"Straight out of Columbus, OH, hip hop's newest rap-star breeding ground, S.A. Smash has come to fuck up your state of mind. Camu Tao, one of rap music's most up-and-coming rapper/producers and his main man Metro have crafted a thump heavy, hilarious and unhinged party album that doesn't make you feel like you need a Rolex to have a good time. Hard rock guitar stabs and crunchy kicks and snares make this record an instant head-nod classic."

MURS: The End Of The Beginning 12" (DJX 53 EP). $5.50

"2nd single from MURS. The new single delivers the knockout blow by legendary Shock G. and his alter-ego Humpty Hump of Digital Underground fame, the crew who gave Tupac his start. MURS, Shock, and Humpty trade verses on this story rhyme, patterned after the Tom Cruise flick of the same name."

S.A. SMASH: Smashy Trashy CD (DJX 55 CD). $12.00

"Smashy Trashy is the sound of two young, thorough hip-hop heads from the sticks let loose in the big city of dreams. Camu and Metro (aka. 'Mr. Fuck-A-Lot') have no trouble making noise as they get grimy on bar brawling, heat-holding blackouts like 'LA' and 'Clout, run game on third-tier groupies after the show 'Robot' and wake up hungover in yesterday's clothes ('Last Night' and 'Set Home'). And when teaming up with fellow true-school celebrities, Aesop Rock and Vast, the Smash Brothers lay down some of the wildest b-boy confessions on wax."

S.A. SMASH: Smashy Trashy 2LP (DJX 55 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

WALZ, C.RAYZ: The Essence 12" (DJX 62). $5.50

"This Bronx born & bred phenom is a true underground legend if there ever was one. And he's also one of hip hop's best kept secrets. Having already served up countless MC's on vinyl platters, C. Rayz has decided to take it to the next level by combining forces with the Jux."

PARTY FUN ACTION COMMITTEE: Let's Get Serious CD (DJX 63 CD). $11.00

"Taking the piss out of indie hip hop, rap, R & B, rap-rock and more, the boys at PFAC will leave you either crying from laughter or seriously attended. Tailor-made for Howard Stern and bound to be a cult hit Let's Get Serious follows in the tradition of Cheech and Chong and The Jerky Boys — stupid, foolish, politically incorrect and above all, fucking hilarious. PFAC is the brainchild of Blockhead (Ninja Tune artist and producer of Aesop Rock) and Jar, otherwise known as the Abbott and Costello of hip hop."

WALZ, C.RAYZ: Ravipops (The Substance) CD (DJX 65 CD). $11.00

"Every once in a while an MC emerges whom profoundly alters the landscape of hip hop. Big Daddy Kane. Rakim. Chuck D. Ice Cube. Jeru. Biggie Smalls. 008. Eminem. It's time to make room for another name on that list straight out of that boogie-down borough where it all started, C-Rayz Walz comes heavily armed with his self-created style —The Art of Energy. Spellbinding, cinematic, jaw-dropping, mind-blowing, completely original. The words will be put in your mouth. All it takes is one listen to start understanding who the game is about to completely change. Having achieved a mythic rep in the underground as a soloist as well as a member of the mighty crew known collectively as Stronghold, this urban legend has been applying a vice grip on the independent scene for quite some time now. C-Rayz is totally for and from the streets, managing to soar above and beyond that realm while staying connected to hardcore and mainstream listeners."

WALZ, C.RAYZ: Ravipops (The Substance) 2LP (DJX 65 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

AESOP ROCK: Freeze 12" (DJX 67 EP). $5.50

"The first shot from Aesop's forthcoming and supremely anticipated full length, Bazooka

Tooth. This is vintage Ace Rock, meaning blazing production and lyrics with his one and only approach, it's easy to see end hear why this MC (and producer) is one of the most talked-about artists in new music and why he has one of most rabid and devoted fan bases in indie hip hop. Having already set fire to the underground, the Internet, classic guest appearances, freestyles and shows worldwide, Aesop Rock is ready to take center stage."

AESOP ROCK: Bazooka Tooth 2CD (DJX 68 CD). $14.50

"Aesop Rock returns to bring hip-hop back to the golden age of originality — but this certainly ain't retro. Like the early concept-driven, progressive and personal hip-hop of De La Soul, Ultramagnetic MC's, Boogie Down Productions and, today, MF Doom and Ghostface Killah, Aesop Rock has once again broken the creative barrier. Having produced nearly the entire album himself, Bazooka Tooth is an amazing expression of one man's artistic vision and raises the bar for everyone else in the rap game. With one of the most rabid and devoted fan bases in indie hip hop, Aesop returns the love with 11 minutes of lyrically explosive brain funk."

AESOP ROCK: Bazooka Tooth 3LP (DJX 68 LP). $17.00

Triple LP version.

VA: Presents III CD/DVD (DJX 76CD). $14.00

"The theme of this record is simple — a showcasing of both new and established artists on the Jux roster that will set the tone for the label's sound and direction for the next few years. Featuring brand-new exclusive music from some of the most prominent names in indie hip-hop, as well the new future stars, DJXP3 represents the beating heart of our label and offers a glimpse into our immediate future." Features: Phase 2, Aesop Rock, Carnage, The Perceptionists, Rob Sonic, Hangar 18, El-P & Camu Tao, Despot, S.A. Smash, 4th Pyramid, Murs, C-Rayz Walz, RJD2. The 2nd disc is a DVD (NTSC format) with 6 videos.

VA: Presents III 3LP (DJX 76LP). $16.00

Triple LP version.

MURS: 3:16 The 9th Edition CD (DJX 80CD). $12.00

"Murs 3:16 — the 9th edition is soulful and introspective, hilarious as well as shockingly realistic; a refreshingly honest look at the world from a young artist who's been recording and self-releasing hip hop records for almost 10 years. This record represents Murs best work to date — 10 concise, to the point, new millennium hip hop tracks for the heads and is thoroughly rooted in the classic hip hop tradition."

MURS: 3:16 The 9th Edition LP (DJX 80LP). $11.00

LP version.

RJD2: Since We Last Spoke CD (DJX 84CD). $14.00

"A more focused and cohesive effort than Dead Ringer, while still maintaining the vitality and soulfulness that made his debut so enjoyable. Like a modern day Quincy Jones in the abstract, RJD2 truly orchestrated his new record, creating a multitude of new songs from all angles, writing music and lyrics, arranging vocals and melodies, auditioning singers and even experimenting with a vocoder. He cut out any fat or filler, and in an industry virtually afloat on the concept of the guest appearance, the album features none (well, maybe one). Its strength instead lies in the meticulous programming, lush instrumentation and solid song arrangements."

RJD2: Since We Last Spoke 2LP (DJX 84LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

HANGAR 18: The Multi-Platinum Debut Album CD (DJX 88CD). $13.00

"Every now and again, people of the world are hurt and long for a change. Many times they don't even know it until the feeling hits them square in the chops, knocking them into next week. Enter Hangar 18, or 'The Hangar' as millions of fans have affectionately dubbed them, made up of Alaska, Windbreez, and paWL. Rising out of the New York City underground, The Hangar have shared the stage with the likes of Mos Def, Sadat X, Camp Lo, Talib Kweli, El-P, Company Flow, Aesop Rock, Murs, Aceyalone, Pep Love, Mr. Lif and Akrobatik, the Juggaknots, SA Smash, Stronghold, Soul Position, Atmosphere, and many others."

DEFOCUS MUSIC (UK):

APHELION: Click 12" (FOC 353). $9.00

"Aphelion have been going strong for nine years, and yet before now they have only unleashed two 12" singles on their audience. The first was released in 1995 — and is still in demand since they only had the courage to press 250 copies. The second came out in 1996 — where they managed to double their courage to 500 copies. Their music has been described as sounding somewhere between B-12 and Global Communication." The label is now known as Defocus.

APHELION: Zugzwang CD (FOC 355 CD). $17.00

"Another artist make their debut album release on deFocus. This time the four members of Aphelion offer us Zugzwang, which was the artist name they released their first 12" under. 'Bound' get's the whole thing moving with a total Carl Craig feel that simply reminds us where we are from. 'Movements' kicks back into what was once described as sounding between B12 and Global Communications and ends up sounding like an early As One LP on New Electronica. Not a bad place to be when you think about it. This album is full of Aphelion's unashamedly nostalgic music yet; it still retains that futuristic feel of early techno."

TEJADA, JOHN: The Matrix Of Us LP Sampler 12" (FOC 358). $9.00

Four track 12" EP, limited to 500 copies. "John has recorded for A13, Multiplex, R&S, Plug Research, Residual, Immigrant, Mosaic, 7th City. John applies his talent to hip-hop, down tempo, chilled breaks and of course deep house/techno. This release is complied with a summery atmosphere that will relax even the most stressed person. The LP Matrix of Us will feature the diverse talents of John's opera singer Mum and USA rapper Divine Styler."

TEJADA, JOHN: A Matrix Of Us CD (FOC 359 CD). $17.00

"John Tejada has worked with R&S, 7th City, Plug Research, Mosaic, A13 and his own label Palette. On this his debut LP for Defocus he also works with his Mum (she's an opera singer!) and Mo Wax's Divine Styler. John's music covers chilled breaks, deep techno, downtempo, ambient moods, all in a Defocus style."

TEJADA, JOHN: A Matrix Of Us LP (FOC 359 LP). $16.00

LP version in full color sleeve.

KOCH, TIM: Shorts In Alaska LP (FOC 363 LP). $12.00

LP version.

ESEM: Enveloped LP (FOC 364 LP). $12.00

LP version.

DEFRAG SOUND PROCESSING (ITALY):

TERRAE: Hinterwaelder 12" (DFRG 001). $9.00

"Defrag is the union of D. Rovito and M. Masullo, and the project is born from their common passion for the electronica, even if they came from different backgrounds. The label is an open system where to put different realities close to this concept of 'music' without any limits, but associated from the same attitude 'noise' where rhythms and sounds are the same that pronounce clearly each single moment of our metropolitan day to be then, unconsciousness processed that became the main source of inspiration."

DEFRAG: Contrasequentem 12" (DFRG 002). $9.00

"Glitchy and groovey techno by this Italian duo that focus his attention on the sound processing and on the use of a huge variety of sources such as microphone-recorded sounds, data errors, glitches or electronic masses. The imprinting dub and the audio editing flow seamlessly into the body of the tracks, their repetitive grooves combine dancefloor appeal and serious minimalism. The B side track is 'un' remixed by Gez Varley in pure G-man style, simple but effective."

VA: OGM EP 12" (DFRG 003). $9.00

"Third DSP output hosting Defrag Sound Processing, Terrae, and Darkfarmer (from the Swayzak duo). Showing different attitudes toward the spread horizons of the vanguard micro-tech present scene. A continuous exploration of sound conducted by quite unusual instruments, approaches, and cooperation. On the A side 'idk' by Defrag Sound Processing starts floating into a fusion of minimal electronics and post dub processing to create a soulful glitch-techno tune. On the same side 'Omina Blur' by Terrae, still using as exclusive sound source only electric grounds, and synthesis waves while viewing the sunset rarefaction ballet of a future age heroin. On the B side, Darkfarmer shows his reinterpretation abilities with an absolutely contemporary micro tech track, obtained remixing 'Omina Blur' by Terrae with the sounds taken from Defrag Sound Processing's tune."

DEKADANCE:

VA: 10 Years Vision CD (DKD 001CD). $15.00

Includes exclusive tracks from: Sven Väth, Swayzak, Thomas P. Heckmann, Ricardo Villalobos, Michael Mayer, Styro 2000, Continuos Mode/Mas Ricardo, Manon, Kalabrese, Gabriel Le Mar, Marco Repetto, and Serafin. "The Vision Festival, which takes places in the beautiful mountains of Switzerland, celebrates its 10th birthday and there couldn't be a better time to present the long awaited festival CD. The outstanding reputation of the festival comes from its superb alpine location and its spectacular music provided by the truly exclusive line-up. As the festival does, the CD contains the whole range of electronic music today, from dub to tech-house to mature techno."

DEKATHLON (GERMANY):

GENERATION ALDI: Mini System CD (DEKA 007 CD). $15.00

"Generation Aldi, the unloved bastard of Bülent Kullukcu's liaison dangereux with MTV-Generation is dirty, aggressive pop-music. Retro-flavored synthlines over bass-heavy electro/techno-tracks with strangely distorted, uncomfortable lyrics. Kullukcu, whose parents are Turkish first-generation immigrant-workers, likes to call it 'subtly' political. Their on-stage show features Jugo-chick dancing girls, VJ Kaundown (Console) and Albert Tempel, a charismatic singer whose background is rather unusual. He scored well in a number of competitions which where thought as a piss-take of the European Song-Contest and proved himself in various TV and movie productions before he got to meet Kullukcu. His unique style flirts with the likes of Bowie, Iggy Pop and is mixing German and English lyrics like Falco. Kullukcu the bass machine from the depths of Istanbul's Kasbah provides the Aldi-beat to it. The current album Mini System represents the artists diversified background ranging from post-punk and ambient songs to EBM and nu-electro tracks. Broken synthesizers, squared appegiators, funky guitars and toy instruments for a trashed generation."

GENERATION ALDI: Mini System 2x12" (DEKA 007 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

ZOMBIE NATION: Absorber CD (DEKA 010 CD). $16.00

"Here is the long awaited second album of Zombie Nation. The album contains 13 fresh tracks and will be released on Dekathlon Records, the label of Zombie Nation mastermind Splank, founded in 2001. After being very successful with his other project 'John Starlight', Splank returns to his origins and continues to force the global Zombification. Fresh ElectroCore, abstract, different, lively. The sound of Absorber arises from extraordinary machines and there'll be no stoppin' until all Hell breaks loose."

ZOMBIE NATION: Absorber 2LP (DEKA 010 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

ZOMBIE NATION: The Cut 12" (DEKA 012 EP). $9.00

"Dekathlon Records strikes again with this dancefloor smasher, heavy rotation 12" vinyl, containing 3 versions of this tight 'Zombie Killah'. My Robot Friend the mysterious man-machine from New York is presenting his (very humanlike) voice on the Cut. For the Remixes DJ Naughty and DJ Chrysler could be pledged and they did a phantastic job."

VA: Dekathlon Records Compilation #1: Sportler of the Year CD (DEKA 014CD). $17.00

"The first Dekathlon Records Compilation is the Track-selection of the most essential Dekathlon tunes (Cat. No. 001 to 013). Most was only available on Vinyl so far. The compilation shows that Dekathlon has become an important pacemaker in electronic music. Starting with the first Dekathlon release, the instant smash hit 'The Fake' of the New York Man Machine My Robot Friend, also known as songwriter for the Pet Shop Boys (q.f. Groove Mag. Interview Jan. 04), up to the latest 2004 releases of artists like NAM:LIVE, the electro hip hop crew from Montreal, or Duniz & Henrix, this collection gives a good overview on the past work and the future direction Dekathlon is heading to: Don't copy, create!"

DELABEL (FRANCE):

VA: Wizz LP (DELA 6981). $14.00

VA: Wizz CD (DELA 6982). $17.00

"This is a great thing to reissue some obscure French pop tracks from the 60's and 70's, tracks from the underground, made by artists from the alternative scene, those who tried to be creative among the miserabilism of creativity of this time. Under Sex & Psychedelism, the themes are sung by Charlotte Leslie, Christine Pilzer, Philippe Nicaud, Christie Laume among other unknown singers & producers."

DELAY:

SUTEKH/GEOFF WHITE: Constructed/Deconstructed 12" (DELAY 06). $9.00

"A long time coming, here's a hot new title from these US giants of the electronic techno scene. 2 cuts to offer here with sublime, elctronics for all the family. This label puts in a much deeper than usual cut with real building distorted, white noise lines to move the more informed of house audiences."

DELOS:

ROCKMORE, CLARA: The Art Of the Theremin CD (DE 1014). $11.00

Clara Rockmore (theremin) and Nadia Reisenberg (piano) doing versions of Rachmaninoff, De Gall, Stravinsky, Ravel, Tchaikovsky, etc. Although first issued in 1987, this CD has come to much new attention in the last couple of years, due to the fabulous film documentary Theremin: An Electronic Odyssey which features amazing footage of Rockmore, as well as the unbelievable tale of the instrument's inventor, Leon Theremin. "Clara Rockmore, a pioneer of the theremin, apparently came out of retirement to make this recording. The theremin, which sounds vaguely like an excited female soprano, is one of the earliest electronic instruments, in which the player uses the motion of her hands to play distinct notes. If the instrument sounds familiar to you, it is because Miklo Rosza used it to great effect in Hitchcock's Spellbound in 1945. It became so identified with that film that it was seldom used again. But on this recording the instrument soars through Rachmaninov's 'Vocalise,' Saint-Saens' full throated 'The Swan', and other selections by Tchaikovsky and Stravinsky. Rockmore is extraordinary in this first commercial recording of her work. It was produced by none other than electronic music pioneer Robert Moog. The theremin produces a throbbing vibrato that will at first amaze you, then delight you, and finally overwhelm you — if it doesn't send you running from the room."

DELSIN (NETHERLANDS):

DJ YOAV B: First Blood EP 12" (DELSIN 045). $10.00

"Amsterdam's Delsin is very proud to present another gifted talent on their always moving label. Before this full debut release, DJ Yoav B. did a track on a Teknotika compilation 12" and remixed Aaron Carl for his Wallshaker-label. This first full solo EP brings two deep raw house jams, already adored by Terrence Parker, Aaron Carl and others. Side a brings 'Luv Iz', a slow, but energetic mover, with lots of percussion, synth stabs and a deep funky bassline, sounding as a secret collaboration between Carl Craig's Paperclip People and Moodymann."

SEAMUS, PEEL: Shifting Gears 12" (DELSIN 11). $9.00

"Shifting Gears is Peel Seamus' 4th release. To put out his own music was one of his reasons to start the Delsin label. As his previous, well received EPs, this release also contains smooth beats and warm string sounds. Tracks go in a downtempo vein with lush sounds and with a clear techno edged going in directions like Ian O'Brien, Stasis, Cim, etc. Press has compared previous releases with the likes of Carl Craig, B12 & Likemind. Six tracks fully filled with warm soulful electronics. One for the fans."

FUTURE BEAT ALLIANCE: Audio Photos 12" (DELSIN 12). $9.00

"After having built a solid reputation for himself with owning the Void label and having releases on Archive and Ferox under his belt, Future Beat Alliance comes with a great 4 track electronica/ techno jazz EP in usual, high Delsin tradition. Should appeal to fans of Ian O'Brien & Jimpster."

NEW WORLD AQUARIUM: Tresspassers 12" (DELSIN 13). $9.00

"After the stir that has been caused by the limited edition of New World Aquarium's first release for Delsin, NWA now comes with his second output for the label. Again a very fine deep house EP in a definite Theo Parrish vein. Already favourite with Carl Craig and many other Detroiters."

VA: ...Going Thru Life CD (DELSIN 15 CD). $15.00

"The much acclaimed electronica label comes with it's first (CD only) label compilation feat tracks that have been out on 12" only. Featuring cuts by Norken, Cim, New World Aquarium, Peel Seamus, Plasm Nesonic, Aardvarck, Celvoice & Lucky & Easy. Will be one of the better electronica CD's for next year (how dare we to say?)." Includes previously unreleased tracks as well. "The Amsterdam label Delsin advances during its abstract Detroit research into new spaces, with the struggle for soul, innovation and surrealistic one above all...Delsin releases contain IDM with more than only one easy touch of Detroit ideology, releases which rather approach a world-wide movement of new electronic labels." — Bleed/De:bug

DEEPART: Snapshots 12" (DELSIN 17). $9.00

"A new artist on the Delsin roster, the illustrious Deepart from London. Deepart is especially known through his incredible soulful 10" Picture series on his same name label. This 12" brings four typical Deepart tracks, mastered to full quality. Again they come in his typical, minimal lo-fi style, with the soul deep within. 'Monsoon' probably goes most abstract, a deeply funky combination of strings and beats. 'N-W-2' combines the same ingredients, together with live guitar played by Simon Gayes."

SANDOR CARON: Zwepg Typis - As One/Relaxo Abstracto rmx 12" (DELSIN 18). $9.00

"Sandor Caron returns on the Delsin label, after his co-produced Celvoice release. 'Zwepg Typis' already featured on the Music For Speakers 'Coda' EP. This release brings a re-edited, longer version by Sandor himself as well as two remixes. His older brother David (known for his releases on Eevolute & MoiWax) teams up with Aardvarck and drops a very juice remix in a dope, groove broken beat style with heartbeating strings. Delsin is enlightened to present a remix by Kirk Degiorgio under his As One (ART/Mo' Wax/Ubiquity) moniker. A very soulful downtempo track."

STRAND: Message 2 12" (DELSIN 19). $9.00

"More stuff from Detroit finds it way to the world through Amsterdam's Delsin Records. Strand consists of Brian Bonds and Kech Harrington and in the past they began recording as T.H.D. for Antonio Echol's Serious Grooves label. In 1997, under the name Strand, they recorded the Floyd Cramer's Revenge EP for Shake's Frictional label. Frictional also released Strand's latest EP Message I. Now their new EP, Message 2, sees daylight, fully filled again with their soulful and funky techno. The tracks end up somewhere between Shake's freestyle beats and Cim's soft electronic excursions. Strings and gentle beats are all around, as also going more uptempo & danceable in the groovy track Pocket Pimp. Funky, deep soul techno tracks in good Delsin tradition."

FUTURE BEAT ALLIANCE: Disconnected CD (DELSIN 21 CD). $15.00

"After being in musical action for almost ten years, Future Beat Alliance now comes up with his debut album: Disconnected. The album brings ten gorgeous warm funky tracks, with techno as main element, shifting towards deeper house and jazzy grooves as well. The album sums up what his music has been all about until now: futuristic, haunting for beauty, deep funkiness, groovy and there always seems a link with the original Detroit techno vibe. Future Beat Alliance (FBA) is Matthew Puffett and most of his releases came through his own fine Void label. After quitting the label and putting out two more releases on the Archive & Ferox labels, FBA find a new home at Amsterdam's Delsin Records. This album brings very soulful, funky techno tracks, in style of Ian O'Brien, Kirk Degiorgio and others, proving deep romantic techno still exist."

FUTURE BEAT ALLIANCE: Disconnected 2LP (DELSIN 21 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

AARDVARCK: Nozum 12" (DELSIN 23). $9.00

"Aardvarck's EP 'Nozum' starts with a gorgeous chilled out remix by Tony Nwachukwu better known as the beat engineer of Attica Blues. Further on, the EP provides a good insight of what his beautiful debut album will bring. Three more chilled out, hardly to compare with other artists, beat freakery. And all tracks have again these deeply soulful and funky contrasts with the deeper atmospheres around. Mixmaster Morris, Kirk Degiorgio and Jazzanova played out his releases in the past, and Domu and Nubian Mindz were happy to remix his stuff."

AARDVARCK: Find The Cow CD (DELSIN 24 CD). $15.00

"After several well received 12" s last year, Aardvarck now delivers his beautiful debut album. Find The Cow displays his inspirational, creative, and unique production skills, using a minimal studio set up. Delivering a diverse album including hardcore broken beats, abstract hip-hop, atmospheric electronica, deep, cut-up techno tracks and beautiful ambient soundscapes, Aardvarck tugs and teases the listener into new textures, moods and sounds. The 23 tracks on the CD demonstrate his innovative approach to music, running the full spectrum from soft ambient interludes to the more uptempo beat trickery."

AARDVARCK: Find The Cow 2LP (DELSIN 24 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

DIMENSION 5: Control Complex 12" (DELSIN 25). $9.00

"Dimension 5 aka John Harvey is a new, UK based producer. A very promising debut it is, as his music is very much linked to the classic Detroit techno sound with its serene strings and funky drums. With this in mind, Dimension 5 fits in perfectly with the Delsin roster. His Computer Groove on the a-side is a straight up, groovy Detroit-techno track and reminds of Kenny Larkin, Aril Brikha or Fabrice Lig. It's also very dancefloor friendly with its smooth basses, strings and tight beats. The two beautiful tracks on the b-side are more like those that will be released on his forthcoming debut album, early next year; More ambient like, gentle, subtle beats with smooth strings, still 4 to the floor. These remind more of in style of Jon Beltran, Cim, Norken and Detroit Escalator."

DIMENSION 5: Alien Artform CD (DELSIN 26 CD). $15.00

"After the debut albums from Future Beat Alliance and Aardvarck, Delsin strikes again with this very deep soulful ambient techno album by Dimension 5. Until now Dimension 5 did have only released one 12", but one which was directly praised by Fabrice Lig, Laurent Garnier and others. His album Alien Artform holds both deep, ambient like techno to listen to (think: John Beltran & Detroit Escalator Company) as well as more dancefloor-aimed material, without losing the soft touch, (think: Kenny Larkin & Aril Brikha). This is (Detroit) techno as it is meant to be: soulful & deep. Should appeal to fans of Aril Brikha, D.E.S. and the dubbier German techno stuff."

DIMENSION 5: Alien Artform 2LP (DELSIN 26 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

DIMENSION 5: Dark City 12" (DELSIN 29). $9.00

"To support his just released Alien Artform album, Delsin puts out the 2nd Dimension 5 12". This 3 tracker continues where the LP version left us: 3 brand new tracks (only Network was released on CD only). This one comes for the dancefloor. It opens with Dark City, an haunting, melodic 4-floor techno track with those old skool drum sounds. Dope! The B-side holds 2 tracks in the same vein, where Music Box film-esque, like Derrick May used to do, and gradually builds up. Network is a more soulful tracks, playing around with some nice synths and reminds of old Insync / Irdial stuff."

OPTIC NERVE: Optical CD (DELSIN 30 CD). $15.00

"Keith Tucker needs no further introduction, as being active since the early days of Detroit techno & electro. After his debut through Juan Atkin's Metroplex, he has been putting his stuff out through labels as 430West, Direct Beat and his own Puzzlebox Records of course. The tracks as Optic Nerve always brought the more soul techno things he does. With this album Optical he finally puts together some of his best material of the last ten years. New unreleased tracks come together with reworked versions of classic tracks as 'Shades of Grey' and 'Premonition'. The album brings Optic Nerve to full capabilities, always futuristic, always soulful, and always deeply techno."

OPTIC NERVE: Optical 2LP (DELSIN 30 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

VA: Day By Day CD (DELSIN 32 CD). $15.00

"The second CD-compilation from Amsterdam's Delsin-label. The CD brings together several highlights of the last two years from the varied label catalogue. For most tracks, it's as well the first time they appear on CD-format, as previously only being available on vinyl. Since it's early beginning Delsin is about pushing boundaries in soul and electronica, bringing back the original spirit of house & techno, or better to say music in general, meaning creativity & true spirit. And luckily people all around the world respond to it. Positive feedback came from people all over the world from Brazil to Japan, from the USA to Russia. People like Kirk Degiorgio, Carl Craig, Laurent Garnier, Gilles Peterson, Ben Sims and Dego from 4 Hero, all have praised the label as well, where the variety in these names says enough about the uniqueness of this label. The musical style on the label varies from deep techno to electronica, from house to jazzy beats, musical pleasure, dancefloor pleasure, ... it's all in there. And again people say that all Delsin releases have a sound in common. And we think it's the soul, as that is, what it's all about..." Artists include: Dimension 5, Aardvarck, Future Beat Alliance, Optic Nerve, $tinkworx, Sandor Caron, Newworldaquarium, Strand, Peel Seamus.

YOTOKO: All Creation EP 12" (DELSIN 34). $9.00

"Delsin Records is proud to present Yotoko, a new project done by Dave Farlam and Dominic Stanton. Dave Farlam is a so-called new kid on the block. This EP by Yotoko brings two more uptempo and one smooth delicious hip hop track."

DEEPART: Snapshots CD (DELSIN 35 CD). $15.00

"Warm, soulful electronica from London's finest-Deepart. Deepart returns with his Snapshots concept, of which the first part was released on 12" Spring 2001. These tracks, along with the second part, are released as an album CD now. This is the first time that most of Deepart tracks are made available for a CD audience. Deepart is especially known through his incredible funky and soulful 10" series on his self-named label. Deepart is The alias for Andi Hart, and if there's one man out there which keeps true to his own sounds, it's Andi Hart. He's been pushing his sounds for almost ten years now, without any concessions. This CD brings twelve typical Deepart tracks; they come in his typical minimal lo-fi style, but with the soul deep within. Sometimes warm, frantic at other times."

DEEPART: Snapshots 2LP (DELSIN 35 LP). $16.00

Double LP version. This 2x12" includes the new, unreleased tracks. 8 tracks in total.

YOTOKO: Wet Ink CD (DELSIN 42 CD). $17.00

"From the men Shifty & Domu (JCR, 2000Black, Archive), together Yotoko, comes this perfect fusion between Broken Beat, Techno, Downtempo and other styles. Their album is not about breaking barriers, but it is their own little twisted version of what they call 'techno'. For Yotoko, techno can be heard in everything, so as such it is all techno... Domu and Shifty are influenced by lots of different stuff, soul, jazz, disco, hip hop, techno, some old break beat, new broken stuff... as well 20 pence mad charity shop finds. The album is about Yotoko making music they think is cool and realizing that all this music is the same no matter what the bpm or groove."

YOTOKO: Wet Ink 2LP (DELSIN 42 LP). $22.00
Double LP version.

DYNAREC: User Input CD (DELSIN 46CD). $19.00

"After the two impressive EP's R-Cam and The Lost Souls, Dynarec seems already up to dropping this amazingly brilliant debut album. This album brings electro with all the original aspects from Germany and Detroit, with all tracks being tight, surreal, melodic and deeply funky. While the vinyl brings the tracks which will work out on the dancefloor, or so to say, less tracks pressed for maximum dancefloor power, the CD album brings Dynarec's much broader spectrum. The album comes with the beautiful melodic ambient-styled interludes. And last...too much people have asked, or suggested, this being a Drexciya and/or Dopplereffekt related project... All we can say is, it ain't. But it should give a little idea of the quality level of music to expect... A surreal journey to the outskirts of the electronic music spectrum."

DYNAREC: User Input 2LP (DELSIN 46LP). $21.00
Double LP version.

STINKWORX: Ain't Chit History CD (DELSIN 48CD). $19.00

"This compilation presents the very best of $tinkworx released so far, for the first time on CD, from almost all out-of-print 12" releases. The compilation presents very early works, from the first two 7" singles, released on their own Down Low label, the now worldwide recognized underground techno outlet. Already both those releases caught a lot of attention and were later on even twice re-released by Rush Hour, as well as by the XL-label related Platinum Projects-label. Also on this compilation are four tracks from out-of-print releases of The Hague's Bunker label, and Rotterdam's Keynote label. These tracks, all together with newer tracks from his three 12" releases on Delsin, making it the complete overview of the works of $tinkworx so far. Especially for this occasion, all tracks are fully re-mastered by electrofunk king Dexter (Klackson). Please now enjoy the electrodisco sounds of $tinkworx. With his sounds along the lines of Drexciya, Metro Area, Dopplereffekt, Daniel Wang and others."

DELUXE:

BALANCE MAN: Well Balanced Meal CD (DLX 004 CD). $13.00

"Flows seamlessly through many moods and environments, from the frenetic beauty of "Frog and Bomb", with a cool interplay of vibes and a children's toy, to the constantly evolving structures of "Billy Monday" and "Astronomical Gumdrops". Jeremy Goody has also been known as Flemme Fatale, one third of drum n' bass combo HSO, which released a 12" on Drop Beat Records. In addition, he is also a member of instrumental 5 piece Jakarta, who have an LP due out early next year on Zum Media."

ELECTRIC BIRDS: CD (DLX 005 CD). $13.00

"From the shimmering chimes & vibes of the opener 'Windy Hill', to the Steve Reich-esque organ pulses of 'Parallelogram', on this debut CD, Electric Birds focuses on texture and mood, creating organic electronic music that evokes nocturnal moments, arctic glaciers, desert suns, and decaying urban environments. Using computers, keyboards, guitars, and found sounds, Electric Birds make compelling, layered compositions that steer clear of MIDI-based predictability but still flow, demonstrating both chops at rhythm programming and an ear for intriguing texture. Similar to recent works by Nobukazu Takemura, label mates Matmos, or Mouse On Mars, each song teams with multiple ideas, patterns and structures: tranquil tones shift gear into frenetic, chattering techno; digital collages are paired with delicate guitar figures. Across this variable terrain, The Electric Birds CD remains an eclectic yet focused work, born of a true fascination with sound, that injects electronic music with some much needed personality and intimacy."

BLECTUM FROM BLECHDOM: The Messy Jesse Fiesta CD (DLX 007). $13.00

"After the previous Snauses & Mallards 12" on Kit Clayton's Orthlorng Musork label, comes Blectum from Blechdom's first full length on Deluxe. A hyper mish-mash of sounds where hissy field recordings and vocal cut-ups (a la Stock, Hausen & Walkman, VVM, or Lucky Kitchen) segue into frenetic techno, electro breakbeats, and acid squelches (a la early Aphex Twin). Blectum from Blechdom's perverse, whimsical sensibility merges with skilled programming and composition, resulting in intriguingly fractured electronic pop with demented childlike melodies and dynamic 'four on the floor' techno."

CONCENTRICK: Tender Machines CD (DLX 008). $13.00

"Lush orchestrated electronic instrumentals, equally concerned with melodic arrangements and complex rhythmic drum breaks. With it's ensemble of strings, synthesizers, drum machines and drum kits, Tender Machines glides through sublime Kraftwerk-esque melodies, sinister grooves (a la Aphex Twin), and dreamy atmospherics (from the ambient krautrock of Cluster, to the 70's horror film soundtracks of Goblin). Concentrick is one Tim Green, producer at his own Louder One Studios in San Francisco, member of seminal DC punk band — Nation of Ulysses, and current guitarist in The Fucking Champs (Drag City). Concentrick has recently remixed Trans Am and IQU, and has appeared on a Throbbing Gristle tribute CD."

EBLAKE: Limit CD (DLX 009 CD). $13.00

"EBlake is one E. Blake Davis, current Seattle resident and master musicologist. Limit, his debut solo release, is a picturesque journey through refreshingly simplistic worlds, that reveal deeper territory with each listen. From sparse ocean floors, pulsing aquatic dub and lush dreamy vistas, acoustic chamber instruments rise out of a distant echo chamber as somber piano melodies circle above deep thumping bass tones. Combining cold dub-infused techno (a la Chain Reaction or Plastikman) with the warm ambient naturalism of Harold Budd or Brian Eno, Limit recalls the pulsing atmospheres of Gas or early Orb, with profound landscapes and Fourth World (Hassell & Eno) mystique."

EBLAKE: Limit LP (DLX 009 LP). $13.00
LP version.

ELECTRIC BIRDS: Panorama CD (DLX 010 CD). $13.00

"Eight landscapes are painted with vivid electronic colors on Panorama, the second album from Electric Birds (AKA Mike Martinez). Rich atmospheres come to life with a heady brew of modernist organic techno, where natural and synthetic dust and debris swirl atop hypnotic backdrops spiked with sublime rhythms and blissful emotive textures. Shadows of processed guitar chords resonate against shards of reverberating clicks while elsewhere, rattling hand drums and finger pianos fall from the sky like percussive rain."

ELECTRIC BIRDS: Panorama LP (DLX 010 LP). $12.00
LP version.

VA: Night Owls 01 CD (DLX 011 CD). $13.00

"Deluxe Records presents Night Owls 01 — the first volume in a compilation series of nocturnal mood music; not to fall asleep to, but a nocturne that awakens as it evolves. The Night Owls occupy the twilight spaces between wakefulness and dreaming — conscious and subconscious. It is at that threshold, when the mind is both present and transparent to its own source, that strange images begin to appear. From lush, vivid dreams to dark hallucinatory nightmares, the Night Owls appear, taking shape in various (electronic) forms. The first volume features 13 exclusive tracks from: Esa Ruoho (aka Lackluster), Lips, Electric Birds, Starfish Pool, Chessie, Eblake, Dietrich Schoenemann, Aspic, Parts:Places, Solid Objects and Etherdrag."

BLECTUM, BLEVIN: Talon Slalom CD (DLX 012 CD). $13.00

"The slalom is a living thing just as we are and has a soul as we do. You look at the talons through a telescope and you have a microscope through which, if powerful enough, you would see almost the same sight. Talons are the sharp gripping toes of a peeper, ludic and frantic. Open up your beak and PEEP PEEP PEEP... Blevin Blectum is one half of the duo Blectum From Blechdom. Talon Slalom is a mind-bending trip, quite unlike most electronic records you've heard. This is dynamic sound/beat/loop collage that flows from fun, catchy and groovy to intense, dense and fractured. Blevin's solo work gets into deep sample-based sound design with extended themes, in comparison to the more lyrical songs and max/msp sounds of Blectum from Blechdom. The music on this CD is essentially the soundtrack to a movie+music live performance."

VA: Night Owls 02 CD (DLX 013 CD). $13.00

"The second volume in the Night Owls compilation series has a more rhythmic focus, foregoing the previous free-floating scapes of the first volume. These are rhythmic forces of the night, going from textural grooves to spacious yet rhythmic sound designs. Far from a collection of odds and ends, Night Owls 02 captures these various artists in fine form, with a diverse yet cohesive mix. New and exclusive tracks from: Soft Pink Truth, Electric Birds, Pan American, Jetone, Bizz Circuits, Warmdesk, Emisor, Daniel Gardner, Sagan."

BIZZ CIRCUITS: The Very Best Of CD (DLX 014 CD). $13.00

"Bizz Circuits is a new alias of Sebastian Meissner, from Frankfurt, Germany, previously releasing as Autopioes, Open_Source, Random_Inc and Random_Industries for the labels Mille Plateaux and Ritornell. Bizz Circuits focuses on an ironic deconstruction of post-digital music as genre itself. The sound sources for this album are pulled from every and each corner of my record-shelves. You will find there (if you're lucky to find them!) Ornette Coleman's saxophone just beside Metallica's guitar-riffs and Mozarts piano-pieces, but also the clicks and noises of many microsound artists.' The tracks are titled after his favorite adolescent pop-songs, which brings the abstract-rhythmical structures into a more 'earthly', pop-music context. This time the references and musical quotations are denouncing often highly academic music approaches, as brothers/sisters-in-law with the rock'n'roll circus. It's not important to recognize those sources. Just listen to the machines and feel the Bizz Circuits!"

WARMDESK: Guero Variations CD (DLX 015 CD). $13.00

"Sometimes you can find a gem in the cut-out bin. While Warmdesk's William Selman was flipping through cut-outs in a well-known record store in Cologne, he came across a recording of piano pieces by the German composer Helmut Lachenmann. Based on the request of one of his friends in the States who said to pick up for him any Lachenmann CDs Selman found, he bought the album. Back in his room near the train station, he listened to it and was struck by the piece 'Guero' in which the pianist plays the interior of the piano, but none of its keys. The scratchy textures, the lovely glissando, the built-in reverb tapping the chamber: this was musique concrete without tapes, oscillators or computers, but with a traditional instrument. Inspired, Selman decided that he wanted to create tracks using those sounds and textures but tie them to the rigidity of the sequencer and the form of techno. Guero Variations is made almost completely with sounds from the piano — using recordings from several piano interiors — but without actually playing the keys. Free-flowing glissando and percussive sounds are shaped into hypnotic, rhythmic patterns, using lots of computer-based processing, wave table synthesis and the occasional cheating synth sound. And while the tracks are made with deft precision and attention to detail, there's an underlying, soulful warmth that pervades."

TROYER: Rose de Shiraz CD (DLX 016 CD). $13.00

"Rose de Shiraz is an album about love, dreams, hay fever, streetmarkets, shopping, cooking and eating... Vienna based Ulrich Troyer (aka Uli Troyer, previously released on Mego) and friends create experimental electronic pop music with soul and humor. Cut-up samples of various sounds and vocals (of Persian, Turkish, German, Italian, French and Kurdish friends), along with guest musicians playing guitars, bass, clarinet, and saxophone, are rearranged to make something completely new, with a big love to small details. The album begins its journey through street markets in Mexico, over to Paris and Vienna, and ending in the middle of a bazaar in Cairo, contrasting delicate melodic shapes with weird cut-up sounds and distorted fun rhythms. Mixing live instruments, vocal samples, field recordings and beats cut with a cool precision, the album reminds us at times of the electro-acoustic cut-ups of Matmos (a la The West), the funky bounce of Mouse On Mars, and the organic instrumentations of Tortoise, but fusing modern 'electronic' music and acoustic music with his own unique blend of Latin, bossa nova, European and Middle Eastern flavors."

DERAILED:

SONS OF SILENCE VS. RONNIE & CLYDE: 12" (MDMA 1002). $3.00

US pressing of an EP on Leaf in the UK. "Both did a track and then gave it to the other to remix, and what comes out is two sides of 12" vinyl packed with the sounds of POW!" Reduced price.

KRUST: "True Stories"/"Cold War" 12" (MDMA 1004). $3.00

"As the antithesis of Roni Size, Krust has always thrown the longer, darker shadow, with his ear finely tuned to the mammoth pulse of a distressed urban soundscape. Lalo Schiffrin-style orchestrated darkness and sci-fi effects swing alongside lo-fi strings, whilst relentless beats and a mega-distorted Bristol bassline attack your solar plexus." Reduced price.

DESTIJL:

WOLF EYES/MEGMA: No Face Lives LP (DESTIJL 035). $13.00

"Megma man, fucking Megma. They started the whole damn thing. Sure there was Lee Rocky & some soundeffects 78s that set the crew in motion but screw it... you wouldn't be blasting The Beast or any Weird Handdrawn LP with rotten ears if it wasn't for this truly motley crew. In high school my sweet momma would give me ten bones a week for lunch, come Monday by noon that shit was blown at the local rec shop. When I only had a couple of raggedy bux left from gripping Zorlac stickers, the only option was the dollar bin at the store. It was there that John Bender, Haystacks Balboa, Nik Reineck, & Peter Catham LPs blew open my teen mind to the netherworlds. Among the giants was this homemade wreckard by Ju Suk Reet Meat. Looked amazing... had no idea. Threw it on for nearly every day since. Mutant loops, improv from alien swamp prom & deviant horrible ideas. Changed my life. Just what a young mind needed to replace the Texas Chainsaw Massacre. Found out later it was from the Smegma camp, a strange unknown mystery troupe from Portland. No photos ever... just a numbling clip on a RRR comp video Lessard gave me & Dilloway, a tunnel view into the spiritual mecca that would be the Smegma klan. Before the first Wolf jaunt out west we dropped them a postcard saying it would be good to meet. Soon it mangled into a recording session. We would be so honored. The day came. The Smegma house, totally pink, queued us in to rainy green Portland. We knocked. A femme voice said through the door, 'use the bell'. Nate pushed it and out came a gargled electronic siren. The door opened, Rock 'n Roll Jackie, 5 foot tall, grinning & long beautiful grey hair. We all fell in love. Soon after we meet Ju Suk & one by one slowly met all the Smegmas in one of the strangest nights ever. Burned Mind, Meltzer, Stan, Amazon Bambi, others. All weird as hell, checking us as much as us checking them. Yep, this is who we wanted to be with the rest of our lives... the Michigan crew had never been so inspired & moved but by this unholy blending of mutant minds... So we jammed. It was fucking amazing. Here are the results. Every year we are going to see them & hang like the best friend weirdo family. A total pilgrimage. Nate & I once got so blasted from Portland cloud that we projected that Smegma has always existed, ever since the beginning of time. Someone will always carry it on... might be this dude in Ypsi who has no face. Really. No nose, barely a mouth, always has a broken arm or something... smells like shit. Dude is totally in Smegma. Fucking life rules. — John Olson.

WOODEN WAND AND THE VANISHING VOICE: Xiao LP (DETIJL 038LP). $17.00

"Wooden Wand & the Vanishing Voice comprises ex-members of folk / psych space cadets of the Golden Calves / Polyamory axis, plus a host of other rebels, freaks and prophets, all affected so deeply it's as if Jesus himself had reached his hand down the front of their pants. Xiao is laid thick with the musik fur alle vibes; they seek alternative, primarily non-electric methods of melting down orange amplification, leaving everyone trippin' / slippin' in the resulting goo. Expect many things bowed and plucked and wet cardboard percussion, providing the backdrop for Wooden Wand to sermonize on the evils of fluoride and read the poetry of anonymous inner city hoods. Death to the prosaic punks! Xiao will appeal to all hippies interested in Limbus, Siloah, Angise MacLise, Vibracathedral Orchestra, THE master QSH, sperm, Joe Jones, NNCK, etc. Gorgeous full color covers with liner notes by Thurston Moore."

DET.UND (GERMANY):

VA: Detroit Underground 01 12" (DET 001 EP). $9.00

"IDM aesthetics from those who do just that here in Detroit. This Spatial environment will bring together friendly integration. Det.Und. 01 features tracks from Richard Devine from Schematic and Warp. Kero who has released on Shitkatapult, Bpitch control, Ghostly and Sender. ModeSelektor from Bpitch Control. Derek Michael who has done work with Sender and Hurlzu! and Direkt Jives first release courtesy of Det.Und."

VA: Detroit Underground 02 12" (DET 002EP). $9.00

Six track EP feat.: Kero, Phon.o, OOO, Direkt Jive. "The second installment of D.U. brings DJ friendly environments along with some idm party rockers. On side A there is a chopped up dance floor track from Berlin's Phon.o who is on Shitkatapult and Cytrax Records. Also on side A there is a classic idm track from Kero. Side B features a break track from 000 courtesy of Planet-Mu records. A gangster-glitch track from Direkt Jive and also a experimental jungle track from Direkt Jive. The outro is a soundscape from Kero."

DETECTOR:

HACO: Happiness Proof CD (DET 22). $9.00

"Released jointly with ReR, this is a remix of the Japan-only release of Happiness Proof which came out in 1999. Artwork is similar, but jacket is completely different. Large folded 4 color sheet inside contains lyrics both in Japanese and English. Haco was one of the originators of indie music and continues today to produce intricate compositions. This group of compositions is a dynamic collection with help from musicians such as Tsuyama Atsushi, Ichiraku Yoshimitsu, Peter Hollinger, Yamamoto Seiichi and Yoshihide Otomo."

HACO: Paradise Of Replica CD (DET 24). $9.00

"With the forming of After Dinner in 1981, lyric and song writer Haco along with a fluid group of members recorded and performed many times during the 80's. Prior to releasing the remarkable Paradise Of Replica in 1989, the group had 4 releases, mainly on Japanese labels. The release prior to Paradise was a self titled LP release by Recommended Records of the UK in 1984. This introduced both the European and North American audiences to a very different and original sound that was happening in the slowly forming indie scene within Japan. The collective musical background of the members of After Dinner included new wave, traditional Japanese, contemporary music and avant garde rock. Coupled with Haco's lyrics and electronic manipulation, the sound was not to be confused with any other. One review described Paradise Of Replica as 'a stimulating voyage into a landscape of feelings'. After being out of print for over 10 years, Haco set out to remix the original tracks of Paradise and enlist the help of others to remix 4 tracks as Paradise Of Remixes. The remixers were Terre Thaemlitz, Pascal Plantinga, Skist (Samm Bennett/Haruna Ito) and Joshua McKay (Macha). The final result is a welcomed re-release of the original work in its entirety along with 4 very different remixes of After Dinner's original themes and ideas."

IMAI, SAYAKA: Mahiru-no-Yume (Midday Dream or Day Dream) CD (DET 27). $9.00

"Sayaka Imai was the guitar player/vocalist from Tokyo based psychedelic pop group Little Fujiko. Sayaka had been composing music on her own which was not at all in the psychedelic genre. Since her compositions were not in the psychedelic form, she expressed a desire to work on her own and this project was envisioned. Sayaka began music training early starting with piano at age 10. She's studied music in various forms and instruments. She's also studied various rhythm patterns, chord sequences and music styles which add to a sound quite distinct compared with typical Japanese 'j-pop' music. Not one to avoid experimentation, Sayaka reversed some of her compositions and created tracks in this manner."

DEVICE (UK):

FINLOW, CARL A.: Electrilygy + CD (IRQ 006CD). $16.00

"Nine tracks drawn from the by now infamous blue-bagged, vinyl Electrilygy series, plus an all new, unreleased bonus trilogy of killer tracks, all lovingly mastered for this release by Bola. The Device label, convened in Manchester by Datathief, and sporting gorgeous artwork by alter-ego Gigue, makes a stunning return with this, its first compact disc. Mr Carl A. Finlow, aka Silicon Scally, Voice Stealer, Random Factor, Il-Ek-Tro, has over the last decade or so appeared on quality imprints such as Warp, SCSI-av, 20/20 Vision, Playhouse, Satamile, Klang — in fact the list is virtually never-ending. This series of releases were the first to bear Carl's own name, and went some way to defining yet another aspect of this amazing producer, somewhere along the way summing up the massive surge in the electrodisco scene over the last three or four years. Effortlessly fashioning the continuing influence of classic eighties and nineties electronic music — imagine a global trajectory spanning Kraftwerk, YMO, John Foxxx, Italian electrodisco, Yorkshire bleeps and Drexciya — Carl has pretty well delivered an all new manifesto for the dirty funk."

BOCHUM WELT: Kissing A Robot Goodbye CD (IRQ 007CD). $14.00

"Gianluigi Di Costanzo has been a doyen of the left field electronic scene for over ten years now. First appearing on the scene with a flurry of underground twelves, the good offices of Rephlex quickly saw a good thing, latching onto the Bochum Welt phenomenon for four mini albums around this time, while also procuring a full remix set from Gianluigi of contemporary maverick Like A Tim. 'Mannequin' here, dates from this classic period, suave neo-italo after party tuneage. Check the tune 'Telegame' for some flavour of where this music's headed, roughed up bass undertow, ominous padding, topped with a crystalline melodic architecture — killer stuff. Recent commercial collaborations with Thomas Dolby have fostered this sense of a full time technetronic crusader, at once leading edge and at the same time fondly connected to the analog, vintage warmth of classic drum machines, samplers, Oberheims and Moogs."

BOCHUM WELT: Kissing A Robot Goodbye LP (IRQ 007LP). $13.00

LP version.

DEVIL IN THE WOODS:

MEOW MEOW: Snow Gas Bones CD (DIW 073CD). $14.00

"Shortwave radio squeals, Beatles-esque tape loops, and healthy doses of analog tape twiddling all underscore the pure-sugar pop tones of Snow Gas Bones. Meow Meow offers up their debut album, a literate blend of fuzzed out/rev'd-up guitar anthems and beautifully understated/stoned soundscapes. This CD is fuelled by a penchant for pop melodies and art-Damaged, found-sound sonics. Meow Meow exists somewhere between Brill Building tradition and grandpa's pre-war 78 rpm's played with a broken stylus."

SHEDD, TRACY: Louder Than You Can Hear CD (DIW 077CD). $14.00

"For her third album, Tracy Shedd has delivered an insightful, full-bodied rock record while maintaining the integrity of her singer/songwriter roots. With a solid fan base already in place thanks to her two previous efforts on the Teenbeat label: Blue in 2001 and Red in 2003, her fans will be pleasantly surprised with her energized and dynamic shift in musical approach."

PEDRO THE LION: Achilles Heel LP (DIW 078LP). $13.00

"Recorded in Washington State at the band's studio — longtime Bazan collaborators TW Walsh and Casey Foubert (Seldom) were joined by multi-instrumentalist/percussive powerhouse James McAlister (Ester Drang) as the group spent a solid month working on the album's tracks. The concluding record is richly crafted and flawlessly produced as a scathing glance into the crosshairs of the American dream, a heartbreaking sketch of husbandhood and ultimately an exploration of faith as told through eleven perfectly textured vignettes. As sonically mature as it is emotionally complex, Achilles Heel is imbued with the hopeful sadness that only Pedro The Lion can, and do deliver."

DEXTRO:

DEXTRO: a/turux-b CD ROM (DEXTRO CDROM). $35.00

Stunning algorithmic visuals on a CD ROM for both Macs and PC. "Algorithmic drawings and movements, semi-automatic. This CD ROM contains more than 110 animations (most of them interactive, some with sound), about 1800 images and several movies. It runs on Macintosh (Mac OS 9 and Mac OS X) and PC, requires a 1024 x 768 pixel monitor with 24bit color and 30mb RAM.

in all the applicationS no mouseclickING is necessary. Developed over the years 1995-2003. See www.dextro.org for more details..."

DFA RECORDS:

THE RAPTURE: House Of Jealous Lovers 12" (DFA 2121). $6.00

Repressed! The original version, released early 2002 (later licensed to Output in the UK). "Newly relocated, the band needed a new East Coast home; and in early 2000 began a friendship and a working relationship with the DFA production team of James Murphy (the founder of Plantain Recording House) and Tim Goldsworthy, (Mo Wax /UNKLE). They worked together on the 'Out of The Races and Onto the Tracks EP' and the Insound Tour Support EP. The Rapture's California roots and admiration for the West Coast harmonies of the late Sixties never subsided as they explored a New York where Studio 54 and the Mudd Club once co-existed in a way that is only beginning to make sense."

THE JUAN MACLEAN: By The Time I Get To Venus 12" (DFA 2122). $6.00

"Features a remix by Beastie Boy Adam Horowitz (Adrock). Juan Maclean (then known as John) was the keyboardist of legendary East Coast electro-rock band Six Finger Satellite, who emerged in the nineties as acclaimed heroes of the indie rock scene. Juan has worked closely with Murphy and DFA's other half, Tim Goldsworthy, (Mo Wax/UNKLE) while honing his fantasy of a discotheque where Juan Atkins and Larry Levan share a bill with Public Image Limited and Grandmaster Flash. Afterwards everyone goes back to his enormous loft in lower Manhattan to play records and do drugs."

LCD SOUNDSYSTEM: Losing My Edge 12" (DFA 2123). $6.00

Repressed. The original US version, originally released in 2002, licensed to Output in the UK. "This release is the debut twelve from DFA records founder James Murphy. Known for an eclectic punk rock production and performance background as well as for having produced the smash 12" 'House of Jealous Lovers' for the Rapture and 'By The Time I Get To Venus' for the Juan Maclean, Murphy steps up with his own wild electro-disco madness. This track is currently in heavy rotation in sets by DJ's: Trevor Jackson, Felix da Housecat, Tiga, Thomas Bullock (ARE Weapons / Wicked) Tommie Sunshine, DJ Unknown (Fischer Spooner) and Marcus & Dominique (Plant)."

THE JUAN MACLEAN: You Can't Have It Both Ways 12" (DFA 2124). $6.00

"This release is a vinyl only 12" and features Juan's first track with female vocals (Nancy Whang) and a B-side which is an electro lullaby in the 'sad robot' genre. Both tracks were produced and mixed by James Murphy & Tim Goldsworthy for the DFA."

BLACK DICE: Beaches & Canyons CD (DFA 2125 CD). $13.00

"Known for never performing a song the same way twice, Black Dice manipulates and reorganizes sound into a fluid, swelling, blissed-out frenzy while your brain searches for patterns, your body struggles to find the beat. Somehow, it all comes together in a discombobulated synchronicity. It is chaotic for sure, but somehow symphonic and orchestrated as well. They manipulate their instruments and feedback at intense volumes with the energy and enthusiasm of artists in love with the beautiful sounds of a machine."

BLACK DICE: Beaches & Canyons 2LP (DFA 2125 LP). $15.00

Double LP version.

LCD SOUNDSYSTEM: Give It Up/Tired 7" (DFA 2126). $6.00

Repressed. "...single of the week in NME! Already sold out of 1500 in the UK through Output / DFA, this is the domestic version..."

VA: Compilation #1 CD (DFA 2127 CD). $13.00

Long awaited compilation of DFA's best selling 12" singles, featuring tracks by: The Rapture, LCD Soundsystem, Black Dice, Juan MacLean. "CD only collection of year #1, a first time collection of all the 12" single A sides: Tracks include 'House of Jealous Lovers' by the Rapture & 'Losing My Edge' by LCD Soundsystem — two top singles of the year for 2002 (as voted in year end polls in SPIN, The Village Voice, NME, The New York Times etc.) Also included are the debut singles from the Juan MacLean as well as a brand new single from Black Dice entitled 'Cone Toaster', the non-LP track 'Silent Morning' (unavailable elsewhere) from the Rapture and 'Give It Up' by LCD Soundsystem, an import only 7" that was named single of the week in the NME."

MACLEAN/THE RAPTURE, JUAN: Give Me Every Little Thing/Killing 12" (DFA 2128). $6.00

"DFA is finally back in the game with not one, but two new singles from artists The Juan MacLean and The Rapture. A: 'Give Me Every Little Thing' is the third release from The Juan MacLean, but with even more bounce to the ounce. It is like the sound of two hard drives humping to a Hot Chocolate record. It has nothing to do with fleeting trends and everything to do with a classic jam. Vocals by Nancy Whang and James Murphy of LCD Soundsystem / DFA. B: Hot off the anthem of 2002, 'House of Jealous Lovers', The Rapture return with 'Killing', the newest single off their highly anticipated debut, Echoes. A perfect mixture of neck snapping Neptunes-esque funk and signature DFA grit."

BLACK DICE: Cone Toaster/Endless Happiness 12" (DFA 2129). $6.00

"Fuck electroclash — this Brooklyn quartet is here to plant a flag in your skinny-tie ass, reclaiming it in the name of twisted, post-ambient no wave sounds. 'Cone Toaster', their new single, is a track that lays a 4/4 techno thump under some of the strangest noises made by, well we actually have no idea how they were made. And we don't ask questions. The B-side features a remix by Eye of Japanese legends The Boredoms, bringing a (dare we say) jazzy dance sound to the group."

THE RAPTURE: Echoes LP (DFA 2130 LP). $13.00

"Exploding onto dancefloors worldwide with the track 'House of Jealous Lovers', The Rapture seamlessly blend the energy of guitar- and bass-driven post-punk rock with the excitement of disco dance beats and funk flourishes. The Fader declared House of Jealous Lovers 'one of the first records in decades to not only crossover, but bridge the gap between rock and dance crowds.' Produced by the DFA, Echoes showcases what i-D magazine names 'a stunningly cool conundrum... a razor sharp slice of punk-funk.' The New York Times calls The Rapture 'a jittery, wildly eclectic fusion of punk and disco, of retro and modern, or perfect pop and freak-out jam'."

GONZALEZ & GAVIN RUSSOM, DELIA: El Monte/Rise 12" (DFA 2132). $6.00

"The latest addition to the DFA Records family has arrived in the form of Delia Gonzalez & Gavin Russom, a beautiful couple making beautiful music together. Both play synthesizers and neither one sings. The music moves and pulses and rises and settles. Hypnotic, psychedelic and timeless. A side 'El Monte' is totally informed by classic techno and disco without even a trace of the typical 4/4. The drums are saved for the DFA remix of 'Rise', an epic and moody take on the darkwave genre, where every not, change and drum fill handled with total economic precision. Not that you would expect anything less."

LCD SOUNDSYSTEM: Yeah 12" (DFA 2133). $6.00

"LCD Soundsystem, aka James Murphy, returns to continue his work simultaneously subverting both the rock and dance music establishments with a brand new 12" single, simply titled Yeah. Following up the massive success of previous singles Losing My Edge and Give It Up, Yeah has everything you have come to expect thus far from the DFA hit factory: the disco beats and percussion, the infectious bass lines, the disaffected vocals, the keyboards...it's all there. But this is more of an instant party that ever before and it ends nowhere near where it begins, with an unbelievable climax of synths, drums and acid-era mayhem. It will end many a DJ set in the year to come, as it is going to be a tough jam to follow. Crass, pretentious and very very good."

BLACK DICE: Miles of Smiles CD (DFA 2134CD). $8.00

"Every release by Black Dice is different. You know that by now, right? Changing the game once again, Black Dice release this 2 song EP, entitled Miles of Smiles. Clocking in at a total running time of 28 minutes, this release will please and confound fans and critics alike, as the band prove once again that whatever they tackle, it is on their terms only. Miles of Smiles was originally created for The Poetry of Sex art exhibit in Tokyo and finds the band exploring a Musique Concrete-like world of chance and surprise. The flip side 'Trip Dude Delay' has been a live staple for many years. It has been on the DFA release schedule for far too long, and we are thrilled to finally get it out there for everyone to experience."

BLACK DICE: Miles of Smiles LP (DFA 2134LP). $10.00

LP version.

BLACK DICE: Creature Comforts CD (DFA 2137CD). $15.00

"This is the official follow-up to their DFA debut CD and Double LP Beaches & Canyons. It finds the band pushing in yet another direction, at once unmistakably Black Dice, and noticeably different. Recorded with Steve Revitte (Liars, Kill Me Tomorrow), the DFA & Nicolas Vernhes (Fisherspooner, Fieri Furnaces). Venturing further into their own psychedelic, increasingly electronic world, Creature Comforts is as expansive, experimental and structurally unique as its predecessor, but there is a new sense of playfulness and accessibility mixed with naive wonder and not-quite-steady rhythms. It is hazy, dreamy, but they have suddenly emerged as a band with an untouchably original terrain, mixing dub, tropicalia and the entire history of psychedelic rock music into one heady concoction."

BLACK DICE: Creature Comforts LP (DFA 2137LP). $15.00

LP version.

DIAL (GERMANY):

VA: Dial 00 EP 12" (DIAL 00). $9.00

New imprint from Hamburg's electronic scene. A three-artist compilation of "abstract minimal," featuring: Lawrence (member of unnamed Ladomat 2000 group), Pawel (aka Turner, also a Ladomat recording artist) and Carsten Jost. "Fresh 4 tracker working disparate sonic piecemeal wisely; your standard fare reverse-feed/(ne)gated kicks, well-wise if not rhythmically confusing/useless disco loops, a Smiths loop run through the Filterbank?, etc.... There's even a nice one on here based around the timbres of the stock consumer-grade (as if to imply the existence of a 'pro-line') Casio keyboard arpeggiator that drifts rather pleasantly into BOC land, even with it's quarterly placement reminder. Quite enjoyable..." — Hrvatski.

GLUHEN 4: Das Schweigen Der Sirenen CD (DIAL 003 CD). $16.00

"Ambitious ambient experimentalism by Pantha du Prince. Deep & serious."

LAWRENCE: The Absence of Blight CD (DIAL 004 CD). $16.00

"One of the most common plant diseases of roses is the blight. Grey dust fills out the leaves, and the shiny rose changes into a transfigured but beautiful plant, dying in the end. The gardener stops it by sorting the ill plants out to give back the garden its conventional structure. Peter Kersten aka Lawrence used to be a gardener. While his profession was always well organized he began to learn about how beautiful even the accidental things of nature can be. So he always watched 'abnormal' growing, plant diseases like cancer, and dead trees. Also the urban is full of exciting plant games, which seem to play funny, melancholic, absurd or even different. After being a gardener for 5 years another passion became the profession of Lawrence. Starting the Dial label in Hamburg together with his friends Carsten Jost and Turner, he became a producer of club music, also in a more close-your-eyes-and-listen-way. Just like the way he used to go out to listen to the music of Theo Parrish, Gas, Isolée, Newworldaquarium to mention some of his favourites. So his first album (untitled, Dial/Ladomat/Kompakt), sounds like a heavy weight deepness slow house thing, more for listening than dancing. The new album The Absence Of Blight is connected to the melancholy of the first, not just optically. You will hear a collection of crispy beats, nice soundscapes and plinky bells. But this time Lawrence is more easy and even more danceable. Tracks like the opener 'Fifteen Minutes With You' (a hidden homage to the Smiths) and the sweet Detroit track 'Neighbourhood' somehow make it a very shiny autumn record. Lawrence always finds a special way to let melancholic feelings passing by like shown with the untitled track or the one called 'Winter Green' (the winter 2002 was very green in Hamburg in one way — like it is a city powered by right handed parties, there was incredibly much police around). Searching for exciting sounds Lawrence creates tracks like lost Friday or coltsfoot (he still loves krauts like that) arrange them softly in space, fine tuning effects around. And in the end The Absence Of Blight is full of romantic."

LAWRENCE: The Absence of Blight 2LP (DIAL 004 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

PANTHA DU PRINCE: Diamond Daze CD (DIAL 005CD). $17.00

"...Now: Pantha Du Prince track to track layer for layer the parts of a vanishing youth reveal themselves. In a white studio behind the railways next to sweating rock bands and speeding trains divided only by white cloths. A person dreaming in grinds and fragments of images, sounds, noises, frenziness and feelings. He is passing himself. In former times Kassel: everything was wave and the beginning of techno — British independent music on his mind. Away to Hamburg: guitars and discourses, lights of another way: Saekho, Clear, Warp, Mego, Frankfurt and techno from Cologne — electronic music as the salvation. Techno is everything: catharsis in the studio ecstasy in the club and new social structures Tobin - Dial - Reis. In Hamburg there is a new model of autonomous structures far from Ladomat and the pressure to play guitar. Pantha Du Prince is moving within those new but still fragile ways. The own position is forming itself more and more. Within the work of a year it becomes clear and the dust of coal crystallises itself into diamonds that might burst soon. Diamond Daze is tracing new lines, branching them and loosing itself in woody landscapes and fog and leads to pleasurable places in rising sunlight from the cave of catharsis diamond daze is triggering romances like lightning in the shimmering of the night. The presence is torn apart in the lake of melancholy. Wounded textures and cryptic pop unfold their mystery in a pumping crystalline mobile of sound. It is from Hamburg or anywhere shivering noise-pop-drones, pulsing patterns of bassdrum-bass, filigrane clicks, bursting diamonds for a romantic mind. In the heart walls of guitar and the beat keeps you dancing and the mind flies over roaring snowy mountains enchanted and pushed on, in love and avoided everything but the boy: Hendrik Weber, who is known as Glühen4, Panthel, and as part of Gaze and Duma as well as bassist of the band Stella, presents his debut 2LP, CD on Dial as Pantha Du Prince."

PANTHA DU PRINCE: Diamond Daze 2LP (DIAL 005LP). $20.00

Double LP version.

VA: Hamburger Berg 12" (DIAL 013). $9.00

"Hypnotizing minimal tracks from Carsten Jost, Sten & Lawrence."

POLZIN, ALEXANDER: Get Used To It 12" (DIAL 014). $9.00

"After a longer release break we announce ourselves back with a long expected debut. Alexander Polzin — this is order, chaos, programming and intuition. After a track for our compilation Hamburgers and a longer co-operation with Jan Gazarra culminated in the album I've Come To See You Once Again, he presents us his first own 12". We are finally pleased to show Alexander's record to all of our friends."

LAWRENCE: Neighbourhood 12" (DIAL 015). $9.00

"Hamburg St.Pauli 2003 what is going on behind the windows at the third floor of 37th Hamburger Berg? The stench of Kentucky Fried Chicken and the noise of drunken screams seem to vanish into a smell of fresh colour, a sound of sweet bells and blighty rhythm around. There lives Lawrence together with his flatland labelmate Carsten Jost, drifting into a transfigured deepness of sound. What might be a better inspiration for the new Lawrence pieces than his neighbourhood — staying next door to love, hate, disgust, sweetness, noise, Möller and Löschenkohl... so the new Dial 12" feels like melancholically niceness but clubby aswell, the new Lawrence album to come in autumn. Don't be afraid of Mr Thielkes the landlord schaffeling around..."

VA: The Lost Tracks 12" (DIAL 016 EP). $9.00

"Three lost tracks — never lost, but firstly out on vinyl or repressed. Carsten Jost's album You Don't Need A Weatherman To Know Which Way The Wind Blows has been released on CD only. The same to all the world loves lovers Autosundmädchen (Alexander Polzin with Jan Gazarra) is for the first time on vinyl. And Crossfade entertainment Ft. Joonsik are back again."

EFDEMIN: Isobell 12" (DIAL 018EP). $9.00

"After the ultradeep Dial10, Efdemin aka Phillip Sollmann is back on Dial-rec. The tracks, which are mostly arranged live, have this typical exciting flow again...delicious sounds to be discovered. The logo side starts very low with a loopfinding splitter of sound to get up slowly into a minimalistic deep tech track, a 'Post Script Blues' for the shiny floor. 'Colonia' (b1) is surprisingly a straight shuffle tune built in Vienna to be loved in Cologne and the world. With b2 'Isobell', Efdemin creates a storytelling ambient track so nice and deep as if the spirit of Philip Glass and Brian Eno has fused with the heart of the young composer called Phillip Sollmann."

JOST, CARSTEN: The Lost Tracks Pt. 2 12" (DIAL 019). $9.00

"Carsten Jost's CD album You Don't Need A Weatherman To Know Which Way The Wind Blows (Dial Ladomat 2001) was never pressed on vinyl. After several 12"s, the last four lost tracks are now available on dial19. 'Described as White' and 'Hermès' are deep and dark minimalistic beings, how we like the early Carsten Jost pieces. After the grand Superchirp remix being a smasher all over the Kompakt world, here comes the original Krokus (b1), sounds as fresh as springtime feels. Who wants to hide the sun will get back to disturbing transfiguration with b2 — Youth Brigade — a track to see the world with eyes dried and clear."

STEN: TV 12" (DIAL 12). $9.00

"Sten is that minimal techno project of Peter M. Kersten aka Lawrence. In their straighter conception the tracks turn to the club visitor dancing with closed eyes. The keyword romance is here not as usual the relationship of the artist to its work and the consumer lining eras its rather used as a word case to be put forward around this euphoria bomb to make it bearable for the particular."

DIAT (GERMANY):

CAULFIELD: Squeeze 12" (DIAT 003EP). $9.00

"In his typical own style Caulfield presents five new tracks on the Bremer label Diät. Straight-lined harmonical groovy music in a garment of house with most charming melodies and many always new added details, which seem to have arisen directly from a fairland for an easy move through the fog of every day life. Five fluffy charming tracks for the living room and the dancefloor at every hour of the day."

DICRISTINA:

BOZULICH, CARLA: Red Headed Stranger CD (STEP 001 CD). $14.00

"Carla Bozulich has wanted to perform and record this classic Willie Nelson concept album for a long time. She never dreamed that Willie Nelson himself would be interested in playing on the album. Sure enough, a few weeks after he'd heard a tape on his tour bus, Carla was in his Austin studio recording duets with him. When frequent collaborator Nels Cline (who Jazz Times called 'the world's most dangerous guitarist') formed the all-instrumental Nels Cline Singers with Scott Amendola on drums and Devin Hoff on upright bass, it turned out that they were all closet country fanatics. There was a convergence of sorts around The Red Headed Stranger, and Carla's heartfelt compulsion finally found its way to the material plane. Her idea of combining seemingly odd elements (jazz, improvisation, raga, cabaret) with a traditionally country feel was brought to life by these highly inventive players."

VETIVER: Vetiver CD (STEP 002CD). $14.00

"Vetiver grows in a 'less is more' chaparral where simplicity offers ample room to wander. Strongly fertilized by traditional acoustic music, and more subtly cross-pollinated by the sparseness of 'minimalism,' with its bare suggestions of melodies that the listener fills in for himself, Vetiver gracefully navigates folk and pop savannas with ease."

BOZULICH, CARLA: I'm Gonna Stop Killing CD (STEP 003CD). $11.00

"Carla Bozulich (leader of the defunct Geraldine Fibbers) extends the thread of her Red Headed Stranger as a thank-you to old fans and a welcome to new ones. This EP-priced full-length album contains two songs from Red Headed Stranger (one a duet with Willie Nelson), new explorations of music from that album, and seven unreleased live tunes, including original stuff from The Geraldine Fibbers and Scarnella, a Neil Young cover, a Marianne Faithfull cover, and some world class improvisations."

DIE SCHACHTEL (ITALY):

ZAFFIRI, ENORE: Musica Reticolare LP (DIES 002LP). $36.00

"After almost forty years of creative activity, the name Enore Zaffiri still sounds 'new', as his extraordinary artistic output has remained to a great extent unreleased. Pioneer of multimedia, electronic and ambient music (he founded the Turin Studio of Electronic Music in 1964) Zaffiri used the electronic instrument to find a new musical perspective based on a structuralist principle derived from Euclidean geometrics. From this principle he was able to determine the various sound parameters and formal and spatial dimensions of his compositions. He then started an inter-disciplinary research which is still unremittingly going on today. Reticular music. The music of Enore Zaffiri does not exist solely in terms of the sound dimension, but refers directly to a sign, to a pattern — represented by thin strands, which wind and unwind in their progression to infinity. These strands, through their unending reproduction, are designed not to 'define' but, on the contrary, to 'un-define': they get closer and closer without ever touching one another, forever contained between invisible margins. His music constantly rewrites itself, involving the listener in a blossoming texture, continuously contracting and expanding, enlarging and reducing. This is music that doesn't follow melodic lines to find coincidences: on the contrary, it starts from sound, from its reverberation, from the way it is contained within space. 6 previously unreleased tracks dating from 1964 to 1968."

KUBISCH, CHRISTINA: On Air CD (DIES 003CD). $21.00

"A spectacular all-transparent Audio/multimedia CD (a reprint of the 1984 cassette-only private release). A final and comprehensive document on the series of installations named 'On Air' or 'Magnetic Air' which C. Kubisch exhibited in Italy and Europe from 1982 to 1986. The relationship between specific locations and electronic music was explored through the use of magnetic induction cables and special earphones. Twenty years later, On Air has remained a fascinating listening experience, and represents a unique illustration of the artistic integration of sound and vision. The interactive section provides a virtual journey through the spectacular 1984 installation created for the medieval town of Gargonzia in Tuscany, complete with 1 hour of music and a 15-minute video plus photos, a Bio, info and scores." Enhanced CD; Audio and Interactive tracks. + 15 .MPG Video for PC/MAC.

SACCHI, FRANCA: En LP (DIES 004LP). $28.00

"One of the very few female composer of early electronic music, Franca Sacchi studied at the famous RAI Studio of Fonologia in Milan in the 60s, and developed the 'En-static' principle which included improvisation, electronic music, ritual, performance, teaching and meditation. Extremely reserved and enigmatic, Franca Sacchi has devoted her entire life to music, dance and yoga; she has been active as a conceptual artist too, and her work was also included in the notorious Broken Music exhibition. Throughout the years, she has carried on a complex multi-disciplinary research in a quest for the integration of music with other artistic expressions while at the same time radically questioning the concept of music making. Her electronic music focuses mainly on sound, which is treated as raw material and endlessly explored. Sacchi's free concept of duration and deep emotional feel brings her closer to Eliane Radigue and La Monte Young, especially for the long and sustained tones which are suddenly turned into pulsations and gritty sound textures. This LP record presents her first attempts in the field of electronic and concrete music, from the late '60 to 1972."

SACCHI, FRANCA: En - Artist's Multiple LP (DIES 004LP LTD). $190.00

"Special artist multiple, a limited edition of 60 vinyl records, whose cover is a thick wooden board in gold leaf, each individually hand drawn, signed and numbered by the author."

CILIO, LUCIANO: Dell' Universo Assente CD (DIES 007CD). $21.00

This developing Italian label is setting a new standard for high quality modern composer artifacting — extremely impressive! "Deluxe triple-folded CD digipak with the lost work of Luciano Cilio, a Neapolitan avantgarde composer who committed suicide in the early eighties and whose music is absolutely stunning, deep and melancholic, placed between avantgarde and the most adventurous prog. It includes the legendary Dialoghi del Presente 1977 LP along with several unreleased tracks; liner notes by Jim O'Rourke. 24 pages booklet." From O'Rourke's liner notes: "These recordings sound as they feel self contained, introspective, and determined, you can feel in the music a sort of necessity that can be rarely found, as in Bill Fay's Time of the Last Persecution or in Nick Drake's Pink Moon: this enormous weight that is bearing on it's creators, the absolute need to exorcise it from their lives, a moment in time where you are invited to hear artists truly in contact with their existence. Luciano Cilio holds that moment in time, an authentic emotional testament, something to be cherished..."

DIE STADT (GERMANY):

JACKMAN, DAVID: Verhalte Dich Ruhig CD (DS 16). $16.00

"Long time announced rerelease of a very rare cassette (edition of 61 copies only) from 1996. The two pieces (with a total playing time of about 30 minutes) can be seen as the first step into a direction which later developed into the 'Laus' 7inch (DS17), Sternklare Nacht CDR & Rabenfeld CDR (Flugzeug Schallplatten) and also the Machine Gun pieces. Found sounds (here a real orchestra) overlaid and altered making this a very strange listening experience indeed. 'For a live performance any number of musicians using any instrumentation play along with the tape as best they can' (from the liner notes of the cassette). Full color booklet. 700 copies."

RUTMAN'S STEEL CELLO ENSEMBLE, ROBERT: Zuhh!! Muttie Mum!! CD (DS 20). $19.00

"Born in 1932 in Berlin, Rutman lived for a long time in the US where he studied art between 1956-1992 and where he later in the 1970s founded the Steel Cello Ensemble featuring various players over the years. The music was produced on steel instruments like the Bow Chime or the Steel Cello that were built by Rutman himself earlier on. Up until today there have been a dozen solo and group releases. The players on this CD were Bob Rutman, Rudi Mose (drummer of Die Haut and Einstürzende Neubauten), Matthias Bauer and Carsten Tiedemann."

JACKMAN, DAVID: Machine Guns 7" (DS 26). $12.00

"Two new tracks using the archive recordings of the Imperial War Museum in London as a sound source. Again, these recordings mark another departure from his previous work and are bound to leave some people confused. Edition of 400 copies."

JACKMAN, DAVID: Machine Gun Fighting 10" (DS 29). $19.00

"Third release (following Machine Guns 7" on Die Stadt and the Gun, Machine Vickers, 303-inch, MK1 7" on Robot), using the original archive sound recordings of the Imperial War Museum London. This one features extensively treated material compared to the two 7"s. Four tracks with a playing time of about 17 minutes. Clear plastic sleeve. 500 copies."

ILLUSION OF SAFETY: In Opposition To Our Acceleration CD (DS 32). $17.00

"A provocative 74 minute blend of ambient & improv. Using electronic synthesis, computer manipulation, musical references, manipulated instruments, amplified objects and subtle use of location recordings these primarily live pieces provide ambience as the term is truly defined — 'the distinctive atmosphere surrounding or suffusing person, place or thing'. This CD however contains no unwelcome surprise attacks, no abrupt shifts in character, and no abrasive passages. Gentle textures, subtle ambience & found sounds that may be described as uneasy beauty permeate these 8 unreleased live tracks (from 1996, 1997, 2001), and single studio composition 'Stillpoint' (2001). Referencing external & enhancing internal locations, manipulating semi-recognizable elements in structures of a re-arranged language of error. Destroyed music, broken sound, disturbed ambience, and the quest for the sublime. Released in an oversize folio including 6 double sided postcards featuring the abstract, unmanipulated photography of IOS founding member Dan Burke."

KONTAKT DER JÜNGLINGE: 1 CD (DS 34). $16.00

"The first in a series of Live CD recordings by Kontakt Der Jünglinge a collaborative project by Asmus Tietchens & Thomas Köner. This one features their very first performance which took place on the 17. December 1999 in the Lagerhaus/Bremen. An approx. 46 min. long track that reveals something new with each listen. Edition of 500 copies with b/w bookprinted paper covers."

JACKMAN, DAVID: Eisen 10" (DS 35). $15.00

"Brand new work by David Jackman. Two new collage pieces (two variations of the same track) of found sound samples, this time of an powerful & unsettling nature. 500 copies with silver/black labels in plain black cover with centre hole."

MIRROR: Islands 2LP (DS 37). $25.00

"Atmospheric new work by Andrew Chalk & Christoph Heemann & Andreas Martin. Four studio tracks on record One plus the live recording of their second show in Texas last year on record Two. This double LP comes in a heavy gatefold cover feat. artwork by both artists. Edition of 1000 copies. "...Against the sky in the west, where still lingered the sunset gold, we saw the wild toss of the horizon, shaggy with forest and cliff, gripping the heart like the motive in a symphony, and sending the sense of beauty all a-shiver through the mind-all these surrounding islands standing above the water like low clouds, and like them seeming to post along silently into the engulfing night. We heard the musical drip-drip of the paddle, and the little wash of our waves on the shore, and then suddenly we found ourselves at the opening of the lagoon again, having made the complete circuit of our home..." — Algernon Blackwood The Camp of The Dog.

KONTAKT DER JÜNGLINGE: 0 CD (DS 39). $16.00

"This is the second part of the ongoing series (the third part has already been recorded last April in Bremen) of live performances by Kontakt Der Jünglinge the collaborative project by renowned sound sculptor's Thomas Köner & Asmus Tietchens. 0 was recorded inside the 'M.S. Stubnitz' a ship situated in the harbour of Rostock, Germany. Much more 'basic' in the use of sounds than their first CD 1 the 43 min. long track creates a more dense & dark atmosphere with occasional rhythmic additions, seeming to reflect the space it was recorded in. Edition of 1000 copies in bookprinted black & white cover."

ORCHESTRA TERRESTRIAL: Here And Elsewhere CD (DS 40). $21.00

"Die Stadt is very proud to announce its first release by Richard H. Kirk, a man who hardly needs any introduction. As an original member of the legendary Cabaret Voltaire he's producing innovative electronic music for more than 25 years influencing a host of followers up until today. Since Cabaret Voltaire was put to a hold by Kirk and Mallinder in the mid 90's he released numerous recordings under various other names (Sandoz, Electronic Eye, Blackworld to name just a few). He's following this tradition with the release of his latest recordings on the Orchestra Terrestrial Here and Elsewhere CD for Die Stadt. It's the end result of Kirk's recent rediscovery of classical music, inspired by Wagner, Debussy, Mozart as much as by electronic music. Much more ambient in style than his recent other works, it shows him creating dense soundtrack like atmospheres which range from orchestral sections to more rhythmic tracks which are all typical Kirk. Displaying artwork by Naked Art and The Designers Republic this 62 min. long CD comes in a 6 panel digisleeve with special printing incl. 6 color postcards. Limited edition of 1000 numbered copies."

DIGITAL TERRESTRIAL: Aural Illusions 12" (DS 41). $15.00

"Based around digital lock grooves this work by Digital Terrestrial is also observed by composers like Steve Reich (Minimalist/Systems music) and will eventually be performed by a String Quartet. It could be thought of more as a piece of conceptual art rather than just a piece of music. This vinyl only release could well be described as 'a lock groove record without the lock grooves...'. Playing time over 38 minutes. Limited edition of 500 copies on heavy clear vinyl in clear plastic cover."

PRIME, MICHAEL: Requiem LP (DS 42). $18.00

"A new album by Michael Prime who is another prolific sound composer for many years. Being an active member of Morphogenesis he also collaborated with among others: David Jackman/Organum, Jim O'Rourke, Eddie Prevost, David Toop, Adam Bohman. He's also one half of Negative Entropy a collaborative project with G. Feyton (Noise Makers Five). Recorded between December 1998 and December 2000 Requiem is one of his most intense works so far and quite different from his more environmental studies. Dedicated to M, H and L. Pressed on 180 gram vinyl the record is coming in a full color gatefold sleeve. Limited edition of 700 copies."

TIETCHENS, ASMUS: Leuchtidioten 10" (DS 44). $15.00

"This new release features two 'rhythmic' tracks that were recorded during the 'Teilungen' sessions (which appeared on CD as 'a-Menge' and 'b-Menge' on Ritornell) but were not used for these albums as Tietchens regarded them as too different to the other pieces and therefore decided to have them released on their own. Limited edition of 500 copies."

JACKMAN/PHILIP SANDERSON, DAVID: Terrain 10" (DS 47). $15.00

"Two archive tracks. Side A features an unreleased version of 'Terrain'. The original version of this track appeared on their very rare (maybe less than 25 copies) '0 Degrees North' cassette only release from 1982 on Aeroplane Records (AR4). The B-Side features the David Jackman solo track 'Adrift' which originally appeared on another rare cassette single (also released in an edition of about 25 copies) 'Ritual / Offshore' on Snatch Tapes (Phillip Sanderson's own label) in 1981. Limited edition of 500 copies."

KONTAKT DER JÜNGLINGE: -1 CD (DS 48). $17.00

"Part three of the series of live CD's by the ongoing Köner/Tietchens project. -1 will feature their second performance at the Lagerhaus 28.4. 2001. For everyone who liked 1 and 0 this is not to be missed. Again it shows their mutual talent of building a sound landscape of striking depths that if the listener is willing will draw him in further and further with every new listen. The CD comes in a bookprinted cover in an edition of 1000 copies."

MONOS: Nighfall Sunshine CD (DS 49). $17.00

"Monos is Darren Tate (of ORA) and Colin Potter (who besides also being a member of ORA collaborated with Steven Stapleton on several Nurse With Wound albums. 5 tracks based on field recordings by Darren Tate which were then electronically processed in the studio by Colin Potter. Dark & sometimes dense soundscapes all displaying a strange spelling beauty. Both artists regard this as their finest work so far. The full color CD comes in a full color digipack with clear tray. Limited edition of 700 copies."

ILLUSION OF SAFETY & THOMAS KÖNER: Heartmath/Col de Vence 7" (DS 50). $11.00

"A limited 7" released feat. exclusive tracks by both artists. Edition of 400 numbered copies. 'Heartmath' is a typical IOS track using 'found music' which mutates into a quiet pulsating soundscape and back to the beginning (ending with a lock groove). 'Intro/Col de Vence' was performed by Thomas Köner in full length (60 min.) and in quadrophonic sound at the concert. A beautifully atmospheric track that can be seen as a further progression from his great Unerforshtes Gebiet pic LP."

ILLUSION OF SAFETY: More Violence and Geography CD (DS 52). $15.00

"The rerelease of their very first LP from 1988 on CD, including an unreleased 11 minute live bonus track from early 90's. The cover will feature new artwork by Dan Burke and the CD will come in a printed folder in plastic sleeve. Total edition will be 700 copies. The 11 tracks display a much rawer and more 'industrial' feel with the use of harsh found sounds and voices, compared to recent works."

JACKMAN, DAVID: Flak 10" (DS 53). $16.00

"New release by David Jackman and the first of four 10"s to be released on Die Stadt in 2003 (though this is not a series). Side A features 'Flak' which consists of a multilayered mix of harsh sounds (similar to some of his works as Organum) whereas side B 'Wietzendorf' is a straight field recording. Edition of 500 copies."

MIRROR: Die Spiegelmanufaktur CD (DS 54). $19.00

"A new CD release by Mirror, produced by Andrew Chalk, Jim O'Rourke and Christoph Heemann in 2002/03. This is the extended CD version of their limited edition picture LP on Die Stadt (DS46) feat. a 17 min. long bonus track which didn't appear on the vinyl version. The CD comes in a special dyecut sleeve and features parts of the original artwork. Edition of 1000 copies. 'Although somewhat imposing on its own terms, the factory occupied only the most obtrusive place within the grey emptiness of its surroundings, its presence amounting to no more than a faint smudge of color upon a desolate horizon. No road led to the factory, nor were there any traces of one that might have led to it at some time in the distant past. If there ever had been such a road it would have been rendered useless as soon as it arrived at one of the four sides of the factory, even in the days when the facility was in full operation. The reason for this was simple: no doors had been built into the factory, no loading docks or entranceways allowed penetration of the outer walls of the structure, which was solid brick on all four sides without even a single window...'"

TIETCHENS, ASMUS: Adventures In Sound/Nachtstücke 2CD (DS 55). $23.00

"First in a series of 18 CD's aiming to make available all early vinyl albums by Asmus Tietchens between 1980-1991 on CD. Each release feat. the original tracks (sometimes extended/original versions) + unreleased bonus tracks from the same recording period, original artwork + accompanying texts by Tietchens. This — the only 2CD in the series — feat. his very first album Nachtstücke from 1980 (incl. 4 bonus tracks) + a 2nd CD with archive material recorded with his long time friend Okko Bekker between 1965-1969. These are the first works in Tietchens long career as a sound artist and were never released before. Edition of 1000 copies in jewelcase with full color poster booklet. About the artist: Asmus Tietchens started recording music as early as 1965 (documented here on Adventures In Sound) though his first release only appeared 15 years later (Nachtstücke). Ever since then he stayed very productive and had numerous cassette, vinyl and CD releases on numerous labels (Sky, United Dairies, Dom, Staalplaat, Ritornell and Die Stadt to name just a few). He has collaborated with various other like minded artists such as Okko Bekker, Cluster, Conny Plank, Terry Burrows, Liquidiski, David Lee Myers (Arcane Device) and most recently with Thomas Köner who is one half of their ongoing collaborative project Kontakt Der Jünglinge."

KÖNER, THOMAS: Unerforshtes Gebiet CD (DS 56). $18.00

"First solo release by Thomas Köner for Die Stadt. The recordings started in 1997 and were completed in October 2001 though the idea for this project using a found map which became the artwork already surfaced back in 1987. Thomas Köner about Unerforshtes Gebiet: 'The basic material for this composition was dust. A dusty piece of blank 16mm film was played in a film projector and recorded as light tone / sound. These recordings served me as an inspiration and basic sound material for Unerforshtes Gebiet'. The CD features the two tracks that originally appeared on the picture LP (DS43) released in 2002 plus an unreleased bonus track. It was not specially recorded for this CD and can be seen as a separate work of its own. The 27min. long Les Soeurs Lumière is a soundtrack for a video presentation by Karen Vanderborght and was recorded in 2000. Although different in sound it suits the icy atmospheres of Unerforshtes Gebiet perfectly well."

HAFER TRIO, THE: No Man put Asunder. Part the Second CD (DS 58). $19.00

"Second part of the trilogy (the first part Cleave. 9 Great Openings was released by Nextera in early 2003 and the third part to follow late 2003 also on Nextera again). One of the most drone based works by The Hafler Trio so far this is a different version of Cleave adding a darker aspect to the first part. Housed in a special cover (embossed special paper) with enclosed booklet. Edition of 1500 copies."

TIETCHENS, ASMUS: Biotop CD (DS 61). $19.00

"Second in the rerelease series presenting the first of four albums that were issued by Sky Music in the early 80's. Incl. 2 unreleased bonus tracks. 1000 copies with poster booklet in jewel case. With the release of this album, a 3 year interlude began which was dominated by the use of Roland 'CompuRhythm' drum-machine. In addition, I discovered new sounds and playing possibilities on the Moog which considerably expanded my creative armoury. I also added a conceptual self-limitation: no track should be more than four minutes long. In the end, the majority of the pieces on the first two Sky albums actually clocked in at under three minutes each. In the opinion of my musical mentor Okko Bekker, their sparseness and short length evoked the impression of radio time-signals (Radio-Zeitzeichen), a form of acoustic station identification which was already obsolete by then. This reference provided me with the name for my accompanying orchestra, which consisted solely of musicians from the experimental music scene in Hamburg. Because of the total absence of bass lines the commercial potential of the pieces was virtually non-existent. The album was recorded on an 8-track Otari tape-machine. The Eventide digital harmonizer and the Ursa Major 'Space Station' reverb-machine also played a part. All of the pieces were recorded in 1980." — Asmus Tietchens, 2003.

ORGANUM: Vacant Lights/Rara Avis 2CD (DS 62). $24.00

"Jochen Schwarz / Die Stadt is very delighted to announce the re-release of 'Vacant Lights' one of his all time favourite works by David Jackman, in combination with a second CD comprising of five unreleased or hard to find tracks entitled 'Rara Avis'. David Jackman, active since the late sixties as a member of The Scratch Orchestra and later with many solo works and under the name Organum with changing line-ups, was supported on these recordings by some of the main collaborators during this Organum phase: Dinah Jane Row, Jim O'Rourke, Eddie Prevost (AMM), Christoph Heemann (H.N.A.S.), Robert Hampson (Main) as players and Steven Stapleton (NWW) and Peter McGhee in the studio. Most of the recordings on these two CD's show the more contemplative side of the Organum sound, the main characteristic being Jackman's playing of various types of bamboo flutes some of which were actually made by David Jackman. Edition of 600 copies in 4 panel full color digisleeve."

KONTAKT DER JÜNGLINGE: n CD (DS 63). $19.00

"Fourth part in the ongoing series of live collaborations by Thomas Köner & Asmus Tietchens. This marks the end of the first phase in their mutual work feat. the familiar 'classic' cover style. The music was recorded on the 28. May 2002 at the 'Stedelijk Museum' in Amsterdam and shows the two treading on quieter grounds this time. Edition of 1000 copies."

DUNCAN/C.M. VON HAUSSWOLFF/LEIF ELGGREN, JOHN: Untitled 7" (DS 64). $12.00

"Released in conjunction with a live performance that took place at the 'Lagerhaus' Bremen on 26. September 2003. Exclusive tracks by all three artists. John Duncan's 'The Gossamer Dispatch' is another fine example of his work with Shortwave sounds and a sort of more aggressive version of his acclaimed 'Phantom Broadcast' CD. C.M. von Hausswolff delivers a spoken word piece for the first time 'The way The Breeze Lays'. 'The Gobblestone Is The Weapon Of The Proletariat. No 8' by Leif Elggren is a short but powerful example of his vibrating music. Edition of 500 numbered copies in color fold-out cover."

DUNCAN, JOHN: Da sich die Machtgier CD (DS 65). $19.00

"A new CD by John Duncan which is completely based on recordings of Asmus Tietchens voice. Edition of 1000 copies in digipack cover with insert."

TIETCHENS, ASMUS: Spat-Europa CD (DS 68). $21.00

"Part Three in the ongoing rerelease series of all early vinyl albums from 1980 - 1991, this is Tietchens second album for SKY Records recorded in 1981 documenting his search for his own style of 'pop music'. Edition of 1000 copies in jewel case with poster booklet feat. the original cover artwork." "Even more consistently than on Biotop I kept all of the tracks on this album deliberately short. Originally, all of them were supposed to be exactly two minutes in length but, back then, without a computer, this was not really possible and the idea could not be carried out precisely. Nonetheless, this strict concept gave the listener a total of twenty miniatures, four more than on Biotop." — Asmus Tietchens 2003.

KONTAKT DER JÜNGLINGE: Frühuin 3" CD/BOX (DS 69). $24.00

"A box to hold all four parts of the series (previously released individually as: 1, 0, -1, n — aka DS 34/39/48/69) plus a mini 3" CD for the first time featuring studio material by Köner and Tietchens. Limited edition of 500 copies." Just to clarify — this is just the box to store the 4 individual albums listed above, which must be purchased separately, plus an exclusive 3" CD of new music.

TIETCHENS, ASMUS: In die Nacht CD (DS 72). $21.00

Fourth part in the rerelease series of all early vinyl albums by Asmus Tietchens on CD. This is the third of the SKY albums from 1982 incl. three bonus tracks of unreleased material not included on the original LP. "I found myself trying to square the circle, wanting to have the rich detail of my short works at the same time as creating longer pieces. This experiment, an equivalent to doing the splits, was only partly successful. It is not really possible to create pieces of six minutes or more from ideas which are only adequate for tracks of three minutes, unless one is willing to risk musical redundancy or, worse, long-windedness. In retrospect, the four central tracks of In die Nacht are too long for the material from which they are built. Back in 1982 though, my opinion was different. Nonetheless, I did gain my first insight into the rules of time and proportion, even though I was not able to handle them perfectly." — Asmus Tietchens, 2004.

ORGANUM: Ein schwärzeres Schwarz 7" (DS 73). $13.00

"The two tracks featured here are a further development from the Die letzte Musik vor dem Krieg 7" (DS70) using the new work with piano sounds and it's one of the best works of Organum yet in our opinion. Edition of 500."

Z'EV/THOMAS KÖNER & ULRICH KRIEGER: Untitled 2X7" (DS 75). $18.00

"Four exclusive tracks. Released in conjunction with a live performance at the 'Lagerhaus' Bremen on 17. April 2004. Record One features two very dynamic untitled tracks by legendary 'industrial' percussionist Z'ev recorded and mixed in early 2004, while record Two features 'Zerfall Gebiete' a new collaborative project by Thomas Köner and Ulrich Krieger (former Zeitkratzer member who besides his solo work also plays in various other projects e.g. in a band project called Text Of Light with Lee Ranaldo, DJ Olive, William Hooker and others). The two atmospheric tracks mark the very beginning of their mutual work and are a promise of more great work to come."

DIFFERENT DRUMMER (UK):

PAINTED VAN: The Return Of Tyrone Tibbs CD (DIF CD2). $15.00

"Painted Van is Scott Tinsley, ascending from dancefloor success with the Cleveland City label to record an album for Different Drummer that fuses funk with deep dark hip-hop beats to convey a summertime on the chain gang feeling, a stunning and passionate re-interpretation of the blues from a cheap sampling keyboard, a home made mixing desk and pair of old BSR decks. You could call it street music for the 21st century, a breath of fresh air in the rarified realms of electronica, a timely and radical synthesis of hip-hop, jazz, rare groove and house — or you could just listen to the music."

DORFMEISTER, RICHARD: Presents A Different Drummer Selection CD (DIF CD24). $16.00

"Now is the time to reflect on a glowing back catalogue. Who better to choose the plates and glide this selection on its natural way than the legendary Richard Dorfmeister (of Kruder & Dorfmeister and Tosca fame) accompanied by some lyrical runnings from the inimitable Farda P, featuring some classic moments from the past and a few new surprises this one's geared up and ready to roll. The Dub science on this selection, lovingly shaped and meshed by Mr. Dorfmeister, proves the versatility of the genre. Ranging from the shimmering soundwash of the opener from (the admirably monickered) Frankie Valley to the acknowledged studio supremacy of G-Corp, this audioscape is a rich a varied one. It is able to morph and to re-invent itself, taking on any number of musical guises, as the playlist in your hands will amply demonstrate. Echo and repeat. Crashing out through quality rigs from Kingston to Kingswinford."

LOOP TROOP: King Of Disco'in CD (DIF CD3). $15.00

"Loop Troop is Scott Tinsley, who makes albums that are not slick, but dirty and raw, electronica from the street on an experimental hip-hop tip. One of the new generation of post hip-hop sound sorcerers who are combining the bass pressure of dub with radical mixology, Loop Troop plays with low end textures and spoken word samples, offering us an album that stands as a metaphor for what architect Rem Koolhaas calls 'the culture of congestion'. With it's pressure cooker aesthetic and dirty timbres, deconstructed grooves and sparse, hypnotic melodies, The King Of Disco'in shows us the light at the end of the illiberal tunnel. Loop Troop rhythm manifesto: to break down sound barriers, season the musical manna with disparate hip-hop flavours from old and new school, and top it all off with a generous dose of dub sensibility."

PRE FADE LISTENING: Way Back Home CD (DIF CD5). $15.00

"Dub music is like a long echo delay, looping through time. Regenerating every few years, sometimes so quiet that only a disciple could hear, sometimes shatteringly loud, dub unpicks music, spreading out a song or a groove over a vast landscape of peaks and deep trenches, extending the hooks and beats to vanishing point. The loop is strong at the moment, with the dub factor apparent in the work of many of the more interesting artists of recent years. When you double or dub, you replicate, reinvent, make one or many versions. There is no such thing as an original mix, since music stored on multi-track tape, samples or floppy disc is just a collection of bits. The composition has already been decomposed by the technology. This musical revolution stemmed originally from Jamaica — in particular the tiny studio once run by the late King Tubby in Kingston. Sometimes we still underestimate the profound influence of reggae: it's brilliant, skewed methodology, it's confusing stellar panoply of engineers, DJs, producers, musicians, stars and crooks. The resurgence came through electronic music. Crews such as Pre Fade Listening from Hannover, Germany, have successfully integrated Dub into MIDI-based music, to create a kind of electronic music that recognises black science fiction and street culture as an essential component of European electronica. Long delay, short delay, space echo, reverb, flange, phase, noise gate, echo feedback, shotgun snare, rubber bass, zipping highs, cavernous bottom; the effects displace time, shift the beat, heighten a mood, suspend a moment. No coincidence that the nearest approximation to dub is the sonar transmit pulses, reverberations and echoes of underwater echo ranging. Urban, rural, tropic, aquatic, lo-tech, mystical, using the mixing board as a pictorial instrument, establishing the illusion of a vast soundscape and then dropping instruments in and out like characters in a drama. Different Drummer — where some things have to be believed to be seen." Limited stock.

DIGITAL HARDCORE (UK):

VA: Harder Than The Rest!!! CD (DHR 002 CD). $14.00

VA: Harder Than The Rest!!! 2LP (DHR 002 LP). $15.00

EC8OR: CD (DHR 003 CD). $14.00

First full length from 1995. The duo of Patric C. + Gina (programming, lyrics, vocals). All tracks produced on Amiga 500.

EMPIRE, ALEC: The Destroyer CD (DHR 004 CD). $14.00

The first Alec Empire solo album on DHR, recorded 1994-96.

DE BABALON, CHRISTOPH: If You're Into It, I'm Out Of It CD (DHR 008 CD). $14.00

1997 classic.

EC8OR: World Beaters CD (DHR 009 CD). $14.00

"Patric C. and Gina D'Orio formed Ec8or in 1995 after meeting at a DHR show in Berlin. The first track they put down was 'Discriminate Against The Next Fashionsucker You Meet — It's A Raver'. Realizing they had the same opinions about music they decided to carry on working together. Ec8or's new album World Beaters was recorded in Patric and Gina's flat in Berlin, features a cover of 'Dirt' by Iggy & The Stooges. In common with other DHRartists there is a strong political motivation behind their music and lyrics, and one hell of a great noise."

VA: Riot Zone CD (DHR 010 CD). $14.00

Compilation of deleted tracks from Alec Empire's Digital Hardcore label. Features Atari Teenage Riot, Shizuo, Ec8or, Alec Empire, Patric C, Bomb 20, Hanin Elias, DJ Mowgly & Christoph de Babalon. "Riot Zone is not so much the greatest hits as the greatest ifs...largely if more people had bought them at the time. In their perpetual impetus to create new music, Digital Hardcore deletes singles as soon as they get bored with them and move on to the next. Many a long unobtainable gem therefore resurfaces on Riot Zone, especially for those who are just catching up."

BOMB 20: Field Manual CD (DHR 015 CD). $15.00

"A blueprint for the eruption of teenage rage. Bomb operates on numerous levels. First, his collages of words and phrases from films, adverts and records are strung together into violent, political expressions of frustration and anger. He grew up in the world of the modern media, and having been inundated with glib messages is now spitting them back. The music explodes out of his bedroom with an intensity and power that scares the listener. He builds on a thorough understanding of hip hop and breakbeats and adds a torrent of samples, as if he has spoken the language of infobytes since birth."

LOLITA STORM: Girls Fucking Shit Up CD (DHR 023 CD). $20.00

"Fifteen tracks in less than thirty minutes. Two minute blasts of passion, lust, and depravity. A joyfully vicious celebration of girls getting their own way and to hell with what anyone thinks. With complete disregard for conventional songwriting and sound quality the album explodes with great pop tunes that worm their way inside your head and then progressively destroy neural connections until your brain is pulp and the only signal it can send is the one that puts a stupid smile on your face."

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT: Revolution Action CD (DHR 024 CD). $10.00

"The first track to be taken from their new album, 60 Second Wipe Out. A shuddering juggernaut of high impact punk 'n' roll that will give you hearing problems, brain damage and a bloody great grin. Also features two exclusive mixes of new tracks from the forthcoming album, along with a live version of 'Hunt Down the Nazis'."

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT: Revolution Action 12" (DHR 024 EP). $10.00

ELIAS, HANIN: In Flames 12" (DHR 025 EP). $10.00

With one extra track exclusive to the 12". Limited stock.

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT: Too Dead For Me CD (DHR 026 CD). $9.00

"The second track to be taken from 60 Second Wipeout. Also featured exclusively on this EP is a remix of 'Anarchy 999', live versions of 'Revolution Action' and 'No Remorse', and on CD only, the MTV banned video for 'Revolution Action'. Atari Teenage Riot are now being recognized in the UK as a crucial force in music, smashing sonic barriers, changing attitudes, and rendering everything else boring and dull. At last, the return of some music your parents can hate and an invigorating noise sounding the belated death knell for Brit pop."

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT: Too Dead For Me 12" (DHR 026 EP). $10.00

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT: Redefine The Enemy CD (DHR 034 CD). $14.50

"Redefine The Enemy! Digital Hardcore releases rare mixes and b-sides from one of the most influential electronic/rock artists Atari Teenage Riot. Packaged in an embossed silver tin and containing an 8 page booklet featuring rare photos, this package is a must for all ATR and hard electronic fans."

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT: 60 Second Wipe Out 2CD (DHR 2021 CD). $25.00

Special UK-only limited double CD version of the new ATR album; will be issued as a single CD in the US, but this UK version features a bonus live disc, recorded recorded in Philadelphia on the last night of their previous US tour. Nine extra tracks; only available for initial copies. "Atari Teenage Riot's third album. Produced by Alec Empire, mixed by Andy Wallace, and featuring guest appearances from Kathleen Hanna of Bikini Kill, Dino Cazares of Fear Factory and new Matador hip hop act, The Arsonists. The ultimate adrenaline charged slap in the face for slackerdom, songs on 60 Second Wipeout range from punk anthems like recent single 'Revolution Action' through the hip hop beats of 'Western Decay' to the total sonic assault of 'Digital Hardcore'."

ATARI TEENAGE RIOT: 60 Second Wipe Out 3LP (DHR 2021 LP). $23.00

UK-only triple LP version, with the same extra live material as found on the 2CD version.

EMPIRE VS MERZBOW, ALEC: Alec Empire vs Merzbow Live CBGB's NYC 1998 CD (DHR LTD12). $13.00

"The legendary show now out on CD. Alec Empire meets the godfather of noise Merzbow at CBGB's in New York City, the home of true underground rock. Empire shows off his DJ skills with obscure scratching techniques and hard breaks, while Masami Akita (aka Merzbow) is painting the apocalypse with shapes of white noise. In 1998 critics celebrated this concert as the defining end-point of the popular music era of the 20th century."

ELIAS, HANIN: In Flames: Remixes EP 12" (DHR M029). $9.00

ELIAS, HANIN: In Flames: Remixes EP CD (DHR MCD029). $9.00

"A new EP from DHR featuring an eclectic selection of remixes, showing a new perspective to Hanin Elias. Wijja's Le Tigre (Kathleen Hanna & Johanna Fateman)'s take on 'Girl Serial Killer' mixes Hanin's sinister vocals with a zinging guitar/keyboard/Casio affair, transforming the song into a rather bizarre pop hit. Nic Endo's 'Slaves' remix is utterly different, a total head fuck. Less 'White Heat', more She Satellites, it's a wash of noise and sex. The two 'In Flames' remixes are not poles apart, both of them transforming their respective song into a far colder picture. While CDB mixes his dark, wild breaks, Audiowhores's is like sitting in a freezer with Hanin whispering through the door. Hanayo's 'Girl Serial Killer' remix is just plain weird, and raises the anxiety pitch like Suicide's 'Frankfurt Teardrop' — where do these ideas come from?"

NINTENDO TEENAGE ROBOTS: We Punk Einheit! CD (DHR LTD008CD). $16.00

"Alec Empire's quasi-efficient attempt to cash in on the 'bu-ku-bucks' being made in the professional video-game-audio-plunder world (population:18). 'Two movements attacking each other with the sound of static bleeps. One gameboy scene is putting up exhibitions at art galleries — overproduced melodic gameboy songs with reverbs and delays... The other scene called 'out' is doing abstract futuristic cold atmospheric dance parties at disco clubs". File under the former; no DHR-pummel here, just the innocent/raw/unfettered 8-bit tones of Nintendo's classic all-ages challenge-box; unedited & unfiltered melodies & rhythmic trinkets for your extended listening pleasure." — Hrvatski.

NINTENDO TEENAGE ROBOTS: We Punk Eihnheit! 2LP (DHR LTD008LP). $17.00

DIGITAL NARCIS (JAPAN):*BEHRENS, MARC: Contraction CD (DNCD 006). $18.00

"Features three compositions from 1997-99. Parts centering around field recordings in forests, and creating a very dense and deep atmosphere, took about two years to complete. The cover of the CD as well as the text quotation from Thomas Pynchon's book Mason & Dixon point to his slightly mysterious view of nature. G.Stefani's front cover photograph of plant layers in a friulian forest, the author's photograph of a circular formation of a liana's root in a similar forest correspond to the recordings used in the pieces 'Scrutto' and 'ecular Air'. Those that were made at the Hohemark (Taunus Hillside, Germany) were made close to an old Celtic settlement with sacrificial groves. A different perception of time (long, nearly motionless periods) established during field recordings in this forest with its intense history. The music reintegrates such recordings with others made in a similar hillside in Italy (Valli dei Natisoni, Friuli), also with a similarly intense history, as well as natural and electronically manipulated sound. In parts it is also characterized by periods in which arrangements change only in details. 'Scenes for Contraction', on the contrary, consists of totally different sound material, electronically modified to a big extent, organized in five rather short scenic parts. The sound spectrum here is sharp, straightforward, simpler than in 'Scrutto' and 'Secular Air', in which lots of facets of the single elements and their combinations can be discovered by intense, contemplative listening."

VA: Blue Cubism: Transcoded Audio Structures CD (DNCD 007). $16.00

"Two years in the making, Blue Cubism: Transcoded Audio Structures is a who's who of contemporary electronic music composers. These composers represent the cutting edge of the 'glitch' movement, and their work is a testament to the unique (mis)application of new software synthesis tools. Many of these artists work with minimal computer systems and make use of shareware programs created by music technology students. All the source material for these pieces was taken from the CD Bluecube by Kim Cascone, which was released on Rastermusic in 1998. These treatments contain a variety of DSP signal obliteration techniques; from the layered granulated textures of Terre Thaemlitz and Mego artist Pita's signature number crunching fury, to the somer organic entropy of VVM, the work here is a top notch introduction to the post-digital genre of music known as 'glitch'. Join the 21st century, be a part of the future." Features: Terre Thaemlitz, Toru Yamanaka (Dumb Type) & Koji Marutani, Pita, *O, Robert Henke, Kim Cascone, VVM, Tetsu Inoue, Taylor Deupree, Nobukazu Takemura, Quest, John Hudak, Bochum Welt.

LABELLE/STEVE RODEN, BRANDON: The Opening of the Field CD (DNCD 008). $16.00

"The Opening of the Field presents a series of live studio improvisations that move quietly through the intimate surfaces of objects to the fragmented landscapes of field recordings. In this movement, from textured scrapings to electronic manipulations, the distinctness of objects and the processes of recordings clouds over to create a highly detailed sonic flow. The spaces of sounds and their origin are transposed onto an imaginary space where listening leads to many openings."

INADA & PHILIP SAMARTIZ, KOZO: f[] CD (DNCD 010). $13.00

"This CD is made from real time mixing of each other's favorite sound materials in Japan. The result is a very good meditative and at the same time tension-requiring sound. In the beginning, Kozo's drone sound is growing slowly and then Philip's field recording sound are mixed. In the middle, Kozo's flowing noise sounds get multilayered and at the same time Philip's sensitive sound fragments are inserted. In the end, beautifully well-composed sound developments may surprise listeners."

DIN (GERMANY):*DYNAMO: Aufenthalt 12" (DIN 01). $8.00

Somewhat confusing release that is either a reissue of the first Din from 1997 or a variant issue of the same with new material. The official description says: "The A-side of the limited 'Traktor' EP & 2 new tracks."

DYNAMO: Aussen Vor / Voraus 12" (DIN 02). $9.00

"Finest German techno release, typical Basic Channel sound."

VA: Rft 12" (DIN 03VAR1). $9.00

Compilation of tracks from the Berlin-based Din/Chain Reaction axis, featuring: Traktor 9000, Dynamo & PS.

DYNAMO: 23' / 18' 12" (DIN 04). $9.00

"The return of Berlin's beatheads with a superb kickin' new 4 track EP. Tracklisting: A - 23', B ? 18'."

LOG: In/Out 12" (DIN 05). $8.00

"Yet another beat-freak joins the Din camp. This is his first release after the slamming remix of 'Außen Sor'."

AROVANE: AMX 12" (DIN ARO3). $9.00

'Arovane strikes again with a new 12" incl. two remixes. a: remix of Dynamo: 'außen vor' (din 02) b: remix of Various Artists: 'no.8' (fat cat 003)."

DYNAMO: Außen Vor CD (DIN CD01). $14.50

"After the highly successful Arovane Atol Scrap CD DIN proudly presents its 2nd artist album. Außen Vor is meant to show the evolution of the Dynamo project over the last half decade. The music of Dynamo consists of twisted post-electro-grooves combined with a variety of spaced out sound spheres, a perfect soundtrack for night-cruising, pure urban vibes. It contributes to the ever ongoing innovation process in the independent music scene. The album starts off with a sequence of three 'aufenthalt' tracks, originally released on the same titled EP, released in 1997 as the first official DIN record. Followed by 'Traktor Artists', a result of a hidden collaboration with Traktor, a now seemingly dead techno adventure. Done in 1995 this is one of the earliest works available. Next is 'aufenthalt 5', first released on Din's mini-compilation 'RFT'. 'Dynamo' is the project's theme tune, featured on the initial 'Death Delay EP' in 1996. It consists of what Dynamo is all about: tight and crispy grooves which are de- and reconstructed combined with a rather blue, sometimes gloomy atmosphere. 'Voraus 1' emphasizes Dynamo's love for twisted percussive tracks with a rather minimalistic sound aesthetic. It's taken from 'DIN 02' released in 1997. The next two tracks represent some of the latest works. '24' takes a heavy Miami bass alike vibe and combines it with crispy and dubby processed percussions, '19' is the tune with the strongest reference to classical techno. Both tunes are selected from the '23'/18' EP'. The album closes with 'Voraus 2', a moody groove that could go on forever. Außen Vor represents the first phase of Dynamo's ground breaking work."

DIRE:*WASSERSTOFF: Satie On Ecstasy CD (DIRE 776CD). $12.00

New Kompakt distributed album, limited information available so far. "Atmospheric abstract album! Invites you to an expedition!" 6 track, 34-minute mini-album.

WASSERSTOFF: Satie On Ecstasy LP (DIRE 776LP). $12.00

DIRTER PRODUCTIONS (UK):*RAMLEH: For Genie/Works III 2CD (DP 40). $22.00

140 minutes of material by this UK group. The material on Soundcheck Changeling (disc 1) was originally issued as a cassette companion to Ramleh's Homeless CD in some microscopic quantity. It is included here as a 2nd CD for the first 500 copies only.

MERZBOW: Slugbait CD (DP 43). $16.00

"This offering from Masami Akita, Japan's noisiest son, also features a contribution from English din-perverts Slugbait. The whole result is just about as extreme musically as you can get...the first 1000 copies arrive in a printed silver cigarette case."

MERZBOW: 24 Hours — A Day Of Seals 4CD (DP 50). $32.00

"To commemorate Dirter's 50th release, we are proud to issue this 4 CD set by Japanese noise legend, Merzbow. This incredible box set is Merzbow at it's most brutal, yet is also his most dynamic work to date. Layers and layers of full on psychedelic sonics combined with loops, and even guitar make this without a doubt the most satisfying Merzbow recording so far."

DIS HOUSE (UK):*HEIDELBERG PROJECT: Searchin 12" (DISUK 001). $9.00

"Famed electro producer Keith Tucker (Aux 88 / Puzzlebox etc.) presents the fresh sound of his new vocal house / techno imprint Dis House Records with 2 versions of 'Searchin'. The A-side version is a mesmeric combination of experimental groove construction and accessible vocal performance — truly a collaboration of man and machine in the fullest sense! The music is alien funk exemplified being an otherworldly house & techno amalgamation whilst the vocal performance is both heartfelt and soulful. Hard to describe but this has to be heard to be believed. The B-side is a remix by none other than Strand (Frictional / Delsin etc.) that continues the futuristic fusion vibe and high standard of the original although in his capable hands perhaps the mood is lighter and the feel funkier still. We at GMT feel both honoured and excited to be releasing these truly original productions into a dance arena that occasionally needs reminding that genres and boundaries should be pushed & explored from fresh angles and in unique ways, we think you'll agree."

DISFUNCTION (UK):*IDJUT BOYS: Compendium Vol. One CD (DFR 003 CD). $16.00

"Description: It has taken five years, twenty-odd singles and over one hundred Kilos of the finest bud money can buy but it's finally happened. London's dopest (and dopest) pair, Dan and Conrad Idjut, have mixed together their label's debut compilation. Cunningly titled Disfunction Records Compendium Volume One this seventy-plus minute journey takes in the entire range of the Disfunction catalog from the driving dub house disco of Chicken Lips' 'Shrinkwrap' mix to the lazy funk breaks of Tim Lee's 'Bhagwan Love Example' with consummate ease. But what this compilation does best of all is to mix a collection of diverse disco moments into the soundtrack for a night out on the tiles — Idjut Boy style."

AKWAABA: Too Shiny CD (DIS 004 CD). $15.00

"Too Shiny is Akwaaba's sophomore long-player and follows 2000's Do it Tomorrow. Akwaaba (it means 'welcome' in Ghanaian) are Paul Murphy, Tom Lee and Steve Kotey. They first caught up with Disfunction directors Dan and Conrad Idjut at the boys' legendary Saturday night residency at The Cross. Here they were introduced to the hypnotic boogie of DJs like Harvey, Dave Lee, Victor Simonelli and Hector Romero. It was an experience that left them hooked on twisted disco and determined to add their own special blend of head-funk to the world of dance music. From there they put together their debut twelve 'Phloxx' (Disfunction 004), a record that was immediately seized upon by Francois Kevorkian who turned it into an anthem at Body & Soul. Its DJs like Kevorkian that will be all over Too Shiny. From the bass-fuelled highs of 'Munkay' to the raw, Rhodes-y funk of 'Dudeos', this album is packed with the kind of trippy New York dub-dancing that finds it's way into the afterhours he plays. Yet this is not one just for the disco purists. Check the delightfully spacey 'Msafari' for a future chill-out classic or dip into the electro bass of 'Risque du Choc' for the kind of workout that'll fill the box of Kenny Hawkes and Kruder & Dorfmeister."

AKWAABA: Too Shiny 2LP (DIS 004 LP). $16.00

Double LP Version

DISCO BRUIT (GERMANY):*TIETCHENS/DAVID LEE MYERS, ASMUS: Flussdichte CD (EP 002). $15.00

"Flussdichte is the 3rd collaborative work of Hamburg's Musique Concrète éminence grise Armus Tietchens and New York City feedback meister David Lee Myers (formerly known as Arcane Device) after 1993's DBL FDBK on Stille Andacht and 1996's Speiseleitung on Raum 312. Myers' feedback matrix sounds created with homemade machines and computer are treated and arranged by Tietchens producing extremely subtle tracks/soundscapes reminiscent of works by Tod Dockstader, Microstoria or Nuno Canavaro."

DISCOS MARIPOSA (WORLD'S LEADING TERRORIST STATE):*ROCH, ERNAN: Con Las Voces Frescas CD (MCD5 0401). $17.00

"First time on CD for this extremely rare Rex label psychedelic classic (1971) from Mexico; terrific West Coast style psych, with melodic vocals and blasts of incredible fuzz guitar that seem to come out of nowhere; excellent album, whose current price for an original copy is around $1,000, if you can find a copy."

LOS SONADORES: La Vida CD (MCD5 0402). $17.00

"First reissue of this dreamy psychedelic rarity from 1972, said to be made by Spanish and Chilean musicians in the USA; don't know about that, but it was issued in the USA on Caytronic, and has been much sought after since then (see the Collector's Dreams books); some great beat ballads combined with trippy melodic psychedelic reveries; a band that was rightly named 'the Dreamers'."

DISCOS MELOCOTON (SPAIN):*CUATRO VIENTOS: Laberinto Interior LP (MEL 002). $15.00

Discovered a landful of copies lying around of this early 90s issue of this Spanish psych group from the late 70s. Numbered edition of 400 copies with insert and lyric booklet.

DISCOTHEQUE (UK):*BUDD, ROY: Vigilante! Roy Budd Cult Film Soundtracks 1971-1977 CD (DQF 003CD). $18.00

"Roy Budd is a one-off great in the world of '70s film music. Serving his apprenticeship at 16 on the London jazz circuit and as a regular on 'Sunday Night At The London Palladium', he landed his first film score in 1970 for the native American Indian epic, Soldier Blue. But it was the follow-up a year later that planted Budd firmly on the cult soundtrack map, Mike Hodges' Get Carter. Led by its superb haunting, tabla-drenched theme, Budd's soundtrack was the perfect foil for Michael Caine's stylishly ruthless journey through the Yorkshire underworld. Budd went on to score over 50 films in his lifetime, effortlessly moving from complex military orchestral arrangements to tense, minimal pieces using some of the most contemporary technology of the time. Vigilante: Roy Budd Cult Film Soundtracks 1971-1977 collects together the best loved side of Budd — the cool thriller scores that have become his trademark. Including several Michael Caine films (Get Carter, The Black Windmill, The Marseille Contract), blaxploitation star Richard Roundtree's cult favourite Diamonds, Charles Bronson's The Stone Killer and a handful of lesser known gems (Foxbat, The Intercine Project), this is Budd at his very best. For funky car chases, pin-sharp tension and classy loungecore, no one does it better. First ever comprehensive compilation of the cult funky detective/vigilante movie scores of one of the UK's greatest ever film composers. Includes new, exclusively commissioned remixes of Budd classics by Bobby Hughes Experience, Mitchell & Dewbury and Karminsky Experience. Compiled and annotated by '70s dance music aficionado and ex-Strut Records boss, Quinton Scott."

BUDD, ROY: Vigilante: Roy Budd Cult Film Soundtracks 1971-1977 2LP (DQF 003LP). $19.00

Double LP version, deluxe gatefold sleeve.

BUDD, ROY: Vigilante: Roy Budd Cult Film Soundtracks 1971-1977 12" (DQF 007EP). $8.00

The remixes will also be available on a separate promo 12" along with a previously unreleased Roy Budd original. Remixers: Bobby Hughes Experience, Karminsky Experience, Mitchell & Dewbury.

DISHY (UK):

SUNCOIL SECT: Counter Culture 12" (DISHY 36). $10.00

"Debut release from a new Bristol outfit recording cyclical, experimental, rhythm and groove based psychedelia (mainly instrumentals) which will appeal to Spacemen 3 and post-rock fans alike. This first EP comes with a remix by Third Eye Foundation who turn the track into an intense drum'n'bass drone, whereas the 'Joe Cool' remix is a more dub/beat-s'n'breaks, already compared to Weatherall's early work. Limited to 500."

VA: Pearl Necklace CD (DISHY 40 CD). $9.00

"Bargain 17 track CD for less than the price of a CD single. Features new, unreleased and exclusive tracks from Big Leaves, Bitter Springs, Soulbossa, Tram, Suncoil Sect, Lightspeed (will appeal to fans of Plone/Tipsy), Broken Dog (2 previous albums for Big Cag), Delta, Baby Birkin (produced by Russell Senior — ex-Pulp), Vic Godard, Tasha Lee (worked with Beth Orton), & Alpha (currently recording 2nd album for Massive Attack's Melankolic label)."

SUNCOIL SECT: We Want To Change Society 12" (DISHY 41). $9.00

Second single by this Bristol spacerock outfit. As with the previous one, features a Third Eye Foundation remix.

DISKO B (GERMANY):

SILICON SOUL: Pouti CD (DB 101 CD). $14.50

"The music of Silicon Soul is familiar to the international fans of the recording 'Who Needs Sleep Tonight' that was recently covered by Bob Sinclair and found its way on compilations of renowned labels like K7! and Compost and can be regarded as one of dance music's all time classics. Officially released in the United States in 1981, the song found its audience in such diverse locales as the new wave dance clubs of New York City and the underground gay discos in country music's capital Nashville, Tennessee. It was not until 1991 that the song became a European dance chart topper and dance club anthem when it was again released (this time coupled with a DJ Hell remix) as catalogue number 1 of the then new record label Disko B. At an imaginary artful point in time and space where Giorgio Moroder and Afrika Bambaataa meet Lena Lovich, Silicon Soul was conceived, its founding members O.Zone and Jolly III continue today as leaders of a band of silicon-based music machines. Pouti is a hidden milestone from the New York of the '80s which now finally can be discovered. The polyrhythmic electronic music embedding prolific song-writing and twisted vocals long before techno or electronica was established. This is a so-far-unreleased pearl coming from the vivid New York Underground scene of the early '80s."

SILICON SOUL: Pouti LP (DB 101 LP). $14.00

KIRLIAN: De Todas Partes CD (DB 102 CD). $15.00

"Abe has recorded under many names. Kirlian, Facil, Abe Duque, Super Secret Symphony, Monkey Spank, NYTK, and is the ring leader and originator of the Rancho Relaxo Allstars. De Todas Partes means from all parts and places. Referring to the universality of man and the plight of this one man to struggle to fit into a global picture. It is about world travels and world troubles. Four years in the making, De Todas Partes was recorded in many stops around the globe, including Vienna, Bogota, NYC, Munich, Morocco, and many more. De Todas Partes is about adventure and exploration. It is about the quest to feel home on planet earth. It is a coming of age story full of joy and sorrow. It is where east meets west and south becomes north. It is about that ageless question we all have beating inside our hearts. A question so deep that no one has even correctly formulated it yet. De Todas Partes is not about mankind or about modern society it is about life and its connected vanity. It is about the fact that even though there is nothing new under the sun every day feels like a new day. It is about nature. And how it does a great job at fooling you. It is about how if you don't let nature fool you don't feel complete. You get what you go for. This album is a milestone work for Abe Duque. Powerful music, extremely polished production, and a sprinkle of Kirlian magic make this album an instant classic."

KIRLIAN: De Todas Partes 2LP (DB 102 LP). $16.00

Double vinyl version.

VA: Heavy Hitters: Time 2 Jackk CD (DB 103 CD). $15.00

"The music speaks for itself. Sometimes it's a clean sound; sometimes it's a dirty sound... each release carves a unique and quality sound out of the wax. Chisel Records represents many sounds from house, electrotechno and rhythm traxx, from some of the most talented producers in Chicago/Detroit. And Disko B now partners with Chisel in bringing you this compilation series. Our milestone is a groove, pure 100% jackk sound for all occasions, club/DJ atmosphere friendly, medicine for your soul. So enjoy the classic sounds from their vault of Chisel Records. 'Never give up from all of the heavy hitters and Chisel Records...Hammer Out!' Featuring newcomers like House Marty and Dark Matrix alongside acclaimed DJs/producers like Norm Tally or L.A. Williams and even legends like Felix Da Housecat (appearing as Aphrohead)."

VA: Heavy Hitters: Time 2 Jackk 2LP (DB 103 LP). $16.00

Double vinyl version.

STARK, ALEK: Highway To Disko CD (DB 108 CD). $15.00

"The Disko B debut album of Spanish electro-pioneer Alek Stark. More than 15 years ago, Alek Stark started his career making music under the influence of his father's record collection, Giorgio Moroder and the first albums of Kraftwerk, Twilight 22, Cybotron or Afrika Bambaataa. His debut album is built around classic electro topics like machine-music and synthetic-sex but still manages to retain a fresh 2002 flavour."

SCHMIDT, TOBIAS: Hooray For Everything CD (DB 109 CD). $15.00

"Hooray For Everything is Tobias Schmidt's 4th solo album. Since 1996 he has released several EPs for Telepathic, Sativae, Drought, Mosquito, Scandinavia and Tresor while playing his live pa globally. His previous albums include Dark Of Heartness, Le Chimp Atomique and Destroy. Schmidt's musical career started in Scotland 10 years ago, mixing with the likes of Neil Landstrumm and Dave Tarrida (and many others...) while they all worked to get their studios and clubs off the ground. Moving to Brighton in 1999 brought fresh influences, not least from the No Future crowd (Cristian Vogel, Jamie Lidell, Super Collider and others) and provoked the birth of Schmidt's own label Nest as an outlet for broader scoped electronic music. Hooray For Everything sees a change of direction for Schmidt, moving into more 'musical' territory while keeping a 'techno'-intensity and concentration. The eleven tracks on this album, including 2 cover versions — Throbbing Gristle's 'Hot On The Heels Of Love' and more surprisingly the Delfonics soul-classic 'Ready Or Not (Here I Come)', mix a massive synthesizer attack with driving robo-funk drums to create a broody and dark electronic soul music with futuristic city-at-night-feel, both listenable to at home and playable in the clubs."

SCHMIDT, TOBIAS: Hooray For Everything 2LP (DB 109 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

BROKESCH, SUSANNE: So Easy, Hard To Practice CD (DB 110 CD). $14.00

"Austrian ambient/electronica composer Susanne Brokesch of a small-but-growing contingency of female producers releasing innovative experimental music in an unfortunately predominantly male field. Born in Austria and currently residing in New York, Brokesch has recorded as Sil, Sil Electronics, and under her own name for such labels as Cheap, Sähkö, Tension and Disko B. She has contributed tracks to a number of Austrian and European experimental music compilations, including the infamous Rancho Relaxo Allstars. Although she's never studied music formally, Brokesch's compositions are remarkable for their emphasis on acoustic instrumental sources such as guitars and percussion, which she then fuses with electronically generated soundscapes and minimal machine rhythms. Her debut full-length Sharing The Sunhat appeared in 1997, and was described by one critic as 'a cross between Oval and a (good) ECM record'. Susanne Brokesch describes So Easy, Hard To Practice as 'new age jazz' and gives us the following directions: 'My new CD is called So easy, hard to practice. It is very much influenced by the dusty sound of second hand opera recordings. And this you can imagine against the hunting grounds of space travel tragedies, dashing through the depths of interplanetary relations finding the quiet you can discover in a day spa, restaurant, car wash..."

PARALLAX CORPORATION, THE: Cocadisco CD (DB 111 CD). $15.00

"I-F is back on Disko B! His project The Parallax Cooperation (with Intergalactic Gary) is facing the new fashionable electro hype and thus decided to join forces with Disko B worldwide to free electro from the guccis and pradas and give it back its original sleaze, dirt, politics and attitude away from the catwalks. After some classic 12"es in the mid 90s and the groundbreaking albums Fucking Consumer (including the allover smash-hit 'Space Invaders Are Smoking Grass' which was recently quoted as a most important musical influence from Fischerspooner) and the man from p.a.c.k., The Parallax Corporation extends the 'Fucking Consumer'-topic and tell a story of manipulation, conspiracy and anti-social tendencies, inspired by the 70ies movie The Parallax View. Musically The Parallax Corporation add a grain of Italo-Disco and Funk to their refined Electro-formula. The album features vocals from Nancy Fortune and Mr. Melvin White as well as a genuine Italo remix from Milano by Fred Ventura. Coca Disco was previously released as limited edition CD-album on I-F's label Viewlxxx. The Disko B CD-edition contains one new and exclusive track called 'electrocash'."

PARALLAX CORPORATION, THE: Cocadisco 2LP (DB 111 LP). $16.00

"The vinyl version was not yet released as an album, some of the tracks are on limited edition 12"es on Viewlxxx. The Disko B double 12"-edition includes 1 new and exclusive track 'Your Image' and new and exclusive mixes of 'Whore on the Floor', 'Cybernetic Lover' and 'Burning Ignorance'."

ELECTRONICAT: Frisco Bay 7" (DB 112 EP). $8.00

"The first track from the forthcoming Electronicat album 21st Century Toy coming on 500 limited edition coloured vinyl/clear picture disc sleeve and postcard. Featuring exclusive non-album track 'Shake It'."

ELECTRONICAT: 21st Century Toy CD (DB 113 CD). $14.50

"Electronicat's mixture of laptop comfort and sweating hardware brought him to a point where his definition of electronic music coincides with a punk attitude and sometimes makes us feel like George Michael is running around yelling that Depeche Mode ripped off all his ideas. In between (almost...) biker rock anthems and glittering electronic ballads, you find the intensity which marked his efforts on his highly acclaimed Depeche Mode Remix ('Dead Of Night' released on Mute Records, 2002). Working with Gerhard Potuznik (G.D.Luxxe, also co-producer of Chicks On Speed) canalized Electronicat's almost schizophrenic devotion to noisy and pushing sounds. Accompanied at the microphone by Catriona Shaw (Queen Of Japan) the record develops intimate density and tipsy no-limit attitude resulting in a new brand of electronically expressed music which is best described as 'electric-glam-rock n roll'."

ELECTRONICAT: 21st Century Toy LP (DB 113 LP). $12.00

LP version.

MYSTERYMEN: Clapman 12" (DB 116 EP). $9.00

"Mysterymen is a new signing on Disko B. The Debutants steam from Newcastle, UK. The two youngsters arranged a compact diversity of Gary-Numan-touched slo-mo techno with a touch of Neo-90ies & Drone Pop. The 4-track 12" blooms around almost whistling bass-lines, whispering snares and is reminding of what once was called Shoegazing (why did no one realize in Techno before?) in stimulating new settings. If Drone and Techno didn't coincident in electronic music ago it will do now. 'Clapman' is pure teenage lust and best described as early Seefeel coming on land and wondering why they can breathe! Jump!"

NEULANDER: Sex, God & Money 10" (DB 119). $9.00

"Neulander is Adam Peters and Korinna Knoll. They live in and work out of New York City. A drum machine, 2 keyboards, a cello, a boy and a girl in gigantic baroque luscious minimalist overdrive. Adam the already knighted man of the stage and Korinna the astonishing new kid on the block. The New York Times describing Neulander as a hot tip for 2003: 'Neu taking on The Human League in battle' 'Neulander are melodic, unusually cool and slightly aloof'. Neulander write strong and defined songs whilst using deconstructed electronic arrangements. The music and the voice mesh together creating a timeless and almost ancient quality. The lyrics seem to suggest Russian poetry colliding with an abstract and personal response to the confusion of 21st century media culture."

NEULANDER: Smoke + Fire CD (DB 122CD). $14.50

"Neulander write strong and defined songs whilst using deconstructed electronic arrangements. The music and the voice mesh together creating a timeless and almost ancient quality. The lyrics seem to suggest Russian poetry colliding with an abstract and personal response to the confusion of 21st century media culture. DJ HELL: Geteert & Gefedert CD (DB 20CD). $14.50

2004 reissue of the debut DJ Hell album, originally issued in 1994. "DJ Hell (or simply Hell) has balanced Detroit minimalism and Chicago acid-house as well as more spacious German trance and hardcore. Beginning his mixing career while still a teenager, Hell moved through punk and new wave to electro, house and hip-hop by the mid-'80s. His DJing gradually led to the start of his production career, and one of his first singles, 'My Definition Of House Music' became a large club hit when reissued by Belgium's R&S Records in 1992. He moved to Berlin to work with Hardwax Records during 1993-94, and also spent time in New York before moving back to his native Munich. Besides releasing his album debut Geteert und Gefedert on Disko B in 1994, DJ Hell recorded a volume in the !K7 mix series 'X-Mix'. His second full-length Munich Machine also appeared on Disko B (via V2) in 1998." John Bush/AMG.

KHAN & WALKER: Schleichfahrt CD (DB 37). $15.00

1996 album of totally deep minimal pulsations by the Cologne techno duo of Walker & Khan. Heavily lo-ended and hypnotic; a personal favorite for the current Cologne angle.

KHAN & WALKER: Schleichfahrt 2LP (DB 37 LP). $16.00

KIRLIAN: Chicken Wings & Beef Fried Rice CD (DB 40 CD). $15.00

Kirlian is Abe Duque, from Hollis, NY. He's recorded for the illustrious Sähkö label and is associated with the whole minimal/lo-fi electronics scene. This 1996 album, his debut full length under the Kirlian name, is full of static-y monotrax that slowly build up and attempt to go nowhere fast. Ignore the wack cover art & title and you've got a most impressive minimalist pounder.

DJ HELL: Totmacher Remixes 12" (DB 50). $9.00

1996 release, repressed. "The Disko B Empire strikes back. Phenomenal Release! The Techno classic 'Totmacher' by DJ Hell remixed by Suburban Knights (Underground Resistance), Baby Ford & Regis. Cult-release."

BROKESCH, SUSANNE: Sharing The Sunhat CD (DB 60 CD). $15.00

Susanne Brokesch is from Vienna, Austria and she has recorded electronic music for labels like Cheap (under the name Sil) & Sähkö (as Sil Electronics). This is her debut solo album and it is a stunning record of lo-ambient atmospherics. She is credited with playing acoustic guitar, dugi-dugi, maracas & electric bass, but that does little to explain the soundscapes developed here; the mysterious clickings, cloaked pulsations and general attention to sound detail that makes this such an enthralling listen. Beautiful, mystery-laden design for both formats as well.

BROKESCH, SUSANNE: Sharing The Sunhat 2LP (DB 60 LP). $16.00

DENHAM, JAY: Escape To Black Planet CD (DB 64 CD). $15.00

Debut album from this techno producer (who also records as Vice), who has released singles on Transmat, 430 West as well as his own very happening Black Nation label. "Right in the geographical middle between the cradles of House and Techno, Chicago and Detroit, lies the small midwestern town of Kalamazoo, Michigan. This town also is the starting-point of a homemade vibe, a specific mode of production made by man whose vision is to play music impeccably precise and with a streamlined inner mind. Escape To The Black Planet is a journey into sounds of virtuosity and light-bodied reduction. In the field of pure electric roots music this has an easy moving design. But Jay Denham's music is straight and without compromises. Close to his home, both the Techno Soul of Motor City Detroit and the Ja Ja Jack Fever House sounds of Chicago are booming. The duality of those two points of reference definitely is audible in his music. That given, Black Planet bears a consciousness raising atmosphere similar to an ancient radio play. Most of all Jay knows how to write intricate melodies, never ever do they sound like kitsch. Escape To The Black Planet should reserve Mr. Denham a special place in the hall of interplanetary electronic folklore."

KIRLIAN: Pleasure Yourself CD (DB 65 CD). $15.00

"It's Carlos Abraham Duque, who is behind Kirlian. Born in the country of Ecuador he is one of the leading DJ's and producers in New York; his own outlets Tension Music, Rancho Relaxo Records & Inner Sanctum are his family and his studio is based in the Spanish quarter in Hollis, New York. He travels regularly on huge DJ-tours throughout Europe, was part of Panasonic's US-tour, is member of the electronic supergroup The Rancho Relaxo Allstars and last not least- he is the 'King of Hollis' (see booklet/artwork). Pleasure Yourself, Kirlian's second full length album, presents an extra-wide view of modern, developing techno-music: mystic club-tools, intense techno futurism, space-jazz-trip-hop and at least cheesy listening. Not to forget the 'I like to pleasure myself'-medley, unique in music history, an outing monster in the techno world. Pleasure Yourself is a highlight where humour, musical brilliancy and subtlety fuse together."

KIRLIAN: Pleasure Yourself 2LP (DB 65 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

I-F: Fucking Consumer CD (DB 69 CD). $12.00

Classic late-90s release, repressed. "In the Netherlands, in the beautiful town of Den Haag to be exact, some neophile named Ferenc (aka I-F) was fed up with the same olde techno movement. This in mind he added some fairly unorthodox dimensions to this gathering, forever changing its course. With primitive electronic equipment Ferenc transferred sounds from the 80s to the here and now. And by chance, he landed a hit. 'Space Invaders are Smoking Grass' is Ferenc's entry to Electro-anthem status. Like Funk never happened. This is family fodder for dance crazes, for lovers of 'alternative' music, for the whole scattered techno community, as well as for the homelister who likes to smoke a cigar when hearing 'strange' sounds on the sofa. Ferenc's versatile approach to music can't be measured with just this one track. His first full length album on Disko B records proves the point. Fucking Consumer is pretty strong stuff. Electro pure and clear. No nice recycled retro package. It's out of it, sails in its own universe, because it doesn't rely on others. The overall mood is well-tempered, it seems to be playing along some sound history. Next thing you know, Fucking Consumer is exploding into bursts of noise - what a pleasure. Track by track I-F demands the attention of the listener anew."

I-F: Fucking Consumer 2LP (DB 69 LP). $14.50

Double LP version, repressed.

RANCHO RELAXO ALLSTARS: Live At The Luv Parade CD (DB 71 CD). $15.00

Second installment of miscreant miscellany (ostensibly a 'live' album) from Abe Duque/Kirlian (Sähkö/Tension), John Selway (Serotonin), Taylor Deupree (12k/Caiprinha), Dietrich Schoenemann, Jochen Reiter, and possibly (but not confirmed) Jimi Tenor, Mika Vainio, and Stroboscopic, but apparently not Jason Szostek (hmm...). The program sort of feels like a live performance; several unrelated themes cross over each other at seemingly random entry points... Plenty of found dialogue. This is as close as we'll ever get to a minimal-techno 'super-gruppe', kids. Enjoy it while it lasts." — Hrvatski.

DENHAM, JAY: Synthesized Society CD (DB 84 CD). $15.00

"Our man from Kalamazoo, a small city located right in the geographical middle between Chicago and Detroit, comes up with his second album for Disko B after Escape To The Black Planet (1998). Ten years ago Jay Denham borrowed his first drum machine from Derrick May. In the meantime, with releases on labels like Transmat, Tresor and on his own Black Nation imprint, he has developed a distinct style by using the 'best of both worlds' of house and techno. On Synthesized Society we hear Denham pushing his music further in a techno-soul direction. He explores new territories by using vocals and has refined a style of black futuristic techno-house."

DENHAM, JAY: Synthesized Society 2LP (DB 84 LP). $16.00

Double vinyl version, full color sleeve.

VA: Abe Duque Presents Disko B CD (DB 86 CD). $15.00

"The first Disko B compilation since the long sold out Supermarkt CD collects classic tracks from the rich Disko B back catalog. Abe Duque's mix features timeless techno and electro tracks by Hell, Patrick Pulsinger, Richard Bartz, Blake Baxter, I-F, Jay Denham, Robert Gori and Jonzon alongside the experimental and ambient Disko B rarities like Violet Mikro (a.k.a. Dr. Motte), Daterape, or Kirlian (a.k.a. Abe Duque) himself. Abe Duque presents Disko B clearly shows that the label deserves the reputation of being one of the important global players in electronic music. Carlos Abraham Duque Alcivar a.k.a. Kirlian, Disko B recording artist since 1994 and head of the reanimated Tension Records in New York, was commissioned to mix this first in a series of specially priced mix compilations which should express personal views on and additions to a back catalog which will reach 100 releases early next year. Timeless Techno classics plus a lot of rare tracks which so far have been released on vinyl only." Artists included: Jay Denham, Patrick Pulsinger, Richard Bartz, Jonzon, Hell, Merricks, Prozac, Daterape, I-F, Violet Mikro, Blake Baxter, Robert Gori, Kirlian, Russel Kent.

DAKAR & GRINSER: Are You Really Satisfied Now CD (DB 89 CD). $15.00

"Dakar & Grinser are two Munich blokes who make a sort of spine-tingling, chunky electro funk, spiced up with fuzzy darm-warping voice lines. In the two years since their last release on the poignant Disko B label, they've transcended their electro-noir roots to produce a record of incredible pop-power, a record which can be seen as the heavyweight german answer to last year's blower from Supercollider and can be even a benchmark in composition. Album features Pulsinger remix and cooperation with Miss Kittin."

MERDZO, ROBERT: WideOut CD (DB 97 CD). $15.00

"WideOut is Robert Merdzo's second CD soloalbum for Disko B. 14 titles that were recorded and produced in 17 days with digital equipment as well as 'real' vibes, drums and guitars. ambient, miniatures, sound experiments and a clear step towards song and harmonies combined with the merdzo-typical dark and melancholic moods make up a much more accessible mixture than on his last collaboration album n.a.q.o.b."

BINDER: Photos 01 CD (DB 98 CD). $15.00

"Binder is Markus Binder, responsible for lyrics and riddim for the Austrian harmonica-tanzfloor-duo Attwenger. Attwenger's previous 4 CDs were on German label Trikont, and as John Peel said, 'I have no idea, what it's all about, but I like the general noise, a great deal. That's Attwenger.' Or as the Rough Guide to World Music put it: 'Head-banging ländler-beat from the wildest of the alpine groups'. Binder bought himself a computer and sampler in 1997 and began to work on the altered states of sound, beat and lyrics with electro-acoustic means. The CD/2x12" Photos 01 is the first result of his solo-explorations. Photos are samples, electronic data of unclarified origin, fragmented language, which is put together in sentences like electronic telephone information, electro-percussions, organs, filter, effects, drums and vocals played by markus binder, mixed, sequenced in a certain tempo. (some swim slowly). 'When I gave the blank CD-R with the label Photos on it to a stranger, he thought it would contain digital photographs, which, after all, was not too wrong.'"

BINDER: Photos 01 2LP (DB 98 LP). $14.00

Double vinyl version.

PLATZGUMER, HANS: Denial Of Service CD (DB S06 CD). $15.00

"This time Hans Platzgumer delivers his so far most atmospheric musical excursions. Platzgumer puts the breakbeats to rest and finds a definition of space, unprecedented in his music. Denial Of Service is all about music. About the might of a bassguitar, the Rhodes, the brass, the drums. The granular patchwork and sound processing that transport its grooves into the now. The soundfiling. The quiet, the breathing, the breaking. This is what narrow-minded people are afraid of. It is about time. Dedicated to the greatness and inspiration of 1970s JazzRock."

DISKONO (UK):

SUETSU & UNDERWOOD: Love Album CD (DISKONO 03). $15.00

"Lucky Kitchen founders Daniel Raffel and Aeron Bergman defect temporarily to find a home with kindred spirits Diskono. Once again bearing witness to what they term their 'obsessive recording habits' (Minidisc or tape recorders always primed and ready), The Love Album pieces together a series of lo-tech, collaged inventions, each 'musical' track bookended by a brief, raw-recorded clip of dialogue (interviews with a range of friends, family & acquaintances) on the theme of love/relationships, and the first flowerings of romance (numerous recollections of how 'X meets Y'). With its 25 tracks forming a series of clipped, fragmentary sketches, there's nonetheless something compelling and deeply enchanting about the results. 'Loveyou, givemenoonenew' and 'Watchingromanticindianmoviesathome' recall Foehn — their lo-fi vocal sampling/looping shifting through a fog of woozy hiss and FX, tape clicks or slow, cavernous beats. 'Guitar Of Stele' transforms vocals and acoustic guitar strumming through speed-shifts, chopping up and stretching out the instrument in a more lo-fi echo of Fennesz' recent Mego 7". With their home taping/concrete sampling methods processed and reshaped through the PC, Suetsuo & Underwood confuse any neat binary dividing between analogue/digital, instead realising a kind of mediated, modern American folk (honest, urban, multicultural) that's grounded in the palpably 'real' atmosphere of their field recordings, whilst clawing out a fresh, uniquely creative use of electronics. Emotionally, the feel of the music is curiously downworn, lacking in the giddy gushes and rushes, the indescribable mood-fluxes you'd associate with the concept. Nevertheless, the ensemble works as a refreshingly frayed and sketch-like audio-document, a homely patchwork of briefly glimpsed lives and ideas. Slipped out virtually unnoticed, without wishing to stand up or make bold declamations, The Love Album instead appears crafted with a genuine feeling and sense of community: an inventive and intimate tangling together of roots, stories and intriguing directions." — Dave Howell

VA: Naked And Alone On The Celebrity Circuit CD (DISKONO 07). $13.00

"They said it would never happen, but it has! At last after a year in production and many tears shed, beers sunk and fist fights, we present 26 tracks of sharp and clean 'avant-pop' action from 'the multi-media cabal masquerading as a Scottish record label'. Everything we have ever thought or felt about music put into 72 short minutes, with contributions from friends we have debated with, missed deadlines with and never returned phonecalls to over the last 3 years plus 'live' snapshots from Diskono events. New tracks from Pimmon (Fallt / Staalplaat), Opopop (Alku / Mego), Antenna Farm (Fat Cat / Phtalo), Felix Kubin (Gagarin / A-Muzik), Danielle Lemaire (Inner Landscapes), Jan Van Den Dobbsteven (Cosmic Volume), Hrvatski (Reckancomplex), Jane Dowe (Mille Plateaux / RT Mark), Klaus Oldenburg, Docktor Barnes Advocaat, Gabriel Amato, Gunter Sachsenhammer, CK Dexter Haven, Skagboy 3, Black Dot Corporation (Gentle Giant), Wee Dj's (Scusi / Penalty), Alejandra & Aeron (Lucky Kitchen / Fat Cat) plus both sides of Aeropace Soundwise's 'physical remix' 7" (released in May 1999 edition of 250), Kid 606's FRANTIC!!! cut and twist 'megamix' of Diskono 04, Jane Dowe's deconstruction of The Clash's 'I'm So Bored With The U.S.A.' and V/V/M's notorious tribute to the don of techno 'String Up Your Wife'. All in 3 part sleeve designed by Klaus Oldenburg. 'Avant-pop' has never sounded so good."

BERGMAN, AERON: The Shed Record CD (DISKONO 10). $15.00

"Known from the duo Alejandra & Underwood, founder members of the Lucky Kitchen label and their release on Audioview, Aeron, a.k.a. Underwood, goes solo in sound here, but the artwork is again from the hands of Sandra & Aeron. Home and travelogue recordists who would prefer to describe their work as 'electronic folk music', Lucky Kitchen whilst analysing the tyrannies and controls imposed upon us all in our day to day existence, explore the freedom, joys and diversity of the network of anti-discipline? inherent in the self same arena of everyday life,' applying their unique musical vision to the moments that make life so special, from Sandra's childhood tape experiments to Aeron's ruminations on his grandmother's shed in Michigan. These non-contemporaneous elements take form as The Shed Album, the complete overall design produced by Aeron and Sandra in collaboration with an old school family Spanish printing house, on old machines by hand crank, resulting in unique disparity between each sleeve. Overall, Aeron says, The Shed Album is a vain and passionate attempt at a documentary, because documentary does not exist, but there we are."

VA: Unattainable Text #1 LP (DISKONO 15). $12.00

"9 tracks. 9 artists. 38 minutes. Clear vinyl. Clear Cover. No identifying marks. 500 copies. The first two releases in our self-styled 'anonymous' series. The representational analysis of music and the nostalgic sick bucket trip of music journalists provided the impetus for us to commission this series of releases. Wild boar attacks in France and Austrian immigration police also played a part. Only Peter knows the identity of all the participants, and he can neither read nor write; though he did whisper something about Madrid and biology. So throw away your copies of The Wire and forget Wagner meeting Throbbing Gristle in car crash with the Monks whilst chewing the innards of a laptop computer, in the end, the only thing that can assist you are your ears."

VA: Unattainable Text #2 7" (DISKONO 16). $6.00

"2 tracks. 1 artist. Clear vinyl. Clear Cover. No identifying marks. 500 copies."

DISQUES SOLID (FRANCE):

DE CRECY, ETIENNE: Tempovision 2LP (SLD 028LP). $16.00

Debut solo album, originally released late 2000, by the founding member of Motorbass and general French house legend, Etienne de Crecy. "De Crecy, who is one-third of Disques Solid, the label responsible for unleashing Air and Alex Gopher on an unsuspecting world, also has an excellent reputation as a producer and as an engineer; one can't help but feel that he is uncomfortable with the limelight. The label 'Parisian house guru' is clearly justified; but you'd be unlikely to recognise him in the street. All of this makes Tempovision rather a surprise, for really on the whole it is chill-out room material, full of time signature changes ('When Jack Met Jill') and random relaxing rhythms ('Naname'). 'Am I Wrong' is the exception to the rule here, demanding to appear on every self-respecting DJ's roster for at least the next month, full of flangey synth, a riotous beat, diva-esque backing vocals and funky bass. For the rest of the album, lie back in a comfy bed, pull up the duvet against the impending winter chill, switch off the lights and let your mind switch off. It is in such an environment that Tempovision comes across best."

DIW (JAPAN):

RA ARKESTRA, SUN: Live From Soundscape 2CD (DIW 388 LTD). $28.00

Limited double CD version, last copies. Live from Soundscape, NYC, Nov. 1979. The 2nd disc featuring a 72 minute Sun Ra lecture: "The Possibility of Altered Destiny," recorded the day before.

MUSIC REVELATION ENSEMBLE: Elec. Jazz CD (DIW 839). $18.00

James Blood Ulmer, with Murray, Amin Ali (el. bass), Cornell Rochester (drums). Last copies.

BLOOD ULMER, JAMES: Black & Blues CD (DIW 845). $10.00

Ulmer (guitar, voc), Donald Drayton (guitar), Amin Ali (bs), Calvin Weston (d); studio recording 1990. Last copies, reduced price.

BROTZMANN, PETER: Dare Devil CD (DIW 857). $20.00

Restocked. Ferocious 1991 live date (recorded at the Shinjuku Pit-Inn), featuring a Japanese back up group of Shoji Hano (drums), Tetsu Yahauchi (bass) & Haruhiko Gotsu (electric guitar). Brötzmann on tarogato, bass clarinet, tenor sax.

DJ-SETS RECORDS (GERMANY):

GALUZZI/JOHN SELWAY, ANDRÉ: Essential Underground Vol. 6 (Berlin/NYC) 2CD (DJSET 015 CD). $18.00

"Berlin is still the worldwide techno-capital with regards to innovations in the music and its club scene.' With these words Hannes Hoffmeister of DJ-sets.com explains the idea behind his mix CDs series Essential Underground — to bring together and present to a wider public the front liners of the Berlin scene with some of their international star DJ partners and colleagues." Artists include: Galluzzi, Croon Inc., Dietrich Schoenemann, Scorp, Alter Ego, James Ruskin, Scan X, Tommy Gillard, Taks, Gary Martin, Tony Rohr, Sunday Brunch, Heiko Laux, Sender Berlin, John Selway, Frankie Vega & Matt Nee, Abe Duque, Johannes Heil, The Attack People, Joel Mull, Robert Natus, Marko Nastic, Selway pres. Semblance Factor, Renato Cohen, Sound Identification Ltd., Koenig Cylinders, Martyn Hare, Endrik Schroeder, Kiko & Human Body.

VA: Heavy Hitters #2 CD (DJSET 017 CD). $16.00

"Heavy Hitters 2 Repercussion series takes u thru time of the basic simple chip sound that we were programmed to and somehow grew to the titles of Electro Techno Housemusic. It is packed with exclusive Trax and combines a vast variety of a flavoured analog 80's digital sound that we used then, up until now. The first Heavy concept was created in mind by the 'Hittin' man himself' Boo Williams from the house city of Chicago who returned introduced us with the first Heavy Hitters Time 2 Jack (Disco B) concept with ChiselRecords ground breakers L.A Williams (Chicago) & Paige Illise (Detroit) building a bridge closing the gap between each of their respective cities and around the world. Their mission & still is, to expose to the world the innovative talents and sounds of 'electronic music'."

DJAK-UP-BITCH (NETHERLANDS):

LIKE A TIM & GINA V. D'ORRIO: Bass Girl CD (DUB 010CD). $18.00

"Mini album with nine classic American pop songs from the 50/60's in a surprising contemporary style. A project of Rotterdam based producer Like A Tim and singer Gina V. D'Orrio (Cobra Killer/Ec8or) from Berlin. All tracks sung by D'Orrio are accompanied only by a TB-303 bassline and an occasional subtle synth. And believe me, every song sparkles of the vinyl which is packed in lush picture-sleeve with a layer of glossy varnish. 'I'm a fan of old rock 'n' roll and girl-group music from the fifties and sixties. In 2001 I produced fifteen tracks and went to Berlin to record Gina's vocals. But the general sound of those backing tracks was kind of boring with standard sounds like harp, strings and drums. The project was put away for a year and in 2003 I came up with the idea of giving it a minimal treatment with the 303.'"

VA: Nummer Drie CD (DUB 03 CD). $14.00

"A DUB compilatin with some of the coolest tracks taken from the vinyl releases and some new and unreleased works exclusive to this CD release. Known and unknown talented artists somehow connected to the DUB label with advanced modern electronical music for everybody's pleasure. The music, which is ranging from moody to more energetic or more challenging, is a presentation of works which appeared on the DUB label in the last year and which will be released in forthcoming times. Artists such as Funkkarma already created a fuzz with their 12" and of course with their brilliant debut album. But also unknown people like Autophonic and Quench both from the Netherlands and German Swap (known for their release on the Music Aus Strom label) and the American producers L'sine and Syndrone (who just released his debut EP on DUB) show that they are among the best producers in the electronical field. People as Autechre, Funkstörung, Speedy J are a few names often referred to when the DUB label is mentioned, but this album again proves that artists such as EOG, Funkkarma, and Phako have their own sound and comparing them with other people won't do them justice. I consider these tracks as true listening pearls, just listen and enjoy them..." — Serge o Clone

FUNKKARMA: Solid State CD (DUB 04CD). $14.00

"Two Dutch brothers (Don+ Roel Funcken) are storming the world league of modern electronica. This relatively underground direction of modern music has some new major players in these two brothers. The increasing group of listeners is slowly recognizing the advanced sounds and free musical structures and new sounds produced by a small group of people world wide. Names like Autechre, Speedy J, Aphex Twin, Funkstörung, Boards of Canada and also Funkkarma are producing great music on labels like Music Aus Strom, Warp, Nova Mute and DUB recordings. Artists as Björk, Radiohead are heavy influenced by these new sounds from the underground. Funkkarma first album reached with their debut album Parts a high position in the Dutch Moordlijst for 6 weeks and been voted to 'Disque pop de la semaine' at the Vpro radio, and received storming reactions from all over the world. This album will probably have even a bigger impact because of the total balance between the advanced edits and programming and the smooth tasteful sweet sounds and beautiful atmosphere in the tracks. Long building floating tracks ranging from more deep relaxed to more energetic with surprising collaborations with vocals (Okséa Lijkas) and violin (Mar Tenas I bastida). Funkkarma has matured as musicians and managed to controle the balance between the energetic and bouncy cutting edge sounds and edits of the modern electronica and the sweet melodies and open atmosphere which have given this album its relaxed feel. True future music."

VA: Men With Boxes CD (DUB 05CD). $14.00

"Dub is proud to present Men With Boxes. This compilation brings together some of their friends to collaborate on this masterpiece album. Fine musicians such as Speedy J (Warp/Nova mute+8) together with Math aka Quench (DUB), D'arcangelo (Rephlex), Funkkarma, EOG, Michael Fakesh, Chris de Luca aka. Funkstörung (M.A.S./K7), Andre Estermann (M.A.S), Phako (DUB), Marco Passarani (Nature), and Eaven (Funkkarma vs Speedy J), make this album not only a bargain but also a joy to listen to. Speedy J vs Math kick it all off with their battle for tough hip hop style beats and chopped vocals, and Passarani layers his beats simply to make you bounce your head form side to side, whilst Andre Estermann moves with the aptly named gentle track 'Fragile'. D'Arcangelo warms it all up with 'Certy' and Boomoperators finish with their take on it all, enticing you to go back to the beginning and start again. For a project like this Dub left no stone unturned, even the artwork has been done by one of the most influential second generation graffiti artists around, Delta. This release comes as a limited double album vinyl version and CD and need to be tracked down, fast."

PHAKO: Bolnes/Shipyards and Engineering co. Ltd. CD (DUB 06CD). $14.00

"Phako's 1st full length CD release containing his new Bolnes EP and the Bolnes Fragmented EP of late 2001. The Bolnes shipyard has been a big influence for Phako during the last 1.5 years he has been living there. This album contains works he produced in his studio at the Bolnes shipyard and basically is a compilation of his Dub EPs including some extra works like a remix for Math wich has been released on Music aus Strom and a bonus quick time movie with the works of 010 (a video artists who supports Phako and other artists like Speedy J and EOG) with video art during his live performances. The music is ranging from minimal abstract morphing electronica to more musical jazzy electronica...raw and smooth like sweet and sour. Bolnes/Shipyards and engineering co.ltd. is a challenging and entertaining album at the same time! Another high quality DUB CD!"

KETTEL: Cenny Crush CD (DUB 07CD). $14.00

"Brilliant album by youngster Kettel (Reimer Eising) who previously releases on Planet mu and Nea Oujia. After great reactions on the limited pre12"...we now have the full length with exceptional beautyfull and deep indietronix (kind of indie pop meets electronica meets techno meets headz). When there is one person who is going to surprise the world with its music its 19 year old Kettel."

KETTEL: Cenny Crush LP (DUB 07LP). $13.00
LP version.

KADAH VRESKY: Tomato Wierdo CD (DUB 08CD). $15.00

"New signing to DUB recordings. A very talented trio from Belgium with the perfect crossover between new electronica and indie pop... Advanced and amazingly good! We get excited about it every time we hear it. This comes close to perfection and its almost unbelievable that it comes from guys who never ever released anything!"

KADAH VRESKY: *Tomato Wierdo LP (DUB 08LP). $13.00

LP version: "Warm and human advanced electronica. Absolut outstanding quality when it comes to originality and innovation and emotional expression...(and ain't those the key points good music is about.)..."

SANDERS, DJIF: *Mating Season CD (DUB 09CD). $19.00

"Dijf Sanders is a young classic trained musician from Antwerp Belgium. He is living in his small apartment with his 2 cats and his piano and a little home studio. Somehow he never has been connected or influenced by any musical scene or direction and has been the kind of musician you hardly meet these days... Not following any hype or technological trend. Not following other musicians (he has no contemporary artists like Autechre, Aphex Twin, Savath & Savalis in his record collection). Not having an internet connection at home, never goes to clubs. But to be honest we think he very well might create a small hype around his debut album Mating Season. Dijf perfectly blended his classical training with his homestudio and came with a completely own and original tracks. His calm way of living shines thru in this record which brings very sweet, emotional and almost innocent music. Don't expect Hi-tech Autechre or EOG kind of programming, don't expect craziness like Aphex Twin and Otto von Schirach or pseudo intellectual white kids hip hop or moody indie-tronix like Tortoise...but do expect the debut of Dijf Sanders. Probably some bits and pieces from each of the above mentioned artists...but then the Dijf way. It seems that he is just a very talented musician who has been producing tracks as expression for his emotions and moods during every day live. For years and years he has been making tracks and it seems that now is the moment that he finally is happy enough with the results."

SANDERS, DJIF: *Mating Season LP (DUB 09LP). $15.00

LP version.

QUENCH: *Chunck 12" (DUB 12). $9.00

Regular 12" version, minus the bonus 7" which is no longer available. "The DUB label is getting famous by bringing new talented artists in the electronica field and again they manage to bring you some ultra cool electronica by a new name. A great 12" that can stand the highest critics. Relaxed advanced beats with beautiful sounds and great melodies. The downtempo beats seem to be inspired by the more forward thinking hip hop and R&B producers, and will impress many with their relaxed but still inventive programming and bright atmosphere. Future classic."

QUENCH: *A Journey Into Electronix 12" (DUB 12.2). $9.00

"After the very limited CD release on U-Cover, we present the four coolest tracks on vinyl. Four tracks of deep advanced electronica with a relaxed atmosphere and nice floating melodies."

SYNDROME: *Triskaideka EP 12" (DUB 16). $9.00

"Intricately laid IDMania from Mr. Travis from the South, three tracks from his Merck records debut: Triskaideka", "Tedow" (incorrectly labeled as "Could We"), and "Intrlnrrrr" with one vinyl exclusive, "Mtwtw" (Missing Those Who Aren't There). A very impressive display of tag-team melody/rhythm programming (esp. given the ridiculously outmoded MOD construction environment used within; akin to carving Mount Rushmore w/a toothpick). Above average use of harmonic material; gives the tracks the illusion of 'music'. Quite good." — Hrvatski.

FUNKARMA: *Part 4 2x12" (DUB 17). $13.00

"A new EP by the Funkarma brothers. Hi-quality modern electronica as we are expecting from this talented duo. Another adventurous release with smooth warm tracks using some jazzy influences mixed with more energetic tracks with a strange sci-fi atmosphere. 6 new hi-tech tracks as warm — up for their forthcoming album."

VA: *Nummer Drie 12" (DUB 18). $9.00

"Limited 12" taken from the highly rated DUB CD. On this CD you'll find a selection of released and unreleased tracks, and we thought it would be a sweet idea to select 4 pieces of the unreleased section for a fine EP for all the vinyl junkies out there. And what a selection. Syndrome's 'P and U', L'usines rmx of Funkarma's 'Fog', Cospagon with the killer track 'Bitch' and Quench with its ultra deep 'Bin'. Twisted electronica from the minds from highly talented urban producers mixing up peoples mind with funky complex dislocated & broken beats (sounds like a paradox?but it is what it is), fascinating sonic structures and emotional loaded melodies. This will be future classic."

PHAKO: *Bolnes EP 12" (DUB 21). $9.00

"Killer record by Phako. 6 tracks of advanced musical science. Rolling cut up beats with deep layers of sounds. The whole record is inspired by the new studio location of Phako...an old ship dock in the harbour of Rotterdam (called Bolnes) where all the machines and cranes etc are still working. Where the first Phako ep was inspired by melancholic innercity sounds...this one is more on the mechanical tip. Powerful mechanical rolling machine rhythms with with floating sounds like the river passing by the docks. The tracks ranging from naked industrial beats to more floating electronica with rolling beats and even a deep minimal 4/4 beat driven track. The record comes in a great full color sleeve also inspired on the Bolnes docks and machines. (Essential for fans of the latest releases on Schematic, Chocolate ind., Autechre, Richard Devine)."

PHAKO: *Shipyards and Engineering co. Ltd. 12" (DUB 22). $9.00

"Phako's 'Bolnes' was the first EP inspired on his studio an living space in a old dock called Bolnes in the Harbour of Rotterdam...this follow up EP picks it up where the Bolnes Fragmented EP stopped... Very surprising (at least for those who know Phako's previous releases) is the openings track which is a fusion between Jazzanova and Autechre... very jazzy electronica ...very raw and smooth at the same time...just perfect how it is! The rest of the tracks are more minimal and more machine based tracks which are driven by cut up rolling machine rhythms and floating on the smooth morphing sounds which creates an nice abstract atmosphere...exactly as the Bolnes docks which is full of old machines and cranes but with empty docksides and without the usual business of a busy harbour and the strange abstract atmosphere which comes along with this empty dock."

FUNKARMA: *Part 5 12" (DUB 23). $9.00

"After their brilliant album Solid State, Funkarma comes back with their 5th release in their Parts serie. For those who know Funkarma's work knows what to expect! Deep beautiful electronica with touching melodies and hi-tech cut up broken beats. The Funcken brothers prove again that they are masters in making exciting and thrilling electronical music."

KETTEL: *Cenny 12" (DUB 24). $9.00

"The limited pre-release of the forthcoming Kettel album Cenny Crush on DUB recording. Beautiful innocent and almost naive electronica. Very smooth rolling rhythms with bouncy melodies. You can smell the spring in the air..."

FUNKARMA VS BOOMOPERATORS: *Focus 12" (DUB 26). $9.00

"Remember the Boomoperators track on Men with boxes? This is somekind of remix thing of that track. The Funcken Brothers went into the studio with the original bits and pieces of the track and came out with two totally different versions. Beside the original version (and the accapela which is pretty classic hip hop stuff in the eyes of electronica fans (can be compared with Cannibal Ox stuff), we have Funkarma mix 1 (Vocal plus instrumental) which is very laidback almost dubby with a bouncing bass line. And even tho its not classic hip hop...it still has a very strong hip hop feel in it and it is very relaxed and clean compared to the second mix.... The second mix is an avantgarde cut up masterpiece (vocal and instr.)! Beats jumping to all sides and vocals going thru all possible effects and falling right back at the place they should be."

SANDERS, DJIF: *Dijf 12" (DUB 28). $9.00

"First release of the amazing Dijf Sanders! Another surprising DUB release by another talented Belgium guy. A 4 track EP by a guy who lives in a different world.. a world where things are not what they seems to be (ietsanders volgens Dijf). 4 brilliant tracks maybe best described a sweet indie tronix with strange but very nice vocal songs mixed with abstract electronical structures. Songs ranging from very jazzy to more songs with an indie feel (as references think of Lali Puna, Morr Music and Hefty records). This is one of the limited pre 12" releases for the forthcoming Dijf Sanders album later this year."

DURACEL: *98 12" (DUB 5.1). $9.00

"The follow up to the already sought after '97' EP by this former Unit Moebius member. Most electronica artists aim for the highest technical standards and progression. Duracel doesn't give a damn about that. He's just making cool funky shit with a twist. 6 tracks ranging from the more moody and soft to funky raw electroid stuff (sometimes even reminds us of old Unit Moebius material)."

FUNKARMA: *Parts CD (DUB CD2). $14.00

"After three very well-received EPs by the talented Dutch brothers Funcken, we are now proud to present their first full-length CD. Although they are often compared to Funkstörung, Autechre and Black Dog/Plaid, the dynamic duo shows that they've got a style of their own. Having a background in hip hop and electro, they have a fetish for broken beats. And this combined with their knowledge of modern equipment is leading to a very innovative programming of drums and original sounds. The brothers are exploring new technologies and new sounds and rhythms. They show that they are not afraid of experiment. For the CD we picked one track from each previous record on DUB and then added 8 new ones. The tracks are pretty diverse, showing off the different sides of Funkarma. Deep moody and melancholic tracks are varied by more energetic and advanced rhythmic ones. The album is a collection of various moods, but has a common factor in all cuts — the beautiful atmospheric sounds and melodies. This is also the thing which makes Funkarma special. The combining of teasingly advanced rhythms and drum programming with their sweet sounds and melodies. This is an album for people who love music and are not looking for an easy and quick McDonald's meal. This is the haute cuisine of modern electronica."

DMC (UK):

TRICKY: *Back To Mine CD (BACK 014 CD). $16.00

"The latest installment in the Back To Mine series comes from one of the alternative dance scene's most inspirational figures: Tricky. Part of the Bristol scene that spawned Massive Attack and Portishead, Tricky has continued to release his own personal brand of music: an amalgam of doped paranoia, slithering beats and eerily frozen melodies. Who could have predicted that his Back To Mine selection would include tracks from Kate Bush, Chet Baker or The Cure? His sleeve-notes explain all and give us a peek into the psyche of the man. About Dr. John he says: 'This isn't music, it's magic.' About vocalist Shola he says: 'Shola's vocals aren't second hand emotions, there's real sadness in there. How can Maxwell be called soul? He's as soulful as a plate of fish and chips.' This album is full of surprises and delights for inquisitive Tricky fans and any music fans who are after something different. The album even includes four exclusive tracks from Tricky's own label, Brown Punk Records."

TRICKY: *Back To Mine 3LP (BACK 014 LP). $20.00

Triple LP version.

AUDIO BULLYS: *Back To Mine CD (BACK 015 CD). $16.00

"Current media darlings the Audio Bullys (Simon Franks and Tom Dinsdale) have compiled the 15th in the Back to Mine series. Audio Bullys' first artist album Ego War has been one of the success stories of the summer. It has sold in excess of 50,000 copies in the UK alone and has given dance music the fresh, irresistible punk funk attitude that it so needed. The boys made a conscious decision not to fit any particular scene, simply letting the sound take its own course. With tracks from the likes of The Beach Boys, The Stranglers, The Specials, Marvin Gaye, Roots Manuva, The Prodigy, Squeeze and Madness this looks set to be one of the most enjoyable Back to Mine sets yet."

RICHARD X: *Back To Mine CD (BACK 017CD). $16.00

"There's a real electro pop vibe to Richard's Back to Mine selection, with tracks from I Monster, John Carpenter, Goldfrapp, Jona Lewie, Kelis, Nivea, Heaven 17, Animotion, S.Y.D. featuring Nancy Fortune, Legowelt vs. Orgue Electronique, Pete Shelley, Mum & Dad, Denton And Cook, Trans X, FPU, The Silures. Keep the home fires burning with this one."

RICHARD X: *Back To Mine 2LP (BACK 017LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

BROWN, IAN: *Under The Influence CD (UTI 002 CD). $16.00

"The next cultural phenomenon walking up to the Under The Influence microscope following Morrissey, is former Stone Roses shaker-maker Ian Brown. It's been a tough racket since the well documented and untimely demise of the best band of the 90s, but Ian has successfully re-created his own space with his sparkling solo work. Now, we all have the chance to see what really makes him move. Ian Brown proves he was born under a bad sign with a selection of heavy lyrical messages, from the gospel blues protestations of Dorothy Love Coates '99 and a Half' to the aggression of The Clash and the Sex Pistols. He also shows his vast knowledge and love of the history of (rare) groove with the sexy bassline of Cymande and Osiris' seminally funky 'War on the Bullshit', joined together by a sack of reggae and ragga beats."

WELLER, PAUL: *Under The Influence CD (UTI 003 CD). $16.00

"Paul's music has evolved over the years, and his Under the Influence selection shows the varied artists that have helped to shape the Weller style. From the rock 'n' roll of Little Richard to the roots of Ritchie Havens, from the reggae of The Wailers to the soul of Marvin Gaye, Under the Influence Paul Weller helps to understand what inspires the man and makes him tick. This is the third in the Under the Influence series, following in the impressive footsteps of Morrissey and Ian Brown." Artists: Little Richard, The Headhunters, Ritchie Havens, D'Angelo, Charles Mingus, The Casuals, The Winstons, John Holt, Funkdoobiest, Marvin Gaye, Blind Boys of Alabama, The Kinks, 5 Stairsteps, The Wailers, Big Youth, John Coltrane.

GELDOF, BOB: *Under The Influence CD (UTI 005CD). $16.00

"Bob Geldof, the Boomtown Rats front man and the solo artist extraordinaire, provides and interesting selection of tracks. His tracklist includes Cliff Richard, The Who, New York Dolls, Roxy Music, David Bowie, Leonard Cohen, Television, Velvet Underground, Bob Dylan and the Kinks. To make all those Bob Geldof fanatics out here particularly happy, he has written very in depth sleeve notes explaining the stories behind his choices and about his early stage of his career."

EVERYTHING BUT THE GIRL: Back To Mine 3LP (BACK 006 LP). $19.00

"This Back To Mine installment has been compiled and mixed with love by Ben Watt and Tracy-Thorn of Everything But The Girl. Since 1982, EBIG have been releasing quality records. Their biggest hit singles were 'I Don't Want to Talk About It' and 'Missing', both entering the UK pop charts at number 3. The contrasting styles of these two singles demonstrate the versatility for which EBTG are renowned and respected for. They collaborated with Massive Attack on the critically acclaimed Protection and, in 1996, Walking Wounded became their most successful album to date, spawning four hit singles. This signaled the adoption of a whole new set of influences from the burgeoning dance scene, evident in Ben Watt's DJ-ing and his legendary Lazy Dog Sundays at the Notting Hill Arts Club." Artists include: DJ Cam, Slick Rick, Deadly Avenger, Beth Orton, Model 500, The Ananda Project feat. Gaele Addison, Dubtribe Sound System, Carl Craig, Mary Margaret O'Hara, The Roots, Deadbeats, and Donny Hathaway.

MORCHEEBA: Back To Mine 3LP (BACK 007 LP). $19.00

2001 release. Three LP version, unmixed. "This installment of the Back To Mine series is compiled by mega UK soul act. From soul, hip hop and blues to folk and psychedelia, this truly is a veritable education for real music aficionados everywhere. In their own words: 'We've always loved music that just makes you enjoy yourself.' Morcheeba have enjoyed huge success and credibility through their albums — Who Can You Trust?, Big Calm, Fragments of Freedom, and Charango. This edition of Back To Mine continues to demonstrate the group's ear for quality and taste for variety." Artists include: Annette Peacock, Alice Russell, Dr. John, Jim White, Small World, The Giant, David McCallum, Taj Mahal, E1 Plus, Missin' Linx, Os Mutantes, Lambchop.

SINGH, TALVIN: Back To Mine CD (BACK 008 CD). $16.00

"Talvin Singh, Mercury Music Prize winner, remixer, DJ, head of Omni Records, founder of the ground breaking Anokha club night, and now the compiler of volume B in the Back To Mine series. Much like his album, Anokha (meaning 'unique' in Urdu), this volume will be unlike any before it. Talvin Singh has said himself: 'It's about bringing music to people's attention which they've probably never heard before... Music shouldn't have boundaries... It's just language, that everyone can identify with. That's the most valuable thing in music today. We're living in that time when things have got to unite.' He is renowned for being one of the first artists to bring traditional Indian Tabla music to the mainstream; combining it with rhythmic surges of Drum 'n' Bass. This fusion is brilliantly reflected in his Back To Mine mix." Artists include Craig Armstrong, Srinivas & Michael Brook, The Higher Intelligence Agency, Dreadzone, Nils Petter Molvaer, Swati Natekar, Trilok Gurtu, Photek, TUU, Vibrasphere, Ali Farka Toure, Dub Tractor, dZihan & Kamien, Nusrat Fateh Ali Khan.

MJ COLE: Back To Mine CD (BACK 009 CD). $16.00

"MJ Cole delivers a soulful addition to the Back To Mine series. The tracklisting speaks for itself. This cannot fail to be one of the best mixes yet. Matt Coleman has been touted as the first artist to have success with a full album of UK Garage. His classical music training has made him somewhat of an unusual commodity, standing him in good stead within the dance community — he has remixed everyone from the likes of Masters at Work to Nitin Sawhney, from Roots Manuva to TLC. MJ Cole's Back To Mine reflects the diverse range of styles that have influenced MJ Cole, the artist and producer, from soul to hip-hop to classical." Artist include: Lee Curtis, The Cinematic Orchestra, Outkast, Burning Spear, MJ Cole feat. Jay Dee and Nova Caspar, Omar, Archie Bell & The Drells, The Commodores, John Ellis, Handsome Boy Modeling School, and Goldie.

MJ COLE: Back To Mine 3LP (BACK 009 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version.

ORBITAL: Back To Mine 3LP (BACK 010 LP). $19.00

"Back To Mine Orbital sees the brothers Hartnoll take their opulent and mind-blowing live sets and turn them into an amazing DJ set. They have put together an imitably random mix, with a tracklisting ranging from dubster Lee 'Scratch' Perry to indie heroine PJ Harvey to original Ska icons The Selecter — whilst incorporating an exclusive Orbital track." Artists include: Orbital, Lee Perry & The Upsetters, The Selecter, Susan Cadogan, John Barry & His Orchestra, The Tornados, Gert Wilden & Orchestra, Jethro Tull, Robert Mellin Orchestra, DSR, Eon, Earth Leakage Trip, Hyper-On Experience, Plaid, Severed Heads, Tangerine Dream, PJ Harvey, The Divine Comedy, and Falguni Pathak.

NEW ORDER: Back To Mine CD (BACK 011 CD). $16.00

"Veteran electronic rock pioneers New Order (check: 'Blue Monday', 'Bizarre Love Triangle', 'Regret', 'Crystal') have delivered an inspired addition to the Back To Mine series. Perhaps more than any previous Back To Mine album, this oozes the bands sound. You can tell these really are the records that the band members have listened to and enjoyed over the years and it's not just a collection of obscure band faves either! Primal Scream, Missy Elliot, Velvet Underground, The Doves, Roxy Music, Cat Stevens all make appearances, as well as some classic electro adventures from Mantronix, Joey Beltram, and Giorgio Moroder (acknowledged by lead singer, Bernard Sumner as a transitional influence on the then fledgling New Order). The album also features the much sought-after Patrick Cowley mix of Donna Summer's 'I Feel Love' (and yes, this track will be on the unmixed vinyl album in all its 15 minute glory!). Included are also many humorous and insightful sleeve notes, written by the members themselves. New Order have recently made a return to the public spotlight with the critically acclaimed Get Ready album last year, and the highly lauded film, 24 Hour Party People which follows the band's rise to stardom from the ashes of the seminal Joy Division. Not only from an important historical perspective, New Order's Back To Mine is also an essential late night tripped-out journey through both rock and electronic dance music!"

NEW ORDER: Back To Mine 3LP (BACK 011 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version.

THE ORB: Back To Mine 3LP (BACK 012 LP). $20.00

"Dubbed the ultimate chill out band, who batter-than The Orb to deliver an after-hours Back To Mine mix? Alex Paterson, the man who wrapped us up in 'Little Fluffy Clouds' and 'Perpetual Dawns', and lead us through 'Blue -Rooms', has gathered together the best ambient atmospheric and off-kilter rhythms. The album features a suitably bizarre mix of tracks, ranging from Aphex Twin to soul legends The Chi-Lites, to a couple of the best cover versions around: Electric Chairs' 'Barbie Girl' and Schneider TM's electro bliss version of The Smiths' 'There is a Light That Never Goes Out'. The mix also features a new track from The Orb themselves 'The Land of Green Ginger', which is available here first on Back To Mine. Other featured artists include: Charles Webster, Creature, Thomas Fehlmann, Juno Reactor, B12, Joachim Speith, F.F.W.D., and Julee Cruise.

UNDERWORLD: Back To Mine CD (BACK 013 CD). $16.00

"Back to Mine returns with Underworld following on from most recent compilers The Orb. The latest chapter in the exciting Underworld saga continues with an invitation to party round their tracks and to take a peek into their miasma of musical influences. Ever wondered what live techno pioneers Rick and Karl listen to at home? Try the bittersweet R&B pop of TLC for size. How about a few headmessin' rave classics like 'Horsepower' from CJ Bolland's Ravesignals series, Remy and Sven's 'Piano Power' and even Aphex Twin's ballistic 'Digeridoo'. Throw in plenty of Afro hip beat vibes and you have an un-pigeon-hole-able mix that really sums up where they've been, where they're at, and where they're going."

MORRISSEY: Under The Influence CD (UTI 001 CD). $16.00

"DMC launch their new compilation series Under the Influence, which draws on the inspirations and all time loves of the world's greatest recording artists. Morrissey, the legendary Smiths frontman and solo-artist extraordinaire, provides this first unmixed selection of tracks. To make all those Morrissey fanatics out there particularly happy, he has written very in-depth sleeve notes (2000+ words!) explaining the stories behind his choices. The album includes tracks from such respected acts as T-Rex, The New York Dolls, Ramones, Nico and even Diana Dors. It's a fascinating combination. The album also features the Sparks' 'Arts and Crafts Spectacular' — taken from a previously unreleased demo recording. In addition, this is the first time ever that Patti Smith's 'Hey Joe' has been available on CD."

MORRISSEY: Under The Influence 2LP (UTI 001 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

DOC (AUSTRIA):

PURE: Home Is Where My Hard Disk Is Vol. 1 CD (DOC 003). $15.00

"Consisting of two recordings of Pure's live appearances in winter 2001/2002. The first track is the entire recording of a gig at the Hörbar, a monthly club in Hamburg, Germany that takes place in a small old cinema. Playing in the movie room created a very intense atmosphere as compared to other venues. The 38 min improvised piece interweaves low frequencies with orchestral sounds into dense, unsettling structures, only to dissolve them in its peaceful finish. The second track is an excerpt of a concert given at Aniki Bóbo, Porto, Portugal. Its minimal algorithmic patterns slowly evolve into a swaying string figure that is finished by processed vocal parts."

DIEB13/PURE/SEIWER: Just In Case You Are Bored. So Are We. CD (DOC 004). $15.00

"Dieb13 plays (in the truest sense of the word) turntables like no other: his music is reduced, exceptionally musical, and can be described as anything but merely moving records around. He produces ambient soundscapes, often plunderphonic, but never just a patchwork. For many years now, Martin Siewert has been exploring the electronic guitar's possibilities for sonic abstraction, from jazz to distant electronic-electroacoustic soundscapes and more often recently, concrete sound (cf. the hatHut CD, Trapist.) Pure comes from the world of techno, where his beats became more and more abstract and in the meantime even elusive. A wonderful example of his bleak sound fantasies (fed from his work in techno, industrial, musique concrete and ambient) is his last CD, Noonbugs (Mego). For several years, dieb13 and Martin Siewert have regularly collaborated (including in EFZEG (whose most recent CD is Boogie on Grob)). Here, their primarily analogue sound experiments are added to and complemented by Pure. After collaborations between Siewert and Pure in the area of production, in late 2000 the three found themselves more or less coincidentally working together on two completely improvised concerts, and have now collected the results of their first joint musical project on this recording. Each detail of the sonic landscape is precisely modulated, analogue amplitudes with digital peaks and abysses. The warm, gently pulsating sound of Siewert's guitar forms the primary basis for the abstract grooves and sounds of Pure's laptop (with its own software) and dieb's turntable experiments (such as adding piezoelectricity to the sound pickup). Many levels overlap, shift, and almost imperceptibly reform. Since repetitive structures dominate, there are no breaks, but plenty of sonic surprises."

CURRENT 909: The Price for Existence is Eternal Warfare CD (DOC 009). $15.00

"Pure has been producing a wide variety of electronic music over the last decade, spanning from minimal and conceptual electronics to ruff drum'n'bass to speedcore, much of which have become classic in its respective fields. The year 2003 sees several compilations offering a chance to catch up with some of these gems, originally released in limited editions on vinyl and mostly unavailable now, as well as containing added unreleased tracks. Current 909 is Pure's project for electronic music that lives in the grey area between dance music and movie soundtracks based on a combination of pattern oriented production techniques and techniques of collage. The music of Current 909 can be seen as a transition between his much rougher and more aggressive earlier works and his beatless mostly improvised works of the last years for labels like Mego, Staalplaat, or Doc."

DODO RECORDS (ITALY):

HILLOW HAMMET: Hammer CD (DDR 510). $15.00

Dodo is a new Italian reissue label, a branch of the Comet/Akarma family. "Originally released in 1969 on House Of The Fox (and produced by Lelan Rogers of the International Artists label)... this Oklahoma based combo recorded a good album of hard rock with lots of acid guitar... a very rare item."

DOG W/A BONE:

DUCHAMP, MARCEL: The Entire Musical Work CD (DWAB 01). $17.00

New 20th century composer's label, based out of the Paula Cooper gallery in NYC, in association with Petr Kotik's S.E.M. Ensemble. This Duchamp CD is a similar release to the CD on the Ampere label (same title, same general selection of Duchamp's major musical pieces); the main difference is that this DWAB version features one additional piece, "Sculpture Musicale" (a mesostic performed by John Cage) & features improved sound/performance according to Kotik. This CD was recorded in 1987 by S.E.M. (including Ben Neill on trumpet); the Ampere version was recorded in 1976. "Duchamp's often overlooked musical work was composed for the most part between 1912 and 1921. His method was based on chance and represented a radical departure from the way music was done at the time. Music by Marcel Duchamp includes the artist's complete oeuvre, namely 'Erratum Musical' (for three voices), La Mariée mise à nu par ses célibataires même, 'Erratum Musical' (in two different versions for player piano and chamber ensemble), and the conceptual piece 'Sculpture Musicale' (with a special version performed by John Cage). The liner notes contain reproductions of Duchamp's handwritten scores, as well as photographs of the instrumental 'apparatus' used to create the second version of 'La Mariée mise à nu par ses célibataires même (a funnel, seven open top cars and six sets of balls)'. Also included is a mesostic (a poem legible both horizontally and vertically) by John Cage."

FELDMAN, MORTON: For Philip Guston 4CD (DWAB 02). $44.00

"Feldman is recognized as one of the twentieth century's most influential composers. Feldman's artistic principles were shaped in the early 1950s by his association with composers Cage, Earle Brown and David Tudor, and painters Philip Guston, Mark Rothko, Jackson Pollock and Robert Rauschenberg, to name a few. In keeping with Feldman's aesthetic privileging of scale over form, For Philip Guston, composed in memory of his late friend, expands to a monumental five hours. On the front cover of the comprehensive 4-CD set is a reproduction of Feldman's portrait by Philip Guston. The liner notes include a conversation between composers Walter Zimmerman and Kotik, exploring the many facets of Feldman's music." Recorded in 1995 and performed by S.E.M. Ensemble (Petr Kotik, flute, alto flute, piccolo; Joseph Kubera, piano, celeste; Chris Nappi, vibraphone, marimbaphone, glockenspiel, chimes).

KOTIK, PETR: Many Many Women 3CD (DWAB 03). $35.00

"Digitally remastered from the original 1981 Labor Record release, Kotik's Many Many Women has long been considered a masterpiece of 1970s underground music. The polyphonic composition sets Gertrude Stein's entire novella Many Many Women to music and marks the crystallization of Kotik's musical aesthetic. Described by Richard Kostelanetz as 'continually austere and yet engaging, realizing a musical reinterpretation of Stein's text,' Many Many Women highlights both the musicality of Stein's poetry and Kotik's distinctly personal treatment of melody. The liner notes include essays by Kostelanetz and Village Voice critic Kyle Gann."

FELDMAN, MORTON: Turfan Fragments CD (DWAB 04). $19.00

For Samuel Beckett, The Turfan Fragments. The Orchestra of the S.E.M. Ensemble. Petr Kotik, Conductor. "For Samuel Beckett and The Turfan Fragments are Feldman's only chamber orchestra compositions. Both were commissions: The Turfan Fragments by the Swiss-Italian Radio Orchestra in 1980, For Samuel Beckett by the Schönberg Ensemble, Amsterdam, in 1987. Both titles are descriptive and suggest how Feldman arrived at a particular concept for each piece. The Turfan Fragments is a succession of short sections, which could indeed be described as fragments. The title relates the composition to manuscripts from Turfan (the southwest region of present-day China), which are in the collection of the Preussischer Kulturbesitz in Berlin. These calligraphic remnants, going back to the ninth century, were brought to Germany before World War I and Feldman must have seen them while living in Berlin in 1971. In contrast, For Samuel Beckett is based on a single idea of several chord progressions unfolding continuously for almost an hour. In 1977, Beckett wrote a text for Feldman, to be used as the libretto for his opera Neither. Feldman's description of Beckett's writing most eloquently suggests what was on his mind when composing For Samuel Beckett: 'there's something peculiar about it [the Beckett's text]. I can't catch it. Finally I see that every line is really the same thought said in another way. And yet the continuity acts as if something else is happening. Nothing else is happening. What you're doing, in an almost Proustian way, is getting deeper and deeper saturated into the thought.'

S.E.M. ENSEMBLE: Spoken Music Concert at Paula Cooper Gallery CD (DWAB 05). $17.00

"The S.E.M. Ensemble's Spoken Music Concert took place on Tuesday, February 6, 1990, at the Paula Cooper Gallery in New York, then on Wooster Street in Soho. It was performed by members of the S.E.M. Ensemble: Petr Kotik (Director), Chris Nappi, and Joseph Kubera, and Den Neill (sound mix); and four guests: John Cage, Dick Higgins, Jackson Mac Low, and Anne Tardos... 'Empty Words', written in 1973-74, is arguably the most musical of John Cage's texts. Made up of fragments from the journals of Henry David Thoreau, it consists of four parts. The first is a chance-derived mix of phrases, words, syllables, and single letters; subsequent parts each eliminate one of these textual elements from the mix. By the fourth part (performed here), there is nothing left but single letters. As the text becomes simpler and simpler, silences become more and more prominent."

DOLORES/VIRGIN (SWEDEN):

DUNGEN: Stadsvandringar CD (DOLOR 110). $21.00

"Major label debut CD and long awaited follow up to the fantastic debut LP release from last year. This is amazing new Swedish psych/prog/folk/rock from the wonder kid Dungen. The debut CD contains stunning musicianship, spellbinding Swedish folk pop psych inspired by the soulful Swedish folk music and the country's vast forests. No 'neo-psych' bullshit...this is THE real thing! Beautiful vocals, Hammond B-3 organ, flute, violin, groovy bass, swinging drums, electric and acoustic guitars and fuzz. Dungen is the next big thing from Sweden."

VA: Who Will Buy (These Wonderful Evils) 2CD (DOLOR 127). $28.00

"The Swedes are taking over and are hitting the music scene all over the world. But this is not really a new story. In Sweden, as many other countries, the appearance of the Beatles in 1964 brought a reaction against the stagnant music scene of the past. Literally thousands of pop groups appeared from nowhere and the music scene changed forever. Sweden soon became one of the greatest pop hotbeds of the world and this compilation is the solid proof. On these two sizzling discs the cream of the 21st century's Swedish pop/rock/psych wonders are matched with the unquestionable pioneers of the Swedish 60s. Disc one offers a initiated peek at what's happening in the Swedish rock, pop and psych scene right now. Known and unknown material from current heroes such as the Soundtrack of Our Lives (Grammy nominated in the US), H'kan Hellström (selling platinum in Sweden), and Caesars Palace (who just are one their way to conquer the UK), to hungry up-and-coming debutants like Dungen, the Whyte Seeds and Franke, amongst others. On disc two we take a swirling ride through a time machine and encounter rare gems from the sinfully swinging Swedish 60s. Amazing fuzz psych head twister by the Shakers and Pugh. Swinging mod pop anthems by the Wizards, stellar harmony pop by the Jackpots as well as a groovy sitar psych nirvana with Charlie and Esdor, plus lots more compiled here for the first time ever. 2 CD records containing 33 Swedish top tunes housed in a mind expanding sleeve cram filled with pictures and informative liner notes."

VA: Who Will Buy These Wonderful Evils vol. 2 CD (DOLOR 141). $21.00

"A smorgasbord of sizzling Swedish rock, pop psych meatballs! On this sizzling follow up you'll hear for the first time the cream of 1960s Swedish pop/rock/psych wonders. Amazing fuzz psych head twister by Les Fleurs, psych punk by the Mascots, freakbeat galore by the Stringtones, tough R&B by the Best, phased pop psych by Darling and swinging femme mod beat by Bella & Me plus lots more, including Sweden only releases by the obscure and mystical 60s UK groups the Evil Eyes and the Iveys, compiled here for the first time ever. The CD contains 21 Swedish top tunes, including 3 previously unreleased tracks, housed in a mind expanding sleeve cram filled with pictures and informative liner notes. The Cheers, The Stringtones, Evil Eyes, Kings, Mascots, Iveys, Vat 66, Les Fleurs, The Best, Bella & Me, The Mixers, Attractions, 14, Darling, Zoom, Ackes, Members Blues Band, Flying Dutchmen."

DOM ELCHKLANG (GERMANY):

ANEMONENGURT: Bocese Berneau CD (DOM 011 CD). $18.00

"Ten (!) years after their amazingly bizarre debut, Anemonengurt dive even deeper into heavy blasts of intelligent fake-powerrock and strangely unique lyrics for their 'second coming'. Here is a crushing, multi-faced beast of an album, due to the new found strength of the song shaping in combination with their good old cheap death metal synth sound. Conjointly with the odd cover artwork, Bocese Berneau can be seen as one of the most fascinating CDs published within the last years. The lazy late night beats and truly soulful vocals of Feuerboy are incredible and Kirk Kleber's cool and stylish performance on the title track evokes the thrill of struggling between heaven and hell."

ROWENTA/KHAN: Tiefpünkte Moderner Tonkomposition CD (DOM 012 CD). $18.00

"After the split of H.N.A.S. in the early 90s, Achim P. Li Khan kept the original weird and experimental spirit of the early days alive and, joining forces with classically trained Frank Rowenta (see also his wonderful solo release), he took the H.N.A.S. sound to the next stage. This digitally remastered CD edition comprises of the whole sessions from 1989-1991 and features 6 bonus tracks that could not be included on the original LP. Faithfully restored and rearranged coverart make this an essential purchase if you love the 80s H.N.A.S.-sound peppered with Rowenta's spacious soundscapes."

KHAN, DR. P. LI: Ein Hauch Von Höllenlärm CD (DOM 014 CD). $18.00

"A lot of H.N.A.S. fans all over the world kept asking to finally re-release on CD what they consider one of H.N.A.S.'s definitive masterpieces (along with Im Schatten der Möhre and Melchior): P. Li Khan's solo side of H.N.A.S. Ach, dieser Bart! LP. Originally issued on vinyl in 1988 (KK records, Belgium) this recordings (included here is the very rare bonus 7" track) show why Dr. P. Li Khan and H.N.A.S. are rated as pioneering forces of experimental music in the 80s/90s. An astonishing wild mix-up of strange songs, bizarre cutups and an overall 'kraut-tone' make these tracks so special. The other part of the CD gives an overview of P. Li Khan's more recent live works during his 2 year stay in Asia, 2000-2002, covering several in-concert recordings from China, Korea and Vietnam."

ROWENTA, FRANK: Schuss In Den Ofen CD (DOM 018). $18.00

"Join Rowenta exploiting the strange visions of 13 year old Heike, a German girl, who first told her obscure story in 1975. You may have heard some rumors about her fate, but what actually happened back then is still a mystery to all those involved (even original T.O.P.Y. members). Frank got hold of Heike's archives in 1989, but was told emphatically not to touch them before the very year 2000. He did so, but it took him another 3 years to restore and edit this difficult and scary stuff. If you listen to the finished work now, you will agree that it was worth the wait, as the results of Frank's work are astonishing in any way. Dr. P. Li Khan's careful production makes this CD one of the most essential issues of the darker side of current experimental music."

H.N.A.S./MIESES GEGONGE: Abwassermusik CD (DOM 7716). $18.00

"Long-awaited reissues of the legendary early works by this German duo of Christoph Heemann & Achim P. Li Khan (plus friends like Steven Stapleton, Diana Rogerson, Martin Klaeren, Birgit Utzerath, Andreas Heemann, etc.). Underground collage-rock and clatter, inspired by NWW, from back in the day. "(79 min.) For the first time on CD: the long deleted classic collaboration LP of 2 of Germany's most bizarre bands (originally issued in 1985). Mastered from the original tape, coverart restored from the original full-color artwork by Achim P. Li Khan, that could not be used in 1985. Comes with 7 rare/unreleased bonustracks (incl. 3 never heard pieces from Mieses Gegonge's mysterious archives)."

H.N.A.S. (HIRSCHE NICHT AUFS SOFA): Melchior CD (DOM 7717). $18.00

"The long awaited official CD issue (78 min.) of the long-deleted and sought after second H.N.A.S. album, originally released on NWW's United dairies label in 1986. The CD (along with 10 bonus-tracks!) was remastered from the original master-tapes, the cover was faithfully restored from original artwork+photos. Bonus-tracks include: 'Hunsrück/Ramon der Monsterjunge' (DOM single, 1987), unreleased stuff from the 'Hunsrück'-sessions, compilation tracks and unreleased demos."

H.N.A.S. (HIRSCHE NICHT AUFS SOFA): Küttel Im Frost CD (DOM 7718). $18.00

"The long overdue official CD issue (77 min.) of the long-deleted and sought after third H.N.A.S. album, originally released on DOM in 1986. The CD (incl. 7 bonus-tracks featuring unreleased 1986 live versions of 'Melchior'+K.I.F.-tracks from the only H.N.A.S. concert in the 80s!) was remastered from the original master-tapes, the cover was faithfully restored from original artwork + photos."

H.N.A.S. (HIRSCHE NICHT AUFS SOFA): Im Schatten der Möhre CD (DOM 7719). $18.00

"The long awaited official DOM CD issue (77 min.) of the long-deleted and sought after fourth HNAS album, originally released on DOM in 1987. The CD (along with 7 bonus tracks!) was remastered from the original master-tapes, the cover was faithfully restored from original artwork+photos. Bonus-tracks include: 'Im Schatten'-session-outtakes, 'Musik für Schuhgeschäfte'-outtakes, concert-rehearsals (all unreleased). [this album has also been reissued by Christoph Heemann on Streamline, 1013, without the 7 bonus tracks found on this version]

H.N.A.S. (HIRSCHE NICHT AUFS SOFA): The Book Of Dingskirchen CD (DOM 7720). $18.00

"Finally available from DOM: the official (not the bootleg CDR) CD issue (79 min.!!!) of the rarest H.N.A.S. album, originally released in a limited edition of 20 LPs in black and 70 LPs in clear vinyl back in 1988. The CD (along with 10 bonus-tracks!) was carefully remastered, the cover was restored from the original artwork of Achim P. Li Khan, that could not be used in 1988 due to the small edition and the high costs for full-color LP covers. Bonus-tracks include: outtakes from Küttel Im Frost sessions, weird versions of Musik für Schuhgeschäfte tracks and rare LP/cass.- compilation tracks from 1985-1992."

DOMINO (UK):

TUNDRA, MAX: Cakes CD (RUG 101 CD). $6.50

"Ben Jacobs (a.k.a. Max Tundra) grew up on a diet of 10cc, Nik Kershaw, Art Of Noise, and Gustav Holst. His first forays into music making as a child were the compilations of pause button mega-mixes of the above musical luminaries, and many others, on his Mum's mid system. His first release, Children At Play, surfaced on Warp in February 1998. A Max Tundra remix of Mogwai's 'Helicon 2' appeared on the Kicking A Dead Pig LP: Cakes is your first chance to enjoy the delights of his forthcoming debut album, Some Best Friend You Turned Out To Be."

THIRD EYE FOUNDATION: What Is It With You CD (RUG 102CD). $9.00

Three track EP from Bristol's Matt Elliott. Features "What Is It With You", "Are You Still A Cliché (With Troubled Mind)", "What Is It With You (Remote Viewer Remix)".

V-TWIN: Delinquency 12" (RUG 106). $7.00

V-TWIN: Delinquency CD (RUG 106 CD). $6.50

"Glasgow's V-Twin, showing off a sincere appreciation of the insurrectionary power of Jerry Lee Rock 'n' Roll. The single features mixes by such musical luminaries as Jagz Kooner (Primal Scream collaborator), Gareth Jones (Depeche Mode producer) and Adam & Eve (a.k.a. Royal Trux)."

WOODBINE: Neskwik CD (RUG 115 CD). $7.00

"Taken from their eponymously titled debut album, 'Neskwik' gets the Jagz Kooner remix treatment. This new version of 'Neskwik' underpins the edgy quirkiness of Susan Dillane's vocals with a driving Stooges like groove. Woodbine are a three piece consisting of Susan Dillane, Rob Healy and Graeme Swindon. The trio come falling out of the seedier side of the midlands' darkened lung, and have been together since the mid-nineties."

FOUR TET: Paws CD (RUG 130 CD). $7.50

"The first remix EP from the acclaimed Four Tet's Pause album enlists Kieran Hebden's a-list of engineers and artists to rework his songs. The results possess the stamps of their owners' trademark sounds and rhythms, making this an attractive companion to Pause and a groundbreaking piece of work in its own right. Kieran Hebden's remix choices: Koushik, Manitoba, Boom Bip."

TUNDRA, MAX: Lysine CD (RUG 142 CD). $7.50

Three track single, "Lysine" is taken from the forthcoming album Mastered By Guy At The Exchange. Singing by Becky Jacobs. "Ben Jacobs is assisted by sister Becky on a ditty that warns of the danger of cold sores. Trippy and hip-hoppy, summery and stylish, experimental and extraordinary, this also contains the slick piano number 'Our Syllabus'. Lovely and different."

TUNDRA, MAX: Lysine 12" (RUG 142 EP). $8.00
12" vinyl version.

ELLIOT, MATT: Borderline Schizophrenic 10" (RUG 157 EP). $9.00

"Matt Elliott (Third Eye Foundation) has returned to Domino, prodigal son style, and his forthcoming album The Mess We Made is indeed something worth changing your stage name for this taster features two one off tracks, not featured on the album itself, exclusive to this release — and more dancefloor based than the album. Now living in rural France, Borderline Schizophrenic finds Matt picking up the guitar and lacing a traditional Spanish style hook with a head noddin hip hop groove for first number 'You Spooked The Horses part 1' before switching the pace with the Amen break for 'part 2' B-side 'Branette Espagnole' comes over like Black Dog on a 2 step sabbatical, straight up electronic jazz with a skip."

MFA: Coffee Shop Rules CD (WIG 048 CD). $17.00

"Comprised of Mark Broom and Dave Hill, MFA started out in the early '90s on the Mo Wax label. MFA were introduced to Domino through the label's Series 500 imprint. The pair also run Pure Plastic Records, a techno label with a discography of 39 releases thus far, including Rue East, Ben Sims, Surgeon, Claude You, Jega and Autechre. Coffee Shop Rules is a fantastic mix of breaks, beats and techno influences."

MFA: Coffee Shop Rules 2LP (WIG 048 LP). $19.00
Double LP.

CLINIC: CD (WIG 064 CD). $13.00

Mid-priced 1999 CD untitled compilation which features the tracks from the group's first 3 7"s all on one CD (the Voot, Monkey On Your Back & Cement Mixer EPs, originally issued in 1997 on the Aladdins' Cave of Golf label). Clinic are from Liverpool and have been compared in varying degrees to: Velvet Underground, Stereolab, Can, Devo, Jesus & Mary Chain, the Stooges, T-Rex and the Beach Boys; "the Clinic sound is like a synthesis of all the finer musical things in life."

CLINIC: Internal Wrangler CD (WIG 078 CD). $17.50

"The long awaited debut album from critically acclaimed Clinic, Internal Wrangler shows just what can be done for pop music by avoiding not just the middle of the road, but the whole road entirely. The album is made up of frantic two & a half minute twisting pop songs, interspersed by quieter, more reflective moods. Instrumental tracks include the opening blast of multi-layered drumming on 'Voodoo Wop', the backwards flowing 'DJ Shangri-La' and the furious bite of 'Hippy Death Suite'. The Clinic prescription: seize the past, dissect, rearrange, insert wit and paranoia, add lashings of William Burroughs and Phil Spector, and above all make it groovy."

TELE:FUNKEN: A Collection Of Ice Cream Vans Vol. II CD (WIG 083 CD). $18.00

"Debut album from Tele:Funken (aka Tom Fenn). With influences ranging from Kraftwerk to Bach, and Aphex Twin and Eric Satie. A Collection Of Ice Cream... has a unique sense of wonkiness and innocent melodies. The first fruits of his labour arrived via a joint album with Flying Saucer Attack (Distant Station, issued by Drag City in the US). Tom grew up in Brighton, moved to Bristol and now resides in Birmingham where he is part of the ever burgeoning, genre-straddling scene of bohemian producers that includes Broadcast, Pram, Plone and Surgeon." "Second full length album following a series of singles ('Breakdown Test' and 'Excellence in Amps, Volts and Watts', both Domino) from a Brummie named Tom Fenn. Borderline lounge at times, it could be said that a certain allegiance (if only in spirit) with the contempo-motork of Cologne (L@N, Schlammpeitziger) wasn't entirely off base, although a cringe-inducing aura of whimsy can occasionally creep in and do some damage. Pretty damn IDM." — Hrvatski.

V TWIN: Free The Twin CD (WIG 086 CD). $9.00

"Free The Twin is a collection of singles and rarities that mops up the V-Twin Domino history, and gives the uninitiated a look into the world of The Twin. This compilation CD features mixes from the likes of Jagz Kooner (Primal Scream), Adam & Eve (aka Royal Trux), Gareth Jones (Depeche Mode & Clinic), Kid Loco, and Domino label mates Cinema. Formed around the nucleus of singer Jason McPhail and drummer Michael McGaughin, V-Twin are a revolving door that's seen fellow Glaswegians Belle and Sebastian and The Pastels pass through, as well as such luminaries as Big Star's Alex Chilton and Royal Trux."

TUNDRA, MAX: Mastered By Guy At The Exchange LP (WIG 112 LP). $16.00

CINEMA RECORDED MUSIC LIBRARY: Before The Dark CD (WIG 113 CD). $15.00

"First LP from downtempo self confessed movie soundtrack buffs Cinema. Producers of Belle & Sebastian, The Delgados, Pastels etc. getting laidback & philosophical on their days off. Cinema tell us: 'The album is not the dark epic that many foresaw. And neither is it intended as the 'soundtrack to an imaginary film' that some will suggest. However, the album was conceived as a whole and is no random collection of tracks — all have been written specially for the album and each evokes its own particular feeling. Organic sounds and live instruments fuse with solid rhythm tracks, creating instrumentals that have both depth and immediate impact. The overall mood is optimistic, but with melancholy undertones in places'."

CINEMA RECORDED MUSIC LIBRARY: Before The Dark LP (WIG 113 LP). $15.00
LP version.

CLINIC: Walking With Thee CD EP (RUG 134CD). $6.50

3 track CD EP. Features: 'Walking With Thee', 'The Sphinx', and 'Mechanical Madrigal'.

DOMINO US:

CLINIC: Internal Wrangler CD (DOMUS 001CD). $14.00

Domestic US pressing. "Drawing on influences ranging from Giorgio Moroder to Can, the band's uniquely futuristic sound has garnered critical acclaim in the UK and quickly established a growing fanbase here in the States. Having received two NME 'Singles of the Week' before they ever released an album, the band's debut was amongst the UK's most highly anticipated of last year." "Here is a band voracious in appetite and perverse in intent: Internal Wrangler nods to Can, Coltrane, the Velvets, Suicide, Joe Meek, and Sly's There's A Riot, but actually sounds like nothing else you've heard before, encompassing garagey racket, hymnal sweetness and skewed electronics." ? Mojo

FOUR TET: Pause CD (DOMUS 002CD). $14.00

Domestic US pressing. "As one-third of the unique, genre-bending Fridge, Kieran Hebden has already established himself as a vital creative force blurring the lines between rock, jazz, electronic and ambient. Two years since the release of Dialogue, the debut by his solo project Four Tet, he has solidified this standing with Pause — a dramatic shift in style, sound and feel to its predecessor. Pause shows maturity in its employment of a more distinctive range of sonics, from incidental rustlings and playground field recordings to delicate melodic flourishes and audacious rhythmic sculptures. Though directed by tough, surefooted beats, Pause is a soothing listen. A definite step forward, this album knows where it is going and how to get there."

PILOTE: Do It Now Man CD (DOMUS 003CD). $15.00

"The US version with bonus track not on the European import. Brighton-based Stuart Cullen (aka Pilote) steps up with his second album for Certificate 18 and first on Domino US. While retaining the melancholy beauty of its predecessor, Do It Now Man takes a more direct route into the brain, with heavier beats and darker edges. Do It Now Man's adventurous rhythms, plural melodies and contrasting light and dark textures are certain to keep listeners intrigued. Its melodic rhythms are reminiscent of µ-Ziq, but with a far gloomier tone. Pilote's daring mixture of leftfield electronica, downtempo beats and electro grooves keep this album moving."

FUTURE PILOT AKA: Tiny Wives, Mighty Sea CD (DOMUS 004CD). $15.00

"Tiny Wives, Mighty Sea was recorded at a converted flour mill on the banks of the River Clyde in Glasgow, Scotland. It shows the Future Pilot, Sushil K. Dade, in a new light, abandoning his trademark tape cut-ups and collages in favor of a loose group approach, which features at different moments Isobel Campbell and Stuart Murdoch of Belle & Sebastian, Teenage Fanclub, The Pastels, The Delgados, and the Bill Wells Octet, in an uplifting and heady atmosphere. Sushil Dade is a present-day Van Dyke Parks or a Jack Nitzche uber-producer type coaxing transcendental sounds from his musical friends, starting with bare bones arrangements and letting them stretch out over the songs, then reigning it all in during the mix. This is a heavy album, make no mistake."

CLINIC: Walking With Thee CD (DOMUS 005CD). $15.00

"Ade, Hartley, Brian and Carl are from Liverpool, but that's where the similarity with any other quartet ends. In fact, Clinic play as if pop remained in permanent thrall to Joe Meek before jumping straight to Studio One dub. Or as if The Shangri-Las drifted into Crime. Because Clinic sound like no other band. As individual as Suicide or The Monks, as self-sufficient as Modern Lovers or Silver Apples, they describe a twilight place: the streets surrounding John Carpenter's Precinct 13, the disco on the inhabited side of the moon. It's a sinister, sexy locale, with a dark sense of humor, fully explored on their second album. The haunting bleat of a melodic beckons us into 'Welcome.' An iced electric piano invites us to 'Come Into Our Home' and introduces us to the deserted nightclub of 'Harmony.' And if these tunes describe a Hitchcockian calm, then the antic clatter of 'The Equaliser' and the ferocious 'Pet Eunuch' embrace the subsequent storm."

CLINIC: 3 EPs CD (DOMUS 006CD). $13.50

"A compilation of Clinic's first three singles, previously available on their own Aladdin's Cave of Golf Records, this spectacle concocted of catchy, dark vocals; scary, Velvets guitar sound; Beach Boys melodies; and a big, girly, American drum beat is all wrapped up with a sentiment most people in the know share."

LONE PIGEON: Concubine Rice CD (DOMUS 007CD). $15.00

"Like Skip Spence's Oar, Concubine Rice is the purest possible representation of a human being. It captures one of the most honest and intimate, personal journeys you are likely to hear on record. Perhaps the most naked moments are those recorded soon after Anderson's departure from the Beta Band, his lowest ebb. In contrast, one could easily imagine songs such as 'Boats' as outtakes from the Beach Boys' Smile sessions, and 'Melonbeard' as an archived acid-drenched Syd Barrett song, while others, though technically naïve, are still as heartfelt as John Lennon's Imagine album. Although all the songs on Concubine Rice are recorded lo-fi, limitations in technology have not diminished The Lone Pigeon's imagination. Concubine Rice has the elements of some of the greatest musical geniuses of the 20th Century. It is a desperate, honest, humorous, intimate, madcap, naïve, poignant, tragic record, but most of all it is effortlessly brilliant."

LONE PIGEON: Concubine Rice 2LP (DOMUS 007LP). $17.00

"180 gram vinyl double LP — with five non-CD tracks."

WOODBINE: Woodbine CD (DOMUS 008CD). $15.00

"Four years after Domino signed Woodbine, they arrived on the label's doorstep with a quarter-inch master tape and grins from one ear to the other. This record redefined the blissed-out folk sound that swept the UK six months previous. Where the others start with a groove and build their tracks around that, Woodbine builds from the trance-like vocals of Susan Dillane — part English folk songstress, part contemporary chanteuse (like a meeting of Fairport's Sandy Denny and Portishead's Beth Gibbons) — who infuses Woodbine's tracks with character and hard-to-quantify depth (it's difficult to imagine the band without her crystal drawl). The trio also features Graeme Swindon and Rob Healey (a founding member of Cornershop); Swindon's trademark guitar and vocal style, and Healey's fluid rhythm playing (drums and bass) are essential. Woodbine was recorded in England and mixed by Adam and Eve (aka Neil and Jennifer of Royal Trux)."

YORKSTON, JAMES: Moving Up Country CD (DOMUS 009CD). $15.00

"Debut album from Edinburgh based singer-songwriter. An eclectic mix of contemporary and traditional folk. Yorkston's demos are some of the most-talked-about recordings in the UK, having attracted fans as disparate as John Peel, John Martyn, Four Tet and the Psychonauts."

NOTWIST, THE: Neon Golden CD (DOMUS 010CD). $13.00

Domestic US issue of this City Slang album. "15 months in the making, and light years ahead of their post-punk, self-titled debut in 1990, Neon Golden is The Notwist's sixth full length album. Outside of their native Germany, it's probably only the most musically astute who are aware of this Bavarian four piece, and then only through their last album, released by Stereolab's label Duophonic. But the past is, in many ways, irrelevant, and offers little explanation as to why Domino should sign them so far into their career. That explanation is to be found within Neon Golden. Offering a myriad of offset influences and styles that shouldn't, on paper at least, add up to the masterpiece that it is, Neon Golden seamlessly blends Markus Acher's subtle guitar and plaintive, detached vocals with modern day electronica courtesy of squiggle-rock maestro Martin Grestschmann aka Console. Classically trained trumpeter and bassist Micha Acher provides ultra-fat dub passages alongside lush string and horn arrangements, whilst the whole stew is anchored by Mecki Messerschmidt's colourful drum work. The Domino release features three bonus tracks not available on the import."

MANITOBA: Start Breaking My Heart CD (DOMUS 011CD). $15.00

"Start Breaking My Heart is spliced with arcs of rainbow melody, hopscotch percussion patterns, and playground children laughing. Humanity and nature are strong threads through this album: beauty and mystery are revealed in the mundane and ordinary. Snaith plays guitars and keyboards, preferring to record a melody straight up than sample someone else's, combining these basic elements with computer trickery. It gives the album an electronic-organic feel, warm but with a slightly uptight twitch, like you know he's going to produce some really banging dance-floor track eventually. Not today, though. While there's a lot going on — some extraordinary explosions of rapid fire laser beats, out of which fairy dust nursery rhymes come dancing, Start Breaking My Heart is so beautifully arranged — equal parts grace and dexterity — it manages to both stimulate and soothe at the same time."

MANITOBA: Up In Flames CD (DOMUS 013CD). $13.00

"It sounds like a kaleidoscopic tumble of starlight melodies, irresistibly catchy fat beats and all manner of uplifting tooting, plinking, rifting, tinkling, and soaring; the joyous mass gliding happily together within Manitoba's masterful sense of space. There's a lot in there, but it's never cluttered. The point is that Dan writes actual songs, not just a bunch of sounds strung together in ProTools. It's an album of 'wicked pop songs with textures, layers and weird instruments. I make music totally by ear, just by fucking around and experimenting.' Well, that will happen if you spend enough time soaking in albums by My Bloody Valentine, Spaceman 3, Mercury Rev, The Beach Boys, Neutral Milk Hotel and psychedelic rockers like The Byrds and The End."

MANITOBA: Up In Flames LP (DOMUS 013LP). $13.00
LP version.

FOUR TET: Rounds CD (DOMUS 014CD). $14.50

"Kieran Hebden has released eight (!) albums between his solo Four Tet work and band efforts as Fridge; spent the last two years hot footing it across continents with his in demand live-laptop shows, and has a burgeoning sideline career as an artist producer while his remixing prowess knows no bounds. While his debut, Dialouge, was a startling odyssey through free jazz, soul and funk, and his second, Pause, managed to kick off the folktronica trend with its psych-folk and pastoral acid rock loveliness that prompted many a year's best accolade, Rounds sees Hebden shucking off the juvenile tendency to artfully reinterpret one's, in his case, admittedly mindboggling, depth of influences. Rounds is the album where he beautifully, uniquely comes into his own."

MOLINA, JUANA: Segundo CD (DOMUS 015CD). $13.00

"Who is Juana Molina? She's a songwriter and guitarist who hails from Buenos Aires, Argentina and sings with extraordinary grace. Her delicate vocals float above fragile guitar with a undercurrent of subtle electronic beats and textures."

KING CREOSOTE: Kenny and Beth's Musakal Boat Rides CD (DOMUS 016CD). $11.00

"King Creosote is a fellow named Kenny, who hails from the small Scottish town of Fife, also home to good friend and fellow musical traveler James Yorkston. Kenny heads a loose gang of musicians known as the Fence Collective. Somebody had to go first on the Fence, so why not the regal Fence preserver himself? His time-served bands Skuobbe Dubh Orchestra and Khartoum Heroes had spectacularly hit self destruct, and there were all these musical thoughts keeping him awake at night ... With too many CDR albums to his regal name, and all sung in the home accent too, the album Kenny and Beth's Musakal Boat Rides is a mastered trawl through most of them."

CLEARLAKE: Almost The Same CD (DOMUS 019CD). $6.50

"Hailing from the south coast of England, Clearlake's debut album Lido was highly acclaimed and won them fans as diverse as Jarvis Cocker, Stephen Malkmus, and The Delgados. Clearlake also boast an expanding palette of raw and evocative sonics: guitars that describe small orchestras of feedback, woozily-arranged strings, chiming antique pianos and rich, layered vocal harmonies all recorded with a garagey bravado."

CLEARLAKE: Cedars CD (DOMUS 020CD). $12.00

"Their second album, conceived by the band in France and Brighton and produced with former Cocteau Twin, Simon Raymonde. Singer Jason Pegg's incisive songs explore subjects rarely visited articulately in pop since peak-period Smiths — madness, death, loss, self-loathing and self-healing among them. The outlook may occasionally be overcast but it's offset by the tremendous therapeutic clout of gorgeous melody and forensically observed lyrics. Clearlake also boast an expanding palette of raw and evocative sonics: guitars that describe small orchestras of feedback, woozily-arranged strings, chiming antique pianos and rich, layered vocal harmonies all recorded with a garagey bravado."

NOTWIST: Different Cars and Trains CD (DOMUS 021CD). $9.00

"Different Cars and Trains is a collection of remixes by such folks as Console (aka Martin Grestschmann — who is also a member of the band), Four Tet and Manitoba (their first and only joint remix) and LoopsPool."

FRANZ FERDINAND: Darts of Pleasure CD (DOMUS 022CD). $5.50

"Franz Ferdinand hail from Glasgow, Scotland. Their single 'Darts of Pleasure' has been named 'Single of the Week' on BBC Radio and is on the receiving end of the gushing, ecstatic praise that make you wonder if money is exchanging hands. (It isn't, and that's the Domino promise)."

FOUR TET: As Serious As Your Life 12" (DOMUS 023EP). $7.50

"'As Serious As Your Life' is the second single to be taken from Rounds — marking out

Kieran Hebden (aka Four Tet) as one of the most in-demand producers and remixers around. The remixes here pull 'As Serious As Your Life' into all manner of previously unimagined shapes, often resulting in a more urgent and aggressive edge than the original version. One highlight is a mind blowing live, improvised version (on the b-side of the 12") that clocks in at a mammoth 23 minutes and 16 seconds."

YORKSTON, JAMES: Someplace Simple CD (DOMUS 024CD). $7.50

"The new James Yorkston EP is something of a revelation. A five-track song cycle comprised of original material, a stunning cover of Lal and Mike Waterson's 'Scarecrow', and three newly arranged traditional songs, Someplace Simple marks a subtle change for James Yorkston. Old traits are still present — exquisite and suitably understated arrangements, delicate playing, a voice of warmth and rough texture — but on this record James seems to be in a different place from whence he came with 2001's Moving Up Country. The sound is gloriously sparse, where it was once glorious and near symphonic, and the starkness of the songs themselves lends itself to James' subtle interpretations, and the smaller ensemble with which he is playing. There is a certain assuredness in the performances here, and something astounding about the manner with which each song slowly reveals its melodies and meanings with each repeated listen."

FOUR TET: As Serious As Your Life - Jay Dee Remix 12" (DOMUS 025EP). $6.50

"You know the name. Jay Dee. J Dilla. Detroit is where he's from but by now, the man is world wide. His production work stretches from the UMMAH to Soulquarians to Slum Village to Common and the blazing new Jaylib collaboration with Madlib. But now, he takes on perhaps his most ambitious remix project by reshaping Four Tet's 'As Serious As Your Life'. Dilla chops the beat, extends the rift on a bass line, adds his trademark low end theory, and cuts and scratches his way through with vocal assistance from Guilty Simpson (also featured on the Jaylib project). The result? A thoroughly wild, hot, and out there instant psych-hop classic that erases, no, make that smashes boundaries. It's as much for introspective headphone appreciation as it is for rocking 2 turntables and the dancefloor. Yeah, it's like that."

FRANZ FERDINAND: Franz Ferdinand CD (DOMUS 027CD). $13.00

"Franz Ferdinand's relatively quick rise is no hype job. They have arrived fully-formed, that rare combination of great hooks, smart looks, live prowess and swagger without all that messy pretension. Their songs are a delectable mix of rock, pop, disco and post-punk, a band not afraid to combine the nervy guitar funk of The Talking Heads and Orange Juice, the off-beat hi-hat accents of Moroder-era Blondie and the glam stomp of The Fall."

FOUR TET: My Angel Rocks Back And Forth CD/DVD (DOMUS 029CD). $12.00

"'My Angel Rocks Back And Forth', the next single from the acclaimed Rounds album, will come as a DVD/CD double pack featuring all four of Four Tet's amazing videos, including Japanese director Woof Wan-Bau's latest surreal animation for the lead track. The competitively priced two-disc package also contains a CD complete with four new tracks, including highly-inventive remixes of 'My Angel Rocks Back And Forth' from Icarus and 1st Thing/ Chia from Isambard Khroustaliou (a member of Icarus), as well as two new Four Tet compositions, 'I've Got Viking In Me' and 'All The Chimers'. Lauded, but hard-to-get-to-see, the videos on the DVD include the three singles taken from Rounds, plus 'No More Mosquitoes' from Four Tet's previous album, Pause."

FOUR TET: My Angel Rocks Back and Forth LP (DOMUS 029LP). $8.00

LP version; CD/DVD version forthcoming. "'My Angel Rocks Back And Forth', the next single from the acclaimed Rounds album, Four new tracks, including highly-inventive remixes of 'My Angel Rocks Back And Forth' from Icarus and 1st Thing/ Chia from Isambard Khroustaliou (a member of Icarus), as well as two new Four Tet compositions, 'I've Got Viking In Me' and 'All The Chimers'."

MOLINA, JUANA: Tres Cosas CD (DOMUS 030CD). $13.00

"Argentine singer Juana Molina's Segundo was released last summer and quietly but surely worked its way into the playlists of discerning listeners. A mixture of acoustic guitars, traditional percussion touches, electronic textures and her disarming vocals — Segundo stands on its own as one of the most evocative and original albums in recent memory. It is not easily classified as it blurs lines between simple categorization. Juana's new album Tres Cosas is just as breathtaking while altogether different in approach."

