cirque is a double CD in digipak designed by Jon Wozencroft. The release consists of: CDOne — Substrata: Originally released in 1997 on All Saints Records, this remastered version of Substrata contains 11 tracks with a total length of 55:20. "...by many (the undersigned included) considered to be the finest ambient album of the 1990s". CDTwo — Man with a Movie Camera: Contains 9 tracks, total length 53:32. The first 7 tracks consist of the soundtrack to Man with a Movie Camera [Verdov, USSR 1929], originally commissioned for the Tromsø International Film Festival in 1996, released here for the first time. The last 2 tracks, 'Endurium' and 'The End of the Cyclone', were originally released on the limited edition Japanese version of Substrata in 1997 — they have never before been released outside Japan."

LOCUST: Wrong 2CD (TO 51 CD). $18.00

"Mark Van Hoen's second for Touch after The Last Flowers from the Darkness. The instrumentation is purely electronic analog synthesizers, edited and manipulated in Digidesigns' Protools. Mark Van Hoen, who programmed and produced the LP, wanted to invoke some of the spirit of late 70's British electronic music, combining that sound with his now familiar brand of electronics for which he became known during the 90's. The fragility and unpredictability of vocalist Holli Ashton's personality and vocals, combined with the decayed and warped quality of the sound offer a warmth rarely found in such pure electronic music. Imperfections are the source of that warmth and there are several connections here between the late 70's (the period which first inspired Mark to make music) and the last few years. Electronic music in the late 70's was forced to become more inventive because the limitations of the instruments of the time needed the musician to craft each sound by hand, and the instruments often went wrong; out of time and out of tune. These same instruments were used on this album; there are no samplers, guitars or anything else but analog synthesizers and vocals on this recording. More recently, artists such as Ryoji Ikeda, Pan Sonic, and Hazard have sought to bring out imperfections in digital music, and those influences are here, too. Even the second CD, to be played simultaneously with the first is a 'mis-use' of technology, yet it makes a beautiful sound."

JOHANSSON, JOHANN: Englabörn CD (TO 52 CD). $14.50

"Johann Johansson is one of the most active participants in the new Icelandic music scene. He has one of the founders of Kitchen Motors. Johann has produced and written music with artists as diverse as Marc Almond (Stranger Things album), Barry Adamson and Pan Sonic, The Hafler Trio, Magga Stina and many others. Englabörn is Johann's first solo album. It is derived from music he wrote for an Icelandic play of the same name. For the cd release on Touch, the music was revised and restructured to make it stand as a work on its own and not simply function as a collection of cues. The music is written for string quartet, piano, organ, glockenspiel and percussion. These elements were processed and manipulated, adding delicate electronic backgrounds to the otherwise entirely acoustic recordings. One song, 'Ódi et Amó', is a setting of Catullus's famous poem. He says 'This was a happy accident; I'd written the music and wanted a computerized counter-tenor vocal singing a Latin text and was looking through a collection of Latin poetry when I remembered this poem from college and it did fit the melody perfectly and was also thematically perfect for the play. It's in the final scene. What I really like about it is the harsh contrast of the computer voice and the strings, the alchemy of total opposites, the sewing machine and umbrella on a dissecting table'. Johansson continues: 'The plays is extremely violent and disturbing and basically when faced with the script I decided to work against it as much as possible and just try to write the most beautiful music I could.'"

FENNEZ: Venice CD (TO 53 CD). $14.50

"Venice was recorded on location in the summer of 2003 and subsequently assembled and mixed at Amann Studios, Vienna in January/February 2004. Venice, the fourth studio album by Christian Fennesz, finds electronic music at a crossroads between its early status as digital subculture, and the feeling that there has to be something more, an emotional quality that rises above noise and moves towards melody and rapture. Includes the continuation of his collaboration with David Sylvian on the track 'Transit', following the success of their duo on Sylvian's 2003 solo album, Blemish.

Fennesz burst upon the scene with Instrument [Mego, 1995] and followed that up with a succession of ground-breaking and highly original solo albums. As The Wire wrote, 'he offers all the puzzles and adventures of experimental music, but with a more assimilable grasp of melody — and a prominent role for the guitar', and to be sure, 'though the process may sound simple, it takes some skillful manipulation to simultaneously tug those heart-strings and poke them with tiny pins.' [Nick Phillips, City Pages, USA]. Fennesz has been active in film soundtrack work — for Gustav Deutsch and his forensic view of cinema, film ist... Live performances, improvised music within a modus operandi that adheres itself more to jazz than computer software... everywhere from Tokyo to Bratislava. Fennesz has also taken part in many collaborations: Fenn O'Berg, with Jim O'Rourke and Peter Rehberg [Mego], a duo with Rosy Parlance [Synaesthesia], and with Polwechsel [Erstwhile]. He has also been recording with Sparklehorse, the first fruits of this collaboration appearing on the recently released Spire [Touch # Tone 20]. He lives and works in Paris and Vienna."

VAINIO, MIKA: In The Land Of The Blind The One-Eyed Is King CD (TO 54 CD). $14.50

"This is Mika Vainio's 3rd solo CD for Touch, after Kajo and Onko. Best known as one-half of Pan Sonic (Blast First), Mika is from Finland and now lives in Berlin. Generally speaking, contemporary musicians produce too much stuff. It is easy to do. But if you feel like sighing, 'Oh, it's another Mika Vainio CD', then Mr Vainio himself has anticipated such sentiments with the opening track, a 2 minute blast which sounds like an angry animal breaking free of its cage. What follows is probably Vainio's most accomplished work to date, a series of rich soundscapes whose beauty is always on the edge of darkness. Not wanting to bang a drum, anyone who has been invigorated by the work of Mika and Ilpo in Pan Sonic will be keen to hear these more pastoral takes on their more propulsive sound — in places, being reminiscent of Artyemeyev's recordings for Tarkovsky films, in others, suggesting sound recordings of frogs and insect life. All framed by the distinct touch of Mika Vainio, who confirms his long-standing reputation as one of the most acute musicians of our times."

BIOSPHERE: Shenzhou CD (TO 55 CD). $14.50

"12 tracks. Design and photography by Jon Wozencroft. This is Biosphere's 3rd album for Touch, after Cirque [2000, TO:46] and Substrata 2 [2001, TO:50]. Named after the Chinese spacecraft, this is Geir Jensen's deepest and most recording yet, the first 10 tracks based on the orchestral works of Claude Debussy. Dark Ambient at its most spellbinding (without all the negative connotations one might associate with the words "dark" and "ambient")!

JECK, PHILIP: Stoke CD (TO 56 CD). $14.50

"This is his 3rd CD for Touch, after Loopholes and Surf. He has also released a CDR, Live in Tokyo at ICC. All tracks are edits of live performances recorded in Liverpool, Manchester, Osaka, Tokyo and Vienna except Lambing, which was recorded at home in part for a film by Lucy Baldwyn. Stoke was made using Bush, Fidelity and Philips record players, Casio keyboard and Alba portable CD player. The notion of turntablism may be associated with flashy, deck-hopping scratch gymnastics, but the use of the record player as an instrument harks back to a less ostentatious tradition of music making. John Cage, Karlheinz Stockhausen, Pierre Schaeffer, and James Tenney recognized records and turntable mechanisms as manipulable sound sources. In essence, sampling began with the real-time deployment of gramophones in performance by these artists and academics. Philip Jek, like peers Christian Marclay, Otomo Yoshihide, and Martin Tetreault, legitimizes the turntable as a musical instrument."

JECK, PHILIP: 7 CD (TO 57). $14.50

Philip Jek, who lives and works in Liverpool, studied visual art at the Dartington College of Arts in Devon, England. During the early 1980s, he drifted from painting and sculpture to music, and began working with old and discarded turntables. Though he's roughly a contemporary of Christian Marclay, recognition for Jek came much later, beginning in 1993 with his massive installation "Vinyl Requiem", which incorporated 180 record players and multiple film projections. This is Philip Jek's 7th solo album, and 4th for Touch, after Loopholes (1996), Surf (1998) and Stoke (2002). He has also released a collaboration with Jacob Kirkegaard, Soaked (2002), and a recording of a live concert he gave in Japan, Live at ICC (2001). He is currently touring with Jah Wobble & Deep Space, and is heavily featured on their latest album Five Beat (30hertzrecords, 2003).

Philip Jek writes: "All seven are edits of home and concert recordings (UK Germany & Belgium) using Bush, Ferguson, Fidelity & Philips record-players, Sony portable mini-disc and Casio keyboards. 'Bush Hum' was made from the amplified hum of a Bush record-player and delay pedal. 'Wipe' was originally made for a video by Marisa Zanotti."

PARLANE, ROSY: Iris CD (TO 58 CD). $14.50

"Rosy Parlance lives in New Zealand; he began playing music with the avant-garde rock trio Thela. Thela released two CDs, Eponymous and Argentina on the label Ecstatic Peace! He subsequently began working with abstract electronic based music, both as a solo artist and as Parmentier with fellow Thela collaborator, Dion Workman. His full and intricate soundscapes are comprised of sample-loops, pianos, guitars, and field recordings manipulated via digital means. Parlance has released two solo albums on Sigma Editions, and a collaboration with Christian Fennesz on the Australian label, Synaesthesia [Live, SYN001]. Iris is the result of a concentrated period of activity and artistic development that will introduce Rosy Parlance to an audience hungry for innovative music. He both challenges and invigorates the current bias towards immersive sound, without ever losing sight of the human touch."

NIBLOCK, PHILL: Touch Food 2CD (TO 59 CD). $16.50

CD1: "Sea Jelly Yellow" [Ulrich Krieger, baritone saxophone]; "Sweet Potato" [Carol Robinson, bass clarinet, basset horn, and Eb clarinet]; "Yam Almost May" [Kasper T. Toeplitz, electric bass]. CD2: "Pan Fried 70" [Reinhold Friedl, piano]. "In the music of Phill Niblock, we are confronted with the aural equivalent of trompe-l'oeil. Apparently static clouds of harmonically dense material turn out to be not so static as they appear. What's more, one has the distinct impression that the music is changing spatially over time. How is all of this possible? The key is in Niblock's use of time. In his music, the experience of time is as very slow and continuous. There are no disruptive, discontinuous musical events to disrupt the flow of time. Time is suspended. Niblock's music gives the impression of having always been and continuing to be. Yet, this is not the idea of Being as stasis. Each time one feels that Niblock's music isn't changing, one realizes that it is never the same, an yet, always the same. Being and Becoming as one. Moving Immobility. This is a music that breathes slowly and deeply. It changes its spatial form slowly, as a person who is in deep meditation changes the form of his body ever so slowly as he peacefully expands and contracts the walls of his chest cavity with each new cycle of inspiration/expiration." — Gerard Pape. "Phill Niblock is a sixty-something New York based minimalist composer and multi-media musician and director of Experimental Intermedia, a foundation born in the flames of 1968's barricade hopping. He has been a maverick presence on the fringes of the avant garde ever since. In the history books Niblock is the forgotten Minimalist. That's as maybe: no one ever said the history books were infallible anyway. His influence has had more impact on younger composers such as Susan Stenger, Lois V Vierk, David First, and Glenn Branca. He's even worked with Sonic Youth's Thurston Moore and Lee Renaldo on Guitar two, for four which is actually for five guitarists. This is Minimalism in the classic sense of the word, if that makes sense. Niblock constructs big 24-track digitally-processed monolithic microtonal drones. The result is sound without melody or rhythm. Movement is slow, geologically slow. Changes are almost imperceptible, and his music has a tendency of creeping up on you."

IKEDA, RYOJI: op. CD (TO 60 CD). $14.50

Brilliant new Ikeda CD, utilizing string quartet sounds (mostly recorded in France at the Art Zoyd studios), with no electronic sounds used. Some tracks include: "op. 1 [for 9 strings].", "op. 2 [for string quartet]", "op. 3 [for string quartet]". This is Ryoji Ikeda's sixth solo CD and his fourth for Touch, following the highly acclaimed ± [1996], 0°C [1998] and matrix [2001]. He previously released 1000 Fragments on his own CCRecordings, and Time and Space, a double 3 inch CD, for Staalplaat. 'op.1' was originally commissioned by 'experience de vol #3'. One notable aspect fans of his previous work will highlight upon, is his declaration that 'no electronic sounds have been used on this recording'. This is not to say that Ikeda has in any way renounced the world of electronic music that he has done so much to shape over the past seven years. 'op. 1' is a brave and deliberate step that also lends a new dimension to his previous output, with the acoustic space created by his string arrangements being subject to the same forensic attention to detail as before. "

AMBARCHI, OREN: Grapes from the Estate CD (TO 61 CD). $14.50

"Oren Ambarchi's third solo project for Touch sees him reaching beyond the work for electric guitar that he's become recognized for, expanding his palette and taking his investigations into another sphere entirely. Grapes from the Estate features new instrumentation (strings, tuned bells, percussion and others that can only be guessed at), but the singular and unmistakable influence that Ambarchi exerts on these new materials is what makes it such an indelible work. There is a reconciliation of his love of song based music and his determination to deal in pure sound. The result is a work that truly eludes such arbitrary definitions. Grapes From The Estate is an all consuming experience that draws the listener out of an ordinary sense of time, into a world beyond it. On more than any other release, his entire body of work to date can be experienced in a single statement. There are the seemingly random tonal structures that are such a large part of his vocabulary, the playfulness and humor of his formative noise schooling, his love of free jazz, of pop music, and rhythmic elements, perhaps subconsciously derived from his Sephardic heritage. Another outpouring of personal, intimate and enduring music from Oren Ambarchi."

BIOSPHERE: Autour de la Lune CD (TO 62 CD). $14.50

Fourth Biosphere release on Touch. "Widely regarded as one of Norwegian electronic music's most important artists, Biosphere's (Geir Jenssen) career spans nearly two decades, six albums, lots of remixes, various sound installations, commissions, soundtracks and even the odd Himalayan summit. Says Jenssen on his latest commission: 'Radio France Culture contacted me some time ago and proposed a commission that was to be premiered at the Le Festival de Radio France et Montpellier. I was granted access to Radio France's archives and given permission to use this vast source of audio material. I settled on this early 60s dramatisation of Jules Verne's De la Terre à la Lune that totally captivated me. The story is quite amazing — Verne wrote it in the nineteenth century; still he managed to describe a manned space flight in such detail one is stunned. In De la Terre à la Lune Verne describes a space mission that sees the astronauts launched from Florida and returning from space to land in the Pacific Ocean — exactly the same procedure that the US space program would follow many, many years later. I have sampled bits and pieces of the dramatisation's dialogue, coupled it with sounds recorded at the MIR space station and then incorporated it with my own compositions.' Following the original broadcast, Jenssen continued to work on the recording which now sees the light of day as Autour de la Lune, a 74 minute symphony made up of nine 'movements'. The propulsive opening sequence 'Translation' gives way to the crosstalk and scrambled communications of 'Rotation' and 'Modifié', before the listener is enveloped in a dense and seemingly endless space (the sound of zero gravity?). The circular flight of Autour de la Lune is Biosphere at his most expansive. Featuring a specially-commissioned painting by Tor-Magnus Lundebø, one of Norway's most prominent visual artists, this new release is set to compete with Brian Eno's 'Apollo' recordings as the definitive homage to the space age."

FENNEZ: Live at Revolver, Melbourne Australia 3.02.00 CDR (TO CDR3). $11.00

"Running time: approximately 17 minutes. Recorded on the recent Mego tour down under, this is Christian Fennesz' first live CD, his second release for Touch. Although it carries a CDR catalog number, this is not a CD-R. The CD will be manufactured at Universal, like all the other Touch CDs. The packaging will be the same as the Phillip Jeck and S.E.T.I. CDRs however — i.e. in a white wallet with a black and white sticker. This edition is limited to 1000 copies."

TORAL, RAFAEL: Engine 03_04_02 CDR (TO CDR4). $11.00

Fourth release in this limited series on Touch (as with the previous Fennesz CD, this is not actually a CDR, but a regular pressed CD). Recorded live at Centre Georges Pompidou, Paris. "Engine" is a piece for two guitars, one bass, twin modulated feedback circuits, motorised strings, analogue modular system, routing audio mixer and several other devices. It's performed simultaneously on two channels."

NILSEN, BJ: Live at Konzerthaus, Wien 06_12_03 CDR (TO CDR5). $11.00

"Christian Fennesz has started curating a series of events at the Konzerthaus in Vienna as part of the 'generator' series of live performances held there each month. In early December he performed with Phillip Jeck and BJNilsen (aka Hazard) as part of the Touch night, during which Jon Wozencroft also showed his films. All the concerts were recorded, and BJNilsen's becomes the 5th in the TO:CDR series." CD (wallet) — factory manufactured.

DUNCAN, JOHN: Tap Internal CD (TONE 11 CD). $14.50

"Have you ever asked yourself 'What is the sound of energy?' John Duncan has been trying for years to explain the composition of matter through sound, and not everyone can understand this — but once the door is opened everything suddenly becomes easy. Tap Internal is beautiful and, in classic Duncan style, cruel — in that it puts you in contact with our deepest psyche and lays it bare, turning the auricular membrane inside out, leaving an indelible mark of new frequencies that are beautiful to abandon yourself to. But watch out: just at the moment of hypnosis the scenario is completely convoluted and the sound becomes coarse and varied, cuts the air and tries to attack. The nightmare begins again, and once more the brain is forced to change its attitude, define a new reaction to the input. The beauty and uniqueness of John Duncan's music is fully captured in this continuous change of situations, dynamics, sounds and emotions which is, in a word, the microscopic photography of life itself."

KIRK, RICHARD H.: Loop Static CD (TONE 12CD). $14.50

Solo album from Caberet Voltaire founding member Richard H. Kirk, featuring an array of Bourroughsian found sounds, shortwave excerpts and amine B ring modulations, over a Sheffield electro beat.

VA: Light CD (TONE 13CD). $11.00

"4 new tracks from the 3 audio artists (Hazard, Fennesz, Biosphere) who make up the forthcoming Touch Tour [UK, May 2001]. All are exclusive tracks recorded specifically for this CD, released for the tour. Taking the everyday world as source material and inspiration, the three international collaborations between electronic sound artists and visual artists present a vivid introduction to the work of Touch, the ground-breaking audio-visual label, in its twentieth year. Hazard's compositions evoke extreme climatic conditions and the perception of time and space as experienced through sound. Filmic in scope, his environmental sounds take the listener to another place, sending images cascading through the mind and captivating in an almost hypnotic way. Fennesz uses guitar and computer to create shimmering, swirling electronic sounds of enormous range and complex musicality. Biosphere's music is an intimate reflection of the space and climate of his Arctic base in Tromsø."

TOUCH RINGTONES: Touch Ringtones CD (TONE 14CD). $14.50

"99 tracks - 177 ringtones. The process of transferring made-to-measure Ringtones to your mobile phone is, at present, a fixed casino... Chart hits, 'celebrity' voices, action heroes, lame keyboard melodies... so the likelihood of hearing one of these on the 07.34 from Carshalton is, at present, remote, although the J range of Sony mobiles promise better things. However each of these has been composed with exactly this eventuality in mind. All the compositions included here are in one way or another intended to be experienced as isolated, personal interventions: low-res loops, creature calls, in low-res environments, with the branding of surprise. In whichever form you find them here, do sample and employ these humble suggestions... We assume you already agree that the cheap 'cheep cheep' tones of Nokia, Ericsson and the others leave a lot to be desired. But there is huge commercial possibility here, not least with the fact that these selections have not been motivated by database usage... this is far cooler, and the contributors have responded accordingly... With New Order, Fennesz, Ryoji Ikeda, Gilbert & George, Mika Vainio, Mark Van Hoen, PITA, Hazard, Oren Ambarchi, Graham Lewis, Bruce Gilbert, AER, Zbigniew Karkowski, Hecker, Ake Hodel, Main, Chris Watson, Regina Lund, Elgaland-Vargaland, Francisco Lopez, Disinformation, Bigert & Bergstrom, People Like Us and many many others, this release shows what is possible and how far behind the phone companies actually are.... despite their desperation to uncover new ways of selling the next generation of phones to an already saturated market."

JECK & JACOB KIRKEGAARD, PHILIP: Soaked CD (TONE 15CD). $14.50

"There are grains of truth in the suggestion that, in moving, you may find yourself in or out of some one's favour. But, listen to the slow, delicate, even introspective background: some breeze, some chimes, some distant thunder as each focal point remains a lament.' This blistering work was recorded live at the Moers Jazz Festival, Germany, in May 2002 and follows hot on the heels of Philip Jeck's highly acclaimed Stoke. Jacob Kirkegaard is a member of Danish combo Aelter who work in a mixed media context. He was born in Denmark, 1975 and is currently studying at the Academy of Media Arts, Cologne. Germany. He has taken part in numerous festivals throughout Europe, playing live, improvising with samplers and other electronics, as he does on this recording. Philip Jeck, meanwhile, sticks to his turntables. He started experimenting with record players back at school in the 1960s, later won the Time Out Performance Award for Vinyl Requiem [1993] and has released 3 solo albums for Touch - Loopholes, Surf and the abovementioned Stoke. He lives and works in Liverpool."

FENNEZ: Fennesz: Field Recordings 1995-2002 CD (TONE 16CD). $14.50

"Field Recordings brings together a range of material Christian Fennesz has contributed to compilations, special projects and film soundtracks between the years 1995 and 2002. Also, for the first time on CD, it includes his debut 12" for Mego, the awesome 'Instrument', remastered, and a new track recorded specially for this release, 'Good Man'. It is his first release since Endless Summer [Mego, 2001] and a prelude to his next studio album."

HAZARD: Land CD (TONE 17CD). $14.50

"B.J. Nilsen lives and works in Stockholm, Sweden. Born in 1975, he began working with experimental music and sound at an early stage. He was influenced by the early tape movements with the pioneers of sonic assault and released his first recordings at the age of 15. Benny founded Hazard in 1996 after a couple of years as a guitarist/bass player in several local bands. He has since then focused on the sound of nature and its effect on humans, field recordings and the perception of time and space as experienced through sound. B.J. Nilsen is currently working with Chris Watson for both live and recorded work, and on a project mapping the acoustic environment in and underneath the modern city + an infrasound installation. This release is the second of the collaborations with Chris Watson after WIND [Ash International # Ash 6.5] and his first release for Touch. Many of the compositions here are based on the live work he produced on the Touch 2001+ UK tour."

VA: Star Switch On CD (TONE 18CD). $14.50

Features: Chris Watson, Mika Vainio, Phillip Jeck, Hazard, Fennesz, Biosphere & AER. "The artists were commissioned to use the wildlife recordings of Chris Watson published on Stepping Into the Dark (TO:27) and Outside the Circle of Fire (TO:37) as source material. 2 original unreleased tracks by Chris Watson, and contributions by Biosphere, Fennesz, Hazard, Mika Vainio, Phillip Jeck and Jon Wozencroft recording as AER."

ORGANUM/Z'EV: Tinnitus Vu CD (TONE 19CD). $11.00

17-minute EP recording, based on David Jackman source recordings. Z'EV writes: "Long long ago and far far away... holiday season 1999 & I was in London, & my dear friend Barbara took me to dinner at the house of her friend Olivia — round the corner & down the block & Olivia had invited her friend David Jackman (aka Organum) there also — and so we met. Fast forward... it's July 2003 & I'm in London again & will be here for a while so I see if I can hook up w/ Mr. Jackman again. Thus begins a search for the man himself — thanks here to Brainwashed & Robot Records for facilitating this flow of info — so we meet one Sunday afternoon in the hottest summer London has ever seen at the Crown & Greyhound for a bit of a chat. The next day Mr. Jackman is going into the studio to record some source for a new series of compositions & invites me by. There am I bright & early (but certainly not bushytailed) at 11 am in the morn (just about the middle of the night for me actually). But anyway. During the some breaks in his process we retire to a most delightful garden behind the studio & chit & chat & get around to a major congruence — ie, our hearing — or, in fact, our various lacks of it to be precise and go onto getting into details regarding the intricacies of our varying degrees of tinnitus. That was the impetus behind David offering to give me a copy of the session to dirty my hands w/ — as I did. Anyway — one treatment led to another & David came by for dinner & I played him some early results & it seems he was enthused. He came by for dinner again & he heard the initial 4 treatments & so began the talks about this actually becoming a collaborative project that would release product."

VA: Spire - Organ Works Past Present & Future 2CD (TONE 20CD). $18.00

"The thought of producing a compilation where the tracks were all either inspired by or more directly influenced by the organ had been frequently aired over the years. The conversations were always animated and expansive. The organ works of Arvo Pärt, those performed by Christopher Bowers-Broadbent, a pupil of Richard Rodney Bennett at the Royal Academy of Music in London, and others, have reached a wider non-classical audience. Eventually Benny Nilsen arranged to visit St. Mary's Church, Warwick and work with one of England's finest, Charles Matthews. Crawling around inside the instrument, positioning microphones most appropriately in the Church, or 'capturing' the psalms composed by Marcus Davidson, Nilsen explored the possibilities with all the familiar lust of the avant-garde. As the brief widened, so did the responses... some contributors referred to earlier versions of the organ and its often highly political usage, others explored aged instruments themselves. Some studied the effects of the sounds produced on the physique and the psyche, others conceptualized the brief and either built their own or recorded natural or man-made phenomena which utilized the same basic process, wind through pipes. The organ represents the marriage between acoustic complexity and ritualized space. It is impossible not to be drawn upward, towards the spire of the church or cathedral, or to the huge and daunting forest of pipes themselves. The organ dwarfs all comers, and unlike other instruments, it is this non-musical element which makes the organ stand apart."

TOUCHIN' BASS (UK):

PARKER FEAT. DJ ASSAULT & DJ GODFATHER, ANDREA: Freaky Bitches 12" (TB 001). $8.00

"First release to emerge on exciting new label Touchin' Bass, the imprint owned and A&Red by the World renowned Andrea Parker. The lyrics to 'Freaky Bitches' are inspired by and are a not to the Detroit 'Titty Bar' roots of a sound that has inspired Andrea of late. As a long time lover of hip hop and electro her ear was caught by the Miami Bass sound including the Magic Mike remix of 'In Two Minds' from her Mo Wax album Kiss My Arp. Recognising the Ghetto Tech sound pioneered by DJ's Godfather & Assault she teamed up with them whilst in Detroit on tour to record this single. As well as setting up her own label Andrea has collaborated with Ryuichi Sakamoto and Steve Reich and has been busy DJing around the globe."

CHAOTIC STATE: Gamma Quadrant EP 12" (TB 002). $8.00

"Latest corker on former Mo Wax heroine Andrea Parker's brand new Touchin Bass label released in the wake of the success of first release from Andrea herself with DJ Assault and DJ Godfather called 'Freaky Bitches'. Whereas the critically acclaimed 'Freaky Bitches' joined the dots between booty bass and electro, the 'Gamma Quadrant EP' is a more straight forward dancefloor take on Andrea's beloved electro sound from the mysterious Chaotic State. Cutting between futuristic noises and razor sharp production 'Headlok' and 'Bonus Beats' head up the A-side with fearsome peaktime electro with terse drums and a truckload of high-end frequencies."

PARKER/DAVID MORELY, ANDREA: Game Over 12" (TB 003). $9.00

"Though only on it's third release, this label has become a favorite of many esteemed electro and breaks dons, from Adam Freeland to Keith Tenniswood. Here, label boss Andrea Parker works with long term collaborator David Morley to create 3 tracks of deep, funky electro, with powerful results."

ADJ: The Raw EP 12" (TB 004). $9.00

"ADJ aka Andy Jagers has previously released on labels such as Pyramid Transmissions, District Six and Outside Recordings. Opener 'Raw' is minimal and bass-led, followed by the dark & deep 'Deeptro'. On the flip 'Electric' and 'Hope' go down a more experimental/soundtrack route, with stunning results."

BASS JUNKIE: Deep Bass Matrix 12" (TB 005). $9.00

"The fifth weapon of mass destruction on Andrea Parker's label is brought to you by new artist Bass Junkie aka Phil Klein. Phil has released records through Miami's Dynamix II (as Cybernet systems). And UK labels Panix Trax and Audio Illusion. He also has set up his own Battle Trax label. And is signed to Ed Dmx's Breakin' Records."

CULTEK: Human Interface EP 12" (TB 006 EP). $9.00

"Cultek comprises of Philip Bolland of Sync 24 fame and Robert Smith, who promotes London's busiest and most popular electro night Scand. The 4 tracks on this EP showcase electro at it's deepest. Minimal and atmospheric, the effect is unnerving yet thrilling."

SYNC 24: Darker Senses EP 12" (TB 007 EP). $9.00

"Sync 24 is Philip Bolland, who has also released tracks as one half of Cultek. Philip is also one of the promoters of Scand, London's longest running electro night. 'Sense 1' opens the EP with a barrage of high velocity brain bashing beats. This is closely followed by the otherworldly atmospheric vibes of 'Sense 2' and 'Sense 3'. The 4-tracker is then rounded off with 'Sense 4', a good old-fashioned electro funk throwdown."

EGGFOOYOUNG: Breakdance and Motivate EP 12" (TB 008EP). $9.00

"Eggfooyoung hails from Chinatown NYC, and is the son of a famous fashion designer. He is one of the founding members of the Secret Frequency Crew, releasing 3 singles and an EP, the most recent being Miami Eyes on Mass Transit. Their debut album Forest of the Echo Downs is due out this year on Schematic. This solo EP from Eggfooyoung is aimed at the breakers and the DJs, and is heavily influenced by the low frequencies he was exposed to in Miami."

MANASYT: Brainwash Volunteer Program 12" (TB 009EP). $9.00

"MANASYT, aka Petar Tassev is a Bulgarian-born American with a musical history that reached his current hard electro sound via industrial hardcore and tech-thrash. He has had previous releases on German underground label Kommando 6. Another superb release on Andrea Parker's cult label."

HYDRAULIX: 4 Pumps/2 Dumps EP 12" (TB 010EP). $9.00

"Miami's Hydraulix are the most exciting Electro-Bass outfit since Jackal and Hyde. Hydraulix are Richard 'Ash-Rock' Zarate and James 'JimTheGenius' Merlo, who are both resident DJs for the world renowned Culture Productions. Their releases through their own label Kuad Recordings have made them the most talked about group on the circuit, with the support from the likes of Scratch D, Dynamix II, Dexorcist, Andrea Parker, Scape One and more. Utilising futuristic beats and dirty ass bass, this release should help propel these young stars to the next level."

TOYS FACTORY (JAPAN):

SPENCER BLUES EXPLOSION, JON: Controversial Negro CD (TFCK 87126). $26.00

Only commercially available in Japan, this is something that Matador issued as a promo-only LP in 1997. Recorded live 11/25/96 at the Hotel Congress in Tucson, AZ.

A.R.E. WEAPONS: Great Time CD (TFCK 87292). $25.00

Japanese-only release, which collects their Rough Trade label material plus other exclusive demo/live tracks. Tracklisting: 1. New York Muscle 2. Champion Chains(Original) 3. Champion Chains(Be Nice) 4. New York Muscle(Instrumental) 5. Be Nice 6. Street Gang 7. Black Mercedes 8. Saigon 9. New York Muscle(Desperate Mix) mix done by Javis Cooker & Steve Mackey from Pulp 10. Saigon(Live) 11. Sex Bug(Demo). A.R.E. Weapons have been described as: "The third and arguably most thrilling Rough Trade Records band to break out of New York City after The Strokes and Moldy Peaches. A.R.E. Weapons are Suicide's first album with sci-fi effects, Cabaret Voltaire and The Normal mixed up with Sol Yurick's 'The Warriors' — this is dirty, raw, 6" gold blade, ghetto sci-fi scraped straight out of the NYC gutters."

GENTLE PEOPLE, THE: Simply Faboo CD (TFCK 87620). $28.00

Japanese version, released earlier than on Rephlex, with a bonus track. "The Gentle People's eagerly awaited second LP is a celebration of the glossy side of life and will take hep sophisticats around the globe intone dimensions of grooviness. Complementing their first three EPs and debut LP Simply Faboo is filled with even more lush, dreamy vocals and strings as well as quirky electro, techno bubblegum and groovy disco beats. The Gentle People have been busy remixing tracks for Japan's Pizzicato 5 and Towa Tei, have been guesting on releases by the Fantastic Plastic Machine and have had their work remixed by the likes of Aphex Twin and Luke Vibert." Limited stock on hand.

PARKER, ANDREA: Kiss My ARP CD (TFCK 87957). $26.00

Licensed from Mo'Wax, this is the long awaited debut album from Andrea Parker (not counting her DJ Kicks mix CD). This uniquely packaged Japanese version (one of these mini-LP styled gatefold jackets) came out in late 1998, a full 9 months earlier than the Mo'Wax edition. This version also features 2 Japanese exclusive remixes of "The Unknown", by DJ Magic Mike & Tony Vegas. Following an exquisite set of singles going back to '96 (Melodius Thunk, The Rocking Chair & Breaking Ball, this finds Andrea exploring the various sonic territories outlined by her Mo'Wax catalog to date. From sub-bass electro scronch to breathless vocal works of ecstatic pop reverie (backed by scorching cello lines played by Parker herself), this album focuses on a secret sound sensory-glitch that would be laughed out of context in lesser hands. An arena of non-pre-sets, where unique sounds are prosperous and attention to details ping-pongs over ever centimeter of clatter. Leaving the twinkle-twinkle to the eyes of the beholder. In a better world it gets the attention of U.N.K.L.E. x a million. Limited stock.

TOYTOWN RECORDINGS (SPAIN):

VA: Mr. Toytown Presents...Obscure Psychedelic, Popsyke & ... CD (TT 1001CD). $19.00

... Soft-Pop 45s 1969 -1974.' "Mr. Toytown Presents..." focuses on singles by mostly European bands from the early 70s, originally published on small Spanish cult labels like Opalo, Accion, Poplandia, Bocaccio, Top, Goma ... Music ranges from heavy guitar psych (Honest Men doing a psychedelic cover of The Beatles 'Help', Schizo, featuring a young Richard Pinhas on fuzz guitar) to twee UK Popsyke a la Mark Wirtz ('Brother Jack' by ex-Majority One Barry Wigley, White, The Panics, Dorians, Mike & Toti doing a superb Spanish cover version of 'Ice Cream Man', from Circus Days fame), nice orchestrated toytown melody (Napoleon, Morning Glory, ex-The End guys Tucky Buzzard with an Spanish only 45), synke folk-psych from Demsey & Dover and Jumbo, weird studio psych (Big Cherry, Electric Machine, Christophe, Children Of The Morning...) and much more. 21 tracks with remastered sound, 8 pages booklet with informative linernotes in English about each band and amazing sleeve design. Limited edition of 500 copies."

TOYTRONIC (UK):

MULTIPLEX: Pinghaus Frequencies CD (TOY 14 CD). $15.00

"It may be called Electronica but Multiplex are back with their second release on the premier label Toytronic . 7 track limited edition transparent green vinyl LP plus 14 track CD. Very focused and often classically analogue complex melodies, displaying structures of a limitless sonic boundaries. With a barrage of digital trickery Multiplex steps outside of the conditioned maze to explore the real meaning of electronic music. Includes remixes from Scape One, Ambidextrous and Ewok."

LOW PROFILE SOCIETY: 3D Concepts Part 3 12" (TOY 15C). $13.00

"Third EP in this limited edition series, 800 copies only for the world (previous 2 EPs completely sold out). Part 3 comes in specially designed exclusive carrier bag to fit Part 1, Part 2 and Part 3 EPs inside. Marbled blue vinyl, 9 tracks."

GIMMIK: Back To Basics CD (TOY 16 CD). $16.00

"With this album Gimmik again takes us into the diffuse world of stucturized chaos. Having sharpened up his electric sounds, he somehow manages to bring together all alienated ambient sounds with his cheeky beats. Let our minds recover while this electric melting pot is intermixed with warm melodic sounds."

GIMMIK: Back To Basics LP (TOY 16 LP). $16.00

LP version.

KYLIAN: Lappi Inzoo CD (TOY 17CD). $13.00

"Four tracks of beat-juggling and freak melodies by a new signing to the label from the northern parts of Finland, called Kylian. File next to Aphex/Skam/Warp."

KYLIAN: Lappi Inzoo 12" (TOY 17EP). $13.00

Vinyl EP version.

TRACE RECORDINGS (UK):

ROTHKO & BKL W/ BEAR: Wish For a World Without Hurt CD (TRACE 001CD). $15.00

"A new independent label formed by Rothko's Mark Beazley. A collaboration between Beazley and Washington DC-based sound and visual Artist JS Adams (Blk w/ Bear). The collaborative effort grew from on-line conversations between Beazley and Adams over a decidedly necessary personal and creative response to the events of September 11, 2001. Their collaboration created four new tracks for Wish For a World Without Hurt with the pair trading sound files between London and Washington. With Adams being a resident of Washington DC, his personal experiences and memories of that day have helped to colour the tone of this subtle and thought-provoking album; a perfect complement to the passionate introspection of Beazley's original tracks. Full of warm deep drones, sharp and soft melodies, raw-boned sound and with a common thread running like a vein through each track, Wish For a World Without Hurt is a statement of declaration for these times."

TRADITIONAL CROSSROADS:

KARTAL, GOKSEL: The Art of Taksim CD (TC 4267). $15.00

Contemporary studio recordings of kanun improvisations, an historic 70+ string Turkish harp-like instrument. "He has been recognized throughout the world as one of the foremost Turkish virtuosos of the kanun, incorporating elements from Spanish Flamenco guitar technique to Western classical styles. He is presented here in the art of Taksim, Middle Eastern Improvisation."

GASPARYAN, DJIVAN: Ask Me No Questions CD (TC 4268). $15.00

"The duduk is one of the oldest wind instruments in the world, dating back to Armenia's pre-Christian times. Djivan Gasparian is the foremost living duduk virtuoso... the duduk is a cylindrical wooden flute... dating back to 1200 BC. Its range is only one octave, however, it requires considerable skill to play, its dynamics controlled by constantly adjusting the lips and fingers." Has a fairly deep, resonating reed sound.

HRANT, UDI: The Early Recordings Vol. 1 CD (TC 4270). $15.00

2 more volumes of Hrnt, the blind master of the ud, the twelve string, fretless lute. This compiles his complete early recordings, transferred from the original discs.

HRANT, UDI: The Early Recordings Vol. 2 CD (TC 4271). $15.00

GYPSY FIRE: CD (TC 4272). $15.00

"Two giants from the Middle Eastern music world, Richard Hagopian and Omar Faruk Tekbik, are brought together for the first time, accompanied by Turkish and Bulgarian gypsies." Music for Ud, vocals, zurna, ney, kanun, saxophone, violin, percussion, guitar, bass.

CEMIL BEY, TANBURI: Volumes 2 & 3 2CD (TC 4274). $22.00

"Bey is the most renowned composer of instrumental art music from the late period of the Ottoman Empire. Acoustic recordings, before the invention of the electronic microphone, were made circa 1910-14...performing his own compositions and in the art of Taksim, Middle Eastern improvisation."

VARTABED, KOMITAS: The Voice of... CD (TC 4275). $15.00

"Vartabed (1869-1935), the Armenian priest, ethno-musicologist and composer is regarded as the father of Armenian music. As Bartok did in Hungary, Komitas established a national polyphonic style of composition based on traditional Armenian chant and folk music. This compilation presents rare recordings made in 1912 by Komitas himself, performing his arrangements of both secular and religious songs."

TRANSMAT:

MAY, DERRICK: Innovator 2CD (TMT CD4). $15.00

Domestic version of this double CD. Totally classic and luxurious overview of Derrick May's legendary productions for his Transmat label, 1986-1990. The single most essential document of Detroit techno, by its most important founding producer. May and his Detroit peers Juan Atkins and Kevin Saunderson are widely considered the post-Kraftwerk godfathers of all techno music. While Atkins may have recorded first, it's the seminal early tracks that May released (most often under the name of Rhythm Is Rhythm) that completely rearranged people's heads worldwide about the possibilities of electronic music. Except for some o/p compilations, these tracks have never been readily available on CD. Includes all of his heaviest tracks: "Strings of Life," "The Dance," "It Is What It Is," "Nude Photo," "Drama," etc. Tracks that introduced machine music to the highest emotional levels. Also includes a live recording of "Kaotic Harmony" with Carl Craig, CD-exclusive remixes by Juan Atkins ("Wiggin") and Ken Ishii ("The Beginning") and specially produced intro/outro segments by May himself to enhance the whole home-listening agenda. Packed with a nice booklet of full color photos and DM manifesto of sorts — an essential artifact for anyone interested. This version adds one track not found on the Sony version: "To Be Or Not To Be" — theme music for the Sony Playstation version of Ghost In The Shell — widely hailed as Derrick's first new track in 7 years, and a masterpiece of "out" sound.

INDIO: CD (TMT CD7). $14.00

"Internationally acclaimed electronic producer John Beltran hands us his latest installment of future funk through Derrick May's seminal Transmat label. Indio is the product of Beltran's collaborative efforts with Lansing natives Sam McQueen and Seth Taylor. Sam has been working musically with John since '91, and his early works are featured on Carl Craig's Retroactive label. Seth Taylor works as an audio engineer at a prominent recording studio in Lansing. With previous releases, John Beltran has gained world acclaim; his stunning Earth and Nightfall and Moving Through Hare on Belgium's R&S label are considered techno classics, and Ten Days of Blue on Peacefrog was named one of 1996's Albums of the Year by UK Muzik magazine. Beltran has put together a truly challenging and emotional composition; techno, funk, house, jazz, drum and bass, hip hop, soul, and jazz... influenced by Detroit and fused into a soundscape that truly showcases the talents of these future stars."

TRANSMITTER (GERMANY):

SCHNEIDER, KARL-MICHAEL: 12" (SWTR 003). $9.00

"Abstract electronics designed to aid and abet the arrival various states of 'astral travelling' in the listener. Unlike most contemporary techno-related sounds, most tracks herein employ a completely un-followable shifting rhythmic axis sure to send the 'growth' DJ's into an epileptic shudder after serial failed beatmatching attempts. Great sliding glass-textures thrown on top to boot. The more obscure this stuff gets, the better. Unchallenge-ingly sonically adventurous." — Hrvatski.

TRANSONIC (JAPAN):

FANTASTIC EXPLOSION: Merry X'Mas & Happy New Year CD (TRS 20001). $18.00

Third release already by this Japanese outfit. This features a self-constructed cut up of their first album plus 8 new tracks of Fantastic Explosion's unique sampled Japanese drum 'n' bass.

ARM: Armedphone Tour CD (TRS 20002). $18.00

Subtitled "This CD would be enjoyable with shuffle mode of audio system", this is another exciting chapter in the fracture-beat Japanese underground. Really on an EP in length (but not exactly discounted to us, sorry), this features 88 tracks, many of which are just ambient wave segment that last only a few second in duration, which disrupt into one another quite nicely. An extremely memorable atmospheric beat loop repeats, strange news samples get introduced along with various drum programming variations — a densely packed compendium of the Transonic sound system.

KING OF OPUS: Circumstances Victimization CD (TRS 25012). $20.00

Transonic is a new Japanese label run by Kazunao Nagata, the same guy behind the utterly fascinating electronics label, Zero Gravity. This Transonic label is not related to Nanjo of High Rise/Musica Transonic, but instead focuses on the strange electronic underground currently brewing in and around Tokyo. Like Zero Gravity, the graphics lean towards stunning hi-tech precision and the sounds documented run the gamut from classic ambient stylings to the more purely inexplicable. "King of Opus has been paying attention to Les Baxter and Martin Denny's exotic sound and Esquivel and Rass Garcia's strange mood. This album includes dub-based exotic voodoo sound, techno sounding like tropical island wood percussion sound. 90s strange sound." An odd and compelling album that dares to list the following as "musical inspiration": Les Baxter, King Tubby, Sonny & Cher, Voodoo, crazy surf, bad jazz, bad mambo, exo, bon-zai disco, ghoul, noise, down beat, chant."

NINA NOHO: Ambient Classic 1990-1992 CD (TRS 25014). $20.00

"Nina Noho, techno ambient unit, was only active for 2 years during 1990-92. This album only includes their ambient tracks." A duo of TMZ & Merumo, produced by Nagata. As the title might imply this is fueled by the early vision of Aphex Twin's ambient works and minimalist techno standards. Strange synthesis, the occasional heavily processed vocal, patterned electronic machine music that might not wipe your slate with pure innovation, but is certainly of interest.

TRANSONIC JOKERS: CD (TRS 25015). $20.00

"The improvisation unit Transonic Jokers' live recorded album from their performances from 1994-95. The members are Yoshihiro Sawasaki (YS), Kazunao Nagata (Fantastic Explosion), and Naka Tomizawa (King of Opus). Cut up collage mix in-out their original live sound." A superstar group of sorts, this one goes so far as to beautifully spoof the original cover artwork of the Cosmic Jokers' brilliant self-titled debut. You'll have to see it to believe it. Nagata is on electronics, Sawasaki (best known for his Sublime associations) on synthesizer, Tomizawa on mixer & effects, Sueo on "device" & Genshin on "navigator". Musically this one shares the Cosmic Jokers jamming cosmic flavor, but updates it with the sweeping space squelch of 90s minimalist techno pulse. The most outrageously killer release on Transonic to date and a complete classic of its kind.

FANTASTIC EXPLOSION: LIVE CD (TRS 25020). $20.00

Live album from the strange Japanese drum'n'bass/soundtrack-sampling Japanese duo of Kazunao Nagata and Takahiro Suzuki. Weird collage interludes, live programming, thrown together in unusual fashion.

TRANSPARENCY:

THOMSEN, STEVE: Retrospective CD (TRAN 0005). $13.00

Collection of 24 tracks of home-recording by LA figurehead Steve Thomsen (ex-Monitor, currently involved with Solid Eye). Surreal-tinged soundtrack-like instrumentals, with occasional vocals by Steve's neighbor Marilyn DeFrance (who knocked on his door and offered her services). Cracked up and mesmerizingly presented, loopified pop segments merge into a batch of friendly outsider sound 'n' drone at it's finest.

FAMILY JAMS, THE: 2CD (TRAN 0011). $15.00

"In 1970 some close friends of Charles Manson recorded his collection of lost 'desert music' as a statement of friendship and faith during his highly unconstitutional trial. This is the definitive release of the classic acid folk-rock session of Manson compositions — featuring Clem on vocals and guitar, ultra-etheral female vocals by Brenda (Gold), Country Sue, Red, Blue and others, and Gypsy on violin. The second CD contains an hour of never-before-heard songs and radical alternate versions. The 20-page booklet contains embroidery from the legendary missing vests of Manson and Beausoleil, unpublished photos, and vast liner notes by Manson, Lynette Fromme (Red) and Sandra Good (Blue)."

SPECULUM FIGHT: White Elephant CD (TRAN 0014). $13.00

CD release of some 1994 cassette material by LA's Damion Romero (previous recordings on P Tapes, etc.). Two 27-minute long tracks of sonic disruption & droning noise, beautifully packaged with some Pit-styled transparent artwork. Feels like Japanese. Limited stock.

LOS ANGELES FREE MUSIC SOCIETY: Blorp Esette 4CD (TRAN 0022). $28.00

Perhaps the only logical follow up to the historic LAFMS: The Lowest Form Of Music 10CD box on RRR, is this 4CD compilation based around the 2 LP volumes of Blorp Esette which Ace Farren Ford released under the LAFMS umbrella in 1978 (Vol. 1) and 1980 (Vol. 2, a double LP set). Both of the LPs featured cover & label art by Don Van Vliet which as been reproduced on this CD reissue. Capt. Beefheart cover art was quite a coup for the times and these LPs have long been some of the most desirable LAFMS artifacts (but basically never available to anyone outside of the LA underground at the time of their release). The four CDs are packaged with a 32 page booklet of artwork and notes, and include nearly 3 hours of previously unreleased tracks! Very low list price ($29.98) designed to put this in the home of anyone sick enough to need it, and that could be you. The LAFMS bridged the gap. Features performances by: Smegma, Le Forte Four, The Reverend Toad-Eater, Electric Willy Trio, the Di-Dee Dos, Ace Farren Ford, Rick Potts, Doo Doeetees, Henry Kaiser, Dennis Duck, Joe Potts, Chip Chapman, Ace & Duce, Child Molesters, Jerry Bishop, Nopar King, The South Pasadena Free Music Ensemble, Gage Kenady, Ju Suk Reet Meate, Reverend Marty Nation, many more. "In January of 1976 the non-musician comedy team of Ace & Duce officially joined ranks with the newly formed Los Angeles Free Music Society for the legendary Spaghetti Works show in what was then truly old towne Pasadena with fellow stalwarts Le Forte Four and the Doo-Doeetees. When we had begun our forays into 'free music' we had figured to be lone venturers without peers, yet at this point we found ourselves in a sort of like-minded union. Enthusiasm reined supreme, who soon led us to the question of doing an album. For reasons that seem to escape me now, we decided to do a various artists compilation. Response was plentiful, so much so that before it was done plans were underway for a volume 2., which grew to become 2 records. It was a lot of fun. It was also a nightmare. Technology had not yet reached us, and suddenly we had many reels of tape and cassettes, all of varying quality or lack thereof, many with little or no information as to what exactly was on them. We were, in fact, forced to master volume 2 in mono due to varying levels and other technical hardships. Now due to the vision & lack of good sense on the part of Mr. Sheppard, we present the Blorp Esette experience, including volume 2 in stereo as originally intended, and many of the tracks that could not have been included in the original volumes due to time constraints and other maladies, with many new surprises." — Ace Farren Ford.

BLACK STRAP MOLASSES FAMILY: Travelling Medicine Show CD (TRAN 0024). $13.00

A trio of Dame Darcy (banjo, saw, vocals, tambourine), Pandora Pumpkinhead (flute, vocals, slide guitar, concertina, harmonica, kazoo, train whistle) & Black Strap Jack Shellac (guitar, vocals). Recorded in Hollywood, April 1998, this features the trio dealing with all traditional tunes like "Fatal Flower Garden," "Electric Chair Blues," "In My Grave I'd Rather Be," "God Is My Friend," etc. Plus Leadbelly's "Keep Your Hands Off Her".

MATA, PATRICK: Hydrocarbons From a Meteorite (Green) CD (TRAN 0051). $13.00

"Patrick Mata's legacy and reputation precede him. Founder/composer/leader and shapeshifter of the legendary death rock/gothic/industrial band Kommunity FK, mainman of Sativa Luv Box and conjurer of various other musical concepts, he releases his first solo CD, Hydrocarbons from a Meteorite (Green). Mata calls this first solo effort 'an experiment with chances improved for the love of mystery.' Mata went into the studio with only dreams and destiny, writing the tracks as the ideas and notions appeared from within. Able, with the opportunity to do anything he wanted, he put together this incredible experimental, avant garde masterpiece, straight down to the artwork and packaging. 'All of these songs and sound pieces were conceived with total love and psychedelic abandon, tattooed with question marks.' -Patrick Mata"

APE HAS KILLED APE: Matricide CD (TRAN 0052). $13.00

"This project contains members of Leather Hyman and W.A.C.O., along with three theremins and sampled dialog from Planet Of The Apes films. It is both a satire of rock music and a Swiftian essay on the nature of power and control found in same. Actors from Planet Of The Apes films frequently perform, in costume, with this group, who manage to draw hundreds of people to each of their shows. The front cover shows Leather Hyman drummer Matt Stein with his mother (Matricide — get it?) and frying on LSD at school marching band practice, age 14, on the back."

O.S.T (GREGORPOULOS, STEVE): Faith Of Our Fathers CD (TRAN 0053). $13.00

"Hamilton Sterling's dark and skeptical film Faith of our Fathers was a hit at the Los Angeles Film Festival a couple of years back. Since that time, it has played in art houses from New York to Cairo, to audiences who have found its strange mix of parable and borderline documentary/manifesto style both alluring and disturbing. One thing noted by reviewers and spectators alike has been the importance of the music — with opera singers, prepared piano and exotic percussion augmenting a traditional orchestra — to the themes of the film. This is a CD of the full score, plus several bonus tracks. All the music was composed, arranged and conducted by Steve Gregoropoulos and was produced by the director. It features several well-known names in new music in Los Angeles in uncredited (but nonetheless stellar) performances."

PROVISIONAL RIVIERA: Autumn Leaves CD (TRAN 0056). $13.00

"Avant noir 'easy listening' (cello and musique concrete) from Solid Eye co-founder William Leavitt. Ten pieces that flow perfectly into one album. Perhaps a little reminiscent of classic Siegfried Palm or Lynn Harrell DGG avant cello records, yet completely refreshing, innovative and original." Performed solo on cello and synthesizers by William Leavitt, produced by Joseph Hammer. Mysterious west coast experimentalism of a very high order.

ULTRA-RED: FS 59 CD (TRAN 0071). $13.00

"Ultra-Red has always been about music, but it has always been about more than music, too. The brainchild of auteur/saboteur Don Rhein and collaborator/sound molester Pablo Garcia, Ultra-Red has taken the form of dance hall parties, art installations, manifestos, books, paintings, political rallies, automobiles and who-knows-what? In this case, Rhein and Garcia have assembled a series of interviews with a transsexual firefighter into a lovely musique concrete soundscape that ranges from bouncy to frightening to simply achingly beautiful, as the words have become sounds, rhythms and, ultimately, even exquisite melodies. The CD includes a manifesto on the rights of transgendered workers. Ultra-Red has already amassed an international reputation for surprise and experiment, and FS 59 will only increase that reputation."

TRANSPARENT:

WASTELAND: Amen Fire LP (TRANS 002 LP). $9.00

12" vinyl version. 6 tracks.

VA: Roots, Rock, Ravers EP CD (TRANSP 01 CD). $10.00

"This mini compilation is the first release from the new sister label of leftfield soundsystem imprint Full Watts. Trans 01 is a slight departure from the reggae/big noise axis of Full Watts and at times highlights the more neutral and varied endeavors that sparked the inspiration for the new label. With that said, fans of Full Watts will find the same tuffness and rough-neck spirit on Roots, Rock, Ravers but applied to more flexible sonic strategies. This collection features four pieces by I-Sound, Disco Consultant (I-Sound & Errormith), DJ Scud and Thunder & Lightning (DJ Scud & I-Sound). The tracks skirt the edge of chaos and dissonance while holding to a tightly wound centre of soundsystem style beats and basslines. Rough music in the fine tradition of neo bass culture."

TRAPEZ (GERMANY):

VA: Selection One CD (TRAPEZ 001 CD). $15.00

"The first ever CD on this label: Selection One. Featured on Selection One is an exclusive compilation of Russian avantgarde techno and electronic tracks in a deep, dubby and rhythmic style. All tracks are available on CD for the first time." Artists include: Lazyfish, SCSI-9, Yura Moorush (f. Anton Kubikov), Multiplier.

TRIPLE R: Selection 2 CD (TRAPEZ 002CD). $16.00

"After the mix CD Friends on Kompakt, Triple R aka Riley Reinhold delivers a fine selection of not yet released material on CD, combining tracks from Trapez as well as from the sublabel Trapez Ltd. The mix features a broad spectrum of different styles on Trapez, ranging from the Sarahgoldfarbs Detroit Theo Parrish like 'Euben', over the joyous Trapez Ltd 3 to the frenzy of Oliver Hacke's 'Vampir Von Düsseldorf'. Riley Reinhold includes his track 'Count' from the Airfix EP on Trapez, being recognized lately by lots of DJs from the UK and DJ magazine. The CD finishes off with the stunning Steve Bug remix of Jeff Samuels 'Knob', a big club hit of the year 2003. The mix is in generally tougher and more uptempo than Riley Reinhold's mix on Kompakt, showing more of a DJ and club perspective without losing the smooth touch." Artists: Pleite (aka Donnacha Costello), Hansen & DJ Daniel, Dialogue, Akufen, Riley Reinhold and Steve Barnes, Unknown, Jeremy P. Caulfield, Oliver Hacke, Gabriel Ananda, Matthias Rahn, Jeff Samuel, M.I.A., Marcos Cabral, Sarahgoldfarb.

AKUFEN: Psychometry Vol. 1 12" (TRAPEZ 003). $9.00

"Herbert-like funky tracks from the upcoming producer from Canada."

AKUFEN: Psychometry Remixes by Oliver Hacke 12" (TRAPEZ 014). $9.00

"Totally slamin reworks by Oliver Hacke. Two incredible monsters. Part one of three."

LAZYFISH: Falling 12" (TRAPEZ 02). $9.00

Trapez is a Traum offshoot label, "Falling" is described as "...sounds like cold & clear vodka, one of the greatest minimal productions today." "EP of new music from this Russian artist, stylistically different from his previous CD. In that this is a record of straight 4/floor techno exercises, not the trick-heavy (and quite frankly, much more interesting) etudes found on his Vortex/Please-126 record on Art-Tek. Some could find passages of use within; others can wait for the stepdown." — Hrvatski.

ANANDA, GABRIEL: Wegeschwindel 12" (TRAPEZ 023). $9.00

"Wonderful epic and deep string techno as well as harder trax. Tasty as always."

RAHN: Reflections 12" (TRAPEZ 024). $9.00

"The return of Rahn to Trapez, and an auspicious offering to be sure. Where the first 12" for the label developed the dubbier elements of the label's remit, this one heads straight for the dancefloor jugular, repeating motifs shift and build, so instead of your regular looping techno twelve, you have a different beast altogether. The Trapez of recent releases has cleverly looked more and more square on at club dynamics, and this moves and shakes in all the right places. Pure brilliance."

MOORUSH, YURA: Moscow-Berlin-Café 12" (TRAPEZ 06). $9.00

"New act from Russia serving 5 dreamy & funky up techhousers. Recommended as always."

HACKE, OLIVER: Ausschnitt 12" (TRAPEZ 12). $9.00

"Talent scout Triple R digs out another superb producer. Ace, deep 4 tracker, killer."

NOON(AT): Snow Dust 12" (TRAPEZ 16). $9.00

"Light bouncing minimaltechno by Moscow's prince of techno (Konvex/Konkay, Salo)."

ANANDA, GABRIEL: Schaukeldrehen 12" (TRAPEZ 17). $9.00

"Excellent new entry for Trapez. Driving minimaltechno with a sense of humour."

SAMUEL, JEFF: Fcate 12" (TRAPEZ 18). $9.00

"First class minimal techno from Canada. Also released on Lo-Fi, 7th City, Deep Night."

CAULFIELD, JEREMY P.: The Cities 12" (TRAPEZ 21). $9.00

"Living in Toronto where has built up his own label Dumb Unit, he has discovered acts such as Jacob Fairley and Repair, both being reknown through their releases on Sender, Traum, Killer, and Sub Static. Jeremy P. Caulfield has created with his debut on Trapez a dancefloor crazed minimal stomper that reflects his love for German techno, not to mention Studio 1, Profan, Trapez, Kompakt, etc."

M.I.A.: River 12" (TRAPEZ 25). $9.00

"Energetic clubtrax with a pop touch and vocodered voices. The new sound of M.I.A."

KLUS, LEA: Deep Damage 12" (TRAPEZ 26). $9.00

"Debut by the French artist know for his release on the French label Interzone. This 2-tracker features 'Quatro- S' a hard rocking, mental tech house track, influenced by Mr Oizo's famous basslines fused with cut up splattered vocals that go turn dancefloors upside down. The flipside 'Deep Damage' is a modulation monster reminding us of the best Transmat records, monotone coolness sparked with deep emotions. An epis which goes longer than 10 minutes, making nice changes in arrangement."

G.A.: Highway To Heaven 12" (TRAPEZ 27). $9.00

"Thundering technomonster in an almost Speedy J-like vein. Unusual for Trapez, but..."

SAMUEL, JEFF: Knob Remixes 12" (TRAPEZ 28). $9.00

Steve Bug & Jacek Sienkiewicz remixes.

CAULFIELD, JEREMY P.: New Memory EP 12" (TRAPEZ 29). $9.00

"Mr Caulfield makes a rare appearance on the relentless Trapez label with a couple of bass heavy minimal stormers. 'Diving' loops a stripped mechanical feel, wicked crisp percussion rolls the track out, while simple bass stabs set the pace with their switching and pitch shifting, backed by a further synth which enhances the same keys with a little more sub and the top rhythm becomes evident, a real deep groove, perfect for the floor. Flip for a more jacking number with a lot of bass on 'Drowning' which delves way down in to the sub range for a top cut, as always Trapez shines out and doesn't fail to please, ace."

AKUFEN: Psychometry III Remixes 12" (TRAPEZ 30). $9.00

"Two Cologne remixes of 'Psychometry III' were planned for long, are now accomplished. The mega hit of Akufen deserved another remix 12", since it has a huge potential. Remixers are Falko Brocksieper and Break 3000 this time, following the crazy remixes in the past by Oliver Hacke, Thomas Brinkmann and Process. Falko Brocksieper is known for his releases on Sub Static, Treibstoff and has released a Trapez LTD already which was a hit on the sublabel. His rework of the classic by Akufen is very unlike the tracks he has released before, working particularly with samples from 'Psychometry III', relying on a rather straight but funky structure. He uses the vocoder sample in the fashion of a sequence and has turned the mighty track in a slick modulating techno monster, straight forward with accelerating breaks. Break 3000's remix is a Detroit inspired, E-dancer-like remix with sweeping melodies and pounding bassdrums."

REINHOLD/STEVE BARNES, RILEY: Airfix 12" (TRAPEZ 32). $9.00

"Riley Reinhold known also as Triple R for his DJ disguise, is co-owner of Debug magazine, owner of the labels : Traum Trapez and Trapez Ltd. He is doing the a & r work for all labels, recruiting artists from around the world, often new comers and talents in the field of techno and sometimes electronics, recently he is being involved also in the cover designs together with co-label owner Jacqueline Klein. He has been working as a DJ since 1990, DJing in all major clubs in Germany and touring together with Force Inc in the past and Thomas Brinkmann on his recent travels in Canada and the USA. He is resident DJ in the Sensor club in Cologne and has a monthly night at Comouflage with Thorsten Luetz from Karaoke Kalk. His new record he has recorded together with Steve Barnes, better known as Process, who is a close friend and artist on his label Traum for years. Airfix is a fusion of styles and feelings, still techno with a minimal touch. It reflects the feelings and moods he has been through in the last years."

DIALOGUE: Serious Swingers 12" (TRAPEZ 33). $9.00

"Dialogue is a project created in 2000 by Stefan Riesen and Niels Jensen straight outta Bern, capital city of Switzerland. Old school label pioneer Riesen (Phont Music, Superbra, Morris Audio, Speaker Attack) joined forces with local young talent Jensen to enter the field of minimal deep dubby tech house. Serious Swingers is the debut 12" on Trapez which combines nice stripped down minimal techno with unorthodox samples. Dialogue released several 12"s on labels like: Lo-fi Stereo, Highgrade, Statmusik and Morris Audio."

SAMUEL, JEFF: Lya 12" (TRAPEZ 34). $9.00

"Following the huge success of the Knob remix by Steve Bug, the man himself has a top rocker on the desk for us. Two strong cuts mastered loud for club play. Super funky combining a strong dry rhythm section with melodic chords and lots of soul."

REINHOLD & S. BARNES, R.: Freeflow 12" (TRAPEZ 35). $9.00

"Two tracker with two 8 minute long cuts that contribute to DJ Triple R's career as a DJ for 13 years in Cologne. Going back to Chicago's finest Mr. Fingers and K-Alexi but pounding away beats in his own way. Tracks were engineered by Steve Barnes, long time friend and Traum artist aka Process, in Mr. Stonestreets studios."

SAMUEL, JEFF: Witness 12" (TRAPEZ 36). $9.00

"Yes, the man is hot. And through his fabulous 3 EPs on Trapez the worlds techno alliance can even more appreciate the nice work of this American programmer. On this new 12" we find two long cuts, stripped down as usual, swinging and deadly funky. This man uses so few elements it is unbelievable. Melodic passages arise and you will witness, melodies do not have to sound the same."

LOWEN, MAIK: Ein Jahr Ein Monat 12" (TRAPEZ 37). $9.00

"Another talent from Cologne spotted by Riley Reinhold is hitting the Trapez scene. The sound designer and musician Maik Löwen has created a symphonic 3 dimensional shuffle monster which is breathing through its 1000 audio-holes. Its gigantic sound range has cinematic quality and is yet unique. Trapez is happy to introduce this new artist to the Trapez line up. The a-side was co-arranged by Riley Reinhold."

M.I.A.: Straightaway 12" (TRAPEZ 38). $9.00

"Yes, it is the comeback of Cologne's best female producer M.I.A. After her stunning debut on Trapez River, the breakthrough nationally and internationally, she surprises once again, this time with a super techno monster that pays tribute to analog strings and dark raving minimal tracker. Straightaway could be regarded as a German answer to Mad Mikes Red Planet Productions, sweet and deep but rocking. The unique analogue quality in sound, everything is 100% non digital(!) And the spontaneity of ideas floating in and out as feathers in the wind, add a feeling not to be replaced."

OZY: Imaginary Rockstar Syndrome 12" (TRAPEZ 39). $9.00

"We are happy to involve one of our big heroes of the past, Ozy the man behind so many brilliant releases on Islands Thule records. The man who has also remixed Gus Gus and other nice bands. He started out doing music in 1997 when his name by then was spelled Ozy, later changed to Ozy. Who now expects a dubby flavour like his music in the past will be confronted with something new. Imaginary Rockstar Syndrome is much more in the flavour of Akufen's music on Trapez, but fused with deep melodies and rocking basslines, powerful and smooth at the same time. A super alliance. The records consists of two tracks, the a-side being the title track and the b-side 'Lingo'."

REINHOLD/STEVE BARNES, RILEY: Mondrian 12" (TRAPEZ 40). $9.00

"The third record by the duo from Cologne and again a bit of a surprise. The title track 'Mondrian' connects with early Chicago house, deep modulating bassline, freaking out from time to time, still always hypnotic and cool escalating and transforming towards the end to something else. 'Joceline' on the flipside is a deep soulful and happy adventure, more tech house than the a-side."

OZY: Lingo Rmx 12" (TRAPEZ 41). $9.00

"After the success of Ornlufur Thorlacius aka Ozy on Trapez, we are happy to introduce remixes by Break 3000 and Domink Eulberg. The remixes are totally different from each other. Eulberg has written a deep night crawler, whereas Break 3000 has created something more euphoric and less close to the original of 'Imaginary Rockstar Syndrome' and 'Lingo'."

RAHN, M.: Cobra Boy 12" (TRAPEZ 42). $9.00

"From the home of Frankfurt, Matthias Rahn delivers two tracks that could be a homage to Sven Väth's legendary omen days in FFM. Classic and harder than the usual techno on Trapez this will be a rocker on the bigger dancefloors. 'Cobra Boy' is the storming monumental track whereas the flipside refers the more gentle side or Mr. M. Rahn."

SARAGOLDKFARB: LTD 10 12" (TRAPEZ LTD10). $9.00

"Hypnotic techno two-tracker from Marseille."

HANSEN + DJ DANIEL: TBA 12" (TRAPEZ LTD11). $9.00

"Rocking & unconventional. A rough shuffle & a cool Chicago minimal track."

BERN: Lille 12" (TRAPEZ LTD13). $9.00

"Strongly limited one sided dub cut by Traum artist Bern. No words necessary other than it is deep, freaky and slick."

UND: Sikko Stub 12" (TRAPEZ LTD15). $9.00

"Crashing melodies, nice monotone techno with vocals in different languages, gives their debut single a personal touch. Their production has partly been done in their studio 2020k in Turin. Analog equipment, 60's cheap microphones, Neumann, microphones, digital sounds, acoustic sounds, sounds from computer ventilators and samples from old vinyl... all changes are desired and help to create the personal view. Their single can be seen as a Fiat car production though; producing different types but with a style and shape you can always recognize."

CABRAL, MARCOS: Temp 12" (TRAPEZ LTD16). $9.00

"Delivers a true techno banger... It leaves no eye dry as we say. A corkcrew de techno par excellence , a hookline that can drill holes in marble. A sequence that wakes up ... Our dear friends that work hard during the day."

GOOSSENS, SAMMY: X 12" (TRAPEZ LTD17). $9.00

"Sammy 'Sierra Sam' Goossens has been busy with music for 15 years. When recording demos with bands he was playing bass or drums, he discovered the power of home studios and decided to create his own music. He started to release records in 1992 on a lot of labels like: Rotation, R&S, Tresor, Teknotika, Pure Plastic, Bipolar, Colette, Re-Load, Muller, Sur Muzique, Meuse Muzique...under the names of: The Sense, 6th Sense, Sierra Sam and The Undeelay. His liking for techno, electro, pop is highlighted on this 12" with two very different tracks, one comes with a French house pop flavour the other one comes very close to the music of Voice Stealer and related artists."

HANSEN + DJ DANIEL: Ltd18 12" (TRAPEZ LTD18). $9.00

"Techno-pop and super-hit minimal sounds remind of the good old 'James Brown Is Dead' opera from the early 90s."

UNBEKANNT: Psycho 12" (TRAPEZ LTD19). $9.00

"Very hypnotic, beautiful minimal Trapez tunes from Cologne. Finest functionality."

STUDIOGEMEINSCHAFT ON STAGE: Ltd. 21 12" (TRAPEZ LTD21). $9.00

Narcotic Syntax + Franklin de Costa.

EULBERG, DOMINIK: Ltd. 22 12" (TRAPEZ LTD22). $9.00

"After his huge success on Traum with Rotbauchunken, here comes a two tracker with a rave anthem touch. Unresistable mega blast from the past and sound 'shaping' programming bigger than any universal picture. A rocker."

LTD: Ltd. 5 12" (TRAPEZ LTD5). $9.00

"Deep clubtrax by an anonymous producer with a certain Asian/exotic touch."

TRAUM (GERMANY):

VA: Elektronische Musik aus Buenos Aires CD (TRAUM 1). $15.00

"Artists involved: Gustavo/Gustavo Lamas, Trineo, Yuxtapose, Leo Garcia, Oci, Fantasias Animades, Leandro Fresco, and Pommerenck. All tracks mix that contemporary-classic sound-of-Cologne/Berlin vibe with dialogue (Paris, Texas?), media error, cavernous beats/sounds & just about every other trick in the book. Should be huge as long as the mystery remains... Deep." — Hrvatski.

FAIRMONT: Paper Stars CD (TRAUM 10). $15.00

"Fairmont is the alias of Jacob Fairley and stands for his melodic techno soul side as opposed to his radical stripped down minimal techno releases on Dumb Unit, Sender, and Killer. Under Fairmont he has released two 12"s on Traum. Paper Stars features tracks that deliberately have been recorded over the last 12 months for a project that was to introduce Jacobs vocals, guitars sounds, drum machines and synths. With Paper Stars he departs even more from his status as a minimal techno producer, giving credit to his rock roots, which a city such as Toronto is known for. Fairley humms melodies, rocks basslines that sound like 1000 trapped bees ('Last Words') and then dives into a minimal groover ('True North', 'Inside') to end in a folk nurtured "Ignore Me". Paper Stars tells a story, is spiced with pictures and emotions that allow the listener to relish a bit of his life. In contrast to his new project, The Uncut, we witness a stronger pop influence drawing for example on Wolfgang Voigt Gas project ('Kinmount') stating a light quality with bits of heaviness. Ten tracks that fly by as if you were sitting on the back seats of a car letting towns and buildings pass by."

VA: Elektronische Musik: Interkontinental 2 CD (TRAUM 11 CD). $15.00

"Carrying the philosophy of Traum a step further, the new annual CD compilation, Elektronische Musik Interkontinental 2 continues to highlight new talents around the world in the field of electronic dance & listening. Elektronische Musik Interkontinental 2 CD is a CD to discover, a CD that shows alongside microscopic structures, a lot of individuality, exotic melodies & more. Compiled by Triple R aka Riley Reinhold. The quicktime video is by Cologne visual artist Yvette Klein. Artists included: Dublee, Yomagaillie, Off Pop, Fax, Mikkel Metal, Fotec Foyamat, Darmush, Smartypants, Robin Judge, Process and Tomas Jirku.

PROCESS: Spectra CD (TRAUM 13 CD). $16.00

"Usually associated with light, 'Spectra' can also refer to a collection of sound frequencies, so both bases are covered here, with sound by Process and light with Yvette Klein's video. Spectra is the second album by the English artist Steve Barnes on the Cologne based label Traum. Rhythmically the tracks are mid-tempo Techno in form, still minimal in nature, with added spacious atmospheres and melodic moments. A nod in the direction of early 90's Techno and Electronica with an appreciation for Chicago and Detroit innovators like Carl Craig, Larry Heard and Richie Hawtin. As well as British and European influences like Maurizio, Monolake and To Rokoko Rot are present with the contemporary Process approach. The sound of Spectra has changed from his previous albums Shape Space on Fat Cat and Pattern Recognition on Traum, referring soundwise to his 'Surface/Fiction' 12", which marks a cornerstone in his career. Creating a stir among DJs such as Richie Hawtin, Riccardo Villalobos, Sven Väth and many others, it announced the beginning of a new aesthetic. But certainly the essential idea of his music continues onwards, that sound can create spacious, self-contained environments, something you can immerse yourself in. Spectra features electronic tracks as well as dance tracks, including a quicktime animation video of 'Room'."

VA: Elektronische Musik: Interkontinental 3 CD (TRAUM 14CD). $17.00

"Interkontinental has proved itself as a forum for Riley Reinhold to break and foster new talent along side his growing and respected roster. Process of course has been there from the start, Jorge Gebauhr, Oliver Hacke and Broker/Dealer have all been willing accomplices. Pobrebo is best remembered for a quite remarkable twelve for Schnittstelle a couple of years back, more for Below, as well as strong sales technique at the Freebase store in Frankfurt. New recruits in the guise of homelander Adam Kroll and Boris Heinzmann, Harry Hohnen and Victor Berman from Australia, Kosuke Anamizu from Japan; while Michael Fentum and Donal Tierney from England and Ireland respectively, represent the growing audience for quality minimal electronic house of this kind all over the islands west of Europe. Add a bonus quicktime video and extra track from Process, and you have another quality package from the ever reliable Traum."

BRINKMANN, THOMAS: Tour De Traum CD (TRAUM 15CD). $16.00

Unbelievable Brinkmann remix/re-cut album, recalling the glorious days of this Profan/Studio One variations or Richie Hawtin/Concept remake. Features numerous exclusive C.U.T. (aka Brinkmann) remixes... "Thomas Brinkmann displays his perspective of 5 years of Traum music. The main interest of the label in the past was to generate interest for music similar in style, you may call it micro tech-house, written under different circumstances, adding domestic nuances and flavour to it, impossible for anyone but the people who wrote it. Thomas Brinkmann has chosen music from Traum he likes a lot and music which he can manipulate and interpret. Philippe Cam and Process are constantly popping up, mixed and combined with other tracks on Traum. The tour opens quite electronic, progressing towards a steady techno beat, not unlike his own music. Not only has he changed the contents of some of the tracks, but he has also shifted the frequency range to a sphere which we call the Brinkmann sphere, means the bass heavy active basslines which he develops in his laboratory on his incredible p.a. Thomas sees and hears things differently and twist and turns them to the better, he might argue. He heard complementary sequences and has them join as well as adding his own music sometimes. So the opener is a track that mixes TBA (Tusia Berizide known by her voice on 'Nikakoi') With M.I.A. in a fine way. Some of the tracks have not been released on a CD before, like Oliver Hacke 'Polar 1', a favourite of Daniel Bell and many other DJs appreciating the deep end on things. The piece of art shown on the cover of the CD, plays with the opinion of Cologne people, that the river Rhein flows in to the Zürich lake."

CAM, PHILIPPE: Balance CD (TRAUM 3 CD). $15.00

"Philippe Cam is a star in his own field. He is among the few people that have succeeded to write hypnotic dance music without a conventional beat still conveying a thrilling, dramatic feel. Cam has developed an accurate, intense and complex formula of modulation-techno. Starting with music similar to Pan Sonic in 1996, his music turned towards a more elegant form of minimal music. He worked as a DJ in Brussels beginning of the 90s. Then chose to become a sailor and cruised the oceans. Mid of the 90ies he started to study electronic music in Brussels and began to write music for theatre, ballet and French movies. Abstract sound-tracks lead to an organic form of music, which was equally influenced by modern techno as Wolfgang Voigt's Studio 1/Gas or Basic Channel/Maurizio. His demo received by the Cologne based label Traum in 1999 led to a series of three fantastic 12"s. Since then journalists have made links also to Manuel Göttsching's classical masterpiece E2-E4 referring to his low evolving modular wave scapes and strong repetitiveness. Cam's latest compilation CD Balance on Traum is a fine selection of tracks previously released as Traum 12"s. This CD contains tracks in full length, plus a video of 'Mixte' by Cologne artist Yvette Klein, who thickly textured the music with a minimal aesthetic. Cam's music corresponds heavily to the Cologne scene, where his music is appreciated and played throughout the clubs by the likes of Michael Mayer, Tobias Thomas and various other djs as well as experimental djs from the A-musik corner."

PROCESS: Pattern Recognition CD (TRAUM 4 CD). $15.00

"Process aka Steve Barnes is a respected member of the English electronic-scene for now over three years. Alongside Peter Ford, SND and Matthew Herbert he has developed a specific English style of minimal dance music. His modern and groove orientated music deals with abstract sound design, sometimes non-rhythmic, sometimes rhythm led. The overall concept underlying the 'Process Sound' is to explore music's relation to space and therefore picks on the heritage of true English Minimalism such as LFO, Sweet Exorcist etc. He has released three breathtaking 12"s since 1999 on the Cologne based label Traum: 'Integ', 'Process Remixes Elektronische Musik Aus Buenos Aires' and 'Horizon' which have had an overwhelming response. Since then process has build up a worldwide following, consisting of people interested in abstract sounds as well as clubbers who seek the unorthodox four to the floor beat. Sven Vath's radio show on hessen 3 has highlighted his work here in Germany, as has The Wire in England and several magazines around the globe. Apart from his Traum records he released on Fat Cat in 2000 the CD & vinyl album Shape Space, a split EP with Dat Politics and on the Hefty label, the American equivalent to Fat Cat, 'Immediate Action Series'. The newest release Traum CD4: Pattern Recognition is not only a compilation of his Traum releases but also contains previously unreleased music. With this predominantly dance orientated CD Process reveals his talent to produce playfull and also geometrically straight tracks. What all tracks have in common, is a love for physical music and in the last consequence an acknowledgement for youth culture."

MISS DINKY: Melodias Venenosas CD (TRAUM 5 CD). $15.00

"Chile born Miss Dinky stems from a circle of talented musicians in Santiago De Chile, including Riccardo Villalobos (Playhouse/Perlon) and Dandy Jack aka Martin Schopf. Miss Dinky aka Alejandra Iglesias moved to N.Y.C. in 1996 to stay contemporary but was very much inspired by a trip to Berlin 1995 where she met DJ Hell, Robert Görl and Stacy Pullen she soon became resident in one of New Yorks most crowded gay clubs, the 'Flamingo East'. The breakthrough came after she founded a DJ collective in N.Y.C. with three other female DJs, the 'Angels On Vinyl'. She ended up playing everywhere: The Limelight, Tunnel, The Cooler, Soundfactory, 21's, Drinkland and during the Transmat tour with Derrick May and Aril Brinkha. Her work as a DJ also included gigs with Khan, John Selway, DJ Silver as well as Adam X. Her first CD includes her ambient tracks tracks as well as her dance tracks with many previously unreleased tracks. Many of the exotic sound have collected through her DJ travels in Latinamerica. Her music can be described as melodic and emotional, deep and rhythmic. Influences have been Christian Vogel, Basic Chennel, Carl Craig, Derrick May etc. and she certainly loves the early period of clonks and bleeps as one can feel throughout her music."

WAKI: Music For Lazy People CD (TRAUM 6 CD). $15.00

"The Japanese artist Wakisaka Akifuma belongs to the well known artists of the Japanese techno scene. He has released on Ken Ishii's label Dub Restaurant among others such as Denki Groove. Nevertheless his style varies very much and we see him now with his first release on the Cologne label Traum with beautiful analogue music that is very much different from his other releases on his own label Loveburger. Music For Lazy People puts him on the list with musicians such as Biosphere and of course Philippe Cam. Wakisaka Akifuma has studied composition at the University of Tokyo and started producing music in 1989. He started with his own label Loveburger in 1995 and released four cds so far. His influences range from classic electronic-ambient-pop music such Kraftwerk and Brian Eno to Wolfgang Voigt's project Gas. Waki performs live regularly in Japanese clubs such as: Blue, Bullet, Womb, Le Deco, Marbeltron, Zazou, Humandog, Montage, Yellow, etc."

VA: Elektronische Musik - Interkontinental CD (TRAUM 7 CD). $15.00

"After the success of the compilation Elektronische Musik Aus Buenos Aires in 1998 the Cologne based label Traum releases its second collection on CD and 2x12". It compiles new electronic music from all around the globe including such artists as: Anton Kubikov (Moscow/RUS), Tomas Jirku (Montreal/CAN), Miss Dinky (USA/CHILE), Fairmont/Jacob Farley (Toronto/CAN), Philippe Cam ( Le Havre/F), Process (Brighton/UK), Akufen (Montreal/CAN), Waki, (Tokyo/JAP), Oxtongue (Torino/I), Broker/Dealer (San Francisco/USA), M.I.A. (Cologne/GER). All tracks are unreleased and appear here for the first time. Process opens with one of his best ambient tracks so far, Fairmont continues with folk-tech romanticism, Philippe Cam shows melodies carouselling, Miss Dinky tells traumatic tales, M.I.A. walks the shadows of doubt, Oxtongue drills deep, Kubikov floats in space, Broker/Dealer deal away with frisco Loveliness, Tomas Jirku exersices the zen and Waki walks through glass and steel. Yvette Klein holds up Traum's lovely tradition of including a cute quicktime movie called 'Zoo'. The double vinyl features some clubber tracks by the above Mentioned artists plus exclusive bonus tracks by Andreas Fragel (Duesseldorf) and Fax (Tijchuana, Mexico)."

IQUINN: Seed CD (TRAUM 8 CD). $15.00

"Seed is an album that merges influences of Clicks'n'Cuts, Minimal House and Ambient into something that is experimental and beautiful at the same time, a rather unusual combination (but that's one of the things that makes life worth living: unusual music, right?). The music is floating, occupying rooms little by little, not by using broad faces of synth sounds but by fragile yet warm electronic notes. The CD contains an animated visualisation of the track 'Brief Encounter' by Yvette Klein."

VA: Process - Re'Processed 2CD (TRAUM 9 CD). $19.00

"Traum releases with the Re'Processed CD and LP one of the most elaborate remix projects around. The remixes rely to a high percentage on soundfiles of the Process track 'Pelican' released originally on the Elektronische Musik Interkontinental in 2001. Other artists have chosen other tracks for a remix, Such as 'Estero', 'Modif', 'Integ' all released on Traum. Drawing on the aspect of interkontinental friendship, the line up goes beyond the interior Traum family and features for the first time also internationally well known artists such as: Akufen (Trapez, Force Inc., Perlon), Fairmont aka Jake Fairley (Sender, Dump Unit, Traum), Cabanne (Telegraph), Move D (Source, Warp), Jeff Milligan (Force Inc., Revolver, Cynasure), Tomas Jirku (Klang, Force Inc., Revolver), Fax (Traum), Anton Kubikov (Trapez, Force Tracks, Salo), Jonas Bering (Kompakt), Olaf Dettinger (Kompakt), Markus Guentner (Kompakt, Ware), Joachim Spieth (Kompakt, Onitor), M.I.A. (Sub Static, Traum), Oliver Hacke (Trapez, Background), Philippe Cam and Mo & Giamo (Emd) The aspect of new unknown artists always important for Traum is taken into account by new artists such as: Daniëto from Chile, Retrofit, Mike Uzzi (Boston), Bern (Lille) and Eamonn Doyle (Dublin). Re'Processed relies to a high degree on computer manipulated tracks made for the dancefloor but features also analogue modulation and ambient electronic music."

DETALLES: Shapes Of Summer CD (TRAUM CD12). $15.00

"Starting 7 years ago with the compilation centered around the Argentinean electronic scene in Buenos Aires, and a follow up by Gustavo CD by Santiago de Chiles mastermind Adres Bucci and & New York artist Kate Simko. Andres Bucci has been a respected member of the electronic underground in Santiago for years. Playing together with Atom Heart, the cooperation with Kate Simko has resulted in a concept album of 11 tracks that feature electronica as well as piano pieces. After Gustavo Lamas and Iquinn's album on Traum, Shapes Of Summer is the third album that is not a mere compilation of the work. The discrepancy in style between piano and electronica and the seemingly loose assembly, is rather antagonistic. The magic lies in the silent form of communication capturing atmospheres in a gentle way. Traum continues to release their electronic side on CD, while the releases on vinyl are devoted even more to the clubs and alternative world."

CAM, PHILIPPE: Caddie's Day 12" (TRAUM V02). $9.00

"Glamorous floating ambient-techno from France."

CAM, PHILIPPE: Mixte/Karine 12" (TRAUM V04). $9.00

Second single on this label by this new French producer, described as "Manuel Göttsching's reincarnation, very beautiful! This is ambient!" Long E2-E4 style guitar-loop workouts that escalate continually; a bit hard to get past the Göttsching link perhaps, but so gorgeously performed.

CAM, PHILIPPE: Caddie's Day (Die Salze Remixe) 12" (TRAUM V05). $9.00

Two remixes by Salz. "Glamorous, very clubby re-interpretations of Traum V2. Extraordinary."

PROCESS: Music Aus Buenos Aires Remixes 12" (TRAUM V06). $9.00

"Three remixes from Traum CD1 by this British artist. Very crispy and groovy minimal techno."

MISS DINKY: Atacama 12" (TRAUM V07). $9.00

"Oh so lovely exotic ambient & 4/4 trax by this native Chilean NYC girl DJ. She brings a perfect combination between ambient and Minimal techno. The title refers to the famous desert in Chile, Atacama."

FRAGEL, ANDREAS: Conrad 12" (TRAUM V08). $9.00

"Hypnotic minimal groove with dark melodic soundscapes."

FAIRMONT: Palace Pier EP 12" (TRAUM V10). $9.00

"Tasteful deep minimaltechno from Canada's J. Farley/Dumb Unit."

MISS DINKY: Valparaíso 12" (TRAUM V11). $9.00

Second 12" on Traum by Miss Dinky, "the straightest Traum so far".

PROCESS: Horizon 12" (TRAUM V12). $9.00

"Three-dimensional physical technotrax with an experimental edge."

KUBIKOV/MAXIM MILUTENKO, ANTON: Music For Currydoors 12" (TRAUM V13). $9.00

Collaborative 12" between Kubikov (aka SCSI 9) and Mulutenko. "SCSI 9 on all channels these days. Outstanding ambient-ish techno by these gifted Russians."

FAIRMONT: Mansfield 12" (TRAUM V14). $9.00

"Jacob Fairley's softer side. Tracks like white satin, smooth minimal techno & ambient."

PIIRI: Rajoitousalue EP 12" (TRAUM V15). $9.00

"The mighty Ilpö Väisänen of Pan Sonic fame delivers some cole & clean abstract techno." Some of the deepest reduction yet from Ilpö, purely awesome.

MISS DINKY: Amapola 12" (TRAUM V16). $9.00

"New sweet sounds ranging between emotional ambient and teasing minimal house."

CAM, PHILIPPE: Canadians! 12" (TRAUM V17). $9.00

The 5th 12" for Traum by this French artist from Le Havre. "The master of techno without kickdrum is back for more funky sequences. One of the main pillars of Traum, his music is very strong, creating an almost quanrophonic experience."

PROCESS: Odd Angels 12" (TRAUM V18). $9.00

"Process aka Steve Barnes is a respected member of the English electronic-scene for now over three years. Alongside Peter Ford, SND and Mathew Herbert he has developed a specific English style of minimal dance music. His modern and groove orientated music deals with abstract sound design, sometimes non-rhythmic, sometimes rhythm led. The overall concept underlying the 'Process sound' is to explore music's relation to space and therefore picks on the heritage of true English minimalism such as LFO, Sweet Exorcist etc."

WAKI: July 12" (TRAUM V19). $9.00

"Beautiful sequencial music with Pop Ambient flavour."

FAX: Resonates 12" (TRAUM V20). $9.00

"Great discovery out of Mexico. Minimal techno somewhere between Farben and Orbital."

VA: Elektronische Musik - Interkontinental 2LP (TRAUM V21). $16.00

Double vinyl version. Similar artist listing to the CD, but only 3 of the 9 tracks overlap with what is found on the CD.

BROKER/DEALER: Dig Deep 12" (TRAUM V22). $9.00

"What a record! Immensely hypnotic minimal techno straight from San Francisco's heart."

KUBIKOV & M. MILUTENKO, ANTON: Music For Currydoors Vol. 2 12" (TRAUM V23). $9.00

"Kubikov's ambient project approaches Erik Satie. Ace music without bones."

IQUINN: Seed LP (TRAUM V24). $12.00

LP version. Same 10 tracks as the CD.

M.I.A.: Morgentau 12" (TRAUM V25). $9.00

"Dreamy, playful minimalhouse EP straight from the heart...Michaela Grobelny is a well known DJ from Cologne. She runs her own label Sub Static together with Falko Brocksieper...her trax on Traum show a slightly different perspective. Still one trademark prevails, an hypnotic beat with microscopic changes, a carrier for strong emotions."

PROCESS: Fiction 12" (TRAUM V26). $9.00

"His strongest release so far. Less experimental — more dancefloor-friendly minimal."

BERN: Loann 12" (TRAUM V27). $9.00

"Another ace discovery from Lille/France (DAT Politics, J. Bering). Inventive."

OXTONGUE: Delight/Windows 12" (TRAUM V28). $9.00

"What a tune! Supercatchy vocoder-driven minimalhouse from Italy. Larger than life."

BROKER/DEALER: Urgent 12" (TRAUM V29). $9.00

"San Fran's hottest newcomers in technoworld coming up in a modernist stylee."

VA: Process - Re'Processed 2LP (TRAUM V30). $16.00

Double LP version; features 10 of the 23 tracks found on the double CD.

JIRKU, TOMAS: Rychnov 12" (TRAUM V31). $9.00

"If there is such as a figurehead of the new evolving Canadian /Ameriacan clicks & cuts techno scene, it could be Tomas Jirku. His unique sounding tracks are based on samples culled from his favourite funk and pop tunes, and then processed to such an extreme degree that the original is indiscernible. Jirku combines dub elements with haunting rhythms to reconstruct a sound which is influenced by Cologne's minimalism, English pop culture and US House music. His quality relies heavily on his clever mad fast programming and his experience in club culture resulting in tracks almost undeterminable for listeners. His newest release on Traum highlights this quality, nevertheless concentrates on the more smooth, stable, and bass-y tracks opposed to his more clickery tracks."

FAIRMONT: Paper Stars LP (TRAUM V32). $13.00

LP Version, full color jacket.

VA: Elektronische Musik: Interkontinental 2 2LP (TRAUM V33). $17.00

Double LP version.

WHITE, GEOFF: Now Showing 12" (TRAUM V34). $9.00

"Swinging greets from the west coast. Precise minimal techno from edit-camp."

DINKY: Medieval Dreams 12" (TRAUM V35). $9.00

"Magic late-night burner in a mental Villalobos-style. Massive release for Traum."

OFF POP: Today 12" (TRAUM V36). $9.00

"Fine hypnotic cliky techhouse by this Polish producer known from WMF Records."

M.I.A.: Another Day 12" (TRAUM V37). $9.00

"After the formidable rocking 12" on Trapez, MIA has collected all her gift talents to assemble a deep grinding 3-tracker. The force lies within the pounding drum patterns, the great chords and her hidden voice, that is always the tiny accelerator after the great support by Richie Hawtin & friends for her debut 12" on Traum, this new EP is another step into the hearts of the all around the globe."

PROCESS: Glider 12" (TRAUM V38). $9.00

"Perfect follow up to his strong Surface/Fiction 12". Similar in sound and strength glider takes it a step further, rocking more minimal and placing strings massively but displaying them rather in short eruptive rhythmic patterns. Two loud cuts building up tension."

HACKE, OLIVER: Polar 1 12" (TRAUM V39). $9.00

"Oliver Hacke known from Trapez releases a stunning 12" on the new Traum imprint. 'Polar' is a series within Traum dedicated to dark dance floor techno. It will be fuelled by artists to come on Traum. After 7 years of existence, Traum will dedicate itself to the club side of things with strong releases. Polar 1 features two long mixes, one being a minimal banger with crucial sounds rhythmic hissing sounds and tons of bass and bassdrum. The flipside features a 15 minute voyage resulting in a breathtaking break."

ADAM K: Polar II 12" (TRAUM V40). $9.00

"Adam K is a Poland born drummer, who is living in Cologne, playing the drums for different pop & electronic bands. His debut on Traum records is part of the 2 record Polar edition on Traum which was kicked off with the Oliver Hacke Polar I on Traum last month. His two long cuts of the tracks 'Sporen' and 'Kartenspiel' deliver strong dance tracks with microscopic small twists and variations in the arrangements. Hypnotic haunting and spacious sounds, darkish in style for late night hours."

GEBAUHR, JORGE: Monday 12" (TRAUM V41). $9.00

"A new face on the Traum label. Jorge Gebaur is of Argentinian origin, lives in Frankfurt and will record a series of records for Traum. The debut is a 4 track EP, each track devoted to a different influence /genre. Ranging from an Akufen inspired track to Riccardo Villalobos South American funkiness to moody deepness, all tracks are produced with a very rhythmic and funky feeling and samples seldomly heard."

BERN: Father 12" (TRAUM V42). $9.00

"The French DJ Bern from Lille, mate of Jonas Bering, Fabrice Lig etc. presents his second 12" on Traum. Two smooth deep tracks, loud cuts for the floor, will comfort DJs and clubbers that like musik ranging from Swayzak's smooth minimal house to Wolfgang Voigt Studio 1. The music fuses both sides and results in unique stripped down techno house tracks."

EULBERG, DOMINIK: Der Hecht Im Karpfenteich 12" (TRAUM V43). $9.00

"Dominik Eulberg is lecturer at the university of Bonn and works as a natural scientist, writes books about biotopes and last but not least writes techno music. He has released on Raum Music and has a forthcoming EP on Ware. The Traum release is untypical for the label as it is for himself. Hi Hats sound like the breaking of reed and Dr. Mabuse meets China girl. Alltogether still straight techno, rocking till the end of dawn."

GEBAUHR, JORGE: Living In Another Body 12" (TRAUM V44). $9.00

"The Argentinian artist is highlighting his greatest piece of music so far with his epic house slammer a-side: 'Are You Talking To Me'. He combines hi energy elements with electronic feel with his unique groove. On the flipside we find two more silent deep house tracks, ready to be discovered by the DJ."

KROLL AND RILEY REINHOLD, ADAM: Static People 12" (TRAUM V45). $9.00

"Static People is a very funky stripped down groover, which could remind people of Steve Bug's music on Pokerflat. It shows the new direction of Traum combining techno with romantic & dark feelings rather than with ambient ideas, as there were in the past which had to be highlighted. The record comes with two very different mixes, the 'Harmony Mix' being rather soulful and deep but funky with q cool piano and short string parts the 'Sequencer Mix' on the flipside instead is rather nervous and reflect more speed and direct energy, including vocals by Triple R. Static People originally was a statement concerning the Cologne dance scene some months ago, here it appears in excerpts/phrases."

VA: Elektronische Musik: Interkontinental 3 12" (TRAUM V46). $9.00

"The vinyl edition of the Interkontinental III this time is a simple 12". But you will notice why, it is a pure concentrate of the most clubby tracks of the album, mastered extremely well for DJ use. The selection includes 'Warm Hands' by the new English artist based in London Michael Fentum, a track with strings so crass and a dynamic like a tidal wave."

BRINKMANN, THOMAS: Tour De Traum LP (TRAUM V47). $15.00

5 track LP version, featuring a Soul Center remix of Process, plus 4 C.U.T. (aka Brinkmann) remixes of Andreas Fragel, TBA, Process and P. Cam.

EULBERG, DOMINIK: Die Rothbauchunken von Tegernsee 12" (TRAUM V48). $9.00

"The nature scientist Dominik Eulberg, scholar at the University of Bonn has sampled sounds of a biotope in which the Rothbauchunke lives, a frog with a beautiful red chest and as we believe with a strong organ. The result is a dodgem ride, unpredictable in any way, energetic but also heavy and slow grinding. The title track is in fact a grinding slow techno tune with lots of distractive integrated sounds, crazy drum breaks. A slammer! The b-side is contrary to the a-side again a quite melodic hypnotic ride. Enjoy."

ECHOPILOT: I Don't Think So 12" (TRAUM V49). $9.00

"Echopilot is a new project by the Austrian born artist formerly know as Brian Aneurysm, living in Texas, USA. His project as Echopilot differs from his techno project as Brian Aneurysm as far as he now uses German voice with an 'American accent' in a rather explicit way and breaks the rhythm in funky bits rather than diggin the 4/4 beat throughout his tracks. Within 4 tracks he develops charming and crass passages, creating with 'Opticalcentre' a comparison with Isoles 'Beau Mon Plage'. 'Finstere Zeiten' is one of his own favorites that reminds us of early German new wave band DAF."

KROLL, ADAM: Sylphen 12" (TRAUM V50). $9.00

"Adam Kroll is since a couple of months a new artist on Traum, working intensely with the label. With his follow up to Oliver Hackes 'Polar 1' he has earned international recognition. 'Sylphen' is in contrast to his debut record, one which is reflecting to 100% his energetic complex almost jazzy way of making music. Untamed and ruthless, still controlled, 'Squnk' is the primetime rhythm-rocker of his new set of songs. Totally different is 'Yngoor' which klings more to the 'Polar 2' episode, a roaring techno animal, whereas 'Puk' is a melodic tree which leaves us with no words to comment on."

TREES, MUSIC & ART (TAIWAN):*FOURIERS, IEP: Sound Theatre 4 CD (TMCD 249). $15.00

"Sound Theatre 4 contains both traditional and contemporary music played by a master of the hurdy gurdy ('draailier', European folkinstrument). Philip Fourier, known as collaborator of Olla Vogala and Geert Waegeman (Cro Magnon) works for national TV. He is a member of several groups and as a solo artist he performed all over Western Europe. All other instruments (bagpipes, fife, dulcimer) are also played by Philip. He started his musical career in the late 70's when he became fascinated by traditional music of Flanders and France and the typical sound of traditional instruments as bagpipes, hurdy gurdy and others. Today he's recognised as one of the most important hurdy gurdy players in Europe. The music he plays is inspired by both traditional and contemporary music. He experiments with all possible techniques and aims at creating a very personal musical expression to the whole. His music leads the listener into a strange, mysterious and enchanting world of sound. [Hurdy Gurdy: European folk-instrument of which the sound is generated by strings that are rubbed by a resined wheel that acts as a bow. The instrument has dronestrings, a rhythm string and melodystrings, provided with keys in order to play the notes.]

TREIBSTOFF (GERMANY):*VA: Gemixt... CD (TREIB 01CD). $14.00

Compilation of tracks from this relatively new German label, based out of Köln., taken from previous vinyl-only 12" releases. Features tracks from Marcel Janovsky, Novatek, Rafael Gómez, René Breitbarth, KlangGut & Nothingface. In the light of the Harvest's demise the German minimal/techhouse scene is flourishing more than ever due to an onslaught of labels like Perlon, Playhouse, Klang Elektronik, Sender, etc., and Treibstoff is one more key piece to the puzzle. Described as "a stunning showcase of this Cologne techhouse label. Pure harmonic minimal pleasure," this represents the post-Modernist agenda in the most logically precise fashion.

MAETRIK: Quality Exertion CD (TREIB 03CD). $14.00

"What most people associate with Dallas, is probably the TV series with the famous J.R. and his intricate gang, which was one of the first US soap operas that invaded Europe in mid-eighties. But Dallas, is also a source of good musicians and one of them is Maetrik, aka Eric Estornel, who released the Connect EP in 2000. His album for Treibstoff charms the listener with smooth, fresh sounds and 'alive' effects, which give the music a breathing feeling. The tracks are on the edge of pop-driving music with a 'Detroit feeling' and a safe 'soul' taste, that keep them floating without leaving them undefined. Between hyperactive synthesizer sounds, sunrise topics and a touch of industrial techno, Maetrik shows his flexibility and delivers a debut album that fits perfectly with today's demand for quality music."

BREITBARTH, RENE: With A Little Luck 2LP (TREIB 042LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

VA: Gemixt. #02 (mixed by Marcel Janovsky) CD (TREIB 04CD). $15.00

Artists include: Jackmate, René Breitbarth, Falko Brocksieper, Jeff Bennett, Marcel Janovsky, Jeff Bennett, Maetrik, Novatek. "One year passed since the first Treibstoff compilation was released. More than 10 vinyl releases and artist albums followed, so it was time to release the 2nd package thus expressing our concern again for those without turntables. Label owner and DJ Marcel Janovsky compiles your favorites for a unique showcase in a tight mix. You will find the good old Treibstoff people as well as promising new acts. There's Cologne-funk, free-floating dub-tech, minimal house and tech-house flavors...Treibstoff style!"

BREITBARTH, RENE: Solar CD (TREIB 05CD). $16.00

"Germany's secret king of house René Breitbarth finally delivers his debut album on Treibstoff. Solar is not just a vinyl or CD compilation of tracks, but an exhibition of the 'Breitbarth sound' in full effect. From euphoric aural home-listening pearls to dry-rockin' master-builders for the dance floor, Rene defines the new coordinates for a modern dance electronic and groovy everyday life. Rene doesn't need to 'cross over' or copy other styles. He has the courage to present his own vision of beauty and motion, in his effort to please (and release) the listener with beautifully-crafted aural landscapes."

NOON(AT): Under The Moon/Sun CD (TREIB 06CD). $16.00

"Besides Canada, Russia is still one of the best international countries for reduced Dub-tech. From Moscow comes also Noon(at, who made himself attentive with releases on labels like Salo, Konvex Konvak and Trapez. His first album consolidates itself to a high-functional microfunk, it's summer ease makes it extraordinary pleasantly. 'Ocean Body' abstracts thereby maritime dub in ultramodern kind, very cleared up and with pleasing few plate surfaces. 'Under The Moon' has continuous organ surface while 'Newsletter' deals with melancholic string-trance and inserts vocal elements. More uncomfortable becomes the wobbly clock-work mover 'One Night With the Machine' which sprays late laminar harmony. A locking approximation to the Cologne shuffle-school brings the CD bonus track 'Fish & Chips' and completes the stylistic pallet of an alternate but homogenous album."

BREITBARTH, RENE: With A Little Luck CD (TREIB 07CD). $16.00

"Into real luck you don't waddle - you gallop!" (Tina Teubner). That's right, and René Breitbarth knows that too. In 1997, the 28 year old Cologne guy founded the Treibstoff-label together with Marcel Janovsky and is thereby one of the most reliable soundproducers. With his eight EP-publications and the last year album debut Solar René advanced the reconciliation of modern cut deephouse with the reduced aesthetics of the dub. And nevertheless he puts one on top 'With a Little Luck'. Pumping sexy, close, funky, always present in the hip and always with a very pleasant summer placidity. The denomination of the tracks understands itself as gentle bow to mister Paul McCartney, 'because I appreciate him a lot as a musician. Of course my tracks do not have much to do with his music, except perhaps the warm, harmonious parts'. And that we don't misunderstand each other there: It's definitely not about reference lists. In addition Breitbarth's definition of depth is way too self-confident, both in emotional and perspective dimension. It leads you to the inside, where the warm pulse impact of the bass synchronizes your heart. And it will make not only you a little luckier."

MAETRIK: Quality Exertion 2LP (TREIB 2024). $16.00

Double vinyl version.

BREITBARTH, RENE: Solar 2LP (TREIB 2029). $16.00

Double LP version.

TRENTE OISEAUX (GERMANY):*GUNTER, BERNHARD: brown, blue, brown on blue (for Mark Rothko) CD (TOC 001). $15.00

"I finished brown, blue, brown on blue (for Mark Rothko) in mid-july 1999, and it picks up where slow gestures/cérémonie désir (for Heike) left off. this work is dedicated to my favorite painter, Mark Rothko, and the title is taken from one of his paintings that has accompanied me for a long time as print hanging beside my bed. i finally got a chance to see this painting in an exhibition of Rothko's works at the Musée de l'Art Moderne de la Ville de Paris in 1999 and was more deeply touched by it than i can express in words. these strong feelings have found their way into the composition i began working on immediately after my visit at the museum — it is not intended to describe the painting itself, but rather the emotions it inspired. the itinerary the work takes is, in some respect, a reversed mirror image of the development of Rothko's painting during his life: where Rothko started his characteristic style with bright colors and ended in dark grays and blacks, i am starting with dark colors implying his tragic death to end in a kind of celebration of his greatness being recognized by so many people now, and the heritage of wonderful works he has left us. — b.g., october 1999. those are the liner notes, now for the less formal part: the silence is from japan, the rhythmic flow from india, the harmonic understanding from 20th century europe, the formal devices are the consequences i have drawn from Morton Feldman, and the inspiration from Mark Rothko. this is the good side of globalization — new combinations of cultures are made possible...the piece also represents a new level of craftsmanship for me, in terms of handling a large compositional structure (at 77.0 dim -38:30 min.- the longest piece i have ever composed), and of my 'savoir-faire' concerning the ways of using of my (further reduced) technical equipment."

REYNOLDS: Blank Tapes CD (TOC 002). $15.00

"Reynolds is a group of artists from Buenos Aires, Argentina, consisting of Miguel Tomasini, Roberto Conlazo, and Anla Courtis. Their work Blank Tapes is a piece in six parts, made from analog and digital treatments of a selection of blank tapes, dating from the years 1978-1999. Despite the minimal material, the six sections are constantly changing and shifting along their duration, covering a wide range of dynamics and frequencies, their overall characteristics varying on a scale from silent and contemplative to outright aggressive, and make this CD a very interesting listening experience."

GÜNTHER, BERNHARD: Time, Dreaming Itself CD (TOC 003). $15.00

"This work's main aspects are, as its title suggests, time — and the notion of slowness. Of complex harmonic design similar to Brown, Blue, Brown on Blue (for Mark Rothko), the composition uses both instrumental images and elements of a more soundscape-like character, plus a non-tempered scale as the basis for the various transpositions of sounds. Other than that, I think it will speak for itself." — Bernhard Günter.

SHOEMAKER, MATT: Groundless CD (TOC 004). $15.00

"When Matt Shoemaker sent me a demo of Groundless, it was quite a revelation for me — 'cinemascope' being the first term flashing across my mind hearing it... He is a very original artist, using a very well integrated combination of concrete and electronic sounds for a 55 minute long journey through everchanging soundscapes. Listening to it on headphones in the dark was a real trip for me, and I have to say that Matt's music is entertaining in the best possible sense of the term — it does not know a single minute of boredom. I am very pleased to release this CD, and wish to thank Matt for his decision to release it on Trente Oiseaux." — Bernhard Günter, September 2000

RODEN, STEVE: Four Possible Landscapes CD (TOC 005). $15.00

"I originally used the term 'possible landscapes' to describe my performances — spaces created from spaces, relating to the specificity of location, yet trying to open this specificity up to abstraction. Although they use no 'field recordings' I view these 4 works also as possible landscapes — perhaps tied more to the tradition of painting — where fuzzy edges and hues of color can lead one to wander..." — Steve Roden.

GÜNTHER, BERNHARD: Then, Silence CD (TOC 011). $15.00

"Then, Silence is dedicated to Morton Feldman and Luigi Nono. The experience of listening to their music has changed my understanding, my way of hearing, my thinking about, and my creating music so much that my own work would simply be unthinkable without it. Dedicating Then, Silence to them is my modest Thank You to Morton Feldman and Luigi Nono, expressing not only my admiration, but also the sadness their untimely parting causes me." — Bernhard Günter, August 2000

BERG SIGMARSSON, SIGTRYGGUR: Ship CD (TOC 012). $15.00

"Sigtryggur has created a wonderfully calm, very minimal, but also very detailed work. The compositional devices that structure the work are subtle, yet effective in making it a very rounded out listening experience. Sigtryggur has distilled an immensely personal musical statement from very reduced source material. The atmosphere of his work actually strongly reminds me of my visit to Iceland, and its wonderful topography of absence." — Bernhard Günter

CHARTIER, RICHARD: Decisive Forms CD (TOC 013). $15.00

"Decisive Forms is a very subtle, abstract work of great detail, a perfect object for contemplation that requires the listener's full attention. I find it extremely captivating to follow as it unfolds over time, to adapt my breathing to its slow pulse, and to be completely absorbed by the act of perception itself without thinking in form of interior comments, descriptions, or associations. Decisive Forms is another step forward Richard is taking from his fine work 'series' that has just received one of the twelve Honorable Mentions of Prix Ara Electronica 2001. I will not try to further describe Decisive Forms, but rather encourage you to go ahead and experience it yourself — the attention it requires is generously rewarded." — Bernhard Günter, May 2001

GÜNTHER, BERNHARD: Crossing The River (Night Music) CD (TOC 014). $15.00

"Crossing the River is calm, peaceful, and beautiful, guaranteed to slow you down after a busy urban day (but unlike chemical products designed to this effect, it leaves your mind clear and aware). The effect it had on me was that I bagged my elaborate liner notes about 'crossing the river' as a Buddhist metaphor for reaching enlightenment, and replaced them by this: 'Ceci est la couleur de mes rêves' [title of a painting by] Juan Miró ('This is the color of my dreams'). For TOC014, Crossing the River will be paired with Haiku for Mu, composed for the lower case sound compilation last year, now re-mastered, and embedded in silence. Being of a nightly mood, too, it combines perfectly with Crossing the River." — Bernhard Günter, January 2001.

GÜNTHER/STEVE RODEN, BERNHARD: Japan CD (TOC 015). $15.00

"Originally projected to be sold exclusively at our concerts during our tour in Japan in November 2001 this split CD of Steve Roden and me will be released on Trente Oiseaux, along with Steve's upcoming CD for our label, because we found ourselves to fond of the pieces it contains to limit it to this use. While the three pieces differ very much in style (mine being made of noises exclusively, while the two by Steve are using concrete sounds), they work together very well."

FRIEDL/MICHAEL VORFELD, REINHOLD: Au Défaüt Du Silence CD (TOC 016). $15.00

"Reinhold Friedl, piano, and Michael Vorfeld, cello, create music that transcends the boundaries of improvised, and composed music, as well as those between instrumental and electroacoustic music. Their pieces range from quiet, introspective, and sparse atmospheres to very dense, highly intense, and almost orchestral parts. This music is very impressive, and strikes me as a new step in improvised music. Releasing their excellent work will both broaden Trente Oiseaux's spectrum of musical styles, and introduce the artists' highly innovative approach to listeners outside the inner circle of improvised music."

GÜNTHER, BERNHARD: Redshift CD (TOC 021). $15.00

"I was forming plans for a entirely different project in my mind when I came across a number of DAT tapes from my first sampling days in 1993, the time of Un peu de neige salie — these tapes contained sounds I had not used in those days, and that I could not at all remember the origins/sources of, but that sounded interesting to my present day ears. I thus started to work with them, without the slightest idea of what might be the result, and the piece kind of made itself — the result was a structure consisting of noise sounds to which I added a complementary microtonal structure of instrumental samples to form the whole. It is difficult to describe the result, but I think it is quite unique in the impression it gives — when listened to at low or medium volume (it is supposed to be), the sounds seem to come from a far distance, and create shifting impressions of space. The associations of signals coming from far away, and transforming space it gave me led to the title 'Redshift', a term that describes a phenomenon discovered in the 1920's: the light of far distant galaxies is shifted to the red spectrum, and the farther away they are, the stronger the redshift is. This discovery can only be explained by a Doppler Effect implying that these galaxies are moving away from us, and that the universe is expanding. These associations are, of course, purely subjective — you do not have to imagine swarms of neutrinos, or radio signals from a quasar to enjoy the piece." — Bernhard Günter

SHOEMAKER, MATT: Warung Elusion CD (TOC 022). $15.00

"His music consists of an ever-changing, intricate web of sounds defining spaces in constant transformation. It is very detailed, very present. Transitions between sound scapes, sometimes very slow and very gradual, sometimes very surprising, keep his music going; often different strata of time are present simultaneously. Matt is a master in building and sustaining tension by means of changes in density of sounds and events, as well as by modifying the frequency range of the spectra used. Another interesting quality of his music is that it brings the abstractness of concrete sounds taken out of their context to consciousness. I noted these general impressions while listening to the first of the two pieces, and I'd like to describe the second one in more detail: I can't help but think of it as an immense, surrealist electronic rain forest, filled with tiny noises, far-away calls, and sudden showers of rain. The piece builds up slowly to stay quite intense and urgent over a longer stretch of time, and, after a change in harmony, to end (and finally fade away) in weightlessly floating vastness." — Bernhard Günter, April 2001.

KUWAYAMA/KIJIMA: 01.06.16 CD (TOC 023). $15.00

"01.06.16 is Trente Oiseaux's second release of improvised instrumental music. Kuwayama Kiyoharu, cello, and Kijima Rina, violin, took their instruments to the bottom of a highway at midnight, and improvised along with the passing vehicles. Both are formidable players, and so well attuned to each other that their improvisations cannot be told from highly complex compositions. Like other improvising players, they have adopted the musical vocabulary, and musical gestures of contemporary classical music, and are using them freely, but also drawing from a great number of other influences, making their own music very rich, and inventive. The particular spatial impression created by cars going by is making their recordings an even more fascinating listening experience."

CHARTIER/BERNHARD GÜNTHER/STEVE RODEN, RICHARD: For Morton Feldman CD (TOC 024). $15.00

"Presents one piece by each artist, and I am amazed how well these pieces, in spite of being quite different in style, work together to constitute a whole. They also express the influence Morton Feldman's sublime works have had (and still have) on us in our personal ways of creating music. Richard's How Things Change is a rather intimate, pensive piece made of abstract electronic sounds and long stretches of silence, while Steve's Stasis is probably the most hypnotic and atmospheric set of slowly orbiting loops he has ever created. I, who like to say that the safest to expect from me is the unexpected, have composed a piece for winter rain, small brook, and sho, titled Fuyu no Ame (For Morton Feldman), a piece that belongs to what I have called my 'musique concrète, enhanced' strain of work, but sounds like else nothing I have done." — Bernhard Günter.

HELDEN, JOHANNES: Sketchbook CD (TOC 025). $15.00

"Based on field recordings Johannes made while traveling from Sweden to Russia via Norway, Sketchbook is a quiet, moody work of great atmosphere and devoid of all pretension. This CD will contain 17 photos taken by the artist during his voyage from Sweden to Russia via Norway on which he recorded the sound materials used in his work."

RODEN, STEVE: Resonant Cities CD (TOC 031). $15.00

"Steve Roden composed Resonant Cities as a project for Kunst Radio Wien (Art Radio Vienna) using only field recordings of tiny details from cities all over the world. The following lines from a text Steve wrote about this work perfectly describe what it is about: '... searching through my library of field recordings for material for this project, I realized that my visits to most cities are a kind of hunting activity to gather these inconsiderable audio things — and indeed as I listened, a lot of these sounds they conjured up some very strong memories of moments when I have been in a city yet felt outside of 'city', as though an intimate listening or soundmaking activity can completely take one outside of their immediate environment to a place where the sound one is listening to begins to define the parameters of space. even quiet sounds, if one listens closely and intimately can direct one's attention away from the existing scenery'..."

KUWAYAMA/KIJIMA: 02.08.31 CD (TOC 032). $15.00

"Japanese Duo Kuwayama-Kijima have recorded their second release for Trente Oiseaux in an empty warehouse at Nagoya Port. The sound of crickets and waves picked up by microphones placed outside the building were transmitted into the space, where Kuwayama and Kijima played along with them, taking advantage of the natural reverberation of the space, and changing their position in it while playing. Compared to Kuwayama-Kijima's first release on Trente Oiseaux, where cars going over a midnight highway bridge provided a very ambience, this recording's ambience is much quieter and more static, thus drawing more attention to the duo's excellent playing, and providing a kind of peaceful canvas if front of which they pursue their musical and sonic explorations. 02.08.31 is a record that demands of the listener to pay attention and to become immersed in the ongoing transformations of sounds and musical figures — when this attitude is taken, listening to the record is a very gratifying experience."

PHILLIPS, TOMAS: On Dit CD (TOC 033). $17.00

"On Dit was created during the summer and autumn of 2002. These were my last months in the U.S. before relocating to Montreal. It was also a period of technological experimentation, as I had only recently acquired the programs with which On Dit was made. Conceptually, the piece had been with me for some time. The intention was to use a palette of both digital and organic sounds and to construct an extended track complete with individual though related 'movements.' I was aiming for a certain quietude, which I achieved in the first section, though as is often the case in art, the composition slowly developed of its own accord and became somewhat louder and more frenetic than anticipated. Perhaps the manifestation of an impending transition was escaping through the music."

BERRY, KEITH: The Golden Boat CD (TOC 034). $17.00

"Keith Berry is a sound artist based in London, his The Golden Boat consists of four pieces all quite consistent in style and sound quality to the point that they form a unified whole. Keith's work is very musical and beautiful, evolving at a slow pace, like the passing of clouds. It has a strong spatial quality, especially on headphones, and uses a variety of sound materials ranging from concrete to instrumental to electronic."

GUNTER/HALLIWELL/WASTELL: +minus (first meeting) CD (TOC 041). $17.00

"As the title implies, +minus [first meeting] is the result of the first meeting of Bernhard Günter with Graham Halliwell, and Mark Wastell. It also implies that what was intended to be a recording project has become a group, my first group since fifteen years, and named +minus: Bernhard Günter (electric cello and composed basis tracks); Graham Halliwell (saxophone feedback); Mark Wastell (amplified textures, Nepalese prayer bowls and gong). +minus' music is improvised, but not purely so: two of the four tracks on our first CD use some of my older, noise oriented pieces as their structural basis, while the two others are indeed improvised. We understand improvisation as 'instant composition', and the result is an intuitively played cross-over between electroacoustic and improvised music of generally quiet and contemplative character. Our group name alludes to our playing 'plus' and 'minus' pre-recorded composed basis tracks. Our first meeting led to the virtually immediate creation of a new musical vocabulary and language specific to this particular group of musicians — something I have never experienced to happen in such a short time in the past."

FRIEDL/BERNHARD GUNTER/MICHAEL VORFELD, REINHOLD: Message Urgent CD (TOC 042). $17.00

"For this release the respected improvisation duo of Reinhold Friedl, inside piano and Michael Vorfeld, percussion and stringed instruments is joined by Bernhard Günter, electric cello. This trio music is quite different from that of my trio +minus, it is quite dense (at times almost orchestral) and intense, although of very low volume (please resist the temptation to turn the volume up), constantly changing atmospheres and moods. The intensity of our session is well captured by the recording (as well as a bit of background noise that becomes noticeable during the most silent moments), and so the CD provides a listening experience you should not miss."

LOPEZ, FRANCISCO: Warszawa Restaurant CD (TOC 951). $15.00

Trente Oiseaux is the label run by Bernhard Günter (who has released some all-time minimalist sound masterworks on the Selektion label). The label seems set to elevate new parameters of digitally-cared-for sound and aesthetics. Each of these come in austere packaging, printed on heavily textured paper with little or no graphic interplay. Lopez's CD is a very subtle and quiet work, eloquently generating these streams of (barely) increasing sound bandwaves in the lower-midrange.

BEHRENS, MARC: Advanced Environmental Control CD (TOC 952). $15.00

Environmental and naturally occurring sounds recorded onto mini-disc and digitally edited by Behrens and Bernhard Günter. The sounds are presented in a low-key and non-jarring way and somewhat of a classic in the field of minimalistic abstraction in the way it distorts your memories of familiar and totally alien sound.

LOPEZ, FRANCISCO: Belle Confusion 966 CD (TOC 963). $15.00

"Francisco López's new work is stunningly beautiful & much more accessible than his first cd on Trente Oiseaux. The cd contains the full 55min. studio version of the work, plus a 18 min. excerpt of it's live performance in Zürich, Switzerland, during the Trente Oiseaux 'Alpine Tour' '96."

TAYLOR, BRAD: From The Moon to the Fish CD (TOC 971). $15.00

"This is Brad Taylor's first release, so don't worry if you haven't heard of him. His music is made using only a 386 PC and a soundcard — it's down to earth and minimal, sometimes with a sly sense of humour. The two pieces' musical/sonic discourse takes unexpected turns at every corner and is very attention catching to follow, giving the listener great insight into the formal growth of the music."

CASTELLANI, HERVE: Flamme CD (TOC 981). $15.00

2nd CD by this French composer, following his recorded debut on Metamkine. "A new, 53 minute piece, titled 'Flamme' (English translation: 'flame'). This new piece is a deep reaching soundscape, an authentic piece of art, taking repeated listening, revealing new aspects every time, opening a great new world for your ears & your mind to explore. The release will be packaged in a dark blue cover (made of the paper that Trente Oiseaux connoisseurs are well acquainted with) and silver print."

GUNTER, BERNHARD: univers/temporellespoir CD (TOC 991). $15.00

"For his new CD, Bernhard has remixed his 1997 piece 'un lieu pareil à un point effacé, 1ere partie', which had been released on a CD that accompanied the American Halana magazine, and reworked 'un lieu pareil à un point effacé', 'Zeme partie', never released before. Similarly, he has made a new version of his piece 'the ant moves/the black and yellow carcass/a little closer', a piece based mainly on sounds from New York based artist John Hudak, and first released on the compilation a hole in the nothing on British label Ash. The fourth piece of the new CD is called 'vertige hasard', created in January 1999. Playing time is over 70 minutes; music that continues and further develops Bernhard's very personal compositional style." Comparatively maximalist alongside 'Un Peu' or other early pieces. Captivating and surprisingly, in possession of continuous sound in most places.

BEHRENS, MARC: Four Installations CD (TOC 992). $15.00

"His new CD could be seen as the counterpart to M. Behrens' intricate electroacoustic compositions: it contains soundtracks of four different sound and mixed media installations made during 1998 and the beginning of 1999. The often very minimal sound events are actually capable of transporting the listener into the various spaces. Locations in which his installations took place range from the cellar of the Institute for New Media in Frankfurt, Germany, full of computers, to a rural village in the mountain area at the border between Italy and Slovenia."

GÜNTER, BERNHARD: Un Peu De Neige Salie CD (TOC SE001). $17.00

"This release is a special re-edition of my first CD on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of it's first release in 1983. It is not identical to the original version of Un Peu de Neige Salie, but entirely re-mastered using newly acquired digital tools, resulting in more clarity, a better spatial image, and elimination of background and quantizing noises I had no means to get rid of before. The new mastering sheds a quite different on these works I still consider valid artistic statement after ten years have passed. The tracks 'Untitled II/92' and 'Untitled III/92' have been replaced by a soundtrack I created for the video project 'Whiteout of Tokyo' based artist Takahiro Tanaka that combines the two original tracks into one larger work, reinforcing the unity of Un Peu de Neige as a whole. I have kept Takahiro's title 'Whiteout' and dedicated the piece to him. The re-edition is completed by extensive liner notes and a collection of photos that I find to somehow relate to Un Peu de Neige Salie."

TRESOR (GERMANY):*X-103 (JEFF MILLS): Atlantis CD (TRES 010 CD). $14.50

"Atlantis is the second long player Jeff Mills recorded with Robert Hood in 1993 as the third part of the X-10... series. The series started as Underground Resistance's tag for work they licensed to Tresor Records for Europe. Because X-101 and X-102 - The Rings of Saturn are out of print these days, X-103's Atlantis is the only available musical documentation of the cooperation between these two most famous techno producers from Detroit. Jeff Mills wrote for the original release sheet: Approaching theories are not any easy task — there is much in doubt! Ranging from origins (and in this case) the world of Atlantis, there are many doubts about its doom and disappearance. X-103 musically investigates these possibilities with its long awaited 3rd release."

X-103: Atlantis 2LP (TRES 010 LP). $14.50

Double vinyl version.

LANDSTRUMM, NEIL: Understanding Disinformation CD (TRES 053CD). $14.50

"Understanding Disinformation, Neil Landstrumm's debut album for Tresor from 1996, is domestically available in the USA for the first time. Understanding Disinformation is a raw slab of pulpy science fiction; an otherworldly tale of experimental and on-edge techno; a bizarre placement of William Burroughs within the realm of Star Wars. It is fearless music filled with danger, showing all sides of the Landstrumm fare, deep, and deeper."

VA: Tresor 100: Compilation Vol. 6 CD (TRES 100 CD). $19.00

"Tresor Records celebrates its 100 records release. This record is a time document of sophisticated techno music. In the meanwhile one can be sure that the tracks reach a solid rank and the quality is standard on a Tresor compilation. Long standing and new Tresor artists as well have immortalized themselves." Features mostly unreleased tracks by: Regis, Fumiya Tanaka, Joey Beltram, Scan 7, Surgeon vs. Ruskin, BC (Basic Channel), Chrislo, Blake Baxter, Neil Landstrumm, Pacou, Heiko Laux & Substance,

LANDSTRUMM, NEIL: Pro Audio CD (TRES 103 CD). $18.00

"Fourth full-length from this No Future/Mosquito affiliated heartthrob and honcho of Scandinavia Incorporated (who just happens to record under the names Sugar Experiment Station and Navaurio Sauro). The title no doubt refers to the class of audio software developed for the production of contained unidentified sonic actions with which Mr. Landstrumm seems imminently familiar... Here layer-1 techno kit is augmented severely with multiple DSP generated artefacts not so often heard in a dance floor scheme (i.e., massive bit reductions, contemporary phase-vocoder-algorithmic time compression/expansion, digitally resonant ring modulations) resulting in somewhat of an anomaly; a rhythmically predictable but texturally experimental album that continues to surprise the listener throughout all 12 tracks. Pretty far-out stuff." —Hrvatski.

VA: Annex II CD (TRES 109 CD). $15.00

"Tresor compiled a CD to present the best of Tresor 12" to collectors and techno fans who usually don't buy vinyl. The 11 tracks have never been available on CD format; the compilation covers the variety of techno styles throughout the Tresor music concept. The CD starts off relaxed with unreleased and exclusive tracks by Savvas Ysatis and Infiniti (aka Juan Atkins)." Also features tracks by: Marshall Jefferson, Tobias Schmidt, Scna 7, Pacou, DJ T-1000, Joey Beltram, Holy Ghost, The Advent & Leo Laker.

SENDER BERLIN: Spektrum Weltweit CD (TRES 111 CD). $15.00

"Introduction: In a time of radical change, synthesis and new order the metropole Berlin has formed to point from where there will go out very much in future. In the center of innovation, modern technics and design the people from Sender Berlin are about to contribute their small part to be participants in the development of Berlin's new appearance. Sender Berlin is not a fixed group of people but a group of DJ's and producers in which every single member tries to bring the music that they create or play a bit nearer to people on it's very own way, no matter whether through tracks on a 12" or as a mix in a club. Underground Techno — always with a touch of melody and experimental rhythms. The interaction of sound and time plays a major role for Sender Berlin as sound is able to circumscribe the situation which one is in much more beautiful than any word ever could, and time as it is needed to understand... The limited first edition of this CD contains a Mix-CD from Sender Berlin (DJ Luke) with tracks by Surgeon, Juan Atkins, Pacou, Vigipirate, X-Men, Blake Baxter's Dream Sequence and many more."

SENDER BERLIN: Spektrum Weltweit 2LP (TRES 111 LP). $17.00*SURGEON: Force & Form Remakes 12" (TRES 116). $9.00

"Classic Surgeon floor supremacy for those who dare to cross over the threshold.... Keeping the tradition of having Mick Harris adding his 're-workings' to Surgeon's Remakes they both push the 'one-track-remix-affair' into new dimensions by using different sound parts of different tracks of the forthcoming album. Mick Harris here forced the forms of all new tracks to become a very unique 10 minutes sound collage. Sub beats, deaf tones and squirrel electronics made in Birmingham."

SCAN 7: Resurfaced CD (TRES 121 CD). $15.00

"From the depths of the Detroit underground emerges a familiar name again: Scan 7 aka Trackmaster Lou. From the early 90s Scan 7 started to produce on his own and released several maxis for Underground Resistance, 430 West, Direct Hit, FRRR and Makin' MadRecords. To keep his name and his music 'underground' he used different project names: for example Unknown Force, The Specialist, Black Man, XZILE, The Shadow, and Scan 7. Trackmaster Lou's signatures consistently combine intelligent, hard-hitting rhythms with ultra clean production for a groove that won't fail. His track on the 313 compilation (compiled by Blake Baxter) was the beginning of his relationship to Tresor. In November 1996 his debut album Dark Territories was released and became a clubhit right away. The classic Detroit Techno Tracks on Resurfaced are telling the new stories out of the 313- universe: impressive, groovy and emotional. With 10 tracks the CD has a total playing time of 72:32. The double-vinyl delivers 8 ultimate DJ tools, mastered to be played very loud."

YSATIS, SAVVAS: Highrise CD (TRES 122 CD). $15.00

This CD by Greek electronic producer Savvas is the masterpiece of the late 90s ambient house movement. Late night, organic, flowing detail that crystallizes in all the right places, showcasing sure sonic pleasure. "The first longplayer by Savvas Ysatis, perfectly arranged and produced on his own. The Greek native is recording since the early 90s. In 1994-1998 he worked with Taylor Deupree under the names Seti, Futique, Arc, Skai in New York and released two EPs and 8 albums. The different project names stand for the variety of Ysatis' musical directions and interests. Back in Greece for a while now he produced a very harmonic summer album. Dance tracks transferring the easiness of life in the sun next to the beach — after a grey and dark winter in Northern Europe not only needed by the Tresor crew, but also definitely on Tech-House floors. Ysatis works like an architect producingwise. (s) tone on (s) tone are building up to flowing sounds with laid back grooves reflecting Ysatis' time in the US. Cocktailbar? Afterhour? Dancefloor? It's music that hits your mind and soul. Enough reason to welcome Savvas Ysatis in the Tresor family."

YSATIS, SAVVAS: Highrise 2LP (TRES 122 LP). $16.00*VA: Tresor Vol.7 CD (TRES 123 CD). $15.00

"The Tresor label started to exist in the Berlin summer days of 1991 with the release of 'Sonic Destroyer' by the Detroit trio, Underground Resistance aka X-101. This track became a European club hit and is now — despite the fast moving dance scene — a classic. In the time period of 8 years the origin of the 'Berlin/Detroit - A Techno Alliance' connection has been successfully extended and ranges now up to Japan, here represented by DJ Shufflemaster, an upcoming star out of the Tokyo Techno underground. More international rising stars are Ben Sims, Steve Rachmad aka Sterac, James Ruskin and Karl O'Connor aka Regis, the 1st three from London, the latter one from Birmingham and all four highly recommended by Jeff Mills & Surgeon. The origin Detroit base is well represented by Juan Atkins' Infinity and Daniel Bell and from Athens, the capital of Greece, comes Savvas Ysatis, being remixed by Surgeon. Berlin shows up with no one else than Maurizio, Pacou and Rok. Note 7- most of the tracks are unreleased and exclusive to Tresor Volume 7 - this release is coordinated with the Love Parade 1999!"

VA: Tresor Vol.7 2LP (TRES 123 LP). $17.00

SCHMIDT, TOBIAS: Dark of Heartness CD (TRES 125 CD). $15.00

Emerging from the Sativae Edinburgh/Glasgow bubble, and several years of creating PA meltdown with his own live set and as the second half of Sugar Experiment Station, this man of mystery returns from deep within the Scottish foothills. Following up 3 Tresor EPs and his underground outings with the powerhouses Sativae, Drought, Mosquito, Telepathic, and Scandanavia with his 'real' techno longplayer, Schmidt keeps on with an original street style with which he has made himself synonymous. Earlier this year Scandinavia released Le Chimp Atomique, having Schmidt updating the 80s soundwise and adding his voice singing Sex Pistols and Stax lyrics. That's actually Schmidt's 2nd album, while Dark of Heartness is his first. Grand arena style techno: a groovy and syrup-like flow of melodic sub-bass punctuated with future freaked effects. Not exactly pop music, but definitely flexible enough to affect crowds across the board, especially by bringing humor back into techno."

DREXCIA: Neptune's Lair CD (TRES 129CD). $14.50

Late 1999 release. "The first sightings of the nebulous Detroit Techno/Electro outfit Drexicia began during 1991, forming close ties with Underground Resistance and Submerge, 'wreaking immediate havoc on the Programmers'. With an encoded agenda and sub-political mission aimed at the world, the latest page of Drexicia's grand history is about to be written on Tresor Records entitled Neptune's Lair, featuring twenty-one all-new and exclusive tracks. Drexicia is the sound of originality embodying all the musical styles and history that Detroit the city has seen and been part of. Drexicia is music for change and defies categorization; traditionally armed with freestyle Electro, Techno, Funk, and Jazz while covering an entire spectrum of moods ranging from the dark, foreboding 'Intro' to the shimmering beauty of 'Polymono Plexusgel'. While words won't do Neptune's Lair proper justice, rootsy Kraftwerkian techno ("Universal Element" and "Oxyplasmic Gyration Beam"), gives way to G-style electro ("Fusion Flats" and "Andraean Sand Dunes"), while jazzy freestyle funk ("Running Out of Space" and "Funk Release Valve") evolves alongside classic 4/4 clubsound ("Species of the Pod", "Devil Ray Cove" and "Lost Vessel"). Although the roots run deep, Neptune's Lair heralds an important new chapter in the musical connections between Detroit's finest and Tresor."

INFINITI (JUAN ATKINS): Never Tempt Me 2x12" (TRES 132 LP). $15.00

"True-to-form, Juan Atkins breaks his own mold (again) with the closest example to true Techno-Soul yet released. A master's combination of Blues, Soul and House, Atkins' vocal work reaches out past the dancefloor to write its own history. 'Never Tempt Me' first appeared on the Annex 2 CD compilation. Similarly ground breaking producers Thomas Fehlmann, Cristian Vogel, and Substance have expounded upon Juan's bluesy original. Thomas Fehlmann's (ex-3MB) 'Flowing Mixes' conjure deep symphonies of reborn Jazz. Cristian Vogel, fresh from his vocal-rich Supercollider project rips things up albeit, in his characteristically stylish way. Next comes Substance of Berlin's Chain Reaction fame, providing two expertly crafted reworkings, fitting tributes to Juan Atkins' vision and time proven musical mastery."

DREXCIA: Hydro Doorways 12" (TRES 137). $9.00

"Following the stunning Neptune's Lair album release comes the extra CD-bonus tracks finally committed to vinyl. This exclusive six-pronged attack samples the entire Drexician sonic spectrum beginning with the foreboding introduction, 'Quantum Hydrodynamics', to the crowning UR-flavor of 'Devil Ray Cove'. 'Polymono Plexusgel's' warm release of Kraftwerkian nostalgia counters the dancefloor side-effects of 'Lost Vessel'."

PACOU: State of Mind 2LP (TRES 138 LP). $15.00

"Pacou's third career album on Tresor reflects a much more dancefloor-oriented work than No Computer Involved. Seeking to escape the temporary and disposable DJ-tool stereotypes, and return to more timeless and song-based structures, State of Mind jams the standards with straight up sophistication and simultaneously kickdown techno. Combinations of texture, rhythm, mood and emotional value are studied and experimented with, like chemicals to a scientist, to record the conversations of the machines, and how they affect the behavior of the listener. Grungy sequences grind through melodic grooves. Clean keystabs pierce dirty drumtrack distortion. Abstract while danceable, State of Mind features the most evolved Pacou recordings to date, packing a mixed spectrum of grooves; from 'Fuel', burning with dry punchy drums powering through damp sequencing, to the smooth and gliding 'Format #2' and jazzy invocations of 'Think Twice'."

DIXON, TERENCE: From the Far Future 2LP (TRES 141 LP). $15.00

"Essentially variations on a concept, From the Far Future is delightfully warm with dreamlike excursions through techno and house-based structures. Says Dixon himself, 'From the Far Future' is all about respecting those who came before me, respecting the art of pure techno, taking bits and pieces of what's old and making it new once again.' Past, present and future are interwoven within eleven tracks, all compositionally unified but each able to stand alone when heard individually. The 50-minute journey they take is smooth and organic; specifically designed to be flexible; understood in club settings and at home. Alternating rhythms throb to the forefront while floated in echoey synthesizer washes. Subtle traces of some of most ingenious profiles in the history of electronic music are hinted at, including Kraftwerk, Derrick May, and Juan Atkins, bathing the listener in sensual nostalgia. Sublime."

MILLS, JEFF: Metropolis CD (TRES 155 CD). $14.50

Oct., 2000 release. "It is our intention to re-introduce and educate the theories and ideology of Fritz Lang's 1926 masterpiece Metropolis to the cyber-youth of today. It seems fitting that this movie, the movie that shaped the young minds in the Twenties, with its timeless message of solidarity and the romanticizing of its Utopian dream world be reiterated and reintegrated at the beginning of our new century. Through the advances made in technology and the acute sense of futurism felt by the youth of today, we hope to capture the minds and expand the imaginations of the ones that will soon forge and form our new world." — Jeff Mills. (It is important to say that many different versions of Metropolis have been released, including: 1.The original 1926 black and white version (no longer exists); 2.The version subsequently released in the USA received a lot of cuts, and was only 63-minute long. Some of the lost scenes have been added to the restorations, but some scenes have disappeared forever; 3.A B&W 90-min. long version was re-released in German in 1927 or 1928, and it is called the '28 German version'.")

HERBERT, MATTHEW: Globus Mix Vol. 5: Letsallmakemistakes CD (TRES 157). $14.50

Nov., 2000 release. "The simple story behind this project: uniting the finest minimalistic and most sophisticated music in Techno/House today. Herbert: "The title says it all. I'm tired of a perfect universe where DJs feed the latest records in to a computer and perfectly beat match them. I'm human, I'm flawed and was never supposed to be a DJ. That said, I have played about 300 DJ gigs in the last 4 years in all sorts of amazing places, from Russia to Australia to Iceland. Increasingly people are wanting to hear new things on the dance floor and consequently going crazy over the wobbly stuff. And this CD is supposed to be those tunes: From the consistently overlooked brilliance of Green Velvet to the structurally challenged records from Berlin. This really is my chance to play those records that make people either scream or leave dance floors. This is what I think electronic music is about, challenging conventions, trying to make people dance to ever increasingly weird sounds and rhythms. You have a captive audience, a big sound system and a Spanish-strength vodka and tonic....in the words of Samuel Beckett: fail again, fail better.'" Tracks from: Isolée, Nightmares on Wax, Vishmountain, Pantytec, Errorsmith, DBX, Theo Parrish, Moloko, Green Velvet, Herbert, Tube Jerk, Auto Repeat, Traktor, Si Begg, Herbert, Mr. Oizo, DJ Deeon, Plastikman, Radio Boy, Hombre Ojo.

BAXTER, BLAKE: Dreamsequence 3: The Collective 2CD (TRES 160 CD). $14.50

"Deep Detroit's most original soulsonic hero launches into 2001 with his final chapter of the Dream Sequence trilogy. Celebrating Baxter's ten years with Tresor Records (since 1991!) across this all-new double CD never felt so good, dipping into House, Techno, Hip-Hop, and Funk schools with a concept album covering his many faces and sounds: From stomping Disco floor tracks to deeply mental excursions. 'Packed' is an understatement. Starting the rumpus with the slowjam Funk of 'Deeppa', Baxter's secret whispers flow through 'A Lot Like You' and 'Deep N Da Groove' before easing the game into the rockin Disco-Tech of 'Intoxicated' and 'FM Disco'. 'Compromised Evolution' and 'Hands of Time' pans Baxter's psychological depth while 'Soul Stirring' and 'We Vibe' keep the party rolling. House floor-filler tools like 'Laugh and Dog', 'Flying Saucer' together with the tough Techno of 'Work Dat', and 'Weomp!' keep the tempo mixed before the Ghetto Tech of 'If You Were Mine' round out this quality sensory overload."

TARRIDA, DAVE: Paranoid CD (TRES 161 CD). $14.50

"Edinburgh, Scotland, Dave Tarrida began his career in 1991 helping set up the legendary Sativa club and hosting the leading lights of the UK and international underground Techno scene. Tarrida spread this influence throughout the Nineties with partner Steve Glenncross by starting up the Sativae, Drought and Penalty imprints. Tarrida's own waves of all-new studio work are now tearing dancefloor havoc with aggro basslines and headstrong doses of freaky future Funk. Tarrida's ten key years in clubland speaks directly for his consistent angle on quality production and avantgarde sound. His all-new Paranoid album due February 2001 is splashing out all the tricks of shock-treatment style: the tracky DJ matter of 'Stop the Ride', 'Expediting Matters' and 'Filipando' work sophisticated Techno rhythms before the ferociously dark and stomping 'Horrmone' and 'Tested' tear out any 'mild' preconceptions. Downtempo sides to the album include jacking experimental Electro in 'Blood Simple', 'Glory Hole' and 'Live Young Die Fast', before the warm and sensual Tech-House anthem 'Missing Law Rain' rounds the project out in high style."

HOOD, ROBERT: Masterbuilder 12" (TRES 166). $8.00

"Beginning his career MCing for Underground Resistance with Jeff Mills and Mike Banks as the legendary X-101, Robert Hood's own solo work on the subsequent Waveform Transmission Vol.2 and Internal Empire albums instantly became the signatures of a master. Hood's pioneering reduction of sounds to their absolutely most bare elements fuse intelligence and emotion into a deep, dark, danceable context: an art too often imitated even today. Arguably some of the best recordings of Robert Hood, these 'Master Builder' mixes have not been available on vinyl since 1995."

HAND, KELLI: Detroit History Pt.1 CD (TRES 168 CD). $14.50

"Acacia Records label head Kelli Hand is a true anomaly in the progeny of Detroit dance music: she's one of a shamefully small number of women making, remixing and DJ'ing dance music. With a focus on bringing more women into the Techno/dance field, K.Hand is one of the most influential players for the new millennium. Sampling her impressions from the Detroit Electronic Music Festival (DEM) held for the first time last year, K.Hand's Detroit-History Vol.1 concept unites the city's fantastic musical past and future in an innovative and moving architecture. The home and birthplace of Techno paid proper homage with fifteen original tracks by one of its most original musicians: Detroit's deep landscape and history covered from nostalgic Elektro and Jazzy House, to hard Techno and bassy Funk."

HAND, KELLI: Detroit History Pt.1 2LP (TRES 168 LP). $14.00

VISION (ROBERT HOOD), THE: Waveform Transmission Vol. 2 CD (TRES 17). $18.00

Robert Hood was a UR member and contributor to the X-101/102 (and X-103? — details are sketchy). He and Jeff Mills left UR to form the Axis label, releasing a brilliant stream of minimalist 12"s, some collaboratively, some solo. More recently he left Axis to form his currently ongoing M-Plant label. He recorded this album in 1993 under his recording moniker The Vision — a companion album to Jeff Mills' Waveform Transmissions Vol.1 (Tresor/Pow Wow 7437). It's a fabulous collection of stretched-out & tweaked repetitive electronics — performed with head-bursting intensity and pure Detroit techno atmospheric density. Legendary stuff.

YSATIS, SAVVAS: Select CD (TRES 171 CD). $14.50

"Greek-native Savvas Ysatis returns with the long-awaited follow-up to his 1999 Tresor debut. Athens-born but transplanted to New York City at age 15, Savvas' groove works island life inspired Dub and House influences around the early electronica of Kraftwerk and Jean-Michel Jarre. Having to-date 7 albums under his own name and collaborated on 10 others under the names Seti, Arc, Futique, Skai, and Allou, it's Ysatis' obvious flair for album-sized work that lets his music thrive both at home and in the clubs. Select compiles the cream of Savvas Ysatis' laid-back groove. Smooth and tasteful a la Isolée or Luomo, warm and emotive with neo-Dub: ideal sounds for the season."

RUSKIN, JAMES: Into Submission CD (TRES 173 CD). $14.50

"Londoner James Ruskin's newest long-player Into Submission is the exclusive product of entirely different studio ideas and production techniques since last year's Tresor debut: a much more deep and cerebral context for club Techno. This dark and moody Renaissance for Ruskin is a radically aesthetic approach on the dancefloor; structures have been minimized and reduced but still just as pounding as his Point 2 Tresor debut last year. Detroit-angle, British twist — this sound is distinct and stands out with a veteran's craft and purity."

VA: Tresor Vol.9 CD (TRES 174 CD). $14.50

"Tresor 9: The Strong Survival! Tresor's landmark compilation series lands its explosive ninth chapter commemorating the legendary label/club's tenth anniversary. It features 100% all-new and exclusive tracks representing the newest sounds from the Tresor artist pool, purpose-built especially for the club and label's legendary decade. Featured highlights across this 14-track volume include exclusive work from the most notable talents in the biz. Detroit veteran Daniel Bell continues his long time work with Tresor, beautifully stripped-down but pure grooves a la DBX; UK wunderkind Herbert follows up his Tresor debut from 2000 with more abstract while mind-blowing simplicity; Exclusive masterminds Cristian Vogel and Neil Landstrumm's restless floor-fillers mark their many years with the label as techno's El Patron; and hard leaders The Advent and DJ Rush open the last floodgates on mayhem, all true talents in the field for pushing the sound and keeping it true. The most up-to-date overview of the label's sound and scope, Tresor #9 welds monoid trackism to abstract art: a rare but achieved feat that can be heard not only throughout the label's back-catalog but the legendary club's lineups as well. First-class dancefloor electronics for fans, DJ's and collectors: ten years strong." Also features: Ben Sims, DJ Shufflemaster, James Ruskin, Dave Tarrida, Surgeon, Blake Baxter, Scan 7, K. Hand.

TANAKA, FUMIYA: Unknown Possibility Vol. 2 CD (TRES 176 CD). $14.50

"Easily Japan's most talented and knowledgeable Techno DJ, Fumiya Tanaka brought the sound of minimal, intense Techno to Japan during the early '90s and introduced thousands of clubbers to the best Detroit and German producers via his clubnights around Osaka and Tokyo. Born in Kyoto, Tanaka listened to and played in punk bands as a teen, then entered the dance scene in 1990 via House, Techno, and Hip-Hop. He began DJing soon after, and formed Japan's first electronic-dance label, Torem Records (1993) for his own stripped-down productions. By 1995, Fumiya Tanaka had released his first mix album I Am Not A DJ on Torem, which had gained major distribution by then through Sony. Later that year, Tanaka set up Untitled Records, which paved the way for more experimental Techno via the compilation Abstract Set 1. Soon he was spinning around the world, often in the company of frontline DJ's like Jeff Mills, Derrick May, and Dave Clarke and not long after, the European Techno community realized that Tanaka wasn't just one of the best DJ's in Japan, but around the world. His second CD-mix album, 1996's Mix-Up Vol. 4, prefaced the release of his first production album: 1998's Unknown Possibility Vol. 1. Tanaka also worked on production for the debut album from Takkyu Ishino of Japan's Denki Groove. His studio directions culminated in his first CD-mix albums I Am Not A DJ (Torem, 1995) and Mix-Up Vol. 4 (Sony, 1996), followed in 1998 by his debut artist-album Unknown Possibility Vol. 1. Unknown Possibility Vol. 2, was released only in Japan late last year featuring highly aesthetic blends of his vast studio talent. The totally remodeled Tresor/European version of Unknown Possibility Vol. 2 will be out this September 2001 — a stunning array of dancefloor and more experimental sounds, nine tracks of blinding Techno for hard crowds, wreaking post-modern crunchy loopism via tough tool technology."

TANAKA, FUMIYA: Unknown Possibility Vol. 2 2LP (TRES 176 LP). $14.50

Double vinyl version.

LANDSTRUMM, NEIL: She Took A Bullet Meant For Me CD (TRES 177 CD). $14.50

"Neil Landstrumm hacks his initials into history once again with the release of his long-awaited album She Took A Bullet Meant For Me. This full-length electronic sound clash has entirely re-chromed 'The Sound' with black synth washes and iron percussion on attack mode. She Took A Bullet... bridges a multitude of styles, mixing hard experimental Techno, trashy Breakbeat, doomsday Hip-Hop breakdance, spiraling Electro and 'tronic Funk... Then digitally mashing them up... edgy, moody and schizophrenic. Built entirely in Brooklyn New York, She Took A Bullet... fills the gap between the more experimental Scandinavia label, Landstrumm's Peacefrog roots and a cleverly constructed tragic synth-pop sound a la early Depeche Mode. Black-lipsticked vocals carry the mysterious 'bullet' theme throughout the album, demonstrating Landstrumm's fresh ears 3 years since 1998's Pro Audio LP and work with Scandinavia Animation for MTV and video game titles. The body popping Hip-Hop and broken 'trash' beats reference new rhythm directions for the decade-synth soundclash. Meanwhile runaway mediae play out the artist's digs at modern Western living and American life: the glamorously evil world of orgasmic politics, willing victims and beloved aggressors. Powerfully covered and complemented by designer Mat Consume, the frontcover painting comes from the modern tragedy theme."

LANDSTRUMM, NEIL: She Took A Bullet Meant For Me 2LP (TRES 177 LP). $14.00

Double LP version.

VA: Annex IV CD (TRES 180 CD). $14.50

"The majority of vinyl releases are naturally picked up by DJ's and collectors: heard often in the clubs but virtually unobtainable by non-vinyl junkies and fans who don't own turntables. This third installation of the CD-only Annex compilation series samples 2000 and 2001's standout EP and album vinyl-only tracks found between Tresor numbers 139 and 179. Appearing for the first time ever on CD format is Matthew Herbert's Housy Housy Mix of 'Mistakes' he recorded exclusively for Tresor. Tobias Schmidt's 'Hot and Heavy' is taken from his new maxi (Tresor 179) coming this fall and the unreleased Drexiciya track 'Digital Tsunami' is introducing the second Drexiciya album on Tresor Harnessed the Storm to be released in January 2002. Also enjoy Ben Sims and Subhead from their twelve-inch debuts on Tresor and the Shufflemaster Remix of Sender Berlin's 'Zeitsignal' — and this not the only club hit you can find here. Annex 4 is collected for the home listeners of high quality electronic music and for all DJs who'd like to have a hint, which Tresor tracks should definitely be part of their set."

DREXICIYA: Harnessed The Storm CD (TRES 181 CD). $14.50

"Drexiciyan wave-jumpers sighted off German shores! Detroit's best-kept secret reloads the torpedo tubes with 10 all-new tracks of deepwater darkness to break up your frozen waters this winter. Recent underwater disturbances confirm the all-new Drexiciya transmissions delivered to Berlin contain the all-new and exclusive Harnessed the Storm album set for impact this Winter 2002. Harnessed the Storm, the armor-plated follow up to last year's Neptune's Lair LP, begins your journey underwater with the dreamlike 'Under Sea Disturbances' and the Kraftwerk-ian 'Digital Tsunami' before diving deeper into the Classic Motor-City Elektro of 'Aquatic Cataclysm', 'The Plankton Organization' and 'Birth of New Life'. The final and deepest stage of this dangerous sonic dive ends with the oldskool of 'Dr. Blowfins' Black Storm Stabilizing Spheres' and 'Soul of the Sea'."

DREXICIYA: Digital Tsunami 12" (TRES 182). $8.00

"Drexiciyan wave-jumpers sighted off German shores again! Mission: all-new transmissions delivered to Berlin containing the exclusive broadcasts set for impact this Winter 2002. Techno and Electro publics will be experimented upon using the brand-new Harnessed the Storm album, the armor-plated follow up long-player to last years Neptune's Lair LP. Probing the defenses first will be this 'Digital Tsunami' four-tracker, strong Detroit offspring from powerful Electro/Techno parents; running strong. running deep..."

MILLS, JEFF: Late Night 12" (TRES 183). $8.00

"The Tresor Archiv series continues to roll on, and more skeletons were recently found in the many closets here at Tresor HQ? Missing but now back in action are Jeff Mills' 'Late Night' mixes from 1993. The original version appeared on the man's first-ever debut album Waveform Transmission Vol. 1 (1992), but his 'Mills Mix' remix has remained one of Tresor's most infamous 'lost tracks' since 1993. As it's believed that the last DAT of the remix was destroyed in a Chicago basement flood, the track was remastered in October 2001 by Moritz Von Oswald at Dubplates & Mastering, Berlin. This is the first time this long-lost classic has been available on Tresor. The B-Side 'Basic Human Design' is actually an instrumental version of 'Spider Formation' (from Axis Records AX-009)."

VA: Tresor Compilation - True Spirit Pt. 1 2LP (TRES 185 LP). $14.50

First of 2 double-packs detailing the history of Tresor. This volume includes: X-101 (UR & The Vision), Jeff Mills, Black Baxter, Eddie Fowlkes, Maurizio, System 01, Vainqueur. Most tracks are long out of print, the Mills tracks "Hypnotist" is an exclusive/vinyl premiere of a 1991 UR-designed track.

VA: Tresor Compilation - True Spirit Pt. 2 2LP (TRES 186 LP). $14.50

"More rare and sought after Tresor classics and completes the Pt.1 double-EP." Artists: Joey Beltram (DJ Rush & Mike Dearborn remix), 3 Phase, Dr. Motte, Ingator, K.Hand, Marshall Jefferson, 3MB, Juan Atkins, Eddie Fowlkes & Blake Baxter.

SENDER BERLIN: Gestern Heute Morgen CD (TRES 189 CD). $14.50

"In 1998, Sender Berlin brought together Hendrik Vaak (Hendrix), Torsten Litschko (Stassy) and Alexander Lukat (Luke). They began as organizers, producers and DJ's at the weekly Headquarters Nights happening in Berlin's Tresor Club. Gestern Heute Morgen is an electronic journey: atmospheric and dubby sounds combined with laid-back grooves. Sender Berlin is an outstanding project in Berlin's scene, aware of the (musical) surrounding while keeping a very unique style — courageous and hard-to-find nowadays."

SENDER BERLIN: Gestern Heute Morgen 2LP (TRES 189 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

VA: Dave Tarrida - Plays... Globus Mix Vol. 6 CD (TRES 191 CD). $14.50

"Dave Tarrida is the dynamic next level in Tresor's 'Globus Mix' series. Following Matthew Herbert's 'Mistakes' manifesto (Tresor 157), the Sativae label boss and 10-year DJ-veteran Tarrida has stunningly compiled and mixed the most eclectic Globus Mix volume yet. Twenty-two fresh-as-they-get tracks in 74-minutes featuring exclusives and cutting edge wax from Cristian Vogel, SI Futures, Si Begg, Neil Landstrumm & The Horrorist, The Mover and the Berlin sensations Smash TV and Aexon in this strictly Underground but clubby blend from the darkside. Tarrida's bold move is highly inspired, playing one of the rarest and most likable mixtures of tunes for any DJ to lay down on CD."

VOGEL, CRISTIAN: Dungeon Master 2CD (TRES 192 CD). $18.00

"Oops he did it again, Cristian Vogel brings you fire. Originally titled This Is Not An Album, this all-new & exclusive double-pack for Tresor is the slamming first spurt from his new No-Future Barcelona studio. To describe Dungeon Master only word prefixes like 'ultra-' and 'mega-' can apply... in other words if it was illegal to fuck a wall of sound, Cristian Vogel would be in jail for life. Eight tracks of motherboard — melting debauchery fresh for the home, club and your local Techno bunker/dungeon, this time available on vinyl only. In these beautifully dangerous days of downward-spiralling major labels, only the best stick and stay, so stop playing with the imitators and become the Master of your Dungeon now."

ADVENT, THE: Sketched For Life 2CD (TRES 195 CD). $19.00

"The Advent (aka Cisco Ferreira) has always kicked nothing but pure mega flow Techno in his almost fifteen-year master history in dancefloor production. Armed with a huge catalog of music as well as his three 'Sound Sketch' releases on Tresor, Cisco's hand in the game still continues hitting clubs and floors every single weekend, year round and worldwide. The Advent's Tresor 'Sketches' are definitely closer to master plans than just sketches, and we're proud to announce The Advent debut on Tresor: Sketched For Life, which is the first album recording after two years. Both the double-CD and double-EP vinyl formats pack pure Advent Techno, hitting everything between rushing tough stuff and more reduced grooves for all floors."

ADVENT, THE: Sketched For Life 2LP (TRES 195 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

SHIFTED PHASES: The Cosmic Memoirs Of The Late Great Rupert J. Rosinorpe CD (TRES 196 CD). $14.50

"The mysterious new project born from Drexiciyen parents is here. Entitled Shifted Phases, this new generation Techno-Electro hybrid was created in turbulent seas here on earth but evolved and mutated outland in deep space among the stars above. Shifted Phases documents the cosmic life and times of Rupert J. Rosinorpe combining Detroit Electro, Techno and Freak-Jazz signals in deeply moving space-speak... written by aliens for aliens. While all of Shifted Phases is purely Drexiciyen, tracks 'Solar Wind' and 'The Freak Show' illustrate the harder sides of the solar system, hard and dancy while 'Waveform Cascades', 'Dance of the Celestial Druids' and 'Scattering Pulsars' lean towards quirked electroid directions. The elusive Mr. Rosinorpe chose his Detroit biographers well, the deep message is well understood."

SHIFTED PHASES: The Cosmic Memoirs Of The Late Great Rupert J. Rosinorpe 2LP (TRES 196 LP). $14.50

Double LP version [CD VERSION FORTHCOMING]. "The mysterious new project born from Drexiciyen parents is here. Entitled Shifted Phases, this new generation Techno-Electro hybrid was created in turbulent seas here on earth but evolved and mutated outland in deep space among the stars above. Shifted Phases documents the cosmic life and times of Rupert J. Rosinorpe combining Detroit Electro, Techno and Freak-Jazz signals in deeply moving space-speak... written by aliens for aliens. While all of Shifted Phases is purely Drexiciyen, tracks 'Solar Wind' and 'The Freak Show' illustrate the harder sides of the solar system, hard and dancy while 'Waveform Cascades', 'Dance of the Celestial Druids' and 'Scattering Pulsars' lean towards quirked electroid directions. The elusive Mr. Rosinorpe chose his Detroit biographers well, the deep message is well understood."

VA: Headquarters Berlin 2CD (TRES 197 CD). $14.50

"Part two of the highly-revered Headquarters compilation series is here. It collects the best studio output from the Tresor Club 'Headquarter Night' residents, the 'core' of Tresor. Here the HQ squad makes their own Techno history, spilling the whole story about Tresor's born-and-bred Techno generation. It's deep, moving and 100% Berlin." Double CD for the price of one.

VA: Headquarters Berlin 2LP (TRES 197 LP). $14.50

Double vinyl version features: 3ST, Sender Berlin, Dash, Kompjutr, Liquid Sky, Tollstol, Baeks, Midnight Madness.

MOVER, THE: Frontal Frustration CD (TRES 198 CD). $14.50

"Open your Techno history books to 'Originator'... Born Marc Acardipane in Frankfurt, The Mover is Europe's most prolific Underground godfather, having since 1989 penned some of the most inspirational and pioneering Techno ever on his ACA, Cold Rush, PCP, Dance Ecstasy 2001 and other labels under pseudonyms like Marshall Masters, Nasty Django, Cipher, Pilldriver, Masters Of Rave ect...! Himself inspired by the powers of Detroit and especially Suburban Knight's 'The Art of Stalking', The Mover's own melancholic but deeply musical sound mirrors modern urban life (and lifelessness) and still remains experimental Techno far ahead of anyone's time and the inspiration for an immense array of artists and DJs. Tresor is proud to present The Mover's Frontal Frustration, 10 new dark & deep phuture tracks from the Master. Ranging between abrasive trackism and glorious anthems for doom temples, Frontal Frustration begins a new chapter for this renowned artist. See you in 2017."

MOVER, THE: Frontal Frustration 2LP (TRES 198 LP). $14.50

Double LP Version

ALANIS, ANGEL & REES URBAN PRESENT PAIR OF JACKS: Full House 2x12" (TRES 199 LP). $16.00

"Usual suspects Angel Alanis & DJ Rees Urban back from their German debut on Tresor with the Full House double-EP follow up: eight floor-fillers of baaaaaad Chicago groove-filtered, compressed and nasty. Both long-standing Chicago DJ-producers, DJ Urban and 'A-Squared' Alanis have solo output already on Pro-jex and Contaminated but their debut as a team was also their German premiere with the recent Bastard Traxx Vol. 1. Here appearing as Pair Of Jacks, this odd couple is manning the fires whether you like your Techno fried, steamed or boiled, Pair Of Jacks are serving full plates for all tastes."

SCION: Arrange And Process Basic Channel Tracks CD (TRES 200 CD). $14.50

"Scion (Pete Kuschnerit aka Substance and Rene Löwe aka Vainqueur) have arranged and reworked backcatalog tracks from Basic Channel (Moritz Von Oswald and Mark Ernestus) with the help of Ableton's 'live' audio software. The selection is focused on the more clubby tracks of the bc-projects Cyrus (Enforcement, Recall, Inversion), Phylips (Trak I, Trak II), Quadrant (Q 1.1, Infiniton), Octagon/Octadred, is including The Climax - Basic Reshape and also applying atmospheric tracks as found on the Basic Channel CD (1996). Most of the tracks were previously only available on (import) 12-inches. The result is not a simple mix-CD or compilation, but the connection of new software possibilities combined with Scion's experience as DJs and live act."

HOUSE OF FIX, THE: 21st Century Fix 2CD (TRES 201 CD). $19.00

"The right hook surprise of 2003 is Jason Leach of Subhead fame. Meet his Circa, Royal Blood and Carrion Crow band projects under the ceiling of The House Of Fix; visit the different rooms on 21st Century Fix and find yourself in a brilliantly well orchestrated crossover world of Techno, Rock, Electro, Punk, and Wave. Trash, flash and something entirely new for Tresor fans, not 'only' dancefloor Techno and rocking just the same. House Of Fix's bands perform live dressed as 6ft crows with laptops, majestic moshers, anarchic aristocrats and posh punks ripping the guts out of Beastie Boys, Helmet, Neon Judgement and this 'Electro-Clash' (Electro Cash?) were currently slogging through. While the past meets the future a new present is created."

BEATTY, CHESTER: Shot Of Love CD (TRES 202CD). $14.50

"Presenting the long-awaited Tresor LP debut from Japan's master EQ melter Chester Beatty. Called Shot Of Love, The 14-track CD was produced and mixed down to sound like an outer space radio transmission: a non-stop mix of Tokyo manga, martinis and soulpower for that Summer of 2003 free love. Shot Of Love's filter attack will be burning sound systems everywhere this summer: furious Techno meets mutant Disco on the 2001 A Space Odyssey dancefloor. Highlights include the infamous A Taste Of Honey ('Boogie Dooie Oogie') and Peter Jacques Band ('Shot of Love') bootlegs. Other exclusives include 'Jackstyle', 'Superrappin' and the mega-bridge of 'Balance of Power'. The mysterious Chester Beatty consists of a female and a religion teacher — not your everyday banging Techno band. The duo have built strong followings via their Disq label and Cloned Vinyl appearances with good friend DJ Shufflemaster. Their 2002 Tresor debut (Tresor 193) mixes high energy Techno with Euro Pop and Disco for exactly what the world needs right now, a Shot Of Love."

DIN-ST: Club Goods 1 12" (TRES 203). $9.00

"Frederic Stader aka DIN-ST (said like 'dynasty') in his Tresor debut. Himself previously known as 'DJ Maximus' (Warp) and 'Fever' (DHR), DIN-ST is slicing his way through Berlin's clubland with style. Along with acts like Aexox and Smith N Hack, DIN-ST is a seminal part of the jacking Neo-Berlin scene packing dancefloors with his laptop vs. turntable attack. DIN-ST gives 'tough and experimental' Funk an all new skin — hacking up Techno, Hip-Hop and Breaks, then injecting the reconstructed sound with Bass and Bleeps: this is Frankenstein's bastard son of Rave, and he's mad."

VA: Tresor Never Sleeps CD (TRES 205 CD). $14.50

"During the last decade no other club has been more written about than Berlin's Tresor, unleashing the trends of the time and making pioneering achievements with the worlds best-known DJs. Hidden directly behind the former demarcation line at Potsdamer Platz, this unquestionable cult spot for the techno genre is today jointly responsible for implicating the breakthrough for a new musical generation as well as the unification of the East & West Berliner youth. This decrepit cellar had become the germinating cell for the Berlin Techno scene and soon developed a call that went far beyond national borders. At the same time Tresor Records became the internal underground and electronic music company able to offer its artists a globally heard platform — for almost 12 years now. The Tresor compilations always played a very special role within the artist album releases, combining the club-tracks at Tresor and on international dancefloors, the output of new talents and Techno originators — as they were and are always unified during a kicking party night. Included here are a lot of tracks appearing for the first time on CD."

WALKER, STEWART: Live Extracts CD (TRES 206 CD). $14.50

"Live Extracts is the result of taking the exclusive and never before released sounds from his live show and re-orchestrating them with the full control offered by a home studio. From the hard minimal of Torso to the broken beats of 'Click To Next Frame' to the lush orchestral house of 'Red Sun Over Tobin Bridge'. Sometimes you feel like stretching the boundaries of synthesis and sometimes you just want to have fun."

WALKER, STEWART: Live Extracts 2LP (TRES 206 LP). $14.50

Double LP version. "Live Extracts is the result of taking the exclusive and never before released sounds from his live show and re-orchestrating them with the full control offered by a home studio."

VOGEL, CRISTIAN: Absolute Time CD (TRES 22 CD). $11.00

Vogel's first album from 1995. Features his minimal techno style, full of abstract junctures and electronic weirdness. An unheralded classic of its era.

ATKINS, JUAN: The Infiniti Collections CD (TRES 48 CD). $14.50

Repressed and available again. Beautifully presented (Designers Republic graphics) collection of tracks from Juan's 1990s output, tracks originally issued on his Metroplex label, as well as Peacefrog, Tresor, Radiuka, etc.

VA: Tresor Vol. 4: Solid 2CD (TRES 63). $19.00

Tresor is a German label based in Berlin with strong ties to the underground Detroit Techno scene (along with the Basic Channel and Chain Reaction labels), that have been releasing legendary, minimalist, hard techno tracks throughout the 90's decade. This is a pretty essential intro to the avant/minimalistic possibilities of the Detroit/Berlin axis and heavily recommended for anyone into this junk. "This double CD is a collection of the very best of Tresor Records, including 13 tracks from their back catalog along with a slew of brand new and exclusive tracks. The 2nd CD is a 50 minute nonstop mix of Tresor classics by Berlin resident DJ Jonzon." Features Maurizio, Scan 7, Model 500, Substance, TV Victor, Christian Vogel, Pacou, Joey Beltran, Infiniti, 3Phase, Domina, Holy Ghost, Bamm Bam, Black Baxter, Vainqueur, Ingator II, X 101 & X 103 (Jeff Mills) & more.

VA: Tresor Vol. 4: Solid 2LP (TRES 63 LP). $12.00

2LP version of the above, minus the Jonzon continuous mix.

VA: Tresor 5 CD (TRES 64). $18.00

"While Tresor 4: Solid provided listeners with the classics that have made Berlin's Tresor club infamous, Tresor 5 provides the definitive insight into the future of techno itself. All-new and exclusive tracks by Joey Beltran, Cristian Vogel, Kelli Hand, Si Begg, Pacou and Naoshia Furusawa as well as recent rereleases by Scan 7, Blue Arsed Fly, Neil Landstrumm, Holy Ghost, and Tobias Schmidt have been collected by the label-team."

VA: Tresor 5 2LP (TRES 64 LP). $17.00*PACOU: Symbolic Language 2LP (TRES 69 LP). $17.00*MILLS, JEFF: Waveform Transmission Vol. 3 CD (TRES 76 CD). $18.00

Long awaited repress of this 3rd volume. Volume 1 is still readily available on the Pow Wow label here in the US (PW 7437) & Volume 2 was produced by Robert Hood (under the name The Vision — TRESOR 17). Standard-setting minimal techno classics from the master of the sound. "Waveform Transmission Vol.3 by Jeff Mills is the 1st part in rerelease series from titles which had been licensed years ago from Tresor Records to other labels. More than three years after its classic release in July 1994, the last in the legendary 'Waveform transmission' series, Volume 3 is back. The CD version has been retouched with new cover and disc artwork in a more minimalized colour scheme and by the same designer. The vinyl edition has also received the new cover and label artwork, but in addition, the original master recordings have been recut in Berlin to more exacting specifications than the previous vinyl pressing...but slightly changed as well. The overall sound remains the same but with alterations that Jeff Mills himself has supervised exclusively for this special edition."

MILLS, JEFF: Waveform Transmission Vol. 3 2LP (TRES 76 LP). $17.00*HOOD, ROBERT: Internal Empire 2LP (TRES 77 LP). $17.00*BELTRAM, JOEY: Places 2LP (TRES 78 LP). $17.00*LANDSTRUMM, NEIL: Understanding Disinformation 2LP (TRES 800 LP). $14.50

LANDSTRUMM, NEIL: Bedrooms And Cities CD (TRES 82 CD). $18.00

"His third full-length picks up where his Scandinavia experiments have been heading since their explosive appearance on the scene: promoting free-style techno ?- tough new art music with a supreme twist. It is new bass and bleep style '97 while remaining distinctly UK Old School sound (chased with a healthy dose of Scottish abstraction)."

MITJA PRINZ: Audiovideodiscoatmospheres CD (TRES 93 CD). $15.00

"Tresor presents a new club concept: Tresor Globus. This series will present Mix-CD's, mixed by longtime Tresor/Globus resident DJ's during the legendary Housetraxx party's within the Tresor/Globus. Mitja Prinz is a longtime Tresor club resident & is wellknown for his 6 to 9 hours sets like Sven Vath usually did. This release presents a one-go-mix of one of his magic evenings." Although this definitely falls into "pumpin' house" territory, it touches upon an organic groove quality of definite interest, in a similar vein to the Neuhouse: Slightly Different CD (mixed by Heiko M/S/O). Highlights are tracks by DJ Sneak (the massive disco looper of "You Can't Hide From Your Bud") and I-F's sensational "Space Invaders Are Smoking Grass" (as issued by Detroit's Interdimensional Transmissions). Other tracks included by: Mood 2 Swing, Epic Desire, Space Invaders, Basement Jaxx, Black Magic, Stephan G., The Wise Caucasian, Terry Francis, Midnight Groove, The Goodlover Brothers, Mr. James Barth, Shout Out, Faze Action, The Ballistic Brothers, The Mighty Bop.

VA: Headquarters: The Album CD (TRES 94 CD). $15.00

A compilation of new and relatively unknown techno artists that have performed at the Tresor club at their Headquarters Night, compiled by Pacou. Featured artists are: Eleve, Pacou vs. Sender Berlin, Tollstol, HendriX & Pacou, DIS x 3 & 3ST. Outstanding selection of minimal techno in the post-Mills/Hood/Surgeon vein.

VA: Headquarters: The Album 2LP (TRES 94 LP). $17.00*SURGEON: Balance CD (TRES 96 CD). $15.00

2nd full length for Tresor. "Where Tony Child's early work was almost solely concerned with his theories of communication. Balance encompasses a wider set of ideas. The reasoning behind the title works at two levels. Primarily it refers to the tension that exists between the musical influences Surgeon is drawing on, whilst continuing to produce in the techno genre he is involving styles of electronic music that he previously didn't feel to be either relevant or appropriate. He is convinced that techno has the power to operate both on the physical level as well as the cerebral, and his aim is to push experimental boundaries of sound without losing the physical relevance, most notably on the dancefloor. On a different level it refers to the recurring theme of balance as an essential to life that Surgeon is fascinated by. He draws a parallel between the ability of loud music to cross cultural differences, and the different perception of his new album which swings from experimentally contemplative when played quietly, to a powerful physical experience when he decibels are raised to club level."

BAXTER, BLAKE: Globus Mix Vol. 2: A Decade Underground CD (TRES 98 CD). $18.00

"The second mix CD compilation concerning House Music, released by Tresor, was mixed and compiled by Tresor Resident DJ Blake Baxter. Coming from Detroit, Blake here shows us his very own definition of House with a slamming set full of classics according to his enthusiastic shows in the Globus, the upper floor of Tresor." Includes tracks by Disco Freaks, Basic Bastard, Markey, K-Hand, Jack & Jill, Junior Vasquez, Trevor Rockcliffe, numerous Blake Baxter tracks.

PACOU: No Computer Involved CD (TRES 99 CD). $19.00

Second full-length by this Tresor-club mainstay, lending a voice to the (no longer) underlying anti-digital stance evident in contemporary electronic dance music. Serious pumpin'/jackin' 4/floor with varying levels of intensity/complexity. Definite post-Chain Reaction/Profan minimalist overtones." — Hrvatski. "With an affect for Todd Terry, Underground Resistance, and local legends Basic Channel/Chain Reaction, Pacou's mysterious productions stand on their own; uniquely wrapping and unwrapping abstract sequences around choppy percussion to very contagious effect."

PACOU: No Computers Involved 2LP (TRES 99 LP). $17.00

TRICATEL (FRANCE):

TOBY DAMMIT: Gopher Edits EP 10" (TRI 25006). $8.00

"The sixth translucent 10" on Tricatel presents 6 tracks from Toby Dammit. He has just started a new label Hit Things which is a sub-label of Euro Ralph, the label who supports The Residents. The sound ranges from dark landscapes to electro experiments with a bit of hard techno. The whole thing has been edited by Alex Gopher himself."

TRIGRAM (JAPAN):

RYOJI, HOJITO: A Man From The East CD (TRI 902). $21.00

Solo piano recorded in Russia 1993 by this improvising, prepared-pianist. "Scratching, rubbing, striking the strings, inside playing, but not just your ordinary inside-playing. Playing different other objects on the metal strings, he comes up with other sounds never heard before. Objects like Styrofoam, empty beer and soft drink cans, plastic pipes."? Soejima Teruto.

TRIM (BELGIUM):

KERN: RSD Duty Cycling LP (TRIM 002). $12.00

"Kern aka Ken Dutrieu or Dilemma (Irdial) examining further the possibilities of repetitive dub techno. The entire atmosphere of the album is very dark and industrial. Not that it sounds like a gothic album or even something from that load, but most tracks give you the feel that it's recorded in a very big, empty hanger early morning. The album is a bit more experimental and innovating than the previous 12"s. There are still some tracks that could be played on a dance-floor, but you will have it difficult to find some acid sounds on it. The dance pieces are more pulsating now through it's repetition and beats-esque sounds."

KPT.MICHI.GAN: Hey Love LP (TRIM 003). $12.00

"The Captain used to play in different indiepopbands (Tuesday Welt) before locating himself in Scheider Tm. This completely electronic solo outfit still connects him with pop and electro, but moves towards slow grooving Chain Reaction stuff — like a pitched-down Vladislav Delay. The tracks follow up very quickly, creating a kind of ambient, utempto popbeat and minimal techno beat at the same time. It makes you cheerful without letting you notice that you're settling down your brain, and is an irresistible record. Summer days are coming up, and this can be your Summer record. Reference points are Solvent, Hallucinator, Mille Plateaux stuff, or an instrumental Lali Puna."

TRIPKICK (GERMANY):

GURU GURU/ULI TREPTE: Hot On Spot LP (TRIP 001). $16.00

Reissue of the split album, originally issued by Steven Stapleton's United Dairies 1987. The Guru Guru side features an 18-minute freakout version of 'Bo Diddley' from 1972, performed by the trio of Mani, Uli & Ax. Recorded by an "unknown source at unknown location" it features mediocre fidelity but a pretty freaked performance and well worth a spin. The Treppe side, 'Inbetween,' is from 1974, featuring Roman Bunka, Christian Burchard, Carsten Bohn, Willi Pace & Rosy Rosy.

TROPEN VERLANG, KÖLN (GERMANY):

WOHNSEIFER/DIVERSE BRAUNMUSIC, JOHANNES: Honda Beats LP (TROPEN 02). $14.00

"Second (First?) record from this German producer notable for producing an album pairing club-beats with sounds derived from a certain series of Braun alarm-clocks. Conceptually speaking, this must be the companion volume, as the engine 'roar' prevalent in the opening track could only be of one source... a sparkling new red Prelude/Accord/Civic (whichever model is featured on the four-color cover...). It remains questionable that ALL sounds are from said automobile (even after repeat listenings it seemed both sides of possible/dubious). Similar flavour to the Diverse Braunmusik LP; minimal techno thumps and click/clack modulations around the center rhythm axis... Just one of the many forks in the road of contemporary German electronic music. Wacky." —Hrvatski.

TRUE PEOPLE (GERMANY):

MILLS, JEFF: At First Sight CD (TRUE 002 CD). $15.00

"At First Sight is the new artist album from techno superstar Jeff Mills. The album is 13 tracks of visionary techno & sci-fi drama in pure Mills-style. His fans will know At First Sight is his first full artist album for sometime. As each piece of music to come from his studio is sought after & carefully collected, 13 tracks of brand new material is bound to cause a stir. In his own words, 'At First Sight is an indispensable map. It is a collection and/or trail of Sci-Fi works that I have been wishing to release for many years.' Never one for trivial forms of expression (that's not to say his dj sets don't rock!), Jeff's current work was inspired and influenced by Time, the Twilight Zone, Harmonic, Dreaming, expanding Black Matter in our Universe, the 'What If' series by Marvel Comics, Black Holes & M87, and creating music through forcing the hands to act as tools."

MILLS, JEFF: At First Sight 2LP (TRUE 002 LP). $16.00

Double LP version; CD version next week. "At First Sight is the new artist album from techno superstar Jeff Mills. The album is 13 tracks of visionary techno & sci-fi drama in pure Mills-style. His fans will know At First Sight is his first full artist album for sometime. As each piece of music to come from his studio is sought after & carefully collected, 13 tracks of brand new material is bound to cause a stir. In his own words, 'At First Sight is an indispensable map. It is a collection and/or trail of Sci-Fi works that I have been wishing to release for many years.' VA: Female Pressure pres. Acid Maria & Electric Indigo: Welttour 2CD (TRUE 004 CD). $22.00

"Electric Indigo and Acid Maria, activists on all continents, are setting up a new legend: Welttour is the fulminate first issue of a new compilation series, that we're about to present to you. Together they are a notorious power team, that is internationally known, if not ill famed, as a 100% party guarantee on the world's dancefloors. Both of them have already been releasing on diverse labels. Electric Indigo e.g. on Disko B and Gigolo and in the future on her very own imprint Indigo:Inc Recordings, Acid Maria on Raw Elements, WMF and Ware. Electric Indigo will contribute edgy and swinging techno with classiness and elegance to the compilation. While Acid Maria delivers her very own mixture of electro, acid-house and locked grooves." Artists: Lawrence, Supercollider, Bakazou, Electric Indigo, Ben Klock, Microthol, Headman, Alex Cortex, Bobby Konders Feat. Massive Sounds, Soundhack, Marc Holste, Wasserman, Aaron Carl, Twinnie, Thomas Brinkmann, Volsoc, The Freaks, Aysam, Cassy & Dave The Hustler, James First & Gladis Garcia, Ark, Hardbrothers, Brett Johnson Feat. Dave Barker, Savas Pascalidis, Konkord, Plastikman, Grom, Markus Günther & Acid Maria, Fastgraph, Traffic Signs, Lockstep, Deko, Alter Ego, Lars Sommerfeld, Btrax, Trike, Superpitcher, Spektrum, Khan, Crossover, Cristian Vogel.

TRUNK (UK):

CAMERON, JOHN: Psychomania CD (JBH 002 CD). $13.00

"This is not a reissue. This is the first time this cult biker soundtrack has ever been heard. Another massive soundtrack release from Trunk following their Wicker Man and Kes albums. Psychomania is a cult movie — a cult biker movie and there's probably no other British movie quite like it. It's a tale of Frog worshipping bikers who discover the secret of eternal life. They commit suicide and return as The Living Dead, bikers who wreak havoc upon local supermarkets and motorways. Released in 1972 this film has slowly gathered cult following. Not only because it's so ridiculous but more importantly because of the music which has never been released properly until now. The recording also includes some excerpts from the movie, including some hilarious lines from Beryl Reid and Nicky Henson. All in all, this is an intense listening experience. It is rocky, progressive and quite wild, with a bit of blaxploitation thrown in for good measure. The evil kids will love it. Afterall, they've been waiting thirty years to get their hands on it."

KIRCHIN, BASIL: Quantum CD (JBH 003 CD). $13.00

First issue of this archival recording, originally recorded in 1973. "This is not a reissue. This is the first Basil Kirchin recording released for thirty years. Format: CD and very limited vinyl (500 numbered copies) release. Although there hasn't been a Basil Kirchin release for over 30 years, his reputation is still intact as being one of the most innovative and influential composers of the late 20th Century. This release is possibly his finest hour. It's certainly his weirdest. His last releases, in 1971 and 1973 are both rare and highly influential. This is the man who discovered a new way of listening and a whole new sound —with his unique mixture of jazz and field recordings he became a key influence in the development of Brian Eno's famous ambient works, and also a major influence behind the industrial movement of the mid seventies, for bands like Nurse With Wound. However his influence does not stop in the seventies — bands such as Broadcast are now citing Kirchin as an influence. Constructed in the early 70s, Quantum was spliced together by Basil using jazz, field recordings (animals, insects, trains), his wife and autistic children. Artists involved include the hugely important Evan Parker, Darryl Runswick, Kenny Wheeler and Graham Lyons. The result is a very different and occasionally harrowing journey through sound. Beautiful and often extraordinarily dark, imagine an early 1970s version of the Aphex Twin mixed with a bit of Bjork."

VA: Flexi-Sex CD (JBH 004 CD). $13.00

"A filthy collection of hardcore flexi disc from British porn magazines. Yes, honest. In the late 70s the ever inventive porn industry tried something a little different. The idea was simple really, you buy your dirty mag, and free inside, along with the chosen lady of the month was a pull out square-cut flexi disc. A quick jerk and the disc was out, you place it on your music centre, place a coin near the centre to stop it slipping and just turn it on baby. The flexis on this release date between 1978 - 1982 and come from Rustler and Whitehouse. The whole point of this LP is really to laugh, and listen to the absurd mind of 70s British pornographers at work. Irresistible for DJs and a working tool, the content of these recordings is very salacious, hardcore in fact, so you have been warned. But rather like the stories written in jazz mags at the time, you just know none of it's true. Which makes them even worse, which is quite good really."

KIRCHIN, BASIL: Charcoal Sketches/States Of Mind CD (JBH 005CD). $14.00

"Two vintage unreleased mini albums on one CD. This is not a reissue. This is the first time this music has been heard. Following on the recent success of the the Kirchin recording Quantum... Both are very different recordings, but are important missing parts of the mysterious musical life of Basil Kirchin. The first part — Charcoal Sketches — were tracks recorded before Quantum was recorded. They represent the initial musical jottings made by Basil before he built up his ideas into the magnificent avant garde opus we all know and love. The music is far gentler than Quantum. You'll hear some fine and very different instrumentation, which includes some sublime piano and even the early use of slightly manipulated birdsong. This trio of 'Sketches' is truly delightful and very different to anything you may have heard before. The Second part — States Of Mind was a recording made by Basil in the late 60s for a medical documentary about mental disorders. It's important to note that this recording represents an early collaboration between Kirchin and the avant garde God Evan Parker, and this has to be one of the first times Parker is captured blowing in his new, free style."

TRANSCARGO: Idle Luxury CD (JBH 007CD). $15.00

"Trunk Records is proud to release Transcargos debut album Idle Luxury... slightly skewed sunshine/space-age pop in the style of Saint Etienne or a more poppy Broadcast. Transcargos music is hooky ('hooks harder to remove than red wine stains from a carpet'), different and occasionally quite beautiful — they write everything from simple ballads to modern glammy blues and liven up the stale sound of pop with their great fusions of catchy grooves and lyrics grooves with an added brass section. Anthony Whiting, the guitarist and producer in the band has made three of the tracks on the new Mia album (released on XL Recordings)."

TRUNK, JONNY: The Inside Outside CD (JBH 008CD). $14.00

"As you'd expect from the man who brought you such unusual delights as The Wicker Man, The Clangers soundtrack, and even the music from a few dirty movies, this is an extraordinary debut. Across the thirteen tracks you'll hear familiar styles of music mixed in a way you may not have heard before: imagine a musical cocktail of Mr. Scruff, Alfred Hitchcock and Tarantino, or David Holmes playing at a car boot sale....There is bizarre horror funk here, secret agent hip hop, a pastoral waltz on an abandoned ship, spooky beats, some very groovy sleaze, even twisted nursery rhymes you wouldn't play to children. Although some of this may sound dark or even a little challenging the music is remarkably accessible, and very radio friendly. Track One, 'Sister Woo', with all its yelping hip hop madness has been playlisted by Radio One's Gilles Peterson. Track Two could have been lifted straight from One Flew Over The Cuckoos Nest. Track Three is like a spaghetti western in space with an alien. The Work ('Track Four) is opening the Top Shop fashion show this week. 'Deep in a Dream' is half beats half trip, like a beautiful nightmare you can dance through. 'Curl One Out' will get you squirming in a painfully groovy way. We could go on, but it's best you listen."

TRUNK, JONNY: The Inside Outside LP (JBH 008LP). $15.00

LP version.

GRAY, BARRY: UFO (Original TV Soundtrack) LP (JBH 010LP). $17.00

"This is an LP only release from Trunk, 500 copies only! This is the great and groovy unreleased TV music to one of the UKs most cult, dare we say 'sexy' Sci Fi TV series, UFO. The music is hip, weird, electronic, jazzy and very groovy, with massive beats, weird strings and even a strange drug sequence. This is sci-fi music to die for, from one of Gerry Andersons finest productions. This album has never been released before and is never likely to be issued on vinyl ever again."

VA: Dawn of the Dead - Unreleased Incidental Music CD (JBH 011CD). $15.00

"An absolute classic release from Trunk records, the unreleased incidental music from Dawn of the Dead including unique original and unseen artwork. Romero's cult classic Dawn of the Dead is possibly the greatest Zombie movie of all time. Often copied but never bettered this thrilling gorefest has over the years gained literally thousands of fans throughout the world. There are dedicated webrings, websites, fan clubs and magazines just for the film, it really is one of the great cult movies of the 70s. The music from the film was played by Goblin (the progressive Italian rockers), and their soundtrack was issued at the time and has never been out of print since its original release. However the Goblin score is only a small fraction of the soundtrack. What eager fans have always wanted are the incidental cues. The weirdo electronics. The dramatic underscoring. The bonkers ragtime jazz. The truly strange big band numbers. Seriously, fans of this film have been waiting years for this one very special release. Well the wait is over for them all...Carefully compiled on this album are these great missing musical moments. They were chosen for Romero by his friend and fellow horror genius, Dario Argento as they were cutting the film, and their twisted, dark humour is all over this release. Out of the 100+ cues Romero used in the film (some only 2 seconds long!), the tracks they have selected are the longest and most distinctive in the film, this is the music the fans have been waiting for. Best of all is 'The Gonk', a truly insane piece of mechanical, almost hypnotic big band jazz. Following on from 'The Gonk' is a truly weird and wonderful menagerie of tracks — including the rare country blues cut 'Cause I'm a Man' performed by The Electric Banana (the band which included members of The Pretty Things). All together these tracks build into a quite wonderful and unique mix of dark electronic horror and musical humour which is something we believe the hardcore horror fans will really enjoy."

VA: Dawn of the Dead - Unreleased Incidental Music LP (JBH 011LP). $16.00

LP version.

CAMERON, JOHN: Kes CD (KES 001 CD). $13.00

"Following the massively successful Clangers and Wicker Man soundtracks, Trunk Records is only too proud to present Kes.... One of the most beautiful unreleased soundtracks of all time. It may be short, but no score is sweeter or more memorable. Artwork comes with sleeve notes by Jarvis Cocker.. "This is the real thing. This is beauty so fragile it hurts. This is music with the Jesses Well & truly off". Mid priced CD plus limited edition vinyl. Originally recorded at Olympic Studios in 1969, the master tapes have sat silently with the composer John Cameron for over 30 years. The recording itself is a beautiful mixture of wistful pastoral compositions with slight jazz tinges. The musicians themselves read like a who's who of late 60's British Jazz any recording by these musicians are exceptionally rare and valuable eg. Harold McNair's first LP changes hands for 500 pounds."

TRANSCARGO: Oh Boy EP CD (TTT 003 CD). $6.50

"We are pleased to announce one of the most eclectic, accomplished debuts we've heard in a good while in the shape of Transcargio. It's pure pop. It's catchy (we challenge you to get 'Oh Boy' out of your head after a couple of listens) but twists and turns and does all that a pop hit shouldn't. Currently earning praise and plays from Mark & Lard, Tim 'Love' Lee and Zero 7, what also makes Transcargio that bit extra-special is that they're the first contemporary pop combo to be signed to the legendary Trunk label. File next to St Etienne/Stereolab."

TRUNK, JONNY: Dead Soon/Dead Mouse Blues 7" (TTT 004 EP). $5.00

"Very limited (400 only) 7" by Jonny Trunk on the very wonderful Trunk label. This 3rd single from Jonny Trunk brings with it the sound of Autumn with beautiful strings, wild thunderstorms and a very dead mouse."

TRUNK RECORDS (UK):

VA: The Battle of Bosworth CD (BARKED 3CD). $18.00

"Contemporary remakes of material found on the Super Sounds of Bosworth CD/LP. Remixes by Klute, Ronnie & Clyde, International People's Gang, etc... done up with similar descriptive candor."

ELLIOT, VERNON: The Clangers - Original TV Music CD (SOUP 1CD). $13.00

"Now here's an album that thousands of nostalgic adults, kids and serious soundtrack collectors have been waiting years for, the original music from the two series of The Clangers. Available for the first time on CD and vinyl. Recently voted by the great British public as number 13 best children's programme ever. CD includes 12 page full colour booklet including unseen photos and Clangers drawings, original music, a 20 second interval and then the infamous Clangers opera compiled by Oliver Postgate. Originally recorded in 1968, this is the first ever release of this beautiful soundtrack, the master tapes have sat quietly in creator Oliver Postgate's 'underworld' for 30 years...until now! To date the music has been heard throughout the 26 episodes but always at low level, now we can enjoy at full volume. The music begins with the infamous spoken word intro from episode one and ends with the music from the last ever episode. Comprehensive sleeve notes and booklet with unseen photos of Oliver Postgate and Peter Firmin at work, the biography of Vernon Elliot the composer, original working musical sketches and the very first drawings of The Clangers before they were presented to the BBC. These items have never before been seen in public."

TUGBOAT (UK):

SPRING HEEL JACK: Treader 3LP (TUG 009 LP). $24.00

UK-only vinyl issue of the follow up to 1997's Busy, Curious, Thirsty (CD version will be released in the US by a Ryko-affiliated label). "Treader sees Spring Heel Jack add extra breadth to their already impressive musical palette. Opening track 'Is' is a display of discordant Bond-funk carried off with great aplomb. It more or less dispenses with their familiar drum'n'bass rhythmic blueprint and this is true of most of the tracks on the album. Like their love of the avant garde, their love of breakbeats is occasionally worn on their sleeve, but more often than not it bubbles beneath the surface." Limited stock.

LOW: Dinosaur Act CD (TUG CD024). $7.00

"This is the first taster of the forthcoming Steve Albini produced album, due for release from Low in Jan./Feb/ 2001. Arguably thier most poppiest and radio friendly song to date, this is the band's first release since last year's phenomenally well-received Christmas EP." Limited stock.

TULIP RECORDS (JAPAN):

VA: OST The Brown Bunny CD (TLIP 1001CD). $34.00

Japanese-only soundtrack to the 2003 Vince Gallo movie (feat. Gallo & Chloe Sevigny). Packaged in an elaborate digipack with insert book of stills and liner notes by Gallo and John Frusciante. The CD has 5 exclusive Frusciante tracks recorded specifically for this movie, which are in John's ultra-downer mode (a la his 1997 classic Smile From The Street You Hold) — fractured elevation at the frontier. Evidently these track aren't even in the movie (explaining it would be "unexplainable") — a movie that brought tears to the sophisto's at Cannes (and has rarely been seen anywhere else). Completely desirable package. Tracklisting: 01. COME WANDER WITH ME, Jeff Alexander 02. TEARS FOR DOLPHY, Ted Curson 03. MILK AND HONEY, Jackson C. Frank 04. BEAUTIFUL, Gordon Lightfoot 05. SMOOTH, Matisse/Accardo Quartet 06. FOREVER AWAY, John Frusciante 07. DYING SONG, John Frusciante 08. LEAVE ALL THE DAYS BEHIND, John Frusciante 09. PROSTITUTION SONG, John Frusciante 10. FALLING, John Frusciante.

About the movie: "It's the story of one man's tragic loss of the love of his life. He is Bud Clay. And he races motorcycles. He rides in the 250cc Formula II class of road racing. Round and round he goes, repeating laps over and over until the race is over. The story begins with Bud racing in New Hampshire. Bud's next race is in California in five Days. And so his journey begins across America. And everyday Bud is haunted by the same memories of the last time he saw his true love. Bud will do anything to make those memories disappear. And every day he tries to find a new love. Making outrageous requests of women to come with him on his trip and then leaving them behind after they've agreed. He can't replace Daisy, the only girl he's ever loved and the only girl he will ever love. But every day he tries."

TULPA RECORDS:

FLAHERTY/COLBOURNE/SCHOLZ/MURRAY: Cydonia LP (TUP 020). $7.00

6th LP, from 1993. Featuring the "touring" quartet version of this total-improv outfit, with Flaherty (alto, tenor sax), Colbourne (drums), Scholz (violin), Murray (guitar).

COLBOURNE/SCHOLZ/MURRAY: In Motion LP (TUP 021). $7.00

Trio outing minus Flaherty from this CT free energy ensemble. Guitar/violin/drums improv. Pressed in an edition of only 300. Recorded in the spring of '92, released 1994.

TUMULT:

BURMESE: A Mere Shadow and Reminiscence Of Humanity CD (TUMULT 076). $13.00

"The return of the four headed hydra, Burmese, San Francisco's grind/noise/sludge behemoth. Cutting a swath of mayhem brutality and entropic dissonance, Burmese make their table-tossing, audience-baiting, tantrum-throwing peers look like charm school graduates. Punk rock Gallant to Burmese's skull crushing, soul poisoning, ear shredding Goofus. Now with an extra drummer and a renewed, dangerously unhealthy obsession with Whitehouse, Burmese have slowed things down a bit. Gone are the hyperspeed blast beats and in their place are midtempo dirges, stumbling drunkenly through nihilistic, grinding sludge, spewing bile and ultraviolence. Pounding militaristic beats demarcate vast expanses of throbbing feedback, guttural growls, tarpit washes of bowel loosening low-end and 16 rpm grind-core."

WORMS: Pelican Songs CD (TUMULT 111). $13.00

"Will Finland never cease to surprise us? How can one tiny country continue to produce so much progressive, transgressive, creative and fucking perfect experimental rock? Circle, Keuhkot, Avarus, Anaksimandros, Mieskuoro Huutajaat Pharoah, Overlord, Ektroverde, Skepticism, Kemialiset Ystävät. So here it is, finally, and man it is something. Five tracks of beautiful brutality. A dark and wintry, more motorik My Bloody Valentine, mixed with a little Circle and a little Filth-era Swans. Or some Frankensteinian dirge rock band, equal parts Godflesh, My Bloody Valentine, the Shadow Ring, and the Swans. The disc starts off with a massive 30 minute medley, a droning hypnotic dirge, like Terry Riley composing for Godflesh or the Melvins and quite reminiscent of Dutch riff gods Gore. Definitely for fans of all the above mentioned bands as well as connoisseurs of drone/dirge/doom. Crushing beautiful."

IRAN: The Moon Boys CD (TUMULT 121). $13.00

"This is the second missive from San Francisco's premier NOISEPOP band, not noise pop in the jangly-pop-punk-San-Francisco-festival-tight-pants-thrift-store-t-shirt-wanna-be-on-MTV-bullshit sense, but the gorgeous-pop-songs-buried-under-a-thick-splattey-wall-of-buzz-hum-whir-skree-guitars-set-on-self-destruct-Beatles-filtered-through-Skullflower sense. Like Sebadoh or Pavement being backed up by Throbbing Gristle or Whitehouse. Or Nurse With Wound fronted by Elliott Smith. You get the idea. Gorgeous, heart-breaking, voice-cracking lo-fi love (and un-love) soup, delivered in a wavy falsetto, over gentle guitars naive drumming and strange but wonderful backgrounds woven from vocals, amp hunt, guitar buzz, as well tumbling low end and squealing feedback."

SKULLFLOWER: Exquisite Fucking Boredom CD (TUMULT 212). $13.00

"First release in 7 years from mighty UK heavy/drone/psych gods Skullflower. Matthew Bower (Sunroof!, Total ) resurrects his slumbering free-noise behemoth with this gorgeous blast of hypnotic, pummeling, droning crush, equal parts shimmering skree, damaged motorik rhythms, murky and druggy psych-rock riffs and swirling fuzzed-out guitars. The album's core is the epic, expansive and never ending, four part suite 'Celestial Highway', a sludgy sabbath sevensies rock riff, repeated adinfinitum, a dangerously unstable entropic jam whererin the riff slowly drifts apart, sinking into a churning tarpit of abstract whirl and hum, gradually mutating into a drifting, throbbing pulse, as warbly synths, chirping birds, and twist washes of dreamy sonic turbulence overtake and subdue any traces of the original riff. Mesmeric and hypnotic and totally otherworldly. Like UK mantric rockers Loop, on repeat play, while your boombox runs out of batteries, or a sweeter, prettier version of Dutch minimal metal gods Gore, or imagine Steve Reich or Terry Riley composing for Black Sabbath. Packaged in a gorgeous two tone digipak, and featuring sonic contributions from Vibracathedral Orchestra's Neil Campbell and produced by Colin Potter."

VA: Painted Black CD (TUMULT BLK). $13.00

Long awaited compilation of "covers" of the Rolling Stones' "Paint It Black", inspired by Fennesz's legendary Mego single. "A pop song ruined. Everyone's favorite becomes ours. A seamless whole: variations as movements of a single greater interpretation. An international appreciation/depreciation in sound." Artists include: Mieskuoro Huutajaat, James Plotkin's Joy Of Disease, Stilluppsteyna, Kit Clayton, Acid Mother's Temple, Hrvatski, The Tape-Beatles, Troum, Fennesz, Circle, and Loren Chasse

TURNING POINT MUSIC (ITALY):

MAN: Man LP (TPM 02318). $16.00

"One of the most talented bands to come out of Wales during the late sixties, Man started off as a Swansea-based vocal group called the Bystanders, but soon began to move into more progressive territory. Their first two albums, both released on Pye in 1969, were heavily influenced by the West Coast sound (i.e. Quicksilver Messenger Service), but it was their self-titled third album, released the following year, that solidified the band's sound and earned them critical acclaim. With the help of a new label (Liberty) and a new rhythm section (Terry Williams on drums & vocals and Martin Ace on bass), Man had developed a trademark psychedelic sound that earned them the reputation of being Wales' answer to the Grateful Dead."

LES FLEUR DE LYS: Reflections LP (TPM 02319). $16.00

"Les Fleur De Lys were a one of the most talented British mod-psych groups of the 1960s, but due to frequent line-up changes and lack of chart success, they have remained one of the era's best kept secrets. This 22-track anthology uncovers the band's twisted journey — from their early Immediate recordings (with a young Jimmy Page manning the boards) through various side projects — to their final 'Your Just A Liar' single."

TIPPETT, KEITH: Blueprint LP (TPM 02320). $16.00

"One of the most influential and innovative pioneers in contemporary British jazz, pianist Keith Tippett first gained widespread attention in the late sixties — early seventies for his piano / keyboard playing on the recordings of King Crimson, Soft Machine, Elton Dean and Peter Sinfield. Despite these high profile appearances, Tippett's solo releases inexplicably never gained more than a small, but dedicated cult following, making him one of the most talented and undervalued living British jazz musicians. Blueprint, originally released in 1972 features his wife Julie Tippett (née Driscoll) on vocals, Roy Babbington on bass and Frank Perry and Keith Bailey on percussions. The session, produced by Robert Fripp, finds Tippett exploring new musical realms and marks the start of his free improvisation career."

THOMPSON TRIO, DANNY: Live 1967 LP (TPM 03222). $16.00

"This set recorded live in 1967 is a rare chance to catch the great Danny Thompson and John McLaughlin together playing jazz standards like Miles Davis' classic 'All Blues' and Coltrane's hauntingly beautiful 'Naima'. A founding member of the pioneering Pentangle (along with Bert Jansch), Thompson has played with everyone from Nick Drake to Elvis Costello to Marc Bolan to Kate Bush and Alexis Korner, becoming one of the most influential British bass players of all time. While McLaughlin, still relatively unknown at the time of this performance, has gone on to become a household name in jazz guitar." 180 gram vinyl.

BUCKLEY, TIM: Once I Was LP (TPM 205). $16.00

"Great collection of live tracks. The first side contains 'Dolphins' and 'Honeyman' from a May 1974 BBC broadcast. Plus a previously unreleased 12 minute version of 'I Don't Need It To Rain' recorded in Copenhagen in October 1968. The second side features five tracks recorded in April 1968 for the John Peel show. Gatefold sleeve and 180 gram vinyl."

PINK FAIRIES: Kings of Oblivion LP (TPM 206). $16.00

"Originally released in 1973, Kings of Oblivion is the Pink Fairies third and final studio album with Larry Wallis on guitar. Tracks include 'City Kids' (famously covered by Motörhead) 'I Wish I Was a Girl', and 'Street Urchins'. The drug-fueled Pink Fairies sprung from West London's hippie scene and included former members of the Deviants (Mick Farren) T-Rex (Steve Took) and Pretty Things (Twink)."

FALL, THE: Live At The Witch Trials LP (TPM 208). $16.00

"Legendary debut album by the band who redefined British punk rock with their own style of cacophonous minimalism punctuated by the scathingly cynical vocals of the king of sarcasm Mark E. Smith. Originally released in January 1979 on Step Forward with Martin Bramah on guitar. It includes 'Rebellious Jukebox', 'Two Steps Back', and 'No Christmas For John Quays'. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

FALL, THE: Dragnet LP (TPM 209). $16.00

"The Fall's rare second album and guitarist Craig Scanlon's debut with the band. Originally released in October 1979 (just 9 months after their debut), it includes 'Spectre vs. Rector' and the melodically and lyrically brilliant 'Dice Man'. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

FALL, THE: Grotesque (After the Gramme) LP (TPM 210). $16.00

"The Fall's first studio album for Rough Trade. Originally released in 1980. The ever-sardonic piper Mark E. Smith takes us on his usual off kilter tour, with Marc Riley and Craig Scanlon at the wheel. Includes the delicious 'Pay your Rates', 'How I Wrote Elastic Man' and 'N.W.R.A.' (the North Will Rise Again)?"

SOFT MACHINE: Live at the Paradiso LP (TPM 212). $16.00

"Recorded live at the Paradiso in Amsterdam on March 29, 1969 with Robert Wyatt on drums and vocals, Hugh Hopper (replacing Kevin Ayers) on bass and Mike Ratledge on keyboards. Live At The Paradiso, the only live recording of the Soft Machine available from this period, captures the band at its frenzied creative peak. Featuring material from the band's amazing second album." Die-cut circular jacket.

THIRD EAR BAND: Raga Live 2LP (TPM 216). $22.00

"Although the Third Ear Band recorded for Harvest (home to many of Britain's leading progressive rock acts) in the late 1960s, the group was more of an experimental ensemble, relying on strictly acoustic instruments, such as violin, oboe, cello and hand drumming. Founder and drummer Glen Sweeney used the term "raga" to describe their music because the melodies and trance-like rhythmic patterns were inspired by the classical music of India."

GONG: Pre-Modernist Wireless: On Radio 1971-74 2LP (TPM 99202). $22.00

"The definitive collection including all their John Peel sessions recorded from 1971 to 1974. 9 tracks and beautiful artwork by Daavid Allen himself. Gatefold sleeve and 180 gram HQ vinyl."

AYERS, KEVIN: The Radio Sessions 2LP (TPM 99203). $22.00

TURSA (UK):*SOL INVICTUS: Paris CD (TURSA 002 CD). $15.00

"An acoustic concert recorded at the Theater Dubois in 1994. Paris - one imagines the aroma of coffee and the bohemian chatter of Left Bank café society. In future you will also think of Tony Wakeford, the Edith Piaf of Folk Noir and his live rendition of 'Black Easter'. Nathalie Van Keymeulen and Celine Marliex - Bardeau on violins, ably assist Tony Wakeford on some of this set. They played the striking and enchanting string arrangements on the seminal 'In The Rain' opus. Mastered by Denis Blackham at Skye studios in Scotland. Includes rare renditions of 'Nothing Changes' & 'Above Us The Sun'."

SOL INVICTUS: The Blade LP (TURSA 014 LP). $19.00

"The Blade is the first in a series of classic album reissues on vinyl. Limited to just 1,000 copies and all fully autographed by Sol Invictus main man Tony Wakeford. The Blade comes in luxurious black vinyl with a bronze embossed cover with the original Blade artwork."

SKALD: Voices of Thula CD (TURSA 018 CD). $19.00

"A record of sublime melancholic beauty. Skald's music draws its inspiration from the Nordic myths of Northern Europe. The album ends with interpretation of a Voluspa which is the creation, destruction and rebirth poem of the Scandinavian and Germanic tribes. Harps, trumpets, violins and female vocals swirl and sway in the Odinic Way! The album is produced by Tony Wakeford and features Eric Roger & Nathalie Van Keymeulen from L'Orchestre Noir on trumpet and violin respectively."

L'ORCHESTRE NOIR: Eleven 2CD (TURSA 020 CD). $28.00

"The latest release from Tony Wakeford's L'Orchestre Noir is his requiem for the first World War and his expression of hope for peace in the Europe of the future. Musically, the styles range from classical to the melancholy of pop. Eleven is Wakeford's most ambitious neo-classical work to date. The first 2000 only come with a special bonus 11 track CD and the packaging will be a foil-blocked cardboard outer case with the CDs enveloped inside. Once this edition has sold out the album will revert to a single CD with a normal plastic jewel case."

SOL INVICTUS: In A Garden Green CD (TURSA 021). $22.00

"The all-new studio album from Sol takes us on a moonlit stroll through Europa's garden Green. This release includes both the folk and neo-classical touches one expects from Sol but also has ambient touches alongside the more powerful feel that we witnessed on The Blade. In A Garden Green reflects the elements of mourning and renewal occurring while the album was being recorded. The first 1000 copies of the album will include an external CD slipcase and a poster, both featuring the verdant artwork of Tor Lundvall."

SOL INVICTUS: All Things Strange And Rare CD (TURSA 022). $15.00

"This is the World Serpent mid-price version of the now deleted USA compilation. The CD combines 6 rare tracks from the Sol Invictus catalog. The WS version comes with all new artwork and extensive sleeve notes from Mr. Wakeford."

SIEBEN: Forbid The Sun's Escape CD (TURSA 023). $19.00

"Sieben began after Sally Doherty, Jane Howden, and Matt Howden started working together in Sol Invictus. Collectively they have worked on Cupid and Death, In Europa, The Blade, In A Garden Green, and on the L'Orchestre Noir albums. Sally Doherty has recently composed music for the BBC documentary Empire of Death which was screened on British and American television. Jane Howden has recorded and played with Genesis P. Orridge and she sang on In A Garden Green. Forbid The Sun's Escape is a compelling soundscape bringing together Jane's sensuous voice and throbbing bass guitar, Sally's ethereal and emotive voice and flute, and Matt's hypnotic violin and strings. The music tells stories of loss and longing, war and legend, and the relentless power of nature."

SOL INVICTUS: Trieste CD (TURSA 024). $14.00

"A pristine recording of an acoustic concert in Trieste's lovely Theatre Miela. Matt Howden and Sally Doherty ably assist Tony Wakeford on 17 pieces that span the Sol Invictus repertoire. The concert was part of the Musica In Nero Festival held in November of 1999. An elegant momento of a fine event."

HOWDEN/TONY WAKEFORD, MATT: Three Nine CD (TURSA 025). $18.00

"Three Nine is collaboration with Tony Wakeford (Sol Invictus) and Matt Howden (Sieben) and is based around the third and ninth runes. Many of the parts in Three Nine conform to a musical/mathematical three or nine structure; some parts are in 3/4 time, 9/8 time, fragments of music or melodies occur in patterns of three or nine. It was not merely a mathematical experiment however; Wakeford & Howden really capture the spirit and mysticism of the subject matter."

SOL INVICTUS: Hill Of Crosses LP (TURSA 028 LP). $19.00

"For the first time since the release of The Killing Tide, Sol Invictus' new recording The Hill Of Crosses is available on vinyl. The album comes in black 180 grm heavyweight vinyl with a double embossed cover and an insert containing all the lyrics. The Hill Of Crosses LP also comes fully autographed by the fair hand of Tony Wakeford."

SOL INVICTUS: Thrones CD (TURSA 029 CD). $17.00

"Matt Howden, Sally Doherty, Karl Blake, Eric Roger, and Renee Rosen join Tony Wakeford in what is in many ways a continuation of the path started with Hill Of Crosses. The toe is dipped a little further into the bathwater of warped Jazz and those with a liking for Ennio Morricone should not be too disappointed, especially with the fine trumpet work from Eric Roger. The almost de rigueur Karl Blake solo is a particularly fine example on the final track 'In The Blink of a Star'. Lyrically the album is a little more cryptic than some Sol Invictus releases but there is still plenty of misery for those who like to wallow."

SOL INVICTUS: Thrones LP (TURSA 029 LP). $19.00

"Extremely Limited Edition of the all-new Sol Invictus album Thrones. Matt Howden, Sally Doherty, Karl Blake, Eric Roger, and Renee Rosen join Tony Wakeford in what is in many ways a continuation of the path started with Hill Of Crosses. The toe is dipped a little further into the bathwater of warped Jazz and those with a liking for Ennio Morricone should not be too disappointed, especially with the fine trumpet work from Eric Roger."

SOL INVICTUS: The Giddy Whirl Of Centuries 2CD (TURSA 030 CD). $17.00

"Looking back through this veil of tears that is Sol Invictus, I marvel at the highs and tremble at the lows — playing in castles and historic sites being the top end, trying to sleep in a van while Mexican transvestites in hot pants scored crack in the car park being closer to the bottom. This double CD is an attempt to introduce my work for those dipping their toe into my musical CV. I suggest you buy all my CDs but those too cheap or lazy can at least get a taste of what most of the world's population are happily unaware of. The tiny percentage that do know my work will no doubt argue, Talmud-like, about what has been included and excluded. All I can say is this was the choice of wiser heads than mine alone." — Tony Wakeford.

TURTLE'S DREAM (FRANCE):*HAINO, KEIJI: C'est Parfait CD (TD 001CD). $17.00

Keiji Haino: voice & rhythms machine. "Live recording at Star's Pine (Tokyo, March 2002), Haino Keiji plays rhythm machine like Cecil Taylor plays piano, mixing rhythms cataclysm with his 'Chant'. Concert built on the obsessive figure of the loop. 'I am a singer, first i am a singer', that's how Haino Keiji, Japanese citizen about fifty, genuine artist, talked about him in an almost rare old interview. Willingly or not, this declaration passed unnoticed by the entertainment promoters and other agents from the cultural industry through whom Art is nowadays forced to pass by. And, on this side of the Universe, Haino Keiji soon became the just one more new guitarist, holding thus his right place among the huge guitar heroes family whose quadrachronical genealogy spreads out in glazing paper anthologies in which ones, ad nauseam, would only be called to minds the blackness of his dresses crossed by the redness of his Gibson SG...Nevertheless Haino Keiji was just saying highly and strongly, through this sybilin assertion, the anteriority of his Chant (in the beginning was the Verb and everything else is just wordy), and was hoping to put an end to the error in which he was trapped by our occidental hemisphere (perhaps on the asiatic continent was it different?): the just one more guitar hero. But this was not the best way. Behavouring themselves as scrutinizers obsessed by the sole movement of the flux and the reflux of the cultural waves, our oxen-dealers, portraiting themselves as pure aesthetes but not so much listening (only a few of them are doing it, so?) to the artists, were not taking the risk of hearing the former sentence, fatal to their commercial views, not even taking the risk of lending an ear to the genuine works to which this sentence was sending back. His Chant, even in its absence, is leading a decided dance wherever his art takes shapes. A Chant, as in an echo to Jaufre Rudel de Blaja's, Takemitsu Toru's, John Cipollina's, Iannis Xenakis', Django Reinhardt's, Antonin Artaud's, Moondog's, C/line's (and others too) ones. — Jacques Debout.

MUKAI/RINJI FUKUOKA, CHIE: L'energie De l'existence CD (TD 002CD). $18.00

(Chie Mukai: voice, kokyū and drums, Rinji Fukuoka: cello, piano and drums). "Two concerts recorded in Tokyo at Ogikubo Community Center, the 7 and 8 September 2002. A drone music moving to free music, unfold to infinity, sonic caravan lost in the opiate meanders of the cortex (lost as they were in this map of Cosmos). Free drumming tearing apart the psychedellic melodies born from the strings, kokyū and cello played until exhaustion and loss (a primary key to a psychedellic journey.) An electric raga played endlessly."

ENKIDU: Hasselt CD (TD 003CD). $18.00

"Live recording from the European tour of Enkidu in October / November 2002, to the invitation of Densit/ festival (France). Chie Mukai (kokyū, drums, voice), Sei'ichi Yamamoto (guitar, flute, voice) & Eric Cordier (hurdy-gurdy & electronics)." "Were one of so depressingly prescriptive a mindset, one could feasibly sketch both a lineage and a bullet-pointed timeline — beginning with Taj Mahal Travellers, touching on Takehisa Kosugi's 'Catch Wave', proceeding to East Bionic Symphonia, and concluding with Marginal Consort (music qua East Bionic Symphonia, if you will) — in an attempt to at least partially contextualise exactly what the three (or so) decades of history leading up to _Enkidu_ have compelled us to associate with Chie Mukai. But that would only partially explicate her conundrum. Pin-up and muse, leader and partner, invisible presence and tangible influence, Mukai coaxes cohesion and entices dissent. She can happily rein in collaborative dispositions as potent as Masayoshi Urabe and Jutok Kaneko, yet willingly sublimates herself to the respective remits of Hallelujahs and Nagisa Ni Te. Mukai's music speaks eloquently of a creative anomaly neatly summarised by the harmonics she extracts from her kokyū: at once shimmeringly celestial and wincingly blunt. Like all her music, _Enkidu_ articulates paradox: eschewing the conventions and niceties of Western improvisation — technically skilful musicians perpetuating ossified norms and idioms in deadened, hollow dialogues, moving inwards in ever-decreasing circles — it's both brutishly crude and breathtakingly fragile." — Nick Cain.

TWISTED NERVE (UK):

DAVE TYACK'S DAKOTA OAK: Am Deister CD (TN 022 CD). $15.00

Twisted Nerve is the Badly Drawn Boy's label in the UK. "Wilkommen to the wonderful world of Am Deister, the debut LP from Twisted Nerve's multi faceted, multi instrumentalist, multi careered Dave Tyack. Inspired by his childhood memories of life in Breckenbeck, Germany and the nearby Deister Forest where he whiled away his days, the album is a beautiful collection of folk tinged melodies influenced by his love of Krautrock, cinematic soundscapes, and seminal blues. As usual, Dave plays all instruments on the album (11 in all) and for the first time he even treats us to some vocals. The 24 tracks are wonderfully formed, heartfelt and earthy and in typical Dave Tyack style they never outstay their welcome."

DAVE TYACK'S DAKOTA OAK: Am Deister LP (TN 022 LP). $15.00

VA: Twisted Nerve Zoo CD (TN 040 CD). $15.00

"On a similarly unfashionable concept album tip, Twisted Nerve's numbers have reached the mid life crisis inducing 40 and instead of doing the run of the mill-grass is always greener leave your wife for a young blonde bauble thing - Twisted Nerve ran away to the Zoo. A place of tender care called Twisted Nerve Zoo. To document Twisted Nerve's mid life crises, all the acts recorded songs about their favourite animals at the Zoo and we decided to collect them all together and give them to YOU. It's the soundtrack to the best animal related movies that haven't been made. Yet? Badly Drawn Boy contributes a brand new exclusive track, the oompah inspired 'Push Me Pull Me' which shows a return to his experimental roots on the label. There are Byrdsian harmonies (DOT with 'Horses'), extreme noise techno (Siriconical's 'Sloth') and Bubblegum garage (Misty Dixons .. 'Butterfly'). It's yet another fine example of Twisted Nerve's diversity, versatility and knack of producing compilations like no one else." Also includes: Andy Votel, Little Miss Trinitron, The Insect (Ian & Joe of Mum&Dad), Dave Tyack, Mariano, Cherrystones, Supreme Vagabond Craftsman.

LANE, LUMA: Nicegirls CD (TN 042 CD). $10.00

"Nice girls shouldn't do it, but here's one girl who did. Dreamy vocals, keyboard, guitar, piano, recorder, bells. Luma Lane wanders around these sounds, collecting them, making them her own. These are songs about adventures real and imagined. Experimental pop music, that is lo-fi and unusual. Nicegirls opens with the optimistic-but-sad electronic landscape of 'Sleepy Recorder' and finishes with the sad-after-the-storm 'Ships'. Nicegirls recalls the seductively dreamy quiet moments between sleeping and waking."

LANE, LUMA: Nicegirls LP (TN 042 LP). $10.00

LP version.

TYACK WITH MALCOM MOONEY, DAVE: Rip Van Winkle CD (TN 043 CD). $15.00

"The Story of Rip Van Winkle may seem incredible to many, but nevertheless I give it my full belief, for I know the vicinity of our old Dutch settlements to have been very subject to marvellous events and appearances..." In addition to his work on the debut albums by DOT and Misty Dixon, David Tyack follows his solo debut with an album based upon Rip Van Winkle, the short story by Washington Irving. Where Am Deister drew comparisons from Tortoise to Faust, Can and even Debussy, Rip Van Winkle takes its inspiration from a classic work of American fiction. Rip Van Winkle, an idle fellow from the Dutch settlements goes into the Catskill mountains, where he falls into a deep sleep. When he awakes, he finds that those he once knew have passed away, and that his country has undergone major political and social change."

TYACK WITH MALCOM MOONEY, DAVE: Rip VanWinkle LP (TN 043 LP). $16.00

LP version.

MISTY DIXON: Iced To Mode CD (TN 046 CD). $15.00

"Debut album from Misty Dixon. Iced To Mode features 11 songs displaying a reaction to a vast range of influences from All Saints to My Bloody Valentine. Misty Dixon's debut 'Milk Money' EP was compared to 'Palace spliced with Jane Birkin' — NME. From eerie opener 'The Sea Is Not Far' through the luscious 'Are You Lost?' and forthcoming single 'You're So Cruel To My Heart' the first half of this album will seduce and entrance you. With a second half which includes a sublime cover of Prince's 'The Beautiful Ones', a tender song about Jane's cat Coco and a sleighbell fuelled ending with 'La Chanson De Noel'."

MISTY DIXON: Iced To Mode LP (TN 046 LP). $16.00

LP version.

DOT: DOT CD (TN 048 CD). $16.00

"Signed in the summer of 1998 after the first A+R scouting mission by Badly Drawn Boy and Andy Votel for the fledgling Twisted Nerve, DOT are a band that defy the usual music convention. DOT have played in cinemas, churches, theatres, pubs and breweries. They have scored music for old films and for new films. Individually they have released records under their own auspices (Dave Tyack as himself, James Rutledge as Pedro, James Wright as himself) Their debut album, DOT comprises ten carefully selected tracks from their current repertoire. The airtight three piece manage to encompass rock, jazz, electronica, glitch, krautrock and folk into an album that measures in at the perfect LP length — 45 minutes."

DOT: DOT LP (TN 048 LP). $16.00

LP version.

SMITH, AIDAN: At Home With Aidan Smith CD (TN 049 CD). $9.00

"Just 23 years of age and hailing from Salford, Aidan Smith has managed to soak up most of the best music of the 20th century and make something new that is completely his own. Aidan learned to play music in bands formed with his friends such as 'Rob Curry and the Tandoori Chickens' and 'Jack Spam and the Spamettes' which were based around the nucleus of 'The Egg Plant Trio' (comprising Aidan, Kev Rogers and Jack Jennings). Whilst at University he began to record on 4-track by himself and is now ready to compromise his anti-social personality and perform live."

SMITH, AIDAN: At Home With Aidan Smith 10" (TN 049 EP). $9.00

Ltd edition 10" Vinyl in TN wraparound sleeve.

VA: Safety In Numbers CD (TN 051 CD). $9.00

Twisted Nerve is the Badly Drawn Boy's label. "Safety In Numbers sees Twisted Nerve re-acquainting itself with the label sampler format and introduces the boys and girls of the TN Class of 2003. Opens with DOT's 'Part Three', a drum heavy, exhilarating post-rock stomp that's been a live favourite for the last couple of years. The second track is by one of TN's newest signings Luma Lane. Sounding not unlike Julee Cruise taking a late-night stroll through Moominland, Luma Lane's music will charm and unnerv you in equal measures. Toolshed's 'NaNaNaNaNaNa' is like nothing you've ever heard before — with knobs on. Call it Kosmiche-freakout-spacerock, call it avant-freejazz-opera, call it what you want, but one thing that it most certainly isn't is music to have on in the background. Siriconical's layered, distorted test tones, oblique melodicism and that magical but rare thing in electronic music - warmth - are all present and correct. Safety In Numbers ends somewhat appropriately with Misty Dixon's 'Outro'. Music to fall in and out of love to, the debut LP will see the dreamy chanteuses of Misty Dixon stretch their minimal pop paens to epic proportions."

VA: Safety In Numbers LP (TN 051 LP). $9.00

LP version.

SMITH, AIDAN: At Home With Aidan Smith Vol. 2 CD (TN 052 CD). $9.00

"Hot on the heels of his universally acclaimed debut mini LP comes the second instalment of tracks culled from the wealth of bedroom recordings brought to Twisted Nerve last summer. '*Manchester is currently buzzing with excitement over this 23 year old Salford wunderkind. If Jesus Christ appeared tomorrow in the Northern Quarter, all anyone would want to know is 'How good is Aidan Smith ? ' and Jesus would say 'He's f*ckin brilliant', because he is*' — NME. The seven tracks on this his second album, cover subjects as diverse as baked beans, jellyfish, rice crispies, nitwits, eskimos and gin. With a handful of genres thrown in too theres something for the balladeer (Dream Song 2), lounge freaks (Eskimo) Surf Guitar(Nitwit Jive) and classic singer songwriter (Eskimo)."

SMITH, AIDAN: At Home With Aidan Smith Vol. 2 10" LP (TN 052 LP). $10.00

10" LP version.

TOOLSLED: Toolshed CD (TN 053 CD). $12.00

"Started in 1998, the Toolshed project is the brainchild of Graham Massey of 808 State and Homelife fame. Sick of club nights that left him feeling short changed Massey decided to start a club night where you could bring your own instruments and join in with whatever records or live jams were taking place. He was soon joined by open minded guests and friends including Paddy Steer (Homelife), Dick Clark (Spaceheads), James Ford (Simian) and the amazing multi octave voice of Seaming To. Lazy observers will call it Jazz but it is in fact truly indescribable, infused with Massey's long long history stretching to the Factory signed Biting Tongues right through his techno days with 808 and speeding off into the future. Toolshed has been hailed as one of the most expansive and ambitious attempts to leave the planet."

TOOLSLED: Toolshed 12" (TN 053 EP). $12.00

Vinyl EP version.

TWISTED VILLAGE:

CRYSTALIZED MOVEMENTS: Mind Disaster CD (TW 1001). $13.00

"At long, long last, we are happy to announce the reissue of our very first record, Mind Disaster. The Crystalized Movements were formed in 1980 by Wayne Rogers and Ed Boyden, two Tolland High School freshmen brought together by a mutual love of No Wave & 60's psychedelia. After 3 years of experimenting (and countless versions of 'Gloria'), they decided in early 1983 that it was time to make an LP. They recorded loose duo versions of some of Wayne's songs, and then promptly split up after graduating from high school in June of 1983. Wayne, under the spell of the Plastic Cloud and Randy Holden, then spent the summer piling on mounds of guitar overdubs. The results were issued as Mind Disaster at the end of that year in a bank-breaking edition of 130 (as Twisted Village #1001). After a minor stir in collectors' circles, it was reissued on the UK Psycho label with a new cover in 1984. It was received by the 'psychedelic revival' community with universal horror and quickly went out of print. Wayne, meanwhile, added new members to the band and it treaded on as a little-known Connecticut institution until 1992....The years have been kind to Mind Disaster, and it's wah-wah and fuzz overload have made it a much sought after LP. After uncountable requests from our adoring public, we are finally reissuing Mind Disaster, with it's original cover. It is perhaps the last teenage garage-psych LP to be made in our time. Hope you like it."

GARBAGE & THE FLOWERS, THE: "Catnip"/"Carousel" 7" (TW 1018). $3.00

Lone early release by a this defunct NZ outfit; a double LP retrospective came out more recently on The Now Sound label.

CRYSTALIZED MOVEMENTS: Revelations From Pandemonium CD (TW 1019). $13.00

Fifth and final album by this pre-Magic Hour group, and the most full-on pinnacle of guitar/psych fuzz obliteration that they had chased for a good 10 years. LP version on September Gurls.

GATE: Sunshinelives 7" (TW 1023). $3.00

1992 single from Michael Morley of the Dead C.

ST. JOHNNY: Gilligan/Live At The Sports Page Cafe... 7" (TW 1025). $3.00

Early live recordings. With titles like that, somebody oughta to give them a button or something.

LUXURIOUS BAGS: Quarantine Heaven CD (TW 1026). $13.00

Luxurious Bags is a one man basement project with St. Johnny & Vermonster connections. This CD stacks his two previous limited LPs from the past couple years (From Heaven To My Head + Voluntary Lifelong Quarantine) one after the other. Churning guitar-noise density and indie splatter consciousness.

TONO-BUNGAY: Rough Music LP (TW 1029). $8.00

Trio featuring Bob Bannister (previous solo LP on TV). A guitar/bass/drums instrumental trio (with found-tape spoken interjections), Bannister's flowing, prog-psych guitar tone skirts through power-drone jamming frameworks to very lovely effect.

ROGERS, WAYNE: Absent Sounds CD (TW 1033). $13.00

70 minute CD which collects the first 2 vinyl-only albums released under Wayne's solo aegis: 1992's Ego River and 1994's The Seven Arms of the Sun. The songs here (which roughly can be observed as his complete finished songwork between the Crystallized Movements' slow dissolve and the quick ascent of Magic Hour) are fully realized works of dark psychedelic intensity, with a full gtr/ba/drums vocal band sound that is very non bed-roomy.

LUXURIOUS BAGS: Frayed Knots CD (TW 1034). $13.00

3rd album streamlined massivity by this Boston one-man band.

MAGIC HOUR: Will They Turn You On or Will They Turn On You CD (TW 1035). $13.00

2nd full length album.

B.O.R.B.: In Orbit CD (TW 1036). $13.00

B.O.R.B. is an ingenious acronym for Bongloads of Righteous Boo. It represents the commune-esque collective of Twisted Village lifers (Wayne Rogers & Kate Biggar from Magic Hour; Tom Leonard from Luxurious Bags) and their "after-hours" recording activity. A couple of excessively limited vinyl-only LPs were issued in the early 90s, but this recording finds them in a comparative free fall toward the masses. Largely instrumental, this consists of layers of riveting late-night cosmic gush, simply titled "Phase One" through "Phase Five"; guitars feeding back and droning on, analogue keyboard destruction and an all out general pursuit of electronic sound/body/mind fuelled ecstasy are the primary elements.

WORMDOOM: Last Days Boogie CD (TW 1037). $13.00

"That the Xian exploitation LP to end them all never really got made in the prime of the original movement (approximately 1968-1972) is a shame, but we have stepped forward to fill the void. Seven long, loud instrumental excursions that will take you back to the time when 'At least they're not on drugs,' was the rallying cry of America's concerned parents." A Twisted Village in-house project if there ever was one, this features Wayne Rogers & Kate Biggar (Magic Hour), Tom Leonard (L. Bags) and Joe Malinowski (Willimantic Shrin). Recordings started in 1992 and sorta languished for a while (one track under the name Wormdoom has previously appeared on the UK Deep Funnels of Entry comp CD), until it's completion in 1994. The final results are some of the most deeply disturbed in the TW catalog.

ROGERS, WAYNE: All Good Works CD (TW 1038). $13.00

"Whilst his latest quartet, Magic Hour, has been grazing on 20 minute instrumental pastures, Wayne has been recording tightly constructed songs at Twisted Village's studios. All Good Works, his 3rd solo endeavor, highlights his unique mastery of the three-minute mark. Nothing Wayne touches would be whole without pushing the limits of guitar shamanism. Those seeking to be healed will take comfort in the 8 1/2 minute title track where Wayne trades eights with himself, pied piping his guitar demons in the mere business of saving the world."

MAGIC HOUR: Secession '96 CD (TW 1039). $13.00

"After touring Europe and America extensively, Magic Hour capture the feel of their live extravaganzas on this, their third length release. This instrumental CD features two electric songs, 13 and 22 minutes long, pummeled by America's only truly progressive folk-psych quartet. Propelled by Naomi Yang's unique bass lines and Damon Krukowski's cymbal shattering small kit mastery, Wayne Rogers and Kate Biggar lead shuddering guitars through the early morning haze. In two shorter acoustic improvisations, inspired by a visit to Ali Akbar Khan's home, Naomi trades her bass for an Indian harmonium and Kate introduces the world to the dulci-guitar. Undoubtedly their masterwork."

ROGERS, WAYNE: Infraction CD (TW 1041). $13.00

"Written, played and produced by Wayne Rogers, December '95 — July '96. Wayne's fourth solo work finds him deep in the basement at Twisted Village, moving on after his last band, Magic Hour, parted ways. Infraction is forty minutes and forty seconds of instrumental bliss. Within the forty-four dwells eleven distinct movements, strung taut with guitar heaviness and organ overdrive. As the liner notes say, 'Surprise dumping in the lake for next year...Four strong winds from the balcony...'"

ROGERS, WAYNE: Infraction LP (TW 1041 LP). $13.00

LP version.

TONO-BUNGAY: Wunderkammer CD (TW 1043). $13.00

"Tono Bungay, the name appropriated from a title of an H.G. Wells novel, have been being sensibly realized in New York City for five years now. Their first LP was released by Twisted Village in 1993 setting off a reverberation that continues to effect many of the newer rock bands leaning towards more improvisation. During the past year, the band has been in full swing, touring the Northeast and releasing two ten inchers, one a split with Tower Recordings. Tono Bungay is composed of Bob Bannister on guitar and Robert Dennis on guitar and electronics and kept in constant forward motion by drummer Tony Cenicola. Wunderkammer opens with their first ever 'song' (with vocals even!), and then careens through 7 purely improvised pieces of brooding psychedelic ecstasy. There's no passage unfilled here; Bannister's guitar navigates the often hazardous free rock river with a confidence of a captain that's got something to say. The CD, (no vinyl this time), and booklet are accompanied by Tony's lovely, surreal photographs, each signifying a song title."

MAJOR STARS: The Rock Revival CD (TW 1044 CD). $13.00

"Major Stars, men (and woman) who have made many records, up the pile one more with The Rock Revival. Guitarists Wayne & Kate come to Major Stars straight from Magic Hour, whose quick ascent from snarly West Coast-influenced rock band to all instrumental thugs brought many a tear To helpless Galaxie 500 fans. Bassist Tom Leonard has been at one time or another a member of every non-Magic Twisted Village ensemble, and Dave laid down the big beat in Vermonster. Now that these four have reconvened, they are taking their LOUD polystructural ROCK to the people. The Rock Revival consists of four songs. The first, 'Rock Revival Theme,' is a purely free bit of tape captured at one of their bi-weekly recording sessions. 'On' follows, a lovely little tune that then gets masterfully deconstructed for 13+ minutes. 'Strange Reaction' is the token short song that sets up the epic 'Deep End,' their live instrumental tour-de-force. Throughout the disc they jump in and out of structure and freedom like no other post-Isle Of Wight rock ensemble can. And they're that loud. Really. Go see them fuck up the upcoming Terrastock in SF."

VA: Marvelous Sound Forms CD (TW 1045 CD). $13.00

"When most labels clear their vaults, one is usually reminded of old Roger Corman horror movies. The detritus of the shambling dead stagger forth beneath an unfortunate sun, groping blindly for the unwary listener, as a cultured English narrator sepulchraly utters that there are 'things Humanity was not meant to know.' Here's ours. Marvelous Sound Forms is a collection of stray tracks from the TV elite, all once shelved for various reasons but now forming a special picture of that time we call the "early '90s" when bands like the Crystallized Movements, Magic Hour, and B.O.R.B. roamed the galaxy. The Crystallized Movements were Connecticut's long lived last hope. At the point at which these tracks were recorded, the Crystallized Movements were Wayne Rogers ('good evening' guitar), Kate Biggar ('piss off' guitar), Scott McLeod (whose holy bass playing shook Lucifer in the very Pit itself), and Teri Morris (fearless pounder of every inanimate object within reach). Marvelous Sound Forms features four crystallizations from their peak era. BORB is one of the label's eternally cryptic projects. Three extraterrestrial visitors periodically touch down in a field in southern Vermont where they are met by label staff. A zorboid-to-analog converter is hastily assembled, and the BORBans interstellar ramblings are downloaded to tape by these intrepid TV staff for Earthly distribution. Two tracks are here, one Blast Off-era track (originally considered 'too ridiculous' even by the band) and one meditative post-In Orbit excursion (once slated for a never finished fourth LP). Magic Hour melded the powerhouse guitar overload of Wayne Rogers and Kate Biggar with the melancholy flow and throb of bassist Naomi Yang and drummer Damon Krukowski. The results balanced acoustic poise with electric roar, psychedelic rush and funeral stateliness. A band that was truly dark, as opposed to just being poorly-lit. The tracks featured here include their last studio moment together— an 'Untitled' improvisation from 12/95. A Wayne Rogers solo cut rounds out the set. We hope you enjoy this collection of juvenalia and dying breaths."

VA: Marvelous Sound Forms 2LP (TW 1045 LP). $14.00

Limited 3-sided LP version.

ROGERS, WAYNE: Constant Displacement LP (TW 1047). $13.50

Fifth solo album, featuring 9 tracks recorded at Twisted Village, 12/95 to 6/97. Written and played by Wayne Rogers, except "Something In The Air" written by Speedy Keane. Limited vinyl version in hand-printed sleeve; (CD version on Drag City). Descriptive information about this one took it's time forthcoming, but here it is: "The album in the words of it's creator: 'It's rather like minimalism, except within one tone there is a thousand, and then several layers of a thousand, piled high like blankets of snow on a volcano. Actually, I didn't mean to say minimalist, I meant to say obnoxious. It's rather like obnoxiousism.' Constant Displacement began as a series of experiments in song form, mainly to satisfy the whims of the artist himself, who never intended it to be issued. How else to explain the wispy balladry, the balls-to-the-wall rock 'n' roll, or the six-minute version of a lousy Thunderclap Newman song? Constant Displacement is his fifth solo album, a tribute to Rock formalism based on traditions no loftier than Danish and South Asian renditions of 'Stepping Stone,' though he is apparently hearing something in them that no one else is."

MAJOR STARS: Space/Time CD (TW 1048 CD). $13.00

"Space/Time is the Major Stars second full length attempt to explode the boundaries of Rock-with-a-capital-R. Side one features two songs with pickin' and singin': 'Apples To Grapes' is a moody folk rock number that gets blown apart in a hurry & subjected to several improvisational deconstructions in the course of it's 14+ minutes, and 'Runout' is done up short 'n' pretty to set you up for the all-instrumental Side Two. 'Getting Air From A Stone' is a riff heavy cruncher, while 'Dream Of The Accidental Bird' follows it's brief openin revolving door with a massive & exhilarating one chord jam that'll twist your insides just right. The CD adds one track from their now out-of-print debut 12" Rock Sounds Of People — the pounding 'It's A Blessing, Brother, I Cannot Lie', a song so relentlessly single minded that the band was asked daily who the hell it was a cover of (Wayne, in fact, wrote it...in far less time than it took to play it). Major Stars aim to take higher-key improvisational wizardry and clobber you on the head with it while simultaneously caressing your mind. Space/Time does just that."

NMPEIRIGN: 2nd CD (TW 1049). $13.00

"Twisted Village is proud as a hog farmer with 14 newborn wriggling squealers to bring to you nmperign's second CD, perhaps titled by said flanneled hog farmer — 2nd. Nmperign's first audacious CD, 44'38"/5 (TW-1046) delighted listeners with their non-jazz that blooms in the dark caverns of avant improvisation. After the release of their first CD, they embarked on an ambitious (read: nuts) six week U.S. tour that earned rave reviews and turned many folks onto nmperign's unique sounds. The current tour from September through October 1999 rocks over 30 U.S. cities, culminating in Boston's Autumn Uprising festival of new and improvised music, where surely they will implore the house. Their music explores the multitude of available sounds on the trumpet and soprano saxophone, i.e. multiphonics, mutes and preparations, breath sounds, etc., as well as the unique microtonal language Bhub Rainey and Greg Kelley have developed. What's this means to you is a duo with new ideas about sounds and improvisation. Here's what the press say — 'Greg Kelley and Bhub Rainey play with incredible intentionality and very, very quietly, but totally lacking in stiffness and pretension. Seems like they could do anything, anytime,' — Ian Nagoski, Halana. And Julian Cowley in The Wire: '...demonstrates once again Rainey's utterly distinct approach to playing the soprano saxophone, an intensely physical determination to take the instrument beyond all obvious limits. He works outside of idiom, pummeling a column of breath, eliciting refracted tones, overblowing ferociously. Closer to Antonin Artaud than Sidney Bechet.' Hear the the tomorrow sounds of nmperign."

BANNISTER, BOB: Dives And Lazarus CD (TW 1050 CD). $13.00

"Dives And Lazarus is Bob's long-awaited second solo album (the first, an LP of beautifully abstract guitar instrumentals titled Eight Day Clock, appeared on this label in 1991). This time out he's applied his craft to a set of British and American folk songs, each of which he carefully dissects and then reassembles. Every song gets a unique treatment, from the violin drone of 'The Murder Of Maria Marten' to the fuzz organ & guitar stomp of 'I Am A Pilgrim' to the two versions of 'In Christ There Is No East Or West' (one forwards, one backwards). In most cases, the versions here are the first radical departures for these standards since 'folkrock' first reared it's quickly-severed head in the '60s. As we've always known but so seldom get proof of: For those willing to dive deep into the muddy waters of the folk songs of the 20th century, these songs continue to offer an infinite realm of possibility."

TONO BUNGAY: Kluge 12" (TW 1051 LP). $8.00

"Astounding new 24-minute 12" from one of America's longest-running free rock outfits. New York City's Tono Bungay features ace string picker Bob Bannister, who has lent his guitar talents to projects as diverse as Cat Power and Glenn Branca's recent 100-guitar orchestra as well as releasing two solo LPs on Twisted Village. One could nary guess he was weaned on Finnish prog in Finland, no less! Drummer Tony Cenicola is content to lay down a solid backbeat for a few seconds before erupting into pure freedom, then throwing drumsticks at the kit (and audience), then whipping his drums with chains and whatever else is handy. Dada master Robert Dennis manipulates his masterfully planned Auto-Destruct labyrinth of bass, tape machines, and electronics, which is so beautifully planned by it's creator that it often self-destructs long before Robert pushes that big red button. Kluge is sonically closer to the two-track squall of their 1993 debut LP Rough Music than the careful ambience of Wunderkammer with their focus sharpened by nearly a decade of dedicated work on their unique approach to sound."

VILLAGE & WAYNE ROGERS, KATE: Quits LP (TW 1052 LP). $13.00

"Wayne & Kate have been dueling with their electric guitars for most of their adult lives, usually in the context of Crystallized Movements, Magic Hour, Major Stars, or one of the many imaginary ensembles they've been a part of over the past 15 years. Here they cut out the rhythm section and go head-to-head. One side studio, one side live, both sides loud and free."

ROGERS, WAYNE: At Home LP (TW 1053 LP). $13.00

"Mr. Rogers turns his back on 8-track & pulls out the cassette 4-track in an attempt to find new anti-structures in which to frame electric guitar music. Four long monotone no-chord instrumental and a postscript. Inspired by/dedicated to Kaoru Abe and cough syrup."

NMPERIGN + DOERNER: Beins LP (TW 1054 LP). $13.00

"With five scorching singles plus an indigestible, side-long masterpiece, you might consider the new Nmperign Twisted Village LP to be their White Light/White Heat. No one will argue with you. Here's the breakdown: Side One: nmperign (Bhob Rainey: soprano saxophone, Greg Kelley; trumpet) + Axel Doerner (trumpet) and Burkhard Beins (percussion). Is it a waste of time to say that none of the instruments in this group sound the way they were meant to? Comparisons with electronic music? These five pieces come across a bit like self-assembling sound machines, and it's no doubt that if Marcel Duchamp had a radio show, he'd have spun this side often. Side Two: nmperign. Are you sad because you wore out your LP of Helmut Lachenmano's Gran Torso? Well, dry your eyes! nmperign is now providing you with a side-long scratch of silence that's sure to keep your ears cooked forward. Just like a couple 'a Cosmo Vitellis, nmperign gets involved in some sticky situations without ever forgetting what's important to them. Play this side until it's smooth and shiny to find out what that is."

HEATHEN SHAME: Heathen Shame LP (TW 1055 LP). $13.00

"Heathen Shame is the trio of Wayne Rogers, Kate Village, and Greg Kelley. They make a howling racket on guitar, trumpet, moog, and drums. All techniques borrowed from Mauricio Kagel, never to be returned."

LOYD ARTHUR 3: Spheres Of Nothing LP (TW 1056 LP). $13.00

"Mystically tinged, high-energy alto sax/drums blowout (plus some added cello scrapings on Side A) for those who like their jazz a little bit primitive and a whole lot free. It's uncertain as to whether or not the 3 in 'Lloyd Arthur 3' refers to a trio of unspecified members or just 3 times Lloyd Arthur. What *is* certain is that Spheres of Nothing is an unrelenting tribute to the spirit of purification through fire, occupying the spaces between classic ESP free jazz, Japanese live-fast-die-young iconoclast Kaoru Abe and a touch of [Lloyd's pick] Swedish scuzz rockers Brainbombs."

LIFE PARTNERS: Life Partners CD (TW 1057). $13.00

"There are some stories where every girl has a movie star face and a dirty book body. There are some stories where every guy can be God if he has the balls to stand there with 30 friends and strut around. The lives of the Life Partners are as lurid and unwitting as their music is gaudy and crude. Two boys, one blond and one brunette, went on a road trip to Texas with 250 dollars all in ones. They listened to the same Marty Robbins record over and over all the way across the state. They saw a pig get shot. They visited a hall covered in mirrors and commemorating the fame of Oral Roberts. By the time they came home they knew their American experience had made them partners for life, so they called themselves the Life Partners. The first thing they decided to do was start a fake band that would pass its recordings off as improvisations by 1970s Jamaican teen punks whose Dads. All worked at an army base. They recruited a girl who was obsessed with classical pianist Glenn Gould and wanted the brunette to marry her. Then they met a fantastic Canadian metal guitarist who was also the champ of his roller-hockey team, even though his dream was to play ice-hockey. The boys asked him to play drums, and the band was complete. An instant hit among the happening music scenesters around town, they play in the basements, the record stores, the abandoned warehouses, and the dive bars all over Boston. Their fans include dope-fiends who sell stolen VCRs out of the backs of cars, record collectors with restraining orders against them, art-school dropouts with misgivings about hygiene, and more. The Life Partners now have a record which conjures the ghosts of James Chance, the Collins Kids, and the Electric Eels, but ultimately sounds not quite like anyone else."

L.A. DRUGS: LP (TW 1058 LP). $8.00

"They've been working up to this their whole lives. Getting kicked out of Uni High, working at Stop n Shop, crashing limos, flirting with movie stars, eating pennies and catching STDs at the roller rink... It was all leading up to the fateful afternoon when Ryan accidentally threw his frisbee into the backyard of Sandra's parents house. The two quickly struck up a friendship. Eventually, Ryan was able to exhume the mysterious young recluse from the musty childhood bedroom where she had been lingering in self-imposed isolation since a bad experience with PCP at the age of 13. It wasn't long before this pair of miscreants were lying about their age and getting stoned in hotel bathrooms. Then one night at a Fugazi concert they ran into an older boy named Paul. Having noticed that the two teens' rock n roll attitudes were mature beyond their years, he suggested they start a band. Sandra and Ryan, who had never picked up a musical instrument before, didn't ask any questions. Using diary entries Sandra had written during her tumultuous adolescent years as inspiration, they completed their first 5 songs in about 2 and a half hours. They sounded great. Now all they needed was a name. Ryan didn't have to look far — he just dropped trou to reveal a hidden tattoo he woke up with after one of their crazy nights in South Central and they had it: LA Drugs. The Drugs made their first appearance at a midnight noise show that took place on Sunday, May 10, 2002 (Mother's Day). Within two weeks they were ready to record their first album. When they showed up at the studio, the place had just been ransacked by a bunch of the producer's friends who had come to reclaim all their borrowed equipment. They recorded the thing anyway, and it's out now on Twisted Village."

MAGIC HOUR: No Excess Is Absurd BOX VERSION CD (TW-1031 BOX). $13.00

In a distant corner of our warehouse we found a select few copies of the first pressing of this 1994 debut CD; this is the edition of 1000 copies that comes in a letterpressed silver cardboard box, as designed by Naomi Yang (regular jewel box version is currently unavailable). First of three full length albums by this group made up of Wayne Rogers and Kate Biggar (Crystallized Movements/ Vermonster/BORB/Twisted Village) and Damon Krukowski & Naomi Yang (Galaxie 500/Exact Change).

DEAF CENTER: Neon City CD (TYEP 001CD). $13.00

"Erik Skodvin and Otto Totland are engineers of emotion and with Neon City they have created something abstract, yet incredibly accessible. As the sound of a Norwegian log cabin creaks in the distance, drifting into the soundfield — you know you are in the world of Deaf Center. Following hot on the heels of label owner Xela's brand new album for City Centre Offices, this is a persuasive sound document — gathering large strings, isolated piano, mesmerizing guitar across a completely fresh sense of arrangement — these guys have the world at their feet. Add to this a super Helios remix of the opener 'Dial' [last sighted on Neo21cd - Cottage Industries 3] and you have some of the best music we've heard in a very long time."

DEAF CENTER: Neon City LP (TYEP 001LP). $12.00

LP version.

VALEO, RJ: September CD (TYPE 001 CD). $15.00

"At last, one of the most eagerly anticipated, most talked about labels launches, and its with a certified killer full length from New York's RJ Valeo. Brought to you by the brains behind Neo Oujia's Xela, half of CCO's Yasume, graphic designer Stef Lewandowski and promoters of the finest electronic nights in the UK, de:Fault, Type looks set to become one of the hottest imprints of 2004. Inspired by the deepest of bass, warmest melodies and the subtleties of rhythm, Type promises to establish the midlands as a centre for musical excellence. After formative work for Thomas Knak's super Hobby Industries label, Valeo can really extend himself to fill the long playing format, bringing together beautiful, abstract, cinematic washes and intricate, delicate rhythms for a genre tipping experience. A must for fans of crystalline melodic-electronic experimentations. Crank this up on a big system and just feel the bass."

VALEO, RJ: September LP (TYPE 001 LP). $13.00

LP version.

MOKIRA: Album CD (TYPE 002CD). $16.00

"The return of the mighty Andreas Tillander, presenting his Ambient Masterpiece. After single handedly creating the 'clip hop' scene with his first Mokira album for the peerless Raster Noton's Static series a couple years back, for his third album under this name, Andreas has disregarded beats altogether, creating his deepest and most involving work yet. Up to now, Album is the first purchase of the year for anyone following ambient minimal music and yet there's even more brittle, rarer pleasures for the intrepid listener. Losing the need for track titles, Andreas creates a flowing organic dubby float, teeming with life like a freshwater stream. The album enjoys roughly two cycles, the first half is fuller more melodic but still deliciously minimal. Echoes of voice in the first are thrown into stark relief deep into the emotional and cathartic second phase of this immense album. Like maybe an updated electronic raga, this album's structure surprises in each moment. The tug of the undulating basslines here are tempered by an array of melodic interest, left to seem almost effortless. Blessed with an emotional tone, any sense of digital interference is settled into a rhythmic, gradual, unfolding beauty. Early in this seven part album this presents an entire world of melody hanging poised above an understated rhythm of eloquent granular stutter. Protected almost by a solitary, other worldly hand shaker, a reflective dub cycle on keys with a whisper of vocal harmonics. By the conclusion its great to hear the reduced dubwise swelling motion of the closing piece, the sound of digital creation gently subsiding."

MOKIRA: Album LP (TYPE 002LP). $13.00

LP version.

TZADIK:

HEUERMANN, CLAUDIA: A Bookshelf On the Top of the Sky DVD (TZ 3001DVD). $25.00

"A rare peek into the working methods of one of the most notorious and reclusive composers on the scene today. Filmed over a ten year period, this documentary includes live footage of Masada, Naked City, Cobra, as well as improvisations, his classical work and rare interviews. A prize winner at European festivals, this film documents Heuermann's very personal, fifteen year odyssey with the music of John Zorn. At times frightening, at times hilarious, at times frighteningly hilarious. Featuring: John Zorn, Mark Feldman, Erik Friedlander, Joyce Hammann, Wayne Horvitz, Joey Baron, Yamatsuka Eye, Bill Frisell, Fred Frith, Anthony Coleman, Susie Ibarra, Josh Roseman, Jim Staley, Jamie Saft, Chris Speed, Briggan Krauss, Roberto Rodriguez, Mason Wendell, Mark Dresser, Greg Cohen, Dave Douglas, Jennifer Choi, Mike Patton, Ikue Mori, Marc Ribot, David Shea, Jim Pugliese, Ariadne Daskalakis, Michael Schröder, Matthias Kaul, Hartmut Leistritz, Uwe Dierksen, Stefan Schäfer, Anna Carewe, Astrid Schmeling, Nele B. Nelle, Otis Klobber, Stefan Blum, Kenny Wollesen, John Medeski, Dave Lombardo, Bill Laswell, William Winant, Cyro Baptista, Mihoko Fujimura." 82 minutes; NTSC All-region; stereo; color; Letterbox 1.66:1; 16 x 9 enhanced.

HEBERT/BOB OSTERTAG, PIERRE: Between Science and Garbage DVD (TZ 3002DVD). $25.00

"A spectacular collaboration between prize winning Canadian animator Pierre Hébert and cutting edge electronics wizard Bob Ostertag. Outrageous noise sampling interacts with spontaneously created live animation in this groundbreaking improvisational work, refined and perfected for this exclusive DVD release." 50 minutes; NTSC all-regions; stereo; color; full frame 4:3.

ZORN, JOHN: Lacrosse CD (TZ 3161). $22.00

"Dating from 1977, Lacrosse contains the first recordings of Zorn's infamous game pieces. Featuring two all star groups, including guitarists Eugene Chadbourne, Henry Kaiser, and Davey Williams, the music here sets the tone for much of what was to come — sharp contrasts, block changes, unusual juxtapositions, instrumental virtuosity, and a personal approach to composition, improvisation, sound, silence, and color. Previously available in the lavish 7 CD box set The Parachute Years, these seminal recordings are now made available in separate issue. The complete sessions on two CDs, including a rare alternative version, outtakes, photos, the original and new liner notes, and more. Multiple versions of the same piece highlight the versatility of Zorn's approach to composing for improvisers."

ZORN, JOHN: Hockey CD (TZ 3162). $14.50

"Original recordings from 1980. In a catalog of bizarre oddities, this CD could be the weirdest yet. Written in 1978 the composition Hockey has produced some of the strangest music ever conceived. By limiting each improviser's personal language to five sounds and carrying them through a complex structure of solos, duos and trios, Hockey forces its interpreters to focus on timing, economy and context. Featuring all the music recorded at the original 1980 session (including over twenty minutes of unreleased material) this CD contains both the electric and acoustic versions of this startlingly bizarre piece."

ZORN, JOHN: Pool CD (TZ 3163). $14.50

"This second release from the acclaimed box set The Parachute Years features some of the strangest music ever put to tape. Containing the essential seed that was to grow into Zorn's legendary gamepiece 'Cobra', the extended composition 'Pool' was a major step in Zorn's

TYPE (UK):

compositional development. Featuring electronics wizard Bob Ostertag, percussion madmen Mark E. Miller and Charles K. Noyes (The Toy Killers), the legendary master of noise violin Polly Bradfield and of course the composer himself on sax, clarinets and duck calls, this is one of Zorn's most rigorous and enigmatic game composition. Included as a bonus track is the original text and false start of "Archery."

ZORN, JOHN: Archery 3CD (TZ 3164). $38.00

"Orchestral music from another dimension. Often fetching prices well over $100, the 1981 LP release of Archery is one of the most sought-after collector's items in the Zorn catalog. Leading the way back toward Zorn's most well known and oft-performed composition Cobra, Archery is Zorn's first large scale game piece and features an incredible all-star band, including, among others: Eugene Chadbourne, Bill Laswell, George Lewis, Bob Ostertag, Kramer, Tom Cora, Wayne Horvitz and of course the composer himself on saxophone and duck calls. Available from here in a newly remastered edition, complete with the original notes, inserts, session photos and over an hour of newly discovered outtakes."

MASADA STRING TRIO: 50th Birthday Celebration Volume One CD (TZ 5001). $14.50

"People are still talking about Zorn's 50th birthday month, and if you weren't lucky enough to have been at Tonic in September 2003, this new series of recordings will take you there. All of these CDs are beautifully recorded and hand picked for release by Zorn himself. Inaugurating the series is one of the highlights of the month, the incredible set by the Masada String Trio. Featuring three of the most amazing string improvisers in the world in peak form, urged on by Zorn's inspired conducting, this set is every bit as breathtaking on CD as it was that very night."

GRAVES/JOHN ZORN, MILFORD: 50th Birthday Celebration Volume Two CD (TZ 5002). $14.50

"Another one of the most talked about sets of the month was this historic fleeting between two of music's most powerful and controversial iconoclasts. Playing together yearly since 1999 for very special occasions, their musical connection and spiritual bond has gotten stronger and stronger. This set, played before a packed house of screaming enthusiasts, was without doubt their best and most outrageous performance to date. Intensity, fireworks and incredible mutual respect made this one of the highlights of the month."

LOCUS SOLUS: 50th Birthday Celebration Volume Three CD (TZ 5003). $14.50

"Continuing Tzadik's series of live recordings from Zorn's 50th Birthday month is this classic reunion of three downtown legends, Arto Lindsay (Ambitious Lovers), Anton Fier (Golden Palominos) and John Zorn (Naked City). There has never been a band quite like Locus Solus. Dating back to 1982, the music of these improvised rock units is still as fresh as the day they first hit, and seems to get better with age. This high intensity set features all three players at their very best. Strangled vocals, loping grooves and structural complexity make these improvised rock songs a continual delight. A fascinating and charming set of tension, love, ideas, communication and miscommunication."

ELECTRIC MASADA: 50th Birthday Celebration Volume Four CD (TZ 5004). $14.50

"The long awaited first release of Zorn's most recent and most powerful Masada unit. A true downtown supergroup, blending the raw power of Naked City with the improvisational madness of Cobra and the lyrical soul of the Masada songbook, Electric Masada is considered by many to be the most exciting band Zorn has ever had. This set, the taut climax of a three night run at Tonic, features the full octet at its wildest and most creative. Incredible solos, jaw dropping ensemble conceptions and much more."

ZORN/FRED FRITH, JOHN: 50th Birthday Celebration Volume Five CD (TZ 5005). $14.50

"Working together since 1978, the partnership of Zorn and Frith is one of the most enduring musical partnerships in the downtown scene. Their periodic duo concerts have always been special events in themselves, but when it happens in celebration of Zorn's 50th Birthday, it takes on even greater meaning. Two masters of improvisation meet head to head in the redhot crucible of Tonic for an hour of telepathic communication and exploration, and you are there."

HEMOPHILIAC: 50th Birthday Celebration Volume Six CD (TZ 5006). $14.50

"Mike Patton, Ikuu Mon and John Zorn are Hemophiliac, and together they are responsible for some of the wildest improvisational music ever. Performing for Zorn's 50th birthday month and playing to a packed house of screaming enthusiasts and obnoxious groupies, this set shows them at their most focused and most intense. Their first release since the 2001 online-only limited edition, this is new music from the outer reaches of madness."

CURRAN, ALVIN: Animal Behavior CD (TZ 7001). $14.50

Tzadik is John Zorn's most prolific label; similar (though not directly related) to his continuing Avant label, but these are pressed in the US, w/ a domestic list price. Their output has been very prolific to date, divided into 5 label series: Composer, Radical Jewish Culture, New Japan, Archival (for reissues) and Lunatic Fringe. The design is typically nice (mostly under the direction of Ikuu Mori), with lovely 5-color graphics, detailed notes, small score reproductions, etc. Each release on the label seems to have some sort of burning personal aesthetic ingrained within, making Tzadik one of the most significant US labels of the contemporary continuum. The Tzadik Composer Series starts off with Alvin Curran, who was a founding member of the legendary MEV in the 60s, and has been one of the main outside composers of new music for the past few decades. This CD features 2 recent works: "Animal Behavior" is a slightly dated piece for sampler, juxtaposing Gulf War insanity with the moans and groans of Ms. Annie Sprinkle. "Why This Night Different Than All Others" is much more spectacular, a beautiful 30 minute piece for small ensemble: Curran (piano), Roy Malan (violin), Donal Haas (accordion), Peter Wahrhaftig (tuba), William Winant (percussion). A perfectly realized textural opus.

BROWN, CHRIS: Lava CD (TZ 7002). $14.50

"Chris Brown, San Francisco based composer, pianist, and electronic instrument builder, studied composition with William Brooks, electronic music with Gordon Mumma and computer music with David Rosenboom. His music includes pieces for solo instruments with interactive electronics, and improvisational ensemble works... Lava describes a primordial state of flux, the transmutation of one material into another through a streaming of intensely concentrated energy. 'Lava' is written for brass quartet, four percussionists and 4-channels of electronic sound generated by a computer controlled signal processing system. Aspects of the physical structure of a volcano are applied to control musical elements, creating their own musical grammar. The fluid motion of burning lava streams are modeled by a score that describes all musical elements as states of change: there are no fixed pitches, loudnesses or timbres, only directions of pitch, timbre, and dynamic motion... The electronic sounds are all created by live sampling from the acoustic sounds of the instruments, and there are no synthesizers or previous recordings involved. The change from a solid (earth) into a liquid (lava) is modeled by this transformation of the acoustic sounds into electronic sounds that create an enveloping musical landscape." This is a fantastic 60 minute piece, in a very organic electroacoustic vein.

FUJIEDA, MAMORU: The Night Chant CD (TZ 7003). $14.50

Fujieda is a Japanese composer who has studied with Morton Feldman and performed with Yuji Takahashi, Zorn, Malcolm Goldstein, Deep Listening Band, etc. The Night Chant combines computer controlled synthesizer tuned in just intonation (a la Harry Partch) with shomyo/Buddhist chant, Japanese traditional instruments, Indonesian gamelan modes and Navaho text. Huge, overtone-rich patterns of alien drone.

DREYBLATT, ARNOLD: Animal Magnetism CD (TZ 7004). $14.50

"These pieces for just-intoned electric guitar, bass violin, cimbalon, percussion and horn section emphasize dynamics and sonorities, achieving stunning acoustical effects. American composer Dreyblatt studied under minimalist greats La Monte Young, Pauline Oliveros and Alvin Lucier, and formed the Orchestra of Excited Strings in 1979. He has released 2 previous albums on India Navigation and Hat Art." From Jim O'Rourke's Minimalism Top web site: "This is the record that really steps out as the first genuinely new sound in maybe 10 years. It's as if the Dirty Dozen Brass band got a hold of some of Arnold's records and decided to give it a go. I cannot overstate how unbelievably brilliant this record is. When played loud, I firmly stand by my declaration that it is one of the 4 or so best records ever made."

SHEA, DAVID: Hsi-Yu Chi CD (TZ 7005). $14.50

Shea's 3rd release, following the excellent Shock Corridor CD on Avant, and the Prisoner (Sub Rosa). This one is based on the 1592 novel, and dedicated to "the Hong Kong film directors who use both technological, commercial, western, and traditional Chinese sources to create new work... Each musical territory is created with samples, live playing, traditional tunes, scored and improvised material... the travels cross internal and external space through religious devotion to B film exploitation." Shea uses a sampler, piano, turntables, CDs; with Zorn (as), Zeena Parkins, Marc Ribot, Jim Pugliese, etc.

FELDMAN, MARK: Violin Alone CD (TZ 7006). $14.50

Solo violin composed and performed by Feldman (his 1st work as leader), who has played on numerous NY recordings by the likes of Tim Berne, Klugevsek, Previte, Zorn etc. "Synthesizing new music, romantic violin gestures and improvisation," this is a stunning display.

GISBURG: fea. Q. Chiappetta CD (TZ 7007). $14.50

"Imaginary moviemusic by an extraordinary young vocalist and composer, including dramatic text and Chinese and African traditional music." She sings, there's percussion, oboe, and other odd sounds. Not the most immediate release on the label, but various sectors of curiosity do develop.

ZORN, JOHN: Redbird CD (TZ 7008). $14.50

This first CD consists of two pieces of composed acoustic minimal/ambient music, as influenced by Scelsi, Feldman & Olivier Messiaen. The first part ("Dark River") is for bass drums only, and acts as a low-toned pulse-stopper intro for the main title piece, which goes on for (only!) 41 minutes of harp, viola, cello and percussion, which is beautifully performed in the new 90's minimalist style (ala Feldman Hat Art recordings), slowly evolving, luxuriously toned acoustic sound waves.

ZORN, JOHN: Book of Heads CD (TZ 7009). $14.50

Composition for solo guitar, from 1978. Originally written for Eugene Chadbourne, it is performed here by Marc Ribot. "I took the scores home and stared at them for a long time in complete bewilderment. Virtually every note involved some sort of extended technique, non-traditional notation or nearly impossible juxtaposition. This was not surprising, given the task Zorn had set out for himself: to compose in the language of the late 70's/early 80's 'free improv' guitarists (Chadbourne, Frith, Bailey), a language most had assumed to be unnotatable." —Ribot.

TAKAHASHI, YUJI: Finger Light CD (TZ 7010). $14.50

"One of the foremost pianists of the 20th century, composer Yuji Takahashi makes a long-awaited return to solo piano composition along with intriguing works for shamisen, bass shamisen and sho (Japanese mouth organ), applying his own techniques to these traditional instruments." Takahashi has recorded over a 100 albums, and is well known for his associations with Xenakis, Cage, Ichihyanagi, etc.

O'ROURKE, JIM: Terminal Pharmacy CD (TZ 7011). $14.50

Large ensemble compositions for clarinets, bass trombones, drums, accordions, cellos, alto flutes, bass flutes, acoustic guitar, amplification.

PARTCH, HARRY: The Seventeen Lyrics of Li Po CD (TZ 7012). $14.50

"Composer, theorist, inventor of musical instruments, and one of the most colorful characters of the 20th century music, Partch (1901-1974) broke with Western tradition and forged a new music based on a more primal, corporeal integration of the elements of speech, rhythm and performance using the intrinsic music found in the spoken word, the principles of acoustic resonance and just-intonation. The Seventeen Lyrics of Li Po were composed between 1931 and 1933 and are among Partch's earliest extant compositions. They were composed for Intoning Voice and Partch's Adapted Viola, a hybrid instrument consisting of a cello neck grafted onto the body of a viola, its open strings sounding one octave below the violin. Partch used texts from the 8th century Chinese poet, Li Po. This is the 1st recording of all 17 of Partch's 'Lyrics of Li Po.'"

KANG, EYVIND: 7 NADES CD (TZ 7013). $14.50

Debut album by Kang (one previous 7" on RGI), who plays violin, keyboard, voice, piano, tape manipulations, bass, erhu, harp, tuba, microphone and noise, along with a large accompanying cast. Kang is well known for his associations with the Sun City Girls and has also played with Zorn, Joe McPhee, Wayne Horvitz, etc. "One of the quirkiest and most indescribable of sound sculptures from a new generation of experimentalists. A composition that will bring new revelations with each listening. Kang is one sick puppy." —Zorn.

SUNG, LI CHIN: Past CD (TZ 7014). $14.50

Discovered on the historic 1995 Zorn/Eye tour of China. "Sung's debut album, a collection of his works from 1992 to '95, was never intended for commercial release. The subject matter of this work is deeply personal, dealing with the people and things around him, especially his family and friends, and as such does not always obey traditional music logic... Past presents intriguing and personal ambient/noise/environmental works by this adventurous young Hong Kong composer. Inspired by influences as diverse as Brit-pop, Luc Ferrari and Taoism, Sung has created a unique sound world that is both perplexing and seductive." Performed almost completely solo by Sung, on percussion, guitar, CD, synthesizer, voice and tapes; it's noisy and unpredictable, and should go over big with Otomo Yoshihide fanatics.

PATTON, MIKE: Adult Themes For Voice CD (TZ 7015). $14.50

"Famous as the vocalist of Faith No More, notorious as the singer of Mr. Bungle, Mike Patton goes one step further with a debut solo album of experimental sounds never imaginable possible from just voice and microphone." Four track recordings, heavy on the low-organic hum, this is not necessarily the pure agitated screech you might have expected and has some real listenable moments, the best parts emitting an old school electronic hum.

SHARP, ELLIOTT: Xenocodex CD (TZ 7016). $14.50

"The Soldier String Quartet performs two extended compositions from the master of fractals: the psychedelically transformed of 'Xtopia' and the dark, jagged snapshots of

"Intifada." Sharp plays Buchla Thunder, fretless guitar, clarinet in addition. "Xtopia" is a lovely real-time approach to Elliott's re-assemblage techniques (prev. documented by "Crytid Fragments," where string materials were radically sculptured through time-expansion/compression, pitch-shifting, filtering, editing, etc.).

SMITH, WADADA LEO: Tao-Njia CD (TZ 7017). $14.50

"A breathtakingly beautiful document of new compositions from a founding member of the Chicago's AACM and one of the world's most important contemporary musician/composers. Featuring his ensemble Nda-Kulture and California E.A.R. Unit." Smith (trumpet, flugelhorn, bamboo flute, monophony-bar, indian low-bell, Japanese high-bell, nohkan flute, axatse, mbira); other members on drums, vibraphone, tubular bells, flute, piano, clarinet, cello, violin, etc. This fits in perfectly in that nowhere zone of post-jazz/new music composition of cosmic intention.

KLUCEVSEK, GUY: Stolen Memories CD (TZ 7018). $14.50

Featuring the Bantam Orchestra: Klucevsek (accordion, piano, melodica), Sara Parkins (violin), Margaret Parkins (cello, voice), Achim Tang (bass). "World-renowned accordionist Guy Klucevsek has played with Kronos Quartet, Laurie Anderson, Bill Frisell, Anthony Braxton, John Zorn and Robin Holcomb, and is also a highly original composer in his own right. These stirring compositions are inspired by (among other things) John Cage, African melodies, sacrificial chickens and Fresh Kills, the world's largest landfill."

GISBURG: Shadows In The Sea CD (TZ 7019). $14.50

Gisburg (voice, fl), Jeff O'Malley (narration), Christine Bard (perc.), Anthony Coleman (p), Midori Seiler (violin), Ron Lawrence (viola), Guy Tyler (bass). "Gisburg is an extraordinary young vocalist and composer, with influences ranging from Schoenberg to jazz to Fluxus. She has performed in an ensemble of Dieter Schnebel and in the vocal duo Alli Gaa in Berlin, and worked with Anthony Coleman, Marc Ribot, John Zorn and others in NYC. Using texts by Majakowski, Plath and Fassbinder, Gisburg's second Tzadik CD continues her fascinating exploration of imaginary movie music. With a dramatic edge combining the smoky tones of Marlene Dietrich, the acrobatics of Cathy Berberian and an Ellingtonian sense of orchestration, she creates a unique compositional style that can't be pigeon-holed."

MORI, IKUE: Garden CD (TZ 7020). $14.50

"Ikue more, a legend on the NY music scene, has played regularly with the world's top improvisers since 1979, as well as in the groups DNA, Tohban Djan, Death Praxis, Fukuko, Worlds of Love and Death Ambient. Mori has developed a personal and innovative technique of playing samplers triggered by adapted drum machines. Garden, her first solo recording, is a textbook in compositional economy, displaying her amazing approach to an instrument she has made her own." Adopting some of the crystallized-fracture ethos of concrete/surreal constructs and the spatialization of certain minimalistic ambient/techno works, this is a pure masterpiece of reproduced sound and one of the finest listening experiences to date within the Tzadik universe.

LAM, BUN-CHING: ....Like Water CD (TZ 7021). $14.50

"Bun-Ching Lam's extended composition '....Like Water' is an evocative and imaginative work, as sensuous as its title. A native of Macau, now living in NYC, Lam has studied composition with Roger Reynolds, Pauline Oliveros, and Robert Erickson, and has been previously commissioned to compose for the Arditti String Quartet, Ursula Oppens and Fritz Hauser." Performed by the trio of David Abel (violin, viola), Julie Steinberg (piano) & William Winant (percussion). "....Like Water" consists of short self-contained movements. It makes reference to images of water and its various manifestations such as ice, steam and mist."—Lam.

PATTON, MIKE: Pranzo Oltranzista CD (TZ 7022). $14.50

"Patton's extended composition 'Pranzo Oltranzista: Musica da Ravola per Cinque (Banque Piece for Five Players)' is inspired by Filippo Tommaso Marinetti's 'Futurist Cookbook' (1932). Performed by an all-star ensemble, 'Pranzo...' magically transports the listener to a surreal ambient world of the unexpected." Performed by Mr. Bungle's Patton (voice, sound effects), Friedlander (cello), Robot (guitar), Winant (perc.) and Zorn (as).

ZORN, JOHN: Duras:Duchamp CD (TZ 7023). $14.50

"France has been the birthplace of some of the greatest creative minds of the 20th century. Duras:Duchamp is a tribute to two timeless figures who have forever changed our view of the world. Over 30 minutes in length, 'Duras' is a major new composition inspired by the romantic writings of Marguerite Duras and the mystical music of Olivier Messiaen. Seductive, elusive, ritualistic. 'Duras' is a hypnotic work of startling clarity and complexity. 'Étant Donnés' is the perfect companion piece to 'Duras': a provocative noise trio inspired by the enigmatic last masterpiece of Marcel Duchamp, on of France's greatest conceptualists." "Duras" features Mark Feldman (violin), Cenovia Cummins (violin), Anthony Coleman (piano), John Medesky (organ), Christian Bard (perc.) & Jim Pugliese (perc.) and is strongly recommended ala Zorn's prior minimalist masterwork "Redbird". "Étant Donnés" is performed by Feldman, Pugliese and Erik Friedlander (cello).

SLUSSER, DAVID: Delight At The End Of The Tunnel CD (TZ 7024). $14.50

"Composer, performer, one of the foremost sound designers on the West Coast, the mad genius of David Slusser has enhanced the films of David Lynch, George Lucas, Francis Ford Coppola and the music of John Zorn, Mike Patton and Angelo Badalamenti. Drawing inspiration from sources as diverse as 1950's mood music, industrial demos, early musique concrete and beer commercials, Slusser takes on an exotic trip through his insane sound world via sound effects, theremins and other rare electronic instruments that either have been or should have been long forgotten."

FUJIEDA, MAMORU: Patterns of Plants CD (TZ 7025). $14.50

"Generating melodic material through the micro-changes of surface-electric potential on leaves, Mamoru Fujieda's 2nd Tzadik release was composed completely based on data taken from plants. Combining alternate tuning systems (just intonation, Pythagorean) with traditional instruments of China and Japan (sho, koto and the ancient 25-stringed zither, the hitsu), Fujieda has again created a world of sound never before imagined possible. Delicate and subtle variations of tone and timbre give a whole new life to classical musical forms such as the passacaglia and strophic variations in this bizarre and fascinating mixture of European Medieval music, the traditions of Asia and modern science."

MOOREFIELD, VIRGIL: The Temperature In Hell Is Over Three Thousand Degrees CD (TZ 7026). $14.50

"Composer Virgil Moorefield was born in Chapel Hill, NC in 1956 and grew up primarily in Europe. Living in NY since 1975, Moorefield recorded and toured as a drummer with numerous rock bands and avant garde ensembles, including the Swans, Glenn Branca, Bill Laswell, Elliott Sharp, and Damage. The music on this disc is a reflection of his recent interest in microtonality and in creating a music which is looser in structure than his previous works. Alternating between strict notation and passages which may be described by nothing more than a drawing — Virgil blends minimalism, microtonal tunings and improvisations to create a unique sound world of precision, movement and surprise." Performed on violin, violoncello, synthesizer, baritone sax, clarinet, bowed guitar, fretless guitar.

DRESSER, MARK: Banquet CD (TZ 7027). $14.50

"One of the world's greatest virtuoso bass players, this CD features two of Mark's most important recent works. 'Banquet' is a double concerto for flute, bass and string quartet, featuring the Swiss flute virtuoso Matthias Ziegler and Mr. Dresser himself. Twisting timbres, jagged melodies and driving rhythms combine in this exciting work exploring extended instrumental techniques. 'Loss of the Innocents', written for the unusual combination of tuba, cello and clarinet, is a piece of haunting beauty."

ZORN, JOHN: Angelus Novus CD (TZ 7028). $14.50

"Here is a side of Zorn's work that has pretty much remained hidden — his compositions for classical chamber ensembles. This CD marks the first in a series documenting these pieces, commissioned by some of the world's leading ensembles and appearing on CD for the first time. The works here span over 20 years, and include 'Christabel', a student piece written in 1972 inspired by the romantic mystic poetry of Samuel Taylor Coleridge, the wind octet 'Angelus Novus' composed for the world-renown Netherland's Wind Ensemble and dedicated to the Jewish cultural theorist Walter Benjamin, the dynamic chamber symphony 'For Your Eyes Only' and 'Carry', a virtuosic solo piece that receives an impassioned and breathtaking performance by pianist Stephan Drury. Students of the New England Conservatory perform this challenging music with startling clarity and intensity that will surprise and delight Zorn fans and detractors alike."

GOODE, DANIEL: Tunnel — Funnel CD (TZ 7029). $14.50

First recording of this work by composer/clarinetist Goode, performed by The Crosstown Ensemble, conducted by Eric Grunin. Scored for: 3 flutes, 4 trombones, 4 strings, and percussion. "Composed in 1985, it is one of his most ambitious and exhilarating works...Trains have been a large part of Dan's dream and fantasy life: 'A tunnel is a tunnel seen in perspective, and it is a focusing device. When reversed it's a telescope which magnifies, putting a more generous space around each thing magnified.'"

GRAVES, MILFORD: Grand Unification CD (TZ 7030). $14.50

"Professor, herbalist, healer, Milford Graves is first and foremost one of the world's great geniuses of the drum. Rarely heard live, even more rarely found in the studio, a new recording by Graves is a special event. This is the CD that free jazz fans and every drummer in the world has been waiting for: his music for solo drums. Intense, shooting off in all directions at once and yet always firmly rooted in the tradition, Tzadik is proud to release this important and historic solo recording."

LAM, BUN-CHING: The Child God CD (TZ 7031). $14.50

"For her second Tzadik CD, Lam has assembled some of the greatest traditional music performers of China and matched them with some of NY's most creative instrumentalists in creating a beautiful and lyrical meeting of western art music and Chinese troubadour traditions. Her mini-opera, The Child God written as a shadow play, incorporates spoken narrative, instrumental music and tenor songs, and is based on a Ming Dynasty mystical novel The Creation Of The Gods. It tells the story of No Cha, from his miraculous birth, to the discovery of his own supernatural powers through various adventures which bring danger to his parents' lives. Adventurous, charming and delightful."

KANG, EYVIND: Theatre of Mineral NADEs CD (TZ 7032). $14.50

"NADE: (Sanskrit): Channels of the subtle body/also: sound/also: nothingness. Eyvind Kang has one of the strangest musical minds on the scene today, and this second installment of his 'NADEs' series is, as one would expect, something completely different. Medieval crumhorns, ecstatic arrangements, lilting melodies, unusual concepts and, of course, Eyvind's virtuosic violin stylings. This epic work, a year and a half in the making, is Kang's personal take on 'East' and 'West'. Theatre of Mineral NADEs is Kang's Sgt. Pepper's. Destined to become one of the most important records of the year."

FERRARI, LUC: Cellule 75 CD (TZ 7033). $14.50

"Irreverent, psychosexual and always fascinating, Ferrari's work manifests itself in texts, instrumental textures, electroacoustic compositions, reportings, films, theatre, etc. It is an honor for Tzadik to release two of his most important works from the 1970s, recorded under the supervision of the composer himself. 'Place des Abbesses,' the first electro acoustic portrait work realized at his home studio in Paris, 1977, is an evocative portrait of a small square between The Sacred Heart of God and Saints and the Pigalle of licentiousness and sex, two familiar Ferrari obsessions. 'Cellule 75' is an explosive, dynamic work for piano, percussion and tape, balancing improvisational spontaneity with the more exacting writing of classical forms."

FRITH, FRED: Pacificia (1993-95) CD (TZ 7034). $14.50

"A major new composition by the world-famous guitarist, improviser and composer. Over an hour in length and composed for a large ensemble of winds, strings and percussion, Pacificia sets the poetry of Pablo Neruda into a seductive and hypnotizing sound world that slowly metamorphoses into something altogether different. Lyrical written passages, inspired improvisations, sensual vocals and provocative sound effects all come together into a fascinating whole — one of Frith's most brilliant orchestral creations."

YAMADA, NORMAN: Being And Time CD (TZ 7035). $14.50

"Yamada is a brilliant young composer who has worked with Anthony Coleman, Marc Ribot, the Crosstown Ensemble, the Agon Orchestra and was previously heard on the Avant CD by Rough Assemblage. Being and Time, the first CD dedicated to his compositions for small ensembles is an atavistic exploration of rock gestures, ambient noise and today's post-modern malaise."

ITO, TEIJI: King Ubu CD (TZ 7036). $14.50

"Teiji Ito is one of contemporary music's most elusive mavericks. Born in Tokyo in 1935, he moved to NY at the age of six, and by 1952, at the age of seventeen, he was already composing music for the influential avant-garde film work of Maya Deren. Accompanying her to Haiti in 1955, Ito learned ceremonial and secular drumming techniques from the legendary Haitian musician Coyote. Applying these principles to his knowledge of traditional Japanese music, contemporary classical and African traditions, Ito's scores are a shocking precursor to today's cutting-edge composers. King Ubu, originally written for a 1961 NY production of Alfred Jarry's pre-dadaist masterpiece, is a delightful and eclectic score filled with sly humor and ingenious dramatic effects. Intermixing a wide range of traditional and ethnic instruments, all of which are performed with great skill by the composer himself on this rare original recording, Ito's score to King Ubu establishes him as one of the most extraordinary and personal composers in the NY underground."

ZORN, JOHN: Aporias: Requia for Piano and Orchestra CD (TZ 7037). $14.50

"An aporia is an impossible passage and this 'Requia' pays tribute to the indomitable creative spirit that negotiates the aporia of life and death. Written for piano soloist, six boy sopranos and full orchestra, Aporias is John Zorn's most accomplished composition to date. This monumental piece, part piano concerto, part Requiem has been universally hailed by performers, composers and audience alike as a new vision of modern orchestral music. Performed here by pianist Stephen Drury, the Hungarian Radio Children's Choir and the American Composers Orchestra, this premiere recording made under the supervision of the composer is an exhilarating experience filled with subtle detail, unusual instrumental colors and emotional power."

GISBURG: Trust CD (TZ 7038). $14.50

"Gisburg's newest Tzadik recording couples two masterful compositions onto one disc. Her heartfelt opera for solo voice about the ups and downs of doomed and obsessive love is one of her most personal and striking compositional statements to date, a powerful combination of stark emotional content, minimalist melody and narrative charm. 'Anna' shows Gisburg's profound command of classic instrumental writing — a lush and dramatic string quartet performed by the brilliant Cassatt Quartet."

CURRAN, ALVIN: Theme Park CD (TZ 7039). $14.50

"Performed by virtuosic madman William Winant, Theme Park is a major new work by Alvin Curran and one of the most dynamic solo percussion compositions of the decade. Coupled with a kaleidoscope tribute to jazz giant Charlie Parker, this newest CD by one of today's most important musical pioneers incorporates minimalism, structuralism and post-modernism into an exhilarating new aggregate. Wild sounds, wit and passion to celebrate the opening of the 21st century."

GOSFIELD, ANNIE: Burnt Ivory and Loose Wires CD (TZ 7040). $14.50

"Influenced by Harry Partch, Sun Ra and San Francisco's Musee Mechanique's collection of old nickelodeons and player pianos, Annie Gosfield presents us with a new view of micro-tonal music. The sounds of a percussion factory, a destroyed piano and an abandoned guitar are twisted into sophisticated compositions incorporating tuned and detuned instruments, traditional and non-traditional techniques, composition and improvisation. Also included is an exciting premiere composition for saxophone quartet performed here by the world-renowned group Rova, and one of the best sampler pieces you're ever likely to hear."

SHEA, DAVID: Classical Works CD (TZ 7041). $14.50

"Two adventurous pieces of classical chamber music by one of today's busiest musical manipulators. The atmospheric Chamber Symphony #1 juxtaposes live and sampled instrumental sonorities in a complex world of modern polyphony with turntable/sampler wizard David Shea playing along with members of the Ictus Ensemble. 'The Voice Suite' features the brilliant cellist Erik Friedlander and long-time Shea collaborator Jim Pugliese interacting with Shea's twisted sampler magic."

DE GLI ANTONI, MARK: Horse Tricks CD (TZ 7042). $14.50

"Mark De Gli Antoni, the talented sampler magician for the pop group Soul Coughing studied composition at the Manhattan School of Music and released his first recording in 1995 on the Avant label as part of the experimental composer collective Rough Assemblage. Horse Tricks is his first solo release and features many of his acclaimed musical colleagues in a variety of musical contexts showcasing the wide range of Mark's compositional interests. From instrumental trip hop and rhythm tracks to ambient, minimalist and pieces of startling compositional complexity — Mark's astounding virtuosity, mastery of new media and instrumental inventiveness is sure to surprise and delight both diehard fans and newcomers alike."

AMACHER, MARYANNE: Sound Characters (Making The Third Ear) CD (TZ 7043). $14.50

One of the most impressive Tzadik releases in quite some time, Amacher's 'Third Ear Music' produces a rare dosage of interactive audio psychedelics that has to be experienced at proper volume. "Amacher is one of electronic music's truly legendary mavericks. Working mostly in large spaces and installations for the past twenty years, this diverse collection of electronic soundscapes and 'ear-dances' was chosen by the composer especially for Tzadik to work in the more intimate settings of the compact disc. Spectacular acoustical effects take you to expansive worlds of dancing difference tones and psychedelic sonorities. A rare release by one of the most reclusive and elusive of today's visionaries."

LASWELL, BILL: Invisible Design CD (TZ 7044). $14.50

"A new solo album by contemporary music's most adventurous musical terrorist. An indefatigable instigator of countless musical projects, from funk, rock, hip hop and jazz to world music, ambient and a myriad of creative hybrids, Laswell steps out here as a composer with eight tracks showcasing his virtuosic bass playing, radical studio techniques and musical obsessions. Invisible Design is a CD of Black Magic and spiritual passion."

HUNT, JERRY: Song Drapes CD (TZ 7045). $14.50

"Born in Waco, TX, Jerry Hunt was a friend of Jack Ruby, a pianist in strip clubs, a student of the occult and founder of his own mail order church at the age of 13. Jerry Hunt was also one of the great pioneers of live electronic music performance. Very much a modern-day shaman, he designed most of his own equipment and used it in unique ways to create backdrops for his magical performances that referred to, among many other things, exotic ritual, the esoteric traditions of Rosicrucianism, Aleister Crowley and modern science. The Song Drapes were some of Jerry's last and greatest creations — and this special first release, authorized by the Hunt estate, includes performances by two of Jerry's closest friends and collaborators, vocalist Shelley Hirsch and performance artist Karen Finley, and one track featuring the popular vocalist Mike Patton."