TO ROCOCO ROT: Hotel Morgen CD (DOMUS 031CD). $13.00

"Palindromic To Rococo Rot return with a typically graceful series of moving pictures which as ever seek to show us something of our own time, and 'a something elseness'. On Hotel Morgen (trans: Morning Hotel) their fluency is dazzling, although it is always pleasing to recognise a Stefan bass run, a Ronald drum pattern, a Robert melody line. Actually, this time the idea was to make a less electronic record, and the group situated itself in a studio with a different palette of grand piano, wurlitzer and vibraphone, alongside the usual instruments. But with To Rococo Rot, you imagine a concept is often only useful as a starting point rather than an end in itself, and in reverting to a more familiar set-up as the session progressed, they found themselves 'returning' to a new place."

TO ROCOCO ROT: Hotel Morgen LP (DOMUS 031LP). $13.00
LP version.

ADEM: Homesongs CD (DOMUS 033CD). $13.00

"How to explain this extraordinary record? What to say to capture the sheer understated beauty of its conception and realization? How to convey that — against the odds — another ex-member of Fridge has delivered a record every bit as human, complete and utterly unique as Kieran Hebden/Four Tet's breakthrough album Rounds? On Homesongs, Adem has emerged as an expressive singer who can tend towards making everyone else seem crass and over-wrought. As a bookend to Rounds, it could be thought of as a folktronica record without the tronica, except that it couldn't accurately be called a folk record either. It is, at turns, sad, warm, hopeful, delicate, human, over-reaching and intimate."

ADEM: Homesongs LP (DOMUS 033LP). $13.00

LP version.

PRAM: Dark Island LP (WIG 120 LP). $14.00

"The hidden depths of Pram continue to unfold. Pram's Dark Island is a concept album steeped in the wonderful and weird and takes in the odd and solitary lives of a windswept seaside town in winter. Pervading all is a sleaziness, a dark underbelly captured by slinky guitar, drunken clarinet, brazen horn, sinister strings, heavy dub bass, mesmerized samples, hypnotizing vocals & mournful trumpet. But the trademark breezy pop is still alive and well, the instrumental glamour of Theremin opener 'Track of the Cat' and the gorgeous 'Paper Hats' will ease the darker edges. In Dark Island, Pram lead us into a less familiar version of the seaside town, the world of Pinky and his small-time gangsters from Brighton Rock, of dark alleyways and desperate deals where the end of the pier is never far away." FX 781.321.0321 funky, funky as only a few electronic producers are able to be. They have been sounding authentic since the very first demo we got to listen to: no vocals, no chorus, no longrunning loops — but groove — jazzy melodies — hooklines that you definitely want to be played again. We have named it Slacker Electronics since they do not give anything on party hypes whilst kicking the crowd better than a lot of those jet setters. People can feel good in between the Moonbuggy polars of rhythm and song melodies. The new album, their debut after a 12" and a few contributions to samplers, is something really special. It is a habit killer, a soundtrack, a travel guide or just a hard days night wellness tuner. They show us once again what is possible to be done with a bunch of analog keyboards and a few software cracks. And, there are hand played guitars and basses, another trademark of Moonbuggy. They try to play as much as possible live to make the playbacks worth using the name. Moonbuggy are telling stories, no long novel books, no rhymes — rather short tripping tales with heavenly open ends."

DRA RECORDS:

DOYLE PLUS 4, ARTHUR: Alabama Feeling CD (DRA 1). $13.00

A reissue on Arthur Doyle's own imprint, of his infamous debut album from 1978, originally released on Charles Tyler's AK-BA label. Doyle (Tenor Voice-O-Phone, Bass Voice-O-Phone, flute), Richard Williams (Fender bass), Rashied Sinan (drums), Bruce Moore (drums), Charles Stephens (trombone). A raw, primitive, screaming blast of sound. "This recording was originally released in a limited pressing of 1000 in 1978. These vinyl copies now sell for up to $200, particularly in Japan, where Arthur Doyle is a free jazz legend. For his first recording as a leader (he was heard previously on Noah Howard's Black Ark and Milford Graves' Babi Music), Arthur chose drummer Rashied Sinan, who he had worked with in his early groups going back to '72. Sinan suggested the use of 2 drummers explained Doyle, 'to give it more rhythmic feeling.' Listening to the raw emotional power of the first track, 'November 8th or 9th, I Can't Remember When,' you can hear why Alabama Feeling is so highly regarded by aficionados of 'free and spontaneous' music, to use Arthur Doyle's phrase." — Rudolph Grey

DRAG CITY:

GASTR DEL SOL: Crookt, Crackt, or Fly CD (DC 043 CD). $12.00

2nd album from 1993 which we never got around to stocking before. Following The Serpentine Similar, this was the first Gastr to feature Jim O'Rourke. Written and performed by Dave Grubbs and O'Rourke, with additional percussion from John McEntire and bass clarinet by Gene Coleman.

PLUSH: More You Becomes You LP (DC 070 LP). $14.00

Deluxe gatefold LP edition.

VOCOKESH: Smile! And Point At The Mountain? CD (DC 076 CD). $13.50

Repress of this CD now available from this Milwaukee post-F/i trio. "One single piece, all sixty-five minutes of the disc. Using a variety of effects devices, some synthetic generators and the occasional found instrument (like a sitar) over a series of chord- and mood changes, the Vocokesh invoke the good old days of mind expansion."

PALACE MUSIC: Arise Therefore CD (DC 088 CD). $13.50

Fourth full length Palace album. "...refines and streamlines old values, like an evisceration of dirt-bound roots... the music glints more sharply than before. The sounds are more recognizably beautiful. The songs are more intimate than we've heard in awhile, harder to see 'cause they're closer to home."

PALACE MUSIC: Arise Therefore LP (DC 088 LP). $11.00

GASTR DEL SOL: Upgrade & Afterlife CD (DC 090 CD). $13.50

First full length release in 2 years from the Grubbs/O'Rourke axis. The following people guest appear: Tony Conrad, Gene Coleman, Gunter Muller, John McIntire. John Fahey's 'Dry Bones In The Valley' gets covered. "Their most impressively impressionistic (and expansive) piece ever opens the record ('Our Exquisite Replica of Eternity')."

RED CRAYOLA: Live 1967 2CD (DC 092 CD). $21.00

Live recordings of the original Red Crayola, from the Angry Arts Festival (6/29/67) and the Berkeley Folk Music Festival (6/67), including guest John Fahey on one track. In the style of Drag City's other archival resurrection, Coconut Hotel, this represents the The Red Crayola at their most way-out. "Despite penning a couple of classics of psychedelia on their first LP ('Hurricane Fighter Plane' and 'Transparent Radiation'), the band showed up at the Berkeley Folk Music Festival in the summer of 1967 with a markedly different approach to ensemble playing. Taking off from the concept of a 'free-form Freak Out', The Red Crayola leaned towards avant-garde approaches. Playing feedback-pieces, sound-as-music, time- and no-time pieces, compressions and motions, one-second pieces, music within music, unheard music and so on. At the Berkeley Folk Music Festival they met John Fahey, master of the indexes and finger picked guitar. He sat in on their set there. Also included in this mind-melting collection of feedback drones, improvisation and unheard music are recordings made in their Venice hotel room after their concert there. These pieces represent the 'unplugged' Crayola approach to their unconventional dictum, as well as their serious attitude towards this often lighthearted, intellectual-physical genre."

ROYAL TRUX: Singles, Live, Unreleased 2CD (DC 093 CD). $22.00

"Those dusty old vaults are filled with a lot more than just a single LP's-worth of outtakes, and they can't all be bad. All the original singles are here, as well as outtakes from the Twain Infinitives and subsequent Untitled LP sessions. Selected tracks from John Peel's program and a couple of live treatments are included for good measure." Complete singles collection, 10 previously unreleased studio tracks, 2 live tracks and three songs only released on compilation albums. From back in the day when it seemed like Royal Trux had something to do with the future of the universe.

OLDHAM, WILL: Black/Rich Music 12" (DC 100 EP). $8.00

First time these tracks have been available on vinyl.

OLDHAM, WILL: Guarapero:Lost Blues 2 CD (DC 111 CD). $13.50

"What we really have here, beyond all brain-thumbing vanity, is a collection; or perhaps re-collection, of fan-pleasing rare and lost tunes, some of which have only been seen in boot-leg (or 'pro-artist') format. Guarapero:Lost Blues 2 is for the pimply faced True Fan who waved the flag, carried the torch and bitched like a bitch over what he/she was/is entitled to in a Palace singles compilation. Now they and you can relive the Palace years (1991-1995) and the Oldham years (1996-2000) with total freaking recall. This one's for you — now go screw."

GHOST: Lama Rabi Rabi CD (DC 113 CD). $13.00

4th album and first non-PSF full length release (worldwide release for Drag City). "Ghost was born in 1984 by some Tokyo Japan youth. At the beginning they were playing completely experimental improvisation but doing so naturally, as a form of worship. Through the production of the 1st album Ghost, and their second, Second Time Around, their sound has slowly changed to the expression of songwriting. Along the way, they have attracted attention for their fascination with traditional Japanese religious music, and a fascination with trance-rock jamming, as well. Last year, the third Ghost album, Temple Stone appeared, containing ten tunes recorded live at an old Buddhist temple and a church. Their live activities are usually held in magical patterns. They used to play anywhere (temple, church, field, woods, ruins, etc.) with an ideal of conception and creation free from constraint. Their purpose is real spiritual music when and wheresoever they play it."

AERIAL M: CD (DC 114 CD). $13.50

"M like Minimal. I mean, once you sit down and hear three guitars, a bass, drums and a shaker coming out of the speaker, minimal might not be the first word that comes to mind. But sooner or later the cleanliness of the mix and the lightness of the music in general sweeps away, leaving a pure sound. There's folk music in this, and scratchy punk guitars. Low-key jazziness, an awareness of dance-beats, a series of rhythms that ebb and flow. Just before it's all over, classical overtones are evoked. Always backed by firm, indivisible drumming. Aerial-M is a group of sounds recorded in Louisville, KY for the most part."

AERIAL M: Aerial M LP (DC 114 LP). $11.00

LP Version.

USA: Little Birds LP (DC 115 LP). $11.00

"USA offers a progressive blend of rock and pop that rocks, twisted with humor and wit, flavored with group harmonics (or 'post-harmonics'), keyboards, and best of all, guitars, guitars, guitars and drums. Sounds like: some aspects of Pavement, Wire, Modern Lovers, Hackamore Brick and David Allan Coe." Recorded by Jim O'Rourke.

TELE:FUNKEN/FLYING SAUCER ATTACK: Distant Station CD (DC 117 CD). $13.50

"Using samples of timeless FSA compositions such as 'Oceans' and 'Popol Vuh I', Tom Fenn aka Tele:Funken has produced a new work that ups the sci-fi quotient in the FSA sound — a record called, appropriately, Distant Station... divided into two parts, the Tele:Funken transmission utilizes long moments of silence, static drones and slow fades in and out. It's even more static than the dreamiest of FSA material, which suddenly seems a lot more rhythmic in comparison. These sounds ebb and flow too, but in a much slower fashion. The dreamy, trancelike element to the FSA sound is brought out by the Tele:Funken sound system."

O'ROURKE, JIM: Bad Timing CD (DC 120 CD). $13.50

"Make no mistake, Bad Timing is not a pop album by any standards. But it is a musing on popular standards and uses much of the same instrumentation that many of our country's most popular records have. Yes, Bad Timing is a theme record, Jim O'Rourke's pop opera, just waiting for someone to come along and play with it. Based on Fahey-esque 6-string acoustic guitar foundations, each of the three pieces expand to include other musical elements. Piano, organ, electric guitar, brass, strings — everything, it seems except vocals! Think of the impressionist Americana of Van Dyke Parks and the soundtracks of Jack Nicktze."

O'ROURKE, JIM: Bad Timing LP (DC 120 LP). $11.00

CHESTNUT STATION: 12" (DC 121 LP). $9.00

"It's good old rock and roll. It's for you to have a good time with. It's touching, fun, gorgeous, thrilling. So what's the problem? It's springtime. A classic pop EP on your doorstep. I repeat. What's the problem?"

FAHEY, JOHN: How Bluegrass Music Destroyed My Life Book (DC 124 BK). $18.00

"John Fahey is feared and revered around the world as a guitar player and composer. His inventions for acoustic and electric strings are the stuff of legend. Since he began recording in Maryland in the late 1950s, Mr. Fahey's access to the unknown tongue has been made manifest on over 30 albums, and his presence has unsettled audiences from here to Tasmania. He has served as a spiritual model for guitarists as disparate as Leo Kottke and Thurston Moore. He has been called a musical visionary by everyone from The New York Times to Ptolemaic Terrascope. John Fahey is a giant of 20th Century American Music. This is well known. It is perhaps less well-known that Fahey's pen has the same world-gobbling ferocity as his guitar. His early records included savagely hilarious liner notes, and other sightings of his clamorous writerly discourse have surfaced over the years. Now, finally, here is a collection that makes an explosive selection of his work available for general public consumption. What else can we possibly say, except, 'Grab your ankles, dear readers. It's kingdom time!'" — Byron Coley, 1999. Introduction by Jim O'Rourke. 291 pages, paperbound. $19.98 suggested list price.

GHOST: CD (DC 127 CD). $13.00

US pressings on both formats of the first 3 Ghost albums, previously available as Japanese imports on PSF. Starting with the self-titled debut from 1990. "This is primitive early Ghost, psychedelic in the bell-bottomed way, sort of like a German Os Mutantes (or perhaps a Brazilian Amon Duul), mixing ethnic sounds in with the groovy beats, guitars, and the haunting wail of a recorder to create (rather than recreate) and ultimately define (rather than redefine) a completely modern psychedelic sound! With titles like 'Guru in the Echo,' and 'I've Been Flying,' the young psych side of Ghost is much on display here."

GHOST: Second Time Around CD (DC 128 CD). $13.00

2nd album. "And song titles here indicate even more psychedelia in the mix ('Yellow Sunshine,' anyone); even at the same time, the world music quotient here is 'higher' than before. A crooning ballad style becomes apparent on the title track. Ghost spread out, do more little things, and are in general 'more melodious and sensitive' than the first time around...throwing into the mix such disparate forms of this progressive music (like Pink Floyd, The Incredible String Band, Captain Beefheart, Scott Walker, Led Zeppelin, Popol Vuh, The Third Ear Band, and so forth) result in a new fusion."

GHOST: Temple Stone CD (DC 129 CD). $13.00

3rd album, live. "Drawing on the magical forces of Waseda Salvation Church and Seriyu Temple, Ghost recorded these ten pieces over a two-year period. An unprecedented calm hangs over Temple Stone. Ghost redefine the term 'natural habitat' by sounding more at home in found surroundings! They evoke a lush countryside with gongs and flutes, piano and cello, percussions that come and go."

BROADCAST: Work And Non Work CD (DC 130 CD). $13.00

UK group w/ a debut US release that is a complete compilation of singles tracks to date (for Duophonic & Wurlitzer Jukebox); now signed to Warp in the UK. "Take a love of arrangements of John Barry, the earthy Gallic elegance of Serge Gainsbourg, and a healthy 90s obsession with analogue synths. Combine this with a love of simple direct songs that would surely bring a smile to the face of Bacharach and a voice of pure still beauty and you have Broadcast."

BROADCAST: Work And Non Work LP (DC 130 LP). $9.00

TURN ON: CD (DC 131 CD). $11.00

"Coming on much like the keyboard-heavy synthetic dance sounds that Stereolab have offered over the years, Turn On is, perhaps unsurprisingly, a duo comprised of Tim Gane (Stereolab) and Sean O'Hagan (High Llamas). The results? An instrumental travelogue of beats and grooves, some barely a minute in length, others stretching out a bit and all impeccably rendered with touches of whatever makes it happen: synthetic percussion, keyboards galore, drums, shakers, banjo, samples and sequencers, even a cameo appearance of vocal 'ba-ba-ba's.' 11 track, 29 minute EP.

DALL, CYNTHIA: Sound Restores Young Men CD (DC 132 CD). $13.50

"Sound Restores Young Men, Cynthia's sophomore effort, features other songs, other sounds and other catharses, as well as another high-voltage dose of heavy nerves. What we have is another beautiful record, a second LP from the young talent who has learned to call herself Cynthia Dall. The thrumming and chiming of electric guitars is the heartbeat of this record with other textures insinuating themselves over time. Pianos come and go. Distortion and reverb gather like clouds, then disperse as emotions that blew in then blow away."

DALL, CYNTHIA: Sound Restores Young Men LP (DC 132 LP). $12.00

LP version.

GASTR DEL SOL: Camoufleur CD (DC 133 CD). $13.50

"This is the latest upgrade of the thing known as Gastr del Sol. And it's also their most musical album. Sometimes it's like an overstuffed musical armchair — quite comfy, even when lumpy. The contribution of Markus Popp, whose style of digital scratching has made Oval an experimental household name, adds to the density and often provides an echo of Gastr past while the rest of Camoufleur paints the future."

GASTR DEL SOL: Camoufleur LP (DC 133 LP). $11.00

WALKER, SCOTT: Tilt CD (DC 134 CD). $13.00

Domestic issue of this strange 1995 album, previously issued in Europe on the major label Fontana. "It must be stressed that even those familiar with Walker's career — the sublime mid-60s Walker Brothers hits, the dramatic maturation of The Voice and Inimitable Presence on the not-to-be-missed first four solo LPs — were shocked by Tilt. Yes, Tilt astonishes. The bleak, gothic theatre that Walker's oblique lyrics and operatic vocals convey is bolstered every step of the way by dark string arrangements, reverbed guitars, the whirring of synthesizers and the rattle of percussion. It furthers by an astonishing margin the already singular breadth of Scott Walker's 30-year career, finding him at still another and different peak of his ability as a vocalist and lyricist. And God what a barren and unfamiliar summit it is!"

WALKER, SCOTT: Tilt LP (DC 134 LP). $9.00

FLYING SAUCER ATTACK: New Lands LP (DC 137 LP). $10.00

"Exquisite heavy-cardboard gatefold jacket" version.

TURNER, MICK: Tren Phantasma LP (DC 138 LP). $9.00

MOEBIUS/PLANK/THOMPSON: Ludwig's Law CD (DC 143 CD). $13.50

First ever issue of this unreleased collaborative album from the mid-80s (although the instrumental tracks are theoretically the same as those found on the Moebius/Plank En Route CD, released by the Curious Music label in the US). "Ludwig's Law" is a relative puzzle that is only now taking a coherent shape. By 1985 the final releases of the second generation Red Crayola were behind. It was at this time that Mayo Thompson met Moebius. Moebius has been delivering an album a year to Sky, often producing them with Conny Plank. Moebius and Conny had been building basic tracks in an emulator. They invited Mayo Thompson to write lyrics and sing. Mayo Thompson had just discovered the work of Werner Büttner and Albert Oehlen — artists whose language played on pretense and the potential for misrepresentation, among other things. Mayo senses a place to start in their book Angst vor Nice. For lyrics, a selection was 'sampled.' Sky rejected the master, Ludwig's Law was regulated to the vault."

MOEBIUS/PLANK/THOMPSON: Ludwig's Law LP (DC 143 LP). $10.00

ROYAL TRUX: Accelerator CD (DC 145 CD). $13.50

"Accelerator is a metaphysical miracle — a virtual present-day occurrence — yer new blues — a suggestion as to what the future would sound like to the past — or vice versa. Mashing the two together, this record comes on like the fucking weather, changing organically, ruling your life. Trading old skins for new bones, they've stripped their chassis down faster and cleaner than a Queens chop shop. Freshly clipped guitar riffs, beats with bounce, the odd keyboards, roadhouse choirs of backing vocalists, and their twinned lead voices are the weapons of choice this time. Accelerator is tart and nasty."

ROYAL TRUX: Accelerator LP (DC 145 LP). $11.00

PRINA, STEPHEN: Push Comes To Love CD (DC 147 CD). $13.50

"In the spirit of those great LA pop records of the seventies (notably the work of Steely Dan) these combined talents [lyrics: David Grubbs, Mayo Thompson, Dennis Cooper, Lynn Tillman, etc.; production: Grubbs & Jim O'Rourke; drums & vocals: John McEntire & Sam Prekop] have produced further expansions and refinements to the world of breezy, intellectually informed pop music. Prina's own keyboard and guitar work have been augmented with synthesizer, pedal steel, cornet and a smooth rhythm section of bass, drums and, occasionally, a drum machine. Like the classical, pure vocalists who have come before him (Sinatra, Streisand, Joni Mitchell, Morrissey, Manson), Prina wraps his voice around the diverse material, presenting an LP as the soundtrack for every man, whether that man is a woman, an academic, a performance artist, a homeowner, a lover, somebody's stepson, 'Mr. Generosity,' or you."

GHOST: Snuff Box Immanence CD (DC 148 CD). $13.50

"Following up the widely lauded Lama Rabi Rabi was quite a task for Masaki Batoh and Ghost. Ultimately, the follow-up takes the form of not one release, but two — the other of which is the simultaneously released Tune In, Turn On, Free Tibe (DC 165). Snuffbox — featuring trumpet, trombone, marimba, vibes, glockenspiel, Celtic harp, lute, recorded, a variety of keyboard sounds (including the irresistible sounds of a harpsichord), banjo and tubular bells is a dreamy, colorful LP, heavy with the sound of a moody Ghost. Snuffbox Immanence is acoustic folk subverted by electronic psychedelic blurs and sound effects — an existent shimmer and flowering of eternal beauty, over and over again. Once again, Ghost come from beyond, preaching a life other than this day."

GHOST: Snuff Box Immanence LP (DC 148 LP). $12.00

LP version, repressed.

SILVER JEWS: American Water CD (DC 149 CD). $13.50

"David Berman is a funny guy who talks too much. But when he straps on the guitar, he's a funny guy who sings not nearly enough. Then there's the pop know-how of Pavement singer Stephen Malkmus, his soothing voice in direct Cher-like relief to his muse: the inspiring untrained gravel of Berman's lead vocal (Sonny!). Bingo — you've got American Water. This record will be your prostitute for the next six weeks, should you come up with the nerve to pimp it."

FROST, EDITH: Telescopic LP (DC 150 LP). $11.00

LICHT/LOREN MAZZACANE CONNORS, ALAN: Hoffman Estates CD (DC 151 CD). $13.50

A large ensemble improv album, featuring Ken Vandermark, Rob Mazurek, Kevin Drumm, Rick Rizzo, Darin Gray, etc. "O'Rourke decided to pair up Loren with Alan Licht. A full day of improvising was recorded, selected, and then arrangements were later added by O'Rourke in a sort of Gil Evans/Miles Davis move, or more appropriately Teo Macao meets Mazza-Licht. Organized like a continuum of music that brings new meaning to 'suite' (or at the very least, a flexible new spelling), the record is at once a psychedelic brew of fuzzed-out free jazz and howling blues that at times will make your head spin. The truly out and shout nature of the music that day took everyone by surprise, and it'll be no surprise when it takes you too. As in 'O-U-T'. Comparisons: From the free jazz of Pharaoh Sanders and Bill Dixon to the early 70s electric space of Miles Davis' 'He Loved Him Madly,' to the molasses blues of Connors' classics like In Pittsburgh. This record has the distinction of sounding distinctly unlike any of these recordings."

HAMBURGER, NEIL: Inside Neil Hamburger 12" (DC 153 EP). $9.00

ROYAL TRUX: Three Song CD (DC 154 CD). $9.00

"As always, the Trux are already deep in conversation as the curtain rises. If it isn't their lyrics turning the mirror towards your eyes, it's the sweet nodes of guitar raining gently around the speakers speaking to you. 'Deafier Than Blind' is a simple groove with a knotted snarl of lyrics spat out over a repeated chorus at its conclusion. 'The United States of America Vs. One 1974 Cadillac El Dorado Sedan' is like the Gordian Knot; instead of tangling this formidable structure, Royal Trux take their scimitar of rock n roll and carve through it in one mighty swath. The heavy beat characteristic of this EP is out in force throughout the many minutes of this epic, at times rocking medieval, some times rapping, and always grooving forward through shrouding mists. It just keeps changing."

AERIAL M: October CD (DC 155). $4.50

Three song CD-only EP, second is a series of two thematically linked CD singles. Features an uncredited (not to mention extremely unlikely) cover of the Misfits first single ("Last Caress") recorded in humming Corwood-fidelity — hearing this was so disruptive to the flow of oxygen going towards my head that I'm attempted to say's it's truly touched by genius.

AERIAL M: Post-Global Music CD (DC 158 CD). $13.50

"This-is-a-remix-record-but-not-in-the-traditional-sense angle. Remix tends to imply that a song has been remixed for the dancefloor, radio, etc. These are 'remakes' in which entirely new songs have been written using primarily 'Wedding Song No. 3' (see DC 144) for source material. Features the work of Directions in Music pioneer Bundy K. Brown, as well as man from U.N.K.L.E. Tim Goldsworthy, Tied & Tickled Trio and Tetsua's DJ Your Food."

AERIAL M: Post-Global Music LP (DC 158 LP). $13.50

STEREOLAB: Aluminum Tunes 2CD (DC 159 CD). $22.00

"This is Stereolab's third 'Odds and Sods' compilation. Comparing this to Switched On from some five years back, it's a very different listening experience, though certainly no less enjoyable. Plus, they keep growing in size — Refried Extoplasm was twice as long as Switched On, and Aluminum Tunes is three times as huge. Recorded between 1994 and 1997, Aluminum Tunes is the companion piece to Stereolab's two most popular records, Mars Audiac Quartet and Emperor Tomato Ketchup. The tunes were gathered from over twenty diverse releases, ranging from split 7" singles, tour singles, compilation tracks, a 12" remix, a bonus CD, and the entirety of the acclaimed EP, Music For the Amorphous Body Study Center. The reference points are the same as ever, yet more perfectly integrated — mood music, muzak and bubblegum pop, soundtrack sounds and orchestral jazz, all layered with analogue synth sounds and an understanding of minimalist that betrays the influence of Kraut-rock bands."

STEREOLAB: Aluminum Tunes 3LP (DC 159 LP). $22.00

Triple LP version, super deluxe fold out cardboard sleeve.

GRUBBS, DAVID: The Thicket CD (DC 160 CD). $13.50

"David Grubbs' first pop proper solo LP. There's a proud equilibrium to The Thicket. The arrangements are consistent (and consistently colorful) throughout the record. When you first hear a banjo or a trumpet or a Tony Conrad, you can bet your bottom dollar that you'll hear it again. Thus, the record is purged of exoticisms. The Thicket is many things, and elusive is not among them. It's a straight-40-to-the-head album of pop sonic lucidity."

GRUBBS, DAVID: The Thicket LP (DC 160 LP). $11.00

O'ROURKE, JIM: Eureka CD (DC 162 CD). $13.50

"With his new LP Jim is doing for himself what he's more than generously done for other so-called musical talents. Everybody wants a little pop in their lives and the O'Rourke is no exception. There is no way to listen to Eureka without hearing the eccentricity, the progressive musical textures, the utter lack of anything like pop music, but at the same time it's magnificent in scale, pleasant to listen to, catchy and even reminiscent of other records you might actually have heard on The Casey Casem Show. If Bad Timing was regarded as a crossroads of O'Rourkeian interests, Eureka is a six-lane clover-leaf junction of singer-songwriter traditions, production styles of the 70s, confusion and contradiction as well as the riveting sound of the artist putting all his cards on the table."

O'ROURKE, JIM: Eureka LP (DC 162 LP). $13.50

U.S. MAPLE: Talker CD (DC 164 CD). $14.00

"Recorded by Martin Bisi and produced by Michael Gira (of Swans) at B.C. Studios — check your old Sonic Youth records! Talker is the third U.S. Maple record — and each record has sold more than the previous one (Long Hair in Three Stages & Sang Phat Editor). "I got it all...Robin Eggs, Spacers, Black Beauties...Pot. I always have Pot because otherwise, I ain't gonna make no money. See, I'm a girl and it's tougher for me. They call me 'Scorpion' because I like the Scorpas a lot. See this shirt? It's from the '86 tour when they fuckin' rocked! Concert shirts don't last so long always. I think this one's got the good ink in it." — Lisa Walters, Class of '88.

GHOST: Tune In, Turn On, Free Tibet CD (DC 165 CD). $13.50

"It seemed as if Ghost had been in the studio for a million years. It turned out to be only six months in our time. But with the flood of material recorded in their recent extended studio sessions, it was possible to think in terms of releasing not one, but two Ghost LPs, all at once. With Snuffbox Immanence set as the next official release, Tune In... was hastily added to the schedule. Included in the liner notes is a message from the Liaison Office of his Holiness the Dalai Lama, detailing the struggles of the nation of Tibet in their ongoing bid for independence from China. Ghost add to this protest a series of dense, somber, acoustic compositions. Each of these songs turns a new page in the eternal book of Ghost. An atmosphere of morning pervades, as Ghost gives their undying respect to the nonviolent resistance of the people of Tibet

GHOST: Tune In, Turn On, Free Tibet 2LP (DC 165 LP). $15.00

Repressed. Double LP, gatefold silver foil cover.

ROYAL TRUX: Veterans of Disorder LP (DC 168 LP). $12.00*SMOG: Dongs Of Sevotion CD (DC 169 CD). $14.00

"Sensual to the extreme, from its opening tango to the very last waltz. It's classic entertainment, dipping its little beak into every kind of pop you can imagine. Like mostly the kind that hasn't really been heard yet, you know? Of course, Dongs, as we call it around the Mensa's room, wouldn't be a classic without the best of the 70s, 80s, and 90s on display, so of course, they are. Not that we can tell. As the man says, if you can remember the 70s, 80s, and 90s, you weren't really there. And we definitely weren't."

SMOG: Dongs of Sevotion 2LP (DC 169 LP). $15.00*PAPA M: Live From a Shark Cage CD (DC 170 CD). $13.50

Post-M, Ariel M. "The questions remain. And the answers won't be found on Live From a Shark Cage. It's a confusing, fucked up M record to the extreme. If you're the kind of person who hears voices, this record will only double your problem — there's found sounds, singing voices, and instrumental voicings that will only increase the lack of peace in your troubled mind. And it's all stretched tautly across the trademark guitar sting and smoothness that we've come to expect from M. Oh, those dreamy, repeating rhythm patterns. Oh, the violence."

PAPA M: Live From a Shark Cage 2LP (DC 170 LP). $21.00

Double LP, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl.

RED KRAYOLA: Japan in Paris in LA CD (DC 171CD). $13.50

"The Yonemoto brothers 1997 film, Japan In Paris In L.A., tells the story of the painter, Saeki Yuzo — an authentic bohemian hero lionized in his homeland as the 'Japanese Van Gogh.' The film captures the drama of his plight through a multiplicity of avant-garde visual strategies. They reflect in their form the tragic psychology of the tortured artist. The Red Krayola were engaged to provide appropriate atmosphere for this narrative. At the time, the ever-shifting personnel included David Grubbs, Stephen Prina, Tom Watson, Jim O'Rourke, Mary-Lass Stewart and Mayo Thompson. Japan In Paris In L.A. isn't just soundtrack music, it's also the sound of the rare combination of these individuals. Make it the soundtrack to the drama of your own plight today."

HALF JAPANESE: Sing No Evil CD (DC 173 CD). $13.50

"The year was 1984. In the second of two releases on the infamous Iridescence label, Half Japanese presented Sing No Evil, along with Our Solar System, to a decidedly younger and less jaded public than the kind we've got on our hands today. The fourth proper Half Japanese LP found the group streamlining their sound ever so slightly. What may sound like rawness to the uninitiated could actually be regarded as slick by fans of the initial Half Japanese releases. Sing No Evil featured cleaner production, fewer songs, and a more cohesive group sound."

HALF JAPANESE: Our Solar System CD (DC 174 CD). $13.50

"David Fair was the principal songwriter on Our Solar System, which perhaps explains why Half Japanese released a whole other LP in the same year. It seems Jad Fair had a few more songs up his sleeve as well. The brothers Fair are accompanied in their group by members of The Velvet Monkeys on Our Solar System, and by The Orthotronics on Sing No Evil. Our Solar System is speckled with cover tunes from some of the groups that turned them on. The sound of this music is rough-hewn, high energy, art punk, complete with a home-recorded vibe, saxophone parts that honk and drone, and lyrics that explore romance from the point of view of unrequited love and lust."

TURNER, MICK: Marlan Rosa CD (DC 175 CD). $13.50

"In another life, our Mick must have been a sailor — his records heave and gurgle just like the seafaring vessels of yore. You might say it's like, almost thematic or something, casting off from several different styles and topics on it's journey. Speaking instrumentally, that is. And that Spanish flavor is even more in evidence this time around. This Australian fellow is making completely original world-style records in an utterly quiet way, a hero in the half-lowered tradition of the old man and the sea."

BROTHER JT 3: Way To Go CD (DC 176 CD). $13.50

"Combining the classic trappings of 60s psychedelic guitar rock with an eccentric spirituality, Brother JT records are deep, penetrable records that seek to entertain. And as the years go by, that palette just keeps expanding... A meeting of the minds with JT led to the following direction: a heavy bottom (like, say, Led Zeppelin II), with a kind of liquid, flowing head (something like, say, Coltrane's Live At Birdland). This was the starting point. As the conquered flag waves, we see a heavy pop LP, thick with guitars, thumping drums and stoned tremulous melodies that take the listener on a quick trip through the complex patterns and designs that are unique to the mind of JT."

FLYING SAUCER ATTACK: Mirror LP (DC 177 LP). $12.00*O'ROURKE, JIM: Halfway to a Threeway CD (DC 178 CD). $11.00

"It seems like it was only a few months ago that Jim O'Rourke changed everything with the release of the incredible Eureka. And by George, it was only a few months ago. Well never mind — here he is again with a little more of the same: pop music, but credibly different this time, of course. The pop stylings of Jim O'Rourke will never seem familiar to any of us (that's not his style, silly) but his combination of folk, classic rock, (smooth jazz) and the inevitable twist of the old avant-garde is always something new. Having established himself last time out as some kind of songwriter and singer in his own write, Jim presents more funky, catchy, poppy songs with and without vocals that are sure to spin semi-endlessly on turntables, digital discburners and those fab MP3 players across this land of ours."

O'ROURKE, JIM: Halfway to a Threeway 12" (DC 178 EP). $9.00

12" vinyl version.

HAGERTY, NEIL: Neil Michael Hagerty CD (DC 182 CD). $13.50

"Hey, I'm not a big fan of that prick Stalin, but he had the right idea about history. It's just a matter of erasing a few people from photographs and changing dates. So, I'm not impressed by the marketplace c***suckers trying to tell me what is what. They don't know s***, they don't know rock and roll. That's The Spaniels, Chuck Berry, The Everly Brothers and about five other guys and that's it. There's plenty of style and abstraction to be rewritten and reintroduced on the unsuspecting to keep other people in business for decades to come — no problem with getting co-opted. But what about the humans? They have been undervalued. So, at any rate, this isn't a chip-based module to stick 'in the slot,' if you know what I mean. That's fine. If you want to say something about this record don't write nothing, let's notate this bulls*** strictly with invoices and bills of lading — even liens!!! Say it was built on particular sounds I like: shoe sounds on a basketball court, boxes getting kicked around by bored kids, mama snoring like a pig; the low-end is all electronic, you can say that, but all recorded music is electronic by definition, so why bother? You can say that all the songs are 'straight up,' no more propaganda-parodies for me; what did that ever get me but too much money and obsessive fans? Every song is about someone I have met in my travels over the years and I've met a lot of people so I have plenty of material in store (watch your step, pal.). Each song is either from the point of view of that person or from another person's point of view of that person; it's not my point of view, that is where the guitar comes in. I want to just make good on a bit of music that's been forgotten. Just something nice to go out and hear at a club. Your parents will hate it, but your grandparents might like it if they're ! ! dead and floating around. They do that after death, I'm told." — Neil Michael Hagerty, 2000

HAGERTY, NEIL: Neil Michael Hagerty LP (DC 182 LP). $13.50*OLDHAM, WILL: Ode Music CD (DC 183 CD). $11.00

"Ode Music is all instrumental (or 'silent music') recorded in Shelbyville, Kentucky by Paul Oldham. The songs were recorded and 'written' or made up, for a short feature movie called Ode, made by Kelly Reichardt (who previously made a low budget, well received movie called River Of Grass, which at present has some kind of cult following, we are told). Ode is a low-to-no-budget remake of the older Ode To Billy Joe movie, which is in turn based on the novel which was in turn, based on the song. The story of Ode has to do with a boy and girl in the South, each figuring something out about their own, primarily sexual, identity."

TIED & TICKLED TRIO: EA1 EA2 CD (DC 184 CD). $13.50

"Although EA1 EA2 is the first domestic release from this electro-jazz group, it's their second release overall. Their quest for sound as a final product results in a special kind of communication based on the combination of a strong driving, This Heat-like rhythmic force, the hypermodern kitchen noises of Mouse On Mars, and the superficial sound of Blue Note records — which when put together don't fit into anybody's pigeonholes. You can hear the sound of 60s jazz as well as experimental/electronic stuff reminiscent of Miles Davis' or Herbie Hancock's 70s jazz sound. Further, you'll find unusual 80s On-U dub sounds mixed with the piece de la mome that crop up from time to time. It's contemporary 'post-rock' with intelligent electronic phrasings."

ROYAL TRUX: Radio Video CD (DC 185 CD). $11.00

"Royal Trux have reached back, in the guise of the great group Class Houses, featuring upcoming singer Reeta Young, and crafted this top-notch new EP. By purchasing the drum tracks to several of 1998s biggest summer smashes and re-recording them with the great group Class Houses, featuring Reeta Young, Royal Trux have brought themselves seriously into the future with this new low-end EP smash, the Radio Video EP."

GRUBBS, DAVID: The Spectrum Between CD (DC 186 CD). $13.50

"Six months in the making, The Spectrum Between reflects the changes brought on by David's relocation from Chicago, a home of ten years, to Crooklyn. No longer able to easily draw upon the musical associations built up over years spent in the midwest, David progressed slowly with the new material. Eventually, a worldwide pool of collaborators were drawn into the project — including Noel Akchote, and others from the Rectangle records collective, Swedish reed sensation Mats Gustafsson, and the omni(im)potent John McEntire on batterie."

GRUBBS, DAVID: The Spectrum Between LP (DC 186 LP). $11.00*SMOG: Rain On Lens CD (DC 187 CD). $13.50

"Making a trip to see an old friend and all they can talk about is how they never see you because you never come to where they are although you are there right then and then you talk to them after you've left and they tell you they wish they'd just enjoyed themselves while you were there and when are you coming again? You'll notice in the text of this LP that Smog is now (Smog). Note to self. The uninitiated listeners will hear this LP as a great-hits package, sending them scurrying to find the record that each song is from. Note to self: They're all from Rain On Lens by (Smog)."

SMOG: Rain On Lens LP (DC 187 LP). $13.50

LP version.

ROYAL TRUX: Pound For Pound CD (DC 188 CD). $13.50

"Pound For Pound sounds like a broadcast from enemy territory. It sounds traditional, but the way Neil & Jennifer sing together and sing it out loud it's hard to fathom. And upon repeated listening, it makes me wanna roll the window down, accelerating somewhere. Royal Trux seem to be showing us how they got from there to here, and as usual they sum up their history with their blues, their church bells melted into smooth armor, these under-water vocals and just a head shake. It's hypnotic, it's spiraling — it's so natural for cinema."

— Jim Hayes

ROYAL TRUX: Pound For Pound LP (DC 188 LP). $13.50*RED KRAYOLA, THE: Blues, Hollers and Hellos CD (DC 190 CD). $11.00

"The Red Krayola want to contribute. Their new EP continues the tradition of music worthy of the serious attention of busy people. Life continues to travesty everything. Over time, The Red Krayola have expected the worst, yet hoped to be surprised. Some grim satisfaction in science carries on the blues. The Red Krayola weigh in, resulting in what we at Drag City refer to as 'entertainment.' Can blues record an analysis of the position? This is just one question, we understand, that needs no answer Everybody gets everything, right? As the world turns, Blues, Hollers and Hellos, yawns in the open spaces of an old guitar and drums core. Any sense of irony must be your blue hammer. But fall, if you will. Blues, Hollers and Hellos is packaged with a tanned, cool Southern perspective. It delivers its electrical message on a light breeze, leaving the listener plenty of room. To get comfortable, for those of you that worry ? this is a Red Krayola record. Graphic exterior giving lie to what lies within. Which is of course provocative and compelling. Blues, Hollers and Hellos is a six-track record of new music, listen to it. Is impeccable blues an oxymoron?"

HIGH LLAMAS: Buzzle Bee CD (DC 191 CD). $13.50

"The High Llamas return to your stereos with their sixth full-length album, featuring 8 new tracks recorded in 2000. Much continues to be made of the influence of both The Beach Boys and Steely Dan upon the High Llamas, but these are increasingly irrelevant comparisons for the next-millennium model High Llamas. These days, it's flavors of South America mixed with a delightfully obscure taste of sixties soundtrack composers, such as Francis Lai and Peter Thomas. With Buzzle Bee, the High Llamas are spinning a curiously English global music. The effect is pastel and day-glo all at once, a kind of cosmic-age-tropical-cabin music that sounds unlike anything else."

HIGH LLAMAS: Buzzle Bee LP (DC 191 LP). $11.00

MOVIETONE: The Blossom Filled Streets CD (DC 193 CD). $13.50

"This is the third Movietone LP since their formation in 1994. It finds them honing their signature quiet/monophonic approach. It's true, all music starts out of nothing, but Movietone music makes you aware of that like no one else, starting up some feakily spindle-like jazz groove which may temporarily baffle, then laying down an alternative bizarre foundation — wild, untutored, intuitive picture-music. Their records and concerts are like no others."

MOVIETONE: The Blossom Filled Streets LP (DC 193 LP). $11.00

PAPA M: Whatever, Mortal CD (DC 194 CD). $13.50

"Whatever, Mortal finds our Mr. M singing his heart out as often as he can, plus backing himself — with all manner of guitars and keyboards and bass and drums, as well as more exotic instruments like a freaking sitar, car keys and — incredibly! — a lousy goddamn wooden floor!"

PAPA M: Whatever, Mortal 2LP (DC 194 LP). $15.00

Double LP version.

THE CONTINENTAL OP: Slitch Music 12" (DC 195 EP). $11.00

Written and performed by Will Oldham and Dave Pajo. "Slitch is a short film made by Dianne Bellino, an artist whose works have appeared on a number of Palace releases. Shot on location in sunny oceanside Rhode Island, Slitch stars Will Oldham as a mentally unbalanced surfer, blending in seamlessly with a cast of lovely local ladies. Ranging from pastoral and pretty to blunt and punk, Slitch Music spins around crazily for a half an hour, spitting instrumental, chants and something resembling traditional out in equal measure."

BELLINO, DIANNE: Slitch DVD/CD (DC 195DVD). $15.00

"Slitch is a short comic film about a teenage girl's summertime lust, featuring fantasizing, bubble gum, and bicycle riding. Directed by Dianne Bellino and shot on location in sunny oceanside Rhode Island, Slitch stars Will Oldham as a mentally unbalanced surfer, blending in seamlessly with a cast of lovely local ladies. Slitch is a DVD+CD package that includes the movie with a re-mastered digital soundtrack (rare for 16mm independent movies), as well as Animation! Jokes! Bright Colors! NTSC region-free, 16mm, color, 23 min.

SMOG: Neath The Puke Tree CD (DC 196 CD). $11.00

"Neath The Puke Tree is that mature, sexual sound we've all come to love and expect from SMOG. Loose-limbed (and drunk), this new EP presents three new songs as well as two 'reconsiderations' of pieces from the checkered, classique ten-years-plus history of SMOG."

FUCKING CHAMPS, THE: IV CD (DC 197). $13.50

"The Fucking Champs are not a metal group. They claim to make 'total music'. No one knows what the fuck they mean by this, but when you play IV, you will know that it's totally fucking awesome. Largely instrumental, their new full-length alternates between 'let's-squeeze-every-Queen-riff-into-one-song' rockers, ultra-pretentious mellotron-laden space-outs, and strange attempts to outdo Billy Gibbons' after-school-special-of-the-extreme-future sequencing."

FUCKING CHAMPS, THE: IV LP (DC 197 LP). $13.50

LP version; 180 gram vinyl in full color sleeve.

CHESTNUT STATION: In Your Living Room CD (DC 199 CD). $13.50

"It's Chicago-style Pop Rock AM Radio Blues! Chestnut Station packs it all into In Your Living Room with such finesse even the mighty NRBQ would have to be a little bit jealous."

SMOG: Accumulation: None CD (DC 200 CD). $14.00

"Accumulation: None is your (SMOG) singles compilation. Actually, truth be told, only ten of the twelve songs on Accumulation: None have appeared on 7" vinyl. It wouldn't be a proper singles collection without single sides plus other perks in store for you — which is why there are other perks in store for you when you acquire Accumulation: None for your personal collection of singles collections. For instance, six of the songs have never been released in the United States. Two of the songs were broadcast on the radio, then released as b-sides. And this in faraway England — a virtual wasteland!"

SMOG: Accumulation: None LP (DC 200 LP). $12.00

LP version.

KEV HOPPER: Whispering Foils CD (DC 201 CD). $13.50

"Whispering Foils is Kev Hopper's first recording for Drag City. It marks a foray into more melodic and accessible areas than his previous releases (such as 1998's Spoombung). With Whispering Foils, and intoxicated misre of propulsive prepared bass, atmospheric sampled electronic and the surreal sound of the musical saw form the main sound — with percussionist (and High Llama) Dominic Murcott adding marimbas and vibes. Luminaries such as Sean O'Hagan and Charles Hayward, among others, make guest appearances. Suffice to say, Whispering Foils is a sweet, gentle instrumental pop listening experience, easy on the ears and yet electric, arty and ultimately challenging- a complete entertainment."

KEV HOPPER: Whispering Foils LP (DC 201 LP). $12.00

O'ROURKE, JIM: Insignificance CD (DC 202 CD). $13.50

"Insignificance consists of rock plus multiple musical allusions, layers of discreet noises, great playing from all the players and, to top it off, funny pop tunes laced with lyrical arsenic. As the moving finger of O'Rourke points (and clicks...just kidding! Insignificance is an all-analog affair), moments will come and go — to remind you of other moments. Moments will arrive that have no precedent. And different, conflicting emotions will flash within you. He'll have total control of you, the helpless listener." [LP version forthcoming]

O'ROURKE, JIM: Insignificance LP (DC 202 LP). $13.50

LOOSE FUR: Loose Fur CD (DC 203 CD). $13.50

"Dammit, Loose Fur is Glenn Kotche, Jim O'Rourke and Jeff Tweedy — three guys playing musical songs featuring singing, aka popular music. But you didn't hear it from us. So anyway, in the dead of night, when everyone else in the fucking world was partying, so were they — down at the Fantasy Factory, naturally. That's what we in the biz call your everyday, average, All-American recording studio. Not Loose Fur, though. No, they just call it a recording studio, just like everyone else. Some people say we're crazy. For those of you out there in the fucking world who've enjoyed records from any of these three people who made it, Loose Fur is a record for you. It's an amazing, powerful, hypnotic release — and everyone is going to be talking about it in the year to come — so beat the rush and get interested now."

IMITATION ELECTRIC PIANO: Imitation Electric Piano CD (DC 204 CD). $13.50

"Now then — Imitation Electric Piano is essentially (and quintessentially) Simon Johns. Simon's tale is as follows: having previously occupied the position of songwriter and (mutli) instrumentalist in Clearspot (of a Duophonic Super 45s single fame), he then graduated to the role of playing of bass player on Stereolab's most recent interactive role-playing games, Cobra and Phases Group Play Voltage in the Milky Night and The First of the Microbe Hunters. It's a wild, inspired recording, and actual inspirations for Imitation Electric Piano include The Soft Machine, Yes, Big Black, old motorbikes and Michael Palin. Imagine that! The sound of Imitation Electric Piano is all of them, all ultimately captured on vinyl and CD — with a bit of carcinogenic sweetener spread across the top for good measure."

IMITATION ELECTRIC PIANO: Imitation Electric Piano 12" (DC 204 EP). $12.00

WEIRD WAR: CD (DC 205 CD). $13.50

"Weird War features Ian Svenonius and Michelle Mae from The Make-Up as well as Neil Michael Hagerty, late of Royal Trux (and early for the rest of his career). Originally conceived as an artistic movement, Weird War turned to music and terror when the static medium proved unsuitable. A volatile organization, its means of production are intentionally unorthodox: 'We pick material at random ? a poem by the painter Marsden Hartley, a caricature by a newspaper cartoonist, Goldberg, some banal slogans. Someone gave us a photo of a woman's leg in a too-tight shoe; we add some equivocal riffs and lyrics from our own files.'"

WEIRD WAR: LP (DC 205 LP). $13.50

Vinyl version.

DAMON & NAOMI: With Ghost LP (DC 206 LP). $13.50

Exclusive vinyl version on Drag City (CD is on Sub Pop). "The Ghost collaboration with Damon & Naomi is a successful trip through both groups' sonic spectrum. Ghost deliver a diversity of colorful and organic sounds to the dreamy, spacey compositions of Damon & Naomi, bringing an ever greater sense of the epic to the already massive songs. Pluse Damon & Naomi and Ghost share an enormous amount of sympathy for the folk music, a feeling that comes across vividly throughout this record."

U.S. MAPLE: Acre Thrills CD (DC 208 CD). $13.50

"It can sometimes be a complicated matter, or an endeavor even, to turn others onto such a band, one that has risen like a phoenix from the rank and file of rock n roll ashes. Their vision is singular; their look, filled with personality. And their latest album, Acre Thrills, contains some of the finest sounds you will hear this year, on stereo or off."

FROST, EDITH: Wonder Wonder CD (DC 209 CD). $13.50

"Do you hear that gentle sound? It must be time to breathe again. Edith Frost is finally back among us, with 41 minutes of stellar new tunes. People often remark that Edith Frost is a pure country singer. And while we here at Drag City prefer not to confirm or deny such country pigeonholing (what, me — country?), we'd have to say that Edith Frost's music is a genuinely laid-back, down-home kind of thing, but in an oddly tripped-out fashion. Whether she's singing country music or not — which she mostly isn't, on Wonder Wonder anyway — roots are still roots yuh cain't cut 'em away. And the LSD certainly helps here. The point is, in her short five years of making records, Edith Frost has taken great strides into the far-flung field of pop music. Whether she's on about attraction or love lost, optimism or mistrust, Edith's purty (irony, not illiteracy, people!) voice and wild lyrics cut to the truth of the circumstances, truth seen clearly through a mellow haze of pure wonder. And Acapulco Gold."

A DRAG CITY SUPERSESSION: Tramps, Traitors And Little Devils CD (DC 210 CD). $13.50

"So, here we have a trio of exceptional musical talents — Bill Callahan, Edith Frost and Neil Michael Hagerty — all known from their work as solo artists, but this time, throwing their lot together for one crazy all-or-everything grab at the golden rings of the sun. And, just to show that magic's still in the moment, Tramps, Traitors and Little Devils makes it happen. It's the wildest set of trophies yet for the walls of this super group of performers. On Tramps, Traitors and Little Devils, Hagerty, Frost and Callahan come together in a fashion that recalls the epic scope of the collaborations from the days of the old gods — the days of Crosby, Stills, Nash, and yes, even Young. What our three young heroes have created here harks back to the days of Déjà Vu with a combination of beautifully sweet tunes, hard-hitting tunes with lots of commentary about what's going on, as well as some kick-ass looks back at where some of us have been. Plus a few delightfully gratuitous hits thrown in for good measure. Good measure — and fun. Ear pleasing, uptempo, total fun."

HIGH LLAMAS: Beet, Maize & Corn CD (DC 211 CD). $13.50

"Don't you love — the signature melodies, harmonic structures and sweetly flowing beauty of Highest Llama Sean O'Hagan's style are very much in evidence on Beet, Maize and Corn however, in a radical rethinking of songwriting and arrangement, they are presented in a starkly changed manner. Eschewing electronics in favor of an organic sound, dropping drums down in the mix and emphasizing the acoustics of stringed instruments, Beet, Maize and Corn is an striking new statement from a songwriter who's been pitching his tunes into the ring for over a decade. If that sounds like a daunting task, it is easily done here simply a matter of changing focus, drawing water from different wells, reaching a bit deeper."

HIGH LLAMAS: Beet, Maize & Corn LP (DC 211 LP). $13.50

Vinyl LP version.

KING KONG: The Big Bang LP (DC 212 LP). $11.00

LP version.

LICHT, ALAN: An Emotional Memoir Of Martha Quinn Book (DC 213). $11.00

"A thoughtful and entertaining look at how music and culture infect ('cross-pollinate?') each other, Alan Licht's An Emotional Memoir of Martha Quinn succeeds by being real. Paper, ink, binding — it's all there — but Licht, a long-time musician — and writer of music-inspired commentary — has brought the lessons learned, the high and low-lights of the last few decades in the realms of popular music, back home again. In his own words, Licht's book 'is a highly subjective survey of the last two decades as seen through my prism as a music performer, listener, scenester, and occasionally, writer. It traces the changes in the New York and national underground music scenes, paralleling my personal journey through adolescence to adulthood.'"

HAGERTY, NEIL MICHAEL: Plays That Good Old Rock And Roll CD (DC 214 CD). $13.50

"For this, his second solo strike, Neil is accompanied by his touring band. The results, as you will soon see, stagger out on the street with a left shoe colored country and a right shoe dripping R&B. 'We' can only conclude that what 'we' have here is just a batch of good old rock and roll. Although Neil Michael Hagerty and his band have their dial fixed between stations, their ears are tuned to the roar. Whether singing an homage to the stars of Internet porn, describing a shaky scheme to deal drugs through a pizza delivery chain or rendering a simple emergency prayer, Neil Michael Hagerty makes us glad once again that rock and roll has died a thousand times only to rise again."

HAGERTY, NEIL MICHAEL: Plays That Good Old Rock And Roll LP (DC 214 LP). $13.50
LP version.

SILVER JEWS: Bright Flight CD (DC 215 CD). $13.50

"Bright Flight is the fourth Silver Jews album, but it could also be called 'Silver Jews In Space' — that's how high and lonesome it sounds. All the Silver Jews traditions are there — the vague country-rock, the solid silver tunes, Berman's moan-and-yowl, way-out lyrics, the secret hits and the sudden twists in the road that only Silver Jews songs have."

SILVER JEWS: Bright Flight LP (DC 215 LP). $13.50
LP version.

SILVER JEWS: Tennessee 12" (DC 216 EP). $9.00

ROYAL TRUX: Hand Of Glory CD (DC 217 CD). $13.50

"Hand of Glory is a missing piece of the Royal Trux puzzle, circa 1989-90! Twelve years on, it's still a mind-boggler. Twin Infinitives fans, rejoice — your sick fantasies have actually been true all these years." "I thought it was a good idea to put this out since the last Royal Trux album will now be Hand of Glory. There's a certain charm to this for me. There won't be any more for me. The instrumentation for Hand of Glory is: Voice, Percussion, Drum Machines, Mechanical Monkey with Cymbals, Moog, Guitars, Violin, Bottles, Pump Organ, Radio, Record Player, Piano, Harmonica, Tape Machines. — Neil Hagerty."

BROTHER JT 3: Spirituals CD (DC 219 CD). $13.50

"The songs on Spirituals are actual spirituals according to Brother JT. As he put it, they're 'spirituals for people who can't deal with the old man in the sky thing anymore, but who still want to believe there's more to life than just breathing.' So yeah — agnostic spirituals. And what better way to take your spirituals than in a rich acoustic jam! Delivered with fervent belief Spirituals keeps it heavily light, but groovy — acoustics to the fore adorned with a bit of sax, sitar and synth — as well as the odd outrageous fuzztone guitar. Add a bit of flute playing sweetly sprinkled on top. Stir."

BROTHER JT 3: Spirituals LP (DC 219 LP). $11.00
LP version.

SUNTANAMA, THE: CD (DC 220 CD). $13.50

"The Suntanama remedy: roughcommon blues chords and structures arranged and spread around, such that familiar grooves, some timeless, get their sound working. Often in their arrangements, and rare across the bridge, the vocal carries the heat with the drums and drops into the melody. The hand-to-mouth singing style, burrowing into the want of an audience's breadth of participation or lack thereof, belies the way of the Hat. The bluesman with the biggest hat, having passed it around at the end of the gig, never has to be beg or get burned. It just requires proper saturation. The Suntanama was produced by Neil Michael Hagerty and engineered by Brian Paulson. The album in sequence, sound and production captures the pull, the full ebb and flow, the very width of The Suntanama, live and in person."

SUNTANAMA, THE: LP (DC 220 LP). $12.00
LP version.

KEV HOPPER: Saurus CD (DC 223 CD). $11.00

"The Saurus mini-album is a collection of five tunes written especially for the musical saw. Sometimes the speakers don't seem strong enough to handle the swellings of Kev's constructions. Real breezes seem to fill real sails before your very ears. The sound of Saurus has shifted slightly from the sound of Whispering Foils, employing different instruments, drawing from other wellsprings. But the results are still soundtrack music for the soul; soothing, wordless yet active and imagistic. Saurus features Sean O'Hagan (from The High Llamas) on guitar, Kelsey Michael (from Minnow) singing and Rhodri Marsden (from the fast-rising The Free French) also singing and playing bassoon."

GRUBBS, DAVID: Rickets & Scurvy CD (DC 224 CD). $13.50

"Three albums into his solo adventure, David has clearly learned how to make records work as records, filling them start to finish with entertainment, moments, insight. Rickets & Scurvy is a very complete, start-to-finish kind of beast. The songs kick ass, rocking harder than David's songs have in ages. The process goes further as a result. Rickets & Scurvy's best moments are presented with disarming directness, an ability to plunge to great depth, with abandon."

GRUBBS, DAVID: Rickets & Scurvy LP (DC 224 LP). $11.00
LP version.

FUCKING CHAMPS, THE: V CD (DC 225 CD). $13.50

"V transcends all previous incarnations in the storied history of The Fucking Champs. This is news for the countless numbers of Fucking Champs fans, as well as the thousands of less visible, but like-minded seekers out there. Music this intense and this streamlined, rendered sonically in this fashion — makes for a new kind of album. And the music of The Fucking Champs keeps getting newer."

FUCKING CHAMPS, THE: V LP (DC 225 LP). $13.50
180 gram LP version.

HAGERTY & THE HOWLING HEX, NEIL MICHAEL: Neil Michael Hagerty & The Howling Hex CD (DC 227 CD). $13.50

"The third record from Neil Michael Hagerty, his most comprehensive report to date offering explicit and exclusive information on the current state of democracy in America. The Howling Hex and Neil himself present a little of everything they do and a lot of everything they do: live tracks, acoustic numbers, horizontal breadth, songs about being back in the USA, rhythms and guitars for listening."

HAGERTY & THE HOWLING HEX, NEIL MICHAEL: Neil Michael Hagerty & The Howling Hex 2LP (DC 227 LP). $13.50

Double LP version.

HAMBURGER, NEIL: Laugh Out Loud CD (DC 229 CD). $13.50

"It looks like this is going to be one of those years. Neil Hamburger has a new album coming out."

PAPA M: Hole of Burning Alms CD (DC 231CD). $13.50

"Perhaps this is the cheese that will tempt you from your lousy hole. Way back before Papa M had broken out his brand, there was this music. It didn't have words for the most part, but it was bright-electric, humming low then launching with a secret fury, painting a picture, then slashing the picture with a gleaming blade. It rocked, it rolled...and it faced the wall, with a blush and a cry inside. Hole of Burning Alms collects Aerial M and Papa M singles from 1996 through the year 2000."

PAPA M: Hole of Burning Alms 2LP (DC 231LP). $15.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

BILLY, BONNIE 'PRINCE': Master And Everyone CD (DC 233 CD). $13.50

"Bonnie 'Prince' Billy's third album finds him more popular than ever. Master and Everyone was recorded by Mark Nevers, and features Tony Crow, William Tyler, Matt Swanson, Marty Slayton, and Paul Oldham."

BILLY, BONNIE 'PRINCE': Master And Everyone LP (DC 233 LP). $12.00
LP version.

SCENE CREAMERS: I Suck On That Emotion CD (DC 234 CD). $13.50

"...creep from their hideout onto this Drag City long-player to wreak their fury on the CIA pig counter-gangs and other synthetic all-purpose formations who hold sway over their Washington, DC HQ. Their corpse hand holds aloft the promise of what could be with swirling solos, disco frenzy, and frenzied aesthetic discussions. Seize a glimpse of their glory even while their lair is encroached on by the hypnotized who attempt to commodify their essence and transform it into the compromised content-less mediocrity which passes itself off as rock and roll today."

SMOG: Supper CD (DC 235 CD). $13.00

"Slipping and gliding, your hero has returned. (Smog) is back in the building. With him is his newest record. But he's not going to sing it for you, no. Instead, he's going to play it for you. And so, with a press of a button the new (Smog) album, Supper. Supper will strike some of you as easy-listening (Smog) which is simply proof that you (Smog) fans out there have hardened over the years. Sure, Supper features soft steel guitars, female harmony vocals, fluttering guitars, a sentimental ode to 'Our Anniversary', and more heart-warming things packed into its 43 plus minutes, but honestly it's still (Smog), isn't it? That means sharp observations, a steady stream of humorous spectres, discomfiting intimacy and other heart-warming things packed into nine melody-filled tunes."

SMOG: Supper LP (DC 235 LP). $12.00
LP version.

SUNTANAMA, THE: Another CD (DC 236 CD). $13.50

"While prompting internet journalists to reveal their submerged interest in the bygone era of shit-kickin' major-label posse rock, The Suntanama assemble for Another, taking aim at the population while hoping for a clean volley to the faithful. A self-produced effort, mixing blues, folk and rock of different colors and stripes in a liver-than-ever brew."

SUNTANAMA, THE: Another LP (DC 236 LP). $12.00
LP version.

MONADE: Socialisme ou Barbarie CD (DC 237 CD). $13.50

"Socialisme ou Barbarie is the delightful debut album from Monade. Monade, if you haven't heard, is the nom de plume of Laetitia Sadier when she isn't fronting Stereolab with her singing, Moog playing, tambourine and, of late, trombone. The relatively spare arrangements of Socialisme ou Barbarie create a mood slightly more tranquil than Stereolab sounds of late, bringing to mind not only the Peng! era but also folksy sounds not always associated with Laetitia's music up to this time. The setting allows for the beauty and simplicity of Monade's songs to shine through. In short, Socialisme ou Barbarie is perfect for bedroom reading. Or any space you please."

MONADE: Socialisme ou Barbarie LP (DC 237 LP). $12.00
LP version.

IMITATION ELECTRIC PIANO: Trinity Neon CD (DC 238 CD). $13.50

"Imitation Electric Piano are still an instrumental band — but with a delightful vocal presence on several songs. Simon hails from the band Clearspot and produced a 2 track 7" for Duophonic Super 45s featuring the drumming skills of Colm from My Bloody Valentine. Next Simon became Stereolab's bass player. Then Simon formed Imitation Electric Piano and recorded an EP and this lead us to Trinity Neon, their debut long player. Sweet, beat-crazy post-pop instrumentals and instant classics."

IMITATION ELECTRIC PIANO: Trinity Neon LP (DC 238 LP). $13.50
Vinyl LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

AZITA: Enantiodromia CD (DC 239 CD). $13.50

"On her debut LP/CD entitled Enantiodromia, what Azita's got is a handful of original piano-based tunes, almost all of them featuring vocals, melodies, lyrics and all the things that most of us out here in the mainstream regard as elements of that popular music form known as 'songs.' And the playing on these songs is tight. Latter day rhythm heroes John McEntire (drums) and Matt Lux (bass) get together in a lightning quick rhythm section that will have you recall sleek, funky constructs from days of yore. They're topped with a bit of pure, clean guitar obligato from Jeff Parker and some classic cornet playing from Rob Mazurek. If only Becker and Fagan had heard these guys! Long known for her idiosyncratic visions as leader of the Scissor Girls and Bride of No No, Azita steps out from the rock and non-rock of those groups and into a whole new thing."

AZITA: Enantiodromia LP (DC 239 LP). $13.50
Vinyl LP version.

ROBERTS, ALASDAIR: Farewell Sorrow CD (DC 240 CD). $13.50

"After more than five years, three LPs and several 7" singles as 'Appendix Out', Scottish singer and man of letters Alasdair Roberts is bidding farewell to his nom-demusique (but fortunately not his raison-d'être!). Heavily steeped in the lineage of European folk music (the Scots have something to say about this, you know), the words and music of Farewell Sorrow evoke a spirit of youth, an air of reckless abandon, a passion not meant to stay in this world. Sure, there are still a couple of the dirges you might expect, but they're now enlivened with a subtly malevolent, rakish wit and nestle alongside bona fide pop songs detailing the lighter side of life in Alasdair's imaginary kingdom."

ROBERTS, ALASDAIR: Farewell Sorrow LP (DC 240 LP). $12.00
LP version.

PAPA M: One CD EP (DC 241 CD). $5.00

"In the year to come, while Papa M traverses the world in the mirror-windowed rocket called Zwan, you the fans of Papa M will not be left in the silver dust on the side of the cosmic road. No, instead you'll be offered a series of sonic treats. This first single features songs recorded in Chicago, Bloomington and Louisville, written by David Pajo and the Reverend Gary Davis and includes a new version of 'Beloved Woman', one of the many hits off his last full-length release, Whatever, Mortal. The songs combine Papa M's love of sounds with his heart of pure folk, topped with them dulcet tones of his. Ah, singing prowess."

PAPA M: Two CD EP (DC 242 CD). $5.00

"In the year to come, while Papa M traverses the world in the mirror-windowed rocket called Zwan, you the fans of Papa M will not be left in the silver dust on the side of the cosmic road. No, instead you'll be offered a series of sonic treats. And in this fashion, 2003 will pass into the books — and you will receive a wealth of new Papa M music — without ever ascending the mountain of full-length-itude that a new Papa M album necessitates. This second single features two more tunes from the pen of Papa M, as well as an arrangement of a song 'discovered' by John Jacob Niles."

PAPA M: Three CD (DC 243 CD). $5.00

"On One and Two, Papa played us some brand new songs, as well as personalized remodels of old blues and traditional pieces. Three finds him in classic-rock territory, scoping trad-folk number 'Wild Mountain Thyme,' (famously done by The Byrds at the dawn of the psychedelic era) and Little Feat's 'Truck Stop Girl.' Topping these two with an original called 'Who Knows,' Papa M writes his own pop-rock gem, a melodic tune with folk strumming, ska-inflected drums, and lots of twangy leads for good measure."

GALACTIC ZOO DOSSIER: Compendium MAG/CD (DC 244). $16.00

"Finally the much-requested and quite rare issues of the celebrated underground psychedelictype mag are being collected in one glimmering volume. Yes, it's all there — the fallen-through-the-cracks heroes of yester-year, pioneering trails like electronic rock, country psychedelia, skittery freakbeat, proto punk, loner folk, black acid rock, and so on and so forth. Do you want to know about Bob Seger's psychedelic years? Jeff Lynne's fey acid rock group? There will also be a nifty CD enclosed of various sonic debris, culled from the original GZD cassettes. All sorts of interesting mind-blasts made the cut, with many who'd go on to future glories. Early tracks from Fur Saxa, Double Leopards, Un, and a future Mercury Rev'er?"

FAHEY, JOHN: Vampire Vultures Book (DC 245). $16.00

"The publication of How Bluegrass Music Destroyed My Life did a great deal to spread the word of Fahey's literary talents, though sadly only a year before he died. Vampire Vultures is an unexpected gift and should ease the grief of those who thought they would never hear anything from John Fahey again. Originally a project of his own conception, it was to be an epic work that would expand on many of the characters and experiences he introduced in Bluegrass. Compiled from his private papers, Vampire Vultures includes notebook entries, short stories, and letters never sent, revealing the struggles and victories of a cult artist's life in modern America."

ROGERS, WAYNE: Constant Displacement CD (DC 246 CD). $13.50

CD issue of a prior 1999 LP release. "Constant Displacement began as a series of experiments in song form, mainly to satisfy the whims of the artist himself, who never intended it to be issued. How else to explain the wispy balladry, the balls-to-the-wall rock 'n' roll, or the six-minute version of a fucking Thunderclap Newman song? Constant Displacement is Wayne's fifth solo album, a tribute to Rock formalism based on traditions no loftier than Danish and South Asian renditions of 'Stepping Stone,' though he is apparently hearing something in them that no one else is."

PAPA M: Four CD (DC 247 CD). $5.00

"After three CD singles filled to their five-gallon brims with the multihued waters of pure M-ness, after a break in the action at the end of the summer, the Papa M singles series is ready to resume. The number you need to remember? Four. As his eye slides forward in time, so too does single Four, ring with new tones. Sounds that were previously hinted at come springing forth from his belly — waltz-timed fifties balladry, soaked in sentimental reverberation; synth squiggles erasing the taste of a banjo dirge; spiffy-tempoed acousti-pop and bitchy lyrical accusations, topped with undulating guitar leads, climaxing in jam."

GHOST: Hypnotic Underworld CD (DC 249 CD). $13.50

"For the first time in many moons, the tribes of Earth have real call to celebrate — the return of Ghost. Their new offering, Hypnotic Underworld, is their best album ever — more colorful than Ghost, heavier than Temple Stone, deeper and wider than Lama Rabi Rabi, more psyched and folked than Snuffbox Immanence and Second Time Around and with a more mountainous jam than Tune In, Turn On, Free Tibet. Believe it. Yes, Hypnotic Underworld is heavy with highlights, ranging the continents in quicksilver fashion, adding 70 minutes of Ghost sounds to this world, all streamlined to an ultimate intensity."

GHOST: Hypnotic Underworld 2LP (DC 249 LP). $15.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

U.S. MAPLE: Purple On Time CD (DC 250 CD). $13.50

"Starting fresh, staring deep into the void, building on the spot that Ma Digital was erected and detonated; they infuse their blues with power chords, broke-necked rock and roll, swells of passion, rattles, melody. Saturday nights become Sunday mornings. U.S. Maple rocks on. From farther away, they're closer than ever."

U.S. MAPLE: Purple On Time LP (DC 250 LP). $17.00

Vinyl LP version.

WEIRD WAR: If You Can't Beat 'Em, Bite 'Em CD (DC 251 CD). $13.50

"Weird War previewed this new LP/CD, their most mature work, with the hit single 'AK-47'. It outlined a radical inversion of time contracting trends and imperialist savagery in a disco manifesto which drew from prophets such as Bohannon and Bumble Bee Unlimited. This gave us a stunning glimpse into a future which has now appeared and is upon us; a universe of guitar solos layered upon Mao quotations, electric sitar exploding over runic incantations, chanted ruminations on the implications of work, love and sex and a Hathaway guided tune regarding the future mummy-style curse of Babylon."

WEIRD WAR: If You Can't Beat 'Em, Bite 'Em LP (DC 251 LP). $13.50

LP version.

BILLY, BONNIE 'PRINCE': Sings Greatest Palace Music CD (DC 252CD). $13.50

"For years, Palace fans and friends have reveled in the knowledge of one of the world's most unique songbooks. Now they can encounter some of the best-known of the songs all over again, in contrast and collaboration with the originals. There's no hard-and-fast, reductive reasoning to the way these songs have been remade. They were chosen by the fans and recorded with a new group of participants, in different places than the originals. The outcomes are different. It's a whole other beast, not merely a remix record or simply 'Palace with strings' — though the former and the latter both come to you with strings attached."

BILLY, BONNIE 'PRINCE': Sings Greatest Palace Music 2LP (DC 252LP). $15.00

Double LP version, deluxe gatefold jacket.

BROTHER JT: Hang In There, Baby CD (DC 254 CD). $13.50

"Brother JT3 is back. They've brought a new batch with them too — guaranteed to move your head around. Hang In There, Baby is a towering rock, a mighty peak in the best of all possible worlds — a record that moves and grooves yuh, but a record with an axe or two to grind and, at the end of the day, a message or two. As was said once before, music for the other head — the one inside the one — remember?"

RED KRAYOLA: Singles CD (DC 257CD). $13.00

"Here's a record you didn't know you were waiting for. Singles is a comprehensive compilation of The Red Krayola singles from 1969-2004, hits and misses. These songs represent The Red Krayola's commitment to the basic carrier, the 7" single. A single point of reference — the lone song, in an ocean of other songs. Each of these songs were calculated efforts that reflect the time and conditions in which they were released. They are lottery tickets, slots on the wheel, each one a chance. These singles were made for the day they were released. Some of them reached their targets, some are reaching the targets only today and only because they've been compiled on this record. These are records created in Texas, New York, the UK, Germany, Chicago and Los Angeles, made by The Red Krayola whoever they were at the time of they recorded them in 1970, 1978, 1981, 1989, 1994, and 1999."

PAPA M: Five CD (DC 258CD). $5.00

"Five is designed to give you something classic and something new from the Papa M oeuvre. Recorded entirely in NYC, Five finds Papa M in gentle climes, duetting most dreamily with Christina Rosenvinge, evoking sound-clouds from his amplifier and slapping his cock against the cool ivory keys of a piano over the course of two intimate numbers. Whispers slide through the smoky late night air, cutting a path...straight to you. You lucky kid."

PAPA M: Six CD (DC 259CD). $5.00

"Having knocked out a bit of everything from One, to Five, raging all over acoustic folk, faux-classical, blues, duets, randy guitar-rock and something we like to call 'more', Papa M splits the coconut open this time to reveal — fully calculated post-product, streamlining everything that's gone before into a new hybrid. The twist this time that adds to the thrill of it all: the surging 'Foreign Hotel Garden', featuring a hallucinogenic journal-entry lyric with spoken-word delivery. It's new and unusual. Whether breaking your heart or busting your jaw, Papa M is forever taking off into a previously unoccupied realm. It's his realm now — it's his good. Make it yours soon."

MOVIEZONE: The Sand and the Stars CD (DC 260 CD). $13.50

"This is the fourth Moviezone LP (3rd on Drag City) since their formation in 1994. Inspired by the likes of Nina Simone, Jefferson Airplane, The Carter Family, The Band and Sandy Denny, Moviezone also referenced the field recordings of late ethnomusicologist, record producer and radio producer Alan Lomax as a specific inspiration for the recording of The Sand and the Stars: 'We wanted to capture all the sounds of life outside the silent walls of the recording studio. The locations were chosen to suit the songs'."

MOVIEZONE: The Sand and the Stars LP (DC 260 LP). $13.50

LP version.

OLDHAM, WILL: Seafarers Music CD (DC 261CD). $11.00

"Seafarers is a feature-length documentary, shot in Rotterdam, the world's largest port. It follows four seafarers — a Swede, a Polynesian, a Croat and a Nigerian — each with their own incredible story — as they wait to go back to sea. In a sailor's bar, men get drunk and play guitars, trying to enjoy their small amount of shore leave in the Port of Rotterdam — an inhuman, futuristic landscape of refineries, burning gas and vast chemical tankers. Much to the delight of director Jason Massot, Will and crew produced a theme for each one of the sailors, evocative of their surroundings. We're delighted too — 'silent'-music records from Will Oldham sell better than some people's 'loud'-music albums. So, everybody's happy — except you landlubbers, of course. But you'll be happy soon enough — once you get an earful of Seafarers Music. The latest in a series of (mostly) instrumental EPs from Will Oldham."

OLDHAM, WILL: Seafarers Music 12" (DC 261EP). $9.00

Vinyl EP version.

FAUN FABLES: Family Album CD (DC 262CD). $13.50

"This is the third recording of Faun Fables, the experimental balladry shaped by Oakland-based artist Dawn McCarthy. Her work unfolds in a visceral combination of music and theatricality she calls songtelling. The main instrument is her cathartic voice, framed by harmonically adventurous guitar. On this album, she is joined by Nils Frykdahl of Sleepytime Gorilla Museum, adding a bestiary of vocals, instrumentation and song collaboration. Family Album is another prize for fans of traditional folk music, the occult, cabaret, art rock, medieval prose and all the wonders of the world."

NEWSOM, JOANNA: The Milk-Eyed Mender CD (DC 263CD). $13.50

"Drag City takes great pleasure in introducing to you a remarkable new musical singer, songwriter and all-around talent, Joanna Newsom. Joanna's music has more of an affinity with the folk revival of the 60s, or the bluegrass movement at present, than with most contemporary 'folk' (or 'anti-folk') scenes. Affinities aside, her style could hardly be called bluegrass; nor does it evoke the pastoral tonalities of 60s folk: she sings about whalebones, sleep, grammar, mollusks, accumulation, automobiles, owls, burning boats, string collections, milk, teeth, bridges, balloons, cake, colors, and kin, all in an otherworldly, ragged-sweet voice that defies convention. Her harp arrangements are at times ethereal and delicate, at others galloping and ornate, but never overwrought — presenting not so much a mere fusion of influences, as an inquiry into the places where those influences naturally intersect. She considers the late composer Ruth Crawford Seeger (who was one of American folk music's earliest advocates, as well as a vanguardist composer) to be a major influence, because of Seeger's ability and desire to reconcile the tenets of experimentalism with her love for a beautiful melody."

NEWSOM, JOANNA: The Milk-Eyed Mender LP (DC 263LP). $13.50

AZITA: Life On The Fly CD (DC 264CD). $13.50

"Following her acclaimed debut album, Enantiodromia, Azita brings more of what made that album great — rhythmic, virtuosic piano-based songs with intense, driven singing — and something different again, as well. Life On The Fly features the same crack group of players backing her up — but this time, a diversity of keyboard and vocal textures are in the mix, adding harmony to the strong, twisted melodies of the songs — which themselves, are all-new. So it goes in Azita's parade of sunshine and noir — fun and/or games. Themes of (mostly unfavorable) dealing, bargaining, trading, or compromise underlie every track on this record. The maze of details she finds behind potentially benign everyday events creates a flies-eye kaleidoscope of lyrical refractions that distort and clarify in their turn. Traveling with Azita from point A to point B becomes an adventure, a trip that you take with her driving and you riding shotgun."

AZITA: Life On The Fly LP (DC 264LP). $13.50

LP version.

WHITE MAGIC: Through the Sun Door CD (DC 265CD). $11.00

"White Magic was magically formed from the ashes in Brooklyn, NY (a beautiful community of freaks making new sounds). The roots are in Maryland and Massachusetts. The sounds are of ritual and prayer, parts of an old piano, and the prophesy of a new consciousness in music and in peace we come from the Sun. White Magic is influenced by Nina Simone, Billie Holiday, Karen Dalton, Love, Great Society, Sun Ra, Eric Satie, The Fugs, The Zombies and all good music of the world."

WHITE MAGIC: Through the Sun Door LP (DC 265LP). $11.00

LP version.

GRUBBS, DAVID: A Guess at the Riddle CD (DC 266CD). $13.50

"David Grubbs has worked simultaneously at records of songs and records of longer, immersive instrumental pieces. A Guess At The Riddle is a record of songs. It feels like an unbending. Matching experimentation with articulateness, A Guess At The Riddle is to David's other solo records what Gastr del Sol's Camoufleur was to their preceding records. One finds acoustic instruments (David's piano and Nikos Veliotis's cello) brokering peace agreements with electronics (Matmos), one finds full bands going full-bore (Adam Pierce and Thomas Belhom kicking ass behind the drums, David returning to the electric guitar, David's freshest, most lively-sounding production), and one finds David's strongest collection of songs."

HOWLING HEX, THE: Section 2 LP (DC 267LP). $17.00

"The Howling Hex return with Section 2 in the limited edition developmental series launched in conjunction with Drag City. Superimposed over this network of connections two linear timestreams cross at the midpoint of Section 2. One flows forward and dissolves concrete memory into distant, lazy elegy. The other flows backward as in an anxiety attack, vague sensations of terror become central and vivid and the mechanics of nostalgia dissect the embrace by seducing memory to fixate on a moment before the benighted opposition attained solidity. The Section 2 vinyl-only format physically represents a point of differentiation that may be examined repeatedly while remaining free from the vagaries of human memory."

FUCKING AM, THE: Gold CD (DC 269CD). $13.50

"Screw all these modern elements! I mean, who cares about Ununbium? We take our metals classic, thanks. And what could be more classic than Gold? It's been too long since we heard from The Fucking Champs. Now, we don't have to worry ... The Fucking Am (The Fucking Champs + Trans Am - Trans Champs = The Fucking AM) have taken the ball and run with it, upped the ante and then raised the roof for good measure."

FUCKING AM, THE: Gold LP (DC 269LP). $13.50

LP version.

HALF JAPANESE: Loud and Horrible CD (DC 270CD). $13.50

"Most of the music found on Loud and Horrible hasn't seen release on compact disc — until now. Having self-released a 7" EP in the original year punk broke (1977), Half Japanese released their LP 'debut' in 1980, a 3-LP, 50-song opus called 1/2Gentlemen/Not Beasts. With this massive achievement under their belt, they began to evolve into more of a band. Rehearsing at their home in Uniontown, Maryland with a growing group of other musicians, they developed the songs and sound of Loud. And 'loud' is one word that will definitely describe your initial impression of this CD. The pure power of the rock on both Loud and Horrible may strike the uninitiated as utter chaos. However, as Byron Coley notes, 'we can hear the band's first move towards externally graspable organization in the songs on Loud.' Loud and Horrible is a reissue of a classic Half Japanese LP from 1980, plus an EP from 1981, plus extremely rare b-sides and tracks from a flexidisc."

FAUN FABLES: Early Song CD (DC 273CD). $13.50

"Early Song is the first chapter of Faun Fables. A songbook documenting the material Dawn McCarthy performed and travelled with as a soloist, leaving her work with bands and cabarets of NYC in 1997. It is a testament to the kind of spaciousness and focus McCarthy was seeking back then, amidst the whirlwind and stimuli of big city life. It marks the beginning of her work with stark compositions that give the vocals full sway. Early Song's originals were written from 1994 -1998, and the five traditional included attest to McCarthy's love of folk tunes as vehicles for striking vocal narrative."

FAUN FABLES: Mother Twilight CD (DC 274CD). $13.50

"Dawn and Nils made a hand-assembled, first pressing of Mother Twilight (self released 2001) that's mostly been available at Faun Fables live shows. They peddled it to nearly every bar and rural hall across North America from 2001- 2003, in the course of five national tours and one European trip. This re-issue of Mother Twilight is in a revised packaging design, making it available and distributed to the wider world."

HOWLING HEX, THE: The Return of the Third Tower LP (DC 276LP). $18.00

"Pissing in the wind, flying the flag in a fogbank, watching pornography featuring the Invisible Man — and so, whereas, we aren't doing that, as I mentioned, no hoarding on our part is invoked and we are grateful to you. It is consistent with this to exploit specific interests in the form of questionnaires or persuasive invitation and to invoke expectation confounded by events both current and persistent. Elements include: the day I handed the singer from the Durango Scorpions a laundry list and he sang it straight from the page in a crippled accent, the audience loved him for it; strict diagram of what the resulting development this is, to be used as a model for all future Howling Hex to be repeated without question; hiding in a tower that was overlooked — perhaps it didn't exist yet it is erect."

DRAGNET (GERMANY):

KHAN, DR. P. LI: Dropoutrama CD (DRAG 03). $14.00

Mid-90s solo debut from the non-Heemann half of H.N.A.S. Limited stock.

DRECK (UK):

SECONDO: It's Okay, I've Overstood 12" (DRECK 004 EP). $9.00

"The third and most diverse release of the Secondo project on Dreck-Records: on the A-side Secondo pays a visit to Tom Tom Club's 'Wordy Rappinghoo'. Carefully sliced into minute fragments and rearranged to bring us the typical Secondo sound: a track reminiscent of your best disco moments, in an entirely new form, a reconstruction of a carefully disassembled song. After numerous hip hop tracks having borrowed the main theme from 'Wordy Rappinghoo', this deals thoroughly with the entire sound palette of the original. Very fresh! On the B-side we give up the guessing game and enjoy the sweeter side of Secondo. A friendly ambiguity leaves us in the dark about the origins of the source material. Short fragments of a female voice remind us of the composing technique at work here: an existing popular song is used as source material to arrive at a completely new soundtrack. One for the ladies."

AM/PM: The Ends LP (DRECK 005 LP). $15.00

"AM/PM is the second project featured on the Dreck-Records label, home of Secondo. Again Radovan Scasascia introduces an intriguing concept to combine popular music and conceptual composing. AM/PM continues with the depth and ambience where Secondo's highly recommended 'I Reaps What I Sow' b-side left us last summer. This mini-album features five tracks composed mostly of final notes and hums recorded from the ends of existing pieces of music. A wide selection of source material is sampled here, but unlike with Secondo's chop-chop-technique these tracks do not refer to their source material. A certain warmth, melancholia and angularity runs through the tracks. Once removed from their original songs, these sounds seem to adopt all the same feeling of finality and endlessness and give the Album its distinct atmosphere: a continuous generation of the instance we all know best from the last distinguishable, disappearing sounds of an ending record."

DRONE SYNDICATE (SWEDEN):

MOSES: LP (DS 05). $16.00

European repro of this LP, officially hyped as a 'mega-rare' Danish progressive LP, originally released on Spectator in 1971. "A guitar/bass/drums trio, Moses had an unfailing appreciation for the sludgy heaviness of first album Sabbath, with rope-a-dope guitar solos flailing away on a near constant basis. Spectator is the most highly regarded Scandinavian labels for his early 70s idiocy, here's an uncommon opportunity to hear one of their few album back in action.

TAJ MAHAL TRAVELLERS, THE: July 15, 1972 LP (ISKRA 3002). $30.00

"The first LP by TMT with Takehisa Kosugi reissued for the first time. The Taj Mahal Travelers explored drone and improvisation. This rare gem has remained out of print for 19 years. An important Fluxus document." A surprise reissue, that says on the sleeve that it is limited to 300 copies. Originally issued by CBS in Japan in 1972, this has been incredibly in-demand for quite some time. The precursor to the 2nd and final Taj-Mahal Travellers album, August 1974 (reissued on P-vine in the late 90s and still available). This has a pretty attractive full color sleeve that does not embarrass the original, and seems to feature good de-clicked mastering from original vinyl. Well done, but not for long.

ICHIYANAGI/MICHAEL RANTA/TAKEHISA KOSUGI, TOSHI: Improvisation Sep. 1975 LP (ISKRA 3004). $30.00

Reissue of a very obscure avant garde album, originally issued by the Iskra label in Japan in 1975. Minimal gold & white cover is apparently an exact replica of the uncommon original. "Mind bending slice of drone improv from these three post-WWII heavyweights. Very reminiscent of Taj Mahal Travelers with layers of heavily reverberated ring-mod piano, percussion, and voices (in fact, just about everything in the mix seems ring-modded). Overall sheen resembles prime-era Nurse With Wound (although predating such so by a few seasons). Ichiyanagi is one of the most well known Japanese composers of any era, student of Cage's, Juilliard graduate who returned to Japan in 1961 to spread Cage's indeterminacy principles, Fluxus artist, Yoko Ono's former husband. Ranta is a well regarded contemporary repertoire percussionist, a familiar name to those in the know (close collaborator of Harry Partch's, performed everything from Lachenmann pieces to tape music accompaniments), member of Wired (whose LP was included in the Deutsch Gramophone Free Improvisation boxset). And of course Kosugi is the Group Ongaku founder who merged into the New York Fluxus artists before forming Taj Mahal Travellers, has since been composer-in-residence for the Merce Cunningham Dance Company. Yet another piece of the puzzle, thought lost in the shag rug below the game table, discovered whilst vacuuming. Awesome." — Hrvatski.

DROP BEAT:

CHESSIE: Meet CD (SPL 012 CD). $14.00

"With 1996's Signal Series, Chessie's Stephen Gardner staked out a distinctive spot for himself on the electronic landscape. Chessie blends live bass playing with heavily syncopated beats gathered and looped without samplers or sequencers, tempered by a rigorous aesthetic more in line with the chance composition techniques of modern classical artists than with your typical jungle or IDM producer. The final result is music far removed from the strictures of the dancefloor, a soundscape that conjures images both oceanic and gritty, a rhythmic train ride through that long, dark tunnel. The new Chessie album, Meet goes so much farther into the unknown that reasonable points of reference become harder to find. Tracks like 'Brake Test' and 'Nowa Huta' move into a slightly beatier realm, bringing to mind artists on the Karaoke Kalk label, while cuts like 'Between Asleep and Awake on SP7591' and 'Follow Me Home' defy analysis, plunging the listener into fractured electronic sound wells that recall the avant rock Laika if it was produced by 4 Hero at their darkest. Yes, all the 'right' influences are there in the grooves, from Cage to Satie to Autechre, but Chessie is clearly onto something quite different and special here. Where Signal Series stunned with its iconoclastic brilliance, Meet handily surpasses it in every measure. It is an amazing, enveloping album: a journey by railroad into the clanking, reverberating night."

CHESSIE: Meet 2LP (SPL 012 LP). $14.00

Double LP version, last copies.

DOWNPOUR: Destroy It Yourself 12" (SPL 014). $6.50

"The noise is now even more corrosive, with layers of digital winter snow blanketing the high-speed breaks. There's a new-found sense of space, as evidenced on the bleak dub-scape '100 Years of Solitude'. Downpour has pushed even harder at the accepted boundaries, crafting an EP that dares the noise-crowd with its labyrinthine structure, while also blasting the armchair listeners with its uncompromising approach to noise and disruption. Sounds come at you from all sides, confusing the mind and senses, perfectly mirroring modern urban life."

H.S.O.: H.S. Overload 12" (SPL 04). $6.00

"Oakland-based H.S.O. has swiftly overturned the Bay Area drum and bass scene with its very individually-styled orchestrations of heavy bass, complex drum sequences and psychotic sounds. The music springs from the minds of three very different young men, who go by the names of DJ Sifu, Flemme Fatale and dawgshit. Combining advanced structures and programming that remind one of Plug or the Possible label artists with a strong dancefloor appeal, this first H.S.O. EP is a bold statement of intent, and a world-class entry into the experimental jungle arena."

CHESSIE: Signal Series CD (SPL 05 CD). $10.00

First full length on Drop Beat and a major entry in the world of American-based experimental, drum'n'bass-flavored sound. "Chessie is the working name for Virginia resident Stephen Gardner, a young and talented multi-instrumentalist who began his music career several years ago at the age of 16 with cult anti-rock group Lorelei. Bass is Gardner's main instrument, and it was his depth-charge deep dub-influenced bassline that gave Lorelei its signature sound. Electronic music was always an interest, with a particular leaning towards modern classical electronic composition and the sample-heavy works of groups like Moonshake and Laika... It is on this organic base that Gardner adds live bass and guitar, creating a mesmerizing mixture of edgy beats, unsettling soundscapes and often improvised melodies. His ongoing college studies into composition and improvisation clearly pay off in tracks that cannily blend structure with chance, the familiar and the startling. It is truly a new music — one that refers to the currently popular strands of jungle, post-rock ad dub, but moves well beyond the usual facile and superficial 'experiments' into a more ambitious and far deeper realm."

CHESSIE: Signal Series LP (SPL 05 LP). $9.00

LP version of this 1998 release.

ARTHUR, MALCOLM: Programmers 12" (SPL 06). $6.00

"Malcolm's a young Bay Area producer who's developed a unique sound from strands of jazz, soul, house and techno (of the Detroit variety), all stamped with unique and quite warped sense of space and style. Some obvious reference points are the space jazz of Derrick May, the reduced dub of house of German labels like Playhouse or i220 and found-sound tom-foolery of Herbert."

LEUNG, KAMAN: Shifting Shapes 12" (SPL 09). $6.00

"Influences: Juan Atkins, Moodymann, Timbaland. Sound: Ill jeep beats for the new millennium." "Who is this Kaman Long?" — Dr. Doom. Limited stock.

KRISTIAN/DOWNPOUR, DAVID: CD (SPL CD 02/03). $14.00

CD issue combining the above 2 vinyl releases.

DRUNKEN FISH:*TRUMAN'S WATER: God Speed The Static LP (DF 10). $12.00

Original spray painted 1st pressing copies.

BARDO POND: Bufo Alvarius CD (DF 15 CD). $14.00

Philadelphia indie-psych; at its best this might sit on the same blurry couch as FSA or something. Some of the more standard tracks are mere plodding gunk with distortion brushed on top. CD has a 29 minute bonus track.

RANALDO, LEE: Scriptures of the Golden Eternity CD (DF 17). $14.00

Reissue of the Father Yod LP; guitar, tape and voice, recorded live at the K. Factory in '88/89.

MONTGOMERY, ROY: Scenes From The South Island CD (DF 22). $14.00

Solo album of instrumental pastoral drone from an ex-member of the Pin Group &amp; Dadamah.

MONTGOMERY, ROY: 324 E. 13th Street #7 CD (DF 28). $14.00

"Sixteen songs from now out-of-print singles, originally released by Drunken Fish, Siltbreeze, Roofbolt, Ajax, and Varispeed. The Shallows' songs, laid down three years after Roy's sides with the Pin Group, were recorded in the midst of a Kiwi-pop boom that still admitted the single as a viable means of expression. The rest were laid down nine years later in two separate bursts of recording on either side of the United States during the format's Indian Summer."

MONTGOMERY, ROY: And Now The Rain Sounds Like Life Is Falling Down Through It CD (DF 41). $14.00"Highly anticipated solo album, his first in three years. Combining the pastoral drone of his instrumental guitar pieces with a strange twist in his quasi-folk songwriting and additional voices to the mix via piano and e-bow, And Now The Rain... is a stunning amalgam of soft-spoken isolation and soul-searing higher mindedness — Fichelscher/Fricke arrangements filtered through a post-Velvets third-eye mind with an unmistakable Montgomery strum."HASH JAR TEMPO: Under Glass CD (DF 44). $14.00

"Montgomery and Bardo Pond met again during a whirlwind visit to SF in the spring of '98 to perform at the widely publicized Terrastock II music fest, where the sequel plan was hatched. Off to the east coast the HUT did perambulate, where, in Bardo's newly christened in-house eight-track studio, great slabs of guitar and keyboard drift were churned, bass grooves were deepened and staggered rhythms were topped with a kiss of flute and quiet mumble. The fog quickly lifted, plane schedules were met and respective lives were resumed. End result: 56 minutes at five miles per hour. Absolutely massive."

MONTGOMERY, ROY: The Allegory of Hearing CD (DF 47). $14.00"Recorded in Montgomery's harbor cottage in Lyttelton, New Zealand, during October 1998 on his trusty Tascam Porta One and mixed in January 2000, Allegory is a return to an instrumental palette first witnessed on his debut Drunken Fish CD Scenes From The South Island and the Temple IV CD on Kranky. Armed with a newly acquired Rickenbacker 12-string and vintage Farfisa electric organ, plus the usual Teisco, e-bow, and Quadraverb arsenal, Montgomery has created eight short soundtracks of a particularly meditative nature."MAGIC CARPATHIANS: Project Ethnocore 2: Nyttú CD (DF 48). $14.00

"Magic Carpathians are centered around the duo of Anna Nacher and Marek Styczynski, founding members of the now defunct Polish ethno-folk group Atman. Following the disbanding of Atman, Anna and Marek continue to create forest music, although the Magic Carpathians benefit from an infusion of traditional rock instruments and electronics, and a host of guests. Traces of nyttú — a mythical, archaic technique of vocalization given in the language of Slavonic rituals, nowadays almost completely lost and forgotten — can be found in the remnants of ancient Carpathian culture and some archaic pagan rituals which have been stored within the folk religious tradition among the Carpathian villagers. The important common tradition of singing across Eurasia makes similar the vocal technique from Mongolia, the Altai region, Central Asia, Ukraine and the Balkan region. Anna has been working on reviving the tradition of nyttú through individual research and 'Reclaim the Voice' workshops, run for women exclusively."

VA: Harmony of the Spheres 2CD (DF 50). $18.00"Good old Pythagoras. He is many things to many people. The prototypical stoner, an ancient template for all subsequent seekers hungry for consciousness expansion, the master of prophecies involving a bunch of rocks floating in a vacuum. He defined harmony as 'an arrangement of the contents of the gospels designed to show their parallelism, mutual relations, and differences.' Harmony of the Spheres was originally released by Drunken Fish in November of 1996 as a specially designed, triple LP boxset, produced in an edition of 3000." Artists include: Bardo Pond, Flying Saucer Attack, Jessamine, Roy Montgomery, Loren Mazzacane Connors, Charlambeides.DRY LEAF DISCS (UK):*KLAUS CANTERBURY/THE ACES: 7" (DRYLEAF 003). $5.50

Canterbury plays guitar and sends tapes to friends like the Shadowing's, Graham Lambkin, and others who contribute Melodia air organ, piano, clarinet guitar, etc; needless to say, this is drop out, detuned music, rich in the Dryleaf Discs aura.

DUAL PLOVER (AUSTRALIA):*DJ SMALLCOCK: Yinyue CD (DUAL 783). $12.00DJ is apparently an Australian gentleman who's most recently known for his remixes of the Noise Ramones on the previous Dual Plover CD, Rock To D.N.A. He found himself celebrating the new millennium in Beijing and here's what happened: "I spent my time there recording Beijing radio — came home with nine hours worth. Once home I rerecorded the entire nine hours (in one sitting mind you) onto one cassette by editing it down in time with the pause button giving it a sparse abstract noise comp feel. It was the same technique I used to remix the Noise Ramones when I did four times each time reducing the tracks length if that gives you any idea on how this one sounds." Limited stock.DUBLAB:*VA: Dublab Presents: Summer CD (DUBLAB 001 CD). $12.00

"Welcome to a Dublab block party. The world favorite Internet radio pioneers unveil the next direction in future roots music, fusing modern forms of jazz, hip-hop, electronic, soul/r&amp;b, breakbeat and dub music. This hot follow up to the critically acclaimed dublab presents: freeways is stocked with 12 fresh summer jams. Each summer artist donated their song to benefit Dublab's positive transmissions. Most songs are exclusive to this release." Artists include: Burnt Friedman &amp; The Nu Dub Players, Cody Chesnut, Prefuse 73, Beneath Autumn Sky, Burdy, Michael Flume, I-Wolf, Backyard Bangers, Manitoba, The Dylan Group, Tom Chasteen, Daedelus &amp; Frosty.

DUM (FINLAND):*VA: Dum Trax CD (DUM 100). $17.00

Compilation of tracks from the one of the leading Finnish techno labels, second only to the revolutionary Sähkö label. Dum is run by Kim Rapatti (aka Mono Junk); in fact all tracks on this comp by Mars 31, Detroit Diesel, Melody Boy 2000 &amp; Mono Junk etc.) are Rapatti productions. An assortment of his early productions from '93-94 — some off of Dum 12"s, some theoretically exclusive to this CD — this features his Detroit-influenced minimal techno styles. Deep, hypnotic patterns, acid intensities, post-Derrick May cosmic string washes — all coalescing into to beautiful variation on this legendary American style.

DUMB UNIT (CANADA):*CAULFIELD, JEREMY P.: Public Works CD (DU 001CD). $16.00"After almost four years of excellent, but rare, vinyl only releases, Canadian and German based electronic music label Dumb-Unit prepares to impress even more listeners with the debut of its mix CD, entitled Public Works. This compelling 65 minute mix features more than 20 songs all confidently, yet unobtrusively mixed from vinyl by international DJ and owner of Dumb-Unit, Jeremy P Caulfield. Appearances include: main Dumb-Unit artist Jake Fairley, Cologne based Falko Brocksieper & MIA of Sub-Static, Raumagent Alpha, Reynold of Paris, Repair, Adam Marshall and, of course, Jeremy Caulfield. Additionally 3 songs from the elusive uncut (Jake Fairley side project) 'Understanding the New Violence' 12 inch are present and featured in full form. From the rocking sound of 2004 to the minimal bleep and funk that Dumb-Unit first started with, Public Works is a smart and edgy summary to the sound of one of Canada's most successful minimal, techno and tech house labels."UNCUT, THE: Understanding The New Violence 12" (DU 009). $9.00

"An uncompromising EP, only for the strong willed, and truly authentic. In the era of electro trash, relentless crappy 80's covers, fashion punks and assimilation, the Uncut represent the soul of the new electronic era. Post minimal-pre-pop, young and restless. The Uncut consists of Toronto-based artist and producers Jacob Fairley and Ian Worang. Encompassing a slight departure from the well-established Dumb-Unit sound, it is never the less one that will sit comfortable with those who dwell on the fringe and seek something different. Influences such as the icy post punk sounds of Joy Division, the trashy rock sprawl of The Stooges, the wall of sound of My Bloody Valentine, the clever intricacy of Television and the pop sensibilities of New Order meet the hyper-modernism of minimal techno by artists such as M. Mayer and Wolfgang Voigt."

REYNOLD: Unicolour 12" (DU 011). $9.00"Who the fuck is deep anymore? Paris still is .. And this EP is about, true French minimal style, a stripped down late night beat-down. A moving, flexing, evolving track that builds into sweet hypnotic groove. Made for mixing, made for the system and made for the floor?but made for those occasions where you just need go deep or go home. Sam Reynold lays the foundation for the Unicolour EP in typical Parisian style; take smooth chords and tight beats that flow like red wine and mix it with a dirty funk that resonates louder than a sweaty Paris metro at rush hour. After a strong appearance as Duplex 100 on Popular Tools this winter, Sam Reynold gives the tag team a break and goes solo to drop his first EP for Canadian label Dumb-unit. An important member of Paris's minimal scene."CAULFIELD, JEREMY P.: Runaway 12" (DU 012). $9.00

"Over the last 2 years Jeremy has quietly infiltrated the ranks of the minimal and techno scenes by creating a rough, edgy and immediately recognizable sound. This modern, aggressive music with a keen sense of energy for the dance-floor has been featured on such labels as WMF and Trapez. Now he returns home to Dumb-Unit. Side a: deft baggage a haunting and driving track that begins as a dark and brittle mash up. Pitched up digital noise scratches away at the deft and tricky bass line. Then, in typical Canadian style the tracks opens up, and space becomes as important as sound. Quickly we enter into a deep and hypnotic foray into the new confident, Techno sound. Classic techno and minimal structures are adhered to, but the finished product is a polished modern track with Jeremy's tight drums and syncopated buzzes playing ping pong with the slow worlping pads. Side b: 'Slumberjack' already creating havoc on the circuit; 'Slumberjack' is just that: the monsters under the bed, the man behind the door. Pacing, patient and indifferent Slumberjack's apathy quickly transforms into a cold and calculated track. Each pad creeping up to the next, each drum and hi-hat snapping the other into place. Everything slowly creating the groove, no outrageous edits, no filtered vocals just a tight weave of dry clicking Techno, bass heavy tech-house and rocking sawwave minimal."

FAIRLEY, JAKE: Boozing & Losing 12" (DU 013 EP). $9.00

"The prolific Mr Fairley drops 3 of his latest concoctions on Dumb Unit, and the leading track is a club stormer. 'Boozing' is a riff laden techno number with a squashy main syn line that modulates throughout the track and delivers and accessible and heavy club track. There are 2 more cuts on the flip, of the deep techy variety, minimal synths, clean sub bass lines and deft production deliver these polished and quality tracks from Mr Fairley, check."

DUOPHONIC (UK):*DYMAXION: Dymaxion x 4 + 3 = 38.33 LP (DS 33029). $16.00

"A compilation of tracks from Dymaxion's five 7" singles. 750 copies on heavy vinyl. One happy family of split-level beats, sudden stops and reversals, distended oscillations, thumb-tack-sharp prickly guitars, lo-tech Pierre Henry telepathy, spooky robot dreams, and breaks that make you smile. Dymaxion create soundtracks where a sense of disorientation goes hand in hand with a playful sense of purpose. The stripped down songs simultaneously evoke the cartoon music of Carl Stalling, Raymond Scott's Manhattan Research Inc., The Swellmaps, the BBC Radiophonic Workshop, and contemporaries such as Thinking Fellers, Matmos, and Stock,hausen, and Walkman." CD version is on Room Tone in the US.

STEREOLAB: The First Of The Microbe Hunters 2LP (DUHF 025). $19.00

"7 new tracks from Stereolab recorded in 2 weeks between a U.S. &amp; Japan tour in January 2000. As usual the band worked with Sean O'Hagan &amp; John McEntire." Vinyl is an exclusive release to the UK. [CD is issued by Elektra in the US]

STEREOLAB: Sound-Dust CD (DUHF 027XCD). $32.00

The regular CD version of this new Stereolab album is issued by Elektra in the US and not available from us. This is the limited Duophonic version, with very minor availability. "The limited versions of the CD and LP will be packaged in a heavy board sleeve covered in hessian and screen printed. Both will have gatefold sleeves. All of the sleeves are hand made. The vinyl will be two 180gsm disks. Both the CD and LP will be limited to 1100 of each format." Limited stock.

STEREOLAB: The Free Design CD (DUHF CD022). $9.001999 single, "Free Design" is from the album Cobra and Phases Group Play Voltage in the Milky Night, the other three tracks are exclusive to this single: "Escape Pod," "With Friends Like These," & "Les Aimeis Des Memes".

STEREOLAB: The Free Design 12" (DUHF D022). $11.00

Same 4 tracks as the CD version. 1999 single. "Free Design" is from the album Cobra and Phases Group Play Voltage in the Milky Night, the other three tracks are exclusive to this single: "Escape Pod," "With Friends Like These," & "Les Aimeis Des Memes".

STEREOLAB: The Free Design 7" (DUHF D022 7). $8.00

1999 single. 7" version features 2 tracks: "Free Design" & "Escape Pod". Limited availability.

STEREOLAB: Cobra and Phases Group Play Voltage in the Milky Night 2LP (DUHF D023). $25.00

UK-only double LP version, in gatefold sleeve, 180 gram pressing (CD is on Elektra). Hey, guess what? It's "limited". "After a hiatus of two years, Stereolab are set to release a brand new double LP this September. Two years is virtually an ice age in Stereolab chronology, their previous LP being their ninth in six years. All 15 songs were written by founding members Tim Gane and Laetitia Sadier, while recording and mixing was shared between the group and John McEntire (who produced their previous two LPs), and for the first time, Jim O'Rourke, whose string arrangements on the record are quite breathtaking. Guest musicians on Cobra and Phases include new bassist Simon Johns, regular multikeyboardist and High Llama Sean O'Hagan, who also undertook brass arrangements, McEntire and O'Rourke, and of additional note, Dominic Murcott (vibes and marimba) and cornet player Rob Mazurek (of the Chicago Underground Trio and Isotope 217). Mention should also be made of Kevin Hopper, one of the uncompromisingly original Stump, who contributes musical saw to the proceedings."

DUOPHONIC SUPER 455 (UK):*UILAB: Fires 12" (DS45 19). $10.00

UK pressing of this 27 minute mini-album. Same as the US pressing on Bingo, but in a new attempt to raise our rating in the who's-got-a-fucking-clue sweepstakes we imported this version anyway. If you'd like a (slightly) more expensive version (and you never know, maybe Tim & Laetitia rolled a joint on the copy that will end up in your hand), here it is. "Fires" is the result of some spare studio time that lead to a collaboration between Stereolab and Ui. The resulting Uilab set about recording the Brian Eno track 'St. Elmo's Fire'. This mini-album consists of four versions of this track (Feat. vocals from the Lab's Mary Hansen and Laetitia) plus the Ui track 'Less Time' and the Stereolab/Ui/Sun Ra track 'Impulse Rah'."

MINNOW: Out Of The Woods EP CD (DS45 CD31). $8.00

"Minnow are a 6 piece band. Instruments include: Akkordian acoustic bass, Bontempi keyboard, Tenor and baritone sax, and flute. Members of Minnow have played with Jah Wobble, Springheel Jack and The High Llamas."

APPARAT ORGAN QUARTET: Romantika CD (DS45 CD34). $6.50

"Apparat Organ Quartet is part of a closely-knit collection of musicians working in Reykjavik. Romantika is the follow up to last year's electronic classic debut, Stereo Rock 'n' Roll which was released via David Holmes' 13 Amp label. Apparat Organ Quartet has grown into a phenomenal force, playing soul stirring portentous mechanical music, equal parts progressive rock and horror film soundtrack, reminiscent of older acts like Kraftwerk and Goblin...as innovative and meticulous as Sigur Ros but who sound nothing like it."

DURBON POISON:*GENASIDE II: Mr. Maniac CD (NR 4029). $7.00

New release on Tricky's Durbon Poison imprint, a five track EP. "The American debut from legendary English artist Genaside II. Mr. Maniac pours forth the anger and fear of fractious living, returning to their massive rhythm roots with violent bone-breaking beats and vicious edits." Features mixes by DJ Zinc, Dyan Dropping Science, IQ Collective.

DURTRO (UK):*CURRENT 93: Imperium Watch WATCH (C93 IMPWATCH). $24.00

"Watch. Tick-Tock: watch. Central presiding Imperium Gold Death Flower image on Green watch face transparent strap."

CURRENT 93: Special Plan Watch WATCH (C93 PLANWATCH). $24.00

"Watch. Tick - Tock: watch. Central presiding Red Tentacled Genius Face Of God as Destroyer image from the I Have A Special Plan CD/LP painted by David Tibet."

CURRENT 93: All Dolled Up Like Christ: Live In New York 1996 2CD (DURTRO 00 CD). $18.00

Repressed. "Three years ago, Current 93, Very Voice of Very Magog, packed up their noddies and children, brought in catminders, and flew to New York in North America. They were to play two sold out shows at The Ohrensanz Foundation in Manhattan. With the full line up of David Tibet, Michael Cashmore, Rose McDowall, Joolie Wood, Karl Blake, and child stars Aoife E.D. Gibson and Sam Mannox-Wood, this specially priced 2 CD set consists of the entirety of the two shows, taken from the mixing desk. Songs featured and often duplicated include: 'The Bloodbells Chime', 'Oh Coal Black Smith', 'A Sadness Song', 'In The Heart Of The Wood', 'The Death Of The Corn', 'Since Yesterday' and many others, some of which Current 93 will never perform live again. In full colour digipak with artwork by David Tibet."

CURRENT 93: Live At Bar Maldoror CD (DURTRO 001 CD). $17.00

"Current 93's first ever release on Durtro is re-issued in digipak on compact disc. Full colour gatefold digipak. Restored full colour artwork by David Tibet; inclusion of the smiley SixSixSix symbol and the Current 93 Bar Maldoror rubber stamp graphics from the first and second original vinyl editions. The first two tracks are from the original Bar Maldoror album, 'Alone Into The Alone' and 'Only Shadows Of Hooks', and have been digitally remastered by Denis Blackham at Country Masters from the original copy of the vinyl album, as the master tapes were destroyed after the first vinyl pressing. Though there are some crackles from the vinyl, the sound quality has been vastly improved in comparison to the original Live At Bar Maldoror CD, which was mastered in 1988. The second two tracks, 'Christ's First Howling' and 'Fields Of Rape', which originally appeared on the compilation album, From Torture To Conscience, have been digitally remastered from the original analogue tapes."

CURRENT 93: Imperium CD (DURTRO 008 CD). $17.00

"David Tibet and Denis Blackham have digitally remastered Imperium, one of the most popular and powerful of Current 93's earlier albums. After being unavailable for 6 months Imperium now appears in a gatefold digipak with newly restored artwork taken from the original vinyl edition on Maldoror." Originally released in 1997.

NATURE AND ORGANISATION: Beauty Reaps the Blood of Solitude CD (DURTRO 021). $19.00

1994 album from the collective of: David Tibet (vocals), Douglas P (vocals, E-bow), Rose McDowall (vocals), Michael Cashmore (guitars, mandolin, glockenspiel, keyboards), Steven Stapleton (sheep ventilator guitar), Benet Walsh (violin), Sally Wood (violin and keyboards), etc. Music by Cashmore, lyrics by Tibet.

CURRENT 93: Horsey CD (DURTRO 032). $19.00

1997 CD issue, half recorded in the UK and half in Japan. The English material was recorded in 1990 and features: David Tibet, Steven Stapleton, Tony Wakeford, Dik & Douglas P — and consists of three tracks which were originally released on the Horse LP which came in a box set along with Nurse With Wound's Lumbs Sister and Sol Invictus' Lex Talionis. Their cover of Comus' "Diana" (a legitimate cult classic in the UK folk underground) is the opening cut. The other 3 tracks that complete this CD were recorded live in Japan with Tibet backed by Magick Lantern Cycle; one appeared on a Ptolemaic Terrascope 7" and one is previously unreleased.

CURRENT 93/THOMAS LIGOTTI: In A Foreign Town, In A Foreign Land CD (DURTRO 035 CD). $21.00

"World Serpent & Durtro are delighted to make available the first collaboration between the world's greatest living writer of the disturbing story Thomas Ligotti, and the world's most commercial group, Current 93. Originally published as a hardback book with accompanying CD in a limited edition of 2000 copies some years ago, this extraordinary item is once again available as a full colour-scanned black and white digipak, with a 60 page booklet attached to the digipak containing the entire text of Ligotti's haunting and crepuscular tale. All original artwork featured on the book, CD and CD insert on the original edition has been reproduced; the story has been reset. Current 93 were, for this album, Christoph Heemann, Thomas Ligotti, Steven Stapleton, David Tibet. In A Foreign Land was written by Ligotti at the request of Tibet, who had become a huge admirer of Ligotti's work after reading his Songs Of A Dead Dreamer. Tibet asked if Ligotti would write a prose piece for C93 to provide a soundtrack to, as he felt that Ligotti and himself shared similar aesthetic and spiritual beliefs."

CURRENT 93: A Gothic Love Song CD (DURTRO 040 CD). $13.00

Recent single/EP recorded and mixed by Christoph Heemann. The title track is from a forthcoming new album (Soft Black Stars) in the Tibet-folk tradition that C93 have been exploring over the last decade. The 9-minute track "Moon: Page 209, Twenty Two Eighteen Now" features: Steven Stapleton (drone), Michael Cashmore (drone), Christoph Heemann (drone) & David Tibet (drone). And yes it drones, rather massively. Assumably this track won't be on the album and it's well the cost by itself. A stellar track. Nice digipack cover.

CURRENT 93: Soft Black Stars CD (DURTRO 042). $22.00

"Current 93 release their first album since 1996's All The Pretty Little Horses. This line up is David Tibet (vocals), Michael Cashmore (guitar, second piano), Maja Elliott (piano), Petr Vastl (violin, viola, mandolin, flute), Andria Degens (vocals, whistling) Steven Stapleton (whirl) & Christoph Heemann (swirl). Recorded at the studios of Petr Veastl (Eire) and Christoph Heemann (Germany); mixed by Heemann. With a title by Thomas Ligotti, the album contains their unhit single 'A Gothic Love Song', and ten other new songs written by the hand of Current 93. This LTD CD edition of 5000 contains an extra 10 minute song that will not appear once the initial pressing is no more. The six sided full colour digipak contains artwork from the hand of David Michael Bunting."

CURRENT 93/MICHAEL CASHMORE/CHRISTOPH HEEMANN: CD (DURTRO 045). $19.00

"A limited edition CD, restricted to 2000 copies, untitled and unknown. The CD comprises of 14 previously unreleased tracks and unheard alternate versions by the acts concerned." The C93 material includes unreleased/alternate takes from Soft Black Stars & All The Pretty Horses, plus 3 sketches for an unfinished C93 album. The Cashmore & Heemann tracks "were recorded during the Soft Black Stars sessions or in the aftermath. This album collects fragments of our recent past, and makes available material that we loved, but felt did not fit in with the overall atmosphere of the connected projects. This album comes in a full colour digipak with artwork by Lois Wain."

CURRENT 93/MICHAEL CASHMORE/CHRISTOPH HEEMANN: LP (DURTRO 045 LP). $28.00

"Limited edition of 1500 on transparent vinyl for the untitled album from the Tibet, Cashmore & Heemann camp."

PANTALEIMON: Trees Hold Time CD (DURTRO 047 CD). $19.00

"Pantaleimon is Andrea Degens, who has previously worked with Current 93, Steven Stapleton, Christoph Heemann, and The Dirty Three. Seven pieces of shimmering minimalist beauty, an evocation of timelessness. Recorded and mixed by Christoph Heemann. Features shades of Dulcimer, Bowd Dulcimer, Bouzouki, Singing Bowl, as well as vocals by Andrea Degens. "This is an album of ineffable and unique beauty, quite unlike anything I have ever heard..." — David Tibet." [LP VERSION IS ON STREAMLINE]

CURRENT 93/ANTONY AND THE JOHNSONS ORCHESTRA: Immortal Bird/Cripple and the Starfish 7" (DURTRO 049). $12.00

"Pressed on transparent red vinyl and featuring a different mix of "Immortal Bird" than the one which appears on the CD version of the release." Limited stock, last copies.

CURRENT 93/ANTONY AND THE JOHNSONS ORCHESTRA: Immortal Bird/Cripple And The Starfish CD (DURTRO 049 CD). $9.00

"During Current 93's 1999 shows in New York, David Tibet was introduced to Antony, a New York based English singer who has been living in the United States since childhood. He gave Tibet a copy of his unreleased album, Blue Angel. This immediately became one of Tibet's favorite albums of all time: music so dramatic and moving, lyrics so exquisite, sung by a voice unlike any other. For this CD single release, Antony has chosen a track from the album Cripple and the Starfish. Current 93 also contribute a song, "Immortal Bird", from their forthcoming album. Line up is David Tibet, Michael Cashmore, and Steven Stapleton."

CURRENT 93: The Great In The Small CD (DURTRO 053 CD). $13.00

"During my illness I had a dream where I was told that I must put together all my recordings onto one album. Then I was shown in my dream to my ears all the recordings I had made as Current 93 and with Steven Stapleton running together together, piling on top on top. I was told that I must summarize my life as in what I had done before before I died dead. And this is what I heard: so the Great was in the Small: The Great In The Small. And I could as in my dream I was told hear everything all I had done at once and saw myself drowning and heard my life flash in front of me. Everything! The Great In The Small, appears as a mid-price digipak with full colour collage of all the C93 covers by Steven Stapleton, and with a new image by David Tibet."

CURRENT 93: The Great In The Small LP (DURTRO 053 LP). $15.00

"Also an Amber vinyl 12" record with insert reproducing a Tibetan image."

CURRENT 93: Cats Drunk On Copper CD (DURTRO 056 CD). $12.00

"Current 93 live at The Union Chapel, London 1997. This CD — originally released to celebrate the Current 93 shows in London's Bloomsbury Theatre. Full colour digipak with new artwork by David Tibet. Mid-price release. Also available on eBay for $10,000."

BABY DEE: 4 Track EP CD (DURTRO 059 CD). $8.00

"This 4 track CD, lasting 15:30 minutes, consists of 4 new songs recorded by one of Durtro's recent signings, and one of Tibet's favourite artists of all time, the magnificent Baby Dee. It comes in a sepia envelope, with two stunning pictures of Baby Dee, and a picture disc CD. Originally to be for sale only at the planned shows in New York in September 2001 by Current 93 and Baby Dee."

CURRENT 93: Faust LP (DURTRO 060 LP). $25.00

"This limited edition vinyl version of Current 93's Faust LP comes as a purple vinyl record set in a sleeve complimented by the artwork of Steven Stapleton. The album contains a four page booklet printing the text of the story, a fold out poster signed by both David Tibet and Steven Stapleton and a postcard of Count Stenbock." 1200 copies made.

BABY DEE: Love's Small Song 2CD (DURTRO 061 CD). $21.00

"The new double CD album from Baby Dee, in a three-panelled fold out full colour digipak, featuring all the lyrics and stunning artwork by Baby Dee." "This is already my favourite album of 2002. A heart breaking, poignant masterpiece of autobiographical eschatology from the shuddering beauty Baby Dee, more personal and haunting even than her first masterpiece. Baby Dee is one of the best and truest songwriters I have ever heard." —David Tibet, CurrentNinetyThree.

DOYLE/DAN WARBURTON/EDWARD PERRAUD, ARTHUR: The Basement Tapes CD (DURTRO 063 CD). $17.50

"New recordings by one of David Tibet's absolute idols, Arthur Doyle, hero of free-jazz and beyond. Outsider musician, lyricist and artist par excellence. Ecstatic and innocent fury by a musical visionary. 6 panelled full colour digipak. With extensive liner notes by Dan Warburton, many photos, and an afterword by David Tibet."

CURRENT 93: SixSixSix: SickSickSick CD (DURTRO 100CD). $20.00

"This beautiful full-colour digipak CD reissues some of the long-deleted and sought-after Current 93 material. It includes the 2 studio tracks from The Looney Runes EP ('Panzer Ruin In The Hands Of Gillespie'; 'That's All Folks'); all the 3 tracks from The Lucifer Over London EP ('Lucifer Over London'; 'Sad-Go-Round'; 'The Seven Seals Are Revealed At The End Of Time As Seven Bows: The Bloodbow', 'The Pissbow', 'The Painbow', 'The Faminebow', 'The Deathbow', 'The Angerbow', 'The Hohobow') and the 2 tracks from the very limited Tamlin EP ('Tamlin'; 'How The Great Satanic Glory Faded'). As an extra, the music-hall cover of 'Misery Farm', originally released in a tiny edition of just over 600 for some shows in New York) is appended to the end of the CD. All the original releases are long out of print. Full colour gatefold digipak with new artwork incorporating much of the original artwork. Full lyrics and notes by David Tibet included in the comprehensive 16 page booklet."

DUST TO DIGITAL:

VA: Goodbye, Babylon 6CD BOX (DTD 001 CD). $95.00

Debut release on this label, an incredible package of early gospel music, in a deluxe hand-crafted wooden box (designed by Susan Archie, who was previously responsible for the Grammy-winner Charley Patton boxset on Revanant). 5 CDs featuring 135 songs (1902-1960), 1 CD featuring 25 sermons (1926-1941). Notes and essays by musicologists and scholars. Contributors include Lynn Abbott, David Evans, Ray Funk, Anthony Heilbut, Kip Lornell, Luigi Monge, Paul Oliver, Opal Louis Nations, Bruce Nemerov, Guido van Rijn, Ken Romanowski, Tony Russell, Doug Seroff, Dick Spottswood, Warren Steel, David Tibet, Gayle Dean Wardlow, and Charles Wolfe. 200 page book with Bible verses, complete lyric transcriptions, and notes for each recording, plus over 200 illustrations. Reverently packed in raw cotton and housed in a deluxe 8" x 11" x 2.5" cedar box. "If you're not sure where you'll stand on judgement morning, we have five CDs of guitar evangelists, holiness string bands, jubilee gospel quartets, sacred harp choirs and sanctified jug music to rock your soul plus one CD of shouting sisters and powerful preachers to deliver the message about your starchy crown." According to Greil Marcus: "The best country-religious music collection I have ever heard."

DVDSCAPE (GERMANY):

VA: DIN AV - 01/04/CN/86.03 DVD (DVDS 001). $22.00

First release on this new ~Scape subsidiary label, run by Pole/Stefan Betke. Dual NTSC/PAL format for worldwide consumption, no regions. "Nowadays, there's hardly a club without electronic-visual features, hardly an event without VJs. DIN AV 04/01/CN/86.03, the first release on brand new ~scape sub label dvdscape, highlights the personal and general development of this still relatively young VJ culture in which any division between art, commissioned work, club or high culture has become irrelevant. DIN AV 04/01/CN/86.03 opens with its curators Visomat Inc and the gradual rise of a sine curve: a field is pegged out and slowly filled with sound and visuals. From small to large, from abstract to model city, until Jan Jelinek's beat adds a third dimension, a trembling blur to the prefab estate. Cuts, stripes and fields for a true memory effect. Visomat prefer to work with space itself and, with gentle implacability, pay homage to a city destined to return to its banal, abstract void. Rechenzentrum, on the other hand, self-proclaimed protagonists of 'maladjusted electronica', see computers and dictaphones as pragmatic means for their audiovisual symbioses. Sensory blips increase in mutual expectation: from modern minimalism to colour and beats, until sense and illusion make easy bedfellows. This de-glitched matrix is followed by a short, sharp cut to cinemascop:

U-Matic interlaces interstitial faults, system crashes and error messages into almost poetic gushes of colour to highlight the history of these non-moments. Her inherent rhythm is perfectly matched by Safety Scissor's sweepingly optimistic, breathless beats, fighting back with an equally astonishing fault tolerance. Jutojo's analogue flickers of pictorial memories offer a bit of breathing space and take Christian Kleine's honeyed music onto a journey between day and dream. Cryptography on the remainders of celluloid and monochrome raindrops caught in the fading rays of the last 100 years of cinematography hint at shadows of arrival, associations of light and lines. Jörg Franzmann sparks up the proceedings with circling splitscreens, girls and technology, quest and desire, with slogans of youth and hope to Dimbman's track. Last but by no means least Pfadfinderei turn out to be the only straightforward storytellers on this compilation: together with Moderat (Modeselektor + Apparat) they stage an ordered kitchen apocalypse — saucy, spicy, racy and tasty.

DYING EARTH:

HUSK: Abattoir 7" (DE 004). $7.00

Splintered side-project, in a more experimental vein.

RAMLEH: "Say Fuck"/"Slack-Jaw" 7" (DE 007). $7.00

DYNAMIC (ITALY):

JOY DIVISION: Preston 28 February 1980 CD (DYNAM 001CD). $15.00

"This is stunning live material recorded only a few weeks before Ian Curtis committed suicide — it's the first proper live album released by one of the best live acts in the post-punk world. Includes the songs 'Incubation', 'Wilderness', 'Twenty Four Hours' and others."

JOY DIVISION: Les Baines Douches CD (DYNAM 002CD). $15.00

"More stunning live material to come out of the Factory Records vaults. Ian Curtis and company recorded this live at the legendary Les Bains Douches in Paris on Dec. 18th, 1979. This is the second proper live album released by Joy Division, and it contains great versions of 'Love Will Tear Us Apart', 'Shadowplay', 'Atmosphere', 'Transmission' and others, with liner notes by Anthony Wilson."

LUNCH, LYDIA: Widowspeak 2CD (DYNAM 003CD). $19.00

"The dutchess of the late '70s NYC 'no wave' movement, Lydia Lunch has always been capitol in her creativity, noted for over the top sexual exploits and poignant discussion about exploitation. She has continued to challenge the world's perception of itself by exposing the maggots that infest the soft white underbelly of public opinion. This set follows her 20+ year career from early works with Teenage Jesus & The Jerks and 8-Eyed Spy up to later collaborations with Sonic Youth, Clint Ruin, Rowland S. Howard, Die Haut, Lucy Hamilton (Mars), and Thurston Moore. Features complete liner notes and many photos."

DYNAMIC TENSION (UK):

SURGEON: Body Request 2LP (DTR 1 LP). $16.00

"Surgeon describes his extraordinary new album Body Request as 'dense, physical body music. Stylish and brutal.' Music designed to provoke a cerebral, emotional response, but more importantly a physical response. His most uncompromising LP to date is a collection of dark, brooding, rhythmically dense tracks with the dancefloor never far from its sights. The tonal experiments and mood pieces that have characterised his previous albums are noticeably absent, their place taken by material that, while harking back to his earlier club orientated work, displays just how much he has grown as a producer in terms of depth and texture. From the Latino tinged techno of 'Instinct' through to the sinister dreamlike/nightmarish atmospherics of 'Sleep (Ultra Violet)', it's easy to see why Surgeon is considered one of the guiding lights in techno today." LP-only release.

E.R.S. RECORDS (NETHERLANDS):

SMOLDERS, IOS: Music For Kalx.com CD (ERS 003 CD). $15.00

"Ios Smolders has been composing music since the early 80s (under his moniker IOSS) and was one of the original members of THU20, a Dutch electro-acoustic ensemble (which also features Roel Meelkop and Peter Duimelinks, both of Kapotte Muziek and Goem). In the early nineties he released two, now well sought after LPs, one for Korm Plastics and one for Quiet Artworks. His two CD releases for Staalplaat are interactive works and are still available. They are less a finished work, but a work in progress for which the active input of the listener is required. Music for Kalx.com is his latest work and has five pieces from pure sine waves. The CD has a really nice flow in the pieces and can easily meet the best composed works of Ios Smolders, which some think to be the second LP. It has the Ios trademark all over it, despite the fact that he limits himself to just pure sine waves."

BJÖRGULFSSON, HEIMIR: Circulations LP (ERS 12/06). $10.00

"Following the previous release on ERS records by Sigtryggur Berg Sigmarsson, ERS now releases a new work by another member of Stíllupsteyppa, Heimir Björgulfsón. Björgulfsón has had various solo releases on Rítornell, Staalplaat and Fire.Inc and now works his way on this LP, for which he makes extensive use of his archive of loops and environmental recordings. The b-side is filled with 17 lock grooves. This LP, in the usual generic ERS cover, will be released in an edition of 200 copies."

CRAWL UNIT: Sound Until The World Ends LP (ERS 12/11). $10.00

"This new release is composed out of sounds of electrical malfunction, interference, and disintegration compressed into a mirror of personal disintegration. Sounds of nervous collapse, mixed during an unbearably hot summer under conditions of extreme psychic stress — each side going through perhaps 20-30 versions before reaching a final impossible state. Trying to open a window onto totality, an opportunity to approach the void by listening through masses of simple sound. Maybe it works. 2 sides, 2 chances to get lost."

MITCHELL (AKA PHILOSOPHER'S STONE), GARETH: Section 1-6 LP (ERS 12/12). $10.00

"The new album by Gareth Mitchell (a.k.a. Philosopher's Stone). Sections 1-6 is a more extreme album than its predecessors for Kranky, Preparation and Apparatus. Extreme in that it is louder, quieter, more angular, more contrasting, fuller or emptier, track for track, than those releases. There is also a greater emphasis here on the structure of the record as a whole: the individually shaped tracks are placed deliberately within the whole with a view to creating a certain shape, symmetry and poise. There is no one determining mood. There is an attempt to make use of wide frequency and dynamic range: the record asks the listener to treat sound of searing volume with the same degree of importance as sound barely audible; cavernous, deep bass tones interchange with shrill, high pitches. The observance of space is also a feature. Great care and attention is placed on the precise locating of sound within the stereo field."

TU M': 12" (ERS 12/13). $12.00

"Tu m' was established in 1998, in Città Sant' Angelo (Pescara, ITALY). Basically it is a trio dedicated to electroacoustic, electronic, plunderphonics, minimalism, jazz, glitch, and pop. Since 2001 the group has released for the Cut, Aesova, Grain of Sound, BOXmedia and Apestaartje. The name — Tu m' — comes from a painting of M.Duchamp."

E: MOTION (GERMANY):

VA: Further Electronics Vol. 1 CD (EFA 60106). $14.50

"The electrification of pop in the past 15 years has created such great genres like techno, house, electro, drum & bass, trip hop and uncountable subkinds. For all those who are into experiencing the borders of these electronic styles, the further technical development made it possible to put their ideas into practice. But far away from media hype and mainstream a small and independent branch of electronically produced music developed since the early 90ies. Intelligent techno, nu ambient and electronica are only some of the names that have been invented in order to describe this music coming from traditions like post rock or acts like Autechre or Mouse On Mars. Further Electronics tries to give a deep insight into the research labs of some of these meticulously working producers, deriving from today's pop, post-rock and electronic music scene. Amongst established labels such as the British Rephlex represented here by Global Goon, or Leaf (from the UK as well) with a track by Manitoba, there are also less known artists and labels to discover on Further Electronics. Morr Music, for example, features Herrmann & Kleine, and City Centre Offices, from Berlin as well, is represented by Static, coming up with vocals by To Rococo Rot singer Ronald Lippok. Plug Research sends some warm Californian sunbeams with their renowned label act Dntel. But there's more fuel to add into the glowing, crackling fire. WMF Records send Nikakoi from the Georgian Republic, Kanzleramt-sublabel K20 comes up with Multicast from Colorado/U.S.A. and Calla (appearing on Belgian label Quatermass) get remixed by Metrotech (Ex-Bowery Electric) from New York and the British Metamatics (Hydrogen Dukebox) as well as Penfold Plum (Wichita) meet with people like Burnt Friedman or German act Ming from Doga. As a result, we get a melancholic, emotional and great ensemble of electronic music with pop structures — or should one call it pop music with electronics?"

VA: The State Of E:Motion Vol.10 3CD (EFA 60108). $16.00

"EFA is proud to be able to celebrate a small anniversary in connection with the release of this year's E:Motion compilation. The State Of E:Motion compilation has now been reflecting the trends and developments within the international electronic music scene for ten years, and has advanced to being an important element of that scene, which has continually become more diverse and complex. All volumes over the years had something in common: an overview of the E:Motion dance repertoire, the reflection of trends and highlights, but also providing a platform for not yet established acts. The State Of E:Motion Vol.10 for the first time it comprises three CDs, while the tracks are almost completely unedited full-length tracks. Increasing the number of CDs was motivated by artistic considerations. A scene which has become so diversified can only be adequately represented, if all of its small branches also receive the tribute due to them. Although the separate types of music and the listeners are growing further apart, other fans of electronic music are opening up to other styles and ways of thinking. With three differently compiled CDs they now have the opportunity to pick out the pearls from numerous other musical directions." Artists include: Rookie, Soulpalor, Meitz/Missus Beastly, Jimpster, Electroslide, Desmond Williams, Projections, Slam Mode, Nicole Willis, Sunday Brunch, Su-Paka-Pooh, Uco 103, Mambotur, Ian Pooley, Markus Guntner, Mitte Karaoke, Octex, Akufen, Acid Scout, Diego, Youngman & Landstrumm, Cristian Vogel, Michele Fasano, Undo, Alex Stark, Atomizer, Chicks On Speed, Super Collider, Alex Cortex, System, Laub, Astrobotnia, Dntel, Beige, Wauvenfold, Lena, Mewark, Ralph Myerz and the Jack Herren Band, Hans Platzgumer & Catriona Shaw, Rhythm & Sound/Shalom, International Observer.

VA: Mr. Velcro Fastener Deep Inside Vol. 2 CD (EFA 60112). $16.00

"Mr. Velcro Fastener from Finland open up their holy record cases for us, handing over some of their favourite tracks for this compilation, ranging from electro to electronica. Mr Velcro Fastener's commitment to funky analog electro tunes brings up some rare live-wiring and ensnaring tracks by Herbert aka Doctor Rockit, Mouse On Mars, Autecore, Voice Stealer Aka Carl A. Finlow (Random Factor, Silicon Scally), Robert Henke Aka Monolake (responsible for the revolutionary music software Ableton Live) and some other idiosyncratic producers."

VA: Visual Niches 2 DVD (EFA 60113 DVD). $23.00

"As accessing music videos on the internet is no fun, and DVD players are now part of the furniture in nearly every home, the DVD medium, and the Visual Niches series in particular, are quickly establishing themselves as the alternative to commercial music television. For Visual Niches 2 E:Motion have gathered together 15 outstanding music videos, most of which are available for the first time on DVD. Those they have chosen are about art, not commerce. They are experimental, unconventional, original and innovative. They tell stories, celebrate moments and contain technical tricks. There are all time favorites and award winners next to virtually unknown surprise treats." Artists: DJ Shadow, Deichkind, Roots Manuva, Anti-Pop Consortium, Modeselektor, Amon Tobin, Basement Jaxx, Laurent Garnier, Turner, Rocko Schamoni, Console, Alter Ego, T. Raumschmiere, Carsten Jost.

EARMARK (ITALY):

MC5, THE: Motorcity Is Burning 2LP (EARM 40001 LP). $23.00

"If metal and punk could claim one common ancestor then the MC5 would definitely be it. Distorted guitars and ear-shattering feedback matched by epileptic stage antics and anti-establishment ethics — these Motor City natives had unwittingly broken the code to the future. Although this unbridled high volume approach, backed by the guitar wizardry of Fred 'Sonic' Smith and Wayne Kramer, earned the band a contract with Elektra for their 1968 debut LP Kick Out The Jams, they were soon dropped by the label. John Sinclair's (the group's manager) 'White Panther Party' (which condemned the draft and supported the Black Panthers) apparently didn't go over too well with the moms and dads of America, and the 5 soon found themselves under FBI surveillance accused them of being part of the ever-popular 'Communist Conspiracy' to corrupt the youth of America. This collection of rare live recordings dates back to these dangerous early days and includes several rare tracks."

DAMNED, THE: Damned Damned Damned LP (EARM 40002 LP). $18.00

"A year after the Damned's 'New Rose' became the first UK punk single to hit the shops, Damned Damned Damned became the first full-length UK punk LP. Released in April 1977, it beat the Pistols' Never Mind The Bollocks to the record presses by six months. Brian James' minimalist songwriting, backed by the legendary Captain Sensible/Rat Scabies rhythm section, turned angular two-minute manifestos like 'Fan Club' and 'Neat Neat Neat' into pure punk poetry. In just over 30 minutes, the first chapter in the sacred book of punk had been carved on vinyl. Featuring the original sleeve (the first 2,000 copies of the album were released with a photo of Eddie & The Hot Rods mistakenly printed on the back cover and a sticker apologizing for the error)."

SEX PISTOLS: There Is No Future LP (EARM 40004 LP). $18.00

"Earmark is a joint venture between Sanctuary Records Group and Get Back Records. Vinyl reissues don't get any better than this! Exact reproductions on premium 180 gram vinyl. PVC audiophile dustsleeves. All-analog mastering from the original master tapes. Original artworks including lyrics, memorabilia, liner notes, and more. Rare Sex Pistols demos recorded at Denmark Street, Gooseberry Studios and Wessex Studios in 1976 and 1977. Remastered. An important addition to your Pistols collection." 180 gram vinyl.

X-RAY SPEX: Germfree Adolescents LP (EARM 40005 LP). $18.00

"Imagine if Leonardo DaVinci had painted the 'Mona Lisa' the first time he picked up a paintbrush. Well, that's essentially what X-Ray Spex did when they recorded Germfree Adolescents. They gave the world their masterpiece on their very first try, and then left us all with our mouths hanging open when they decided to disband before recording another one. The year was 1977 and gender stereotypes, consumerism and conformity all crumbled to dust when the braces-clad Marion Elliot (Poly Styrene) let out her first windowpane-shattering screech to the tune of 'Oh Bondage Ur Yours!' Poly Styrene's rants on our increasing isolation and homogenisation in a sterile, consumer-driven society, speak more on the subject than a whole library full of scholarly volumes, but what makes the record stand the test of time is the plain fact no band before or since has ever made such brilliant punk rock."

FALL, THE: Totally Wired: The Rough Trade Anthology 3LP (EARM 40006 LP). $34.00

"Anthology of Fall material recorded during their 30 months with the legendary Rough Trade label (1980-1984). During this time the band, led by punk maverick Mark E. Smith, would release some of their best singles to date, including 'How I Wrote 'Elastic Man'', 'Totally Wired', 'Pay Your Rates', and 'Grotesque (After The Gramme)'. Double gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl with PVC audiophile dustsleeve."

DAMNED, THE: Musique For Pleasure LP (EARM 40010 LP). $18.00

"Searching desperately to top their magnum opus, Brian James decided that a second guitarist would be the perfect solution, and soon Lu (short for 'lunatic') had joined the band.

This new guitarist, combined with fact that song writing duties had been passed over to Rat and the Captain, gave the Damned a whole new sound — something darker, more ominous — a sound that many of their fans weren't ready for in late '77, but that we've come to love in the decades since. Did Musique For Pleasure top Damned Damned Damned? Well, I don't know, but I think that it would kind of be like asking the Romans to build a better Coliseum."

FALL, THE: Rough Trade Singles Collection LP (EARM 40014 LP). $18.00

"By the time The Fall arrived on Rough Trade's doorstep in 1980, Mark E. Smith & co. were already well known for their unique brand of disjointedly angular pop punk, having left behind a steady trickle of inimitably brilliant singles and LPs since the band's inception in 1977. During their roughly 3 years with the label, the band proved itself to be at the height of its creativity, releasing a flurry of singles that included some of their best work to date." 180 gram vinyl.

DISCHARGE: Never Again LP (EARM 40022 LP). $18.00

"Originally released in 1984, this album is essentially a best of, bringing together 17 of the band's most furious tracks released from their peak period — 1980-1984. Many of the songs found here are rarities, having only ever been released as singles, and not found on any other albums. An excellent starting place for the band that started it all. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

ADVERTS, THE: Live At The Roxy Club LP (EARM 40023 LP). $18.00

"1977: the year British punk rockers signed their name on history — and the Adverts made sure to sign theirs in indelible ink. These 12 furious tracks recorded at the legendary Roxy just months after the band had signed to Stiff, are one of punk rock's finest hours. The sound quality of this live performance may not be as clean as that on their Crossing The Red Sea album, but they have a raw energy that no studio recording could ever achieve. As TV Smith snarls through track after track of sheer punk rock intensity — from their anthem 'One Chord Wonders' to Top 20 hit 'Gary Gilmore's Eyes' — you get the feeling that this night at the Roxy must have been like the Haley's Comet — it only comes round once in a lifetime. 180 gram vinyl."

VA: The Roxy London WC2 (Jan-Apr '77) LP (EARM 40026 LP). $18.00

"When London's legendary Roxy club opened in January 77, it was to fill a void. Punk rock had not yet been packaged and commercialized to the kiddies and to be a punk still meant living on the edges of society — menacing undesirables even in the hedonistic and boundary-shattering world of rock and roll. The papers were filled with mostly sensationalized stories of violence and drugs and soon no club in London would book any punk act. That's where the Roxy stepped in — the first venue created exclusively for punk rock it soon became the punk rockers' holy temple. These recordings are from the club's shortlived heyday from January to April 77 — the golden age of punk rock. Original artwork. Plus new liner notes." Artists: Slaughter & The Dogs, The Unwanted, Wire, The Adverts, Johnny Moped, Eater, X-Ray Spex, Buzzcocks.

DISCHARGE: Decontrol (Singles) LP (EARM 40028 LP). $18.00

"Few bands have ever paired politics and music with the venom and impact of Discharge. Their anti-war, anti-nuclear, anti-capitalist brand of punk fuelled a mighty run of early 80s singles, all of which are assembled on this definitive collection. Twenty years on, the message and the power remain undimmed." Includes complete annotated track listing.

AU-PAIRS: Sense and Sensibility LP (EARM 40030LP). $18.00

"Their classic second and final album (released in 1982) is a touchstone of post-punk. With their edgy blend of post-punk, politics and funk Au Pairs were critics' favourites and cult heroes at the dawn of the '80s. Their music, in tune with the growth of the punk/new wave scene, shows a funkier and more rhythmic vitality accentuating their dancefloor potential. Digitally re-mastered and especially re-mixed from the original master tapes by The Au Pairs. Liner notes by Lee Connolly. Printed inner sleeve."

DAMNED, THE: *The Stiff Singles 1976-77 5x7" (EARM 40032). $34.00

"A neatly packaged singles collection from their early days at Stiff Records, five singles including the famed first ever punk single and many other hits from the impressively chaotic pub-punk quartet. Features also Neat Neat Neat, Problem Child, Don't Cry Wolf, Stretcher Case Baby, all with their original artwork and b-sides in an all new box set."

RAMONES, THE: Live January 7, 1978 at the Palladium, NYC 2LP (EARM 40033LP). $23.00

"Following their very successful two week tour of the UK ending with the famous 1978 New Year's Eve show at the Rainbow Theatre in London — where the It's Alive album was recorded — The Ramones returned to NYC in good spirits and great musical shape. Supported by Suicide and the Runaways, whose hard glam rock they enjoyed so much (why? Check our Runaways' collection on GET112), they blasted the Palladium in an unforgettable night of pogo dancing and burning PAs. 27 classic hey-ho-let's go songs that put your fingers on the pulse of 1978. It goes without saying — Gabba Gabba Hey!"

FALL, THE: Live at the Witch Trials 2LP (EARM 40035LP). $23.00

"Their 1979 debut LP Live At The Witch Trials contributed to transforming music from a simple form of entertainment into a weapon of mass dissent. Co-written with Martin Bramah, whose acid guitar style matches perfectly a somehow Krautrock oriented Smith, this album features an incredibly modern sound approach that still resounds in many current groups of the so-called post-rock scene. Songs like 'Rebellious Jukebox' and 'No Xmas For John Quays' sound as immortal and fresh today as they were 25 years ago, now featured on a double album set with the second LP containing 10 bonus tracks from their early 7" and 10"s."

FALL, THE: Dragnet 2LP (EARM 40036LP). $23.00

"Second album by The Fall, released only 9 months after their debut, Dragnet has been a hard to find item on vinyl until reissued by Turning Point Music (TPM02209) in 2002. Now Earmark is proud to present an enhanced double LP version containing 11 bonus tracks including the two 7" singles 'Rowche Rumble' (Step Forward 11) and 'Fiery Jack' (Step Forward 13) and six alternate takes of the SF11. Featuring Craig Scanlon on guitar and two of the band's most electrically schizoid tracks, 'Muzorewi's Daughter' and 'Spectre Vs. Rector'."

BLACK SABBATH: Master Of Reality LP (EARM 41001 LP). $18.00

"Originally released in 1971, Black Sabbath's classic third album. One of the first bands to bring elements of the occult into their music, Sabbath was surrounded by constant controversy over their allegedly Satanist lyrics. Little did their critics know that they would spawn a genre and become one of the most influential bands in history." Embossed gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl, with poster insert.

VENOM: Welcome To Hell LP (EARM 41002 LP). $18.00

"Riding the crest of the New Wave of British Heavy Metal, Venom rolled the lessons of Sabbath and Motorhead into one epic black mass, not only spawning a genre with their 1981 debut, Welcome to Hell, but also providing it with its name the following year with the release of their second LP, Black Metal." Embossed gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl.

MOTORHEAD: Ace Of Spades LP (EARM 41003 LP). $18.00

"The first band to harness the raw energy that was the driving force behind both metal and punk and live to tell about it. Originally released in 1980 on Bronze Records, Ace Of Spades was more than an album, it was a mantra, and its title track became the anthem for a generation of dissenting young road warriors." Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl.

BLACK SABBATH: *Black Sabbath LP (EAR 41004 LP). $18.00

"Black Sabbath's legendary debut album, originally released in 1970 is considered to be the genre's magnum opus, defining the seventies heavy metal sound and creating shock waves that would have an incalculably profound impact on rock music for generations to come. Thanks to Terence 'Geezer' Butler's obsession with horror movies and the occult and an unfortunate industrial accident that left Tony Iommi without the fingertips on his left hand (forcing him to wear plastic tips on his fingers and tune his guitar to lower the string friction), the boys from Birmingham would soon develop a reputation for being the supreme masters of doom, taking on topics like the battle between good and evil, witchcraft and the nature of war."

BLACK SABBATH: *Paranoid LP (EAR 41005 LP). $18.00

"Despite virtually non-existent airplay when Sabbath's second full-length album was originally released in 1970, it skyrocketed to number 1 in the UK with the title track breaking into the Top 5. Decades later, and over 4 million copies sold, Paranoid is perhaps the most influential metal album of all time."

BLACK SABBATH: *We Sold Our Soul For Rock 'N' Roll 2LP (EAR 41007 LP). $23.00

"Originally released on Dec. 1, 1975 this double LP captured the best of Black Sabbath from the Ozzy era. 17 tracks from the band's first 6 albums, relying heavily on Black Sabbath, Paranoid and Vol. 4, plus 4 tracks from Sabotage, Sabbath Bloody Sabbath and Master Of Reality. 180 gram vinyl."

MOTORHEAD: *No Sleep 'Til Hammersmith LP (EAR 41008 LP). $18.00

"The first band to channel punk rock's raw energy and speed into guitar-driven power metal, Motorhead's No Sleep 'Til Hammersmith captured the band at its earth-shattering, genre-forming peak. Skyrocketing to number 1 when it was originally released in 1981, No Sleep is one of the best live albums of all time. Capturing the live high-octane impact of the legendary power trio line-up (Lemmy, 'Fast' Eddie, and Philthy 'Animal' Taylor) the album features the best tracks from the band's first four albums."

VENOM: *Black Metal LP (EAR 41009). $18.00

"Venom's 1982 release was not only the album that gave the Black Metal genre its name, but also the band's break-through release and magnum opus. Like their first full-length LP, Welcome To Hell, Venom's Satanist lyrics and relentless speed broke new ground in a constantly evolving genre. One of the major influences on thrash pioneers Metallica and Slayer, etc."

MOTORHEAD: *Overkill LP (EAR 41010 LP). $18.00

"Although Motorhead had already gathered a healthy cult following with their self-titled debut, it was their second album (originally released in 1979) that was their breakthrough. Produced by Jimmy Miller (of Rolling Stones fame), Overkill became an immediate classic, breaking into the Top 30 on the British charts and solidifying the Motorhead sound. Lemmy once said that if Motorhead moved into the house next to yours, your lawn would die. This is Motorhead in its unholy trinity formation. Nemo Malus Felix!"

BLACK SABBATH: *Vol. 4 LP (EAR 41011 LP). $18.00

"This classic Sabbath album, originally released in 1972, was the band's 4th album in just two years. And although 'Wheels of Confusion,' and 'Changes' find the band experimenting with their sound, songs like 'Supernaut' prove that Sabbath can still deliver the goods. Original artwork, including the original four full page colour photo insert. Classic Ozzy / Butler / Iommi / Ward line-up." 180 gram vinyl.

BLACK SABBATH: *Sabbath Bloody Sabbath LP (EAR 41012 LP). $18.00

"Originally released in 1973, Black Sabbath's 5th amazing tour de force in four years is essential Sabbath for any self-respecting fan and one of the genre's defining moments. Although the presence of Rick Wakeman of Yes on keyboards marks a slight change in direction for the band, the album (their fifth straight Top Ten million-seller) is still vintage Sabbath by anyone's standards. Featuring the classic title track and the deliciously synth filled 'Sabbara Cadabra'. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

VENOM: *At War With Satan LP (EAR 41013 LP). $18.00

"Released shortly after their 1982 epic Black Metal (considered by many to be one of the greatest metal albums of all time), Venom's third album, originally released in 1983, found these thrash pioneers at the height of their popularity and creative ability. This time the unholy trio were expanding their sound, kicking the album off with the brutal concept track that gave the album its ominous title and takes up the album's whole first side. While most metal bands at this time were only known to a small following, At War With Satan found Venom climbing the charts for the first time. Original artwork w/ printed inner sleeve & 4 page booklet." 180 gram vinyl.

VENOM: *Possessed LP (EAR 41014 LP). $18.00

"The granddaddies of black metal and thrash, like many pioneers Venom spent much of their career scorned by the press, while still managing to amass a huge fan base that rightfully didn't give a f!%& what the press was saying. Originally released in 1985, Possessed was the band's 4th release, the last release with the classic Cronos, Mantas and Abbadon lineup, and a return to vintage Venom style. 180 gram vinyl."

MOTORHEAD: *Bomber LP (EAR 41016 LP). $18.00

"After the surprise chart success of Overkill, Bomber became Motorhead's second release of 1979. Here Lemmy, Fast Eddie and Philthy Animal Taylor (the unholy trinity) serve up another slab of classic vinyl with Motorhead milestones like 'Stone Dead Forever' and 'Sweet Revenge' with Rolling Stones producer Jimmy Miller at the controls. Bomber confirmed what Overkill had made us all suspect — that the golden era of Motorhead was just getting started. 180 gram vinyl."

MOTORHEAD: *Iron Fist LP (EAR 41017 LP). $18.00

"By the time Iron Fist was released in 1982, Motörmania was at an all time high. Their live double album No Sleep 'Til Hammersmith had just claimed the number one spot on the UK album charts, and the band recorded this album riding a wave of euphoria (but also fear that they would not be able to live up to their own Motörmyth). In an attempt to outdo their previous success, the Iron Fist tour featured one of the most elaborate live shows ever — with the entire stage descending from the ceiling, at the beginning of each concert. While Iron Fist still packs a ferocious iron-clad punch, it also represents the end of an era. It was Motorhead's 7th album and would be the last ever to feature the classic Lemmy, Fast Eddie and Philthy Phil line-up. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

VA: *A Quiet Night In LP (EAR 41018 LP). $18.00

"Originally released in 1981 on Bronze Records, this compilation showcased the label's best artists. During this period the Bronze repertoire included Motorhead, who were at the apex of their career, having just released their chart-topping live 2LP No Sleep 'Til Hammersmith and Girlschool, one of the first all-girl metal groups to emerge in the male-dominated genre and who's 1980 debut broke into the UK Top 30. Perhaps it was only to be expected then that the kings and queens of the Brit metal scene would soon join forces, which is exactly what they did for the excellent Motorhead / Girlschool duet 'Please Don't Touch' featured here. Angel Witch, who had just released one of the most promising albums in the NWOBHM, is also found here with their classic 'Loser' (originally released on 7" only), as are Hawkwind, Uriah Heep and more. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

GIRLSCHOOL: *Hit and Run LP/7" (EAR 41019). $18.00

"Although the Runaways were already rocking Stateside, Girlschool was one of the first all girl bands to break into the British testosterone-powered metal scene. Their self-produced first single 'Take It All Away', along with their take no prisoners approach got them the attention of Motorhead manager, Doug Smith, who after signing them on as openers for the Motorhead tour, landed them a contract with the legendary Bronze Records (home to Motorhead, Uriah Heep, Juicy Lucy, etc.). Their 1980 debut LP Demolition was moderately successful, reaching the top 30 on the British album charts, but it was their second LP, Hit And Run that catapulted the 'Girls' into metal stardom, peaking at number 5 on the British charts. This deluxe reissue of the album also includes a 7" of the their hit single 'Hit And Run' b/w 'Tonight'."

MOTORHEAD/GIRLSCHOOL: *St. Valentine's Day Massacre 10" (EAR 41020). $15.00

"This three track EP, released on Valentine's Day 1981 featured Motorhead and labelmates, Girlschool each covering one song by the other: Girlschool took on Motorhead's 'Bomber', while Motorhead did a relentless rendition of the Girlschool's 'Emergency'. For the third track the two bands collaborated on a remake of Johnny Kidd & the Pirates' 1959 classic 'Please Don't Touch' and for the album sleeve dressed in gangster attire, in honor of one of the most legendary Capone-directed mob hits in gangland history, the 1929 Valentine's Day Massacre. When the EP hit number 5 on the British singles charts both bands were at the apex of their careers."

MOTORHEAD: *No Remorse 2LP (EAR 41021 LP). $34.00

"Originally released in 1984, No Remorse was the band's last album for the Bronze label. This double LP 'best of' was originally released in a faux leather sleeve, with printed inner sleeves featuring lyrics and liner notes by Malcolm Dome of Kerrang. This reissue, commemorating the album's 20th anniversary, is an exact replica of the original."

GIRLSCHOOL: *Demolition LP (EAR 41022 LP). $18.00

"Although the Runaways were already rockin' up and down the California coast, Girlschool were one of the first all-girl bands to break into the British metal scene. After an impressive tour opening for Motorhead, Girlschool were offered a deal with the Motörboys' label Bronze records, who soon released their crushing 1980 debut, Demolition. Probably their finest moment on vinyl, this release featured the classic 'Emergency' and 'Nothing To Lose'. Original artwork."

MOTORHEAD: *England: Overkill, Bomber, Ace Of Spades 3LP BOX (EAR 41023 LP). $34.00

"Do not miss this special limited edition box set featuring 3 of Motorhead's most essential Bronze releases: Overkill (on green vinyl) Bomber (on blue vinyl) & Ace Of Spades (on gold vinyl). When Overkill and Bomber were first released in 1979, a limited quantity was pressed on green and blue vinyl respectively. 1980's Ace Of Spades was first pressed on gold vinyl to commemorate its Gold Disc award. 180 gram vinyl."

VENOM: *The Seven Gates of Hell (Singles 1980-1985) 2LP (EAR 41026LP). $23.00

"'In League With Satan' wasn't just the world's first taste of Venom. It was also the dawn of black metal, a devilish brand of hard rock which has had an indelible influence on the nu-metal giants of the 21st century. And now it's the starting place of this neat singles anthology, which brings together five years of Venom's A's and B's, plus the Hell At Hammersmith live EP. Gatefold sleeve with liner notes by John Tucker and reproductions of the original singles artworks."

BLACK SABBATH: *Sabotage LP (EAR 41028LP). $18.00

"This classic 1975 work from the heavy metal masters from Birmingham includes the superb 'Symptom Of The Universe', featuring both Geezer Butler's writing at his best and an ace performance by mega axe hero Tony Iommi. The rest of the album takes us down a new path marked by the sound evolution that began with 1973's Sabbath, Bloody Sabbath. Although tracks like 'Thrill of It All', 'The Writ' and 'Megalomania' are still recognizably 'sabbathian', comprehensively this is an unorthodox album that dares to take hard rock into uncharted waters."

MOTORHEAD: *Orgasmatron LP (EAR 41029LP). $18.00

"Whether the choice of Bill Laswell as producer for this 1986 Motorhead LP was a threat to the heavy distinctive sound of the band or a curious and new attempt to change paths and move towards a more contemporary 'industrial-noise' approach, Orgasmatron offers some choking moments of noise attack that may have lifted an eyebrow or two in their fans but comprehensively it was just what the band needed to get the motormachine roadster back on track. If this is not what you expected from Motorhead, listen to 'Deaf Forever' and the title track as they open and close to a feast of clanging engines. Gatefold album with printed inner sleeve."

MOTORHEAD: *Rock'n'Roll LP (EAR 41030LP). $18.00

"Rock'n'roll is what they are all about. Motorhead's 1987 tenth album sees the return of Philty 'Animal' Taylor on drums — and it shows. Strong and powerful right from the beginning, Rock'n'Roll is a true tribute to the music that inspired generations of headbangers, the classic wall of sound with Chuck Berry inspired guitar riffs buried under tons of greasy engine parts. Containing 'Eat The Rich' featured on the soundtrack for the movie of the same title by Peter Richardson (with an unforgettable Lemmy as 'Spider')."

BLACK SABBATH: *The Singles 6x7" (EAR 41031). $36.00

"This special edition is dedicated to collectors and fans of these hard rock monsters. Six of their best singles and hits from 1970 to 1978, beginning with 'Evil Woman' and ending with 'Never Say Die' and also including 'Paranoid', 'Tomorrow's Dream', 'Sabbath Bloody Sabbath'. A luxury package that features both, the original artwork and the Japanese edition on the front and back of each sleeve respectively."

MOTORHEAD: *Born To Lose, Live To Win 7x7" Box (EAR 41032). $38.00

"This ultimate singles collection by Motorhead is offered to you in a luxury box set. Seven absolute motormasterpieces never before released together on vinyl and including St. Valentines Day Massacre as a free bonus disc. Limited edition of 1500 copies, with every batch of 500 copies carrying on alternate sleeves of 'No Class'. Grease up your Belstaff jacket and start your engines."

BLACK SABBATH: *Never Say Die LP (EAR 41033LP). $18.00

"This is Black Sabbath featuring Ozzy back on the map after he left the B'ham metal gods following the band's previous tour. Although for certain hardcore critics 1978 Never Say Die may appear as an unfocused work troubled by extra musical tensions, many of its tracks restore the heavy doom power of the quartet in constant evolution from their early 70's masterpieces. The title track is a giant anthem and some other nice surprises — like 'Air Dance,' very original with nice keyboards from the session man Don Airey — will catch even the most sceptical listener playing his air guitar."

MOTORHEAD: No Sleep At All LP (EAR 41035LP). $18.00

"Recorded in Helsinki during the band's 1988 European Tour, No Sleep At All was the second official live LP by the Engine and also their last release on GWR. Hard rockers of Finland were eager to see Lemmy and his mates, and from this live performance came a raw, dirty and unrefined bootleg-like job that gives you an idea of what a Motorhead gig was like, despite seven more years of booze and rock'n'roll that would have whacked a horse."

MOTORHEAD: No Remorse 2LP (EAR 41036LP). $23.00

"Originally released in 1984, No Remorse was the band's last album for Bronze Records. This double LP 'best of' was initially released in a faux leather sleeve and recently reissued exactly like the original on Earmark (EAR 41021). Now that you missed the leather, get the cardboard — ya know, the motörtracks are still the same damn motörtracks."

THE KINKS: The Kinks LP (EAR 42001 LP). $18.00

"Given the startling number of original pop masterpieces the Kinks are responsible for composing, it is ironic to think that they began life primarily as an R&B cover band. Their 1964 debut album, in fact, featured several R&B classics, like Chuck Berry's 'Beautiful Delilah' and Bo Diddley's 'Cadillac', but it was the original material, like 'You Really Got Me' and 'So Mystifying' that made it a British pop classic and helped the Davies brothers take that first historic step in cementing their role as one of the most influential and innovative bands in pop history."

THE KINKS: Kinda Kinks LP (EAR 42002 LP). $18.00

Recorded in 1965 at the tail end of their world tour, for their second release the Kinks were out to prove that they weren't just a passing phase, which with a track list that included hits like 'Tired Of Waiting For You', 'Come On Now' and 'Don't Ever Change', of course they did." Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl.

THE KINKS: The Kink Kontroversy LP (EAR 42003 LP). $18.00

"Originally released in 1966 on Pye. For their 4th full-length release the Davies brothers pulled 'Till the End of the Day' and 'I'm On An Island' out of their magic songwriting hat. And the world became a better place. Davies, McCartney, Lennon — England's musical geniuses — perhaps even in that order." Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl.

THE KINKS: Face To Face LP (EAR 42004 LP). $18.00

"This classic 1966 Kinks LP marked the beginning of the Kinks most innovative period. The Kinks were now pop royalty, but the pressures stardom and the were starting to weigh on Ray Davies, and songs like 'Too Much On My Mind', 'A House In The Country' and 'Most Exclusive Residence For Sale' gave his fans the sinking suspicion that the life of luxury was not all that it was cracked up to be."

THE KINKS: Something Else By The Kinks LP (EAR 42005 LP). $18.00

"After two lackluster singles, the Davies songwriting genius finally came into its own, with 'You Really Got Me' skyrocketing to number one in August 1964. This marked the beginning of the Kinks most creative period, during which time they released Face To Face (1966) and the classic Something Else By The Kinks. This 1967 pop masterpiece included some of the Kinks' most innovative material to date, songs like 'Waterloo Sunset', 'David Watts', 'Harry Rag' and Ray Davies' 'Death Of A Clown' made the Kinks the undisputed fathers of British pop."

THE KINKS: The Kinks Are The Village Green Preservation Society LP (EAR 42006). $18.00

"By 1968 the Kinks had released enough pop landmarks to keep any other band resting on their laurels for a lifetime, but the ever-restless Ray Davies had more genius swirling around his head that needed to break free. As most bands were celebrating peace and love, Davies was, as usual, swimming against the current with quirky little songs about preserving an imagined Village Green and nostalgia about the world that most of his contemporaries had gleefully set upon the funeral pyre. It has been often mused that because the Kinks were banned from the US while most of the sixties revolution was taking place, their music became increasingly introspective as they took a microscope to British life." 180 gram vinyl.

JANSCH, BERT: Jack Orion LP (EAR 42007 LP). $18.00

"One of the most important figures in British folk music, Bert Jansch has inspired everyone from Jimmy Page to Johnny Marr. For his third release, Jack Orion (1966), Jansch chose to focus on traditional folk songs. John Renbourn, who also appears on several tracks, went on to play with Jansch in the influential Pentangle." Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl.

JANSCH, BERT: Bert Jansch LP (EAR 42008 LP). $18.00

"British folk legend Bert Jansch (b. Glasgow, Scotland 1943) began developing his distinctive guitar and vocal style playing around the burgeoning Edinburgh folk scene. However, it was not until Jansch moved to London that he was granted the wider exposure that soon gave him the opportunity to record his brilliant eponymous 1965 debut (recorded on a tape player in the kitchen of his London flat). Jansch's first solo attempt, featuring classics like 'Do You Hear Me Now', (later covered by Donovan), 'Needle Of Death', and a cover of Davey Graham's 'Angie', has become a milestone of British folk that has arguably never been surpassed. Jansch went on to record with the influential Pentangle, becoming one of England's most innovative and gracefully original acoustic folk guitarists."

JANSCH, BERT: Birthday Blues LP (EAR 42009 LP). $18.00

"In 1969, just prior to his 25th birthday, Bert Jansch took time out of his busy schedule of touring and recording with Pentangle to record yet another astounding solo album. One of the most influential acoustic guitar players and songwriters of all time, Jansch's impact on modern music is incalculably profound."

THE KINKS: Lola Vs. Powerman & The Moneygoround LP (EAR 42010 LP). $18.00

"Originally released in 1970, Lola brought the Kinks back to the top of the charts with some of their most memorable material to date. Here the Davies genius is running at full-throttle, combining sublime satire with irresistible pop hooks, and pointing the finger at the music industry, described by Davis as a corrupt money-hungry machine."

THE KINKS: Live at Kelvin Hall LP (EAR 42011LP). $18.00

"The atmosphere and mayhem of an authentic Kinks live performance from the mid-60s was captured on this album in all its chaotic, rousing glory. No other live recording from the era documents a typical concert so well. Recorded in Glasgow, Scotland while the Kinks were on tour in 1967, it contains energetic performances of hits like 'Till The End Of The Day', 'You Really Got Me' and the sing-along 'Sunny Afternoon'. Artwork of the original UK edition. Stereo version."

THE KINKS: Arthur, Or The Rise And Fall Of The British Empire LP (EAR 42012). $18.00

"Originally released in 1969, Arthur was recorded at the tail-end of a ban that kept the Kinks from touring in the US for 4 long years, but these weren't just any four years. It was during these years that American youth had collectively begun to make a clean break with everything the post-war generation had worked so hard for. Despite being physically cut off from this revolution, Davies was acutely aware of this cultural upheaval, but rather than embrace this new youth culture by writing celebratory songs of sex drugs and rock 'n' roll, Davies chose to focus on Arthur and the disappointment and self-doubt of an older generation imbued with an acute sense of time gone by, wasted lives and getting old. Not exactly something to make the kids want to get up and dance (and perhaps this explaining the album's dismal sales). Like Lola, Arthur was a brilliant concept album, telling the tale of the an ageing head of the family in post-war Britain whose his son and son's family prepare to move away to Australia (where Davies' own sister had gone to seek her fortune). Why do these kids reject Arthur's way of life? It was a good life, wasn't it?" 180 gram vinyl.

THE KINKS: Percy LP (EAR 42013). $18.00

"By 1970 the Kinks were back at the top of the charts when 'Lola' from their Lola Versus Powerman and the Money-Go-Round album broke into the top ten. Then, in staying in the general penis theme, Ray Davies outdid himself again for Percy, recorded just a few weeks later. But Percy was not just any Kinks album, it was the soundtrack to a film about the world's first penis transplant. One would think that with such intriguing subject matter and such strangely beautiful material Percy would be one of the band's better known works, but alas it is what has been often called 'one of the great lost Kinks' albums' and the missing link between Arthur and Preservation."

NAZZ, THE: Open Our Eyes (The Anthology) 3LP (EAR 42014 LP). $34.00

"Even if composer/guitarist Todd Rundgren hadn't gone on to be a star, the Nazz would still be one of the best American anglophile pop bands of the late sixties. Unlike most bands of the era, who were happy to follow the hippy caravan West, the Nazz had their sights pointed due East to Britain, drawn in by the foppiness and pure pop genius of bands like the Yardbirds, the Who and the Small Faces. This 3 LP brings together the band's complete discography: Nazz, Nazz Nazz and Nazz III. Double gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl with PVC audiophile dustsleeve."

JANSCH, BERT: It Don't Bother Me LP (EAR 42015 LP). $18.00

"Released shortly after his debut, 1965's It Don't Bother Me was proof that this new phenomenon called Bert Jansch was not just a fluke. One of the most talented and influential singer/songwriters of the late sixties, Jansch went on to record with the influential Pentangle, becoming one of England's most innovative and gracefully original acoustic folk guitarists. Includes his first recording with John Renbourn ('Lucky Thirteen', written by Renbourn) and the unabashed 'Anti-Apartheid'. 180 gram HQ vinyl with PVC audiophile dustsleeve."

JAN DUKES DE GREY: Mice and Rats In The Loft LP (EAR 42016). $18.00

"Rare second LP by one of the most legendary underground acoustic folk bands to come out of the UK in this era. Although the band released just two LPs, it achieved cult status and is considered responsible for spawning a whole new genre. Recorded for Transatlantic in 1971, Jan Dukes De Grey's second album was (despite the addition of drummer Denis Conlan) much more free-form than the first. While still essentially a folk album, the band's progressive leanings are far more pronounced, dissolving song structure and taking the audience on a wild, semi-improvised journey. Liner Notes by David Tibet (Current 93)." Clear vinyl. 180 gram vinyl. On the NWW list!

YARDBIRDS, THE: Live Blueswailing July '64 LP (EAR 42017 LP). $18.00

Same as the Sundazed edition. "This recently discovered live Yardbirds set was recorded prior to their amazing Five Live Yardbirds debut album and definitely adds to the band's already legendary status — equalling (if not bettering) Five Live in both sound quality and performance. Here is what Yardbird Chris Dreja has to say about this recording: 'This tape is just a very interesting historical piece,' reckons Chris nearly forty years later. 'It's pretty rough and ready. It's from an embryonic stage of the band, and an added interest is Keith's interchanges with the audience. The nature of this album is just this startling piece of history. It was ahead of its time. It's incredibly valid, plus it's The Yardbirds, plus it's Eric. There is nothing out there with such an intimate feel. That's what got to me. It was like being in the room again or up there on the stage, in that wonderful magic period.'"

JANSCH, BERT: Rosemary Lane LP (EAR 42018 LP). $18.00

"A favorite among Jansch fans, Rosemary Lane (originally released in 1971) has all of the trademark Jansch elements firmly in place — sparse innovative guitar work and inspired vocals on both original interpretations of traditional pieces and his own self-penned tracks. One of the most influential acoustic guitar players of all time, it has been said that Jansch did for the acoustic guitar what Jimi Hendrix did for the electric. 180 gram vinyl."

CHILTON, ALEX: Like Flies On Sherbert (+ bonus disc: Live In London) 2LP (EAR 42019 LP). $23.00

"Sides A & B recorded in 1980 at Sam Phillips & Ardent Studios. Produced by Alex Chilton & James Luther Dickinson. Side C & D recorded live at Dingwalls, London, 28th May 1980. Like Flies On Sherbert is perhaps Alex Chilton's most controversial album. Some saw it as the definitive collapse of a major talent, saying that 'the LP sounds like a bunch of drunken louts running amok in a studio with no producer to restrain or guide them', while other's hailed it's casual anarchy calling it 'a beautiful mess: rock n roll as it was born to be: chaotic sloppiness a wreck of incomplete hooks and vocals — a savage postcard from the edge of hell'. There is no question that the record is a shambles, but if you take the time to wade through the chaos, you may find the sublime. 180 gram vinyl."

TANGERINE DREAM: Electronic Meditation LP (EAR 42020 LP). $18.00

"One of the first electronic punk albums in history, When TDZs debut Electronic Meditation was recorded, there was virtually no electronic music equipment available at all and yet the band managed to make unusual sounds by using everyday objects, such as a sieve filled with dried peas, an old office calculator, 2 old iron bars and parchment paper. These were recorded with a microphone and then run through reverbs and delays. The results were not always very tonal and miles apart from a commercial pop sound. Furthermore, the studio equipment they had at their disposal was by best means very sparse and everything was recorded directly onto a Revox 1/4" tape machine during one of the band's rehearsals at an old factory in Oct. 1969 in Berlin. This album was also the only TD album to feature electronic musician Klaus Schulze on drums. 180 gram HQ vinyl with PVC audiophile dustsleeve."

JANSCH, BERT: Nicola LP (EAR 42021 LP). $18.00

"Released in 1967 at the height of the Summer of Love, Nicola would become Bert Jansch's fourth solo album. For Jansch fans, Nicola was a surprising evolution. Gone was the stark brooding acoustic minimalism of his first three releases, and in its place a fifteen-piece orchestra with Jansch, for the first time on twelve-string and electric guitar. The album, named after his girlfriend at the time, gave Jansch (usually the lone wolf) his first taste of creating music as a member of a greater whole, and in some ways must have led to his decision to leave his solo career behind for his new group, Pentangle. Rather than staying in the formula that had made him one of the first folk artists to sell out stadium size venues, Jansch's creative impulse was forcing him to leap forward into the great unknown and the result was Nicola." 180 gram vinyl.

BOWIE, DAVID: I Dig Everything: The 1966 Pye Singles LP (EAR 42022 LP). $18.00

"Three singles David Bowie cut for Pye in 1966, with producer Tony Hatch, 'I Dig Everything', 'Can't Help Thinking About Me' and 'Do Anything You Say'. Released in April 1966, 'Can't Help Thinking About Me' left the R&B formula of Bowie's earlier singles behind, serving up instead a delicious slice of classic mod-pop (reminiscent of the Kinks of that same era) and getting Bowie an invitation to appear on the influential Ready Steady Go!. Nonetheless the single bombed and remained an obscure item until after Bowie became a star. 'Can't Help Thinking About Me' also tells the tale of a young boy who is forced to leave town — perhaps the first hint of homosexuality in Bowie's lyrics. Also the first single by David Bowie instead of Jones. 'I Dig Everything' is another enjoyable sliver of mid-sixties Brit pop but Bowie's trademark moodiness is already firmly in place, despite the song's rather upbeat lyrics. 180 gram vinyl."

RENBOURN, JOHN: The Lady and the Unicorn LP (EAR 42023LP). $18.00

"Released in November 1970, The Lady And The Unicorn contains a variety of instrumental 'early music' pieces, at that time the object of eclectic Renbourn's research. Despite its characterization as a 'medieval album', the music contained is of a much wider range, spanning from the 13th — 14th century dance tunes 'Trotto' and 'Saltarello' to the instrumental versions of the relatively recent English folk songs 'My Johnny Was A Shoemaker' and 'Scarborough Fair'. The result of this amazing research can be carefully tracked by Renbourn's liner notes which neatly report authors, dates, and cultural origins of the material, where known."

RENBOURN, JOHN: Another Monday LP (EAR 42025LP). $18.00

"Shortly before he revolutionized English acoustic music with the foundation of Pentangle, guitar supremo John Renbourn cut this excellent folk-blues record in 1966. His second solo album, it displayed his command of everything from traditional folk to jazz, and teamed him on three tracks with another future Pentangle star, vocalist Jacqui McShee. Artwork of the original UK edition. Printed inner sleeve with liner notes by British folk and blues revival expert Colin Harper."

BOLAN, MARC: The Beginning of Doves 2LP (EAR 42027 LP). $23.00

"Comprehensive compilation of recordings made in Bolan's pre-T.Rex days. Although it bears little resemblance to the glam rock sound that would soon make him famous, it is an important period in Bolan's career and essential in understanding the origins of the music that ruled the globe when Bolan was at the peak of his prowess. These 37 tracks were recorded over a ten month period, roughly between late 1966 and summer 1967. His then manager Simon Napier-Bell said that it was Bolan's voice that convinced him he would become a star — although it would be 5 more years until that would come to pass."

RICHMAN & THE MODERN LOVERS, JOHNATHAN: The Best Of Jonathan Richman & The Modern Lovers 2LP (EAR 42028 LP). $23.00

"Jonathan Richman has often been called the missing link between the Velvets and punk, and while this may apply to his first album, 1976's Modern Lovers, it is hard to make that same statement about his later work, which is more like the missing link between punk rock and Sesame Street. Children's songs like 'I'm A Little Airplane' and 'Ice Cream Man' make up an unsettlingly large part of his repertoire, but they are also paradoxically some of his greatest moments — and not often found on compilations, which is why this collection is so important. These 20 tracks were compiled from Richman's Beserkely period and originally appeared on 1976's seminal Modern Lovers, 1977's Rock & Roll With The Modern Lovers, Live and Richman's first solo effort, 1979's Back In Your Life."

NICO: Drama of Exile 2LP (EAR 42029LP). $23.00

"The Nico legend was built around her brief flirtation with the Velvet Underground. Yet the ice queen's solo career proved to be every bit as influential and eclectic as the VU's catalogue. She re-emerged from drug hell in the early 80s with the wondrous Drama Of Exile album, included here in full alongside out-takes and a non-LP single. Liner notes by Mark Paytress. Gatefold sleeve. Front cover artwork taken from the first Drama Of Exile edition."

FRANK, JACKSON C.: Jackson C. Frank LP (EAR 42030LP). $18.00

"The folksinger's folksinger, Jackson C. Frank was regarded as a giant by his contemporaries, but somehow missed out on the stardom which awaited many of his admirers. Paul Simon produced this classic 1965 album (it came out originally on Columbia), which introduced the world to Frank's best-known song, 'Blues Run The Game'. The teenage Al Stewart also played guitar on this album, which has fetched up to £300 on the collector's market, and is now reissued with its original cover. Liner notes by Bert Jansch."

TANGERINE DREAM: Alpha Centauri LP (EAR 42031LP). $18.00

"Their 2nd album, Alpha Centauri was released in 1971 and saw a drastic move towards a more synthesized sound resulting in what would become 'space rock'. Instead of intense guitars and drums, as if the sound is breaking through your speakers, Alpha Centauri begins its journey with crackling and swirling synthesizers seizing control of your stereo. Contains 1 bonus track from the first single. Original artwork. Printed inner sleeve with liner notes. Stereo version."

RICHMAN & THE MODERN LOVERS, JOHNATHAN: Back in Your Life LP (EAR 42036LP). $18.00

"Released in 1979, though ready by mid-1978, this album is for some listeners the last by the Modern Lovers, while for others it is the first in Richman's solo career. Credited to Jonathan Richman and the Modern Lovers and originally published by Beserkely, Back In Your Life is an enjoyable collection by the always sharp and cleverly humorous folk pop performer from Beantown. Despite being issued after the emotionally disastrous 1978 UK tour which abruptly ended the Modern Lovers, it features several anarcho-pop gems in the band's best style. This reissue contains 4 extra tracks that were originally released as B-sides for singles or on collections that Beserkely advanced to awaiting fans."

DEKKER, DESMOND: Israelites LP (EAR 43001 LP). $18.00

"One of the most distinctive voices in reggae, Desmond Dekker (born Desmond Dacres) was one of Jamaica's first international stars. While taking ska and rocksteady to new musical heights, Dekker used his trademark falsetto to describe the crime and poverty that plagued the newly independent island nation. Classics like 'Israelites' (paralleling the suffering of the Jamaican people, oppressed by centuries of colonial domination, to the ancient plight of the Israelites) and '007' (describing the exploits of the Jamaican rude boys) have made Dekker a living legend — particularly in the UK where mods and skins deeply identified with his rude boy tales — and confirmed his role as one of the genre's greatest innovators."

TOSH, PETER: Arise Black Man 2LP (EAR 43002 LP). $23.00

"25 track collection of solo material recorded by the ultimate rude boy, Peter Tosh. While still a member of the Wailers, Tosh continued to record as a solo artist, working with legendary producers Bunny Lee and Lee 'Scratch' Perry, Leslie Kong and Joe Gibbs. Many of the tracks found here are well-known and loved Tosh material, but there is also some rare material as well, making this the definitive Tosh collection to own on vinyl."

ETHIOPIANS, THE: Train To Skaville 1966-1969 2LP (EAR 43003 LP). $23.00

"Formed in early 1966 by Leonard 'Sparrow' Dillon, the Ethiopians were of the first groups to openly draw a connection between themselves and Rastafarianism, paving the way for the many 'Roots' reggae artists to come. This collection of early hits (1966-1969) features classics like 'Owe Me No Pay Me' (from their first recording session with Coxsome Dodd at his legendary Studio One studio), 'Train To Skaville' (recorded at Duke Reid's famed Treasure Isle studio), 'The Whip' (recorded at Sonia Pottinger's Gay Feet) and much more."

MORGAN, DERRICK: I Am The Ruler LP (EAR 43004 LP). $18.00

"Emerging in the early sixties as one of the luminaries of ska, Derrick Morgan was so popular that in 1961 he dominated the top seven slots in the Jamaican music charts — a record that still remains unbroken. Holding down the number one spot that year was 'Housewives Choice', the song that sparked the legendary rivalry between Morgan and producer/singer Prince Buster (Morgan was accused of stealing a solo from Buster's 'They Got To Go'). The artists exchanged insults in several songs that soon followed, including Morgan's 'Blazing Fire' and 'No Raise No Praise' (an allusion to Buster's refusal to give Morgan a raise, causing Morgan to defect to producer Leslie Kong). In fact, Morgan's string of early hits was mostly achieved with the help of Kong's legendary hit-making prowess, including 'The Hop' and 'Forward March' written for the Jamaican independence in 1962."

ISAACS, GREGORY: All I Have Is Love 2LP (EAR 43005 LP). $23.00

"Despite his legendary penchant for firearms and frequent clashes with the law, it was his tender side that won the hearts of his fans, earning him the moniker of the 'Lonely Lover'. Although Isaacs had produced several quality singles and worked with a number of artists and producers, by 1970 he still had not produced a major hit. Frustrated, he decided to start his own African Museum label and shop with fellow artist Errol Dunkley. This proved to be just the boost that Isaacs needed and in 1972 he had his first major hit with 'All I Have Is Love' selling 11,000 copies in Jamaica alone. This was just the first in a string of seventies hits, many of which have been included on this definitive Isaacs collection."

CLIFF, JIMMY: Jimmy Cliff LP (EAR 43006 LP). $18.00

"Cliff's second album, released on Island in 1969. It included 'Vietnam' (which Bob Dylan called the best protest song he had ever heard) and 'Wonderful World, Beautiful People' which became Jimmy Cliff's first worldwide hit, reaching No. 6 in the UK and No. 25 on the US Charts. All tracks produced by Leslie Kong." Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl.

PERRY, LEE: Africa's Blood LP (EAR 43007 LP). $18.00

"By the time Africa's Blood was first released in 1971, producer, Lee 'Scratch' Perry was firmly established as an innovator without equal in Jamaican Music. The album further highlighted his unique talent, providing an ideal opportunity to showcase some of the best of his latest productions. Of the material featured, of special note are instrumental versions of Bunny Wailer's 'Dreamland', Eric Donaldson's 1971 Festival Song winner, 'Cherry Oh Baby' ('Well Dread'), Junior Byles 'Poor Chubby' ('Long Sentence') and Slim Smith's interpretation of The Temptations' 'My Girl'. The two vocal offerings are provided by Dave Barker ('Do Your Thing') and Winston Jarrett & The Flames, who cut the excellent, 'Isn't It Wrong' under the alias of The Hurricanes, while Winston 'Prince' Thompson (who later gained fame under the guise of Dr. Alimantado) provides the only DJ cut on the album, boasting over the Junior Byles classic, 'Place Called Africa'. These, along with further instrumentals, 'Not Guilty', 'Cool And Easy', 'Sawdust', 'Go Slow', 'Bad Luck' are typical of Perry's distinctive productions from the period and help make up what is an essential collection of his early work. 180 gram HQ vinyl with PVC audiophile dustsleeve."

MARLEY, BOB: Sun Is Shining 3LP BOX (EAR 43008 LP). $34.00

"This triple album collection of Bob Marley & the Wailers' pre-Island years (late sixties & early seventies) includes many of the songs that they recorded for producer Lee 'Scratch' Perry's fledgling Upsetter label. It was their collaboration with Perry that would lead to the string of hits that would cause the Wailers to launch Tuff Gong and eventually bring them to the attention of Island's Chris Blackwell. Many of these songs, widely acknowledged as the group's best material, were later re-recorded by Marley, but these later recordings often failed to capture the raw energy of the originals featured here."

PABLO, AUGUSTUS: Skanking With Pablo: Melodica For Hire 1971-1977 2LP (EAR 43009). $23.00

"Concentrating on the early rebel-rock period of the melodica maestro's outstanding career, Skanking With Pablo gathers together the best of Augustus Pablo's recordings for producers like Lee Perry, Joe Gibbs, Dennis Alcapone, Clive Chin and Derrick Harriott. These years are often considered Pablo's most creative and while recording for these producers and more, Pablo also continued releasing material on his own Hot Stuff, Rockers, International and Yard Music labels and creating some of the genre's finest moments in the process." 180 gram vinyl.

MAYTALS, THE: Do The Reggae 1966-70 LP (EAR 43010). $18.00

"One of Jamaica's most outstanding vocal groups, the Maytals were at the forefront of Jamaican music throughout the sixties and seventies, beginning with ska in the early sixties and eventually giving the reggae genre its name with their classic Do The Reggae. In 1966 the Maytals were on the rise, winning the important Jamaican Song Festival in 1966, with 'Bam Bam', but the band was forced to put their success on hold while lead singer Toots did time for ganja possession. This may have slowed the trio down, but when Toots was released in 1968, the Maytals came back hotter than ever, recording for Leslie Kong's Beverley's label and producing what is considered to be the band's best material-including classics like '54-46 That's My Number' (which described singer's jail time) and 'Pressure Drop' (featured in the wildly popular Harder They Come movie). Liner Notes by Steve Barrow." 180 gram vinyl.

MELODIANS, THE: Rivers of Babylon: Best of 1967-73 2LP (EAR 43012 LP). $23.00

"One of Jamaica's finest vocal groups of the rock steady era, the Melodians produced hits for the likes of Duke Reid and Sonia Pottinger throughout the sixties and early seventies. This 26-track collection contains all of the group's hits and many singles, from 'Swing And Dine' and 'Sweet Sensation' to the classic 'Little Nut Tree' and the massive 'Rivers of Babylon'. This is the definitive overview of their peak period. 180 gram vinyl."

HOLT, JOHN: 1,000 Volts Of Holt Plus LP (EAR 43013 LP). $18.00

"Widely hailed as the greatest Pop-Reggae LP of all time, 1,000 Volts Of Holt combines the rhythms of Jamaica with sophisticated western arrangements, a formula that in 1973 propelled John Holt onto the international stage." (Trojan) 180 gram vinyl.

WILSON, DELROY: Worth Your Weight In Gold LP (EAR 43014 LP). $18.00

"Delroy Wilson (1948-1994), one of Jamaica's best loved singers, got his start with Coxsome Dodd's legendary Studio One, scoring his first hit (1963's 'Joe Liges', written by Lee Perry) when he was just 15 years old. His career soon took off and he spent most of the decade recording numerous hits for Dodd, including 1966's 'Dancing Mood', which became one of the first rock steady singles and a monstrous number 1 seller. Despite his ongoing success, Wilson was restless for something new and soon began collaborating with Bunny Lee and Sonia Pottinger. In 1971 his 'Better Must Come' (produced with Bunny Lee) was so popular that it became the theme song for the People's National Party, helping them on to electoral victory. In 1976 he enjoyed yet another hit with Marley's Bob's 'I'm Still Waiting'. This album, originally released in 1984, and recorded at Channel One and mixed at Joe Gibbs and Treasure Isle studios, features six excellent fully extended tunes, all featuring the unbeatable drums & bass of Sly & Robbie. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

VA: Uptown Top Ranking: Joe Gibbs Reggae Productions 1970-80 2LP (EAR 43015 LP). $23.00

"One of the most successful and influential producers in Reggae Music, Joe Gibbs has produced some of the genre's finest moments and the seventies represent his most fruitful period. These 23 tracks spread over two LPs gather some of his best known productions from that golden period, as well as some rarer releases, several of which have never before been released outside Jamaica. 180 gram vinyl."

VA: Skinhead Revolt LP (EAR 43016 LP). $18.00

"Showcasing the sound that became known as 'Skinhead Reggae', this compilation brings together the songs that British skinheads came to claim as their own and reggae artists showed their appreciation by writing songs especially tailored to their skinhead public. Although many reggae songs became hits in the UK thanks to the skinhead record buying public, there were also many tracks that never made it to the top of the charts, but were still 'hits' among skins. Many of these rarer sides, collected on this 20-track compilation, are what really got original British skins moonstompin. 180 gram vinyl."

BIG YOUTH: Ride Like Lightning: The Best Of Big Youth 1972-1973 2LP (EAR 43017). $23.00

"Still considered one of the best DJs of all time, Big Youth cut his teeth in the early seventies deejaying for Lord Tipterton's sound system, and his unique toasting style (influenced by nights spent listening to U. Roy and I. Roy) soon brought him the attention of producers eager to exploit the DJ craze that was sweeping Jamaica at this time. His first true hit came in 1972 with the 'The Killer', produced by a 19-year-old Gussie Clarke, and was soon followed by the even bigger hit '5.90 Skank', dedicated to Kingston's favorite motorcycle, the Honda 5.90. By this time, Big Youth was cutting hits for all the top producers and it was not long before his first LP Screaming Target (still considered one of the greatest DJ albums of all time) was released. But it was not just Big Youth's music and toasting skills that gained him such an avid following, but his ability to voice the feelings of the disenfranchised and downtrodden and speak out against social injustice in the best of the Rastafarian tradition."

PRINCE FAR I: Musical History LP (EAR 43018). $18.00

"Prince Far I's Musical History was released in December 1983, just three months after the great 'Voice of Thunder' had been shot dead in his home in Jamaica. One of the top artists of the roots era, at the time of his death, the Prince was at the height of his career, having released his seminal single 'Heavy Manners', which spoke out against the new repressive laws that had been passed in an attempt to stymie the wave of violence that was sweeping the island in late seventies. This single was tremendously popular with the ghetto youth who soon began rallying around Far I and the Rastafarian faith in massive numbers. He also had started his own Cry Tuff label and began releasing a slew of powerful singles, but this activity was cut short by Far I's untimely death. Musical History brings together the best of his latest material, including 'What You Gonna Do On Judgement Day' and 'I Don't Know Why I Love Jah So'."

MARLEY & THE WAILERS, BOB: African Herbsman LP + 10" (EAR 43019 LP). $24.00

"Originally issued by Trojan as a belated follow-up to Soul Rebels in 1973, African Herbsman gathered the remainder of the group's finest work for Lee Perry, along with their two best-selling self-produced sides, 'Trenchtown Rock' and 'Lively Up Yourself.' This reissue also includes a special bonus 10" in plain cardboard cutout sleeve.

DILLINGER: Cocaine In My Brain 2LP (EAR 43020 LP). $23.00

"Inspired by the first wave of DJs, Dillinger who initially called himself Al Capone Jr. in honor of the great Dennis Alcapone, began his career by filling in for various DJs on the local sound systems. But it was Lee Perry who took the youth under his wing and changed his name to Dillinger (for another famous American gangster), thus beginning his unstoppable rise to success. This collection features several early Perry singles along with some of his later hits including 'Cocaine In My Brain' and 'Marijuana In My Brain.'"

ANDY, HORACE: Feel Good All Over 2LP (EAR 43021LP). $23.00

"When in 1990 Horace Andy was asked by the Bristol based musical collective Massive Attack to join them on their album, Blue Lines, it signaled renewed interest by the general public in the career of one of the most distinctive voices in reggae music, who had started in the 60s with Studio One as one of Coxson's best discoveries. Feel Good All Over is a double LP set that features a selection of his work together with Bunny 'Striker' Lee and shows how at ease he is with both social oriented protest tunes and warm love songs. An ultimate collection of hard to find singles and extended play versions, many of them together for the first time on vinyl."

PERRY, LEE "SCRATCH": The Wonderwoman Years 2LP (EAR 43022LP). $23.00

"On the way back from his successful 1969 UK tour promoting his atmospheric instrumentals extremely popular among young skinheads in Great Britain, Lee Perry launched his new label Justice League, a name that wanted to be a tribute to DC Comics. This is the beginning of the 'Wonderman' period, so called because of Perry's self definition as the male equivalent to Wonder Woman. Among the most meaningful discoveries in these Wonderman Years, Perry scored the talents of Junior Byles and an interesting young DJ, Young Alcapone, later best known as Dillinger."

MARLEY & THE WAILERS, BOB: Soul Rebels LP + 10" (EAR 43023LP). $23.00

"A mixture of love songs and pure, unadulterated rebel music, Soul Rebels was the most personal and revealing set of Wailers' songs to appear on album. Recorded at the famed Randy's studio, these songs still sound entirely fresh today more than thirty years after being recorded. A testament to the Wailers' harmonic brilliance and strong songwriting skills, plus Lee Perry's creative vision and the rock-solid backing of his Upsetters. This edition includes a bonus 10" with four crucial Wailers' tracks of the same period."

ROMEO, MAX: The Coming of Jah: Anthology 1967-1971 2LP (EAR 43024LP). $23.00

"Can you think of a better way to celebrate Maxie Smith's 35 year long career in the music business? This exhaustive collection reminds you what Max Romeo was and still is for reggae music today. Since his 1968 success with 'Wet Dreams' (that gave him notoriety for being banned by the BBC for its hot contents) he has been cutting hit after hit as a solo artist backed by the best Jamaican musicians. On this double album you can enjoy 31 of his best pieces from 1967 to 1971 and at the same time immerse yourself in music history with the in-depth liner notes that will tell the tale of Jamaica's efforts to rise to the top of the music industry against the musical powers that be."

HEPTONES, THE: The Meaning of Life - Best of 1966-76 2LP (EAR 43025LP). $23.00

"Perhaps one of the most popular vocal trios of the rocksteady era, The Heptones cut a potential hit on their debut with 'Gunmen Coming To Town' but were obscured by Delroy Wilson's smash hit version of 'Dancing Mood.' Was it the end of the group? Far from it, since the band soon closed a deal with Coxson Dodd and began massively hitting the charts for the following four years. Documented here are the major successes of the trio in its pre and post-Studio One periods, with their unique vocal style always shining through despite multiple variations in genre."

U ROY & FRIENDS: Version Galore 2LP (EAR 43026LP). $23.00

"By the time Big Youth became the Reggae Phenomenon and reached his star status, a certain Ewan Beckford had already joined the heavens under the U-Roy moniker. Although not one of the 'originators' of the DJ style, he was the only artist to hold simultaneously the top three positions in the Jamaican charts with three consecutive singles, ever included here: 'Wear You To The Ball', 'Wake The Town' and 'This Station Rule The Nation.' Chick-A-Bow!"

SLY & ROBBIE: The Dub Revolutionaries: Meet the Mad Professor LP (EAR 43027LP). $18.00

"It took almost twenty years but it finally happened: Neal Fraser, the undisputed master of Dub under the moniker Mad Professor and author of masterpieces like 'Dub Me Crazy' joins the supreme knights of the rockers rhythm section, Sly Dunbar and Robbie Shakespeare. 16 tracks that sound like 1978 as the Professor demanded them to be, with the additional contribution of the sax genius Dean Fraser and superb arrangements reminiscent of Black Uhuru and some of the most earth shaking carpeting Dunbar and Shakespeare are capable of."

VA: The Upsetter LP (EAR 43028LP). $18.00

"When Lee 'Scratch' Perry broke away from 'Coxsone' Dodd in 1966, he established his own Upsetter persona not before a brief partnership with Joe Gibbs. The new nickname was chosen by Perry to attack Dodd for mistreating him during his years at Studio One. The righteous avenger not only created his own Upsetter label in 1968 but also his headquarters, the Upsetter record shop and, of course, his own group of backing musicians — The Upsetters. This is the reissue of the famed album featuring Scratch clad in green velvet sides by two attractive young women. A perfect blend of Jamaican gangsta look and spaghetti western sound that would soon make him famous when his success with 'Return Of Django' set his rising star on an irreversible trajectory."

SLY & ROBBIE: Riddim 2LP (EAR 43029LP). $23.00

"An extensive collection of some of the finest dubs from 1978 to 1980 by the drum and bass duo without whom the history of reggae would probably have to be rewritten. Lowell Charles Dunbar ('Sly' as a tribute to the funk master Sly Stone) and Robbie Shakespeare were undoubtedly the rhythm section in reggae music and produced, accompanied, mixed, and dubbed everyone from Gregory Isaacs to Black Uhuru, the Mighty Diamonds and many others. This double album contains 24 of the best 'dub' versions of some of their most classic sound carpets, many of which have been essential in establishing one of the most affirmed and widespread genres of the entire reggae phenomenon."

DEKKER, DESMOND: Rudy Got Soul 2LP (EAR 43030LP). $23.00

"Born Desmond Dacres in 1943, this awesome performer began his career almost by chance due to his very low profile and shy character which made him keep his day job for a while in his early days, fearing he could not make it in the music business. Instead he soon began recording for the famed Beverley's label of former ice cream parlour owner Leslie Kong who allegedly stopped a rehearsal session to hear this new talented singer who was rumoured to have won several singing contests at various dancehall Saturday nights. This double LP set presents all the major successes by Dekker, both as solo singer and with the Cherry Pies and the Four Aces (then just Aces) from 1963 to 1967. 31 classic hits from one of the most beloved rocksteady legends."

GRANDMASTER FLASH & THE FURIOUS FIVE: The Message LP (EAR 44001 LP). $18.00

"To call this album influential or pioneering wouldn't even begin to describe it. 1982's The Message not only made NY's fledgling hip hop scene an international phenomenon, but it also codified the ABCs of deejaying and MCing for future generations. Now standard DJ techniques like 'cutting', 'back-spinning' and 'phasing' were all part of Flash's impressive repertoire, as were 'trick' deejaying skills like mixing records behind his back. Furious Five member 'Cowboy' was also the first MC to use phrases like 'Throw your hands in the air, and wave 'em like ya just don't care!' and 'Everybody say, ho!' Includes Flash's first single 'The Adventures of Grandmaster Flash On the Wheels Of Steel' and the groundbreaking title track. Grandmaster Melle Mel's 'It's like a jungle sometimes it makes me wonder how I keep from going under' is probably one of the most famous hip hop rhymes of all time."

CHAIRMEN OF THE BOARD: Finder's Keepers (The Invictus Anthology) Vol. 1 2LP (EAR 44002LP). $23.00

"Chairmen of the Board were originally a Holland / Dozier / Holland 'made-in-studio' band — intended to be a money maker for a bunch of former Motown producers. Instead General Norman Johnson, Danny Woods, Harrison Kennedy and Eddie Curtis became one of the smoothest real soul acts to emerge from Detroit in the early '70s. On this extensive collection you will find the hits that made Invictus a steady charting label for three straight years between 1970 and 1973. Pre-disco sound at its best! Printed inner sleeves."

FATBACK BAND, THE: Fatbackin' 2LP (EAR 44003 LP). $23.00

"Funk's best-kept secret, the Fatback Band's tight horns and rhythm section kept the fat-back party jumpin and grooving all through the seventies — and when it came to a getting a good party going, founder / drummer Bill Curtis took his job seriously. He once stated, 'We're workers, primarily. We call ourselves construction men. We hustle. When we come into a hall, we demolish the place! If we don't get 'em roarin' then somebody's not playing.' This is the attitude the Fatbacks took to their studio recordings as well, always trying to bring this live party feeling to wax. And often with great success, especially in their legendary first releases for New York City's Perception Records, now collected on this high quality double LP. Includes their 1972 debut album Let's Do It Again, along with their next two releases People Music and Feel My Soul. Three albums' worth of non-stop, hardworkin' Fatback grooves in one package." 180 gram vinyl.

HOOKEE, JOHN LEE: Boogie Chillen LP (EAR 44004 LP). $18.00

"Blues king John Lee Hooker's Boogie Chillen first boogied its way to the top of the R&B charts in 1948. Recorded for the legendary Modern label, Hooker's first hit is now a landmark of foot-stompin' Mississippi Delta Blues. This collection of early Hooker material includes the songs that made 'the Hook' one of the most influential bluesmen of all time."

BELL, MADELINE: This Is One Girl LP (EAR 44005 LP). $18.00

"Originally released in 1976, This Is One Girl was soul singer Madeline Bell's third solo effort. Already well known for her outstanding vocal performances on several important releases, including Dusty Springfield's 1965 smash single 'In The Middle Of Nowhere' and Elton John's 1970 eponymous album, she also was the female voice behind Blue Mink. However, here it is Bell who owns the spotlight, showing off the impressive full vocal range that made her one of the finest soul vocalists of the period."

CYMANDE: The Best Of 2LP (EAR 44006). $23.00

"This collection brings together the best of Cymande's three classic studio albums (Cymande, Second Time Around and Promised Heights) 1973-74, including their hit single 'The Message', which went to the top of the American pop and R&B charts and resulted in their 1973 tour alongside the likes of Al Green, Jerry Butler and Billy Preston. Despite their fleeting brush with chart success, Cymande's unique style that welded together elements of rock, soul, African music and West Indian folk music remained inexplicably under appreciated for decades, but finally experiencing a recent renaissance through the soundtracks of Spike Lee and samples by rap artists." 180 gram vinyl.

LEADBELL: *Good Mornin' Blues (1936-1940) LP (EAR 44007 LP). $18.00

"One of the great masters of the 12 string guitar, Huddie Ledbetter was raised in Texas, where he was exposed to legendary bluesmen like Blind Lemon Jefferson. An imposing man, it was Ledbetter's strong nature and voice that would earn him the name 'Leadbelly'. Trading in farm life for a life of music, Leadbelly spent his early years playing blues all over the South, but this career was intermittent due to frequent stints in jail. Despite often receiving heavy sentences, he amazingly managed to receive a pardon each time from blues-loving governors. It was actually thanks the Library of Congress, (who in the Thirties sent researchers to the South in search of traditional music) that Leadbelly was finally released from jail the last time. He spent the last years of his life playing and (thankfully) recording his music."

PARLIAMENT: *Osmium LP (EAR 44008 LP). $18.00

"Formed in 1968, George Clinton's Parliament / Funkadelic took the soul music of the 1960s and Hendrix-esque psychedelic rock and 'tore the roof off the sucker'. Combining bass-heavy party music with a theatrical live show and innovative rhetoric, P-Funk was not only a band, but a revolution that used music as a means of breaking the chains of the dominant culture and achieve a heightened self-awareness (while not forgetting to have fun in the process). A motto perhaps best summed up in the title of Funkadelic's 1970 album Free Your Mind, And Your Ass Will Follow. Osmium, their classic 1970 release on Invictus Records, was the group's first release under the Parliament moniker and included 'I Call My Baby Pussycat' and 'Little Ol' Country Boy'."

SUGARHILL GANG: *Sugarhill Gang LP (EAR 44009LP). $18.00

"Not just the birth of Sugarhill Gang but arguably the first rap album, this 1979 classic finally gets its overdue vinyl reissue treatment. Endlessly copied and frequently sampled, 'Rapper's Delight' (millions of listeners' first exposure to hip-hop) remains an effervescent joy — not to mention a landmark in the history of black music. Original artwork. Printed inner sleeve."

VA: *On the Real Side: The Modern End of Northern Soul 2LP (EAR 44010LP). $23.00

"What is exactly Northern Soul and why did it become a cult scene, constantly evolving since the early steps into the Motown sound through Philly Sound towards the upbeat tempo of Mod inspiration? The best way to catch a glimpse of this everlasting club scene and its legendary DJ Ian Levine at the landmark Blackpool Mecca, is to listen carefully to this On the Real Side: The Modern End of Northern Soul. Featuring some of the best Northern Soul tracks ever written including the Carstairs' amazing 'It Really Hurts Me, Girl'. This 22 chapter saga tells the tale of one of the most beloved soul scenes among young original mod dancers and their current followers. A must for Northern Soul beginners and an excellently packaged collection for aficionados."

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD: *Finder's Keepers (The Invictus Anthology) Vol. 2 2LP (EAR 44012LP). $23.00

"Chairmen of the Board were originally a Holland / Dozier / Holland 'made-in-studio' band — intended to be a money maker for a bunch of former Motown producers. Instead General Norman Johnson, Danny Woods, Harrison Kennedy and Eddie Curtis became one of the smoothest real soul acts to emerge from Detroit in the early '70s. On this second volume you will collect more of the hits that made Invictus a steady charting label for three straight years between 1970 and 1973."

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD: *Finder's Keepers (The Invictus Anthology Vol. 3) 2LP (EAR 44013LP). $23.00

"Chairmen of the Board were originally a Holland / Dozier / Holland 'made-in-studio' band — intended to be a money maker for a bunch of former Motown producers. Instead General Norman Johnson, Danny Woods, Harrison Kennedy and Eddie Curtis became one of the smoothest real soul acts to emerge from Detroit in the early '70s. This third and last volume presents the group's hits from 1972 to 1976."

EARSUGAR (UK):

SCHNEIDER TM: *Reconfigures CD (EARSUG 004CD). $19.00

Remixes by Schneider TM of: Pulseprogramming, Margo, Lamb, Rechenzentrum, Turtle Bay Country Club, The Faint, Phillip Boa & the Voodooclub, Ruby, Lambchop, Alc Levora, Boss Hog, Turner. "Some of Dirk Dresselhaus' favourite music includes The Velvet Underground, Sonic Youth, Richard D. James, Autechre, Sun Ra, Shuggie Otis and Daniel Johnston. One of his particular favourites is Neil Young's 1982 album Trans, where nearly everything was played through a vocoder. 'It's definitely one of my main influences for doing the Schneider TM stuff. It's a really strange record, really great.' Schneider TM's acclaimed second album Zoomer was recorded in Dirk's Berlin living room studio and released on the City Slang label in September 2002. Since then he has travelled Zoomer around the world with a 3-piece band comprising of longtime friends and collaborators Kpt Michigan and Christian Obermaier. 'The way I do music, for example, it's very much a reflection of life. Basically it's folk music I would say. From the main vibe, telling strange fluid stories about whatever and everything you see, or I see, or we see or whatever, somehow affects the music very much. It's difficult to do political music but music is more often alternative to politics because music connects people so well.' There are many more stories, have a listen."

SCHNEIDER TM: *Reconfigures LP (EARSUG 004LP). $19.00

Features: pulseprogramming > margo > lamb > rechenzentrum > turtle bay country club > the faint > phillip boa & the voodooclub > ruby > lambchop > alc levora > boss hog > turner: Restyles & remixes by Schneider TM.

EARTH EAR:

ROTHENBERG/DOUGLAS QUIN, DAVID: *Before The War CD (EE 9052). $13.00

"David Rothenberg, an innovative musician and acclaimed environmental writer joins composer and sound artist, Douglas Quin, 'the Audubon of audio'. Together, they blend the indigenous energy of the world's primal cultures with the exploratory spirit of improvisation, in a musical adventure built around and within the powerful soundscapes of a living earth. Rather than simply echoing the tones of nature's voices, this 'earth jazz' moves from a deeper resonance, attuned to the ways nature moves, ebbs and flows. There are echoes of Middle Eastern, Eastern European, Scandinavian, and North African melodies, with an ECM-like tone of atmospheric virtuosity; these grooves seem to represent momentary glimpses of conversations that have no real beginning or end. Rothenberg's sensual woodwinds and the fluid support of Russ Gold on percussion and Bill Douglass on bass and flutes complement Douglas Quin's soundscapes with a sensitivity and flair that makes clear that this is music that includes, rather than imitates, nature...The result is an invigorating blend of exotic textures and deep heart that speaks equally to lovers of world music, jazz, and the vibrant sound of our wild surrounding world."

EARWORM (UK):

VA: *The Tell Tale Signs of Earworm 2CD (WORM 43). $16.00

"Superbly packaged and excellent value double set which includes long sold-out A & B sides from Earworm talents like Novack, Electric Sound of Joy, Avrocar, Magnetophone, Ma Cherie For Painting, GNAC, Fridge and others." Disc 2 is a collection of exclusive unreleased tracks from: Gwens, Matthew Ward, Screen Prints, The Vertical Smile, Kimonophonic, Magnetic North Pole, The Wee Turtles, The Minders, Southall Riot, I.S.A.N., Earthworm, Echoboy.

EAST WIND MUSIC (JAPAN):

TOGASHI, MASAHIKO: *Rings CD (PHCF 8003 CD). $24.00

24-bit reissue of this classic space-percussion album, originally issued in 1975. Togashi performs on drums, percussion, vibraphone, marimba, celesta & glockenspiel. Beautifully packaged in a mini-LP styled gatefold sleeve, with booklet of photos. Togashi is one of Japan's best known jazz-based percussionists, performing in the 70s with the likes of Masayuki Takayanagi, Steve Lacy and Don Cherry, but this is in a style of elegant, composed atmospherics and the most pleasant/experimental recording from him we've heard.

EASTERN DEVELOPMENTS MUSIC:

SCACCO, LORI: *Circles CD (EASTDEV 007CD). $11.00

"A classically trained pianist and guitarist since childhood, cofounder of midnineties indie-rock coup de force Seely (Too Pure Records, UK), Lori Scacco is certainly not new to the scene and definitely knows what she's talking about. Scacco sites heroes as far afield as the Coltrane Household (Alice and John), Dusty Springfield, Pharoah Sanders, Darlene Love, Brian Eno, The Delfonics, and the earthworks of artist and visionary Andy Goldsworthy as spiritual (as opposed to formalistic) influences. Lori's highly anticipated debut on Scott Herren's (aka Prefuse 73) label, Eastern Developments."

LEBLAZE: *Pressure CD (EASTDEV 009CD). $4.50

"Leblaze is the moniker of Atlanta DJ Ryan Raja Rasheed. Rasheed's been around for a good minute on the Atlanta/Decatur arthouse and house party circuit playing that smooth krunks-soft funk that breaks up those bullsh-y arthead conversations and drives asses to immediate twerkin'. He comes to us from a vast musical background that stretches from Steely Dan to M.F.Doom, from Dungeon family to Can, from Gary Newman to Nobody, not to mention a host of under-the-radar, obscure and old soul, funk, and r&b that the rest of us seem somehow to've either missed or discarded."

BEAR IN HEAVEN: *Tunes Nextdoor to Songs CD (EASTDEV 010CD). $6.50

"Feeling, intuition and invention are the operative forces behind Jon Philpot's Bear In Heaven project. Hardly a stranger to inventive groups, Philpot played guitar in an early incarnation of Scott Herren's Savath + Savalas and continues to hold on as one half of the underground (and underrated) electro/acoustic duo Presocratics. The songs are often lopsided, fractured, seemingly existing outside of linear constraints, and through the use of restrained dub-like production moves (see Lee Perry or Joe Meek) the listener finds herself in a joyously singular time and space."

EASTWEST (GERMANY):

NORDENSTAM, STINA: *People Are Strange CD (EAST 24506). $22.00

The fourth album by this strange Swedish pop vocalist, from 1998 (previous albums: Memories Of A Color (1991), And She Closed Her Eyes (1994), Dynamite (1997). An album of all covers, rendered in very idiosyncratic fashion, (most obviously comparable to Cat Power's The Covers Record, which it predates by a year or so). Achieves that "lips-next-to-your-ears" climate with deft ease, via luxuriously non-offensive sound presentation and general intimacy. Jim O'Rourke, speaking recently of Stina's production techniques: "The best record I've heard in years is by a woman called Stina Nordenstam. Technically it's a mess, but it's brilliant because the vibe is right. She's got these really badly recorded basic tracks of her singing. There are almost purposefully badly recorded tracks of piano and singing against fantastically recorded strings and horns, and the way they clash is what gives the record its character." "Many of the songs Stina chose to cover will be known to anyone with even a slightest interest in popular music — and many of those choices will perplex those who have a previous acquaintanceship of her work. They include 'Sailing', once a huge hit for Rod Stewart. Prince's famous anthem 'Purple Rain'; Tim Hardin's fragile little love song Reason To Believe; the often covered country tune by Boudleaux Bryant, 'Love Hurts'. And two songs from the grandmaster of singer-songwriting, Leonard Cohen — 'Bird On A Wire' and 'You Came So Far For Beauty'. In addition, there are almost unknown folk tunes such as 'Like A Swallow' and the nineteenth century ballad by Stephen Foster, 'Jeannie With The Light Brown Hair'.

EASTWEST (JAPAN):

NEIL, FRED: *Bleecker & MacDougal CD (AMCY 2693). $12.00

Last copies, reduced price. Japanese pressing of his 1965 folk classic from the Elektra period, his second album for that label. Neil has been seriously ignored in the CD era and this is highly in demand. Originally from Florida, Neil was heavily factored in the early days of the East Village folkie boom (Bob Dylan played harmonica for him at Cafe Wha? in 1961). His recording career went from 1964 to about 1971, peaking with Everybody's Talking on Capital (featured in the film Midnight Cowboy). Bleecker & MacDougal features some legendary tracks like "Other Side to This Life" & "Travelin' Shoes" and is fine document of Fred's deep-bass voice, guitar & harmonica accompaniment — that in some ways could be seen as a crucial link between the early folk style of Dylan and the more exploratory works of say, Tim Buckley.

STEREOLAB: *Aluminum Tunes 2CD (AMCY 2871/2). $20.00

Last copies, reduced price. Japanese issue, with one extra bonus track that is not found on the Duophonic, Warp or Drag City versions: "Freestyle Dumlping". Unique Japanese folk-out cardboard sleeve, with 3 Stereolab stickers inside.

SILL, JUDEE: *CD (AMCY 6064). $23.00

Japanese-only reissue of the first album by this LA singer/songwriter, the first release on David Geffen's Asylum label in 1971. Recently listed on Jim O'Rourke's Desert Island all-time top ten! [the recent Japanese reissue of her 2nd album, Heart Food has now been deleted]

STEREOLAB: *The First of the Microbe Hunters CD (AMCY 7169). $25.00

Last copies, reduced price. Special limited version of this year 2000 Stereolab album. There is no additional music contained here, but the jewelbox CD is packaged inside a puffy vinyl discman-style carrying case. With shoulder strap, tiny little zippered pocket, velcro belt loop and a Stereolab-identifying vinyl tag sewed on the outside. Cute package alert!

EAT RAW (GERMANY):

BIONAUT, THE: Frugivore 2LP (EAT 001 LP). $15.00

Double vinyl version, the first release on Burger's Eat Raw label, from 1993.

BIONAUT, THE: Frugivore CD (EAT 002). $15.00

Warehouse find of the some remaining copies of this long unavailable debut album by The Bionaut, prior to his involvement with Harvest, Matador, Popular, etc. Seminal early 90s Cologne stylings, brought to you one last time. "Jörg Burger's ambient pop album from 1993. Timeless!"

NOTHINGFACE: Nothingface EP 12" (EAT 012). $9.00

"A new kid on the Cologne block, the only information being around on the man with the obscure name is that he's said to be a computer wizard that got in touch with Jörg Burger (aka The Bionaut, The Modernist, Harvest Records). Adding a new flavor to the minimalist grooves of this city, Nothingface's 6-tracker surprises with plenty of funny + funky sound-tracky tracks alongside 2 straighter Modernist-styled grooves."

EAT THIS RECORDS (NETHERLANDS):*ENDORPHINS: Discipline LP (ETR 011LP). $12.00

"The record comes with a diskette with data info for an additional track...only to be played on a home computer. Also there is a special data track on the record which should be recorded onto cassette and be loaded into a Commodore 64 or 128. The music is classic electronica with raw energetic distorted (break) beats and soft melancholic melodies in a classic Aphex Twin way. The 7 tracks are ranging from real dancefloor killers to more moody tracks. And we must be honest... we think this is what Endorphins can do best. Sometimes its not all about originality...but producing just plain good tracks which rock is an art too."

ENDORPHINS: Dedication Rmxs LP (ETR 05). $10.00

"Probably a premier for the multi talented Endorphins: a mini album with an interactive CD-R by one and the same artist. The music on this album are rmxs of his previous EP on Eat This. The tracks are remixed by himself, Funkarma (Eaven), Legowelt, Math, etc. And are ranging from moody sweet electronics to 4/4 technoid and more funky electrofied tracks. A nice varied (relaxed, funky, moody, adventurous, advanced, energetic) mini album with as cherry on top of the cream an extra cool CDR with bonus tracks and videos."

MATH/L'USINE/GOSUD/MITCHELL AKIYAMA: Kaihosa Part 3 12" (ETR 06CD). $9.00

"With releasing Kaihosa Pt. 3 Eat This Records is completing its trilogy of kaihosa 3 different releases, three different formats, 8 different tracks. After a 10" and a 7" Eat This Records brings you a limited clear 12" with 4 great elektronik tracks on it. The series was/is a quest for the ultimate kaihosa feeling. 8 artists were asked to give their interpretation of the word kaihosa and came with 8 beautiful tracks. After that D'enborage, Tronikatan (Aka the Funcken brothers), Orgue Electronique and Legowelt opened the door for us — US citizens L'usine and Gosud, the very talented Japanese Mitchell Akiyama and Dutchie Math (known for his collaborations with Quench and his Musik Aus Strom release) are the ones to close the door behind us with some beautiful tracks ranging from more electro influenced to stunning advanced modern electronica."

QUENCH: Exclude CD (ETR 09 CD). $14.00

After long consideration Eat This Records decided that there is a place for a main course in our menu. This will be a CD by elektroniks bandits Quench (known for their releases on DUB, U-cover and Musik aus Strom). With the band we made a course with smooth fragrances, but a rather specific bite 10 ingredients made their way to the dish, some small, some with a larger bite. With this course Quench made themselves a plate on which they profiled themselves as truly elektroniks bandits, with a taste of detail. All dishes are sweet and with fine bites of spicy beats in a smooth combination which makes their music so unique. Tasty high quality music which fits every living/dining room. Must have for fans of Plaid, Autechre, Schematic, Funkstorung, DUB recordings etc."

AKIYAMA, MITCHELL: Meridial 12" (ETR 10). $9.00

"A 3-track 12" by Canadian Mitchell Akiyama who just released a full length on Raster Noton. He comes with nice minimal glitchy electronics towards more dubby downtempo tracks like we know of Pan sonic and Ratser Noton and the Clicks and Cuts releases."

ECHO BEACH (GERMANY):*VA: Modern Wild Dub: Dread Meets Disco Punk Rocker Dntown CD (EB 045CD). $15.50

Featuring: Colder, Playgroup, !!!, Chicks on Speed, LCD Soundstystem, Radio 4, Outhud, The Ruts, Chicken Lips, etc. "Echo Beach proudly presents a brilliant and logical follow up to the Wild Dub compilation. Just 10 months after wild dub took over the dancefloor around the world — modern wild dub will be a blastwave of your average dancefloor feeling. Now subtitled as Dread meets Disco Punker Dntown, yes it's a shame that Alan Vega (Suicide) is not around, the tracklisting presents the top underground dancefloor avantgardists of today. A brilliant collection of fresh-faced enthusiastic and wonderful early roots of white disco punk meets dreads around the world. Very dynamic cross cultural happening — where remixers and producers forced into mutant disco dubs. From the DFA center in New York/Manhattan comes LCD Soundstystem. Around the corner — from Brooklyn — Radio 4 (produced by James Murphy & Tim Goldsworthy for The DFA) with a very 'londonish' style mix by On-U Sound mastermind Adrian Sherwood in co-operation with Pop Group's Mark Stewart. Stafford's (UK) most advanced party band and remixer project Chicken Lips contribute with 'boil in the bag'. G. Rizo from New York (born in Africa) is getting amazing reaction around the world and has been held as the perfect reincarnation of Grace Jones, any question ??? Colder And Playgroup coming along with some perfect stylish modern wild dub tracks. Playgroup with a remix of Berlin's finest moment in emancipate women disco punk — Chicks On Speed. !!! with 'Me & Guilianni Walking Down the School Yard' is a really true story and straight out of New York — they just signed to Warp in England. 'Contort Yourself' is of course a remix/reconstruction of James White (one of the earliest and white disco punks ever) by Twitch inna Optimo remix. Kid Loco makes the needle sharp for the vinyl attack of The Ruts and their Babylon's Burning. A remake and reconstruction from Paris downtown. Vintage Funk Punk comes from Big Two Hundred and post Public Image Limited - style from Outhud in New York. Modern Wild Dub represents the best of punk disco trip dub that continues to extend discodub's natural roots into the cockpit of the 21st century Dubbbbbbbsbbbbsbbbbsbbbbs ! A very lovely sum up...check the dancefloor vibe! Liner Notes by Mark Stewart (Pop Group)."

VA: Modern Wild Dub: Dread Meets Disco Punk Rocker Dntown 2LP (EB 045LP). $15.50

Double LP version.

ECHOCHORD (GERMANY):*LOWFOUR: Ian EP 12" (ECHO 003EP). $9.00

"Behind the name Lowfour is Sweden's Andreas Tilliander. In the past he's released several albums as Andreas Tilliander, Mokira, Rechord and Komp. He produces everything from minimal and introvert soundscapes, ambient and music that is often compared to R&B and Hip-hop. The Force Inc sisterlabel Force Lab released a 12" by Lowfour in the summer of 2001. Since then Andreas has been focusing on other aliases and materials but now it's time for a new Lowfour release. The material was mostly recorded in 2001 but rerecorded and remixed in 2002 to fit the Echocord style. This is dark and ambient techno with lots of elements from dub music."

MIKKEL METAL: Remix Ep Vol. 1 12" (ECHO 005EP). $9.00

"Echocord presents the first remix EP. 3 remixes of Mikkel Metal. A1 is a remix by Jan Jelinek. An up-building floating minimal mix by the very successful producer also known as Farben and Gramm. He is known from labels as Scape and Klang. B1 is remixed by Dubtractor from Copenhagen. Dubtractor is a part of the group system, released on Scape and Future 3 released in April 2003. He has just released an album on CCO. B2 is a remix by Lowfour also known as Andreas Tilliander."

VA: Volume 1 EP 12" (ECHO 007EP). $9.00

"Mikkel Metal is back on Echocord with two tracks called 'Sprang' and 'Dubhal'. Both tracks have been released in the year 2000 on the German label Hal9000. Now Mikkel has done new versions of the tracks with vocoders and synths. 'Sprang' is a more unusual track by Mikkel with electro beats and vocoders, perfect for the dancefloor, while 'Dubhal' is a more traditional dubby Mikkel Metal track. Ars Deco's real name is Rafal Sygowski born 1977 in Poland. This is his first release on Echocord with the track 'Indiglio'. Its a dubby techno-track, which will please the dancefloors. DJ Daniel is also a new artist on Echocord. Daniel lives in Copenhagen and has been one of the leading producers and DJ's for years here in Copenhagen. 'On Lock' is a 4 to the floor track with lots of reggae and dub elements."

MIKKEL METAL: Rmx EP Part 2 12" (ECHO 008EP). $9.00

"This is the 2nd remix EP of old Mikkel Metal tracks. A1 is a slow, dubby remix by Substance aka DJ Pete from Hardwax Berlin. Pete has released several records on Chain Reaction as Substance and is one half of the group Scion together with René Löwe. This remix reminds me of the old Basic Channel and Chain Reaction releases with a Mikkel Metal touch. B1 is a remix by the Berlin group Bus. Bus is Daniel Meteo and Tom Thiel. This remix is the most party-orientated track of the EP, with lots of dub elements. B2 is a remix by Opiate aka Thomas Knaak. This remix is a typical Opiate production with lots of clicks and atmospheres."

ECHOKAMMER (GERMANY):*DIS*KA PRESENTS: C2064 CD (ECHO 001 CD). $15.00

"Summer 2000. Way before the inevitable flood of C64-Atari-gamesound-compilation of this years hype, Munich's Echokammer label released their legendary *Dis*ka Presents C2064* album. It brought us the very best of SID-punk-style versions of 80s-smash-hits like 'Always on My Mind', 'Being Boiled' or 'Living on Video'. Also TV-themes like 'Axel F', 'Dallas' and 'Mission Impossible' were radically transferred with the famous SID-chip into the beeping, chirping and buzzing world of 8-bit-adventures. All 18 coverversions have become hugely popular among the C64-devotees all over the world. Now the classic party tunes album is back with some extras: for the first time, DJ-classic *Dis*ka Presents C2064* is being released on CD. Alongside the boys own *Dis*ka 2 Hey Dis*ko* debut album their Echokammer label offers you a limited and first-time-ever-mastered C2064-digital version including bonus trax, funny coloured cover plus some classic gamesounds. Go for the original. Dance like no one's looking."

DIS*KA PRESENTS: C2064 LP (ECHO 001 LP). $12.00

LP version.

SHINTO: Keiren Remixed EP 12" (ECHO 026 EP). $9.00

"Shinto, electro avantgarde unit consisting of the autrian god of electro Hans Platzgumer and the Japanese pop dandy Cami Tokujiro, break the cliché of Japanese pop to be easy listening. Their first CD Liberal Bullshit (Disko B, Germany) set standards. Their 'hit song' 'Keiren' was remixed by five different artists from the west (is*ka, E.stonji, Koneko & Electronicat) and the east (Yoshihiro Sawasaki, Leopaldon)."

QUEEN OF JAPAN: Foreign Politics CD (ECHO 029CD). $18.00

"What the foreigners suggest will set your language out of sync. You'd think that after the success of the sex-citing cover CD Head-Rush, (an album of full of electric-socket boogie-nights versions, which could be mistakenly described as electroclash, featuring classics of the horizontal pop music industry like Marvin Gaye, Soft Cell, Kiss, Duran Duran, Rod Stewart and Joan Jett), the glitter-spangled threesome of Koneko (vocals), Jo Ashto (vocals, guitar) and Jason Arigato (bass) would carry on playing the high-voltage karaoke-sex-machine for a generation who grew up between Saturday Night Fever & Flashdance, Repo Man & Alien, Blade Runner & Tron and Miami Vice Dallas... But Queen of Japan are not just your run-of-the-mill cheeky anarchistic electro-karaoke dandies, oh no! For underneath their golden crowns they keep firm hold of the motto 'a mind is a terrible thing to waste', thus last year releasing the DIY bastard-pop-manifesto Kings, Queens, Wasps and Lust in the best situationist anarcho-cyber-punk tradition of fuck copyright — go copyleft/copywrong-bootleg. Foreign Politics transfers the lyrics from Kings, Queens, Wasps & Lust to the first originally composed Queen of Japan album. A 'tour de force' in discology."