SMITH, WADADA LEO: Light Upon Light CD (TZ 7046). $14.50

"Trumpeter, multi-instrumentalist, improviser and theoretician, Wadada Leo Smith is one of the most important composers of our time. An original member of Chicago's AACM, his exciting pieces blending composition and improvisation have been performed by many of the world's most important ensembles and soloists. Featuring an exotic composition for chamber ensemble and gamelan quartet, a beautiful solo piece for viola, a bass concerto written for virtuoso Bert Turetzky and two electronic pieces featuring Leo's unique trumpet improvisations."

ZORN, JOHN: String Quartets CD (TZ 7047). $14.50

"At last all four of Zorn's infamous compositions for string quartet are available on CD. Originally commissioned by the world-renown Kronos Quartet, three of these pieces are recorded here for the first time. From the cartoon/montage qualities of the popular 'Cat O'Nine Tails' to the S/M poetry of 'The Dead Man,' the hermetic philosophy of 'Memento Man' and the spiritual transcendence of 'Kol Nidre,' these four quartets take on and challenge the tradition of classical string quartets from Beethoven, Bartók, Webern, Carter and Ferneyhough, forging an exciting new world of their own. Performed by an exciting new quartet of Zorn veterans and new music virtuosos, Zorn's unique compositional voice shines like never before."

HYLA, LEE: Riff And Transfiguration CD (TZ 7048). $14.50

"One of America's most important composers of concert music. Concentrating on his dynamic music for piano, this exciting CD presents a fascinating sextet for hammered dulcimer, clarinet, piano and strings, and three solo piano compositions performed by Stephen Drury, Mia Chung and Judith Gordon, three of today's most acclaimed virtuosos. An exciting adventure into a new world of sound, space and texture from one of new music's guiding lights."

PARKINS, ZEENA: Pan-Acousticon CD (TZ 7049). $14.50

"A product of over three years of work, Pan-Acousticon is Zeena Parkins' most important and intriguing work to date, orchestrating sampling noise, classical strings, rock drums and homemade instruments into a new world of color, shape and texture. Co-produced by long-term collaborator Elliott Sharp, this beautiful and varied collection of experimental music is both powerful and touching."

DE GREGORIO, GIUSTINO: Sprut CD (TZ 7050). $14.50

"Unusual and quirky sampling collages from the Italian neo-primitive composer Giustino Di Gregorio. Combining modern technology with concepts inspired by John Oswald's plunderphonics and mystery tapes, these charming and intriguing pieces chop, mix and blend known and unknown musical shapes into startling new compositions for the 21st Century." The Boredoms, Blue Cheer, Serge Gainsbourg, John Denver and about 100 other international music icons are sampled for your pleasure, not in a heavily cut-up fashion, but in stream of processed, flowing sound. Some very nice sections, others that almost veer into Merzowian territory.

YOSHIIHIDE, OTOMO: Cathode CD (TZ 7051). $14.50

"Otomo Yoshihide has become one of Japan's busiest and most well known musical ambassadors, performing and recording with leading experimentalists the world over. Since the disbanding of his raucous and popular band Ground Zero, Otomo has written film and dance scores, and recorded dozens of ambient and noise projects. Here he steps out as a serious composer. 'Modulation #1' and '#2' are two of his most satisfying and provocative recordings, combining traditional Japanese instruments like the sho with noise, improvisation and ambient drones. The 'Cathode' pieces combine an ensemble of some of Tokyo's most interesting improvisers with analog electronics, turntables, samplers and tape manipulations to create an electric world of soundtrack moods, contemporary compositions and electronics."

HEMINGWAY, GERRY: Chamber Works CD (TZ 7052). $14.50

"Cutting edge chamber music from one of the most prolific and ubiquitous composer-performers in new music. A veteran of countless musical projects whose experience includes jazz and funk bands, improvising units with Derek Bailey and Evan Parker, compositions for orchestra and big band, and over ten years as a percussionist in the Anthony Braxton quartet, Gerry's music is a magical blend of compositional structure and improvisational excitement, drawing upon his deep knowledge of classical, jazz and world traditions. Featuring complex string writing and wild percussive fireworks, this CD is one of Gerry's greatest achievements."

GARLAND, PETER: The Days Run Away CD (TZ 7053). $14.50

"One of America's true maverick composers, a friend of Partch, Nancarrow, Cage, and countless others, Peter Garland is a tireless champion of new music, a passionate writer and one of the true unsung pioneers of minimalism. These evocative early piano pieces create hypnotic moods of impressionistic beauty and are some of his most personal musical statements. Beautifully performed by the brilliant pianist Aki Takahashi, to whom many of his works have been dedicated, this is an incredibly gorgeous CD of rediscovered masterpieces from the early days of minimalism."

LEWIS, GEORGE: Endless Shout CD (TZ 7054). $14.50

"One of the world's leading composer/performers presents a dynamic collection of his most important recent works. Professor, musical scholar, author, composer, virtuoso trombonist, and computer music genius George Lewis has been a major name in new music since the mid '70s, having worked with just about everyone you can imagine, but his recorded output has been all too rare. This first release for Tzadik highlights the wide variety of his compositional approaches, with music for creative music orchestra, soloist with interactive computer systems, narrator with tape, and a suite for solo piano."

MORI, IKUE: One Hundred Aspects of the Moon CD (TZ 7055). $14.50

"Ikue Mori's career in music reaches back to 1978 as drummer/co-founder/co-composer of the seminal punk/no-wave band DNA. In the 80s she became involved in the blossoming downtown scene, improvising with the likes of Bill Frisell, Christian Marclay, John Zorn, Tom Cora, Derek Bailey and countless others. Into the 90s her work with drum machines expanded into the world of electronic music, incorporating digital technology into her compositional palette. One Hundred Aspects of the Moon leads her into the 21st Century with an astounding suite of pieces for a chamber ensemble of voice, strings and percussion, inspired by the work of famous Japanese woodblock artist Yoshitoshi, it's clearly one of Ikue Mori's greatest works. Lush, romantic, violent, weird, ghostly and exhilarating sounds from one of the world's most important musical thinkers." Performed by: Theo Bleckmann, Anthony Coleman, Eyvind Kang, Erik Friedlander, Kato Hideki, Ikue Mori, Makigami Koichi & Mori.

VIERK, LOIS V.: River Beneath The River CD (TZ 7056). $14.50

"Vierk's music explores texture and microtonality in highly structured pieces that build to swirling high energy intensity. Influenced by minimalism, Japanese Gagaku, and Appalachian folk music, Lois Vierk is one of America's great originals. Her first CD for Tzadik is an exciting collection of compositions for string quartet, brass sextet, and a dynamic piece for electric guitar, percussion, cello, and synthesizer. Definitive performances of some of Vierk's greatest works."

IBARRA, SUSIE: Flower After Flower CD (TZ 7057). $14.50

"Born in California, raised in Texas and now based in NYC, Susie Ibarra is one of the most sought-after drummers in the downtown scene. Having worked with Derek Bailey, David S. Ware, Ikue Mori, Dave Douglas, and Matthew Shipp, among others. Of Filipino descent, her music blends Asian traditions, free jazz, improvisation and minimalism into evocative and dynamic soundscapes. This exciting recording features her in a variety of contexts, both solo and with an all-star group of her most illustrious musical compatriots. The sounds of Kulintang (Filipino gamelan), fiery free-jazz drumming, Leo Smith's delicate trumpet, and the 'deep listening' accordion of Pauline Oliveros all come together to make this one of the most unusual recordings of the year."

BROVOLD, BILL: Childish Delusions CD (TZ 7058). $14.50

"The mastermind behind the powerful band Larval, and a veteran of the early Rhys Chatham orchestras, Bill Brovold's complex compositions smash the borders of rock and classical music. Highly structured and meticulously crafted, these quirky sound sculptures jump from mood to mood — from Zappa to Henry Cow, the Zen Vikings to Glenn Branca. Brovold has created a powerful new instrumental rock that tells a story."

KANG, EYVIND: The Story of Iceland CD (TZ 7059). $14.50

"From the twisted world of pop, rock, classical and world music, to acts of revolution and riots in the streets violinist, composer, conceptualist, raconteur and world traveller Eyvind Kang takes us on an exciting new trip to Iceland. An avid fan of underground esoterica and a generous collaborator with the likes of Bill Frisell, Marc Ribot, Arto Lindsay, Ikue Mori and many others, Kang is at his best in the studio, creating incredibly complex sound sculptures filled with meticulous detail, power and vision. His most recent CD, three years in the making features a rare appearance of Indian violinist Kala Ramnath, a bizarre cult anthem ('10:10') and a beautiful piece scored for gamelan."

SMITH, WADADA LEO: Reflectivity CD (TZ 7060). $14.50

"Reflectativity, first released on Leo Smith's own label in the early 1970s is one of the most important extended compositions blending improvisation and composition, and one of Leo Smith's masterpieces. This exciting new version features the brilliant pianist/composer Anthony Davis (who performed on the original recording) and longtime friend and colleague Malachi Favors — the legendary monster bass player from the Art Ensemble of Chicago. Coupled with several new compositions, this CD brings together the past and present of creative music's most continually fascinating composer/performers."

ROTHENBERG, NED: Ghost Stories CD (TZ 7061). $14.50

"A downtown mainstay for twenty years, composer/multi-woodwind performer Ned Rothenberg makes his Tzadik debut with a stunning CD of chamber music. Acclaimed for work in a wide variety of contexts, from the multi-metric funk of his Double Band to the large chamber jazz of Power Lines, Rothenberg here shows both range and focus in works for unprecedented instrumentations that have epic scope. Asian and western instruments combine in scores mixing improvised solo features with through-composed ensembles. Ghost Stories is one of Rothenberg's most accomplished works."

GRAVES, MILFORD: Stories CD (TZ 7062). $14.50

"A drummer of unparalleled power and creativity, Milford Graves is a living legend. This second volume in a continuing series documenting the solo music of one of the world's most incredible musicians was performed on a special percussion setup allowing unprecedented simultaneity. Playing with his hands, feet, elbows and head, Professor Graves takes us to another world with his driving rhythms, intense energy, and impassioned vocals. Absolutely riveting."

DRESSER, MARK: Marinade CD (TZ 7063). $14.50

"Nine new compositions pushing the boundaries of instrumental virtuosity. From the lyricism of 'Air to Mir', commissioned by the Library of Congress, the textures of 'Spin X' for two basses and two percussionists, to the virtuosity of his own solo bass music and more, Marinade displays the full range of Mark Dresser's compositional vision. A nine year veteran of the Anthony Braxton Quartet and a vital member of the downtown scene, collaborating with Tim Berne, Diamanda Galas, and many others, Mark Dresser has been a creative force in new music for over twenty years."

MAHLER, DAVID: Hearing Voices CD (TZ 7064). $14.50

"One of the unsung heroes from the early days of minimalism, David Mahler has been making music since the early 1970s. A master of the tape recorder and the razor blade, his pieces are legendary and (as is often the case with experimental composers), underappreciated. David Mahler has champions in colleagues such as Larry Polansky, Peter Garland and Guy Kluczewsk and thankfully his music is becoming more and more known. It is an honor for Tzadik to release this latest piece of the David Mahler puzzle: four new text-based tape pieces by one of the undisputed masters of the medium."

ZORN, JOHN: Love, Madness And Mysticism CD (TZ 7065). $14.50

"Definitive performances of three dynamic new chamber pieces pushing the boundaries of virtuosity and intensity. Le Momo, for violin and piano is a work of extremes, a ritual about exorcism and possession inspired by the works of visionary 20th Century shaman Antonin Artaud. Untitled, dedicated to Joseph Cornell, the hermetic New York artist whose delirious box constructions mix innocent nostalgia with uncomfortable personal obsessions, is a tour de force for solo cello brilliantly performed by Erik Friedlander. The piano trio Amour Fou explores love — obsessive love, mad love, doomed love in a compendium of moods ranging from Buñuel to Bataille, Scriabin to Messiaen. A mysterious and romantic new direction from John Zorn."

ZORN, JOHN: Songs From The Hermetic Theatre CD (TZ 7066). $14.50

"In March 2001 Zorn entered the recording studio to create four very different compositions. 'American Magus' is Zorn's first piece of purely electronic music, and it is dedicated to the underground innovator Harry Smith, whose legendary paintings, groundbreaking films, eclectic collections (ranging from Ukrainian Easter eggs, string games, found paper airplanes to cassettes of New York City ambiences) and encyclopedic mind has continued to excite, confound and inspire artists worldwide. BeuysBlock, a bizarre meditation on the work of conceptual/performance artist Joseph Beuys, is scored for piano, string orchestra and an incredible array of homemade sound devices, all performed by Zorn himself. Also included is Zorn's tribute to Maya Deren, dancer, filmmaker, authority on Haitian voodoo and one of the most important and influential figures in the New York underground and the mind-bending sonic hieroglyphs of Codebreaker, Zorn's first piece of computer music. An essential collection of dialogues from one generation of the underground to another."

MACEDA, JOSE: Gongs And Bamboos CD (TZ 7067). $14.50

"The first release outside Japan of music by one of the most original and underappreciated composers in contemporary music. Born 1900 in the Philippines, Maceda has been creating remarkable compositions, often for large ensembles of the same instrument for fifty years. This CD brings together three very different pieces from his enormous catalog. The hypnotic 'Suling-Suling' is scored for an ensemble of forty bamboo flutes. 'Colors Without Rhythm' is one of his most dynamic orchestral compositions — performed brilliantly by the Manil Symphony Orchestra under the direction of the composer. 'Pagsamba' is one of the strangest masses ever written for gongs, voices and bamboos, recorded live in an open air temple in the Philippines. An incredibly exciting release of rarely heard music by a rarely heard composer."

MORI, IKUE: Labyrinth CD (TZ 7068). $14.50

"Eleven new ear-splitting, brain-twisting electronic compositions by downtown legend Ikue Mori, one of the most respected composers in the contemporary electronica community. Completely unique and utterly original, Mori has developed a personal language through the combination of modified drum machines and triggered samplers. Labyrinth, her second CD of solo music for Tzadik, is a multi-faceted collection of complex compositions for the Apple powerbook. After twenty years, Ikue Mori continues to create some of the very best cutting-edge electronic music around."

GOSFIELD, ANNIE: Flying Sparks And Heavy Machinery CD (TZ 7069). $14.50

"Annie Gosfield's second amazing CD for Tzadik takes acoustic and electric music into dynamic new realms. Factory sounds?improvisation?lush sonorities?junk percussion?twangy guitars?classic minimalism?delicate harmonics?odd drones?rock?sirens?string quartets?driving rhythms?ambients?noise?complex structures?jack hammers and more from one of downtown's most interesting composers."

LEO SMITH, WADADA: Red Sulphur Sky CD (TZ 7070). $14.50

"The first solo recording in over thirty years by the brilliant composer/performer Wadada Leo Smith. Born in Leland, Mississippi, Leo was a founding member of the AACM in Chicago, and has been performing his music all over the world since the mid-1960s. His compositions for solo trumpet, highly acclaimed yet rarely documented, are some of his most personal and delicate creations. Red Sulphur Sky is the music of one of the true masters of creative music at the height of his powers."

WOLFF, CHRISTIAN: Burdocks CD (TZ 7071). $14.50

"For half a century legendary scholar Christian Wolff has created a very personal musical response to John Cage's challenging experiments and three of his most distinctive compositions receive inspiring performances here by a collection of San Francisco and New York's best and most imaginative performers. Fred Frith, Joan Jeanrenaud, Bob Ostertag, Miya Masaoka and Stephen Drury are just a few of the remarkable players percussion virtuoso William Winant has brought together to pay tribute to the fascinating work of this conceptual visionary, who performs at the piano with an all-star ensemble on his most famous composition Burdocks."

PREVITE, BOBBY: The 23 Constellations of Joan Miró CD (TZ 7072). $14.50

An exciting new musical universe from the mind of composer/performer Bobby Previte. Filled with sweeping gestures and meticulous detail, The 23 Constellations of Joan Miró is Bobby Previte's dream project and one that he's been working on for over six years. Performed here with an all-star ensemble, Constellations is beautifully recorded and presented with a lush 36 page booklet containing color reproductions of all twenty-three of Miró's masterpieces. Previte's most original compositional achievement is also his most delightful."

YOSHIIHIDE, OTOMO: Anode CD (TZ 7073). $14.50

"Four new compositions exploring free jazz, Cagean dialectics and noise improvisation by one of Japan's most versatile composer/performers. Beginning and ending with two of the most intense recordings Otomo has ever done, the centerpieces of this remarkable CD join the Cagean aesthetics of randomness and delicacy with Japanese noise into two Zen koans. As perplexing as it is exhilarating."

MUMMA, GORDON: Live-Electronic Music CD (TZ 7074). $14.50

"The ultimate document by one of the most important electronic music composers in new music. A lifetime in the making, these meticulously crafted masterpieces include the legendary Mesa performed by avant garde virtuoso David Tudor on electric bandoneon and the first release of the complete version of Mumma's classic composition Hornpipe fully remastered and reworked by the composer himself. One of the most important releases of this or any other year — absolutely essential music by one of downtown's Founding Fathers."

SINGLETON, ALVIN: Somehow We Can CD (TZ 7075). $14.50

"For over thirty years Alvin Singleton has been devising compositions blending written music with improvisation in the restrictive world of contemporary concert music. His work skillfully joins the European tradition of Lutoslawski and Ligeti with the African American traditions of James Brown, Mahalia Jackson, John Coltrane, Dolphy and the AACM. His first CD for Tzadik features four compositions of chamber music, including his orchestral masterpiece Again, a duo for trumpet and piano brilliantly performed by long time associates Wadada Leo Smith and Anthony Davis, and the prize-winning string quartet Somehow We Can, one of his most energetic and dynamic compositions."

FRITH, FRED: Freedom In Fragments CD (TZ 7076). $14.50

"Active since 1978, the dynamic Rova Saxophone quartet has collaborated with and commissioned from some of the world's greatest composers. Here they give a dynamic reading of Fred Frith's major composition Freedom In Fragments, which was written expressly for them and comprises a series of short compositions that can be played in whole or in part and in any given sequence. Rova has chosen the most rigorous of these, and the final sequence, created by the composer himself gives a seamless flow to the overall listening experience. Messianic harmonic shifts, catchy folk melodies, complex dance rhythms and looping minimalism from one of new music's original border crossers."

WUORINEN, CHARLES: Epithalamium CD (TZ 7077). $14.50

"Four absolute masterpieces by one of the greatest composers of the 20th Century. Spanning over three decades, Epithalamium presents New York born Wuorinen at his radical best, pushing the limits of instrumental and electronic music. Expressly chosen for this exclusive Tzadik release by longtime Wuorinen fan John Zorn, the pieces here include the electronic composition Time's Encomium, (winner of the Pulitzer Prize in 1970); from the '80s: New York Notes, which brilliantly blends electronic tape with acoustic instruments; and two masterful miniatures from the '90s: Epithalamium for two trumpets and Lepton for harp, celeste and piano. All recordings were done under the supervision of Mr. Wuorinen himself, and have been remastered for exclusive release on Tzadik."

MACÉ, PIERRE-YVES: Faux-Jumeaux CD (TZ 7078). $14.50

"Four startling studio compositions by an extraordinary young French composer. Born in 1980, Pierre Yves-Macé began as an improviser, played in jazz-rock prog bands, studied classically, accompanied dance classes and has composed electronic music for theater, dance and the martial arts. Faux-Jumeaux, his first CD release, brings the aesthetics of French romanticism into a head-on collision with sampling technology, electro-acoustics and minimalism. A lyrical, adventurous mix of styles and sounds, this is an astounding debut recording by a strange and wonderful new musical mind."

SHEA, DAVID: Classical Works II CD (TZ 7079). $14.50

"In the 1990s David Shea was a regular on the downtown scene working with Anthony Coleman, John Zorn, Zeena Parkins, Shelly Hirsch and many others. Since 1998 he has been living and working in Brussels collaborating with some of Belgium's finest classical musicians, and performing his exciting solo concerts. Classical Works II, his third release on Tzadik, is the definitive document of Shea's new musical direction, bold integrating sampling technology into the classical concert music tradition. The compositions here range from interactive duets for soloist and sampler to a major new piece for chamber symphony. New music from a continually fascinating musical manipulator."

BAILEY, DEREK: Pieces for Guitar CD (TZ 7080). $14.50

"Private recordings of incredible historical importance (practically the holy grail to fans of free improvisation), Pieces for Guitar presents the earliest known solo recordings of guitar innovator Derek Bailey. Dating from 1966 (possibly 1965) these pieces were recorded for personal study during a transitional period and include some of the only instances of him performing his own written compositions! Under the influence of the music of Anton Webern, Bailey began working through a variety of techniques as he formalized his unique approach to music in general and the guitar in particular. These fascinating recordings offer us a rare glimpse into the secret world of one of the most original and respected guitarists in the world."

QIN, ERIC: Photographs CD (TZ 7081). $14.50

"This long awaited release completes a trilogy of CDs documenting the young composer collective Rough Assemblage. Active in the early 1990s out of Mannes College of Music, this trio of like-minded musicians also included Norman Yamada (Being in Time) and Mark Degliantoni (Horse Tricks). The tragic death of Eric Qin in 1993 ended the project, but in the following years efforts were made to collect and record Qin's extant remaining compositions. Photographs: 1988?1993 is the exciting result. Meticulously researched and detailed, these pieces show an astonishing variety and maturity. We can only guess where Eric's music may have gone, but these touching recordings, filled with passion and tenderness are a fitting tribute to this very young and very creative musical mind. Produced and organized by Norman Yamada."

DENYER, FRANK: Fired City CD (TZ 7082). $14.50

"Composer, theoretician, inventor and instrument builder Frank Denyer is a legendary figure in the Harry Partch/Scelsi tradition. His music is utterly unique and intensely personal, often requiring specialized new instruments of his own design and radical playing techniques. Fired City presents six of his most dynamic compositions in definitive performances supervised by the composer himself. Having worked closely with Denyer for many years, The Barton Workshop is unsurpassed in this repertoire and performs it with passion and a meticulous attention to detail. These very special recordings, the group's best, show various sides of this enigmatic composer, making Fired City the best place to enter Denyer's mysterious and imaginative musical world."

SMITH, WADADA LEO: Luminous Axis (The Caravans Of Winter And Summer) CD (TZ 7083). $14.50

"A relentless musical innovator since his early days in the Chicago AACM, Wadada Leo Smith is one of the most consistently creative composer/performers in new music. In his sixth Tzadik release he once again explores new territory, bringing six absolute masters of live electronics together to perform some of Wadada's most adventurous and colorful compositions. Including a large, sprawling work for four laptops and trumpet, and two dynamic duets with legendary laptop pioneer Ikue Mori, Luminous Axis is one of Wadada's most exciting and dynamic recordings."

SHARP, ELLIOTT: String Quartets 1986-1996 CD (TZ 7084). $14.50

"Elliott Sharp is one of the downtown's most consistently original composers and a wildly versatile string player, whether it be on bass, electric guitar, or one of his whacky home-made hybrids. His music is rhythmic and intense, often drawing upon mathematical models such as the Fibonacci series, fractals or chaos theory for inspiration. With the release of String Quartets 1986-1996 all of Sharp's work for this classic format is now available exclusively on Tzadik. Performed by his longtime associates The Soldier String Quartet and the virtuosic Meridian Quartet many consider this to be his best and most challenging music to date."

ZORN, JOHN: Chimeras CD (TZ 7085). $14.50

"Composed throughout 2001 and previewed at the prestigious venue BargeMusic, Chimeras is a major new chamber work by John Zorn. Loosely inspired by Schoenberg's masterwork Pierrot Lunaire, and scored for the same small ensemble (plus percussion), each of the twelve movements combine different permutations of the players, climaxing with a breath-taking tutti of all eight musicians. Dramatic and colorful, with a soprano vocal part that takes virtuosity to another level, Chimeras is a work of beauty, truth and imagination. Premiere recording by a handpicked ensemble of the best musicians in contemporary music."

MESINAI, RAZ: Resurrections For Goatskin CD (TZ 7086). $14.50

"Raz Mesinai is one of the most exciting of the younger generation of electronica musicians. His newest project is an electro-acoustic journey, an entire album devoted to the exploration of goatskins. Subtle rhythmic modulations, a mysterious narrative of harmonics, knocks, bumps and howls in the night. A masterpiece of both minimalism and maximalism."

YARNELL, CAROLYN: Sonic Vision CD (TZ 7087). $14.50

"Inspired by the beauty and power of nature, the music of Carolyn Yarnell straddles the borders of minimalism, romanticism and Baroque. A maverick in the American tradition of Partch, Ruggles and Riley, her compositions have been performed worldwide by orchestras, chamber groups and soloists such as Kathleen Supové, who is a fervent champion of her work. Sonic Vision, the first CD devoted entirely to her music, contains the powerful electronic composition 'Love God', a beautiful solo piece for Baroque flute, a minimalist suite for chamber ensemble and a powerful extended work for computer piano. Lyrical and mystical music that evokes volcanoes, birds and the Rocky Mountains."

BABBITT, MILTON: Occasional Variations CD (TZ 7088). $14.50

"Tzadik is proud to present three world premiere recordings and a critically acclaimed classic by one of the world's greatest living composers. For almost six decades Milton Babbitt has been pushing the boundaries of contemporary composition creating a unique world of sound, form and color. Here, as one would expect, Babbitt is at his most radical. Two striking string quartets, including the first recording of his challenging sixth quartet performed by a special group organized by new music legend Fred Sherry, are balanced with rare electronic masterpiece 'Occasional Variations' and a virtuosic guitar composition evoking legendary jazzman Eddie Lang. An exciting program of compositional fireworks by one of today's most acclaimed, yet misunderstood composers."

RIBOT, MARC: Scelsi Morning CD (TZ 7089). $14.50

"Marc Ribot's boldly beautiful world of atavistic horror reaches its apex in Scelsi Morning, a startling and eclectic collection of Marc's most powerful compositions for chamber ensemble. Touching upon Ayler, Morton Feldman, minimalism and of course the ritualistic music of Italian composer Giancarlo Scelsi, to whom the work is dedicated, Scelsi Morning features plenty of Marc's searing guitar work, lush orchestrations for clarinets and strings, and primitive noise percussion."

HEMPHILL, JULIUS: One Atmosphere CD (TZ 7090). $14.50

"An original member of the legendary Black Artists Group (St. Louis' counterpart to the AACM), and founder of the World Sax Quartet, Julius Hemphill was one of the most important composer/performers in creative music. His work is marked by a sharp, edgy melodicism steeped in the blues, contrapuntal complexity and a striking formal logic. One Atmosphere presents the full range of his compositional talents: a long, epic work for seven woodwinds (one of his greatest compositions, here receiving its premiere recording); a beautiful quintet for piano and strings; and a bluesy tune originally written for his famous trio with Abdul Wadud, here featuring the versatile cellist Erik Friedlander and two of his closest collaborators, Marty Ehrlich and Pheeroan AkLaff."

CHEN, CHIEN-YIN: Purr CD (TZ 7091). $14.50

"A native of Taiwan, Chien-Yin Chen is a marvelous young composer who spent ten years in Germany studying with Gyorgi Ligeti, and is now living in New York. Her work is remarkably inventive, honest and meticulously crafted. Purr, her debut CD, features five different pieces showing her love of Chinese traditional music, improvisation, and the Western classical tradition, which she effortlessly reinvents, creating an impressive original sound world. Includes two large ensemble pieces, one featuring pipa virtuoso Min Xiao-Fen, a bizarre duo for organ and bass, a trio for three guitars and more."

KAYO DOT: Choirs of the Eye CD (TZ 7092). $14.50

"Dark metal music on an orchestral scale, with powerful riffs, haunted vocals, violin, French horn and much more. Formerly known as Maudlin of the Well, with a dedicated gothic following, their newest recording, over a year in the making, takes them into an adventurous new world where heavy rock and classical music meet ritual. Magical and compelling music from a young band breaking new ground in the rock world."

HUNT, JERRY: Phalba CD (TZ 7093). $14.50

"Composer and modern day shaman Jerry Hunt combined live electronics with esoteric spirituality in creating his own very unique ritualistic performances. This CD presents four rare compositions written expressly for James Fulkerson and the Barton Workshop, who had a long and intimate relationship with this elusive composer until his untimely death in 1993. Includes an extended piece for trombone and electronics, two colorful compositions for ensemble and a charming minimalist piece for violin and piano. Hunt's hypnotic sound world transfers brilliantly to this virtuosic ensemble, and they perform his challenging scores with passion and intensity. A wild new view from one of new music's legendary mavericks."

APPLEBAUM, MARK: Catfish CD (TZ 7094). $14.50

"A former student of Brian Ferneyhough, Mark Applebaum straddles the two worlds of modern classical complexity and improvisational insanity. As one would expect, this first CD devoted to his work is an eclectic compendium of homemade electro-percussion, orchestral fireworks, virtuoso solo pieces and cartoon cut-ups. Intense, but always with a sick Californian sense of humor, Catfish is a vexing and delightful listening experience."

PATERAS, ANTHONY: Mutant Theatre CD (TZ 7095). $14.50

"Dynamic and colorful music for percussion, prepared piano and electronics from a marvelous young Australian composer. Anthony Pateras has studied composition academically, toured extensively throughout Europe, North America and Asia and has collaborated with numerous improvisers and electronica musicians the world over. Mutant Theatre is a twisted cornucopia of driving rhythms and wild sonic explorations. Creative insanity from down under."

MARTINEZ, ERNESTO: Mutaciones CD (TZ 7096). $14.50

"A native of Mexico, where as a young man he encountered and became friends with American maverick Conlon Nancarrow, Enrico Martinez has been sculpting remarkably original polyrhythmic compositions for well over a decade. Inspired equally by Balinese Gamelan techniques, the player piano masterworks of Nancarrow, and Mexican folk traditions, Enrico Martinez and his group Microritmica blends complex and virtuosic hocketing techniques, meticulously performed on a combination of piano, marimba and altered guitars, with a striking sense of drama. Tzadik is proud to present the first recordings outside Mexico of this iconoclastic composer."

CURRAN, ALVIN: Lost Marbles CD (TZ 7097). $14.50

"A pioneer of live electronic music and one of America's most adventurous composers, Alvin Curran has been walking his own eclectic path since the late 1960s. The range and scope of his work is enormous, and unprecedented. Few composers have as many interests, or as much wit. This special compilation takes us on a whirlwind tour of fifteen of his most productive years (1987-2002), capturing both live and studio performances from around the world. Featuring a seductive work for chorus and ensemble, an incredible piece for eleven of the world's largest and loudest musical instruments (ships), an electroacoustic tribute to John Cage using the sound of his laughter and the purring of Merce Cunningham's cat and much, much more. This long overdue release will surely confirm Alvin Curran as one of America's most courageous and outrageous musical mavericks."

IBARRA, SUSIE: Lakbay CD (TZ 7098). $14.50

"Two exciting new pieces from composer/percussionist Susie Ibarra, whose dynamic drumming has driven the bands of William Parker, David S. Ware, Pauline Oliveros, Derek Bailey and Mephista. Written for her trio, featuring pianist Craig Taborn and violinist Jennifer Choi, the title track 'Lakbay' is a musical portrait of a day in the life of a Filipino field worker — a kaleidoscopic suite that effortlessly moves from folk to classical, jazz and back again. Also included is a brilliant composition for percussion featuring Susie with her husband, percussionist Roberto Rodriguez."

LIGETI, LUKAS: Mystery System CD (TZ 7099). $14.50

"A fabulous string quartet, a dynamic piece for percussion ensemble, a bizarre miniature for string quartet with drum machine and a classic composition for two marimbas from this interesting young composer of Hungarian descent, who was raised in Vienna, has lived off and on in Africa, and now makes his home here in New York. Featuring repetitive patterns, complex cross rhythms and a sly sense of humor Mystery System is another brilliant CD of adventurous music from the Ligeti family."

KRAKAUER, DAVID: Klezmer Madness! CD (TZ 7101). $14.50

First release in Tzadik's Radical Jewish Culture series. David Krakauer (clarinet, bs clarinet), Michael Alpert (vocals, accordion, violin, guitar), David Licht (perc.). "With a profound knowledge of Yiddish music heritage, the virtuosic Krakauer Trio combines the traditions of klezmer with innovative composition, arrangement and improvisation to create a style with reverence, imagination and a sense of humor. Klezmer Madness features both traditional and original music, including tunes from the repertoire of klezmer clarinet greats Naftule Brandwine and Dave Tarras, and even John Zorn's Masada. Krakauer combines the diverse influences of Jewish and Balkan clarinet styles, minimalism, jazz and shredded Muzak to create a style uniquely his own."

COLEMAN TRIO, ANTHONY: Sephardic Tinge CD (TZ 7102). $14.50

A trio featuring Coleman (piano), Greg Cohen (bs) & Joey Baron (drums). "From traditional Sephardic melodies to Latin-influenced originals by way of T. Monk and Jelly Roll Morton, to an Irving Fields arrangement from the classic 50s Borscht Belt mambo/cha-cha album Bagels & Bongos, Anthony Coleman takes an innovative approach to the classic jazz piano trio."

NEW KLEZMER TRIO: Melt Zonk Rewire CD (TZ 7103). $14.50

"2nd album by the CA-based New Klezmer Trio presents avant-garde reinterpretations of traditional tunes and new compositions expanding the Klezmer tradition." Ben Goldberg (cl), Dan Seamans (b), Kenny Wollesen (d).

HIRSCH, SHELLEY: O Little Town Of East New York CD (TZ 7104). $14.50

Latest album by the amazing NY vocalist. "...a marvelous performer with remarkable vocals talents, charm and a wicked sense of humor. Her most ambitious work to date is a semi-autobiographical musical suite about growing up in Brooklyn in the 50s and 60s. It's a hilarious, nostalgic, touching and stunningly original album merging avant and pop sensibilities."

TEITELBAUM, RICHARD: Golem CD (TZ 7105). $14.50

"A co-founder of Musica Elettronica Viva Richard Teitelbaum has been acknowledged as a musical pioneer for over three decades. Golem, a multimedia 'interactive opera,' features vocalists Shelley Hirsch and David Moss, violinist Carlos Zingaro, and trombonist George Lewis."

MYSTIC FUGO ORCHESTRA: Zohar CD (TZ 7106). $14.50

Zorn & Eye duo project. 30 minutes of historical Judaica music, at an EP price. Ambient dizziness and confusion, with a heavy emphasis on the sound of vinyl crackle.

FRIEDLANDER, ERIK: The Watchman CD (TZ 7107). $14.50

Featuring the quartet Chimera: Friedlander (cello), Chris Speed (clarinet), Andrew D'Angelo (bass clarinet) & Drew Gress (bass) & a follow up to his brilliant CD on Avant. "Active for over a decade, NY cellist Erik Friedlander is finally receiving his due recognition, not just as a musician, but as a composer of note. These works display his unique take on Radical Jewish Culture — sweeping melodic lines (reminiscent of cantorial singing) in instrumental arrangements that are both adventurous and traditional.”

ZORN, JOHN: Bar Kokhba 2CD (TZ 7108). $22.00

AKA the Masada Chamber Ensembles, featuring various groupings of: Mark Feldman (violin), Erik Friedlander (cello), Greg Cohen (bass), Marc Ribot (guitar), Anthony Coleman (piano), David Krakauer (clarinet), John Medeski (organ, piano), Mark Dresser (bass), Kenny Wolleson (drums), Chris Speed (clarinet) & Dave Douglas (trumpet). “Masada has quickly become one of John Zorn’s most popular and adventurous musical projects. These special arrangements for small ensembles of strings, keyboards and clarinets, shed new light on his book of inspiring compositions expanding the Jewish tradition. Bar Kokhba presents over two hours of dark, passionate and evocative Jewish music, featuring some of NYC’s finest musicians.”

PARKINS, ZEENA: Mouth=Maul=Betrayer CD (TZ 7109). $14.50

Latest album of composed material features her Gangster Band: Z. Parkins (electric harp, sampler, harp), Sara Parkins (violin), Maggie Parkins (cello, voice), Jim Pugliese (drums, vibes), Mark Stewart (cello, guitar, mandolin). Dense, elaborately constructed sound works that mix sampled electronics and electroacoustic complexity with her well-documented improvisational flair; if you were excited by Zeena’s Isabelle CD on Avant, this one will file alongside it perfectly. “One of the most intriguing and inspiring of Zeena Parkins’ long-form compositions, ‘Maul’ examines the lives and deaths of Jewish gangsters throughout the ages. Utilizing texts in the lost language of Rotwelsch, she weaves a complex tapestry of voices, sounds, instrumental counterpoint, evoking a side of the Jewish experience perhaps best forgotten.”

COLEMAN, ANTHONY: Selfhaters CD (TZ 7110). $14.50

Coleman (organ, piano, sampler, voice, tbn, accordion), James Pugliese (perc., tp), Doug Wieselman (cl), Michael Attias (cl, as, bs), Fred Lonberg-Holm (cello, banjo), David Krakauer (bcl), Roy Nathanson (cl, ss). “...a masterpiece two years in the making, charting the darker realms of the Jewish experience. Essential listening for anyone who has ever suffered the pains of alienation and rejections — or wants to!” Gorgeous jazz-drone from Coleman’s group the Selfhaters (sometimes in the more extended Selfhaters Orchestra mode). Composers such as Feldman, Ellington, Scelsi, Kagel and the Art Ensemble are all thanked in the notes and you can hear their various influences in the way these guys build slowly languishing reed lines and wrap them around your head.

KLETKA RED: Hijacking CD (TZ 7111). $14.50

The trio of Leonid Soybelman (guitar, vocals), Andy Ex (guitar, viola) & Tony Buck (drums, samples). “Berlin resident Leonid Soybelman’s frantic originals and punk covers of klezmer classics (sung in Yiddish) jerks Jewish music into the 21st Century with a refreshing approach that hits you like a metal matzoh ball. Featuring the remarkable guitarist Andy Ex (of the Dutch band The Ex) and drummer Tony Buck (formerly of Japan’s Ground Zero). An essential purchase for fans of The Ex, or anyone interested in adventurous new rock or the cutting edge of Jewish culture.”

NEW KLEZMER TRIO: Masks And Faces CD (TZ 7112). $14.50

Latest in Tzadik’s Radical Jewish Culture series, by the trio of Ben Goldberg (clarinet), Dan Seamans (bass) & Kenny Wolleson (drums). “Following the astounding Melt Zonk Rewire, Tzadik is reissuing the out-of-print first album by SF’s New Klezmer Trio. Masks And Faces is a modern Jewish classic, presenting avant garde reinterpretations of traditional tunes and new compositions expanding the klezmer tradition. This landmark album, originally released in 1990 on the Nine Winds label, was a precursor to John Zorn’s Masada, and pointed the direction for future possibilities in Jewish music.”

NATHANSON/ANTHONY COLEMAN, ROY: I Could’ve Been A Drum CD (TZ 7113). $14.50

Nathanson (ss, as, ts, recorder), Coleman (piano, organ, sampler), with Ribot (guitar) and Brad Jones (b). “A delightful album of traditional Sephardic tunes, beautiful ballads and crazy original numbers showing off the remarkable chemistry between two highly-engaging jazz personalities.”

VA: Great Jewish Music: Burt Bacharach 2CD (TZ 7114). $22.00

“Tzadik artists and special guests paying tribute to one of the great geniuses of American music. Modern jazz greats (Horvitz, Frisell, Baron, Douglas, Medeski, Martin & Wood), rock luminaries (Quine, Patton, Ribot, Kramer, Honda, Holcomb) and experimental stars (Frith, Parkins, Sharp, Hirsch) shed new light on a highly original and inspiring composer/arranger who brought the lessons he learned from bebop and Darius Milhaud to the world of pop music. Essential listening for anyone interested in anything.” Zorn: “A trailblazer. A questioner. An unbridled genius. More than a great tunesmith, he a conductor, a pianist and singer, a bold arranger with an original vision and sharp ear for detail, a brilliant producer and sensitive collaborator. Bacharach’s songs explode the expectations of what a popular song is supposed to be. Advanced harmonies and chord changes with unexpected turn-arounds and modulations, unusual changing time signatures and rhythmic twists, often in uneven number of bars. But he makes it all sound so natural you can’t get it out of your head or stop whistling it. Maddeningly complex, sometimes deceptively simple, these are more than just great pop songs: these are deep explorations of the materials of music and should be studied and treasured with as much care and diligence we accord any great works of art.”

SCHOTT, JOHN: In These Great Times CD (TZ 7115). $14.50

“A virtuoso guitarist best known as a member of Junk Genius and the SF jazz/funk supergroup T.J. Kirk, Schott is joined by tenor John Horton Murray (The Metropolitan Opera), bassist Trevor Dunn (Mr. Bungle) and drummer Kenny Wolleson on his debut as leader. Recalling the exotic precision of Schoenberg’s chamber masterpiece Pierrot Lunaire, this ambitious song cycle creatively mixes contemporary classical compositional techniques with improvisation, using Hebrew, Yiddish and German texts by Franz Kafka and Jacob Glatshstein.”

VA: Great Jewish Music: Serge Gainsbourg CD (TZ 7116). $14.50

“Following on the enormous success of Tzadik’s Burt Bacharach collection, this 3rd installment of Tzadik’s Great Jewish Music series focuses on the songs of French composer Serge Gainsbourg. A superstar since the 1950’s in his native France, Gainsbourg is barely known here in the US — a condition this special tribute to his genius hopes in some way to remedy. In addition to Tzadik regulars, Tzadik is proud to be able to present tracks by Cibo Mato, Elysian Fields, Kramer, Franz Treichler (of the Young Gods), Blonde Redhead and many, many others. 21 tracks by 21 artists — over 74 minutes of music, all on one dynamic disc.”

SOMECK/ELLIOTT SHARP, RONNY: Revenge Of The Stuttering Child CD (TZ 7117). $14.50

“An exciting meeting of two eclectic Jewish masters. Ronny Someck, a poet born in Iraq, now living in Israel and composer Elliott Sharp born in Cleveland, now living in NYC. Revenge... is a collaboration of sounds — sounds as word and sounds as music, a tangled-up feedback loop that continuously builds and mutates. Much more than poetry set to music, each piece draws a bead, aims and fires in a different direction, hitting the familiar, the strange, the wry, the warm, the dark, the furious. As Ronny Someck’s words are fleshed by his own throat, Sharp’s music is manifest in his own varied instrumental voices augmented by the talents of pianist Anthony Coleman, the cello and accordion of the Parkins sisters and percussionist Salifoski. In the prolific, unpredictable world of Elliott Sharp, this project stands apart.”

NAFTULE’S DREAM: Search For The Golden Dreydl CD (TZ 7118). $14.50

“From adventurous originals to surprising reinterpretations of traditional Jewish classics, Boston-based Naftule’s Dream has created an instrumental music of passion and intensity. Fiery improvisation weaves in and out of complex arrangements in a style reminiscent of Mingus at his best. Very much in keeping with their namesake Naftule Brandwein, this century’s greatest and most controversial Klezmer clarinetist, this is music that keeps you at the edge of your seat.”

KRAMER: Let Me Explain Something To You About Art CD (TZ 7119). $14.50

“A 3-part meditation upon aging — an imaginary soundtrack for the dying process, wherein the American Jewry of Herbert Meyer and Margaret Zwoller turns back upon itself before emerging into a common biology. Drawing both upon found and designed sources, while deftly juxtaposing his knowledge of film composition, poetry and world music, Kramer has created a listening experience that breaks down the walls of indifference.”

GOLDBERG/SCHOTT/SARIN: What Comes Before CD (TZ 7120). $14.50

“Featuring two of the most creative and original composer-performers on the West Coast: Ben Goldberg (New Klezmer Trio) and John Schott (T.J. Kirk) and the versatile Brooklyn based drummer Mike Sarin (Dave Douglas, Myra Melford) these are improvisations where every note counts. Spare and stark, these introspective pieces touch upon Jewish life and philosophy in a manner both subtle and cruel.”

LUCAS, GARY: Busy Being Born CD (TZ 7121). $14.50

“Guitarist extraordinary, Grammy nominated songwriter, TV and film soundtrack composer Gary Lucas has played with Captain Beefheart, Leonard Bernstein, Jeff Buckley, Joan Osborne and many others besides releasing four acclaimed solo albums in his own right. Here he offers his latest — an album for kids of all ages based on Jewish themes. Combining madcap original classics with soulful renditions of traditional classics and left field hits like a medley of Popeye and Betty Boop themes played on National steel guitar, Busy Being Born is brimming with whimsical ideas and treasures old and new.”

ZORN’S MASADA STRING TRIO/BAR KOKHBA SEXTET, JOHN: The Circle Maker 2CD (TZ 7122). $22.00

“Zorn has again exquisitely arranged his popular and adventurous Masada project for string trio and chamber ensemble. The first disc of this outstanding 2CD set, ‘Issachar,’ features the Masada String Trio: Mark Feldman (violin), Erik Friedlander (cello) and Greg Cohen (bass). The passionate and evocative performances of these three virtuosos musicians sheds new light on Zorn’s book of inspiring compositions expanding the Jewish tradition. Disc 2, ‘Zevulun,’ features the Bar Kokhba Sextet: Cohen, Feldman and Friedlander, joined by the gifted Brazilian percussionist Cyro Baptista, guitar wizard Marc Ribot and jazz great Joey Baron on drums.”

SELFHATERS: The Abysmal Richness of the Infinite Proximity of the Same CD (TZ 7123). $14.50

“Jazz, classical, Klezmer and improvisational traditions blend and crash in Selfhaters, Anthony Coleman’s most personal project. A disturbing and all-too-close peek into the very Jewish world of alienation and self-revulsion. Two long masterful compositions separated by a strange solo piece for voice and piano — one of Anthony’s greatest creations. A CD that will vex you till the crack of doom.” W/ Fred Lonberg-Holm, Jim Pugliese, Doug Wieselman & Michael Attias.

LACY, STEVE: Sands CD (TZ 7124). $14.50

“Recorded at his home in Paris from February to April 1998, Sands is Steve Lacy’s most personal and remarkable solo document, and explores a wide variety of musical and dramatic subjects. Portraits of close friends Barney Wilen and William Burroughs; collaborations with the texts of Allen Ginsberg and Samuel Beckett; and of course his own peculiar take on identity and Jewish heritage, which he characterizes in his most recent composition ‘Jewgitive’. The music of Lacy, like Judaism itself, is a praxis, a question, a floating anxiety, and Sands is one of Lacy’s most poignant and intense recordings.”

NAFTULE’S DREAM: Smash, Clap! CD (TZ 7125). $14.50

“Boston-based Naftule’s Dream continues to be one of the most exciting bands exploring new Jewish music. This second collection of their newest compositions throws rock and free improvisation into the mix. Produced by Bill Laswell...another important step for this versatile, virtuosic ensemble.”

BOLAN, MARC: Great Jewish Music CD (TZ 7126). $14.50

Tribute album featuring Medeski, Martin & Wood, Lloyd Cole, Arto Lindsay, the Melvins, Gary Lucas, Vernon Reid, Marc Ribot & Buckhead, Cake Like, Elysian Fields, Tall Dwarfs, Sean Lennon/Yuka Honda, Lo Galluccio, Trey Spruance, Mike Patton, Rebecca Moore, Danny Cohen, Oren Bloedow, Chris Cochrane & Kramer.

KRAKAUER, DAVID: Klezmer, NY CD (TZ 7127). $14.50

“This second CD for Tzadik pays tribute to one of the greatest clarinet soloists in jazz: pioneer Sidney Bechet. In this extended, multi-faceted suite, the Krakauer trio explores the hidden connections between Bechet and Klezmer giant Naftule Brandwein — inspired in part by Bechet’s legendary and incredibly rare performance of ‘My Yiddish Momma.’

SEPHARDIC TINGE: Morenica CD (TZ 7128). $14.50

“Anthony Coleman has one of the most intelligent and original musical minds on the downtown scene, capable of confounding you, delighting you, making you howl with laughter or scream with pain. With his popular Sephardic Tinge project he has chosen to delight you, showcasing a unique approach to the classic piano trio. This second collection of original compositions and quirky cover tunes adds a newly-developed virtuosic edge to this already sick and twisted technique, making Morenica his ultimate statement on piano jazz, Sephardic tradition, Latin rhythms and dysfunctional harmony.”

LONDON/SKLAMBERG/CAINE: Nigunim CD (TZ 7129). $14.50

“An intimate trio recording by two members of the Klezmatics and one of jazz’s greatest young virtuosos. Blending the Yiddish inflections of Lorin Sklamberg’s beautiful voice with the adventurous arranging skills of trumpeter Frank London and the sophistication of Uri Caine’s harmonic piano phasing, Nigunim is a new take on Jewish classics that is sure to delight both young and old. Creative and heartfelt arrangements of traditional Jewish songs by three of the greatest musicians on the scene today.”

SPEARMAN, GLENN: Blues For Falasha CD (TZ 7130). $14.50

“The question of identity has historically played a large role in the survival of the Jewish people and had special significance to free jazz tenor titan Glenn Spearman, as the son of an African-American father and a Jewish mother. Before his death of cancer in Oct. 1998, Spearman became involved in a deep exploration of his Jewish roots, a journey that expressed itself musically in Blues For Falasha, his last and most adventurous recorded composition. This powerful meeting of Jewish and African-American traditions features Spearman's landmark group "The Double Trio" in a long, visionary work composed especially for the Tzadik Jewish series." With Larry Ochs, Chris Brown, Lisle Ellis, Donald Robinson & William Winant.

AMBARCHI/AVENAIM: The Alter Rebbe's Nigun CD (TZ 7131). $14.50

"One of the most extreme, passionate and fascinating recordings we've yet released — a brilliant new addition to the Radical Jewish Culture series. Formerly orthodox Hasidic students of Talmud and Tanya, these two members of the Australian punk unit Phlegm have brought together influences from Boredoms and the Japanese noise scene, traditional Jewish Nigunim and Yiddish theatre, Marc Ribot, Ornette Coleman and countless others to create a new world of twisted dreams and startling sonorities. A must for all lovers of weirdness."

PSAMIM: Abi Gezint! CD (TZ 7132). $14.50

"Breath-takingly beautiful Jewish music performed by an intimate ensemble of strings and accordion. Based in Belgium, Psamim has been presenting its original blend of Klezmer classics and tuneful original compositions as a backdrop for renowned singer Zahava Seewald since the early 1990's. Stepping out on their own in these special instrumental arrangements composed especially for Tzadik, they weave a gorgeous, seductive tapestry of new Jewish song. Three nostalgic vocal selections round out this charming collection of Jewish melody."

AHAVA, RABA: Kete Kuf CD (TZ 7133). $14.50

"Klezmer, East European folk music, contemporary classical and Tuvan throat singing all came together in this astonishing music of Ahva Raba, one of the most original and distinctive Jewish groups based in contemporary Germany. With a repertoire ranging from exciting dance tunes, experimental chamber compositions and vocal pieces sung in a nonsense language of their own invention, Kete Kuf, their remarkable debut CD will surprise and delight you as creative music that is both challenging, beautiful and fun."

RIBOT SHREK, MARC: Yo! I Killed Your God CD (TZ 7134). $14.50

"From Jewish punk revolutionary to neo-primitive composer to dance club burnout in 18 short months, Shrek was Marc Ribot's most controversial and eclectic band. Raw and powerful, Shrek Live captured Marc's wilder side, with an edge that cut through steel. Featuring plenty of his searing guitar guitar work, cynical, impassioned vocals and several exciting cover tunes, including the Cuban classic 'Jamon co Yucca,' the seed that led to his popular group Los Cubanitos Postigos, this CD brings the visceral edge of one of the world's most exciting and original guitarists to your own living room!"

DAVKA: Judity CD (TZ 7135). $14.50

"Davka is an acoustic group at the forefront of the new Jewish Renaissance. Based in SF these three masterful musicians have been performing modern Jewish music since 1992. Their third release (the first two, now out of print, are soon to be released on Tzadik) features their flowing melodic compositions and magical interplay in ten distinctive compositions drawing upon Sephardic and Ashkenazi traditions, jazz and classical chamber music. Beautiful, soulful music performed with astonishing technique and passion."

EHRLICH, MARTY: Sojourn CD (TZ 7136). $14.50

"One of the most respected and versatile reed players in New Music, Marty has been an integral member in the units of Julius Hemphill, Oliver Lake, Anthony Braxton and Bobby Bradford, among others. Exploring the roots of his Jewish heritage, Marty takes us on a new path with his intimate Dark Woods ensemble, touching upon Coltrane and Klezmer on his journey. Sojourn is a very special release by one of today's most accomplished composers/performers. A musician's musician, his compositions are contrapuntally more complex and have a delightful folklike simplicity."

BERNSTEIN, STEVEN: Diaspora Soul CD (TZ 7137). $14.50

"An endlessly inventive musical magician delving deep into his Jewish roots and coming up with sounds you've never imagined possible. Steve Bernstein has worked as musical director for the likes of Hal Wilner, John Lurie's Lounge Lizards and his own madcap bar band Sex Mob, but this newest project is his best yet. Jewish cantunel melodies waiving over Afro-Cuban percussion. A funky, New Orleans rhythm section setting up Klezmer classics. Diaspora Soul is this and more."

SPARKS, TIM: Heshamah CD (TZ 7138). $14.50

"This is totally beautiful and inspiring music, warm and soulful, rich with melody, harmony and rhythm. Every guitarist on the planet has got to hear this. Tim Sparks is incredible, a complete original." — Bill Frisell. "Traditional Jewish melodies from around the world, Yemen to the Caucasus, Krakow to Tin Pan Alley, artfully arranged for solo guitar and performed by the legendary Tim Sparks, a longtime veteran of Klezmer and Balkan bands."

ZAMIR, DANNY: Satlah CD (TZ 7139). $14.50

"Danny Zamir is an astounding young alto saxophonist/composer from Israel who plays with a passion, command and mastery unheard of in a musician of only nineteen. Moving to NYC in 1998, Danny hooked up with two kindred spirits to create their telepathic trio, Satlah, which brings together elements of Masada, Steve Coleman, Ornette and David Sanborn into music very much their own. Featuring John Zorn on three tracks, this is an incredible debut recording of new Jewish music by three musicians you will certainly be hearing a lot more from in the future."

DAVKA: Lavy's Dream CD (TZ 7140). $14.50

"Romantic violin melodies, moody cello vamps and crisp percussion: a classic of new Jewish music is finally back in print from Tzadik. A brilliant mix of world music, jazz and klezmer, Davka is one of the most beautiful and virtuosic bands in the New Klezmer Renaissance. Lavy's Dream, originally recorded in 1996, is released here in a newly remastered edition with five exciting bonus tracks."

NEW KLEZMER TRIO: Short For Something CD (TZ 7141). $14.50

"This long-awaited third CD by the legendary New Klezmer Trio is pure pleasure. Their first two CDs, released in 1990 and 1995 respectively have long been Tzadik favorites, combining elements of jazz and improvisation with the Jewish tradition in ways both thoughtful and surprising. This is a masterful new recording by one of the classic bands in the New Jewish Renaissance. Naftule Brandwein via Jimmy Giuffrè."

SAFT, JAMIE: Sovlanut CD (TZ 7142). $14.50

"Guitars and beats, both electric and acoustic, mixed in dub inform this dynamic new twist on Radical Jewish Culture. Bringing together ancient traditions with modern technology, Jamie Saft's debut recording deals with the interaction of Black, Arab and Jewish cultures in his hometown of Brooklyn, NY. Featuring his longtime collaborators Jim Black and Chris Speed as well as the Groove Collective's bassist extraordinaire, Jonathan Maron, Sovlanut (Tolerance) is a remarkable and original new take on contemporary club music — Jewish style."

CRACOW KLEZMER BAND, THE: De Profundis CD (TZ 7143). $14.50

"Tarafe de Haïdouks meets Astor Piazzola in this beautiful recording exploring the secret connection between the gypsies and the Jews. The Cracow Klezmer Band is an astounding quintet of young Polish virtuosos whose dynamic original compositions and creative arrangements distinguish them as one of the most exciting bands in today's Jewish renaissance. With Jaroslaw Tyrala, Jaroslaw Bester, Oleg Dyjak, Wojciech Front."

SPARKS, TIM: Tanz CD (TZ 7144). $14.50

"Following the success of his first CD for Tzadik, Neshamah, the amazing Tim Sparks is joined here by extraordinary bassist Greg Cohen (Masada, The Chams of the Night Sky) and Brazilian percussionist Cryo Baptista (Herbie Hancock, Laurie Anderson) for a beautiful excursion into the farflung and varied music of the Jewish diaspora. Featuring traditional tunes from India to Persia, Tin Pan Alley to Prague, Tanz is one of the most charming and engaging CDs of Jewish music you are ever likely to hear."

LUCAS, GARY: Street of Lost Brothers CD (TZ 7145). $14.50

"Another brilliant collection of scintillating originals and Jewish classics from the unique and twisted mind of guitar madman Gary Lucas. Gary's first release for Tzadik was a delightful and uproarious collection for children. With Street of Lost Brothers, Gary has turned to the dark side. Dances, dirges, and doinas for Gary's versatile touring band, with special guest appearances by insane vocalists Kenny and Larry, sax squealer John Zorn, and Walter Horn."

BLOEDOW/JENNIFER CHARLES, OREN: La Mar Enfortuna CD (TZ 7146). $14.50

"Sensuous and lyrical, La Mar Enfortuna is a beautiful modern exploration of Sephardic melodies, creatively arranged by the masterminds of the popular rock group Elysian Fields, Oren Bloedow and Jennifer Charles. Breathly vocals, exotic instruments and a sensibility that embraces jazz, funk, folk, rock and Latin music blend to make a CD to be enjoyed again and again."

LONDON, FRANK: Invocations CD (TZ 7147). $14.50

"Trumpeter Frank London (Klezmatiks, Hasidic New Wave) presents his most intimate and personal work to date, evoking the passionate, imploring voices of the great cantorial virtuosos Rosenblatt, Sirota and Kamiol. Recorded live in the Community Synagogue in the heart of the Lower East Side, Invocations is a soulful collection of classic hazonim, scored for trumpet solo, harmoniums, glass harmonica and bass. A lush and beautiful contemporary reading of an ancient yet under-appreciated Jewish tradition. Featuring Anthony Coleman, Myra Melford, Ken Filiano, Gina Leishman, and of course the trumpet of the great Frank London."

ZAKARYA: Zakarya CD (TZ 7148). $14.50

"Based in Paris, Zakarya is the latest band project from the Jewish music master Yves Weyh. Exploring aspects of Jewish history, humor, rhythms, scales and sensibilities, Zakarya pushes the boundaries of Jewish culture in unexpected and exhilarating ways. Featuring four brilliant young musicians on accordion, electric guitar, bass and percussion, this is an astounding virtuosic debut that challenges traditions both old and new."

SATLAH: Exodus CD (TZ 7149). $14.50

"A beautiful live recording of acoustic Klez/Jazz by one of the most exciting young bands working today. In the year that has passed since the release of their first CD, Satlah has grown more confident, increasing in both power and sensitivity. Taking a cue from the music of John Coltrane, their sound is developing a spiritual intensity and their second release for Tzadik showcases all three players blazing through creative original compositions at the legendary new music venue Tonic, located in the heart of New York's Lower East Side. Jewish Jazz for the 21st Century."

KRAKOWSKI, WOLF: Transmigrations: Gilgul CD (TZ 7150). $14.50

"A unique fusion of traditional Yiddish song with country blues, rock and reggae by Kerouac-inspired cult hero Wolf Krakowski. Recorded in 1995 and originally available in a limited edition on his own label, Transmigrations: Gilgul is a soulful contemporary reading of Jewish folk and theater songs mixing the Old World with the New. Yiddish world-beat soul that will delight both young and old."

MESINAI, RAZ: Before The Law CD (TZ 7151). $14.50

"Raz Mesinai is one of the most respected young musicians in New York's burgeoning underground electronica scene. His unique approach utilizes samples of acoustic instruments performing his original compositions, electronics of his own design, computers and occasionally his dynamic percussion work. His latest project is inspired by the hermetic Jewish writer Franz Kafka whose influential work views the Jewish experience through a mystical, almost Kabbalistic lens. A complex and multifaceted CD of new electronic music at its best."

EPHRON, FIMA: Soul Machine CD (TZ 7152). $14.50

"Fima Ephron, the dynamic bassist for the psycho-semitic-avant-klez-band Hasidic New Wave steps out on his own for yet another new approach bringing Jewish music into the 21st Century. Soul Machine blends Jewish scales and sensibilities with jazz/rock fusion via Weather Report and late Miles. Boasting an incredible lineup of downtown's newest jazz stars, Fima's colorful program also features a moody remix collage by the talented composer/performer David Torn."

NAFTULE'S DREAM: Job CD (TZ 7153). $14.50

"Now a mainstay of the Radical Jewish Series, Naftule's Dream epitomizes the passion and creativity of New Jewish Music in the 21st Century. Their third CD for Tzadik captures them in front of an inspiring audience, live in Boston. Exciting compositions both old and new, and a charming Jewish take on the music of Erik Satie, Job is another brilliant musical statement by one of the most important bands in the New Jewish Renaissance. Mixed by producer extraordinaire Bill Laswell."

FRIEDLANDER, ERIK: Grains Of Paradise CD (TZ 7154). $14.50

"One of the most important cellists in New Music and a dynamic bandleader and composer in his own right, Erik Friedlander has been a vital voice in the bands of Dave Douglas, Joe Lovano, Marty Ehrlich and John Zorn for over a decade. His latest project finds him surrounded by ten violins and rhythm section. Moments of lush romanticism, fiery brilliance and hypnotic moods, Grains of Paradise is an exciting trip to exotic lands inspired by the spices of the Orient."

EISENBERG, JEWLIA: Trilectic CD (TZ 7155). $14.50

"One of the most important releases this year, Jewlia Eisenberg's radical setting of texts by Walter Benjamin, Asja Lacis and Gershom Sholem point to a whole new style of acappella vocal music. Drawing upon traditions from doo-wop to Meredith Monk. Eskimo throat singing, to Hebrew cantillation and more, Trilectic is as charming as it is challenging. A brilliant vocalist and bandleader (Charming Hostess) Jewlia has studied a wide variety of vocal techniques, including the secular vocal music of women in the Jewish Falasha tribe in Ethiopia. An astonishing solo debut by this intensely creative musical thinker."

GOULD, DAVID: Adonai In Dub CD (TZ 7156). $14.50

"A founding member of the popular rock group John Brown's Body, David Gould has been fascinated with the spiritual connections between Roots Reggae and Judaism for years. Adonai In Dub is his fascinating response. Traditional Hebrew prayers beautifully performed in Gould's inspiring ska arrangements, are deconstructed for the Tzadik Radical Jewish Series by dub master Jamie Saft into an entirely new universe of space dub noise. Extreme dub meets the Jewish tradition in this exciting meeting of three worlds. Shlomo Carlebach via Sun Ra and King Tubby."

CRACOW KLEZMER BAND: The Warriors CD (TZ 7157). $14.50

"Each piece telling a different dramatic narrative, The Warriors is another brilliant release by one of Europe's most original and exciting avant-klezmer ensembles. Based in the historic city of Cracow, one of the last strongholds of Jewish life in Poland and home to one of the most important annual festivals of Jewish music in the world, this brilliant quartet blends the spontaneity of improvisation, the precision of classical music and the soul of the Jewish tradition. Ever-surprising new music by this thrilling band of virtuosos."

RODRIGUEZ, ROBERTO JUAN: El Danzon De Moises CD (TZ 7158). $14.50

"The dynamic Latin percussionist for Joe Jackson, Marc Ribot's Postizos and a variety of other groups here excavates the fascinating world of Cuba's little-known Jewish community. Roberto's firsthand experience with both Cuban and Jewish traditions (performing at Havana Synagogues in the 1970s, and exposure to the Radical Jewish Culture Revolution in New York's downtown community of the 1990s,) have resulted in a brilliant recording blending the two into a seamless new music. Featuring an all-star lineup, El Danzon de Moises is a CD that will make you think, make you laugh and make you dance."

SEPHARDIC TINGE: Our Beautiful Garden Is Open CD (TZ 7159). $14.50

"The third CD in the legacy of mad genius Anthony Coleman's most popular working band takes us, as always, to a magnetic world of loving dysfunction. Together for over four years, the piano trio Sefhardic Tinge has developed a unique style rivaling the telepathic interplay of Bill Evans, the compositional integrity of Herbie Nichols and the popular cheese of Irving Fields. Charming Jewish music informed by jazz, borscht belt humor, Latin rhythms, Ahasuerus and self-hatred from one of the most twisted minds in the downtown scene."

SPARKS, TIM: At The Rebbe's Table CD (TZ 7160). $14.50

"The breathtaking guitarist who created Neshamah and Tanz, two of the most popular CDs in the Tzadik catalogue, continues to delight us with his newest release At the Rebbe's Table. Tim Sparks once again has managed to choose a surprising program of Jewish music from around the world. Lifting melodies to tickle the soul. Harmonies and rhythm to make you dance. Special guests Marc Ribot and Erik Friedlander join Tim's trio from Tanz for some intimate duets and complex band arrangements."

Z'EV: The Sapphire Nature CD (TZ 7161). $14.50

"One of the world's premier noise percussionists and a learned scholar of Kabbalah, Torah and Talmud, Z'ev has been a vital force in the downtown scene since the late 1970s. In addition to his collaborations with Glenn Branca, Rudolph Grey and his fascinating solo work, Z'ev is also a prolific writer and musical thinker. He has written on subjects ranging from music composition, ritual performance and has also translated several esoteric Tibetan and Hebrew texts into English. His latest study is Metaphonics, the spiritual in sound, and The Sapphire Nature is his first musical creation based on these principles. Accompanied by 54 pages of text in both English and Hebrew (in PDF files), the music is an atmospheric and hypnotic symphony of bangs, clangs and howls in the night."

SAFT, JAMIE: Breadcrumb Sins CD (TZ 7162). $14.50

"Jamie's second CD for Tzadik is a cinematic exploration of dub, pop and club music filtered through his own very personal Jewish lens. Spacy DJ mixes, deep grooves, f**ked-up dubs and soulful vocals on subjects ranging from tashlikh to prayer to fratricide. What more could you ask from one of Tzadik's mainstays whose first CD Solvanut and special mixes for David Gould (Adonai in Dub) have already become legendary underground hits."

BRODY, PAUL: Sa'dawi CD (TZ 7163). $14.50

"Paul Brody is a remarkable trumpet player, composer and arranger based in Berlin. For his first Tzadik release he has brought together some of the best Klezmer players from the U.S. and Germany to create a Jewish music supergroup. The music combines exciting arrangements, catchy tunes and compelling solos into another classic of the new Jewish Renaissance. Along with Masada, the New Klezmer Trio and Naftule's Dream, Paul Brody is forging a new Jewish jazz for the 21st Century with imagination and a solid knowledge of tradition."

BERNSTEIN, STEVEN: Diaspora Blues CD (TZ 7164). $14.50

"Steven Bernstein, one of the energy centers of the downtown scene here joins legendary reedman Sam Rivers and his trio for an inspiring program of cantorial melodies associated with the great chazzan Moshe Koussevitzky, perhaps the greatest cantor of all time. Moving ballads, hypnotic grooves and free jazz to soothe your soul and stimulate your libido from the man who brought you Diaspora Soul, one of the most popular CDs in the Tzadik catalogue."

SCHEINMAN, JENNY: The Rabbi's Lover CD (TZ 7165). $14.50

"An impressive new recording by one of the most sought-after new violinists in the downtown scene. Born in California, Jenny moved to New York in 1998. Most recently heard in a variety of contexts with Bill Frisell, Jenny has also graced projects by Myra Melford, Vinicius Cantuaria and Nels Cline. Here she leads a dynamic quintet of violin, trumpet, guitar, bass and drum creating a seductive and personal take on Radical Jewish Culture. From traditional tunes to creative originals, The Rabbi's Lover is both heartfelt and intense, lyrical and driving, a CD you will return to time and time again."

KRAKOWSKI, WOLF: Goyrl: Destiny CD (TZ 7166). $14.50

"In his dramatic follow-up to Transmigrations: Gulgul, Wolf Krakowski weaves unique and heartfelt world-beat soul stylings with Yiddish folk, theatre and pop songs to create a compelling international downtown sound rooted in the blues, country-rock, tango, reggae and native mameloshn. Produced by Frank London, this contemporary classic is the very embodiment of Old World meets the New."

LONDON, FRANK: Scientist At Work CD (TZ 7167). $14.50

"Originally released in 1999 in a privately pressed limited edition, this is much more than a re-release. Alchemically transformed by John Zorn through radical remixing, editing and overdubs by downtown superstars Mark Feldman, Erik Friedlander, Gyro Baptista, Jamie Saft (and Zorn himself on sax), Scientist at Work is a dynamic collaboration in the Miles Davis/Teo Macero tradition. Featuring stand-out work by the late Thomas Chapin on saxophones and bass flute, as well as the lyrical trumpet of bandleader/composer Frank London, this music touches on Jewish prayer, Afro-funk, Jazz fusion, Middle Eastern Taksim and more."

RABBINICAL SCHOOL DROPOUTS: Cosmic Tree CD (TZ 7168). $14.50

"Based in California, the Rabbinical School Dropouts is about as crazy as a group of kooks as one could wish for. Sun Ra, the Hampton Grease Band, Frank Zappa and the Klezmatics all rolled into one, the music of the Three Freidmann Brothers is fresh and imaginative. Their ten-piece big band (featuring oboe, bassoon, mandolin, toy piano, tablas, etc.) storms through a dozen creative originals touching upon Klezmer, Jazz, funk, Latin, rock and varied silliness along the way. Jewish garage Jazz with a sick sense of humor from Long Beach, California."

ZAMIR, DANIEL: Children Of Israel CD (TZ 7169). $14.50

"The incredible musicianship of Daniel Zamir has never more apparent than on this spectacular recording of Israeli folk songs arranged for his telepathic trio Satlah and a horn section of five saxophones. Featuring breathtaking solos over odd time signatures, complex and soulful horn arrangements brilliantly performed by an all-star downtown saxophone section, Children of Israel is one of the most exciting and enjoyable CDs in the Tzadik catalog."

BURGER, ROB: Lost Photograph CD (TZ 7170). $14.50

"Fourteen exotic musical miniatures crafted by the brilliant accordionist from Tin Hat Trio, one of San Francisco's most acclaimed and popular bands. Accompanied by bassist Greg Cohen (Masada, Tom Waits, Lou Reed), drummer Kenny Wollesen (Bill Frisell, Sex Mob, The Wollesens) and a gaggle of vintage keyboards, Rob Burger has created a fun and fabulous adventure into exotica and west coast lounge, Jewish style. Moody melodies to make your brain dance and your heart smile."

ZORN, JOHN: Masada Guitars CD (TZ 7171). $14.50

"In 1993, John Zorn began composing and performing his 208 tunes that now comprise what is known as the 'Masada' songbook. To celebrate the tenth anniversary of this, his most popular musical project, John Zorn has organized a series of CDs, featuring his most illustrious colleagues performing their own unique arrangements of these classics of modern Jewish music. This first release contains three guitarists whose styles are as varied as the compositions they perform. From the singular brilliance of Marc Ribot, the lush sonorities of Bill Frisell, to the orchestral virtuosity of Tim Sparks, Masada Guitars is a glittering tribute, lovingly executed by three of the most original guitarists in the world."

ZORN, JOHN: Voices In The Wilderness: Masada Anniversary edition Vol.2 2CD (TZ 7172). $22.00

Featuring: Pharoah's Daughter, Zony Mash, Lemon Juice Quartet, Jewlia Eisenberg, Naftule's Dream, Rova Saxophone Quartet, Pachora, Cracow Klezmer Band, Mike Patton, Satlah, Perowsky/Caine Trio, Steven Bernstein. "As John Zorn's most popular project teaches its tenth year, Tzadik celebrates the Masada songbook with a series of all-star tributes. Following Masada Guitars, Volume 2 is an eclectic and powerful collection of eleven Masada classics artfully arranged by some of the downtown scene's most creative performers. Zorn's catchiest and most lyrical tunes performed by rock bands, klezmer groups, vocalists, jazz piano trios, electronica musicians and more: A fabulous celebration and a party for the ears. Over sixty minutes of Masada compositions as you've never heard them before."

ARGOV, SASHA: Great Jewish Music CD (TZ 7173). $14.50

"A fascinating tribute, the first outside of Israel, to one of the most original and important composers of modern Jewish music, whose hits spanned over six decades, from the 1930s to the 1990s. Born in Moscow, Sasha Argov began composing during the Palmach period in Israel and he quickly became one of Israel's most prolific and beloved composers. Everyone knew and sang Argov's melodies, from the ultra orthodox haredim to the average Jew on the street — yet outside of Israel his music is barely known. This fourth release of the thought-provoking Great Jewish Music series presents an all-star lineup of Tzadik regulars, and some very special guests."

SHAPIRO, PAUL: Mindnight Minyan CD (TZ 7174). $14.50

"Paul Shapiro's fat tenor sound has graced the music of such diverse artists as Lou Reed, Michael Jackson, Nuyorican Soul, the Microscopic Septet and Brooklyn Funk Essentials of which he was a founding member. On Tzadik he can be heard on two of the label's most beloved recordings, Steven Bernstein's Diaspora Soul and Daniel Zamier's Children of Israel. For his Tzadik debut, Paul has brought together a remarkable band of long-time associates to perform loungey, old-school jazz renditions of seven Jewish classics and two moody originals. Midnight Minyan is a treasure for young and old."

PEROWSKY, BEN: Camp Songs CD (TZ 7175). $14.50

"A regular drummer with John Scofield, Dave Douglas, Steven Bernstein and many others, Ben Perowsky is a familiar name to jazz fans the world over. Joined here by keyboard sensation Uri Caine, one of the most acclaimed young pianists on the scene, Ben's first recording under his own name on Tzadik is an eclectic take on the songs he used to sing during his formative years at Jewish summer camp. Exotic percussion, twisted arrangements and several brilliant original compositions make Camp Songs a swinging delight. Wild, nostalgic, and completely unique."

KRAMER: The Greenberg Variations CD (TZ 7176). $14.50

"The mastermind behind Shimmy Disc and co-conspirator of Bongwater, Shockabilly and countless other twisted indie bands, Kramer is finally coming into his own as a composer in the Twenty-first Century. His first solo project in five years is a delightful theme-and-variations inspired by baseball's first Jewish superstar, the legendary slugger Hank Greenberg. The dreamy tones of mellotrons, clavichords, pianos and other vintage keyboards (both real and imaginary) drift you off to a magical world where the baroque meets minimalism and anything is possible. Molded after J.S. Bach's brilliant suite of keyboard masterpieces, written to help Goldberg fall asleep, The Greenberg Variations is a radical departure for the pop producer/musical chameleon Kramer."

SEEWALD/PSAMIN, ZAHAVA: Khad Gadya: A Tribute to Martin Weinberg CD (TZ 7177). $14.50

"Whether singing in Hebrew, Yiddish, Latino or French, Zahava Seewald is one of the most accomplished and soulful vocalists in the modern Jewish music scene. Following up on her very successful Tzadik debut AM Gezint!, her latest recording takes a traditional klezmer repertory into a dynamic world mixing gypsy violins and Kurt Weill cabaret. Dedicated to the creative arranger/performer Martin Weinberg, whose premature death robbed Jewish music of one of its guiding lights, Khad Gadya is a passionate blend of tradition and modernity."

MADOFF, JON: Rashanim CD (TZ 7178). $14.50

Jon Madoff, Shanir Ezra Blumenkranz, Mathias Kunzli. "This dynamic NY guitar trio covers a range from Jim Hall ballads to Blood Ulmer funk harmonics. Complex compositional originals alternate with gorgeous renditions of classic Jewish melodies making this an extraordinary program from start to finish. Beautifully recorded, with mix translations by Bill Laswell."

KOBY: Dance Of The Idiots CD (TZ 7179). $14.50

"Koby Israelite is a young Israeli musician living in London who enjoys smashing genres together and grinding them into dust. Koby has absorbed an astounding array of musics, and blends them together here in dynamic and colorful musical world all his own. As complex and finely crafted as Naked City, Frank Zappa or Mr. Bungle at their best, the music on Dance Of The Idiots, Koby's debut recording, is a passionate exploration of the Jewish experience. Cantorial Death Metal, Nino Rota Klezmer, Balkan Surf, Catskills free improvisation. You've never heard such sounds."

BERGMAN, BORAH: Meditations For Piano CD (TZ 7180). $14.50

"A solo piano recital by one of the most elusive mavericks in new music. Born in Brooklyn, and a legend in the downtown music community since the late '60s, Borah Bergman is a master musician and an iconoclastic pianist who has worked with all the major figures in improvised music. This is Borah Bergman as you've never heard him before. Hypnotic and soulful ballads in the cantorial tradition reminiscent of Glenn Gould or Bill Evans. Beautifully recorded on a premium Steinway, Bergman's prodigious technique, deep harmonic knowledge and endless creativity has never been more striking. An incredibly personal document by one of the great pianists of our time."

ZORN, JOHN: Masada Anniversary Edition Vol. 3: The Unknown Masada CD (TZ 7181). $14.50

"The third installment in this Tenth Year celebration is the most exciting yet. Fourteen tunes from Zorn's legendary Masada songbook that have never been heard before. Performed and arranged by an incredible lineup of musicians, the music here touches upon hard rock, world beat, klezmer and jazz, often all in the same arrangement. Highlights include a lyrical ballad by Wadada Leo Smith, two explosive rock tracks by the powerful Japanese duo the Ruins and Mike Patton's Fantomas, and a gorgeous solo performance by Ukrainian bandura virtuoso Julian Kytasty."

REICHMAN, TED: Emigre CD (TZ 7182). $14.50

"A veteran of countless Tzadik projects led by (among others), David Krakauer, Marc Ribot, Roberto Rodriguez and Anthony Coleman, accordionist Ted Reichman steps out on his own in this moody, hypnotic portrait of one of the 20th Century's greatest photographers, André Kertész. Beginning with his early life in the Jewish community of Budapest, Ted eloquently tells the classic story of a man who leaves his Jewish heritage behind only to find further alienation in attempted assimilation throughout France and the United States. A fascinating and touching musical journey by downtown NY's premiere accordionist."

CRACOW KLEZMER BAND: Bereshit CD (TZ 7183). $14.50

"Another brilliant release by one of the most important bands in the New Jewish Renaissance. Passionately blending tradition and modernity with impressive virtuosity, the Cracow Klezmer Band continues to present some of the most breathtaking new Jewish music being made today. Featuring an exciting female vocalist and a dark, free form track about the creation of the world, Bereshit is their greatest CD yet."

ZAKARYA: Something Obvious CD (TZ 7184). $14.50

"Another brilliant recording by Yves Weyh's virtuosic avant klezmer ensemble Zakarya. Their second CD for Tzadik Jewish Series is a dynamic journey through Eastern Europe via witty waltzes, thrash accordion, Balkan rock and moody doinas. Combining a charming sense of humor with driving rhythms and a breathtaking ensemble sound, Zakarya is fast becoming one of the most adventurous Jewish ensembles in Europe."

DAVKA: The Golem CD (TZ 7185). $14.50

"Always at the forefront of the New Jewish Renaissance, the San Francisco based ensemble Davka here performs Daniel Hoffman's brilliant and dramatic score to the silent film masterpiece The Golem. Condensed and sequenced into a satisfying suite for this special Tzadik CD, the music here is a hypnotic mix of mysterious moods and sounds to chill the bone. Another important release by this dynamic band of Jewish masters."

WALL, GREG: Later Prophets CD (TZ 7186). $14.50

"Saxophonist Greg Wall has been a leading figure in the Jewish Music scene since the late seventies. A veteran of countless bands, he is a founding member of the acclaimed Hasidic New Wave with Frank London, and was one of the first musicians to blend Jewish Music with Jazz. Later Prophets, his newest recording, is one of his best. A dramatic and powerful collection of originals inspired by the story of Ezekiel, whose prophecy resurrecting dry bones after the destruction of the temple contains a great message of hope. Merkabah Mysticism meets Free Jazz in this remarkable new work by one of Jewish Music's most passionate voices."

PHARAOH'S DAUGHTER: Out of the Reeds CD (TZ 7187). $14.50

"An underground classic of the New Jewish Renaissance that has been out of print for years, is reissued here in a newly revised and remastered definitive edition. Featuring the lovely voice of Basya Schechter, and produced by legendary downtown maven Anthony Coleman, Out of the Reeds features a mystical lyricism blending influences of both the Sephardic and Ashkenazi traditions. New Jewish song at its most soulful."

BRODY, PAUL: Beyond Babylon CD (TZ 7188). $14.50

"Working out of Berlin, Paul Brody is pushing the boundaries of Jewish music with his remarkable band Sadawi. His second CD for Tzadik features five uptempo originals and creative arrangements of Tzadik classics by Frank London, the New Klezmer Trio, Naftule's Dream and David Krakauer."

SEPTETO RODRIGUEZ: Baila! Gitano Baila! CD (TZ 7189). $14.50

"Another charming CD of music from the imaginative mind of composer/performer Roberto Rodriguez, whose first CD El Danzon de Moises is one of Tzadik's best sellers. Celebrating the elusive Jewish community of Cuba, Roberto has fashioned an exotic new music that brilliantly blends both Latin and Jewish traditions. Featuring a hot new band and brilliant new compositions Roberto's new CD is as soulful as it is danceable."

ZORN, JOHN: Masada Recital CD (TZ 7190). $14.50

Masada 10th Anniversary Edition Vol. 4. Performed by: Mark Feldman (violin), Sylvie Courvoisier (piano). "Virtuosic fireworks and heartfelt lyricism from two of the most amazing musicians in new music. Performing a dozen compositions from the vast Masada repertory, including the world premiere of a piece never before performed, Masada Recital is another new interpretation of the now classic book of compositions expanding on the Jewish tradition."

DO BANDOLIM, JACOB: Great Jewish Music CD (TZ 7192). $14.50

"One of the founders of the Brazilian instrumental style choro, Jacob do Bandolim began his long musical career by plucking his violin with a hairpin, and very soon developed into the greatest mandolin virtuoso Brazil has ever known. His compositions virtually defined the choro style through the thirties, forties and fifties, and he remains one of the most endearing figures in Brazilian music to this day. This exciting tribute to one of Brazil's greatest Jewish composers features creative arrangements by Tzadik regulars ranging from the traditional to the experimental. Charming and powerful music with a sensual lyricism from one of the guiding lights of the Jewish Diaspora."

SCHECHTER, BASYA: Queen's Dominion CD (TZ 7193). $14.50

"An absolutely stunning instrumental album from Basya Schechter, the beautiful vocalist and guiding force of the popular group Pharaoh's Daughter. Collaborating with Alan Kushan, a virtuoso on the santur, they combine influences from both Jewish and Arab traditions in creating this hypnotic and evocative CD of soulful music out of the Middle East."

MORI, IKUE: Hex Kitchen CD (TZ 7201). $14.50

First in Tzadik's New Japan series. "Mori has developed a personal and innovative technique of playing samplers triggered by adapted drum machines. Hex Kitchen, which includes the soundtrack to Abigail Child's 8 Million Way to Die, features both Mori solos and performances with an all star line-up of innovative musicians." Included are David Watson (bagpipes, guitar), Hideki Kato (bs), Catherine Jauniaux (vocal), Zeena Parkins (el. harp, keyboard, accordion), John Zorn (clarinet), Hahn Rowe (guitar), Jim Staley (tbn).

RUINS: Hyderomastgroningen CD (TZ 7202). $14.50

"Along with the Boredoms, Naked City and very few others, this amazing drums/bass duo are masters of quick-change, stop/start tempos, time-signatures and textures. Ruins' explosive and intricately composed tunes are sung in a peculiar language of their own invention. Hardcore, art rock, psych, heavy metal, funk and lots more? If Ruins have heard it, they are likely to incorporate it into their music. Yoshida cites Magma, This Heat, Debussy and Webern as influences. Masada's favorites are James Brown and Fred Frith."

HAINO, KEIJI: Tonshi No Gijinka CD (TZ 7203). $14.50

"Haino's most dramatic album, a solo recording of unusual hand held percussion, exotic instruments from all over the world, impassioned vocals and his trademark numbing guitar. It's an exciting development from his past work, making extensive use of overdubbing as a compositional tool." Title translates to "Seraphic Imposter"; one of the deepest Haino albums to date.

GROUND ZERO: Null & Void CD (TZ 7204). $14.50

"Led by guitar/turtable wizard Otomo Yoshihide, the fast and furious Ground Zero combine oddball sampling and creative jumpcuts with the raw power of a six piece band."

BAILEY/THE RUINS, DEREK: Saisoro CD (TZ 7205). $14.50

A peculiar thought: pairing the always-improvising British guitarist with the pre-determined craziness of the Japanese trio, Ruins. Surprisingly, this turned into one of the finest collaborations of recent times, a unique, burning, rock sound.

ZORN (DEKOBOKO HAJIUME)/YAMANTAKA EYE, JOHN: Nani Nani CD (TZ 7206). $14.50

"The finest in ambient screams, hardcore surf, erotic Indian psychedelic, moronic samples, industrial monster movies and karaoke vomit." Unlike the Mystic Fugo Orchestra, this gives you what is "expected" from these 2.

HIDEKI/IKUE MORI/FRED FRITH, KATO: Death Ambient CD (TZ 7207). $14.50

Trio improv in a "dark world of unusual sounds and unorthodox techniques" vein. Hideki (bs), Frith (guitar), Mori (drum machines). Hideki was an original member of Ground Zero, has a new group called Bass Army (CD on Trigram) and has collaborated with Tenko, Haino, Zeena, etc. It is assumed that Frith & Mori are known to all functional members of Planet Earth. Beautiful, non-disruptive instrumental music that lives up to the title w/o embarrassment.

KOICHI, MAKIGAMI: Kuchinoha CD (TZ 7208). $14.50

"Makigami Koichi is an incredible vocalist and performer, employing creative and versatile techniques blending Japanese traditions and Tuvan throat-singing with rock and avant garde. Kuchinoha, his first album for solo voice, contains 9 improvisations of live vocal acrobatics — no effects, no overdubs, no edits."

ZUBI ZUVA: Jehovah CD (TZ 7209). $14.50

"While Ruins fans have come to expect the unexpected, this latest curveball from Ruins mastermind Yoshida Tatsuya is a work of insane genius. Zubi Zuva is a freewheeling a cappella vocal trio, running the gamut from Gregorian Chant and Buddhist Shomyo to doo-wop, hardcore and looney tunes — of course, as usual, all in a language of Yoshida's invention. Essential listening for those interested in the outer limits of weirdness." Features Yoshida Tatsuya (alto voice), Shibasaki Yukifumi (tenor voice) & Takahashi Hideki (baritone voice).

JON: Smoke CD (TZ 7210). $14.50

"Songs about a dog...This bizarre home-recorded gem offers a very private glimpse into the world of a mysterious woman from Japan known simply as Jon. Her strange childlike vocals and pump organ charm and enthrall on their own terms; Jon's fresh approach can't be compared to anything you've ever heard before. Primitive, melodious, captivating and completely unforgettable — Jon is a true original, destined to become a cult classic." Jon has one prior self-released CD and a full length video document available on Augen.

COMPOSTELA: Wadachi CD (TZ 7211). $14.50

"One of the most original groups in modern Japan, Compostela blends folk musics of Eastern Europe with the tradition of Japanese chindon (street musicians who play at grand openings of supermarkets and pachinko parlors, dressed as geishas and samurai). The late saxophonist Shinoda Masami was one of the exciting musicians of recent years, the first to bring klezmer and Eastern European music to the Japanese audience. This special compilation, which includes original compositions as well as tunes by Sidney Bechet, Victor Jara and Gilrod & Sandler, was assembled by Compostela's surviving members to pay tribute to one of Japan's musical luminaries."

TONE, YASUNAO: Solo For Wounded CD (TZ 7212). $14.50

"A founding member of the Fluxus Movement with Takehisa Kosugi, Yoko Ono and George Maciunas, Yasunao Tone has been doing experimental sound pieces since the early 1960s. For the past ten years much of his work has centered on extending the possibilities of CDs as a performance medium. With this new CD, Tone has created a new noise music for the 21st century: a symphony of digital errors that reaches a new extreme in intensity and musical energy."

INOUE, TETSU: Psycho-Acoustic CD (TZ 7213). $14.50

"Perhaps the most interesting electronic music since the classic period of Stockhausen and Xenakis. Tetsu Inoue is a composer and sound artist who has worked in a variety of musics — ambient, sound installation, dance music, techno and is a frequent collaborator of Bill Laswell and Haruomi Hosono. This CD features some of the most intricate and fascinating computer generated compositions you have ever heard. Literally thousands of hours went into the creation of these miniature masterpieces charting a world of sound as yet unexplored. Also included is a powerful duet with brilliant electronic percussionist Ikue Mori."

MERZBOW: 1930 CD (TZ 7214). $14.50

"Merzbow is the one and only original Japanese noise band, begun by Masami Akita over 20 years ago and he is still the best of them all. This special release for the Tzadik label is one of his most important compositional creations — an adventurous travelogue into his world of analog and digital noises, taking unexpected twists and turns that will surprise even hardcore Merzbow fans."

RUINS: Symphonica CD (TZ 7215). $14.50

"A new direction for this innovative group, which until now has worked solely as a duo. Augmenting their core unit of drums and bass with two female vocalists and a keyboard player of astonishing virtuosity, these brilliant orchestral arrangements of new compositions and Ruins classics display aspects of their music that have been waiting to emerge for years."

KOICHI/ANTON BRUHIN, MAKIGAMI: Electric Eel CD (TZ 7216). $14.50

"Creative and versatile, Makigami's first CD of solo voice improvisations was a favorite of vocalist from Mike Patton to Pavarotti. On Electric Eel he takes an unexpected turn. While studying Mongolian throat singing with masters in Tuva, Makigami became acquainted with the simple folk instrument the jaw harp. Fascination turning to obsession, he has now developed an incredible array of extended techniques on this ancient instrument, and in collaboration with Swiss 'Maul-Trommel' virtuoso Anton Bruhin (who has released several CDs of traditional European music for jaw harp), they have created a CD of sounds you've never heard before. In addition to over 50 different varieties from soprano to contrabasso, this astounding recording also features the premiere of Anton Bruhin's electric jaw harp and water jaw harp."

DEATH PRAXIS: Mystery CD (TZ 7217). $14.50

"For over twenty years, Ikue Mori and Tenko have been on the forefront of new music, both here and in Japan. Veterans of countless classic bands from DNA to Dragon Bue, and countless collaborations with just about every musicians in the new music underground. A tribute to some of the world's greatest writers of suspense stories, Mystery brings these two masters of musical suspense together with many special guests to create a new collection of sound compositions for voice and modern ensembles. Also included are bonus tracks from their first duo recording from 1990, Death Praxis (issued on What Next?, currently o/p)."

MICHIYO, YAGI: Shizuku CD (TZ 7218). $14.50

"One of the most versatile masters of the koto, Michiyo Yagi has performed in rock bands, jazz groups, movie soundtracks, classical ensembles, noise improvisations and of course Japanese traditional and folk groups. Here, using both orthodox and unorthodox techniques, she takes the koto to an exciting new world of her own invention incorporating influences from traditional Japanese and Korean music as well as the American maverick tradition of Partch, Cage, Nancarrow and Terry Riley. Astounding new music for an ancient instrument by one of the world's most adventurous and accomplished contemporary koto players."

MELT-BANANA: MxBx 1998/13,000 Miles At Light Velocity CD (TZ 7219). $14.50

"Melt Banana is the defining band of New Japanese Hardcore and it is taking America by storm. Their songs combine compositional complexity and improvisational noise with the power of a locomotive going full blast through a brick wall. Recorded during their tour of the States in 1998, MxBx captures the band in a blazing fury that will leave you breathless. An astonishing performance by one of Japan's most innovative, personal and influential bands. Includes several songs not available anywhere else, and a brilliantly twisted cover version of Brian Wilson's classic 'Surfin' USA.'"

FUJII, SATOKO: Kitsune-Bi CD (TZ 7220). $14.50

"Jazz, contemporary classical and traditional Japanese folk music blend seamlessly in Satoko Fujii's powerful and unique musical universe. Her first CD for Tzadik presents here in three intimate groupings: in duo with her long time associate Sachi Hayasaka, in trio with the dynamic NY rhythm section of Mark Dresser and Jim Black, and of course here critically-acclaimed solo playing which has recently been compared to the work of Paul Bley, George Russell and Cecil McBee, Satoko is forging a new music with the help of some best experimental musicians in jazz."

PURPLE TRAP (KEIJI HAINO): Decided... Already... 2CD (TZ 7221). $22.00

Full title: Decided... Already the Motionless Heart of Tranquility, Tangling the Prayer Called [L]. "A new supergroup featuring Haino Keiji, one of the world's and original guitarists/vocalists, Bill Laswell, contemporary music's most personal and experimental bassists and Rashied Ali, Coltrane alumni and godfather of free jazz drumming. Haino is pulled kicking and literally screaming to new heights of inspiration by the most dynamic rhythm section he has ever worked with. Passionate, ear wrenching and exhilarating sounds from three of today's most creative and uncompromising musical masters."

MICROCOSMOS: Pilgrimage CD (TZ 7222). $14.50

"Otomo Yoshihide (turntables) and Tenko (vocals) are two of the most internationally acclaimed performers to emerge from the Tokyo underground, and have worked with some of the best musicians from around the world. Collaborating together in bands, improvisational groupings and special projects for over ten years, this is their first duo release and is the result of over two years of recording. A fascinating meeting of two of Japan's most original musical masters."

KOREKYOJIN: CD (TZ 7223). $14.50

"Word-of-mouth has it that Ruins mastermind Yoshida Tatsuya's new band is his greatest yet. Featuring Japan's latest guitar sensation Kido Natsuki, Korekyojin is a burning instrumental trio mixing the raw power of rock, the wild edge of improvisation, and the complex stop-on-a-dime compositional structures that Yoshida and very few others have made famous."

FRICTION: Zone Tripper CD (TZ 7224). $14.50

"Arriving in New York City in early 1977, Reck was a vital member of the New York No Wave punk scene, playing bass with James Chance and the Contortions and Lydia Lunch. Returning to Tokyo in 1978 he founded Friction, one of the most important and longest running underground bands in Japan. Together over 20 years, Friction has gone through many changes, while still retaining its hard-edged style and unique combination of hard rock, punk and noise. Zone Tripper presents some of their greatest songs and some surprising remixes by Tokyo's greatest DJs. Friction's first release outside Japan, Zone Tripper is a powerful introduction to one of the most legendary bands in the Tokyo underground." Features 2 remixes each by Audio Active and Fumiya Tanaka! Sensitive listeners should beware that the genres of "rock" and "punk" appear on this disc in apparently non-ironic fashion.

MOTOR HUMMING: Musical Aluminum CD (TZ 7225). $14.50

"An absolutely raging new instrumental combo from the Kansai area of Japan, home to the Boredoms Omoide Hatoba, Haco and more. Combining hardcore punk, improvisation, metal, funk and fusion in a seamless and dynamic new music, Motor Humming is at the forefront of instrumental experimental rock and one of the most original bands in Japan. Musical Aluminum (a light metal) is their first CD, and it features an incredible range of pieces in a program you will find exciting, challenging and fun. Along with Melt Banana, Motor Humming is pointing the way to a whole new Japanese rock scene, inspired by the Ruins, the Boredoms, Massacre, Naked City and Japanese psychedelia."

DEATH AMBIENT: Synaesthesia CD (TZ 7226). $14.50

"Death Ambient's (Ikue Mori, Kato Hideki, Fred Frith) eponymous debut CD was released in 1995 to great critical acclaim and continues to be one of Tzadik's best sellers. Synaesthesia is the long awaited follow — up and it finds them exploring new territory. Thirteen powerful new compositions blending vivid colors and complicated textures both electric and acoustic. Dark moods, minimal beauty and exquisite noise from three of the world's leading instrumental innovators."

AYUO: Izutsu CD (TZ 7227). $14.50

"Ayuo (whose name translates as Fish-Light) is one of the most enigmatic figures in Japan, as unique a figure as Moondog, Sun Ra or Haino Keiji, with whom he occasionally collaborates. Ayuo's music is a delicate balance of world music traditions, new age, improvisation and classical composition. Drawing upon his love of the Celtic tradition as well as that of Southeast Asia, Indonesia, China and his own native Japan, Izutsu has a charming, mystical quality: hypnotic, sensitive and alluring. A one-act opera based on an ancient Noh play and scored for Celtic harp, hurdy gurdy, sitar-guitar and traditional Japanese instruments, this is Ayuo's masterpiece. Timeless music from one of Japan's maverick individualists who has been walking his own path without compromise for over twenty years."

DOUSID3: Empties CD (TZ 7228). $14.50

"Powerful and hypnotic, Dousid3 has created a unique mix, combining club music with heavy rock riffs, dub studio techniques, noise and sexy vocals. Based in New York City, these three young musicians take the classic format of guitar, bass and drums to a whole new level with the aid of sampling triggers and outboard effects. Influenced by a wide variety of music, Empties, their debut recording is a multifaceted peek into a trippy new world of sound."

INOUE, TETSU: Fragments Dots CD (TZ 7229). $14.50

"Kyushu native Tetsu Inoue's recent works connect the vivid sound environments of classical ambient with the stark, conspicuous timbral explorations of academic computer music. Tetsu's second release for Tzadik delves deeper into the methods of sonic microscopy that marked his debut, constructing minute, peerless sound-surfaces that break apart and reconstitute in the shifting nth-dimensional space of the ear. While related, Tetsu's intentions differ sharply from those of post-digital composers mining the bitscape for evidence of technology's failure. In the ecstatic bustle of sound particles careening through acoustical space can be heard the distinct inflection of a new means of expression struggling to life."

HOAHIO: Ohayo Hoahio CD (TZ 7230). $14.50

"A founding member of the legendary band After Dinner, Haco is one of the most versatile vocalists in the Japanese indie scene. Her newest project, Hoahio, finds her collaborating with two of the most exciting young musicians in Tokyo: koto virtuoso Yagi Michiyo, whose debut solo recording Shizuku was released on Tzadik in 1999, and Sachiko M, whose work with Otomo Yoshihide has earned her international acclaim. In the tradition of the great Japanese girl groups Saboten, Shonen Knife, Fukuko and Papaya Paranoia, this new trio recording is simultaneously charming, mysterious, and delightful."

SHIMADA, AIKO: Blue Marble CD (TZ 7231). $14.50

"Produced and arranged by enigmatic mystical traveller Eyvind Kang, Blue Marble is a CD of surreal folk songs by singer/songwriter Aiko Shimada. Born in Japan and now based in Seattle, Aiko's music is fresh, original and heartfelt. For this latest release, Eyvind has brought in an unusual team of proto-hippies and music freaks keying off of Aiko's moody melodies and lyrics. From noise to string orchestra, drum machine to toy piano, Blue Marble is an unforgettable emotional ride through Aiko's exotic music forest. Special guest appearance by Bill Frisell."

OTOMO YOSHIIHIDE'S NEW JAZZ QUINTET: Flutter CD (TZ 7232). $14.50

"Japanese Free Jazz has a history that goes back to the '60s, and Otomo Yoshihide's latest project brings together some of the best Free Jazz players in Japan with noise musicians Sachiko M and the legendary Akita Masami of Merzbow. Beautiful arrangements, exciting solos and a kickass rhythm section make Flutter one of Otomo's most powerful and unusual musical statements. Features three bizarre covers of tunes by Eric Dolphy and Gerry Mulligan and four dynamic originals. Sine waves, drones, jazz and noise from one of Japan's most ubiquitous experimental musicians."

A QUI AVEC GABRIEL: Utsuho CD (TZ 7233). $14.50

"à ui avec Gabriel is a young accordion player steeped in French Romanticism and moody exotica. With the innocence and charm of Erik Satie, her debut recording Utsuho depicts the soul's journey from night until dawn, through day to dusk, visiting along the way dark storms, shining drops of light, cats, mysterious winds and galactic voices. Accompanied at times by violin, clarinet, piano and the eerie guitar and voice of Haino Keiji, Utsuho is a uniquely personal CD of lyrical beauty."

RUINS: Live At Kichijouji Mandala II CD (TZ 7234). $14.50

"A blistering live performance at one of Tokyo's longest running avant garde venues by one of Tokyo's longest running avant garde bands. A breathtaking performance of over twenty stop-on-a-dime Ruins classics, Mandala 2000 captures the raw power and visceral energy of this dynamic band better than any studio recording ever could. Also included is twenty minutes of encores featuring the versatile and dynamic violinist Katsui Yuji. Intense, powerful and frighteningly complex sonic masterpieces by two performers who make bass and drums sound like an orchestra of synchronized jet engines."

HIKASHU: Hikashu History CD (TZ 7235). $14.50

"Makigami Koichi is one of Japan's most popular underground performers and Hikashu History follows the journeys of his remarkable rock/pop band Hikashu through over twenty-five years of musical mayhem. From techno (before the Yellow Magic Orchestra) to noise/sampler improvisation (before Ground Zero) to jazz, folk and beyond — all with a Japanese twist. Hikashu has been anticipating trends and charting new paths in Japanese music for decades. Hikashu History documents their musical explorations through private tapes, rare demos and exciting live recordings. A fascinating view of one band's visionary directions. Featuring Makigami Koichi, Otomo Yoshihide, Lauren Newton, Inoue Makoto, Torsten Rasch and many others."

SYZYGYS: Eyes On Green/Live At Tokyo CD (TZ 7236). $14.50

"With the cute innocence of Shonen Knife and the 43-tone organ of Harry Partch, Syzygys have been fashioning twisted and catchy pop songs since 1985. These performances capture the band live in 1988 and is so beautifully recorded it could have been a studio date. Accompanying the delightful duo is legendary guitarist Imahori Tsuneo playing everything from Bill Frisell to Arto Lindsay's skronk and bassist Shiina Tatsuto. Absolutely charming: somewhere Harry Partch is smiling. Microtonal pop for the 21st Century."

MONO: Under The Pipal Tree CD (TZ 7237). $14.50

"Mono is a young instrumental band from Tokyo combining elements of minimalism, psychedelia and trance rock to create a distinctive and powerful new sound via John Fahey, Sonic Youth and the Grateful Dead. Austere and intense — their music is simple, beautiful and incredibly direct. Sheets of sound, lyricism, wailing guitars and pounding rhythms evolve slowly, morphing into a ritual of noise and ecstasy. A remarkable debut from this exciting new Japanese band."

OTOMO YOSHIIHIDE'S NEW JAZZ ENSEMBLE: Dreams CD (TZ 7238). $14.50

"The first release outside of Japan featuring two of Japan's quirkiest underground pop stars. From the high fragile sonorities of Togawa Jun to the velvet, sultry tones of Phew, Dreams runs the gamut from moody love songs, driving groove to screaming noise. Otomo's exciting New Jazz Ensemble and creative arrangements perfectly set up the diverse vocal stylings of these two legendary divas out of the Tokyo indie scene."

ROVO: Tonic 2001 2CD (TZ 7239). $22.00

"Some of the very best musicians in Japan, veterans of bands such as the Boredoms, Bondage Fruits, Bazooka Joe, Dub Sub, Demi Semi Quaver and Omoide Hatoba come together in Rovo, a virtuosic trance-rock group based in Tokyo. This dynamic two CD set collects the best of their legendary two night run at New York City's premiere new music club Tonic. Beautifully recorded and impeccably mixed by Rovo mastermind Katsui Yuji in Japan, Tonic 2001 captures the fiery brilliance of this dazzling band like no studio recording ever could. Two special mix translations by Bill Laswell are included as bonus tracks. Ecstatic music for listeners and dancers alike."

SYZYGY: Complete Studio Recordings CD (TZ 7240). $14.50

"The kind of quirky lunacy only possible in Japan, Syzygy is a remarkable instrumental duo that performs infectiously original pop songs on Harry Partch's 43 note to the octave microtonal organ. With an uncanny ear and startling creativity — this music is as hilarious as it is delightful. Out of print for years, Tzadik now presents the complete studio recordings of this amazing band on one CD."

LIMITED EXPRESS (HAS GONE?): Feeds You! CD (TZ 7241). $14.50

"Another eclectic rock/pop band out of the infamous Kansai scene that produced the Boredoms, Omoide Hatoba and more. This exciting young three piece unit based in Kyoto presents their debut recording after years of playing in just about every small club from Tokyo to Fukuoka. Visceral power pieces offset with charming female vocals, pointillism and dub effects. Striking originality and a childlike curiosity point this band towards a new Kyoto rock sound."

ADACHI TOMOMI ROYAL CHORUS: Yo CD (TZ 7242). $14.50

"Adachi Tomomi Royal Chorus is an experimental vocal group based in Tokyo. Drawing upon influences as diverse as the Fluxus movement, hardcore punk, contemporary classical, TV commercials, cartoon music, Conceptual Art and more, Adachi's complex compositional miniatures are filled with energy, imagination and a sly sense of humor. This stuff really kicks."

SEIICHI, YAMAMOTO: Nu Frequency CD (TZ 7243). $14.50

"A driving force at the heart of the much-acclaimed Kansai rock scene since the late 1980s, Yamamoto's piercing guitar has energized some of Japan's finest bands. From the spiritual madness of the Boredoms, the psychedelic trance rock of Rovo to the quirky intensity of his own Omoide Hatoba, Yamamoto's tastes and talents are as eclectic as the bands he's played with. A new solo project from this elusive music matter is truly a cause for celebration, and this CD is his best yet."

HAYASAKA, SACHI: Minga CD (TZ 7244). $14.50

"Sachi Hayasaka is one of Japan's most creative composer/performers, a bandleader, arranger and soloist of great passion and originality. Her beautiful sound and adventurous projects have made her, along with Kazutoki Umezu, one of the busiest and most respected saxophonists in Tokyo. For this latest project, she augments her regular ensemble with some of Japan's best world beat musicians and an exciting African drummer Wagane Ndiaye Rose in an eclectic blend of world music and jazz. Minga is Sachi's most dynamic and satisfying musical statement."

HOAHIO: Peek-Ara-Boo CD (TZ 7245). $14.50

"Hoahio's second CD is even more quirky and varied than the first. Joining koto virtuoso Yagi Michio and Kansai vocalist Haco this time is Era Mari, a remarkable young percussionist from Tokyo. Her brilliant vibes and marimba playing gives this release a bit of a Beeheart flavor, but of course there's much more than that. Noisy improv, charming folksongs and romantic moods from this classic trio out of Japan."

AYUO/OHTA HIROMI: Red Moon CD (TZ 7246). $14.50

"Ayu is one of Japan's great originals, having walked his own unusual path for over twenty years. His second CD for Tzadik is a charming and hypnotic collaboration with one of Japan's most beautiful vocalists, pop star Ohta Hiromi. Touching upon various world music traditions, beautiful folk ballads and psychedelic raves, Red Moon is a lush and seductive collection of contemporary song."

YOSHIDA/FUJII: Erans CD (TZ 7247). $14.50

"Featuring Ruins drummer Yoshida Tatsuya going head to head with versatile jazz pianist Satoko Fujii, Erans is a meeting of masters. Twelve intense compositions showcasing the passion and virtuosity of these two Japanese visionaries. Absolutely breathtaking."

SEIICHI, YAMAMOTO: Baptism CD (TZ 7248). $14.50

"From organizing concerts at his club Bears to performing in the cult bands Omoide Hatoba, Rovo and Boredoms, Yamamoto has been a central figure of the internationally acclaimed Osaka rock/noise scene since the late 80's. For his second Tzadik CD, one of Japan's most original and creative guitarists presents his first ever solo recording, an exciting and wide ranging program jumping from prepared electric to lyrical acoustic. Fred Frith, Joseph Spence and Derek Bailey are just a few of the influences Yamamoto touches upon in this intimate and surprising classic of new guitar."

AGATA: Spike CD (TZ 7249). $14.50

"Melt Banana is one of Japan's most powerful and popular punk bands and at the center of it is the stinging guitar of Agata. Here he steps out on a rare solo outing created especially for Tzadik. Showing an amazing range of interests, a prodigious technique and a remarkable ear for new sounds, Spike is a classic of solo guitar music."

ZORN, JOHN: Kristallnacht CD (TZ 7301). $14.50

Tzadik introduces its Archival Series, to reissue previous works that are now out of print or only available as more expensive imports. Kristallnacht was issued in Japan on the Eva label in 1993. "Zorn's most powerful and unforgettable composition. The premiere work of Radical Jewish Culture features a virtuoso ensemble of creative Jewish musicians: Mark Feldman, Marc Ribot, Anthony Coleman, Mark Dresser, William Winant, David Krakauer & Frank London." A seamless and flowing mix of organic breaking-glass-like noise blurs and small ensemble improv bouts, this is an impressive work, and seems less pointedly conceptual than some of the better known Nonesuch pieces.

ZORN, JOHN: Elegy CD (TZ 7302). $14.50

1992 recording (previously issued on Eva, Japan) of a file-card composition, performed on flute, viola, guitar, turntables, sound effects, percussion & voice. "Creates a mysterious world of erotic perversion, drawing inspiration from the writings of Jean Genet, and features an unusual collection of some of SF's most interesting musicians: David Abel, Barbara Chaffe, Mike Patton, David Shea, David Slusser, Trey Spruance & William Winant."

ZORN, JOHN: Locus Solus CD (TZ 7303). $14.50

Reissue of the Rift 1983 DBL LP. Locus Solus was made up of small groups of Zorn's closest contemporaries at the time: Christian Marclay, Peter Blegvad, Arto Lindsay, Anton Fier, Wayne Horvitz, Ikue Mori, M.E. Miller. Subtitled "In search of improvised song form," this is supremely disorienting sonic chatter, but still quite listenable; watching this one wait though your speaker cones can't help but give you a feeling of superiority towards the human race's numerous inferior forms.

ZORN, JOHN: First Recordings 1973 CD (TZ 7304). $14.50

Previously unreleased materials from '73/'74, giving "A peek into the secret world of a teenage weirdo, revealing the early seeds that developed into the composer's later dementia. Private tapes, home recordings and candid notes." Contains "Mikhail Zetrotrope", a piece for soprano sax, toy percussion, glasses, pots & pans, turntable, TV set, vacuum cleaner, etc., that Zorn calls his craziest piece ever. "Conquest of Mexico," influenced by Varese and Artaud, is a stunning primitive piece of musique concrete; violent sci-fi madness. "Wind/Ko/la" is a solo guitar/vocal work of lo-fi percussive banging. "Automata of Al-

Jazari" is a short filmic cut up. Plus a weird electronic collage tribute to Albert Ayler. Say what you will, this is one of the premier Zorn listening experiences.

ZORN, JOHN: The Classic Guide To Strategy CD (TZ 7305). $14.50

"Zorn's infamous solo music for saxophone and duckcalls brings together his obsessive love for cartoon music, free jazz and musique concrete in a passionate and astonishing heterophony... using self-invented techniques, bizarre effects and unusual tools, Zorn created his own personal instrumental language — instantly recognizable and still breathtaking over a decade later." This reissues both volumes (long o/p on LP since their issues in '81 and '85) on one CD. "This music is both exhilarating and frightening... largely coming out of the solo music of Anthony Braxton and Evan Parker, the cartoon music of Carl Stalling, and of course the Lyrebird record on Folkways (an absolute classic), it is clear to me that the dedication displayed in developing this language is such that I will never be able to play quite like this again, with this precision, speed or intensity. So it is more than fortunate that we have these recordings documenting my commitment to a language that only one person spoke and no one understood." —Zorn.

ZORN, JOHN: Film Works 2 CD (TZ 7306). $14.50

Reissue of the second of five proposed volumes of music for filmic images. "A dark and brooding work, exquisitely recorded for an untitled Walter Hill film," this features Cyro Baptista (Brazilian perc.), Anthony Coleman (prepared piano, keyboards), Carol Emanuel (harp), Andy Haas (didjeridu), Jim Pugliese (perc.), Marc Ribot (guitar, banjo) & David Shea (turntables, sampler).

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks V — Tears Of Ecstasy CD (TZ 7307). $14.50

A quartet of Zorn (as, prepared piano, samples), Robert Quine (guitar), Marc Ribot (guitar) & Cyro Baptista (percussion), recording the soundtrack to Tears of Ecstasy in 1996. "Forty-eight sound cues for Japan's leading gay porno director, Oki Hiroyuki...mixes together world beat, surf music, hard rock, ambient industrial noise, classical, jazz and just about every other genre you can think of in a bizarre sound world for an equally bizarre film."

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks VI — 1996 CD (TZ 7308). $14.50

Performed by Zorn (as, sound effects), Ribot (guitar), Greg Cohen (bass), Baptista (perc.), Mark Feldman (violin), Erik Friedlander (cello) & Ikue Mori (drum machines). "Three very different scores for three very different films all recorded in the first months of 1996. Happy-go-lucky surf rock grooves, modern classical improvisational madness and a dark electro-acoustic construct using the sounds of water, fire and wind recorded for an erotic film noir S/M Fantasy." For films by Dina Waxman, Henry Mills & Maria Beatty. As you might expect, the packaging on these Filmworks CDs is outrageously nice and beautiful sound images abound.

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks III — 1990-1995 CD (TZ 7309). $14.50

"Contains 25 cues commissioned by Portland's vanguard advertising agency Weidman & Kennedy for 15-to-60 second TV commercials directed by, among others, Godard, Cronenberg, Sven Nyquist and Industrial Light & Magic. Also included on this incredible collection are the first recordings by Zorn's current group Masada (w/ Douglas, Cohen, Baron) for the film Thieves Quartet, a bizarre duo with guitarist Marc Ribot, and nine cues that served as a blueprint for Zorn's impossible-to-find soundtrack to the Japanese cartoon Cynical Hysterie Hour." With Frisell, Marclay, Lindsay, Laswell, Mori, Quine, many more; an overwhelming, breathtaking collection of music, bizarre & beautiful.

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks IV: S&M + More CD (TZ 7310). $14.50

"Focuses on his work in the intriguing S&M film genre. Included here is a solo sampler composition for Mn Sarah's A Lot Of Fun For Evil One, a hypnotic trance piece for KimSu Theiler's Pueblo, a suite and variations for solo piano from Hiroko Yuichi's Japanese porno film Mauguy (Sadistic City), and unusual sound-design for Lebanese writer Jalal Toufic's experimental documentary Credits Included, and the score for Maria Beatty's Elegant Spanking, which was a blueprint for Zorn's extended composition Redbird." Performed by Zorn (keyboards, sound-design), with Quine, Ribot, Baptista, Coleman, Baron, Friedlander, etc.

ZORN, JOHN: New Traditions In East Asian Bar Bands CD (TZ 7311). $14.50

"From the lyrical sensuality of 'Hu-Die' (for 2 guitars), the aggressive fireworks of 'Hwang Chin-Ee' (for 2 drummers) and the mystical ambiance of 'Que Tran' (for 2 keyboards), this album shows yet another side of Zorn's genius for the dramatic and unexpected. Using the spoken languages of Chinese, Korean and Vietnamese as pure melody, this suite of 3 pieces of twin instruments and narrators is perhaps Zorn's most beautiful creation to date." Performed by Frisell & Frith (breathtaking duet recording in 1986), Baron & Bennett and Horvitz & Coleman, this is unlike any other Zorn document to date and quite lovely overall.

NAKED CITY: Black Box 2CD (TZ 7312). $22.00

Reissue of two albums together, featuring the classic line up of Zorn (as, vocals), Fred Frith (b), Bill Frisell (g), Wayne Horvitz (keyboards), Joey Baron (d) & Yamantaka Eye (vocals). Of all the records out there dedicated to Lip Cream, this is the one! "Couples two of Zorn's most extreme and violent creations with the controversial music and artwork intact. Torture Garden (1991) presents Naked City's intense and groundbreaking music combining free jazz, bebop, r&b, country, funk, rockabilly, surf, metal hardcore and grindcore — usually in the same song! The rare, seldom-heard Leng Tch'e (1992), released only in Japan, features NC in an agonizingly slow, brutal 32-minute assault."

ZORN, JOHN: Film Works 1986-1990 CD (TZ 7314). $14.50

"This original installment of the FilmWorks Series presents three scores ranging from punk-rockabilly (featuring the nasty guitars of Bob Quine, Marc Ribot and Arto Lindsay); a jazzy Bernard Herrmann fantasy; to a quirky classical/improv/world music amalgam for Raul Ruiz's bizarre film The Golden Boat. Out of print for several years these classic recordings are made available here with the original cover art intact. This is the place where it all began."

ZORN, JOHN: Film Works VII: Cynical Hysterie Hour CD (TZ 7315). $14.50

"The holy grail of Zornthologists is finally available in a newly mastered definitive version. Released in Japan for only a few short months in 1990, this is the original music Zorn created for a series of four shorts by one of Japan's most endearing cartoonists: Kiriko Kubo. A long time champion of Warner Bros. cartoon composer Carl Stalling, Zorn considers this to be his finest and most personal take on cartoon music to date, a genre that has influenced him deeply. The all-star band includes Bill Frisell, Marc Ribot, Arto Lindsay, Robert Quine, Wayne Horvitz, Bobby Previte and Cyro Baptista."

ZORN, JOHN: 1977-1980: The Parachute Years 7CD BOX (TZ 7316-7). $90.00

Reissue of the legendary game pieces, first issued as the LPs Lacrosse, Pool & Archery, with lots of unreleased material, packaged in a deluxe box with detailed liner notes, photos, musical sketches, etc. "Just three short years after his 1973 home recordings, Zorn had devised a series of complex game structures that challenged improvisers in ways no one had thought of before. Pulling together influences from classical music (Brown, Cardew, Kagel, Stockhausen) and the AACM (Braxton, Smith, Mitchell) Zorn's scores forged a sound world of striking originality thanks to the virtuosity brilliance of the musicians he worked with. From 1978-81, Zorn produced three 2LP sets of his game compositions for Eugene Chadbourne's Parachute label. There are included here in a newly mastered edition along with hours of outtakes, rehearsals and other rarities. Among the musicians who rose to the challenge of playing these early esoteric compositions are Eugene Chadbourne, Polly Bradfield, Bob Ostertag, Bill Laswell, Henry Kaiser, George Lewis, Wayne and Bill Horvitz, Kramer, Robert Dick, Anthony Coleman, Tom Cora, Davey Williams and many others."

PAINKILLER: Complete Studio Recordings 1991-94 4CD (TZ 7317). $46.00

"An historical reissue released in cooperation with Earache Records. Out of print for years — with most of the material being released domestically for the first time. Painkiller was Bill Laswell (bass, samples), Mick Harris (drums, samples, vocals) & John Zorn (alto sax, vocals) and this special 4CD package is the ultimate Painkiller document: the complete studio recordings, with all of the original booklets and artwork intact — uncensored and uncompromising, from their classic first release of 1991 Guts Of A Virgin, to Buried Secrets (featuring members of Godflesh) and their 1994 masterpiece Execution Ground. In addition to all of their blistering studio pieces and extended ambient remixes is included a ferocious live performance from Osaka, Japan that captures the band at the height of its powers. Drawing equally from the tradition of jazz, hardcore punk, dub, ambient and much more, Painkiller has created some of the most intense music you're ever like to hear, enclosed in some of the most deliciously beautiful artwork you're ever likely to see."

ZORN, JOHN: Film Works VIII — 1997 CD (TZ 7318). $14.50

"Zorn's Masada music has never sounded as beautiful or as evocative as in this recording originally created for Port Of Last Resort — a film documentary about the Jewish refugees who escaped Nazi Germany by resettling to Shanghai. Augmenting the exciting Masada String Trio with the sensual pipa of Min Xiao-Fen, the versatile guitar of Marc Ribot and the ivory touch of Anthony Coleman's piano stylings, this music blends Jewish and Chinese themes in a way both touching and fresh. Also included is an exotic all-percussion score for Ela Troyano's quirky gay porno film Latin Boys Go to Hell, featuring the bizarre sonorities and driving rhythms of Cyro Baptista and Kenny Wollesen."

ZORN/SATO MICHIO, JOHN: Ganryu Island CD (TZ 7319). $14.50

"Released in a limited edition on the Yukon label back in 1984 and out of print for well over a decade, Ganryu Island has been hailed as one of the most successful recorded meetings of 'East And West'. Named after a small island off the coast of Japan where legendary samurai Miyamoto Musashi and Sasaki Kojiro met for the first and last time, John Zorn's meeting with Tsuru shamisen master Sato Michio is at once surprising, dramatic, hilarious and revelatory. The original release plus 5 never-heard-before out-takes altogether presents the historic 1984 session complete on one CD."

ZORN, JOHN: The Bribe CD (TZ 7320). $14.50

"Written a few months after the session that created one of Zorn's most influential compositional masterpieces, Spillane, The Bribe is a major new discovery in the Zorn oeuvre. Recorded in the same style as Spillane, with the same engineer, and very close to the same ensemble, these cues are not unlike an extended version of that classic piece. Created originally for three thirty minute radio plays produced by Mabou Mines theater company back in 1986, this exciting music features lush moody orchestrations, swinging jazz, hard rock, groovy funk, noise, improvisations, exotic ambience and much, much more."

ZORN, JOHN: Music Romance Vol. 1: Music For Children CD (TZ 7321). $14.50

"First in a series of quirky collections that show Zorn's compositional genius at its most eclectic. 3 short never-heard-before Naked City compositions (written at the time of Torture Garden) performed by Zorn with the scorching Boston-based band Prelapse; a 20-minute electro-acoustic excursion for 3 wind machines and 2 controlled feedback systems dedicated to Edgar Varese, and a virtuosic classical chamber piece for violin, percussion and piano brilliantly performed by the Abel-Steinberg_Winant Trio. These are framed by a poly-rhythmic etude for percussion and celeste and a charming nostalgic lullaby for music box. As one would expect, Zorn's vision of childhood is unlike anyone else's and Music For Children is one of his most provocative recordings."

ZORN'S MASADA, JOHN: Live In Jerusalem 1994 2CD (TZ 7322). $22.00

"Every working band has magical nights — nights when everything fits together and the music takes off into the stratosphere. The 'Masada Live' series documents these unforgettable concerts in venues around the world, bringing these rare special moments to you in beautiful 2CD packages. This first set presents Masada's historic visit to Israel, their first appearance at the world famous Jerusalem Festival."

ZORN'S MASADA, JOHN: Live In Taipei 1995 2CD (TZ 7323). $22.00

"Of all the concerts Masada has performed in the past six years, their run in Taipei stands out as perhaps their most exciting. Everyone was on fire during those nights and the excitement generated by the audience seemed to feed the band to a magical level of creativity and inspiration. Masada's live shows have become legendary, but none more than these three extraordinary shows recorded at Crown Theater in Taiwan's capital city of Taipei. An absolute essential document of one of the world's most exciting working bands."

ZORN, JOHN: Godard/Spillane CD (TZ 7324). $14.50

"Two of Zorn's most influential compositions, one long out of print, now sound better than ever in this newly remastered critical edition, complete with detailed notes, session photos, reminiscences and more. A lot has been written about Zorn's 'file card' compositions, of which 'Godard' and 'Spillane' are the first and purest examples. Described as 'aural movies,' these exciting tributes to the life and work of two of the world's most original and infamous artists feature many of Zorn's most important musical colleagues: Bill Frisell, Fred Frith, Bobby Previte, Anthony Coleman, Christian Marclay, John Lurie, Richard Foreman among others. Essential Zorn from the mid '80s."

ZORN, JOHN: Taboo and Exile CD (TZ 7325). $14.50

"Not since the early days of Naked City has there been a CD as remarkably varied and at the same time as enjoyable as Taboo and Exile. Running the gamut of styles from moody exotica, hardcore punk, classical, jazz, surf, world music and more, this second volume of this new Music Romance Series features 12 new Zorn compositions performed by the very best of today's musical visionaries: guitar heroes Marc Ribot, Fred Frith and Robert Quine, bass renegade Bill Laswell, percussion masters Joey Baron, Dave Lombardo and Cyro Baptista, the Masada String Trio and vocalists Mike Patton and Miho Hatori, among others. For lovers of music in all its various mutations."

MASADA: Live In Middleheim CD (TZ 7326). $14.50

"Crossing the Atlantic to meet in Belgium for the first time in almost six months, and going their separate ways less than twenty hours later, Masada's concert in Middleheim was under pressure from the very beginning. Reaching full out intensity in the first thirty seconds of their very first piece, this is Masada at their wildest — simultaneously out of control and yet intensely focused like a laser beam. 'I felt like a squirrel being dragged behind a Mack truck.' — Greg Cohen. Beautifully recorded by the Belgian radio."

MASADA: Live In Sevilla 2000 CD (TZ 7327). $14.50

"Beautifully recorded by Sevilla's La Tirana recording unit just two months ago, Masada's concert in Sevilla is a remarkable string of special moments from beginning to end — a perfect balance of mind, heart and balls. Intense, tender, beautiful, exhilarating, over the top, featuring plenty of the telepathic group interaction and attention to detail that has become Masada's trademark and some outrageous solo excursions by all four members, (including a show-stopping seven minute drum solo by Joey Baron), this is a must-have for all fans of acoustic jazz and one of Masada's best concerts ever."

ZORN, JOHN: The Big Gundown: 15th Anniversary Special Edition CD (TZ 7328). $14.50

"Boasting an incredible all-star lineup of musical masters, The Big Gundown is the landmark album that first introduced Zorn's wild musical universe to a larger audience, influencing a whole new generation of creative musicians. Newly remastered, this 15th anniversary edition includes six remarkable bonus tracks recorded especially for this definitive edition now available exclusively from Tzadik. Accompanying this classic pairing of Morricone's brilliant originals and Zorn's exciting arrangements is a fabulous 32 page full color booklet filled with informative notes, movie stills, posters, and more. 'This is a record that has fresh, good and intelligent ideas. It is realization on a high level, a work done by a maestro with great science-fantasy and creativity. At times my works have been varied from but it doesn't change anything because the pieces are still recognizable. My ideas have been realized not in a passive manner, but in an active manner which has recreated and re-invented what have been done previously for films. Many people have done versions of my pieces, but no one has done them like this.' — Ennio Morricone. It's also worth noting that the bonus tracks feature contributions by Derek Bailey, Mike Patton, Joey Baron, Trevor Dunn, Marc Ribot, etc."

ZORN, JOHN: Xu Feng CD (TZ 7329). $14.50

"This exciting release initiates a new series of CDs documenting the best of John Zorn's infamous game pieces. Composed largely between 1977 and 1989, these pieces harness improvisers in complex compositional formats, combining the unpredictable edge of improvisation with the structural integrity of written composition. Xu Feng was composed immediately after Zorn's most well-known game piece Cobra and is the most dynamic and fast-paced of them all. Intense and violent, and featuring an extraordinary band of Tzadik all-stars, Xu Feng captures the exciting kung-fu action of the Chinese martial arts for which the piece is named. With Chris Brown, Fred Frith, Dave Lombardo, John Schott, David Slusser, William Winant."

ZORN, JOHN: Cartoon S&M 2CD (TZ 7330). $22.00

"Featuring the Mondrian Quartet, The Asko Ensemble with Stephen Ashbury conducting, Tomoko Mukaiyama, Arnold Marinissen, Rick Huls, Ina Hesse, Niek Wijns, Erno Hartsuiker. Passionate performances of John Zorn's exciting chamber music by some of the greatest European classical masters. Divided into light and dark, with one CD of quirky cutup compositions influenced by (among other things) cartoon music. Another is from Zorn's S/M Torture Garden period. Both CDs conclude with different versions of Zorn's Jewish standard 'Kol Nidre', including the world premiere recording of his version for clarinet quartet. Beautifully produced by Dutch master-musicologist Gert-Jan Blom."

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks IX: Trembling Before G-D CD (TZ 7331). $14.50

"Zorn's first soundtrack in three years is a dark and moody setting for a controversial documentary about the Gay Hasidic community. The score for Trembling Before G-D features two of the most inventive and creative musicians out of the burgeoning Brooklyn scene: Jamie Saft on organ and piano and Chris Speed on clarinet, with a special guest appearance by Filmworks regular Cyro Baptista. Over sixty minutes of beautiful and haunting Jewish music, including several pieces from Zorn's popular book of Masada compositions."

ZORN, JOHN: The Gift CD (TZ 7332). $14.50

"A beautiful and lyrical exploration of surf, exotica, easy listening and world beat, The Gift is an honest and heartfelt offering to music lovers the world over: an invitation to forget about the worries and cares of the world; to sit back and relax. Featuring Marc Ribot (Postizos), Trevor Dunn (Mr. Bungle), Cyro Baptista (Herbie Hancock), Jamie Saft (Bobby Previte), Joey Baron (Masada) and many special guests, this is the album Naked City fans have been waiting for. A side of John Zorn you've rarely heard, the music of The Gift is both relaxing and stimulating, like feeling perfectly at home in a place you've never been before. John Zorn 'for lovers only.'"

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks X: In The Mirror Of Maya Deren CD (TZ 7333). $14.50

"Hypnotic, sensual and evocative music for Martina Kudlacek's brilliant and detailed documentary on the life and work of underground film legend Maya Deren. Mixing myth and ritual with avant-garde dance and film techniques, Maya forged a creative language that continues to resound in the very best of today's experimental artists. The music here moves from nostalgia to mystery, capturing the many moods of Maya's life and art. Performed by Erik Friedlander, Jamie Saft and Cyro Baptista, In The Mirror Of Maya Deren also features the unique piano stylings of John Zorn over three dreamy string arrangements. From Klezmer to classical, Haitian drumming to Indonesian gamelan, easy listening to minimalism, this score is one of Zorn's most beautiful and touching listening experiences."

ZORN, JOHN: Masada Live At Tonic 2001 2CD (TZ 7334). $22.00

"You can always expect the unexpected to happen at a Masada concert, but when Masada plays at its home base Tonic, in the heart of New York's Lower East Side everything just shoots right off the scale. One of the most exciting live bands performing two of their most incredible live sets ever to an electrically charged packed house at the most important new club for new music in the world. Nights like this are what New York is all about. One magical evening on two CDs — over two hours of music."

ZORN, JOHN: Cobra CD (TZ 7335). $14.50

"One of the most often performed compositions in new music, the Cobra phenomenon lives on into the 21st Century with continuous monthly performances in Japan, Europe, Australia and the United States. Under the direction of the composer himself this newest recording gives Zorn's infamous game piece a startling new reading by some of downtown New York's leading improvisers. Cobra is never really Cobra without Zorn himself at the helm — and here the music takes some surprising turns that even he never expected. A 21st Century update of a 21st Century classic."

NAKED CITY: Naked City Live Vol. 1: Knitting Factory 1989 CD (TZ 7336). $14.50

"After over ten years, Tzadik is finally releasing an exciting series of live recordings by one of the most unique and infamous bands ever: Naked City. Featuring Bill Frisell, Fred Frith, Wayne Horvitz and Joey Baron this was a true downtown supergroup brought together to realize John Zorn's twisted compositional vision combining jazz, movie soundtracks, rock, rhythm and blues, hardcore punk, cartoon music, country and western and just about everything imaginable — often all in the same piece! This first volume is a beautifully recorded document of the band early on, performing live at the club that served as home base from their very first concert series in 1988 to their very last in 1993. Captured here performing the repertory of their legendary first recording many months before they entered the studio, this is Naked City at its gritty/fast changing best. New solos, wilder improvisations and some original compositions and covers that never appeared on disc make this an absolute must for all the Naked City fans around the world."

ZORN, JOHN: Masada First Live 1993 CD (TZ 7337). $14.50

"How many times do you get the chance to hear the initial meeting of a legendary band? This CD is just that. A diamond in the rough. The absolutely first time the original quartet Masada ever played the music that has made them one of the premier bands of modern Jewish music. It's all here — the fireworks, the telepathic communication — the Masada magic. Experience the same excitement the musicians felt when they realized the possibilities this very special September evening at the old Knitting Factory back in 1993. A little loose, a little wild — but completely compelling. It all started this night."

ZORN, JOHN: IAO CD (TZ 7338). $14.50

"The name IAO is Kabbalistically identical to the Beast and his number 666. In the tradition of Zorn's longform studio compositions Godard, Spillane, Elegy, Kristallnacht and Duras, yet completely unique in form and content, IAO is a hypnotic seven-movement suite of Alchemy, Mysticism, Metaphysics and Magic both black and white. Inspired in part by the esoteric works of Aleister Crowley and his magical disciple, filmmaker Kenneth Anger, the seven movements range from hypnotic exotica, ritualistic percussion and death metal to ambient, electronica and a stunning piece for female chorus. As varied and listenable as The Gift and as perplexing as Songs from the Hermetic Theater, IAO is a major new work by downtown's master of the unexpected." Performed by: Cyro Baptista, Jenifer Charles, Greg Cohen, Beth Hatton, Bill Laswell, Rebecca Moore, Mike Patton, Jim Pugliese, Jamie Saft & John Zorn.

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks XI: Under The Wing CD (TZ 7339). $14.50

"The latest volume in a continuing series documenting Zorn's varied and creative work for film features one of his most popular ensembles — the Masada String Trio. Feldman, Friedlander and Cohen are not only brilliant soloists, but also sensitive ensemble players, thoughtful composer/arrangers and the best of friends. Their incredible rapport is at its best in this haunting score for Aviva Slesin's documentary film on Jewish children hidden from the Nazis during the Shoah. Orchestral arrangements, intimate improvisations, lyricism and a handful of new Masada tunes make this time of Zorn's most memorable film scores."

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks XII: Three Documentaries CD (TZ 7340). $14.50

"The popular Filmworks series is a microcosm of the Zorn universe, following his maturing as a composer and his ever-widening musical interests. The music of Volume 12, all recorded in the space of a few weeks (March/April 2002), is as varied as the films they were written for. A touch of minimalism laces the score to Charles Dennis' film on New York's East Village dance scene; haunting and childlike, the music for a documentary on outsider artist Morton Bartlett is tenderly scored for voice and cello; finally, guitarist Marc Ribot goes head to head with Chinese pipa virtuoso Min Xiao-Fen for a film on the lives of Shaolin Monks who have come to America to spread the teachings of Buddha through the martial arts. Obsession, culture clash and minimalism from the crucible of John Zorn and his circle of creative musicians."

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks XIII: Invitation To A Suicide CD (TZ 7341). $14.50

"2002 proves to be a watershed year for Zorn, with this being his fifth film score in three months. Here, a taste of Ennio Morricone, Astor Piazzola, French musette and Nino Rota make up what is perhaps his greatest film score to date. At times bizarre, haunting, exhilarating and powerful, the lush sonorities of this dynamic group will surprise you as much as it did Zorn himself. A romantic new lyricism. A remarkable new direction. Unexpected, inevitable and absolutely essential."

PAINKILLER: Talisman (Live In Nagoya) CD (TZ 7342). $14.50

"Bringing together three of the most voracious and energetic musical minds in new music, PainKiller was one of the most intense live bands ever. Here they are captured at their absolute peak. Culminating their legendary 1994 tour of Japan in a masterful set featuring one of their longest and most inspired improvisations, the thirty-five minute Batrachophrenoboccosomachia. Beautifully recorded by the unsung fourth member of the group sound engineer Oz Frith and packaged in deliriously original artwork, Talisman is a long awaited new release by one of the most original and unique sax/bass/drum trios in musical history."

ZORN, JOHN: Filmworks XIV: Hiding and Seeking CD (TZ 7343). $14.50

"In a Martin Denny mold, Zorn has created a beautiful and exotic soundtrack with lyricism and a wry sense of humor. Scored for classical guitar, vibraphone, Brazilian percussion, acoustic bass and voice, and performed by an all-star unit from Zorn's exciting band Electric Masada, this is one of the most delightful additions to the popular FilmWorks series. Also features backing vocalist from the Smokey and Miho/Cibo Matto groups, Ganda Suthivarakonfl."

KEITH, RODD: I Died Today CD (TZ 7401). $14.50

First release in the Tzadik Lunatic Fringe series, which will "excavate the innermost views from some of the outermost reaches of human creativity, bringing to light some of the most intense creative acts of our time." The first release by Rod Keith is "A retrospective of an American original — the varied works of Rodd Keith (aka Rod Rogers), the musical auteur of MSR's send-us-your-lyrics record label, and insane genius of Beat of The Traps and The Makers of Smooth Music. America's most wretched lyrics transformed by a uniquely twisted sensibility. Jazz, rock, ballads and exotica like you've never heard before. Newly discovered recordings, curated by the artists' son, jazz saxophonist Ellery Eskelin." The aforementioned compilations of MSR-label material on the Carnage Press label have been consistently upheld as some of the finest novelty/genius documents released in our times, and this new CD (especially notable for the track "Hippy Happy Land") will surely continue that stream.

BUTLER, KEN: Voices Of Anxious Objects CD (TZ 7402). $14.50

"Tzadik's Lunatic Fringe series continues with the work of manic visual artist and master of musical mayhem, Ken Butler. Performing on hybrid instruments of his own creation...Ken Butler's may is a delightful anecdote to the humdrum sounds of today's popular stylings. Rubberband trumpet, double axe cello, hammer-bridge violin, golfclub sitar/tabla, and a not-so-conventional snowshovel, are just a few of the crazy instruments you will hear in this remarkable debut recording by one of music's most ingenious and eccentric personalities. Includes a 16-page full-color-booklet."

COHEN/MIKE BONER/HORSE COCK KIDS, DANNY: Self-Indulgent Music CD (TZ 7403). $14.50

"A passport to their unique worlds of sound. Danny Cohen and Mike Boner both hail from California, Horse Cock Kids are based in Munich, but they all share an intense passion for their own self-indulgent fantasies. Songs about sex, degeneracy, puberty, loss of identity, truth, love and boredom from three of the most howlingly original songwriters you have ever heard." Has been described as "The Frogs meets King Frog, recorded by Chadbourne's daughter, up on a hill, with a lot of fog and far too little hiss."

MCGREGOR, DION: Dion McGregor Dreams Again CD (TZ 7404). $14.50

"Dion McGregor dreams out loud, and his dreams are not very pretty. Tzadik invites you to eavesdrop on the horror in Dion McGregor's mind. In 1964 ten of Dion's tape-recorded dreams were released on album and quickly dropped out of print. This CD is it's sequel, drawn from the same source material — the spoke-aloud dreams of Dion McGregor as taped by his room mate Michael Barr between 1961 and 1967. Documented with extensive photos and a long essay by Dion scholar Phil Milstein, this is the ultimate document of the creativity of the human subconscious. A modern masterpiece."

COHEN, DANNY: Museum of Dannys CD (TZ 7405). $14.50

"The hero of last year's Self-Indulgent Music collection is back by popular demand, accompanied by his quirky band of kooks and renegades: Museum of Dannys is a compendium of Cohen's best work from the '70s, '80s, and '90s, and features his now-legendary underground hits 'Suicide' — 'Running in the Streets' — 'I'm Not Me' — and 'Judgement Day.' Arrangements as creative as Esquivel, lyrics as real as Dylan, hooks as catchy as Brian Wilson, Danny's unique blend of astral projections, bad tacos, Satanism and suicide has made him the most original songwriter since Daniel Johnston."

KEITH, RODD: Ecstasy To Frenzy CD (TZ 7406). $14.50

"Rodd Keith is known as one of the wildest and most creative of the 'send us your lyrics' composers, but Ecstasy To Frenzy shows us a hitherto unknown side of this twisted genius. Two versions of a recently unearthed extended studio composition featuring Rodd's legendary backwards vocals, maniacal organ playing and more. Added as bonus tracks are three of Rodd's song-poem masterpieces, including the infamous 'Beat of the Traps'. Explorations into another universe from one of the world's 'out-sider music' pioneers."

PATHOS: People CD (TZ 7407). $14.50

"Michael Henning has been performing since 1982. Raised on the Canadian prairie, he was classically schooled in violin, piano, voice and guitar. Discouraged by the parched landscape of contemporary Western classical music, he gave up playing entirely for cross country travel. By 1999, his experiences, however memorable and formative, had ruined his health. His problems continued to worsen... You have never heard anything like the music of Pathos. Heartfelt, over the top vocals accompanied by intense violin improvisations worthy of Mark Feldman at his wildest. Instrumentals touching upon his private theories of 'reinterpretative sampling' and 'tectonic counterpoint.' But through it all is his music's uncanny ability to be 'felt by bodies everywhere.' Pathos is the real thing, from the farthest reaches of creativity. So original, it's hard to believe it's true."

BERESFORD, STEVE: Cue Sheets CD (TZ 7501). $14.50

First releases in Tzadik's new Film Music series. "Improviser, composer, arranger, producer, vocal stylist and bon vivant, Steve Beresford is one of Europe's most charming and versatile musical minds. These varied and delightful cues originally composed for British film and television are performed by some of London's most brilliant musicians (Alexander Balanescu, Tony Coe, Mike Cooper, Annie Whitehead, Tony Bevan & the Emperor String Quartet). This is the first American release from the wide-ranging Beresford, who has played punk and pop (in the Slits, the Flying Lizards, the Frank Chickens), dub reggae (with Prince Far-I, African Head Charge), improvisation (with Derek Bailey, Han Bennink, John Zorn) and is perhaps best known for his lounge/MOR/TV-theme homage/parody project, The Melody Four."

SCHERER, PETER: Cronologia CD (TZ 7502). $14.50

"Evocative sound-scapes by an imaginative Swiss-born producer/composer who has worked with Caetano Veloso, Nana Vasconcelos, Laurie Anderson and choreographer Amanda Miller, and collaborated with Arto Lindsay as the Ambitious Lovers from 1984-91. Scherer's first solo album, Very Neon Pet, as released by EMI in 1995. Cronologia features harpist Zeena Parkins and brilliant Brazilian percussionists Nana Vasconcelos and Cyro Baptista." Scherer plays keyboards, sampler, etc. (also, was a member of the Swiss group Island whose 1977 album was recently reissued on Laser's Edge). Lovely, ambient-esque escalations that are perfectly suited for home listening.

FRITH, FRED: Eye to Eye CD (TZ 7503). $14.50

"Famous as an improviser and a rock guitarist (Henry Cow, Art Bears, Residents, Massacre, Skeleton Crew), Fred Frith is still highly under-rated as a composer. Since relocating to Germany in the early 90s, Frith has composed soundtracks for a number of films and has chosen his finest for his first Tzadik release." Features some brilliant, aggressive, largely guitar-based pieces, plus more stretched out atmospheric works.

RIBOT, MARC: Shoe String Symphonettes CD (TZ 7504). $14.50

"From brilliant surf guitar to perverse improvisation to Cuban rhythms, this eclectic compilation of his cinematic music displays the full range of his talents and the sick depths of his mind....listened as an album without the visuals, suggests a twisted and vivid narrative drama." Ribot on guitar, sampler, trumpet, banjo, alto horn; with Douglas, Zorn, Mori, Staley, Coleman, Baptista, and others.

SHARP, ELLIOT: Figure Ground CD (TZ 7505). $14.50

"Sharp's most eclectic album to date. Using guitars, saxophones, computers, analog synthesizers and kitchen sink, Sharp performs powerful scores for four films including Daddy & the Muscle Academy (a documentary on the life of pioneering gay fetish cartoonist Tom Of Finland) and The Salt Mines (a documentary about transvestite prostitutes living in salt warehouses in NYC). Sharp's music is as varied and eccentric as the films he writes for." Some really great loopy characteristics, processed patterns for guitar, and rhythmically inventive — totally worth the time to listen.

VASCONCELOS, NANA: Fragments: Modern Tradition CD (TZ 7506). $14.50

"The world's foremost Brazilian percussionist, Nana's stunning virtuosity is matched only by the originality of his compositional vision. The music here ranges from his trademark solo music to ensemble pieces featuring some of his favorite collaborators, among them Cyro Baptista and Egberto Gismonti, including a lovely piece for string orchestra. Nana's seductive voice and percussion is on the forefront throughout, weaving in and out of this delightful collection of award-winning film scores."

LONDON, FRANK: The Debt CD (TZ 7507). $14.50

"Frank London, a major voice in today's Jewish music renaissance, who has worked with the likes of LL Cool J, La Monte Young, Jane Siberry and Gal Costa, is a trumpeter, composer, arranger and musical scholar of startling range and creativity. The Debt, the first compilation of his work for film is the best place to jump into his musical universe containing as it does the widest variety of his musical obsessions. Latin grooves, burning jazz arrangements in the style of Charles Mingus, quirky experimental tracks, classical chamber compositions, moody sound pieces, funky bachelor pad music and a gorgeous suite scored for six female voices — over forty of NY's greatest musicians are brought here in a variety of ensembles to make this one of the most exciting and eclectic releases, by one of the most active musicians in the downtown scene."

MORI, IKUE: BiSide CD (TZ 7508). $14.50

"Ikue Mori's electric percussion is quite simply some of the most original and exciting work happening in electronic music today. For her third Tzadik release, Ikue has assembled a varied collection of her most interesting tracks originally recorded for use in the films of award winning avant garde filmmaker Abigail Child. Erik Friedlander, Zeena Parkins, Anthony Coleman and Kato Hideki are just a few of the musicians featured in this remarkable recording. Latin rhythms, ambient soundscapes, industrial intensity and infectious melodies from one of the world's greatest musical innovators."

LURIE, EVAN: *How I Spent My Vacation CD (TZ 7509). $14.50

"A veteran of NY's downtown scene, founding member of the infamous Lounge Lizards and a gifted composer, arranger and pianist, Evan Lurie has been the composer of choice for dozens of directors over the past ten years. For his first Tzadik release he has assembled an eclectic collection of some of his favorite film scores, all of which appear on CD here for the first time. Sensuous chamber music, a swinging suite for jazz septet and two gorgeous pieces for solo piano."

JOHNSTON, PHILLIP: *Music For Films CD (TZ 7510). $14.50

"Phillip Johnston has been charming and perplexing audiences for over 20 years with his lyrical music and ascetic wit. The mastermind behind such bands as the Microscopic Septet and the Transparent Quartet, Phillip has spent much of the past five years composing music for films. From silent classics by George Melies and Tod Browning's The Unknown, to award-winning contemporary features like Music of Chance, Phillip's film music shows him to be a brilliant tunesmith and creative arranger with a sophisticated sense of the dramatic."

LASWELL, BILL: *Filmtracks 2000 CD (TZ 7511). $14.50

"Featuring a wonderful array of Laswell regulars and many special guests, this fascinating disc of recent soundtrack work is one of the few collections that showcase the full range Laswell's vast, seemingly all-encompassing musical vision. Drum 'n' bass, funk, rock and dub all filtered through music from India, the Middle East, Africa and Asia come together in these eleven dramatic pieces created for films. One of new music's most prolific and versatile producer/performers, Bill Laswell has been creating music on a daily basis for well over twenty years and Filmtracks 2000 is one of his most varied and enjoyable discs. A must for Laswell fans, and a perfect introduction for the uninitiated."

SHARP, ELLIOTT: *Suspension Of Disbelief CD (TZ 7512). $14.50

"Elliott Sharp is one of the most versatile composer/performers on the downtown scene — a musician who has embraced free jazz, funk, blues, contemporary classical, rock, world music and distilled them all into his own unique amalgam. Suspension of Disbelief is his most varied album to date and is one of the few CDs that showcase the full range of his talents as a composer/multi-instrumentalist performer and recording engineer/producer. A fascinating compilation of sweeping electronics, jungle/jazz/psychodelia, fragmented sonics and distorted club sounds from one of the masters of downtown border crossing."

BERESFORD, STEVE: *Cue Sheets II CD (TZ 7513). $14.50

"More charming gems from the remarkable mind of world traveller/vocal stylist/composer/arranger/pianist Steve Beresford. A veteran of countless bands from the Slits to the Melody Four, Steve has been a central figure in the British improvising scene for over thirty years working with the likes of Derek Bailey, Evan Parker and Han Bennink. For the past decade he has concentrated most of his compositional efforts on tracks for independent British film and television. Strange sambas, jittery jazz, melancholy moods and more from one of the most consistently imaginative and creative musicians in Europe."

HORVITZ, WAYNE: *Film Music 1998-2001 CD (TZ 7514). $14.50

"Mastermind of Zony Mash, The President and veteran of countless projects with Bobby Previte and Bill Frisell, Wayne Horvitz has been making music since the mid-1970s. Delightfully varied and endlessly listenable, this compilation of soundtracks for television and film showcases his incredible versatility as producer, performer, composer and arranger. Over seventy minutes of sound cues touching upon jazz, funk, folk, ambient, world music and classical, are meticulously crafted into a variety of highly personal hybrids in Wayne's inimitable style. Featuring some of the greatest musicians on the Seattle scene, including longtime collaborator Bill Frisell, Film Music 1998-2001, is an instant classic by one of the most consistently creative musicians out of the downtown scene."

WIESELMAN, DOUG: *Dimly Lit: Collected Soundtracks 1996-2002 CD (TZ 7515). $14.50

"Born in L.A., Doug Wieselman has drifted back and forth from coast to coast most of his creative life, working with many of the country's greatest underground musicians. On the West Coast he has been co-leader of the San Francisco-based Kamikaze Ground Crew since 1983, musical director and composer for the Flying Karamazov Brothers and is a frequent collaborator with Wayne Horvitz in Seattle. In New York, he has been a veteran of bands led by, among others, Lou Reed, John Lurie and Anthony Coleman. The music here includes his score for the Oscar-winning documentary Long Way Home and features rare demos and new recordings of soundtrack compositions rearranged especially for Tzadik. A very special release by one of the most versatile musicians in the downtown scene."

RIBOT, MARC: *Filmworks 2 CD (TZ 7516). $14.50

"This second volume of Marc Ribot's music for films is one of the most eclectic and exciting CDs he's made to date. From 1930s swing to science fiction soundscapes, deep soul grooves to hypnotic moods for strings and guitar, Filmworks 2 is a fascinating program of miniature masterpieces from start to finish."

FRITH, FRED: *Eye To Ear II CD (TZ 7517). $14.50

"With a career spanning over three decades, Fred Frith continues his fruitful relationship on Tzadik with this, his, fifth release in as many years. Always breaking new ground, Eye to Ear II, the second volume dedicated to his work for films is an adventurous voyage into unexplored territory. Four amazing sound collages, improvisations and lyrical dance music from one of the most consistently original composer/performers working today."

MASSACRE: *Funny Valentine CD (TZ 7601). $14.50

"A legendary meeting of three contemporary masters: Fred Frith (guitar), Bill Laswell (bass) & Charles Hayward (drums). From Material, Arcana and Praxis, Henry Cow, Skeleton Crew, Keep The Dog and This Heat, these three geniuses have been involved in some of the greatest underground bands of the past several decades. Collaborating together for the first time, this is a dream project that takes the classic rock trio format to never-before-explored territories. An important document of improvisational rock at its most convulsive."

VA: *Hallelujah, Anyway: Remembering Tom Cora 2CD (TZ 7602). $22.00

"Tom Cora's premature death in 1997 was a tragic blow to contemporary music. One of the founding members of the downtown improvising scene, Tom was a vital member of some of the most important cutting-edge groups of the past twenty years, including Skeleton Crew, The Ex, Curlew, John Zorn's game pieces and Eugene Chadbourne pre-Shockabilly projects. This special 2CD set memorial, features poignant tributes by many of Tom's most distinguished collaborators, new recordings of Tom's most memorable compositions, and some of Tom's most important recordings, creating an exciting and vivid portrait of one of the most original musicians in new music. All profits from this set will go directly to Tom Cora's family."

BAILEY/JAMAALADEEN TACUMA/CALVIN WESTON, DEREK: *Mirakle CD (TZ 7603). $14.50

"Harmolodic noise funk for the 21st century. The godfather of improvisation in a freewheeling trio with the legendary Philly rhythm section of Jamaaladeen Tacuma and Calvin Weston, friends for over 30 years and veterans of Ornette Coleman's Prime Time, John Lurie's Lounge Lizards and various Blood Ulmer projects. Noise has never sounded so in tune, funk has never sounded so fucked up. You've never heard a meeting like this before, nor are you likely to again. Intense, fascinating, and howlingly funny."

SMITH, WADADA LEO: *Golden Quartet CD (TZ 7604). $14.50

"A longtime dream project of Wadada Leo Smith, one of creative music's most original voices, Tzadik is proud to present the first recording by a modern jazz supergroup. The four instrumental giants that comprise the Golden Quartet are veterans of some of the most influential bands in jazz history. Here they are at the height of their powers. Five new compositions bring together lyricism, groove and fireworks in this exciting recording destined to become a classic of new jazz. With Wadada Leo Smith, Anthony Davis, Malachi Favors Magoustous, Jack DeJohnette."

FRITH, FRED: *Clearing CD (TZ 7605). $14.50

"Fred Frith is one of the world's greatest originals on the guitar, a composer/performer who has been at the forefront of avant garde music since the early '70s. Clearing is his first solo guitar recording in over twenty years (since his classic Live In Japan of 1981) and his first solo studio recording since his groundbreaking Guitar Solos of 1974. Of the three existing solo recordings by this quirky musical master, Clearing is undoubtedly the most dynamic, the most direct and sonically the best recorded. An absolute must have for all fans of guitar music, improvisation and the avant garde."

MASSACRE: *Meltdown CD (TZ 7606). $14.50

"A blistering live performance by one of the greatest instrumental rock trios ever. Fred Frith, Bill Laswell and Charles Hayward have each been responsible for some of the greatest concerts in new music in the last twenty years, and collectively they take rock improvisation to ecstatic new heights. Beautifully recorded by longtime Laswell associate Oz Fritz at Robert Wyatt's Meltdown Festival in London, 2001, Meltdown is one of the most exciting recordings by this dynamic supergroup."

BAILEY, DEREK: *Ballads CD (TZ 7607). $14.50

"Yes, this is for real. Experimental guitar wizard Derek Bailey performs a program of his favorite standards in his own inimitable and enigmatic style. Inspired and energized by a very special vintage acoustic arch-top guitar, this intriguing solo recording is a one-of-a-kind chance to hear the master pioneer of non-idiomatic free improvisation perform compositions from the American Songbook. A textbook of originality for years to come, this is one of the most vexing arid enjoyable CDs Derek has ever made. You have got to hear it to believe it. Insightful liner notes by Marc Ribot vainly attempts to explain the proceedings."

BAPTISTA, CYRO: *Beat The Donkey CD (TZ 7608). $14.50

"Madman virtuoso Cyro Baptista has played with an incredible range of musicians, from Paul Simon, Wynton Marsalis, Cassandra Wilson and Herbie Hancock to Medeski, Martin and Wood, Phish and Sting. A distinctive composer and vocalist in his own right, Beat the Donkey is his most exciting and longest running project. An astounding live show rivaling Stomp! and Blue Man Group, in combining theater, dance and the martial arts with dynamic percussion music from around the world and soulful vocals, Cyro Baptista's Beat the Donkey is a wild and hilarious party for the ears."

FIER, ANTON: *Dreamspeed/Blindlight 1992-1994 2CD (TZ 7609). $22.00

"Anton Fier is well-known in rock circles as the drummer for the Feelies, the original Lounge Lizards and mastermind of the Golden Palominos, but these two CDs, both long out of print many well be his best work. Featuring Japanese vocalists Phew and Makino Kazu (Blonde Redhead), bass terrorist Bill Laswell, Bootsy Collins, Buckethead and many of Anton's longtime collaborators, Dreamspeed/Blindlight 1992-1994 is the definitive document of one of the Downtown scene's most elusive musicians."

SMITH, WADADA LEO: *Kabell Years 1971-1979 4CD (TZ 7610). $46.00

"From 1971-1979 Wadada Leo Smith released four albums on his own, privately pressed label Kabell. Under the supervision of the composer, this material has now been collected, remastered and coupled with over two hours of unreleased bonus tracks, including the second set of the influential Reflectivity concert and the legendary Mapezi solo concert from 1976. Complete with a twenty-eight page booklet featuring session photos and tributes from musical associates such as George Lewis, Alvin Singleton, Larry Ochs, Anthony Davis, Bobby Naughton, Henry Kaiser and John Zorn, this is an essential collection from the peak period of one of Creative Music's most important composer/performers."

VA: *Irving Stone Memorial Concert 2CD (TZ 7611). $22.00

Featuring: Tim Berne, Roy Campbell, Lesli Dalaba & Wayne Horvitz, Mark Feldman & Sylvie Courvoisier, Satoko Fujii, Charles Gayle, Annie Gosfield, Shelley Hirsch, Okyung Lee, Mephista, Oscar Noriega, William Parker Big Band, Chris Speed, David Swolessen, John Zorn, Stephanie Stone and many others. "Irving Stone was a fixture on the downtown music scene since the mid-seventies. Every musician knew and respected this longtime music aficionado who had seen everything from Bird with Bud to Dolphy with Trane. His presence at a gig always meant that this was THE hip place to be. His passing in June 2003 was a great loss to the community. This special two CD set features highlights from the touching twelve hour musical tribute held at Tonic. Heartfelt performances by many of the greatest names in the downtown scene, musicians whom he loved and that loved him."

XTATIKA: *Tongue Bath CD (TZ 7701). $14.50

"The new Tzadik Oracles series is proud to begin with the unique visions of singer/songwriter Haena Kim. Featuring hypnotic, trippy vocals, nasty electric bass and two driving Korean percussionists, this is a band that opens up an exciting new world of sound. You've never heard anything like Xtatika — a magical blend of alternative rock with Korean traditional music. Pansori via Nine Inch Nails."

IBARRA TRIO, SUSIE: *Songbird Suite CD (TZ 7702). $14.50

"Born in California, raised in Texas and a New York resident since 1989, Susie Ibarra has become one of the most distinctive drummers in the world. Her latest project is a supergroup that crosses all borders. Driving rhythms and moody atmospheres are shaded with romance, lyricism and mystery. Featuring Susie's exotic percussion, the classical violin of virtuoso Jennifer Choi, Craig Taborn's angular pianistic fireworks and laptop electronics pioneer Ikuo Mori, Songbird Suite is a delicate and complex recording that introduces an exciting new world of sound."

HONDA, YUKA: *Memories Are My Only Witness CD (TZ 7703). $14.50

"A beautiful CD of quirky instrumentals from the hip mind of Yuka Honda, co-founder of the pop band Cibo Matto. Combining a wry sense of humor with wit, elegance and impeccable taste, Yuka's charming instrumental miniatures cross all musical borders hypnotizing you with funky breakbeats, heartfelt melodies and nostalgic soundscapes. Recorded at her home studio and featuring longtime associates Duma Love, Timo Ellis, Bill Ware and Dougie Bowne, this is a breakthrough project for Yuka Honda, who is moving into a new musical universe on the heels of the demise of Cibo Matto."

MEPHISTA: *Black Narcissus CD (TZ 7704). $14.50

Mephista is: Susie Ibarra (drums), Sylvie Courvoisier (piano) & Ikue Mori (electronics). Features cover artwork by Salvador Dali! "Three of downtown's most dynamic performers join forces to form Mephista — one of the first all women supergroups. Separately these three have worked with some of the most important musicians in new music (Derek Bailey, Wadada Leo Smith, Pauline Oliveros, William Parker, John Zorn, Fred Frith, Mike Patton, Dave Douglas, etc.) — together they have created a whole new kind of music spanning the worlds of rock, classical, jazz and electronica. Sensitive, powerful and exotic, Black Narcissus is an instant classic of improvisation from the heart of the modern women's movement."

HIRSCH, SHELLEY: The Far In, Far Out Worlds of Shelley Hirsch CD (TZ 7705). $14.50

"Vocal acrobat, improviser, raconteur, chanteuse and so much more, Brooklyn born Shelley Hirsch has been a central figure in the downtown scene since the mid '70s, collaborating with just about every important figure in new music. This special collection brings together many of her most important pieces, now sounding better than ever in remastered, updated definitive versions. Including hard-to-find recordings, rare live performances and new pieces never before available, The Far In, Far Out Worlds of Shelley Hirsch is the ultimate collection of one of the most original and charismatic vocalists of our time."

KIHLSTEDT, CARLA: Two Foot Yard CD (TZ 7706). $14.50

"Carla Kihlstedt is one of the most versatile violinists in new music, is much at home performing Stravinsky's Histoire du Soldat on the concert stage, swinging jazz solos in the popular Tin Hat Trio, scraping noise improvisations with Derek Bailey, or rocking out at CBGBs with her SF based band Sleepytime Gorilla Museum. 2 Foot Yard, her first CD under her own name is a creative compendium of genre-breaking instrumentals and vocal miniatures, featuring some of the greatest performers out of the exciting SF/Bay Area scene."

BRAZELTON/DAFNA NAPHTALI, KITTY: What Is It Like To Be a Bat? CD (TZ 7707). $14.50

"Kitty Brazelton has been a mover and shaker in the downtown scene for well over a decade; a singer, bandleader and composer of striking originality. Here she performs two extended suites of twisted, powerful chamber rock blending a raucous punk aesthetic with vocal harmonies, noise and much more. Complex, visionary weirdness from one of the strangest minds in contemporary music." Kitty Brazelton: voice, computer soundtracks, electric bass, sampler; Dafna Naphthali: voice, live audio; processing, max/msp, electric guitar; Danny Tunick: drums, octapad, voice, electric bass, sampler, soprano recorder; Paul Geluso: filtering, voice.

MUNA ZUL: Muna Zul CD (TZ 7708). $14.50

"Featuring three beautiful young women singing creative new Latino music, Muna Zul is an exciting a cappella vocal trio from Mexico City. Seamlessly interweaving Mexican folk themes with pop, rock and world beat, their music is charming and infectious. This is a CD you will return to again and again, finding new delights with each listening."

SCHEINMAN, JENNY: Shalagaster CD (TZ 7709). $14.50

"Jenny Scheinman, a frequent collaborator of guitarist Bill Frisell, is one of the most sought-after violinists on the scene today. Her second CD for Tzadik, created especially for the Oracles series, features her brilliant quartet augmented by the beautiful keyboards of Myra Melford. Eleven dynamic new compositions, masterfully conceived, make up this heartfelt program of modern folk jazz."

RED POCKET: Thick CD (TZ 7710). $14.50

"Following on the enormous success of her Radical Jewish masterpiece Trilectic, composer, singer, bandleader and hellraiser Jewlia Eisenberg has created a rocking collection of songs about women, men, relationships, more women and romance. Performed by some of the best musicians in the Bay Area, Jewlia's new compositions are some of her best, filled with passion, catchy hooks and avant garde lyricism. Thick is an important contribution to the Oracles series."

MEPHISTA: Entomological Reflections CD (TZ 7711). $14.50

"Featuring the colorful piano of Sylvie Courvoisier, the groundbreaking laptop electronics of Ikue Mori and the dynamic drumming of Susie Ibarra, Mephista is one of the most spectacular new music groups working today, a perfect blend of heart, fire and mind. Following up on their brilliant debut CD Black Narcissus, Entomological Reflections contains more adventurous improvisations and several radical new compositions."

SIMONS, DAVID: Prismatic Hearing CD (TZ 8001). $14.50

"David Simmons is a composer/performer who combines percussion, theremin, digital electronics, and World Music in strikingly original compositions that defy classification. A close collaborator of vocalist Shelley Hirsch, David has toured with Samul Nori, Gamelan Son of Lion, Samm Bennett, Denman Maroney and the Estonian Perception Unit. His first CD for Tzadik presents the full range of his work, and is a fascinating compendium of experimental pieces, both acoustic and electric."

FELDMAN, MORTON: Patterns In A Chromatic Field CD (TZ 8002). $14.50

Performed by: Charles Curtis (cellos), Aleck Karis (piano); recorded 2003. "The definitive recording of one of Morton Feldman's most important and challenging pieces, played at the composer's marked tempos, and taking all the notated repeats. Fitting neatly onto one CD, this is Feldman at his most extreme. A dramatic display of virtuosity performed with passion and precision by two of the leading exponents of new music in the world. Out of Feldman's enormous oeuvre, Patterns in a Chromatic Field stands apart as a work of sudden change, contrast and surprise, and as such fits perfectly into the Tzadik catalog."

MESINAI, RAZ: Cyborg Acoustics CD (TZ 8003). $14.50

"Composer, DJ, engineer and producer Raz Mesinai was born in Jerusalem and raised in New York City. His compositions blend electronics, beats and dub effects with acoustic instruments in creating an esoteric musical tapestry filled with new sonorities and a haunting spirituality. Dramatic and mysterious, his third CD for Tzadik features a host of downtown luminaries including violin virtuoso Mark Feldman and saxophone alchemist John Zorn in some of the most complex and soulful electro-acoustic music around."

ADLER, CHRISTOPHER: Epilogue for a Dark Day CD (TZ 8004). $14.50

"A remarkable young composer out of the Lou Harrison mold and a virtuoso on the khaen mouth organ, Christopher Adler splits his time between California and Thailand where he collaborates with many of the country's greatest classical musicians. For his first CD he has chosen a varied program of solo music and ensembles blending traditional Thai classical instruments with those of the West. Featuring music for percussion ensemble, an evocative trio for khaen, violin and viola, a large ensemble work for Thai classical instruments and a few virtuosic solos for mouth organ, this is beautiful cross cultural music with honesty, imagination and a deep sense of respect for tradition."

U-COVER (BELGIUM):

STARFISH POOL: CD (UCOVER 001). $16.00

Repress of this impressive CD from 1999. "The only true Belgian underground minimal techno-act is back with hard, minimal and industrial-like techno with elektro influences for the Autechre/Surgeon likers, minus tracks that go even further with ambience excellence alongside the known uptempo 4/4 tracks. It's dark and you'll love it."

LLIPS VS. STARFISH POOL: Sweetwater CD (UCOVER 003). $16.00

"Through the distribution network Starfish Pool (a.k.a. Koen Lybaert) came in contact with Llipsis. (who's identity still remains anonymous). They appreciated each others releases so much that a versus-collaboration project saw the light of cyberday. New York's lofi-electronic act Llipsis and Starfish Pool worked out a superb release combining filmish sounds, guitarscapes, icy vocals, weird spoken samples and electronic trickery. Six tracks of Llipsis versus four tracks of Starfish Pool with all of them bringing a combination of beautiful sounds and subtle electronica. Again a limited edition release on 855 copies only for the world."

KOCH, TIM: Islandtones CD (UCOVER 014). $16.00

"Bright new album by Australian Tim Koch. His musical career began with playing bass and drums in local bands, afterwards approaching the electronic scene where he has reached a very nice status. Even though he is more known for his video-game styled and IDM electronica, Koch also has the sheer talent to create beautiful ambient or pop pieces with a fine sense of composition. In this 16-track album Koch shows his more emotive, ambient and mellow side without letting behind the beats and rhythms. The compositions result in a perfect balance flowing into gentle melodies, rhythmic complexities, bright sounds, emotional soundscapes, beautiful atmospheres and contagious beats, showing the maturity of this musician. Fans of Autechre, Arovane and Lackluster will surely enjoy this album."

U-COVER 40 (BELGIUM):

ONTAYSO: Score Of An Imaginary Iceland CD (UCOVER 40/01). $16.00

"Ontayso consists of former members of Llipsis & Starfish Pool, here returning on the new UCover sublabel U-Cover 40. Each release will contain 40 minutes of music and will be limited on 500 copies for the world. Score Of An Imaginary Iceland brings a combination of acoustic instrumentation and fine electronics. Lofi guitars, melodic sax and subtle percussions are mixed with layers of electronic manipulation of acoustic sounds, field recordings, samples, and several synthesizers. The result is very cinematic, you can picture the imaginary movie of this 'soundtrack' in your head, floating in dark and breathtaking ambient surroundings."

UGLY THINGS:

MISUNDERSTOOD, THE: The Lost Acetates 1965 - 1966 CD (UT 2201CD). $13.50

"14 amazing, newly discovered, unreleased tracks; High quality sound restoration and mastering; CD package includes 12 full-color pages with full liner notes by Mike Stax. The Misunderstood may just be the greatest lost band of the 1960s. They had the gifts, the creativity, the chemistry, the ambition, the drive — all the ingredients to make it, plus that extra indefinable 'magic' in their sound, which in its purest moments seemed tuned to a wonderful and strangely magnetic frequency. Torn apart by the Vietnam War draft the band was denied the breakthrough they deserved. Through reissues of tracks like 'Children of the Sun' and 'I Can Take You to the Sun' their name has become a legend with connoisseurs of sixties garage and psychedelia. However, until now nobody has heard this amazing set of unreleased tracks recorded in Riverside, California and London, England in 1965-66. The only surviving acetates were carefully stored away by drummer Rick Moe after the original band broke up. They were only recently rediscovered. These historic discs contain some of the most exciting music they ever recorded, from raw, pounding garage blues to electrifying psychedelic rock. Lavishly packaged and lovingly remastered, The Lost Acetates is guaranteed to blow the minds of all fans of sixties garage and psych."

MISUNDERSTOOD, THE: The Lost Acetates 1965 - 1966 LP (UT 2201LP). $16.00
LP version.

ULTIMATE DILEMMA (UK):

PEANUT BUTTER WOLF: Badmeaningood - Volume 3 CD (UD 020 CD). $16.00

"This Los Angeles DJ, Stones Throw Record Label Owner, Producer, Remixer and Record Collector has been living life in the hip-hop lane since he first heard the Sugarhill Gang in 1979. In keeping with the Badmeaningood ethos, his mix is a journey through his influences and records he feels helped to shape Hip-Hop, a real mixed bag dabbling in Rap, 60's Psychedelia, Funk, Electro and Soul. It features tracks from Grandmaster Flash, Cold Crush Brothers, Roy Ayers, The Human League and some of the finest breaks known to man, woman or dancefloor! Personal. Musical. A hiphop chronicle."

PEANUT BUTTER WOLF: Badmeaningood- Volume 3 2LP (UD 020 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

SCRATCH PERVERTS: Badmeaningood 2LP (UD 021 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

RUNAWAYS: Classic Tales CD (UD CD 003). $10.00

"Runaways are Joe 2000 and AJ. Previously known as RPM, they recorded for Mo'Wax, releasing the classic '2000/Sortie Des Hombres', as well as being featured on the seminal Headz compilations. Now they're back with their debut album, Classic Tales. It is a heady mix of loops, samples, epic strings and beats to die for. From the classical guitar sampling 'Levitacion' right through to the 'Outro', this is one unique, cool ride throughout the contemporary beatscene." Reduced price.

ULTRA HARD GEL:

HAINO/SHOJI HANO, KEIJI: The Strange Face CD (GEL 01 CD). $13.50

"Long delayed studio collaboration between Shoji Hano (Poly Breath Percussion, Dai So-ongakudan) and Tokyo icon Keiji Haino. Forty-five minutes of improvised takes, recorded at the end of 1999. "Whenever I play with Haino I feel that we share, through our improvisation during the time that we play together, our deep-rooted existence, individuality, and way of living. During this recording in particular, I experienced the world of expansion in sound. I felt this even as an expansion of space, transcending sound itself. In the short time it takes to listen to this CD, I think you might experience what I am trying to describe." — Hano."

ULTRA-MAIL PROD. (HONG KONG):

AUBE: RM4 CD (UMP 001 CD). $15.00

"Track 2 is the mixed version which was released as 2 x 3 CD-R (G.R.O.S.S. Dec. 2001 in Ltd.ed. 22 copies). Sound & design by Akifumi Nakajima (Aube). Material: rusty metal. Limited edition 1000 copies."

AUBE: Duplex-Sphere CD (UMP 002CD). $15.00

TRK 1-4: recreated live recordings in 1993-1995 by 2 voltage controlled oscillators. TRK 5-6: recorded in June-July 1996 by a voltage controlled oscillator. Sound and design : Akifumi Nakajima / Aube. Editon of 445 numbered copies.

ULTRAMACK (UK):*AMBULANCE: Sleet 12" (UMACK 00). $9.00

"Dublin's U:Mack (formerly Ultramack) crew have done it again. Unearthing another firenishly talented source of electronic alchemy. Learn to love lushly along with Mouse On Mars, Autechre, even early 808 State."

ANODYNE: CD (UMACK 005). $16.00

"Originally released in Ireland in 1996, this startling collection of off-centre electro trickery and techno stomp is reissued to coincide with Anodyne's appearance on the new Skam Record's Mask EP [this has got to be the most ludicrous marketing angle ever!]. The current climate of Rephlex/Warp/Skam-type malarkey will be more than complimented by the arrival of this 3-years-ahead-of-its-time set, which neatly fuses caustic drill'n'bass with perversely a-rhythmic speaker damage and industrial strength bass pounding. However, the audio assault course is smartly juxtaposed with lush, 808 State-style melodic interludes, hard hip hop breaks and plunging electro dub."

DEEP BURIAL: Blood Samples CD (UMACK 007). $16.00

"From the deeply creative Dublin Bunker that houses Decal and the Phunk City crew comes this unnerving 9 track set of slo-mo dark-core beat music that starts off from an instrumental hip hop standpoint and steadily progresses into heavily frayed and decayed excursions on the outer reaches of the breakbeat galaxy. The loops of fog-funk are shot through with displaced paranoia and vague nausea; produced with a minimal set up of sampler and drum machine, much of its 'charm' coming from the decidedly un-hip use of snatches of old punk & ska singles, this menacing collection ranks alongside the likes of Tricky, New Kingdom, the Isolationist and Slotek in terms of grinding, lo-fi uneasy listening."

UMMO:*HOOKEER, WILLIAM: Tibet CD (UMMO 1). $14.00

Manufactured/distributed by Table of the Elements. "Here he again unleashes the 'fiery power of the cosmic word' with these recordings that feature Donald Miller (Borbetomagus) on guitar, Mark Hennen on piano, and Charles Compo on saxophone. Shuddering under the white light of his freeform aesthetic, Tibet is an ecstatic-orgone-chemical fire you can't put out."

UMMO (JAPAN):*VA: Vox Vision #1 CD (UOCA 1003). $20.00

"Another compilation from Ummo includes Tabatamara (Zeni Geva), Ootani (Shincho-2m), Masaki Tsuchii (from Psychedelic Jumper), Toyohito Yoshikawa (ex-Boredoms; Grind Orchestra), Atsushi Tsuyama (Omoide Hatoba), Hiroki Misawa (Love Joy), Shintaro Yakamoto (Yurayura Teikoku), Seiichi Yamamoto (Boredoms). Every musician has very strong character in this compilation." Deconstructed blues, strange bedroom pop/psych, exp. vocal groaning from Yoshikawa — your basic schizophrenic compilation. Limited supply.

UNBEARABLE CANDIES:*VA: Unbearable Candies CD (UNB CIDD). $15.00

"The first CD compilation of those ever so cute 'Unbearable 7"'s'. Featuring every track from the first six excursions into wired booty electro, HAL 9000 love songs, melodic mood enhancers, electronic wonderment and much much more. Partially re-constructed by our distinguished panel of future Unbearable heroes. Exclusive remixes by Nish_, Duplo Remote, Cex, V/V/M."

UNCIVILIZED WORLD (FRANCE):*VA: Welcome To The Rave CD (UWE 143CD). $16.00

"14 tracks compilation, faithful to the rave sounds of the 90's. Gathering the main artists from the techno and housy scene, DJs or producers, this CD includes tracks from Jeff Mills, Slam, Joey Beltram, Vitalic, Laurent Garnier, Dave Clarke, The Hacker..."

UNCLE BUZZ:*CREVICE: 2 CD (UBR 04). $11.00

"After Crevice I was released, the weirdos in town really started coming out of the woodwork. First, the group began receiving bizarre tape loops in the mail from a local guitar-cello-effects nut. Next came the violinist, then the two sax players and a guy who made music by blowing into toilet paper rolls and smashing up Barry Manilow records 'to force the records to make better music than they were originally created to make.' Naturally, they were asked to join the group. The weirdness is definitely still there. The tripped-out atmospheres, synth-washes, and disembodied voices, now joined by violins, cellos, saxes, flute come on like some fucked-up orchestra from Mars. But the album can be downright pretty at times with its strange, soft passages and hypnotic drones."

MISSION GIANT: Friends of Sound CD (UBR 06). $11.00

"From Denton, TX comes Mission Giant. This is spacey stuff, 100% head music — it reminds us of some of our favorites: Cluster, Suicide, Stereolab, Perrey & Kingsley...but with a more Southwestern edge: strange backwoods voices occasionally pop out of the mix of Moogs, banjo's piano, organ and videogames as the band keeps chuggin' along with their minimalist rhythms and polite guitar."

UNDER THE COUNTER (UK):*MATOS PRESENTS DISKO METHOD, EDDIE: Ghetto Style CD (UTC 001 CD). $21.00

"Eddie is better known as half of house music's revered NY duo, Mateo and Matos. Together these two have built a reputation as prodigious as their back catalogue. They have recorded for Henry Street, Nitegrooves, Nervous, Freeze and Large, Spiritual Life and Glasgow Underground. The pair have also been in demand as remixers; notable clients include Grandmaster Flash and Femi Kuti. The Ghetto Style tracks see a healthy dollop of sweet disco soulfulness seep into the mix. Jumpin' cut-ups rub shoulders with late night grooves." Looks & feels like a Glasgow Underground release; in an similar ecstatic/underground house style.

WACKDADDIES: Fear of a Wack Planet CD (UTC 002 CD). $21.00

"The Wackdaddies are Tony Senghore and Paul Woolford. They first came to the attention of Under the Counter through their hyped-up Daft Punk style grooves on Tony's own Anonym Records. It was only a matter of time before their rocking beats thrust their way into a more serious project, and the idea for Fear of a Wack Planet was born. Mixing up their love of system shaking drums and crazy hip hop licks, the album takes Daft Punk's Homework and gives it a spin through Snoop Doggy's blender."

DJ Q: Counteraction CD (UTC 004 CD). $19.00

Totally pumping deep house mix album from Glasgow. "Counteraction is their first compilation, rounding up the last two years of floor-play from one of Glasgow's finest label's to date. Here Fun Boy Flynn (Q's nom de plume on UTC) takes us on a roller-coaster ride through the UTC catalogue. Kicking off with the cheeky seventies funk of Eddie Matos' 'Twenty Years Ago', he smoothly cuts through the cool retro chic of Matos' 'Naughty' into the sweet Latin swirl of Blackman's 'Sunshine Thing'. From there, Q heads into the tougher territory of Nostalgia's 'Blue Guitar' before firing full steam ahead into the peak-time mayhem of Sandy Rivera, The Wackdaddies, Kevin McKay, Paul Flynn, etc."

DJ Q: Counteraction 2LP (UTC 004 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

UNDERGROUND RESISTANCE:*DJ ROLANDO: Aztec Mystic Mix CD (UR 049 CD). $15.00

Repressed, real CD pressing this time! Awesome studio mix CD by Underground Resistance's DJ Rolando. Featuring previously vinyl-only tracks (and a few exclusives) from: UR, the Martian, Octave One, The Aztec Mystic, Drexcia, Afrogermanic, Dark NRG, MIA, Mad Mike & the Suburban knight. A sweeping, powerful statement from the 313 underground collective and one of the most outright desirable mix albums of recent times. "DJ Rolando grew up on Detroit's southwest side, in a predominantly Latino neighborhood, in the smoke-screen of Ford's might Rouge assembly plant. Raised on a steady diet of mixes, blends, cuts, scratches, backspins, transformations and reverse edits provided by Detroit radio legend, Jeff 'The Wizard' Mills, Duane 'In The Mix' Bradley, the Electrifying Mojo, and Alan 'Fast Forward' Oldahm, Rolando's musical vastness came from these DJs that had absolutely no limits! This openminded approach to DJing resounds in Rolando's sets and makes him devastating due to his understanding of how these various musical forms interact and more importantly how an inner city audience reacts to them. This sonic school of knowledge manifested into Rolando and earned him the reputation of being one of southwest Detroit's best DJs."

UNDERGROUND RESISTANCE: Actuator 12" (UR 058). $6.50

Vinyl 12" version.

UNDERGROUND RESISTANCE: Actuator 7" (UR 058-7). $4.00

A new series of 7" versions of 12"'s from the Underground Resistance family of label. "The 7" versions have different B sides than the 12"'s and the A sides are shorter mixes. We wanted to have a vinyl product available to the consumer that necessarily does not DJ for an inexpensive price."

AZTEC MYSTIC, THE: Aguila 12" (UR 059). $6.50

"The long awaited follow-up from UR's DJ Rolando AKA The Aztec Mystic. Featuring: Remix by Orlando 'Fix' Voorn."

AZTEC MYSTIC, THE: Aguila 7" (UR 059-7). $4.00

7" version.

AQUANAUTS, THE: The Spawn 12" (UR 060). $6.50

Side A: 'The Spawn' (Genetic Continuation Mix); Side B: 'Relentless' (Xpect No Mercy Mix). The Aquanauts are "the spawn of Drexcia". Additional mono-poly keyboards by: 038.

AQUANAUTS, THE: Relentless/Bubble Beats 7" (UR 060-7). $4.00

7" version, with exclusive b-side. Tracks: "Relentless (edit)", "Bubble Beats" (produced by Mr. Bubble, edits by S2).

DJ ROLANDO A.K.A. THE AZTEC MYSTIC: Revenge Of The Jaguar — The Mixes 12" (UR 2000). $6.00

Tracklisting Side A: "Loops", "Jaguar (Dance Of The Cat Remix by Jeff Mills)", "Loops", "Jaguar (Spiritual Transformation Remix by Mad Mike)". Side B: "Jaguar (Dance Of The Global Tribe Remix by Octave One)". CD version forthcoming. A series of remixes of 1999's unstoppable UR anthem, "Jaguar". That record was such a major crossover sensation in '99 that a division of Sony in Germany (aware that a legit license of the track for use on cheesy Euro-dance compilations would be improbable) decided to release an anonymous "tone by tone" cover of the record. A distasteful move from almost any perspective, UR are fighting back with the a re-promotion of the original version, plus this remix EP. A reproduction of Sony's laughable justification for this fiasco can be found at: <http://www.submerge.com/index2.html>

UNDERGROUND RESISTANCE: Inspiration 12" (UR 3000). $6.00

First new UR tracks in a while, produced by Mad Mike. The b-side features a long spoken overlay that gets to the heart of the matter, very much a blow-up record for the return of UR.

UNFOLD (UK):*VA: Heavyweight Rib Ticklers Compiled By Mr. Scruff CD (UNFOLD 001CD). $15.00

"Ever wonder what the nation's top DJs listen to? The stuff they really like. Well wonder no longer — upstart Brighton imprint Unfold are here to fill us in, clue us up, and enhance our collections while they're at it, kicking off with Stockport's finest, Mr Scruff. Unfold is actually the new venture from Brighton eclectic types Tru Thoughts Records, and those familiar with the Brighton record label will guess that first release Heavyweight Rib Ticklers is hardly your average artist-picked compilation. It's not a mix of the year's top chart tunes, nor the same old chill-out tosh. Nope, it's Mr Scruff's favourite records. Or rather, his favourite records the day Unfold rang him. And that meant reggae. Heavyweight Rib Ticklers is a glorious Caribbean fish fry that'll shake even the most steadfast of booties. We're not talking The Best Of Eddy Grant here either, it's still slap-bang full of Scruff's trademark breakbeat, soul, funk and disco. Just in a rub-a-dub style." Artists include: The Wailers, Music Doctors, Observer Allstars, Butch Cassidy Sound System, Henry and Louis, El Malo, Bjorn Torske, Reggie Steppa, Ninjaman & Flourgon, Truth, Sons of Silence, Dry and Heavy.

VA: Unfold Presents... Phonic Hoop (Compiled by Rob Luis) CD (UNFOLD 002 CD). $15.00

"The second compilation from Brighton's crate-digging, hip swinging Unfold label. After Mr Scruff's hugely popular reggae opener, phonic hoop is a flavour of things to come — 12 diverse cuts reflecting the tastes of Brighton quasi-legend Robert Luis, traversing the spectrum from soulful breakbeats through crazy-arsed ragga to cutting edge UK hip hop, much of it rarer than the juiciest of steaks and all successfully road-tested at Rob's long-running club night, from which the LP takes its name." Features: Digi Onze, Quantic, Georg Levin, Flytronix, Corrina Joseph, Zero db, Headtop, Clean, The Ragga Twins, Macka B, Life, Dzhian & Kamien.

VA: Unfold Presents... Phonic Hoop (Compiled by Rob Luis) 3LP (UNFOLD 002 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version.

UNHIP RECORDS (ITALY):*LALI PUNA/ISAN: Common Ground/Little Boy Sitting Up In Bed Looking At The Mo 7" (UNHIP 002). $6.00

"Lali Puna are from Munich, Germany and have released two great albums for their label Morr Music plus an EP, various singles and remixes. Their fresh and unique approach to electro-pop have had many people turning their ears to listen to them (Radiohead, Andrew Weatherall?). Here they pull out a very moody and dark track, with Valerie's lush and soothing vocals again making a difference. UK's duo ISAN have released many records on various labels before landing on planet Morr. They can be considered without any doubt the pioneers of 'heartfelt electronica', a genre which has now gained many followers. Their track for Unhip was first heard in a different version on their 1999 Peel Session."

PAN AMERICAN/TO ROCOCO ROT: Station Clock/For Bologna 7" (UNHIP 003). $7.00

"Mark Nelson co-founded in 1992 the Richmond VA trio of Labradford, regarded by many as one of the most important and influential bands of the 90s. He composed 'Station Clock' for this split single, managing to put on the same track the best elements of his solo output (the engaging dubby rhythms accompanied by electronic glitches). To Rococo Rot come up with 'For Bologna' (a flattering homage to the Unhip label and its birthplace), a track which finally resolves the conflict between abstract electronica and contemporary dance music. It's their grooviest and most dancefloor-friendly track ever but it's also filled with subtle compositional elements that either creep at the lower amplitudes or appear in seemingly random instances. Both tracks are new and exclusive to this single."

LAND OF THE LOOPS FEAT. TIPSYP/BUCKMINSTER FUZEBOARD: Split EP CD (UNHIP 004CD). $12.00

"Land of the Loops is a smooth sampledelic adventure into the mind of beat juggling, mix-making, experimental musician and art teacher Alan Sutherland, who turned to quirky electronica after he conned his parents to buy him a sampler for college graduation. The Boston via-Brooklyn sonic collagist thrives on goofy samples placed over hypnotic, sci-fi beats and tweaked bass hooks, all of which spiral drunkenly into the brain creating a fresh breath of analogue air into the digital sea that now calls itself electronica."

UNIFORM (ICELAND):

VA: Heartbeat (Sunday Sessions In Reykjavik) CD (UNI 10 CD). $14.00

"Compilation from Heartbeat, the most legendary clubnight in Reykjavik to date... Originally founded by Bjork and Steph (Gus Gus), this compilation features some of the many artists to have played there. Includes: J-Walk 'This Is A Soul Vibration' (exclusive), DMX Crew, Gus Gus 'Ladypunk' (exclusive), Bjork 'All Is Full Of Love' (exclusive video mix), Mike Paradinas 'Ceiling' (exclusive), Q Burns Abstract Message 'Feel' (Dub) (exclusive), Die Skitz & Rhetna 'Precious Methods' (exclusive), Morpheus Vs Bassbin Twins (rare edition), State Of Bengal, Mike Dred (exclusive), 4E, Alfred Moore Trio. All forms of modern electronica covered."

ILO: Ilo CD (UNI 11 CD). $15.00

"Excellent downbeat album from Iceland's Oli Breidfjord aka Ilo who has previously remixed Sigur Ros, Mum, Starcat and many others. Released on infamous Reykjavik label Thule (home to Mum) offshoot Uniform. Jazzy downtempo hip hop with twists from dub, ambient, techno and blues."

ILO: Ilo 2LP (UNI 11 LP). $17.00

UNION POLE:

WHAM-O: LP (UNION LP1). $8.50

Primitive solo acoustic guitar improvisations by a young man from the Pacific Northwest, who convinced the following labels that they should co-release this album with him: Ecstatic Peace!, Bobby J., Sweet Baboo, Betley Welcomes Careful Drivers, Chocolate Monk & Giardia. "Touch strings and make them ring...but most important is the present. And this is a present to you, an LP. Improvised acoustic guitar. A little porch-sittin' one stringin'. Organ drone and tweak. Oh baby."

UNITED DAIRIES (UK):

NURSE WITH WOUND: Live At Bar Maldoror CD (UD 034). $18.00

Repress of this 1994 CD release. Features live recordings from various Bar Maldoror locations 1984-86. NWW were on these occasions made up from: Steven Stapleton, Annie Anxiety, Chris Wallis, David Tibet, Diana Rogerson, John Balance, etc. "In our very short spell as a 'live band' Nurse With Wound performed 8 times, 5 in public, between the years 1984-86. These events were shambolic, chaotic and uneven affairs, sometimes as boring for the performers as the non-plussed audiences but at other times reaching an amazing intensity. This CD contains the high points of our Bar Maldoror happenings (sic)." — Steven Stapleton.

NURSE WITH WOUND: Merzbild Schwet CD (UD 04). $19.00

The third NWW album by the original duo of Stapleton and John Fothergill, recorded June 1980, engineered by the Bombay Ducks. Primitive-art freakouts that became legendary for a reason. "Features two tracks, 'Futurismo' and 'Dada X', each 24:25 long. Cleverly inspired by the likes of Schwitters, Duchamp, los hermanos Russolo, Höch, Tzara et.al not only in concept but spirit. Originally issued as a numbered edition of 500 (UD 04). A serious highlight in the extensive recording career of the best-selling avant-garde musician ever, one Steven Stapleton. Really." — Hrvatski

NURSE WITH WOUND/ARANOS: Acts of Senseless Beauty CD (UD 100). $19.00

"1997 release, billed as a collaboration between NWW and Aranós, a highpoint in the recent UD discography. Slowly building compositions of placid drones and exploratory post-classical violin (featured throughout) with the occasional percussive/white noise outburst. Featuring Peat Bog (guitar, percussion, voice) and David Kenny (guitar). 5 Tracks." — Hrvatski

NURSE WITH WOUND: Man With The Woman Face LP (UD 102 LP). $24.00

"Extremely Limited Edition Clear vinyl 12" version of Man With Woman LP. The LP comes in a clear plastic sleeve with 2 full colour inserts by Steven Stapleton. The whole album is then housed in a resealable clear polypropylene bag."

NURSE WITH WOUND: Drunk With the Old Man of the Mountains LP (UD 110 LP). $48.00

Reissue of this very rare 1987 LP (the original edition was 100 copies, each coming with 2 original paintings for the covers). The music is a compilation of various mid-80s NWW tracks. "180g vinyl luxury facsimile edition housed in a heavyweight 350gsm sleeve, full colour, embossed and spot varnished, with 12" full colour insert printed on matte art paper. When it was first released, each copy of this incredibly rare and expensive album came with an original piece of Steven Stapleton artwork. Over the years a lot of these have faded, but Stapleton recently came across some that he had tucked away out of sight and mind from which he has selected four of the best. Two of these are reproduced on the insert, and one each on the front and back of the sleeve; these latter have been embossed and spot varnished to give an excellent finish."

NURSE WITH WOUND: Angry Electric Finger (Spitch' Cock One) CD (UD 300CD). $20.00

"Angry Electric Finger (Spitch' Cock One) is the first installment of Nurse With Wound's most ambitious project to date. It's a remarkable mixture of Industrial and Avant Garde pop styles featuring Sonic Youth's Jim O'Rourke, Ex-Coil sound twisters Cyclobe, Kraut rock legends Xhol Caravan & San Francisco's weirdest pop combo Irr Apt Ex. Each artist has collaborated with Nurse With Wound's Steven Stapleton to create a 4-part suite of alarming freshness and originality. This, the first in a 3-part installment of Angry Electric Finger (Spitch' Cock One), is as stated limited to just 2000 copies on CD. Babs Santini, as always, supplies cover art on this release."

NURSE WITH WOUND: Sugar Fish Drink CD (UD 36). $18.00

Repressed. 1992 CD, subtitled "A Layman's guide Cod Surrealism" (Cod surrealism: "a distinctly wet aberration on paranoid aesthetics occasionally co-ordinated by John Balance and Steven Stapleton."). It's a pretty classic compilation of 12" singles tracks from the late 80s/early 90s. Starting with the NWW half of the 1991 Creakiness split 12" (w/ Spasm), with Steven Stapleton (hand cranked percussion, clockwork, pygmyphone, sheep ventilator), Joolie Wood (violin bow pendulum, flute, jaws), James Mannox (jews) & Tony Wakeford (basso electrico, harmonics); both sides of the late 80s(?) Cooloorta Moon 12" on Idle Hole (NWW's tribute to Wolfgang Dauner's The Oimels, with Tibet, Douglas P, Wakeford, Jackman, etc.); "Swamp Rat" from the ultra-rare 1987 Drunk with the Old Man of the Mountains LP (edition of 100); "Brained (Unconscious mix)" from 1987's Brained by Falling Masonry; "Nil By Mouth" from 1988's Alas the Madonna Does Not Function 12"; "I Am The Poison" from Soresucker.

NURSE WITH WOUND: Thunder Perfect Mind CD (UD 40). $20.00

Repressed. "The sister release of Current 93's album of the same name, was originally released in the winter of 1991. This new version, in a specially produced full colour digipak, consists of the 2 classic 30 minute recordings that made up the original album: 'Cold', an intense industrial mindfuck on overload, and, in 'Colder Still' the band at their most psychedelic and spaced-out. This album is regarded as one of Nurse With Wound's greatest. Also exclusive to this new release is the previously unreleased 'Miss Ticker', a seven-minute psychotic remix of 'Cole' featuring David Tibet and Colin Potter. With newly redone cover art and new artwork by Steven Stapleton." "Although a companion album to the Current 93 LP of the same name, Steven Stapleton dreamed up the concept of a pair of albums that NWW and C93 would record and issue under the same name in the early 90s. The core of NWW for this album is Steven Stapleton, David Tibet & Colin Potter. Rose McDowall, Clive Graham, Joolie Wood, John Balance and others also add to the assemblage. Musically, the record shares little with C93's folk structure. Instead it features just 2 long tracks: 'Cold' is a rhythmically pounds almost classic-industrial rant of doom-ish electronics. And 'Colder Still'... ma 34-minute extension of distant squeals, space-flux ambience and hovering collage presence in traditional NWW mystery-fashion."

CHRYSTAL BELLE SCHRODD: Beastings CD (UD 41). $19.00

Diana Rogerson is Chrystal Belle Schrodd, and this 1993 CD issue collects the best of her two original vinyl LPs issued by United Dairies in 1985-'87: (UK LP, 1985): The Inevitable Chrystal Belle Schrodd Record and Belle De Jour. It doesn't include the complete content of those 2 long o/p LPs, but does add 2 new tracks. Produced by her husband Steven Stapleton, this features guests like Karl Blake, Peat Bog, etc. Richly stylized UD collage and dark ambience by this generally neglected artist.

NURSE WITH WOUND: A Missing Sense CD (UD 42). $19.00

A compilation of three long tracks, released on CD in 1997. The title track is originally from a 1986 split LP with Organum. "'A Missing Sense' was originally conceived as a private tape to accompany my taking of LSD. When in that particular state, Robert Ashley's Automatic Writing was the only music I could actually experience without feeling claustrophobic and paranoid. We played it endlessly; it seemed to become part of the room, perfectly blending with the late night city ambience and the 'breathing' of the building. I decided to make my own version using the basic structure of Ashley's masterpiece, but making it more personal, adding natural sound that I could hear in my environment. It should be played at very low volume." — Steven Stapleton. Also found on this CD: "Swansong" & "Dada (Ostranenei 1913 version)." "Swansong is a vocal piece which was spewed out after watching a documentary on the American A-Bomb tests off the Bikini Islands which left me sad, helpless and fucking angry — an ocean of death." — Stapleton.

NURSE WITH WOUND: Who Can I Turn to Stereo CD (UD 49). $19.00

"1996 release from Steven Stapleton & cohorts, rife with trademark found-spoken vignettes, heavy tape collage spatter/wow/flutter, dense drone-bedding, occasional out-guitar shrill and general A/G presence. A rare selection of shorter pieces that could serve as the terminally impatient's guide to recent United Dairies output. A classic addition to the NWW oeuvre. 12 tracks that run in uninterrupted secession."

VOLCANO THE BEAR: Five Hundred Boy Piano CD (UD 500 CD). $17.00

"The second full length by this Leicester-UK quartet (umpteenth overall including live & CDR releases, collaborations with members of Bablicon, etc...) for the United Dairies label. The appeal of this group to someone like Steven Stapleton has never been up for question; they work the perfect combination of music (sprawling edited improvs that flow from faucets Faust through Folk) and non-music (creaking clacking found sounds, reverb-coated glossolalia). The six tracks herein cover a disparate sonic turf...the epic of the CD, 'The Tallest People in the World' alone works austere oscillating resonance patterns fully before flowing into full-on Camberwell Now territories (maritime themes, low Hayward-esque nasal monotones in octave unison), then into a version of 'Several Species of Small Furry Animals Gathered Together in a Cave and Grooving with a Pict' played back at its recorded speed (-gallic ranting, +pagan chant). Bravo. Clearly showing an innate knack for pushing the limits of 4-track-hacksmanship into something truly zombie, far out there in it. Surreal." — Hrvatski.

NURSE WITH WOUND: Automating Volume 1 CD (UD 53 CD). $17.00

"This release comes on gatefold digipak CD with insert and translucent 12" vinyl, also with insert. It includes all the recordings from the long-deleted Automating 1 album on United Dairies, as well as the 10-minute piece given by NWW to the impossibly rare Born Out Of Dreams compilation on Fluxus Records. Both formats contain the original, and new artwork by Babs Santini and Matt Waldron. The album features Steven Stapleton, and has contributions from David Tibet (Current 93), Robert Haigh (Sema and Omni Trio), Brian Williams (Lustmord), David Jackman (Organum), Jim Thirwell (Foetus), William Bennett (Essential Logic), David Cross (King Crimson), and John Fothergill."

NURSE WITH WOUND: Automating Volume 2 CD (UD 54 CD). $17.00

"Automating Volume 2 is the second volume of compilation tracks, compiled between the years 1981-1985. It contains some of the best & most adventurous NWW music of the period — highlights are the multi-dimensional 'Strange Play Of The Mouth' & the Adolf Wolfi interpretations taken from the legendary outsider music project by Graeme Revell. All the original vinyl compilations containing these tracks by NWW are now extremely collectable because of the inclusion of NWW. The CD has been remastered from the original analogue tapes & comes in a superb digipak format with all new artwork from Steven Stapleton."

NURSE WITH WOUND/STEREOLAB: Crumb Duck CD (UD 59). $18.00

Repressed. CD compilation released in 1996 which compiles the material released on 7"/10" in ridiculously limited fashion on the collecto-scum orientated Clawfish label in approved mass market form. Features 5 tracks all together: the first 2 made up the NWW Steel Dream March of the Metal Men 7", produced by the duo of Steven Stapleton (percussion, mechanical organ, generator, pedals, looping, creaking) and Colin Potter (sound manipulation). The next 2 are the infamous Stereolab/NWW collaborative tracks, first issued as the Crumb Duck 10" in 1993. Steven Stapleton is credited with pedals, guitar, Ring Modulator, tapes, Secret Weapon. Secret Weapon indeed, this team-up brings out the finest in detail orientation and "Exploding Head Movie" is one of the most majestic updates on the early 70s German pulse. The fifth track, "A New Dress (remix)" is exclusive to this CD.

NURSE WITH WOUND: Alice The Goon CD (UD 81 CD). $15.00

"Five years ago Steven Stapleton was asked to do a piece of music for the Nevers Festival, Musiquis Ultimes in France. Alice The Goon was the result. Only 500 vinyl copies were ever pressed for the festival goers, and subsequently the original now commands extortionate prices among avid fans and collectors. World Serpent and Stapleton now release Alice The Goon on CD for the first time ever. The CD also features an extra piece of untitled music recorded at the same time as the original sessions."

NURSE WITH WOUND: Alice The Goon 12" (UD 81 LP). $15.00

"The original tracks that made up Alice The Goon now rest side by side on one side of this black vinyl 12" release. Side two has what can only be described as a piece of Steven Stapleton's art acid etched onto the vinyl. The art comprises a fantastic United Dairies collage that is simply stunning, entitled "Electrical Servants of Everyman Listen To Alice The Goon". Last copies of this now deleted vinyl edition.

NURSE WITH WOUND: Funeral Music For Perez Prado CD (UD 98 CD). $17.00

"Music from the deleted NWW EP's Yagga Blues & Soresucker, coupled with the unreleased full version of Funeral Music For Perez Prado. Yagga Blues, Yagga Blues (instrumental), Funeral Music For Perez Prado (full version), I Am The Poison, Journey Through Cheese. Mixed by Steven Stapleton and remastered by Denis Blackham with cover artwork by Babs Santini. Release comes in a beautiful digipak."

CURRENT 93/NURSE WITH WOUND: Bright Yellow Moon 2LP (UDOR 08 LP). $25.00

"2 x 12" vinyl issue of the first ever-joint album by Nurse With Wound and Current 93. This double vinyl album contains the music to the much sought after and deleted Purgle that appeared on the first CD edition of Bright Yellow Moon. Full colour sleeve by Steven Stapleton and David Tibet; two full colour printed inner bags with lyrics and images; full colour labels. Black Vinyl. Limited to 1,000 copies."

UNITED DURTRO (UK):

NURSE WITH WOUND: Chance Meeting of a Defective Tape Machine and Migraine CD (UDAR 010). $13.50

US release. "When Matt Waldron attempted to make a tape to tape copy of Nurse with Wound's 'Chance meeting on a dissecting table of a sewing machine and umbrella' he didn't expect the machines to do their own remix. The music on this disc was performed by two slightly defective disobedient tape recorders. Into dark corners ...."

CURRENT 93: A Little Menstrual Night Music CD (UDAR 011). $13.50

"This album consists of two new versions of 'In Menstrual Night', remixed by Steven Stapleton at Colin Potter's IC Studios in March 2003. These pieces were used as the introductory music for Current Ninety Three's two performances at the Great American Music Hall in San Francisco on May 9 and 10, 2003."

CURRENT 93/NURSE WITH WOUND: Bright Yellow Moon CD (UDOR 08). $17.00

"The first ever joint album by Current 93 & Nurse With Wound. With lyrics written after David Tibet's near-death experience in 2000, and with music composed by C93 & NWW in the months following. Also featuring Michael Cashmore. In a full-colour digipak with liner notes by Tibet and joint design by Stapleton & Tibet."

UNIVERSAL (GERMANY):

JAMES, RICK: Bustin Out Of L Seven LP (UNI 0417LP). $13.00

LP version.

PARLET: Invasion of the Booty Snatchers LP (UNI 0953LP). $13.00

LP version.

CON FUNK SHUN: Con Funk Shun LP (UNI 0966LP). $13.00

LP version.

OHIO PLAYERS, THE: Contradiction CD (UNI 0967CD). $12.00

Originally released on Mercury, 1976. "The fourth consecutive gold album from the legendary Dayton band The Ohio Players was yet another masterpiece of originality, technique and true groove. If 'elegance' could ever be associated with an All-Time funk album, it would have to be this 1976 effort from The Ohio Players, which includes the funk bomb 'Who'd she Coo?'. Contradiction stands as a testimony to their unparalleled stretch of maximum creativity. (As a bonus, the reissue contains the beautiful ballad 'Only a child can love', B-Side of the 1976 hit single 'Far East Mississippi'.)"

BROWN, JAMES: The Original Disco Man LP (UNI 0979LP). $13.00

LP version.

JB'S, THE: Doing It To Death LP (UNI 1951LP). $13.00

LP version.

BOOKER T & PRISCILLA: Booker T & Priscilla 2LP (UNI 3504LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

CON FUNK SHUN: Con Funk Shun CD (UNI 3627CD). $12.00

First time on CD. "The fact that not less than ten of their albums made the charts between 1976 and 1986 proves that Con Funk Shun is one of the heaviest hitters of all American dance acts. This record from 1976 is their earth shaking debut. It stands as one of the crucial moments in mid-1970s R&B history, its horn heavy funk jams and contemplative ballads poised delicately to consummate Funk's impending marriage to Disco."

BROWN, JAMES: The Original Disco Man CD (UNI 6014CD). $12.00

Originally released on Polydor/Universal (Germany), 1979. (First time on CD). "There's disco and there's Disco. And when James Brown turned his attention to an album that truly investigated the world of mirror balled dance, you just knew he'd turn the whole thing upside down. The 1979 album is definitely one of the best disco-longplayers of the era, a head-on collision between classic funk and upstart dance music that seamlessly blends the best of both worlds. (As a bonus, the reissue contains Brown's homage to his soulmate Elvis: 'Love me Tender', previously released as B-Side to the Single 'The Spank' only)."

COMMODORES: Hot On The Tracks CD (UNI 7744CD). $12.00

Originally released on Motown, 1976. "If ever a band worked their way to a complete mastery of sound, it was the Commodores in 1976 on Hot on the Tracks — one of the most complete productions of that decade. And while many groups would settle for one LP side of hits — and the Commodores themselves often did — this album truly starts to burn on side two. Only the Commodores had the right combination of sentimentality, originality and genius to produce this All Time Funk Classic."

OHIO PLAYERS, THE: Contradiction LP (UNI 8348LP). $16.00

LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

UNIVERSAL (JAPAN):

CHERRY, DON: Eternal Rhythm CD (UCCU 5184). $25.00

New 24-bit remastered version. Replaces the now deleted Polydor/MPS version (POCJ 2520). Japanese-only reissue of Don Cherry's classic Eternal Rhythm Group, recorded at the Berlin Jazz Festival, 1968. An amazing line up of: Cherry (cornet, gender and saron [gamelan], flutes), Albert Mangelsdorff (trombone), Eje Thelin (trombone), Bernt Rosengren (tenor sax, oboe, clarinet, flute), Sonny Sharrock (guitar), Karl Berger (vibes, piano, gender), Joachim Kühn (piano, prepared piano), Arild Andersen (bass), & Jacques Thollot (drums, saron, gong, bells, voice). Two "side-long" pieces with gamelan underlining for the perfect gush of cosmic interlude.

CHERRY, DON: Live In Ankara CD (UCCU 9013). $26.00

New Universal Japan reissue series, subtitled: Hardcore Jazz. These are all Japanese-only releases, many on CD for the first time. Packaged in deluxe mini-LP jackets, with 24-bit remastering. This Cherry album was recorded on 11/23, 1969 on a visit to Turkey, with all Turkish backing musicians: Don Cherry (trumpet, trumpetzurna, piano, vocal, flute); Selçuk Sun (bass); Okay Temiz (drums, percussion); İrfan Sümer (percussion, tenor saxophone). Originally released by the Sonet label in Denmark, later reissued as part of The Sonet Recordings (on Swedish Verve, now deleted).

TAYLOR, CECIL: Live In The Black Forest CD (UCCU 9014). $26.00

First CD reissue of this classic Cecil Taylor ensemble album, originally released by Pausa/MPS. Japanese mini-LP style packaging, 24-bit remastering. Recorded June 3, 1978. Cecil Taylor (piano), Raphe Malik (trumpet), Jimmy Lyons (alto saxophone), Ramsey Ameen (violin), Siron (bass), Ron Jackson (drums).

SANDERS, PHAROAH: Live At The East CD (UCCU 9016). $26.00

First CD issue of this 1971 session, originally released by Impulse in 1972. Recorded at The East, Brooklyn, NYC, 1971. Pharoah Sanders ts; Harold Vick ts, voc; Hannibal Marvin Peterson tp; Carlos Garnett fl, voc; Stanley Clarke b; Cecil McBee b; Joe Bonner p, harmonium; Norman Connors dr; Billy Hart dr; Lawrence Killian congas, balaphone. "By 1971 Pharoah Sanders's playing essentially alternated between two moods: ferocious and peaceful. This live LP gives one a good example of how the passionate tenor sounded in clubs during the early '70s. Sanders is heard in top form. — Scott Yanow."

HOLLAND & BARRE PHILLIPS, DAVID: Music From Two Basses CD (UCCU 9017). $26.00

First CD reissue of this classic ECM album, the label's 11th release overall. Beautiful Japanese mini-LP packaging, with 24-bit mastering. Recorded: February 15, 1971, Tonstudio Bauer in Ludwigsburg, Germany; Released: 1971 on ECM Records. David Holland (bass, cello); Barre Phillips (bass).

BADEN-BADEN FREE JAZZ ORCHESTRA, THE: Gittin' To Know Y'All CD (UCCU 9018). $26.00

First CD reissue, packaged in Japanese mini-LP gatefold jacket, 24-bit remastering. Recorded 1969. Classic meeting-of-the-minds free-for-all, long forgotten. Lester Bowie (tp, cond), Hugh Steinmetz (tp), Kenny Wheeler (tp), Albert Mangelsdorff (tb), Eje Thelin (tb), Joseph Jarman (ss), Roscoe Mitchell (as), Alan Skidmore (ts), Heinz Sauer (ts), Gerd Dudek (ts), Bernt Rosengren (ts), John Surman (bs), Willem Breuker (bcl), Terje Rypdal (g), Dave Burrell (p), Leo Cuypers (prepared p), Barre Phillips (b), Palle Danielsson (b), Steve McCall (dr), Tony Oxley (dr), Claude Delcloo (dr), Karin Krog (vocal).

MUSIC IMPROVISATION COMPANY: The Music Improvisation Company CD (UCCU 9019). $26.00

Japanese-only reissue, packaged in mini-LP jacket, with 24-bit remastering. First time on CD for this early ECM classic (the label's 5th release overall), recorded in August of 1970. Jamie Muir (percussion); Hugh Davies (live electronics); Evan Parker (soprano sax); Derek Bailey (electric guitar). Christine Jeffrey (voice).

GLOBE UNITY ORCHESTRA: Improvisations CD (UCCU 9020). $26.00

First CD reissue of this album, recorded September, 1977, Tonstudio Bauer, Ludwigsburg; Released on the ECM subsidiary Japo Records in 1978. Kenny Wheeler (trumpet); Manfred Schoof (trumpet); Albert Mangelsdorff (trombone); Günther Christmann (trombone); Paul Rutherford (trombone); Evan Parker (soprano saxophone, tenor saxophone); Peter Brötzmann (alto saxophone, tenor saxophone, bass clarinet); Gerd Dudek (soprano saxophone, tenor saxophone, flute); Michel Pilz (bass clarinet); Derek Bailey (guitar); Tristan Honsinger (cello); Alexander von Schlippenbach (piano); Peter Kowald (bass, tuba); Buschi Niebergall (bass); Paul Lovens (drums).

BAILEY, DEREK: Duo & Trio Improvisation CD (UCCU 9021). $26.00

New issue of this 1978 Japanese session (supervised by Aquirax Aida), originally released by Kitty Records (and later reissued on CD by DIW — now long unavailable). With 4 bonus tracks not found on the prev. issues. Mini-LP style Japanese packaging, 24 bit remastering. Derek Bailey went to Tokyo and recorded this session with all the Japanese free music heavy weights of the time: Toshinoro Kondo (tp, alto horn), Kaoru Abe (alto sax), Mototeru Takagi (tenor, alto saxes), Moto Yoshizawa (bass), Toshi Tsuchitoro (drums). All of these guys are much better known today in the West, due to expansive documentation on the PSF label.

GRAVES, MILFORD: Meditation Among Us CD (UCCU 9022). $26.00

Graves (d, perc., piano, voice), Mototeru Takagi (ts), Kaoru Abe (as), Toshinoro Kondo (tp), Toshiyuki Tsuchitori (d, perc.). Graves is one of the truly important free percussionists, and there is only a tiny amount of recorded material to document him, especially as a leader. This CD, supervised by the figurehead Aquirax Aida, features him leading a supergroup of the Japanese free underground, recorded in 1977. Issued on Kitty Records at the time, later reissued on CD by DIW (long unavailable). This album is one of the few existing documents which bridges Milford's mid-60s work and his later re-emergence on Tzadik in the late 90s.

GIL, GILBERTO: 1969 CD (UICY 1030). $23.00

Japanese-only reissue of the third Gil album (also known as Cerebro Elettronico), originally issued by Brazilian Polydor in 1969. This version supersedes the prior Philips Japan version (PHCA 4227), and adds 5 bonus tracks (alternate takes and demos from the same era, a total of 35 extra minutes!). "Every bit as in the zone as Gal's epochal '69 testament; musta been something in the Bahian water that year! The Brazilian military dictatorship of the time didn't know what the fuck to make of these records, but they knew they were plenty subversive & placed Gilberto & Caetano Veloso (don't sleep on his '69 White Album either, even though it's never been as hard to find as these two) under house arrest before exiling them for several years. Lanny, again, provides some of the most psychedelic guitarwork the world has ever known & studio wiz Rogerio Duprat outdoes himself on the almost-Dockstadteresque 'Objeto Semi-Identificado'. There's even a Mutantes cover ('2001' or 'Dois Mil e Uno') which out-freaks the original! Sample lyrics from 'Futurivel' (thanks, Babelfish!): 'Its body will be more shining/The mind, more intelligent/Everything in superdimension/The mutant is happier/ Happy because/In the new mutation/ The happiness is made of metal'. This was Gil's third album, and second in the Tropicalist style. While I've yet to hear a bad one from him, newcomers should observe the best-before-'75 rule & seek out s/t '68 (aka "Frevo Rasgado") all the '68 Tropicalist records were sunnier & Sgt. Pepperier than the '69 freekouts), the epochal Tropicália ou Panis et Circensis comp, and the more trad, but still excellent Expresso 2222 ('72) & Refazenda ('75). The 'album-in-exile' immediately following this one (s/t '71, Gravado em Londres) is still lost in the mists of time, and is probably a corker (along w/the 'lost' Caetano double album from '69, which was recalled & destroyed by the dictatorship!)." — Jason Witherspoon.

JOYCE: CD (UICY 3077). $23.00

Japanese-only reissue of the first Joyce album, originally released in Brazil by Philips in 1968. "This Brazilian vocalist who has been associated and worked with the likes of Nana Vasconcelos, Nelson Angelo, Caetano Veloso, etc.. An extraordinary and resilient artist, Joyce's music has spanned both musical and cultural divides from 60's psychedelia to Brazilian dancefloor jazz and Joni Mitchell style folk through to anti-government revolutionary political songs.

BLAINE, HAL: Psychedelic Percussion CD (UICY 3367). $24.00

Japanese-only reissue of the 2nd Hal Blaine solo album, originally issued in 1967. "This is a beautiful album. The music here constitutes a mind-excursion of rare beauty, and semantically is therefore psychedelic. But I would like to think it is more likely to start a trend than to catch one. And then, perhaps, we will have the benefit of Hal Blaine in concert, Hal Blaine on the tube, and Hal Blaine on the airwaves." — Andy Wickham. Instruments used: Drums, Gongs, Bird Calls, Wind Chimes, 1/4 Tone Xylophone, Whole Tone Xylophone, Cratale Bells, Tree Bells, Siamese Gongs, Chinese Gongs, Flexitone, Radocchia-Phones, Gammalone Gong, Steel Drums, Electric Vibe-Verb, Glockenspiel, Emil-Echolette, Stone Chimes, Japanese Sho, Electric Organ, Celeste, Beaver Electric Modulation Apparatus, Contra Bass Drum, Conga Drums, Bongo Drums, Mexican Shakers, Brazilian Shakers, Tambouro, Bamboo Chimes, Pistol, Gloss Chimes, Christmas Sleigh Bells, Tubular Chimes, Rhymes Chimes, Buggy Whip, Wobble Board, Whistles, Tympani, Bean Bags, Castinets, United States Navy Gas Alarm, Electric Novachord, Traumatonium, Sub Bass Canary, Clavinette, Sub-Contrabass Canary, Electric Harpsichord, Band Box, American Tambourine, Blaine-Tom-Tom-Timbales, Vibra-Fuzz Tone, French Taxi Horn, Tahitian Poguee Lee Sticks, Latin American Cow Bells, German-Harpsichord, Klaxton Horn (Country Ford Motor Co.), Train Whistles.

FAUST: Faust CD (UICY 9259). $24.00

New 24-bit remaster of the first Faust album. In special plastic sleeve with screenprint insert, a la the original Polydor LP pressing. This (along with So Far) is available on in the US on the cheaply packaged Collector's Choice 2fer, but it not available in the US as an individual CD. Originally issued in 1971, this has become over the decades: your basic all-time IMPORTANT album, mixing brilliant/primitive studio effects with psychedelic intensity, surrealist collage technique and purely flowing conceptual genius.

FAUST: So Far CD (UICY 9260). $24.00

New deluxe 24-bit remaster of the 2nd Faust album (originally released in 1972), in paper sleeve, with reproductions of the 10 print inserts found in the original LP release on Polydor (nice touch). Elegantly done. Not available as an individual CD in the US.

UNIVERSAL (NORWAY):

MIN BUL: Min Bul CD (UNI 386172). $16.00

Official, remastered reissue of the first underground classic from 1970 (originally issued by Polydor, in Scandinavia only). On the NWWV list and never reissued before, long awaited. Terje Rypdal: (guitar and soprano saxophone); Bjørnar Andresen: (bass); Espen Ruud: (drums). "The trio Min Bul came out of a progressive environment of jazz and experimental music in the late sixties surrounded by innovators such as Jan Garbarek, Karin Krog and Arne Norheim. The trio included some of the most important figures in the development of modern music in Norway in the late sixties. Terje Rypdal was by now known from the groundbreaking Jan Garbarek quartet with bassist Arild Andersen and drummer Jon Christensen. All the four of them are today in the heavyweight league of European jazz. Drummer Espen Ruud and bassist Bjørnar Andresen came from the infamous free jazz group Sveirt Finnerud Trio which performed regularly at Heine Onstad art centre outside of Oslo. The Finnerud Trio albums are as the Min Bul album cult classics for record collectors and listed high on the hard to get list. Today Terje Rypdal is recording regularly for the German ECM label both as composer, bandleader and guitarist. This spring he was invited to compose the opening concert at Norwegian jazz festival Vossjazz. Espen Ruud is recording and performing with artist such as Knut Riisnæs and Staffan William Olsson. Bjørnar Andresen is active at Oslo based improv scene and is to be found on the upcoming Jazzland release Samsara which includes piano and keyboard player Bugge Wesseltoft and drummer Paal Nilssen-Love. The music on this CD available for the first time since the release in 1970, sounds like it could have been recorded yesterday. The opening track 'I Cried a Million Tears Last Night' blows out like a noisy Sonic Youth burnout and the eleven minute long groovy bass riff tune 'Champagne Of Course' represents the funk side of the group. Min Bul also got a mellow side, like the mid tempo closing track 'Strange Beauty' which got some strong references to the early work of Carlos Santana. Enjoy the experience of this great music sprung out for over three decades ago."

UNIVERSAL EGG (GERMANY):

PENUMBRA: Anoraks CD (WWCD 27). $15.00

"Solo debut from one half of art music pioneers Zoviet France. After critical acclaim from working with world renowned choreographers Sabuo Teshigawa and Wayne McGregor, dance companies such as Zero Visibility and Karas in the UK, across Europe, and in Scandinavia; this solo debut showcases the stunning ambient soundscapes that have made Zoviet France world famous, and adds minimal trancelike pulses in a Pan Sonic or Farmers Manual style. Experimental sound at its most exciting."

UNIVERSAL SOUND (UK):

VA: Message From The Tribe CD (US 05 CD). $18.00

Well done CD compilation (originally issued in 1996) of tracks from the obscure Detroit based Tribe label. Although its records were only distributed locally, Tribe is compared to Strata East and the music of the AACM in terms of its historical significance. "An anthology of Tribe Records, 1972-1977. Underground jazz and funk from a Detroit collective of musicians that included Wendell Harrison, Phil Ranelin, Marcus Belgrave and others. Besides releasing records in the early 1970s, Tribe also used to produce a black awareness magazine for Detroit."

VA: Message From The Tribe LP (US 05 LP). $20.00

LP version.

VA: Strata-2-East 2LP (US 06 LP). $21.00

Double LP version in gatefold sleeve (last copies on LP; CD is deleted). "Strata-East Records was one the pioneering labels in independent jazz in the USA in the 1970's. Started by musicians Charles Tolliver and Stanley Cowell the label acted as an umbrella for self financed recordings by some incredible jazz musicians. Artists such as Clifford Jordan, Harold Vick, Weldon Irvine, Cecil Mcbee made some of their finest recordings on this label. Creative musicians were given the musical freedom to explore new areas of jazz music leading to spiritual music on the highest plane. Strata-2-East is the the second Soul Jazz release on the label (the first is now deleted) and features artists such as Bill Lee, Shirley Scott, Oneness of Juju and more."

PAPETE: Best Of 2LP (US 07 LP). $21.00

Double vinyl version in gatefold sleeve. 1997 release. "Papete is one of Brazil's great percussion players. He is also one of Brazil's least known. These recordings are taken from a number of very rare recordings he made in the late 70s in Brazil. Focusing on many of Brazil's folk songs and styles from the northern part of the country, this CD also features Batucadas and Brazilian jazz. Sleeve notes were specially commissioned by one of Brazil's greatest arrangers, Theo de Barros. The addition of nice pictures make this a classy package." CD is o/p(?)

MITTOO, JACKIE: The Keyboard King at Studio One CD (US 08 CD). $18.00

"From forming the Skatalites, at age 15, alongside Don Drummond, Roland Alphonso, Tommy McCook and others, to his work as in-house writer, arranger, and producer at Studio One records during the sixties to his own classic recordings, Jackie Mittoo is a defining figure of reggae music. He is also the funkiest keyboard player ever to come out of Jamaica. Here we showcase Jackie's solo work at Studio One, where he earned the name the Keyboard King."

MITTOO, JACKIE: The Keyboard King at Studio One 2LP (US 08 LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

ESG: A South Bronx Story CD (US 10 CD). $18.00

Long desired best-of compilation covering most of their recorded output, starting with the historically mindblowing debut EP for Factory/99. "ESG were formed in 1978 and are from the South Bronx and based around the Scroggins sisters: Renee (guitar), Marie (congas), Valerie (drums), and Deborah (bass). With the addition of their friend Tito Libran on percussion, the group changed its name from Emerald, Sapphire and Gold to ESG. ESG are still thriving today, and the Scroggins sisters are now joined by two of their daughters, Chistelle and Nicole. The story of ESG is one that gives them a place in three different musical histories — house music, hip hop, and punk. A unique position that few other bands can claim. Their first single contained the all-time dancefloor classics 'Moody' and 'UFO' (produced by Martin Hannett) which placed them at the root of both house and hip hop. ESG were involved with 99 records in the US (as were Liquid Liquid). Owned by ESG's unofficial manager/producer Ed Bahlman, 99 records spearheaded a new wave in US punk/dance groups that became known as No Wave. 99 records, which had a working relationship with labels in the UK like Factory, Rough Trade, and Adrian Sherwood's On-U-Sounds, eventually closed after it lost a protracted court case with Sugar Hill records when Grandmaster Flash's 'White Lines' sampled Liquid Liquid's 'Cavern'. At this period, laws regarding sampling, which would become a part of life for anyone involved in hip hop, were still unclear. ESG (and 99 records) also lost out in many similar cases — ESG's sparse minimal bass and drum sound made them one of the most sampled artists around (in 1993 they wrote a track 'Sample Credits Don't Pay Our Bills'). ESG were immersed in both the New York dance club scene and in the meeting of punk and dance culture. They played all the New York dance clubs like the Paradise Garage, Xenon, and Danceteria, as well as playing with many punk groups (they once played with the Clash and Grandmaster Flash on the same bill)."

ESG: A South Bronx Story 2LP (US 10 LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: Les Stances A Sophie CD (US 11 CD). $18.00

"With this release Soul Jazz Records are reissuing a long lost album by the Art Ensemble of Chicago, one of the most important and radical jazz groups to come out of the USA. Les Stances A Sophie was recorded in Paris in 1970 and features the regular Art Ensemble members (Lester Bowie, Joseph Jarman, Roscoe Mitchell, and Malachi Favors) alongside the newly recruited drummer Don Moye and Fontella Bass on vocals and piano. Fontella Bass (who was married to Lester Bowie) had a successful career as a soul singer ('Rescue Me' was her biggest hit in the 1960s). The addition of these two performers perhaps explains in some way the uniqueness of this recording, especially 'Theme De Yoyo'. Vocals (and lyrics) alongside a constant drum and bass beat were new elements to the recorded music of the Art Ensemble at this time and this recording would appear to contradict the AEC's ambition for their music to be heard and played simply as sound — with the freedom from accepted forms (blues, jazz, etc.) that were used to describe music. Les Stances A Sophie was originally released on EMI France and later in the US on Nessa records. Both editions have been out of print for many years, and Soul Jazz Records is releasing it for the first time in England."

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: Les Stances A Sophie LP (US 11 LP). $20.00

Vinyl version, packaged in heavy plastic sleeve. Limited remaining stock of this now deleted pressing.

OCHO: 1 CD (US 12 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records are reissuing three albums by Ocho, one of the defining bands of the Latin New York Funk sound. Led by Chico Mendoza, Ocho have been featured heavily in Soul Jazz Records Nu Yorica series and these reissues are the three definitive albums by the group. Along with other artists such as Ray Barretto, Eddie Palmieri, Joe Bataan and Tito Puente, Ocho mixed Latin, Funk and Jazz in equal measures. The music of Ocho has never been fully available in this country before and Soul Jazz Records are releasing them in their entirety for the first time. These releases come on CD and limited edition vinyl (with plastic sleeve). Ocho 1 includes 'Coco May May' as featured on Nu Yorica. Recorded in NYC, 1973.

OCHO: 2 CD (US 13 CD). $18.00

"Ocho 2 includes 'What are you Doing For The Rest Of Your Life' also featured on the Nu Yorica series." Recorded in NYC, 1973.

OCHO: 2 LP (US 13 LP). $20.00

OCHO: 3 CD (US 14 CD). $18.00

"And Ocho 3 includes the Latin Funk classic 'Hot Pants Road'. Recorded in NYC, 1974.

OCHO: 3 LP (US 14 LP). $20.00

REID, STEVE: Nova CD (US 15 CD). $18.00

"This classic album of deep jazz was originally released in 1976. Steve Reid is one of the featured artists on Soul Jazz Records Universal Sounds of America alongside The Art Ensemble of Chicago, Sun Ra and Pharoah Sanders. Steve Reid has played with, amongst others, Freddie Hubbard, Jackie McLean, Dionne Warwick, Archie Shepp, Chief Bey, Olatunji, Arthur Blythe, Lester Bowie, Dexter Gordon, Gary Bartz, James Brown, Dee Dee Bridgewater, Sam Rivers, Leon Thomas, Fela Kuti, Fats Domino, Miles Davis, Sun Ra, Lonnie Smith, Horace Silver! He has played in the house band at Harlem's Apollo Theatre, accompanying artists such as James Brown, as well as playing in Sun Ra's Arkestra! At the start of the 1970s Steve Reid started his own label, Mustevic Sound, on which he released four LPs of which this is one. Self-produced, self-distributed, these records are classic examples of radical thought, both musical and ethical. The concepts of self-determination, spiritual consciousness and musical questioning had become central themes to Jazz musicians ever since the arrival of, on the one hand, John Coltrane and Ornette Coleman, and on the other, Martin Luther King and Malcolm X. As a conscientious objector to Vietnam, Steve Reid spent two years in jail at the end of the sixties. Self-determination became, both politically and musically, became a key factor for many radical Jazz musicians. Artists such as Albert Ayler, Archie Shepp, Sun Ra, Pharoah Sanders all had similar inspiration. Musical collectives such as The Art Ensemble Of Chicago, Tribe (in Detroit), BAG (Black Artists Group) in St Louis all arrived as a means of making music with a different agenda. At the same time independent labels began to release this music; Nessa, Tribe, ESP, Strata-East. As a whole these labels tried to reflect the radical ideas connected with the music in the way the labels were run with many being self-distributed on a small scale. Steve Reid's label, Mustevic sound was one such label. Steve's musical life has taken many turns since this record was originally released at the beginning of the 1970s. This record is a snapshot of that period. Steve Reid is a living example of an artist who has kept true to their musical spirit. He has lived a life within music for over forty years and is still playing. Asked if his son plays an instrument, he replied that, yes, he sometimes drums for some Hip-Hop group called NWA."

VA: Voodoo Drums CD (US 16 CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records brings you the real deal! 19 rhythms of Haitian Voodoo drumming! Recorded in Port-au-Prince, Haiti, this record features The Drummers of the Societe Absolutum Guinen. This music is at the heart of both Latin and African music and this CD explains the connections between the music of Africa, The West Indies and onto America. These rhythms feature heavily in dance music today, especially with artists such as Masters At Work, Joe Claussel, Osunlade and others. Consequently this release comes on both super-loud double vinyl and Universal Sound CD with booklet."

VA: Voodoo Drums 2LP (US 16 LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

MORRIS & UNITY, BYRON: Blowing Thru Your Mind CD (US 17 CD). $18.00

"Byron Morris and Unity released Blow Through Your Mind originally in the US in 1974. The LP was recorded a year earlier at Minot Sound Studios in White Plains, New York. This studio was a favourite with many independent Jazz groups at this time — for instance, many recordings for the independent Strata East Records, co-owned by Stanley Cowell and Charles Tolliver, were made here. Unity was formed with similar values, aims and objectives of many similar groups at the time, as the name suggests. Uniquely, it managed to match the musical and spiritual searching of John Coltrane, Pharoah Sanders and Ornette Coleman alongside an equally experimental New York art-music dimension that was brought into the group by vocalist Jay Clayton, who has performed with, amongst many others, Steve Reich. With bassist Milton Suggs having played in Sun Ra's Arkestra, and Byron Morris studied with Ornette Coleman and Rahsaan Roland Kirk, it is possible to see the path that makes up 'Kitty Bey', twelve minutes of musical intensity, that sounds like nothing else ever recorded. Kitty Bey was originally featured on Universal Sounds of America on Soul Jazz. Originally released on Unity's own EPI label and distributed by hand, this record has remained an underground classic recording for over 25 years."

MORRIS & UNITY, BYRON: Blowing Thru Your Mind LP (US 17 LP). $20.00

LP version.

VA: Impact! Rare & Unreleased Reggae, Funk, & Soul... CD (US 18 CD). $18.00

"From The Vaults Of Impact! and Randy's Records. "Soul Jazz Records are releasing this compilation featuring the cream of Reggae, Funk and Soul from the Impact and Randy's Records label from Kingston, Jamaica. Featuring classic, rare and previously unreleased material this release continues Soul Jazz Records journey through Reggae. Featuring classic productions from Vincent Chin, and later his son Clive Chin, this release features Augustus Pablo, Jackie Mittoo, Tommy McCook, Lloyd Parks and a host of others all alongside the Randy's All Stars in-house band. Randy's began as a record shop in Kingston and shortly progressed to running it's own studio and record label. It's owner, Vincent Chin, later went on start VP records, the largest distributor of Reggae in the US. The tracks featured here are mostly from the 1970s and are some of the funkier Reggae ever to come out of Jamaica, most of them versions of US Funk and Soul tracks popular in Kingston at that time."

VA: Impact! Pre-Release 45 12" (US 18 EP). $9.00

Pre-Release vinyl EP featuring 4 tracks from the upcoming Impact! Rare & Unreleased Reggae, Funk, & Soul... album. Artists include: Hortense Ellis, Randy's All-Stars, Lloyd Parks, and Skin, Flesh & Bones.

VA: Impact! Rare and Unreleased Reggae, Funk, & Soul... 2LP (US 18 LP). $21.00

... From The Vaults Of Impact! and Randy's Records. Double LP Version

A CERTAIN RATIO: The Graveyard and the Ballroom CD (US 20CD). $18.00

"The Graveyard and the Ballroom is the legendary first album by A Certain Ratio. Originally released in 1980 this album has been a collectors item ever since it's initial release on cassette-only by Factory Records. Soul Jazz Records are releasing this album on CD and for the first time on LP. This album is a definitive piece of Post-Punk history and shows A Certain Ratio as leaders in this movement that they helped create along with their label mates Joy Division and other groups such as The Pop Group etc. Produced by the legendary Martin Hannett and Factory head Tony Wilson only 1000 copies were ever originally issued. The CD came with two bonus tracks 'Thin Boys' and 'And Then Again'. The LP come with a limited free 12" of the same two tracks."

A CERTAIN RATIO: The Graveyard and the Ballroom LP + 12" (US 20LP). $21.00

Double vinyl version.

A CERTAIN RATIO: To Each CD (US 21CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records are releasing one of the seminal Post-Punk albums of all time. Following on from last month's The Graveyard and The Ballroom, ACR's To Each was their first full studio album and was produced by the legendary Martin Hannett and originally released on Factory Records in 1981. ACR's To Each was recorded in East Orange, New Jersey. Here ACR mixed Funk, Dub, Percussion and Electronics to create a truly unique sound and the album was instantly hailed a classic. A Certain Ratio were friends and label mates of Joy Division and the two groups (especially the singing of Simon Topping and the late Ian Curtis respectively) showed similarities in sound. ACR's Funk however was all their own and led the way for the future sound of groups such as New Order in mixing dance and punk. These sessions in New Jersey actually produced two classic albums — After the completion of To Each, ACR gave over their remaining free studio time to a group they had just seen in New York City, ESG, who recorded their classic first album here for Factory/99 Records, also produced by Martin Hannett. This album comes with two bonus tracks 'Abracadabra' and 'Somnadub'. Sounding like King Tubby meets Sun Ra, these tracks were originally released as a 12" single independently a few months after this album under the pseudonym Sir Horatio (!) and have been a collectors item ever since."

A CERTAIN RATIO: To Each 2LP (US 21LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

A CERTAIN RATIO: Sextet CD (US 22CD). $18.00

"Sextet is the definitive third album released by A Certain Ratio. Originally released on Factory Records, the album mixes Post-Punk/Funk with New York Dance. The album also shows heavy African, Latin and Brazilian influences and shows ACR once again as a group ahead of their time. Soul Jazz Records are releasing this record as their latest in the series of ACR releases. This album is a definitive piece of Post-Punk dance history and shows A Certain Ratio as leaders in this movement that they helped create along with their label mates Joy Division and other groups such as The Pop Group etc. The CD comes with two bonus tracks 'Kether Hot Knives' and 'Funuzekea'. The LP comes with a limited free 12" of the same two tracks."

A CERTAIN RATIO: Sextet 2LP (US 22LP). $21.00

Double LP version.

REID AND THE MASTER BROTHERHOOD, STEVE: Rhythmatism CD (US 23CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records are releasing this second release of deep spiritual jazz by Steve Reid and The Master Brotherhood, entitled Rhythmatism. Steve Reid is a true pioneer of US left-field deep jazz. This release, originally released in 1976, is one of four albums Steve Reid recorded on his own tiny Mustevic record label in the 1970s and has a defining sound. This release follows on from the earlier Steve Reid album, Nova, also released on Soul Jazz Records. Steve Reid is steeped in musical history. He played in Sun Ra's Arkestra, was a Motown session drummer and backed James Brown at the Apollo! He was imprisoned during the Vietnam war as a conscientious objector and lived in Africa in the early 1970s. Steve Reid has also worked with Freddie Hubbard, Gary Bartz, Ornette Coleman, Lester Bowie, Fela Kuti, Leon Thomas, Miles Davis and many more. There were only 1000 copies of this record pressed when it was originally released in 1974 and it has been a collectors' album ever since. Soul Jazz Records are releasing this record for the first time ever in the UK."

REID AND THE MASTER BROTHERHOOD, STEVE: Rhythmatism LP (US 23LP). $20.00

LP version.

BELGRAVE, MARCUS: Gemini CD (US 24CD). $18.00

"Soul Jazz Records are re-issuing a lost classic deep jazz album by Marcus Belgrave entitled Gemini. Marcus Belgrave is featured on the recent Carl Craig album The Detroit Experiment, which includes a new version of the classic track 'Space Odyssey' which features here. Originally released in 1974 on the independent Tribe Records, this album features many of the Detroit heavyweight artists such as Wendell Harrison and Phil Ranelin who have both had releases on Chicago's Hefty Records where they have worked with and been re-mixed by current artists such as Telefon Tel Aviv, Morgan Geist, Prefuse 73 and Kirk Degiorgio amongst others. Marcus Belgrave's musical career over 4 decades. He has worked with everyone from Sun Ra to Charles Mingus, from McCoy Tyner to Clifford Brown. He worked as part of the Tribe collective in Detroit, working with the same ideology as their musical neighbours, The Art Ensemble of Chicago. He has consistently broken down musical barriers, from playing with Was (Not Was) in the 1970s to his current work with Carl Craig in The Detroit Experiment. There were only 1000 copies of this record pressed when it was originally released in 1974 and it has been a collectors' album ever since. Soul Jazz Records are releasing this record for the first time ever in the UK."

BELGRAVE, MARCUS: Gemini LP (US 24LP). $20.00

LP version.

UNIVERSE (ITALY):*PERREY/G. KINGSLEY, J.J.: The In Sound From Way Out LP (UV 011 LP). $21.00

"Their 1st album originally released in 1966 on Vanguard is a must for all the new fans of everything recently labelled as lounge, cocktail, incredibly strange music and space age pop. This 'then-futuristic electronic pop' is the result of 275 hours of work and several miles of tape. The duo combined electronic sounds from oscillators and tone generators with feedback loops and natural instruments to create something close to pop melodies and now, 30 years later, everyone from Stereolab to the Beastie Boys is borrowing ideas from Perrey-Kingsley. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

HENDERSON, JOE: Power To The People CD (UV 012). $15.00

"In this record (originally released by Milestone in 1969) tenor sax player Joe Henderson was helped by an all-star group including Herbie Hancock, Ron Carter, Jack De Johnette and Mike Lawrence. This album has many classic moments including the original version of 'Black Narcissus', 'Isotope', 'Lazy Afternoon' and the free-form 'Foresight And Afterthought'."

CORYELL, LARRY: Spaces CD (UV 013). $15.00

"Fine CD reissue of Larry Coryell's second record as bandleader for Vanguard, from 1970, finding him in a decidedly heavier territory than on his 1969 debut for the label Lady Coryell, which featured the core trio of Coryell and giants Elvin Jones and Jimmy Garrison. Conversely, the group on Spaces is a who's who of some of the architects of fusion, Larry teaming up with John McLaughlin, Chick Corea, 'Count' Miroslav Vitous and Billy Cobham, and it doesn't seem like it's much of a stretch to imagine this record occupying a hallowed place near the bong in sundry 'sheds' and Berkeley dorm rooms not long after it dropped. Striking a pretty thrilling balance between hard electric bop with frequent nods to a more hard rockist type vibe, the players barely seem to come up for breath for the entire ride. Between Coryell and McLaughlin's quid pro quo guitar wars one might think that there would barely be 'space' at all for the other players, but in some ways the 'sidemen' provide some of the most peaked moments. Especially Vitous, who resorts to his bow often, provided some danky atmospheres and a couple of solos that seem to rescue the record. There are two bonus cuts here as well, and the first, an 11+ minute Larry Young tune called 'Tyronne' is pretty awesome. Corea's playing on this track is especially fine, w/ some keyboard stabs that could be baby steps towards the alien sound of Miles' most tweaked 70's work (On The Corner et al.)." — Billy Kiely

RA & THE BLUES PROJECT, SUN: The Sensational Guitars Of Dan & Dale: Batman And Robin CD (UV 016). $15.00

"Originally released in 1966 as a children's record of 'Batman And Robin' for Tifton Record Company. Tom Wilson produced the session with Sun Ra on organ helped by Jimmy Owens (trumpet), Tom McIntosh (trombone), Al Kooper (when Sun Ra wasn't playing), Danny Kalb (guitar) and the rest of The Blues Project under the name of The Sensational Guitars Of Dan And Dale. 11 tracks. Original artwork."

Gatefold sleeve... 180 gram vinyl.

RA, SUN: The Sensational Guitars of Dan & Dale: Batman & Robin PIC. DISC (UV 016PIC LP). $21.00

"Here's the stunning picture disc version of this Sun Ra classic. Originally released in 1966 as a children's record of Batman & Robin for Tifton Records, this Tom Wilson produced session with Sun Ra on organ features The Sensational Guitars of Dan & Dale. Includes trumpeter Jimmy Owens, trombonist Tom McIntosh, Al Kooper (when Sun Ra wasn't playing) & guitarist Danny Kalb."

RA, SUN: The Other Side Of The Sun CD (UV 017). $15.00

"Originally released 1979 on the Sweet Earth label. 5 tracks recorded with the Arkestra at Blue Rock Studios in New York City on November 1, 1978 and January 4, 1979. Original artwork."

RA, SUN: The Other Side Of The Sun LP (UV 017 LP). $21.00

Gatefold sleeve... 180 gram vinyl

YARBROUGH, CAMILLE: The Iron Pot Cooker CD (UV 019). $15.00

"As the liner notes to this overlooked album released by Vanguard in 1975 attest, Camille Yarbrough blazed a trail for artists like Lauryn Hill and Erykah Badu. Her rootsy grooves and free-flowing poetry easily rank with the best work of Gil Scott Heron, and the songs of this album still stand up well after 25 years. Definitely to be recognized as a very important work."

CORYELL, LARRY: Basics CD (UV 020). $15.00

"A guitar player that needs no introduction, here with one of his less known but still great albums, recorded between 1968 and 1969, and originally released by Vanguard in 1975. The line-up features Ron Carter, Chuck Rainey, Bernard Purdie and Ray Mantilla. Long out of print and finally available on CD."

CORYELL, LARRY: Coryell CD (UV 021). $15.00

"1st album recorded for the Vanguard label in 1969 by this sensational guitarist. Rhythmic, melodic, and even lyrical at times, Coryell's masterful playing is impressive. Most of the tracks are instrumentals and the highlight is the fearsomely funky 'The Jam With Albert'. Featuring Ron Carter, Bernard Purdie, Mike Mandel and Jim Pepper."

CORYELL, LARRY: At The Village Gate CD (UV 022). $15.00

"This powerful performance for an enthusiastic NYC crowd has Hendrix's spirit (the live show was recorded for the Vanguard label in 1971 only four months after Jimi's death). Coryell on stage with rock-solid bassist Mervin Bronson and inventive drummer Harry Wilkinson. Contains a version of Jack Bruce's 'Can You Follow?'"

JOHN BERBERIAN ENSEMBLE, THE: Music From The Middle East CD (UV 023 CD). $15.00

"The 3rd album originally released in 1966 on Roulette. Middle East ethnicity from New York City a long time before the hyped World Music movement. John Berberian, an accomplished oud player and a student in Business Studies at Columbia University in the mid-60s, gathered around him a troop of skilled musicians to perform the music of his forefathers. With a foundation of traditional music from Turkey, Armenia, Greece, Arabia and North Africa, they created a captivating blend of exotic rhythms, melodies and improvisations transporting the listener to bustling bazaars and scorched sands. Original artwork."

LP version, 180 gram vinyl.

CORYELL, LARRY: Offering CD (UV 028 CD). $15.00

"This album (originally released in 1972 on Vanguard) directly anticipated the formation of Larry Coryell's Eleventh House. In fact, the guitarist is joined by a future member, keyboardist Mike Mandel, and the style of fusion is similar to what would be later developed. Steve Marcus contributes some fiery soprano solos, while bassist Mervin Bronson and drummer Harry Wilkinson push the soloists. For listeners who enjoy hearing rock-oriented jazz. Original artwork."

CORYELL, LARRY: The Real Great Escape CD (UV 029 CD). $15.00

"A killer 1973 progressive fusion album from the renowned jazz guitarist. Wah-wah, feed-back, and effects were pushing his cutting guitar sound in a rock direction. Some cosmic jazz moments are aided by ARP synth. The band featured Steve Marcus, Mike Mandel and Mervin Bronson along Harry Wilkinson and Earl Derouen. Jazz, rock, blues and psychedelic influenced grace this heavy group workout which originally appeared on Vanguard. Julie Coryell contributes additional vocals and the horn arrangements are by Bryan Wells."

CORYELL, LARRY: Restful Mind CD (UV 033 CD). $15.00

"Jazz fusion guitarist extraordinaire recorded this introspective album following early '70s recordings with John McLaughlin and Chick Corea that had raised his playing to another level. Coryell is joined here by fellow Vanguard recording band, the highly influential ethno-jazz unit Oregon (Ralph Towner, Colin Walcott and Glen Moore). This album was recorded in 1975. 2 outstanding long improvisations are highlights of the five tracks. This is a career highlight capturing Coryell at his best in a subdued and thoughtful mode. Original artwork."

TURNER, IKE & TINA: Portrait In Blues 3CD (UV 035 CD). $46.00

"56 songs, total running time of 160 minutes on this exquisite 3CD set compiling four albums from the end of the '60s by the fiercest couple in pop music ('So Fine', 'The Hunter', 'Cussin', 'Cryin' & Carryin' On' and 'Outta Season'). The collection contains the four original LPs plus four bonus tracks recorded live. 'So Fine' was a strictly hardcore R&B funk album with some of Tina's grittiest vocal on record. The album made little impact commercially due to being so damn raw. The duo issued 8 albums in 1969 of pure soul R&B, riding the wave of their Spector produced masterwork 'River Deep Mountain High'. This massively productive period resulted in working with Bob Krasnow (who was working with Beefheart) as a producer who stripped back the sound to a Stax raw-minimal funk that sounds electrifying to this day on The Hunter — an extraordinary often overlooked album."

RA, SUN: It's After The End Of The World CD (UV 070 CD). $15.00

"Recorded live at the Donaueschingen Music Festival on Oct. 17, 1970 and at the Berlin Jazz Festival on Nov. 7, 1970, at a time when Sun Ra's Arkestra (featuring Alan Silva, Leroy Taylor, Lex Humphries, etc.) was one of the most innovative things happening the already innovative avant-garde jazz scene. Lounge soundscapes from outer space — in Ra's music we find elements of jazz, blues, tribal music, the occult, etc., etc., — creative genius beyond measure who guarantees a mind-altering aural experience every time."

RA, SUN: It's After The End Of The World LP (UV 070 LP). $21.00

LP version, gatefold sleeve. RA & HIS ARKESTRA, SUN: Live At Montreaux 2CD (UV 075 CD). $32.00

"Recorded live at the 1976 Montreaux Jazz Festival. Elements of jazz, blues, African tribal music, trance and the occult — Sun Ra is one of the top innovators of 20th century music — not to be left out of any music collection. A cover of Billy Strayhorn's 'Take The A Train' stands out among the many original Arkestra pieces."

RA & HIS ARKESTRA, SUN: Live At Montreaux 2LP (UV 075 LP). $32.00

Double LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

RA, SUN: Live In Paris at The Gibus CD (UV 079 CD). $16.00

"Recorded live in Paris in 1973, Sun Ra and his Arkestra create a magical atmosphere that is difficultly reproduced in-studio. Improvisation is, in fact, the primary impetus behind the band, therefore making a live setting an essential element. As usual, Sun Ra never forgets the roots of jazz music and among his original pieces, we find Jelly Roll Morton's classic 'King Porter Stomp'. Another important testimony to one of the greatest innovators in jazz."

RA, SUN: Live In Paris at The Gibus LP (UV 079 LP). $21.00

LP version, deluxe gatefold sleeve.

RA, SUN: Nuits De La Fondation Maeght Vol. 1 CD (UV 080 CD). $16.00

"Volume 1 features the first half of Sun Ra and his Arkestra's live performance at the Fondation Maeght in France in 1970. Opening with 'Enlightenment', sung by Sun Ra and June Tyson, and followed by 'The Star Gazers', a keyboard piece that introduces 'Shadow World', characterized by Marshall Allen's chilling sax solo. However, the apex is reached by 'The Cosmic Explorer', a 20 min 'multiple keyboards freakout'. These inimitable moments captured on this recording, confirm the greatness of this ensemble."

RA, SUN: Nuits De La Fondation Maeght Vol. 1 LP (UV 080 LP). $21.00

LP version, deluxe gatefold sleeve.

RA, SUN: Nuits De La Fondation Maeght Vol. 2 CD (UV 081 CD). $16.00

"Part two of Sun Ra's 1970 appearance at the Fondation Maeght. An important document for this innovator of jazz. Improvisation, percussion, Afro rhythms, mysticism, and the occult — all this and more is what the Sun Ra universe is made of. One of the most mysterious and fascinating figures in the history of jazz."

RA, SUN: Nuits De La Fondation Maeght Vol. 2 LP (UV 081 LP). $21.00

LP version, textured gatefold sleeve.

MARLEY, BOB: Jamaica Joint Jump 2CD (UV 083 CD). $32.00

"This double CD collection compiles Bob Marley's early singles compiles (originally released on 45s and distributed on a local level before Marley became a star). A fundamental release for all fans of Jamaican music, and for anyone wanting to become more familiar with the roots of reggae and ska, and this unforgettable artist."

HOPKINS, LIGHTNIN': Mojo Hand CD (UV 089 CD). $16.00

"One of Lightnin' Hopkins' greatest and rarest releases is now out on both CD and LP. Mojo Hand (originally released on the Fire labe in 1960) is particularly interesting because it presents Hopkins in a context that ranges from blues to classic R&B. The album's title track, originally released as a single, has become one of the artist's signature tunes. While 'Have You Ever Loved A Woman' features Hopkins on piano, 'Glory Be' is characterized by Hopkins' trademark guitar playing. 'Sometimes She Will' is also characterized by Hopkins' instantly recognizable guitar and pronounced vocals, while 'Awful Dreams' is notable for its apocalyptic text. Featuring six bonus tracks."

HOPKINS, LIGHTNIN': Mojo Hand LP (UV 089 LP). $21.00

LP version. "One of Lightnin' Hopkins' greatest and rarest releases is now out on LP. Mojo Hand (originally released on the Fire labe in 1960) is particularly interesting because it presents Hopkins in a context that ranges from blues to classic R&B. Featuring six bonus tracks."

SUMAC, YMA: Voice Of The Xtabay 10" (UV 092 EP). $15.00

"These two 10", recorded by Yma Sumac in the early fifties, can be considered some of the best recordings of her career. Surrounded by mystery and legend, this mesmerizing vocalist (whose origins still remain unknown) has been blessed with an almost unbelievable vocal range, and her unique style has always attracted attention, particularly after the so-called 'exotica' boom. Arrangements by Moses Vivanco (who would follow Yma through most of her career) and Les Baxter (responsible for almost single-handedly spawning the exotica genre). Yma's suggestive vocal atmospheres evoke the mystery of the unknown. She is an extraordinary talent who has been a source of inspiration for countless artists."

SUMAC, YMA: Inca Taqui 10" (UV 093 EP). $15.00

JAMES, SKIP: Hard Time Best CD (UV 094 CD). $16.00

"One of the first great Delta blues men, Skip James has influenced everyone from Robert Johnson to Eric Clapton and his Vanguard releases helped write the essential pages in the book of country blues. This exclusive Horizon release brings together a collection of James' most important Vanguard works including rare tracks and live versions of his own compositions as well as renditions of traditional blues numbers, making this 20 track CD the definitive Skip James retrospective."

JOHNSON, BLIND WILLIE: The Soul Of A Man CD (UV 096 CD). $16.00

"Blind Willie Johnson (1902-1947) is one of the great gospel blues legends. Initially a preacher who gave sermons in the street, Johnson first became known for his powerful voice, but it was his masterful slide guitar playing that would soon write his name in the annals of blues. He recorded around 30 songs between 1928-1931, many of which would be covered by the likes of Bob Dylan, Eric Clapton and Ry Cooder ('Dark Was The Night' inspired Cooder for the soundtrack of Paris, Texas). The track 'If I Had My Way' was a success in the 1960s for Peter, Paul and Mary and The Soul Of A Man will give the title to a new Wim Wenders film telling the story of Johnson, Skip James and JB Lenoir. This 78 min 25 track collection includes much of Johnson's recorded work making it an essential tribute to this artist."

SUMAC, YMA: Legend Of The Sun Virgin LP (UV 099 LP). $21.00

"At the beginning of the 1950s, when the first recordings of Yma Sumac came on the market, many were bewitched by her extraordinary voice. Mysterious and fascinating, the music of Yma Sumac is experiencing a much deserved revival, thanks to the rediscovery of the 'exotica' genre. Legend of the Sun Virgin, released in 1954, can be considered one of Yma Sumac's most theatrical albums, and thanks to the suggestive atmospheres created by composer Moises Vivanco (a fixture on many Yma Sumac albums) one of the most interesting albums in the genre. 180 gram vinyl."

HOLIDAY, BILLIE: Good Morning Blues: Complete Columbia Recordings 1933-1950 9CD BOX (UV 100 CD). $100.00

"This definitive nine CD box set, celebrating one of the most important voices in the history of jazz, contains everything Billie Holiday ever recorded for Columbia, from 1933 to 1950. Accompanied by the musicians who helped her make jazz history (Benny Carter, Duke Ellington, Count Basie and Eddie Heywood, etc) and their orchestras (featuring Lester Young, Buck Clayton, Kenny Clarke, Ben Webster and Art Tatum, to name a few). 230 tracks in all — over eleven hours of non stop Lady Day. Also includes booklet with extensive liner notes and photos."

JOHNSON, ROBERT: The Complete Recordings Vol. 1 LP (UV 103LP). $21.00

"Go down to the crossroads with the vinyl first volume of the complete recordings of the most legendary figure in blues history. First part of a two volume collection dedicated to the controversial bluesman, the man that sold his soul to the devil. 20 tracks including alternate takes of 'Kindhearted Woman Blues', 'Rambling On My Mind', 'Crossroad Blues'."

BAXTER AND HIS ORCHESTRA, LES: Ritual of the Savage LP (UV 104LP). $21.00

"Considered by most as the birthplace of 'exotica,' this seminal 1952 Capitol release by Les Baxter is once again available on vinyl with one bonus track. Features the hit 'Quiet Village'." 180 gram vinyl.

PATTON, CHARLEY: The Vocalion Recordings LP (UV 105LP). $21.00

"A collection of songs recorded in 1934 for the mighty Vocalion label by the godfather of delta blues, the man whose songs and style have been a big influence for the likes of Robert Johnson, Howlin' Wolf and John Lee Hooker." 180 gram vinyl.

WATERS, MUDDY: Down on Stovall's Plantation CD (UV 111CD). $16.00

"Library of Congress field recordings done by Alan Lomax from 1941-1942, featuring Muddy with Percy Thomas on guitar, Louis Ford on mandolin, and Henry Sims on violin. Capturing Muddy in a string-band context playing his earliest repertoire, this is a major historical document."

WATERS, MUDDY: Down on Stovall's Plantation LP (UV 111LP). $21.00

LP version.

MCTELL, BLIND WILLIE: A to Z Blues (Biograph Recordings) CD (UV 112CD). $16.00

"Blind Willie MCTell Library of Congress recordings, cut in 1950 and previously issued on Biograph. Highlights among the 20 remastered tracks are the Delta blues classics 'Brown Skin Woman,' 'A to Z Blues,' and two takes each of 'Pal of Mine' and 'Sending up My Timber.' Highly recommended to anyone who has an interest in early American acoustic blues."

MCTELL, BLIND WILLIE: A to Z Blues (Biograph Recordings) LP (UV 112LP). $21.00

LP version.

HOPKINS, LIGHTNIN': Ground Hog Blues (The 'Sittin' in With' Sessions) 2CD (UV 115CD). $32.00

"This fabulous reissue on a double CD set collects the famed sessions that Hopkins recorded between 1950 and 1952 for Bob Shad's Sitting In With label. During the sixties this legendary bluesman had his career revamped by a generation of musicians that rediscovered the roots of blues, such as Pete Seeger and Joan Baez — whom he played with at the Carnegie Hall in NYC — Jefferson Airplane and the Grateful Dead, when his style became a musical must for the hippie generation."

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: Down Home Blues CD (UV 116CD). $16.00

"One of the most important bluesman of all times, the Hook was undoubtedly influenced by 1920s Delta Blues, although his style and unique class also made him a rising star throughout all the past century (he was awarded a memorable Grammy in 1990). Down Home Blues features early 1950s recordings and a lonely artist with his gritty instrument, only sometimes accompanied by a piano or a brass quartet."

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: Down Home Blues LP (UV 116LP). $21.00

LP version.

TERRY & BROWNIE MCGHEE, SONNY: Key to the Highway (The Sittin' in With Sessions) CD (UV 117CD). $16.00

"When you say 'duo' in blues history, you are actually saying Terry and McGhee. Both born in 1911, they walked the blues road together until mid 1970s. Terry's harmonica is responsible for one of the most imitated songs for fans of this instrument, the famous 'Chasin' The Fox', while Brownie McGhee is an unmistakably talented vocalist and guitar genius. Featured here are the 'Sittin' In With' sessions, rare studio takes produced by Bob Shad for his own label."

BARRETTO, RAY: Fuerza Gigante 2CD (UV 118CD). $32.00

"A double CD set that captures all the salsa power of this ensemble led by Mr. Barretto. Please don't fall apart when you hear his congas solos, even though it would be understandable, considering how astonishing and incredible this musician is. Furthermore, Adalberto Santiago is the perfect vocalist for this beloved genre by all the dancers of the world." Recorded live, 4/27/01.

SUMAC, YMA: Mambo! LP (UV 120LP). $21.00

"Here's Yma Sumac's 1954 personal take on Mambo, a dance and musical style that was very popular at the time. Our beloved Queen of Exotica performs 11 mambo dances that immediately became 11 gems with only the help of her peculiar and unique vocal technique that made the history of 'incredibly strange music'."

UNSOUNDS (NETHERLANDS):*MATTHEWS/ANDY MOOR, KAFFE: Locks CD (U 02 CD). $12.00

"Live convertor Kaffe Matthews and sonic guitarist Andy Moor (The EX/Kletka Red/Dog Faced Hermans) first performed together as an improvised duo in London in 1998. The combination of Andy's energetic guitar work and Kaffe's serene, highly focused live sampling technique blends to create a unique hybrid sound world. They produce a dark, textural sound with extremes in dynamics from barely audible blips and squeaks to massive walls of joyful noise often backed by bizarre rhythmic patterns and melancholic drones. This CD is a collection of live and studio recordings of their improvisations from the last two years."

MOOR, LEHN, BUTCHER: Thermal CD (U 04 CD). $16.00

"Thermal is a set of improvisations by Andy Moor, John Butcher and Thomas Lehn. Taking the sonic possibilities of their respective instruments (electric guitar, saxophones and EMS synth) through surprising and playful avenues, this is an exquisite example of the meeting of three experienced improvisers, each bringing to this exchange the perspective of their mixed musical backgrounds. Andy Moor is known for his long time association with the EX, Kletka Red, and Dog Faced Hermans, he has a original vibrant style of guitar playing and in recent years has collaborated with many musicians in the improvised music scene. John Butcher is one of the most highly respected saxophone players of our time, as a solo artist he performs worldwide and is associated with musicians such as Fred Frith, Misha Mengelberg, and Derek Bailey. Thomas Lehn has an individual style of musical expression that is rooted in the experience of a broad spectrum of musical fields that encompasses contemporary classical music and new electronic improvisation. The electronic equipment he uses consists of analogue synthesizers of the late 1960s. He is associated with musicians such as Gerry Hemingway and Marcus Schmickler, Eugene Chadbourne, and Mimeo amongst many others."

VA: Kraakgeluiden: Document 1 CD (U 06 CD). $16.00

"Kraakgeluiden, a series of improvised music-performances involving acoustic and electronic instruments, was started in 1999 by a group of musicians in Amsterdam. The central idea of the series is to encourage musicians and composers from Amsterdam and elsewhere to experiment with the electronic medium in a live, improvised setting. They perform in combinations, which include musicians with whom they have never performed before. The selection of recordings on this CD aims at representing the diversity and the quality of the Kraakgeluiden improvised sessions." Appearing on this CD are: Sasha Agranov - Ab Baars - Henk Bakker - Richard Barrett - Justin Bennett - Jaap Blonk - Dirk Bruinsma - Stephanie Büttrich - Sakir Oguz Buyukberber - Lucio Capece - Jeff Carey - Marko Ciciliani - Tobias Delius - Huib Emmer - Walter Fabeck - Cor Fuhler - Carlos Galvez - Bjornar Habbestad - Steve Heather - Rozemarie Heggen - Gudrun - Hrund Hardadottir - Hilary Jeffery - Yannis Kyriakides - Anne La Berge - Yoshio Machida - Lou Mallozzi - Colin McLean - Andy Moor - Koen Nutters - Paul Obermayer - Morten J. Olsen - Dragan Pajic Pajo - Gert-Jan Prins - Alan Purves - Robert van Heumen - John Richards - Matt Rogalsky - Michael Vatcher - Cesar Villavicencio - Michael Vorfeld - Joe Williamson.

UPSETTER:*PERRY, LEE: Best Of Lee Perry LP (UP 002 LP). $12.00

"A very limited repress of a collection of Lee Perry tracks concentrating on vocal cuts from the Upsetter himself, which mainly date from the mid 70's."

UPSETTER RECORDS:*FLESH EATERS, THE: Ashes Of Time CD (UPCD 001). $12.00

A semi-surprising return of the Flesheaters moniker from Chris D, resurrecting his original label imprint as well. Originating in the late 70s LA punk scene, the Flesheaters peaked with one of the quintessential American rock albums, A Minute To Pray, A Second to Die in 1981 on Slash. A series of albums followed under the aegis of Divine Horsemen, Stone by Stone, solo Chris D and then the Flesheaters again throughout the next 15 years. Ashes Of Time sounds totally out of time and could have been a mid-80s follow up to Devil's River, in terms of style & atmosphere. "A total of fifteen songs ranging from the aggressive, anthemic feel of previous Flesheaters endeavors to the more melodic hard rock of Chris D's mid-80s combo Divine Horsemen. Featured musicians are Chris D.; Robyn Jameson; drummer Johnny Ray; guitarists Jeff Vengeance and Larry Schemel; backing vocalists Juanita Myers and Erika Wea.. Also helping on backing vocals for six of the tracks is former Divine Horsemen co-lead singer Julie Christensen." Limited stock.

URAL 13 (FINLAND):*URAL 13 DIKTATORS: Techno Is Dead CD (U13 001 CD). $15.00

"Two years after their debut album Total Destruction Ural 13 Diktators open a door to their world with a mind blowing album Techno Is Dead. After their series of 14 most highly successful releases from Diskossa EP (1998) to Disco Kings (2001) what less could you expect than 12 tracks on three 12" vinyl on beautifully designed double folded sleeve or on a digi-packed CD, composed with the same and even more highly energizing feeling which you have noticed if you have had the chance to follow their releases from the very beginning. Techno Is Dead is a crossover between the whole musical scene of the 80s through Hi-NRG Disco to Rock and Pop without falling to ride with cheap clichés or ripped samples. Ural13 Diktators haven't gone through their vinyl collection to find records to sample — quite the opposite. All the tracks are completely written and produced by these two fins. This special futuristic Ural 13 Diktators sound is guaranteed to blast sound systems at clubs around the world with heavy club beats and strong steady bass-lines."

URAL 13 DIKTATORS: Techno Is Dead 3LP (U13 007 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version, gatefold sleeve. Same 12 tracks as the CD

URBAN GEEK RECORDS:*ONE RING ZERO: As Smart As We Are CD (UGR 035CD). $14.00

"Imagine the finest anthology of writing possible, and then imagine that writing put to music... You're imagining As Smart As We Are, a book-cum-CD to be released by Urban Geek Records. Many of North America's bestselling and prize-winning authors, have contributed original lyrics (and in some cases their musical skills) to this CD of music by Brooklyn lit-rock band One Ring Zero." Contributing Authors: Jonathan Ames, Margaret Atwood, Paul Auster, Clay McLeod Chapman, Dave Eggers, Amy Fusselman, Neil Gaiman, Myla Goldberg, Ben Greenman, Daniel Handler, A.M. Homes, Denis Johnson, Lawrence Krauser, Jonathan Lethem, Rick Moody, Aaron Naparstek, and Darin Strauss. Deluxe hardcover book packaging.

URBAN SUBSTANCE (NETHERLANDS):*DJ GODFATHER: Ghetto Tech: Detroit CD (USR 007 CD). $15.00

"This mix CD for Urban Substance, an imprint that has already established a name for itself showcasing some of the U.S.'s more underground talents, marks the first time DJ Godfather has rocked it for a UK label. It's a typically raw representation of Godfather's breakneck mixing style — high tempo, high energy, and crammed with the kind of hip-hop techniques that have secured his reputation both at home and abroad as an incendiary performer of the highest calibre."

URBAN THEORY (UK):*VA, FREESTYLERS: Electro Science 2CD (URB 003CD). $21.00

"An Old Skool Electro album. The demand for these brilliant classics is still very strong. Features THE classics by Cybotron (aka Juan Atkins), Herbie Hancock, Man Parrish, Newcleus, Grandmaster Flash & Melle Mel, Rockers Revenge, and more! No b-side filler here folks — these be da hits! So get body-poppin'." CD 1 (Mixed) Tracklisting: Time Zone: "(Intro)", Mantronix: "Needle To The Groove", Davy DMX: "One For The Treble (Fresh)", Grandmaster Flash & The Furious Five: "The Adventures Of Grandmaster Flash On The Wheels Of Steel", West Street Mob: "Break Dancin' Electric Boogie", Herbie Hancock: "Rockit", Time Zone: "Wildstyle", Newcleus: "Jam On It", Man Parrish: "Boogie Down Bronx", G.L.O.B.E & Whiz Kid: "Play That Beat Mr DJ", Rockers Revenge feat. Donna Galvin: "Walking On Sunshine", Tyrone Brunson: "The Smurf", Afrika Bambaataa & Soul Sonic Force: "Looking For The Perfect Beat", Cybotron: "Clear", Planet Patrol: "Play At Your Own Risk" CD 2 same tracks, un-mixed.

CLAUSELL, JOE: Music Is... A Reason To Celebrate 2CD (URB 006CD). $21.00

"Joe Clausell is one of today's hottest producers & DJ's, especially familiar to those who have had the opportunity to attend a night at New York's legendary Body & Soul where Joe is a resident. Being involved in both Dancetracks, another of New York's musical institutions & being solely responsible for the prolific label Spiritual Life Music, Joe's activities reflect his musical influences from rock & pop to African & Latin & are clearly demonstrated in the innovative & danceable tracks he produces. BBE & Urban Theory are proud to present Joe Clausell and an album which illustrates an evening with him & which shows the listener that he is more than just a house DJ. A Reason To Celebrate stretches boundaries by presenting us with a diverse number of tracks from Ronny Jordan and War to the Hispanic genius of Jorge Ben and Hector Lavoe. This album allows the listener a new way of looking at & listening to world music, so open your ears & your mind & start dancing!" Also features: Bhaki Mseleki, Robin Beck, Drum Dance, Earl Flint, Black Blood, Syreeta, Yambu, Richie Havens, King Sunny Ade, Imagination, Modnda Michiru, Maynard Ferguson, Hector Lavoe, Bob Marley, Pat Metheny, Luis Gasca, The Band That Came To Earth, Jermaine Jackson, The Sounds Of Blackness, The Spirit Of Atlantic, Pam Todd & The Love Exchange.

VA: Disco Spectrum 3 2CD (URB 007CD). $23.00

"Disco Spectrum 3 is a reaction to the over commercialization of dance music and represents the overlooked classics from the 70's and early 80's that were played in the clubs, but left off the radio programmers playlists. These songs didn't make the Top 40's, but were beloved by the denizens of clubs who set the trends. The endless search for the roots of house music and the decades of club culture that many of us missed out on has its best ever representation with this exciting new release. Compiled by disco house legend Joey Negro and producer, compiler, and writer Sean P, Disco Spectrum 3 resurfaces the lost classics of Denise Lesalle, the underrated Motown artist Syreeta, BT Express, and a handful of less known but equally respected acts."

VA: Disco Spectrum 3: Compiled by Joey Negro 3LP (URB 007LP). $22.00

Triple LP version.

QUESTLOVE: Babies Making Babies CD (URB 008CD). $17.00

"Babies Making Babies is a collection of rare groove tracks designed for lovers and compiled by Ahmir 'Questlove' Thompson of The Roots. While love songs have become the rhetoric for many Generations, too often they are the same old songs, repeated and programmed. Babies Making Babies is a compilation, which aims to dig deep into the Soul archives to represent the hidden gems of the genre. Questlove is not simply a drummer for the beloved Roots crew, but a multi-talented musician and producer. Everyone from Cassandra Wilson, Nikka Costa, D'Angelo, Common, Erykah Badu and Jay-Z have been blessed by his signature arrangements and drum programming. Babies Making Babies is the influence and inspiration for contemporary soul inspired music beautifully selected and packaged for love devotees and music connoisseurs alike."

QUESTLOVE: Babies Making Babies 3LP (URB 008LP). $21.00

Triple LP version.

DOPE, KENNY: Presents... Disco Heat 3CD (URB 010CD). $23.00

"What can you say about Kenny Dope that has not been said already? Along with Louie Vega as Masters At Work, and on his solo projects he has created some of the very finest music of the last 10 years, a true benchmark of quality. On Disco Heat Kenny takes us back to the late 70's and early 80's, one of the most creative and influential times in dance music's history. New York City was home to clubs that would shape the way we danced for years to come — The Loft, The Gallery, Studio 54, and of course, the Paradise Garage. All these great clubs were built on the sounds that Kenny has chosen for us here, the real underground sound of disco. One look at this tracklisting will have any fan of real dance music drooling. What makes this release something to lose sleep over is Kenny's mix on CD one. He cuts, blends and mixes these wonderful old tunes as only he can." Artists include: Dexter Wansel, Bohannon, Lenny Williams, Sylvester, Harvey Mason, Carrie Lucas, Double Journey, Dinosaur L, Azymuth, Gary's Gang, Mistique, First Choice, Love Committee, Thelma Houston, Congas, Rhythm Makers, Cory Dave, Clyde Alexander, Panache, Ahazz.

VA: Electroclash 2CD (URB 011CD). $23.00

"Electroclash is the glitzy universal sound that links Detroit with Berlin, New York with London, Paris with Buenos Aires, and Munich with San Francisco. Although rooted in the technological pop forays of Kraftwerk, New Order, and Depeche Mode, the current electro crop takes its fashion from the 1980's and its attitude from the Sex Pistols. Notable Techno DJs such as Felix Da Houscat, Juan Atkins, and DJ Hell have also been at the forefront of this new sound breathing life back into the clubs and turning rock fans into dancefloor groupies. UK label Urban Theory has compiled an introduction that perfectly reflects the sensibility that has spawned a new generation of body popping, head banging, and all around fabulous connoisseurs of something new and radically different." Artists include: Basement Jaxx, Peaches, Chicks On Speed, Linda Lamb, Dot Allison, Radioactive Man, Anthony Rother, Miss Kittin & The Hacker, I-F, Alden Tyrell, Gonzales feat. Peaches, Ladytron, Crossover, Mekon feat. Marc Almond, Louie Austen, David Carretta, Dexorcist, Dexter, Sir Drew, Creme De Menthe.

URTHONA (GERMANY):*HANDS TO: Circumscription CD (URTHONA 02). $15.00

"...consists mainly of field recordings structured into a thrilling composition that takes the listener on an aural journey." Assembly by Jeph Jerman (Blowhole percussionist), using raw materials supplied by Akifumi Nakajima (Aube), Patrick Barber (also from Blowhole) and others; 3rd CD release.

UNITED ACOUSTIC RECORDINGS:*VA: They Keep Me Smiling CD (UUAR 001CD). $34.00

Very deluxe packaged compilation of new bands, somehow associated with United Bamboo (NYC fashion line). Debut release on this label. Expensive, but feels like it's worth it — and it's cheaper & better looking than those Colette compilations, right? Mini-hardcover book, with 34 page book of full color artwork supplied by the featured artists. Which are: Samara Lubelski (her songs are homage to the 60's with intricate instrumental arrangements and a gentle, sensual voice); Benji Cossa (comical and ultra positive pop songs); Gang Gang Dance (a true mystic quality that you can hear in their music, as it twists and turns into different dimensions of Ethiopian style guitar melodies, gypsy style vocals and UK Garage influenced beats); Black Dice; White Magic (eclectic mix of 60s guitars and Mira Billotte's Billy Holiday like voice); Animal Collective, Blood On The Wall; Delia Gonzalez & Gavin Russom (new recording artists on DFA Records, homemade Moog style keyboards are used to make this magical space age music); Angel Blood (their magical sound is forged from a mixture of Norwegian Black Metal, Hungarian folk music, and American Speed metal); U W Owl (prefers to manipulate modern electronic equipment to make for mysterious and spacious sound-scapes); Turrestrial Tones (members of Black Dice and Animal Collective); Jane (a two piece group, interested in subtle movement in sounds more than drama); Coptic Light (sounds like Magma on a Rollercoaster); HSDOM (heavy deep beats, dark sound-scapes with subtle movements); Tes (Lex Records); Excepter (members of No Neck Blues Band).

UXB (UK):*KRUTON: Granular Plateaux #3 12" (UXB 005). $9.00

"An extraordinary fusion of cutting edge electronics and live drums from the hugely talented Kruton. A very varied EP that effortlessly shifts from oddball old school electro to low slung hip-hop style live breaks. Includes a stunning left of centre contribution from Warp favourites Autechre — who push the boundaries as only they can with an excellent remix of 'Smallfish PA Track #2'. Will appeal to fans of Warp, Skam, Chocolate Industries, Schematic etc."

V RECORDS (SWITZERLAND):*REMOND/COSMICS VOL. 2, KNUT: Cowmeditation CD (V 3). $16.00

Solo album by the Swiss musician, best known for his association with Voice Crack (has also collaborated with O'Rourke, Borbetomagus, Zorn, etc.). "...a very special music and working method. It is completely a studio-production. Although it includes acoustic instruments, it is a kind of electronic piece, because the instruments are processed and nearly impossible to identify as instruments themselves... a great and fantastic piece of music, which reflects the quiet and dark ambience of the region it has been born. It could be best characterized as 'dark ambient' in the vein of 'post industrial' music. There are with no doubt similarities with the works of Jim O'Rourke, Toop/Eastly, the Hafler Trio or Zoviet France. That means that Cowmeditations is one of the best 'ambient productions' that has emerged during the last time." "The substance of this works commits itself neither to time nor to space. It creates an indefinable sound architecture, music which inevitably enriches those who hear. The notations, instruments, recordings, samples and haddisc composing leads through metamorphosis to characteristic features which are interconnected and together create a mesmerizing universe of sound."

DEEP STRUCTURE (KNUT REMOND): Cosmics Vol.3 CD (V 501). $15.00

"A compositional attempt to 'ramifications', proceeding from clusters on a one-manual organ of Italian construction of the late Baroque period. Deep Structure: A thicket of rotation, magnification and reduction combined with any imaginable distortion on 8 x 8 — track hard disk recorder. Deep Structure: The soprano voice shoots through the brushwood of noise like flashcubes, with a poem by the Valaisan lyric writer Bernadette Lerjen-Sarbach and snapshots of a selection of Writing by the American artist Jenny Holzer. As the transposition of Jenny Holzer's writing is defined and the visual interpretation is integrated, the question arises: how do I handle this writing structure in terms of music/composition, this multi-tracking and crossing over, this visual resonance of writing in space. The inside out, and the outside in, the vulnerability, the transitoriness, the unpronounceable, thought-whispering, so that the actual singing must be interpreted as a scream. Air, vocal chords as generators of vibration, the cavities of the frontal sinus, nose, mouth, windpipe and lungs as bodies of resonance, saliva, tongue, teeth, dried-up mouth and lips, moist lips. The space is exclusively the mouth, as well as the skull with sound-radiation through the bones. At Donald Miller's in New York I found a postcard from Mexico, painted with a fine brush in red, white, black and green. A skeleton, an angel and the devil drinking wine together. I believe that this sort of communication between the three could not possibly be more exciting; in addition there is this particular aesthetics of Indian drawing and 14th century European-occidental Flemish-Dutch painting, in brief: of Indian-Boschian mixture. In the composition, the short poem 'Immer nu', written by the Valaisan poet Bernadette Lerjen-Sarbach, forms a linguistic (Valaisan dialect) and formal counterpoint to Jenny Holzer's writing. Immer nu, tanz i vor Dier, mit zerzüüstum Haar, und laamu Fiess" — Knut Remond

V/V/M (UK):*VVM: Sometimes Good Things Happen 1/2 CD (VVM 90025). $15.00

"VVM return to their melodic electronica roots, having worked closely with Skam on the 0161 compilation and releasing tracks from the likes of Boards of Canada, Bola, Autechre, Kid 606, Stockhausen and Walkman to name but a few. Based in the working class 'North of England' VVM have become infamous for their plunderphonic gems such as the NME Single Of the Week 'Lady in Red'. Available in two versions, this first version of Sometimes Good Things Happen is a twelve track CD featuring various styles of melodic electronica with nice atmospheres. First VVM album available in 'normal' jewel case. "Wheat" colored cover.

VVM: Sometimes Good Things Happen 2/2 CD (VVM 90026). $15.00

"Companion album to the mellow same titled album, here we see VVM's true plan of evil come through. On this blue sleeved version VVM set the distortion pedals to kill, this second disc is completely different tracks remixed into a massive and jarring Kid 606 meets Merzbrow concoction of distorted audio." Blue cover.

VVM/WIGURU JOSH: *Who's Law (VVMCPs Abolish Copyright Anthem)IINF 7" (VVM CPS). $8.00

"VVMCPs, an organization set up alongside VVM which enables VVM to plunder their way through recorded history demands its own, anthem and once again we are not let down by the VVM boys. This time enlisting the help of one time Bolton Dental Technician Guru Josh, VVM brings this double sided single of painful pleasure (much like having root canal treatment or a filling). Featuring an update of the Guru's all time one off (s)hit 'Infinity — 1990's time for Guru' and 'WHO'S LAW is it anyway?'. 300 only."

VVM: Help Aphex Twin 1.0 CD (VVM HAT1). $12.00

"Following the infamous Harold Shipman CD (mpn01d), VVM 'The Sickest Label In The World (NME)' turn their attention to Aphex Twin! Aphex Twin's best known tracks 'reworked' by VVM. Limited Edition 3" CD with 6 tracks, 600 copies only."

VVM: Help Aphex Twin 2.0 CD (VVM HAT2). $12.00

"Following the infamous Harold Shipman CD (mpn01d), VVM 'The Sickest Label In The World (NME)' turn their attention to Aphex Twin. Aphex Twin's best known tracks 'reworked' by VVM. Limited Edition 3" CD with 5 tracks, 600 copies only."

VVM WDR. H.F. SHIPMAN PRESENTS... Fred Plays His Favourite Medicaldrama Themes 3" CD (VVM MORPH). $11.00

"Old Dr. Death himself Fred Shipman here proves that not only has he had the ability to kill a few hundred pensioners but also the ability to kill a good theme tune. Here lovingly collected for the first time is a selection of tunes recorded by Fred prior to his arrest. Fred had a penchant for playing his favorite medical drama themes on his bontempi, so here we find lovingly recreated versions of his favourite medical drama shows including Casualty, Dr. Killdare, Young Doctors, ER (a shipman family favourite as he and primrose never missed a show), St. Elsewhere and more."

GORSE: May The Gorse Be With You CD (VVM OFFAL 09CD). $15.00

"Gorse are Aphex Twin's favourite Cornish band, they sing about Cornish things like pasties and sailing....on acid."

VVM: Sick Love CD (VVM OFFAL 3). $13.00

"Must-be-heard-to-be-believed piss takes of Robbie Williams, Spice Girls, East 17, Chris De Burgh, Elton John and countless other wastes of space. Sick Love is a true celebration of the sickest love songs imaginable. Fucked up VVM versions include Knobbie Williams ("Angels"), Hellton John ("Blue Thighs"), LL Cool J ("I Need Red"), plus East 17's "Stay Annua Day", the Spud Girls "Two Become One", and "Lady In Red Is Dancing With Meat", "Perfect Moment", "For Ever and Evva", "Take My Beef Away", "Words", "Just The Way You Are", "On My Own", and more. 21 tracks."

VA: The Green Door CD (VVM OFFAL 4). $8.00

"Awesome full length CD for price of a CD single from VVM. The perfect party album, the 70+ minute CD features versions of hits by Craig David, Michael Jackson, Shakin Stevens, Cannon and Ball and many more plus themes from Bergerac, Auf Wiedersehen Pet, A Team, BBC Snooker Theme Tune and many more."

VA: The VVM Christmas Pudding CD (VVM OFFAL 5). $13.00

Holiday-themed nightmare fest featuring: Butcher Claws, Shakin' Stevens, VVM With Garry's Glitter, Animal, Rod Dodd & Slayed, Electronic Fly Symphony, Banned Aid, Jansky Noise, Dame Edna, many more. All tracks recorded down on the farm. Serve with: Cumberland Rum Butter

VA: Sick Love LP (VVM OFFAL03LP). $13.00

"Previously only on CD, now available on limited edition vinyl with 2 exclusive tracks. Vinyl strictly limited to 600 copies."

VA: Hate You CD (VVM OFFAL06CD). $13.00

"VVM return with 'Hate You' .....an 8 track limited edition (500 only) album plus 12 track CD. The tracklisting speaks for itself...VVM - Karl Cocks (A 4/4 tribute track to the DJ they call Karl Cocks. Here Karl is given a severe pounding with the sound of his own 4/4 kick drum. Devil Chan - Music Fighter (Japanese Noise fighter Devil Chan here reprocesses Japanese Pop Legends 'Judy And Mary' burying them beneath shards of White Noise). Skatter - Madonna Is A Filthy Slut (and on to madonna.... 'Music' hacked and packed here by Irish hands). Icon Of Throat - Bleeding (icon of throat is v.v. from the west coast of america, here we find a typically atmospheric outburst). Jansky Noise - Ghostbusters (jansky noise returns with yet more absurdist output this time the classical theme from Ghostbusters, really). Billy Ray Cyrus - Achy Breaky Hard Drive (Cracked) (Billy Ray is back and promises a new direction. The self proclaimed king of the lap-top Billy here tries in vain to create an electronic masterpiece on his achy breaky hard drive). Mainpal Inv.: Andreas H. Jensen (yet again our favourite danish, lego building, nokia holding, green shoe wearing pixie returns with another catchy melody taken from his extensive musical vaults.) VVM - Hate You (edit) (the longest track on here in edited format. A new anthem and one for all our haters)."

VA: Hate You LP (VVM OFFAL06LP). $13.00

LP version.

VA: Its Fan-Dabi-Dozi! 2CD (VVM OFFAL13CD). $16.00

"An overview of the VVM Test label compiled by those masters of the absurd VVM. Forty Six frocks spread over two compact discs (twenty two tracks on the 2LP version). Features such gems as the Krankies 'It's fan-dabi-dozi' which puts most of the 'New Rock Revolution' air guitar bands to shame, electronic Smiths cover versions, Enrique Iglesias and Elton John 'tributes', electronics. Plunderphonics, ambient, noise and much more. Like the 'Top of the Pops' from hell it has a running time in excess of over two hours and features tracks from The Krankies, VVM, Kevin Blechdom, Toecutter, Cock Esp, Vagina Jones, Animal and many more...."

COCK E.S.P.: Hurts So Good - The Painful Remixes CD (VVM OFFAL14). $16.00

"Cock E.S.P. by their own admission make 'experimental music with a touch of class'. Head Cock and ex VVM wrestler Emil Hagstrom (the Minneapolis loin grinder-bomber-bulldog) compiled and executed this compilation CD which features 99 annoying remixes by 88 different and equally annoying artists. Chaos packaged and disguised as a CD. Cock E.S.P. draws on the most extreme, subversive and absurdist elements of both popular and experimental Twentieth Century music and performance art, creating abstract high-energy entertainment. Influences include punk rock, modern composition, improvised free-jazz, Japanese Noise music, hardcore industrial, and electronica."

VA: Whine And Missing Toe 3" CD (VVM T4X). $13.00

"A re-issue of the much sought after Xmas release from way back in 1997. This 3" CD includes all those tracks found on the original 7" (VVM T4) including the much sought after 'Soylent Night' by Hell Interface aka Boards Of Canada. The CD also includes 2 bonus tracks which were not available on the original 7", one is an edit from a live VVM show back in 1997, the other is a timely update of 'Pipes of Peace'. All of the tracks appear on compact disc for the first time, making this an excellent stocking filler. 750 copies only."

JANSKY NOISE: The Cuckoo LP (VVM TG/B). $13.00

"Part 3 of the VVM distressed audio series sees a debut full length from noisemeister Jansky Noise. Limited edition, 500 only, green and black vinyl. First solo release."

NOISE/GIRL: Discopathology 12" (VVM TO/B). $11.00

"Very limited 12", 400 copies only for world. On the 7th of July in Shibuya, Tokyo, Noise/Girl was officially pronounced dead. This 4 track 12" is a collected wake for Noise/Girl and features the truly immense 'Discopathology', a disco track ripped apart by a white noise tirade."