ECLIPSE RECORDS:*ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAIISO U.F.O.: Live In Japan CD (AMT 006). $21.00

"Live recording made in Japan from December 2001 using digital 16 channel recording (so the sounds will be not like last 2 live LPs — more like studio recording quality). This live performance was twin drummers style (only these 2 concerts in Japan) featuring Ichiraku Yoshimitsu (ex.AMT / Nishinon / ISO) and Koizumi Hajime (AMT original drummer also original Mainliner drummer who played on 'Mellow Out') and this concert was Ichiraku's last performance in AMT. Of course the AMT line-up was Cotton, Tsuyama, Higashi, Kawabata and these 2 drummers. The sounds is like 'Megaton rhythm section + killer fuzz guitar + space sounds!'"

PARDONS: Charlie's Pardons CD (AMT 009 CD). $19.00

"February 2003 recordings from Pardon Uno (aka Higashi Hiroshi on synthesizer and guitar) and Pardon Dos (aka Cotton Casino on voice and synthesizer) featuring 6 tracks with a running time of about 56 minutes. This is a limited edition of 500 copies. Finally the 2nd album of Pardons (by Cotton Casino and Higashi Hiroshi, the synth-playing frontline dance brigade of AMT) has come out."

SUNBURNED HAND OF THE MAN, THE: The Trickle-Down Theory of Lord Knows What CD (ECL 022CD). $13.50

"This CD release (a first from Eclipse) is a reissue of the LP that surfaced in June 2003. On The Trickle-Down Theory of Lord Knows What, indecipherable chants come in dripping with echo; drones pervade almost everything; drums gradually rise through the songs as if the appropriate rhythms were discovered as a latent effect; and after a while, the sounds vanish. All of the music retains a willingness to lash out amidst muted, indistinct waves of sound that wash over the entire album. Battlegrounds materialize, then fade away. It is certain that Sunburned Hand of the Man stand for something a little more old-fashioned than might be expected. The obvious attempt is to find a backdoor to a present situation. Backdoors separate in from out. It becomes a beautiful question of which side you occupy. This group is one that will be happily outside — when the decrepit structure forming the inside — collapses with a satisfying crash and whimper. The group is part of a cosmic folk explosion or what some call the 'New Weird America'."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: La Nòvia LP (ECLIP AMT). $15.00

"Edition of 500 copies with full color sleeve and insert. This LP features Tsuyama Atsushi: bass, vocals, acoustic guitar, recorder, Koizumi Hajime: drums, percussion, Higashi Hiroshi: electric guitar, and Kawabata Makoto: electric guitars, violin, bouzouki, bowed peacock harp, synthesizer. Two side-long 20 minute tracks which cover Occitanian trad music. This is a beautiful record which is the finest yet released by the Acid Mothers Temple."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: In C/In E LP (ECLIP AMT2). $17.00

"This LP features two side long tracks. In C is a cosmic krautrock version of the Terry Riley composition and In E is a heavyweight freakout jam! In E was performed every night on the Acid Mothers Temple US tour. Features Kawabata Makoto (electric guitars, violin, zuruna, synthesizer), Tsuyama Atsushi (monster bass), Higashi Hiroshi (electric guitar, synthesizer), Cotton Casino (voice), Ichiraku Yoshimitsu (drums), and Terukina Noriko (vibraphone, glockenspiel). Edition of 1000 copies pressed on 180 gram vinyl and housed in a full color gatefold sleeve."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: Pataphysical Freak Out MU!! 2LP (ECLIP AMT3). $26.00

"First in a series of four reissues from Nagoya, Japan's Acid Mothers Temple & The Melting Paraíso U.F.O. on Eclipse Records. This has been licensed from PSF Records in Japan. Pataphysical Freak Out MU!! was the second release on PSF from AMT and was originally released in 1999. This double vinyl reissue includes all the tracks from the original CD release except that 'Blue Velvet Blues' has been restored to its original 40 minute version for this reissue that spans sides C & D. This is a beautiful album to behold! With new artwork, a heavy duty gatefold sleeve, two records pressed on HQ 180 gram vinyl this is the way AMT should be heard and seen."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: Troubadors From Another Heavenly World 2LP (ECLIP AMT4). $21.00

"Second in a series of four reissues from Nagoya, Japan's Acid Mothers Temple & The Melting Paraíso U.F.O. on Eclipse Records. This has been licensed from PSF Records. This double vinyl reissue includes all the tracks from the original CD release and also includes another track (which shares the same title as the album) which has not been available previously. This is a beautiful album to behold. Featuring new artwork, a heavy duty gatefold sleeve, two records pressed on HQ 180 gram vinyl, this is the way AMT should be heard and seen."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARAISO U.F.O.: Wild Gals A Go-Go 2LP (ECLIP AMT5). $24.00

"Reissue of 1999 cd released on the bands own Acid Mothers Temple label which has been out of print for several years. This double vinyl issue has been pressed on HQ 180 gram vinyl and is housed in a thick, sturdy gatefold sleeve which makes this a beautiful piece to hear and hold. There has been an additional piece added to this reissue that was not included on the original CD release. Acid Mothers Temple fuse krautrock, psychedelia, now sound, folk, pop, noise, soft vocals, soaring melting wails, dissolving tablas, crunchy sitars, twinkling synthesizers, obsessive channel to channel panning, thundering guitars, and drone outs to end all drone outs. The effect is as difficult to imagine as it is to describe. Sometimes the overall effect of the album sounds like a repetitious, brain wrinkling drone out of a Terry Riley record. Sometimes there are moments that pass like a soft, sexy romp with Gainsbourg and Bardot. Sometimes there are moments that sound like Blue Cheer colliding with Ike and Tina Turner, wiping out a small village in Vietnam. Sometimes there are moments that sound like Gong meets Nurse With Wound meets Tangerine Dream takes an interstellar voyage."

ANAKSIMANDROS, THE: River of Finland LP (ECLIP ANA). $13.00

"Finland's Anaksimandros play avant-folk music that is improvised and psychedelic. Some of the members are involved with other groups you may be familiar with such as Kemialliset Ystävät and Avarus. These recordings from 2002 feature strummed and plucked strings, clattery percussion, chanting vocals, reeds, hand percussion, bowed instruments and more that I cannot properly describe. Edition of 500 copies with printed jackets featuring some great black and white artwork from the group. Highly recommended for fans of Finnish folk, Jewelled Antler label, Sunburned Hand of the Man, No Neck Blues Band, Jackie-O Motherfucker, Sunroof!, Vibracathedral Orchestra...You need to hear this."

DOUBLE LEOPARDS: Halve Maen 2LP (ECLIP DL2). $18.00

"After two full length LPs and a handful of CDRs comes Double Leopards magnum opus, a tome to the alveoli, paranormal science, and murderous intrigue on the high seas. A ruseful journey that they are all still recovering from, the Leopards had to boldly ingest substances that while harmful to their original earthly containers, turned the ghosts of Panthalassa from transparent to opaque, allowing them to see with their mortal eyes the horrible shape of the enemy. With guitars, tapes, piano, drums, and a craggy heap of rusted electronics, they went to battle, and like the early grainy photographs of America's Civil War, the document is poignant and will only gain significance as time passes and the medium improves. This double LP is housed in a heavy duty gatefold sleeve and features stunning full color artwork and an insert."

FURSAXA: Mandrake LP (ECLIP FURSLP). $13.00

"Originally released on the Acid Mothers Temple label as a CDR in 2000, limited to 100 copies. This material was recorded between 1997 and 1999 by Tara Burke playing guitars, organs, dulcimer, accordion and vocals and was remixed and produced by Kawabata Makoto. Now Mandrake has seen a proper limited reissue in a beautiful full color sleeve with 2 sided color insert a reproduction of the original artwork that came with the CDR release."

ROSE, JACK: Opium Musick LP (ECLIP JR2). $13.00

"In the year and half between Red Horse, White Mule and Opium Musick Mr. Rose spent the majority of his time honing his Ragtime and Jass skills. He met Dr. Chattanooga Red soon after recording his 1st LP and he revealed the secrets of Ragtime and Jass to Jack in ancient ceremony. Roy Palmer, Blind Blake, Blind Thomas, Sidney Bechet, Sylvester Weaver, Johnny Dodds and Louis Armstrong (all doctors) are a few of the noted musicians who had undergone the secret rites of the Ragtime. It's rumored that these rites take place in the old Irish Alley section in New Orleans. Rose, Kisan Nagai and Dr Red travelled to New Orleans in March of 2002 (while on an extensive tour of Shakey's Pizza houses) to meet with his Red's mentor, Dr Jumpy, about indoctrinating Jack and Kisan (now Dr Cutiepie) into the order. It was there Jack recorded the Dr Ragtime cdr which included unknown Rag pieces 'Gage Blues' and 'Flirtin' with the Undertaker'. You can hear Mr Red shouting in the background on 'Undertaker' and it's the only known recording of Dr Red that we have. He released a 78' in the early 50's for the Jumpy label out of Nashville, but a copy has yet to turn up. On that recording Red recorded his signature rags: 'Lord I've got the Jumpy' and 'You know it's Jumpy Time'. Red came down with the jake in Philadelphia and died shortly after their tour. On his deathbed he told Jack not to let the ragtime die and to bring it into the 21st century. Jack returned to Virginia to bury Red in his family plot at Hollywood cemetery in Richmond, VA. And now we have Opium Musick as a result of Jack's studies and travels, a lovely tribute to Jack's beloved teacher."

MY CAT IS AN ALIEN: The Rest Is Silence 2LP (ECLIP MCIAALP). $18.00

"The Rest Is Silence is till now the most complete and varied work of My Cat Is An Alien. After some totally improvised works, such as Landscapes of an Electric City on Ecstatic Peace and Il Segno on Starlight Furniture Co., with this debut release on Eclipse Records MCIAA start a more complex and oblique studio-modus operandi, in which the instantaneous composition is now a basement open to stratified extraterrestrial fluxus of sounds, often permeated by melancholic vocal inserts. The title of this new double album is taken from the last words spoken by Hamlet before his dying in the homonymous Shakespearean's tragedy. The whole corpus of the work is an ectoplasm of sounds flowing from the earth surface towards the sky; with their electric and acoustic guitars, some pedal effects and a series of weird space-toys, MCIAA light a candle as a bright beacon in the darkness of the Great Void. From the 'Infinite Spaces' incipit, a sad whispered voice delayed through a toy-megaphone, moving on isolated guitar strokes going downhill, defines The Rest Is Silence vocabulary: a new intimate alien folky-blues mood expanded on the avant-space sounds that have marked MCIAA since their beginning. Self-recorded and produced in Torino at their own 'Space Room' headquarters during the cold winter time, The Rest Is Silence speaks the same intimate and desolated language of Tim Buckley's 'Lorca' and reflects the same suffering of some primitive folk-blues masters such as Blind Lemon Jefferson, projected in the deepest outer space. Each track is dedicated to the mystery of the 4 elements (air, earth, fire, water), as surrealist metaphors involving the mystery of life and death. When all is over, things vanish in the quiet brilliance of the Cosmos; MCIAA will stay till 'Silence will come to stay forever'."

MIGRANTES: Moon Journals LP (ECLIP MIG). $14.00

"Migrantes is Caroline Vickers and Jason Bill (ex-Charalambides). Based now in Tucson Arizona, Migrantes recorded Moon Journals in Houston, El Paso, Newport News, Hampton and Tucson. On Moon Journals, Migrantes create psychedelic folk music using voice, acoustic and electric guitars, air organ, kalimba, clarinet, and found sounds. Results are both traditional and experimental. Released in an edition of 336 copies with printed jackets featuring photographs by Jason Bill. Also features Christina Carter of the Charalambides on one track."

MIGRANTES: Monsoon Moods LP (ECLIP MIG2). $13.00

"This is the 2nd LP by Migrantes (Jason Bill (guitar, air organ, Hammond organ, cymbal) & Caroline Vickers (Hammond organ & vocals)) of Tucson, AZ. For some, Monsoon Moods may capture the real desert, the one where home fires burn under looming stone, where love and life flourish in austerity. For me though this LP somehow encompasses sweaty nights in 100 degree summer warehouses, ghostly drives through Norfolk shipyards, the slow crack of datura pods drying in the sun, and all the other things that have grown inside j&c to buoy them up into this warmly inviting space illuminated by their big hearts. A stunning record that camouflages the simplicity of its ingredients with songs of glowing precision and vox-laced Hammond drones of vertical majesty." — Tom Carter

PAIVANSÄDE: Puhalluspelto LP (ECLIP PAI). $13.00

"Following their impressive CDR release on the Dutch label Whistle Along, comes the debut vinyl release from Finland's avant folk group Päivänsäde. Members of this group also perform with Rauhan Orkesteri, Lauhkeat Lampat, and Kiila which some of you may be familiar with. The sound? Well, you hear strings plucked and scraped, hand percussion and drums, woodwinds, vocals (sometime wailing), and other instruments I cannot identify. If you dig the Anaksimandros, Kemialliset Ystävät, Avarus, Pylon, etc., you'll want to hear this. Edition of 500 copies with beautiful full color printed sleeves."

PELT/KEENAN LAWLER/ERIC CLARK: Keyhole II 2LP (ECLIP PELT). $16.00

"On May 13, 2001, at the Louisville (KY) Visual Arts Association's gallery at the Water Tower was host to the Keyhole ensemble. Ensemble members include Eric Clark, a metal worker who made some of the singing bowls and the bronze didgeridus played here, Patrick Best, Mike Gangloff, and Jack Rose, who also play as the trio Pelt, and Keenan Lawler, who is known for electronically modifying the sounds of a cello and National steel guitar. This performance was completely acoustic, however, with the only sonic treatment being the reverb lent by the gallery's high ceiling. 'My memories of this show are of the incredible resonance of the Water Tower gallery, just an amazing alive quality to the air that let each note linger on and on and that filled the quieter moments with breath and inevitability. At one point I remember being lifted, compelled to climb to a balcony over the room and lean out to play a singing bowl. If this drops, I recall thinking as I stirred the heavy brass, we may lose an audience member...but this sound is necessary. Awhile later, a man fell out of his seat and a woman who had been lying on the floor sat up suddenly and cracked her head on a glass table.' Mike Gangloff. This is a beautiful recording pressed in an edition of 514 copies with printed color sleeve."

SUN CITY GIRLS: Bleach Has Feelings Too I To Cover Up Your Right To Live 2LP (ECLIP SCG02). $19.00

"Propagandizing 13 tonal music? We all need something....sexy religion? Where were YOU when the blue was BLUE? You'll never check-out OR leave Fog Hotel...it's like being in the middle and blowing both sides off the map'. You could still smoke on an airplane when these cuts were recorded. Listen to the quiet moments of track D-4 and hear one of the first PZM microphones rattle against the wall as it hung around a nail. What about the limiter on that old boom box as it won't allow the signal to continue recording on track C-6? Good thing they didn't have any money because everything would have sounded like shit! Some people say I should be shot for writing about this music. I met them in Malaysia when I was selling Asmat wood carvings from Irian Jaya. They nicknamed me 'Mikey' which referred to Michael Rockefeller who had his interest in Asmat art cut short by angry tribal leaders. One of them told me years ago that 'we're ALL Sun City Girls'. Was he modest or was he lying? I don't know how many homosexuals ARE in the book of Revelations but I DO KNOW that the bible is always lying. And its fairly well documented that Satanists launder money to cover up your right to live. Just remember: Bleach has feelings, too!" — Harold Wayne. Limited, one-time pressing of 1000 copies housed in a heavy duty gatefold sleeve with amazing photos from the time of these recordings — which was during the time period between October 1982 and November 1985."

SUN CITY GIRLS: Fresh Kill of a Cape Hunting Dog/Def in Italy 2LP (ECLIP SCG03). $19.00

"Reissue series of Cloaven cassettes continue with two 1987 releases (recorded from 1983-85). This is the 3rd of 10 dbl LPs — all housed in heavy duty gatefold sleeves featuring art work / photos from the time of the recordings. Fresh Kill was recorded between 1983-1985 and Def in Italy was recorded in tour in 1984. Features liner notes by BonBan. One time pressing of 1000 copies."

CARTER, TOM: Root King LP (ECLIP TC). $13.00

"Second solo release (first if CDRs don't count) by Charalambides member Tom Carter. White Les Paul copy, lap steel, and a purloined bell collection layered into three long tracks of string moan and slithering hum. A manifesto of grounding during an uprooted time, an attempt to bend in the wind. A slice of a long winter and a momentary flash of cranially pooled guitar sound suddenly scattered by unexpected freedom. A guitar album (mostly). Pressed in an edition of 533 copies with printed sleeves and very nice artwork by Tom Carter."

UNITED SUPREME COUNCIL-OASTEM! VIBE ORCHESTRA: LP (ECLIP USC). $14.00

"Document of a big band made up of the entire lineups of Pelt and Rake (+ additional miscellaneous players) that gigged several times in 1996 and 1997. Whether clearing the room at the Fredericksburg Centre for the Arts or emptying the hall at the Black Cat, the band always kicked it with uncompromising true love and substantial Oastem! vibe. The long improvisations performed varied wildly from show to show, often starting with a bang and slowly expanding into open space where the interesting little details emerged. This LP is an extract from the center of a two hour performance recorded in April 1997 at Tommy's in Richmond. The players are: Mike Gangloff (guitar, shenai, electronics), Jack Rose (lap steel), Patrick Best (guitar, bass resonator, conga), ~SKB (bass and percussion), V2G2 (nylon string guitar, percussion, shenai and voice), Planet C (moog, sax, percussion), Mick (dumbek and djembe), Beth Jones (djembe), and ??? Edition of 330 copies."

WOMB: Womb LP (ECLIP WOM). $15.00

"Improvised free jazz from San Diego featuring Josh Quon (satellite member of Upsilon Acrux and member of Children of Gauhd), Christopher Williams (just released duo CD with Derek Bailey on Incus / Compatible), Ray Raposa (the creative impetus of the Castanets, with an album out on Asthmatic Kitty in the fall), Dan Bryant (member of the Skaters), Ilya Monosov (various solo and collaborative releases — plays guitar and vibes on this LP), as well as Connor Kirkwood and Gabe Sundy. Limited edition of 200 copies."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARADISE U.F.O.: The Day Before the Sky Fell In America LP (GZDECL 003 LP). $13.50

"By now Japan's notorious freak-rockers need no introduction — they've conquered the world with relentless touring, an endless number of releases, and countless side-projects. There's even quite a few live recordings at this point, but I will insist that this is unique. The in-store at Reckless (yes, the day before the cataclysm) was simply magical with perhaps the greatest dynamics I've yet witnessed (and I've seen over a dozen AMT shows) with pin-drop quiet acoustic passages to wall-shaking bombast." — Steve Krakow. This is a one time pressing of 1000 copies.

ECM (GERMANY):

PETTER MOLVAER, NILS: Khmer The Remixes CD (ECM 1560M). $5.00

One original track off the Khmer album (which are no longer able to carry as an import — it has been released domestically by ECM USA) plus three remixes by: The Herbaliser (Ninja Tune), Rockers Hi-Fi & Mental Overdrive (Norway). ECM's first ever remix project! Highlighted by an incredibly deep and lush Herbaliser mix. Reduced price on the last copies of this EP.

GODARD, JEAN-LUC: Nouvelle Vague 2CD (ECM 1600/01). $28.00

"This is the complete soundtrack — music, dialogue, sounds — of Jean-Luc Godard's Nouvelle Vague, premiered at the Cannes Film Festival in 1990. With music by Dino Saluzzi, David Darling, Paul Hindemith, Arnold Schoenberg, Paul Giger, Patti Smith, Meredith Monk, Heinz Holliger, Werner Pirchner, and the voices of Alain Delon, Domiziana Giordano, Roland Amstutz and Laurence Cote." Luxuriously packaged in a slipcase with a tri-lingual 96 page book of notes, booklet of stills from the movie, etc. Your listening mileage may vary, but certainly this has a place on certain shelves.

MANERI, JOE: In Full Cry CD (ECM 1617). $16.00

Much acclaimed 1997 album (Joe's 2nd for ECM) featuring Joe Maneri (clarinet, alto & tenor saxophones, piano), Mat Maneri (six-string electric violin), John Lockwood (bass) and Randy Peterson (drums, perc.). "Confirms his legendary status after years of relative obscurity. He's always been the radical outsider. His queasy slitherings and slidings on tenor, alto and clarinet evoke memories of Lester Young and Artie Shaw as if refracted through a prism of atonality. Nothing stays 'on pitch' for long. The effect here is again 'jazz meets Webern'. This is not immediately approachable music, but its mostly gentle, tender gestures gradually draw the listener into a unique soundworld." — Andy Hamilton/The Wire

WACHSMANN/PAUL LYTTON, PHILIPP: Some Other Season CD (ECM 1662). $16.00

Wachsmann (violin, viola, live electronics) & Lytton (percussion, live electronics), studio records from Oct. 1997. "Important players in the history and development of European free music, Philipp Wachsmann and Paul Lytton have adhered faithfully to the ideal of group improvisation over the last three decades. Their exceptional work on another ECM album, Toward the Margins by Evan Parker's Electro-Acoustic Ensemble, underlined the fact that an appropriate showcase for their unorthodox musicality and instrumental resourcefulness was long overdue. Although Wachsmann and Lytton have played together in very many contexts since the early 1970s, Some Other Season is their first duo recording. The kind of music the duo plays is not easily described. There is a trilogy of improvisations that seems — in its deployment of stop-go, lurching rhythmic displacements — to hint at a distant kinship with Thelonious Monk's music. Wachsmann takes a solo on 'The Peacock's Tale' that races through the history of Western string music from the baroque to free jazz via hasidic folk song, swing and Charles Ives. Elsewhere, the violinist triggers percussive sampled sounds that blend imperceptibly with Lytton's strange accenting. 'From The Chalk Cliffs' includes environmental sounds taped on Surrey's South Downs as a background wash for one of Wachsmann's most moving solos. The tone of the music can move swiftly from the overtly lyrical and melodic to abrasive textural improvisations. Even the ways in which the protagonists interact varies radically from track to track. Wachsmann and lytton move on parallel lines, counterpointing sounds and timbres, engage in 'conversational' exchanges and, via electronic resources, pitch sounds into ever-changing spatial dimensions."

ECSTATIC PEACE:

MOORE, GENE: Twisted Wires CD (E 091). $14.00

"Gene Moore is Thurston Moore's older brother. He lives in the suburban wilds of western Connecticut and for the past couple of decades has been wood-shedding his basement, working in a void parallel to developments of noise-guitar classicism. Twisted Wires is the culmination of hours of sifted through tapes, resulting in six tracks of howling machine saw-like sounds, banged strings, squeaks, beautiful finger picking, chord progressions, and background echoes. Pleasant, creepy, and delightful."

MIRROR/DASH: Electric Pen/Gum 7" (E#12). $4.00

Mirror & Dash are the special little code names for Mr. Thurston Moore and Ms. Kim Gordon. "...possesses the best narcotically euphoric/trancing vocal-n-guitar harmonies heard on a 7" record ? in this house ? this year." ?Tom Lax.

CELL: Never Too High/Stratosphere 7" (E#14). $3.50 Debut 7".

DOS: The Bob Lawton EP 7" (E#16). $4.00

Mike & Kira Watt in their stunning style of double-bass inner elegance: a cover of "Imagine That" (P. Cline) with Kira on vocals, and an instrumental entitled "intense song for madonna". Very handsome cover drawing by Raymond Pettibon.

DOUBLE DYNAMITE: "Hero Takes A Fall" 7" (E#18). $4.00

Split release with Smells Like Records.

DIETRICH, DON: "Chinese Root Letter"/"Tabulae Sex" 7" (E#25). $4.00

Two sides of sense-heightening solo sax momentum by one-third of Borbetomagus. Sleeve features Don's legendary "tar" paintings, printed with more clarity than ever before.

MOORE/DAVE MARKEY, THURSTON: Rap Damage VHS (E#30). $13.00

This is a compendium of home-made films, mostly made in LA, by Thurston and Markey (Desperate Teenage Lovedolls, Lovedolls Superstar). There is a total of 4 films: In Search of James Woods ? a wacky, potentially unwatchable road picture, featuring the presence of both Lou Reed & Kim Gordon; Rap Damage ? the main feature length item here, with the handsome Maurice Menares as the psychotic sidekick/bunny to Thurston's evil Record Label President aura. This is an extremely wasted foray that goes about as far into Thurston's inner bulb of absurdity as you could hope to wander; Grunge Pedal ? basically a Free Kitten promotional video, but so much more, redefining the scientific significance of Wasted Youth in all new social-pathological terms; Skeeno H.C. Rules ? found footage of SY playing a Reno, Nevada hockey rink, broadcast to the soundtrack of a special audio recording of 7 Second's Skin, Brains, & Guts EP, by a band made up of Watt, Thurston, Dez, & Markey. Another one that perhaps only Susan Sontag could completely understand, but pretty goddamn weird nonetheless.

YOSHIMI: Speaker/Tuna Power 7" (E#31). $4.00

Yoshimi, as you should know, is the drummer/trumpet player supreme of Japan's most amazing outfits, the Boredoms and UFO Or Die. Yoshimi plays guitar, drums, trumpet and sings like she invented the goddamn planet. She also drew the full color sleeve. Kim Gordon and Julie Cafritz appear as guests.

NOISEADDICT: Def 10" (E#34). $7.50

Noiseaddict (featuring Ben Lee) were once a very very young trio, and this 10" issues their first demos, originally found as a private cassette release. The sound is lo-fi guitar/bb/drums sputter that almost recalls the long lost glories of the late 70s UK DIY skeletal punk genre (y'know TVP's, Scrotum Poles, Walking Floors, Desperate Bicycles, etc.).

BUDD: 2x10" (E#35/36). $11.00

Budd are a Sydney band and this double 10" release resurrects early demos (from '91/92). A quartet, they play rough, lo-balled power-grunge in real primal 'n fucked manner, hard to believe for such an abused form, but true. "Better" than their later releases.

SONIC YOUTH W/ YAMATSUKA EYE: TV Shit CD (E#38 CD). $8.00

Repressed. A "symphony mix" version of Youth Brigade's (classic Dischord band, circa 1981) legendary "No Song II"; 4 different takes, recorded live in late '92 on the Dirty tour, with the Boredoms' Eye Yamatsuka on featured lead scream. It is rumored that J. Mascis and Mark Arm can be heard (on the "second movement" only) as well. The late-night Ecstatic Peace-style mix and screwed-up 'n dense sonics, make this one of the most extreme and weirdest SY documents to date.

BINDI/MIDGET STOOGES: 7" (E#43/44). $4.00

Split single of two young all-female bands from Australia, originating from Collingwood's unique Rock n Roll Highschool (a non-profit center to teach young women about music, based outside of Melbourne).

GUVERN: Hard For Measy LP (E#45). $8.00

LP version.

GUVERN: Hard For Measy CD (E#45 CD). $13.00

Full length debut by this New York group (later albums issued via Merge); a male/female duo featuring Charles Gansa and Pumpkin Wentzel, Guv'n'r have a unique guitar/drums/switch-off-vocals sound that mixes naively-tuned Trux/Free Kitten tonalities with candy-bliss power-indie-splurges that are heavily intoxicating and bound for universal domination. This has been produced with much professional skill by Julie Cafritz.

YOSHIMI: Two 7" (E#46). $4.00

2nd solo single by this immortal improvising angel. Two sides, no song titles, and an amazing one-person sound spectacle of vocals, trumpet, percussion, detuned stringed instrument, etc.

DOYLE, ARTHUR: The Songwriter CD (E#48). $13.00

Solo recordings by Arthur Doyle from November 1994, on tenor sax, flute and voice. "Arthur Doyle has the roughest, bawlin'est sound of any artist currently working in the milieu of so-called 'jazz.' His work has all the air-rendering/leather-lunged urgency of Albert Ayler's albums for ESP or Joe McPhee's CJR recordings. His horn forces his way into your head with an evasive power that's both beautiful and brutal. And his time is NOW." — Byron Coley.

POLAR GOLDIE CATS: CD (E#49). $13.00

Los Angeles instrumental group, with their debut album (following a couple of 7" appearances). Produced by Nels Cline and Tom Grimley. The band have been referred to as a "Shaggian Magic Band," and there is a stellar 'n crudely rendered Beefheartian flavor to the way they construct new sound waves out of mere guitars, bass and drums. And although they've been influenced by some grade school listening to the likes of DNA, the Contortions and other no-wave seminal classics, they've updated that lineage with a hypnotic power rock splurge, added other outsider interests (gamelan, Scottish piping music, cosmic wavelength theory) and created a weird 'n wonderful detuned accessibility.

SMITH/JOHN STEVENS, GARY: CD (E#52). $13.00

A series of seven improvisations for electric guitar and drums, recorded live to DAT in a London studio in 1993. This presents the young UK free guitarist Smith alongside the late, legendary Spontaneous Music Ensemble drummer Stevens (also found briefly on mini-trumpet, in what unfortunately will have to be remembered as one of his final studio dates). Gary Smith has released one amazing solo CD previously (Rhythm Guitar on the Impetus label), and here develops a full palette of what has been referred to as "electroacoustic free/scratch guitar," a decidedly post-Bailey language of volume-pedal-manipulated in/out chatter that mixes dense rhythmic build ups with long, stretched note explorations (that occasionally almost drowse themselves to a non-blues-centered Mazzacane-esque haze). The whole thing coalesces with beautiful fragility, adding a new sub chapter to the contemporary world of non-metered improv.

THELA: CD (E#53). $13.00

Debut of guitar-based New Zealand trio of internal-hum and hypnotic clang. Thela is a young trio of Dean Roberts (guitar), Dion Workman (guitar, bass) & Paul Douglas (drums, piano); this is their first full length release following some unobtainable local releases. Thela's sound falls somewhere in between the alien tongue first spoken by the likes of intense art-rockers This Heat and the organically thrilling sound waves of prime-era Dead C. Guitarist Dean Roberts also records under the name The White Winged Moth (see Poon Village PV04). New Zealand's new transcendental sound.

DARA: LP (E#70D). $13.00

"Detroit/NYC guitarist, singer, songwriter, photographer, filmmaker, artist Dara was a member of His Name Is Alive for a few years. She was part of upstate NY based multi media 'performance art' group Brown Cuts Neighbors doing films, playing drums, guitar, bass, vocals, keyboards, and guerilla street performance. She collaborated through the mail w/ Warren Defever on a project called Nu Grape. They have a CD available though Time Stereo. She had a group w/ Ron Asheton called Creature79. She worked w/ artist Steve Cerio on a project called Lettuce Little featuring members of the Residents. She now performs with husband Nick in a duo they call Laudanum. Her influences/interests range from Japanese 'noise' bands/performers such as Masonna and Melt Banana, jazz of Albert Ayler, Cecil Taylor, Sun Ra, Coltrane. The Stooges, Neil Young, 80's hardcore bands, New wave, Harry Partch, art-work of Jackson Pollack. Hammer horror flicks. Film Noir. Spooky stuff. William Blake, William S Burroughs, Bukowski, Nietzsche, Kathy Acker, Nick Cave, Lydia Lunch, Slayer. The Ecstatic Peace record: All of it is Dara playing vintage Farfisa keyboards, Casio keyboards, guitar, radio. Recorded in Dara's kitchen in 1997 on 4 trk. All artwork/photography by Dara. Album was heavily influenced by love of 80's synth pop and heartbreak. Like OMD, Depeche Mode and John Hughes films which she loved as an 80's teenager."

HESSION/WILKINSON/FELL: St. John's CD (E#77 CD). $13.00

"Paul Hession (drums), Simon Fell (bass) and Alan Wilkinson (reeds) have been playing and recording some of Britain's most challenging and intriguing improvised new music for the last 20 years on. A continuing run of releases on their own Bruce's Fingers label has been one of the great basement joys for free music cognoscenti. This CD is not so much the raw and angular thought-drive that these men seem to be regarded for (though those merits are certainly contained here) but a sublime and complex traveller's digest into sophisticated and radical form and flow. This is beautiful music for lovers and fighters both." — t.moore

VELVET MONKEYS: 2X7" (E#8). $8.00

Demos from the early '80s presented in crude form.

TEST: CD (E#84). $13.00

"The first real session new york city's finest free flowing jazz 4tet TEST recorded 9/29/96 at Sonic Youth's studio. Indeed it was the 1st session ever recorded in SY's studio. Straight to DAT. This was TEST entwined in high spirit music. As the tape was played back Test drummer Tom Bruno sprang up, shouted 'YES GOD!' and frugged holl ass across the floor. The group (Tom Bruno: drums, Matt Heyner: bass, Sabir Mateen: reeds, Daniel Carter: reeds) shook many sacred, yet earth-heavy, foundations that night. The opening track is an evocative free-chamber-improv piece spun w/ far fathomed collective organix. The next two pieces are dynamic smoke outs of true city-blown fire music. This session has been whispered about amongst cosmic cognoscenti for far too long and now's the time to sup upon its succulent soul — indulge yrselves to the this feast of shared and magic'd wonder." — t. moore - nyc - 1999.

STOCKHAUSEN, KARLHEINZ: Kontakte LP (E#87 LP). $13.00

LP version.

THELA: Argentina CD (E#88). $13.00

2nd full length CD on Ecstatic Peace by this young New Zealand trio of Dean Roberts, Dion Workman & Paul Douglas. Following the completion of their first US tour in the Winter of 1996, they co-produced this new album with Tom Sargal (NY percussionist from Blue Humans, Thurston Moore/Sargal Duo, etc.), in a 16-track NYC studio in March. A 64 minute opus broken down into 6 untitled sections, it shows them at an all new peak of instrumental prowess. The impact of touring together (far surpassing the expectations of everyone who saw them) seems to have coalesced their ability to sculpt perfectly detailed sonic texture via just 2 guitars and drums into a frightening level of impact. Beautifully hovering guitar tones, rippling overtones and organic-feedback are measurably stretched out into infinite waves of ecstatic sound. This bridges the whole unspoken new-minimalist/ambient/non-rock/drone-tone axis like nothing before it, a serious, thoroughly stunning work.

RST: R136a CD (E#89). $13.00

RST is the solo project of New Zealand guitarist Andrew Moon (previous documentation via the Corpus Hermeticum Le Jazz Non compilation & his own ultra limited lathe cut releases on his own Imperial Recordings label.). "Whereas all his previous musical activity had been on drums, Moon determined that RST should be an avenue for his experiments with guitar. Though he had little prior experience with this instrument, from the very beginnings of RST, he showed a 'brut' aptitude and ear for sound that alone makes RST worthy of investigation. The first fruits of his recordings were the Event Horizon LP, released on Geraldine vinyl on his own Imperial Recordings imprint in February 1995. An early and almost completely unrecognized classic of the new New Zealand scene, Event Horizon was a crucial document and one of the most important NZ recordings of that year. A stunning combination of heavy noise-drone overlay and jagged, harsh string manipulation, in the literal sense (with the guitar's strings literally poked and hit with a range of objects), it instantly announced a totally new voice, in a year in which a number of bands and individuals in this country began to stake their claims for acknowledgement. It was followed a few months later by the The Acceleration Stations 10", on which RST's sonic repertoire was expanded further to encompass a strange brand of quiet banging and whacking of the chosen guitar. He continued to record at home throughout the rest of 1995 and all of 1996, and it's from these recordings (along with a selection of tracks from the RST LP and 10") that the material for R136a is drawn. These recordings highlight another side to RST. Always searching for new avenues of musical expression through the limited means available to him, Moon experimented with actually playing the guitar - plucking and twisting the strings, to produce a mutated and peculiar form of chord-based music - and further manipulating the amplification, resulting in a low-frequency, distantly audible hum. The results are highly intriguing, and while only tenuously linked to previous RST output, still manage to complement it and throw it into a new and unseen light." — Nick Cain.

WILLIAMS, DAVEY: "Charmed, I'm Sure" CD (E#92). $13.00

Davey Williams is from Birmingham, AL and is one of America's improvisational treasures. A multi-dimensional guitarist of wild invention, he has been recording for much of the last 2 decades, often in tandem with violinist LaDonna Smith for their own Trans Museq label. Trans Museq released about a dozen LPs and 2 CDs, dating back to the late 70s, a label as historically vital as Incus, Ictus, Parachute or FMP in detailing the developments in universal improv, largely back in the days when putting out a record was a major accomplishment. This CD for Ecstatic Peace is Davey's first completely solo work in over a decade, a blatantly aggressive and exploratory release, with a heavy emphasis on overdubbed guitar solos, creating a fascinating density of electric sound — rich in bass resonance and screaming fuzz tonalities that haven't always been associated with Williams playing.

LOVELY MIDGET: 10" (E#95). $9.00

Debut 5-song EP by New Zealand's Rachel Shearer. Utilizing post-Xpressway murk-burrowing techniques, this features a dense sound of vocals, guitar, organ, synthesizer & drums. "Lovely Midget is the project of Rachel Shearer. Recording & performing history begins in Port Chalmers/Otago, New Zealand, where in a huge old house the group Angelhead (w/ Michael Morley, Stella Corkery & Deborah Hindin) live and played. Angelhead released a cassette on Xpressway. Moving north to Auckland meant participation with girl rock band Queen Meanie Puss (w/ Stella Corkery, Deborah Hindin & Dienneke Jansen), releasing singles w/ Flying Nun & Siltbreeze. Relocation in 1992 to Cologne, Germany where at the club 'Underground', trained as a live sound technician & performed solo as Fischmunt — using tape loops, sampler & guitar. Fischmunt appeared on a compilation of local acts on Cologne label Finlayson Trontrager. South seas return in Dec. 95 was the beginning of Lovely Midget."

WHITE OUT: Red Shift CD (E#96). $13.00

Debut CD by the NYC trio of Lin Culbertson, David Nuss and Tom Sargal. Nuss is a percussionist with the No Neck Blues band (and other Sound@One associations) and Sargal is well known for his performances with the Blue Humans and as a partner in the Thurston Moore duo project (as documented on releases on the Corpus Hermeticum, Victo and Intakt labels). White Out's instrumentation includes analog synthesizer, detuned autoharp, flute, trap drums, treated voice and miscellaneous percussion. Their music has improvisational elements but is also deeply rooted in cosmic floatation. It's can be noisy at times, but is purely informed of organic potentialities and never abrasive. There are more ethereal passages which bring to mind gentle freak-out records from the 70s and show evidence of serious driftage. Lin Culbertson's keyboard sound is the defining voice in the group, along with her very occasional space whisper — echoing space-rock organ-like permutations, electronic-netherworld bleepage and other forms of weirdness. Nuss and Sargal integrate a fascinating wall of percussive collage all around — and the end result is a perfect mesh of psychedelic cloud waves and electronic crystallization. Sits quite nicely outside the fence surrounding the genres of freeform, electronica, improv and AMMusic in a world of it's own.

AESTHETICS, THE: My Right To Riches LP (E 04B). $15.00

"Crude's Matt Middleton has erupted from the shackles of noise to stomp the grounds of sonic punkdom. Following his forefathers in bands like the Pin Group, Hentchmen, and La De Da's, Monsieur Middleton has carved a new sound."

JANISARY MUSIC: Janisary Music LP (E 15 C). $13.00

"Janisary Music is a duo of D. Methlie (ex ? Golden Calves Money Band) and Sean Maffucci (AM Radio guitarist). After the fallout of the criminally under-documented genius psyche of Golden Calves Money Band young man Methlie played around the NYC experimental scene as rats live on. Maffucci, a wandering noise rock nomad has been honing his skills of destruction w/ the NYC J. Arplane/Dead C hybrid unit AM Radio. These two gentlemen joined forces to create a score for the experimental film No Exit by Keith Ehrlich. Prior to recording they performed the music at a handful of screenings as well as at some of NYC's more outsider music venues. The sound is purely democratic; cellos mesh with found percussion, powerbook manipulations feed into four track tape-machines (only to be spliced beyond recognition), and emanating from prepared guitar are what seem to be droning violins set afloat on a sea of metal scrap. The accomplishment of these recordings extends well beyond their esoteric method of creation; while the creative process is completely abstract, the music itself exists almost as a facsimile of pop/noise. passages slowly build hooks out of sleeptime drones and then vanish — transmuting to wholly new, yet sentient and logical, sound-ideas. The LP is a strict edition of 500."

MOORE, GEORGE: Plastic Flowers LP (E 91B). $13.00

"George Moore lives in Connecticut. He is the 20 year old son of Ecstatic Peace recording artist Gene Moore. Regardless of these obvious bloodline connections George Moore's musical world should, would and could easily creep into the living underground on its own mystic merits. He recorded these instrumental pieces at some point in early 2001 and issued them privately in an edition smaller than Albin's dick. The music therein is an amalgamation of spurious signals wholly independent though readings and mis-readings of John Fahey, Whitehouse and Jackie-O Motherfucker are in probable detection. The basement aura of this session will appeal to anyone even slightly aroused by the aforementioned troika. Ecstatic Peace will continue to release artifacts from the Moore boys and their Connecticut 'Nutmeg State of Mind' environmental joob."

COACHMEN, THE: Ten Compositions In Free Rock LP (E 99). $15.00

"Guitarist JD King, the sole remaining original member of the Coachmen (1978-80), is joined by Valerie Boyd (Farfisa organ), Dave Wain (bass guitar) and Simon Quick (drums) for a deft and transcendental blending of Cageian principles, free jazz and psychedelia. it's music that's truly liberating, a sunny avenue of escape from the muck and mire of the illness commonly referred to as 'the music industry'. The LP comes wrapped in neo-Japanese sleeves w/a book of poetry by the beat/avant legend Arthur Childs."

BROWN, CHRIS: Branches LP (E#87B LP). $13.00

"Chris Brown's Branches is a record of two pioneering works for live electroacoustic instruments and improvisors. The title piece from 2001 features piano, percussion, and DJ interlocking with interactive, computer generated grooves that weave patterns melding sampled African marimba music with hip-hop scratch-adelia. The B side piece is 'Alternating Currents', written in 1983 as a triple concerto for Brown's electroacoustic percussion instruments, trombone, and acoustic percussion. Both compositions are hybrid mutations grafting together the influences of classical, avant-garde, free-improvisation, and polyrhythmic beat/noise musics. Chris Brown is a SF Bay Area based composer, electronic-musician, and pianist who creates music for acoustic instruments with interactive electronics, for computer networks, and for improvising ensembles. He is joined on this record by long-time collaborator and world-reknowned percussionist William Winant, as well as the legendary west-coast DJ Eddie Def (of the Bullet Proof Space Travelers), and the innovative trombonist Toyoji Tomita."

GANG WIZARD: Jeckyll Loves Hyde LP (E 83F). $13.00

"Give a walrus a stack of Dead C, Pere Ubu, and Fushitsusha CD's, an amplifier that feeds back the moment it is turned on, and convince it to mate with a leaky beanbag, and you are not far from the Gang Wizard experience."

AHWESH & BARBARA ESS, PEGGY: Radio Guitar CD (E 86 D). $13.00

"Radio Guitar" is nine tracks of fantastic music and noise utilizing radio sound and electric guitar as realized by artists Peggy Ahwesh and Barbara Ess respectively. Filmmaker Peggy Ahwesh came of age in the 1970's with feminist politics and the experimental film underground. She started working with Super-8 film in her teens and went on to make feature films, including Splice This (1999) and Girls Beware (1997). Her work has recently been shown at Rotterdam, Osnabrook, and The New York Film Festival. She is a recipient of the Guggenheim Foundation Fellowship, the NYSCA Film Production Grant, Jerome Foundation Grant and a grant from Art Matters, Inc. She is presently teaching at Bard College. Barbara Ess has been performing music in NYC since the 1970s w/ such famed no-wave groups as The Static and Daily Life as well as The Glenn Branca Ensemble and Y Pants, a trio of women playing music on toy instruments. Most recently she has been a member of Ultra Vulva. She has also worked as a publisher of Just Another Asshole — a series of anthologies of artists works in various formats. She concurrently works as a visual artist making and showing large scale photographs. A book of her photo work, I Am Not This Body, has been published by Aperture in Fall, 2001."

POLLY SHANG KUAN BAND/SMACK MUSIC 7: 7" (E#83D). $5.00

"This is basically Karen Lollypop/Karen Constance (wife, sister-in-law and fellow Jock to Decaer Pinga). Smack Music 7 is her doing solo tape music, a style she refers to as Glamtronics — it is amazing, elegant and stately. The Polly Shang Kuan Band is her ever changing group, consisting of herself and whoever else is drunk enough to partake (in this case Cecile Gilbert) a very sensuous text/test experience. Edition of 300."

ECSTATIC PEACE/SMELLS LIKE RECORDS:*STINSON, G.E.: Vapor CD (E 17 B). $15.50

"G.E. Stinson's Vapor is a compilation of several groups that were assembled to perform at New Music Monday, the improvised music series originated by Nels Cline and currently curated by Stinson in Los Angeles. Performers include Nels Cline, Steuart Liebig, Gregg Bendian, Kaoru, and DJ Chowderhead, among many others."

NOYES, CHARLES K.: Full Stop CD (E 20). $14.00

"Known to many as a percussionist who has associated with Henry Kaiser, Bill Laswell, Fred Frith, Bob Ostertag, Elliot Sharp, Bobby Previte and numerous other icons from the downtown scene, NYC-based composer and multi-instrumentalist Charles K. Noyes has handed in a stunning release of breathtaking new sounds (in a gorgeous full-color package) culled from the past decade's work. In the artist's own words Full Stop 'reflects some of the areas I have been both actively and indirectly exploring for the past 10 years. I conceived each piece with both a particular acoustical concept as well as an emotional center associated with it: all are concerned with my ongoing struggle against time. As such they may be best approached as stills from a film as opposed to strict compositions.'"

HOLZWORTH & JUTTA KOETHER, JESS: The Outer Sound Project CD (E 86B). $14.00

"40 minutes of found, encountered, and created music by NYC-based artists Jess Holzworth & Jutta Koether, drifting with handheld tape recorders through the streets of The Big Apple from May to November 1999. The sounds they collected were later processed and edited, becoming sensual, variable tools towards a personal and thoughtful art/action and transcending themselves into the miasma of the beauty of daily life."

DE WYS, MARGARET: I Oh CD (E 86C). $14.00

"Margaret De Wys is a composer living and teaching in the Hudson Valley region of New York. She has collaborated with artists Joan Jonas, Charlie Ahearn, Glenn Branca, Maryanne Amacher, Rudolf Grey, and Kiki Smith. With Branca she was a founding member of the legendary NYC no-wave group Theoretical Girls." "This composition developed as a music-centered response to my personal work with 'liminal states of consciousness' that arose in a non-art context generally characterized as healing. Based on casual recordings of my own voice that I made during actual sessions, my soundtrack focuses on sequences of highly stimulated vocalization ('excited', 'ecstatic', etc.), particularly those that seem to embody a unique and intense experience of knowing, something like a direct encounter with vitality. The effects: sound, vision and emotion in the rawest possible state. Truth shot through me like a whistle." — Margaret De Wys

WHITE OUT: Drunken Little Mass CD (E 96 B). $14.00

"White Out is a sound terrorist collective of two, arising from the freedom-charged excitement of the NYC improv community. Drunken Little Mass marks the summit meeting between the combustible duo of multi-instrumentalist Lin Culbertson (analog synthesizers, autoharp, flute, and treated voice) and Tom Sural (drums, gongs and infinite percussion), and free agent/renaissance maestro Jim O'Rourke (Powerbook and guitar). The contents of this album are totally improvised, recorded in one take, with no overdubs or studio effects. The end result is impressive, the range of sound expansive, the interplay precise. Every note put forth was the combined effort of three performers working as one."

ECSTATIC YOD:*CONNORS, LOREN MAZZACANE: The Daggett Years CD (E 101 B). $14.00

"Seventeen tracks of unaccompanied acoustic guitar improvisations, personally selected by Loren Mazzacane Connors from the out-of-print Unaccompanied Acoustic Guitar Improvisations Vol. 1-9: 1979-1980 boxset. Prior to that 1999 reissue, all tracks had been originally released on Daggett Records in the late '70s and early '80s in miniscule editions. 'This music was not without some audience. When I first started doing live sets of this stuff in 1976, the early punks liked it. Blues fans and avant improv people? Not really. Avant jazz? No. The punk bands were the only people who could relate to it. I was a bit old (27) for that scene, and I didn't look like them, but we had a similar energy — including tell-tale bad cough — and the various band people that came into contact with me at the time encouraged me to keep going with it. But all along, I knew that we were both ultimately in for a hard road. I think that both of us were, whether we knew it or not, swinging a wrecking ball into music." — liner notes by Loren Mazzacane Connors.

CLINE TRIO, NELS: Hold It Under A Faucet 7" (E#55). $4.00

Nels Cline (guitars), Bob Mair (bass, guitar), and Michael Preussner (drums). Four track 7", recorded 7/95 in LA.

CLARINETTE: Haze LP (E#60). $12.00

"Regardez-vous the debut recording by Clarinette, a solo project that has flowed from the brain of well-known, California-based archivist, Daniel 'Dan' Vallor. Utilizing such instruments as guitar, swinehorn and kuck, Mr. Vallor has created a world of scrambled-diz miniatures of disarming variety. Played w/ tiny robot fingers, lacerated by stumps of home-studio fuckery, the five pieces here are as potentially frenched a selection of man-handled string readymades as any record collector has ever waxed. Listening to the genteel hum and dribble of Haze it becomes apparent that Mr. Vallor has done more than catalogue the musics of NZ — he has vibrated & matured in a manner sympathetic to their most exploratory resonances. Indeed, the weirdly shaped instrumentals that comprise the LP might easily be mistaken for the latest sounds from one of the bands on Celebrate Psi Phenomenon, Root Don Lonie for Cash, or one of the other labels that he has so brilliantly documented."

GOODMAN/HENRY KAISER/LUKAS LIGETI, GREG: Heavy Meta CD (E#76 CD). $13.00

"Originally planned as a 1998 release for the ill-starred K'EY Records. Heavy Meta represents something like the return of one of America's prodigal sons. Not that pianist Greg Goodman has been away or anything. It's just that, after a brilliant series of recordings for his own Beak Doctor label, Mr. Goodman's unique style has been all but absent from the recording world. Until very recently, when Beak Doctor resurfaced, he had appeared only fleetingly with guitarist Henry Kaiser and in an unauthorized recording released by the Incus label, otherwise he had been silent as far as the outside world could tell. The trio assembled for Heavy Meta is formidable. Besides Mr. Goodman, it includes America's protean guitar improviser, Henry Kaiser, and the powerful cross-cultural drumming of Lukas Ligeti. The programming of the material on this disk follows a pattern of inter-relationships as structurally complex and taut as those posited in Harry Mathews' novel, Cigarettes. The three shift between different paired settings and in and out of trio formation so nimbly that the entire process seems redolent of anti-Americanism. There is little evidence here of the individual braying that is thought of as our domestic style. Indeed there are passages of 'Riddled' where Mr. Goodman's interior piano plucking merges so completely with Mr. Kaiser's guitar jumble that it's difficult for my mind to force them apart. Playing such as that, or the free-ranging game of emotional post office that concludes 'War & Piece' has an ego-less quality that is far too rare in U.S. improvising circles. Tell that bastard Ashcroft the news. Listened to as a whole, Heavy Meta demonstrates both the excellence of Mr. Goodman's playing and the width of intelligence displayed by this unheralded trio. The opening track, 'Logical Types' is a bravura performance from all hands. From the strumbly, Magic Band-like opening cadences by Mr. Ligeti and Mr. Kaiser, through the sequences of equally whacked piano (imagine Beefheart on the piano rather than the alto), the piece spurts and blurts with everything from a broken lyricism that recalls Paul Bley to squabbling crescendos that have a density approaching Nancarrow's machine cycles. This is a ferocious and lyrical bastard of an album. It hews to no strict traditions, but roils across the landscape of modern formalism like an Ernie Bushmiller hoopsnake obeying naught but a mysterious interior gyroscope. It is a splendid and dizzy thing. And it is yours." — Byron Coley, Deerfield, MA

CHADBOURNE & HAN BENNINK, EUGENE: Miss Ann 7" (FYP 08). $4.00

"Recorded when rock was young, this 7" is the first in Ecstatic Yod Records' new Just Another Ass Run series. It captures two spongily lo-fi moments of transcendence in the career of America's great finger-thinker, Eugene Chadbourne. The first side is a live solo take of Eric Dolphy's 'Miss Ann', intersuited w/ a calamitous rethinking of Leonard Tristano's 'Wow'. The flip side pairs Mr. Chadbourne w/ that elegant European form-destroyer, Han Bennink. Also live, they crunch through one original, 'Woooo' then revisit Dolphy's 'Miss Ann' — which Bennink, of course, recorded w/ Eric on the Euro-formative Last Date LP. The results are quite wonderful, as is the heartwarming essay by Eugene and also the cover art by Bennink and the multi-faceted Jenny Chadbourne. Because of the profligacy of his recordings, people sometimes have a tendency to underestimate the sheer improvisational genius of Eugene's guitarwork. They should not."

PIETERS/BRUCE & MAX RUSSELL/PETER STAPLETON, KIM: Cold Sweat/Max Sings 7" (FYP 14). $4.50

"The trio of Pieters, Russell, Stapleton is well known to listeners who recognize & understand a good thing when they hear it. Their two CDs, Last Glass (Corpus Hermeticum 007), and Sex/Machine (Metonymic 005), are powerful extensions of free music improvisation, taking the shake of the unknown well past the barriers of all suspected tongues. The a-side of this 33rpm 7" is a palate-forcing distender of their previous work, making blocks of concrete shimmer w/ a force that seems almost entirely natural. The b-side, on which the three are joined by Bruce's son, Max, is another kettle of gawp. Not since the early days of papa Russell's Dead C, has NZ structure been so gorgeously deformed. In a sense, this track resembles nothing so much as the first punch thrown in the battle to give No Wave shenanigans a place at the Kiwi table. Yow."

FLAHERTY/CORSANO, CHRIS, PAUL: The Hated Music CD (FYP 16 CD). $12.00

"Paul Flaherty and his saxophones are a subterranean legend in the kingdoms of the north. Since the "In the Midst of Chaos" LP was recorded, back in the mid '70s, Paul has been a persistent roar in the distance ?- pervading the aura of the region's improvisational underground, whilst eschewing its spotlights. His playing and spontaneous compositions have always been a trip and a half, but he seems to have risen to a whole new level on The Hated Music, combining purity of spirit w/ ferocity of lyricism in a whole new way. Chris Corsano is one of the most immensely talented drummers to have emerged from the recent past. Those who have witnessed the gigantism of his formal leaps in the jaws of post-avant-garde power surging, have been left slack w/ the wonder & hilarity of it all. On The Hated Music he offers all listeners evidence of the potency and imagination of his air-fucking vision. The Hated Music, packed as it is, in the lovely artwork of freedom-loving artist, Gary Panter, throws down the gauntlet to all other players, all other thinkers, all other worlds. If you are listening w/ all yr holes open, it may well gobble yr soul. Alright!" — Byron Coley

DREDD FOOLE AND THE DIN: The Whys of Fire CD (FYP 20). $12.00

"Thurston Moore and Pelt in Dredd Foole's Din this time around (past Din members include Mission of Burma & the Volcano Suns). Mastered by Jim O'Rourke. Quite handsome Acutal-tribute cover art. The Whys of Fire: The idea evolved a couple years ago. Dredd was play a lot again, after his move to Vermont, and it seemed like the time to get some of his new instant compositional gambits onto tape. It so happened that Pelt were going to be coming to town pretty soon. That seemed like a good connection. Chris and Thurston both played with Dredd already in various action units, so that made sense. Hell, it all 'made sense'. In the way that things can on hot, buggy nights in a swamp, when there's plenty of cold beer and enough electricity to go around."

PLUTO: The Field Recordings LP (FYP 32). $12.00

Pluto is the sporadically recording Berkeley-based improv outfit, here featuring MX-80's Bruce Anderson (guitar) and Marc Weinstein (drums), plus Ken Keanry (bass) and Russ Schoenwetter (drums, voice). These 1996 recordings act as a followup to their debut CD on Rastascan, Shoe Horse Emerging. The LP is housed in an elaborate full color gatefold sleeve that is designed in the style of the old French ethnic music label, Occora. A very touching "sausage" theme is illustrated on this sleeve, to rather unbelievable effect. Though I have not personally eaten sausage in a number of years, strange thoughts ran my head with rather vigorous velocity as I held this sleeve in my hands....

DOYLE ELECTRO-ACOUSTIC ENSEMBLE, ARTHUR: Plays The African Love Call LP (FYP 36). $15.00

"Arthur Doyle is one of the great originals of American post-tongue freedom. His work on the saxophone, flute, voice-o-phone and vocals is beautiful enough to set anyone's hair on fire. Throughout a recording career that began in 1969, Mr. Doyle has been a premier exponent of high-energy improvisation. Even when it's whispered as though he was hidden in a barrel, Doyle's music possesses a riveting undercurrent of maniacal energy. There is always a sense that he is about to burst through his skin. And so it is here. Recorded live w/ members from some of the East Coast's most estimable, most thoroughly underground units (V3, Nod, Coffee, Temple of Bon Matin, Pengo, Sheet & the Strapping Fieldhands amongst them), Doyle is in rare and weird form here. Most of his previous recordings have hewn closely to one of his stylistic threads or another. W/ Alan Silva or Sunny Murray, Mr. Doyle works in the (so called) jazz tradition. Alone, he presents a side that reeks w/ spiritual confusion and an intense grapple w/ societal demonology. The guys he plays w/ here allow Mr. Doyle to balance himself between these two style-poles, and the results are pretty amazing. Recorded in very lo-fi, the music here was sonically dicked-w/ for many many hours by Jim O'Rourke."

VALENTINE, MATT: Glorious Group Therapy LP (FYP L4). $11.00

"Glorious Group Therapy was conceived at the apex of the first wave of MV's magical powers, a harmony of acid folk honey, free blues exploration and citybilly terrestrial paradise. The symbology that exists in its lead off track 'Feel The Music' is one of the strangest works of the century. Originally released on cassette in 1998 by the Polyamory enterprise under the name Matthew Dell (like Blind Joe Death or Guitar Roberts) and beautifully resurrected here by Ecstatic Yod with 4 bonus tracks, it becomes a garden of maximum arousal and remains one of Valentine's best political poems. GGT was and is the awakening of his old sympathy for collaboration and new forms. A powerful, mythmaking time when he hooked up with Erika Elder and Tim Barnes and jettisoned the common setting of his Tower Recordings underground after he had taken that ensemble into its farthest orbit/rarest period of heavy electric, totally free realms."

EDITION:

HUDAK, JOHN: Highway CD (EDITION VIII). $14.00

"Newest work from this master of reductive minimalism involving a sound of exceedingly banal character: traffic. Yet instead of concentrating upon its ineffable drone or sustained qualities, Hudak has extracted from his recordings made on an overpass a transient sound which is then stretched, broken apart, and bubbles in sublime fashion across the stereo field in a vacuum of pure silence. The result is nothing short of spectacular and affecting — a calm meditation juxtaposed in almost ironic opposition to the furious rumble and freneticism implied by its source."

JIAT: Still Life #4: Rock & Roll 3" CD (EDITION X). $7.00

"Recently I have begun to use a computer as the source of creating music or sound pieces. This process arose out of a posting on a news group - Jacob Jarnigon posted an enquiry to the newsgroup alt.noise concerning "All frequencies combined?". This began a line of thought/enquiry which resulted in this recording. The nature of a sound file containing data set to its maximum value, i.e. all binary 1s was raised. This interested me sufficiently to write a program which would create a .WAV file containing PCM data set to either maximum or minimum values. Nigel Orr of The Underwater Acoustics Group at The University of Newcastle Upon Tyne amongst others (Wolfgang Schwanke, Francis Vaughan, Darryl & mk) pointed out - my poor physics! and that such a bit pattern would give DC - i.e. silence. What I heard on playing back my first file was a 'click' followed by silence. The click was created by the initial jump from zero? to the value set in the PCM data. Any set of continuous values produced silence, random values gave white noise, blocks of alternating high/low values when even gave tones, when uneven buzzes and clicks. Over a few days the sound of that digital click made by my first PCM wave file stayed with me - from the silence of maximum values the click - a change in state of the system - represented the beginning of all possible other recordings. This began a line of thought/enquiry which resulted in a series of recordings of which this is an example. It consists of a four minute 3 inch CD made by writing consecutive blocks of code beginning with a single word set to +32767 followed by 44100 of words set to zero. Other thoughts. Maybe cosmologically things are created out of similar emptiness, or a jump between two nothings, nothingness is also a mystical idea of the absolute. It is the source of a creation physically and spiritually. The emptiness of the holy of holies: the nakedness in the garden of Eden. John and Yoko's two virgins: the Naked Emperor in the fairy tale implied in the title of Penrose's book on the new physics: the story of the hoodwinking - is this how reality is created. The Danny Kaye song "The King is the altogether". The King maybe naked when thinking he was wearing fabulous clothes, but perhaps this nakedness is in fact more beautiful in its essence than any superfluous decoration. So the criticism that there is nothing or nothing much here on the record missed the point, that this is true of everything?"

JIAT: Still Life #5: 6 Types of Silence CD (EDITION XI). $15.00

"This latest installment in the Still Life series trades the brevity and clarity of the previous two (Jazz and Rock and Roll) for a rather enigmatic, lengthy, and potentially destructive silence. "One of the fascinating things is that given the medium of CD (16 bit 44.1kHz) you can have upwards of 65536 types - silence - all silent but in all the tracks there is different data. As an artist working in this area I find this weirdness intriguing. The permutations of the data are staggering as are the ideas associated in such very minimal works. For instance, by mixing short lengths of these silences, all the other sounds which you can hear on a CD are produced. Given that CDs are "just" numbers other things arise — just the first second of a CD has 65536 to the power of 44100 variations — working through these you have the first second of any/all CDs From 'My Way' to Beethoven's 5th. However this number is quite large — there are only 10 to the 79 protons in the universe. So although we can 'hold' these CDs in our head — there is probably insufficient matter and time to make them all. This (Still Life #5) continues the series of works made by writing data directly to a PCM file. In this work there are 6 ten minute pieces made by setting all values in a track to the same binary values. There are 65536 possible values in all — and so this number (6) of potentially similar tracks. All result in producing silence — though all these silences are not the same. Pausing the playing of a track will show this to be so, for the data being played is halted and the CD system jumps back to zero — resulting in a click (if the value 'playing' was not zero or near to it). Interestingly this click is heard but is not actually on the recording — it physically doesn't exist. It is the interference of the continuous stream of data which causes the sound. Maybe cosmologically things are created out of similar emptiness, or a jump between two nothings. So each continuous set of binary values will be rendered by the CD player as a DC voltage - which could be dangerous to the electronics and speaker systems in some Hi Fi Equipment. This is because playing a silence which is based on a very high or low binary value at high volume will produce a high DC voltage in the system. This could cause overheating of speaker coils and other electronics." — James Whitehead

VA: ... CD (EDITION XV). $13.50

"The ostensible starting point of this, the first compilation from edition... is the explosive culmination of a period of considerable tension between India and Pakistan in 1998. On 11 May the Indian government initiated a series of underground nuclear tests in the Rajasthan region. In a span of less than 8 minutes, three devices were detonated, sending shockwaves across the globe. In Northwestern Australia, a team of amateur seismologists were surprised to find three unusual seismic events in such a short span and reported their findings to the Redwood City Seismic network. Their data was retrieved and interpolated for presentation here — a chilling electromagnetic artifact from the events of that day." Features: Colin Potter, Hazard, Steven Lance Ledbetter, M. Behrens, Toy.Bizarre, JLIAT, Jio Shimizu, Monos.

JLIAT: The Grandi Series Still Life # 7 (Ambient) CD (EDITION XVI). $13.00

"It seems that our everyday logic breaks down when applied to the infinite. We must either abandon discussions of infinity, or accept that some questions which seem meaningful for all questions of the finite are meaningless when applied to the infinite. A Thompson lamp is a lamp that is switched on then switched off after 1 second, then switched on again after a half second, then switched off after a quarter second, then switched on after an eighth of a second... and so on. Two seconds after it is first turned on, is it on or off?" Note about this "conceptual art": "This CD is made from an original source of P.C.M. data @ +1-1+1-1... This will probably not be rendered as sound by a CD player's DAC."

BEHRENS, M.: Transition 2x3" CD (EDITION XVII). $16.00

"Two three inch CDs — one comprising new works and another reworkings of older sounds. Indeed one finds a marked 'transition' in approach to noise-making among the earlier and later material which is heightened by their physical separation. Disc one highlights Behrens' remarkable compositional restraint with slow moving tones and introduction of transient sounds and granular waves into the audio field. Disc two employs an abrupt jump-cut aesthetic and much more primitive sounds in its making: metallic ringing, bursts of low frequencies, voices, and synth-like tones punctuated by sudden dropouts for a jarring overall result. The CDs are carefully packaged in a gatefold plastic sleeve with cards featuring color photographs by the artist. Edition 500."

NAGOSKI, IAN: Violets For Your Furs LP (EDITION XXI). $14.00

"Comprised of a 22-minute electronic soundfield which, in turn, is comprised of more than fifty individual tracks and a rotating image developed by Daniel Conrad which has several interesting effects including the production of color from a black and white field, the 'Waterfall Illusion' (stationary movement), and involuntary 'blooming,' which are all analogous to aspects of the music, which I will leave to others to describe in affect except to say that there is some nostalgia involved. It is in part about ('about') the apprehension of simultaneities. It is certainly a ritual object for use at the shrine-altar of your record player. No kidding.' — Ian Nagoski. Single track on both sides of picture disc LP. Limited to 300 copies."

AFFLUX (INFLUX): St.Martin-sur-mer, Aizier, Dieppe CD (EDITION XXIII). $13.50

"Featuring Eric La Casa (processing, contact microphone recording), Eric Cordier (long string recording devices, mixing), and Jean Luc Guionnet (condenser & contact microphone recordings, filtering, processing, mixing). Afflux employs an on-site electroacoustic device in order to work out a set of live interactions with the site. The device connects the three improvisers to the place at the same time. This set of connections creates an infinite interplay of interactions and possibilities. The device is basically founded upon a principle of circulation. The recordings of the environment and devices interacting with the elements: wind, water, etc. are filtered and mixed live by one protagonist. The mix is then broadcast to the other two protagonists (through headphones) who can interact with inflections, altering the course of what is recorded. In this instance the three sites in the Normandy area (each involving a great deal with the water of the sea) find the trio encountering some intermittent heavy weather. Passing rain showers, rising tides, flowing drains, and even communications from a maritime navigation post play heavily into the soundscape, which is a shimmering electroacoustic atmosphere of vibrating strings, rushing water, and crisp, windswept ambience."

MONOS: Sunny Day In Saginomiya CD (EDITION XXIV). $13.00

"A unique project from the group of Darren Tate and producer Colin Potter. This project features recordings by Daisuke Suzuki (Lost Shadow, Siren Records). One track is based on a field recording and the other on an improvisation with some small objects. The overall tone of the recordings evokes a much more urban sound landscape than on previous Monos releases, but Colin and Darren's careful mixing and embellishment on the records lends a surreal if not slightly sinister atmosphere to the proceedings."

NEHIL, SETH: Umbra CD (EDITION XXV). $13.50

"Umbra continues Nehil's expansive and organic sound patterns. Employing sounds of recorders, reeds, voice, and electronics, joyously rising and falling exhalations crest into ambivalent passages of machine drone and unexpected klaxons. All the while, one cannot ignore the presence of small happenings and events in the background, placed with immense care as if valuables in a shimmering glass case. The result is a meditative experience, at times recalling 'Stimmung' by Stockhausen or any number of works by Phill Niblock."

BEHRENS, M.: Security vs. Freedom 2x3" CD (EDITION XXVIII). $13.50

"The successor to Transition (2001) in the same format — two mini CDs, six full-colour cards with photographs — further exploits the idea of the absent transition. Between two poles of music the listener imagines a huge step from one phase of work to another with a distance of nearly seven years in between, or perhaps just one state of mind to another: security and freedom. But does the security lie in the carefully pronounced minimalist compositions of 'The Unknown' on disc 2, or in the dense sound fields of 'Compressed Location 1 and 2' on disc 1 that engulf and embrace the listener? Or vice versa: is freedom expressed in the structurally open, expressive passages of the latter, or in the gap between very low and very high frequencies of 'The Unknown - part 1', in which the noise of the surroundings is framed by sound, but still remaining fully audible — unsuppressed?"

DUNCAN/PETER FLEUR, JOHN: The Scattering CD (EDITION XXXI). $13.50

"Shortwave and data files. Composed by John Duncan and Peter Fleur. Processed, mixed, and mastered at Scrutto and Amsterdam by the artists."

NORTHAM, M.: Memoirs of Four Discarded Objects CD (EDITION XXXII). $13.50

"Wandering through vacated paths of life one takes notice of the drift metal left forgotten along the side of roads — the last remains of the once useful now superfluous — therein these forgotten things lay stories of molecular processes an elemental re-contextualization perhaps one can see these as a deposit of time along a route from worth to worthlessness — with this in mind four objects were chosen to translate this ephemeral state into a sonic topography making into memories this re-animated still nature. The objects were played, manipulated and the resulting sounds electronically mined and re-contextualized to create immersive fields of sound — as a multidimensional painting — each reflecting an observation of the materials internal qualities — physical and analogical."

EDITION KUNST (GERMANY):

EDITION KUNST: *Plays ******, ***** *******

"In just two hours we decode six one-trick musicians and reconstruct them musically. This is achieved on the following equipment: four record players, one analogue multichannel sound mixer, a PowerBook and basic sample editing software (alternatively, a hardware sampler), a simple drum machine (hard- or software) preferably stocked with sounds from the Roland TR series, a transistor radio, a mobile phone, and some vinyl discs. The recording is made in one take with no overdubs using a monaural mike and DAT recorder. The players are exchangeable. The names of the musicians that 'are played' do not stand for actual people, but rather for musical phenomena and the interpretations that go along with them especially within the prevalent 'crossover' discourse between music and the fine arts. Three seconds of romantic piano music (Chopin) are sampled with a common hardware or software sampler. The excerpt is played repeatedly; subtle changes are effected by using functions such as time stretching, pitch shifting and scrolling. Now and then the input level of the mixer is cranked up to give an abrupt distortion. Transgender Ambient. Four *****Plays records are played simultaneously and manipulated now and then. What is 'played' here is the 'mood' of the individual records. Digital Reference Pop. Using a carpet cutter, cuts and notches are put in the lockgroove of a vinyl disc. On playing the record, the jumping needle creates 'scratch loops'. Another such loop is put in a record of soul music. Then a drum machine with 133 bpm is mixed in: first a straight bass drum on the first and third beat of the 4/4 time; after some minutes a hi-hat is added on the off-beat. Minimal Techno with a socio-cultural connotation. Garbled frequencies from the radio's AM band, a resonating drone of sine waves. Whenever necessary the tuning knob is adjusted. Mobile phone signals coming from the next room heighten the atmosphere. Industrial Ambient. An electro-acoustic, breakbeat, hiphop, and dub record are played simultaneously. From a fifth source (the PowerBook's CD player) we add the voice of William S. Burroughs. Illbient. A sine wave is produced at regular intervals with slightly altered pitch. The wave is played with sharp attack so as to obtain a strong percussive effect. Design Techno, or Clicks & Cuts."

EDITION MODERN (ROMANIA):

DUMITRESCU, IANCU: Medium III CD (EDMN 1001). $15.00

These are Rumanian pressings, on a label dedicated to the great avant Rumanian composer, Dumitrescu (and usually, his associate Ana-Maria Avram, as well). Dumitrescu has been recorded in the past on the Edition RZ & Generation Unlimited labels, and not much else. This first title was his debut on CD, originally released in the early 90s. It includes "Medium III" (for contrabass), "Cogito/Trompe L'Oeil" (for prepared piano, 2 contrabasses, Javanese gong, crystals & metal objects); "Aulodie Mioritica" (for contrabass & orchestra); "Perspective au Movemur" (for string quartet) & Apogeeum (for orchestra & 3 percussion groups). "His compositions are based on an acousmatic aesthetic by virtue of which the sound is subjected to analyses and disassociations (harmonic multitudes? diagonal sounds) which confer it a genuine force of suggestion and penetration." "Medium III" is one of the heaviest works of the contemporary pool, massive tonal pound. (Includes all of the now out of print RZ LP 1001).

DUMITRESCU/ANA-MARIA AVRAM, IANCU: Au Dela de Movemur CD (EDMN 1002). $15.00

Two pieces by Dumitrescu: "Au Dela de Movemur" (for orchestra & strings) & "Monades (Gamma & Epsilon)" (for 6 monodorks, crystals & metallic objects). Avram is a young Rumanian composer, and of similar interest, with 3 pieces: "Ekagrata" (for orchestra), "Signum Geminali" (for ensemble and tape) & "Zodiaque III" (for prepared piano, percussion and tape).

DUMITRESCU, IANCU: Pierres Sacrees CD (EDMN 1003). $15.00

Four works: "Pierres Sacrees" (for prepared piano & metal objects), "Harryphonies (Alpha)" (for contrabasse & ensemble), "Grande Ourse" (for 2 bassoons, prepared piano, percussion, tape), "Harryphonies (Epsilon)" (for orchestra & soloists — contrabasse, tuba, & trombones). For truly alien sound waves, screaming string manipulation, etc. little can touch Dumitrescu's work — one of the world's most sincerely underappreciated composers of out-there material.

DUMITRESCU, IANCU: Galaxy CD (EDMN 1005). $15.00

"Galaxy" (for 3 'harryphonies', percussion, & micro-processor); "Movemur et Sumus (III)" (for 3 basses, perc.); "Reliefs II" (for 2 orchestras & piano), "Memorial/Alternances" (for string quartet); "Basoreliefs Simphoniques" (for orchestra). "Galaxy" is a monstrous piece of cosmic avant-destruction.

DUMITRESCU/ANA-MARIA AVRAM, IANCU: A Priori CD (EDMN 1006). $15.00

Three ID pieces: "A Priori" (for chamber ensemble); "5 Implosions" (for orchestra); "Mythos" (for chamber ensemble). Plus 2 more by Avram: "De Sacrae Lamentationem" (for orchestra) and "Icarus" (electronic music). Chris Cutler has referred to "De Sacrae..." as "indispensable classic".

AVRAM/IANCU DUMITRESCU, ANA-MARIA: 5 Pieces CD (EDMN 1008). $15.00

Two works by Avram: "Ikarus II" (for string quartet and tape, w/ Dumitrescu adding prepared piano); "On The Abolition of the Soul" (dark & brilliant electroacoustic chatter). Three works by Dumitrescu: "Holzwege Kronos" (for string quartet); "Fluxus" (for tapes & orchestra); "Sirius Kronos Quartet" (for string quartet and tape). Another essential release in this series.

DUMITRESCU/ANA-MARIA AVRAM, IANCU: Ouranos CD (EDMN 1009). $15.00

Ninth volume in this ever fascinating series of releases representing the finest in Rumanian avant garde. There are 3 new Dumitrescu works: "Ouranos II" (for 12 violoncellos, tape and percussion, conducted by Iancu; "Gnosis" (for double bass, performed by Ion Ghita) & "Orion I & II" for 3 groups of percussion, performed by the Hyperion Ensemble. Plus two new works by Ana-Maria Avram: "Swarms III" (for string orchestra) & "Labyrinthine I" (for strings and amplified percussion). The extraordinary and uncategorisable Dumitrescu/Avram team. Pursuing the intimate grain of sound through the directed inspiration of performers who somehow produce music while uncovering it, escape control by going through it. Movement and stillness. Even in the storm of percussion ('Orion') is a slow centre." — Chris Cutler.

AVRAM/IANCU DUMITRESCU, ANA-MARIA: Meteors & Pulsars CD (EDMN 1010). $15.00

Complete tracklisting: Dumitrescu: "Meteors & Pulsars (1998)" (computer assisted composition); "Profondis (1973-1991) (for clarinet, bass clarinet and orchestra); "Origo (1998)" (for cello solo). Avram: "Chaosmos (1998)" (for two orchestras); "Axe (1998)" (for cello and percussion). "Rejoice is always in order upon the harvest of any new works from set of ultra-modern experimentalists from Rumania. Dumitrescu's electronic pieces here harken back to the golden days of Darmstadt/INA toneburst, via barely audible granules bursting into large-scale eruptions. The orchestral pieces are full of wrongly-embouchured reeds and tonal-misappropriation. Not surprisingly, Avram's pieces contain some of the finer moments on the disc, heavy-scraps strings and Milford-Graves-ish free (but fully notated) percussion. Clearly not losing any steam." — Hrvatski

DUMITRESCU/ANA-MARIA AVRAM, IANCU: Etoiles Brisees CD (EDMN 1012). $15.00

FYI: these two new releases on EDMN (1012 & 1013) are pressed on CDR's with full color printed labels and color xerox booklets. Iancu claims that they switched to this method of production because the sound is better than on traditionally pressed CDs and they are using very high quality audio CDRs for reproduction. "New fruit from this Rumanian team of sonic futurists. Four new works, two from each. Dumitrescu's half features "Etoiles Brisees (I)" (1998, "musique assistee par ordinateur," which according to Iancu translates as "computer assisted music, a music transformed in computer, with different softwares, at different degrees of transformation of a sound,") and "Etoiles Brisees (II)" (1998, for prepared piano, alto, 2 violas, contrabass, bass clarinet, percussions and tape; featuring a host of known instrumentalists including Chris Cutler, Tim Hodgkinson, Alexandru Dutulescu, Ioan-Marius Lacraru, Ion Ghita, Vasile Nedelcu, and Dumitrescu himself). Avram pieces are: "Anamorphosis" (1998, a string quartet, quite knowledgeable of the inner workings of both Bartok and Lachenmann's sound-worlds) & "Second Axe" (1998, for orchestra & strings, performed by the Hyperion Symphony Orchestra, directed by Ana-Maria Avram). High quality audio-examples, as always." — Hrvatski.

AVRAM/IANCU DUMITRESCU, ANA-MARIA: Second Arche CD (EDMN 1013). $15.00

"13th volume of post-1950 anti-tradition on Dumitrescu & Avram's self-run Edition Modern imprint. Avram: 'Second Arche' (1998, 'musique pour voix assistees par ordinateur' — vocals with computer-aided accompaniment) and 'Axe II' (for cello solo). Dumitrescu: 'Pulses & Univers Reborn (I)' (1998, 'musique assistee par ordinateur,' random, scattered with computer assistance), and 'New Zenith' (1979, for percussion, performed by Georgeta Scurtu on Tam Tam). Said recent computer-aided performances straddle the divide between 'conservatory' modernism and free improv's electronic outer edges. Pretty revolutionary stuff, actually." — Hrvatski.

AVRAM/IANCU DUMITRESCU, ANA-MARIA: Orbit of Eternal Grace CD (EDMN 1014). $15.00

Features 2 works by Ana-Maria Avram: "Orbit of Eternal Grace" (for bassclarinet, saxophone, percussion and string orchestra; performed by Hyperion Symphony Orchestra; soloists: Tim Hodgkinson, Chris Cutler. Conducted by Jean Louis Vicart). "Ascent" (for bass-clarinet, bassoon, 2 percussions, 2 altos, 2 cellos, 2 doublebasses; performed by the Hyperion Ensemble conducted by AM Avram). Also, three works by Iancu Dumitrescu: "Eon- Dans Un Desordre Absolu (II)" (for bassclarinet, percussion, string ensemble and electronics; performed by Hyperion Ensemble conducted by JL Vicart; Soloists: Tim Hodgkinson, Chris Cutler). "Temps Condenses" (for ensemble and electronics; performed by Hyperion Ensemble, conducted by Iancu Dumitrescu). "Eon- Dans Un Desordre Absolu (I)" (for electronics).

AVRAM/IANCU DUMITRESCU, ANA-MARIA: Oiseaux Célestes CD (EDMN 1015). $15.00

New pieces by Dumitrescu: "Oiseaux Célestes" (new computer assisted music) and "Colossus" (for string orchestra and virtual percussions; performed by the Hyperion String Ensemble, conducted by Dumitrescu). New pieces by Ana-Maria Avram: "New Arcana" (for solo bassclarinet and ensemble, performed by Tim Hodgkinson and Hyperion Ensemble), "EC-Static Crickets II" (for string ensemble, performed by Hyperion), "Horridas Nostrae Mentis Purga Tenebras" (computer assisted music for synthesized voices and instruments). "While the new Rumanian school, with Iancu Dumitrescu at the forefront, is not alone in its search for a spectral approach — hyper-constant, hyperharmonic, in the real sense of these terms...working for so long in relative isolation are the first to have achieved — especially in the work of Iancu Dumitrescu — a real spectral analysis of the interior of the sound, equivalent to a kind of nuclear fission..." — Harry Halbreich, Editions Salabert.

AVRAM/IANCU DUMITRESCU, MARIA: Soleil Explosant CD (EDMN 1016). $15.00

This CD Contains 4 works by Iancu Dumitrescu: "Soleil Explosant I" (2000, Computer assisted music). "New Meteors I" (2000, computer assisted music). "Multiples I" (1971, for 3 group of percussions), "Oiseaux Celestes II" (stereo version). And 2 pieces by Ana-Maria Avram: "Traces, Sillons, Sillages" (2000, for ensemble and tape; live recording, Hannover 2000, performed by the Hyperion Ensemble, conducted by Ana-Maria Avram. "Doryphories I" (for ensemble).

DUMITRESCU/ANA-MARIA AVRAM, IANCU: CD (EDMN 1017). $15.00

Features 3 works by Iancu Dumitrescu: "Objets Sonores Mysterieux (I)" (for instruments and computer assisted sounds); "Diachronies III" (1967, for piano, performed by Monica Timofticiuc); "Objets Sonores Mysterieux (II)" (Computer assisted music). And 2 works by Ana-Maria Avram: "Telesma (II)" (for computer assisted sounds and trombone); "Apokatastasis" (for bass clarinet, percussion and computer assisted tape; performed by Tim Hodgkinson & Luminita Fara).

DUMITRESCU/ANA-MARIA AVRAM, IANCU: CD (EDMN 1018). $15.00

First CD in a while from the Rumanian composers Dumitrescu and Avram (potentially associated with the European "spectralism" contingent, what The Wire referred to as "the altered harmonic dimensions and numinous sonorities of the European avant garde composition movement"). Iancu Dumitrescu: "Remote Pulsar (I)" (computer assisted music), "Movemur (III)" (spectral music for viola solo, performed by: Cornelia Petrolu), and "Numerologie Secte" (I)" (computer assisted music). Ana-Maria Avram: "Incantatio" (for large orchestra, viola, percussion); "Quinconce" (computer music and viola).

DUMITRESCU/ANA-MARIA AVRAM, IANCU: In Tokyo CD (EDMN 1019). $15.00

'Implosive Eternity' — computer assisted music; 'Abysses Latents' — for voice, tenor saxophone and percussion; 'Bolids & Contemplations (III)' — computer assisted music; 'La Legende D'Icaire' — for bass clarinet, ensemble and computer assisted sounds; 'Penumbra' — for saxophone solo. Performed by: Keiko Hatanaka, Robert Reigle, Gustavo Aguilar, Tim Hodgkinson, Hyperion Ensemble.

CAZABAN, COSTIN: Flutes A Vide CD (EDMN 2004). $15.00

2nd CD to feature Cazaban's music on EDMN. Features: "Flutes A Vide" (1985) (for flutes and tape); "Zig Zag" (1974) (for two double basses, performed by Fernando Grillo); "Croisements Recherches, Choral et Evasion" (1980) (for clarinet and string trio, performed by Musica Nova Ens.); "Naturalia" (1975) (for piano and tape); "Antimemoria" (1977) (for string quartet).

PAPE, GERARD: Cosmos/Tantric Transformations CD (EDMN 2007). $15.00

"Cosmos" (1985) is the key work of Gerard Papes first compositional period. Already greatly immersed in the aesthetic of 'composing with the sound itself' due to the influence of his teacher George Cacioppo, as well as due to his great admiration for the musics of Varese aid Xenakis, Cosmos was Pape's first attempt to find new large scale musical forms appropriate for the transformation of sound. In this case, the study of astrophysical texts describing the 'big bang' as well as the subsequent differentiation of pure energy became a kind of macro-form that Pape used. Each subsequent stage of the transformation of matter and energy found its equivalent in a set of evolving sonic structures that would represent the limits and elements of that physical/sonic world. Tantric Transformations (2002): This is rare work (for me) in that it is for tape alone. All material is derived from a single source — a short excerpt of Tibetan ritual music. Thus, the title refers to the electroacoustic transformation of this tantric ritual music. Using techniques that I enjoy in both my acoustic and electroacoustic music, that is, my own variants of: the electro-acoustic techniques of dephasing, microtonal chorusing, and micro-detuning, I have created here a thick, slowly moving heterophony in the form of a composition for 8 channel tape that totally surrounds and immerses the audience in a kind of undulating 'tantric' cloud."

EDITION RZ (GERMANY):

LANG, KLAUS: Sei-Jaku fur Streichquartett CD (RZ 4005). $15.00

2nd Klaus Lang CD on RZ (he has also recorded for the Austrian Dorian label). One string quartet piece, recorded 2002, performed by the Arditti String Quartet at the Inventionen 2002 festival. Powerful, abstract, atmospheric. "The best way to cook fish is not to cook it. Perhaps the most popular food in Japan is sashimi, raw fish that is artistically sliced and arranged. The art of preparing sashimi does not involve processing the raw fish as primary material, cooking it and thus transforming it, but rather selecting the raw fish, slicing it, combining and arranging it. The cook does not alter the fish and does not add anything to it. He facilitates in the realization of that which is already there, that which was in the fish all along, and makes it palatable. The impression that fish makes on the organ of taste is influenced, on the one hand, by the thickness of the slices and, on the other hand, by the way it is sliced. The slicing of fish has developed into an art form with a long tradition that follows strict rules. The decisive parameters here are the pressure of the slice, the position of the slice and the speed of the slice."

Indescribably beautiful is the sparkling clarity of the stars against the darkness of the universe. One is lost when confronted with the staggering complexity of the geometry of the heavens and yet, three letters are enough to formulate one of the most important theories of the universe. On the other hand, as one can see in mud puddles, darkness is by no means a sure indicator of depth, as little as it is of complexity. Important physical-mathematical formulas are distinguished by elegance and simplicity; their objective is to rely on simple means to create or describe the complex." Sei-Jaku is one way of pronouncing the two characters of the title in Japanese. They stand for 'Tarnished' and 'Star'. The other pronunciation 'Sabita Boshi' points to a term of central importance in Japanese aesthetics: 'Sabi'. Although 'Sabi' could be translated as 'Tarnished' its meaning is not sufficiently represented by the English word."

ORCHESTRA OF THE NAT'L CENTER FOR KOREAN TRADITIONAL PERFORMING ARTS: Yomillak: Korean Classical Music 2CD (RZ 7001). $19.00

"Selection of Korean classical music, performed by the Orc National Center for Korean Traditional Performing Arts. Cast your mind back to the 15th century. That is, of course, difficult if not impossible to do, but the major piece recorded on these CDs, Yomillak, 'Giving the People Joy', provides something of a sonic reference point: it was first performed in 1447. Y'millak is the most extended piece of orchestral court music surviving in Korea, and it has for many centuries been used for royal processions and at banquets. A performance today in many ways looks like one of old, with the musicians dressed in red cloaks (red is the royal colour) with elaborate embroidered squares of cloth denoting rank stitched to their backs. The musicians are virtually motionless, and respond to signals given by a senior official who strikes the pak wooden clappers at the beginnings and ends of sections. Barely discernable slow and regularly repeating rhythmic cycles form a structural baseline, marked out by formulaic strikes on two drums (the hourglass-shaped changgo and the barrel-shaped chwago), but the effect is of timelessness, the movements flowing seamlessly into each other. The music is totally controlled, the epitome of Confucian order and decorum."

JULIUS, ROLF: Tanz Für Zwei Blaue Rechtecke (Small Music Vol. 4) CD (RZ 10004). $18.00

Small Music Vol 4 is for quietly evolving electronics and texts (spoken in both German and English). This has been compared to Cage & Tudor's Indeterminacy in the way the the shorts texts are read and are integrated over the backing sounds. Slightly less appealing than the other 3 Julius CDs, but still a fascinating listen.

SUZUKI, AKIO: Na-Gi 1997 CD (RZ 10005). $18.00

A CD of minimalist environmental sounds by this Japanese sound-artist, previously known for his fabulous Soundsphere CD on the Dutch Het Apollohuis label. "This music was recorded in Takano, Tango-cho, the northern-most coast of Kyoto, where I live. The bay surrounded by volcanic rock caves is the place where the mighty sounds of waves of the open sea have their muffled echo. Seawater flows into the hollows in the rock again and again like breathing in and breathing out. Spring water constantly drips in the cave, and now and then the wind from the meadow above the chasm brings the sounds of the crickets...the sound spaces of the coast of Takano. A site of a new encounter with the rhythm of the sounds of the sea."

KUBISCH, CHRISTINA: Dreaming of a Major Third CD (RZ 10006). $18.00

The second Kubisch CD on RZ, from one of Germany's more important sound composers. This features is a composition for the clocktower of the MA Museum of Contemporary Art. All the sounds derive directly from the original bells from the MASS MoCA clocktower. The sounds have been pitch shifted and attack shaped, but have not been electronically altered. The result is a CD of ultimate installation drone and a must for fans of the Het Apollohuis aesthetic, sound artists like Bill Fontana, etc. "Although simple in effect and at times almost transparent, Kubisch's installation utilizes complex technology. A band of black reflective solar panels, which surrounds the tower just below the window, acts as a sunlight sensor. The sensor transmits information about the intensity and position of the sun to a computer. A unique software program — designed for this project by engineer Manfred Fox — reacts to the sunlight, assembling pre-recorded bell sounds 'on the fly' and compiling them into mini-compositions. The volume and sequence of the sounds vary across a wide spectrum, with cloudy days yielding dark 'sound colors' and bright sunlight generating clear pitches, metal-to-metal strikes and more distinct bell tones."

MINARD, ROBIN: Silent Music CD (RZ 10007). $18.00

Features: "Music For Quiet Spaces" (For vibraphone and delay) and "Neptune" (electronic music). RE: "Music for Quiet Space": "Conceived to condition space through the creation of an absolutely homogeneous, slowly-changed field of sound colour. Within the performance of the work, original sounds picked up from the vibraphone are continuously recorded and reproduced over and over again at 12-second intervals. The delayed sounds are adjusted to slowly fade away over a period of approximately three minutes. This treatment of the original sounds creates the work's characteristically static clouds of sound colour and enhances the music's slow changes in register and dynamics."

VA: Inventionen '98: 50 Jahre Musique Concrète 2CD (RZ 10009/10). $30.00

A documentary of pieces performed at the Inventionen Festival in Berlin, 1998. Features: Unsuk Chin, Patrick Kosk, Werner Cee, Francois Donato, Robin Minard, Wolfgang Mitterer, Francis Dhomont, Erik Mikael Karlsson, Trevor Wishart. "Not as much as a bringer-up to speed (or yet another history lesson at that) as a fine cache of current keepers of the crop.

New ('93-98), complete pieces from Trevor Wishart (northern-UK composer/programmer known and loved these days for his mid-70's works such as Menagerie and Beach Singularity ALMOST as much as for his pioneering spectral synthesis software method CDP), Francis Dhomont (INA-GRM stalwart, recent CD Frankenstein on Asphodel rocks...), Patrick Kosk (as seen on the RZ 3004 LP of Finnish Musique Concrète), Francois Donato (INA ditto), Robin Minard, Erik Michael Karlsson (Swedish EMS agent), Werner Cee, Unsuk Chin, and Wolfgang Mitterer. The perfect mix of analogue tape and computer-medium concerns, very strong efforts from all involved." — Hrvatski.

VA: Inventionen 2000 2CD (RZ 10012/3). $32.00

HESS, FELIX: Air Pressure Fluctuations CD (RZ 10014). $15.00

Here is a CD containing a recording of air pressure fluctuations. When played on ordinary audio-equipment the recorded air pressure fluctuations (technically named infrasound) are reproduced at 360 times the original speed, and thus can be perceived by our ears as sound. This means that one second of sound on the CD reproduces six minutes of original time, and that four minutes on the CD correspond to one day-and-night. Almost everything to be heard on this CD was inaudible, literally unheard of, in real time, because it was too low for our ears. The CD accurately reproduces air pressure fluctuations that originally were in the range between 0.03Hz and 56Hz. What do they sound like now? One hears high-pitched whistles, beeps and insect-like buzzes, which come from the deep rumblings of factories, trains, and trucks and other motor cars, or even nearby washing machines." — Felix Hess.

BERTONCINI, MARIO: LP (RZ 1002). $14.00

Edition RZ is a German label specializing in avant garde contemporary composers, with a world-wide range. If you like dark, drawn-out cascading sheets of (mostly) string-manipulated droning sound-grind, then few labels can match the level of excitement evident on these recordings. All RZ releases have nice sound/graphics, and extensive English notes; beautiful stuff. Works performed and arranged by Italian composer and Nuova Consonanza member Mario Bertoncini in 1970. Includes pieces by Cage ("Cartridge Music" for amplified "small sounds"), Earl Brown ("Four Systems" for prepared piano), and Bertoncini ("Cifre" for two or more pianos).

LACHENMANN, HELMUT: LP (RZ 1003). $14.00

All works by experimental composer Lachenmann: ("Guero" for solo piano), ("Pression" for solo cello) & ("Grand Torso" for string quartet).

NONO, LUIGI: LP (RZ 1004). $14.00

All works by Nono: ("A Carlo Scarpa" for large orchestra), ("A Pierre" for contrabass flute, contrabass clarinet and live electronics), ("Guida Al Gelidi Mostri" for electronically treated winds, voices and strings). Re: Nono's concept of "new listenings": "This no longer means revolutionizing the entire linguistic system i.e. a subversive attack on the institution of music; rather it means progressively expanding the technical possibilities of sound produced by traditional instruments and the perceptive faculties of the listener."

SPÄHLINGER, MATHIAS: LP (RZ 1005). $14.00

Six compositions by the German composer Spahlinger: ("Morendo" for orchestra), ("Yon Hier" for string quartet), ("Störung" — electronic music), ("Sotto Voce" — choral work).

ICHIYANAGI/MAKI ISHII, TOSHI: LP (RZ 1008). $14.00

Two pieces by Japanese avant garde composers, performed in 1973. ("Music For Living Process" for Shakuhachi, flute, harp, percussion) & ("Cho-Etsu" for Shakuhachi, shell horns, percussion, harp).

GRUPPO DI IMPROVVISAZIONE NUOVA CONSONANZA: CD (RZ 1009). $15.00

Italian improvisation group formed in 1964. The group featured Mario Bertoncini (perc, piano), Walter Branchi (double-bass), Franco Evangelisti (piano), Hohn Heinemann (trombone, cello), Roland Kayn (Hammond organ, vibraphone, marimba), Egisto Macchi (perc, celesta) and (most famously) Ennio Morricone (trumpet). Frederic Rzewski (piano) also appears. Historic stuff, ala AMM or MEV.

FELDMAN, MORTON: CD (RZ 1010). $15.00

Beautiful collection, primarily made up of Feldman's earliest, shorter piano works from the early 50s, going through the late 70s. A much needed compendium to all the essential documentation of his later, intensely long works that have been coming out (mainly on Hat Art). Performances here by Feldman himself, David Tudor, Cornelius Cardew, John Tilbury and others. "In his compositions for piano, which make up a central part of his oeuvre and in which all of his experience is accumulated, it is the play of Feldman's hand whose touch is intended precisely for the 'untouchableness' of sound. The clear character of the 'attack' thus displays the paradox of such playing: it is just as much about concealing the idiosyncrasy of the piano sound, the precise point of attack while, at the same time, the structure and tension of those sounds are formed by the hand." — Stefan Schadler. Typically nice RZ packaging. Includes the following works: "Piano Three Hands" (1957, performed by Feldman & Tilbury); "Intermission 5" (1952, performed by Feldman); "Vertical Thoughts 2" (1963, performed by Janos Negyesy: violin & Cardew: piano), "Extensions 3" (1952, performed by Feldman); "Four Instruments, 1975" (1979); "Intermission 5" (1952, performed by Tudor), "Piano Piece 1956 A" (1956, performed by Tudor); "Piano Piece 1956 B" (1959, performed by Tudor); "Intersection 3" (1953, performed by Tudor); "Instruments 1, 1974" (1975, 24 minute piece performed by Eberhard Blum: flute, Nora Post: oboe, Garrett List: Posaune, Joseph Kubera: celesta, Jan Williams: drums).

CRISTOU, JANI: CD (RZ 1013). $15.00

An expanded version of the previous RZ LP by Cristou. All works by Cristou, the late, legendary "freely-atonal" Greek composer. Features: "Enantiodromia" (1965-68, for orchestra); "Praxis" (1966-69, for string orchestra and piano), "Epicyle" (1968, for instruments, actors and voices); "Anaparasstasis III" (1968-69, for soloist, ensemble and continuum [tapes]); "Mysterion" (1965-66, for narrator, actors, 3 choirs, orchestra and tapes).

SCELSI, GIACINTO: CD (RZ 1014). $15.00

Features 6 works, dating from 1961-1990. "Pranam I En souvenir de la perte tragique de Jani et Sia Christou" (für Stimme, 12 Instrumentalisten und Tonband, 1972); "Anagamin Celui qui choisit de revenir ou pas" (für 12 Streicher, 1965); "Quattro pezzi su una nota sola" (für Kammerorchester, 1959); "Quartetto n. 4", 1964); "Okanagon doit être considéré comme un rite et, si l'on veut, comme le battement de cœur de la Terre fur Harfe" (Tam Tam und Kontrabaß, 1968); "Quartetto n. 2" (1961). "For Giacinto Scelsi, music was above all a manifestation of the energy of sound in the making. Since the early 1950's, at the latest, the idea of sound as a cosmic force, rooted in the Indian notion of music, had become fundamental to his thinking — from then on, tones and sounds were for him phenomena whose 'depth' had yet to be experienced. Rooted in these assumptions as well is Scelsi's belief that he as subject must completely withdraw, surrendering himself to that which endeavors to free itself through him."

XENAKIS, IANNIS: 2CD (RZ 1015/6). $25.00

Amazing Iannis Xenakis collection of historical recordings of essential works. Disc one features all works on CD for the first time; Disc 2 features different mixes of Xenakis' most famous electronic works. "Disc one with the orchestra works represents an era of Xenakis' development of polytope, geometrical, mathematical, based works from the late 1950s to the 60s in historical recordings earlier released on LP except for "ST/48" which has not previously been released." Includes: CD1: "ST/48" (for 48 Instruments, 1959-62); "Le Polytope de Montreal" (for four Orchestras, 1967); "Nomos Gamma" (for large Orchestra scattered among the audience, 1967-68); "Terretektorh" (for large Orchestra scattered among the audience); "Symros" (for 18 Strings, 1959); "Achorripsis" (for 21 Instruments, 1956-57). CD 2: "Persepolis 'avec mouvement' version" (electroacoustic music on 8-track tape, 1971); "Polytope de Cluny" (electroacoustic music on 8-track tape, 1972). Regarding the version of "Persopolis" on this disc: this is the 4th stereo mix of this piece to be released to date (original Philips LP, then CDs by Fractal and Asphodel). Fractal was the first to reissue the "sans mouvement" version [in a mix by Joao Rafael, originally solicited by Edition RZ] — their CD is now o/p; Asphodel reissued the "avec mouvement" version in a GRM mix by Daniel Terrugi). So, this is a unique stereo mix, done by Daniel Teige (who spent 2 years working on it), about 10 minutes shorter than the Terrugi GRM mix. Regarding: "Polytope de Cluny" — this is a different mix than the one previously released on MODE 98.

VON BIEL, MICHAEL: Jetzt Lieferbar! - Fünf Kompositionen CD (RZ 2002). $15.00

Streichquartett Nr. 1 (1962; WDR 2003); Streichquartett Nr. 2 (Urfassung, 1963; WDR 2003); Quartett mit Begleitung (Quartett Nr. 3, 1965; WDR 1967), Jagdstück für Bläserinstrumentalisten und Live-Elektronik (1966; WDR 1968), Fassung (elektronische Tonbandmusik, 1964; WDR 1964). "Michael von Biel's musical production at the beginning of the 1960's was clearly marked by the expansion of the musical material. Quartet No. 1 (1962) and even more, Quartet No. 2 (1963) are noise compositions whose expressiveness rests essentially on the discovery of new sonic possibilities and performance techniques. Bowing with excessive pressure, playing behind the bridge, leading the bow in a diagonal direction, hitting the tip of the bow on the body of the instrument — these are the techniques with which the sound of the strings enters into the realm of noise. Whereas in the first quartet, the areas of musical sound and instrumental noise are still largely set off against one another, in the second quartet, the concept of a music based solely on noise is realized without compromise. Both of the compositions Quartet with Accompaniment for string quartet and cello (1965) and Jagdstück ('Hunting Piece') for 2 trumpets, 2 trombones, 2 horns, 2 tenor tubas, contrabass, tape, e-guitars and electronically amplified barbecue grills (1966) are based on the contrast of divergent sound worlds. Before attending the composition courses of Karlheinz Stockhausen in Darmstadt for three years in a row starting in 1961, von Biel studied one year with Morton Feldman in New York where he met David Tudor and John Cage. Earlier than for most European composers, approaches in aesthetic thinking which couldn't have been more different from one another collided in his consciousness, and this occurred at a point in time when their music-historical consequence could not yet be foreseen."

RADULESCU, HORATIU: String Quartet No 4, opus 33 CD (RZ 4002). $15.00

String Quartet No 4, opus 33 (1976-87). Performed by the Arditti String Quartet. "infinite to be cannot be infinite, infinite anti-be could be infinite." (for nine string quartets or a string quartet surrounded by an imaginary 128 string-"viola da gamba"). "Among contemporary composers, Horatiu Radulescu is one who has something essential to express about the enigma of time: multi-layered lines of events, their structuring, perception and potential for poetic-religious message are ? together with the development of spectral composition ? among his central artistic concerns. "String quartet op. 33" fully demonstrates Radulescu's formal invention and his powerful expressiveness. During the 49 minutes of the work, two macro-forms ? two time-worlds overlap and intersect: that of the central string quartet and that of the eight surrounding quartets. In these surrounding eight quartets, the composer deliberately creates a lively, seemingly unordered series of moments of meditative quietness, of sudden improvised actions and of collective eruptions of primal force."

LANG, KLAUS: Trauermusiken CD (RZ 4003). $15.00

Features 2 pieces: "Der Wind und das Meer, Trauermusik für Bratsche solo" (performed by Barbara Konrad, viola); "The Sea of Despair, Trauermusik für Streichquartett" (performed by Amrasquartett). "The ordering isn't rationalist or essential, just simple ordering, such as continuity, one thing behind another." — Donald Judd. "The work could be immediately grasped in its entirety. All there was to see in objects was their actual presence. Anybody could understand them at first sight." — Zabalbeascoa and Marcos in Minimal Art.

VA: 20 Jahre Inventionen II CD (RZ 4004). $15.00

"Volume 2 of the CD documentation of the Berlin festival 'Inventionen' (volume 1 containing Horatiu Radulescu's string quartet no. 4) a various artists retrospective sampler including recordings of works by the following composers: Hildegard Westerkamp, Salvatore Sciarrino, John Cage ("Music For Piano", performed by Herbert Henck), Sainkho Namtchylak, Joe Jones ("Solar Orchestra" from 1990) Giacinto Scelsi, Masanori Fujita, John Driscoll."

SCHERCHEN, HERMANN: Musikalisches Opfer CD (RZ 60001). $18.00

J.S. Bach's "Musical Offering" as conducted by Hermann Scherchen. Made up as a series for small ensembles (various groupings of violin, viola, cello, oboe, English Horn, flute, bassoon & harpsichord)

WILLIAMS, EMMETT: Poems 1950 - 2003 PIC. DISC (RZ 9002). $24.00

Visually dazzling picture disc LP from Fluxus originator & member of the "Darmstadt Circle" of concrete poetry, Emmett Williams. Features poems written 1950-2003, spoken by Emmett, recorded from 2000-2003. "This tiny sampling of my poetic oeuvre is a very mixed bag, as they say; so much so that I'm inclined to call it a bag of tricks. To confuse matters, some of the poems were meant to be looked at rather than read aloud, and others were intended to be performed with sound effects and slide projections." Edition RZ's most outlandish project since the legendary Ror Wolf radiohonic-football picture disc!

ZABELKA/GISELHER SMEKAL, MIA: Somateme Körperklang LP (RZ PAR 02). $14.00

Experimental violin/electronics duo.

KUBISCH, CHRISTINA: Vier Stücke (Four Pieces) CD (RZ PAR11). $15.00

"Four pieces from arguably the most cited sound-sculpt of our time, recently fêted via an exposé in The Wire (October 2001). 'Vocrolls II' (1988) consists of recordings of a glass sphere coming to rest in a Tibetan metal bowl, processed in physics-defying fashion through an early desktop port of the now-prevalent phase vocoder algorithm. 'Mouse Ware' (1998) is the soundtrack to an installation (10 different makes and models of computer mouse are preserved in alcohol, accompanied by 10 user-friendly mice mounted on a circular table with tiny contact microphones attached to the shells sending signals to one of ten speakers mounted underneath) that predates the laptop ultra-minimalist live event in sound (akin to a Dat Politics set during a brownout). Kubisch constructed 'Old Sounds Archive' (1999) out of an array of taped bell sound effects located in the archive at the Free Berlin Broadcasting Section, echoing her amazing installation at the Massachusetts Museum of Contemporary Art (documented on the Edition RZ Dreaming of a Major Third CD) with a noticeable rhythmic pulse throughout. Finally 'Nostalgico' (1999), a recorded live performance from June of 2000, entices the ears with a variety of creaking and slamming door sounds accompanied by live accordion playing, accenting the similarities in sound and mechanics between the two."

KUBISCH, CHRISTINA: KlangRaumLichtZeit BOOK/CD (RZ PAR11BK). $32.00

"Deluxe kunst-edition with the CD tucked away in a rather ingenious CD-gripping scheme mounted on the back cover of a 136 page bilingual (all articles in both German and English) hardbound catalogue of Kubisch's work from the last 20 years and beyond. The CD is the same disc that is also available as a separate jewel case edition (RZ PAR11); the book features articles on Kubisch by Stefan Gielowski, Antje von Graevenitz, Hans Gercke, and Carsten Ahrens, an interview with Kubisch conducted by Christoph Metzger, a full chronology, solo & group exhibition chart, bibliography, discography, and notes on the enclosed pieces. Title translates as SoundSpaceLightTime, four concepts used as mediums by this multi-disciplinary artist. A highly effective and complete wallet-emptying mechanism." — Hrvatski.

EDITION STORA (GERMANY):*KOSTROW, OLEG: Great Flashing Tracks CD (STORA 001). $14.00

"Kostrow is known for his several theatre and performance projects. For most of them, he composed and arranged the music, while cooperating with the Russian designer Bartenew (who has worked with Brian Eno, Paco Rabanne, Andrew Logan). Kostrow chose to use most of the musical styles of the past fifty years when he composed the pieces for 'Iwona' (including disco, mambo, psychedelica)

BURNETTE & FELIX KUBIN, PIA: Tesla's Aquarium LP (STORA 005). $15.00

"New project from Felix 'Kubin' Knoch of Klangkrieg fame, this time working his trademark queasy organ parts and 'off-rhythms' underneath some very lovely female vocals (Ms. Burnette). Brings to mind certain Too Pure acts, Ensemble, fuck even Stereolab in places, etc... Definitely the most 'merch' thing Felix has done (gone are the sound-art principles that fuel his Diskono EP and that lovely Rune Den Watzmann zoetrope/LP set), nonetheless a very enthralling and overtly listenable affair. Could be 'huge' in certain circles, definitely deserves to be so (cuz Felix is so sorted). Prime." — Hrvatski.

HELGOLAND: Helgoland Media Music CD (STORA 007). $14.00

"The previous Helgoland releases seething with frenetic haste, distorted bass riffs, switchy rhythms, and shrill synths make the latest material surprisingly peaceful with more or less conventional structures, light melodies, flattering wind arrangements, and the experimental 4/4 rhythm. One of the most significant changes and possibly the most confusing elements on this album are the electronic pieces (several electronic songs from Helgoland appear on the Psykoscifipopia compilation on Gagarin Records). Their lengths vary from a few seconds to a few minutes and, just like the band recordings, fit into all sorts of genres and, at the same time, not. It's not techno, not house, not triphop, not drum&bass, not easy listening, not bossa, not samba, not bhanga, not highlife...but somehow fits snug between them all."

EES'T (ITALY):*SACHER-PELZ: Mutation For A Continuity 4CD (MART 001/4). $45.00

"Very few are aware of the beginning of Maurizio Bianchi's adventures? Before starting the complex and compelling production of many records and tapes in the early eighties under the M.B. trademark, Maurizio Bianchi was documenting the new music scene writing essays and reviews for independent magazines. It was August 1979 in Milan, Italy and his sound was strengthening when he felt the time had come to prove his desire for something new. So he started his first solo project, under the name Sacher-pelz. He assembled a concrete equipment — the endurance of M.B. had started. During the following few months four C60 magnetic tapes were created 'Cainus' (August/September 1979), 'Venus' (October/November 1979), 'Cease to Exist' (December 1979/January 1980) and 'Velours' (February/March 1980), a couple of copies for friends, never getting an official distribution. Surely a very private moment but still the first and only production at that time in Italy to go beyond the TG movement, the direct reference. Ees'T records got into possession of the original masters and decided this was the right moment to let those obscure sonorities see the night light. The tapes were remastered for a more powerful digital sound featured in this four CD boxset including the original graphics and liner notes as well as a new visionary essay, written expressly for this edition. After a long research in the archives spread around the Italian territories a few more documents were found (the original presentation text titled 'Sacher-pelz: mutation for a continuity', a collage titled 'Pure art for crime people', more graphics and reviews) and they are also included here. Edition of 480 copies."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Colori CD (MB 001). $16.00

A new subdivision of Alga Marghen, to deal with MB's music. "The very first new recording from Maurizio Bianchi (MB) since his decision to quit the arena of sound in 1984. Yes, he's back, the world-wide recognized master of apocalyptic electronics has decided to come back to music, opening up a new phase for his creativity."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: First Day — Last Day CD (MB 007). $16.00

"One year has passed since MB/Maurizio Bianchi decided to come back to the music arena with his very personal new sound exploration. Conceived in the same direction of the previous CD titled Colori, this new work found its bases in the revaluation of the events the started the Creation, when an intelligent and complex act of sublime love started our physical universe off, transposing them in form of 8 electronic compositions elaborated in a 2 year work. A darker atmosphere marks the background sounds giving to the whole program a more obscure and less 'easy' impression while the more melodic traces fluctuate without direction in an empty space. MB has always worked in a very direct way following his true inspiration; he has devoted his music to the sincere listeners who will now immerse themselves in these sound waves and in the sea of primordial sonorities. The connection to his past recordings is to be found in this attitude and a reference to these feelings was already existing in the early 1980s as reported in some interviews and statements soon to be included in the full documentation of ArcheoMB boxset 2 (not a reference to the specific religious themes but anyway a more general idea of spiritual collapse and chancing). What could be interesting is to notice this continuity and consider the past and present works as a whole. Of course with a huge formal difference in the material sound approach."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Das Testament CD (MB 008). $16.00

The 2nd batch of the complete MB reissue program continues, once again issued by EES'T (in conjunction with Alga Marghen) as a series of 5 separate CDs, or altogether as a box set. The CDs have been mastered to digital under the supervision of Maurizio Bianchi himself; each CD features the original artwork, the complete documentation (liner notes, reviews, statements) as well as bonus tracks. First pressing of 500 copies for each. "Reissue of a private LP edition of 300 copies in 1983. MB: electronics, rhythms, neutronic effects. The two suites of Das Testament were recorded in 1982 and can be included among the most extreme and uncompromising MB recordings. Once more maximum electronics. Bonus track for this CD edition: more than 30 minutes of MB live, recorded at Radio Popolare in Milan on 1/1/83. A unique event, the first and only MB concert and the only time he ever played as a synthesizer duo."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Endometrio CD (MB 009). $16.00

"Originally issued as a private LP edition of 400 copies in 1983. De-composition for synthetic sounds and electronically generated noises. Here MB distanced himself from the movement of the industrial brutists, introducing his 'bionic music'. Notwithstanding the difficulty of listening, especially upon initial impact, you are facing treated and filtered synthetic sounds that become new organisms — sound cells analysed under the microscope. This CD also includes excerpts from private tape editions originally issued on compilation cassettes. Personal and obsessive."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Carcinosi CD (MB 010). $16.00

"Originally issued as a private LP in an edition of 400 copies in 1983. De-composition for bionic organisms and concrete sounds. A sound that refuses both the cold logic of the fetish electronic computer-man-of-the-year and the sterile exasperation of the negative. A sound that dilutes and coagulates, eluding the listeners with minimal variations that make the cyclic style of Phillip Glass resemble a carousel of colors. This CD also features two untitled tracks first issued on compilation cassettes. Composite discipline."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: The Plain Truth CD (MB 011). $16.00

"First issued on the Broken Flag label in the UK in an edition of 500 in 1983. A different style, providing some distance from all his previous works; a more expansive experimentation with multiple layers of synthesizer sounds. Still very intense. MB's recordings come closest to classical electronics, but always with a very personal style. This CD edition also features an interview on Radio Popolare in Milan from 1/1/83. An English translation is included in the liner notes. Dedicated to all the redeemed people."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Armageddon CD (MB 012). $16.00

"Private LP edition of 300 copies in 1984. This record is the soundtrack for a film with the same title, produced and directed by Maurizio Bianchi. For obscure reasons, the original LP remained unavailable for a long time, and was distributed only 1 year after it was printed. Moreover, most of the copies were destroyed. Less than 100 actually exist. This was MB's last vinyl production, and also the only one featuring recordings of the artist's voice. It was made during a period of huge change in MB's life."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Dates CD (MB 013). $16.00

"Ees'T records is happy to announce a further step into the Maurizio Bianchi new production, a new compact disc which completes the Trilogy starting with the previous Colori and First Day-Last Day. This time the author concentrates on Time, or the inevitable. A sound counterpointistic journey beginning with the creation of the first human being, in autumn 4026 B.C.E. and passing through the two big planetary cataclysms. Then the individual experience of MB himself is investigated, a sort of electro-biography. The climax of this work is represented by the dramatic collapse describing the imminent destruction of today's society. MB explains that this is not an utopian perspective but those feelings rise from the 'Revelator' of all the secrets, the One who knows the future in advance and all the connected events. The Creator of the majestic universe and the One to whom all of us will give account when the final war of Har-Maghedon will break up on 60. A.M. Will there be any survivor then? Hopefully there will be among the listeners of this work who will delight their ears and fill their hearts with the compelling and intense emotional sounds of Dates."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Antarctic Mosaic CDR (MB 015). $17.00

"Following the path opened by Frammenti, this new work represents the radicalization of the fragmentary approach in Maurizio Bianchi's music. A musical composition resulting from the combination of various elements: Hetzian-waves, classical and electronic music. MB eagerly explores the immaculate spaces of the so-called 'frozen continent', the only one not contaminated by the human presence. The hostile surroundings and the prohibitive temperatures made the frozen paradise so stimulating and pure. Antarctica was an immense park frozen after the post-Flood events when unexpectedly and suddenly the temperatures felt of many centigrade degrees. This process is well emphasized in the 'Antarctic' track. On the other hand, in 'Mosaic' the listener mind is projected into the future when, after the decontamination process of human presence on Earth, the frozen continent will become again a paradise. Again a strictly formal and structured work, two long and exhausting sound-collages made of little fragments, even more radical than his approach when MB was active under the name of Sacher-pelz. Also included is an excerpt from 'The Technological Nonsense', a text presenting the forthcoming book on Maurizio Bianchi activities soon to be issued by Ees'T. As MB stated: 'Antarctic: sonorous infiltration in a deteriorated glacier' and 'Mosaic: liquid resonances for asymmetric decodings'. Are the glacial 1980s so far away? Available now in a CDR edition limited to 300 copies."

BIANCHI, MAURIZIO: Archeo MB 2 5CD (MB BOX 2). $80.00

"The complete set of 5 CDs available as a boxset edition. 500 numbered copies that will include MB's previously unpublished essays entitled: 'A.T.E.M.: A Breath of Veiled Drama' (1980), and 'The Dictionary of the Extra-Glaciality: Part 2' (1979). This second essay features short reviews of Alternative TV, Cabaret Voltaire, The Contortions, DNA, The Human League, Thomes Leer, Mars, The Monochrome Set, MX80 Sound, The Normal, The Parasites, Teenage Jesus and the Jerks, Wire, and XTC. Also included are the 'Fanta-Punk Tale' (1978), a short essay by Vittore Baroni called 'Milano Burns' (1984), and reproductions of original collages and graphics. Plus 4 new artworks and an original signed photo." This is the second MB boxset on Ees't (the first one is now out of print), including the following albums: Das Testament, Endometrio, Carcinosi, The Plain Truth & Armageddon.

EGO (GERMANY):

VA: EGO Live 1998-2000 2CD (EGO 01 CD). $19.00

"Live sets at Ego 1998-2000 is an exceptional compilation of electronic live sets recorded at EGO in Duesseldorf between 1998 and 2000. Unlike many other samplers that are released in this field of electronic music it features a wide variety of artists ranging from club-oriented projects like Continuous Mode or Antonelli Electr., Thomas Brinkmann's minimal techno, Kotai/Bader's and Khan's vocal tracks to more avantgarde computer music composers like Carsten Nicolai and Marcus Schmickler. The compilation covers 21 tracks on two CDs, coming in a specially designed digipak. While CD 1 features more dance-oriented tracks, CD 2 is a more relaxed and sound-oriented offering, represented by acts like Monolake or Senking. The tracks on this compilation are recordings of live performances, and although some have been released before, they appear as unique and autonomous versions on this release. Each track represents a single excerpt from the performance without any additional editing or overdubbing. The results not only reveal something of the technical process of creating electronic music live, but also provide a glimpse inside the personal production style of each composer. In this sense the EGO compilation is also document of a special field of computerized club music. Part of the documentary concept of this compilation is the 44 page full color photo booklet with high quality pictures of the performing artists and the space where it all took place. EGO was not designed to be a club but rather as a non-commercial space run by a handful of enthusiastic artists, combining live events with short-term exhibitions and constantly varying design, including different 'entrance engineering' for each evening. Currently, the project has shifted its focus from organizing live events to more documentary work such as compiling material from the audio archive for this compilation and setting up a structure for a future web-based audio archive. Live sets at EGO 1998-2000 is another step in realizing the ongoing idea of creating a special place for the performance and the perception of electronic music." Artists include: Continuous Mode, Sutekh, Salz, Swayzak, Kandis, Antonelli Electr., Markus Nikolai, Kotai/Bader, Chris Korda, Khan, Jammin' Unit, Marcus Schmickler, Senking, Produkt, Thomas Brinkmann, Opiate, Kit Clayton, Leandro Fresco, Monolake, Smyglyssna, Noto.

EGO VACUUM (AUSTRIA):

POMASSL: Soundtrack 02 12" (EGO 02). $11.00

"The fashion label Fabrics Interseason got started by Sabotage Communications in 1998. For each Fabric Interseason fashion show, special tracks are composed or performed live and released in limited editions of 500 of Ego Vacuum. Pomassl offers throbbingly rude basslines, highly schizoid frequency rhythms on this one — head music of the highest calibre."

BROKESCH, SUSANNE: Sound Track 03 12" (EGO 03). $11.00

"Third installment in this out-techno/art-theme series, this time by Vienna native Brokesch (aka SIL Electronics who's recorded for everyone from Cheap to Sahko to Disko B, etc...) with a beautifully rendered selection of orchestral segues, found/radioed in monologues, feedback loops, and slight techno thump/click themes (strangely absent for the better part of the record). A real eye opener..." — Hrvatski.

EIGHTH DAY MUSIC:

JACK THE DOG: "ah. it's like your talking in your head and you just can't" CD (EDM 80014). $12.00

"Jeff Kowalkowski and Carrie Biolo create a sound world all their own as Jack The Dog, a unit capable of bridging the gap between avant garde classicism and blurts of whispered psychedelia...at once real and surreal."

ELECTRIC CHAIR (UK):

VA: Electric Chair Basement Soul Music A Detonation By The Unabombers 2CD (CHAIR 001 CD). $18.00

"Northern Sulphuric Soul is music with feeling, encompassing diva disco, future spaced freaky hip hop/r'n'b, Afro Detroit techno mashups, house with a feeling, decadent 2-step, bad breaks and dancehall shenanigans. Electric Chair is musical dynamite that's used to make a bloody big noise, wake the people up and blow a hole in musical apathy and mediocre attitudes. When I play Electric Chair I go back rejuvenated and my faith in soul music has grown. The vibe I get from Electric Chair I've never experienced. There's a common thread running through Electric Chair: a real soul thing." — Ashley Beedle 'dedicated chair freak'. Artists include: Frank De Jo Jo featuring Terri Pace, 2 x Freestyle, Rawcotiks, ZUM, Leo Elstob, Copoeira Twins, Electric Soul, War, Chic, Hamilton Bohannon, Kim Sanders, H20, Cultural Vibe, LadyCop, Riton, Donna Summer, Only Child, Oliver Cheatham. Disc one is mixed by the Unabombers; disc two features unmixed versions of the tracks.

VA: Electric Chair Basement Soul Music A Detonation By The Unabombers 3LP (CHAIR 001 LP). $24.00

Triple vinyl version. This features the 12 unmixed tracks as found on the 2nd disc of the CD version. Unlike the CD, this features the complete 15.51 minute version of the Patrick Cowley Mega Mix of Donna Summer's "I Feel Love", which is worth noting.

UNABOMBERS PRESENTS, THE: Saturday Night Sunday Morning 2CD (CHAIR 002 CD). $17.00

"Saturday Night Sunday Morning features 21 tracks in the mix including bonafide classics and contemporary gems from the likes of Frankie Knuckles, Black Science Orchestra, Kenny Dope, Atmosfear, Masters At Work, Kool & The Gang, Jon Cutler, Vikter Duplax, T-Coy, Lil Louis, Grace Jones, Craig Mack... 'This superb compilation connects the many corners of dance music...from classic house and hip hop to broken beats and jazz funk. Brilliant'. Like the last album Saturday Night Sunday Morning comes formatted as a double CD including mixed and unmixed versions whilst the double vinyl commits some of the best & most collectable cuts to plastic."

UNABOMBERS PRESENTS, THE: Saturday Night Sunday Morning 2LP (CHAIR 002 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

VA: Electric Soul CD (CHAIR 003 CD). $16.00

"The new record is inspired by the Unabombers' Electric Souls parties. These parties had given Justin and Luke [aka The Unabombers] the chance to play a more futuristic psychedelic soul music and, being so close to their hearts, it was only natural that they wanted to put these influences on record and share this more future focussed and less party set than the legend that the Electric Chair has become. As much as 'Saturday Night Sunday Morning' is representative of the music played down in the club, Electric Soul would be the after party album, coming back with your mates and chill until the morning." Artists: Will I Am Feat Terry Dexter, Amp Fiddler, Y.B.U., Peven Everett, Jazzanova, Osunlade Presents Nadirah Shakoor, Focus, Metro Area, Jersey Street, Detroit Experiment, Only Child Feat. Amp Fiddler, James Mason.

ELECTRIC STEW (UK):

VA: Electric Stew - The Album 2CD (ES 002 CD). $17.00

"March 4th see's the first album release from the record label side of the London clubbing phenomenon that is Electric Stew. The album comes in two parts showcasing the musical sides of the club, both mixed there is a Dancefloor CD and an Afterhours CD jointly mixed by Pablo (Psychonauts) and Stew resident Mo Morris. The Dancefloor CD has a very current, mostly electro collection including tracks from Peaches, Felix Da Housecat, N.E.R.D, Playgroup, Dakar & Grinser, Golden Boy with Miss Kittin and Tiga & Zynthierus whilst the Afterhours CD includes household names Doves, PJ Harvey, Spiritualized & Turin Brakes rubbing shoulders with the likes of Simian, Sigur Ros, Vincent Gallo & Ian O'Brien, among others." Artists also included: Noia, Rework, Sieg Uber Die Sonne, Maurice Fautlon Presents Stress, Linda Lamb, A.R.E. Weapons, B-52's, Siobhan Fahey, Chancer, The Frobishers, Nick Drake, Ghost.

ELECTRIC TONES (NETHERLANDS):*VA: Jukebox CD (ETONES 007CD). $15.00

"Jukebox is the label's first album release and features all three EPs only released so far in limited vinyl runs. Featuring a combination of established names, new aliases and outright recording debuts, the common thread is in quality, eclecticism and experimentation. From sonic brutality to digital lullabies with everything in between - where else could you hear new material from Bomb The Bass, Jaki Liebezeit (ex of Can) Opiate and Christian Kleine all on the same project? Thomas Knak a.k.a. Opiate, having recently produced tracks on Bjork's Vespertine contributes three new tracks; Late, Dublo and Post of what he calls sadcore - moods of childlike innocence underpinned by a modern dub sensibility. Tim Simenon unveils a new alias Flow Creator. Two tracks of electro; Ikara mixing syncopated beats with beautiful modal scales and Robot Finger where distorted beats and an insistent loop morph and shift into different shapes and colours. There is also an exclusive unreleased Christian Kleine remix of Bomb The Bass, from the collaboration with Morr Music's Lali Puna."

ELECTRIX (GERMANY):*ADVENT, THE: Light Years Away CD (ETX 002CD). $16.00

"The Advent, aka Cisco Ferreira, takes up the mantle from Transparent Sound, who released Emotional Amputation last year to wide acclaim from the dance press and electro dance-floors alike. It's difficult to not be impressed by both the quality and quantity of The Advent's output over the years: Cisco has had releases on Tresor, Gigolo, Internal/FFRR, Rotation, Tortured and, of course, his own label, Kombination Research. As an artist Cisco is equally adept at crafting pummeling dancefloor techno as icy, edgy electro - as his previous vinyl 12" releases on Electrix have demonstrated. This stunning album sees his electro influences take centre stage across eight diverse, devastating cuts."

ADVENT, THE: Light Years Away 2LP (ETX 002LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

ELECTRO BUNKER COLOGNE (GERMANY):*VA: The Liquid Sky Cologne Adventure Series Vol. 2 CD (LS ?). $15.00

1997 compilation of tracks released in conjunction with the Liquid Sky Cologne group. Features tracks by: Dr. Walker, Brotherz in Armz, Strobocop vs. Dr. Walker, Lisa Lips, Rheinstahl, Frank Heiss, 2 Live and Die in Cologne (Walker & Heiss), Mike Stone, Frank Heiss & Allen Towbin.

ELECTRO MOTIVE RECORDS:*O-TYPE: Mommy CD (EMR 014). $12.00

1994 release. O-type is the long-going, occasionally active off-spring of MX-80 in which Rich Stim and his streaming shards of tears steps aside to allow the MX rhythm trio of Bruce Anderson/Dale Sophia/Marc Weinstein (plus the addition of a 2nd guitarist, Jim Hrabetin) to walk away.

ELECTROFUNK:*VA: Electrofunk's Greatest Hits CD (EF 2007). $14.50

"The past and the present meets the future of Electrofunk Records. This CD represents the birth of what is now ghettotech and a new beginning for Electrofunk with Mr. De' at the helm. Custom dub versions, EF Classics and future EF Classics." Featuring: DJ Assault, Worldwide, Friday Night, and many more.

VA: Somewhere In Detroit Vol. One CD (EF 2008 CD). $14.50

"Electrofunk presents a mix CD inspired by Somewhere In Detroit, the Detroit record store that exclusively sells Detroit house and techno from the city's best producers. This album reflects what you'll find inside the store, mixed by store manager Franki Juncal aka DJ 3000." Features tracks from the following labels: UR, Electrofunk, Soul City, Los Hermanos, Metropolex, Motech, etc. 21 tracks in all.

ELECTRONIC MUSIC FOUNDATION:*XENAKIS, IANNIS: Electronic Music CD (EMF 003). $13.00

Superlative and long desired reissue of Xenakis's early electronic works, including the in-demand pieces from his his pioneering Nonesuch album Electro-Acoustic Music. Issued in collaboration with France's INA-GRM, the studio where the first 3 of these compositions were realized. Although it only makes up a tiny portion of his total composed work to date, Xenakis's tape works are as legendary and significant as those of Schaeffer, Henry or Stockhausen. Powerful, mind expanding listening - this release certainly will rate as one of 1997's most important experimental musical documents. Includes the following works: "Diamorphoses" (1957): "a study of white noise and its graduations through the process of densification." "Concret PH" (1958): "This very short work is a sound continuum without a single break. Xenakis re-recorded crackling embers from which he extracted very brief (one-second) sound elements. Then he assembled them in huge quantities, varying their density each time. This work can be compared to his instrumental preoccupations concerning 'clouds of sound'." "Orient-Occident" (1960): "one of the major masterpieces for tape...conceived as a music for a film by Enrico Rulchignoni." "Bohor" (1962): "dedicated to Pierre Schaeffer...an extraordinary and deafening sound continuum where the listener is invited, in a figurative sense, to hear bells chime while standing inside them!" "Hibiki-Hana-Ma" (1970): "Xenakis recorded and reworked sequences played by an orchestra, a biwa, and a snare drum but never rendered them unrecognizable. Distributed over 12 tracks, the work's sonorities were elaborated in function of a highly pronounced spatialization. The title of this piece means 'reverberation - flower - interval.'" "S.709" (1992) recorded with the GENDY program: "Both the sounds produced in the piece as well as the global evolution of the composition are literally unheard of: despite the abstract nature of the processes involved and their mechanical nature, the Xenakis sound world is immediately recognizable."

FOSS, LUKAS: Echoi CD (EMF 005). $13.00

Performers include Foss (piano), Jan Williams (percussion), Douglas Davis (cello), and Edward Yadzinski (clarinet). "An assortment of (strangely enough) non-electronic chamber pieces from this noted American composer, head of the Center for the Creative and Performing Arts, and conductor-in-chief of the Buffalo Symphony Orchestra. The CD presents three pieces, two of which ('Echoi' and 'Non-Improvisation') are for small ensemble and one ('The Fragments of Archilochos') for choral group with mandolin, guitar, and percussion backing. These recordings originally surfaced as a Vergo LP in 1969 (later re-issued on Heliodor) and represent the basis of Foss's experiments in 'controlled-improvisation' and 'cloudy-ambience' that led up to the composition/performance/recording of such pieces as 'Paradigm' (Foss's classic entrance to DG's 70's 'Avant-Garde' series). These pieces link the tone-worlds of 60's

'academic' composition with later Zorn-related experiments quite well. Skilled." — Hrvatski.

CAGE, JOHN: Birdcage CD (EMF 013). $13.00

"In 1972, John Cage, accompanied by a film crew from Germany, went to upstate New York to work for 3 days in the State University of New York at Albany's electronic music studio. He carried with him three piles of tapes: (1) sounds of birds in aviaries that he had made in the prior two weeks, (2) recordings of himself singing his 'Mureau', and (3) ambient sounds. While listening to tapes of himself singing 'Mureau', he commented, 'It makes the birds seem less ridiculous.' The result of his work was 'Birdcage', a complex, exuberant, and joyful fabric of juxtapositions of all of the sounds, to be played back in a space in which, as Cage put it, people were free to move and birds to fly."

SPIEGEL, LAURIE: Obsolete Systems CD (EMF 019). $13.00

An overview of Laurie Spiegel's electronics works, ranging from 1970 to 1983. Utilizing analog synthesizers (Buchla 100, Electrcomp 100), tape, digital synthesis, Echoplex, Bell Labs' GROOVE Hybrid system, etc. Comparable to classic 70s-era Schnitzler screaming, this is a very memorable document of this obscure composer's best works. "Laurie Spiegel, electronic music pioneer, has been working with cutting-edge electronic instruments since the 1970s. She has written software, designed systems, and explored most of the early synthesizers. And she is also a wonderful composer! And the music on this CD is so talented, beautiful, and fascinating that it becomes a stunning demonstration of how musical and humanly expressive technology can be. The CD also demonstrates relationships between instruments and the music that can be composed for them. Spiegel writes: 'Each musical instrument, whether electronic or not, implies an aesthetic domain and sensibility unique to its design ... These are a few I've personally explored. When it was new, each of these music systems, now long obsolete, was state of the art, visionary, radically new and so revolutionary that it required extended explanations in response to common questions such as 'Why would anyone ever want to do that?'"

ANTHEIL, GEORGE: Ballet Mécanique... CD (EMF 020). $13.00

...and other works for player pianos, percussion, and electronics. "George Antheil's Ballet Mécanique, a wild, highly rhythmic composition combining industrial age sounds and jazz, is one of the most notorious musical moments of the 20th century. Antheil was an American composer living in Paris in the 1920s. He composed the first version of Ballet Mécanique in 1924 for 4 player pianos, then almost immediately expanded the instrumentation to 3 xylophones, 4 bass drums, tamtam, 2 pianos, siren, 3 airplane propellers, 7 bells, and 16 synchronized player pianos. He revised it again for performances in Paris in 1926 and New York in 1927. Following the New York performance, so badly received that it almost ruined his career, he visited Berlin, then went to Hollywood where he pursued a career as film composer. He revised the work again in 1953, and that version, more practical than earlier versions, has been performed several times. The expanded 1924 version, however, was never performed until its premiere, produced by Paul Lehman, at the University of Massachusetts at Lowell in November 1999. And this CD, a recording of that performance, is a major event! Also on the CD: John Cage and Lou Harrison's 'Double Music' (1941), (for percussion quartet); Richard Grayson's 'Shoot the Piano Player' (1995), (for player piano and electronics), and 'Mister 528' (1996), (for multiple player pianos and electronics); Amadeo Roldán's 'Ritmica No. 5' (1930) and 'Ritmica No. 6' (1930), (for percussion ensemble); and Felix Mendelssohn's 'Saltarello-Presto from Symphony No. 4', arranged by Paul Lehman (for 16 player pianos)."

VA: Power and Responsibility CD (EMF 021). $13.00

"This enhanced CD from Leonardo Music Journal, playable as a normal audio CD or as a CD-ROM with images, is a great compilation of music, multimedia, and software by composers, improvisers, programmers, and artists. The CD includes two excerpts from John Cage's 'Reunion' (1968), a chess game played with Marcel and Teeny Duchamp in Toronto in 1968, with David Behrman, Lowell Cross, Gordon Mumma, and David Tudor playing their own music. It also includes Clay Chaplin's 'Jerry Deals', Chris Brown's 'Talkingdrum', Todor Todorov's 'Voices Part 1', Phill Niblock's 'Ghost and Others', Stevie Wishart's 'Gap below surface' and 'Lacuna#2', Atau Tanaka's 'Sensorband', Hannah Bosma and Boris Nieuwenhuijzen's 'Hoor Je Dat?!', Kim Cascone's 'vortex shedding', and other pieces by Anne Wellmer, Audiorom, Barbara Held, BMB con., Elisabeth Schimana, GNYsic, Greg Schiemer, Heiko Recktenwald, Jane Dowe, Kim Cascone, Miekal And, Piet Van Wijmeersch, and Sergi Jordá. et more, the CD contains a collection of software including Max objects by Chino Shiuchi, Scot Draves' 'The Bomb', Andi Freeman's 'Headbanger', Atau Tanaka's 'netOsc', Tom Demeyer's 'IFS Gen, Digifilter, MidJoy', Sergi Jordá's 'FMOL', Sukandar Kartadinata's 'MemoryScanner', and Heiko Recktenwald's 'makemusicafast.zip'. "CD companion to the 1999 issue of Leonardo Music Journal (edited these days by Nicolas Collins). Some thought the inclusion of Oval on last year's CD was a fluke, although judging by the volume of decidedly non-academically aligned individuals herein I'd guess a lasting paradigm shift within the organization. Beautiful CD-Rom interface allows quick access to multimedia content, although there are some propensities that might lead to computer crashing via several dodgy sound processing applications and Max extensions. Regardless, a fascinating item, full of top-notch forays into many-tiered modes of high-tech presentation." — Hrvatski.

WISHART, TREVOR: Red Bird CD (EMF 022). $13.00

"Extremely great reissue of the previously-semi-available-but-not-so-for-quite-a-long-time October Music CD (which itself was a reissue of the 1977 LP on Wishart's own Yes imprint, along with the piece 'Anticredos' for 6 voices, from an LP on Hyperion, 1982). Recent developments in Wishart's street cred (contributing to Or Some Computer Music Issue One, being namedropped by Richie Devine on several occasions, Aphex Twin's use of CDP) seem to suddenly make Trevor... relevant to a younger set of listeners. Which is not entirely a bad thing (mind you). 'Red Bird' is for electronic sounds, where 'vocal sounds are changed into metallic hammers, a book slammed closed becomes a slammed door ... A vast array of recorded sounds shift and slowly morph into other sounds, and the effect is magical'. Rumours abound of this being the piece specified in Stapleton's list (adorned the fold of the Change Meeting LP), NOT the 'Beach Singularity/Menagerie' set reissued by the seemingly 95% 'list'-fueled Paradigm reissue program (not surprising seeing the contained seminal vox-murk, sonic transformations, primacy, etc... influentially evident in Nurse With Wound titles from just later). An amazing document, this. Completely essential." — Hrvatski.

VA: Southern Cones CD (EMF 027). $13.00

"This CD contains a wealth of varied, interesting, talented, charming, and utterly captivating music from Africa and South America, all of it involving technology in some way. Curated by Jürgen Bräuninger for Leonardo Music Journal, this collection of compositions is not only a pleasure to hear, it also gives an idea of what music and technology means throughout the world. The composers include Lukas Ligeti, Diego Luzuriaga, FELEMA, Eduardo Reck Miranda, Daniel Wyman, Damián Keller, Aldo Brizzi, Jürgen Bräuninger, Rodrigo Sigal, TIMELESS, Didier Guigue, and Kurt Dahlke, and their styles range from computer-generated sounds to improvisation with traditional African and South American instruments."

VA: State Of The Union 2.001 3CD (EMF 028). $35.00

"Produced by composer Elliott Sharp, State of the Union 2.001 is a massive 3-CD set and the latest in this ongoing collection of one-minute pieces by the leading lights of the international avant-garde, both famous and unknown. Ranging from electronics to the human voice and everything in-between, these pieces are fast, furious, sardonic, ecstatic, dark, serious, fleeting, and wry. Highlights include music by Atau Tanaka, Christian Marclay, Dael Orland-Smith, Eric Mingus, Eszter Balint, Foetus, Fred Frith, Freight Elevator Quartet, Harriet Tubman, Harry Smith, Henry Kaiser, Ikue Mori, Jack Womack, Jad Fair, Jeffrey Ford, Jenn Reeves, Joey Baron, John Duncan, Jonathan Bepler, Loren Mazzacane Connors, Marc Ribot, Marianne Nowotny, Matthew Shipp, Merzbow, Phill Niblock, Stephen Vitiello, Tracie Morris, Voice Crack, We, Zeena Parkins, Z'ev, Zbigniew Karkowski, and Zoot Horn Rollo."

WISHART, TREVOR: Voiceprints CD (EMF 029). $13.00

"Master composer Trevor Wishart shapes recordings of the human voice into a majestic, sonic extravaganza. With satire, sympathy, and his extraordinary talent with sound, Wishart gives us an audio panorama of the world today through the voices of many different people, famous and unknown. You'll hear the voice of Margaret Thatcher as a political cartoon, a touching portrait of Princess Diana, the powerful resonance of Martin Luther King's well-known words, the crackly voice of Neil Armstrong, the zany musicality of Elvis Presley, the playful sounds of Wishart's young daughter's voice, and the touching story of an 80-year-old woman's dream. Tongues of Fire, the final work on the CD, is a masterpiece. It is a complex extended composition that explores the human condition through the transformation of the human voice. In a spectacular display of skill in performing audio transformations, Wishart bases a major work of sounds and textures on a few utterings. This disc is an important moment in the history of electronic music."

BAHN, CURTIS: R/g CD (EMF 030). $13.00

"Curtis Bahn, bass player extraordinaire, takes his virtuoso performance to unbelievable heights of energy and musical mayhem with a sophisticated computer-based interactive electronic system that he himself designed and built. The madness in his method becomes clear when you realize that at the center of his R/g is his acoustical 'Sbass' which contains a variety of electronic sensors that greatly extend his performance possibilities. It also becomes clear that the musical power of extended performance together with responsive electronics is formidable, and in this case it allows him to mix sounds, follow algorithmically-generated shapes, process the sound of his own performance on string bass, and do it all so fast and so well that it grabs your attention."

FELDER/MORTON FELDMAN, DAVID: CD (EMF 033). $13.00

"Two first recordings of Morton Feldman's music in themselves make this CD a notable event. And then, David Felder's music puts it over the line. The music bridges two generations and two distinct personalities. Feldman, with John Cage, Earle Brown, David Tudor, and Christian Wolff, was a seminal member of the New York School in the 1950s, and his work is known for the beauty and delicacy of its orchestral colors, its 'painterly' surface, its static and quiet structure, its contemplative character. Felder's work, on the other hand, is dramatic and powerful, with giant pulsing blocks of orchestral sound lending a strong sense of motion and force which is contrasted with soft poetic moments. The two composers are linked by their association with the June in Buffalo Festival, founded by Feldman in 1975 and directed by Felder since 1985. The compositions are Morton Feldman's 'The Viola in My Life IV' (1971) and 'Instruments II' (1975); and David Felder's 'Coleccion Nocturna' (1984) and 'In Between' (1999). The performances, recorded at the 2000 June in Buffalo Festival, are by the June in Buffalo Festival Orchestra, conducted by Harvey Sollberger and Jan Williams. The soloists are Daniel Druckman (percussion), Jesse Levine (viola), Jean Kopperud (clarinets), and James Winn (piano)."

VA (CURATED BY DAVID TOOP): Not Necessarily "English Music" 2CD (EMF 036). $24.00

Incredible assemblage of UK-based experimental music, almost all of which is previously unreleased (according to Toop, only the Derek Bailey track is commonly available elsewhere). Issued in association with the Leonardo Music Journal. "David Toop curated this great 2-CD package, and he demonstrates that England was one of the hotbeds of musical experimentation in the 1960s and 1970s. These CDs are, to quote Toop, 'documentation of an extraordinary burst of musical experimentation that touches upon the overlapping practices of live electronics, improvisation, free jazz, free rock, tape music, experimental and revolutionary composition, sound sculpture, sound poetry, minimalism and a few pieces that refuse to confine themselves even to these unruly categories in order to explore the outer limits of free folk blues, symbolic table tennis, and similar improbabilities.' The musicians include David Toop, Cornelius Cardew, The Scratch Orchestra, Daphne Oram, Hugh Davies, Jane Manning, Gentle Fire, Howard Skempton, Michael Nyman, Derek Bailey, Evan Parker, Paul Lytton, Michael Parsons, Max Eastley, AMM, The Scratch Orchestra, Intermedium, Frank Perry, The People Band, Bob Cobbing, Robert Worby, John Stevens, Ron Geesin, Gentle Fire, Rain in the Face, Ranulph Glanville, The Campiello Band, Mike Cooper, A Touch of the Sun, and more."

FERRARI, LUC: Tautologos and Other Early Electronic Works CD (EMF 037). $13.00

"Luc Ferrari is among the best-known of the early electronic music pioneers. He was director of the Groupe de Recherches Musicales from 1959 to 1960, working closely with Pierre Schaeffer, and his music played a decisive role in defining the range of musique concrete. But he went further to become one of the most radical composers of his time, and this CD, with its incisive character and exceptional sounds, marks the starting point for his artistic evolution. The compositions include 'Etudes aux accidents I Study on accidents' (1958), 'Etudes aux sons tendus / Study on stretched sounds' (1958), 'Visages V / Appearance V' (1959), 'Tate et queue du dragon I Head and tail of the dragon' (1960), 'Tautologos 1' (1961), 'Tautologos 2' (1961), 'Und so weiter! And so much further' (1966, with Gerard Frey, pianist)."

AUSTIN, LARRY: Octo Mixes CD (EMF 039). $13.00

"Larry Austin, electronic music pioneering composer, remixes John Cage's 1952 classic as 'Williams [re]Mix[ed]', bringing all of the sounds of the world together into one computer-based sound collage. He brings the táragató, a Hungarian folk instrument, into the realm of the electronic world. He transforms Thomas Buckner's baritone voice. And more. This CD is a 2-track mix of music originally composed for presentation with a surround-sound eight-loudspeaker system. It combines an immense variety of electronic, vocal, and instrumental sound, performed beautifully by Thomas Buckner, Stephen Duke, and Esther Lamneck, soloists."

BLUM, EBERHARD: Berlin To Buffalo CD (EMF 041). $13.00

"Flutist extraordinaire Eberhard Blum discovered the music of Morton Feldman and other members of the New York School when he became a Creative Associate at the center for the Creative and Performing Arts in Buffalo, New York, during the 1960s. Since then he has been at the forefront of innovative musical performance. On this CD, Blum crosses the Atlantic from his native Berlin to the United States, performing works by Berlin-based Erhard Grosskopf and California-based Ralph Jones." Features three long works: "Proportion 1" (1968, for flute and electronics); "Night Tracks" (1972, electronic sounds); "Saturday Afternoon 5 O'Clock" (1973, flutes).

REYNOLDS, ROGER: Last Things, I Think, To Think About CD (EMF 044). $13.00

"Roger Reynolds' song cycle based on text by John Ashbery. It is sung by Philip Larson, baritone, accompanied by Aleck Karis, piano, and it is also recited by John Ashbery. And there is an elegant, sparing use of electronics which emphasizes the intimacy and subtlety of the entire work. Indeed, the presence of the singing voice, the speaking voice, and the electronics gives this disc a multiple dimension that is striking and thoughtful. It is a fine representation of Ashbery's poetry, reflecting its rhythms, contrasts, and depth, and more, it is perhaps a pointer towards a new approach in reconciling the meaning of music with the meaning of words."

BRÜN, HERBERT: Language, Message, Drummage CD (EMF 614). $14.00

"And here's a historic moment, the complete works of Herbert Brün in four CDs. Language, Message, Drummage features Brün's compositions for tape and for instruments performed by LaSalle Quartet, Kathleen Keasey (piano), James Culley (snare drum), University of Illinois New Music Ensemble. Herbert Brün was born 1918 in Berlin, Germany and studied with Eli Friedmann, Frank Pelleg, Wolf Rosenberg and Stefan Wolpe. Brün first turned to electronic sound production for the composition of music during the late 1950s in the Paris, Cologne and Munich studios, particularly guided by Gottfried Michael Koenig. Before that, and at the same time, he composed works for acoustic instruments: small and large chamber ensembles and orchestra." Features classic early electronic works like "Futility 1964" (1964), an explosive, exhilarating piece utilizing intersected texts spoken by Marianne Brün — a screamingly intense piece; "Anepigraphé" (1957) ("...with four different electronic generators and by mixing, modifying, and filtering, I have produced nine acoustic characters..." — Brün) & "Piece of Prose" (1972) — commissioned by the Experimental studio of the Polish Radio and produced in Warsaw.

BRÜN, HERBERT: Wayfaring Sounds CD (EMF 624). $14.00

Subtitled: Compositions for Instruments with Tape. Features "Non Sequitur VI" (1966, for flute, cello, piano, harp, marimba, percussion and tape), "Wayfaring Sounds" (1959, for solo electronics), "on stilts among ducks" (1997, for viola & electronics), "Sonoriferous Loops" (1964, for flute, trumpet, bass, percussion & tape), "Infradubiles With Percussion" (1968-84, percussion group and tape), "Sentences Now Open Wide" (1984, performed by the Performers Workshop Ensemble).

BRÜN, HERBERT: Mutatis Mutandis CD (EMF 634). $14.00

Subtitled: Compositions for Solo Instruments and Ensembles. Features: "Gestures for Eleven" (1964, chamber ensemble), "Trio For Trumpet, Trombone and Percussion," (1966), "The Laughing Thirder (1995, for piano), "String Quartet No. 3" (1963), "Sonatina for Bassoon Alone" (1953), "at loose ends" (1974), "Mutatis Mutandis 7" (1987, for flute), "Nonet" (1969, chamber ensemble),

BRÜN, HERBERT: Sawdust CD (EMF 644). $14.00

Subtitled: Computer Music Project (1976-1981). "The computer program which I called SAWDUST allows me to work with the smallest parts of waveforms, to link them and to mingle or merge them with one another. Once composed, the links and mixtures are treated, by repetition, as periods, or by various degrees of continuous change, as passing moments of orientation in a process of transformations." — Brün.

ELEGUA RECORDS:*NEEDLE & IO/NEEDLE, JESWA, & OTTO VON SCHIRACH: The Cabinet Of Dr. Caligari/Nosferatu 2CD (ELE 001/2). $19.00

"2XCD debut release from the Elegua label presents original soundtracks to the silent film masterpieces in the 'Electronic Music & the Moving Image' series, conceived by Needle (Beta Bodega) and featuring Io, Jeswa and Otto Von Schirach (Schematic). Elegant music assembled from live performances and packaged in an individually sealed and numbered edition of 1000. File under: Needle, io, Jeswa, Otto von Schirach/ soundtracks, experimental, ambient."

VA: Subtropics Vol. 1: Breath CD (ELE 005). $13.00

"For thirteen years, the Subtropics Festival has been the premiere showcase for experimental music in Miami. The first in a series of CD's compiling live recordings from the festival's digital archives, this collection revolves around the sounds of the human voice and includes brilliant performances by Robert Dick, Earle Brown, Jon Gibson, Needle & Sony Mao, Tom Buckner and Alvin Lucier ("Music For Baritone and Slow Sweep Pure Wave Oscillators"), Gustavo Matamoros and Bob Gregory, and John Cage ("Empty Words"). Individually sealed in a numbered first edition of 1000, the CD's are packaged in stamped clear plastic boxes with screen-printed clear acetate inserts. This is a collector's item for any listener interested in work of the seminal and emerging figures in modern music heard every year at the Subtropics Festival."

ELEKTRA (EUROPE):*NEIL, FRED: Tear Down The Walls & Blecker And MacDougal CD (ELEK 35632). $15.00

New two-fer presentation of the first 2 Fred Neil albums for Elektra (previously only available as individual Japanese-only CDs). Not scheduled for US release as far as we can tell, but this European mid-line presentation is pretty cheap and well presented (slip-case package, 12 page booklet with new liner notes by Peter Doggett). Tear Down The Walls was Neil's first album (in collaboration with Vince Martin), originally issued by Elektra in 1964. Backed up by Felix Pappalardi (guitar) and John Sebastian (mouth harp), Neil & Martin sing together, weaving an eloquent East Village haze that's quite mesmerizing in its understated presentation. Blecker And MacDougal was Neil's 1965 folk classic from the Elektra period, his second album for the label. Originally from Florida, Neil was heavily factored in the early days of the East Village folkie boom (Bob Dylan played harmonica for him at Cafe Wha? in 1961). His recording career went from 1964 to about 1971, peaking with Everybody's Talking on Capital (featured in the film Midnight Cowboy). Blecker & MacDougal features some legendary tracks like "Other Side To This Life" & "Travelin' Shoes" and is fine document of Fred's deep-bass voice, guitar & harmonica accompaniment — that in some ways could be seen as a crucial link between the early folk style of Dylan and the more exploratory works of say, Tim Buckley.

LOVE: Love (Mono/Stereo) CD (ELEK 35672). $15.00

European-only two-fer reissue of the first Love album, originally issued by Elektra in 1966. It's a two-fer because it contains both the mono and stereo mixes (originally issued separately), so a total of 30 tracks (the US CD edition, which may be temporarily o/p, only features the common stereo version). Includes two previously unreleased bonus tracks: alternate versions of "Number 14" and "Signed D.C.". Remastered with an extensive 12 page booklet of liner notes and graphics.

BUCKLEY, TIM: Tim Buckley/Goodbye And Hello CD (ELEK 35692). $15.00

European-only two-fer reissue of the first two Tim Buckley albums, originally issued by Elektra in 1966/67 (these albums are currently available separately in the US on Elektra, but not in this two-fer form). Remastered with a new 8 page booklet of liner notes and graphics. From Peter Doggett's liner notes: "In reclaiming Buckley as an innovator, his earliest and — in the case of Goodbye And Hello his most commercially accepted work, has tended to be passed over. Callow maybe, fallow, certainly not: beneath the veneer of singer-songwriterly trappings (Tim Buckley) and spirit-of-'67 grandiosity (Goodbye And Hello), these records — fully formed in themselves, though in the light of Buckley's later work, perhaps too much so — are both inspired and illuminating. Inspired, because while working to an essentially voguish template, there's a power and originality in Buckley's writing and performances that easily transcends formal limitations. Illuminating because the Buckley muse — the boundless pursuit of a new musical language — is already discernible in his daredevil vocal feats and instrumental passages of liquid-like languor."

ELEKTRO MUSIC DEPARTMENT (GERMANY):*CUSTOMERS, THE: Furious CD (EMD 003CD). $17.00

"It couldn't have been prevented: the night came. It said, the eagle had landed. The dark shining voice rose only a single time, probably the most powerful one, that the electronic aspects of life provide. Furious from Klaus Kotai and Daniel Pflumm is black, merciless, absorbing. In the total absence of history the tattering and the exciting moments of the eighties join the technoid high of minimal music. The 'Berliner Aristocracy Of Techno' (de:bug) plays off the retro-styles against the minimal styles in an art-philosophical and nightlife-contextual way. The sound figures of the older elektro music department-releases experience a pressing recurrence: Minimal grooves, that do not forget the drastic in the history of techno, more floorbretter, guitar-sounds combined with vocals, conceptual individualities, jingles. The dirtiness of Chicago-house is only apparently being teased by minimal pattern: 'Paint The Black House White'. You only perceive a giggle. It's time. Never. Nowhere."

KOTAI & MO: Elektro Music Department CD (EMD CD1). $15.00

"Initial CD-selection (50% new tracks, 50% previously released on previous EMD singles/LPs/videos) for Berlin-based/mystery-shrouded producers Klaus Kotai and Gabrielle Loschelder. Enabled audio actually has VERY little to do with electro, preferring the proven alignments/reforms of the Basic Channel/Chain Reaction camp as a starting point and adding some serious jab static and whisper-vox into the fray. Commercial tie-in alert: despite the fact that this is a CD, it claims to have been mastered by one Stefan Betke @ D&M, Berlin (proving that Kotai & Mo have crawled up from Berlin's under-murk into the pantheon of 'accepted artists'). Don't miss out on life." — Hrvatski.

VA: Elektro Music Department 2 CD (EMD CD2). $15.00

Second volume of tracks from this Berlin-oriented label, featuring tracks by this collective revolving around Klaus Kotai and Mo Loschelder. Tracks by Kotai, Kotai/Bader, Midnight Caller, In Hope For The Best, Mo Feat. El Puma, etc. "Known for a very minimal, subtle sound with deep Korg bass sounds. Most of the releases on the label came from Klaus Kotai and Gabriele Loschelder aka Mo. Their tracks are not meant to be melodic, but rather made up of sophisticated repetitive sound patterns." Opening with the stunning Suicide-style "So Straight", this is another impressive batch of Berlin mono-bass propulsion.

ELEKTRO.KOMFORT (GERMANY):*A.F.A.: Being Boiled 12" (EK 02). $9.00

"A.F.A. alias Dub Taylor and Jan Gabler remix Human League's 'Being Boiled' from the year 1980! Four different versions bring that classic tune on modern dancefloors."

ELEKTROLUX (GERMANY):*RUXPIN: Avalon CD (E 11111 CD). $16.00

"When releasing his groundbreaking debut Midnight Drive, Jonas Thor Gudmundsson aka Ruxpin was one of youngest, yet one of the most promising artists within the Elektrolux family. Now the 21 year old music talent from Iceland comes back in full effect with his second longplayer beating all expectations by far. Ruxpin's epic masterpiece Avalon embraces the two chapters 'Arrival' and 'Departure' which contain a total number of 29 outstanding songs. Both parts of the album deliver an impressive proof of Ruxpin talent to blend dreamy melodies with electronic grooves. Again and again the Iceland-sound typical fairy tale melodies get distorted by tiny sound fragments, just to change themselves into fragile but incredibly funky chillout tracks. With this album release, Ruxpin has definitely opened up a marvellous new chapter in his musical career. After having performed with the pop stars like Björk and Alex Paterson (The Orb) as well as a underwater concert in the city of Reykjavik, Jonas Thor Gudmundsson is bound to present more wonderful surprises in the near future. A milestone release in electronica chillout."

ELEVAGE DE POSSIERE (FRANCE):*DIETRICH, DON: Dietrich LP (EPP 008 LP). $19.00

First solo album by the legendary Don Dietrich from Borbetomagus! "There are the new Elevage de Poussiere issues of solo recordings of other 'artterrorists'. Dietrich has been recorded at his home, directly on D.A.T. Six abrasive titles on tenor saxophone, gadgets & peavey." "Let's come into the hut that sells the current next world to free jazz — human still all-too-human — which is grindstoned in Dietrich's smithy as a kind of music made of buttons and overflowed by its electronic gargoye blow, as a tearing mechanical vibration, as a bully gesticulation from the lungs, let's notice the metallic KO that is reorganizing the musician's body, let's notice the golden engines too that are demolishing the archaic in it, let's come to applaud the pulmonary inner wind and the upside down technology too. Hey you fearless listener, then jump upon this Ouroboros's back which is made of metal and phlegms, jump upon one of its rollers made of feedback and whitenoise, hold it and surf upon it. The saxophonist's rapture screams with their hundred pieces of feet grinded by the golden teeth of its effect pedals will use to play the surf echo. Snuffing USA. Just for the sake of a psychic and civilized survey." — Yves Botz.

JUNKO: Sleeping Beauty LP (EPP 009 LP). $19.00

Solo album from the vocalist of Hijokaidan. "Such a fucking poetry of the gap, something very close to Yoko Ono's orgasmic vocalisations, to Diamanda Galas menstrual glossolalias, to Linda Sharrock's (*) sexual negritude. What a free from the ritornello (**) free music, what a totally free chant, so let the listener go through to it and let him free to listen to 'that'. To that psychoanalysts' id, to the trouble Eros, to the perforated tongue from the pornographic body. It surely takes a lot of perversity to get submitted to that. To that improbable soundtrack from a porno film (***) which would look like some inverted movie, like some black pictures. It surely takes a lot of terror to listen to that voice but you may call it beauty. Because that voice deals with some wonderful confusion (something between pleasure and pain), that indiscernible space due to the man who lays upon a woman. A frightening paroxysmal flow. Almost endless quivering deep into the dyslexic monstrous climbing up to inhuman shrills voice, held close by the auditory pain. Her chant as a desiring machine one more time building up some unspeakable, some terror so. A chant coming from the pleased or from the suffering body. Junko made a poem out of the scream which gets the atom particles speed and its dread too that is grinding both the word and the meaning. Hop ! Got free from the semiotic chain, as the rising of an organless body among the small world of music — try to imagine the neighbourhood terror — but imagine that this scream was calling us : did you hear something?" — Michel Henritzi.

ELICA (ITALY):*CONFUSIONAL QUARTET: CD (ELICA 3210). $15.00

Reissue of works from from 1980-81 by this Italian group. "Futurism with its dynamic force, youthful spirit, attention to innovation and a bit of Italian histrionism; the sixties with their hopeful and playful atmosphere and their crisp and catchy music; Italy with its beautiful sun, beaches, Mediterranean brightness and laxity; minimalism with its focus on the deepness of details; all the things happening in Bologna in the late seventies, among some of the newest and most creative experiences in film, performance, fashion and music. With these elements and a strong, confessed musical influence of an unlikely pair like Area and Devo some of the freshest and most original music ever was produced by the Confusional Quartet (Lucio Ardito, bass guitar; Gianni Cuoghi, drums; Enrico Serotti, electric guitar; Marco Bertoni, keyboards), with the help of the inventive craftsmanship of their sound engineer Gianni Gitti. Composed as short, fast changing miniatures with crazy rhythms and outstandingly playful and catchy tunes, blending diverse musical genres, very nicely arranged and enriched by a creative use of the recording studio, the 24 pieces collected in this disc represent their almost complete recorded output (including alternative versions and a previously unpublished piece) and show a musical maturity which is quite amazing for a group in which three members out of four were at the time still under 18!"

DEDALUS: Pezzi Inediti '75-'76' + Materiali per tre Esecutori e Nastro Meg CD (ELICA 3220). $15.00

"Hailed in the early seventies as the best Italian group of avant-garde jazz/rock along with Area and Perigeo, in the mid-seventies, with the release of their second album, Dedalus started a much more uncompromisingly experimental approach to music through the use and combination of disparate musical materials: improvisation, electronic music and musique concrète techniques, elements of contemporary classical composition, folk tunes, jazz, use of self-built and modified instruments for timbric research, etc., with much conviction and totally unique and beautiful results. This disc re-issues their very hard-to-find second album, Materiali per tre esecutori e mastro magnetico with the addition of about 40 minutes of material recorded in the year following the release of the album, most of which was produced specifically for a record to be released on Cramps Records' historical DiVerso series, which remained unpublished because of the label's discontinuance. Most of the material was recorded by the trio composed of Fiorenzo Michele Bonansone (cello, piano, Fender piano, voice, accordion, synthesizer, soprano ocarina, electrified mandolin, pipe, bottlephone), Marco di Castri (tenor and soprano saxophones, electric, acoustic, prepared or bent guitars, harmonica, flute, Moroccan oboe, pipe with reed) and Enrico Grosso (drums, percussion and noises) — with the help of Ennio Bonansone as sound engineer on the pieces from the album — and part as a duet by Fiorenzo Michele Bonansone and Marco Di Castri."

BERTONI, MARCO: 18.8.81 10" (ELICA 3305). $15.00

"After quitting the outstandingly original and enjoyable Italian group Confusional Quartet, keyboard player Marco Bertoni, upon the invitation of the Quartet's fifth member, recording engineer Gianni Gitti, recorded a handful of pieces for piano and studio work which was eventually to be released on record by Les Disques Du Crepuscle, a product that never materialized. The piano tunes here have a playfulness and a nonchalance of Satiesque inspiration, exposing an intimate world which reveals through simplicity and primitive studio inventiveness, with a production emphasising the idea of sketches and of artisan work. In these eight short pieces, the piano tracks are superimposed, speeded up or down, deconstructed and generally played with, although most of the time left in their original unmodified beauty, with street cats, breathings, radio-dramas, Russian voices, fake birds and Gianni Cuoghi's drum elements, discreetly adding to them through Gianni Gitti's studio touch. Released on vinyl record instead of compact-disc, considering this format to be more appropriate to the nature of this music." Year 2000 release.

FERRARI, LUC: Danses Organiques CD (ELICA 3340). $18.00

"Luc Ferrari is one of the most important and intriguing figures of the last forty years, a pioneer of musique concrète at the beginning of the Groupe de Recherche Musicales in Paris, and perhaps 'the only real artist among many excellent researchers' as someone suggested. With a very peculiar sensibility he creates his own musical world in which wit, sensuality, extreme sound realism, playful analytical abilities, social concerns, and love for good food are important and inspiring elements. No matter how radical his musical intuitions and concepts may be or have been, his music has always had a provoking but charming quality. Danses Organiques, presented here in its original 75-minute version (an abridged 45-minute version also exists), could be a 'strange meeting between two girls and a tape recorder' and is one of his most unorthodox, lively and sensually charged pieces, recorded between 1971 and 1973 in a period when he was leaving the official studios to build his own independently. It was 'completely recorded on my small machines: I recorded the single tracks separately and then superimposed them to create an organic whole'. The composer lends his tape recorder to two girls who are to meet and to start a relation and then builds his imaginary folklore music around their confidential dialogue, sighs and moans, with the addition of his deep observations on organ-ic music. The resulting music has a groovy rhythmic quality in its surreal synthetic development and is outstandingly modern with its similarities to some unacademical artisanal music made today with electroacoustic means. Maybe it is unfair to say this, but Elica thinks this is one of the most beautiful and intriguing musical pieces ever recorded. Digipack cover with insert containing texts in Italian, French and English (essays by Giuseppe Chiari and Samon Takahashi and biographical notes) and photographs."

GUERIN, JEAN: Tacet CD (ELICA 3560). $18.00

"One of the best-kept secrets in the very wonderful Futura Records catalogue of the late 60's/early 70's (remember Red Noise, Horde Catalytique Pour La Fin, Jacques Berrocal, Semool, Chêne Noir, Mahogany Brain and the others?), this album even missed attaining the cult obscurity status of some of those mentioned, remaining basically unheard because of the difficulty of even getting aware of its existence, not to mention the quasi-impossibility of tracing a copy of the original LP record. It is an original and strange album as only drummers can do (remember Jacques Thollot, Robert Wyatt, Eroc, Bernard Lubat, Skip Spence?), whose music originates from the soundtrack Jean Guérin — a rather classical manner, at the time involved in the be bop scene in France, playing mainly in the Guy Lafitte group — composed in 1970 for Bof, anatomie d'un livreur, an anarchic feature-film by Claude Faraldo which shocked the French audience with its subversive attack against the holy trinity Work-Family-Property. Although to further differentiate the music here recorded from the film and define it as a work on its own, the title of the album was even changed to Tacet. With the instrumental contributions of Bernard Vitet and Jean Paul Rondepierre on trumpets and trumpet-in water, Philippe Maté on tenor saxophone, Françoise Achard on vocals and gloop ténor, Diétri Guévissier on double basse and himself on bass guitar, darbouka, gloop ténor, percussions, rhythm machine, generator and VCS3, Jean Guérin through many months of studio work on the elements recorded for the film soundtrack — which made this the most expensive production of the whole Futura catalogue — created an indescribable and surreal, futuristic and mysterious, liquid and spacious, echoing and sometimes grooving blend of electronics, instruments, abstract vocals and treatments unlike anything else ever recorded. A rather straight (for a change) re-issue of the original record in digi-pack type cover, with reproductions of the original sleeve and notes (with English translation) by Philippe Carles, co-author of the important book Free Jazz, Black Power.”

FERRARI, LUC: Danses Organiques LP (ELICA 3704). $17.00

“Upon demand, a vinyl version of this piece previously released only on compact disc. Record housed in a gatefold sleeve with bigger reproduction of the pictures and the addition in the notes of the English translation of Luc Ferrari’s spoken introduction at the beginning of the piece, which caused so much controversy and confusion among non French speaking listeners.”

VITAMIN B12, THE: The Vitamin B12 2x10" (ELICA 3708). $25.00

“More catchy than Dlin Dlon Cowboy. The Vitamin B12’s music maintains an ingenious home-made sound in a refined bric-a-brac of experimental sound explorations, adventurous and successful juxtapositions and playful melodies and structures. This set presents 24 kaleidoscopic miniatures, like the images which adorn the cover, assembled with amazingly gracious do-it-yourself pop sensibility, groovy lounge tendencies and a passionate curiosity for noise and sound modification. The history of The Vitamin B12 remains a mystery for us too, so that not many words can be written on that. This is its first album which is not self-released, following an obscure four-LP box set and an even more obscure double LP set, which were mysteriously released in tiny editions in England in the last decade or so. A double 10" LP record set (as we decided that a Vitamin B12 release can only be a multiple one) with color gatefold sleeve, released in an edition of about 400 copies.”

EMANATE RECORDS:

VA: Emanated CD (EMAN 001 CD). $12.00

Debut release on a new CA-based IDM label, focusing on that sparkling electronic machine crinkle that can sound just right. OST’s track, “August” is a legitimate classic, that could easily fit somewhere within the Warp “Artificial Intelligence” series. Many other tracks are of similar vintage & emotional quality. The CD features obscure US artists such as: Solenoid (aka Office Products, aka Mr. Pharmacist; currently been doing work with Mark Hosler of Negativland, while having escaped an earlier life of hacking, sits behind the door and thinks about aesthetic pranks’), Lillienthal (Arrow Kleeman, NYC, has performed with the Silver Apples, before becoming Lillienthal, “hoping that his search for sound found and personal mood will set him aside from the even flow of contemporary electronic dance music, this is his debut’), If Then Else. (‘playing bass, playing jazz, discovers the synthesizer all hell break loose; not to be seen until now, he hides with the machine in attempts to beat it at it’s own games’), Sybaritet (aka Xian Hawkins, who has also performed and recorded with Simeon of the reformed Silver Apples), O.S.T. (aka Rook Vallade, has recorded on Switch Records, Plug Research, Worm Interface, remixed Spacetime Continuum, etc.).

DEGIÈRE: Diffusion Chamber 10" (EMAN 10 EP). $6.50

“Four tracks of soupy digital atmospheres and bass heavy abstract beats taking personal experiments with sound dynamics and modular synthesis to new levels. deGiere overloads computer patches emulating vintage analog synthesizers until they sputter and break, ejecting clouds of digital particles onto the stereo field. These recordings form the backdrop for subtle melodies and chilled rhythms borrowing influence from a variety of electronic styles from dub and downtempo to techno.”

O.S.T.: Deflect CD (EMAN 5 CD). $11.00

“O.S.T. is the guise of the prolific San Francisco based producer Chris Douglas. He reportedly has over 500 tracks awaiting release but, so far, has only released a handful of material (under his O.S.T. and Rook Valard guises) on a number of labels including Worm Interface, Plug Research, Reflective, Switch, Qlipothic, Phthalo, Emanate, XLR8R, Polyrhythmic, and Dial. At an early age Chris found himself under the mentorship of Spacetime Continuum’s Jonah Sharpe, where he honed his production skills while Jonah introduced him to the best sounds in techno and electronica from around the world. From there Chris used that musical knowledge combined with his deep-rooted and often troubled emotions to produce music that walks the fine line of intricate melodic complexity and dark chasmic chaos- music where, at any given time, you don’t know whether to be engulfed by its dark depths or overwhelmed by its vast dissonance. Contained in O.S.T. are bits of jazz, drum & bass, dark ambient, and a healthy dose of experimental sounds. But as soon as you recognize a style or sound, the track has evolved in another unexpected direction. Nothing compares to the sound of O.S.T., but maybe if you imagined a collaboration of artists like Freeform, Lustmord, Low Res/Crank, Coil, Phthalocyanine, Bisk, & SAW II-era Aphex Twin.”

O.S.T.: Deflect LP (EMAN 5 LP). $11.00

BARRETTE: Velvet Brick CD (EMAN 7 CD). $11.00

“Developing upon his earlier four track EP under the name Baretta Hydrant/Sprout producer Jeff Allen returns with a full length of similar improvised down tempo. This material, marked by thicker production leans more towards the fusion/funk hop/future soul of recent Northern English producers. The straightforward percussion section embodies the spirit of a studio drummer laying down pocket grooves, yet is all the while entirely electronic. Analog piano and organ-like leads and melodies compliment the fat, warm bass lines which provide the structure below. Moods vary from that of school yards during recess to sparse, brooding spaces, and many shades in between. In short, bittersweet. This release continues on with how Emanate is about quality music that doesn’t need to fit into a particular genre. Fans of early Pork Recordings, Baby Mammoth, Fila Brazillia, won’t want to miss this.”

BARRETTE: Velvet Brick LP (EMAN 7 LP). $11.00

SOLENOID: Services Rendered CD (EMAN 8 CD). $11.00

“The eighth release for Emanate turns out to be David Chandler, a.k.a. Solenoid. You might also know him as part of Office Products. This release shows a few different sides of Solenoid, from the opening ambient track ‘Si’ to the fierce electro of ‘July 20_2’, to a quirky ‘Lg Waltz’ that ends the album. With Solenoid you really never know what to expect next.”

SOLENOID: Services Rendered LP (EMAN 8 LP). $11.00

LP version in full color sleeve.

IF.THEN.ELSE: Pause LP (EMAN 9 LP). $11.00

LP version. “The aptly titled second album from label head if.then.else. He was forced to put his own music and the operation of the label on hold while serving a six month sentence for marijuana possession. You can now readjust your image of the typical ‘experimental’ knob-twiddler firing off emails to the idm list from the confines of mom’s house in suburbia. Suge Knight meets the Jedi Knights or Shyne sitting down with Richard Devine is probably stretching the point, but the bottom line is that Pause was conceived at a critical juncture for the artist. Not only was he facing his first incarceration, but also experiencing his longest stretch without his bong in quite some time? and yet, a sense of calm permeates these occasionally brooding soundscapes. We can recognize the warm washed out tones of his first full length Realizations, but a heightened feeling of expansiveness may be a result of his recent interest in the work of Pole. Other possible points of reference might be Bola, Funkstörung, and ambient-era Aphex. Extended bouts of jonesing may also play into the situation to some extent.”

EMANEM (UK):

BAILEY, DEREK: Domestic & Public Pieces CD (EMANEM 4001). $17.00

Emanem is a long standing British improv label (once residing in Australia), now with a burgeoning line of CDs documenting this scene. Domestic... is a collection of solo guitar improvisations from 1975-77, originally issued on LP on the Quark label (as well as the Caroline Guitar sampler and Emanem 3404). Good liner notes (and short interview) by Martin Davidson included.

PARKER/PAUL LYTTON, EVAN: 3 Other Stories CD (EMANEM 4002). $17.00

Emanem is a long standing British improv label (once residing in Australia), now with a burgeoning line of CDs documenting this scene. Previously unissued studio recordings by this duo from 1971-74. Parker is found on a whole range of instruments (ss, ts, sheng, lyttonephone — a homemade slide contrabass clarinet, Dopplerphone — a length of soft rubber tubing, ocarina, voice tube, etc. Lytton, one of the all time masters of free percussion, plays an overwhelmingly large kit (see the pictures), as well as live electronics, air horns, harmonium, etc. Classic free music.

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Face To Face CD (EMANEM 4003). $17.00

A minimal version of the SME here, just John Stevens (percussion, cornet, voice) and Trevor Watts (ss). A reissue of Emanem LP 303, with 3 previously unreleased tracks (recorded in 1973). “The two had become extremely close musically, and the music had become very austere — stripped down to the bare essentials. The end result was at times akin to one person playing two instruments, unlike so many duos which sound like two people playing solo simultaneously.”

LACY, STEVE: Weal & Woe CD (EMANEM 4004). $17.00

Lacy’s very first solo soprano saxophone concert (Avignon 1972). Plus “The Woe,” his anti-war suite performed by his Quintet in 1973 (Steve Potts, Irene Aebi, Kent Carter, Oliver Johnson). Reissue of Emanem 301 & Quark 9998.

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Summer 1967 CD (EMANEM 4005). $17.00

Repressed. All previously unissued recordings, mainly made up of the duo of John Stevens (percussion) and Evan Parker (ss, ts), with Peter Kowald (b) on about a third of it. This marks the earliest to date recordings of Parker and is a tremendous snapshot of some ancient history. “Parker and Stevens seemed to break through to a deeper level of hearing, where a sound was not set against other sounds but rather against the silence around it, so that one gained heightened awareness of its growth and decay, its special colour, and of the vibrant stillness in which it took place.” —Victor Schonfield/Downbeat/1968.

BRAXTON/DEREK BAILEY, ANTHONY: First Duo Concert CD (EMANEM 4006). $17.00

Their earliest meeting on record — the complete Wigmore Hall concert in London, 1974 (reissue of most of Emanem 601 2LP set). Braxton on his various array of reeds, Bailey on amplified guitar and “19 string (approx.) guitar”. Major historic meeting between two key free music figureheads.

RUTHERFORD/PAUL ROGERS, PAUL: Rogues CD (EMANEM 4007). $17.00

“A sensational concert of trombone & double bass duos & solos recorded in Birmingham 1988 — previously unissued.”

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Hot & Cold Heroes CD (EMANEM 4008). $17.00

“Previously unissued recordings from the early 1980s & from 1991 by the longest lasting SME, featuring John Stevens with the two vastly under-rated acoustic musicians Nigel Coombes (violin) & Roger Smith (guitar).” Fantastic acoustic interplay, making this some of the most uniquely rewarding music on planet earth.

PARKER/PAUL LYTTON, EVAN: Two Octobers CD (EMANEM 4009). $17.00

Live duo improv recordings between Parker (ss, ts, voice, voice tube) & Lytton (percussion, live electronics) recorded at various European concerts 1972-75 (all previously unissued). “It was constantly on the edge of something — Lytton’s attempts to manipulate more things than any human can, Parker’s faster-than-the-mind articulation. His circular breathing, which often flummoxes the most resourceful partners, brought out some of Lytton’s more original playing.” —Steve Beresford.

RUSSELL/ROGER TURNER, JOHN: Birthdays CD (EMANEM 4010). $17.00

New recordings from February, 1996 in the UK, of improv duets between Russell (acoustic guitar) & Tuner (pedal drums & assorted percussion). “It should be emphasized that no amplification or electronics is used by either musician. Who needs electronics when one can produce a range of sounds as remarkable as this?” —Martin Davidson.

CARTER/BOBBY BRADFORD, JOHN: Tandem 1 CD (EMANEM 4011). $17.00

70 minutes of Bradford (cornet) & Carter (clarinet) duets, recorded in Worcester, MA. Previously unissued music by these legendary Ornette alumni.

CARTER/BOBBY BRADFORD, JOHN: Tandem 2 CD (EMANEM 4012). $17.00

2nd volume of all previously unissued recordings of solos & duets for clarinet and cornet. “All of a sensational LA duo and solo performance, plus the remainder of the Worcester concert leftover from Tandem 1 — improvisations on original compositions.”

BAILEY, DEREK: Lace CD (EMANEM 4013). $17.00

Previously unissued solo guitar improvisations, recorded in LA on 12/15/89.

SMITH, ROGER: Unexpected Turns CD (EMANEM 4014). $17.00

“Stunning solo acoustic guitar improvisations digitally recorded at home by one of the unsung masters, who made his previously highly acclaimed solo record much too long ago in 1980. ‘A mercurial combination of flowing lyricism and disruptive awkwardness, unafraid of exploiting the conventional beauty of the instruments timbre as well as startling the ear with more abrasive sounds.’ —Ian Vickers.”

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Quintessence 1 CD (EMANEM 4015). $17.00

“The whole of the sensational 85 minute concert featuring the quintet of John Stevens, Derek Bailey, Kent Carter, Evan Parker & Trevor Watts (split over volumes 1 & 2) — a classic of free improvisation (recorded 1974 — the only recordings every made by this quintet). Plus previously unissued and unexpected improvisations by the trio of Stevens, Carter & Watts (from '73, on 4015) and the duo of Stevens & Watts (also from '73, on 4016)."

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Quintessence 2 CD (EMANEM 4016). $17.00

2nd volume. The unissued duo works by Stevens (cornet, voice, percussion) and Watts (ss) are way out and an invigorating reminder of the outlandish possibilities of free improvisation, especially "DAA-OOM" ("a loose composition inspired by the music of both the central African pygmies and Albert Ayler — even 23 years later, the rawness of these pieces is somewhat startling." — Martin Davidson).

COOMBES/STEVE BERESFORD, NIGEL: Two To Tangle CD (EMANEM 4017). $17.00

"Their 1979 duo debut was generally considered, by a handful of people, to be the most significant advance in violin & piano music for around 200 years. Here is a second mighty helping from recent studio & concert performances (1997). Previously unissued." Coombes (violin); Beresford (piano, small trumpet).

RUTHERFORD & ISKRA 1912, PAUL: Sequences 72 & 73 CD (EMANEM 4018). $17.00

Previously unissued recordings from 1972-74. "Two of the finest extended compositions for improvisers — the only published examples of Rutherford's work in that idiom — featuring Maggie Nicols & Norma Winstone (vocals), Kenny Wheeler (tp), Malcolm Griffiths, Paul Nieman & Geoff Perkins (trombones), Dick Hart (tuba), Dave White (clarinets & saxophones), Evan Parker (saxophones), Howard Riley (p), Barry Guy (bs), plus in 1972 Trevor Watts (saxophones), and in 1973 Derek Bailey (guitar) & Tony Oxley (electronics) — all conducted by the composer."

RUTHERFORD, PAUL: The Gentle Harm Of The Bourgeoisie CD (EMANEM 4019). $17.00

Reissue of the definitive solo trombone album, from 1974, with additional material from the same sessions. His first album of this sort, it has been described by Derek Bailey (rather famously) as "...still the best record of solo free improvising you are likely to find. Maybe it's the only one... if you're thinking of buying a record of solo improvisation you should try and get this one. It's the genuine article."

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Withdrawal CD (EMANEM 4020). $17.00

Previously unissued recordings from 1966-67. "Transitional sextet and septet performances quite unlike anything before or since, featuring John Stevens, Trevor Watts, Barry Guy, Evan Parker, Paul Rutherford, Kenny Wheeler and, in 1967, Derek Bailey. Not only of great historical interest, but fine music in its own right, too. The earliest published recordings of Guy & Parker, and one of the earliest of Bailey playing free music."

COXHILL/VERYAN WESTON, LOL: Boundless CD (EMANEM 4021). $17.00

New recordings from 1998. "A fine sequence of shortish soprano saxophone and piano duos reflecting the moods of two exceptional improvisers on a Winter's day. The first time they have appeared as a duo on record since 1978, revealing their playing to be more adventurous than ever."

PARKER/BARRY GUY/PAUL LYTTON, EVAN: At The Vortex CD (EMANEM 4022). $17.00

First release of some 1996 recordings; Parker (ts, ss), Guy, (amplified double bass), Lytton (perc.). "The whole of a London club date comprising two extended exuberant improvisations, making it very different to their previous releases. Perhaps the most ferocious and relaxed example of this trio on record."

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ORCHESTRA: For You To Share CD (EMANEM 4023). $17.00

Reissue of a pretty major improvisational drone work, with an additional unreleased track (both recorded in 1970). A unique piece in the SME discography which will appeal to those interested in spacious minimalist drones, etc. "Concert and studio recordings of peace music organized by John Stevens for himself and Trevor Watts with numerous workshop musicians and audience people on saxophones, percussion and voices mostly contributing a flexible drone. Only Stevens could have organized music as outrageous as — must be heard to be believed."

MINTON, PHIL: A Doughnut In Both Hands (Solo Singing 1975-1982) CD (EMANEM 4025). $17.00

"Solo singing. The variety of sounds that this man can make with his voice and mouth is totally unbelievable. Reissue of Rift 3 with extra material from the same and slightly later sessions." "In the late 1960s and early 1970s, several musicians radically extended their ranges, to make sounds not envisaged by the designers of their instruments. This was usually achieved by finding new techniques or by adding amplification or by devising new instruments. Perhaps the most remarkable of these extensions was that of Phil Minton. In most other cases, one could work out how he managed to extend his voice in so many directions, merely left the investigator with a sore throat. The first 15 tracks on this CD comprised his first solo album, which came out on Fred Frith's Rift label in the USA. Most are free improvisations exploring one or more aspects of his remarkable chops. In order to expand the collection to CD length, some additional tracks were added."

ROTTOR: The First Full Turn CD (EMANEM 4026). $17.00

Paul Rutherford (trombone, voice), Julie Tippett (voice, thumb piano), Keith Tippett (piano, bells, maracas), Paul Rogers (double bass). Features a 53-minute live recording from 1998 (the first performance by this quartet), with a bonus Rutherford live trombone piece tacked on.

BAILEY, DEREK: Fairly Early Derek Bailey With Postscripts CD (EMANEM 4027). $17.00

"Solo electric guitar improvisations from 1971 (unedited) & 1973-4 concert excerpts with Kent Carter & John Stevens; 1974 rehearsal extracts with Anthony Braxton; a 1979 cassette letter (edited less); previously unissued 1980 acoustic guitar improvisations; postscripts from 1987 & 1998. This disc comprises various items, mainly from Emanem LPs, that have not made it to CD yet. It is not meant to be a comprehensive portrait — more a sort of scrapbook showing some of the different instrumental approaches that Derek Bailey has used over the years. In his early free work, Bailey used a six-string guitar with pedal-controlled amplification. This allowed him, among other things, to instantly control the volume of each note sounded, and also to vary the volume during the course of a sound. Using this technique meant that notes could fade in and/or end abruptly, in direct opposition to what happens naturally. Around 1972, Bailey added another loudspeaker and another volume pedal to his guitar, enabling him to throw sounds around stereophonically in addition to what he was already doing...As an alternative to his stereo set up, Bailey also used a 19-string (approx) guitar — perhaps the only modified instrument he has used."

WESTON/JOHN EDWARDS/MARK SANDERS, VRYAN: Mercury Concert CD (EMANEM 4028). $17.00

"The whole of a recent concert (6/24/98) — proof that there is still plenty of life and freshness to be found in the all acoustic piano/double bass/percussion format." "Veryan Weston's playing comes from both within and without the jazz tradition. It has the power and drive that is the hallmark of the jazz musician, but it is laced with the cerebral ethos of the European avant-garde — as manifested in the piano music of Boulez and Stockhausen."

Employing fierce glissandi and mighty block-chords, Weston never shirks danger. His improvisations leave the listener almost toppling off the edge of the seat." — Steve Ford.

BUTCHER/PHIL DURRANT/JOHN RUSSELL, JOHN: The Scenic Route CD (EMANEM 4029). $17.00

"Most of two recent concert performances by this exceptional all acoustic saxophone/violin/guitar trio. This trio has been one of the finest improvising groups around since its formation in 1984...the music is getting sparser, and almost sedate. Paradoxically, it is also getting more playful, with more risk being taken now that the group no longer has to prove itself."

PARKER, EVAN: Waterloo 1985 CD (EMANEM 4030). $17.00

"An hour long improvisation by Evan Parker (saxophones), Paul Rutherford (trombone), Hans Schneider (double bass) & Paul Lytton (percussion & live electronics). Previously unissued." Recorded live 8/17/85 in Brussels. "So here you have the columns of air of Evan Parker and Paul Rutherford 13 years ago, with the 'old kit' of Paul Lytton (Chinese drums, Dexion rack, old telephonist's mike, etc...somewhat simplified if you compare the mad set-up of the 70s) and the quiet Hans Schneider replacing Barry Guy (who was unavailable) on a dry acoustic bass." — Jean-Michel Van Schouwenberg.

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Low Profile CD (EMANEM 4031). $17.00

"More outrageous concert recordings by the edition of the SME featuring John Stevens (percussion, cornet, voice), Nigel Coombes (violin) & Roger Smith (guitar), with Colin Wood (cello) added in 1977." Recordings from 1977 to 1988, all previously unreleased.

SMITH, ROGER: Extended Plays CD (EMANEM 4032). $17.00

"Mostly extended solo acoustic guitar improvisations (recorded digitally), to complement the mainly short items on his previously acclaimed CD (Emanem 4014). Also a duet with flautist Neil Metcalfe." Recordings from 1993-7, previously unissued. "When reviewing the previous CD, some commentators suggested that Smith's playing shows the influence of Derek Bailey and Hans Reichel. Smith did study with Bailey in the early 70s, but he soon became one of the improvising guitarists to sound the least like the older musician. On the other hand, Smith has heard virtually none of Reichel's playing. They both arrived on the scene in the early 1970s with their respective styles fairly well formed. If their playing does have something in common, it is probably due to their being influenced by much blues-based material. There are, however, major differences. For instance, Smith plays an unaltered Spanish guitar and does not use any Cagney preparations. He also rarely uses amplification. Smith is perhaps best known for the nearly twenty years he spent as a member of the Spontaneous Music Ensemble."

CARTER/ALBRECHT MAURER, KENT: The Juilaguet Collection CD (EMANEM 4033). $17.00

"Carter (double bass) and Albrecht Maurer (violin) fit incredibly well together, even though they were born twenty years apart on opposite sides of the Atlantic. Two pieces are based on compositions by Maurer, and one on a composition by Carter. All the rest are free improvisations, but the musicians' rapport and sensibilities are so strong that it sounds as though these performances were fully prepared in advance. This collection is a very fine example of string music." — Martin Davidson.

COXHILL, LOL: Alone and Together CD (EMANEM 4034). $17.00

"Improvised soprano and sopranino saxophone solos of the usual high standard, plus duets with Steve Wishart (violin and hurdy gurdy) and Marcio Mattos (cello and electronics)." Previously unissued live recordings from 1991, '96 & '99.

PARKER, EVAN: Foxes Fox CD (EMANEM 4035). $17.00

"Studio recordings with Steve Beresford (piano), John Edwards (double bass) and Louis Moholo (percussion). Extended quartet performances plus short duos and trios." Recorded 7/21/99.

RUSSELL/MAARTEN ALTENA/TERRY DAY, JOHN: The Fairly Young Bean (1981) CD (EMANEM 4036). $17.00

"Acoustic guitar, cello or double bass, & percussion trio improvisations — intended for release as the third CAW LP which never happened." Recorded 3/24/81.

BERGER & EDWARD BLACKWELL, KARL: Just Play CD (EMANEM 4037). $17.00

"Hard-swinging vibraphone and percussion free jazz duets based on compositions by Berger and Don Cherry. In contrast to these largely metallic sounds, there are also two African sounding improvisations on two instruments made from wood — a bala(fon) (African xylophone) and an osi-drum (slit drum). Reissue of Quark 9996 with an extra piece from the same concert. 61 minutes." Recorded in Albany, NY, 3/20/76.

BERESFORD/COOMBES/SMITH/DAY: Three & Four Pullovers CD (EMANEM 4038). $17.00

"A trio concert by Steve Beresford (toys & electronics), Nigel Coombes (violin & electronics) & Roger Smith (guitar) described by Beresford as 'a cross between an SME tiny-elements-interlocking-thing and an AMM landscape.' Plus excerpts from a quartet concert 3 years later with Beresford also playing piano & euphonium, Coombes just on violin, Smith continuing on guitar and Terry Day on percussion, alto saxophone, cello and mandolin. Reissue of Quartz-Mirliton Cassette 12 with extra material from a later concert. 76 minutes." Recorded 1975-78.

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ORCHESTRA: Mouthpiece CD (EMANEM 4039). $17.00

"Outrageous sounds produced by a workshop orchestra directed by John Stevens — an SME-type improvisation; instrumental & vocal drones; a mechanically rhythmic yet unpredictable piece; and an all-out improvisation featuring non-vocal mouth sounds, vocal sounds & instruments. The exact personnel of this ensemble music are not known (apart from the leader on cornet), so they are not given. 70 minutes — previously unissued." A series of various recordings made in London during 1973.

BIANCO/PAUL DUNMALL/SIMON PICARD, TONY: Utoma Trio CD (EMANEM 4040). $17.00

"Three high-energy, post-Coltrane improvisations featuring percussion and two tenor saxophones." "In the last years of his life, John Coltrane was using the drums as the predominant instrument in his performance, playing with two or more drummers at once or just dueting with a drummer. In the Utoma Trio I have the opportunity to explore this concept explored by John Coltrane." — Tony Bianco

HARADA CONDACTION ENSEMBLE, MASASHI: Enter The Continent CD (EMANEM 4041). $17.00

"Eight and six piece Boston ensembles conducted by Harada's dancing. Participants are Greg Kelley (trumpet), Tucker Dulin and Christian Pincok (trombones), Eric Carlson (tuba), Bob Rainey (soprano saxophone), Aleta Cole (violin), Dan Levin (cello), Mike Bullock (double bass), and Phil Tomasic (electric guitar)."

LACY, STEVE: Hoaky CD (EMANEM 4042). $17.00

"Virtually the whole of the 1976 Montreal solo concert — one of his best — including the complete Tao cycle and several other pieces, one of which ('Hooky') is not on any other record. Reissue of half of Quark LP 9998 with over 50 minutes of previously unissued material from the same concert."

LOWE/EUGENE CHADBOURNE, FRANK: Don't Punk Out CD (EMANEM 4043). $17.00

"A unique set of tenor saxophone and guitar duets mainly based on original compositions, with a couple of free improvisations and some pieces by other musicians. Considered by some to be among the best work of both musicians. Solo additions feature three Lowe pieces performed on a collapsing guitar in 1979, and some saxophone recorded in 2000. Reissue of QED LP 995 with extra later material."

RILEY TRIO, HOWARD: Synopsis CD (EMANEM 4044). $17.00

"Graphic scores interpreted by pianist Riley with Barry Guy on amplified basses and Tony Oxley on percussion and electronics. Perhaps the best recorded example of this exploratory trio that lasted for about six years. Reissue of Incus LP 13 with extra material from the same session."

BUTCHER, JOHN: Fixations (14) CD (EMANEM 4045). $17.00

"Butcher's third solo album finds him playing 14 solos in various part of the world — all in concert apart from two tracks in a renovated, disused railway station. Highly distinctive unaccompanied soprano and tenor saxophone improvisations."

THOMAS, PAT: Mur CD (EMANEM 4046). $17.00

Solo piano, recorded live at Cheltenham & Gloucester College 12/10/99. "The whole of an improvised solo piano concert (without any electronics) finds Thomas exploring a wide gamut of recent piano styles in a very original and distinctive way."

THE KRYONICS: CD (EMANEM 4047). $17.00

An improvising string trio featuring Aleks Kolkowski (violin, viola, Stroh violin) and Jon Rose (violin, tenor violin, Stroh 'one-string fiddle', violinofón) and Matthias Bauer playing double bass. A Stroh violin comes with a megaphone horn instead of the normal sound box. "This gives the music a special overstrung tension, a dark unsettled feeling and a timbral quality that many composers would love to copyright."

WESTON & CAROLINE KRAABEL, VRYAN: Five Shadows CD (EMANEM 4048). $17.00

"An improvising duo on tour visiting five places in England. Radical piano and alto saxophone duets."

BUTCHER WITH DEREK BAILEY & RHODRI DAVIES, JOHN: Vortices & Angels CD (EMANEM 4049). $17.00

"Two very different duo concert performances both featuring saxophonist John Butcher: the first (38 minutes) at the Vortex with electric guitarist Derek Bailey; the second (25 minutes) in All Angels Church with harpist Rhodri Davies. 63 minutes — previously unissued."

QUATUOR ACCORDE: Angel Gate CD (EMANEM 4050). $17.00

"Superb acoustic string quartet improvisations recorded in the studio and in concert by Tony Wren (double bass), Phil Durrant (violin), Charlotte Hug (viola) & Mark Wastell (cello). Also contains three short bass solos. 78 minutes — previously unissued."

ISKRA 1903: Frankfurt 1991 CD (EMANEM 4051). $17.00

"A very fine concert by the trio of Paul Rutherford (trombone), Philipp Wachsmann (violin & electronics) and Barry Guy (amplified double bass). The first set comprises a 33 minutes piece — the second set includes one solo performance each. 74 minutes — previously unissued."

COXHILL, LOL: Digswell Duets CD (EMANEM 4052). $17.00

"The 39 minute duet with Simon Emmerson is an early example of interactive saxophone and electronics, wherein Emmerson modifies Coxhill's sound, and Coxhill reacts accordingly, etc. The 34 minute duet with pianist Vryan Weston is an early example of their very compatible duo, which is still going strong. Reissue of Random Radar RRR 005 with extra material from the same sessions. 73 minutes."

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Challenge CD (EMANEM 4053). $17.00

"The long overdue reissue — the first since 1966 — of the first SME LP reveals their free jazz roots with only hints of what was to come. Kenny Wheeler (flugelhorn), Paul Rutherford (trombone), Trevor Watts (alto sax), Bruce Cale (double bass) and John Stevens (drums) improvise on pieces by Rutherford, Stevens & Watts. (Jeff Clyne replaces Cale on a couple of tracks.) In addition there is a previously unissued performance from 1967 by Trevor Watts (piccolo & alto sax), Evan Parker (soprano sax), Chris Cambridge (double bass) and John Stevens (drums). Reissue of Eyemark EMPL 1002 with extra material."

HOWARD RILEY TRIO: Overground CD (EMANEM 4054). $17.00

"Graphic scores interpreted by pianist Riley with Barry Guy on amplified bass and Tony Oxley on percussion and electronics. Recorded a year or two after Synopsis, these two sessions reveal further developments, ending up with all three musicians using electronics. As well as three trio performances, there is also a Riley/Oxley duet, and an overdubbed two-pianopiece."

PARKER, EVAN: The Ayes Have It CD (EMANEM 4055). $17.00

"Two performances by one-off groups, both featuring Evan Parker (saxophones) and Paul Rogers (double bass). There is a 1983 trio studio recording with percussionist Jamie Muir, and a 1991 quartet gig with percussionist Mark Sanders and visiting trombonist Wolter Wierbos. Both sessions are quite unlike anything else in the Parker canon."

BURN ENSEMBLE, CHRIS: The Place 1991 CD (EMANEM 4056). $17.00

"A concert performance by the eight-piece group, with Jim Denley (flutes), John Butcher (saxophones), Phil Durrant (violin), Stevie Wishart (violin & hurdy-gurdy), Marcio Mattos (cello), John Russell (guitar), Matt Hutchinson (synthesizer) and Chris Burn (piano & percussion). They interpret three scores by Burn, and one each by Butcher and Keith Rowe, as well as performing a free improvisation. Evan Parker is an added guest on one of the Burn pieces."

HALLETT, SYLVIA: White Fog CD (EMANEM 4057). $17.00

"Three aspects of this remarkable musician's work: Wheelsongs is a 36 minute cycle featuring four original songs appearing within an improvised setting created solely with bowed bicycle wheel and digital delays. There is also a violin and voice improvisation (without any electronics), and a tape collage soundtrack made for a dance film."

RUSSELL & ROGER TURNER, JOHN: The Second Sky CD (EMANEM 4058). $17.00

"A second helping of adventurous acoustic guitar & percussion improvisations by two of the finest musicians around (see also Birthdays EMANEM 4010). A remarkable range of sounds without any amplification or other electronics. Even though they played their first duo gig in 1978, they still keep coming up with incredibly fresh and inventive music."

SMITH, IAN: Daybreak CD (EMANEM 4059). $17.00

"For his second CD as leader, Ian Smith has put together a group with a most unusual instrumentation. There is the brass trio of himself on flügelhorn and trumpet, Gail Brand on trombone, and Oren Marshall on tuba — three younger improvisers who have already made quite an impression on the scene. Also present are Derek Bailey on amplified guitar, and Vryan Weston exclusively on chamber organ. Some of the 14 improvisations are by the quintet, however most feature sub-groupings. A different take on the London improvising scene."

MILO FINE FREE JAZZ ENSEMBLE: Koi/Klops CD (EMANEM 4060). $17.00

"Since the 1970s, this band (which, in spite of its name, is a free improvisation group) has proved that there's more to Minneapolis than the Museum of Questionable Medical Devices! Multi-instrument Milo Fine (who plays percussion, clarinets and piano among other things) is joined throughout the CD by long-term musical partner Steve Gnita (who plays amplified guitar). Excerpts from three recent concerts are heard — one featuring the duo, one a quartet with the addition of Jason Shapiro (piano & synthesizer) and Nathan Smith (double bass, guitar & bass clarinets), and one a trio with Scott Newell (tenor saxophone & voice) added."

CARTER, KENT: Beauvais Cathedral CD (EMANEM 4061). $17.00

"The long-awaited reissue of Kent Carter's highly-acclaimed first solo album. As well as some solo cello and double bass improvisations, there are some collages in which he plays nearly all the parts himself courtesy of over-dubbing techniques. Carter had previously been heard with the groups of Paul Bley and Steve Lacy (among others), but such work did not prepare one for the unique music heard in this collection. Three previously unissued items (including a one-man string quartet) have been added to this CD."

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ORCHESTRA: Plus Equals CD (EMANEM 4062). $17.00

"This reissue features what is perhaps the pinnacle of John Stevens' attempts to make music with a large (21 strong) group made up of both experienced improvisers (including Evan Parker & Trevor Watts) and workshop musicians. This 40 minute piece starts off with just the 11 workshop musicians for a few minutes, then everyone joins in for a long mainly sustained section, before ending with an all-out improvisation. Also included is a previously unissued 20 minute piece performed a year earlier by a large group with unknown personnel."

BURN/JOHN BUTCHER/RHODRI DAVIES/JOHN EDWARDS, CHRIS: The First Two Gigs CD (EMANEM 4063). $17.00

"An improvising quartet featuring four of the finest and most innovative musicians, who have extended the ranges of their respective instruments — piano, saxophones, harp and double bass — into new uncharted territories. As well as having exceptional techniques, they are all virtuoso listeners, so that these first two performances as a quartet sound as if they have been working together for years. 68 minutes, previously unissued."

BERESFORD/PAT THOMAS/VERVAN WESTON, STEVE: 3 Pianos CD (EMANEM 4064). $17.00

"Three grand pianists on three grand pianos. The presence of three good pianos at Gateway Studio allows one to hear three of the best improvising pianists working together. Most of the music is three-way improvisation, but there are also three short duos, and three pieces with restricting rules. 66 minutes, previously unissued."

GJERSTAD/JOHN STEVENS/DEREK BAILEY, FRODE: Hello Goodbye CD (EMANEM 4065). $17.00

"A trio that just performed three gigs on three consecutive days — the music on this CD coming from the third one. Stevens (percussion & mini-trumpet) had often worked with the other two in duos and larger groups, but this tour was the only time that guitarist Bailey and saxophonist Gjerstad worked together, and work together they do — very well in fact. All the pieces are trio improvisations, but the three duos do appear from time to time. Stevens played a (borrowed) standard drum kit, but played it with all the sensibility of his small SME one. 73 minutes, previously unissued."

ISKRA 1903: Buzz Soundtrack CD (EMANEM 4066). $17.00

"Paul Rutherford (trombone), Derek Bailey (guitar) & Barry Guy (double bass) performing a soundtrack for a film. Somewhat more restrained and gentle than their live performances (as heard on Chapter One), but still very fine music." Studio recordings from 1970/1, first release.

WREN/LARRY STABBINS/HOWARD RILEY/MARK SANDERS, TONY: Four In The Afternoon CD (EMANEM 4067). $17.00

"A fine improvising quartet convened by the exceptional bass player Tony Wren, with the austere saxophonist Larry Stabbins appearing on record after a gap of too many years, pianist Howard Riley proving that he is still a master of free group playing, and drummer Mark Sanders showing why he is so much in demand." Recorded 7/11/2001.

NICOLS/CAROLINE KRAABEL/CHARLOTTE HUG, MAGGIE: Transitions CD (EMANEM 4068). $17.00

"A month after their amazing performance at the freedom of the city festival, this improvising trio returned to the Conway Hall to record some further distinctive music. Three strong individuals — Nicols (voice), Kraabel (alto saxophone & voice) and Hug (viola) — combine to make an exceptional trio. 56 minutes — previously unissued."

WATTS & VRYAN WESTON, TREVOR: 6 Dialogues CD (EMANEM 4069). $17.00

"Watts' first free improvisation record in around 25 years finds him playing soprano & alto saxophones with Weston on piano. Six superlative unedited duets recorded at Gateway Studio. 61 minutes."

GUY/HOWARD RILEY/PHILIPP WACHSMANN, BARRY: Improvisations Are Forever Now CD (EMANEM 4070). $17.00

"Two excellent studio sessions by the unusual trio of double bass, piano & violin (plus some electronics) that was a regular group in the late 1970s. Reissue of Vinyl VS 113 with extra material. 67 minutes."

RUSSELL, JOHN: From Next to Last CD (EMANEM 4071). $6.00

"For his second solo album — the first was recorded in 1978 — Russell concentrates exclusively on acoustic guitar improvisations. Recorded both in private and in concert. 71 minutes."

RUTHERFORD, PAUL: Trombolonium CD (EMANEM 4072). $17.00

"A collection of adventurous trombone solos recorded over nine years in four different spaces — two club rooms (one very dry), an Italian jazz festival, and a very resonate church. 76 minutes — previously unissued."

SMITH, ROGER: Green Wood CD (EMANEM 4073). $17.00

"Another superb collection of digital home recordings of solo acoustic guitar by this wonderfully neglected master. 76 minutes."

COXHILL & VRYAN WESTON, LOL: Worms Organising Archdukes CD (EMANEM 4074). $17.00

"Extended concert recordings from Rotterdam and Brussels provide a contrast to their equally fine previous soprano saxophone & piano duo CD Boundless (EMANEM 2021). There is also a short track on which Weston switches to chamber organ. 79 minutes — previously unissued."

LINES: In Australia CD (EMANEM 4075). $17.00

"Martin Blume (percussion), Jim Denley (flutes & alto saxophone), Axel Dörner (trumpet), Marcio Mattos (cello & electronics), Philipp Wachsmann (violin & electronics). Their second CD finds this excellent quintet absorbing some of the differences of the other side of the world. 56 minutes — previously unissued."

LOVENS/PAUL HUBWEBER/JOHN EDWARDS, PAUL: PaPaJo CD (EMANEM 4076). $17.00

"Recorded in Bremen, this is the whole of the sixth concert of a six day, six concert tour. A very equalitarian example of trio improvising by Hubweber on trombone, Edwards on double bass, and Lovens on percussion & saw. 74 minutes - previously unissued."

ADCOCK & CLIVE BELL, MIKE: Sleep It Off CD (EMANEM 4077). $17.00

"12 succinct improvisations by Adcock on prepared piano, accordion, harmonica, Indian harmonium, Tunisian reed pipe, sansa, bird warbler & stones, and Bell on shakuhachi, Akha khene, Thai khene, pi saw, harmonica, stereo goathorns & bird call. 56 minutes - previously unissued."

ROGERS, PAUL: Listen CD (EMANEM 4078). $17.00

"The whole of Rogers' sensational double bass solo set at the 1999 Le Mans festival, plus an equally fine 19-minute performance recorded 10 years earlier in a London pub. 67 minutes - previously unissued."

LUNGE: Strong Language CD (EMANEM 4079). $17.00

"The second release by the improvising quartet comprising Gail Brand (trombone), Phil Durrant (electronics and acoustic violin), Pat Thomas (electronics and acoustic piano) and Mark Sanders (percussion). The whole of their superb 2002 Amsterdam Bimhuis concert is included, augmented by two studio tracks from 2000. 61 minutes - previously unissued."

BURN ENSEMBLE, CHRIS: Horizontal White CD (EMANEM 4080). $17.00

"The whole of two totally improvised performances from London's Red Rose and Conway Hall with Chris Burn (piano & percussion), John Butcher (soprano & tenor saxophones), Mark Wastell (cello), John Russell (guitar) and Matt Hutchinson (synthesizer & electronics), plus Rhodri Davies (harp) at the Red Rose. A smaller Ensemble than on their three previous CDs, but sounding larger at times. 58 minutes - previously unissued."

RAMANAN, ROLAND: Shaken CD (EMANEM 4081). $17.00

"Trumpeter Ramanan (who doubles on wooden flutes) has been quietly enriching the London scene for some 15 years now. For the first CD under his leadership, he presents his imaginative current quartet which spans the ground between Free Improvisation and Free Jazz. With Marcio Mattos (cello & electronics), Simon H. Fell (double bass) and Mark Sanders (percussion). 72 minutes - previously unissued."

RUTHERFORD, PAUL: Chicago 2002 CD (EMANEM 4082). $17.00

"Rutherford's appearance at the Empty Bottle Festival was his first visit to America apart from two previous tours in orchestras. His 31 minute trombone solo shows him still to be at the top of his game. The following day he was asked to organise a septet with Jeb Bishop (trombone), Lol Coxhill (soprano saxophone), Mats Gustafsson (tenor saxophone), Fred Lonberg-Holm (cello & electronics), Kent Kessler (double bass) and Kjell Nordeson (percussion). They performed a concerto featuring Coxhill and a free improvisation. 77 minutes - previously unissued."

SMITH, ROGER: Spanish Guitar CD (EMANEM 4083). $17.00

"The long awaited reissue of Smith's 1980 LP which finds his distinctive acoustic guitar improvising fully formed. Also included are some previously unissued solos from the 1990s recorded at three very different gigs. Reissue with extra material. 69 minutes."

EICHENBERGER, MARKUS: Domino Concept For Orchestra CD (EMANEM 4084). $17.00

"Eichenberger directs the musicians to change what they are doing, but not what to. The result is an hour-long performance with many changes, and surprises. Marianne Schuppe & Dorothea Schürch (voices), Carlos Baumann (trumpet), Paul Hubweber (trombone), Carl Ludwig Hübsch (tuba), Markus Eichenberger (clarinets), Dirk Marwedel (extended saxophones), Helmut Bieler-Wendt (violin), Charlotte Hug (viola), Peter K Frey & Daniel Studer (double basses), Frank Rühl (electric guitar) & Ivano Torre (percussion)."

HUG, CHARLOTTE: Neuland CD (EMANEM 4085). $17.00

"For her second solo album, Hug (pronounced 'hoog') concentrates on solo viola without any electronics in a series of pieces inspired by her recent visits to London. Her strong musical personality and original extended techniques ensure that this is a solo recital unlike any other."

COXHILL, LOL: Out To Launch CD (EMANEM 4086). $17.00

"Two complete solo soprano saxophone concerts, from Chicago and London, show that Coxhill is as inventive as ever some four decades after his first solo performances. In between there is a 10-minute improvisation by an impromptu 13-piece orchestra. 77 minutes - previously unissued."

GJERSTAD & DEREK BAILEY, FRODE: Nearly a D CD (EMANEM 4087). $17.00

"Ten years after their meeting on Hello Goodbye (Emanem 4065), Frode Gjerstad visited Derek Bailey's house and recorded some very different duets - clarinet with acoustic guitar, and alto saxophone with electric guitar. 52 minutes - previously unissued."

RILEY/JOHN TILBURY/KEITH TIPPETT, HOWARD: Another Part Of The Story CD (EMANEM 4088). $17.00

"Another three grand pianists on three grand pianos. Howard Riley and Keith Tippett have recorded several piano duos in the past, but the addition of John Tilbury coming from another background gives these eight trio improvisations a unique flavour. 66 minutes - previously unissued."

BUTCHER & JOHN EDWARDS, JOHN: Optic CD (EMANEM 4089). $17.00

"Two of the most adventurous musicians around today, John Butcher and John Edwards have been working as a very compatible duo for some years now. This CD contains concert performances from Brussels and Barcelona. 59 minutes - previously unissued."

LONDON IMPROVISERS ORCHESTRA: Freedom Of The City 2002 CD (EMANEM 4090). $17.00

"35 musicians in concert at the festival performing: A tribute to John Stevens by Simon H Fell for orchestra & pre-recorded sounds. A poem & conduction by Terry Day for voice & orchestra. A concerto conduction by Steve Beresford for Paul Rutherford & orchestra. A percussion trio improvisation by Tony Marsh, Louis Moholo & Mark Sanders. A conduction by Paul Rutherford for orchestra & mobile phones. A conduction by Dave Tucker for orchestra. A conduction by Philipp Wachsmann for orchestra & audience." 77 minutes - previously unissued."

GATHERING, THE: For John Stevens CD (EMANEM 4091). $17.00

"The Gathering is an informal improvising session that has met in London once a week since 1991. For the 2002 freedom of the city festival, Maggie Nicols assembled some of the past and present participants. This studio recording from two months later features a similar group of 25 musicians performing two extended improvisations that are typical of the weekly sessions, with their distinctive mixture of voices and instruments. Also included is a three-part tribute to John Stevens featuring interpretations of his pieces, with poetry superimposed. 78 minutes - previously unissued."

TOMLINSON/STEVE BERESFORD/ROGER TURNER, ALAN: Trap Street CD (EMANEM 4092). $17.00

"A studio session of trio improvisations, featuring a rare opportunity to hear trombonist Tomlinson with Beresford using electronics & toys and Turner on percussion. The music ranges from 'the quiet and subtle' to a section that 'sounds like the Sabre Dance remixed by Xenakis'. 63 minutes - previously unissued."

STABBINS, LARRY: Monadic CD (EMANEM 4093). $17.00

"A sequence of improvised soprano & tenor saxophone solos featuring a unique fusion of high energy, austerity and sublime melody. This is Stabbins' first solo album even though he first played solos in public over 30 years ago."

EDWARDS/MARK SANDERS, JOHN: Nisus Duets CD (EMANEM 4094). $17.00

"Edwards & Sanders have worked together since 1990 in various groups such as those lead by Vervan Weston, Evan Parker, Tony Bevan, Alan Wilkinson, Peter Brötzmann and Frode Gjerstad. In the process, they have become one of the most formidable and flexible bass & teams around. This is their first duo record."

WESTON, VERVAN: Tessellations for Luthéal Piano CD (EMANEM 4095). $17.00

"A concert performance using a very rare Luthéal piano. The composer/improviser writes: 'Visual interlocking symmetries and geometric shapes are transferred to the audible world of rhythm and counterpoint, with the spirit and energy of jazz, improvisation and folk music always at the heart of the performance. The piece contains a sequence of 52 closely linked pentatonic scales. Each scale has two pre-established areas in which ideas for improvisations can be explored and developed, and because the piece is continuous, the player and listeners take part in a journey that lasts about one hour.'"

BRADFORD, BOBBY: Love's Dream CD (EMANEM 4096). $17.00

Reissue of this 1974 Emanem LP, with bonus tracks. "Hard-swinging Free Jazz recorded in a club in Paris, featuring original tunes by the vastly under-rated Bradford (cornet) with Trevor Watts (alto sax), Kent Carter (bass) & John Stevens (drums). Reissue of Emanem 3302 with extra material." Recorded Nov. 1973.

COXHILL/TORSTEN MÜLLER/PAUL RUTHERFORD, LOL: Milwaukee CD (EMANEM 4097). $17.00

"The day after their Empty Bottle appearances (Emanem 4082 & 4086), these three travelled to Milwaukee for a concert, that featured superb unaccompanied solos by Rutherford (trombone), Müller (double bass) & Coxhill (soprano sax), plus two short duos and a trio."

SHARP, ELLIOTT: The Velocity of Hue CD (EMANEM 4098). $17.00

"A sequence of 14 very varied solo acoustic guitar improvisations, some augmented by an e-bow to obtain sustained notes. Marc Ribot writes: 'The material Elliott works with on this CD follows his focus of the last 30+ years: composition and improvisation inspired by the nature of the guitar itself filtered through a love of country blues guitar and Central Asian musics'." Recorded 2003.

BAILEY & MILO FINE, DEREK: Scale Points on the Fever Curve CD (EMANEM 4099). $17.00

"The first gig on Milo Fine's extended visit to London found him playing clarinets, drums and electronic keyboard in cohorts with Derek Bailey on electric guitar. They first worked together twenty years previously, but this was the first time they performed as a duo. 58 minutes." Recorded 3/26/2003.

VA: Mopomoso Solos 2002 CD (EMANEM 4100). $17.00

"A concert featuring superb unaccompanied solo improvisations by John Russell guitar, Phil Minton voice, John Edwards double bass, Lol Coxhill soprano saxophone and Chris Burn piano & percussion. Then they finished the evening as an impromptu quintet. 70 minutes."

DUNMALL & PAUL ROGERS, PAUL: Awareness Response CD (EMANEM 4101). $17.00

"Dunmall and Rogers have performed together for years both as a duo and as part of larger groups, such as the quartet Mujician. The three improvisations feature Dunmall on border bagpipes, tenor and soprano saxophones respectively. This is their earliest duo recording on which Rogers uses his A.L.L. bass. 60 minutes."

PEOPLE BAND: People Band CD (EMANEM 4102). $17.00

"An expanded reissue of the only published recording by one of the pioneering free improvisation groups. The People Band took a much more 'anything goes' approach than their contemporaries, so they covered a lot of ground from chamber-esque music and free jazz to free improvisation and conductions. Featuring Mel Davis, Terry Day, Lyn Dobson, Eddie Edem, Tony Edwards, Mike Figgis, Frank Flowers, Russell Hardy, Terry Holman & George Khan. Reissue of Transatlantic TRA 214 with extra material. 54 minutes."

BRAND & MORGAN GUBERMAN, GAIL: Ballgames & Crazy CD (EMANEM 4103). $17.00

"Improvisations by the transatlantic duo of London based trombonist Gail Brand and the San Francisco based vocalist Morgan Guberman (best known as a double bassist in other contexts). Guberman's use of somewhat meaningless words and Brand's very vocal approach to her horn make for a very distinctive music. 63 minutes."

BIANCO/DAVE LIEBMAN/TONY MARINO, TONY: Line ish CD (EMANEM 4104). $17.00

"Drummer Tony Bianco set up this trio date to feature Dave Liebman and his regular bassist Tony Marino in a fiery free jazz setting. Liebman plays tenor and soprano saxes, piano and a wooden flute as well as writing some lines. There are also three short solo improvisations." Studio recordings from 9/03.

CARTER STRING TRIO, KENT: The Willisau Suites CD (EMANEM 4105). $17.00

"Kent Carter's String Trio, with Carlos Zingaro on violin, François Dreno on viola and the leader on double bass, somehow managed to sound like a classical chamber trio, a jazz group, and a European folk band simultaneously. Their unique niche features magnificent improvisations framed by Carter's strong compositions. There are also two short duo improvisations, and two short pieces by a later trio with Albrecht Maurer on violin and Emmanuelle Roch on viola."

RUSSELL/UTE VOLKER/MATHIEU WERCHOWSKI, JOHN: Three Planets CD (EMANEM 4106). $17.00

"A very fine acoustic (guitar, accordion and violin) improvising trio, made up of three musicians of three different ages from three different countries. Put together by a promoter for a French festival in 2001, they related so well, that they have continued to get together, whenever possible, to continue to make great music."

RUTHERFORD TRIO, PAUL: Gheim - Live at Bracknell 1983 CD (EMANEM 4107). $17.00

"A short-lived improvising trio featuring the trombonist with Paul Rogers (double bass) and Nigel Morris (drums), that the leader put together to explore more free jazz-like areas than usual. Rutherford and Rogers play to their expected very high standards (even though it was one of the bassist's earliest recordings), while Morris shows why he is missed so much since he quit this music. The whole of their Bracknell Jazz Festival set is included along with some previously unissued studio recordings. Reissue of Ogun cassette OGC51 with extra material."

LONDON IMPROVISORS ORCHESTRA: Proceedings CD (EMANEM 4201). $26.00

"A very varied collection of compositions, conductions and improvisations featuring around thirty of the finest musicians on the London scene: Steve Beresford, John Bisset, Ansuman Biswas, Adam Bohman, Gail Brand, Chris Burn, John Butcher, Tom Chant, Nigel Coombes,

PARKER/JOHN EDWARDS/MARK SANDERS, EVAN: The Two Seasons 2CD (EMANEM 4202). $26.00

"Two (almost complete) very live performances — one from the winter and one from the summer — recorded at the Vortex in London by this finely interlocked saxophone/double bass/percussion trio. 154 minutes — previously unissued." Recorded 2/15/ and 7/28/99. Evan Parker (tenor & soprano sax), John Edwards (double bass), Mark Sanders (percussion).

LONDON IMPROVISERS ORCHESTRA: The Hearing Continues 2CD (EMANEM 4203). $26.00

"More varied compositions, conceptions and improvisations featuring over thirty of the finest musicians on the London scene (plus some visitors): Knut Aufermann, Harry Beckett, Steve Beresford, John Bisset, Adam Bohman, John Butcher, Tom Chant, Nigel Coombes, Rhodri Davies, Terry Day, John Edwards, Simon Fell, Jacques Foschia, Charlotte Hug, Robert Jarvis, Hans Koch, Caroline Kraabel, David Leahy, Tony Marsh, Marcio Mattos, Neil Metcalfe, Louis Moholo, Steve Noble, Adrian Northover, Evan Parker, John Ranganecott, Mark Sanders, Harrison Smith, Ian Smith, Pat Thomas, Garry Todd, Alan Tomlinson, Dave Tucker, Philipp Wachsmann, Alex Ward, Mark Wastell, Vervan Weston & Orphy Robinson. 147 minutes — previously unissued."

COXHILL, LOL: Spectral Soprano 2CD (EMANEM 4204). $26.00

"This retrospective double CD gives examples of Coxhill's early to recent work involving elements of improvisation including R & B, formally structured jazz, electronics, spontaneous music, an open rendition of an old play, and the odd bit of singing. An enormous variety of music ranging from straight-ahead jazz, to a concerto performance with the London Improvisers Orchestra, to an underwater slide saxophone solo recorded using a microphone in a condom. 135 minutes — mostly previously unissued."

VA: Freedom Of The City Festival 2001 - Small Groups 2CD (EMANEM 4205). $26.00

VA: Freedom Of The City Festival 2001 - Large Groups 2CD (EMANEM 4206). $26.00

"Two of the larger groups appearing at the festival: London Improvisers Orchestra (39 musicians improvising and being directed by Knut Aufermann, Steve Beresford (featuring Sylvia Hallett), Terry Day, Simon H Fell, Caroline Kraabel, Dave Tucker & Philipp Wachsmann), Strings with (& without) Evan Parker (Two improvisations by 12 musicians playing strings or electronics — one with sax added). 152 minutes, previously unissued."

ROSE & VERVAN WESTON, JON: Temperament 2CD (EMANEM 4207). $26.00

"A selection of improvisations using differing tunings (Pythagorean, Just intonation, Meantone 1/4 comma, Equal, and Rosenberg Augmented) derived from science, history and the imagination - featuring Rose on various violins, and Weston on various keyboards (piano, fortepiano, harpsichord, organ, harmonium & electronics), recorded in Amsterdam, Bratislava, Brno, Brussels, Paris & Venice. 147 minutes - previously unissued."

BIANCO & PAUL DUNMALL, TONY: Hour Glass 2CD (EMANEM 4208). $26.00

"Two high energy improvisations each lasting just over an hour, both propelled by drummer Tony Bianco. One has Paul Dunmall on tenor saxophone and Marcio Mattos on double bass & electronics. The other has Dunmall on soprano sax and Paul Rogers on his new-fangled A.L.L. bass. 123 minutes - previously unissued."

VA: The All Angels Concerts 2CD (EMANEM 4209). $26.00

"Highlights of the concert series curated by Rhodri Davies & Mark Wastell. Solos by Fabienne Audéoud (voice), Aleks Kolkowski (Stroh violin), Eddie Prevost (percussion), John Russell (guitar), Alan Tomlinson (trombone), Simon Vincent (electronics), and Vervan Weston (church organ). Duos by Steve Beresford (electronics) & Roger Turner (percussion); John Butcher (saxophones) & Matt Hutchinson (electronics); and Oren Marshall (tuba) & Mark Sanders (percussion). 157 minutes - previously unissued."

VA: Freedom Of The City Festival 2002-Small Groups 2CD (EMANEM 4210). $26.00

"Some of the groups and soloists presented by Emanem: Chris Burn trumpet & Matt Hutchinson (synthesizers & electronics); Lol Coxhill (soprano saxophone) / Paul Rutherford (trombone) / Ian Smith (trumpet); Sylvia Hallett (bicycle wheel, violin, saw, sarangi, voice, digital delays); Evan Parker (soprano & tenor saxophones); John Russell (guitar); Roger Smith (guitar); Trevor Watts (soprano & alto saxophones); Vervan Weston (piano). 149 minutes — previously unissued."

MINTON & ROGER TURNER, PHIL: Drainage 2CD (EMANEM 4211). $26.00

"Recent music from this long-standing voice & percussion improvising duo that previously had 1984 & 1993 releases on Leo. One disc contains concise studio recordings from 2002 & 2003. The other, extended concert performances from the 2002 freedom of the city festival in London, and Les Instants Chavirés near Paris in 1998."

ISKRA 1903: Chapter One 1970-1972 3CD (EMANEM 4301). $35.00

Reissue of this historic trio's early works, includes the contents of the infamous Incus 3/4 double LP from 1972, plus unreleased tracks. "Classic performances by the innovative trio of Paul Rutherford (trombone & piano), Derek Bailey (guitar) & Barry Guy (double bass). Reissue of Incus 3/4, with much additional (previously unissued) material from the same and other concert & studio sessions. 194 minutes."

STRINGS WITH EVAN PARKER: 3CD (EMANEM 4302). $35.00

"A magnificent studio session featuring Phil Durrant (violin), Kaffe Matthews (violin & electronics), Marcio Mattos (cello), Mark Wastell (cello), John Edwards (double bass), Rhodri Davies (harp), Peter Cusack (bouzouki, guitar & electronics), John Russell (guitar) and Hugh Davies (strings, springs & electronics) with organiser Evan Parker appearing on soprano saxophone on some of the pieces. 193 minutes." Studio sessions recorded 1997-98.