V2:*HIGH LLAMAS: Lollo Rosso LP (V2 70341). $11.00

An excellent, naturally flowing remix album, featuring tracks rewired by: Mouse On Mars, Cornelius, Schneider TM, Jim O'Rourke, Kid Loco, Stock, Hausen & Walkman & the High Llamas themselves. "The six artists chosen by Sean O'Hagan and his High Llamas to remix their work have been selected carefully reflecting Sean's current interests and his vision of the art in '98. All have emerged from a rock background and now seek to express themselves in other ways.... Cold & Bouncy released earlier this year portrayed the High Llamas growing interest in Electronica with its subtle flashes of keyboard and tape trickery underpinning their traditionally winning formula of melodic understatement and masterful chord changes. Lollo Rosso presents a remarkable showcase of artists in love with pop's formats and history, but with artists willing to embrace these with a futuristic attitude."

V2 (EUROPE):*VA: Oceanclub For China CD (V2 2451 CD). $16.00

New volume in this club-series, previous volumes were released on WMF Records. Compiled by Gudrun Gut (Monika) and Thomas Fehlman. Artists: Jurgen Paape, Thomas Fehlmann, Ocean Club, Bus, Monkeytribe, Morgenstern/Lippok, Masha Qrella, Turner (Lawrence remix), Komeit (T. Raumschmiere mix), The Orb, Jusko Trust, Soundstream, Jan Jelinek Avec The Exposures, Adventure Time, Ekkehard Ehlers.

V2 ARCHIVE (NETHERLANDS):*DUIMELINKS/FRANS DE WAARD, PETER: Nulla Di Nuovo Sotto Il Sole 3" CD (V2 19). $7.00

A split 3" CD with 5 pieces running about 20 minutes. The Duimelinks material is mostly organic soundtrack work. De Waard's tracks consist of one for contact mics scratching various surfaces and one using sound materials previously exchanged by Merzbow & Kapotte Muziek; not particularly harsh. Weird packaging.

CHOP SHOP: Tension 3" CD (V2 20). $7.00

More nicely flailing speaker construction installation sound (previously documented on the RRR double 10" slab), wrapped in a mesh wire packet.

WRK: CD (V2 29). $15.00

"A full length CD with an extensive booklet and a minimal cover design. The text by m/s in the booklet explains the works presented on the audio CD and furthermore explains the ideas of m/s on sound as a physical vibration and audio signal transmission system which is in effect the core of the work of the WrK members. The booklet also contains an essay by German artists Achim Wollscheid, who is familiar with the works and ideas of WrK." WrK = Toshiya Tsunoda, Hiroyuki Iida, Jio Shimizu & m/s.

VA: Just About Now CD (V2 30). $15.00

"Compilation CD with companion booklet featuring the participants to the second exhibition of soundinstallations in Rotterdam. With Minoru Sato (m/s), BMB.Con, Peter Duimelinks, Frans de Waard, Edwin van der Heide, Jio Shimizu, Masahiro Miwa, Roel Meelkop and Reinier Schimmel, Toshiya Tsunoda, Justin Bennett."

INADA*0, KOZO: b [I]2.7 CD (V2 31). $15.00

"CD in green rubber fetish-pak. This split CD combines two of the most interesting artists from Japan. *0's piece '2.7K' is inspired by the remnant heat that fills the universe called the 'Cosmic Microwave Background Radiation.' '2.7K' is the absolute temperature of Cosmic Microwave Background Radiation. It shows that the Universe in its early days was extremely dense and hot and had cooled down to 2.7 kelvins as it expanded. It fills the universe and can be seen everywhere we look. The two pieces by Kozo Inada 'b [0]' and 'b [1]' take their inspiration from the niche that exists in the subconscious where stillness and motion meet in harmony. Though the source of inspiration is very different, the compositions of both artists work together very well. Both use sounds in the microwave soundspectrum to carefully build their music with."

VANDENBURG:*MARCEL, LUC: Wind CD (VAN 0002). $14.00

A "spectacular theater-piece" for saxophone quartet, modern dance ensemble and a gigantic inflatable plastic rectangular bubble. Written by the young Canadian Varèse-influenced composer Luc Marcel, performed by the Chromos Saxophone Quartet, conducted by Charles Bornstein. Merges experimental blocks of sounds not typically attempted within a sax quartet setting with cascades of post-Terry Riley sound waves into a very original and avant sounding affair.

VANGUARD/COMET (ITALY):*PERREY & G. KINGSLEY, J.J.: Kaleidoscopic Vibrations: Spotlight On The Moog LP (VMD 6525 LP). $21.00

"The duo's second album originally released in 1967 by Vanguard. Electronic pop godfather Jean Jaques Perrey's (in collaboration with Gershon Kingsley) helped popularize electronic music using Moog synthesizers, the ondioline and magnetic tapes. Never intended to be part of the avant-garde, their goal was to create a bigger audience for electronic music by deploying it in happy and simple tunes & arrangements. They are the inventors of easy listening/space age pop. These instrumental tracks sound futuristic even these days. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

PERREY, JEAN JACQUES: Moon Indigo LP (VMD 6549 LP). $21.00

"Originally released on Vanguard in 1970 this is one of the best examples of Perrey's work. An album (built around Perrey's experiments with the Moog synthesizer) that has been popular with the electronica crowd thanks to the presence of 'EVA' a funky synth excursion that became popular with remixers (Fatboy Slim turned in a memorable remix of this tune on Best of Moog). Lots of funky lounge-pop and experimental tracks that mix avant-garde electronics with novelty pop. One of the big hits in the lounge arena is 'Soul City' a funky instrumental where Moog synthesizers take the place of horns in a guitar-heavy slice of r&b. A swinging take on 'Hello Dolly' sounds like cocktail jazz from another planet. 15 tracks (including 3 bonus remixed tracks). Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

BULL, SANDY: Fantasias For Guitar And Banjo LP (VMD 79119 LP). $20.00

180 gram vinyl.

BULL, SANDY: Inventions LP (VMD 79191 LP). $20.00

"Second and best album originally released in 1964." CD is already available on Bull's own Timeless Recordings.

COUNTRY JOE & THE FISH: Electric Music For The Mind & Body LP (VMD 79244 LP). $21.00

"Originally released in 1967 on Vanguard this one is their 1st and best effort. This album finds the band's psychedelic swirl of distorted guitar and organ at its most inventive. 11 tracks. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

COUNTRY JOE & THE FISH: I-Feel-Like-I'm-Fixin'-To-Die LP (VMD 79266 LP). $20.00

"2nd album originally released in 1967 on Vanguard by this Berkeley, CA group. Distorted guitars and organ-heavy psychedelia with Eastern-influenced melodic lines. Contains 'Janis' (a beautiful love song McDonald wrote at the end of his romance with Janis Joplin), 'Eastern Jam' and their anthem 'I-Feel-Like-I'm-Fixin'-To-Die.' Original artwork with giant full-colour 'fish game.' 180 gram vinyl."

PERREY, JEAN JACQUES: The Amazing New Electronic Pop Sound Of LP (VMD 79286 LP). $21.00

"Reissue of the first of two albums by this pioneer who was bringing the electronic sonorities to popular music on Vanguard in the 1960s influencing an entire generation of electronic music. He accomplished this one via the ondioline, Moog, magnetic tapes, electronic instruments, and other gizmos. He also wrote or co-wrote most of the material on this disc, which is one of the finest exponents of '60s 'mood' music. The fact that these '60s recordings have been remixed by the likes of Fatboy Slim may indicate that these recordings sound as brilliant today as in 1969. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

FAHEY, JOHN: The Yellow Princess CD (VMD 79293 CD). $15.00

Reissue of what Fahey refers to as his 8th solo album, his second and last for the Vanguard label (following Reguía). Although this album has been reissued in the past (or available as part of couple different compilations of Fahey's Vanguard material), this is the only current option for getting the original album, with original liner notes (which are quite awesome), packaged in an LP-style gatefold sleeve, ala the Akarma label reissues. "Originally released in 1969. Great album by the father of American primitive guitar. With Jay Ferguson, Mark and Matt Andes, and Kevin Kelley. Nine tracks, with the original artwork."

SAINTE-MARIE, BUFFY: Illuminations LP (VMD 79300 LP). $21.00

"Originally released in 1969 on Vanguard... folksy Sainte-Marie is going electronic here. Folk-avantgarde-shamanic album included in The Wire magazine as one of the '100 records that set the world on fire'. 12 tracks. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

BASHO, ROBBIE: Voice Of The Eagle CD (VMD 79321 CD). $16.00

"Originally released in 1972, this was his first album for the Vanguard label. Berkeley, Calif-based Basho was one of the main '60s acoustic guitar innovators along with John Fahey and Leo Kottke. Dissonance, unusual tunings, Eastern and American Indian influences in his high standard steel-string guitar playing. Basho sings in all but one of the songs of this album. Sometimes the song structures are more kinda Native American chants than folk tunes. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

BASHO, ROBBIE: Voice Of The Eagle LP (VMD 79321 LP). $21.00

VANITY (BOOTLEG):

TOLERANCE: Divine LP (VANITY 012). $20.00

Vanity was a legendary Osaka-based underground label from the late 70s/early 80s. They released albums of primitive electronics by the likes of Aunt Sally, Sympathy Nervous, Dada, Sab, BGM, etc. None have been officially reissued (besides the first Aunt Sally I guess) and the original LPs have been basically unfindable anywhere in the western world since the day of release. This is a "gray area" reissue of the 2nd Tolerance album, originally issued in 1981. Their music has been described as "almost proto-Ambient Techno". Tolerance, consisting of Junko Tanaga and Masmay Yoshikawa, were the only band that released a second album on Vanity. Their first LP (Anonym, 1979) was supposedly the source for the title of the second Nurse With Wound LP, To The Quiet Men From A Tiny Girl.

The label was founded by Yuzuri Agi (he was also rumored to have ran Voice records, which in 75-76 released the ultra-mysterious Brast Burn and Karuna Khyal LPs). The following label manifesto was published in 1979: 'We will produce records pursuing 1). Electronics Music, 2). 'Music as Furniture' series (Modernistic Music), 3). Invasion to Kayo-kyoku, 4). Music with experimental new vision (Punk., New Wave, Free Music, Modernistic Music, etc.).'

VENTRICLE:

MAUVE SIDESHOW: Blood Will Tell CD (VENT 7). $12.00

Fifth and CD by this always intriguing Seattle duo of Treva (vocals, effects) and Dusty (sound collage, mellotron).

ANGEL PROVOCATEUR: CD (VENT 8). $12.00

A new due in the Ventricle circle, featuring Vanessa Harvey (voice & lyrics) and Kelly Thistle (real & imaginary instruments, places). Described as "the ambient vocal CD of the decade," this delves further into the post-Mauve Sideshow stratosphere of dream-electronics and female vocalization.

VERSION MUSIC (UK):

SWAG: No Such Thing CD (VERSION 002CD). $16.00

"Version Music is mainly devoted to classy house music. Their first record is the beautiful new album by Swag (aka Chris Duckenfield and Richard Brown) who did — among many other things — remixes for artists like Björk, Ian Pooley, Blaze, Beanfield and Herbert."

SWAG: No Such Thing 2LP (VERSION 002LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

VERTICAL:

BLBAF: Home of the Brahma Chopp LP (VER 010). $10.00

A solo project, with Squirrmbos connections, here's the first non-single on the Vertical label. It's a monster slab of noise contact implosion; not far in parts from an Akita mix of Holy Sound of American Pipe.

SQUIRMBOS: Beyond A Fever Pitch DBL 7" (VER 011). $12.00

Double single from '94. What is it?

SQUIRMBOS: Beyond A Fever Pitch DBL 7" (VER 011 F). $13.00

Variant edition in frisbee packaging.

VELASQUEZ/THE GAG REFLEX, DONNA: Live 7" (VER DON). $3.00

Piles of noise & disruption, recorded live to the sound of no hands clapping. Dare I imply a Squirrmbos relation?

VERTICAL FORM (UK):

SKEIN: Venice 12" (VFORM 007). $9.00

"A stunning two tracker from new London based artist Skein, one of the key members of London based electronic collective Process. The Skein sound draws influences from a variety of differing creative and musical circles, although production is approached not by recreating sounds and grooves of influential productions or artists, but by pushing style and form of these influences into new challenging directions and territories. Groove formats are kept tight and directional, yet constantly change and evolve throughout their entirety. Synthesis and sound creation are approached with similar attitude where sounds are compelling, innovative and developed yet with emphasis placed on functionality and structure."

AROVANE, PHONEM: Aer (Valid) 2LP (VFORM 008 LP). $16.00

Double LP version in full color jacket. Limited stock.

SMYGLYSSNA: U Don't Jump Like I Jump 12" (VFORM 009). $9.00

"Vertical Form is pleased to announce the release of 'U Don't Jump Like I Jump' from Sweden's Smyglyssna in preparation for his debut album due this autumn. Having released projects under various guises for labels such as the US's Plug Research, Smyglyssna aka Henrik Johansson turns to a new project with a new philosophy, namely a special approach to production that is experimental and uncompromising in sound and processing but is not in anyway hard to digest. Having grown up on a semi-deserted Swedish island in the Baltic, Henrik's first ambition was to be either a balloonist or assassin. He also insists that his music is in no way influenced by the cliché of Scandinavian weather conditions which equals cold, introspective music. Instead this EP is music to move to, freeform digital funk littered with references from hip hop and 70's jazz funk or put more succinctly 'groove'. This is certainly no nostalgia trip however, having just spent the last year rebuilding his studio and moving from an analogue to fully digital set up, the production is suitably fresh and forward thinking. With less reliance on ambient impressionist melody and pad based washes, crisp tight rhythms are very much at the centre of these tracks, in much the same way as hip hop or early electro, but they are filtered through a different sensibility. Slithers of melody and rich texture collide with unusual time signatures as freer, looser expression encourages randomness whilst still showing the clarity and digital sculpture evident in the best 'computer music'."

VA: Vertical Forms CD (VFORM 010 CD). $16.00

"Vertical Forms — a compilation package deeply rooted in the future and built from the foundations over 30 years of electronic music. Reaping with character from every angle, each deeply personal contribution offers an insight into a world generally only understood by purists. Detailing and documenting a multitude of styles yet even more definitively highlighting important intrinsic parallel links between the many different forms of modern electronic music; Vertical Forms defines an era in music that has not been so important since the development of underground artforms such as jazz, funk and hip hop. First up are Isan, one of the UK's premier exports to Thomas Morr's growing Morr Music empire providing a short, quirky and beautifully crafted piece drenched in soul and melody highlighting their love for charm and simplicity. Robert Henke's Monolake project follows with an excursion into the extreme depths of Berlin electronics by adopting a more stripped down and subtle approach to a piece slightly reminiscent to his classic cut 'Tangent' taken from the first Monolake album Interstate. Munich based electronic mavericks Funkstörung provide a cut from the vaults that delves further into their concept of electronic funk with a groove built entirely around a continual raw distorted rhythm pattern layered with their trademark 21st century sounds and melodies. To follow, California's Kid 606 closes the door on his seminal P.S. I Love You project with one stunning last and final remake of 'Whereverleftoff' one of the most widely received pieces from the album. Finnish hero Vladislav Delay comes in as dirty and as rude as ever with a raw, funky up quirky techno/house piece reminiscent of his 'Helsinki / Suomi' project for Thomas Brinkmanns Max Ernst imprint. Next up, Sweden's burgeoning electronic hero Smyglyssna drop's an immaculately constructed playful and glitchy piece constructed around his always fresh selection of tuneful keys and chords. Mr Thomas Fehlmann follows with an untouchable ambient masterpiece, expertly constructed in every sense, his approach here clearly shows what can be achieved with 20 years of recording experience and through working with some of the most important people in the world of modern experimental music. Russian exports EU continue the proceedings with a tight intricately formed construction containing all the trademarks of their sound that has placed them at the forefront of Russia's growing electronic scene. Skam's mysterious Bolaman provides a dark, heavy and intense excursion into rhythmic experimentation and provides an insight into the more electro orientated side of his sound. Last of all, Iceland's Múm close the project with a monumental piece of their much loved childlike magic providing a suitably apt finale to an adventure that won't easily be forgotten."

SMYGLYSSNA: Departures 12" (VFORM 011). $11.00

"After the huge warming reception received over Smyglyssna's debut Vertical Form release 'U Don't Jump Like I Jump', the release of 'Departures', a collection of his as yet unheard earlier work recorded between 1999 and 2000 is a welcome addition to the Vertical Form catalogue. The six tracks featured on 'Departures' represent a period in the development of the Smyglyssna sound where the concept of atmospheric very much dominated his production approach before the incorporation of more diverse styles such as hip hop, electro, techno and house that are far more present in his current and forthcoming material. The tracks are also documentary of Smyglyssna's first productions working around a predominantly digital recording set-up."

OPIATE: Possible 12" (VFORM 012). $9.00

"Opiate, after an amazingly prolific and successful year, culminating in producing three tracks on Björk's ground breaking Vespertine album, releases this 4 track EP exclusive to Vertical Form. Still containing the classic Opiate hallmarks of rhythmic complexity and evocative melody, this EP also points towards a new more digital direction and an ever evolving style. Given numbers rather than titles, these tracks are meticulous in their design and immaculately produced — nothing is superfluous. Almost architectural in how they play with sense of space, 07021 starts with a classic Opiate rhythm that pulses and stutters full of digital detail creating a mood of Zen-like composure. 100301 continues in a similar vein, strands of melody shifting in to distortion and dubbed out effects, with a breakbeat drifting in and out of the track. 02031 has a lush feel, and shows Opiate's talent for nagging simple melody lines that weave themselves into your head. The final track is a reworking of 100301 by Raster Noton's Alva Noto aka Carsten Nicolai which strips the track down even further, to its bare rhythmic bones, turning less into more."

PIIRI: GPU (Revised) CD (VFORM 013 CD). $14.00

"Piiri is the alter ego of the legendary Ilpo Vaisanen, one half of the world renowned Finnish Pan Sonic duo. Originally written and released in 1999 GPU is taken from the highly sought after Jarru EP released by Marko Laine's Mind Records imprint. The original version of this cut is re-released here along with five alternative remixed versions by Farben, Pan American, Smyglyssna, Dual Excitor and Phonem. First up is the original version, a dreamy jazz timed rhythm track, minimal in structure yet deeply moving and funk filled. Farben deconstructs and extracts minute particles and reforms the entire groove into a dirty, playful bottom heavy groove perfect for the more discerning and adventurous of dancefloor environments. To follow, recent Vertical Form signing Pan American rewires the rhythmic essentials of the original and adds a more detailed complex narrative to the groove with the addition of a deeper level of abstraction and atmosphere. Smyglyssna steps up the pace with yet another classic outing of hip hop fuelled concrete funk soaked with remnants of the original played in a differing context. Dual Excitor, a new London based production outfit regenerate the entire groove by building an entirely new piece made up of layer upon layer of processed and sampled parts of the initial groove accumulating in a stylistic conversion not heard on this side of the water for quite some time. Last of all Phonem begins a new chapter in his production story by adopting and experimenting with a new dimension in software sound research. Carefully chosen components and snippets of Piiri's production work are selected and combined with a range of MAX produced sounds, the results being that of a more sparse, diverse and spatial take on both his own sound and Ilpo's initial vision."

PIIRI: GPU (Revised) 2LP (VFORM 013 LP). $15.00

Double vinyl version.

VA: Pro Bono Publico CD (VFORM 014 CD). $16.00

Artists featured: Pan American, Kim Hiorthøy, Iso68, Corker/Conboy. "Pro Bono Publico, is a various artists project with a difference. A project concentrating purely on the concept of emotion in modern music through using traditional and acoustic production techniques as opposed to that of machine made music. Four different artists / production outfits were chosen, each of which, from entirely different creative circles around the globe; Chicago, Oslo, Hamburg and London. Each of the contributors, whilst having never met and being situated hundreds, if not thousands of miles apart, all share a common view in terms of their passionate musical idea's and constant thirst for emotive music. Each of the contributors were asked to supply three specifically written tracks that explored the various emotive states and feelings within their music using predominantly acoustic production approaches. Of course, this idea and concept can sound somewhat complicated and even slightly pretentious when put down on paper, the project however couldn't be further away from either of these tag's. In essence, it's about getting back to grass roots. Beautiful, moving and heart felt music made with real instruments by individuals that understand how to translate feeling into music."

VA: Pro Bono Publico 2LP (VFORM 014 LP). $15.00

Double LP version. Same 12 tracks as the CD.

SMYGLYSSNA: We Can Fix It CD (VFORM 015 CD). $16.00

"After months of production, tweaking and final adjustments the album finally see's the light of day, clocking in at 46 minutes in length, with 9 tracks in total, each cut individually incorporating Smyglyssna's signature sound whilst offering a new funkier and more diverse edge to his production approach. Through careful combination of sophisticated software use, along with more traditional analog production techniques, Smyglyssna creates a sound that looks to the past for reference whilst simultaneously defining a take on the future. Working with a variety of hip hop sensibilities along with a variety of differing electro and techno sound aesthetics, We Can Fix It works on a variety of levels providing listeners with a body of work documentary of both a generation of music along with his own vast array of musical influences. Cut's such as 'Might's It Be's And If It Were's' look to early nineties Detroit scraping through remnants of Carl Craig's 69 project and Stacey Pullen's Kosmik Messenger outputs whilst reinventing their take on the format of electronic funk by breathing new forms of synthesis into the construction of these types of groove. 'Triangular Ears' adopts a similarly fresh take on the format of experimental and avant hip hop by providing a backdrop of crisp, distorted drum beats alongside a more alternative selection of playful melodies and tight programming creating a groove at home in a variety of environments. 'Foaming Prairie' provides a beautifully crafted momentary breath of heart felt ambience to calm and console the listener whilst also providing a small insight into an alternative side of the smyglyssna sound. In all, an album of constant diversity, rhythmic essentials and heart-felt emotion packed with an obsession of sound and invention."

SMYGLYSSNA: We Can Fix It 2LP (VFORM 015 LP). $13.00

Double LP version. Same 9 tracks as the CD.

PAN AMERICAN: Renzo 12" (VFORM 016). $9.00

"In preparation for Pan American's River Made No Sound album (released on Kranky in the US), 'Renzo' has been put together as a subtle taster of what is soon to come from this highly acclaimed production project. Three tracks are included, each exclusive to this EP, clocking in at just under thirty minutes playing the time. Each track drifts effortlessly through the varying emotions and feelings that the Pan American project has become synonymous with, whilst also providing a calculated glimpse of what is yet to come. The EP opens with 'Running Dog (Reborn)', a deep and spatial visionary journey that plays heavily with dub based sound aesthetics whilst maintaining a balance with techno and electronic production techniques. 'Toy Triggers', is a short ambient piece that drifts through the motions of melancholia and hopeful melody, allowing for change and pathing the way for the closing groove. 'Renzo', which is essentially the key track here, provides a valuable insight into why Pan American has become such a highly acclaimed production project. Containing all the classic trademarks of early Pan American productions by combining the ever present elements of warmth, groove and feeling, the track drifts further and further into the use of haunting melodies and atmospheric, an element very much at the heart of forthcoming River Made No Sound album."

RECHENZENTRUM: Nelson 12" (VFORM 018). $9.00

"The release marks an entirely new level in their production approach which compromises a slightly more jazz tinged element to their warped minimal house sound by incorporating a number of live elements inc trumpet and piano to a sparse, raw and experimental house groove. Drawn out over eight minutes in length the groove develops in a number of differing directions continually building into a fresh and distinctive dancefloor groove perfect for the more discerning and adventurous of club and backroom environments. The b side see's a welcome return for Nick Rapaccioli with a flawless remake of Nelson. By deconstructing the original groove to its basic components and reworking the groove from a differing view point an entirely new cut of the original is created. Maintaining groove and funk throughout and never venturing too far away from the dancefloor the rework takes things to a different level with a slightly more experimental and minimal approach that holds the essential element of groove firmly in place. Nelson Reprise is an altogether different approach and offers an alternative viewpoint of the original in the form of a more relaxed lounge orientated version. Whilst still holding onto the live elements of the initial groove and adopting a more folk orientated easy listening flavour the reprise provides a suitably apt closure to the single."

EINÓMA: Undir Feilnótum CD (VFORM 019 CD). $16.00

First album, repressed. "Einóma is the work of two close Icelandic friends and long time studio partners. Having initially dabbled in the world of shortfilm making commencing from the tender age of 13 years old, an early fascination was developed for sound and its ability as a tool to compliment and often drive storytelling. This dominant fascination within their work soon became more and more prominent to eventually override the filmmaking and to take primary importance within their creative goals. Initially adopting a sound of pure ambience and filmic sensibility, their production approach slowly developed into more rhythmically orientated pieces along with a backdrop of their much loved soundtrack orientated aesthetic. Having released only one ep to date on the Icelandic Uni:Form label, Undir Feilnótum is their debut album and first release of many with Vertical Form. Their work cleverly combines elements of both influence and invention that so much of today's electronic output falls short of, whilst simultaneously maintaining and balancing a distinct production approach that firmly places their sound within the premier league of experimental recording outfits. Undir Feilnótum is a dark and deeply atmospheric album, incorporating eight tracks clocking in at 38 mins in length, each cut firmly demonstrates their obsessive skill for programming, intricate sequencing and rhythmic construction providing a body of work consisting of varying themes, moods and tempo's whilst continually forging ahead with a fresh outlook on both their own sound and the format of contemporary electronics."

EINÓMA: Undir Feilnótum 2LP (VFORM 019 LP). $15.00

Double LP version.

RAPACCIOLI, NICK: Compare / Skima 12" (VFORM 021). $9.00

"After a long break since his last solo recordings Nick Rapaccioli returns to Vertical Form with the first single of a planned trilogy of releases. Having spent the last 18 months co-writing Leftfield's Rhythm & Stealth album and touring extensively as part of their live set up, his solo productions can now finally take precedence over everything else and this dbl A sided single clearly represents that. Written with contrasting digital and analog techniques, both tracks define a development in electronic dance music not heard this side of the water for quite some time. Each cut is perfectly formed and executed with intricate precision whilst cleverly pushing the envelope of both experimental and dancefloor based music to entirely new levels. 'Compare' is a tough, heavy and driving groove built around tightly programmed electronic drums coupled with warped distorted chords and driving bassline, made complete with an array of stunts and tricks to rival some of the most sophisticated of today's electronic music. 'Skima' is a slightly more dj friendly affair, structured around a handful of key sounds, sequences and idea's. Driven by a distinctively heavy bottom end and left to groove endlessly on its own accord to immense effect."

CORKER/CONBOY: In Light Of That Learnt Later CD (VFORM 023 CD). $15.00

"The long playing debut album from London based duo Corker / Conboy aka Adrian Corker and Paul Conboy or otherwise known as APE and Soul Circuit. Contributors to the project include Jono Podmore of Irmin Schmidt (Can) + Kumo fame and Luke Gifford both on production duties along with percussionist Pete Carey and trumpeter Ian Dixon, with all other instruments and programming by the duo themselves. The album draws influences from a variety of differing reference points that the duo have become synonymous with over the years from African and Brazilian roots music through to Chicago post rock right back to the more worldly experimental approaches and leanings of visionaries such as that of ECM artists Jan Garbarek and Pierre Favre. In Light Of That Learnt Later is the soundtrack to Corker / Conboy's wonderfully charismatic and emotive world. Filled with whispers of charm and heart moving melancholia, their delicate and intricate approach to music making provides and inspiring glimpse into the world of instrumental acoustic music and shaped harmonics."

CORKER/CONBOY: In Light Of That Learnt Later 2LP (VFORM 023 LP). $17.00

Double LP version. "The long playing debut album from London based duo Corker / Conboy aka Adrian Corker and Paul Conboy. Contributors to the project include Jono Podmore of Irmin Schmidt (Can) + Kumo fame. The album draws influences from a variety of differing reference points that the duo have become synonymous with over the years from African and Brazilian roots music through to Chicago post rock right back to the more worldly experimental approaches."

SIXTOO: Outremont Mainline Runs Across The Sunset 12" (VFORM 025). $9.00

"Montreal based beat freak/avant hip hop legend Sixtoo makes his debut Vertical Form appearance. Compromising 5 tracks (2 vocal, and 3 instrumental) each cut plays testament to his ever evolving and developing talents as a leading figure in North America's burgeoning alternative hip hop scene. Combining tight intricate beats, warped production, haunting melodies, live sax/bass and a plethora of inspirational and confessional lyrics Outremont Mainline Runs Across The Sunset is the foundation to a soundtrack of changing times from hip hop's bleeding heart."

SIXTOO: Antagonist Survival Kit CD (VFORM 026 CD). $15.00

"As a ground-floor contributor to many avant-garde hip hop crews including Anticon (w/ Sole, Jel, Dose One etc), the Vinyl Monkeys (Controller7, Matthe, Moodswing09, Joe Beats, Alias etc) and Mr Dibbs' hand-picked 1200 hobos (DJ Signify, Slug, Abilities, Scratch Bastard etc), Sixtoo has been nothing but humbled by the people he has had the good fortune to work with. His own musical philosophy is closest matched by his longtime partner Buck65, with whom he completed what many people consider to be the only classic Canadian hip hop record, Sebutones' 50/50 where it counts. Antagonist Survival Kit is the next level from Sixtoo. Compromising ten choice cuts and clocking in at over 45 minutes in length, this disparate collection is an awe inspiring journey into hip hops deepest most alternative depths. Part vocal/part instrumental, Antagonist Survival Kit documents Sixtoo's life long quest for artistic integrity and invention within his music. Adopting a careful combination of sophisticated production techniques along with more traditional approaches Sixtoo's sound looks to the past whilst simultaneously defining a take on the future — clearly highlighting his role as one of the most important catalysts within the evolution and advancement of hip hop."

SIXTOO: Antagonist Survival Kit 2LP (VFORM 026 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

SIXTOO: Antagonist Survival Kit Instrumentals CD (VFORM 027 CD). $12.00

"Close on the tail of his acclaimed Vertical Form LP debut Antagonist Survival Kit, Halifax, Nova Scotia's Vaughn Robert Squire — aka Sixtoo — unleashes instrumentals, 6 reconfigured cuts from the album, plus two choice selections from the Vertical Form 12" Outremont Mainline runs across the sunset (the vinyl version keeps it to the album tracks alone). Shorn of the man's taut, paranoid lyrics, instrumentals throws new light on Antagonist's wonderfully crafted sonic terrain, blending choice samples, various acoustic instruments and a never-less-than-groovy subsoil of beats, into a by turns, evocative, vigorous and thought-provoking mix."

SIXTOO: Antagonist Survival Kit Instrumentals 12" (VFORM 027 EP). $12.00

Vinyl EP version.

SMYGLYSSNA: We Can Fix It Remixes CD (VFORM 028 CD). $15.00

"As eclectic as remix albums can be, this set of make-overs from 2002's critically-acclaimed We Can Fix It opus (also on Vertical Form), finds Sweden's Henrik Johansson (aka Smyglyssna) in the company of Soft Pink Truth (one half of San Franciscan electronic enfants terribles Matmos), underground hip hop star (and Lex recording artist) Boom Bip, hipper-than-thou west coast Anticon luminaries Sixtoo and Restiform Bodies, along with eerie Icelandic soundscapers Einoma and Brighton rock/electronic fusionists Fujiya & Miyagi. Smyglyssna also adds one of his own remixes and one previously unavailable solo track. Like the We Can Fix It album itself, this will appeal to fans of Warp-style electronic futurism and Skam grooves — but it's eclectic remix means that everything from beautiful ambient soundscaping to crunching Krautrock beats and eerie atmospherics get a look in. It really works as a smart, modernist album in its own right — and clocking in at less than 40 minutes, it hardly outstays its welcome, instead inviting instant replay."

SMYGLYSSNA: We Can Fix It Remixes 2LP (VFORM 028 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

RIP-OFF ARTIST, THE: Little Tiny 1/8 Jack 12" (VFORM 029 EP). $9.00

"A stonking double-header, this latest release comprises two compelling sides of utilitarian digi-funk from the techno house top drawer. Ornamented with shards of electronic glitz and a beguiling (and, dammit, dead catchy!) vocal chorus hymning the diminutive 1/8 jack socket of the title, the a side is propulsive, mesmeric dance floor fare with the ROA's trademark wit at full throttle. aa-side double diamond also hammers along like a demented heartbeat machine, while all manner of digital scree erupts, making woofers woof like big old hounds and tweeters shriek for joy."

RIP-OFF ARTIST, THE: Pet Sounds CD (VFORM 030 CD). $16.00

"Yes, he's aware that title might just have been used before and, yes, that's (partly at least,

why the man known to his mates as Matt Haines, has adopted the Rip Off Artist moniker... (previous ROA albums include Electric Ladyland, Pump and Brian Salad Surgery... you get the picture...). Top drawer, esoteric techno house with a melodic undertow (often just plain old fashioned 'catchy'), Pet Sounds blends acrobatic digital workouts with occasional droll lyrics and never-less-than-propulsive neo-funk grooves. The Rip Off Artist is the alias of Los Angeles resident Matt Haines who runs his own inflatable label and is infamous for re-inventing his personal history on a regular basis. Whether or not he's really a Mexican émigré, part-time country session musician or an off-duty oilrig operative, Haines has recorded for the likes of Mille Plateaux, Bottrop-Boy and Massive Advance and has worked with Atom Heart's Uwe Schmidt, amongst others."

RIP-OFF ARTIST, THE: Pet Sounds 2LP (VFORM 030 LP). $17.00
Double LP version.

EINOMA: Milli Tonverka CD (VFORM 031 CD). $16.00

"Surely the next major Icelandic phenomenon to follow Bjork and Sigur Ros into global affections, Reykjavik's Einoma (the alias of Erstwhile film-makers and producers Steindar & Bjarnar) make uncompromising, bleakly beautiful music that, try as you might to avoid the clichéd stereotype, can't help but conjure their island home's austere, tectonic majesty. If 2002's Undir Feinotum (Vertical Form) debut, announced Einoma's severe splendour with jaw-dropping audacity, then Milli Tonverka ('music that lies between' is the rough translation), goes one better, expanding the palette to include echoes of Coil's dystopian grind here, Brian Eno's most exotic ambient tone poems there, though always retaining something uniquely, ineffably Icelandic at its core. Milli Tonverka is an album of uncompromising highlights. There's the almost jaunty motorik undertow of 'Khanin' for example, overlaid with gorgeous, alpine keyboards that suddenly cede to stark caverns of crunching, tactile electronics — idm recast as the colossal friction of shifting glaciers, essentially. Then there are the wondrous symphonic shadings that flutter in the margins of 'Ur Afongum's' otherwise pulverizing rhythmic assault, or the contrastingly lush ambient tone baths of 'Eindir. Liour Og Laoist', meanwhile, interlaces subtle violin and Hildigunnur Einarssdottir fabulously ethereal vocals over a shape-shifting rhythmic drone that sounds, well, like a volcano that's about to blow, frankly."

EINOMA: Milli Tonverka LP (VFORM 031 LP). $15.00
LP version.

SIXTOO: Almost A Dot On The Map: The Psyche Years (1996-2002) CD (VFORM 032 CD). $16.50

"It can't have been easy for Vaughn Robert Squire aka Sixtoo — the still youthful, 6 ft 2 inch rhyester from Halifax, Nova Scotia. It's hard to imagine a place more divorced from the hip-hop motherload (whose seams he's been mining since a callow teen) than Canada's wave-tossed, fog-bound east coast. Then again, perhaps that same geographical seclusion gives a creative mind room to breathe. And Squire's mind, if nothing else, is as creative as hell. Fresh from the triumph that was last year's praise-hoovering Antagonist Survival Kit album, it's a perfect time for Sixtoo to take stock — and The Psyche Years does just that. An enlightening 21-track trawl through his back pages, from cassette-only juvenilia to the above-mentioned fledgling years through tenderfoot outings on tiny local labels like Ant to Toronto's Hand/Solo and on to blessed Anticon endorsement and thus the full twisted maturity that is the contemporary Sixtoo phenomenon. This is one man's crazed arc — a wild learning curve that acts like a barometer of hip-hop's leftfield cutting edge since the late mid-90s, right up to the present day."

SIXTOO: Almost A Dot On The Map: The Psyche Years (1996-2002) 2LP (VFORM 032 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

CORKER/CONBOY: Radiant Idiot CD (VFORM 033 CD). $16.50

"London's prolific Adrian Corker and Paul Conboy are back with another beguiling offering. Fresh from writing the next Bomb The Bass album with Tim Simenon, the duo have been galvanized into expanding their palette beyond the (albeit beautiful and widely acclaimed) post rock of their debut. An invitingly hazy warp and weft of languid grooves and glistening keyboards, Radiant Idiot recalls Can at their most tranquil and hypnotic, or the motorik art-rock glide of later period Talk Talk, yet retains a remarkable glow that is all its own."

CORKER/CONBOY: Radiant Idiot LP (VFORM 033 LP). $15.00
LP version.

FELLOWS, MIKE: Limited Storyline Guest CD (VFORM 034CD). $17.00

"A name to conjure with if you're a fan of the Drag City/Domino back catalogue, Mike Fellow's multi-instrumental élan has graced some of the most significant records in the US underground canon — though, where most would accentuate the reflected glory, Fellows insists on keeping his famous paymasters off his CV. Limited Storyline Guest is an album of sublime collisions: John Fahey-esque country-folk guitar picking set against gossamer laptop processing; lonesome instrumental passages ceding to rich, multi-harmony choruses; parlour piano one minute, alien drum machines the next. Somehow Fellow's wry ache of a voice and consistent musical judiciousness unite the disparate threads into a thing of beguiling, toe-tapping homogeneity."

FELLOWS, MIKE: Limited Storyline Guest LP (VFORM 034LP). $16.00
LP version.

VERTIGO (GERMANY):

YELLO: Solid Pleasure CD (VERT 83392). $13.00

European pressing of the debut album from Swiss-originating electronic duo of Dieter Meier (ex-Fresh Colour) and Boris Blank. Originally issued by Ralph Records in 1980, this ground-breaking album featuring the huge hit "Bostich" (as recently compiled on Disco (Not Disco) 2 & elsewhere). "The most varied and accomplished of any synth-pop debut, Yello's first album presents a few irresistible pop songs (the hit 'Bostich,' plus 'Bimbo,' and 'Eternal Legs'), Boris Blank's synthesizer interpretations of several different forms of music ('Downtown Samba,' 'Bananas to the Beat,' 'Rock Stop,' 'Coast to Polka'), and even a three-song suite of atmospheric industrial music that functions as a miniature invisible soundtrack. The dark lyrical concerns and futurist electronics immediately lifted Yello above the rut of Kraftwerk imitators."

VERTIGO (GREECE):

PLJ BAND: Armageddon CD (VERT 88902). $16.00

Legit Greek reissue of this psych/prog legend, originally issued by Polydor in 1981. First master tape reissue (previously on CD via the Second Battle label), with bonus tracks. "For sure this is one of the greatest ever recordings to come from Greece. An evil-looking sleeve and darkbrooding synthesizers behind dramatic recitations from the revelation of St. John and Ezekiel's prophecies. Guitar parts have strong similarities to Pink Floyd's Wish You Were Here album."

VERY GOOD RECORDS (GERMANY):

SCHNITZLER, CONRAD: Live Action 1977 LP (VGR LA). $14.00

"40 minutes (2 tracks) of cassette concert performance, recorded in the silver skies of West-Berlin's factory in 1977, starring Wecker, Harry Kunsttopf, Mick Pickup, Synthi Ä in 'Einzeltonballet', Originating Industrial: Psycholysis, Collective Consciousness: Proceeding, Definition Physical Existence: 1x - x = x." Packaged in an embossed silver cover, clear vinyl.

VHF:

FLYING SAUCER ATTACK: Distance CD (VHF 14). $14.00

2nd CD, which is a compilation of early 7" tracks from '93/94, plus about 20 minutes of unreleased material.

SKULLFLOWER: Carved Into Roses CD (VHF 15). $14.00

1994 album. "...at once their most 'out there' and most accessible work, fusing for the first all of the disparate elements of their style... keeps the focus firmly on the droning and pulsing guitar-scapes... but also opens up to allow keyboards, horns, and other oddities into their free-association world."

BOWER/RICHARD YOUNGS, MATTHEW: Site/Realm LP (VHF 20). $10.00

2 side long duos for electric guitar, wrapped in heavy duty screen printed jacket.

YOUNGS/STEVE TODD, RICHARD: Georgians CD (VHF 22). $14.00

The expected array of weird instruments make this another impressive duo work in the style of Asthma vs. Diabetes. Violin, sleigh bells, casio, dulcimer, ring modulation, penny whistle, oven tray, reed organ, home-made synth, thai harp, glockenspiel, click orchestration, many more. Surreal, beyond-genre new world improvisation.

SKULLFLOWER: This Is... CD (VHF 23). $14.00

Latest album, recorded in August, 1995. Richard Youngs on 1 track. Spikes the organic drone, lush guitar haze vein better than ever before.

PELT: Brown Cyclopaedia CD (VHF 25). $14.00

Previously available as a double LP on the band's own label, now on CD w/ new artwork by Christina Carter. "Pelt distill the most worthy influences of the recent generation of obscure bands down to the best of the best and add a healthy dose of their own isolation-honed touch. Songs ring with simple, emotionally charged vocals and expressive guitar playing, easily the equal to the best from the NZ/Xpressway scene. Careful soundscapes emerge from a dense fog of guitar and horn noise. Middle-eastern sounding drones are conjured from a trio of guitars and a wordless vocal. Slowly, life becomes meaningful again."

FLYING SAUCER ATTACK: Goodbye CD (VHF 26). $10.00

Three track EP, at about 25 minutes. The title track was intended as a farewell 7" before they decided not to go. It's "an angry and aggressive collage by a 'band' wrung out by the creative process. There's also a collaborative track with NZ's Roy Montgomery and a new "reborn" track — "a lengthy and lovely sonata for guitar and sampler."

YOUNGS/SIMON WICKHAM-SMITH, RICHARD: Red & Blue Bear CD (VHF 27). $14.00

"A children's book conceived, illustrated, and performed operationally by R!!! & S!!!. Alluringly bizarre short instrumentals share space with some lovely, folksy vocal numbers. Stylistically diverse, sonically wondrous and aesthetically unmatched."

PELT: Max Meadows CD (VHF 28). $14.00

3rd full length release by this VA trio. "Studio/rehearsal/live recordings; combines the jaw-droppingly downer songcraft heard on the Brown Cyclopaedia debut with free-formist trappings displayed on the followup Burning/Filament/Rockets. Using a wide variety of unusual instruments, including those of their own design, Pelt create soundscapes that are a step removed from the current generation of 'post-rockers'."

WICKHAM-SMITH/RICHARD YOUNGS, SIMON: Pulse Of The Rooster CD (VHF 35 CD). $14.00

"The self-proclaimed 'psychedelic' album by Richard Youngs and Simon Wickham-Smith. Certainly their most song-oriented record since their seminal debut Lake, Pulse of the Rooster might contain more singing than all their other records combined and serves as a reminder of how great their voices are, in the plaintive English tradition of Robert Wyatt and folkies like Pentangle. Behind the vocals is a sometimes howling, sometimes gentle miasma of electric dulcimer, Casio, drums, electric bass, electric guitar, sitar, Thai harp, violin, glockenspiel, penny whistle and shakuhachi."

PELT: Techood CD (VHF 36 CD). $14.00

"Washington DC guys release their third VHF CD. Contemporary and traditional musics collide and splatter the devoted listener with tamboura, guitar, violin, tabla, flute, banjo, lap steel, oscillator, voice, organ, and a variety of other instruments both conventional and homemade."

PELT: Empty Bell Ringing In The Sky CD (VHF 43). $14.00

"Another chapter in this mid-Atlantic ensemble's existence finds them transforming their one-word moniker from a noun to a verb. Includes a 12-minute surprise collaboration with the RH Band, Pelt's complete 35-minute set at Terrastock II (nominated by many as the highlight of the entire goddamn festival and nicknamed 'The Hillbilly Theater of Eternal Music'), a magically resonating 17-minute slice from a typical East Coast hippie warehouse party, finally capturing Pelt's forceful, multi-layered sound accurately and appropriately."

WICKHAM-SMITH, SIMON: Butterfly Dust CD (VHF 44). $15.50

"The first solo CD by Simon Wickham-Smith follows a long and prolific 10 year recording partnership with Richard Youngs. Recorded during a temporary relocation to Australia, Butterfly Dust is a strikingly intimate solo performance on organ, voice, Peruvian Reed, and Djerdru. The performances here are informed by a rare combination of virtuosity and exploratory improvisation. In comparison with some prior performances (e.g. Simon's startlingly skilled assault on a grand piano on Knish), Butterfly Dust is in a more minimal style, where sounds are given room to build up and establish a mood over the long term. This is particularly true of the long organ solo "Objects Appearing", where notes are slowly added to a drone over a period of several minutes, giving each newly introduced note a significant impact."

SUNROOF: Found Star Sound CD (VHF 46). $15.50

"Found Star Sound is the annual dispatch for 2000 from Matthew Bower and friends, continuing their long legacy of outward-bound audio verité. Recorded mostly at Bower's Cumbrian home in the rainy and windy UK Lake district, the group's droning guitars, organs, voices, and violins blend with twinkling percussion to evoke an atmosphere perfectly suited to such an environment. Following a brief living-room-organ-with-built-in-rhythm-section-gon e-haywire introduction on 'Pink Stream 1', the CD builds a vibe around Bower's thickly buzzing but mellow & casual guitar. Steadily picking up momentum, the record peaks with the chugging sound of trains epic 'Pink Stream 2', calms briefly, and then goes out strong with a rousing blast of guitar and violin scrape on 'Silvera'. Another scuff from the UK's biggest scuffmakers."

VIBRACATHEDRAL ORCHESTRA: Versatile Arab Chord Chart CD (VHF 48). $15.50

"Versatile Arab Chord Chart is the second full-length outing by the quintet of Neil Campbell, Michael Flower, Julian Bradley, Bridget Hayden, and Adam Davenport. They cut the drones in their life with extremely effective bursts of near rock, in a style reminiscent of the pre-Nico Velvet Underground (circa 1966 or so). The band's combination of clattering percussion, droning strings, and considerable sense of where to put the 'groove' on tracks like 'Catching Lovers With Blank Arms' makes them unique among their peers."

MONTGOMERY, ROY: Silver Wheel Of Prayer CD (VHF 49). $14.00

"With so much outward-bound free action these days, it's oddly comforting to hear someone's — well, Roy Montgomery's — version of the journey to the heart of the inner cosmos. A sister record to Montgomery's Drunken Fish CD The Allegory Of Hearing, Silver Wheel has seven complementary instrumental tracks, played mostly on Tiesco six-string and recorded mostly on four-track. A couple of tracks are dominated by a new Farfisa organ, which provides a gliding drone and waver on which to hang titles like 'For The Disoriented' and 'For The Mortified.'"

MAKOTO, KAWABATA: Inui 2 CD (VHF 51). $14.00

"Inui 2 is the first widely available solo CD by this prolific Japanese guitarist/composer/bearded guru. Known primarily for his recent work with oddballs Acid Mothers Temple, Kawabata's career actually goes back to the late '70s and spans many styles, including solo guitar improv, electronics, folk, and of course the deranged acid mayhem associated with the PSF scene. Performed entirely solo on violin, kemenji, zurna, electronics, sarangi, taiko, gong, water, bouzouki, cello, vibes, organ and sitar, the four tracks that make up Inui 2 are perfectly executed dream-music, equal parts delicately floating and heavily droning. There's also one all-too-short modal essay for bouzouki that is amazingly beautiful."

YOUNGS/SIMON WICKHAM-SMITH, RICHARD: Lake CD (VHF 52). $14.00

"Originally issued in an edition of 300 on their No Fans label and for all intents and purposes unavailable and unheard for a decade, the tenth anniversary CD-ification of their classic debut double LP still sounds as revelatory and alien as it did when it was released. Tracks like the immortal college freak-out 'Dance: Help the Aged (Give Them A Heart Attack)', the minimal pulse epic 'Chord', and the psych-fuzz rock mania of 'Goat' have been undiluted in their majesty by the unbearable decade that has elapsed between then and now. Deep breath, keep the eyes from rolling back in the head, focus, focus, highest rating."

WICKHAM-SMITH & RICHARD YOUNGS, SIMON: LammerGEIER CD (VHF 58). $14.00

"This finds the duo continuing to pursue the head-scratching assortment and range of outer sound in a somewhat more contemporary style. LammerGEIER makes use of all sorts of exotic instruments, but like Metallic Sonatas, many of the pieces have undergone electronic transformation, adding an extra layer of unsettling aural alchemedia to the tunes. Some of the sounds show the influence of Simon's laptop work over the last couple of years. Laptops aside, the layers of microscopic detail on LammerGEIER should give listeners plenty of practice in differentiating sounds that are produced by complicated software and sounds that are produced by a guy whacking a baking tray with a stick."

FROM QUAGMIRE: The Tropic of Barren CD (VHF 59). $14.00

"The debut release from Virginia's From Quagmire. A trio of Dorothy Geller, James Wolf, and Rake guitarist Vincent Van Go-Gogh, FQ's beautiful, mysterious and just plain weird art-song drift is a look into a rather under-explored corner of the underground universe. The slowly unfolding songs are based on Dorothy's nylon-string guitar and hushed-but-pointed vocals, punctuated by Wolf's expertly sawed violin and Van Go-Gogh's unpredictable percussion, electronics and guitar interjections. The music is highly detailed and performed with significant individual personality, rather than the predictable loud-soft-repeat bombast of other contemporary post-whatever ensembles."

SUNROOF: Bliss 2CD (VHF 60). $15.50

"The atmosphere of this somewhat delayed yet unstoppable annual collection from long-in-the-tooth UK vibe maestro Matthew Bower and friends (who include Neil Campbell, Rosalie Bower, and maybe some other people — honestly, who can tell?) is mostly spaced and buzzing instruments and voices hovering and floating in the dense mix, all running together like some sort of alien shortwave broadcast. Disc 1 takes off from where last year's Found Star Sound left us — a mix of fuzzy guitar and organ rhythms jousting with voice, bowed strings, and unidentifiable percussion in a compressed fog. Disc 2 is a headlong rush into newish territory, with analog synth vs. birdsong, child's voice vs. sawing violin, chug vs. fizz, etc. There are many tracks on both discs that have subtle (and overt) melodic and rhythmic undercurrents suggesting a fuzz/hiss-dominated alternate-universe version of say, Harmonia or Richter Band."

BLACK TWIG PICKERS: North Fork Flyer CD (VHF 61). $14.00

"North Fork Flyer represents the continued persistence of a type of Appalachian folk music that has come and gone from the popular radar over the years, but has never completely disappeared from the Black Twig Pickers' Southwest Virginia home. The songs on North Fork Flyer are mostly traditional numbers (with a few originals sprinkled in) that form the backbone of a century-old tradition — the music of bonfires, front porches, coal miner's festivals, and informal gatherings. These 'mountain ragas,' as the group calls them, have been recorded, performed, and revised continually by a who's who of true American artistry — luminaries such as Bukka White, Mississippi John Hurt, John Fahey, Bob Wills, Holy Modal Rounders, New Lost City Ramblers, etc., etc. Recorded live to DAT on front porches and in family rooms, North Fork Flyer blends the fiddle blues of Ralph Barrier Jr., Isak Howell's sinewy guitar and the drone and twitch of Pelt's Mike Gangloff's fretless clawhammer banjo with the trio's rough-around-the-edges but warm vocal harmonies. Played to the accompaniment of night insects, passing trains, and the noise of wandering children, the music retains the charm of tradition but is free of fake antiquarianism and nostalgia. Regardless of age, the music is just as relevant today as it was 100 years ago and the band plays it like they mean it."

WICKHAM-SMITH, SIMON: Extreme Bukake CD (VHF 65). $14.00

"In contrast to the live performance-based pieces on Simon Wickham-Smith's 1999 CD Butterfly Dust, the perversely titled follow-up Extreme Bukake is a dissection of religious music, realized on laptop computer. Traditional components like Catholic hymns and Wickham-Smith's vocal on a Hare Krsna prayer get fragmented, splintered, and reassembled into a rich blob of sound. According to his notes on the tracks, 'The Self-Immolation of Thich Quang Duc' is a programmatic work based around the death of the titular Vietnamese monk who set himself alight to protest about the activity of the Vietnamese government in the early 1960s. He was a friend of Thich Nhat Hanh, whom Martin Luther King Jr. nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize in 1965. The music sounds like the insanity of the situation, the external noise of cars and people and the internal noise of the heart and the soul of this man. 'Sri Guru Vandana' is a song from the Hare Krsna (ISKCON) tradition of Krishna Vaisnavism, a nod in the direction of Wickham-Smith's pre-Buddhist, teenager self, the young man who got into ISKCON and then freaked out at the evangelical nature of the organization. This track acknowledges the positive side of his experience. 'Ave Regina Celorum' is based on a Catholic hymn to Mary, an attempt to create a piece which could perhaps be used for meditation, either formal or informal."

VIBRACATHEDRAL ORCHESTRA: Dabbling With Gravity And Who You Are CD (VHF 66). $14.00

"The latest and current pinnacle from the quintet of Neil Campbell, Bridgit Riley, Julian Bradley, Michael Flower, and Adam Davenport was assembled from recordings of their weekly sessions in Flower's kitchen. The tracks here represent the joyous, celebratory side of VCO — all forward motion, massed strings, percussion, horns, and little instruments rocketing forward in a swirl of sound. Compared to the more austere sounds of recent CDs like Lino Hi and Versatile Arab Chord Chart, the tracks here take off from the spot where the loose hippie-chant-and-drum action of collectives like Amon Düül intersects with the polyglot instrumental approach of mid-'60s Sun Ra."

FROM QUAGMIRE: Caught In Unknowing CD (VHF 71). $14.00

"Working from Dorothy Geller's assured finger-picked and plucked nylon-string guitar, and James Wolf's elegant violin lines, From Quagmire explores a kind of hushed, tense chamber song that is so unlike anything else it's hard to draw comparisons. V2G2's unorthodox interruptions of sawing bowed guitar, free-'jazz' drumming, and other unlikely audio splatter is the wild card that keeps things from getting too austere. Usually it's totally beside the point, but it's worth mentioning that unlike most underground folk/outside weirdness, the music here is superbly recorded in close-up detail."

YOUNGSBOWER: Relayer CD (VHF 72). $14.00

"The second collaboration between these two stalwart titans of the true UK underground comes eight years after their first pairing on the Site/Realm LP. The title no doubt a nod to the odd resemblance of seven-year-old Rosalie Bower's cover art to another LP of the same title, this Relayer throws out the live methodology of the earlier LP for a dense set of layered studio recordings. Like the music of Matthew Bower's Sunroof! group, the tracks are rainbows of colors and textures with string drone, percussion, bleeps, and the unidentifiable, competing in a mix devoid of the traditional 'lead with backing' schema. Many tracks have the kind of welcoming electronic bed seldom heard since the demise of Harmonia, with ring-modulated fuzz bleeping away over a chugging, but non-oppressive beat."

BLACK TWIG PICKERS: Soon One Morning CD (VHF 73). $14.00

"The second CD by this SW Virginia area trio is firmly planted in Old-Time Appalachian tradition, but concentrates mostly on original material. Standing out in particular is 'Floyd Allen,' Ralph Barrier Jr.'s masterful retelling of an area tragedy with a sweet and unexpected major/minor chorus change-up. Mike Gangloff's lengthy and elegiac instrumental 'This War Is Killing Me' glides along on a sad melody passed around between resonator guitar, cello and fiddle. Many tracks are anchored by Gangloff's unusual gut-string baritone banjo. Two solo instrumentals on the CD add balance between the vocal numbers — Isak Howell's 'Have You Been To Alabama?' is a subtle fingerpicked workout, while Gangloff's 'Ironto Special' is a considerably more exotic-sounding modal construction on the big banjo."

SUNROOF: Cloudz CD (VHF 75). $14.00

"Bi-annual collection of pillow sound from Matthew Bower & Co. Fairly mellow and spacey, à la the Embroidered Birdsong Nearly Meadows disc from Sunroof's 2001 Bliss double-CD. Layers of twinkling keyboard, guitar, unidentified fuzz, short wave, etc. Very much in the style of Harmonia and Cluster in spots. There are a couple of amped-up moments here and there, including surprise lead guitar action on 'Tornado Rose Canoe,' and the excellent fuzz-grilled rock of 'Primavera' (aka 'AC/DC' — a staple of recent live sets). According to no less of an authority than Neil Campbell, Cloudz is 'the best Sunroof ever.'"

PELT: Pearls From The River CD (VHF 76). $14.00

"First new music in a couple of years from the trio, focusing entirely on their acoustic side — a single session recorded in Virginia by Mikel Dimmick. 'Up the North Fork' is a trio for banjo, baritone banjo, and cello — after the snaky bowed introduction, the fast thwacking of the banjos and forcefully strummed cello take over and whip up a storm. The other two tracks are lengthy ragas (one in C, one in D) with the virtuoso modal guitar of Jack Rose front and center."

VIBRACATHEDRAL ORCHESTRA: The Queen of Guess CD (VHF 77). $14.00

"While certainly VCO's most upbeat and percussive music, the nine tracks on this immense, visceral slab of rackety action run through a wide range of styles. 'Ramshackle Sunrise' has a gamelan-like, five-note melody overlaid with a hovering drone. 'The Silent Socket' rocks with 'Sister Ray'-style guitar careening along side actual drums. The two 20-minute epics that bookend the record are a study in contrasts: 'Your Head Shone Like A Stone' has a heavy, excited buzz, while the closing 'Goodnight Stars Goodnight Air' is a gentler acoustic epilogue, gliding into the rosy future."

HWAN TRIO, KANG TAE: Love Time CD (VHF 79). $14.00

"Love Time is under-documented Korean alto player Kang Tae Hwan's debut release; his trio includes Makoto Kawabata and percussionist Ichiraku Yoshimitsu. More minimalist than free jazz, Love Time centers on Hwan's long circular tones, avoiding common free-alto styles in favor of a roughly hewn clarion approach. Kawabata and Yoshimitsu shadow Hwan subtly on sarangi and bowed percussion. The music gradually builds to a crescendo, with Kawabata switching to guitar and Yoshimitsu moving to the drum kit. An atmospheric and understated work. In letterpress gatefold. One track, fifty minutes."

ROSE, JACK: Two Originals Of... CD (VHF 81). $14.00

"The debut solo CD by Jack Rose combines his much-lauded Eclipse LPs Red Horse, White Mule and Opium Musick. While the former is generally recognized as inspired by the Takoma tradition, Rose adds his own exotic influences and recognizable touch — whether abstracting on the modal epic 'Red Horse' or the rough slide stylings of 'The Colonel's Blues.' The latter is an eclectic collection with pieces for 12-string (the percussive and dark 'Black Pearls'), 6-string, and lap guitar. The two tracks featuring the lap guitar are duets. The lovely raga-ish 'Yaman Blues' features Pelt's Mike Gangloff on tanpura, and the near-ragtime of 'Linden Ave Stomp' features Glenn Jones of Cul de Sac on his vintage Gibson. The 12-page booklet reproduces the liner notes from both LPs and adds a few snaps."

NEILSON & RICHARD YOUNGS, ALEXANDER: Ourselves CD (VHF 82). $14.00

"Ourselves was originally recorded in Glasgow 2003 as a one-hour special for broadcast on London's Resonance FM but turned out too good to leave to the ether. It is the first collaboration between VHF mainstay Richard Youngs and octopus-armed percussionist Alexander Neilson (currently working with the Glasgow big-band Scatter, whose debut is due soon on Cenotaph). The music here represents something of a return to the extended psychedelic mania of mid-'90s R!!! outings such as Asthma and Diabetes and Enedkeg. 'Beam' kicks off the CD with Youngs ripping it up on electric guitar over a thick blanket of hard percussion, plucked strings, and backwards scraping noises. The 36-minute 'Mexico' follows with more string mangling, segueing into an atmospheric interlude for voices, bowed cymbals, and bells. The final track is an unusual rendering of the traditional 'God Bless The Master,' with Youngs' unmistakable voice carrying the original melody over the cloud of bric-a-brac and swells of electricity swirling in the background."

ROSE, JACK: Raag Manifestos CD (VHF 85). $14.00

"Compiled from a variety of sources, Raag Manifestos cuts across various acoustic styles much like Rose's Opium Music LP, but with a more aggressive attack. 'Black Pearls from the River' and 'Hart Crane's Old Boyfriends' are dense, serious assaults on the 12-string, with the intensity of the latter enhanced by Ian Lagoski's roaring electronic backdrop. With subtle tabla accompaniment by Eric Carbonara, 'Crossing The Great Waters,' is another epic modal journey in the style of Pelt's 'Road To Catawba' and Rose's own 'Red Horse.' The traditional 'Blessed Be the Name of the Lord' finishes off the CD on a calming note. In mini-gatefold."

VIA SATELLITE (UK):*MOUNT VERNON ARTS LAB: The Seance At Hobs Lane CD (ASTRA 007). $15.00

"It is Drew Mulholland's (aka The Mount Vernon Arts Lab) fifth album. The album features remixes from Coil and Barry 7 (Add N to X). Other contributions come from Norman Blake (Teenage Fanclub), Isobel Campbell (Belle & Sebastian) and Adrian Utley (Portishead). Mulholland's previous work has proved his dedication to these arcane tastes. On the The Seance At Hobs Lane Mulholland refers to his inspirations without allowing literal connections get in the way of the music. The track 'The Mandrake Club' for example, refers to an infamous secret society, the activities of which remained unknown."

MOUNT VERNON ARTS LAB: Gummy Twinkle CD (VSAT 2525). $19.00

"Mount Vernon Arts Lab are led by Glaswegian experimentalist Drew Mulholland and Gummy Twinkle is re-released to tie in with the release of Warmminster, the collaboration with Adrian Utley of Portishead on Ochre Records. Gummy Twinkle is made up of original compositions as well as collaborations with Norman Blake (Teenage Fan Club), Sonic Boom, Project Dark & Disinformation; it features over loaded circuits, fax tones, weighing machines, locked grooves, a Theremin in a storm, an egg whisk under a nest of tables and a whole host of other electrical wonders and analogue monstrosities custom made to MVAL's own unique specifications."

VIBRANT MUSIC (GERMANY):*FLUXION: Redundant 12" (VM 02). $8.00

"This is the second release on the Vibrant Music label. Fluxion is known for his releases on Chain Reaction. He had released a handful of experimental down tempo minimal groove tracks and atmospheric textures with a dub flavour in them, most of them compiled on two 'Vibrant Forms' CD's. Since Fluxion had managed to sustain a rather open musical spectrum from 1998 to date with his releases, this new 12", focuses on a 'mass organic movement' approach. Deep sounding techno, evolving and transforming rapidly. A fluid state where the percussive elements are changing following the impulse of other harmonic parts, getting far away from accurate metronomic rhythms that create one-dimensional tracks. It is an uplifting listening experience."

SILEX: Stark 12" (VM 03). $8.00

"Silex is a project by K.Soubilis (aka Fluxion). This release is a selection of works within the spectrum of Vibrant Music which is to produce music for both sides of the brain. Music which is analytical but emotional at the same time. Three pieces of music which don't have an obvious link thematically, but on a closer look they work in an experimental way together. One of the main characteristics of the Silex project is the inventive rhythmical, harmonic parts and patterns which are surrounded by the atmospheric structures. 'Stark' is the first release of two releases by Silex, the second of which will be released by the end of the year. 'Stark' places the listener on a really moody and emotional journey that lasts more than 10 minutes. 'Hybrid' evolves and builds it's groove with fragments of sound used as rhythmic parts. 'Sphere' is a melodic piece creating it's own individual atmosphere."

COTI: La Gru Gialla 12" (VM 04). $8.00

"Coti's first release on the Vibrant Music label. A much sought after producer and engineer in Greece, he has previously released two CDs, a 12" vinyl and many tracks on various compilations. Coti's music works both in an analytical, left brain, way, as well as having a strong subconscious emotional right brain impact. The work on this release is a selection of 4 pieces from an upcoming CD which will follow later this year, and it expresses his concern with the process of re-remembering, a state in which memory re-processes what is an already processed fact. The music that arises is often a composition of multi-layered parallel melo-harmonic and/or percussive elements, ranging from playfully complex rhythmic tracks, to moody introspective atmospheres."

SILEX: Alphabet 2LP (VM 04 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

NAONO: Naono 12" (VM 05). $8.00

"Naono is a new coming artist on Vibrant Music. His work as a whole expresses the artists concern and aim to explain the rapid changes between several different and diverse impulsive 'emotions'. This is being achieved by the unexpectedness of the rhythmical compositions and the melodic atmospheric sounds. The sounds on the musical pieces creating a playfull environment that blends fragments of sounds that in some cases are coming from natural sound recordings. This 12" release introducing four well selected tracks that cover some of the areas of the artist interest. A full scale picture of Naono's work will come at the beginning of the new year."

FLUXION: Spaces CD (VM 01 CD). $14.50

"Spaces is the 3rd CD album by Fluxion and follows up to Vibrant Forms and Vibrant Forms 2. This is a study of space and acoustics, a creation of an artificial environment where interacting sounds are creating a warm, live, unpredictable feeling. This work is a statement from Fluxion, underlining the importance of space-place where the sound and the music itself exists."

COTI: Metamemoria CD (VM 02 CD). $14.50

"Metamemoria is Coti's first release on the Vibrant Music label. A much sought after producer and engineer in Greece, he has previously released two CDs, a 12inch vinyl and many tracks on various compilations. Coti's music works both in an analytical, left brain, way, as well as having a strong subconscious emotional right brain impact. The title expresses his concern with the process of re-remembering, a state in which memory re-processes what is an already processed fact. The music that arises is often a composition of multi-layered parallel melo-harmonic and/or percussive elements, often underpinned by personal location recordings, ranging from playfully complex rhythmic tracks to moody introspective atmospheres. Also Blaine L. Reininger (ex-Tuxedomoon member) appears on 'M Key' and Fluxion had processed 'Shoal 1.2.'"

NAONO: Slope Drifting CD (VM 03 CD). $14.50

"Slope Drifting is the debut album of 24-year old Greek artist Naono for Vibrant Music, following the 12" EP 'Ati Pol'. Label manager Kostas Soubly aka Fluxion discovered this young talent from Athens at one of his few live performances as a part of the blooming Greek Electronica scene. This CD-only release expresses the artists concern and aim to explain the rapid changes between several different and diverse impulsive emotions. This is being achieved by the unexpectedness of the rhythmical compositions and melodic atmospheric sounds. Tuned in the musical spectrum of Vibrant Music which is to release music for both sides of the brain, analytical and emotional at the same time. The music itself could be listened to as a 54 minute composition and also as 14 individual tracks. The blending of the pieces had been done in order to create a very individual and personal story. The sounds create an interesting environment that blend fragments of artificial sounds together with natural sound recordings."

QEBQ: Flopper CD (VM 05 CD). $14.50

"After many years PA-ing and releasing music in various independent labels, musicians/producers Alex Retsis-George Aggelides formed in 1999 Qebo, a group oriented in many forms of computer music. They are known for their live performances in various clubs in Athens and in electronic music festivals such as Bios 2001, in which they've played alongside acts like Person, Luke Slater, Christian Vogel, Vladislav Delay, Mouse On Mars to name a few. Qebo's material incorporates their musical influences, varying from bleeps to atmospheric breaks and background melodies to distorted vocals, with a touch of extended sound manipulation and machine beats. Their debut album Flopper available both in CD/LP, could be described as a freestyle approach of many genres, an approach reminiscent to an experimental artist's work, with a somehow distinct dance feeling. The tracks were written serving various moods and they all seem to have a certain human-computer feeling describing their melodies. The artists also contribute more straightforward tracks, with their touch of personal influences and sound processing always present."

QEBQ: Flopper LP (VM 05 LP). $12.00

LP version.

VICTO (CANADA):*DUCHESNE, ANDRE: L'Ou'L CD (VICTO 010). $14.00

Duchesse is a guitarist, previously associated with Conventum & Les Quatre Guitarists. There are pieces here for string quartet, sax quartet, guitar quartet, etc.

SHARP/ZEENA PARKINS, ELLIOTT: Psycho-Acoustics CD (VICTO 026). $14.00

1994 studio duos, with the expected array: electric & acoustic harp, guitars, Dobro, clarinet, percussion, etc.

MINARFA, PINO: Sudori CD (VICTO 034). $14.00

Italian sextet led by Minarfa (trumpet, prepared trumpet, bugle, didjeridoo, etc.), plus Carlo Actis Dato (ts, bs).

DEANE, J.A.: Nomad CD (VICTO 035). $14.00

Deane plays trombone, bass flute, lap steel guitar, percussion, with various guests including ROVA's Bruce Ackley and Andrew Voigt.

FAR EAST SIDE BAND: Urban Archaeology CD (VICTO 037). $14.00

Studio recordings of a quartet of Jason Hwang (electric violin), Sang-Won Park (alang, kayagum), Joe Daley (tuba, electronics), Yukio Tsuji (shakuhachi, perc.). Nicely evolving Eastern-saturated dreamscape music of subtle transformations.

MINTON QUARTET, PHIL: Mouthfull Of Ecstasy CD (VICTO 041). $14.00

Studio recording based around the texts of Finnegan's Wake, led by the legendary vocal improviser, Phil Minton. With John Butcher (ts, ss, voice), Roger Turner (drums, perc. voice), Vervan Weston (piano, voice). "As free improvisers, Minton, Weston, Turner and Butcher take the inherent semiotic flexibility of music one step further, emphasizing a fleeting, constantly-shifting, instantaneous flash of images, sounds, and associations; that imminence is consistent with Joyce's free flow of verbiage, his 'stream of consciousness' style of running-on sentences and creating compounds out of separate linguistic molecules... the group specifically chose to mix the voice integrally, not out on top roughshod over instrumentalists... word for word, each utterance can serve either to stir up freely-associated meanings, harder denotive references, or simply to kick back and join the melange as concrete sound." —John Corbett.

PARKER/SAINKHO NAMTCHYLAK, EVAN: Mars Song CD (VICTO 042). $14.00

Duos recorded in Toronto in 1996 between Evan (soprano and tenor saxophones) and the amazing female vocalist from Tuva, Sainkho. "Having listened to Evan for close to 25 years in a multitude of configurations, there has always been surprise and challenge in his ever developing music; the solo music especially. If one investigates the recordings, mostly soprano, it becomes apparent that he is gradually releasing all the inner voices contained in his horn, and this time there appeared two distinct lines, overlapping, in parallel, joined in harmonics. The inclusion of the tenor in his solo music has opened up yet another avenue, perhaps for even the simple reason of it having a curved bell and being an octave lower. Although I had heard Sainkho Namtchylak recordings on Leo and FMP, I was quite unprepared for the live experience. Her arsenal of sounds come not as trick singing, but story-like, at times vague notions of Madame Butterfly enter my thoughts, another gurgling dialogue of happy babies; and then so low and deep in the throat as to create a definite shiver. When they joined the saxophone and voice together, they existed in the space between my ears rather than outside in, filling my brain. Astounding music." —Bill Smith.

SHARP/ZEENA PARKINS, ELLIOTT: Blackburst CD (VICTO 044). $14.00

The "Psycho-Acoustic" duo; studio recordings from NY, 1996. Electric harp, double guitar-bass, bass clarinet, Buchla Thunder, etc.

MOORE, THURSTON: Piece For Jetson Dolma CD (VICTO 045). $14.00

One 66-minute piece broken into 2 parts by the trio of Thurston Moore (guitar, amplifier, microphone), Tom Sargal (drums, perc.) & William Winant (drums, perc.). Recorded live at Victoriaville 5/17/96. Beautifully ignited sound waves ala the Klangfarbenmelodie... CD on Corpus Hermeticum. "The sounds on this disc are about colliding cultures. They are about Thurston Moore creating massive Bertoia-like sound sculptures that dangle ominously above the shiny pates of the massed cogniscetti while Tom Sargal turns his limbs into a riot of machine guns, and William Winant's percussion zyzzyzes through the air like sheets of burning napalm. There are moments when Sargal sounds like Jonathan Jackson power pumping his 12 gauge into a target range full of white cops' exploding heads. There are moments when Moore's guitar, amp and Japanese toys send huge resonant rainbow red arcs pulsing through the crowd's Kirlian clouds. There are moments when Winant's tympanic burling BECOMES a bridge into the hole of nada." —B. Coley.

CHADBOURNE/PAUL LOVENS, EUGENE: Patrizio CD (VICTO 046). $14.00

Duets for Chadbourne (dobro, electric banjo) and Lovens (drums, cymbals), live in the USA 1996. Focusing on Eugene's more serious improvisational persona, this is a spirited collection of sound creation.

BURN, CHRIS: Music For Three Rivers CD (VICTO 050). $14.00

Solo prepared piano compositions by this UK free music figurehead. "Chris Burn brings to the sound-board an improviser's sensitivity to open form exploration and a research scientist's intensity when it comes to the business of piano preparation and alteration...the diverse streams of his involvement in expanding the extended techniques on the instrument and working in the expressive terrain of free improvisation converge in a most fertile flood plain."

NEW WINDS: Potion CD (VICTO 053). $14.00

Studio recordings from 7/97 by the trio of Robert Dick (flute, prepared flute, piccolo), Herb Robertson (trumpet, flugelhorn) & Ned Rothenberg (alto sax, clarinet, bass clarinet).

RANALDO/WILLIAM HOOKER, LEE: Clouds CD (VICTO 054). $14.00

Recorded live in Victoriaville 5/19/97. Rinaldo (guitar, synthesizer, tape and voice), Hooker (drums and voice), plus guests Jim O'Rourke (Farfisa organ and electronics) and Gianni Gebbia (saxophones).

DONEDA/ACHIARY/SAWAI: Temps Couché CD (VICTO 055). $14.00

Michel Doneda (soprano sax), Benat Achary (voice, percussion) & Kazue Sawai (kotos). Recorded live in La Collégiale St-Pierre La Cour, on 5/13/98.

FUSHITSUSHA: Withdrawe, this sable Disclosure ere devot'd CD (VICTO 060). $14.00

The trio of Keiji Haino (guitar, voice), Yasushi Ozawa (bass) & Ikuro Takahashi (drums), recorded live at Victoriaville 5/16/97. "With reference to the title for the Fushitsusha album, Keiji Haino takes a lot of care and time over the selection of titles for his albums. He specifically asked that this title be translated into a type of English that would be reminiscent of medieval language. As going back that far would render the title mostly incomprehensible to the majority of listeners, we eventually came to the compromise of using Elizabethan-style (Shakespearean, etc.) grammar, spelling and diction. Within those parameters, I believe that the title makes grammatical sense and communicates both the feel and meaning of what Keiji wants to say." —Alan Cummings (translator).

PALINCKX: It's Frontal Dog CD (VICTO 061). $14.00

"Palinckx makes music that defies traditional categories like rock, jazz, improvised and contemporary composed music. Palinckx plays hard-edge collages, slap-stick effects, psychedelia, musical ready-mades, noise, carrying melodies and abstract sound explorations."

KOVAC, BORIS: East Off Europe — Closing The Circle CD (VICTO 062). $14.00

"Multistylism" could be a rough term used to determine Boris Kovac's composition profile, which is not suited to fill any conventional pigeonholes. His music reflects a thorough knowledge of the European chamber music tradition; on the one hand it could (conditionally) be categorized among lyrical sentiments of traditional sound worlds (not only of Pannonian ethnic music but also of a 'planetary human spirit') and sacred ritual sound festivities, and, on the other hand, it adopted some experiences of jazz, avantgarde rock and improvised music. From a strictly composing viewpoint, Kovac relied upon repetitive conceptions of minimalist composers (Reich, Riley, Glass), although he soon became detached from his 'role models' and followed his own way in composing. Among the younger generation composers that we have had the opportunity to hear in the last several years there are indeed very few have introduced so much freshness into contemporary music as Boris Kova has done." — Rajko Mursic.

CCMC: aCCompliCes CD (VICTO 063). $14.00

"CCMC has passed through many phases over its 20-year residency at Toronto's renowned Music Gallery, with 8 recordings and tours of North America, Europe and Japan. The band's latest incarnation, a trio whose three members have been described in The Toronto Star as 'each an artistic powerhouse and pioneer in his own right,' has original member Michael Snow (piano, synthesizer) flanked by alto sax wizard John (Plunderphonics) Oswald and soundscaper Paul Dutton. Together they perpetuate the CCMC commitment to improvisatory exploration and innovation, with process taking precedence and form evolving organically in a shifting tapestry of textures and timbres." Recorded live in 1996-'97.

CHADBOURNE/HENRY KAISER: The Guitar Lesson CD (VICTO 064). $14.00

"Two of today's most important guitarists meet for the first time in an homage to the great Derek Bailey." Studio recordings from '97/98, made in Oakland, CA; 2 of the tracks are electric duets, the rest are acoustic.

PLIMLEY TRIO, PAUL: Safe-Crackers CD (VICTO 066). $14.00

Studio recordings by Plimley (piano), Lisle Ellis (bass), Scott Amendola (drums). "The Trio seeks to expand the dimensions of composed and improvised music making. This recording focuses on the elements of beauty, rhythm, and the diversity of ways in which piano, bass and drums can create telling textures and how the leading through (development) of each piece can be distributed in continually shifting ways between each player."

DONEDA/ERIC M/JEAN MARC MONTERA, MICHEL: Not CD (VICTO 068). $14.00

Michel Doneda: saxophone soprano; Eric M: tables tournantes, échantillonnage en direct, minidisc; Jean-Marc Montero: guitare, guitare de table, électroniques, objets. "These three men form a trinity of spirit music bidding gracious adieu to a century of anxious form-desires and a heraldic call of welcome for a new landscape of potential freedom, not only by calendar but by critique through genre-ization, as they shut eyes and entrust foci to embouchure/free-key think, to two hands ten fingers toggle-switching/circle-driving, and to a poet-scientist in complete communion with search-glory sentient technique, whereupon tools are there for physical as well as extra sensory perception service unto the people, women-men-children-saints-dogs-lovers-hell riders, for prayers not to be just answered let alone delivered but supremely shared like the vision all life flowers inhabit with paint, clay, light, and music, our inked abstractions for everlasting heavens safe and beautiful and genuine sex of improvisational mode whereupon gender becomes so utterly earthbound whilst sound as joy exhibits those all as verily borderless, not unlike the giants, the gods, the goddesses, they boys, the freaks, the punks, the ravers, the experimentalists, the radicals, the ironists, the occultists, the breathers montera/doneda/m. like no other(s) but like all through study and gravitation and respect and harmony — a kiss on both cheeks, let it be thrice merci merci cimer mon amour for gifts as deeds and deeds as duties to the responsibility of the planet-men, the walkers, the city drifters in concern for the people by concepts of architecture- can we organize our music as such- can we open dialogue- can we open our cities to the worlds of mysticism implied by the colors of soundmagik, LET THE MUSIC COME OUT OF THE GATE, a horse with head charging with muscle action beauty gorgeous beauty and hear these three concentrate on its heart, its mane, its hooves, its legs, its ass, its life, like a boat through the stream of its wholeness in dreamed description of its sacred sex-ululatory walls which are there for EVERYONE to move through. The ball is in our court. Nice serve." — Thurston Moore, NYC USA 1999

KIMURA/ROBERTO MORALES MANZANARES, KIMURA: Leyendas CD (VICTO 069). $14.00

"Mari Kimura, violin; Roberto Morales Manzanares, flutes, piano, Veracruz harp. Manzanares' choice of instruments and techniques reveals a panoramic sweep extending back to the vast pre-Columbian civilizations of the Central and South Americas, back across the treks over the Bering Strait, and on rafts over the Pacific, back to Asia and forward again on all circuits. In Kimura's extended violin technique, another look backward, through the veil of the European academy and through the language of gagaku and noh. They finally meet in an illuminated place outside of all location, temporal or spatial." — Elliot Sharp.

DRESSER/FRED FRITH/KUE MORI, MARK: Later CD (VICTO 070). $14.00

"Mark Dresser (contrabass); Fred Frith (guitar, tabletop guitar, violin, piano, organ); Ikue Mori (electronic percussion). Recorded in San Francisco in April 1994."

MARCLAY/THURSTON MOORE/LEE RANALDO, CHRISTIAN: Fuck Shit Up CD (VICTO 071). $14.00

Christian Marclay (tables tournantes et disques), Thurston Moore (guitare et amplificateur), Lee Rinaldo (guitare, 'krackelbox' et divers objets). "Feedback rose and fell in heaving crescendos, drum sticks were inserted between strings, and for an hour and change, a wall of beautiful noise was erected, then smashed to bits, with no pesky backbeats or melodies to upset mesmeric abandon." Recorded at the Victoriaville Festival on 5/24/99.

FRITH/JEAN-PIERRE DROUET/LOUIS SCLAVIS, FRED: I Dream Of You Jumping CD (VICTO 072). $14.00

"Frith, Sclavis, and Drouet delivered improvisations with a clear sense of intersecting personal vocabularies. Frith displayed versatility, moving from abstract textures to searing linearity to dulcet, fingerpicked folkish melodiousness. Sclavis responded with lines that built from warm, bubbling melodies to insistent, fiery flurries. Drouet's whistles, bells, and hand drums were an effective complement, creating a flowing open pulse. Their playing displayed a warm, relaxed sensibility. The extended improvisation moved from open, free sections to heated intensity, ending with an intimate interchange of Flamenco-like, dancing guitar patterns, Arabic modal clarinet, and tinkling percussion."

DRESSER/DENMAN MARONEY, MARK: Duologues CD (VICTO 073). $14.00

Mark Dresser: contrebasse, Denman Maroney: piano. "When I saw Denman Maroney and Mark Dresser perform at Victoriaville in May of 2000 I was on the edge of my seat, breathless, agog. It had been a long time since a concert had drawn me in and held me in that way, and I was fascinated by the effortless melding of different ways of 'composing', spontaneous and otherwise. The result? Irresolute beauty, hesitantly definite, wide, wild." — Fred Frith.

PLIMLEY/JOHN OSWALD/MARILYN CRISPELL/CECIL TAYLOR, PAUL: Complicité 3CD (VICTO 074-6). $29.00

"Three pianists — Cecil Taylor, Marilyn Crispell and Paul Plimley — and an alto saxist — John Oswald — gathered to play, in a triple-header that meandered blissfully and chaotically, and showed us a vision of measured abandon. Freedom rang out, amidst floating bits of structure and melody, and it also stretched out over three hours. Obviously, an intensely personal expression is involved in the work of solo improvisers on this high of an order. Yet there is also a negation of the usual musical hierarchies, which makes this music so brimming with a kind of idealism, unveiled in very real time."

TAYLOR/BILL DIXON/TONY OXLEY, CECIL: Taylor/Dixon/Oxley CD (VICTO 082). $14.00

Cecil Taylor: piano, Bill Dixon: trompette, bugle, Tony Oxley: batterie, percussion. "A summit meeting of historical proportions, the magic triangle of Cecil Taylor, Bill Dixon and Tony Oxley belies the contention that Musique Actuelle is a young man's music alone. In this cutting edge world premiere concert, three masters with more than 40 years of experience each proved that they are as forward looking now as they were when they began."

FUJII/TATSUYA YOSHIDA, SATOKO: Toh-Kichi CD (VICTO 083). $14.00

"Compatriots Satoko Fujii and Tatsuya Yoshida thrillingly demonstrated the virtues of Speed Metal Improv. The piano/drums duo threw itself headlong into a wild and bogglingly precise exchange of hammering percussion and jabbering voices — part battle, part hyperactive dance. A flawless composite of jumpcuts, the set spanned the musical map from hardcore and Metal to boogie-woogie and tango, ending with a hilarious impromptu rendition of 'Girl From Ipanama'."

CHADBOURNE/RENÉ LUSSIER, EUGENE: L'Oasis CD (VICTO 084). $14.00

"Eugene Chadbourne found the perfect partner in Rene Lussier. Chadbourne has phenomenal technique, a precocious sense of humor, and a willingness to spar with just about anyone. Lussier has the technique and wit to match Chadbourne, and also shares his love for folk roots. So after the two retreated to Lussier's farm for a few days to work out a set, they came up with a blistering mix of thorny free improvisation, blinding flat-picked duets, refracted bluegrass, warped country blues, and skewed country swing. Their set had the relaxed feel of a front porch party as the two switched off from steel string guitar, electric guitar, National Steel, and banjo. Licks were traded back and forth, full of crackling energy and stoked abandon. Musical genres were gobbled up and shredded through a cracked sensibility shared by the two."

EROSONIC: Mystery Theatre CD (VICTO 085). $14.00

David Mott : saxophone baryton; Joseph Petric : accordéon et bande. "In 1994 Joseph Petric approached David Mott and suggested the idea of a unique duo which would explore new compositional, improvisation and artistic terrain. In the baritone saxophone discography, this disc reinforces the well known work of David Mott as he uses an extended registral spectrum, circular breathing, vocal modulation, multiphonics and timbral shifts. Mon has long been active as a composer and performer in an inclusive sonic exploration that allows for a greater range of artistic expressivity. In the accordion discography, this disc establishes Petric as the first accordionist to achieve an inclusive art of performance. This is based on the big picture integration of improvisation, interpretation, extended instrumental technique, vibrato and the introduction of his instruments prototypical accordion sound. Petric's aesthetic allusion to sonic symbolism through references to both vernacular and past musics (semiotic coding), provides the foundation for the enormous range of artistic expressivity on the accordion."

ROVA: Resistance CD (VICTO 086). $14.00

"Ignore the passing of time as a measure of anything real. Twenty-five years and counting is a milestone, but really only means they've had more opportunities and experiences — commissions, recordings, performances, musical and personal challenges — all of which affect the growth patterns, the infrastructural dynamics, the attitude and identity of the ensemble as ensemble. Rova's music exists within this 'continuous present' — any other interpretation would arbitrarily lessen their previous, valuable accomplishments. And the catalogue they have composed is large, singular, significant. This newest chapter is the equal of any, an affirmation of continuity, of what poet Robin Blaser called the commotion of belief. Beginning again and again." — Art Lange.

DEROME/LOUIS SCLAVIS QUARTET, JEAN: Un Moment de Bonheur CD (VICTO 087). $14.00

"When Louis Sclavis and Jean Derome joined artistic forces for a Victoriaville concert in 2001, it was a meeting on turf both familiar and alien. That sort of duality is at the heart of an artistic adventure all about the pursuit of, and also selective resistance to, balance. It was a transcontinental first encounter between musicians who knew of each other, who shared mutual respect, and are known to cross idiomatic borders. The virtuoso and range-free clarinetist Sclavis & Montrealese Derome (flute, alto sax, guimbarde). The conference of disciplined free spirits resulted in one of the clear highlights of that year's FIMAV, and a rambling musical landscape with proper disregard for genre or strict adherence to structure."

KOWALD/WILLIAM PARKER, PETER: The Victoriaville Tape CD (VICTO 088). $14.00

Kowald (contrabass, voice) & Parker (contrabass), recorded live at Victoriaville, 5/19/02.

"Hear a sound become a sound respond to sound if you play low I'll play high if you pluck I'll bow. Paint with sound if you walk I'll solo on top then I'll walk and you'll solo on top. Listen to the silence that accompanies this history this journey of music see the colors hear the colors of the world 8 strings dancing over the dark sunset use your voice down the low mountains of E now swing! sing! swing! sing! like old new now moment song second chance every second a second a chance rosin dust field of flowers again and again and again sarangi fiddle koto kumungo violin cello banjo a string village his term throwing paint across the sky like rainbows echoes of voices looking for peace no matter what they say the blind and deaf scouts called critics they know little about this ritual or this brotherhood of circles and horizons they were not there when the crows sang they were not there when the temples were built nor were they there when the temple fell now they scramble to claim the broken pieces they cannot put back together the sound soon stops then goes on and on and on forever. And then the tears came and heaven opened. Uncle Petey goes up to join the band in the sky he is greeted by Jimmy Blanton his face smiles now sunshine eternal sunshine. — William Parker, February 2003.

MERZBOW/PAN SONIC: V CD (VICTO 089). $14.00

Recorded live at Victoriaville, 5/20/02; one 68-minute piece performed by Masami Akita, Mika Vaino & Ilpo Vaisanen. "The festival's closing act, Pan Sonic with Merzbow, was worth the long wait. Their complete absence of stage presence notwithstanding, the trio orchestrated glorious cascades of white noise that sporadically collapsed into fat dirty beats — a gutrumbling excursion into the inner depths of sound and an indication of where the true spirit of improv lives in 2002."

CHARLES/DIANE LABROSSE/KRISTOFF K. ROLL/MARTIN TÊTREULT, XAVIER: Tout le monde en place pour un set américain CD (VICTO 090). $14.00

"The most successful was the Saturday afternoon concert by Diane Labrosse (electronics), Martin Têtreault (turntables etc), Xavier Charles (clarinet and electronics) and French duo Kristoff K. Roll (household objects). The five were placed on a platform in the middle of the Colisée, and the audience was free to walk around and observe the musicians at close range, which de-mythified the process. The improvisation was powerful and atmospheric, dominated by Labrosse's inventive use of samples taken from around her house. Têtreault was drolly inventive, while Charles and KK. Roll added splashes of colors."

PHILLIPS/JOËLLE LÉANDRE/WILLIAM PARKER/TETSU SAITOH, BARRE: After You Gone CD (VICTO 091). $14.00

"If you think about where the players of this quartet paying tribute to Kowald are coming from, you'll get a glimpse of the network he helped to establish and was involved with: William Parker from Afro-American Free Jazz, Joelle Léandre from European Classical and New Music, Barre Phillips an American in Europe, experienced in the aesthetics of both these worlds, Tetsu Saitoh from Japanese Traditional Music, tango ensembles and, most importantly, Free Improvisation. It was Peter's belief already in the late seventies, when he started the trio with Leo Smith and Günter Sommer, that musicians coming from different cultural traditions could find a common base of communication via the language of free improvisation. His concept of a Global Village, which differs fundamentally from any kind of world music, was developed from this belief."

BLONK/KOICHI MAKIGAMI/PAUL DUTTON/PHIL MINTON/DAVID MOSS, JAAP: Five Men Singing CD (VICTO 092). $14.00

"The singers shape their song into a repeated chant that loops in on itself in darkened circles. Then, within a single drawn breath, ahhhhhhh, the picture changes, or maybe it simply changes into a picture with everyone in their cherished role. Then, the song of the singers on that mound is pulsed through the crowd on everyone's voice and tongue, and it becomes the one song of that moment no longer owned or even made by those 5 men singing in the center, not followed or learned by the townspeople. Suddenly, on that single in-drawn AHH-HHHHH, comes the pleasure and fullness of a task needing to be done and a song waiting to be sung. This is how singing really works: you find yourself humming the song of a stranger who passes you in the warm evening air and you take the melody in your arms and run away!" — David Moss.

VICTOR (JAPAN):

MOPS, THE: Psychedelic Sounds In Japan CD (VICL 18212). $20.00

Reissue of the first Mops album, originally issued by Victor in Japan in 1968. One of the originators of the Japanese G5 ("Group Sounds") garage/beat movement, they went on to record 8 or so albums, but this 1st one is considered their classic blast. "Although the Mops sported the most American sound of all the Japanese teen bands, their number one idols were the Animals. Their 1968 album features two vocalists, both trying to out do each other for the best Eric Burdon sound alike. The Mops themselves single handedly introduced Japan to the psychedelic sounds of San Francisco covering both 'White Rabbit' which is rather poor, and 'Somebody To Love' which they turn into a punk/psych masterpiece. Live, the Mops used psychedelic lighting effects and played blindfolded to stimulate themselves to hallucinogenic heights (obtaining LSD was next to impossible in Japan at the time). Flanging, phasing and other studio techniques were also introduced to Japan by the Mops who experimented in various ways to achieve their psychedelic sounds. The Mops not only displayed an amazing adeptness at copying psychedelia but also American punk. Classic teen punk songs like 'I Am Just A Mops' which would have made Armand Schaubroeck proud, and 'Please Kill Me' which appears on Boulders #7 sound like so many of the garagedelic tunes penned by their teenage American counterparts. The Mops where one of Japan's wildest groups!" — Glynis Ward

KATZE, NAV: Never Mind The Distortion II CD (VICL 60025). $22.00

A beautiful followup to the first remix project involving the music of the Japanese pop group Nav Katze. I doubt that I've ever heard any of the original music by this female duo, but the first volume of remixes (issued in 1994, later licensed beyond Japan by SSR) featured mesmerizingly dreamy IDM mixes by Aphex, Black Dog, Reload, Global Communication, etc. and was one of the all time classic remix albums. This new volume features remixes by The Gentle People, Disjecta, Sun Electric, Seefeel, µ-Ziq and Autechre — and for lush, atmospheric futuristic pop deconstruction this is as good as you can expect. Stunning Designers Republic packaging, too.

RZA, THE: Music From the Motion Picture Ghost Dog CD (VICP 60944). $30.00

"Japanese exclusive release from 1999 of the score to the Jim Jarmusch penned/directed Isaac de Bankolé vehicle Ghost Dog. This CD is a completely different beast than the widely/domestically available 'songs inspired by the movie' collection in that it contains the actual free-form-ish RZA-penned improv-feel instrumental tracks as heard in the movie itself (pearls in the sea of Wu-whatnot, especially to the non-acclimated) amongst a small handful of vocal tracks (some sung by RZA himself!). This title has been long whispered about in muted tones due to its persistent unavailability in combination with the baffling non-relationship of the tracks on said US version of the soundtrack (far more marketable Me/Tony Starks/Ghostface/ODB lyrical joints) to the ones in the movie. RZA (aka Robert Diggs, Bobby Digital, Bobby Steels, Prince Rakeem, the Abbott, etc...) is the in-house producer for the Wu Tang family, worked hits for Big Punisher, Bounty Killer, Cypress Hill, was a member of the Gravediggaz, All In Together, etc... Considered by most to be the key perpetrator of the street/lo-fi/gritty home-production style prevalent in hip hop throughout the 90s. Excellent selection, easily some of RZA's best work, a definite outsider influence resounds throughout. The perfect entry point to the non-hip-hop affiliated, those wanting to slide in without the strain of accumulating mass Wu-Tang catalogue to sift out the 'goods', those afraid of the lyrical flow of affiliated MC's (85% instrumental!). Highlights: 'Untitled #12 (Free Jazz)', 'Flying Birds', 'Dead Birds', etc... Beyond solid." — Hrvatski.

COMUS: First Utterance CD (VICP 62166). $30.00

New Japanese reissue (the prior UK BGO version is out of print), with 20-bit remastering and packaged in an awesome looking mini-LP style gatefold jacket. No bonus tracks. "The classic weird-folk British album from 1970, more recently infamous for influence on Current 93's sound in the 90s. The first LP is rock music only by association. Taking British folk as a point of departure, the music twists and oozes as a vile bunch of snakes, pairing gorgeous melodies and expert playing to ecstatically altered vocals and vicious lyrics. Rape, murder, witchcraft and abuse are main ingredients to the menu, which is cooked with raging madness, but still manages to taste delicately composed. One of the very first British folk albums that creates a totally new, dangerous and utterly unique atmosphere."

KATZE, NAV: Never Mind the Distortions 2CD (VICP 62424/5). $40.00

New double CD version of one of the 90's classic IDM events. Disc one reissues Never Mind the Distortions, originally issued in 1994 by SSR in Belgium (now unavailable). This album featured mesmerizingly dreamy mixes of the unknown-to-the-west Japanese pop sensation Nav Katze by Aphex, Black Dog, Reload, Global Communication, Ultramarine. This was one of the all time defining remix albums and will put you in the perfect tub of ecstatic glaze. Disc two reissues Never Mind The Distortion II, which has always been a Japanese-only follow-up release. It features additional remixes by The Gentle People, Disjecta, Sun Electric, Seefeel, µ-Ziq and Autechre — and for lush, atmospheric futuristic pop deconstruction this is as good as you can expect.

VICTORY GARDEN (UK):

SOUTHALL RIOT & ANSUZ LUNASA: Sunhead CD (VG 09). $9.00

"Eight track mini-album following on from singles on their own Victory Garden label. Think Pink as in Floyd's '69 Moonhead', think Faust Tapes and loving homage to the cult of cut-up, a 9th revolution evoking the cinematic ultrachaos of early John Arthurs. Bangs, feedback, overdriven distortion, layers of soft pulsing white noise."

VIEWLEXX (NETHERLANDS):

I-F: Space Invaders Are Smoking Grass 12" (VIEW 002). $9.00

"The record which created the hype! Influenced many and copied by many... but there is only one original S.I.A.S.G., 'Playstation#2', 'Secret Desire', and 'Us and ours you and yours' .....Four killer tracks by I-f on one EP."

I-F/PARALLAX CORP.: Coca Disco CD (VIEW 004 CD). $14.00

"After the highly successful Cocadisco pre releases on 12" vinyl (V12/10, 11 and 12) Clone and Viewlexx finally present the full length CD album. 14 new disco electro tracks tracks from I-f and his musical partner Intergalactic Gary (I-g) which features tracks from the Parallax Corp. 12"s and loads of fresh unreleased material. 74 minutes of non stop dance music. Expect the same impact as the I-f's Mixed up the Hague mix album. The South-West of Holland, just another day in the year 3000. Get in line before the toilet because the Parallax Corporation is dealing Cocadisco behind the doors! 'Cocadisco, the new and improved formula. Our message is clear: Mass manipulation due to highly addictive sound waves forcing human beings into habits and lifestyles, all controlled of course by the Parallax Corporation. In November 1998 the naïve Interr-Ference (I-f for friends) and Intergalactic Gary, both working musicians and entertainers for the Murdercapital organisation were made an offer they couldn't refuse; Either to go down with the Murdercapital promotion team, or join The Parallax Corporation in their efforts to control life on this planet and keep operating in the frontlines. The choice was easy, the result more then satisfactory. Now time has come to present to you: Cocadisco. With vocals from I-f, Nancy Fortune, Melvin White and Kaori Kuwabara, added Nicotine from Texas, grind Coca leaves from Cochabamba, Coffee flavour from Paramaribo and vintage synthesizers from around the world; Only the best ingredients are used in this product.' Cocadisco the album — breaking the waves for a new standard in Disconix."

FREAK ELECTRIQUE: P.H.A.S.E.R. 12" (VIEW 010). $11.00

"Two long building tracks in the best synth pop tradition mixed with functional Italo disco beats...but nothing to cheesy or sampled. Can be played by Teisto and the 2 Many DJ's guys too. Oh and the producer... he is a veteran from the Rotterdam/The Hague area but wants to remain anonymous..."

TYRELL, ALDEN: Visitor from Another Meaning: Hills of Honolulu/The Rising 12" (VIEW 015). $12.00

"Alden Tyrell presents an unexpected gift on I-f's Viewlexx label. And as we all know Viewlexx delivers driving Italo disco/electro cuts, who rule the dance floor for sure. 2 strong effective tracks. 'Hills of Honolulu' is a uptempo killer with trademark synths and a massive bassline... and 'The Rising' is kind of the same... but in a slower pace. Played in Alden Tyrell's live sets during the last months... and we had so many request for these tracks to that they got pressed on a high quality Viewlexx disc for everyone's pleasure."

PARALLAX CORP.: Fear 12" (VIEW 12/16). $9.00

"By popular demand... The extra long lasting version by The Parallax Corporation of Claudio Simonetti and Gianfranco Meo's darkroom masterpiece from 1980... and it seems that this is the moment to reintroduce this track... Fear his hot in the double zeros. The Music of 'Fear' is by I-f and Intergalactic-Gary, vocals by Helga Lablague and Guy Tavares (Bunkers label boss!). Also find the album versions of 'Lift off' and the vinyl premiere of 'Iro' with Japanese vocalist Kaori Kuwabara originally recorded as a remix for the band of Kaori...but now on Viewlexx."

VA: Musique Compacte Vol. 1 CD (VIEW 13). $15.00

After 10 years of vinyl-only releases, here is a beautifully sequenced selection of the best tracks from the Hague-based Viewlexx & Interr-Ference labels; 90's new-electro, as typified by I-f (whose genre-defining album Fucking Consumer was previously released by Disko B). "January 4, 1990 — Hotmix crashed on earth due to major spaceship malfunctions. In order to survive on this planet, the crew started importing and distributing music from sources in Chicago and Detroit. When these sources dried up, the organization decided it was time to set her own standards. Everybody remembers the sabotage actions from Unit Moebius and Beverly Hills 808303. The second blow came in 1995, when I-f and Electronome released almost simultaneously 'Portrait Of A Dead Girl' and 'No Landscape'. The big bang occurred in 1997 when Hotmix released 'Space Invaders Are Smoking Grass'. Soon creators like Melvin White, Duracel, Alden Tyrell, the Parallax Corp., The Brothers Fuck and many others rose above the oppression of the political music scene and set a standard of modern electronic musical art, yet all compressed to CD format for consumer purposes. Hotmix presents: MUSIC Compacte, Vol. 1. Artists include: Unit Moebius, I-f feat. Helga La Blaque, The Parallax Corporation, Duracel, Electronome, I-f, Alden Tyrell, Melvin White, Ilsa Gold."

VILLA QRELLA (GERMANY):

QRELLA, MASHA: Luck LP (LOK 017LP). $13.00

LP version (CD is on the Monika label).

VINYL COMMUNICATIONS:

PERSONA: Maximal CD (VC 170). $12.00

"Thought we'd give the good ole' VC organisation one more shot at redeeming itself. Here we have the debut CD from Persona (aka Gravitator drummer Eric Cook), recently ousted as being 'actually really good for a VC artist' in lieu of the recent availability of his 'follow up' release (which actually predated this one by a few months), Uptight. I'd have to agree. This CD manages to carve a few fresh chunks out of the all-too-familiar breaks n' noise precipice, especially in the anti-loop/linear-rhythm category (he's a drummer, right, OK). The release itself is fleshed out by a mini/virtual remix EP, featuring programming by folks like Warren Defever, Lesser, Marumari, Totemplov, and Kid 'Cash Money' 606, adding a bit of unnecessary heft to an already weighty ensemble. Worth its weight in zinc, at least..." — Hrvatski. Limited stock.

VINYL ON DEMAND (GERMANY):

DIE TODLICHE DORIS: Strudelsölle - Audiotapes als Vinyl 1980-1984/2004 6LP (VOD 001LP). $200.00

"6 Vinyl-Boxset incl. their first 6 legendary and highly collectable tapes (1980-84). The most radical, intelligent and influential German avantgarde band of the last two decades. The box contains heavyweight vinyl editions of Der Siebenköpfige Informator, Das typische Ding, Die Überdosis, Tabea und Doris, Live im SO 36 and Live im Delphinalast." [please note, this is a heavy-package, too heavy for the cardboard box that contains the 6 LPs; all copies we have received have split corners on the box, sorry.]

VIOLA (JAPAN):

DJIMBE: Djimbe Breaks & Magic Plant CD (VIOLA 01). $12.00

Debut releases on a new Japanese label operating in similar territory to labels like Soup Disk, Shi Ra Nui, etc. Radical post-drum'n'bass experimentation & beat freakage, quite excellent. Label statements of intent are often fun, do you want to hear Viola's? "Viola label to fun of Mille Plateaux label, Jazz Fudge, Soup, Sub Rosa, Staalplaat, Ecstatic Peace, Psychedelic Sounds Fun, Brazilian psychedelic hip hop, Shi Ra Nui, Sakho type techno, free jazz break, Latin breaks..." Well, alright. "Djimbe breaks to fun of Brazilian psychedelic hip hop excuso & amazon noise adillity. 20 chinese football players in Brasil. wood A go-go drum machine, domingos da guia, leonidas da silva artur friedreich, djimbe shoes, Brazilian turtles hoof, (Brazilian foot ball players) and Backwoods Celebration Orchestra, a produtor executivo viola recordings." Reduced price, last copies.

Reduced price, last copies.

VA: Optical Drum Cry CD (VIOLA 03). $12.00

A various artists compilation of Viola labels artists, featuring: tRap/ruins (not related to Yoshida's "Ruins"), F.L.Y., Watt Works, Potoratch, Taisa, Cologne, DJ Mascut, Coinbra, tRap. Reduced price, last copies.

VIOLENT TURD (NEW ZEALAND):

DJ BROKEN WINDOW: Parallel Universe Vol. 1 CD (TURD 004CD). $10.00

"From the mind and decks of the mysterious DJ Broken Window — an unnamed longtime American IDM legend known for his plunderphonics who also releases electro on labels from the UK, Europe and the USA — come pop song mash-ups that go far down the path forged by Evolution Control Committee and the early '80s dancefloor-pop-oriented Slingshot 12-inches. These are not lo-fi, chopped up, lobotomized collages of MP3s, but incredibly well researched, selectively re-layered entire songs — vocals and instrumentals — from tracks pulled from the rare and clean vinyl in Broken Window's ridiculous and massive record collection. Unbelievably smooth tunings and compositional alignments are in effect as Broken Window finds entire instrumentals and a cappella songs that fit together. In other words, every verse and chorus line up because the songs have exactly the same structure — to freaky and hilarious effect, not to mention seeming like uncannily legit collaborations by artists who are generations, genres, and continents apart. For example: R&B vox over late '60s moog classics; Miami rap over obscure Canadian synth-pop; '60s garage-psych over '90s Detroit electro; Tahitian islanders sing and chant with techno lock grooves; children sing over commercial hip hop club tunes; IDM meets prog-rockers-gone-pop."

DJ BROKEN WINDOW: Parallel Universe Vol. 2 CD (TURD 005 CD). $10.00

"The Swiss army knife of pop-record-matching delivers a second CD full of hilarious whole-song mash-ups. The mysterious DJ — an unnamed international IDM and electro producer — continues amazing research on pairs of vocal and instrumental tunes that, once overlain, create a kind of Top 20 pop hits from a parallel universe. In addition, the CD contains printed instructions for every track used and exactly how to mix them together. Selection and conceptual integrity is why these mashups stand out; each is the combination of an instrumental and a capella vocals that happen to be parallel arrangements across through their entire durations, but are usually a few decades and genres apart, as well: doo-wop vocal harmonies backed by micro-house; rap over '70s prog-rock anthems; R&B backed by classic industrial dance music; club divas backed by a '60s samba trio; even contemporary jabs at the Hooked On Classics series. They resemble pop tunes, except that all the 'wrong' vocals are fronting all the 'wrong' bands. Unlikely combinations work out perfectly due in no small part to Broken Window's encyclopedic knowledge of pop and avant-garde music. Because Parallel Universe relies on the elegant layering of whole, unedited tracks, they are free of the scars of brutal computer-based reconstructive surgery that make glitchy, MP3-based mash-ups unpalatable to many music fans. In fact, some work so well, you might suspect that they were legitimate, next-wave productions by the original artists."

SOUNDMURDERER: Wired For Sound CD (TURD 006CD). $10.00

"The aptly named SoundMurderer produces and runs the ragga-jungle label Rewind Records based in Detroit, Michigan with co-owner/producer SK-1. His soulful dancehall ragga jungle productions combine the modern illness and intricate programming of Squarepusher and Plug with the classic sounds of Congo Natty and the early ragga jungle soundsystem culture. We're talking full-on bass-rinse snare-rush; tight, Cutty Ranks; and mixing like you're not likely to hear anywhere else. Mixed between 1999 and 2002, and boasting a jaw-dropping 60 tracks in under 70 minutes."

FANNY: Welcome to the Machines 12" (TURD 007 EP). $7.50

"Welcome to the Machines is a journey into the oiliest cogs and deviously detailed wheels of sick society's most rhythmic and unrelenting vibrators. The perfect soundtrack for every Republican debutante's first S&M party. The first track 'Automatron' is a basic theme of boy meets girl, boy loves girl, boy finds out girl is merely a whiny, self-pitying robot. In a jungle full of plasticine monster drummers (naturally) 'Fuckingmachines' pays tribute to the comedic value of the net's most deranged sites (winter in Winnipeg is very long), with a definite nod to the first release on Zed Records. Side two is one track with the mood-altering title of 'War Machines / Mousemachines'. The former being a trip to the dentist with Goldie meets the Daleks on the pay-per-view Violence Channel, the latter a tripped-out half-side of slower grooves depicting a large metal ball rolling around your head in a case of Xmas scotch."

PUZZLEWEASEL: Farvel Til Slaegt Og Venner! 12" (TURD 008 EP). $7.50

"Puzzleweasel is 22-year-old Peter Dahlgren: born in Zürich, lived in Amsterdam and Stockholm, now residing in Aarhus, Denmark. Awakened early one somber Monday morning by a guy muttering about some Music-n-MIDI course starting a few minutes later, the Puzzleweasel was dragged into an in-depth study of Logic Audio (his current software weapon of choice) and studio technique. Combining this newly acquired knowledge with early musical influences (the twistedness of Texas Faggott, Nam Shub of Enki, the beats of Noia DnB, and the intensity of harsh noise), his ambition was to create what was then lacking in the Scandinavian scene: a full-frontal attack on the dancefloor. Mixing crispy sounds with harsh schizophrenic beats, this tight, four-track EP is an excellent showcase of Puzzleweasel's skillz. Soundwise, these tracks fall somewhere between Richard Devine and Venetian Snares, with a playful sci-fi edge and an unabashed love of throbbing jungle basslines and snarerushes à la Squarepusher and Aphex Twin."

DJ RUPTURE VS. MUTAMASSIK: Shotgun Wedding Vol. 1: The Bidoun Sessions CD (TURD 009CD). $10.00

"The Bidoun Sessions commemorates performances with The Bidoun Crew in Dubai, United Arab Emirates (Mutamassik in 2002, Rupture in 2004). Available outside the Middle East for the first time, this CD inaugurates Violent Turd's 'Shotgun Wedding' split DJ mix series. Easy labels such as 'postcolonial party music' or 'hardcore world beat' fail to describe DJ's Rupture and Mutamassik's forward-looking Diasporal breakbeats. Hip hop, dancehall, and drum'n'bass meet in Beirut while chopper blades whirl overhead. Rupture's blazing half-hour Bidoun session fuses hot new orientalst dancehall and battle-grade hiphop with Arabic vocals and instrumentation, soul divas, and a dusting of break-core grit. Mutamassik's 'Bidoun Session' scratches and mashes Upper Nile Sa'aidi, old-skool rap instrumentals, hardstep D-and-B, and underground rai hits into a serious, rooted mix of relentless rhythms from pan-AfroArabic immigrant sound sources."

TEAM SHADETEK: WHST: Radio Mix CD (TURD 010 CD). $10.00

"The first publicly available mixtape from Shadetek label operators Soze and Zats1, WSHT: Radio Mix catalogs the rotation sheet for an imaginary radio station with an outernational footprint. Originating in Team Shadetek's own SHTBox studios in Manhattan and relayed via New Zealand, WSHT blazes hip hop, noise and R&B (although, due to sketchy broadcast techniques, lord knows what else might seep through the cracks). The tracks in heavy rotation at WSHT, unlike competing Manhattan-based radio stations, are not chosen by fat briefcases of cash. Instead, they reflect links between artists who don't know they're connected. There are also a number of exclusive original Shadetek productions as well as tunes from SHT affiliates which you will have a very difficult time finding anywhere else."

DOORMOUSE: Method/Freaked Out Mess 2CD (TURD 011 CD). $10.00

"A ridiculously excessive, two-fisted tour de force priced way to low, Doormouse's carefully crafted and long-awaited mix double-CD may be Violent Turd's crowning achievement. The Method liquefies every conceivable style of music in a blender for 55 minutes. From Venetian Snares to DJ Quik, Tom Waits to AFX, everything is mashed up into a crazily cohesive mix that takes you up, down, all around and then back for more. Think jazz death metal funk post jungle. Freaked Out Mess is the third full length for Doormouse (following The Album) on Addict and Broken on Planet Mu). Once again, all styles are fair game. Check the Latin-infused opening track 'Crustomer,' followed by the pummeling speed of 'Face In The Gutter,' or the spastic jazz of 'Back Door Blues,' or the full-on Black Sabbath tribute 'Warpigs,' also featured on the Planet-Mu's Criminal 2 comp."

MOCHIPET: Combat CD (TURD 012 CD). $10.00

"Just when you thought Darwinism was dead, Mochipet mutates music into an indefinable force that dumbfounds the best Scrabble players. With, ahem, songs like 'White Stripes vs. Berry White vs. White Lion' and 'Neil Diamond vs. King Diamond vs. The Lion King,' this CD not only explodes musical genres, it takes deconstructionism to a whole new level of insanity. Your brain... a blender... a big, fat, mushy, musical rice cake. If you could ever imagine Frank Zappa marrying Aphex Twin and having surrogate children by the likes of NoMeansNo, Yes, Wang Chung, Johnny Cash, DJ Qbert, Nelly and ThunderCats, then you can picture Mochipet's Violent Turd debut."

DEV/NUL: E Boyz Revenge: 230 BPM Eternal 12" (TURD 013EP). $8.00

"Having lurked in the break-core maximum-fuckedbeat underground for years, Boston's Dev/Null finally releases a debut 12-inch; extreme rave noise is the rule here, where bits and pieces of classic rave hardcore and old-school jungle (including Human Resource, The Prodigy, Joey Beltram, Sub Base Records, and 2 Bad Mice) are yanked from their surroundings and forced to share the frequency spectrum with ultra-jarring, obsessive-compulsive blastbreaks. The result is a noise/beats extravaganza on par with Venetian Snares."

KNIFEHANDCHOP VS. DJ ANEURYSM: Evil Doppelganger CD (TURD 014CD). $11.00

"In the second installment of, 'Shotgun Wedding' — Violent Turd's strictly limited virtual soundclash series — DJ Combat gets taken to the next level with Toronto's Knifehandchop pitted against Oakland's DJ Aneurysm in a fever-pitched hardcore massacre. Comes correct with a 40-minute mashup that mixes the sleazy pop of Khia, Daft Punk, RZA and Kool Moe Dee with the best hardcore hits from his own back catalogue, and unreleased friends' tracks. DJ Aneurysm, musical mastermind of Switchcraft Records and winner of many underground hardcore / noise / gabber turntablist contests, takes things to a more multidimensional level of perversion, constantly mixing between turntables and laptops, combining DSP and scratching, and mixing in lots of his own new tracks over the best hard techno and grimy hiphop, jungle and gabber."

VA: Freakbitchlickfly CD (TURD 01CD). $8.00

"All new and exclusive mindblowing and inspired material from this wicked selection of artists on New Zealand's Violent Turd label, must be heard (and seen) to be believed."

Artists include: kid606, Max Tundra, Posterboys of the Apocalypse, Kevin Blechdom, Mortal and Chemist, Kid666.

KID606: Kid606 The Action Packed Mentalist Brings You The Fucking Jams CD (TURD 02 CD). $15.50

"Not repeating himself while managing to tread on all previous musical terrain kid606 has treaded in his relatively short musical career, New Zealand's Violent Turd label is proud to present this strictly limited edition Kid606 album unreleasable by any other record label. Even tigerbeat6 wasn't able or willing to release this lazy IDM equivalent to 2 Live Crew's legendary Banned in the USA: a unmistakable Hyped up, overclimactic, plunderphonic gabber rave hiphop opera that lasciviously lifts voices from the familiar, lingers luxuriously to tease out their deeper meanings over ambient washes of sound, big booty beats, soulful r&b technoidmhouse, presents the shrill and stifled scream of voiceless punk angst alongside whiplash raga jungle snarerush rinseouts, and deposits all these musings on disc to be savored by the few consumers worldwide who will actually be able to obtain this album! This release reflects kid606's growing interest in the human voice as an instrument along with the need to live dangerously and not work with other musicians. His desire, long repressed since teenage metalhead induced social trauma, to work with vocalists and make their waxing wanings the jewels in his velvet settings gets full reign as he brings you the fucking jams. Spell it however you want: SPZXYWYU or QVBLJIC, PROLIX or BOLLOCKS or FLUMMOX? all these words will get you points in Scrabble! But after listening to the post-pop lollygagging of these lemon-flavored lollies, your only conclusion will be that kid606 is MENTAL with a double L!"

KID606: Kid606 The Action Packed Mentalist Brings You The Fucking Jams 2LP (TURD 02 LP). $14.00

Double LP version.

DJ RUPTURE: Gold Teeth Thief CD (TURD 03 CD). $7.50

"Strictly limited to 500 copies, this is a non CDR re-release of DJ /Rupture's seminal Gold Teeth Thief mix CD, self-released on his own Negrophonic label. Hear what The Wire was talking about when it raved 'so fabulous that you need to beg, borrow, remortgage, and steal...so you can go to the Website and download it post haste' before naming this CD one of the year's 50 best albums!"

VIPER (UK):

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND: Magnetic Hands - Live In The UK 1972-1980 CD (VIPER 011 CD). $18.00

"Captain Beefheart and his various Magic Bands created a unique fusion of sound sourced from Delta Blues, Free Jazz, Rock 'n' Roll and Doo Wop. The band visited these shores a number of times and it is from these dates that the Viper label has culled this collection, covering every period from Safe as Milk to Doc At The Radar Station and everything inbetween."

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND: Railroadism: Live In The USA 72-81 CD (VIPER 015 CD). $18.00

A collection of various live recordings in the US over the years '72-81 (from Boston, NYC, TX, LA, etc.). "This album shows what a magnificent, powerful and remarkable voice the Captain had and what a truly formidable force the 'magic' band were. This is another historic document and features such rarities as the captain performing 'The Blimp' from Trout Mask Replica which leads him into playing a sax solo equal to the free jazz experimentation of Ornette Coleman or John Coltrane, 'Harry Irene' with the best whistling outro ever and the lost gem, 'Railroadism' - a distant cousin of the lost track 'Hoboism' + many more. This will not only be of importance to Beefheart freaks but to the world as a whole. Also features previously unpublished photos and indepth liner notes."

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART & HIS MAGIC BAND: Magnetism LP (VIPER 022LP). $19.00

"Limited edition vinyl (1000 only for the world) release combining the highlights of the two previously released CD albums: Magnetic Hands - Live in the UK 1972-80 released July 2002 and Railroadism - Live In The U.S.A 1972-81 with other previously unreleased 'live' rarities, unpublished photos and in depth liner notes."

VIRGIN (FRANCE):

FONTAINE, BRIGITTE: Kekeland CD (VIR 06612). $18.00

New studio album, only released in France. Includes collaborations with Sonic Youth, Archie Shepp and others. "Fontaine sticks to her 90s strategy of selective collaboration with younger musicians and producers, injecting her sound with appropriate rai rhythms and textures of a new North Africa. This time her chosen few come from the indie diaspora, including singer M, the rock group Noir Désir, producers Sound Orama and emo-pop group Les Valentins. More surprising are her non-French collaborators: saxophonist Archie Shepp and longtime admirers Sonic Youth. The best tracks mirror the loose sparseness that characterized Fontaine's classic 70s albums, but without aping their specific avant ethnic tonalities. Her two collaborations with Sonic Youth, with deft mixes courtesy of Jim O'Rourke are among the most successful. Regardless of all the album's stylistic leaps and its inevitable lapses, Fontaine's voice has the strength and emotional resonance to make itself heard above the clamour of assume modernity." — Alan Cummings/The Wire.

MOTORBASS: Pansoul 2LP (VIR 18391). $18.00

Double LP version.

INTERPOL: The Black EP CD EP (VIR 21572 CD). $11.00

"1 year after the release of their album Turn On The Bright Lights, here's a wicked French EP with 4 unreleased tracks from French live radio program 'Back Session' + a rare version of superb track 'NYC'."

FONTAINE, BRIGITTE: Plans Fixes 3CD (VIR 3151CD). $48.00

"Longbox including 60 songs, rare tracks, one 32-page booklet, unissued photos... Including her tracks from her Saravah period!" A greatest hits package, elegantly designed in one of those sturdy longboxes. Booklet is French-text only, unfortunately. Material is evenly broken up between her classic '70s Saravah period and her 90's/00's works for Virgin. Includes collaborations with Areski, Sonic Youth, Art Ensemble of Chicago and Archie Shepp. I don't think there's any exclusive or new tracks, more of a gift pack kind of thing.

FONTAINE, BRIGITTE: Les Palaces CD (VIR 8451062). $22.00

Following her spectacular recording career for the Saravah label, ending with Vous et Nous in 1977, Brigitte Fontaine appeared to leave the music business until a surprise return album was released on French Virgin in 1975 (Genre Humain). She followed that up with Le Nougat in 1990 and then this album, Les Palaces, released in late 1997. Her long time partner Areski Belkacem produced, wrote all the music and provides percussion. A group of studio musicians (including Gong's Didier Malherbe) provide a modern digital pop context that is quite advanced compared to her classic work, but not impossible to deal with if you're willing to accept it. There's subtly d'n'b-influenced programming that isn't a million miles away from the sort of vibe created on Stereolab's Dots And Loops as well, and this is a nice contemporary addition to the Fontaine shelf.

FONTAINE, BRIGITTE: Le Nougat CD (VIR 8474052). $16.00

1999 mid-line reissue of this somewhat obscure 1990 comeback album. The music and production is handled by her longtime partner Areski Belkacem and Gong's Didier Malherbe is found guesting once again. Very studio-pro rock/pop stylings, but with enough Fontaine idiosyncrasy to be of interest to her more advanced fans.

VIRGIN (UK):

CABARET VOLTAIRE: Just Fascination 12" (CVS 712EP). $9.00

Warehouse find of some copies of this 2002 release, featuring rare & classic Francois K mixes. 12" Tracklisting: Side A : 'Just Fascination' - Richard H Kirk Remix, Alternative Remix, Dub. Side B: 'Sex , Money , Freaks' - Francois Kervorkian 12" Mix, Kervorkian 12" Dub.

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART: Doc At the Radar Station CD (VIR 71362). $16.00

Apparently out of print in the US, this is an European pressing of this 1980 classic, featuring the lineup of: Don Van Vliet, Jeff Moris Tepper, Eric Drew Feldman, Robert Williams, Bruce Fowler, John French and Gary Lucas. "Filled with junkyard rhythms and effortless, delirious poetry, Doc At The Radar Station marked a return to the more familiar side of Captain Beefheart street. Hardcore Captain Beefheart, the album is as extreme as anything this side of Trout Mask Replica."

NYMAN, MICHAEL: Decay Music CD (VIR 98979CD). $26.00

First ever CD issue of this classic minimal album, originally released on Brian Eno's Obscure label, in 1976. Features: "1-100" (for piano), "Bell Set No. 1" (for percussion), "1-100 (Faster Decay)" (for piano). "Michael Nyman, composer, musicologist and critic, asserts his place in musical history with this re-release — in celebration of his 60th birthday Virgin/EMI have remastered and repackaged Decay Music. When he discovered his musical style (in the mid 70s), Nyman had for many years been listening to American minimalism, the Beatles and the Velvet Underground. This music is echoed in his use of repetition, his pop sensibility, and in the rawness of his recordings. Decay Music, whose CD notes include an excellent short essay by Brian Eno, the pioneer of ambient music, features two original compositions by Nyman. In '1-100' (Faster Decay) four separate recordings of 100 sustaining chords played on the piano are superimposed. The real magic in this soundscape comes from the unintentional microfine pitch deviations between the four superimposed piano recordings (due to the analogue nature of the tape recorders). A re-listening of Decay Music should make the classical-music world think twice about not taking Michael Nyman seriously as a composer." — Hans Bjørn Lian.

Nyman's comment: "Composed in 1976, '1-100' for multiple pianos demonstrated a curious confluence of free and fixed musical processes. The fixed systems control the background harmonic language and overall textural density... The free-ish process is designed to create unwritten harmonic (and rhythmic) divergences by overlapping the juxtaposition brought about by the fact that each individual reading of the chordal text is independent of those of the other players, since each pianist may only move to the next chord after the preceding one has decayed. Individual touch and hearing are therefore indeterminate factors causing the desired out-of synchness as the overall motion of the piece decelerates - as the chords get lower, they get thicker and the decay process slower."

VA: Monsters, Robots & Bug Men 2CD (AMBT 11). $30.00

In the mid-90s Virgin UK put out a surprising series of compilations under the "ambient" banner, including most famously, Isolationism and David Toop's Oceans of Sound. Here, in retrospect, are a few of them. Monsters... is 1996 double CD compilation, subtitled: "A user's guide to the rock hinterland". Compiled and annotated (sort of) by Simon Hopkins. Features tracks from: Bardo Pond, Long Fin Killie, God, Third Eye Foundation, Hair & Skin Trading Co., Fuxa, Run On, Ui, Bowery Electric, Rise Glace, Pram, Magic Hour, Labradford, Mercury Rev, Flying Saucer Attack, Jessamine, Yona-Kit, Windy & Carl, Godflesh, Sabalon Glitz, Stereolab, Cul de Sac, Roy Montgomery, U.S. Maple, Space Needle.

SCRITTI POLITTI: Songs To Remember CD (VIR 10242). $12.00

Mid-line reissue of their first album, originally released by Rough Trade in 1982. "Wire had Foucault and FM rock; Gartside had Derrida and digital dancehall. The Scritti double A-side 'Asylums In Jerusalem/Jacques Derrida' [both included here] took Nietzsche, sunny Jamaican pop styles and noted the Frenchie deconstructivist to Number 43 in the hit parade...Lovers Rock and Left Bank intellectualism have rarely combined more fruitfully." — Mojo.

RICHARD X: Presents His X-Factor Vol. 1 2LP (VIR 13791 LP). $17.50

"The Richard X story begins at the start of 2001 when he accidentally instigated the craze for making bootleg mash-up records. Secretly working under the name Girls On Top, Richard released a limited seven-inch featuring the Whitney Houston-meets-Kraftwerk contemporary classic 'I Wanna Dance With Numbers'. This icy electronic R&B anthem took the club scene by storm. Now newly signed to Astralwerks and following his (let's be honest) unexpected success with the remix of the Sugababes #1 UK hit 'Freak Like Me', as well as the summers smash hit 'Being Nobody' with Liberty X singing Chaka Kahn 'Ain't Nobody' over Human League's 'Being Boiled', Richard X has teamed up with a dream team of collaborators to create the perfect twisted pop album. In a logical extension of his Girls On Top activities he's recorded material with Kelis, Liberty X, Sugababes, Jarvis Cocker, Tiga, Annie, Deborah Evans-Stickland (Flying Lizards), Caron Wheeler (Soul 2 Soul) and Javine pairing them with an equally fierce parade of 80's pop references/influences so golden it'll leave you breathless. A full on pop record with big time R&B flavor and a distinctly underground twist, Richard X's Richard X Presents His X-Factor Volume One is posed to break open the charts and turn some heads in the process."

FAITHFULL, MARIANNE: Kissin Time CD (VIR 20092). $21.00

Marianne Faithfull's best work since Broken English (1979), featuring collaborative tracks with the likes of Beck Hansen, Blur, Jarvis Cocker, Dave Eurythmic Stewart and Billy "Somebody Forgot To Kill Me" Corgan. Apparently not destined for US release. "Faithfull's cracked growl and painfully personal lyrics are an acquired taste. But if you can deal with sexual and emotional honesty, as well as deliberately eclectic tunes and textures, you'll be treated to bold, bitter, and elegantly profane pop art."

MASSIVE ATTACK: 100th Window 3LP (VIR 81239 LP). $22.00

"100th Window is Massive Attack's fourth album. Written and recorded at the band's Bristol studio over the last year, it is also a giant step into warm glitchy electronica, psychedelic landscapes, Arabic strings and deep into the depth-charged dub reggae at old. Like all their releases, 100th Window is an inspirational, mood-altering panorama, propelling the band into new waters and features guests vocalist Sinead O'Connor on three tracks and Horace Andy on two tracks."

JAPAN: Gentlemen Take Polaroids CD (VIR 91016). $16.00

"Influenced by Roxy Music, David Bowie and Brian Eno, Japan's stylish synth-pop sound made them one of the more intriguing and successful artists of their time. Featuring David Sylvian on vocals, bassist Mick Karn, guitarist Steven Jansen and drummer Richard Barbieri, Japan's atmospheric approach to pop captured fans of groups like Duran Duran, Ultravox, Talk Talk and Bill Nelson. After a series of successful albums the band split with each of the members releasing solo projects, the most successful being the series of David Sylvian solo albums (which will also shortly be issued in remastered and repacked form). Seven years after their split, nearly all the members of Japan reformed for a one-off album project under the name Rain Tree Crow a highly sought-after release which has been unavailable for several years."

JAPAN: Tin Drum 2CD (VIR 91018). $19.00

"Japan, on Tin Drum, made its most unique, challenging, and striking album...only the Talking Heads showed the same attempt at reach and variety at the time, at least in the Western rock world, but Japan arguably outstripped the New York band with its sheer sense of theatrical style." — All Music Guide. Deluxe box set edition.

RAIN TREE CROW: Rain Tree Crow CD (VIR 91025). $16.00

"...stark soundscapes that sound alternately beautiful and desolate...the album remains fascinating..." — All Music Guide.

JAPAN: Oil On Canvas 2CD (VIR 91030). $19.00

"Japan's stunning live album. The track running order of this new double CD version has been changed to the original vinyl running order."

SYLVIAN, DAVID: Brilliant Trees CD (VIR 91307 CD). $16.00

2003 digital remastered edition, in deluxe digipak. "Brilliant Trees was David Sylvian's stunning debut album eloquently fusing rock, jazz and ambient music featuring guest appearances from Brian Eno collaborator Jon Hassell, Ryuichi Sakamoto and Holger Czukay."

SYLVIAN, DAVID: Alchemy An Index Of Possibilities CD (VIR 91308 CD). $16.00

"This newly compiled collection features the gorgeously ethereal Words With The Shamen mini album (recorded 1985) together with several rarities recorded during this period with Ryuichi Sakamoto." Also features: Jon Hassell, Holger Czukay, Steve Jansen, Robert Fripp, etc.

SYLVIAN, DAVID: Gone To Earth 2CD (VIR 91309 CD). $19.00

2003 digital remastered edition, in deluxe foldout digipak; originally recorded 1985-6. "Featuring King Crimson's Robert Fripp, Bill Nelson, and Mel Collins (flute and saxophone sessionsist for Bryan Ferry, King Crimson, and Dire Straits). Gone To Earth was Sylvian's ambitious double album project moving between atmospherically textured songs and ambient instrumentals, which has now been expanded to a double disc set including 7 additional tracks."

SYLVIAN, DAVID: Secrets Of The Beehive CD (VIR 91310 CD). $16.00

2003 digital remastered edition, in deluxe digipak; originally released 1987. "A jazz-infused album featuring what many consider to be Sylvian's finest songs featuring gorgeous Ryuichi Sakamoto string arrangements and stunning production work by Steve Nye (recording engineer for Roxy Music and Frank Zappa and producer for Clannad, Japan and XTC)."

MASSIVE ATTACK: Special Cases 12" (VST 1839). $9.00

"Feat. Sinead O Connor. The single also includes two remixes: first mix is by Akufen, who has made an unforgettable impression on the techno and house community. 2nd up is Luomo, aka Vladislav Delay, one of Scandinavia's leading artists in electronic music."

VIRGIN SCHALLPLATTEN (GERMANY):

CONSOLE: Reset The Preset 2LP (VIR 3996LP). $19.00

"Reset The Preset is the name of the new album of Martin Gretschnmann, the head of Console. Console should be known since 14 zero, zero, released in 1999 & from the media high praised love-song to his computer. In comparison to earlier songs the new ones on Reset The Preset, which is a double album, are much more melodic and plausible without losing the unique electronic-criteria. The first LP 'Reset' contained 8 wonderful songs with melody, the second LP 'Preset', 8 ambient-tracks. Produced by the well known Mario Thaler and Console, mixed by o.l.a.f. opal. Martin is also known for the electronic influence of the guitar-band The Notwist, in which he is a fixed member."

CONSOLE: Dirt On The Wire 12" (VIR 6704 EP). $9.00

"The new 12" from Console this is a teaser for the forthcoming album. Everybody's darling Martin Gretschnmann aka Console is back with his wonderful world of electronic pop. After his works for Notwist, Bjork & so many remixes he did for so many other artists, he made his first regular album after 4 years and this is the start. Welcome to the wonderful world of Console."

VIVID SOUND (JAPAN):

ABE, KAOL: Sudio Session 1976.3.12 CD (VSCD 3053). $26.00

Subtitled "the Documentary of Solo Improvisation", this features Abe (with a translation variant of his name, more commonly spelled Kaoru in English) on various solo instruments (piano, harmonica, alto saxophone). Recorded 3/12/76 at the Victor Bigbox studio and originally released by Nippon Crown. "Sax player Abe Kaoru, who died in 1978 of a drug overdose, and left behind many other legends, was a sole charismatic figure in the world of Japanese free jazz. During his lifetime he released a mere 3 or 4 records, yet there have been more than ten CDs released of his solo live performances posthumously. All of these have sold well for free music recordings, and there are at least three books written about him. Abe Kaoru continues to be a social phenomenon in the underground world after his death. While Takayanagi's purpose lay in honing his improvisational language upon a groundwork of noise, born from his cool observations of society, Abe was concerned with the physicality of the saxophone, and asserting himself as a social phenomenon in the midst of the socio-political climate of the 1970s. This was, looking back on it now, similar to the charisma of rock music or punk...his music was what planted the seeds of my later interest in punk and noise music..." — Otomo Yoshihide.

YOSHIZAWA, MOTOHARU: Outfit: Bass Solo 2 1/2 CD (VSCD 3056). $26.00

First reissue of one of Yoshizawa's classic solo bass albums from the 70s. Recorded live at Aoyama Tower Hall in Tokyo on 9/29/75. First time on CD for this long unavailable item. The late Moto Yoshizawa was one of the principle figures in the Japanese underground free music community (see numerous releases on PSF, etc.). Along with Cracked Mirrors this documents his subtly & abstract solo activity from early in his career.

VOID RECORDS:

THIRD ESTSTE: Years Before The Wine LP (VOID 07). $20.00

"Folkrock progressive concept piece from Louisiana, like a good book you must read from start to finish. Mostly male vocal but title cut has haunting female vocals. This is a legit 500 pressing from masters, with lyrics and an actual cover, which original didn't have 'Kings' is a solid folkrocker, 'Useless Things' with echoey wispy vocals, title cut and more. Recorded in 71-72, released in 74, now legit in 1997." Limited remaining stock of this early Void reissue.

PLASTIC CLOUD: Plastic Cloud LP (VOID 13 LP). $19.00

1968 Canadian psych classic (originally issued on the Allied label), insane fuzz lead guitar and the foppiest of pop-song structures — a surprising combination of the accessible and the over-the-top mentalities. Limited stock.

SUB ZERO BAND: LP (VOID 15). $20.00

"Airplane like psychedelia from California 1970, with male/female vocals, penetrating lyrics, unique arrangements and even a touch of country rock. This is a legit 500 pressing from masters, on black vinyl with insert and actual cover (original didn't have one) Songs like 'Too Many Religions' which reminds me of one of early Neil Young. 'Sidewalk Shuffle' which Grace Slick could have done, the hillbilly rocker 'Home Grown Women' and many more. If you like the folkier side of the Airplane, bluegrass, Neil Young and fiddles, played through a psych mist, you will dig this LP."

FEATHER DA GAMBA: Like It Or Get Bent LP (VOID 24). $20.00

"Ultra rare psych from the bayou, just a few hundred made way back then. Allman Brothers vibe at times if they were more psychy. Musically it is quite a varied album with songs like: 'The Armadillo', 'Surprise', and more. Somewhat of a Hickory Wind edge as well."

WHITE SUMMER: LP (VOID 26). $20.00

"A legit 500 remastered pressing of one of the rarest Michigan private LPs. Guitar led rockers that forays into the psychedelia and the progressive and occasionally funky. Lavish color cover. Power trio with the occasional 4th added."

HOLY GHOST RECEPTION COMMITTEE #9: Songs For Liturgical Worship LP (VOID 27). $19.00

Exact reissue of this Christian psych album from 1967 (previously available on CD on the Hallucinations label). "Great Christian psychedelic songs that are sure to blow your mind. These boys were going to Catholic High in the late 60's, dropping acid, and listening to the Beatles. The result is cool, intelligent, raw, psychedelic sounds. This is the best example of what Christian psych can be."

BLISS: Bliss LP (VOID 30). $15.00

2 Bonus tracks. From master tapes. "Very rare Arizona psychedelic trio from '69. Fuzz guitar, psychy leads and great cuts like 'Ride The Ship Of Fools', 'Cry For Love', and 'Visions'. Plus 2 incredible bonus tracks never before heard."

VOLKSBUHNE RECORDINGS (GERMANY):

VA: Stum/Mute LP (LUX 000 LP). $12.00

"The first offering on Volksbühne Recordings is a limited vinyl EP with 6 highlights recorded at the Stummte night on November 24th, 2000. The 'electronic side' features Pole, Thomas Brinkmann and DJXDJ, the collaboration between NovaMute labelhead Seth Hodder and Daniel Miller, the Mute founder himself. The second side features Add N To X, Goldfrapp and Nick Cave with Blixa Bargeld and Thomas Wydler (mercy seat live version prev unreleased). The 12" is limited to a run of 2000 units, which are numbered."

VOLKSOPER WIEN (AUSTRIA):

PULSINGER/TUNAKAN: Schwanensee Remixed CD (VOP 1). $16.00

"Svan Lake" remixed by the Austrian electronic musicians Patrick Pulsinger and Erdem Tunakan, "with minimal influence by Peter I Tchaikovsky". "Tchaikovsky's original music was torn apart, filtered and newly layered for a dance performance at the Vienna Opera. This CD features the 'highlights' from over two hours of material deconstructed and mixed by Patrick Pulsinger and E. Tunakan. Also features M. Neugebauer and M. Steppaner."

VYNALOGICA (NETHERLANDS):

LEGOWELT VS. ORGUE ELECTRONIQUE: Untitled 12" (CEM 002 EP). $9.00

"The second release of the Cem serie. Legowelt got invited to the studio and stayed for a few days... A nice 5 track ep produced in the Steim studio. Electro/disco tracks with phat analog basslines and the authentic dramatic Legowelt synth lines."

BANGKOK IMPACT: Colour Over Taste EP 12" (CEM 003 EP). $9.00

"Rocking monster tracks again by Bangkok impact... Strange to believe (after hearing this record) that Bangkok Impact's Sami Liuski had never worked on modular synthesizers before, but that didn't stop him from creating an analogue monster with this EP. Helped by his live partner and Creme-artist Kassen, he laid down 4 tracks in the vintage modular CEM studio in as many days. 'Bounce Baby' and 'Hide' are pure dancefloor material in the best Bangkok Impact tradition. In 'Puppets' and 'Let the Steam Out' Sami lets the analogue sequencers steer them in a more experimental direction, a beautiful combination of grooves and melodic weirdness. But the main tracks A1 and b1 will take over everydance floor in the coming period."

ENDORPHINS: Taming Textures 12" (CEM 004 EP). $9.00

"Fourth release in the CEM studio's Vynalogica series comes from young Dutch talent Endorphins (known for its releases on Eat this records). Normally using almost exclusively digital source material, Endorphins sets out to coach sometimes unreal sounds out of the machines as building blocks for 4 excellent and warm-sounding idm-tracks. This one is for the freaks out there."

MENS, RADBOUD: 4 12" (CEM 005EP). $10.00

"Vynalogica's CEM studio with its analogue machinery is almost ideally suited for minimal click-type techno, so the label invited one of its Dutch masters for a recording session. Radboud Mens is well known for his experimental releases on Staalplaat and his 3 techno EPs on Audio.nl. Radboud brought his laptop into the studio, spent several days recording clicks, cuts, bleeps and bleeps, and the result is 4. The ep follows up on his other 3 EPs with four slowly evolving tracks, almost like locked grooves. Hypnotic, danceable and very bass-heavy: a perfect tool for the more adventurous DJ as well as the more adventurous listener."

SOLVENT VS LOWFISH: Power Failure 12" (CEM 007EP). $10.00

"Canadians Jason Amm (Solvent) and Gregory De Rocher (Lowfish) known for their releases on the Suction records label and currently with their new collaboration with Ghostly International. As we all know they have proved themselves fine craftsmen of electropop. Vynalogica invited them to explore their wilder side, and the result is Power Failure (which, incidentally, they did indeed suffer from during the recording session), their first collaborative release. The robots spent 2 days living in the Centre For Electronic Music Studio in Amsterdam, making noises with the old machines. Returning to Toronto with two DATs full of modular mayhem, the EP was composed almost entirely from noises made in the CEM studio. The EP includes three brand new compositions, and two dramatic reworkings of classic tracks: Lowfish's 'fatBlex' becomes 'cemBlex', and Solvent's 'Built-In Microphone' is reconstructed with a massive, modular bassline."

W.D.T.C.H.C.:

SPLINTER GROUP: Blowing Down Blue Sky CD (WDTCHC 9902). $13.00

LA group, to be filed under: "improvisational beats vs. new music." G.E. Stinson (ex tech guitar, electronics); Kaoru (voice, electronics, toys, objects); Steuart Liebig (contrabass guitars, applied tools, tech); DJ Chowderhead (turntables, minidisk). "Blowing Down Blue Sky is G.E. Stinson's first full-length release from his improvised deep groove project Splinter Group. Splinter Group was first recorded for the 1999 Ecstatic Peace! Stinson retrospective, Vapor. For Blowing Down Blue Sky, G.E. and DJ Chowderhead selected specific beats to be programmed by engineer/sound artist Wayne Peet and pressed a diverse stack of dry-drum dub plates to use as 'beat' building blocks. Splinter Group occasionally uses grooves to ignite their instant composition but what Splinter Group realized is, in fact, layered sound that at times obfuscates this potent rhythmic structure. Extended technique guitarist Stinson builds shimmering layers of sound along with Liebig's dynamic and unsettling bass colorings, as Karous processed vocal excursions and DJ Chowderhead's meltdown turntable techniques add another set of textures. Improvised live and produced by Stinson, this release is a concise document of the expansiveness that defines Splinter Groups explorations." From The Wire: "one of the bleakest, fogged landscapes this side of Nico's Marble Index."

WABANA:

ABBC: Tete A Tete CD (ORE 024CD). $13.50

"A collaboration record between Tucson's Calexico and Parisian combo, Amor Belhom Duo. Drifting from eerie Southwestern desert sounds accented by the vibe of fifties Parisian caberet to straight up counrty singer songwriter material. A beautiful journey that brings the listener to a place where two foreign worlds collide. A special record featuring the intuitive mingling of two great musical duos. Unique and beautiful."