EMARCY CLASSICS (GERMANY):

VA: Replay Debussy CD (UNI 2801 CD). $16.00

German-only remix album, featuring the following remixers : Alvin Lucier, Pierre Henry, Porter Ricks, Ryuichi Sakamoto, Mangkunegaran/Elodie Bouchez, Terre Thaemlitz, Jamie Lidell, Paul Paulin, Christian von Borries. "1894 was a year in which Claude Debussy was able to celebrate one of his greatest successes. His Prélude à l'après-midi d'un faune, which lasts around ten minutes, was first performed at the Société Nationale in Paris to such enthusiastic applause that there had to be an immediate encore. Rewind! Not a great deal has changed since then — the piece is considered to be Debussy's masterpiece and around 90 different recordings of it are currently available. With another eight variations on this prelude now coming onto the market, there is some justification for asking, 'Does the world need them?' The answer, simply, is yes. Rewind! At first sight, some of the names involved in Replay Debussy — the Porter Ricks techno duo, for example, former New York house DJ Terre Thaemlitz and Ryuichi Sakamoto, who founded the Yellow Magic Orchestra. For Christian Von Borries, whose initiative Replay Debussy is, there is certainly more to it than a musical re-launch or an adaptation on a personal level. A freelance conductor and founder of the 'musikmissbrauch!' ('music abuse!') series of concerts, Von Borries conceives of the collection primarily as an interpretation, as a 'ticket to ride'. Although that might seem an obvious thing to say, actually it is not. On the contrary: in the world of classical music, the preservation factor has long been the be-all and end-all. According to Von Borries, classical music functions 'like a museum: the light, the air, the temperature — everything is always the same, everywhere, so that nothing is spoilt'. In practice, the musical text is revered like an ancient religious tradition, to which nothing may be added, from which nothing taken away and, heaven forbid, in which nothing may be questioned. This genuflection before the musical score, this acceptance of the norm is not only boring and restrictive. At the end of the day, an approach which risks nothing and only confirms what already exists is not that far removed from that of McDonald's. The first thing Christian Von Borries allowed all his collaborators was a generous timescale. And very few rules were specified. The brief was simply to produce a rereading of Prélude à l'après-midi d'un faune and liberate it from its hermeneutic prison. All the musicians were given access to the same sources: the poem L'après-midi d'un faune by Stephane Mallarmé, which was Debussy's own starting point. Extracts read aloud by French actress Elodie Bouchez. The score, naturally, and three recordings: the flute solo, played in 1930 by Marcel Moyse, the historic, crackly (shellac) mono recording by Wilhelm Mengelberg, and the tutti passage from the Mercury Living Presence recording."

EMBEDDED:

VA: The Bedford Files CD (BED 004 CD). $13.00

"Production and DJ duo Ese and Hipsta present their first label release, The Bedford Files, featuring a host of the most talented emcees in the hip hop community: Aesop Rock and Vast Aire (Cannibal Ox) from Definitive Jux, NYC's high-energy Stronghold crew (L.I.F.E Long, C Rayz Walz and Breez Evah Flowin'), M. Sayyid of Anti Pop Consortium fame, Mike Ladd spoken word poet/emcee, Oakland indy heroes Zion I, as well as many young emerging artists. Ese and Hipsta have gained notoriety for their mixtape series, Two 45 Minute Sets. In NY, mixtapes along with late night radio shows, are one of the only outlets for new emcees to gain exposure. The tracks on The Bedford Files were recorded with the sole intention of impressing the most avid of music listeners. These are not freestyles! These are full-length songs, with original beats specifically tailored to highlight each emcee's abilities."

VA: The Bedford Files 2LP (BED 004 LP). $14.50

BABBLETRON: Mechanical Royalty CD (BED 007 CD). $13.00

"While most New Yorkers struggle to emerge from the crowd, Babbleton was long content to remain secluded from the day-to-day sensory overload of the Gotham grind. Despite their self imposed Bushwick captivity, the group is not easily confined by the stigmatizing descriptions sloppily slapped onto many indie Hip-Hop artists. Sometimes cynical, sometimes optimistic and always infused with a dry wit, Babbleton draws from the full palate of human sentiment. They are as comfortable discussing an awkward conversation with a woman as they are addressing grim issues such as global warfare. With their critically-acclaimed debut Ramblers Anonymous (self released EP) under their belt, Babbleton's first full length, Mechanical Royalty, will invade the private space of not only New Yorkers, but music listeners everywhere. The reclusive existence is done, the gestation period over. Babbleton is throwing open doors to its hidden Brooklyn laboratory and extending an open invitation to anyone willing to listen."

AXELROD, DAVID: Song Of Innocence CD (EMI 15882). $15.00

New version, licensed via Capitol, replaces the Australian version on Ascension. A reissue of the first Axelrod solo LP, originally issued by Capitol in 1968. A known jazz and soul producer at that point (Electric Prunes, Nat Adderley, etc.), he combined orchestral production techniques into the realms of psychedelic rock and soundtrackian aura. Sparse production and habit of inserting long, clean drum breaks assured him coveted sampling status for over a decade now (see DJ Shadow, many others). Songs of Innocence is a beautifully arranged suite in seven parts, inspired by the writings of William Blake. Composed, arranged and produced by David Axelrod.

KRAFTWERK: Tour de France 2003 CD (EMI 26602 CD). $8.00

"Special edition issue due to the 100th anniversary of the Tour de France. Kraftwerk comes again with their famous Tour theme for 2003 with 3 brand new versions, including a Long Distance Version of more than 7 and a half minutes..."

AXELROD, DAVID: Anthology II CD (EMI 7484CD). $24.00

"A true musical visionary and genius, David Axelrod, is being rediscovered by a whole new generation and his vision as a composer, producer and arranger is being sought after by a new generation. Some of his music he made 30 years ago sounds more cutting edge today, than some of today's music. The proof being that multi-platinum artists such as Dr.Dre (Next Episode), Lauryn Hill (Every Ghetto Every City) and many others have sampled him with great success. Over the course of his prolific career Axelrod has arranged and produced a multitude of records, far exceeding the amount of records listed here (in the hundreds). Young producers today dissect his albums finding beats and grooves to sample. From combining 'Rock and Classical Electric Prunes Mass In F Minor' which was also used in the cult classic Easy Rider, to platinum records with Lou Rawls and Cannonball Adderley to his cutting edge solo records."

AXELROD, DAVID: Anthology II 2LP (EMI 7484LP). $26.00

VA: Strut'n' Get Up: Funky Fat Slices of Groove Cut from Blue Note CD (EMI 8095 CD). $15.00

New series of Blue Note vault plundering, from a "rare grooves/crate-digging" perspective, thematically presented. Only released via EMI in France as far as we can tell. Artists include: Ike & Tina Turner, Barbara, Earl Klugh, Herbie Hancock, Ronnie Foster, Jimmy McGriff, Lou Donaldson, Donald Byrd, Raul De Souza, Brass Construction, Maze, Alan Parker, Bobby Womack, Willie Bobo, Willard Burton.

VA: Strut'n' Get Up: Funky Fat Slices of Groove Cut from Blue Note 2LP (EMI 8095LP). $19.00

Double LP version. Same 18 tracks as the CD, plus a side-long LP-only bonus track from Lou Donaldson.

VA: Look Into The Flower: Trip on Psychedelic Grooves with Blue Note CD (EMI 8098 CD). $15.00

Artists include: Georges Garvarentz, Ananda Shankar, Jeremy Steig, Donald Byrd, Bobbi Humphrey, Candido, Horace Silver, Gene Harris, Gary Bartz, Lord Sitar, John Andrews Tartaglia, Bobbi Humphrey.

VA: Look Into The Flower: Trip on Psychedelic Grooves with Blue Note 2LP (EMI 8098LP). $19.00

Double LP version. Has the same 14 tracks as the CD, plus there 2 LP-only bonus tracks by Ravi Shankar and Martin Denny.

VA: Home Cookin': Infectious Grooves Steamed By Blue Note CD (EMI 8101CD). $16.00

French-only release, tracks mostly from 1968-1974. Artists include: Richard "Groove" Holmes, Lonnie Smith, 100% Pure Poison, Maze, Cannonball Adderley, Jazz Crusaders, Charlie Hunter Quartet, Bobby Hutcherson, Buddy Rich, Howard Roberts, Stanley Turrentine, Gene Harris, Monk Higgins.

VA: Home Cookin': Infectious Grooves Steamed By Blue Note 3LP (EMI 8101LP). $22.00

Triple LP version, with LP-only bonus track by Donald Byrd: "The Emperor".

VA: Carnival: Spicy Flavors & Exotic Grooves Set Fire to Blue Note CD (EMI 8104CD). $15.00

Artists include: Yma Sumac, Ray Terrace, Anada Shankar, Candido, Willie Bobo, Art Pepper, Billy Larkin & The Delegates, Jimmy Smith, Elza Soares, Meirilles, Joe Torres, Bobby Montez, Jack Costanzo, Cannonball Adderley, Don Pullen & The African-Brazilian Connection, Michel Petrucciani.

VA: Carnival: Spicy Flavors & Exotic Grooves Set Fire to Blue Note 2LP (EMI 8104LP). $19.00

Double LP version. Same 18 tracks as the CD, plus three LP-only bonus tracks from: Mandrake Som, Ravi Shankar & Bas Sheva.

AXELROD, DAVID: 1968 to 1970 An Axelrod Anthology CD (EMI 94052). $15.00

First of 2 volumes, originally issued in 1999, anthologizing all of Axelrod's classic late 60s productions. Featuring tracks performed by: Axelrod, Electric Prunes, Lou Rawls, Letta, Cannonball Adderley. "Sit back in your easy chair, kick off those Birkenstocks and prepare to take in the furthest, far out reaches of late Sixties music. Too complex, confused and sophisticated to count as funk, far too rough to fit in with easy listening, nothing else compares to David Axelrod. Combining the experimental soundscapes of George Martin, Phil Spector and Brian Wilson with the soundtrack scope of Lalo Schifren and John Barry and mixed with Norman Whitfield's whacked-out groove, David Axelrod is the forgotten studio genius of late Sixties American music."

EMI (UK):

BROUGHTON BAND, EDGAR: Sing Brother Sing CD (EMI 11952). $15.00

New mid-line EMI remaster of this 1970 classic (previously reissued by BGO). The group's second album, originally issued by Harvest. The concepts of alcohol consumption, Beefheart emulation, and a dedication to "the conspiracy" were certainly well-discussed themes in the Broughton Brothers household. If you'd like to pound it out in unison, this will cover your needs quite well.

HAWKWIND: In Search of Space CD (EMI 30030). $13.00

New mid-line EMI reissue from 2001 of the second Hawkwind album (originally issued by UA in 1972), with deluxe 24-page booklet of photos & credits, plus a complete repro of the original album booklet: The Hawkwind Log ("a collage of texts and photos — supposedly a found log-book of a spaceship, containing the cryptic last notes and contemplations of it's travellers through space - another seed of Calvert's concept of the soon to come Space Opera - Space Ritual"). With three bonus tracks: original single versions of "Seven By Seven", "Silver Machine" & "Born To Go". "ISOS established Hawkwind's style of hypnotic free-flowing improvisations, accompanied by tribal rhythms - in contrast with some acoustic guitar based pieces, remnants of Brock's busking days, often with a melancholic touch." Line up of: Nik Turner (saxophone, flute, audio generator, vocals); Dave Brock (vocals, electric & acoustic guitar, audio generator); Dave Anderson (bass, electric & acoustic guitar); Del Dettmar (synthesizer); Terry Ollis (drums, percussion); Dik Mik (audio generator); Robert Calvert (vocals).

HAWKWIND: Doremi Fasol Latido CD (EMI 30031). $13.00

Mid-line EMI reissue from 2001 of the third Hawkwind album (originally issued by UA in 1972), with 12-page booklet of liner notes, photos & illustrations. The first Hawkwind album to feature the unbelievably heroic bass playing of Lemmy Kilminster, this is pure classic 70s space thunder, capped off by Lemmy's first composition for the group, "The Watcher" (a freaked out sequel to his Sam Gopal contribution, "You're Alone Now"). As good as it gets. With 4 bonus tracks. "On Doremi, ALL instruments were now wielded as weapons of psychic warfare as the Sonic Assassins commence to break down the bad vibe squad in the most reckless and stupor-fying ways. Doremi Fasol Latido saw their building energies emerge into a single vision, housed in a sleek black and silver chrome sleeve comprised of seven crossfaded tracks that were their heaviest, drug-numbered blur-outs ever...an album that succeeded in blurring all aural distinctions between inner and outer space; the near-constant use of VCS3 and audio generator provide a backdrop for the entire album as twinkling yet forbidding as a nighttime display of stars in the cold dead of night." — The Seth Man/Head Heritage.

HAWKWIND: Space Ritual 2CD (EMI 30032). $19.00

Mid-line EMI reissue from 2001 of the fourth Hawkwind album (originally issued by UA in 1973), with 24-page booklet of liner notes, photos & illustrations. Featuring the Doremi line-up (Brock, Lemmy, Nik Turner, DikMik, Del Dettmar & Simon King), plus the addition of Bob Calvert (on "poet and swazzle"), this was the group's finest moment and possibly rock music's ultimate integration of live sonics into skin-bumping cultural architecture. Perfectly presented here in remastered form with three bonus tracks. "It was all captured on this beautiful, psychic roar-out of a double live set. Culled from recordings made at The Liverpool Empire and The Brixton Sundown in late December, 1972, two tracks were so long they needed to be edited down to a 'mere' 88 minutes! The sheer power of the repetition represented here become mantric walls of sounds, all held together by Dave Brock's sonic mortar guitar and the stunning rhythm section of Lemmy Kilminster on bass and Simon King on stamina-driven drums." — The Seth Man/Head Heritage.

HAWKWIND: Hall Of The Mountain Grill CD (EMI 30035). $13.00

Reissue of the classic 5th Hawkwind album, following Doremi Fasol Latido & Space Ritual. Originally released by UA in 1974. This new mid-line reissue features 4 bonus tracks (single versions of "You'd Better Believe It", "Psychedelic Warlords", & "Paradox", plus "It's So Easy"). Lemmy Kilminster is now on bass, and contributes "Lost Johnny" (co-penned with Mick Farren), a track he would also record numerous times with Motorhead.

AYERS, KEVIN: Bananamour CD (EMI 43512). $15.00

A new series of 2003 remastered reissues for the early Kevin Ayers catalog (prev. available via BGO), each with large quantities of bonus tracks and extensive booklets. Very well done overall. Bananamour was the 4th Kevin Ayers solo album, reissued here with 4 bonus tracks. "Originally scheduled for release in late January 1973, the album, Bananamour appeared as Harvest SHVL 807 in May 1973. The albums release was preceded by the appearance of the single 'Caribbean Moon' c/w 'Take Me To Tahiti' on April 19th as Harvest HAFT 5071. A limited number of albums contained a 16-page colour book featuring photographs and transcribed comments on each of the songs taken from an interview conducted with Kevin by music journalist Al Clark. Original copies of Bananamour containing this book are now highly sought after collectors items. This CD reissue sees this rare item reprinted in its entirety." Bonus tracks include: 'Connie On A Rubber Band', 'Decadence', 'Take Me To Tahiti', and 'Caribbean Moon'.

AYERS, KEVIN: Joy Of A Toy CD (EMI 43522). $15.00

2003 Remaster. The first Kevin Ayers solo album, following his tenure in Soft Machine. Includes a previously unreleased bonus track w/ Syd Barrett! Originally released in the UK in December 1969 as Harvest SHVL 763. Musicians include: Robert Wyatt, Rod Tait, Soft Machine, Mike Ratledge & Hugh Hopper, David Bedford. Instruments used: electric bass, string bass, cello, piano, celeste, drums, tambourine, organ, alto melodic, Spanish guitar, Hawaiian guitar, Italian guitar, electric guitar, electronics, trombone, flute, piccolo, recorder, oboe, mouth organ, kazoo. Bonus tracks include: 'Religious Experience (Singing A Song In The Morning)' featuring Syd Barrett, 'The Lady Rachel' extended mix, 'Soon Soon Soon', 'Religious Experience (Singing...)' previously unreleased mix, 'The Lady Rachel' single version, and 'Singing A Song In The Morning' single version.

AYERS AND THE WHOLE WORLD, KEVIN: Shooting At The Moon CD (EMI 43532). $15.00

2003 remaster. Second album for Harvest records originally released in October of 1970. 5 bonus tracks include: 'Gemini Child', 'Puis Je?', 'Butterfly Dance', 'Jolie Madame', and 'Hat'. "The real Canterbury sound, for all its supposed sophistication, is often stodgy and constipated. These are descriptors that could never be applied to Kevin Ayer's second post-Soft Machine LP. The group Ayers assembled for this project was outstanding. Composer David Bedford played keys, avant garde street agitator Lol Coxhill played sax, a virginal Mike Oldfield played strings, there was a drummer named Mick, and Ayer's fucked-up romanticism overlaid the whole thing. Everyone sounds stoned and the results are a beautifully synthetic mess that reminds me of nothing other than recent Sonic Youth. Unlike other like-minded projects of the Progressive era, Shooting At The Moon actually achieves a balance between the extremist proclivities of each of its session's participants. It drew up the blueprint for a merger of free jazz/pop/rock/avant garde wump that should have been used as a roadmap for revolution. Alas, it was not." — Byron Coley/"100 Records That Set The World On Fire"/The Wire.

2003 Remaster. Classic third solo album by Kevin Ayers, originally issued by Harvest in 1973 (following Joy Of A Toy & Shooting At The Moon). With a monster group of: Ayers (vocals, guitar), Mike Oldfield (bass), David Bedford (keyboards), Didier Malherbe (saxophone, flute), Dave Dufort (drums), Robert Wyatt (backing vocal), etc. Previously licensed out to BGO, this has now been reclaimed by the EMI family. Bonus tracks include: 'Stars', 'Don't Sing No More Sad Songs', 'Fake Mexican Tourist Blues', 'Stranger in Blue Suede Shoes'.

TOMORROW: CD (EMI 4988192). $15.00

Mid-line reissue of this classic UK flower-psych album from 1968. It includes a high quality digital remaster of the original 11 LP tracks, five bonus tracks from the LP sessions (alternate takes and two new, previously unreleased tracks), three tracks by the pre-Tomorrow Aquarian Age (Twink & Junior, including the stunning "10,000 Words in a Cardboard Box," later revised on Think Pink) and four Keith West solo tracks (including Steve Howe). Tomorrow were: Keith West (vocals), Steve Howe, (guitar, pre-Yes), Junior (bass) and Twink (drums, pre-Pink Fairies). "Tomorrow's only album, a psych-pop classic released a few months too late in early 1968, is here expanded to double length. 'Auntie's Dress Shop,' 'Colonel Brown,' 'Real Life Permanent Dream' remain classic examples of English psych's high-water mark, while 'My White Bicycle' was simply an inexplicable flop. 'Now Your Time Has Come' suggest that Tomorrow could have gone on to greater things if they hadn't fallen apart so soon...a period delight fit to sit inbetween The Move and Piper At The Gates of Dawn." — Mojo.

WIRE: Pink Flag CD (EMI 98462). $13.00

1994 mid-line reissue of the first Wire album, originally issued in 1977. With 2 bonus tracks: "Dot Dash" & "Options R". Printed lyrics are included as well.

REID, TERRY: Super Lungs 2CD (EMI 77144CD). $26.00

Subtitled: The Complete Studio Recordings 1966-1969. "Possessed of an extraordinary, guttural vocal talent that earned him the nickname Superlungs, Terry Reid is often called the finest British blue-eyed soulman. After famously turning down the job as vocalist for Led Zeppelin whilst still in their earlier 'New Yardbirds' days; he went on to recommend both Robert Plant and John Bonham to Jimmy Page for their jobs. A child prodigy, he was a professional rock and roller as a member of Peter Jay & the Jaywalkers at 15, and had refused both Led Zeppelin and Deep Purple by the age of 20, so resolved was he to pursue his solo work. A catalogue of misfortunes and twists of fate have stood between Reid and the commercial success he surely deserves. Furthermore, he's only ever recorded 6 albums, two of which were for EMI, and his last release was in 1991. Super Lungs: The Complete Studio Recordings 1966-69 is composed of the two albums recorded for EMI during the period, Terry Reid and Bang Bang You're Terry Reid, plus 12 extra tracks including some 2003 versions. Comparisons are often made with the vocal range and dexterity of Sam Cooke and Ben E King, while this collection should also attract fans of Tim & Jeff Buckley, or even Ryan Adams. All tracks are fully digitally remastered for the first time."

EMMA (FRANCE):

DANTEC/R. PINHAS, M.G.: Le Schizotrope III CD (EMMA 100 CD). $16.00

"Richard Pinhas became one of the most radical agitators of the 70's musical scene. His first musical experiences with the group Schizo led him to create another group, Heldon (in reference to a Norman Spinrad's novel). Being considered as the first group of industrial electronica music by an American magazine, Heldon delivers an incredible violence that gave birth to the present techno and industrial currents. Richard Pinhas then followed his own way in a solo career but remained loyal to his musical roots with famous composers including David Bowie. After he reformed Heldon in 98 with Spinrad and Dantec, Richard Pinhas created Schizotrope with Maurice G. Dantec the same year. Their third album is exploring a new electronica sound, more rhythmical and accessible but still based on Deleuze and Nietzsche's texts."

EMPEROR NORTON:

FELIX DA HOUSECAT: Madame Hollywood Remixes 12" (EMN 30). $5.50

"Felix da Housecat's Kittenz & Thee Glitz has been recognized as one of the premier electronic records of the past year. 'Madame Hollywood,' the second single from the album, featuring the ultra-sexy vocals of Miss Kittin gets the remix treatment from Tiga, Ursula 1000, Richard Humpty Vision and Ralph Myerz."

FELIX DA HOUSECAT: Madame Hollywood/Silver Screen + Remixes CD (EMN 31). $5.50

"Felix da Housecat's Kittenz & Thee Glitz has been recognized as one of the premier electronic records of the past year. This CD 5 captures some of the best remixes of the hits 'Silver Screen,' 'Madam Hollywood' & 'What Does It Feel Like.'" Features remixes by Tiga, Static Revenger, Adult, Roysopp, Ursula 1000, Ralph Myerz, Ladytron, Malibu.

HAACK & ESTHER NELSON & DIMENSION 5 RECORDS, BRUCE: Listen Compute Rock Home CD (EMN 7021CD). $13.00

1999 release. "CD compilation of tracks from the various covetable Dimension 5 LP's (first and most famously the Dance, Sing, and Listen franchise but also The Electronic Record for Children, The Way Out Album for Children, Together, Dance to the Music, Captain Entropy, This Old Man, Funky Doodle, etc...). Haack was of course the fellow who after studying with Persichetti at Juilliard in 1954, devoted his life to entertaining children with song via his various home-brewed electronic remedies (these include the 'Adam2', the 'FARAD', and the 'Magic Wand') and vaguely avant storytelling sensibilities. This music would be impressive enough for a contemporary figure, even were they not set to tape as early as 1962(!) giving Raymond Scott (later a good friend of Haack, rumors of an unreleased collaboration abound) a run for his money. Occasional cringe-inducing child-mind squirm only offsets a pleasurable outing slightly. Warrants further investigation." — Hrvatski.

LADYTRON: 604 CD (EMN 7037 CD). $13.00

"Ladytron successfully fuses together the cold darkness of computer rock with lingering catchy hooks found only in great pop songs. Now imagine if you could harness that power by combining the best of pop music, the last three decades into one. Take the streamlined new wave and electro stylings of the Human League and Kraftwerk, throw in the anthemic strains of a Giorgio Moroder bassline aimed squarely at the dancefloor, and top it off with the rhythmic sensibilities of classic funk and England's Northern Soul Movement. The end result: a quartet of mid twenties Eurotrash kids tearing through pop songs fast enough to leave the competition in the dust. Composed of Daniel Hunt, Helen Mamie, Reuben Wu, and Mira Aroyo this is the timeless sound of Ladytron."

SEÑOR COCONUT: Gran Baile CD (EMN 7038 CD). $13.00

"When Atom Heart unveiled El Baile Aleman, his internationally acclaimed album of Latin Versions of Kraftwerk songs, few knew that it was his second release under his Señor Coconut alias. The first was El Gran Baile, a collection of original music written by Atom soon after he had moved to Santiago, Chile from his previous home in Germany. The album was originally issued in 1997 as a limited edition of 1000 copies on Atom's own label Rather Interesting, and was licensed in 1998 to Towa Tei's Akashic Records in Japan. Emperor Norton is proud to release this historic musical document in America for the first time. Remastered and featuring extra tracks not found on the original release."

VA: Dublab Presents: Freeways CD (EMN 7039 CD). $13.00

"Dublab.com was launched in September of 1999 by a small group of Los Angeles DJ's with the desire to present new and ground-breaking music to a global audience via the potential of the internet. Now Emperor Norton Records and Dublab are collaborating to produce a series of compilations and artist albums that will extend the Dublab musical aesthetic to the platform of CD's and vinyl. The first release, Dublab Presents: Freeways Los Angeles, is an audio tour through the burgeoning electronic/underground hip-hop scene in the city of Los Angeles. Every track on the compilation is an exclusive song that will not appear anywhere else." Artists include: Languis, Daedelus, Mia Doi Todd, Dntel, John Tejada, Mannequin Lung, Yesterday's New Quintet, Divine Styler, Damon Aaron, Nowhereman, Ammoncontac, Skull Valley, Adam Rudolph.

VA: Dublab Presents: Freeways 2LP (EMN 7039 LP). $13.00

Double LP version.

FANTASTIC PLASTIC MACHINE: Beautiful CD (EMN 7042 CD). $14.50

"Heralded for his mixture of 60's Europop and electronica, renowned Japanese DJ Tomoyuki Tanaka, aka Fantastic Plastic Machine, is back with his 3rd and most ambitious record to date entitled Beautiful. Guest vocalists on Beautiful include legendary jazz pianist Bob Dorough and Hirth Martinez."

FANTASTIC PLASTIC MACHINE: Beautiful 2LP (EMN 7042 LP). $14.50

ARLING & CAMERON: We Are A&C CD (EMN 7043 CD). $14.50

"Since the release of Arling & Cameron's last full-length, Music for Imaginary Films, in February 2000, millions of consumers have heard the music of Arling & Cameron via TV ads for Acura, Northwestern Mutual, Gap Kids, The Sopranos television placement, and thousands of background music plays at restaurants and retail. True to A&C style, We Are A&C, colors outside the lines of musical boundaries and encompasses styles from dub, dance music, Japanese pop and even 70's arena rock."

ARLING & CAMERON: We Are A&C 2LP (EMN 7043 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

CALL & RESPONSE: Call & Response CD (EMN 7044 CD). $14.00

"After hearing Call & Response on NPR's All Things Considered, Emperor Norton fell in love with the band's combination of electronic pop and sixties sunshine rock, especially the cheerful, good-time pop of their songs 'Rollerskate' and 'Bubbles.' Acquiring the record from Kindercore Records, Emperor Norton enlisted Producer/Mixer Mickey Petralia (Beck, Air, Luscious Jackson) to remix tracks from C.A.R.'s debut as well as record two new tracks. Now the CD is being re-released in an all new package."

MONEY MARK: Change Is Coming CD (EMN 7045 CD). $13.00

"Money Mark has returned to put the groove back into your CD player. Mark, the unofficial 4th Beastie Boy, was the keyboardist and co-wrote tracks on the Beastie Boys' Check Your Head and III Communication. Both albums demonstrated his influence, with his thick, funky organ appearing all over the place. Mark's new record, Change is Coming, follows in the tradition of the instrumental tracks from his previous releases Mark's Keyboard Repair and Push the Button and the Beastie Boys' instrumental CD, The In Sound from Way Out. Change is Coming is full of gritty funk and soul-jazz and some elegant latin flavored tracks as well. Plainly stated Change is Coming is authentic, fun and funky."

MONEY MARK: Change Is Coming LP (EMN 7045 LP). $12.00

BURGALAT, BERTRAND: Sssound Of Mmmusic CD (EMN 7046 CD). $14.50

"Six months prior to the release of his debut album, Sssound of Mmmusic, French producer Bertrand Burgalat was already the subject of a tribute album. Entitled, The Genius of Bertrand Burgalat, the CD culled together a slew of tracks produced, remixed and made by Burgalat for the likes of Air, Nick Cave, Ladytron and Etienne De Crecy. One of the most critically acclaimed composer/arranger/producers in France, Bertrand is a celebrity of sorts and has had his music add cache to numerous commercial spots and movies. Bertrand has also lent his skills to Depeche Mode, Pulp, Japan's Pizzicato 5 and even cult Slovenian rockers, Laibach. Now Bertrand has decided to concentrate his powers on his own album which features vocals from Bertrand produced chanteuse April March and French easy listening chanteuse Katherine."

FELIX DA HOUSECAT: Kittenz & Thee Glitz CD (EMN 7047 CD). $14.00

"Felix da Housecat's Kittenz and Thee Glitz marks a definitive moment in the new electro moment. A Chicago native who has spent the last decade building an impressive number of house and techno anthems under various pseudonyms, Felix Stallings has also become known as a master DJ and remixer. His remix credits include the Garbage, Pet Shop Boys, Giorgio Moroder, Diana Ross, Kylie Minogue and Ladytron."

FELIX DA HOUSECAT: Kittenz & Thee Glitz 2LP (EMN 7047 LP). $14.00

Double LP version.

GOLDEN BOY WITH MISS KITTIN: Or CD (EMN 7049 CD). $14.00

"At the forefront of the European 'electro from techno' music revolution is Swiss-based Golden Boy featuring Miss Kittin. The electropop sounds of Zurich's Golden Boy is the perfect musical bed for the witty vocal musings of Geneva-based DJ and soon-to-be electro chanteuse superstar Miss Kittin. US version of the record has two new tracks." Previously issued on Ladomat in Germany.

BUFFALO DAUGHTER: I CD (EMN 7051 CD). $14.00

"Always known for being adventurous and innovative in their musical exploration, Buffalo Daughter are back with their most mature release to date, I. Conceptually, the tracks and artwork of I, convey innocence, simplicity, hope and the light of life. The result is an album that flows beautifully from track to track. Starting with the airy angelic harmonies of 'Ivory' to the progressive metal of 'Earth Punk Rockers' and the Stereolab style pop of 'Volcanic Girl,' I is sure to put Buffalo Daughter on a higher rock plane."

MISS KITTIN & THE HACKER: First Album CD (EMN 7052 CD). $14.00

"Oozing icy glamour, the slick, stylish Miss Kittin a.k.a. Caroline Herve and The Hacker a.k.a. Michael Amato make deeply sensual electronic disco and electro-noir. Since 1997, when they released their notorious x-rated single 'Frank Sinatra', the duo have given birth to a pair of highly praised vinyl EPs while Miss Kittin has become renowned for her work on Felix da Housecat's Kittenz & Thee Glitz and Goldenboy's Or."

VA: Original Soundtrack CQ CD (EMN 7053 CD). $14.00

"MGM presents Roman Coppola's first feature film CQ on May 3rd. The scene is Paris, 1969. The filming of a sci-fi movie set in the distant year 2000 is in trouble. Mellow, whose A Mellow Spring which came out to critical acclaim in 2001, spring from the same neo-psychedelic scene as their fellow Frenchmen Air. Mellow's ambient, funky and hypnotic score in the style of CQ-era music makes up the majority of the material on the soundtrack. The other cuts from the record include tracks from legendary French pop artists Claude Francois and Jacques Dutronc as well as pair of funky 60's library music pieces."

UGLY DUCKLING: Journey To Anywhere CD (EMN 7055 CD). $14.00

"On their way to establishing themselves as one of the best of the new breed of old-school influenced hip hop groups, Ugly Duckling fell prey to their former label going bust only three months after the release of their debut full-length Journey to Anywhere. Now Emperor Norton is proud to rerelease Journey to Anywhere. Album repackaged with a 7 song bonus CD which includes a Cut Chemist remix of 'Eye on the Gold Chain' and 'Big Bank Take Little Bank' featuring Double K of People Under the Stairs."

MOUNT SIMS: Ultra Sex CD (EMN 7059 CD). $14.00

"Mount Sims' celebrity rose as word got out about their soulful-punk-electro and erotically charged performances at 'Socket,' Mount Sims' electro and performance art night club. After the buzz caught the attention of world's most prestigious electro label, International Deejay Gigolo, a deal ensued. Ultra Sex now has been completely remixed by producer Mickey Petralia (Beck, Eels, Luscious Jackson), and has had four hot new tracks added to it."

CODEC & FLEXOR: Tubed CD (EMN 7061CD). $14.50

"If Underworld and Nitzer Ebb spawned birth to a set of twins, they might resemble Codec & Flexor. A hybrid mixture of industrial, house music and dark techno, Codec & Flexor present their debut album Tubed. While squeezing some nerve-wrenching rifts out of his guitar, Flexor comes across as part Karl Hyde part Trent Reznor."

MISS KITTIN: Radio Caroline Vol. 1 CD (EMN 7063CD). $14.50

"True to her DJ roots, Kittin presents Radio Caroline Vol. 1, a mix CD complete with vocals and lyrics by Kittin. The result is a mix CD which shows off her DJ skills as well as the unique lyrical cleverness that has made her a rising star." Artists include: Delarosa & Asora, Alexander Polzin, Jake Fairley, Alexander Robotnik, Jesper Dahlback, Autechre, Panasonic, Blaze, Redagani P & Smash J, Andreas Fragel, Marshall Jefferson vs. Nossa Heads, Repeat, Leo Elstob, Der Zylkus, Conrad Black, T-H-D, Maus & Stolle, Walking Industries, and Kinesthesia.

SENIOR COCONUT: Fiesta Songs CD (EMN 7066 CD). $14.50

"The magical Senior Coconut (aka Atom Heart) has returned with Fiesta Songs, an album of classic tracks and a few originals given that special twist of Coconut magic. Fiesta Songs features the first single 'Smoke On The Water', a merengue version of Michael Jackson's 'Beat It', Sade's 'Smooth Operator' along with reinterpretations of The Doors' 'Riders On The Storm', Jean Michel Jarre's 'Oxygene' and Elton John's 'Blue Eyes.' Fiesta Songs is an album that will please lovers of Latin beat as well as laptop electronica fans who became enchanted by Senior Coconut's original flavor the first time."

PEPE DELUXE: Beatitude CD (EMN 7067CD). $14.50

"Back with their follow-up Beatitude, the Finnish duo have created an album that flows as if DJ Shadow hosted a noisy drunken BBQ for a diverse crowd of characters. Ranging from hip hop scratching of 'Just Let Go' to the soulful 'Girl' and the Egar Winter 'Frankenstein esque' — 'Daddy's Blazin' BBQ,' this is a CD bound to be played at a playful party and bound to overtake the airwaves again soon."

OST: Lost In Translation CD (EMN 7068CD). $16.00

"Sofia Coppola presents Lost in Translation, the follow-up to her critically acclaimed directorial debut The Virgin Suicides. Starring Bill Murray, Scarlett Johansson (Ghost World), Giovanni Ribisi and Ana Fani (Scary Movie), the film explores the relationship between Murray and Johansson, two strangers who meet and explore the foreign world of Tokyo and life's aspirations. Like The Virgin Suicides, Lost in Translation has a heavy musical imprint and was scored by legendary My Bloody Valentine founder Kevin Shields. The soundtrack contains the first two Shields songs, along with four score pieces, the first to be released in over 13 years, plus an exclusive track from AIR (who scored The Virgin Suicides) as well as tracks from the Jesus & Mary Chain, Death In Vegas, Squarepusher and Phoenix."

FELIX DA HOUSECAT: Bugged Out: A Mix by Felix da Housecat CD (EMN 7070CD). $16.00

"Always know within the rave and dance circuit as a premium DJ Felix da Housecat is back with Bugged Out, a DJ mix bound to please fans of his cutting edge sets plus those looking to add a bit of flavor to their parties." Artists: Metro Area, Julien Jabre, Frankie Knuckles, Legowelt, Ladytron, Charles Manier, Justus Kohnke, Anne Clark, Covenant, Andrea Doria, Electronica, Felix Da Housecat, Whirlpool Productions, Carl Taylor.

LADYTRON: Softcore Jukebox CD (EMN 7071 CD). $16.00

"As avid DJs and musicologists it was a logical step for Ladytron to pull together a DJ mix of influences, up and coming underground tracks and a few of their own rarities." Tracks by !!!, Barbie & The Kens, CJ Bolland, The Fall, Pixelant, Seelenluft, The Source/Candi Staton, Codec & Flexor, Nancy Sinatra/Lee Hazelwood, Wire, My Bloody Valentine and more...

EMPHASE:

VA: Oneonone CD (ES 008 CD). $16.00

"... a one-instrument compilation feat. Ronald Lippok, Reuber, Anne Laplantine, Kinn, Guido Moebius, Ilse Lau and others ... This compilation is a continuation of the Emphase 7" series called Emphasolo. The concept behind the singles and this CD is that each artist was asked to record a track by using only one sound source. This can of course be all imaginable kinds of instruments, but also animal voices, toys, field recordings or whatever. The artists were totally free in composing, recording and arranging their music, as long as they took their sounds just from this one instrument they decided to play. We have a brilliant hihat track by Ronald Lippok (To Rococo Rot / Tarwater), a flute track by Anne Laplantine (aka Angelika Köhlermann or Michiko Kusaki); Claudia Kapp edited and arranged a cat's voice and Reuber did throat-singing. The instruments range from bass guitar to vibraphone, from violin to jégog."

EMPREINTES DIGITALES (CANADA):

OSWALD, JOHN: Aparanthesi CD (IMED 0368). $14.00

"Aparanthesi consists of just one note. Oswald received a commission from Réseaux for its 'Rien à voir' concert series in Montreal to create an electroacoustic composition of approximately fifteen minutes in duration for their festival in the winter of 2000. I usually already have an idea of the tangent I would like to take when I accept an invitation, and in this case it was the one-note idea. I was hoping to find an interesting way to follow a single specific pitch gradually through many states; it would be, in a sense, the morphing of a pitch through various instrumental, acoustic and electronic forms. Now when I say that Aparanthesi is one note I mean that it is one specific pitch and manifestations of that pitch in the various audible octaves. For A there are ten audible octaves, from the lowest note on most pianos (A=27.5 Hz) to 5 octaves above A 440, which is 14,080 Hz. These ten manifestations of simple halvings and doublings of a set frequency are the entire harmonic content of Aparanthesi — any deviations from this frequency gravitate back to it, by various means. There's are two human solo instrumentalists in this piece. One of them is an anonymous piano tuner. The other is a cellist, Joan Jeanrenaud. And then almost everything that has a broad range of frequencies, or noise elements, is gradually filter-tuned to this tonic. A thunderstorm becomes a thunderstorm in A. All the birds in an aviary sing in A. The 88 notes of a piano are all tuned in forced perspective to one A ... and a foghorn and cattle."

DOLDEN, PAUL: Seuil de Silences CD (IMED 0369). $14.00

"The creation of the solo tape compositions involves the composition of several hundred simultaneous musical parts or lines on large manuscript paper. Each part or line is individually performed on an acoustic instrument and recorded. Once all several hundred parts have been individually recorded, they are digitally mixed together with usually no, or very little, signal processing or electronic effects. This working method allows for new and complex polyrhythmic and microtonal tuning relationships between parts that could never be performed by a live ensemble. This compositional technique also allows for unique orchestration and density possibilities that can be constantly transformed. In creating these works for soloist(s) and tape, many details of the tape become masked by the soloist's sound. However, by being able to clearly hear one part, one gains a new perspective on my sound world, as the solo line often highlights fairly hidden musical gestures and directions. Moreover, one has the wonderful contrast between the tape, in which hundreds of musical parts often create anonymous massed textural effects, and hearing the soloist(s) with all their subjectivity, subtlety and detail they bring."

TURCOTTE, ROXANNE: Libellune CD (IMED 0370). $14.00

"This is the second release from Montreal-based composer Roxanne Turcotte, following 1994's Amore. Turcotte's approach to electroacoustics is genre-bendingly unsettling, drawing its sources from electronica, jazz, world fusion and minimalism. Libellune includes music for installations, 'sound tales' for children, vox pop assemblages & more. 7 charming, previously unreleased works from this unorthodox composer."

FORT, BERNARD: Lumière dans la nuit CD (IMED 0371). $14.00

"First Empreintes Digitales release by Lyon-based composer Beranrd Fort, co-founder of the Groupe de musiques vivantes de Lyon (GMVL). INA-commissioned works from 1992-2002. "Fort has been devoting time to ornithology and the study of natural soundscapes for many years. His music falls mostly in the acousmatic genre. The limits between abstraction and figuration, natural and cultural have always been at the heart of his work, along with a particular interest for the forms the performance of electroacoustic music can take through steady research on the technology available and how it can be applied."

GOBEL/RENÉ LUSSIER, GILLES: Le Contrat CD (IMED 0372). $14.00

"Le contrat ('The contract') is a magnificent fresco inspired by Goethe's Faust and its infinite cultural ramifications. A symbiosis of one's ardour (Lussier) and the other's meticulousness (Gobel)."

ROY, STÉPHANE: Migrations CD (IMED 0373). $14.00

"Second release by Montreal-based composer Stéphane Roy, following 1996's Kaleidos. A quest for happiness, a quest for meaning, the Other and his universe, migration is a strange trail with its share of hopes and illusions. The three program pieces making up this album are such stops that have marked my migration through the American Midwest, three 'invitations to the voyage,' to the conquest of parallel worlds, that allowed me to transcend the cultural itineration that came with five years spent abroad."

This album begins with the freshest work, 'Appartenance', which celebrates the homecoming. It also provides an occasion to meditate on the position of the immigrant, where the excitement produced by the change of scenery is accompanied by the painful experience of the uprooting. The second work, 'Trois petites histoires concrètes', was realized in the course of my first year in St Louis (Missouri, USA). Its central place in this triptych indicates a very different kind of migration: it celebrates the 50th anniversary of the invention of musique concrète through an evocation of its founding processes. In the case of the third and last work, 'Masques et parades', the American migration also provided an opportunity to dream of new stylistic lands inspired by the circus, its nomadism, its deeply moving and iconoclastic poetry."

SMALLEY, DENIS: Impacts Interieurs CD (IMED 0409). $14.00

"An important distinguishing feature of the five works on this compact disc is the relationship between gesture and texture. Musical gesture, derived from our experience of physical gesture, is concerned with the tendency for sound-shapes to move towards or away from goals in the musical structure; it is concerned with growth, temporal evolution, sense of forward direction, the impact of events, dramatic surface. Texture, however, is more about interior activity, the patterns inside sounds, about encouraging the ear to contemplate inner details; it is often more about standing still and observing the behaviors of sounds rather than pressing onwards through time. Gesture can be textured, and textures can be formed from gestures — the interplay and balance between them lie at the heart of our experiences in musical time."

BOUCHARD, CHRISTIAN: Fractures CD (IMED 0474). $14.00

"Christian Bouchard's first full-length solo album as a composer of electroacoustic music is a very convincing debut. Bouchard seems to approach the genre from the experimental electronica angle rather than the more traditionally academic angle of musique concrète/sound synthesis; i.e., Bouchard's music is more concerned with the electrical-sounding sounds (beeps, clicks, hums) at the heart of the works of composers like Carl Michael Von Hausswolff, Leif Elggren, or Ryoji Ikeda than the plastic sound-modeling of Francis Dhomont or Jonty Harrison. And so Fractures is not about large gestures of sonic matter, but about cut-ups, interference, and flurries of data. Bouchard juxtaposes different points of view, different landscapes, different camera angles, so to speak. He is not telling a story, but only encouraging the listener to establish links between segments based on their sole proximity to each other. The hyperactivity of some movements (fast cut-ups, shifts between field recordings of crowded places and pure electronics) is disconcerting at first and makes for a demanding but very entertaining listen."

NORMANDEAU, ROBERT: Lieux Inouïs CD (IMED 9802). $14.00

Remastered repress. "A collection of five pieces dated 1985-1989 by the founding member of the CEC and winner of several international competitions including the Ars Electronica, Linz, Bourges, Luigi-Russolo, Varese, Musica Nova, Prague, Noroit-Leonce Petitot, Arras, Phongruia-Nova, Arles, and Stockholm (which is to say he's well regarded in the electroacoustic community). A class example of the 'cinema for the ears' aesthetic, cleverly executed through a series of location recordings and innovative Digital Signal Processes that when experienced in a closed stereo setting (headphones) can be intensely disorienting. Case in point against the argument that 'the music died in 1973.'" — Hrvatski. "La Rochefoucault said that certain people would never have known love if they had not been told about it. By extension, we may say that certain sonic landscapes, thought colors, certain states and manifestations of the soul would remain forever muted, if electroacoustics had not sprung forth from nowhere — unexpected and inevitable." — Georges Nicholson.

NORMANDEAU, ROBERT: Tangram CD (IMED 9920). $14.00

A collection of five pieces dated 1990-1993, acting as a volume two to Lieux Inouïs, effectively bringing you up to date on the various goings on & sounds inside Normandeau's head. "Tangram represents the almost infinite permutations which lie hidden in elements as sparse and simple as the voice of a child, the sound of a passing train, or a few notes of classical music. Though highly contrasted, the pieces presented on this disc exhibit several common denominators."

EN/OF RECORDS (GERMANY):

GRUBBS/DAVID SHRIGLEY, DAVID: *Comic Structure/I Am Deep In Thought 12"/ART (EN/OF 016). $125.00

END RECORDINGS (UK):

VA: *Trash Companion #1 CD (TREND 001 CD). $16.00

"London's premier alternative nightclub Trash has been fucking with heads, genre bending, spotlighting new talent and shining like a beacon every Monday night for over five years now. Totally unmixed Trash Companion #1 is made up of six brand new and exclusive live recordings from underground heroes Peaches, Stereo Total, Gonzales, Moldy Peaches, Gold Chains and The Yeah Yeah Yeahs — all of which were recorded live at Trash on their first UK gigs. Alongside these unique moments are six carefully selected Trash dance-floor classics, including some rare and long forgotten gems pulled from the vaults. The full length mix of Kylie Minogue's finest moment 'Confide In Me' slides into Nancy Sintara's lost erotic classic 'Kinky Love'. Duran Duran show what they could do when let off the leash with a NY No Wave style mash up of their track 'My Own Way', while a rare Tiga mix takes Felix Da Housecat's 'Madame Hollywood' (here as Mister Hollywood) deeper into DiscoNotDisco territory. The Slits' seminal Marvin Gaye punk mess up 'I Heard It Through The Grapevine' still rocks the floor, throwing us straight into Huggy Bear's seminal Riot Grrl call to arms 'Her Jazz'."

VA: *Trash Companion #1 2LP (TREND 001 LP). $19.00

Double vinyl version.

ENDPOINT:

VA: *Endpoint Compilation CD (END 001 CD). $14.00

"Chicago's newest experimental BPM label fires its opening salvo in the electronic wars with this showcase. This compilation of nine artists from all over North America stands not just as a sampler, but as a substantial assembly of trip-hop, ambient, dub and experimental creators." Features: Rehab vs. Skycraft, Second Man, Kush, CNS Engineering, Nudge, Solenoid, Salvo Beta & Diminish.

VA: *Endpoint Compilation 2LP (END 001 LP). $12.00

Double LP vinyl version.

REHAB: *ERD.00:14421-023Z CD (END 002 CD). $14.00

"Rehab came into existence in 1995 when Bob Davies and Brian Kelly grew tired of meticulously orchestrated 'band' material and DJ 'mix' tapes. Taking what limited equipment they could get their hands on at the time, the duo created 'music' by tearing it apart to find the 'sound'. Drawing from Chicago's tradition of experimental music, Rehab puts forth its first major release on Endpoint Recordings. Drawing from influences of Oval and the Microstoria series, E.A.R. and free jazz, Rehab samples from its immediate environment: videotapes, Sun Ra records, random TV signals, band rehearsal tapes, etc., and augments these collages with layers of analog noise/drones; soundz upon soundz. The end result is a surprisingly musical album, which functions as a whole concept: the rehabilitation of sound into music."

REHAB: *ERD.00:14421-023Z 2LP (END 002 LP). $12.00

Double vinyl version

ENRAPTURED (UK):

RADIO 9: *Motorik 10" (RAPT 1031). $9.00

"Debut release from London based three piece, Radio 9. There sound lives nicely in the realms of krautrock and jogs along at an enjoyable pace. Not surprisingly main man and founder member Leon is also the man behind Kosmiche, the monthly krautrock club at Upstairs At The Garage."

SOUNDSMITH: *History In Our Heads CD (RAPT 35 CD). $15.00

"Second album from Soundsmith after the hugely successful Aquanaut album and two singles that were released on Wurlitzer Jukebox. Paul Gulati continues with his UK west country psych experimentation. A deliciously woven mix of sounds created by an avalanche of instruments, including a ton of guitars, keyboards, piano, and a lorry load of percussion. Soundsmith have the knack of being able to write some amazingly catchy, up-tempo, percussion-loaded songs. This latest release is no exception."

ENTARTETE KUNST RECORDINGS (CANADA):

VA: *No Music Festival 6CD (EK 1898). $75.00

A 6CD box set celebrating the No Music Festival which took place in London, Ontario over the 2 day period of March 27 & 28, 1998. The festival was held in honor of the Nihilist Spasm Band, in their home town where they have been active in the process of noise-making, playing weekly for 33 years now! Participants were: the Nihilist Spasm Band, Knurl, Thurston Moore, Alan Licht, JoJo Hiroshige (of Japan's Hijokaidan) and the trio of Hal Rammel, Terri Kapsalis and John Corbett (aka Van's Peppy Syncopators). The complete sets of each artist is included within this box; additionally each night of the festival featured numerous short jam sessions between the various participants as well as various other participants (like Hijokaidan's Junko or 4 of the sons of various members of the Nihilist Spasm Band!). Packaged in a stickered, slightly oversized box, with 16 page booklet of notes and photos. Each box set comes with it's own set of earplugs as well.

ENTENPFUHL (GERMANY):

SCHLAMMEITZIGER: *Erdrachharnschleck LP (EMMLP 004). $12.50

"LP-only reissue of a cassette-only release from 1993 on Frank Dommert's pre A-Musik label Entenpfuhl (which also released Jim O'Rourke's first record, The Ground Below Above Our Heads shortly thereafter/before). Remastered in 1998 by Andi Toma and Jan St. Werner. Schlammpeitziger is Joe (JoJo) Zimmerman, one half of Holosud (whose Fijne Was Apfompom CD/LP rocks the plimsoul) and creator of some of the finest space-drift/post-kraut-fumblings (namely his side of the His Master's Cosmic Music/Schlammpeitziger split LP on Gefriem) since Moebius/Roedelius's decade long ground-drive-in of all things 'Teutonic' ending with their ungody Mayo Thompson collaboration in the mid eighties. There's some pretty confounding usage of 'consumer-grade' electronic accompaniment devices and channel-clipping reverb-drench resulting in an approximation of some entity interrupting the solo travels of both 'Lounge/Exotica' & 'Psychedelic Electronica'. As good as Harmonia." — Hrvatski.

SUCHY, JOSEPH: *Entskidoo LP + 7" (EMMLP 005). $13.00

SUCHY, JOSEPH: *Entskidoo CD (EMMLP 005 CD). $13.00

"Entskidoo is the fourth solo album of the Cologne-based guitarist, producer and label owner (Gefriem) Joseph Suchy, an album which will no doubt soon be regarded as his 'magnum opus'. Suchy's ability to transcend borders is manifested in his numerous diverse collaborations, be they with Kato Hideki, Kevin Drumm and Jean-Marc Montera or Jan St. Werner, F.X. Randomiz and Ekkehard Ehlers. The fact that Entskidoo evokes at times a putative orchestra from everyone involved, is more to do with Joseph Suchy's use of the whole gamut of his know-how as producer and studio musician, both technically and compositionally, as well as his creation of a brilliantly resonant network of playing styles and overlaps. The result is something resembling a rhizomaticus adaptation of an imaginary archive of 'avant garde' music, be it electronic music, musique concrète, improvised music or noise. One is only seemingly enticed down the well-trodden path by the wealth of allusions, before ultimately succumbing in the sound labyrinth of unexpected sequences, tonal palimpsests and non-linear crossovers; and yet one cannot escape the conclusion that there are simply more ideas here per track than on many an 'experimental' album. Entskidoo ought to delight fans of both Kaffee Matthews and Rafel Toral alike. And for those individuals, who are not only at home with Fennesz's guitar sound, but also with Loren Mazzane-Connors, or those who are fascinated by the analogies between, say, Oval and AMM, well, this album ought to be like a dream come true."

ENVIRON:

POLAR QUARTET, KELLEY: *Recital EP 12" (ENV 017). $6.00

"New 12" from the quintessential future funk ensemble, Kelley Polar Quartet. Check the midtempo wonderland that is 'The Rhythm Touch,' a chugging, string-laced groover featuring vocals from Heather Pelletier and Kelley Polar himself. The melodies are simultaneously avant-garde and accessible, with the sweet human harmonies underpinned by a serious boogie rhythm section. If the warmth of this track doesn't get you, you need to check your pulse. When it's time to cool down, flip for the glacial freeze of 'Castrovalva,' an icy excursion into another universe created by a big bang between Detroit techno and Salsoul strings. This stormer retains the KPQ musical sensitivity but is driven forward by crunchy drum patterns that might not be out of place on a vintage Carl Craig or Todd Terry classic."

JERSEY DEVIL SOCIAL CLUB: *EP 12" (ENV 018). $6.00

"Jersey Devil Social Club is an Environ record like none other. A mysterious, wild mix of Italian disco, horror movie soundtracks, electronic funk and the occult, this record nearly missed seeing the light of day. Originally conceived in 1982 as a tribute to 1979's disco masterpiece Black Devil (released on Italy's tiny Out Records imprint), the project ran into funding problems and was never released. The core of the J.D.S.C. group consisted of two Italian immigrant brothers, Lorenzo and Vincenzo Capo. Vincenzo's daughter Anabella contributed spoken vocal parts (apparently because she had almost no Italian accent!) and two Latin percussionist friends of the brothers (credited simply as 'Carlos 1' and 'Carlos 2') rounded out the lineup. After a year of remastering from original tapes and fleshing out unfinished tracks, and nearly 23 years after the project was born, Environ is honored to present to you the incredible Jersey Devil Social Club."

METRO AREA: *Metro Area 5 12" (ENV 019). $6.00

"It's been more than two and a half years since Metro Area last shook up the scene with a 12" record. That record was Miura — a cult classic. This release finds the duo continuing on their quest for fresh sounds and timeless production, expanding their palette while retaining the emotional spirit of their first releases. 'Nerves' is a suspenseful, driving piece with an irresistible groove soaked in frantic Latin percussion and fierce drums. Angular synthetic textures trade off aggressively, finally arriving at a gorgeous and melancholic destination awash in piano, strings and horns. 'Proton Candy' is just as much of a floor mover with its super-tight electric bassline, but is more playful in its approach, conjuring up dreams of teenage roller rinks crossbred with hardcore disco and bubblegum R&B. It's an intoxicating cocktail that will leave you wanting to hear it (and dance to it) over and over again."

PURPLE FLASH: *Unclassics Volume 3: We Can Make It 12" (ENVUN 003 EP). $6.00

"The third Unclassics voyage features another underground jam from the Quebecois producer behind the Pluton & The Humanoids project from 1980 (Unclassics #2). Pierre Perpell a.k.a. Purple Flash created 'We Can Make It' as his personal vision of Georgio Moroder's electronics fused with sweet, almost easy-listening R&B. As odd a combination as that may sound, the moody keys combined with layers of electronic percussion set this track apart and created a minor disco hit when it was released in 1984. Darshan Jesrani of Metro Area joins in on remix duties for this volume, adding live bass, keys and new atmospheres to his stripped-down take on the original. His remix is open to interpretation, a subtle take that will nestle as comfortably into a house set as it might into an electro journey. Like the original, the vibe is tough to pin down to one genre, and that's why we find it special and a welcome addition to the Unclassics series."

EPISODE (GERMANY):

G-MAN: *Free Fall 12" (EPISODE 01). $9.00

May, 2001 release. "Gez Varley, a.k.a. G-Man and formerly LFO, together with Mark Bell, could make this piece of paper burst with name-dropping info. Although G-Man has had a couple of new releases recently, this one is much more in the style which makes him so popular. Here he plays the atmospheric master. It's about chords and stings and minimal proceeding percussion—the resuscitation of his old values. A massive atmospheric overload, distorted and rough but catchy and trippy at the same time.”

BENNETT, JEFF: Puzzling Thoughts CD (EPISODE 011 CD). $16.00

“Jeff Bennett, a brilliant DJ and Producer based in Sweden who achieved major success by having recorded 2 stunning releases on Episode and on Steve Bug's Poker Flat imprint amongst others. Puzzling Thoughts, like the title already reveals, is ment to be conceptual. It offers us a view into his wide understatement of House Music, covering up from Dub orientated tunes down to ones which are rather focussed on mellow Techno. A journey in Sound, full of surprises. One of the most significant fact describing the quality of Puzzling Thoughts is the fact that it works in the clubs as well under more laid back circumstances like home use purposes.”

EREMITE:

MOONDOC TRIO, JEMEEL: Tri-P-Let CD (MTE 01). $12.00

Debut releases from this label dedicated to the “new loft” scene bubbling over via the farmlands of Western Massachusetts, under the direction of Michael Ehlers and Byron Coley. “Since the dawn of the first loft era, alto saxophonist Jemeel Moondoc has been a prime & crazy mover. His recordings for Soul Note, Cadence, PolJazz & his own Muntu label chart a distinctly non-Ornettian course across the scorched landscapes of the post-bop era. With the release of Tri-P-Let, Eremitte is proud to return Mr. Moondoc to the recording scene after an absence of eleven years. Playing with Moondoc...are bassist John Voigt, a wildly advanced instrumentalist & an Apollonian spirit of intelligence & warmth, and drummer Lawrence Cook, a Dionysian power-wrath with a discography reaching back to the early ESP catalog & including extensive stints with such luminaries as Paul Bley & Bill Dixon. In this company, his new working trio, the special particulars of Moondoc's vast & highly personal compositional & improvisational mind have never been more apparent.”

CAULEY, CHRISTOPHER: FINland CD (MTE 06). $12.00

Debut release by a Montreal-based alto saxophonist who has played with Lisle Ellis, Raphe Malik, Malcolm Goldstein & others. His group here features William Parker (bass), Gregg Bendian (percussion) & Steve Swell (trombone). “Mr. Cauley has brought a distinctive & thoughtful alto saxophone response, informed by the trinity of avant-garde alto saxophone (Lyons, Coleman & Dolphy), but in no way beholden to it. A friendly & very particular recording, FINland introduces a new voice to the world of creative improvised music.”

MOONDOC TRIO, JEMEEL: Fire In The Valley CD (MTE 08). $12.00

Live trio date from Amherst, MA 7/27/96. Moondoc (as), Laurence Cook (per.) & John Voigt (bass). “Moondoc's individual bent is clear from the first note of Fire In The Valley. To a large extent, the Ornettian model has become the alto saxophone's dominant demonstrative voice. Harmolodicism's sweep & lilt (or the approximation thereof) is something that has seeped like hash oil into the binding threads of most altoists' psyches. Moondoc has certainly been touched by Ornette's conventions, but his alto work keeps its edges sharper & its angles darker. Jemeel's playing is more akin to that of Charles Tyler or Arthur Jones. Without resorting to the ceaseless overblowing that can make some of the Europeans sound so goddamn windy, Moondoc visits the recesses & unlit alleys of his horn, reminding us that abundant timbral danger exists there.”

TRIO HURRICANE: Live At Fire In The Valley CD (MTE 10). $12.00

Trio Hurricane = Paul Murphy (drums), William Parker (bass), Glenn Spearman (tenor Sax). Recorded live, 26 July, 1997, Amherst, Ma. “Tenor saxophonist Glenn Spearman is clearly a player & composer who comes from somewhere deeply ‘in the tradition’ — the real tradition. His work is in the same line as all the great, dangerous tenor players — from Ben Webster to Archie Shepp to Peter Brotzmann & onward — as well as the mystics, Frank Wright & John Coltrane. Mr. Spearman's horn sings equally of unifying the spirit & smashing the status quo. His compositions affirm both the sweetness of traditional melodicism & the pleasures of form-destruction. There is no contradiction here, either, as his inventive fires burn hot enough to create a beautiful alloy. Together, the members of Trio Hurricane are playing music that stands at the apex of those traditions that really matter in the history of jazz: power, beauty, invention, insurrection. Their music is produced via a collaboration of intelligence, chops & emotion that places it well ahead of the commercial recycling that passes for jazz these days. So yeah, I guess it's avant garde. But it is also some of the loveliest, most purely-felt human music on the planet.” — Byron Coley, Deerfield, MA

PARKER, WILLIAM: Through Acceptance of the Mystery Peace CD (MTE 12). $13.50

Repressed. “William Parker's earliest recordings as a leader. First released in 1979 on his own Centering Records (Centering 1001), in an edition of 500 copies, Through Acceptance of the Mystery Peace has been a much sought-after collectors item for many years. Eremitte is proud to return this vital & historically valuable music to common circulation. Five ensembles recorded between 1974 & 1979, ranging in size from trio to octet. Denis Charles, Charles Brackeen, Billy Bang, Jason Hwang, Jemeel Moondoc, Daniel Carter, Toshinori Kondo, Tristan Honsiger, Polly Bradfield, & numerous others from far corners of the NYC free music community. An altogether different view of the New York loft scene than that provided by the Wildflowers sessions. With one previously unissued performance.”

MURRAY/SABIR MATEEN, SUNNY: We Are Not At The Opera CD (MTE 14). $13.50

Repressed. “Like Baby Dodds & Kenny Clarke before him, Sunny Murray revolutionized the role of the trap drums in jazz. His playing with Ayler & Taylor opened up entirely new expressive realms for the instrument, & his influence on the last thirty-five years of improvised music cannot be overestimated. Long in exile from the American scene, Murray made a rare working visit to the states in the summer of 1998. This live recording from a 27 June Meetinghouse performance in Amherst unites Murray with an old comrade, the masterful multi-instrumentalist Sabir Mateen (TEST, One World Ensemble), who stimulates some of Murray's most intense playing on record since the classic Jump Up side with Jimmy Lyons. Both men are former citizens of the nation state Philadelphia, PA, & that pitiless city's deep tradition of great black music courses through the set. If action music — furiously energized & immediate — is what you dig, this set delivers heavily.”

SPEARMAN, GLENN: First & Last CD (MTE 15). $13.50

“Tenor saxophonist Spearman was an authentic heir to the legacies of Frank Wright & post-Meditations Coltrane. In October of 1998, his giant spirit & wild, high-intensity flights on the horn were permanently shut down. This performance from the July 1998 Fire In The Valley festival, with Rashid Bakr on drums & Matthew Goodheart on piano, suggested a multiplicity of new directions for his small group playing. It turned out to be his last ever earth gig, concertizing or recording. “but man, i wish i could hear him play one more time/cause he was/for me/more than anyone else i've known/the connection/to the heart of original jazz freedom.” — Byron Coley, Threnody for Jon Easley & Jim Shepard && Glenn Spearman &&& Dick Higgins &&& Ray Bremser.

SILVA/WILLIAM PARKER, ALAN: A Hero's Welcome: Pieces For Rare Occasions CD (MTE 17). $13.50

“Alan Silva's playing & live composition have been a highlight of the avant garde's living history for the past 35+ years. From his work with Sun Ra's Arkestra, through extended relationships with Bill Dixon, Cecil Taylor, & Albert Ayler, on into the Celestial Communications Orchestra & the Frank Wright Center of the World Band, Silva has been one of the music's most consistently valuable thinkers. A child of Alan Silva's other-worldly strategies for double bass, William Parker is the premier bassist of the post-Vietnam era. A Hero's Welcome is a spontaneous composition dedicated to the spiritual essence of Sun Ra & to all the great string players of the 20th Century. It was recorded at the first duo performance Silva & Parker undertook, & is the first installment of the Eremitte Silva & Parker ongoing strings duo project, which among other things will entail at least one duo (or extended duo) recording by Silva & Parker for Eremitte per year from now until the big O. Two full improvising orchestras couldn't mix it up more completely.”

DIE LIKE A DOG QUARTET FEATURING ROY CAMPBELL: From Valley To Valley CD (MTE 18). $13.50

“The debut North American performance of Peter Brotzmann's Quartet for the apocalypse, recorded live in Amherst at the '98 Fire In The Valley. Brotzmann on reeds, William Parker on bass, Hamid Drake on trap kit & percussion. Roy Campbell's open & muted brass replaced Kondo for these seventy uproarious minutes of group conjuring. Only Brotzmann delivers music of this immediacy & Old Testament purpose. Violent & beautiful enough to rip you, briefly, out of history.”

HOWARD, NOAH: Patterns/Message To South Africa CD (MTE 19). $13.50

“Originally issued on his own Alt Sax label in 1971, the Patterns session is one of the great mystery spots in the Noah Howard canon. The blasted opening sequence, which we seem to enter whilst already in-process, is a space duet for conga and electric guitar unprecedented in the annals of jazz and new music. When the rest of the musicians enter there is a heavy attempt to Africanize Dutch architecture, a proposition which Mr. Mengelberg seems reluctant to accept. What eventually occurs is a primitivist aerial slugfest that invokes a world of shared experience, then negates its substantiality with hammers of nihilist beauty. Emblematic of the end of Europe's open arms policy towards America's expatriate improvisers, Patterns remains a ferocious, confounding ghost. The Message To South Africa session is another kind of spirit flare. Written in Paris the week that Steve Biko was killed (1979), the date came together around two of the great South African jazz exiles, pianist Chris McGregor and bassist Johnny Dyani. Drummer Noel McGhee was enlisted to give the band Caribbean representation. In Paris as well as Kali Fasteau, who lends the proceedings some of the same vibrational magic she had used so notably on Archie Shepp's Bijou. Mr. McGregor plied in the chords to what was then the South African National Anthem, and Mr. Dyani improvised vocals and invocations in Zulu throughout the suite. The combination of free-ranging throats and small, repeated melodic figures gives the piece a feel very congruent to that which flowed from the pipe of free Africa. It is truly a slab of riveting ‘world music’ in the purest sense — ‘cartwheeling through the changes like a shaman and surging up from a place beyond the reach of the western civ shack. The project was done with the idea that Mercury might release it, but the heavy political vibe was too much for the company. Consequently, the track has never been released until now.” — Byron Coley, liner notes

TEST: Live CD (MTE 21). $13.50

Tom Bruno (drums); Daniel Carter (flute/alto & tenor saxophones/trumpet); Matthew Heyner (bass); Sabir Mateen (clarinet/flute/alto & tenor saxophones). “Unedited concert recordings from the band's 1998 American tour. ‘Years of experience as a working band has made Test an incredibly tight group with the confidence to take risks that other bands can't...’. An underground band in every sense of the term — until last year, the quartet had no recordings, rarely played in clubs, never toured, and consequently got no media attention, they're the best free jazz group you've never heard.” — Jazziz

BRUNO, TOM: White Boy Blues CD (MTE 22). $13.50

“Best known as a member of the guerrilla free-jazz collective Test, Tom Bruno's history on the NYC free music scene reaches back more than 30 years. White Boy Blues is a 1981 performance by Bruno as a ‘solo artist’, along with the drum kit, he plays piano, sings, and dances. The musicality, hard-angled swing, and unfussy attack that mark Bruno's drumming in Test were already point-blank in 1981, and his piano playing, dancing and vocalizing really get in there. An interesting contrast to some of the solo opuses produced by European free drummers of the same era. White Boy Blues is the first joint production between Eremitte and the New York City Artists Collective.”

ANDERSON/HAMID DRAKE/KIDD JORDAN/WILLIAM PARKER, FRED: Two Days In April 2CD (MTE 23/24). $21.00

“Double CD set documenting two 1999 concerts (in Amherst and Boston) by this summit gathering of American free jazz heavies. Two continuous long-form group improvisations. A major statement on American improvisational methodologies at the end of the century. ‘A wall of energy, a tidal wave of celebration, that sweeps away the listener.’” Anderson & Jordan (tenor sax), Parker (bass), Drake (percussion).

ENEIDI/PARKER/ROBINSON: Cherry Box CD (MTE 25). $13.50

“While there was no leader, per se, on this session it is clearly a welcome opportunity to hear alto saxophonist Marco Eneidi out in front of bassist William Parker & drummer Donald Robinson. Eneidi's in the middle of something deep, knowingly. In his early forties at the time of this recording, Eneidi makes good on years of dedication that have included significant encounters with Jimmy Lyons, Cecil Taylor & Bill Dixon. This is not to say he is in anyone's shadow. If anything, this record will make clear to a wider audience what close watchers of this scene have known for years: he sounds like no other.” — Christopher Cauley

SILVA & THE SOUND VISION ORCHESTRA, ALAN: CD (MTE 26). $13.50

“On his third CD for Eremitte records, Alan Silva is back in front of an orchestra for the first time since 1982's Desert Mirage (I.A.C.P.). An iconic figure in the avant-garde for three decades, Silva's contribution to the methodologies & vernacular of large ensemble improvisation is enormous, prefiguring the conceptions of Butch Morris & John Zorn's game pieces. His three album 1970 BYG recording Seasons is universally regarded as one of the high water marks in avant-garde jazz. Silva's orchestral pieces offer a broader view of his mad genius than perhaps any other context for his music. They also reveal an artist of uniquely American themes & sources, informed equally by the legacies of Ives, Ra, Ellington & Mingus, developments in the visual arts (namely abstract expressionism), & a preternaturally warped response to the post-WWII American culture of show tunes, film music, radio theater & cold war propaganda. This CD was recorded during the 1999 Vision Festival, a rare chance for Silva to work & extensively rehearse with a band of veteran improvisers, & again present his orchestra music on native soil (a first since 1968). The band's festival performance was plagued by every imaginable technical difficulty, including complete power outages & exploding television sets. They re-assembled in a empty hall one week later to play the spectacularly expansive music heard on this recording. Resolution 57! Twenty-three piece ensemble featuring Silva (conduction, vocals, some synthesizer) & Sabir Mateen, Roy Campbell Jr, Raphe Malik, 'Kidd' Jordan, Joe Daley, Steve Swell, J.D. Parran, Bill Lowe, Rob Brown, Wilbur Morris, Karen Borca, Jackson Krall, et al."

SILVA/OLUYEMI THOMAS, ALAN: Transmissions CD (MTE 27). $13.50

"This brings us to the beautiful afternoon of October 16, 1999: the duet concert with Oluyemi Thomas, the magical mystery man from the West Coast. Just the bass of Alan Silva & the bass clarinet & c-melody sax of Thomas in the Unitarian Church in Amherst, MA. First silence, & then the sound of string-lines, the idea that all string instruments live somewhere inside the bass fiddle, & from time to time they come out to speak to us. I have always asked the question what would a bass clarinet or c-melody saxophone sound like if the wind blew through it. When I listen to Oluyemi Thomas, I get my answer. This music is a prayer. A conversation that is just as much inward as it is external. So activate your third ear. Try to hear the voice of the earth house/ the trance/the formation & transformation of matter." — William Parker

JEMEEL MOONDOC VTET: Revolt Of The Negro Lawn Jockeys CD (MTE 28). $13.50

"Our bid for Moondoc's finest small-group recording. Revolt of the Negro Lawn Jockeys shows a musician capable of drawing together the post-bop lineage that includes Jackie McLean & Charles Mingus, & the free jazz/energy music tradition of Ornette Coleman & Cecil Taylor into one grand, swinging synthesis. It is clear that for Moondoc, one does not exclude the other. His big-hearted, all-embracing music renders irrelevant the boundary between free & post bop jazz. With Moondoc (alto sax); Nathan Breedlove (trumpet); Khan Jamal (vibes); John Voigt (bass); Codaryl Moffett (drums)."

MOONDOC & THE JUS GREW ORCHESTRA, JEMEEL: Spirit House CD (MTE 29). $13.50

"The Jus Grew Orchestra was Jemeel Moondoc's chief artistic focus for nearly a decade. The band's hellified performances at Lower East Side venues such as Neither/Nor, 1st on 1st, & the Newyorican poetry cafe are the stuff of underground legend. Lower East Side gentrification & a burgeoning conservatism in jazz combined to put the band out of work. Nearly one decade later, Moondoc re-formed Jus Grew for a series of NYC concerts & a New England tour (the source for this audio-verite concert recording). The band's combination of modern conduction techniques, blues & cosmos, super-churning rhythms, & uproarious expressionism will loosen the death root in your head. With Roy Campbell Jr & Flip Barnes (trumpets); Steve Swell & Tyrone Hill (trombones); Moondoc, Zane Massey & Michael Marcus (saxophones); Bern Nix (guitar); John Voigt (bass); Codaryl Moffett (drums)."

MOONDOC & WILLIAM PARKER W/ HAMID DRAKE, JEMEEL: New World Pygmies Vol 2 2CD (MTE 30/31). $21.00

Moondoc (alto & curved soprano saxophones); Parker (bass, bombard, gralle; Drake (trap drums). Eremita continues its documentation of this remarkable duo, who have played together since 1973, with a double CD set (140+ minutes) featuring two cleanly recorded concerts from a November 2000 American tour. Parker's recent interest in double-reed instruments & Moondoc's introduction of a soprano saxophone moves their music into realms of joyfully non-tempered playing that recall the Master Musicians of Jajouka. Elsewhere the old bass & alto slam it out. On disc 2, Hamid Drake joins the duo at Chicago's Velvet Lounge for an emotionally-charged homecoming concert for Moondoc with much of his family in the audience."

PARKER CLARINET TRIO, WILLIAM: Bob's Pink Cadillac 2CD (MTE 32/33). $21.00

Parker: (bass, gralle, jogibaba, orchestra bells, vocals); Walter Perkins: (trap drums), vocals; Perry Robinson (clarinet, ocarina). Two CD set, studio & live, of a new Parker-led trio featuring the authentically legendary Perkins & Robinson. The terrifically resourceful Walter Perkins has worked in nearly every context in post-war jazz. From the chamber settings of the Art Farmer/Jim Hall Quartet to the more insistently swinging requirements of Roland Kirk, Sonny Rollins, & the MJT, Walter Perkins has done it all. & for those of you who agree that far too little of Perry Robinson's highly colorful playing exists on record after his totally classic 1962 Savoy album (Funk Dumping) & ESP 1026 (Henry Grimes: The Call), you're suffering has just been eased. The man is still the last word for all the clarinet's possibilities in creative music." Parker: "The clarinet trio, we're going almost anywhere, but it's more rooted in the blues & folk, extending from the history of jazz. It swings, it sings and, you know, it stings. We don't know where it will go from night to night, but the basis of it is the blues."

MALIK QUARTET, RAPHE: Companions CD (MTE 34). $13.50

"Recorded at the 1998 vision festival Jimmy Lyons memorial celebration, a powerful commemoration from four of Lyons' oldest & closest comrades. Malik (trumpet); 'Mad' Paul Murphy (drums); William Parker (bass); Glenn Spearman (tenor saxophone). One of the best groups ever assembled under Malik's leadership, with all the concentrated drive, tautness & ferocity characteristic of his strongest music."

DRAKE & SABIR MATEEN, HAMID: Brothers Together CD (MTE 35). $13.50

"Drake (trap drums, frame drum); Mateen (alto & tenor saxophones, clarinet, flute, vocal). A highly energized & spirited meeting b/t two of this era's strongest & most imaginative creative musicians. Studio recording from October 2000."

PARKER & THE LITTLE HUEY CREATIVE MUSIC ORCHESTRA, WILLIAM: Raincoat In The River CD (MTE 36). $13.50

"Vol I of the 2001 ICA concert in Boston. A 17 piece version of Little Huey perform Parker's five section narrative suite based on the life of the late street musician Marvin Nunez (aka Uncle Marvin). Featured soloists include Parker (who solos four times on four different instruments), Roy Campbell Jr, Rob Brown, & vocalist Leena Conquest. A considerable leap forward in recording quality from the band's highly estimable past productions."

BROTSMANN/PARKER/DRAKE: Never Too Late But Always Too Early 2CD (MTE 37/38). $21.00

"Dedicated to Peter Kowald. The complete concert from 10 April, 2001, Casa del Popolo, Montreal, on two CDs. Eremita recorded every North American performance by this venerable trio (& guests) during 2000 & 2001, & this one is the motherfucker of them all. Cover & liner notes — an unusually intimate remembrance of his friend Peter Kowald — by Brotsmann."

MOONDOC WITH DENIS CHARLES, JEMEEL: We Don't CD (MTE 43). $13.50

"Eremita continues its extensive documentation of Jemeel Moondoc with this never before released 1981 session. Recorded at Tucasa Sound studio on Avenue B, Moondoc & authentic jazz legend Denis 'Jazz' Charles are completely & totally on-fire from start to finish."

ALLEN/DRAKE/JORDAN/PARKER/SILVA: The All-Star Game CD (MTE 44). $13.50

"A romping, epical feast of sound by five dudes of considerable standing, brought together to expand on a prolificacy of personal & historical relationships. Drake appeared in last minute substitution for a light not able to be there. Silva & Allen (thirty + years after the Intergalactic Research Arkestra), Silva/Parker, Jordan/Parker/Silva, Parker/Jordan, Jordan/Allen, Drake/Parker, Jordan/Parker/Drake: Allen/Drake/Jordan/Parker/Silva."

ERIO (RUSSIAN FEDERATION):

NE ZHDALI: She-Ye-Ye LP (ERIO). $8.00

Erio is one of the first of the new wave of independent labels sprouting up slowly in the Soviet atmosphere. Unfortunately, New Wave is all too often the predominant scent off many of the discs I've heard so far, but here's one that's different. Ne Zhdali were once described as a "blend of minimalist ska with Estonian folk and crazy polyrhythms," but that's not a completely reliable overview. In the words of Captain Yod: "There is occasional use of the dreaded blue beat, but it's quite often covered up w/ truly demented bursts of gtr-destruction, wall-splattering horn-lines, that ubiquitous Eastern European wackiness, and a lotta elements I cannot tag at all. It's a weird and tree-splitting mix."

ERKRANKUNG DURCH MUSIQUE (GERMANY):

MIX MUP: Candys 12" (EDM 1005). $9.00

"Mix Mup's first release took a long time. In 1997 the Chicks on Speed as well as Disco B got interested in 16-year old Mix Mup, but nothing happened, after press pictures were taken quickly. Mix Mup's song 'Gini' actually has been around on self made tapes for years and he even played support for Jimi Tenor, but only now his summer record comes out on Erkrankung. Apart from 'Gini' it features also newer conjuring teenage hymns like Candygirl No.1. We're all looking forward, when he's doing concerts again with his unusual equipment. He for example produced 'Gini' only with one Turntable, a drumcomputer, and a four-track machine. So he recorded everything at once, scratching, singing, and adjusting knobs all at the same time. And that's not his only best performance..."

DIGITAL HASSAN: Affairs 12" (EDM 1006). $9.00

"Cheesy vocoder-synthiedisohouse with an Arabian touch. Unique."

VOSTOK: Airplanes 12" (EDM 1009). $9.00

"In March I met Vladimir drinking beer on a street corner in Berlin. We were both coming and going in different directions at the time, just like Ajana sings in 'Airplanes': 'Hello Zurich, bye-bye Berlin...' Vladimir claimed that at the moment he was born (on an astronaut's camp in The Soviet Union) they'd played Kraftwerk's 'We Are The Robots' on the radio. Because of this he started getting interested in synths instead of rockets. Later, when his parents emigrated to Switzerland, he started producing music for A Touch of Class records in New York as 'Pop Deluxe'. Afterwards he founded a band called 'The Lazerbeam Kids' with Ajana, a performance artist/model as singer. They did cover versions of Punksongs with Synths and drum machines. When Vladimir switched off the synths of the other members because of musical differences, he decided to form a duo with Ajana. In March 2002 they recorded their first tracks."

COURTIN, NICOLAS: Asteroides 12" (EDM 1010). $9.00

"Gameboy-sounding electrodisco 4-tracker above the average. For the young at heart."

CNUT: Dancing, Dancing 12" (EDM 1012). $9.00

"CNUT — like a strange dream caused by eating cheese before bed. CNUT formed in the late nineties in an effort to make prog pop. The two wayward musicians were Innes Smith, noted vocalist and performance artist, and Dave Graham, a sheet music selling bedroom composer. But something went wrong — the guitar prog element slowly gave way to synthed-up Erecto, while the pop side funked it's way to the stars — and by their third collection of songs CNUT had become a full-on space disco phenomenon."

MISTAKEMAN, THE: Rong Is Wright CD (EDM 1013 CD). $17.00

"Generation Aldi founder Bülent Kullukcu is The Mistakeman: Crazy electronic Sleaze-Rock for both Twin Peaks watchers and people who enjoy driving 100 ml/h on German highways at night listening to Intelligent Death Metal. Featuring Catriona Shaw, chanteuse for Queen of Japan, Electronicat and enfants terribles duo Club Le Bomb. This ain't the future of Rock'n Roll — this is the present progressive of Techno. In the spring of 2002, The Mistakeman began to fester in a Munich apartment. Without fresh air or natural light, the young man developed his uniquely mutant strain of rock'n'roll aided only by the sickly blue rays of late night TV. While the jackhammer rhythms of Techno were proliferating, The Mistakeman dove into the deepest recesses of the rock'n'roll psyche for the most primal of all rhythmic impulses — feedback — the sound of modern culture falling apart in a blaze of shudders and hiccups. As late night sci-fi reruns colored the room, The Mistakeman also picked and chose amongst the psychotic debris of previous eras — instrumental rock, movie soundtracks, psychedelia, and death metal. And then he added the junkiest element of all — himself."

MISTAKEMAN, THE: Rong Is Wright 2LP (EDM 1013 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

ERL RECORDS:

HOOKE GROUP, WILLIAM: Vulnerability/Hop!My Friend 7" (ERL 013). $2.50

Live at the Knitting Factory, featuring Donald Miller (guitar), Brian Doherty (electronics), Charles Compo (tenor sax), Masahiko Kono (trombone) and Hooker (drums).

ERNST (GERMANY):

BRINKMANN, THOMAS: Clara/Doris 12" (ERNST 002). $10.00

"Ernst is a label from Cologne (Köln) done by Thomas Brinkmann. Apart from Mike Ink his music is the most stripped down techno you can hear from the city. In fact his music was inspired by the likes of Mike Ink, (Studio 1 Records), Richie Hawtin, Panasonic, Daniel Bell and favorites of the past like Sakamoto. Thomas Brinkmann is a former artist of the famous art school in Düsseldorf, but got kicked out because of his radical arguments and modern thinking in terms of art. He started doing scratch loops in the beginning of the 80s because he liked the idea of a step sequencer. Mathematically thought out, he developed a precise art of scratching the the grooves with a sharp knife-like instrument into the vinyl. Complex grooves were the result, but were not used by him until 17 years later when he won back his enthusiasm for music through Mike Ink's Studio 1 series. It all made sense for him again, and he started to do variations with the Studio 1 records, by using his special designed record player with two systems. He turned down the speed and came up with a dopplereffect which sounded like dub...he then created his own label called Ernst, which means 'serious' in English. "Volume two, notable for actual basslines, snare drum hits, occasional vocal stabs/detritus reminiscent of the Suppose label records Thomas produced under the name Ester Brinkmann." —Hrvatski

BRINKMANN, THOMAS: Erika/Frauke 12" (ERNST 003). $10.00

"Third volume, hinting at the existence of a perfect cosmos via nil-development and lower surface-error, close in spirit (180 degrees away in application) to the explorations of the BCP crowd, only without the reverb and with the fidelity." —Hrvatski

BRINKMANN, THOMAS: Gisela/Heidi 12" (ERNST 004). $10.00

"Fourth installment in Brinkmann's serial release schedule/recording organization/art outing, very much keeping in with aesthetic deductions/abstractions/subtractions previously set forth on volumes one through three. Only here we are treated to more of his patented prepress plate-suff (made possible through his ongoing association with D&M's Stefan Betke (who incidentally records as Pole for Din/kiff SM and holds court in an office above the Hardwax shop in Berlin) who I'm sure allows Brinkmann maximum experiment-time with un-cut plates) which renders the more club-oriented fare (vocal samples?) much more tolerable (an anti-club statement?). Still amazing." —Hrvatski.

BRINKMANN, THOMAS: Yvette & Zora 12" (ERNST 013). $10.00

"Last release in this collectors series, containing the 'hit' from his live-sets."

ERRATUM MUSICAL (FRANCE):

VA: Erratum #2 CD (EM 002). $15.00

"Erratum #2 gathers together different transversal practices of current sound plastics at the junction of poetic and musical spheres as well as the plastic arts (audio art, installations, performances, sound poetry, action poetry, noise, electroacoustic). This new edition involves the confrontation of various forms of sensitivity as attention amplifiers and catalysts of energies: allowing the prefiguration of future events in which the oral and 'noisal' poetic will have to live the intensity of its electro-plastics conjugations and grasp the new hybridizations in order to magnify its senses." — Joachim Montessuis. Artists include: Jerome Noetinger, Michel Collet, Eleonore Bak, Jacques Donguy, Bernard Heidsieck, Jerome Joy, Paul Panhuysen, Philip Corner, Eric Cordier, Manon Anne Gillis."

VA: Erratum #3 CD (EM 003). $15.00

"Third volume of this sound journey." Artists include: John Giorno, Ghedalia & Elie Tazartes, Zbigniew Karkowski, Disinformation a.k.a. Joe Banks, Gilles Richard, Jean-Francois Bory/Patrick Muller, Yuji Oshima, Charlemagne Palestine, Jocelyn Robert.

ERRORSMITH (GERMANY):

ERRORSMITH: Errormsmith 2 CD (ERROR 002 CD). $14.00

"Errormsmith is one half of the projects called mmm and Smith N Hack (a collaboration with Soundhack) which have released some highly acclaimed and influential clubmusic 12"s over the last few years. He also collaborates with New York based DJ and producer I-Sound as Disco Consultant on I-Sound's label Transparent. Concentrated rhythm drives most of the tracks on the Errormsmith 2 release. Oversimplified beats come to life because they were synthesized in realtime. To achieve this dynamic evolution of the sound, Errormsmith developed his own instruments with modular digital synthesis software. The ones he built for Errormsmith 2 integrate the reverb as part of the synthesis model. In fact the reverb dominates the model. Therefore it is an important element of the sound instead of being just an added effect. The dynamic nature of the tracks result from modulating the reverb parameters instead of the dry sounds that feed the reverb. One moment it sounds like a huge hall then abruptly it turns into a very short echo without any spacial depth. There are no analogies of this concept in reality, for it implies that you are in a room in which the walls are constantly moving, dynamically changing the volume of the hall. It is this concept which gives the record it's artificial ambience or what some have referred to as 'plasticity.'"

ERRORSMITH: Errormsmith 2 2LP (ERROR 002 LP). $16.00

Double LP version.

ERRORSMITH: Near Disco Dawn, Live Recordings 2001 - 2003 CD (ERROR 003CD). $17.00

"The third Errormsmith release contains a selection of live recordings made between 2001 and 2003 in various clubs and concert venues like Ultraschall in Munich, WMF in Berlin or Empty Bottle in Chicago. Most of the tracks on this album are interpretations of classic disco and r'n b songs. Digitally synthesized, distorted and filtered clubmusic which goes far beyond its origin. Less abstract and much more dancefloor compatible than the two previous Errormsmith releases this album relates closely to stuff from Smith n Hack and MMM, projects which Errormsmith is part of as well. The live sets were played on a laptop with a self-built digital live tool, a combination of a simple sequencer and a synthesizer. Errormsmith uses this tool to manipulate both the rhythmical pattern and the triggered sounds in realtime. With a huge degree of freedom in playing his instrument, two gigs were'n't the same and a gig had its highs and lows. How different a track could be played out, can be heard on the two versions of 'Near Disco Dawn' and 'In A Sweat'. Initially planned to be released as studio versions, Errormsmith decided to keep the rawness, incompleteness and live feeling of the concert recordings."

ERRORSMITH: Near Disco Dawn, Live Recordings 2001 - 2003 2LP (ERROR 003LP). $19.00

Double LP version. "The third Errormsmith release contains a selection of live recordings made between 2001 and 2003 in various clubs and concert venues like Ultraschall in Munich, WMF in Berlin or Empty Bottle in Chicago. Most of the tracks on this album are interpretations of classic disco and r'n b songs. Digitally synthesized, distorted and filtered clubmusic which goes far beyond its origin."

ERSATZ AUDIO:

ADULT: Resuscitation CD (EZ 015 CD). $11.00

"Resuscitation's music defies easy genre categorizing by manipulating the essence of early '70s punk, the sound palette of '80s electro-pop and the dance intensity of '90s techno. Combining their knowledge and love for these genres, Adult has created their own sound that is both knowledgeable and immediate. Whether you are singing along to the infectious 'Contagious' or moving your body to their smash hit 'Hand To Phone', one will agree that the songs of Adult are impossible to ignore."

LOWFISH: The Accident Causer EP 12" (EZ 019). $5.50

"Lowfish is relentless. Continuous beats and pulses nervously persist, bouncing on the surface, while driving arpeggios and lush electronic melodies sink in. A master at structure, Lowfish keeps the compulsory head nodding consistent through his work, while scientifically degenerating from any sense of unnecessary repetition. Lowfish states that his influences come from 'dodgy 70s modular music, to 80s new wave and industrial, through to various strains of 90s weird electronics.' For over a decade, Lowfish has witnessed trends in electronic music come and go, and has developed a thorough appreciation for electronic sounds and melodies that are warm, memorable and timeless. Here with 'The Accident Causer' ep, Lowfish delivers 4 new exclusive songs, specifically written for Ersatz Audio. Deviating enough from his signature sound, while still maintaining his sensibilities that are unmistakably Lowfish, this ep fits perfectly in the Ersatz Audio lexicon, from 'Dark Matter's' dance floor devastating bassline arpeggio to 'Domination's' impeccably tasteful vocoder line (the first vocoder line to rival Skinny Puppy's masterpiece of vocoder work on 'Warlock')."

VA: Misery Loves Company: An Ersatz Audio Release 2LP (EZ 020). $11.00

Double vinyl version.

VA: Misery Loves Company: An Ersatz Audio Release CD (EZ 020 CD). $11.00

"Compiled by Adult. All songs new and exclusive to this release. CD contains 13 tracks. 2x12" contains 11 tracks." Artists include: Pig, Cat & Co.W, Kitbuilders, G.D.Luxe, Magas, Adult., Solvent & Skanfrom, Tamion 12 Inch, DMX Krew, Lowfish, Charles Manier, Goudron, Gold Chains w/ Zeek Sheck, Tommie Sunshine.

GOUDRON: Horses & Chariots 12" (EZ 021). $5.50

"Ersatz Audio is proud to deliver the long overdue initial 12" release from Detroit's Goudron. First introduced on the Ersatz Audio compilation Misery Loves Company earlier this year, Goudron now delivers a new 4 song EP of contrived impulses, moving thematically from the harsh to the refined. The 'Horses & Chariots' EP provokes contradictory moods, a perfect reflection of twenty-first century living. Complex rhythms, made from machines customized by Zakrin himself, seem to fall out effortlessly into unique patterns, evenly complementing the emotionally charged instrumental tracks. 'Horses & Chariots' comes complete with an original Zakrin designed 12" jacket. Goudron's dichotomous compositions, wavering between the warm and the cruel, the calculated and the improvident, fit perfectly askew in the lineage of Ersatz Audio. Programming Spontaneity: Complicating Simplicity."

N.O.I.A.: Unreleased Classics '78-'82 CD (EZ 023 CD). $11.00

"Once in a great lifetime, a record label is allowed that rare opportunity to release a record that it never thought it would have a chance to. A record from a time period that has inspired the label greatly, but a record that was never released. That chance is here. It is with great pride that Ersatz Audio is able to announce the release of the Unreleased Classics '78-'82 from Italy's synth-pop masters N.O.I.A. Ten songs written between 1978 and 1982, but somehow never before released. Ersatz Audio would like to thank N.O.I.A. for the opportunity to release their latest (and yet oldest) album. Unreleased Classics '78-'82 features 10 songs available for the first time on CD and Double 12". Once again Ersatz Audio's 2000 compilation title and slogan seem fitting, The Forgotten Sounds of Tomorrow."

N.O.I.A.: Unreleased Classics '78-'82 LP (EZ 023 LP). $11.00

Double LP version.

TAMION 12 INCH: All Black, Eyes Closed to the Excess of Disaster 12" (EZ 024). $5.50

"First heard on the Misery Loves Company compilation, Tamion 12 Inch now has a chance to further elaborate on their unique sound. All Black, Eyes Closed to the Excess of Disaster contains five new songs, complex in their duality. Dark and lively, intoxicating and sobering, adolescent frenzy and studied severity. Punchy analog beats compliment stark yet catchy synth-lines, completed with maniacal sing-along vocals that create an ecstatic aural experience."

MAGAS: Friends Forever CD (EZ 025 CD). $11.00

"Magas is James Marlon Magas. His new album Friends Forever proves he is an unstoppable force in today's underground music scene. This new album is...electronic, it's rock, it's no wave. It's great driving music, and great dancing music. Who cares what you call it. It's simply great music. Listen to this 11 song album, and get ready to be revived. The beats are thick. The synths are vindictive. And the vocals will send shivers up your spine. Unlike many musicians, Magas gives to the music community in two unique ways. First, with his up-tempo minimalist songs, racing towards annihilation. And second, running the influential record store Weekend Records & Soap (Chicago) with his wife Bridgette Wilson. Magas is that unique individual who can simultaneously operate a successful specialty record shop and still create music that is uncontaminated by the hordes of records that move through his shop each week. He uses his knowledge of record releases to create a sound that is both fresh and educated. Magas has always been on the outside of any one style or genre since his beginnings in music, from Couch to Lake Of Dracula and The Many Moods of Marlon Magas. Friends Forever is the follow up to the ground-breaking 12" EP Bad Blood on Ersatz Audio last year. As with Bad Blood, Magas once again employed the co-production assistance of Adam Lee Miller of Adult., and together they produced another fantastic album that will surely stir the waters."

MAGAS: Friends Forever 2x12" (EZ 025 LP). $11.00

Double LP version.

ADULT: Anxiety Always CD (EZ 026 CD). $11.00

"Finally, the new album Anxiety Always from Detroit's premier paranoids Adult., is here. Is this their first album, or their second? Well, that depends on if you think that their last long player Resuscitation was an album or a collection of singles. Frankly, we can't decide, and we really don't care. 10 hard-hitting new songs about the times we live in, and how the more things change, the more things stay the same. Songs laced with sardonic humor, about the ironic details of relationships, the apprehension of public life, and songs about nothing — literally — about nothingness."

ADULT: Anxiety Always 2x12" (EZ 026 LP). $11.00

Double LP version.

ADULT/TAMION 12 INCH: T&A 7" (EZ 028). $5.50

"The songs by Tamion 12 Inch and ADULT. appear here for the first time. 'Paper Airplane (Disaster Relief)' bridges the gap between their first 12" entitled 'All Black, Eyes Closed to the Excess of Disaster' on Ersatz Audio and their upcoming album. Three minutes of constant intensity designed to leave the listener breathless and coming back for more. Pure oxygen. Adult. is Nicola Kuperus & Adam Lee Miller. This is the first of a series of 7"s featuring ADULT. with friends. Armed with grit and heart, this new song delivers with pushing basslines, psychotic melodies and assured vocals."

GOUDRON: Civil Symmetry 12" (EZ 029). $5.50

"Goudron is back with his second 12" on Ersatz Audio entitled Civil Symmetry featuring 5 new songs presented in a one-of-a-kind jacket. Civil Symmetry is classic Ersatz Audio, filled with incessant drum machines, rich analog synthesizers and arresting structures. This EP is rich in perpetual tonality shifts with a thick atmosphere of unwavering purpose. Side A starts with the unflinching drive of 'Civil Symmetry' and 'Rumble Queen', ending with the playfully catchy 'All The Chaps'. Side B continues the assertive thrust of Side A with 'Yellow #5' and concludes the record with the horror ballad 'Run' — a personal favorite of the label. Symphonic strings, complex rhythms, impenetrable layers and effortlessly delivered melodies come together to create the unforgettable sound of Goudron. Civil Symmetry is honest, hard-working and authentic electronic music. With sincerity waning in contemporary music, Goudron is a breath of fresh air. Anticipate restitution."

GOUDRON: Raw Voltage CD (EZ 030CD). $11.00

"The music on Raw Voltage is electronic, warm and full of momentum. Goudron is a modern craftsman of synthesis, structure and song. His music seems choreographed to a film, breaking down, starting up, fluctuating and adhering to rules that make his music sound like no other. His unique 'sound' comes in part from the fact that he modifies a lot of his gear himself; it also comes in part from the fact that he knows his machines inside and out. Goudron is Detroit artist and musician Ron Zakrin. Raw Voltage spans over two years worth of song writing, this album is a selection of the best of the best. Over 30 songs were compiled together to bring you this extraordinary 11 song album. Beginning with the confrontational 'Art School Fuckheads' and ending with the beautifully somber 'Tired', Raw Voltage undulates like an unforgiving tidal wave."

TAMION 12 INCH: Let's Suffer CD (EZ 031CD). $11.00

"The sequel to disaster. The soundtrack to suffering. Let's Suffer is the debut long player from Tamion 12 Inch. The band themselves have described the sound as 'a box inside a box inside a riddle et. nauseum al cetera GO!'. What it is, is a miscellany of corrugated noises, disfigured ballads and psychic pop. Nursery chants from the petrified playground littered with bones and teeth. To confuse matters worse, were told it's a manifesto of a new lifestyle as musical genre 'Don't Wave'. Best ask them what all this means. Songs about the inevitable, the elderly, the ordinary, sovereignty, and the 19 thousandth nervous breakdown."

TAMION 12 INCH: Let's Suffer LP (EZ 031LP). $11.00

LP version.

GD LUXXE: Between Zero & Eternity CD (EZ 032CD). $11.00

"Between Zero and Eternity finds GD Luxxe moving away from the cramped purity of the electro/techno scene and into the realm of more traditional guitar rock. The result is anything but traditional. Most of this album was written on acoustic guitar, and then recorded using electric guitar and bass. Computers, drum machines and synthesizers were then employed, changing the individual tracks to the point of total transformation. What remains is the raw energy of guitar rock powering the precision time frame of modern electronic composition. This approach creates a completely unique listening experience for the listener and is a huge advance for new music. The songs on Between Zero and Eternity are distinctly preoccupied with time and transformation. A fitting framework for an artist who is constantly evolving. By avoiding vacant shape-shifting and simple nostalgia, GD Luxxe has achieved true innovation."

GD LUXXE: Between Zero & Eternity LP (EZ 032LP). $11.00

LP version.

ERSTWHILE:

VHF: Extracts CD (ERST 001). $13.50

"Quiet, intense, saturated improv not miles away from AMM or Such. Personnel: Graham Halliwell (alto saxophone, percussion), Simon H. Fell (double bass), Simon Vincent (drums, tone generator)." "VHF utilise the classic line up of the power free jazz trio, but use their resources to achieve very different ends - producing a quiet introspective music which nevertheless crackles with circumvented energy. This trio are actively expounding a new vocabulary for these instruments - an intense, involving experience." — Richard Sanderson.

HAUNTED HOUSE: Up In Flames CD (ERST 002). $13.50

"This is Loren Mazzacane's new quartet, which has been playing gigs in NYC for the last year or so. It's 3 tracks, 56 minutes, and is a little more structured and rock-based than most of his solo work. The record is culled from the six or so shows we recorded live. Personnel: Loren Mazzacane Connors (guitar), Suzanne Langille (vocals), Andrew Burnes (guitar), Neel Murgai (Persian daf)." Recorded Feb & May, 1999; includes a long version of Lonnie Johnson's "Blue Ghost Blues". "The sprawling guitar textures, wandering melodies, beautiful, dark vocal delivery, and loose song structure come together to make this one of Mazzacane's finest in recent memory. An essential recording for any fan of Mazzacane's work, and a splendid introduction for the uninitiated." — Phil Waldorf

HOWARD/DENMAN MARONEY, EARL: Fire Song CD (ERST 003). $13.50

"Four long solo and duet pieces totalling 54 minutes from these two NYC-based, criminally underdocumented musicians. Howard and Maroney have been playing together sporadically since 1975, when they recorded a version of Stockhausen's 'Kurzwellen' as part of the Negative Band (a record engineered by Carl Stone for the Finnadar label). Howard plays alto saxophone and synth, while Maroney plays hyperpiano, which is further explained below. Howard has played over the years with such luminaries as Derek Bailey, Han Bennink, Takehisa Kosugi, George Lewis, Nam June Paik, and Richard Teitelbaum, but has barely recorded, except for a mostly solo electronics CD on Random Acoustics, Pepe's Tears. Fire Song contains his first composition for alto to be documented on disc, the solo piece 'Orchid'. Maroney has pioneered a technique for the piano which he refers to as 'hyperpiano', which involves stopping, sliding, bowing, plucking, strumming and striking the strings directly with a variety of tools including bars, bowls, knives, bells and mashers of metal, boxes and bottles of plastic, mallets of various kinds, and blocks of rubber. Hyperpiano differs from prepared piano in that the piano is not prepared beforehand." "The week that I heard this CD, I also witnessed Wally Shoup put a rubber glove on his saxophone, his breath causing it to waver like a sarcastic hand. One could not find two more disparate, conflicting values in music performance, though both Shoup's gesture and the Maroney/Howard CD share something in that they are both instilled with an awareness that conscientious abstraction is an empty gesture — Maroney and Howard perform with a humility that speaks more of functionality in a musical language." — Dean Roberts

LEHN/GERRY HEMINGWAY, THOMAS: Tom & Gerry 2CD (ERST 004). $21.00

"In June of 1997, Thomas Lehn and Gerry Hemingway came together for a duo tour in Germany that had originally been planned as a quartet with Mats Gustafsson and Barry Guy. But the budget was meager, salvaging the tour seemed the best option and so the tour went on as a duo. Thomas recorded all of the concerts and the extensive recordings were recently compiled into this double CD, which was painstakingly edited, sequenced and mastered to provide the best possible showcase for this superb music. Lehn (analogue synth), who hails from Cologne, has been omnipresent in the European improv scene since the early '80s, but only recently has begun to be documented on disc, and even then, most of the recordings are on small, hard-to-find European labels, typically in very limited quantities. This project gives a wider audience a chance to hear the man who Jim O'Rourke has described as 'the world's greatest synth player' (The Wire, 1/98). Hemingway (drums and percussion) needs no introduction to anyone with any interest in the current state of free improv. He's led or co-led more than twenty records, and a prominent sideman on countless more, but Tom & Gerry is a rare chance to hear him in a largely electroacoustic setting. Lehn can be heard on the recent MIMEO disc but gets lost among the project's cluttered, too-many-chefs all-star lineup. Now, on the strength of this epic double CD, Lehn joins the likes of Fennesz, Otomo, and Wachsmann as one of the world's premier electroacoustic improvisers, while Hemingway more than holds his own as the foil for Lehn's staggering splatter-attack of synthesized sound. Lehn is easily the most energizing force improv has seen in ages." — Gil Gershman."

ROWE/GUNTER MULLER/TAKU SUGIMOTO, KEITH: The World Turned Upside Down CD (ERST 005). $13.50

"The World Turned Upside Down documents their first meeting as a trio (and the first meeting ever between Rowe and Sugimoto), captured in vivid detail in concert at Les Instants Chavires in October of '99. The performance builds upon Sugimoto's guitar reflections, with Rowe and Muller slowly tracing jagged spirals around his ever-evolving line. Much like an AMM performance, this is a journey with no discernible beginning or end, striking a precarious balance between tranquility and turbulence. The front cover was painted by Rowe, and the gorgeous drawings and calligraphy which adorn the rest of the package come from a tour diary kept by Masae Tanabe. The trio evolves into an electroacoustic ecosystem of insect chirps, bog-creature glissandi and Sugimoto's lone guitar qua guitar, whose ghostly presence soaks the proceedings with a sober grace. No strangers to the art of palpable restraint, the participants create a masterpiece of understatement in an idiom as unforced as it is entrancing." — Robert Lim

DRUMM/MARTIN TETREAULT, KEVIN: Particles and Smears CD (ERST 006). $13.50

"Chicago-based Kevin Drumm (guitar, electronics) and Montreal-based Martin Tétreault (turntables) traveled in separate musical circles, each unaware of the other's work, until a Chicago-based organization, Lampo, booked Tétreault for a concert with Drumm and the ubiquitous Jim O'Rourke in September of 1999. While Tétreault was in Chicago, he and Drumm spent some time in the studio, and this CD contains the results, as recorded by TV Pow's Todd Carter. Drumm, best known for his two superb solo records on Perdiction Plastics, and Tétreault, best known for his collaborative series of discs on Ambiances Magnetiques with the likes of Otomo Yoshihide and Ikue Mori, meld their techniques seamlessly to form a thoroughly integrated record. While both musicians are more than capable of playing solo sets filled with compelling ideas from beginning to end, here both seem to make a conscious effort to subsume their identities in order to create a greater work." "The often brittle, overwhelmingly tactile sounds which Drumm and Tétreault produce are so finely intertwined it's an act of futility to guess whose thwacks, crackles, pops, hums, and squeaks are whose. The duo's enjoyment practically oozes from their savvy interactions, as they rigorously reach deeper and deeper into themselves and their instruments to find new noises. But even as they forage, their sense of purpose is never lost. This is free improvisation of the highest level; stunning proof of imagination transcending scrap-heap technique." — Peter Margasak

BUTCHER/PHIL DURRANT, JOHN: Requests and Antisongs CD (ERST 007). $13.50

"John Butcher and Phil Durrant have both been prominent members of the English improv scene since the mid-eighties, releasing everything from solo records to being members in all-star orchestras. In 1984, they formed a trio with John Russell, with Durrant on violin, a band which is in its 17th year together. In 1997, the two began their electromanipulation project, in which Durrant transforms Butcher's sounds electronically in real time, interacting with Butcher's live playing. The music has three potential strands; the amplified saxophone and two electronic processing chains — individual controlled by Durrant — which are triggered and/or derived from the saxophone's signal. No sampling is used. The electronics transform external sounds in real time, with MIDI faders enabling fast parameter manipulation. Numerous techniques are utilized to avoid the deadening blanket of digital delay, and many treatments employ feedback loops between effects modules, which 'generate' their own material. Feedback delay can be split for separate treatments, and, varying the delay time and gating the delay gives the impression of a 'frozen' sound without recourse to sampling. Other processes, such as self-oscillating filters, have inherent sounds that are transformed by the pitch and velocity of the incoming saxophone signal. Some treatments are virtually instantaneous, some evolve over many seconds, others have a life of their own. Throughout this, the characteristics of how the treatments react together depend on the current saxophone input, creating, for both musicians, the challenge of trying to make expressive use of a system that neither individual fully controls. The musicians' experiences as composers and improvisers are both vital for the duo. In many ways, Butcher has to approach the situation far more spontaneously than in his acoustic work, because Durrant is continually realigning the language of his saxophone, moment by moment. Equally Durrant's use of live electronics is usually with his own violin, where he can work to his own ideas and rhythm. In the duo he has to anticipate Butcher's placements and choices of material — a process he finds leads to far more risk taking."

STANGL/CHRISTOF KURZMANN, BURKHARD: Schnee CD (ERST 008). $13.50

Stangl (acoustic & electric guitars, percussion), Kurzmann (G3). "Burkhard Stangl and Christof Kurzmann are both internationally known musicians from Vienna. Stangl is best known for being a member of the seminal improv group Polwechsel, for his superb solo record Recital and for his five part, work-in-progress opera Venusmond. Kurzmann is a co-leader of Orchester 33 1/3 with Christian Fennesz, runs Charhizma records, and appears on the self-titled improv document CD on Charhizma, along with Fennesz and Werner Däfeldecker, with guest performances by Kevin Drumm, Jim O'Rourke, and Martin Siewert. While both musicians have been involved in the Viennese music scene since the late eighties, and have been friends just as long, their musical interests lay in different areas until fairly recently. They never played in the same band until Kurzmann sat in with Polwechsel in September 1999 in NYC. When they returned to Vienna, they recorded this duo record, inspired by four favorite movies of theirs and by a quote from Swiss writer Robert Walser. Schnee consists of four long soundscapes, with Kurzmann's sedate electronics underpinning Stangl's atmospheric plucking." The following quote from Dean Roberts: "Schnee is not about freezing, it is about snow. Therefore anything 'liquid' is gone, and has been transferred into a malleable body — its grainy patterns and particles are what Kurzmann creates circular asymmetrical patterns within. Stangl's guitar is brittle, dissolving like icicle drops. This record's beauty is in the critical fact that it explores the differences in computer generated and acoustic music, unlike a forced marriage or a systematic clash. Strikingly, it finds its entry at the extremity of fundamental difference between the worlds of the two instruments. It is not reductionist — in that it does not lack matter to its dialogue. Simply these two artists are so assured and comfortable within the language that it leads to saying less."

ROBERTS/WERNER DAFELDECKER, DEAN: Aluminium CD (ERST 009). $13.50

"Two long improv pieces recorded in a studio in Vienna in April documenting the first time these two ever played as a duo; both are on guitar, electronics and percussion. Dean Roberts and Werner Däfeldecker seem unlikely collaborators at first glance. Roberts, who originally hails from New Zealand, began his career delving into guitar drones and feedback, both in the trio Thela and on his own, under the name White Winged Moth. He founded the label Formacentric Disk in order to document a wider range of his work, and released four projects in two years. In 1998, he began working with the influential German label Mille Plateaux, who put out his much acclaimed All Cracked Medias, and in 2000 All the Black Moths Play the Grand Cinema, on their more experimental sublabel Ritornell. Däfeldecker, a lifelong resident of Vienna, is probably best known for being an integral member of the improv supergroup Polwechsel, as well as for founding and running the influential label Durian. He's composed numerous pieces for various classical ensembles, and also appears on two recent notable CDs, Printer (Durian), and Martin Siewert's Komfort 2000 (Charhizma). Originally and primarily a bassist, Däfeldecker has been working more with guitar and electronics recently, both of which he plays to great effect on Aluminium. Aluminium was recorded during a marathon studio session in Vienna in April, and was brilliantly mastered by Tim Barnes. Both musicians play guitar and electronics, along with occasional percussion on a hi-hat placed between them. On the first track, Dafeldecker's sine wave electronics intersect with Roberts' rough guitar textures, priming the listener's aural palette for the marathon track which follows. This half hour-long piece is an atmospheric exploration fusing the legacy of AMM with the spirit of rock and roll. 'Roberts and Dafeldecker avoid flamboyant gestures as emphatically as a trust fund anarchist dodges the neighborhood Starbucks. They prefer to gradually generate magnetic tension by parsimoniously deploying contrasting squeals, scrapes, whines, and bell-like tolls like small objects on a vast, hushed soundfield. The two men evoke a space where humans are heard but not seen, crafting visions of a humming metalworks with nary a human in sight.' — Bill Meyer

YOSHIIHIDE/VOICE CRACK, OTOMO: Bits, Bots And Signs CD (ERST 011). $13.50

"Otomo Yoshihide has explored the nature of sound in many different ways during his career. Over the last few years, Otomo has become increasingly interested in minimal wave-based electronics, as heard in his Filament and I.S.O projects. Swiss duo Voice Crack (Norbert Möslang and Andy Guhl) have been playing together since 1972. In 1977, they released the then underappreciated Deep Voices LP (FMP, reissued on CD by Urthona), which they created largely with acoustic instruments. Since 1983, they've been exclusively working with 'cracked everyday-electronics', modifying and/or abusing numerous small household machines in order to produce extreme, unique noises. Bits, Bots And Signs documents the long overdue first meeting of these pioneers, recorded in March 2000 in St. Gallen, Switzerland, although as Möslang says, 'from the beginning, it was as if we had played together for a long time.' The three musicians generate gently pulsing rumbles, piercing whistles and lingering whines, fusing these varied sounds into a series of expansive panoramas. The striking cover drawing was created by Swiss artist Alex Hanniman." The following quote from I-Sound "Otomo Yoshihide and Voice Crack expertly weave a brittle fabric of sound, unifying notions of instant composition with the radiating randomness of live electronics. Useful sonic "flaws" fold in upon themselves giving these works a vocabulary of fresh electronic elements that come across equally as well placed, spontaneous, and compelling. Electro-acoustic improvisation at its most fragile and leveling extremes."

LEHN/MARCUS SCHMICKLER, THOMAS: Bart CD (ERST 012). $13.50

"Thomas Lehn- analog synthesizer, Marcus Schmickler-digital synthesizer, computer. Thomas Lehn and Marcus Schmickler are both prominent electroacoustic musicians from Cologne, but they come from very different backgrounds. Lehn is from the world of improvisation, while Schmickler's previous work lies predominantly in the world of studio production. Lehn is best known for the CD projects Tom and Gerry (Erstwhile), Konk Pack's Big Deep, and E-Rax's Live at the Bimhuis 1999 (X-Or), as well as for his consistently superb performances on the European festival circuit. Schmickler has been involved with numerous projects, including the seminal collective Kontakta (Odd Size). As a solo artist, Schmickler has created important works such as Wabi Sabi (A-Musik), as well as 3 CDs under the name Pluramon, all on Mille Plateaux, including the just released remix project Bit Sand Riders. He's also worked extensively in the house and techno scenes, both on his own and with musicians such as Thomas Brinkmann and Cristian Vogel. In December of 1998, Schmickler joined the MIMEO, of which Lehn was already a member, and the two began to collaborate occasionally within the band. This past summer, they recorded Bart, which is a brilliant amalgam of the two musicians' strengths, combining improvisation and studio postproduction techniques to create a lasting work."

NAKAMURA/SACHIKO M, TOSHIMARU: Do CD (ERST 013). $13.50

Repressed, new cover artwork. "Toshimaru Nakamura and Sachiko M are two of the most prominent members of the burgeoning onkyo movement. Onkyo, a Japanese word meaning 'reverberation of sound', places much more emphasis on sound texture than on musical structure, distilling elements of techno, noise, and electronic music into a unique hybrid. Nakamura plays the 'no-input mixing board', connecting the input of the board to the output, then manipulating the resultant feedback. Since 1998, he's been exploring the possibilities of his instrument in contexts ranging from solo to collaborations with Taku Sugimoto, Keith Rowe, and the duo project Repeat with drummer Jason Kahn. Nakamura is also a co-founder of The Improvisation Meeting at Bar Aoyama, a monthly concert series in Tokyo. Sachiko M was a member of the seminal nineties band Ground Zero, led by her frequent collaborator Otomo Yoshihide. Since Ground Zero ended in 1998, she has developed a unique style utilizing a memory-free sampler, creating pure, piercing sine waves with the device's built-in test tones and noise. Sachiko has worked extensively as a solo artist, and in groups such as Filament, I.S.O., and Hoahio. She also founded and runs the superb Amoebic label. Do is the second release from this duo, following 1998's Un (meme). Do consists of three live improvisations, recorded in the summer of 2000 at three separate concerts. 'do #1,' the 37 minute centerpiece track, is a masterpiece of gradual progression, inducing rolling waves inside your head, while constantly, infinitesimally, inexorably creeping forward." "Toshimaru Nakamura and Sachiko M minimize their music to a gorgeous maximum. In its reduction to electronic signals, the music becomes very physical. Your speakers become an instrument, and when you move your head or walk around, your ears also become an instrument, you get involved, you can participate. Another prominent aspect is how time seems to escape and how the listener can escape into time simultaneously. Not easy listening music for sure. Abstract music? No, to me it seems very concrete." — Günter Müller

DURRANT/THOMAS LEHN/RADU MALFATTI, PHIL: Dach CD (ERST 014). $13.50

"Radu Malfatti has been a major presence in the European free improv scene since the early seventies. Phil Durrant has worked in a wide range of settings, in bands such as Lunge and Ticklish, and in acoustic and electroacoustic projects with John Butcher. While Durrant is an expert with live electronics, here he performs exclusively on his original instrument, the violin. Thomas Lehn's unique analogue synthesizer skills have made him one of the most prominent figures on the European festival circuit, in bands such as Konk Pack and Toot, as well as in duos with Gerry Hemingway and Marcus Schmickler. Dach (German for roof) is the second disc by this trio, following beinhaltung (Fringses), and is a live recording from the 1999 Kaleidophon festival in Ulrichsberg, Austria. Dach is an environmental improv record, in the tradition of Derek Bailey/Min Tanaka - Music And Dance (Revenant). Only the rain falling on the white plastic roof is audible as the performance begins. As the sun gradually emerges, warming the roof's metal supports, the creaking and cracking roof becomes a fourth sound source for the remainder of the performance. The artwork is composed entirely of photos of the venue, primarily of the roof, as captured by Olga Dafeldecker. Dach occupies the zone between silence and sound, forcing the listener into a state of hyperawareness."

DÖRNER/KEVIN DRUMM, AXEL: CD (ERST 015). $13.50

"Axel Dörner and Kevin Drumm are two of the most exciting improvisers in the world. Dörner is in the forefront of a handful of young trumpeters who are reexamining the instrument, approaching it from entirely different perspectives, while Drumm's chameleon-like presence has been documented on a handful of projects, each revealing new facets of his wide-ranging and unique talents on both guitar and electronics. Dörner and Drumm have performed together many times over the last few years, both as a duo and as a trio with drummer Paul Lovens. This untitled CD was compiled from two different studio sessions, one in Chicago in February 2000, and the second in Vienna in October 2000, and reflects some of the wide range of the approaches which this duo utilize. The arresting cover photos were shot by illustrious Chicago critic and musician John Corbett. Dörner and Drumm seamlessly meld the worlds of acoustic and electronic, occasionally teetering on the edge of silence, yet always remaining impeccably musical."

FUHLER/GERT-JAN PRINS, COR: The Flirts CD (ERST 017). $13.50

"Cor Fuhler and Gert-Jan Prins are both prominent members of the European improv world. Both live in Amsterdam, yet their paths rarely crossed before they became involved in the initial incarnation of MIMEO in 1997. Fuhler is primarily known for his work as a pianist, in ongoing projects with such mainstays of the Dutch scene as Han Bennink, Michael Moore and Tristan Honsinger. He released a superb solo prepared piano CD in 1994, 7CC in IO (Geestgonden). In The Flirts, Fuhler manipulates sounds from turntables and mbiras, filtering them through an analogue synth. Prins' background is as a drummer, but over the past decade, he's focused almost exclusively on electronic noise-based music, using radio and television transmitters to create a distinctive, physical sound. In 2000, he released a solo CD on Grob, Prins Live, as well as a superb trio CD with Thomas Lehn and Peter Van Bergen, e-rax-Live At the Bimhuis, on his own label, X-Or. Both Fuhler and Prins are also still members of MIMEO. Since joining MIMEO, Fuhler and Prins have worked more and more together, in and out of the band, and in early 2001, they recorded The Flirts over the course of two studio sessions in Amsterdam. The Flirts combines a relentless yet subdued energy with an endless stream of fresh ideas, resulting in a CD that is seemingly chaotic, yet very musical. The stunning packaging was entirely created by NYC-based designer Friederike Paetzold." "Prins Live was one of the best records of 2000. Here returns the man with Cor Fuhler: a serious, tender and yet kicking approach that is never just music. The real virtuosity!"—Marcus Schmickler.

ROWE/TOSHIMARU NAKAMURA, KEITH: Weather Sky CD (ERST 018). $13.50

"Keith Rowe and Toshimaru Nakamura are two of the most important musicians in the world today. Fans of each other's work, they began to collaborate in early 2001, and have created in Weather Sky a timeless work of art. Rowe, who is best known for his groundbreaking work with AMM (the seminal improvising collective he co-founded in 1965 with Eddie Prevost and Lou Gare), also currently leads the Music In Movement Electronic Orchestra, an all-star group featuring many of Europe's premier electronic musicians. Nakamura plays the 'no-input mixing board', connecting the input of the board to the output, then manipulating the resultant feedback. Since 1998, he's been exploring the possibilities of his instrument in contexts ranging from solo to collaborations with Sachiko M, Andrea Neumann, and the duo project Repeat with drummer Jason Kahn. Weather Sky was recorded in Saint-Etienne, France in June 2001, and consists of three live improvisations totalling 73 minutes. Both musicians almost entirely sublimate their egos throughout, creating a pure abstract feedback, with occasional flecks of sound jumping to the foreground, combining to produce a sense of eternity."

KELLEY/JASON LESCALEET, GREG: Forlorn Green CD (ERST 019). $13.50

"Kelley and Lescaleet first met in early 1998. The following year, Lescaleet joined nmperign for the first in a series of collaborations culminating in the release of a split CD In Which the Silent-Partner Director Is No Longer Able to Make His Point To The Industrial Dreamer (Intransitive). Eventually, the duo project documented here materialized: the outcome of three years of enthusiastic aesthetic discussions, performances containing near silences one night or (literal) showers of sparks on another, countless phone calls and emails, and endless listening. Forlorn Green is the end result of four recording dates, two live collaborations, one recording of Kelley solo, and one recording of Kelley under Lescaleet's direction, employing uncommon recording equipment and unconventional techniques. Forlorn Green merges a remarkable variety of neo-industrial rumbles and incisive interruptions, all flawlessly fused and integrated, creating a lo-fi concrete masterpiece."

IELASI/DOMENICO SCIAJNO, GIUSEPPE: Right After CD (ERST 020). $13.50

"Ielasi and Sciajno met in 1997, while searching for similarly minded musicians with which to collaborate. They began working in trio with Ruggero Radaele, later expanding to an acoustic quartet with Christian Alati, as documented on their Leo Lab release. Over the last few years, Ielasi and Sciajno have each moved separately towards a vocabulary of pure electronics. In July of 2001, Ielasi and Sciajno met in Palermo for a few days of intensive working and recording, the results of which are documented here. Right After compiles a series of perfectly crafted miniatures, featuring jagged shards of melody, slowly advancing crackles rippling with latent energy, and impeccably integrated techniques."

MIMEO/JOHN TILBURY: The Hands Of Caravaggio CD (ERST 021). $13.50

"MIMEO, the Music In Movement Electronic Orchestra, is a band composed of twelve of Europe's premier electronics improvisers. Due both to logistical and financial constraints, they have only performed together a handful of times since the establishment of the current lineup in 1998. After the remarkable success of their epic, 24-hour long performance in Vand'oeuvre in May of 2000, the band did not assemble again until almost a year later in Bologna, for the Angelica festival (thanks to festival organizer Massimo Simonini). The concert was a singular one, as MIMEO was joined by the noted pianist John Tilbury, nonpareil Feldman interpreter and longstanding member of AMM. The performance was built around a concerto for piano and electronic orchestra, titled The Hands Of Caravaggio and loosely inspired by the Caravaggio painting The Taking Of Christ, as interpreted by Keith Rowe. The piece begins with a low test-tone drone from Cor Fuhler, working inside the piano, followed by Tilbury's entrance a few minutes later. Next, Jérôme Noetinger sets off a flare, signaling the introduction of the electronics. The accumulation of electronics gradually reaches critical mass, at times obscuring the piano altogether. But Tilbury is never completely hidden for long; space opens, and the piano emerges. As the piece evolves, the musicians discover a more delicate counterbalance to work within, which ultimately dissipates into silence." Personnel: Keith Rowe (guitar, electronics), Kevin Drumm (guitar, analogue synthesizer), Phil Durrant (software granular samplers and treatments), Thomas Lehn (analogue synthesizer), Kaffe Matthews (live sampling, computer), Jérôme Noetinger (electroacoustic devices), Gert-Jan Prins (electronics, FM modulations, radio), Peter Rehberg (computer), Marcus Schmickler (digital synthesizer, computer), Rafael Toral (guitar with analogue modular system), Markus Wettstein (amplified metal garbage), Cor Fuhler (inside piano), John Tilbury (piano).

POIRE_Z: ± CD (ERST 022). $13.50

"Poire_Z, the quartet of Günter Müller, Voice Crack and eRiKm, has been performing together since December 1998. In the summer of 2000, they began a series of performances which included a different fifth member each time. These guests have included Keith Rowe, Martin Tétreault, Lê Quan Ninh, Florian Hecker, and Kevin Drumm in addition to the three excerpted sets which make up ±, featuring Otomo Yoshihide, Sachiko M, and Christian Marclay. ± is poire_Z's third CD, following the self-titled debut on For 4 Ears, and presque_chic (Sonoris). The guest musicians' distinctive personalities define each track, infil-trating the core quartet's whirlwind of ideas — influencing, gently nudging, but never impeding or derailing the constant progress."

POLWECHSEL/FENNESSZ: Wrapped Islands CD (ERST 023). $13.50

"The predominantly Viennese quartet Polwechsel have exhaustively explored the grey areas between composition and improvisation, electronic and acoustic, jazz and classical for much of the past decade. Austrian Christian Fennesz, while initially a guitarist, is primarily known for his abrasive yet melodic laptop explorations on labels such as Mego and Touch. Wrapped Islands documents the much-anticipated first meeting of these two driving forces of contemporary music. In January of 2002, the five musicians gathered in Christof Amann's Viennese studios for three days of recordings, from which Wrapped Islands was assembled. While the first three Polwechsel releases solely contain compositions, Wrapped Islands is fully improvised. The warmth and depth of the music induces an illusory simplicity, with different details and passages emerging to the surface with each listen."

COSMOS: Tears CD (ERST 024). $13.50

"Sachiko M and Ami Yoshida, both from Tokyo, met in 1997 and formed the duo of Cosmos the following year. Sachiko M has developed a unique style utilizing a memory-free sampler, creating pure, piercing sine waves with the device's built-in test tones and noise. Ami Yoshida strives to create a pure sound, abstracting her voice until it becomes almost completely unrecognizable. Though both women reside in Tokyo, Cosmos only perform together occasionally, so each meeting is very special. Tears is taken from two of those rare encounters, in September 2001 and February 2002. Sachiko and Ami incrementally build an atmosphere of fragile, yet deeply focused, intensity, forging a symbiotic fusion between human and electronic expression."

STANGL/DIEB13, BURKHARD: eh CD (ERST 025). $13.50

"Burkhard Stangl and Dieb13 are both integral members of the increasingly prominent Viennese improvised music scene, coalescing around the activities of the Durian and Charhizma labels. Stangl explores the full range of the guitar, from quiet melodic plucking to atonal walls of noisy drones. This range and adaptability has allowed him to become a ubiquitous presence on record over the past few years; in the collective projects Polwechsel (recordings on Erstwhile, Durian and hat ART), Efzeg (Grob, Durian), SSSD (Grob), in duos and trio with Christof Kurzmann and Taku Sugimoto (Erstwhile, Slub, Musica Genera), and solo (Durian, future release on Charhizma). Dieb13 (who uses a range of names for performing including his real one, Dieter Kovacic) is an immensely skilled turntablist, as demonstrated by his solo disc on Charhizma and his recorded work with Martin Siewert, Boris Hauf, Günter Müller, Jason Kahn, Werner Dafelecker, and Uli Fussenegger (Durian, Grob, For 4 Ears). eh explores a constantly shifting tableau of guitar and electro-acoustic sound; utilizing a kaleidoscopic range of approaches, framed by lulling intro and outro pieces in which Stangl's melodies both battle and meld with Dieb's noisescapes. The instruments used (from Viennese contraguitar and portable gramophone to electric guitar, electronics, and computer) encompass over a century of musical history. The source material for the design comes from Viennese artist Billy Roisz, utilizing extreme closeups of old shellac records to create the proper gritty ambience."

NEUMANN/BURKHARD BEINS, ANDREA: Lidingö CD (ERST 026). $13.50

"Andrea Neumann began her musical career as a pianist; but she has since reduced her instrument to strings, resonance board, and metal frame. She also utilizes electronics to manipulate and amplify the sounds, some of which would be otherwise inaudible. Because the original inside-piano frame is very heavy; she had a new, lighter one specially constructed for her. Burkhard Beins started as a rock drummer, gradually moving on to pieces for taped material and percussion. Since 1988, improvised music has been his primary focus; working in projects such as Perlonex (Zarek), Activity Center (2:13), and in duo with Keith Rowe (Zarek). Recorded in July 2002 in a studio in Berlin (by Rainer Robben), Lidingö consists of loosely linked improvisations, forming a musical travelogue. The two musicians employ their impressive arsenal of precisely scraped, bowed, plucked, and rubbed sounds to conjure memories (both real and imagined) of the small Swedish island that lends the recording its name. The artwork showscase Erstwhile designer's Friederike Paetzold's modern twist on historical photos of Lidingö."

ROWE/THOMAS LEHN/MARCUS SCHMICKLER, KEITH: Rabbit Run CD (ERST 027). $13.50

"Keith Rowe, Thomas Lehn and Marcus Schmickler are three of the most prominent names in the European experimental world, each with their own distinct history and discography. All three are members of the all-star electronic orchestra MIMEO, and in late 2001, they began performing occasionally as a trio, eventually resulting in Rabbit Run. Rowe, Lehn and Schmickler gathered together in June of 2002, in Schmickler's Piethopraxis studio in Cologne, for two days of recordings. The results were Rabbit Run, which is two records in one: a single 41 minute piece designed to be played linearly, and the same piece subdivided into 42 shorter tracks, designed to be played on random shuffle, creating a unique record with each play. The cover painting is by Rowe, in his unique pop-art style, subsumed by Cologne designer Heike Sperling into a startlingly original design. Personnel: Keith Rowe: tabletop guitar, electronics; Thomas Lehn: analogue synthesizer; Marcus Schmickler: digital synthesizer, computer."

NOETINGER/ERIKM, JÉRÔME: What A Wonderful World CD (ERST 028). $13.50

"Jérôme Noetinger and ErikM have been focal points of France's experimental-music underground since the early '90s. They've explored concepts of context and copyright along parallel paths, converging only rarely. In 2001/2002, Noetinger and ErikM painstakingly edited and shaped the material into a coherent whole, flavoring their complex, abstract electronics with insistent repetitions and field recordings, creating instant concrete — each individual idea as carefully constructed as the impeccably chosen first and last sounds. Personnel: Jérôme Noetinger: electroacoustic devices; ErikM: 3-K, pad F system, MD, turntables."

MÜLLER/OTOMO YOSHIIHIDE, GÜNTER: Time Travel CD (ERST 029). $13.50

"Günter Müller and Otomo Yoshihide are deeply respected musicians who have known each other for more than a decade. Müller and Otomo first met in Matsushima, Japan in 1989 at a show Müller was doing in an abandoned quarry with his band Nachtluft. Otomo had driven four hours from Tokyo to see the performance, and afterwards they met for the first time. They've since collaborated in a handful of contexts, most notably the Filament 2 record on For 4 Ears, with the trio of Müller, Otomo and Sachiko M. Time Travel was recorded in October 2002, just before the Amplify 2002 festival, and marked their first meeting as a duo. Time Travel consists of seven focused, distinct pieces, which combine to create a unique sense of time, slowly but constantly developing and filled with intricate details. Friederike Paetzold's gorgeous design focuses on vector distortions of time zone maps to create a jet-lagged frequent flyer effect. Personnel: Günter Müller: ipod, minidisc, selected percussion, electronics; Otomo Yoshihide: electric guitar, turntables, electronics."

ROWE/JOHN TILBURY, KEITH: Duos For Doris 2CD (ERST 030). $21.00

"Keith Rowe and John Tilbury most likely need no introduction to anyone reading this. Since 1981, they have performed together within the legendary improvising ensemble AMM, as well as in numerous other contexts, both improvised and composed. Tilbury and Rowe first met each other in 1965 when both were asked by Cornelius Cardew to perform Treatise for a BBC broadcast. They have enjoyed a fruitful professional relationship ever since, in the Scratch Orchestra, various Music Now and Cardew groupings, performing Christian Wolff and John Cage pieces, and most notably, in AMM since 1981. They met in Nancy, France at the CCAM studio in January 2003 (on the same stage where AMM had recorded Fine in 2001) in order to record for the first time as a duo, with melancholy in the air due to the passing of John's 95 year old mother, Doris, two days earlier. Her loss, along with the perilous world geopolitical situation, hung as almost tangible events in the air, deeply affecting the atmosphere during the recording. The more than two hours of music presented here (selected from the three hours they recorded) is close to perfect in its conception and its arc from beginning to end, remarkable for totally improvised music. The understated, intricate beauty and modesty of the work belies its complexity. The cover painting is by Rowe, inspired by L.S. Lowry, a well-known British landscape artist and a favorite painter of Doris'. Personnel: Keith Rowe-guitar, electronics; John Tilbury-piano."

SIEWERT/MARTIN BRANDLMAYR, MARTIN: Too Beautiful To Burn CD (ERST 031). $13.50

"Martin Siewert and Martin Brandlmayr are two of the most active musicians in the ever-evolving Viennese music scene, in both improvised and composed settings. Siewert has been quite prolific recently, in projects such as Efzeg (Grob, Durian), SSSD (Grob). Brandlmayr is best known for his riveting percussion work as the linchpin in the superb trio Radian, who have released records on Rhiz, Mego and Thrill Jockey. Both musicians display relentless ingenuity, combining melodic guitar figures and cascades of impeccably bowed cymbals with a wide range of other acoustic and electronic elements, crafting a record that is at once resolutely abstract yet precisely musical." Martin Siewert: (acoustic & electric guitars, lap steel, electronics, synthesizers); Martin Brandlmayr: (drums, percussion, vibraphone).

DAVIS/PHIL DURRANT/MARK WASTELL, MATT: Open CD (ERST 032). $13.50

"Arising from these intensive rehearsals was a new group aesthetic and a shift in focus from acoustic to electronic based material. By this stage, Durrant had developed a personal language using software synths and treatments and Wastell had begun investigating a sound source comprising what he refers to as 'amplified textures', into which Davis' newfound interest in field recordings and electronics fit perfectly. Open documents this exciting period in the group's evolution, with enough groundwork having been laid to develop a strong and unique musical identity but without the all-too-identifiable sound of a group overfamiliar with itself. Open was recorded in two sessions at LMC sound in March and May 2003, both superbly engineered by Tom Wallace. It represents the first recording of Durrant exclusively using a computer, and points to a new direction for the London scene, one more organic and less directly rooted in the free improvisation of the 1980's. Open largely consists of tiny, connected events, never drifting into excessive caution, always taking risks and ceaselessly pressing against the overhanging silence." Matt Davis: (field recordings, electronics, trumpet); Phil Durrant: (software synths and treatments); Mark Wastell: (amplified textures).

VA: Amplify 2002: Balance Box Set 7 CD BOX/DVD (ERST 033/40). $195.00

Extremely deluxe slip-cased boxed edition documenting this Erstwhile festival from 2002. "The Amplify 2002: Balance Box Set is designed to try to recreate (as much as possible) the experience of what it was like to be in Tokyo in late October 2002, witnessing this incredible week of music. Over 7 hours of music on 7 CDs will contain: 1) 8 of the 12 sets from the festival itself. 2) 2 CDs compiled from the smaller club shows which took place before and after the festival itself, including an entire disc by the all-star guitar septet of Keith Rowe, Tetuzi Akiyama, Oren Ambarchi, Toshimaru Nakamura, Otomo Yoshihide, Burkhard Stangl and Taku Sugimoto. 3) A studio recording by the duo of Günter Müller and Toshimaru Nakamura, recorded that same week. This disc has been carefully sequenced and constructed, and is essentially a regular Erstwhile release contained within the larger box. The box will also feature a DVD by filmmaker Jonas Leddington and a 52 page, full-color booklet with photos by Yuko Zama and twenty separate essays by many of the people involved in the festival." CD 1 (outside festival shows): 1. Thomas Lehn/Toshimaru Nakamura, 2. Günter Müller/Tetuzi Akiyama/Nakamura, 3. Christof Kurzmann/Nakamura, 4. Lehn/Nakamura/Taku Sugimoto. CD 2 (studio sessions): Günter Müller/Toshimaru Nakamura-tint. CD 3 (festival): 1. Cosmos (Sachiko M/Ami Yoshida), 2. Keith Rowe/Lehn/Marcus Schmickler. CD 4 (festival): 1. Müller/Otomo Yoshihide, 2. Lehn/Schmickler. CD 5 (festival): 1. Burkhard Stangl/Kurzmann/Sugimoto, 2. Rowe/Nakamura. CD 6 (festival): 1. Stangl/Müller, 2. Nakamura/Sachiko. CD 7: (seven guitars): 1. seven guitarists: Rowe/Akiyama/Oren Ambarchi/Nakamura/Otomo/Stangl/Sugimoto (Cornelius Cardew-Treatise, pp. 82-84), 2. seven guitarists(improvisation). DVD-balance beams, a visual document of the festival as described above.

ROWE/AXEL DÖRNER/Franz HAUZINGER, KEITH: A View From The Window CD (ERST 041). $13.50

"Trumpeters Axel Dörner and Franz Hautzinger transcend many of the aesthetic and geographical factions that have evolved over four decades of European free improv, contributing their gorgeous tones to a wide variety of contexts. On A View From The Window, they join forces with the intensely focused Keith Rowe, one of the scene's founding fathers, and explore the abstract limits of their respective palettes. A View From The Window was recorded in a single day in Vienna in November 2003 by Christoph Amann, superbly as always. Photojournalist Yuko Zama was in attendance for the sessions, and became drawn to the glimpse of sky visible through one of the studio's windows. She took dozens of pictures from different angles, and her fascination inspired Rowe to title the record after the Cardew quote, and to paint a more 'optimistic' version of one of her photos for the front cover. A View From The Window captures these three musicians paring their signature sounds down to their essences, with the occasional plaintive trumpet cry or subtle radio snipnet emerging from the delicate intertwining."

M/TOSHIMARU NAKAMURA/OTOMO YOSHIIHIDE, SACHIKO: Good Morning Good Night 2CD (ERST 042). $21.00

"Free improvisation has rarely seen significant new movements as influential as the small group of Tokyo musicians once labeled as 'onkyo'. Sachiko M, Toshimaru Nakamura and Otomo Yoshihide are three of the scene's driving forces (along with Taku Sugimoto), and on Good Morning Good Night are documented together as a trio for the first time. While these three musicians have worked together in countless configurations in recent years, Good Morning Good Night is their first meeting as a trio. Recorded in August of 2003, the double CD contains essentially the full recording sessions, four tracks totalling over 100 minutes. Good Morning Good Night is a very conscious step in a new direction, an attempt to create a 'vertical' music (as opposed to most music, which moves in a linear, horizontal plane). The pointillistic placement of sounds by these three masters of delicacy results in a music that exists somewhere between foreground and background listening. Friederike Paetzold's design is inspired by James Turrell's work, and features four different covers for the four tracks/times of day, which the listener can fold according to their preference."

ROWE/CHRISTIAN FENNESSZ, KEITH: *Live at the LU CD (ERST 043). $13.50

"Keith Rowe and Christian Fennesz are recognized as two of the most prominent and influential musicians in experimental music. However, despite their joint participation in the 12 person MIMOE collective, their commercially released work has rarely intersected, which is why Live at the LU, a document of their first duo show together, is so revealing. Recorded in May 2002 in Nantes, Live at the LU finds the two musicians revisiting old pathways, further exploring territory they've separately mapped on records such as The Crypt, Harsh, and Hotel Paral.lél. Together they construct a soundworld that is jagged yet bright, stark and jarring, but in the end, somehow still soothing. Rowe's cover painting is deeply symbolic, rife with subtle references, many of which are fleshed out in Friederike Paetzold's brash pop design."

ESEL (GERMANY):

DIN A4, JAMES: *I Am The Very Model Of A Modern Mutant Replicant LP (ESEL 07). $11.00

"James Din A4 is really one of the most promising new artists in terms of producing exciting unusual minimal tracks which work in clubs as well as at home. Pure spontaneous creativity following the steps of early Profan releases. This 8-track Mini LP contains at least 2 secret weapons to make the latenight dancefloor cheer."

DIN A4, JAMES: *Defecting Grey LP (ESEL 11). $11.00

"New geniously fucked-up microhouse, straight outta Weserbergland. A new house sensation, between charming minimal tech and Playhouse-stuff just to make you dance & smile."

CAULFIELD: *Longing 2LP (ESEL 12). $16.00

"Relaxed and swinging minimal techhouse for all occasions." Vinyl-only release from this former Ware recording artist. In Manchester they describe this as "lying somewhere between the swing of Lawrence and as if Larry Heard had composed solely for the floor."

DIN A4, JAMES: *Traumjob Frürentner LP (ESEL 14). $13.00

"Sweet versatile electronics by this German weirdo. Strictly limited. Handmade."

DIN A4, JAMES: *Traumjob Frürentner Remixes 12" (ESEL 15). $9.00

Remixes by Lawrence, Lowtec, and Caulfield.

LASSIE & CHRIS: *Limitiert LP (ESEL 17). $12.00

"Charming naive cuddle electronica from the new Esel act."

DIN A4, JAMES: *Decoding The Ism LP (ESEL 18). $12.00

"Atmospherically floating album of this non-fatigue northlight."

HAUSMEISTER: *Solo LP (ESEL 20). $12.00

"His album Solo contains tracks which define the essence of his first three albums released on Karaoke Kalk. Playful, loveful and even more than married. Little enchanting pop-pigs, ode to your personal psychedelic hugger-mugger. Yes, folks. The thirteen tracks range between beautiful pop-melodies in the spirit of Brian Wilson and advanced electronica. This piece is a gem which will follow you from kindergarten to the day you'll be six feet under."

DIN A4, JAMES: *Ab Morgen Gibts Statt Brot Nur Steine LP (ESEL 21). $13.00

"Here we go again with a new super longplayer by Bremens one and only James Din A4...on his new album with the title Ab Morgen Gibts Statt Brot Nur Steine, Mr.Din is mixing up different styles in various colours...from strange minimal house numbers to electronica...it's all on board...be surprised, have a listen, don't be afraid...the time has come. Open up your eyes and ears to the world and sound of James Din A4."

ESKATON (UK):

COIL: *Worship The Glitch CD (ESKATON 06). $18.00

Repressed. "Coil confronts themselves once again, or rather the sometimes accidental results from their equipment (from Coil site at Brainwashed — 'ELpH is the entity Coil use to describe what musical compositions come out of the equipment that are sometimes unheard or consciously thought of.' ) This album is essentially a collection of minimal instrumental sound pieces, not to say that the tracks are random noise, but rather snippets of 'glitch' that Coil often use throughout their work. Bits and pieces of sound, some electronic/samples and some acoustic, but all often heavily effected and/or affected via computer." — Brainwashed.

COIL: *Presents Black Light District CD (ESKATON 08). $19.00

"Those who shine darkly are: Peter Christopherson, Otto Avery, John Balance, Drew McDowall, Louise Weasel, Jenny De'Ath, John Absalom, and Rufus Pool." 1995-96 studio recordings, cover painting by Steven Stapleton.

COIL/ZOS KIA: *Transparent LP (ESKATON 17). $28.00

"At long last a vinyl issue of this great historical Coil recording. 1000 copies only, on transparent vinyl."

COIL: *North 7" (ESKATON 18). $13.00

The 7" features 2 of the 4 tracks on the CD (Eskaton 19). Rose McDowall is the vocalist on "Christmas Is Now Drawing Near". The last remaining 7" in this series...

COIL: *North CD (ESKATON 19). $9.00

"The fourth & final episode in Coil's quarterly solstice subscription series. Nicely cut-up digital hits/string-drone/space sounds/goth jabber ('Red Rose Splitting the Skull...Heaviness...)/melancholy for the 'arachnid' set. Almost pleasing in places (specifically 'Christmas' & its vox by Rosa Mundi). 4 tracks, 25 minutes even." — Hrvatski. Limited stock.

COIL: *Queens Of The Circulating Library CD (ESKATON 20). $19.00

"Thighpaulsandra's mother, Dorothy Lewis, a trained opera singer now retired, recites the lyrics especially written for her by John Balance; and for mothers everywhere. This was released on April 2nd for Mother's Day and for the Coil show at the Royal Festival Hall in London. Synthesized by Thighpaulsandra and John Balance. Part one of a continually mutating series of circulating musckal compositions. Anyone can become a Queen Of The Circulating Library. Just Plant A Tree. The CD comes in a pink coloured plastic C-Shell packaging."

THIGHPAULSANDRA: *Some Head CD (ESKATON 21). $14.00

"This CD was initially sold at the Royal Festival Hall event with Coil, and is now being made available to the general public. Some Head consists of two pieces of music: 'Black Nurse' and 'Tudor Fruits'. Full time Coil member Thighpaulsandra takes care of synthesizers, piano, horn, vocals, and is joined by Coil's John Balance on vocals/text and Hans Jurgen Rausch takes care of enforcement/retractors. The CD is housed in a sheer black C-shell package and comes with a sticker on the front. Thighpaulsandra also plays keyboards for Spiritualized and Julian Cope."

COIL: *Constant Shallowness Leads to Evil CD (ESKATON 24). $18.00

"This new album by Coil deals with the threat of lavishness and responds with noise. It's a trial by musick. This intense density of energetic anger explores areas that Coil have threatened to open out into in the past, but rarely have pursued with such hallucinatory ferocity. Six new tracks still fresh with blood and electronics: 'Higher Beings Command', 'I Am The Green Child', 'Beige', 'Lowest Common Abominator', 'Freebase Chakra', 'Tunnel of Goats'. It is released to coincide with Coil's 2nd Royal Festival Hall concert this year; an event which Coil are calling Persistence Is All. Points of reference? Lou Reed's Metal Machine Music, Can, LaMonte Young, Flipper, Butthole Surfers, Supermarket Sweep. Composed & arranged by John Balance, Peter Christopherson & Thighpaulsandra." Packaged in a pink C-Shell case ala Queens Of The Circulating Library.

THIGHPAULSANDRA: *I, Thighpaulsandra 2CD (ESKATON 26). $21.00

"An astounding voyage through the labyrinthine mind of Thighpaulsandra. At once surreal, organic, and sublime, Thighpaulsandra presents an elastic, canine and corrupt sonic assault challenging convention and expectation. Presented as a double CD & vinyl LP, Thighpaulsandra draws on his many associates in Spiritualized, Coil & the Julian Cope group and his vast experience in electro-acoustic and improvised music to reveal this extraordinary listening experience." Thighpaulsandra on vocals, piano, harpsichord, synthesizers, French Horn and electrics. Guests include: John Balance (vocals), Peter Christopherson (computers), The Boy Anz (VCS3), Julian Cope (gibson double neck guitar/bass), etc.

THIGHPAULSANDRA: *I, Thighpaulsandra 2LP (ESKATON 26 LP). $22.00

Double vinyl version.

THIGHPAULSANDRA: *Michel Publicity Window 7" (ESKATON 27). $7.50

"Spiritualized & Coil member Thighpaulsandra's extremely limited edition vinyl version of the Michel Publicity Window track coupled with 'Hovercar Von Düsseldorf'. Amber coloured vinyl, 500 copies only." CD version seems to be o/p.

COIL: *Time Machines 2LP (ESKATON 28 LP). $25.00

"First released on the CD format in January 1998 Time Machines and now made available as a limited double vinyl LP. This album is limited to 1,000." On this record Coil is: Jhon Balance, Drew McDowall & Peter Christopherson. It consists of 4 tracks described as "4 tones to facilitate travel through time". The tracks are names after various psychotropic chemicals and include a special thanks to the psychedelic researchers Ann & Alex Shulgin. As might be suggested, the music is immersive and deeply resonant — brilliantly developing electronic drones.

COIL: *The Golden Hare With A Voice Of Silver 2CD (ESKATON 29 CD). $21.00

"The now deleted Russian compilation CD's made available for the first time together on this digipak double CD. Contains the 2 previously unissued tracks that appeared on the now highly expensive Russian releases. 20 tracks in total appear on this Coil compilation release." Originally released on the Feelee label in Russia in conjunction with the group's 9/15/2001 performance in Moscow. Some roughly translated information: "The first album refers to 'the Grant(manual) For Beginning(starting): Silver', and the second - 'The Grant(manual) For Finishing: Hair of Gold.' 20 compositions which reflect creativity Coil since 1984. Coil, about which provocative biography legends go, here again have not departed the principles. Registration of booklets is capable to deduce(remove) unprepared parents on street demonstrations." Contains 2 tracks rumored to be demos from their forthcoming(?) Nothing label album: "A Cold Cell" & "A.Y.O.R.". Track listing: Amethyst Deceivers, The Red Rivers of London, Ostia (The Death of Pasolini), Are You Shivering?, Where Are You?, At the Heart of it All, A Cold Cell, Batwings (A Limnal Hymn), Who'll Fall?, The Dreamer is Still Asleep, Panic, First Dark Ride, Further Back and Faster, The Anal Staircase, Red Skeletons, Scope, Solar Lodge, Blue Rats, A.Y.O.R., The First Five Minutes After Violent Death.

COIL: *Plastic Spider Thing CD (ESKATON 30). $17.00

"A Ritual Work Remixed from Past Coil Albums by DraZen of Black Sun Productions. Musick for the Performancoid Installation in 23 Parts, the Plastic Spider Thing. This work was created as the soundtrack to a Ritual Sex Performance by Massimo and Pierce of Black Sun Productions, Zurich. Radical young artists, Fetish Club owners, and experienced male sex-workers since their teens, Massimo and Pierce recently began an extensive and ongoing collaboration with Coil on their European tour. Their latest performance 'Plastic Spider Thing' is a highly moral yet sexually explicit exploration into the relationship between the Spider and the Fly. A soundtrack was commissioned from DraZen, the third member of their Black Sun artistic collective, who used loops and mutated fragments of numerous Coil works to produce this multi-leveled 'dronewerk', by turns dark slabs of Time Machines-style electronica, and inspirational fluid sound-scapes, that suggest ideas and shapes while remaining mutable. Coil themselves heard 'Plastic Spider Thing' for the first time while receiving a demonstration of various pieces of bondage machinery at a private ceremony at Massimo and Pierce's Club in Zurich. 'Plastic Spider Thing' is a subtle work of pulse-pieces and dream waves, spherical severities, manipulated syntax, words and sensation, that makes the perfect accompaniment to any dark, and extended personal excursion into the Time-Space Playground."

MOUNT VERNON ASTRAL TEMPLE: *Musick That Destroys Itself 2CD (ESKATON 32). $20.00

"COIL were so impressed by Mount Vernon Arts Lab when they played with them at the Megalithomania event at London's Conway Hall that they offered their involvement in Drew Mulholland's seventh release, Musick That Destroys Itself, (his first as Mount Vernon Astral Temple) by releasing it on their Eskaton label. Peter Christopherson designed artwork, which features the mysterious 'time machine' in Brompton cemetery built by Samuel Warner and Joseph Bonomi in the late 19th century to an ancient Egyptian blueprint is featured on the cover. The music itself was created to celebrate the palindromic loop of 2002, and the tracks 'London Praises its Ancient Gods' and 'Warner's reverie' are exactly 20:02 minutes long for that reason (as well as to tie in with the rite carried out at Greenwich at 2 minutes past 8 on February 2nd). Musick That Destroys Itself is presented in a glossy digipak format, with the first pressing also having an extra CD, Eskaton 32X CD that will not be otherwise available. Eskaton32X contains both live and otherwise unavailable material. 1000 copies only of this extremely limited Eskaton release."

ESKIMO (BELGIUM):

VA: *Serie Noire: Dark Pop And New Beat 2LP (ESK 875 LP). $18.00

Double LP version. "Série Noire, is a collection of groundbreaking electronic dance music from the (recent) past, aims to reinstate the value of long-lost dance collectives, producers and bands who once (or repeatedly) hit the mark and proved to be hugely influential for generations to come. These torchbearers never set the charts alight, nor were they backed by big record companies (or for that matter, endorsed by fizzy soda brands). But their output is still revered by both adventurous DJs and well informed punters. This is the sound of Belgium nightlife in the 80s." Artists include: Logic System, The Pool, Willpowers, Alan Parsons Project, A Split Second, Sowry Red, Section 25, Jump, Metro Area, My Mine, Grauzone, Vicious Pink, Executive Slacks, John Carpenter, Kissing The Pink, Carlos Peron, C Cat Trance.

VA: *Eskimo Volume 4 CD (ESK 924 CD). $16.00

"The new chapter in this short lived but already renowned series is once more wonderful. If Larry Levan and Alfredo, easily two of the most influential DJs of the last 20 years, had got together and worked out a killer set that would suit both characters, they probably would have come up with this Volume 4. In fact it's been deliciously compiled by DJ duo The Glimmer Twins (Mo & Benoit) and label boss Dirk who've packed it with deep sexy funk, laidback Balearic, silly electro-disco and dubby 70s psychedelic acid jazz. It contains a few classics, some rare forgotten gems, many obscure tracks well worth discovering and brand new material from the likes of Lime, The Flirts, Gary's Gang, Royskopp, Bar-Kays, Martin Circus, DJ Spen, Sidney Youngblood etc.....Created by the owners of the legend in making Culture Club discotheque in Belgium, Eskimo is rapidly establishing itself as a unique entity with incredibly good tastes (their other compilations series Summer Madness & Serie Noire are absolute musts too!). This is old and new electro-disco at its best."

ESP (GERMANY):

HOLIDAY, BILLIE: Radio and TV Broadcasts (1953-56) CD (ESPCD 3003). $12.00
One remaining copy...

SORGEN/STEVE RUST/BOB WINDBIEL, HARVEY: Outlet CD (ESP 3029). $12.00

An improv guitar/bass/drums trio playing in an almost later Minutemen-style, recorded in 1983. This is going to be the last available ZYX-released ESP title, I just know it.

ESP/ABRAXAS (ITALY):

AYLER, ALBERT TRIO: Spiritual Unity CD (ESPCD 1002). $15.50

New versions of the ESP reissue program (previously issued by Via/Calibre in Holland, and ZYX in the mid-90s). Booklets include brief history of ESP, and some have brief session comments by ESP's founder, Bernard Stollman. The tapes have supposedly been remastered for these editions. "Albert Ayler's debut release on ESP Disk was cut July 10 1964, and remains a historical moment in avant-garde jazz. The first free-music record released on the label, Spiritual Unity defined the ethos of ESP as the quintessential free-music label of the '60s and '70s. This date presented the most challenging and agile groups Ayler ever lead — the astounding trio of Ayler on Tenor sax, Gary Peacock on bass and Sonny Murray on drums. This unit was in flames with the Ayler themes, Ghosts, The Wizard and Spirits. One of the most devastating and profound expression in avant-garde jazz, Spiritual Unity made history for Albert Ayler and ESP Disk as a vital and influential recording in American free-music and jazz. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

RA, SUN: Heliocentric Worlds Vol. 1 CD (ESPCD 1014). $15.50

"Recorded in April 1965, this is the first recording by Sun Ra for ESP and an ideal introduction to his music. An exploration of the outer nothingness." From Remco Takken's liner notes: "This record goes deep into the low noises...bass, bass clarinet, baritone sax, bass trombone, tympani, and even bass marimba (played by Sun Ra when he is not playing keyboards). Around 1964, the Sun Ra Arkestra, balancing on the edge of free jazz from 1954 on, went in a radical new direction, when Sun Ra started conducting 'free' improvisations for sections of his Arkestra. The first results were released on Sun Ra's own Saturn label as Other Planes of There, microtonal blackouts of sound were set against complex rhythmic patterns...It is safe to say that with ESP's The Heliocentric Worlds Vol. 1 a larger audience could, for the first time, encounter the new sound worlds Sun Ra was into in the mid-60s."

GRAVES, MILFORD: Percussion Ensemble CD (ESPCD 1015). $15.50

"His solo album originally released in 1965 (and recorded with Sunny Morgan). Milford Graves has been one of the main drummers in the free mode scene (known for skillful inclusion of Asian and African rhythmic ingredients into his solos). He worked with the New York Art Quartet, Giuseppe Logan, Albert Ayler, Don Pullen, Andrew Cyrille and many more. Liner notes, photos and more...digitally remastered from the original tapes."

AYLER, ALBERT: New York Eye And Ear Control CD (ESPCD 1016). $15.50

"It isn't strictly an Albert Ayler album but a very interesting collaborative freely improvised soundtrack project for Michael Snow's film of the same name. Recorded in July 1964 by Albert Ayler, Don Cherry, Roswell Rudd, John Tchicai, Gary Peacock and Sunny Murray. Liner notes, photos and more...digitally remastered from the original tapes."

RA, SUN: Heliocentric Worlds, Vol. 2 CD (ESPCD 1017). $15.50

Second volume, recorded 11/16/65. "It is Sun Ra who is the real star of this volume. Sometimes simultaneously with piano, he also plays Clavioline, a French post-war proto synthesizer, heard on some of Sun Ra's albums between 1963 and 1968-69. His answer to the restrictions of the monophonic instrument, not allowing chords, is: play either melodic, or...as fast as possible! Besides that, Sun Ra also plays some soaring tuned bongos throughout this record, presumably with sticks...Vol. 2 has lot of interesting percussive moments, using all kinds of 'assorted' instruments, mainly attributed to Roger Blank, Pat Patrick, John Gilmore, Marshall Allen and Robert Cummings. This record shows that by the end of 1965, Sun Ra had fully absorbed the quiet chamber music-like textures into pieces which also feature spontaneous full ensemble outbursts, solo pieces and half modern European/half African all-percussive textures." — Remco Takken. "Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

AYLER, ALBERT: Spirits Rejoice CD (ESPCD 1020). $15.50

"Recorded in 1965 at Judson Hall, NYC, with Donald Ayler (trumpet), Call Cobbs (harpischord), Henry Grimes & Gary Peacock (bass), and Sonny Murray (drums). Cobbs' harpischord conjures up the spirit world in Ayler's most directly Christian statement."

BLEY QUINTET, PAUL: Closer CD (ESPCD 1021). $15.50

Repressed, "Pianist Paul Bley's 2nd album for ESP-Disk! features his 1965 superb trio including Steve Swallow (bass) and Barry Altschul (drums). Seven of the 10 tracks are written by Carla Bley (one each by Paul Bley, Annette Peacock and Ornette Coleman). Liner notes, photos and more. Digitally remastered from the original tapes." "This 1965 record should be in every collection... it is comparable in its democratic intensity and high melodic content to Chick Corea's 'Song Of Singing'." — (from The Penguin Guide To Jazz)

BROWN QUARTET, MARION: Marion Brown Quartet CD (ESPCD 1022). $15.50

"Alto saxophonist Marion Brown, a key member of the avant-garde jazz scene, first arrived in New York in 1965 where he landed his first session playing on John Coltrane's historic Ascension album. By the end of that same year Brown had already recorded this self-titled debut as front man on ESP-Disk, featuring Alan Shorter on trumpet and Ronnie Boykins on bass. His follow up album for ESP (Why Not?) came the following year, along with his critically acclaimed Three For Shepp on Impulse! (a response to Shepp's Four For Trane), which featured one side of his own compositions and one side of Shepp material. Brown is one of the most talented (if lesser known) players of the '60s jazz avant-garde and this historical release secures his place as one of the major voices in jazz."

WATERS, PATTY: Sings CD (ESPCD 1025). $15.00

"After studying voice in college, the Iowa-born Patty Waters made her way East to New York City where she was discovered by Albert Ayler, who was so impressed with her performance that he brought her over to ESP-Disk (his legendary Spiritual Unity had recently been released on the label), where she soon cut her first album, 1965's Sings. Side A features eight short originals with Waters accompanying herself on piano, while the flip side is dedicated to her ground-breaking interpretation of the traditional 'Black Is The Color Of My True Love's Hair', backed by Burton Greene on piano & piano strings, Steve Tintweiss on bass, and Tom Price on drums. A major influence on the likes of Yoko Ono and Diamanda Galás (to name a few), Patty Waters' avant-garde vocal acrobatics, which range from wordless bone-chilling shrieks to rasping whispers, have the unique ability of transporting the listener into a subconscious musical realm where we come face to face with the raw power of the human voice."

GRIMES TRIO, HENRY: The Call CD (ESPCD 1026). $15.50

"Born in 1935 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Henry Grimes was one of the most remarkable bassists of the 1960s free jazz movement. This historic session, recorded for ESP-Disk! in 1965, is one of Grimes' few recordings as leader and features the extraordinary Perry Robinson on clarinet."

TYLER ENSEMBLE, CHARLES: Charles Tyler Ensemble CD (ESPCD 1029). $15.50

"Alto and baritone saxophonist Charles Tyler, one of the major voices in avant-garde jazz, began playing with Albert Ayler in Cleveland in the early 1960s, and soon followed Ayler east to take part in New York's fertile jazz scene. While continuing to play with Ayler in NYC (appearing on both Bells and Spirits Rejoice), Tyler also began leading his own sessions, and in 1966 ESP-Disk released his fiery debut as front man, the Charles Tyler Ensemble, featuring Charles Moffett on orchestra vibes, Joel Friedman on cello, Henry Grimes on bass and Ronald Shannon Jackson on drums. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

SIMMONS, SONNY: Staying On The Watch CD (ESPCD 1030). $15.50

"During the '60s altoist Sonny Simmons was one of the most promising avant-garde players and his debut as a leader, recorded for ESP-Disk in the summer of 1966, still sounds advanced and powerful over 30 years later. Performing in a quintet with Barbara Donald (trumpet), John Hicks (piano), Teddy Smith (bass) and Marvin Pattillo (drums), Sonny Simmons stretches out on four intense and mostly free-form original compositions. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

MURRAY, SUNNY: CD (ESPCD 1032). $15.50

"A landmark recording in avant-garde jazz, legendary free-jazz drummer Sunny Murray was an indispensable force in the early defining moments of free-jazz working with Cecil Taylor, Archie Shepp, Albert Ayler, Ornette Coleman and Don Cherry among countless others. Sunny Murray shines on this 1966 recording for ESP-Disk! leading a quintet featuring the explosive talents of Jacques Coursil, Jack Graham and Byard Lancaster plus the extraordinary bassist Alan Silva. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

BROWN, MARION: Why Not CD (ESPCD 1040). $15.50

"A key figure in the '60s free-jazz movement, Marion Brown was an integral collaborator on two of the most significant avant-garde jazz recordings of the '60s such as John Coltrane's Ascension and Archie Shepp's Firemusic. For this 1968 date the altoist pooled the talents of Norris Jones, Stan Cowell and Coltrane's longstanding sideman Rashied Ali and created this outstanding recording, his 2nd as a leader for ESP-Disk! The quartet burn through 4 of Brown's avant-garde compositions which are among the most rigorous, lyrical and evocative displays of improvisation mastery of that ground-breaking era. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

SIMMONS, SONNY: Music From The Spheres CD (ESPCD 1043). $15.50

"Alto saxophonist Sonny Simmons was one of the most talented (if unfortunately lesser known) free jazz musicians of the 1960s. Born in Oakland, CA, Simmons began playing alto sax as a teenager in the early '50s and spent his early years collaborating with Prince Lasha and Charles Mingus. Except for a brief stint in New York in the early '60s, where he recorded with Elvin Jones and Eric Dolphy, Simmons spent most of his life in California where he met and married trumpet player Barbara Donald (featured on this album). His Music From the Spheres, recorded for ESP-Disk in 1966, with Michael Cohen on piano, June Booth on bass and Jim Zitro on drums, represents one of the highlights of his career. After almost completely disappearing from the jazz scene for nearly 20 years, Simmons made an amazing comeback in the early '90s with his brilliant Ancient Ritual."

WATTS, MARZETTE: CD (ESPCD 1044). $15.50

"Marzette Watts recorded this album for ESP-Disk during December of 1966 with Sonny Sharrock (guitar), Henry Grimes (bass), Byard Lancaster (alto sax, flute and clarinet), Clifford Thornton (trombone and cornet), Karl Berger (vibes), June Booth (bass) and J.C. Moses (drums). The adventurous combo is jamming through three of Watts' originals and the performances really live up to their potential (especially the opening 18-minute 'Backdrop For Urban Revolution'). Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

RA, SUN: Nothing Is... CD (ESPCD 1045). $15.50

"Recorded during May 1966 when Sun Ra and the Arkestra toured some New York State colleges for a week. Eight tracks. Liner notes, photos and more. Digitally remastered from the original tapes." "It's a joyous, dancing record with full-throated playing from the brasses and marvellous interplay between Pat Patrick and John Gilmore." — (from The Penguin Guide To Jazz)

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: One Nation Underground CD (ESPCD 1054). $15.50

"Superb 1967 debut album for this psychedelic folk band led by Tom Rapp (one of the most erudite minds in rock). An always mystical, innovative and mysterious combo with a drug-inspired distinctive acid sound characterised by Rapp's gentle vocals and good lyrics. Liner notes, photos and more. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

WATERS, PATTY: College Tour CD (ESPCD 1055). $15.50

"Despite her brief musical career (consisting of only two albums released during the mid-sixties), vocal pioneer Patty Waters' managed in that short time to redefine the use of the human voice, while simultaneously exploring the darkest and most anguished corners of the female soul. Although Waters' more traditional vocals have the same raspy and brooding quality of Billie Holiday, she uses this base as a mere springboard for avant-garde vocal acrobatics, which range from wordless bone-chilling shrieks and heart-rending wails, to barely audible, breathless whispers. Arriving in NYC in the early 1960s, Waters began performing with several jazz musicians (including Charles Mingus, Bill Evans and Jaki Byard), and soon drew the attention of saxophone player Albert Ayler who introduced her to his label ESP-Disk where she recorded and released her debut Patty Waters Sings in 1965. Her even more daring second album, College Tour was recorded at one of her live performances shortly thereafter, and features pianists Ran Blake and Burton Greene. Although Waters all but disappeared from the music scene after the late sixties, she was a major influence for many other vocal innovators, including Yoko Ono and Diamanda Galas. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

VA: Movement Soul CD (ESPCD 1056). $15.50

First CD release of this obscure ESP title. "Movement Soul is a collection of live recordings from the Civil Rights movement at a peak time: 1963 and 1964. Inspired moments have been chosen from mass meetings, sermons, rallies, demonstrations and individual interviews. Traditionally sung prayers and passionate sayings are intermingled with songs like

'Go Tell it on the Mountain', 'This Little Light of Mine' and 'Ain't Gonna Let Nobody Turn me 'Round.' Many of the recordings took place at times of heightened emotion, when the community was filled with fear, exhilaration, or defiance. Movement Soul is about a total community: its shared dreams and common demands. It is about the power of a people."

TYLER, CHARLES: Eastern Man Alone CD (ESPCD 1059). $15.50

"This 1967 recording by the avant-garde saxophonist — his second for ESP Disk — features Tyler on alto sax with accompaniment from David Baker (cello), Brent McKesson (bass) and Kent Brinkley (bass). The album starts out with 'Cha-Lacy's Out East' which revisits a theme from his first ESP album, the proceedings are heady free-form avant-jazz reaching into cosmic realms with its string heavy backing providing soaring atmospheres. Tyler cut legendary records as a sideman to Albert Ayler, but as a leader proves to be one of the most advanced, challenging and exploratory players of the late '60s avant-garde. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

LACY, STEVE: The Forest And The Zoo CD (ESPCD 1060). $15.50

"Lacy's profound influence on the avant-garde can be traced back to this phenomenal session with Enrico Rava (trumpet), Johnny Dyan (bass), and Louis T. Moholo (drums) which is a pivotal recording in the career of the master soprano saxophonist. Steve Lacy's involvement in avant garde jazz began with this historical recording date for ESP-Disk recorded live in Buenos Aires in 1966. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: Balaklava CD (ESPCD 1075). $15.50

"Balaklava is one of the most extraordinary, sublime and sophisticated protest albums of 1968. To many, this album (the groups second for ESP Disk) represents Tom Rapp's surrealist song-craft in perfection. Not a foot-stamping anti-Vietnam war album but a complex and psychedelic masterwork that touches on Tennyson & Tolkien in a sublime metaphorical fashion. Tom Rapp is among the most erudite, intellectual songwriters of the American '60s era. The two records the Pearls cut for ESP Disk are extraordinary releases in the avant-garde label's catalog, yet they make perfect sense in the uniqueness of their production. There is little else like Balaklava — an indispensable album to any serious '60s rock collection. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

GODZ: The Third Testament CD (ESPCD 1077). $15.00

"The sixties may have been a time when rock musicians were beginning to experiment with new sounds and free themselves of traditional song structures, but the Godz were already light-years ahead. Taking a sledgehammer to everything that had come before, they were out to create something completely new in their own freaky image of plastic flutes, quacks, meows and $10 guitars. In 1965 the Godz were just a bunch of Sam Goody's record store employees looking for a way to vent their frustrations, but three years later Jay Dillon, Larry Kessler, Jim McCarthy and Paul Thornton had become the mad sovereigns of the same Lower East Side scene that had spawned the likes of the Fugs, the Holy Modal Rounders, Allen Ginsberg, etc. However, by the time the Godz were ready to record their third album, Jay had decided to call it quits and Larry, Jim, and Paul were left to record the Third Testament on their own. They faced this new line-up challenge by opening up the studio to their friends and inviting them in to freak out to the best of their ability, filling in the rest of the album with their own demented originals."

SILVA, ALAN: Skillfulness CD (ESPCD 1091). $15.00

"Bermuda-born multi-instrumentalist (bass, cello, violin) Alan Silva was a major player in New York's free jazz revolution and his Free Form Improvisation Ensemble, formed in 1963 with pianist Burton Greene, was arguably the first spontaneous composition group. Silva spent the 1960s at the forefront of the jazz avant-garde, recording and performing with the likes of Bill Dixon (at 1964's Legendary Revolution in Jazz concert series), Cecil Taylor, Albert Ayler, Sunny Murray, Sun Ra and Archie Shepp, before finally joining the growing wave of musicians trading in the USA for the more musically open-minded land across the Atlantic. However, before making this transatlantic move, he recorded one last album for ESP-Disk (1970's Skillfulness) which prominently displayed Silva's own hypnotic violin weaving in and out of a sublimely dissonant mix of percussion, howling vocals, flute, vibraphone and the inspired piano acrobatics of Dave Burrell."

POMERANCE, ERICA: You Used To Think CD (ESPCD 1099). $15.50

"Recorded at the tail end of 1968, this densely packed album, rooted in blues-laden acid folk, is gradually dominated by a more free-form, jazz-influenced style of vocal innovation which brings the album to its frantic climax. While remaining firmly linked to a lyrical base, Pomerance's primitive wails and shrieks shatter the traditional acid folk mold. Singing in French on 'The Slippery Morning', the versatile vocalist is also responsible for the rhythm guitar and hand drumming heard on the eastern influenced 'We Came Via'. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

LOWE, FRANK: Black Beings CD (ESPCD 3013). $15.50

"This historical session, recorded in 1973 for ESP-Disk, was tenor saxophonist Frank Lowe's debut as leader and is one of his most electrifying earlier efforts. Black Beings features all original Lowe material, with Joseph Jarman on alto and soprano sax and Leroy Jenkins on violin. Lowe participated in the New York free jazz revolution, first gaining notoriety in the mid-sixties playing with Sun Ra, and later, Alice Coltrane, Rashied Ali, Don Cherry and violinist Billy Bang."

SEA ENSEMBLE, THE: We Move Together CD (ESPCD 3018). $15.50

"The highly experimental free jazz duo, Sea Ensemble, was formed in 1971 by the husband and wife team of Donald Rafael Garrett and Zusaan Kali Fasteau. Both multi-instrumentalists, Fasteau and Garrett played a variety of Asian instruments (e.g., the ney and the Japanese bamboo flute) as well as more traditional jazz instruments, creating an innovative world music-influenced sound that was unique to their genre. Besides his work with the Sea Ensemble, Garrett is perhaps best known for his bass playing on John Coltrane's most significant albums (Om, Kulu Se Mama, Selflessness and Live in Seattle). The Ensemble came to an end with Garrett's death in 1989, but Fasteau has continued to play and record."

BOYKINS, RONNIE: The Will Come, Is Now CD (ESPCD 3026). $15.50

"Bassist Ronnie Boykins is perhaps best known for his work in Sun Ra's Arkestra, of which he was an intrinsic member for nearly a decade. His inimitable bass style can be heard on all of Ra's most significant recordings, and Ra had a difficult time finding someone to fill Boykins' shoes when he left the Arkestra in 1966. His 1975 self-titled release, featuring all original material, is from his post Ra period and represents one of the last great releases in the ESP-Disk catalogue. Featuring Joe Ferguson on tenor sax and flute, Monty Waters and James Vass on alto and soprano sax, Daoud Haroom on trombone, and Art Lewis and George Avaloz on percussion. Also includes various bells and hand shaken instruments played by all musicians."

AYLER, ALBERT: Prophecy CD (ESPCD 3030). $15.50

"Prophecy was recorded live at the Cellar Café NYC, June 14th 1964, during the same period in which Ayler recorded the earth-shattering Spiritual Unity with Gary Peacock on Bass and Sonny Murray on drums. There are distinct similarities on the two recordings in that Ayler's most famous themes Spirits, Wizard, Ghosts are adapted although the energy & variation within the themes is extraordinary. 'The beauty of his music seemed a triumph of instinct over spirit, a heart-rending cry, exuding all the weakness, contradictions, joy of human being — a kind of desperate god-seeking which necessarily created it's own techniques. Albert Ayler triggered the awakening of a forgotten sensibility, which for many listeners, became unbearable in its implacable lucidity.' —(Bernard Lairet, from the original liner notes). Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

RA, SUN: Concert For The Comet Kohoutek CD (ESPCD 3033). $15.50

"Recorded at Town Hall NYC in December 1973, this concert was one of the most outrageous of Sun Ra's cosmic jazz session. Sun Ra playing synthesizer throughout while the group chant in astral worship — what results is one of Sun Ra's most bizarre recordings — its nine pieces were dedicated to the passing of the Comet Kohoutek — which sounds as though Ra and Co. were signaling the comet to take them back to their alternate universe. No less, the concert takes the listener into the divine astral trajectory — far-out of the realms of jazz, psychedelia, cosmic electronics and astral funk. 'We open up the doors of the outer space employment agency' heralds the mood of this album. The final cut is the quintessential Sun Ra myth theme tune 'Space is the Place'. Concert for the Comet Kohoutek is of great cultural & historical significance — one of the most wild and unhinged events in avant-garde music that remains scarcely fathomable to human ears today. In keeping with the tradition of ESP Disk. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

ESPCALIBRE (NETHERLANDS):

SANDERS, PHAROAH: Pharoah's First CD (ESPCD 1003). $15.50

"First release (post Coltrane) from the most fearsome tenor saxophonist on the 60s scene. Terrorist grunge with a shake of mysticism circa 1964. With Stan Foster (trumpet), Jane Getz (piano), William Bennett (bass), and Marvin Pattillo (percussion)." Bernard Stollman: "Pharoah checked the levels with engineer, and then played two 23-minute compositions, took his money, signed the contracts, and left. It was the only time B. has seen him in thirty years."

ALLEN, THE BYRON TRIO: CD (ESPCD 1005). $16.00

"Debut album recorded in 1964. Four tracks, including 'Decision For The Cole-Man' (Ornette Coleman suggested that ESP make the recording). With Allen on alto sax, Maceo Gilchrist on bass, and Ted Robinson on percussion." Bernard Stollman: "Like all ESP sessions, before and since, the artist laid down his compositions, dictated their editing sequence and left. The time required rarely exceeded two hours from start to finish."

COLEMAN, ORNETTE: Town Hall Concert 1962 CD (ESPCD 1006). $15.50

"On Christmas evening 1962, Coleman produced and recorded his own concert with David Izenzon (bass), Charles Moffett (drums) and a string ensemble. An important release documenting a point of change in Coleman's work." "Dedication To Poets and Writers" for string quartet, is now widely recognized as Ornette's first mature attempt to writing chamber music based on his ideas he would later call Harmoloics. This classical string quartet curiously fits together with the three jazz trio pieces, due to the input of bassman David Izenzon. His classical approach and his broad understanding of rhythmical complexity are the perfect match to Ornette's free and lyrical alto lines. Izenzon's ability to improvise out of context with anything that is going around him, also makes him the perfect partner for drummer Charles Moffett. Moffett is merely providing an atmospherical background, sometimes with a hard swing indeed, sometimes experimenting with free noise." — Remco Takken

LOGAN, THE GIUSEPPI QUARTET: CD (ESPCD 1007). $15.50

"Debut album recorded in 1964 with Don Pullen (piano), Eddie Gomez (bass) and Milford Graves (drums)." Logan on tenor & alto sax, Pakistani oboe, bass, clarinet, flute.

BLEY QUINTET, PAUL: Barrage CD (ESPCD 1008). $15.50

"Featuring Gary Peacock, recorded in 1964 with Dewey Johnson (trumpet), Marshall Allen (alto sax), Eddie Gomez (bass), and Milford Graves (drums). Wildly disparate philosophies pooling enough common ground to make things work. Johnson especially makes the session buzz." All compositions by Carla Bley, who is also credited with tape assemblage. "On other ESP-albums from around 1964 you'll find charmingly outdated examples of wild electronic manipulation, using spliced and reversed sounds from all kinds of sources to give the already far-out music some extra weirdness (check out the beautiful Bob James Trio Explosions for some disturbing tape experiments). Carla Bley's tape assemblage only features splicing of musical themes, and tape-layering of existing tracks...All of this resulting in the original quintet sounding twice as big, and an emphasizing of the compositional structure in favour of free improvisation." — Remco Takken.

JAMES, THE BOB TRIO: Explosions CD (ESPCD 1009). $15.50

"A strange release comprised of 5 very avant-garde numbers. With Barre Phillips (bass) and Robert Pozar (drums). Electronics and distorted tapes by James (piano)." From Willy Roggeman's liner notes: "The recording is made of an assembly of estranging electronic sound effects, trite sports commentaries, and the music of a beautifully improvising jazz trio. Bob James has, through this convulsion of out-of-context sound elements and music of an ordering trio, tried to emphasize the strange acoustic complex of modern man in his city, in his world, in his cosmos."

DAVIDSON, THE LOWELL TRIO: CD (ESPCD 1012). $15.50

"Recorded in 1965 with Milford Graves (percussion, drums), Gary Peacock (bass), Davidson (piano)." "This recording is the only one made by Lowell Davidson that is commercially available. The beauty of the music on this CD is only a snippet in a long career of beautiful music created by this great, but elusive artist... Jackie McLean once described Monk and Bud Powell as being 'in a state of grace'. That is how I would describe Lowell. He was extremely brilliant, his sincerity and commitment to creativity was profound. The rhetoric he used to describe his music was very rarefied and reflected his background in church music and science (and perhaps hallucinogens). He talked about the upper partials of a tone, his desire to manipulate them and their effect on the biochemistry of the brain. Lowell felt that if you could expand the consciousness of people with music it would have a molecular effect and cause their brain matter to evolve. He also described hallucinations he had as if they were real and seemed fearless about peering into the darkest parts of his own thoughts." — Joe Morris

LOGAN, GIUSEPPI: More CD (ESPCD 1013). $15.50

"2nd album for the label (originally released in 1965) for an adventurous player and mysterious figure closely involved with the NYC free jazz scene of the '60s. Energetic and colorful solos. Contains Milford Graves, Don Pullen, Eddie Gomez and Reggie Johnson. Liner notes, photos and more. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

GREENE QUARTET, BURTON: Burton Greene Quartet CD (ESPCD 1024). $15.50

"Although nearly 40 years have passed since the release of this album for ESP-Disk in 1966, Chicago-born pianist / composer Burton Greene still considers it to be one of his best recordings. All compositions are written by Greene and feature Marion Brown on alto sax, Henry Grimes on bass, Dave Grant and Tom Price on percussion and Frank Smith on tenor sax."

Greene made his way to New York City in 1962 just as the free jazz movement was beginning to gain momentum. The following year he and bassist Alan Silva formed the Free Form Improvisation Ensemble, often considered the first spontaneous composition group. Greene has remained committed to music over the past four decades, most recently exploring his Eastern European Jewish roots with various klezmer-jazz projects."

BARBIERI, GATO: In Search Of The Mystery CD (ESPCD 1049). $15.50

"In March of 1967 Gato Barbieri recorded this album for ESP-Disk' in a New York studio. With the help of Calo Scott (cello), Norris Jones (bass) and Bobby Kapp (drums), Barbieri is playing here some ferocious solos on four of his own compositions. This set is interesting to hear Gato Barbieri's intense tone of his early days when he was fully absorbed in the jazz avant-garde. Original artwork. Digitally remastered from the original tapes."

HOLY MODAL ROUNDERS, THE: Indian War Whoop CD (ESPCD 1068). $15.50

"Probably the most psychedelic album in the Rounders' career. Recorded in June, 1967 by Peter Stampfel, Steve Weber, Lee Crabtree, (playwright/actor) Sam Shepard, Antonia, Barbara and Wendy. Notorious street-freako rockabilly classic."

FREE MUSIC QUINTET: Free Music One And Two CD (ESPCD 1083). $15.50

"1968 album for the combo led by Dutch free improviser Pierre Courbois (and featuring Peter Van De Locht, Boy Raaymakers, Ferdj Rikkers and Erwin Somer). Before getting together his Free Music Quintet he had already played with Johnny Griffin, Kenny Clarke, Bud Powell, John Coltrane and also worked with Gunter Hampel, Lol Coxhill and Mal Waldron. Liner notes, photos and more. Digitally remastered from the original tapes." "I give the album five stars and no stars, for virtually no reason and every reason... and why, because the five Dutch players play well, play free, play beautiful, but I will likely never play this album again, or need to. The music they play moves me: in my ears, in my mind, in my corpus — it is good to hear but not always... one time I play it, it is greatest energy, it is communion: an experience... another time I play it, it is noise, it is inconsequential: a bore." — (from the original Downbeat review)

OCTOPUS: CD (ESPCD 2000). $15.50

"Stoned out trippy acid-blues-jazz-rock. Affecting and disconcerting lyrics from 1969 about war, guns, Kennedy, MLK, and the eight arms of Octopus. Very screwed up music on this still-listenable 60s document."

CROMAGNON: Orgasm CD (ESPCD 2001). $15.50

"Free 60s underground tribal music from Austin Gramsere, Brian Elliot, and the Connecticut Tribe. Recorded in 1969 with a heavy dose of 'Everything Is One'. Packaged with brief notes, photos, lyrics to 'Caledonia', etc."

PARKER, CHARLIE: Live Performances, Vol. 1 CD (ESPCD 3000). $15.50

"8 tracks of mostly well-known material from 1947 and '48. Including 'Tiger Rag', 'Slow Boat To China', and 'Half Nelson'. Features a breathtaking solo on 'White Christmas' recorded Christmas Day 1948. With Dizzy Gillespie, Miles Davis, Max Roach, Lennie Tristano, and Kenny Dorman among others."

PARKER, CHARLIE: Life Performances, Vol. 2 CD (ESPCD 3001). $15.50

"8 more live tracks from Yardbird & co. circa 1948 and '49, including a one-of-a-kind version of 'Groovin' High'. Very clean, clear and noise free. With Miles Davis, Max Roach, Kenny Dorham and announcer Symphony Sid, among others."

HOLIDAY, BILLIE: 1949-1952 Radio & TV Broadcasts CD (ESPCD 3002). $15.50

"Live recordings from the Apollo and the Eddie Condon show, among others. 12 titles including 'Miss Brown To You', 'Lover Man', and 'Billie's Blues' as well as some nice radio-days banter."

HOLIDAY, BILLIE: 1953-56 Radio & TV Broadcasts CD (ESPCD 3003). $15.50

"13 more tracks, including 'Them There Eyes' from a Tonight Show television broadcast. Also a version of 'Stormy Weather' recorded at Carnegie Hall with Count Basie, Lester Young, and Buck Clayton."

ETERNAL AUTUMN EDITIONS (UK):

LUNDVALL, TOR: Under The Shadows Of Trees CD (EAE 005). $18.00

"The title of this album came to me one summer afternoon in 1999 while sitting on a bench facing an old graveyard by the sea in Amagansett, New York. I watched the sunlight casting face-like patterns across the gravestones as a lawn mower droned quietly in the distance, mixed with the sound of children's laughter. After writing down a few song titles, I started working on recordings, which would attempt to capture the strange, yet peaceful atmosphere of this moment. The track order follows the slow progression of a summer day from morning through evening. While most of the tracks have pastoral themes, tracks such as 'The City' and 'Game Room' evoke memories of hiding away in air conditioned rooms away from the pounding heat, while digital clocks and video games blinked in the cool darkness. Many of the songs were constructed around the after-effects of pure reverb, giving the music a soft and hazy quality. I encourage the listener to play this album outside when the summer sun sets, just as the evening ghosts call softly from the woods." — Tor Lundvall.

ETERNITY (GERMANY):

CLUB OFF CHAOS: Par Et Impar 2CD (EMIT 01 CD). $16.00

First 3000 copies with bonus live CD. "This third release from Club Off Chaos, the five year running project of Jaki Liebezeit, Boris Polonski and Dirk Herweg, focuses in on a new attempt of these three exceptional musicians to melt their musical experience into an unique new style. Once again, Club Off Chaos have let the computer be where it belongs — in the office. The music on par et impar is living proof that electronic music can create catching enthusiasm with having to be calculated and programmed ahead of time. It might be that some people attempt to think of 'par et impar' as 'old fashioned' due to the use of modified drums mixed with handmade sequencer lines. These are mixed amongst novel string instruments that herald an influence reminiscent of early Kraftwerk, Neu and of course, Can. It can be said however, that the music of par et impar plays with the humorous trends of drum 'n' bass and electronic listening with touches on 80's pop-set phrases and indian meditation sounds. Club Off Chaos create a special approach that shows through with this historic three musicians: production without the influence of current trend and a complete lack of trusting machines. Arguably though, do we listen to anti-machinelle machine-music on par et impar? The music they produce is impossible to brand as superficial, par et impar unites transcendental play with tons of humor and strange sounds...possible this is the synapse/muscle-dance-music of the third millennium."

CLUB OFF CHAOS: Par Et Impar 2LP (EMIT 01 LP). $16.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

ETIHAD RECORDS (PUERTO RICO):

MANDELL, JAKE: Noche De Luna 12" (ETI 001). $7.00

"One steamy summer night, under a full moon, Jake Mandell played in Aviones, Puerto Rico in one of the most beautiful beaches and fantastic surf spots in the entire island. He treated an exorbitant Boricua crowd to his now infamous laptop sets keeping the entire crowd dancing the night away bajo una 'Noche de Luna' (under a full moon). It was this event that prompted Puerto Rico's Etihad Records to ask Jake Mandell to be the first 12" they release. After falling in love with Puerto Rico and its people, he quickly agreed. In this 12" Jake provides us with a new tinge, based on his warm oceanfront memories of the Caribbean, while composing in the relentless German winter. Hence an amalgam of inspirational sounds bearing Jake's signature print, accompanied by a succulent remix by Jamaican born/Miami raised Dub virtuoso Omar Clemenston better known as Supersoul (Metatronic). He adds a warm downtempo Caribbean feel with his dubbed out rendition of Jake's tempestuous and elaborate arrangements in Die Klein Hexe." Limited stock.

VA (BETA BODEGA & ETIHAD PRESENT): Mancha De Platano CD (ETI 002CD). $11.00

Split release with the Beta Bodega Coalition. "Nothing is quite so satisfying as music driven by a clear concept. Although we ultimately make music for music's sake, music (for the sake of a cause) is elevated that much more as we play on its astounding ability to communicate an idea. With the release of Mancha de Platano, this collective of musical talent has seized the opportunity of bringing to light the issues that ail the community of Vieques, Puerto Rico. In light of recent misfortunes imposed upon the United States, many worthy causes are understandably relegated to the shadows of the public's mind (eye). Mancha de Platano brings the issues of Vieques back to the forefront, reminding us not to lose sight of the 'American ideal' justice for all. The producers of this record rightfully campaign for peace in Vieques, as it is an issue that hits close to home for them. The Beta Bodega Coalition, based out of Miami, has here teamed up with the rising musical chapter from Puerto Rico, Etihad Records. Artists featured include: Spike, Servo, Ectomorph, Jake Mandell, Otto Von Shirack aka El Sento, ZooplANK, Macroporno, Kukuye, and Algorithm present Void. Limited to 1000."

EURORALPH (GERMANY):

RESIDENTS, THE: George & James CD (ER 002 CD). $14.50

"1984 was no particular good year for those awaiting part three of The Mole Trilogy. Instead The Residents brought to light another ambitious project: The American Composer Series, of which George & James is volume 1. George & James consists of covers of works by George Gershwin (1898-1937) and James Brown (1933-). The album notes include a brief introduction to the American Composer Series concept followed by brief biographies of the two artists and of The Residents, describing them as 'a group of pseudo-artists who freely indulge themselves in the Great American Culture'. It was also the first Residents album to use computer-created art on the cover and in the promotional video, It's a Man's Man's World. The James Brown side is based on Brown's Live at the Apollo, one of the first live albums and the most successful R&B album ever. The Residents version simulates the live sound of the Apollo concert with crowd noises taken from the Mole Show performance in Utrecht, Holland (the same show used for The Mole Show: Live in Holland recording). James Brown's part is taken by The Residents' lead singer, who transforms the Godfather of Soul into a growling voice reminiscent of the Angakok from Eskimo."

RESIDENTS, THE: Duck Stab / Buster & Glen 2x3" CD (ER 007/8 CD). $16.50

"This audio-only twin 3" CD release in a spectacular gatefold digipak cover is the ultimate deluxe edition of Duck Stab / Buster & Glen. Digitally remastered and denoised. It was with this album that the Residents perfected, for one brief moment, the dark, mysterious twisted pop song that raised their profile in the experimental music scene and college radio world. The songs contained here (a combination of two EPs of earlier that year, Duck Stab and Buster & Glen) are short, the lyrics obscure but precise, the analog synth sounds masterful. Like Brian Eno, the Residents' lyrics were more about the sound of the words than the meaning, and what is here on Duck Stab is in the tradition of such absurdists as Odgen Nash or Lewis Carroll."

RESIDENTS, THE: The Commercial Album CD (ER 010 CD). $14.50

"If you are bored by Top 40 Radio you should go for The Commercial Album. Forty one-minute-tunes on this re-release of the 1980 masterpiece by The Residents. Play it in shuffle mode for random charts or program a Top Ten of your own. Here's the concept: The structure of most pop songs consists of only two parts, the verse and the chorus. Since the verse and chorus usually repeat three times in a three-minute song, a pop tune really only consists of one minute of music. Cut out the repetition and you can, therefore, fit 40 pop songs onto a 40-minute record. And that's exactly what the Residents have done on The Commercial Album, the title of which comes from the band's deduction that since pop songs only consist of one minute of music and most advertisements are about a minute long also, ad jingles are 'therefore the music of America'."

RESIDENTS, THE: Have A Bad Day CD (ER 013 CD). $14.50

"Soundtrack for the classic CD-ROM Bad Day on the Midway. If the notes to this album are any indication, the CD-ROM program is a masterpiece of grim humor, a tour of a circus from hell (complete with freak show). Some of these tunes are jaunty in a creepy sort of way, others are atmospheric in a foreboding kind of way, and the occasional spoken word bits tend to be amusing in a demeaning sort of way."

RESIDENTS, THE: Eskimo CD (ER 016 CD). $14.50

"Re-release of the classic avantgarde album from 1979. The most rewarding, the most difficult, and the most accomplished of all the Residents' albums, this was their departure into the field of imaginary ethno-musicography. Ostensibly a musical documentary on the Eskimo, this is an album of icy atmospheres, poetic electronics, and imaginary landscapes. The idea for the album is supposed to have come from the band's former collaborator, the mysterious N. Senada, who had disappeared in the early 70s to search for music among the Eskimos (legend has it that he re-appeared during the making of the album with a tape of sound samples and a jar of arctic air to record). The Residents teamed up with drummer Chris Cutler and Don Preston (formerly a keyboard player for Frank Zappa's Mothers of Invention), as well as their regular collaborator, Snakefinger. Inspired by such pieces of pop culture as the famous Santa Claus Coca-Cola ads, The Residents set about inventing an anthropological background for their Eskimos which didn't bear much resemblance to reality, but instead was based on pop perceptions of the northern peoples (nevertheless, the USSR release was classified as a 'cultural documentary'). Each track relates a story which was told in writing on the inside of the album's gatefold cover."

RESIDENTS, THE: Meet The Residents CD (ER 018 CD). $14.50

New reissue of the startling debut Residents album. "In 1974 the first official Residents Album was released. It was subtitled 'The First Album By North Louisiana's Phenomenal Pop Combo' and featured John Crawfish, Paul McCrawfish, George Crawfish and Ringo Starfish. In the first year after release Meet The Residents sold only around 40 copies. It is probably one of the first home recorded albums ever and it's use of tape loops may mark the start of the sampler area. It took until 1977 for the sales to finally pick up and in 2003 the track 'Rest Aria' was used as a musical basis for international TV advertising campaigns for both T-

Mobile and Levis."

Snakefinger: Greener Postures / Chewing Hides The Sound 2CD (ER 021 CD). $16.50

"Re-Release of the two classic Snakefinger albums in stunning Double CD-Digipak. Remastered for enhanced sound. English avant-guitarist Philip Charles Lithman, aka Snakefinger, began an association with the Residents in 1969, before the group even had that name. The Residents co-produced his two albums with Snakefinger. Greener Postures was originally released in 1980. Chewing Hides Sound from 1979 includes a cover of Kraftwerk's 'The Model.' This is very appropriate because both groups relied heavily on mechanical, angular rhythms and lyrics loaded with more visual metaphor than meaning."

Residents, THE: God In Three Persons 2CD (ER 022 CD). $16.50

"God In Three Persons is an extended work in 'talking-blues' style for narrator, electronic instruments, and a chorus providing comments not to be found in the libretto — they sing production credits at the beginning. This surreal and yet directly delivered work is as lovingly human as it is comic with profound experience simply expressed...in short, an original masterpiece of American music, directly in the tradition of the Thomson-Stein and Robert Ashley operas. As in all Residents pieces, the voices are modified electronically and the musical elements are deceptively minimal — most of its 14 episodes have only two chords which, however, still manage to instantly produce the correct atmosphere. There are only passing riffs, more like comments, and the only melody in the whole piece is a wheezy organ quote of the standard doxology hymn 'Holy, Holy, Holy (God in Three Persons)'."

Residents, THE: Roadworms CD (ER 023 CD). $14.50

"While The Residents were touring Wormwood in Europe, they had an opportunity to use the SFB Sendesaal studio in Berlin for a day. They had already recorded the show for release, but thought it would be interesting to do a live studio performance of various songs from the tour, without having to worry about the staging, audience, and all the other things which make live tours a pain. On July 7th, 1999, the band and their associates (such as Molly Harvey) recorded the songs digitally, and in February and March the following year they edited the recordings into the tracks which appear on this album. We call it a view on Wormwood from another perspective. The result is typically quirky, having a mix of rawness and polish that makes it quite appealing to listen to, even with the bite that comes as part of any work by the Residents."

Residents, THE: Icky Flix CD (ER 025 CD). $14.50

"Icky Flix was originally released as a DVD in 2001. It featured classic and new video-works of The Residents. Since the many of the original music-recordings were in stereo, The Residents re-recorded their own work and mixed them in 5.1 surround sound. Many people didn't have 5.1 sets then, so the group was requested to re-mix the 5.1 versions to 2-channel stereo and make it available on standard audio CD. The result was this Icky Flix CD release. The Residents Play The Residents."

Residents, THE: Petting Zoo CD (ER 026 CD). $10.00

Mid-priced compilation spanning 30 years of the Residents. "At long last, because YOU asked for IT... a collection of ear friendly Residents' music drawn from their incredibly productive 30 years as pioneers of new sounds and cutting edge technology. This sampler is designed to give an overview of the works of The Residents. If you haven't dared to be sucked into the world of The Residents before, you should do it with Petting Zoo. Sweet sounding and mid-price..."

Residents, THE: Demons Dance Alone CD (ER 027 CD). $14.50

2002 release, now only available via Euroralph. "According to Cryptic Corporation (the band's corporate face), the songs on Demons Dance Alone were 'written for the most part in the days following September 11' and 'capture a quite different side of the Residents' — a vulnerable and questioning side that poses unanswerable questions. What this means is a more subdued ambience and more tunefulness, and a little bit less 'nyah-nyah-nyah,' though not that much less. The cover contains a quote by Plutarch: 'A fool cannot hold his tongue', a valid remark in this context. The album consists of three parts: 'LOSS', 'DENIAL' and 'THREE METAPHORS'. The beautiful music is in stark contrast to the ugly source of the Demons which Dance alone."

Residents, THE: The King & Eye: RMX CD (ER 031CD). $14.50

Newly recorded, first release of this remix project. "In 1989 The Residents recorded an album of Elvis hits called The King & Eye. Anyone familiar with the group's work would not be surprised to hear no attempt at recreating the original arrangements. In fact a great deal of thought went into re-interpreting the songs and digging into their freudian undertones, usually overlooked in the lyrics. Aware that pain inevitably swirls around these feelings of lost love and obsession, The Residents decided to return this emotional marrow to the material. Within that context, the album was unified by a children's story — one about a baby, who compensated for the profound emptiness in his life by turning himself into a king. For The Residents, Elvis's life became a cautionary tale: a story of lost innocence, misplaced while stumbling through the shadows of substance. But even more amazing for the group was how, in death, Elvis became the ultimate Americana icon, inspiring legions of aping imitators, zealously imitating the caricature he so willingly and sadly became. Ironically, aping the apes, The Residents chose to make their statements on The King & Eye through the voice of an aging Elvis imitator. Fifteen years later, in 2003, The Residents asked German remix whiz, Paralyzer, to listen to the original 24 track master recording and see what he would do to re-interpret their album, not unlike what they had done to Elvis's original material, and make it more relevant to the 21st century. Paralyzer accepted the challenge but asked the group to give him free rein in reconstructing the pieces. Excitedly, The Residents agreed."

Residents, THE: The King & Eye: RMX LP (ER 031LP). $12.50

LP Version, full color gatefold sleeve.

Residents, THE: Meet The Residents LP (ER 032LP). $12.50

"First issue of 'The Residents Classic Vinyl Series'. The original 1973 debut album by The Residents. The album comes in high quality gatefold cover and on 180gr heavy vinyl. The first unusual thing about Meet The Residents — even before you get the record on the turntable — is that you never meet the Residents: The artists haven't signed their names to their debut album. There are no faces either, only a nutty distortion of the Beatles. Which isn't as evasive as you might think, because Meet The Residents takes the vocal and instrumental innovations of the Beatles — and Captain Beefheart — and rockets them out into deep space. Listening to the White Album or Trout Mask Replica, you're never sure what you're going to hear from one cut to the next; with Meet The Residents, you can't predict what you'll be hearing from one moment to the next. Forget about predictions — you can't always be sure what it is you're actually hearing. A lot of this music is utterly inexplicable, as in 'How are they making that sound?'. You can't even grasp the 'well-it's-a-synthesizer' straw inexplicable, as in 'How are they making that sound?'. You can't even grasp the 'well-it's-asynthesizer' straw, because this low-budget, 1973 recording was plainly done by hand: It's basically voices, piano, and winds; some guitar, bass, drums; occasionally, brass and violin; and lotsa percussion (undoubtedly including all sorts of household items and toys and debris and who knows what else). There are some distortion effects through mic and instrumental preparations, but it's the Residents' use of tape, the tracks they've razored and overdubbed and remixed and respedded, which makes their sound so uniquely bizarre. And all these bizarrely unique tracks are served up dripping with a deliberate eccentricity and a playfully grotesque sense of humor. Listening to this music, you can feel the Residents staring straight out at you, their teeth bared in the kind of fixed grin that's ordinarily symptomatic of clinical dementia."

Residents, THE: WB:RMX CD (ER 033CD). $14.50

"The Residents have remixed their first album from 1971, the never released Warner Bros. Album. The Warner Bros. Album was the group's first demo tape. They mailed it anonymously (they didn't have a name yet) to Harve Halverstadt at Warner Brothers. Halverstadt was chosen because he had worked with Captain Beefheart, one of the group's musical heroes. The tape was returned with a rejection addressed to 'Residents, 20 Sycamore St., San Francisco'. This, of course, gave the group their name, which first appeared as 'The Residents Uninc.', a fictional musical organization. The Residents maintain that Halverstadt made the right decision, but the place of the Warner Bros. Album in Residential history is assured not only because of the role it played in the naming of the band."

Residents, THE: WB:RMX LP (ER 033LP). $12.50

LP Version, full color gatefold sleeve.

EUTERPE (FRANCE):

LE CASTOR, OLIVIER: Etat De Style 12" (EUT 009). $9.00

"The next chapter of Olivier Le Castor's adventures in the world of sound. He defines the idea of 'acousmatic music', breaking away from past references. This is defined by new ways of sculpting auditive material made possible by the latest developments in digital tools, particularly putting the raw materials through his 'neural network'. Etat De Style is your introduction to this concept. It tends to change the very nature of rhythmic elements, by changing both their actual place in space and their perception."

EVENTUELL (GERMANY):

HEISENBERGER, ANDREAS: Solokarriere LP (EVL 001 LP). $16.00

"A few months after his contribution ('I Hate You') on Matthias Schaffhäuser's Warenkorb #4, the new Cologne-based label Eventuell is proud to present the first longplayer of visual artist and electronic musician Andreas Heisenberger from Nürnberg. Heisenbergers concept of House might remind of Jan Jelineks Farben and Ekkehard Ehlers Betrieb, but is also characterized by his refreshing DIY-approach, experimentalism and very own humour and, its not only because of Heisenbergers vocals that Solokarriere will suit fans of Justus Köhncke or the new Kompakt Pop serie. Next to the electronic and dance tunes you'll find short, narrative interludes of soundpoetry and fieldrecordings together with his regular use of unusual samples, Solokarriere defines a completely new way of compiling a longplayer in electronic music. This first edition is limited to 280 copies."

JOHANSSON & BURKHARD BEINS, SVEN-AKE: Santa Fé LP (EVL 002LP). $23.00

"On the occasion of his retrospective at the exhibition-space 'Kontor' in Cologne, Eventuell presents its second artists' record by the visual artist and legendary musician Sven-Ake Johansson from Berlin. Santa Fé is his first release with Burkard Beins and his first LP since many years (on FMP, SAJ). The recording of this stunning duo in the grey area between improv, new music and musique concrète, took place on September 13th 2002 at 'Raumschiff Zitronen' in Berlin. The coverdrawing is by Sven-Ake Johansson, especially done for this recording."

BLANK: Duden LP (EVL 003LP). $28.00

"Rüdiger Carl is one of the most important figures to have emerged from European free jazz. Musicians Oliver Augst and Christoph Korn, who are a generation younger, work at the cross-roads of improvisation, installation, electronics, and theory. Oliver Augst, Rüdiger Carl, and Christoph Korn have appeared as Blank in different projects and releases from FMP and GROB international. Their latest project takes the theme of 'collection' as a starting point. Oliver Augst, Ruediger Carl, and Christoph Korn have sifted through their own recordings and releases from recent years, and have broken them down into microscopically small parts, creating countless strange and colourful fragments. These fragments are then recorded on vinyl in the form of 240 locked grooves. Duden is not only a very special recording, but an instrument in itself for Blank will use the locked grooves to perform live with three record players instead of their usual instruments — a genuine mixture between post-turntablism and improvised music. Limited on 400 copies, comes with stunning artwork on extra thick cover by Tobias Rehberger."

EVIDENCE:

RA & HIS MYTH SCIENCE ARKESTRA, SUN: When Angels Speak of Love CD (ECD 22216). $14.00

"Evidence Music returns with a highly-anticipated series of five CD packages, including a 2-CD box of unreleased albums, by Sun Ra, the colorful jazz bandleader whose association with interplanetary travel, ancient Egypt, and big band and electronic keyboard innovation made him one of the 20th Century's most influential and eccentric musical icons. Evidence has been working on the series for four years — since issuing its award-winning Sun Ra compilation The Singles in 1996. All but Languidity emanate from Sun Ra's own label, El Saturn Records. All packages contain extensive liner notes, historical documentation and photographs. Easily one of the oddest personalities in the history of jazz, the bandleader, composer and keyboardist known as Sun Ra claimed to be an extraterrestrial from the planet Saturn. Actually born Herman 'Sonny' Blount in Birmingham, Alabama in 1914, he studied music at Alabama A&M University and became a big-band leader in his home town. Eventually, he moved to Chicago where he would write arrangements for Fletcher Henderson, change his name to Le Sony'r Ra, and start his first 'Arkestra' with saxophonists and band members-for-life John Gilmore, Marshall Allen and Pat Patrick. In the mid and late '50s, he prolifically recorded 45s and LPs for his own Saturn label, even accompanying and writing arrangements for doo-wop groups. His earliest albums were for Transition Records and later Delmark Records in 1957. In 1961, he moved to New York where he continued to record for El Saturn and the indie ESP-Disk label. Sun Ra continued his extensive concert date schedule into the early '90s, and even got as far as signing with A&M Records. He left this planet on May 30, 1993, but his music remains an ongoing source of wonderment and inspiration for all who discover it, as it was for musicians as diverse as George Clinton, Sonic Youth and Phish. Thanks to Evidence Music's reissue program — five important new CDs in addition to 16 earlier reissues — his most important music continues to become available for future generations. This album, When Angels Speak of Love, originally recorded in 1963 and released in 1966, is the rarest of Sun Ra's self-released albums on his own El Saturn label. Only a handful of the original pressing still remain. The album was recorded during Sun Ra's New York residency. Considered by many to be his richest period. This reissue preserves what has been a lost artifact from the 'New Thing' revolution in jazz in New York City's Greenwich Village in the mid-60s."

RA & HIS ARKESTRA, SUN: The Great Lost Sun Ra Albums: Cymbals/Crystal Spears 2CD (ECD 22217). $27.00

"This 2-CD box is comprised of two albums originally intended for release on ABC's Impulse Records but never issued. After Impulse abruptly ended a licensing agreement with Sun Ra's El Saturn label, the two unreleased album masters were boxed up and returned to Saturn, where they languished in obscurity for the next 27 years. Evidence has remixed the original four-track tapes down to two-track stereo. Former Impulse Records head Ed Michel wrote the notes, which chronicle the short, strange history of Sun Ra's major label tenure."

RA & HIS ASTRO INFINITY ARKESTRA, SUN: Pathways to Unknown Worlds/Friendly Love CD (ECD 22218). $14.00

"This package combines two LPs on one CD. Pathways was originally released on vinyl in the mid-70s at the very end of Sun Ra's relationship with Impulse and remained in print for less than one year. Evidence has remixed the original four track tapes and has added a track that was intended for the original album but omitted for technical reasons that have now been corrected. Like Cymbals and Crystal Spears, Friendly Love is an early 70s album that is being released for the first time. Sun Ra biographer John Szwed wrote the liner notes, and provides an in-depth glimpse into Sun Ra's recording and Evidence's mastering techniques."

RA & HIS ARKESTRA, SUN: Greatest Hits: Easy Listening for Intergalactic Travel CD (ECD 22219). $14.00

"Of course Sun Ra never had 'hits' per se. But for those wondering where to begin when buying their first Sun Ra album, this is it! Greatest Hits contains tracks from 15 different El Saturn Ra albums, one movie soundtrack and two 45 singles spanning the artist's peak period of 1956-73. These 'easy to listen to' tracks have proven to be among the most popular with Sun Ra fans, and demonstrate Ra's evolution and innovations during this period. They were also selected for their musical 'accessibility', relatively speaking, of course."

RA & HIS ARKESTRA, SUN: Langquidity CD (ECD 22220). $14.00

"Langquidity has become the most valuable of all Sun Ra albums, vinyl copies presently fetching $400 or more despite the fact that it was originally released in 1978. The album was originally on the 'micro-label' Philly Jazz, owned by a Philadelphia recording engineer who knew Sun Ra from his live performances on University of Pennsylvania's WXPN. The album has become a much in demand rarity among the ranks of acid jazz DJs throughout the world. Liner notes by Echoes' John Diliberto focus on Sun Ra's years as a Philadelphia resident. For audiophiles, Evidence has employed the HDCD software and A/D converter to bring this rare recording to compact disc."

EXACT CHANGE:

APOLLINAIRE, GUILLAUME: The Poet Assassinated Book (EC APOLLIN2). $12.50

"The poet Guillaume Apollinaire was modernism's first champion, and after his early death in 1918, he became its first saint. In 1916, while recovering from a head wound received in World War I, he published The Poet Assassinated, his most famous work of prose; a roman à clef mythologizing himself as well as friends and enemies including Pablo Picasso, Marie Laurencin, Jean Cocteau, Max Jacob, and others from the legendary 'banquet years' of pre-war Paris. With wit, erudition, and venom, Apollinaire concocts a Rabelaisian parallel universe, and slyly tells his own life story, from illegitimate birth to literary fame, in the process. The novella recounts the life and death of Croniamantal, whose birth is 'saluted' by the Eiffel Tower's 'beautiful erection,' who rises through the Parisian literary world to proclaim himself 'the greatest of living poets,' and who is promptly torn to pieces by a mob. This translation is by Matthew Josephson, an American who arrived in Paris in 1921 and entered the circle of avant-garde artists and poets galvanized by Apollinaire. Published in 1923 and never before reprinted, Josephson's translation is itself a fascinating artifact of the period, its tone an echo of the way Apollinaire must have sounded to his contemporaries."

ARTAUD, ANTONIN: Watchfiends & Rack Screams Book (EC ARTAUD). $15.50

"Among Antonin Artaud's most brilliant works are the scatological glossolalia composed in the final three years of his life (1945-1948), during and after his incarceration in an asylum at Rodez. These represent some of the most powerful outpourings ever recorded, a torrent of speech from the other side of sanity and the occult. In this collection, the most complete representation of this period of Artaud's work ever presented in English, and the first new anthology of Artaud published in the U.S. since Helen Weaver's 1976 Selected Writings, cogent statements of theory are paired with the raving poetry of such pieces as 'Artaud the Momo,' 'Here Lies,' and 'To Have Done with the Judgement of God.' These are translated with drama and accuracy by Clayton Eshleman, whose renditions of Vallejo and Césaire have won widespread acclaim including a National Book Award."

CARRINGTON, LEONORA: The Hearing Trumpet Book (EC CARRINGT M). $14.50

Leonora Carrington (born in England, 1917) was a crucial Surrealist figure in the 1930s, while living with Max Ernst. She sent on to become an amazing painter, and has written a handful of fantastical novels; this classic work, The Hearing Trumpet, is the first in a series of reissues of her fiction to be published by Exact Change. One of the most exciting developments in the EC catalog. "The Hearing Trumpet is the story of 92-year-old Marian Leatherby, who is given the gift of a hearing trumpet only to discover that what her family is saying is that she is to be committed to an institution. But this is an institution where the buildings are shaped like birthday cakes and igloos, where the Winking Abbess and the Queen Bee reign, and where the gateway to the underworld is open. It is also the scene of a mysterious murder. Occult twin to Alice in Wonderland, The Hearing Trumpet is a classic of fantastic literature that has been translated and celebrated throughout the world."

DE CHIRICO, GIORGIO: Hebdomeros And Other Writings Book (EC CHIRICO). $14.50

"The artist Giorgio de Chirico's novel Hebdomeros is astonishing dream-like book of situations and landscapes reminiscent of his paintings. In his introduction John Ashbery calls the book 'the finest work of Surrealist fiction,' noting that de Chirico 'invented for the occasion a new style and a new kind of novel — his long run-on sentences, stitched together with semi-colons, allow a cinematic freedom of narration — his language, like his painting, is invisible: a transparent but dense medium containing objects that are more real than reality.' Hebdomeros is presented here in an excellent translation from the French that has until now been available only in an obscure limited edition; and it is accompanied by an appendix of previously untranslated or uncollected writings, including M. Dudron's Adventure, a second, fragmentary novel translated by John Ashbery."

DALI, SALVADOR: Oui Book (EC DALI). $12.50

"His official association with the movement was in fact quite brief — on arrival in Paris from his native Catalonia in 1929, the young Dalí was determined to join the Surrealists and was indeed eagerly welcomed by them as a new member; but by 1934 André Breton had ousted Dalí from the group in a humiliating public 'trial.' The two would continue sniping at each other well into old age. 'The only difference between me and a Surrealist is that I am a Surrealist,' Dalí famously said. But in 1927-1933 such distinctions were unnecessary — even Breton admitted, 'For three or four years, Dalí would incarnate the Surrealist spirit and make it shine as brilliantly as ever' . . . Which makes it all the more surprising that Dalí's collected writings from this period have never before been translated into English. The volume Oui was first published in French in 1971, and elicited a reassessment of Dalí, who was by then infamous for his crass gestures toward notoriety and wealth ('Avida Dollars' was Breton's nasty anagram that stuck). Oui is a corrective to that caricature of the late Dalí, the bejeweled seeker of scandal; it presents us instead with the young, brilliant, and perhaps even sincere Dalí that first arrived in Paris to take it by storm. The short fictions, essays, and poems collected here document Dalí's love for his Spanish comrades, Luis Buñuel and Federico García Lorca; his passion for the emerging arts of photography and cinema (including commentary on the landmark film he made with Buñuel, Un Chien Andalou); his Catalan roots and subsequent entry into the cosmopolitan world of the Parisian avant-garde; and key moments in the development of his 'Paranoid-Critical' method, the theoretical basis for Dalí's artwork throughout his life, which would ultimately draw the attention of Sigmund Freud and Jacques Lacan as well as Breton and his colleagues."

FELDMAN, MORTON: Give My Regards To Eighth Street: Collected Writings Of Book (EC FELD). $14.50

"What was great about the fifties is that for one brief moment — maybe, say, six weeks — nobody understood art. That's why it all happened." — Feldman. "Morton Feldman (1926-1987) is among the most influential American composers of the 20th century. While his music is known for its extreme quiet and delicate beauty, Feldman himself was famously large and loud. His writings are both funny and illuminating, not only about his own music but about the entire New York School of painters, poets, and composers that coalesced in the 1950s, including his friends Jackson Pollock, Philip Guston, Mark Rothko, Robert Rauschenberg, Frank O'Hara, and John Cage. Together with John Cage, Feldman is the principal representative of the New York School of composers, a group of American avant-gardists who in the 1950s and 1960s challenged the European music establishment with their use of graphic scores, chance techniques, and indeterminate compositions. Yet despite Feldman's devotion to these radical innovations, his music was known above all for its sensuousness and melancholy. 'There never was and there is not now in my mind any doubt about its beauty,' wrote John Cage in his landmark book Silence. "'t is, in fact, sometimes too beautiful.' It is Feldman's intuitive, almost spiritual approach to music that has caused him to become one of the most performed composers of our time; since his death in 1987, no fewer than 80 CDs of Feldman's music have been released, and his works can now be heard in classical music halls worldwide. His music has also won a large following outside the classical establishment; Feldman is one of the most listened to and discussed composers among fans (and practitioners) of avant-garde rock and techno music. Give My Regards to Eighth Street is an authoritative collection of Feldman's writings, culled from published articles, program notes, LP liners, lectures, interviews, and unpublished writings in the Morton Feldman Archive at SUNY Buffalo (where Feldman taught for many years). Feldman's writings explore his music and his theories about music, but they also make clear how heavily Feldman was influenced by painting and by his friendships with the Abstract Expressionists. As editor B.H. Friedman notes in his introduction, Feldman's 'writing about art is also of lasting importance.'"

JARRY, ALFRED: The Supermale Book (EC JARRY2). $12.50

"Alfred Jarry (1873-1907) was the original transgressive author; the first word of his famous play Ubu Roi, 'Shittr!', changed the course of art and drama forever. Jarry's novels are equally outrageous, and the best of them are now again available in English. Where Exploits and Opinions of Dr. Faustroll, Pataphysician is philosophical, The Supermale is carnal. André Marcueil, gentleman and scientist, has the ability to make love an infinite number of times in succession. Like a mock Jules Verne, Jarry describes the manner in which this Supermale proves his claim; after 82 times with a woman, attending doctors finally hook him up to a machine instead, with whom he merges in the book's — and the Supermale's — final climax. Barbara Wright's excellent translation, first published by New Directions, has been long out of print."

LAUTREAMONT: Maldoror And The Complete Works Book (EC LAUT). $15.50

"André Breton wrote that Maldoror is 'the expression of a revelation so complete it seems to exceed human potential.' Little is known about its pseudonymous author aside from his real name (Isidore Ducasse), birth in Uruguay (1846), and early death in Paris (1870). Lautréamont's writings bewildered his contemporaries but the Surrealists modeled their efforts after his lawless black humor and poetic leaps of logic, exemplified by the oft-quoted slogan, 'As beautiful as the chance meeting on a dissecting-table of a sewing-machine and an umbrella!' Maldoror's shocked first publisher refused to bind the sheets of the original edition — and perhaps no better invitation exists to this book which warns the reader, 'Only the few may relish this bitter fruit without danger.' This is the only complete annotated collection of Lautréamont's writings available in English, in a superior translation."

MARKER, CHRIS: Immemory CD-ROM (EC MARKER). $17.00

CD-ROM release, for Mac's only. "Filmmaker, photographer, writer, and traveler Chris Marker has never respected the boundaries between genres. His landmark 1962 film La Jetée is made up almost entirely of stills, its one moving image as thrilling as the Lumière's films must have been for their original audiences. Since then, Marker's films (including the features Sans Soleil, and most recently Level Five) have continued to stretch the definition of the art, merging at times with the essay, political manifesto, personal letter, art installation, even the computer game. In Immemory, Chris Marker has used the format of the CD-ROM to create a multi-layered, multimedia memoir. The reader investigates 'zones' of travel, war, cinema, and poetry, navigating through photographs, film clips, music, and text, as if physically exploring Marker's memory itself. The result is a veritable 21st-century 'Remembrance of Things Past,' an exploration of the state of memory in our digital era. With it, Marker has both invented a literary form and perfected it." SYSTEM REQUIREMENTS: For Macintosh computers running System 7.5 through Mac OS 9 (including the 'Classic environment' of Mac OS X).

DE NERVAL, GERARD: Aurelia And Other Writings Book (EC NERVAL). $14.50

"An account of Nerval's unrequited passion for an actress and subsequent descent into madness, this book was a favorite of artist Joseph Cornell's, and its author was championed by both Marcel Proust and André Breton. One of the original self-styled 'bohemians,' Nerval was best known in his own day for parading a lobster on a pale blue ribbon through the gardens of the Palais-Royal, and for his suicide in 1855, hanging from an apron string he called the garter of the Queen of Sheba. Geoffrey Wagner's translation of Aurélia was first published by Grove Press in 1959, but has remained out of print for nearly twenty years. Included are previously untranslated stories, and poet Robert Duncan's version of the sonnet cycle 'Chimeras' — making this the most complete collection of Nerval ever published in English."

PESSOA, FERNANDO: The Book of Disquiet Book (EC PESSOA). $14.50

Exact Change is the beautifully designed small press run by Damon Krukowski and Naomi Yang of Cambridge, Massachusetts. While some of us have known them for their musical activities associated with the groups named "Galaxie 500", "Magic Hour" and "Damon & Naomi" — it is clear that their ultimate legacy as superior adherents of the soon to be defunct Human Race will emerge from the persistence and quality of cultural documentation they have developed with Exact Change. In an era where it is practically illegal for an American publishing house to have a consistent personality and generated aesthetic, they have streamlined a dedication to resurrecting lost, obscure & historically significant surrealist texts, and in a few short years have presented the series listed here. Absolutely essential documentation, aimed at elevating the potentialities of the rarified human spirit, perfectly presented. "Portuguese author Fernando Pessoa (1888-1935) was a multitude of writers: his works were composed by 'heteronyms,' alter egos with distinct biographies, ideologies, influences, even horoscopes. The Book of Disquiet is the autobiography of Bernardo Soares, whom Pessoa described as a 'semiheteronym' because 'his personality is not different from mine, rather a simple mutilation of it.' But Soares never completed his book; it was discovered after Pessoa's death, on disordered scraps of paper in a trunk. Nearly fifty years later, The Book of Disquiet was finally published, but because any edition or translation of this work must choose a sequence for its entries, each presents a substantially different text." NY Times Book Review: "Limpid, aphoristic, gorgeous, sometimes maddening and utterly original, this compendium of dull days and transfiguring epiphanies is so distilled it should be dipped into in small doses over a lifetime."

SCHWITTERS, KURT: PPPPPP: Poems Performance Pieces Proses Plays Poetics Book (EC SCHW). $15.00

"Kurt Schwitters (1887-1948), inventor of his own personal branch of Dadaism called 'Merz,' is best known for his collages and for his monumental constructions called Merzbau. But Schwitters' stated goal was 'to erase the boundaries between the arts' — he said his poems were 'a kind of drawing' while his collages 'demand to be read.' This collection, culled from five volumes of Schwitters' writings published in Germany, introduces the total work of art that is Merz via Schwitters' words rather than images. Included is the complete text for the 'Ur Sonata,' which, as renowned poets/editors/translators Jerome Rothenberg and Pierre Joris comment, 'is to sound poetry what Joyce's Ulysses is to the twentieth-century novel.'" 288 pages, paperback, $17.95 list price.

SOUPAULT, PHILIPPE: Last Nights Of Paris Book (EC SOUPAULT). $12.50

This classic 1928 novel, available again, as translated by William Carlos Williams. "Co-author with André Breton of the first self-proclaimed book of automatic writing, Les Champs Magnétiques (1919), Philippe Soupault was one of the founders of the Surrealist movement. A poet, novelist, and journalist, with a much less political and less theoretical approach to writing than his colleagues Breton and Aragon, Soupault was expelled from the movement in 1926 — along with Antonin Artaud — for their isolated pursuit of the stupid literary adventure. Last Nights of Paris in English is a surprising artifact of the twenties...[it] seems to share much with both the Surrealist novels (Nadja, Paris Peasant) and the American expatriate novels (The Great Gatsby, The Days of the Locust) of its day. It's underworld setting, the narrator's obsession with a woman and identification of her with the place she inhabits, the plot that seems to tend toward conflagration, its preoccupation with chance and with the city — all could be drawn variously from the novels mentioned above.

STEIN, GERTRUDE: Everybody's Autobiography Book (EC STEIN). $14.50

"The 1937 sequel to The Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas is Stein's account of how she wrote a bestseller, and a meditation on the meaning of identity, success, and America."

THERMSON, STEFAN: Bayamus & Cardinal Polatitio Book (EC THERMSON). $14.50

"Two riotous novels by the Polish-born British writer Stefan Themerson (1910-1988), who with his wife Franciszka ran the Gaberbocchus Press in London. Gaberbocchus published both Kurt Schwitters and Bertrand Russell — and these extremes unite in Themerson's highly individual brand of philosophical Dadaism. Bayamus recounts the adventures of a self-proclaimed mutant with three legs (one is attached to a roller skate) and his efforts to propagate a new species; it includes an instructive visit to the 'Theatre of Semantic Poetry,' where old rhymes mutate into new truths. Cardinal Polatitio is the biography of Guillaume Apollinaire's anonymous father, who turns out to be an ecclesiastic with a murderous interest in modernist poetry, a faith based on science, and a dreamlike so frankly obscene that only a dictionary of Freudian symbols can explain its innocence."

WELCH, DENTON: In Youth Is Pleasure Book (EC WELCH). $12.50

"First published in 1945, In Youth Is Pleasure is a beautiful and unassuming coming-of-age novel by the English writer and painter Denton Welch (1915-1948). Painfully sensitive and sad Orville Pym is fifteen years old, and this novel recounts the summer holiday after his first miserable year at public school — but as in all of Welch's work what is most important are the details of his characters' surroundings. Welch is a Proustian writer of uncanny powers of observation who, as William Burroughs writes, 'makes the reader aware of the magic that is right under his eyes.' Also included in this edition is the first U.S. publication of I Left my Grandfather's House. This first-person account of an idyllic walking tour in the British countryside undertaken when Welch was eighteen makes a fascinating companion piece to the fictionalized, though no less autobiographical, In Youth Is Pleasure."

WELCH, DENTON: A Voice Through A Cloud Book (EC WELCH 2). $14.50

Second Welch novel on Exact Change, his last completed work from 1950. "A Voice through a Cloud is English novelist Denton Welch's heartbreaking account of his recovery from a bicycling accident that left him partially paralyzed at the age of twenty. Dominated by Welch's acute powers of observation, the book (first published in 1950) is a tour-de-force of both self-analysis and external description, as Welch lies in a hospital bed and struggles with his illness and his relationships with family and doctor. Finished as Welch was dying thirteen years later from complications resulting from the accident, A Voice through a Cloud's account of a young man's struggle with debilitating illness has sad and unforeseen parallels to contemporary life. While In Youth Is Pleasure is probably Welch's best-loved book, and Maiden Voyage his most scandalous, A Voice through a Cloud is perhaps his masterpiece, containing his most accomplished writing."

WELCH, DENTON: Maiden Voyage Book (EC WELCH3). $14.50

"Maiden Voyage is an account of author Denton Welch's sixteenth year, when he ran away from his English public school and was then sent to Shanghai to live with his father. The book was Welch's first and created a sensation on publication in 1943; its frank description of public schoolboy life forced publisher Herbert Read to initially seek advice from libel lawyers. Even Winston Churchill's private secretary gossiped in a letter that, 'the book was reeking with homosexuality... I think I must get it.' Today, Welch's expressions of sexuality may seem more demure than outrageous, but his portrayal of the passions and humiliations of adolescence is graphic. As in all of Welch's novels, it is the precisely realized details of the author's physical and social surroundings that make the book such a remarkable journey."

ZURN, UNICA: Dark Spring Book (EC ZURN). $12.50

"Unica Zurn (1916-1970) was born in Berlin and made her living there as a film dramaturge and short story writer until 1953, when she met the artist Hans Bellmer and moved with him to Paris. Dark Spring is an autobiographical coming-of-age novel that reads more like an exorcism than a memoir. In it, author Unica Zurn traces the roots to her obsessions: the exotic father she idealized, the 'impure' mother she detested, the masochistic fantasies and onanistic rituals which she said described 'the erotic life of a little girl based on my own childhood'. Dark Spring is the story of a young girl's simultaneous introduction to sexuality and mental illness, revealing a different aspect of the 'mad love' so romanticized by the (predominantly male) Surrealists."

EXACTA.UDIO:*VA: Generator: Detroit 2003 2LP (EXACTA 003 LP). $17.00

"The label that started it all, Generator, is back on exacta.udio with a vengeance after a six year hiatus. The first Detroit techno label with a truly global vision, Generator's first incarnation was home to such great artists as Woody McBride, X-313, Dave Clarke and Alan Oldham. And now, Generator is back with the Detroit 2003 compilation, a soundtrack to the Detroit Electronic Music Festival 2003. Compiled and executive-produced by Alan Oldham and boasting an international line-up that's performing live at the festival, Detroit 2002 provides us a snapshot of where dancefloor techno is in 2002, as well as its possible future." Features: The Advent, X-313, Bryan Zentz, Stewart Walker, Mike Dearborn, DJ T-1000, Adam X, Chaos and Steven Tang.

INK, MIKE: r.e.s.p.e.c.t. 12" (EXACTA 005EP). $9.00

"A true legend of electronic music: Wolfgang Voigt aka Love Inc., Wassermann, Grungerman or Mike Inc. came up with a huge clubhit called 'R.E.S.P.E.C.T.' in 1994. Coming out as a limited picture 12" this release was sold quite quickly and together with the fact that it has been played by all famous DJs at that time this record achieved the collector's status very soon. This is probably enough reason to bring it back to the audience, but in comparison to the outstanding musical quality of this record it is clear that the music itself is the main reason to reissue this precious piece of vinyl-gold."

EXCEPTIONAL (UK):*YOKOTA, SUSUMU: Zero CD (EX 102 CD). $15.00

"In the UK Susumu Yokota is already well known for his more experimental work released on the Leaf label but he is in fact a prolific and multi talented artist who works in many different fields. In 1999 Yokota was twice hailed as one of the future forces of world techno/house by the Mixmag magazine and he has steadily released a series of excellent mainstream albums in his native Japan. His latest album, Zero is the first to be released under his new deal with Exceptional and is chock full of pleasurable surprises. It is his own take on house and, dare we say, disco, with plenty of vocal tracks and some cracking ideas and arrangements. It includes the recent single 'Could Heaven Ever Be Like This', as well as other gems such as 'Go Ahead', 'Sleepless Life' and 'Into The Sky'. Hopefully this is just the beginning of a new era for Susumu."

YOKOTA, SUSUMU: Zero 2LP (EX 102 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

ISHII, KEN: Flatspin CD (EX 103 CD). $15.00

"Not many Japanese musicians have made it big outside their own country, but in this is as in so many things Ken Ishii is the exception to the rule. His first album, Jelly Tones, released in 1995 brought his name to the mass public both in Europe and Japan. Another two albums Metal Blue America and Sleeping Madness earned him even more respect and established him as one of the select few Japanese artists with a place on the international stage. Flatspin will undoubtedly take his impressive reputation a stage further. Originally conceived as a soundtrack to a Japanese equivalent of James Bond, it sees him pushing boundaries again whilst delivering what is his most accessible album yet. The new album includes the recent single 'Slapdash', described in the press as 'a compulsive throb of neon bright swirls'. On the other hand, stand out track 'Iceblink' is expected to be the new single, on the album it appears as an instrumental and as a full vocal, supplied beautifully by Inner City vocalist Paris Grey. All in all, Flatspin shows Ken on top form yet again."

BELTRAN, JOHN: Americano CD (EX 201 CD). $15.00

"The legendary John Beltran returns after a lengthy pause with his best album yet. John makes music influenced by his attitudes towards life and listening habits plus tace elements of dancefloor experiences both past and present. So far he's produced four LP's and earned himself rave reviews and a cult following amongst those ready to look for something beyond the dance within so called dance music culture, although the beats, breaks and bass of the floor usually bubble up through his tracks no matter how reflective they might initially seem. The new album Americano opens with the sultry blues of 'Dreamin', where deep jazzy keys are supported by a low slung groove. This is followed by the recent single 'Caboclo' - a more uptempo number that still manages to sound dream like. 'Siesta Key' should unlock the door to anyone's quiet inner sanctum, its long drawn out textures help strip tension out of the listener. 'Bossalude' sees John updating the traditional bossa sound with deft electronic processing and flourishes. 'Soul Sketching' drips Detroit soul (both the old and new varieties) with its warm keyboard intro. The pace of the track is delivered by a drum n bass break whilst live keys hang and fill the spaces between the beats. 'Watercolour Dreams' releases the pressure, with its lilting keyboards lapping away any tension. 'Expecting Rain' continues the aqueous theme; the treated vocals become the chant of a medicine man incanting for the life supporting liquid. The impact of September 11th is still reverberating through the American psyche, and on 'A Better Place' one can hear John's tribute to the victims and survivors of the tragedy. The album closes with the sweet lullaby refrain of 'Dreamin'."

BELTRAN, JOHN: Americano 2LP (EX 201 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

YOKOTA, SUSUMU: Sound Of Sky CD (EX 202 CD). $15.00

"Susumu Yokota is one of those artists who cannot be pinned down to one genre or style. Last year he released different projects that expertly covered experimental electronica, deep house and a garage album all to great critical acclaim from respective specialist and mainstream press. On this, his second album for Exceptional, he is focusing on deep, jazz orientated house music, along the lines of Joe Clausell and Osunlade. 'Nothing Time' is a tribute to those days without responsibilities and pressures, relax and soak up the vibes of this glorious breakbeat based house track. 'Three Ripple' ups the rhythmic ante with a greater emphasis on the kick, accented by rising keyboard wails. Susumu's musicality is clearly apparent on 'Crash Marble', where he manipulates a blues groove into crunchy house beats, similar to St Germain, but with a bit more dirt. The gorgeous ambient interlude of 'Wind Wave' is based around a heavily effected and treated keyboard line. The album's title track melds a fat kick and a bassline with jazzy keys, and an infectious chant. The addition of sax on top is the final coup de grace. 'King of Darkness' must be an ironic title — it probably won't work for the 'Dark Drums' fans out there. The main motif is a lilting piano supported by a house rhythm section. 'Form and Idea' lets the listener relax back and observe the gestation of a musical theme, imitating the excitement of the arrival of a novel thought and the peaceful delight of a problem solved. 'Right to be Free' is a low slung groove helping an understated vocal come through. It marries a righteous take on house with some of the production sensibilities of the Cologne sound. Expect to hear 'Make Peace' on deep dancefloors near you soon, it has a truly cavernous kick drum. The album closes with the downtempo breaks of 'Sky and Diamond' — its deep reverb winds the proceeds off perfectly. Yet again Susumu Yokota has demonstrated his mastery of another musical genre but kept his trademark respect for space and depth through fine attention to production details like his sensual use of reverb."

YOKOTA, SUSUMU: Sound Of Sky 2LP (EX 202 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

ISHII, KEN: Future In Light CD (EX 302 CD). $16.00

"Ken Ishii is one of the most innovative and forward thinking artists to emerged from Japan in the last decade. Hovering between techno based textures and subdued sonic bliss, Ken Ishii is clearly aiming for musical enchantment of a different kind. Having assimilated a wide array of influences (Yellow Magic Orchestra, DAF, Kraftwerk, Nitzer Ebb, Derick May) he manages to make them come alive in a context that surpasses all comparison, mutating the very concept of techno itself. Ken Ishii has proved once again that he is at the forefront of internationally known electronic music composers and DJs without limiting his musical pedigree."

ISHII, KEN: Future In Light 2LP (EX 302 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

EXPANDING (UK):

VESSEL: Dreaming In Pairs CD (ECD 10:02CD). $18.00

"Dreaming In Pairs has the impressive stature and maturity of sound to warrant constant visits, marrying a singular feeling, doused in emotional atmosphere with a rigorous approach to rhythm and structure. Elements of 'Apartment' could perhaps accompany an imaginary remake of 'Get Carter' and the gleaming 'Koozbane' should find itself becoming an electronic anthem: genuine melodies to die for. Fans of Isan, Domatic and the Pop Ambient scene should investigate this quietly amazing release immediately."

CATHODE: Special Measures CD (ECD 13:03CD). $18.00

"In pursuit of the point where crystalline analogue melody meets crisp minimalist electronics, Cathode deal in refried melodies, disintegrating rhythms and reflective electroreveries. Special Measures is a debut album, following singles & remixes on Static Caravan, 555, Unbearable and Awkward Silence."

HOLKHAM: Komatta Saru CD (ECD 14:04CD). $18.00

"Debut release from Simon Keep under the name Holkham, who has worked as a sound designer on feature length & short films, motion graphics and commercials. His interest in sonic art exhibition and installation springs from a desire for sound to be heard and considered in a more conscious way. In May 2003 he initiated an environmental sound project at the Royal London Hospital, which has lead his work towards researching ways of listening as well as working with issues of noise pollution and silence. Other projects have also been working with sound outside the human audible range, mainly radio waves."

STENDEC: A Study of 'And' CD (ECD 15:04CD). $18.00

"Debut album from Expanding label founders Ben Edwards and Paul Merritt. While not busy over the last 4 years running Expanding (or in Ben's case, recording solo as Benge and with Douglas 'Si-Cut.db' Benford as Tennis), they have released several singles, compilation tracks and remixes on a variety of labels, including their own, Static Caravan, and Cactus Island. A Study... compiles all 13 of those tracks (although time constraints mean the vinyl version contains less). Stendec make some of the most elegiac, harmonious and downright beautiful music to be heard in the world of new electronics. Their use of polyrhythm and injection of treated sounds always compliments and never overpowers their melodic sensibility, and although these tracks were recorded at isolated points over an extended period, they work as a whole to create an album that sets a new benchmark in subtle electronica, shifting from planetarium soundtracks to the notes that would be made by the distant haze on an arid Spanish road in high summer."

VA: The Condition Of Muzak CD (EVSC 01:01CD). $18.00

"This is seriously good, a flawless 7" series collected and given coherence across 14 tracks of some the finest electronic music to have crossed our paths in recent times. The players: Benge, Abfahrt Hinwill, Stendec, Vessel, Fibla, Zorn, Tennis, Jan Jelinek, David Mooney and Antoni Frankowski. Sequenced with loving attention to detail, the flow is perfect, from the blissful punctuated electronic ticktock of Stendec's Avro to Benge's unique melancholic playfulness on Baud, to the stuttered crunch dubism of Tennis and Abfahrt Hinwill's developed popish introspection and beyond. Exclusive bonus tracks to boot and some gorgeously luxurious triple digipak packaging. One of electronica's most collectable labels has come of age."

EXPLAIN:

KLETKA RED: Hybrid CD (EXPLAIN 002). $13.00

"Kletka Red's lineup features Andy Moor (a.k.a. Andy Ex of Amsterdam based group the Ex) playing his guitar, Leonid soybelman (Ne Zhdali) offering guitar and vocals, Joe Williamson (Tobias Delius Quartet) on bass, and Tony Buck (the Necks, Peril) handling drums. Hybrid is the new album from this truly international group. With band members originally hailing from such far apart lands as Russia, England, Canada, and Australia, it is little wonder that Hybrid weaves such a rich fabric of sounds and textures within its 47 minutes. Two pieces are based on the traditional Greek rembetika style (from the album's notes: 'rembetika: Greek underworld music of love, sorrow, hashish, prison, and TB; emerging from Piraeus, Athens from the 1920s onwards'). There's also a version of a traditional Russian folksong in addition to Kletka Red's own original compositions."

MIRRA, HELEN: Field Geometry CD (EXPLAIN 003). $13.00

"The debut full-length release from Chicago resident Helen Mirra. Field Geometry is an album for Helen's guitar and 'kindergarten activities', with the addition, at times, of cello, nyckleharpe and kence. Certain moments of Field Geometry may remind one of Blind Joe Death (playing with one arm behind his back). Other moments, perhaps, may not. Let's just call it pure American minimalism. Helen uses acoustic guitar as a translation of — and accompaniment to — her recordings of actual kindergarten activities themselves, as executed using a circa 1865 set of original materials. In addition to Helen's own guitar, Fred Lonberg-Holm contributes cello, nyckleharpe and kence. Field recordings made inside a textile factory, as well as the sounds of windmill sail arms, are woven into the album's fabric and serve as 'reminders of the gifts' precedents... [and of] nature and science."

BOSCO & JORGE: CD (EXPLAIN 004). $13.00

"The story of Bosco & Jorge begins a decade ago, in Oklahoma, when Bosco (Bill Lowman, guitar piano and upright bass) and Jorge (Brad Gallagher, guitar and banjo), each only twelve years of age, met for the first time at a concert by Leo Kottke, a fingerpicking guitarist and protege of legendary American folk figure John Fahey. Certainly, the music on Bosco & Jorge will bring to mind the original sources of inspiration to these boys, namely Doc Watson and Mississippi John Hurt. But, one also will note (with special thanks given to the album's fantastic guests) a slice of modern 'pop' piano here (courtesy of Frank Navin from the Aluminum Group), a twist of elegant 'classical' cello lines there, truly uplifting flute passages on one piece (Nicole Mitchell, David Boykin Outet), occasional free-form vocals (Maria Carballo, and Glenda Baker, David Boykin Outet) and the nimble, jazz-informed brushwork/time-keeping drumkit accompaniment (John Herndon, Tortoise/Isotope 217) which closes the album."

EXTRAPLATE (AUSTRIA):

VEGETABLE ORCHESTRA: Automate CD (EX 604 CD). $13.50

"Automate presents the Vegetable Orchestra's second CD and their logical further development. The work on the organic sound bodies and refinement of the playing and recording techniques have made audible a new vegetable sound universe. Along with cover versions of Kraftwerk, the CD is a compilation of tracks influenced by the most diverse contemporary electronic music styles. An amazing affinity of the organic and digital world becomes clear on the one hand whereas on the other, an unmistakably unique veggie sound is created, which could not have been created with any other group of instruments. For several months prior to the studio recording, the 10-member ensemble composed and arranged the pieces, and most importantly, discovered instruments. Inventions such as a radish-marimba and a water radish were added to such long-standing sound generators as the cuke-o-phon and the carrot recorder. The compositions range from rhythmic house tracks to noise music to dub and glitch pieces."

EXTREME (AUSTRALIA):

MUSLIMGAUZE: Intifaxa CD (XCD 002). $13.00

1990 release, repressed; the first Muslimgauze release on Extreme. "The sounds of Arabia are captured in confident rhythms, pulsating bass drum and an enveloping ambience. The musical creativity have progressed over the past decade to become one of the most inspiring sounds of the nineties. The Arabian countries, which are a catalyst for this release, are captured in each song. Such a picture can only be painted by Muslimgauze. Intifaxa is a contemporary vision of world music. Western and Arabic rhythms create a chilling seductive state."

MUSLIMGAUZE: United States of Islam CD (XCD 007). $13.00

1991 release, repressed. "The melding of Muslimgauze has, for over ten years, been a vision of Arabia, taking ethnic instruments and melding their sounds into our culture. Layers of percussion produce entrancing rhythms, weaving a path through dense and sparse textures that evoke a country full of mystique and conflict. For over sixty minutes the tempo and mood shift effortlessly to carry the listener on a hypnotic journey. The pounding bass drum continues relentlessly, uncompromisingly, as it beats for a modern cause. United States of Islam is Manchester based Muslimgauze's second release on Extreme."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Infidel CD (XCD 026 EP). $11.00

1994 CD EP release (though 67 minutes in total), repressed. "Infidel, where Arabic ambience meets techno-industrial... Many a DJ has asked for a true club mix of the music of Muslimgauze, with the more adventurous already having found the infectious grooves a great cut on the dance floor. David Thrusell, of SNOG and SOMA, lends his talents to this release, remixing and adding his production skills to three tracks on the EP. Thrusell was the perfect choice for bringing the music of Muslimgauze to the dance floor, with his remixes maintaining the identity of the original music. Five of the eight tracks are remixes of 'Infidel', a track from the Citadel album by Muslimgauze on Extreme, and the remaining three tracks are new and previously unreleased. The 'veil of peace' mix could fit in well with the current trend for tribal dance music with the 'orbesque' mix being a more suited to the chill-out rooms. The 'east meets west' mix segues a mix by Muslimgauze with a mix by David Thrusell and both the 'arabesque' and 'filmesque' mix being indicative of the style of music that has been the trademark of Muslimgauze."

THACKER, EUGENE: Sketches for Biotech Research CD (XCD 046). $14.00

"This CD is an attempt to suggest a particular type of body of sound, influenced, on the one hand, by the 'technosciences' of digital anatomy and biotechnology (both of which have significant ties to the Internet), and on the other, by the kinaesthetics of electronic dance music. Noise provided a kind of kinetic pivot-point between these two types of bodies (one immobilized by databases, genetic codes, taxonomies and diagrams; the other constantly mobile through the use of electronic beats and regular rhythmic patterns). Thus, many sounds from the physical body, sounds or pulses produced by digital file transmission or errors, and heavily processed/edited samples from techno and drum'n'bass, all contributed to the source material for this CD."

KIEFER, CHRISTIAN: Welcome To Hard Times CD (XCD 048). $15.00

"There are characteristics of the American west that act as guideposts. The hat. The spurs. The huge expanses of land. Cattle. Horses. Anglo settlers and native Americans. These guideposts fulfil our need to mythologize, to turn history into something greater than it was. Enter Welcome to Hard Times, a collection of songs (and sounds) which take these guideposts, this myth of the American west, and ultimately history itself, as their starting point. The music reviews what we know of the west, questions it, and shifts the listener into new understandings. It bridges the past and present, history and mythology. It is not an easy bridge to travel, water is scarce and dangers are many, but ultimately it is worth the ride. So take your boots off, stranger, put your feet up, relax and, by the way, welcome to hard times. Christian Kiefer has accomplished what many John Wayne films only hint at. Kiefer takes his prompts from recent historians such as Richard White, Donald Worster, and Patricia Limerick. Kiefer's work captures a darker, more malevolent point of view, with fleeting glimpses of retribution." The completed work features Kiefer on several different guitars (including National and Martin), banjo, kazoo, harmonica, and dulcimer, in addition to vocals."

MAJU: 2 CD (XCD 049). $15.00

"Besides his project Maju, Hosomi Sakana also records as Neina for Mille Plateaux, contributing to the new generation of sound navigators, crash designers and post-modern artists in the digital world. Clicks and glitches, microscopic tonal maneuver, plinks and even melodic fragments are the instruments of Neina's fascinating programming. Meanwhile as an arranger, continuing to work with an ever-increasing variety of musical instruments using digital technology has led him to new methods of working. The vast information contained within the digital world, and the often almost organic connections within and the image it held of chaotic and limitless possibility — much like the cocoon — grew to fascinate him. All this eventually led to its fruition in the music of Maju."

KIEFER, CHRISTIAN: Medicine Show CD (XCD 053). $13.50

"With the release of Medicine Show, Christian Kiefer makes his claim as a talented singer/song writer with a unique voice. Kiefer's captivating narrative style depicts the hardship of life in a struggling America, early last century. Further acknowledgement to Kiefer's emerging talent is the appearance of numerous guest musicians of international acclaim. These include Darol Anger on electric violin, Joe Craven on fiddle and percussion, and Mike Marshall on mandocello. Joan Jeanrenaud, previously of Kronos Quartet, also guests, playing cello on the opening song, 'Come up'. Kiefer's own band is not overshadowed in this formidable line up. In fact the man on drums, Jason Sinclair Long, was sought out by the Blue Man Group and now leads their percussion section with his virtuoso playing. Medicine Show is a wonderfully musical album, with credit going to Kiefer's talent as a composer, arranger and producer. He wears many hats well in order to craft an album that richly expresses the life and times of a man at first lead astray. What makes Medicine Show so poignant is that these struggles remain for many of us even today, in a contemporary society that tries to shield us from the dark side. Perhaps the only thing that has changed is the range of diseases that Stephen Yerkey spruiks in his humorous and at times disturbing vignettes."

ETHER: Hush CD (XCD 054). $13.50

"The path Ether has chosen to explore on Hush makes you wonder just how far rock music can go. So few groups make music that is truly powerful but Ether is a vibrant exception. Absorbing influences ranging from Kraut rock to world music, Ether reveals a range of emotions that are liberating, rewarding and at times intimate. Their polyrhythmic drumming, a signature for the group, talks on many levels. James and David create solid grooves that exult in their tribal roots. Eli works his guitar into a frenzy and Thane hammers the bass guitar like it was a primal percussive weapon going into battle alongside the drums. While all of this is happening in a loosely bound chaotic vortex, Ryley is layering the music with loops, snarls and found sounds. The result is distinctly cinematic and helps to further define the Ether sound. With all of this energy and originality, it is not surprising that Ryley and Alan Sparhawk, of Low, started their first band together so many years ago in a garage in Salt Lake City. Hush is a further display that Ether has found the power and creativity of rock music. All you have to do now is turn up the volume and be absorbed."

MERZBOW: Merzbook: The Pleasuredome Of Noise Book/CD-ROM (XCD 2000). $34.00

Paperback edition of the book and CD-Rom that originally came with the 50CD Merzbox, now available separately; the book is 132 pages with full color illustrations throughout. "A musician, scholar, visual artist and author, Masami Akita's (Merzbow) prodigious output has included hundreds of hours of music, dozens of striking collages and computer-generated artworks as well as numerous books on subjects ranging from the history of bondage to fetish culture in contemporary Japan. In the first ever biography of this enigmatic, provocative and exceptional talent, Akita's artistic roots are traced from his art school beginnings and early dabbling with the underground rock and free jazz of the 70s, through to the fascinating and compelling experimentation of his music at the turn of the millennium. A detailed history of Akita's work as Merzbow, historical precedents, and the contentious 'Noise' music scene is presented alongside specially commissioned essays by admirers, collaborators, and peers. Exhaustively researched interviews, comment and discography are combined with painstakingly annotated entries on each of the 50 CDs that comprise the landmark Merzbox collection. Dozens of colour photographs and illustrations — together with a CD-ROM featuring biographical text, art, performance video, Merzbow game and sound bites — round out this definitive work. The MerzROM, included with this publication, provides a further insight into the music and imagery of Merzbow — a challenging and intriguing synthesis of the many aspects of the Merzbox."

MERZBOW: Merzbox 50CD (XCD LTD0038X). $550.00

This 50 CD Merzbox as released in the year 2000. "Fifty CDs providing as many hours of Merzbow noise music. The collection spans from 1979 to 1997, 18 years of sonic decomposition. Many of the titles were only available as cassettes and have long since been deleted. Five LPs and a CD, which were originally released in limited numbers and have since been deleted, are now reissued in the Merzbox. Also included are 20 discs that have previously never been released. All CDs have four color cover labels, featuring new Merzbow artwork. All CDs are exclusive to the Merzbox." Comes with an interactive CD-Rom, Merzdallion, Merzshirt, Merzcards, Merzstickers, Merzposter, all wrapped up in a "fetish-rubber" Merzcase.

KIEFER, CHRISTIAN: Exodust CD (XCD LTD0004). $13.50

"Christian Kiefer's Exodust takes the listener on a journey from the despair of the Dust Bowl to the promised land. Kiefer has used music to express what it must have been like for those struggling to find a new home amidst the desperation and of dreams of those joining the pilgrimage. Exodust picks up the trend began with Welcome to Hard Times of revisiting and redefining American history through music. This time, Kiefer tackles a period in the late 1930s and early 1940s. This period saw the Great Depression and one of the greatest diasporas of American peoples since the settling of the West. For his musical sources, Kiefer calls upon American classical minimalism, especially the works of composers Terry Riley and Steve Reich, and avant-garde classical violinist Paul Zukofsky, whose recordings of pieces by Morton Feldman, Philip Glass, and Iannis Xenakis were particularly influential in the composition of Exodust."

TAKEMURA, NOBUKAZU: Water's Suite CD (XCD LTD0005). $13.50

"The sonic beauty of Water's Suite shows that Nobukazu Takemura has come a long way from his days as a successful scratch DJ. Known more recently for his thoughtful compositions and commissions for Issey Miyake, Takemura has decided to let the MIDI do the talking. In fact, he has utilised his own harmonies and melodies to improvise and create entirely new music. 'I played the original MIDI data and I input the scale, harmony, and melody in advance,' explains Takemura. He continues, 'However, I didn't use the typical method of replaying the sequence data. Instead, I did the SCRUB control change improvisation for MIDI data on my software.' Takemura is also intrigued by the very irregularities that MIDI systems try to eliminate. Japan has more than its fair share of earthquakes and these often unforgiving acts of nature have shown him just how varied a MIDI system can be. 'I'm also very interested in the reaction of the MIDI equipment in the blackout and the earthquake. (In Kyoto, it happened very strongly). The strange waves of sound at that moment seem to have a rule, but there is no rule at all,' said Takemura. From this subtle balance of composition and uncertainty, Takemura has taken the next step in his intriguing musical career."

NIBLOCK, PHILL: The Movement Of People Working DVD (XDVD 001). $19.00

Film and music by Phill Niblock (all different material compared to Niblock's previous China & Sunsets video). This double-sided disc features 6 short films (made in countries like Peru, Mexico, Hong Kong & Hungary) and 9 music pieces, recorded 1975-83 (utilizing cello, bassoon, contrabass, trombone, etc). "These 16mm films, 1-4., were made in 1973/74. Three of them were made in Mexico, one in Peru. They were printed on Kodachrome print stock from a reversal original. The prints look as good as they did when made, quite beautiful. A few scratches, since these prints were shown many times over the years. These were the first films of the series 'looking at the movement of people working'. 'Sur Una and Dos' (Mexico and Peru, respectively) are concentrated on the movement of people's hands. Most of the activities are agrarian, some are crafts — weaving, etc. In 'Trabajando Una and Dos', I was looking at more general work movement. These films are combined with four channel music pieces from roughly the same period. 5. 'Hong Kong' and 6. 'Hungary' simply have the names of the countries where the film was shot. 'Hong Kong' was filmed in 1978, 'Hungary' in 1985. The music was made between 1975 and 1983. In Hong Kong, I filmed in many communities on the main island, and some on outlying islands, also in Macau. I was accompanied by members of the Phoenix Cine Club. In Hungary I filmed in two communities - Gonc, near Slovakia, and Milota, on the Tisza River." NTSC format, Region 0 for the world. 5.1 audio. Total time: 3 hours, 28 min.

EXTREME SPORTS (UK):

YUPPIE FLU/THREE PIECES: Extreme Sports Split 12 Vol. 1 12" (ES 1041). $9.00

"First in a series of esoteric split 12 inches from Che/Extreme Sports, limited to 300 copies in the UK. Featuring the Italian Pavement, Yuppie Flu, and the Popul Vuh/Tangerine Dream flavored Three Pieces, from Canada. This series follows the footsteps of the Fat Cat/Leaf/Che split 7" series of weird and wonderful music. Total running time on this EP is 26 minutes." There should probably be some kind of law against groups that sound like "the Italian Pavement", but the other side is good and future releases in this series will feature Add N to X, Fuxa, Tarwater, etc.

EYE Q (UK):

FRESH, FREDDY: The Last True Family Man CD (EYE 017 CD). $21.00

"Should have something for just about everyone. Freddy shows himself to be so much more than a one-trick pony, with a variety of different styles displayed and an overall sound that shows remarkable development and maturity compared with previous releases. All Freddy's influences are there — old school and obscure funk and R&B, old skool hip hop beats, freaky disco and raw Puerto Rican vibes are all apparent. Collaborations with The Freestylers and man of the moment Fatboy Slim add some extra light-hearted club action, while the single track 'It's About The Groove' takes Freddy very close to disco house territory and 'Years Back' shows that he's still capable of the ass-kicking electro he's always been respected for."

FRESH, FREDDY: The Last True Family Man 2LP (EYE 017 LP). $19.00

SKYLAB: 1999 (Large as Life and Twice as Natural) CD (EYE 018 CD). $20.00

"Skylab are Marc Ducas, part time DJ and painter, Toshio Nakanishi and Masayuki Kudo, conceptualists for Japan's fabled and fearless Major Force hip hop label. Oh, and there's freewheeling, freestyle vocalist Debbie Sanders, who's in charge of figuring out what's inside of Mat's brain. 1999... is an album of eclectic beauty. 'Fuckable Redhead' performs the seemingly impossible task of rehabilitating the rock drum/guitar solo and making it seem like the most exciting thing that you've ever heard. 'Pt. 1' is like a musical European comic strip repeating its mantra until you feel like you're falling into a tunnel. Strange? That's only the beginning."

SKYLAB: 1999 (Large as Life and Twice as Natural) LP (EYE 018 LP). $15.00

LP version.

16B: Falling CD (EYE 027 CD). $9.00

Three track remix EP, featuring the original track (taken from the impressive Sounds From Another Room album), plus remixes by Two Lone Swordsmen & Deep Dish. Weatherall & Tenniswood's mix has trademark liquid gurgle all over it and reaches for the ecstasy signal — a perfect blast of experimental house texture.

16B: Water Ride (Mixes) 12" (EYE 039). $9.00

First of the 12" versions features: 1) Omid's "13th Room Mix" 2) "The Golden Edit" & 3) "Sleeping All Day Mix". Both of these 12" come in full color sleeves.

16B: Water Ride (Mixes) CD (EYE 039 CD). $9.00

Second EP of remixes from the 1998 deep house classic album, Sounds From Another Room. "A proper remix package that doesn't compromise the original in any way. Omid's '13th Room Mix' cranks things up to make the track an altogether more attractive proposition for any DJ with a penchant for tuff beats and melodic harmonies. Stacey Pullen's '17c Mix' showcases his deep melodic techno style with gentle breakbeats added, but still stays true to the original. The Micronauts from Paris turn in a mix featuring ten minutes of mid-tempo electro acid-funk with a huge sub bass line."

16B: Water Ride (Mixes) 12" (EYE 039X). $9.00

2nd 12" EP features: 1) Micronauts remix & 2) Stacey Pullen's "17c Remix".

F COMMUNICATIONS (FRANCE):

VA: Live And Rare 3LP (F 100 LP). $26.00

3LP box set version.

ELEGIA: Sounds Within CD (F 107 CD). $15.00

"Sounds Within is an album which is totally in the spirit of the original techno: entirely homemade, patiently. Laurent Collat took care of the compositions, the production, and the creative direction. It is an island among electronic lands. The production is delicate, precise. Esther's voice is sensual, floating, ethereal, bringing a touch of warmth and sensibility to the hard and hypnotic compositions on tracks like 'My Serenity'. These tracks float over the very tough, organic beats. Everything is drive and urge; sometimes a dancing one. Sounds Within is an album full of contrasts but also full of meaning. It could be (says Laurent) the music for 'Once Upon A Time In The West In Tokyo'."

JUANTRIP: Balm Under The Stormy CD (F 110 CD). $15.00

"A culmination of one man's extraordinary journey through music and life. One of the most panoramic explorations into the eclectic that you're likely to hear this year, the album is best summarised by the inner sleeve artwork. Featuring a world map printed upside down and in reverse, it questions all of those things we hold to be true. Who said North was up, that white isn't black and that techno isn't rock'n'roll. Who said that a communal hallucination couldn't happen and that 'Black Soap' wasn't a bigger event than Elvis' death. With tracks like the brooding 'Fly to the Moon' with it's contorted strings, lo fi electronica and vocodered psychosis or the dreamscaped ambience of the lysergically charged 'Downward Rush of Streams', the album introduces a new lexicon into the world of psychedelia. On 'Picture This Kind of Her Smile' and 'Waiting for the Train' he draws on Syd Barret era Pink Floyd and bands like Soft Machine, but relocates them in a contemporary setting through the darkness of modern life. This isn't a retro hippy trip. It's as much about the world we live in today as the evening news. It's a soundtrack to the madness, the isolated dreams of the disenfranchised and a loss of innocence in our subconscious worlds. This album is all about how we would view the world if we were all a little bit mad instead of just boring," Basil (aka Juantrip) concludes. 'It's about what we think is true actually being a lie. In fact the album itself is a lie.'"

JUANTRIP: Balmy Under The Stormy LP (F 110 LP). $12.00

LP version in full color gatefold.

GARNIER, LAURENT: The Sound of the Big Babou CD (F 111 CD). $9.00

"Eagerly awaited, 'The Sound Of The Big Babou' meets all its expectations, and sets the standard very high for techno single of the year. The now legendary efficiency of Laurent Garnier's track is underlined by a stunning production, both apocalyptic and sober. This track just won't let you breathe, until the final climax. On the B side, 'Sore Fingers' was written for Laurent Garnier's live shows last year, where it caused mayhem. It features a wild effort by percussionist Daniel Bechet (son of Sidney) whose tribal moods flow on a path of sludgy strings."

LU & JII HOO: Shelter CD (F 112 CD). $9.00

"Lu, a.k.a. L. Ulsted, is a young Finnish female singer who recently decided to move to Southern Europe (Nice, France). Lu & Jii Hoo is the beginning of a very interesting Pop Deep House project together with Jii Hoo, better known as Jori Hulkkonen. Hulkkonen has already released 2 successful EPs under the project name Jii Hoo and several EPs on F Communications. This duet combines perfectly melancholic soundscapes, rich rhythm patterns, and Lu's airy vocals. Jori's projects are based on a magic acoustic guitar sample and Latin beats. Check out the beautiful electro house remix by Elegia." 29-minute, four-track CD-only EP.

GARNIER, LAURENT: Unreasonable Behaviour CD (F 115 CD). $15.00

"With the release of Unreasonable Behaviour, Laurent Garnier has produced his most accomplished and personal album to date. This surprising record does not shy away from exploring more diverse and tormented sounds than we have previously been accustomed to in his work. The jazzy echoes of 'City Sphere' and 'The Man With The Red Face', are undoubtedly a direct link with Garnier's live experience, the saxophonist playing on these tracks, Philippe Nadot, accompanied Laurent Garnier on his tour. The first single released from the album, 'The Sound Of Big Babou', and also 'Dangerous Drive' are exercises in driving techno in a similar vein to 'Crispy Bacon', and are sure not to disappoint the dancefloor. Other tracks such as 'Communication From The Lab' and 'Downfall' are as haunting as the soundtrack to a terrifying thriller, as with the surprising 'Greed'. And of course we can discover in tracks such as 'Last Tribute To The 20th Century' and 'Cycles D'Opposition', Garnier's love for the American productions that have been an inspiration to him for so long. With this third ambitious album, Laurent Garnier proves that he is not only a great DJ but more importantly a musician apart."

GARNIER, LAURENT: Unreasonable Behaviour 2LP (F 115 LP). $15.00

Double LP, full color gatefold. "The vinyl contains different tracks & mixes from the CD. Unreasonable behaviour? You said it!"

JUANTRIP: Shadows [Remixes] CD (F 116 CD). $6.00

"Welcome to the world of Juantrip, where the truth is a lie and the lies are the truth. 'Shadows' is taken from Juantrip's debut album Balmy Under The Stormy. One of the stand out tracks from the album, 'Shadows' is based around a Hank Marvin style guitar riff. Throwing in the unlikely match of a four to the floor kick drum/breakbeat, it sounds like an odd recipe but it is better and fresher for it. Juantrip 'breaks a few rules with his own agenda and manages to bring some colour and life to the scene with his multi-layered theatrics. There are some excellent reinterpretations of 'Shadows' on this single. Don Air's superb remix takes the main riff, but strips the track of its four to the floor status, opting for the smokier vibes of dub with its rimshots and emphasis on the bassline. Lov & Charlie Ride's mix sticks with the house feel, makes it a bit spacey and takes the sound back to the 80s with its tinier production and obligatory off-kick. Finally we have Stoppa & J-Man Droidworks who go for an Electro-breaks vibe whilst keeping the track's deeper feel. Juantrip is a the colourful sonic crusader who's life has included being abducted by a hippie commune as a child, running the streets of Paris as teenage punk and sharing a communal acid hallucination in his early twenties. His debut album draws on all of these experiences to conjure a unique work which echoes late sixties psychedelia but redresses it in purely 90s terms."

JUANTRIP: Shadows [Remixes] 12" (F 116 EP). $8.00

GARNIER, LAURENT: The Man With The Red Face CD (F 119 CD). $7.00

"The second track taken from Unreasonable Behaviour, the perfect fusion of deep Detroit techno sounds and organic free jazz screams of the saxophone. A furious mixture of melodic Electro grooves and abstract acoustic invasion. The Sveik remix brings peaceful deep soundscapes, minimal and low beat technohouse drum patterns — a beautiful jazzy and dubby mix by members of this upcoming swedish label. Funk D'Void have chosen a futuristic electro-jazz treatment with a clever combination of beats and electro pulsations in a pure abstract style."

A REMINISCENT DRIVE: Ambrosia CD (F 120 CD). $15.00

New third album from this French ambient/electronic group, whose 1997 album Mercy Street was considered a classic of its time. "Ambrosia is the exquisite nourishment of the gods of Olympia, source of immortality. What's it all about: conquering death, and abolishing suffering, on a voyage (initiatory) in 13 stages. There are stops, short cuts, detours and rebounding stages paving the way. There are traps, ambushes, love stories, and sex stories on the road to providence. There are voices (Jay Alaniski, the sublime Nicole Graham, Abbey Lincoln, Millané Kang). There are the texts, Andy Warhol and Jean Luc Godard. There are strings and trumpets. There are guitars and pianos. There are pauses and harmonies (overall). There's this music that one cannot name! After being magnetised by the first pieces, you have to descend even further to the interior and search for the invisible, unseen world. But we are protected, a wandering soul is watching over us, and ready to guide us to this silent paradise. For all these reasons, listening to Ambrosia is magic."

GARNIER, LAURENT: Greed CD (F 127 CD). $6.00

"Laurent Garnier proves that he is not only a great DJ but more important a musician apart. His current album: Unreasonable Behaviour as well as his Internet site have achieved real success, all the more as fans were able to download 'Greed' to rmx; more than 100 rmxs have been sent. The best ones will be released in a special limited edition vinyl. His new single 'Greed' is a dark vocal electro track, including remixes by Avril, Dave Clark and Fabrice Lig (Best remix through the Internet)."

GARNIER, LAURENT: Greed 12" (F 127 EP). $8.00

Features the same three remixes of "Greed" found on the CD version, plus an exclusive Ashley Beedle mix of "The Man With The Red Face".

GARNIER, LAURENT: Greed-World Wide Re-Works (Ltd. Edition) 2x12" (F 127LTD EP). $13.00

Limited edition double pack EP of remixes that were sent in to F Comm, created from MP3 files found on www.laurentgarnier.com. "Tracklist: Vinyl 1 : A1) Fabrice Lig rmx - A2) Jahlainen vs Garnier - B1) The Hacker Nôvo mix - B2) Greed I'm on VQF - B3) Reasonable mix. Vinyl 2 : C1) Funky Space Reincarnation mix - C2) N com user mix - D1) Maldo's NoSubBassButARhodes Mix - D2) Carl Taylor Greed MP3 Rmx."

VA: Megasoft Office 2001 CD (F 149 CD). $15.00

"What is music today? Is it still an essential form of art? Or is it now just another brand totally integrated in our surroundings? Do we still allow music to give us emotions or do we just want it to be acoustic wallpaper? Since 1997, F Communications has tried to answer these questions with the series of Megasoft Office albums. We still feel that the music we listen to in the F COM office creates a unique atmosphere and brings a permanent source of energy for your personal creativity. So like us, enjoy this fourth edition of Megasoft Office." Featuring: A Reminiscent Drive, Alexkid, Ready Made, Frederic Galliano, Nova Nova, Aqua Bassino, Fabrice Lig, Laurent Garnier, Jori Hulkkonen & Alexis Delano, Llorca, The Youngsters.

GARNIER, LAURENT: Crispy Bacon CD (NR 2021). $6.00

Three mixes each of two tracks off of the new Garnier full length, 30.. "Crispy Bacon" is a power-laden minimal electro-pounder, remixed here by Detroit's Aux 88 and DJ Gilb'r. "The Hoe" is remixed by DJ Hell, a cool reconstruction of what in original form is Garnier's lamest track.

AVRIL, FRED: That Horse Must Be Starving CD (PIASA 022 CD). $15.00

"Fred Avril creates electronic music that's equally twisted, catchy, hyper, mellow, beautiful and deeply scarred. Similar to such curious and enduring pop auteurs as Gainsbourg, Jarvis Cocker, Jacques Brel, Beck and Prince, Fred brings true personality to the often cold, faceless electronic music scene. His songs have the clever charm of Daft Punk and Air, but his music is more personal and human. Throughout his debut album, That Horse Must Be Starving, Avril deftly merges many forms. Jump-cut edited lunge from analog electronic rhythms reminiscent of early Kraftwerk to entrancing, ethereal pop of Grandaddy to the rollicking psych-war of Neu."

F.M.N. (JAPAN):

YOSHIIHIDE, OTOMO: Digital Tranquillizer VER. 1.0 3" CD (FSC 015). $12.50

"19 minute EP from Otomo, his first this week. All manner of high pitched or just plain aggravative tones juxtaposed in a not-entirely-un-Mego/ Ikeda-like fashion. Rather non-sleep inducing. By a long shot. Good for what ails you though." — Hrvatski.

FABRIC (UK):

MAYER, MICHAEL: Fabric 13 CD (FABRIC 025 CD). $21.00

"Fabric presents yet another brilliant audio journey — this time by well respected German techno and house stalwart, Michael Mayer. Mayer runs Kompakt — the much admired German imprint and distribution network along with the revered techno and house weekly 'Conffusion.' Mayer, along with co-conspirators Superpitcher and Tobias Thomas have been key players in shaping the envelope pushing sounds currently coming out of an city in Germany which is rapidly gaining a reputation as a fertile bed for creativity in both music and the visual arts: Cologne. A 16-year turntable veteran Michael is a staunch disciple of the 4/4 sound. Michael says, 'The only thing I pre-determine is that I play 4/4. The rest happens by accident. I love the deeper side of music, obviously, but I like it raw and kicking. There has to be some pop sensibility too but... not obviously. The structure of my set is very pop influenced ... I love to play...songs... things you can whistle on the way home.'" Artists: Heiko Voss, Richard Davis, Westbam feat. Nena, Robag Wruhme & Wignomy Bros, Thomas Schaeben, Ricardo Villalobos, Magnet, Superpitcher, M83, Thomas Schaeben & Geiger feat. Schad Privat, Le Dustsucker.

PULLEN, STACEY: Fabric 14 CD (FABRIC 027CD). $21.00

"You could say that Detroit electronica pioneer Stacey Pullen was destined for musical greatness at birth. His father was part of the then well known Motown group the Capitols which provided Stacey with an environment filled with the personalities and classic songs of Motown's tight knit community. Stacey became hooked on keyboards and drums at a young age and soon his infatuation with these base elements of music led him to the explore the tribal sounds that were percolation out of Detroit's fertile underground. Inspired by the eras key stalwarts including Kraftwerk, and The Electrifyin' Mojo Stacey began piecing together his own projects which eventually led to him receiving the great honor of working in the studio side by side with fellow Detroit pioneers Kevin Reese Sanderson and Derrick May. Fast forward to 2003. Stacey Pullen is now one of the genres most respected pioneers with countless singles, remixes and his own label Black Flag. Stacey's exotic mixing style has taken him all over North and South America, Europe, and Asia. Fabric 14 demonstrates Stacey's eclectic mixing style — he says he 'never knows [what he may play] I just play from the heart and never categorize it.' However, although Stacey isn't eager to categorize his selections or his sets overall many of his emphatic fans will and eagerly label them both: as 'pure genius.'" Artists: Cutlab, BB Boogie, Vibe Residents, Shuffle Heads, Pure Science, Peace Division, Magoo, Moody, Men With Sticks, Tabass Nocturn, Dave Angel, Solid Groove.

TYRANT: Fabric 15 2CD (FABRIC 029CD). $21.00

"Tyrant — Craig Richards and Lee Burridge — has always been on the cutting edge with their chugging deep techy house, sublime breakbeat, and funky beats. The double disc set, programmed and mixed by Craig, will represent the variety of music and beats he plays, and it will also represent the sounds of the artists who play at Tyrant." Artists: Minimal Man, Falko Brockspier, Seafoam, Carsten Jost, Mia, Jeremy Caulfield, John Shannanigans, Weltzwei, Pantytac, Luciano and Quennum, Sieg Uber Die Sonne, Mirwais Sangin, Bang Goes EP, Michael Mayer, Morane, Ada, Brownman Greenman Meet Kv5, Jimi Tenor, Supersoul, Morgan Geist, Joakim, Chicks on Speed, Fastgraph Systematic, J/V/N Machine, Texas, Voicestealer, D.I.E., Ectomorph, Scape One, Dettinger, Push Button Objects, Anthony Shakir, Dabrye, The Octagon Man, Air Liquide, The Warlock, X-Plain. Double CD — same price as Fabric's single CD releases.

FALCATA-GALIA/TRANSPARENCY:

KRZISNIK, BORUT: Stories From Magatrea CD (FALC 0001). $13.00

"Borut Krzisnik has been an active member of the Slovenian rock, jazz, and classical underground for a number of years. He received a fair amount of notoriety as the touring guitarist of the seminal rock-band Laibach, as well as being a regular member of the band Borghesia (whom old Wax Trax! aficionados may be intimately familiar with). His current band, Data Direct, is a fresh component to the Eastern European jazz movement, making a rough and dirty noise, blending it with ethnic music and 'post-industrial' touches. Taking time off from his performing duties, Borut took the task of scoring his first symphony (a small scale one, made up of members of local jazz and classical acts — notably, Mario Marolt of Slovenian jazz terrorists Miladojka Youneed). Currently, Borut is working in opera houses around Italy, and is preparing material for a second release."

KOPEIKIN, ALEKZANDER: Shadow Trap CD (FALC 0002). $13.00

"Ambient melodic industrial soundtracks to post-Soviet existential mindscape. Alexander Kopeikin is a young musician based in Moscow, Russia. His modus operandi is to work with computers and tone generators in various states of decay, producing a sound that melds the aesthetic of early Throbbing Gristle, the Eraserhead soundtrack, and the quirkiness Eastern Europeans are noted for. A bizarre and beautiful release. Currently, Kopeikin has two albums (one of slightly harsher 'post-industrial' music, another with a violent but controlled drum and bass sound). He is also working on a collaboration with the author Robert Schreckley."

FALLT (IRELAND):

PIMMON: Assembler CD (FALLT 12.0001). $18.00

"Assembler n. 1 a person who assembles a machine or its parts. 2 Computing a) a program for converting instructions written in low-level symbolic code into machine code. b) the low-level symbolic code itself; an assembly language. Comprising three separate components — CD 1 .mp3 1 graphic/text scores — Assembler exists only in 'complete' form upon collection of all component parts. Assembler is Sydney based artist Pimmon's first release on Fallt. His recent releases have included 12's on both Fat Cat and ERS; solo CDs on (K-RAA-K)3 and Meme; a live recording on Ritornell (with Pita, Fennesz, Oren Ambarchi and Keith Rowe) and an .mp3-only release on Mego sub-label Fals.ch. Comprising four separate components, Assembler was conceived from the outset to be an ongoing release which pushed beyond the confines of a standalone CD. In addition to the core CD component, .mp3 files, SimpleTextAudio? (by Japanese Media Artist Otaku Yakuza) and Graphic Scores (by Fallt designers Fehler) are available at the Assembler website for free download (<http://www.fallt.com/assembler>). Fallt are currently developing the website to include web-based mixes and audio patches by a variety of collaborators. Twelve static-soaked compositions which work both independently and as a suite, Assembler is cinematic in both scope and execution. The most exquisite melodies are buried under dense layers of static which, like diamonds hidden within silt, reward close listening. Veering from the trademark stuttering pulses of the opening 'macro.prologue' to the gently unravelling fanfare of 'xlat' it reaches a peak in the buried melodies of 'repeat', which Pita described simply as, 'Fine stuff!' Limited stock.

CRAY: Comment 3" CD (FALLT 14.0003). $11.00

This is a series of 24 3" CDs, each packaged and sold separately (you can no longer order the entire series — volumes by Pita, Scanner, Stephan Mathieu, Steve Rodan, Richard Chartier, Ekkehard Ehlers & VVM are out of print). Limited availability of the remaining. "The invalidObject Series was established in 2000 as a sublabel of Fallt to release a finite series of twenty four 3" CD/mp3 releases. Offering a unique perspective on a diverse range of musical output at the turn of the millennium the Series features work by some of the most respected artists operating within the field of 'microsound'. Each 3" CD is housed in a full-size clear jewel-case with two-colour (Pantone metallic and black) packaging and limited to 250 copies only. This volume: all compositions by Cray."

DEUPREE, TAYLOR: Continue 3" CD (FALLT 14.0004). $11.00

"All compositions Taylor Deupree."

RAUNDIN: Default 3" CD (FALLT 14.0005). $11.00

"Fifteen tracks of ultraminimal electronics and field recordings mixed to create one sector, fifteen minute composition. Using: turntables, piano, feedback, guitar, CDs, G3 and MiniDisc field-recordings made during a warm fall in California and a cold spring in Scandinavia."

CASCOKE, KIM: Delete 3" CD (FALLT 14.0006). $11.00

"Fifteen recombinant studies."

LATER DAYS: Do 3" CD (FALLT 14.0007). $11.00

"I write all of my own audio synthesis software, sometimes on a 'per-composition' basis. My software synthesizer utilizes a variation of the Genetic Algorithm to produce new sounds. Therefore, I am able to 'evolve' new sounds and compositional arrangements rather than 'design' them, and my own contribution as an artist has the aura of Sonic Gardener, rather than DSP Engineer. The homebrew techniques employed on 'do' include evolved timbres for all synthesized sounds, granular synthesis, evolved scores, mutating repetitive sample loops, cellular 'audiomata' (only on 'Relent'), and honkeytonk piano."

FOLDER: Else 3" CD (FALLT 14.0008). $11.00

"Else" is constructed from four sources, which were recorded synchronously at 00:00 GMT, on 29 April 2000. The recordings were made by Michael Bentley (Berkeley), Shannon O'Neill (Sydney), Mitchell Whitelaw (Sydney) and Danny Wyatt (New York)."

JVKM: Export 3" CD (FALLT 14.0009). $11.00

"Fifteen variable use audio modules."

WARMDISK: Function 3" CD (FALLT 14.0011). $11.00

"not a typewriter = radiator; m.bricolage = fiberglass insulation; bolivar = humidifier."

EM: Import 3" CD (FALLT 14.0013). $11.00

"Epilogue: 'I do want to tell you that I love you. My thoughts are with you and of you most of the time. How about a nice long letter and soon.'"

*O: Label 3" CD (FALLT 14.0015). $11.00

"All tracks are composed using extreme high and low frequency sine waves — less than 20 Hz and greater than 20 KHz — please check the level meter on your audio player as response on the meter will be different to the audible sound. All track names are signs on the map of Chromosome 04."

ANZOLA, ELOY: Return 3" CD (FALLT 14.0017). $11.00

"Eloy Anzola's experiments using audio rendered from QuickTime video first drew our attention in 1999. A music production graduate from Berklee College, Eloy now works as a new media and sound designer in New York City. He is a regular contributor to the .microsound mailing list, and is webmaster of cSounds.com."

GOEM: Switch 3" CD (FALLT 14.0018). $11.00

"Goem n. 1 a Russian word for the shops where only communist party members could buy. Now abolished."

CHARTIER, RICHARD: Typeof 3" CD (FALLT 14.0020). $11.00

"Typically for Chartier 'typeof' is an exercise in extreme restraint. Few artists use the space between sound — the negative space of audio — quite as effectively and as courageously as Chartier. Track one in particular — all the tracks are untitled — consists of fewer than six seconds of the most discreet of audio events suspended within a 54 second sound-space. Allowing the number of events to build over the course of the release, Chartier builds the most delicate of structures which generously rewards repeated listening."

MASSIMO: Var 3" CD (FALLT 14.0021). $11.00

"Massimiliano Sapienza (1975), lives in Catania where he studies Political and Social Sciences, is currently working on — to use an original technical term — new forms of entertainment and games>: generative and 'randomised' processes; ambients for interactive manipulation and creativity; interpretations and captive actions in real time. According to the author these particular recent disciplines, to which he is attracted by their mythical and creative potential, will gradually but ever more frequently, come to replace the classic social games."

RABELAIS, AKIRA: Void 3" CD (FALLT 14.0022). $11.00

"What is called the spirit of the void is where there is nothing. It is not included in man's knowledge. Of course the void is nothingness. By knowing things that exist, you can know that which does not exist. That is the void. People in this world look at things mistakenly, and think that what they do not understand must be the void. This is not the true void. It is bewilderment. In the Way of strategy, also, those who study as warriors think that whatever they cannot understand in their craft is the void. This is not the true void. To attain the Way of strategy as a warrior you must study fully other martial arts and not deviate even a little from the Way of the warrior. With your spirit settled, accumulate practice day by day, and hour by hour. Polish the twofold spirit heart and mind, and sharpen the twofold gaze perception and sight. When your spirit is not in the least clouded, when the clouds of bewilderment clear away, there is the true void. Until you realize the true Way, whether in Buddhism or in common sense, you may think that things are correct and in order. However, if we look at things objectively, from the viewpoint of laws of the world, we see various doctrines departing from the true Way. Know well this spirit, and with forthrightness as the foundation and the true spirit as the Way. Enact strategy broadly, correctly and openly. Then you will come to think of things in a wide sense and, taking the void as the Way, you will see the Way as void. In the void is virtue, and no evil. Wisdom has existence, principle has existence, the Way has existence, spirit is nothingness. Twelfth day of the fifth month, second year of Shoho (1645) — Shinmen Musashi."

PIMMON: While 3" CD (FALLT 14.0023). $11.00

"While: A statement that creates a loop that evaluates an expression and, if it is true, executes a block of statements. The loop then repeats as long as the specified condition is true."

BERTHLING, ANDREAS: With 3" CD (FALLT 14.0024). $11.00

Berthling is 1/3 of the Swedish group Tape. "The fifteen tracks included here were created exclusively for this project, but feature several elements that consist of earlier material, either re-made/mixed or used as layer(s) within a totally new context. All of the tracks are improvisations recorded directly to hard-disk then edited to fit in length. Track 04 With(er) consists of samples taken from Otomo Yoshihide's 'Digital Tranquilizer': DT-1 and DT-2."

MATHIEU, STEPHAN: Gigue, Live @ A-Musik CD (FALLT 18.0001). $15.00

"Mathieu is a prolific artist, having released works on Ritornell, Fallt and Orthlorng Musork. His live sets operate as an extension of his studio works pushing in new and often mesmerizing directions. Gigue captures an evening's performance at Cologne's influential A-Musik. Characterised by warm, buzzing resonances it builds slowly to a beautiful climax which unfurls gently into a delicate coda."

WARMDISK: Non Profit, Live @ WHPK CD (FALLT 18.0002). $13.00

"Warmdesk is Chicago/Vienna-based musician Bill Selman. In addition to running A Posteriori he has performed at Rhiz, Vienna alongside Uli Troyer and Massimo and The Nervous Centre, Chicago alongside Designer and Kevin Drumm. 'The Pride of the South Side' features Warmdesk's characteristic sound, blending rhythmic material with subtle location recordings, a sound recently described by Matt Fyftche, in The Wire as 'a conveyor belt of abrupt, jangling, purring, croaking zigzags of sound: an audible Jackson Pollock.'" Limited stock.

KOMET: Arc, Live @ SWR Freiburg 18.04.00 CD (FALLT 18.0003). $15.00

"Komet (Frank Bretschneider) is a prolific artist, having released works on Raster-Noton (which he co-founded with Carsten Nicolai and Olaf Bender), 12k, Mille Plateaux and Fallt/Bip-Hop among others. His work has been described as 'delicate, silver-toned minimalism... the brief presence of pulses, played against faint longer resonances on certain bass beats, or the odd, quietly visible noise-drone or cyber-cicada'. (The Wire). Arc features excerpts from a performance by Bretschneider in April 2000 during a night for electronic music at the SWR radio station in Freiburg. The 'Experimenta!studio' there has a prestigious pedigree — Stockhausen, Nono and Boulez having worked there in the past. The series of tracks featured on Arc, explores similar territory to Rausch but develops it within a live context. Opening with very minimal pulse beats and short tones the CD evolves slowly until it reaches a point, towards the end of the disk, where the listener is convinced they're hearing pop songs and hooks. The result is five tracks of precise minimalism tempered within a brittle spaciousness that is characteristic of Bretschneider's work."

HARD SLEEPER: Land, Live @ Rausch 05.11.02 CD (FALLT 18.0004). $15.00

"Dublin based artist Hard Sleeper (Peter Maybury) has previous releases on Sub Rosa, Tu m', Static Caravan and Emigré Music. His first release for Fallt, Land features a performance at Dublin's Rausch. Land is characterized by minimal clicks and pulses set amidst a backdrop of warm electronic drones — a sound Rudy Vanderlans (Emigré Music) describes as 'tentative shapes and melodies, pieced together through fragments of dislocated sounds'. Building slowly it establishes a gentle series of interlocking rhythmic patterns which underpin ghostly piano fragments and slowly coalescing electronic harmonies of delicate beauty. Focused around a sustained core passage of melody Land hovers, melodies deftly coaxed and stretched, before easing into a beautiful closing passage of digitally folded drums."

FALSE-TUNED (GERMANY):

TIKIMAN: Dub It Witaattitude 12" (FT 001). $9.00

"Berlin's newly-formed False-Tuned label launches its debut 33 rpm release with songs from Tikiman, its founder. Side One features 'Dubittwitaattitude' and 'Witta Dub', solid down the road drifting dubs with an appealing bass line and which truly presents the peculiar qualities of Tikiman's voice. On side two is a Fusion-Jungle song, 'Dis Day' and its Dub version. Produced with additional arrangements by Bernd Jesträm, this side displays another aspect of the artist's expansive abilities. Excellent sound quality also adds to the freshness of these recordings."

TIKIMAN: Drifting Along 12" (FT 002). $9.00

"False Tuned launches its second 33 rpm release after the great success of 'Dub It Wittaattitude'. Side A features 'Drifting Along' and 'Drifting Dub'. Solid down the road drifting Roots Reggae/Dubs with the peculiar qualities of the artist. On side B is a smooth rough 'So Sure' and its Dub version. Produced by Tikiman. Excellent sound quality also adds to the freshness of these recordings. What a difference our sound makes — False Tuned — The groundation sound."

ST. HILAIRE & RENE LÖWE, PAUL: Faith 12" (FT 003). $9.00

"Paul St. Hilaire, well known for various productions with Rhythm & Sound under his former alias Tikiman (on Burial Mix, Main Street, RS) and René Löwe, known for productions on Chain Reaction and Maurizio under his alias Vainqueur & Scion (with Peter Kuschnerreit) are presenting the new False Tuned 12" maxi Faith. Starting in 1999, many showcases with Paul St. Hilaire presented by Scion took place all over the globe and finally, as a result of excellent collaboration, this production comes along. This 12" contains deep floating dubby techno-esque grooves with drifting basslines, a vocal version which has deep soulful almost whispering vocals by Paul St. Hilaire and an instrumental version which is more in the vein of René Löwe's earlier productions for Chain Reaction having a great flow, layered deep and crispy sounds with lots of stereo effects."

ST. HILAIRE, PAUL: Unspecified CD (FTD 001 CD). $16.00

"Important news spreading from False Tuned: Tikiman, its founder, will release and perform in future under his given name Paul St. Hilaire — to ban finally all claims on trademarks. And with Unspecified the artist formerly known as Tikiman presents his first CD. Eleven tunes are gathered here, astonishing, vibrant, deep tracks out of the very peculiar fusion of roots reggae/dub/experimental that became the characteristic of the promising Berlin record smithy. The sounds of western metropolises melt with the tones of the artist's Caribbean home island Dominica. In the center of each tune: the unique voice of Paul St. Hilaire talking to us about the up and downs of our private lives and our all involvement in world politics. Poetic and political at the same time Unspecified is committed to the Caribbean tradition of handmade, human and spiritual music. This CD opens up a window to the reggae of tomorrow."

FAMILY RECORDINGS (UK):

LEE, TIM 'LOVE': The Trip 2CD (FAM 1016CD). $25.00

"The styles are yet again drawn from musical genres across the board, which is the whole point of The Trip series, thus testing the DJ's mixing & creative skills to the max. Tim's album has a very psychedelic and funky feel to it with contributions from The Jacksons, Serge Gainsbourg, Duke Ellington, The JB's & The Pointer Sisters amongst others. Highlights include an amazing & rare track from Vangelis ('Let It Happen'), a couple of great cover versions of 'Ball Of Confusion' & 'Light My Fire', a nod to the 80's with appearances by Ultravox, Siouxsie & The Banshees and Joe Jackson, plus some of the biggest names in rock (HP Lovecraft and Gabor Szabo). The mixing is again inventive and impeccable given the range of music on the album; so play, listen, and enjoy."

VA: Cherrystones - Hidden Charms CD (FAM 7656CD). $18.00

Compiled and researched by Gareth Doddard (Cherrystones). Executive Producer David Holmes. "David Holmes is not only a dancefloor innovator and a jazz/soul pioneer, he is also one of the best film soundtrack producers today — who has been inspired by classic film composers such as Lalo Schifrin, John Barry, and Ennio Morricone. Holmes' 13 Amp label and Family Recordings bring you this latest joint release. Cherrystones - Hidden Charms is a collection of rare and unavailable Psych Rock from the late '60s selected by David Holmes. The many jewels and gems on this release will excite the most discerning listeners with a nice hook, good arrangement, smooth and sometimes brooding melody, and its unusual groove. Featured bands, from around the world, are linked together by nothing more than they all strived to experiment, move forward and innovate through their approach to music. The end result is an abundance of funky rock, Hammond organs, and strange vocals that makes for an absolutely fantastic listen." Artists: Enno Morricone, Shadow Mann, Mashmakan, Die Anderen, The Badboys, Zoot Money & The Big Roll Band, Shocking Blue, The Shadows, Marsha Hunt, Dynastie Crisis, The Soul Men, Cher, Roosevelt Fountain, Little Joe Cook and the Thrillers, Buggy.

FAMILY VINEYARD:

BLITHE SONS, THE: We Walk The Young Earth CD (FV 21 CD). $13.00

"We Walk the Young Earth is the third full-length release from The Blithe Sons, the duo of Loren Chasse (id Battery, Thuja) and Glenn Donaldson (the Birdtree, Thuja, Mirza). Acoustic and battery-powered instruments were recorded via field-mic in a grassy meadow bristling with insects, birds and wind. We Walk the Young Earth continues this outdoor-recording practice and was edited from performances that took place under a creek bridge in San Gregorio and inside WWII-era bunkers on sea cliffs in the Marin Headlands, California. With acoustic guitar, harps, bells, harmonium, toy-amplifiers, gongs submerged in a creek, cymbals, battery-powered keyboards, vocals, banjo, birds, pipes, bell-blocks, drums, branches and the location itself as an instrument, We Walk the Young Earth weaves minimalist hymns with stark drones."

CONNORS, LOREN: The Departing Of A Dream Vol. II CD (FV 22 CD). $13.00

"Avant guitar legend Loren Connors (aka Loren MazzaCane Connors) returns with the sequel to 2002's critically acclaimed The Departing of a Dream. The NYC blues guitarist, who has been recording and releasing albums since 1978, extends the theme (which was a loose tribute to Miles Davis' 'He Loved Him Madly') into a fragile and floating eight-part piece of acoustic/electric/ and bass guitar mixed with field recordings and the unsettling ménage of found sounds and ambient hiss. Whereas the first Departing smoldered into a dark meditation with hardly a glimpse of light, Departing II offers notes of hope in the form of lifting melodic airs and distant bird calls. Replicating the sound of Davis' mute trumpet through extended guitar and recording techniques, Loren has created another startling and unique album of despair and awakening that can stand next to previous classics In Pittsburgh or Hell's Kitchen Park."

LOVELY MIDGET: North Head CD (FV 24 CD). $13.00

"Lovely Midget is Rachel Shearer, an integral player in the New Zealand underground. Performing with Kiwi bands Angelhead and Queen Meanie Puss during the 1990s, Rachel entrenched her sound in the ears of adventurous stateside record collectors, recording for labels like Flying Nun, Xpressway and Siltbreeze. Since becoming Lovely Midget in 1995, Rachel has created a transcendent world of shivering ambient sounds, distant ruptures and warm washes of analog sheen. Building pieces around aching tube equipment, and delicate strokes of guitar, bass, percussion and vocal hum, Lovely Midget's international appeal has far surpassed her meager output. Somehow crossing the paths of Brian Eno to Jason Lescalleet and Elanie Radigue to François Bayle with a personal intimacy and the lovingly woven aural tapestries New Zealand has become known for. North Head brings together two years of recording to reinstate Lovely Midget as a sublime aural architect of a new order."

BLITHE SONS, THE: Arm of the Starfish CD (FV 29CD). $13.50

"Arm of the Starfish is the fifth full-length release from the outdoor wandering The Blithe Sons, the Jewelled Antler-related duo of Loren Chasse (id Battery, Thuja) and Glenn Donaldson (the Birdtree, Thuja, Mirza), and their second CD for Family Vineyard. Performed mostly in coastal environs on acoustic and battery-powered instruments, the sound of waves, wind, tide pools, seabirds and shifting sand plays an active role in these minimalist folk atmospheres. Incorporating 12-string cuatro, acoustic guitar, dulcimer, banjo, harmonium, percussion, toy amplifiers, wood flutes, Thai mouthorgan, violin-uke, Casio and Donaldson's mysterious vocal utterances, Arm of the Starfish evokes haunted shorelines, windswept cliffs and vast undersea caverns."

CONNORS, LOREN: The Departing of a Dream Vol. III: Juliet CD (FV 34). $13.50

"You can't hold on to things, Loren Connors says. 'With great happiness comes great sorrow'. So brings us to the spectrum that is Departing of a Dream Vol. III: Juliet. Like the previous volumes, Juliet is a tribute to sorts; and here the focus is clearly love, the kind of love willing to face desolation and ultimately death. Recorded in Connors' Brooklyn apartment, his electric guitar emits a pulsing web of blues notes that settle against the utterly intimate human ambience of a creaking chair, tumbling objects, smoke curled absence and his signature canvas of tape hiss. The story of Juliet and her Romeo is told in a lyrical outpouring that Connors has rarely shown in recent years, a style associated which his Rooms (1990) and Evangeline (1999) albums. Though the 20-minute album opener contains a devastating core of mire and foreboding that only Connors can create."

GRAY/LOREN MAZZACANE CONNORS, DARIN: This Past Spring CD (FV 6 CD). $12.00

"Darin and Loren performed at the Monroe County Library in Bloomington, Indiana in March 2000. You can hear two people, their instruments, an audience and a library inside the same moment, shaping a present as though it were a malleable object, transforming it, conversing with it, appreciating it and, ultimately, transcending it by simply living within it. No small feat, and though free improvisation is a game that anyone can play, it takes two musicians who understand each other — and dynamics — to transform it into something huge and profound. If you lock yourself inside the recording, approaching it not as a relic or a document but as an ever-evolving present, it seems to melt beautifully inside of your head, falling through time like honey from a spoon, each glimpse a separate sub-atomic entity, but also part of a glorious, gigantic whole."

FANNY (BELGIUM):

MILKWOOD: Under Milkwood LP (FANNY 193). $40.00

"Reissue of a fantastic Californian psych-based only released in 1969 as test pressing (was planned to be released on A&M label but never came out); it had this real 'west coast' guitarsound like Jefferson Airplane, Moby Grape, some folkrock passages ala Fairport Convention but also some exotic hippie atmospheres ala Traffic Sound; great alternate male/female vocals not unlike Balin/Slick but also crystal vocal passages ala Sandy Denny; it will be housed in a thick US mindblowing psych cardboard cover."

FAR OUT RECORDINGS (UK):

JOYCE: Gafieira Moderna CD (FARO 052 CD). $15.00

"Joyce began her career 30 years ago as a young girl armed with a guitar, a crystalline voice and an immense songwriting talent singing sambas and feminism. Many years on, she has developed a cult reputation and had a major international career since first coming to recognition through touring with Vinicius de Moraes ('Girl from Ipanema') and playing on the Brazilian festival scene. Joyce's compositions have been recorded by some of Brazil's biggest stars including; Milton Nascimento, Elis Regina, Gal Costa and Astrud Gilberto. Like Terry Callier and Shuggie Otis she was introduced to a whole new audience when her music was rediscovered by the Acid Jazz generation, with tracks from her seminal album 'Feminina' (1980) becoming huge club hits thanks to DJs like Gilles Peterson. Throughout Joyce's career she has always written music from a strong female perspective, when she began in the 60s songwriting in Brazil was predominantly male territory. Her most famous album Feminina (Woman) celebrated female energy and creativity. Through her lyrics she often addressed the inequities and contradictions of Brazilian society which put her out of favour with Brazil's harsh political climate of the 70s. Following her songs being banned, she left Brazil for a time to settle in New York, and traces of the city can be heard in her use of jazz harmony. With the current fascination with all things Brazilian, it is interesting to hear where bands like Bebel Gilberto and Da Lata take their inspiration from. Joyce, one of the original stars of MPB (Musica Popular Brasileira) has had a huge influence on this new generation of musicians and continues to produce original and exciting new music. Gafieira Moderna is a very rootsy and authentic album, the theme based on Gafieira ?Brazilian ballroom/dancehall music. As Joyce says: 'I love this album so much ? It's one of my favourites ever, along with Feminina, and Astronauta'. The album contains a mix of styles, and the lyrics cover gossip girl talk, to advice on broken relationships and rejoicing in the everyday, humanity, and the creative process."

JOYCE: Gafieira Moderna LP (FARO 052 LP). $15.00

LP version.

KIRK DIGIORGIO OFFWORLD: Two Worlds CD (FARO 055 CD). $15.00

"An amazing journey in sound through Kirk Digorgio's musical history from deep moody detroit techno, to headhunters style jazz ballads. In keeping with Far Out's Brazilian roots, hear the warm Brazilian fusions of special guests Bertrami and Ivan of Azymuth on a couple of tracks. Well known for making forward thinking electronic music rooted in classic soul and jazz and heavily influenced by the sound of Detroit and London, and he was the first to work with Carl Craig in the UK. Jazz and ambient as well as some club bombs Kirk remains sonically, at the forefront of experimentation, but uniquely accessible."

FAT CAT (UK):

GRINDVERK: T.H.E.R.A.P.I.S.T. 12" (FAT 012). $10.00

"Fat Cat are proud to present three ex-members of the Supercubes. Einar, Siggi and Hilmar team up for this very special project which ranges from the post-industrial funk sound of 'Gesundhett' followed by the sublime jazz exotica of 'Kasirato'. The B-side features a more stripped-down version of 'Gesundhett' and the 'Twit and the Tower,' a track reminiscent of 23 Skidoo with its huge, driving percussion and eerie sound scaping. Gridverk have also recorded an album for Fat Cat which will see a release later next year."

MICE PARADE: My Funny Friend Scott 12" (FAT 014). $10.00

"The recording project of Adam Pierce, The Dylan Group. 'My Funny Friend Scott' is messed up funky beats, weird time signatures and a slew of other instruments. Mice Parade will appeal to everyone from fans of  $\mu$ -Ziq to My Bloody Valentine. All instruments are played live which gives off a sound not quite electronic, certainly not indie rock, but all definitely with a jazzy freestyle mentality." Limited stock.

SONS OF THE SUN: Headlamp 12" (FAT 015). $10.00

"Former members of the Chicago-based Rome, one of the US post-rock's most influential units, Rik Shaw and Adam LeDeuce splintered off in late '97, to form Sons of the Sun. Maintaining their interest in a distinctive mix of electronics, guitars and dub methodology, experimenting with ambient soundscaping and moving into the realms of fractured, micro-programmed electronica. Shaw plays bass, organ and melodica. LeDeuce plays turntables and samplers & has developed a form of DJing called '16 Style' which consists of layering records playing at 16 rpm, creating textural soundscapes." Limited stock.

FONN: Untitled 2x12" (FAT 018). $17.00

"Another new, previously unreleased artist, Fonn is another example of Fat Cat's commitment to left-field, band-based music. Based around a core of six musicians, this debut double 12" showcases Fonn's ability to operate as a fluid collective, utilizing a range of approaches. Guitars, drums, electronics, fx-processing and samplers are all destroyed at varying levels. Two discs containing nine tracks shift from rough-edged; studio experimentation, loose, live semi-improvisation & more calculated math rock approach (ala Tortoise, U2, etc.). Shifting around to form a cool, relatively open-ended body, the release pits them favourably against the likes of Fridge, Ganger, etc." Limited stock.

TRANSIENT WAVES: Sonic Narcotic LP (FAT 02 LP). $13.00

REAL AND THE REALISTICS, SIR EDDIE: Una Casa 12" (FAT 025). $10.00

"Mystery (?) single from this unknown artist, involving minimal Latin percussion DJ-Tool additives on the 'A' side, and 2 percussion-based pulse tracks on the flip. If anyone out there holds the key to unlocking the riddle that is this record, please dial us up. At any hour. We'd really like to know what's going on for once." —Hrvatski. [a kind soul forwarded us the following: "Sir Eddie Real (aka Sir Eddie 'Congaman' Love) is the percussionist from Alabama 3 or A3 as they're known in the US. The Realistics is an alternative project that he's involved in with a few other musicians from Brixton, London.]

IMMENSE: Spontaneous Combustion 12" (FAT 028). $10.00

"First release from this much talked about instrumental 4-piece from Bristol. With three highly charged tracks this is a rollercoaster ride of intense or immense proportions with a nod to band's such as Hovercraft, Slint, Sonic Youth, etc. Takes you an emotional journey, by the time it peaks you are firmly within its swollen, heart wrenching grasp, which refuses to let go."

DR. SMITH AND PROFESSOR LUDLOW: Professor Says Raas 12" (FAT 029). $10.00

"Requesting that their identities remain unknown, the enigmatic Dr. Ludlow & Mr. Smith mark their collaborative debut for Fat Cat with a potentially massive 4 track EP. Based around a (Depth Charge-y) Western atmosphere, ricocheting gunshots and classic widescreen samples, 'Ugly' offers a staggering, seriously radio/dancefloor friendly take on Morricone. On a mellower vibe, 'Hank' is a cut up '90s rehash of a slick, sleazy '70s porno funk track that squirms and slides with dirty intent. Besides these two storming tracks are a further two that highlight the humorous side of Ludlow and Smith's persona. 'I Hope You Like Mice' is comprised entirely of Rolf Harris samples. And in keeping with Grain's previous releases the EP also features a confused essay on the art of telephone wind ups called 'Neil Phones Clive via Akai'.

LIVE HUMAN: Monostereosis CD (FAT 03 CD). $15.00

"SF hip hop/improv trio Live Human return with their 2nd album, and the first to fully incorporate studio tricknology. Fifteen tracks augment the band's live drums/double bass/turntable improvisation with sampling and overdubbing. Retaining the free-flowing dynamics at their root, the enhanced production tactics allows the band to flesh out and more tightly sculpt their material, and the whole ripples and flexes with an awesome new sense of coherence. Whilst the album runs heavy on variety, including a number of more experimental ambient tracks, as ever it's the solid drumming of Albert Mathias and Andrew Kushtin's bass exploration that provides a shifting foundation upon which to work. But here, DJ Quest's scratchadelic turntable wizardry is corroborated by a dazzling array of fresh sonic events. Occupying a unique space in the genres of both free-improvised jazz and hip hop, Live Human's performance consists of a free-flowing flux, rather than a pre-figured, invariant set of songs. With no instruments subordinate to any other, they instead make use of what they call 'live sampling', in which they draw freely from their own compositions in order to perpetually recontextualise their own music. Subverting the old, impersonal sample, the trio take improvisation hip hop to its next stage, reinstating the human element — the voice in the machine." [Limited stock]

LIVE HUMAN: Monostereosis 2LP (FAT 03 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

JANSKY NOISE VS. ANTHONY CHILD/ANDREW READ, SPEEDRANCY: 12" (FAT 031). $10.00

"Sixth installment in Fat Cat's split series. Featuring a head to head from Anthony Child/Andrew Read versus Speedranch Jansky Noise. Anthony is better known for his minimalist techno as Surgeon. Jansky is an alias of VVM's Andy MacGregor, while Speedranch is their fellow conspirator and freaky operator/DJ. Anthony and Andrew deliver an icy, isolationist voidscape, while Speedranch Jansky Noise makes moves into breakbeat territory — breaking out and deranging a hip hop break, before dissolving it into layers of gritty noise."

DR. LUDLOW AND MR. SMITH: Rinsin' With The Doctor 12" (FAT 035). $10.00

"Requesting that their identities remain unknown, the enigmatic Dr. Ludlow & Mr. Smith release another solid, 5-track EP, that highlights their humor and some seriously, seriously skewed atmospherics. Where their previous 12" offered a poppier, more floor-friendly exercise, 'Rinsin' With The Doctor' drags their sound to a darker, more twisted zone. 'Do You Like Trains' sees its producer babbling insanely across a tense field of rippling, slowly building synth-loops. 'A Tribute to Roger Hammond' is a brief, percussive sketch dissolving into itself. 'Tall Buildings' is a massive, towering track of gritty overspill-noise, mangled voices and squelchy, phat, fucked-up hip-hop dynamics. Stunningly produced." Little bird whisperings say this is Andrew Weatherall solo & why not.

STROMBA: The Pinch 12" (FAT 037). $10.00

"Stromba is the work of DC Recordings' James Dyer and Tom Tyler, and this marks their debut. Recorded at various home locations, through a process of sampling and hard disc multi-tracking, with live instruments overdubbed, the EP features 5 tracks of hazy, down-tempo/dark funk dynamics. Also features members of Fonn. The EP is routed in a love of hip hop, 70s soundtracks, funk & jazz. Samples are sourced from such recordings, and reconstructed within a minimal framework of languid beats and rippling bass, to form a shifting series of doped-out, interweaving atmospherics."

DI LACUNA: Teetering On The Edge of Quiet... 12" (FAT 038). $9.00

"Another new artist to Fat Cat (again picked from a demo), and realtering the label's interest in band-based material, Di Lacuna are a guitar-based three piece from Sheffield. Four tracks here showcase the Di Lacuna sound; a rippling, intricate weave of instruments (bass, guitars, drums) dominated by a classic, powerful dynamic. At times recalling Spiritualized, tracks ebb and flow, slipping from hazy, picked-guitar passages; only to flower in surging, emotive crescendos. 'Brand New Low' and 'Weevils in the Flour' are both centered around the strong vocal presence of John Sephton and Lee Newell, marking Fat Cat's first foray into vocal territory since the Funkstörung remixes of Björk. 'New Project 14' breaks the mold slightly, cleverly introducing the use of electronics via some creaking samples and rhythmic constructions, around which picked guitars and bass circle and weave. The closing track, 'Scandal of the Baby Farmers', treads a path closer to the likes of Mogwai or Immense."

GRAIN: untitled 12" (FAT 041). $6.50

"As usual with Grain, track titles are absent. This 12" consists of 5 minimal, percussive, club tracks which range from the techno influenced analogue house of A1, to the short ethereal, sci-fi soundbite of A2. B1 veers a bit closer to the house end of things, while B2 drives more into Moodyman territory. And as is customary with Grain, the 12" closes with a Jerky Boys style prank call. A long awaited Full-length is tentatively scheduled for a mid-summer 2002 release."

FONN: Field 831 CD (FAT 05 CD). $18.00

"Having previously released an untitled double pack on Fat Cat, Field 831 marks Fonn's return, and another example of the label's commitment to left-field, band-based music. Only 3 trax were recorded together in a 'band' in full studio set up, the majority of tracks are the result of improv sessions at the bands rehearsal studios or emerged as solo efforts from the bedrooms of individual band members. Whilst forging their own, distinctive space, tracks like 'Wash,' 'Carcus' or 'Squall' recall the atmospheric/motorik explorations of post-rock units like Flying Saucer Attack, Mogwai, Fuxa, U2 or Ganger. 'Title That Can Change' is a too-brief creep through flickering electronics and cool Autechre-style rhythms. The albums also features contributions from DJ Qwest, the scratch wizard from Live Human, and Skye aka Stasis."

FONN: Field 831 LP (FAT 05 LP). $13.00

"Having previously released an untitled double pack on Fat Cat, Field 831 marks Fonn's return, and another example of the label's commitment to left-field, band-based music. Only 3 trax were recorded together in a 'band' in full studio set up, the majority of tracks are the result of improv sessions at the bands rehearsal studios or emerged as solo efforts from the bedrooms of individual band members. Whilst forging their own, distinctive space, tracks like 'Wash,' 'Carcus' or 'Squall' recall the atmospheric/motorik explorations of post-rock units like Flying Saucer Attack, Mogwai, Fuxa, U2 or Ganger. 'Title That Can Change' is a too-brief creep through flickering electronics and cool Autechre-style rhythms. The albums also features contributions from DJ Qwest, the scratch wizard from Live Human, and Skye aka Stasis."

PROCESS: Shape Space LP (FAT 09 LP). $13.00

Limited stock.

FATHER YOD:

ZEN: Derya CD (FYP 09). $12.00

"Derya is the first non-cassette release by ZeN, a band that is at the artistic forefront of Turkey's underground music scene. Combining elements that range from Kraut-rock dynamism to superbly slurped Turkish folk filigrees, ZeN produce an exceptionally warm and unique sonic blend. Derya represents the band's most compositionally focused face. Additional planned releases will explore their more experimental & improvisational sided. There is even some talk of releasing large portions of the 24-hour long improvisational concert that they played last year in Istanbul." Limited stock.

HOWTH CASTLE: Good Morning, Mr. Nobody CD (FYP 10). $12.00

Howth Castle are a contemporary Italian male/female duo who play an exotic brand of acid-wind folk. They released one LP around 1990 that caused a big ruckus when it was discovered a few years later (in certain very small circles). This is their follow up, co-released by the Italian Blu Bus Label & Northampton's Father Yod. The main instrumentation is acoustic guitar and vocals with occasional accompaniment (electric guitar, keyboards, saxophone, trumpet, etc.). Female vocalist Lalli has a unique, deep voice that can really scatter time (once compared to "a cross between Marianne Faithfull ca. Broken English and Nico in duet with Vince Martin backed by the Temple Creatures,"), and the band's use of odd, non-traditional elements helps blur the wind with this as well.

GREEN RAY, THE: CD (FYP 15). $11.00

UK guitar group, with one previous 12" on Shagrat (included here, plus 2 new tracks). "W/ 4 glistening trax of psychedelic liquidity, recorded by the light of the Cancer Moon. Originally known as the Archers, Green Ray is 2 vets of the Welsh 70's psych/rock scene (ex-Help Yourself, Man, etc.)... Creations of spectacular, timeless vistas of guitar-soaked beauty in Quicksilver/Man tradition."

MOORE/NELS CLINE, THURSTON: In-Store CD (FYP 17). $11.00

Guitar duets, recorded live at the Rhino Westwood store in LA on 12/30/96. A studio session from this same day is issued on Little Brother.

RWA: 7" (FYP 56). $5.00

Screwy French band who almost fit into the history of noisy French rock (no matter how much they may ignore it); two tracks (following up their debut self-released "split" CD), this allegedly includes a Jethro Tull cover.

HOWTH CASTLE: Good Morning Mr. Nobody LP (FYP L10). $12.00

A graphically superior but much delayed LP issue of the previous CD (FYP 10).

FAX (GERMANY):

NAMLOOK, PETE: Silence - 10 Years Of Silence MP3 CD (MP3 001). $24.00

"End of 2002, Pete Namlook spent some time with testing the MP3 format for his releases and experimented (with some of his projects) on a scientific level. After recording his 3 hour DJ session for the Frankfurt based HRXXL radio station, he had to realize that listening to this session from CD is being interrupted several times by changing the CDs. 'The kind some of my Chill-Out/Ambient music should be listened to is not for 80 minutes only. This is a limitation the Audio-CD medium comes with. 3 hours are the minimum for the listener to dive into my sound and find his way into my world.' Nevertheless, the quality of sound is a main issue of FAX, so we didn't want to make any mistakes. The tracks provided by the internet are encoded up to 192kbit and don't provide any useful results for a release. Therefore, a 20 hour MP3 is not our aim. Up from 192kbit or with an even better resolution between 256kbit and 320kbit encoded music — as given on this release — the difference in sound compared to a usual CD isn't perceivable by the human ear. For this reason, we decided to compile all 5 Silence CDs in full length on only one single MP3 CD. We want the listener's soul to travel with us along an uninterrupted musical journey through deserts, seas and winds. Silence was Germany's first Ambient/Chill-Out CD in 1992. Now, with its 5 releases and 10 years of Silence resulting in 5 hours and 36 minutes of music, it is the first Ambient/Chill-Out MP3 CD worldwide."

NAMLOOK/TETSU INOUE, PETE: 2350 Broadway - The 2350 Broadway Collection MP3 CD (MP3 002). $24.00

"The second MP3-CD on FAX and still no other label in the electronica/Chill-Out and Ambient scene has released this kind of product. Again the length of the CD is 5 hours 36 minutes. The 2350 Broadway project fits perfectly to 'chill out' for a while. Its darkish urban soundscapes create a special atmosphere while you go on your own mind-trip, not being disturbed by catchy melodies. The entire music of this project was recorded at Tetsu Inoue's studio at Bratton Hotel in New York. While the first album of this series had been reissued on Ambient World, the second and third album of this series sold out for a long time and are very rare. As an alternative to very high auction prices on Ebay this MP3 CD is the perfect opportunity to get your hands on this music. Again, Pete Namlook encoded the tracks with a very high resolution for a sound quality that cannot be distinguished from the original CD by the human ear. The 8-page booklet comes with covers of the original releases." Total running time: 5 hours, 36 minutes.

NAMLOOK, PETE: Music For Urban Meditation CD (PK 08/167). $17.00

"The first album coming from the top of the hill in one of the least populated areas of Germany. A view of nothing but nature. In his new studio, high end technology meets pure serenity and the creative mind longs for a rest, a pause, a release. Occasional visits to Frankfurt cause flashbacks to urban life. When you look at this life from a distant view you start to understand how far this way of living is from our origin. This CD is made for people living in urban environments to help them find the center of their well-being again. Static sounds develop in an organic way... sound mantras that transcend through seven parts helping to lie down and listen... let go... release..."

ROTHER, ANTHONY: Elixer Of Life CD (PS 08/100). $15.00

"This is the first soundtrack of Anthony Rother. The journey from the inside to the outside and back to the inside again. Life as Sound. Cineastic-atmospheric sounds in connection with noise and modular Synthesizer-Sequencing."

SHEK, KRYSTIAN: Eisblumen CD (PS 08/101). $16.00

"This CD is a soundtrack to Krystian Shek's journey to Russia... from Moscow to St.Petersburg in the wintertime of 2002/03. His sounds and compositions reflect the cold and hard atmosphere of the environment on the one hand and the deep and melancholic soul of the Russians on the other. 'In Russia there is a lot of poverty but at the same time deep friendship and networking of a quality rarely found in western society...' the artist says. The music on this CD connects the roots of techno-club-culture with atmospheric soundscapes to a new definition of beat oriented Environmental/Ambient."

STOLL, STEVE: Was Here CD (PS 08/102). $16.00

"Well known as a master of minimalistic techno Steve Stoll starts now to expand his sound to the ambience/experimental. 4/4 beats are not missing but his approach is quite different and includes a lot of diversity. The influences range from Ambience/TechnoHouse/Industrial and combine to a perfect minimalistic mixture."

VA: New Composers - Advanced Indigo CD (PS 08/103). $16.00

"Russia's Electronic Music formation surprise with their fresh Ethno Chill sound. As the first and best Chill-Out group of their country whose last release on FAX even featured Brian Eno fills the listener with enthusiasm. A fresh combination of oriental instrumentation combined with chill-out beats that bear no dogma, no superficial 'cut'n'click' hunting. Everything sounds warm, logical and full of Russian soul. A perfect addition to the team of Valery Alakhov and Igr:Ver is the Sitar, Flute and Duduk instrumentalist S. Gasanov whose lush and soulful melodic lines communicate with the synths, beats and samples of Valery and Igr just perfectly."

ROTHER, ANTHONY: Magic Diner CD (PS 08/104). $16.00

"On Anthony Rother's 2nd FAX-release the principle of metabolism is being put into Music on a very high level. Electronic and acoustic elements mix with a manmachine creation whose roots are not to be found in the Ambient/Electro area but in filmmusic/soundtrack which is unique in its intense and colourful quality. Matter — Energy — metabolism is his great work of art."

MOVE D: Pop For Dwoozle CD (PS 08/105). $17.00

"Pop for Dwoozle is inspired by David's son Dan who was born 1997. Silence, crawling, prickling, clarity, David's own memories of childhood, lullabies, elegance, reduction, emotion... are associations and themes of the new CD. Music for children and children who have children. New to David's sound, besides the nice guitars which appear sorted, is the contribution of his son to some of the songs... but he only did it for the money... :) Music which is in context with Chill-Out and Ambient... sounds groovy, fallen in love, playful, thoughtful and doesn't use its innovative force as a gimmick... just as a natural method of style."

STOLL, STEVE: Earthling CD (PS 08/106). $17.00

"Again well known as a master of minimal techno, Steve Stoll starts now to expand his sound even more into the ambient/experimental realm. 4/4 beats are missing and his approach is quite different. The influences come from his urban environment and range from Ambience/Industrial to Dark Environmental and combine a perfect minimal mixture into a new organic-electronic sound."

FBWL (FRANCE):

CONNORS, LOREN MAZZACANE: Portrait Of A Soul CD (FBWL 201). $15.00

"Loren is one of those guitarist who has truly conceived his own instrumental language. That language speaks clearly and purely, and in short clusters of notes says more than most guitarists work says in a lifetime. His genius is rendered in his simultaneously abstract and intuitive improvisations; whether the work is fragile and quiet or loaded with feedback, it all seethes with a gorgeous lyricism. This is true even of this work which incorporate a good deal of drone, noise and sustained chords and phasing. Still Loren's solo work is as necessary and vibrant as ever, and you owe it to yourself to discover and explore the deep beauty of this guitarist's work." "This started out as a portrait of a person (full of life, I think). But as it developed, I became more and more aware of the impossibility of people ever really connecting with one another. And it became a saddened self portrait of a man who is simply running out of time. The last piece is a prayer, not hopeful, or religious, but to myself, that I must be satisfied." — Loren Mazzacane Connors

LLIPS: It All Ends Where It Begins CD (FBWL 205). $15.00

"The last record made by Llips. Throughout their relatively short career Llips. became an established name in the electronic and lofi scene with their unique combination of abstract guitars and sweet voices, blended with some hi-tech electronics and live-recorded sampled soundlayers. In their last album Llips. worked on more diverse styles and approaches, some tracks are more atmospheric than what they did before, others have more electronic structures and less vocals, and there are new elements introduced, such as sax."

CONNORS & ALAN LICHT, LOREN: In France CD (FBWL 206). $18.00

"Another essential and obliquely emotional live recording from these well-known New York guitar masters. Alan Licht slathers swaths of drone and buzz and carefully-controlled feedback like an aural Rothko, which acts as a perfect compliment to Loren Connors sustained chords and long bent notes, as well as his trademark staccato heartbreak phrasings. The sound is rendered in his simultaneously abstract and intuitive improvisations; whether the work is fragile and quiet or laden with drone, noise and feedback. All tracks were recorded live in France during January 2002. The recordings have been mastered by Jim O'Rourke who brings an outstanding sound to these six fragile 'Silent Wounds' tracks. Another highlight from this acclaimed France label."

FEATHER ONE'S NEST RECORDS:

JOSHUA: Gold Cosmos CD (FONR 003 CD). $12.00

"Based in Western Massachusetts, Joshua plays occasional live shows that never fail to stir the spirit-pot. Whether beaming layered vocals and effects-trammed whistling (whistling!) into the anticipatorily puckered o-minds of the audience, paying tribute to the great Jansch, or rambling down forgotten paths w/ archaic stringed instruments, the guy never fails to heat up brain coils that I'd forgotten I have. In many ways, however, his most potent material is crafted in dark singularity, late at night, w/ tape rolling and moist nodes of fever pulsing gently in the dark, soft air. On this album, helped by kindred souls from Tower Recordings, Six Organs of Admittance, and Dredd Foole, Joshua achieves a kind of dream-loaded perfection that is the purview of very few. As the fools in the mainstream underground rush towards a platonic ideal that dehumanizes the process of creation, Joshua embraces the quivering meat wheel that rotates in the center of all humankind. It is nothing less than a pinnacle of splendor. Subtly acknowledging influences that range from C.O.B. to the Guild of Temporal Adventurers, it moves through the fair like a wraith." — Byron Coley

JOSHUA: Gold Cosmos LP (FONR 003 LP). $14.00

Limited LP version in spray painted cover.

FEEL PRESENTS (AUSTRALIA):

VA: Tales From The Australian Underground: Singles 1976-1989 2CD (FEST 3614 CD). $23.00

"A collection of some of the great 45's released during Australia's most prolific independent era of 1976 to 1989. Tales highlights selections from the previous careers of acts like Hoodoo Gurus (The Victims & Fun Things), Gangajang (The Riptides), The Cruel Sea (Sekret Sekret), Dave Graney (The Moodists), Big Heavy Stuff (Ups & Downs), You Am I (The Bamboos), Tex Perkins, (Thug), Dirty Three (Venom P. Stinger) as well as classic early releases from Radio Birdman, The Saints, The Scientists, Triffids, Died Pretty, The Mark Of Cain and the Hard-Ons. In addition, Tales from the Australian Underground includes a selection of seminal tracks, previously unreleased on CD. Featured among others are Pel Mel, Sunnyboys, Sardine, Psycho Surgeons, The Leftovers, Do Re Mi, The Numbers, Tactics, X and Wet Taxis. Besides offering up an indie 'best of', Tales from the Australian Underground gives the listener an insight into the sounds and musical styles that were developed over the highlighted period. From raw rock 'n' roll and punk roots, to the eclecticism of the eighties. All documented in an extensive 36 page booklet and 2CD collection."

FEEL (RUSSIAN FEDERATION):

COIL: Guide For Beginners - A Silver Voice CD (FL 3182). $19.00

Two Russian-only Coil anthology CDs, released in conjunction with the group's 9/15/2001 performance in Moscow. Some roughly translated information: "The first album refers to 'the Grant(manual) For Beginning(starting): Silver', and the second - 'The Grant(manual) For Finishing: Hair of Gold.' 20 compositions which reflect creativity Coil since 1984 have come in two albums. Prepared by the group specially for Russia with no analogue in the west, that automatically does(makes) by his(its) collection curiosity. Coil, about which provocative biography legends go, here again have not departed the principles. Registration of booklets is capable to deduce(remove) unprepared parents on street demonstrations." Contains one track rumored to a demo from their forthcoming(?) Nothing label album: "A Cold Cell". Track listing: Amethyst Deceivers, The Lost Rivers of London, Ostia (The Death of Pasolini), Are You Shivering?, Where Are You?, At the Heart of it All, A Cold Cell, Batwings (A Liminal Hymn), Who'll Fail?, The Dreamer is Still Asleep. Last copies.

FEIN RAUS (GERMANY):

MARCOVIC, MARC: Ein Lied & 4 Remixes 12" (FEIN 003EP). $9.00

"Fantastic remixes by T.Raumschmiere, Rechenzentrum, Si-Cut.Db & Christian Kleine."

FESTPLATTEN (GERMANY):

VA: Unser:Eins CD (FEST 11 CD). $15.00

"Hold tight here comes Festplatten. Is minimal house something for washed-up students, frightened of their own bodies? Never heard of a Festplatten release like 'Chordschleuder', 'Dispodancer' or 'Zünder'? 'Die Gebrüder Teichmann' slide, dance and explode through the world from Regensburg to Cologne, Hamburg, Berlin or Barcelona. Without a mission or strategy (such stiffness and dogma only causes arthritis). No they jump around just for the fun of it. An unknockable sunny feeling that makes the music on their label so overwhelming. The two guys are always rescued by their own beat. 'We were young and needed a groove, game, joke, a totally weird sound that can't be disciplined'. Festplatten bubbles euphoria in every direction, loving it to be alive." Features tracks from: Ha.te, Raumagent Alpha, Gebr. Teichmann, Meta.83, Benjamin Wild, Andi Orange, Superuser, Hannes Teichmann, Markus Güntner.

VA: Wir.Zwei 2LP (FEST 12 LP). $16.00

"For all friends of the good old record, here is the first 2x12"-vinyl-compilation of Festplatten the smart German minimalhouselabel. After the CD review Unser:Eins, this is an outlook to the future. Ten new tracks: usual suspects as the Gebr. teichmann, Raumagent Alpha, Benjamin Wild and Markus Güntner, also new faces such as Phil Stumpf feat. Flo Frötscher and Markus Jackson."

KOIVIKKO, SAMI: Satamakatu 12" (FEST 14). $9.00

"After some great releases on Shitkatapult, here is the first Festplatte of Sami Koivikko from Finland. 4 tracks, which bring funkiness and harmonies together in a fantastic way. Sami loves to make music to dance in the club, as well as listening at home. His personel favorite on this record is 'Bukke', because of the typical finnish melancholy — we love the hole record! Satamakatu, the EP-title is the name of the street, where Sami lives and works."

TEICHMANN, GEBR.: Brothers In Arms 12" (FEST 16). $9.00

"The restless bros. deliver 4 playful partyrockers in their trademark techfunk style."

MÜLLER, MARKUS: Quattro stagione 12" (FEST 18). $9.00

"Frankfurt resident Markus Müller made his first time appearance on our wir.wei compilation (back then with the pseudonym Markus Jackson). For his debut maxi Quattro stagione he now prefers to appear under his real name. There are 4 pieces which bring together the Festplatten typical preferences in a charming way; in other words, the funk-metal of mini-mallhouse."

OH.: The Unknown Stuntman EP 12" (FEST 19). $9.00

"Our favourite rockers from Oh. have left the major label Virgin to finally jump on the Festplatten boat. With good reason — they're bringing with them one of the fattest and most elaborated Festplatten records to date. Musically the electronic band Oh. have developed towards a consequently new direction: straighter than ever, 4 to the floor, paired with the organic band sound and a whole lotta funk — welcome to the club. A big welcome comes from Mathias Schaffhaeuser, with his colossal stumping 'n chirpin' remix. A track all ravers have long been waiting for. The five lads around Raumagent Alpha and Phil Stumpf feel a lot more comfortable around the dancefloor anyway — after a long way from seven years on rock'n'roll stages."

UNCUT, THE: Devotion/Fluent 12" (FEST 20). $9.00

"Jake Fairley and his flatmate Ian Worang are The Uncut. And together they go for gold: typical Jake Fairley sound meets Joy Division and Stooges attitude. All we need is a drum machine, a guitar, a bass and microphone. These honest and dirty tracks rock way ahead of most overproduced club rockers — this one is real and coming from sweaty basement rehearsal rooms rather than the music industry. This is rock'n'roll! Includes a gebr. Teichmann-remix."

STUMPF, DR. PHIL: Praxis 12" (FEST 21). $9.00

"Dr. Phil Stumpf inaugurates his private 'Praxis' (practice) and solo career on Festplatten 21. On 'Praxis' the wonder doctor presents his ways of magical healing by means of the 12". The full a-side 'Dreigang' and the b2-track 'Wuerfel' come with straight funky rhythms and hyperactive staccato melodies that will get even the most hypoglycemic ass shakin' and wiggin' over the dancefloor. The b1 'Schnipsel' contains sentimental shuffle grooves and offers alternative medicine with guaranteed healing while listening..."

PANKANANDA: Auf Seiner Veranda 12" (FEST 22). $9.00

"Beautiful and joyful spring techno by Pankananda and his guitar — exclusively produced for Festplatten — three heart breaking tracks, four loops and a couple of freaked out interludes... Spring is in full swing and our favourite punk Gabriel Ananda is in great shape. Sitting down on his veranda, takes his good ol' acoustic guitar and plays... and loops ... and plays... and loops... and plays... and loops... and claps and bleeps and clonks and twitches...loving the beautiful morning atmosphere."

FGL (FRANCE):*COLOMBIER, MICHEL: CD (FGL 52162). $15.00

"Jesus H. Christ. We're only trying to please you (you know that, right?). All we really knew about this guy was that he collaborated with both Pierre Henry (Messe Pour Le Fin Du Temps, arguably one of Henry's most revered works) and Serge Gainsbourg (in fact, the one-sheet says it: 'Atypical creative, link between Pierre Henry and Serge Gainsbourg ('Requiem Pour un Con' (?), Elisa), between Jean-Pierre Melville, Jacques Demy and Folon...'). So we ordered some. Sue us (actually, don't). Whatever Colombier had/done before/since then, this is no positive reminder. It's a solo record from 1979, featuring the talents of various Brecker Bros./RTF/Steely Dan band-members (basically the entire era coked-out studio-pro population of LA). The whole thing comes off like some sub-par Bob James record (well, the first 3 are actually pretty good; let's change that to Jean-Luc Ponty), replete w/nasty coke-fun(c)k drumming from Gadd/Erskine (OK, maybe that's not the bad part), occasional Herbie Hancock mini-Moog solos (OK, maybe not that either) and guitar lines by Lee Ritenour, Larry Carlton, and RAY FUCKING 'GHOSTBUSTERS' PARKER JUNIOR. Ouch. Not that the presence of Jaco or Michael Brecker is any less appalling. If you enjoy Roller-Dome acoustics and/or tier-2 Dirty Cop flick dialogue as sonic candy, by all means rot yr teeth in excelsior. Otherwise, stay clear across the room from this wack/jive-ass shit (got to be the WORST cover ever, BTW). That is unless this sort of thing has suddenly become the anti-'it' & Al Di Meola records start fetching double-digits due to break content (Casino, man...), in which case buy two." — Hrvatski.

IGGY AND THE STOOGES: Open Up And Bleed CD (REV 016CD). $6.00

Early nineties release; one a series of demo collections from 1973, recorded in advance of a proposed 4th Stooges album (that CBS rejected). Features: "Death Trip", "Head On", "Rubber Legs", "Raw Power", "Open Up & Bleed", etc. 11 tracks. Reduced price.

FIRE BREATHING TURTLE:*CLIMAX GOLDEN TWINS: CD (FBT 007). $15.00

"Strange and skewed songs and instrumentals, some recorded as far back as 1993, some belched out more recently. A sound that harkens back to their earliest double seven-inch release: guitars, found sounds, drums, percussions, distortions, manipulations. Climax Golden Twins have existed for an uncertain number of years and in varying states of languor and moral decrepitude. A group of loincloth-clad sloth herders snacking on toucan drumsticks and rubbing the electronic equipment left behind by a recently cannibalized National Geographic crew. Co-ordination of this kind within a group of primates without language is a rare and beautiful thing."

FIRE INC. (NETHERLANDS):*TV POW: Despite Ourselves 3" CD (FIRE 022). $7.50

"Further microscopic exploration from the Chicago based laptop trio of Brent Gutzeit, Michael Heartman and Todd A. Carter (who are also known for their solo projects Aerosapce Soundwise, Black Dot Corporation, and Wheaton Research). The first 3 inch release from the trio with new material fresh after their recent releases Mort Aux Vaches on Staalplaat and collaborative We Are Everyone In The Room with Icelandic Stilluppsteypa on Erstwhile Records. It is simply as the artist Jeff Koons said after he saw a recent performance of theirs: 'very fresh, very twisted and very good.'"

SIGMARSSON, SIGTRYGGUR BERG: This One Comes Highly Recommended CD (FIRE 023). $15.00

"Made in 1999 in Amsterdam and Hannover, mastered by Johann Johannson in Reykjavik 2000. This is Sigtryggur Berg Sigmarsson's (of Stilluppsteypa) second solo CD after his ship CD on Bernhard Gunter's Trente Oiseaux label, and a long wait produced nothing further LP on ERS Records in 2001. Although this album is made before the first two, it is finally being released after several mysterious(!!!) delays. A mixture between the making of delicate soundscapes and the urge to dissolve them."

FIRE MUSEUM:*VA: Azadi! 2CD (FM 001 CD). $13.50

"Unfortunately, the defeat of the Taliban does not spell equality for Afghan women, nor freedom, nor human rights, nor democracy. With their blatant misogyny and oppression, the Taliban became a convenient and easy target for many. But the oppression of women that was the impetus for RAWA's founding 26 years ago still remains as do many of the perpetrators of Afghanistan's 25 years of war and violence. Even today, in a supposedly liberated Afghanistan women are in prison for trying to marry the man of their choice, for seeking a divorce from an abusive spouse, for having been raped, for failing to listen to the male authority figure in their home; girls schools are being firebombed; in many places formal and informal edicts and threats are restricting girls and women from work and school. Clearly, RAWA's continued outspoken demands for political and social change, as well as their direct service to women in need, are still necessary. Through our moral, material and financial support, lending our voices to our Afghan sisters brave and ongoing struggle is as vital as it ever was. Represented are a number of luminaries in the world of avant-rock and experimental music (Bay Area and International) is well as some hip-hop, traditional, modern classical, electronic, folk and jazz music to bring diversity to the proceedings. Not just a dramatic collection of eclectic material, all proceeds from the sale of this CD will benefit RAWA." Artists include: Meena, D'Yara, 20 Minute Loop, Bi Polar Bears, Different Strokes, Charming Hostess, Bran (...), Pos, Danielle DeGruttola, Duo Electro, David Slusser, The Thums, Deep Dickollective, Blevin Blectum, Erica Ballinger, Zmrzlina, Godspeed You! Black Emperor, Saadet Turkoz, Faun Fables, Spezza Rotto, Folk This!, The Intima, Love & Subversion, Miya Masaoka, Planetise, Jou Jou, Zeek Sheck, Samsara, The Abstractions, The Loins (Beth Lisick & Eli Crews), Deerhoof, Thuja, My Country of Illusion, Mono Pause, Neung Phak, and Merman Parvin.

FIREWIRE (UK):*VA: Firewire EP 12" (FIRE 002). $9.00

"The girls behind the infamous Haywire DJ agency and hosts of London's monthly electro parties, the Haywire Sessions, are finally launching their new label, Firewire. The first release on the new split 12-inch series to promote their artist roster will be a 4-track vinyl EP, featuring Mat Carter on one side and Basic Units (Andrew Weatherall and Keith Tenniswood) on the other. Weatherall and Tenniswood (aka the Two Lone Swordsman) have produced a brace of 4/4, electro tinged, club-friendly killers that will appeal to fans of Dexter, The Hacker etc. Mat Carter's contributions to the EP are two examples of his trademark, rib-trembling underground electro."

FIRM (GERMANY):*VA: Auf Teufel Komm Raus 2LP (FIRM 002 LP). $16.00

Strange 2LP compilation featuring a variety of underground German electronic styles, emitting a Shitkatapult-like vibe of tension and confusion. Artists featured: Boris Bontempt, T. Schaebe, Christian S, Qlod, DJ Synchronizer, Heiko Voss, Geiger, Denis Moschitto & David Rössger, Revilo Dahcs, R. Ojijo, Dirk Leyers and Michael Mayer. "Firm is a new label with unbelievably complex organizational structures. Firm is totally unintentionally trendy. Firm is full of glamour and all participants lead a fulfilled life. The future is 7-D. 7-D is rocking for every direction... Tropen Verlag is dead, long live Firm."

VA: Tombo 12" (FIRM 004 EP). $9.00

Four tracks, produced by various groupings of the Kompakt-related Cologne artists: Thomas Schaebe, Heiko Voss, Andrew Kraml and Schad Privat. "A try to describe music: sexy like hell. Thomas' playing the bass. The Snare's rocking tight. The Juno says: Yes, I'm fat and analog. Schad Privat is singing and looks great. The lovely, lovely basedrum is continuing loud till four. Club-and-at-home-burner. damn sexy."

VA: 925 12" (FIRM 005EP). $9.00

"The record starts with a dirty techno-rock-track by Schaebe & Voss, followed by a brand new version of 'Really Real' (firm04/tombo) with analog sounds and vocals by Schad Privat. Original Firm-lovers flip the record over and will get a typical Schaebe-techno-sound and Schad Privat signs again. The last track is indescribable."

KRAML & FREUNDE, ANDRE: Safari 12" (FIRM 006EP). $9.00

"Three years ago the musician André Kraml from Cologne came from Djing to producing and now presents his debut on Firm. The 4 tracks have been recorded with friends in his living room in Cologne and under protest of his neighbours. They show a big spectrum of his work, from the accordion to the guitar, from his own bassline to the voice recording, here everything which is home-made and sounds good is being worked up."

FIRST CASK (UK):*CEEPHAX: Exidy Tours CD (FSK 012 CD). $16.00

"What's left to be said about Andy Jenkinson? Brother of Squarepusher, Aphex's big tip for the top and a bit of a freaked-out acid showman, this brilliant new album finds him gliding through more diverse terrain, lifting styles from his older brother for some crushing break chop-ups while deploying the acid frenzy when necessary to devastating effect. The album opening 'Plusion' maps out the parameters, lifting off with ambient, emotive, classic keys setting the scene for what's to follow. The baroque, plastic harpsichord on 'Camelot Jostle' returns to a more focused vision, think of Arovane's 'Tides' fed through a Sid-chip minor and re-assembled with lego-bricks and you're halfway to discovering what your surroundings have to offer in this strange, twisted place."

CEEPHAX: Exidy Tours 2LP (FSK 012 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

FIRST LOVE:*JUKEBOXER: Jukeboxer Learns The Alphabet CD (FILO 005 CD). $13.50

"Jukeboxer is Brooklynite Noah Wall. But Jukeboxer is much more than Noah Wall. Jukeboxer is a rube goldberg contraption made up of dozens of noisemakers from air organ to egg timer, brought together in joyous synchronization on Noah's four-track." "Relentlessly creative and packed with sonic detail, this staggering, swaggering song cycle is a minor miracle of the seemingly played-out home recording muse. Jukeboxer Learns The Alphabet is bound to worm its way into the hearts and minds of fans of Stereolab, Georges Perec, Tall Dwarfs, and everyone in between." — Alan Licht

FLAGOLET (GERMANY):*O.S.T.: Tempo CD (FLAG 3001). $17.00

Original soundtrack to the Stefan Ruzowitzky film. Featuring: iO, Private Lightning Six, Showroom Recording Series (all various combos/aegi of Patrick Pulsinger, Gerhard Potuznik, Erdem Tunakan, and Florian Sokol, who at various times throughout their various careers have recorded for Cheap, Mego, Mo'Wax, GlGuptight, etc...), Satanic Soul (Mego/Or/Cheap's Elin), Peter Kruder (of '8 Dorfmeister' fame), Christopher Just, The Memory Foundation, DJ Lodig, and Ratio. Frigid soundscapes, squawk-heft-acid, creaky-door shuffle, psych-oriented keybd fumble, Sähkö-inspired marimba hockets, etc... First-tier Vienna grit from a relative who's who of said scene, the next to blow up large 'Köln style'. — Hrvatski

FLASHBACK (UK):*49TH PARALLEL: CD (FLASH 008). $10.00

Boot reissue of this late 60s(?) Hollywood-via-Calgary garage psych rarity. Schitzo jumble of styles that doesn't really coalesce into something very desirable. Reduced price on the last copies of this version...

FLEECE RECORDS:*SWITZER, WILLIAM: The Illusion Of Technique CD (FLEECE 03). $11.00

More Houston-based two man improv, packaged in a similar angle to the Dave Dove Paul Duo. Featuring Jason Bill (of the Charalambides) on guitar, synthesizer and violin and Mike Switzer (of Slight Surface Noise) on banjo, harmonica and trombone. Incus-style zone-allotment, vague reflections on MazzaCane-esque acoustic coaxings, in an almost Corwood-ian flood of atmosphere, much more.

GAYLE, PHILIP: pnbna CD (FLEECE 13). $11.00

"The second album from this Houston-based guitarist (the self-released Keguribap was the first) is a jaw-dropping collection of solo acoustic improvisations, displaying not only striking innovative technique but also a playfulness that can be sorely lacking in much improvisational music. Resonant, often lyrical, guitar passages intertwine with cello, mandolin, acoustic bass, water phone and rolling pin. As with Gayle's debut, haunting Asian motifs also periodically surface."

FLEXIPOP/IDEAL (UK):*VA: Flexipop CD (IDEAL 04 CD). $14.00

"New Ideal offshoot Flexipop presents a unique compilation of new music with influences from punk, new wave, New York no wave / disco, electro, hip-hop etc. Features unreleased material from Trevor Jackson (Playgroup) produced outfit The VCR's and newcomers Maurice Montalba and Demolished Man. Also features tracks from Felix Da Housecat, Princess Superstar, Miss Kittin & The Hacker, Peaches & Gonzales and Add N to (X)."

VA: Flexipop 2LP (IDEAL 04 LP). $15.00

Double LP version.

FLITTCHEN (GERMANY):*VA: Fucky Don't CD LP (FLIT 06 LP). $12.00

Currently only available on LP. "Perplexing innocence and modern pop. All included. Try something a little out of the routine, and join our diehard fans. We've got Robert Lippok (To Roco Roco) in the depths of the universe. Enjoy Console and Hanayo with their version of the national anthem, magically turning it into a surmury soft-house number. Hop along with Neoangin's Jim Avingnon, a playmobile cowboy riding through a lonley prairie of freedom. Re-live your teen years with the Sitcom Warriors, a beat band starting in the footsteps of Jonathan Richman, the Velvet Underground, the Fall... Tune into Monsieuro Morio's lo-fi chansons trickling out of the old-time radio. Re-tarnish your vocoder with the Visions, bringing back the 60s for the urban hipster. Go trawling with Komeit over quack-like harmonie waves. There is so much to experience, your head will open like a flower. You will blossom with hits from the Jeans Team, Pinknoise, Milch, Disz Play, King Carlic, Ming, and Art of Kissing. You will become strong and stoic by the songs from Doc Schoco and Rike Schuberty, and Tayfun Fyrrarumare. Dry yourself off in the warmth of Die Welttraumforscher. Rock away with Eigentlich Glücklich's house ballads. Finally Gott 30 leads you out of this music adventure and back into the fucked up reality of the everyday, but the music has left you a better person. Remember: there is no true life with wrong music. Guitars are not excluded here, although the instrumentation tends to be more electronic. Analog fleamarket studios and Atari sounds meet modern digital production.."

POPCHOR BERLIN: Popchor Berlin CD (FLIT 08 CD). $8.00

"The Popchor Berlin (i.e. Berlin Pop Choir) was founded in May 2001 by former Lassie singer Almut Klotz. Singers came, singers went; and some stayed. Music makes the people come together. Favourite pop hymns were rearranged and sung polyphonically. Bright musicians cut up the cloth of sound and out of it fashioned choir robes. The cover versions have been arranged for 30 voices and are meant as adulations of the originals. Feat. musicians from Kissogram, Schneider TM, Reverend CH.D and Novack."

FLO (UK):*VA: Atomic Fire Balls CD (FLO 007). $10.00

Sampler from Flo to celebrate their first year. 15 tracks for the price of a CD single. "Coming out of seemingly nowhere (I'd never heard of this stuff 'til the mention in The Wire's 'Electronica's New Terrorists' article) is this collection of previous vinyl from the Flo label, run by present noiseniks 2nd Gen (now signed to Mute). Two tracks each from Made in Britain (grainy, almost Techno-Animal-ish boasting), 2nd Gen (mid tempo DHR-ish mess), Pilgrim (minimal lo-fi beats), Code Talker (wacky 'biz' n' bass), and three from Medusa (hyper-cut-up drum n' bass w/ female ragga/bragga vox). Not the most groundbreaking lot in the scheme of world electronic-freakery, but well worth the asking price (it's a 62 minute CD). Obscure (and I've been keeping my head about for this sort of activity)." — Hrvatski. Limited stock.

MEDUSA: Freak Beat 12" (FLO 009). $9.00

"Thumping four tracker of mega nasty breaks, demented, anarchic jump up D&B. Limited to 500 copies."

FLY CASUAL (UK):*SANDS, RICHARD: Crack Habit 12" (FCSL 002). $9.00

"Richard Sands is otherwise known as Pilote (Certificate 18). Here's his second release on the highly promising Brighton label Fly Casual. 'Crack Habit's drumbeats frolic and froth and do their best to get in the way, the plaintive, retro piano leading into reed organ chords are busy drawing a tear to the eye. Like a Monet painting fucked with by Pollock. You get the idea. Delightful moods, indeed."

FLYING NOTE:*FASTEAU, ZUSAAN KALI: Worlds Beyond Worlds CD (FN 9001). $14.00

Zusaan's excellent CD debut from 1990. Spiritual combination of free jazz and ethnic swirl, with Fasteau on soprano sax, piano, ney, shakuhachi & kaval flutes, mizmar, sansa, voice and berimbau. With Rashied Ali on drums.

FASTEAU, ZUSAAN KALI: Prophecy CD (FN 9003). $14.00

2nd CD from Zusaan, a completely unique NY improviser who plays a whole range of instruments, both common (soprano sax, cello, piano, percussion) and not (Kaval and Skakuhachi flutes, sheng, mizmar, Sanza, etc.), blending with bass and violin and percussion a cosmic swirl that taps into an organic pulse not immediately associable with any familiar forms of "jazz" or "ethnic" music. As with her earlier work (including the Sea Ensemble ESP disk), this is great.

FASTEAU, ZUSAAN KALI: Sensual Hearing CD (FN 9005). $14.00

3rd self-released CD by this tremendous multi-instrumentalist (performing here on ss, piano, voice, cello, ney & shakuhachi flutes, drums, tambura). With Wm. Parker (b), Somalia Richards (violin), Daniel Carter (ts), Jin Hi Kim (komungo), Goksel Baktagir (kanun), Bobby Few (piano) and more.

FASTEAU, ZUSAAN KALI: Comradie CD (FN 9006). $14.00

The fourth CD to be released by Fasteau (with a slight re-arrangement of her name from Zusaan Kali), whose association with free music dates back to the historic Sea Ensemble's We Move Together, released by ESP in 1974. Here she performs on soprano sax, Ney flute, voice, cello and Sheng, along with a stellar line up of accompanists: Bobby Few & Sonelius Smith (piano), Noah Howard (alto sax), Joe McPhee (tenor sax), Warren Smith (drums), and Michael Wimberly on Djembe, talking drum and percussion. Half live, half studio, all recorded in 1997.

KALI Z.: Oneness CD (FN 9009). $14.00

"Features Kali Z. on piano, soprano and alto saxes, voice, nai flutes, mizmars and drums, with Lee Mizashawn Rozie on tenor sax, bamboo flute and djembe, Newman Taylor Baker on drums, djembe, Theremin and talking drum, Marvin 'Bugalu' Smith on drums and djembe, Okkyung Lee on cello, and Ron McBee on djembe and African percussion. Oneness presents the newest developments of Kali Z's wild and pan-cultural jazz, as well as a few Kali Z. classics, here graced by the powerful and dramatic tenor work of the legendary Mixashawn. This is Kali Z's fifteenth album as a leader."

FLYING NUN (NEW ZEALAND):*GORDONS: 1st Album and Future Shock EP CD (FN 099 CD). $14.00

"They came, they saw, they deafened. The Gordons created good, old-fashioned inner torment that has rarely been communicated so effectively ever since. The Gordons 1st album was released way back in 1981 on the band's own label. The CD re-issue is now available, after a hiatus longer than any of us here at Flying Nun can remember. It includes the equally monstrous 3-song 'Future Shock' EP that spawned the band's well-known track 'Adults & Children'."

CRUDE: Compilation CD (FN 363). $14.00

Crude is a one-man ball of hypermusical activity named Matt Middleton. Operating under the Crude moniker, Matt has released a slew of tapes on his own Dirtlove label; Inner City Guitar Perspectives is a compilation of the smorgasbord of sonics he has to offer. The twirled drumming genius, surprising guitar control, beautiful clarinet texturing and irresistible ability to piece together sound, music and lateral thought will lead you out again. Not to forget the odd legitimate foray from 'howling jive' into the swingin' sounds of the pop/rock genre. Like Daniel Johnston playing krautrock in a Dunedin free jazz joint, these 18 Crude perspectives must be listened to to be believed."

PHILLIPPS, MARTIN: Sketch Book Vol. 1 CD (FN 415 CD). $14.00

"A special dose of Chilly sounds from Martin's demo vaults. Seventeen tracks and all songs bar one have never seen release on any Chills album or single. An intimate peek into the strange and beguiling world of Martin's music, Sketch Book mixes moments of gorgeous Chillsy pop with psychedelic out-takes and experiments in song and sound as Martin's imagination runs wild. Think The Lost EP — a wonderful treat for Chills fans with extensive liner notes by Martin."

FRIEND: Inaccuracies & Omissions CD (FN 471 CD). $14.00

"I applied for a $10,000 grant from the New Music fund of CNZ to make a 'musique concrete' album utilising both eight and two track tape loops, a most time-consuming prospect involving a lot of man-hours. By the time I was (most happily) granted the funds and received the money, I had invested in a Digi 001 ProTools LE system for mixing a recent Tall Dwarfs project and, in using it, realised that it would enable me to do the funded project in a very different, but no less time-consuming, fashion. Different but equal for the whole cut and paste nature of the ProTools interface is very similar to the loop-based analogue method I had had in mind. Both involve the selection and manipulation of small chunks of sound into something that is (hopefully) greater than the sum of its parts. Duly excited by the new technological depths into which I was about to plunge myself I began to search for aural landscapes that might be used for the basic building blocks of my concrete jungle. Determined to have analogue as a base I decided to start with the scruffiest piece of tape I could find. After finally editing, sequencing and mastering (all done at home) I had a record to be called Inaccuracies & Omissions and to be attributed to the mysterious Friend, a newly invented alter-ego for my non-commercial projects. And that seemed like enough. — Chris Knox

FOAD:*COUP, THE: Steal This Double Album 2CD (FOAD 4600). $15.50

"The Coup's classic third and best-selling album (originally released 1988, out of print since 2000). Reissued in a digipack as double-CD with two bonus studio tracks ('What the Po-Pos Hate' from Blood & Tears album, and 'Swervin' from Stray From The Pack (Quiet Biting Attack) album), and an extra CD of The Coup performing live."

FOCUS MUSIC (UK):*VA: Focus Sampler 12" (FOC 348). $9.00

"The Focus 'sampler' is exactly what it says on the label: a preview of what's to come. This 5 track EP has taken only the first 5 artists from the already year-long release schedule. Set up by Clair after the fall of the Clear label in 1998, Focus is set to carry on where Clear left off. Artists include: Lackluster, Aphelion, Plus One, CIM." This label is now known as DeFocus.

LACKLUSTER: 12" (FOC 349). $9.00

"First artist EP (after the Focus Sampler 12") for this Smallfish/Clair (Clear)-aligned imprint, from Esa Ruoho (and occasionally Tomas Szepe), who had previously recorded (both as Lackluster and as Distance) for labels such as Autumn, Monotonik, Kracrive, Merck, and Neferiu. IDM, as finely chilled/blunted as it gets, boiled down for Sunday morning consumption. The perfect comedown, another hit for this promising label..." — Hrvatski.

FOIL (JAPAN):

FURUHASHI & TORU YAMANAKA, TEIJI: Teiji Furuhashi/Dumb Type 1985-1994 CD (FOIL 001). $19.00

"This CD is remaster version of long deleted CD: FR001 Teiji Furuhashi /Dumb Type 1985-1994. Not only is it remastered but also it has one bonus track: CM for MR.Clean (beautiful collage work). This is a record of the development of Dumb Type from early 80's until 1994, when Teiji Furuhashi died of AIDS. The sound is diverse: collage, rhythmic ambient sounds, experimental sounds using loops of tape-reverse, and so on. Recommendable from techno, ambient listeners to experimental listeners, and needless to say, to Dumb Type fans as well."

MEYER & TORU YAMANAKA, ANNETTE: BODYWRAPPInc. CD (FOIL 006). $18.00

"This CD is the soundtrack for the installation of Fashion Designer Annette Meyer, and the sound is made by Toru Yamanaka. Track 1 is minimal ambient track, which has some elements of Dumb Type sounds. It flows very smooth in your room, and we can call this one of the best ambient music. Relaxing, and Smooth. Track 2 is rather abstract, and meditative tune. Sensitive and digitally programmed percussion sounds reminds you of primitive and ethnic feelings."

FOLLOW ME (FRANCE):

GUÉM: O Universo Rítmico De Guém LP (FM 104). $14.00

"Guém is a phenomenal African percussionist who came to France when he was 16 to become a professional football player. Instead of this he introduced his crazy African rhythmic patterns to the European avant garde jazz scene (Michel Portal, Steve Lacy...). He also released 7 solo albums mostly on French ethnic music label Le Chant Du Monde. This very exciting reissue is a separate album that Guém recorded in Sao Paulo for a Brazilian label. It was only released in Brazil in 1982 on vinyl. At the time Guém was touring in Brazil where he faced the competition of local percussionists who challenged his ability to adapt to Brazilian rhythms. The answer is on the LP: Brazilian rhythms and instruments overwhelmed by their African forgotten roots. You can now get this impressive album on its original format remastered under Guém's own artistic direction." LP-only reissue.

GUÉM: Les Percussions Africaines LP (FM 107). $14.00

"Another gem from the African vaults as a limited vinyl, released first in 1973 on the French Le Chant Du Monde as part of the exclusive Special Instrumental Percussions series. Presenting voodoo-like rhythms from both North and West Africa, all remastered under Guém's supervision. Comes in a gatefold sleeve with original artwork and many pictures of Guém and his fabulous instruments. Ultimate classic!"

GHETTO BLASTER: People LP (FM 108). $14.00

"Whether in New York or Lagos, ghetto blasters/portable stereo systems are the heart and lungs which give rhythm to the streets. The story of Ghetto Blaster started in 1982 when two French musicians back from New York decided to go to Lagos to shoot a film telling the story of a meeting between African and European artists. Despite a journey full of setbacks, which forced them to sell almost all their possessions including their car, they reached Lagos where they formed a group called Ghetto Blaster. Some of the musicians of Ghetto Blaster came from the Fela and Sony Okossun's bands. Their music reflected their ambitions: funk with a Nigerian twist and furious afro beat saxophone sound. In 84 they signed with Island for an EP. They toured with James Brown, Archie Shepp, Manu Dibango and Fela. After years of work they released their LP People in 1986 which gained the group a wider audience. Due to tragic events the group separated, but it is now reforming (a new album is coming up for 2002.)"

VA: Revolution: The Chicano's Spirit CD (FM 109 CD). $13.00

"A new aspect of Latin grooves explored by Follow Me: In the USA, music made by the Latinos was often put into the shade of the ghettos. In the 50's and 60's many Latin music groups were hiding their real identity behind English names and singing rock'n roll with English lyrics. Therefore the birth of truly latin rock was a real innovation." Artists include: El Chicano, Sapo, Coke Escovedo, Caceres, Malon, Azteca, Tierra, Flash and the Dinamics, Massada.

GUÉM: Live a l'Elysée Montmartre CD (FM 113 CD). $15.00

"Guém is a phenomenal African percussionist who came to France when he was 16 to become a professional football player. Instead of this he introduced his crazy African rhythmic patterns to the European avant garde jazz scene of the 70's (Michel Portal, Steve Lacy...). He also released 7 solo albums mostly on French ethnic music label Le Chant Du Monde. During his career which started 25 years ago he has been experimenting with all types of rhythms and sounds. For example he recorded an album in Brazil in 82 with local percussionists (available on vinyl LP). It would be meaningless to award him best percussionist of the world, but he is certainly one of the most creative ones. It is pointless to insist on his technical abilities: Guém's great talent is his melodic / composer approach of percussions. Some of his compositions have been widely used in TV Ad spots in France! Due to his knowledge of all types of percussions and rhythms (his dad is Nigerian and mom is Algerian) he does very rich arrangements and compositions. This album underlines this side of his talent: on stage he plays his compositions with 7 other percussionist, 2 female dancers and 2 male breakdancers."

FONTANA (UK):

WALKER, SCOTT: Boy Child: 67-70 CD (FONT 705). $13.50

A best-of compilation of tracks from the first 5 Scott Walker albums: Scott, 2, 3, 4 and 'Til The Band Comes In. "Awesome 'greatest hits' collection, part of Fontana's Scott reissue program, spruced up with a lyric sheet and 24 bit HBCD remastered sound from the original half inch masters. Perfect for anyone who is wary of jumping in with one of the full lengths, but as far as I'm concerned — once you hear this you'll want them all. Includes tracks from Scott's first five studio albums, and the track selection is top notch, even considering the fact that with the idiosyncratic output of this guy, every fan is going to have a different idea about which tracks are of the 'must hear' variety. Another bonus: the inclusion of the B-side of Scott's 1967 single for 'Jackie', a track called 'The Plague', loosely based on the Camus book of the same name, and we already find our hero staking out his claim as a performer not afraid to confront subject matter others of his (or any) era might find too "pretentious", for lack of a better word. Who came up with the idea that self-indulgence is a bad thing for an artist anyway? One minus: this collection originally had some pretty great liner notes by one Marc Almond, which have been replaced by some 'insightful' commentary by a blowhard named Neil Hannon, who insists on mentioning his personal set of 'maple-finished Wharfedale speakers', as if anyone gave a shit. Outside of that, this is a great primer." — Billy Kiely

WALKER, SCOTT: Scott CD (FONT 879). $13.50

"New digital 24Bit High Definition/remastered editions with restored original sleeve artwork, superceding the prior reissues from 1992; at an attractive midline price to boot. If your not familiar with the genius of Scott, now the time is ripe to act decisively. On this debut solo album from 1967 we still find him constrained by the Wagnerian pop anthems that made the Walker Bros. a household name (in Europe anyway), but already we see Scott exhibiting his unique approach to making records that are an amalgam of stunning orchestral arrangements, controversial subject matter, and a booming athletic vocal style. His obsession with the decadent Belgian crooner Jacques Brel is readily apparent with three of his songs covered here, including the stunning 'My Death' — decisions like that that would eventually end the 'commercial' phase of Scott's recording career. But it's a couple of the originals here that really give a hint at the artistic triumph to come; the brooding, almost filmic 'Such a Small Love', and especially the haunting 'Always Coming Back to You', amply demonstrate the unique pop sensibility that would make his later LPs such classics. There are a couple of duds here, unfortunately, the middle of the road 'When Joanna Loved Me', and the Andre Previn (!) chestnut 'You're Gonna Hear from Me', so for the uninitiated this might not be the place to start, but for fans this is essential." — Billy Kiely

WALKER, SCOTT: Scott 2 CD (FONT 880). $13.50

Second solo album, originally released in 1968. "Scott's sophomore release followed hot on the heels of his first LP, and it's amazing to listen to the progress he had made as a singer, songwriter and interpreter in such a short span of time, as if he had ideas brewing about the direction he wanted his music to take even as he was still a member of the Walker Brothers. Once again he chose to do three Jacques Brel tracks; the excellent 'Jackie' (a huge hit and probably the reason this LP actually reached #1, the last of his records that would), 'The Girls and the Dogs', and the near-psychotic 'Next', (a completely surreal tale of a GI that has his first sexual encounter in a mobile army warehouse, contacts a venereal disease, and is so traumatized by the entire experience that he can never have a normal relationship with a woman again). And that's just one track. So in addition to the superb arrangements and orchestrations of Scott's cronies Peter Knight, Wally Stott and Reg Guest, we encounter what had by this point become the standard themes of Scott's work: alienation, prostitution, gonorrhea, warfare, the suburban nightmare and death, just to name a few. And That Voice." — Billy Kiely

WALKER, SCOTT: Scott 3 CD (FONT 881). $13.50

Third album, originally released in 1969. "Scott 3 is regarded by a good number of his fans as THE record, as it is so quintessentially Scott. The by now obligatory 3 Jacques Brel tunes are present, but at this point tacked onto the end of the record, as if they were an afterthought. Scott's writing had progressed so significantly that the truly memorable tunes present here are his alone. Honestly, I still shiver when I hear the strings swell to fill the room on the opening track 'It's Raining Today', and I would imagine the misguided comparisons with Tom Jones et al. ended right here. This was the beginning of Scott's commercial decline, as well as the beginning of his withdrawal from performing altogether. And conversely, he was beginning to ignore any obligation he had as a 'pop' star — his records seemed to become whole as a result. No more Tin Pan Alley schmaltz, this is the real deal. Dig this line from the exultant 'We Came Through': "We came through; like the Gothic monsters perched on Notre Dame, we observe the naked souls of gutters pouring forth, mankind smothered in an avalanche of time". Pretentious? Maybe. Self-indulgent? Definitely. It's just that when Scott's singing, and the band is performing somersaults, these complaints seem petty and irrelevant. This is Scott at his most over the top, most Baroque, and it's definitely a record that reveals a new layer, a new subtlety, every time one hears it. Yes, it's very, very good." — Billy Kiely

WALKER, SCOTT: Scott 4 CD (FONT 882). $13.50

Fourth album, originally released in 1969. "Scott 4 is probably his masterpiece, a record that should be elevated beyond its cult status, like Bryter Later or Pet Sounds have been over the last decade or so. It's the first to feature songs penned by Scott exclusively — though the specter of Jacques Brel still looms large, his wry cynicism had been fully integrated at this point. Supposedly Scott felt after completing 3 that the arrangements and song structures had become too labored, almost too difficult to endure at points. So, although the lush orchestration is still present, the tunes have been stripped of a lot of their excess ornamentation, and he adopted a more impressionistic approach. But it's the singer and the songs that really shine, and almost every track packs an emotional punch that rarely exists in the world of pop. Don't be misled, none of these tunes would qualify as tear jerkers, from the opening strains of 'The Seventh Seal' (yes, it's based on the Bergman movie), you know you're still in Scott Walker country. (Incidentally, with the aforementioned track I think Scott sets the record with 2 songs about the Bubonic plague). Other highlights: The crushing 'Boy Child', with its plucked strings in a tub of reverb; 'The World's Strongest Man', another emotional bruiser, and how about this for a title: 'The Old Man's Back Again (Dedicated to the Neo-Stalinist Regime)'! You know, one of the complaints people have about Scott is that he's 'pretentious', but if some bozo writer for the Village Voice encountered a song title like that on a Mekons or Red Krayola record, he/she would be hailing them for their pithy political commentary. Whatever. Scott was fearless in so many ways, and though it might seem at first that he was just embracing all things 'European', if one takes a closer look he was actually adventurous enough to take on the bigger issues, musically and otherwise, that so many songwriters are afraid to deal with head on. So, if you don't know what I'm saying by this point, this one is essential." — Billy Kiely

FOR FOUR EARS (SWITZERLAND):

M/GUNTER MULLER/OTOMO YOSHIHIDE, SACHIKO: Filament 2 CD (FOR 1031). $14.00

"Recorded in summer 1998 at the GOK Sound Studio Tokyo in public. During the 'secret recording sessions' also have been made recordings with Masahiko Okura, Taku Sugimoto, Günter Müller and Otomo Yoshihide, to be released on Amoebic in autumn 99, and with ISO and Günter Müller. Filament 2 shows electronical music played by the three musicians in a rather minimalist way, using sampler with sine wave, CDs, delays and selected percussion."

MÜLLER/VOICE CRACK/ERIK M, GUNTER: Paire 2 CD (FOR 1033). $14.00

"paire 2 from the quartet gmueller.voicecrack_erikm is the next consistent step after the successful 1997 album Table Chair and Hatstands with Voice Crack/Mueller together with Jim O'Rourke. Turntable-wizard Erik M, based in Marseille, a musician of the new electronica generation, has played with Otomo Yoshihide, Christian Marclay, Tom Cora, Catherine Jauniaux, Metamkine, Michel Doneda, Jean-Marc Montero, Jim O'Rourke, and many others. The quartet gmueller.voicecrack_erikm plays together since late 1998 and did these studio recordings in spring 1999."

STUDER, FREDY: Duos 3-13 CD (FOR 1034). $14.00

Fredy Studer (drums, percussion), Jin Hi Kim (komungo), Joëlle Léandre (bass, voice), Dorothea Schürch (voice). "The new CD Duos 3-13 is the second in a series of duo recordings for the label For 4 Ears after Duos 1,2 with percussionist Robyn Schulkowsky, featuring Fredy Studer together with various female musicians. Drummer and percussionist Fredy Studer plays on Duos 3-13 in combinations with the Korean komungo player Jin Hi Kim, the French bass player Joëlle Léandre, and with the Swiss singer Dorothea Schürch."

BTMZ: Eleven Ways to Proceed CD (FOR 1035). $14.00

Hans Burgener (acoustic & electric violin); Richard Teitelbaum (sampling keyboard, G3); Guenter Mueller (selected drums, electronics); Carlos Zingaro (violin, electronics, G3). "In 1998 Burgener, Müller and Teitelbaum released their live-album Shift. As a next step they went on tour together with Carlos Zingaro and they did new studio recordings as a quartet for this CD. They consistently continue to weave acoustic instruments with electronic instruments, playing in this double-band with 2 violins and electronics."

BRENNAN/SIMON PICARD/EDDIE PREVOST, JOHN WOLF: En?tropo?logy CD (FOR 1036). $14.00

John Wolf Brennan (piano), Simon Picard (tenor saxophone), Eddie Prevost (drums, percussion). "AMM drummer Eddie Prevost's enormous sensitivity to timbre and dynamics matched with Simon Picard's controlled, delicate tenor saxophone lines and John Wolf Brennan's multiplicity of densities, colours, gestural procedures, semi-tonalities, poly-tonalities and atonalities, walking bass lines and great crashing and clashing clusters. Multiplicity within consistency, change within stability, entropy and logos, agile and nimble, statements with precision. Dancing like Pucks, they're as weightless and deft as late-night conversation? it's pure magic." — Richard Cochrane.

LEIMGRUBER, URS: Blue Log: Ten Pieces for Saxophone CD (FOR 1137). $14.00

"Urs Leimgruber's mastery of the saxophone is so protean you could easily be fooled into thinking you are listening to a whole range of other instruments. He produces drum beats, the sound of guitars or the echoing resonance of gongs at will. His playing seems almost de-instrumentalized, free of any implicit meaning and, despite its complexity, almost unexpectedly stark. Sound in its purest state. The ten pieces here sound like a manifesto set to music, an audible thumbprint, a soundcard with a unique code that only responds to the personal breath of the artist." — Bert Noglik

BRESCHAND/DONEDA/ZBINDEN: L'Intense CD (FOR 1138). $14.00

Helene Breschand (harp), Michel Doneda (sax), Gerald Zbinden (guitar). "Based on long time collaboration between Doneda (sax) and Zbinden (guitar), this trio with harpplayer Hélène Breschand continues exploring wonderful soundscapes. The mix of the extraordinary harp — unplugged — with the really heavy stuff of the electric guitar gives kind of special fragility and a new dimension to every instrument."

HEINZ, GUENTER: Trombone On M.A.R.S. CD (FOR 1139). $14.00

"The German trombone player Guenter Heinz had already released on for4ears some CDs as The Wetware Trombone and Drumbone2. Now comes his new album Trombone On M.A.R.S., where the sounds of his trombone were processed by Wolfgang Heiniger and Jochen Bohnes, both using their software M.A.R.S."

MULLER/SUGIMOTO: I Am Happy If You Are Happy CD (FOR 1140). $14.00

Guenter Muller: (electronics, MDs, selected perc); Taku Sugimoto: (guitar). "This duo CD by Muller and Sugimoto is very different but not less remarkable from the successful CD they did in trio together with Keith Rowe for Erstwhile records. Quiet pieces of stretched melodies by Sugimoto's guitar and of economically played electronics and percussion by Muller give a particular impression of time and beauty."

HUBBUB: UB/ABU CD (FOR 1241). $14.00

Frédéric Blondy (Piano), Bertrand Denzler (Tenor Saxophone), Jean-Luc Guionnet (Alto and Soprano Saxophone), Jean-Sébastien Mariage (Electric Guitar), Edward Perraud (Drums). "Hubbub works on the sound matter and creates an expanded space inhabited by stripes, interlaced designs, resonances, tanglings, points and strokes, at the border of acoustic and electric worlds. Founded in 1999, Hubbub is a gathering of improvisers with various backgrounds who play since a few years with some of the most important musicians of the actual scene."

STUDER/DJ M. SINGE, FREDY: Duos 14-20 CD (FOR 1242). $14.00

"A stripped down duo version of the 'Roots and Wires' group (personnel: Hans Koch, Martin Schütz, I-Sound, Studer & Singe) recorded late February 2000 in Zurich, with additional remixes by Singe recorded in the spring of 2001. An interesting and often challenging multi-disciplinary meeting; each clearly stemming from different sides of the tracks (Fredy being the master Euro-improviser percussionist legend, Singe being the Soundlab co-founder collageist junglist turntablist). Anything but what you'd preconceive ('You play some crazy free improv scratch beats and I'll drop an amen... check it!'), actually a rather vital and surprising mix, from Singe's chansons-plunder and electro-body-rock to Fredy's prog-jams and falling sheets of metal. A section of scratch-found vocals and bowed cymbals brings to mind nothing less than Bob Ashley's tell-all intimates or Nurse With Wound. Pretty cool." — Hrvatski.

DIEB 13/KAHN/MULLER: Streaming CD (FOR 1343). $14.00

"Dieb 13: turntable, Jason Kahn: drums, metals, electronics, Guenter Mueller: mds, sel. drums, electronics. After the turntable-players Christian Marclay in 1994, Otomo Yoshihide and Erik M in 1999, For4Ears records proudly presents today Dieb 13. He produces together with Jason Kahn and Guenter Mueller, who both are playing selected parts of acoustic drums modulated with electronics, soundscapes where quiet parts are as important as (low) noise. A new example of electro-acoustic improvisation in the label's catalogue."

VOICE CRACK/MUELLER: Buda_Rom CD (FOR 1344). $14.00

"Andy Guhl: cracked everyday electronics, Norbert Moeslang: cracked everyday electronics, Guenter Mueller: mds, sel. drums, electronics. The collaboration of Voice Crack with Guenter Mueller lasts since 1995 and was documented on several CDs together, e.g. with Jim O'Rourke (table chair and hatstands) or with Erik M as the quartet poire_z. Now their work as a trio is for the first time released on CD. Beside 3 longer tracks recorded live in Budapest there are 4 remixes of live recordings from Roma done by Norbert Moeslang and Guenter Mueller."

MUELLER, GUENTER: Eight Landscapes CD (FOR 1445). $14.00

Guenter Mueller (MDs, sel. drums, electronics, processing). "16 years after releasing two solo-k7s and 13 years after starting his label For4Ears, Guenter Mueller is now releasing his first solo-CD. Eight improvisations were recorded directly to harddisc and afterwards carefully processed, eight soundscapes of stunning beauty."

HUG/CHANTALE LAPLANTE, CHARLOTTE: Brilliant Days CD (FOR 1446). $14.00

Charlotte Hug: viola and electronics / Chantale Laplante: laptop. "Charlotte Hug, from Zurich, and Chantale Laplante, from Montreal, met in London in 2001. Hug is a viola performer who also composes works using 3D graphic scores and multi-channels sound installations. Laplante is a composer of contemporary instrumental and electroacoustic music. On Brilliant Days Hug plays viola with the unique bow techniques she has developed and manipulates her sounds with electronics; Laplante uses her own sounds which she transforms during the performance. Brilliant Days focuses on the playfulness between acoustic and electroacoustic sounds, exploring their contrast and fusion; it invites the listener into a journey of 'sons inouïs'."

LEIMGRUBER/GÜNTER MÜLLER/ARTE QUARTET, URS: e_a.sonata.02 CD (FOR 1447). $14.00

Urs Leimgruber: (composition, soprano, tenorsax); Günter Müller: (processing, selected drums, mds, ipod, electronics); Beat Hofstettler: (soprano sax); Sascha Armbruster: (alto, electric sax); Andrea Formenti: (tenor sax); Beat Kappeler: (baritone, alto sax). Urs Leimgruber wrote his composition e_a.sonata.02 for the Arte Quartet, a sax quartet based in Basel Switzerland that is known for its collaborations with Tim Berne, Pierre Favre, Thomas Dimunzio a.o. Günter Müller plays with sounds from the Arte Quartet that he had processed before."

AMBARCHI/MÜLLER/SAMARTZIS: Strange Love CD (FOR 1448). $14.00

Oren Ambarchi: (guitar, electronics); Günter Müller: (selected perc, mds, ipod, electronics); Philip Samartzis: (electronics and environmental sounds). "The first piece 'Cooler' was recorded at the festival 'What Is Music?' in Melbourne in 2002. The second piece was individually recorded in Melbourne, Itingen und Sydney and conceived by Günter Müller as 'Warmer'."

MOSLANG, NORBERT: lat_nc_CD (FOR 1549). $14.00

"Long expected, finally it's here: the first entire solo-CD ever done by the one half of former Voice Crack Norbert Möslang. Recorded in studio and afterwards processed by himself, Möslang offers here beautiful and hypnotic soundscapes."

KORBER/ERIKM/NAKAMURA/OTOMO: Brackwater CD (FOR 1550). $14.00

Tomas Korber: (guitar, sampler, electronics); ErikM: (3-k.pad.system); Toshimaru Nakamura: (no-input mixing board); Otomo Yoshihide: (turntables, electronics). "On his first CD on FOR4EARS, the young and talented Tomas Korber teams up with some of the most exciting exponents of the scene of electronic improvisation. Recorded at studio, the first piece was played by all four of the musicians, while the second one is a trio by Korber, ErikM and Otomo. The music on this CD is as much eruptive as it is introspective, and it might well point into yet another direction in the ever-changing field of modern improvisation."

POIRE Z + PHIL MINTON: q CD (FOR 1551). $14.00

Phil Minton: voice / Günter Müller: ipod, mds, sel perc, electronics; ErikM: 3k_pad.system; Norbert Möslang and Andy Guhl: cracked everyday-electronics. "The last CD by that successful band, and the last concert they have been playing together. As a guest they invited someone with an instrument as far as possible from their own setup: the vocalist Phil Minton. But be sure you will get difficulties to figure out what are poire_z's sounds or Minton's."

MARCLAY/MÜLLER: Live Improvisations CD (FOR 513). $14.00

Some back catalog on this Swiss label run by the Swiss improviser Günter Müller (percussion & electronics). The emphasis is on textural improvisation, with a unique European slant. This CD features Müller in tandem with Christian Marclay (turntables).

MÜLLER/JIM O'ROURKE, GUNTER: Slow Motion CD (FOR 514). $14.00

The first of a series of collaborations between Müller & O'Rourke, recorded May 6th, 1994. Müller (drums, electronics) & O'Rourke (guitar).

MÜLLER/VOICE CRACK/JIM O'ROURKE, GUNTER: Table Chair and Hatstand CD (FOR 820). $14.00

The 2nd Müller/O'Rourke collaboration, this time in combination with the legendary Swiss duo of Voice Crack — Andy Guhl & Norbert Möslang (both on cracked everyday-electronics). O'Rourke is found on guitar, piano & electronics. Recorded 3/31/96 at Zack Studio, Switzerland. Mixed by O'Rourke. A very pleasant mix of netherland driftage and disconnection.

NINH, LE QUAN: Ustensilies CD (FOR 822). $14.00

Solo percussion CD by this French/Vietnamese performer, known as member of the Hélios Quartet, a percussion ensemble which has recorded John Cage's Works for Percussion (WERGO 6203) as well as works Varese, Vinko Globokar, George Lewis, etc. "Ustensilies consists of a series of intense, percussive landscapes built up out of a disparate battery of utensils that range from a bass drum, Chinese cymbals and a sheet of aluminum through to a handful of chick-peas and an ice-bell." — The Wire.

MÜLLER/JIM O'ROURKE, GUNTER: Weighting CD (FOR 824). $14.00

New third collaboration between Müller (selected percussion & electronics) and O'Rourke (piano, organ, lap steel, electronics). Recorded July 16, 1997 at Studio Zack in Switzerland.

STUDER, FREDY: Duos 1+2 CD (FOR 926). $14.00

Studer (drums, perc.) with Robyn Schulkowsky (drums, perc.) recorded live in Switzerland, 1996. "Schulkowsky and Studer work and research at the farthest spiritual frontiers of our society. It seems to me that they have a real, vivid grasp of the world of the acoustic field (itself a special case of the field of gravitation), extending to the furthest reaches of theoretical physics; and that they give such terms as emerge out of that active cognizance flesh and context upon their own body." — René Stettler.

MORRIS, LAWRENCE BUTCH: Conduction 70: Tit For Tat CD (FOR 927). $14.00

One of L. Butch Morris's (conductor) infamous "conductions", performed as a series of formations of various Swiss musicians such as: B. Buster (turntables), Peter Ehrnrooth (cl), Norbert Möslang & Andy Guhl (cracked everyday electronics), Hans Koch, (cl, s), Edgar Laubscher (elec. violin), Daniel Mouthon (vocals), Günter Müller (drums, electronics), Dorothea Schürch (vocals), Martin Schütz (electric cello), Marie Schwab (violin), Nicolas Sordet (electronics), Fredy Studer (drums) & Stephan Wittwer (guitar). Jim O'Rourke (acoustic guitar) also partakes as a leader of various groupings and the end result is a rather spellbinding collection of floating, somehow-organized sound.

BURGENER/TEITELBAUM/MÜLLER: Shift CD (FOR 928). $14.00

Detailed improv-based sonic architecture from the trio of Hans Burgener (acoustic and electric violin), Richard Teitelbaum (Kurzweil K2000, Powerbook w/ Max) & Günter Müller (drums, electronics), recorded live in Zürich, 1997. "Many thanks for their sampling contribution to Carlos Zingaro and Mark Feldman, violins; Anthony Braxton, saxophones; Kaysuya Yokoyama, shakuhachi; Kinchi Tsuruta, biwa; Meisho Tosha, yokobue; George Lewis, trombone; Justus Rosenberg, Yiddish text; Isabelle Ganz and Shelley Hirsch, voices; Musica Electronica Viva."

BURGENER/PHILLIPS/SCHUTZ: Heat Transfer CD (FOR 929). $14.00

"The second document of the string trio Burgener/Phillips/Schutz. During the production of 'Détoours', a piece with the Belgian Dance Company of Patricia Kuyper in Brussels, the trio went to the studio to record the new CD. The work with movement, space and structure had a big effect on their music, which has developed to a high musical level, somehow gaining more profoundness and emotionality. The string trio with the extraordinary American bassist Barre Phillips and the two excellent exponents of the Swiss jazz and improvising scene Martin Schütz and Hans Burgener has found a very convincing personal sound-language during the last 8 years."

FORBIDDEN (EUROPE):

McFARLAND, JOHN: Provocatif LP (FB 01). $24.00

"Exact reissue of one of the worlds rarest and most incredible exotica LPs. Originally released in 1959. Housed in the incredible haunting and sexy original sleeve. Provocatif's nine exotica motifs is a mystical combination of oriental, african, and latin instrumental sounds, plus effects like a full storm breaking out, insane jungle effects and other weirdness! Vibes, Xylophone, piano, bass, percussion, bird calls, moan drum, snake rattlers etc etc. Not subdued and soft but totally wild style exotica! Amazing tracks include: Watusi, Forbidden, Head-Hunters, Jungle Bells and other. Ltd edition of 300 copies only."

FORCE INC. (GERMANY):

LOVE INC.: Life's A Gas CD (FIM 021). $15.00

Repress of Mike Ink's first full length for the Force Inc/Mille Plateaux conglomerate from '96, predating his Gas/Profan/Studio 1 releases. Some pulse-oriented tracks ala his Profan material plus a strange, shimmering, pop-acid-like track at the end w/ vocals. "This is Mike Ink's first longplayer. Since five years he is the head of Germany's minimalistic acid sound. His acid records have been different to everything which is out there. With his project Love Inc. he has developed new sound structures. The tracks are still minimalistic, but include also amazing digital soundscapes. Everything is inspired by a very personal taste. On the cover you can see Pop and Jazz heroes of the last 30 years and Life's A Gas is again a nice example of the deconstruction of Pop and Jazz. Most of the tracks are full of humour and the signal system of Pop is whirled into a state of confusion, the codes are manipulated and torn apart. The copyright is exposed as ridiculous. This is still the new elegance of techno."

VA: Rauschen 14 (mixed by DJ Rush) CD (FIM 031). $15.00

"The concept of Rauschen is already beyond the concept of noise music. The music is working with signals but is simulating the 'Rauschen' of the universal objects. In the world of the DJ this kind of contemporary dance music is combined with the process of cutting, scratching, mixing and transforming sounds. Rauschen 14 is mixed by Chicago's finest DJ Rush. The mix includes all the leading Force Inc. artists. Tracks which seems to begin nowhere seems to end nowhere. The new sequencer techno of Force Inc. artists include a new interpretation of minimalism. Minimalism which affects the body of the dancer. Straight, club gear techno tracks are dominating the mix, which is powerful and intense." Including tracks by Thomas P. Heckmann, Strass, S.R.I., Martin Damm, Justin Berkovi, Ian Pooley, DJ Rush, Age, Global, Null.

WALKER, STEWART: Stabiles CD (FIM 034). $14.50

"Stewart Walker is now living in Massachusetts. After finishing college he started to build up a studio. In 1997 his debut release came out. This first release, Amphetamine Sulphate on Matrix experimented with tight and minimal bass and percussion programming. His next releases were on Deepfried and Christian Vogel's Mosquito label. Each recording further implemented the combination of texture and rhythm that he previously sought. Stabiles is his first full length LP. The title is taken from a series of sculptures created by Alexander Calder. His goal is to produce a series of musical compositions which would serve as a focal point in home listening environments. Each piece represents a different mood, yet taken together the album works as a continuous flow of moods and feelings. Direct sources of musical inspiration for the album include the repetitive rhythms of the Cologne techno artists and the ambient series of albums written by Brian Eno and his collaborators of the 70s. Stewart Walker wants to achieve the same kind of tranquility that Brian Eno exemplified, but more through the use of percussion and rhythm as opposed to floating soundscapes. As an artist, Walker enjoys the hypnotic effect achieved through repetition and mixes that with subtly changing ambiances created with digital reverbs and resonators."

MANDELL, JAKE: Quondam Current CD (FIM 036 CD). $15.00

"Quondam Current is Jake Mandell's second album and his first for Force Inc. He has been creating electronic music since he was a freshman in a suburban Boston high school during the early 90s. After having had lessons in classical piano and free jazz, Jake studied both Biochemistry and Japanese history. After receiving a grant to study enzyme structure, he was inspired by the advanced computer modeling of proteins and the interconnectedness of biological systems. He takes the same awareness for structures and applies it in his studio. Using a network of three computers, a combination of software he wrote himself and commercial software, Jake's music draws at will from the atmospheres of film music, the joy of 80s pop, and the structure of techno, but creates a soundscape many levels deeper. His first release in '97 surprised many with its quirky drum & bass. Lucky Kitchen released the Midwest EP, and Worm Interface followed suit with the acclaimed album Parallel Processes in early '99. EPs on Pitchcadet and an enigmatic 74 minute ambient track on Kodama were also released this year. His new album, Quondam Current, is an impressive example of new minimal techno. Minimalism provides an ideal framework upon which to hang convoluted computer techniques. The album constructively combines the ossature of minimal rhythms with the potential of advanced software to create simple and intricate sound plexuses. After each time through, the subtly musical and exquisitely textured sounds of Quondam Current will simultaneously engage and reveal themselves to the listener."

TWERK: Humantics CD (FIM 038 CD). $14.50

"Shawn Hatfield, a.k.a. Twerk, began his exploration into Techno in 1992. It wasn't until the end of 1997 that his visions became clear and Twerk began to realize what had to be done. Determined, Twerk began to assemble an analog studio and soon released a maxi on Organised Noise. In Europe he was released on Planet Rhythm and Template. Inspired by developments in digital audio, Twerk began to once again rebuild his studio so that he could fully exploit the software and processing power of the home computer. His more recent material on Cytrax and Context display a more technical approach to producing minimal techno. Like other artists from California (Sutekh or Kit Clayton), Twerk is developing a new kind of powerbook and laptop techno. Humantics is a simulation, and the music itself deals with the paradigm of software. The album includes a wild mixture of microscopic electronic art, dry sample results and even a filtered dub influence. Dark and digitalized sounds meet dry and kickin drum patterns enriched with lots of clicks and noises. Twerk is one of these new Californian artists who takes techno to another level. He opens the music for cyberspaces, cyberclubs and cyberears. Music is becoming a surface, the place where zero to one begins to sound. This is new club music. Music for android bodies, which are brought in vibrations, music for spatial perspectives, music which means the diversification of frequencies and rhythms."

COSTELLO, DONNACHA: Growing Up In Public CD (FIM 043 CD). $14.50

"Donnacha Costello will be one of the top new techno producers in the year 2000. He started writing music in 1989 and discovered minimal electronic music in 1996, becoming well known and respected in his home city of Dublin, Ireland. Having completed his philosophy degree, Costello engaged himself in university studies in music and was introduced to Steve Reich, John Cage and Karlheinz Stockhausen. He moved to New York for some time in 1998. In 2000 he began to release 12" singles on his own label Minimise and was signed by Force Inc. for his first album. Growing Up In Public utilizes new digital production and synthesis methods, sampling and dub techniques. This debut album displays a great degree of imagination and experimentation."

JIRKU, TOMAS: Sequins CD (FIM 045). $14.50

"Tomas Jirku is one of the new American artists in the Force Inc/Mille Plateaux collective who develops the freshly minded genre of Clickhouse and Clicktechno. For two years the 21 year old Tomas Jirku is using a completely computer-based, highly flexible set-up that allows him to explore deeper into sounds. He tries to be subtle with his use of digital manipulation to add layers that couldn't otherwise be achieved using conventional studio techniques. During this summer in Toronto Jirku became more influenced by Funk and Disco and he changed from his earlier Industrial influences to more upbeat feel with fast tempos, bouncy rhythms and a more immediate sound that doesn't hide behind atmospheres. He focused on every tiny element in the rhythm and stayed away from elaborate basslines that would distract him from the focus. Digital glitches are an integral part of each combination where the subtle distortions extracted from each element of a song continually enhance the rhythm. Most of the tracks from his first album for Force Inc. were composed as a deconstruction of Funk samples, using heavily digital manipulation and filtering. Like other artists Jirku formulates series of glitches into bouncy rhythms. In his way of using funk elements Jirku explains his new album even as a variation of Clickhouse. Sequins is the first Glitch-Funk album."

VA: Met@Music CD (FIM 046 CD). $14.50

"Met@music is release #200 of Force Inc.. Force Inc. focuses on Techno in association to virtuality, machinism and digitality. Force Inc. tries always to bring innovations into dance music and continues to change concepts, style and genre. Digital Techno simulates something that does not exist as a reality, it generates something new. It is the result of the teamwork of numerous authorities such as the 'musician', the programmer and the authority of the program. Digital music has to open the given program structures, the internal ramifications and program hierarchies are to be discovered. Essentially the new genre Clickhouse or Clicktechno is where the apparently random series of glitches that have replaced beats on albums like Oval etc. formulate themselves into more bouncy rhythms. Clicks, scratches and glitches get organised. Where Mille Plateaux introduces electronics into the 21st century, Force Inc. on the other hand is infiltrating new sounds into clubs. Clicks, glitches, so called digital errors, become sound. The Cut-Copy-Paste-Funk of the actually most irrelevant sounds, the clicks, emerges, the movement of zero and one are made audible. Brittle rhythms and rocking hyperfashionable software are giving Techno a new face. Again the new scene of American digital techno, like Sutekh, Kit Clayton, Stewart Walker, Twerk, Jasper etc. meet the German minimal techno movement (S.R.I., Wolfgang Voigt, Atlon Inc, Auch etc.). All tracks are exclusive."

AUCH: Remix Tomorrow Goodbye CD (FIM 047 CD). $14.50

"The name Auch refers to the artist Ekkehard Ehlers, one of the most productive and diverse artists in the Force Inc family. A member of Autopoieses and with a release under his real name. His debut full-length Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye became one of Force Inc's most critically acclaimed releases in some time. Techno, dub and hip-hop elements met with the unessentialist sounds of interference's, noises, clicks and glitches. The results are comparable to what Detroit Techno and Chicago House would sound like under the influence of SND, Wordsound Hip-Hop, Wishmountain and G-Man. Labeled by the press as Click-House, Auch is an essential member of the new laptop composers that are revolutionizing the dancefloors. Remix Tomorrow Goodbye's title speaks for itself, friends of Auch were sent soundfiles of the album and the results were this eclectic collection of reworkings from some of electronic music's most talented producers. The minimal techno/house beauty of G-Man, Farben, Peter Speiss and Ricardo Villalobos weave with the groove of California techno leaders Sutekh and Jasper. Additional contributors come from the digital excellence of international's Donnacha Costello, DAT Politics, Full Swing, Somalux, Marz and Goem. The result is a varied listening experience between club and daily madness, digital curiosity and gleaming pop-understanding."

EXOS: Strength CD (FIM 048). $14.50

"Exos returns with his 2nd full length release after a slew of successful 12" releases. A former member of the esteemed Iceland-based Thule collective, Exos has established himself as a highly regarded producer in the techno community. Now, Exos takes his music to the next level with Strength — 13 new tracks of driving percussion and dubby ambience that provide a matrimony of the most exciting technot to be heard in some time. His impeccable ear for the dance floor shines through, Strength is a massive journey into the real of minimal techno."

STAVÖSTRAND, MIKAEL: Reduce CD (FIM 049 CD). $14.50

"Stockholm, Sweden's Mikael Stravöstrand represents the first of many new Scandinavian talents that will emerge in the Force Inc. family over the course of 2001. Stravöstrand is a key figure in the Swedish electronic scene as a long-time event organizer, sound installation artist and label manager of the underground Mitek label. Over the past year, he has performed continuously that included a successful 32 date North American tour. He has releases and contributions on labels Tigerbeat6, 12k and Mitek. Reduce continues Force Inc.'s development of click-techno, where the unessentialist sounds of glitches, crackles and skips infiltrate the structure of minimal techno's 4/4 drive formula. Stravöstrand emanates a unique approach to compositions, taking interest in the use of randomness and the unexpected towards his methods of working. Reduce is a very visual and natural project; deep, dubby techno mingles with the glitchy pulses and beats. The result is a perfect order of balance and harmony for the listener. Stravöstrand presents a new platform for dance music. Essential for fans of Chain Reaction, Clicks & Cuts and SND. Reduce crosses between dance-floor techno and experimental electronic music."

ATLON INC.: Main Things CD (FIM 050 CD). $14.50

"Atlon Inc. is the alias for veteran producer Rob Acid. Spanning over 10 years of releases, this German producer is responsible for a slew of popular tracks and albums that have set the standards for the dancefloor. He has also contributed two albums to the Mille Plateaux label under the name Robert Babicz that have proved his ability at creating moving soundscapes of art. Now, with Atlon Inc., he takes a step further with a longplayer of luscious techno that is necessary for any fan of the dancefloor. His 12" EP's have proven themselves in the clubs, his track on recent Force Inc.'s critically acclaimed compilation met@music was heard as the best track. Main Things is destined to prove that he still has it in him to dish out some of the most outstanding techno today."

VARLEY, GEZ: Bayou Paradis CD (FIM 051 CD). $14.50

"Gez Varley first came to prominence in 1990 as one half (with Mark Bell; producer for Depeche Mode, Bjork, etc.) of ground breaking Leeds based duo LFO on Warp. With a sound that referenced early house, b.boy aesthetic (they met as members of rival break-dance crews), northern bleep & their own distinctive sub-bass. LFO not only had a considerable influence over the developing electronic underground (you'd be hard put to find anyone from the genre who doesn't regard LFO as an influence) but also enjoyed chart success, their debut single (LFO) reaching no. 10 in the national UK charts making them the first techno act to achieve chart status. The duo parted ways, Gez Varley went on to release on Swim the Quo Vardis single under the G-Man alias which to this day is considered a masterpiece of minimal techno. Gez Varley has gone on to release a slew of 12" singles and the 1997 release Gez Varley presents Tony Montana on Studio K7. Finally, Gez Varley returns with his first album in over 3 years. Bayou Paradis is a minimal techno wet dream. The album carves its own environment, dangerously deep and lush, the warm sounds on the album envelope the listener like a giant blanket. Cool, hypnotic, pulsating grooves and atmospheres make this mandatory material from this proficient producer. Tracks touch on Detroit, Germany and UK sources, but all the same, Gez Varley brings back his unmistakable style with these 10 previously unreleased tracks."

TWERK: Now I'm Rendered Useless CD (FIM 052 CD). $14.50

"One of the leading members of what's been labeled as the 'California laptop techno scene', San Francisco based Shawn Hatfield aka Twerk has emerged since last year's critically acclaimed longplayer Humanities as a true visionary in producing state of the art techno compositioning. Furthering his unique ability to emit off-kilter electronic dance floor music, Twerk has produced an eclectic meshing of intricate sound usage with the progressive pulsation of dance floor techno. Having prior releases on labels Planet Rhythm, Template, Belief Systems, Cytrax, and of course Force Inc., this well established producer will be sure to cross over into many different fan bases with his extraordinary machine gone mad dynamics."

JETONE: Ultramarine CD (FIM 053 CD). $14.50

"Montreal based Jetone aka Tim Hecker has been producing in the realm of electronic music for the past six years. Jetone has used his front as a graduate student in Critical Theory to further his research in digital acoustics and software terrorism. As things like this tend to work out, these musical projects have received the lion's share of his time, leaving his academic work on the backburner. This time has been spent exploring his boundaries and fault lines between rhythm, texture and melody. While Tim has influences which stem from the hybrids of hip-hop and techno, such as Germany's Wolfgang Voigt and England's Autechre, his textural and melodic inspirations often find comradeship with groups such as My Bloody Valentine and artists such as Christian Fennesz. That is to suggest that the lineages explored in his work have been an attempt to reorganize the digital, without heeding toward empty trajectories of bohemian-like nostalgia for any such pre-digital era."

WHITE, GEOFF: Questions And Comments CD (FIM 054 CD). $14.50

"One of the most talked about electronic artists to emerge out of the USA, Geoff has jumped out of nowhere, with a handful of critically acclaimed 12" releases on Force Inc., Cytrax, Morris Audio and Delay plus a praised performance at Detroit's Electronic Music Festival this year his rising popularity is sure to expand with the release of his debut album Questions And Comments. A captivating release of warm delicate, soothing beats that's intended for the DJ but translates well in the bedroom, Geoff White comments musically on his dissatisfaction with the repetitiveness of the electronic mainstream and questions the abilities to diversify the genres by adding his own unique interpretation of sonic explorations into house and minimal techno."

WHITE, GEOFF: Questions And Comments 2LP (FIM 054 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

VITA: Ena CD (FIM 055 CD). $14.50

"Vita is the alias for critically acclaimed recording artist Mikael Stavostrand. One of the new faces to emerge out of the musical hotbed of Stockholm, Sweden, Stavostrand has been featured as a key figure for his unique interpretations of club techno as well as producing some of the most essential experimental electronic music of the past year. Stavostrand is also the founder of the Mitek label and has over the past year performed in over 40 cities in North America including the prestigious Mutek festival. As Vita, his past 12" release on Force Inc. imprint Force Labs was met to critical praise and became one of the best selling releases for the label. Vita furthers his interpretations of techno with Ena, he fixates his attention to the 4/4 melody but conjures a depth and surrounding that exquisitely moves the listener in an digitalized organic groove. Traces of the unessential frequencies that infect the Clicks + Cuts ungenre permeate through his compositions, yet a solid dance floor friendly stability hold the tracks in place. Vita is poised to become another key element in the further explorations of dance oriented electronics."

VA: Montreal Smoked Meat CD (FIM 056 CD). $14.50

"It's easy to say that Montreal has become a center point for the next wave of N. American techno producers. Over the past years, ideas and concepts have brought a unique fortification of like minded musicians that are united in challenging, developing and exploring the possibilities of electronic music. Thanks to Montreal's tremendously social environment that include prestigious festival's such as Mutek and FCM, many of the musicians have been able to rise up to achieving international status and thus the community of Montreal has been given the creative credit it so deserves. Force Inc. puts under the microscope a selection of some of Montreal's established and up and coming musicians in an attempt to showcase the broadband of this community. From Perlon records Akufen taking aim with his funky radio wave driven housiness, Force Inc.'s Jetone's deep bass techno that's only to be reckoned with My Bloody Valentine, Raster Noton's Mitchell Akiyama's reduced click-techno compositioning all the way to a slamming debut from Steven Beaupre that carries the charisma of Herbert's finest moments, Montreal Smoked Meat is a priceless document of this phenomenal city. Unreleased tracks from Akufen, Deadbeat, Jetone, Steven Beaupre, Ike, Shannon, Crack Haus, Eloi Brunelle, Algorithm, Orazio, Mateo Murphy, Mitchell Akiyama."

OZY: Tokei CD (FIM 058 CD). $14.50

"Force Inc. follows it's interest in the Icelandic techno scene with one of their most prominent members. For the past 8 years, Ornlouf aka Ozy has been one of the country's most engaging producers, covering a diverse range of sounds as the drum 'n' bass producer Hugh Jazz, the immensely popular break-beat act Early Groovers and of course the techno / tech-house project Ozy. Praise for his releases on Thule and Ben Sim's Native imprint can be found in DJ's top 10 lists around the world and earned considerable media praise. Now, with his debut album for Force Inc., Ozy continues his interests in techno and deep house, using vital parts of the classic formulas. But to keep things interesting, Ozy twists and bends sounds and ideas, mostly from old records, movie soundtracks, TV programs and radio to incorporate fresh and new aspects to his tracks. Tokei resounds warmly and distinctively, providing memorable tracks that showcase this unique producer at his best."

G-MAN: Avanti CD (FIM 059 CD). $14.50

"Gez Varley aka G-Man first came to prominence in 1990 as one half (with Mark Bell) of the ground breaking leads based duo LFO. They can be credited as the first electronic act to reach the UK top 50 charts and over the course of their career as LFO collaborated and remixed some of the finest; Richie Hawtin, Afrika Bambaataa, Bjork, Art Of Noise and YMC to name a few. After the demise of LFO, G-Man has gone on to release some of the most influential minimal techno / acid techno singles out there, most notably credited for his 'Quo Vadis' single on Swim, still recognized as a true masterpiece of techno production. Now, G-Man returns to the clubs with a stunning album of new material that arguably could be his best output since his Swim days. Cascading rhythms build subtly behind the fuelled drive of bass, fully defined by G-Man's signature formula that remains unprecedented in the techno community. Force Inc. is proud to reunite you with this techno pioneer and give those who never knew a chance to experience one of club techno's best."

SUTEKH: Incest Live CD (FIM 061 CD). $14.50

"Since 1997, San Francisco based Sutekh has released consistently inconsistent electronic music on local and international labels Force Inc./Mille Plateaux, Source, Background, Plug Research, Orthlong Musork, Cytrax/Delay, Tektite, and his own Context. Manipulating computers, samplers, synthesizers, ping pong tables, Scrabble pieces, and found sounds, he has created everything from minimal house and techno to dense, dissonant noise collage. Unable to explain his reasons for making such music, he blankets himself with sarcasm. People often have a difficult time deciding whether or not he is serious. Incest Live is a re-working and recreation of material and sound sources from his entire collection of releases, edited and rebuilt into completely new forms. Characterising his live sets, Sutekh keeps a keen ear to the dancefloor, evident in solid grooves and tech-house rhythms, but bypassing the traditional sound sources of techno's conventions opting for an almost avant-garde approach to the tracks."

SHANNON, MIKE: Sign Of Hand CD (FIM 062 CD). $14.50

"Mike Shannon is one of Canada's most respected and known techno DJ's. With over 10 years of DJ experience under his belt, including operating the reknown 12" record label Cynosure Recordings, Mike Shannon is recognized as one of the central figures in Canada's emerging electronic music scene thanks to his relentless DJ schedule and acclaimed 12" releases over the years. 'Sign Of Hand' is a collection of new material that explores the balance of Detroit's vigorous Techno community and the sway of popular German Micro-House. Deep, lush and leaning to the darker side of life, Mike Shannon picks out the fineness of rich textures and balances them with the rigor of great dance music."

WALKER & GEOFF WHITE, STEWART: Discord CD (FIM 063 CD). $14.50

"Over the past few years, Stewart Walker and Geoff White have both established themselves as two of the leading forces behind North America's burgeoning techno scene. Now, for the first time, these two highly respected producers have joined together on Discord, what could be their best work to date. Both producers have released well-received albums on Force Inc. in the past. Walker's Stables was widely considered one of the best electronic albums of 1999. White's Questions and Comments followed suit, to much fanfare, in 2001. The strength of Discord lies in its additively melodic dance floor beats. Incorporating aspects of hip hop, house, and techno, Walker and White have honed their distinctive signatures into an album that is truly greater than the sum of its parts. Fans of their past work will enjoy sorting through the album and picking out the individual contributors' contributions, while new listeners will enjoy the synchronicity and accessibility of the album as a singular entity."

CODEBASE: Style Encoding CD (FIM 064 CD). $14.50

"It's hard to categorize this Seattle Techno veteran, but let's give it a shot. Codebase is a versatile blend of Electro, Detroit-influenced Techno, and Deep House. Part Drexciya, part Juan Atkins, part Global Communications, Tom Butcher aka Codebase's melodics and electronics are at once starkly futuristic and gloriously timeless. Rather than so much so called Electro out there, Codebase goes for the jugular revitalizing the roots of the movement without sounding redundant. Along with label mate Mike Shannon, Butcher is one of a new generation of electronic artists more interested in the revisionary, as opposed to visionary, aspects of Techno. A solid offering of memorable music that seeps with energy and funk. Codebase has already released singles on Swayzak's 240 Volts imprint and the legendary but now defunct Orbit Records plus has recorded under a variety of alias that include Betamax, Heatsync, x09, and Induction."

K-LED: Tomorrow In The Morning CD (FIM 065 CD). $14.50

"For the past 5 years, K-Led has been one of the key contributors to South France's techno community. K-Led's respect and influence from the Detroit legends ring through this full length. From the lead single 'Detroit City', you hear K-Led's homage to the city that spawned it all. Comparable to the early sounds of Kenny Larkin, Tomorrow In The Morning is some of the deepest, soulful, underground techno this label has had the privilege of releasing. Definitely an old school education resonates throughout the album, but K-Led succeeds in painting a musical portrait that sounds as fresh as the morning mountain dew."

BABY FORD: Basking In The Brakelights CD (FIM 066 CD). $14.50

"It's been over 6 years since we've seen a full length from London based legend Peter Ford aka Baby Ford, so claiming this is anticipated may be pushing it, but that does not in any way change how excited and honored we are to be presenting the new album Basking In The Brakelights. To list his accomplishments would take a catalog of his own to cover, but for those who aren't aware of who Baby Ford is, let's briefly get into it. Baby Ford emerged in the late 80's — early '90's as a pioneering innovator of the acid and vocal house explosion thanks to his two albums Ford Trax, OOO-The World Of Baby Ford as well as several singles such as the acid anthem 'Ochhy Koochy', 'Chikki Chikki Ahh Ahh', 'Beach Bump' and the T. Rex cover of 'Children Of The Revolution'. From '92, he took a different direction, taking him down a more minimalist path that has stayed with him over the years, also spurring the infamous IFACH collective and label."

STRASS: Zwei 12" (FIM 147). $10.00

Strass is the latest aegis of one Wolfgang Voigt (aka Mike Ink, Profan, M:I:5, Love Inc., Gas, etc...), here returning to his roots; ultra-heavy acid-laden polyrhythms ripped straight out of the textbook for the German post-summer-of-love school he helped write. Reminiscent of his classic output on Structure, Monochrome, MonoTone, DJungle Fever, and Trance Atlantic. Super heavy." — Hrvatski.

MANDELL, JAKE: Quondam Current 2LP (FIM 180). $16.00

Double LP version.

SUTEKH: Miasma EP 12" (FIM 182). $9.00

Four track EP from this US producer, whose previous 12" was on Drop Beat. "Sutekh is one of the most new influential producers of the Californian techno scene. Working with the most unessentialist sounds ever, clicks and glitches, Sutekh starts the epoch of digital and virtual techno. Cybertech sounds for cyberclubs."

EXOS: Eleventh 2LP (FIM 184). $16.00

"Exos is one of the leading producers of Iceland's techno and electronic label Thule. After having released several maxis on Thule and one 12" on Force Inc., Eleventh is their first full length album. The album contains 13 tracks of advanced dance material. It is minimal techno, under the premise that a discourse of written rules defines the music and the programs in content. But it is also more. Music with a hypnotic flow and the coolness of the northern electronic scene. Exos tracks give a spatial dimension to techno; keyboard patterns with echoes and delays are combined with an intense groove. Don't expect the sound of Berlin, as it's chilly in the North, but not necessarily dark. Yet beyond the sound of Iceland, this is a soundtrack for the urban world. Exos even reflects the speed of the hypercities, the desires of a techno-generation, which finds its subjectivation in the body. Becoming molecular, becoming a non-organic body, becomings; Exos music is the perfect statement, programmed, calculated and simulated. Constructed for the needs of the machine generation, for the clubs but also for listening areas. The fusion of harmony and sound in favor of the production of properly rhythmic values. It works, not by continuous variation like other electronics, nor by the reproduction of distinctive forms, which Techno normally is. It is the perfect sounddesign for techno 2000."

*G*: The Mixes 12" (FIM 191). $9.00

Third maxi of *G*, aka Gez Varley. Two massive clubstompers that will amaze." The first mix is also found on the Autopoieses La Vie A Noir album on Mille Plateaux, the second is brand new.

AUCH: 2 12" (FIM 192). $9.00

"A model of techno under the condition of digital signal processing. Interferences, glitches, and deep grooves. It's clicktechno."

COSTELLO, DONNACHA: Growing Up In Public 2LP (FIM 198). $15.00

"Donnacha Costello will be one of the top new techno producers in the year 2000. He started writing music in 1989 and discovered minimal electronic music in 1996, becoming well known and respected in his home city of Dublin, Ireland. Having completed his philosophy degree, Costello engaged himself in university studies in music and was introduced to Steve Reich, John Cage and Karlheinz Stockhausen. In 2000 he began to release 12" singles on his own label Minimise and was signed by Force Inc. for his first album. Growing Up In Public utilizes new digital production and synthesis methods, sampling and dub techniques. This debut album displays a great degree of imagination and experimentation."

VA: Met@Music 3LP (FIM 200). $19.00

Triple LP version.

ALFA, IBRAHIM: Daltonista 12" (FIM 201). $9.00

"Ibrahim Alfa is busy again. His first EP on Force Inc starts with a playful Twechnosalsa track, that merges the funkyness of Chicagotrax with digital Powerbooksound. Floorkiller. The E.P. contains another slamming mono stomper and Detroit influenced down-tempo track and a tricky and elegant house tune."

JIRKU, TOMAS: Sequins 2LP (FIM 202). $15.00

Tomas Jirku is one of the new American artists in the Force Inc./Mille Plateaux collective who develops the freshly minded genre of Clickhouse and Clicktechno. For two years the 21 year old Tomas Jirku is using a completely computer-based, highly flexible set-up that allows him to explore deeper into sounds. He tries to be subtle with his use of digital manipulation to add layers that couldn't otherwise be achieved using conventional studio techniques. During this summer in Toronto Jirku became more influenced by Funk and Disco and he changed from his earlier Industrial influences to more upbeat feel with fast tempos, bouncy rhythms and a more immediate sound that doesn't hide behind atmospheres. He focused on every tiny element in the rhythm and stayed away from elaborate basslines that would distract him from the focus. Digital glitches are an integral part of each combination where the subtle distortions extracted from each element of a song continually enhance the rhythm. Most of the tracks from his first album for Force Inc. were composed as a deconstruction of Funk samples, using heavily digital manipulation and filtering. Like other artists Jirku formulates series of glitches into bouncy rhythms. In his way of using funk elements Jirku explains his new album even as a variation of Clickhouse. Sequins is the first Glitch-Funk album."

S.R.I.: Energie 12" (FIM 205). $9.00

"Reinhard Voigt aka S.R.I. is respected as one of Cologne's leading producers. Also known as Kron and Pentax, Voigt is recognized for his acclaimed Mille Plateaux productions as Sturm. Due to the massive reaction drawn from his contribution to Force Inc.'s 200th release met@music compilation, he has remastered the cut that appears on this A-Side, a banging builder that is reminiscent of his brothers style but distinctly marked with his hyper percussive tendencies. The B-Sides are by all means reaching the dancefloors of today, rolling kickers with massive synth lines. S.R.I. is definitely going to pave the way for Force Inc.'s 12" direction for 2001."

AUCH: Remix Tomorrow Goodbye 2LP (FIM 206). $14.50

Double vinyl version.

EXOS: Strength 2LP (FIM 208). $14.50

Double vinyl version.

STAVÖSTRAND, MIKAEL: Reduce 2LP (FIM 210). $14.50

"Stockholm, Sweden's Mikael Stravöstrand represents the first of many new Scandinavian talents that will emerge in the Force Inc. family over the course of 2001. Stravöstrand is a key figure in the Swedish electronic scene as a long-time event organizer, sound installation artist and label manager of the underground Mitek label. Over the past year, he has performed continuously that included a successful 32 date North American tour. He has releases and contributions on labels Tigerbeat6, 12k and Mitek. Reduce continues Force Inc.'s development of click-techno, where the unessentialist sounds of glitches, crackles and skips infiltrate the structure of minimal techno's 4/4 drive formula. Stravöstrand emanates a unique approach to compositions, taking interest in the use of randomness and the unexpected towards his methods of working. Reduce is a very visual and natural project; deep, dubby techno mingles with the glitchy pulses and beats. The result is a perfect order of balance and harmony for the listener. Stravöstrand presents a new platform for dance music. Essential for fans of Chain Reaction, Clicks & Cuts and SND. Reduce crosses between dance-floor techno and experimental electronic music."

VARLEY, GEZ: Bayou Paradis 2LP (FIM 213). $14.50

Double LP version.

VITA: Ena 2LP (FIM 217). $14.00

Double vinyl version.

S.R.I.: Trax Pt. 2 12" (FIM 218). $9.00

"Reinhard Voigt aka S.R.I. follows up his last Force Inc. release with the second installment of his punishing techno series. 3 unnamed tracks of ferocious club floor fillers that are truly set to release all the senses."

VA: Montreal Smoked Meat 2LP (FIM 219). $14.00

Double vinyl version.

G-MAN: Avanti 12" (FIM 221). $9.00

"The former LFO frontman is in fine form and as many know his history under different guises with Force Inc. (Gez Varley *G*) and too long a history to list on this sheet, G-Man is undoubtedly one of the most important figures in the techno community. This slab is a taster of what to expect from the forthcoming album Avanti, and also adds 2 new tracks that are only exclusive to this maxi-single. Some of G-Man's most amazing work to date, this EP lays waste to the dancefloors, smooth and ever so moving, G-Man is a master of providing a depth charge of exhilaration."

OZY: Tokei 2LP (FIM 222). $14.50

Double LP version.

YAGYA: Rhythm Of Snow 2LP (FIM 224). $14.50

Double LP version.

DALESSANDRO, BILLY: Liquid Stimulationz 12" (FIM 225). $9.00

"Do you remember the days of Force Inc. past? Mike Ink, Knarz, Ian Pooley, that's right. ACID. Billy Dalessandro brings it all back with a modernized twist, tweaking the 303 with his Chicago roots well kept deep in formation. 'Cyberestrial' hits all the right places, floor fuelled bass that builds up in all the classic mannerisms. 'The Theory Of Motion' is another rocker, the bass stabs of electro echo through with the flow of Detroit's finest. Dry rocking technosure relatable to early DBX and Roman Fluegel's tracks on delivery."

G-MAN: Avanti 2LP (FIM 227). $14.50

Double LP version.

CROON INC: SchloBalle/Jackass 12" (FIM 229). $9.00

"A thoroughly, thumping raucous techno slammer... Croon Inc are the latest outfit to emerge from the Force Inc. family, a German duo that surely will be causing a stir over the coming months. SchloBalle is a deep, acid based killer, with a infectious vocal loop to get the floor friendly. Jackass brings in the old school flavor with a glitchy twist. Overall Croon Inc full provide the popular elements of driving, low slung bass and taut keyboard stabs that should find this gem a front row in any techno DJ's bag."

SHANNON, MIKE: Sign Of Hand 2LP (FIM 230). $14.50

Double LP version.

DALESSANDRO, BILLY: The Secret Sessions 12" (FIM 232). $9.00

"Billy Dalessandro has built quite a name for himself over the past year, mainly due to the acclaimed EP's recent on Force Inc., Force Tracks but not forgetting his early collaborations with DJ Sneak's former partner Josh Warner on the Antenna Project. Chicago born Dalessandro's wicked approach to deep techno and mid-90's Chicago Acid House make for the perfect choice for what's hitting the clubs currently. 'Mister Sinister' is a acid tweaked depth charge with punchy minimal grooves. 'Krank' will get your fix, an old school rager with soul sinking key stabs and a vocal hook to get the kids screaming. 'Shadow Government' is an acid house, ecstasy mega-throb to light up any dancefloor. Without any doubt, 'The Secret Sessions' sums up his best work to date."

SCHAFFHAUSER, MATHIAS: Musik Ohne Bass 12" (FIM 234). $9.00

"Musik Ohne Bass jokingly translates to 'music without bass'. Indeed, Mathias Schaffhäuser is taking the piss as this is one hell of a driver — this track was a critic/DJ favorite on the recent Force Tracks compilation Digital Disco. If you don't know him, you should. Schaffhäuser has had top 40 singles in both Germany and the UK, plus operates leading Cologne label Ware. Frankfurt's Croon Inc. rearrange Musik Ohne Bass into a super funky, acid shocking stormer. Decomposed Subsonic prep it in their true fashion, building and climbing to surely keep the floor pumping."

NOST: Is This The End? 12" (FIM 239). $9.00

"Dublin, Ireland's finest techno export, David Donohoe aka Nost makes his Force Inc. debut with this splendid summer soundtrack. Not since Love Inc has that the shuffle rhythm struck us in such a profound way. Nost builds on the rocking sway of his past peer with elegance and pure dancefloor sensibility. Is This The End? is a vigorously taunting, vocal edged, bass-kicker with a melody that I'm sure you'll recognize from years gone by."

CODEBASE: Style Encoding 2LP (FIM 240). $14.50

Double LP version.

K-LED: Detroit City 12" (FIM 242). $9.00

"For the past 5 years, K-LED has been one of the key contributors to South France's techno community. K-LED also manages to DJ on a regular basis, having shared the stage with legends such as Moodyman and Alton Miller. 'Detroit City' is K-LED's first single for Force Inc. and fully resonates his deep appreciation for soulful floor-filling techno from the city where it was born — Detroit."

K-LED: Tomorrow In The Morning 2LP (FIM 243 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

BABY FORD: Built In 12" (FIM 245). $9.00

"For 15 years, this London based legend has released some of the most inventive and provocative techno the world has had the pleasure of hearing. Peter aka Baby Ford continues to raise the bar, offering 3 tracks of minimalistic micro-house that never dulls through epic, gradual momentous builds. Analog warmth adheres to the scope of digital glitch without sounding clinical, while Baby Ford keeps a keen ear for the dancefloor."

FORCE LAB (GERMANY):

VA: Force Lab 1 12" (FLAB 01). $9.00

New Force Inc. subsidiary label, dedicating itself to the glitches of the Clicks And Cuts generation. This initial sampler EP features exclusive new tracks from: Sutekh, S, Auch and Chris McCormac.

VA: Force Lab 2 12" (FLAB 02). $9.00

"Second issue of Force Inc's new sublabel. Artificial clicks for cyberclubs. Side A track 1 is by Donnacha Costello, a new highflyer from Ireland. From the West Coast a new generation of powerbook techno from Jasper, Safety Scissors, and the unbelievable Kid 606."

VITA (AKA MIKAEL STAVÖSTRAND): Vita 1 12" (FLAB 04). $9.00

"On the heels of his debut album Force Inc. release Reduce, Stockholm Sweden's Mikael Stavöstrand has earned an immensely popular vote in the press for his unique click-techno production. Under the guise Vita, Stavöstrand excels in taking melody laden clicks with the formula of techno and house, proving a new level of cascading depth for this movement in electronics. Fan's of Farben, Sutekh, SND and deep Berlin techno will rejoice over Vita."

KID 606: P.S. I Dub Ya 12" (FLAB 05). $9.00

"Yes, another remix EP. But hell, what else are ya gonna expect from Kid606 — he's right now found everywhere remixing Depeche Mode's hit 'Dream On', and still people can't stop talking about his rendition of 'Attitude' that astonished the underground last year. Kid606 has chosen two of his favorite artists to reassemble tracks from last year's P.S. I Love You and mold them into dance floor hell raisers." Side A features remixes by Atom ? and Rechenzentrum, plus a non-LP track "Horseback". Side B features "P.S. I Dub Ya Forever And Ever 12" Edition" (remixed by the posterboys of the apocalypse and Kid 606)".

LOWFOUR: Repeatle 12" (FLAB 07). $9.00

"Andreas Tilliander aka Lowfour may be new, but already highly respected producer in experimental electronics. Also known as Mokira, his name has been popping up on compilations world-wide not to mention albums for Mille Plateaux and Raster-Noton over the past 6 years. Now as Lowfour, Tilliander makes his debut on Force Labs with 4 tracks of Gaseous organic techno. Fluent in elegance and subtle builds, Repeatle takes a nod to the masters of Cologne pop by fashioning layers of ethereal sound sources."

VEER: 12" (FLAB 08). $9.00

"Veer is the latest Frankfurt based addition to the Force Inc. family. For good reason we present his debut on the Force Labs imprint. The A-Side opens itself with lovely, lush atmospheres immersed in clicky, shuffling beats. B-Side, Nena is a striking piece of warm textures fortified in melodic structures. Fans of Farben, Andreas Tilliander and Mikael Stavosstrand will find this EP an essential addition."

VA: The Force Lab Edition: Composure - Mixed By Algorithm CD (FLAB 10 CD). $14.50

"Force Lab is the newest imprint to come out of Force Inc. Music Works. Inspired as a laboratory to enable experimentations in 4/4 electronic music, the labels releases thus far have earned critical praise both in the DJ's bins and in the press. With the success of its 12" releases, we feel it's now time to document the label thus far on CD. Jeff Milligan aka Algorithm has over 12 years of experience behind the decks. A key developer of Toronto's early techno scene, Algorithm has remained one of the world's most respected DJ's, traveling the world continuously performing, running his own label Revolver and releasing a slew of 12" singles on Revolver, Background, Serotonin, and Brine Tone. His style is seamless and works perfectly into this eclectic mix. From the Gaseous sounds of Lowfour, Kid606's techno remakes, the fundamental power of Chris McCormick, to the uplifting renditions by Sutekh, The Force Lab Edition is definitely exceptional in both bandwidth and DJ manipulation." Also includes music from: Auch, G, Safety Scissors, Donnacha Costello, Vita, Veer, Electric Birds, Ozy and more.

FORCE TRACKS (GERMANY):

SCHAFFHAUSER, MATHIAS: Lido Hotel CD (FT 006 CD). $14.50

Repressed. "Lido Hotel" is the solo debut album of Ware founder Mathias Schaffhäuser. Half of the album contains totally new tracks, the others are edits, remixes and new versions of already released Ware stuff. On the album is a vocal version of the '98 summer hit "Desire". Here it is sung by Regina Janssen, one half of the Cologne-based pop duo Donna Regina. The couple is well known for its success in Japan, where their tracks are played at commercial radio stations on prime time. Another track is produced with Antye Greie-Fuchs, vocalist of Laub. The album will also feature an edit of "Loom Service", written and produced by Nieswandt & Schaffhäuser. So the album will be a perfect mix of songs, up- and down-tempo tracks, modern house music, minimal techno and abstract beats. The title track "Lido Hotel" is based on 160 bpm breakbeats, but with a minimal techno aesthetic. Mathias' goal was to make an album to listen to at home without boring club-versions and much-too-long intros and outros. Lido Hotel is no 'Best-of' or Ware compilation. For all DJ's and Vinyl fetishists there will be a double album with all tracks, which were produced exclusively for the album and never appeared on vinyl before, including alternative club-versions of several tracks."

LUOMO: Native 12" (FT 007). $9.00

"Luukas Onnekas, Finnish producer, makes his debut on Force Tracks with this release. Both tracks are running over ten minutes, funky minimalism, deep and floating."

SCHAFFHAUSER, MATHIAS: Desire 12" (FT 010). $9.00

Three track EP from Schaffhäuser, who's recent Lido Hotel was the first full length on Force Tracks. Features 3 mixes of "Desire": extended club mix, Steve Bug's Deep Desire mix, and Donna Regina's version.

LUOMO: Livingston 12" (FT 012EP). $9.00

1999 release. 2 tracks. A: 'Synkro', B: 'The Right Wing'.

M.R.I.: Kompression 12" (FT 015). $9.00

"Second maxi by Frankfurt duo Elting & Lieb. Minimal and floating housetracks with massive potential."

CRANE A.K.: Monostatic 12" (FT 016). $9.00

"Berlin's finest in house are back. The pioneers of Force Tracks with 4 tracks in superior style. Minimal and smooth tracks, funky and laid back."

JUNKIE SARTRE & HEXAQUART: Ignorance 12" (FT 019). $9.00

"Junkie Sartre & Hexaquad are a new production duo from Berlin. Originally based in the Berlin drum'n'bass scene, 'Ignorance' is their first minimal house output. The EP includes four brilliant mellow, minimal house tunes, smooth, funky and laid back."

TAYLOR, DUB: I Can't (Fall In Love With Another) 12" (FT 21). $9.00

"New 3-tracker by Dub Taylor. The A-side contains a deep and moody house track with male vocals, massive. The B-side comes with another mellow deephouse tune and a minimal house track with Detroit flavor."

M.R.I.: Rhythmogenesis CD (FT 23 CD). $14.50

"Rhythmogenesis is the first longplayer of Frankfurt based duo Stephan Lieb & Frank Elting. M.R.I. are representatives of the emerging German minimal house scene. M.R.I. are one of Force Tracks' best selling artists which has a profound effect on the house/tech-house scene, played and praised by some of the world's top DJ's. It began with their first Force Tracks 12" single 'Dauerläufer', a momentous release that sent an eloquent message to the masses that these two will achieve greatness. Their recent maxi once again received critical acclaim and has laid the foundation for this significant full-length debut. With Rhythmogenesis M.R.I. have effectively administered an injection that is exquisitely refreshing in a time of over-formulated generic rurgitation that much of house music seems to be steadfast in. Affectionately labeled as Micro-House in the US, M.R.I. produce a deep journey on their first album that conjures variations of minimal techno, dub, minimal and even deep house. A release that is arguable one of Force Tracks most accessible releases to date. Essential for fans of minimal house, Rhythmogenesis promises to be another influential Force Tracks release that is profoundly revolutionizing commercial house music."

CRANE A.K.: Pink Eyed Pony CD (FT 28 CD). $14.50

"Since its inception over a year ago, Force Tracks has risen to become one of Germany's leading minimal house labels. With over 25 12 singles and now up to the third full-length release, the sister label of Force Inc. Now presents one of their most successful and dynamic artists for the first time one CD. Crane A.K. members Markus Gniech (DJ Knigge) and Michael Friedrich have been an integral part of Berlin's minimal techno/house community. In particular, Knigge is a regular DJ in Germany's leading clubs. Taking his club experiences, Knigge molds his dancefloor technique with Friedrich's attentiveness to production and sound. The result is an experienced musical partnership that distinctly resonates their close friendship; minimal tracks based inbetween house and techno soundscapes. Pink Eyed Pony is an excursion into the details and different corners of music but never leaving the synthetic character of electronic music. The album swings from deep house to trip-hop, techno and minimal house. As with many Force Tracks releases, Crane A.K. have created an album both for the living room and the dancefloor."

WILD, BENJAMIN: Wellness EP 12" (FT 29). $9.00

"Definitely a well-known figure in Germany's house scene, Benjamin Wild presents his first 12" for the Force Tracks imprint following a steady stream of releases on Perlon, Kompakt, Infarkt and Festplatten. Wild's ability to mold out tracks of the deepest form have made him an essential figure in the minimal-house scene. Wellness EP follows through in mandatory fashion. Als Wär So Weiß... definitely clocks in with a funky bassline driver and an eerie synth overlay. Overall, Wellness EP is a subtle, yet completely natural dance music 12" for the modern generation."

VA: Hypercity ? Mix By Andrew Weatherhall CD (FT 30 CD). $14.50

LIDBO, HAKAN: Click Enter To Exit 12" (FT 34). $9.00

"Do we really need to explain this guy, who he is, or what great music he has released over the last couple of years? He's been on too many labels to list on this page. Hakan Lidbo returns to the Force Tracks family with three deep house gems that are more than fluent with the funk than ever. Quality control is the essence of this fine EP. 'Click Enter To Exit' transforms into a glitch fuelled floater with a fine undercurrent of vocals to add striking depth. 'Le Peep' propels listeners to a new higher level of funk with its subtle builds and sensational flow. 'Dim The Lights' clocks in with Lidbo's signature flow but in a more reflective and percussive sway."

TAYLOR, DUB: Detect CD (FT 36 CD). $14.50

"Berlin, Germany's Dub Taylor delivers his debut full-length to the Force Tracks imprint. Since 1996, 27 year old Alex Kruger has been the source of some of the most outstanding minimal deep house singles, released under the guises of Psychoplasma, Korsakow, Retronic, Hair and of course Dub Taylor. Following the success of his last 12" single for Force Tracks, 'I Can't Help Falling In Love', (that infected the NYC house scene), Detect proves he can move a step beyond into smooth, high melodic elements translated in majestic songlike formation. Chilled house rhythms integrate with the glamor of classy vocals, filtered guitars and gratuitous synth melodies. His experience as a guitar player in new wave, punk and funk bands shines through in these tracks. Dub Taylor goes a step above the new breed of overzealous bedroom producers by using his years of musical experience as a guitar player in numerous bands to the best advantage. The result is purely pop."

TAYLOR, DUB: Detect 2LP (FT 36 LP). $14.00

Double LP version. "

IMP: Music To Fix Your Boat By 12" (FT 37). $9.00

"NYC's Cristian Fleming aka imp. is another new addition to the Force Tracks roster but by no means a new face to the electronic music scene. With critically acclaimed releases under the guise unit, Cristian is renowned for his skills at creating captivating, warm atmospheric listening music. Now, as Imp., he sets off with his ears leaning towards the dance floor. Taking cue from label-mate Luomo, Imp. has risen to the occasion with 3 tracks of emotional house music conjured in the deepest form. Additive melodies play in the warmth and flavor of soulful Detroit techno at its best but with an added dimension of rhythmic subtlety and sophistication that rival Herbert. Distinctly fromage-free, Imp. enters with an innovative take on a familiar groove."

CRANE A.K.: Supermarket 12" (FT 38). $9.00

"Berlin duo, Crane A.K. returns back to the Force Tracks imprint with 3 new tracks to redesign their past and further the future. Female vocal driven 'Supermarket' is reminiscent of the current electro flavored house tracks but resonates the touch of classiness and depth of what Force Tracks strives for. Pop appeal strikes on all the tracks though. B-Sides 'Morgenrot' and 'Fatter' tune up in fresh formula towards techy driven minimal house, bring through a soothing and completely refreshing EP that will be sure to please old and new fans alike."

DALESSANDRO, BILLY: Sonic Revolution 12" (FT 40). $9.00

"Billy Dalessandro makes his debut on the Force Tracks with possibly our most straight to the dance-floor 12" thus far. Recently relocated to Italy, Billy's first home is Chicago, an obvious reflection on Sonic Revolution. Billy Dalessandro is a recognized name for his collaboration with DJ Sneak's former partner Josh Warner on the 'Antenna Project'. The result of 'Sonic Revolution' are 3 tracks with the depth of techy-deep house that Force Tracks is well known for built on the foundation of Chicago's finest house music. A definite floor pleaser, a return to the roots, and surely a name that you'll be hearing more about on our label."

BABY FORD: All & Nothing 12" (FT 41). $9.00

"Peter 'Baby' Ford needs no introduction, his history over 10+ years has made him an essential part of what's in the DJ's crate. Force Tracks is honored to present his debut EP for our label, a collection of pumping floor shakers that subtly get under your skin and deeply penetrate your soul. His trademark signature rolls in the finest form, layering, wobbling and pulsing in all the right places. Minimal techno grooves underpinned by crisp house rhythms make this a perfect selection."

WILD, BENJAMIN: With Compliments CD (FT 42 CD). $14.50

"Since 1992, 29 year old Benjamin Wild has been circulated in amongst a very diverse surrounding in electronic music. You may recognize him from his ambient releases on the FAX label alongside Peyman Shamlou in the early 90's. But things have changed. Since 1994, Wild has been the source of some of Germany's leading 12" minimal house tracks on a slew of labels that include such as Perlon, Kompakt, Fest. Now, Benjamin Wild presents his debut full-length achievement, With Compliments. Wild goes 3 steps further than before with his signature style of gradually pitched techno infused deep house. The enthusiasm he has for supporting Germany's underground nightlife scene rings through - flavor filled deep filled funk for the masses. WILD is set to take his 12' successes to the next level."

M.R.I.: All That Glitters CD (FT 44 CD). $14.50

"MRI return after last year's stunning debut album Rhythmogenesis with an eclectic house album destined for the dance floor and living rooms. Stephan Lieb and Frank Elting bring together a well-honed primer on the present state of deep house — from the Björk-ish warmth that Hacienda's Kerstin Pfau adds vocally with a stunning interpretation of Aaliyah's 'Try Again' on the Track 'Blue' to De-Phazz lead singer Pat Appleton's powerful performance on 'Sane & Sound' and the slamming 'Nightclubbing At Home' that went on to be one of their best selling 12" singles. With this outstanding release MRI have delivered one of Force Tracks strongest full lengths to date, an album that swings out in bright-eyed POP!-sensibilities unlike so many average house albums of today."

MRI/DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Digital Disco 12" (FT 48). $9.00

"Do you remember when house was all about LOVE? Force Tracks is not heading into some dated disco house nor are we reminiscing the past. MRI reunite with Hacienda's Kerstin Pfau some cerebral grooves that ripple with passion. Disco tinted chords and Ms. Pfau's elegant vocals make this disco discovery a matrimony of the deepest kind. Decomposed Subsonic have been a big favorite of the German house scene for some time now. The Akufen swing rings clear through this one, mingle that with their trademark crisp, floor rocking bass and a vocal hook to get the hands up high."

VA: Digital Disco CD (FT 50 CD). $14.50

"Force Tracks celebrates its 50th release with a bold, new step into the world of Pop. Those who know Force Inc.'s 12 year history, know of the labels' capabilities to roll with the best of them. From the early days introducing Ian Pooley, Mike Ink, Gene Farris and Roy Davis Jr. to the current stable of house acts such as Luomo, MRI, Akufen and Hakan Lidbo, Force Inc.'s successful sublabel gets ready for a return to the clubland but with a bold, new step in the realm of Pop. It is called Digital Disco — take the vitality of the early House movement, dose it with the twisted ironic splendor of 80's Pop then refine it with the fine flavor of Force Tracks' blend of Micro-House that has earned the label respect for over the past two years. The results are frighteningly catchy songs that reflect a new phase for Force Tracks' evolution. Digital Disco features a handful of the best artists with exclusive new music that can only be found on this compilation. Their reputations have earned critical praise and the support of the world's leading DJs. Packed in triple vinyl and single CD, Digital Disco is an essential document and celebration of the next phase of Pop-House." Features mostly exclusive tracks from: MRI, Luomo, Data 80, Astrobol, Sylk 130, Dub Taylor w/ Chilleeda, Metro Area, Decomposed Subsonic, Swayzak, Care, Mathias Schaffhäuser, Akufen (Herbert mix), Savant DJ.

VA: Digital Disco 3LP (FT 50 LP). $19.00

Triple LP version [CD VERSION FORTHCOMING]. "Force Tracks celebrates its 50th release with a bold, new step into the world of Pop. Those who know Force Inc.'s 12 year history, know of the labels' capabilities to roll with the best of them. From the early days introducing Ian Pooley, Mike Ink, Gene Farris and Roy Davis Jr. to the current stable of house acts such as Luomo, MRI, Akufen and Hakan Lidbo, Force Inc.'s successful sublabel gets ready for a return to the clubland but with a bold, new step in the realm of Pop. TAYLOR, DUB: Second Side 12" (FT 51). $9.00

"Berlin based Alex Krüger aka Dub Taylor is no stranger to the house scene. With releases on Raummusik, 3B, Morris/Audio and of course Force Tracks, Dub Taylor is a mainstay for deep, delicious beats. The title track is a lounge loving, body shaker filled with a sensual female vocal. 'Into Your Heart' features the return of vocalist Stan Eknatz, immersed with digitalized Motown flavor — this descends into delightful depths. 'Sleeping Girl' is sexy and sweet — dub textures collide with an irresistible momentum. Second Side leaves you with a digital disco crooner 'Who's The One', vocoder driven pop-house that hints to the retro but is fluently futuristic."

DATA 80: Data 80 CD (FT 52 CD). $14.50

"Force Tracks goes beyond what you've ever heard before by introducing the new pop-house project orchestrated by reknown house producer Hakan Lidbo. Data 80 is a main-frame for the past, present and future. Man-machine meets the fire of 70's funk, 80's trash and classic house. Picture an icon that has built itself up from the elements of the finest performers of our time; Kraftwerk, Ziggy Stardust, Prince and Michael Jackson come to mind. The music could be characterized to the popularity of today's electro/80's movement but keeps the most pleasurable moments of house music's early days strikingly loud and clear. DATA 80 will infect your mind with the unbelievable catchiness each song Provokes. 'You Are Always On My Mind' pays homage to the greatness of Giorgio Moroder and facilitates a future classic that shall ride the dance floors for years to come, 'Open Skies' is a day dream of pop bliss, the cascading vocoder fuelled anthem 'Love Was Made for Two' provokes a mixture of Daft Punk, Yazz and 80's pop flair. It's time to discard the irony and meet the reality of Data 80."

DATA 80: Data 80 2LP (FT 52 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

LUOMO: Tessio 12" (FT 54). $9.00

"Tessio, the underground hit of 2001 gets reignited into a completely new version. Enchanting lyrics integrate with the sensual flow of Luomo's pop-house rhythms that has made him one of the most sought after producers of our time. Add to that, Germany's chart topping Moonbootica have done an outstanding job of turning Tessio into a peak time stomper. And we couldn't resist but have Akufen make this track into one of the sweetest disco-edged shakers we've heard since the 70's."

TAYLOR, DUB: Your Soul (With Vital) 12" (FT 55). $9.00

"Force Tracks proudly introduces the first single featuring the 15 year old vocalist Vital. A ghostly comparison to pop-diva Aaliyah, we are proud to have her part of the Force Tracks family. Expect to here much more from her in the near future. With that said, Dub Taylor returns with a taste of what is to come from his forthcoming full length Experience, due to hit stores end of august. The sensuality and song-like arrangements that has graced the music of Luomo's music oh so well, reaches new levels and is fulfilled with Dub Taylor's ability to produce exquisite, deep house. Making their debut, Casino Royale turn 'Your Soul' into a peak time stomper, still retaining the formula of the song but reanimating it for the clubs. Luomo never ceases to bring out the best, reanimating 'Your Soul' into a funky, post-disco jumper that will be a sure fire hit for the next generation."

DECOMPOSED SUBSONIC: Wild Nights 12" (FT 56). $9.00

"Force Tracks continues to flow out the summer spins with a modern acid house kicker that will be hard to top. Frankly, Wild Nights is a stormer. Thanks to his many releases on Mathias Schaffhäuser's Ware label, Hartmut Wessling aka Decomposed Subsonic has built a reputation for making some of the most solidly produced club tracks out there (you still remember 'Blau Löwen'?). Wild Nights heads straight for the clubs, right at peak time. This title track is 303 infected body music that builds and builds and builds to no ends. Kick Das digs deeper, hitting home with bass-filled funk and with a slight French touch."

SCSI 9: Digital Russian CD (FT 57 CD). $14.50

"The debut album by Moscow producers Anton Kubikov and Maxim Milyutenko, aka SCSI-9. They have achieved world-wide respect and a loyal following due to 12" releases on Trapez, Salo, Freizeitglauben and also can be found featured on compilations on Fabric, Konvex-Konkav and Combination to name a few. Digital Russian is an exceptional collection of new material plus a few favorites from their Force Tracks singles. Their soulful approach to tech-house gets shimmered with the pop-house splendor of the new digital disco sound. SCSI-9 raise the bar for house and techno on this profound release for the label. Metro Area fans take note of this release."

SCSI 9: Digital Russian 2LP (FT 57 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

VA: Digital Disco 2 CD (FT 59 CD). $14.50

"It's been a year since Force Tracks launched the critically acclaimed Digital Disco compilation series. A reinvention of house music, Digital Disco brings together a combination of sophisticated depth, soul, lyrical narrative, and of course the uplifting energy that disco characterized back to the dance floor. Now, the series returns in full splendor featuring 13 tracks from a line of the label's past, present, and future members. Digital Disco 2 manages to sound both retro and futuristic, while remaining brilliantly inventive and danceable." Artists: Dub Taylor & Vital, Luomo, Akufen, D;exter, Adjuster, Ian Pooley, Moonbootica, Playgroup.

TAYLOR, DUB: Experience CD (FT 60 CD). $14.50

"Experience, the new album by Alex Kruger, aka Dub Taylor, surpasses all expectations for someone with such a history of quality. Kruger's belongs to a generation of up and coming pop house producers, such as Luomo and Mathias Schaffhäuser, whose contributions to house music in the mid- to late-nineties brought about irrevocable innovations. But Kruger's history and reputation as a producer can easily stand on its own. Throughout his catalogue of singles, released on a host of highly respected labels such as Konfekt and Morris Audio, and his two full-lengths, recorded for Raum Musik and Force Tracks respectively, Kruger's distinct and syncopated approach to vocals, and the seductive eeriness that presides over his arrangements, have rightly earned him a reputation as a producer whose work is to be anticipated."

TAYLOR, DUB: Experience 2LP (FT 60 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

DEXTER: Things Have Changed 12" (FT 61). $9.00

"Dexter St. James's achievements read as a veritable who's who in the history of border-breaking Swedish House music. Produced and co-written by guru's Hakan Lidbo, Martin Venetjoki, Adjuster, this project delivers with House-fuelled influences from Buddha Bar to Bass-Beat, New York to New Delhi, Acapulco to Alabama — all encapsulated within liberal doses of spiritual and club-tastic vocals by Dexter. You may recall Dexter as the frontman behind the Billboard chart topping act Sound Factory — responsible for the dance anthems '2 The Rhythm', 'Come Take Control', and 'Deeper Yet'. With 'Things Have Changed' Dexter St. James's impeccable soulful vocals integrate with the uplifting production of Hakan Lidbo's trademark Synth-Pop House. Force Tracks newcomer Adjuster digs into deeper territory with the quintessential house crooner of the season. Definitely a departure from what you've come to expect from Force Tracks, Dexter brings on our new era of a Digital Disco fueled frenzy for the masses."

DOLE & KOM: Melodie und Rhythmus 12" (FT 64). $9.00

"Dole & Kom are by no means strangers to the scene. The masterminds behind the BCC Label and known under the guises Studio 45, Disco Doggies and BCCrew, they have proved to be a mainstay in today's disco-house community or as they call like to call what they do 'House Couture'. Beyond that, Dole & Kom have remixed dozens of the finest including Green Velvet, Mfon and José Nuez and their music can be found on Formaldehyde, Azuli, Lost Vegas, Definity and of course BCC."

FORCED EXPOSURE:

LAUGHNER, PETER: "Cinderella Backstreet"/"White Light White Heat" 7" (FE 006). $3.50

70s genius preserved.

LESTER AND HIS PALS, PEP: The Mathematical Genius Of Pep Lester 2LP (FE 010). $10.00

An insanelly detailed document of one man against the world, for just pennies a minute. Each copy comes with a personalized footprint by Mr. Lester; close to o/p.

CRYSTALIZED MOVEMENTS: Dog. Tree. Satellite Seers... LP (FE 011). $8.00

Limited reissue of their 2nd LP from '87.

CRAWLSPACE/MOOSEHEART FAITH: "On The Tide"/"Hook In The Gray" 7" (FE 013). $3.00

Weird, long & darkly rumbling tracks from a recent studio free-improv session featuring the basic Crawlspac lineup (two guitars/bass/drums + Eddie Flowers/vocals), with the addition of Mooseheart's Todd Homer on old-style primitive synth whirl and L. Robinson on banjo and perc.

MILLER, ROGER: LP (FE 014). $7.00

Roger's reigning post-Burma moment; basement 4-track recordings of unknown-tongue space psych, ecstatically rendered.

SAUTER/DON DIETRICH/THURSTON MOORE, JIM: Barefoot In The Head CD (FE 015). $13.00

Long awaited reissue of this classic late 80's collaboration between the 2 sax players in Borbetomagus (Sauter & Dietrich) and Sonic Youth's Thurston Moore. Five extended tracks of guitar/sax/sax improvisational interplay, recorded in NYC in June, 1988. We first issued this as an LP-only in 1990, but it has been o/p for a number of years (a CD version was licensed by Shock UK and briefly available, but has been long o/p as well). "This is one mind-fuck of a noise-fest. Imagine if Metal Machine Music-era Lou Reed had been invited to Brotzmann's Machine Gun sessions. You're still not close. Likes beasts of burden locked to a single axis, the circles the trinity treads shaft deep, inside which they explode depth charges which reverberate to the core of your being. Now and again one might pull away to release heart piercing shrieks into the foul night. Truly tremendous." —Biba Kopf/The Wire.

LOVE CHILD: Plays Moondog 7" (FE 020). $3.00

A tribute to the legendary NY street musician, Louis Hardin, a/k/a Moondog. Includes six beautiful minutes of droning-mantra guitars on "All Is Loneliness" and three more.

MANNING, BARBARA: "Don't Let It Bring You Down"/"Haze Is Free" 7" (FE 021). $3.00

Gorgeous stun-folk strum-ice-psych.

DOC WOR MIRAN: Quickly Skitzo 7" (FE 027). $3.00

Joseph Raimond and his myriad pals team up with the unstoppable fuzz-guitar-slop genius of the German "Drunken King" Eric Hyster for this remarkable release of twelve-plus minutes of falling-down-a-flight-of stairs wonder. Numerous guests (including Sylvia Juncosa), nice sleeve with 12 page art-booklet designed by the band (available on mail order copies only), 600 copies made.

HAINO, KEIJI: Exercitation That Accept To Acknowledge CD (FE 032). $13.00

The first domestic release by Japan's leading underground guitarist. Haino's emergence over the last few years, via an avalanche of material on the Japanese PSF label, both with his amazing rock trio Fushitsusha and in solo format, has been one of the major events of the new decade. This CD is a live solo recording, with just guitar and vocals, and like all other Haino material (they're all different and yet in some ways the "same") touches emotional transcendence with unidentifiable power.

NEIL/RICHARD/SIMON/STEWART: Durian Durian LP (FE 033). $8.00

Somewhat of a follow up to Ceausescu, with two "members" of the free improv UK collective A Band added. Four "sides" of random input guitar, ring modulation, percussion, tapes, tones, silences, drone, moan (& much more) are compressed down to 2 sides, resulting in some pretty beautifully disorienting listening.

KOUSOKUYA: Ray Night 1991-1992 Live CD (FE 034). $13.00

First ever CD by this legendary and ultra-obscure Japanese psychedelic rock group. Kousokuya are from Tokyo, have donated some spectacular tracks to the first two volumes of the Tokyo Flashback compilation series on the PSF label, and self-released an extremely ltd. LP in 1991. The band has been around for quite some time; I originally was under the impression they formed around 1984, but was recently informed that an edition featuring Nanjo and Narita from High Rise existed going back to the late 70s!?. Either way, they've always been pretty lo-profile, but this CD at least shines a bit of light on their extended, heavy guitar sound. An early press release for the bands describes them well: "The band name Kousokuya means 'a ray night.' Since 1984 they have been playing their own high volume heavy driven avant-garde psychedelic music. Kaneko, he always plays guitar with full of feedback. One of the outstanding guitar players in the underground scene. No one can play guitar like him. Mick, she plays bass and is also main vocalist. She sings like an angle flying from the other side of the this world. Takahashi, he plays drums and percussion. He had previously played many other free formed rock music." 69 minutes of expansive psychedelic nirvana.

YOUNGS, RICHARD: New Angloid Sound LP (FE 035). $12.00

A ltd. split release between FE and Richard's label No Fans Records. Records were pressed in the US; Richard block printed the covers by hand. This is breathtakingly intimate all-solo studio recording of classical guitar, voice and kazoo.

DREDD FOOLE: In Quest Of Tense CD (FE 038). $13.00

Dredd Foole is the name used to designate the music of Boston-area vocal/guitar artist Dan Iretton. He used to lead a band under the name Dredd Foole & the Din, recording two great, mostly neglected albums in the 80s for labels known as Homestead and PVC. It was commonly known that his band was one of the only Boston bands worth seeing post-Mission of Burma (who backed him up actually, as the original Din, on his debut single in 1982). Those records were fine for the time, but they hardly captured the full intensity-scope of the 1st-gen post-VU/Tooges blare of that band in their prime. In the late 80s Dan wisely abandoned the rock band format and has sporadically been performing a series of breathtaking shows in the otherwise ready-to-be-nuked-today local "club scene" ever since. Sometimes solo acoustic, sometimes with percussion, electric slide guitar or violin accompaniment, he sings with one of the most electrifying post-Tim Buckley vocal chords ever heard, and his concept of multiphonic non-traditional folk music with apocalyptic come-down power-appeal has finally been documented with this long overdue release. A masterpiece of personal trance-sound-vision & legitimate psychedelic space-whisper revelations, at your command.

FORCED EXPOSURE #18: MAG (FE#18). $5.00

Most recent issue. The largest ever, at 148 pages, and is perfect bound. It features a full color self-portrait painting by New Zealand's Chris Knox on the cover (of the Tall Dwarfs, etc.) Inside is the longest, most detailed interview ever published with Knox, which pretty much covers the entire history of rock-music related culture. Other features include: an interview w/ Boyd Rice, long novel excerpt by Richard Meltzer on San Diego peep shows, fiction by Charlie Goucher Jr. (of the Sun City Girls), fiction by Scott Mulrane, and a very extensive review section (of records, books, videos, etc).

FORKBENDER (UK):

GELLER, URI: CD (FORK 1 CD). $15.00

"Uri Geller is known by millions for his extraordinary mental abilities. He has created fervent admiration (Prince Charles, the Pope, President Clinton, David Frost, George Harrison are all friends) and sparked violent controversy ever since he became a worldwide figure in the 1970s. This album originally appeared in the 70s, resulting from poems and song texts where Uri expressed his thoughts and feelings about human beings, life, love, and the universe. Del Newman (arranger for Paul Simon, Elton John, Paul McCartney) composed half of the tracks and arranged them all. Maxine Nightengale sings vocals on 'This Girl Of Mine' and 'A Story To Tell'. This is relational to the lounge-psych universe, especially the cosmic album closer, "Mood". Listen to this record deeply enough and maybe you too can develop feelings that just can't be hurt (just like Jimmy Carter).

FORM & FUNCTION (GERMANY):

DUBUCCANEERZ: Godeke/Grobschnitt 12" (F&F 029). $8.00

"Second single for this duo influenced by "the Berlin Basic Channel/Maurizio/Rhythm&Sound-Empire, King Tubby, the Cologne-based Kompakt-Sound, Lee Perry, Richie Hawtin, Adrian Sherwood and On-U-Sound, the Icelandic Thule-label, Mad Professor or Steve O'Sullivan with his Bluetrain-imprint". "Godeke", the first track, shows Dubuccaneerz on the road to Cologne. It's a floorfiller that reminds you on one hand of the sexy Modernist-tracks by Jörg Burger, on the other hand of Detroit-classics like Robert Hood. "Godeke" is plastic-disco in a modern style, that spits out its energy in the form of sparse placed feedback-delays. "Grobschnitt", the B-side, is Dubuccaneerz' version of Cologne-style 'stumble-funk' as it was made famous by J.Paape or the Voigt-brothers. Like 'Morgan', the track was recorded spontaneously. Originally intended as a dj-tool, its percussive loops go directly into the brain."

FORMACENTRIC DISK (NEW ZEALAND):

ROBERTS, DEAN: Moth Park: Soundtracks To Utopia CD (FORMA 001). $11.00

A release from New Zealand's Dean Roberts, whose previous projects included the now defunct Thela (2 full length CDs on Ecstatic Peace) and the White Winged Moth. This new work for solo electric guitar and atmosphere has been released under the name Moth Park, as the debut release on Dean's new label, Formacentric Disk. Incorporating drone, sound-sculpture and a post-AMM sense of air-piercing magnitude, this marks Dean's most fully realized insight into the world of hovering space/sound yet. A classic of contemporary emotional minimalism in a league of it's own. "His musical activities came into appearance in 1994 while studying with Philip Dadson (Scratch Orchestra/From Scratch) at the University of Auckland. During this period he began developing his work primarily with the electric guitar employing preparations and extended techniques. The facility of this meta-language is prevalent through a back catalog of obscure and not-so releases spanning some 7 albums, a guitar style that dominated his solo project White Winged Moth and the dissolved Thela, a band that he lead and composed for from '93 to '96. This new album is made up of solo guitar improvisations from 1997 recorded in crystalline fidelity by Travis Hefferen. The album is a concise and definitive exploration into the harmonically fluorescent electric guitar style developed on previous recordings. Within the form of 4 soundtrack pieces, this dense and colorful work narrates 45 minutes of intricacy, control, and displays a uniquely modernist approach to an instrument killed and brought back to life. This album shares an ethos and alignment to developmental work of instrument de-constructivists on the Frith/Reichel/Mark Hewins/Remko Scha axis, though a pragmatic approach gives way, and is balanced by an underlying narrative thread." — Phillip Browne.

WHITE WINGED MOTH: Ribbon Arcade CD (FORMA 003). $11.00

"Recorded in early 1998, this album is the first wide release by this project since the album released in '96 on Poon Village. The solo project of Dean Roberts, this album is a radical departure from his solo album of last year 'Moth Park' and a developmental progression on ideas hinted at on previous albums and in his work with the band Thela. Recorded in digital, this album explores dynamic editing and assemblage of improvisational material generated via percussion, prepared guitars, cello and micro to macro electro acoustic audio worlds. A cohesive example of the melding of preparation and improvisation, the thematic flow of this detailed sound design is shrouded in the magnetic electric glow and fluorescent tone color that make Roberts' recordings some of the most defined and singular explorations coming out of New Zealand or anywhere. The cyclical arrangements glide through shifts defined by long and lingering tones, cross-fades/edits to squalls of Cello to subdued guitar and percussion. Spatial dynamics and sound fidelity dominate. This work aggressively re-defines/re-assesses the shapes and forms of an audio language that is truly unique. While Ribbon Arcade is White Winged Moth's master opus of self definition, it is also a extreme departure from previous work and suggests a great new world of possibilities in new and untapped realms of sound." —Phillip Browne

FORTE (GERMANY):

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: N.O.T.L.D. Remixes 12" (FORTE 002). $9.00

"Features mixes of said track by Claude Young (Utensil/DOW/Acacia/Frictional/7th City/Emissions Audio Output/Djax-Up Beats/Elypsia/Studio IK7/Muller/Surface/Urban Substance recording artist, 2nd-gen Detroit legend), Richard Bartz (Kurbel, Kanzleramt, Disko B recording artist, techno legend), and Morgenstern himself (Kurbel, Kanzleramt, Konsequent, and now Forte recording artist) in a lean, stripped down floor-filling style.