ABBC: Tete A Tete LP (ORE 024LP). $11.00

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAIISO U.F.O.: Born To Be Wild In The USA 2000 CD (ORE 39). $13.00

"In the year 2000, Japan's psychedelic rock masters, The Acid Mothers Temple, hit the road on an endless journey. That journey has taken them to many far and strange places. While braving their way through the wilds of the American venue, they were captured...on tape. That tape surfaced a year later as the much sought after Born To Be Wild In The USA LP. Apparently there were 1000 pressed. Not much more was known except the fact that it disappeared very quickly. That LP has been remastered for this one time CD release. Contains the original five long tracks: 1) Acid Tokion 2000 2) La Novia 3) Pink Lady Lemonade 4) Speed Guru 5) God Bless AMT. Packaged in a generic looking purple Digipak except with a lone 'Skull' on the back cover. The front cover has the original LP cover art affixed in the form of a sticker."

SUNBURNED HAND OF THE MAN, THE: Self Titled CD (ORE 41CD). $13.00

"Sunburned Hand of the Man Self Titled is the third release in Wabana's CD re-issue series of limited live LPs. Recorded entirely at the Sunburned loft in Charlestown, Massachusetts, this musical journey takes the listener into the band's inner sanctum and sets them free. Occasionally a listener of two gets lost while swimming in the their drug induced hypnotic spiral but in most cases they find their way out, only to desire that feeling again. Comes in the standard generic purple digipak sleeve with clear sticker attached featuring the original LP artwork."

WACHSENDER PROZESS (GERMANY):

BEHRENS, M.: Lecture Feedback/Source Feedback/The Aesthetics Of Censorship LP (WP 05). $13.00

"M. Behrens is considered one of the most talented young artist in the experimental electronic scene of Germany. His music has been released by many national and international labels. Recently his intricate, intense sound objects and compositions have been celebrated in Tokyo and Osaka. Back in 1992, when the first parts of this record came into being, M. Behrens started to experiment with extreme frequencies, although less conscious and 'doc-matic' than in his later works."

WACKIE'S (GERMANY):

WACKIES: African Roots Act 1 CD (WACK 001 CD). $16.00

"Originally released on the Five Arts Label in 1977, then re-issued on Wackies in 1980, this album provides a register of producer Clive Hunt's work with a who's who of Jamaican music — including done-over tracks from his time at Channel One (Ernest Wilson's return to 'Undying Love'), with Joe Gibbs (Trinity's 'Three Meals A Day'), Sonia Pottinger (Marcia Griffiths' 'Mark My Words'), and Geoffrey Chung (Pablo Moses' 'We Should Be In Angola'); and not least with Bullwackies, on a couple of one-away rhythms. Enough Upsetter in the mix too. Another essential dub set from the Bronx. Wackies' lineage is classical — rooted in Studio One and Black Ark — but cut with the acid urbanity of New York City. Its sound is characterized by pervasive echo and deep bass: the atmosphere is luminous and unique. Lloyd Barnes, Clive Hunt, Noel Delahaye and Douglas Levy were the key engineers; Jerry Harris, Tony Allen, Owen Stewart, the Sylvester brothers and Jerry Johnson played on almost all the albums; reggae legends like Jackie Mittoo and Roland Alphonso were studio regulars. Several local artists made their names here, and a roll-call of great Jamaican singers — including Horace Andy, Leroy Sibley, Sugar Minott, Max Romeo and Stranger Cole — recorded some of their best sides at Wackies. Yet this great music has struggled to move beyond cult status: many of the recordings are still obscure, and most are very hard to find. Now the Rhythm & Sound reissue programme will provide further pointers."

WACKIES: African Roots Act 1 LP (WACK 001 LP). $14.00

Vinyl LP version.

ROOTS UNDERGROUND: Tribesman Assault CD (WACK 038 CD). $16.00

"Originally issued around 1977, this dub album collects Wackies recordings made in JA — studios like Randys, Black Ark, Treasure Isle — and in NYC before the White Plains Road studio was established, where finally they were overdubbed and mixed. Included are the rhythm tracks of the African Jamaicans' 'Girl Of My Dreams' and Tyrone Evans' 'Dread Like Me'; also versions of 'Ballistic Affair' and The Righteous Flames' 'I Wasn't Born To Be Lonely'. KC White and the Lovejoys contribute the only vocal. The band is basically the Reckless Breed, with the funkified drumming of Jah Scotty — just off the Kingston plane — especially outstanding. As featured in a rare sleeve photograph, Bullwackies, Jah Upton and Prince Douglas work the mixing desk. Rougher yet, tougher yet."

ROOTS UNDERGROUND: Tribesman Assault LP (WACK 038 LP). $15.00

LP version.

WACKIES: Creation Dub CD (WACK 041CD). $18.00

"Pretty much since its original release in 1977, Creation Dub has been as wanted amongst reggae bounty hunters as its Wild West cover typography suggests — every track a killer, a key Bullwackies dub album. The record inaugurated Wackies' fruitful London connection: the second-pressing sleeve carries a nostalgic distribution credit for the long-gone Maroons

Tunes shop, run by Rae Cheddie for Honest Jons. The core musicians here are Allah, Clive Hunt and Jerry Harris, with outstanding contributions from hornsman Sel Wheeler and Roy Robertson on bass, and John Clarke on the single vocal track. Included are dubs of rhythms voiced for Wackies by the Chosen Brothers, Joe Auxumite and K.C.White, alongside versions of Mammy Blue, Bo Kirkland's soul classic 'I Want To Get Next To You', and a superb reprise of Sel Wheeler's 12" cover of Jo Jo Bennett's 'Leaving Rome'."

WACKIES: Creation Dub LP (WACK 041LP). $16.00

LP version.

SIBBLES & NOEL DELAHAYE, LEROY: This World & Pretty Looks 12" (WACK 1050). $8.00

"An exemplary performance even in the illustrious career of Leroy Sibley, 'This World' dramatically matches techniques of big-city US soul music with classic dub. Curtis-style lyrics (delivered with gospel urgency) and jazzy, stylised horns counterpoint a sparse and reverbed rhythm, Wackies to the bone. This is sufferers' music at its most atmospheric, radical and expressive. The B-Side 'Pretty Looks' features an early Noel (Junior) Delahaye steppers tune and a DJ cut by Jah Scully, with sly-style double-drumming and sweet background vocals."

DELAHAYE, JUNIOR: Showcase CD (WACK 1382 CD). $14.00

"Showcase by Junior Delahaye is the fourth installment of Rhythm & Sound's Wackie's re-issue programme. Originally released as LP in 1982 and reissued in its original sleeve artwork last year this album recasts Philadelphia-style sweet soul within the shimmering, bass-heavy textures of classic Wackie's dub. The music is spine-chilling: Junior's singing ranges expertly from sophisticated tenor to delicate falsetto, and his declarations of exalted love are at one with the mystical space of the Wackie's sound. Showcase includes interpretations of Billy Stewart's 'Sitting In The Park' and Fuzz's Sigma-recorded 1971 smash 'I Love You For All Seasons', alongside the Reggae evergreen 'Travelling Man'; together with three fabulous Delahaye originals. Like the 'Lovers Rock' release, the album features such Wackie's stalwarts as Jerry Harris, Jah T and Roland Alphonso — Jamaican-born Junior Delahaye remains co-engineer; and of course Lloyd 'Bullwackie' Barnes is the producer."

DELAHAYE, JUNIOR: Showcase LP (WACK 1382 LP). $12.00

"Reggae by Junior Delahaye is the second installment of Rhythm & Sound's Bullwackies re-issue programme (after the Love Joys' Lovers Rock). Originally released in 1982 this album recasts Philadelphia-style sweet soul within the shimmering, bass-heavy textures of classic Wackie's dub. The music is spine-chilling: Junior's singing ranges expertly from sophisticated tenor to delicate falsetto, and his declarations of exalted love are at one with the mystical space of the Wackies sound. Reggae includes interpretations of Billy Stewart's 'Sitting in the Park' and Fuzz's Sigma-recorded 1971 smash 'I Love You For All Seasons', alongside the reggae evergreen 'Travelling Man'; together with three fabulous Delahaye originals. Like the 'Lovers Rock' release, the album features such Wackies stalwarts as Jerry Harris, Jah T and Roland Alphonso; JA-born Junior Delahaye remains co-engineer; and of course Lloyd Bullwackie Barnes is the producer."

ANDY, HORACE: Dance Hall Style CD (WACK 1383 CD). $16.00

"Throughout the illustrious thirty-year recording career of Horace Andy, with its innumerable highs, his unmistakable falsetto has lit up just three albums of indisputable greatness — Skylarking, for Coxone at Studio One; In The Light, for Everton DaSilva's Hungry Town label, in Queens, New York; and — with the biggest original impact, by far the most contemporary of the trio — Dance Hall Style, for Bullwackies in the Bronx. Recorded at the turn of the seventies, Dance Hall Style reworks songs first recorded by Bunny Lee ('Money Money') and Derek Harriott ('Lonely Woman') — alongside a version of Lloyd Robinson's 'Cuss Cuss' — and births classics like 'Spying Glass' (later covered by Massive Attack). The musicians include Wackies regulars like Owen Stewart and Oral Cooke from Itopia, Ras Menilik and Jah T; also Horace's multi-instrumentalist spar Myrie Dread from the Hungry Town sessions. At the desk, Lloyd Barnes, Junior Delahaye and Douglas Levy coax unequalled vocal performances from Horace Andy, showcased in ineffable extended mixes."

ANDY, HORACE: Dance Hall Style LP (WACK 1383 LP). $15.00

LP version. ##### DELAHAYE, JUNIOR: Movie Show 12" (WACK 153). $11.00

"This 12" came originally in 1981 in fine underground style with white or blue Wackies labels, with and without information stamped on. The A differs from the album cut; the dub is right up there with Bullwackies' 'Anybody's Best'."

JARRETT, WAYNE: Mini Showcase 10" (WACK 1716). $10.00

"Wayne Jarrett is an artist from the front rank of reggae whose work for the legendary Wackie's label without question includes his very best. This 1983 release revived by Rhythm & Sound present the singer showcase-style, in mostly devotional mood. Wackie's sound is characterised by pervasive echo and deep bass: the atmosphere is luminous and unique. Several local artists made their names here, and a roll-call of great Jamaican artists including e.g. Leroy Sibley, Max Romeo or Jackie Mittoo."

ANDY MEETS NAGGO MORRIS & WAYNE JARRET, HORACE: Showcase CD (WACK 1716 CD). $15.00

"Horace Andy, Wayne Jarrett and Naggo Morris are all artists from the front rank of reggae whose work for the legendary Wackie's label without question includes their very best. These 1983 releases revived by Rhythm & Sound present the singers showcase-style, in mostly devotional mood. The music is classical and original — full of awe, in a kind of dread development of the Bullwackies lovers rock sound — with inimitable and glorious dubs throughout. Born in Jamaica in 1944, Wackie's founder Lloyd Barnes worked for Duke Reid's Treasure Isle label before emigrating to New York in the early seventies. Here he founded the Wackie's House Of Music and behind this shop-front was the first significant reggae studio and label in the United States. Wackies' lineage is classical — rooted in Studio One and Black Ark — but cut with the acid urbanity of New York City. Its sound is characterised by pervasive echo and deep bass: the atmosphere is luminous and unique. Several local artists made their names here, and a roll-call of great Jamaican artists including e.g. Leroy Sibley, Max Romeo or Jackie Mittoo besides the ones to be found on these releases — recorded some of their best sides at Wackies. Collected for the first time on CD."

WACKIES: African Roots Act 3 CD (WACK 1717 CD). $14.50

"Originally issued in 1983, African Roots Act 3 is basically the dub counterpart of Sugar Minott's Wicked Ago Feel It album (also out in Rhythm & Sound's Bullwackies reissue programme). Lloyd Barnes' key collaborators here are Sugar himself and stalwart Jackie Mittoo, with the core of his studio musicians drawn from the group Itopia. Subdued and hypnotic, musically more sparse than its predecessor, African Roots Act 3 offers the same trademark combination of Wackie's originals and classic Studio One rhythms, nodding again to The Heptones ('I Hold The Handle', 'Love Me Always'). Worth buying for the version of 'Real Rock' ('the rhythm most known with the song 'Armageddon Time' by Willie Williams or covered by The Clash) alone and a must have for the fans of Sugar Minott, the Wackies label in general and for all lovers of Dub-Reggae."

WACKIES: African Roots Act 3 LP (WACK 1717 LP). $12.00
LP version.

MINOTT, SUGAR: Wicked Ago Feel It CD (WACK 1718 CD). $14.00

"During the period of this 1984 recording, Sugar Minott was arguably the brightest star in reggae music world-wide. In the early 70ies he had single-handedly revived the fortunes of Studio One, before cutting a string of hits for Channel One. Meanwhile his Youth Promotion sound system and his own label Black Roots nurtured fresh new talent like Tenor Saw, Nitty Gritty and Junior Reid. After moving to London at the turn of the decade, his international smash 'Good Thing Going' brought Sugar a rash of lucrative major label offers, which he declined, preferring to link up with Bullwackies in New York. This album — for the first time on CD here — contains the full vocal versions of tracks included on the dub album African Roots Act 3. With the core of his band drawn from the Wackies group Itopia, Sugar Minott sings inimitably for lovers, boppers and rootsmen all. He recasts Michael Jackson again; and — alongside Studio One maestro Jackie Mittoo in the studio — revisits his all-time favourite album, The Heptones On Top. For those who like their Sugar unrefined, raw and uncut."

MINOTT, SUGAR: Wicked Ago Feel It LP (WACK 1718 LP). $12.00

LP version.

WACKIES: Jamaica Super Dub Session CD (WACK 1720 CD). $14.00

"The musicians on this classic early 80ies dub release are Itopia augmented by Leroy Sibbles and Jackie Mittoo. Also Annette Brissette on drums — her solo album provides three outstanding cuts here, featuring Menelik in fine style on percussion. 12Inches by Barrington Spence and Lloyd Hemmings take dub honours from the Wackie's mixing desk — also Sugar Minott, Leroy Sibbles' redemptive version of Lionel Richie's 'Truly', and the rhythms behind still-unissued vocal tracks by Milton Henry and — best of all, the killing Super Dub cut — The Shades. More resplendent dub from Bullwackies!"

WACKIES: Jamaica Super Dub Session LP (WACK 1720 LP). $13.00

LP version.

SUPER T: West Bound D Train 10" (WACK 1988). $12.00

"Super T was an Jamaican policeman with a badboy reputation to match Duke Reid. On this 1983 cut he runs Dennis Brown's lyrics over killer new music — it's the D train we're on — from Itopia. This is Wackies resplendent, steeply spiritualised, with dense percussion and masterful mixing — and comes backed with an irresistible deejay version from Batta and Skatee, inna Michigan & Smiley style and fashion."

COLE/LEROY HEPTONES, STRANGER: Revolution 12" (WACK 210). $9.00

"An all time killer classic from Wackies. This 12" features 3 cuts of Lee Perry's immortal Tight Spot Rhythm featuring searing vocals by Leroy Sibbles and the great Stranger Cole, together with an instrumental version by the Bullwackies All Stars."

LOVE JOYS: Lovers Rock Reggae Style CD (WACK 2383 CD). $14.50

"Rhythm & Sound/Basic Channel inaugurates its Wackie's reissue series with Lovers Rock by the Love Joys aka cousins Sonia Abel and Claudette Brown, originally from Brixton, England. This women's roots album is a milestone in reggae, a refreshing departure in a tradition dominated by men. With the classic Wackie's sound magnificent behind them — 'Lovers Rock', showcase style, in extended versions — the duo beautifully and skilfully meshes social critique and affairs of the heart, from a woman's point of view. Lovers Rock is one of the best and rarest albums on the legendary Wackie's label produced by Lloyd 'Bullwackie' Barnes in 1982. Musicians include: Jah T, Clive Hunt, Rolando Alphonso."

LOVE JOYS: Lovers Rock Reggae Style LP (WACK 2383 LP). $12.00

"Wackies' lineage is classical — rooted in Studio One and Black Ark — but cut with the acid urbanity of New York City. Its sound is characterised by pervasive echo and deep bass: the atmosphere is luminous and unique. Lloyd Barnes, Clive Hunt, Noel Delahaye and Douglas Levy were the key engineers; Jerry Harris, Tony Allen, Owen Stewart, the Sylvester brothers and Jerry Johnson played on almost all the albums; reggae legends like Jackie Mittoo and Roland Alphonso were studio regulars. Several local artists made their names here, and a roll-call of great Jamaican singers — including Horace Andy, Leroy Sibbles, Sugar Minott, Max Romeo and Stranger Cole — recorded some of their best sides at Wackies. Yet this great music has struggled to move beyond cult status: many of the recordings are still obscure, and most are very hard to find. The street-directions on the cover of the 1982 album Jah Son Invasion — quoted above — are a literal attempt to put Wackies on the map. Now the Rhythm & Sound reissue programme will provide further pointers."

VA: Jah Son Invasion CD (WACK 2384 CD). $16.00

"Around 1980, London-based Bullwackies fan Ed Brennan circulated amongst his friends a homemade cassette of his own favourite Wackies productions. In turn, Lloyd Barnes made his own selection from this Pirate's Choice — adding several debut cuts, but retaining Ed's title and much of his artwork (omitting the barcode which he had snipped from a can of drink!). Like the Coxson re-appropriation, this makes for a superlative compilation. Lloyd Barnes trumps Ed Brennan throughout, kicking off with a killer one-off rhythm from the vaults, featuring Bobby Sarkie of The Immortals, before teaming Joy Card's 'Black Girl' (originally on 12") with a previously unreleased singjay version by Barrington Spence. Other highlights include Clive Hunt's reading of Wayne Jarrett's 'Darling Your Eyes', Joe 'No Equal Rights In A Babylon' Auxumme's interpretation of 'New Sensation' (by Wackies songwriting regular Andrew McCalla), and Sugar Minott singing beautifully over an exclusive horns mix of his 'Sometime Girl' 12". From over 150 singles and 20 albums these 10 extracts are showing you the quality and range of Jah Reggae music', as the cover puts it. Another master-class from Bullwackies country."

VA: Jah Son Invasion LP (WACK 2384 LP). $15.00

LP version.

WACKIES: Natures Dub CD (WACK 306 CD). $14.50

"As there haven't been any information with the original album release from 1982, the short and basic info is as follows: 'The Reckless Breed in Jamaica, the New Breed in New York! Scotty and crew rock rootical Jezzreel rhythm tracks like 'Roman Soldiers', with fine sing-jaying from Jah Batta; also Clive Hunt's inimitable take on the 'Rockfort Rock' rhythm; and a steppers version of Junior Delgado's Upsetter classic 'Sons Of Slaves'. 'Natures Dub' — this sound a rockers.rockers.rockers.me say a rockers.rockers.rockers. Essential dub music!"

WACKIES: Natures Dub LP (WACK 306 LP). $12.00

LP version.

LOVE JOYS: Reggae Vibes CD (WACK 3239 CD). $14.50

"Reggae Vibes was the Love Joys' first album, initially released in 1981 on the Florida-based Top Ranking label (when it was also entitled Jah Light on the inside labels). It features 10 tunes produced and recorded at Wackies NY, ranging from Lovers Rock Reggae Style and utempo dance vibes to roots and reality. Tracks include: 'Stranger' and 'All I Can Say' (which also appear on Lovers Rock Reggae Style in different mixes); 'Studio Man', a tribute to Bullwackie himself; 'Jah Light', in Bullwackie's words, 'shining a favourite of mine and very inspirational in all of the crew at Wackies, with Jah Scotty always ready to drum up some steady beats along with Roy Bessie from the Wackies Rhythm Force'; Watch Them, 'a revolutionary cry from Sonia Abel — a very special writer that can stretch far into her imagination — just vibing in the studio'; Love Is Not A Game, 'typical lovers rock sharing roots feeling in a dance style, Love Joys Stylee'; How Long, 'another love song, sweet sounding vocals makes life feel real special'. A must for all Wackies fans."

LOVE JOYS: Reggae Vibes LP (WACK 3239 LP). $12.00

LP version.

CLIVE FIELD MARSHALL: Poor House Rockers CD (WACK 334 CD). $14.50

"On its original release in 1981, Clive Field Marshall's Poor House Rockers album sold out so quickly that Wackies was unable to supply his customary distributors outside New York; and it has been high on Wackies-collectors' lists ever since. The rhythms nod again to The Heptones at Studio One and Bob Marley. Others are voiced elsewhere in the Wackies catalogue by Barrington Spence, Junior Delahaye and the Love Joys; some had appeared on the 'Presenting Prince Douglas' set the previous year. Clive himself is compelling, witty and ebullient in the dancehall style pioneered by Lone Ranger, ranging over subjects including Jamaican tourism and landlordism, Carter and Reagan, banks and bulldogs, and — outstandingly, on Delahaye's ineffable but unissued 'Acting So Strange' — the in-things beaver hat and sheepskin coat."

CLIFTON, RAS: Queen Of The Universe 12" (WACK 3482). $10.00

"Ras Clifton's delirious hymn to Black womanhood is backed by the original Wackies crew — Allah, Clive Hunt, the Sylvester Brothers. 'Look Over Yonder' originally appeared in 1975, as a 7" on the Wisdom-Rock label which Wackies created for Clifton: this 1982 reworking is more spacious and contemplative. Both sides are deep, charged reggae with musical inspiration to spare over extended mixes — and Lloyd Barnes at the desk steals the show."

MEDITATIONS, THE: I Love Jah CD (WACK 510 CD). $14.50

"This is the first ever release of a masterful The Meditations album recorded by Bullwackies in the heady months of 1982. The lineage of The Meditations — Ansel Cridland, Winston Watson, Danny Clarke — elaborates Wackie's classical project perfectly: from their introduction by Stranger Cole (who would himself record for Wackie's) to Dobby Dobson back in 1975, and their hits for him under the supervision of ace Studio One engineer Sylvan Morris through revered Lee Perry productions. This album evokes and deepens the atmosphere of those Black Ark sides — but cuts the group's militant rasta reputation with ecstatic soulful sensibilities. The tracks comprise six originals — brand new, prime Bullwackies music — though the title cut recasts 'I Shall Be Released' via interpretations for Studio One's Coxsona Dodd and Lee 'Scratch' Perry by The Heptones (another all-time-great Jamaican vocal trio with an unreleased Wackie's album recorded during this period). The luxuriant sublimity of the mature Wackie's sound — dubwise from start to finish, with the drums of Jah Scotty and big-city-blues guitar of Barry Vincent outstanding — sets off some of the finest trio harmonising you will hear."

MEDITATIONS, THE: I Love Jah LP (WACK 510 LP). $12.00

LP version.

ANDY/LLOYD MOODIE, HORACE: Money Money 12" (WACK 5252). $8.00

"On this classic 12Inch Horace Andy revisits a Bunny Lee favourite — twin rhythm to the famous 'Cuss Cuss' — in the opening track 'Money Money' of his wonderful 'Dance Hall Style' album for Bullwackies. This is the rougher extended mix, not available on the album: more snare, more reverb and effects, extra raw. Al Moodie's toast of the 'Money' rhythm on the B-side is carnivalesque JA travelogue, from Bull Bay to Rockfort to Harbour View, guaranteed to put a glide in your stride."

WACKIES: African Roots Act 2 CD (WACK 617 CD). $14.50

"Another Rhythm & Sound presentation from Bullwackies' golden year of 1982, this album offers fully-worked dubwise versions of tracks voiced elsewhere by such Wackies' luminaries as Max Romeo, Barrington Spence and Junior Delahaye. Only the treatment of Horace Andy's 'Lonely Woman' — from the original release of 'Dancehall Showcase' — contains traces of a song. Alongside producer Lloyd Barnes aka Bullwackies himself of course, Junior Delahaye's contribution is crucial — on keyboards, drums and drum machine, and at the mixing desk. Likewise Leroy Sibbles, on bass guitar, bringing to the session three classic Heptones Studio One rhythms: 'Fight It To The Top', 'Love Won't Come Easy' and 'Sea Of Love'. Vintage Wackies dub: all killers, no fillers!"

WACKIES: African Roots Act 2 LP (WACK 617 LP). $12.00

LP version.

LOVE JOYS: Gimme Back 12" (WACK 707). $10.00

"'Gimme Back' is a classic Bullwackies production, catching the Love Joys in full flight. The song is forlorn and imploring, the singing magnificent, over soulful organ, rocking horns and a crisp Delahaye drum programme, with a fine, deep dub. 'It Ain't Easy' features veteran Blues Buster Philip James alongside Sonia Abel at the microphone. 'Stranger Get Up' is the slower, keyboard cut: moody and essential. Yet another exclusive, 'Roots Vibes' — which comes with a version — is from the sessions which produced the Reggae Vibes album (also recently reissued by Rhythm & Sound)."

DELAHAYE, JUNIOR: Working Hard For The Rent Man 12" (WACK 709). $10.00

"Recorded in the late seventies, originally released in 1983, the A is irresistible, bubbling sufferers'. As fluently as seventies Curtis it combines rapture and engagement, soul and sophistication — with scatting, jazzy stylings by Roland Alphonso and guitarist Barry Vincent, and a drum-machine still fresh as a crisp biscuit. 'Mystic Revelation' in all its glory appears likewise in both the original tape and the 1983 12" versions."

MINOTT, SUGAR: Jamming In The Street 12" (WACK 717). $10.00

"Out originally on Black Roots in 1983, this is warm, natural music-making from Sugar's Informer sessions, overflowing with dancehall vibes. The rhythm follows Channel One's refinement of vintage Studio One, and features deejay John Wayne from Youth Promotion days, with a masterful Wackies dub."

MINOTT, SUGAR: Hi Hello 12" (WACK 956). $10.00

"Sugar mugs flirtatiously over an upful dubwise cut of Barrington Levy's 'Here I Come', with an old-school NYC rap by Bullwackie's adolescent son Dion. And it was the flipside which turned out pockets the first time around, in 1983: a blazing horns version of 'Billie Jean', and another spotlighting the brilliant percussionist Hasan Bakr."

WARE (GERMANY):

VA: Digital Warenkorb #1 CD (WARE 001 CD). $15.00

"Remastered and edited favourites from the first 2 vinyl samplers on Ware." Featuring: Mathias Schaffhäuser, Iven Schmidt, The Kitbuilders, Salz, Decomposed Subsonic, Nieswandt & Schaffhäuser, Benjamin Brunn, Schlubäuer.

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Blaue Löwen CD (WARE 02 CD). $16.00

"'Blaue Löwen' means 'blue lions'. We know that these cute little animals neither exist today nor existed in any past on our blue planet — until today. Now they are alive to change your good old view of — ... maybe colours, animals, CD-titles, German sense of humour (if there is one) and other absurdities. Or of Minimal House? Decomposed Subsonic manage to combine minimalism, abstraction and very strange sounds with catchy elements, ass-shaking-rave-grooves and Pop. From noise to nonsense, Blaue Löwen can't be grasped in one word or one minute. Imagine Matthew Herbert and Mr Oizo produce a record together and you almost get the picture. Seriously, Decomposed Subsonic is the Minimal House project of Cologne based producer Hartmut Wessling. The influences of his hometown are admittedly obvious, but Mr. Decomposed adds a special funkiness, a brilliant sound design and his very own definition of Pop to the so-called Cologne style. Wessling definitely knows how deep a bass can go."

SCHAFFHAUSER, MATHIAS: Love & Business CD (WARE 03 CD). $13.00

"Lido Hotel was last year; Love & Business is the title for 2001. The holidays are over, real life sets in again wavering between 'desire and obligation', 'feeling and duty', 'time and time-clock'. 'Love & Business' are cornerstones here not contradictions, not a pendulum between good and evil. Love & Business, the record, is more of an 'album' than its predecessors or comparable works. It reflects moods, ups & downs, fluctuations in the pace of time — both real time that races ahead and inner, slow crawling time and vice versa. And floating above this is a basic, stable state of mind within the music that feels soft and delicate saying 'hey, stop, breathe a sigh of relief, give yourself a shake — it isn't that bad!'. Aural reconciliation as someone put it. Love & Business is released on Ware, Mathias Schaffhäuser's label, though it follows on imperceptibly from his album in 2000 Lido Hotel on Force Tracks. So musical continuity is ensured and there is no sudden break. Schaffhäuser's next album will be released on the Frankfurt cult label by late 2001/early 2002. The style is again compartmentalized as minimal techno house though 'minimal' here only relates to the sound aesthetics that are clearly rooted in the Cologne-Frankfurt-Berlin triangle. The tracks themselves have their own special structure though these structures do branch out quite broadly sometimes tending towards opulence. Reduced opulence, opulent reduction, varied repetition, minimal gluttony?. Love & Business deals with life and life doesn't very often run according to a logical plan. By the way: there are two cover versions on Love & Business, 'Hey Little Girl' (Icehouse) and 'Take Me To Your Heart' (Eurythmics). But that is definitely no retro thing — it happened by chance more than anything else."

VA: Warenkorb #3 CD (WARE 04 CD). $15.00

"The third Ware label compilation appears this time simultaneously on vinyl and CD — so not another 'Digital Warenkorb' anymore, thereby ending the project and the confusion. The result: all tracks on the vinyl edition of Warenkorb #3 are exclusive tracks. The only re-release is 'Fuck, Past & Future' (Ware 2) — as this was sold out on 12" — it appears here in new re-mastered form. The CD features two additional tracks: Donna Regina's song version of Decomposed Subsonic's 'Blaue Löwen', which got rather lost in the 12" format (because it is a typical listening track), and as a bonus track and a special gift for all radio DJs you got a modified and shortened version of Mathias Schaffhäuser's interpretation of Icehouse's 'Hey Little Girl'." Artists include: Mathias Schaffhäuser, Salz, Decomposed Subsonic, Benjamin Brunn, Caulfield, The Aphorism, Markus Güntner, Midinova, Iven Schmidt.

COLOMA: Silverware CD (WARE 05 CD). $13.00

"Ware's next step: the duo Coloma (Rob Taylor & Alex Paulick) with the debut album Silverware. Classic British song writing meets smart beats and clicks in a style which might be categorised as 'Click-Pop'. Silverware is definitely not dance-floor. But it definitely is minimal electronic music, and from a perspective never quite heard before. Also noteworthy: Rob Taylor is the voice of Mathias Schaffhäuser's club hit 'Hey Little Girl', and Alex Paulick doubles as bassist for Düsseldorf electro-pop purists Kreidler. The Coloma sound is based on Rob Taylor's lyrics and voice in combination with Alex Paulick's subtle melodies, set within a abstract electronic framework. Organ bass, two-finger keyboard lines and guitar-chord fragments underpin the vocal. A straight bass drum emerges from the rhythmic ticks and crackles before things can get too serious."

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Gradients CD (WARE 06 CD). $14.00

"Decomposed Subsonic's new album offers neither super-subtle experimental tracks, nor pop in the style of Blaue Löwen. But then again? On Gradients is the lovely house-chanson, 'Etoile Bleue', which we'd be pleased to hear being sung by French schoolchildren as they skip merrily around the Eiffel Tower. Or 'Nachtlicht', which shows once again how good German-language pop music can be, and that there is really no discrepancy between this and purely electronic music. This phenomenon has more to do with song-craft than electro-pop kitsch — if you know what I mean. So as you can hear, Hartmut Wessling hasn't made a U-turn, rather, he has focused in on his terrain. But at the same time, he has actually broadened his perspective. In the computer-jargon of graphics programmes, the 'gradient' is a way of measuring the difference between one extreme and another. Also of course, from one nuance to the next... but why not let the artist speak for himself: 'For me, Gradients represents on one side, the common thread running through the variety of styles on one album. On the other hand, as far as the songs are concerned, the title is intended to mean that there are some absolutely unequivocal elements, but also the most subtle of components in the arrangement and sound design, which have come from every possible source.'"

TURISMO: The Gigantic Night CD (WARE 07 CD). $14.00

"In 1999 Turismo released the 'Simulation EP'. The name of the project and certain song titles clearly suggested one thing: These boys have had enough — they want to get away, they want to leave for 'Odessa' or some simulated reality, no matter how that simulation is achieved (a computer isn't ALWAYS necessary). 'Longing' is the key word — for a mountain world ('[Damals] Im Schnee') or for a cheekily copied fantasy version of the Far East ('Akihabara'). Such destinations are less distant in 2002, partly because the general mood has become darker. While in '99 the main emphasis was on minimal electro (we'll call it that in retrospect), in 2002 it's abstract down-tempo tracks that frame the album and lead it into The Gigantic Night. That was always the best hiding place — the actual environment, or at least the local bar. By the way, the title (and also the tracks 'Tsugumi' and 'Discogefühl') is a reference to Banana Yoshimoto, whose protagonists also appreciate the protective warmth and the all-enveloping density of darkness. Pop somewhere in the nameless genre-land between abstract beats, Massive Attack's best instrumental moments, Clicks'n'Cutts and minimal techno-house. Yes, there is one 'straight' beat — on 'Discogefühl' of course. Turismo are Jin Choi & Mathias Schaffhäuser."

VA: Warenkorb 4 CD (WARE 08 CD). $14.00

"After some tough qualification matches we have emerged with a result — a selection that is bolder and more varied than any previous Warenkorb compilation. The CD ranges from, let's call it the 'typical' Ware sound of Decomposed Subsonic or of course Mathias Schaffhäuser to stuff at the very edge of Tech-House: from Misc. who have been around for a while now, all the way to a bizarre techno-mayhem from Ware-newcomer Dominik Eulberg, with a reconciliatory finish from the wonderful Lausanne-based Velma. In between is a melancholy interlude from Spain's Silvania, towards the end a real loud and clear statement: 'I Hate You' — rage meets dub-house? Is that allowed? You bet it is! Once again the CD has been mixed and edited in the computer, a few tracks blending into each other DJ-style, others joined with sound effects and Samplitude trickery. As usual, it's all about the flow — like a mix-cassette you'd put together for your best girlfriend, or that you'd like to hear down at your local bar. Variety, excitement, daring — we hope that these three virtues can all be heard on Warenkorb #4."

GUENTNER, MARKUS: Audio Island CD (WARE 09 CD). $14.00

"Markus Güntner is going to make it big — we firmly believe that here at Ware. And maybe even very soon — his cover of Talk Talk's 'Such A Shame' is currently being remixed by Swayzak. Who knows what will follow... Or what has already been — Audio Island also includes a co-op with Acid Maria: 'So Well' features one of the most whacked-out lyrics of all time. This track will have people doing summersaults on the dance-floor. Güntner has been producing electronic music since 1996. His records on Ware breathe an airy spirit, which pleasantly stands out from the usual minimal-tech-house strictures in a very individual way. People have described some of Güntner's tracks as neo-trance — and this Regensburg lad can live with that quite well. Anyone who knows Kaito (Special Life) will understand where Güntner is coming from. Rarely is house so comforting, so tender, so intimate. Markus Güntner released his first release in May 2000 on Gemeinschaftspraxis (Festplatten Rec.). Then the ambient production Regensburg appeared on Kompakt (and was recently remixed by Mike Ink), followed by Äpfel und Birnen, again on Festplatten. Last year his ambient album In Moll (Kompakt) caused a furor."

VA: Tape10 CD (WARE 10 CD). $15.00

"Contemporary photography meets Ware. Which came first? The chicken or the booklet? In this case definitely the latter, but on closer inspection: none of the two. Because the Tape10 booklet is really a catalogue. It all began with the following idea: Rui Camilo and Ren+Herzer started a gallery for contemporary photography in XXL sizes. Only the best photographers are asked to produce exclusive images for Tape10. The Frankfurt-based team position their work somewhere between service and art, and this is reflected in their prices. They have made a conscious decision to opt out of the general art award rat race. To support and kickstart the idea, they decided to put the pictures to music. A label was soon found: Ware carries its ethos on its sleeve and in its name, a premise close to the Tape10 collective's heart. The CD booklet shows all photographs, stating size and photographer — just like a proper catalogue. Ware now chose 10 musicians to create exclusive tracks inspired by the motifs — not aiming for the dancefloor, but drifting in the eclectic no-man's-land between ambient and electronic listening. The catalogue has been given a sound." Artists: Markus Güntner, Laub, Benjamin Brunn, Decomposed Subsonic, Schmidt & Herze, Jeremy P. Caulfield, Midinova, Mathias Schaffhäuser, Losoul, and Geoff White.

COLOMA: Finery CD (WARE 11 CD). $15.00

"A little over a year after the release of their debut album Silverware, Alex Paulick and Rob Taylor are dressing up in their Sunday best to present Finery, a collection characterised by harmonious shape and classic lines. Once again the pair have clearly been attending to detail, as befits their bespoke approach to songwriting. Paulick's cuts (and clicks) are perfectly measured, and piano, vibraphone and violin (hand-played, of course) provide natural warmth. Taylor's voice is sometimes buttoned up; sometimes he gets just a little hot under the collar... As you are probably realising, there is a common thread running through Finery. From a melodic yearning to put away the winter garb and put on the clothes that summer wears, along a procession of thought (in seven verses!) from a megalomaniac tailor, and on to a stream of consciousness journey wrapped in a coat made out of senses. 'Illegible Love' features Christoph Clöser, Of Bohren & The Club Of Gore."

SCHMIDT, IVEN: Track Array CD (WARE 12CD). $16.00

"It's 2003, and despite everything, Techno is alive! No comment on the political situation — let's focus on music, like on Track Array. Track-A-What? 'Track' refers to the music, or rather the structure of Iven Schmidt's music, which is more track-based than songlike. 'Array' is a term from computer programming language, meaning a data field in which variables, often of the same kind, can be saved all at once. So the album is such an array on which several tracks are stored. However, Schmidt isn't interested in producing DJ-food, with a limited shelf life. The Frankfurter doesn't attempt to follow any particular school with his tracks: he creates a distinct, unique sound with playful, humorous melodies, sometimes with rather daring dramaturgical structures. Ware appreciates this peculiarity. Creativity is more important than any kind of rat race for the sound award."

LAUB & SCHAFFHAUSER: Mofa 12" (WARE 16). $8.00

"'Mofa' (a small moped) is the first real co-operation of Laub, Berlin based band of Antye Greie-Fuchs and Jotka, with Ware boss Mathias Schaffhäuser. 'Real' means: They worked together in the studio, sent tapes, CDs and WAVs from here to there (?), e-mailed, telephoned and conferred a 100 times."

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Blaue Löwen (Hans Nieswandt & Donna Regina Remixes) 12" (WARE 18). $8.00

"Decomposed Subsonic's stunning debut album Blaue Löwen blew off the roof not only in Germany with its mixture of rather experimental clicks & cuts and 'In Your Face' Techno/House tracks, tailor-made for the dancefloor. A German journalist claimed, the album sounds like 'a mixture of Herbert and Mr Oizo'. The title track of the album has now been remixed by Whirlpool Productions member Hans Nieswandt and Donna Regina. Nieswandt delivers a very melodic mix that keeps things quite clubby, whereas Donna Regina, who already collaborated with Herbert and with Ware labelboss Mathias Schaffhäuser on his album Lido Hotel for Forcetracks, turn the track into a charming Chanson. Decomposed Subsonic aka Hartmut Wessling himself rounds things off with a brilliant radio edit that keeps very close to the earthshaking album version."

SCHMIDT, IVEN: Dance Machine 12" (WARE 19). $8.00

"Iven Schmidt's second release on the label is split in two very different sides: The A-track presents Schmidt's ability to combine minimalistic underground techno house with humour and a fascinating simplicity. Or stupidity? Is it really allowed to call a track 'Dance Machine', Mr. Schmidt? On the other hand, don't we all like it really cheesy sometimes? Welcome to the soap opera disco... and back to street-fighting atmosphere on side B. We're in Neukölln, Berlin, and the song is called 'Amok Neukölln' — I wonder if this is a rebellion or just New Year's Eve? Fighting or dancing? 'Tanzmaschine' gives the answer: Everything happens in your head, fighting against bad memories, dancing to subtle beatless noises, stupidity, seriousness..."

SCHAFFHAUSER, MATHIAS: Love & Business 2LP (WARE 20). $15.00

Double vinyl version, full color gatefold.

GUENTNER, MARKUS: No Title 12" (WARE 21). $8.00

"Ware 21 kicks off in a way that might proverbially compartmentalise it. But hang on — 'Re-form' very quickly turns out to be nothing less than a hymn, a romantic ballad manifesto — a FEAST. 'Seven Days' begins in a similarly familiar manner but then darts sideways towards ? let's say neo-trance — that is both audacious and incomprehensible. 'Skyline' on side 2 takes off on a flight of fancy and quite unashamedly runs for more than 10 minutes, quite happy to let compartments be compartments as it were (anyone still wanting to talk about minimal house and dub should also listen 'Luomo' as a model dream sequence to crown it all)."

VA: Warenkorb #3 2LP (WARE 22). $16.00

Double LP version.

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Live At Barcelona 12" (WARE 23). $8.00

"It was exactly one year ago that Decomposed Subsonic's 'Different View' EP was released as a second maxi on Ware and since then success for this Cologne local has been unstoppable. This live EP and with almost 35 minutes running time 'Live at Barcelona' is longer than many Beatles albums ever were. Both sides can be listened straight through without breaks though for DJs there are obviously ridges between tracks. And as a sign of our gratitude the EP is pitched at the normal price of a maxi single."

SCHMIDT, IVEN: Quest For Tires 12" (WARE 24). $8.00

"'Quest For Tires' is the next step into the unique sound-universe of Iven Schmidt. Iven Schmidt was the first 'outside' solo artist on Ware. Anyone investigating the flipside of this record or Schmidt's new track on Warenkorb #3 will recognise a musician blessed with the rare gift of being able to blend serious profundity with equal amounts of humorous trash. 'Quest For Tires' is slamming in an amount, no other production from Mr. Schmidt did before. The main focus at Ware records is still set on the ideas, the creativity and the uniqueness of a production, and those criteria are met by Iven Schmidt like they are met by no other musician in the Techno/House context these days."

OHARA, RAZ: Very Political 12" (WARE 25). $8.00

"Raz Ohara — who's that again? That's right, but we know him from that cool Berlin label Kitty Yo. After two wonderful albums, The Last Legend and Realtime Voyeur, we decided there should be a couple of danceable versions, and because Ware is so close to the dance-floor, it was clearly the right label for these tracks. 'This a Beautiful Day' came about as a collaboration between Raz and Mathias Schaffhäuser, which doesn't just mean sampling and editing, but actually singing in the studio. 'We'll All Go Sometime' is the record's exclusive track — produced overnight by Raz. You could say it's his statement for the end of the party. The second four-to-the-floor mix was delivered by our buddies from Regensburg, the legendary Gebr. Teichmann (Festplatten Rec.). The track is called 'Ass For Cash' and it grooves like hell! The original was actually on Raz's first album Realtime Voyeur. Last but not least, 'It's All An Illusion' was nabbed by Jay Rope, who likes his beats crooked and tricky, something which Ware always has flirted with."

COLOMA: Transparent 12" (WARE 26). $8.00

"A new chapter for Ware: The duo Coloma doesn't make dance music, but rather a wonderful hybrid between classic British pop-sensibility and crisp, minimal electronic music. 'Clicks'n'Pop(s)' is the buzzword on the scene. This pre-album remix maxi single guarantees Coloma a suitably worthy and seamless entrance into the world of Ware, prior the February release of the album Silverware. Decomposed Subsonic and Mathias Schaffhäuser build a bridge between those lofty Coloma melodies and typical Ware-dancefloor. Clyne (alias Thomas Klein of Kreidler) also contributes with a tastefully restrained, four-to-the-floor version of 'The Difference Between Silver & Grey', more or less the album's title song. 'Transparent' itself is a collaboration between Coloma and Mr. Subsonic, created in two intensive night sessions, and is as clear and resonant as cut crystal. By the way: Coloma's singer is Rob Taylor, who also sings that 'Hey Little Girl'. His partner Alex Paulick is primarily responsible for the wonderfully understated instrumentation and production (he also doubles as live-bassist for the Düsseldorf band Kreidler)."

COLOMA: Silverware LP (WARE 27). $12.00

LP version.

CAULFIELD: Outside 12" (WARE 28). $8.00

"The name of Caulfield's new record is 'Outside', and that can only be where the melodies are, where harmony still has something to say. So, actually totally 'out'. Sascha Kösch alias Bleed (chief editor of Germany's esteemed electronic music paper De: Bug) sums up Caulfield's world to a tee: 'Something as calm and soft, as defined and clear, as deep and swinging as this is rarely just any old music. (...) There's always a bass line here that will get your heart racing, and melodies that put the whole of Bremen in a thick mist of clarity, of pure pleasure. And that way he has with relaxed grooves makes you see life from a new perspective.'"

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Gradients 2LP (WARE 29 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

GUENTNER, MARKUS: Forget Sandra EP 12" (WARE 30). $8.00

"It's a shame — such a shame! that Sandra, the German pop starlet from the darkest days of the eighties, covered 'Such A Shame' before Markus Güntner could get his hands on it. That darned parallel idea phenomenon! Those mainstream buckaneers! Shameful indeed! Never mind. With his version of 'Such A Shame', Markus has no intention of casting sidelong glances at the mainstream. It comes from the heart, not the abacus of success. And the fact that the track is another eighties cover — well, what can you do if Talk Talk wrote such good songs back then? If it bothers you, then go right ahead and take a listen to the three other tracks on 'Forget Sandra', representing various pieces of the techno-house puzzle that Güntner has made his own, and with one thing in common: no fear of feelings or velvet robes, and three spoonfuls of sugar in the tea. Yet somehow it all manages to remain minimal-something. Just try pigeonholing this."

TURISMO: The Gigantic Night LP (WARE 31). $13.00

LP version.

NIESWANDT, HANS: You Don't Know Shake It 12" (WARE 32). $8.00

"THE house pioneer in Cologne, one of THE first in Germany, number one in Italy for a long hot summer with 'From Disco To Disco', the Whirlpool Productions anthem. 'You don't know shake it' is now the first Ware record that Hans has all to himself. The original version of the song is a fluffy, late-summer house-chanson, which Hans sings with his wife Andrea Nieswandt. On side A is a stomping remix of the track by Ware's ever-so-diligent Decomposed Subsonic — a clear case of club-hit! 'Keep 'em busy' demonstrates Nieswandt's slightly more abstract side — which he doesn't show quite so often."

VA: Warenkorb 4 3LP (WARE 33). $19.00

Triple LP version. "As we didn't want too many tracks to end up on the cutting-room floor, this time the vinyl version is being released as a triple-LP with 15 tracks, including two exclusive bonus tracks! Here, of course, everything is unmixed and in it's entirety."

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: I Never Say/Whenever 12" (WARE 34). $8.00

"No unnecessary fuss, no superfluous frills: The new Decomposed Subsonic maxi simply combines Hartmut Wessling's two strongest sides on two sides of vinyl. 'I Never Say' is an absolute killer track featuring a nasty distorted bass. 'Whenever' is an aesthetic rocker, the like of which hardly any other producer can serve up — art that grooves and that doesn't clench its butt cheeks. And all that on 45 rpm, so that it really thumps. Hartmut is currently also making quite an impression with his Wessling/Schrom project on Boxer Records together with Stefan Schrom aka Big Chief Electric. 'Donauwellingen' can not only be heard in Richie Hawtin's set, but also on the next Cocoon-Compilation, which on this occasion Sven Vath mixed with Richie."

GUENTNER, MARKUS: Such A Shame Remixes 12" (WARE 35). $9.00

"It's bubbling, it's boiling — so we must add fuel to the fire. Markus Güntner's cover version of Talk Talk's 'Such A Shame' on his Forget Sandra maxi has turned out to be a nice little club-hit — and that calls for remixes. The Swayzak mix sheds light upon the darker sides of the original, creating a super-deep mood, perhaps best described as 'trembling'. This is surely what is known as 'magic', or in the best sense, 'trance' (as pronounced in French). Mathias Schaffhäuser picked exactly four elements from approximately 372 tiny fragments of Güntner's version, putting together a functional minimal-rocker track, showing once again that less can be just as much as minimal yet somehow acid. Markus himself tucks the beats under a warm eiderdown, then adds the hot-water bottle. Any Kompakt fan will know that this lad from Regensburg is a master of ambient music, and this record will tell a good three million more at least."

GUENTNER, MARKUS: Audio Island 2LP (WARE 36). $16.00

Double LP version.

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Live In Bogota 12" (WARE 37). $9.00

"Live In Bogota is a record where each side plays straight through without stopping, so it works like a classic Vinyl LP. It's great to listen to at home, but is also ideal for DJs, as the energy that Hartmut generates during his live sets has been captured particularly authentically. To use the R-word again: This rocks."

COLOMA: Re:Finery 12" (WARE 38). $9.00

Features remixes by Monoplace, Markus Güntner, Alex Paulick (Coloma) & Mathias Schaffhäuser.

SCHMIDT, IVEN: Track Array 12" (WARE 39). $9.00

Vinyl 12" version.

NIESWANDT, HANS: So Fein 12" (WARE 40). $9.00

"Some — Peter Kremer aka Losoul for example — find So Fein so great that they spontaneously decide to produce remixes, despite having other things to do in this multi-functional business world than to pursue nerdy musical passions. Others simply don't get it, even though they do understand the words. 'What's all that about? Why does Nieswandt write such a simple text, when he was only recently celebrated as a novelist? Their confusion is understandable because one wouldn't guess that 'So Fein' isn't about a super woman in a summer dress, but about Hans's little daughter. Once you know that, a line like 'du bist so fein, ich will mit dir zusammen sein' (You're so fine, I want to be with you) makes much more sense. And it can even move people who are on the same wavelength. But that's not all — this track grooves like hell. Plus, there are two more unbelievable pieces on this maxi that open up Nieswandt's artistic horizon even further. 'Gloria' is House without lyrics, and yet it sounds like a hit and wants to be played all the time. 'Please Let Me' is a song without real vocals, generated from samples and crazy programming, which has something quite soothing. All this gives you an idea of how much there is to expect from Hans's next album."

SCHAFFHAUSER, MATHIAS: Truthology / De: tox - Re: tox 12" (WARE 41). $9.00

"Don't believe in nothing / don't believe nobody / don't believe in anyone / no god, no guide, no party.' Life without truth, life without faith — try it. It works! If this seems a bit banal, you can have it backed up by Friedrich Nietzsche — from his excellent On the Genealogy Of Morality: 'The will to truth requires critique — let us thus define our own task — the value of truth must for once be experimentally called into question...' Yes Please! Try it, it won't hurt. So why does something like that occur to Mathias Schaffhäuser now? The current state of the world? Hmm. yes, no, partly. The text was actually written in 1992, and was indeed influenced by Mr. Nietzsche. But the critical approach to God, ethics and truth has always been central to Schaffhäuser's way of thinking. In his opinion, contemplation and content should (once again) be brought into the focus of Techno and House — as hard as that may be. But the music should come across without being cramped or stiff — it's always better to have a smile on your lips, hidden by a mask. 'Truthology' is funky and mean and light on its feet at the same time. Rumpelstilzkin philosophy, foot discourse... The B-side is called 'Detox - Retox' — and who isn't familiar with that? The morning after: 'Oh no, I will never take this or that again, from now on I will walk the path of virtue!' And one day later: 'Hey, that tastes fine, sure, lets have another one...'. Give us our daily liquid bread (or whatever). It works even better in the context of confusing dance music. Actually, you don't really even need any toxic substances if you have warped clusters like 'De:tox - Retox' — but hey, what am I talking about..."

VA: Warenkorb 5 CD (WARE 013CD). $15.50

Fifth volume in this sensational series, overseen by label owner Mathias Schaffhäuser. "Minimal, maximal. Dub House, Tech-House. What's all the fuss? Warenkorb_5 prefers tracks that dare more, and actually try and stay away from the consensus of recent years. Of course, we're not talking about quantum leaps here. It's up to others to re-invent the wheel. However, the guideline for the artists was: all tracks on Warenkorb_5 were supposed to be 'not as usual'. So the gentlemen Goldfish & Der Duz (Playhouse) have added a few more drops of techno into their funky flow to make your legs quiver that little bit extra. The Aphorism from Freiburg have experimented with creating the opposite of their smooth club hit 'Warmer Regen' (Warenkorb_3) and get out the distorted bass — with success. Call it 'High Speed Garage'. Jeremy P. Caulfield (WMF/Trapez Rec.) needs no further explanation. The Berlin-based Canadian is currently making the most interesting techno house records on the planet, and has taken The Kitbuilder's classic 'Get Out' and turned it into Contemporary Club Extravaganza. But 2003 also allows a few softer sounds, especially when Soda Inc. have put them together so seductively. Their 'Morning Prayer' absolutely belongs in every morning/after-hour set of the autumn/winter season. And that's just mentioning a few of the acts representing the inventory on this fifth label compilation." Artists: Mathias Schaffhäuser, Goldfish & Der Duz, Jaumetic, Markus, Kazoo, Iven Schmidt, Dominik Eulberg, Geoff White, Benjamin Brunn, Rudolfo, Soda Inc, Coloma, Jeremy P. Caulfield Vs. The Kitbuilders, The Aphorism.

VA: Warenkorb 5 2LP (WARE 043LP). $16.50

Double LP version. Artists: Mathias Schaffhäuser, Goldfish & Der Duz, Jaumetic, Markus, Kazoo, Iven Schmidt, Dominik Eulberg, Geoff White, Benjamin Brunn, Rudolfo, Soda Inc, Coloma, Jeremy P. Caulfield Vs. The Kitbuilders, The Aphorism.

EULBERG, DOMINIK: Mabuse 12" (WARE 44). $5.99

"Mabuse", the title track on Ware 44, is a dark techno track with subtle power and hidden tenderness. B-side track "They Say" could be characterized as minimal deep house, in which the short vocal snippets work as well as they would have back in 1994. "Emotionsbottich" just wants to be minimal house reconciling beautiful melodies with disrupting sounds. "Nebelfahrt" (journey through the fog) on Warenkorb # 4 was Dominik Eulberg's debut on Ware. It's an indescribable Tour de Force — one which you wouldn't even wish on your worst enemy in real fog. All the better for more or less foggy brains. For Warenkorb # 5 Eulberg contributes a clever cut-up minimal funk track, together with Wolfgang Thums. Releases on Traum Records, Raum Musik, ZYX."

WARM O'BRISK:

SNYDER AND BOB THOMPSON, DOUG: Daily Dance CD (WD 05). $11.00

A nicely done reissue of an obscure album of guitar/drum duo drone & free-rock noise, recorded in rural OH in 1972. The eleven or so people who knew about this album's existence in the mid-to-late 70s considered themselves kings of a very small island and indeed they had good reason to feel superior. This album documented the basement haze of post-Velvets churning feedback meshing into non-fusion guitar extrapolation like little else of its time. Snyder late became involved with NYC noise-improv group Sick Dick & the Volkswagens (pre-Borbetomagus, with Donald Miller), and he and Thompson have continued to make music together ever since, in an almost invisible sense. But the fact that they documented this stuff so early is amazing. There's a rich, basement vibe throughout, thoroughly soaked in underground permutation. "Here is a disc that can sit quite snugly alongside productions by Fushitsusha, Sonic Youth, Blue Humans and any number of other noise- and free-rock manifestations, with the added archival interest of having been committed to tape over 25 years ago!"

WARNER BROS (JAPAN):

VA: Atom Kids Remix: 21 Century Boys And Girls CD (WPC6 10008). $32.00

A remix sequel to the Warner Bros. Japan tribute compilation Atom Kids: A Tribute to the King "O.T.". Features 6 remixes from that album: Naoko Yamano (Shonen Knife)'s remix of the Shonen Knife track; Eye's remix of Angie's track, Thurston Moore's remix of the entire Atom Kids album, Eye's remix of the Boredoms (an extended version of the "DJ Let's Cry & D.I.Y. Drum Machine Mix" found on Super Roots 8), Yuka Honda (Cibo Matto)'s remix of Sean Lennon, Sugizo's remix of Cibo Matto. Although this CD remix project is only 26 minutes long, it is full priced Warner's Japan release and priced accordingly.

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Milano: For Issey Miyake Men By Naoki Takizawa CD (WPC6 10017). $30.00

New Japanese-only follow-up to one of 1998's most mind-blowing recordings (Takemura's Child & Magic CD). Elegantly packaged in a luminous lime green embossed mini-LP jacket. "60 minute CD of minimalist (i.e. Glass/Reich/Riley/etc.) tendencies performed by Aki Tsuyoko, Tadashi Satou, Nobukazu Takemura, and hundreds of 'virtual' instrumentalists (i.e. the Miroslav Vitous Orchestral sound sample library collection). As far as I can tell, Issey Miyake is a fragrance house (what next? Porter Ricks' music for CK1...), and Naoki Takizawa is working on the development of a Japanese Experiment Module (JEM) of a space station at the National Space Development Agency/Tsukuba Space Center (NASDA/TKSC). Right. Those who paid attention to Child & Magic won't be incredibly shocked to find some heavily blessed-out ensemble ruminations that don't fall far from the Anthony Moore/Gorecki (spec. 3rd Symphony) tree instead of some freaked out amen-break choppy (not that he doesn't do that sort of thing especially well...). Either way, this guy's making completely uncategorizable music at either end of the spectrum (stodgy academic and low-brow jackin') that still never fails to astound." — Hrvatski.

VA: Anima Mundi CD (WPC6 10231). $28.00

Japanese-only compilation put together by ROVO. Artists include: Saicobab (feat. vocals, organ & Glöken by Yoshimi P-we and sitar, A. guitar and E. guitar by Yoshidadaikiti), Rovo, Blast Ahead, Joujouka feat. Kyono, Matally vs. Geronimo, Honda Lady, Strobo, Soft, and Boredoms. Confusing.

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Child and Magic CD (WPC6 8399). $35.00

1998 solo album by Nobukazu Takemura, the well-known figure of underground Japanese electronica for his memorable Child's View album (and remix album) from 1994, his associations with Audio Sports and numerous other activities. This full length features Takemura venturing into Terry Riley-like new music territory, drum'n'bass beats and general inexplicable down-tempo euphoria that is his trademark. Takemura is personally responsible for the programming, synthesizer, acoustic piano, marimba, acoustic and electric guitar, flute, oboe, English horn, tublabeel, tape recorder, turntable, etc. Various guests on vocals and other instruments. A more advanced sound than he's previously offered and a superb, challenging album overall.

FLOWER TRAVELLIN' BAND: Satori CD (WPC6 8425). $22.00

Newly remastered CDs of the 2nd, 3rd and 4th albums by this early 70s Japanese underground rock legend. Flower Travellin' Band were a Japanese psych/hard rock quartet from the 70s. Their pants flared most excellently, vocalist "Joe" had a shriek to match his Atlantic label counterpart across the ocean, and there was a certain Zep-edge to their sound that nobody wants to admit to today. Satori was their 2nd album from 1971, a heavy-rock concept album in the grand tradition, and is generally acknowledged as their masterpiece. This version features somewhat more extensive graphic detail, with a fold out booklet. [for a very inspiring overview of the FTB discography, read Julian Cope's reviews at: <http://www.headheritage.co.uk>]

FLOWER TRAVELLIN' BAND: Made In Japan CD (WPC6 8426). $22.00

New remaster of this group's 3rd album, originally issued on Atlantic in 1972. Chugging, anthemic hard rock flourishes, with some of the most over-the-top vocal wailing possible. "If you're dead, listen to dead sound. If not, give this band a hearing. They're alive."

FLOWER TRAVELLIN' BAND: Make Up 2CD (WPC6 8427/8). $30.00

New remaster of the this group's 4th and final album. Previously issued as a single CD, this new double CD version tacks on the missing 17-minute live-studio version of "Satori Pt. 2". Can you believe you've gone this far in life without it? I didn't think so. Recorded live in Sep. 1972.

SPEED GLUE AND SHINKI: Eve CD (WPC6 8452). $21.00

Official reissue from 1998 of the first album by this Japanese group, originally issued in 1971. A trio led by Joey Smith (on drums, vocals; was also a member of Juan de la Cruz from the Philippines), Masayoshi Kabe (bass), & Shinki Chen (guitar). Thudding blues-infused heavy rock with English vocals; not as out there as their 2nd album which was recently reissued in very limited form on Shadoks.

VA: Atom Kids: A Tribute to the King "O.T." CD (WPC6 8522). $32.00

A Japanese-only tribute album for a famous Japanese animator, Osamu Tezuka — creator of Astro Boy, and considered the grandfather of the contemporary manga and anime industry. Features exclusive tracks by: You, Ikuno Takagi (Jungle Smile), Genki Hitomi, Hiroyuki Nanba, Cosa Nostra, Kiyoshiro, Shonen Knife, Maki Nomia, Dimitri From Paris, Ken Takagi, Cibo Matto, Haruomi Hosono, Kazufumi Miyazawa, Boredoms, Tadanobu Asano, Bloodthirsty Butchers, El-Malo, 80's Kinniku Shojitai, Anji, Yui Nishiwaki, Sean Lennon, Chocolate, Motoharu Sano. Nice packaging. "All star compilation of music inspired by the legendary Japanese animator, Dr. Osamu Tezuka, considered the grandfather of the contemporary manga and anime industry. "Despite the fact he possessed a license to practice medicine, he instead drew and compiled dozens of stories for a living, right up to his death in 1989. In 1950, he serialized the classic Jungle Taitei (Jungle King), a series on the adventures of a brave white lion named Kimba. In 1952, in what is arguably his most famous work, he created Tetsuwan Atom (Mighty Atom), known in North America as Astro Boy, a boy robot who fought evildoers in the future. Tezuka is also credited for developing the big-eye look of manga characters and the manga formula of engrossing serial storylines stretching hundreds of pages. His tales proved riveting, touching on many powerful themes. Inspired by his great love for cartoon animation, Disney in particular (it's said he saw Walt Disney's Bambi 80 times), he set up Mushi Studios, his own production company, (1961-1973) which became a springboard for a number of influential animators who were to follow, including Katsuhiro Otomo (Akira)."

FLOWER TRAVELLIN' BAND: Make Up CD (WPC6 592). $10.00

A few remaining copies of this edition (a more expensive/complete version found as WPC6 8427/8), at a reduced price. Fourth and final album from 1973. Live album recorded 9/16/72.

FAHEY/HIS ORCHESTRA, JOHN: Of Rivers and Religion CD (WPCR 10357). $24.00

Japanese-only CD reissue of this 1972 album, originally released by Reprise. "In Fahey's important article 'Bola Sete, the Nature of Infinity and John Fahey' (published February 1976) he writes: 'I first saw [Bola Sete] playing — solo — in early 1972 at David Allen's Boarding House in San Francisco. Shortly thereafter, I listened to a record I had cut while on various drugs [he must mean Of Rivers and Religion] and was astounded to find that, although I had thought while cutting this album that I was playing fast songs fast, I had in fact been playing them very, very slowly and boringly. (That album received reviews which all referred to my special 'inner sense of space and peace' — it was nothing but drugs.) This record now sounded to me as though it were moving through thick glue." From Playboy Magazine, 1972: "John Fahey says he plays 'American Primitive Guitar,' by which he appears to mean a style formed on lves and early blues, ragtime and jazz, country and Gospel. Of Rivers and Religion (Reprise) shows, however, just how sophisticated such a style can prove. This is open and evocative music, with a stress on phrasing and pacing that is hard to imagine this side of Segovia. On several cuts, Fahey is joined by Nappy LaMare and Joe Darenborough. The results sound like something out of Wooden Joe Nicholas and his New Orleans Band. Frequently you'll hear the strings squeak, as Fahey fingers his stops, or the tempo accelerate, perhaps inadvertently (as it often did in old music) and perhaps not. Who cares? This is the good old stuff, created and re-created lovingly."

POP GROUP, THE: Y CD (WPCR 722). $26.00

Japanese-only reissue from 1996 of this classic 1979 UK release. Originally issued by RadarScope, this CD includes the A-side of their first single, "She Is Beyond Good And Evil". The Pop Group were: Gareth Sager, Bruce Smith, Mark Stewart, Simond Underwood and John Waddington. Historic production handled by Dennis Bovell (ala the Slits debut album). "When The Pop Group first came onto the scene in late 1978 they were being hailed in the UK press as one of the saviours of rock and roll, and with good reason as the group's music made almost everything being created at the time seem old hat over night. The Pop Group's debut single 'She Is Beyond Good and Evil' released in 1979 was an instant classic and one of the landmark recordings of the 1970's, it was a seething tense piece of aggressive funk/punk/dub/free jazz that demanded attention. It sounded like nothing in the world at the time of it's release and gave me the same feeling as when I heard Public Image Ltd.'s first single, it seemed to hint at endless possibilities for rock and roll. After playing Y you wonder how the group ever hoped to top it, they never did, but their second album (We Are Time) was great as well but just not as good as Y, few albums are. The Pop Group finished in 1981 and splintered into groups like Rip, Rig and Panic, The New Age Steppers and most importantly Mark Stewart and Mafia; Stewart really carried the flame from the original Pop Group and much of his work with Mafia is on par with the best of The Pop Group yet his records have been totally ignored." — Dave Furgess (from Julian Cope's Headheritage). Tracklisting: She is Beyond Good and Evil, Thief of Fire, Snowgirl, Blood Money, We Are Time, Savage Sea, Words Disobey Me, Don't Call Me Pain, The Boys From Brazil, Don't Sell Your Dreams.

WARNING LABEL:

ROMANS, THE: You Only Live Once CD (WLR 001 CD). $8.00

2002 reissue, low priced. "The Romans were one of Los Angeles' first super-groups with members of the budding art/punk scene sweeping Southern California in the early 80's. With members from Human Hands, Monitor, BPeople, Deadbeats, 45 Grave, Consumers, Tikis, the LAfMS and Green On Red, The Romans added a unique voice to the 'LA Punk' movement. While the explosive chemistry of The Romans was short lived, with only 2 full-length LPs ever recorded, band members went on to make rock history with Mazzy Star and Opal. On the debut release, The Romans were Mikey Borens, Pat Delaney, Juan Gomez, Keith Mitchell, and Michael Uhlenkott, and was engineered by the legendary Paul Cutler. Digitally re-mastered from the original analog tapes under the supervision of founding member Juan Gomez, this is the first time The Romans debut 1983 LP, You Only Live Once has ever been available on CD. In addition to the entire first LP there's exclusive early demos, live tracks and ultra-rare soundtrack cuts from the 80's horror cut classic The Hideous Sun Demon. You Only Live Once is equal parts of Punk, Surf and Psychedelic."

URINALS: What Is Real and What Is Not CD (WLR 002 CD). $13.00

"The Urinals are back with a brand-new release, marking their 25th year of playing a truly unique brand of punk rock. The Urinals formed in 1978 during the Southern California punk explosion that spawned such stalwarts as Black Flag, X, Circle Jerks, Germs, and TSOL. The Urinals' originality and unique minimalist sound allowed them to share bills equally with hardcore, pop, and art-punk bands such as the aforementioned X, Black Flag, and Circle Jerks, as well as the Go-Go's, Minutemen, Roky Erickson, Savage Republic, The Last, and The Misfits. What Is Real And What Is Not features 15 new recordings and positions the Urinals back on top of the underground music scene they helped spawn a quarter century ago. This CD will appeal to both fans of classic punk as well as enthusiasts of post- and pop-punk. Punk is more popular than ever thanks to a new generation of bands carrying on the flame. But why settle for the watered down version when you can have the real thing?"

URINALS: Negative Capability CD (WLR 003CD). $13.00

"Now in their 25th year, what better time to reissue this collection of songs that inspired a generation of punk, art-punk, post-punk, and pop-punk bands, from the Minutemen and Gun Club to Yo La Tengo and Butthole Surfers, in addition to newer bands such as The Dishes, The Reds, and ST-37. A 31 song collection featuring such Urinals classics as 'I'm a Bug', 'Black Hole', and 'Ack Ack Ack', in addition to a selection of madcap covers such as the 'Jetson's Theme', and songs by Soft Machine and Roky Erickson. Recordings were made between 1978 and 1980, during the heyday of American punk. Includes the complete Urinals, Another EP, and Sex/Go Away Girl 7-inch material, 3 tunes from long out-of-print compilations, several unreleased studio and rehearsal pieces, and samples from the band's archive of live tapes, including their very first performance as a three-piece."

WARP RECORDS (UK):

V.L.A.D.: Motion CD (WAP 130 CD). $9.00

Debut single by this new Warp signing. Very minimal info provided, but it's been suggested that "sounds very electro/electronic. All the people that buy Autechre/Chocolate/Schematic should be interested." The following background information lifted from www.vladtronic.com: "V.L.A.D.'s music emerges from the death throes of new wave and electro-body-music... Awakening to music as early as the late eighties, young Vlad took up metal culture, clutching his guitar and setting on a long solitary journey. The road was clearly mapped out for a future guitar hero with long hair and a studded leather-jacket but preferring the companionship of machines to humans, he endeavored in a basement to mix heavy riffs with robots-like sequences. He went as far as producing a solo album in Tampa, Florida, together with Scott Burns. The only mark he preserved from that period was the hairstyle of the head-banger lurking in him. He was indeed very much influenced by such delirious hairy groups as Obituary, Mr Bungle or Suffocation, who produced the darkest alloys and there only remains in him the substance of those electronic sounds, anonymous ones that were however ubiquitous in the media, mangas or video games. In 1996 he gave up his guitar and started working on a sampler, basic gear that has remained at the heart of his work. His tunes thus evolved with the synths he lay his hands on, with sounds of the 80s, very much like those of video games. In late 1998 he set up his own studio in a shop selling toys, comics and other artifacts of pop culture, again in a basement. The music of electronic Vlad is naturally marked by this digital world teeming with mechas and sci-fi creatures, as if >Yellow had composed the score of the mythical game Bomberman. In fact, Vlad's tunes are often based on unrestrained tempos with electro sounds typical of Human League, New Order or Fad Gadget, but 'what's bred in the bone will come out in the flesh' — his metal roots regularly emerge through an undeniable obsession with nerve-racking and distorted sounds a typical feature of the most experimental drum'n'bass German productions. With this universe both schizophrenic and epileptic, V.L.A.D. has become one of the new french producers whose works are today in demand by such different people as the Paris label Artefact the Angstrom compilation or even Warp."

AUTECHRE: Anti EP CD (WAP 054 CD). $9.00

"Outing from 1994, all music exclusive to this release. Contains the tracks 'Lost', 'Djarum', and 'Flutter' and rails against questionable policies under litigation in era Britain thusly: 'Warning. Lost and Djarum contain repetitive beats. We advise you not to play these tracks if the Criminal Justice Bill becomes law. 'Flutter' has been programmed in such a way that no bars contain identical beats and can therefore be played at both forty five and thirty three revolutions per minute under the proposed new law. However we advise DJs to have a lawyer and musicologist present at all times to confirm the non repetitive nature of the music in the event of police harassment'. Clocking in at just under 25 minutes, this one of the best examples of Booth/Brown's collaborative foray into techno's outer digital fringes." — Hrvatski.

APHEX TWIN: Ventolin CD (WAP 060 CD). $9.00

First part of a 2-part single, a definitive artifact in the sound of 1995 sweepstakes. These singles were once available as a very cheap Sire US combo 12-track CD single, but that version is now deleted & these original UK Warp versions are the only way to go at this time. Tracklisting: "Ventolin (Phaze-an-Beeble Mix)", "Ventolin (Marazanova Mix)", "Ventolin (Plain-An-Gwarry Mix)", "Ventolin (The Coppice Mix)", "Ventolin (Crowsmenegus Mix)".

APHEX TWIN: Ventolin (The Remixes) CD (WAP 060R CD). $9.00

The 2nd part, remix EP. Tracklisting: "Ventolin (Wheeze Mix)", "Ventolin (Carharrack Mix)", "Ventolin (Probus Mix)", "Ventolin (Cylob Mix)", "Ventolin (Deep Gong Mix)", "Ventolin (Asthma Beats Mix)".

APHEX TWIN: Donkey Rhubarb CD (WAP 063 CD). $9.00

Classic 1995 4-track EP. Features: "Donkey Rhubarb," "Vaz Deferenz," "Icct Hedral (Philip Glass Orchestration)," & "Pancake Lizard".

AUTECHRE: Anvil Vapre CD (WAP 064 CD). $9.00

DISJECTA: 1.2: Looking For Snags 12" (WAP 068Z). $9.00

FREEFORM: Prowl 2x12" (WAP 073). $10.00

Double vinyl version.

FREEFORM: Prowl CD (WAP 073 CD). $9.00

Classic 1996 IDM abstraction from Simon Pike, who has also recorded for Musik Aus Strom, Skam and Worm Interface. One of the standout obscurities buried in the Warp catalog.

APHEX TWIN: Girl/Boy CD (WAP 078 CD). $9.00

1996 EP featuring "Girl Boy (NLS Mix)", "Milk Man", "Inkey$", "Girl Boy (Snare Rush Mix)", "Beetles", "Girl Boy (Red Ruth Mix)".

INK, MIKE: Polka Trax CD (WAP 082 CD). $13.00

Forty-three minute EP that compiles 7 of the 8 tracks on WAP 81 & 82 12" EPs. It's a somewhat obscured fact by now, but Germany's Mike Ink was briefly aligned with Warp in 1996, releasing these two classic EPs. "Paroles" is a heavy, near-ravey acid anthem from Mike, and get's remix treatment from Autechre, T-Power and Ink himself (in his more typical minimal style — as refined over numerous releases on Profan, Studio One, etc.).

AUTECHRE: Envane 12" (WAP 089). $9.00

Small restock of this long o/p single.

AUTECHRE: Envane CD (WAP 089 CD). $9.00

CD EP that collects the 4 tracks found on the 2 different "Envane" 12" singles. The magnificent precursor to 1997's classic album, Chiasitic Slide.

SQUAREPUSHER: Vic Acid 12" (WAP 090). $9.00

"The second post Stereotype/Rumble/Spymania/Worm Interface/Rephlex effort from one Thomas Jenkinson, aka Alroy Road Tracks/Chaos AD/etc., following Port Rhombus. All of the jam-session-with-Billy-Cobham aesthetic remains in tact, only this time Jaco sits out, favoring the tabletop version of 'Centipede' in the corner. There's a certain present affinity for the summer of love's 303-as-god sound, applied in droves on such Jenks classics as 'The Barn' (303 Kebab) and 'Fat Controller' (G7000 Remix). Centering in on the sort of post-rhythm-as-rump-shaker manifesto he decidedly goes for later on." —Hrvatski

SQUAREPUSHER: Big Loada 12" (WAP 092). $11.00

"7 tracks. Higher IDM quotient than previous releases (audible in the melancholic swirls of melody-sound), but with the stick-tub-amp ratio on full. The indecipherable voice overs (notably, MC Twintub's 'Contribution' to 'Full Rinse', sure to bring a tear to Conrad's eye...) and overall blown sonics succeed in leaving your scalp more than agitated. More Amen/Lyn/soul pride grappling than allowed by Federal law. Much denser and more ear-pleasingly brilliant than previous efforts, the one to start with." —Hrvatski

APHEX TWIN: Come To Daddy 12" (WAP 094). $9.00

UK-only vinyl of this 1997 4 track EP. Features "Come to Daddy" (Pappy Mix), "Flim", "Come To Daddy" (Little Lord Faulteroy Mix), "Bucephalus Bouncing Ball".

APHEX TWIN: Come To Daddy CD (WAP 094X CD). $13.00

1997 8 track EP. Features "Come to Daddy" (Pappy Mix), "Flim", "Come to Daddy" (Little Lord Faulteroy Mix), "Bucephalus Bouncing Ball", "To Cure A Weekling Child, Contour Regard", "Funny Little Man", "Come To Daddy (Mummy Remix)", "IZ-US".

AUTECHRE: Cichlisuite 12" (WAP 096). $9.00

Limited restock of this 1997 single.

AUTECHRE: Cichlisuite CD (WAP 096 CD). $9.00

Brilliant 1997 followup to their Chiasitic Slide album. 30-minute EP, 5 tracks on 1 CD or broken up into 2 12"s.

MIRA CALIX: Pin Skeeling CD (WAP 097 CD). $9.00

Lush IDM genius from the illustrious DJ Chantal, produced in collaboration with Disjecta. Totally dream-infested Warp-generation electronic tracks, distantly submerged vocal distortions and perfectly oblique atmospherics. The next superstar emission from the Warp stable. "Mira Calix follows up her cult classic 'llanga' with Pin Skeeling, a four track piece of singy songy techno guitar beat weirdness that defies gravity. The release includes a remix by new label mates Boards of Canada. Some information: Mira Calix is a cool name. 'Pin Skeeling' is what happens when you're up late with friends and you get your words mixed up. Mira Calix is Chantal Passamonte, a South African Deejet who speaks Italian and collects shiny things and rare trainers. Mira Calix is currently making music for her special friends in her very cold bedroom, she misses the sunshine. The music will be put on long playing record sometime in the future."

PHOENECIA: Randa Roomet CD (WAP 098 CD). $9.00

Debut 30 minute EP release by this US duo. "Somory" opens the EP in fine style. Like Autechre meets Miami Bass, with layers of clanking electronica slowly building into a shuffling, twisted groove. 'Y-Interpntk' takes warped hip hop beats and pushes them through a seamless furrow towards a stomping, deformed finale. 'Thong' sees the frequency oscillators set to low; a myriad of analogue squelches interlocking with interplanetary rhythms. Final track 'Can' sees the boys back in Autechre territory, all bleeps, blaps and bloots and steam engine drum patterns. Phoenicia are Josh Kay and Romulo Del Castillo. They hail from Miami and normally record on the Schematic label with fellow artists Takeshi and Push Button Objects."

VA: We Are Reasonable People CD (WAP 100 CD). $19.00

"Insanely/tortuously hyped centennial marker piece from arguably the world's finest society of bedroom growth engineers/vertical-dancefloor oddniks and the label that represents them. Legally, 12 hither-to-fore unreleased efforts from Squarepusher/AFX (yes, that's Jenks AND Dicky-Twin collaborating channel-for-channel on the same five-minute-and-forty-two-second nugget), Boards of Canada (another beautiful example of post-fidelity sound research), Autechre, Plaid, Mark Bell (of LFO), Two Lone Swordsmen (first track back at Warp), Red Snapper, Broadcast, Nightmares on Wax, Jimi Tenor, Mira Calix, and (new signings) Plone (described as 'a band who realized that Kraftwerk were right and that key-boards should be played live by men standing in a line, but they quite like the meandering melodies and arrangements of Morricone'). Painfully worthwhile audio, bandaged in a career-topping Designers Republic sleeve/booklet. Cracker." —Hrvatski

MAX TUNDRA: Children At Play CD (WAP 101 CD). $9.00

"The first ever recording from London's Max Tundra (aka Ben Jacobs). The title track 'Children At Play' is a 12-minute extravaganza, fusing twisted breakbeats to Squarepusher style beats and rhythms before slipping into a gorgeous analogue coma. 'Clive's Folly' is more Warp genius, like LFO on an urban health farm, with stripped down metallic grooves and techno driven synths that coil their way around the fucked up beats."

B12: 3EP 12" (WAP 102). $9.00

12" vinyl version.

B12: 3EP CD (WAP 102 CD). $9.00

"B12 return with their own brand of beautiful digital space funk, 3EP. This is their first release since their 1996 LP Time Tourist (and first ever single). Experimenting with breaks and beats, B12 has come up with three tracks of top techno with beautifully intricate background melodies that slowly creep up on you. B12 have previously released two albums, Electric Soma and Time Tourist for Warp, along with tracks appearing on both of the label's acclaimed Artificial Intelligence comps."

RED SNAPPER: Bogeyman 12" (WAP 104). $9.00

12" version.

RED SNAPPER: Bogeyman CD (WAP 104 CD). $9.00

"The first single to be lifted from their excellent Making Bones album. A proper call to arms. Aimed straight at your jugular, Red Snapper are back and it feels good. 'Bogeyman' is a slice of rolling, brassy, funk with that real Snapper twist. Joining the hardcore trio of Richard Thair (drums), David Ayers (guitar) and Ali Friend (double bass), trumpet intelligence is supplied by the legend Byron Wallen. The result is distinctive and utterly infectious." Includes remixes by David Holmes and Two Lone Swordsmen.

RED SNAPPER: The Sleepless CD (WAP 108 CD). $9.00

"The second single to be taken from the forthcoming Making Bones long player. 'The Sleepless' introduces the lyrical might of MC Det. You may remember Det from his days as an integral part of the S.O.U.R. roster, or on the seminal East London pirate Kool FM with DJ Brockie, or more recently on occasion on Radio 1's 'One In The Jungle'. Here he showcases his amazing vocal dexterity, forging an incredible partnership with the Snappers. Continuing to work with the finest and most innovative remixers around, the single has also been given the remix treatment by the notorious Shut Up & Dance duo. The results are fantastic."

RED SNAPPER: Image Of You CD (WAP 111 CD). $9.00

"The beautiful new single, taken from the album Making Bones, features remixes by Shut Up & Dance, Rae & Christian and Salt City Orchestra." This CD version features 3 mixes of "Images of You": Manna Radio Edit, Shut Up & Dance Vocal Mix, Rae & Christian Vocal Mix.

AUTECHRE: Peel Sessions 12" (WAP 112). $9.00

UK-only vinyl version (CD is on Nothing in the US); limited stock available. "Autechre release the first in a series of classic John Peel Sessions that have been recorded over the past four years. This session is comprised of three exclusive tracks recorded in August 1995."

BLACK DOG, THE: Peel Sessions CD (WAP 115 CD). $9.00

"Warp release the third in the series of Peel Sessions, Black Dog recorded in December 1994 before the release of Spanners. Four of these tracks are exclusive: 'Shadehead', 'Rise Up', 'Simperton' and 'Rue' whilst the final track is a re-working of 'Psil-Cosyn' from Spanners. These tracks are a true representation of the their pure form as Black Dog before the split which saw Plaid move forward in an alternative direction to Ken Downie as Black Dog."

SLUM: Twilight Mushroom 7" (WAP 117). $5.00

7" debut release. Soft, dreamy vocal pop, somewhat akin to something like Broadcast (vs. much of the rest of the Warp catalog).

PLAID: Peel Sessions 12" (WAP 119). $9.00

UK-only vinyl of the 4th in this series of Warp Peel Sessions EP (CD is available in the US via the Nothing label). Features four tracks: "Scoobs," "Eph," "Bo-Bootch," & "Cold".

TENOR, JIMI: Total Devastation 12" (WAP 121). $9.00*TWO LONE SWORDSMEN: A Virus With Shoes CD (WAP 126 CD). $13.00

"Two Lone Swordsmen follow on from last years' album Stay Down with the release of two records, this one and Receive Tactical Support. A Virus With Shoes is a brand new 8 track EP mixing a more hip hop sound with Two Lone Swordsmen's trademark electronics." These releases are exclusive to Warp and are not licensed to the US.

V.L.A.D.: 12" (WAP 130). $9.00

12" vinyl version.

CALLAGHAN, JOHN: You've Got Your Memories, I've Got My Dreams 10" (WAP 137). $9.00

"John Callaghan, onetime postman and nude artist's model, follows his 1998 7" release 'I'm Not Comfortable Inside My Mind' with a new 6 track 10" EP."

MIRA CALIX: Peel Sessions 12" (WAP 140). $8.00

12" vinyl version.

MIRA CALIX: Peel Sessions CD (WAP 140 CD). $8.00

Five track EP in the Warp series of Peel Session releases. Featuring: "Ithanga (Eccelsall Mix)", "She Keeps Her Secrets", "Listless", "Only" and "A Pinprick Away". Recorded 09/03/00.

BROADCAST: Extended Play Two 12" (WAP 141). $8.00

"Following on from The Noise Made By People album released earlier this year, Broadcast return with an EP which captures the mood of their much talked about live shows. Including the standout track from their set, 'Unchanging Window/Chord Simple' recorded in its seven minute glory and 'Drums on Fire', another sensational live track which is much sought after since appearing on a very limited DJ promo earlier in the year. Also includes three exclusive new tracks." UK pressing; CD (and even the 12") is out in the US on Tommy Boy.

VA: Artificial Intelligence CD (WAP 06 CD). $15.00

The seminal 1992 CD compilation that jump started the whole IDM wave. Featuring classic tracks by: The Dice Man (Aphex Twin), Musicology (B12), Autechre, I.A.O. (Black Dog), Speedy J, UP! (Richie Hawtin) & Dr. Alex Paterson (Orb). Although this is available in the US as a domestic CD on Wax Trax, a) this UK version is mid-line & comparable in price to the US edition and b) Wax Trax kinda sucks and people ought to be glad the opportunity to spend an extra buck and get this authentic version. The funny but serious manifesto reads: "electronic music for the mind created by trans-global electronic innovators...Real people whose unity lies in a common sound + spirit and whose 'listening' music' cannot be described as either soulless or machine driven. The atmosphere and emotion both come from the musicians, their machines are merely the means to a human end."

AUTECHRE: Incunabula CD (WAP 17 CD). $15.00

The debut full length from the duo of Sean Booth & Rob Brown, originally issued in 1993 as one of the final installments in Warp's Artificial Intelligence series. Also available on Wax Trax in the US; this is the mid-line UK original. Autechre would follow this up with Amber, Tri Repetae, Chiastic Slide and the most recent LP5 — a perfect progression of electronic sound imagery, from the ambient-scape, lushly atmospheric moodiness of the early works to the crunch-process specification that has become so insanely detailed on the immaculate 4th & 5th albums.

KIRK, RICHARD H.: Virtual State CD (WAP 19CD). $19.00

Previously issued on Wax Trax.

APHEX TWIN: Selected Ambient Works Vol. II 2CD (WAP 21 CD). $22.00

"Immensely favorable import pressing featuring one extra track to the domestic on Sire (a 4:31 track on disc 1 commonly referred to as 'hankie'). This is Richard James's first proper foray (the prior Selected Ambient Works 85-92 volume on R&S is actually a collection of trance/pre-IDM style club-tech workouts) into the realm of conservatory composition with rest stops at Glass/Reich/Eno as well as the tonal minimalism of Ligeti/Penderecki, all with the pleasantries of an Englishman. Serious concreté elements at play. This is the one that bridged the gap. Two CD's (one being 80 minutes, the other being 76. Somewhat of a 'bargain'). Losing consciousness never involved fewer steps..." —Hrvatki.

LFO: Advance CD (WAP 39 CD). $19.00

Second and final LFO (Low Frequency Oscillation) album from 1996. LFO were Mark Bell and Gez Varley and their 1991 debut Frequencies was a groundbreaking techno underground classic. Advance features dark, anthemic, throbbing techno occasionally of a near industrial velocity.

JAKE SLAZENGER: Das ist ein Groovybeat, ja CD (WAP 42 CD). $19.00

Classic electro-lounge diversions from Mike Paradinas (aka µ-Ziq), circa 1996. His second (and last?) album under this moniker, following 1995's Makesaracket on Clear. Less reckless racket than µ-Ziq, Mike's output as Jake Slazenger mixes exotic slow breakage & twinkling cosmic funk euphoria into a unique instrumental electronic-fusionistic flow.

APHEX TWIN: Richard D. James LP (WAP 43 LP). $17.00

UK-only vinyl of this classic 1996 album (CD is on Sire in the US).

VA: Blech II CD (WAP 44 CD). $17.00

1996 Warp mix-CD of classics and unreleased tracks, mixed by Ninja Tune's PC & Strictly (Blech I was theoretically a cassette-only release and has never been commonly available). Features unreleased bits from Plaid, Jimi Tenor, Mira Calix, plus an assortment of tracks from Autechre, Aphex, LFO, Nighmares on Wax, Freeform, Black Dog, Mike Ink, Squarepusher, etc. An essential IDM document, either as an intro to the Warp universe, or for the fully committed Blechdötrir.

PLAID: Not For Threes 2LP (WAP 54 LP). $19.00

The first readily available full length from the post-Black Dog duo known as Plaid (Ed Handley and Andy Turner). CD is on Nothing in the US. This was one of 1997's strangest, most eye-enhancing post-techno electro-lush excursions, featuring lovely vocal guest spots from Nicolette, Bjork, Mara Carlyle and Leila Arab.

AUTECHRE: LP5 2LP (WAP 66 LP). $19.00

UK-only double vinyl version. CD is on Nothing in the US, simply referred to as Autechre. The fifth album from Manchester's duo of Sean Booth and Rob Brown is Autechre's most detailed and insane collection of electronic specification. Number crunching at a new fully realized peak, sledding past the masses of insignificant humanity at an alarming rate. Some people have been waiting their entire life for just this album. Exponentially the next step from Incunabula, Amber, Tri Repetae & and it's most significant forebearer, Chiastic Slide. One of the records that defined 1998.

BOARDS OF CANADA: In A Beautiful Place Out In The Country 12" (WAP 144). $6.00

12" version.

BOARDS OF CANADA: In A Beautiful Place Out In The Country CD (WAP 144 CD). $6.00

"This four track EP marks the return of Boards of Canada. Recorded in their turquoise hexagon sun studio in Scotland's Pentland Hills, it is their first new material for 18 months."

MIRA CALIX: Prickle EP 12" (WAP 145). $6.00

12" vinyl version.

MIRA CALIX: Prickle EP CD (WAP 145 CD). $6.00

q"Like Chantal Passamonte (aka Mira Calix)'s Peel Session, this material was recorded after her exodus from Sheffield to more pastoral digs in the English countryside. Perhaps, that's what makes her music so beguiling, that sort of everyperson quality that holds a little something for everyone. Maybe, it's the spectral forces that pull her work to and from between airy expanses to percussive claustrophobia. Regardless, it can leave the listener vacillating between feelings of meditative solitude and edgy loneliness, something to which anyone can relate."

SQUAREPUSHER: My Red Hot Car 12" (WAP 147). $6.00*SQUAREPUSHER: My Red Hot Car CD (WAP 147 CD). $6.00

"Tom Jenkinson has confounded fans and critics alike for his constant need to push his own abilities to the limit. After making a relatively big splash with his US debut, Big Load (a brilliant collection of programming virtuosity that harnessed the combined energies of drum 'n' bass and rave), Jenkinson then retorted with an album that challenged his fanbase to follow him on a one-man fusion jazz voyage, devoid of ANY of the technological pyrotechnics of previous releases. Selection Sixteen saw a return to machines, but with a darker, more subdued tone. Which is what makes the lead single from his upcoming album so mindbendingly delicious. 'My Red Hot Car' hearkens back to the Big Load era, but is so stylistically groundbreaking and so unbelievably catchy, that we've been half-jokingly referring to it as 'THE HIT'. Synthetic basslines pulsate before giving way to a sinisterly seductive vocal from the man himself, beckoning you to an overwhelming breakbeat climax."

GALLO, VINCENT: So Sad 12" (WAP 149). $5.50

12" version features 1 side at 45 and the other size at 78 RPM!

GALLO, VINCENT: So Sad CD (WAP 149 CD). $5.50

New single post-When, only 1 track on the CD, total time: 2:16. "Vincent's musical world is so intensely heavy with mood that you'd think his delicate compositions would crumble under the weight. That they don't is a testament to their strength. 'So Sad' continues in the vein of his recent Warp debut album, When. His vocal delivery has been drawing comparisons to Chet Baker in its tenderness and unique timbre. His delivery is loosely wrapped in gentle jazz-inflected guitar figures and a lonely tom-tom cadence. As the lyric goes... 'so very blue(s)'. But, there's a warmth to song that will make you feel better by comparison. That's what the blues does for you."

AUTECHRE: Peel Session2 12" (WAP 150). $6.00

UK pressing, shrinkwrapped and priced for ease of American consumption.

AUTECHRE: Peel Session2 CD (WAP 150 CD). $6.00

"Autechre release their second session recorded for John Peel's Radio One show in the UK. This continues the series released by Warp which has seen sessions from Boards of Canads, Mira Calix, and Black Dog." Recorded 08/09/99. Tracks: "Gelk", "Bilfil", "Gaekwad" & "19 Headaches".

BROTHOMSTATES: Otio 12" (WAP 151). $5.50

6 track mini-LP version.

BROTHOMSTATES: Otio CD (WAP 151 CD). $5.50

"Brothomstates aka Lassi Nikko from Suomi, Finland is the latest signing to Warp Records." Designers Republic cover graphics.

SOMETHING J/DJ MAXXIMUS: Mercedes Bentley Vs Versace Armani 12" (WAP 152). $5.50 12" version.

SOMETHING J/DJ MAXXIMUS: Mercedes Bentley Vs Versace Armani CD (WAP 152 CD). $5.50

"Leave it to the Germans... Just like they did with the original Detroit innovation, the automobile, they've taken the motor city's latest export, ghetto tech, and made it a sleeker, more elegant beast. This thing thumps, bumps and rolls with the persistence, simplicity and repetitiveness that put Miami Bass and Detroit Ghetto Tech on the map. The only thing missing from this mutant strain is the smut, but, you really don't miss it since, you know... there's plenty of smut to go around already. We're not saying it's classier, just different. We don't have a catch-all phrase for this new, um, movement but please call us when you do, but be sure to turn down the subwoofer first."

ANTI-POP CONSORTIUM: The Ends Against The Middle CD (WAP 154 CD). $8.00

"There's something quite exciting about witnessing inspired innovation and that's what makes Anti-Pop Consortium so damn interesting to follow. Beans, Priest and Sayyid take electro and hip hop to places both never dreamt of going and it's definitely catching folks' attention. Call it an EP or a mini-album (but don't call it a single). The Ends Against The Middle is bold step forward and clearly shows that APC know there is more than one way to move a crowd. It will serve as a convenient warm-up for their brand new studio album set to drop in early '02."

ANTI-POP CONSORTIUM: The Ends Against The Middle 12" (WAP 154 EP). $8.00

12" version, same 7 tracks as the CD.

PREFUSE 73: The 92 Vs. 02 Collection CD (WAP 156 CD). $6.50

"Scott Herren's marriage of electronic glitch and hip hop rhythms combined into a seductive sound that caught the ears and imagination of both camps, making Vocal Studies & Uprock Narratives one of Warp's most critically lauded and most consistent sellers throughout the year. MCs, divas and even telephone messages were julienned into staccato bursts and served over a serving of downtempo instrumental tracks that were at times, heavy in mood or joyously playful. Since then, Scotty's been hard at work producing tracks for a number of MCs, remixes and simultaneously cranking out a new Prefuse album and one for his alter ego, Savath and Savalas (out on Hefty later this year). But, this is no odds 'n' ends catalog filler. The 92 VS 02 Collection shows a more self-assured creator expanding his palette and honing his craft. Tracks like 'Desks Pencils Bottles' show that inspiration can come from anywhere, you've just got to know where to look."

PREFUSE 73: The 92 Vs. 02 Collection 12" (WAP 156 EP). $7.00

12" vinyl version.

SOTE: Electric Deaf 12" (WAP 157). $5.50

12" version.

SOTE: Electric Deaf CD (WAP 157 CD). $5.50

"A mysterious new discovery found in the relatively remote wilds of Northern California. Tracks find their way to the London office and voilà: a banging new single of pounding bass and stroboscopic drums that is sure to impress the Warp faithful and heathen alike. Think Autechre meets Venetian Snares over at Squarepusher's for tea at 11:15 in the evening. Guaranteed to wake up the neighbors and keep your rodent population under control."

PLAID: P-Brane EP 12" (WAP 158). $7.00

12" version.

PLAID: P-Brane EP CD (WAP 158 CD). $7.00

"Four brand new tracks and (for CD purchasers) the new animated video for the lead track from Double Figure, 'Eyen.'"

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Know My Name #1 12" (WAP 159). $6.50

Three tracks: Know My Name (original version, instrumental version, Mark Pritchard mix).

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Know My Name CD (WAP 159 CD). $6.50

"The proverbial 'leadoff single,' 'Know My Name,' with its sassy soul diva bounce. Various formats will contain remixes from the likes of Paul Nice, Mark Pritchard, and Will I Am."

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Know My Name #2 12" (WAP 159R). $6.50

Three versions: Know My Name (Will I Am mix, Paul Nice mix, Harmonic 33 mix).

CLARK, CHRIS: Ceramics Is The Bomb CD (WAP 161 CD). $6.50

"Clarence Park was definitely one of the sleeper albums of past 3 years; it slipped out quietly in 2000 but has built a solid reputation ever since, gaining support from everyone from Autechre to Mogwai. Ceramics Is The Bomb has been his sound mature and solidified. Still there is a power of techno and the beautiful melodies, but now he has that one special thing that many people in electronic music cannot muster — his own sound."

CLARK, CHRIS: Ceramics Is The Bomb 12" (WAP 161 EP). $6.50

Vinyl EP version.

BROADCAST: Pendulum CD (WAP 162 CD). $6.50

"After a 3 year hiatus, Broadcast return with a spellbinding EP, perfectly showcasing their unique blend of power and sophistication. 'Pendulum', the lead and title track from this EP is one of the many highlights from the forthcoming summer album. Understated and powerful at the same time, a result of both Trish Keenan's haunting vocals and the majesty and depth of their production techniques."

BROADCAST: Pendulum 12" (WAP 162 EP). $6.50

Vinyl EP version.

PREFUSE 73: Extinguished CD (WAP 164 CD). $10.00

"The new 23 track, 39 minute EP proves that Herren has a reservoir of music flowing from him. He throws away the most hypnotic beats you've ever heard by stopping it after 30 seconds to move on to the next track. Lesser talents could base their whole career on a single one of these abbreviated sketches, but not Prefuse 73 — he has plenty to spare."

PREFUSE 73: Extinguished LP (WAP 164 LP). $10.00

LP version.

BEANS: Now, Soon, Someday CD (WAP 167 CD). $9.00

"The depth and weight of the beat on NSS shows that Beans production technique is maturing beyond all previous recognition while his rhymes are becoming more searching, revealing and autobiographical. By touching on human weakness and frailties, his music is opening up, and he is truly becoming a great wordsmith. The six brand new tracks are accompanied by staggering remixes from El-P and Prefuse 73, independent hip hops two greatest boundary pushers."

BEANS: Now, Soon, Someday 12" (WAP 167 EP). $9.00

9 track 12" version.

TEAM SHADETEK: Burnerism CD (WAP 170CD). $6.50

"Burnerism is the debut release of Team Shadetek on Warp records. The title refers to both the pyrotechnically abstract aesthetics of wild-style graffiti and the artists practice of allowing no tracks to escape their SHtBox studio unless they are tested and confirmed burning hot. Soze.sht and Zats One grew up in the same neighborhood in downtown Manhattan and started producing tracks together in 1999. Their early releases on their own Shadetek label along with recent releases on Kid606's Tigerbeat family of labels have been extremely well received around the world."

TEAM SHADETEK: Burnerism 2x12" (WAP 170EP). $6.50

Double Vinyl EP version; priced as a single 12"!

EDGAR, JIMMY: Access Rhythm CD (WAP 171 CD). $5.50

"Jimmy Edgar: is 19 years old, is 6'1", is from Detroit, has a 24 carat gold tooth, was playing Detroit raves alongside Juan Atkins, Kevin Saunderson and Derrick May by the time he was 15 years old, and can be found DJing and indulging his love of 4/4 techno most weekends, dropped out of fashion/design studies to make music, but continues to enjoy acclaim for his ongoing installations and artworks."

EDGAR, JIMMY: Access Rhythm 12" (WAP 171 EP). $6.50

Vinyl EP version.

SQUAREPUSHER: Venus No. 17 12" (WAP 172EP). $6.50

"This 12" only release features 3 tracks not included on the album, 2 of which are exclusive (the title track can also be found on the promo-only, limited 3" CDs that were distributed around the release of Ultravisitor)."

HOME VIDEO: That You Might 10" (WAP 173EP). $5.00

"Debut release from this newly signed Brooklyn based band. The sound is an exciting sign of Warp's new direction as a label. Drawing it's influences more from Depeche Mode and Smashing Pumpkins than Warp heroes like Aphex Twin and Squarepusher, Home Video has a chance of bringing Warp into new, wider circles. And that's not to say it's not electronically produced, but this is a pop, vocal act with songs, deep lyrics, and melodies."

AUTECHRE: Gantz Graf CD (WAP 256 CD). $6.50

Three track CD version (no videos).

AUTECHRE: Gantz Graf DVD/CD5 (WAP 256 DVD). $12.00

"How about Warp's first (of many) DVD release? Yep, this is the stuff of legends (and massive sales). Three new tracks and three videos in one. Let's talk about the three new tracks... excellent stuff. At times, angular and aggressive but not nearly as abstract as Confield. Dare I say it? Yeah sure: 'catchier.' Now, the DVD portion features all three AE videos, including the new one for 'Gantz Graf,' directed by Alex Rutherford, plus 'Second Bad Vilbel,' directed by Chris Cunningham and 'Basscadet' from JS Hunter." This version contains the above CD-5 plus a separate DVD with the videos.

AUTECHRE: Gantz Graf 12" (WAP 256 EP). $6.50

3 track 12" vinyl version.

AUTECHRE: EP7.1 12" (WAP 7.1). $9.00

11 tracks and 60 minutes long, spread over 2 separate 12"s. CD version is out in the US on Nothing (INTD 90999). "Five new Booth/Brown creations, known as 'Rpeg', 'Ccec', 'Squeller', 'Left Blank', and 'Outpt', done left-handed for a change of pace. 'Rpeg' is a 120 BPM track with a nice floating minor arpeggio. 'Ccec' is a 96 BPM track with random voice-overs (time compacted/DSP'ed, perhaps carnival/auction sourced). 'Squeller' is a 100 BPM track with some nice 60% swing-feel computer percussion. 'Left Blank' is a 137 BPM track with skittering drum sounds and alien synthesizer sounds. 'Outpt' is a 118 BPM track with varying droning, whooshing, and beat sounds. All are very, very nice and simple and should appeal to fans of (globally recognized organization) without completely alienating those of (contrasting specific beliefs). Were crimes of anti-progression (or inherent lack of self censorship) punishable by open means, perhaps included audio/visual designs would be something more of a 'festival of the senses' than a 'brisk walk home from the market'. 'What the world needs now...' — Hrvatski.

AUTECHRE: EP7.2 12" (WAP 7.2). $9.00

"Six more Booth/Brown studio labors, known as 'Dropp', 'Liccflii', 'Maphive 6.1', 'Zeiss Contarex', 'Netlon Sentinel', and 'Pir', the fruits of countless man-hours. 'Dropp' is a 98 BPM track with a nice hovering melancholic melody and some whooshing rhythms. 'Liccflii' is a 150 BPM track with stuttering percussion and some synthesized zaps and high ring modulated tones. 'Maphive 6.1' is a 140 BPM track with a confusing meter and some free-time percussion not completely unlike a computer would make. 'Zeiss Contarex' is a 82 BPM track with hovering pad-sounds and record scratch sounds. 'Netlon Sentinel' is a 158 BPM track with a half-time feel and squeaking synthesizer sounds. Finally, 'Pir' is a 115 BPM track with some very nice melancholic floating/folating triads that close the EP nicely. Perfect for fans of sound 'not performed by human beings on instruments, but by machines, or computers' (? Smithsonian Folkways). You'll have to spend a few months outside in the wilds of nature for a change, the decision's been made for you." — Hrvatski.

AUTECHRE: EP7 CD (WAP EP7 CD). $13.00

"UK Warp CD of the recent Autechre EP/Mini-LP/it's 70 fucking minutes long, by default an ELP) featuring an extended U&I systems Meta Synth study in the style of the Gescom MiniDisc NOT FOUND ON THE US NOTHING CD ISSUE, playable by starting track one & 'rewinding' (back queue-ing) past zero on the TAC to -9:45 (runs clear through -3:00, and if wormholes do not in fact exist, it's 6:45) long. And the randomly generated artwork, viewed through a slightly frosted jewel case, and you've got a damn superior version of a timeless IDM divider than the Reznor.com issue." — Hrvatski.

BOARDS OF CANADA: Geogaddi CD (WARP 101 CD). $12.00

"Boards of Canada withdrew from society four years ago after the release of their classic album Music Has the Right to Children. They have been working on music ever since, amassing over 90 songs, some of which can be heard on this new LP Geogaddi. The album has been worth the wait, not a 'child of the time' but a 'mother of the future,' an album that stands alone inspired by nature, mathematics and the 'disturbing side' of the human psyche, and has already been referred to by the NME as the record that they hoped Kevin Shields (of My Bloody Valentine) would have gone on to make after Loveless. Geogaddi is full of 'scientific psychedelic music' and the feeling that the sounds are barely in control, a definite step away from Music Has the Right to Children, whilst still maintaining the well-loved BOC flavour of beauty and childlike innocence."

BOARDS OF CANADA: Geogaddi 3LP (WARP 101 LP). $24.00

Triple LP version, very deluxe gatefold sleeve.

APHEX TWIN: 26 Mixes For Cash 2CD (WARP 102 CD). $20.00

"Here it is: a 26 track compilation of Aphex Twin's blinding remixes (plus two previously unreleased Aphex tunes). We know it's just devalued your precious 12" collection somewhat, but you can't blame us. Encompassing 10 years of always evolving, unpredictable Aphex Twin sounds, from acid tax and raved-up bangers to strangely commercial pop and his inimitably delicate, ambient empathies, 26 Mixes For Cash is a proper milestone, a greatest hits on the sly from the original leader of the dance music pack. The Aphex Twin way is to approach mixes more like 'fixes'. If a track was any good, it wouldn't need remixing, would it? This could explain the presence of Jesus Jones' 'Zeros and Ones', and why his Curve remix, released only as a single-sided 12", is renowned as a complete classic. It might also provide a clue as to why he has turned down remix requests from Bjork, Madonna, Limp Bizkit and Super Furry Animals to name just a few." Artists include: Seefeel, Gavin Bryers, Gentle People, Kinesthesia, Philip Glass, Buck Tick, Jesus Jones, Nav Katze, Saint Etienne, The Beatniks, Nine Inch Nails, Nobukazu Takemura, Die Fantastischen Vier, Phillip Boa & The Voodoo Club, Curve, Mescalalium United, Nine Inch Nails, Baby Ford, Meat Beat Manifesto, DMX Crew, Wagon Christ, and Mike Flowers Pops."

BEANS: Tomorrow Right Now CD (WARP 103 CD). $15.50

"Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the wonderful world of Beans, aka Mr. Ballbeam. Hip-hop rebel. Wordsmith extraordinaire. Sonic architect. Fashion renegade. Published poet. Culture star. With lyrical virtuosity, vanguard production that straight bangs, and one of the most unique and remarkable live performances around, Beans harkens back to the glory days when all it seemed to take was real talent, real passion and the desire to actually be real and simply shine. Raised in White Plains, NY and first picked up on in the mid-90s as part of the mythic Brooklyn Boon, Poetic collective and the word began to spread. Having achieved his widest acclaim as one-third of the legendary NYC progressive rap crew, Anti Pop Consortium, Beans continues his grand experiments in music and life with the release of his debut solo album, Tomorrow Right Now.

BEANS: Tomorrow Right Now 2LP (WARP 103 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

MIRA CALIX: Skimskitta CD (WARP 104 CD). $17.00

"A soul record. By a singer-songwriter. On Warp. Electronic music, but not as we know it. Its predecessor, OneOnOne, was red, but this is white. Beautiful, evocative, romantic, a 61-minute piece, or movement, with no spaces, no gaps, and lots of interesting noises conjured from unusual sources. Mira Calix says that Skimskitta, her new album, is all of the above. Controversially, she also considers it a guitar record. Hardly any of the 21 tracks, she says, are without some element of her battered Fender Stratocaster. Not that you can pick out big riffs or anything. Nor, even, could you really say that her time playing with Radiohead has necessarily taught her how to redefine guitar music. You'll also struggle to pick out the vocals. But they're there. Skimskitta is just Mira Calix, and just sounds like itself."

MIRA CALIX: Skimskitta 2LP (WARP 104 LP). $20.00

Double LP version.

PREFUSE 73: One Word Extinguisher CD (WARP 105 CD). $16.00

"Prefuse 73, also known as musical wiz kid Scott Herren, drops the highly anticipated follow up to 2001's seminal Vocal Studies and Uprock Narratives. The new LP, titled One Word Extinguisher, features an eclectic mix of futuristic, next-level productions. The Prefuse sound is undeniable and exceeds even the highest expectations. He is a multi-instrumentalist seen clearly in his Savath + Savalas incarnation where he plays guitars/bajosexto/guitarron/concertina/harmonium/cello/tamborine, drums, all strings and vocals) and that element of his talent seeps in deep with this new record. Herren is viewed by many other producers and DJs as a true innovator. He is on some way otherlevel with what he is doing now and the results are stunning and quite accessible."

PREFUSE 73: One Word Extinguisher 2LP (WARP 105 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

BROADCAST: Haha Sound CD (WARP 106 CD). $16.00

"Broadcast's full-length debut for Warp, The Noise Made By People, expanded the band's sonic template with allusions to soundtrack composers such as John Barry and Ennio Morricone, as well as '60s Los Angeles electronic pioneers the United States Of America. Haha Sound is the perfect follow up to The Noise Made By People. Trish Keenan's vocals have never sounded so dreamy and persuasive, a feat which is further glorified by her ability to replicate these achievements live. Not since Liz Fraser has a voice been used so effectively in becoming an instrument for the band her screams and wails becoming indistinguishable from the organized cacophony around her at times. Broadcast's uncanny mix of perfect, pop productions and darker, more sinister offerings make the band impossible to pigeonhole. The bright tracks sound like nursery rhymes for adults with underlying messages of love and adulation, while the darker tracks remind us that a big bad wolf might be lurking somewhere in the shadows."

BROADCAST: Haha Sound LP (WARP 106 LP). $19.00

LP version.

CLARK, CHRIS: Empty The Bones Of You CD (WARP 107 CD). $17.00

"Chris Clark sprang forth in 2001, with feisty, sparks flying techno rebelling against moments of dreamy, eerie sweet tunelessness on his mini-LP debut, Clarence Park. One thing was clear: there were two Chris Clarks at battle, with no clear winner emerging. The two sides of Chris Clark have duked it out over a couple of years, while the name Chris Clark spread like wildfire among the Warp faithful, creating a devoted worldwide audience. Still, it offered no firm clue on the direction Chris Clark would take. But finally — we have the proper, full length debut album, Empty The Bones Of You, and one side has come out on top."

CLARK, CHRIS: Empty The Bones Of You 2LP (WARP 107 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

REQ: Car Paint Scheme CD (WARP 108 CD). $16.00

"Old school aerosol artist, graffiti master, experimental hip hop visionary, Req has been tagged by others almost as many times as he's tagged himself. Attempts to pigeonhole either his art or his music, however, are consistently confounded by his innate ability to go off at a tangent. Even as a fledgling graffiti artist he was considered rather avant garde by his peers and this independent attitude is equally evident in his music. Req's latest album is Car Paint Scheme, a collection of outstanding warm, dubby Req gems. After releasing two albums for Skint, One (1997) and Frequency Jams (1998) Car Paint Scheme is Req's second album for Warp, following Sketchbook in 2002."

REQ: Car Paint Scheme 2LP (WARP 108 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

LFO: Sheath CD (WARP 110 CD). $17.00

"LFO hail from Leeds and were originally composed of Mark Bell and Gez Varley. Early in 1990 they met up, by chance, with the directors of Warp Records who, on the strength of a few rough demos, immediately signed them up. The importance of the early LFO records that followed cannot be overlooked. These records promoted the Detroit and Chicago sounds to the burgeoning European dance market and directly influenced future Warp greats such as Aphex Twin, Squarepusher and Autechre. Mixing hard hitting beats, destructive bass with infectious rhythms proved you could chart and still be cool. Gez and Mark decided to go their separate ways. Mark Bell retained the working name LFO and remains signed to Warp Records. After charting on the UK singles chart in 1990, LFO released their debut album, Frequencies. LFO released their second album, Advance, in January 1996. The third LFO album, entitled Sheath, is now released on Warp Records."

LFO: Sheath LP (WARP 110 LP). $19.00

LP version, die-cut sleeve.

AUTECHRE: Draft 7.30 CD (WARP 111 CD). $17.00

"Sean Booth and Rob Browns seventh album as Autechre. Draft 7.30, although just as progressive as any of their releases, offers up a mix of less hidden melodies over their most crunching beats since Basscadet and Tri Repetae."

AUTECHRE: Draft 7.30 2LP (WARP 111 LP). $19.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

VIBERT, LUKE: Yoseph CD (WARP 112 CD). $17.00

"It seems crazy when you think about it, but Yoseph is Luke Vibert's first ever release on Warp Records. Throughout his career, Luke has masterfully matched his natural creative bounce — the man can't help himself, he's been known to produce a track a day for months on end — with an ear for accessibility, and never more successfully than on Yoseph (note the 'pH' — which here refers to a table of bases, acids and very excited neurons). The logical conclusion to years of self-inflicted abuse within the genre of 'acid-techno', Yoseph is what you might call an acid renaissance album — timeless, perfect and sonically magical. A record for the mind that can cut it on the dancefloor (try to resist the raving lure of 'I Love Acid', 'Acidisco' or 'Synthax') Yoseph is a seriously addictive romp through fields of freshly home-baked acid, wrought with much love from loads of gnarly, vintage analogue synths and beautifully polished with meticulous Vibert production glow. It's the record Luke Vibert has always threatened to make."

VIBERT, LUKE: Yoseph 3LP (WARP 112 LP). $20.00

Triple LP version, UK pressing.

PLAID: Spokes CD (WARP 114 CD). $16.00

"Spokes marks a return in mood, if not production, to some of their earlier work in the 90s as The Black Dog, but retains the characteristic harmonic warmth and rhythmic sensibility they have developed as Plaid. Although unashamedly optimistic in parts, it reaches more melancholic and darker spaces than their recent outings on Warp (their last full length being 2001's Double Figure)."

PLAID: Spokes 2LP (WARP 114 LP). $19.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve, UK Pressing.

SAVATH & SAVALAS: Apropa't CD (WARP 115 CD). $16.00

"Savath & Savalas is Scott Herren (aka Prefuse 73) and Eva Puyuelo. After some months communicating via email while searching for a spot to live, Scott and Eva met at her house in Barcelona. Scott came from Atlanta searching for his roots and new winds. After immediately connecting in the spring of 2002 they exchanged impressions, ideas, different life styles and lots at music. They both share a passion for Brazilian music, the art of production (or lack of), very sad melodies and tortilla de patatas. What results is an album that is more like Spanish folk than any of Scott Herren's other productions."

SAVATH & SAVALAS: Apropa't LP (WARP 115 LP). $16.00

LP version.

SQUAREPUSHER: Ultravisitor CD (WARP 117CD). $14.50

"Suffice to say, Squarepusher's new album Ultravisitor has just upped the ante. From Tom Jenkinson's perspective, his challenge is to find the point of tension between his two loves — his all-time passion, playing the bass, at which his is a master, and the drums, alongside the satisfying mental absorption he finds in programming and sequencing on a computer. To hold these two divergent ideas in his mind at the same time, and imagine music that reinvents the intensity, depth of emotion and restrictive genre boundaries of musical language — welcome to the odyssey that is Ultravisitor."

SQUAREPUSHER: Ultravisitor 2LP (WARP 117LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

TWO LONE SWORDSMEN: From the Double Gone Chapel CD (WARP 119CD). $14.50

"'What the fuck are they up to now?' This is what Andrew Weatherall and Keith Tenniswood expect you to think when you play their new album. That's Weatherall singing. And Tenniswood playing guitar and bass, while a number of drummers take their turn on an old kit that was left for safe keeping in the basement studio. For Weatherall there was a dawning sensation that he wanted to break free from sterile, heavily processed, intellectual techno and electronica floating around and make something with more direct communication and soul. And whenever Weatherall starts feeling like's he had enough of techno, he always goes back to his roots in rockabilly, rock 'n' roll and dub. He understands that the visceral energy of any good dance music — his specialties being electro and techno — is the same as in a good rockabilly song. The same gut feeling that reacts with your head or feet. It's about making music WITH machines, not by machines."

TWO LONE SWORDSMEN: From the Double Gone Chapel 2LP (WARP 119LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

GRAVENHURST: Flashlight Seasons CD (WARP 120CD). $10.00

"Flashlight Seasons is the stunning new album from Gravenhurst, aka Nick Talbot, whose music chronicles tales from the darker side of life with a clarity of sound, voice and lyricism that is at times breathtaking, at others shocking, but never less than entirely involving. Gravenhurst's dark romanticism and lush production values call to mind such artists as Simon and Garfunkel, Jeff Buckley and My Bloody Valentine, while his delicate voice and picked guitar strings recall Nick Drake. Yet though he and Drake inhabit a largely pastoral setting, Gravenhurst's world is an altogether stranger one."

GRAVENHURST: Flashlight Seasons LP (WARP 120LP). $16.00

LP version.

AUTECHRE: Confield CD (WARP 128 CD). $14.50

"It's been over a decade since the duo of Sean Booth and Rob Brown met one another and, over the course of five albums and numerous EPs under the Autechre name (say aw-TECH-er) and their alter-ego, Gescom (say GES-com), they have simply reshaped modern electronic music as we know it. There are so many landmark releases from them that there's literally not enough space on this page to do them all justice. Electro, techno, hip hop, ambient, modern classical, geometry, chaos theory... Autechre harness these constructs, push them beyond their breaking points and recombine them into glistering creations. It's easy to get lost in the perception of amorphous beauty in some of their pieces, but there's a meticulous precision to all their work that makes it all the more striking."

AUTECHRE: Confield 2LP (WARP 128 LP). $14.50

Double LP version in full color sleeve; UK pressing, domestic US pricing.

RED SNAPPER: Reeled & Skinned CD (WARP 33 CD). $19.00

"1995 release of three previous vinyl-only EPs for Warp (Snapper, Swank, and Hot Flush). Features vocals by Beth Orton on two tracks as well as a remix by Andrew Weatherall's Sabres of Paradise. Nestled calmly between the early nineties acid jazz craze and contemporary dub excursions by the likes of the On-U sound crew, with nods to Headhunters-era Herbie Hancock, John Barry, Augustus Pablo, and all sorts of other crap." — Hrvatski

B12: Time Tourist CD (WARP 37 CD). $19.00

2nd album from 1996 of out-of-vogue lushness from these early Warp-label favorites. Heavily futuristic sound activity by the UK duo of Mike Golding and Steve Rutter. Comparable to Black Dog, Statis, early As One, etc.

RED SNAPPER: Prince Blimey 2LP (WARP 45 LP). $21.00

TENOR, JIMI: Sahkomies CD (WARP 47 CD). $15.00

"Warp re-issue of Jimi Tenor's debut LP, originally released as the first record on Sähkö subsidiary PUU ('wood' in Finnish; PUU releases are conceivably more 'human breath' oriented than Sähkö's 'electricity' themed abstractions) in 1994, containing one extra track, the 9-minute 'Union Ave III'. Jimi's become something of a figurehead in these post-lounge/exotica 'sexplosion' times, after recording at least 4 LPs for various Finnish labels (Bad Vugum/Sonic/Poko) w/ his band 'Jimi Tenor & the Shamans' and double as many solo excursions (and endless remixes/comps/collaborations, most notably the 'Kosmos' co-authoring agreement w/Pan(a)sonic's Mika Vainio and several different projects w/Can 'Khan/Bizz OD' Oral) featuring his skillful organ deployments (LOL!) over a casual backdrop of Ellington/Sun Ra charts. Enjoyably fuzzy & surprisingly 'outsider' despite what more sensible individuals will claim." — Hrvatski.

TENOR, JIMI: Intervention CD (WARP 48 CD). $19.00

1996 Warp debut full length, following his previous album for PUU (Sähkömies). A strange amalgam of lounge-funk, easy-listening, soul/jazz influence and Russian Moog abandon from Finland's man of the moment in the world of technoid exotica.

AUTECHRE: Chiastic Slide CD (WARP 49 CD). $12.00

Now at mid-line price! Autechre's 4th full length and one of 1997 most essential sound documents. Following up on 1993's Incunabula, 1994's Amber & 1996's Tri Repetae — the duo of Sean Booth and Rob Brown turned up the levels of intricacy in sound processing one notch further. Now regarded as the quintessential Warp recording artists, Autechre have advanced the possibilities of machine-coded music into all new parameters. Topped off by perfect Designers Republic graphics per usual.

AUTECHRE: Chiastic Slide 2LP (WARP 49 LP). $19.00

Repress of this long unavailable double vinyl version of the fourth album from 1997. Exquisite Designers Republic packaging.

SQUAREPUSHER: Hard Normal Daddy CD (WARP 50 CD). $11.50

Now available at mid-line price. "Much anticipated 2nd full-length from THE all time king-pin weirdstep progenitor, a good sequence of impossibly difficult rhythmic structure amidst some more subdued green-room mind-flood. Here, Jenks' special brand of ring-mod jazz and industrially-flared break-fuckery afloats him another plaque in the hall of the revered ones, alongside Luke Vibert's work as Plug, the entire output of the Worm Interface and Spymania labels (both of which he was an integral part), and the rest of the albeist post-Jenks 'Spunk Jazz' squad. Sleeved in a milieu of Johnny Clayton's (aka Rubber Johnny's) 3-bit

Atari-art." —Hrvatski

SQUAREPUSHER: Hard Normal Daddy 2LP (WARP 50 LP). $17.00

Double LP.

SQUAREPUSHER: Burningn'n Tree CD (WARP 53 CD). $11.50

Now available at mid-line price. Compilation of Tom Jenkinson's legendary early material for label Spymania label. Plus three new unreleased tracks.

SQUAREPUSHER: Burningn'n Tree 2LP (WARP 53 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

BOARDS OF CANADA: Music Has the Right To Children CD (WARP 55 CD). $12.00

Now reissued in the US on Warp, at mid-line price (originally co-released by Skam/Warp in 1998, later licensed to Matador for the US). Fold-out digipak artwork. "Debut album from the BoC commune, who operate from a bunker in the Pentland Hills in Scotland. Boards of Canada's emerging reputation for beautiful melodies has taken an infamous new turn, with rumours about their use of embedded messages in their recordings and live visuals."

BOARDS OF CANADA: Music Has the Right To Children 2LP (WARP 55 LP). $19.00

UK pressing of this 2LP, the classic 1998 album...

RED SNAPPER: Making Bones 2LP (WARP 56 LP). $21.00

SQUAREPUSHER: Music Is Rotted One Note LP (WARP 57 LP). $19.00

UK-only vinyl version of the 4th Squarepusher album from 1998. "Totally eschewing the concept of tempore linear composition, Jenks brings us an assortment of not-completely-un-Miles-like space-jazz sound-scapes (with TJ playing the DeJohnette, Zawinul, Holland, AND Macero roles without flinching, or developing carpal-tunnel syndrome) via multi-track recording technology and scattered computer post-processing. No breaks. No drum programming. Unreal. An amazing turn of events proving Tom to be a fairly proficient swordsman in a variety of post-prog-jazz roles. Likely to turn rave kids onto Sextant-era Herbie or some such wonder. Mental." —Hrvatski.

TENOR, JIMI: Organism LP (WARP 60 LP). $19.00

CD version is available via Sire in the US, vinyl is UK-only on Warp. Mika Vainio guests on "glue buzz" on the opening track, "Total Devastation".

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Carboot Soul CD (WARP 61 CD). $13.00

"Originally released in 1999, this classic album from Nightmares On Wax is back on Warp with three new tracks. The album includes the definitive version of 'Les Nuits' with a full orchestra, as well as many other popular down-tempo tracks such as 'Finer', 'Easejimi', and 'Ethnic Majority'."

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Carboot Soul 2LP (WARP 61 LP). $18.00

Double LP Version

HASWELL & MASAMI AKITA, RUSSELL: Satanstornado CD (WARP 666 CD). $17.00

"Masami Akita AKA Merzbow is most certainly one of the doyens of experimental noise in the whole world. He once made an exclusive CD sold welded into a Mercedes sound system and hired a club in Cambridge, England to play his music back to back in a dark room for 3 solid days where people could go and spend as much time as they wanted to really live the experience. Russell Haswell is a renowned artist in both London and New York; he has toured the world with Aphex Twin and supported Autechre on their US and European tours of 2001. His un-compromising sets laden with sex and aggression lost him many fans, but the ones he won will be faithful forever. Haswell is a man committed to the extremes in life; a love or hate type person. Satanstornado is probably the most extreme album ever released by Warp."

HASWELL & MASAMI AKITA, RUSSELL: Satanstornado LP (WARP 666 LP). $17.00

LP version.

VA: Warp 10+1: Influences 4LP (WARP 67 LP). $32.00

UK-only Warp pressing of this historic compilation. All 3 of these Warp editions have deluxe packaging, full color gatefold sleeves on the first 2. The vinyl edition omits 5 tracks off the CD: Nitro Deluxe, Model 500, Virgo Four, Juno & Phuture. Limited stock.

BOARDS OF CANADA: Twoism CD (WARP 70 CD). $14.50

"Remastered and recut, this nine track mini album will be available on CD for the first time, seven years after it's original, semi-mythical pressing on Boards of Canada's own label Music70. This esoteric release, limited to an exclusive hundred copies on vinyl, made it a most sought after contemporary item. A subtle precursor to the ground-breaking Music Has the Right to Children, Twoism gently maps BOC's twilight territory, exploring the themes that would later become unquestionably their own: bittersweet evocations of childhood, haunted pastoral spaces, contriving a detached perspective, or drift, through their grainy organic electronics."

BOARDS OF CANADA: Twoism LP (WARP 70 LP). $14.50

LP version.

TENOR, JIMI: Europa CD (WARP 71 CD). $15.00

"Warp re-issue of Jimi's second LP from the fall of 1995. A bit more hi-fi/thought-out (much higher make-out quotient, for sure) than the first, reading as some sort of roller-boogie/porn-funk soundtrack experiment gone horribly awry. Inspired monologues ("Yeah baby, I want to have sex with you, and no one else but you, tonight", etc...), chops (extended flute/sax/Moog solos), programming (the distant/elektro-ish 'Fantom' recalls the Sähkö sound the best), and other fine touches make it an INSTANT CLASSIC. Besides it's on Warp now. The Aphex Twin is on Warp. I've never seen them in the same place at the same time..." —Hrvatski.

SQUAREPUSHER: Selection Sixteen CD (WARP 72 CD). $12.00

No longer available in the US on the Nothing label. "Mr. Jenkinson returns with another storming mini album, Selection Sixteen. This release sees Tom returning to a more upbeat mood, mixing his amazing bass slapping antics with trademark Squarepusher acid lunacy. The release also includes four unlisted bonus tracks (same tracks found on the 10").

SQUAREPUSHER: Selection Sixteen 2LP (WARP 72 LP). $17.00

Released as a double 12" + bonus 10". "Mr. Jenkinson returns with another storming mini album, Selection Sixteen. This release sees Tom returning to a more upbeat mood, mixing his amazing bass slapping antics with trademark Squarepusher acid lunacy. The release also includes four unlisted bonus tracks (on the 10")."

MIRA CALIX: One On One CD (WARP 73 CD). $13.00

"Mira Calix's (aka Chantal Passamonte) debut album is back on Warp in the US with two bonus tracks including a gorgeous Boards of Canada remix. From the start it was clear that this was a new take on electronic music, one that reflecting her love of strung out, avant garde guitar blazers like Spaceman 3 and My Bloody Valentine as much as any techno influence. Richly steeped in her own, digitally tampered-with vocals, it followed no particular rulebook but was happy to rip out pages from all of them. One On One is a 16 track introduction that reveals for the first time the true breadth and variety of Chantal's vision, from the elongated, sun-kissed chords of its opening to the pummeling beat crunches of 'Skin With Me' and 'Isabella'. Using a mass of sometimes contradictory elements, of savage beauty and rough grittiness, sadness and euphoria, fragrant melody and rhythmic sweat, Chantal, or maybe even the little part of her that is Mira Calix, is redefining electronic music for a new generation."

MIRA CALIX: One On One 2LP (WARP 73 LP). $18.00

Double vinyl in full color gatefold sleeve.

PLAID: Trainer 2CD (WARP 74 CD). $16.00

Long anticipated compilation of early Plaid (and alter ego) tracks, only released in the UK via Warp (no US-license scheduled). It contains lots of their classic tracks (a total of 26) including everything from their impossibly rare debut LP Mbuki Myuki, as well as singles and comp tracks from the Black Dog Productions, Clear, Likemind, ART, Fuse and A13 labels. There are also 7 previously unreleased tracks. Feature tracks from: Plaid, Atypic, Balil & Tura. Recorded 1989 through 1995. Tracklisting: by Plaid: "Uneasy Listening", "Anything", "Slice Of Cheese", "Link", "Perplex", "Summit", "Bouncing Checks", "Yak", "Scoobs In Columbia", "Chirpy", "Fly Wings", "Tan Sau", "Android", "Angry Dolphin". By Balil: "Eshish", "North Route", "Whirling Of Spirits", "Choke And Fly", "Small Energies", "Uland". By Atypic: "Prig", "Blah", "Jolly". By Tura: "Letter", "Soft Key", "Reishi". Soft & eloquent non-jewel box packaging from Warp tops it all off. A set of desirable material which connects the dots from early acid house into the friendly clouds of ambient-influenced techno (ala Carl Craig or As One) into the roots of more contemporary electronic music. "Old school friends Ed Handley and Andy Turner first started working together in 1989. They helped formed Black Dog Productions and in 1991 released an album called Mbuki Myuki as Plaid. In addition to their work as Plaid they have released solo projects under the names Atypic, Balil and Tura and have collaborated with others on several albums under the pseudonyms The Black Dog and Repeat. Trainer is a selection of the duo's early releases with a few previously unreleased tracks thrown in for good measure."

PLAID: Trainer 3LP (WARP 74 LP). $23.00

Triple vinyl version in a very deluxe full color matte finish gatefold. Same 26 tracks as the double CD.

LIDELL, JAMIE: Muddlin Gear CD (WARP 75 CD). $15.50

"The solo debut album from one half of Super Collier, a split release between Warp and Spymania. Liddell's been very busy over the last few years, recording for Mosquito, Trash, Mille Plateaux, Loaded, etc... This record features his more experimental minded effort (close to the Trash stuff). Pretty insane all over, the sort of rampant electronic underworld action that eases no spirit, instead, full of rage, squirms through the vertebrae infecting the spine with little voltage ticks and oxygen bubbles, causing pre-death rigor mortis symptoms. Quite lovely in parts (esp. the Miles 69-73 emulative pieces), dastardly in others (much noise & grit). Not too many vocal tracks either (could see the inclusion of many such an issue, despite his vocal brilliance). Sort of needs to be heard to be believed. Believe it." —Hrvatski.

LIDELL, JAMIE: Muddlin Gear 2LP (WARP 75 LP). $15.00

Double LP version, with one bonus track not found on the CD.

TWO LONE SWORDSMEN: Tiny Reminders CD (WARP 77 CD). $15.50

"It's been a few years since the none-more-deep electro-minimalism of Stay Down, and Messrs Weatherall and Tenniswood have clearly been busy up at the Rotter's Golf Club. Busy having fun, from the sounds of it, because there's a definite sense of gleeful malevolence that scampers through this record, and a sharp, subtle humour that steers it clear of any pitfalls of brooding indulgence that may have lain in wait. Tracks like 'Brootle' and 'Neuflex' are pure dancefloor damage, whereas the twisted whistles of 'Rotting Hill Carnival' and kinky funk of 'Very Futuristic' are symptomatic of the afore-mentioned playfulness that mark this album out as the best thing the Lord of Darkness has presided over for some time. Andy and Keith are right back where they like it, on the outside and in the thick of it — unexpected, wielding all manner of musical weapons and ready to throw some serious spanners in the works. Death to all culture snitches, indeed."

TWO LONE SWORDSMEN: Tiny Reminders 3LP (WARP 77 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version.

MORRIS, CHRIS: Blue Jam CD (WARP 79 CD). $17.00

"Commercial document of Morris' short running (1997-1999) BBC radio 1 show, whose peculiar humorous slant has garnered a great many fans (seemingly exclusively drawn out amidst the electronica elite), placed him amongst the pantheon of great UK comic geniuses (har). While it's easy to see such gifted euphemisms as "Introduce me to Gladston (HELLO!)", "Cackle my Glads", "Green Spunky" (all BadSex2) work their way into the cubicle-speak genus, it's feasible the main appeal of this particular item lies within the choice of backing tones 'neath the constant 'commentary'; tracks from Aphex Twin, Labradford, Amon Tobin, Funki Porcini, Herbaliser, Maxwell Implosion, Brian Eno, Propellerheads, Jimi Tenor, Fila Brazillia, etc... Altogether pretty damn funny stuff, rather overtly awkward in places (i.e. 'Unflustered Parents') but mostly the sort of sthick you'd equate with the home-studio bofin/outcast lifestyle; detached and often a little too over-the-top/socially awkward. Riotous though, absolutely riotous." —Hrvatski.

GALLO, VINCENT: When CD (WARP 8087 CD). $19.00

Deluxe limited CD version, packaged in a mini-hardcover book-like sleeve.

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Mind Elevation 2CD (WARP 8095 CD). $20.00

Limited CD edition with deluxe fold-out digipack sleeve and a bonus instrumental retrospective mix CD.

BOARDS OF CANADA: Geogaddi CD (WARP 8101 CD). $21.00

Limited CD version, packaged in a deluxe hardcover sleeve (ala the Vince Gallo limited CD on Warp), with a 12 page booklet of digital triptych imagery.

VA: Warp:Routine CD (WARP 82 CD). $11.00

"As part of commencing the launch of our North American operations, we thought it might be a good idea to give everyone a chance to catch up on the recent past and get a jump on the immediate future. This compilation CD brings together some of the latest and greatest, highlighting the recent US releases and giving a sneak preview to Warp's busy future. It features a mix that runs the gamut of the label's roster: Boards of Canada, Autechre, Nightmares On Wax, Plaid, Two Lone Swordsmen, Squarepusher, Mira Calix, Jamie Lidell, Blue Jam and Prefuse 73 all put in an appearance." Mostly album tracks, but some of the more desirable moments includes Autechre's "Konlied Mx" (previously unreleased) and Plaid's "Booc" (long deleted 12" only release).

PREFUSE 73: Vocal Studies & Uprock Narratives CD (WARP 83 CD). $12.00

"Prefuse 73, unlike Brazil 66, is the work of a lone gun; a super-sharpshooter by the name of Scott Herren, though he's often mistaken for post-rock jazzbo Savath & Savalas (LP of Hefty last year) and digital subverter Delarosa & Asora (recent EP and LP on Schematic). On Vocal Studies... melancholy pre-fusion jazz passages (hence the name) are infused with punctuating vinyl drops while being brought to a boil over simmering beats and electronic glitchwork. Guest MC spots (from the likes of Aesop Rock, MF Doom, Mikah 9 and Sam Prekop) are deconstructed and re-animated into percussive instrumentation. Make no mistake about it, Prefuse 73 is where Scott Herren's passions truly flower. Vocal Studies... draws together elements from his alter-egos to craft a devastating blend of downtempo instrumental hip hop that opens a new vista for the genre to explore."

PREFUSE 73: Vocal Studies & Uprock Narratives 2LP (WARP 83 LP). $17.00

Double LP version, packaged in deluxe chipboard-styled gatefold sleeve.

PLAID: Double Figure CD (WARP 84 CD). $14.50

"The partnership between Andy Turner and Ed Hanley has been flourishing for over a decade now. Even before their stint as two-thirds of the seminal Black Dog Productions, the two of them were concocting a brew of crisp funky electro-hop together, as has been recently documented in the recent Trainer anthology of early material. As satisfying a treat the Trainer comp was, fans of the group are sure to delight in their brand new opus, Double Figure. Featuring some of their most ambitious work to date, the music can be seductively serene, combining catchy melody lines with brooding arrangements. At other times, it can be brutally kinetic, driven by pulsating sequencers and funky, frenetic breakbeats. Plaid have simply delivered their best album yet in the form of this 70-minute masterpiece."

PLAID: Double Figure 2LP (WARP 84 LP). $17.00

Double LP version in gatefold sleeve.

SQUAREPUSHER: Go Plastic CD (WARP 85 CD). $14.50

"Go Plastic is the record that folks have been waiting for... a more aggro, technologically-oriented outing. The incredibly catchy leadoff single, 'My Red Hot Car,' is revisited as a mind-bending two-step workout, Lee Scratch Perry style. Dub and d'n'b elements weigh in heavy on Go Plastic. Breaks rush by at the speed of light only to be tethered to some of Jenkinson's moodiest melodic work. Go Plastic is simply one of the most exciting, sinister records of the year."

SQUAREPUSHER: Go Plastic 2LP (WARP 85 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

CLARK, CHRIS: Clarence Park CD (WARP 86 CD). $12.00

"Clarence Park is the debut album from Chris Clark, a student from Bristol whose music teacher told him that if he ever bought a drum machine he would give up all hope in the development of Chris' talent and music ability. Chris promptly bought one just to spite him. Most people would think Chris' music is influenced by ravey techno, jungle, computer games and more abstract electronics. He thinks his music sounds like Prince and he doesn't really care what other people think. Well, maybe a bit. He cares about 5.34 per cent, so think Aphex Twin, Cylob, Squarepusher. We think this is something very special. Strangely melodic and melodically strange theme music for playing with the toys in your attic...or burying the bodies in your cellar."

CLARK, CHRIS: Clarence Park LP (WARP 86 LP). $12.00

LP version in full color sleeve. UK pressing, domestic US pricing.

GALLO, VINCENT: When CD (WARP 87 CD). $16.00

"What can you say about him that hasn't been said already? He's truly a renaissance man for which there are so few equals that I dare you to name one right now! I'm sure you're kinda scratching your head... Vincent? Warp?!? Well, it will all become clearer when you listen to When. Born in Buffalo, NY, Gallo left home at the age of 16 to live in NYC. It was there that he formed Gray, an experimental band co-founded with artist Jean Michael Basquiat. Gallo later went on to play in a succession of other notable bands, while composing and performing highly regarded soundtracks for underground movies during the eighties and nineties. Running concurrently with his music activities, Gallo also embarked on an acting career. Vincent's reputation was cemented with Buffalo 66, the 1998 movie that he wrote, directed, scored and starred. Gallo's film and acting careers have been put on hold for the past two years, allowing him to concentrate on music. When has all the hallmarks of Gallo's auteur approach to his other works. Recorded in his home studio (among his many passions, Vincent is a dedicated audiophile), he has written all the songs and played every instrument, as well as producing. When showcases the inventive instrumental work that he's incorporated into his soundtrack work. It's also the first album to showcase, in more depth, his distinctive vocals and delicate songwriting (only one vocal track on the Buffalo 66 soundtrack has previously surfaced). When will scramble your expectations."

BROTHOMSTATES: Claro CD (WARP 88 CD). $14.50

"One of the newest additions to the Warp family, Brothomstates has arrived fully-formed, after only one EP and a series of compilation tracks on European labels even more obscure than we. Hailing from Finland, Brothomstates is one Lassi Nikko and his debut album, Claro, is a startling opening salvo, confidently weaving airy atmospherics with frittering sequencing. Straddling the territories of Boards of Canada's melodicism and Autechre's rhythm experimentation, Claro will be a welcome addition to the collections of fans of the former, who are looking for a few more BPMs, and for those who have been sidetracked by the latter's more abstract sonic experiments."

BROTHOMSTATES: Claro 2LP (WARP 88 LP). $17.00

REQ: Sketchbook CD (WARP 89 CD). $15.50

"Req comes to us from Brighton where he attended the Skint Skool, releasing two previous albums (One and Frequency Jams) of some completely spaced out wall of old skool beats with brushes of techno/electro scribbles. Many of you may notice that he's got a different accent, well that's because Brighton is in England, far away across the Atlantic Ocean. But kids, I'm sure you'll be able to get along with Req just fine, as his parents tell me that he's well schooled in early American hip hop culture (pre-'King of Rock') with a specialty in graffiti art and disc jockeying."

REQ: Sketchbook 2LP (WARP 89 LP). $15.50

LP version.

THE OTHER PEOPLE PLACE: Lifestyles Of The Laptop Cafe CD (WARP 90 CD). $14.50

"Rumoured to have been penned by one half of Drexciya, Lifestyles Of The Laptop Cafe is one of the finest Detroit Flava'd LPs ever to have been released. And we mean ever. Up there with classic Carl Craig, Model 500, Drexciya et al. Drenched in warmth and groove, the opening moments of 'Eye Contact' creep in with mid-tempo, half-electroid funkiness so deep and mesmerising that the remaining 50 minutes of the LP seem to pass before you can even say 'Classic'. 'Moonlight Rendezvous' is so retro and so crisp that even those of you who didn't follow the Detroit scene will feel nostalgic for it. The standout track, however, has got to be 'Let Me Be Me' — with the vocal refrain of 'Let me be what I wanna be' and a dark, electroid squelch perfected into hip-shaking and addiction with utterly ridiculous levels of success. Much like the MSG you find in Chinese fast-food, 'lifestyles...' is deep and addictive in measures that should really come with a health-warning." [LP version forthcoming]

THE OTHER PEOPLE PLACE: Lifestyles Of The Laptop Cafe 2LP (WARP 90 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

TWO LONE SWORDSMEN: Further Reminders CD (WARP 91 CD). $13.00

"After serving up the brilliant electro main course of Tiny Reminders last autumn, Andrew Weatherall and Keith Tenniswood have invited home some friends over to cook something up using the same exact ingredients. Sort of like Iron Chef for the IDM set. The remixes are new compositions all to themselves, rarely tethered to the style of the original." Features remixes by: C-PIJ, Villalobos, 2LS, Cause, Dry and Heavy, Simulant, Decal, Klart, Lali Puna, Calexico. [LP version forthcoming]

TWO LONE SWORDSMEN: Further Reminders 2LP (WARP 91 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

APHEX TWIN: Drukqs 4LP (WARP 92 LP). $33.00

"Richard D James returns with an artistic salvo like no other. A double CD (available from London/Sire/WEA) and quadruple vinyl magnum opus that goes places even his fans may not have expected. A release that is, at times, introspective and, at others, brutally intense. The album is highlighted by some very delicate piano études that recall the works of Erik Satie whilst being set against some of RDJ's more bangerin' acid garage tracks. But, the album isn't without its lighter smile-inducing moments too... like the 'happy birthday' message in two-part harmony from Richard's parents or the sly sampling of an old arcade favorite of our collective youth on '54 Cymru Beats.' The LP version is a quadruple vinyl extravaganza that's coming in a special 12" x 19" box."

ANTI-POP CONSORTIUM: Arrhythmia CD (WARP 94 CD). $15.50

"Beans, Priest and Sayyid have concocted something very special. It can honestly be said that there's never been anything quite like it in hip hop. The flow, the hooks, and the production are all just amazing. Arrhythmia could be described at different times as experimental, funky, catchy, humorous, operatic, uplifting, sly and wry. But, it's always tight."

ANTI-POP CONSORTIUM: Arrhythmia 2LP (WARP 94 LP). $15.50

Double LP version.

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Mind Elevation CD (WARP 95 CD). $17.00

"All the qualities that made NoW's Smokers Delight (Warp/TVT '95) and Carboot Soul (Warp/Matador 99) LPs chilled-out classics are present and accounted for: uplifting melody lines and crisp hip hop and stoned rhythms that combine into refreshing r'n'b jams, more nourished on Quincy Jones and Curtis Mayfield than on New Jack Diddy. There are even more vocal delights to be had this time out: from the reggae-tinged observational sociology of '70's 80's' to the sassy diva bounce of the first single, 'Know My Name.'"

NIGHTMARES ON WAX: Mind Elevation 2LP (WARP 95 LP). $20.00

Double LP version.

GALLO, VINCENT: Recordings Of Music For Film CD (WARP 96 CD). $17.00

"Original scores and compositions from a variety of films are contained herein, nearly 20 years of archival history. From tracks that were omitted from the recent Downtown '81 CD release (by choice of their creator so that they could be collected together aside his other soundtrack work) to the original tracks from the Buffalo '66 soundtrack, it's all of previously unreleased material and all carefully remastered. Much like the music from his solo work on last year's When, this music was recorded by Gallo on his own. Stylistically, it is similar to the moody introspection of last year's When, while favoring the instrumental side more. Recordings... is a bracing anthology that hardly needs its visual components to be compelling."

SQUAREPUSHER: Do You Know Squarepusher 2CD (WARP 97 CD). $17.00

"If you've ever had the good fortune of talking to or spending time with Tom Jenkinson, you get a glimpse of hope in a future world for music... a way forward, which is something that is getting harder to see and hear in today's cultural morass. Watching the music, almost literally, spin 'round in his brain in the course of a normal day, habitually drumming out rhythms or mouthing arrangements is like a twilight thunderstorm rolling across the plains. Scary yet beautiful nonetheless. These seven new snapshots come in the form of a fierce squall. Some may be already familiar with this album's opener: 'Do You Know Squarepusher,' a recent live favorite that leaked out in slightly different form on a one-sided 12" early this year. For those that have heard it, it has left an indelible mark: every bit as catchy as last year's breakout single 'My Red Hot Car' but, even more foreboding and challenging. From there the album moves from schizoid MCs riding a groove with square wheels and atmospheric digitized darkness to manic [pusher-patented drum 'n' bass strafing fire and (perhaps the greatest surprise) a spooky restrained cover of Joy Division's classic 'Love Will Tear Us Apart.' Oh yeah, CD format comes with a bonus disc of [pusher live in Japan.]"

SQUAREPUSHER: Do You Know Squarepusher LP (WARP 97 LP). $14.50

LP version.

VA: OST Morvern Callar CD (WARP 98 CD). $17.00

"Morvern Catlar is the latest film from Lynne Ramsay, one of the industry's strongest new voices of the past five years. The director of the shorts Small Deaths and Gasman, (both of which won the Cannes Prix du Jury) and Ratcatcher which on release was universally lauded as a highly accomplished debut film, she has defined herself as an idiosyncratic talent and drawn comparisons with luminaries such as Klesowski and Tarkovsky for her intuitive direction and singular unpretentious style. An adaptation of Alan Warner's novel of the same name, Morvern Callar is a story of a woman's personal journey from a prosaic life on the remote Scottish coast, to self-abandonment on the costa del Clubland, and re-invention in the empty Spanish sierras. The rich and intriguing story, focused through the lead actress Samantha Morton's absorbing portrait of the eponymous heroine, Lynne's oblique perspective on the everyday and Warp's complimentary soundtrack, becomes an intense sensory experience. More than a soundtrack, this selection is integral to the film, actually playing a part in the story; the tape her boyfriend left her before committing suicide. And a very particular score is needed for an introspective film such as this, requiring an acute choice of tracks to map the emotionally driven plot and expose the interior tangle that guides Morvern through her odyssey." Artists include: Can, Aphex Twin, Boards Of Canada, Sterolab, The Velvet Underground, Broadcast, Gamelan Drumming, Holgar Czokay, Lee 'Scratch' Perry, Lee Hazlewood and Nancy Sinatra, and Ween.

BLACK DOG, THE: Music For Adverts (and short films) CD (WARP PUP002CD). $19.00

The Black Dog was originally the trio of Ken Downie, Ed Handley and Andy Turner; their early 90s albums for Warp (Bytes and Spanners) defined the lush futuristic side of the IDM universe as well as any documents of the era. After those releases, Ed & Andy splintered into Plaid. Ken continued with this solo album under the name The Black Dog, released in August of '96 — his final output to date. Music For Adverts consists of 25 short-ish tracks — and in the spirit of the title, expansive filmic possibilities can be imagined. A fine continuation of the lush sound-invigoration that the Black Dog name implies.

MILLER/MICHAEL J. SCHUMACHER, DONALD: Flood CD (WD 04). $11.00

"All the music herein is derived from two electric guitars. Michael manages to bow his from nearly a foot away. I am known for disemboweling mine. Imagine then, listener, a correspondence between Mikolaj Kipernik and Gilles de Rais, historically impossible by the latter's condemnation and execution 23 years prior to the birth of the former, but do not feel burnt. See the moon upside down, and do not fret for your missing children. I met Michael and Charles Curtis through our mutual acquaintance La Monte Young, who holds all blame. They knew my work with Borbetomagus. Here is enough earth, wind and fire for any anathanor. Now we bring lots of water. Time to swallow." — Donald Miller.

WATER:

HOLY MODAL ROUNDERS, THE: The Moray Eels Eat The Holy Modal Rounders CD (WATER 101). $15.00

"The 1968 Holy Modal Rounders' only album for Elektra Records is a cult classic. No acid folk album mixed inspiration and lunacy in as downright deranged a fashion as The Moray Eels Eat The Holy Modal Rounders. As strokes of mad genius go, it was a winner, managing to just about walk the tightrope between art and chaos. A melange of mind-melting acid folk that might have hung together by a thread, but was usually exhilarating, with a cracked, brain-damaged mystique all its own. The Moray Eels Eat The Holy Modal Rounders was, in its own way, just as steeped in Americana as any of the ancient Appalachian folk records from which Peter Stampfel and Steve Weber had learned much of their early repertoire. Available on CD for the first time. Includes 2 previously unreleased bonus tracks. New detailed liner notes by '60s music historian Richie Unterberger."

ZODIAC, THE: Cosmic Sounds CD (WATER 102). $15.00

"This collectively-hatched concept album (originally released by Elektra in 1967) matched psychedelic mood music with spoken prose and all manner of percussive, exotic and electronic instrumentation. Divided into 12 separate tracks, one for each astrological sign, this 'celestial counterpoint with words and music' (as the subtitle boasted) 'must be played in the dark' (as the back sleeve instructed in capital purple letters). The album, conceived by Elektra founder and president Jac Holzman, was produced by Alex Hassilev. And while Cyrus Faryar deep-voiced the spoken astrological narrative written by Jacques Wilson, Mort Garson assembled the group of musicians including Paul Beaver and percussionist Emil Richards. Its spacy yet tight groove could have fit The Zodiac tracks into the soundtrack of 1966 Sunset Strip documentaries but, in other respects, the album was futuristic, embellished by some of the first Moog synthesizer ever heard on a commercial recording, an assortment of exotic percussive instruments and sitar. The arrangements were further decorated by haunting harpsichord and organ, along with standard mid-1960s Los Angeles rock guitar licks. The cover, complete with psychedelic illustration of the twelve signs set on a black background with hand drawn groovy letters, was eye-catching even by Elektra's own high standards. Available on CD for the first time."

AYLER, ALBERT: Nuits de la Fondation Maeght 1970 CD (WATER 103). $15.00

"Fantastic CD reissue featuring two classic late Albert Ayler's albums (both originally released on the French Shandar label). Albert Ayler with Mary Maria, Call Cobbs, Steve Tintweiss and Allen Blairman recorded live in France at the Fondation Maeght in St. Paul de Vence (July 25th and 27th, 1970). Stellar live performances capturing his two last gigs ever. Contains new exclusive liner notes by Wire contributor David Keenan. Digitally remastered."

SHARROCK, SONNY & LINDA: Paradise CD (WATER 104). $15.00

"In the '60s, Sonny Sharrock was one of the top avant-garde guitarists and Miles Davis, Don Cherry, and Herbie Mann used his intense and wild playing. This is the classic album he recorded with vocalist wife Linda for the Atco label in 1975. The duo's free-form avant-garde guitar and vocals are blended with fusion/electric grooves on Moog, Rhodes piano, Clavinet and percussion. A jazz/funk/rock masterpiece. Available on CD for the first time. New detailed liner notes by Byron Coley."

HAMMOND, JOHN: Sooner Or Later CD (WATER 105). $15.00

"Blues singer/guitarist John Hammond needs no introduction, Sooner or Later is his second Atlantic LP released in 1968. Ten songs of electric blues boogie with a rocking band. Features songs written by Chester Burnett, John Lee Hooker, Elmore James, Willie Dixon, Sonny Boy Williamson — all in that funky and electrifying John Hammond style. Available on CD for the first time."

HAMMOND, JOHN: Southern Fried CD (WATER 106). $15.00

"A 1970 Atlantic Records blues rock classic that features Brother Duane Allman on lead guitar along with the legendary Muscle Shoals rhythm section including keyboardist Berry Beckett, bassist David Hood, and drummer Roger Hawkins. Hammond growls his way thru classics by Willie Dixon, Chester Burnett, Chuck Berry, Elvis and others. 12 tracks of blistering electric blues. First time on CD and remastered from the original master tapes."

REID, TERRY: River CD (WATER 107). $15.00

"Upon its original 1973 Atlantic Records release, one journalist said of Terry Reid's classic rock LP River that 'his velvet and sandpaper sound is irresistible as Rod Stewart, his delivery as nakedly emotional as Joe Cocker, and his musicianship as fine as Steve Winwood'. Aretha Franklin once said that 'there are only three things happening in London: The Beatles, The Rolling Stones and Terry Reid.' Produced by Tom Dowd and featuring slide guitarist David Lindley. Deluxe packaging 20-page booklet with rare photos and liner notes. First time on CD and remastered from the original master tapes."

REID, TERRY: Silver White Light: Live at the Isle of Wight 1970 CD (WATER 108). $15.00

"Coming out of the 1960's, singer/songwriter Terry Reid was on a roll. He'd toured with the Stones, been offered the spot of fronting Led Zeppelin and there was an Atlantic Records contract waiting for him (which became the legendary River CD in 1973). Captured live at the Isle Of Wight Festival in 1970, this previously unreleased live recording features Terry and his band including maverick David Lindley on lead guitar and original King Crimson drummer Michael Giles rocking through nine Terry Reid original classics (including a couple of songs from River). Fans of the Faces, Joe Cocker, Led Zep and Free will enjoy this 1970's British blues rock at its best."

NEUWIRTH, BOB: Bob Neuwirth CD (WATER 109). $15.00

"Until this 1974 album on Asylum, Bob Neuwirth was known as Bob Dylan's sidekick and co-author of Janis Joplin's 'Mercedes Benz'. With appearances by Rita Coolidge, Mama Cass, Don Everly, Richie Furay, Chris Hillman, Booker T., Kris Kristofferson, Ian Matthews, and Dusty Springfield among many others, this country-rock collection finds Bob Neuwirth sounding a bit like Willie Nelson on his original tunes and co-writing with Roger McGuinn and Kris Kristofferson. Original artwork. Contains liner notes. Remastered from the original tapes and on CD for the first time."

SPENCE, JOSEPH: Happy All The Time CD (WATER 110). $15.00

"Born in the Bahamas, Joseph Spence created an idiosyncratic and inimitable guitar style rife with percussive and improvisatory vamps around staid hymns and Caribbean folk standards. He was a guitarist's Thelonious Monk, his growling vocal counterpoint and surprising inventions are one of folk music's great delights. A major influence on Ry Cooder, Taj Mahal, David Lindley, and many more. Produced by Paul Rothchild (the Doors and Butterfield Blues Band) for Elektra that originally released this album in 1964. Original artwork. Contains liner notes. Remastered from the original master tapes."

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: These Things Too CD (WATER 111). $15.00

Previously available in the When Jewels Were Stars boxset on Water, you can now get all the classic post-ESP Pearls Before Swine albums individually. These are the third thru sixth albums in the PBS discography. Each is exceptionally packaged in a deluxe hi-gloss 20-page booklet, with original lyrics, new liner notes, etc. "These Things Too was Pearls Before Swine's third album (and their first for Reprise), originally released in 1969. Dreamy psychedelia, organic American folk songs, political and social utopias, personal brokenness and transformation, country-rock, and pure beatific vision are the elements that create Tom Rapp's sonic architecture here." Liner notes by Nick Saloman.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: The Use of Ashes CD (WATER 112). $15.00

"Their fourth album (second for Warner/Reprise) and released in 1970 features songs written by Tom Rapp while living in Holland. Subversive, tender, moving, goofy, maddening, and profound." 20 page booklet, complete lyrics, liner notes by Edwin Pouncey.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: City Of Gold CD (WATER 113). $15.00

"Do not give dogs what is holy; and do not throw your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under foot and turn to attack you." This is the third Warner/Reprise album from Tom Rapp and Co. Originally released in 1971." Liner notes by Lenny Kaye.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: Beautiful Lies You Could Live In CD (WATER 114). $15.00

"Pearls Before Swine's fourth and last Warner/Reprise album originally released in 1971. Ten Tom Rapp originals, plus a beautiful cover of Leonard Cohen's 'Bird On A Wire'. There is a dark angel's purity in these songs and all of them are of a piece musically and philosophically linked with all of the others." Liner notes by Joe Phillips.

LANCASTER, BYARD: It's Not Up To Us CD (WATER 115). $15.00

"First time on CD for this late 60's jazz classic originally released on Atlantic's Vortex label. Lancaster is a sax player, who is perhaps best known for his ESP-Disk' recordings with Sunny Murray and his work with Larry Young and Bill Laswell. On this rare 1968 classic album, Lancaster teams up with jazz-rock guitar maverick Sonny Sharrock and original Weather Report drummer Eric Gravatt. Another Vortex slightly psychedelic, rock influenced cutting-edge jazz recordings. Remastered from the original tapes with new liner notes by Tim Plowman."

MCDANIELS, EUGENE: Outlaw CD (WATER 116). $15.00

"First domestic release on CD by this 1970 funky rock black power classic. Probably best known as the writer of the Les McCann/Eddie Harris 1969 hit 'Compared To What', Daniels continues that song's groove-based political message on the Outlaw album. Produced by Joel Dorn and directed by William S. Fischer (1960's sideman for Eddie Harris, Joe Zawinul, Fathead Newman, Herbie Mann), Outlaw hits hard with late 60's black power messages and anti-government statements (with lyrics that still ring true today), all delivered in a hard hitting, but groovy rocking, slightly jazzy style with heavy weight Ron Carter on bass and the 'Welfare City Choir'. This album has been a favorite of underground DJ's and sampling stealers for many years. A Rock'n'Soul classic."

GALE, EDDIE: Eddie Gale's Ghetto Music CD (WATER 117). $15.00

"Having developed his skills amongst the cream of New York's hard bop players (jamming with John Coltrane and Jackie McLean), Eddie Gale helped ring in jazz's controversial new thing during the 1960s and 1970s on a series of influential releases. His inspired trumpet playing graced Cecil Taylor's Unit Structures, Larry Young's Of Peace And Love and a series of recordings and performances with Sun Ra's Arkestra. He also cut a pair of under-acknowledged soul-jazz influenced albums as a leader for Blue Note at the end of the '60s. The first Eddie Gale Blue Note LP Eddie Gale's Ghetto Music was released in 1968, produced by Blue Note founder Francis Wolff. A blend of funky grooves, a gospel street choir of singers, and late 60's free form freak outs. Recommended for fans of Sun Ra & Brother Ah, Coltrane's Love Supreme, and Max Roach's It's Time. The original vinyl LPs go for big bucks on Ebay, this is the first time this Blue Note album has ever been reissued. Remastered from the original master tapes. Original artwork."

GALE, EDDIE: Black Rhythm Happening CD (WATER 118). $15.00

"Black Rhythm Happening (the second Blue Note album by Eddie Gale) was released in 1969 and includes jazz heavy weight Elvin Jones on drums and sax man Jimmy Lyons. Again the mix is a blend of soul jazz, free form freak outs, and a gospel influenced street choir. Suggested listening for fans of Sun Ra & Brother Ah, John Coltrane's late 60's LPs, and Ornette Coleman and Albert Ayler's more groove oriented recordings. The original vinyl LPs go for big bucks on Ebay, this is the first time this Blue Note album has ever been reissued in the US. Remastered from the original master tapes. Original artwork."

PALANCE, JACK: Palance CD (WATER 119). $15.00

"Best known as a legendary actor, Jack Palance did record an album in 1969 for Warner Bros. that recalls the wacky country-rock music vibe of Lee Hazlewood's albums of the same time period. Recorded in Nashville with the usual studio cats, the album is a playful country-rock romp not unlike other late 60's Nashville recordings. Fans of Lee Hazlewood, Johnny Cash and Scott Walker will love this album. Featuring Palance's self penned classic song 'The Meanest Guy That Ever Lived'. A 20 page booklet with new and detailed liner notes (and rare photos) is included."

MARCUS, STEVE: Tomorrow Never Knows CD (WATER 120). $15.00

"Saxophonist Steve Marcus spent the late 60's and early 70's touring and recording with Gary Burton, Herbie Mann and Larry Coryell as well as playing with guitarist Sonny Sharrock and vibist Roy Ayers. This album was originally released on Atlantic's Vortex label in 1968 and makes its CD debut here. Produced by Herbie Mann and featuring Larry Coryell on guitar — the 'jazz' band works its way thru free form psychedelic rock versions of songs by The Byrds ('Eight Miles High'), Donovan ('Mellow Yellow'), and the Beatles (an 11 minute freakout of 'Tomorrow Never Knows' and 7 minutes of 'Rain'). Fans of lounge-core kitsch will enjoy these late 60's pop music instrumental grooves, while modern jazz fans will love the Coltrane-like freak out of Marcus' sax work and rock fans will dig some of Coryell's most distorted and shredding guitar work. A 16 page booklet with new liner notes and rare photos is included."

REID, CLARENCE: Dancin' With Nobody But You Babe CD (WATER 121). $15.00

"Singer/songwriter/producer Clarence Reid had multiple musical personalities. One was a Southern soul singer recording for Atlantic Records' Alston imprint. His charting singles were 1969's 'Nobody But You Babe' (from this album), 1972's 'Good Old Days' and 1974's

'Funky Party'. He co-wrote hits for Betty Wright ('Girls Can't Do What The Guys Do'), the million-selling 'Clean Up Woman,' 'Baby Sitter,' and 'Let Me Be Your Lovemaker.' In his other persona, he performed wild X-rated material under the pseudonym Blowfly. This 1969 Alston/Atlantic album makes its CD debut here. Like other classic R&B-soul albums of the time, this Clarence Reid work features the legendary Memphis Horns and some classic tunes like Tony Joe White's 'Polk Salad Annie,' Smokey Robinson's 'Shop Around,' the Beatles' 'Get Back,' and Curtis Mayfield's 'I've Been Trying' as well as Reid's own hit 'Nobody But You Babe'. A 24 page booklet with new liner notes and rare photos is included."

VAN PEEBLES, MELVIN: What The ... You Mean I Can't Sing?! CD (WATER 122). $15.00
"Film producer/director Melvin Van Peebles invented the blaxploitation film genre with his groundbreaking 1970 Sweet Sweetback BadAss Song. He's also known for writing several novels & screenplays throughout the 70's (including Greased Lightning) and acting in films such as Lost Action Hero, Terminal Velocity and Boomerang. As a major influence on Spike Lee and Quentin Tarantino, Van Peebles remains a legend of African American cinema. On this rare 1974 album for Atlantic Records Van Peebles sings passionate reflections on the state of 70's black culture over some very funky grooves with strings and orchestration (think of the soundtrack to any Pam Grier flick). Harold Wheeler arranged the music with the same touch of class he brought to his work with Nina Simone, the soundtrack to The Wiz, and Bernard 'Pretty' Purdie. Fans of underground 70's soul and blaxploitation soundtracks will find much to love here. A 16 page booklet with new liner notes, rare photos and lyrics is included."

FISCHER, WILLIAM S.: Circles CD (WATER 123). $15.00

"A ground-breaking blend of concentrated funk, electronica, soul, and futureheaded jazz rock. William S. Fischer, musical director for 1960's soul funk experiments of Eddie Harris, Eugene McDaniels and Les McCann, released this amazing debut solo album for the Embryo label in 1970. Some of these songs would appear in the 1971 streets of New York drug movie Born To Win starring Robert De Niro & Karen Black. Featuring Ron Carter and Billy Cobham. First time on CD with liner notes and rare photos."

MATTHEWS, IAN: *Valley Hi/Some Days You Eat The Bear And Some Days... CD (WATER 124). $15.00

"...The Bear Eats You. "Ex-Fairport Convention lead singer Ian Matthews recorded a pair of inspired albums for Elektra in the early '70s. Valley Hi was produced by Michael Nesmith and contains many original Matthews classics plus songwriting contributions from Richard Thompson, Jackson Browne and Randy Newman. Some Days You Eat The Bear continued the mellow L.A. country-rock sounds with songs by Tom Waits, Gene Clark and Crazy Horse with guest guitarist David Lindley among others. A unique blend of British folk and American country rock. Featuring a new detailed interview with Ian Matthews, complete lyrics, rare photos and more."

RAPP, TOM: Familiar Songs CD (WATER 125). $15.00

"After four blissfully stoned albums (all recorded for Reprise), 1972 seemed to be the perfect time for a Pearls Before Swine 'best of' LP. Rather than use previous recordings, Tom Rapp and pals entered the studio to re-record some PBS classics and the results become known as Familiar Songs (released here on CD for the first time). Featuring new liner notes from Tom Rapp on the origins of these 1972 recording sessions that are 'like that disturbing yearbook picture of you that you now see through a haze of nostalgia and good will'."

ETHRIDGE/JOHN BARBATA/JOEL SCOTT HILL, CHRIS: L.A. Getaway CD (WATER 126). $15.00

"Probably the greatest and most obscure supergroup album, combining the talents of a core group of Joel Scott Hill (guitar/vocals), the Flying Burrito Brothers' Chris Ethridge (bass/piano/vocals), and The Turtles' Johnny Barbata (drums). Hill's blue-eyed soul vocals on such rockers as 'It's Your Love' and Dr. John's brilliant, New Orleans-soaked 'Crane Crow' clearly attest to his sheer genius. Perhaps the album's crowning achievement is a version of Booker T. Jones' slow and smoky gospel/blues workout, 'Ole Man Trouble,' which is aided by the songwriters' Hammond organ performance and a sterling background vocal arrangement. Numerous guest appearances, including Dr. John and Leon Russell. Produced by Paul Rothchild."

KEITH, BARBARA: Barbara Keith CD (WATER 127). $15.00

"Originally released on Warner/Reprise in 1972, Barbara Keith's debut showcases a voice and writing style steeped in folk, blues, and country. Her songs have an earthy, timeless quality that have been covered by Delaney & Bonnie, The Dillards, and Tanya Tucker among others. Guest musicians are an L.A. 1970s 'A-List' including Little Feat's Lowell George, Sneaky Pete Kleinow, Peter Asher, Russ Kunkel, Jim Keltner, Ron Tutt, Emory Gordy, Leland Sklar, Spooner Oldham, and Danny Kortchmar. Deluxe booklet with rare photos."

KIRK, ROLAND: Here Comes the Whistleman CD (WATER 128). $15.00

"This album showcases Rahsaan Roland Kirk in 1967 with a fine band, live in front of a roomful of invited guests at Atlantic Studios in New York. His band for the occasion is stellar: alternately Jacki Byard and Lonnie Smith on piano, Major Holley on bass, and Charles Crosby on drums. This is the hard, jump blues and deep R&B Roland Kirk band. Original artwork and liner notes."

MINGUS, CHARLES: Tonight At Noon CD (WATER 129). $15.00

"Despite the scattered recording history of the five tracks that comprise this album (two separate sessions — one from 1957, the other four years later — were used), the result is pretty cohesive. It took another three years before the actual album was released in 1964. Mingus and his steady backing crew (the same musicians that supported him on the eminent The Clown and Oh Yeah respectively) chart some rarely explored stylistic territory. The later date features the more refined, and characteristic, songs of the bunch; the 1957 session races around Eurocentric rhythms for a feeling of rushed exuberance. It's hardcore jazz at its most celebratory, with master Mingus up front leading the charge."

HOLY MODAL ROUNDERS: Bird Song: Live 1971 CD (WATER 130). $15.00

"Calling the Holy Modal Rounders 'legendary' is an understatement. Peter Stampel, Steve Weber and company were the original 'acid folk rock' band. This 1971 previously unreleased live radio broadcast, captures these wild and wacky visionaries at their peak. Includes their two biggest 'hits' — 'If You Want to be a Bird' (featured in the Easy Rider movie & soundtrack) and 'Boobs A Lot' (not politically correct, but still very funny). There's also a song by former Rounder and legendary playwright Sam Shepard and a Johnny Otis tune thrown for good measure as well. This expanded seven piece version of The Rounders cover rock, latin, swing and everything in between during this nearly hour long show — all through a good time, beatnik haze."

KORNER & SNAPE, ALEX: Accidentally Borne in New Orleans CD (WATER 131). $15.00

"Alexis Korner and King Crimson (minus Robert Fripp) came together as Alexis Korner & Snape and recorded this 1973 Warner Bros. release. The album was recorded in San Francisco and London also included some interesting guests including Steve Marriott (Small Faces, Humble Pie), Patto members Ollie Halsall and Mike Patto, Tim Hinkley (Alvin Lee, Thin Lizzy, Roger Chapman). Peter Thorup of CCS was also a key member of Snape. Now for first time on CD, the album has been remastered from the original tapes and includes new detailed liner notes by band member Ian Wallace."

JOHNSON, LOU: Sweet Southern Soul CD (WATER 132). $15.00

"The high esteem in which Lou Johnson is held by soul collectors is sadly disproportionate to the size of his catalog. He recorded only 10 singles and two albums in his ten year career. Sweet Southern Soul was his first and is, by common cognoscenti consensus, also his best album. Despite the fact that he started his career by working with Burt Bacharach and Hal David and recorded the original versions of several of their classic songs, next to nothing is known about Lou Johnson. He doesn't appear to have been interviewed in his prime, and he nowadays lives reclusively. Fortunately Johnson's recorded legacy speaks volumes for his talent. This album plays a major part in doing just that."

PEARSON, DUKE: The Phantom CD (WATER 133). $15.00

Reissue, originally released by Blue Note in 1969. "The Phantom finds Pearson writing an ambitious set of post-bop that expands the boundaries of the music with Latin percussion and complex harmonies derived from the avant garde. His supporting band is fairly large, featuring Jerry Dodgion (flute), Bobby Hutcherson (vibes), Sam Brown (guitar), Al Gafa (guitar), Bob Cranshaw (bass), Mickey Roker (drums), Patato Valdez (conga) and Victor Pantajo (conga), but they're agile, bringing a spark and energy to the complex arrangements."

WILSON, REUBEN: A Groovy Situation CD (WATER 134). $15.00

"Originally released in 1971 (Blue Note), A Groovy Situation finds organist Reuben Wilson turning in a funky collection of R&B and pop covers. Supported by guitarist Eddie Diehl, alto saxophonist Earl Turbinton, and drummer Harold White, Wilson runs through soul hits like 'If You Let Me Make Love to You (Then Why Can't I Touch You),' 'A Groovy Situation' and 'Signed, Sealed, Delivered I'm Yours,' plus the Turtles hit 'Happy Together.' These smooth, funky grooves are quite hot indeed."

YOUNG-HOLT UNLIMITED: Born Again/Mellow Dreamin' 2CD (WATER 135). $18.00

"For the first time on CD are two classic soul-jazz albums from Young-Holt Unlimited originally released in '70 and '71 on Cotillion/Atlantic. These records have been sampled by many hip-hop artists and turntablists from DJ Shadow to Primal Scream and beyond. 'Queen of the Nile' has the bass line used by Eric B & Rakim's 'Don't Sweat The Technique.' Other highlights include 'Hot Pants,' which brings up the funk and 'Wah Wah Man' opens up with Redd Holt banging on his drums for a nice open break before the band goes into another funky jazz number."

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: The Wizard of Is 2CD (WATER 136). $18.00

"This is a 2-CD set of all previously unreleased vintage Pearls Before Swine recordings. Disc One features '60s and '70s home demos, out-takes, various studio recordings, works in progress — many songs that never appeared on any Pearls Before Swine albums, various cover songs, experiments, and just an amazing view of Tom Rapp's personal tape archives. Disc Two features a complete early '70s live concert performance, as well as other vintage '70s live recordings and radio sessions."

WATERS, PATTY: You Thrill Me CD (WATER 137). $15.00

Subtitled: A Musical Odyssey 1960-1979. "In the mid 1960's vocalist/pianist Patty Waters released a pair of groundbreaking recordings Patty Waters Sings and College Tour for the legendary avant garde/jazz label ESP-DISK'. Sadly, since that time, very few recordings have been released by Patty, although she still performs. You Thrill Me is a collection of all previously unreleased recordings spanning a nearly 20 year time period, capturing this unique jazz vocalist at the peak of her powers. There's several Patty original compositions as well as her own spin on various jazz standards. Among the highlights is a 1964 three song session produced by Tom Wilson (known for his work with Bob Dylan, Velvet Underground). Booklet includes many rare vintage photos, detailed liner notes by Byron Coley and Patty Waters, and an introduction by Masaki Batoh of Japanese band Ghost."

MCCANN, LES: Invitation To Openness CD (WATER 138). $15.00

"Featuring the 26-minute 'The Lovers', this album is THE essence and translation of the predominant free love theme of the '60s and '70s. Every nuance of McCann's stream of consciousness comes through loud and clear, as do the excellent solos by Yusef Lateef on a wide array of reeds, flutes, and percussion. David Spinozza's electric guitar chops and Alphonse Mouzon's drum and percussion feelings on McCann's completely improvised composition are an auditory delight for fusion fans. Two other compositions, 'Beaux J. Poo Boo' and 'Poo Pye McGoochie (And His Friends)' round out the set with by adding different sonorous characters and musical back stories."

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: When Jewels Were Stars 4CD (WATER 200). $50.00

"After 'acid-folk' LPs for ESP-Disk' during the Summer of Love, in 1969 Pearls Before Swine signed to Warner/Reprise. These Things Too, The Use Of Ashes, City Of Gold, and Beautiful Lies You Could Live In are hippy singer/songwriter masterpieces with a cult of admirers as diverse as Elton John, Patti Smith, Damon & Naomi, and Sonic Youth. This box contains all those 4 Warner/Reprise albums (remastered from the original tapes and released on CD for the very first time), plus a detailed 60-page book with photos, memorabilia and liner notes by Lenny Kaye, Byron Coley, Savage Pencil, Bevis Frond, Mitch Myers, Joe Phillips, Damon Krukowski & Masaki Batoh, plus interviews with Tom Rapp and Elisabeth. Limited to 2,000 copies."

AYLER, ALBERT: Nuits de la Fondation Maeght: Volume 1 LP (WATER 501). $15.00

"Fantastic vinyl reissues of two classic late Albert Ayler's albums (both originally released on the French Shandar label). Albert Ayler with Mary Maria, Call Cobbs, Steve Tintweiss and Allen Blairman recorded live in France at the Fondation Maeght in St. Paul de Vence (July 25th and 27th, 1970). Stellar live performances capturing his two last gigs ever. Both albums contain 4 tracks and come with the original artwork." Both come with gatefold sleeves and are pressed on 180 gram vinyl.

AYLER, ALBERT: Nuits de la Fondation Maeght: Volume 2 LP (WATER 502). $15.00
2nd volume.

WATER (NETHERLANDS):

VA: Mind Expanders Vol. 2 PIC. DISC (WATER 06). $25.00

"Beautiful picture disc. More psychedelic sitar trash go-go round ups beyond belief! The weirdest of the rarest. Featuring The Stradivarius, The Flying Guitars, Mr Acker Bilk, Emery Deutsch And The Astro Sounds, The Scottmen, Dynatones, Bauer Production, Shell Steel Orchestra, International Bongo Band, Didier Vincent, Renegades, Robert Gretch, Jaime Perez, Timezone, Soulful Strings, Thomas Natschinski Und Sein Gruppe + A Persian 'Go-Go' Tune."

WATER ROW PRESS:

MOORE, THURSTON: Alabama Wildman Book (WR TM BK). $17.00

A hardcover book, collecting various short prose and poems from the former editor of Killer! (and Sonic Youth guitarist). Some of the longer texts include "On The Loose" (recollections of moving to NY in 1977-79), "In the Mind of the Bourgeois Reader" (deep artificial penetration) & "SonicSmith" (a long, affectionate interview with Patti Smith recorded in Lowell, MA, 1995). A handful of way-early archival photographs are interspersed to totally get you in the mood. Looks & feels just right, an artifact in the making from Sudbury, MA's Water Row Press. Edited by Byron Coley. Afterword by Richard Meltzer. Preface by Lisa Crystal Carver. 112 pages, cloth bound. Cover price is $18.95.

MOORE, THURSTON: Alabama Wildman (Slipcased) Book (WR TMLTD). $70.00

Limited edition version; 200 copies made, the same hardcover version of the book as the trade edition, in black embossed slip case, signed by the author. Each copy includes a bonus #d sheet of poetry, "Punk poems for poets w/ penny". These are a series of 200 poems written exclusively for this limited printing, meaning each poem is only available in one copy of the edition. My copy has a poem dedicated to Jack Brewer, and that's good for me. Your copy might have the Opal L. Nations poem, you'll just have to gamble. And yes, each copy comes with an adhered Lincoln penny artifact (and additional signature).

WAVETRAP (GERMANY):

PXP: while(p){print".", "x$++"} CD (WAV 004). $15.00

"The department for penetration and perversion (pxp), an fm subunit located at [http://wrzk.web.fm/], manages to transmit across viscous to impermeable dimensions a piece of raw waveform, strong DC offsets and polyrhythmic acrobatics aligned between, along and on the peripheries of diverse areas such as +++spam filtering. File under: extreme computer music."

VAINIO, MIKA: Ydin CD (WAV 01). $15.00

"The new label Wavetrapp opens its catalog.. Ydin (Finnish for 'core') is a set of eleven tracks flowing into each other and extended over 74 minutes of dark haunting beauty. The package is a heavy-paper digifile and the package is laminated. Edition of 1000 copies." "Mika Vainio is one half of Pan(a)Sonic, records perceptual-techno as Philus, Ø, and Tekonivel, and works under his own name as a sound sculptor/installation artist/rockabilly DJ. This is a 74-minute collection of abrasive bursts and gliding drones, it should open everyone's ears (and eyes, Leif Elggren cover art) to a world of non-digital possibilities (Vainio comes off as the revered luddite in the tech-gallery) in a suddenly flooded pool of cracked-(l)app(top) applicators. Something, clearly not nothing. Something else." — Hrvatski.

WAVING BYE RECORDS:

WALLACE, JOHN BRUCE: Loud Noises In A Corner: Engagements On Urbain Terrain CD (WAV 3001). $11.00

"John Bruce Wallace is a composer/performer currently exploring the avant-GEIST through improvisational guitar. He has a heavy interest in the textural aspects of tones and the time/space dimensioning of emotion through the interrelationship of noncongruous sonic phases and time configurations. His improvised compositions often incorporate sonorous multi-tonal qualities, dense interwoven passages juxtapositioned with harmonic and microtonal sound statements, or silence topographically related by irregular syntaxed rhythms and primitive beats. He is credited with having invented a method of playing guitar while constantly changing (phasing) pitch values." "For a guy whose list of desert islands discs contains works by Scelsi, Globokar, Kagel, Xenakis & others of the same ilk, it's interesting to hear such a loud, aggressively rock-like, feedback laden approach to solo-bedroom electric guitar."

WAY OUT SOUND:

TRUMAN'S WATER: Godspeed The Vortex LP (WAY 8). $5.00

Remember Truman's Water? They put a trilogy of homemade LPs in the mid-90s (the other two were for Drunken Fish and Homestead) that were supposed to "sell out in a day" — to confirm their indie-credibility & master of the limited-supply art form, among other things.. Those LPs did "sell out" in a day, but unfortunately, some of the buyers were complete fucking idiots (like Forced Exposure Inc.), who used very poor judgement in their purchasing expertise & vision. What this means in a sense, is that this LP is even rarer than you thought it was, because many of the copies "sold" are actually still sitting in a box, waiting for a fresh new warm home. It could be yours. Do you know that feeling? Accommodation is within the realms of possibility.

WEASEL DISC:

FIFTY FOOT HOSE: Cauldron CD (WD 19451). $11.00

Repressed. Fantastic reissue from 1994 of this SF band's one major label album, released in '67 on Limelight. Re-acquired by the band, they've self-released it from master tapes, with interesting liner notes & photos, and 3 extra tracks; a real nice job compared to so much overpriced/unauthorized reissue rubbish passing hands these days. "Pere Ubu, Chrome and Throbbing Gristle have cited them as influences... their first and only record is a strange brew of pre-moog electronics, vocals, percussion and feedback guitar... At the time their only musical contemporaries were the West Coast Pop Art Experimental Band and The Mothers of Invention. Their music was an amalgam of electronic experimentation, 12-bar blues and eastern influences... 50 Foot Hose was the by-product of a magical collaboration between 2 innovative men: Cork Marcheschi (fascinated by the dadaist/futurist movement as well as the musics of Edgar Varese, Luigi Rossolo and John Cage) & Dave Blossom (a great guitar player who had been experimenting with extended solos, feedback and the emerging psychedelic scene)."

FIFTY FOOT HOSE: Sing Like Scaffold CD (WD 19456). $11.00

A new studio Fifty-Foot Hose album recorded over the last 3 years. Their debut album, Cauldron, came out in 1967 and was one of the most unique psychedelic electronic artifacts of the period. They've reformed to play a handful of shows (documented on the Captain Trip CD Live & Unreleased) and now there is new album. Original founder, Cork Marcheschi is still at the forefront, generating sound via: Echolette, twin audio generators, squeaky stick, white noise generator, Theremin, Spark gap and saw blade.

WEED (ITALY):

FWOLEY, KIM: Adventures in Dreamland CD (WEED 7915CD). $14.00

"Imagine if Lou Reed and Frank Zappa made a new album in 2004. The result would be Adventures in Dreamland. However, the artist isn't Lou Reed or Frank Zappa; it's Kim Fowley and Adventures in Dreamland is his masterpiece. Kim Fowley has performed with or written songs for John Lennon, Kurt Cobain, Jim Morrison, Gram Parsons, Gene Vincent, and Frank Zappa. The first US solo album in ten years from the man who's worked with as diverse artists as Pink Floyd, Sonic Youth, Soft Machine, Cat Stevens, Jimmy Page, The Runaways, Primal Scream, Kiss, The Modern Lovers, Alice Cooper, and The Byrds. Guru, svengali, shaman, scenester, artist, visionary, and original 'Mayor of Sunset Strip,' Kim Fowley creates his masterpiece with Adventures in Dreamland."

RITCHIE, BRIAN: Shakuhachi Club NYC CD (WEED 7916CD). $14.00

"Violent Femmes bass player Brian Ritchie takes up the traditional Japanese wooden flute and makes some very untraditional shakuhachi music with some of the best boho musicians on the New York scene. Featuring Billy Ficca of Television on drums, Tony Trischka (Bela Fleck's teacher) on banjo, along with tuba player Dan Nosheny and John Kruth on mandolin, Shakuhachi Club NYC was recorded live in one room in the style of classic jazz recordings and features compositions by John Coltrane and Albert Ayler."

WERGO (GERMANY):

SATIE: Inside The Dream CD (ALC 5107CD). $19.00

"Inside the Dream evolved out of a live, multimedia performance, complete with multi channel sound and augmented with club-style electronics. The brain-child of Jurgen Grozinger, this project glorifies the surrealist movement in general and the work of Robert Desnos in particular. The disc includes a selection of Grözingers' arrangements of Satie's works (including his beloved 'Gnosienens'), flanked by Grozinger's own works, which were written as an homage to Satie. All are performed with the perfect balance of melancholy and desire by the European Music Project, under the direction of the composer/arranger."

VA: Global Accordion: Early Recordings 1927-1948 CD (SM 1623). $17.00

"Companion piece to the book Das Akkordeon (Christoph Wagner, ISBN 3-7957-2361-2), an eye-opening selection of recordings made between 1927 and 1948 (transcribed off of (mono) 78rpm discs) spotlighting the trans-portability and natural blending characteristics of 'that damn squeeze box' as applied in folk music contexts the world over (France, Germany, Austria, Sweden, Switzerland, Finland, Poland, South & West Africa, Turkey, Ireland, Russia, Dominica, Madagascar, Italy, Brazil, Canada, USA, and Puerto Rico). Mostly unknown practitioners (aside from the monstrous Huddie Ledbetter, well worthy of deeper investigation), many surprising discoveries (esp: Martin Cayla & Adrian Bras, Luiz Gonzaga, Jonas Mate & Kleinbohl Motaung), many polkas & waltzes, much virtuosity and tomfoolery aside. Overall consistent fidelity (ripe with crisps, phone-band narrow throughout) makes such cultural tourism an easy & painless jaunt. Liners in matching German and English trace the instrument from it's upper-middle class beginnings through it's acceptance as a 'voice of the people'. Thorough, albeit whiny." — Hrvatski.

MINGYUE, LIANG: Yangguan San Die CD (SM 1706). $18.00

"The chordingophone instrument qin occupies a principal position in classical Chinese music. Not only does it express the essential views and the cultivation of Chinese music, but it is also firmly rooted in the traditional philosophical worldview of ancient China. The booklet is extensive and richly illustrated."

VA: New Computer Music CD (WER 2010). $18.00

Wergo is the legendary, long-standing German avant-classical label; here is an introductory sampling of some of their more obvious CD titles (not a complete listing). High quality, well annotated releases of some of the most important works in contemporary composition. Starting with their computer music series. This first one is an introductory compilation of material featuring Paul Lansky, Curtis Roads, James Dashow, Michael Waisisz, Clarence Barlow & Stephan Kaske.

SUBOTNICK, MORTON: Touch/Jacob's Room CD (WER 2014). $18.00

Subotnick is one of the earliest pioneers of electronic music composition; "Touch" is a classic all-analog synthesizer piece from 1969. "Jacob's Room" is a more recent piece for soprano (Joan La Barbara) and cello.

VA: Computer Music Currents 12 CD (WER 2032). $18.00

Features Thierry Lincino's "Aloni" (for instrumental ens., boys choir, vocal soloists, and live electronic environment), where "specially designed algorithms process the acoustic music of instrumentalists and singers in real time and create a new musical dimension of space, timbre and artistic intensity." A bit vocal heavy for me; much better is: Tamas Ungvary's "Gipsy Children's Giant Dance with Ili Fourier," a totally restructured shimmering wave of electronic spectral warmth.

SUBOTNICK, MORTON: Silver Apples Of the Moon CD (WER 2035). $18.00

Infamous electronic classics from '67/68, performed on Buchla's Electric Music Boxes. "...we are transported to a sound garden under the regime of voltage control, amidst the chirping and warbling of sequencers, gates, and sample-and-hold circuits... it is not just the colors that are distinctive, it is the gestures: jittering lines, sweeping glissandi, sudden interruptions, and sound objects scattering like colliding particles."

MAIGUASHCA, MESIAS: Reading Castañeda CD (WER 2053). $18.00

Latest releases in a new Wergo-sponsored electronic/computer music series: Edition ZKM. Maiguashca's CD is a beautiful document of subtly altered sound transformations, based around recordings of metal objects performed in a sound installation environment. [And by the way, there are no spoken texts in this work, if you are a bit scared off by the title]. An excellent work within the realm of contemporary electro-acoustic production. "A journey through a sound landscape: a dream world of bizarre sounds. The ear can take a walk through it just as the feet find their way through a rugged mountain region. Everything is highly distinct and yet stamped with the same character. The musical component of the 'terribly beautiful' sounds that the composer especially likes is noise in its most multifaceted sense. They are changeable sounds with a depth of perspective in which the microscopically fine inner life of the sounding object becomes loud and clearly audible. In principle, Mesias Maiguashca does not differentiate musically between traditional instruments, metal objects that can be played on and electronic devices. The sounds of bowed or struck metal objects (metal plates, coils, pipes, etc.) are the focus of his interest: variations of these sounds are produced, on the one hand by cello, flute and the whispering voice and on the other hand, by a software that synthesizes timbre according to models of metal sounds."

OLBRISCH, MARTIN: FM 099.5 CD (WER 2054). $18.00

Selections from a Radiophonic Installation piece, originally broadcast for 48 hours in Donaueschingen in 1993, a streaming sampling of electronically processed sound & richly developed. "From the very beginning, it was a network of references between music, commentary and Hörspiel, of sound, noise and voices. Because its material is gleaned from diverse acoustic situations, paradoxes arise. A string harmonic can be louder than an orchestral tutti, the sharp breathy sound of a flute can blow away an entire woodwind ensemble. Music can suddenly change into a concrete description of a situation or vice versa. All of these moments join to create a virtual sound space which only apparently reproduces the picture of a real event in its totality."

VA: Surround Music DVD-AUDIO (WER 2058). $20.00

"This DVD-Audio disc (only playable in DVD-A compatible DVD players) offers innovative works from three different musical styles that do not use surround sound for effects but as musical means. Fifty minutes of surround music were played by some of the best electronic musicians and recorded live at ZKM and are recorded here under the name Fiber Jelly. Alvin Lucier's classic 'I Am Sitting in a Room' is presented in a live production with eight rooms resonating at the same time. And Medusa by Ludger Brummer for two percussionists and four-channel sound synthesis was recorded and mixed at ZKM's Blue Cube, the surround-music studio par excellence." Composers: Alvin Lucier, Ludger Brummer, Justin Bennett, Kaffe Matthews, Anne Wellmer, Fiber Jelly.

BRUMMER, LUDGER: Thrill DVD-AUDIO/ROM/VIDEO (WER 2059). $19.00

DVD audio/video. "On this DVD, composer Ludger Brummer's works are presented for the first time in their original, multi-channel format. Each and every detail of these works was created on a computer. The acoustic idea uses techniques that give the sound a realistic and natural impression in space. Thrill is a strange kind of Musique Concrète: All of its sounds are created with physical models. All the sounds should be considered to be true 'natural' and since they sound out or the speaker they are as well real — but artificial in the same moment. It is audible that the sounds have references to real existing sound phenomena. As a bonus, two videos (4-channel audio) are included, in which Brummer collaborates with video artist Silke Braemer."

STOCKHAUSEN, KARLHEINZ: Kontakte CD (WER 6009). $18.00

Kontakte is a Stockhausen classic from 1959, for electronics, percussion and piano (played here by David Tudor). One of his "moment form" compositions, which "...lead up to no climax, nor do they have prepared, and thus expected, climaxes, nor the usual introductory, intensifying, transitional, and cadential stages which are related to the curve of development in a whole work; they are rather immediately intense and — permanently present — endeavor to maintain the level of continued 'peaks' up to the end; forms in which at any moment one may expect a maximum or a minimum, and in which one is unable to predict with certainty the direction of the development from any given point... leading to timelessness."

STOCKHAUSEN, KARLHEINZ: Klavierstücke I-XI 2CD (WER 60135). $36.00

Pioneering piano studies, composed throughout the 1950s, recorded in 1985-86 by Herbert Henck. "Stockhausen experimented with different modes of attack and pedaling which modify the vibration of the strings and with silent depression of the keys which frees particular strings to resonate. In this way he achieved a 'filtering' of the sound spectrum that comes after the attack... the result was a rich palette of overtones and echo sounds which emphasized as never before the piano's characteristic resonance and its unique ability to suggest sound effects in perspective." ? Herbert Henck.

CAGE, JOHN: Etudes Australes 3CD (WER 6152). $55.00

A 1974 composition for solo piano, performed by Grete Sultan in 1978-82, totalling 169 minutes. The score is designed on the basis of a book of maps of stars as seen from Australia (in conjunction with the LChing). "The crowning touch of this work — the characteristic sound that makes it different from other Cage pieces — is the resonating drones. Not only are the tones depressed at the beginning of each etude, but the other notes that are held as long as possible, all create overtones that resonate and combine long after the keys are depressed. And when new notes are played, fresh overtones are generated in serendipitous ways." —Richard Kostelanetz

CAGE, JOHN: Works For Piano, Toy Piano & Prepared Piano Vol III CD (WER 6158). $18.00

XENAKIS, IANNIS: Palimpsest/Epeidikhthas/Akanthos CD (WER 6178). $18.00

Four pieces for various sized ensembles, from the late 70s by the Greek mathematician/composer.

WOOD, JAMES: Stoicheia CD (WER 6194). $18.00

Long piece for percussion ensemble, from 1990 (Wood's most recent CD was on the Mode label). Many unusual resonant materials are used within the ensemble: slabs of brittle, metamorphosed rocks, cloud chamber bowls, Javanese log-drums, whistles from Java & Brazil, etc.

CAGE, JOHN: Works for Percussion CD (WER 6203). $18.00

Cage's infamous percussion works from '39 to '42, such as "First Construction (in metal)", "Imaginary Landscape No. 2", etc. Live studio performances by Quatuor Helios in 1989. Early avant garde percussion music is a joy to bask within.

CAGE, JOHN: 25 Year Retrospective Concert 3CD (WER 6247). $36.00

The legendary performance at Town Hall, NY May 15, 1968; previously available as a ltd. private pressing 3LP box set. "The pieces performed were written over a period of 25 years, between 1934 and 1958. Presented together, they reflect not only Cage's search for new compositional processes and means of expression, they also already contain the seed for all the technical procedures and the ideological basis of his later compositions: the interest in Eastern philosophies, the involvement with 'silence', and the introduction of chance as compositional procedure." Includes classic early prepared-piano works, "Imaginary Landscape No. 1" (a recording of constant and variable frequency records, cymbal and piano), percussion ensemble, tape music, "Concert for Piano & Orchestra," etc. Comes with a 92 page booklet, with in-depth notes, historic photos, score reproductions, etc. One of the nicest Cage items you could imagine.

STOCKHAUSEN, KARLHEINZ: Mantra CD (WER 6267). $18.00

A 1970 piece for 2 pianos, performed here by Andreas Grau and Gotz Schumacher in 1993. "The unified construction of 'Mantra' is a musical miniature of the unified macro-structure of the cosmos, just as it is a magnification into the acoustic time-field of the unified micro-structure of the harmonic vibrations in notes themselves." — Stockhausen.

KATZER, GEORGE: CD (WER 6274). $18.00

Another former East European composer with ReR connections. Includes works for chamber orchestra, piano & small ensemble, an electroacoustic piece made of bass clarinet sounds produced by Wolfgang Fuchs, a string quartet performed by Arditti, and a confusing choral work.

SCHWITTERS, KURT: Ursonate CD (WER 6304). $18.00

A previously unknown shellac recording of the dadaist recording his immortal sound poem, Ursonate, from the 1930s, was apparently recently discovered. And to much amazement has been released here for the first time. Historically, sonically mindblowing.

CAGE, JOHN: James Joyce, Marcel Duchamp, Erik Satie: An Alphabet 2CD (WER 6310). $25.00

"James Joyce, Marcel Duchamp, Erik Satie: An Alphabet is a poetic, philosophical spoken piece by John Cage, based on his memories of decades of studying the works of Joyce, Duchamp and Satie. Live performances in German and English took place in 1987 at the 'NachtCageTag' of WDR Cologne to mark the 75th birthday of the composer and in 1990 at the WDR Sound Art Festival '2nd Acustica International' in New York. Both versions feature an outstanding cast, including some of the giants of 20th Century composition."

CORNER, ALISON KNOWLES, GEORGE BRECHT, PHILIP: Fluxus CD (WER 6312). $18.00

"Whenever 'Fluxus' comes up, the three New York-born artists whose radio plays are collected on this CD are mentioned. They have appeared together in performances and they are also connected by their relationship to John Cage's aesthetic, working with chance operations. The intermedia artist Philip Corner pays homage to the French composer Erik Satie — his piano piece consists of two chords. Alison Knowles' litany-like recitation of many poetic names for beans, one of the oldest 4 forms of human food, sounds like a mantra. Brecht's voice play in four languages is created by chance operations from texts by one of the great poetic and philosophical texts of Zen Buddhism, the Hsin Hsin Ming as taken down by its third Chinese patriarch, Seng Ts'an, who died in 606." Part of the Wergo Ars Acustica series.

STAUB, VOLKER: Suarogate CD (WER 6545). $15.00

"Suarogate" is a work of some 70s minutes' duration for vocal quartet, flute, trumpet, trombone, steel strings, percussion instruments (three players) and sirens. "Whether produced by nature or by human beings, logs or metal containers, Staub turned these objects into his 'acoustical material' in the original sense of the word. He was, in a manner of speaking, constantly en route on a voyage of discovery of sounds. At first, he built his own instruments and the result is marked by a close proximity to arte prova, a rejection of overblown techniques, and an almost ecological renunciation of compositional devices. The second stage is the compositional process per se, e.g. the gradual incorporation of traditional instruments in his wholly original 'sound concretisations'. Volker Staub's composition is formed of 23 (partially interpenetrating) pieces which form new entities at a higher level of organisation."

CAGE/TOSHIO HOSOKAWA, JOHN: Two (4)/In die Tiefe der Zeit CD (WER 6617). $18.00

One work from each composer, performed by Julius Berger (cello) and Stefan Hussong (accordion). "The Japanese composer Toshio Hosokawa describes his music as calligraphy with notes in space and time, notes that come from the world of silence and also return to it. 'In Die Tiefe der Zeit' (Into the Depths of Time) is a mythic soundscape."

PARTCH, HARRY: The Wayward CD (WER 6638). $18.00

Recorded by Newband/Dean Drummond, Dec. 1999. "The Wayward" is a collection of musical compositions based on the spoken written words of hobos and other characters — the result of my wanderings in the Western part of the United States 1935-1941. —Harry Partch. Performed by Newband on original Harry Partch instruments: Dean Drummond (conductor, surrogate kithara, kithara II), Stephen Kalm (baritone), Robert Osborne (bass-baritone), Nelson Padgett (chromelodeon I), Michael Lipsey (kithara II, cloud chamber bowls), Tom Kolor (surrogate kithara), Nina Kellman (harmonic canons), Dominic Donato (diamond marimba, spoils of war), Frank Cassara (bass marimba, bamboo marimba), Bill Ruyle (bamboo marimba), Gregory Hesselink (cello).

KAGEL, MAURICIO: Heterophonie for orchestra, Improvisation ajoutée for organ CD (WER 6645). $18.00

Gerd Zacher (organ); Radio-Sinfonie-Orchester Frankfurt/Michael Gielen. "Mauricio Kagel is among the most distinctive composers of contemporary music. Imagination, originality and humour are the hallmarks of this multimedia artist. To celebrate Mauricio Kagel's 70th birthday, Wergo publish two early works by Kagel on CD, previously only available on LP: 'Heterophonie' and 'Improvisation ajoutée for organ' where the performers sing, speak, whistle, shout and clap across the sound of the organ."

LIVINGSTON, GUY: Don't Panic! 60 Seconds For Piano CD (WER 6649). $18.00

"What if sixty composers from 18 countries wrote 60 pieces for solo piano, each 60 seconds in length? This is the concept behind this brilliant CD, created by American pianist Guy Livingston. It is a showcase for the endless possibilities of late-twentieth century music. Many of the pieces are amplified or for piano and tape or use techniques from virtuosic-serialism to unsettling performance art. All are premieres written for Mr. Livingston. The framework is quite fascinating: Although one minute seems like an unbelievably short time, it actually offers the composers a good deal of scope. An entire atmosphere can be established (or destroyed) in 60 seconds. The program offers a wide-ranging sampler of new music styles from traditional classical to the cutting-edge of the avant-garde."

RILEY, TERRY: In C CD (WER 6650). $18.00

"The new interpretation of Terry Riley's legendary minimalist piece 'In C' — a coproduction of the European Music Project with the electronics duo Zignori++ — is neither a modern remix nor a reproduction of the first recording of the late 1960s. The European Music Project was formed in 1995. Its members work as soloists, teachers, or in leading positions in renowned symphony orchestras. The electronic arrangement and the production are the work of zignori++, a collaboration by Joachim Glasstetter and Jürgen Grözing, who create electronic realizations that fall between the concert hall, the sound installation and the club scene."

CAGE, JOHN: Credo in US... More Works For Percussion CD (WER 6651). $18.00

"Ten years after their first highly esteemed Cage CD Works for Percussion Quatuor Helios present a second with works by the inventor of the prepared piano. In the wake of this process comes the series of the five 'Imaginary Landscapes'. 'Credo in US' is another heroic work, particularly in the ambiguity of its title: is Cage patriotically referring to the United States, or is he simply humanistically proving allegiance to the first person plural? Collages, layerings and overlaps clash with omnipresent wild and scattered piano bits, strewn with explosions and streaked with silences that are in themselves aggressive. In 'Inlets', the performers let Nature do the composing. Quatuor Helios has always been open to collaboration with composers in order to develop new contemporary percussion languages, often associating 'classical' instruments, new technologies and musical theatre." Features: 2000 recordings of: "Credo In US" (1942, for piano, cans, buzzer and records), "Imaginary Landscape No. 1" (1939, for piano, 2 oscillators and a Chinese cymbal), "Inlets" (1977, for three players of water-filled conch shells), "Imaginary Landscape No. 3" (1942, for coil, gongs, oscillators, tin cans, marimbula, buzzer), "But What About the Noise of Crumpling Paper Which He Used to Do in Order to Paint the Series of 'Papiers froissés' or Tearing Up Paper to Make 'Papiers déchirés?' Arp Was Stimulated by Water (Sea, Lake and Flowing Waters Like Rivers), Forests" (1986).

FRESCOBALDI/CAGE: Anarchic Harmonies CD (WER 6655). $18.00

Performed by Stefan Hussong (accordion) and Mike Svoboda (trombone). "Frescobaldi and Cage. More than three hundred years separate them. Three hundred years of music. Neither rises out of the universal murmuring unaided. Frescobaldi's predecessors are found among the Spanish composers of lute and keyboard music, such as Trabaci, Mayone, and Milan, and in the great Monteverdi. Cage picked up on many things that began in the work of Satie, yes, and Cowell. Cage's 'Forty-Four Harmonies' is part of a substantial series of works that Cage wrote between 1974 and 1979 — all works that make use of models taken from the musical traditions of the United States. Cage's intention was to push the notes so far apart that they would be free of any reminiscence of the place and historical situation of their origin. In this way they could escape the laws of tradition and yet retain the spirit of harmony. Frescobaldi's Canzoni are autonomous instrumental works. The genre grew out of vocal models: first the French chanson and then the Italian madrigal. Their richness of contrast, their juxtaposition of polyphonic and homophonic sections, of changes of tempo and beat, their principle of dialogue of upper and lower registers are all features of the canzone. The present recording lives from the relationship of tension between these two worldviews turned into sound: Frescobaldi's vivacità contrasts with the gravità of the Cagean Harmonies in a surprisingly affecting way, and at the same time demonstrates a connection between them that bridges centuries. — Rolf W. Stoll.

STOCKHAUSEN, KARLHEINZ: Tierkreis, Zodiac CD (WER 6659). $18.00

"As part of the celebration of Karlheinz Stockhausen's 75th birthday, Wergo is proud to release an exceptional new recording of Tierkreis and Zodiac, under the direction of Mike Svoboda. 'Zodiac' is one of Stockhausen's most beautiful and accessible compositions. He created several different arrangements, allowing each interpreter to create his or her own version by using special formulas. With regard to the first of his two realizations on this recording, Svoboda says, 'I approached the composition the way jazz musicians approach a standard: take inspiration from the melody and harmonic sequences and then express themselves spontaneously and very individually.' In his second realization, Svoboda gave the musicians just a few structures and asked them to improvise freely on Stockhausen's melodies. These two versions of one of Stockhausen's most important works are a fitting tribute to this controversial master of contemporary composition."

NONO, LUIGI: Composizione per orchestra No. 1 - Der rote Mantel CD (WER 6667). $18.00

"Luigi Nono called his Composizione per orchestra a kind of 'dodecaphony with nine notes'. The music plunges the listener into a whirl of intensity so panicked that the entry of the percussion finale is like the cutting of the Gordian knot: release and judgment in one. Nono's ballet Der rote Mantel on Garcia Lorca's Erótico Hallelujah is a bizarre kind of chamber play that seeks intensifications of Garcia Lorca's intangible, poetic images. In addition, at the same time it pays homage to Garcia Lorca, who was murdered by the Falangists. A parable of irreconcilability."

NANCARROW, CONLON: Studies for Player Piano Vol. 1-5 (complete) 5CD (WER 6907). $56.00

"This set brings together all five volumes of Nancarrow's prize-winning player piano recordings in one deluxe, slipcase package. With their dazzling acrobatic complexities, well beyond the technique of any human, Nancarrow's works are both amazingly beautiful and strangely unsettling. Wergo's recordings were made in 1988 at Conlon Nancarrow's Mexico City studio, using the composer's own custom-altered Ampico reproducing piano. The 140-page booklet includes numerous unpublished photographs, an essay by producer Charles Amirkhanyan and a probing musical analysis by James Tenney." This set replaced the now deleted individuals sets that were previously issued by Wergo (60165, 60166, 6168). Priced as 5 CDs for the cost of 3 (in Wergo terms), so a bit more attractive than the original versions in that sense.

CAGE, JOHN: Diary: How to Improve the World (You Will Only Make Matters Worse) 8CD (WER 6912). $95.00

New edition of this infamous Wergo document, with new, slimmer packaging and new booklet (replaced the long o/p WER 6231). "This landmark Wergo set presents 8 out of 10 volumes from John Cage's unfinished spoken diary. Read in the composer's own inimitable voice, these recordings provide fascinating insights into Cage's musical and life philosophies. These are not simply spoken word recordings — each volume is sonically composed. Changes in typography in the printed text correspond to simultaneous changes in the stereophonic position and simultaneous changes in the volume of Cage's voice. This deluxe 8 CD boxed set includes a 64-page booklet containing several photographs taken in John Cage's loft and during the recording sessions in 1991, as well as a complete chronology of the composer's life."

VA: Music of Our Time — 40 Years 4CD (WER 6921). $40.00

"In fall 2002, Wergo celebrated its fortieth year. During this period Wergo has set standards, especially in the world of modern music. This is reflected not least in the large number of prize-winning CDs. To celebrate this occasion, Wergo presents this specially-priced 4-CD set, containing music from four decades ranging from Stockhausen's Kontakte of 1960 to Wolfgang Rihm's compositions from the 1990s. Label founder WERNER Goldschmidt's original idea was to combine key musical works of the twentieth century with still unknown recordings of contemporary works, while supplementing both with performer portraits. The fruits of his inspiration now include a vast array of titles ranging from classics of modernism to the compendium Digital Music Digital — Music with Computers. One disc each to the following composers: Karlheinz Stockhausen, John Cage, György Ligeti and Wolfgang Rihm. Discs included have previously been available separately: Kontakte (WER 6009), Roaratorio (WER 6303), Trio für Violine, Horn und Klavier (WER 60100) & Image — Echo/Bilder — Echo (WER 6623).

WERGO/SPECTRUM (GERMANY):

VETTER, MICHAEL: Zen — Koto CD (SM 1052). $18.00

In the mid-80s Vetter produced a series of solo recordings, of which these 3 are available on CD. Each is in an in-depth probe of sound potentialities and resonance, some incredible stuff. "The recording series, ZEN MUSIC, is in this sense primarily a collection of acoustic experiences in being, which one, listening, may encounter again and again as new. At the same time this series provides examples for what 'Zen in the art of music making' can be. Each record is devoted to a different instrument which is not primarily to be 'mastered', but listened to."

VETTER, MICHAEL: Zen — Glocken CD (SM 1054). $18.00

Music for glockenspiel (tuned metal bars) and a "circle of small Japanese prayer bowls". My favorite of the series, stretched out sounds slowly hover and expand into overtone seepage. "Silence in music means essentially sound is silence. Sounds are born from silence — and they return to it. Bell-like instruments, which are not so much played as set into motion, lead the listener — whose hearing grows ever more sensitive — deeper and deeper into a stillness in which he can distinguish neither time from space nor hearing from feeling."

JULICH, MICHAEL: Energy: The Four Directions CD (SM 1070). $18.00

Subtitled "Dynamic Meditation Music For Gongs and Gongdrums." Julich is a German percussionist (who has studied with Alfred Alings, gong player in Stockhausen's ensemble!), who creates a massive wall of inner resonating sound of cosmic significance.

VA: Echoes Of Africa Early Recordings CD (SM 1624). $17.00

"A stunning voyage back to the early days of the African record industry. Concertina bands and doo-wop singers from South Africa, accordion groups from Kenya, West African brass bands, unaccompanied vocal and drum ensembles from Nigeria and Tanzania, plus bands from East Africa with their Arabic influences. The huge variety of early African pop and traditional styles is revealed. A musical treasure-trove. Authoritative sleeve-notes and some brilliant authentic photographs complete the package."

VA: Nyabole - Music of the Hamar CD (SM 1707). $18.00

Reissue of an 1978 LP of Ethiopian music, recorded 1970-76. Beautifully packaged in slipcase, with 92 page booklet (in German/English). "The men of the Hamar, a south Ethiopian people, still tell of the great deeds of their ancestors from whom they have inherited their heroic will and strong personality. The music of the Hamar is varied: the word painting of the mouth bow, the sound of the flute, the interplay of voice and lyre stand alongside running songs, leaping dances and war songs. Mythical traditions indicate that they originated as immigrants from northern, eastern and western tribes, but we do not know when they developed their distinctive cultural features. At the time when the recordings for this album were made (1970-76), only two rough dirt tracks crossed the area, one from north to south and one from east to west."

VA: Waza: Music of the Berta from the Blue Nile CD (SM 1708). $17.00

"The music of the waza trumpet groups is considered the most important instrumental music of the Berta, who have been living in the border region, of Sudan and Ethiopia since the 19th century. A full ensemble consists of ten to twelve monotone instruments between 50 and 180 centimeters long and the wood blocks called balli. The performances usually take place after sunset and are a major event for the inhabitants of a village. Before the pieces begin, a woman sings a song which is then performed instrumentally." Slip-case packaging, with 76-page booklet.

MAHADEVA, SAMBHO: O Great God Sambhu 2CD (SM 1709). $32.00

Latest volume in this incredible series of archival world music releases. "O, Great God Sambhu" is the latest release in Wergo's Museum Collection Berlin series. The album features the South Indian vina (lute), one of the most important instruments in Carnatic music, as played by Rajeswari Padmanabhan and Karaikudi Sambasivayer Subramaniam, with percussion accompaniment by Tanjore Upendram on the mrđangam. These studio and concert recordings were made in Berlin in 1975. As is the norm in this series, the booklet (128 pages German/English) is incredibly detailed and informative."

WERK (UK):

VA: Werk One 12" (WERK 001EP). $10.00

"With their fingers in many pies, Werk are responsible for some of the most funky up, demented parties in the chic surroundings of London and Madrid and here, carefully select an array of unknown talent with which to launch their first assault on your record buying senses with this seriously inspired six tracker of original sh* — none of your IDM by numbers electronic dirge or copyist crunchedelic shenanigans — this is where it's at right now. Mixing a blend of influences from London grimey business through to Detroit beat-driven technoid re-constructions, electroid mayhem, nervously modified break mashups and padded bass-stab devastation — marvel at the wondrous cut-ups of 'Actress' (the sound of Robocop's anaerobic workout routine on crack), 'The Byte Stripes' (a media revolution via the medium of 10/8 jungle - killer styles), 'Ben Codec' (algorithms on toast and ash-tray musli bezerkerisms), 'Cut Out' (genetically modified fidget-hop), 'Mr. Lizard' (made from a sample patch based on the contours of Noel Edmonds' mullet!) and 'Format.K' (tonic for the anguish of a thousand ecstasy-ravaged bird-brains) — Werk just have it all. A record with a beginning, middle, an end and even a nervous breakdown."

WHAT DISC (UK):

THOMPSON TRIO, DANNY: Live 1967 CD (WHAT 3CD). $15.00

"Danny Thompson truly is a legendary figure within the music industry. Danny has played with, amongst others: John Martyn, Tim Buckley, Richard Thompson, Pentangle and Everything But The Girl. The tapes of this set were recorded in 1967 at a long forgotten venue and were recently discovered in Danny's attic. John McLaughlin is Britain's most renowned jazz guitarist. John has played with Georgie Fame, Jack Bruce, John Surman, Tony Williams, Billy Cobham, Charlie Haden and formed The Mahavishnu Orchestra. Miles Davis chose him to play on the ground breaking albums, In A Silent Way and Bitches Brew. The trio is completed by Tony Robertson tenor saxophone, flute and bass clarinet. The set features a fine selection of jazz standards. There are fine solos from Roberts and McLaughlin and some muscular playing from Danny. John Coltrane's haunting fragile ballad 'Naima' receives a magic reading with a heartbreaking short solo from John. This very rare recording offers a chance to hear a short lived world class trio with their interpretation of some jazz classics."

OVARY LODGE: CD (WHAT 4). $15.00

"For over twenty years, Keith Tippett has been at the forefront of contemporary European jazz and new music as a solo pianist, composer, bandleader, band member, and musical educator. This recording was originally released in 1973 and followed Tippett's critically acclaimed Centipede project, which featured leading members of the English jazz and rock scenes of the early 70s. Ovary Lodge is a totally improvised recording, featuring Keith Tippett on piano and zither, Roy Babbington on bass, and Frank Perry on percussion. Produced by Robert Fripp."

WHAT NEXT?:

EXQUISITE CORPSES FROM PS 22: CD (WN 02). $13.00

Thirty NY improvisers apply the Surrealist game scheme to music, creating short bursts of noise. Includes Ikue, Zeena Parkins, Mike Sappol, Lonberg-holm, many more. "A wild hybrid of structure and chaos which sounds astonishingly coherent."

GURALNICK, TOM: Broken Dances For Muted Pieces CD (WN 17). $13.00

"These live improvisations were performed on tenor and soprano saxophones modified with homemade mutes and electronic processing, and augmented with invented and appropriated wind instruments. These various elements are assembled within a sculptured construction which come to be known fondly as the 'Mobile Saxophone & Mute Unit,' the structure of which allows the performer easy access to the many components while encouraging lively physical movement within its boundaries."

WHATNESS (GERMANY):

SUCHY, JOSEPH: Canoeing Instructional CD (WHATNE 002). $16.00

Released on Ekkehard Ehlers new label. Packaged in a gorgeous fold-out digipak, this artifact has an intensely detailed flavour. Unique stringed instrument improvisations, slowly mixed in with sampled loops of the same sounds. Suchy supposedly spent a year developing this work, and you can hear the effort. "This release is a result of a new project by the Cologne-based guitarist Joseph Suchy. Joseph was invited to make a musical piece from 'Harfe' a recent art work by Berlin based artist Kirsten Pieroth. 'Harfe' is a 5.40 m. wooden canoe, that has been transformed into a stringed instrument. The recordings were rebuilt by Joseph Suchy and are an intense and colourful work."

USHMI MEETS REVEREND GALLOWAY ON ERNST BUSCH, MARC: Mein Kopf Velor Ein Dach CD (WHATNE 003). $16.00

"When socialists get on their soapboxes... as part of their campaign for the 1928 Reichstag elections, the German Social Democratic Party SPD handed out pieces of soap imprinted with the words 'Vote SPD'. The accompanying flyer bore the ditty 'Nimm dieses Stückchen Seife, auf daß es Dich erfreu' und schenke deine Stimme der SPD-Partei.' (roughly: Take this piece of soap from me, enjoy it, and vote for the SPD). Not everyone in the socialist workers' movement appreciated such offbeat humour. It spawned the 'Soap Song' which audiences never tired of requesting from the singer, actor and later communist Ernst Busch. It was one of the songs that firmly established Busch's reputation as the 'Tauber of the Barricades' — alluding to 1920s operetta star Richard Tauber. In December 2000 Ekkehard Ehlers and Markus Weisbeck asked Stephen Galloway, one of the most scintillating figures in the German pop scene, to interpret the famous workers' revolutionary songs of Ernst Busch on the occasion of an exhibition curated by Liam Gillick at MAK Vienna. This legendary champagne-fuelled recording was presented as an installation in Vienna (very loud, at night). Some six months later, Marcus Schmickler set about compiling this CD on the basis of those recordings. On Ernst Busch opens up a new dimension in polit-funk with a blend of exhilarating techno and house tracks based on Mr Galloway's absurd cultural achievement. This CD pays homage to Ernst Busch and begs the question of how to interpret a text one does not understand."

BUTLER, ADAM: Smoozing With The Après Garde CD (WHATNE 006). $18.00

"For quite a while the British national but Cologne resident Adam Butler — alias Vert — has been making a name for himself on an international level. Lightness and profundity exist side-by-side in his music and not in opposition. 'I have an obsession with combining opposites', he says, 'control/chaos, rational/distorted, perfect/flawed.' But the title of the last Vert album — Small Pieces Loosely Joined — hinted at an interest in the complexities of social interaction, and this interest led to a desire to revive the almost-disappeared role of the cocktail pianist. Armed with piano and laptop, Butler is never happier than when playing out of joint blues in the corner while party guests schmooze all around. But don't expect gentle Gershwin workouts: this is, after all, the after-hours of a century of experimentations and extremes, and even this traditionally more relaxed genre can't resist a networking opportunity. Instead, Butler provides us with new interpretations of his own material, processed improvisations, and a Mouse on Mars arrangement in the style of Eric Satie."

VA: On Peter Roehr CD (WHATNE 007). $19.00

Remixes by Liam Gillick, Albrecht Kunze, Mellián, Alva Noto, Markus Schneider, Shantel, Nobukazu Takemura. For Roehr's original work, see the Suppose label. "Peter Roehr's crafted work with a categorical reduction of form, was developed in the 60's: a time of revolt, of divergence, and of pop. He critically observed industrial production and its effects, so it isn't surprising that serialization, in its strictest form, became Roehr's artistic process. Even less so is, from the result of his far-from-sober 'examinations', yet a poetic popping emerges. This ambivalence is marvellously encapsulated in his purely tonal cuts — his 'Film Assemblies' —, which were the earliest loops. Consequently this makes them particularly suitable to be deconstructed and remixed again today." — Monique Behr.

WHITE LEATHER (GERMANY):

D'ARCANGELO: Corner EP 12" (WLV 003EP). $9.00

"White Leather present the Corner EP by Italian electro stars D'Archangelo. The musical siblings Marco and Fabrizio D'Archangelo are responsible for the definitive 'Sound of Rome', carving a longstanding career releasing music on labels such as ACV, Monomorph, Suction, and Rephlex. Using complex hip-hop rhythms and minimal synths, the Corner EP has an intricate, soulful contemporary sound, which grows in depth on repeated listens."

CROSS, DAVIS MICHAEL: Cold War CD (WLV 005 CD). $16.00

"The White Leather imprint continues to release the finest in electro pop music with their first album release. David Michael Cross originally recorded the tracks for Cold War in 1982! and they still sound really fresh. Forget the retro hype this is the real thing. The list of machines, that were used to create this groundbreaking record includes Korg MS10, Oberheim DMX drum-computer, Roland Jupiter 8 and the Korg KR55; yesterday's absolute avant-garde and today's ultra rare collectors items. His influence can be heard in many aspects of dance/pop music from Detroit techno to British pop. Long time fan and White Leather/Turbo Recordings owner Tiga was eager to give David Michael Cross's music a re-release so that a wider audience can hear what all the fuss was about. Sophisticated early 80ies synth-electro pop."

WHIZZKIDZZ:

LONE PIGEON: Schoozzzmmii CD (WHIZZ 001CD). $15.00

"Schoozzzmmii — like its Domino predecessor Cocubine Rice — was recorded at home, giving it an unmistakable 4-track quality, and Gordon Anderson's lyrics are pure pop glory. Based in Fife, a place from which he says he never wants to escape, his distance from the music business capital has allowed him to develop a singular approach. Listening to Lone Pigeon is more about recognizing that the world imposes unnecessary restrictions and accepting the sense of personal freedom offered. Even partial access to the minds of genuine outsider artists whose music cleanses the soul is quite humbling. With Lone Pigeon appearing on The Guardian Top 50 Best British Band and Mojo's British Eccentrics lists, Gordon Anderson — for he is the Lone Pigeon — shies away from such talk. Not in some fake 'I-secretly-crave-limelight' way, either. For him, over-confidence breeds arrogance, which in turn yields nonsensical output. Bup, bup, we'll have none of that here."

WHOLLY OTHER:

ARTIFICIAL SUBTERRANE: Water Regions of The Southwest USA CD (WHO 4). $13.00

"Third solo release by Paul Guilford/Locasta of the Dave Dove Paul duo, this time under the pseudonym Artificial Subterranean. Long and layered bass triggered synth pieces form some kind of oblique 'concept' album somehow related to the fact that there are no naturally occurring lakes in Texas. Sounds involved range from appropriately aquatic to 'ambient' (if your idea of ambience is a construction site)."

WICHITA (UK):

RUBY: Short-Staffed At The Gene Pool CD (WEBB 006CD). $15.00

"Following the release of her universally successful debut album Salt Peter (Creation, 1995), Lesley Rankine moved to New Orleans. Six months later, after a rash of car-jackings and hold-ups, a sufficiently scary incident happened. A woman was brutally murdered in the garden of her house opposite and the killer had deposited her clothing in Lesley's garbage as he left the scene. Lesley left New Orleans 5 days later and moved to Seattle to start recording her second album. In-between touring and the stint in New Orleans, Lesley recorded a version of 'Kung Fu Fighting' with Tom Jones (way before it was compulsory to do so) and performed 'Thank Heaven For Little Girls' in an ad filmed in LA for Pepsi/Mountain Dew..." This official description goes on & on about the trauma of being sucked into the Creation vortex, typical "Pro Label" nonsense: say nothing about the music, mention the Mountain Dew commercial, etc., and hype the credibility enhancing remixers who've been duped in: Mekon, Schneider TM, Bench, Mira Calix, Max Tundra, Solex, Kid 606, Hrvatski, Eli Janney, Deckwrecka, Anjali, Dot Allision, Console, etc.

PENFOLD PLUM: Scribbled i Infant CD (WEBB 013CD). $10.00

"6 track mini-LP from this Wauvenfold side-project (I know how helpful that is but bear with me), on a new label run by former Creation label personality Dick Green. A nice sturdy low-tech affair, crunked beats, almost BOC-like SH-101 melodies, gases. Pleasant and pretty, if slightly trance-informed in spots. An artist-set to watch out for." — Hrvatski.

PENFOLD PLUM: Scribbled i Infant LP (WEBB 013LP). $10.00

HER SPACE HOLIDAY: Ambidextrous CD (WEBB 017 CD). $13.00

"A limited package of unreleased remixes including an amazing take on Elastica's 'My Sex' by Marc Bianchi, the man behind Her Space Holiday." Artists remixed: Elastica, Aspera Ad Astra, Bright Eyes, Ruby, Micromars, Logic, Brave Captain, Duster, Her Space Holiday.

WAUVENFOLD: On The Blink CD (WEBB 018 CD). $9.00

"Follow up to the critically acclaimed 'Crisp Little Digit'. CD comes in a unique flip out CD package never before used. Currently have remixed tracks for Super Furry Animals, Ruby, Brothers In Sound."

WAUVENFOLD: On The Blink 12" (WEBB 018 EP). $9.00

12" vinyl version.

WAUVENFOLD: Threefold CD (WEBB 024 CD). $15.00

"A compilation of their three highly acclaimed EPs, plus previously unreleased material. The 3 EPs 'Crisp Little Digit', 'On The Blink' and 'Splinter Switch' have been collected together on CD with additional tracks. Noel Murphy (audio florist) and Tom Hill (beat monger) are from London, but relocated to Nottingham to record together, and take advantage of the cheaper cost of living. The past year has had it's moments. The lowest must have been the complete theft of their studio equipment from their basement. The higher points including the development of their live show from 2 guys cowering behind laptops to fucked-up stand up and shake it mc-ing via live bass experimentation. In a complex lo-fi electronica kinda way of course. Wauvenfold have been seen out playing with Four Tet, Her Space Holiday, Hood, S.I. Futures, Manitoba and more recently with Minotaur Shock."

WIJJA (UK):

GUVERN: Curry Favor 7" (WIJ 38). $4.00

UK only 7" EP; "Making Headlines" taken from the E. Peace album, both sides of the original self released Gap Year single ("Thespian Girl" & "She Dog Stop") + 1.

WILD PLACES:

HOLY RIVER FAMILY BAND: Welcome To Riverhouse 2CD (WILD 004). $22.00

Expansive double CD second album by this Swedish group with roots in the Spacious Mind universe. "New CD from this Spacious Mind offshoot now becoming more viable than the origin counterpart. 2CD set totalling 109 minutes of stunning psychedelia ranging from earthy tribal grooves and raga/trance sensibilities to prime early Floyd (Piper, Saucerful) space forays. Unlike the last release this features some vocals and takes the looser vibe of that CD and really focuses the vision and playing. Transporting and dazzling with exotic instrumentation in addition to the rock tools and truly stellar guitar work. They have also incorporated such influences as Pearls Before Swine, native American and eastern modes and the West Coast psych vibe."

PERHACS, LINDA: Parallelograms CD (WILD 005). $14.00

New remastered version, from original tapes, with 5 bonus tracks (one prev. unreleased song, plus alternate demos), new liner notes. Reissue of this legendary folk-psych album, originally issued by Kapp in 1970. Perhacs was from the west coast and this was her lone document. Various reissue labels tried to track her down for many years, but only now has a fully authorized version been possible. Comparable to a very lysergically tipped Joni Mitchell, Linda performs an enchanting brand of elevated folk, with strange, eerie electronic effects in the background. One of the most quietly stunning records of the period.

USE OF ASHES: Albion Moonlight CD (WILD 009). $12.00

Use of Ashes are the contemporary Dutch-based psych duo of Maarten Scherrenburg (elec. & acoustic guitars, keyboards, vocals) and Peter van Vliet (elec. & acoustic guitars, citer, melotron, organ, melodica, sampler, drumbox, sounds and tapes, vocals). This mid-priced 33-minute CD is a reissue of a limited 10" release from 1998 with bonus tracks adds. The group have released numerous records, starting with a debut LP in 1988, The Castle Of Fair Welcome, some of which have been ridiculously limited. This will be their first easily findable release, at least from a US-based perspective.

HOLY RIVER FAMILY BAND: Earthquake Country CD (WILD 010). $14.00

"Stunning new CD from this amazing Swedish band with Spacious Mind and Cauldron members. Running time is over 76 minutes. Incorporating psych, deep folk psych and beyond. A true gem." From Tom Rapp's liner notes: "To me, music is psychedelic if it has the unmistakable presence of magic and it helps you to open up your heart and your mind. The Holy River Family Band, in this new CD, is wonderfully psychedelic, and this CD is a Psychedelicatessen. Come on in and help yourself."

TOUCH: Touch CD (WILD 011). $14.00

"New repackaged and expanded reissue of their 1969 Coliseum LP (aka 20/20 Sound) with four bonus tracks. Their album was a really exploratory effort with touches of psychedelia ('Down At Circes Place'), jazz, avant-garde and progressive rock. The vocals sound rather like Tim Buckley in his Starsailor period."

FENNER, LELAND & O'BRIEN: CD (WILD 012). $14.00

"2-on-1 reissue of unknown LP's from 1969 (50 and 250 original LP copies, respectively): Peace In Our Time + Somewhere, Someday, Somehow. These were originally issued on the RPC Vanity label. Stunning LP's filled with that broken dreamer vibe, where youthful idealism and naivete met the cold facts of Vietnam and the government's 'true intentions'. The resulting sound is somewhat akin to some of Bryan MacLean's work with LOVE and Crosby's Wooden Ships, yet this music is all their own. Some excellent fuzz on a couple tracks, and hailed by all who have heard it. Original copies sell for seriously lofty amounts!"

TIRILL: A Dance With the Shadows CD (WILD 013). $14.00

"The debut solo CD from Tirill Mohn, formerly of renowned Norwegian folk/prog group, White Willow. A truly stunning recording full of light and shadow, from sun gilded meadows to firelight dancing off the trees at the deep heart of the darkened forest. At once contemporary and ancient, earthy and grounded and ethereal and otherworldly, joyous and sorrowful, deeply emotional and stirringly cerebral. Tirill's acoustic guitar work is classical in influence as well as rooted in folk musics and Scandinavian melodies, at times recalling some of the playing of Duncan Browne and Nick Drake. Her violin work is sublime and lyrical and her voice is nothing short of angelic. (think a Nordic Linda Perhacs even) She is backed by some amazing musicians making this CD truly an experience, whilst incorporating neo classical, folk, progressive and even gothic elements she has created a lovely nether-world all it's own."

GODDING, BRIAN: Slaughter On Shaftesbury Avenue CD (WILD 014). $14.00

"Awesome solo recordings from legendary UK guitarist, Brian Godding. Brian has played with Blossom Toes, BB Blunder (w/ Julie Driscoll-Tippett), Magma, Centipede, Mike Westbrook, Kevin Coyne, Mirage and many more. Truly a forerunner and contemporary to the likes of John McLaughlin, Allan Holdsworth, Ollie Halsall and beyond. Contains an unreleased track and a full version of another (3 more minutes). Originally issued on Reckless in '88 this is vastly improved sound and flow wise."

WIN RECORDS:

MISS MURGATROID: Myoclyonic Melodies CD (WIN 018). $13.00

2nd full length CD by this "avant accordionist". "...ventures far deeper into the dark sonic timbres and textures capable of the accordion. Her 1930's Dallape accordion provides for a rich range of tunes — some soundtracks to nightmares, other noisy lullabies for devout insomniacs. Myoclyonic also features guest Hawaiian slide from seminal guitarist John Fahey and dirgey upright bass, short wave radio and amplified bicycle from avant-noise terrorist Patrick Barber of the infamous Blowhole." Limited remaining stock...

WISHING TREE:

ALUMINUM GROUP: More Happiness CD (WTR 020 CD). $14.00

"Over the course of five studio albums, The Aluminum Group has created a simultaneously futuristic and retro sound — a potent cocktail of atmospheric electronica, slinky soul and old-school easy listening. The lineup shifts subtly with each release, but the core is always brothers Frank and John Navin, who maintain a strong interest in song structures, the blending of traditional ideas, reinterpreting to some degree, and bringing a newness, a contemporary feel, to a lot of things. The Aluminum Group creates songs that are stories, melodically and lyrically very nice. Swimming in lush orchestrations reminiscent of vintage Brian Wilson, More Happiness is a pop album filled with melodies that work their way into the listener's brain. The ten new songs are filled with contributions from members of Tortoise, The Sea And Cake, and a special appearance by Cynthia Plaster Caster."

MOLES, THE: On The Street 2CD (WTR 022 CD). $15.00

"The Moles were an Australian art-rock band led by Richard Davies (a gifted singer/songwriter who quickly assumed cult status and found success on American soil both as a solo artist and as one half of the short-lived duo Cardinal). The band's catchy, eclectic brand of art-pop combined elements of the Beach Boys, the Velvet Underground, and early Pink Floyd. On The Street combines stand out tracks from all of The Moles' various releases, with rare and unreleased tracks packaged as the bonus disc, Rare and Weird. Never to be heard from again, The Moles' music stands the test of time — and their influence can be heard on many records since."

VA: The Amos House Collection Vol. III 2CD (WTR 023 CD). $15.00

"The third installation in Amos House charity compilation series features twenty rare and exclusive tracks. Proceeds go directly to Amos House, a Rhode Island-based non-profit charity organization dedicated to providing direct support for people in need by offering resources that help them achieve greater stability and self-reliance in their lives." Artists: Emily Sparks, Spoon, Richard Davies, James William Hindle, Her Space Holiday, The Aluminum Group, Wheat, Califone, Elf Power, Super Furry Animals, Circulatory System, The Good Life, The 'Mericans, Skating Club, Wilco, Matt Smith, Archer Prewitt, Clairvoyants, Azure Ray, Hayden.

ALUMINUM GROUP: Happiness CD (WTR 105 CD). $14.00

"Over the course of four studio albums, The Aluminum Group has created a sound that's simultaneously futuristic and retro, a potent cocktail of atmospheric electronica, slinky soul and old-school easy listening. The band's lineup shifts subtly with each release, but the core is always brothers Frank and John Navin, who've had a strong idea of what they wanted the band to do since they started it — manage song structures with a blend of traditional ideas and new interpretations with a revitalizing, contemporary feel. Only in the twisted, intelligent minds of the brothers Navin could such worlds collide. Swimming in lush orchestrations reminiscent of vintage Brian Wilson, Happiness is a pop album filled with melodies that work their way into the listener's brain. The ten new songs here benefit from contributions from some of the independent music world's most exciting artists: members of Tortoise, The Sea And Cake, Rebecca Gates of The Spinanes, and many more."

ALUMINUM GROUP: Happiness LP (WTR 105 LP). $11.00

LP version.

WITCH & WARLOCK (GERMANY):

DOM: Edge Of Time CD (W&W 005). $10.00

Reduced price on the last copies of this initial bootleg reissue (more recently issued by Second Battle). 1995 reissue of dubious legality of this 1970 Krautrock legend. "The name DOM wasn't neither a synonym for 'cathedral' nor did it mean 'dirty old man'. It was the name of an acid-trip, you could stay on for nearly two days. You will hear this influence throughout the tracks. They made a record in early '72 (all songs are contained on this CD, unfortunately there are no bonus tracks left). They'd been called Early Birds and Set Minds before, playing things like Beat and 'Voodoo Chile' but DOM was more something Pink Floyd could have done, if they had followed the path of 'Careful With That Axe, Eugene.' Those were the days." —Warlock. "A strange, spacious and innovative album fusing rock, folk, ethnic and the avant-garde musics most uniquely...it ranges from atmospheric Yatha Sidhra realms via electroacoustic collage, and free-form jazz, onto the chaotic psychedelic underground of Amon Düül. Enigmatic through and through." —Freeman's

WMF RECORDS (GERMANY):

VA: Audio.Video.Disco - (Compiled & Mixed By Dixon and Mitja Priz) CD (WMF 003 CD). $14.50

"Audio Video Disco is a compilation series on WMF records, meant to describe a possible night, spent in the WMF club: house is in the house — and on disc. The prelude to this series is naturally hosted, mixed and compiled by the inventors, founders and residents of the club night which bears the same name. Starting the CD with an intro, that invites the party crowd to the WMF club, Dixon (member of the Sonar Kollektiv) and Mitja Prinz (see also V.A. Globus Mix Vol.1 - Mitja Prinz Audio-Video-Disco-Atmosphere on Tresor) smoothly begin their tour de floor. 13 favourites were picked and carefully chosen with affection to picture a typical Dixon - Mitja - WMF party. The warm smart grooves of Dixon prepare the dancefloor for Mitja's smashers, which are taking a faster step. The pocket sound may sound rounded off comparatively early — but the sound resounds and reminisces — to make appetite on more: enjoy!" Artists include: Attica Blues, Unforscene, Ski Oakenfull, Recloose, Metro Area 2, Borne & Sporenburg, Derrick Carter, Annie, Freaks Presents Turning Orange, DJ HMC, Barada, M1, Lynden David Hall.

VA: Audio.Video.Disco - (Compiled & Mixed By Dixon and Mitja Priz) 2LP (WMF 003 LP). $14.00

Double vinyl version, featuring the tracks from Annie, Lynden David Hall, unforscene, DJ HMC and Attica Blues.

ELEKTRO MUSIC DEPARTMENT: Follow Me 12" (WMF 004). $8.00

"The Elektro Music Department in itself is already exceptionally extraordinary. The trio of Mo, Kotai and Daniel Pflumm is legendary in Berlin's art, music and clubscene due to their bar/club projects: elektro, panasonic and init and their musical and visual arts concepts. Their label, which is also called Elektro Music Department, can be seen as a reflection of the synergy of art and music, which has been the driving force in the development of those projects especially the elektro and the panasonic. The records released are supplemented with videos and artwork by Daniel Pflumm, which is relying on 'art -' quotes of logos and slogans, emphasizing, playfully ironic, the logo mania and corporate identity of 'the big business'. The musical output of EMD is dominated by Mo and Kotai. It is about techno, minimal, deep and atmospheric are often added attributes that fit — but do not hit the point. EMD's music is dancefloor music, without techno clichés, it is minimal in a way of purity and clarity, deep — in the meaning of a strong baseline and atmospheric — if this means to create a certain spatial feeling. EMD sound clever and cool with a rock approach. But all those attributes do not exclude their opposites. EMD inside and out comes something romantic?"

VA: Komfort.Labor Presents: Ocean Club CD (WMF 004 CD). $14.00

"The role model for the series komfort.labor on WMF records is the event called Komfort Labor, which is taking place on Saturdays in the WMF Club, Berlin. Under the dictation of komfort.labor a comfortable bar evolves from the pleasant room of the DJ lounge, music itself evolves from a relaxing fringe event to a central concert-like happening. Different berlinian formations are forming the komfort.labor as residents inviting guest DJs and live performing artists along their musical preferences. These are: the label Scape, the radio show Ocean Club, the magazine for electronic living aspects DE:BUG, the computer generated studio production crew of Native Instruments, and the electronic experiment Solitaire Touring. The compilation series komfort.labor is based on the different musical contents that are presented by komfort.labor's residents. Those who don't know what Ocean Club is should visit their website or listen to their radio shows online to get an impression. Ocean Club is special — that's what the compiled tracks show as well. Compilers Gudrun Gut and Thomas Fehlmann do feature own heroes as well as good friends, rock'n'roll as well as elektronika, fun as well as groovyness. That's what Ocean Club's like: they don't care about genre conformity. Ocean Club is not only a bunch of musicians from different backgrounds playing in one common project but a broadcast on Radio One, Berlin, dedicated to electronic experiments and musica obscura. Ocean Club Radio are Gudrun Gut (Einstürzende Neubauten / Malaria! / Miasma / Monika Enterprise) and Thomas Fehlmann (The Orb / Palais Schaumburg / Flow) who are virtuously playing and expressing themselves with lots of different styles — as musicians, DJs and label managers. Gudrun Gut is currently very successful with the remixes of her Malaria! Hit 'Kaltes Klares Wasser'. Ocean Club also is last but not least a club event at WMF's [komfort.labor]. You can join the club now all over the world by this crispy and very special 'soundselection'."

VA: Nighteffect CD (WMF 005 CD). $14.00

"DJ Highfish, resident at Berlin's traditional and best house club, is the compiler of Nighteffect.2 that features a wide range of very well known and for sure soon to be famous artists of the actual European electronic music scene with an obvious focus on Berlin. The compilation is in fact an overview of Berlin's hippest and grooviest e-musicians and their friends from Cologne and Frankfurt/Germany, Switzerland, Poland and Detroit/US (John Tejada). The family affair aspect then is the main reason for nine of the 13 confirmed tracks being exclusively and previously unreleased. This makes the whole CD a very special compilation that not just mirrors the Tech-House presence to be listened and danced to in Europe's finest clubs. It is also an outlook of what's coming up. Nighteffect.2 will not only gain attention by its tracklist — it will be in the mix by DJ Highfish. So be prepared to feel the Saturday Nighteffect beats — and rock." Artists include: T.Raumschmiere, Plastique de Reve Vs. Crowdpleaser, Jacek Sienkiewicz, Offpop, John Tejada, Rework, Falko Brocksieper, Beroshima, Sascha Funke, Mitte Karaoke, Martini Bros, Gebrüder Teichmann, Welt Zwei.

VA: Komfort.Labor Presents Native Lab CD (WMF 006 CD). $14.00

"The third edition of Komfort.Labor features the Native Lab, an evening organized by the music software company Native Instruments. Electronica stars from all over the world played there and now made new tracks for this CD (only Vert's has been released before). A very special feature on this CD is the CD-extra part, music by Lazyfish from Russia, design by fork.unstable media from Hamburg. There you'll find a Reaktor application generating Lazyfish's new track and you'll be able to interact, to modify the music, to create your own track on the basis of Lazyfish's programming." Features exclusive tracks from: Kid 606, Jake Mandell, Richard Devine, Errorsmith, F.X. Randomiz, Rob Acid, Solar X, Kent, Vladislav Delay, Siegmur Kreie, Mike Dred, Nitrate vs. Vger, Lazyfish. Packaged in a beautiful fold-out digipak.

KOTAI: Sucker DJ 12" (WMF 008). $8.00

"Sucker DJ is part of Kotai's concept album to be released in April on Nighteffect on WMF Records. Better known as member of the legendary Elektro Music Department Kotai decided to release his album, where this EP is taken from, on WMF Rec because of the clubby concept it's based on. This is mirrored by DJ Highfish's remix. Highfish is Resident compiler of the Nighteffect sampler series and Resident DJ of the Nighteffect Tech House event series at Berlin's best house club WMF. Kotai's Sucker DJ represents the arty, vocal and expressive song version whereas Highfish's remix has been already tested as excellent floor filler."

KOTAI: Kotai CD (WMF 008 CD). $14.00

"Kotai, better known as member of the legendary Elektro Music Department, decided to release his album, where the EP 'Sucker DJ' is taken from, on WMF Rec because of the clubby concept it's based on but as well because of comparable label histories and a personal affinity to WMF. The label Elektro Music Department evolved from the cult club Elektro in Berlin and is run by former club owners and now 'just' artists, namely very well-known DJ Mo, video artist Daniel Pflumm, internationally famous for his logo art and responsible for both the visual appearance of EMD and WMFrec — and musician and artist Klaus Kotai. Every track of the 9 exclusive pieces on this release has a special meaning for the whole curriculum. And the whole is indeed something with a strange, intense character: knitted by small intervals of pure background noises a quilt of straight sounds and deep vocals is enfolded that densifies to certain song structures and concrete tracks. It's art but it's physical. It's dance but it's philosophical. It's abstract but colourful. It's dark, dense, dirty and pure joy. The higher art of techno so to speak — and to any club customer's satisfaction."

KOTAI: Kotai 2LP (WMF 008 LP). $12.00

Double LP version, reduced pricing.

VA: WMF Compilation 001 CD (WMF 01 CD). $16.00

"WMF club Berlin (alive and kicking it since 1991) is synonymous with clubculture, not only in Berlin but nationwide. Their first CD release (compiled by WMF resident DJ Highfish) was created as an acoustic reference to the exiting Saturday nights, named Saturday 'night-effects' at WMFN04johannishof and, also as a conceptual 'outlook'. Compilation 001 is the first in a series of WMF compilations that will document club events and musical projects. Taken from a pool of artists and friends at the club, which were all hosting (and still will be) the Saturday nights at WMF as a family affair. Therefore this record is not an ordinary compilation — nearly all the tracks have been produced exclusively for it. And yet it reflects just about any Saturday night at the WMF, like a guide through the music featured here. In spite of differences in style and tempo, the result is a homogenous acoustic experience. So come in, tune in, and open your ears to the electronic song." Artists include Chicks on Speed, Zombie Nation, Ben E. Clock, Rawell, Mitte Karaoke, Elektro Music Department, Anontelli Electr, Steve Bug, Alter Ego, Patrick Pulsinger, Thomas Fehlmann, Farben, and Pole.

NIKAKOI: Shentimental CD (WMF 010 CD). $18.00

"After being surprisingly successful in a certain electronic niche with his first album Sestrichka 2002 out of the popular music's no man's land Georgia Nikakoi (Russian for nobody) isn't a nobody anymore. But always are interpreted in an individual and urban manner to result in the opposite of folk. Nikakoi's sound collages consist of house pixels, hip hop and drum'n'bass quotations alongside funky laptop bombast and ballad-like lyrics, whether performed by Nikakoi himself or guests like Maja or Tusia. The musical arc is widespread with the 17 tracks of Shentimental but the album doesn't end up in heterogeneous confusion. Rather Shentimental convinces with its commitment to sentimental dreaminess which is to be found in the very silent tracks as well as in the more active ones and the rather awkward songs."

NIKAKOI: City Light 12" (WMF 011). $8.00

"Nikakoi (Russian for 'nobody') is Nika Machaidze. He is not only one of the few electronic musicians from Georgia but also member of Goslab, an artistic Georgian network that deals with different kinds of media such as film, fashion, video, literature, art, and music. His first album Sestrichka is the first electronic CD from Georgia ever and the first artist release on WMF Records — till then famous just for compilations (released in March 2002). As media and music fans all over Europe responded that fantastic to the music of this unknown young man, WMF Records tries to fulfill the need for more Nikakoi."

VA: Moment CD (WMF 011 CD). $19.00

"The first WMFRECORD label compilation, containing vinyl tracks and previously unreleased material from both label and guest artists produced in the years 2000 to 2003, is a musical snapshot, which reminds you of favourite songs, introduces the present, and takes a look into the future. Moment presents a journey through a clubmusic landscape with a diversified topography. WMFRECORD shows a wild and crispy mixture of bad ass ragga tronix, experimental elektronika, melodic broken beats, reduced techno, funk-con-fusion, minimal house, clubrockgalore and straight forward. Moment gathers and surprises, because of the harmonious together of the different styles. Or for the very reason just not. After all, every single artist feels comfortable on WMF Records, whether they are from Sweden, Canada, Poland, England, or just Berlin. For the joy of vinyl enthusiasts who love extraordinary mixtures the CD will be completed by a maxi with previously unreleased material, also to carry Moment back to the turntables." Artists: Elektro Music Department, Mitte Karaoke, Bucci, sweet.n.candy, Jacek Sienkiewicz, Khan, Jeremy P. Caulfield, Håkan Lidbo, Offpop, Perch, Rawell, Nikakoi, Jahcoozi.

VA: Comfort.Labor Presents Native Lab 2LP (WMF 011 LP). $11.00

Double LP version.

SIENKIEWICZ, JACEK: Case Theory 12" (WMF 014 EP). $8.00

"Being a young music nerd born in 1976 in Warsaw/Poland and a DJ since 1995 Jacek found it very hard to get fresh records and then to depend on them as a DJ. He started to produce his own stuff and founded with Recognition his own label in 1999, where he released an album and five EPs till now. From the start he focused on at that time quite unpopular minimal techno, but nearly at once has been internationally very successful with his kind of music. Nowadays he is one of the sympathetic underground heroes for his very complex and dense, but at the same time absolutely minimal tracks he loves to present live. In Germany Jacek also released on Hartwaren, Klang und Trapez."

TRANSFORMER DI ROBOTER: Transformer Hits 12" (WMF 015). $8.00

"Transformer Di Roboter is just one experimental music project Johannes Malfatti and Alex Kloster from Berlin are working on. They are named after the Italian version of a popular 80's toy — and that's what Transformer is mainly about : Already existing hits are altered, modulated, turned upside down and put into a complete new sound shape. Weirded though catchy tracks, hits themselves, are born that intend to show what this hit thing is really about and what is possible with a (grim) sense of humour. For those who know..."

KOTAL: Sucker DJ Remixes 12" (WMF 016). $9.00

"Jacek Sienkiewicz & Khan did a great job on one of last year's huge monstertracks."

BUCCI: Skip & Chord EP 12" (WMF 018). $9.00

"New on WMF are Pier and Andres Bucci. The brothers from Santiago de Chile are raised in a family of artists and travel the world to define themselves and their musical output afresh again and again without losing their Latin American roots. Closely connected to the 'Chile-Posse' with compañeros like Atomheart, Señor Coconut, Ricardo Villalobos, Dandy Jack, Sieg Über Die Sonne, Chica Paula and others who are based in Germany and Chile the brothers currently split: Andres lives in Chile again and Pier is now based in Berlin. The current mutual project of both brothers — Bucci is performed live just by Pier, but production work is done together. So Bucci combines the brother's experiences and preferences to one complex alter ego, that always refers back to their home country, sometimes louder, sometimes more quiet. Nestled microbeats, gently touched by dancing sunny melodikas with a rockin' undertone now hit the European floors and say hola on WMF records. Vamos juntos a bailar..."

JAHCOOZI: Fish 12" (WMF 019). $9.00

"Fringing on blip hop, ragga-tech and abstract electronica, this cabaret filled circus of genres and jangleurs complement bass-heavy organic and electronic sounds with storytelling and lyrics. At times sparse and metallic. At times melodic and ironic. Hey, this is musical-mayhem-pure. Jahcoozi is a band of three based in Berlin. The remix of the Jahcoozi track 'Kaleidoscope' by Beige (on Burnt Friedman's imprint Nonplace) on the contrary shows Jahcoozi's love for the abstract and will please experimental music friends."

LIL' MARK: Diversion 12" (WMF 020). $9.00

"Djing since the early part of the 90s, Mark Keith Currell decided to pursue his love for house music with some production work. Hysterical vocal loops meet sweet melodies and stomping beats, combined with some extra funk you have four timeless and beautiful house bites — for your heart and hips."

WMO (UK):

O'SHEA, MICHAEL: CD (WMO 012 CD). $15.00

"A compendium of the only known recordings of an extraordinary musical talent, including his eponymous album, a long lost classic originally produced by Wire's Bruce Gilbert and Graham Lewis for their Dome label in 1982. O'Shea was discovered busking in Covent Garden by the The's Tom Johnston, playing a home-made instrument called the mo cara, constructed from a wooden box over which he stretched 17 strings, played by striking them with old paintbrushes. This dulcimer-like affair was then amplified through various pedals to create it's unique, eerie sound."

SYMPTOMS: Apathy CD (WMO 032 CD). $15.00

"The second album from Denmark's Klaus Ammitzbohl (brother of Silo's Fred) takes the listener on a deeper, more introverted journey than his highly-acclaimed eponymous debut, retaining and refining his attractive though unsettling mix of 'one guitar one pc' lo-fi and a breathtaking harmonic skill. The music here explores direct effects on the body, both in terms of external physical reactions and corresponding internal senses, encapsulated best by the artist's assertion that 'thoughts have a distinctive feel to them, which can be translated into physical music.' As much in the tradition of atmospheric pioneers like Eno & Sylvian, as it is in step with Swim's other modernist heroes Lobe, Immersion & Silo, while also sharing headspace with the likes of Pan Sonic, Phoenecia and friends, the deep tones and looming sonic clouds of Apathy offer new visions of electronic construction."

WOBBLY RAIL:

SMITH/HARUMI MAKINO SMITH, WADADA LEO: Condor, Autumn Wind CD (WOB 001). $13.50

Debut release on a new NC-based based jazz label. "Throughout his career Wadada has made some of his most powerful, effective, and affecting music in a solo setting. For Condor... his first solo release since 1994's acclaimed Kulture Jazz, Smith was recorded live in Durham, NC, performing mainly on the trumpet (in hot blasts and blinding runs, muted cries and mournful, smeared notes), but also on wooden flute, mbira and intense, honking seal norm. He also sings on the haunting, almost ambient blues of Skip James's 'Special Rider Blues'. Poet Harumi Makino Smith collaborates on 3 pieces, reading her poetry in English and Japanese over Smith's improvising."

IBARRA/DENIS CHARLES, SUSIE: Drum Talk CD (WOB 005). $13.50

"A rollicking live set of drums and percussion from two generations of master percussionists. The late, legendary Denis Charles, a pioneering free-jazz drummer, and the quickly rising Susie Ibarra, former pupil of Milford Graves and current drummer for the powerhouse David S. Ware quartet among others, had been performing duets live in a practice room over a year leading up to the unexpected passing of Charles in early 1998. Tunes of both Charles and Ibarra are performed here, from the dynamic Charles duet standard of the title track to the gorgeous, shimmering 'Kulintang Medley' featuring Ibarra on tuned Phillipine gongs. Drum Talk captures the pair before a lively crowd and at the height of their collective power in a sometimes thoughtful, often furious display of joyous and communicative drumming power."

BUTCHER/PHIL DURRANT, JOHN: Secret Measures CD (WOB 006). $13.50

"London-based saxophonist John Butcher has been active in the improv/new music scene since the early 1980's, performing and recording with Derek Bailey, Butch Morris, Fred Frith, Zeena Parkins and others. On Secret Measures, the duo utilize three separate streams of sound: Butcher's live amplified saxophone and two separate treatment chains controlled by Durrant, to create an evolving, dynamic flow of sound and noise. Durrant fights the predictability of so much digital electronics — in particular the deadening blanket of regular digital delay; he uses modulation to create random changes in the pitch and rhythm of the repeated sounds, and often 'scrambles' the sounds to make them unrecognizable as the original trigger played by Butcher. This also means that traditional reed techniques of multiphonics and overblowing can not be relied upon, as some of the most violent, dense sections of this music might arise when the saxophone is actually being played quite cleanly and simply. The result is an improvised music, which far from being some monstrous man-meets-machine music, finds both musicians equally explorative. Butcher, always one to explore the outer reaches of the saxophone rather than rely on the weight of its jazz history, finds himself pushing even further out as Durrant transforms delicate melodic flurries into landslides of thudding percussion or a stentorian roar is whisked into a telephone bleep." — Richard Sanderson

GRAEWE QUINTET, GEORG: Concert in Berlin 1996: Snapshots 1-53 CD (WOB 007). $13.50

"The classic hard bop quintet has always been one of my favorite formats. Listening to a lot of jazz in my teens, I was drawn to quintets (Parker, Davis, Rollins, Monk) rather than to any of the piano trios." — Georg Graewe. And so on Concert in Berlin we get the Georg Graewe version of the classic quintet: abstract and delicate at times, muscular and pointed at others, always surprising and engrossing. The group is incredibly percussive, with Gustafsson's saxes and Tramontana's trombone often meshing seamlessly with the Mattos' cello and Mark Sanders drums into a fluttering rhythmic web. Duets and trios appear and disappear, soloists break in (sometimes for only the briefest interjection), eventually falling back into the flow of the quintet through the piece. Graewe's expressive piano regularly bursts in with ideas and statements, at times sharply pointillistic, at times gently splashing."

VANDERMARK/PAUL LYTTON, KEN: English Suites 2CD (WOB 009). $17.00

Disc one: Chicago, USA January 11, 1999. Disc two: Hasselt, Belgium November 20, 1999. "The two concerts are quite different and show the range of stylistic concerns both Paul and I share: issues regarding rhythm, dynamics, space, tension, timbre, and melody. Both occasions gave me the opportunity to work with one of the pioneers and masters of European free improvised music one on one. This duo is one of the great challenges and pleasures that I've had in my life." — Ken Vandermark

DICKEY QUARTET, WHIT: Big Top CD (WOB 010). $13.50

"Whit Dickey was inspired to play drums by the music of Cecil Taylor and Sunny Murray, and later studied with master drummers Andrew Cyrille and Milford Graves. Since then Whit has performed and recorded with Bill Dixon, Matt Shipp, and David S. Ware, and of course the esteemed musicians that join him here on Big Top: Joe Morris, the most exciting and unique improvising voice on the guitar right now, Chris Lightcap, a versatile and respected young NYC bassist, and Rob Brown, whose voice on the alto and other reeds has been heard with such great groups as William Parker's In Order To Survive."

BISHOP/SEBI TRAMONTANA, JEB: Chicago Defenders CD (WOB 011). $13.50

"Sebi Tramontana and Jeb Bishop originally worked together when Sebi visited Chicago in 1999 to perform at the Empty Bottle Festival of Jazz and Improvised Music. On that occasion Sebi and fellow Italian trombonist Giancarlo Schiaffini sat in with Jeb's trio. This led to a live Sebi/Jeb duo concert on WNUR, which in turn led to the idea of hitting the studio to record these duets. The sonic malleability of the trombone (plus voice, plus mutes) is a constant stimulus to the improvising trombonist, and putting two of them together often seems to create a mutual reinforcement of the desire to examine the slide horn's capabilities for everything from ephemeral melody to mud to bombast to underwater textures. In any case, this is the spirit in which the duos on Chicago Defenders were undertaken."

VANDERMARK, KEN: Two Days in December 2CD (WOB 012). $17.00

Duos with Raymond Strid, Sten Sandell, David Stackenas, Kjell Nordeson. "I had been thinking of recording a series of improvised duos with these four players for a couple of years, but it took some time to shape the way to go about it. The main thing was to show some of the improvisational range that each of them have and I thought that the best way to do this was to work with shorter durations, pieces from five to ten minutes in length, over two cds so each duo could be represented by at least a half an hour of music. With these duos I think that we tried to be as free from musical categories and boundaries as we could, playing what the music suggested not what our preconceptions dictated. I feel that in many cases we succeeded. There are elements of styles defined as Free Jazz, Free Improvisation, New Music, Blues, Jazz, etc., but there are many times that I think we found something that is personal and does not fit into the categories that are set by 20th century expectations. It's a new time and we need to find music that belongs to our own experiences." — Ken Vandermark

FREE FALL: Furnace CD (WOB 013). $13.50

Ken Vandermark (clarinets) / Ingebrigt H'ker Flaten (bass) / H'vard Wiik (piano) = Free Fall. Gorgeous trio recording from Chicago reedsman Vandermark and his trio Free Fall, achieving freedom & controlled chaos, balanced with beauty & delicacy. "Any listener with a solid knowledge of jazz history will realize that inspiration for the name of this group was taken from the brilliant album, Free Fall, by the Jimmy Giuffrè Trio. The instrumentation has obvious parallels (clarinet, piano, bass), and I'd like to think that the music of this ensemble has an openness akin to that of Giuffrè's band with Paul Bley and Steve Swallow. It is important to note, though there are other associations that can be made between the two groups (combination of pulse and open time, distribution of melodic responsibility through fragmentation, etc.), Free Fall was not put together to function as a Jimmy Giuffrè 'tribute band'." — Ken Vandermark.

IBARRA & MARK DRESSER, SUSIE: Tone Time CD (WOB 014). $13.50

"Astounding collection of duets by these two exciting improvisers — Mark Dresser a veteran of the international improv scene and a master of the bass, and Susie Ibarra now firmly established as one of the most unique and creative drummers/percussionists in the world. These duos were improvised and recorded live in the studio in the summer of 2003, and cover an amazing amount of ground, from swinging, melodic grooves to nuanced, subtle dialogues."

WOBBLYHEAD:

CASINO VERSUS JAPAN: Go Hawaii CD (WBL 003 CD). $12.00

Year 2000 release. "Erik Kowalski's second album as Casino Versus Japan is an ambient-tech-no postcard from the nation's sunniest state, though the only obvious references to Hawaii come with the faraway slack-key guitar on the opener 'Theme' and the delightful vocal samples of a preschooler on 'It's Very Sunny.' Elsewhere, Go Hawaii is a superb album of chill-out techno-pop — heavy on the spacious synth, minor-key melodies, and crunchy percussion programs. Check 'Local Forecast,' 'Late for School,' and 'Over Island' for some of the dreamiest techno to come out of the American underground, or 'Dielectric Saints' for an atmospheric soundclash between dub and noise-pop. — John Bush.

AM-BOY: Floridian CD (WBL 010 CD). $12.00

"Lo-fi electronics are paramount in the Wobblyhead camp and this batch of brilliance deftly delivers the remedy for what ails you during those frigid winter months. Simple like Freescha, memorable like Boards of Canada, melodic like Casino Versus Japan, and innocent like no one else. Floridian by Am-Boy will stretch out the cerebral cortex and squeeze tiny little audio droplets of electronic bliss all around, remembering childhood in all its wide-eyed wonder. Am-Boy leaves the camera out of focus, clicking away at many of life's simple pleasures: childhood, nature, and nostalgia. Sometimes the most compelling moments are found flitting in the in-between. While the balanced geometry of Floridian cycles beyond indifference by uniting the soul with a metaphorical soundtrack of a walk to the beach, you can rest assured that no one is chasing you, the walls aren't closing in, and that the coast is peacefully clear."

INNERSTANCE.BEATBOX: All Little Boys Do Silly Little Dances CD (WBL 011 CD). $9.00

"Jason Todd, the production brain behind the Def Harmonic releases, steps out on his own and drops a ridiculously charming LP under the Innerstance.Beatbox guise. Sounding not unlike Luke Vibert's downtempo offerings, this instrumental morsel pulls from the jazz & hip hop canon and wows you with twisted samples and melodic genius. Predominantly an instrumental affair, All Little Boys... allows Todd to investigate his 12+ years of jazz heritage. Being an accomplished DJ as well, he sprinkles the mix with his own humor, savvy beat programming, and low end rhythm. Samplers, melodicas, turntables, saxophones, keyboards and countless other mysterious gadgets and noisemakers are all present. Todd assembles from the heart and pastes his work together like only a true turntablist could, giving proper affection to the hip hop beast without losing touch with the soul of The Song. The headz will know."

INNERSTANCE.BEATBOX: All The Little Boys Do Silly Little Dances LP (WBL 011 LP). $9.00

LP version.

SIGNALDRIFT: Compass CD (WBL 012 CD). $12.00

"SignalDrift is Franz Buchholtz. He has been refining and updating his electro soundtrack signature for more than a few years. With a slew of self-released albums behind him, we felt the time was right for a proper album to be presented on Wobblyhead. The sound on Compass is decidedly uptempo. Ass-shake factor has been reconfigured but the shimmering moods and textures remain, retaining the warm flare that has always been the foundation of SignalDrift's aural output. SignalDrift keeps the clutter in check and adds only the necessary elements to hold down the groove. The diplomatic use of drum machine and live percussion drive these songs and the Peter Hook style basslines and shimmering keyboards give the songs depth and a nagging familiarity. Imagine the soundtrack to the discoteque in Cloud City, with pill-popped shimmy-bots drifting about the fringes. Whether you're a disc jockey or armchair enthusiast, Compass will move your feet and tickle your brain. 8 tracks of minimalist, cinematic electro for punks in pumps are on the menu. Factory records updated. John Carpenter on a bender. Not body popping zombies but rather Ginger Rogers wearing samplers on her feet. The queue starts here."

SIGNALDRIFT: Compass LP (WBL 012 LP). $12.00

LP version.

CASINO VERSUS JAPAN/FREESCHA: Split EP CD (WBL 013CD). $8.50

"Two of America's forward thinking producers together on one slab of deep fried vinyl. Mr. Casino requested this partnership many moons ago and it has proven to be a brain treat for all who have intercepted its signal. Together they have managed to splay the dream sequences and switched-on sonics, meanwhile retaining enough rhythm to keep it all still locked into our orbit. It's a joyously psychedelic weekender that proves everything and nothing all at once, taking only cues from each other and any surreal stimuli welcoming their handshake. Staring at the sun is highly encouraged. Influences hardly matter here, as the players involved seem only to be extending their own new path, driven by their own soul and the mad respect for their fellow travellers sitting next to them. The co-ordinates are locked into a place that favors experimentation over redundancy and puts a high value on the space in between your ears."

CASINO VERSUS JAPAN/FREESCHA: Split EP 12" (WBL 013EP). $8.50

Vinyl EP version. "Two of America's forward thinking producers together on one slab of deep fried vinyl. Mr. Casino requested this partnership many moons ago and it has proven to be a brain treat for all who have intercepted its signal. It's a joyously psychedelic weekender that proves everything and nothing all at once, taking only cues from each other and any surreal stimuli welcoming their handshake."

AM-BOY: Clayton's Hideout LP (WBL 014LP). $12.00

"Forrest Wolf returns with his sophomore effort, a 10 track nugget of kaleidoscopic melodies. Perpetuating his trademark 'Walt Disney World on acid' brand of nostalgic electronics, this particular journey is a limited vinyl-only affair. The synths have sheen, the reverb is whale-like at times, and the rhythms are programmed simply and effortlessly to lock down the pace. Am-Boy maps out a gauzy route through his own daytime nation, inviting you to get lost for 35 minutes and ease away from reality. Very spliff friendly. Not a departure, but an upgrade from his debut, Floridian, this Long Player proves the songs to be better and frankly, more psychedelic."

STRING THEORY: Radiovalerian LP+CD (WBL 015). $12.00

"It goes without saying that our fellow bro-bots have been building the largest single-span robotic funk bridge from Chicago to Milwaukee and all points over-seas since their debut for the legendary Skam Records SMAK series back in 1999. Indeed the brothers Theory have made a name and sound for themselves that has risen high above any IDM rope-ladder, crossing and soaring over the current onslaught of humdrum MSP mediocrity. They have paved their way with magnificent miles of 80's influenced, retro dance-floor gold. In crossing, there is plenty of time to absorb the on-coming scenery — frame after frame of slightly shifting moods and techniques, from android dub to melodic and clean-cut master strokes that will get your body lockin' and poppin' for sure. Don't try to put them in the upper echelon of American electronic producers, because they've been there for some time now. Radiovalerian is a vinyl LP release with the CD version included. Gotta buy both, don't have a choice."

WONDER (GERMANY):

KREIDLER: Circles 12" (WON 002). $8.00

"Relax on the backseat for a sec. Let the engine run circles for you, and for a moment everything feels alright. And you know this keeps on keeping on. A dance step imported from another time into the present. When you feel responsibility, its only for the quarks. Like the knight as a portrait of independence. Laid back, leaving all the insecurities far behind. Once more you can have beauty as an argument, a modern soul movement. And it all happens in a concrete place with the two resident DJs arguing who spins first. It's the moment where everything is possible, without losing strength and linearity. Finally, Lancelot the knight tells stories of love and freedom. The break marks the inbetween time. From the R&B influenced 'Circles' to the soulstrumal beauties, from the deep bass re-edit to the fine groove of 'Lanzelot'. Once more, Kreidler shows its international pop sensibility. A statement of modernity in the beautiful musical tradition of Duesseldorf."

KREIDLER: CD (WON 003CD). $15.00

"It comes as no surprise that on their third LP, Kreidler are more imaginative and multifaceted than ever before in their celebration of music. Celebration? Hardly any other band organises sounds and noises with such skill that their music can sound fragmented yet complete at the same time. The songs always — even if only briefly — explore that enchanting moment when a sequence of notes and sounds suddenly begins to make sense: the initiation of beauty. At the same time, they have enough respect not to stop halfway; over the course of the album, scattered sounds and short intervals form a swaying, circulating track, with those melodic lines and swinging rhythms that are typically Kreidler. The record repeatedly reminds us of instances when music is perceived not merely as an everyday thing on the radio or the TV, but consciously recognised as an enrichment of a moment. In this way, in their collaboration with Momus — the last hip-intellectual of pop music — they have explored how a piece of music or a song can be created from a series of observations in a diary. In 'Mnemorex', Momus and Kreidler describe a sort of departure, made possible by their connection to the past, their own history and their knowledge of the loss of innocence. Here, and in the following songs, they are re-creating themselves, sounding more focused yet at the same time lighter; this is Kreidler's return as renaissance men. Kreidler's most complete and liberated album to date has achieved all this with gallant coolness, a charming sense of humour and that un-dogmatic intelligence which has always led to the most exciting music. The honour of accompanying them on this journey was well worth waiting for."

KREIDLER: LP (WON 003LP). $11.00

AVIGNON, JIM: Neoangin: A Friendly Dog In An Unfriendly World CD (WON 004CD). $15.00

"Without a doubt, Jim Avignon is a name that is recognized far beyond German borders. His paintings are unmistakably his own, and he is a very well known figure in the art scene. So it follows that since 1997, as Neoangin, this passionate clubgoer has been releasing his own wildly genre-defying lo-fi pop: an overload of kindergarten chaos, also offering quiet, melancholy moments that avoid irony, often incorporating musical quotes; music featuring a slightly dusty old Yamaha organ, of which Jim says: 'I can play in every style with it, yet the sound is always special'. To better emphasize the artificiality of his music, he sticks to the preset sounds of the organ rather than using samples. However the sounds are employed in a way so contrary to their intended use that whoever first programmed them would quite probably have a heart attack if they heard what Avignon was up to with their software: he creates an art-techno track from country elements, a jump-and-run melody is mutated into a dark, moody tango and then eaten away by squeaking sound defects. And nevertheless, we are dealing with very personal, sometimes almost intimate songs, rather than some musical tour de force for its own sake. Wonder is now releasing Avignon's masterpiece: A Friendly Dog In An Unfriendly World — 33 songs, and a booklet with a corresponding picture for each one. JIM is never 'just' a painter or 'just' a musician, rather a chronicler of and contributor to a constantly self-renewing pop culture. The collage-like music reminds one of the technical naïveté of Badly Drawn Boy, the lyrics have an existentialism reminiscent of early Cure. In a way, Neoangin is a musical reverberation of the last fifteen years, an echo of all those revolutions that perhaps didn't change the world, but certainly changed our record collections. A personal refurbishing of C-86, Grunge, Techno and Lo-Fi-Pop, a sweeping style-jump, an unpredictable mix of everything that Jim likes, which is a lot: Doors, Stranglers, Der Plan, Blur, electronic from Rephlex and Warp, Stockhausen-Walkman, Mr. Scruff, or the DMX Crew. Sometimes these varied influences can be found within a single song, which Jim creates using the same cut-and-paste concept as old-school hip-hop producers, but with an entirely different result. It is definitely wild-style club-culture, just without the sponsoring and bouncers."

AVIGNON, JIM: Neoangin: A Friendly Dog In An Unfriendly World 10" (WON 004LP). $12.00

10" full color picture disc version.

KREIDLER: Eve Future LP (WON 006LP). $9.00
LP version.

KREIDLER: Eve Future CD (WON 007CD). $9.00

"Düsseldorf based electronic trio Kreidler is back with a new mini album. Kreidler's Eve Future is like an attic, like an archive of European song-culture. In baroque guise they take a glance back upon their own musical history, creating variations upon themes of known Kreidler songs, fabricating replicas, playing around with titles. The sound of strings, tympani, trumpets — then suddenly an entire clockmaker's shop seems to spring into life. The listener immediately thinks of film, searching for references, before realising that most of the images which come to mind have yet to be filmed. After the impressionistic overture 'Weekend', the constructionist cool of Re-Sport the abstract expressive 'Appearance And The Park', the renaissance-esque album Kreidler — now the baroque miniatures of Eve Future."

BOHREN & DER CLUB OF GORE: Black Earth CD (WON 008CD). $15.00

"With each album, Bohren Und Der Club Of Gore are further approaching the end of the world. There is no documentation of how Morten Gass, Thorsten Benning, Robin Rodenberg left Mülheim an der Ruhr, how they buried their own past as hardcore legend 7 Inch Boots, and how they began to explore the boundaries of time and endless darkness. Perhaps they met one night, in the shade of trees, beneath a cloudy death moon. A rising storm may have carried the howling of wolves or the flutter of black wings. This is the twilight zone of the Bohren mystery, where inconclusive evidence and hearsay strengthen the power of the dark secret. The dark secret: A few scattered film quotes were dragged into the shade without much fuss on their moody debut hit 'Gore Motel'. They called it 'horror jazz'. The addition of Christoph Clöser's saxophone brought a deceiving sheen to Bohren's quicksand of the 'dark mainstream'. On the 'Dark Victory' tour that followed, Bohren expanded their arsenal of horror, in half darkness, with chains dangling from the ceiling like meat hooks. A cold breath could be felt. Morten: 'The goal was to create a quiet heaviness, which is otherwise only achieved using distorted guitars and lots of noise.' Bohren's trip into darkness has found the parking space closest to purgatory yet. The colour particles of once-upon-a-time have finally been ground to dust. No kidding around, no excuses, just drums creeping forward with the brushes, the trademark Bohren double bass, detuned to gloomy depths, and with it Fender Rhodes, saxophone and Melotron — for the film in your head and the knife in your back. The various parallel worlds of the Bohren universe flow together into a single seductive stream of blackest velvet. Bohren project the listener back to the horrors of one's own imagination. Chromed bone torches rummage through the scarlet-red shadows. It prefers to remain unnamed. The bridge between Black Sabbath, Autopsy and the smile of Sade. an understanding of the dark side of pop culture. Reduced, abstracted. Cast into timeless shapes. Preserved for eternity. In their early days they burnt their silhouettes onto audiences' retinas with the flickering light of the stroboscope. Now that switch remains turned off, and the senses must get accustomed to a new, intangible darkness. Time is on their side."

MODERNIST, THE: The Modernist Comeback 12" (WON 010EP). $9.00

"Of course, The Modernist hasn't just been on vacation for the last three-years, he's been working on numerous releases under names such as Triola, Geometric Farms, Autobianchi and Pop Up (with Antonelli Electr.). The Modernist Comeback begins a series of releases on Wonder and, a bit like on Architainment (the introduction to The Modernist Explosion), it's a definite DJ-tool and an affirmation of his commitment to club culture. With 'Comeback' and 'News Value', this 12" contains two floor fillers, tested live on numerous occasions, while 'Kodac Moments' exemplifies yet again the more harmonic (or 'bionautical') side of the Modernist, giving us a preview of the album to be released early next year."

MODERNIST, THE: Kangmei CD (WON 011CD). $15.00

"When it comes to Techno, The Modernist is interested in a special kind of beauty: he loves classic pop harmonies, a Roddy Frame or Edwyn Collins guitar sound, the grand gestures of a Martin Fry or a Kevin Rowland. That was 'his' 80s. And this is how he transferred those song structures into the present swinging times: Be it through his melodious alter ego Bionaut, turning from spherical, uplifting trance (Cologne-style) to a calmer song-writing for home use; or as Trinkwasser, with Lothar Hempel — between the Pet Shop Boys, New Order, The Smiths — with enormous pop appeal which goes straight into the charts (in another world, at least); and of course with Mike Ink (aka W. Voigt) as Burger/Ink; finally Popup, the inevitable collaboration with Antonelli Electr. — like the Modernist for clubs. The same motto applies: Pop as an attitude. Pop as a statement. And now Kangmei: The Modernist's third album. It seems as if all the threads that he has laid out over the years have come together here. Kangmei. America. We know The Modernist's labels: Virtual Elvis. Interstate 10. Burger Industries and Eat Raw. Wild Horse Annie. And productions: Johnny Cash. Fort Knox. Nashville and Las Vegas. Pop Art. Silicon Minor, in the guitar valley. Magic Lantern, the alleged FBI computer virus. Over and over again: America. Kangmei is Chinese for: 'Resist America!' It's a protest song against arrogance, against imperialism, against stupidity. Also in 'Prozac Europe', knowing that one really does love so much about, and so much from, America. Kangmei/Resist America means: let yourself be seduced, but stay awake! Love makes the difference, 'only a smile remains'."

MODERNIST, THE: Kangmei 2LP (WON 011LP). $16.00
Double LP version.

MODERNIST, THE: Protest Songs 12" (WON 012 EP). $9.00

"Create confusion! Smash expectations! Doesn't The Modernist just love making a statement which, at the end of the day, is so wide open it can only be explained (away) in contradiction... So it is with the 'Protest Song' on his latest album Kangmei. It's a laconic taking to task of the past and what happens when the truth lies somewhere between standing still and moving on. 'That's why the song remains the same / only the singer has gone insane'. Unusually, it's Jörg Burger's own voice you'll hear on this recording. Producer turned singer? Techno gone Pop? Is this the end of an era? Under normal circumstances, Jörg Burger is the last to complain about an unanswered question mark. This time, however, he won't let it lie and has enlisted friends from the highly renowned Kompakt family Reinhard Voigt, Michael Mayer and M.I.A. to pick up the pointers. Four exclusive versions of the 'Protest Song' on one slice of vinyl, this is the Here and Now of Techno's possibly overdue integration into the social system, or thereabouts. Little hints of our Pop history no longer leave the electronic music scene embarrassedly shuffling their feet, now its more of a knowing grin you'll spot here and there on the dancefloor. In his Modernista 90 guise, Jörg Burger winds up the 303 acid memory banks (don't drop the bass) whilst Reinhard Voigt leaps a few years further on with comically pitched vocals and what sounds like a loop orgy at an open air Tech-House rave. It just doesn't want to stop. Michael Mayer's freeze frame full on rave horn works its way up to an almost sadistic climax. M.I.A., incidentally the power behind the Sub Static label, comes closest to what we generally call minimal, dare we say contemporary. So much for end of an era. Contradiction makes sense in the end. An indispensable release uniting one of Germany's finest electronic artists with the best of Kompakt in one historical document."

ENIK: Without A Bark CD (WON 014CD). $11.00

"Not many artists like to take risks these days. Laying one's soul bare is a rarity. Enik, from Munich, is one of those rare artists who expects a lot of his listeners, who does not hide behind empty gestures, who chooses to share with us the depths of his soul beyond any narcissistic tendencies. Without A Bark is his first solo effort, six songs which defy indifference. His name is familiar thanks to his contribution to Funkstoerung's Disconnected, the Rosenheim electronic visionaries' recently released album, helping them shape a piece de resistance of classic song and melody around roughly-hewn soundscapes. Whilst Enik has been making music since the tender age of 13, the decision to concentrate entirely on his creative output (a poetry volume is in the making) fell around the turn of the century. 'I set up a studio in the cellar and started working earnestly on songs. Within a year, I had around a hundred... In spite of such zeal, the 23 year old multi-instrumentalist was rather more hesitant when it came to making his work public. It was Chris De Luca and Michael Fakesch from Funkstörung who dug him out of the orchestra pit of Munich's Phatos Theatre and were instantly won over by his talent. Small wonder, as the six unique songs on Without A Bark testify. Tracks like 'Micro Ocean' or 'How To Destroy' set / let the mind run free as melody lines break up in the deconstructionist manner of Tom Waits. 'This is too intense' Enik sings on 'Chaos The Drug'. How right he is. 'Tom Waits is an inspiration, David Bowie as well, of course. In fact everything I've ever listened to, from Michael Jackson to Georg Kreisler, has influenced me in some way.' Enik is fine with being a loner, and yet... 'I'm sure I'll get together more musicians for my album, there's definitely something to be gained by working with other artists. I love having a band for live shows, just me and a laptop isn't as much fun'. He did have some help on Without A Bark, particularly from Hans Tauschek, who arranged the strings and co-wrote three of the songs. 'At the moment, he's the only person I let near my material. We're on the same wavelength.'

WOODEN HILL:

VA: Syde Trips One CD (WH 002). $17.00

CD reissue of the first volume of this 60s UK psych comp series, which quickly sold out in LP form. "Features 15 essential recordings from 1966-70, including contributions from The Purple, Pleasure Garden, Tidal Wave, Kat, Fringe Benefit and a host of equally obscure names from the soft white underbelly of British psychedelia."

WOODWURK (UK):

DJ WOODY: Bangers 'n' Mash - A UK Hip Hop Retrospective CD (WOOD 001 CD). $13.50

"DJ Woody is the first ever Brit to take the coveted World ITF turntablism championship title over in San Francisco. He is also the official Skam resident turntablist. He is credited for the invention of numerous groundbreaking turntable techniques including the internationally recognized Woody or 'Woodpecker' scratch and revolutionary double-tone arm technique. Woody has always been a strong advocate and collector of UK Hip Hop. This mix is based around obsessive crate digging, a dope, totally unique hip hop mash-up that showcases his turntable skills as well as his tune selection, from the narcotic flavour of Rodney P and Dobie's 'Stuck On You' to the hardcore 'Untitled' by Hardnoise, an underground secret tune for years, Woody takes in such names as London Posse, Blak Twang, Lords Of Rap, Ruthless Rap Assassins, Blade, Krispy, Gunshot, Hijack, MC Mell 'O', Gutter Snypes and more, all divided into their own sections across the mix. Spreading the entire length of UK Hip Hop history Woody compiles some of the best [and rarest] UK beats and promptly proceeds to scratch and cut his way through the years using accapellas and instrumentals, effects and loops, and some of those world famous techniques."

WORDPLAY (UK):

VA: Champion Sound CD (WORD 033 CD). $15.00

"Reggae reflects its birthplace of Kingston, Jamaica, in that it, too, is fragmented into ghettos. Cultural or historical barriers, ideological gulfs and conflicts between the generations put a brake on the flowering of a musical genre. Skimming thirty years worth of musical creativity, the Champion Sound compilation has one single, unshakable selection criterion: the quality of the sounds. Roots music from the Seventies, Ragga, hip-hop and modern Roots are all brought together in a complete yet eclectic compilation. No factional infighting here: Champion Sound unifies the crews, reminding us that any art that doesn't change is a dead art form and that, beyond the vagaries of fashion and eras, quality is always what counts. Champion Sound has been compiled by Seb and Uncle 0 — two veteran DJs from the Parisien soul and reggae scenes who have previously put together Shaolin Soul 1 & 2. 'We're not interested in making 'best of' or 'top hits' compilations... we like 'rare' tracks, we like to dig in the crates.... We felt that there weren't really compilations that brought together the older roots music with the more modern forms of reggae, and so our aim was to make the set work regardless of styles and periods!' — Uncle 0."

WORDS AND WORKS REJECTED (UK):

PAVO: CD (WWR 004 CD). $15.00

"The debut LP by this Austin, Texas duo is a soon-to-be post-rock classic created from a carefully structured blend of guitar, drums, tape loops, and treatments. Pavo deliver their 10 emotionally charged pieces, performed with delicate and loving care. Think Mogwai, Aerial

M, Tortoise, etc. in their gossamer thin moments."

2 LITRE DOLBY: El Caballo Rojo CD (WWV LIT007 CD). $15.00

"Another gleaming beauty gallops majestically from the Words and Works paddock. This 8 track debut ranges from short bursts of electronica to winding 12 minute guitar-driven epics. Possible influences/references include ISAN, Mogwai, June of 44."

PAVO: LP (WWV 004 LP). $13.00

WORLD ARBITER:

VA: The Roots of Gamelan CD (WA 2001). $16.00

1999 release, the first on this exceptional classical world music label. Recordings from Bali, 1928, reissued for the first time. "These historic recordings were made in 1928, as part of a collection of the first and only commercially-released recordings of Balinese music prior to World War II. This incredibly diverse sampling of Balinese new and older styles was released on 78 rpm discs that same year, with subsequent releases for international distribution in the following years. The discs were sold world-wide (or not sold, as it happened) and quickly went out of print. It was a crucial time in the island's musical history, as Bali was in the midst of an artistic revolution, with a new style of music, kebyar, sweeping the island. Gamelan groups were having their older ceremonial orchestras melted down and reformed in the new style. Intense competition between villages and regions was driving young composers to develop compositional ideas, innovations and impressive techniques. Gamelan is the general term for Bali's dozen or so instrumental music ensembles. The word is derived from gamel, to handle, and Balinese make a clear distinction between gamelan krawang, bronze instruments, and other kinds of ensembles utilizing bamboo. The distinctive features of Bali's major styles highlight shimmering resonances of gongs, knobbed gong-chimes, and metallophones (with bronze keys suspended over bamboo resonators), ranging four or five octaves, and differing from neighboring Java in their explosive sonorities and phrasings. Gamelan styles are associated with specific contexts of ceremonial, entertainment, or recreational activity. The unique collection of tuned gongs, gong-chimes and flat metallophones which we associate with the gamelan styles of Bali and Java, appears to have developed between the construction of the 9th century Buddhist temple Borobudur and the arrival of the first Dutch expedition in 1595."

VA: Dances and Trances: Sufi Rites and Berber Music from Morocco CD (WA 2002). $16.00

Recordings from Taroudannt, Morocco, 1994-1995; a series of Moroccan Sufis practicing trance rites which outsiders are rarely able to witness. "The city of Taroudannt, Morocco, is surrounded by perfectly-preserved red-ochre mud walls dating back, in part, to the sixteenth century Saadian dynasty, which chose Taroudannt as its capital before moving to the larger and more accessible Marrakesh. While the walls and their ramparts are impressive, the real attraction of Taroudannt lies in its purely Moroccan character, which has remained essentially unchanged for centuries. Situated in the Souss River valley and cut off by the snow-capped peaks of the Haut-Atlas mountains to the North, and the semi-desert Anti-Atlas range to the South, the French occupiers never created a modern ville-nouvelle here, with the typical unimaginative grid of streets one finds in many cities, large and small, throughout Morocco. The feeling of Taroudannt is timeless and traditional. A note about the recordings: The Guerreras and the Hadra were recorded with a hand-held stereo microphone, allowing free movement through the musicians and capturing the performances from a variety of vantage points. Sometimes particular instruments or voices were targeted, allowing the listener to hear the role they played. As a result, the sound is not static, the balance of elements shifting with the motion of the microphone. The performances were not the result of prearranged sessions. All were 'encounters,' recorded at public events held during the course of daily life in Morocco. Particularly in the large Guerrera, we find ourselves joining the throng of participants, surrounded by their expressions of enthusiasm and excitement, along with their casual socializing."

PATHAK, PANDIT ASHOK: Ancient Court Raga Traditions CD (WA 2003). $16.00

Performed by Pandit Ashok Pathak (surbahar). Two long tracks: "Raga Malkauns", "Raga Bageshri", recorded 2000. "Only part of India's noblest classical instrumental traditions have been adequately documented on recordings, beginning with sitarist Imdad Khan in 1905. With the compact disc, raga performances could expand from pioneering 4-minute excerpts on 78 rpm discs to span well beyond an hour on CD, allowing full development and style to unfold. One vital court style remains in a fragmentary way: the ancient art of dhrupad, characterized by slowly singing and playing which favored the arhythmic alap section and based on the ancient Vedic chant. Too few of these family-based traditions survived the ending of royal patronage. Amongst them are the Pathaks, representing a musical lineage through 5 generations of dhrupad singers, veena players and sitarists, with the current generation including a composer and tabla player. Balam Pathak introduced the use of harmonics on sitar with meend, heard on his one CD. This unique practice has further explored by (his son) Ashok, who uses it extensively, along with thematic playing on the sympathetic strings. Before beginning a raga, he dwells on these strings, at times playing two simultaneously, creating harmonies which he adopted after having heard it in pre-Renaissance Western music (in polyphonic works by Perotin, Josquin des Prez, etc...)."