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: Death Before Disko CD (FORTE 003 CD). $16.00

"After releasing several records on labels like Kurbel, Konsequent, Kanzleramt and Creation Rebel during the past 2 years, Christian Morgenstern now comes up with his first album on his own Forte label. Death Before Disko ranges from funky, pumping post-psychotic techno tracks featuring Latin-house like grooves towards weird atmospheric listening music. Mainly using vintage equipment and tube amplifiers from the early 80s, Christian Morgenstern managed to created an incredibly smooth, silky and fat sound."

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: The Lydia EP CD (FORTE 004 CD). $16.00

Second full length on Forte for Morgenstern, following Death Before Disko. A very appealing mixture of techno monotrax, more minimalist driven than his prior release, more maximalist, club-acceptable than other Cologne contemporaries. The highlight is a track entitled "Girls Got Rhythm" — even more piledriving than the AC DC tune of nearly-the-same name. Packaged in a digipak sleeve, with fold-out comic.

URAL 13 DIKTATORS: Total Destruction CD (FORTE 007 CD). $18.00

"Pretty kickin' new full length by DJs Lauri Pitkanen and Lauri Vertanin on Christian Morgenstern's Forte imprint. Below is an excerpt from an interview with Pitkanen and one DJ Tsukasa Kato, which does more to flesh out the Diktators sound and philosophy than I could ever hope to. Q: "Please tell me about your profile." A: "We come from Helsinki, Finland that is located in the between of Russia and Western Europe. Because we have grown up with really different musical influences like Hi-NRG disco and Russian folk songs our music has been formed to something that is recognized around the world as Sound Of Helsinki. Currently we're working heavily on our own label Ural 13 Records but also with other international labels such as Low Spirit, Forte Records and Rapture just to name a few. What you guys probably have heard before about Finland is the moonin characters." Q: "What is the meaning of 'Ural 13 Diktators'?" A: "The people who these days live in Helsinki are originally from the Russian Ural Mountains. Ural 13 is a large crew that is ruled by us, the diktators. Number 13 is our lucky number." Q: "You always look like soldier on your artist photos. Does it mean something or nothing?" A: "The clothes give our live appearances more colour and atmosphere. Military clothes describing the hard kicking techno sounds of our music and the pink colour the disco atmosphere on it. We also feel comfortable wearing these uniforms as we both have served in the Finnish army's elite forces." Q: "Now in Japanese club scene, 80's Disco sounds: Patrick Cowley, Divine (Bobby O), Sylvester and Man Parrish ... are estimated again. I think you have a great interest in 80's disco sound. What is the different between this sound and URAL 13 Diktators' sound?" A: "For us those cult Hi-NRG producers of 80s are the true inventors and innovators of electric dance music. They invented techno like it's known today: straight mechanic beats and percussion with futuristic synthetic sound with progressive and repetitive structure. Patrick Cowley's tragic death in November, 1982 was a great loss to modern dance music and maybe because of that the Detroit based producers got the status of techno inventors in the minds of many people. We give great respect to the creators of Hi-NRG music but our music takes influences also from the melancholic Russian and Finnish folk songs. These elements mixed with modern techno we are proud to call sound of Helsinki." Q: "Lastly send a message to Japanese." A: "80s Hi-NRG is Still alive. Join the Party!"

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: Hawaii Blue CD (FORTE 009CD). $17.00

"This album can be seen as a further step in Morgenstern's development towards musicality and songwriting. Still inhabiting his very unique style, this mixture of smooth and elegant sounds and a twisted tech-house moodiness, Hawaii Blue combines a range of various styles and influences not heard before on one album. Unlike his rather dark and moody double 12" The Lydia EP from 1999, this album for the first time reveals Morgenstern's true musical origin: the 80s. Far from retro-cliches, he combines influences from the good of time with state of the art sound and ambience.

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: Hawaii Blue 2LP (FORTE 009LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

URAL 13 DIKTATORS: Total Destruction Remixes 12" (FORTE 011). $9.00

Four track remix EP, featuring remixes by DMX Krew, The Bikini Machine and 2 Ural 13 Diktators remakes. Original tracks taken from the Finnish electro smash album Total Destruction.

DR. SHINGO: Dr. Shingo's Space Odd-yssey CD (FORTE 018 CD). $18.00

"The outstanding space-post-trance-hiNRG-videogames-electro-funk-ad venture presented by James No.1 Spacerocker Dr. Shingo. Shingo comes from Tokyo/Japan, his musical career started in his earliest childhood as a multiinstrumentalist (piano, guitar, trombone, trumpet...). After studying at the Yamaha Music Academy he moved to Boston in 1997 to study guitar and classical composition at the Berkley College of Music. There he got in touch with electronic music from bands like Kraftwerk etc.. Overwhelmed by the new possibilities of composition and sounddesign which were yet to discover he decided to go back to Japan. From this moment on he works as a DJ and starts to compose/produce techno music. feat. 'Smells Like Teen Spirit' and 'Death Before Disko'." Includes remixes by: Ural 13 Diktators and Takkyu Ishino.

DR. SHINGO: Dr. Shingo's Space Odd-yssey 2LP (FORTE 018 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

VA: It's Not Just About Skiing 2 CD (FORTE 020 CD). $16.00

"It's not just about skiing features several unreleased tracks/mixes and gives an insight on the Forte Records repertoire of the past year and a look ahead on the things to come in 2003. The CD layout was designed by the Colognean artist The Travelling Bombadils. This is the first part of the series, the compilation mainly features the 'most wanted' tracks of the Forte Records backcatalogue, which have merely been released on vinyl."

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: The Socially Useless EPI/Wasn't You 12" (FORTE 027). $9.00

"Christian Morgenstern is back with a high-tech real Neo-disko piece, that is the sure shot feet-shuffler for this summer. 'Wasn't you' is the first track from the upcoming Christian Morgenstern album."

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: Carolea CD (FORTE 028 CD). $16.00

"Surprisingly and totally unexpected Christian Morgenstern died on the 17th of June, 2003 because of a sudden cardiac arrest. He was a producer and the label manager of Forte Records, his own company. Until his sudden death he worked full time and as if possessed on his new album which was scheduled to be released in September 2003 — as if he knew that he wouldn't have much time. This album has been the most personal thing he left behind. He switched musical styles again, turning to more song-like structures in his music. For the first time he worked with partners, vocalists Gesa Schwietering and Egmont Badini, both close friends from Cologne, Germany. Christian wasn't able to finish the album, but he got really far with the tracks released here, most of them he finished, some of them have to be understood as sketches. With the help of his close friends his musical legacy could be saved for his fans."

MORGENSTERN, CHRISTIAN: Carolea 2LP (FORTE 028 LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

FORWARD (NETHERLANDS):

SIERRA ROMEO: 12" (FWD 2001). $9.00

"This is a 12" record containing 4 tracks; melodies, abstract rhythms and a pleasure for your eardrums. All tracks written and produced by Stefan Robbers. A brief introduction of Stefan Robbers aka Sierra Romeo. Straight from Eindhoven, his home for the past 30 years, comes Stefan Robbers, producer of electronic music in it's broadest form. FWD Label owner Stefan Robbers has released many items during the last 10 years, and is active under several names including Acid Junkies, Terrace and Florence on his own Eevo Lute imprint. For FWD he created a new name, Sierra Romeo, to go along with his new music. Pure minimalist, yet melodic electronic listening music is the proper explanation for his creations for this release."

SIERRA ROMEO: Distbra 12" (FWD 2003). $9.00

"Second EP from Stefan Robbers for his own FWD label. Four tracks in varying experimental styles; Gescom-y machine polyrhythms & drones, digital cut up hip hop, to blissed out ambient chord patterns with digital grit. The entire B side is rather pleasing with its wafting overtones and gklitchsounds. A rather nice pearl in the recent wave of IDMurk." — Hrvatski.

SAINT 13: 12" (FWD 2101). $9.00

"Saint 13 is the latest imprint from Chris Jeely, also known as Accelera Deck and responsible for the earlier FWD release Disquieting under that name. His new release brings a more subtle, emotional approach to his musical expressions, yet maintaining the unorthodox and alienating sounds that made Accelera Deck stand out in the past. This EP contains four longer, hypnotizing songs that will grow only stronger on you over time."

FOUNDRY (UK):

AUSGANG: Electric-arc CD (FR 004 CD). $15.00

"Four young sonic navigators in search of a way out. This is the debut album of the most interesting rock experimentalists since Wire and Neu! downed tools and Can fell prey to the fusion bug and stopped being interesting. In an era when post-rock tentatively toys with sound ad if its never been tried before, Ausgang cut straight to the quick and remind us what its all about."

ELECTRIC SOUND OF JOY: CD (FR 005 CD). $15.00

"The new slimline, definitely instrumental Electric Sound of Joy return with their debut full length on Foundry Recordings. The Midlands-based quartet further explore their seamless synthesis of electronica and pop on this self-titled 8-tracker. Just as likely to admit a love for New Wave as to acknowledge a nod to Neu!, ESOJ are a band who embrace the notion of melody and revel in the emotional directness of a very live rhythm section and wayward guitars."

LYONS, ZAN: Warring Factions CD (FR 006 CD). $9.00

"Digital Hardcore meets Plaid meets Third Eye Foundation, this is only the second release by Zan Lyons and already he's been dragged into meet most discerning labels." Written and produced by Zan Lyons, with additional sounds courtesy of Rothko.

LYONS, ZAN: Desolate CD (FR 007 CD). $17.00

"Debut LP from this Bristol-based DJ/sound designer after an EP for the Foundry label (Warring Factions) and a very recent (if not imminent even) split 10" with Immense on the Spoil label. He's also remixed/collaborated with Rothko. But that's just for background cred. What's concerned most here is a stark, almost gothic take on repetitive, distorted looped sound(s). I'd say it had more to do with Coil than anyone from the DHR set (to which he endlessly gets linked both in print and in live settings). But then there's this vocalist on a few tracks that makes the whole veer into this sort of Tricky/Massive Attack thing. Which is understandable given the Bristol connection and actually works pretty well. An up and comer/promising new voice in the UK avant-electronics scene, well warrants further investigation." — Hrvatski.

LYONS, ZAN: Desolate LP (FR 007 LP). $13.00

"Vinyl limited to 1000 copies."

ELECTRIC SOUND OF JOY: Daughters of Destruction CD (FR 008 CD). $9.00

"Opening track 'Daughters of Destruction' captures the band in a contemplative mood, with naggingly familiar low-end rhythms and analog melodies set against carefully placed strings to striking effect, while the reverb-drenched guitars of 'Berdo' evoke a macabre dancehall waltz much in contrast to the new wave funk of 'Disemboogie'."

FOURTH DIMENSION (UK):

GEROGERIGEGERE: Life Documents 7" (FD 42). $5.00

1995 release by this Japanese husband & wife duo who are widely regarded for bringing The Captain & Tennielle influence to Japan. Buy 50 copies and win a free boat.

NULL, K.K.: Flying Serpent 10" (FD 46). $6.00

Nice looking clear wax 10" pack; solo guitar work from Null. Reduced price.

NULL, KAZUYUKI K.: Ultimate Material II 2LP (FD 49). $16.00

More exhausting solo guitar mania, in an elaborate full color gatefold sleeve. "...striding between an extra-sensory overload of blistering gtr treatments and highly evocative texturescapes that glide directly to the outer reaches of some distant, twilight-smeared, celestial plane."

JAWORZYN, STEFAN: Lick My Pussy, Will Montgomery 10" (FD 54). $6.00

The Ascension guitarist, solo live in the UK 1996. Reduced price.

MOORE/TOM SURGAL, THURSTON: Not Me CD (FD 57 CD). $6.00

CD version, same tracks as the previous 10", 22 minutes long. "Two exclusive cuts, recorded in early 1996, that spiral around a semi-improvisational axis of subtle gtr manipulations, light percussion (courtesy of the Blue Humans' Tom Surgal) and an electrifying sense of unease that is wrapped in as much beauty as it is in tape hiss."

A.M.P. STUDIO: Unconscious Country CD (FD 61 CD). $15.00

"Released as an aside to the debut album, Zygy and imminent second album proper (which will be released by Ochre), Unconscious Country comprises two lengthy excursions through realms simultaneously beautiful and restless. Curdled synth lines, rolls of iridescence, contoured tones, neon pulses, tidal dissonance, heaving drum loops, and the sound of a distant world spinning off its axis, all combine to create a remarkable reshaping of the Amp/A.M.P. studio canon. Rife with contrasts, this album reveals an underbelly of new possibilities wholly recommended to the more discerning ear."

MERZBOW: SCSI Duck CD (FD 66). $15.00

"Latest album from Japan's premier Japanese artist, the highly prolific Masami Akita, delivering what he does best over four cuts (lasting approx. 1 hour total). Electronic drizzle, curdled howl, blasted textures, factory clatter & violent waveforms hemmed in by a somewhat more structured approach than is often the case. Complete with full colour packaging throughout, SCSI Duck makes both a suitable addition to any collector of Masami's work and a strong & inviting starting-point for newcomers. SCSI Duck continues Fourth Dimension's occasional but longstanding championing of Japan's far-reaching noise/experimental/electronics artists (with previous releases by null, Hijokaidan, the Gerogerigegege and Tabata to prove it)...and the relationship certainly won't end here."

COSMONAUTS HAIL SATAN: Bizarre and Tortuous Rituals of the Primitive World 7" (FD SDR 001). $5.00

Lo-ball retardio sludge with "found" vocals on top. Or something. Not really on Fourth Dimension but close enough. Buy twenty copies and win a free button.

FRACTAL (FRANCE):

WAKHEVITCH, IGOR: Donc... 6CD (FRAC 002). $90.00

A much desired 6CD retrospective boxset of the 70s electronic albums by legendary French composer Igor Wakhevitch. This reissues all of his major albums from the 70s: Logos (1970), Docteur Faust (1971), Hathor (1974), Les Fous D'Or (1975), Nagual (1977) & Let's Start (1979), all originally issued by Pathé-Marconi/EMI (except the 4th one, which came out on French Atlantic). These albums are all terribly difficult to come by for quite some time and this box set will have a major impact in terms of re-introducing Wakhevitch to the contemporary underground/experimental audience. Packaged in a small box, with fold-out poster depicting all the original covers & booklet of notes (all in French, unfortunately); limited to 500 sets. Strange surrealist atmospheres abound on these albums, but it's been a bit much to take it all in and differentiate them all so far... "An early associate of the Soft Machine and Terry Riley, Wakhevitch later went on to work with Carolyn Carlson producing music for many of her stage presentations. His music contains many creative elements — spatial electronics, neo-chamber music themes, exotic ethnic influences and much more, all fused into a unique blend of instrumental tone colors. Like fellow composers Rene Aubry and Henry Torque, Wakhevitch's music transcends the limitations of any genre, instead creating its own unique sonic space." —Archie Patterson. The following is a quote from the Swans website: "The most astonishing music I have heard in some years is the new Box Set of Igor Wakhevitch — 6 CDs, from 1970 -79. Amazing approach to sound, from classical to experimental, psychedelia to film music. Ominous and beautiful, then clamorous and Wagnerian. At some points it sounds like contemporary electronic music, then shifts seamlessly into a full classical orchestra. You must buy this." — M. Gira.

SEIKAZOKU: Out Takes '66 — '78 CD (FRAC 003). $15.00

"Blatantly mis-monikered outing (recorded in 1996) by this new supergrouping of Tatsuya Yoshida (Ruins/Musica Transonic/Koenjiyakkei), Makoto Kawabata (Toho Sara/Mainliner/Musica Transonic) and Atsushi Tsuyama (Omoide Hatoba). A welcome re-entry to the field of +12 dB analogue overload (lacking on certain recent 'new-japan' sessions) and improv-psych-stumble featuring at least 20 different instruments in varied settings. Some unexpected passages of Moog-flash and power drumming counter sedate sections of Toho-Sara-ish eastern sun-god-altar virgin-sacrifice. A grand jostle to existing fans of this somewhat daunting scene of Japanese heavy-fumble, and a novel entry for the uninitiated." —Hrvatski. "Seikazoku is playing improvisation between progressive, psychedelic rock and modern, traditional music. Featuring 16 tracks, with drums, bass, guitar Hammond organ, Rhodes, Moog, piano, percussions, oboe, kazoo, bouzouki, sarangi, violin, hyoutan yamisen and voices. Full of ideas, effects and energy: a real new sound from Japan."

HIGH RISE: Durophet CD (FRAC 005). $15.00

"Eighth album by Japanese master heavy psych-rock. Recorded live in Paris during their first tour outside Japan (USA, UK, France) in Oct/Nov 1998, celebrating their 15 years birthday." "Recent live recordings (Le Garage, Paris, November 3, 1998) by this Tokyo-based revolving-door-combo/"Truck-Of-Fire", successively run through the sonic decimator to attain that 'La Musica? Ring!'. Most recent lineup (as on Desperado includes Shoji Hano (Drums), as well as staples Munehiro Narita (Guitar) and Asahito Nanjo (Bass, Vox). Creeping up to some new stellar peaks in the decade long continuum of meter-channel-challenge (even the audience of five are 'in the red') and manic 5-minute rave-ups w/constant wah-post-overdrive-in-the-signal-chain guitar epilepsy. Features all new renderings classic High Rise chestnuts like 'Psychedelic Speed Freaks', 'Mainliner', and 'Turn You Cry'. A sure bet to eke out all those damn 'electronic minimalists'. This music never sounded fresher/more relevant. Blown." — Hrvatski

CENTER OF THE WORLD: Live 1972 CD (FRAC 006). $15.00

"This legendary quartet had been created in 1972 by the famous free jazz saxophonist, and now defunct, Reverend Frank Wright [with Muhammed Ali (drums), Bobby Few (piano) and Alan Silva (contrabasse, cello)]. This is the first album of the band recorded live in Rotterdam and originally released by the French cult label Sun Records. An extraordinary explosive set of 40 minutes! Reissued for the first time on CD +2 bonus tracks (Frank Wright Quartet: unreleased live versions from 1978). The original album was recorded live in Rotterdam Doelen, March 26, 1972. Absolutely screamingly bananas free form euphoria from the peak of the American/European exchange."

CENTER OF THE WORLD: Last Polka In Nancy CD (FRAC 007). $15.00

"Second album, also originally released by Sun Records. Another masterpiece recorded live in Nancy, Jazz Pulsations Festival 1973, by this great quartet (Muhammed Ali, Bobby Few, Alan Silva and Reverend Frank Wright), including 5 tracks. Reissued for the first time on CD. +1 long bonus track (Frank Wright Quartet: unreleased live version from 1978)."

BULTEAU, MICHEL: Rinçures CD (FRAC 008). $15.00

"A brand new album by Michel Bulteau (Mahogany Brain leader, French underground 70's) + Jean François Paurvos on guitar and Ernie Brooks on bass." Bulteau dead-pan various texts over a richly detailed, post-Sonic Youth field of ambient guitar wash from Paurvos. A very impressive update on the lost French underground spirit, strange and dark, filmic. It's been a couple decades since Mahogany Brain's Smooth Sick Lights, but this is a most acceptable follow up.

DOYLE/SUNNY MURRAY, ARTHUR: Dawn of a New Vibration CD (FRAC 009). $15.00

"New studio album recorded in France (March 8, 2000) by two free jazz legends: Arthur Doyle (tenor saxophone, flute, vocal) and Sunny Murray (drums). Six tracks. Total playing time: 60 minutes." From Dan Warburton's liner notes: "If there can be such a thing as 'relaxed intensity', then Doyle's playing on Dawn embodies it: his extended exploration of tiny melodic ideas on 'Giblets 3' leads him (perfectly organically) to playful Persian Market quotations, while his 'Nature Boy' serves to remind us that free jazz is not only the angry urban heat of titanic tenormen blowing their horns to pieces — it is also the pastoral tenderness of Marion Brown, the nightfall intimacy of Bill Dixon. Doyle's gently darting flute lines recall the conversations with the birds of Sam Rivers and Eric Dolphy. Ever ready to acknowledge the influence of gospel and soul (you should know that Doyle once also worked with Gladys Knight and Donny Hathaway...), it's not surprising that the human voice ultimately prevails here."

ILITCH: Periodikmindtrouble 2CD (FRAC 012). $19.00

"Periodikmindtrouble is Ilitch's (a.k.a. Thierry Muller) first album, released on Oxygène Rec. in 1978. This reissue present for the first time the complete works of Periodikmindtrouble such as it had been conceived and should be released at that time: as a double LP. So, here it is as a double CD (including a 12 pages color booklet) with the following musical works: the album Periodikmindtrouble in its entirety, plus the complete recordings of Innerfilmsequence, plus the unreleased track 'Ballades urbaines', plus some archives from 1974 as bonus tracks (total time : 146 minutes). Thierry Muller is a French guitarist, who has made three LPs : Periodikmindtrouble (1978), 10 Suicides (1980), Polaroid/Roman/Photo (1985). The music is electronic, experimental, harsh, repetitive, personal and can be compare with Brian Eno, Robert Fripp, Cluster, Conrad Schnitzler, Kraftwerk, Terry Riley, Philip Glass, Heldon, Lard Free. Unfortunately unrecognized in France (even not mention in the booklet introduction of the 3CD Box set French compilation 30 Years Of Musical Insurrection In France 1968-1998 ...!), Ilitch did not fall in the ear of a deaf person, because it is not by accident if Thierry Muller appears on the famous 'list' by Steven Stapleton/Nurse With Wound on Chance meeting... (1979)!"

ILITCH: 10 Suicides 2CD (FRAC 013). $19.00

"10 Suicides is Ilitch's second album from 1980. This remastered reissue on a double CD present on disc one, the entire album of 10 suicides, plus the track 'Culture' from the single of the art magazine Sgraffite 5/6 (1980). The second disc bonus present the complete 'Coma Programma' session. With a 20 pages booklet including the original vinyl booklet. The 10 compositions of this concept album sounds like a real hymn to suicide, and is in fact a logic suite to the first album Periodikmindtrouble, but with more maturity, ideas in his construction and more various instruments used: vocoder guitar, sequencer, synthesizer, bass, saxophone, piano, harmonium, noise, treatments, vocals. Thierry Müller suggest as well a music to make anxious, of the sensory isolation which oscillates between after-punk and nihilist new wave. Original. The complete 'Coma Programma' session is a total invasion in the realm of Krautrock. Deep cosmic trippy sounds by Patrick & Thierry Müller (respectively EMS & treated guitar), live recordings in Paris '76, '77 & '78. 50 minutes of highly well inspired improvised music."

RUTH: Polaroid/Roman/Photo CD (FRAC 014). $15.00

"Remastered CD reissue of the third album of Thierry Müller (aka Ilitch) released in 1985 under the name of Ruth, with a 16 pages booklet (which includes the original vinyl booklet), plus three bonus tracks: two versions of 'Polaroid/roman/photo' from 1982 & 1984 and a remix track by L'Orchestra Inachevé (aka Patrick Müller and Laurent Saïet). Ruth is a 10 musicians collective, led by Thierry Müller: Marc Duconseille (saxophones flutes), Gérard Nouvel (trumpet), Pascal Morrow: violin, Parice Gillaumat: drums, Frédéric Lapiere: words vocals chorus, Frédéric Cambron: vocals, Christine Snabre et Mika Tesserech: chorus, Philippe Doray: words, Thierry Müller: guitar synthesizers organ sequencer vocals words. 'Polaroid/roman/photo' is a relax mood erotic-melodic-synthe-80's pop, very musical and structured album, with fine arrangements, closed to Kraftwerk early 80's period. Also, includes a clever cover of 'She brings the rain' by Can."

XENAKIS, IANNIS: Musique Electro-Acoustique CD (FRAC 015). $15.00

"CD premieres of two mid-80s works: "Pour La Paix" (1981) and "Voyage Des Unari Vers Andromède" (1989), both utilizing the UPIC system quite heavily [refer to the recent Xenakis/UPIC/Continuum release Electroacoustic & Instrumental Works from CCMIX Paris (MODE 98) for extended references to this zany lightpen-computer-pattern-sound-zapping/interpreti ng setup]. 'Pour La Paix' is a piece in radio-play form (see Cage/Patchen The City Wears a Slouch Hat) based around anti-war sentiment written by Iannis's wife Francois, perhaps reflecting on Iannis's youth spent as a soldier in the Greek resistance against the Nazi occupation (during which he lost sight in one of his eyes). A very powerful work mixing some very far-out UPIC computer blat (the most omnipresent element in the piece), various voices male and female, and choral interjections. 'Voyage Des Unari Vers Andromède' is a 2-channel piece constructed solely of UPIC elements, and was composed specifically for the Goethe Institute in Japan's 'Internation Exposition of Paper Kites'. Apparently concerned with 'a space voyage far in the future, toward the galaxy of Andromeda, with episodes while crossing the spaces between the stars'. An apt and telling libretto (shine on... you CRAZY diamond...), just imagine that couplet in sound and you're halfway there. Awesomely outrageously great." — Hrvatski.

FILLE QUI MOUSSE: Se Taire Pour Une Femme Trop Belle CD (FRAC 016). $15.00

First fully authorized reissue of this legendary album, previously issued by Mellow and Spalax. Fille Qui Mousse ("Girl With Froth"??) is one the most mythical albums from France. Recorded in 1971, it was only issued as a test pressing by the historic Futura label. Often referred to as the French Faust, FQM's album mixed collage, psychedelic rock, surreal poetry, and organically tapped noise purity with the absolute best of experimental 70s rock-and-beyond. One of the essential reissues of the 70s rock underground. "Fille Qui Mousse is a mysterious French underground band from the early 70's, as virulent as Red Noise or Komintern. The story of a band with a unique and only album, originally planned on the Futura Records label, but never released officially. This is the very first official edition of the Fille Qui Mousse album (warning: the two previous 90's releases of that album were CDs bootlegs : full of mistakes, forget them!). All right informations and original documents on this edition in a 16 pages booklet : complete line up, right name of the tracks, dates, composers... and original documents never published before : original liner notes and original cover. Essential for all fans!" From Audion Magazine (#32): "Straight too, we plunge into that Faust structure...riffing with a psychedelic bent, hints of Gong too...we move into bizarrely constructed patterns of percussive sound and chopped-up rock music, and just as a musical focus takes shape it disappears. A poem, recited by a girl, over an urban landscape populated by numerous barking dogs then gives way to an intensely strange mangled web of sound that's almost brain numbing. And, yet more in the way of strangeness is a piano based piece that recalls some of Roger Doyle's early experiments. The only actual song has the most bizarre lyrics (in English) and is followed by an excursion in distorted and processed guitar. Next is where the folk music comes in, but even with gypsy violin FQM's interpretation of folk is strange and twisted. Finally, we return to the psychedelic jamming that opened the album, but with a jazzier edge, ending the album perfectly."

BERROCAL, JACQUES: Musiq Musik CD (FRAC 017). $15.00

"*THE LIST* alert (resultant bells and whistles contained herein). The debut album from Berrocal's 'Musik Ensemble' recorded between 1971 and 1972, originally released as part of the can-do-no-wrong Futura label's SON series. Featuring these three on — balloons, bells, cornet, cymbals, double horn, explosives, flute Shenai, Harmonium, Horn of Ramadan, Pakistani Horn, percussion(s), ropes, small bells, Tibetan Conch Shell, trombone, trumpet, various instruments, vocals, and whistles. One of the best multi-tiered progressions of group-mind thought-sound I've heard on record in...all time. I'll try to do it justice... 'Pièces à Lanam': clockwork innards —> Gamelan procession —> abrupt adjunct into a highland funeral/kif-smoke pow-wow/Swiss Mountain call —> short Sunny Murray-ish burble —> "Leila Concerto": raspy bird call w/bells & moan —> distant Sukaratan court ritual —> upturned chicken coop (fade) —> ancient God(s) evocated through solo flute —> contemporary city/street scene (EXPLOSIVES!) —> unison Ornette/Don head and out... 'Anonymous': tape-treated call to battle —> alarm clocks announce new day —> short Copland theme —> gestural horn wimpers & vocal stabs —> slow building tremelo reed organ (?) —> Gamelan/clock theme re-statement —> wolves howl in the moon-light —> VERY short ping-pong match —> buoy sounds offshore, lonely sailor on dock w/ squeeze-box —> "Cryptea": single insect loose in the rafters —> two ships grind steel stern-wise at port's entry—> Stuart Dempster's mating call —> new year's eve celebration interrupted by sandstorm —> return of Copland theme —> middle-eastern ruminations —> doorbell rings announcing —> an army of the dead marching through Jean Tinguely's omniverse —> and out... A truly magical journey, optionable by anyone with an ear and a dream. No wonder that Steven Stapleton... IT'S ON THE LIST! Amazing." — Hrvatski.

OHKAMI NO JIKAN: Mort Nuit CD (FRAC 018). $15.00

"Ohkami No Jikan is a Japanese psychedelic group led by Asahito Nanjo (vocal, guitar, bass, keyboards, composer, producer). Nanjo is the leader of many other groups, including High Rise, Musica Transonic and Toho Sara. Apart from Nanjo, the line-up is not fixed but varies according to the concept that the group is following at any particular time. Members of many Japanese underground groups, including Fushitsusha, Les Rallizes D'nuds, Toho Sara and Holy Angel have participated in Ohkami No Jikan, pursuing different musical approaches. Depending upon the members and concept the sound of this unique group varies dramatically, the one constant is the vibration created by Nanjo. As a psychedelic group that explores all music, from heavy, dark sounds to jazz, contemporary and experimental. Ohkami No Jikan occupies an important position in the Japanese underground scene. After only three tracks available on compilation (Tokyo Flashback 2 PSF, Japan: new psychedelic underground Manufacture Criminali & Live from the devil's triangle, Vol.2 KFJC-FM), Mort Nuit is their first album. They concentrate on the heaviness of minimal music: a dark group textures that psychedelise the gap between the silence of medieval music and the dynamism of 20th century composition."

MUSICA TRANSONIC: Hard Rock Transonic CD (FRAC 019). $15.00

"After three years of silence and 5 albums released by the Japanese label PSF, here is the brand new 6th album of Musica Transonic. Brilliant musical concept create in 1995 by Asahito Nanjo, and which can be describe as an heavy improvised rock group. Hard Rock Transonic have of course the sound trade mark of all Musica Transonic albums, but this one keeps an ultimate high tension till the beginning to the end, a no time to breathe experience. Hard speed music and exciting riff, in the vein of 'Alkimiya Uptight' (first track of the first album) but with a much more clearer mix !! In a way, a more raw and naked sound, in the 70's heavy rock spirit, but unveiled as the best all the monstrous rage and the dexterity of the musicians on this recording: ultra killer fuzz guitar (including some of the best solo of Makoto Kawabata's musical career !), perfect and powerful drums by Ruin's leader Tatsuya Yoshida. Deeply excessive and truly amazing."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE & THE MELTING PARADISE U.F.O.: Univers Zen Ou De Zéro à Zéro CD (FRAC 020). $15.00

"With 6 years of existence and already a rich discography, Acid Mothers Temple presents today their new studio album, and which is in fact the 6th of the band (after the three first on PSF, New geocentric world of AMT and Absolutely Freak-out — all others are considered by Makoto Kawabata himself, as AMT's special concept releases). Univers Zen ou de Zéro à Zéro is a full recording, with the 'whole world' of AMT...from spirit to love, freak-out psychedelia, cosmic folk, blues, humour... a great introduction for all new listeners, and maybe, for all fans, another magic mushroom treasure! Indeed, musically, it is probably one of their best achievements, including the demented opening track 'Electric Love Machine' (or how we see 40 years of acid rock!). But impossible to avoid the two magnum opus (of more than 20 min. each) forming the cornerstone of the album, and also the first studio version of the emblematic 'God bless AMT' and more... plenty of freaky guitars, space electronics, monster bass etc... and super revolution in Cotton super Casino's vocals: in almost all tracks, she sings ala Mady Gula Blue Heaven style, delicate, beauty, dreams. Special guest in this album, the great guitarist Hiroshi Narazaki (ex Les Rallizes Dénudés, Zuno Keisatsu, Port Cuss). Archangels thunderbird brings the New Rock from the cosmos..."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE: Univers Zen ou de Zéro A Zéro 4LP (FRAC 020412). $66.00

"Vinyl version 4 LPs set: Univers Zen ou de Zéro à Zéro triple album studio, the complete session with unreleased tracks + one bonus disc: Live In Europe 2002 with full color insert. Over 160 minutes."

VA: Amaterasu 2CD (FRAC 021). $32.00

"First volume of the Fractal Twin project (volume two is forthcoming). Amaterasu is a new themed concept Japanese compilation featuring: Mineko Itakura (Angel & Heavy Sirup), Kengo Iuchi, Makoto Kawabata (Acid Mothers Temple), Kousokuya, Jun Kuriyama (ex Ox), Miminokoto, Naoaki Miyamoto, Chie Mukai, Seiji Nagai (ex Taj Mahal Travellers), Overhang Party, Space Machine, Mitsuru Tabata (Zeni Geva, Leningrad Blues Machine), Totuszen Danball, Atsushi Tsuyama (Acid Mothers Temple, Omoide Hatoba), Masayoshi Urabe. Liner notes by Alan Cummings. 15 unreleased long tracks."

KNEAD: This Melting Happiness - I Want You To Realize That ... LP (FRAC 023). $26.00

...It Is Another Trap. "Knead is Keiji Haino + Ruins. This second album — Live in Tokyo 2001 — is the very first recording of the band. Limited edition, 220gr. vinyl."

ILITCH: Hors Temps/Out of Time CD (FRAC 024CD). $18.00

"Thierry Muller — Ilitch's head — is the multi-instrumentalist dark experimental French composer who started his musical career with the band Arcane as an underground electronics improvisations outfit around the years 1974. Albums Periodkmintrouble 1978 & 10 suicides 1980 were Ilitch first two works followed by the Ruth pop synth project Polaroid roman photo in 1985. All three are now reissued on CD with many unreleased bonus material by Fractal Records. Well received by many critics today, Ilitch took a solid place in the French underground scene from that area and was a serious source of influence on several groups/artists such as The Legendary Pink Dots for instance. After 24 years, the third and brand new Ilitch album is now released, titled ironically Hors Temps / Out of time and was composed during the last five years. More than a gap, it's a generation of sounds in between... and Thierry Muller is at the rendez-vous: a full album in 9 electropopsonics excursions through the time with a pleiade of colored sounds (vocals, guitar, vocals, drums, percussions, farfisa, rhythmic programmes, treated piano etc...). >From the mellow pop to the angry waves, Hors Temps / Out of time is a blink at the early hours and a poetic reflexion and vision on life. With the participation of the great musician poet Philippe Doray. Subtle pop power for adult entertainment. Rendez-vous Hors Temps."

TOHO SARA: Hourouurin CD (FRAC 025CD). $18.00

"The Japanese underground band Johari was create in 1990 by the magic duo Asahito Nanjo (High Rise) and Makoto Kawabata (Acid Mothers Temple) and will became later, in 1995, this shamanistic avant-garde formation Toho Sara. Hourouurin is their third opus, after two albums on PSF Eastern most (1995) and Mei Jou Tan Sho (1999) and some live performances in Europe during the years 1996 and 1997. Hourouurin is a weird unit who attempt to achieve a mystic fusion of ethnic music and rock, according to their own unique methodology. They create a strange musical aura where the vibrations of folk instruments from around the world and electronics merge weirdly. These bizarre recordings embrace musical shamanism on the one hand, and a subversion of western musical concepts into the abyss of rock on the other. Toho Sara is here at their most mystic side. Acid."

MUSIQUE CONCRET: Bringing Up Baby CD (FRAC 026CD). $18.00

"Reissue of a rare UK album from 1981. Musique Concret were an obscure London duo composed by Jim Friedman & Michael Mullen with a short lived musical history: their sole album Bringing up Baby was originally released on Steven Stapleton's label United Dairies and there is also one short track on a compilation. This is a great experimental power electronics works with the use of many delay and echo, tape recorder manipulations, collages, rhythms box, noise, and others studio trickery, naturally close to Nurse With Wound first period, Faust or others German 70's innovative bands. Completely forgotten nowadays, Bringing up Baby is really much more than just an interesting curiosity, it's a true highly original recordings from the early 80's. A lost jewel."

NANJO GROUP MUSICA, ASAHITO: Contemporary Kagura-Metaphysics CD (FRAC 027CD). $18.00

"A work of contemporary music performed in the rock idiom by Japanese underground rock legend, Asahito Nanjo. Nanjo is active in a wide variety of rock groups, but Group Musica exits in order to pursue a more universal musical vibration. Group Musica is an ensemble that pursues the free use of every type of Western and Eastern musical instrument, is propelled by the vibrations of very subtle rhythms, and that has internalized the methodology of minimalism. The concept behind this album is transform Kagura, an ancient form of Japanese music and dance that was performed for the gods, and is to convert the ideas of 'Secret teachings' and ancient Chinese methods of divination (the I-Ching) into a metaphysics of musical vibrations. The concept of Kagura allows Group Musica to create a unique work that is an experimental symphonic composition, which nonetheless has many rich improvisatory elements. In this unique work, the symbolic/philosophical nature of ancient esotericism is incorporated as improvisation, while the I-Ching is related to avant-garde symphonics. These are then fused into a total concept. Many different musicians from various genres participate in Group Musica, but their contributions are filtered through Nanjo's musical sense and thus altered, fused and structured. It is for this reason that remain anonymous — Group Musica exists as a total entity. Recorded in 1993 & 1994, this album is a colossal long studio works which has necessitated more than 400 overdubbing. An extraordinary adventure in sounds and the most astonishing musical project by High Rise's leader."

FRAGMENTS/LIQUID SPACE (GERMANY):

VA: Schlank & Tief CD (FCD 5004 CD). $16.00

"The Concept: Schlank & Tief is a collection of the freshest crop of Germany's producers and record labels. We went on a quest to hand-pick Germany's finest and succeeded with this fabulous selection of tracks. They are great in the clubs but also a listening pleasure on your home stereo. Schlank & Tief is a deep trip into the sophisticated German label and producer scene, which appeals not only to experts but simply put to all people that enjoy good music. The Sound: Deephouse meets minimal electronic music on this beautifully mixed CD, sensually blending moods and style into a brilliant mixture of sonic pleasure." Artists: Glowing Glisses, Jussipekka, Vernon & Da Costa, Richard Davis, Tanzmann & Voigt, misc., Dennis Desantis, Jackmate, Sensual Physics, Random_Inc, Jan Jelinek Avec The Exposures, Remixes For Lawrence, David Hausdorf, Modernista 90.

FRANK WOBBLY & SONS:

CASINO VERSUS JAPAN/AM-BOY: Silver and Gold/64 Colors 7" (FEW 001EP). $5.00

"This new label is presented as a series of 7" vinyl records, with a total of six titles dropping two at a time in the first two months of 2004. Strictly limited to 250 copies worldwide. Casino versus Japan returns with his first release since his massive album on Carpark, with the key track from protege Am-Boy's acclaimed debut on the flip." Limited stock.

SIGNALDRIFT/NUDGE & CAURAL: Nothing Much to Lose/The Girl with the Stained Glass Eyes 7" (FEW 002EP). $5.00

"Signaldrift (Wobblyhead) and Nudge (OMCO, Tigerbeat6) got together to cover this stand-out from My Bloody Valentine's masterpiece Isn't Anything. On the flip, Caural (Chocolate Industries) creates his own gorgeous, heavily textured shoe-gazer world on this excellent original composition."

DAVIS, PAUL B.: Enter the Mystical Faggot/The Mystical Faggot Shops Organic 7" (FEW 003EP). $5.00

"The enigmatic Paul B. Davis (8-Bit Construction Set) returns with an Atari, melodica, and organ freakout. His releases on his own Beige label were too few and far between for the heads at Wobblyhead, so we cajoled him to compose two more classically-trained cosmic crunk-funk masterpieces."

INNERSTANCE.BEATBOX/CASH BISHOP: I Am a Truck/Promise 7" (FEW 004EP). $5.00

"Innerstance Beatbox (Wobblyhead) and Cash Bishop both bring the kiddie records to the turntable breaks for these complementary sides. Downtempo master Innerstance.Beatbox (aka J.Todd) brings the same charisma and sense of humor that he brings to his Def Harmonic productions. Newcomer Cash Bishop responds with his first release on Wobblyhead, a churning melodic workout brimming with all the hope and pageantry that a sampled children's choir can muster."

MAGIC ARROWS/STRING THEORY: Yaphet Kotto/Honey-Top 7" (FEW 005EP). $5.00

"Original Pele and Promise Ring member Scott Beschta returns with a heavy piece of downtempo drunk funk, very much in the vein of his Roommates project with Casino versus Japan's Erik Kowalski. On the flip, SKAM sub-label SMAK veterans String Theory bring their dubbed-out, quiet beauty to the 7" format."

OLD MAN MALCOLM: Pride in My Product/Eye Contact 7" (FEW 006EP). $5.00

"The turntablist for Garbage and Citizen King and long-time Anacron collaborator finally launches his stellar solo project. An indescribable yet flawless debut single from Malcolm, one of Kid Koalas favorite deejays (see the Big Daddy article to confirm.) However, it's less about his turntable chops and more about Malcolm's inner D'angelo."

FRED RECORDS:

FRITH, FRED: Keep the Dog 2CD (FRA 003CD). $21.00

Jean Derome: (alto & baritone sax); Fred Frith: (guitar, bass, violin, voice); Charles Hayward: (drums, voice); Rene Lussier: (guitar, bass); Bob Ostertag: (sampler); Zeena Parkins: (accordion, harp, piano, voice). "This is the legendary band which Fred formed in 1989, but which till now has never been captured on record. The compositions were culled from all periods of Fred's career, and the idea was to re-make them with a wild, inspirational and improvising aesthetic. 'It was a glorious and nerve wracking couple of years, and exactly the kind of transformation I'd dreamed of. I was pulling out all kinds of stuff — Massacre tunes re-constituted as ballads, Henry Cow material that had stayed in my notebooks, things that had been written for dance and theatre. It was basically 'light the blue touch paper and stand well clear!'. The material on this double album was recorded live at concerts in Germany, Italy and Austria in 1991."

FRITH, FRED: Accidental CD (FRA 01 CD). $13.50

"Any new record from Fred Frith, one of the world's leading avant rock guitarists and composers, is a major event. Accidental was commissioned by a British choreographer who lives in Amsterdam, Paul Selwyn Norton, for a dance piece made with the Batsheva Company in Tel Aviv. For Fred it's a return to basics, a series of deeply contrasting moods achieved with the simplest of means. Throughout the CD, noises of rusty metal, electronic detritus, bits of random radio, improvised cut-up vocals and messed up percussion, suggest an unpredictable and hostile landscape."

FRITH, FRED: Prints CD (FRA 02 CD). $13.50

"It's a real pleasure to hear a new album of Fred's songs. He's rather shy about his singing, but he shouldn't be; he sounds like a cross between David Byrne, Christoph Anders and Robert Wyatt. The songs often make use of samples from well-known sources, and album has to be the most user-friendly he has produced in years. This is Fred in real pop mode, a fascinating, and yes, commercial album. Guest musicians include Mike Johnson and Dave Kerman on vocals, Bernd Lehman on clarinet and sax and Sebastian Gramms on double bass. Other guest appearances include Bill Clinton, Burt Bacharach, Serge Gainsbourg And Helmut Kohl."

FRITH, FRED: Middle of the Moment CD (FRO 005CD). $13.50

"Field recordings of traditional singing and drumming, the jaunty accordion and violin music of a travelling circus troupe, the sounds of trucks, trains, wells, winds, flies, fire, thunder, camels, goats and a jackal are woven into a multi-layered, subtly shifting cinematic aural journey. This is Fred's poetic soundtrack CD accompanying the Nicolas Humbert and Werner Penzel documentary film of the same name. Middle of the Moment is a poetic evocation of nomadism; The filmmakers travelled with the Tuereg people in the Sahara desert, and also experienced the exotic wanderings of Cirque 0, an avant garde circus troupe."

FRITH, FRED: Gravity CD (FRO 01 CD). $13.50

"Fred Frith is undoubtedly one of the world's greatest electric guitarists. Starting out with UK avant rock group Henry Cow in the early 70's, he developed a devastating melodic fuzz lead guitar style that took its cue from the 'Canterbury' bands Soft Machine and Hatfield and the North. He's also developed a whole series of Frithisms which do not rely on the fuzz box — gorgeous jazz chords which swell out of thin air, delicate high melodic lines, fantastically complex riffs, and a new language of the solo improvisation which re-connects Derek Bailey with rock n roll. Gravity, originally released on vinyl by Ralph Records in 1980, is one of Fred's most enjoyable and accessible releases. It was born at a time when he wanted to get away from the massive and complex structures of Henry Cow, and he began to think about more direct song and dance forms. During a Greek holiday he scribbled down the melodies of local musicians on napkins, raw material for this album of intriguing electric guitar and violin tunes. There are some impossibly catchy melodies, arranged with the off kilter sense of harmony and instrumentation reminiscent of the first Cow album, but here delivered with in-your-face brutal simplicity. There is mutated mandolin, township jazz piano, Balkan wedding music, and Fred's trademark fuzz guitar. There's even a vicious re-working of Dancing in the Street. Musicians including The Muffins and Samla Mammass Manna and Marc Hollander are the support."

FRITH, FRED: Guitar Solos CD (FRO 02 CD). $13.50

"Here's the original CD as released by the Virgin subsidiary Caroline, in the early '70s. Hugely influential at the time, and still legendary, this is just Fred alone with electric and acoustic guitars, and the help of multiple pick ups, scrapers, and countless new techniques for getting new sounds out of the guitar. At the time it impressed Brian Eno so much Fred got to work with him. It also launched Fred's career as a solo improviser of world stature, which he remains to this day. From rock and roll attacks, to post apocalyptic scraping, Enosque delays and ambiences, and wild fuzz lead, Fred does just about everything you could imagine doing to a guitar. The release replaces the first CD version, which was available in the 80's and 90's on the Swiss Rec label."

FRITH, FRED: Speechless CD (FRO 04 CD). $13.50

"This one of the most important guitar-based, experimental guitar titles from the avant-guitarist and founding Henry Cow member Fred Frith. Frith's second solo album, Speechless, includes appearances by Estron Fou Leloublan, Massacre, and Bill Laswell. This is a studio Frankenstein of live clips and found sounds. While Frith states attests to the occurrence of many 'happy accidents,' the album comes across confidently and more often more coherent than merely challenging. Six bonus tracks appear on this CD version. This is often cited as Frith's best solo record and its inspired manipulations hold up under repeated scrutiny. There is a bit of European folk influence here, too, but not as obvious as on Gravity."

FREWAYSOUND (AUSTRALIA):

SOLVER: XYZ CD (FWS 001). $15.00

"Solver is a guitar based experimental / free / noise group evolving from the visual art practices of Marco Fusinato and John Nixon. Guitars and amplifiers are driven to maximum with no regard to the tuning of the instruments. Noise extracted from the guitar / amplifier set up is by chance. Cheap guitars plugged into distortion pedals played through charged up practice amps. De-tuned-Anti-tune / feedback squalls / leakage / max volume. Solver tend to improvise around an idea until it feels finished. Meaning is made via the action. This freeform sonic encounter positively demonstrates noise as music."

MOORE/MARCO FUSINATO, THURSTON: TM/IF CD (FWS 002). $15.00

"AW collaborative project for an exhibition. Thurston Moore - 10 guitar improvisations. Marco Fusinato - 10 paintings. Each painting completed within the time limit of each track. Thurston Moore entered the studio and improvised ten tracks w/ guitar, shoving it against an amp, laying it on the floor, sliding a bottle along the strings, among other methods of producing sound. Not only were the songs recorded but Moore was also videotaped to display his part of the process as an element of the installation. For his part, Fusinato placed a piece of primed masonite on the floor, poured his signature red paint onto it, and picked up various implements found in the studio as painting tools, [a brush, roller, plastic bag, set of five cheap brushes masking-taped together, a plastic bottle] and created a distinct painting for each track, allowing himself only the duration of each track to cover the surface. The resulting tracks / paintings are a tangible testament to attitude. Devoid of decoration and conventional technique they are testament to the simple and direct actions used to produce them. The CD contains the 10 tracks by Thurston Moore, 24 page color booklet with track by track images demonstrating the process and wraparound page with installation image."

A HANDFUL OF DUST: For Patti Smith CD (FWS 003). $15.00

"A Handful of Dust are a duo [and occasionally a trio] of New Zealand improvising noise artists. In 1993 they fired an early blast in the so-called free noise barrage heard round the world, with the recording of the 'no-fingers-on-the-strings' opus Concord. 24 October 1999 found them playing live at the Puntersi Club, Melbourne, Australia, recorded by Marco Fusinato and mixed live by Greg Wadley. The resulting two long tracks of beautiful sonic violence were dedicated to the Queen of post-jazz rock improv Rimbaudian sense-derangement herself, and titled 'I Am God's Finger' and '[From a Soundtrack to] Babelfield'. They feature Bruce Russell and Alastair Galbraith performing a mix of guitar, violin, long wires and electronics. No stone is left unrotated, no rock left un-detoured in this top-of-their-game sizzling sound-smash. This tag-team of post-everything sound improvisers can't be easily beaten at the spontaneous improvisation of soundworlds which leave the senses literally grasping at straws."

FRESH AIR (FRANCE):

AE: Love Your Smile CD (FA 001 CD). $16.00

First release on this Hot Air sister-label, run by Andrew Sharpley (Stock, Hausen and Walkman; Dummy Run) "13 songs and one instrumental from Noel Akchote on guitar, Emiko Ota on drums and voice, and Andrew Sharpley on voice, Hammond and machines. Noel Akchote is half of the Parisian jazz/experimental label Rectangle. This is the 188th disc he has played on. In the 1980s Emiko Ota played in OXZ and other punk/experimental rock bands in Japan before moving to Paris and joining the Mami Chan band. Andrew Sharpley is half of the sampling/stupid duo Stock, Hausen and Walkman (1992-?)."

FREUDE AM TANZEN (GERMANY):

SOULPHICTION: Soulphiction EP 12" (FREUDE 017EP). $9.00

"2003 saw not only Johnny Cash make the final payment to his maker, but the godfather of verbal foreplay Barry White, responsible for the existence of half of the America, at 58 years has also been called to the great stage in the sky. However, Mr. White's CD's for quite a few decades, resounded in the bedrooms of the world, compelling the couples of the world to make sweet love. The stuttgart papi Michel Baumann alias Soulphiction (sometimes Jackmate) also gets the juices flowing, however manifested as a compulsion to move. Beginning with a radio show intro, he urges us on like the radio should. And rightly so. Liquid patterns is soaked with pure rhodes, and applied, frenetic subterranean bass. Through a fully conscious, shifting rhythm and jazz hi-hat that whispers as if a drum is being stroked with a brush, it manages a compelling groove. Length doesn't play a role here, answering the question of why anything should be extended when the moment of euphoria has been reached. White ropes demonstrates how a 'white bread' can produce the same velvety, soulful sound of black music, and with the same understanding to boot. Central to the setting is an unbelievable voice which can evoke moments similar to the style of the late Mr. White; approach with caution. An unbelievably soulful feeling is achieved with this musical potion of deep song embedded with house beats. Mr. Soulphiction is ready to take over."

HEMMANN & KADEN: 2 Zu 1 12" (FREUDE 018EP). $9.00

"The idea however being that some music is so compelling that only at a certain volume level do you begin to get that unmistakable euphoric feeling. On their second EP for FAT, the two Thüringen gentlemen storm the corresponding brain sections using 5 star ingredients taken from the electronic kitchen. The section that sets the body to an immobile state is completely switched off. Writing and listening to these lines is almost impossible. Intense rocking up and down in your seat is accompanied by loud and sometimes quiet sections of the song. 'Sense' is carried by simple, waving drumbeats, driven by a booming bass line. Swallowed voice samples containing the title words play throughout the entire track, and are accompanied by melodic fragments from the underwater world."

FREUNDINNEN (GERMANY):

ISOLEE: It's About 12" (FREUND 001 EP). $9.00

"Excellent Funkbasterd from the mind of a genius. Incl. Mocky remix." First release on a new German label, by the normally Playhouse-affiliated Isolee (aka Rajko Mueller). Also includes a remix by Lopazz Und Casio Casinos.

FIRST & GLADYS GARCIA, JAMES: Berlin Is Nisch 12" (FREUND 003 EP). $9.00

"Times so deeply in their hearts the two Karlsruher are not at all so correct punks, how you and I (totally wrong translated, Sherlock! The opposite!) And therefore it makes for also nothing to hide their love for the commodores or for prince. With 'traps' they send a song into running that your neighbours will so fast not forget..."

LOPAZZ FEAT. ALEX CORTEX: EP 12" (FREUND 004 EP). $9.00

Lopazz say: "It's high time u grew up..." Bass. Guitars. Drums. Moog prodigy. No midi, No virtual instruments. Some political lyrics, Nice hooks, New voices...to be continued.

SNAX: Pornosoundtracks 12" (FREUND 005EP). $9.00

"After last years highly acclaimed No Dancing EP on Freu nd (r.i.p.), Snax returns with a new offering that goes into a slightly different direction. The artist, also known for being a part of Playhouse' Captain Comatose, is young and he needs the money. So why not go for some porn-soundtracks, he thought, and put together a construction of sleaze, funk, soul & sexiness, leaving space for moaning, chanting and singing to the satisfied customer. Proving even more the theory that porn doesn't necessarily have to sound like the Loveparade."

FRIKIYWA (FRANCE):

KOUYATE & ALI BOULO SANTO, HADJA: Manding Ko CD (FKW 001 CD). $15.00

"One of the most established artist on the French electronic scene, Frederic Galliano is a meticulous, precise and refined producer. His talents are none to be proved now as you know him through his Jazz project Espaces Baroques (F Communications) or the acclaimed serial of the Frikiwa releases when he gathered people from France but also from the west-London scene. He's back today on his own label, being more than humble, as a producer of a full length 9 songs album recorded in the native territory of the singers involved, Hadja Kouyate & Djorou Cissoko, from the South-Mali. He shows his love for the African community, the African people & their music, enhancing the Kora (African guitar) and subliming voices. A totally truly traditional sound, sweeter than sweet, that gives you no other alternative than sitting and listening. This is true Afro music."

LIPITONE: Nuits Sur Ecoute: Bougouni CD (FKW 002 CD). $16.00

"Lipitone was born in Paris in 1963 and studied classical piano and musical late interested moved to Jazz and it was in Paris he played with other jazzmen such as Craig Harris, Stafford James, and Buddy Colette. By 1993, he realized the potential of new sounds brought by the rise of electronic music and starts to play with sampling, looping, and detuning effects, adopting these techniques to his craft. Since, his taste for experimental developments has led him to join the TOYSUN Collective and later, he joined Frédéric Galliano and The African Divas for two US tours, leading to his first contact with traditional African music. He is then introduced to Laurent Gamier and immediately joined his trio. Nuits Sur Ecoutes: Bougouni is a sound transcription of Mali's topography. Floating between traditional music, electronic music, ambient, and dub, Lipitone offer us a mysterious and bewitched album made of sound samples recorded at night only, in the heart of Bougouni village, Mali. This album is certainly a unique voyage into the deep African night!"

TRAORE, LOBI: Sayo (Pole remix)/Koroduga (Chari remix) 12" (FKW 005). $9.00

"This new Frikiywa 12" once again brings the sound from Bamako (Mali) remixed by artists of the North. After three albums, Lobi Traore is now quite famous in his home country, as well as in the overall world music scene. Lobi is remixed here by Pole, a German producer highly respected for his innovative albums on Kiff SM and for his major contributions to the deepest techno sound design of the Berlin based label Basic Channel. He has chosen to submerge Lobi Traore's African blues into minimal ambient dub, forming a high quality deep bass track that explores new cultural blends. Chari Chari comes from the groove/house scene in Tokyo, and offers a kicking dancefloor version of Traore's happy African song. You get breakbeat Afro-Samba with traditional choirs. The result is a 12" that combines black and white, club and listening tracks."

FILIFIN: Siran feat. N'Gou Bagayoko CD (FKW 006 CD). $16.00

"Filifin comes to us from the south-west of Mali, close to the Guinea border. His father, a kamélé n'goni player, taught him this art that is passed down from Malian hunters. In a mix of praises for valorous game hunters and mournful melancholy rising from the bush, both the style and lyrics, give birth to a music with a special blues-like atmosphere. In Siran, Filifin has developed his own style of play and demonstrates it here in his first album — all the while never forgetting his heritage. The album was produced by Frédéric Galliano and recorded in duet with N'Gou Bagayoko playing the guitar and the duo offers us a full and deep voyage in a rural ground where bravery and soulful minds feed the blooming of this popular music."

BAGAYOKO, N'GOU: Kulu CD (FKW 007 CD). $16.00

"Kulu marks the first album for N'Gou Bagayoko, a master guitarist from the south of Mali with a unique bluesy yet distinctly African feeling. The tracks also features three female vocalists who bring us through the album with their sensual, deep, and contrasted voices also complement these soulful songs. Together, they bring us a fluid and elegant album with sweet rhythm from a long and warm Malian afternoon!"

VA: Frikiyiwa: Collection 1 CD (FKW 008). $15.00

Very attractively packaged contemporary African remix album, highlighted by the awesome Doctor L (producer of the recent Tony Allen comeback album, Black Voices). Featured artists: Nahawa Doumbia, Lobi Traore, Ibrahim Hama Dicko, Djigui, Neba Solo, Abdoulaye Diabate. "This first collection from Frikiyiwa regroups a series of remixes made by electronic music producers taken from African traditional pieces. From the rainy country, Aqua Bassino (Scottish without a kilt) has been for the last few years distilling the classiest deep house in the world. Extremely respected, he could only do the remix for the Diva star Nahawa Doumbia, ambassador of south Mali music. Stemming from the Japanese scene in Tokyo, Chari Chari provides a dancefloor dimension to Lobi Traore. Spider has remixed Ibrahim Hama Dicko, a singer-composer from the north of Mali, dedicated to the music of this humble, arid and close to the desert region. Extremely graceful. The Natty Bass Sound System from Lyon did Djigui, malien farmer, a rare player of the bolon, one of the most rural malien instruments. Jeff Sharel has been developing his very own style between American house and his personal poetry. He amplifies the compositions from the kings of the region of Kenedougou (south Mali): Neba Solo. Somewhere between party spirit and traditional music, veritable personality from the London scene, IG Culture imposes its' sharpcutting groove and breakbeat to the divine Nahawa Doumbia. The Tokyo 246 Avenue Project is formed and reformed in the heart of Shibuya in Tokyo City. DJ, scratching sound engineer, one didn't need more for the star Abdoulaye Diabate. A voice, a group whose live concerts stupify. A deep house remix opens a whole new universe to this piece. Doctor L reworks Ibrahim Hama Dicko's music with maturity and personality. His blues, jazz, african and hip-hop influences couldn't go better with this 'Baba' now known as 'Baba Sorcery dub mix': Bewitching and mystique!"

LOUIS 2000: Nuits Sur Ecoute: Bignona CD (FKW 010 CD). $16.00

"Louis 2000 was born in 1965 in Valence, France and started his music career playing guitar in several rock groups. In 1993, he went to France to study at the illustrious Lyon Conservatory, in the acoustic music composition class and soon his hard work paid off, earning Louis 2000 the highest commendation — the médaille d'or. Since then, he has continued his own work, developing his studio practice and regularly presenting his pieces at different festivals and collaborated on Frédéric Galliano's album, Espaces Baroques in 1997. It was in this spirit that Louis 2000 decided to accept Fred's invitation to take part on the Nuits Sur Ecoute series of albums for his Frikiyiwa label. This meant working in the Casamance area of southern Senegal. This album, the sounds for which were recorded over a ten-day period, takes the form of a series of chronological pieces, which unfold from late afternoon until the next morning. Various events punctuate the soundtrack and give it an enchanted feeling. These include the song of the Diolla scouts, local to that area, to the blessing of a house, or the unintelligible words of a madman, or the omnipresent regional songs with flute or percussion. Without a doubt, this album will take you to surprising and beautiful horizons of sound and invites the listener to join in on a nighttime journey and to hear the unexpected sounds of the deep and mysterious night in this truly amazing area of West Africa."

KANTE, DIEFADIMA: Frankonodou CD (FKW 011 CD). $16.00

"Diefadima Kanté was born in the 1940s in Guinea Conakry. The most successful of the family, she spent her life singing throughout the south of the country at weddings, baptisms etc. Her brother is Manfila Kante, guitarist and head of the Ambassadors orchestra, and her extended family also includes Ousmane Kouyate and Salif Keita. Having never had anything recorded before, Frédéric Galliano decided to produce her work in February 2001, recording with her daughter Hadj Kouyate, (another of the Frikiyiwa label's artists — on the Manding-Ko album with Ali Boulo Santo). Diefadima Kanté's voice bears witness to her maturity, she brings back to life a type of singing prevalent in 1960s Guinea-Conakry. This album, includes work she has written herself, as well as that of others interpreted with an incredible energy. It was recorded 'live' with the fewest possible 'takes'. The album testifies to the rural but nevertheless refined atmosphere of Diefadima Kante."

VA: Frikiyiwa: La Musique des Maquis CD (FKW 012 CD). $16.00

"Frikiyiwa: La Musique des Maquis is the first compilation from this premier World music label. Each track has been handpicked by label owner Frédéric Galliano and features six tracks from the first six Frikiyiwa albums as well as six never before released. Featured artists on this collection include the bluesy and warm chords of master guitarist N'Gou Bagayoko and the traditional Malian sounds of kamélé n'goni player Filifin. Indulge in sensuous rhythms and soul of West Africa and enter the Frikiyiwa universe."

VA: Electronic Experience In African Music CD (FKW 016 CD). $16.00

"Electronic Experience In African Music is the first electronic album on Frikiyiwa and label head Frédéric Galliano offers the listener remixes of the different artists produced and released on his label. The idea of melding of African music and Electronica was first touched upon the Frédéric Galliano and The African Divas album and the first Frikiyiwa compilation. Those two projects were both highly acclaimed and this time Frédéric comes back with exclusive remixes of solely Frikiyiwa artists. From electronic drumbeats to soulful vocals, one can expect to be wrapped up in the beautiful and haunting sounds of Hadja Kouyate, Ali Boulo Santo, Filifin, NaGou Bagayoko, and Lipitone all remixed by electronica all-stars Jeff Sharel, Tokyo Black Star, Escal, and Frédéric Galliano himself plus many more."

KOUYATE & LES GUINEENS, HADJA: Yilimalo CD (FKW 019CD). $16.00

"The second album from musician and African chanteuse Hadja Kouyate is a subtle mix of funky Guinean music, with strong yet festive rural and acoustic tones and melodies. The album was recorded in Guinea with a complete orchestra: two guitars, two other vocalists, a bolon, a balafon, and assorted percussionists. Through this album, discover Hadja Kouyate — the vocal angel from Conakry, Guinea — the most sensual and energetic griotte in all of West Africa. As usual, Frikiyiwa honors the great Guinean diva with superb packaging, including photos from the recording sessions and her village."

FRINGECORE:

BLACK PIG LIBERATION FRONT: The Revolution of Everyday Life CD (FRINGE 005 CD). $13.00

"Black Pig Liberation Front is a very unique and original concept created by Rhode Island-based frontman Denis Mahoney aka Tariq Zayid. On this first major album from the killer ritualistic terror and love ensemble, complete with infectious magical incantations, Mahoney and Fringecore have managed to gather together an amazing group of collaborators and contributors, each of whom add a unique dimension to Black Pig's explosive grunt n' groan n' groove collage tonal attacks, animated by Mahoney's intensely penetrating voice and words and the Torres brothers' electronica and scratch turntable work. The entire album is a stream of intensity and psychic energy, a celebration of the greatest festival, that of tracing the 'self'. No more so than on the totally exhilarating 'Frequencies are the Fetish', a magnificent collaboration between Black Pig and Sonic Youth luminary Thurston Moore, whose soundtracks, especially created for this album crash and thump, sometimes in bizarre violence and others in sensual beauty. The re-mixes of the Thurston pieces by New York's DJ Shecky; Belgium's avant-garde maestro DJ Low and London's Nihilist and Disatronaut, plus ex-Test Department's David Coulter make this not only unique, but blisteringly memorable. In its own way, Automutilator is equally outstanding with Black Pig teamed up with Banyan, whose cast not only boast Mike Watt and fellow Porno for Pyros member and ex-Jane's Addiction drummer Stephen Perkins, but the inspired genius of guitarist Nels Cline. When you add to that, the other festering Black pig tracks and Mahoney's collaboration with Sonic Youth's Lee Ranaldo on When Two Become One and Shamen Trip, you have a veritable feast. They say that a true festival leaves no trace, no possibility of remembrance, well this CD certainly does."

FRINGES (ITALY):

VALENTINE, MATT: Space Chanteys LP (FRINGE 010). $20.00

Matt Valentine (6 & 12 string guitars, jazz bass, harmonica, all stories); PG Six: (6 string telecaster, wurlitzer organ, flute); Dean Roberts (6 string Fender mustang); Samara Lubelski (violin, solar strings, electric bass); Erika Elder (sruti box, finger cymbals, bells); Tim Barnes (drums, percussion); Baz (tambourine). Wonderful edition with 4-color printed heavy sleeve, 220gram virgin vinyl pressing, insert with lyrics and drawings. Edition of 650 copies. "They take a deep collective breath here and release it slowly, like a sigh trapped in the highest tower of Greaser's Palace. And it's a gasser. Those enlightened people who are aware of his recordings, have a tendency to think of Matt's music as part of the American folk tradition. And, indeed, a portion of it does reside there. But as with so many of the interesting inventions inside out-culture currency, the soul of this folk music emerged from syncretic collisions between psychedelic rock and avant garde jazz and country blues and trance-drone-minimalism as well as a primitive form of folk-proper. The material on Space Chanteys is beautiful in its fracture. Its fissures phosphoresce in the darkness w/ an unearthly radiance: glow-in-the-dark teeth set into the gums of eternity." —Byron Coley.

FRINGES ARCHIVE (ITALY):

RADIGUE, ELIANE: Geelriandre/Arthesis CD (FRINGAR 001CD). $19.00

"This is the first release of a new series by Fringes, called Fringes Archive, that will feature previously unreleased works or reissues by some of the most important composers of our time (future releases will be a reissue of 'I Canti illuminati' by Alvin Curran, and a double cd set by Michel Chion/Lionel Marchetti/Jerome Noetinger). This CD contains two fascinating works by French composer Eliane Radigue. 'Geelriandre' (29:59) — Realized on the ARP Synthesizer in 1972. Piano: Gérard Frey. This version was recorded at the Stedelijk Museum, Amsterdam, December 1979. Arthesis (25:46) — Realized on the Moog Synthesizer at the University of Iowa in 1973. Program notes from the concert at 224 Centre St., NY (March 6th, 1974) 'Whirlpools come from the depth of the ages, with a secret and fierce ascendancy. Indiscernible light which seeks to dawn, trails its frail coming when sleep overtakes everything.'"

CHION/LIONEL MARCHETTI/JEROME NOETINGER, MICHEL: Les 120 Jours 2CD (FRINGAR 003). $27.00

Double CD. "Musique concrete composed in 1997/98 for the Festival Musique Action in Vandoeuvre-les-Nancy. A collaboration between these three French composers. First they collected a bank of sounds, which they reworked and transformed using their own style and techniques. At the end all the parts were organised together to create this kind of monster."

JULIUS, ROLF: Early Works Vol. 1 (1979-1982) CD (FRINGAR 004). $19.00

"First release of the the early sound installations from the German sound artist Rolf Julius, ranging from 1979 to 1982 : Music on Two High Poles (1979), Morning Song (Berlin Concert Series, 1981, in collaboration with Joan La Barbara), Music for the Earth (Berlin Concert Series, 1981), Music for the Eyes, (1981), Music for a Pane of Glass (1980), Music for a Yellow Room (Berlin Concert Series, 1982), Chamber Concert for Three Loudspeakers, (Berlin Concert Series, 1982), Concert for a Frozen Lake (Berlin Concert Series, 1982)."

FROG PEAK:

WILKINSON, CLIVE: Soft Verges, Hard Shoulders CD (CAW 001). $12.00

Self released by the UK composer, distributed by Frog Peak. There is a piece for solo soprano voice, for solo shakuhachi, for solo piano, and for violin, marimba, vibraphone & crotales. "Wilkinson has created 55 minutes of haunting, beautiful music out of almost nothing: a woman's voice, 3 tuned percussion instruments, a bamboo flute, the resonance of the white notes of a piano." —Bob Gilmore.

SCHOLZ, CARTER: 8 Pieces CD (FP 009). $13.00

"These 8 Pieces combine rich compositional ideas with an elegant sense of sonority and formal imagination. Scholz is well-known as a 'composer's composer', one of the most sophisticated, austere and poetic of all the young Bay Area computer music experimentalists, and this long awaited collection firmly establishes him as one of the finest artists in this genre. Each piece is a beautiful, fascinating and extraordinary exploration of some fundamental musical idea — rhythm, harmony, tuning, timbre — and these pieces will expand the ears of everyone from the layperson to the most sophisticated listener." "Computer music from this composer and Hugo/Nebula award nominated science fiction writer, author of Palimpsests. Eight pieces, most based on intervallic relationships and tuning schemes (ala Young) and/or self generating feedback systems (ala Tudor). Quite enjoyable in that form-over-function sort of way, could easily be from any point over the last 25 years. That's a compliment." — Hrvatski.

FRUIT TREE (ITALY):

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: Giant Of Blues 2CD (FT 821). $18.00

"The 40 tracks compiled on this double CD, spanning the 9 years (1954-1965) of Hooker's involvement with Chicago's Vee Jay label, played a significant role in spreading his popularity as one of the world's greatest bluesmen, exposing him to R&B fans around the globe. He was particularly well received in the UK during this period, where covers of Hooker originals peppered the set lists of many bands in the '60s British R&B scene (e.g., the Animals, the Yardbirds, and the Spencer Davis Group)."

MARLEY, BOB: The Wailers 2CD (FT 822). $18.00

"Bob Marley, Jamaica's favorite son, used his powerful voice to spread reggae music and the word of Rastafari around the globe. In the decades since his tragic and untimely death on May 21, 1981, Marley has come to symbolize not only a genre of music, but (and perhaps more importantly) the ongoing global struggle against racial and economic oppression. This double CD contains 44 digitally remastered tracks from the early seventies (often considered Bob Marley & The Wailers' most creative period), immediately prior to their historic signing with Chris Blackwell's Island label. Production credits for most of the material on these 2 CDs go to another reggae legend, Lee 'Scratch' Perry."

CHERRY, DON: Orient CD (FT 825). $15.50

"Super rare album showing Don Cherry in two 1971 live trio sets... 'Orient Part 1 & 2' and 'Si Ta Ra Ma' were recorded in Carpentras, France on August 11th with the great Dutch drummer Han Bennink and Mocqui Cherry on tamboura. 'Eagle Eye Part 1 & 2' and 'Togetherness' were recorded in Paris on April 22nd with the amazing South African bassist Johnny Dyani and drummer Okay Temiz. Original artwork. Deluxe packaging."

CHERRY, DON: Blue Lake CD (FT 826). $15.50

"Very rare album originally released in Japan only. Great live recordings dated 1971 featuring Don Cherry backed by Johnny Dyani and Okay Temiz. 5 tracks. Original artwork. Deluxe packaging."

BURKE, SOLOMON: Soul Man CD (FT 828). $15.50

"Jerry Williams (Swamp Dogg) produced an excellent late-'70s soul session for the legendary Solomon Burke on the tiny Infinity Records label. Williams mixed upbeat numbers with a pronounced Afro-Latin beat and confessional country/soul tunes, emphasizing Burke's trademark song sermons. The music was much too raw and rural for the pseudo-sophisticated big-city radio set, but Southern soul loyalists treasured it. Digipack."

CASH, JOHNNY: The Sun Records Years 3CD (FT 829). $26.00

"This exhaustive collection of Cash's Sun Records material (1955-1958) features not only his biggest hits, but many of his lesser known masterpieces as well. A full 60 tracks on 3CDs make this THE definitive Sun Records Cash collection to own. Also includes a 21-page booklet featuring extensive liner notes detailing the Man In Black's days at Sun with an introduction by Mr. Sun Records himself, Sam C. Philips."

CLINTON, GEORGE: 500,000 Kilowatts of P-Funk Power 2CD (FT 830). $19.00

"These tracks (recorded live around the world with the P-Funk All Stars are all well known selections from the vast P-Funk repertoire, but here they take on new form as Dr. Funkenstein uses his powers to deftly mold them into 15 extended party jams. The seminal 'Funkentelechy', for example, is drawn out into a 24-minute rump-shaker that even Sir Nose could not resist. Never one to rest on his laurels, Clinton keeps the P-Funk torch burning brightly with new funkier versions of old classics like 'Maggot Brain', 'Give Up The Funk' and all time P-Funk anthem 'Make My Funk The P-Funk'. But no P-Funk party could ever be the same without audience participation, and here funkateers from around the globe can be heard gettin' their funk on track after track, through two and a half hours of call and response, high-octane P-Funk. Clinton and his funk mob have lost none of their musical prowess in the past few decades and still have absolutely no trouble delivering all 500,000 kilowatts of p-funk power."

FRUSTRATED FUNK (NETHERLANDS):

VA: We Bring Mad Drama EP 12" (FFR 001 EP). $9.00

"New label from the Clone 'umwelt' bringing you raw and frustrated electro funk. Techno Electro for the frustrated minds...refreshing and therapeutic for the mental weak... Twice a day your prescription and you feel much happier again... Maybe you even get the guts to talk to other people as well (or maybe even girls)!...it did work for us! Mad drama from everyday live brought to you by Frustrated Figures, Pametex, Cosmic Force and Blue Villa People."

FS STUDIOS/MINISTRY OF SOUND (UK):

FISCHERSPOONER: Emerge 12" (FSMOS 01EP). $8.00

Three track 12" version featuring a new Dave Clarke remix, a Radio Slave edit and the original version. New full color artwork as well.

FISCHERSPOONER: #1 Reissue CD (FSMOS CD1X). $23.00

New UK edition of the one and only Fischerspooner album (the previous Gigolo version is completely deleted on CD). "At the end of May, Fischerspooner performed 2 sold out live dates in London, the debut shows were surrounded by much excitement and expectation and they did not disappoint! The new material they performed at the shows was so well received that the band have decided to include 3 new tracks on the album - 'Sweetness' (which is the soundtrack to a Fischerspooner short film of the same name), 'LA Song' and a hidden track 'Megacolon'."

FSM RECORDS:

VA: Sounds & Songs of the Demonstration LP (FSM 004). $25.00

Small warehouse find of original LPs from mid-60s. Originally released in 1965, this is a collection of protest-folk songs written by students about the protest movement (or Free Speech Movement - FSM). Artists featured are: Dave Mandel, Dan Paik, Dave Genesen, Lee Felsenstein, Richard Kampf, Richard Schmorleitz & Kevin Langdon.

FUJI REKODSU (GERMANY):

VA: The Fuji Compilation CD (FUJI 002). $15.00

"Here's the launch of a new label called Fuji Rekodsu, a joint project from labels Cha-Bashira (Tokyo) and A-Musik (Cologne). It is intended to release music from Japan and Europe that is mostly unknown, far from the well known noise or rock ordinary. The Fuji Compilation can be considered the second part of the Los Apson compilation, released in 1996 by the tiny record shop in Tokyo. Musical styles range from lo-fi pop, wacky techno tunes, actionism, sound installations, et al. The CD functions like a radio show beyond all styles. You may notice some non-Japanese names, but all the artists live or spend some time in Japan."

FUNCTION (FINLAND):

VA: Funktio 1 CD (FU 502). $14.00

Brilliant collection from the mysteriously satisfying Finnish underground techno scene. Featuring Panasonic (minimal superstars from Finland turned into international household name via the Blast First corporation), Detroit Diesel (crisply destroyed beats from the Dum Records roster), Marko Laine (hard, crescendo-leveling techno, first issued on Djax), F.U. Project, Ø (aka Olento); lovely, pulsating bleepage from Vainio), Tron, Aural Expansion (static-laced atmospheric from Jouni Alkio, whose album is on SSR), Pineapple Circle (drifting string-enhanced dream-beats from this duo), Jaljentamo (Basic Channel styled lo-balled pulse), Redshift & Uranus. Includes extremely desirable licensed tracks from the early & long deleted Sähkö catalog (Ø's "Tutka" was Sähkö 001; Panasonic's "Muuntaja" was Sähkö 002, from 1994). Perfect overview of this scene. Limited stock...

VA: Funktio 2 CD (FU 503). $14.00

"Not as much of a continuation of the first volume's rhyme/reason/rhetoric as a sampler of new techno artists borrowing from the 'Funktio' aesthetic put forth by the ground-breaking Funktio 1 release of last year. Still present is Kim Rapatti (Dum label founder, Monojunk) in one of his many aliases, along with several new producers carrying forth the torch of post-dancefloor forms sprouting up in suddenly not-so-distant Finland." — Hrvatski. Also features: Nemesis XI, Robert Blomerus, Sensien, Vladislav Delay, Tron, DJ Tres, Marko Laine, GMA, Ioma, Nu Science, Jokela.

FUNCTION 8:

JET BLACK CRAYON: Inaccuracies of the Mind Machine CD (FER 88815CD). $14.00

"On their first full length release for Function 8 Records, Jet Black Crayon takes two steps sideways and nine leaps forward. The record is a beautiful whole, performed by Tommy Guerrero, Monte Vallier and Gadget, with drumming from Johnny Herndon (Tortoise, Isotope 217, A Grape Dope), Charlie Hall, and then some. It's been crafted and fine-tuned every inch of the way — music for mourning stars and dapper dervishes."

FUNDAMENTAL (UK):

TO DAMASCUS: Succumb LP (FUND 86). $10.00

Warehouse find of some copies of this European pressing of this otherwise unavailable classic 1985 LP. Featuring Sylvia Juncosa at her peak, pre-SST. Limited stock.

FUNFUNDVIERZIG (GERMANY):

CZUKAY/U-SHE, HOLGER: The New Millennium CD (FUN 132 CD). $14.00

"To coincide with his 65th birthday, Funfundvierzig release Holger Czukay's new album The New Millennium. On his new album he collaborates with U-She. Her voice has a similar teutonic sound to Nico's." All music and production by Czukay. Includes remixes by Terre Thaelmiltz, Frank Moreno & Marco Dionigi.

CZUKAY/U-SHE, HOLGER: The New Millennium 2LP (FUN 133 LP). $17.00

Double LP version.

FUNKY ASS RECORDS:

DR. DOOOM: First Come, First Served CD (KTR 009 CD). $14.00

"Dr. Doom is one Keith Thornton, aka Kool Keith (Sex Style CD on Bulk), aka Dr. Octagon (Octagonecologist and Instrumentalist CD's on Mo'Wax AND DreamWorks, guest on Prodigy's Fat of the Land CD), aka one of the many Ultramagnetic MC's. This CD is a concept record about the death of Dr. Octagon (the first track, titled 'Who killed Dr. Octagon' explains all of this...) and proudly displays the most garish faux-No Limit design aesthetic (floating bright 3-D logo blur, exaggerated depth perception, plastic) this side of Charge it II Da Game. The backing tracks are mad-gritty & stumble across all sorts of horror movie gank & ominous sonics while Keith rants about the current state of Hip-Pop (subjects of current digression: wack DJ's, insects as food, bad overproduced rap singles (Timbaland), yes-men, the rich, The Prodigy, cannibalism ('while you motherfuckers eat pork I've got real humans on my fork'), Vinnie Testaverde, Michael Jackson, rent collectors, etc...). Completely anti-lush & primed for the ink due in the 'thinking man's entertainment' world. Bitchin'." — Hrvatski.

DR. DOOOM: You Live At Home With Your Mom 12" (KTR 011). $11.00

Two track picture disc. B-side is "Housing Authority".

FUNKY CHOCOLATE (FRANCE):

HOLMES & BLACK COFFEE, BRAXTON: Funky People Vol. 1 12" (FC 004). $8.00

"Let's welcome Funky Chocolate! Glad to see some serious loopy grooves in da house. We start with Chicago master Braxton Holmes (who offered to keep spreading the Cajual sound on this French label) & Black Coffee who kill the floors with a long version of "Why you tryin' to hustle me" (based on War's 'Good Feelings' & originally released on Cajual with bad sound & very short version). Also on this good looking 12" a remix by the men of 'Club Lonely' (Funky chocolate 03). Hot grooves approved by Moodymann 'Much respect for this record...I definitely like it!' & Rick Wade 'Your record is fantastic and you've earned my respect...' black & underground house music."

BELL, NORMA JEAN: I'm The Only Queen 12" (FC 012 EP). $10.00

"Originally released a while back on Pandemonium in very limited quantities, the classic tracks 'I'm the Only Queen' (here remixed by Kenny Dixon Jr aka Moodymann) are now available again on the French-Detroit connection label Funky Chocolate. Norma Jean Bell sings & plays the sax, Moodymann provides the groove. Simply unmissable."

FUNKY MUSHROOM:

HAIL/STAIL: How To Live With a Tiger CD (FM 025). $9.00

Haid (Susanne Lewis & Bob Drake) + Azaila Snail collaborative release from 1995. Pleasing low budget psychedelic dream-haze.

AZALIA STAIL: Fumarole CD (FM 032 CD). $9.00

1995 solo album, her third overall.

FUSETRON:

INSTITUT FUER FEINMOTORIK: Negemergenz LP (FUSE 023). $12.00

New album from this German group (recent album on Staubgold was Wenig Information: Kein Titel). "Now that Institut Fuer Feinmotorik uses 'empty' record players leading to a soundscape which contains very little information, this could be described as something like a negative emergent phenomenon which explains the title of this longplay vinyl album in which the German notion 'emergenz' was modified in the previously described manner. This is Institut fuer Feinmotorik record #6."

FINE, MILO: Frequency Etchings (Ongoing Celebrations of Insignificance) LP (FUSE 025). $12.00

"An improvised (and unintentional) rejoinder to such compositions as Rainier Riehn's 'Chants De Maldoror', Cage's 'Cartridge Music' and 'Variations 2' (as realized by David Tudor) and other raw, random electronic music from the late 60s/early 70's. Solo clarinet/electronics set recorded live Nov 20, 1998 at Roadrunner Records in Minneapolis and presented here in its entirety. This is Milo's 19th document following last April's release of the triple CD Surges/Suspensions Comme Toujours. This LP is a numbered edition of 330 with high quality RTI pressing and full color paste-on sleeves." Limited stock.

K-GROUP/OMIT: Storage LP (FUSE 028). $13.00

"Not a split release by these two New Zealand artists, but a collaboration, carrying on from their 1997 single on Colorful Clouds for Acoustics. The weapons of choice are analogue synthesizers and the approach is slowly unfolding drones and drifting veils of sound that part and close across the listener's third ear like storms on the surface of Jupiter. K-Group is Paul Toohey, previously of noted NZ geological drone ensemble Surface of the Earth, who also has a solo album under this name on Corpus Hermeticum. Omit is Clinton Williams, who has also recorded for that notorious NZ 'un-easy listening' label, as well as extensively on his own Deep Skin imprint."

YOUNGS, RICHARD: 171 Used Train Tickets 10" (FUSE 029). $12.00

"The Old Angel, Nottingham, 1990. It was the A-Band's third live show and we were calling ourselves Advent for the evening in honour of a local record shop who — judging by their filing system — thought they were stocking an album entitled 'Richard Youngs' by Advent rather than Advent by Richard Youngs. For reasons that escape me now, I'd hoarded 171 used train tickets. It felt like a cool idea to read them out. So I did. Not in the privacy of my own home, but to an audience. They seemed to enjoy it. As soon as I'd finished, the A-Band struck up and a good time was had by all." — Richard Youngs.

SHIRAIISHI & SEAN MEEHAN, TAMIO: In the City LP (FUSE 030). $15.00

"Each summer Tamio Shiraishi & Sean Meehan pair up for a series of outdoor concerts in New York City always in a different location, the concerts explore unwatched and unconsidered sites of the city. (This LP is the first release of this summer tradition. 12" vinyl with a b-sided etching by Knickerbocker." — Sean Meehan. Meehan has collaborated with Sachiko M, Mamoru Fujieda, Michihiro Sato, Edwin Torres, Muigel Algarin, Greg Kelley, Ami Yoshida, Taku Sugimoto, Toshimaru Nakamura, Tetzui Akiyama, Kiyoharu Kuwayama and many others. Tamio Shiraishi has been performing since the late 1970s, including playing drums and synthesizer in an early incarnation of Fushitsusha. He's currently living in NYC and occasionally collaborates with the No Neck Blues Band.

WOLF EYES & BLACK DICE: Wolf Eyes & Black Dice CD (FUSE 031CD). $12.00

CD contains 2 previously unreleased bonus tracks. "Here is it is. Recorded at a subterranean Chinatown studio in two days. Tons of jacked EQ, no space, cases of brew, clouds of smoke, Guinness record for most times 'Dude' was said. We met on equal ground here. Total respect. The record really sounds like the shadow of each band. It was a blast. Play it on 16 rpm in a closet and jam along with the bones of an enemy. Me, it would be playing the remains of that rat fucker Shawn Murphy, dude couldn't shake shit at this horrible eerie black pond sound." — John Olson, Wolf Eyes, October 2003. Different recordings than the American Tapes CDRs. Recorded Oct 2001.

GANG GANG DANCE: Gang Gang Dance LP (FUSE 032). $15.00

Features Tim DeWit (ex-Cranium, Ssab Songs, Angelblood, White Magic, Neil Michael Hagerty, Cass McCombs), Brain DeGraw (ex-Cranium, Ssab Songs, Angelblood), Liz Bougatsos (Actress, Angelblood), Josh Diamond (Ssab Songs), and Nathan Maddox. "Gang Gang Dance are a group composed of well-known entities (in and around NYC in particular) but have left a sporadic, almost shadowy, impression upon people nonetheless. Various members play/have played in various other bands. They'll surface to play a clutch of shows, most all well-attended, only to disappear again (as regards to any kind of reliable congregation). Oh, and there's also been no record to speak of, save a 100-copy CD, more or less fleetingly manifested for an art event with probably somewhere that amount of attendees. Anyways, now we have a document, albeit LP only, and thankfully definitely a good one. The opening female vocal ululations soon enough refract electronically, and the summoned whalesong dimension spires into an urgent metempsychotic groove. Coming as they do from different angles, its safe to assume there is humanity to the postproduction approach on here. Indeed the first side in its totality achieves a narrative facility which, when sized up against the nature of its parts, could remind one of a more quietly-alloyed Chrome. It does not end there, in fact there is something of a sense of unfinished business, and the second side strikes off with a snapping dream of desert suspense. Mechanic industry rises up here too though, marking yet another salient entre into the crafted spuriousness GGD seek to espouse. An open drone fills for much of the half, accumulating a lyric denouement that possesses overtures toward melody and texture but less toward propulsive mien." Deluxe full color gatefold sleeve.

EXCEPTER: Vacation/Forget Me 12" (FUSE 033). $12.00

"For the second time in a row now, one of Brooklyn's grandest experimental entourages have presented us with a sonic totem whose jaunty and bright packaging belie an almost certain palpable sense of unease. Here Excepter have perhaps crafted a treatise on nothing less than the uncomfortable aspects of having to leave ones home. Or they may well have been channeling the soundtrack to a particularly bizarre road trip I once went on involving an Indian burial ground, a cross eyed woman Xeroxing chain letters at a supermarket, and an extremely sadistic alligator farm outside of Hot Springs, Arkansas where I witnessed a stuffed Fiji Merman. Unease indeed. But of course, like on any worthy and good vacation, once you've become used to new unsettling sensations like foot blisters and sunburn you realize how sublime the landscape is. And sublimity is what Excepter trades in spades."

EXCEPTER: KA LP (FUSE 035). $12.00

"Excepter is the new group spearheaded by J F Ryan, former electric tree-branch swinger for the No-Neck Blues Band. Using a mutating system of synchronized electronics engineered to ensure live sequencing, Excepter seeks to carry freestyle composition from the tip of the tongue on down to the ones and zeros. All tracks on this LP were performed and mixed live to stereo. Digital editing was only used to arrange the phantasmagoric second side, a tribute to HP Lovecraft's novella Dreamquest of Unknown Kadath. Excepter also marks the singing debut of dancer/choreographer Caitlin Cook. Guaranteed to make you dream in color."

G-MAN (GERMANY):

G-MAN: Night Trax Vol. 2 12" (GMR 002). $9.00

"Here is the second release on G-Man's label, with three pulsating Technotrax. It is what it is: deep techno from the heart."

G-STONE RECORDINGS (AUSTRIA):

VA: G Stone Book CD (GS 019 CD). $26.00

"A brilliant collection of downtempo classics from the G-Stone Recordings back-catalog, the G-Stone Book is a comprehensive audio-visual reference for both die-hard fans of label-founders and downbeat heroes Kruder & Dorfmeister, and style-hungry music lovers alike. Featuring signature tunes from K&D, Tosca, Peace Orchestra, and Stereotyp, the G Stone Book also includes over 300 pages of photographs and biographical history from nearly a decade spent on the forefront of the international DJ scene. With several witty essays and interviews, the book serves as a perfect accompaniment to the deep, dub-inflected sound Vienna's G-Stone Recordings has come to signify."

HUNTER, RODNEY: Hunter Files CD (GS 020CD). $16.00

"After being asked in the fall of 2001 by Mr Kruder and Mr Dorfmeister to produce and realize an album for G-Stone recordings, Rodney set about the task of expressing the sounds and stories of his musical upbringing. The Hunterfiles has the funk, the groove, the soul and the chill that have encouraged and promoted the growth and development of a music boy into music man. Two years in the making and with guest appearances from outstanding talents such as Hubert Tubbs, Ken Cesar, Farda P, Hunterfiles is a worthy excursion into the new sounds of Vienna and beyond."

HUNTER, RODNEY: Hunter Files 2LP (GS 029LP). $22.00
Double LP version.

G3G (SPAIN):

MARS: Mars LP: The Complete Studio Recordings NYC 1977-1978 CD (G3G MARS). $16.00

"The Mars LP is the definitive collection of the 32 minutes of studio recordings released between 1977 and 1979 on vinyl by the first of the no wave bands. Supervised by the surviving members, remastered from original sources without any added effects, and packaged with detailed notes and lyrics, the Mars LP is an effort to recuperate the group's legacy and make up for the unavailability of these tracks in their original sound." "Static transmissions from a distant dark star. Taking up and tripping out further than the Velvet Underground's 'Black Angel Death Song', Mars punished not with blunt force, but with a propulsive agitation which signaled a neurological insanity. A crippled tension swathed in nervous friction. A cavernous musical universe riddled with eerie sound storms whose poisoned atmosphere seduced and threatened. Obtuse and unforgiving. Sickly sexy. Red noise redefining bass urges, forcing the listener to question their own sanity by drilling into ear holes using electroshock guitars as saw blades trepanning into grey matter. Mars unleashed a choking cacophony illustrating the body as machine in disrepair fuelled by the impending repulsion and disintegration of a perverse romance with one's own demons. Demons who once wrenched free, made mimicry of the jangling nerve centers, and given voice as song, turned schizophrenic and howled these testimonials to the unbearable." — Lydia Lunch. [note: Mars LP is the title, but this is a CD only release]. Includes their first single on Rebel/Ze, the No New York tracks, the Mars EP on Lust/Unlust — their complete discography. This CD should be considered as an alternative to the still-valid Mars 78+ CD on Atavistic — this one features all the original recordings as intended, with all the Thirlwell sound reprocessing of the Atavistic CD eliminated.

GADGETS (GERMANY):

VA: The Users And The Gadgets CD (GADG 07 CD). $15.00

"Gadgets is a label and project that has existed since 1995. It was founded by Corrado Izzo and Bernd Maus. This compilation is the first milestone in the label's history, and is a collection of some Gadgets material like 'Perfect Feeling', some unreleased material like Peter Kremer (a.k.a. Lo Soul or Mr. Hazeltine) 'Nuclear'. There's a Mannequin Lung remix contributed by Plug Research, an anonymous track entitled 'Question'. Also included is a cut from Moodmusic by Sasse (a.k.a. Freestyleman) called 'Pori', and a cut previously released on a limited Finnish record by Melody Boy 2000 ('Monotone Fantastique'). All in all this product scopes out a wide variety of styles and shows off its lack of musical borders. Dedicated to all the users and their gadgets." Limited stock.

GAGARIN RECORDS (GERMANY):

WELTTRAUMFORSCHER: ...Remixen dei Welttraumforscher LP (GR 2004). $16.00

Remixes by Mouse on Mars, Felix Kubin, F.X. Randomiz, Harald Sack, Neoangin, Minitcheve, Kiss Kiss Bang Bang, Klangwart, Nova Huta, Joe Tabu, Barbar Morgenstern, Schlammpeitziger, Forscher in der Nacht. Elaborate color gatefold sleeve, white colored vinyl, edition of 1000 copies.

TURNER, MAX: Matchbox Jump & Jeebeats 12" (GR 2006). $11.00

"Futuristic Racecar Hip-Hop featuring Berlin's new master of weirdness and words, the fusion of confusion himself, Max Turner. With astounding sounds and mixes from Moonbuggy, Patric C, Bomb20, Schneider TM and Felix Kubin."

GÖRING/BAROM*ONE, BREZEL: LP (GR 2007). $15.00

"Split LP of Brezel Göring and Japanese noise pop band Barom One. Göring, prime minister of Stereo Total and Count of Sinister Forests, where he creates his wacky scratchy minimal electro punk, pleases our filthy fantasies with swinging moods, from new wave disko to distorted hawaii shuffle to fucked up Bollywood crash music. Barom One from Tokio create a blend of Euro-Disko-Gabba-Trash and pure noise with hysterical voices and catchy melodies."

RETRO*SEX*GALAXY: Entertaining Physics LP (GR 2008). $18.00

"Poland's Mik.Musik agent Wojt3k Kucharczyk bugged his Robotron family. All tracks are dedicated to physiological phenomena. Wojt3k is still working to find best solution (and highest re-soul-ution) to the question he asked himself — is it possible to make music as dense as nature itself is?."

HANK, CANDIE: Kimouchi LP (GR 2009). $18.00

"Patric Catani started to make music very early, in his teenager age he used to program on his C64 Computer and used to 'rip' the old arcade game music out of games. He continued to work on the homecomputer and made his first Hardcore/Techno Candie Hank is a grotesque entertainment show with no limit, a collision of Rock'n Roll, Moog influenced but harsh synthcases breakcore but Belly Dance Punk and Gabba like Proto Pop. His debut LP Kimouchi just got released on Gagarin Records run by Felix Kubin who couldn't deny to release the Candie Hank stuff and even called it a 'landmark'. Candie Hank calls it Lubricant Sleazecore. Gabba record in the age of 16 in the year 1992 on his Amiga 500 computer."

GALACTIC ZOO DISC/ECLIPSE:

SPLENDOR MYSTIC SOLIS: Heavy Acid Blowout Tensions Live! LP (GZDECL 002 LP). $13.00

"Together for only one US tour, this transcontinental supergroup featured Kawabata Makoto (Acid Mothers Temple, Mainliner, Nishinohon, Musica Transonic, countless other projects), Sasaki Hisashi (Ruins), Shimura Koji (White Heaven, High Rise, Mainliner, Miminokoto), mastermind Nanjo Asahito (High Rise, Mainliner, Red Alert, etc.) and Plastic Crimewave (Utopia Carcrash, The Unshown, Plastic Crimewave Sound) who organized the at times tension-filled tour. These two concerts from Chicago and Detroit feature barnstorming acid rock blowouts that eerily stop on a dime and escalate to dizzying heights just as easily. Some frames of reference might include Ash Ra Tempel, Amon Duul II or Japanese psychsters White Heaven and Fushitusha. The album features equally excessive lysergic artwork by Plastic Crimewave. Alan Cummings from The Wire proclaimed upon hearing, "It's much better than most of Nanjo's releases."

YONKERS, MICHAEL: It's Only the Yonkers LP (GZDECL 005LP). $13.50

"So what does a NEW Michael Yonkers record sound like? I was as skeptical as anyone might be, having heard a lot of bad 30 year gap 'comeback' and 'reunion' lps ...but my jaw dropped on the first 2 bars of this baby. The good news is that not much has changed, Yonkers is still defiantly kicking out monster-distorto-blooz-added ROCK. Gutsy howls with melodies underneath that stick to your ribs, and of course the trademark guitar buzz n scrape. This is savage yet stripped down pure Yonkers-recorded straight to 4-track with no overdubbing or trickery. The past 30 years are a mere blur, as this is fresh vital music that blows away the current trendy 'garage band' in an instant. If you enjoyed the Microminiature Love record or are even the most casual fan of R n R, punk, post-punk, rock-ably, power blues, etc. you will go as nuts for this as I did. Eye-poppin cover art by Plastic Crimewave."

500MG: Vertical Approach LP (GZDECL 006LP). $13.50

"Michael Gibbons, of monolithic sounds-great-on-any-substance rockers, Bardo Pond, delivers all the fuzzed out good you'd expect on his 1st solo LP. However, Gibbons really is hitting the true loner path here, forged by weirdos like Deuter, Sandy Bull, early Robert Wyatt and even Neil Young's dusty Dead Man soundtrack. Yes, these are cyclical, even largely stripped-down meditations — call it komische raga folk, maybe? Whatever the case, that staring-into-the-sun / Skip Spence vibe prevails: this is a headswirler with feeling, from an underrated and understated guitar god. Sitar, plaintive acoustic guitar, electronics, sampled snatches of manipulated vocals, and that glorious trademark FUZZ. Is it for late nights or early mornings? That is for you to ruminate on."

GALAXIA:

A GRAPE DOPE: Missing Dragons CD (GLX 017 CD). $11.00

"A Grape Dope (known forthwith as AGD) is the offshoot, beat-oriented, slow jam, and otherwise selector (after some stumbling), brain-damaged child of John Herndon. Mr. Herndon spends the majority of his time spinning yarns for the groups Tortoise, Isotope 217, and The Eternals. AGD finds joy in the sounds between the cracks. Inspired by the breath of a two-headed garbage dog and their fearless mistress, AGD found beats where there were none and sorrow in our collective happiness, and vice versa. Guests include DoseOne (anticon) on, Kathryn Frazier, and Sally Timms."

A GRAPE DOPE: Missing Dragons 12" (GLX 017 EP). $9.00

Vinyl EP version.

JET BLACK CRAYON: Experiments In The Space Metal Time Signature CD (GLX 018 CD). $11.00

"This EP is the result of a request from Thomas Campbell (Galaxia) who came to some live improv shows Jet Black Crayon used to do on Sundays at Amnesia in San Francisco. He wanted the band to capture the drunken meandering vibe of those shows for this EP. At the shows Tommy Guerrero, Monte Vallier, Gadget, and Tim DeGauigh would usually do two sets of an hour to an hour-and-a-half, playing some Jet Black Crayon songs but mostly just making things up on the spot and rolling with them. The improvisations were atmospheric, and sometimes got heavy in a funk/soul sort of way. Experiments In The Space Metal Time Signature is Jet Black Crayon's favorite parts of a couple hours' worth of the studio recordings performed similarly."

HIM: Lila CD (GLX 019 CD). $10.00

"This EP is a 21-minute companion piece to Him's Many In High Places Are Not Well album on the Bubble Core label. Doug Scharin on drums and Rhodes is joined on cornet by Rob Mazurek (Isotope 217, Chicago Underground Duo, and others) along with guests Christian Dautresme, Joe Goldring, Griffin Rodriguez."

HIM: Lila 12" (GLX 019 EP). $9.00

Vinyl EP version.

BRIGHTBLACK: Ala.cali.tucky CD (GLX 020CD). $14.00

"Brightblack goes well with ghostly, bow-legged travels in a cheap old pick-up truck. The title of the album refers to the process of how the recording took place: the songs were written in Alabama and California (and rehearsed in an old wood barn on a friend's ranch) and recorded in Kentucky (one song per day). Claimed influences range from My Bloody Valentine to the Grateful Dead's early records, but who knows what Alabamians really listen to? The music is as friendly as it is stony, full-to-the-brim of Southern drawl charm."

BRIGHTBLACK: Ala.cali.tucky CD (GLX 020LP). $11.00

LP version.

GUERRERO, TOMMY: Getting It Together 12" (GLX 021EP). $7.00

"This limited edition single is from Tommy Guerrero's recent full length album Soul Food Taqueria (released on the MoWax label). This track features vocals by Lyrics Born (Latyrx/Quannum projects). The B-side is the instrumental version and a new unreleased song."

GALLERIE DESSFORD VOGEL (NEW ZEALAND):

MORLEY, MICHAEL: The Pavillion Of Fools CD (GDV F55 75). $14.00

A soundtrack album of sorts, as issued by Morley's new organization (his first recordings without the Dead C. or Gate protective moniker). Including some excellent synthesizer blur, solo guitar tracks, and no songs to speak of. Perhaps his most "mature" and fully realized work, there's a fantastic width of sound materials presented here.

GAMELAN SON OF LION:

GAMELAN SON OF LION, THE: New Gamelan/New York CD (GSOL 001CD). $15.00

"Strange vibes this way comes. Privately issued CD of strangely beautiful contemporary tunes cut for Gamelan instruments by this legendary out ensemble. Songs are Brighton Beach, Piece for Peace in the Middle East, Sixties, Four Dances for Balinese Angklung, Kebayar Leyak, Slendro Clarinet, Mostly Slendro Passacaglia. Chants and snaky melodies make this disc as mystifying as their two folkways discs but with an occasional swinging feeling reminiscent of late Moondog sides." 1995 release.

DEMNIITZ, DAVID: Gamelan as a Second Language CD (GSOL 002CD). $15.00

"6 track lengthy disc by Gamelan Son of Lion member, David Demnitz, featuring Barbara Benary, Daniel Goode and a whole fresh breed of folks devoted to the collective sounds of the Gamelan. Classic cyclical minimalist compositions free of the usual didactic foam coming out of the ivory tower."

GAMELAN SON OF LION, THE: Bending The Gending CD (GSOL 003CD). $15.00

"Wiggy stuff by the Gamelan Son of Lion crew. Featuring 11 compositions by as many performers. You'll be as inclined to think of Bat Chain Puller era Beefheart and the strange world of Harry Partch as you would the traditional rhythmic strokes of the Indonesian Gamelan." 2002 release.

GAMMON RECORDS:

VA: Songs In The Key Of Z, Vol. 1 CD (GMN 2102 CD). $14.00

"Music historian and WFMU radio host Irwin Chusid has authored Songs In The Key Of Z: The Curious Universe Of Outsider Music (A Cappella Books/Chicago Review Press), the first exploration of this eccentric musical genre. Chusid has also produced a companion CD (Gammon Records) of the same title. Vol. 1 explores such avatars of outré sonics as The Shaggs, Daniel Johnston, The Legendary Stardust Cowboy, Jandek, the Cherry Sisters, Captain Beefheart, Tiny Tim, Wesley Willis, Wild Man Fischer, Shoo-by Taylor (the human horn) and countless other 'differently sane' souls with loyal followings. 'Outsider Music' refers to a genre of audio exotica that in some ways is so wrong — it's right. This stream of musical mutation could be the product of supernatural possession, genetic flaw, psychosis, or spiritual awakening. Outsider musicians are the sonic counterparts to the long-celebrated progenitors in other fields of outsider art (e.g., painting, sculpture, architecture, landscaping, literature). This phenomenon is also referred to as naive, visionary, folk, or primitive art. The French referred to it as 'art brut' (raw art). These largely self taught musicians may lack conventional tunefulness and self-awareness, but they display an abundance of earnestness and passion."

VA: Songs In The Key Of Z, Vol. 2 CD (GMN 2104 CD). $14.00

"Another CD compilation of ear opening 'outré phonics.' These 17 artists showcase a colorful array of genres, styles and techniques — but each is authentic, sincere, passionate, and possessed of a singular identity. From the unshakeable patriotism of B.J. Snowden's 'America,' to Señor Luie Luie's 14-trumpet opus 'Touch of Light,' from Bob Vido's one-man-Shaggs 'High Speed' blowout, to Alvin Dahn's Van Halen-spiked 'You're Driving Me Mad,' from Buddy Max's nakedly confessional 'Birthmark Story,' to Congresswoman Malinda Jackson Parker's 7-minute, freewheeling 'Cousin Mosquito #2' — this is REAL MUSIC. If all you hear are imperfections, your ears are on wrong."

LANGLEY SCHOOLS MUSIC PROJECT: Innocence And Despair 2LP (GMN 2105LP). $19.00

"Two separate LPs will replicate the covers, labels and complete track sequences of the extremely rare 1976 and 1977 albums, of which only 300 each were pressed. The set includes two tracks left off the North American Bar/None CD edition. Album producer Irwin Chusid's liner notes from the CD will be included as a paper insert in both LPs. The Langley Schools Music Project is one of the most unexpected and unlikely hits of the recent past. This CD of 'found' mid-'70s recordings features rural Canadian schoolchildren aged 9-12 performing classic rock songs of the Beatles, Beach Boys, Fleetwood Mac and others."

GARDEN OF DELIGHTS (GERMANY):

AGITATION FREE: The Other Sides of Agitation Free CD (GOD 032). $16.00

"Unreleased studio recordings from the last days of the band (Recorded in 1974). Great sound quality. Most tracks have jazz elements. With booklet of 32 pages." "It was an essential part of Agitation Free's tradition to venture into different musical worlds and to play together with many other musicians. The band would always try new projects, including arrays into 'serious' music, but whenever we indulged in jazzrock or politically oriented rock music, our record company of that time refused publication of our efforts. Many recordings have survived, testimony of a time full of fun with our friends, but had to wait until now to be released on CD. These friends include: Manfred Opitz (keyboarder with Metropolis), Klaus Henrichs (then saxophone player with Os Mundi), Harald Grosskopf (former drummer with Wallenstein), Constantin 'Bommi' Bommaris (then drummer with Karthago), etc." Michael Günther/Agitation Free.

ELIFF: Close Encounter With Their Third One CD (GOD 036). $16.00

As with the Gila CD on this label, this is a previously unreleased WDR radio broadcast, from 10/18/72. An art-inspired jazz-rock group, often compared to the Soft Machine, who recorded two albums for Philips in 1971-72. From Crack In The Cosmic Egg: "One of the great, but little known, wonders of Krautrock, originating from Stuttgart we believe, Eliff on their two LPs developed a most unique style of powerful rock fusion. Eliff destroyed barriers between rock, jazz and established progressive genres, with lengthy intensive compositions that twist and turn with startling complexity, or riff with amazing power and stability. In their unique concoction songs were rarely used, and only then to counterpoint the instrumentals, and when necessary get over an idea that couldn't be achieved without words. They had the power of Mahavishnu Orchestra, the invention of Guru Guru, the diversity of Out Of Focus, and really they were purely excessive, with diverse elements blended together as only experienced in Krautrock."

EULENSPYGEL: Ausschuß CD (GOD 042). $16.00

"Second album by this semi-legendary Krautrock group from 1972, following their classic debut 2. Typically, an unusual amount of care was put into this reissue by the people at Garden of Delights: excellent sound, seven extra tracks and almost more information about the group than one could want, rendering another Germanofon bootleg obsolete. For their sophomore effort, we see Eulenspygel sticking to their creative guns, still singing all of there songs in German, and not bending over to their record company by quashing their decidedly leftist leanings, probably no mean feat at the height of Baader-Meinhof hysteria. The opening track demonstrates this fact most pointedly; Titled 'Abfall', this rock opera of sorts clocks in at over 22 minutes, and concerns an orphan named Peter — the group went so far as to visit a number of orphanages to research the material first hand. Their style was a mix of early Deep Purple and Arthur Brown on one side of the channel and perhaps Witthuser & Westrupp from their native country on the other. More exotic instrumentation than the predecessor, courtesy of Rod Argent(!) at Abbey Road studios where this was more than competently recorded, and the interesting mix of Teutonic folk and blues-based rock make this a fine listen from top to bottom." — Billy Kiely

ALBATROS: Garden of Eden CD (GOD 043). $16.00

"Elaborate art rock from Hagen circa 1978. Similar to early Genesis or early Wallenstein. Three long tracks, well played and neatly recorded. Recommended. With 28 page color booklet." Named after the Fleetwood Mac album these guys supported the likes of Grobschnitt and Kin Ping Meh. Think about that for a minute. This CD is a reissue of their lone album, "valued" at $500 (somewhere, to at least 1 person, at least for one brief moment). Random staff comment: "Reminds me of Journey more than Genesis."

AGITATION FREE: Fragments CD (GOD 088). $16.00

Third issue of these 1974 sessions, with 1 bonus track; with much better sound quality than the Spalax CD. Recorded in Berlin, 11/14/74 as their "final reunion" a loose jamming session featuring various members of the groups' different periods: Christoph Franke, Michael Hoenig, Lutz Ulbrich, etc. Not issued at the time, although a CD Rom version came out in Germany on Musique Intemporelle. Great extended psych and a fine addition to their small discography.

GATES OF DAWN:

IEM (INCREDIBLE EXPANDING MINDFUCK): Arcadia Son LP (GOD 006). $23.00

"Ltd to 500 copies, this is a Porcupine Tree side project by Steven Wilson. A unique blend of classic Krautrock stylings, tapes, deep psychedelia and spacey improvisation."

BLACKFIELD: Blackfield 2LP (GOD 008). $30.00

"Absolutely stunning recording from Steven Wilson (Porcupine Tree, No Man, IEM, Bass Communion) and Israeli legend Aviv Geffen. Full LP and bonus 12" 45 rpm single with exclusive tracks: in thick gatefold sleeve and including poster both designed by Lasse Hoile. Lush, melodic and beautifully produced and executed."

GAYLE:

GAYLE, PHILIP: Keguribap CD (GAYLE). $13.00

Experimental solo guitar improv from Texas. Utilizing oddly-stringed acoustic guitars, plus a brush, wobbleboard, water bottles, banjo and classical guitar this mixes layers of plink-plonk riffs, bedroom-fidelity atmospherics and a gruff, percussive-oriented feel to very interesting effect.

GAZUL RECORDS/MUSEA (FRANCE):

PATAPHONIE: Le Matin Blanc CD (GAZUL 8629). $15.00

Reissue of this French Progressive/RIO-aligned group's one proper album, originally self-released in 1979 (an edit of earlier improvisation extracts was issued by the infamous Pole label in 1975 — not currently on CD). The group was a trio: André Viaud (guitar, prepared guitar), Gilles Rousseau (drums), Pierre Demouron (bass). Compared to Soft Machine, Henry Cow, King Crimson, Hatfield & the North, etc.

GDM (ITALY):

MORRICONE, ENNIO: OST The Good, The Bad And The Ugly CD (CLUB 7001). $15.50

"The original soundtrack recording for this 1966 Italian spaghetti western directed by Sergio Leone. The classic theme is Morricone's most famous composition and topped the charts in the US and Europe covered by Hugo Montenegro. Moments of intense drama and incredible beauty that are rarely heard in motion picture underscoring. There's a traditional element with a brassy feel to it, with thundering percussions, various arrangements of voices, a lot of bells, clanging acoustic and electric 'surfing' guitars, and even a prepared piano. Contains 10 previously unreleased outtakes. Digitally remastered. New artwork."

MORRICONE, ENNIO: OST La Gabbia CD (GDM 2012CD). $15.00

"Another outstanding musical exercise by the Maestro, a perfect soundtrack for this sexy movie directed by Giuseppe Patroni Griffi. Featuring solo performance by famous trumpet player Oscar Valdambri."

MORRICONE, ENNIO: OST La Disubbidienza CD (GDM 2013CD). $15.00

"A must for collectors of Italian film music and for all the fans of Morricone. A delicate soundtrack for this sensual movie directed by Aldo Lado and starring Stefania Sandrelli."

MORRICONE, ENNIO: Psycho Morricone CD (GDM 2030CD). $15.50

"The GDM label is an imprint for easy listening, lounge and compilations of classic soundtrack hits from the Cinevox archives. These mid-price collections assemble some of the greatest hits of the '60s and '70s films. In elegant digipack sleeve this is an excellent compilation of Ennio Morricone soundtrack hits. Booklet contains all the information necessary for cross referencing the film, director and cast — major release of the soundtracks so thus we have an excellent newcomers guide to the massive world of Morricone soundtracks. Additionally, this compilation contains previously unreleased material."

VA: Beat Shake Lounge Vol. 1 CD (GDM 2031CD). $15.50

"An excellent compendium to the Cinevox O.S.T. cannon, this mid-price compilation features the lounge /exotic soundtracks to such classic films as Un Italiano In America, Gli Intoccabili, Supercolpo Da 7 Miliardi, Il Profeta, Agente Speciale LK Operazione Re Mida, Inchiesta, La Bambolona, Vedo Nudo, Rebus, Dove Vai Tutta Nuda?, I Giovani Tigri, A Doppia Faccia, Seven Times Seven. The great composers of '60s Italian soundtracks are featured — Piero Piccioni, Ennio Morricone, Armado Trovajoli, Bruno Nicolai, Berto Pisano, Luis Bacalov, Nora Orlandi... Produced and compiled by Paolo Dell'Orso and Claudio Fuiano. Booklet contains all the cross referencing information for the film, director and cast — and major release of the soundtracks making this an excellent newcomers guide."

VA: Beat Music From the Movies Vol 2 CD (GDM 2032CD). $15.50

"A killer collection of '60s beat hits from cult cinema including cuts from Ennio Morricone, Armado Trovajoli, Stefano Torossi, Piero Umiliani, Piero Piccioni, Luis Bacalov. Strictly compiling the rocking beat cuts from the movies like Incontro Alla Balera, La Moda, La Donna Invisibile, La Pecora Nera, I Giovani Tigri, Le Foto Proibite Di Una Signora Per Bene, Un Detective, Colpo Rovente, Don Giovanni In Sicilia. Booklet contains all the information necessary for cross referencing the film, director and cast — major release of the soundtracks so thus again an excellent compilation that pulls the swinging beat numbers from these soundtracks all into one place."

GEAR FAB:

SHADRACK CHAMELEON: Shadrack Chameleon CD (GF 110). $13.00

Re-pressed. The song titles and length of time are the same, but the digital remastering has been done off new source data and is far superior to the earlier version. "The Humbolt, Iowa's classic 1972 Self-Titled LP along with Steve Fox and Randy Berka's earliest effort on the Sonic label 'It Was Me' b/w 'I Wonder Why', when they were known only as 'Shadrack'. This music is a cross between Traffic and Donovan."

BUMP: CD (GF 142). $13.00

"The fuzz guitar, heavy laden organ sound of this Detroit band's first LP from 1969. Reminiscent of early King Crimson, The Nice, Van der Graff Generator, this hard driving psychedelic music is just awesome. Also includes the non-LP track 'Winston Built The Bridge', all off the master tapes from Pioneer studios."

DREAMIES: Auralgraphic Entertainment: An Incredible Mental Experience CD (GF 146). $13.00

Finally, a legit reissue of this Delaware 1973 private press album, after a couple of lo-garde bootleg issues. With liner notes, lyrics and a photo of the original Dreamies man, Bill Holt! Gear Fab's most important reissue yet, very well done. "Bill Holt's Dreamies — the classic 1973 LP from this neglected but talented Delaware musician. The album is a trip through history, utilizing prominent moments of news from the space race to war to poverty and injects trippy and spacey psychedelic folk rock accurately and appropriately to the tracks. Much in the style of Donovan, his use of a variety of instruments, vocals, and sound effects that would equal the Beatles infamous 'Revolution Number 9'. Both mesmerizing and beautifully done. Don't bother with the German bootleg of a few years ago — it is of poor quality. This release will be off the master tapes." From Bill Holt's liner notes: "The Beatles opened my mind to fearless originality and dreamy visions. I was especially struck by John Lennon's 'Revolution No. 9' on The White Album. I read about the avant garde composers like John Cage with his 'Symphony For 32 Radios'. Bob Dylan's vocalizations challenged the conventional ear. The narrow boundaries of American creativity were being washed away by streams of consciousness... I quite my perfect job, paid two hundred dollars for an Octave acoustic guitar, like the one I saw Glenn Campbell playing on TV, bought one of the original Moog SonicSix synthesizers because the thought of a single instrument that could make any sound in the world brimmed with possibilities for new music, and then topped it off with a TEAC 4-track reel to reel recorder...Feeling free, for the first time in my life, I sat down as a music composer, a would-be artist, and tried to express the haunting, distant dream that was rising up inside me."

VA: Psychedelic States: Florida In The Sixties: Volume 3 CD (GF 175). $13.00

"Our final look at the great 60's bands from Florida before we head up to Georgia. More undiscovered bands from Miami to Tampa to Jacksonville to Orlando....and just like the first two volumes, lots of never before seen photos and the complete stories of the bands told by the band members themselves."

VA: Psychedelic States: Alabama In The Sixties: Volume 2 CD (GF 192). $13.00

"We head back to Alabama to unearth some more great undiscovered bands. From Birmingham to Muscle Shoals to Mobile to Montgomery.... lots of never before seen photos and the stories of the bands."

ASTRAL PROJECTION, THE: The Astral Scene LP (GF 206). $13.00

Now available on LP. "This 1968 pop/psychedelic rock album is just chock full of spacey instrumentation and utilizes horn, woodwind, and string sections very much like those used in Sgt. Pepper's."

GEAR FAB/COMET (ITALY):

BOKAJ RETSIEM: Psychedelic Underground LP (GF 409). $21.00

"Mega-rare German exploitation album recorded in 1967. Full of fuzzed out guitars and wailing organs. Close to Vanilla Fudge and Iron Butterfly."

KOPPERFIELD: Tales Untold 2LP (GF 412). $34.00

"The ultra-rare hard rock elpee by a great yet unknown Michigan band. Originally released as single album by Kopperdisc in 1974, this reissue includes a bonus LP with 9 unreleased tracks recorded during the same period. The music is hard driving, with loud and screaming guitars, tortured vocals, and an organ sound very similar to early Yes. Digitally remastered from the original master tapes. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram vinyl."

MILLER, PETER: World War IV LP (GF 414). $21.00

"This is the 1969 masterpiece of Peter Miller alias Big Boy Pete. A 47 minute symphonic poem that graphically depicts the final hour of destruction for planet Earth. Having toured extensively with the Beatles, Pete presented the album to his old mate John Lennon who almost released it on Apple Records. Digitally remastered from the original master tapes. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

RHUBARB'S REVENGE: Or Confessions Of A Big Lanky Dope LP (GF 416). $21.00

"Nearly every evening in the early 1970s, a group of friends who called themselves RoadApples would meet at Chris Breetveld's Pink Grass Studios (otherwise known as his parents' house) in Kendall Park, New Jersey after a couple of the members' second-shift jobs let out. The young men would drink beer and attempt to play something resembling music."

BOA: Wrong Road LP (GF 419). $21.00

"Originally released privately in 1971 on the Snakefield label. This reissue combined the original Wrong Road album in its entirety with some additional outtakes and handful of tracks from their first album Anvil. Raw garage psychedelia mixed with some keyboard driven numbers recalling Blessed End and the Doors. Other moments touch on fuzzed out blues numbers and psychedelia. 180 gram vinyl."

SNOPEK III, SIGMUND: Virginia Woolf 2LP (GF 421). $34.00

"A masterpiece concept album by former member of the '60s Bloomsbury People, way ahead-of-time psychedelic group from Wisconsin who's 'Witch Hellen' is a standout on Psychedelic Unknowns vol 5. Originally released in 1973 this Virginia Wolf tribute explores Sgt. Pepper-ish moods. A killer progressive psyche-pop masterpiece. Reissued in double format (this was originally a single LP) to accommodate outtakes and additional material. Gatefold sleeve."

LUMBEE: Overdose LP (GF 423). $21.00

"Excellent album of fuzzed out psychedelic exploitation obscurity. Some part reminiscent of the dreamy It's A Beautiful Day. Contains game insert. 180 gram vinyl."

HIGH TREASON: High Treason LP (GF 424). $21.00

"American flag rolling papers grace the cover and make this High Treason a pretty exceptional timepiece delivered by members of Philadelphia's Perry Leopold (recorded in 1970). The music is spacey, bluesy and psychedelic sounding very much like Jefferson Airplane and It's A Beautiful Day. 180 gram vinyl."

ELDERBERRY JAK: Long Overdue LP (GF 426). $21.00

"This great Morgantown, West Virginia quartet originally released this (very rare) rural rock album in 1970 on Electric Fox. Great fuzz guitar, heavy organ and tasteful use of acoustic guitars and piano. Reminiscent of America, Neil Young and Douglas Fir. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

GEFFEN (AUSTRALIA):

SONIC YOUTH: Dirty CD w/7" (GEF 24493). $20.00

Warehouse find of some copies of this Australian pressing of the 2nd Geffen album; this is the regular CD version of Dirty with a special "free" tour single of 'Burning Spear' in a full color pic sleeve.

GEFFEN (EUROPE):

YOUNG, NEIL: Trans CD (GED 2018). $13.00

European-only reissue, not available in the US. A reissue of Neil's 1982 album, in a "controversial" vocoder electro-style. Neil's first album for Geffen, featuring tracks with titles like "Computer Age", "Computer Cowboy (aka Syscrusher)", etc. Includes a "cover" of "Mr. Soul". Of all of Neil's experimental genre excursions, this is one of the most bizarre and satirizing.

GEFRIEM (GERMANY):

DON'T DOLBY: LP (GEFRIEM 005LP). $15.00

Now available on vinyl. "New release on the label of Jan St. Werner (Mouse On Mars), F.X.

Randomiz & J. Suchy. Lo-fi atmospheric ambience." Beautiful droning passages that are in a similar league of with some of Schlammpeitziger's post-Cluster movements alongside some disruptive but organically pleasant sectors with a similar feel to the TAU/1 CD. As with so much that comes out of the A-Musik camp this is a thrilling & pleasure-inducing document. Very minimal packaging which doesn't list a whole lot of pertinent information.

DON'T DOLBY: Don't Dolby 05 CD (GEFRIEM 006). $15.00

First release in a while on this obscure Cologne label; the last one we had was the rather excellent Master's Cosmic Music/Schlammpeitziger: Let The Star Shine In split LP. "New release on the label of Jan St. Werner (Mouse On Mars), F.X. Randomiz & J. Suchy. Lo-fi atmospheric ambience." Beautiful droning passages that are in a similar league of with some of Schlammpeitziger's post-Cluster movements alongside some disruptive but organically pleasant sectors with a similar feel to the TAU/1 CD. As with so much that comes out of the A-Musik camp this is a thrilling & pleasure-inducing document. Very minimal packaging which doesn't list a whole lot of pertinent information.

BLUTSIPHON: Tammus LP (GEFRIEM 7 LP). $13.00

LP version, full color cover.

BLUTSIPHON: Tammus CD (GEFRIEM 8 CD). $15.00

"On Cologne's Gefriem label. First solo release by Matthias Koehling, drummer of Workshop and Nilg. Lo-Fi recordings combined with lots of humour and sensitivity. Orgiastic sample fights meet Schlammpeitziger-esque artificial pop creations. Highly recommended for the fans of Gefriem's pioneer releases."

GEIST (UK):

ROPE: Rope Hotel CD (GEIST 002 CD). $22.00

Excellent new obscurity from the label that debuted with an Alec Empire 3CD box. "Rope's mainman is Janek Siegle, who had 10 years of classical music education, but used to frustrate teachers by trying to improvise everything from boogie woogie to Thelonious Monk. Influenced in part by classical composers like Olivier Messiaen, Stravinsky, Ravel, Debussy, Prokofiev, Isang Hyun right through to the Beastie Boys. Basically the antithesis of uninventive so-called 'alternative' rock and grunge. Style: relaxed, electronic, dubby, vibrant."

ROPE: Rope Hotel LP (GEIST 002 LP). $16.00

LIKE A TIM: I Like It When You Don't Like It CD (GEIST 004 CD). $11.00

"After eight years of releasing only singles, Like A Tim's first album Yeah Right appeared earlier in '98. The response was one of utter confusion, bewilderment and disbelief. His machines sound like day release asylum patients living in a world of lo-pid percussion and stuttering rhythms. His style is unfathomable, yet superbly irrelevant. Yeah Right swang from the unlistenable to weird, little analogue funk tracks, even finding time for a gem of a cover of ZZ Top's 'Legs'. Although at first hearing his tracks seem superficially simple, the tracks are in fact complex and demanding. He effortlessly shifts from A to C and leaves you wondering what happened to B. The subtle shifts in time and pitch, the hooking of disparate melodies and the steady streams of surprises make the album a perpetual delight."

SHE-SATELLITES: Poison Lips CD (GEIST 005 CD). $21.00

"The Satellites are Nic Endo who contributes the noise that is the essential ingredient in the sonic assault that is Atari Teenage Riot and the album Poison Lips exposes and explores her work in this sphere of music. Her first release was the Digital Hardcore EP 'White Noise'; her first full length album is on Geist, reflecting a wide more adventurous approach to the art of noise. Emotionally broad ranging it captures with rare intensity the elation, excitement, anger and frustration of a woman carving a singular path in the electronic music scene. A trained musician, Nic deliberately turned her back on conventional instrumentation to explore the purer potential available to her through the manipulation of sound."

SHE-SATELLITES: Poison Lips LP (GEIST 005 LP). $17.00

LIKE A TIM: I'm Serious CD (GEIST 006 CD). $21.00

"Where some producers run from the unfathomable, Like A Tim embraces, turns it into a tune and then puts it on a CD for you. His new album I'm Serious gives us all another chance to see how far the wandering mind of the man, Tim Van Leijden and his machines can go. Tim's plain melodies and puckish rhythm tracks guaranteed strong reactions. It was mainly laughter, horror and exhilaration around these parts. This new album pushes the envelope even further as Tim utilises Karaoke, hip hop, funk and, well everything actually, although it is all heavily disguised. Some truly rocktastic drums and some Polish folk lost in a Gameboy also put in an appearance. And, of course, repetition is his best friend."

LIKE A TIM: I'm Serious 2LP (GEIST 006 LP). $19.00

ROPE: It's No Fun To Compute CD (GEIST 007 CD). $21.00

"Rope is the brainchild of Jayrope, a Berliner who exploded from the loins of a church organist father and a psychologist mother. This clearly marked him as a man destined to become a maverick figure in the denizens of Berlin's underground. Citing his influences as early rap, 60s Beatles, rock and roll and jazz, he became fascinated with acid (the music) when it appeared in the late 80s, and started doing 'computer stuff'. He reverted to 'hand-made' efforts to avoid getting into a rut, and the music that was to become Rope Hotel began to take shape. A mixture of electronic and real instruments that set it apart from the plethora of other albums escaping from bedrooms at the time. It's No Fun To Compute is in turn a more pugnacious affair and good fun. It's aggressive, uncompromising, and is likely to appeal to those who like to chill, but do so with attitude."

ROPE: It's No Fun To Compute 2LP (GEIST 007 LP). $18.00

ASANO, TATSUHIKO: Genny Haniver CD (GEIST 014 CD). $14.50

"Japanese born Tatsuhiko Asano creates lush melodies interlaced with interesting changes and fresh, charismatic sounds. Teenage influences such as Yellow Magic Orchestra, Flying Lizards, Snakefinger, and a fascination with early radio show broadcasts of Ryuichi Sakamoto later gave way to an admiration of 808 State and KLF and other electronic music. After his graduation from the Tokyo University Of Art, Tatsuhiko played in several bands before embarking on a rather prolific solo career which even included exemplary work on the Nintendo64 games 'Doshin' and 'The Giant 1' in 2000."

ENDO, NIC: Cold Metal Perfection CD (GEIST 015 CD). $14.50

"The album's music has been inspired by free jazz pioneers such as Sun Ra together with Freddie Hubbard and Herbie Hancock in their earlier incarnations and avant garde composers such as Stockhausen and John Cage; as well as incorporating elements of modern electronic music such as the drum sounds of early eighties US electro. Nic Endo insists on pushing electronics to the limit, often working her equipment to breaking point. She is as comfortable on the piano as she is around digital equipment, and she urges others to acknowledge that there is nothing inherently radical about electronic music."

GENCH MUSIC/ASPHODEL RECORDS:

DIMUZIO, TOM: Solo + Combo 2CD (GENCH 1001). $14.00

"Thomas Dimuzio is one of those unsung artistic figures whose influence and abilities have substantially outstripped his visibility. Composer, multi-instrumentalist, sound designer, experimental electronic musician and recording studio owner, Dimuzio has been busy doing his thing(s) since the late 1980s. Solo + Combo is Dimuzio's first recording since 1999's Quake, an ReR-issued edition of live improv performances with Chris Cutler. A double CD set, Solo anthologizes the best of Dimuzio's contributions to compilation records, and live collaborations with fellow experimental musicians, moving across multiple genre and cultural boundaries. Spanning the years 1997-2001, each track on this anthology displays Dimuzio pushing the envelope of contemporary processing technology to truly epic, post-rock proportions. Featuring the talents of Invisibl Skratch Pikl Q-Bert, Tigerbeat6 hip-hop deconstructionist Wobbly, Illusion of Safety, Fred Frith, Chris Cutler, Scott Jenerik and more, Solo + Combo is a terrific introduction to a brilliant artist working at the top of his form."

GENERATOR:

VA: Generator: Detroit 2002 CD (GEN 027 CD). $15.00

"The label that started it all, Generator, is back with a vengeance after a six year hiatus. The first Detroit techno label with a truly global vision, Generator's first incarnation was home to such great artists as Woody McBride, Marco Passarani, Dave Clarke and Alan Oldham. And now, Generator is back with the Detroit 2002 compilation, a soundtrack to the Detroit Electronic Music Festival 2002. Compiled and executive-produced by award-winning DEMF 2002 Artistic Committee member Alan Oldham and boasting an international line-up that's performing live at the festival, Detroit 2002 provides us a snapshot of where dancefloor techno is in 2002, as well as its possible future." Features: The Advent, X-313, Bryan Zentz, Stewart Walker, Mike Dearborn, DJ T-1000, Adam X, Chaos, Ignacio (Steve Rachmad), Steven Tang.

GENES CD CO.:

MASTER MUSICIANS OF JAJOUKA: CD (GENES 3000). $12.00

Repress of this 1995 CD reissue of the all-time classic Jajouka LP, originally issued by Adelphi in 1974. Recorded by Joel Rubiner in Jajouka, Morocco during the summer of 1972, with liner notes by Robert Palmer. A conceptual 'sister' album to the Brian Jones presents the Pipes of Pan at Jajouka LP, which had attempted to initiate the Western world into this historic village music. Due to a generally perceived failure on Brian Jones' part for his insistence in adding post-production "fancy phazing and echo effects", that record was considered inadequate, but did get the word out on the potential psychedelic propulsion of this this indigenous music from a small village in the foot hills of the Rif Mountains of northern Morocco. On this self-titled album, Brian Jones isn't directly involved (his name, listed several times on the back of the CD, denotes that two pieces are in fact 'tributes', not participations), but the power and psychological intensity of their music (referenced so vividly by the likes of Brian Gysin, Ornette Coleman, William Burroughs, etc.) is finally realized to tape. "When this album was recorded, during the summer and fall of 1972, the Master Musicians were confronting the survival struggle head on. Brian Jones Presents the Pipes of Pan at Jajouka had been released the year before and had done little to improve the lot of the community. The musicians were determined to reach an audience in the West and it was decided at the outset that the extended ritual music which was captured by Jones, and which is so overwhelming under a full moon with bonfires blazing, lost much of its power and purpose when transferred to records. Accordingly, the musicians collapsed their long forms (which are rather like infinitely expandable telescopes) and set about putting concise statements of their heritage on tape...the tune 'Jajouka Black Eyes' is a particularly effective example of the spiritual and psychic powers of the rhaits. Toward the end of the piece one player hits a continuous drone (maintained by circular breathing, in which the musician blows out and breathes in at the same time, storing air in his lungs as if they were bags of a bagpipe) while the other inserts graceful, semi-improvised punctuations. The horns naturally create many partials or overtones and when two or more play together, as here, these almost sub-audible harmonics build stacked celestial structures which seem to be related to ideas of mathematical perfection deriving from ancient Arabic numerology. In fact, one rhaita piece represents 'the perfection of the factors' and would probably tell us a great deal about the sciences of antiquity if we had a Rosetta Stone to help us decipher its meaning." — Robert Palmer.

GENETIC MUSIC (GERMANY):

TELEVISION SET: TELEGEN 12" (GEN 009). $11.00

"This record is a collaboration between Roger Semsroth (Skanfrom) and Stephan Metzger (Television Set). The tracks evolved during Skanfrom's vacation in West Germany last year and were recorded only with a small sampler, an SH101 and a tape deck! Twentyfour great tracks had been finished in only two weeks and this EP is an excerpt from these amazing electronic pieces. Fans of lofi-minimal-electronics will be reminded of their heroes like 'Absolute Body Control', but anyway — Mr. Skanfrom just can't hide and also on this record his unique style is as present as always!"

SKANFROM: Soothing Sounds For Robots CD (GEN 013 CD). $14.00

"By the end of last year Mr. Skanfrom released the Soothing Sounds For Robots EP on his label a.d.s.r. records. The limited edition 12" was sold out very quickly, so a CD release was inevitable! Here you are! For this CD Skanfrom added some new tracks to complete the EP to an album. And again he serves us what we want from him! Minimal pop including the neat Skanfromish tunes we all cannot get enough of, but also experimental parts or even techno elements that prove the sh101 synth must definitely be Skanfrom's closest friend."

GENIE OU RIEN (FRANCE):

AGENTS XI: Le Monstre Jaune CD (GOR 078CD). $16.00

"The Xi Agents constitute a strange couple of prophets who have come to deliver their interpretation of the creation of the world in musical format. Through an ever-changing hip-hop song, tribal electronic rhythms and atmospheric ambiances, Bluz (voice, writing) and Jemsee (composition) demonstrate that the Universe is just a large brain, in which we are just thoughts. This weird and unfathomable recording offers up a relatively sombre and bitter view of humanity, describing human sentiments and consciousness with quasi-scientific rigour. Le Monstre Jaune (The Yellow Monster) is also an ode to imagination, fuelled by a rich content of metaphors and mystical sonorities. It is also a lucid and unreal attempt to destroy the gangrene, which is destroying hip-hop as a medium. The formula used by the Agents Xi is an alchemy of logical construction and psychological chaos, leaving the listeners free to choose their own methods of interpretation."

GENTLE GIANT RECORDS:

YOSHIIHIDE, OTOMO: Sound Factory (1997) CD (GG 021 CD). $13.00

Solo works for turntables, mixer and harddisk recorder, subtitled Memory Disorder Volume 3. "The new album from the most striking voice in modern music. Two pieces, each approximately 20 minutes long. The first track is very noisy, almost in the style of Merzbow. The second track is more reminiscent of recent Ground Zero material — very cut-up and dynamic."

TELEVISION POWER ELECTRIC: 5/7 CD (GG 025). $13.50

"Radium fueled electrosonic excursions. Jim Baker, Aeron Bergman (Lucky Kitchen), Todd Carter, Brent Gutzelt, Michael Hartman, Ernst Long, Otomo Yoshihide, and Robert Wilkus form this expanded electronic ensemble. Two days of improvisations retroactively composed, mixed and edited by TV Pow."

GENUINE (UK):

AMP FIDDLER: Waltz of a Ghetto Fly CD (GEN 015 CD). $23.00

"Long awaited debut album from Amp Fiddler. Following the release of two highly acclaimed EPs, Basementality in 2002 and Love & War (2003), Amp Fiddler has spent the last year writing and recording new tracks for the record. The result, Waltz of a Ghetto Fly, is a woven tapestry of funk, soul, jazz and pure electronic velvet — a work that redefines the boundaries of music that speaks to the soul."

AMP FIDDLER: Waltz of a Ghetto Fly 2LP (GEN 015 LP). $13.00

Double LP version. "Long awaited debut album from Amp Fiddler. Waltz of a Ghetto Fly, is a woven tapestry of funk, soul, jazz and pure electronic velvet — a work that redefines the boundaries of music that speaks to the soul."

AMP FIDDLER: I Believe In You CD (GEN 022CD). $7.00

"The first single release from the hugely acclaimed debut album Waltz Of A Ghetto Fly features remixes from Bugz In The Attic and Jaylib. This is considered the perfect first single in the campaign — a sublime slice of low-slung funk with a simple, catchy message."

AMP FIDDLER: I Believe In You 12" (GEN 022EP). $10.00

Vinyl EP version. W/ original version, Jaylib mix, Bugz in the Attic vocal mix and vocal dub.

GEOGRAPHIC (UK):

EMPRESS: CD (GEO 003 CD). $17.00

"Leeds-based music visionary Bill Wells releases his brand new album Incorrect Practice. Incorrect Practice is a different mood altogether from the robust legend that we now recognise as Bill Wells, with its dreamy sequence of fast-fading polaroids, after-party comedowns and 4am walks through the Scottish countryside. The most useful reference point would be some of John Barry's elegiac early 1960's scores. The trio features Bill Wells (piano/samples), Stevie Jackson from Belle & Sebastian (harmonica) and Robert Henderson (trumpet). Also features Lindsey Cooper on tuba."

EMPRESS: LP (GEO 003 LP). $13.00*BILL WELLS TRIO: Incorrect Practice CD (GEO 005 CD). $13.00

"Self-taught musical visionary Bill Wells releases his brand new album Incorrect Practice. Incorrect Practice is a different mood altogether from the robust legend that we now recognise as Bill Wells, with its dreamy sequence of fast-fading polaroids, after-party comedowns and 4am walks through the Scottish countryside. The most useful reference point would be some of John Barry's elegiac early 1960's scores. BILL WELLS TRIO: Incorrect Practice LP (GEO 005 LP). $13.00*FUTURE PILOT AKA: Tiny Waves, Mighty Sea CD (GEO 006 CD). $17.00

"Future Pilot AKA is Sushil K. Dade, along with a loose group approach, which features, at different moments, most of Belle & Sebastian, The Delgados, Teenage Fanclub, The Pastels and Bill Wells Trio, in an uplifting and heady atmosphere. Sushil, himself a proud Glaswegian of Indian ethnic origin, guides the way through this selection of Indian Spirituals, song cycles and chants, including the beautiful 'Om Namah Shivaya' with it's Stuart Murdoch vocals and on 'Ananda Is The Ocean,' where Vinita, Dade, Katrina Mitchell, and Isobel Campbell sing as one. Other times the music will spiral into free-form ragas, like on 'Darshan' and 'Opel Waters', where the listener may be reminded of The Byrds and other West Coast experimentalists."

FUTURE PILOT AKA: Tiny Waves, Mighty Sea LP (GEO 006 LP). $15.00

Vinyl version in full color gatefold sleeve.

FUTURE PILOT AKA: Beat Of A Drum 7" (GEO 007). $3.00

2-track 7" version.

FUTURE PILOT AKA: Beat Of A Drum CD (GEO 007 CD). $8.00

"The fine new single take from the critically lauded album Tiny Waves, Mighty Sea. The title cut is Sushil K. Dade's love song to music featuring Eugene Kelly (The Vaselines) and Norman Blake (Teenage Fanclub) on vocals and The Delgados in the engine room. 'Mount Kailash' reveals a darker Pilot side in a menacing, epic collaboration with Glasgow's drum and bass artists 50kHz."

NAGISA NI TE: Songs For A Simple Moment CD (GEO 011 CD). $17.00

"Songs For A Simple Moment was conceived as a retrospective of the music of Shinji Shibayama and the two great groups he has lead - The Hallelujahs (1985/88), and since 1992, Nagisa Ni te, a co-venture with his partner, Masako Takeda. These two projects, alongside Shibayama's sterling work for the legendary Osaka based label ORG (Maher Shalal Hash flaz, Naoki Zushi) place him absolutely at the vanguard of a type of Japanese Music which is sometimes referred to as folk-psyche. The Shibayama (and Takeda) variation is particularly beautiful, characterised by honesty and emotional nakedness, and by complex melodic structures and fragile vocals, which often give away to incredible soaring guitar solos. In Japan, Nagisa Ni te's music is on the ascendance and a new album, Feel, has just been released. At a time when interest in the Japanese underground is at an all-time High, Geographic are proud to present the stunning music of Nagisa Ni te, an extremely collectable Japanese psyche-folk group. Nagisa Ni te's music is as pure as a secret water spring; enchanted, free-flowing and beautiful. So placing them isn't easy, but what they share with groups like (their friends and collaborators) Maher Shalal Hash Baz, Belle & Sebastian and God Speed You Black Emperor!, is a purity of intent which makes their out-of-nowhere music suddenly seem really important. To take those comparisons further, melodically, you could say Nagisa Ni te are often as memorable as songs on the first two Belle & Sebastian albums, while their uncompromised pursuit of truth, and their love of heavy sounds, relates to Maher and God Speed You Black Emperor! (whose 'leader', Efrim, is a fan). The LP version of this retrospective is on double vinyl in a beautiful gatefold sleeve."

VA: You Don't Need Darkness To Do What You Think Is Right CD (GEO 012 CD).*$13.50

"You Don't Need Darkness To Do What You Think Is Right is the first compilation from the Scottish-based Domino imprint Geographic, headed by The Pastels' Stephen McRobbie. It's a stunning collection of tracks from major underground artists such as The Pastels, Kevin Shields (of early 90's godz My Bloody Valentine), newer treats such as Sister Vanilla (featuring the Jesus and Marychain's Reid brothers) and Japanese naïve-folkists Maher Shalal Hash Baz." Artists also include: International Airport, Future Pilot Aka, Bill Wells Octet, Nagisa Ni Te, Directorsound, Telstar Ponies, Pedro, Barbara Morgenstern, Empress, Appendix Out, National Park, Plinth.

WELLS TRIO, BILL: Also In White CD (GEO 015 CD). $15.00

"A perfectly paced, perfectly structured album that feels like a first masterpiece — mood, melodic, soundtrack, jazz music for the new millennium with the ghosts of Duke Ellington and Miles Davis. On D.A.D.E Wells collaborates with Stephen and Katrina of The Pastels fame, showing his love for a great avant pop tune. Belle and Sebastian revere Bill Wells after numerous live performances together. Stevie Jackson is a permanent member of the Trio; and Bill also has an upcoming mini-album with Isobel Campbell."

WELLS TRIO, BILL: Also In White LP (GEO 015 LP). $15.00

LP version.

KELLY, EUGENE: Older Faster CD (GEO 017 CD). $7.00

"Eugene Kelly, founding member of the Vaselines returns with an E.P. of reflective folk-pop. 'Older Faster' is closer to the innocent sound of The Vaselines than Eugene's more recent releases, albeit richly coloured by a reflective neo-folk quality, at times recalling the optimistic sadness of Neil Young's On The Beach or Big Star's Third."

PASTELS, THE: The Last Great Wilderness CD (GEO 018CD). $10.00

"The Last Great Wilderness, the movie, is a supernatural thriller set in the Scottish Highlands. Undoubtedly much of the film's distinctiveness comes from its use of music and the type of rare collaboration which director David Mackenzie established with The Pastels, on this, their first film music commission. On this project, participating musicians were Stephen McRobbie, Katrina Mitchell, Tom Crossley, Alison Mitchell, Gerard Love, Bill Wells, Tori Kudo, Colin McIlroy, James Rutledge, Jarvis Cocker, Bal Cooke, John McEntire." 24-minute mini-album soundtrack.

MOVIE TONE: Movietone CD (GEO 019 CD). $15.00

"Inspired by a love of the Velvet Underground, The Beats, improvisation and cinema Movietone lovingly recorded a debut that sounds beautifully organic and utterly unique. Movietone is finally being made available again through The Pastel's Geographic label via Domino. Remastered to include tracks from their first two singles plus Kate's first demo for Rachel, Movietone's self-titled debut shimmers with an intricate introspection, gentle melancholy and a passion for the experimental that have become their trademarks. Movietone are from the same Bristol scene that saw Flying Saucer Attack and The Third Eye Foundation flourish. Over the years they have developed a loyal following who have been eagerly awaiting the release of this classic, and previously hard to find, debut."

DIRECTORSOUND: Redemptive Strikes CD (GEO 020 CD). $17.00

"The debut album from multi-instrumentalist and composer, Nick Palmer aka Directorsound. Holed up in his Dorset village, Directorsound has been carefully melding together a masterpiece of delicate piano and acoustic pieces that flow like a gentle, anarchic stream of consciousness. The gentle reflective tone is only broken by sudden outbreaks of furious triumph, as the one-man ensemble seems to go to war with itself. There's a loose connection here with Geographic label-mates like International Airport, Maher Shalal Hash Baz and Bill Wells, but make no mistake this is highly original stuff — the result of Nick battling against, and reveling in the limitations of his equipment and somehow making beautiful music out of nothing."

NU FOREST, THE: I Picked A Flower 7" (GEO 021 EP). $4.00

"'I Picked A Flower' is a collaboration between The Pastels and Jarvis Cocker taken from the forthcoming soundtrack The Last Great Wilderness, soon to be released through Domino imprint Geographic."

MAHER SHALAL HAS BAZ: Open Field EP CD (GEO 023 CD). $8.00

"Taken from Maher Shalal Hash Baz's forthcoming album, Blues du Jour, Open Field E.P. features some beautiful new compositions from Tori Kudo with Maher creating some of their warmest, most accessible music to date. The title track is a true avant-pop masterpiece with its reflective and melancholy tone conjuring up images of a long car journey through Tori Kudo's homeland and an immediate, simple and soulful refrain. Appearing on 'Open Field' are Bill Wells and The Pastels — whose piano part led to Tori's idea of the conceptual 'Next Field Mix', also included."

MAHER SHALAL HAS BAZ: Blues Du Jour CD (GEO 024 CD). $14.50

"Blues Du Jour is the stunning new album by Japanese elemental visionaries Maher Shalal Hash Baz featuring some of their warmest and most accessible music to date. Tori Kudo's songs and sketches often recall the quirkiness of the Incredible String Band or the English nursery rhyme pastoralism of Syd Barrett. From the avant-pop masterpiece 'Open Field' to the bossa nova of 'Post Office', this is a playful album that bursts with creativity. This 41 track masterpiece is Maher Shalal Hash Baz's first new album since their legendary opus, Return Visit To Rock Mass — one of the most collectable Japanese albums of all time."

MAHER SHALAL HAS BAZ: Blues Du Jour LP (GEO 024 LP). $19.00

LP version.

PASTELS, THE: The Last Great Wilderness LP (GEO 018LP). $13.00

LP version.

GET BACK (ITALY):

PERE UBU: Dub Housing LP (GET 058). $16.00

"Originally released in 1978 on Chrysalis/Rough Trade. Second album by Cleveland's great punk/new wave band."

PERE UBU: New Picnic Time LP (GET 059). $16.00

"Originally released in 1979 on Chrysalis/Rough Trade. The third effort for David Thomas & co."

SLITS, THE: In The Beginning LP (GET 075). $12.00

"One of the most significant female punk rock bands of the late '70s. 12 tracks recorded live featuring classics like 'Newtown', 'A Boring Life', 'Number One Enemy' (with Nina Hagen as guest vocalist) and 'In The Beginning' (starring the beautiful voice of Neneh Cherry). Nice artwork... gatefold sleeve." Red vinyl repress.

PERE UBU: The Art Of Walking LP (GET 081). $16.00

"Their fourth album originally released in 1980 by Rough Trade shows the increasingly pop-centric sound which would distinguish later Ubu projects. Featuring Red Krayola guitarist/mastermind Mayo Thompson who replaced Tom Herman in the line-up. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CABARET VOLTAIRE: Radiation LP (GET 082). $12.00

"11 tracks from the vaults of BBC for one of the most important groups in the history of industrial and electronic music. The recordings contained here were made in the BBC's studios with in-house producers and engineers rather than the usual self produced material out of Western Works studios. A minimum of overdubs, sort of midway between studio and live performance. Featuring many of the more well known cuts such as 'Sensoria'. Nice artwork. Gatefold sleeve."

THROBBING GRISTLE: First Annual Report Of Throbbing Gristle LP (GET 083). $12.00

"Abrasive, aggressive and antagonistic, Britain's Throbbing Gristle pioneered industrial music and this is their lost album originally recorded in 1975. These recordings were for some reason held back and the band chose instead to release Second Annual Report as their debut full-length in 1977. These previously unreleased 6 tracks are essentially the birth of industrial music."

THROBBING GRISTLE: Grief LP (GET 084). $12.00

"The classic two-track album studio album for the founders of the industrial music genre and the original art terrorists. The 2 tracks 'Camera' and 'Telephone' provide 30 minutes of Throbbing Gristle at their very best."

ALTERNATIVE TV: Vibing Up The Senile Man (Part One) LP (GET 088). $12.00

"2nd album originally released in 1978 on Deptford Fun City. Who would have expected from the band of the quintessential The Image Has Cracked a follow-up as avant-garde abstraction that challenges P.I.L.'s Second Edition for absolute left-field swing? Vibing Up The Senile Man is closer to free-improvisation and avant-garde jazz (without a punk anthem in sight) and with a dub edge to some of the tracks. Liner notes. Original artwork."

PERE UBU: Song Of The Bailing Man LP (GET 090). $16.00

"Originally released in 1982 by Rough Trade. Continuing in the spirit of The Art of Walking, this is a fine, occasionally wonderful record that sounds inspired, invigorating, confounding, disturbing. At this juncture Pere Ubu was more art and less rock, a brilliant band breaking every rule of aesthetics. David Thomas with Mayo Thompson (from Texas psychedelic legends Red Krayola), Anton Fier, Tony Maimone and Allen Ravenstine. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

AYLER, ALBERT: Spiritual Unity LP (GET 1001). $16.00

Italian label licensed ESP back catalog from ZYX in Germany for LP production. Supply on these can sometimes be confused. Pressed on 180 gram vinyl and theoretically of a "limited" nature. Spiritual Unity was Ayler's monumental first album for ESP, recorded July 10th, 1964.

COLEMAN, ORNETTE: Town Hall 1962 LP (GET 1002). $16.00

Coleman (as), David Izenzon (b), Charles Moffett (d) + one track by a string quartet. Recorded 12/21/62.

AYLER, ALBERT: Bells LP (GET 1003LTD). $16.00

Although Get Back has already issued this material as half of the Bells/Prophecy LP (GET 1003), here it is again, in a somewhat more sincere emulation of the original package. "As originally released by ESP-Disk in 1965, the 20-minute 'Bells' as a one-sided LP pressed on translucent plastic. Limited edition of 1,000 copies."

RA, SUN: Heliocentric Worlds Vol. 2 CD (GET 1005CD). $16.00

Limited paper sleeve version.

AYLER, ALBERT: Spirits Rejoice LP (GET 1006). $16.00

Ayler (ts), Don Ayler (tp), Charles Tyler (as), Murray (d), C. Cobbs (harp/sichord), Henry Grimes & Gary Peacock (b). Recorded at Judson Hall, 9/23/65.

RA, SUN: Nothing Is LP (GET 1007). $16.00

Recorded live 5/66 during a tour of NY state colleges.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: One Nation Underground LP (GET 1008). $16.00

Their debut album. Fronted by the lisping leader of the lower east side, Tom Rapp, these guys defined a distinctly psychedelic East Coast folk aesthetic. Contains two bona fide classics ("Another Time" & "Drop Out") and many other sweet brain burners. Featured instrumentation included guitar, autoharp, banjo, mandolin, vibraphone, audio oscillator, bass, swinehorn, sarangi, celeste, finger cymbals, organ, drums, etc.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: Balaklava LP (GET 1010). $16.00

2nd album before they went on to the major label lifestyle. Deep breathing loner folk-rock with some blasted experimental touches. Quite devastating. "A dark meditation on the uses of blood. If this band stopped recording after their 2 ESP albums they would have ascended to the halls of legend years ago." — B. Coley.

RA, SUN: Concert For The Comet Kohoutek LP (GET 1011 LP). $16.00

Live at Town Hall in December, 1972. First issued by ZYX on CD and not originally part of the ESP LP program in the 70s.

VA: The East Village Other LP (GET 1012 LP). $16.00

This was an "electric newspaper collage" put together by the historic underground press newspaper EVO; it has the super legendary Velvets track "Noise," plus further montage sound featuring Tuli Kupferberg, Marion Brown, Ginsburg & Orlovsky droning on & on, Andy Warhol, Melanga & Ingrid Superstar, etc. "Recorded to celebrate Hiroshima Day in August '66 during Lucy Johnson's wedding... USA vs Underground." One-sided LP with etching on the b-side.

VA: New York Eye and Ear Control LP (GET 1013 LP). $16.00

"A collaborative soundtrack project for Michael Snow's film of the same name. Recorded in 1964 by Albert Ayler, Don Cherry, Roswell Rudd, John Tchicai, Gary Peacock and Sunny Murray."

GODZ: Contact High With the Godz LP (GET 1014). $16.00

First releases to be licensed from the new owner of the ESP catalog, VIA Records in Holland. "First album released in 1966 for this NYC-based band. Godz were part of the Lower East Side scene that produced post-Beat avant-hippie rockers/performance artists like the Fugs and the Holy Modal Rounders, as well as beat performers like Allen Ginsberg. Sounding like a prototype for Half Japanese or the Shags, the Godz play as if they discovered their instruments 10 minutes before the tape started rolling."

GODZ: Third Testament LP (GET 1016). $16.00

Third album released in 1968. Same lack of technical merit and a growing psychedelic sound."

GODZ: 2 LP (GET 1017). $16.00

"2nd album released in 1967 —only a label like ESP-Disk would allow a band like the Godz to make a second record, and 2 is as extreme as Contact High."

HOLIDAY, BILLIE: Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone... 2LP (GET 1019). $22.00

Reissues Holiday's ESP albums, Broadcast Performances. "Contains great live recordings from various radio broadcasts from 1949 to 1952. Featuring Coleman Hawkins, Lester Young, Roy Eldridge and Ben Webster."

PARKER, CHARLIE: Broadcast Performances LP (GET 1021). $16.00

"Originally released as ESP 3001, this material was recorded in 1948-9 with Miles Davis, Tadd Sameron, Curley Russell, and Max Roach (June session) and with Kenny Dorham, Joe Harris, Al Haig and Tommy Potter (August session)."

BURNS, RANDY: Of Love and War LP (GET 1022). $16.00

"First album released by this folksinger for Bernard Stollman's label. Contains an Eric Anderson's 'Thirsty Boots' version."

CROMAGNON: Orgasm LP (GET 1023). $16.00

A monster of "primordial, wild and heavy" sound, from a never-heard-from-since 1968 Connecticut "tribe".

MURRAY, SUNNY: LP (GET 1024). $16.00

"A landmark recording in avant garde jazz, legendary free-jazz drummer Sunny Murray was an indispensable force in the early defining moments of free-jazz working with Cecil Taylor, Archie Shepp, Albert Ayler, Ornette Coleman and Don Cherry among countless others. Sunny Murray shines on this 1966 recording for ESP-Disk' leading a quintet featuring the explosive talents of Jacques Coursil, Jack Graham and Byard Lancaster plus the extraordinary bassist Alan Silva. Original artwork... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

BLEY QUINTET, PAUL: Barrage LP (GET 1025). $16.00

"Originally released in 1964 as ESP 1008. Featuring Dewey Johnson, Marshall Allen, Eddie Gomez and Milford Graves."

SEA ENSEMBLE, THE: We Move Together LP (GET 1026). $16.00

"Originally released in 1974, this album was one of the great final numbers in the ESP-Disk' catalogue. Eclectic, world music-influenced free jazz group, the Sea Ensemble was a husband and wife team of bassist-clarinetist Donald Rafael Garrett and pianist-cellist-flutist Zusaan Kali Fasteau. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SILVA, ALAN: Skillfulness LP (GET 1027). $16.00

"Originally released in 1970 (ESP1091) and recorded in New York with the help of Dave Burrell, Becky Friend, Karl Berger, Mike Ephron, Lawrence Cook and Barry Altschul. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

GRAVES, MILFORD: Percussion Ensemble LP (GET 1028). $16.00

"His solo album originally released in 1965 (and recorded with Sunny Morgan). Milford Graves has been one of the main drummers in the free mode scene (known for skillful inclusion of Asian and African rhythmic ingredients into his solos). He worked with the New York Art Quartet, Giuseppe Logan, Albert Ayler, Don Pullen, Andrew Cyrille and many more. Liner notes, photos and more... original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

JAMES TRIO, BOB: Explosions LP (GET 1029). $16.00

"A strange release comprised of 5 very avant-garde numbers featuring electronic sound effects, sport commentaries and the music of a beautifully improvising jazz trio. With Barre Phillips (bass) and Robert Pozar (drums). Original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

LOGAN QUARTET, GIUSEPPI: LP (GET 1030). $16.00

"Originally released in 1964 as ESP 1007. This is the very fine debut album (featuring Don Pullen, Eddie Gomez and Milford Graves)."

WATTS, MARZETTE: LP (GET 1031). $16.00

"Marzette Watts recorded this album for ESP-Disk' during December of 1966 with Sonny Sharrock (guitar), Henry Grimes (bass), Byard Lancaster (alto sax, flute and clarinet), Clifford Thornton (trombone and cornet), Karl Berger (vibes), June Booth (bass) and J.C. Moses (drums). The adventurous combo is jamming through three of Watts' originals and the performances really live up to their potential (especially the opening 18-minute 'Backdrop For Urban Revolution'). Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SIMMONS, SONNY: Staying On The Watch LP (GET 1032). $16.00

"During the '60s Sonny Simmons was one of the most promising avant-garde players and his debut as a leader, recorded for ESP-Disk' in the summer of 1966, still sounds advanced and powerful over 30 years later. Performing in a quintet with Barbara Donald (trumpet), John Hicks (piano), Teddy Smith (bass) and Marvin Pattillo (drums), altoist Simmons stretches out on mostly free-form original compositions. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SANDERS, PHAROAH: Pharaoh's First LP (GET 1033). $16.00

"This is his first solo album and it was recorded for ESP-Disk in 1964. This is 'terrorist grunge with a shake of mysticism by the most fearsome tenor saxophonist on the 60s scene,' (from The Penguin Guide to Jazz)."

NEW YORK ART QUARTET: LP (GET 1034). $16.00

"Originally released in 1964 as ESP 1004. Roswell Rudd, John Tchicai, Lewis Worell and Milford Graves. Featuring LeRoi Jones in 'Black Dada Nihilismus'."

WRIGHT TRIO, FRANK: LP (GET 1035). $16.00

"Debut album recorded in 1965 and originally released as ESP 1023. The Reverend shows here the intense preaching sound which he had taken from Albert Ayler (who persuaded Wright to abandon the double bass for saxophone). With Henry Grimes and Tom Price."

GODZ: Pass On This Side LP (GET 1037). $16.00

"Previously released as Thornton, Fradkin & Unger and the Big Band, and later as Godz Bless California, featuring Paul McCartney (plus his wife Linda) and David Peel among others. Finally this reissue comes with the right title and original cover art."

BARBIERI, GATO: In Search of the Mystery LP (GET 1039). $16.00

"Recorded in 1967 and originally released as ESP 1049. In the vein of Ayler's Spiritual Unity, this album shows Barbieri as an avant-gardist to a measure of credibility." With Calo Scott (cello), Sironi (bass), Bobby Kapp (drums).

BROWN, MARION: Why Not LP (GET 1040). $16.00

"A key figure in the '60s free-jazz movement, Marion Brown was an integral collaborator on two of the most significant avant-garde jazz recordings of the '60s such as John Coltrane's Ascension and Archie Shepp's Firemusic. For this 1968 date the altoist pooled the talents of Norris Jones, Stan Cowell and Coltrane's longstanding sideman Rashied Ali and created this outstanding recording, his 2nd as a leader for ESP-Disk'. The quartet burn through 4 of Brown's avant-garde compositions which are among the most rigorous, lyrical and evocative displays of improvisation mastery of that ground-breaking era. Original artwork... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SIMMONS, SONNY: Music From The Spheres LP (GET 1043). $16.00

"Alto saxophonist Sonny Simmons was one of the most talented (if unfortunately lesser known) free jazz musicians of the 1960s. Born in Oakland, CA, Simmons began playing alto sax as a teenager in the early '50s and spent his early years collaborating with Prince Lasha and Charles Mingus. Except for a brief stint in New York in the early '60s, where he recorded with Elvin Jones and Eric Dolphy, Simmons spent most of his life in California where he met and married trumpet player Barbara Donald (featured on this album). His Music From the Spheres, recorded for ESP-Disk in 1966, with Michael Cohen on piano, June Booth on bass and Jim Zitro on drums, represents one of the highlights of his career. After almost completely disappearing from the jazz scene for nearly 20 years, Simmons made an amazing comeback in the early '90s with his brilliant Ancient Ritual."

BLEY QUINTET, PAUL: Closer LP (GET 1044). $16.00

"This historic album, originally released on ESP-Disk in 1965 (featuring drummer Barry Altschul and bassist Steve Swallow), is one of Canadian-born pianist Paul Bley's most adventurous albums of the period. Bley helped spearhead the 1960s free jazz movement, standing shoulder to shoulder with men like Ornette Coleman and Don Cherry."

GRIMES TRIO, HENRY: The Call LP (GET 1045). $16.00

"Born in 1935 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Henry Grimes was one of the most remarkable bassists of the 1960s free jazz movement. This historic session, recorded for ESP-Disk' in 1965, is one of Grimes' few recordings as leader and features the extraordinary Perry Robinson on clarinet."

AYLER, ALBERT: Prophecy LP (GET 1046). $16.00

"Recorded live at the Cellar Café NYC, June 14th 1964, during the same period in which Ayler recorded the earth-shattering Spiritual Unity with Gary Peacock on bass and Sonny Murray on drums. There are distinct similarities on the two recordings in that Ayler's most famous theme Spirits, Wizards, Ghosts are adapted although the energy & variation within the themes is extraordinary. 'The beauty of his music seemed a triumph of instinct over spirit, a heart-rending cry, exuding all the weakness, contradictions, joy of human being — a kind of desperate god-seeking which necessarily created it's own techniques. Albert Ayler triggered the awakening of a forgotten sensibility, which for many listeners, became unbearable in its implacable lucidity.' (Bernard Lairer, from the original liner notes). Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

LOWE, FRANK: Black Beings LP (GET 1047). $16.00

"This historical session, recorded in 1973 for ESP-Disk', was tenor saxophonist Frank Lowe's debut as leader and is one of his most electrifying earlier efforts. Black Beings features all original Lowe material, with Joseph Jarman on alto and soprano sax and Leroy Jenkins on violin. Lowe participated in the New York free jazz revolution, first gaining notoriety in the mid-sixties playing with Sun Ra, and later, Alice Coltrane, Rashied Ali, Don Cherry and violinist Billy Bang."

BROWN QUARTET, MARION: Marion Brown Quartet LP (GET 1051). $16.00

"Alto saxophonist Marion Brown, a key member of the avant-garde jazz scene, first arrived in New York in 1965 where he landed his first session playing on John Coltrane's historic Ascension album. By the end of that same year Brown had already recorded this self-titled debut as front man on ESP-Disk', featuring Alan Shorter on trumpet and Ronnie Boykins on bass. His follow up album for ESP (Why Not?) came the following year, along with his critically acclaimed Three For Shepp on Impulse! (a response to Shepp's Four For Trane), which featured one side of his own compositions and one side of Shepp material. Brown is one of the most talented (if lesser known) players of the '60s jazz avant-garde and this historical release secures his place as one of the major voices in jazz."

WATERS, PATTY: College Tour LP (GET 1055). $16.00

"Despite her brief musical career (consisting of only two albums released during the mid-sixties), vocal pioneer Patty Waters' managed in that short time to redefine the use of the human voice, while simultaneously exploring the darkest and most anguished corners of the female soul. Her even more daring second album, College Tour, was recorded at one of her live performances shortly thereafter, and features pianists Ran Blake and Burton Greene. Although Waters all but disappeared from the music scene after the late sixties, she was a major influence for many other vocal innovators, including Yoko Ono and Diamanda Galas. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

VA: Movement Soul LP (GET 1056). $16.00

"Movement Soul is a collection of live recordings from the Civil Rights movement at a peak time: 1963 and 1964. Inspired moments have been chosen from mass meetings, sermons, rallies, demonstrations and individual interviews. Traditionally sung prayers and passionate sayings are intermingled with songs like 'Go Tell it on the Mountain', 'This Little Light of Mine' and 'Ain't Gonna Let Nobody Turn me 'Round'. Many of the recordings took place at times of heightened emotion, when the community was filled with fear, exhilaration, or defiance. Movement Soul is about a total community: its shared dreams and common demands. It is about the power of a people."

TYLER, CHARLES: Eastern Man Alone LP (GET 1059). $16.00

"This 1967 recording by the avant-garde saxophonist — his second for ESP-Disk' — features Tyler on alto sax with accompaniment from David Baker (cello), Brent McKesson (bass) and Kent Brinkley (bass). The album starts out with 'Cha-Lacy's Out East' which revisits a theme from his first ESP album, the proceedings are heady free-form avant-jazz reaching into cosmic realms with it's string heavy backing providing soaring atmospheres. Tyler cut legendary records as a sideman to Albert Ayler, but as a leader proves to be one of the most advanced, challenging and exploratory players of the late '60s avant-garde. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

LACY, STEVE: The Forest And The Zoo LP (GET 1060). $16.00

"Lacy's profound influence on the avant-garde can be traced back to this phenomenal session with Enrico Rava (trumpet), Johnny Dyan (bass), and Louis T. Moholo (drums) which is a pivotal recording in the career of the master soprano saxophonist. Steve Lacy's involvement in avant garde jazz began with this historical recording date for ESP-Disk' recorded live in Buenos Aires in 1966. Original artwork... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

TYLER ENSEMBLE, CHARLES: Charles Tyler Ensemble LP (GET 1070). $16.00

"Alto and baritone saxophonist Charles Tyler, one of the major voices in avant-garde jazz, began playing with Albert Ayler in Cleveland in the early 1960s, and soon followed Ayler east to take part in New York's fertile jazz scene. While continuing to play with Ayler in NYC (appearing on both Bells and Spirits Rejoice), Tyler also began leading his own sessions, and in 1966 ESP-Disk released his fiery debut as front man, the Charles Tyler Ensemble, featuring Charles Moffett on orchestra vibes, Joel Friedman on cello, Henry Grimes on bass and Ronald Shannon Jackson on drums. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

GREENE QUARTET, BURTON: Burton Greene Quartet LP (GET 1079). $16.00

"Although nearly 40 years have passed since the release of this album for ESP-Disk' in 1966, Chicago-born pianist / composer Burton Greene still considers it to be one of his best recordings. All compositions are written by Greene and feature Marion Brown on alto sax, Henry Grimes on bass, Dave Grant and Tom Price on percussion and Frank Smith on tenor sax. Greene made his way to New York City in 1962 just as the free jazz movement was beginning to gain momentum. The following year he and bassist Alan Silva formed the Free Form Improvisation Ensemble, often considered the first spontaneous composition group. Greene has remained committed to music over the past four decades, most recently exploring his Eastern European Jewish roots with various klezmer-jazz projects."

BOYKINS, RONNIE: The Will Come, Is Now LP (GET 1084). $16.00

"Bassist Ronnie Boykins is perhaps best known for his work in Sun Ra's Arkestra, of which he was an intrinsic member for nearly a decade. His inimitable bass style can be heard on all of Ra's most significant recordings, and Ra had a difficult time finding someone to fill Boykins' shoes when he left the Arkestra in 1966. His 1975 self-titled release, featuring all original material, is from his post Ra period and represents one of the last great releases in the ESP-Disk catalogue. Featuring Joe Ferguson on tenor sax and flute, Monty Waters and James Vass on alto and soprano sax, Daoud Haroom on trombone, and Art Lewis and George Avaloz on percussion. Also includes various bells and hand shaken instruments played by all musicians."

POMERANCE, ERICA: You Used To Think LP (GET 1099). $16.00

"Recorded at the tail end of 1968, this densely packed album, rooted in blues-laden acid folk, is gradually dominated by a more free-form, jazz-influenced style of vocal innovation which brings the album to its frantic climax. While remaining firmly linked to a lyrical base, Pomerance's primitive wails and shrieks shatter the traditional acid folk mold. Singing in French on 'The Slippery Morning', the versatile vocalist is also responsible for the rhythm guitar and hand drumming heard on the eastern influenced 'We Came Via'. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

AVENGERS, THE: Zero Hour LP (GET 110). $12.00

"This full-length LP, recorded live at the Old Waldorf in San Francisco on June 13, 1979, is one of the last surviving recordings of one of the greatest punk bands to ever walk the earth. Just ten days after this amazing performance, which along with impassioned versions of some of the band's more notorious songs: 'The American In Me' and 'Corpus Christi', also includes three songs that have never been officially released 'Misery' (AKA 'Finger On The Trigger'), 'Zero Hour' and 'Time To Die', the Avengers were no more. Leaving 20 years of dust to collect on these tapes before they were finally discovered by our treasure hunters here at Get Back. Finally available for the first time ever with new liner notes by Avengers front woman and punk legend Penelope Houston."

SIMPLY SAUCER: Cyborgs Revisited LP (GET 111). $12.00

"Simply Saucer was Canada's first proto-punk band. Emerging in 1974 from the industrial city of Hamilton, Ontario, the quartet created a distinct and original sound that was decidedly out of step with the musical climate of the day...edgy rock & roll that was a combination of early '70s punk pre-cursors (Velvet Underground, Stooges, Modern Lovers), krautrock (ala Can, Neu, early Kraftwerk) and UK prog/psyche (Hawkind, Pink Fairies, Syd Barrett)...Although the only material released while the band existed was a two-song 45 rpm single, a 1974 recording session and a 1975 live set were collected together posthumously and released...in late 1989...Now long out of print, this newly re-mastered, expanded reissue is the first legitimate re-release of this material in more than a decade. Hailed as the 'best Canadian album of all time.'"

MOTORHEAD: Another Perfect Day LP (GET 116). $12.00

"Originally released in 1983, this was the first Motorhead album not to feature Fast Eddie Clarke on guitar (who left over an argument regarding Lemmy's collaboration with Wendy O. of the Plasmatics) and the first and only album to feature Thin Lizzy guitarist Brian 'Robbo' Robertson, who was recruited immediately to finish the tour. Although Robbo brought more hard rock elements into the mix — he also was the mastermind behind the beyond-classic 'Shine', which alone is worth the purchase of this LP. But it also includes classic tracks like 'I Got Mine' and 'Rock It'."

UXA: Illusions of Grandeur LP (GET 118). $12.00

"Another little gem rescued by our punk rock task force from the oblivion, U.X.A (acronym for United Experiments Of America) were an essential part of the Posh Boy West Coast punk revolutionary army. Led by the interesting and uncommon vocals of De De Troit, U.X.A. contributed to establishing female vocal punk bands (Avengers, X) in the genre and also gave the typical pop punk sound a chance to expand the visual of new rock. This reissue features the original 10-track pre-release edition of the album as it was originally conceived."

MINGUS, CHARLES: East Coasting LP (GET 2001). $16.00

"Originally released in 1957 on Bethlehem. One of Mingus' best work from the period. 6 tracks of hard bop and modernist playing with the help of a great group: Jimmy Knepper (trombone), Shafi Hadi (sax), Clarence Shaw (trumpet), Dannie Richmond (drums) and Bill Evans (piano). Original artwork and liner notes. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MINGUS, CHARLES: A Modern Jazz Symposium Of Music And Poetry LP (GET 2002). $16.00

"A fantastic album originally released in 1957 on Bethlehem. 5 great tracks with Jimmy Knepper, Shafi Hadi, Bill Hardman, Clarence Shaw, Dannie Richmond, Horace Parlan and Bob Hammer. Featuring the incredible 'Scenes In The City' with the narration about a guy from Harlem and his relationship to jazz (it shows what jazz can mean to someone who's not basically a musician but who 'lives on the music' a lot). Original artwork and liner notes. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

KIRK, RAHSAAN ROLAND: Early Roots LP (GET 2007). $16.00

"The first recordings for one of the most exciting saxophone soloists in jazz history. Roland Kirk was an immensely creative artist and maybe no improvising saxophonist has ever possessed a more comprehensive technique (covering every aspect of jazz, from Dixie to free). The music here is mostly blues and ballads with a touch of r&b thrown in. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MINGUS, CHARLIE: The Jazz Experiments Of Charlie Mingus LP (GET 2008). $16.00

"Originally released on these 10-inch records called Jazzical Moods, this is one of Mingus best records from the '50s. These 1954 sessions include the work of John LaPorta, Teo Macero, Thad Jones, Jackson Wiley and Clem De Rosa creating a cool jazz sound. 6 tracks featuring a great take on 'Stormy Weather'. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

DOLPHY, ERIC: Iron Man LP (GET 2009). $16.00

"Eric Dolphy was a true original with his own distinctive styles on alto, flute and bass clarinet and these are classic recordings in any form and constitute some of the most brilliant work of the early '60s avant-garde. Iron Man is every bit essential and it also clearly anticipates the detailed, abstract sound paintings of Dolphy's masterwork Out to Lunch. In large part the program is weighted here toward Dolphy's originals: 'Iron Man', 'Burning Spear' and the shorter 'Mandrake' all have outside themes, full of Dolphy's trademark wide interval leaps and playful sense of dissonance. Featuring vibraphonist Bobby Hutcherson, bassist Richard Davis, trumpeter Woody Shaw, flutist Prince Lasha, altoist Sonny Simmons and soprano sax player Clifford Jordan. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CHERRY, DON: Orient 2LP (GET 2010). $22.00

"Super rare double album (originally recorded for the French BYG label but later released by Affinity) showing Don Cherry in two 1971 live trio sets. 'Orient Part 1 & 2' and 'Si Ta Ra Ma' were recorded in Carpentras, France on August 11th with the great Dutch drummer Han Bennink and Mocqui Cherry on tamboura. 'Eagle Eye Part 1 & 2' and 'Togetherness' were recorded in Paris on April 22nd with the amazing South African bassist Johnny Dyan and drummer Okay Temiz. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MONK, THELONIOUS: Paris (14 November 1970) LP (GET 2011). $22.00

"Superb and ultra rare double album (originally recorded for the French BYG label but later released by Affinity) featuring Monk with Charlie Rouse on sax, Larry Gales on bass and Ben Riley on drums. Eight tracks recorded live in Paris on November 14, 1970. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CHERRY, DON: Blue Lake 2LP (GET 2012). $22.00

"Super rare double album originally released in Japan only (by BYG/Toho). Great live recordings dated 1971 featuring Don Cherry backed by Johnny Dyani and Okay Temiz. 5 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MCLAUGHLIN, JOHN: *Where Fortune Smiles LP (GET 2013). $16.00

"Originally released in March 1971 by the Dawn label. 5 great free jazz improvisation tracks recorded at Apostolic Studios in New York City during May 1970 with John Surman (sax), Karl Berger (piano), Stu Martin (drums) and Dave Holland (bass). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

DOLPHY, ERIC: *Conversations LP (GET 2014). $16.00

"Although, due to his tragically premature death in 1964, his own recording career lasted just four short years, he is remembered as one of the most pioneering multi-instrumentalists of the period, collaborating extensively with Coltrane and Mingus. Conversations, recorded in the spring of 1963 under the supervision of Alan Douglas, is one of the key works of his career. Original artwork."

COLTRANE, JOHN: *Live in Paris 2LP (GET 2016). $22.00

"3 sides of this double LP come from a concert Coltrane played at the Salle Pleyel in Paris on July 28, 1965 (with McCoy Tyner on piano, Jimmy Garrison on bass and Elvin Jones on drums), but the first side of the LP was recorded outdoors at the Antibes Jazz Festival (held a day earlier). 'While the audience lounged in shorts...the quartet sweltered on stage in tuxedos.'"

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: *Live in Paris 2LP (GET 2017). $22.00

"Recorded in Paris on Oct. 5, 1969, after the Art Ensemble (Roscoe Mitchell, Lester Bowie, Joseph Jarman and Malachi Favors) has headed to Europe to find work and recording opportunities. Regarding the Art Ensemble's trip to France, trumpet player Lester Bowie said, 'I sold everything that I had and bought the tickets...we had to leave Chicago to let people know what was happening...you can't stay regional, not if you have something the world wants to hear...'"

MONK, THELONIOUS: *The Nonet Live! 2LP (GET 2018). $22.00

"Recorded live at the Salle Pleyel in Paris during the European 'Jazz Expo '67' tour, the lineup for the concert ranged from a basic quartet featuring Monk on piano, Charlie Rouse on tenor sax, Larry Gales on bass and Ben Riley on drums, to a nonet with added horn players on a few of the tracks. Monk rarely played with so large a group, making this concert a rare historical event, and this album an important historical document in understanding this side of Monk's sound. All of the music heard on this double LP is original Monk material (some of which were written in the early Forties) including: 'We See', 'Epistrophe', 'Oska-T', 'Evidence', 'Blue Monk', and 'Epistrophe' —as well as the classic Monk ballad 'Ruby My Dear.'"

TAYLOR, CECIL: *Great Paris Concert 2LP (GET 2019). $22.00

"After nearly 40 years, pianist/composer remains one of the most controversial figures in jazz. For many of us, his work ranks as some of the most profound art ever produced. On this double LP recorded live in Paris, pianist Cecil Taylor, altoist Jimmy Lyons, and drummer Andrew Cyrille perform an unrelenting 110 minute set." The correct date is: 11/30/1966. Also includes Alan Silva on bass. Originally issued under the name Student Studies '66 on Japanese BYG.

ROACH, MAX: *Again LP (GET 2021). $22.00

"Jazz drummer Max Roach is one of the instrument's greatest masters. He revolutionized the way the drum is used, and his profound impact can still be felt in jazz today. A major voice in the bebop revolution, it is Roach's drumming that punctuated many of the genre-shaping recordings from the late forties and early fifties, including Miles Davis' historic The Birth Of The Cool. It was also around this same time that he and Charles Mingus started up their own label, Debut Records. These live recordings (from 1960-1961) come from a time in which Roach had become a vocal advocate of the Civil Rights movement, increasingly mixing music and politics, perhaps best illustrated on his classic 1960 We Insist! Freedom Now Suite."

SIMONE, NINA: *Sings Billie Holiday's Blues LP (GET 2022). $16.00

"The high Priestess Of Soul pays tribute to the queen herself, Billie Holiday. Despite the decades that divide the two singers and the fact that Holiday was from the North (Philadelphia) and Simone was from the South (North Carolina), the two pioneering vocalists are united not by their music, but by the fact that both women put their musical careers on the line to sing about racism and the atrocities being committed against black Americans. Holiday's harrowing 'Strange Fruit' (included here) and Nina Simone's 'Mississippi Goddamn!' are parallel protest songs, although Lady Day was singing hers decades before the Civil Rights Movement. These eight amazing Billie Holiday classics, including 'Tell Me More & Then Some', 'This Year's Kisses' and 'Give Me A Pigfoot And A Bottle Of Beer' are given the full Nina Simone treatment — a rare opportunity to enjoy two legends in one sitting."

LACY, STEVE: *Plays Monk LP (GET 2023). $16.00

"Recorded on September 23, 1969 and originally released on BYG as Epistrophe, this classic Lacy LP — featuring Jean Francois Jenny-Clark (bass), Aldo Romano (drums) and Michel Grallier (piano) — was Lacy's first recording in Paris (his newly adopted city). Here Lacy, a longtime Monk disciple, takes listeners on a journey through some of Monk's most complex compositions, leaving his own inspired and instantly recognizable thumbprint on these timeless originals."

VA: *Jazzactuel 6LP (GET 300). $54.00

"Subtitled 'a collection of avant garde/free jazz/psychedelia from the BYG Actuel catalog of 1969-1971', this is a fantastic boxset that explores the best years of the mighty French label. Featuring one track each by Sunny Murray, Archie Shepp, Steve Lacy, David Allen, Sonny Sharrock, Grachan Moncur III, Clifford Thornton, Jacques Coursil, Dave Burrell, Sun Ra & His Solar-Myth Arkestra, Arthur Jones, Burton Greene Ensemble, Art Ensemble Of Chicago, Andrew Cyrille, Paul Bley, Frank Wright, Acting Trio, Dewey Redman, Don Cherry, Anthony Braxton, Jimmy Lyons, Claude Delcloo/Arthur Jones, Musica Elettronica Viva, Gong, Alan Silva & The Celestial Communication Orchestra and Kenneth Terroade. Compiled and annotated by Thurston Moore & Byron Coley. Contains lots of photos." Each record is pressed on 180 gram HQ vinyl and this is one heavy-duty package for sure, each set weighing close to 4lbs.!

CHERRY, DON: *'Mu' First Part LP (GET 301). $16.00

"Originally recorded on August 22nd, 1969 at Studio Saravah in Paris, this album became the first one of the whole BYG/Actuel series. Don Cherry electrifying duets with Ed Blackwell are memorable. 6 tracks. Original artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram HQ vinyl."

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: *A Jackson In Your House LP (GET 302). $16.00

"This album was recorded in Paris on June 23, 1969 during the Art Ensemble initial days in France with just a quartet (Roscoe Mitchell, Lester Bowie, Malachi Favors, and Joseph Jarman). A shockingly formalist album though far from conventional in any way. Original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MURRAY, SUNNY: *Homage To Africa LP (GET 303). $16.00

"After three years as a member of Albert Ayler's band (1964-1967), avant-garde jazz drummer Sunny Murray traveled to France where he recorded for Affinity and BYG. The amazing Homage to Africa was recorded on August 15, 1969 for BYG and features Archie Shepp, Alan Silva, Grachan Moncur III, Lester Bowie, Clifford Thornton, Roscoe Mitchell, Kenneth Terroade and Jeanne Lee."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: *Yasmina, A Black Woman LP (GET 304). $16.00

"A great recording session for the French BYG Actuel label dated August 12, 1969. Tenor saxophonist Archie Shepp met up with members of the Chicago avant-garde school including Art Ensemble Of Chicago members Lester Bowie, Roscoe Mitchell and Malachi Favors. Featuring also Dave Burrell, Sunny Murray, Philly Joe Jones, Art Taylor, Clifford Thornton, Earl Freeman among the others. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

GONG: *Magick Brother LP (GET 305). $16.00

"This is where it all began. Before Camembert Electrique, there was Magick Brother, originally released on the French BYG label in 1970. Here David Allen and his wife Gilli Smyth (who wrote most of the material on the album) are still finding themselves on the straighter, more pop-oriented side of psychedelia. 12 tracks including the 'Gong Song' where Allen first introduces his pothead pixies. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram vinyl."

DELCLLOO/ARTHUR JONES, CLAUDE: *Africanasia LP (GET 306). $16.00

"Recorded on August 22, 1969 at Studio Saravah in Paris. Drummer Claude Delcloo and alto sax player Arthur Jones focus on the fusion of Asian melodies and African rhythms with the help of Kenneth Tercade, Roscoe Mitchell and Joseph Jarman (flutes), and Clifford Thornton (conga drums), Malachi Favors (log drums) and Earl Freeman (gong, bell, percussions). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

GREENE ENSEMBLE, BURTON: *Aquariana LP (GET 308). $16.00

"This album was recorded at Studio Saravah in Paris on June 9th, 1969. Pianist Bruton Greene recorded three of his own compositions with the help of Jacques Coursil (trumpet), Arthur Jones (alto sax), Claude Delcloo (drums), Didier Malherbe (flute), Beb Guerin and Dieter Gewissler (basses). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

LYONS, JIMMY: *Other Afternoons LP (GET 309). $16.00

"His first outing as a leader (recorded in Paris on August 15, 1969). Jimmy Lyons (alto sax) with Lester Bowie (trumpet), Alan Silva (bass) and Andrew Cyrille (drums). 'Jimmy Lyons is regarded by every musician who played with him as an under-heralded genius. He was the one alto player to take Charlie Parker's classic bop fluidity and drive it into the fire music of first generation free jazz.' (Thurston Moore and Byron Coley). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: *Poem For Malcolm LP (GET 311). $16.00

"Another great session recorded in Paris (on August 14, 1969) for the BYG Actuel label. Tenor-saxophonist Archie Shepp backed by Burton Greene, Alan Silva, Claude Delcloo and Philly Joe Jones (on side a) and by Grachan Moncur III, Hank Mobley, Vince Benedetti, Malachi Favors and Philly Joe Jones (on side b). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SILVA, ALAN: *Luna Surface LP (GET 312). $16.00

"Super session recorded in Paris on August 17, 1969. Alan Silva collected here many of the top free jazz players of the time, an incredible 11-piece ensemble featuring, among others, Grachan Moncur III, Archie Shepp, Anthony Braxton, Dave Burrell, Leroy Jenkins, and Malachi Favors. As a result, this is a very free record and an historical document of Pan-African high art music. 2 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

BLEY, PAUL: *Ramblin' LP (GET 313). $16.00

"Avant-garde pianist Paul Bley (recorded here at RCA Studios in Rome on July 1st, 1966) has been able to use melody and space in inventive ways while performing fairly free improvisations. Barry Altschul is spectacular on drums, with effective polyrhythmic support, and bassist Mark Levinson fits perfectly into the mix. 6 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

BRAXTON, ANTHONY: *LP (GET 315). $16.00

"The first one of Braxton's two albums originally released in the BYG/Actuel series... this one was recorded at the Studio Saravah in Paris on September 10th, 1969 with the help of Leo Smith (trumpet), Leroy Jenkins (violin) and Steve McCall (drums)... 'Anthony Braxton's approach to music is a fantastic, almost alchemical, fusion of elements, involving academic schemata, chess master logic, and a firm belief in humanist cosmogony... the magic of deep, intuitive jazz improvisation led Mr. Braxton into serious intercourse with the alto saxophone... he was conversant with the concepts and constructs of John Cage, Karlheinz Stockhausen a.o., yet the music's roots were equally evident as coming from an avant-jazz background... the blend was genuinely revolutionary...' (Thurston Moore & Byron Coley — from the JazzActuel boxset's liner notes). Original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl..."

CYRILLE, ANDREW: *What About? LP (GET 316). $16.00

"Percussion legend Andrew Cyrille recorded this album in Paris on August 11th, 1969... a wonderful and preeminent figure in free jazz who worked with Cecil Taylor, Roland Kirk, Coleman Hawkins, Marion Brown and David S.Ware among the others... 'Subsequent to Milford Graves' solo work on the ESP-Disk label, Mr. Cyrille again proved the solo drum LP to be a valid (if rare) entity in the world of recorded jazz... whistles, gongs, shouts, et al. are played ferociously here by one of the planet's most formidable improvisors...' (Thurston Moore & Byron Coley - from the JazzActuel boxset's liner notes) original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl..."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: *Blase' LP (GET 318). $16.00

"Originally recorded at Studio Davout in Paris on August 16th, 1969. An intense and sublime album by Archie Shepp with Lester Bowie and Malachi Favors (from the Art Ensemble of Chicago) plus Dave Burrell, Philly Joe Jones and Jeanne Lee. 5 tracks, original artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram HQ vinyl."

JACQUES COURSIL UNIT: *Way Ahead LP (GET 319). $16.00

"This album was recorded at Studio Saravah in Paris on July 7th and 8th, 1969. Trumpeter Jacques Coursil recorded these 3 tracks with the help of Arthur Jones (alto sax), Claude Delcloo (drums) and Beb Guerin (bass). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

BURRELL, DAVE: *Echo LP (GET 320). $16.00

"This album was recorded in Paris on August 13th, 1969 by pianist Dave Burrell with the help of Archie Shepp (tenor sax), Alan Silva (bass), Sunny Murray (drums), Clifford Thornton (cornet), Grachan Moncur III (trombone) and Arthur Jones (alto sax)... 'to high energy enthusiasts and noise music cognoscenti Echo is considered the ultimate free jazz experience... to throw on when you want to demonstrate how dangerous the BYG/Actuel series really is — a humongous, infinitely-dense blur of high-action free-blown group dynamics...' (Thurston Moore & Byron Coley — from the JazzActuel boxset's liner notes) original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl..." "In the fall of 1969 Free Jazz was reaching a kind of nadir/nexus. Within the industry it was controversial. Classic traditionalists (beboppers included) were outraged by men in dashikis and sandals jumping on stage and just BLOWING their guts out creating screaming torrents of action. Most musicians involved with this crying anarchy could get no bookings beyond the New York loft set. The French lovers of the avant-garde embraced this African-American scene wholly. This recording is one of many in a series of LPs with consistent design. BYG released classic Free Jazz documents by Archie Shepp (at his wildest), Clifford Thornton, Art Ensemble of Chicago, Grachan Moncur III, Sunny Murray, Alan Silva, Arthur Jones, Dewey Redman and many others. A lot of these cats are present on this recording where from the first groove it sounds like an acoustic tidal wave exploding into shards of dynamite. — Thurston Moore, listed #1 on his Top Ten From The Free Jazz Underground list/essay.

MONCUR III, GRACHAN: New Africa LP (GET 321). $16.00

"A wonderful and fairly adventurous recording session that was taped in Paris on August 11, 1969 for one of the first trombonists to explore free jazz. Grachan Moncur III matches ideas with Roscoe Mitchell (alto sax, piccolo), Dave Burrell (piano), Alan Silva (bass), Andrew Cyrille (drums) and (on one of the four pieces) his former boss Archie Shepp (tenor sax). 4 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

TERRAODE, KENNETH: Love Rejoice LP (GET 322). $16.00

"Recorded on June 10, 1969 at BYG's Studio Saravah in Paris. Jamaican born tenor saxophonist Kenneth Terroade appears here with Ronnie Beer, Evan Chandley, Francois Tusques, Bob Guerin, Earl Freeman and Claude Deldoo."

THORNTON, CLIFFORD: Ketchaoua LP (GET 323). $16.00

"This album was recorded in Paris on August 18, 1969 by Clifford Thornton (cornet and conga drums) with Grachan Moncur III (trombone), Archie Shepp (soprano saxophone), Arthur Jones (alto saxophone), Dave Burrell (piano), Sunny Murray (drums), Beb Guerin (bass), Earl Freeman (bass) and Claude Deldoo (drums). 'Clifford Thornton was a player and a composer whose obscurity was offset by the high esteem in which he was held by his fellow musicians... like Shepp, Thornton was actively involved in advancing the ideology of the black nationalist movement... and all of his recordings are intense and important about those matters that were close to his heart - liberation, communication and unity.' — Thurston Moore and Byron Coley. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

AME SON: Catalyse LP (GET 324). $16.00

"The classic album by this French prog quartet formed from Daavid Allen's Bananamoon backing group. Originally released in 1970, this album is surprisingly great and obviously influenced in some way by Gong. Long and spacey tracks that seem to jam forever. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

FREEDOM: Freedom At Last LP (GET 325). $16.00

"Originally released in 1969 on the BYG Actuel series. A spinoff of Procol Harum, Freedom was formed by guitarist Ray Royer and drummer Bobby Harrison (both of them were in Procol Harum's lineup at the outset for their debut single 'A Whiter Shade Of Pale'). A bluesy hard rock trio sounding similar to Procol Harum or instrumentally to early Traffic. Some good slices of late British psychedelia with a prominent use of organ and piano and a bluesy heavy rock guitar. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MUSICA ELETTRONICA VIVA: The Sound Pool LP (GET 326). $16.00

"Musica Elettronica Viva could not be easily defined as one band but closer to a movement based around the idea of free improvisation in the form of experimental, electronic jazz. Originally released in 1969, this is MEV's first album for BYG. A live recording from May of 1969 featuring a free-form ensemble including Constance Abernathy, Michel Asso, Bert, Michael Blake, Barbara Bryant, Carius, Franco Cataldi, Ivan & Patricia Coquette, Alvin Curran, Chaia Gerstein, Jeff Levine, Jean-Marie Poirer, Frédéric & Nicole Rzewski, Richard Teitelbaum and the audience. This is an historic avant-noise document. Original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

RILEY/PIERRE MARIETAN, TERRY: Keyboard Study 2/Initiative LP (GET 327). $16.00

"A split release between Terry Riley and French avant-garde composer Pierre Marietan that was recorded in Paris on September 30th and October 1st, 1969. Riley's piece is a 24-minute work for 2 pianos (Gérard Frémy and Martine Joste of the GERM ensemble - Groupe d'Etude et Réalisation Musicale). Marietan's piece is performed by the full GERM ensemble including Philippe Blachette (violin), Philippe Drogos (double bass), Louis Roquin (trumpet), Chantal Lemaire (cello), Gérard Frémy (piano), Martine Joste (piano), Jean-Yves Bosseur (rebab and little flute), Bernadette Val (soprano voice) plus the composer himself on french horn. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: Message To Our Folks LP (GET 328). $16.00

"Originally recorded at Studio Davout in Paris on August 12th, 1969... the Art Ensemble Of Chicago stands out as one of the most influential and long-lasting avant-garde and free jazz bands of all time. 4 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

ART ENSEMBLE OF CHICAGO: Reese And The Smooth Ones LP (GET 329). $16.00

"Originally released on the French BYG Actuel label, this a classic album recorded in Paris during August 1969 while the Art Ensemble was on its initial stay there with just a quartet featuring Roscoe Mitchell, Lester Bowie, Malachi Favors and Joseph Jarman. Reese And The Smooth Ones has a continuous piece featuring all the members playing lots of little instruments (horns, gongs, logs, bells, sirens, whistles, steel drums, marimba, banjo and more) in addition to their mainstays. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CHERRY, DON: Mu Second Part LP (GET 331). $16.00

"An album recorded at Studio Saravah in Paris on August 22, 1969 by Don Cherry (pocket trumpet, piano, indian flute, bamboo flute, voice, bells, percussions) with Ed Blackwell (drums, percussions, bell). 'His duets with Ed Blackwell, a drummer whose playing Cherry was very conversant with through a shared history in the Coleman group, were the first recordings released in the Actuel series' — Thurston Moore and Byron Coley. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MURRAY, SUNNY: An Even Break LP (GET 332). $16.00

"Avant-garde jazz drummer Sunny Murray was a major player in the experimental jazz community throughout the 1960s. After three years as a member of Albert Ayler's band (1964-1967), Murray traveled to France where, after releasing two lps on the BYG label, he recorded An Even Break, (recorded on November 22, 1969) for Affinity. Although his first release for the Affinity label, this was Murray's third release of the year! Featuring Byard Lancaster, Malachi Favors and Kenneth Terroade."

MONCUR III, GRACHAN: Aco Dei De Madrugada LP (GET 333). $16.00

"One of the first trombonists to explore free jazz, Grachan Moncur III recorded this album (his 2nd as a leader for BYG/Actuel) at the Studio Saravah in Paris on September 10th and November 4th, 1969. Featuring Fernando Martins (piano), Beb Guerin (bass) and Nelson Serra De Castro (drums). 4 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

REDMAN, DEWEY: Tarik LP (GET 334). $16.00

"The obscure Dewey Redman's second recording as a leader took place at Studio E.T.A. in Paris on October 1st, 1969 (at the time he was working regularly with Ornette Coleman).

Tenor saxophonist Redman is joined here on 5 of his own compositions by AEC's Malachi Favors (bass) and Ed Blackwell (drums). His playing exhibited a wild style always involving the practice of mouthing and vocalizing. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MUSICA ELETTRONICA VIVA: Leave The City LP (GET 335). $16.00

"This historic avant-noise document was originally released in 1970. The improvisational and experimental jazz collective MEV was founded in Rome in 1966 by American composers Allan Bryant, Alvin Curran, Jon Phetteplace, and Frederic Rzewski. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

WRIGHT, FRANK: One For John LP (GET 336). $16.00

"Tenor saxophonist Frank Wright was part of the original New York avant-garde jazz scene. During the '60s he recorded a pair of visceral blast-fests for Bernard Stollman's seminal ESP-Disk? label before moving to Paris where this album was cut at the end of 1969. 3 tracks recorded at the Studio Saravah with altoist Noah Howard, pianist Bobby Few and drummer Muhammad Ali. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SHARROCK, SONNY: Monkey-Pockie-Boo LP (GET 337). $16.00

"An album recorded in Paris (on June 22nd, 1969) with his wife Linda plus Ben Guerin (bass) and Jacques Thollot (drums). Sonny Sharrock was one of the top avant-garde guitarists and his playing was intense and ferocious. He mixed together Jimi Hendrix and Pharoah Sanders. 'Sharrock was the first guitarist to really embrace fire music. He wanted his playing to mirror the emotional scream of the tenor saxophone' (Thurston Moore and Byron Coley). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SHEPP AND THE FULL MOON ENSEMBLE, ARCHIE: Live In Antibes Vol. 1 & 2 LP (GET 338/9). $26.00

"Super live recordings (dated July 18 and July 20, 1970) captured in France at the Antibes-Juan Le Pen Jazz Festival. Archie Shepp and the Full Moon Ensemble (including Allen Shorter, Clifford Thornton, Joseph Dejean, Beb Guerin and Claude Deldoo) playing four long and really intense tracks. Two separate gatefold sleeve albums packaged together. Original artworks. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

RA & HIS SOLAR-MYTH ARKESTRA, SUN: The Solar-Myth Approach Vol. 1 LP (GET 340). $16.00

"A wild and passionate interstellar mix of free jazz, solo synthesizer and hard rocking cosmic philosophy' specifically commissioned by the BYG/Actuel label (and apparently recorded in New York between 1970 and 1971)... this material 'would prove to be one of the cornerstones of the entire Sun Ra/Arkestra career'... with Kwame Hadi, Akh Tal Ebah, Ali Hassan, Charles Stephens, Marshall Allen, Danny Davis, John Gilmore, Danny Ray Thompson, Pat Patrick, James Jacson, Ronnie Boykins, Clifford Jarvis, Lex Humphries, Nimrod Hunt, June Tyson and Art Jenkins. 'The 2 volumes that form the Solar-Myth Approach encapsulate the creative mood and the impassioned message that was going down as the '60s violently burned themselves out... in the cold dawn of the early '70s Sun Ra and his Solar-Myth Arkestra sent out their musical ray of hope to all who chose to hear it... over 20 years later and its effect remains both blinding and illuminating.' (Edwin Pouncey). Both albums come with their original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

RA & HIS SOLAR-MYTH ARKESTRA, SUN: The Solar-Myth Approach Vol. 2 LP (GET 341). $16.00

SILVA AND THE CELESTIAL COMMUNICATION ORCHESTRA, ALAN: 3LP (GET 342-4). $34.00

"This influential Alan Silva's triple album was recorded live at Studio 104/Maison De L'O.R.T.F. in Paris on December 29th, 1970. Silva and co. bring the orchestral wall of sound to the limit. Featuring Lester Bowie, Joseph Jarman, Steve Lacy, Roscoe Mitchell, Dave Burrell, Don Moye, Bernard Vitet, Alan Shorter, Ronnie Beer, Robin Kenyatta, Michel Portal, Dieter Gewissler, Jouk Minor, Kent Carter, Irene Aebi, Joachim Kuhn, Jerome Cooper and Oliver Johnson. Original artwork. Double-folded sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

BRAXTON, ANTHONY: This Time LP (GET 347). $16.00

"His 2nd album released on the BYG Actuel series. 9 tracks recorded in Paris during January 1970 with Leroy Jenkins, Steve McCall and Leo Smith. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MURRAY, SUNNY: Sunshine LP (GET 348). $16.00

"This album was recorded in Paris on August 15, 1969 with Lester Bowie, Dave Burrell, Roscoe Mitchell, Archie Shepp, Alan Silva, Malachi Favors, Arthur Jones and Kenneth Terroade. Sunny Murray is 'rightly regarded as jazz's first free drummer. His belief in the drum as an extension of the human soul's vibration allowed him to create a sonic firebreed for tonal instruments to dance across. He spent the '60s developing his propulsive, brain-poking style with Albert Ayler, Cecil Taylor and his own groups. The wild sextet Mr. Murray led for this session heralds our entry into the rough and blaring world of high energy.' (Thurston Moore and Byron Coley). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

COURSIL, JACQUES: Black Suite LP (GET 349). $16.00

"Parisian Jacques Coursil, one of the most talented and soulful trumpet players of the '60s and '70s avant-garde and free jazz scenes, recorded this amazing session at Studio Saravah in Paris in 1969. This important contribution to modern jazz features Anthony Braxton (contrabass clarinet) and Arthur Jones (alto sax). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SHEPP, ARCHIE: Live At The Panafrican Festival LP (GET 351). $16.00

"Striking live performances recorded at the first Panafrican Festival in Algiers during July of 1969. Archie Shepp with a stellar line-up including Clifford Thornton, Grachan Moncur III, Dave Burrell, Alan Silva, Sunny Murray and poets Ted Joans & Don Lee teaming up with Algerian and Touareg musicians for some wonderful and haunting ethno new jazz. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

LACY, STEVE: Moon LP (GET 352). $16.00

"Soprano saxophonist Steve Lacy's first recording as a leader since moving to Europe (cut in Rome during September of 1969 for the BYG Actuel label). Distinctive and lyrical performances of five Lacy originals featuring trombonist Italo Toni, clarinetist Claudio Volante, bassist Marcello Melis, drummer Jacques Thollot as well as cellist Irene Aebi. Intriguing and passionate. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SPONTANEOUS MUSIC ENSEMBLE: Birds Of A Feather LP (GET 410). $16.00

"A great album by this British free-jazz cooperative group. 5 tracks recorded in Herouville, France on July 27th, 1971 by John Stevens (drums and percussions), Julie Tippetts (vocals and guitar), Trevor Watts (sax) and Ron Herman (bass). Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CAGE, JOHN: Sonatas And Interludes/A Book Of Music 2LP (GET 411). $22.00

"Originally released in 1977 by Tomato. 'Sonatas And Interludes' for prepared piano (1946-48) performed by Joshua Pierce. 'A Book Of Music' for two prepared pianos (1944) performed by Joshua Pierce (left channel) and Maro Ajemian (right channel). Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CAGE, JOHN: John Cage LP (GET 412). $16.00

"Originally released in 1978 by Tomato. Joshua Pierce (piano and prepared piano) with Jay Clayton (voice) and The Paul Price Percussion Ensemble (conducted by Joshua Pierce) recorded all the tracks at the Minot Sound Studio in White Plains, New York during the year 1977. Contains 'A Room' (1943), 'She Is Asleep' (1943), 'Seven Haiku' (1952), 'Totem Ancestor' (1943), 'Two Pastorales' (1951) and 'And The Earth Shall Bear Again' (1942). Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

ASHLEY, ROBERT: In Sara, Mencken, Christ And Beethoven There Were Men And Women LP (GET 413). $16.00

"This uniquely original work for voice and electronics is dated 1972. The voice part is read with as few inflections and breaths as possible and the voice activates electronic sounds that respond with inflected sounds. The musical effect is that of an internal voice stimulating involuntary ideas and feelings offering a profound musical exploration of the relation between the physical nature of the voice and social/language behaviors. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

ARESKI & BRIGITTE FONTAINE: L'Incendie LP (GET 414). $16.00

"This album is the first collaboration between Areski and Brigitte Fontaine. A great album originally recorded for BYG. In a perfect symbiosis with Brigitte Fontaine's magnificent voice and surrealist texts, Areski creates a minimalist ethno-folk acoustic universe. In the French only dark chanteuse genre, this is a classic. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl." Original release: 1974.

MARCHETTI, WALTER: In Terra Utopiam LP (GET 415). $16.00

"This rare album (originally released in 1977 by Cramps) contains 3 compositions by Italian avant-garde composer. His astonishing largely conceptual and political works align Walter Marchetti with the Fluxus art movement. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

HIDALGO, JUAN: Tamaran (Gocce Di Sperma Per Dodici Pianoforti) LP (GET 416). $16.00

"Originally released in 1974 on Cramps as number 2 in the Nova Musicha series, this is a brilliant conceptual work for 12 pianos. Juan Hidalgo, a leading figure in the Spanish avant-garde scene, is assisted here by Walter Marchetti. Contains photos and excerpts of musical score. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

TUDOR, DAVID: Microphone LP (GET 417). $16.00

"American Experimental pianist David Tudor is well known for his extensive collaboration with John Cage beginning in the early 1950s and historic performances of groundbreaking works by Pierre Boulez, La Monte Young, Karlheinz Stockhausen, etc. In 1968, Tudor collaborated with John Cage and Marcel Duchamp on Reunion and by the end of the 1960s Tudor was focusing exclusively on composing and performing his own electronic works, often a mix of audio and visual elements, performed with his own self-designed instruments. Much of his major work was composed for the Merce Cunningham Dance Company of which he became musical director after Cage's death in 1992. The pioneering Microphone was conceived during his work on the Japan Expo in 1970."

VA: Polyphonix 1 LP (GET 418). $16.00

"Using John Cage's slogan 'New Music: New Listening' as its mantra, Polyphonix 1 is a compilation of 27 poets from both Europe and the United States, collected at poetry festivals held during 1979 to 1981. Artists include Lawrence Ferlinghetti, Allen Ginsberg, John Giorno, Julien Blaine, François Dufrené, Bernard Heidsieck and Jean-Jacques Lebel, etc. Originally released as a co-production of Cramps Records, John Giorno's 'Giorno Poetry Systems' and Association Polyphonix."

CAGE, JOHN: Etudes Australes For Piano 2LP (GET 419). $22.00

"John Cage is perhaps the most influential and controversial American composer of the 20th century avant-garde, with a body of work spanning 5 decades. His 1974 Etudes Australes were based on notes derived from star charts of the Australian sky. The 32 études have no specified tempo or time and it is left up to the performer to decide the duration of each note. Each étude also requires that certain keys are held down throughout the piece (generally accomplished by using a rubber wedge) creating halos of sound that alter the surrounding notes."

LUCIER, ALVIN: Bird And Person Dying LP (GET 420). $16.00

"American avant-garde composer Alvin Lucier is well-known for his pioneering exploration of the physical properties of sound including the use of brainwaves to generate music. This LP features two of Lucier's groundbreaking early works. Lucier himself described his Bird and Person Dying project in the following way: I got this electronic bird in the mail, a Christmas tree ornament, and you simply plugged it in, and it made this birdcall... I had this idea to put binaural mikes in my ears and to head that bird and to move my head and pan the sound of the bird around in space. I had a mike in one ear and one in the other and I could make the stereo image by moving my head, so I started the birdcall and I put the amplifier on, and I started to get feedback and I discovered that these beautiful interference patterns were occurring between the sound to the birdcall and the strands of feedback. The flipside ('The Duke of New York') deals with the power of entertainers in our society and the hypothesis that their voices are present on different levels in our memory."

CAGE, JOHN: Empty Words 3LP BOX (GET 421). $25.00

"This nearly three hour performance documents Cage reading from the third part of his Empty Words at the Teatro Lirico in Milan in 1977, before an increasingly restless crowd of Italian students, as it erupts into one of the great (if unreported) art riots of the last century. This fully remastered triple LP features a collection of writings and drawings by Cage himself and photographs of the event."

GINSBERG, ALLEN: Ginsberg's Things LP (GET 422). $16.00

"Recorded at the Festival Of The Two Worlds in Spoleto, Italy on July 8 1967, this spoken word album by the famed beat generation multi-media artist captures Ginsberg's period as the undisputed master of the hippie movement. This album also documents the liaison between Ginsberg and the founder of the Italian 'hermetic' school of poetry, Giuseppe Ungaretti, whose poems are here translated and declaimed by the American guru. Ginsberg, known for his bizarre live acts and sharp criticism of the western world through farce and sarcasm, was here listened to carefully by the authorities and then charged with accusations of violating the Italian penal code. His response was to show up at the police station carrying a bouquet of flowers and gesturing a mudra over the police officer's head to expel demons."

LEARY, TIMOTHY: You Can Be Anyone This Time Around LP (GET 423). $16.00

"For a long time a hard to find collectable record, this historical spoken word album by LSD prophet Timothy Leary has now finally been reissued. Leary's raps and monologues, structured on an intersections of famous tunes of the time (the album was originally released in 1970 on Douglas) might sound outdated today and too linked to a specific weltanschauung that was the basis of Leary's modern age philosophy. But this is probably the reason why You Can Be Anyone This Time Around retains its interest in current times: it's the original, uncut, uncensored vision of a sharp thinker who has been often easily scorned for his extreme takes on drug use. Musically speaking, side B 'Live and Let Live,' offers an unforgettable jam session in the background with Stephen Stills, John Sebastian, Buddy Miles and Jimi Hendrix on bass."

MISUNDERSTOOD, THE: Golden Glass 2LP (GET 500). $22.00

"Originally recorded in 1969 and released only in 1984 through Time Stood Still, here's the second album by this band from California. They were managed in their early stages by John Peel (that's why they later moved to England). Includes 8 extra tracks taken from their legendary Gold Star sessions in 1966. Gatefold sleeve and 180 gram vinyl."

DEVIANTS: Ptooff! LP (GET 504). $16.00

Vinyl edition of their first album from 1967, one of the true highlights of underground UK rock of the era. Full color gatefold graphics. "In the late 60s The Deviants were something like the British equivalent to the Fugs, with touches of the Mothers of Invention and the British R&B-based rock of the Yardbirds and Pretty Things. Their simplistic riffing anticipated acts like the Stooges for an inspired collision of punk attitude and psychedelic eclecticism."

AREA: Arbeit Macht Frei LP (GET 5101). $16.00

"1st album originally released in 1973. This is the best Italian progressive band and one of the most unique bands ever. The voice of Demetrio Stratos is unforgettable. If you are into Soft Machine, Nucleus and National Health, this one is for you. Gatefold sleeve with original artwork (including the famous 'gun' insert)."

AREA: Caution Radiation Area LP (GET 5102). $16.00

"2nd album originally released in 1974 for the massively influential Italian progressive group (lead by Demetrio Stratos) that with 'Caution Radiation Area' added increasing levels of fringe experimentation to their already weird recipe. Stratos' vocal comes off throughout as one-third Pavarotti, one-third haunted house, and one-third Diamanda Galas' long-lost brother. Primitive drums and electronics, intense dustbowl jams, ARP synthesizers, a blizzard of speaking voices, Fender Rhodes solos, wavering Middle Eastern hummingbird and modes, ghostly voices morphing into tortured wies. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

AREA: Crac! LP (GET 5103 LP). $16.00

"Third album originally on Cramps. Their uncompromising blend of jazz-rock, ethnic folk, experimentation, and political philosophies made them a unique presence in Italy during the 70s. This is the best evidence of the band's crazy fusion: furious, mind-bending rhythms and melodies balanced with humor and the avant garde. Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl."

AREA: Are(A)zione LP (GET 5104). $16.00

"Their fourth album (originally released in 1975 on Cramps) was a live recorded uncompromising blend of jazz-rock, ethnic folk, experimentation and political philosophies. The Area's unique sound combined the punch of rock and the frightening chaos of experimental music. The 'International POPular Group' was a fascinating band. This album contains one song from each of their previous records plus a 15-minute jam (the title song) and a free-jazz interpretation of 'L'Internazionale'. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

BIG BROTHER & HOLDING CO.: Cheaper Thrills LP (GET 511). $16.00

"Recorded live on 7/28/66 before the band had cut any studio tracks."

DEVIANTS: Disposable LP (GET 512). $16.00

The 2nd album recorded by Mick Farren and band (originally released in 1968)." CD version is on Captain Trip. The record that brought forth the legend, "if you can't trip on garbage, then you can't trip on nothing!"

PINK FAIRIES: Uncle Harry 2LP (GET 514). $22.00

"This 3-sided LP includes rare tracks such as the first Polydor single 'The Snake', cuts from BBC broadcasts, live tracks from the Glastonbury Fayre Fest, etc." Similar (or possibly the same) material as the recent Mandies & Mescaline Round at Uncle Harry's CD.

CAGE, JOHN: LP (GET 5201). $16.00

"Originally released in 1974. Wonderful performances of 5 of John Cage's modern classics by composers/performers Juan Hidalgo, Walter Marchetti, Demetrio Stratos and Gianni-Emilio Simonetti. Featuring 'Music For Marcel Duchamp' and 'Music For Amplified Toy Pianos'. Original artwork, 180 gram vinyl." Also includes versions of: "Radio Music," "4:33" (very quiet pressing!) & "Sixty-two mesostics re: Merce Cunningham".

STRATOS, DEMETRIO: Metrodora LP (GET 5206). $16.00

"Originally released in 1976. First legendary solo album. Experiments in vocal technique, in which Stratos exhibits sounds which often do not sound vocal. This album reflects the work that he was doing with John Cage at the time."

SAM GOPAL: Escalator LP (GET 523). $16.00

"Originally released in 1969 on Stable. Psychedelic rock with heavy guitars plus Eastern and blues influences. Featuring Lemmy (later in Hawkwind and Motorhead). Produced by Trevor Walters. Contains two bonus tracks ('Horse' and 'Back Door Man') from a rare seven inch. Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl."

TWINK: From The Vaults LP (GET 526). $16.00

"A collection of rarities directly from Twink's vaults (and originally released as Odds & Beginnings Volume 2). Includes a version of 'Tomorrow Never Knows' with the complete Pink Fairies line up. Features 9 tracks and beautiful artwork in a gatefold sleeve with liner notes handwritten by Twink."

PINK FAIRIES: Live At Weeley Festival 1971 LP (GET 527). $16.00

"Previously unreleased live recordings from 1971. With Twink, Paul Rudolph, Duncan Sanderson, Russell Hunter."

DEVIANTS: #3 LP (GET 529). $16.00

"The third album by Mick Farren and co. Original artwork with gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

FARREN, MICK: Mona (The Carnivorous Circus) LP (GET 530). $16.00

Reissue of the first solo Mick Farren solo album (following the dissolution of the Deviants), originally issued by Transatlantic in 1970 (and reissued by Psycho in 1984). Features Steve Hammond (guitar), Twink (drums), Shagrat the Vagrant (Steve Took) (guitar & percussion), etc. A curious rock opera of sorts, featuring "heavy" covers of the likes of "Summertime Blues," spoken excerpts of street-life interviews and other confusing junk to the delight of half-assed drinkers worldwide.

VA: Cage Uncaged LP (GET 5301). $16.00

"First time on vinyl. The interesting tribute to John Cage featuring David Byrne, Arto Lindsay, Lee Ranaldo, Lou Reed, Debbie Harry, John Zorn/Naked City, Chris Stein, Amy Denio, Ann Magnuson and John Cale, David Weinstein and Shelly Hirsch, Jello Biafra and Eugene Chadbourne, Elliott Sharp, Joey Ramone, Ars Hell and Mutt. Also includes 11 of John Cage's excerpts from Silence (recorded in December 1968) and One Year From Monday (recorded March 1969). 25 tracks, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl."

RED CRAYOLA: The Parable Of Arable Land LP (GET 533). $16.00

"Originally released on International Artists in 1967. This debut album remains their most notorious and extreme effort. Featuring labelmate Roky Erikson on a couple of tracks." "A glorious night, and I was 'born again' to the music of the 'Rebellion Generation'. Rick, Steve and Mayo, 'The Red Krayola' — had come to Andrus Studio with a few of their friends, 50 friends to be exact, to record a FREE-FORM FREAK-OUT album. They brought with them their own form of music, — a bell, buzzsaw, motor cycle, guitars, drums, organs, bottles, stocks, mouth bow, rocks, ballons, kazoo's, flutes, piccolos, a hammer, jugs and just about every other item you can think of that makes noise, but then 'Beauty is in the eyes of the Beholder' — and what is noise to one is Beautiful Music to another. I watched for two hours as a young man made his music by striking two match sticks together. He had apparently flashed — and to him this was his beautiful music (his girl friend kept time by blowing in a pop bottle)." — General Fox. "Limited definitions define limit and one can go just so far. Here we go..." — Mayo Thompson.

RED KRAYOLA, THE: God Bless The Red Krayola And All Who Sail With It LP (GET 534). $16.00

"Mayo Thompson's 2nd album originally released on International Artists in 1968."

BUBBLE PUPPY: A Gathering of Promises LP (GET 537). $16.00

"An interesting hard-garage-psychedelic album by the most successful act on International Artists besides the 13th Floor Elevators. It was originally released in 1969 and includes the single 'Hot Smoke And Sassafras'."

LOST & FOUND: Everybody's Here LP (GET 538). $16.00

"Also known as Forever Lasting Plastic Words, it was originally released on International Artists in 1968. Their first and only album. A drug-inspired psychedelic combo that sounds a lot like the 13th Floor Elevators."

GOLDEN DAWN, THE: A Power Plant LP (GET 539). $16.00

"Originally released in 1967 on International Artists, this album is one of the best on the label. Fine psychedelic instrumentation and provoking lyrics."

PERE UBU: The Modern Dance LP (GET 54). $16.00

"Debut album originally released in 1978 on Blank Records." The seminal early line up of: David Thomas, Tom Herman, Scott Krauss, Tony Maimone, & Allen Ravenstine. Features "Non-Alignment Pact," "Street Waves," Peter Laughner's "Life Stinks," etc.

COMUS: First Utterance 2LP (GET 541). $22.00

"The first LP is rock music only by association. Taking British folk as a point of departure, the music twists and oozes as a vile bunch of snakes, pairing gorgeous melodies and expert playing to ecstatically altered vocals and vicious lyrics. Rape, murder, witchcraft and abuse are main ingredients to the menu, which is cooked with raging madness, but still manages to taste delicately composed. One of the very first British folk albums that creates a totally new, dangerous and utterly unique atmosphere." — Marcel Koopman. The second disc in this Get Back reissue is a 12" EP with 3 bonus tracks from their 1971 7" on Down Records featuring "Diana" (single version) and 2 non-album tracks. The classic weird-folk British album from 1970, more recently infamous for influence on Current 93's sound in the 90s. Pretty nicely done full color gatefold sleeve and reproduced insert.

TOMORROW: Christmas On Earth Continued LP (GET 543). $16.00

"One of the 60s best and most intriguing one-album artists. Eight songs from their December 1967 concert at the 'Christmas On Earth Continued' psychedelic event in London. The line up was Keith West, Steve Howe, Twink, and John 'Junior' Wood."

VA: Epitaph For a Legend 2LP (GET 545). $22.00

"Originally only released as part of the International Artists box-set. Contains previously unreleased and/or extremely collectable tracks by The Red Krayola, 13th Floor Elevators, Lost & Found, Lightnin' Hopkins, Roky Erikson, Dave Allen and more...27 tracks. Gatefold sleeve and original artwork."

ALLEN, DAEVID: Banana Moon LP (GET 557). $16.00

"Originally released in 1971 on the French label BYG. First album, with help from Robert Wyatt, Pip Pyle and Christian Tritsch. Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl."

SOFT MACHINE: Jet-Propelled Photograph LP (GET 560). $16.00

"Contains material recorded in London in April 1967, with the production of Grogio Gomelski. Nine demos featuring the original Soft Machine lineup of Robert Wyatt, Kevin Ayers, Mike Ratledge and Daevid Allen. Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl." CD version is on Spalax.

ANDROMEDA: LP (GET 561). $16.00

"Originally released on RCA in 1969. British psychedelic-progressive rock trio. Original artwork, gatefold sleeve."

MAN: Revelation LP (GET 563). $16.00

"Originally released in 1968 on Pye. First effort by this Welsh combo is a concept album that includes the single 'Erotica' (which contained the sound of an orgasm and thus failed to chart in England). Progressive sound strongly influenced by Quicksilver Messenger Service."

TITUS GROAN: LP (GET 564). $16.00

"Originally released in 1970 on Dawn. The only album by this English progressive outfit. Contains 3 extra tracks from their rare single, and a gatefold sleeve with 180 gram vinyl."

NATIONAL HEALTH: LP (GET 568). $16.00

"Originally released in 1978 on Affinity. Classic debut release that still sounds fresh today from this English progressive-jazzy band. They shared members with other influential groups like Hatfield and the North, Henry Cow, and Matching Mole."

GONG: Flying Teapot LP (GET 569). $16.00

"Originally released in 1973 on Virgin. First part of what become known as their Radio Gnome Invisible trilogy. 'An avant garde collection of sound effects, sax, jazzy improvisation and comic vocals.' — Tapestry of Delights. Original artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl."

TWINK: The Lost Experimental Recordings 1970 LP (GET 572). $16.00

LP version, color gatefold sleeve.

TWINK: The Lost Experimental Recordings 1970 CD (GET 572 CD). $15.00

"16 tracks recorded at London Wizard Studios, Hornsey, London (very late 1969 and early 1970). Remixed and remastered at Westwood Studios in Los Angeles in 1999. The words and music are by Twink." This is a series of recordings compiled from a winter's worth of unreleased sessions recorded in hashish blur. Twink's liner notes indicate that he never thought twice about them, but engineer Julian Briggs recently contacted him and reminded him of these events, and now extracts can be heard for the first time. The results are some of the most extreme & outside music that has been released in association with Mr. Twink's, looping noise jamdom and excess, plus some psychedelic foppiness in a Tolkien-inspired mode. It's hard to believe Twink really "forgot" about this stuff considering the discography of junk he's remembered to reissue, and you might wonder if a bit more than mixing & mastering occurred in 1999. But either way, this is one of the guy's all time highlights in the universe of recorded sound, so make you you say "thanks" the next time you attempt to stick a flower in one of his ears.

GONG: The History And The Mystery Of The Planet Gong 2LP (GET 577). $22.00

"19 track collection of rare and previously unreleased material. The 1st record features obscure material from '60s pre-Gong recordings, radio sessions (1 track with Kevin Ayers), studio outtakes and live recordings from the '70s. The 2nd record features the Daevid Allen and Mothergong late '80s album The Owl & The Tree. Cool artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram HQ vinyl."

FAIRFIELD PARLOUR: From Home To Home 2LP (GET 584). $22.00

"Originally released in 1970 on Vertigo, this is a collectable album that Kaleidoscope recorded under a different name. Pretty good '60s-influenced British pop psychedelia. Including 10 bonus tracks (five cut from their 1970 Vertigo singles plus previously unreleased material). Original artwork, gatefold sleeve..."

MAN: 2 Ozs. Of Plastic (With A Hole In The Middle) LP (GET 585). $16.00

"Originally released in 1969 on Dawn. 2nd effort by this Welsh combo. Progressive sound strongly influenced by early Quicksilver Messenger Service. Original artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram HQ vinyl."

T-REX: Solid Gold T-Rex (The Top 30 Singles) LP (GET 588). $16.00

180 gram gatefold LP. Yellow-vinyl repress of this 2001 singles collection, 1972-76 era Bolan classics.

NEW YORK GONG: About Time LP (GET 589). $16.00

"This album documents Daevid Allen's 1979 trip to New York... psychedelia, new wave and even punk mixed with the early '70s attitude of the original Gong... 9 tracks recorded by Allen with Bill Laswell (bass), Gary Windo (sax), Michael Beinhorn (keyboards) and Fred Maher (drums) among the others... original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl..."

MR. FOX: LP (GET 590). $16.00

Reissue of this UK folk album, their first album, originally issued by Transatlantic in 1970. Bob Pegg (vocals, organ, melodeon, tin whistle and terapan), Carole Pegg (vocals and fiddle), Alun Eden (drums), Barry Lyons (bass), Andrew Massey (cello), John Myatt (flute, clarinet, bassoon).

MR. FOX: The Gypsy LP (GET 591). $16.00

"Originally released in 1971 on Transatlantic. 2nd album by Leeds, England based combo. Like their self-titled debut album, The Gypsy is a masterpiece of contemporary folk music. Original artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram HQ vinyl."

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: The Psychedelic Sounds Of: LP (GET 593). $16.00

"Their magnificent and visionary debut album is their best. Originally released in 1966 by International Artists, this is the album that contains most of the classics of Roky Erickson's band: their hit 'You're Gonna Miss Me', plus 'Fire Engine', 'Reverberation' and 'Roller Coaster'. Gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Easter Everywhere LP (GET 594). $16.00

"Originally released in 1967 by International Artists, this is the 2nd and more acid album by the quintessential underground band of the late '60s. More original psychedelic rock from Austin, Texas. Gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

TWINK: The Never Never Land And Think Pink Demos CD (GET 599 CD). $15.00

"12 track collection of ultra rare tapes from John Richard Alder's vaults... featuring demo versions (for the most recorded at Lighting Wizard Studios in Hornsey, North London between 1969 and 1970) of songs originally appeared on the Pink Fairies' masterpiece Never Never Land and Twink's classic Think Pink. Contains 'Do It', 'The Coming Of The Other One' and 'Dawn Of Magic' among the others. Lots of photos and liner notes by Twink."

TWINK: The Never Never Land And Think Pink Demos LP (GET 599 LP). $16.00

"Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl..."

PURPLE GANG, THE: Strikes! LP (GET 600). $16.00

"Originally released in 1967 on Transatlantic. This is a gem of pure UK beat straight out of the 'Swingin' London' scene. Contains the classic hit 'Granny Takes a Trip' (UF O Club theme song in 1967). Original artwork, 180 gram vinyl."

HENDRIX, JIMI: OST Experience LP (GET 603). $16.00

"On February 24th, 1969 the Jimi Hendrix Experience played what turned out to be their last UK concert together at London's Royal Albert Hall. The show was recorded and filmed and the music on this album is taken from the original soundtrack tapes for a film which was only ever seen once (at Berkeley University, California) and has since vanished. Jimi Hendrix with Noel Redding and Mitch Mitchell played powerful and inspired versions of 'Purple Haze', 'Voodoo Chile', 'Little Wing', 'Sunshine Of Your Love', 'Wild Thing' and more... featuring Dave Mason, Chris Wood and Rocky Dzidzournou (on 'Room Full Of Mirrors'). 9 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ orange vinyl."

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Elevators - Live LP (GET 604). $16.00

"Originally released in 1968 on the International Artists label. This is their 3rd album which is not a live album at all. The tracks were studio outtakes with fake applause added. Along with versions of the band's classics 'You're Gonna Miss Me' and 'Roller Coaster' this album contains 5 songs not included on their previous two studio albums: Bo Diddley's 'Before You Accuse Me', Buddy Holly's 'I'm Gonna Love You Too', Solomon Burke's classic 'Everybody Needs Somebody To Love' and two original compositions ('You Gotta Take That Girl' and 'You Can't Hurt Me Anymore'). 10 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

SHAGRAT: Pink Jackets Required LP (GET 607). $16.00

"180 gram HQ vinyl (gatefold sleeve)."

SHAGRAT: Pink Jackets Required CD (GET 607 CD). $15.00

"11 ultra rare tracks for this short-lived band formed by Steve Took (of Tyrannosaurus Rex fame) and Twink at the end of 1969. Three of these tracks ('The Sparrow Is A Sign', 'The Coming Of The Other One' and 'Three Little Piggies') came out later on Twink's classic Think Pink album and the versions included here were recorded (just before Steve Took left with Marc Bolan for the very first Tyrannosaurus Rex US tour) at Recorded Sound Studios in London during 1969 with various members of The Pink Fairies, Motorcycle Club and All Star Rock And Roll Band. The other tracks were recorded at Denmark Street Studios between 1969 and 1970 by Steve Peregrin Took (guitar and vocals), Twink (drums and more) and Paul Rudolph (bass). Contains liner notes."

HENDRIX, JIMI: OST Experience Part 2 LP (GET 608). $16.00

"8 more tracks from recordings dated February 24th, 1969 when the Jimi Hendrix Experience played what turned out to be their last UK concert together (at London's Royal Albert Hall). The show was recorded and filmed and the music on this album is taken from the original soundtrack. Jimi Hendrix with Noel Redding and Mitch Mitchell playing inspired versions of 'Red House', 'Foxy Lady', 'Stone Free', 'The Star Spangled Banner' and more. Cool artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ coloured vinyl."

BOND ORGANIZATION, GRAHAM: Live At Klook's Kleeek Club In London 1964 LP (GET 609). $16.00

"An important figure of early '60s British music boom, Graham Bond led an interesting group that mixed elements of jazz and improvisation with blues, r&b and rock. Future Cream members Jack Bruce and Ginger Baker were his rhythm section and Dick Heckstall-

Smith handled horns. The tracks included documented a live 1964 gig (one of Giorgio Gomelsky's innumerable tapes of British club acts of the period). The electricity is here, along with the immediacy, and this LP may be the way to best appreciate this band. Nice artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

GONG: Camembert Electrique LP (GET 610). $16.00

"Recorded in 1971, this is Gong's first proper studio album and it is a classic. A testament to a unique prog rock that branched out in all directions at once. A mixture of psychedelic rock, spacey sounds and lyrics with doses of jazz with a pop but intense sensibility. Camembert Electrique remains undated after 30 years. Original artwork... gatefold sleeve... 180 gram HQ vinyl."

GRUPPO DI IMPROVVISAZIONE NUOVA CONSONANZA: Musica Su Schemi LP (GET 6109). $16.00

"Originally released in 1976 on Cramps. This ensemble was formed in 1964 by Ennio Morricone, with Franco Evangelisti, Giovanni Piazza, Egisto Macchi, Antonello Neri, and Giancarlo Schiaffini. Four tracks (including 'Omaggio A Giacinto Scelsi') and a gatefold sleeve with liner notes and photos." CD version was on EMI/Cramps

CAGE, JOHN: Cheap Imitation LP (GET 6117). $16.00

"Originally released in 1977 on Cramps. Three compositions performed by Cage himself on March 7th, 1976 at the Center for Contemporary Music of Mills College in Oakland, California. Engineered by Blue Gene Tyranny and produced by David Behrman, with liner notes, photos, and a gatefold sleeve." Pieces are: "Band 1", "Band 2" 7 "Solid Band".

GONG: Angel's Egg LP (GET 613). $16.00

"Mostly recorded in the back garden of their French residence between the summer and autumn of 1973, Angel's Egg was released around Xmas of the same year as the second part of their Radio Gnome Invisible trilogy. Not a usual progressive rock album containing the pop-oriented song 'Oily Way' and Steve Hillage's fantastic guitar-driven rock tune 'I Never Gild Before' plus more lengthy spaced-out, jazz-influenced jams. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Bull Of The Woods LP (GET 615). $16.00

"Originally released in 1968 by the International Artists label. An incomplete album tentatively titled The Beauty And The Beast that was released with a changed title after the band's demise. Its finest moments are 'Never Another' (one of the best and most demented tracks ever recorded and the only one on the album written by the usual songwriting duo of Roky Erickson and Tommy Hall) and 'May The Circle Remain Unbroken' (a haunting Roky's composition that may be the strangest thing this great band ever cut). Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

BAILEY, DEREK: Improvisation LP (GET 6202). $16.00

"Originally released in 1975 on Cramps' Diverso series. Contains 14 excerpts, liner notes, and photos." Solo guitar.

GONG: You LP (GET 621). $16.00

"Originally released in 1974 as part three in the Radio Gnome Invisible trilogy The group recorded the album on a week-long acid trip in a cottage in England. Daevid Allen (who left the band shortly after the album's release) later recalled the recording session 'it was just a wonderful, wonderful trip and we all played and played and played. And we connected so strongly together out of the improvisations, we just improvised and recorded it and then at the end of the day, we would listen to the recordings and take the pieces out that we wanted to learn.' However, the band soon became split over David's lyrics and how he had decided to end the tale of Zero the Hero's experience on Planet Gong. Original artwork. LP Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram HQ vinyl."

FRUMIOUS BANDERSNATCH: Golden Songs Of Libra (The Studio Outtakes) LP (GET 624). $16.00

"If any one group can legitimately qualify as the 'great lost psychedelic band', then Frumious Bandersnatch are that group. The few tantalizing glimpses of the combo afforded by their sole release from the 1960s have engendered an enormous reputation. The subsequent fortunes of its members in groups like Journey and the Steve Miller Band have only added to the phenomenon. Frumious Bandersnatch were amongst the second wave of the 1960s San Francisco rock renaissance, but they had no allegiance to folk or jazz or any of the other influences that shaped the major players such as the Dead or the Airplane. Instead the group came together in the culturally-arid environs of Contra Costa County in the East Bay, over the hill from politicized Berkeley and working-class Oakland, and a world away from cosmopolitan San Francisco itself."

VA: The Dawn Take Away Concert LP (GET 626). $16.00

"Reissue of the ultra rare compilation, originally released in 1971 on Dawn Records to promote the label's artists. Features songs by Mungo Jerry, Comus, The Trio, Country Joe, Heron, Paul Brett's Sage, Demon Fuzz, Mike Cooper, etc." Pretty much all album tracks, this compilation no longer costs 99p!

SEEDS, THE: The Seeds LP (GET 628). $16.00

"1966 debut album by Los Angeles garage punk legends, the Seeds, featuring the now classic primitive rocker 'Pushin' Too Hard'. Originally released as a single to promote the album, it went largely unnoticed until the full-length album was released, at which point it began to climb the charts, creeping its way into the Top 40. Featured on numerous compilations and covered extensively, it remains one of the great musical landmarks of the sixties California garage scene."

SEEDS, THE: Web Of Sounds LP (GET 629). $16.00

"Springing from the underbelly of the Los Angeles garage scene, the Seeds were punk rock before the world had ever heard of a tribe called Ramone. Staying mostly to the 'primitive rock' side of the great hippie divide, they released their debut album in 1966, followed by Web Of Sounds that same year. The band did eventually succumb to the inebriating perfume of flower power, but that ultimately proved to be their demise, unravelling in the face of the dawning of a darker era. Includes their second hit single 'Mr. Farmer' and the raucous 'Rollin' Machine'."

T-REX: Boogie On 2LP (GET 631). $22.00

"From the band that almost single-handedly jump-started the UK glam rock craze, led by the god of trash rock Marc Bolan, this 3-sided double LP features rare acoustic radio sessions (recorded in Los Angeles in February 1972) and a live performance from Clifton Park, Rotherham UK (recorded in August 1971). Featuring material from the band's classic breakthrough Electric Warrior LP and their 1972 follow-up Slider. 3 sided clear vinyl."

T-REX: The Slider LP (GET 633). $16.00

"If you could only buy one T.Rex album (ok two, with Electric Warrior) then this is THE T. Rex album to get your hands on. With 'Telegram Sam' and 'Metal Guru' capturing the no. 1 slot in the UK when the album was originally released in 1972, it became the band's biggest hit on both sides of the Atlantic, and rightfully so. Here Marc Bolan is simultaneously at his trashiest and most ethereal — a combination that no one has ever quite been able to repeat. 180 gram vinyl."

T-REX: Tanx LP (GET 634). $16.00

"The band's follow-up to their legendary The Slider, 1973's Tanx was for many the last classic T.Rex record before Bolan began his irreversible descent into drug addiction. Despite the band's continued popularity, particularly in the UK, the album inexplicably never had a hit single, even though songs like 'Born To Boogie' would have found themselves at home on the top of the charts. Although we can hear Bolan trying to expand the band's sound with R & B style backup singers and horns, songs like 'Rapids', 'Highway Knees' and 'The Street & Babe Shadow' deliver vintage T.Rex." Contains poster. 180 gram vinyl,

WATT, BEN: North Marine Drive & Summer Into Winter LP (GET 635). $16.00

"Prior to his success in Everything But The Girl, Ben Watt released his legendary solo album, North Marine Drive which hit number one in the Indie Chart in 1983. This reissue includes a cover of Bob Dylan's 'You're Gonna Make Me Lonesome When You Go' plus five bonus tracks of Watt's collaboration with Robert Wyatt. Decades later, EBTG's collaborations with Massive Attack and forays into electronica and drum & bass brought the band back to the top of the British charts and sparked new interest in the duo's early releases."

THORN, TRACEY: A Distant Shore LP (GET 636). $16.00

"Originally released in 1982, Tracey Thorn's one and only solo album marked her transition from the Marine Girls to Everything But The Girl. Here Tracey and her voice stand alone hovering above eight minimalist tracks played on acoustic and electric guitar. Original Artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

WAITS, TOM: The Early Years Volume 1 LP (GET 637). $16.00

"Before turning into that dramatic minstrel of human misery and sorrow and adopting his Brechtian/Theatre Of The Absurd persona, Tom Waits was a more gentle and romantically affectionate songwriter. This album collects early demos recorded by a 21-year-old Tom Waits in 1971, two years before the release of his first album, Closing Time. Here Waits accompanies himself on piano or guitar in a solo performance (only one track, 'Ice Cream Man,' features other musicians.). Several songs contained here, like 'Ice Cream Man,' 'Virginia Ave.,' 'Midnight Lullabye,' and 'Little Trip to Heaven,' would appear on his later albums, but fans will highly appreciate this collection that provides an overall visual of this bizarre artist."

BUCKLEY, TIM: Dream Letter: Live in London 1968 2LP (GET 638). $22.00

"Recorded in London's Queen Elizabeth Hall on July 10, 1968 this impressive 2-hour live concert presents the Washingtonian prodigy folk singer at his best. He was only 21 years old when he had this incredible chance to show the world his talent which would carry him through a short but prolific career — 9 albums released between 1966 and his death in 1975. Accompanied by Lee Underwood, David Friedman and Pentangle's bass player Danny Thompson, Buckley caressed his 12 string acoustic guitar in an unforgettable night documented on this double LP which included several unreleased songs being performed for the first time. This is the true beginning of a legend."

WAITS, TOM: The Early Years Vol. 2 LP (GET 639). $16.00

"The Early Years, Vol. 2 completes for Waits' fans the collection of demos and alternative versions / outtakes of songs later included on his albums. Featured here are several songs that found glory on Closing Time and other tunes like 'Shiver Me Timbers,' 'Diamonds on My Windshield,' and 'Please Call Me Baby' which appeared on Waits' 1974 second album, The Heart of Saturday Night. As its predecessor (GET637), this collection is out now for the first time on vinyl."

BUCKLEY, TIM: Sefronia LP (GET 642). $16.00

"1973's Sefronia marks a slight change in Buckley's career, which had begun early in 1966, with his marvelous self-titled debut at only 19. From the depths of folk rock, his astonishing vocal technique explored the outer limits of white jazz-funk. Nobody knows what may have been the career path of an artist who released nine albums in only eight years, all of them close to perfection and each of them a piece of a mosaic that an untimely death prevented him from completing."

MODERN LOVERS: Modern Lovers LP (GET 66). $16.00

Yellow vinyl repress. "Originally released on Beserkley in 1976. Collection of tracks produced mostly by John Cale in 1971. Includes such classics as 'Roadrunner', 'Astral Plane', 'She Cracked', and 'Girlfriend'. Nine tracks, original artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl."

RICHMAN & THE MODERN LOVERS, JOHNATHAN: Jonathan Richman & The Modern Lovers LP (GET 67). $16.00

"Originally released on Beserkley in 1977. Jonathan Richman's second collection of the Modern Lovers. Includes 'Rockin' Shopping Center', 'Back in the U.S.A.', 'New England'. 11 tracks, original artwork, gatefold sleeve, 180 gram vinyl."

PERE UBU: Terminal Tower LP (GET 73). $16.00

"An archival collection including non LP singles and B sides from 1975 to 1980. Contains some of the best material ever recorded by David Thomas' band. Featuring 'Final Solution', 'My Dark Ages', 'Heart Of Darkness' and '30 Seconds Over Tokyo'. Complete info on every track included. Gatefold sleeve, 180 gram HQ vinyl."

HOPKINS, LIGHTNIN': Free Form Patterns LP (GET 7501). $16.00

"Originally released in 1968 on the International Artists label, this is a beautiful work by great Texas country bluesman. This Lelan Rogers-produced album has the 13th Floor Elevators credited as guests. 10 tracks. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: Burnin' LP (GET 7502). $16.00

"A great album for the king of the endless boogie (originally released in 1962 on the Vee-Jay label). John Lee Hooker was the genuine blues superstar whose droning and hypnotic one-chord grooves are at once both ultra-primitive and timeless. Contains the storming 'Boom Boom' (an infectious r&b dance number that cracked the pop airwaves). 11 tracks. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CASH, JOHNNY: Johnny Cash With His Hot And Blue Guitar LP (GET 7503). $16.00

"Johnny Cash became the first Sun artist to release a long-playing album in November of 1957 when Johnny Cash With His Hot And Blue Guitar hit the stores. This is classic Johnny Cash. Featuring 'Cry Cry Cry' (his debut single for Sun that entered the country charts at number 14), 'Folsom Prison Blues' (the second single that reached the country Top 5 in early 1956) and its follow-up, the original 'I Walk The Line'. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

HOPKINS, LIGHTNIN': Lightnin' Strikes LP (GET 7504). $16.00

"Originally released in 1962 on Vee-Jay, this is a set of solo acoustic recordings from one of the greatest Texas bluesmen. The blues he plays on this one are relatively bare, much in the vein of Robert Johnson or John Lee Hooker. 10 tracks. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CASH, JOHNNY: Now Here's Johnny Cash LP (GET 7505). $16.00

"Originally released in 1961 on Sun Records. This is a classic album from the most imposing and influential figure in country music. 12 tracks showing his deep, resonant baritone and spare, percussive guitar for a basic and distinctive sound. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

CASH, JOHNNY: Story Songs Of Trains And Rivers LP (GET 7506). $16.00

"Collection of songs from 1955-1958, originally released in 1969 on Sun Records when 'the Man in Black' was at the height of his career (outselling even the Beatles). The godfather of country music, Johnny Cash, can also be considered one of the founding fathers of the 'concept album'. Includes his first hit 'Hey Porter' recorded in March 1955. Original artwork."

CASH & THE TENNESSEE TWO, JOHNNY: Get Rhythm LP (GET 7507). $16.00

"Since his humble beginnings with Sun Records in 1955, Country Hall of Famer Johnny Cash has had as many Top 100 singles as the Rolling Stones. Originally released in 1969, this collection of songs from 1955-1958 spans Johnny's early period with Sun and features the Tennessee Two (Luther Perkins and Marshall Grant). Original artwork."

REED, JIMMY: I'm Jimmy Reed LP (GET 7508). $16.00

"180 gram HQ vinyl / with plastic audiophile dust sleeve. 1952 debut album (on the Vee Jay label) by legendary blues singer Jimmy Reed, one of the best-known and loved bluesmen of all time. His songs have become such an essential part of the blues cannon that it is almost impossible to remember a time when they didn't exist. Highlights include 'Honest I Do', 'You Don't Have to Go', 'Ain't That Lovin' You Baby' and 'You Got Me Dizzy'. Original artwork."

CASH, JOHNNY: Sings I Walk The Line LP (GET 7509). $16.00

"180 gram HQ vinyl / with plastic audiophile dust sleeve. Originally released in 1970, an essential collection of hits from the Man in Black's early days at Sun during the late fifties. Includes his 1956 hit single 'I Walk the Line' (b/w 'Get Rhythm')? the single sold over 2 million copies and hit no. 1 on the C&W charts. Also includes 'Doggone Lonesome', 'Big River' and 'Luther's Boogie'. Original artwork."

CASH, JOHNNY: Sings Hank Williams LP (GET 7510). $16.00

"Tribute album to Hank Williams was originally released in 1960, seven years after Hank's tragically premature death (the country legend died of a heart attack while on stage, before he had even turned 30 years old). Includes some of Hank's best loved songs: 'I Can't Help It', 'You Win Again', 'Hey Good Lookin'', 'I Could Never Be Ashamed Of You' and along with some of the Man in Black's own hits 'Folsom Prison Blues' and 'I Walk the Line'."

CASH, JOHNNY: Original Sun Sound LP (GET 7511). $16.00

"Sun Records was home to Jerry Lee Lewis, Elvis Presley, Carl Perkins and, for a time, the great Johnny Cash. Originally released in 1965, 12 tracks including 'Belshazzar', 'Born to Lose', 'Two Timing Woman', 'Big River'."

CASH, JOHNNY: Sings Folsom Prison Blues LP (GET 7512). $16.00

"A collection of hits originally released in 1970 when Cash was at the zenith of his career. In 1968 Folsom Prison Blues (an updated version of his early sun single) hit no. 1 on the C&W charts and the following year the song won Cash a Grammy. Cash went on to be a prison rights activist in the 1970s, performing a series of prison concerts. Also includes 'Give My Love To Rose' (recorded in 1957, the same year that Cash made his Grand Ole Opry debut), 'Cry, Cry, Cry', 'A Woman In Love', 'Don't Make Me Go' 'Down the Street to 301', etc. 10 tracks."

CASH, JOHNNY: All Aboard The Blue Train LP (GET 7513). $16.00

"Long before the concept album became popular, Cash was making albums based around a single theme like Ballads Of The American Indian and his 1962 All Aboard The Blue Train. As Rich Kinezie of Country Music magazine once observed: '[Cash] helped to liberalize Nashville so that it could accept the unconventional and the controversial, and he did as much as anyone to make the 'outlaw' phenomenon possible.'"

REED, JIMMY: Rockin' With Reed LP (GET 7514). $16.00

"Bluesman Jimmy Reed's second album. Originally released in 1959 on Chicago's Vee Jay label. Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl."

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: I'm John Lee Hooker LP (GET 7515). $16.00

"John Lee Hooker's legendary 1959 debut for Chicago's independent Vee Jay label. The 12 tracks heard on this release were taken from sessions recorded from 1955-1959. This is 'the Hook' at his best. On four tracks, 'I'm In The Mood', 'Boogie Chillun', 'Hobo Blues' and 'Crawlin' King Snake', Hooker worked alone, playing guitar while the rhythm beat you hear is his foot pounding on a convenient piece of plywood. All of this was recorded authentically utilizing a Telefunken U-47 microphone. On the other eight numbers, Hooker is joined by an additional rhythm guitar, string bass and drums." Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl.

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: The Folklore Of John Lee Hooker LP (GET 7516). $16.00

"Blues legend and R&R Hall of Famer John Lee Hooker (1917-2001) first introduced the world to his own style of foot-stompin' Mississippi blues in 1948 with the release of his first single, 'Boogie Chillen', a style that would be widely imitated in the following decades by everyone from Van Morrison to the Rolling Stones. The Folklore Of John Lee Hooker, like much of his most memorable material, was released in on Chicago's Vee Jay label in 1961, and features another blues legend in his own right, Jimmy Reed."

HOPKINS, LIGHTNIN': Trip On Blues LP (GET 7518). $16.00

"These nine Hopkins' originals from the early sixties were recorded just as the 1960s American folk / blues revival was beginning to get underway. This new mass musical movement sparked new interest in Hopkins, and the veteran blues singer / guitarist was soon elevated to living legend status. Inspired by great Texas bluesmen like Blind Lemon Jefferson, Hopkins was known to improvise blues masterpieces at the drop of a hat, often using semi-autobiographical tales to describe life in the segregated South. These classic recordings, which include 'Mojo Hand', 'Coffee For Mama', 'Black Mare Trot' and 'Have You Ever Loved A Woman' are some of Hopkins' most memorable material."

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: On Campus LP (GET 7519). $16.00

"This reissue of Vee Jay's 1964 album is not a live LP, as its title — which tries to revive the coffee house blues tradition, a scene Hooker was into at the time of release — would suggest. Here are 12 excellent electric tunes from this Mississippi legend giving Hooker's classic raw sound a more modern vibe."

CASH, JOHNNY: The Songs That Made Him Famous LP (GET 7520). $16.00

"Just one year after signing to Sun, Cash was named the most promising Country & Western artist in four separate polls. Mega-stardom was not far away for the Man in Black and soon hits like 'I Walk The Line' and 'Bella Of A Teen-Age Queen' were taking Johnny to the top of the pop and C&W charts."

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: The Real Blues LP (GET 7521). $16.00

"With the death of 'The Hook' in 2001, blues lost one of his most magnificent personalities. Through his gritty and frantic tracks, JLN's albums — studio or live — bear witness to the suffering of a people and the struggle of generations, by traditional protest songs and the chants of the exploited labourers. This 10 song album includes such classic tunes as 'No Shoes', 'Onions' and the famed anthem 'Boom Boom'."

CASH, JOHNNY: Greatest! LP (GET 7522). $16.00

"Johnny Cash's Greatest!, originally released in 1959 on the Sun label, is one of the finest albums of this legendary performer who reinvented himself towards the end of his career by adopting an interesting persona according to the best American Gothic tradition. Before crossing over to become the dark priest of sorrow, Cash was acclaimed as possibly the best interpreter of the mainstream country and western scene by covering often — like in this LP

— the best successes by Hank Williams, wrapped in his unique Arkansan vocal style. The trademark sound imprinted by the engineers at Sun Records indeed makes Greatest! one of Johnny Cash's greatest collections."

KING, B.B.: The Blues LP (GET 7523). $16.00

"Blues is back on the radar screen again, as the recent multitude of blues re-releases and unreleased material of the giants of this genre demonstrate. Who would not want to see the masterpieces of the 50s and 60s electric blues guitar heroes repressed on 180 gram high quality vinyl with enhanced and finely restored artwork? Well, again, our rescue task force at Get Back is proud to redeliver to record maniacs some of the most wonderful pieces of rock/blues/jazz history in a new luxurious package. This B.B. King classic United Records release of 1960 is found here in all its splendour."

GREEN, AL: Simply Beautiful LP (GET 8003). $16.00

180 gram gatefold LP. Green vinyl repress of this 2001 release, a 12 track best-of compilation, featuring classic 1971-76 Al Green material.

SCOTT-HERON/BRIAN JACKSON, GIL: Winter In America LP (GET 8004). $16.00

"Originally released in 1973 on Strata East. The most righteous and provocative album for one of the most influential progenitors of rap music. Cool jazz-based work with aggressive and provocative street poetry. Original artwork with liner notes. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

LAST POETS, THE: The Last Poets LP (GET 8005). $16.00

"Their seminal debut album (originally released in 1970 on the Douglas label) reached the U.S. Top 10 album charts. If rap could be traced to one logical source point, this exceptional album would be it, without question. With their politically-charged raps, syncopated rhythms and dedication to raising African-American consciousness, the Last Poets almost single-handedly laid the groundwork for the emergence of hip hop. Featuring the classic 'When The Revolution Comes'. 13 tracks. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

METERS, THE: Let's Party With The Meters 2LP (GET 8006). $22.00

"Outstanding compilation for this fantastic combo that defined New Orleans funk. Their (mostly) instrumental tunes with syncopated rhythms and living grooves of guitar and organ created a distinctive sound. Their organic, earthy funk is the Meters' signature, the sound that made them New Orleans legends. 19 tracks taken from their first 3 albums (all released between 1969 and 1970 on the Josie label and produced by Allen Toussaint and Marshall Sehorn). Contains 'Sophisticated Cissy', 'Cissy Strut', 'Chicken Strut', 'Look-Ka Py Py' and lots more. Liner notes included. Great artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

IMPRESSIONS, THE: OST Three The Hard Way LP (GET 8007). $16.00

"The original soundtrack recording for this 1974 blaxploitation movie directed by Gordon Parks Jr. and starring Jim Brown, Fred Williamson and Jim Kelly. 8 super cool tracks with the usual great and groovy arrangements (this album was originally released by Curtom/Buddah). New artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl. Gatefold sleeve."

MAYFIELD, CURTIS: The Makings Of Curtis Mayfield 2LP (GET 8008). $22.00

"Super cool compilation devoted to material the legendary soul man recorded after leaving the Impressions, focusing particularly on the classic songs from his early '70s albums. 15 tracks taken from his first 3 solo studio albums: Curtis, Roots and Superfly (all released between 1970 and 1972 on the Curtom label). This is the best buy for anyone wanting a sampler of Mayfield's groundbreaking funk-soul, 'cause it contains all of the bare-bone essentials: ('Don't Worry) If There's A Hell Below, We're All Going To Go', 'Move On Up', 'We Got To Have Peace', 'Freddie's Dead', 'Superfly', 'Pusherman', 'Get Down', 'The Makings Of You' and more. Cool artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

LAST POETS, THE: This Is Madness LP (GET 8009). $16.00

"The 2nd legendary album by extremely controversial street poets. Originally released in 1971 on the Douglas label, This Is Madness landed them on president Richard Nixon's Counter-Intelligence Programming lists. Their brilliant use of offensive language and graphic details about America's social and racial failures helped expose a bigger audience to the sentiments of the '70s black nationalists. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MAYFIELD, CURTIS: Curtis In Chicago LP (GET 8011). $16.00

"Originally released in 1973 on Mayfield's own Curtom label. A great live set recorded in Chicago for a WTTW channel special. Curtis performed extended versions of several hits and he is joined here by Leroy Hutson, Jerry Butler, Gene Chandler and many others. Featuring 'Superfly', 'For Your Precious Love', 'I'm So Proud' and more. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

FUNKADELIC: Uncle Jam Wants You LP (GET 8012). $16.00

"They furthered the notions of black rock begun by Jimi Hendrix and Sly Stone, blending elements of '60s psychedelia and blues plus the deep groove of soul and funk. Originally released in 1979, Uncle Jam Wants You contains the absolute winner and most famous track, the 15-minute deep groove of '(Not Just) Knee Deep'. The cover art alone is brilliant, front and back showing Clinton in Huey P. Newton's famous Black Panther pose. Original artwork. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MAYFIELD, CURTIS: Got To Find A Way LP (GET 8013). $16.00

"Curtis Mayfield continued his run of excellent '70s albums with this follow-up studio work to the huge hit Superfly soundtrack. This album (originally released by Curtis' own Curtom label in 1974) contains the hit single 'Mother's Son'. Original artwork with lyrics included. Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

IMPRESSIONS, THE: Get Ready With The Impressions 2LP (GET 8014). $22.00

"Double LP of the Impressions with Curtis Mayfield. 25 tracks! When the Impressions formed in Chicago in 1958, their minimalist and raw sound was radically different from most other R&B acts at the time. Mayfield's signature falsetto and politicized lyrics gave listeners a glimpse into the future of the northern soul sound that would top the R&B charts in the decade to come."

MAYFIELD, CURTIS: Sweet Exorcist LP (GET 8015). $16.00

"Sweet Exorcist, originally released in 1974 on Curtis Mayfield's own Curtom label, was his eighth solo release in less than four years! Besides the amazing title track, it includes 'Kung Fu' and 'Power to the People' and more!"

IMPRESSIONS, THE: Times Have Changed LP (GET 8018). $16.00

"By the time this album was released in 1972 on Curtis Mayfield's Curtom label, Mayfield had left the group to pursue his own solo career, but continued producing and writing material for his ex-bandmates, including Times Have Changed (except for a cover of Marvin Gaye's 'Inner City Blues'). For this release, the Impressions eloquently utilized their protest of Nixon's war machine and the increasing economic despair of America's ghettos as a springboard for their hard-hitting grooves." Gatefold sleeve. 180 gram vinyl."

FUNKADELIC: Hardcore Jollies LP (GET 8021). $16.00

"Dedicated to 'the guitar players of the world', and originally released in 1976, this was Funkadelic's major label debut on Warner brothers. 8 tracks, including: 'Comin' Round the Mountain', 'Smokey', and 'You Scared the Lovin' Outta Me' plus liner notes including the short story of 'The Titillating Tale of Tillard Tat' starring Queen Freekalene of Funkadelia and the US Funk Mob ('the supreme and singular distinction of the highest musical life form on Earth')."

FUNKADELIC: The Electric Spanking Of War Babies LP (GET 8023). $16.00

"With George Clinton, a humorous phrase could be nothing more than playful tomfoolery, or it could be a double entendre with a deep political meaning. The phrase 'electric spanking of war babies' falls into the latter category — it referred to what the funk innovator saw as the U.S. government using the media to promote imperialistic wars. To Clinton, the American media functioned as a propaganda machine during wartime. But whether or not one cares to examine its hidden political messages, Electric Spanking is an above-average party album. Spanking falls short of the excellence of One Nation Under a Groove and Uncle Jam Wants You and didn't boast a major hit single, but amusing funk smokers like 'Electro-Cuties' and 'Funk Gets Stronger' aren't anything to sneeze at, nor is the reggae-influenced 'Shockwaves'. Spanking turned out to be the last album Clinton would produce under the name Funkadelic — when he hit the charts again in 1983, Mr. P-Funk was billing himself as a 'solo artist.' Original artwork. 180 gram vinyl.

IMPRESSIONS WITH JERRY BUTLER, THE: For Your Precious Love LP (GET 8027). $16.00

"An award-winning performer, producer and composer, and one of the architects of Rhythm and Blues, Jerry Butler's career began when he and Curtis Mayfield formed a rhythm and blues group, The Impressions, in Chicago in 1958. The same year, the 18-year old Butler wrote a song titled 'For Your Precious Love,' which launched Butler and The Impressions. For Your Precious Love became a 'landmark recording,' according to Rolling Stone, and the single, on Vee-Jay Records, became the first for The Impressions to 'go gold.'"

LAST POETS, THE: Jazzotry LP (GET 8028). $16.00

"Originally released in 1975, the Last Poets (who took their name from a poem by South African poet Willie Kgositsile) used the term 'Jazzotry' to describe their own syncopated style of politicized, jazz-laced spoken word, unwittingly laying the groundwork for the entire hip hop genre. The group used their hard-hitting proto-rap verses to teach solidarity and condemn America's inherent racism, a position that earned them FBI surveillance."

FUNKADELIC: One Nation Under A Groove LP (GET 8029). $16.00

"Originally released in 1978, One Nation Under Groove represented the pinnacle of Funkadelic's success, with the album going platinum and the title track becoming an instant number one hit on the R&B charts. This was also the apex of Clinton's p-funk army, using the forces of funk to free the world of the square D'Voidfunk dominant culture."

LAST POETS, THE: Oh My People LP (GET 8030). $16.00

"Originally released on Bill Laswell's Celluloid label in 1984, Oh My People finds these granddaddies of hip-hop still delivering that same strong message but with a slightly updated sound compared to their 1970s albums. Bill Laswell's production influence is definitely felt, with drum machines and synthesizers featured on several of the tracks, and featuring Bill Laswell himself on 'Get Movin'. However, none of this new technology outshines the Last Poets' powerful message or voice."

BARRETTO Y SU ORQUESTRA, RAY: Charanga Moderna LP (GET 8031). $16.00

"One of the leading congueros of his day, Ray Barretto came to Latin music through jazz, a musical foundation that would always keep Barretto striving to find ways to modernize Latin music while still working loosely within the traditional framework. Replacing Mongo Santamaria in Tito Puente's 'orquesta' in the late fifties, it was Barretto's 1962 Charanga Moderna album, however, that made him a star. Featuring the crossover hit single 'El Watusi' (which reached no. 17 on the pop charts), Barretto takes the pachanga rhythm into the future and beyond."

CHOCO & HIS MAFIMBA DRUM RHYTHMS: African Latino Voodoo LP (GET 8032). $16.00

"Originally released on Audio Fidelity, this album was part a number of 'exotica' records released in response to the growing interest in the traditional music of South America and the Caribbean during the late fifties and early sixties. During this time, 'novelty' records like this one were produced for North American consumers, bringing, in this case, the drum rhythms and vocal chants of Haitian voodoo ceremonies into the comfort of American living rooms. Here, particular attention is given to the sound quality, recorded using the 'latest technology' of the day (Audio Fidelity had patented its own 'stereophonic' recording method)."

GREEN, AL: Let's Stay Together LP (GET 8033). $16.00

"Al Green has often been called the last great soul man, and when you hear the first few bars of 'Let's Stay Together' (his first number one hit), you know that it's true. But while on par in talent with soul legends like James Brown and Otis Redding, Green stands alone as a pioneer in soul music, single-handedly reviving the genre in the early seventies with a mind-boggling vocal style that had never been heard before and, while many have tried to follow in his footsteps, hasn't been heard since. Don't miss this essential reissue with original artwork on high quality 180 gram vinyl."

GREEN, AL: I'm Still In Love With You LP (GET 8034). $16.00

"Al Green's magnum opus and one of soul music's finest moments. By the time I'm Still In Love With You was released in 1972, the Al Green / Willie Mitchell Hi Records team was a well-oiled hit-making machine. With one number one hit under his belt, this album put Green right back at the top of the charts with hits like 'Look What You Done For Me' and 'Love And Happiness'. Essential vinyl for any collection. Reissued with original artwork on beautiful high quality 180 gram vinyl."

CLINTON, GEORGE: 500,000 Kilowatts of P-Funk Power 3LP (GET 8035). $34.00

Triple LP version. "These tracks (recorded live around the world with the P-Funk All Stars are all well known selections from the vast P-Funk repertoire, but here they take on new form as Dr. Funkenstein uses his powers to deftly mold them into 15 extended party jams. Never one to rest on his laurels, Clinton keeps the P-Funk torch burning brightly with new funkier versions of old classics like 'Maggot Brain', 'Give Up The Funk' and all time P-Funk anthem 'Make My Funk The P-Funk'. Clinton and his funk mob have lost none of their musical prowess in the past few decades and still have absolutely no trouble delivering all 500,000 kilowatts of p-funk power."

COOKE, SAM: The Wonderful World of Sam Cooke LP (GET 8036). $16.00

"Released in 1960, The Wonderful World of Sam Cooke added more hits to the carnet of this popular vocalist, already at the top with his 1958 self-titled album on Keen which featured one of the greenest evergreens in the entire history of early soul: the legendary 'You Send Me.' Some of the best soul ballads interpreted by Cooke in his sadly short career are included here and alternated with several tunes that come from his spiritual and gospel background with the Soul Stirrers, like 'I Thank God' and the beautiful 'That's Heaven To Me.'"

WOMACK, BOBBY: Fly Me to the Moon LP (GET 8038). $16.00

"By the time the opening notes of Bobby Womack's first studio release hit your ears, you will immediately recognize that you have come across an amazing milestone in the history of soul music. Not only is this man responsible for writing one of the Rolling Stones' first successes ('It's All Over Now'), but he is also the author of the incredibly epic and deeply dramatic title track to the gangster movie Across 110th Street (also so astonishingly used by Quentin Tarantino in the unbeatable opening scene of his Jackie Brown). Recorded in 1969 at the American Sound Studios in Memphis, Fly Me To The Moon shows Womack's versatility as a performer and his unbelievable talent as a vocalist."

MAYFIELD, CURTIS: Rapping LP (GET 8039). $16.00

"1972's Rapping came on the tail of the worldwide success of Gordon Parks Jr.'s classic feature movie Superfly, whose legendary soundtrack Mayfield wrote and performed. Side A of this album is a radio interview in which Mayfield talks — 'raps' — about several aspects of life, with the interview being backed up by excerpts of the songs that inspire the conversation while Side B is a collection of four of his biggest hits to date."

O'JAYS: Soul Sounds LP (GET 8040). $16.00

"Long before notorious producers Gamble & Huff formed their own Philadelphia International and launched them as the knights of the new Philly Sound with the 1972 Backstabbing album, the 1967 O'Jays were a traditional R'n'B quintet as this Soul Sounds — originally released on Minit — well documents. This album allows the listener to enjoy the freshness of classic soul music in the best tradition of early 60s vocal groups, here empowered by a strong selection of some of the best tunes of the O'Jays early history."

TEX, JOE: Soul Country LP (GET 8041). $16.00

"During his short life ended abruptly by a heart attack in 1982 (he was just 49) Joe Tex had a glittering career, hitting the charts with numerous singles throughout multiple phases of Black American music. His repertoire includes doo wop, soul, r'n'b, funk, pre-disco, and last but not least, his personal view of conjugating soul and country music. His Texan roots and his capability of mastering soul music in all forms created a well blended genre that is immediately recognizable as his own. 1968 Soul Country is mostly an album of covers that hinges on the magic of mixing two cultures, two roots not so distant in their popular approach."

COOKE, SAM: Sam Cooke LP (GET 8042). $16.00

"Former gospel wonder and member since 1951 of the Soul Stirrers, Sam Cooke was brought to Keen Records (from 1957 to 1959) by the A&R man of Cooke's previous label, Specialty, 'Bumps' Blackwell. Blackwell's orchestra is also featured in this awesome collection of some of Cooke's best hits, starting with the 1957 breakthrough masterpiece 'You Send Me' and unwinding through other gems like the impressive rendition of Fats Wallers' 'Ain't Misbehavin'' and the traditional 'The Bells Of St. Mary's'. Unforgettable."

TURNER, IKE & TINA: In Person LP (GET 8043). $16.00

"No soul rock combo could rampage the audience like Ike & Tina at their best. This 1969 live In Person — originally on Minit — shows the incredible stage chemistry (their private life was already in turmoil) between Ike Turner and his awesome partner Tina, whose talent allowed her to pursue a very successful solo career, whereas Ike could not top his best years after their disbanding in 1976. Classic tunes like 'Gimme Some Loving', 'Son Of A Preacher Man' and 'Respect' are here revisited in the terrific Turner trademark stage assault that made them renowned for their extreme live performances."

GREEN, AL: Green Is Blues LP (GET 8044). $16.00

"1970's Green Is Blues marked the beginning of one of the most productive collaborations in the whole soul music world. Green's first album to be released on Willie Mitchell's HI records, it calibrates the multiple personalities — from deep soul to the Philly sound with elements of gospel inherited from the Southern tradition Green belongs to — of this gigantic soul singer. His exceptional vocal qualities join here for the first time Mitchell's knowledge of smooth soul rhythms, with the addition of a Hammond organ and an incredible brass section that defined Green's melodies as 'panty-ripping' for the sexually driven effects they laid upon generations. So play 'Talk To Me' or 'What Am I Gonna Do With Myself', uncork a nice bottle of Courvoisier and no ladies will even try to resist you."

GREEN, AL: Gets Next To You LP (GET 8045). $16.00

"The follow up to Green Is Blues, Gets Next To You is the definitive masterpiece by the Mitchell-Green LTD. Improving on the characterization of the trademark HI sound, Willie Mitchell's decision to switch from the gritty syncopations of deep Southern soul to a slower and more seductive base supports an Al Green probably at his best. There are no false steps here, since every single track on the album is a pillar of the genre, from the opening massive cover version of the Temptations' 'I Can't Get Next To You', which is reinvented with a lethal dose of irresistible groove, to the perfect 1-2 pitch of 'Tired Of Being Alone' followed by 'I'm A Ram'."

GREEN, AL: Explores Your Mind LP (GET 8046). $16.00

"1974's Al Green Explores Your Mind (originally released on HI Records) continues the Mitchell and Green uptempo groovy hard soul alliance. Although more mellow than Green's previous releases, this album reflects only in part the changes Willie Mitchell had begun to weave into his music, giving his productions a lighter feel. This is because Al Green is unique and his style can't be confused with anyone else, no matter what producers do to the arrangements. Contains the classic 'Take Me To The River,' later also recorded by the Talking Heads and the sentimental 'School Days.' Your Mr. Green vinyl collection needs to expand."

MODERN LOVERS: Modern Lovers LP (GET 90066). $13.00

"The Modern Lovers were the link between the Velvet Underground and punk rock. Originally released on Beserkley in 1976, produced mostly by John Cale in 1971. Includes 'Roadrunner', 'Astral Plane' & 'She Cracked'." 140 gram red vinyl version.

PRINCE LINCOLN: Humanity LP (GET 901). $16.00

"This legendary reggae album was originally released on United Artists (and recorded at Channel One Studio in Jamaica during 1978). All 7 tracks are remastered from the original studio masters. Gatefold sleeve. Original artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

MARLEY & THE WAILERS, BOB: Natty Rebel 2LP (GET 902). $22.00

"Deluxe double album featuring the best and most highly sought after tracks (from long deleted JAD sets) all of which come from the vaults of Marley's former manager Danny Simms. Disc one includes 16 tracks produced by Johnny Nash and Arthur Jenkins during 1968. Disc two includes 16 more tracks produced by Leslie Kong, the Wailers and Bunny Lee during 1970. Contains rare and previously unreleased photos plus a rare interview with Marley. Gatefold sleeve. Cool artwork. 180 gram HQ vinyl."

PRINCE LINCOLN & THE ROYAL RASS-ES: Experience LP (GET 903). $12.00

"Originally issued on United Artists subsidiary Ballistic in 1979, this is one of the most sought-after roots reggae albums of the '70s. Experience received rave reviews in the music press at the time and is hailed as a classic of the genre. The album's signature tune is the acclaimed '70s remake of One Classic 'True Experience'. Contains also the traditional sound system gems 'Babylon Is Falling', 'Nobody Here But Me' and 'Jah Love'. Featuring the guitar legend Ernest Ranglin. Gatefold sleeve. Original artwork."

MARLEY & THE WAILERS, BOB: Small Axe 2LP (GET 904). $17.00

"Deluxe double album featuring some of the best and most highly sought after tracks all of which come from the vaults of Marley's former manager Danny Simms. These sessions (recorded during 1971 in Kingston, Jamaica) were intended for the JAD label. Contains rare and previously unreleased photos plus a rare interview with Marley from 1976. 24 tracks. Gatefold sleeve. New artwork."

MAYTALS, THE: That's My Number LP (GET 905). $12.00

"The pioneering Maytals, led by the crowned prince of reggae Fredrick 'Toots' Hibbert, have been a major force in Jamaican music since the mid-'60s, churning out some of reggae music's biggest hits and even coining the name of the genre with their 'Do The Reggay'. Includes such classics as 'Pressure Drop', '54-56 That's My Number', 'Just Tell Me' and 'Bam Bam'."

RED KRAYOLA: The Parable of the Arable Land LP (GET 90533). $13.00

"The debut album of these Houston 'Freedom Freakout' auteurs features Roky Erickson on organ at least two cuts. Originally released in 1967 on International Artists." 140 gram red vinyl version.

RED KRAYOLA: God Bless The Red Krayola and All Who Sail With It LP (GET 90534). $13.00

"Red Krayola's second album, originally released on International Artists in 1968. Mayo Thompson and Steve Cunningham returned to Texas for this release and, along with drummer Tommy Smith (who played briefly with Bubble Puppy), began recording the second Red Krayola album, which consisted in numerous one and two minute tracks, taking the band in a more experimental direction." 140 gram red vinyl version.

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: The Psychedelic Sounds Of LP (GET 90593). $13.00

"First album from Roky Erickson & company. Originally released in 1966 on International Artists. Contains 'You're Gonna Miss Me' and 'Fire Engine'." 140 gram red vinyl version.

13TH FLOOR ELEVATORS: Easter Everywhere LP (GET 90594). $13.00

"The second opus from the quintessential underground band of the late '60s." 140 gram red vinyl version.

ISAACS, GREGORY: Encore LP (GET 906). $12.00

"Recorded live at Brixton Academy in London (1984). At this historic London appearance Gregory Isaacs, one of the genre's greatest talents, defended his title as the 'Cool Ruler' of reggae performing his greatest hits (including 'All I Have Is Love', 'My Only Lover' and 'Night Nurse') to a frenzied live audience."

SEEDS, THE: The Seeds LP (GET 90628). $13.00

"The 1966 debut album by Los Angeles garage punk legends the Seeds, featuring the now classic primitive rocker 'Pushin' Too Hard'." 140 gram red vinyl version.

SEEDS, THE: Web of Sounds LP (GET 90629). $13.00

"Springing from the underbelly of the Los Angeles garage scene, the Seeds were punk rock before the world had ever heard of a tribe called Ramone. Staying mostly to the 'primitive rock' side of the great hippie divide, they released their debut album in 1966, followed by Web Of Sounds that same year. Includes their second hit single 'Mr. Farmer' and the raucous 'Rollin' Machine'." 140 gram red vinyl.

T-REX: The Slider LP (GET 90633). $13.00

"If you could only buy one T.Rex album (ok two, with Electric Warrior) then this is THE T. Rex album to get your hands on. With 'Telegram Sam' and 'Metal Guru' capturing the no. 1 slot in the UK when the album was originally released in 1972, it became the band's biggest hit on both sides of the Atlantic, and rightfully so. Here Marc Bolan is simultaneously at his trashiest and most ethereal — a combination that no one has ever quite been able to repeat." 140 gram red vinyl version.

PERRY & THE UPSSETTERS, LEE: Rude Walking 2LP (GET 908). $17.00

"Collection of rare singles and tracks from Lee Perry/The Upsetters albums originally released from 1969 to 1974 on various European labels (Pama, Black Star Liner, Rhino and Trojan). 21 tracks including: 'Run For Cover', 'Wind Up Doll', 'People Weird', 'Water Pump', 'Night Doctor', and several dub versions. Also includes complete liner notes."

PRINCE LINCOLN & THE RASSES: Vortex Dub 2LP (GET 910). $17.00

"Originally released as limited edition dub albums for his classic 1979 Experience and 1980 Natural Wild albums, Prince Lincoln's rare Harder Na Rass and God Sent dub albums are now available together in this one double LP."

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: One Nation Underground LP (GET 91008). $13.00

"Superb 1967 debut album for this psychedelic folk band led by Tom Rapp (one of the most erudite minds in rock). An always mystical, innovative and mysterious combo with a drug-inspired distinctive acid sound characterised by Rapp's gentle vocals and good lyrics." 140 gram red vinyl.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE: Balaklava LP (GET 91010). $13.00

"Balaklava is one of the most extraordinary, sublime and sophisticated protest albums of 1968. To many, this album (the groups second for ESP Disk) represents Tom Rapp's surrealist song-craft in perfection. Not a foot-stamping anti-Vietnam war album but a complex and psychedelic masterpiece that touches on Tennyson & Tolkien in a sublime metaphorical fashion. Tom Rapp is among the most erudite, intellectual songwriters of the American '60s era." 140 gram red vinyl.

SIMONE, NINA: Little Girl Blues LP (GET 92004). $13.00

"Her first recordings from 1957 originally released on Bethlehem. Contains classics 'Mood Indigo', 'My Baby Just Cares for Me', and 'Love Me or Leave Me'." 140 gram red vinyl.

HOOKER, JOHN LEE: Burnin' LP (GET 97502). $13.00

"A great album for the king of the endless boogie (originally released in 1962 on the Vee-Jay label). John Lee Hooker was the genuine blues superstar whose droning and hypnotic one-chord grooves are at once both ultra-primitive and timeless." 140 gram red vinyl.

CASH, JOHNNY: With His Hot and Blue Guitar LP (GET 97503). $13.00

"Johnny Cash became the first Sun artist to release a long-playing album in November of 1957 when Johnny Cash With His Hot and Blue Guitar hit the stores. This is classic Johnny Cash." 140 gram red vinyl.

CASH, JOHNNY: Now Here's Johnny Cash LP (GET 97505). $13.00

"Originally released in 1961 on Sun Records. This is a classic album from the most imposing and influential figure in country music. 12 tracks showing his deep, resonant baritone and spare, percussive guitar for a basic and distinctive sound." 140 gram red vinyl.

REED, JIMMY: Rockin' With Reed LP (GET 97514). $13.00

"Bluesman Jimmy Reed's second album. Originally released in 1959 on Chicago's Vee Jay label. Original artwork." 140 gram red vinyl.

IMPRESSIONS, THE: This Is My Country LP (GET 98001). $13.00

"Originally released on Curtis Mayfield's own Curtom label in 1968, this album is considered by many to be the peak of his career... Mayfield delivers a couple of forceful statements of African-American pride and also walks gingerly onto the flower-power plank. The beautiful vocals and arrangements represent late-60s soul at its most sophisticated." 140 gram red vinyl.

IMPRESSIONS, THE: The Young Mod's Forgotten Story LP (GET 98002). $13.00

"Curtis Mayfield's last album with the Impressions. Released in 1969 on Curtom." 140 gram red vinyl.

SCOTT-HERON/BRIAN JACKSON, GIL: Winter In America LP (GET 98004). $13.00

"Originally released in 1973 on Strata East. The most righteous and provocative album for one of the most influential progenitors of rap music. Cool jazz-based work with aggressive and provocative street poetry." 140 gram red vinyl.

LAST POETS, THE: The Last Poets LP (GET 98005). $13.00

"Their seminal debut album (originally released in 1970 on the Douglas label) reached the U.S. Top 10 album charts. If rap could be traced to one logical source point, this exceptional album would be it, without question. With their politically-charged raps, syncopated rhythms and dedication to raising African-American consciousness, the Last Poets almost single-handedly laid the groundwork for the emergence of hip hop. Featuring the classic 'When The Revolution Comes'." 140 gram red vinyl.

FUNKADELIC: One Nation Under a Groove LP (GET 98029). $13.00

"Originally released in 1978, One Nation Under Groove represented the pinnacle of Funkadelic's success, with the album going platinum and the title track becoming an instant number one hit on the R&B charts. This was also the apex of Clinton's p-funk army, using the forces of funk to free the world of the square D/Voidfunk dominant culture." 140 gram red vinyl.

GREEN, AL: Let's Stay Together LP (GET 98033). $13.00

"Al Green has often been called the last great soul man, and when you hear the first few bars of 'Let's Stay Together' (his first number one hit), you know that it's true. But while on par in talent with soul legends like James Brown and Otis Redding, Green stands alone as a pioneer in soul music, single-handedly reviving the genre in the early seventies with a mind-boggling vocal style that had never been heard before and, while many have tried to follow in his footsteps, hasn't been heard since." 140 gram red vinyl.

GREEN, AL: I'm Still In Love With You LP (GET 98034). $13.00

"Al Green's magnum opus and one of soul music's finest moments. By the time I'm Still In Love With You was released in 1972, the Al Green / Willie Mitchell Hi Records team was a well-oiled hit-making machine. With one number one hit under his belt, this album put Green right back at the top of the charts with hits like 'Look What You Done For Me' and 'Love And Happiness'." 140 gram red vinyl.

GET PHYSICAL MUSIC (GERMANY):*VA: Get Physical CD (GPM 001CD). $17.00

"After two years and almost 15 vinyl releases Get Physical Music for the very first time explores the CD format. And the result, the compilation Get Physical, is much more than a collection of the label's greatest hits and best-known remixes — tracks which up to now had only been available on vinyl — but also a preview of three new artists and their soon-to-be-released debut 12-inches. The 80-minute turntable mix by Patrick Bodmer and Philipp Jung aka M.A.N.D.Y. contains 16 original versions of the Get Physical artists M.A.N.D.Y., DJ T., Chelonis R. Jones, Sunsetpeople, Booka Shade, Voltique, Tomas Barfod and Lopazz. Plus 3 Interpretations of Tiefschwarz, Captain Comatose und Justus Köhncke. The honour of opening this mix went to Stefan Eichinger aka Lopazz, one of the three new additions to Get Physical who also runs his own label 800Achtspur, with his fantastic, Barry White-esque 'Take Me Home'. Between his much-lauded debut I Need Ya on Freundinnen and his upcoming releases on Trevor Jackson's Output label this track offers further proof of the amazing breadth and compatibility of his inimitably natural and analogue sound. Danish contributor Thomas Barfod has already released a number records on various deep house labels. 'The Box', his amazingly beautiful retro contribution to the compilation, reveals a relatively new side to his music, slotting perfectly into the Get Physical sound coordinates of house, electro and pop."

GHOSTLY INTERNATIONAL:*MULLINIX, TADD: Waking Makes A Face CD (GI 001 CD). $12.00

"The record that started it all... Tadd Mullinix, that man that would become Dabrye, delivered the very first Ghostly full-length in 2000, a massive, romantic collection of worldly grandeur that touched upon the baroque elements of his classical training and the writhing glitch of his teenage music. A future legend makes his first musical statement. Now re-released to the masses."

DABRYE: One/Three CD (GI 002 CD). $13.00

"Combining the loose swagger of Detroit Hip-Hop (Jay Dee, Slum Village, et al.) and the minimal-glitch ethos of modern hybrid-IDM (Chocolate Industries, Schematic, etc.), Dabrye's One/Three is a concise, albeit bizarre, study in abstract Hip-Hop beatscapes. Already namechecked by Warp's Scott Herren (Prefuse73, Savath and Savalas, etc.) and slated to be a fixture on his new Eastern Developments label, Dabrye is the brain child of Ghostly's Tadd Mullinix. Coupling his oddball sense of humor with his love for the Hip-Hop instrumental, Tadd morphs into Dabrye, and grinds out compelling beat cut-ups that are as audibly listenable as some of the skittering R&B symphonies heard on pop radio lately."

DABRYE: One/Three 12" (GI 002 EP). $6.50

Selection of 5 tracks from the CD on 12" vinyl; beautifully printed 12" sleeve.

COTTON, JAMES: Mind Your Manners EP 12" (GI 003 EP). $6.50

"Lyrics read from a Chinese kids book? Warped pop-house that whirls and jumps with reckless abandon? Must be James Cotton, Ghostly's warped answer to wobble-house. Combining goof-ball edits with addictive grooves, Cotton puts forth an ep that will appeal to fans of differing genres and will find its place in the boxes of adventurous DJs worldwide. The A-side features two mixes (one with, and one sans vocals) of 'Mind Your Manners' which doubles as a good behavior guide for children of East Asia and the flip features a long running techno stormer that combines elements of classic Detroit techno with an informed British wit. A record for heads, hearts and floors indeed."

VA: Tangent 2002: Disco Nouveau CD (GI 005 CD). $15.00

"Tangent 2002: Disco Nouveau is a compendium of the Robot Disco sound as seen through the eyes of contemporary electronic musicians. The Disco in question, or 'Disco' as it is often referred to, is the electronic dance music from the late 1970's and early 1980's spawned from the icy textures and synthesized basslines of Giorgio Moroder ('I Feel Love'...). This music harkens back to an era of colorful futurism encompassing the boom of video game culture and also perhaps the last great visual futurist agenda that has succeeded in changing our commercial landscape, from font types to fashion. Visions of both high optimism coupled with the hope/fear of a computerized tomorrow, define an era that will be remembered for excess and vanity, of innovation and dream-like plasticity." Artists include: Mat-101, Adult, Legowelt, Solvent, Daniel Wang, Charles Manier, Ectomorph, I-F feat. Nancy Fortune, DMX Krew, Perspectives, Lowfish, Susumu Yokota, Hong Kong Counterfeit, Memory

Boy. All exclusive tracks specially commissioned for this project. 2nd pressing in digipak cover.

VA: Disco Nouveau 1/3 12" (GI 006EP). $5.50

First of three 12"s which will be the vinyl release of the Tangent 2002: Disco Nouveau release. This first volume features tracks from: Daniel Wang, DMX Krew, Ectomorph and Lowfish.

VA: Disco Nouveau 2/3 12" (GI 007EP). $5.50

2nd volume in the 12" series, featuring: Legowelt, Solvent, Charlies Manier & Perspectives. There's also a Perspectives instrumental that is exclusive to the vinyl format.

VA: Disco Nouveau 3/3 12" (GI 008 EP). $5.50

Third volume in the 12" series, featuring: Adult, I-f, Mat-101, Susumu Yokota.

MANIER, CHARLES: Bang Bang Lover 12" (GI 009 EP). $6.50

"For Manier, the sawtooth bassline rogue, Industrial Electro comes fast, hard and full of spooky funk. After appearing on both our seminal Tangent 2002: Disco Nouveau compilation and Adult's Misery Loves Company collection for Ersatz Audio, Manier releases his debut 12" and the results are stranger than ever. The title cut is a slab of searing electro, peppered with deranged lyrics and compelling personal mythology. Manier's violent funk is both infectious and abrasive, hot and cold. The flipside starts with 'Uncompromised Awareness' a Dada-inspired piece of analog metallic grit, cautiously snaking around Manier's garbage-talk. The plate is concluded by perhaps the most telling revelation of Manier's paranoia, the cyberpunk throwdown, 'I Can't Leave' which is the sound of the walls closing in on our protagonist, all accompanied by a damn catchy beat."

MIDWEST PRODUCT: Specifics CD (GI 010 CD). $12.00

"Ann Arbor, Michigan trio, Midwest Product, welds live instrumentation to crafty electronics for output that is decidedly warm and wholeheartedly Midwestern. Specifics is their debut LP and it references their love for early electro and atmospheric post-rock in equal parts. A 10 track, 50+ minute longplayer, Specifics is a promising first look at a conceptual band who works to keep process in line with the finished product. An oddity in the abstract electronic scene, Midwest Product can put on a mean live show. With the help of live instruments, the Product can take their studio sound on the road, which allows them to both improvise and experiment. An assemblage of stylistic influences, Midwest Product eschews possible schizophrenia and comes forth with a sound that is not only cohesive, but eerily accessible."

MULLINIX, TADD: Panes CD (GI 011 CD). $11.00

"Tadd is back and the tension resumes... The follow-up to Mullinix's critically acclaimed debut and his Dabrye LPs, Panes is a dense racket of thick swamp music, heavy with the weight of his own psyche. A visceral look inside the mind of the artist, Panes is the aural equivalent of psychoanalysis, revealing influences of dub and artful noise between layers of emotional couppenance. First edition in a special cardboard package." 27-minute mid-length release.

DABRYE: Payback 12" (GI 012 EP). $6.50

"The follow-up 12" to the already classic One/Three LP finds Dabrye with a new song to show plus some re-interpretations by friends. 'Making It Pay' is 2003 Dabrye while newcomer Outputmessage fattens then filters a 2002 track. Warp Records artist, Prefuse 73 puts 3 Dabrye songs into one and it sounds like the best thing ever. New shiny embossed stock sleeve."

VA: Idol Tryouts CD (GI 013 CD). $12.00

Features a well-sequenced selection of mostly exclusive tracks from Ghostly's current/future roster: Dabrye, Midwest Product, Charles Manier, Matthew Dear, Kiln, Kill Memory Crash, James Cotton, Dykehouse, Outputmessage, Tadd Mullinix, Kero. "Idol Tryouts represents the avant-pop of a new generation of Midwestern producers, straddling the edge of abstract electronics, shimmering indie rock, Detroit techno and cutting-edge hip-hop. It is the point where the avant-garde and the popular meet, tearing away from the hierarchy of genres and the strain of electronic puritanism in order to create new and engaging sounds. The diverse artists featured on Ghostly International and its sister label, Spectral Sound, showcase Ghostly's brand of musical regionalism. Having been raised on and influenced by Detroit electronic music and its noir-ish themes of future, an indelible mark has been left on the city's suburbs. Ann Arbor, a stone's throw from this famed center of modernist production, is Detroit's freeform other-half. The music on this collection showcases a dramatic spirit with an equal focus on both art and dancefloor interests, seeking contemplative and humanistic ideals. A new generation of artists are searching for the space between heady academia and willful naivete in music and are finding results that represent the spirit of the age, rather than its machines. The music on this collection represents these conditions and the zeal of its creators in making music that is post-'IDM' and furthermore meaningful in various contexts. So exists the Ghostly International company and this collection of artists whose work exemplifies not only the diversity of their personal interests, but the expanding tastes of a new generation of music lovers who have become fans of electronic music, the music of this generation."

VA: Idol Tryouts 2LP (GI 013 LP). $12.00

Double LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

VA: Disco Nouveau: Addendum 12" (GI 014 EP). $6.50

"The madness never stopped. Disco Nouveau, the already legendary compilation gets a little brother and the results are a fatter and tougher sibling. Chunky electro stompers from Holland's Legowelt and the elusive Manier, paired with steely electro-pop from the UK's DMX Krew and France's Volga Select. The perfect antidote for boring dancefloors and bedrooms. Stock sleeve."

KILL MEMORY CRASH: When The Blood Turns Black CD (GI 015 CD). $9.00

"For over 10 years, Alex and Adam of Chicago's Kill Memory Crash have developed their own blend of dark electronic music without major release. Starting their musical career in Detroit, the group began performing at raves and warehouse parties in the mid-to-late 90's, slowly translating their leftfield influences into a new, cryptic language. Standing on the dividing lines between techno and other musics forced the duo to develop their own style, and early works resembled dark chasms of industrial noise. Their indifference to the popular styles of the day led them into an almost self-imposed exile from the music business and only extremely limited vinyl pressings ever surfaced. Alex and Adam have honed their music to its current state, a sinister blend of industrial, ambient and IDM, working away at the boundaries that held them as outsiders until now. When the Blood Turns Black is a bold first look at a group who blend a complex production style with a searing early electronic attitude. The result is a relentless debut of IDM-infused industrial and twisted machine-funk. Kill Memory Crash has a sound that calls upon their heroes (Ministry, Coil, etc.), but that is made completely their own in the process. Bone-hard and Electrified, this is the sound of the machines gone bad."

KILL MEMORY CRASH: When The Blood Turns Black LP (GI 015 LP). $8.00

LP version.

MIDWEST PRODUCT: World Series Of Love CD (GI 016 CD). $11.00

"Midwest Product's World Series of love, their second release, finds Ben, Chad and Drew in an entirely new place musically, just one year out from their debut release a year back. While their debut LP, Specifics, had the swagger of a band jam, with the guys learning to harness their equipment, WSOL is an approach at pop, and a diverse and emotive effort at that. A year has passed, Ben is still working at the Audio company, Chad bought a house and Drew is still teaching yoga. The band has nearly travelled the entire country, playing events like South by Southwest and the Detroit Electronic Music Festival. As the band has become tighter, so have the songs. Tight, taut and lean, the band's new focus is in the condensed groove and a spare approach to composition, which has created more room for physicality and emotional brawn. 'Dead Cat' the record's opener, is a guitar-led grinder of a tune, and also evidence of the bands new commitment to conciseness and vocality. 'Avant Poop's nagging synths and pounding triggered drums are a look at the live experience that band has become known for. Funk has always been at the heart of the band's desires, and the soul of early Prince is summoned for Bank. 'Motivator', WSOL's climax is Midwest Product at its most euphoric. Riding the emotional line that few bands dare, Midwest Product are one of electronic rock's finest treasures and a band growing at breakneck pace."

LUSINE: Push EP 12" (GI 017). $6.50

"Lusine is the brainchild of Jeff McIlwain, and his shimmering, melodic vision of abstract electronic music. Having attended Cal Arts to study 20th century electronic music and sound design for music and film, he first began creating his lush interpretation of IDM many years ago. Since then, he has contributed tracks and remixes to various labels, including a full-length, Iron City, for Mad Monkey/Hymen and a split 10", Sustain, for Delikatessen, all aside from his prolific output for pioneering American IDM label, Isophlux. Fate brought Lusine and Ghostly International together and we are immensely proud to offer this fantastic and diverse EP. The record is a perfect description of the Ghostly label ethos, a blend of warm IDM, minimal Techno and Electro, equally at home at the club and on headphones. This release will further strengthen Lusine's recognition as not only one of the country's finest electronic producers, but one of the world's foremost creators of engaging experimental music altogether."

TWINE: Twine CD (GI 018 CD). $13.00

"Friends talk about nothing over the phone; a gentle guitar strum mutates into a gauzy substance; a swell of sub-bass and firework crackling ensues. Fuzzed-out scanners capture distant conversations, and otherworldly voices emerge through the noise, haunting like a recurring dream."

Twine's self-titled album, their debut release for Ann Arbor's Ghostly International, is a record about the difficulties of 21st-century communication and the universal threads that unite the physical and immaterial worlds. The experience of Twine is the static on telephone lines, the nighttime whispers, the sounds of the aether; a record of dizzying percussive glitch, eerie textures and vocals grated into a dense fog, a collective but coded dialogue.

Cleveland, Ohio's Greg Malcolm and Boulder, Colorado's Chad Mossholder comprise a unique musical entity. Twine is the culmination of their extended history, which includes their acclaimed 2002 LP Recorder for France's Bip-Hop and their distinguished catalogue for Chicago's Hefty Records and Sweden's Komplot. Their self-titled LP contains a mysterious and unresolved quality, the result of the musical relationship which the group's two main practitioners share. Making music together from across the country, their collaborations are exercises in postmodern abstraction. Songs become experimentations in the virtual realm, with files bounced back and forth across time zone and singular ideas becoming collabora-

As such a noisy, ambient experience as any heard today, from Fennesz's Endless Summer to Black Dice's Beaches and Canyons, Twine also draws influence from the free-floating, sand-blasted vocals of Cocteau Twins. This is a story of the fuzzy lines that connect and distance humanity, and the spiritual in-between that emerges in the nighttime hours."

TWINE: Twine 2LP (GI 018 LP). $13.00

Double LP version, with the LP-only bonus track "Sbrent". 160 gram vinyl, full color sleeve.

VA: SMM Vol. 1 12" (GI 019 EP). $6.50

Artists: Twine, Kiln, Kosik. 5 new tracks from the Midwest's premier ambient artists. New chipboard embossed sleeve. First of three limited SMM 12"s.

DYKEHOUSE: Chain Smoking/FYD 7" (GI 021 EP). $4.00

"Mike Dykehouse, known for his IDM on Planet Mu, steps into the fore with the first single from next year's Midrange LP. 'Chain Smoking' is a glowing psychedelic rock anthem. The flip is the raunchy sex funk of Mike's subconscious. A future star emerges."

SOLVENT: Radio Ga Ga Part. 1 12" (GI 022 EP). $5.50

Part 1 of 2, includes: Original Mix, Perspectives Cut-Up Mix, Schneider TM Mustanng Remake, Lowfish

Remix. "Solvent, AKA Jason Amm, has been making his inimitable brand of Robot Pop since the Mid-90's, simultaneously co-running the revered Suction Records since 1997, a label that even Andrew Weatherall deems as essential territory."

One of the few true classics of the new synth era, Solvent's 'My Radio' (from Ghostly's Tangent 2002: Disco Nouveau) has become one of the most lasting impressions of the last few years in electro. In keeping with Ghostly's commitment to pushing songs in the electronic realm, a coda release for the song, plus a new single, 'For You', was conceived between Amm and the label.

Radio Ga Ga is a concept release as much as it is a remix collection. Encouraged to create 'interpretations' of the Solvent oeuvre, the featured artists have held true to the spirit of the original songs but also have added something completely new to their renditions. Mute's electronic-pop wunderkind, Schneider TM, dusted off his Fender Mustang for his rework of 'My Radio', complete with new lyrics and attitude, while Holland's electro master, Legowelt, turned the melancholy ode to the yesterday's radio into an F.U. body-music resistance track.

Re-rubs of 'For You', a bizarre but funky love song, finds Suction co-founder, Lowfish, fattening the original up for the clubs and Morr Music mainstays, ISAN, stripping the song into almost an ambient seasoning of its former self.

Also included are 2 new Solvent songs, 'Radio Goo Goo' and 'Polyphonic' which offer a glimpse as to the direction of his forthcoming 2004 LP, Apples and Synthesizers.

Moody, emotive, playful and even sexy, Solvent's music seems to find that perfect place between wit and sincerity. Producing music with an ice-cold production style but warm rich centers."

SOLVENT: Radio Ga Ga Part. 2 12" (GI 023 EP). $5.50

Part 2 of 2, a 5 track EP featuring: a new Solvent track, Solvent's extended mix of "For You", Mitgang Audio remix, Legowelt Remake, ISAN remix.

"Holland's electro master, Legowelt, turned the melancholy ode to the yesterday's radio into an F.U. body-music resistance track. Re-rubs of 'For You', a bizarre but funky love song, finds Suction co-founder, Lowfish, fattening the original up for the clubs and Morr Music mainstays, ISAN, stripping the song into almost an ambient seasoning of its former self.

Also included is a new Solvent song, 'Radio Goo Goo' which offer a glimpse as to the direction of his forthcoming 2004 LP, Apples and Synthesizers.

KILL MEMORY CRASH: Never Forget 12" (GI 026 EP). $6.50

"Kill Memory Crash are back. The follow-up to their debut mini-LP, When the Blood Turns Black, 'Never Forget' takes the intensity of their debut and amplifies it ten fold. More violence, more blood. 'Never Forget' gives a look into their 2004, yet-to-be-named full-length, that will surprise with more ambient moments as well. The flipside is a remix of one of Blood's standout cuts. The menacing 'Technasty' gets a facelift by the Crash boys and the result is a heavier, meaner monster."

LUSINE: Flat Remixes 12" (GI 027 EP). $6.50

"Lusine, master of all things elegant and minimal, comes back after his acclaimed Push EP for Ghostly. The classic, ethereal original warrants mixes by Matthew Dear, Ghostly's Cepia, Perlon's Dimbman (of Pantytec) feat. Cabanne, and a new mix by Lusine himself. One of our finest releases to date, the marriage of electronic style and acute melancholy is rarely matched."

KILN: Sunbox CD (GI 028CD). $10.00

"Sinuous ecometric rhythms and dense rain-blown tone sculptures shine and wind between electrified cotton-nodes, all careening/sliding/colliding across and through a synaptic panorama. Peninsula-based KILN are Kevin Hayes on pulse/tump/tick with Kirk Marrison and Clark Rehberg III on hue/shape and spark. After a decade of genre spinning and attention spent fusing live organikas with binary tumbleweeds, KILN settles into a new neurologic with their newest release, Sunbox, on Ghostly International. Not only for the headphone set, KILN's recent intent has been on finding the intuitive fulcrum of gentle momentum invigoration and hyperacoustic digi-texture chromatics as suited for a wider listening environment."

KILN: Sunbox LP (GI 028LP). $9.00

LP version.

DYKEHOUSE: Midrange CD (GI 033CD). $13.00

"Lo-fi meets hi-fi on Dykehouse's full-length debut for Ghostly International, titled Midrange. A brilliant pop/rock album filled with dense textures and instrumentations, it is all the more amazing for having been recorded solely in the artist's bedroom on a home computer. Dykehouse — real name Mike Dykehouse — has crafted a postmodern and personal homage to the shoegaze genre, echoing his hero Kevin Shields and the immortal My Bloody Valentine. Midrange at once looks back and forward, echoing high school record collections as well as a future filled with limitless peaks."

DYKEHOUSE: Midrange LP (GI 033LP). $11.00

LP version.

DABRYE: Game Over 12" (GI 025 EP). $6.50

"Dabrye, hip-hop alias of Ann Arbor's Tadd Mullinix, returns after year of quiet. While Dabrye's first two LPs, Ghostly's One/Three and instrmntl (from Prefuse 73's Eastern Developments label) were focused on the wordless beatscape as a mutable object, 'game over', the debut 12" from Dabrye's forthcoming LP, Two/Three, is straight ahead street hip-hop. Game Over features a guest appearance by Detroit's Jay Dee, Slum Village veteran, and producer for artists such as Busta Rhymes, De La Soul, Common, A Tribe Called Quest and many others. Also featured is Detroit MC, Phat Kat, who literally tears through the track. The 12" also features a new track, 'Magic Says', a deep dub burner that nods to Mullinix's love of dancehall and ragga jungle. Dabrye is back and so is raw hip-hop. A refreshing new look at a long dormant style."

AEROC: Vicous Solid CD (GI 030CD). $14.50

"Geoff White occupies a rarified air in which the surreal nature of dreams and the rhythms of everyday waking existence merge to create an unusually naturalistic form of electronic music. Having released records on labels such as Force, Inc. and Traum, White has adopted the name Aeroc in the creation of the stunning Vicous Solid for Ghostly International. One might swear that he hears the sounds of birds chirping and pecking, or a live drum sample hidden amongst the lushness of Vicous Solid; amazingly, however, White formed this album wholly from his own guitar lines, which is a testament to his mastery of sound formation and permutation. Having relocated to Barcelona from the American Midwest, one can understand why White's musical moods are so dichotomous on this record, as the uncertainty of new lands meshes with the sheer joy of discovery and personal cultivation."

WANG, DANIEL: Berlin Sunrise 12" (GI 034EP). $6.50

"Daniel Wang, perhaps best known for his work on labels like Environ (Metro Area), Playhouse, and his own Balihi, delivers on his promise for more Ghostly work with Berlin Sunrise, an immaculately produced record of disco step, Italo warmth, and house-inspired atmosphere."

GIGOLO (GERMANY):

MOUNT SIMS: Hate Fuck 12" (GIGOLO 102 EP). $9.00

"Mount Sims, definitely one of the most important, hottest and sexiest acts of the American Techno- and Electro-Punk-Scene, presented his first longplayer Ultra Sex on GigoLO Records. Mount Sims stays controversial: The hit 'Hate Fuck' has been chose as the first single and promises to keep the subject. Antagonisms belong together, just like technology and sex do. 'Hate Fuck' Single with the original and the Metal Massacre Mix. And for all the people over eighteen, there has been produced a video."

GINA X: No G.D.M. 12" (GIGOLO 108). $9.00

"With the Maxi No G.D.M., GigoLO Records proudly present Gina X Performance, the artificial fashion decadence band of German Electro-Wave Rock. Their 1981 classic is the first track in original version. In 2002 this song sounds fresh and modern which certainly is a result of Gina's fantastic voice and the dark bassline. Track No. 2, the 'Cat O' Nine Tale' remix of 1992 is dominated by a strong heavy guitar mix and sounds like trashy heavy metal destruction. The third song, 'Nice Mover', Gina's second little hit, is an original backing track edit of the 1981 classic. The band used this version for performances in the 80s with a long 'We Are The Robots' — like fantastic intro which sounds like an inspiration for the French band AIR. For their first LPs GINA X Performance were inspired by the vocabulary of sado-maso sex as well as by the transsexual and hardcore gay erotic scene. No G.D.M. went straight into the Austrian Top Ten and Gina X Performance had gigs in the clubs all over the world. They have always been more successful abroad while in Germany they kept their status as an Underground Wave act."

DOMINATRIX: The Dominatrix Sleeps Tonight 12" (GIGOLO 111 EP). $9.00

"The original recording was made in 1984 at Peter Baumann's place on 23rd Street in N.Y. City with the music 'console' made by the guys who made the same tech for the Kraftwerk guys."

WILLS, MICK: Monster EP 12" (GIGOLO 112). $9.00

"Mick Wills does it again. After his first single on GigoLO in 2001, he brings us a brand new smasher: Monster EP is coming directly from the Motorcity Stuttgart. It's definitely the next soundtrack of the night you won't forget and it proves once again Micks philosophy of authentic techno, using a 4/4 bass drum and a straight bass line. Besides producing highly deanceable tunes, Mick is collecting all kinds of music styles except folk music and he is also well known for organizing cool parties since 1991."

CANZIAN, ADRIANO: Macho Boy 12" (GIGOLO 117). $9.00

"After studying arts in Rome, Italys fashion punk Adriano Canzian acted as a music consultant for well known designers such as Holly Krueger. Adriano was responsible for the musical content of several high-fashion shows around the world. His distinctive fascination for the 80s lifestyle rejects andrianos tremendous creative output — 80s Glam, Punk, Porn, EBM — just to name a few, a composition of fashion and music — theses attributes would approximately characterise the inner life of this artist, headed by his spiritual mentor and all time favorite Alexander Mc Queen. Rather obvious 'Macho Boy' — his 1st single ever, — opened the soundtrack DJ Hell assembled for Versace's last haute-couture shows..."

M.M.F. (MUSIC FOR FREAKS): The Creeps - Freaks 12" (GIGOLO 119). $9.00

"Music For Freaks was co-founded by Luke Solomon and Justin Harris in 1999, to provide a home for their unorthodox take on House music. Luke is perhaps best known for setting up the house label Classic Recordings with DJ Derrick Carter. Justin Harris was resident at the legendary acid house nightclub Kev's House. They have since released two albums for the label that enhanced the reputation of the label. Music For Freaks has also amassed an impressive roster of artists such as Kenny Hawkes, Hans Nieswandt, Doc L. Junior, Nikolai, Tony Senghore and many more. Luke and Justin also have recorded for many of the most respected dance labels on the planet and also gained a huge respect in the remix field as Freaks for The Streets, Human League, Marianne Faithfull, Telepopmusik, Isolée and so on."

DJ HELL: Keep On Waiting 12" (GIGOLO 122 EP). $9.00

"The single 'Keep On Waiting', features a fellow European, Erlend Oye. The Norwegian with the melancholic voice poses a counterpoint to the hard, electronic backdrop with spartan melodies. The tracks video, on the contrary, is pure New York. Larry Tee's glamorous Luxx Club is the Setting, P.Diddy and Princess Superstar have their cameos as well as an amazing cast of supermodels, all fitted out by Donatella Versace. Be prepared for the upcoming DJ Hell album N.Y. Muscle."

TERRANOVA PRESENTS THE COSMONAUTS OF INNERSPACE AKA FETISCH: I'm Allergic + Remixes 12" (GIGOLO 123). $9.00

"Fetisch puts together the Cosmonauts Of Innerspace with the intention of releasing with them a self-titled LP on GigoLO. On this Terranova-project Fetisch works with special guests like Ari Up from the Slits, the stepdaughter of Johnny Rotten. He stands right at the epicenter, plays with Reggae, Hip Hop, Blues, Punk and Elektronika, covers Bob Marley and blasts Rocker-Guitar-Riffs as if there's no tomorrow. Terranova statements are absolute... And hit the center of zeitgeist."

FIXMER, TERENCE: Ceveaux Sans Ames 12" (GIGOLO 127). $9.00

"Terence Fixmer is considered as one of the most successful persons in the credible Techno scene. He is not only able to produce brilliant and authentic records — Terence also convinces the crowd with his inimitable live-gigs and DJ-sets... He has rocked worldwide at places such as club Rex/Paris, Fuse/Brussels, U60311/Frankfurt or mayday. Now he brings another smashin' Techno jewel on GigoLO records, optimal to make the crowd sweat at peaktime."

STERIL: A Day At The Races 12" (GIGOLO 128). $9.00

"The sound of these four tracks bruits into space entrobically. A perfect liaison of japanese phonetics and occidental vibrations. A soundtrack for a movie that was never made. Be sure to listen to those great vocals by Sue-M from Tokyo."

DJ HELL: N.Y. Muscle 3LP (GIGOLO 130 LP). $21.00

Triple LP version. "The first days of a European in America are comparable to being born. He himself had known new arrivals who for example had stood on their balcony for days and days and had looked down on the streets like lost sheep. This lonely inactivity might be allowed to a tourist, for someone planning to stay here it means definite demise." These lines can be found in Franz Kafka's novel fragment America. Kafka himself never set foot on American soil and maybe that's why he managed to create a piece of writing that melts second hand stories and his own imagination into a condensed and exciting portrait of New York. DJ Hell has been to New York. Most likely several times and especially from October 2002 to April 2003, when he produced his new album N.Y. Muscle there. Hell went with the flow of a city whose heartbeat pounds so much faster than Europe's. Work ethics, strength, inspiration, these are the traces that New York left behind on the album. The music however seems Kafka-inspired in the most positive sense: N.Y. Muscle feels like a look through surreal European glasses onto a strange country. It seems nearly logical that the first track, the single 'Keep On Waiting', features a fellow European, Erlend Oye. The Norwegian with the melancholic voice poses a counterpoint to the hard, electronic backdrop with spartan melodies. The tracks video, on the contrary, is pure New York. Larry Tee's glamorous Luxx Club is the Setting, P.Diddy and Princess Superstar have their cameos as well as an amazing cast of supermodels, all fitted out by Donatella Versace. 'Listen to the Hiss' and 'Meet the Heat', two collaborative tracks with proto punk legend Alan Vega (Suicide) paint a different picture entirely. A place without Rudy Giuliani, a Gotham City in the darkest hour comes into existence. Sawtooth Basslines, driving, dirty drums are layered atmospherically on top of each other. The dark despair peaks in 'Let No Man Jack': Hell uses early, rough techno to say goodbye to the omnipresent eighties revival, shows how far out there he really is. A screaming voice. That's how intense sounds. 'The Ambient Song' and first and foremost 'I Regret' loosen the tension at least temporarily. The marvellous Billy Ray Martin who lends her voice to the fluid instrumental to 'I Regret' enchants in a song of deep and beautiful sadness. But Hell wouldn't be one of the most successful Techno DJs worldwide if he wasn't looking for the club immediately after. 'Control' honours its name on every dancefloor, pumps, moves, rocks at will to sweat-drenched exhaustion. The energetic 'Wired' leads N.Y. Muscle to an end, just before, in a final 'Phone Call', the hectic scheduling of studio dates is discussed, only for the voices to drift away in echo and delay. Franz Kafka once again: 'You couldn't hope on commiseration here. Only the fortunates seemed to really enjoy their luck amongst the uncommitted faces that surrounded them.' Hell does not need commiseration. He made New York his own and has produced an exciting and dense portrait of the city. DJ Hell is one of the fortunates."

STATION ROSE: Dave Remixed 12" (GIGOLO 46). $8.00

Repress. "Dave was written Garry Danner and produced & recorded by Atom Heart in 1992 and became quick one of the early techno-hymns in Germany. The computer voice of a science fiction movie, combined with rather strange sounds and crazy breaks was and is still outstanding. Remix by - of course HAL 9000 (for those who know...) and Heinrich Müller, who belongs to the close circle around Dopplereffekt."

ADVENT, THE: Time Trap Technik 12" (GIGOLO 56). $8.00

"After the release of The Advent's electro collection Time Trap on CD in February, there was a huge demand for these material on vinyl. So DJ Hell has chosen 4 of his favorite tracks for this 12 inch-release."

STERIL: Shades Of Grey 12" (GIGOLO 64). $8.00

"After the Release of Steril's early material on Erkrankung durch Musique last year, Steril moved from St. Tropez to Tokyo and recorded new tracks there. 4 high-class 80ies-Electro-Pop tracks, with vocals in Japanese, French and English."

TRAXX & DEECOY: The Dirty Criminals 12" (GIGOLO 68). $8.00

"Three hypnotic, classic Chicago jack-tracks. Debut EP by Chicago based DJ's Traxx & DeecoY." Originally released Sept., 2001.

TAMPOPO: Sumo Da House 12" (GIGOLO 71). $8.00

"After one Track on the Coletiva de Gigolos EP (GIGOLO 23 & CD3) and on Compilation CD4 (GIGOLO 40) Gigolo's french Tec-House section Tampopo comes with his first EP. Jack it out!"

FIXMER, TERENCE: Armee Des Tenebres 12" (GIGOLO 74). $8.00

"One sided. Limited to 2000 copies. A limited pre-release of one track of the upcoming album Muscle Machine."

FISCHERSPOONER: Emerge Remixed 12" (GIGOLO 76). $8.00

"Downtempo Jack-House Mix by Naughty, Electronic-Punk-Rock Mix by Tarranova of the super-smasher Emerge."

WILLS, MICK: Atomic 12" (GIGOLO 77). $8.00

"Long time DJ and new producer from Stuttgart / Germany. Four perfect Gigolo-tracks featuring different roots. 'Kill Kill' is a EBM-Monster, 'Atom Brain' a dirty Chicago-House track, 'Dr. Rightous Says' a hypnotic techno-burner and 'Calling all Boys' (feat. The Kinky Lovers) a female vocal disco-track."

COHN, ROMINA: Non Stop EP 12" (GIGOLO 83). $8.00

"The first south-american Gigoletta, resident-DJ at famous Molokko in Buenos Aires and former lead-singer in a punk band with her debut on Gigolo Records. 'I want to be The Residents' was already one of the big tunes on Gigolo compilation 5, 'The Night' shows Romina as Amanda Lear 2002."

CAPRI: Capri EP 12" (GIGOLO 84). $8.00

"Capri ist a new rising star from Buenos Aires. Pantera is a vocoder-electro-punk-ballad, Mandarina, already heard on Gigolo Compilation 5, a super-groovy-house-song."

KORDA, CHRIS: When It Rains EP 12" (GIGOLO 86). $8.00

"First release after the Six Billion Humans album in 1999. Four tracks with the unique Korda Electronic Jazz - House mixture and unique vocals."

LAMB, LINDA: Hot Room 12" (GIGOLO 87). $8.00

"After Fischerspooner and Crossover, here comes Linda Lamb, the next Gigolo-act out of New York City. Her 'Electro-Country-Song' 'Hot Room' was for many people the secret hit on Gigolo Compilation 5 and with the remix of Gigolo-wonderboy TIGA this secret can not be hidden on any dancefloor."

FERGUSON, SCOTT: White Buffalo EP 12" (GIGOLO 89). $8.00

"The producer Scott Ferguson presents his Gigolo debut White Buffalo E.P.. His vinyl includes three selected tracks which shows his wide musical range. One of them — 'Dump Days' — is also presented by DJ Hell on the new Gigolo Compilation CD Six. From the musical style you can indicate that his roots are based in Detroit. Scott Ferguson developed a multifaceted ep consisting of bumping beats, floating percussions and a jazzy xylophon."

PLASTIQUE DE REVE: Untitled 12" (GIGOLO 91). $8.00

"The second Gigolo-EP of this act from Geneva. Side A with a super-funky-new-millennium-odeo-hymn, side B with two highest energy versions of the Electronic Ensemble classic 'It happened then'."

TIGA & ZYNTERHIUS: Sunglasses At Night - Remixed 12" (GIGOLO 92). $8.00

"The remix edition of the top-seller. No more explanation." Remixes by: TGV (Tiga and Matheo Murphy) and Naughty (w/ additional production by Filippo Moscatello).

ATOMIZER: Hooked On Radiation 12" (GIGOLO 96). $8.00

"Hooked on radiation is the first release by south London synth duo Atomizer. Atomizer are Jonny Melton (DJ Jonny Slut), who in previous incarnations has been a teenage goth pin-up with legendary Batcave band Specimen, a future shock hip hop punk sampling member of Diskord Datkord with his old sidekick Adamski, and a be-hooded Ancient of mu mu with the Mighty money burning KLF, & Fil Jones (DJ Fil OK) bedroom producer and previously one half of techno outfit Sharon & Tracey with DJ Tom Stefan, and film soundtrack provider for the multi media club events 'Let me feel your finger first'. Their debut single 'Hooked on Radiation' has been co-produced by KLF man Jimmy Cauty. Atomizer see themselves in a classic synth duo style and site their major influences as Suicide, Sparks & Soft Cell."

MATISKE, MARTIN: Stars & Galaxy EP 12" (GIGOLO 97). $8.00

"Living in Munich, Martin Matiske grew up with traditional Bavarian 'Blasmusik' like the famous 'Zillertaler Schürzenjäger'. He was quickly influenced by two groups, the first being 'Kraftwerk' and the second Gigolo's 'Dopplereffekt'. His first taste of the music scene came after seeing Hell on MTV during the Love Parade, he loved it, and decided to visit Hell at his Munich office. At just 11years old, Martin came armed with his own mix tape, and Hell was more than impressed. They maintained a strong contact through the years and Hell gave him his music advice. Not a big fan of the 80's 'Electro sound', Martin decided not to play this sound in his DJ sets, preferring a more pure and real sound. His sets consist of a wide spectrum of different musical styles from Old Disco or Minimal Techno to Classic House music. Often finding it hard to buy good records he prefers to produce the sounds the way he likes it...unfortunately due to his young age, his deejaying is restricted, so you have to catch him before 10pm... His first track 56cars is out on gigolo soon, it's a cool mixture of 80's electro breakdance music."

TWINS, THE: Face To Face 12" (GIGOLO 98). $8.00

"After having published 'Face to Face' on the latest breathtaking Gigolo Compilation CD 6 and after having disappeared from the music business over years, The Twins now present their great Italo-Disco hit re-recorded plus a special remix version by Naughty on Gigolo Records. In the 80s the Berlin Synthypop-Duo Ronny Schreinzer and Sven Dohrow was widely successful, hundred thousands of records have been sold. 1983, with 'Face To Face' they had their great breakthrough — in Italy the song was number two of the Top Ten. More hits like 'Not The Loving Kind' followed and found their place not only among the Italian, French and Spanish charts but also in the Australian ones."

DJ HELL FEAT. ALAN VEGA: Listen To The Hiss 2LP (GIGOLO 124). $17.00

"Alan Vega — The mark of Suicide is scored deep into this track's flesh, and there could barely be a better place for Alan Vega to make a guest appearance, acting like a kind of dark spiritual omnipresence on Hell's Listen To The Hiss, mumbling, shrieking and invoking mayhem. Led by a gut-rumbling tom-tom beat, it snarls and sizzles like wet cables sparking in the dark, a whole room charged with static —deranged, pained and insane. This 2x12" comes along with 3 incredible remixes done by the faces of 2003 — Tiefschwarz, Peter Kruder and Ricardo Villalobos."

BARTZ, RICHARD: Midnight Man CD (GIGOLO 131CD). $17.00

"The King Of Techno, Richard Bartz, is proud to present his new album in 2004. The master of the 'fermona' filterbank and great manipulator of the 808/909 shows his domination on his album, called Midnight Man. Richard Bartz was born in Munich/Germany in 1976. Attending the legendary Ultraworld parties in 1991, he soon made contacts with Disko B label chief Upstart and DJ Hell. Pretty soon, his first productions, remixes for Disko B, were released, followed by the DJ Hell album Geteert und Gefedert where he acted as producer."

BARTZ, RICHARD: Midnight Man 2LP (GIGOLO 131LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

TIFFSCHWARZ & ERIC D'CLARK: Blow 12" (GIGOLO 137EP). $9.00

"The Schwarz-brothers, men of the moment and responsible for the über-hits like Spektrum's 'Kinda New' Remix (on Playhouse) and the stunning 'Sister Saviour' (on Output) remix they did for The Rapture a while ago, now back on deck with a new masterpiece on DJ Hell's very own Gigolo label. 'Blow' — taken from Four Music's Fun compilation comes along with a new ass-kickin dub-mix the boys especially did for Gigolo."

MILLS, JEFF: Shifty Disco 12" (GIGOLO 142). $9.00

1996 release. Four exclusive Mills tracks, in a more house-like mode than his Axis/Purpose Maker material Features: "'The Sun", "Theme From 2000", "Move Your Body", "Set".

VA: New Deutsch CD (GIGOLO 106 CD). $14.50

"Documents the variety of the first explosion of synthetic music in Germany on 24 tracks. The compilation of Thomas Bar and DJ Hell doesn't stop at (sub-) genre-borders, it puts in smallest produced editions of indie singles beside the chart hits of the early 80s. The music lives from the power that transformed ideas in unfamiliar speed into tones, a power that doesn't spring up self evidently. Until the techno-decampment, nothing familiar should happen anymore. Enjoy this special journey into very obscure material in a fine mix with German chart hits covering the period of the late seventies till the mid nineties." Artists include: Weltklang, Neon, Grauzone, Der Plan, Gleitzzeit, No More, Stratis, Christof Glowalla, Eiskalte Engel, Echowest, DAF, Za Za, Keine Ahnung, Die Gesunden, Fehlfarben, Blindganger, Pyrolator, Grauzone, Die Hornissen.

VA: New Deutsch 2x12" (GIGOLO 106 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

FATRUCKER: Superbike 7" (GIGOLO 107). $7.00

"For sure Fat Truckers were one of the big surprises on the last Gigolo Compilation 6. These guys from Sheffield use analogue Synthesizers instead of Guitars, they may understand themselves as a Synthcore-Punkband. 'Superbike' sounds just like one into the 3rd millenium cat-apult 'Born to be Wild' and in 'Teenage Daughter' you could imagine a super young Iggy Pop on his Tour in 2003."

FAT TRUCKERS: Fat Truckers 2LP (GIGOLO 113 LP). $14.50

Double LP version.

PSYCHONAUTS: Wild In Your Eyes 12" (GIGOLO 114). $9.00

"The Psychonauts are producers of pulsing electronic funk, lush pastoral pop, cinematic disco funk and more. The mix is so mellow and richly instrumented that you never know where the samples stop and musicians start as the organic and the electronic become perfect bedfellows. Prepare to be dazzled."

KORDA, CHRIS: The Man Of The Future 12" (GIGOLO 115). $9.00

"As an office worker, she has spent many years of her life in cubicles. On stage with her laptops, she's in a virtual cubicle; in the moments of silence between tracks, the careful listener might hear the 'insect sound of drones, clinking keyboards in a fluorescent hive of fabric-padded cubicles.' The modern experience of work is enforced passivity; freedom of movement is increasingly restricted, until only the eyeballs and fingers are permitted to move. While performing, she experiences this familiar feeling of bondage, but it's strangely transformed; she's still glued to the screen, but her legs and ass can move to the music, and she feels the heat, in and around her body. The most important change is that she's no longer alone; she's sharing her experience with the audience members, many of whom also work in offices. It's a small liberation."

KORDA, CHRIS: The Man of the Future CD (GIGOLO 115 CD). $16.00

"He was the first artist that released an album on Gigolo Records. His fusion of avantgarde-jazz and dancefloor-electronics in connection with the inimitable way how he inserts lyrics and vocals is till now unique. But unique is not only his music but also the person Chris Korda. As a reverend of his Church Of Euthanasia and cross-dresser Chris Korda was able to thrill sensation, in the U.S. he was invited in the Jerry Springer Show and sometimes he was also arrested because of his political actions, in Holland the town council even debated about a prohibition of his entrance. Chris Korda always provoked delicately, never plump, but always in a profound, consumption- and civilization critical way, that just because of that scandalized so much. That's why he was named as the Marilyn Manson of the electronic-scene for intellectuals. But also as musician and live-performer he played for a big fan-crowd and even with his 'uncommon' sounds he puts every dance-floor on fire. His new album The Man Of The Future also has some quieter tracks, ambient tracks, which till now is an unknown aspect of Chris Korda's work."

VA: International Deelay Gigolos 7 2CD (GIGOLO 120 CD). $21.00

"This CD is the trend-setting document of an innovative, creative and worldwide transforming music scene. With its' home between Berlin, Los Angeles, New York, Buenos Aires and last but not least Munich — state of the art depending on electronical music. What goes without saying is that only Gigolo artists with their absolutely new and partly unreleased tracks are involved. Conspicuous is the wide musical spectrum that mastermind DJ Hell devotes this time — besides the already approved club hits of Fischerspooner or Mick Wills you also will find the techno-debut of Hip Hop billionaire Puff Daddy, nowadays P.Diddy, remixed by DJ Hell on this compilation." Artists: Freaks, Fat Truckers, Psychonauts, Yesandno, Fischerspooner, Dirty Criminals, Trevor Jackson, Mick Wills, Crack We Are Rock, Experimental Products, Liquid Sky, Richard Bartz, David Carreta, Linda Lamb, Pink Grease, Adriano Canzian, Mount Sims, Chris Korda, MU, Terranova, Steril, The Rockers, Silvio Manuel, Gina X, P.Diddy, Hell, Savas Pascalis, Terrence Fixmer, Crossover, Kim Peers.

PSYCHONAUTS: Songs For Creatures CD (GIGOLO 121 CD). $16.00

"The Psychonauts debut album Songs For Creatures on International Deejay Gigolos. You may know Paul Mogg and Pabloclements for their deck skills and previous association with Mo' Wax. After hearing their debut — pre-conceptions confounded — you will know them as producers of pulsing electronic funk, lush pastoral pop, cinematic disco funk and more. Songs For Creatures has that rare quality in an album where each time you listen to it a different track becomes your favourite depending on what mood you're in. The mix is so lush and richly instrumented that you never know where the samples stop and musicians start as the organic and the electronic become perfect bedfellows."

PSYCHONAUTS: Songs For Creatures 2LP (GIGOLO 121 LP). $16.00
Double LP version.

VALIUM: Art Of Misdirection CD (GIGOLO 42CD). $15.00

"Valium comes from the north of Belgium and entered the international electronic music stage at 1995 with an EP on UFO Records/London. In the following years, he released EPs on the Detroit based Submerge Label Technotika (96 & 97), on Sativae Records (98) and finally on Gigolo Records (99). Art Of Misdirection is a concept album on different levels: Valium creates new connections of text, language and music. And it's not only about the spoken word, it's about psychological experiences, very personal perceptions and their musical conversion and also about scientific theories, brain research and music as therapy. Jeff Mills already pursued similar visions with his 'Tomorrow' series or in the forum on the Axis records Website. DJ Hell and Splank! (Zombie Nation) arranged these visions of the future in a 75 minutes mix on CD. Valium's soundtrack for his science fiction journey to his own brain is avantgarde electronic music at its best."

TUXEDOMOON: No Tears/What Use — Remixes & Originals CD (GIGOLO 55 CD). $12.00

"Remixes of DJ Hell's favourite band, the legendary industrial/new wave outfit Tuxedomoon. 'What Use' was originally on Tuxedo Moon's best loved album Half Mute? and is featured on Hell's hugely acclaimed Fuse Presents Hell album. Remixes by Dopplereffekt's Heinrich Muller, Ectomorph, Continuous Mode, H. Platzgumer & Adult." Plus the original versions of "No Tears" and "What Use"; 7 tracks in all.

ADVENT, THE: Time Trap Technik CD (GIGOLO 56 CD). $15.00

"This album is the best of The Advent's electro releases in the last 6 years, containing also brand new material. It is the 1st solo long player since New Beginnings in 1997. The Advent's Cisco Ferreira about Time Trap Technik : 'At the beginning of my involvement in the recording industry I was always into freestyle and electro. So after learning about programming in the late 80's on some weird retro equipment, some of my 1st works were in this style, like ... 'Space Opera' (R&S), 'The Project' (R&S), 'B.C.' (I.T.P.) At this time I was also into new wave because of that retro sound. Groups like Neon Judgment, Cabaret Voltaire or Front 242. The vibe they created with their music was ahead of it's time. They were so in tune with the machines and developed their own sound... so this had a big influence on my musical style from the start. So now 2001 is the time to release this album Time Trap Technik ."

VA: International Deejay Gigolo Vol.5 2CD (GIGOLO 60 CD). $16.00

"DJ Hell compiled Gigolos fifth year collection. Like last year a double CD Set, with 24 tracks. One third contains the best of the Gigolo releases from end of 2000 until now, like Tuxedomoon, Mits, Terence Fixmer, The Advent, Savas Pascalidis or the new mix Of Dopplereffekt's 'Scientist' and the mega smash 'Emerge' by Fischerspooner. More than 2 third are unreleased tracks of forthcoming releases, like full length albums by Miss Kittin & The Hacker, Filippo Naughty Moscatello or Japanese Telekom, debut EPs by Chicago's Traxx & Deecoy, the queen of night-life in Buenos Aires Romina Cohn or the new man from Montreal: Tiga. The Gigolo cult-project Der Zyklus gives like Inform3r a taste of their follow ups and David Carretta is finally back with new material after a period of excellent remixing. Also previewed are 3 Re-releases like the Dutch legend Orlando Voorn (Fix-Flash), Berlins 3PHASE and ... yes The Twins with their 80ies chart-breaker Face To Face. This CDs will again not be mixed, as a DJ-mix is based on completely different rules compared to a label re- and preview of a certain period. Gigolos CD5 gives you a first taste of what will happen on the hottest dance-floors, what will be played in the coolest car-stereos or what will come through many speakers during this summer of 2001."

MOSCATELLO, FILIPPO NAUGHTY: Disco Volante CD (GIGOLO 65 CD). $15.00

"Mister Moscatello grew up in the south German city of Ulm and can be called a founding member of Gigolo Records. Actually, it was his track 'Boing Bumm Tschag' (with David Carretta's Innerwood), that made Hell start his label 5 years ago. And DJ Naughty came up with more special Gigolo-input, like his anthem Gigolo-Style on his next EP (Gigolo 07) or 'All the Boys Look Superchic' on his G3 EP (Gigolo 15). Lyrically and musically he defined what this Gigolo-thing is about in modern dance-music. But Naughty has also a history before Gigolo, as he released on Ferox, Hybrid and Proper and he was throwing parties in his hometown where he also met DJ Hell. And this ended up not only in his releases on Gigolo, but also in some co-production work for several Hell releases, also for Hell's worldwide respected 2nd album Munich Machine. After a period of remixes for different labels, DJ-sets around the globe and a residency at the famous Munich club Ultrashall, Naughty got back to his studios to redefine his sound, putting special emphasis on more house-orientated music. A new passion started and after 2 years, at the end of 2000, he presented with the Disco Volante EP on Gigolo a first taste of the new Naughty-style. Now we have his first full-length statement, the Disco Volante LP, an album recorded with real bass-, keyboard- and guitar-players and different guest vocalists, among others Sabrynaah Pope, who worked already with DJ Pierre or Kings Of Tomorrow. This album travels between jackin' house, deep house, gospel-soul, garage and more, somehow united and filled with this unique FNM-style."

MOSCATELLO, FILIPPO NAUGHTY: Disco Volante 2LP (GIGOLO 65 LP). $16.00

Double vinyl version.

FIXMER, TERENCE: Muscle Machine CD (GIGOLO 78 CD). $15.00

"Terence Fixmer, born in Lille (north of France) in 1972, discovered the EBM (Electronic Body Music) when he was 15 and became a Nitzer Ebb-, Front 242-, Klinik-, A Grühm- and DAF-fan. At the beginning of the 90's he was a party freaker and his interest for the electronic sound increased with the apparition of the New-Beat and Techno in Belgium. At this time he started to buy records and 'flashed' on VortreXx from Final Exposure to Plus Eight Records. In 1992, he decided to produce his own music and he started to throw parties called 'Cosmos' and 'Space' in a club called Pyramide. One and a half year later he released his first EP on the Belgium label Diki Rec. In 1993 he moved to Rotterdam for his studies and produced some other EPs for different labels, under different pseudonyms. In 1995, he worked with his old school mate Emmanuel Top. But all this was just the beginning: in 1998 Terence decided to start his own label Planete Rouge Records. The second release on it (after Gemini 9 EP) was the first one under his real name: Terence Fixmer: 'Electrostatic'. The 3 tracker (first released on Planete Rouge and then licensed to Gigolo Records) was played by the biggest DJ's world wide, such as Dave Clarke, Sven Vath, Jeff Mills, DJ Hell etc. 'Electrostatic' was voted among the biggest tune of the year 1999 by many magazines and DJ's. In the same year Terence remixed DJ Hell's 'This is for you' (Disko B) and released his 2nd EP on Gigolo: 'Electric Vision'. At the same time he presents his first live act with Sven Vath at Cocoon-Club in Frankfurt. Terence finally remixed Sven Vath's: 'Ein Waggon voller Geschichten' (Virgin), which was voted to the 10 best remixes of the year 2000 by different magazines. He managed to transmit in his live performances the particular energy he got in his EPs; a kind of full power EBM and Techno. In 2001 Terence moves to Berlin, released the Body Pressure EP on Gigolo, of course another floor burner. In september 2001 he will finally release his first full-length-album Muscle Machine, unique Fixmer-style, straight, high-energy, 7 dancefloor-tunes."

FIXMER, TERENCE: Muscle Machine 2LP (GIGOLO 78 LP). $16.00
Double LP version.

CROSSOVER: Fantasma CD (GIGOLO 79 CD). $15.00

"Vanessa Tosti and Mark Ingram are Crossover — the new cozmik junk band from NYC. Sounds like the Chicks On Speed meeting the B 52's in a smoke filled club in Manhattan. With weird lyrics ('Photograph' is in fake-German) Crossover invites the listener into their world of fantasy adventure stories. Their demented sequenced sound is fortified with heavy bass-lines, drum machines and an arsenal of synthesizers. Call it Electro-Pop, New Wave, Punk or Disco, whatever Crossover is the max. Vanessa Tosti was born in Rome, Italy and moved to the USA as a child. Daughter of Giacomo Tosti ('Middle of the Road', RCA 'Gone Gold fame'). End of the 90ies she met Mark Ingram, native texan and drummer in the unusual boutique 'Smylonylon' in Manhattan and Crossover was born. In July 2001 Crossover played their first show in Europe at the famous Gigolo-Loveparade-Party at WMF Club in Berlin."

CROSSOVER: Fantasma 2LP (GIGOLO 79 LP). $16.00
Double vinyl version.

CARRETTA, DAVID: Domination EP 12" (GIGOLO 81). $8.00

"New and hot stuff from long-time french Gigolo David Carretta. First release after his debut-album Le Catalogue Electronique. Vicious Game already charted in the Groove Magazin Top 50 only from the presence on Gigolo Compilation 5, The Punishment Song is Carretta's definition of a disco-monster."

VA: American Gigolo - Mixed By Tiga CD (GIGOLO 85 CD). $14.50

European version, same as the Turbo release that has been licensed for North America. But this one has the Gigolo logo on it and the other one has the "Turbo" logo on it...so that's gotta count for something, right?! Same 25 tracks, as mixed by Tiga. "International Deejay Gigolos is the Munich-based record label ran by techno legend DJ Hell. Started in 1996, as an affiliate of Disko B, the label quickly established itself as THE definitive cult label where you could find everyone from Jeff Mills to downtempo electro...where every release was unified by Hell's personal taste and the highest standards. Over the years this has become the 'Gigolo' sound, an open and adventurous musical style that laughs in the face of convention, fusing raw acid-house with electro, nu-wave and synth-pop. Long before the electro-revival and the vocoded pop songs, Gigolo was pioneering the way, influencing a new generation of producers, and winning over a global following that has made it one of the biggest independent labels in Europe. With a roster that includes techno icons Dave Clarke, Jeff Mills and DJ Hell and Gigolo Stars David Carretta, Miss Kittin and The Hacker, DJ Naughty, The Advent, DMX Krew, Dopplereffekt and many more the Gigolo label reads like a who's who of electro-techno. New signings like Fischerspooner, Tiga and Zyntherius, Savas Pascalidis and Vitalic are all artists that take chances, and all artists that area are poised to take modern music to new heights. Even Marc Almond has had a record on Gigolo! American Gigolo is an introduction to the sound of this seminal label. Tiga (Montreal based DJ/producer) has gone through the labels first 75 releases and hand selected the critical tracks, mixing them together for a seamless trip from vocal synth-pop to nu-wave techno. In a genre of music which is so often lacking in character, humor and vision...Gigolo excels. This Mix-CD can also be seen as an updated substitute of the Gigolo-Compilation CDs 1 to 4, which are no longer available, because a pretty famous guy did not like the artwork there." Artists include: Linda Lamb, Trike featuring Audiomat, Tuxedomoon, DMX Krew, Dopplereffekt, Trike, DJ Naughty, TIGA and Zyntherius, Mits, Filippo Naughty Moscatello, Miss Kittin and The Hacker, David Carretta, Christopher Just, Der Zyklus II, Vitalic, Jeff Mills, Terence Fixmer, Fischerspooner.

VA: International Deejay Gigolos 6 2CD (GIGOLO 90 CD). $19.00

"As ever, International Deejay Gigolos' sixth compilation offers a state-of-the-art review of the label's style and content. It goes back and forth, both delving deep into the vaults and pushing many new names under the spotlights. Apart from getting as eclectic as possibly can, the ever-expanding Gigolo roster once again proves that the outer limits of modern music are not (here we quote most major record companies) 'irrelevant wastelands'. There's something cooking in Berlin, Los Angeles, Munich, Buenos Aires, New York, Detroit, London and Sheffield, and it's healthily kinky. All over the globe, misfits are on a mission to set free the misbehaving misfit lurking inside all of us. They rally against the status quo, concoct shady scenarios for world domination and show that pushing a button on an electronic device really can make a difference. They warp sexuality, dissect politics and strip-search the world of entertainment. Gigolo does not release records to please the consumer. Gigolo is all about destroying whatever kind of rulebook the consumer should hold dear. Good music induces subversive thinking. Good music never soothes. Good music, randomly disguised as house, hip hop, techno, acid, rock, punk or jazz, always is a call to arms, a demand for revolution during technik. Ah, Gigolo: it's the year 2077 all over again." Features: Plastique de Reve, Mt. Sims, Dopplereffekt, Scott Ferguson, Bobby Konders feat. Mutabaruk, Vitalic, Tommie Sunshine, Terence Fixmer, Valium, Crossover, Tuxedomoon & Hell, Mike Wills, Dominatrix, Fat Truckers, Atomizer, Fischerspooner, Fancymen, Martin Matiske, Family 5, A Number of Names, Chris Korda, Marc Almond, Romina Cohn, The Twins, Savas Pascalidis, Lady B, Divine.

KONDERS FEATURING MASSIVE SOUNDS, BOBBY: A Lost Era In NYC 1987 - 1992 CD (GIGOLO 93 CD). $15.00

"The beginning of that lost era in New York, which is the issue of this Gigolo-compilation, is marked by the end of maybe the most important, but surely the most legendary club of all times: Manhattan's Paradise Garage. The place where disco got turned into a religion named 'Garage House' by DJ Larry Levan, 'The Father', lived and breathed by his faithful disciples, in their dedication quite similar to a bunch of early Christians. In 1987, the Garage closed its gate forever. The Garage sound and its believers had to go deeper, way deep. Down there, Deep House started to materialise. The househeadz only started to resurface, at least into the twilight, when 'The Shelter' opened, the downtown deep house institution where DJ Timmy Regisford carried the torch. But for five long years, Deep House was homeless. Homeless, but not gone. In the underground, offside from big clubs, in tiny holes and secret locations, that were only known to the initiated, the contemplative sound found a temporary refuge, on nowadays mythical parties. The most important of them all was called Wild Pitch. Here, the hard core of the first Deep House DJs played. Names that still get whispered respectfully: Viktor Rosado, David Camacho, Kenny Carpenter, Nicky Jones, John

Robinson. Also DJ Pierre, who had just moved from Chicago to New Jersey, sometimes played there and even dedicated a whole track principle to those legendary sessions: the Wild Pitch Mix. One DJ, however, epitomises more than any other the massive sounds and the unique spirit of the Wild Pitch parties: Brooklyn's Bobby Konders. In his spectacular mix, he threw in everything from reggae, hip-hop, house to disco. He aimed directly at the common factor, the true soul of those blood-related styles. Konders house music always was extremely rooted, cultured and conscious. It used the semantics of reggae in more than just a musical way. This attitude made him revolutionary. It's no wonder, that after his farewell from house by '93, he almost exclusively focused on ragga, hip-hop and low end jeep beatz, and instead of 12" records, on his label Massive B he now only released 45 singles and compilations. 'Dis Poem' originally is a spoken word track on a regular Muta Baruka album. From there Konders just took it live, as a DJ would be playing an accapella intro, before bringing in the beat. Konders practically invented a school of intros, many times starting instrumental tracks with Reggae-MC-sloganeering. But also in other styles he roamed and wildered, to throw them into his melting pot of all 'tings conscious. Though strictly dedicated to the deep, the raw, and the soulfully nice, he produced one of the most slamming acid tunes of all times: 'Nervous Acid'. Allegedly only 'to have done it'. Nevertheless that track gets rocked massively up to this date, by DJs who sure know what time it is. Until the invention of his own Massive B imprint, his productions went under his street name 'Massive Sounds' and were released by Frank and Karen Mendez on 'Nu Groove'. Apart from Konders deep reggae/house crossbreedings, future techno stars like Joey Beltram, Tommy Musto or Lenny Dee appeared, as well as Paradise-Garage-regulars like the Burrell brothers or nowadays well-established big producers like Kenny 'Dope' Gonzalez. On 'Nu Groove', the whole classic, nice Konders shit appeared, long deleted material, that gets assembled almost completely on this massive compilation, remastered and ready to be discovered by a new generation of headz, to be sucked in like a nice blunt."

PASCALIDIS, SAVAS: Galactic Gigolo CD (GIGOLO 95 CD). $15.00

"Galactic Gigolo simply and clearly has to be seen as the ultimate hit album. Pascalidis started his career in 1987 as a DJ playing mostly disco and funk in various clubs in and nearby Stuttgart. In 1988, he started to play more acid and new beat music. From 1991 he organized his first techno parties and met Goran Besoy from Megahertz who showed him the basics of producing electronic music. With an Atari 1040 he then worked on his first EPs The Power Of Music and Masterblaster. With Sugarland Express, his first release on the German cult label Kurbel Records, in 1997 he produced his first superhit which ended up even in the charts of Brazil. In 1998 with his track 'Discotheque', Pascalidis once more called attention within the scene. In 1999, he founded his own label called Lasergun, definitely one of the most exciting outlets of the music scene right now. Since this year Savas has settled down in the musical metropolis Berlin. Pascalidis is one of the most creative sound artists and key-players of the international techno-disco-scene. The early 80s have had a great impact on him, the king of disco Giorgio Moroder still turns out to be one of his major idols. Last year with the maxi 'Space Affair' Savas Pascalidis gave his debut on the label which probably fits best to his sound: International Deejay Gigolo Records. With Galactic Gigolo, Savas defines his home galaxy and combines perfectly spacy techno beats with forgotten disco glitter."

PASCALIDIS, SAVAS: Galactic Gigolo 2LP (GIGOLO 95 LP). $16.00

Double LP Version.

DOPPLEREFFEK: Myon-Neutrino / Z-Boson 12" (GIGOLO 99). $8.00

"After their first eclectic longplayer Gesamtkunstwerk from 1999 Dopplereffekt are now, three years later, ready to present new and innovative stuff on Gigolo Records. With the two atmospheric songs 'Myon-Neutrino' and 'Z-Boson' they seem to have taken a completely different way giving an idea of what their new album (released in spring 2003) will be like — certainly full of surprises. The unit Dopplereffekt, still one of the strangest and most mysterious bands of the contemporary electronic music scene, have developed a very own and highly influential sound that had great impact on the current electro hype."

DOPPLEREFFEK: Linear Accelerator CD (GIGOLO 99CD). $14.50

"The unit Dopplereffekt, still one of the strangest and most mysterious bands of the contemporary electronic music scene, have developed a very own and highly influential sound that had great impact on the current electro hype. After their first eclectic longplayer Gesamtkunstwerk, from 1999, Dopplereffekt are now, three years later, ready to present new and innovative stuff on Gigolo Records. With the two atmospheric songs 'Myon-Neutrino' and 'Z-Boson' shortly published on Gigolo Records they have already given an idea of what their new album will be like: it takes a new direction towards a rather ambient style."

VA: International Deejay Gigolo CD Three CD (GIGOLO CD3). $15.00

"Here is the next CD collection from DJ Hell's Label, with the very best Gigolo tracks of the last 9 releases plus 3 unreleased tracks from upcoming records. Again it is a collection of electronic underground hits that come from different corners, not only techno but also electro, house, disco, hip hop, 80s pop, even ambient; combined in the unique Gigolo style. Foremost Poets' 'Moonraker', Zombie Nation's 'Kernkraft 400', Terence Fixmer's 'Electrostatic' or Miss Kittin & The Hacker's 'Flexibility' belong to the biggest club tunes of the last month anyway. Complimented with timeless, classic tracks by Der Zyklus, Elbee Bad or Trike and brand new, unreleased tracks by Hell & Richard Bartz or David Carretta, this collection should be more than the usual techno compilation."

GLASGOW UNDERGROUND (UK):

IBBOTSON, DANIEL: Frequency and Phase 2LP (GU 013 LP). $19.00

Double vinyl version. "Daniel Ibbotson returns with his third album! Following on the successes of Stories and Streamlines, plus various singles on Language, Clear, and Compost, Frequency and Phase continues the cool uplifting vibes of its predecessors. Frequency and Phase finds Ibbotson exploring a slightly more dancefloor feel — including tracks with latin lounge flavour, breaky Afro-groove deep, deep house with plenty of swelling flange, fusion disco, tribal disco-loop house, and sweet, classy, clavinova house. With it's top-notch production, Frequency and Phase is one the year's best quality house releases."

MATEO & MATOS: Classic Inspirations CD (GU 027 CD). $16.00

"Classic Inspirations is the second volume in the Mateo & Matos Inspirations series. The first focused on their current, Saturday night sound while this long-player finds them in a more retrospective frame of mind. Classic Inspirations is all about that part of the record box, normally right at the back, where the DJ keeps their favorite tools and prized cuts. This one's jammed with old school floor-fillers from disco to funk and back again, this is the soundtrack to their early years on the dancefloor and a mix of music that formed the benchmark for their current studio sound. Just looking at the tracklisting, it's obvious that they cut their DJ-ing teeth in a variety of situations: the huge, Studio 54-style floor fillers are there (T Connection, Billy Ocean) but so are records broken at Jellybean's Fun House (Cat Stevens) as well as the Paradise Garage (Montana Sextet), Zanzibar (Blaze) and Louie Vega's Heartthrob (Kasso). Add to that cuts from seventies street jams in the lower east side (Mandrill) and spacey moments from the Loft (Devadip Oneness) and Classic Inspirations offers a unique, wide-angled soundtrack to growing up and grooving in New York City."

IBBOTSON, DANIEL: Streamlines CD (GU 06 CD). $21.00

Pleasure-inducing ambient-house from this UK producer, with previous Clear-label associations; less-than-zero diva content, this is horizontal-oriented house music for those of us who don't use the word "choon". "Daniel Ibbotson first attracted attention at the end of 1997 when he released New Stories, his debut album for Reel Discs, the Clear-associated label. He has also made contributions to compilations on Compost and Language. His extra special brand of deep late night house music brought some excellent press, and Streamlines is another lesson in atmospheric house music. Warm, aquatic, melodic, sensual, absorbing and funky, this is a must for fans of Larry Heard, Carl Craig, Guidance and the Wamdue Kids. Limited stock.

IDJUT BOYS AND QUAKERMAN: Life The Shoeing You Deserve CD (GU 08 CD). $21.00

Debut album of strange, often inexplicable house music shenanigans from the duo of Dan and Conrad Idjut (with the help of Quakerman). Sweeping filtered disco-house, minimalist grooves, absurdist track titles like "Tea Tray Formerly Known As Coffee Table", "Gurner's Choice", "Copulating Drum," etc., add up to present just part of an unclear picture. If you're looking for a home listening, hand-in-you-pocket (as opposed to "in the air") but still-pumpin house grooves, this is something worth examining.

IDJUT BOYS AND QUAKERMAN: Life The Shoeing You Deserve 2LP (GU 08 LP). $0.00

GLASS EYE BOOKS:

VA: Poetry Journal #4 MAG (GLASS EP#4). $7.00

Contributors include: Eileen Myles, Douglas Blazek, Ira Cohen, Ally Sheedy (she's come a long way since 1975's She Was Nice To Me), Byron Coley, Georganne Deen, J.D. King, Gary Kizer, Jutta Koether, Richard Krech, Chan Marshall, Gerard Malanga, Thurston Moore, Richard Meltzer, Clark Coolidge, R. Moore, Mali Thep, Gary Panter, John Sinclair, Lynne Savitt, Charles Plymell, Edwin Pouncey, Tuli Kupferberg, Mike Watt, A.D. Winans, Steve Dalachinsky, Dylan Youkiss, Charles Potts, Lisa Carver, Anne Laure Keib, Loren Mazzacane Connors, and June Price.

MAZZACANE CONNORS, LOREN: Autumn's Sun Book (GLASS LMC). $14.00

A small chapbook (50 pages) of writing by guitarist MazzaCane Connors. Autumn's Sun features diary excerpts written in New Haven, CT in 1987. Presumably typeset to resemble his original typewritten document, with hand-written aisle comments left in. A six page piece on Loren's experiences standing outside John & Carolyn Kennedy Jr's loft in July 1999 is included at the end of the book.

GO BEAT (UK):

FRIDGE: EPH CD (GOB 114 CD). $26.00

"Following acclaimed albums on The Underdog's Output label and the 'Kinoshita Terasaka' single, Fridge release their first album on Go Beat. The CD is packaged in a digibox and the LP is high quality heavyweight vinyl." "Latest full-length from the trio of Sam Jeffers, Kieran Hebden (Fourtet) and Adem Ilhan, after a boat-load of beautifully packaged/sounding EPs & albums for the Output, Lo, Piao, and Go Beat labels (Ceefax, Semaphore, Sevens And Twelves, etc.). The timing is perfect for someone to concoct a millenium-lullaby out of old casio beats, organ drones, phased guitars, swell loopy & random acoustic/electric machinery; these guys have done it (with a few bright months to squeeze in a few table tennis matches). Positively, absolutely destined to be 'huge', if not I'm going into hiding, deep within the earth's crust until this whole thing blows over..." — Hrvatski. Limited stock of the original UK version.

GOD BLESS RECORDS (UK):

FLEMING, DON: jojo ASS RUNne CD (NOIR 006 CD). $16.00

"The first full length solo album from NY rock guru Don Fleming. From Velvet Monkeys, Half Japanese, B.A.L.L. & Gumball to producer (Teenage Fan Club, Sean Lennon, Thurston Moore), this guy is a fuck'n living legend. jojoASS RUNne is full on Soho/Boho sonic assault — like if Glenn Branca had been in the Monks with Klaus Dinger on Neul on drums...except there are no drums. Like the Cosmic Jokers with Nazz-era Todd Rundgren on guitar."

GOD MADE ME HARDCORE (UK):

VA: This Is Hardcore CD (GMMH 2304CD). $16.00

"After all the Fischerspooner/electroclash hype from New York and Berlin, it's time for Britain to strike back in the shape of God Made Me Hardcore, the UK's leading electro pop label. The success and notoriety of the Droyds 'Girls On Pills' and Moon Unit's 'Whip It' has lead to the label being talked about, played out and even imitated — Dazed and Confused magazine are about to launch a major ad campaign entitled 'Dazed Made Me Hardcore'. The label's first compilation is the finest UK electropop album available, showcasing 15 tracks from: The Droyds, Siobhan Fahey, Riviera, Ivana F., Mugatu, Moon Unit, Sleaze W / Anna Mercedes, Sensyon, and Bunnymad69

GOD MOUNTAIN (JAPAN):

ELECTRIC SUN FEATURING JOHN KING: CD (GM 003). $20.00

NY guitarist King, with Japanese musicians like Otomo, Kamiyama, Yoich Murata (trumpet), Hideki Kato (bs), Hideo Yamaki (drums), etc.

VA: New Konservativm CD (GM 009). $20.00

First year anniversary compilation, with all new/unreleased tracks by Optical-8, Koenji-Hyattkei (Tatsuya Yoshida's incredible Magma-styled prog outfit), Doom, Pon (featuring underground legend Junji Hirose), Altered States, Ground Zero, Bass Army, etc. Good introduction to the label. Limited stock.

REED, BRADFORD: The Firefishers With Bradford Reed and his Amazing Pencilina CD (GM 010). $20.00

Reed is reportedly a NY street performer, discovered by Kamiyama, who first showed up on the Slut compilation. This is his first full release; "His mysterious music mixed with improvisation of his own-made instrument pencilina and cute female vocal."

HACHUOJIMA: Taiko Island CD (GM 021). $18.00

Indigenous music from Hachiojima, a small island south of Tokyo, performed on drums, with vocal chanting. "Hachijo drumming is a form where two players play a two sided barrel drum, one player being rhythm, while the other improvises thus creating a unique form... Taiko drumming is a tradition that has passed down through the centuries refining itself from log rhythms in ancient days to the traditional drums now... an ancient expression of the Japanese sense of beat."

FOMOFLO: Slug & Firearms CD (GM 024). $20.00

A Seattle/Tokyo "avant-downtown" meeting, featuring Amy Denio, Dennis Gunn, Tada Makio, Honda Tatsuya & Hoppy Kamiyama; with a guest appearance by Amy's group, the Billy Tipton Memorial Saxophone Quartet.

PUGS: The Memories With Pugs CD (GM 025). $20.00

Best-of(?) album with tracks off their albums for the White Dog label.

SCREAMING PINCH HITTER: Designed Land Limit And CD (GM 026). $20.00

"Technical hard core unit. Screaming Pinch Hitter is so called Kyoto's No Mean's No. This new album was produced by Hoppy Kamiyama."

ANIMO COMPUTER: Don Is Cowboy CD (GM 028). $18.00

"Animo Computer is animator Mizuhiro's solo project. A trio with Dennis Gun, Tatsuya Honda and Makio Tada. They are also a key member of Hoppy Kamiyama's new project Fomoflo. Guest musicians include Hoppy, Emi Erenola from Demi Semi Quaver and Gary Lucas." Mizuhiro plays piano, alto sax, drums, sampler, turntables, moog, bass station, casio tone, Macintosh computer.

GOMMA RECORDS (GERMANY):*VA: Anty NY CD (GOMMA 013 CD). $14.50

"Rare music from the early 80's New York underground and some contemporary re-interpretations. A collection of what we think are some truly fine (groundbreaking) songs — music that mainly comes from New York's early 80's Mudd Club scene: hip hop & graffiti — legend Rammellzee on an electropunk tune together with Death Comet Crew (later the Dominatrix). An obscure recording of Jim Jarmusch's band the Del-Byzanteens. The only recorded and previously never released music by Jean-Michel Basquiat's band Gray. A sweet little song by the now well-known writer Vivian Goldman. And more. We took the original stuff and asked some friends to re-interpret them: while the Compost-band Syrup replayed the Sexual Harassment tune, Funkstörung goes electroboogie with Ike Yard, Protein makes Rammellzee sound like it's 2010 and Mowax-act the Psychonauts reworked Gray... you get the whole spectrum from 1979 to 20XX."

VA: Anty NY 2LP (GOMMA 013 LP). $16.50

Double vinyl version.

HANGHOFFER, LEROY: White Trash CD (GOMMA 024 CD). $15.00

"Leroy's got his own special producing technique: he says he's sick of hearing all these 'wannabe Dionne Warwick or whatever jazzy soul voices'. Instead, he likes the charming sleaziness of talented but 'innocent' dilettantes. So he finds himself some nice girls with sexy voices at the club, brings them to the studio, serves them beer etc., then he sends them into the toilet (which is the vocal cabin of Asamtsüberstudio), and with the help of his friends from Munk puts together a cool little tune from time to time. A Leroy track always sounds a little bit 'out of everything', and has this certain flavor of it's own — it mixes new wave and electro pop aesthetics with boogie-beats and R&B flavors, now that he's got so many tracks — it would be a shame not to bring these little excursions out on an album. So here it is: German new wave boogie."

HANGHOFFER, LEROY: White Trash 2LP (GOMMA 024 LP). $16.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

VA: Teutonic Disaster CD (GOMMA 032 CD). $15.00

Obscure German new wave funk, trashdisco and hobbyrock. Music recorded : 77 - 83; compiled by Munk (who previously compiled Anty NY). "For years, Munich's musicians and DJs Munk (aka Mathias Modica and Jonas Imbery) have been dropping rare, unknown, but cool German music from the 70s and early 80s into their DJ -sets (mixing them with new tracks). People are asking regularly where they can get this music, since the stuff fits extremely well with a lot of current records. So the guys two years ago started to work on this collection of their favourite German goodies. These tracks were made during a time when there was a big German rock and electronic scene. Since 1977, after Can and Kraftwerk (in Northern Germany) and Giorgio Moroder and Amon Düül (in Munich), masses of new bands had been experimenting with different styles of music. They developed an indie distribution network, which made it possible that hundreds of bands could produce mini editions of records. Dilettante wannabes worked alongside professional musicians. Psycho rock freaks jammed together with electro/ new wave experimenters. Early punks played along with diskoids. But many of the underground bands didn't want to be part of the NEUE DEUTSCHE WELLE mainstream hype. They wanted to keep the big creativity that was going on in Germany flowing without it getting destroyed by stupid mainstream compromises. They tried to preserve the rebellious energy that had been burning since the mid-70s, and went on doing stuff that had nothing to do with what was happening in the NDW — pop mainstream world. Apparently, some of them achieved excellent results that were completely ahead of their time. Teutonic Disasters features some of this stuff. This compilation doesn't intend to be a 'historical document'. It's just a collection of very beautiful, ultra rare, extremely fresh sounding music." Artists include: Explorer, Carmen, Scala, BBB, The Tanzdiele, Schwarze Bewegung, Reifenstahl, Explorer, Kick, Ampilla's Delight, Reiz Des Neuen, 50 Tabletten, Exkurs, Geisterfahrer, Mythen in Tüten.

VA: Teutonic Disaster 2 CD (GOMMA 033 CD). $17.00

"The 2nd (and last) part of the Teutonic Disaster compilation: Obscure, unknown music from Germany's late 70ies & early 80ies New Wave/ Punk underground. Bands who tried to mix their sound with Funk & Disco influences in a unique way. This music was not part of the famous Neue Deutsche Welle hype. It was made by guys who wanted to experimentate new stuff and existed besides the German NDW pop thing of these days. Some of them were really ahead of ist time. All these recordings are extremely hard to find even in Germany. Compiler: Compiled by Munich based DJ's, Producer & musicians Mathias Modica & Jonas Imbery aka Munk. They already did the Anty NY compilation with rare original NYC PunkFunk 3 years ago (GOMMA013) and also produced the White Trash Album by Leroy Hanghofer." Artists: Starter, Instant Munk, Camilla Motor, Nervösen Deutschen, Jimmy, Jenny,Jonny, Die Chefs, Die Hetero's, Roter Mund, FBC, Exkurs.

MUNK & PRINCESS SUPERSTAR: Ah!Uhl/Mein Schatzi 12" (GOMMA 035 EP). $11.00

"Munk are Munich based Honchos Mathias Modica and Jonas Imbery. They created the Gomma label, produced several 12's and albums under different names (Leroy Hanghofer, Barriostyle ...), did the much talked about compilations Anty NY and Teutonic Disaster, produce music for fashion shows (Kostas Murkudis, NY Industrie) and have been DJng at the cool clubs worldwide the past 2 years (DFA's APT club/NYC, Black Strobes PULP — night in Paris, Berlin's Cooky's & Fun, Colette/Vogue Party 03 and many others). While DJng around the world they met lot of interesting people that share similar musical interests and so 2 years ago they first met NYC's Princess Superstar. Concetta (that's her real name) really liked what the Munk guys were doing and so when she was in Europe she came down to Munich for a week and recorded these 2 punky disco bombs. The first 1000 copies of this 12" comes out with a Postermagazine called 'Amore'. A fanzine with crazy graphics & pics made by Gomma and some Berlin/Munich based artists."

KAMERAKINO: Paradiso CD (GOMMA 036 CD). $17.00

"Now it's time again for another change: Kamerakino's debut album reminds us of the 20ies, the 50ies, or 60ies — we associate cabaret, chansons, gipsies, dadaism, poetry, the balkan, mods and femmes fatales. You can imagine Berlin's subculture back in the 20ies, but still there is a touch of dirty garage rock, no wave, disco to it.

In 2000, seven musicians from various nations and cultural backgrounds (Turkish, Spanish, Russian, Scottish, German) got together in Munich. They decided to form not yet-another retro band, limited to one genre and performing for one scene, but to create a project that embraces musical diversity and a rather romantic view of grace, beauty and poetry. At this time, lots of people were already trying to come up with a punk remake band, so Kamerakino chose to develop something much more natural and diverse: they mix different cultures and let themselves be inspired not just for music but for many other things as well. Now the music is like a surrealist film and the German lyrics range from absurd dadaistic improvisations to reflections about despair and anger in neo-liberal and imperialistic Europe, however, they always manage to stay humorous and nostalgic. Most of the time it sounds like the economical crisis and its ridiculousness. Kamerakino as a group might be new on the scene, but the members have been active in Munich's art/music underground for years, sharing roots with projects like Queen of Japan, Zombie Nation, Hellfire or Poets of Rhythm."

KAMERAKINO: Paradiso LP (GOMMA 036 LP). $15.00

LP version.

RAMMELLZEE & MUNK: Cheesy Lipstick/Pogo 7" (GOMMA 037 EP). $8.00

"NYC legend The Rammellzee is one of the originators of Graffiti, Street culture and Hip Hop (saw him in Wildstyle and Stylewars films?). His 'Beat Bop' single is one of the most important original rap tracks (rereleased on Soul Jazz NY Noise CD). Over the last years he got quite a heavy reputation in the Street art/ Skate scene — for developing his own special ('Gothic Futurism') — art universe. (NYC's Supreme company have styled their shops world wide in 2003 with Rammellzee items.) The Rammellzee wanted to add again some music to his art and choose the Munk guys to produce him these 2 mad Punk Hip Hop songs. Garage Rock meets Poetry meets Breakbeat/ Hip Hop. (Artwork by The Rammellzee!)"

HEADMAN: So Then/So Now 12" (GOMMA 038 EP). $9.00

"Gomma's Anti NY, Munk and Headman records back in 2000 were the first new records that were inspired by the late 70ies and early 80ies mutant disco and no wave alternative sounds. (Long before DFA, Radio 4 and all the new NY compilations came along). Meanwhile Zürich's Headman boys have been signed also by Trevor Jackson and have released an first Relish/ Output 12". Also they are busy with doing rmxes for new (Domino) band Franz Ferdinand, Kid Alex, Trash palace, Gina X, Telepopmuik and Yellow. But of course the Headman/ Gomma — cooperation goes on and this new 12" proves that it makes sense: 'So Then' goes back into the leftfield rockdisco vibe of the late 70ies, while the flipside ('So Now') delivers an futuristic version of the same theme."

VA: Gommagang Vol. 2 CD (GOMMA 039 CD). $17.00

"The second part of the mixed Gommabel compilation, mostly with rmxs that so far had only been released on vinyl, special singles, 'Gommahits' and 4 new tracks. All tracks were released in 2002 and 2003. Here you have the whole range of Gommasond over the last 2 years: Italo and Chicago influenced house/ electro Late 70s and 80s original (German) punk-funk as well as some psycho-rock and futuristic pop." Artists: Munk, Hiltmeyer Inc, Mocky, Leroy Hanghofer, Headman, Munk & Princess Superstar, Kamerakino, Carmen, Feyd, Exkurs, Starter, Poets Of Rhythm.

HANGHOFFER, LEROY: Bathroom B 12" (GOMMA 040 EP). $9.00

"This is one of the tracks u always can play at a party and all the ladies love it (...and you). An Italo disco — P Funk electro song produced by Munich's Munk guys. The track was already release on the Leroy Hanghofer album White Trash from 2002. It was released without promotion, but was extremely successful with lots of DJ's like DFA, Fat Truckers, Trevor Jackson and also the more housier people. Licensed to a lot of club & fashion compilation it was also used by the french fashion scene for Shows (Givenchy, Pucci...) and the DFA used it for their Colette mix CD. Now finally it comes on 12" vinyl incl. a remix by french Djane no. 1: DJ Chloe from Paris' Pulp club. The original version is also on the new Gommagang 2 CD compilation. Bonus track also on the 12"."

GOMMAGANG: Gommagang Vol. 2 12" (GOMMA 041 EP). $9.00

"4 new Club tracks/ remixes from Gomma. (They are also featured on the second part of the Gommagang Zwei CD). Here you have the whole range of Gommasond over the last 2 years. As UK mag i-D described it: 'From punkfunk to psychsoul, from avantrock to future disco — superb out-there-urban-funk'. Features: Munk, Kamerakino, Hiltmeyer, Feyd.

HILTMAYER INC.: I Come from München 12" (GOMMA 042). $8.00

"Who the fuck is Hiltmeyer Inc? It's a 27-year-old guy from an area called München Sending. (In Munich they call it Sendingl Bronx.U know what we mean?) Hiltmeyer Inc is known in Munich. Years ago for being a excellent record dealer, later for being an excellent dope dealer and now for being an excellent DJ at the parties the Gommagang throws in Munich's legal and less legal locations. A few years ago, Hiltmeyer discovered the MPC and was quite impressed by that machine. He bought one for himself, but didn't have the equipment to save the songs he was producing. Most of the times friends used to come over, got trashed together...checked out the daily tune and when they fell asleep, he switched off the MPC and the daily song was gone. Finally the Gommaguys gave him a 'ZIP' machine and he started developing his songs. The first track 'Narkotik!' was featured on Gommagang 2. These are the follow up track. His album will hopefully come out in fall. U never know with these guys..."

MUNK & PRINCESS SUPERSTAR: Mein Schatzi 12" (GOMMA 043EP). $8.00

"Munk's Munk have been working on their own, new, anti-purist sound for a little bit of time now. (They released 3 12"s as Munk and one album as Leroy Hanghofer: White Trash — combining House and Electrodisco with No Wave, Rock and R&B influences). Through DJng abroad and throwing parties in Munich, they made a lot of friends with similar tastes, and sometimes this leads to a cooperation. This was the case when Munk got a visit by Princess Superstar in 2000 in Munich. She met the Munk guys through a common friend and both were working on their own, independent first releases. So in Munich they all had a session at Munk's studio and the result was Mein Schatzi, which came out on Gomma in 2003 as a 12" and was a big success with many DJs from the new scene." Remixers: Midnight Mike, Zongamin, Hiltmeyer Inc.

RAMMELLZEE: The Bi-Conicals Of The Rammellzee CD (GOMMA 044 CD). $14.50

"The Rammellzee is a NYC Icon. Known as one of the originators of Graffiti, underground art, street culture and Electro/ Hip Hop (his 'Beat Bop' single with Jean Michel Basquiat and K Rob is one of the most important original rap tracks ever reissued this year on MoWax and Soul Jazz). He was featured in all important Hip Hop films of the 80ies (Wildstyle...) and worked with people like Fab 5 Freddie, Michael Holman, Futura 2000, Phase 2 and was (with his partner Basquiat) one of the first graffiti artists accepted by the international art world. Over the last few years he got quite a heavy reputation — especially in Japan and in the US street art scene — for developing his own special universe (Gothic Futurism). It consists of big human size fantasy muppets (walk-ins), the Lettterraces (figurative skateboards) and also the original collage paintings he had invented back in the late seventies. After the 2003 No Wave/ Punkfunk/ NYC — revival (ESG, Radio 4, Liars, Ze, Hell, Rapture etc) — which Gomma preceded with it's 2000 Anti-NY compilation — the Rammellzee's album could be a next level. A futuristic development of the original No Wave and Proto electronic attitude and the angry, superenergetic NYC rawness versus an international new school of clubrock producers... We feel it fits perfect into 2004. The Rammellzee was looking for some fresh musicians who could help him to record an soundtrack for his Gothic futurism universe. He met the Munich based Munk guys in 99 when they licensed a track from him for Anti-NY and were introduced by common friend Stuart Argabright (aka the Dominatrix aka Death Comet Crew). Together they decided to realize this project on Gomma including fresh producers from different parts of the world. The eleven tracks have been made in 2002 and 2003 in NYC, Munich, Tokyo, San Francisco and Berlin. Rammellzee took them as a basis for his speeches. It's Gothic Futurism. He has a lot to say. "Rammellzee was there and he threw me by saying: Entertain me! Show me why you're great! And I froze up. He had long, long eyelashes..." — Andi Warhol in The Andi Warhol diaries. The Rammellzee has been doing lots of new stuff recently including styling NYC's Supreme skate/ fashion company's shops worldwide in 2003, doing new exhibitions and performing several concerts in Japan with (Japan's Nr. 1 Hip Hop) DJ Kensei and NYC's Death Comet Crew. Japanese leading mag Relex and UK's Dazed & Confused recently came out with some big cover stories about him."

RAMMELLZEE: The Bi-Conicals Of The Rammellzee 2LP (GOMMA 044 LP). $16.50
Double LP version.

RAMMELLZEE FEAT. SHOCKDELL: Pay the Rent 12" (GOMMA 045). $8.00

"You definitely can call The Rammellzee, the godfather of street-art. Having started his career back in NYC in the late 70ies as a kid, he was featured in many of the famous Graffiti & Street art films of the Hip Hop period (Wildstyle). The two tracks on this 12" (incl the remix of 'Pay the Rent') are the more hip hop track from his upcoming album. (The album itself goes in a much more electronic, futuristic direction). Both tracks produced by original Quannum — records producer DJ Jaw. 'Pay the Rent' features legendary NYC rapper Shockdell. The flipside 'Beatbop part 2' (incl. NYC rapper K-ROB) is the followup single to 'Beat Bop part 1'. A track that the Rammellzee did with K-ROB and Jean- Michel Basquiat back in the 80ies and that has been called by many Hip Hop heads one of the most important rap tracks ever."

WHOMADEWHO: Happy Girl 12" (GOMMA 048EP). $8.00

"WhoMadeWho are the latest weapon in the Gomma arsenal. After starting with the Neo - Punkfunk/ DirtyDisco/ NoWave - thing 4 years ago (with Headman, Munk and ANTI-NY), and inventing a new, special, futuristic mixture of ItaloDisco, Rock and R&B (Leroy Hanghofer) in 2001 Gomma now takes the next step with WhoMeansWho: a wild 3 person live — mostly instrumental music band, that mixes 4/4 — house and rave rhythms with repetitive, funky basslines and 90ies grunge/indierockriffs, country and some other illicit shit. WMW is not a normal concert band. It's a party thing. They can easily act on behalf of a DJ. But at the same time they write very nice songs. (Maybe they are something like the connecting thing between 'Franz Ferdinand'- kind of bands and a good Acid House DJ."

GOOFIN':

SONIC YOUTH: Murray Street LP (GOO 004LP). $13.00

"Indie vinyl of Sonic Youth's major label CD. The first Sonic Youth rock studio album following the assimilation of Jim O'Rourke. 180-gram vinyl. Sonic Youth have turned 21 years of age this year. The apprenticeship is over. They are now legal to fully rock on. Murray Street is where it gets interesting. The name comes from the street where Sonic Youth create rock-'n'roll. This album was written by Sonic Youth with newest member Jim O'Rourke, who helped engineer and did the mixing under the watchful eye and baffling behavior of the original SY members. The cover is a photograph taken by Monique, two children secured by webbing, at one with goddess earth."

SONIC YOUTH: Dirty 4LP (GOO 005LP). $34.00

"Quadruple-LP box set on the band's own Goofin' Records imprint includes: the original 15 album tracks; nearly two dozen bonus tracks culled from B-sides ('Genetic,' 'Hendrix Necro,' 'The Destroyed Room,' 'Is It My Body,' 'Personality Crisis,' 'The End Of The End Of The Ugly' and the eight-minute epic 'Tamra'), outtakes ('Stalker,' 'Youth Against Fascism' and 'Wish Fulfillment'), and rehearsal tapes from the period (the previously released 'Little Jammy Thing' and previously unreleased songs 'Lite Damage,' 'Dreamfinger,' 'Barracuda,' 'New White Kross,' 'Guido,' 'Moonface,' 'Poet In The Pit' and 'Theoretical Chaos'); an eye-watering trove of full-color artwork; and essays from Thurston Moore, Lee Ranaldo and journalist/co-conspirator Byron Coley.

The band's eighth official album, Dirty reflects the influence of touring partners such as Mudhoney and Nirvana; indeed, the team behind Nevermind — producer Butch Vig and mixer Andy Wallace — helped to craft an explosive, intense yet melodic rock album which would become arguably the band's most commercially and critically successful work to date."

SONIC YOUTH: Sonic Nurse 2LP (GOO 006LP). $15.00

Double LP, full color gatefold. "After twenty-three years of explosive creativity Sonic Youth throws down what may be their heaviest classic since the genre-breaking Daydream Nation. Nurse is the nineteenth long player by the New York City supernova, an action explosion Time magazine has already tagged as 'Sonic Youth's most adventurous and soul-stirring release to date, by a goddamn country mile.' Ten songs of American beauty and sonic death: on 'Pattern Recognition' Kim Gordon takes Justin Timberlake's hand and sticks it in a tendon-shredding meat grinder; they gay marriage the hell out of religious zealot war pigs Cheney, Rumsfeld, Bush and Ashcroft with the meditative 'Peace Attack'; Bare Trees-era Fleetwood Mac jams with Jealous Again-era Black Flag on the heart-pounding 'Unmade Bed' and 'I Love You Golden Blue'; the core reactor awesomeness of 'Paper Cup Exit' reduces such legends as Led Zeppelin and Yes to just so much British schoolboy whimpering."

GOOFIN'/FATHER YOD PRODUCTIONS:

SONIC YOUTH: Hold That Tiger CD (GOO 2/FYPC19). $13.00

CD version of an old LP on Sonic Youth's short-lived Goofin' label, originally issued on LP-only back in the day. Long unavailable on that format, finally available again with a much improved remastered sound by Wharton Tiers. A fully authorized release of what was considered to be the finest audio document of live Sonic Youth up until that time. Features a complete live performance of Sonic Sister Live, at Cabaret Metro in Chicago, 10/14/87. Track listing: Intro/Schizophrenia/Tom Violence/White Cross/Kotton Krown/Stereo Sanctity/Brother James/Pipeline/Kill Time/Catholic Block/Tuff Gnarl/Death Valley '69/Beauty Lies in the Eye/Expressway to Yr. Skull/Pacific Coast Hiway. Plus the complete encore of Ramones covers (Loudmouth/I Don't Want to Walk Around With You/Today Yr Love, Tomorrow The World/Beat on the Brat).

GOOOM DISQUES (FRANCE):

M83: Dead Cities, Red Seas & Lost Ghosts 2LP (GOOOM 025 LP). $15.00

The double vinyl version contains an 18 min. long bonus track.

M83: 0078h CD (GOOOM 031 CD). $6.50

"0078h' is taken from their critically acclaimed album Dead Cities, Red Seas & Lost Ghosts. The track is backed with a live version of 'Gone' and an immaculate remix of 'In Church' by Goom Disque label mates Cyann & Ben."

M83: 0078h 12" (GOOOM 031 EP). $9.00

Vinyl EP version. Same 3 tracks as the CD version.

M83: America CD (GOOOM 032CD). $8.00

"M83 — whose recent remix of Goldfrapp caused more than a few palpitations on the floor — release a generously stuffed thirty minute EP. 'America' is one of the stand out cuts from the album, a frantic hustle that binds electronic wizardry to headfucking guitars and disembodied but strangely familiar voices, offering one of the most unexpected and unusual breakdowns you'll ever hear. Both formats will feature bonus tracks 'Tsubasa', an example of M83's more pastoral outings, 'God Of Thunder' and a seventeen minute dream sequence entitled 'Dead Cities, Red Seas & Lost Ghosts'."

M83: America 12" (GOOOM 032EP). $9.00

Vinyl EP version, 4 tracks.

GPR MUSIC GROUP (UK):

BLACK DOG, THE: Temple Of Transparent Balls CD (GPR 001 CD). $15.00

The long inactive and groundbreaking GPR label resurrects' some of their classic Black Dog albums (pre-Warp) from the early 90s. Great to have these back, but the packaging is poorly done beyond belief (looks like they used a lo-res JPEG for cover art on this one, giving it a crude bootleg-like appearance), with no added extras. "Long lost classic debut album from Black Dog (who went on to become Plaid), originally released in '93 unavailable for absolutely ages. Regarded by many as their finest album, this will be of massive interest to electronica collectors. Features the classic single 'Cost II'."

BLACK DOG, THE: Parallel CD (GPR 015 CD). $15.00

"Long out of print, classic album of dark electronica now reavailable from Black Dog. Parallel is the excellent compilation of mega rare 12"s released from 1990 to 1993 from one of the UK's most inventive bands. An album of sparse, shuttling electronic soundtracks, includes 'Vantool', the Bukem fave 'Virtual' and the sublimations of 'Rainbow Bridge'."

GPS (AUSTRIA):

GOLDEN TONE: Micro Data: Live/Berlin 99 CD (GPS 001 CD). $17.00

"With real time processing of samples, Golden Tone creates suggestive synthetic soundscapes. These are formed by processing and combining extremely reduced raw musical material, tiny noises, sketches, trash, sounds and tones. Combined in continuously pulsating metamorphoses, these elements are also accompanied by rhythmic grooves. The acoustic textures seem to be fantastic, as if they sprang forth from some very far away place, as if from beyond. The CD was recorded at the first meeting of Fennesz and Zeitblom on March 10, 1999 in Podewil/Berlin and contains the entire performance."

GRAMMAR (NETHERLANDS):

PACOU: Broca 12" (GRAM 005). $9.00

"The new Grammar. Another stunning release after his cool album on Tresor by Berlin's Pacou, who has been pushing his machines to the max to get them at the maximum funk function."

GRAMMOFONPLADEN (DENMARK):

FOXX, REDD: Deep Note Presents: I Ain't Lied Yet CD (OST 7269CD). $14.00

"Deep Note presents the vintage comic genius of Redd Foxx! Before scoring big in the '70s with the TV show Sanford & Son, Redd Foxx had long career as a filthy mouthed comic who sold literally millions of long-playing 'party records'. This set from the early '70s is a stone gas with Foxx at the top of his quick-witted game enjoying the good time night club atmosphere with glasses clinking, drink orders being barked out by already intoxicated patrons, and the loose howls of attendees at the often profane punch-lines. Provocative digipak from the folks who bring you the best-selling Deep Note series."

SKILLET, LEROY & LAWANDA: Deep Note Presents: Back Door Daddy CD (OST 7369CD). $14.00

"Deep Note presents the classic meeting of two giant acts of '70s black comedy in a live revue complete with a crack funk-soul back-up band! Former stripper LaWanda 'The Bronze Goddess of Fire' Page (best known for her later role as Aunt Esther on TV's Sanford & Son) meets the foul-mouthed comedy team of Skillet & Leroy, who are perhaps best known outside of 'blue' comedy circles for their hilarious roles as the bad guy nightclub owners in Rudy Ray Moore's 1978 classic blaxploitation flick Pete's Wheatstraw. Unflinchingly ridiculous over-the-top X-rated hilarity with provocative digipak by the folks who bring you the Deep Note series."

VA: Inside Deep Note: Music Of 1970s Adult Cinema CD (OST 7469). $15.00

"The clever Danes behind Deep Note dig deeper into the 70s adult film music archives to get the inside story and uncover mo' better vintage musical gems in the process! Containing over one hour of sweaty grooves, wah-wah guitars, analog synths, funky horns, and deeply satisfying instrumental delights nicely spiced with entertaining dialogue, Inside Deep Note is beautifully packaged in a deluxe 8-panel digipak with a 16-page full-color booklet containing detailed liner notes and tons of classic photos."

VA: Deep Note (Music Of '70s Adult Cinema) CD (OST 7569). $15.00

From first-rate funk and soul-jazz to straight-ahead jazz, groovy rock, analog synth stylings and kitschy soundtrack cheese, Deep Note is over one hour of deeply satisfying instrumental delights from the golden age of adult cinema. Lightly peppered with entertaining dialogue, Deep Note is an extra tasty portion of '70s underground pop culture served up in a super full-color six-panel digipak... Far-out fun from a more carefree liberated time."

GRAND HARBOR (GERMANY):

EINSTURZENDE NEUBAUTEN: Silence Is Sexy 2LP (GH 002 LP). $20.00

"The 15th album by this pioneering German industrial band is now available as a limited edition double gatefold LP. 180 gram direct-to-metal mastering audiophile pressing. Includes the 18 minute bonus track that was included in the limited first CD edition. 3000 copies."

EINSTÜRZENDE NEUBAUTEN: Berlin Babylon LP (GH 004). $16.00

"Limited edition 1000 copies 180 gram pressing. Original Soundtrack." "The project: Berlin Babylon is the soundtrack for the same titled documentary movie by Berlin director Hubertus Siegert. Berlin after the fall of the Wall. Observations on the radical reconstruction process in the city's centre. The music that comments this film is by Einstürzende Neubauten, a band that could not be better suited to the theme; a band whose twenty-year history and even its name are rooted in Berlin. Although the band didn't know about director Hubertus Siegert's project at the time, 'Die Befindlichkeit des Landes' (The State of Mind of the Country), a track off their latest album, 'Silence is Sexy', already dealt with this permanent building site in Berlin's centre, and so the thoughts that had originally been conceived in isolation from each other, came together — expressed in music on the one hand and in cinematic pictures on the other. Apart from 'Die Befindlichkeit des Landes', which features in different versions, all other tracks are original compositions. The soundtrack is completed by a text penned by Walter Benjamin, presented by actress Angela Winkler, and an excerpt of Ludwig van Beethoven's 'Symphony No. 3'."

EINSTÜRZENDE NEUBAUTEN: 1991-2001 Strategies against architecture III 3LP BOX (GH 005). $34.00

German-only boxed LP version of the recent Mute 2CD release. "800 gr cardboard full-colored Box, 3 LPs (150gr) each album in full colored 12" sleeves, 1 fullcolored 4 page insert. Limited edition of 2000 worldwide." "This collection spans the last ten years of Einstürzende Neubauten recording career. It includes tracks from Silence is Sexy, Ende Neu and Tabula Rasa along with unreleased material. Most tracks are in a previously unreleased form (live, different take or remix?) This set comes in a deluxe packaging similar to their previous album Silence is Sexy."

GRAVITATION (SWEDEN):*OLSSON, BJORN: UPA CD (GRA 011). $15.00

"Instrumental album of arcane psychedelia and romantic, artie circle ambience from former Union Carbide Productions/Soundtrack Of Our Lives guitarist, genius/recluse Björn Olsson, whose deft guitar-work and narcotic interludes made TSOOL albums like Welcome to the Infant Freebase and Extended Revelation such utterly mindblowing affairs. This is the follow-up to his acclaimed debut, Instrumentalmusik... (on the Omplatten label in the US). UPA opens with the startling and surreal frantic steel drum fusion of 'Schweinest', then basks in Olsson's trademark solarized Morricone—Bo Hanson—Popol Vuh atmospheric and gracefully shades in some Herb Alpert brass, 70s Am Radio, and traditional Svensk folkmusik (imagine the aurora borealis flickering between your speakers, headphones, eardrums), before closing with the gargantuan riff and slide guitar groove of 'Tema I'. Then the entire album is tracked again, the second version filtered through Olsson's mini-cassette recorder, which gave the music a strange, warm quality that he found very appealing."

OLSSON, BJORN: CD (GRA 014 CD). $15.00

"Former guitarist and co-founder of Union Carbide Productions and The Soundtrack of Our Lives makes his best solo effort to date with an amazing acoustic album inspired by endless summer days at sea. Björn Olsson's third solo album has no title. If I could name it myself, I'd readily call it 'Theme for an Imaginary Seaside Western'. Because this album is indeed the perfect musical companion for a classic wild frontier film by Leone, Pekinpah or Ford, evoking inner visions of both grand cinematic landscapes and tender intimate moments of the soul within. At the same time its inspiration comes just as much out of Olsson's experiences of the serene and beautiful Gothenburg archipelago on Sweden's western seashore, a favorite haunt of his for many years, studded with barren rocky islands and countless summer memories. An unlikely combination of influences perhaps, but — as always in great art — a working one. Björn Olsson's fascination with Spaghetti western soundtrack master Ennio Morricone reaches its pinnacle on this album. Just listen to the masterful harmonica on 'Munspelsl', the majesty of 'Tjörn' and 'Göteborg' or the genuine country & western groove of 'Instrumental'. These songs are thematically much more held together than his predecessor UPA, which intentionally was a very eclectic and challenging album. On this new album, the songs segue into one another seemingly without effort, and the listener is quickly lured into them. The musical and emotional flow is there, and you cannot but give in to its charm. Still, there are loads of melodies and pop sensibilities, so each track can hold the ground on its own. A lush acoustic arrangement and a warm analogue sound flows through all the songs on this record. Piano, flute, guitar, harmonica, double bass, steel guitar and Olssons haunting whistling - replacing regular vocals and perhaps the most obvious link to the earlier mentioned Morricone — coupled with a great sense of melody make this a real jewel of an album. But this is no carbon copy of glories past. Olsson has fused the Morricone vibes with so disparate yet genial influences as Popol Vuh, The Band, Bob Dylan, (listen for example to the song 'Tjörn'), Baroque music ('Smögen'), Swedish country crooner Mats R'dberg and the folk heritage of 'the Swedish songbook' to create his own unique and very vibrant blend of pop music. As a special treat, the album is recorded in two versions on the same CD, one being mixed through a mixing desk, and the other — an Olsson specialty — through a tape recorder to get that warm and subdued sound Björn loves so much. Thanks to the ability that Björn Olsson has of making something new and unexpected out of the worn and shorn, whether its Stooges rock in Union Carbide or psychedelia such as in The Soundtrack of Our Lives — this album is far from an ironic nod to history or a second rate homage. To me, it embodies what all-great pop must be made of — a sense of here & now, of motion & emotion, drama & melodrama... and beneath it all, the unquestionable beating of a big red heart."

GREEN TEA (UK):*KING JAMMY MEETS DRY & HEAVY: In The Jaws Of The Tiger CD (GTT 004CD). $15.00

"The legendary Jamaican producer King Jammy has remixed tracks from Dry And Heavy's first two albums (One Punch + Full Contact) and come up with a stunning dub album in the best traditions of the genre. Formerly known as Prince Jammy he has dusted down the classic effects that were a mainstay of his work with King Tubby and re-mixed tracks that have now taken on different sound dimension. Standout tracks such as 'Rumble Dub' and 'Nightflight Dub' all have a space and ethereal sound quality that is impressive while still managing to keep a "live" feel to the music that Jammy's mixing has managed to enhance."

GREEN TREE (GERMANY):*ARCADIUM: Breathe Awhile CD (GTR 002). $15.00

Reduced price on this 1992 CD reissue (more recently issued on Repertoire) of this 1969 heavy UK psych masterwork with an approximate mystical touch, originally issued on the Middle Earth label. The group's only album, this CD also adds their 2 7" tracks as a bonus.

The opening 12 minute track, "I'm On My Way", is one of those slowly building psych epic's full of emotional teetering and guitar/organ flourish that slays the unprepared listener to dust. They follow it up with one of the best-ever tracks to contain the word "lady" in the title. There's some other tracks as well, but how much excitement can you take?

SCHICKERT, GUNTER: Überfällig CD (GTR 080). $19.00

1998 CD reissue of this 1980 album, originally issued by Sky in Germany. This was Schickert's second album, following his Brain debut Samtvoegel from 1974 (not on CD!). Schickert is a space-echo guitar stylist, in a similar vein to post-Inventions-era Manuel Gottsching or Achim Reichel. Relying on fascinating rhythmic pulsations (at times recalling prime Can-like velocities), with synthesizer and occasional vocal accompaniment, this is a superb and relatively unknown German space/pattern masterwork.

GREY AREA OF MUTE (UK):*CABARET VOLTAIRE: Nag Nag Nag (Richard Kirk Mixes) 12" (CABS 019EP). $8.00

"Released on Special Limited Edition 12" vinyl only, the new mixes were inspired by Novamute's 2002 re-release of Nag Nag Nag, with remixes by Akufen and Tiga & Zynthierus. Originally Richard decided to tinker with the track for his own personal use, but was persuaded to include his #4 mix on the release last year. He has now allowed The Grey Area of Mute to release a strictly limited edition 12" of all the mixes."

GREY PAST RECORDS (NETHERLANDS):*NV GROEP '65: Dank Zij De Heer 10" (DUST 001). $21.00

"Grey Past Records presents the complete 1965-1966 Bovema recordings of Dutch psychedelic/beat legends NV Groep '65. A very drug-injected psych beat combo from Amsterdam, who's lead singer was 'doped' Jesus, cause he was walking the streets of Amsterdam down in a robe bare footed on sandals. They released only 2 very sought-after singles, 'Dank Zij De Heer' and 'Pipe And You Like It'. This 10" has all 4 tracks of these singles, 2 demo version of 'Lost' and 'Dank Zij De Heer' + 2 unreleased tracks from 1965."

VA: Turkish Delights CD (DUST 002CD). $21.00

"Digital issue of the previous Grey Past LP, 10 CD-only bonus tracks to speak of; two Erkin Koray jams ('Cicek Dagı'), active eastern guitar instrumental with group-grunt, and 'Sana Bir Seyler Olmug', Turkish for 'Land of a Thousand Dances' apparently, tasty drum breaks, dissonant organ, then pop), and one extra each from Mogollar ('Eastern Love', a loose enough west-coast inspired runthrough...with English vocals), Cahit Oben ('Makaram Sari Baglar', a fairly spacey/distant rave-up, not dissimilar in aesthetic to the whole group-sounds explosion in Japan), Apaslar ('Sans Cocugu', groovy instrumental film-musik jam, mild-hot eastern guitar freakouts), Mavi's Isikar ('Ask Cicegi', good fuzz tone, active bass, wormhole causing haze in spots) and Cocuklar ('Tamzara', descending figure, countering guitar line, snaky, Ventures-ish), Haramiler ('Camlica Yolunda', tubby surf 'choon in nine, saxophone), Cem Karaca & Apaslar ('Anadolu Oyun Havasi' charged straight beat-esque harmonic minor whatnot), and Yabancilar ('Agit', a great low-light space-study, perfect cap). Original LP tracks are fairly wide-reaching stylistically, some real gems, some duff examples. Completists shed a lonely tear in the CD age, newbies take flight in the gap. Exotic, in the old world sense." — Hrvatski

VA: Steam Kodok CD (DUST 004CD). $21.00

Compilation of weird 60s pop & rock from Singapore and the South-east Asia underground. CD version of the now deleted LP, with 9 extra tracks! From the same label that gave us the Turkish Delights CD, this one could be comparable to the Cambodian Rocks comp on Parallel World. "Was there ever a beast known as Singapore Pop. Now buzzwords like J-Pop or K-Pop abound but there was a time when Singapore Pop shined brightly. When groups were forming and being signed and records were being released weekly. Singapore's musical brew was a heady mix of different influences sung in English, Malay and Chinese. The artists presented on this CD represent a mix of those styles and influences. They range from popular bands like Quests who came from the early Sixties era, Naomi and The Boys who hit big in 1965 and had a successful four year run, Antartics who personified the second wave of R&B tinged groups, then Malay groups like D'4 Ever, Les Kafila's, Mike Ibrahim and The Nite Walkers, Swallows, Ismail Haron and The Guys and two guests from Thailand — Dynamics and Fox. The music ranges from pop, R & B, early heavy to the plain weird. It is a mix of Western influences and Asian ethnic diversity to produce something unique that can only be Singapore pop albeit two guests."

VA: Steam Kodok LP (DUST 004LP). $21.00

"From the label that brought you Turkish Delights comes this compilation of 17 A-GO-GO ultrararities from the Singapore & South-East Asian 60's underground. A collection of very eccentric ethnic Psych, Garage & Beat, a mix of east and west or in other words a clash of cultures. Housed in flashing full color sleeve with the backside showing all sleeves of all singles involved. A feast for the mind & eye."

GRIMSEY:*TUCKER B'S: 29 Serious Girlfriends CD (GR 024CD). $9.50

"29 Serious Girlfriends is an EP of collected works that have previously only been available in Australia. It's good old fashioned weird artrock. Wear earplugs, xo."

GRITTY KITTY:*KING FROG: 7" (GK 707). $3.00

"Solo performance by Noggin guitar torcher Eric. Turntables, tape manipulations, and other found sound put to alternately mesmerizing and nauseating effect. Limited to 500 copies with hand made covers."

NOGGIN: 7" (GK 708). $3.00

1st single by this Bellingham duo of amplified guitar and violin rake. Previously shared a split LP with Pork Queen, later released a full length CD on Trackshun Industries.

GROB (GERMANY):*MONTERA, JEAN-MARC: Smiles From Jupiter CD (GROB 001). $16.00

"When the French-Corsican guitarist Jean Marc Montera came to Cologne in April 1998 to perform at the 'Jack Pohl Presents' festival, we got the idea to record his impressive solo performance. Because he took the cheapest flight to Cologne from France, he had to stay nearly a week in Cologne. Time enough to record. These recordings were supposed to become Grob's first CD, honored with the catalog number 001, but they took place under irregular conditions. It took two years to reconstruct them into an adequate form. Smiles from Jupiter is, after Hang Around Shout (FMP 1996), Montera's second solo recording. The music is hard and aggressive, splintered and fragmented. What drives it is a musical effort that forms a dense stream-of-consciousness from out of the most disparate individual sounds. Thus it's no surprise when a dramatic Corsican blues results from a horrifying tonal color poem. Montera nullifies the separation between energy and diffusion, euphony and noise attacks, between the electric and table top guitar. While reconstructing the recordings, the co-producer Joseph Suchy made several variations on the original pieces. Suchy did not use overdubs, but rather simply arranged the sounds anew. The variations are also found on the CD. Jean-Marc Montera lives in Marseille. He's worked with Paul Lovens, Wolfgang Fuchs, Michel Doneda, Erik M, Thurston Moore, Lee Ranaldo, Loren Mazzacane Connors, Günther Müller, Jean-François Pauvros, Tony Buck, Chris Cutler and many others."

BEASTIESHOPBEACH: CD (GROB 101). $16.00

"Olaf Rupp and Götz Rogge, both from Berlin, play live electronic music. They have hidden beats meet droning melodies, while destroyed guitar chords meet acoustic entropy and wild activism. Everything is constructed within and on top of everything else. Overlapping is not considered by them to be provocation however, but the last means of perceiving the world. Beastieshopbeach improvise. Their technical means are modest — a beaten wooden board in place of a drum machine- but their imagination has no limits. Götz Rogge works as a filmmaker, while Olaf Rupp is an established guitarist and electronic musician (solo guitar, plus collaborations with Wolfgang Fuchs, Harri Sjöström, Paul Lovens, Thomas Lehn, Butch Morris)."

KONK PACK: Big Deep CD (GROB 102). $16.00

"Konk Pack is a hardcore trio made up of world class improvisers Tim Hodgkinson (Henry Cow, The Work, God, etc.), Thomas Lehn (Music In Movement Electronic Orchestra, Eugene Chadbourne, the Klangräumer, Paul Lovens, Shabotinski, Radu Malfatti, Gerry Hemingway, Günter Christmann, Evan Parker, 'Probably the world's best synthesizer player.' - Jim O'Rourke), and Roger Turner (John Russell, Hugh Davies, Alan Silva, Phil Minton, John Butcher, Comforts of Madness, Steve Beresford, Evan Parker, Derek Bailey, Cecil Taylor, etc.). The sensitivity of British improvised music is represented via the crackling nad snapping of electronics, the howling and roaring of reed and tabletop guitar, and the rattling and rustling of percussion. These are melded with a trashy, overloaded attitude that's nasty. A heavy rocking swing echoes out of loose noise conglomerations. And when they say rock, they mean it."

SUCHY, JOSEPH: Smile CD (GROB 103). $16.00

"Announced in 1978: the debut album from the guitarist and producer Joseph Suchy, a guitar virtuoso who focused here on completely brute and highly dynamic sound eruptions, and whose subtlety appeared in sudden breaks and surprising empty spaces. With only a guitar and multi-tracking device, he constructs complex improvised music. The effect of such music is aimed directly at the body and perceived via the stomach. The music's physical presence takes one's breath away in the truest sense of the word. Smile does not consist solely of material from 1978. Over the last 20 years, Suchy has made many attempts at a solo project, and each time threw out completely formed designs. He worked on Smile for over a year. Suchy has played with, among others, FX Randomiz and Jan St. Werner (Mouse On Mars) in the group Four Square Logos, as well as in the freecore group Metall Assemblage. Along with Randomiz and Werner, he also produces for the label Gefriem."

WERTHER/WITTWER: I CD (GROB 204). $15.00

"Michael Wertmüller and Stephan Wittwer remember the great times, when bands such as Althot! or Painkiller fused metal and free jazz- but Wertmüller and Wittwer do it only in order to develop their own definition of energy loaded improvisation in the middle of well-known quotations and stylistic loans. For a moment one thinks of desert rock, the Melvins, post-industrial tribalism and cool-concentrated uncontrolled rage à la Slayer. But Wertmüller and Wittwer do not limit themselves to citing. They insist on these moments, take them apart, roll them flat, chew on them so long that they lose their original consistency. In spite of reflecting upon itself, the music develops a striking force that is simply breathtaking. Werther & Wittwer easily stand up to the paradox of the simultaneity between standing still and racing along."

CHADLEHN: C Inside CD (GROB 205). $15.00

"The virtuous string player Eugene Chadbourne and the ingenious synthesizer player Thomas Lehn met in the summer of 1999 to celebrate an impossible event: the confrontation of a banjo with an analogue EMS-synthesizer. Both know well, as if dreaming, how to move between material extension and its demolition in the best tradition of European improvised music and country songs, as only Chadbourne can recite them. As if they had never done anything else. It doesn't matter if they weave dense interactions and lump them into great noise or consciously go separate ways and seem to play without the other- their exchange is always direct, constantly ther other knows the right answer. Spontaneous improvisation in full completion: C Inside actually documents the first meeting of these master musicians."

O'ROURKE/FRED LONBERG-HOLM/WEASEL WALTER, JIM: A Tribute to Masayuki Takayanagi CD (GROB 208). $15.00

"Aside from Keith Rowe and fully independent of him, Masayuki Takayanagi was the first guitarist to use the table-top guitar, thereby instigating a purely incomprehensible noise. The Japanese priests of noise, Keiji Haino, Otomo Yoshihide and Merzbow all went to his =school. For Weasel Walter, drummer and mastermind of the Flying Luttenbachers, this was cause enough to dedicate an entire CD to him. No, one doesn't have to say much about this. This is highly dynamic no-compromise noise, packed in an aesthetic that ostensibly plays with clichés of violence and has O'Rourke as 'Lycanthrovampyr'. It rocks, uncontrolled and still on the dot. Weasel Walter's bottomless black calculation proves right. We also need not mince words about O'Rourke, the Todd Rundgren of our epoch, or about Fred Longberg-Holm, the inspired cellist, who has played with everyone, from Peter Brötzmann to Anthony Coleman. What else? The CD presents two sessions, one from 1996, one from 2000; there are a few overdubs (on the session from 2000) and O'Rourke plays Kevin Drumm's guitar (on the session from 1996). The cover art, the liner notes and the mix are from Weasel Walter. And don't get the idea to bother the group with interview inquiries."

PRINS, GERT-JAN: Live CD (GROB 210). $15.00

"During the last three years Gert-Jan Prins, living in Amsterdam, established himself as one of the main electronic performers in improvised music. Once known as a drummer who played with Johannes Bauer or Luc Houtkamp, he has recently played electronics with Mats Gustafsson, Misha Mengelberg, Fred Van Hove, Lee Ranaldo, Thomas Lehn, Peter Von Bergen, or in MIMEO. In this arena he uses self-developed instruments which acoustically channel the optical signals of televisions, or form heavy beats from radio frequencies. Live is Prins' third solo CD. His first was based on composition models and released on his own X-OR label. And his second was released on Frank Dommert's (Sonig) and Georg Odijk's (A-Musik) Sieben imprint last year. Live is, of course, a live recording, and is Prins' first. Recorded throughout the course of 1999 and 2000, here's your chance to experience Prins' unique sound aesthetic. Cover art by Frank Dommert."

HAUTZINGER, FRANZ: Gomberg CD (GROB 211). $15.00

"A Comeback. Over the past three years the trumpeter and composer Franz Hautzinger hasn't released any CDs. Instead he's worked hard with his instrument and developed his completely unique language. Huatzingere doesn't refer to any scale, any common harmony, whether tonal nor atonal. He presents the elementary things; the air stream, and the breath. Gomberg compresses more than eight hours of solo material into one hour. The recordings took place at different places like New York, Vienna or near the Taj Mahal (India). Gomberg is one of the very few CDs which feature solo trumpet. And so Bill Dixon, free jazz revolutionary of the first order, professor, partner of Archie Shepp, Cecil Taylor, and Tony Oxley insisted on handling the 20-page liner notes. Franz Hautzinger lives in Vienna. He's currently working with Werner Dafeldecker, Martin Brandlmeyer (Radian), Steve Noble, Otomo Yoshihide, Helge Hinteregger. He directs the groups Dachte Musik and Das Regenorchester and is a composing member of the Zeitkratzer-Esemble in Berlin."

TICKLISH: CD (GROB 212). $15.00

"Micro-Macro. Electronic music that's non-idiomatic and falls between the grooves. Ticklish features London improvisers Kev Hopper (Stereolab, High Llamas, works with Charles Hayward), Richard Sanderson (Chris Burn Ensemble) and Phil Durrant (works with John Butcher, John Russell, Thomas Lehn, Radu Malfatti, MIMEO) and the video artist Rob Flint. Their music fills up a vacancy. They bring the best models of danceable and cool electronic music into a free pulse. And what's more, they do the reversal: from the abstract heights of the improv scene in England Ticklish push forward to the clicks & cuts of post-techno. Their music is groove without the dictate of the beat, cool without setting on the foreground of a hook. Improvisation without plinky-plonky. This CD is also their first one."

DACHTE MUSIK: Dachte Musik 2CD (GROB 313/4). $21.00

"Following Gomberg (GROB 211), Dachte Musik is the second provocative project that the Viennese trumpeter and composer Franz Hautzinger has released on GROB (others will follow!). Dachte Musik unifies several of the musically most radical and innovative Austrian voices: next to Franz Hautzinger are the trombonist Radu Malfatti and the guitarists Burkhard Stangl and Gunter Schneider. They are all active composers and crossover artists between the typically so bitterly defended territories of improvised and new music. Dachte Musik is an untranslatable title and even in German unapproachable — this is exactly how the music's radical nature expresses itself. What's meant is that music is not simply played and thus thought [gedacht] and hence understood in the (grammatical) passive (voice), in which a simple reference is forced upon an activity (of the musicians, of the composer). On this double CD, the group Dachte Musik voices this shimmering and ambivalence of music so clearly and concisely, like no other group. In their two long instant compositions, each filling a CD, they act completely free of intention, develop no tension-filled arches, do without foregrounded interaction patterns and insist, in the end, solely on the sound of the instrument itself: strings sound like strings, the horns form air, but no melodies, no motives, no tones. The music is peaceful, but it's probably not even that. It is simply left over to itself. Every moment of tension and of expression comes into being out of the material itself, pure."

STEAMBOAT SWITZERLAND: Budapest CD (GROB 315). $15.00

"Over two years after Steamboat Switzerland hit the (post-) improv and (post-) noise scene with their Live CD, only now do the long awaited follow up CDs appear. If the debut CD presented a patchwork of improvisation, own and foreign compositions and rock pieces, Budapest and ac/dB [Hayden] are compact, integral and equally imploring monolithic works. And yet the two CDs couldn't be more different. Budapest is the result of a purely improvised concert they gave in Danube metropolis in the Fall of 1999. The noise and prog rock roots have been compressed so much that there are no more clichés nor more citations, only tension that bursts asunder. The CD was mixed and co-produced by Stephan Wittwer, who contributed the intro, a little gem about the state of being chopped up. The grunge track that the band played following their improvisation, as an encore, is also a composition from Wittwer. The liner notes to this CD were written by Dietmar Dath."

STEAMBOAT SWITZERLAND: ac/dB [Hayden] CD (GROB 316). $15.00

"ac/dB [Hayden] is a clash of two compositions: 'dB' is a work that the English composer Sam Hayden exclusively wrote for Steamboat Switzerland. On the CD, 'dB' alternates with 'ac', a collective composition of the band's members, Dominik Blum, Lucas Niggli and Marino Pliakas. Both pieces rub against, wash around and contrast each other as well as radically questioning each other. Thus, an uncommon tension-filled opus comes into being, that (as dumb as it may sound) is more than the sum of its parts. ac/dB [Hayden] demonstrates how powerful, explosive and, well yes, swinging new music can be. Or is it really the progressive music of the 'now time' that simply blows away the entire postrock of the last few years and makes us forget it all? Two CDs were necessary (they function autonomously) in order to give a halfway decent picture of the band. It was worth it. Deeper and deeper in the uncanny intimacy of abstraction."

SCHOOL OF VELOCITY: Homework CD (GROB 317). $15.00

"The School of Velocity was originally a product of London's closely meshed improv scene in which everyone had the chance to play with everyone at every possible opportunity. The multi-instrumentalist and guitarist Dave Tucker initiated the project in 1998. At this point in time, he had already written a little music history: at the end of the 70's, beginning of the 80's he was a member of the legendary (post-) punkband, The Fall, and since the beginning of the 90's he has been garnering more and more attention in London's improv scene. Today he works, among others, in a duo with John Butcher, in a quartet with Phil Moniton, Roger Turner and Pat Thomas, in projects with Louis Moloho or as a composer for the London Improvisers Orchestra. In this context, the School of Velocity was at first nothing more than another ad hoc group to which Tucker invited the drummer Steve Noble, the saxophonist Evan Parker and later, the bassist John Edwards. The penetrating power of this group as well as the willingness of the participants to allow differing music influences and to create an own music syntax from them lead, ultimately, to an extended studio session in the Spring of 2000. Its best parts are documented on Homework. The rock influences of Dave Tucker, the characteristic saxophone of Evan Parker, the muscular bass and the varied drums unite in the open improvisational structures, as typical for the British school. Evan Parker, perhaps the most significant and style forming saxophonist of the last thirty years, uses almost solely his tenor saxophone, which is also an index for how energetic this music is. And yet it never loses its transparency. Responsible for this is, on the one hand, the excellent production, done by the musicians themselves, and on the other, the sensitive, apparently radar guided acting by John Edwards and Steve Noble. In short, Homework is an authentic document of a promising, new group."

MARCHETTI VOICE CRACK, NOETINGER: Double Wash CD (GROB 318). $15.00

"In the last few years, the Swiss duo Andi Guhl and Norbert Möslang, a.k.a. Voice Crack, a.k.a. 'The Godfathers of Glitch' (Phil Durrant) have searched out cooperation with other artists: there have been recordings with Günter Müller, Jim O'Rourke, Eric M and Otomo Yoshihide. The cooperation with Lionel Marchetti and Jérôme Noetinger is doubly different on Double Wash. On the one hand, both Frenchmen work, musically, in a similar field; to a large degree, they also use found objects in their electro-acoustic improvisations. On the other hand, the recordings made in the Winter of 1998 are not a pure documentation — they were re-mixed in the Summer by Marchetti above all, but also by Möslang. What's being released is a CD that is committed to improvisation as well as to electro-acoustic music. This can naturally be traced back to the participation of the French. Marchetti and Noetinger see themselves in the tradition of the now classic musique concrète, and as owner of the label and distribution Metamkine, Noetinger has released, for example, compositions from Jim O'Rourke or Luc Ferrari, and Marchetti has cooperated, as a composer, with Ralf Wehowsky, among others. Both see musique concrète, however, not as sacred territory to be preserved at all costs — they have developed an open, punk-like attitude to this sound aesthetic; they infiltrate the music with improvisation and a D.I.Y. attitude. Little need be said about Voice Crack and their cracked everyday electronics. For over 25 years, they have been developing, beginning in Free Jazz, then becoming a harsh noise group par excellence in the 80's and extending our listening habits with breath taking sound layers: just as brute as subtle and always resourceful. Double Wash brings this dialectic of formal variety and monochromatism, of willingness to exchange and of unmistakable handwriting to its conclusion."

DAFELDECKER/BORIS D. HEGENBART, WERNER: Eis 9 CD (GROB 319). $15.00

"Two years ago, the German pop music magazine Spex (a bit like Option in German) called the Viennese Werner Dafeldecker 'a Jim O'Rourke from the Alps.' The comparison strikes one as quite distorted but is based on a few things in common. Both represent an extended idea of improvisation that does not rest upon parameters like 'interaction,' 'dynamics,' or 'energy,' but rather that appears airy, looser, more comprehensive: (sound in) space becomes more important, the occasion plays a bigger (more existential) role in the foreground. Indeed this occasion is not only another situation to improvise together, but rather an expression of a state that one should adjust his/her sensors completely anew. The influence of new music (the New York School and beyond) never seems apparent, but as it were, subcutaneously. Just like the improvisations of O'Rourke in the 90's, Dafeldecker's space is characterized by the logical but constantly surprising intervention that breaks the peaceful current of the music and continues it at the same time. Eis-9 [Ice Cream 9] is a summer record, no hermetic structures, no gloomy sounds, no wallowing in stagnation and hardening (= cold). Ice cream melts. Dafeldecker demonstrates here once more how he dissociates his strict instrumentalism (dealing with the instrument as essential sound material) from his original instrument, the contra bass, and transfers it to others: guitar, percussion, found objects, PowerBook. Just as gropingly as definite. Eis-9 is above all the product of an intensive cooperation with the Berlin/Viennese electronic musician Boris D. Hegenbart. Coming out of nowhere, he published the CD Hikuito in 1998, music developed in hand made paper that came to fragile melodies once peeling away its (apparent) influences (Carl Stone, Oval). The groping and the definite flowed into the Eis-9 cooperation. Improvised music as symbiosis, as something that does not only come into being in the instant, but rather that grows. Eis-9 also means 'ice cream' is not an unambiguous fixed construction, but one that dissolves in various forms, structures, and, well, states."

WITTWER, STEPHAN: Streams CD (GROB 320). $15.00

"Eleven years after World of Strings, Streams is the second solo record from Stephan Wittwer. If World of Strings was a live recording, a, if you wish, naked guitar record, then Streams presents itself as multi-layered, complex but thoroughly listenable textures. It reflects Wittwer's work with (live) electronics, which has led into a surprising, yet absolutely logical synthesis (or better, symbiosis). What is guitar and what is digitally processed, what is played live in now time and what was synthesized later — all this is no longer clearly recognizable. But it's not a question of this. Feeding from differing sources, Streams has become a great, multifarious shimmering river. Wittwer has developed a new musical connection that doesn't sound like what one expects from him and which expresses a lot of what he has been working on in the last few years (or decades). No, no heavy metal substrates any more, no Free Jazz transformations, no 'Death Jazz' (the name of a programmatic title on World of Strings). Instead, a density and duration that one knows from his hardest productions, but with a lot of trace elements and embedded crystals references to very early LPs. Indeed, there are moments that remind one of his legendary FMP record Und? (1977) with Radu Malfatti. The artist himself talks of a 'peaceful and introspective recording.'"

CHADBOURNE & JOE WILLIAMSON & ULI JENNEBEN, EUGENE: Ayler Undead CD (GROB 321). $15.00

"Amidst the welter of the legendary, unlistenable and uncool Chadbourne releases, Ayler Undead (recorded in Cologne in 2000 and in his home Greensboro) sticks out, not only because Dr. Chadbourne is presenting a new Free Jazz trio with the Berlin improvisers Joe Williamson (bass) and Uli Jenneben (drums) and recorded a few unconventional overdubs, but more so because Ayler Undead is the first recording that is wholly dedicated to Albert Ayler and his music. The trio plays his compositions with one exception: Hendrix-like they destroy 'La Marseillaise.' Chadbourne makes two aspects of Ayler's music (again) very clear: the psychedelic and the free jazzy. The music is supplemented by extensive liner notes of the master, by graphic investigation of Sven von Redens on the complex 'Ayler ?? Chadbourne' and by a statement of the producer Felix Klopotek."

DENLEY/ MARTIN NG, JIM: Vergency CD (GROB 322). $15.00

"Wild, confused, fissured and fuddled, and always dashing forward — this is how the music of Jim Denley and Martin NG blows against a listener. Denley and NG have been a constant presence in Melbourne's small but fine improvisation scene for years. Alto saxophonist, flautist and flute deconstructor, Denley has been working (for over ten years) with Machine for Making Sense? in duo with Stevie Wishart or with the international group Lines? (with Marcio Mattos, Phil Wachsmann, Axel Dörner and Martin Blume). As posited by Evan Parker 30 years ago, Denley has always worked hard on splintering his instrument's sound, following a sound-immanent paradigm. Like every good improviser, Denley has broken away from his immediate role models and handicaps and has his own superior approach: abrupt, harsh, sudden, attacking and always proximate to the actions of his musical colleagues. Martin NG, an excellent music expert, but a cardiologist by profession, uses turntables and CD players on this recording. Here too, one thinks of the masters of this instrument, Christian Marclay or Rick Ru (with whom NG collaborates, by the way). Martin NG has advanced to become a cut-up virtuoso, as this duo demonstrates. Citations of other musics do not appear in the recording as memory fragments of historicity, but rather are immediate components of improvisation. Even in the wildest turmoil he is able to create a continuity, a connection at the highest level. This is perhaps because he has recorded an extremely quiet and introverted CD with Oren Ambarchie (reconnaissance, Staubgold 2000). Or because his duo with Denley can look back upon a long productive phase of cooperation, whereas the foundation of trust rests in the constancy of permanent surprise."

KONK PACK: Warp Out CD (GROB 323). $15.00

"After the Big Deep, Warp Out is the second album from Konk Pack, the all-star trio of Thomas Lehn, Tim Hodgkinson and Roger Turner. The musical approach, therefore, bursts apart a narrow conceptual understanding of improvised music. The band has a dense and supremely well handled communicational repertoire, which allow them to infiltrate the fields of rock music without ever sounding like rock (even when they allow Captain Beefheart's Magic Band — in its most unchained moments — to serve as a reference for a few passages). They bring the intensity of noise music to its essence, and yet they are, first of all, an improvising, free playing or, better, liberated acting band. Freedom for them is not only freedom from rhythmical and harmonic clichés, it is also a freedom to decide for specific idioms. Plainly, Konk Pack do not plan to vouch again for new clichés once the old ones have been smashed apart. Warp Out is not a noise album! The searching and finding, the quiet passages in which the energy has first to be collected, the sound organization without hierarchy — all are elements that stand, with equality, next to the orgies of intensity. Moreover, these elements give the latter a depth and sharpness it would not have without the contrast that the restrained moments give the music."

DAVIES, HUGH: Warming Up With The Iceman CD (GROB 324). $15.00

"The former musical biography of Hugh Davies is worthy of a legend: the 58 year-old from London was an assistant of Karl-Heinz Stockhausen for a long time in the 60's. He was the successor of the famous Stockhausen dissident Cornelius Cardew. When he returned to England at the end of the 60's, he jumped into the eye of the typhoon. In Europe the improvised music emancipated itself from New Music and from Free Jazz. From 1968 to 1971 Hugh Davies played with the group that most resolutely represented the non-idiomatic, 'instrumental' music of the British: the Music Improvisation Company. His comrades-in-arms were Derek Bailey, Evan Parker and Jamie Muir. Peter Brötzmann grabbed Davies in his trio with Han Bennink and Fred van Hove for a short period of time. They even gave a legendary concert with Don Cherry. The quartet, however, was not recorded at the time. For Jost Gebers, organizer of the concert and producer of FMP, this concert was a good reason to record him. Hugh Davies' first solo record appeared then on FMP. That was in 1981. Warming Up With The Iceman is his second. In the meantime, Davies has continued to work as an improviser (among others with the instrument inventor Hans-Karsten Raecke and in a trio with Roger Turner and John Russell), as a composer, music specialist and historian. Why then is Davies and his music both so sought after and so exotic? It's his instruments. Davies develops and constructs them himself. They are not based on defamiliarizations of present types, but rather they are completely autonomous creations: My Spring Collection, Porcupine, Shozyg and Multishozyg. In fact, they are small, very small wonders of electro acoustics. And they correspond to a way of playing that also goes its own way, with commitment, and stands unique in both new as well as improvised music."

HAUTZINGER, BAILEY: CD (GROB 425). $15.00

"Hautzinger's style, heavily loaded with noise and known from his solo CD Gomberg (GROB 211), sabotages the typical reaction patterns and clichés of (the really no longer very) free music. He has opened this music to new perspectives, created other structural levels, made possible a differentiated listening, as old fashioned as this sounds! As an outsider Hautzinger is able to shift the party lines, thanks to his absolutely individual, idiosyncratic way of playing the trumpet. 'Of course,' Bailey had no problems adapting ad hoc to this perspective. And because one knows that Bailey is Bailey, one doesn't need to get dumfounded, but can directly submerge into the fine, careful (but not reserved) structures and branches and thereby perceive how Hautzinger forms his own playing, how he growls, broods, mumbles and murmurs softer. Until a melody appears on the horizon. One of the first improv records of the new century, said in all modesty."

DIE ENTTÄUSCHUNG: CD (GROB 426). $15.00

"A Jazz CD. Really. The first to appear in Grob's program, the first that could ever appear in Grob's program. The Enttäuschung is a super group of modern jazz. Axel Dörner plays trumpet, Rudi Mahall bass clarinet, Jan Roder bass and Uli Jenneben drums, all personalities of the Berlin jazz scene, all internationally known. Six years ago they released their debut double LP, on which they solely interpreted Monk. Seven Monk compositions, among others, 'Trinkle Trinkle' and 'Brilliant Corner' are to be heard on this CD. One sits up and takes notice. For didn't Monk deal with the old problem of how one can move from tone/segment to the next without making lazy compromises? In his own reduced but spicy compositions he made an example of his solutions. The Enttäuschung manages to stay faithful to Monk's radical nature, to stay in close contact with the original and turn it upside down. Their model of coming to a head and resolution is to decompose, split, lay apart and put the pieces back together; one could enthusiastically analyze the disturbing noises, the cool solos, and the even cooler performance. Sound/melody/themes are isolated, looped by hand, processed, and joined with others. In these high-end trashily recorded pieces, a lot actually happens without becoming nervous or hectic. Concentrated intensity. It is exactly what one has always wanted to hear from jazz these days."

PRINS/VAN BERGEN/FENNESZ: Dawn CD (GROB 427). $15.00

"Dawn is a classical improvisation record, everything but post modern. It was recorded at the legendary Total Music Meeting of Free Music Production in November 2000. Dawn is a composition played off the cuff of nearly 42 minutes. All the highs and lows of a longer composition are on this recording: searching and finding, restrained groping and violent erupting.... The decisive factor, however, is that this music is played by people who have nothing or very little to do with this attitude, by Gert-Jan Prins, by the saxophone player and composer Peter van Bergen and by Christian Fennesz, one of the superstars of the electronica jet set. Via their strictly 'electronic thinking' (one hears a saxophone, of course, but the appearance deceives), these musicians break away from the approach on musical material developed within free improvisation in the last 40 years. On the other hand, this thinking does not lead to a 'clicks 'n' cuts' aesthetic, but rather to a musical process that has been worked hard for, provisional, not completed, but gripping at every moment."

FRIEDL/ELLIOTT SHARP, REINHOLD: aNostalgia CD (GROB 428). $15.00

"Sharp is not only a master of eclecticism. His strengths consist in stamping his style upon this confusion. No matter if it's rock, free jazz or a composition for a string quartet, Sharp plays Sharp music in the first place: dense, dramatic, loaded with atmosphere, standing under enormous tension, and thoroughly emotional. Always precise and in the surprising moment, laconic as well. His duo with Reinhold Friedl makes these characteristics clear. From Berlin, Reinhold Friedl is a pianist, composer and impresario. He is the musical director of the Zeitkratzer Ensemble, one of the world-wide best known ensembles of New Music, because it plays pieces by composers who have not been canonized, whose radical nature are a necessary living cell therapy for New Music, academically scabbed. Among these composers is also Elliott Sharp. Friedl and Sharp got to know each other via the work in the ensemble and decided to continue as a duo and to pave other freer paths together. As pianist, Friedl concentrated on preparations and playing inside the instrument. His defamiliarised sounds, which he knows well how to layer and densify, act like a catalyst upon the somber playing of Sharp. Thus the music sounds euphoric and fathomlessly dark at the same time, present and dense and still so far away, not of this world and still, see the cover, very Berlin-esque."

BUTCHER/PHIL MINTON, JOHN: Apples Of Gomorrah CD (GROB 429). $15.00

"Minton, who has given up playing the trumpet, has developed his singing style such that it encompasses all the possible articulations of a singer, from pure noise explosions to a respectfully performed worker's song, thereby not returning to any prescribed style. Phil Minton constantly sings ... Phil Minton. This does not sound any sort of complacency, rather a sincere radical nature. John Butcher has completely absorbed his influences, if that's what they were, into his playing. Wayne Marsh, Steven Lacy, Evan Parker — these masters may have played an important role for his playing, but in his very dry articulation, knife-sharp sound research as well as in the phrasing from (atonal) melodies, Duo sound only like ... Butcher. Both sink so much in the music of the other that the duo sound leads to a maximal density. At the same time, it rips them apart again — at every moment the difference between Butcher's saxophone sound and Minton's voice becomes conscious. Which means: this meeting does not leave the playing of one untouched by the other."

EFZEG: Boogie CD (GROB 430). $15.00

"Boogie is the successor album of the Vienna quartet Efzeg to their successful debut, Grain (Durian, 2000). The band has gained density, compactness and complexity, which means a lot, if one takes into consideration how carefully worked out Grain already was. Efzeg is already there before the musicians produce the first tones. One no longer hears the transformations which come from the extremely individualized sounds of the musicians, all highly distinguished soloists, who make the radically collective sound. That's what's so stifling. One hears, however, how this group's sound changes, how it grows, gets denser, then relaxes. Almost organic. Efzeg stand thereby in a tradition which was founded by the early AMM."

AMBARCHI/ROBBIE AVENAIM/KEITH ROWE + OTOMO YOSHIHIDE + SACHIKO M, OREN: Thumb CD (GROB 432). $15.00

"The moment before a rock band steps on stage: the amplifiers have been hooked up and are humming, the glaring flood lights are buzzing, a roadie is fiddling round with a drum set, pushes it a few centimeters until it is at the perfect place. Above all the atmosphere is electrified. This is the atmosphere the music on Thumb conveys. Of course a rock band will never step on stage, of course, the musicians make music the entire time (even when you don't believe it, because you don't think you can hear it! Here stand, or rather sit, five musicians on stage). This CD is the result of a recording or stage situation, happening so suddenly, that happened on May 29, 2001 in the legendary Paris Club, Instants Chavires. The trio Ambarchi/Avenaim/Rowe (two prepared guitars, a little electronics and percussion) were on tour at the time in France (their first tour) and met the duo Otomo/Sachiko (guitar, turntables and sine wave generator), who are well-established and have proven themselves through uncountable recordings. The result of this meeting is not a hectic-unconcentrated jam session, not a labored search and then a timid find. What we hear is maximal concentration. And consolidation — not, however, in view of noise and energy. They condense their music activity into two or three lines: tender, but played all the more resolute and direct. The five play in this moment exactly as secure as if they had played together for years."

RUPP, OLAF: Scree CD (GROB 433). $15.00

"Scree is a record that reveals a musician at the height of his creativity. Everything that follows will sound different, can only sound different. Of course, Scree is the result of radical improvisation (and also in this sense everything later sounds different, since it is a matter of real-time compositions that are bound up with the moment of performing and are per se not repeatable). Seldom has one heard guitar improvisation that is so thoroughly worked through, so fast, so virtuosic and dense and so well thought-out — and if it's a matter of this — so withdrawn. Seldom has one heard improvised music that is so well-rounded and thereby so radically bound to the instant in which it is played. Olaf Rupp has played with Paul Lovens, Tony Buck, Joe Williamson, Uli Jenneßen, Paul Lovens, Johannes Bauer, Thomas Lehn, Wolfgang Fuchs, Aki Takase, Butch Morris, Aleks Kolkowski, Harri Sjöström, Stephan Mathieu ... and for four years he has been intensively grappling with solo playing."

SHARP/BOBBY PREVITE, ELLIOTT: The Prisoner's Dilemma CD (GROB 434). $15.00

"In the foreground is the groove. No, in the foreground is the layering and condensation of rhythms and sounds. Or does one have to speak of sublime flow that they celebrate and that reminds one of Can or on the abstract projects of the SST family? The Prisoner's Dilemma cannot simply be typecast; too much happens, too much rocks at the same time. Never does the music, however, at any point in time, take on an arbitrary character. Seldom has one heard a grooving improvising duo play so resolutely. They don't make any false compromises. If the consequence out of their interaction means 'noise,' then they take it up and the music is exactly that: an outbreak of energy, a first-class power play. Bobby Previte and Elliott Sharp can also let the things run, laid back, they can allow themselves to cite musical-historical references without seeming so obvious or eclectic. As said, both have a lot to tell. The Prisoner's Dilemma presents the highlights of their conversation."

WILLIAMSON, JOE: The Ungrateful Carjacker CD (GROB 536). $15.00

"It has become quite commonplace that, since the solo albums from Peter Kowald, Barry Guy or William Parker, not only has the contrabass been emancipated, but also accepted as an equal instrument in improvisation, and recognized as a solo instrument. Nonetheless, solo bass recordings are considered unwieldy — one is simply too accustomed to perceiving the bass as an accompanying instrument, responsible for the solid foundation of the groove. Living in Berlin, the young Canadian Joe Williamson is at the moment THE bassist of the European Improv and Free Jazz scene. He plays with Sven-Åke Johansson in Hudson Riv, and in the Candy-Trio. Joe Williamson is also an excellent soloist. The Ungrateful Carjacker is his solo debut. His entirely playful rich dark drones suddenly manifest themselves, as does a hidden groove, or a deep pulse that holds everything together. In the decisive moment, there are also suggestions of tradition."

LEHN/PAUL LOVENS, THOMAS: Achtung CD (GROB 537). $15.00

"This special duo constellation rests in this freedom of clichés. Although the music is occasionally incredibly dense and present, it can hardly be fixed. Is it energy powerplay? Finely linked sound research? Post Free Jazz? English School? Is that a kind of duet for percussion instruments? Or electro-acoustic music par excellence? Is it what one expects? Or something completely different? Lehn and Lovens know, in any case, how to surprise us — in the logical sense of the word. Because, when someone suddenly calls out 'Achtung!' [Look out!] that doesn't mean by a long shot that we are prepared for what will come...."

BLANK: Blank CD (GROB 538). $15.00

"The Frankfurt Trio Blank encounters classic improvisation with the sure-footed and subversive gesture of contemporary anarchism. They work on small forms; out of songs, elements of pop music, noise and theatrics (in the true sense of the word) they cut out strange miniatures of free improvisation. Their music is direct, dynamic, expressive, without thereby perpetuating once again the dead history that is inherent in the adapted clichés. They not only get the form into their music, but they re-liquefy it; they do not understand the citation as citation, but as material. In the fall of 2001, they met the American art star Raymond Pettibon in Cologne's Philharmonic concert hall. They worked with the otherwise so intro-verted artist on a group performance. And of course, everything ended up in a wild improvisation in which Pettibon played the animator and inspirer. This CD is really a full quartet recording! Pettibon did the cover work, and in addition, his notes and text fragments are printed."

BORGSMANN/PETER BRÖTZMANN/WILLIAM PARKER/RASHID BAKR, THOMAS: Cooler Suite CD (GROB 539). $15.00

"One evening both saxophonists Thomas Borgman and Peter Brötzmann played together with the New Yorker rhythm group William Parker and Rashid Bakr in the performance space Cooler, now long gone. It was moving and enthusiastic Free Jazz, as it was sublimely conservative and legendary. The music is so straight and uncomplicated as it can be: Parker plays a bass that nothing can shake, stable as the trunk of an old oak tree; Bakr plays the drums with a feathery pulse, but always wide awake and driving. Together this results in a foundation upon which the power players Borgmann and Brötzmann give each other their hand, as if dreamily in wedlock, the solos pass by, they allow themselves (and us) melodic flights, but above all they celebrate a powerplay as if free jazz had finally established itself as the folk music of the 21st century."

BOSETTI/ANNETTE KREBS, ALESSANDRO: CD (GROB 540). $15.00

"Krebs and Bosetti are among some of the most exciting musicians from Berlin, both have long been well-known in international circles. Annette Krebs, who plays an electro-acoustically prepared classical guitar, belongs on an equal basis with improvisers (and composers) such as Andrea Neumann, Taku Sugimoto, Toshimaru Nakamura or Axel Dörner. Stillness, minimalism, noise (but the later is not meant in the sense of a racket, but as a kind of unmediated sound), rustling, consciousness of structure and spontaneity, all of these experience a new value through these musicians — above all through Annette Krebs' way of playing the guitar. The saxophone player Alessandro Bosetti has also devoted himself to a radical noise-like way of playing, and yet one always senses how strongly he has been influenced by Steve Lacy and modern jazz of the 60s and 70s. In their duets, they do not, however, simply extend their work on noise. The music is formed by a pronounced sense of structure. They work on short units, with many pauses and stillness — but never for the sake of a pause (or stillness). Each pause has its exactly defined place in the dynamics of the music. Bosetti and Krebs savor monochrome tonal colors, research the gray behind the gray — and nonetheless this music is not monumental, not simply noise, not a hermetic block. It is a very exact, reflected music that never becomes overbearing or stiff. It has something casual, in the best sense of the word, it's non-ambitious."

DAFELDECKER/KLAUS LANG, WERNER: Lichtgeschwindigkeit CD (GROB 541). $15.00

"When talking about the music of the Graz-based composer and organ player Klaus Lang and the Viennese bassist and multi-instrumentalist Werner Dafeldecker, one could briefly say that there is a form of velocity so fast one no longer perceives it as such, but rather as stagnation. The speed of light is such a case. The music of Dafeldecker and Lang also appears to be stagnant. It doesn't get going anywhere. A powerful, droning organ chord, a bowed bass and both are perceived as if they were chiseled for eternity. Music that sounds irrevocable, great and sublime, fascinating and off-putting. The tonal spectrum of this music, which one could compare to the harsh improvisations of the early AMM, or to several compositions of Kevin Drumm or to recordings from the radical minimalist school of Tony Conrad, cannot be summarized by this description. The recordings were made in a church in the southeast province of Austria on a snowed-in winter night."

JOHANSSON/RÜDIGER CARL/JOE WILLIAMSON, SVEN-ÅKE: Hudson Riv (Autumn in New York) CD (GROB 542). $15.00

"This CD is a sensation. We are not exaggerating and do not want to make any false pretences. But one has to listen to it in order to understand what's really happening here. In November 2001 Carl and Johansson met in Johansson's Berlin studio, grabbed the bassist Joe Williamson and played a homage to New York. They interpreted a total of 13 standards, true to the original and full of respect. Recorded in two takes. For the first time we hear Carl play only piano on record, and Johansson sing only standards. And always when Sven hits his snare (and only his snare) with the brushes, there is in the middle of autumn an anticipation of the next spring. The cover art work is from Sven-Åke Johansson, David Grubbs wrote the liner notes: a reflection upon forbidden songs in the New York Autumn of 2001."

BSC, THE: Good CD (GROB 543). $15.00

"In Vienna, Berlin and Tokyo musicians are working on stillness, reduction, non-expressivity and micro-differentiation. In Cologne, London, New York, Chicago, Paris, Warsaw, this music is performed and written about. But up to now the most exciting of this scene has been happening outside these large cities. For example, in Boston. That this city possesses a young and rather large improv scene including labels and venues is well known. There are even a few 'superstars' like the saxophonist Bhoj Rainey and the trumpeter Greg Kelley, two musicians who have easily liberated themselves from established improvisation patterns. What has been missing till now is a recording that clearly exemplifies the Sound of Boston. Such a thing can hardly be forced, it always seems to happen casually, e.g. when one listens to a concert recording again and again and then suddenly discovers how definitive it is. Such a stroke of luck has arrived with The BSC — Good. The BSC is a chamber orchestra from Boston led by Bhoj Rainey. Joining him are Greg Kelley (of course), James Coleman (theremin), Howard Stelzer (tapes), Liz Tonne (voice), Vic Rawlings (cello, electronics), Mike Bullock (bass), and Chris Cooper (prepared guitar), with guests Axel Dörner (trumpet) and Andrea Neumann (inside piano). Good is a 37-minute, improvisation process recorded live, which creatively draws on the resources from the reduced parameters of this new improvised music. Despite all the stillness, the music is also surprisingly dense and tightly woven together. The music captivates via a noisiness radical maintained throughout the whole piece, and in spite of this (or because of it?), it is lyrical and surreal. The melody of metallic shimmering tonal colors can be heard from the very beginning."

HAUTZINGER/MANSON LIU WINTER, FRANZ: Brospa CD (GROB 544). $15.00

"GROB continues the successful cooperation with the Viennese trumpeter and composer Franz Hautzinger. On Brospa, Hautzinger meets the pianist Manon Liu Winter, known from New Music circles. For a while, both have been playing in a duo and have developed their own improvised language. It appears as if Hautzinger is really in his own territory here. Brospa offers no dry, mostly still and radically reduced sound. The murmuring, growling and simmering sounds he elicits from his trumpet and leads into subsonic depths finds a perfect mirror in the varied, equally dense and sophisticated inside playing of Winter. It appears as if the shimmering, cluster-like sounds of both mirror themselves in each other and raise the other to a higher power. Even when the instruments are recognizable as individual voices, one hears 'in a higher sense' a synthesis: the music is monochromatic and isn't as well; it is static and enormously dramatic. It is music that reminds one of the great Romanian sound sculptor Iancu Dumitrescu or on Horatio Radulescu, but it is 'of course!' improvised, originating in simply one session, originating out of a reflected-spontaneous use of completely simple means."

WERTMÜLLER, MICHAEL: Die Zeit. Eine Gebrauchsanweisung CD (GROB 545). $15.00
 Performed by: Kammermusikensemble (Mark Traylor, computer; Stephan Wittwer, guitar) & European String Quartet (with Alex Buess, live electronics). "The compositions of Michael Wertmüller, as diverse as they may be, can all be seen as contributing to solving the problem, how does density originate? Density — mediated as energy, brute force, loudness, tempo, etc — results here from extremely gracefully built structures that are folded into each other, linked, and associated such that they result in a great whole. But the graceful build is not exhausted in the compositions, but only elevated. It is audible all along as a trace, as a necessity (as reason, cause). Wertmüller plays out this dialectic of fragility in these compositions to its completion. This is meant literally: his music is derived from a sheer inexhaustible richness, but despite all its aggression, it also has an audibly luxurious character."
WALTER/KEVIN DRUMM/FRED LONBERG-HOLM, WEASEL: Eruption CD (GROB 546). $15.00

"Three years ago we released the Weasel Walter's recording Tribute to Masayuki Takayanagi (GROB 208). In addition to Walter (drums, guitar, mix, artwork) and Fred Lonberg-Holm (cello), Jim O'Rourke (guitar) also participated in the sessions. This secured the recording a certain popularity and provoked furious reactions. Since Tribute to Masayuki Takayanagi certainly does not stand for the finely engraved music that has made O'Rourke popular worldwide. The recording was free improvised Death Metal, a committed transformation of the early noise music of Takayanagi (this first Japanese noise guitarist had his important phase in the 70's) into the present. More than a few critics saw this as disrespectful towards Takayanagi. Eruption pushes the process of reflection — reflections upon improvised music, the contemporary character of Free Jazz, the energy of Speed Metal, and of course the reflections upon Takayanagi — even further towards independence. One hour of music, 40 tracks (the liner notes, an attack upon a saturated and self-righteous Free Jazz scene, are in code in the track titles). Excessive concentration, the most concentrated excesses. Walter Weasel (still: drums, power-electronics, mix, cover art) is at the height of his abilities. He is brilliantly supported/supplemented/spurred on once again by Fred Lonberg-Holm, the most versatile cellist of the improvisation scene, and Kevin Drumm, one of the avant-garde heroes of the last seven, eight years, who here is able to express his Death Metal obsessions."

BRANDLMAYR/WERNER DAFELDECKER/STEFAN NEMETH/MARTIN SIEWERT, MARTIN: Die Instabilität der Symmetrie (The Instability of Symmetry) CD (GROB 547). $15.00
"Die Instabilität der Symmetrie — one could see this title as a programmatic reference to the work of improvisation. Improvisation is something that suspends a well ordered (or 'symmetrical') structure and refers to the relativity of musical organization. So far, so classical. These improvisations are, however, characterized by what isn't played (the clichés of the expressive playing one's trumps are not to be heard). It is a terse, clearly formulated music that leaves much out, but is neither minimalistic nor monochrome. There are suggestions, abbreviations, fragments, small structural elements that we do not have to perceive as such, since they yield a whole picture: this music is completely and properly formulated. It says less than necessary, but more than possible. Die Instabilität der Symmetrie organizes the sound of improvised music anew. Not only the 'composed symmetry,' but also the specific (improvised) symmetry is confused."

ROWE/OREN AMBARCHI/ROBBIE AVENAIM, KEITH: Honey Pie CD (GROB 648). $15.00
 Keith Rowe: Tabletop Guitar, Electronics. Oren Ambarchi: Guitar, Electronics. Robbie Avenaim: Percussion, Electronics. Live recording from the Musique Action Festival, France, 5/26/01. "If Thumb was about something like 'absence in presence,' about, well, the artsy trick of improvising like a quintet and sounding simply like a duo, then Honey Pie is a dynamic, powerful 40-minute recording. The static intimated at the beginning and lasting for four or five minutes is cautiously preserved by the musicians — Rowe and Ambarchi on guitars, Avenaim on percussion, all three on live electronics — and this static is transformed in a constantly changing process. On Thumb, the tension was produced using static (via an endless extension of a 'something') and therefore 'disappointed,' we hear on Honey Pie tension sans phrase. At first there is no drone, no GREAT SOUND, upon which the musicians can comfortably retire (the great sound, which then originates in the process of the improvisation is rich and complex in itself). They improvise without flourish, develop small structures of a nearly motive-like character. Thanks to this, the stringency, too, of Rowe's flatness is questioned, albeit softly. Honey Pie thus leaves the impression of a near playful, loose session. Listen to it loudly!"

MULLER/MOSLANG: Boom Box CD (GROB 649). $15.00
 Günter Müller: selected percussion, MD's, iPod, electronics. Norbert Möslang: cracked everyday-electronics. Recorded 21.10.2001 at the Loft, Köln. "Boom Box is one of the first recordings of Norbert Möslang after the break up of Voice Crack, his legendary Duo with Andi Gühl which lasted a good 30 years. On Boom-Box, Möslang also plays his cracked everyday-electronics, but their tonal surroundings is a different one. It is a wide, ethereal tonal ambience, the structures are lucid, the music is transparent. Again and again there are foregrounds and backgrounds, individual tonal configurations stand out clearly and distinctly, specific sounds are repeated, thus creating a scaffold through which other sounds are elegantly woven."

JOHANSSON WITH NMUI, SVEN-AKE: OB CD 10 CD (GROB 650). $15.00
 "Sven-Åke Johansson's art has been well documented, and yet there are still discoveries to be found in his cosmos: among these is his work with large groups. In the middle of the 80's, Johansson released a single 'Sven-Åke Johansson with the NMUI in cooperation with the Berlin-based label, FMP. Hidden behind the cryptic abbreviation NMUI is North European Melody and Improvisation Orchestra [in German, Nordeuropäische Melodie- und Improvisationsorchester]. A group, which in addition to Johansson (on drums and accordion), was made up of Rüdiger Carl (tenor saxophone, accordion), Wolfgang Fuchs (diverse wooden reed instruments), the trombonists Radu Malfatti and Thomas Wiedermann, Hans Reichel on guitar, Norbert Eisbrenner on violin and Maarten Altena van Regteren on bass and cello. It goes without saying: an all-star ensemble. The single, with a cover from Martin Kippenberger, who also financially supported the recording, contained a twelve-minute section from a concert that, of course, lasted much longer. For nearly 20 years, this single remained the only evidence of Johansson's large ensemble work — until this recording, which — almost exactly 25 years later to the very day — documents that concert in its full length. And what can you hear? At first, great solos. Johansson creates a lot of space for the players; Hans Reichel, Rüdiger Carl or Maarten Altena play with abandon."

FILIP/RADU MALFATTI/MATTIN/DEAN ROBERTS, KLAUS: Building Excess CD (GROB 651). $15.00
 "The strength of this recording, its stringency, is indebted to this longer stay for the most part: the music doesn't seem 'spontaneous' or 'surprising,' but rather as if a group was playing together that had developed a common vocabulary over many years. Of course, this quartet is not a working band, since the interests of the musicians are too different. The common act of reflection, however, is audible. Although very little happens, the listener always hears a tension. It may be the smallest possible tension, but it is one. There is something that holds the few tones together, which seem simply thrown together: a common pulse, a common effort. Building Excess contradicts all the (conventional, 'classical') rules of collective improvisation and yet the piece is exactly that: a collective improvisation. Radu Malfatti, the earlier free jazz trombonist and current composer of radical new music, certainly inspired this recording decisively with his aesthetic of stillness, yet he does not dominate it. That too is an expression of this special collective effort. Mattin plays computer feedback(s), Klaus Filip, an enormously important programmer in the Viennese scene, plays digital electronics, Radu Malfatti the trombone and Dean Roberts, known for his records for Erstwhile, Mille Plateaux or — recently — Kranky, can be heard on the guitar."

BOSETTI, ALESSANDRO: Zona CD (GROB 652). $15.00

"Since the work of Anthony Braxton, Sonny Rollins, Steve Lacy or Evan Parker, solo saxophone recordings are no longer a 'problem.' And especially recordings of solo soprano saxophone — Parker and Lacy (and Lol Coxhill) have more than just rehabilitated this instrument, long neglected by jazz and improvised music. Bosetti left the improvisations themselves untouched during the post production. What we hear are pieces in real time. What he processed are the individual recording tracks, the individual microphone positions. He cut them up — not with a pair of scissors, but virtually in a digital studio — and put them back together anew, making one track out of six. A small but highly thought-out operation which transforms these improvisations into electro-acoustic compositions. What this means concretely is that we hear a few seconds of improvisation from the perspective of microphone 1, then a longer sequence from the perspective of microphone 3, then a bit from microphone 6, then .... Although we hear only one improvisation in each case, there is nonetheless the impression of a sometimes hectic, sometimes hard and always radical cut-up collage. It is, however, 'only' the quickly changing perspectives that create this kaleidoscopic impression."

GROUNDING:

VA: Grounded Sound CD (GND 001CD). $11.00

"The Grounded Sound is one of appetizingly organic fusion, with one hand ardently fixed on ambient, minimalist tendencies and the other in the processed complexities afforded by the digital age. Yet, this is hardly a boring middle ground, and far from a tepid reaction to the late-90's 'drill & bass' phenomena. Nor is this music a continuation of so-called 'glitch' or 'clicks n' cuts' culture, as there is little incidental or superfluous about it, though it often incorporates elements of concrete, accidental, and prepared analog samples in thoroughly 21st century fashion. It is a highly personal cross-section of modern music that moves us. The brittle and delicate avant-garde status of Greg Davis, simple pop leanings of Ogurusu Norihide, and intricate sample manipulation of Soplefo have never sounded so relevant. With artists hand-selected over several years of listening by journalist and Grounded head Andrew Schrock, this subtle release will captivate with its intense, yet accessible, charm. Features almost all exclusive tracks." Artist include: E*Rock, Melodium, Blatter, Misterinterrupt, Ogurusu Norihide, State Music, Emotional Joystick, Don Mennerich, Entropy Struct, Greg Davis, Soplefo, and Charles Atlas.

GROUNDZERO (NETHERLANDS):

WEINBERG, ARNE: Snowflake 12" (GZ 003). $9.00

"Great detroitish techno by this talented German producer. 4 great tracks with driving basslines and funky techno beats combined with smooth sounds. (Think John Tejada, Aril Brikha, Duplex, Fabrice Lig)."

WEINBERG, ARNE: Cuploa EP 12" (GZ 010). $9.00

"Arne Weinberg returns on Groundzero (after releases on Starbaby and several other labels) with a superb minimal driving techno EP. Definitely a winner for those who are into the Robert Hood, minimal Mills techno sound (similar to the Jeff Mills — Everydog Has Its Day releases)."

GSL:

!!!/OUT HUD: Lab Remix Series Vol. 2 Split EP CD (GSL 026 CD). $6.00

"Originally released on vinyl only in October 1999, this now-legendary split EP was the second installment in our Lab Remix Series and a co-release with Zum. Both Out Hud and !!! have since relocated from Sacramento to Brooklyn and become virtual household names in the world of indie-rock. Recent Warp Records signees !!! contribute one long and rubbery track of their over-amped funk/punk that often draws comparisons to everything from James Brown, Chic and ESG to Liquid Liquid and The Clash. Out Hud, meanwhile, supply us with three alternate versions of a single classic track. Their trademark cello-heavy dub/instrumental sound is in full-effect here, given the once-over by live-sound mixer/producer Justin Vandervolgen."

JAGA JAZZIST: Animal Chin CD (GSL 065 CD). $11.00

"The debut U.S. release from Oslo, Norway's critically-acclaimed Jaga Jazzist. The band's sound is a minefield of contrasting textures and styles; the comparisons that come up often include Miles Davis, Squarepusher, Tortoise, Talk Talk, and Kid 606. The 10-piece group's members span their domestic music scene, and they have performed with, and/or been part of, virtually every notable contemporary Norwegian band. Their debut album, A Livingroom Hush, was released in early 2001 by Warner Brothers — in Europe only. Animal Chin, a 30-minute, seven-track collection of material from Hush (3 tracks), the Airborne EP (2 tracks), and a couple of unreleased remixes — sort of a crash course in the Jaga modus operandi. Sleeve art is by Martin Horntveth, creator of the striking digitized images adorning the previous Jaga Jazzist releases."

JAGA JAZZIST: Animal Chin 12" (GSL 065 EP). $10.00

Vinyl EP version.

CHROMATICS: Plaster Hounds CD (GSL 079 CD). $12.00

"Chromatics return with their second full-length album. For this full-length release, the dark, ever-turbulent combo have temporarily recruited renowned percussionist Ron Avila (of Get Hustle, Holy Molar and formerly Antioch Arrow and Final Conflict fame) to round out their swirling, hypnotic punk-dubs and help 'steer the band into rhythmic bliss' that their drumbox never could. The resulting 10 tracks are often-bleak post-punk dirges that frequently blossom with unexpected melody and sophistication. Comparisons to NY pioneers of the sixties and seventies like Suicide and Silver Apples aside (indeed they've included a passionate rendering of the Apples' 1968 classic 'Program'), Chromatics have succeeded in reinventing themselves while paying homage to the foundation laid by the original quartet on 2002's Chrome Rats vs. Basement Rutz album. Plaster Hounds is the sound of the new minimalist cacophony."

CHROMATICS: Plaster Hounds LP (GSL 079 LP). $9.00

LP version.

SUBTITLE/FREE MORAL AGENTS: Leave Home/Instinctively Intact (The Meltdown) 12" (GSL 083 EP). $6.00

"Subtitle strikes back with a warm-up track for his forthcoming full-length assault — this time joining forces with the mastermind behind 2003's epic Monolith album, Omid (Mush Records). Free Moral Agents, meanwhile, is what organ maestro Ikey Owens from The Mars Volta and De Facto does with his free time, creating inspired hip-hop with a distinct jazz-influenced downtempo vibe."

GTI RECORDINGS:*DISCO D: Straight Out Tha Trunk CD (GTI 6902 CD). $14.00

"Disco D brings ghetto dance music to the masses in October when he releases his first commercially available ghettech mix CD, Straight Out Tha Trunk, on GTI (Ghetto Tech Institute) Recordings. His innovative combination of electronic and urban sounds has made ghettech the hottest style of dance music to hit the industry. Disco D has carved a distinct niche for his label, bringing together different schools of sound including techno, house, electro, rap and earlier ghetto styles such as Miami bass and Chicago ghetto house. With his new CD, Disco D not only attracts fans of each of these styles, but now makes the Detroit ghettech phenomenon available to a more diverse audience."

GULCHER:*GIZMOS: 1975 - 1977: Demos & Rehearsals 2CD (GUL 402). $15.00

"The Gizmos' story of early American punk is re-told here with 54 previously unreleased tracks and a 20-page booklet. Included are Ken Highland's 1975 demos that started the whole thing; Ken and Eddie Flowers, as the Rockabilly Yobs, accidentally discovering swamp-trash-punk; Rich Coffee's stoner-rock band Cerberus joining Ken for the first Gizmos rehearsal; Maryland Marine-era song demos by Ken; and Ted Niemiec's demos for the 1977 Gizmos sessions. The 20-page booklet is packed with riff-by-riff details from Krazee Ken Highland, with commentary and clarification by Ready Eddie Flowers."

HAGAKURE (JAPAN):*FLOWER TRAVELLIN' BAND: Anywhere CD (ISCP 1116). $29.00

First CD reissue of the debut Flower Travellin' Band album, originally issued in 1970 by Warner Bros. Japan (predating their definitive opus, Satori). Includes 'loosely formed "covers" of "Black Sabbath", "House of the Rising Sun" & "Twenty-First Century Schizoid-Man".'

MAGICAL POWER MAKO: Magical Power Mako CD (ISCP 1141). $29.00

New reissue of the first three Magical Power Mako albums, originally issued by Japanese Polydor. Now available on the Universal imprint Hagakure. These are packaged in mini-LP jackets and look beautiful (previously reissued as jewel-case CDs by Marquee and Japanese Polydor, these have been unavailable for most of the last decade). The first 2 are crucial documents of underground Japanese psychedelics and belong in every collection. This first self titled album was released in 1974 and features Keiji Haino as a guest vocalist (credited here as Kei-chan, on two tracks, "Restraint, Freedom" and "Look Up The Sky"). This one features just the "Polydor" logo on the front cover and is an all-time classic of Faust-referential underground status.

MAGICAL POWER MAKO: Super Record CD (ISCP 1142). $29.00

The second and all-time best Mako album, originally issued by Japanese Polydor in 1975. Packaged in mini-LP jacket sleeve. Reproduces the English translation of the original liner notes (for the first time). Although MPM went on to record 20+ more records after this one, he would never exceed the spatial exuberance of Super Record. From the liner notes: "Mako's music possesses a certain strange kind of texture. It's certainly is what they call rock, but contains elements that we can't describe so succinctly. It clearly goes beyond the various genres of music, and while full of them all, it sends forth a fierce glow. This 'Super Record' shows Mako looking down upon the earth from above, wandering through Alaska and Siberia, the Near East, Okinawa, and South America. Adding to the variety of folk music of India, Turkey, and Russia, his mandolin or Taisho koto, and especially his marvelously performed guitar, expressing fully the odor of the soil and mankind's universality."

MAGICAL POWER MAKO: Jump CD (ISCP 1143). $29.00

3rd & final Polydor album for Mako, from 1977. A little more prog, a lot more face-paint.

HAL 9000/20 (GERMANY):*TSUZUKI, TAKASHI: Soundview 12" (HAL 001 EP). $9.00

"The return of a cult label, now on 12" format with a superb, complex state of the art mini-EP. Islee-style."

MUNIT: Shift Serv. 12" (HAL 022EP). $9.00

"Who is Munit? Munit is two: Dietrich Foth and Sven Lütgen. The data streams meet. Munit has already set its programmes on Shitkatapult (Ger), Mute (UK), Lounge Essenzen 03 (Ger), Civik Records (Can). Now it passes 5 programmes to Hal9000. One — Shift Serv.: dance to the future, tricky beats, call it space funk. Two — Shift Serv. Hal9000 mix. Repacked 4 to the floor burner. Get in. Three — Mikados: a distorted ghost train journey through Biene Maja's (who is this bee?) Empire of darkness. Four — Coridor: landed in the middle of cleared up landscapes made from steel, glass and concrete. Five — Jupelt: multilingual algorithm for 2step noddies. Six — Cessorpa: on a meadow without garlic in its place an old robotic beat with a colourful dense superstructure."