KA PING, LO: Lost Sounds of the Tao: Chinese Masters of the Guqin CD (WA 2004). $16.00

"Lo Ka Ping, guqin. recorded 1970, 1971. The guqin was Confucius' instrument, used by scholars and nobles for self-purification. Lo was a Taoist priest (1896-1980) who lived in the remote lands of the New Territories behind Hong Kong, recorded by a pupil in 1970. These rare archival tapes were assembled after an extensive hunt in Hong Kong, New York, California and Taiwan." From the liner notes: "A tape ready of four traditional pieces (Side I) and four original pieces (Side II) for ch'in, played by an old master who lives in a country home in the New Territories. There emerged a vibrant expressive art, its first impression the forthright spirituality of a Blind Willie Johnson (yes, some scales have the blue note intonation!) who made his Ming Dynasty qin state and moan out visions, as panoramas of ancient brush paintings danced before my eyes, attaining life in sound, all their varied densities in depicting nature now breathing amidst sonic rainbows unleashed through the qin's harmonics. The scratching of the silk strings as one changes the finger positions is referred to as the instrument's respiration. Lo's non-thematic use of the fundamental tones in the beginning of the first piece were akin to a veena beginning a raga, causing one to wonder if this manner had become embedded in his music from the early visits by Indian Buddhists, who had brought their own instruments to China. What so casually endows Lo's playing with profundity and depth is the philosophy behind the music, entering the sound through the Tao rather than displaying the fruits of a learned craft, for he was completely self-taught and thus freed from any burden of tradition. His performances, compared to most other players, brim with vitality and spirit, like found objects emerging forth into independent existences, unlike the imposed rhythmic regularity and extremely slow tempi the works are often given by scholars. Lo was alive until 1980 (age 84)."

DAVIS, REVEREND GARY: The Sun of Our Life (Solos, Songs, a Sermon 1955-1957) CD (WA 2005). $16.00

"This disc is ALL NEW material, contains many otherwise unrecorded solos and a walloping sermon to boot. Reverend Gary Davis profoundly influenced Bob Dylan, The Grateful Dead (Bob Weir was his pupil), Jorma Kaukonen, Taj Mahal, and the entire folk scene of the 1960s. World Arbitrator discovered professional tapes of Davis made of works otherwise unrecorded, including a Sunday service during which he offered a fiery sermon. This is the most comprehensive cross-section of his artistry ever presented: blues, ragtime, gospel and more." Recorded 1955-57; 78 minutes; extensive liner notes by World Arbitrator's Allan Evans.

JEFFERSON, BLIND LEMON: Long Lonesome Blues: Lemon's Texts Revealed CD (WA 2006). $16.00

Recorded 1926-29. "A monumental artist amongst the earliest recorded bluesmen, Blind Lemon Jefferson was a master guitarist and lyricist. While his recordings have been re-issued, often in poor sound, World Arbitrator's restoration is the first publication of Jefferson to include transcriptions of the song texts and bring greater clarity to these classic vintage discs."

WORLD ELECTRIC (GERMANY):

FUNKTAXI: Sektor 17 CD (WE 002CD). $18.00

Second CD of German electro by Andreas Bolz (aka Bolz Bolz). "Bolz Bolz twists all styles in a very fresh, conscious and personal way. The quieter side of Bolz Bolz, fluffy melodic intelligent mixture of styles."

BOLZ BOLZ: Take A Walk CD (WE 1000). $18.00

"CD-only album of great quirky nostalgic electrophunk in a Bolz Bolz style."

WORLD IN SOUND (GERMANY):

MYSTIC SIVA: LP (RFR 002). $40.00

"This quartet from Detroit created one of the most wanted artefacts in the psychedelic collectors scene. The music was recorded in 1970. With an average age of 17 those 'teenage Sivas' showed great quality in songwriting playing their instruments and creating an own sound. First official release with original artwork, thick foldout cover and thick vinyl."

TRAVELERS AID: Corduroy Roads LP (RFR 005). $36.00

"Megare, sometimes Eastern sounding Westcoast? Psychedelic with a fantastic songwriting and massive fuzz guitar assaults. Their roots are in the sixties punk movement starting '64 in San Bernardino CA as the Torquays, with a few 45's. The only album Corduroy Roads was recorded in 1970, there were only 100 copies made! Their music is sneaky, loner, killer, desert sound that creeps down your back and leaves you asking for more — maybe later in this year! (Comes in a single cover including a bandstory insert)."

LUND, GARRETT: Almost Grown LP (RFR 006). $40.00

Authorized reissue of this psychedelic rock record from 1975. Incredible over-the-top packaging from RFR, heavy textured gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl pressing. There has never been a bootleg version of this LP and supposedly less than 10 original copies exist, so this will be the first chance for almost anyone to hear it. "First reissue (from the mastertape) of this lost Westcoast monster rarity with the blend of those early S.F. Bands like Tripsicord Music Box, Quicksilver Messenger Service, Kak etc. There is a fantastic songwriting with a cosmic lost in time feeling. Garrett's falsetto voice and singing is beyond words and the guitar leaves you crying on the right or wrong day. Cover artwork is one of the best artistic statements ever made for a record! An angel mother breastfeeding a baby in cosmic space, the losing milk drops from her breast are forming a milky way. Maybe the godmother of us all. Comes with foldout cover and lyric insert."

FRED: LP (RFR 007). $40.00

Heavy duty textured gatefold sleeve, heavy vinyl.

OPUS ALFA: LP (RFR 008). $36.00

"First vinyl reissue of this heavy psych masterpiece from Uruguay. The original album, on the label Discos de la Planta was recorded in 1970. Dramatic and desperate songwriting with intense organ and guitars. The guitarist Jorge Barral also played in the band Dias de Blues and in other solo projects. First album of our Sendor series with legendary records and recordings from Uruguay. Contains a little bio of the band, thick cover and thick vinyl."

PSIGLO: // LP (RFR 009). $36.00

"First vinyl reissue of this heavy progressive masterpiece from Uruguay. The second release of Psiglo is Uruguays rarest rock album, that was recorded in 1974 and first released in 1980 in an edition of only 200 copies. Contains long progressive tracks with heavy guitars pounding organ and creative arrangements. Second album of our Sendor series with legendary records and recordings from Uruguay. Contains a little bio of the band, thick cover and thick vinyl."

DARIUS: LP (RFR 010). $36.00

"First official release of this legendary Westcoast Psychedelic rarity including a story, photo and 3 unreleased bonus tracks. Darius originally came from Cleveland and went to California to record his album — he was supported by studio musicians who played for the band of Elvis Presley and who recorded the legendary Goldenrod album, that was also released on Chartmaker. The sound, directly from the masters is gonna blow your mind. The story will be continued with an unreleased album, coming soon. 180g vinyl/insert and thick cover."

GOLDENROD: LP (RFR 011). $36.00

"First official reissue of this legendary Westcoast acid psych masterpiece. It was recorded 1969 in Hollywood and originally released on Chartmaker. Goldenrod is not just the backing band of Darius — it is Ben Benay, Jerry Scheff and Toxey French who all were involved into several major projects, playing with Elvis Presley, 5th Dimension, supporting The Doors, Ventures to name a few. On this album they let it freewheelin running — just caring about their own passion with a magical sound in 4 long cuts: Descent of the cyclopeans/ Karmic Dream Sequence/ The Gator Society/ Standing Ovaluation — those satisfy by its intense and emotional sound with ultimate guitarwork by Ben Benay. Contains band story + photos."

DARIUS: // LP (RFR 012). $38.00

"Long expected the second unreleased Darius album — that continues the sound of the famous Chartmaker album (a world classic), that was also released on WIS. On the electric tunes Darius is backed by the legendary Goldenrod who supported also his first album, plus many guest musicians. This album makes you find deep and true psychedelic dimensions with various influences, that range from garage to perfectly arranged sound also with cool psychedelic jam feel and effects. Contains informative poster-insert and exclusive cover artwork (stamp printed front)! A joy of 15 songs, 46 minutes, emotional and unique music best of its kind."

MCNAMARA, TREVOR: Yeah Captain LP (RFR 013). $36.00

"First reissue from Australia on WIS, The Yeah Captain album was recorded in 1969 and it was the first album of its type produced in Australia, a milestone. Music ranges between heavy psychedelic rock and poetic acid folk, both in an outstanding level. Trevor sang and played all instruments, creating a perfect full band sound, that really blows. An original album, is near impossible to find. Also included 2 bonus tracks by Trevors 45 record, that was also recorded on Nationwide Recordings Adelaide. A piece by one man with various talents — an absolute must."

MARCUS: From The House Of Tracks LP (RFR 014). $38.00

"First official release of legendary 1979 private recorded space rock album of Marcus and his band. This top memorabilia album has intense, passionate and poetic songwriting, sometimes desperate, sometimes mystical but always deep in instrumentation and interpretation. It comes up with the sixties acid folk blend — with electrified heavy guitars and various space effects a la Hawkwind. Contains a very informative bio, couple of photos, 2 bonus tracks and extra CD-R with a 20 minute live performance video (great quality — extra 7 bonus tracks) playable on computer and your audiosystem. An All time classic — not just for psychedelic collectors!"

JONES FAMILY BAND: ... an electrified Joint Effort? LP (RFR 015). $36.00

"Unreleased stoned and eastern sounding psychedelic/garage Folk by Joint Effort from Detroit (a different session was already released on CD by WIS), amazing passionate songs in the early Stooges, Country Joe and the Fish vains, acoustic with many improvisational and homemade effects! 1973 the Band Leader and Singer Val Zukowski founded the short living electrified 'Jones Family Band' playing heavy psych blues and garage music with incredible wah-wah guitar leads, going into Hendrix — those cuts also remind sometimes to the Fracture and Bentwind feeling. One of the best and freaked out releases of US Seventies Psychedelic Garage Underground."

BEN-ISRAEL, DANNY: Bullshit 3.1/4 LP (RFR 016). $40.00

"By 1969 Danny Ben Israel recorded a Psychedelic masterpiece of an album Bullshit 3.1/4. This revolutionary ground breaking album is largely unknown, however the few people who know this GEM consider it to be one of the greatest Psych albums of all times and original vinyl copies of this album change hands for hundreds of dollars. The uniqueness of this album lies not only in its music — also the weird and obscure pornographic foldout cover artwork and the sometimes very trippy lyrics deal with the Israeli society and its hypocrisy, the fake emptiness of the Bohemian way of life, drugs, escapism and freaks. The most obvious theme reflected in his lyrics is the wish for freedom of all kinds (freedom of thought, freedom of expression and so on). The music itself mixes psych and avant-garde, full of fuzzed out and distorted guitars, studio effects, tape loops, tone generators etc. Ben-Israel sings, a scream, murmurs, whispers and moans throughout all of the tracks. His vocals are often doubled and used as an instrument like Tim Buckley, Alan, Sorrenti, Robert Wyatt and Peter Hammill, but in a totally twisted manner. The whole album (backed by the band 'Electric Stage') sounds like a big LSD acid trip, sometimes very spacey and very heavy almost industrial. Also raga-based compositions remind of some early Daavid Allen stuff with Gong on his Banana Moon album." CD version is on the MIO label out of Israel.

MYSTIC SIVA: Under The Influence LP (RFR 017). $40.00

Vinyl LP version. Deluxe foldout gatefold sleeve on textured stock and poster — first 500 copies in transparent blue vinyl.

PHANTASIA: Phantasia LP + 10" (RFR 018). $46.00

"Reissue of US psychedelic ultra rarity recorded 1971/72. The original albums, a 2 sider and a one-sided album, are legends for all electric garage folk and psychedelic collectors — only 25 copies pressed of each — not many people have the pleasure of having seen a copy. The music is creeping slowly and sensitively in your mind, whether stoned or not — it takes you wherever you want. One of the best Psychedelic albums, playing in the same league as Fracture, Music Emporium, Hunger, Mystic Siva, Damon. — Later the band changed into Trizo 50! Unbelievable that this extremely talented band didn't make it — Here are the complete sessions, 55 mins in mastertape quality presented the first time — with an extremely informative bio, outstanding artwork (gatefold over), colour photos + poster/lyric insert and the one sided lbum is released as a bonus 10"EP."

GOLD: San Francisco Origins 1970 LP + 7" (RFR 019). $46.00

"This previously unreleased LP-edition contains an important part of S.F. underground history from GOLD's first incarnation with lead singer Richard Coco, known from the No Parking 45RPM already released on LP by Rockadelic and on a CD compilation Nuggets from the Golden State by Big Beat. Also included an extra their 45 RPM incl. the previously un-reissued flipside of No Parking, a 4:45 minute sensitive but totally unexpected version of Gershwin's 'Summertime' produced by Country Joe McDonald. A foldout-cover, a poster and great liner notes that reflect the 'golden spirit' of the late 60's early 70's in San Francisco."

ASYLUM: First and Last LP (RFR 020). $36.00

"This is an excellent and almost unknown 9-track Hippie album, privately recorded/pressed in 1973 — an original is extremely rare. The band was found by Fork Union Military Academy school members in Virginia around 1970 — the music room of the school became their 'refuge' from the predictable, regimented military school life... Thus was born the name Asylum — a place of refuge. Shortly before graduating and after some line up changes the last dollars were saved to make this album. The music in the Airplane & H.P. Lovecraft vains is true 60's Westcoast psychedelic, garage, folk stuff. The electric cuts such as, 'I want you every day', 'Sometimes', 'I will be free', 'Deliverance', 'Help me be someone' contain, combined with male vocals the crystal clear voice of Elaine Lazizza (Cronin), great guitarwork (electric & acoustic), excellent drumming & organ. Acoustic tunes sometimes remind of 'Serpant Power' (David & Tina Meltzer)."

TRIZO 50: Trizo 50 LP + 7" (RFR 021). $40.00

"The Trizo 50 music continues the outstanding, individual and very surprising songwriting of Phantasia. This release contains 15 original cuts, plus a 7" 4 track EP — all songs have been carefully remastered and were taken from the original mastertapes. Included is the first part of an extended biography (8 page booklet) to be continued with a second Trizo 50 album. This album is a great experience for all fans of true Rock'n'Roll."

LAGHONIA: Glue LP + 7" (RFR 022). $40.00

"Both Lagonia albums, Glue and EtCetera belong to most legendary and best South American psychedelic collectors albums, besides La Revolucion de Emiliano Zapata, Modulo 1000, Toncho Pilatos, Traffic Sound. The core of Lagonia, post 'New Juggler Sound' is a combination of Peruvian and US members, Saul Cornejo Vocals, Guitar, Manuel Cornejo on Drums, and David Levene on Lead Guitar and Vocals. All eight album tunes are catchy psychedelic Rock'n'Roll stuff, with English vocals, intense Fuzz Wah-Wah Guitars, Hammond B-2 Organ and a massive, variative percussion set. The songwriting is Beatles/Yardbirds-influenced and the music goes into Santana, Cream, Hendrix and other different directions. The original artwork used, is by M. Cornejo, a 7" 4 track EP and a poster incl. bio rounds this masterpiece perfectly off."

VA: Red Medium LP (WIS 001). $15.00

"A compilation of the Sforzando/Télé Music Series that includes roots of modern Funk, Soul and Jazz. Songs were recorded in early/mid Seventies in France and reflect a real 'undergroundfeeling' with many incredible creative sounds and songs that will meet today's spirit in the best way in audiophile mastertape quality! From layed back bar-jazz to soulful driven funk-excursions and Jamaican-Vrasilian influenced tunes, this compilation expresses the bridge spectrum of the French music library from the 70's. The universe of "Télé Music" was originally created to compile high-end productions of studio musicians to intensify optical impressions in TV and cinema. If you listen to it today, you will hear the roots of so called modern music. Trippy, jazzy and always funky in a way, these 12 tunes show for the first time in public release, that there is more to experience in the French Red Medium-sound, than just easy listening vibrations."

DARIUS: CD (WIS 1001). $18.00

After a couple of poorly conceived bootlegs, here is the first legit reissue of this 1969 private press release. "First official release of this legendary Westcoast Psychedelic rarity, packaged in a jewel case, with 8 page booklet of liner notes, lyrics and previously unseen photographs — and 3 unreleased bonus tracks. Darius originally came from Cleveland and went to California to record his album — he was supported by studio musicians who played for the band of Elvis Presley. The sound, directly from the masters is gonna blow your mind. The story will be continued with an unreleased album, coming soon."

MYSTIC SIVA: CD (WIS 1002). $18.00

Repressed, new higher price. First legit reissue, originally from 1970. "The original album is one of the most wanted psychedelic artefacts. These 4 teenagers, average age of 17, were from the Detroit area and show best qualities in songwriting and playing their instruments. They created an individual underground sound, driven by furious organ, powerful guitar-work and a strong voice with trippy lyrics — the mellow songs sound a bit like the Doors. First time with a complete band story and very exclusive triple fold digi-smart pack (new CD-holder design)."

FRED: CD (WIS 1003). $18.00

"In 1971, as the war in Viet Nam continued, some college students in rural, central Pennsylvania formed a band and left school behind. That year, they published a 45 RPM single, and recorded most of the music on the album available here for the first time. Influenced by the likes of Procol Harum, The Band, Traffic, Jethro Tull, Frank Zappa, and King Crimson, they bring a unique sensibility and style to their original pieces, uncannily as fresh today as they were when they were first recorded. Contains, notes, photos and band-story."

JOINT EFFORT: Two Sided Country .....Blues CD (WIS 1004). $18.00

"First reissue of this unplugged psychedelic album, recorded in 1971 and 200 copies pressed. Joint Effort are from the Detroit, but sounding like from the Westcoast. They recorded all songs at home — most of the tracks were first takes..... imagine jam sessions by The Beatles on acid — a real natural eastern influenced tunes with homemade effects and amazing songwriting. All songs stand for a real summer, peace and love feeling. Our CD includes 2 bonus tracks and 4 original remixed tunes (70 mins stoned music)."

PEACE, JOE: Finding Peace Of Mind CD (WIS 1005). $18.00

"Modern' singer/songwriter album that was recorded in Ohio in 1972, after being a long time on road. Joe Peace was inspired by Johnny Rivers and his experiences he made on road, when writing his 10 emotional songs for this album, that contains heavy fuzz guitars and powerful voice. This album is underrated in the collectors scene — but an all time classic. With some unseen photos and story."

LUND, GARRET: Almost Grown CD (WIS 1006). $18.00

"First reissue (from the mastertape) of this lost Westcoast monster rarity with the blend of those early S.F. bands like Tripsicord Music Box, Quicksilver Messenger Service, Kak, etc. There is a fantastic songwriting with a cosmic timeless feeling. Garrett's falsetto voice and singing is beyond words and the guitar leaves you crying on the right or wrong day. Cover artwork is one of the best artistic statements ever made for a record — an angel mother breastfeeding a baby in cosmic space, the losing milk drops from her breast are forming a milky way. CD release contains 5 bonus tracks and bio of Garrett."

FARIA, GLENN: CD (WIS 1007). $18.00

"First re-issue of this psychedelic/electric folk monster only issued as a promo in 1974 on the, by collectors well known Tiger Lily label and Labelmate to the legendary Stonewall. Only one copy is known in collectors hands. Glenn is one of the best songwriters ever and when he starts to play the electric fuzz guitar together with his mindcreeping voice, then you will know why we call this, one of the best five records anytime from anywhere in this genre. The song 'Love Is Calling' will take you to unexpected psych/folk heaven. The music was recorded in New York during 1970/71 after Glenn's departure from his psychedelic band the Headstone Circus. There were two other great bands together in the studio with him, during the recording of his 1970 sessions, Boffalongo and Omnibus! Glenn's bio & bonus tracks will be enclosed on this one of a kind CD re-issue."

DANIEL: CD (WIS 1008). $18.00

"This album was a demo only release by Daniel in 1979 to send out to record companies. He started to write the music in 1971, recorded in 76-78 — only a few copies are known of this great and unique record. The music ranges from fantastic acid folk to full blown psychedelic creepers with heavy cello — and furious fuzz guitar assaults. His producer's voice: 'Daniel plays the cello like Jimi Hendrix the guitar'! Now he is a movie actor and producer in Hollywood, known as Jason D. Holt. This CD comes with 2 bonus tracks, artist's bio and picture."

MCMAMARA, TREVOR: Yeah Captain CD (WIS 1009). $18.00

"First reissue from Australia on WIS. The Yeah Captain album was recorded in 1969 and it was the first album of its type produced in Australia, a milestone! Music ranges between heavy psychedelic rock and poetic acid folk, both in an outstanding level. Trevor sang and played all instruments, creating a perfect full band sound, that really blows. An original album, is near impossible to find. Also included 2 bonus tracks by Trevors 45 record, that was also recorded on Nationwide Recordings Adelaide."

MARCUS: From The House Of Tracks CD (WIS 1010). $18.00

"First official release by the legendary 1978 private recorded space rock album of Marcus. Intense, passionate and poetic songwriting — sometimes desperate, sometimes mystical but always deep in instrumentation and interpretation. It has the sixties acid folk blend — with electrified heavy guitars and various space effects. Contains a very informative bio, couple of photos, bonus tracks and extra CD-ROM with a 25 minute live performance video (great quality)."

DARIUS: II CD (WIS 1011). $18.00

"Long expected the second unreleased Darius album — that continues the sound of the famous Chartmaker album (a world classic), that was also released on WIS. On the electric tunes Darius is backed by the legendary 'Goldenrod' who supported also his first album, plus many guest musicians. This album makes you find deep and true psychedelic dimensions with various influences, that range from garage to perfectly arranged sound also with cool psychedelic jam feel and effects. Contains informative booklet. A joy of 15 songs, 46 minutes, emotional and unique music best of its kind."

GOLDENROD: CD (WIS 1012). $18.00

"First official reissue of this legendary Westcoast acid psych masterpiece. It was recorded 1969 in Hollywood and originally released on Chartmaker. Goldenrod is not just the backing band of Darius — it is Ben Benay, Jerry Scheff and Toxey French who all were involved into several major projects, playing with Elvis Presley, 5th Dimension, supporting The Doors, Ventures to name a few. On this album they let it freewheelin running — just caring about their own passion with a magical sound in 4 long cuts: Descent of the cyclopeans/ Karmic Dream Sequence/ The Gator Society/ Standing Evaluation — those satisfy by its intense and emotional sound with ultimate guitarwork by Ben Benay. Contains bandstory + photos. Plus an unreleased mono session of album outtakes, freaked out 70 mins."

ESTES BROTHERS: Transitions CD (WIS 1013). $18.00

"First CD-Reissue of US Heavy-Psychedelic masterpiece recorded in Ohio 1971, an original LP is near impossible to find (only 100 pressed). The music is outstanding & gutsy bluesy hardrock mixed with "THAT" lysergic blend of those late sixties S.F. bands like Quicksilver Messenger Service & Mad River - contains 8 bonus tracks (home and live recordings), informative booklet, original front cover and a couple of great & unseen photos. One of the best US psychedelic hardrock albums ever!"

GOLD: Mission Rock CD (WIS 1014). $18.00

"Mission Rock was recorded live in San Francisco 1971 (excellent studio soundquality) — music ranges in the early Quicksilver/Santana/Big Brother & The Holding Company style — (68 mins) unreleased material! Gold in 1971 was one of the hottest bands in S.F. still without an LP. Bill Graham was booking the band to open shows for Ten Years After, Big Brother and the Holding Company, Mike Bloomfield....., with the hope and the support for an LP release. Now finally after 32 years here is the album Graham would have liked to hear. Country Joe McDonald took a personal interest in the band and worked with them on a number of projects & on this CD he wrote 2 of the 13 songs, which he had never performed with Country Joe & the Fish. The very talented guitarists Ed Scott/ Joe Bajza remind often to 'John Cipollina' founded Gold in 1967/68. Gold vocalist on Mission Rock Robin Sinclair was the same cut of female singer of the time in the style of a 'Janis Joplin' — an experienced professional who had recorded two LPs on Cadet Concept/Chess as part of a group called Saloom — Sinclair and the Mother Bear. The music itself is very powerful in rhythm section with congas, two acid jamming guitars and vocals a la Janis that make this CD to an absolute must for all Hippie and S.F. Sound fans. Contains bio, great photos and underground S.F. posters. The CD was produced with friendly support of Country Joe McDonald."

PHANTASIA: CD (WIS 1015). $18.00

"Reissue of US psychedelic ultra rarity recorded 1971/72. The original albums (a complete one and a one-sided) are legends for all psychedelic/garage collectors, only 25 copies pressed of each — not many people have the pleasure of having seen a copy. The music is creeping slowly and sensitively in your mind, whether stoned or not & it takes you wherever you want. Those are the complete sessions, 55mins in mastertape quality presented the first time to the public — extremely informative booklet (20 sided), with outstanding artwork and colour photos. One of the best Psychedelic albums, playing in the same league as Fraktion, Music Emporium, Hunger, Mystic Siva, Damon. Later the band changed into Trizo 50 that will also be released on WIS. For us unbelievable that this extremely talented band didn't make it."

FRED: Notes On A Picnic CD (WIS 1016). $18.00

"After the Successful World in Sound debut of Fred's first album of progressive/psychedelic rock, Fred returns with a second album featuring the continued growth of their original and innovative sound. Lots of heavy electric guitar, progressive electric violin with fusion/ classical overtones, massive rock drums and bass, swirling garage rock organ, funky/jazzy electric piano, and heavenly vocal harmonies all mix together to create music that is uniquely fred. Influenced by Frank Zappa, King Crimson, and Mahavishnu. With echoes of 70's rock bands like Traffic, Procol Harum, Jethro Tull, and The Allman Brothers, these performances sound like something else entirely. The master tapes were originally recorded 1973/74 at Blue Rock, the studio Rolling Stone called 'the apotheosis of the laid back'. The eight instrumental and three vocal tracks are at the highest level of musical proficiency and creativity in the progressive rock genre. The CD booklet contains informative liner notes, original Fred cartoons, and plenty of photos. 64 minutes of honest, dangerous, and awesome music that will own you."

MYSTIC SIVA: Under The Influence CD (WIS 1017). $18.00

First issue of these recordings from 1969-70, packaged in a heavy duty book-like folder. "Previously unreleased recordings of Mystic Siva from Detroit, very famous in the psychedelic collector's scene for their outstanding and rare original album (already reissued by WIS). The music here, recorded live prior to the album is taken from the mastertapes. The opener is an instrumental cut, followed by six diff. versions of original album tracks in very powerful style, mixed with four long acid jamming cover tunes turned into typical Siva style with pounding and hypnotic Hammond B3 organ, wailing and distorted fuzz/wah-wah guitarwork, powerful (sometimes Doors influenced) vocals and massive drums which lead you to the holy grail of psychedelic music."

GOLD: San Francisco Origins CD (WIS 1018). $18.00

"This CD contains 2 parts of S.F. underground history — both parts from the first incarnation with lead singer Richard Coco. Part 1 are the Studio Sessions of Leo Kulka's Golden State Recorders, 9 heavy guitar cuts (as on Rockadelic LP) with great congas and bizarre Rock'n Roll vocals. Part 2 is a live set at the Fillmore-West Audition, a qualification gig for Bill Graham's club circuit, which was successfully passed — gigs at Winterland, Fillmore-West followed. These 42 minutes reach the highest level of power and a unique kind of heavy acidrock sound(containing a 6 min. killer version of 'No Parking') — Ed Scott's hypnotic rhythm guitar, a mind blowing bass and drums create an outstanding and surrounding flow, Joe Bajza's soaring solo guitar played in a kind of aggressive Cipollina / Jeff Beck style is brilliantly intense and brings true Sixties S.F. Hell's Angels party feeling to your home. Very detailed 12 page booklet, 78 minutes of hot music — reflect the 'golden spirit' of the late 60's early 70's in San Francisco...."

STONED CIRCUS: Revisited CD (WIS 1019). $18.00

"This is an outstanding piece of US psychedelia Stoned Circus started in 1968 in Kansas City and became soon to one of the hottest local acts. The powerful sound with male and female lead vocals has a strong Jefferson Airplane feeling, incl. great organ and heavy guitars. Not to be confused with the Stone Circus that recorded for the Mainstream label. This material was unreleased and found in the archives of Cavern Sound Studios where the Wizzards from Kansas recorded too. Rockadelic Records released these recordings as limited LP version in 1994 and is long sold out. Songs include 'Gotta find Way', 'Try Love', 'New World', 'Trust', a cover of Zeppelin's 'Gonna Leave You' plus more. Originally recorded in 1970 and for the first time as a CD release from the original masters incl. a detailed bio and pics."

FRED: Live at the Bitter End CD (WIS 1020). $18.00

"Who or what on God's earth is Fred? In Swedish, Fred means 'peace', a good idea for any decade. In music, Fred is an upstart band of pseudo-bumpkins (aka hippies) from the hills of central PA (really just kids from mid-Atlantic suburbia lost in the purple haze) who took Greenwich Village by storm in 1974. Recorded over the summer of 1974 while Fred was headlining at NYC's world famous nightclub The Bitter End, these are raw, in your face live performances that will lift you up and blow you away. It is high octave, aggressive electric instrumental music with a pulse pounding beat, wailing gutsy guitar, and wild violin pyrotechnics. Live at the Bitter End features all new original music, ranging from tender to tortured, demented to delirious, always energetic, edgy, enigmatic, and full of surprises. With strong melodic themes over innovative rhythms, six pieces of the puzzle are carefully arranged into a seemingly endless variety of combinations, and then each is set loose over elegant structures for solo flights in the twilight zone of improvisation. Influenced by Mahavishnu, Zappa, Jethro Tull, Yes, Spirit, King Crimson, Bartok, and Stravinsky, as well as inspired by musicians like Jean-Luc Ponty, Jerry Garcia, Bill Bruford, Herbie Hancock, John Bonham, Jerry Goodman, Robin Trower, Joe Zawinul, Chris Squire, and Stephane Grappelli, Fred had by 1974 assimilated and fused a staggering array of disparate elements into their sound."

WORLD PSYCHEDELIA (WORLD'S LEADING TERRORIST STATE):

LES MOGUL: Danses et Rythmes de la Turquie CD (WPC6 8460). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "Another sparkling reissue of a Turkish classic, this time a strange collection of melodic crypto-folk instrumentals with a weird Zombies/Animals touch, recorded by the biggest selling group in Turkey at the time; first released in Paris by Guilde Internationale du Disque in 1971; spicy take on traditional music won the coveted Grand Prix du Disque from the Academie Charles Cros."

KORAY, ERKIN: Elektronik Türküler CD (WPC6 8461). $17.00

Booleg reissue of classic material by this elusive Turkish psychedelic legend; previously reissued on LP by the German Damla label. Unlike previous Koray albums (including some CDs that have come out in Turkey that are basically impossible to find), this appears to be a straight reissue of a complete album from 1974. Beautifully developed eastern melodies via a folk-ish/psych merger and some of Koray's most extended tracks. Mesmerizing stuff.

3 HUR -EL: 3 Hur-el CD (WPC6 8462). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "Their first LP, another masterpiece of Turkish psychedelic delight, culled from singles by the three very talented Hur El brothers, and released in 1972 in small quantities on Diskotur (originals sell for $1000 and up nowadays); some of the very best Turkish psych songs — less Western in some ways than their great Arşivi LP, but still with the same excellent guitar, impassioned vocals and Eastern percussion that makes for memorable listening and a long-term connection with the music; a triumph that belongs in every record collection."

3 HUR -EL: Hurel Arşivi CD (WPC6 8463). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "A masterpiece of Turkish ethno-psychedelic delight, recorded between 1970 and 1975 by the three very talented Hur El brothers, and released in small quantities on Diskotur (originals sell for $1000 and up nowadays); their second album has the heavy hashish sound — fuzz guitar, impassioned vocals and Eastern percussion — that makes Turkish psych so savoury to the rest of the world; very possibly as good as anything recorded by countryman Erkin Koray."

COLOURS: Colours CD (WPC6 8466). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "The liner-notes from this, the band's first album tell us that they 'have the crystalline sharpness of the Beatles before they turned acid', and what's more, it's quite true; an excellent pop-psych album, first released on DOT in 1968; the first track, 'Bad Day At Black Rock, Baby', must be reckoned among the very best attempts at an orchestrated psych sound, with the band easily switching from key to key and featuring many disturbing time-changes; it's charms are many and varied, with songs like the sitar drone 'Rather Be Me', and the commune-song 'Brother Lou's Love Colony', later covered by Moon, and the eerie 'Cataleptic'. An underestimated LP, until now, but not anymore."

FINCHLEY BOYS: Everlasting Tribute CD (WPC6 8467). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "Recorded in 1968, released in 1972, only album ever released — and it's a good one — by this band from Champaign, Illinois; not much known about them — they recorded the material for their album in Chicago during 1968 and 1969, although it was not released until 1972; a great heavy psych record, featuring often-compiled cuts like their hard-rocking reinterpretation of the Kinks song 'I'm Not Like Everybody Else', the superb 'It All Ends', and the best cut for me, the anti-establishment anthem 'Restrictions'."

AVE ROCK: Ave Rock CD (WPC6 8468). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "Excellent debut album by original Ave Rock line-up is a very spacey psychedelic progressive effort from Argentina, featuring the sweet 'Ausencia', the moody 'El absurdo y la melodia', and the great guitars and organ of 'Gritos'; best track might well be long improvised instrumental 'Viva Bélgica'; a very good effort which included Daddy Antogna from Orion's Beethoven; full of shifting rhythms and rich melodies."

COSA NOSTRA: Cosa Nostra CD (WPC6 8469). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "Heavy duty rare Latin funk psych album recorded in Mexico City in 1971, their English language debut (not to be confused with their Spanish-language second album, reissued by Lazarus on LP); heavy grooves right from the start, with hard guitar, bass, drums and organ kicking it and not letting up; sounds a little like the Black Sugar albums, if you can imagine U-Roy 'singing' along with the rhythm tracks, and some strange dissonant background singers chiming in to boot; but all vocal limitations aside, has some great cuts, such as the eponymous track 'Cosa Nostra', the funky 'Squeeze it Tight' with a real punchy groove, the rife-for-sample intro to 'Proud Mary', and the shimmering 'Change of Mind'."

LOS YORK'S: 67 CD (WPC6 8470). $17.00

Bootleg reissue of this South American album from 1967. "First album by garage psych quartet who, along with Los Saicos and Los Shains are one of the best and most important bands to come from Peru in the mid-sixties (their albums are now very rare); first issued on Mag in 1967 (of course), and featuring a non-stop beat-influenced go-go twang guitar garage psych tone throughout."

POLIFEMO: Polifemo CD (WPC6 8471A). $17.00

Bootleg reissue. "Rare debut album by this Argentine rock super-group, led by (ex-Color Humano and Pescado Rabioso) David Lebon on guitar and vocals, Rinaldo Rafanelli (ex-Color Humano and Sui Generis) on bass, Juan Rodríguez (ex-Los Mentales and Sui Generis) on drums, and keyboard player Ciro Fogliatta (ex-Los Gatos, Sacramento and Espiritu); blend of rock with some progressive touches, especially the use of mellotron and moogs; includes both of their rare EMI singles + b-sides as bonus tracks."

VOX DEI: Es Una Nube, Non Hay Duda (It is a Cloud, No Doubt) CD (WPC6 8471B). $17.00

"Classic album by one of Argentina's best-loved bands was their first recorded for CBS (1973) and their first with professional production; truly inspired music that blends progressive rock, pastoral songs, 'psicodelia', and rock & roll; subjects are less heavy than on their earlier albums, with the best moments being the title track (written by Quiroga), and Ricardo Soul's 'La Verdadera Historia de Sam, el Montas (The True History of Sam the Mountain Dweller)', both considered classics of Argentine rock; booklet comes with lyrics and photos."

BULENT: Benimle Oynar Misin CD (WPC6 8472). $17.00

"Extremely rare and sought-after album shows a very different side to the incredibly rich Turkish music scene of the late 1960's/early 1970's, with gravelly vocals and introspective folk rock arrangements; a mostly calm album with incredible songs and lyrics from revered songwriter Bulent Ortacgil, recorded in 1973 or 1974; regarded by Hans Pokora's Record Collector Dreams book as psych folk, where it received four stars; musical support provided by a team of dynamite musicians including Onno Tunc and Atilla Ozdemiroglu; booklet includes lyrics and photos."

KING GEORGE DISCOVERY: King George Discovery CD (WPC6 8473). $17.00

"One and only album of Jimi Hendrix-inspired power-trio rave-ups recorded in 1968 (Haparanda label) by American R&B singer 'King' George Clemons, and a trio of Swedish musicians who later founded famed heavy psych bands Life and Blond; recorded and released only in Sweden, which is no doubt why it has remained unknown to the many fans of psychedelia who would most enjoy it; booklet has King George biography and interview."

MOGOLLAR: Mogollar CD (WPC6 8474). $17.00

"Incredibly rare second album from Mogollar, which does not even appear in the band's own discography, but was released on Diskotur all the same sometime around 1971; eleven perfect examples of the group's 'Andalou pop' mixture of ethnic Turkish music and Western elements, plus eight bonus tracks from singles (including different heavier versions of two tracks from their Danses et Rhythmes album) makes for one great disc. Booklet comes with band history and includes some photos."

WORLD SERPENT (UK):

NOBODY: Transparent Sessions CD (WS 019 CD). $19.00

"Stefano Di Felice/Nobody has been on the cusp of the Apocalyptic Folk scene for some time, and has in that time kept the Serpent informed of his progress. Transparent Sessions is his first full length CD release. To look for references would be all too easy and also be unfair, though people have mentioned all the usual suspects (Death in June, Current 93, etc.). Twelve string guitars chiming in the darkness!"

NETHER NEITHER WORLD: Torch Songs CD (WS 020). $19.00

"Wendy Van Dusen and Lemon De George get together again to bring us another CD of finely crafted tales of spurned love and deceit. NNW have been likened to Bongwater which is no mean thing when you think about it, though I think they take all the exotica erotica culture much further than most. So if your lover has left you for your best friend, then this is the album for you."

WORLD SERPENT/A-SCALE (UK):

BATES, MARTYN: Imagination Feels Like Poison CD (ASR 022). $19.00

"This is the first full issue of the latest Martyn Bates album, it was originally issued in 1997 to accompany the similarly titled book of lyrics. Primarily a collection of songs occasionally threaded through with fleeting illustrative atmospheric sketches. A music brightly bitter-sweet, conjuring up ghostly and vivid invocations of folk." Pleasant folk-based material from the founder of Eyeless In Gaza; Bates on: songs, voices, banjo, autoharp percussion, pump organ, whistles and colourings.

WORLD SERPENT/EPIPHANY (UK):

KING, ANDREW: Bitter Harvest CD (EPIPHANY 01). $19.00

UK traditional folk, with some non-humorous similarity to Ivor Cutler. Vocals, harmonium, bells, drones, etc. John Murphy, Karl Blake & others provide backing. "After hearing Andrew's contribution to the QN magazine CD, I immediately fell in love with his interpretation of the old folk song 'The Bitter Withy'. With this in mind I continually harassed Andrew for a full length CD of his vocal interpretations. Andrew then spent over a year researching and hunting down the more obscure and more often than not sinister adaptations of our folk past. Andrew has worked in his capacity as a visual artist with Tony Wakeford and a host of Serpent artists. No doubt the manufactured folkies will be queuing up to rip off this fine collection of songs."

WORLD SERPENT/LMM (UK):

SAVAGE/SUZIE HIGGIE, CONWAY: Soon Will Be Tomorrow CD (LMM 001). $19.00

"Soon Will Be Tomorrow is the project of Nick Cave's keyboard player Conway Savage and the Falling Joys' Suzie Higgie. The result is an album of stunning beauty. Blending Conway's Cavesque ballads and Suzie's haunting vocals the CD drifts in style from Nick Drake to Mazzy Star."

WORM INTERFACE (UK):

BARAKI: Colony Laspberry CD (WI 019). $15.00

"Excellent sounds from Kyoto City. Having made some exceptional contributions to our last Alt. Frequencies compilation, Japan's Baraki has recorded his first album. His approach is to 'always look for some unknown possibility and that is in full effect here. With a psychedelic attitude, Baraki keeps a playful style throughout. Starting from the well-earthed opening of 'Rock'n'Job', he trips through the charged beats of 'Koukakului' and the electrified 'Wa to Yoni' before ending up by the lunar shores of the final destination — 'Colony Laspberry'. Not obviously categorisable, but definitely exotic."

VA: Volume Transmission CD (WI 020). $15.00

"The House of Worm once again field an international team including Swedish synth duo Plod, Airat from Russia, the anonymous Remote, UK software mole Astral Engineering, Koichi from Japan, and Sandspider—straight outta Beckenham. A unique selection of minimalism, lush soundscapes, dreamy ambience and downtempo electro make up this collection of reflective music. Plod will soon release their long-awaited debut album Pillow Talk. Koichi is currently in the studio putting the finishing touches on his first album. Astral Engineers' Chronoglide has become known as a chill out classic and was our first ever release. The Airat tracks are another example of the emergent Russian new wave of electronic music, and were selected from a unique set of field recordings made among the tenements of Moscow. The Remote project is by somebody in the film industry who wishes to remain anonymous. Sandspider are a recent Worm signing who are finishing their first album for us, to be released early next year." Limited stock.

SANDSPIDER: Sand CD (WI 022). $15.00

"Electro ambient dub album from Sandspider, London duo Matt Embleton and Alan McDermott. This album is in the tradition of bands such as Orbital, Future Sound of London, and Higher Intelligence Agency."

VA: Alt.Frequencies 4 CD (WI 024). $9.00

Re-release of this year 2000 comp, at the price of a single. "The label that introduced the world to the sounds of Squarepusher and Freeform uneath more secrets from the global electronic underground. Alt.Frequencies 4 weaves an inspiring thread through the experimental beats and frequencies of established artists like Warp's Freeform and Mira Calix, while maintaining a firm commitment to providing a platform for inventive new music. Absorbing output from a diverse selection of sources, this compilation brings together new electronica from all five corners of the globe. Featuring Plod (Sweden), Himuro and Baraki (Japan), Meek (Canada), Mira Calix and Freeform (USA), Jake Mandell, Solenoid and Rook Vallard (USA), and Gamers in Exile (Italy). While much of this material is destined for armchair appreciation, tracks come in a range of post-pigeonhole shapes and guises. Guaranteed to take the listener from the motionless to the moveable and everywhere in between."

DUNDERHEAD: Bee Cave Sounds CD (WI 026). $15.00

"An album of slow funky jazz all crafted with the able assistance of Lumo (Orbital). The sleeve is gloriously psychedelic, soundwise...think echoes of Miles, Thelonious Monk and Oscar Peterson meets the downtempo homeboy funkiness of Mo Wax."

757: 757 CD (WI 027). $15.00

"Debut album from American artist Adrien 75's project. Hyperreal fragmented electronics that will appeal hugely to fans of the current American scene (e.g. Marumari, Cex. Ect). Defining a new genre of psyche out electronica. References the moods of utopian 60's psychedelia americana."

PL0D: Compilation 12" (WI 028). $9.00

"This is the first full vinyl release from Plod of Sweden. For fans of classical electronica, Kraftwerk, Isaan, Arrovane, Bola, Gimmik."

PFLUM, KARSTEN: Tracks CD (WI 029). $16.00

"Massively technical but catchy drum programming a la Tom Jenkinson, mixed with sweet tooth melodic sensibility, will appeal to fans of Solar X, Tom J., Aphex Twin. Karsten Pflum is from the currently very trendy northern Europe, Denmark to be exact."

HIMURO/KOICHI: Latest Gorgeous Energy 12" (WISE 003). $12.00

"Clash of weird freak-beats featuring two Japanese artists on the cutting edge, Yoshiteru Himuro and Koichi Shimizu. These two have been bought together for a double header in the Tekken tradition. These tracks are no longer languishing on the shelf here at Worm Interface — we thought that we would rush this little extra item for you before the summer break. This release is the third in our 'special edition' series after Freeform's 'Heterarch' and Gimmik's 'load/error!' Himuro has had two previous releases — the 'Nice Feedback' EP and his CD album Nichiyobi. To date, Koichi has not had any solo releases in Britain, but this is a taster for his debut album that will be released Autumn 1999."

FORT LAUDERDALE: 1001 Revolutions CD (WISE 04CD). $16.00

"Well meaning post-BOC album (I'm sorry but there's just no way...) from these lounge/spy-jazz obsessed twits, their first release on London's (previously) groundbreaking Worm Interface label. Some nice moments of real-time guitar interplay come in here & there (and I'm not talking about that shred solo at the outro of 'The Kaleidoscope Man', which rivals — if not out-does — even the most misguided examples in the genres.mp3.com/music/electronic directory, right up to the moronic voice over), which when coupled with the genre's trademark mellow synth squiggle & odd-meter drum bits adds up to slightly more than a hill of beans and a whole lot less than a Dunderhead record. Life=1, ID=0. — Hrvatski.

FORT LAUDERDALE: 1001 Revolutions LP (WISE 04LP). $15.00

LP vinyl version.

VA: Electric Chicken Vol. 1 LP (WISE 05LP). $12.00

"Worm Interface follow up their excellent Gimmik album with a strictly limited edition 330g vinyl comp. Electric Chicken Vol. 1. 8 tracks of weird beat electronica from the likes of Fibia, Solar X, Himuro, Koichi, Trail, Hexigonsun, and Ryoko. The album is described by the label as sounding like 'Jim O'Rourke on acid'."

WRASSE RECORDS (UK):

MASSI, SOUAD: deb (heart broken) CD (WRASS 096CD). $16.00

"With a beautiful voice and a large palette of influences to draw from, Souad Massi is one of the most interesting new singers to come from North Africa. Influenced equally by shaabi music, French chanson, flamenco, 60's American folk and a variety of African traditional music, this Algerian guitarist and chanteuse makes music that is at once exotic and familiar. The music on Deb (heart broken), for love gone wrong, for lost innocence and for the plight of her home country. Yet, not unlike the music of the Cape Verde singer Cesaria Evora, the sun still shines and celebration is still possible. In nearly every song on this wonderfully arranged and beautifully sung CD, evil does battle with good. Evil seems to win every time, but the music stands as testament to a hope and spirit that cannot be dimmed, let alone vanquished."

XERIC:

CAPTAIN BEEFHEART: Grow Fins Vol. II: Trout Mask House Sessions 2LP (XER 097LP). $19.00

Repressed. 2nd volume in the proposed 3-volume series of double LPs. "Captain Beefheart & His Magic Band set rock on its ear from 1965 until 1982, when leader Don Van Vliet retired from music. Engineering a mutant strain of musical DNA (tuff-ass garage punk R&B, extra-terrestrial field hollers, austere 'classical' miniatures, loping sea chanties, scorched-earth delta blues, free-blowing skronk, fat-bottom groove and post-everything clangor all found their way into the soup). CB&HMB are now regarded as one of the most original and consistently compelling bands ever waxed."

GUSTAFSSON, MATS: The Education of Lars Jerry CD (XER 100 CD). $14.00

Repressed. "Swedish saxophonist Mats Gustafsson is one of the most significant new faces in improvised music. Combining great sensitivity and attention to detail with boundless energy, Gustafsson works regularly with the upper echalon of European and American improvisors. This CD, which features Gustafsson on tenor and baritone saxes, French flageolet and 'fluteophone' (his own contraption combining alto sax mouthpiece and flute) is his second solo record, splendidly recorded by legendary producer Jim O'Rourke is the unique acoustic space of Chicago's Renaissance Society Art Gallery." Thurston Moore: "Mats is the most modern of players where the genre tags of jazz, noise, experimental, avant-whatever are finally transcended to a new millennium — where compositional concepts are at once in check with open improvisation and a super-postmodernism becomes what we always wanted: rock & roll!"

GUSTAFSSON, MATS: The Education of Lars Jerry LP (XER 100 LP). $14.00
Repressed.

XI:

NIBLOCK, PHILL: Four Full Flutes CD (XI 101). $13.00

Here is the complete CD catalog of this superior NYC composers collective label (aka Experimental Intermedia); although pretty low-profile, there are some amazing releases on this label in the spirit of long, droned tones and advanced new music composition. Don't let the title to this Niblock thing throw you off — this is massive trance music and a key work in the unspecified field of "pure sound". "...adjacent tones beat violently against one another while clouds of harmonics hover above the wavering drone. When the piece ends, it takes the listener a few moments to recover. This physiological experience, when the ossicles slow their vibrating and the membrane hairs come to a standstill, is probably the only aspect of the music not regulated by the score. The four pieces on this 80 minute CD are for multiple tracks of alto flutes, flutes, flutes and alto flutes, and bass flutes, performed by Peter Kotik, Susan Stenger, and Eberhard Blum."

VIKRE, LOIS V.: Silmoom CD (XI 102). $13.00

"Three of Vierk's works for 'big instruments,' that is, multiples of the same instrument, treated more like single entities than like groups of voices. The three pieces on this CD are for five electric guitars tuned microtonally around 'E,' six trumpets, and eight cellos." The 12-minute "Go Guitars" is a classic work of loud guitar tonality drift, in the tradition of Branca/Rhys/Remko/early-SY, etc. and is largely unknown in this context.

RADIGUE, ELAINE: Kyema, Intermediate States CD (XI 103). $13.00

"Radigue became a disciple of Tibetan Buddhism in 1975. 'Kyema', a piece for synthesizer, is a Tibetan term expressing the emotional state of surprise tinted with sorrow. This piece explores electronically the full range of existence, going beyond death and back into the exuberance of physical life, expanding the musical consciousness of the uninitiated, leading one in a cyclical voyage through myriads of tones, drones, and warbles where the end is only the beginning."

KLUCEVSEK, GUY: Flying Vegetables Of The Apocalypse CD (XI 104). $13.00

Klucsevsek is the well-known experimental accordion player, his playing bridging a style supposedly influenced by "Henry Cowell-style tone clusters; the eerie difference tones of 'acoustic phenomena' composer Pauline Oliveros; the hypnotic phasing and locomotive ostinatos of early minimalism; low register drones punctuated by high register yips, in a manner of Scottish bagpipe and Bulgarian accordion music; dark, Gyorgi Ligeti-ish sound clouds...; a Morton Feldmanesque sense of grand gesture, and of microscopic movements; an appropriation aesthetic shared with John Zorn and other NY avant-gardists..."

BEHRMAN, DAVID: Unforeseen Events CD (XI 105). $13.00

"...made with computer software designed to interact in real time with a solo performer. The electronic timbres are intended to complement the sounds of Ben Neill's trumpet — the admirable and humorous mutantrumpet, with its three separately-mutable and playable bells."

JOHNSON, TOM: Music For 88 CD (XI 106). $13.00

"Simplicity and clarity have always been among Tom Johnson's chief concerns as a composer. They led him to research number theory, particularly by Pascal, Fermat, and Euclid. These sources suggested musical structures somewhat more complicated than those he had used before. Music For 88...contains nine sections, each of which is a musical demonstration of a mathematical phenomenon." Solo piano work that's a bit too quirky.

LEACH, MARY JANE: Celestial Fires CD (XI 107). $13.00

"The works of Mary Jane Leach explore the physicality of sound, working very carefully with the timbres of instruments, creating combination, difference, and interference tones. Space is also an important concern: how sound changes when it is moved around a room." Includes a piece for 7 bassoons, four 8-part pieces for a cappella women's voices, and a piece for alto flute and voice. Beautiful sound strokes that don't mock the title.

FORWARD, FAST: Same Same CD (XI 108). $13.00

"Fast Forward is a composer best known for his compositions for percussion and music theatre works for diverse instrumentation...features recordings from 3 concerts of his music featuring Yuval Gabay, Michelle Kinney, Guy Klucsevsek, Takehisa Kosugi, James Lo, Ikue Mori, David Moss, Ben Neill, David Shea and Alex Tobias."

FULLMAN, ELLEN: Body Music CD (XI 109). $13.00

A follow up to her amazing LP on the Het Apollohuis label, featuring Ellen's unique Long Stringed Instrument, an 80-foot instrument with approximately 80 strings. A must have if you're into experiencing loud, power-drone sound sculpture at a transcending peak.

MACLOW, JACKSON: Open Secrets CD (XI 110). $13.00

Musical works from the legendary Fluxus artists; this consists of 8 works for voices and/or instruments, including weird and great tributes to Kurt Schwitters, John Cage, and Morton Feldman. The indeterminate vocal works are especially loaded with the Fluxal spirit of inspired disorientation.

NIBLOCK, PHILL: Music By Phill Niblock CD (XI 111). $13.00

"Features The Soldier String Quartet performing in 'Five More String Quartets', a piece for five multi-tracked string quartets and in 'Early Winter' for flute, bass flute, string quartet and synthesizer, also featuring Susan Stenger (flute) and Eberhard Blum (bass flute)." This is purely awesome drone work and one of the loudest, most commanding minimal works you could ever dream of basking within, even living up to the following: "Dense, elusive trance music distinguished by its singular methods of construction and the intricacy of the relationships of its components with a surprising flux of pulsing adjacent tones which convey a stunning range of acoustic phenomena."

CAMERON, ALLISON: Raw Sanguedo CD (XI 112). $13.00

Debut release of music by a new Canadian composer, who has studied under the likes of Andriessen, Rzewski and James Tenney. "Her compositions can be characterized as rigorous study forms with which specific sound worlds are explored. She experiments with the physicality of sound on various instruments, using pithy material to exploit instrumental colours. Most of her works to date have been written for a variety of chamber ensembles encompassing both traditional and unusual groups of instruments." "Cameron writes chamber works...with no themes, few gestures, rarely a rhythm aside from slow, steady beats. Fragile and suspended, underlaid by long, long chords, they would be almost metaphysically gloomy if they weren't so colorful. My favorite, 'A Blank Sheet of Metal', starts off like slowly pulsating Feldman before dissipating into near stillness and a chord repeated at surreally extended intervals. The music reminds me of the painter de Chirico's sad surrealism." — Kyle Gann.

GOODE, DANIEL: Clarinet Songs CD (XI 113). $13.00

"A 75 minute suite for solo clarinet, begun in 1979 and completed in 1991, using all of Daniel Goode's virtuosic techniques distilled into sixteen 'Songs Without Words', a poetics of the new clarinet...Most use circular breathing for continuity and use alternate fingerings which produce non-tempered intervals with unusual, striking timbres."

CHILDS, MARY ELLEN: Kilter CD (XI 114). $13.00

Debut collection of works by this MN composer, includes various pieces for solo, duo and small ensemble, performed by: Guy Klucsevsek (accordion), the SoHo Quartet (Mary Rowell, Mark Feldman, Lois Martin, Erik Friedlander), Relache (clarinets, saxophones, bassoon, accordion, voice, perc.), Anthony de Mare (piano), Kathy Suprov (soprano), Dora Ohrenstein (soprano), Phillip Bush (piano). "An enveloping and entrancing audio quilt composed of organic reeds, sylvan accordion, timepiece xylophone, seductive polyrhythms, and somewhat historicist wordless vocals...accomplished, beautiful work that creates its own little universe." —Tom Surowicz.

LAINHART, RICHARD: Ten Thousand Shades of Blue 2CD (XI 115). $13.00

Double CD (for the price of one) of beautifully processed electronic sound, one of the quintessential XI releases. "Lainhart's music rings true to the spirit of possibility that once defined electronic music. It brings with it a sense of past, present and future that transcends time, technology and cultural assumptions. It's a music that is beholden to no one, yet informed by a diverse sphere of appreciations, rich in both intellectual and emotional interest, at once distant and interior, actual and implied." — Ron Goldberg. Featured works: "Bronze Cloud Disk" (1975, for multitracked, processed bowed tam-tam); "Two Mirrors Face One Another" (1976, for multitracked, processed bowed Japanese temple bells); "Cities of Light" (1980, for multitracked, processed voice); "Ten Thousand Shades of Blue" (1985, for realtime interactive computer music system; "Staring at the Moon" (1987, for realtime interactive computer music system with bowed and struck vibraphone); "Walking Slowly Backwards" (1989, for vibraphone).

ZUMMO, PETER: Experimenting With Household Chemicals CD (XI 116). $13.00

A work for trombone and ensemble: voice, amplified cello, keyboard bass, marimba, perc., saxophones, flute, organ, synthesizer and bass. Zummo writes for extended trombone techniques and sound layers.

LOGOS DUO: Works CD (XI 117). $13.00

Eight works by the long running Belgian duo of Godfried-Willem Raes & Moniek Darge. "Their live performances often make use of musical instruments designed and built by Raes, who is a very inventive and prolific instrument builder. His designs range from all kinds of acoustic and digital/electro-mechanical sound sculptures to the most sublime controlling and sound generating devices." Fascinating sound mixtures utilizing percussion, computers, synthesizers, organ, ethnic instruments, piano, etc.

LOCKWOOD/RUTH ANDERSON, ANNEA: Sinopah CD (XI 118). $13.00

"Split release by two prominent post-1950 composers, offering one piece per, inspired by the mountain sacred to the Blackfeet nation of northwestern Montana. Annea Lockwood gives us the 45 minute 'World Rhythms', endless percolating monitor-click and tone-wash (w/vague dawn-of-man/time overtones) by way of non-repeating location recordings of water, wind, fire, distant gongs, birds, etc... Nice. Similar yet completely different from her previous works (including the magnificent Glass World LP on Tangent which was reissued to great effect recently via the What Next?/Nonsequiter Foundation). Ruth Anderson's piece, 'I come out of your sleep' floats around the negative-space concept before, well, before nothing. Impressive in the purest sense, non tampered/tempered. A fine display of raw sound documenting the furthering in concept of these important composers." —Hrvatski. "I come out of your sleep" follows a tradition of sound poetry, or text-sound, begun in part by Kurt Schwitters' 'Ursonate', expanded by Henri Chopin, John Cage, and Bernard Heidsieck, by Charles Amirkhanian, Carlos Santos and Jackson MacLow, with seminal works in this area. These abstract pieces are formed directly from the sounds of the text used or created, with the full gamut of consonants, vowels and inflections, along with compositional techniques of process, repetition, patterning and overlap." —Anderson.

RADIGUE, ELIANE: Trilogie de la Mort 3CD (XI 119). $25.00

"Trilogie de la Mort is a work in three parts. The first, Kyema, was originally released by XI in 1992. The 2nd and 3rd parts, Kailasha and Koumé are being released for the first time and the trilogy now makes its debut as a whole [this 3CD set is being sold for the cost of 2 CDs to make up for the prior availability Kyema]. 'Kyema' is inspired by the texts of Bardo-Thodol (The Tibetan Book of the Dead). This work evokes the six intermediate states which constitute the 'existential continuity' of the being. 'Radigue's 'Kyema' explores electronically the full range of existence, going beyond death and back into the exuberance of physical life, expanding the musical consciousness of the uninitiated, leading one in a cyclical voyage through a myriad of tones, drones, and warbles where the end is only the beginning.' — Neil Strauss. 'Kailasha', the second chapter in the work, is structured on an imaginary pilgrimage around Mt. Kailash, one of the most sacred mountains in the Himalayas; considered as a path to other spheres of existence. 'Koumé' makes up the last part of the trilogy and emphasizes the transcendence of death. It is the descent to the deepest, where the spark of life is. There, Death is born. Death becomes birth. Activity re-beginning. Eternity, a perpetual 'becoming'."

GOLDSTEIN, MALCOLM: The Seasons: Vermont CD (XI 120). $13.00

"Two pieces recently converted to digital, one a group setting from 1983, the other a solo from 1997. This recording of 'The Seasons: Vermont', which had previously existed in excerpt form on a Folkways LP, features the veritable OO/XI/What Next? dream-syndicate of Robert Black (bass), Mark Steven Brooks (wood flutes, electric guitar, percussion), Joseph Celli (oboe (extended, perhaps?)), English horn, ocarina), Malcolm Goldstein (violin), Tom Guralnick (tenor, soprano & bass saxophones, vappuchones), Brian Johnson (vibraphone, percussion), and Kenneth Karpowicz (intensified vocalizing, accordion). Said grouping waltzes through all four quarters in a Vermont hour, emoting on freely occurring sonics/timbres/genres in said state and plagiarizing nature in general... The other piece, 'Soundings for solo violin; is all scrape/pluck/drag; a call back to the composer's work with Fluxus villains like Philip Corner and meta-musicians such as James Tenney. Fine sounds all around." — Hrvatski.

NIBLOCK, PHILL: YPGPN 2CD (XI 121). $13.00

"YPGPN (Young Person's Guide to Phill Niblock) is the long-awaited re-release of a 2 CD-set that was a joint production by the UK based Blast First label and The Wire magazine in 1995. It includes the following works: Held Tones (1982-94) Barbara Held, flute; Didjeridoos and Don'ts (1992) Ulrich Krieger, didjeridu; Ten Auras (1994) Ulrich Krieger, tenor saxophone; Ten Auras Live (1994) Ulrich Krieger, tenor saxophone; A Trombone Piece (1978-94) James Fulkerson, trombone; A Third Trombone (1979-94) Jon English, trombone; Unmentionable Piece for Trombone and Sousephone (1982-94) George Lewis, trombone and sousephone. Phill Niblock and his music have been with us now for quite some time. In 1972 he guided an audience that had come to the New York venue The Kitchen for a concert of his compositions, to his loft... Now, some thirty years later, Niblock's work continues to draw new audiences. What is extraordinary about this, is that the principles of his music have not changed much over the years; that with the long timespan covered by each piece and the sparseness of the musical material and its elaboration, one could be forgiven to think that it is at odds with contemporary hasty tastes. In fact, just because of that, it has the power to draw attention to itself. The apparently immobile string of tones that is basic to his compositions, has a singular mesmerizing quality." — Rene van Peer

PANHUYSEN, PAUL: Partitas For Long Strings CD (XI 122). $13.00

"CD documentation of Panhuysen's steel-wire sound installations & their subsequent agitation-related overtones, 3 separate instances ('Partita for 16 long strings of equal length,' 'Partita for 16 long strings of equally diminishing length,' and 'Partita for 16 long strings proportionally tuned') recorded in 1997 @ Het Apollohuis. Each new Panhuysen/Apollo set is always met with much consternation/euphoria/varying points between from those 'in-the-know', little expressed variance here. 'Size and volume are directly related to the range of pitches that comes through. The materials used have a strong influence on the overall sound. Styrofoam does the job very well. I had similar experiences with a sheet of lead, slate and balloons, which all worked surprisingly good. Aluminum produces a resonance that I can only describe as idiosyncratic. It had a complex timbre that is entirely its own, with many peaks at separate frequencies. Birds love it." — Panhuysen. Aye, and indeed they should." — Hrvatski.

JOHNSON, TOM: The Chord Catalogue CD (XI 123). $13.00

"Extreme and, one would think, extremely simple. A lesser man would have arranged those 8178 chords in some symphonically meaningful, or else quasi-random order. But Johnson proceeded methodically up the chromatic scale from two notes at a time, three, four, and so on to 13. By the time we reach 10 note chords, the information overload was such that the differences were hardly perceptible, a situation reminiscent of serial music. Far from being heavy handed minimalism, The Chord Catalogue was a pointed lesson in music history and the relativity of perception." — Kyle Gann, Village Voice "I have often tried to explain that my music is a reaction against the romantic and expressionistic musical past, and that I am seeking something more objective, something that doesn't express my emotions, something that doesn't try to manipulate the emotions of the listener either, something outside myself. I like to think of The Chord Catalogue as a sort of natural phenomenon — something which has always been present in the ordinary musical scale, and which I simply observed, rather than invented. It is not so much a composition as simply a list." — Tom Johnson

BAND, ELLEN: 90% Post Consumer Sound CD (XI 124). $13.00

"Ellen Band creates sound and music pieces for performance and concert settings, installation, sculpture, and tape. Deeply inspired by the infinitely complex textures, rhythms, and colours within the so-called ordinary sounds of everyday life, she uses the technique of field recording to collect the source material she uses for her pieces. She then fashions works that reflect the imagistic, mnemonic (memory), and psychoacoustic properties of sound. With a strong background in 20th Century experimental music and sound art traditions, she crafts sound works which transform familiar sounds into new contexts and forms for listening to, perceiving, and experiencing sound."

CORNER, PHILIP: 40 Years And One: Philip Corner Plays The Piano CD (XI 125). $13.00

Solo piano works, performed by the composer, recorded in 1998. "Philip has vision, he did something nobody else did, he brought the expressive into indeterminacy (he calls it 'non-compulsive indeterminacy'). He's also one of the only composers I know who can give you a handful of worlds (notes) for a score, suggestions and alternatives for a realization and create wonderful expansive vistas of music and sound. Philip loves sound(s), he really listens and relishes (cherishes) the sensual aspects of perception. When he plays the piano there is a tremendous sensitivity (sensibilité), his own art of touching and caressing the keyboard. He also loves embellishments, whether in Korean classical music or in the late French baroque of Marin Marais or François Couperin. There's humor too, he's very funny (as many of his 'fluxus' performances and art works will show) and his universal and non-conformist approach to life is extremely refreshing in a (music-al) world still dominated by the dull mainstream of academia." — Anton Lukoszevieve. Featured pieces: 1. 7 Joyous Flashes (3:45) 2. Concerto for Housekeeper (5:58) 3. Short Piano Piece IV (2:51) 4. Short Piano Piece IX (2:07) 5. Short Piano Piece XIII (1:50) 6. Flux & Form No. 2 (solo) (4:01) 7. Flux & Form No. 3 (3 versions mixed) (4:39) 8. Pulse: a 'Keyboard Dance/C Major Chord (25:43) 9. "perfect" (on the strings) (21:49)

MONTGOMERY, GEN KEN: Pondfloorsample 2CD (XI 126). $13.00

"2 cds for the price of 1. These two discs represent some of Gen Ken Montgomery's sound art and compositional work from 1981-2001. Pondfloorsample is a collection of sonic explorations utilizing common devices meant to hold something other than sound. As with much of his sound work, the sonic material contains many sounds of everyday life. Having composed extensively for multi-channels, Pondfloorsample was specifically designed as a stereo audio piece enabling Montgomery to reach a larger audience. His work always begins with listening to the world. He works within processes, defining a set of conditions by which a piece will unfold itself. Sometimes he takes the familiar - sounds of icebreakers, radiators, laminators, egg slicers, bath drains, etc. - amplifying their familiarity, all the time asking us to hear the world a little differently. Other times he constructs a vapor of mesmerizing sound that is entirely dissociated with things that you know or instruments that can be visualized. These are sounds that you can see. He has a Cagian appreciation of ambient noise."

SCHUMACHER, MICHAEL J.: Room Pieces 2CD (XI 127). $13.00

"Much has been written to guide listeners through the course of a preconceived form. Although Michael J. Schumacher's music is distinctly his own it has been inspired by David Tudor and Morton Feldman as well as La Monte Young. Like their music it is about hearing sounds in themselves, about allowing the ear to register sonorities and then the hearing imagination may go to work, navigating amongst temporal realities and imaginary spaces, negotiating between a sense of control and perceived randomness, stasis and movement, finitude and limitlessness, Schumacher thrives on those creative tensions. At its most personal and expansive his singular music has the capacity to convey 'intimate immensity.' Room Piece provides a unique solution and musical experience in reference to 'the room.' Generated by a specific method and possessing a decidedly emotional character, Room Piece is not merely 'ambient music' but creates a bridge between the 'eventfulness' heard in Cage-ian and serial music, and the new American drone music that has arisen intuitively to create the sound of a vibrant universe with rich interior activity." 2 CDs for the price of one.

LICHT, ALAN: A New York Minute 2CD (XI 128). $13.00

"Alan Licht wears many hats. Over the years, he's been a curator of music as well as a tireless performer. And he's as well-known an author as he is a musician. It's one thing to have eclectic tastes; it's another to make a practice of them. While Licht's earlier records have seamlessly melded his improvisational guitar playing with extended plundered sounds, A New York Minute takes things a few steps further. Instead of fusing the many sides of Licht into one monolithic mega-mix, this disc separates them into discreet compositions. There's a lot more at stake here: the guitar pieces are showcased as guitar pieces and the plundered works are just that. The conceptual tendencies in Licht no longer hide behind his talent as a guitarist; likewise, the guitar pieces are no longer propped on hooky concepts that take our attention away from his fretwork. The good news is that both work: Licht is as strong a conceptual artist as he is a composer." 2 CDs for the price of one.

XL RECORDINGS (UK):

CAPITOL K: City/Soundwaves 10" (CAPKXL001). $9.00

"First single since the long sold out, Steve Lamacq Single of The Week 'Roadeater'. Capitol K first came onto the scene with an NME Single of the Week (on Elf Cut) and an NME Album of the Month with 'Sounds of The Empire'. Kristian Craig Robinson aka Capitol K has since then gone on to remix Badly Drawn Boy and release a second album Island Row (soon to be rereleased in new form). 'City' is a reworking of a track from Island Row while 'Soundwaves' wanders down a psychedelic path, twisting traditional songwriting with dark electronics."

XL RECORDINGS/SOURCE/VIRGIN (FRANCE):

LEILA: Soda Stream 12" (XL 113 LP). $12.00

LEILA: Courtesy of Choice 2LP (XL 135 LP). $17.00

"From our darling label Rephlex, Leila made her way to XL Recordings. This is the vinyl version of her new album. These are probably the best 14 songs she has ever recorded, and the album has included the fantastic 'Sodastream' single too. Additional vocals come from Luca Santucci, Donna Paul, and Roya Arab. No words are necessary, especially when you see the luxury gatefold sleeve."

CAPITOL K: Pillow CD (XL 138 CD). $8.00

"The man behind the Capitol K moniker. Kristian Craig Robinson, after two warmly-received and limited edition vinyl releases on XL last year, is finally ready for his full assault on the mainstream with his new single, 'Pillow'. It's a work of cut-up and off-kilter pop genius, and is suitably accompanied by remixes from fellow leftfield artistes, Wagon Christ and Leafcutter John. As an added bonus, the full vocal mix of album track, 'Capitol Beat Sticky', is included on the vinyl release, having only previously been available on The Cosmic Forces Of Mu compilation double CD on Planet Mu."

CAPITOL K: Pillow 12" (XL 138 EP). $8.00

12" vinyl version.

LEILA: Soda Stream CD (XL 61482 CD). $15.00

"This is the new single from Leila, and it's great. Leila is from Persia, and moved to England in 1979, frequenting a variety of educational institutions culminating in a degree in Film/TV/Radio studies from Staffordshire. Leila Dged by night in the fertile musical oasis that was Stoke on Trent from 1990 to 1993, loved jazz, hip hop, and the rarest of grooves and thought that 'dance' music was sad. She changed her mind when she started hearing break-beat hardcore, so she wrote her thesis on Dennis Hopper and got a 2:1, got a job playing keyboards on Bjork's Debut tour, got bored playing keyboards and mixed live on Bjork's Post tour. Then she came home to make some noise, was at home learning to use her studio, when some friends and family started singing with her. Luca came round and started singing, Donna had just written her first songs, so she came and sang, Roya was very upset one day and she sang a song. So Leila decided to release them on Aphex Twin's label, as he was a friend. She loves noise and hopes you enjoy."

XOTIC MIND (SWEDEN):

WORD OF LIFE: Dust CD (XOTIC CD2). $22.00

1996 CD issue of the 2nd Word Of Life album, with 3 extra bonus tracks not found on the LP. For contemporary psych, this is high on anyone's reasonable list. "This one is even more baked: surging fuzz/wah lead guitars, spacey moog attacks, flutes, percussion the way we want it."

YAZOO:

VA: Times Ain't Like They Used To Be: Early American Rural Music CD (YAZ 2067). $16.00

"A collection of classic recordings from the 1920's and 30's featuring many all-time great performances of early American traditional music. These two volumes are a fascinating overview of traditional American musical styles from the Civil War to the 1920's including all phases of both white and black genres, fiddle tunes, rags, banjo songs, religious selections, old ballads, blues, etc. Both volumes abound with rarities never appearing before on any reissues. Yazoo's usual high standards of sound quality, graphics, and note are apparent throughout."

VA: Times Ain't Like They Used To Be: Early American Rural Music CD (YAZ 2068). $16.00

Volume 8.

PATTON, CHARLEY: The Best of Charlie Patton CD (YAZ 2069). $16.00

"Charlie Patton is considered by many to be the single most important figure in the history of traditional blues as performer, influence and inspiration. The combined power of his vocal and guitar dynamics is unparalleled, and his legacy is an imposing body of powerful and eloquent music. The Mississippi Delta is at the heart of the blues and Charlie Patton is the essence of Mississippi Delta blues. For this release Yazoo has re-mastered these classic recordings in the finest sound reproduction ever, far surpassing anything done before. Features his 20 greatest performances."

VA: Kentucky Mountain Music: Classic Recording of the 20s & 30s 7CD BOX (YAZ 2200). $80.00

"As the Mississippi Delta is to blues, Kentucky is to fiddle music, banjo playing, and classic old ballads and songs. No other state comes even close in both terms of amazing diversity of styles and just pure prodigious amounts of great classic performances. This 7 CD box set contains almost 200 all-time great performances by some of the finest country musicians who ever lived. It is a treasure trove of Americana, and one of the most important roots projects ever assembled. Since all the recordings are from the 1920s and 1930s, its as close to ultimate sources as anything can be."

VA: The Best There Ever Was: Legendary Early... CD (YAZ 3002). $16.00

...Blue Performers. "Features the 20 greatest blues performers of the earliest period of blues recording, the 1920's into the early 1930's, including Charlie Patton, Skip James, Son House, Blind Willie McTell, etc., etc. For 35 years now Yazoo has been recognized as the leading historical blues label, and its credibility and extremely high standards add to the sales potential for this album featuring many of the greatest blues performances of all time. Cover photo is a newly discovered photo of Charlie Patton which will cause great excitement among blues fans everywhere."

YELLOW PRODUCTIONS (FRANCE):

JABRE, JULIEN: The Disco Tech Of... CD (YP 145 CD). $16.00

"Yellow Productions presents The Disco Tech Of... as the first installment of their new compilation series. The series offers the listener a wild ride through the annals of house music guided by such talented guest DJs as Julien Jabre. Julien Jabre, a promising young figure in the electro-house scene, inaugurates the collection. The compilation includes Jabre's favorite tracks and features such jewels as Carl Craig's 'Domina', Herbie Hancock's 'Stars in Your Eyes', and Romanthony's 'Bring U Up'." Artists include: Philippe Sarde, Herbie Hancock, Blaze, Marvin Gaye, Tania Maria, Georges Duke, Romanthony, Calibdos 3, Somore, Jon Lucien, Carl Craig, and Sun Palace.

JABRE, JULIEN: The Disco Tech Of... 2LP (YP 145 LP). $13.00

Double LP version.

SINCLAR, BOB: III CD (YP 146 CD). $16.00

"Chris and Alain's (DJ Yellow) dynamic relationship began in 1990. Together they have produced several Soul, HipHop and Acid Jazz bashes. In 1993, Alain and Chris released their first EP on Virgin, the influential psychedelic candy Indian Vibes. A year later, the boys lay the first bricks of what would soon become a pillar of French electronic music: Yellow Production, forever remaining true to their original Hip-Hop and Acid Jazz aspirations. Together, Chris and Alain have produced Reminiscence Quartet and Mighty Bop. Their first release under the Bob Sinclair moniker — Paradise was released in 1998 that included a couple of boombastic tracks that fueled a generation of clubbers wildest sonic fantasies. In 2000, Chris teamed up with Cerrone to produce the legendary track 'I Feel 4 U' on Champs Elysees. So enthralling is the collaboration that it would eventually engender the Cerrone by Bob Sinclair project, which received unanimous praise and turned into a gold record for good measure. III demonstrates Bob Sinclair's rich production skill while staying true to their signature 'Disco Electronic' groove."

ROBOTNICK, ALEXANDER: Dance Boy Dance 12" (YP 164 EP). $9.00

"For the new ArtOfDisco 12" Inch series, Yellow Productions is proud to release a new version of the 80's classic Dance Boy Dance remixed by Alexander Robotnick himself. The godfather of Electro-Disco made in Italy, is known worldwide as the author of Problemes D'amour, one of the biggest dance classic of the 80's. With this 2003 version of Dance Boy Dance, originally released in 1984 Alexander Robotnick proves how modern & exciting his music still sounds..."

YO MAMA RECORDS (GERMANY):*VISIT VENUS: The Endless Bummer RMX Appendix CD (YPS 7018 CD). $15.00

"Visit Venus return with an amazing remix package from their latest album, The Endless Bummer. After the massive success with their first longplayer Music For Space Tourism and the second The Endless Bummer, both produced by DJ Cullman and Mario va hacht, two Hamburg based guys, follows now an excellent remix album. New interpretations by DMX Crew, Herbert, Jazzanova, Runaways, Groove Armada, Omar Santana, DJ Koze, Erobique, Jimpster, Funkstörung, and Rae & Christian."

YORUBA (UK):*ATELEWO (OSUNLADE): New Day 12" (YOR 101). $0.00

"Soul Jazz Records are taking over the running of Osunlade's seminal New York deep House label Yoruba and will be running it as an in-house label. The label will focus on the various productions and solo works of Osunlade as well as other Deep House releases. The label was founded by Osunlade three years ago and has been releasing deep spiritual House music ever since. The first release on this new joint-venture label is 'New Day' by Atelewo, which is one of Osunlade's many pseudonyms. Following on from remixes for everyone from 4-Hero to Miss Dynamite this will be the first new material from Osunlade since the album Paradigm released on Soul Jazz."

SIN PALABRAS: Yemaya 12" (YOR 102EP). $9.00

"Yoruba Records is the label set up by Soul Jazz Records and Osunlade to release new Osunlade productions and solo work. This new release on Yoruba Records is a heavyweight slice of Deep Latin House featuring the Cuban group Sin Palabras and produced by Osunlade. The AA-side features remix by John Beltran. Since Soul Jazz Records first released Osunlade's Paradigm LP, over two years ago, Osunlade has become one of the most recognised names in dance music and has gone on to work with everyone from Masters at Work to Miss Dynamite."

SANTOS: An Introduction... 12" (YOR 103EP). $9.00

"Soul Jazz Records are taking over the running of Osunlade's seminal New York deep House label Yoruba, and will be running it as an in-house label. The label will focus on the various productions and solo works of Osunlade as well as other Deep House releases. The label was founded by Osunlade three years ago and has been releasing deep spiritual House music ever since. The latest release from Yoruba Records is Santos."

BROWN, DJINJI: La Siete Potencias (The Seven Powers) 12" (YOR 104). $9.00

"Djinji Brown is the latest artist to be released on Yoruba Records, run by Osunlade and Soul Jazz Records. Hailing from the South Bronx, Djinji Brown mixes his Latin and African dance roots to bring us a heavyweight slice of deep spiritual afro-house and broken-beat. Recorded in Puerto Rico, these four tracks perfectly blend his many influences from the dubbed-out deep house of 'My Beloved' to the spoken voice yoruba Orisha beats of 'Breakout'. Djinji Brown's life has been steeped in music. Djinji's father is Marion Brown, the legendary free-jazz artist who worked alongside artists such as Sun Ra, Archie Shepp and John Coltrane in the 1960s."

OSUNLADE: Year of the Monkey 12" (YOR 107). $9.00

"New York's Osunlade is a hero to fans of great House music and his productions have crossed over into the Broken Beat, Nu soul and UK Garage scenes. This 12" Soul Jazz/Yoruba release features two deep, percussive House tracks: 'Mr. President' is full of shifting, Moodymann-style Jazz chords and is accompanied by a pitched-down spoken word vocal and the gradually building 'Macoco' is more classic deep house."

YOUNG GOD:*SWANS: Soundtracks for the Blind 2CD (YG 01 CD). $18.00

"Originally released 1997, now reissued in a jewelbox after being out of print for ages. Michael Gira has always been good at establishing finality. Each successive Swans release would have made a spectacular tombstone or constituted an epitaph for which other groups would have killed. Soundtracks for the Blind is no exception to the rule, but this time around even by his own high standards and compared to his low-end excursions of yore, Gira has exceeded himself. As dramatic excursions go, Soundtracks equals the best. Running over two CDs and two-and-a-half-hours, this would be a grueling enough listen even without the bejeweled brilliance of the ten actual songs nestled among the found-soundscapes, ambient depositions and twisted electronic noises that constitute the album's remaining sixteen fragments."

SWANS: Children of God/World of Skin 2CD (YG 02 CD). $18.00

"Over 145 minutes of scary and beautiful music. Two crucial breakthrough records from Swans' mid- to late-'80s period back in print. Consistently sought after by an ever-replenishing fanbase seeking out the roots of Gira's Angels of Light work, related projects, Young God Records, and past collaborator Jarboe."

SWANS: Swans Are Dead 2CD (YG 03 CD). $18.00

"Double-live jewelcase reissue from final Swans tours in 1995 and 1997. Exceedingly high-quality, 24-track recordings mixed with live ambient microphones comes as close as possible to the overwhelming sonic overload that was Swans in their final period."

GIRA, M.: The Somniloquist CD (YG 04 CD). $15.50

"The Somniloquist is a limited edition CD of Michael Gira narrating his stories, or 'fairy tales' as the former leader of Swans calls them. Gira's stories might best be described as lurid, body-obsessed, claustrophobic allegories that simultaneously paint a world both obscure and obscene. Gira lets the cinematic qualities of the stories speak for themselves. His stoic approach, he says, is inspired by Burl Ives' narrations and various Disney recordings heard as a child. Gira's hyper-macabre vision of an escapist fantasyland is a place we'd all be better off having visited."

ANGELS OF LIGHT, THE: New Mother CD (YG 08). $15.50

"Swans leader Michael Gira's first 'songwriting' project since he discontinued Swans over a year ago. The compositions on New Mother represent powerful, complex and imaginative American songwriting by any standard. Country melancholy flows into raspy blues, dark and psychotic narrative grooves, and gently plucked layers of acoustic and electric guitars, slowly unraveling in psychedelic folk lullabies. Each arrangement is built around solo vocal and acoustic performances — sometimes incredibly intense, sometimes sensual and understated — given further variety and psychological depth by orchestration ranging from the stark, raw and expressionist to the lushly cinematic. The instrumentation is appropriately rich and diverse: strings, hammer dulcimer, mandolin, banjo, lap steel guitars, vintage analog synthesizer, choral background vocals, Mellotron, B3 organ, vibraphone, glockenspiel, accordion, double bass, timpani, grand piano and flute."

WINDSOR FOR THE DERBY: Difference And Repetition CD (YG 09). $14.00

"Birthed in Austin in 1994, Windsor for the Derby includes core members are Daniel Matz and Jason McNeely. The amorphous WTD crew includes (on occasion) Rodan's John Weiss, Adam Wiltzie of Stars of the Lid, Wayne Magruder of Bowery Electric/Calla and a host of others. King Coffey's Trance Records released their first full length, Calm Hades Float to good reviews, and the Swans' Michael Gira was impressed to such a degree that he included WTD on the last-ever Swans tour as an opening act. The sound? Think Pink Floyd's Ummagumma as re-recorded by Joy Division's sadly departed producer Martin Hannett."

COULTER, DAVID: Intervention CD (YG 10 CD). $14.00

"Talented British multi-instrumentalist David Coulter creates a series of 13 somber, deeply resonant, sonic meditations. Coulter plays an array of instruments, including guitar, violin, ukulele, theramin, mandolin, double bass/bass, didjeridu, mouth harp, musical saw, accordion, harmonium, and others. Mostly instrumental — though sometimes accompanied by sung, narrated, or chanted vocals. Each piece has its own unique cinematic atmosphere, as if he's briefly tapped into an ongoing, transcendental stream of pre-existing sonic imagery. Low-key, low-tech, and intimate, Coulter's understated and organic music seems to search for something beyond itself-through the juxtaposition of colliding acoustic and electronic sounds, through the obsessively nuanced, ritualized grooves, and through the subtle interaction and improvisation of the wide assortment of players and collaborators. Intervention includes contributions from Marc Ribot, Steve Nieve (of Elvis Costello fame), Terry Edwards, Phil Minton and others."

SWANS: Filth/Body to Body, Job to Job 2CD (YG 11 CD). $18.00

"Another exciting piece of history from one of The Big Apple's meanest, creepiest, most uncompromising bands ever. As with the Various Failures triumph, Filth/Body to Body, Job to Job collects material from one of the band's golden eras, a time when bands like Swans and their contemporaries such as Glenn Branca and Sonic Youth could barely get library cards, let alone featured on the covers of magazines to which they are accustomed today. Disc number one reissues Swans' classic 1983 crawl, recorded by M.Gira, Norman Westberg, Roli Mosimann, Harry Crosby, and Jonathan Kane and features previously unreleased tracks, all recorded live at the Kitchen. Disc number two reissues studio out-takes and live recordings from 1982-85, with a previously unreleased nine-minute version of 'Raping a Slave,' recorded live in Berlin, 1984."

FLUX INFORMATION SCIENCES: Private / Public CD (YG 14). $14.00

"Flux's music is schizophrenic in the extreme, with violent dynamic schisms, bizarre, angular rhythms (but incredibly funky at times), and bursts of noise and violence that abruptly shift into weird, brief passages of cerebral, vaguely menacing soundscapes. The vocals are cryptic, sometimes lurid consumer slogans shouted or chanted over the heaving maelstrom. Their abstracted sense of refined Las Vegas show biz, coupled with their crude, brazen energy reminds me of when I first moved to NYC in 1979 and saw the Contortions at Max's Kansas City." — Michael Gira

CALLA: Scavengers CD (YG 15). $14.00

"Calla are from Texas, and moved to NYC a few years ago. The music is slow and slinky, with deep bass and lots of space and atmosphere. The grooves have a swampy, narcotized-Cajun feel, with hollow-body-twang guitar that snakes and erupts through the mix with signature lines — Morricone-like sometimes, but more authentically American — very bluesy, dramatic, and spacious. They use some electronic textures and grooves, too, very tastefully and not gimmicky, just enough to convey a sense of dimension and filmic atmosphere. The vocals are softly intoned and tender, but right up front in the mix." — Michael Gira

ANGELS OF LIGHT: How I Loved You CD (YG 16). $15.50

"Here is the new Angels of Light album. I wrote the songs over the last couple of years. As it turns out, they're all love songs, in one form or another. The songs started out with just my voice and acoustic guitar, and then developed naturally over time by playing them with my friends — whose collaboration and contributions are positively inspirational, to me anyway. Our combined sensibilities feel very natural at this point, which I guess comes from having played most of the songs live a lot. The songs were recorded live in the studio, then subjected to my usual lapses of over-orchestration. In this case though, I think I reigned myself in, and the final sound/ picture seems to fit organically with the basic songs and lyrics." — Michael Gira

GIRA/D. MATZ, M.: What We Did CD (YG 17 CD). $14.00

"Dan Matz (Windsor for the Derby, Birdwatcher) and I recorded these songs at his (various) house(s) over the course of two years. This was completely collaborative, in that one of us would present the other a simple, basic idea, and then we'd build on it together, sharing completely in the songwriting process. In general, we alternate lead vocals from song to song throughout the album. We used a variety of instruments, including our voices, acoustic and electric guitars, bass guitar, various organs, piano, synthesizer, drums and percussion (as well as a simple drum machine), harmonica, banjo, a few samples here and there, various toy and miniature percussion instruments. We look at it as a 'pop' record, our view of which, admittedly, might differ from the usual implied connotation." —Michael Gira

SWANS: The Great Annihilator CD (YG 18 CD). $15.50

"Their twelfth album, The Great Annihilator, is a majestic symphony of haunting melodies and shifting moods. Spirituality — or rather the absence of it — provides the linking motif. With a kinetic, industrial goose step, 'She Lives' plays with chanted images of madness and martyrdom, while the jagged coda of 'Celebrity Lifestyle' lays the groundwork for a cutting look at material dreams. 'Warm' forms the album's thematic center, overflowing with ethereal vocal loops and drums that patter like raindrops across the lyrical landscape. On 'Mother/Father' and the mantric 'My Buried Child,' vocalist Jarboe outdoes herself with a spectrum of darkly distinctive voices. Taken on its own, this album is a vivid example of how to combine the dissonant with the dulcet while retaining a dangerous edge. Viewed in the context of the Swans' 12-year journey from audio pornography to majestic romanticism, The Great Annihilator serves as an epic apotheosis."

LARSEN: Rever CD (YG 19 CD). $14.00

"Larsen's ideology seems to be arcane and extreme (though I'm not clear on all the details), and from what I could glean when I recorded their album in their hometown Torino, Italy, they operate as some sort of hermetic cult/collective. With electric guitars, accordion, organ, bass guitar, drums and percussion, their voices, a trumpet or trombone, and an occasional handmade tape loop, Larsen work and work themselves into the core of the rhythm and sounds they generate. Grooves begin with a certain feel and transmute entirely by the time they wring the essence into its final shape, which is what you hear, in edited form, on Rever." — M. Gira.

BANHART, DEVENDRA: Oh Me Oh My... CD (YG 20 CD). $15.50

"To say Devendra Banhart is unique is an absurd understatement. When I first heard the voice of this completely unknown, precociously talented 21-year-old songwriter, I could not believe it. His occasionally warbling falsetto is alternately bizarre, comical, and often a little frightening. Coupled with his advanced finger-picking guitar style - which itself often veers schizophrenically from gentle grooves into jolting, non-rhythmic stabs and weird harmonic flights of chaos — and the wildly surreal nature of his truly exceptional lyrics, each of the 21 songs on this CD (some of which clock in at about 30 seconds) contain their own special drama and immediately memorable melodies — no mean feat when your instrumentation is acoustic guitar and voice, with only the occasional hand clap or whistle thrown in as 'orchestration.' In a popular music environment inundated with computer and electronically generated sound and sanitized ProTools mixes, it's a tremendous relief to hear something so ridiculously compelling, low-tech, utterly personal, and hand-made. The songs were recorded on various borrowed and usually broken 4-track cassette recorders by Banhart himself in various haphazard locations around the globe. These recordings were made solely for himself, and they're better for it — devoid of any self-consciousness or artifice, just utterly personal and idiosyncratic, magically twisted and imaginative. All kinds of comparisons that might be relevant in describing Banhart — from Marc Bolan's pre-T. Rex recordings to Daniel Johnston, to Nick Drake's inner purity and pathos, to Karen Dalton (one of Banhart's idols)." —Michael Gira

PALESTINE/COULTER/MATHOUL: Maximin CD (YG 21 CD). $15.50

"On Maximin, the music of the seminal minimalist composer Charlemagne Palestine is reconfigured and reiterated by David Coulter and Jean-Marie Mathoul, in full co-operation and collaboration with Mr. Palestine. Coulter and Mathoul have taken previously recorded works of Mr. Palestine and — with the full respect due these often transcendent and sacred works — have interwoven new and/or found sounds, drones, and unexpected textures into an ever-shifting flow that brings new light to these deeply soulful, sonic-sculptural emanations. Recontextualizing the pure and spiritual force of nature that Mr. Palestine's music represents could be a risky musical undertaking, but Coulter and Mathoul pull it off beautifully, inspired solely by their love of and respect for the original works themselves. The mixes have an authentic, handmade sensibility, and even when electronics are occasionally introduced, retain an organic feel."

ANGELS OF LIGHT: Everything Is Good Here, Please Come Home CD (YG 22 CD). $15.50

"The third Angels of Light album started innocently enough, with the intention of collecting well-written songs performed by the musicians who played them live for the last few years, with the addition of a few acoustic songs, lightly colored. Some songs might be construed as sad or poignant, and others 'rock' in a weird, skewed way, sometimes subtle, sometimes excessive. I think I've managed to sort through the chaos, letting the songs discover themselves. It's densely orchestrated in some places, sparse in others. The instrumentation is all over the place, initially built up from my acoustic guitar and voice, then incorporating everything from electronic noise, to banjo and mandolin, bass-drums-electric guitar, (open-tuned) lap steel guitar, vibraphones and marimbas, accordion, fiddles, flutes (yes, flutes), the dreaded children's choir, layered vocal harmonies, drones acquired from various organic sources, piano and Fender Rhodes, trumpet and trombone. It is much, much different than the first two Angels albums." — Michael Gira

BANHART, DEVENDRA: The Black Babies (UK) CD (YG 23 CD). $9.00

"Six new tracks, plus two from his critically lauded Young God full-length album. UK release made available stateside. Six new tracks from the floating and constantly replenished pool of songs at Banhart's disposal (about 100 from which to choose at any given moment), and complemented them with two favorites from Oh Me Oh My... to make The Black Babies (UK)."

BANHART, DEVENDRA: Rejoicing In The Hands CD (YG 24CD). $15.00

"With songwriting and guitar-playing that have progressed since Oh Me Oh My The Way The Day Goes By The Sun Is Setting Dogs Are Dreaming Lovesongs Of The Christmas Spirit, and determined not to be ghettoized as a low-fi crank, Devendra Banhart and Michael Gira agreed it was best to move on to professional recording studios. Banhart sat on a stool in that living room for ten days, twelve hours per, playing constantly, sometimes with a chorus of cicadas when they recorded at night with open windows. Overdubs were later added back in NYC. The title tune, a duet with the legendary '60s English folk gamin (one of Banhart idols) Vashti Bunyan — is an obvious highlight, but Banhart's uncanny ability to transport the listener through words, voice, and pretty amazing finger-picked acoustic guitar is where the album's magic lies."

YUNX RECORDINGS (UK):

YUNX: Customer Service EP 12" (YUNX 002). $9.00

"YunxTare back, the second release on their own label, Customer Service is a sublime instalment to their growing roster. Following on from 'Soft Boucle Funnel Neck', and the 'Ducky Dicky Bird' EP on Isophlux, and tracks on the now infamous 0161 compilation on Skam, v/m, and Neo Ouija's Cottage Industries compilation. A slightly warmer and more varied sound, being some 48 minutes long, it's more of an LP than an EP. Incorporating a deeper warmth than earlier releases, some tracks such as 'Muddy Funksters' approach territories held by the likes of Delsin and other detroiteseque musicians."

YUNX: The Interview 12" (YUNX 003). $9.00

"Skam luminaries and Isophlux associates Yunx return with a follow-up to their critically acclaimed Customer Service extended player, the third release on their own label. This is truly unique territory, an infusion of their love for all things Detroit together with their signature electronic sound. Each and every Yunx release is like a journey through rapidly changing terrain, 40 minutes long, exploring different textures and sceneries, doing so with devastating brilliance. Thinking About Your Next Move must surely register as one of the finest opening tracks on any record of its kind, a loving tribute to Carl Craig's finest hour, deep moving strings (that you could hardly imagine found their source in South Manchester), crisp offbeats, and a spooky aroma that can only really be described as life affirming. Had this been included on one of Carl's groundbreaking 69 12"s, it would have certainly been grasped as one of its most shining moments. Pure brilliance. And then, as if by magic, Leave the world behind drops in and we're transported to another place and time. Tom Tom's click in with unusual timing, once again harking back to that early Black Dog sound: washes of warmth and an innocent playfulness. Time changes hoist in and transform layers within layers of mood and atmosphere. Up, up and away is signature Yunx territory: deep aquatic electronic music, subtle strains and heartwrenching melody patterns. This is truly a cut above your run of the mill kinda gush, lovingly crafted, technically flawless and effortlessly translated across mediums and genres. Truly gorgeous."

YUNX: SO* WHATtype of MUSIC DOYOUMAKE* CD (YUNX 004 CD). $15.00

"This is a gorgeous, luscious, warm and enedearing collection, opening up with the deep, Carl Craig-inspired Detroit strings on 'Thinking about your next move', through to the epic 'Miuna', through to the guitar-laden electronic lullaby sweeps of 'Things are looking up', the jazz-tinged house inflections of 'Jazz Skunk', the dusty dub breaks of 'Mukka' and, finally, the Black Dog inspired bubble of 'Old Skool Junkski'. Collecting tracks from the three EPs — 'Soft Boucle Funnel Neck', 'Customer Services', and 'The Interview', together with 2 new and exclusive cuts, the breadth of style and delivery that Yunx have painstakingly perfected has set them apart as one of the finest exponents of deep, varied and warm electronic music in the UK today. An essential purchase for fans of electronic music spanning from Detroit, through to Artificial Intelligence, Black Dog, Skam and back again."

YUNX: Spanish Fly Guy 12" (YUNX 005 EP). $9.00

"It's been over five years since Ian and Darren first came to our attention with their contribution to Skam's legendary 0161 compilation. Spanish Fly Guy is the fourth EP to date on their own eponymous label. This is the sound of moonlit nights, damp manchester city streets, looking for the next party — a soundtrack fuelled waybackwhen with scarce and mystifyingly deep American music. A simply majestic collection of new work then, bringing together elements of Detroit's finest stylings, and etching them onto a slate simply enamored with classic British electronic music of the early to mid 1990's."

Reissue of a 1994 cassette, for guitars and drums. "...the Tucson contingent exploring the possibility and dubious rewards of free-heavy-metal."

ZE RECORDS (FRANCE):

VA: N.Y. No Wave CD (ZE 001CD). $16.00

The resurrection of the classic No Wave label of the late 70s/early 80s is finally fully in place. This opening volume features historic tracks from: James White & the Blacks, Lizzy Mercier Descloux, Lydia Lunch, Suicide, Mars, Rosa Yemen, Teenage Jesus & The Jerks, The Contortions, Arto/Neo, James Chance & Pill Factory. The absolute best of the Ze catalog. Deluxe fold out digipak with 16 page booklet of liner notes/photos. "In the late seventies the No Wave bands created their own apocalyptic soundtrack of New York, self critical, riddled with arrogant doubts, these 'brats' were their own worst enemies as well as their own best friends. Self-destructing and parodic chaos was the name of the game, playing the wrong note at the right time. No Wave music explored the original amateurism and anarchy of punk rock but took it further into a cubist brain game, rejecting the formulaic rhythms of rock and roll and the verse/chorus organization. Loose experiment, freaky amalgam of free-jazz, Sun Ra, Ayler, Captain Beefheart, Velvet Underground, old root of black music. A perfect Psycho World Music."

This compilation is a wild echo chamber of artiness and primitivism pushed to the extremes, deliberately unpretty and atonal with garage bands equipments. Although they barely receive credit, Suicide (singer Alan Vega and keyboardist Martin Rev) is the source point for virtually every synth pop duo that glutted the pop market place (especially in England) in the early 80's. Without the trailblazing Rev and Vega, there would have been no Soft Cell, Erasure, Bronski Beat, Yaz, Depeche Mode, you name 'em.

Lydia Lunch from Teenage Jesus and the Jerks is a satanic Betty Boop, schizo-Lolita whining and screaming boredom, sarcasm, romance and perversity, a dark sex kitten, porcelain skin poetess. The band is raw flesh, two string guitar, snare drum crashing and James Chance on sax, scary as a snake charmer dude on mescaline. Teenage Jesus is a pure object of blasphemy, sex misery, surgical anger and aural terror.

Rosa Yemen was a strange minimalistic combo creating soundtracks for guerilla movies that never existed using samples of Antonin Artaud screaming speeches or the hoarse agony of an african man digging soil.

Mars stands as a cosmic marriage of surrealistic poetry and Beckett's void, wonderfully bizarre and disturbing, slow motion, jerhythms, raw jaw power.

Arto - Neto is a comet tail project of Arto Lindsay and Seth Tillet.

James Siegfried, aka James Chance and the Contortions, aka James White wanted to be the most sensational and controversial act in NY. The group overall concept was simply funk minus pop harmony. The songs followed most dance-music conventions steady bass lines and drumbeats, soul derived syncopation, but totally out of control. The band played on frustration, tension, on making people angry and it worked.

Pill Factory was another experimental project combining, James Chance, Arto Lindsay, Bradley Field and Georges Scott around Grutzy Elvis, the film featuring Anya Philips by underground guru Diego Cortes."

VA: Mutant Disco 2CD (ZE 002CD). $18.50

Double CD compilation of original Ze Records "mutant disco" tracks from 1979-82. Featuring: Was (Not Was), Lizzy Mercier Descloux, Cristina, Aural Exciters, Kid Creole & the Coconuts, Coati Mundi, James White & The Blacks, Don Armando's 2nd Av. Rhumba Band, Garçons, Caroline Loeb, Gichy Dan, Material & Nona Hendryx, The Waitresses. Deluxe fold-out digipak packaging, with 16 page booklet of liner notes/photos. "In 1976 a record was released which could have changed the world. It was by the Disco Dub Band; on the Movers label; an extreme reworking of the O'Jays' For The Love of Money. Arranged and produced by journalist Davitt Sigerson, it featured steals of James Brown guitar motifs, free jazz traces, and stripped down, dubbed out disco. Its reverberations would be felt for many years."

Five years on, consciously or not, it could certainly be felt haunting the dancehall that was home to ZE's Mutant Disco revolution. ZE by that time was ready to burst overground in a riot of colour. A perverse over-the-top Hollywood musical spectacular to complement the grainier, underground pop that could equate to the black and white French new wave films of tortured New York noir novels.

So, Mutant Disco acknowledged that disco music circles were creating sounds as absurdly adventurous and radical as anything emerging from those fighting rock orthodoxy with more traditional instrumentation. We now know of course that disco alchemists like Arthur Russell and Larry Levan, labels like West End and Prelude, to use ZE's own words subtly discolored the norm in as spectacular way as say The Pop Group and A Certain Ratio, Rough Trade and Factory. What it boiled down to was that imaginations could soar and people could dance. The two were an irresistible force. The same as it ever was. ZE just gave us the best of all possible worlds, and opened up all sorts of new vistas.

ZE's original Mutant Disco compilation came after the label's first few years of quiet artistic defiance, steadily releasing records from the US and French underground resistance. By 1981, however, ZE's records had caught the imaginations of the hungry pop press and daring DJs; and there was no turning back."

DESCLOUX, LIZZY MERCIER: Press Color LP (ZE 002LP). $16.00

LP version.

DESCLOUX, LIZZY MERCIER: Press Color CD (ZE 003CD). $16.00

First reissue of this classic debut album, originally issued by Ze in 1979; with the awesome Rosa Yemen Live In N.Y.C. July 1978 mini-LP added, plus 4 bonus tracks (including her stellar 1995 duet with Patti Smith "Morning High", as released by Bill Laswell). Straddling the cultural canyon of no-and-new waves like nothing else, this is one of the most romantically hypnotic albums of the era. "Originally from Paris, in 1978 Lizzy Mercier Descloux moved permanently to NY and took a huge empty loft in Soho with friends Michel Esteban & Patti Smith... They used it as a workshop to play guitar, silkscreen materials, drawing and photo studio... In the meantime Lizzy started with DJ Banes a pretty obscure and nervous combo called Rosa Yemen."

Cryptic homage to Rosa Luxembourg, Isabelle Eberhard and all the Guerilla movements like the one of Amílcar Cabral, Agostino Neto in Africa... Urban Guerilla too like the Red Brigades, or Baader's group... Rosa Yemen transcends... All this on a surreal poetic scale, songs are short and tortured like a flintstone, sparkles in the wound... foetus of african high life guitar, chopsticks drumming, screaming and whaling vocals about Dziga Vertov or the misery of Herpes... samplings of Antonin Artaud loosing his mind at a radio show or the death-rattle of a Malian farmer ploughing through dry land of Africa.

February 1979 recorded in 10 days Press Color, Lizzy Mercier Descloux first solo album came out of the blue, like a blind bet one drunken night... Recorded almost Live, late at night at Bob Blank recording studio (kingdom of the No Wave / Mutant Disco music).

DJ Banes and Lizzy Mercier D. added Eric Elliason (from French band Marie & les Garçons) to the gang... Press Color works as a disjointed musical stroll, whimsical drift... it all could be an impro. Disconstructed 60's soundtracks from Lalo Shiffrin Mission Impossible and Jim on a Move or how Americana Standard Fever of Peggy Lee turns into an apocalyptic Tumor version... sensual and scary.

American dreams seen through a cubist lense... Sparse lyrics, heavy french accent, broken down guitar riffs, autodidact tension with an attitude of insouciance, lightness of the day, derision, soultrainmachine. Let's gamble and gamble!! This record is fresh weed... pure wit, youth and tease...

This was also the time of the Paradise Garage when Disco was still underground. And the crazed cover of Arthur Brown's Fire remixed by disco Pope Savarese was a vibrant sign of this strange cross-over Disco Inferno / No wave-Funk that was happening in the city."

DESCLOUX, LIZZY MERCIER: Mambo Nassau CD (ZE 004CD). $16.00

First readily available CD issue of Descloux's 2nd album, originally issued in 1981 by Phillips (France). With 5 bonus tracks (including Arto Lindsay on 1 track). Fold-out digipak packaging, 16 page booklet of liner notes/photos. "After touring to promote Press Color, her debut album, with a funk band, Lizzy Mercier Descloux travelled to Europe with companion-filmmaker Seth Tillet. They worked in Italy on a series of short films where she played Anna Magnani, Suzanna Agnelli, filmed Renzo Rossellini at Cinecittà about the Emergent movement, met Federico Fellini during the filming of Cita della donna, discovered the label Ocora (traditional music from all around the world) and with all this in mind started writing songs with help of drummer Bill Perry. In Paris they auditioned many african musicians cause after wild child funk the idea was to make a record malaxating african roots music, french buzz vocals, albatross swing and some bizarre soundtracks. The record was made in Nassau, Bahamas at Compass point, Island Records studios under kindness support of Chris Blackwell. Walli Badarou who worked there as a house musician with Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare, joined Lizzy's band. Steve Stanley a young engineer from Jamaica who was also working on Grace Jones's album, produced the sound, he later also produced Tom Tom Club, Third World and lots of Island records."

Mambo Nassau was all instinctive pulsations, improvised energy. Each song is an attempt to mix the urban vibes of city like New York, raw tempo and acrobatic drum beats, african harmonies, hirsute guitars, heavy pulse of bass lines, anachronistic chants, derisive laughter, a blissfull ignorance of the rules of good taste. Music to snatch and glean with a big black sun in the middle of it. World music was not in the cards, it was a step by step adventure, everyday was a surprise, an uncompromizing ride, a motherfucking hot stew and they had the ocean to get lost.

Eric Clapton, who was recording next door, showed Lizzy his legendary guitars and she sang him an Edith Piaf Song. Nassau is an island for Les millionnaires, drug center, casinos, american ladies looking for sex but Lizzy and the band lived like hermits in the studio, outside Lee Perry was talking to his tree and that was the best Omen for a record. Fireflies music."

WAS (NOT WAS): Out Come the Freaks CD (ZE 005CD). $16.00

First reissue of this 1981 debut album. "Don Was (Donald Fagenson) & David Was (David Weiss) grew up in the musical and cultural thrall of Detroit, raised on the timeless soul of Motown artists as well as on such anarchic rockers as the MC5 and the Stooges. According to legend David and Don became friends when both were ratted on in an 8th grade gym class incident in suburban Detroit. Their debut album was released in June 1981 in the UK, Was (Not Was), was immediately recognized as a wildly unique conflation of R & B, funk, rock and theater of the absurd. Referred to by one early published account as 'The Beat That Devoured Detroit, the funk-mutation experiment that wrecked the lab and boogied off into the night', Was (Not Was) brought more than just a whacked-out-yet- utterly danceable sensibility to pop music. It also introduced the listening public to such striking musical voices as frontman Sweet Pea Atkinson, the former Detroit auto worker whose rich vocal qualities recall Otis Redding or Sam Cooke.

Following release of their first self-titled album in the summer of 1981, the daft Out Come the Freaks reached the disco top 20. The smooth dance sound of 'Tell Me That I'm Dreaming' broke them into the dance top 5 in early 1982. The Was (Not Was) sound could often be mistaken for classic R & B with a dance beat if not for topical and sometimes overtly lyrical lyrics. Shattering the imaginary divisions between 'black music' and 'white music', Detroiters David (Weiss; sax, flute, keyboards, vocals) and Don (Fagenson; bass, keyboards, guitar) Was used undated soul and funk as a flexible backdrop for their alternately serious and sarcastic commentary. The historical problem with a lot of dance music has been its rabid dissociation from intellect; more than almost any other group, Was (Not Was) obliterates that gap. The first album's material, while drawing on such familiar sources as Grace Jones and Stevie Wonder, blends in enough humor and cleverness to make virtually every song an original gem, including the disco hits 'Out Come the Freaks' and 'Tell Me That I'm Dreaming' (which includes mutilated found vocals by Ronald Reagan). The remarkable cast of players is a disparate mix of rock and funk.

In addition to the welcome sounds of Sweet Pea and Sir Harry, the album was stocked with a wickedly confusing assortment of guest stars. It featured Mitch Ryder, Ozzy Osbourne, Doug Fieger of The Knack — and most remarkably — rock hating jazz singer Mel Torme. Ozzy was dragged into the studio to record the vocals for 'Shake Your Head' for which the 'brothers' had originally used Madonna as vocalist. But Don was not convinced that anyone outside of New York would ever hear of her... President Nixon was apparently asked to play piano for 'Return To The Valley Of' Out Come the Freaks, but refused. In the USA, for some inexplicable reason the record was issued with side two as side one. Although fans were once again bowled over by the band's irresistible beat and genre-bounding eclecticism, the group proved to be a marketing nightmare — too rock to be thought of as an urban act, and yet too urban to be thought of as a rock band.

To be continued..."

WAS (NOT WAS): (The Woodwork) Squeaks CD (ZE 006CD). $16.00

First release of this compilation of original Was (Not Was) extended 12" mixes and remixes. "It's not hard to understand why Michael Zilkha & Michel Esteban's ZE Records and the whole punk-funk, disco-not-disco thang of the early 80s has been rediscovered by a new generation looking for their own answers to music's eternal mind-body problem. ZE offered a seductive vision of the world where style collided with substance, where deconstruction made a reconciliation with melody and hooks, where groove embraced distortion, where punk's outcast geek was transformed by the fairy godmother of disco into a 'Halston, Gucci... Fiorucci' clad suavevito with a social conscience and a brain..."

If this moment in dance music history can be seen as the revenge of the nerd, the class valedictorians were undoubtedly Was (Not Was). The group was formed in 1980 by two childhood friends (Donald Fagenson and David Weiss) from Detroit who had spent their adolescence locked in each other's basements listening to The MC5, Frank Zappa, John Coltrane and Firesign Theatre. Such listening habits inevitably led to a surfeit of ideas which came tumbling out every which way on their records: reggae skank guitar, Robert Quine-style solos courtesy of The MC5's Wayne Kramer, surreal, sarcastic lyrics via Dylan and Lenny Bruce, James Brown/Nile Rodgers chicken scratch, rudimentary synth riffs, basslines that alternated between Jah Wobble's work with PIL and Terry Lewis' Minneapolis sound, paranoia that seemed to come straight from a 1950s public service announcement. It was all wrapped up in the brittle production values that marked the 80s - the eggshell sound lending a piquancy to the rueful observations of the façades of the age of Reagan and Thatcher. However, while they probably combined dub, jazz, punk, funk and studio alchemy more elegantly than any other group of the time, Was (Not Was) could also be victims of their own intelligence and refusal to recognize boundaries.

Left to their own devices, Was (Not Was) were like The Bonzo Dog Band, the Merry Pranksters and Gang of Four on a New Orleans funeral parade led by Parliafunkadelicment. On their extended remixes, though, their music became more streamlined and honed down to a razor smoothness. The remix process and the dancefloor forced Fagenson and Weiss to focus on one idea rather than the 30 they had running around their heads. Their wild eclecticism was restrained as was their tartness. Where most remixes are created simply to get more bodies on to the dancefloor, the mixes collected on (The Woodwork) Squeaks actually shed light on the messages of the songs rather than merely their grooves. Of course, the goal of the best dance music is to get you to think with your entire body and that's exactly what Was (Not Was) succeeded in doing. After all, it's not merely the détourned words of Ronald Reagan that let you know that 'Tell Me That I'm Dreaming' is not your ordinary hands-in-the-air disco stomper; it's the astringent guitar riff, the dub alienation, the comedic voices, the sibilant hi-hat that would soon become the hallmark of house music.

The early 80s were a time when every musical genre seemed to converge, when a tangent that began in, say, punk would suddenly be picked up a month later by hip-hop, when the currents that would become house and techno were coursing through the wires of dance music. Don Was' partner on the first two remixes here, the Traditional 12" mix of 'Tell Me That I'm Dreaming' and the Predominantly Funk version of 'Out Come the Freaks' was Ken Collier, a legendary Detroit DJ who was a crucial influence on the then-emerging techno scene. Collier's credentials as a house and techno pioneer can be seen all over his mixes here, particularly in the bassline and sparse rhythms of the 'Out Come the Freaks' remix. Collier died of diabetic complications in 1996, and these sterling, groundbreaking mixes stand as a fitting testament to his influence.

Even without Collier, though, these remixes are often extraordinary. 'Wheel Me Out', produced and mixed by Don Was and longtime partner in crime Jack Tann (who was in Was' early punk bands The Traitors and President Eisenhower), represents everything great about the merging of post-punk and dance music in the early 80s. It was cathartic yet eerie and uncomfortable, cryptically political, full of nuance and intrigue. Another reason that Was (Not Was) and the whole punk-dance schtick resonates now is their sharp, acidic, left-wing cynicism. It's a voice that almost the entirety of today's popular music has silenced. This isn't the bedazzled groove of Timbaland or The Neptunes embracing money, glitz and technology with equal verve. This is dance music as a way of shaking off the heebie jeebies, shedding off the skin of the daytime daze, jolting you out of your nightmares, only for you to realize that you weren't imagining anything. Please, Tell me that I'm dreaming." — Peter Shapiro, London December 2003.

WHITE & THE BLACKS, JAMES: Off White CD (ZE 007CD). $16.00

Definitive reissue of this No Wave classic, originally issued in 1979. Previous reissues of the Contortions and James White albums on Infinite Zero have been deleted for the better part of a decade. These are all officially sanctioned by the originating label, Ze Records; packaged in fold out digipaks, with deluxe 20 page booklets. "The 21st century has produced a new generation of young contenders of all kinds, who have, within months, spread a new string of names across the planet such as The Rapture, Playgroup, LCD Sound system, Liams, Yeah Yeah Yeahs, Radio 4 and the likes, just to name a few. Once again the heat was initiated in NYC, even though its Lower East Side epicenter 'cleaned up' by Giuliani and Bloomberg, has moved a few blocks east and across the river to Brooklyn and Williamsburg. It might be wise to remind the younger ones among us that the origins of this new musical cycle is for the most part rooted in the No Wave movement of which James Siegfried aka James White, aka James Chance is undoubtedly one of its most prominent figures. New York City was hands down the artistic telluric center of the second half of the 20th century, especially from the 70's, on. Rising from the ashes of the Velvet Underground, a slew of local bands redefined the aesthetics of rock'n'roll which the merchants of the temple hastened to rename under various designations, such as Punk, New Wave, Jazz-Funk or even Disco and Disco-Punk without forgetting to mention the original Electro designation pioneered by the band Suicide. One of the indispensable and emblematic figures of the mid-70's is of course James Chance.

Michael Zilkha and I would spend our days in the studio and our nights at the Paradise Garage, Studio 54, Max's Kansas City, CBGB's or at the Mudd Club. It did not seem incompatible to us to love underground disco played by Larry Levan along with James' Punk/funk/No Wave. After hearing the Contortions' album, Michael suggested to James to re-record new 'disco' titles. Anya seeing an opportunity to cash in on another advance suggested another concept: James White (alluding to James Brown) & The Blacks, a 'disco' version of The Contortions and obtained a new budget to record a second album, which was immediately recorded in the aftermath of Buy.

Numerous guests join in the Blacks' sessions: Lydia Lunch under the pseudonym of Stella Rico, Anya Phillips under Ginger Lee's, Kristian Hoffman under Tad Among's and Master guitarist Bob Quine who played at the time in Richard Hell's Voidoids and who will later join Lou Reed." — Michel Esteban/Ze Records.

CHANCE & THE CONTORTIONS, JAMES: Buy CD (ZE 008CD). $16.00

Definitive reissue (long deleted on the Infinite Zero label) of this classic 1979 No Wave debut album, as originally issued by Ze. "But the exclusive world of New York jazz looks down on these new poseurs and particularly this 'white dude', who gets his kicks from listening to Ornette Coleman, James Brown or Funkadelic. So James turns towards the Lower East Side 'rock groups'. He explores venues such as CBGB's, the Mudd Club or Max's Kansas City and, hiding behind the pseudonym 'James Chance', sets out to link together the bare threads of punk, funk and free jazz. He produces an electrifying sound that will subsequently give birth to a musical current from which today's young contenders will draw their plagiarized 'inspiration'. These two first albums which came out on ZE records in 1979 and haven't aged in any way, open up a new standard: introducing Funk grooves, Free Jazz improvs and Disco efficiency, from which the British scene from Manchester will draw its full inspiration a few years later, thus creating the perfect scam." Includes deluxe 20 page booklet.

WHITE, JAMES: Flaming Demons CD (ZE 009CD). $16.00

Reissue of this 1983 album, originally issued by Ze. "In the same vein as George Clinton, James becomes James Chance & the Contortions, then James White & the Blacks, and has a third incarnation as James White's Flaming Demons. In four years, James will record his three best albums on ZE records. A considerable number of musicians participated in the adventure. James experimented the most adventurous combinations, Funk rhythmic sections, arty poseurs, rockers, a kaleidoscope of picturesque characters which we will discover later in many bands directly inherited from this experience: Bush Tetras, Raybeats, Defunk, 8 Eye-Spy, etc..." Includes deluxe 20 page booklet.

CHANCE & THE CONTORTIONS, JAMES: Paris 1980 - Live Aux Bains Douches CD (ZE 010CD). $16.00

Previously unreleased live album, recorded Live aux Bains Douches; Paris May13, 1980. Remastered 2004. Personnel: James Chance: (Lead Vocals, Alto Sax, Organ); Ginger Lee: (Vocals on 'I Danced with A Zombie'); Al Mac Dowell: (Bass); Patrick Geoffrois: (Guitar); Richard Harrison: (Drums); Lorenzo Wyche: (Trumpet); Fred Wells: (Guitar). Available for the first time ever on CD.

WHITE & THE BLACKS, JAMES: Contort Yourself 12" (ZE 1201). $9.50

"Consult your average pop-culture oriented magazine these days and you'll see bands slogging through three musical styles being hyped. Unless those magazines are wallowing in electro and the Strokes or are so advanced they're already promoting the big Dietrich Buxtehude revival, those three styles would be: No Wave, JazzFunkPunk, and DiscoPunk. The father of fusing jazz, funk, disco, punk and noise into hyperkinetic, literate, menacing, danceable music, the man with three better band names on his resume than you, the sax maniac himself, is none other than — drum roll please — James Chance. In 1976 Chance was one of the first to take punk to its pure extreme of utter cacophony, 'No Wave', as a founding member and sax player in the intelligently unintelligible Lydia Lunch 'aural terror' launch-pad Teenage Jesus and the Jerks. By '78 he left to form James Chance and the Contortions, funding his own superconducting supercollider and smashing free jazz into punk to release a brand new funk. By the turn of the decade, as James White and the Blacks, Chance and some Contortions had even managed to elevate disco without denigrating their funk. Today alive and well in New York, James Chance is a huge hero for anyone interested in anarchic music. Back by popular demand 1978 Cult Classic August Darnell's remix of Mutant Dance hit 'Contort Yourself' by James White & the Blacks + The original version + The Contortions version + (Tropical) Heatwave re-mastered from original analogue masters and reissued on 12" maxi."

AURAL EXCITERS: Emile (Night Rate) 12" (ZE 1202). $9.50

"By the end of the seventies Bob Blank was one of the original respected young Disco producers of N.Y.C. Opening the famed Blank Tape Studios in New York in 1976 and producing hit records (with his wife Lola a former performer with the James Brown revue) such as Over Like A Fat Rat by Fonda Rae. Blank tape was ZE records favorite studio. Bob was going to records there some of the best No wave and Mutant disco albums. First efforts by Kid Creole & the Coconuts, Lizzy Mercier Descloux, James White & the Blacks, Lydia Lunch, The Contortions, Cristina, Garçons, Casino Music, everyone was recording at Blank Tapes Studios, with Bob as chief engineer or sometime co-producer. Perhaps more than any other Mutant Disco artifact, the Aural Exciters' record features a special spider's web of links and lineages. Besides, the aforementioned August Darnell connections, who was also one of Aural Exciters's main composer, the gang featured Taana Gardner, who later sang on 'Heartbeat', her awesome West End disco classic. Most of the girls you could find on any Prelude records, like Chris Wiltshire were also invited to the party. August Darnell even used Aural Exciters for experimentation on various material to be founded on future Kid Creole's albums. Songs like 'Mr. Softee', 'Gina, Gina', 'Maladie d'amour', 'Broadway Rhythm', were first recorded by Aural Exciters. August also wrote the avant garde '< Emile (Night Rate) >', which was downbeat dub disco ten years before Massive Attack. Not to mention the evident wink to Amyl Nitrate well known by Poppers's fans."

TWITCH: Contort Yourself 12" (ZE 1203). $9.50

"This 12" single is the first release of a series called Zevolution whose the original idea was to ask various artists to cover one of their favorite songs from ZE records back catalogue. Twitch is brilliantly opening the ball."

DESCLOUX, LIZZY MERCIER: Mission Impossible 12" (ZE 1204). $9.50

"Before getting french national fame in 1984 with cult hit, 'Mais où sont passées les gazelles', Lizzy was in 78 a French boyish poetry cute girl singer living in New York and used to play in No Wave band Rosa Yemen. She also used to write in Rock News, one of the very first French 'Punk' magazine. Her first album Press Color was recorded in New York with Eric from Marie & Les Garçons. Her covers of 'Mission Impossible' and Arthur Brown's 'Fire' became club cult from New York, Tokyo to London. Press Color was released in 10 countries. Her second album was recorded in Nassau Bahamas in Island Studio Compass Point with collaboration of Walli Badarou and Tom Tom Club's Chris Stanley. Here's a 12", a taster of both albums featuring the tracks 'Fire', 'Funky Stuff' & 2 versions of 'Mission Impossible'."

ZEAELECTRONIC (BELGIUM):

SYBARITE: Engaged/Without Nothing I'm You 7" (ZEAL ORANG). $6.50

"The third episode, or let's say the orange single, in the Zealelectronic story, comes from Sybarite, which is Brooklyn (NYC) based Xian Hawkins (of Silver Apples reunion fame). His previous work can be heard on the Emanate Records releases V/A-Emanated and the 'Meusic' single and more recent on his debut album Musicforafilm on the Temporary Residence label. The 2 tracks on Zealelectronic Orange are both showings of his musical talent to combine both organic and electronic sounds and produce, in the form of 'Engaged' a beautiful guitar melodic driven electronic composition or a more dubjazzy vibe as in 'Without Nothing I'm You'."

ZEDIKIAH:

NICODEMUS: Spacechild Squall LP (ZED 1069). $18.00

Recent repressing of one of the earliest Nicodemus LPs, first issued in 1977. Using leftover heavy board covers from the original pressing with a new vinyl, this is semi-indistinguishable from the original. Recorded live at Dungeon Hall, this is the desolation-folk side of Nicodemus, exemplified.

NICODEMUS: What For? CD (ZED 334). $14.00

1995 reissue of what was theoretically the 6th album by Detroit's Nicodemus, originally from 1980. The immortal Barry Hennsler's overview of this eccentric legend from a recently issue of Motorbooty, has elevated this man to a whole new level of consumability. He's "To Stoned to Get High."

NICODEMUS: Antannae Moonlite LP (ZED 7275539). $23.00

"It's almost like renaissance man Nicodemus & his trusty companion, Matchez, never really went away. It's more like they just fell asleep inside a warm log & woke up a few years later when they smelled smoke. These are songs from the vault and they carry as thick a stoned-biker-skiff-whatsis whiff as any air these guys have ever released. Genuinely stupid, extremely fucked up, and loaded with late-night nine-bong-logic, this is (so called) street person psych of a very high caliber."—Byron Coley. Nicodemus is a homegrown outlaw folk artist who has sporadically released LPs going back to the 70s (take your pick between the number 5 & 50). A big favorite with dealers like Paul Major, responsible for the following quote: "Legendary biker messiah of hedonism who has tombstones in his living room and rainbows tattooed on his forehead...he has an overall bent thing to his music & is into drugs & booze heavily, having a whole mythology & fantasy world on the edge he must inhabit."

ZENAH (FRANCE):

MINOTT, SUGAR: Leave Out of Babylon CD (DG 81108 CD). $19.00

"He is one of the most outstanding voices that Jamaica has ever produced, yet Sugar Minott is much more than just a singer. As a harmony specialist, he leant depth and texture to the works of many fellow artists and his song writing ability has been noted as unswervingly excellent. He was part of the Studio One renaissance of the late 1970s, helped usher in the lover's rock craze in the early 1980s and then become one of the leading dancehall figures; as proprietor of the Black Roots and Youth Promotion stables, he nurtured young unknowns and cut self-produced work of a consistently high standard. In the incredibly rich history of reggae music, Sugar Minott is simply exceptional. This new album Leave Out of Babylon, perhaps the most roots-oriented set he's released in the last twenty years, was recorded at Zenah studio in Montreuil on the outskirts of Paris with a group of committed local musicians steeped in the consciousness of Rastafari. Zenah's studio is analogue and they favour live recordings, bringing the quality of the past to a sound that is always facing forward. Their approach forms a perfect platform for Sugar's versatility, so the result is highly inspiring. Overall, this album is a testament to the lasting quality of Sugar's unique voice and his powerfully poetic command of the word. These are pertinent works that speak of what's happening today, making it another great set in the ever-growing canon of Lincoln Sugar Minott."

ZENBEI (JAPAN):

UCHIHASHI, KAZUHISA: Phosphorescence CD (ZEN 004). $20.00

Follow up to Guitar Solo. Live improvisations for guitar and Roland GR-500 guitar synthesizer, by the Altered States guitarist. Looping, sequenced textures with perhaps a bit of nod towards Henry Kaiser.

ALTERED STATES: 6 CD (ZEN 005). $20.00

The trio of Uchihashi Kazuhisa (guitar), Nasuno Mitsuru (bass, vocals) & Yoshigaki Yasuhiro (drums), with their intricate, Crimson edge. "The 6th album from Altered States. Whole studio recording album featuring more of Mitsuru Nasuno's vocal. Psychedelic and rock."

ZENITMUSIC (GERMANY):

GRANSEN, STANNY: 2 Decks Set CD (ZENIT 09 CD). $15.00

"Stanny Franssen presents the first Mix CD on Zenit the Label. Stanny, everywhere well known for his superior performance at the turntables presents 23 grooving tracks on one CD; much more, he is able to inspire the listener, to bann him. Stanny builds up a curve of tension just like only few DJs are able to. It reflects his enormous spectrum of feeling for electronic music. A synthesis between mixing an record selection. Between all the releases in Stanny still finds time to accept some of the numerous remix requests. Among the people who came knocking on his door to get remixes done were names such as Henrik B, Johan Bacto, Samuel L Session, Monika Kruse and Missrest Barbara. Stanny's plans for the future include more releases on labels such as KK, Gaetek's Comform and Marco Carola's Zenit and an album for Zenit." Artists include: Mr Sliff, Johan Bacto, Marco Carola, Rino Cerrone, Secret Cinema, Tomaz vs Filterhead, Marco Bailey, Marc Williams, Delirium, Chris Liebing, Gadgets, Gaetano Parisio, Stanny Franssen, Henrik B, Inigo Kennedy, Random Noise.

ZERO G SOUNDS:

SCANNER: Spray/Lambertia 12" (OG 002EP). $7.00

"The first vinyl release by Scanner for some years, this record offers two tracks of contrasting moods. The tracks slip from elastic dub fused work and scattering beats into a warm, seductive groove lacing hard digital locked groove rhythms that edge under the floorboards of pixelated abstraction. A return to the classic sound of Lauwarm Instrumentals, side A's 'Spray' is an epic, 10-minute meditation showcasing Scanner's infallible ability to manipulate electronic drones and give them an eerie, captivating pulse. On the flipside, 'Lambertia' truly allows the maestro to flex his caustic capabilities, while winding your synapses and providing a gritty, yet seamless bridge between dub and modern-day electro. Bonus cut 'Bette' leads off the B-side—a reassuring techno piece driven by off-kilter pensive basslines and phase-blended percussion. 'Bette' is signature Scanner: Ambient, odd, and driven upon subliminal composition."

TRITON: Green 12" (OG 003EP). $7.00

"That dirty and hissy trademark of 'Green' is no mistake — Triton's influences are anything but a mystery to fans of the Basic Channel/Chain Reaction legacy. It's the throbbing bass that Maurizio pounded onto wax, such as M7, and the methodically repetitious filtered techno of Scion that inspires the Triton tech-dub sound. But who is Triton? Triton listens to reggae and electronic dub music, relishing the savory flavors and digesting them through his own creations. Taking aural cues from the On-U Sound label, Tubby, and even Burning Spear, he fuses traditional dub sounds with Berlin-inspired techno, shaking walls and chasing ears. 'Green' is Triton's debut single, featuring remix versions from tech/dub up-and-comer Gys and the elusive Triton himself."

GYS: Art D'Echo CD (OG 005 CD). $13.00

"Todd Gys remains one of the progressive sonic minds of the next generation of electronic producers, spearheading a new movement based on the groundwork laid by early Detroit techno and the pioneering dub of the 60's. Art D'Echo is a solid musical statement featuring nine original tracks plus three remixes from Phil Western (Download/Netzwerk), Substance (Scion/Chain Reaction), and Twine (Hip Hop/Hefty). Styles range from tech-house, electro dub, glitch, ambient, and minimal techno. For fans of artists on record labels such as Basic Channel/Chain Reaction, Mille Plateaux, Plus 8, & Force Inc."

GYS: Subset Echo 12" (OG 006EP). $6.50

"A solid translation from Art D'Echo to the treasured 12" sound, Subset features three cuts from last year's critically acclaimed LP, including the icy dub-tech favorites 'Gymnasium' and 'Listening to Yourself.' Along with the slithery 'Den,' Subset features B-side 'Gb,' a shimmering, submerged tech-house epic that is sure to cause a stir on the unsuspecting dancefloor."

LOCALFIELDS: Length Scales 12" (OG 007EP). $6.00

"As an avid purveyor and fan of electronic sounds, it's no surprise that Ben Recht's musical output began as field recording experiments in his native Chicago. Now an MIT grad student, it's rather fitting that his present-day alias Local Fields is both a nod to his roots and the culmination of his work since. But it is Local Fields where Ben Recht truly flexes his skills as an electronic musician. Fearlessly, he delves into hypnotic tech-house with post-rock sensibility, never forgetting the hooks that make his music so enjoyable."

LOCALFIELDS: Lovers and Creepers 12" (OG 010EP). $6.00

"Back in true form, re-inventing his wheel once again, Localfields shows a different shade of tech on the Lovers and Creepers EP, his second 12". What makes Lovers and Creepers solid is not just the level of effort and craftsmanship this whiz-kid pounds in, but the originality and emotional sheen that evolves energetic dance music into a thoughtful collection of sounds and ideas. What you get is a head-bobbing trip through uplifting and adroit melody, punchy deep beats, and an expanded sense of headspace through electronic dub technique."

RAYGUN: The Sound of Words 12" (OG 011EP). $6.00

"With Difference Engine paving the way, the 21st century sees Howell's Raygun forging an alliance with Zero G Sounds for his debut 12", The Sound Of Words. Featuring title track remixes by the always entrancing Morgan Page, the single, along with B-side 'Punch Rum,' is a deep tech-house tour de force, showing just how far Jason Howell has come. Think early-Underworld meets fresh funky deep techno."

ZERO GRAVITY (JAPAN):

TEMENDAM SUAY: Sounzer Paranoun CD (ZGV 003). $20.00

Film soundtrack work for the movies of Ichiro Sueoka. "Deep ambient experimental sound influenced by Neul, This Heat & Eno." Atmospheric guitar and ambient-rock, okay, but a lesser ZG title.

VA: Electronic Musical Festival CD (ZGV 009). $20.00

A selection of live recordings from an electronic + abstract musical festival at Uplink Factory in 1996. Artists included are Kazunao Nagata, Utah Kawasaki + Nob Ohtake, Trio Rakant (phased synth loops), Tamaru (processed electric bass), Nerve Net Noise, Masaaki Kikuchi etc. Loaded with droning pulsations, distorted synth washes and general electronic cacophony, this is a great introduction to Japan's new electronic + abstract scene.

DUB SONIC ROOTS MEETS NERVE NET NOISE: Live At Uplink Factory CD (ZGV 010). $20.00

"The live session album with no over-dubbing, cutting. Full live performance documentary album. Techno/abstract meets free jazz." Dub Sonic Roots is Masaaki Kikuchi's septet, featuring electronics, percussion, saxophones, etc., who have recorded a series of albums in the 90s, including one for Creativeman. Dub Sonic's trip is tribal jazz, here pushed up against the flailing home-made electronics of Nerve Net for a fairly unusual pairing and a whole different kind of freak out.

TRIO RAKANT: Kokorosususu CD (ZGV 012). $20.00

"The first album from Trio Rakant with Akaiwa from Strange Garden, Masahiko Okura from Dub Sonic Roots and Jiro Sueoka from Temdendam Suay. Emotional abstract." Trio Rakant is Akaiwa (all sounds) + God.Nagato.F (all comments — maybe that means "mix"?), plus guests, and this is apparently their tribute to Toru Takemitsu. Obscure, low-resonance treated electronics and dark-collage that coalesces just right, presented in most excellent fashion.

NAGATA, KAZUNAO: The World of Electronic Sound 3 CD (ZGV 019). $20.00

"Latest volume of primordial-cum-ultra-current synth-blat from this contemporary Japanese composer, closer in girth to the output of the Mego/Laton axis than, say, Merzbow.

'Recorded at Transonic Studio (Yoyogi) 1997-1998, Arp 2600 Synthesizer, Roland System 100M Synthesizer/ Programming, Effects & Mixing: Kazunao Nagata'. We probably won't be able to calculate the importance of the Zero Gravity organization's output for years to come. Up there with the classic canon of individual-music geniuses scattered across this earth. 13 tracks of band-pass-randomly-oscillated-phase-locked sound, on two discreet channels. Pure and simple. The most authentically damaged example of modern day sub-conservatory analogia to hitch its trappings inside my cortex for some time." — Hrvatski

ZOAR:

VA: An Ear For A Leg: Music From Dance 2CD (ZOAR 18 CD). $15.00

"Features music that was originally written for a dance performance context. Such music is rarely heard outside the commissioning theater, and this collection provides a rare opportunity to hear these unusual works by some of New York's finest experimental composers. Unfettered by the commercial pressures of recorded music, the dance context has allowed the composers to delve far into the extreme fringes of the creative impulse, carrying them to the limits of the possible. Ranging from found sound or musique concrete manipulations, to analog and digital synthesis, to electronica and ambient, to improvisational scores, the collaborative natures of the works give them a mysterious, haunting formality when heard on their own. Artists include: Jim Coleman, Doug Henderson, David Linton, Zeena Parkins, Leslie Ross, Lauren Weinger, and Guy Yarden."

ZOD RECORDS:

GUY/DAN DOORMOUSE, BRODIE: Zod 06 12" (ZOD 06). $6.50

"This marks Brodie's debut release under his self-named alias 'Brodie Guy'. Brodie has earned his reputation for bringing a fresh dose of spontaneity and punk attitude to the abstract electronic scene. These 3 tracks feature some nice warm melodies alongside devastatingly harsh beat programming. Dan's side encompasses some of his most interesting material to date. Making clever use of percussion and melodies sampled courtesy his vintage vinyl collection."

EMOTIONALJOYSTICK: EP2 12" (ZOD 09). $6.50

"With a very solid sense of structure and a profound inclination for melody, this is the sort of EP you can listen to and completely lose yourself. Brilliantly constructed songs with an avant garde sound, contrast with a very accessible feel. Emotional, string-filled melody rich tunes with an 8-bit SID-ish quality to a lot of the sounds. The forms are something like the drill-n-bass of Squarepusher's latest, or at times like Aphex of i care because you do."

GRIDLOCK: Trace 12" (ZOD 10). $7.00

"Listening to Trace is tantamount to dialing into a secret frequency on the radio between a classical station and a beat-pumping dance station. Imagine the haunting strings of an orchestra and the voice of an opera singer nearing catastrophe run through the filter between stations like a grater, sprinkling the few tangible shards of sound onto the dance grooves like so much ash. A wall of fuzz clips the fold every few seconds as the two stations threaten to cave in one each other. Great stretches of silence mark the dank breathing room between. This 12" version of Trace, features a remix by Somatic Responses."

EMOTIONALJOYSTICK: Bellicose Pacific CD (ZOD 12CD). $11.00

"Bellicose Pacific encompasses several pieces taken from the first two emotionaljoystick EP 12"s, along with several previously unheard pieces. Highly influenced by, but stylistically unique to artists like Squarepusher, Aphex-Twin, and/or Muziq, the emotionaljoystick has always incorporated musical structure into his compositions, and even in his noisiest tracks manages to work in some sort of melody or chord structure. On his latest E.P., the tracks tend to consist of frenetic breaks and flowing melodies with string-filled chords and strong arrangements. At times harsh, and at times beautiful (and many times both) he tries to push the envelope of what is and isn't organic vs. electronic music. The newest tracks 'Majik Johnson' and 'Tonight is a Lie' both feature live Fender Rhodes performances; showcasing the Emotionaljoystick's outstanding musicianship coupled with incredibly intricate rhythmic structures."

SOPLERFO: EP For Dogs 12" (ZOD 15). $7.00

"Soplerfo's EP for dogs is very minimal and its construction seems to be that of found objects and other organic sources. It is very melodic and extremely warm. The ep's mellow yet playful nature, walks the listener through a vast range of feelings and emotional ups and downs, while maintaining a very abstract vision. The sound bares a resemblance to works by artists Jake Mandel, Mum, or Matmos yet achieves a sense of sheer originality, and unique composition achieved only by Soplerfo, whose works seem to explore beyond any specific genre. As an extra added bonus, this EP will be accompanied by a Hrvatski remix."

COM.A: We Are The Pervert Volume 1 2LP (ZOD 16). $14.00

"A collection of remixes derived from Com.a's recently famed Dream and Hope released by Japan based label Romz. One of the basic tenets of post modernism is to destroy the imaginary divide between high and pop culture, deconstructing assets into new forms. This pair of vanity plates engages in an experiment of subversion and mockery of our scene, one that has oft grown so self-absorbed as to become blind to their own imperial nudity.[...] In order to achieve such a prodigious end, we must find an appropriate modernist to deconstruct, assets tangible enough to be reconstituted as a dual LP with of same cohesion and melodic clarity as the autter's own, original, draft(s)." Remixes by: robo*com, Kamishimo K.G., Taisuke Matsuo, Duplo_Remote, Mishima Ongaku, Digiotaku, EmotionalJoystick.

ZYX (GERMANY):

WITTHÜSER & WESTRUPP: Der Jesupilz/Musik vom Evangelium LP (OHR 2021098LP). $10.00

Last copies of their third album, at a reduced price. Originally from 1971 (first issued on Pilz). "As a proper duo, the Witthüser + Westrupp sound came on in leaps and bounds, their music was pure innovation, drawing on Westrupp's classical background, and with enthusiasm from Rolf-Ulrich Kaiser, Witthüser + Westrupp became the cosmic buskers. With some of the finest session musicians in Germany, they went on to record three of the most original progressive folk-rock albums of the early 70s. Trips & Träume is a very cosmic affair, with long spacious tracks oozing out atmosphere, like ancient folk diversions from Ash Ra Temple. The next two albums on the Pilz label developed the sound on an even richer, more complex level with massed keyboards, a little more rock, more guitars and even choirs, many of the guests being from Wallenstein." — Crack In The Cosmic Egg.

WITTHÜSER, BERND: Lieder von Vampiren, Nonnen und Toten CD (OHR 56002). $14.00

CD issue of the first Witthüser and Westrupp album, although issued just under Witthüser's name (and not included on the W&W box set). First issued in 1970 on OHR, the third release on that fledgling label. Strange German folk, the beginning of strangeness to come. The lime green cover with a baby vampire pictured is hard to forget.

ANIMA: Der Regt Mich Auf 2CD (OHR 69001). $22.00

Reissue of this 2nd generation OHR double LP release from 1982, by the free improv genius crew of Limpe, Paul & Zoro Fuchs. One of the more difficult to find OHR-artifacts on vinyl, this has never been previously issued on CD before either and is a very welcome reissue. Featuring recordings from 1978 to 1982, this utilizes piano, percussion, violin, vocals, etc. and mixes a strange, experimental improv blend that is quite exotic and unique.

WITTHUSER & WESTRUPP: Live '68-73 2CD (OHR 69002). $22.00

CD issue of what the this German duo's fourth and final album, originally issued on Kosmische Musik in 1973. It features a variety of live material from the years listed, including early folk pre-dating their recording career, and later thoroughly zoned weirdness. A fitting cap to the bizarre career of the group, whose prior albums Trips Und Traume, Der Jesus Pilz & Bauer Plath make up some of the most idiosyncratic blather of the early 70s German underground landscape.

VA: Mittens Ins OHR Appetizer CD (OHR 69003). $8.00

Restocked; cheaply priced sampler of tracks from the seminal early 70s Krautrock label, OHR. Featuring classic album tracks by Gila, Hölderlin, Limbus 4, Wallenstein, Guru Guru, Popol Vuh, Mythos, Bröselmaschine, Emtidi, Witthüser & Westrupp, Floh de Cologne, Annexus Quam, Anima, and Jerry Berkers. As an introduction to this scene, or simply as a very playable car stereo disc, this is a nice object and is actually decently packaged as well. "OHR is the first thing that comes to your mind when you think of German Underground (Krautrock). The label was founded by Rold Ulrich Kaiser and Peter Meisel (Hansa Musik Produktion Berlin) in 1970. All the long-playing records and the wonderful meditative hard progressive sounds set the ground for a brandnew and complex German kind of music which has become known as electronic rock music. Dieter Dirks recorded a large part of the albums in the very idyllic countryside of Stommein. In 1971 Kaiser and Meisel formed their second label PILZ which was distributed by BASF. It was intended to be a haven for new German folk music, strictly speaking for folk rock bands. Their third label owned by the duo was established at the same time — Die Kosmischen Kuriere. Like the OHR label is was distributed by Metronome. The music magazine Bravo wrote: 'Kosmo rock starts where Pink Floyd had stopped — it's heavy, wild and electronic.' There is no doubt that many musicians, even from the States and from Great Britain, are influenced by the early 70s German Underground."

WALPURGIS: Queen Of Saba CD (OHR 70030). $19.00

New CD reissue of this OHR Krautrock album, originally issued in 1972 (an early 90s CD release on Ohrwaschl has long been hard to find). Possibly of Polish origin, the group enlisted the distinctive Cosmic Jokers' Jürgen Dollase on keyboards to fill out their sound, on what was their only recording. "Walpurgis were another of those one album wonders that sadly vanished from the scene too early! The really outstanding material was the two lengthy tracks on side two: 'What Can I Do' and 'My Last Illusion', brilliant examples of Wallenstein and/or Floyd influenced space rock with dreamy instrumental passages. In general this is a very good album and indispensable for fans of the two mentioned groups." — Dag Erik Ashjornsen

WITTHUSER & WESTRUPP: Die Ohr CD Collection CD (ZYX 80026). $14.00

A best-of collection of material from the 5 Witthüser & Westrupp albums on OHR/Pilz/Kosmische Music, including 1 track from *Live *68*73* (not otherwise on CD). Limited stock.