HALLUCINATIONS:*ODA: CD (HCD 001). $14.00

First CD release on a new subsidiary of the vinyl reissue label Void Records. "For those of you out there who love hard rock, the early 70's way, this is for you. Four piece take no prisoners, balls to the wall, hard rockers, with stringing guitar leads by Randy Oda and powerful drumming by brother Kevin. This is a limited 1000 press ck run with 4 panel informative insert and a great band picture, never before seen. Also has 4 extra tracks recorded before the LP in 71. 'Gabriel' a hard rocker about you know who, 'Cheated', 'Give it Up' and one cover of Butterfield's 'I got a Mind to Give Up Living' which lets Randy branch out on the bluesier side of the guitar. Hard rock winner."

IT'S ALL MEAT: CD (HCD 002). $13.00

First legit CD reissue, with 7 bonus tracks including their first pre-LP single "Feel It" (heavy dual fuzz) and six unreleased demos from '69-71." The ultimate in reissue heaven, of this Canadian garage monster from 1970. Great punk, snotty songs like 'You Don't Notice the Time You Waste', 'Make Some Use of Your Friends' and the extremely psychedelic anthem 'Crying into the Deep Lake', plus rockers like 'Roll My Own' and the dreamy ballad 'Sunday Love'. Long been a collector's favorite, here is a beautiful reissue that came from Rick McKim and Jed MacKay. Classic."

BRAZDA BROTHERS, THE: CD (HCD 004). $13.00

Leit reissue of this 1973 release. "Mesmerizing Canadian acid folk that is easy to drift away to. Cuts like 'Walking in the Sun', 'Gemini' with fuzz guitar, 'Soldier in a Battleground' and more. This in some ways reminds me of the great UK folk pieces of the very early 70's. The original album goes for $600 now and is never seen. This was mastered from a near perfect copy of the vinyl, without sterilizing the sound. The original cover has been used."

DORMOUSE, JEREMY: Toad CD (HCD 005). $13.00

"Legendary Canadian folk/psych rarity from 1967-68. One of the hardest to find album collectibles there is. This recording also features a very young Lynda Squires (Reign Ghost) and many other Canadian folk notables of the day. Original cover art is here as well as liner notes. The master came from the band and sounds great, with male/female throughout. Standout cut for me is 'Believe Me', a folk gem of the day. Also a cool, haunting cover of 'Suzanne' is right there as well. This project is also related to the 'Rejects' LP, another lost Canadian rarity."

BRAZDA BROTHERS, THE: Time Is Only A Setting Sun/You Can Take Me Real High CD (HCD 006). $7.00

"Finally the release on CD of the Brothers very rare single from 1977. 'Time is only a Setting Sun' and 'You can Take me Real High'. Most 45 collectors can't even find this baby, now it is on CD from the master tapes. Musically, it's the same bag as the great album, acid folk, drift feel and the brothers infective vocals."

LUCIFER: Lucifer CD (HCD 007). $11.00

Personnel: Joe Mattioli (vocals); Vincent "Butch" Biocca (Bass); Joe Gallo (Piano); Joe Bertola (Drums); Pete Skelton (Lead Guitar). "This underground rock group from Rochester, NY, cut this sole album of Grand Funk Railroad-inspired hard rock in 1970."

HOLY GHOST RECEPTION COMMITTEE #9: The Collected Works CD (HCD 03). $13.00

"Both Holy Ghost LPs on one. 22 great Christian psychedelic songs that are sure to blow your mind. These boys were going to Catholic High in the late 60's, dropping acid, and listening to the Beatles. The result is cool, intelligent, raw, psychedelic sounds like 'Know They're You', 'Walk Across the Waters', 'Step Into the Wind' and more. This is the best example of what Christian psych can be."

HAND ON THE PLOW (UK):*BECKETT AND STEVE TAYLOR, LASZLO: Work 12" (HOTP 001EP). $10.00

"Limited Edition. Very Groovy. This collaboration from Spymania and Planet Mu artist Steve Taylor and the lesser known Yakima artist Lazlo Beckett works very well. The 4 tracks range from broken gospel click house to Chicago style workouts, live Prince-Esque collapsing soul back to Detroit drone laments. This is one of the best label debuts of the year, we can safely say, even at this point in time."

HANSON RECORDS:*VA: Labyrinths & Jokes CD (HN 050). $13.00

Labyrinths and Jokes was originally released on LP in 1998 in a small edition of only 500 copies. Six tracks of diverse and creative noise from six completely bizarre bands. This LP was the first statement from an utterly brilliant and fucked up group of musicians and friends who have since spawned such musical monstrosities as Andrew W.K., Wolf Eyes and the Nautical Almanac. Six tracks of diverse and creative noise from six totally fucked up bands."

WOLF EYES: Slicer CD (HN 101 CD). $13.00

Repressed. "Wolf Eyes roots are from a much hidden and very ugly world called the cassette noise underground. Here we have a proper CD issue of the most accomplished of their many cassette releases, Slicer. Unlike the heavy brutal beat vibe of last years Dread album, Slicer is a more minimal, tone heavy, and even slower recording. Deep electronic and home generated tones stretch and separate overtop of 'glitchy' electronics, ultra crude tape manipulations, and ear-piercing scraping glass. The most 'in the zone' and stoned recording the boys have made yet."

DRUMM, KEVIN: Land Of Lurches CD (HN 104 CD). $13.00

"Two side-long tracks of diarrhetic hailstorms. Land Of Lurches is maximalist diarrhea created in the spirit of true Heavy Metal. That is... it's ugly, loud, disturbing, courageous, triumphant, and totally fucking powerful! What starts out as a thick relaxing drone quickly turns into a brutal and bloody animal fight. This is the sound of a seal ripping apart a human body while a crowd of 90,000 cheer it on. Kevin is a modern day barbarian and this is his music."

DRUMM, KEVIN: Land Of Lurches LP (HN 104 LP). $13.00

LP Version.

HAPNA (SWEDEN):*CARL & SVEN-ÅKE JOHANSSON, RÜDIGER: Djungelmusik med sång CD (HAPNA 002). $15.00

Year 2000 release. Rüdiger Carl: accordion, clarinet; Sven-Åke Johansson: accordion, drums and voice. "Recorded 1997 at the book and record store Andra Böcker och Skivor in Stockholm. This CD featuring two of the most innovative improvisors in Europe is the first released recording of the duo since 1985. Carl and Johansson's music isn't tied to any genre, but instead flows freely over both known and unknown territories, in its own unique way. Sound-wise, the CD has a special focus: every track on Djungelmusik med sång features at least one accordion, an element that holds the diverse material together."

STACKENÄS, DAVID: The Guitar CD (HAPNA 003). $15.00

Year 2000 release. David Stackenäs: acoustic guitars. "This is the first solo CD by Swedish guitarist David Stackenäs. The structure of the material builds on sketches, compositional ideas and improvisation. The refined form and development of the tracks makes an interesting contrast to the rawness and simplicity of the sound of the acoustic guitar."

SAGOR & SWING: Orgelfärger CD (HAPNA 005). $15.00

"In the living room of a small house in Dalarna, the Swedish countryside, Sagor & Swing has recorded this timeless music evoking the surrounding landscape — the forests, mountains and lakes. Moody and simple melodies with echoes of old Swedish folk tunes and the nature in the paintings of John Bauer. Some years ago, Eric Malmberg was given an organ from legendary Swedish organ player Bo Hansson, one half of the 70's drums/organ duo Hansson & Karlsson. This organ was the very one used on Hansson's epic record Lord of the Rings, an influential record which combined jazz and rock together with minor key melodies of Swedish folk music. Sagor & Swing makes a more minimal journey. The melodies unfold at a calm pace and the whole album has a mesmerizing feeling to it. This is music which could only have been made in Sweden. While the music of Björn Olsson, another Swede influenced by folk music, is connected to the archipelago of the Swedish west coast, Sagor & Swing has its spiritual home in the old forests deep in the middle of the country."

PILLOW: Three Henries CD (HAPNA 006). $15.00

"Following Pillow's self-titled debut CD (BoxMedia) and last year's terrific, LP-only Field on Water (hereforeveralways), Three Henries presents Pillow's unique, complex-yet-minimal music with the greatest clarity and sharpest character we've yet heard from this group. With careful attention to details and emphasis on the group as a collective, Pillow's way of playing and creating structures organically carries in its body/spirit elements of Morton Feldman, AMM and even the flowing electronics of the A-Musik/Mego/Sahko school of macro/micro-sound bliss/challenge. Communication is the keyword here, and, at its best, Three Henries captures the near-telepathy achieved by these four talented musicians. Stunning, graceful, abrasive, gentle — all of these things are Pillow."

SUNDIN, RONNIE: Morphei CD (HAPNA 007). $15.00

Year 2002 release. "Morphei is a soundtrack to a dream. A nighty-night record designed to make you wake up and listen. Inspired by that in between state of wake and dreaming, when you're not quite sure whether you're asleep or not, this record presents a stream of realities seamlessly floating into each other, layers of events of acoustic and digital nature mingle; hear the Light-switch singing a duet with the Feedback-mixer, traces of Scandinavian wildlife intertwine with a tropical forest of digital insects, or hear the time-stretched Teaspoon having a conversation with the Snow-balls of Thonk... you get the picture. Ronnie Sundin (b.1973) is trained in visual art at the Academy of Fine Arts in Umeå, Sweden and mostly works with sound or sound-related matters in a borderland between the art-scene and the music-scene."

SAGOR & SWING: Melodier och fåglar CD (HAPNA 008). $15.00

Year 2002 release. "Sagor & Swing is Eric Malmberg on Hammond organ and Ulf Möller on drums. This is the follow up to their debut album Orgelfärger. Melodier och fåglar (melodies and birds) is minimal and timeless, naive and simple. Eric calls his melodies 'Nothing music'. Something to listen to when you almost want it to be quiet. When you are so affected by the noise from the media that you no longer bear with real silence. Then you may listen to Melodier och fåglar. By the time the record has ended, you may stay in the sofa and finally enjoy the quietness and stillness."

TAPE: Opera CD (HAPNA 009). $15.00

Andreas Berthling/Johan Berthling/Tomas Hallonsten: guitars, laptop, pedals, synthesizers, harmonium, melodica, field recordings, percussion, harmonica, zither, piano, flute, bells, glockenspiel, accordion, trumpet, paper, styrofoam, yongmei. "If you listen carefully to Tape's autumnal blend of plucked guitars, skittish electronics, and warm organic sound, you can actually see the landscapes these pieces seem destined to score. The music made by this trio — which comprises Andreas and Johan Berthling and Tomas Hallonsten — is entirely instrumental and abstract, and yet its gentle rolling sound fields seem to encompass very concrete places and times. Resisting the powerful temptation to clutter up their songs with electronic debris, the trio uses laptop effects and glitchy splatter as accents, one more falling leaf in the dry rustle of pre-winter preparations. Opera is dominated by acoustic guitar, with simple Fahey-esque lines weaving their way through a tight winding path, surrounded on all sides by pulsating harmonium drones, horns, electronics, and hiss-filled field recordings. Tape's approach to making music is all too rare these days, as they comfortably — and seemingly effortlessly — straddle the barbed fence between the accessible and the avant-garde. Opera's multi-layered sonic collages are forged from the absolute cutting edge of electro-acoustic music, at times calling to mind the rattle-and-drone of the Erstwhile catalogue or the chiming laptop compositions of Kim Hiorthoy. And yet entirely their own entity, drawing inspiration and techniques from all quarters and blending them into a melodic, accessible, mellow sound that's all them. That this album can be so lovely and seductive and charming on its surface is one thing; that it can be all that and still reveal such depth and complexity going on underneath is another, and that's what makes it so worthwhile." — Ed Howard.

AMBARCHI & JOHAN BERTHLING, OREN: My Days Are Darker Than Your Nights CD (HAPNA 010 CD). $15.00

Drone-heavy duo recordings by Ambarchi (guitar) and Berthling (harmonium), made in Sweden, 2002. "An eternity was coming to an end. The room grew steadier each time I closed and opened my eyes. Still muddled, my thoughts drifted without taking form, reality was not yet here. I had dreamt a lot. My dreams had not been vague but sharp, frightfully realistic; I didn't remember this but rather felt it in my body. The detailed scenes of the dreams escaped my blunt analyzing powers as I slowly returned to consciousness, only to be replaced by undefined anxiety and a feeling of the loss of something that has been important in my life. The presence of anxiety... Wasn't it true that I, my whole life, had tried to arrange my everyday life so that this anxiety wouldn't be there? Quit jobs, avoided responsibilities. Like birds that use their own bodies as templates when building their nest, so had I too formed my life: to avoid anxiety was my template, my guiding light in my life. The hours passed slowly. I looked out the window, the wind played with the leaves. Remembrance of actual experiences was still rare, like driftwood in a river of time and evasive possible connections. The feeling of loneliness and unrest about the electromagnetic fields in the surroundings was worrying. There has to be a high-voltage generator in the vicinity or high-tension wires over the house. I didn't remember the circumstances under which I was brought here, neither what the surroundings looked like, but I would examine these things later when my wounds have healed. If the fields influenced my views of life in the same way they made my nerves ring, I would not recognize myself when leaving this place. I couldn't understand how I ended up sacrificing my independence and became drawn into this."

APPELQVIST, HANS: Att Möta Verkligheten 3" CD (HAPNA 011). $10.50

"Three tracks based on stories from ordinary people. The record has a strange atmosphere: the interplay between text and music makes a listening that is both sad and joyous, playful and serious, personal and general. The voices and the songs are in Swedish, English, Chinese and German. The persons speak openly and sing famous or less famous poems and songs. Together with the instruments — foremost piano, mandolin and flute — these encounters become much more than interviews and plain everyday stories. Att Möta Verkligheten is to be considered as a whole, not as a part of another project. This record differs in some ways from his debut Tonefilm (Komplott) and points out a new direction in his music."

SAGOR & SWING: Allt Hänger Samman CD (HAPNA 012). $15.00

"The myth of Sagor & Swing tells that they are children of nature that grew up in the forest. That they at an early age built their first instruments and isolated from the noise of civilization invented a music of their own. What we know for sure, however, is that they make wonderful organ music and have been doing this for some time now. This is their third album, Allt Hänger Samman. The woods have thickened. The melodies have become more intricate and the idyllic scenes now have a darker tone. One slips away on excursions in the faintest sounds through passages where the organ is a tone generator built to recreate the sounds of the forest — the wind, the singing of birds, the creaking of roots. As soon as the majestic introduction 'Återkomsten' begins, one senses that something is going on. In 'Löverket' echoes are heard of Kraftwerk and their endless ostinati and the final 'Alla sagor har ett slut' is a magnificent, minimalistic bookending. The moods that are summoned in between the songs keeps one helplessly in the world of Sagor & Swing."

CONNORS & DAVID GRUBBS, LOREN: Arborvitae CD (HAPNA 013). $15.00

"The most surprising part is that it hadn't happened before. Loren Connors and David Grubbs first performed as a duo on May 30, 2003 at the Green-Wood Cemetery Chapel in Brooklyn, N.Y. Green-Wood Cemetery is one of Brooklyn's landmarks — it's the highest natural point in the borough, and an unexpected expanse of tranquility in the midst of the city. The stone interior of the chapel makes the quietest of sounds audible, and Loren and David played a remarkably quiet yet extraordinarily varied hour of improvised music. Energized, they repaired to the studio to record Arborvitae. Arborvitae opens and closes with the pairing of David on piano and Loren on an electric guitar played so quietly that at times his pedal-stomping is wondrously distinct. 'Blossom Time' and the title track positively float, with Loren alternating between soaring single-note lines and playing the rough, barnacled anchor to David's relentless tide. David's approach to the piano recalls his playing on Palace's Arise Therefore (Drag City) and his own Banana Cabbage, Potato Lettuce, Onion Orange (Table of the Elements). Loren hypnotizes throughout. This is one of the rare instances in his career that he's recorded in a commercial studio, and his playing time and again rewards such a detailed representation. 'The Ghost of Exquisite' and 'Hemlock Path' are two slow-motion lockings of guitar horns. 'The Highest Point in Brooklyn' isn't the place to be in an electrical storm — but it rolled in all of a sudden and there we were, uncovered and open to the elements..."

TAPE: Milieu CD (HAPNA 014). $15.00

"Tape is a trio from Stockholm, Sweden, building their music from a whole array of acoustic instruments, computer and field recordings. Their first CD Opera got excellent reviews in international press and was compared to artists such as Talk Talk, Gastr del Sol, Fennesz, John Fahey and Faust. Their new CD Milieu shares the same basic premises as Opera. All kinds of sound sources are used and organically integrated in the songs, which move freely somewhere between the composed and the improvised. Even if Milieu makes use of experimental methods, the album is argumentatively more song-based than Opera and therefore maybe more accessible."

TORSSON, PATRIK: Kolväteserenader CD (HAPNA 015). $15.00

"This is the first release from Swede Patrik Torsson. It's a CD about life onboard an oil tanker. The music is electronica with spoken stories (in Swedish) about memorable moments onboard. Other instruments/sounds include guitar, piano, keyboard and field recordings. Comparisons could be made to Björn Olsson and Hans Appelqvist (eg his 3" CD on Håpna)."

SAGOR & SWING: Orgelplaneten CD (HAPNA 016). $15.00

"The new record by Sagor & Swing is quite different from their earlier low-key, melancholic records. Their characteristic sound is still there, but Orgelplaneten is more direct and joyful, more pop perhaps. Their basic instrumentation, organ and drums, is completed with Moog and accordion. This aspect of Sagor & Swing has always been there as a parallel track, but Orgelplaneten is the first time it is expressed on record. This is the fourth album by Sagor & Swing (all released by Håpna)."

TORSSON, PATRIK: Gästhamnar 3" CD (HAPNA 017). $10.50

"Second release on Håpna from former skipper Patrik Torsson. As on his full-length Kolväteserenader, also with a nautical theme. A conceptual work about guest-harbours around the Swedish coastlines where Patrik reads texts about how to anchor and moor to his beat-based and organic electronica."

HAPPY:

PIANA: Snow Bird CD (HAP 001 CD). $12.00

First release on this new 12K subsidiary label, focussing on "unconventional Japanese pop". "Happy launches with Snow Bird, an album by Morioka, Japan's Piana. Her songs have a touch of introspection, melancholy, and play out as a girl's monologue. The sounds are sometimes gentle, sometimes jarring and even sometimes funny. Snow Bird offers a unique blend of modern electronic production techniques and pop sensibilities. Naoko's vocals float dreamlike over cropped percussion, and melodic, digital microstructures."

HAPPY GO LUCKY:

BOWERY ELECTRIC: "Blow Up"/"Electrosleep" 12" (HAPPY 13). $6.00

"Continuing with the experimentation of beats, 'Blow Up' shows a side of Bowery Electric not yet witnessed — a rapid fire Drum and Bass excursion that will have the dance floor bumping. The addition of jungle into the mix is not to say they've forgone their droning beginnings and that use of the drone is exactly what makes 'Blow Up' stand out from the crowd and rock so hard. 'Electrosleep' on the flip side shows Bowery Electric pushing the boundaries in a different direction. The use of dissonant piano structures add a 20th Century classical/post-Wagner twist to this slow burner."

HARBINGER HOUSE (UK):

BACKWORLD: Seeds Of Love CD EP (HCDUK 146). $13.00

5 track CD EP. "Seeds Of Love is the precursor for the stunning new full-length Backworld this release Good Infection. Several of the tracks featured on Seeds Of Love are exclusive to this release and will not feature on any other Backworld releases. On his relocation to Scotland, Joseph Budenholzer became immersed in the local music scene and soon gained the respect and admiration of his peers. Testament to this is the line-up featured on Seeds Of Love. Isobel Campbell of The Gentle Waves and formerly of Belle And Sebastian delivers a haunting vocal performance of The Teddy Bears classic 'Tammy'. Falkirk based Jazz musician Bill Wells valued for his wild inspiring octet, arranged and played keyboard and piano. Author of England's Hidden Reverse David Keenan from the Telstar Ponies and Phantom Engineer plays guitar. David Tibet of Current 93 was also in Scotland during the recordings and contributed the text, as well as the lead vocal on the beautifully melancholic song 'The Lamb And The Lion'."

HARKIT RECORDS (UK):*OST: Cul-De-Sac CD (HRK 8022CD). $15.00

Original soundtrack, composed and performed by Krzysztof Komeda. "Jazz pianist, Christopher Komeda's rarest and weirdest music performed for a film directed by his friend, Roman Polanski. Huge variety — here for the first time since 1966. Full explanatory liner notes included."

OST: Cul-De-Sac LP (HRK 8022LP). $17.00

LP version.

OST: Beyond The Valley Of The Dolls CD (HRK 8032CD). $19.00

"Finally available after over 30 years! We are delighted to announce a completely digitally remastered version of the Original Soundtrack of what some have called one of the greatest American movies of the 20th century. Made at a time when the studio was on its knees (doing heaven-knows-what!), Russ Meyer called in Stu Phillips to create an eclectic and dramatic score, which also features performances by The Strawberry Alarm Clock and the Sandpipers. This amazing extended restoration features previously unreleased original dramatic studio cues as well as many of the original playback vocal tracks recorded by Lynn Carey. All here for the very first time! A sensational riotously full-color 20-page booklet includes candid liner notes by the composer/ conductor Stu Phillips plus revealing remembrances by screenwriter Roger Ebert. There's also an outrageous interview with the movie's director Russ Meyer."

OST: Beyond The Valley Of The Dolls LP (HRK 8032LP). $26.00

LP version, full color gatefold sleeve. Pressed on 180 gram crimson vinyl.

HARMONIA MUNDI (FRANCE):*XENAKIS, IANNIS: Pleiades CD (HMA 1905185). $10.00

Harmonia Mundi is a gigantic French classical label; occasionally they get beyond basic classical repertoire and release some avant garde titles; here are a few, (the HMA prefixes are mid-line prices). Pleiades is a percussion piece performed by Les Percussions de Strasbourg (vibraphones, marimbas, xylophones, etc.); richly defined, timeless music that will sound good for the rest of your life. "The whole source of this polyrhythmic composition is the idea of periodicity, repetition, duplication, faithful, pseudo-faithful, unfaithful copy... still greater variations of an even greater complexity, due to the hazards of a particular stochastic distribution, lead to total rhythm, to a massy awareness of the event, to notions of clouds, nebulas, galaxies of the fragmented dust of beats organized by the rhythm." — Xenakis.

STOCKHAUSEN, KARLHEINZ: Aus Den Sieben Tagen CD (HMA 190795). $10.00

Two sections of Stockhausen's legendary "musique intuitive" work, an obscurist set of instructions for improvisational guiding. Recorded in 1969, with Stockhausen in the control room operating filters and potentiometers, this is performed by long time electronic music ensemble members like Aloys Kontarsky (piano), Michel Portel (reeds), Johannes Fritsch (viola), Alfred Ailings (tam-tam), Rolf Gehlhaar (tam-tam), Harold Boje (electronium), Jean-Pierre Drouet (percussion) & Jean-Francois Jenny-Clark (bass).

HARVEST (GERMANY):*COMPUTER JOCKEYS: 2LP (HAR 23288). $22.00

"Debut full length from the duo of Hagedorn (previous single on Onitor, 'Miss Construction' as well as tracks on Sound of Cologne Zwei and Battery Park 3.0, lock grooves on Cologne Cyclez 2) and Digital Jockey (ditto), who had previously remixed Dr. Walker & M. Flux four times over on the 4 Lovesongz 4 the Spice Girlz single, also on Harvest. Apparently they prefer to work in a Plaid-like relationship (almost all tracks are solo productions). Extremely hi-fi downtempo with slight digital elements over a mostly organic backdrop. One track, 'Train', is dedicated to Chuck Berry & Kevin Shields. Nuff said." — Hrvatski.

H.E.A.D.: 97/98 2LP (HAR 4955631). $17.00*H.E.A.D.: 97/98 CD (HAR 4955632). $18.00

"The return of the H.E.A.D.: this project by Force Inc's Kerosene and NY-based Khan only released one EP in '95. Therefore they might not be the most prominent artists on the label, but this new 97/98 album surely has to be rated as one of the Harvest highlights. Two years of collected funk ranging from Detroit-styled house to Sähkö-esque funny queerness."

VA: Battery Park 3.0 2CD (HAR 5228852). $30.00

"The soundtrack to Cologne's big electronic festival." Artists: Air Liquide, Digital Jockey, Peta, Dr. Walker & M. Flux, Reinhard Schmitz, Wulfmannson, Frank Heiss, Cozmopolis, Docjot, Craig Anderton, Hagedorn, Kerosene, Reissdorf Force, Irwin Leschet & L.U.K.L., Treibstoff, Bedroom Prod., Thee Joker, Nord Sud Fahrt.

COMPUTER JOCKEYS: Ping Pong 12" (HAR 8799266). $9.00

"Their unique 'Pinpong' track in 2 mixes plus Asia-break-house monster 'Inshallah'"

DR. WALKER & M. FLUX: Present Some Cockrocking Beatz CD (HAR 8583352). $11.00

"Air Liquide-member Dr. Walker found a new sparring partner in M. Flux (Liquid Sky Cologne) to unleash an EP of raw, loopedbreakbeats with a trash hillie-billy humor, funky filtered & twisted downbeat monsters that will surely appeal to Freddy Fresh fans, et al." 8-track 48-minute EP.

G.E.N.: Gen Attack! CD (HAR 8857492). $11.00

"The early Khan & Walker project Global Electronic Network (previous releases on Mille Plateaux) returns after 3 years of silence. A wild, onslaught bigbeated, psychedelic melting-pot that was recorded completely live in NYC earlier this year. A full G.E.N. album is scheduled for spring '99."

DR. WALKER & M. FLUX: Cockblockin Beatz (The Remixes) 12" (HAR 8860486). $10.00

Four track vinyl version.

KRON: Die Remixe CD (HAR 8862552). $11.00

"The first single taken from Kompakt's Kron aka Reinhard Voigt (Forever Sweet, Sweet Reinhard)'s fine debut Gold Und Liebe. Features the original mix plus a Profan-remix by Mike Ink, a Kalk-remix by Reinhard himself, but up by the unreleased 'The Final'."

KRON: Die Remixe 12" (HAR 8862556). $10.00*DR. WALKER & M. FLUX: 4 Lovesongz 4 the Spice Girlz CD (HAR 88657327). $11.00

Four remixes by the Computer Jockeys (Digital Jockey & Hagedorn). Dubbed up haze in the Hotel Lotte style from Walker (Air Liquide) and Flux. The title refers to thematic obsession and the potentiality of public swimming in the ruins of Cologne.

AIR LIQUIDE: Superfreaky CD (HAR 8868402). $11.00

"Cologne's Air Liquide are back with a four tracker that differs quite a bit from the minimal techno that they were reknown for. 'Superfreaky' is a slightly big beated, 80's sounding party track with vocodered Prince-style vocals, that get's dubbed out in Jammin' Unit's remix. 'Again And Again' is a blatant treatment of Jackie Mittoo's 'Too Late To Turn Back Now'."

VA: Battery Park 3.0 2LP (HAR 88784061). $15.00

Double 12" version, features 9 of the 25 tracks on the 2CD version.

VA: Battery Park Cologne 2.0 2CD (HAR 987002). $28.00

Double CD compilation of Cologne techno tracks from: Air Liquide, Coldcut, Computerjockeys, Dr. Walker & M. Flux, Das Sausen, Frank Heiss, Khan & Walker, Reinhard Schmitz, Swingin Stoopid & Wulfmannson. Limited remaining stock.

HAT[NOW]ART (SWITZERLAND):*FELDMAN, MORTON: Neither CD (HAT 102). $17.50

1998 CD of this first recording from 1990 of an opera with words by Samuel Beckett, performed by the Radio-Sinfonie-Orchester Frankfurt, conducted by Zoltán Peskó. "Neither has been identified by some as an opera (it was commissioned by the Rome Opera and received its premiere in 1977), but it makes use of none of the conventions of traditional opera. There is no story, no mise-en-scene. Only one person appears, declaiming a text of 87 words divided on the page into 16 lines, as if poetry. If the presentation can be interpreted as dramatic, it is nevertheless non-theatrical. The intensity results from emotional/aesthetic tension, not plot manipulation or character confrontation. Yet Feldman was aware from the beginning that this was to be a different kind of formal experience... The music evolves as gradually as a sky darkening before a storm. What movement there is energized by the ongoing shifts between stasis and activity (repetition and melody, or memory and observation). Feldman once acknowledged that, in this way, the music for Neither hovers in between what was, for him, a personal style (the 'impenetrable self') and an impersonal style (the impenetrable unself), as can be heard in the alternating episodes of static chords (at times thinned out to single notes) and flowing melody. It is sometimes the difference between a chilling moment of icy strings, or low ominous rumbles in the brass or percussion....Like the text, the music is filled with ghosts and echoes — both a product of memory, as the illusion of absence made real once more — as well as the confirmation of the literalness of its doors and footfalls." — Art Lange.

FELDMAN, MORTON: Atlantis CD (HAT 116). $17.50

"Sensible grouping of three of Morton Feldman's orchestral works; 'Atlantis' (1959, marking Feldman's reunion with graphic notation after abandoning in 1953), 'String Quartet & Orchestra' (1973), and 'Oboe & Orchestra' (1976). Recorded in 1997, performed by the Radio-Sinfonie-Orchester Frankfurt (conducted by Lucas Vis) with the Pellegri String Quartet and oboist Hans De Vries. Beautiful contemplative works constructed without the aid of any known/documented system or mathematic process, just the way we like it." — Hrvatski. "Feldman adheres closely to the idea of one perception immediately following another — it is the glue that holds his sounds together, the structural element that is anti-system yet results in a unified formal entity. The music — especially the later orchestral music in the 70s — becomes a field of energy exchange and transfer. Even if heard as a flow of sequential events, these are not dependent upon development or variation as is traditionally the measure of form, but emerge as autonomous masses of sound which hover, linger, repeat and are replaced by the next event/perception." — Art Lange.

FELDMAN, MORTON: For John Cage CD (HAT 124). $17.50

1997 recording of the mini-epic piece "For John Cage" (1983), performed here by Ives Ensemble members Josje Ter Haar (violin) and John Snijders (piano). Once described by Feldman as "a little piece for violin and piano, but it doesn't quit," this version runs for 69.12 uninterrupted minutes. "When in 1984 Feldman said, 'If my approach seems more didactic now — spending many hours working out strategies that only apply to a few moments of music — it is because the patterns that interest me are both concrete and ephemeral, making notation difficult,' he may have given a clue to the metaphorical relationship his music had with the visual arts. The patterns he was discussing were not merely patterns of sound — for example, notes in a particular sequence organized to some formal plan, a la serialism — but possibly visual shapes as well... More specifically, he stated, 'The degrees of stasis, found in a Rothko or Guston, were perhaps the most significant elements I brought to my music from painting... By stasis, Feldman is referring not merely to the use of repetition, since the frequent repeated articulation of notes or chords in his music is never literal anyway, but consistently modified to varying tonal, textural, and perceptual degrees, however subtle; he is also commenting upon the lack of linear development in his material. Typically, as is the case in 'For John Cage', Feldman presents a pattern (or sequence) of notes and/or chords, and may repeat them an unpredictable and asymmetrical number of times, until they are succeeded by the next pattern, but the pattern is never developed, reorganized, or manipulated in any conventional fashion." — Art Lange.

TENNEY, JAMES: Forms 1-4 · In Memoriam Varese, Cage, Wolpe, Feldman 2CD (HAT 127). $23.00

World Premiere Recordings by musikFabrik. Total time 113.52. Works by: Tenney, Edgar Varese, John Cage, Stefan Wolpe, Morton Feldman. "What James Tenney does have in common with the composers to whom he has dedicated his FORMS, however, is not a specific approach to dynamics, but to sound. And precisely this inquiring interest in sound, both as a physical phenomenon and as regards its perception, was a constant leitmotif that pervaded the whole American avant-garde from its European counterparts, which was more structurally and historically oriented." — Raoul Mörchen.

ABLINGER, PETER: Grisailles (1-100) für drei Klaviere (1991-93) CD (HAT 132). $17.50

"The throbbing standstill as changing tinge of light, as a slow change (of light and therefore of space and time), fifty minutes long. 'Grisailles 1-100' for three pianos consists of various levels of overlapping sound-layers. Repeated octaves and small, barely audible sounds made by fingers darting across the keys seem to be two of these levels. Peter Ablinger composed twenty-four layers to start with — each one following its own time and structure — before these were being combined in a preliminary score." — Christian Scheib. First recording of this work, by Hildegard Kleebe (piano), recorded 12/98.

CARISI/SAUTER/WOLFF/WOLPE: Counterpoise CD (HAT 136). $17.00

Compositions by John Carisi, Eddie Sauter, Christian Wolff and Stefan Wolpe. Performed by Ensemble Accanto & XASAX. Carisi wrote "Israel" for Miles Davis and Sauter is the arranger of some Stan Getz recordings for Verve. Both are students of Stefan Wolpe and they have written contemporary works too. Features: Wolpe: "Wuartet For Trumpet, Tenor Saxophone, Percussion, and Piano" (1950/4); Carisi: "Saxophone Quartet No. 1" (1965); Carisi: "Counterpoise No. 1 For Trumpet, Baritone Saxophone, Percussion and Piano" (1948); Sauter: "Saxophone Quartet No. 1" (1977); Wolff: "Exercise 26 & 27 (Snare Drum Peace March 1 & 2) (1968); Wolpe: "Stimmen aus dem Massengrab" (for speaker, two saxophones, trumpet, two pianos & percussion) (1928). "It's interesting to note that the title chosen for this carefully plotted program of works, Counterpoise, refers to equivalent powers set in opposition creating a state of balance, and appears in the dictionary in between the words 'counterpoint' and 'counterpose'. There is certainly a measured balance in the interrelated and contrasting material presented here, as well as in the personalities of the composers represented. Moreover, there is a palpable sense of poise (that is, equilibrium, assurance, and tact) in the music itself, which accounts for the equal degrees of spontaneity and inevitability-highlighting the counter-effect of creative tension that result. — Art Lange.

WOLPE, FELDMAN, ZIMMERMANN, SEEL: Four Generations CD (HAT 139). $16.00

"It is only fitting that the coda to this recital of most demanding 20th century piano music should only be a quiet epilogue, a sparse and subtle probing of single piano sonorities, but also a creation of the brilliant young pianist who manages to do justice to music as different as those of Wolpe, Feldman and Zimmermann. For Daniel N. Seel is not only a of renown, but a prodigious composer, whose oeuvre includes, apart from numerous piano pieces, orchestral music, an opera, scores of various instrumental groupings and performance-oriented pieces. And since Seel is a former student of Walter Zimmermann, this pianissimo finale is also another link in the many aesthetic and biographical strands joining Stefan Wolpe, Morton Feldman, Walter Zimmermann and Daniel N. Seel, in spite of all obvious differences between those representatives of four musical generations." — Peter Niklas Wilson

HATNOIR (SWITZERLAND):

MAZZACANE CONNORS, LOREN: A Possible Dawn CD (HAT 801). $17.50

HatNoir is the newest Hat Hut sub-label, which intends "to serve as a home for fresh, unpredictable, innovative, uncategorizable musical and spoken work projects." A Possible Dawn is an aggressive solo electric guitar album for Loren, recorded in NYC, 1995-96. The final track (the 33-minute "MCC/MM Trio") is a trio recording with Thurston Moore and Jean-Marc Montera, recorded 1/11/97. "Persisting all the while in their exploration of sound, the trio (Connors/Moore/Montera) seeks nevertheless to produce harmonies, which are in fact fleeting, scarcely existent, so strong is the distortion; the result is a combination of lyricism and heavy metal fused in the very eye of the storm. Rasping, railing, like a lo-fi glasspaper whine, they develop a sound this is both simple and full; the whirls of guitar notes career headily into space without excluding moments of pure explosion. This is 'brutism' music at its best, the sound of a fury burning away inside...Right from the start, Connors, Montera and Moore take their place in a firmament of brilliant stars, such as Jimi Hendrix or Larry Coryell with the Jazz Composers Orchestra, Lou Reed and his Metal Machine Music, or Keiji Haino with Fushitsusha. The common thread is this — to shatter the blues into a thousand pieces, re-think it and bring it into the 21st century." — Marie-Pierre Boniol & Philippe Robert. Last copies of this now deleted item.

HATOLOGY (SWITZERLAND):

SHIPP DUO/MAT MANERI, MATTHEW: Gravitational Systems CD (HAT 530). $17.50

Hatology is the branch of the label dedicated to jazz and related improvised music. Matthew Shipp (piano), Mat Maneri (violin); studio recordings from 1998. "And so Matthew Shipp creates a parallel universe, a cosmos of his own imagining, an ether illuminated by the hyper-vivid hues of exploding suns and the stark poetic allure of impossibly distant galaxies. He plays the future blues. His commitment to the evolution of an organic, ferociously original voice on the piano is one of the major accomplishments of any musician in [the 90s]... Shipp conceives of Gravitational Systems as the recording debut of a unique improvising configuration. First, this duo performance with the zealously gifted violinist Mat Maneri charts a natural progression from remarkable meetings on By The Law Of Music (the string trio that also features longtime collaborator and fellow avant-gardist, William Parker)... Second, it's a logical piece of a larger puzzle that finds the pianist exploring and exploiting his concepts in varying duos, trios and quartets that consciously defy expectations... With Gravitational, Shipp steps up a lively conversation that promises to keep listeners occupied well into the next century." — Steve Dollar.

JÖRGESMANN QUARTET, THEO: Snijbloemen CD (HAT 539). $17.50

Debut recordings of this new German quartet: Theo Jörgensmann (clarinet), Christopher Dell (vibes), Christian Ramond (double bass), Klaus Kugel (drums). "A clarinet player who modeled the projection and intensity of his tone not on Benny Goodman or Jimmy Giuffrè, but on Cannonball Adderley and early Coltrane...Indeed, in spite of his hard bop roots, Jörgensmann is also an eminently European improviser. One who projects the razor-sharp intensity of say, Jackie McLean, but without the melodic, formal, harmonic clichés of the Fifties. Emotionality without pathos. Jörgensmann's idea of self-expression recalls Lennie Tristano's Freudian distinction between ego and id in improvisation, between the self-conscious projection of personality and the free flow of self." — Peter Niklas Wilson

GROSSMAN TRIO, RICHARD: Where The Sky Ended CD (HAT 541). $17.50

Grossman (piano), Ken Filiano (double bass), Alex Cline (percussion). A reissue of the Remember CD on the US Magnatone label from 1994, with two additional bonus live tracks from the same recording dates (1989-92). "I think of myself as a jazz player, and my music as a natural extension of the jazz tradition. What I'm doing is completely free improvisation ('composing in real time') with nothing predetermined. I've had a lot of experience playing many different kinds of music and several different instruments, and since I tend not to waste anything, it all shows up somewhere in the music I'm playing now." — Richard Grossman. The following quote from Richard Meltzer was written at the time of the initial release of this music: "What more can I tell you? That the guy was without doubt the most important jazz pianist to die since Thelonious Monk, or jazz figure at large (cut off in full creative flight) since Albert Ayler? I say that, you'll think I'm nuts. But enough about dying... and 'importance'. Artists like Richard Grossman don't have a gift, you have a gift: you receive it. Receive this now that you may wake other mornings, many mornings, and not only breath but SIGH."

LACY, STEVE: Clinkers CD (HAT 546). $17.50

Reissue of a long o/p HatHut LP, a historic solo soprano sax album by Steve Lacy, recorded live 6/9/77 at Restaurant Zer Alte Schmitti in Basel, Switzerland. "Only the sixth Hat to be released by the emerging record label in the late 70s, the first half of a live concert in Basel (Joe McPhee waiting in the wings). Steve Lacy investigates life in the interstices of the internal and external worlds, translated through and narrated by a soprano saxophone.

NABATOV TRIO, SIMON: Sneak Preview CD (HAT 548). $17.50

Nabatov (piano), Mark Helias (double bass), Tom Rainey (drums). "Nabatov is not only a pianist, as the pieces on this CD show. Thus, one is tempted to speak, then, about the crossing over of the borders between genres, but one must also ask, which borders are these, because Simon Nabatov has grown up with several different musical forms, he experienced classical music and jazz at the same time, and has come to love both. This experience is not at all new. Gustav Mahler and Arnold Schönberg loved music of many different origins, George Gershwin and Duke Ellington as well. The combination, however, of the various musical types on the level of composition and performance, is always and forever new." — Dr. Ulrich Kurth.

SHIPP TRIO, MATTHEW: Prism CD (HAT 549). $17.00

"There's the same very fast transference of signals. There's the very complex type of pattern action. There's the same mixture of improvisations and discipline. But the unknown is being unfolded at really fast rates. Which certainly holds true for this no-nonsense, cinema verité-like set from New York's Roulette performance space, recorded in March 1993. Matthew Shipp (piano); William Parker (double bass); and Whit Dickey (drums)." Previously issued by Brinkmann Records. Produced by Johan Kugelberg. From Peter Niklas Wilson's liner notes "...the most remarkable thing about Shipp's singular style is not his achievement of having developed an own voice in freely improvised piano playing next to the large-than-life presence of Mr. C.T., but his uncanny ability to recognize the improvisational potential of the pianistic textures and the melodic and harmonic vocabulary of early 20th century composer-performers such as Scriabin and Bartók (most pianists have opted for Chopin and Debussy, or, if more sympathetic to the avantgarde, Schönberg and Webern). The ambidextrous patterns and harmonically ambiguous chords Shipp uses as starting points of his extended improvisational explorations could have been lifted straight out of some European piano scores from, say, 1920, whereas Taylor's vocabulary has grown into a bold synthesis of abstracted blues motifs and high-velocity small-bandwidth clusters. The unmistakably 'unjazz' source of many of Shipp's improvisations might lead some self-professed jazz guardians to question the pianist's jazz credentials: swing and blues, whither art thou? An accusation to which Shipp has replied: 'I'm not interested in fitting some moron definition of what jazz is.'"

JÖRGESMANN & ECKARD KOLTERMANN, THEO: Pagine Gialle CD (HAT 553). $16.00

"Virtues such as these, however, are not to be had easily. It takes the dedication and stamina of dedicated clarinetist to mine these sonic areas with results as stellar as the once documented on this disc. 'Real' clarinet players are a special breed, sharing specific pride and camaraderie, comparable perhaps to the fraternity rites of the royal trumpet fellowship. Indeed, only very few woodwind players who consider the clarinet to be just one colour amongst others on their sonic palette can rival the mastery so evident in these 'yellow pages', a golden hour in the annals of clarinet playing — and of contemporary music beyond category." — Peter Niklas Wilson

MATTHEW SHIPP STRING TRIO: Expansion, Power, Release CD (HAT 558). $16.00

Matthew Shipp (piano) with Mat Maneri (violin) and William Parker (bass); studio recordings from 11/18/99. "The second recording of the String Trio. The first was on hatART 6200. Matthew Shipp's roots are firmly planted in a jazz aesthetic, but like other musical geniuses of decades past, his driving vision never stands still, propelling him to break open new frontiers. If the pianist's compositions or performances do not fit established categories, or appear tinged with ragged complexities, they merely reflect his personality, which combines an abstract intellectualism with a healthy, engaging view of life. Shipp knows there incorporate qualities that infuse his being, and his music expresses his grasp of truths and complexities not often realized. That the striking performance found on this disk captures this essence is a noteworthy achievement."

JOHANSSON, AXEL DÖRNER, ANDREA NEUMANN, SVEN-AKE: Barcelona Series CD (HAT 559). $16.00

Sven-Åke Johansson (drums); Axel Dörner (trumpet) and Andrea Neumann (piano/harp). "The ensemble you are hearing on this CD, a group cultivating, as Johansson put's it, a mechanistic, almost non-expressive playing stance, with the aesthetics of renunciation or of leaving out instead of filling in.' Non-expressive improvisation? Aesthetics of reduction? Sounds familiar... A music hard to pinpoint and yet occupying a sonic niche of its very own." — Peter Niklas Wilson.

RA ARKESTRA, SUN: Sunrise In Different Dimensions CD (HAT 568). $16.00

Reissue, remixed. Recorded live on 2/24/1980 at Gasthof Mohren Willisau in Switzerland. Featuring Marshall Allen, John Gilmore, Nöel Scott, Danny Thompson, Kenneth Williams, Michael Ray, Chris Henderson & Eric Walker. "Beauty is necessary for survival" Sun Ra told me in 1983. But whether or not you believe beauty is necessary for survival, you can be sure that you're holding a little piece of it in your hand right now. And who knows but that, in different dimensions, Sun Ra speaks for you?" — Graham Lock.

AYLER, ALBERT: Lörrach, Paris 1966 CD (HAT 573). $16.00

Reissue, remixed, 24-bit remaster. Ayler (tenor sax), Don Ayler (trumpet), Michel Samson (violin), William Folwell (bass), Beaver Harris (drums). "The enthusiasm of the Paris audience, the strong following the Aylers had in France does not come as a total surprise. For, as the musician and his brother explained in the Down Beat story: If you really understood the message of Sidney Bechet, you should have no difficulty relating to this new kind of free spirit music." — Peter Niklas Wilson.

SHIPP TRIO, MATTHEW: By The Law Of Music CD (HAT 574). $16.00

Shipp (piano), Mat Maneri (violin), William Parker (bass). Studio recordings from 8/5/96. "Matthew Shipp's version of jazz is one that accommodates mysticism, and so a conversation about music with him will always yield the word 'puzzle'. He talks about his work as math, as formula, as metaphysics...By the Law of Music was conceived as a twelve-part suite, or, in the composer's words, a 'kinetic grid'. With unnerving slow-motion, Maneri always seems to be leading somewhere, he makes you anticipate the future. Parker, a reactive player, embodies the immediate present by encompassing different worlds of pitch and rhythm into his playing, collapsing registers to access surprising notes. And Shipp is a naturally reflective musician. I have always come away from hearing him remembering the afterglow of chords more than the attack." — Ben Ratliff.

ESKELIN, ELLERY: Vanishing Point CD (HAT 577). $16.00

Ellery Eskelin (tenor saxophone), Mat Maneri (viola), Erik Friedlander (cello) and Matt Moran (vibraphon). "When I listen back to the music perhaps the one feeling I get throughout all of the pieces is best expressed by the title of track number four 'Inquiétante Familiarité'. This phrase refers to the phenomenon that Freud described as a 'strange nearness' for 'unheimlich' in the German. A strange familiarity or perhaps a familiar strangeness. Improvisation often has this quality for me. Taking what you know in the unknown...making the familiar unfamiliar...bringing the unfamiliar near... seeing things as if for the first time..." —Ellery Eskelin

ZORN, JOHN: *Cobra 2CD (HAT 580). $23.00

Reissue, remixed, 24-bit remaster. Total time 112:50. "Above all, Cobra is a musical experience. Words cannot convey... Listen, just listen, and you're liable to find yourself lost in the magic of the game, and the music." — Art Lange. Includes a studio and live version of Cobra, from 1985-6. Musicians include: Staley, Parkins, Frisell, Sharp, Lindsay, Coleman, Horvitz, Weinstein, Klucsevsk, James, Marclay, Previte, Deane, Zorn.

COPLAND TRIO, MARC: *Haunted Heart & Other Ballads CD (HAT 581). $16.00

Marc Copland (piano), Drew Gress (bass) and Jochen Rueckert (drums). "Playing ballads is, in many ways, the ultimate musical challenge. A ballad is like the window into the soul of the artist. From the first note, it must be approached with true and honest feeling, and a sense of openness. At the beginning of a musician's journey, one tends to believe that playing fast is difficult, as the journey progresses one realizes that playing slowly is much more difficult. Musical values that are important elsewhere, are here absolutely essential: sensitivity, color, dynamic, economy, and clarity. We hope that in opening your hearts, we have touched yours." —Marc Copland

HAUSMUSIK (GERMANY):

VILLAGE OF SAVOONGA: *Live CD (HM 060 CD). $14.00

"This Bavarian collective features members from Notwist, Tied & Tickled Trio, Lalipuna, and about 74 other great German bands. The fourth and probably final chapter in the Village of Savoonga story happens to be a live album, recorded at the annual Hausmusik Festival in 2001. One of the final VoS live shows, it also happens to be (in the band's own opinion) one of their best shows ever. The material spans all three previous VoS releases, and shows the band's sound returning (full circle) to its initial incarnation as a soft/loud guitar group. Gone are the loops and ambient flourishes, as the live ensemble approaches the heights associated with Shellac and Slint."

QUEEN OF JAPAN: *I Was Made For Loving You 12" (HM 050EP). $10.00

"It was time to re-release this fantastic 12" from 2000 and it is already a classic. It should not be miss at any DJ-set. Everybody around this small world knows the song in original and meanwhile many people know that this version is even better — definitely. Nothing else to tell you."

ISO68: *Here/There CD (HM 063CD). $15.00

"Florian Zimmer and Thomas Leboeg have terminated their recording and mixing sessions and do come out with their latest, third album. The atmosphere is somewhat more acoustic, although ISO68 is still using lots of electronic elements, very often combining different kinds of string instruments with digital sounds. Here/There offers a great variety of sound experiments and ISO68 seems to have grown much more emphatic in attracting the listeners attention."

ISO68: *Here/There LP (HM 063LP). $13.00

LP version.

CAKEKITCHEN: *How Can You Be So Blind? CD (HM 065 CD). $16.00

"Cakekitchen: Where to start, at Messages For The Cakekitchen, the solo-debut album from '87 by Graeme Jefferies? Or should we start with This Kind of Punishment the critically acclaimed earlier project of the brothers Graeme and Peter Jefferies? It is difficult, because Graeme Jefferies is one of the important protagonists of the alternative New Zealand music scene, but if someone doesn't know this scene it is useless to tell him about any of those brilliant names involved with it. The result is a record that's brought out the best aspects of Graeme's music. You can easily take superlatives to describe the record. As in the Hollywood Movie Academy we give 4 Oscars for the following categories: great songs, special vocals, wonderful arrangements and perfect production."

CAKEKITCHEN: *How Can You Be So Blind? LP (HM 065 LP). $15.00

LP version.

FASHION, CARLO: *I Am The Crazy Hooverman CD (HM 066 CD). $16.00

"Carlo Fashion aka Carl Oesterhelt is back and still very much himself. Even if he meanwhile became the favourite keyboard/percussionist of 'the Weilheim scene' and travels around the world with Ms John Soda, Tied + Tickled Trio and 3 Shades Of Blues besides still playing drums in F.S.K., his own work remains far removed from anything that these contexts might suggest. Carl managed to put together another weird, surprising and inspirational masterpiece between cartoon soundtracks, dub, fake jazz and chamber music that still conjures an unusual lineup of comparisons like Chinese opera music, Moondog, Topsy and John Cage."

ISO68: *Here/There: Played by CD (HM 067CD). $16.00

"Robert Lax, Iso 68 found time to ask some selected friends and artists to remix tracks from their latest album Here/There. Remarkably enough, the artists involved did not just move around samples, some of them even recorded new tracks to the existing song bits. The resulting release is therefore not a typical remix record, it rather contains reinterpretations, sometimes closer, sometimes further from the original. Calixico, who Iso68 supported on their 2003 tour in Germany and Scandinavia, contribute a sunbleached track with dusty Texan charm. Berlin-based Masha Qrella weaves delicate beats around 'Cosmic Bones', Loopspool adds bone-dry, danceable electronic beats and thus a whole new character to Iso68's dream-like, nicely blurred sounds. One could go on raving about this release, as the remixes by Christof Kurzmann, Corker/Conboy, Sixtoo and Peter Thiessen give you every reason to... In short, ISO68 can count themselves really lucky because only few remix records can offer tracks approaching the original as intelligently, coherently and respectfully as the artists did here."

HEADZ (JAPAN):

YOSHIHIDE + NOBUKAZU TAKEMURA, OTOMO: *Turntables & Computers CD (HEADZ 014 CD). $18.00

"Turntables & Computers is an uncut live recording of Otomo Yoshihide and Nobukazu Takemura performing an improvised live set at the Super Deluxe club in Roppongi, for the 'Space Invaded' event on March 29, 2003. This live album documents the first performance ever of these two world renowned musicians together, and the intense collision between the sounds of Otomo's turntables and Takemura's computers. The album has been mastered by Takemura himself." "A meeting between Otomo Yoshihide and Nobukazu Takemura might seem like an odd one to some and to others far overdue, because both artists are known for reaching to the extremes of their similar interests; both had early years of abusing turntables, both have used the computer as an assistant in creating very human music, whether it be tonal and melodic, or 'abstract', and both have adapted these investigations to ensembles of other musicians. In this way their paths can be seen as parallel, two lanes of traffic that, after taking detours, have finally converged into one lane, and compare maps. I like to think of the disc as the soundtrack to a car of the future: this one has two steering wheels, two sets of brakes and accelerators, and like Deep Purple said 'I want it! I need it!'" — Jim O'Rourke.

YOSHIHIDE, OTOMO: *Blue CD (HEADZ 004 CD). $18.00

"The soundtrack for the movie Blue (directed by Hiroshi Ando and starring Mikako Ichikawa, winner of Best Actress at the 2002 Moscow International Film Festival), which was based on acclaimed comic artist Kiriko Nananan's comic book of the same title, was composed by internationally renowned musician Yoshihide Otomo known for his borderless sonic creations. Utilizing the basic musical material used in the film and the same musicians, Otomo did additional studio recordings to create another sonic version of Blue, which can be called a true masterpiece album. The beautiful and melancholic melodies subtly played on recorders and acoustic guitars are reminiscent of Otomo's work on his past album of film music Blue Kite, but this album has the dynamism of a band playing together and transcends the boundaries of a conventional soundtrack record. Otomo himself has stated that this record is his 'greatest work of film music' to date. Though Otomo may have been perceived as a staunch avant-garde artist until now, this record breaks away from that image and presents a subtle, delicate, pop, and emotional sound which should be a refreshing surprise to fans of Otomo's music, and even for people who listen to his music for the first time, it should be an unforgettable experience."

FENNEZ: *Live In Japan CD (HEADZ 010 CD). $18.00

Japanese-only release on the newly developing Headz imprint, in a striking digipak designed by Jon Wozencroft. "Four years after his first performance in Japan in 1999 with Mego, this album is a solo live recording of his latest show in Tokyo. This recording features the full show that took place on February 9, 2003 at Shibuya Nest in Tokyo including the encore, and has been praised by many as the greatest laptop live show in music history. This album is officially approved by the Touch label in the UK, which Fennesz is now signed to. Listen to this mind blowing historical document where you can actually feel a packed club being overwhelmed by Fennesz's cutting edge and radical pop sensibilities. Receiving a remix offer from Madonna, and recently participating on David Sylvian's newest album Blemish (Sylvian will also be featured on Fennesz's upcoming album Venice), the amount of international attention that Fennesz is receiving seems to be growing exponentially."

TORAL, RAFAEL: *Harmonic Series 2 CD (HEADZ 024CD). $18.00

Japanese-only release. Recorded live in Japan in 2003, "Harmonic Series 2" is a 43 minute piece for computer generated sinewaves, custom software, guitar and analog electronics. It follows Harmonic Series 0 which was released on Table of the Elements. "Since I have always been involved with the inner structures of sound, working with the harmonic series comes as a natural move, since harmonics are well known to guitarists. Thus, inspired by Fourier's theory, I chose to work with the most basic element of sound synthesis, the sinewave. Harmonic Series is my first project using the computer as a musical instrument." — Toral.

HEARPEN:

PERE UBU: *One Man Drives While the Other Man Screams CD (HR 117CD). $12.00

"If there is a narrative thread to the eclectic art/punk mosaic that constitutes Pere Ubu, it is the vocal musings of legendary front man David Thomas. Throughout the long history of the band from its proto-rise out of the back water industrial malaise of Cleveland Ohio in the mid seventies to later incarnations that included avant garde luminaries like Chris Cutler and Captain Beefhart refuge Eric Drew Feldman, Thomas has formed a synaptic core that drives the band's creative peregrinations. Originally released on Rough Trade records in 1989, the disc features high quality live recordings spanning the band's most prodigious period from 1978 through 1981. Burning through Ubu classics like 'Dub Housing' and 'Codex', Thomas adds spontaneously sweeping arrangements to now classic material as the band sticks to the loose but aggregate teleology that characterizes Pere Ubu at it's best."

15-60-75 (THE NUMBERS BAND): *Jimmy Bell's Still in Town CD (HR 112CD). $12.00

"For 30 years, in a small town 40 miles south of Cleveland, Ohio, The Numbers Band have kept the blues alive. Where the guardians of the form starved it of innovation, 15-60-75 nurtured abstract evolution. Where the priests of Budweiser Blues droned old catechisms by rote, 15-60-75 aspired to vision. They play blues imbued with meaning, purged and purified by flame, shorn of every superfluous moment, sound or word. Because their songs are compiled across a series of markers — words, sounds, phrases and pauses — they don't count measures and can't outline the structure of their own songs to an outsider. For the blues, a form routinely approached as a compendium of formulas, this is startling, and it means that any change of personnel necessitates months of not just relearning but rewriting every song. It is a methodology from another planet — Don Van Vliet and Sun Ra come to mind. It is form dedicated to vision." — Dave Thomas, Pere Ubu. Morpheus, along with Hearpen Records is proud to re-issue the seminal live recording and debut album Jimmy Bell's Still in Town, taped in 1975 in Cleveland, Ohio, a true document of pure blues innovation and spirited performance that encapsulates the essence of the Numbers Band sound and style."

SANCTIONS/JIM & THE LORDS: *Then Came The Electric Prunes CD (HBCD 65). $15.00

From the label that brought us The Electric Prunes Stockholm 1967 archival CD. "An album of direct to disc recordings from 1965 featuring two bands who would later become legendary US 60s psych pioneers The Electric Prunes. Sixteen tracks plus unpublished photographs completing the history of this seminal band. These recordings, rough as they are, represent all that is available to give some idea of the sound of the formative years of the band that became known as The Electric Prunes."

CHURCHILLS & JERICHO JONES: *Churchills/Jericho Jones 2CD (HED 43609). $23.00

New official version of this Israeli psych classic by the Churchills from 1968, with their 2nd album (Junkies Monkeys And Donkeys, recorded after their name change to Jericho Jones) added on. "2CD remastered reissue. The 1st CD is the first self titled album of which its vinyl LP changes hands for $1000+ price. The 10 original tracks are remixed to 16 tracks with ultra rare 7" singles sides including the 1st Churchills EP Too much in Love and the famous Bach EP (Tracks 15-16). The 2nd CD is the 2nd album titled Jerico Jones which includes 7 bonus cuts including never before released tracks and 7" tracks. This 1st edition 2xCD set comes in a limited edition slipcase with a 12 booklet (most of it in Hebrew)."

MCENTIRE, JOHN: Reach The Rock: Music From The Motion Picture CD (HEFT 014CD). $14.50

1998 soundtrack with original score composed, produced and performed by John McEntire. Also features tracks from: Tortoise, Bundy K Brown, Sea and Cake, Polvo & Dianogah.

SAVATH & SAVALAS: Folk Songs For Trains, Trees, and Honey CD (HEFT 016 CD). $14.50

"Savath + Savalas will be the first release in 2000 for Chicago based avant-electronic label, Hefty records, run by John Hughes III. This debut was recorded in various bedrooms in both the Atlanta area and Brooklyn, NY — but is a far cry from low fidelity. Savath + Savalas takes a soulful and organic approach to electronic music, with most tracks being played live with minor adjustments on the desktop PC. The album is as progressive as it is retrospective, showing odes to R&B, soul, and hip hop in a simple and smooth atmosphere. Savath and Savalas is the multi-functional Scott Herren. This project is the alter ego of Delarosa + Asora, Herron's evil twin, which will be released by the Miami based Schematic label. Scott is also Warp recording artist Prefuse 73 and collaborates and mixes with Richard Devine."

SAVATH & SAVALAS: Folk Songs For Trains, Trees, and Honey LP (HEFT 016 LP). $8.00 LP version in full color sleeve.

MONDII: T:P CD (HEFT 017 CD). $14.50

"Naohiko Sugimoto (a.k.a. Mondii) comes from Chiba, Japan and is by all means a Japanese avant noise artist — though not in the traditional sense. Mondii plays more with the electronic, a sculptor of clicks and beeps, rather than the loud and grinding noisecore most are known for. He is an experimentalist, weaving soundscapes and inorganic textures with little regard for structure or sequence. Inspired by everyday sounds and experiences, Mondii explains 'I always try to follow my mood and try to bring in some element that I haven't done before. I want to touch all kinds of sounds, instruments, and structure to expand my way of expression and make a fresher sound.' Mondii is not concerned with coloring between the lines, rather questioning why the lines are there to begin with. T:P was mixed and treated by John Hughes III, founder of the Chicago avant-electronic label Hefty records. Mondii is Hughes' most experimental project to date, pushing the boundaries of both art and music."

MONDII: T:P LP (HEFT 017 LP). $9.00

SLICKER: Remixes CD (HEFT 018 CD). $14.50

"John Hughes III, former Bill Ding member and founder of the Chicago avant-electronic/post rock label Hefty records is Slicker — a conceptual project based on experiment and ambience. With Remixes (based on the Confidence in Duber CD), Hughes sent out his alter-ego to an eclectic array of dance and electronic artists to put a new spin on an already sculptured record. The result is a surprisingly cohesive mix of sound and structure from these acclaimed remixers: Scott Herren's Savath + Savalis, where ambience meets R&B, hip hop, and soul; the collaboration between electro-wizard Richard Devine and Scott Herren, better known as Delarosa + Devine; upstate NY's one man mix machine and member of the Dylan Group, Mice Parade (a.k.a. Adam Pierce); digital darlings Matmos, a San Francisco duo making musique concrete with a beat; and from the colliding worlds of post rock, producer Casey Rice (Designer) with the Trenchmouth and Eternals singer Damon Locks, as Super ESP."

TWINE: Immediate Action #3 12" (HEFT 021). $5.00

Twine is Chad Mossholder and Greg Malcolm. This is the third volume in the Immediate Action 12" series. Limited stock.

RETINA: Immediate Action #4 12" (HEFT 022). $5.50

Fourth volume in the Immediate Action 12" series. Lino Monaco and Nicola Buono of Retina began as members of the Omen, one of the first performing groups in Naples, Italy. They met as respective DJs in a pub and immediately began creating music. In their area there is no experimental music scene, with the exception of a few techno surges over the years. Lino explains that, 'the Pompeii volcano is a huge example of the natural energy ready to explode here. The people here have great energy, but because of the poor economic situation and cultural struggles they can't turn it into positive activity'. He elaborates that he has 'a great fascination in the historic area', in which they work, 'which has a big influence on our experimental activity'. Retina's influences are wide, including electro, minimal techno, ambient, and experimental music. They perform all of their material straight to DAT tape and reedit later at their Sy6 studio which lies within viewing distance of the historic volcano. "Three very nice deep dubby bubbly exercises, one of them hip hop, one techno, and the last house, by default of programmed tempo/rhythm patterns. Another excellent outing for this (increasingly) excellent series." — Hrvatski.

ALUMINUM GROUP, THE: Pelo CD (HEFT 025 CD). $14.50

"Pelo is the fourth CD from the Aluminum Group and the first on Hefty records. New label: new direction: new support system: new opportunities. Pelo took two months to compose and construct. A collaboration with John Herndon of Tortoise and Isotope 217. Further examination of song, melody, rhythm, structure. Expansion lyrical, instrumental and combinations thereof. Those are the things that interest Frank & John Navein and John Ridenour. Pelo was mixed with this in mind by John McEntire and John Herndon at Soma. Musicians appearing on the record include Jeff Parker, John Herndon, Doug McCombs, Rob Mazurek, John McEntire, and Sally Timms."

ALUMINUM GROUP, THE: Pelo LP (HEFT 025 LP). $9.00

HUGHES, JOHN: Scarlet Diva CD (HEFT 026 CD). $14.50

"Scarlet Diva, an Italian film written, directed, and starring Italian superstar Asia Argento marks a return to the past for John Hughes. Prior to scoring Scarlet Diva, which has gained critical acclaim overseas, John had been relatively quiet, spending most of his time running the Chicago-based label, Hefty Records. Asia Argento, the daughter of cult/horror legend, Dario Argento is best known for her acting career. She has starred in several of her father's films, including Phantom of the Opera, The Stendhal Syndrome, and Trauma. Includes collaborations with John McEntire (Tortoise, Sea & Cake) & the legendary Phil Ranelin (jazz trombonist and co-founder of Detroit's infamous Tribe Records — 1970's)."

RETINA: Volcano Waves CD (HEFT 027 CD). $14.50

"FILE UNDER DIGITAL FUCKERY. Retina is an avant-electronic-experimental-noise project that explores the boundaries of digital music. Lino Monaco and Nicola Buono of Retina began making music as the Omen in 1994, one of the first performing electronic groups of their kind in Pompeii, Italy. Lino explains that, 'the Pompeii volcano is a huge example of the natural energy ready to explode here. The people here have great energy, but because of the poor economic situation and cultural struggles, they can't turn it into positive activity'. He elaborates that he has 'a great fascination in the historic area', in which they work, 'which has a big influence on our experimental activity'. Retina's studio exists beside the ancient city of Pompeii, the city that was buried under the Vesuvio volcano 2000 years ago. They perform and improvise all of their material to DAT which is later transferred to the computer and re-edited."

RETINA: Volcano Waves LP (HEFT 027 LP). $9.00

BENEATH AUTUMN SKY: Enki-du's Mono CD (HEFT 031 CD). $9.00

"The instrumental hip-hop duo BAS formed in the summer of 2000 when Smaze (best known for his work in the world of graffiti art) arrived in Jacksonville, Florida where he hooked up with his old pal and comrade dj, zane3. They quickly set up shop in the back quarters of a dive record store where they were surrounded by towers of dusty records full of treasure breaks. They dug deep through it all, taking notes along the way. The duo's methods differed dramatically — from making beats via pause button/4-track trickery to the old skool routine of cutting and pasting tape loops. The next two months they worked tirelessly, day and night. The Enki-du's Mono EP is their debut and the cream of the crop. Presently, Smaze is preparing material for the forthcoming BAS full-length album, with collaborations with Zane3 and Scott Herren (Savath+Savalas, Prefuse 73, Delrosa & Asora). Beat-freaks, stay tuned."

RANELIN, PHIL: The Time Is Now! CD (HEFT 032 CD). $14.50

"The Time Is NOW!! the time is now, for unity among the people! the time is now, for all men to be able to control their own destinies! the time is now, for oppression, racism, greed, hate, and poverty to end! The time is now, for revolution. This recording itself is part of the revolution, and the whole purpose behind this self determination venture is survival; survival for the musician, his music, and thus survival for you, the listeners and demanders of the creative black art form that has been labeled 'jazz.' Therefore efforts such as this are born of necessity. It is my hope that in some way, the music on this recording will not only inspire, or create moments of happiness, but also help cure or heal someone's mental or physical ills. This is an honest effort to communicate with and raise the awareness level of all the people." — Phil Ranelin

RANELIN, PHIL: The Time Is Now! 2LP (HEFT 032LP). $17.50

Double LP in gatefold sleeve.

RANELIN, PHIL: Vibes From The Tribe CD (HEFT 033 CD). $14.50

"Jazz trombonist Phil Ranelin was born and began his career in Indianapolis, where he met and played with jazz guitar legend Wes Montgomery at a local club called the Hub Bub. Here Ranelin also had the opportunity to play with other jazz legends such as Eddie Harris and Grant Green whenever they came through town. Later Ranelin relocated to Detroit in search of session work, where he had the opportunity to play with greats Marcus Belgrave and Pharoah Sanders. It was in Detroit where Ranelin met Wendell Harrison. Together they founded Tribe, an artist's collective of jazz musicians who ventured into the business and recording aspects of music in order to maintain more artistic control. While releasing records, Tribe also published their own magazine which featured social and political commentary and music reviews. It became a cultural phenomenon in Detroit. 'The Tribe possessed near magic proportion when uttered in the African American community,' says Ranelin. While managing Tribe, he also worked as a Motown session player, playing on records for Stevie Wonder, Smokey Robinson and The Temptations. Phil currently resides in Los Angeles where he still remains musically and culturally active. He was recently designated a 'Rare and Valuable Treasure' and a 'Cultural Ambassador' by the Mayor and City Council. Phil is reading himself live dates in support of the reissues. Phil Ranelin was contacted by John Hughes of Hefty last year to play on his soundtrack to the film Scarlet Diva. It was during this session that Ranelin first mentioned that he had the complete masters to his Tribe recordings. The project began to fall into place. Both albums were mixed from the original session tapes by engineer John McEntire (Tortoise, Sea and Cake, Reach the Rock soundtrack) late last year. They were fully restored and remixed true to the original masters, and both include previously unreleased bonus tracks and extended versions. This is the first time that they have been reissued in their entirety. In support of these reissues, Hefty will also be releasing remixes by contemporary artists in hopes of spreading the original power of these recordings to a new generation of listeners."

RANELIN, PHIL: Vibes From The Tribe 2LP (HEFT 033 LP). $17.50

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve.

SLICKER: The Latest CD (HEFT 034 CD). $14.50

"The Latest offering from Slicker finds John Hughes making a conscious, accessible shift in direction from his previous sound. John has been slowly developing his sound, while retaining his organic, hands on approach since his days as leadman for the eclectic pop group, Bill Ding. He has now come to fruition with Slicker, offering his most diverse and innovative recording to date. Although refined and minimal, The Latest manages to jar and peak attention. And most of all, it hits hard. The album features collaborations with Matmos (Matador), Telefon Tel Aviv (Hefty) and Samadha Trio's Chris Case (Hefty)."

SLICKER: The Latest 2LP (HEFT 034 LP). $17.50

Double LP version in gatefold sleeve.

TELEFON TEL AVIV: Fahrenheit Fair Enough CD (HEFT 035 CD). $14.50

"Fahrenheit Fair Enough marks the debut, full-length release from Telefon Tel Aviv. For the uninitiated TT converge their interests in modern/contemporary electronic music, carefully crafted & passionate compositions/arrangements, lush fragile melodies & harmonic interplay. TT always seamlessly manage to keep their instrumental music equation full of life (organic, if you will) and ever-changing, achieving impressive results along the way. On Fahrenheit Fair Enough, TT often blends elements of atmospheric sounds & synths that echo, ebb & swell, melodies that float & flutter, while hi-end percussion/beats, slip, slither & stomp with a calculated lubricious flow. Fahrenheit Fair Enough is a signal accomplishment that is endearing for it's vast colors, graceful qualities, fluid cohesion and inviting accessibility. Our aforementioned words of TT's sound are best witnessed on the album title track, 'Fahrenheit Fair Enough'. Here, warm resonant Rhodes keys loop a longing tone melody, live-sounding percussion morphs with an affected downtempo electra beat stutter, that eventually slips into a swift, glassy rhythm with slick precision, a bass guitar keeps things grounded & grooving, while guitars hold beautiful cyclical & soaring melodies, all of this building up to 4 1/2 minutes into the song at which point, unexpected hand claps enter the mix, sending things off to blissful heights. A near perfect song, if we ever heard one. TT create their music by means of: guitar (acoustic electric, bass), electronics/synths, drums/percussion, upright bass, vibes, samples, piano (Rhodes & trad.), etc."

VA: Immediate Action 2CD (HEFT 036 CD). $17.50

"The Immediate Action 12" series was released in the summer/fall of 2000. The concept behind the series was simple: get the music out quick, in limited quantities without promotion. Graphic Havoc incorporated a similar feeling of immediacy to the design by using a spray painted stencil as the basis for the artwork. About 5000 jackets were screen printed in black and yellow with a space reserved for stickers that contained the relevant information for each album. Different color stickers were then printed as soon as the information for the CD follows the same philosophy quick and striking with no fuss. Graphic Havoc sprayed the information for each release onto various surfaces and photographed them for the layout, adding bonus information and miscellaneous photographs to enhance the overall design. The original sleeves were hand printed by Jay Ryan in Chicago. Immediate Action was originally a six part series. Due to the overwhelming success and demand for earlier, out-of-print singles, Hefty now offers a massive 2xCD, 22 trk. collection of tracks from the original IA series, featuring: A Grape Dope (John Herndon of Tortoise/Isotope 217), Process (aka Steve Barnes of Fat Cat Records), Savath+Savalas (Scott Herren of Prefuse 73/Delarosa*Asora), Aluminum Group, Slicker, etc. Also, exclusive/bonus music from: T. Raumschmiere (Shitkatapult / Kompakt artist), Bogdan Raczynski (Rephlex recording artist), Beneath Autumn Sky (Hefty artist), Twine (Hefty, Komplopt, Bip-Hop recording artists)."

RANELIN, PHIL: Remixes CD (HEFT 037 CD). $14.50

"Exceptional remixes by an eclectic group of contemporary artists, using the Phil Ranelin reissues as source material? unleashing necessary awareness & updating a younger generation on the power & importance of the original recordings. Includes remixes by: El-P (Def Jux), Prefuse 73 (Savath+Savalas, Delarosa+Asora, EastDevs label owner), Kirk Degiorgio (As One, Futureworld), Jan Jelinek (Gramm, Farben), Slicker (Hefty), Morgan Geist (Metro Area, Environ label owner), Telefon Tel Aviv, Nobody (Ubiquity artist), Micha Acher (Tied+Tickled Trio, Notwist), Beneath Autumn Sky + more."

SAVATH & SAVALAS: The Rolls And Waves CD (HEFT 038 CD). $9.00

"With the release of The Rolls and Waves EP, Herren has come full circle. His trademark soundscapes are expanded for even deeper listening. Multi-textured songs bloom through soft focus lenses. Sensually harmonic & melodic, gently flowing organic instrumentation (upright bass, guitar, drums, percussion, sax, etc) is accented with the most subtle digital tapestries. The Rolls and Waves EP is an ecosystem of notes connected in a single motion. You can absorb it as a whole or slide in and out."

SAVATH & SAVALAS: The Rolls And Waves 10" (HEFT 038 EP). $9.00
10" vinyl version.

RAUMSCHMIERE, T.: Anti CD (HEFT 039 CD). $14.50

"If the New Rock has no guitars, then this is his Elvis Presley, its Gary Glitter, its William S. Burroughs. T. Raumschmiere is a swaggering thug, decked out in shades, cigarette dangling. He wrings his gear like the throttle on a Harley Davidson. It's 4/4 punk-electronix with grey doomsdances and crunchy 'knarz'. T. Raumschmiere is ready to lay waste to everything in his path." Anti marks the US debut of the prolific German artist, Marco Haas (T.Raumschmiere). Based in Berlin, Marco has released music on Cologne's well-respected Kompakt label, as well as Sender and his own critically acclaimed label, Shitkatapult, which he co-founded. With early roots in punk-rock and industrial music, it should be no surprise that Marco's tracks come rough, rugged and subversive! John Hughes (aka Slicker), found common ground with Haas because of their dual responsibilities as artists and label owners. The evolution of Haas' sound eventually found common ground with Hefty and his contribution with Anti has added a new beat-making branch to the label. The name T.Raumschmiere derives from the German language short story, 'Die Tramschmiere' by William S. Burroughs."

RAUMSCHMIERE, T.: Anti 2LP (HEFT 039 LP). $17.50
Double LP version.

TELEFON TEL AVIV: Immediate Action #8 CD (HEFT 041 CD). $9.00

"IA#8 marks the return of Hefty's golden duo, Telefon Tel Aviv, who finally resurface to stir up the world once again. Bound to be met with an enormous welcome surprise, this 4 track EP includes 2 brand new compositions by TTA, along with 2 superb remixes by Prefuse 73 (Warp Records) and Slicker (Hefty Records). Source material for the remixes was taken from TTAs critically/listener hailed, top selling album, Fahrenheit Fair Enough. All music on this EP is exclusive to this very release. One TTA original composition features vocals, for the first time ever, with a guest appearance by Lindsay Anderson (member of L'Altra and Pulseprogramming, both of the Aesthetics label). Their collaboration here, 'Sound In A Dark Room', finds TTA delivering one of their best compositions to date. Forget what you already know about TTA. This is a slow, moody, sultry burner... a perfect fusion of deep, dub-like, g'd-out electronics, downtempo R&B groove, intoxicating vocal coos, and a sexy Rhodes line that is impossible to resist!"

TELEFON TEL AVIV: Map of What Is Effortless CD (HEFT 042CD). $14.50

"Telefon Tel Aviv have worked on remixes for Nine Inch Nails, A Perfect Circle and Eminem and worked on the scores of films such as New Port South and Underworld."

TELEFON TEL AVIV: Map of What Is Effortless 2LP (HEFT 042LP). $17.50
Double LP version.

SLICKER: Knock Me Down Girl 12" (HEFT 043EP). $5.50

"The very first single from the highly anticipated 2004 Slicker album, We All Have A Plan (Hefty Records). 'Knock Me Down Girl' single contains original + instrumental versions of the single cut...along with remixes by the seductive Telefon Tel Aviv (Hefty artists) and Japanese soul/pop/r&b/electronic group Spanova. 4 songs total. This is future roots music."

SLICKER: We All Have A Plan CD (HEFT 044CD). $14.50

"Slicker's got a plan. Having grown up on hip-hop's collages, indie-punk's bedroom DIY-isms and the beat fantasies of electronic composers, John Hughes (a.k.a. Slicker) and the artist behind Chicago's Hefty Records has grasped something most others haven't in his knitting together of something old and something new. For Hughes, the common chord on We All Have A Plan, Slicker's fourth album and a pan-global, soul-jazz masterpiece made out of bits and pieces, is elemental and spiritual. 'Honest' and 'organic' are words Hughes uses repeatedly to describe his blueprint. And in the wake of similar cut-and-paste excursions by kindred spirit colleagues, Plan smuggles modern electronics away from indie-techno dillettantes back to the timeless land of song. The collaborative voices and jazz tones you hear throughout the record belong to soul, jazz, funk and world music's forgotten heroes."

SLICKER: We All Have A Plan 2LP (HEFT 044LP). $16.00
Double LP version.

SLICKER: FrustRache.EP 12" (HEFT WL02). $7.00
12" vinyl version, same 6 tracks as the CD.

SLICKER: FrustRache.EP CD (HEFT WL02 CD). $9.00

"'FrustRache' is the very first single taken from the well received & accomplished second full-length release by Slicker, entitled The Latest (HEFTY34). FrustRache is a companion piece to the The Latest, featuring 2 new exclusive tracks by Slicker, along with impressive remixes from some fine underground electronic talent (T. Raumschmiere, Joshua Eustis, Safety Scissors). Slicker is John Hughes, owner of Hefty Records and former Bill Ding frontman."

HEIMELEKTRO ULM (GERMANY):

VA: Heimelektro Ulm LP 1 LP (HEIM 1 LP). $12.00

"The electronic label Heimelektro Ulm presents its first compilation of artists from the south of Germany. Lupo Borax formerly known as Spielzeussossenkinderbinder, is Claudio Caselli. In this electronic project he combines these very different influences into a classic 4 minute track based on hip hop/ elektro breakbeats of very individual character. Urban Soul Research is the new name of Falko Schmid's new project (formerly Plucker). His basic influences are noise and industrial music. Together with two friends he runs Praxis Dr Barmann records of, e.g. Merzbow and Aube. In his own music, he is producing soulful nordish techno, brittle and deep and rough at the same time: unique. Maybe this is what we will call soul music in the 22nd century? Scarcubem are Marc Horger and Martin 'Scube' Schubert. Marc is also known for his radio show Filmecho on Radio Free FM, where he is combining electronic and non-electronic music with speech samples of film to form some kind of radio play versions of films, in which the text parts and music have the same importance. The influence of this work can be seen in their current live act. Scarcubem's music combines deep atmospheric elements with sometimes nearly technoid flow, rough industrialized electro breakbeats and real pop music (not in the sense of commerce, but as a style)."

DOPAMIN: Helion LP (HEIM 13). $12.00

"Heiko Bruchhaus, the 26 year old student of German, is already Heimelektro Ulm's 3rd artist living in Stuttgart. The variety of music happening in Stuttgart's living rooms is really astonishing, considering the electronic house and hip hop monoculture and the absence of any underground in its nightlife. But maybe this is the reason why the music on Dopamin's first release is misplaced alongside modern electro or commercial dance stuff. Heiko tells us that his roots are in classical music (as you can hear in his samples), sophisticated pop music (like Eno, Bowie, Talking Heads), and mid-90s trip hop; but that does not solve the miracle of various old fashioned tracks. The entire album was produced on a very basic Ensoniq EPS (no additional equipment), certainly not a machine that is politically correct with today's electronic artists. The very basic sound work shows through everything, but the strengths of the album are a direct result of these limited opportunities. While many of the actual 'modern' hi-tech electro productions don't show musical inspiration despite their extensive sound work and very complicated beats, Heiko eschews technical gimmicks and concentrates on the song concept. Producing with such basic equipment is certainly much closer to the underground roots of techno than today's electronica mainstream."

SCARCUBEM: 41'17 Praszeng LP (HEIM 2 LP). $12.00

LP version of the Decode CD.

VA: Vanille 12" (HEIM 22). $9.00

2nd release in Heimelektro's Duftplatten subseries. "Duftplatten means smelling records, and in fact they do! The name of each release and the smell put on the label are the same. That means: this record smells like vanilla ... But, what do we have to expect from a Heimelektro Ulm 'dance'-label? Nobody would expect slamming 4-2-floor here. The question for us was: what could mean dance music for people that have musical interests like we do? On the one hand: why not slamming 4-2-floor? we don't want to start releasing ideological music, there already is existing enough of it! on the other hand: has dance music to be functional? why shouldn't it be possible to make dance music people could listen to at home, too?" Features: Scarcubem ("no one can face this deep endless housy electronica-grooves..."), T-H-D (totally harmonic distortion), and Rober Van Lunteren ("deep melody and super laid back house grooves").

VAN LUNTEREN, ROGER: Tmaeins LP (HEIM 3 LP). $12.00

"Roger Van Lunteren first perceived the world's light and music in 1971 in The Hague, Netherlands. Shortly after his birth his parents moved to the vicinity of Cologne, Germany. 'There was always a lot of music there and nothing happened without music.' When the first Acid House sounds arrived on the 'continent', Roger realised that he had something to contribute too, and his mission was clear. He started to spin his 'top 50 records' in his bedroom and listened, mixed and scratched. It was inevitable that he got to know the sounds in those black record grooves very well, which proves to be the ideal prerequisite for experimenting with music. Roger loves the music of the 80's and loved it long before the 80's retro hype invaded the world, because music of this period is wonderful, his first kiss too -> the rest? Let's not talk about it. With this love and this mission in his suitcase, He began DJing at raves and started collecting the necessary tools. His camp was furnished with musical equipment and nighttime trips into the universe of analog synthesizers followed. Little sleep and turning the right knobs do the job and then you need friends who have friends in Ulm at Heimelektro Ulm; and you can make a record. Well, it's not that easy — but it's a stopover on Roger's journey — just listen."

HELEN SCARSDALE AGENCY:

IRR.APP.(EXT.): Ozeanische Gefühle CD (HMS 002CD). $13.00

"irr. app. (ext) is the work of California-based sound artist Matt Waldron, whose collected body of work is far too important to continue to be forgotten. Had things gone differently, Ozeanische Gefühle would have been one of the lost irr. app. (ext.) recordings. That would have been a shame for Ozeanische Gefühle stands as an impeccable composition of post-surrealist dronescaping rivaling such masterpieces as The Hafler Trio's Kill The King, Jonathan Coleclough & Andrew Chalk's Sumac, and Nurse With Wound's Soliloquy For Lilith. The album tumbles through a series of sympathetic dronings, field recordings, and performative gestures, continuously traversing the emotional polarities of psychological tension and externalized jouissance."

COELACANTH: Mud Wall CD (HMS 003CD). $13.00

"Coelacanth is the collaboration between audio speleologists Loren Chasse and Jim Haynes, who have returned from the depths with the fully realized documentation for their third album Mud Wall. For those versed in the pastoral psychedelia and minimalist hymns of Jewelled Antler (i.e. Thuja, Blithe Sons, Franciscan Hobbies, etc.), Mr. Chasse needs no introduction. Mr. Haynes is an artist and journalist who has something of a reputation thanks to his chemically corroded visual sensibilities and his opinionated thoughts found in the pages of The Wire. Chasse and Haynes encourage sympathetic relationships between carefully chosen materials and sounds, and push them in ways that they might transcend their purposefulness. Copper, stone, glass, sand, shortwave radio, rust, wind, water, and mud are the active participants in their events and situations, providing both metaphoric potentials and visual sensibilities for Coelacanth's activities. From these situations, the duo invokes a sound that is an aggregate of sustained harmonics, continuously evolving sound forms, and broad gestures of textural details, and that which could be described as a 'broken minimalism'."

HELL'S HALF HALO:

TRANSMISSION/SHADOW RING/BLOODMOUSE: Put Out C-Out 10" (HHH 02). $12.00

"This record documents three bands different reactions to 2 computer programmes written by Adris Hoyos. A truly nice surprise & distinguished output from the Folkestone newlyweds & friends. Limited stock.

VA: Color In Absense Sound CD (HHH 08). $12.00

"A smooth collection that let's you relax and enjoy the sounds of the born delinquent with their tell-tale social delinquency face writings: jug ears, constant chin puddle, rodent-like incisors. The resulting musics cover the entire cosmos of impaired playing. Artists featured on this disc are: Diadal, Monostat 3, Vote Robot, Watt, Thurston Moore, Smack Music7, Alasdair Willis, Elkind, Decaer Pinga, Sun city Girls, Alvarius B, 2/5 Bukatu, Glands of External Secretion, Ron Lessard w/ Theoretical Munt, Hochenkeit, Ashtray Navigations, Julien Bradley, Gar Funk, Whiteout, Idea Fire Co."

TANAKA NIXON MEETING: Twelve Inches Heaven 12" (HHH 15). $9.00

"Once only thought of as a strictly acoustic cello and guitar duo, Tanaka Nixon Meeting have been secretly forging ahead into the realm of electronic dance music for some years now. Danny Butt and Michael Morley have been practicing in nightclubs and warehouses laying down solid slabs of piano samples distorted and wrenched from the collective archive of 18th century piano music through to the 20th century post-modern noodling. Twelve Inches Heaven is the band's second long-player recording in the 12" vinyl format and reflects the groups growing involvement in random sequencing applications and the relevance of down right dirty funk in the now." — Michael Morley

HEREFOREVERALWAYS:

CONTROL PANEL: Civil War X-mas 12" (HFA 01). $10.00

"Warn Defever is best known for his work with 4AD recording group, His Name Is Alive, but often performs electronic style music under the guise Control Panel. This 12" contains drum machines, synthesizers, strings, christmas bells, and scratches, and features three movements of sad, graphic, and sometimes beautiful music. There is the sound of ghosts and bleeding on this record."

PILLOW: Field On Water LP (HFA 03). $12.50

"Simultaneously working with their instruments and yet subverting them, Pillow offers a deliberated yet democratic musical exploration; one which hints at a collective vocabulary yet agrees to experiment without boundaries. Methodicism and repetition give way to abstract lyricism, creating space for clusters of sound to explode from within. Sounds form silent words that speak of sunsets and wet grass; Field On Water is a place where 'beauty' is not a bad word. Recorded in studio with Todd Carter, Pillow's music is one of design and spontaneity, of sympathy and inspiration, empathy and explosion. Drawing upon the deliberation and subtlety of Feldman, the compositions of Braxton, and the openness of improvisors like Derek Bailey and Paul Lovens, Pillow manages to stake out a place for themselves in this modern tangle we call music. Through a tradition set down by AMM and the Music Improvisation Company, Field On Water adds an inventive entry into this secret history of sound. Though many improvisors seem to have a bit of wanderlust, finding little patience for regular associations, Pillow is a long standing group, looking to stand longer. Band includes: Michael Colligan (reeds, dry ice), Fred Lonberg-Holm (cello), Liz Payne (string bass), Ben Vida (electric Guitar, accordion)." Limited stock.

HERMETIC/WORLD SERPENT (UK):

AQUEOUS: Entertaining Angels CD (HERME 5555). $19.00

"The third release from the duo of Felix Jax & Andrew Heath, better known as Aqueous. Most of this CD was recorded live in the company of a select audience who witnessed a happening of likened minds at Co-Optic studios in London. Inharmonic creations from Andrew Heath, deconstructed by Felix Jay." A keyboard duo, playing pianos (acoustic & electric) and synthesizers (analogue & digital). Subdued post-Schulze-ian territory with new age afflictions.

HET APOLLOHUIS (NETHERLANDS):

MACIUNAS ENSEMBLE: Number Made Audible CD (APOLLO 11). $19.00

Inventive string-drone, using bass, cellos, invented guitars, tubular monochords, etc. This quartet creates waves of pulsating sound.

DEMARINIS, PAUL: The Edison Effect: A Listener's Companion CD (APOLLO 14). $19.00

"Paul DeMarinis moved the audio material between computer and wax cylinders in an effort to make audible the rebounds as the signal bounced from one faulty medium to another. The CD contains works that deal with the technology of old recordings and the interaction between old phonograph records and laser beams." As usual for Het Apollohuis, the packaging is stellar.

MACIUNAS ENSEMBLE AND KANARY GRAND BAND: Live With The Birds CD (APOLLO 15). $19.00

The third Maciunas Ensemble album to released by Het Apollohuis and the second album on the the label to feature the Kanary Grand Band (installation of singing birds). The Maciunas Ensemble (Paul Panhuysen, Jan van Riet, Leon van Noorden, Jario van Horrik) perform on aluminum strips; "the material is suspended from a rubber band which, among other things, allows for pitch shifting. The aluminum instruments are bowed, stroked, tapped and caressed into producing a remarkably broad palette of textures and pitches. The resonant characteristics of piezo transducers are particular and provide for a certain timbral unity." Panhuysen: "The studio where the recording is made is the same room where the birds live in their aviary. The birds were so inspired by the sound of the aluminum strips, that they immediately joined the music as improvising musicians and continued to play with us in an often very loud and competitive way for more than an hour."

PANHUYSSEN, PAUL: Mexican Jumping Beans CD (APOLLO 16). $19.00

Four pieces recorded with Mexican Jumping Beans by Paul Panhuysen. "Before leaving Mexico City I bought 200 jumping beans and immediately after our return to Eindhoven I started to experiment with them. In the past I've worked often with animals, with birds, crickets and goats. I also use sensors, timers, solenoids, motors, galvanometers, solar cells and oscillators to produce sounds. In my music I introduce both creatures and gadgets as independent and sometimes unpredictable musicians and fellow employees. I like to be surprised by the results of my productions, by the animals' behavior. The input of such rather autonomous elements helps to reveal the qualities of universal laws and conditions that define order, structure, chance and expression in a living and changing world. It is curiosity which makes my work come into being. Jumping beans are magical living creatures. I worked with them for a couple of weeks, tried out various recording modes and different effects. The final selection on this CD is rather straightforward. There are four different pieces. For each recording I put 16 jumping beans in 8 containers. Clothes-pins glued on piezo discs were used as contact mikes on each of the containers, which were placed on a sheet of soft foam plastic. The beans were activated by a halogen lamp over the table." —

Paul Panhuysen.

VA: Het Apollohuis 1980-1997: An Anthology Of New Music Concerts 2CD (APOLLO 17/18). $34.00

"This double CD-set is the companion to the final book reporting on the activities of Het Apollohuis. The recordings on these CDs give an idea of the music and the sound art presented in concerts at Het Apollohuis in the perios from 1980 through 1997. Out of a total of 500 performances I chose 38, from which excerpts of varying length have been included in this anthology. These have been arranged in chronological order. The diversity of the selected pieces is characteristic of the programme of Het Apollohuis. Only a limited number of the composers and musicians who performed at Het Apollohuis can be heard in brief fragments on these discs." Artists include: Derek Bailey, Ernst Reijseger; Tom Johnson; David Gibson; Group 180; Rolf Julius; Ned Rothenberg; Elliott Sharp; Vivenza; Pauline Oliveros; Arnold Dreyblatt; Carl Stone; Carles Santos; Joe Jones; Takehisa Kosugi; Terry Fox; Walter Fähndrich; Fast Forward; Alvin Lucifer; Alvin Curran; Richard Lerman; Jerry Hunt; Shelley Hirsch; David Weinstein; Eliane Radigue; The Hub; Teodoro Anzelotti; Pierre Berthet; Brigida Romano; Warren Burt; S.E.M. Ensemble; Jim O'Rourke; Borbetomagus; Butcher, Minton, Hirt; Iva Bittová; Stefan Kovacs Tickmayer; Rafaël Toral; David First; Reinier van Houdt; Kaffe Matthews; and Matt Rogalsky.

HEXACORD (ITALY):

DE MASI, FRANCESCO: India CD (HEX 021CD). $15.00

1966 soundtrack recordings, remastered. "India was one of the first full-color documentaries produced for the Italian RAI-TV. At the time — we are speaking of the early 'sixties — many parts of the world were still shrouded in mystery... and a visit to India was like a trip to another planet. World famous documentarian Quilici Folco approached Francesco De Masi, one of Italy's most talented and in-demand film score composers, to produce a painting-in-sound to help capture the essence of this fantastic voyage. Note, that this score was composed in a much more innocent time, years before the imported exoticisms of George Harrison and the Beatles became familiar to western ears, so authentic Indian music was not used, but rather evoked through De Masi's orchestrations. India was also the impetus for Guitar and Whistle virtuoso, Alessandro Alessandrini to pick up a sitar for the first time — creating a frenzy in Europe for this exotic instrument. In addition to the artistry of 'Sandro, De Masi assembled some of the greatest session musicians in Italy to deliver what is surely one of the most colorful scores to come out of the Cinicetta."

NASCIMBENE, MARIO: Footprints in Jazz CD (HEX 022CD). $15.00

"This is not a soundtrack album, but rather a compilation of rare essays in jazz from the magic pen of the late Mario Nascimbene. Our first suite, ('Bellinda e il mostro'), comes from incidental music composed as part of the maestro's fruitful association with the 'La Meridiana' theatrical company. The remaining two suites and Bonus Tracks were drawn from Nascimbene's prolific work for the small screen and some very rare jazz-inspired collaborations with fellow film composer and jazz master, Roberto Pregadio. Hexacord label owner, Prof. Roberto Zamori writes: 'It's the kind of music we listened to in Italy on radio during fifties and sixties... and the cover pictures humorously show the circuitry of a nineteen-sixties radio!' An essential CD for fans of the maestro and for collectors of top-notch, vintage Italo-Jazz."

HHT (FRANCE):

RWA/VOODOO MUSAK: L'Amour des Betes/Teenage Beatles CD (HHT). $13.00

Found a few copies of this obscure 1992 split CD. Two young French bands each get an albums' worth of ruckus on 1 disc (total: 74 minutes). RWA features the voice of Caroline Sury and if you could imagine a Julie Doucet-style menstrual-peak lung-assault over a sloppy, more human based Big Black racket you've got a decent picture. Voodoo Musak are somewhat similar, but dull. Killer color digipak art by Sury, who's got an untouchable take on primitive vision.

HI & FLY (UK):

LAFAYETTE AFRO ROCK BAND: Malik CD (H&F 006CD). $16.00

Reissue with bonus tracks; originally issued in 1972. "Recorded in Paris and New York under the production guidance of Pierre Jaubert ('Berjot'), the Lafayette Afro-Rock Band were a jazz-based super session group that created a heavy, dense, no compromise ghetto funk that has since been sampled by everyone from Public Enemy to Wreckz 'N' Effect. After the first release of the Lafayette Afro-Rock Band, Soul Makossa, everyone was quick to recognize such an abundance of talent in one group. The response was immediate to the new rhythm in their music, which was to delve into the contemporary disco scene with Malik."

LAFAYETTE AFRO ROCK BAND: Soul Makossa CD (H&F 007CD). $16.00

Reissue with bonus tracks; originally issued in 1973. "Soul Makossa was the debut release of the Lafayette Afro-Rock Band. At the time the band's popularity was primarily contained within Europe, but the album is now considered a raw funk gem by collectors everywhere. Everyone was quick to recognize such an abundance of talent in one group. Such classics as 'Hihache' and 'Voodounon' have secured the band's place in funk history."

HI-FIDELITY FRAG DISC (JAPAN):

ROVO: Flage CD (WINN 82117). $31.00

Brand new full-length album, Japanese only as far as we can tell (issued in conjunction with the Warner Bros. Indies Group). Rovo are: Katsuyi Yuji (violin, cello, bird call) Yamamoto Seiichi (guitar), Masuko Tatsuki (DX7, SH 101), Yoshigaki Yasuhiro (drums, perc.), Okabe Yoichi (drums, perc.), Harada Jin (bass, harmonica), Nakanishi Koji (JUNO 106, SH 101).

HIAO HIAO HIAO RECORDS:

KUSAKI, MICHIKO: Don't Do That CD (HIAO 0001). $9.00

"...And like antimatter, Hiao Hiao Hiao pops into existence. Except we're not self-destructing. At least as quickly. The new label from the forces behind Bent Crayon and /bin begins its campaign of blood and laughter by hitching this inaugural release to the esoteric trails of Michiko Kusaki's rising star. 12 new original tracks of Casiopop brilliance as singular as penmanship and sweet as synth sorrow gets. Low on fidelity but high on musical fiber."

SOLENOID: The Narcissist CD (HIAO 0002). $13.50

"Outstanding electro effort from the Portland musician with releases on Omco, Emanate, etc. 9 tracks feat. one incredible vocal number. Rank this right up with labels like Nature, Clone, Viewlexx and artists such as Adult, David Caretta, and Rother."

HIDDEN ART RECORDINGS (UK):

MUSLINGAUZE: Dar es Salaam CD (HIART 010 CD). $15.00

"Dar es Salaam is an exploration of noise, beats and sound. A wonderful variety of what Muslimgaueze did best — the first from this legend since Sufiq in 1999. Fast and furious dancefloor tracks next to ebbing guitars next to noisy repetition and distortion. The group Muslimgaueze, as the creator prefers to be known, is considered by many to be one of the most dedicated and inspired groups of the century, on the level of Mozart or even Monet. If you consider the sheer volume of material, the number of devout fans and casual listeners, and the fact that the pro-Palestine, pro-freedom message that is primarily infiltrating western society through this music, the group Muslimgaueze should be considered extremely revolutionary on the level of South Africa's Mandela or Harlem's Malcolm X. Enigmatic, disturbing, provocative, occult, uncompromising and unlistenable are all words that have been used to describe his music."

VA: The Fire This Time 2CD (HIART 011 CD). $17.00

"Three years in the making, The Fire This Time utilises music, narration and samples to deconstruct the Gulf war, reveal mass media propaganda techniques and illustrate the devastating effect that sanctions have had on the civilian population of Iraq. The album features exclusive music and mixes by some of the finest contemporary electronic artists in the genre, including Orbital, Aphex Twin, Bola, Bass Communion, Michael Stearns, Higher Intelligence Agency, Soma, Barbed, Tom Middleton's Amba, and with additional music by Ashra, Pan Sonic, Speedy J and Kait Gray. The Fire This Time is a double CD release, featuring instrumentals and bonus tracks on Disc 2."

HIGH TWO:

BURRELL FULL-BLOWN TRIO, DAVE: Expansion CD (HIGH 001CD). $13.00

Dave Burrell (piano); William Parker (bass); Andrew Cyrille (drums). "Among the erudite, Dave Burrell is recognized as one of the (if not the) greatest jazz pianist of his generation. But why hasn't he recorded an album as a bandleader for a US label since 1965? A very good question, and one that HighTwo took upon itself to rectify with Expansion, by the Dave Burrell Full-Blown Trio — an exquisite recording by master musicians all. Burrell calls the session, 'My greatest recorded work'. While there have been a number of solo and duet recordings in the ensuing decades, including an extended partnership with David Murray in the 80s/90s, the Full-Blown Trio marks a full-bore return to the elite avant jazz circle where Burrell launched his career as a sideman in the 1960s for such players as Archie Shepp, Marion Brown and Pharoah Sanders."

SONIC LIBERATION FRONT: Ashé A Go-Go CD (HIGH 002CD). $13.00

"Drummer Kevin Diehl, leader of Philadelphia's Sonic Liberation Front, is a man happily straddling the gap between musical idioms. A protégé of free-jazz pioneer Sunny Murray, Diehl connects his training in both the post-bop tradition and traditional Afro-Cuban Yoruba roots music with authority. Combining a rhythm section equally devoted to Yoruba roots, and a horn section adept at free jazz expression — polyrhythmic bata drumming seamlessly converges with avant-jazz elements, producing a highly addictive hybrid; being from Philadelphia, the further urban funk element is a matter of course. Ashé A Go-Go is the band's second album, and here Sonic Liberation Front has refined the formula that earned them critical praise for its self-released 2001 debut, Water and Stone. Ambient electronics subtly embellish the compositions, carefully contextualizing the ancient traditional music of Yoruba into a brilliant new entity which eschews clichés and classification."

HIP HOP SLAM RECORDS:

VA: Pirate Fuckin' Radio 100 CD (HHS 10). $12.00

"Pirate Fuckin' Radio has turned 100, and to celebrate its five unique years of low-watt, battery powered, indie-as-fuck, hip hop slam rebellion, flying below the FCC scanner and above the city's power structure, uncensored beat-banging airwave anarchy comes this rap, hip hop, turntablist compilation capturing the best of those five years of eclectic hip hop. Included are never before released live turntable orchestrated tracks from the Bullet Proof Scratch Hamsters, the Space Travelers, and the Invisibl Skratch Piklz (outtakes from their Shiggar Fraggar Show series). There's also brand new studio recorded tracks from DJ Sushi, Eddie Def, DJ Killahoe, DJ Marz, Def'n'Dank (featuring Jello Biafra), Drum'n'Bass Army, and Money B (featuring NKP). Plus there's previously recorded tracks from Peanut Butter Wolf, Kool Keith with Kut Masta Kurt, Zion I, DJ Stevie K, and Italian hop hoppers Chief & Soci; all mixed together with IDs and Bay Area rapline call-ins interspersed throughout this exciting sixty-seven minute hip hop compilation."

INVISIBL SKRATCH PIKLZ: The Shiggar Fraggar Show! Vol. 4 CD (HHS 4). $13.00

The second released volume in this series of live turntable orchestration, featuring Q-Bert, Shortkut, Disk, Flare and the Shiggar Fraggar, (the first release, which came out in 1998 and also available on both CD and video, is now known as Vol. 5); please beware that all volumes have near identical packaging. "Originally recorded live with no overdubs or edits in January, 1996 at Hip Hop Slam in Oakland as part of its 'Pirate Fuckin' Radio' series. It has been remastered for CD and VHS release. Both CD and video are historic recordings that vividly capture these key DJs who have been instrumental in elevating DJ'ing to the art-form currently referred to as 'turntablism'. While the CD, in its raw display of turntable virtuosity, is pure aural satisfaction, the video version wins out in that one can also visually witness these turntable masters manipulate their instruments and improvise and interact as a live DJ group. It's truly amazing!"

INVISIBL SKRATCH PIKLZ: The Shiggar Fraggar Show! Vol. 3 CD (HHS 6 CD). $12.00

Following Volumes 4 & 5, here in descending order is Vol. 3. "Live turntable orchestration starring DJs: Q-Bert, 8-Ball, Disk, Shiggar Fraggar & UB. Vol. 3 is the latest release in the historic five-part orchestrated turntablist series recorded during the world famous San Francisco turntablist formative years at Hip Hop Slam, Oakland on 8/17/95, as part of Hip Hop Slam's 'Pirate Fuckin' Radio' Top 100 series. Like the previously released volumes 4 & 5 in the series, The Shiggar Fraggar Show! Vol. 3 is amazing in that the turntablist session was recorded completely live with no overdubs or studio trickery."

DJ MARZ: Brain Language CD (HHS 8). $12.00

"Brain Language is a perfect introduction to the prolific young Bay Area DJ/producer DJ Marz, who is best known for appearances on the Cue's Hip Hop Shop compilation, his membership in the infamous DJ crew the Space Travelers (along with DJs Eddie, Def, Cue, & Quest), and such underground hip hop acts as Sacred Hoop and 99th Dementia, as well as touring with the Quannum act Latryx. Brain Language is culled from the 22 year old DJ's first four tape only recordings. Like the two DJ battle/break records he released earlier this year (Skrilla Skratch and Mayonnoise), this album showcases Marz' refreshingly broad taste in styles and sounds."

VA: The Shiggar Fraggar Show! Vol. 2 CD (HHS 9). $12.00

"Re-mastered limited edition CD release from an orchestrated turntablist session featuring DJs Q-Bert, Disk, Shortkut, Shiggar Fraggar & emcee UB recorded may 8th 1995 at Hip Hop Slam in Oakland, CA. What makes this CD and others in the Shiggar Fraggar series so unique is that they were all recorded live with no studio tricker; no overdubs or edits or second takes — mistakes were allowed. These improvisations turntable orchestrations generally involved one DJ laying down the beat, another one dropping in a manipulated tone or the main scratches with the third DJ randomly scratching in various other turntable sounds. And of course in between there's lot of unadulterated chatter and/or singing by UB, Shiggar Fraggar and the rest of the studio audience

DJ EDDIE DEF: Wax People CD (HHS ED). $13.50

"This turntable assault however comes not from the Skratch Piklz camp, but from fellow longtime San Francisco DJ Eddie Def (of Bullet Proof Scratch Hampsters/Space Travelers, El Stew & OM Records Deeper Concentration fame). On Wax People Eddie goes off on the turntables and in the studio as he throws down a hardcore mix of 1990's turntablism and 1980's megamix styles. The 23 song CD is culled from the best of Eddie Def's underground 'Hemp Lords' series, and features a track each from guest DJ Flare and Quest." "Another Billy-Jam related turntablist release rife with all the black & white 'street' sensibility (both artistically & musically) you've come to suspect from seemingly anyone involved with vinyl-manipulation and geographically seated in (or exhibiting cultural ties to) the wilds of San Francisco. DJ Flare (who stole the show, frankly, on the Shiggar Fraggar Show Vol.4 tape alongside Q-Bert, Shortkut, Disk, and the mythically Shiggar Fraggar...) and DJ Quest (decksman for Live Human) guest on a few cuts. CD booklet reprints extensive lists of influences (Arthur Baker, Man Parrish, Mantronix, etc...), shout-outs, and a discography. Cringe alert: it takes a total of 11 seconds for Mr. Def to start in w/that whole South-Park 'Oh My God, They've Killed Kenny!' bit, which at this stage of the game equates an allegiance to Jesus Christ as a positive unit-moving tactic. Creative use of both Nine Inch Nails and various hair-metal riffage almost equates... almost. Damaged." — Hrvatski.

DJ DEZ: Mass Destruction LP (HR 014 LP). $13.00

8 groundbreaking hip-hop instrumentals. Produced by DJ Dez of Slum Village. The New Master at Work. DJ Dez is also known as Andres when recording for Moodymann's Mahogany label.

HIT THING (GERMANY):

LIAISONS DANGEREUSES: Los Niños Del Parque 12" (HIT 006 EP). $10.00

"Hit Thing has a surprise end of summer release from Liaisons Dangereuses; Their classic track 'Los niños del parque' on 12", an undeniable must for DJ's. Side-A features the original LP/CD mix and Side-B a Conny Plank mix. This mix contains some overdubs. Remastered in Berlin 2003 by Dubplates & Mastering and pressed on 150-gram vinyl at 45 rpm for maximum bass."

DIE HAUT AND NICK CAVE: Burnin' The Ice CD (HIT 007CD). $14.50

"Hit Thing returns with another re-issue to shock the senses. The lost album Burnin' The Ice by the Berlin band Die Haut, which featured Nick Cave as guest singer. Furiously sought after by Cave collectors for twenty years, the lyrics have been printed as classics among Cave's archives, but these recordings were scarcely available. Originally released in Germany and England only on 12" vinyl in 1983, Burnin' The Ice quickly vanished into collector land. Furthermore this digitally re-mastered edition marks its first print in any digital format. It documents a crucial moment in Cave's career, as it was recorded in 1982 during the short period after he disbanded The Birthday Party and formed the first line-up of The Bad Seeds in Berlin. It also documents the initial explosion of this unusual Berlin band, which went on to produce albums with internationally renowned guest singers for nearly twenty years. Perhaps the most surprising aspect of this re-issue is the sophisticated approach in packaging. The CD comes in a gorgeous high gloss double Digi-Pak with an elaborately detailed 24 page historical booklet. The original artwork remains in all its bizarre glory. The booklet contains unpublished black & white photography of both Cave and Die Haut, all from this era. Together with a biographical text, it paints a unique portrait of the artistic atmosphere of early 1980's Berlin. There is also a limited edition, containing a bonus DVD, featuring live footage of Die Haut's first tour with The Birthday Party in 1982. There is a gatefold vinyl edition as well, also containing the DVD, with a full size four-page version of the CD booklet. It leaves the listener with a complete feeling of the time period, and the importance of the moment in all of their lives. An inspiring historical document driven by a group of remarkably inspired young men. An absolute must for any Nick Cave collector, but also a must for anyone interested in the romantic desire found in a young collective band filled with genuine musical power and innovation."

DIE HAUT AND NICK CAVE: Burnin' The Ice LP (HIT 007LP). $14.50

LP version. Initial copies come with the same limited edition bonus DVD as the CD version, featuring live footage of Die Haut's first tour with The Birthday Party in 1982.

MONTALBA, GEORGES: Fantasy in Pipe Organ and Percussion & Pipe Organ Favorites CD (HIT 004 CD). $14.50

"Certainly one of the strangest reissue stories you are likely to ever hear is the one of Georges Montalba. Hit Thing pulls back the pages of time 45 years to unveil the true and extraordinary stories behind the greatest Theatre Organist of mystery; The Legendary Georges Montalba! This CD contains the first two highly sought after Georges Montalba albums from 1957 and 1958 re-mastered in Hi-Fi Mono together in a deluxe Digi-Pak manufactured in Germany. Both album's original artwork were faithfully re-photographed by New York photographer Lary Lamay. A 16 page full color booklet explains the bizarre tales of how the child prodigy pianist/organist Robert Hunter got his hidden pseudonymic life entangled with the Priest of Satan himself Anton La Vey. The booklet contains numerous unpublished photos of both Hunter and La Vey and was written by Hit Thing co-founder Toby Dammit and Mr. La Vey's second daughter, Zeena La Vey (former High Priestess of The Church Of Satan). Hunter's incredible 60 year career rolls past with one of the oddest assortment of characters you can imagine including Leopold Stokowski, Carol Channing, Shirely Temple, Eleanor Roosevelt, Nelson Eddy, Judy Garland, Two Popes, George Burns, and John & Jacquelyn Kennedy to name but a few! Hit Thing conducted a dedicated seven-month worldwide search to dramatically find Robert Hunter still alive in his last month of his life. All 18 tracks from both albums are here clocking in at a hefty 71:00 disc. The sounds of Montalba will settle both you and your ears into your very own cushy velvet Theatre seat for the most elegant of evenings within your home."

LIAISONS DANGEREUSES: Liaisons Dangereuses CD (HIT 005 CD). $14.50

"Probably the most highly anticipated electronic CD reissue of all times, Liaisons Dangereuses. Cloaked in mystery Liaisons Dangereuses had a unusually powerful and alluring vision designed by Chrislo Haas from DAF and Beate Bartel from Mania D. They found a rather magical singer named Krishna Goineau for their album who sang with passionate despair in French, Spanish, German and a fractured gaggle of Broken English. This unbelievably romantic album was mixed at Conny Plank Studios and originally released on vinyl in October 1981. With an infectious collage of electronic rhythms perhaps not heard of nor imagined before combined with explosions and scenery changes to keep listeners entirely disoriented from start to finish, Liaisons Dangereuses paved the way for most all EBM music since its release. The album carried the single 'Los Ninos del Parque' which became an instant and obvious hit on every dance floor it captured, and twenty-two years later still remains a champion. Countless movements of electronic music (Detroit Techno, Chicago House and Electroclash to name a few) have cited the Liaisons Dangereuses album as a crucial influence to their cause. Among the devoted include DJ legends Derrick May, Carl Craig, DJ Hell and CK May. Re-mastered from the original tapes, Liaisons Dangereuses cracks back with the massive whip it deserves. The Hit Thing re-issue CD is true to the original album artwork and content packaged in a high gloss Digi-Pak for the tender touch manufactured in Berlin."

HOBBY INDUSTRIES (DENMARK):

DUB TRACTOR: Hum EP 12" (HI 011). $11.00

"The music on this release are not what would be considered normal Dub Tractor, as Anders normally has a way of finding a deep dubby bass and mixing it with gentle and thin/clear repetitive melodies. The bass and melody has both been reduced on demand, but the touch of production is still intact. Hum and Press Button for music both surfaced when Anders was invited to take part in two art projects: Hum(part 2) was commissioned for a headphone installation in Berlin and Press Button for music (part 1) was for an installation in Copenhagen .. simple a small object you needed to activate to listen to his music! Dub Tractor is about spaciousness .. not a 100% minimalist soundwise, but still trusting the idea of 'less is more'. Where his melodies normally catch you immediately, these productions needs a few listens to get into .. but so does most other nice music :)"

VALEO/ACUSTIC, RJ: Split 4 12" (HI 012). $11.00

"US producer RJ Valeo originates from New York. For Hobby he has produced three tracks which combines the ideas about minimalism with his interest in micro-beats and snippets of understated melody — a mixture which results in a laidback but still in some way upbeat clicky instrumental popsong for the 21st century. Still the music of RJ Valeo is for people with a certain kind of love for repetitive grooves of the likes of SND or Gas. Acoustic is Danish born and Copenhagen based Jesper Skaaning. He should be no stranger to lovers of quirky melodic electronica, which he has been producing since the end of 1980's. A former collector of old synthesizers and drum-machines his sounds was originally inspired by pioneers of synth-pop, the more leftfield composers of electro-acoustic tendencies, and a huge love of happy and romantic itfield soundtracks thrown into the mix."

SPINFORM: Superstarna EP 12" (HI 013). $12.00

"Erik Moller lives in Uppsala outside Stockholm. From there he has been responsible for various releases as Spinform and Unai: Unai is the name he uses when he's in a dubby and reduced house mode , and the official home for this project is the German Sub Static label, which has released 2 EP's and an album of Erik's productions during the last 2-3 years. Annorlunda and Natflykt .. dominates the A side with a clearly digitally manipulated idea , but Frestelser .. should not be overheard, as it itself links to the more acoustic sounding tracks on the release... something they are good at up north, as fellow Swede , Christoffer Berg confirms this with a dreamy remix (as Christoffer Brus), ending this EP."

BRUS, CHRISTOFFER: EP 12" (HI 014). $12.00

"Christoffer Berg lives in Gothenburg, Sweden, where he is part of a busy and energetic clique of producers mixing their musical skills with studio technique. Most of the sounds find their way to labels around the world, concentrating on an acoustic sounding Nu-jazz and broken beat style... As Hird, Christoffer can be put into the before mentioned genre, but luckily for Hobby he also concentrates on producing more slow and melodic music, sounding not far away from well disciplined children playing electronica with their toy — instruments recorded in an old analogue studio...Where most electronica is about focusing on letting the machines and plug-ins do the magic, Christoffer has succes in creating a fine balanced organic and warm sound."

HOLY MOUNTAIN:

SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE: Dust & Chimes CD (HOLY 1165). $14.00

"A limited edition reissue of Dust & Chimes by Six Organs of Admittance, Ben Chasny's second amazing, underground folk-psych project from behind California's Redwood curtain. Heavy, acoustic guitar and mumbled vocalizations merge with out-there jamming in a style that has been compared to guys with LPs on Takoma, though Dust & Chimes is actually closer than anyone else is ever going to come to pantsing the first two Tyrannosaurus Rex albums. The sun is tangling, people."

SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE: Six Organs Of Admittance CD (HOLY 121964). $14.00

"Rare 1998 LP reissued on CD with two rarer bonus tracks, all on CD for the first time. In 1998 Ben Chasny self-released an LP of his 'acoustic based project[ions]' under the name Six Organs of Admittance. The resulting five-song LP is a masterpiece of diverse elements using acoustic and electric guitars, a detuned violin, organ, electronics and koto. The material covers a lot of ground: there's an acid folk duet, an epic, three-part space suite, and two short concrete-like pieces that entice hidden memories of having bees in your mouth. The final sting is the magnificent chaos of 'Race from Visnu' — a nine-minute raga in which the strings of the acoustic guitar are battled by Chasny who ruthlessly punishes them for their ability to make sound."

SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE: Dark Noontide CD (HOLY 1240). $14.00

"Dark Noontide is the third full length release from Six Organs of Admittance. While listeners were pleasantly surprised by Ben Chasny's out-of-nowhere acid-folk genius on earlier releases, Dark Noontide comes in a notch or two higher with another spectacular merging of dreamy, hypnotic, finger-picked melodies and psychedelia concrete, not to mention some very fine fuzz guitar. Eight incredible tracks seamlessly blend powerful blues foot-stomp, backward interludes, strange strings feedback, dark, tabla-infused vibrations, and the amazing debut of Chasny's electric guitar as a lead instrument."

SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE: Dark Noontide LP (HOLY 1240LP). $17.00

Now available on vinyl. Limited edition colored vinyl, old-style tip-on jacket. The third full length release from Six Organs of Admittance.

DAVIS REDFORD TRIAD, THE: Ewige Blumenkraft CD (HOLY 16845). $14.00

"The Davis Redford Triad is the solo vehicle for occasional Faust guitar player Steven Wray Lobdell. His previous album, The Mystical Path of the Number Eighty Six was hailed as 'a limber sonic attack that sounds like 1,000 chattering meth-soaked bats being chased through the caves of Sun Ra's Atlantis by a litter of ax-wielding Chihuahua vampire pups, who just need some lovin'.' The unique, distortion-laden guitar playing on this album has endeared Mr. Lobdell to many who rever him as an untouchable 'liquid bitch'. This is not just some guy with a guitar and a talent pedal."

SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE: For Octavio Paz CD (HOLY 21852). $14.00

"CD reissue of sold-out limited edition vinyl. Since the release of Six Organs of Admittance's selftitled debut in 1998, Ben Chasny has played pure guitar within individual songs, but For Octavio Paz is his first full record to explore the guitar inside and out, solo and overdubbed, steel and nylon string (in fact, For Octavio Paz is the first Six Organs album to feature the reverberations of a nylon string guitar). What really sets Chasny apart from the other modern Fahey worshipers is that Chasny's pantheon is willing to accept a wider array of other guitarists into the lexicon — Peter Walker or Richard Youngs, for example — not to mention the fact that he can stand the sound of a Stratocaster. This is the definitive guitar record from Six Organs of Admittance."

BASEBALL ASTROLOGER, THE: Famine Of The Soul LP (HOLY 4934). $11.00

"The Baseball Astrologer is Douglas Berman — painter, astrologer, raconteur, chai-maker and dedicated walker. His ominous take is accompanied by the guitar and sounds of Steven Wray Lobdell (Davis Redford Triad, Faust) for an otherworldly post-game wrap-up where everything needs more orange, Neptune is in Capricorn, the casino of life is operating and where, even after death, we will have things to do. Darkness has no stare."

DAVIS REDFORD TRIAD: Code Orange CD (HOLY 5280). $14.00

"Steven Wray Lobdell's guitar playing discovers colors and shapes at extreme volume levels. Astonished audiences have also found that Mr. Lobdell can call up each sound used in his myriad innovative recordings and exercises a control over them that is preternatural. Code Orange is a live collage from the Davis Redford Triad's Spring 2002 tour. The band played a variety of material from both of their Holy Mountain albums plus rock-ed-out electric versions of material from Mr. Lobdell's sublime solo album, Automatic Writing by the Moon. In addition, there are three new songs, 'Mellowed for Over 80 Million Years,' 'Loop 03,' and the title track of their upcoming studio album Blue Cloud."

DAVIS REDFORD TRIAD: Blue Cloud CD (HOLY 8023). $14.00

"Like a long cloud that casts a shadow for miles, the Davis Redford Triad are a heavy group. Over three years in the making, Blue Cloud is a stupendous new effort by guitarist / engineer Steven Wray Lobdell (Sufi Mind Game / Faust) and leader of one of the preeminent power trios working today (see Code Orange). After the album's subtle opener takes you to the noisy scraped loops and menacing guitar of 'Violent Stupid Friend' featuring The Baseball Astrologer with a 'right on' rant, you are taken to the screaming backwards ecstasy of 'Loop 03.' The album continues with heavy, guitar-based psychedelic jams ('Temple of the Jaguar') that overload the senses and a spacey improvisational piece ('Mellowed for Over 80 Million Years') that both centers the album and folds time, while allowing the rest to flow from a bizarre pop song ('Bubble Wrap') to the title track, which is the sonic equivalent of a cloud taking a day to pass through your world."

SIX ORGANS OF ADMITTANCE: Compathia CD (HOLY 82614). $14.00

"While the 'acoustic based project[ions]' of Six Organs of Admittance have been pigeon-holed by some as a chance-operated celestial jam unit, the group has always been about songs, and nowhere is this more apparent than on their fourth full length album, an eight-song cycle that mixes the strengths of Ben Chasny's acoustic and electric guitar with his knack for placing this on top of disparate and subtle atmospheric backgrounds. The live favorite (and rare single) 'Somewhere Between' has been redone and finalized in a fantastic new version featuring sitar by Comets on Fire's Ethan Miller. The delicate acoustic strum of the album is challenged at the end of the record on the epic 'Only the Sun Knows,' which features some extremely heavy 'electric destruction guitar' from Mr. Miller before Chasny takes back control and lands the album on solid ground."

DAVIS REDFORD TRIAD: Mystical Path Of The Number Eighty Six CD (HOLY 8655 CD). $14.00

"Holy Mountain released the first LP by Steven Wray Lobdell's Davis Redford Triad in the spring of 1997, following Lobdell's release from a mental institution and return to playing the guitar. The music just poured out of him. The heavy psychedelic guitar compositions on The Mystical Path — think Takayanagi Masayuki backed by a Crazy Horse-like force attempting a 'version' of Sun Ra's 'The Invisible Shield' with organ, analog synth and various other electronics — managed to pull down maximum sky. Since that time, Lobdell has recorded two more albums for Holy Mountain and has produced two albums by Hochenkeit. After the purchase of a tape deck similar to the one used for this recording, Mr. Lobdell located a few tracks presumed lost and became inspired to remix the entire album. This reissue restores the original sequence of the album and has new liner notes written by Lobdell."

Quarks are Niels Lorenz & Jovanka V. Willisdorf. Features Sascha Funke & Swayzak remixes.

BARTOS, KARL: I'm The Message 12" (HOME 003 EP). $9.00

"The name Karl Bartos should ring a bell for you — at least in combination with the keyword Kraftwerk. Between 1975 - 1991 Kraftwerk had a significant influence on the development of electronic music. Even today they are received as the pioneers of electronic music and the role models for the most important producers within the electronic club culture world-wide. 'I'm The Message' is the first single from Karl Bartos's debut album Communication. The single has been remixed by Orbital and Felix da Housecat themselves. Both producers were very excited about the album as well as the idea to contribute a remix for the first single."

BARTOS, KARL: *Communication 2LP (HOME 004 LP). $18.00

"When Karl Bartos produces music, he spends hours filling up his old IBM with digital data so that the speech synthesis system can understand amplitudes, formants and vocal transients and actually speak to him, before watching a little Sesame Street — without the sound. Then he might scroll through the writings of media theoretician and critic Neil Postman or cut in a sentence from the works of Bret Easton Ellis, so that the speech synthesis has something to say. 'Let me recreate the world for you'. Communication, the first solo Karl Bartos album since the Electric Music Project (Esperanto, Electric Music), works on something like the same principle of a camera obscura: the light of the outside world beams into a dark room through a tiny hole, projecting an image onto the wall. The image is upside down, but you can see it quite clearly. Concept album is a terrible term. This is music as an emotional experience. Bartos can manipulate the old IBM with just the same mastery as the logic audio. But he is as uninterested in the old filter to filter interaction as he is in the bass knob at 350 hertz. Those kind of things just slow you down. It is not for nothing that Bartos worked for two years before 16 songs were reduced to 10. And what songs they are. Karl Bartos knows his history and has a unique ability to update it with contemporary methods. 80's soundscapes with modern beats and loops. Catchy melodies re-worked thematically by somebody educated on the counterpoint and the finer points of harmonics. Call it electro — B. B. King / anything. And everything revolves around one thing — the song. Karl Bartos' sound unites — transcending the generations."

Four track EP by Frank Heiss, Deknow & Allen Towbin; excellent Cologne-vibed experimental aura to this one. "...some hard and heavy sonic manipulation. Blending a spectrum, from drum & bass to raw Aphex-like tracks. the borders of style are crossed and crushed within this 12".

HOMETAPES:

DUNCAN, PAUL: *To An Ambient Hollywood CD (HT 005 CD). $11.00

"To An Ambient Hollywood is Paul Duncan's debut album, a document of music made and recorded at his former home in Savannah, Georgia, over the period of a year. Guitar, vibraphone, bass guitar, drums, pedal steel, trumpet, saxophone, piano, air organ, and synthesizers, as well as Paul's arresting voice, combine to create 40 minutes of carefully constructed music — the kind that manipulates your brain and heart simultaneously. The songs move back and forth; the purely instrumental flows into beautifully integrated vocal tracks. Simple guitar loops give way to elegantly constructed arrangements, which act as if they've been there the whole time, poised and waiting. Paul's style references artists like Papa M, David Grubbs, Jim O'Rourke, Sam Prekop, Will Oldham, and Nick Drake. His current influences come from a wide range of styles and sources: from This Heat and Talk Talk to Leonard Cohen and the films of Terry Gilliam and Luis Bunuel. Paul's music is a synthesis of the creative world around him. His love of the avant-garde blends with his southern roots to create a record that stands out against typical independent pop music or alt. country."

SHEDDING: *Now I'm Shedding 12" (HT 006 LP). $10.00

"Shedding is Connor Bell of Louisville, Kentucky. Now I'm Shedding is the product of one evening's performance, a unique continuous live electronic improvisation split into two tracks for sides A and B of this 12" only release. Connor grew up on the Louisville sound, finding influence and impetus there when compelled to experiment with electronics. Most of his music is sample based, but is later manipulated and transformed using custom-built programs. His sound is organic, warm, and generally melodious (read as: not dissonant), but does not rely on standard beats for rhythmic regularity. His samples gurgle and pop, flowing in and out of a fabricated field of sound, dramatically contrasting a traditionally sequenced electronic beat. Like a modern Raymond Scott, Connor tinkers away at his sounds in search of the perfect blend of technique and feeling. Connor's interest in older avant-jazz and modern improvisation led him to his frustrating journey in-progress: finding a balance between the spontaneous and the rehearsed. Zoviet France, Faust, and Nurse With Wound inspire collage. Cluster and Herbie Hancock inspire synthesis. Morton Feldman and Terry Riley inspire the flow and freedom. The Red Krayola, Sun Ra, and modern electronic, like that from labels Sonig and A-Musik, inspire the playfulness."

CARIBBEAN, THE: *William of Orange CD (HT 007CD). $7.50

Fourth release by this DC-based group, previous releases on Endearing and Tomlab. "This 'simple EP project' designed to try out new equipment, write odd songs, work with one of their favorite producers (Chad Clark), pursue their favorite medium (the EP), and collaborate with Hometapes, William of Orange wound up creating gaping philosophical rifts, catfights, dogfights, breath-holding, and panic attacks, as well as profound hearing loss and nervous hypoxia. At the end of the day, though, in William of Orange, one hears only sweet harmony and velvety cohesion. Silvery cymbals, creamy guitars and stuttering electronic glitches. Voices emoting in glorious unity."

HONEST JON'S RECORDS (UK):

BOCOUM, DAMON ALBARN, TOUMANI DIABATÉ AND FRIENDS, AFEL: *Mali Music 2LP (HJR 001 LP). $19.00

"In July 2000, Damon Albarn travelled to Mali for Oxfam's On The Line project, which focussed on people living along the Greenwich Meridian. He seized the chance to meet and play with the Malian musicians whose recordings he loved, to exchange ideas with them in their own backyard. Damon's chosen instrument was a battered melodica. His musical encounters were leisurely, low-key and immersive, as natural and spontaneous as could be. Touring the capital Bamako and its surrounding villages, he sat in on club and private jam sessions, playing concerts and street corners, bars and boats. He hooked up with practically any musician he came across, from enthusiastic amateurs to such master-musicians as Toumani Diabaté, Lobi Traoré, Afel Bocoum, Kassé Mady Diabaté, and the only female ngoni-player in Mali, Ko Kan Ko Sata Dombia. 'One of my favourite memories is Les Escrocs playing a party at Toumani's house', says Damon. 'Bass and drums doing dead funky Malian reggae, with them in shell-suits and patent-leather shoes doing a kind of feminised ragga version of the James Brown shimmy.' The tapes kept on running, for more than forty hours, capturing the volatile collage of sound that would become Mali Music. Back home in Damon's London studio, the recordings take a few more spins. In line with their original, inherent diversity, they make nods to reggae, house, rock, ragga; and some stay just as they are. The bass-playing of Junior Dan emerges with a unifying authority which recalls his years with Augustus Pablo. Then the tapes return to Mali, for further contributions from the musicians there. 'My idea is to set up loads of dialogues between this music and other music that I love', says Damon. 'I'm sick of the cultural self-assurance you get in the West. I want to get everyone into Malian music.'" [CD version is on Astralwerks in the US]

LORD KITCHENER AND FRIENDS: *London Is The Place For Me CD (HJR 002 CD). $22.00

From the label that brought us Mali Music. "When the Empire Windrush, an old troop-carrier, arrived at Tilbury on June 21, 1948, and inaugurated modern Caribbean immigration to Britain, it also supplied calypso with its best-known image — on Pathe newsreel, Lord Kitchener singing his new composition London Is The Place For Me. Kitch had boarded with Lord Beginner at Kingston docks, Jamaica, on Empire Day, May 24. In London they joined a milieu of fine band musicians familiar with Caribbean musical forms, and already represented on numerous recordings crucial to the development of British swing and jazz music. Travelling with their own core audience, the Trinidadian calypsonians brought with them the vocal music of Carnival. Traditionally this ranges from social satire to sexual double-entendre, from voodoo to the most pressing issues of the day, from sporting events to competitive insult. The experiences of Britain's growing Caribbean population were fabulously rich in raw material. In many ways Trinidadian calypso prefigured the rise of the Jamaican recording industry, by which it was eclipsed as the fifties ended. During that decade, certainly it was the enthralling soundtrack of Black Britain. Selected from original 78rpm recordings from the 50's by Richard Noble and Honest Jon's co-owner Mark Ainley, compiler of the swathe of highly successful Studio One compilations for Soul Jazz records and the essential Darker Than Blue compilation on Blood and Fire. The sleeve artwork and insert contain a selection of fabulous photographs from the archives of the era, facsimiles of the original 78 record labels and extensive historical information."

LORD KITCHENER AND FRIENDS: *London Is The Place For Me 2LP (HJR 002 LP). $19.00

Double LP version, gatefold sleeve. Same 20 tracks as the CD.

VA: *Watch How The People Dancing CD (HJR 003 CD). $19.00

"This album showcases the reggae music made by Unity Hi-Power, a leading London sound system of the 1980s. It is presented as the next-generation companion to Honest Jon's recent compilation of Trinidadian calypsos, London Is The Place For Me. The mood is more defiant — a Jamaican secession from London — with themes of inner-city suffering running alongside hymns to the dancehall and the herb superb. For the music, only a tiny handful of reggae labels outside Jamaica have sustained such exhilarating originality. Nothing in English reggae comes close. Watch How The People Dancing celebrates a watershed in the transition from classical reggae to ragga which is magnificently unique to London, a music deep inside its own traditions but nodding to US hip-hop and house, and pointing to the new English breakbeat." Features tracks from: Selah Collins, Mikey Murka, Errol Bellot, Kenny Knots, Richie Davis, Peter Bouncer, Jack Wilson & Demon Rockers.

VA: *Watch How The People Dancing 2LP (HJR 003 LP). $19.00

Double LP version.

BROOKS & LIGHT OF SABA, CEDRIC 'IM': *Light of Saba - Lambs Bread Collie 12" (HJR 004 EP). $9.00

"You may know Cedric Brooks from the Soul Jazz Dynamite series. He was a serious sax player who left Jamaica for the States in the mid 60's, became heavily influenced by Sun Ra & went back to Jamaica to express his own vision of Ra's message, fusing rastafarian drumming with Afro beat, funk & Latin. This is a sampler for a forthcoming compilation we're doing of his own Light of Saba record label. All the originals go for big bucks & are impossible to find. The EP itself consists of a wonderful instrumental & dub & a roots vocal on the B side, with a DJ version."

BROOKS & LIGHT OF SABA, CEDRIC 'IM': *Cedric IM Brooks & Light Of Saba LP (HJR 004 LP). $20.00

Double LP version. "The eminent Jamaican saxophonist, who played on many a classic Studio One tune, embarked on his Light of Saba project after trying to join Sun Ra's Arkestra, in the late 1960s. Saba was Brooks' own vision of Ra's spiritual music, which expressed itself in jazz, roots, dub, afro-funk & mento. The double album comes in a lavish package, including an exclusive interview with Cedric IM Brooks."

THE CONGOS: *Congo Man (Carl Craig Edits) 12" (HJR 005 EP). $9.00

"From one of the finest albums ever made, The Congos — Heart of the Congos. Originally recorded in the late 1970's by Lee Perry & featuring the unique falsetto vocals of Cedric Myton backed by the deep, religious harmonies of the Congos. Carl Craig has spliced up different issues to make a more minimal mix, making more use of the ancient, drum machine sounds from the original. The A- side is a dub, the B-side features more of the vocals."

HALL & MUSHTAQ, TERRY: *The Hour Of Two Lights 2LP (HJR 005 LP). $20.00

"This is an album of genre-bending that fuses Arabic and Jewish musical forms, Asian and East European sounds, hip-hop atmospherics and wild gypsy passions and slamming beats. In short, an album quite unlike anything you've ever heard from Terry Hall before. That in part is because The Hour Of Two Lights is not a Terry Hall solo album, although it may have started that way. First, Mushtaq, once of British-Asian pioneers Fun-Da-Mental, came on board as an equal partner. Then the cast list expanded to include a Tunisian singer, a Syrian flautist, an Egyptian who had settled in Iraq, Hebrew vocalists, Turkish musicians, a 12 year old Lebanese girl called Natasha, a blind Algerian rapper from Paris, a troupe of Polish gypsy refugees and a septuagenarian clarinetist famous for playing the Pink Panther theme. And Blur's Damon Albarn is also in there somewhere. And yet The Hour Of Two Lights is not a world music record, or a DJ album. It's not even a DJ album with world influences. 'I don't think it fits with anything, really,' Hall says. 'I don't really know what it is. Or what it isn't.' Which, of course, isn't very helpful in a world that demands instant categorisation and easy pigeon-holing. Yet there is a unifying thread that comes from a shared humanity. 'We wanted to take influences from everywhere,' Hall says. 'But it's not a bish-bosh of other people's cultures. Everybody had a sense of something in common in their minority and oppression and struggle. In the end, it felt more like we were editing a film than making a record.' As the songs took shape in all their unconventionality, more and more voices were added. Lyrics were translated into different languages, including Arabic, Hebrew and Romany, with music as the esperanto that united different cultures, traditions and temperaments."

BROOKS & LIGHT OF SABA, CEDRIC 'IM': *Africa 12" (HJR 006 EP). $9.00

"A second helping from the forthcoming Light of Saba compilation. This time the sound is Afro-funk with a Jamaican edge, coming across more like an early Kool & the Gang or Cymande. This is reggae with a Disco beat and flailing Nyabingi drums. The extended remix is exclusive to this 12", the album will only feature the shorter version. The B-side 'Sabebe' is an equally wonderful afro-JA disco funk workout. Comes in Honest Jons house bag, emblazoned with the Light of Saba logo."

HALL & MUSHTAQ, TERRY: They Gotta Quit Kicking My Dog Around 10" (HJR 007 EP). $10.00

"One sided promo single, limited to 500 copies. Terry should need no introduction. Mushtaq originally hails from Asian rap band Fun-da-mental, and has since been busy producing & remixing UK R'n'B & Hip Hop. Their project has brought together singers and musicians of many nations, including Algeria, Syria, Egypt, Israel, Lebanon, Turkey and Poland. The idea is to celebrate the common link between the cultures of Jews, Arabs, Romanies and East Europeans, who find themselves being forced apart in these worrying times. Sound a bit heavy? Well the tune here is a manic take on Moorish tinged flamenco, with violin, Spanish guitar, hand claps and a heavy bottom end."

VA: Black Slavery Days LP (HJR 100 LP). $15.00

"Legendary, militant, magnificent roots reggae from the mid-seventies, originally issued on the NYC Clappers label in 1980 (and much sought after ever since). Clayton Downie's productions showcase dubwise four JA groups — the Skulls, Mercenaries, Arrow, Original Survivors — with backing by luminaries like Horsemouth, Junior Dan, Chinna, Augustus Pablo, Robbie Shakespeare, and Vin Gordon, Herman Marquis and Bobby Ellis on blazing rebel horns. Fans of 'Marcus Garvey'-era Burning Spear will be in heaven."

STATON, CANDI: Candi Staton 2LP (HJR 006LP). $23.00

Double LP version. "This 26-track 2LP collects some of the finest examples of what is now called Southern Soul. Tough, funky, dirty and proud, these recordings feature Rick Hall's driving production work and some of the best sessions musicians ever assembled. And above it all is Candi's voice, honeyed with the experience of loving, living, loving and losing."

STATON, CANDI: Candi Staton 12" (HJR 008 EP). $11.00

"A compilation of early recordings of Candi Staton — out of the Fame studios in the early seventies — amongst the greatest soul sides of all time, no question. One side of which is deep, the other funky. Comes in a gorgeous silk screened sleeve."

SWANN, BETTYE: Bettye Swanne 2LP (HJR 008LP). $23.00

"We are following our Candi Staton selection with a compilation of the twenty-two sides cut for Capitol by her close friend Bettye Swann, between 1968-70. Absolutely one of Soul's great voices in settings somewhere between Muscle Shoals, Nashville and Motown. Classic, timeless music."

ORN, EINAR: Ghostigital 2x10" (HJR 009 EP). $17.00

"From the former Sugarcube, featuring Sensational from the Jungle Brothers, this is an exhilarating configuration of hard-core, bass and hip hop, Ornette, Suicide and Pere Ubu. Album tracks alongside live recordings and an old-school electro remix by fellow-islanders NLO."

VA: Lif Up Yuh Leg An Trample 2LP (HJR 009LP). $23.00

"The best contemporary Trinidadian Soca. Hard edged, dancehall tinged with a smattering of sexuality & politics, this album also commemorates the 40th anniversary of the Notting Hill carnival." Double LP, full color gatefold sleeve. Artists: Laventille Rhythm Section, Dawg E Slaughter, Timmy, Maximus Dan, Andre Tanker, Massive Gosine, Denise Belfon, Bunji Garlin, Machel Montano, Michelle Sylvester, Bobo & Agony, Machel Montano & Black Stalin.

ALBARN, DAMON: Democracy 2x10" (HJR 010 LP). $18.00

"A journal of no-fi demos recorded by Damon Albarn in the hotel rooms of the last Blur US tour. On two 10" records (there is no CD) fourteen tracks lost in all kinds of music — with Blur, the Gorillaz, and solo projects in mind — give dazzling glimpses of how the songs start off. This will be a limited pressing of 5000, presented in a customised gatefold sleeve on coloured vinyl, including a picture disc."

JUNIOR DAN: Look Out For The Devil 10" (HJR 011EP). $10.00

"Junior Dan, veteran bass-player for the Impact! studio and Burning Spear amongst many others, and most recently for the Gorillaz. He appears on the classic Black Slavery Days set (HJRLP/CD100). The first in a trio of 10"s unleashes the legendary Look Out For The Devil, the best record Yabby You never made, with a strong Upsetters flavour. The flip is 'Give Thanks No Skanks'. Both come with imperious dubs."

HALL & MUSHTAQ, TERRY: Ward 21/Rasta Youth Baby G Remixes 12" (HJR 012EP). $10.00

"Radical re-work of elements of Terry Hall's 'Grow', by King Jammy's son, Baby G. For those who missed out on the limited pre 7", here is the 12" with extra tracks 'This is How We Roll' vocals from Ward 21 & Kunley. Plus 'No Watchi Dat' by Rasta Youth, the B side has instrumental and a capella."

VA: Dougla Rhythm 12" (HJR 013EP). $11.00

Features Massive Gosine, Third Base, Maximus Dan. "Three versions and a rhythm track from the cutting edge of the new Trinidadian soca, mixing it up with ragga and rave vibes. In Trinidad a dougla is someone with mixed Indian and African parentage — fittingly Massive Gosine sings in Hindi, with Bollywood stylings; whilst Maximus obviously rates Bounty Killer. A startling dancefloor smasher."

STATON, CANDI: Pepe Bradock Mixes 12" (HJR 014EP). $11.00

A: "Do Your Duty" Erectus Rework - House remix; B1: "Evidence" Reconstruction a Rebrousse Temps - Hard funk breakbeat; B2 & B3: 2 'Sweet Interludes' - House edits. Silk screened picture sleeve.

LAVENTILLE RHYTHM SECTION: Two Rhythms 12" (HJR 015EP). $11.00

"From the no-go Laventille area in Port of Spain, Trinidad comes a carnival troupe of drummers with a dancefloor filler. 13 minutes backed with 22 minutes of thunder. Playing on steels (NOT steel drums), assorted bits of metal & Afro-Caribbean drums, in a specially recorded session for Honest Jons. This is to Trinidad what Batucada is to Brazil."

JUNIOR DAN: East of the Rio Cobre 10" (HJR 016EP). $11.00

"Second installment of the three 10" from Junior Dan, bassist for Augustus Pablo, Burning Spear & more recently, the Gorillaz. Great Roots instrumental in classic Pablo melodica style. Vocal cut on the B side. Plus Jah Foundation, a great version of Junior's track originally released on the rockers label. Limited edition of 1500 in beautifully screen printed gold & red sleeve."

STATON, CANDI: Candi Staton CD (HJR 006CD). $18.00

"There aren't many old soul records as highly regarded, yet as elusive as the tracks Candi recorded for FAME Records of Muscle Shoals, Alabama. But one listen and you'll know that these records deserve all their acclaimed more. This 26-track CD collects some of the finest examples of what is now called Southern Soul. Tough, funky, dirty and proud, these recordings feature Rick Hall's driving production work and some of the best sessions musicians ever assembled. And above it all is Candi's voice, honeyed with the experience of loving, living, loving and losing."

HOPSCOTCH:

TSAHAR/THE BRASS REEDS ENSEMBLE, ASSIF: The Hollow World CD (HOP 03). $13.50
With Herb Robertson & Cuong Vu (trumpets), Vincent Chancy (French Horn), Joe Daley (tuba), Chris Jonas (soprano sax), Rob Brown (alto sax), Susie Ibarra (drums & percussion), Assif Tshar (tenor sax & composer). "Assif Tshar's Brass Reeds Ensemble brings together some of the most creative improvisers. The Hollow World is the band's first album and brings brass band music into a new musical realm. Influences from New Orleans marching bands, twentieth century classical music, jazz, folk music, and free improvisation are organically interwoven to become inseparable. The group explores the connections between improvisation and composition through the relationship between individual musicians, as each musician's musical universe becomes an integral part of the compositional structure. Together by exploring all sonic possibilities, the Brass Reeds ensemble creates sound sculptures verging from quiet serenity to explosive energy."

TSAHAR, ASSIF: Ayn le-Any CD (HOP 07). $13.50

Solo saxophone, no additional information provided.

TSAHAR AND THE ZOANTHROPIC ORCHESTRA, ASSIF: Embracing The Void CD (HOP 09). $13.50

Assif Tshar on tenor sax, conducting the Zoanthropic Orchestra: Aaron Stewart, Uri Kaplan, Oscar Noriega, Alex Harding (saxophones); Steve Swell, Reut Regav, Curtis Haselbring (trombones); Antoine Brye, Taylor Bayum, Matt Lavell (trumpets); Craig Taborn (piano); Tom Abbs (bass); Andrew Barker (drums). Recorded live at the Knitting Factory, 2/5/01.

FERN-NDEZ & DEREK BAILEY, AGUSTI: Barcelona CD (HOP 10). $13.50

Agusti Fern-ndez (piano) & Derek Bailey, studio recordings from Barcelona, recorded 11/13/01.

TSAHAR & THE NEW YORK UNDERGROUND ORCHESTRA, ASSIF: The Labyrinth CD (HOP 12). $13.50

"The New York Underground Orchestra is a unique improvising chamber orchestra with some of the most exciting young talents in downtown NY. On this CD Assif Tshar and the Orchestra navigate conduction and written music, through haunting sound-scapes on the convergence of 21st century classical and free jazz."

RAGIN, HUGH: Sound Pictures For Solo Trumpet CD (HOP 13). $13.50

"This Trumpeter Hugh Ragin whose inexhaustible sonic pallet has been supporting diverse musicians from David Murray, Anthony Braxton to Roy Hargrove and Denver's Symphony, first solo release. It's a beautifully inspiring tribute to the art of the trumpet. Beside six of his own compositions there is a first recording of Wadada Leo Smith mile stone composition 'Rhythm Units' for solo trumpet."

COOPER-MOORE/TOMS ABBS/CHAD TAYLOR: Triptych Myth CD (HOP 14). $13.50

Cooper-Moore - (piano); Tom abbs - (bass); Chad Taylor - (drums). "These are the first piano trio side of the amazing Cooper-Moore, and they are just beautiful and wild. The music is a panorama of the history of jazz and beyond from ragtime to no-time."

TSAHAR/TATSUYA NAKATANI, ASSIF: Come Sunday CD (HOP 24). $13.50

Assif tshar (tenor sax and bass clarinet); Tatsuya Nakatani (drums and gongs). Tshar and Nakatani have been playing in Astor place every Sunday for the past three years, bringing their music to New York streets for all to hear. This experience made them into a very tight unit with a unique sound. Tatsuya's drumming is like sound sculpture together with the serene fire emanating from Assif's horn we are left with beautiful sounds shaping the air in front of us."

HOR SPIEL MUSIK (GERMANY):

TOKTOK: Tora Bora CD (HSM 005 CD). $15.00

"Toktok will always be written as one word. Toktok is Benjamin Weiss, Fabian Feyerabend and Stefan Küchenmeister, at least on this album. Founded in 1993 in Berlin the guys had to struggle for the first few years just like every new band has to. But since the massive chart and club hit 'Missy Queen's gonna die', that featured the charismatic singer Soffy O, there was no stopping for them. With this album, they return to their roots, which are the clubs. Intense, crazy, hammering and electronic 13 tracks will kick your asses. A lot of them were recorded during live performances in Europe and Japan. 100% bulletproof."

PIERRE & PIERRE: Heimfidelity Vol. 6 - Expierrelements CD (HSM 006 CD). $16.00

"What happens if two deejays of two of the best European technoclubs meet and find out that — besides their name — they even share the same... um... scientific mission? — Right! They jump in white coats, put on the safety goggles and start experimenting on dangerous beats until the laboratory... pardon... the club explodes!" Artists: Joe Zas feat. Hughes Coltman, Krikor, Dimbman, Frank Martiniq, Pierre, Si Begg feat. DJ Rush, Other Fucker, TPH&WJH, Cabaret Voltaire, Sunday Brunch, Ferenc, Zombie Nation, Spektrum, The Emperor Machine, Air Frog, Monobox, M.Mercer, Traffic Signs.

TOKTOK: Tora Bora 3LP (HSM 035 LP). $23.00

Triple vinyl LP version, full color gatefold sleeve.

HOREN (JAPAN):

SATAN ALFA BEEL ATEM: Delicior Ribbon Pink Beel CD (HOREN 002). $20.00

Satan Alfa Beel Atem is somehow related to Ziggy Atem. Ziggy produced a few cassettes that caused a minor stir a few years back and then completed his documentation with the Dry Ice System: Music Of Death videotape on the Augen video label. Satan Alfa Beel Atem takes off in a very similar vein to Ziggy Atem with this debut CD release, described as "strange technoise from outer space." Sheets of oscillating wind-like synth sounds slide all over the place and for pure screwball Japanese culture representation, this one easily maintains the pace. "Satan Alfa Beel Atem: voice, conductor; Neu Arz: computer, synthesizer; Aqua Zip: guitar, synthesizer."

HOT AIR (UK):

DUMMY RUN: Five A Side 7" (HOT 71). $8.00

"Ten one minute cuts snatched from the first Dummy Run CD, Pink Rocket. First time on vinyl for these high entertainment/low bit rate tracks."

RIP-OFF ARTIST, THE: Why Do Birds Sing? 7" (HOT 712EP). $8.00

"A brand new seven inch EP, by West Coast USA's finest electronic whistling artist... contains: several recognizable STANDARD crooners from way back, given the world renowned silver suited Whistling technique of Mr Matt Haines aka The Rip-off Artist (real live, and in tune whistling, giving Ronnie Romalde a run for his money, we think) and backed by the E6400 allstars playing fully electronic arrangements, as composed and conducted by Mr Rip-off himself... This man's Californian tan, perfect teeth and mesmerizing lip and tongue technique is sure to be a big hit with the ladies so order this limited item sooner to avoid being mobbed by HRT frenzied housewives. It's also the first record to be released in Hot Air's new EVERYSPEED format, allowing it to be played on all commercial vinyl players from the 1920's onwards.....dig out and dust that old stereogram... and enjoy."

STOCK, HAUSEN & WALKMAN: Hang Ups 7" (HOT 76). $8.00

"Five new tracks from SH&W, undecipherable, as usual."

VOMIT LUNCH/STOCK, HAUSEN & WALKMAN: Unskilled Vegetarian Remould Force 7" (HOT 78). $8.00

"Mr Vomit Lunch takes his big stick to Stock H & Walkman and then to Dummy Run and beats them to an unrecognizable pulp, then SHW retaliate by making Vomit Lunch take a lead role in an insane Bollywood soundtrack climax. Yes, its remixes."

BIRMINGHAM: The Lucy Parr 7" (HOT 79). $8.00

"Birmingham is in fact Nic Birmingham, one half of the Surfcore Sample Rupture Duo otherwise known as Dummy Run. Dummy Run are famous for remixing Parasite Eve and various other Vid Game theme tunes and are often mistaken for being Stock, Hausen and Walkman without the OAP bus passes. This five track EP release sees Birmingham getting round the back of the fridge, pulling all the wires out and sampling the results, the tracks have the same manic, itchy rhythmic momentum as Dummy Run but with a more broken electronic toy sound. A genre busting, electronic crossroads classic!"

VA: Medical Milestones Compilation CD (HOT AIR003). $13.00

"21 track CD in printed card wallet. Contains selections from the first 12 Medical Milestones 7" vinyl releases plus some tracks (and versions of tracks) not released on the original vinyls due to restriction of space. Also a couple of extra bonus tracks from Japanese only releases thrown in just to confuse the issue." Artists include: Vomit Lunchs, Stock, Hausen & Walkman, Los Sampler's, Semiconductor, Gino Robair, Dummy Run, Speedranch, Birmingham, The Rip-Off Artist, Stahlgren and Ferguson, Janek Schaefer.

RIP-OFF ARTIST, THE: Brain Salad Surgery CD (HOT AIR004). $13.00

"A very fine 14 track CD by Mr. Matt Haines, this is nothing like the 7" release Why Do Birds Sing? also out on Hot Air, it contains NO whistling and instead sways back and forth between highly electrical surge spike rhythms and perfect serene electro-dub, quite often within the same track. If sometimes the more abstract noises in this release sound vaguely familiar that's because Matt is also responsible for much of Atom's (Rather Interesting) Kyma patch programming, ie; he made a lot of those weird digital sounds for him... Not to worry the rest of the CD has a catchiness all its own, sound so clean you can eat off it and more rhythmic twists, morphs and mutations per track than the wildlife surrounding Sellafeld. Definitely a Brain of two halves."

STAHLGREN & FERGUSON: Printing With Magnetic Inks 3" CD (HOT AIR007). $8.00

"Early in 2001, Dr Stahlgren & Dr Ferguson were asked by Omag Magnetizing Systems to apply their expertise in 'diagnostic sound recording' to various problems encountered in the Magnetic Ink Numbering System used to mechanically sort virtually all of the paper cheques passing through the World Banking Systems today. Having spent over a month recording every aspect of the Printing, Magnetizing, Reading and Sorting process various recommendations where made and the Doctors found themselves with many hours of quite eerie tape recordings capturing, microscopically, the analog details of a process that, even in this digital age, the world economy still relies on. Not wishing the stunning results to go to waste or unheard by the general public, they have (with some artistic license, editing and processing) created this amazing audio journey. It is almost literally the journey of money from your pocket, all the way to the coffers of one of the worlds largest banks."

VOMIT LUNCHS: Violent Clash Between Killer Bastards Of Ear DotRemix 3" CD (HOTCD4LUNCH). $11.00

1998 production of tracks by Japanese artist Hironori Murakami, available as a quaint little 3" CD or 10" picture disc vinyl release. Cover art for both is quite gnarly, proving pornography is very much legal in the UK domain after all. Harsh cut-up noise-arrays at full volume & speed.

HOTEL LOTTE (GERMANY):

VA: Liquid Sky: Adventureserize Vol. 4 CD (HOTEL 07). $17.00

Features tracks from: Cosmopolis (Mike O'Connell), Frank Heiss Meetz Andri Huf, The Dank (O'Connell & Heiss), Peta, Bedroom Productions (TJ Free & Snax), Closed Doors, Hose, Hagedorn, Il Nino & Dr. W, Dr. Walker, Lofi Junkiez and xxc3crew. Subtitled "Shocking news from the M.A.F.I.A. E.L.E.C.T.R.O.N.I.Q.U.E." Sleazy hi-dub Cologne.

VA: Klimazone N2 CD (HOTEL 11). $17.00

"Dope beat science with Dr. Walker's Damenwahl, M. Flux, G.E.N., Unit 700, Vermona." A very deep/dubbed extension of the Harvest lo-end, and a bit of a defining moment for the movement.

VA: Liquid Sky: Adventureserize Vol. 4 2LP (HOTEL 8 LP). $17.00

Double vinyl version.

HUMAN (FRANCE):

HACKER, THE: The First Step Of The New Wave - An Electrowave Mix CD (HUMAN 06 CD). $16.00

"The Hacker is today considered as being one of the best French representative of a pure and limpid Techno. Michel Amato begins at 17, in a Electro/Indus band influenced by Cabaret Voltaire, DAF... Michel decides to follow the Hardcore wave, closed to his first influences and creates XMF with Benoit Bollini (later called 'the money Penny Project') in 1993. XMF is today known as a reference in the French Hardcore scene. The Hacker recognises the importance of XMF to him and explains that, though abandoned, this hard period has been a step with consequences on his actual music. Some time later, Michel wants to make us share his love for the 80's, (with some references which go from the Electro-Pop of Depeche-Mode and Soft-Cell to the Disco/Hi-energy of Giorgio Moroder and Bobby O) but with humour. His two cults Eps : Champagne and IntimitZes he made with Miss Kittin for International DJ Gigolo (DJ Hell's label) are the result of his wish, and show both his fascination for the 80's (the cover of 'Sweat Dreams' of Eurythmics) and his humour (ironic titles like 1982, 'Frank Sinatra')." Artists include: Dopplereffect, Le Car, The Silver Locusts, Plasma.Co, I.F., Oxia, Perspects, Artist Unknown, Japanese Telecom, Aiden Tyrell, The Advent, Acrosome, Adult, Rude 66, and The Hacker.

ELECTRIC INDIGO: The New Electro CD (HUMAN 15 CD). $16.00

"Electric Indigo is the DJ-update of the man-machine concept: the combination of human funkiness and a non-stop running 808: Electric Indigo has rocked dancefloors in 31 countries and 134 cities in Europe and North-America, she has worked as a radio DJ, music producer and record shop manager. Like few other DJs, Electric Indigo consistently represents an intelligent and abstract techno-ideal. Having started her DJ career in 1989, in her home town of Vienna, Austria, her initial focus was jazz and funk, but upon coming into contact with the synthetic sounds emanating from Detroit and Chicago, she connected with the common elements and adapted her style accordingly." Artists include: Smash TV, Lab Insect, Anthony Rother, Justus Köhncke, Konkord, Thobias Schmidt, S.R.I., Smith 'n' Hack, Mount Sims, My Robot Friend, Black Noise, Urban Bushmen, Electric Indigo, David Carretta, Savas

Pascalidis, Olivier Kapp, and Jeff Mills.

HUMAN BROADCAST (GERMANY):

SCHACHT, HUBERTUS: E.P.2 12" (HUMAN 02). $8.00

"New label from Berlin featuring superdubby techhouse and advanced electronics, very deep and long building tracks highly atmospheric and intense tracks but danceable and vital filling up the oxygen tanks of this basic channel infected musical genre. 2 track release made by new talent and labelowner Hubertus Schacht who will pretty soon be a solidname on the block."

HUNGAROTON:

REICH, STEVE: Music For 18 Musicians CD (HUNG 32208). $16.00

Performed by Amadinda Percussion Group and Musicians, recorded live in Budapest, 1990. "For the most part I have no interest in 'live' recordings. My ensemble has made many of them over the years for various European Radio stations and I never listen to them. (Perhaps I should.) Whenever my ensemble records we have always recorded in a multi-track studio. However, once in a great while, a fine recording is made of a miraculous concert — and this is what we have on this CD. Studio enhancements are replaced by a magic performance. The performance is so astoundingly good and played with such amazing energy, that one is simply swept along." — Steve Reich. July 2003.

HUNGRY HILL (UK):

MEMORY BAND, THE: The Memory Band CD (TMB 001CD). $18.00

"Glorious album from the Memory Band, released on Spinney Records (Vashti Bunyan, Barry Dransfield - need we say more....) offshoot Hungry Hill. The band feature Stephen Cracknell (ex Badly Drawn Boy), Adem from Four Tet/Adem (Domino Recordings), assorted members of Hot Chip (Moshi Moshi) and Polly Paulusma (One Little Indian). Best described as 21st Century Folk, the album will appeal to fans of Four Tet, Adem, The Wicker Man, Fairport Convention, Lambchop and Calexico. The Memory Band was conceived as an imaginary band, built inside a computer and made flesh by the contributions of the artists mentioned above. Featuring violins, harmoniums and guitars the intention is to leave behind twentieth century notions of fusion and purity and to simply explore new musical languages, with plenty of singing and dancing on a Sunday..."

HUNGRY TOWN (UK):

VA: Rockers Inna Hungry Town Vol. 1 LP (HT 010 LP). $14.00

Vintage Augustus Pablo from the late 70s, reissued on vinyl, limited edition by the Rockers camp. Artists: Barrington Spence, Ricky Grant, Immortals, Horace Andy, Augustus Pablo, Prince Mohammed, Roman Stewart.

HUUME RECORDINGS (GERMANY):

DELAY, VLADISLAV: Demo(n)tracks CD (HUUME 001CD). $15.50

"The Finnish producer known to most as Vladislav Delay, has created some of the more individual and distinctive sounds in modern electronic music. He is one of the few who picked up on the influences of the Basic Channel / Chain Reaction school of submerged techno and really took it somewhere new, creating sprawling masses of sound that slowly develop in a way that's hard to predict or sometimes even take in. The more ambient aspects of his approach were revealed through releases on Chain Reaction and Sigma Editions Very popular experimental label Mille Plateaux got in on the party, and Vladislav Delay's reputation as a producer of intriguing, often moody soundscapes was cemented. Then, just when listeners thought they had got the hang of what Vladislav Delay releases were about, the first Luomo 12" came out, and it was a vocal house record. Some were baffled, others thrilled. His personality was still very much in evidence; the Luomo records are still filled with unpredictable bursts of sound, sudden reversals and structures collapsing and re-forming. As with the more ambient work, tracks shift structure almost imperceptibly so at the end of 7 minutes you're somewhere quite different from where you began. Now Vladislav Delay returns with Demo(n)tracks, the first album on his own label Huume. Trying to avoid the common pitfalls and looking for a challenge in music, on this new album Vladislav Delay steps away from the old-trusted dub influences and eternal long soundscapes and tries to see for himself what the next step is, in a need to find a progression in personal music. The album comes out from 2 weeks spent chasing demons in Berlin. A reason to make music. Even though the signature sound is still there, the traces of work-in-progress and the evolution of an artist is evident; new steps are being taken towards sound sculpting and acoustic recordings, playing and treating drums, using and creating songs like sketches or diary, and flirting with sometimes negative aspects like coldness and digitus so often profound of latein (electronic) music. While embracing the audio technology, much care is taken not to let that DSP take over or outgun much more important elements in there; the content itself, and what was meant to be expressed and explored or was just suggested. Without a need or intent to copy but to rather originate, Demo(n)tracks, a collage of 13 tracks mixed together, resembles influences more from urban life than from any genre of music, but all the same from not one but all genres of music and moulds it into a music of its own. Vladislav Delay, intrigued by nature, is this time to capture something essential out of the whole and from the moment, and to represent and translate that which is unpolished and sincere to the listener. Demo(n)tracks is an approach to explore and experiment music."

LUOMO/RAZ OHARA: Running Away EP 12" (HUUME 003EP). $8.50

"Sensational collaboration between always hungry for new experiences Finnish producer Vladislav Delay under his Luomo alias and the danish electronic soul troubadour Raz Ohara. Delay entertains a fruitful relationship with his surroundings. Driven by an ever-present inner restlessness Delay yet remains on the move, constantly performing around the world under his various aliases and musical projects. Just in a short time after his stunning release as Vladislav Delay with Demo(n)tracks (HUUME 001), this time he works together with Raz Ohara (also known as Patrick Rasemussen) Ohara's debut LP Realtime Voyeur is a funky parade of confidently groovy numbers that soar through the air, propelled forward by hip hop beats, electronic ambience, and impeccable production The second album The Last Legend was timeless and just in time for a world in the 21st century, minimal acoustic songs. revealing. emotional. simple and close. Their collaboration offers a kind of tribute to Michael Jackson during his 'Smooth Criminal' and 'Beat it' period, these songs put it all together — classic pop hooks, R&B balladry, downtempo sensuality, dance music energy, minimal house — and each one is carbonated by Ohara's thin 'time for love' voice."

HYDROGEN DUKEBOX (UK):

METAMATICS: Neo Ouija CD (DUKE 067 CD). $10.00

"Metamatics is Lee Anthony Jude Norris: avid angler, ale enthusiast, Mancunian, and subsequent Man U supporter. As a composer, he has worked with acts like Reflection and Clatterbox, and has recorded with such highly regarded labels as Compost and the late Clear. His new album, Neo Ouija (originally in limited release in Japan on P-Vine last year), is now available on Hydrogen Jukebox. It is an unconventional, complex piece of work with touches of drum 'n' bass, garage-esque techno, weird acoustic experiments, and beautiful ambient-scapes. Somewhat reminiscent of Mouse on Mars, it is experimentalism without self-indulgence." Previously issued as a Japanese-only release on P-Vine.

METAMATICS: New Ouija 2x10" (DUKE 067 LP). $19.00
Double 10" version.

METAMATICS: Spook Tinsel Shoal CD (DUKE 076 CD). $10.00

"Turned on to electronica at an early age after exposure to the likes of Depeche Mode, Kraftwerk and John Foxx, Lee Norris has pursued his passion over subsequent years, absorbing the intelligent techno of artists such as The Black Dog, B12, Autechre and Boards Of Canada. With this, he has developed his own unique strain of heady, esoteric, techno. After a string of highly-sort releases through labels such as Clear, Skam, and District Six, Metamatics' Neo Ouija album was unleashed on the Hydrogen Dukebox label in 1999, meeting with immediate widespread acclaim. With his latest album, Spook Tinsel Shoal, it's clear that Norris has perhaps surpassed many of his contemporaries. Sonically, as cutting-edge as technology and imagination currently permit, Spook Tinsel Shoal is also simultaneously infused with an irresistible organic warmth. The resultant work transports the listener to a quirky, cerebral land of bleepy sci-fi via the lush valleys and vistas of Norris's rural English environment. Your synapses will never be the same."

METAMATICS: Spook Tinsel Shoal LP (DUKE 076 LP). $15.00

VA: Project Unison CD (DUKE 081 CD). $10.00

"Lee Anthony Norris (aka Metamatics) put together this soundtrack, in an edited form. It is the backing to an art film of the low budget variety produced by Don Bridge and himself as owner of Neo Ouija Films. Always one for the art of film and music Lee embraced his musical mates to put music to a road movie of the future written by life long friend Andy Ching, a kind of cross between Gattaca and Red Rock West with a heavy dose of Taxi Driver. In the film Rob and Jane, the heroes, are computer matched at birth as perfect partners in a crazy world. The government issues list of genetically compatible people born on the same day, and the world sees teen flirtation switch from drugs to trying to fuck all the people on your birth list! Sounds like fun but it's a bit like Russian roulette when it comes down to it, because ill matching partners just don't work, and whilst our generation waste precious time trying to make relationships work, in the future there is just no point when the perfect partner is listed for you. Whew! The screenplay is adapted from a script called The Border. Project Unison is 70% made, and has only been screened in it's current 30 minute edited format in Lee's home town on Manchester. If the album does well, the film will be finished and we can all see the next Araki emerge! Oh the music by the way, is priceless electronica as only Lee and his cohorts know how to make, like Michael Nyman with DC power fed into him, taking influences from a host of masters old and new and delivering a stunning cinematic vision." Artists include: Clatterbox, Metamatics, Circus Mind, Norken, Lecy Man, Clattermatics.

NORKEN: Soul Static Bureau CD (DUKE 083 CD). $10.00

"The alter ego of Lee Norris, whose heady, analogue-driven tech-experiments as Metamatics have been mesmerizing discerning listeners around the globe for some years now, Norken is an altogether more mellow proposition. Taking it's lead from the organic electronica that defines all the best Detroit house and techno productions, this is humanized circuitry in the truest possible sense, multi-layered and texturally lavish, but irresistibly simplistic in its message. While the gentle introduction of each new musical element immediately embellishes each composition in ways that you simply couldn't have imagined possible, the subtlety and warmth that pervades every aspect of Soul Static Bureau is never eroded, rewarding the listener with an experience akin to a cerebral massage. This is music to think to, with and about, whether providing the soundtrack to a range of emotions or offering surrogate emotion to weary souls in need of aural comfort."

VA: Electronic Music For Heroes CD (DUKE 088 CD). $10.00

"Accelerating into the future with the kind of vision that has always defined Hydrogen Dukebox, Electronic Music For Heroes sets the agenda for the coming months. The Journey begins with the liquid melody and gentle urgency of Norken's 'Spring Themes'. We move into future breakbeat territory with the mould-breaking brass, chants, beats and bleeps of Justice's 'Monk Rock'. Lithium Project enter the electro-jazz lounge region of the brain with 'Passo Fundo' a seductive shuffle from the outer reaches of some strange future Latino dance-hall. Electronic innovators Metamatics and Chamber persist distinction with catchy rubber basslines, and shifting pad sweeps on 'On (What's Wrong with it)' and 'Big & Bouncy'. Harry K, no stranger to all things funky, gives us a Hip-Hop mash-up that evolves into the perfect smiling stoner anthem on 'Turn it On', hotly pursued by 'Happy Talk', a mermeric scratched up electro-hop cut from the delicious A1 People. Spooky souls Lecy Men descend into a moody and claustrophobic landscape with 'Window Shade Dust'. Here they exhibit the clatter of haunted circuit boards, leaving rabble rousing fusioners Globo to round things off with characteristic aplomb, courtesy of the beautifully structured 'Hope and Glory'."

METAMATICS: Dope For Robot CD (DUKE 091). $10.00

"For the very deepest, and indeed dopest in brain-building, ear-caressing electronica, you need listen no further than Devon-based Mancunian master Lee Norris, the captain at the controls of Metamatics. A longtime fan and admirer of experimental robo-soul, he cites Numan, Foxx, and Kraftwerk as major early influences. Norris is quite a luminary in the beats and bleeps arena. With countless releases across a string of labels (Skam, Clear, District 6, Staalplaat and Beau Monde among others) and under a handful of pseudonyms including Norken, Nacht Plank and Tone Language, Norris' knowledge of and flair for his kind of music can be taken as read. However, it is when trading as Metamatics that Norris is most widely appreciated, for reasons that the sumptuous Dope For The Robot album clearly conveys. (This album had a limited release on Clear, but has been re-mastered, edited and packaged as only Yacht Design group know how!) Here, echoes of his early heroes are stirred into an altogether more forward-thinking stew that draws as much upon the emotive mechanics of Detroit techno as it does the random acts of digital beauty common to labels like Warp and Rephlex. Metamatics' third long player for the self-appointed saviors of intelligent electronic music, Hydrogen Dukebox, is a phenomenal body of work. When machines learn to get caned (which they surely will sometime soon), be in no doubt — this is what they'll be listening to!"

NORKEN: Spring Themes CD (DUKE 093 CD). $10.00

"When he's not producing top-drawer breakbeat tracks under the Metamatics alias, Norken devotes his creative hours to the assimilation of stunning deep techno. Eagerly anticipated by connoisseurs of all musical denominations, Norken's latest collection, Spring Themes, mines a rich vein of soul inspired electronic explorations. Spring Themes taps into the best Detroit nuances and submerges them into a pool of emotive textures that are very much of his own design."

NORKEN: Spring Themes LP (DUKE 093 LP). $17.00

VA: (Pranksters Present) Infused CD (DUKE 095 CD). $10.00

"The Pranksters have been throwing successful club nights in the UK since 1995 with a strong underground following by the likes of Talvin Singh, Herbert, and DJ Food among others. For Infused they have solicited exclusive tracks from leading players in the UK's experimental and downbeat scene to showcase the fusion exponents within electronica. The artists featured all possess this quality and were obvious choices for this compilation. Ian O'Brien's 'tech jazz', owes as much to the Minneapolis sound as it does to Weather Report and Detroit techno. Max Brennan (who's track 'Araswati' is a sitar lead percussive mantra) retains authenticity while creating something unique in the process." Artists include: Plug Lazonby, Ian O'Brien, Plaid + 1, Jimpster, The Lithium Project, Sie, Subtropic, T-Power, James Hardway, Max Brennan, Bjorn Elevators, Sentine.

VA: (Pranksters Present) Infused 2LP (DUKE 095 LP). $19.00
Double LP version.

BLACK DOG & BLACK SIFICH: Unsavoury Products CD (DUKE 097 CD). $16.00

"Unsavoury Products is a tribute to William Burroughs by an artist that shares his uncompromising vision. The album was inspired by Black Dog's collaboration with Burroughs in the months prior to his death (the fruits of which will surface as an album in the future). Working closely with performance artist and poet Black Sifichi, the result is a seamless 20 track exploration of contemporary existence — a powerful narrative set to a stunning score of unique and challenging music. Fusing elements of Arabic rhythms, found sounds and avant garde abstraction with the best elements of a broad spectrum of contemporary music, a mind-boggling library of samples and the cutting edge production sensibilities with which The Black Dog are synonymous, Unsavoury Products would be an awe-inspiring piece of work simply as an instrumental album. Embellished with Black Sifichi's insightful verse, however, and laced with gritty humor and keenly observed reflection, this album accelerates into the realms of genius."

METAMATICS: From Death To Passwords Where? CD (DUKE 098 CD). $16.00

"Lee Norris aka Metamatics has crafted his most melodic record to date. From Death To Passwords When You are A Paper Aeroplane is less experimental than Norris' previous work. Lush endless melodies are blended with real emotion and chilled out grooves. The result is an ambient collage of sounds and rhythms without the pretense often associated with 'IDM'. Listen to 'Here To Go' or the fantastic 'What The Birds Overheard' and you are transported to the countryside that surrounds him and 'Piano Pollen' is as near to a high that can naturally occur? mellow, tranquil, and menacing all at the same time."

VA: Electronic Music For Heroes 02 CD (DUKE 100 CD). $7.00

"Following on from the first Electronic Music For Heroes compilation, Hydrogen Dukebox have decided to mark their 100th release with the second in the series." Artists include: The Black Dog, Technova, Metamatics, The Lithium Project, Chamber, James Hardway, Justice, Globo, Norken, and A1 People.

BLACK DOG + BLACK SIFICH: Mental Health Hotline (CJ Bolland & 808 State Remixes) 12" (DUKE 103 EP). $7.50

"CJ Bolland leads the siege with a mighty interpretation of Mental Health Hotline, exploding through the Stanton with characteristic intensity. A much needed blast of techno vitality from one of the genre's most vital exponents. And so to 808 State, whose take on Let's Talk Music is a proper headfucker, clearly angled towards maximum club action and crammed with the kind of slips and slides that make most sense at optimum volume. Although superficially a straight ahead kick drum and bassline romp, those accustomed to 808 State's way of thinking will immediately recognise the subtleties that make their treatments so sought after. A blinder."

BLACK DOG + BLACK SIFICH: Reconstituted Meat Derivatives EP 12" (DUKE 104 EP). $7.50

"From The Black Dog's mesmerising Unsavoury Products album comes the second 12" offering of remixes.. This time a four track EP with 4 corking floor and aural experiences." Includes remixes by A1 People, Jimmy Cauty (KLF), The Beloved.

A1 PEOPLE: The Yellow Album CD (DUKE 106 CD). $16.00

"Mixing up the raw power of warped vintage keys with speaker stressing basslines, soaring Numan-flavored synth melodies, occasional noodles, vocoders a-plenty, and a few hypnotic techno throws; The Yellow Album has more energy than a Duracell full of angel dust. The tough, sweaty dance floor grooves and dirty, fuzzed-up beatbox tricks give much of the album a larger than large appeal; but crawl behind the bassbins and you'll discover that on tracks like 'The Reason' and 'Freak', A1 People also occasionally dip into rusty robot-style melancholy. As a whole, this is a fierce and funky set that works hands down as a cohesive album, but plunder few of the heavier cuts and you've got yourself the kind of party starting essentials that only the pulse-less could ignore."

A1 PEOPLE: The Yellow Album LP (DUKE 106 LP). $16.00

LP Version

TECHNOVA: Dirty Secrets CD (DUKE 107 CD). $17.00

"David Harrow comes back with his third Technova album which is a return to the roots of the electronic pop he was once so much part of. In many ways Dirty Secrets is a bare bones album where Harrow relaxes into a seemingly effortless stream of intelligent, accessible and, dare we say it, occasionally poppy pieces. With a series of excellent performances from the immaculate JB Rose, Harrow's own grainy vocoderisms gracing the contagious Boxinglove, mutating itself into a prototype for futuristic electro pop sentiment. Moving forward in the stellar musical spectrum, Neverstop is filtering nuances of electro-punk rock. This album is a serious fast-forward for funky and glamorous electro-organic fusion."

TECHNOVA: Dirty Secrets LP (DUKE 107 LP). $17.00

METAMATICS: Rewired In My Manor CD (DUKE 112 CD). $16.00

"The first in a series of three remix projects involving Lee Norris, Rewired In My Manor sees Lee operating as Metamatics (parts two and three are under his Norken and Nacht Plank guises). What links these projects together is not only that they stem from the same person, but the fact that all three are reinterpretations of Lee's tracks done by artists that have found Lee through the internet. The result of brief conversations of appreciation and inspiration which developed into friendships and have now become regular brainstorming via the www.NeoOuija.co.uk chat room, those involved became part of the 'family' through sharing a common love for glitchy electronics and seductive, pulsing rhythms — it is these parameters by which they have reinterpreted the Metamatics project. With the exception of two tracks taken from Metamatics most recent album, From Death To Passwords When You Are a Paper Aeroplane, the bulk of Rewired In My Manor started as one previously unreleased track, 'Pod'. All the remixers were given elements of the track via the internet, which they interpreted and sent back, also via the net. The result is a fusion of melody, clucky percussion and warm, blissful ambience, blending sounds that will in turn please the ear and assault the brain with the unexpected." Artists include: Yasume, Verbose, Ilkay, Sleepy Town Manufacture, ENV(tire), Sabi, Kero, Stars As Eyes, Kettel, Xela vs Aeiou, Bauri, and Mati:K.

NORKEN: Blue Divide: Remodelled CD (DUKE 113 CD). $16.00

"The second in this series which sees the multi-faceted English producer Lee Norris (aka Metamatics, Naacht Plank, and here operating as Norken) being reinterpreted, remixed, and reworked by up-and-coming underground electronic music talents from as far and wide as Russia (STM), Croatia, Japan, the US (dbit), and of course the UK (Chamber, Tom Churchill). Blue Divide (Remodelled) is a reworking of selected tracks from Norken's two exceptional albums (Soul Static Bureau and Spring Themes) which came about as a result of brief online internet conversations of appreciation and inspiration between Norken and a collection of respected electronic musicians via the Neo Ouija mailing list. The end result of these remodellings is a compelling fusion of classic Detroit Techno influenced nuances, pulsing, blip-house, lush electronic soundscapes and warm, blessed out ambience, evoking comparisons to such electronic music cornerstones as Plaid (Warp), early Black Dog Productions, Spacetime Continuum (Astralwerks), and Carl Craig (Planet E)."

NORKEN: Blue Divide: Remodelled LP (DUKE 113 LP). $16.00

LP version.

BLACK DOG, THE: Genetically Modified CD (DUKE 115 CD). $16.00

"It is fair to say that The Black Dog are not only legends in the world of electronica but in the true mystical sense. Operating from the shadows, between the margins, and outside the rules they've produced several seminal albums over the past decade — Tales of Transparent Balls (GPR, 1992), Bytes (Warp, 1993), Spanners (Warp, 1994) — the effects of which can be seen on new generations of electronica fans and producers alike. Their William H. Borroughs inspired latest album, Unsavoury Products, was arguably their most challenging yet. With this in mind, Genetically Modified morphs into shape. All the remixers have in their time been influenced by the Black Dog or involved with the Black Dog and therefore share their manifesto of art and creativity." Remixers include: Jimmy KLF Cauty, CJ Bolland, A1 People, The Beloved, C-PIJ, Mescalito, Laub, Technova, and 808 State.

BLACK DOG, THE: Genetically Modified LP (DUKE 115 LP). $16.00

NACHT PLANK: Lost And Damaged CD (DUKE 122 CD). $16.00

"The third and final collection of reinterpretations of Lee Norris' (aka Metamatics and Norken) tracks comes under his Nacht Plank nom de disque. As before, this final installment brings together a cluster of unique, all-new remixes from electronica artists who became involved through the Neo Ouija chat room (www.neoouija.com). As a project conceived and realized over the internet, Lost And Damaged captures the nature of the medium. Eerie and melancholic washes of ambience and vibrant electronic excursions capture the solitude of early-hours trans-global communication in a series of digital symphonies."

NACHT PLANK: Lost And Damaged LP (DUKE 122 LP). $16.00

LP version.

PLUMBLINE: Circles CD (DUKE 124 CD). $16.00

"Hydrogen Dukebox makes its first American artist signing, inviting New York based artist Plumline, to join the label's stellar roster. Inspired by a road trip from Los Angeles to New York shared with a Belgian friend in the driving seat and a dog in back, Plumline's debut album Circles could be regarded as a concept album. Starting from scratch with no drum machines or samples, Circles took shape from raw sounds from synths, built up with simple melodic repetition, and punctuated with rhythms created from an assorted collection of sounds rather than drum machine beats. The only exterior sound was the human voice, utilized as a rhythmic device rather than as narrative."

PLUMBLINE: Circles LP (DUKE 124 LP). $16.00

LP version.

LITHIUM PROJECT, THE: Many Worlds Theory CD (DUKE 125 CD). $16.00

"Swerving from their most probable musical path, Jason Farall and Kenny Clarke's latest Lithium Project intrigue sees them settling into an altogether more fluid batch of songs, departing from the grit-studded production of debut album Passo Fundo. Something's happened. A rebirth, perhaps? Whatever the cause, the effect is startling to hear. A sharper focus has pushed their sound into a zone occupied by the purest of originators, and while it maintains a dark connection, it's the stuff you're glancing into rather than peering out from. Like all exploratory musical forms there's a beguiling broth of tones and textures to absorb here, but with a sure-footedness that again suggests a new-found clarity. Even the rhythms, close-up and delicately understated, follow suit. Ingenuity and unselfconscious emotion have, it would seem, conspired to make Many Worlds Theory a remarkable album."

LITHIUM PROJECT, THE: Many Worlds Theory LP (DUKE 125 LP). $16.00

Vinyl LP version.

HARDWAY, JAMES: Big Casino LP (DUKE 126 LP). $16.00

"With Big Casino, our man has beaten the house once again, this time around with an enhanced fusion of the fusions of his previous acclaimed output. By dovetailing hybrid jazz, mesmerizing electronica, tribal percussion, dub trickery, Latin rhythms and assorted exotic and eclectic hues, Hardway has created an upbeat anthology of headphones-to-dancefloor action that stands apart by virtue of its high grade, hand-reared quality. So while the feel is locked-in and the structures arranged to evolve in tune with the carefully measured steps of the finest house music, the unmistakable pulse of real life permeates each track... Vibrant vocals, slinky brass, riffing flutes, spiraling strings, funky keys and, of course, that allimportant foundation of bass and beats are immaculately rendered on an album charged with positive energy and brimming with proper soul."

METAMATICS: Mind Mushing Git (Midnight Sun Pig) CD (DUKE 128 CD). $16.00

"The one-man multi-tasking musical machine known to his Mom as Lee Norris has found a hidden treasure: a new Metamatics album made before From Death To Passwords When You Are A Paper Aeroplane. Previously released only in Scandinavia and limited to 200 copies, Mind Mushing Git (Midnight Sun Pig) is now being given a proper release. If you've been following along the last couple years, Metamatics is but one of Lee Norris's musical monikers, also working under the guises of Norken and Nacht Plank. Mind Mushing Git (Midnight Sun Pig), more than any other Lee Norris project, strikes a balance between is all three of his guises, with the result is possibly the best Metamatics album to date. Evoking the ghosts of classic Artificial Intelligence' era IDM circa 1993 — Plaid, 812, Autechre, Beaumont Hannant — It encompasses the deep Detroit lushness of Norken with the off kilter melodies of Metamatics and the sweet ambient lullabies of Nacht Plank."

VA: Electronic Music For Heroes: Three CD (DUKE 129CD). $7.00

"Volume 3, setting the agenda for 2004 and revisiting some recent golden nuggets from the South East London label's ever morphing roster. Norken's 'Motorbreeze' remixed by Swamay this Detroit inspired original was already a classic, now bent into a lush textures making it even more soulful. A1 People's 'The Reason', a playlisted track on London's XFM evokes nostalgia for a future past with it's futuristic pop. Next up, new signing 3rd Eye Parametric deliver the exclusive 'Inner Thoughts' showing that you do not need to be an electro aficionado to be persuaded by digital beats. After a 7 year break, early 90's IDM innovator Pentatonik return with an all new track 'Better To Have Loved' from their forthcoming Hydrogen Dukebox debut, due later in 2004. Lithium Project gives us the smoky, haunting 'Majik Kiosk' from their latest Many Worlds Theory album. American signing Plumline supplies a new cut entitled '212 E10', an architecturally precise track inspired by New York City taken from his upcoming second album Panpoints. Globo return with a brand new exclusive track 'Stop the Scientist'. Lee Norris returns as the minimal Natch Plank with Mille Plateaux's Andreas Tillander on the remix. The Experiment's future classic 'Walkaway', from the soon to be re-issued What Goes Up album, Technova gives us a preview of his forthcoming Electrosexual album with 'Watching'. Lastly 80's electronic genius John Foxx remixes Metamatics completing a full circle for Lee Norris as he watches his all time hero twiddle with his work."

HYMEN (GERMANY):

STARFISH POOL: Illusions Of Move - Red LP (ANT 029). $11.00

"Second chapter of the Illusions Of Move series on Hymen of Starfish Pool. The red album will go around passion. A mixture of dark ambient soundscapes, hypnotic drum patterns, an impressive stylistic range, emotional minimalism and timbral sophistication. Harsh sound-structures unfold a new chapter for smooth atmospheric noise. The passion is red. The vinyl is black."

VENETIAN SNARES: Find Candace LP (HYMEN 040). $9.00

Vinyl EP version, 4 tracks.

VENETIAN SNARES: Doll Doll Doll CD (HYMEN 716). $13.00

2001 full length. "A hybrid of monstrous breakbeats and drum and bass... a terrorising wall of sound, a splatter mix of broken drill and noise, tweaked frequencies, cut-up noises, bizarre funky samples, and straight noise attacks. It rattles the speakers, shatters the windows, drives your adrenaline to all-time high and then pins you to the floor with the thunderous percussion attacks. Each track constantly changes, one second exploding with speedcore passages, and the next moment tripping over itself and collapsing into broken, twisted and aggressive techstep. Rhythmic textures, sonic explorations and ceaseless creativity the component parts of this accelerated sound are ultra-fast beats, disjointed samples, distorted shouts of vocal, stabs of synth that squeal with resonance and the occasional bout of plunderphony. These components are then stitched together in an almost haphazard manner but one that you may suspect is more than deliberate. this ... hurts - and makes playing with dolls obsolete."

VA: Masonic 2CD (HYMEN 719). $13.00

"Five years of Hymen Records — we think this anniversary should be celebrated with a 'bang'! So for the listeners and the collectors, Hymen records present this compilation featuring M2, Neutral, Dead Hollywood Stars, Beefcake, Lusine iCl, Funkstörung, Imminent, Baracuda, Scorn, Venetian Snares, Frz & Blue Baboon & Etereo Expandum Club, Fourplay, Solar-x, Sonic Dragolgo, Gridlock, Xingu Hill, Lilienthal, Bochum Welt, Substanz-t, Starfish Pool, Noosa Hedz, Somatic Responses, Xanopticon, K_chiko, Red Sparrow, Lilips, Trifid Project, End, So Fuckin' Jazz and Fanny. Enjoy this compilation of mostly unreleased tracks by signed artists and of Hymen-related artists."

VENETIAN SNARES: Find Candace CD (HYMEN 728). $15.00

"Venetian Snares' Aaron Funk returns to complete the horror and destruction initiated in Doll Doll Doll with Find Candace. It's the second and final installment in the so-called 'doll sequence', through which Mr. Funk obliterates the lines between jungle, d&b, gabber, breakcore, and post-industrial. Find Candace revels in microscopic beat sequencing, elevating it to an art form that's worlds apart from his contemporaries. Maelstrom is ever-present, starting with the break madness of a remixed 'Befriend A Child Killer' from Doll Doll Doll, here contorted through searing synth tones and electrolyzed vocal commands. Aaron Funk understands the importance of balancing the maelstrom through tense, textured atmospherics — putting them to use in the opening minutes of 'mercy funk', a pensive snap-step hash that crescendos into a breakcore mantra. The title track, however, brings this balance under the scrutiny of an atomic-force microscope, uncovering a multitude of chaotic punchy beats, bolt-action bass, and static sound fury."

NYMPHOMATRIARCH: Nymphomatriarch CD (HYMEN 731). $16.00

"Nymphomatriarch, a joint project between Venetian Snares and Hecate, is 100% composed of sounds the duo made having sex together. But it's not porno music. Nymphomatriarch is cutting-edge drill beats and raucous noise that puts your ears in a vice. The tempestuous breaks Venetian Snares is known for spiral down to the very pits of hell and back thanks to Hecate's visceral atmospheric treatments, returning as mordant sound meant to corrode the soul. Nymphomatriarch bristles with the crisp signature of traditional breakcore dynamics, yet unlike many albums in the genre, Nymphomatriarch retains a sense of complex ambient sound and depth throughout its six tracks — this isn't just another manic break record composed entirely on a hard drive. In other words, it's everything you'd expect from a collaboration between Venetian Snares and Hecate."

NEUTRAL: Caller ID CD (HYMEN 733). $15.00

"Neutral's Nicole Elmer is back with a captivating remix album, Caller ID. Less than a year after she redefined her sound from laptop industrial to a rich hybrid of acoustic instrumentation and intelligent pop lyricism on her album Motion Of, Neutral's brought in some of the best and brightest in modern electronic music to have a go at her back catalog. Remixers include Ant-Zen and Hymen's well-known noise arbiters Xingu Hill, P*A*L, and Telepherique as well as newcomers like the cinematically-driven End, Burning Rome, Chango-Feo, Solenoid, Gridlock.

HYPERION (UK):

XENAKIS, IANNIS: Choral Music CD (CDA 66980). $17.00

"In the oeuvre of many composers, vocal works are often the most personal, as if the primacy of the human voice and speech elicit an unguarded response. The works on this CD all stem from highly autobiographical sources. The works fall into three groups: the first instrumentalizes and orchestrates the voice stripped of text as in 'Nuits' and 'Knephas'; the second, exemplified by 'Medea,' is based on his beloved Classical Greek theater; and the third sets vocal texts where the language is left whole and undisturbed with music which displays a limpid and strict modality." Performed by the New London Chamber Choir Critical Band, conducted by James Wood.

HYDRRA (UK):*THE FIREMAN: Fluid Remix 12" (HYDRA 12008). $9.00

"Taken from last year's acclaimed ambient electronica album Rushes. Featuring brand new mixes from Asian underground superstar Nitin Sawhney, who supplies sitar and general atmospherics. Limited to 3000 copies, lavish gatefold packaging." We tend to receive a lot of advance promotional releases in our office, and even go to the trouble of listening to some of them. There are occasions when a release can come out of nowhere and sounds so enticing that we'll go right ahead and order some before we even finish reading the label's blurb about the artist. This release is a good example of that, a lush, kinda-ambient-jungle, tripped out four track remix EP of an artist we had never heard of. The acid-lippage was just too good to ignore. Had we finished reading the bit about the contributing member who was "ex-bassist and vocalist in popular Liverpool combo whose names escapes me at the moment," we might have acted a little bit differently! Well, at least it's not a Clapton project...

I FACH (UK):*VA: Technoir CD (IFACH CD 2). $16.00

"Here it is, the second CD from the Ifach stable. This one gives you DJ Eon, who co-produced the Dead Eye releases and has a track on Richie Hawtin's album Decks FX & 909. He smoothly mixes a classic collection from the Ifach catalog dated from 1994 to 1998. This CD is nothing short of value for your money with 15 tracks that blend perfectly to make for some of the most influential music around." Features tracks by: Baby Ford, Brubaker, Lighterthief, Perbec, Solcy, Mark Broom, Elemal (most of which are Baby Ford alias's). Baby Ford, acid house legend in the 80s, has quietly developed an awesome style of minimal-based electronics with perfectly reduced basslines (check out his Rephlex release "Normal" for one of the more accessible variants on this theme). This CD gets you up to date on the explosive Ifach output.

I2200 (GERMANY):*G-MAN: Beautiful CD (I2200 020 CD). $15.00

The finest statement of aesthetical electronic minimalism yet from Mr. Gez Varley. "This album was produced at the 4th Room Studio FFM, that place from which most of the Elp Productions are coming. It represents the final result of a collaboration with Gez Varley, whose early productions included the first LFO album and the legendary 'Quo Vadis' and 'El Jem'. The album consists of some material which Gez recorded in Liverpool and Leeds and some other tracks that were reproduced and written together with Marco Carola. Marco was responsible for the sound and the engineering of all the tracks on this album, and his well known style has given character to this opera of contemporary techno music."

ICI D'AILLEURS (FRANCE):*DIGITAL INTERVENTION, THE: Capture CD (PS1 0101CD). $17.00

"Classically trained French singer Olivia Louvel and long time Mute producer and collaborator Paul Kendall are the Digital Intervention. Following the release of 4 albums on Mute, the Parallel series continue its exploration of electronic music. Only this time the voice is used as an instrument: treatment and effects of Olivia's vocals are both blending and clashing with Paul Kendall's electronic wizardry. Also contributing to the album are ex Depeche Mode member Alan Wilder (string arrangement on track 6) and Sebastien Lobolt who plays accordion on a cover of an 1930's song by French chanteuse Frehel (where coke and crime of passion are entwined). A superb leftfield atmospheric album with a French feel where sex and addiction seem to be the recurrent threads."

ICI RECORDS (GERMANY):*KÖHNCKE, JUSTUS: Spiralen der Erinnerung/Spirals of Memory LP (ICI 3). $15.00

"The singing performer is, of course, Justus Köhncke, better known as the mastermind behind famous German electronic trio Whirlpool Productions ('From Disco to Disco') and half of Subtle Tease (with Kai Althoff of Workshop). Justus is putting the touches on his very own handling of music history and genres from pop to dance. Influenced by the likes of the Velvet Underground, the Beatles, and Hildegard Knef — just to name a few. You'll find beautiful cover versions of John Cale ('I Keep a Close Watch'), Janis Ian ('At Seventeen'), Carly Simon ('Nobody Does It Better'), as well as 'Old Man' from Neil Young's legendary Harvest album, and the wonderful ballad by Hildegard Knef 'How Many People Were Happy That You Have Lived'. Mid-70s melancholic atmosphere and the 90s electronic sounds you're looking for are all on this brilliant release. Ballads become house tracks with bleeps, and 70s Krautrock becomes electro-pop. Plus an extravagant gatefold sleeve."

ICR (UK):*COLECLOUGH/ANDREW CHALK, JONATHAN: Sumac CD (ICR 030). $16.00

"A shorter version of Sumac was previously released in 1997 as a single sided 12 inch by the Japanese label Siren, in association with Robot Records of the USA. This edition of 200 sold out quickly. "...one of my favorite pieces of Dark drone music from last year." — Frans de Waard, Vital Weekly, September 1998"

POTTER, COLIN: And Then CD (ICR 031). $16.00

"This is the first solo album in quite a while from Colin Potter, perhaps best known as a collaborator n with & engineer for Nurse With Wound, Current 93, Ora, Monos, Kiln & many others. Over 62 minutes a wide range of sounds pass — languid sway, relentless rhythms & rolling drones — sounds that were never meant to be — steam engines lost in space, Galleons passing in electric fog, static in the flowers."

POTTER & JONATHAN COLECLOUGH, COLIN: Low Ground CD (ICR 033). $16.00

"The latest (May 2002) release from ICR is a CD by Potter (Nurse With Wound) & Jonathan Coleclough (solo albums Windlass, Cake, Period, Minya &, With Andrew Chalk, Sumac). The 74 minute album contains 2 solo & 3 duo tracks. Potter's 'Sinister Dexter' is a long electronic piece that increases in density before morphing into a peculiar procession of mysterious travellers. Coleclough's 'Tunnel' is constructed entirely from field recordings processed to sound like huge droning gongs or horns to accompany a journey along a dark underground canal. The third track is a live recording by the duo, which is perfectly described by its title, 'Shudder'. The two remaining tracks, 'Beech Flutter' & 'Beech Shadow' are also duo pieces, with each partner providing a mix, both offering a completely different perspective. The sounds of the forest joins with a metallic string section. Peace reigns supreme."

ORA: After Rainfall CD (ICR 038). $16.00

"The Ora project lasted over ten years and contributors included Darren Tate, Andrew Chalk, Colin Potter, Jonathan Coleclough, Lol Coxhill and Daisuke Suzuki. Initially works were released on small runs of cassettes, which are now highly collectable. With the advent of cheaper CD and CDR production, albums became more widely available and over ten were released, plus several vinyl LP's, too much critical praise. To mark the ending of the project ICR released the CD Final in 2001, which was to have been a double album featuring unreleased or unavailable material. Unfortunately the master tapes of some of the tracks could not be located, so Final became a single album. However, the remaining digital masters were recently found and are now presented as the last chapter of the Ora story. Five tracks, sixty-seven minutes, mystery from start to finish."

COLECLOUGH, JONATHAN: Makruna/Minya CD (ICR 040). $19.00

"In a very unusual package. Two fantastic pieces, long full slabs of archetypal Coleclough sound."

IDEA:*COLECLOUGH, JONATHAN: Casino 12" + CD (IDEA 02). $24.00

"Volume 02 in the 12" field recording series comprises of two distinct tracks by UK composer Jonathan Coleclough. Track One: 'Casino' is a recorded document from 1998 that captured the whimsical spins, whirls, bleeps & chirps made by electronic gaming machines from inside of a Las Vegas casino. Track two: 'Tree Frogs' was recorded in November 2000 at Deep Bay, Antigua. Amazingly enough, 'Tree Frogs' sounds like digital voices echoing in some other unknown universe. 'Casino' is a remarkable field recording album in all respects & it sounds like Mr. Coleclough's beautifully composed music." Packaged in deluxe heavy jacket. 12" 220g Audiophile vinyl + CD. LTD ED 400

WALLS, BRENDAN: Cassia Fistula CD (IDEA 2005). $15.00

"An out-of-nowhere release from an intriguing one-man studio project, Cassia Fistula is Sydney based Brendan Walls' debut solo outing. Utilizing prepared and found sound objects, Walls has invented a concentrated, enveloping and a truly transcendent electroacoustic sound palette. Cassia Fistula comprises of three distinctive tonal explorations that are truly hallucinatory. Tumultuous and shifting yet gargantuan and immovable, these works create a state where movement and stasis co-exist. Unfolding the monumental within the intimate, the results are beautiful, surrealist, organic blocks of sound. A man to watch. CD in miniature gatefold jacket. Design by Tina Frank & Judith Scheikl of URL."

IDEAL RECORDINGS (SWEDEN):*VA: Contemporary Electronic Music from Sweden CD (IDEAL 012CD). $12.00

Artists: Marcus Wrangö, C.P.U., Normal Music, Mokira, Claudia Bonarelli, Son of Clay/Figurera, 8tunnel2, Frak, Dwayne Sodahberk, Henning Lundkvist, Tsukimono, Dead Letters Spell Out Dead Words, Henrik Rylander. Much of this music could easily meet the better parts of the Mille Plateaux catalogue, so be daring and find out. — Frans de Waard, Vital Weekly.

RYLANDER, HENRIK: Traditional Arrangements of Feedback CD (IDEAL 016CD). $12.00

"Henrik Rylander was the drummer of the infamous and influential garage rock outfit Union Carbide Productions. But this is pretty far from where he is now. This is extreme music made through an extreme process. Feedback is the only sound source here. And it's surprisingly varied and rhythmic. Post-techno meet industrial music. Pan Sonic or CoH is somehow connected to Rylander's sound, maybe even Radial."

DEAD LETTERS SPELL OUT DEAD WORDS: 11 Instances of Dead Letters + Words CD (IDEAL 018CD). $12.00

"Dead Letters Spell Out Dead Words never seem to stay in one place for too long. He's always on the move. From the dark and cold ambient of the first, self-titled CD-R, via the faint, minimal crackle of the split album with The Hurt I Feel Is My Hurt to where we are today on this brand new CD on IDEAL Recordings. A rusty, decaying mix of concrete sounds found in and around Gothenburg and Sundsvall, manipulated snippets from the history of recorded music and traditional instruments treated in a not so traditional way. Slow melodies, forgotten atmospheres, and a very sensitive personality of sound. Thomas Ekelund, the man behind Dead Letters Spell Out Dead Words, shows us the darker areas of his mind. This is music that makes you feel. This is abstract music but with very concrete feelings hidden within. The 50 minutes of 11 Instances of Dead Letters+Words may be seen as a collection of moods, emotions and states of awareness or just a series of tracks assembled over the course of one year. Listen, and make up your mind what — if anything — it's all about. This is ambient music, and it shares some thoughts with Brian Eno's Discreet Music philosophies. Echoes of the late 80's Hafler Trio, minimalism which you can track down to Alvin Lucier and others, the drones — like a punk-version of Phill Niblock. There we might have it! Dead Letters Spell Out Dead Words might be the anarchy in today's sound art."

IGL (EUROPE):*SHADRACK CHAMELEON: LP (IGL). $15.00

A few copies found of this early 90s European bootleg repro of this relatively classic mid-Western American garage folk-psych rock and strum, from the early 70s. Touches the peak-vacuum of lonely, wasted experience in a way Neil & Crazy House could only very rarely achieve.

IGNITOR:*VOORN, ORLANDO: Diligent 12" (IGNTR 001 EP). $6.50

Produced by Fix (Voorn), one side in collaboration with UR's MIA. Executive producer: Mad Mike. Voorn is a Dutch techno producer with a long history of Detroit associations (collaborations with Derrick May, Juan Atkins, Black Baxter, releases on KMS, etc.). "Mixing a unique blend of punked up beats, freeform jazz rhythms and his own interpretation on the ever changing frontiers of techno, Orlando doesn't limit himself to one style. He strives to imprint his own identity and influences to take the music one step further."

IKEF:*REDMOND, EUGENE B.: Blood Links And Sacred Places CD (IKEF 01CD). $15.00

"Brother Eugene B. Redmond is the poet Laureate of East St. Louis. A principal architect of the black cultural arts movement of the 60s, a teacher and acclaimed writer of countless volumes of poetry, Redmond has been called 'the preacher of poetic rhythm' by Maya Angelou, 'a carver of high song magic' by Quincy Troupe and a worker and healer by Ishmael Reed. On this spirited, funky, streetwise collection of 12 vintage cuts recorded live in the studio in Sacramento in 1973, Redmond raps with characteristic braggadocio and bravado accompanied by friends Jimmy Daniels on guitar, Ed Jefferson on percussion and Ike Paggett on sax with the raucous adulations of a roaring in the groove crowd of friends and fans. Blood Links And Sacred Places is the first of several forthcoming vintage collections by the poet."

REDMOND, EUGENE B.: Blood Links And Sacred Places LP (IKEF 01LP). $15.00
180 gram LP with gatefold sleeve (limited to 500 copies).

RA/HENRY DUMAS, SUN: The Ark And The Ankh CD (IKEF 02CD). $15.00

"In the culturally turbulent mid-1960s, the visionary, otherworldly musical being we have all come to know as Sun Ra formed a brief but tight bond with the late storyteller, activist and poet Henry Dumas. The Ark and the Ankh is a vintage 1966 document of dialogues and meditations between the poet and the musician set to the fervent musical experiments of the Arkestra recorded live at the legendary downtown New York club and haven for the insurgent black music scene, Slug's Saloon. The Ark and the Ankh offers an essential insight into the quickly brilliant, totally controversial and completely inimitable thought of Sun Ra candidly shared with one of his most adoring disciples. Sun Ra needs little introduction to the legion of fans his great body of work continues to accumulate. Henry Dumas has gained cult-like status as one of this centuries most important black writers. His work, which has been collected in such anthologies as Goodbye Sweetwater, has been labeled genius and brilliant by the likes of Amiri Baraka and Toni Morrison. On May 23, 1968, after leaving a rehearsal at Sun Ra's practice space, Henry Dumas's life was tragically cut short when he was shot to death in a Harlem Subway station by a New York City transit cop. This is the first of two intended volumes from the private tapes of Henry Dumas."

RA/HENRY DUMAS, SUN: The Ark And The Ankh LP (IKEF 02LP). $42.00

"Deluxe picture disc LP (limited to 250 copies)."

BROTHER AH: Sound Awareness CD (IKEF 03CD). $14.50

"Originally released in the early 1970s on the coveted Strata-East label (at the peak of the label's creative energy), Sound Awareness was the first of a handful of recordings led by celebrated multi instrumentalist and former member of Sun Ra's Arkestra that combine heavily delayed free form afropsychedelic sound forms, extended meditative soul jazz workouts with seriously deep ritualized love chants and raps. Brother Ah is joined by an impressive cast of figures including Max Roach rapping with his M'Boom Re:Percussion Ensemble, the 90 Voice Sound Awareness ensemble, Howard Johnson, Barbara Grant, Pat Dixon and Barbara Burton. This is the first in an ongoing series from the archives of Brother Ah's Sound Awareness recordings presented by Ikef. Remastered with Brother Ah from the original tapes. Deluxe packaging."

BROTHER AH: Move Ever Onward CD (IKEF 04CD). $14.50

"The second in Ikef's series of Brother Ah's Sound Awareness releases, Move Ever Onward finds Brother Ah and family embracing the song form and extending his afrophonic take on world music, funky kosmic groove, black psychedelia and soul music that is at once urgent and meditative. Originally released in 1975 privately on Brother Ah's own Divine Records label, Move Ever Onward feature his 25 piece sound awareness ensemble on an exotic array of instruments (sitar, tabla, koto, pan flute, Shahuhachi, African percussions, kora, etc.) improvising and backing some of the choicest transcendental, funky vocal cuts you're ever likely to hear. This 8 track CD is a must for fans of Sun Ra, Phil Cohran, Alice Coltrane, John Berberian and the Black Jazz and Tribe Record labels."

BROTHER AH: Move Ever Onward LP (IKEF 04LP). $15.00

LP version, gatefold sleeve.

LYLE & JULIUS HEMPHILL, K. CURTIS: The Collected Poem For Blind Lemon Jefferson CD (IKEF 05CD). $14.50

"Ikef continues to mine the extraordinary musical territory of St. Louis's fervent '60s musical innovators with the reissue of the impossibly rare Collected Poem For Blind Lemon Jefferson. Originally released on the late, brilliant saxophonist Julius Hemphill's artist run Mbari label in 1971, Blind Lemon is a highly energetic, raw and primitive avant-garde take on the Blues Mythos. Hemphill, named 'one of free jazz's most visionary composers' (Chris Kelsey, All Music Guide) is in full form as he wiggles and buckles sound around the extended, wild and fully unbridled narrative rap by celebrated Watts Writers Workshop poet K. Curtis Lyle. Fans of the Last Poets, Gil Scott Heron, The Watts Prophets take note! This is a matchless document of searing black rap: beautiful, schizoid and nasty as it gets. Features additional vocals by Malinke Kenyatta."

MONTGOMERY EXPRESS, THE: Does 'Party Fever' & other songs of the Montgomery Movement CD (IKEF 06CD). $14.00

"The music of the Montgomery Express is a buried hometown funk classic that always pulls in triple bills when original copies pop up on the fanatical circuit of DJs, vinyl freaks and wayward souls looking for the perfect groove. This is all for a damned good reason. This 1973/74 album was cut by a group formed almost overnight in an obscure pocket of Florida called Indiantown. Led by two blind guys in their 20s (Paul Montgomery & Charles Atkins) with the aid of a couple of teenage groovemasters, The Montgomery Express spent just two short years together on the regional circuit. They played before regularly packed audiences on a stage lined with hip shaking go-go girls at Indiantown's Cadillac Club before slipping into obscurity. Their were no bitter disputes, no creative rivalries, other obligations came up and the party came to an end. As Paul Montgomery put it to us, 'If we could find one another right now, it would be like a family reunion and we'd just start playing again.' Thankfully for us, until that day comes, we've got this joint to get our daily fix. Party Fever is a record of smooth but lackadaisical funk, peppered with sweet soul, tight grooves, shuffle tunes and outright party dropping music! Highlights include a stunning version of Eddie Floyd's yearning 'Gotta Make a Comeback' that won't leave a dry eye on the checkerboard floor and the deeply soulful tune 'Precious Wings'."

EAST NEW YORK ENSEMBLE DE MUSIC, THE: At the Helm CD (IKEF 07CD). $14.00

"Bilal Abdurahman's East New York Ensemble de Music emerged out of the fertile, cross-fertilizing community of Bed-Stuy, Brooklyn, where African, West Indian & black American cultures converged. This rare 1974 disc, originally issued on Folkways, is back in print for the first time in nearly 30 years and what a gem it is! At the Helm is a gorgeously careening collection of indo-jazz that draws heavily on the near and far eastern sounds of Turkey, Korea, North Africa, India and China and threads them into a distinctively forceful Black Jazz idiom. In his lifetime, Bilal had always referred to this meld as a kind of 'Black Magical Music' and the tight, energetic compositions on this unsung masterpiece only supports the elevated, otherworldly claims. Take one listen to their rendition of Freddie Hubbard's beautiful 13 minute epic, 'Sun Flower', and you'll hear why this is a must for fans of rare groove & spiritual black jazz."

BROTHER AH & THE SOUNDS OF AWARENESS: Key To Nowhere CD (IKEF 08CD). $14.00

"The third in Ikef's series of Brother Ah re-releases brings his privately issued LP Key To Nowhere back to center stage. Like our previous two titles, Sound Awareness and Move Ever Onward, Key To Nowhere continues the musical search through global rhythms, tight grooves and an absolutely brilliant rendition of the traditional 'Motherless Child' that has had DJs and Jazz fanatics alike climbing the walls to obtain a copy of this gem."

ILL (UK):

CONEMELT: 24 Carat Conemelt CD (ILL 004 CD). $19.00

"Tonbridge's lo-fi techno rockers Conemelt make a grand re-entrance with their third and undeniably best album yet. Since releasing two critically acclaimed albums, You Fucker's Fuck for their own New Ground label and 1996's Confuse and Destroy for Emissions Audio, the band's sound has progressed and matured to produce an album, which while still retaining Conemelt's distinctly lo-fi approach, is certainly their most accessible. Opening with the jazz-tech opus of 'Hello Customers' and slipping into the turntable pyrotechnics of 'Amateur Drumatix' with its wicked Detroitian strings midway through, it soon becomes apparent that Conemelt's ear for a hook has only gotten better in their absence."

CONEMELT: 24 Carat Conemelt 2LP (ILL 004 LP). $18.00

CONEMELT: (Sticklebrick City) CD (ILL CD013). $20.00

"Second LP of mutant grooves for the iLL imprint (after status as Weatherall prodigies via Emissions Audio) after as many EP's from the trio of Ash Marlowe, Nathaniel Mellors, and Grant Newman. No (new) ground broken, just typically solid low fidelity/stock melodic derivation, acid bass and strange drums (often, but not always, very natural-breakbeat-flavored). Tangibly adequate." — Hrvatski

CONEMELT: (Sticklebrick City) 2LP (ILL LP013). $19.00

CONEMELT: Artificial Timestretch Lady 12" (ILLXXX008). $10.00

CONEMELT: Artificial Timestretch Lady CD (ILLXXX008CD). $10.00

Excellent new EP following full length's on New Ground, Emissions Audio and iLL. "Opening with the revved up, vocal stretching, breakbeat dynamics of 'Artificial Timestretch Lady', this EP is the sound of a band who have again made huge stride in their musical development, and again it shows Conemelt to be quirky masters of their trade..." 'South Eastern Promise' finds Conemelt in a summery mood with a sublime, squelchy jazzy number. 'Flying Buttress' is deep and funky, techy-house with a mad African vocal sample."

PADDINGTON BREAKS: No Snare Too Loud CD (ILLXXX009CD). $10.00

Second EP by Patrick Doherty for London's own iLL recordings and licensing subsidiary. Welcome re-entrance of Spunk-Jazz class rhythmic fuckery (the amen break! nothing ever sounded sweeter...) and similar tonal modification/re-design. Brilliant, active stuff; ideal for the home-listening set. Mostly downtempo tracks with involved harmonic structure, with a few insane workouts to except the rule. Follow along, you know the score. 8 tracks, 27 minutes. — Hrvatski. Limited stock.

TUBE JERK: Tube Jerk/Stretcher 12" (ILLXXX010). $10.00

"Written & Produced by Tim Wright at Finsbury Park Studios, York. VERY dancefloor oriented minimal-tech-house arrangements with no signs of post-Spunk Jazz rhythmic trickery/effort. By far the most 'Saturday night' of anything iLL has laid to wax as of yet." — Hrvatski

CONEMELT: The Last De-Icer 12" (ILLXXX011). $9.00

CONEMELT: The Last De-Icer CD (ILLXXX011CD). $9.00

"Conemelt are back with three tracks of their uncompromising brand of electronic funk. Unlike many of the their contemporaries, the Conemelt approach to music has remained focused on humor, inventiveness and fun. 'The Last De-Icer' is one of those rare tracks that could lift any dancefloor out of a moody rut, a runaway locomotion of funky-ass basslines and future disco dynamics. On the flip are the band's tribute to Fela Kuti, a feast of salsa-fied percussive funk and 'Big Toe Straightener', a big, quirky electro chugger."

TUBE JERK: Daddy's in the Basement Diggin' Gravy CD (ILLXXX012CD). $10.00

"Nice hard dead solid techno, the second single on iLL for York based Tim Wright (not the original DNA bassist...) featuring two new tracks & a Surgeon (Tresor/Downwards/Slut Smalls) mix of 'Please Breathe' that takes the cake w/super slow electro/break chops & his trademark ominous texture tapestries. A marked improvement from the last effort." — Hrvatski. Limited stock.

ILLEGAL ART:

HISE, STEEV: Original CD (IA 101). $11.00

"Illegal Art is proud to present the work of Steev Hise. Previously released on the obscure Viral Communications, Steev Hise's Original represents four years of digital audio manipulation. Though it is built almost exclusively from the recorded works of others (everyone from the Beatles to Martin Denny to Kurt Cobain), Original bears the distinctive mark of its creator. From the gentle whirring drone of 'Softly Ultra' to breakneck cutup songs like 'FrustrBed' and 'Tentacle of the Cannibal', Hise deftly razors his digital cursor across the throat of mass culture. The opening track 'Ferrante, Zeppelin & Teicher' is a good introduction to Hise's artistic methods. Juxtaposing easily spotted Led Zeppelin samples against the lounge orchestrations of piano duo Ferrante & Teicher, a bit of role reversal happens as Zeppelin later reverberates into its own ambient soundscape. Recontextualizing cultural artifacts with cut-and-paste, abstract sound processing, and social commentary, Hise is one of the finest practitioners of what is often referred to as recombinant sound art or plunder-phonics."

ILLCIT (UK):

DYNAMO PRODUCTIONS: Analogue CD (ILL 003CD). $16.00

"Dynamo Productions (aka former Portishead tour DJ Andy Smith and Scott Hendy (aka Boca 45) follow the acclaimed Showtime EP series with Analogue their debut album on Deadly Avenger's Ilicit Recordings imprint. Featuring collaborations with MC Profile (The Sound Providers), Sir Beanz OBE (ex-Anti-Pop Consortium) and the mysterious Pharcyde remixer Fuzz Face, Analogue features an outstanding mix of sublime Hip Hop instrumentals alongside block rocking beats, scratch laden cut-ups and full vocal tracks."

DYNAMO PRODUCTIONS: Analogue 2LP (ILL 003LP). $18.00

Double LP version.

IMBALANCE COMPUTER MUSIC (GERMANY):

MONOLAKE: Cinemascope CD (ML 009 CD). $14.50

"I find it extremely difficult to make music for existing films because my music always seems to work as a movie by itself."—Robert Henke of Monolake. "Monolake's forth album, titled Cinemascope, guides the listener into an aural world where beats are sculpted from time and chords work like colors; where structure evolves from the parallel processes of repetition and change. It's an homage to the city in a truly cinematic way: opening sequences filmed from the roof of some imaginary highrise building, dust and heat, rain, clouds, and distant cars riding endless highways, nameless people sitting in empty bars, full of emotion and desire. In musical terms the music of Cinemascope skirts the boundaries between minimal techno, ambient, elektro, and intelligent dance music. You might even discover excursions into the science of broken beats. But most importantly it is a highly sophisticated voyage into the inner space of imagination. Needless to say, the sound design of Robert Henke and his coproducers, Gerhard Behles and t++, continue to generate landscapes of seemingly endless detail and scope. The almost exclusive usage of self-written software provides a solid background for creating very unique and personal music. Cinemascope comes in a very nice digipack featuring two images of an illuminated traffic junction in Shanghai, taken by Berlin based photographer Frauke Kaven. After memorable performances in Japan, Monolake will continue touring in Great Britain and in the United States. Look for them wherever you may be. In winter they will return to the studio. Monolake — music with computers since 1995."

MONOLAKE: Linear Atomium Reminiscence 12" (ML 010). $9.00

"Robert Henke's Monolake project is widely known for its variety in grooves and its seemingly endless deep sounds. This persuasive new 12" delivers crisp and distorted beats on a linear grid distant walls of noise, a vibrating bassdrum moving deep chords hihat cutting time in pieces. Once again, the virtual border between Club and Homelisting is ignored and the irrelevance of any genre definitions is shown. Endless."

IMMIGRANT (GERMANY):

TEJADA, JOHN: The Toiling of Idle Hands CD (IMM 002 CD). $16.00

"LA's mystery man, Vienna-born techno producer — John Tejada — is a premier musical innovator. Versed in piano, guitar, and drums, the son of a soprano singer and musical conductor, Tejada transcends the easy limitations of genre and style. John has released music on such esteemed and seminal electronic music labels as A13, R & S, Plug Research, Seventh City, and Playhouse. The Toiling of Idle Hands sets Tejada upon the legacy left by Detroit techno pioneers Derrick May, Kevin Saunderson, and Juan Atkins. The album is so classic, yet futuristic, one would swear it was an unreleased gem unearthed in the vaults of KMS of Transmat."

TEJADA, JOHN: The Toiling of Idle Hands 2LP (IMM 002 LP). $18.00

"LA's mystery man, Vienna-born techno producer — John Tejada — is a premier musical innovator. IMP:

FIREFLY WRECK: LP (IMP). $8.00

Debut album by a Portland abstract-fi rock group.

FIREFLY WRECK: 20 Watt 7" EP (PS 001). $3.00

From 1994. Portland group who mix sprawling improv and confused rock motions into a very confused and beautiful lo-fi stare.

IMPACT:

PABLO, AUGUSTUS: Java: The Remixes LP (AB 91101). $9.00

"Java: The Remixes collects three variations of one of the most sought after original rhythms in the history of Jamaican music. Originally released to a glorious reception in 1972, the rhythm remains the peak of one Reggae music legend's career (producer Clive Chin), and the launching point for another (melodica king Augustus Pablo). 'Java Passion' and 'Wood Pecker' are two of the rarest versions of this rhythm, and 'Forward the Bass' is a fresh 2000 remix from Nick Mannese, featured on the visionary Select Cuts From Blood & Fire compilation."

IMPAKT (NETHERLANDS):

VA: Impakt 2000 CD (IMP 01). $15.00

"Exclusive release of the well known electronic festival, edition 2000, featuring the best of the current electronic scene. Divided into two parts: on the Real/Not Real part you'll find Nonplace, a.k.a. Bernd Friedmann/Dat Politics/Scanner/Ticklish/Pol, a.k.a. Marcus Schmickler and Thomas Lehn. Part two, called Glitch, features Alva Noto and Frank Bretschneider. Except for the Bernd Friedmann track, all tracks are exclusive."

IMPORTANT RECORDS:

MERZBOW: Amlux CD (IMPREC 002). $11.00

"Alas, Merzbow's masterpiece Amlux has arrived. Highly anticipated, and referred to as 'the definitive modern Merzbow record,' Amlux finds Masami Akita moving into new territory in terms of sound and production. Amlux throbs with industrial ambient drones and drum/guitar samples that slowly glide into eruptive filtered noise before evolving back into industrial-ambient bliss. It is rich in texture and much more sophisticated and evolved than most Merzbow records to date. Amlux proves that Masami Akita is much more than just the king of noise. A major selling point for Amlux is that it is the source material for a major Merzbow remix cd/tp to be released later this year on Important Records. Tentatively titled 'Merzmix,' this remix album will feature Alec Empire, Bola, Chicks On Speed, Jack Dangers, Acid Mothers Temple, DJ Spooky, Arto Lindsay, KK Null, Masami Akita, Sonic Boom and a few others who are currently unconfirmed. Remixers were asked to use Amlux as source material for original compositions, rather than being restricted to remixing one particular track. The results thus far have been astounding."

NULL, K.K.: Kosmik Engine CD (IMPREC 005). $12.00

"KK Null's Kosmik Engine is a unique digital ride through jarring surreal electronic soundscapes in a similar vein to recent works by Nobukazu Takemura, Merzbow, Zipper Spy and Cordell Klier. This CD release is housed in a deluxe cardboard gatefold package with artwork created by KK Null."

JOHNSTON AND THE HYPERJINX TRICYCLE, DANIEL: Daniel Johnston and the Hyperjinx Tricycle CD (IMPREC 006). $9.00

Year 2001 release. "Hyperjinx Tricycle is a band formed by Texas cult hero Daniel Johnston,

New York pop-surrealist Ron English and Brooklyn singer/songwriter Jack Medicine. With the help of various producers this album celebrates the weirdness of these three strange writers. Most songs sung by Daniel Johnston. CD also contains two tracks of Johnston alone singing and performing 'Keep Your Feelings To Yourself' and 'Reality.' Highpoints of the disc include a beautiful version of 'Seasons in the Sun' sung by Johnston ('Seasons In the Sun' features production work and instrumentation from Kramer marking the first time these two have worked together since 1990) as well as Daniel's rejected theme song for the Fox program Greg The Bunny."

MUSLIMGAUZE: Uzbekistani Bizarre And Souk CD (IMPREC 007). $14.00

This groundbreaking 'pillar of the Muslimgauze catalog' is available housed in a standard jewel box. "Uzbekistani Bizarre and Souk has long been considered one of the pillars of the Muslimgauze catalog but has never enjoyed a proper release. Frequently passed around on CDr, it has only been available through Staalplaat as a D.A.T. in trade for multiple proofs of purchase from Staalplaat releases. Also included as bonus tracks is the material left off of the recent LP release of Izlamaphobia."

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE: Magical Power From Mars Vol. 2: Diamond Doggy Peggy CD (IMPREC 010). $9.00

2nd Volume in a series of 3. 3D cover artwork (please note: all 3 volumes have identical covers). "... a 20 minute heavy duty power guitar freakout as only the Acid Mothers Temple can do it. It is easily one of their best and heaviest. Recorded at the Acid Mothers Temple early 2002." Limited stock; 1st volume is out of print.

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE: Magical Power From Mars Vol. 3: Cosmic Funky Dolly CD (IMPREC 011). $9.00

Third volume in this series of EPs, same 3-D cover art as the previous 2. "... an electronic, ambient synth journey through 20 minutes of psychedelic space and time. Layers of analog filter sweeps gently glide over echoing vocals. This composition ends the series in a perfect lethargic bliss." Limited stock.

HAFLER TRIO, THE: A Small Child Dreams Of Voiding The Plague CD (IMPREC 012). $11.00

"The Hafler Trio's A Small Child Dreams Of Voiding The Plague comes housed in a deluxe screen printed 3 panel fold out and is limited to just 500 copies world wide. A Small Child Dreams Of Voiding The Plague consists of one extended audio excursion. It is an investigation into a song by a now defunct Icelandic group named LHOOG. The entire composition was extracted, explored and constructed by The Hafler Trio over a period of 3 years and the meticulous and cautious construction of the track is obvious as the piece slowly unwraps and evolves. Andrew McKenzie describes A Small Child as 'the uncovering of real meanings in the apparent constructions of others.'"

JOHNSTON AND THE HYPERJINX TRICYCLE, DANIEL: Alien Mind Control 3" CD (IMPREC 013). $9.00

"While his career thrives he has been comfortably recording on the side with his good friends from NYC as the Hyperjinx Tricycle. The casual studio atmosphere naturally created when friends get together to record has brought out the best in Daniel. These four tracks, each fronted by Daniel, represent some of his most striking and compelling work in a long time. Included is a new version of the popular track 'Long Lost Love.'"

MERZBOW: Ikebana: Merzbow's Amlux 2CD (IMPREC 016). $15.00

"Artists were asked to use Merzbow's album Amlux as an instrument in an original composition, rather than to perform the conventional remix. We hoped that this would allow the artist to flourish with greater creative freedom and a less restrictive context. We didn't want to fit this project into any sub-genre of music. We wanted it to simply exist. Perhaps the beat oriented tracks, record scratching and vocals will annoy some Noise purists, and perhaps the noisy sound collages will irritate others, but hopefully this collection of tracks from some of the best electronic artists working today will enlighten the listener. Music is sound and sound is everywhere, regardless of classification." Remixers include: Jack Dangers, DJ Spooky, Luke Vibert, Alec Empire, Kawabata Makoto, Cornelius, Kid 606, Negativland, Nobukazu Takemura, Atom, Chicks On Speed, Experimental Audio Research, Bola, Kim Hiorthoy, Staalplaat Sound System, Lasse Marhaug, Kim Cascone, Freiband, Nau-zee-aun, Kurt Weisman, Raub Roy, Instavoid, Custom Drummer, John Wiese, Zipperspy, DJ Rupture.

ACID MOTHERS TEMPLE: Magical Power From Mars CD (IMPREC 017). $13.00
